Piggly Wiggly Handles Sales Of New Hybrid Fowl

A new hybrid fowl, that is a cross between Pheasant and Chicken, is making its bow in Muleshoe. Called the "Barrel-Breasted Northwester", the hybrid is the creation of James H. Knowles, Centralia, Washington, breeder-geneticist who worked 16 years to perfect this species cross. Distribution will be handled by Piggly Wiggly.

The hybrid is said to have a richer more succulent flavor than ordinary chicken. Consumers say it has a pheasant tang, which is understandable in view of its 1/16 pheasant ancestry. In addition it has inherited the small bone structure of its pheasant forebears, which means the housewife will find more meat and less bone on this new type of fowl.

Crossing the species has produced another distinctive advantage. The bird is about 85% light meat. Even the drumsticks of the new fowl have a broad strip of white meat! The breast is thick and broad.

Producing this new fowl involves nine consecutive matings of pheasants and chickens. Five of these involve crosses between strains of pheasants or chickens, and one is the difficult species cross that is accomplished by artificial insemination.

Since the end result, the Northwester, is incapable of commercial reproduction, this involved mating process must be repeated every year. However, Breeder Knowles has his production problems well under control, and more than fifty million will be marketed next year.

Kids Take Over Saturday

Muleshoe Night At Clovis Friday

Friday night is Muleshoe night at Bell Park in Clovis, and it appears that just about everybody except one fireman and one nightwatchman will be on hand for the big goings on.

Clovis Pioneers and Amarillo Gold Sox of the Texas-New Mexico League will play a regularly scheduled game, but Muleshoe fans will hog the spotlight. Muleshoe's players in the Little Baseball League will be massed on the field in full uniform.

Muleshoe JayCees are sponsoring this Muleshoe night event and have tickets for sale. Bailey County folks might buy their tickets from these JayCees and keep some of the money at home, since the local organization gets a cool quarter when they sell a ticket.

Nation's Fastest Turtles Compete For Rich Purses

Plans are about complete for the Muleshoe JayCees first Kids Day program. It was planned to be the biggest day for the kids that Muleshoe has ever had. They have enough watermelons for all the kids and they say they will have enough Kool Aid for every kid in Bailey County. This is the way the program goes:

All the kids to enter the parade will meet at the courthouse at 1:45 p. m. Parade to start at 2:00.

Prizes will be given on most outstanding bicycle get-up; most outstanding tricycle or wagon get-up; most authentic costume; and the funniest kid, including costume and act.

The parade will end up at the park where the games will begin immediately. They will consist of games for boys and girls of all age groups, and there will be prizes for each game. There also will be a beauty contest for the little girls. Most freckled boy will be selected and the oldest and youngest person. After this the ball game will start. This promises to be a hot game, pitting the JayCee Sox against the Rotary Cardinals. As soon as the ball game is over the turtle races, consisting of 7 heats and the finals, will begin.

Fireworks, Too

At 8:30 the free movies for the kids will start in the Little League Park and on the other end of the park there will be candidate speeches plus a lot of fine local music. After all of this is done there will be the biggest display of fireworks ever seen in Bailey County.

So the JayCees say, get those kids ready and bring them all out for a grand time. The JayCees really have a bunch of nice prizes for all the kids; they will have something for every kid there. The drawing for the two bicycles will be held about 4 p. m., and you must be present to win. Prizes and names of turtle owners are on view in the showrooms of C & H Chevrolet Co. There will be cold drinks and hot dogs for sale all through the day for the adults, so they are urged to come on down and watch. There also will be free pony rides for the children.

Smith Place Is Mystery Farm

The Mystery Farm in last week's paper was the Emmett Smith place, which is located a few miles northwest of Needmore.

First person living out of the city to identify the farm was Janie Moraw, and first person living in the city limits to correctly identify the place was James Finley.

Each of the lucky winners have two tickets each, to Cox Drive-In Theatre awaiting them at The Journal Office, sponsor of the contest.

Local Fans Will Organize A "Red Raider Club" Here

On July 30 there will be a get-together and watermelon feed at the home of "Chief" Jones, former football great at Texas Tech. The purpose of this get-together is to form a "Texas Tech "Red Raider Club" in Muleshoe.

All residents in the Muleshoe area, both men and women, who like a good brand of football, basketball, and track are invited to attend. Purpose of a Red Raider club is to promote interest and enthusiasm for top notch athletics at Texas Tech.

There will be no set dues to become a member of the Muleshoe Red Raider Club. Any volunteer contributions will be used for the improvement of athletics at Texas Tech.

Last fall the Red Raiders gave us a full measure of pride and entertainment. Let's get behind them and help make and keep Tech a power in the nation. Brownfield Levelland, and dozens of towns in West Texas have formed a Red Raider club. There is even a club in Massachusetts.

It takes this type of enthusiasm and support to keep our fine West Texas high school stars enrolling at Tech. Remember the date, Friday, July 30, the time 8 p. m., the place the home of "Chief" Jones. All the ice cold watermelon you can eat, lots of fun, come join the Muleshoe Red Raider club.

Jimmy Wilson, the business manager of Tech athletics, will attend the meeting here.

FFA MONTHLY MEETING SCHEDULED MONDAY NIGHT

Clothing, Bedding, Food Collection For Rio Grande Flood Areas Launched

JayCees throughout the state of Texas are making a concerted effort to serve as the vehicle through which direly needed items can be picked up and distributed to the homeless residents of Villa Acuna, Piedras Negras, Nuevo Laredo and surrounding areas, according to Rocky Ford Texas, Jaycee president.

The greatest need is for bedding, non-perishable foods, closed water containers, clothing of any kind and money.

The entire Jaycee club in Laredo, Texas in conjunction with Eagle Pass and Del Rio Jaycees are acting as the agency through which materials are being delivered to those experiencing the greatest need. All materials are being sent to: Laredo Jaycees, Laredo, Texas.

"Cooperation of all civic, service and church groups is solicited. The important thing is that we act now. There are 15,000 to 20,000 homeless, hungry and in need of clothing and bedding. Surely we can't let the width of the Rio Grande close our eyes to need when there is hunger and human suffering".

Ford said. A part of the Jaycee Creed reads, "That the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of the nations; and we believe it", the President stated.

Call your local Jaycees or send packages direct to the Laredo Jaycees. Everything received will be distributed without delay. A pontoon bridge should be completed across the river early this week. In the meantime a shuttle service is being accomplished by boats.

Muleshoe JayCees will participate in the drive, James Crow, president, said today. He said people may leave any item they care to give at the C & H Chevrolet company building on Main Street.

Parmer County Water Committee Is Changing Special Permit Regulations

Irrigation well drilling is no longer a seasonal operation in Parmer County, according to the committee who issue permits there. The number of permits issued from time varies, but to no great extent. Fifteen permits were granted at the past meeting. The greatest number ever, issued in a two week period was about thirty-five. The number of replacement wells is becoming a little alarming, say committee men. Most of these are replacements for wells that have been pumping less than two years, and too many of them have pumped only a few months. This seems to indicate that more study of formation and other elements should be made before installation is made. Minimum cost of replacement installation run around two thousand dollars.

Effective immediately, "special permit" procedures for drilling a well before regular meeting dates of the committee will be handled in a different manner than previously. The committee request that pump companies and drillers insist on a copy of the temporary permit before beginning drilling operation.

This can avoid embarrassment and possible added expense for their patrons, who may not be sure they have complied with District Regulations in locating their well site.

When a farmer feels he cannot wait for the regular meeting of the committee to secure a permit, he can follow the procedure outlined here: (1) Go to the office in Friona and provide all necessary data regarding the proposed well location. (2) Such data will be placed on a form which will show exact location desired. (3) The form may then be taken to three committeemen for their approval. (4) The form must then be returned to the office for issuance of a temporary permit which authorizes beginning of drilling operations. (5) At the next scheduled meeting date, applicant shall appear before the committee for formal completion of application.

The committee wishes to emphasize that if the driller will require a copy of temporary permits before moving on location, he will be doing a service to his patron by eliminating the possibility of illegal installations which may prove costly as well as inconvenient. The driller who will take this responsibility will soon become respected when a new well is considered.

PARMER COUNTY Farm Bureau News

By RAYMOND EULER

We are more firmly convinced every day that the penalty for driving while intoxicated should be more stringently applied than for carrying a concealed weapon without a permit.

Wheat straw has been baled and placed in the barn for the Fall Fair and the Spring Stock Show. We express our appreciation to the following who made this possible: Giles Cobb, who contributed the straw; Bud Elmore, who baled it at a very reasonable rate; Bruce Parr, who furnished a truck; Raymond Schueler, who furnished a truck and supervised the following volunteer crew members: Robert Schueler, Richard Kinickie, and Les Bruns.

This is an annual task. Maybe you would like to plan to assist next year. Bailey County Farm Bureau is, we believe, due commendation for the "Good Neighbor Cotton Seed Program" they promoted for the benefit of dry land farmers who are hard hit by drought conditions. We understand they provided, through individual contributions, over 1,300 bushels of cotton seed. The seed was made available to applicants free of charge.

R. W. Shelton and Olan W. Turner are the two newest Parmer County Farm Bureau members.

May we suggest that you vote in the July Primaries? May we also suggest that you consider the moral and religious qualifications of candidates? We are not referring to denominational ties, but rather to the characteristics that determine the future action he or she may take concerning vital moral and national issues.

Missouri Film Seen By Rotary Members Tuesday

Members of the Rotary Club at their noon luncheon Tuesday viewed a film entitled "Indian Summer" which depicted the natural beauty of the State of Missouri. The film was on the program presented by Ralph Mardis and brought Ohs and Ahs from those present, it was so beautiful.

James Crow was the project-ionist. Bob Gregory president, and new officers took over direction of the club. Woodie Lambert, on behalf of the club, presented past president's pin to J. M. Forbes, and past secretary's pin to Ralph Mardis. He then presented to Forbes a handsome .22 caliber Colt automatic target pistol, saying Forbes had learned to shoot one in the Spanish-American War.

Rotarian E. O. Baker told of his trip, accompanied by Mrs. Baker, to the Rotary International Convention, held in Seattle and showed several pictures of that confront them. We take pride in calling ours a Christian Nation, so let's elect Christian Statesmen to guide us in that direction; and be sure we're in a position to follow such leaders.

Coffine Stinson, County Home Demonstration Agent since May 1, has been making excellent progress in organizing clubs throughout the county.

Rhea Farm Bureau had a good meeting last Friday night. They had a short business session, a bake sale, home made ice cream and cake and fireworks. Raymond Schueler is president and Mrs. Sifford is secretary of Rhea Farm Bureau.

convention gatherings and Rotary International leaders. One of the highlights of the convention, he said, was the address of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. Some 8600 persons from many parts of the world registered. The Bakers made the trip to Alaska, also, and altogether had a wonderful trip.

Visitors included Lester Garth, of California, back in Muleshoe for a visit with relatives; Glen Williams, Bailey County Farmer; and two members of the Sudan Rotary Club, Guy Walden and James P. Arnold, both bankers.

Emergency Drive To Fight Polio Is Declared Necessary, Dates Announced

NEW YORK, June 25 — Americans contributed nearly $55,000,000 to the March of Dimes last January—more than in any previous year—yet the sum fell short by $20,000,000 of meeting the current year's needs, Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis reported today.

As a result, he said, it will be necessary to seek the additional amount through an Emergency March of Dimes scheduled for August 16 through 31. The decision to hold the emergency appeal for polio-fighting funds was made late last week at a meeting of the National Foundation's Board of Trustees, he disclosed.

"This year", Mr. O'Connor said, "confronts us with the greatest challenge of any in the history of the fight against polio, with commitments for a Polio Prevention Program of staggering size and the necessity of providing aid to a record number of polio patients." Mr. O'Connor said estimates last fall were that $75,000,000 would be needed to finance the polio vaccine trials, the purchase of increased quantities of gamma globulin, the search for improved preventive and treatment techniques, the support of professional education, and the provision of financial assistance for polio patients who need it.

"This is still a very realistic figure in terms of our obligations and commitments", Mr. O'Connor explained. "It was certainly not because of any lack of effort by our volunteers that we failed to meet it. March of Dimes workers did a remarkable job. Receipts went ahead more than 6 1/2 per cent. However, the $55,000,000 raised will not carry the program through 1954."

"We now are entering the evaluation phase of the vaccine trials. Surely no American would be a party to slowing this hopeful venture because money is needed to care for patients. And who could sanction cutting down on patient aid in a year that already gives signs of heavy polio incidence?"

"I know the American public does not want to see the vital program it has supported through 16 March of Dimes drives jeopardized in this year of challenge. I feel certain they will support the Emergency March of Dimes, to make sure that the prevention program, rehabilitation and aid for patients, research and professional education continue for as long as necessary."

Mr. O'Connor explained that $26,500,000 was needed for the vaccine and GG programs alone, plus $29,000,000 for patient aid if 1954 polio incidence is comparable to 1953, when almost 36,000 cases were reported. There are signs, however, that 1954 may be an even heavier incidence year. The number of new cases reported by the U. S. Public Health Service during the first 23 weeks of this year is the largest reported for any similar period in recorded history, he said. In addition, there are 67,000 holdover cases from previous years, who still require help from the National Foundation and its chapters.

Beyond all these costs, another $19,500,000 is needed for continued research into polio prevention and treatment for professional education, for medical and community services and for administration.

Mr. O'Connor expressed gratitude to the millions of volunteers who raised the $55,000,000 in January, and to the 80,000,000 Americans who contributed.

HERE THIS WEEK

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Burlesmith of Tyler, are visiting this week in the home of their son, D. O. Burlesmith and family. The Burlesmiths are former residents of Muleshoe, and are moving back here soon to make their home.

HERE OVER WEEKEND

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Baker and family, of Abilene, visited relatives and friends here over the weekend.

TO GIRL SCOUT CAMP

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Elliott went to Camp Mary White, Girl Scout Camp near Cloudcroft, N. M., over the weekend, where their daughters, Quinell and Roberta had spent the past two weeks. The girls returned home with them and reported a wonderful two weeks, especially Quinell, who along with Joan Green, an other Muleshoe girl and other senior scouts, went up into the mountains on a five-day pack trip.

"When they realize that more money is needed to insure completion of the vaccine evaluation, provision of gamma globulin, medical care and research and for the care and rehabilitation of thousands of current and future polio patients, they will want to add their little bit more", he said. "We must not fail to meet any of these obligations. If every man, woman, and child in the United States gives a little more in August, our promises to patients and the public can be kept."

"I invite all Americans to look at the problem from the point of view of one of the 2,000 patients who fight for breath each day and night in iron lungs or chest respirators. Right in your own community, among your own neighbors, there may be such a case. For them the promise of a polio vaccine is too late. They, and thousands of others who are seriously disabled, depend upon their fellow Americans' generosity even while rapid progress is being made toward final polio prevention."

BABSON DISCUSSES—

Chain Store Stocks

New Boston, N. H., July 8, 1954—During a visit here I have had an opportunity to talk with various retired workers now living on pensions. One thing that interests them most is the future cost of living. They are grateful to their employers for their pension but they wonder just how much it may always be able to buy. You cannot blame them for worrying, considering that a $1,000 pension received in 1900 will today buy only about $300 worth of food, clothing, and shelter.

MONEY VERSUS GOODS

Too many of my readers are thinking only of dollars, rather than of what these dollars will buy in the years ahead. Of course, the ideal thing would be for employers to promise their retired people a certain number of bushels of potatoes, pounds of meat, pairs of shoes, etc. in the form of a pension. Corporations, however, cannot do this unless they can be reimbursed by the Government. As our politicians are the ones who mainly determine the cost of living, would it be unfair to ask their Government to "give these pensioners 'insurance' against such unnecessary inflation?"

Another possible answer would be to have pension funds invested in merchandising stocks. I have in mind super markets, such as A & P, Kroger, American Stores, First National, Stop & Shop, etc., and the Variety Chains. These stocks could partly serve as a hedge against rising food prices and the cost of necessities. The latter could always be purchased from Chain Stores, such as Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Penny,—especially from the modern Variety Stores which now carry nearly everything necessary to living, other than food. The buyers for these Variety Chains hunt all over the world for the best merchandise at the lowest prices and sell it at the least profit; while the value of their inventories increases along with the cost of living. Thus, if pension funds were invested more in such stocks, the pensioners should be much better off if the cost of living should increase—especially in view of the "self-service" feature which was promoted by Herbert A. Hills Jr., of Wellesley, Mass.

TEN BIG VARIETY CHAINS

Working people should also put a fair proportion of their own savings in these stocks, possibly an equal proportion of money into each of the ten. Knowing, however, that two of these, the McLellan Chain and the McCrory Chain are largely owned by the United Stores Corporation I can "catch two birds with one stone" by buying the stocks of United Stores Corporation which are listed on the New York and American Stock Exchange. The Second Preferred sells around $9.75 a share and yields over 8%; and the Common sells around $2.75 a share. When working people come to me and want stocks to lay away for their children and grandchildren, not for speculation, I recommend these United Stores stocks at the rate of one share of Common for protection with each two shares of Second Preferred for dividends.

SAND HILLS PHILOSOPHER—

Wants Unknown Candidate's Platform Adopted By Stores And Banks

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has another idea he won't get anywhere with, but he never stops trying. Dear editor:

I don't know much about politics or politicians, and my forecast on how any election is gonna come out is about as dependable as a Russian promissory note. Also, I have never understood why people run for office when there's anything else to do, although there must be some good reasons as nearly every office that's available, there's always somebody willing to run for it.

And also, the reasons candidates give why they ought to be elected have always appealed to me, I sort of keep a mental scrapbook of them, and the other day I was pleased to add a new one.

This candidate, according to a statement I read in a newspaper which drifted in here on a dry wind, said he ought to be elected because, as he phrased it, "you haven't heard too much 'about me'."

According to him not having heard about a man is a strong recommendation, in these days of investigations, and he may have a point, as I'll admit the less you know about some candidates the more you might be in favor of em.

But what I'd like to see is this system applied to other endeavors not just limited to politics. For example, if banks would make loans on the same basis, all a man would have to do to swing one would be to find a bank that never had heard of him, and with the number of banks there are in this country, I figure I could operate for years without ever once being turned down.

This idea of investigating a man thoroughly before extending him credit is what keeps more money from circulating, is what keeps merchandise sitting on store shelves instead of winding up in homes where it was intended.

What this country needs is to get away from this eternal suspiciousness, back to where a man's word, if it ain't as good as his bond, is at least good for a television set on credit.

I doubt if this candidate I mentioned is gonna win don't see how he can if nobody ever heard of him, but he has hit on an idea which certainly would help some people if it was applied universally by banks and stores. It would help me if it was applied just in a ten-mile radius for one week.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Today's Meditation

THE FREEDOM CHRIST GIVES US

Stand fast . . . in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage. (Galatians 5:1.) Read Galatians 5:13-18.

In a storm on one of our small inland lakes, a boat broke loose from a wharf. The wind blew the boat down the lake to a place where it was being battered against some rocks.

When the storm ended, the owner borrowed his neighbor's boat to search for his own.

These two boats represent two ideas of freedom. The first represents absence from restraint; the do-as-you-like type of freedom. In many lives we see this kind practiced. These lives move at the impulse of the moment, at the command of whatever influences come to bear upon them.

The other boat represents the kind of freedom involving control, some restrictions and restraints—all in the interest of the fulfillment of the useful purposes for which our lives are intended.

We find the right kind of liberty when we allow Christ to be our Master. We then find that we can "stand fast in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free."

PRAYER

O God, our Father, Thou hast made us for fellowship with Thyself. In Thy service our lives find their fulfillment. Grant us liberty in Christ and use us in the spread of Thy Kingdom, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Which freedom do I live by: the freedom to do what I like, or the freedom to do what I ought?

Lorne James Henry (Ont.)

"Some people are funny", mused the man. "I know a man who hadn't kissed his wife for ten years. Then he goes and shoots a fellow who did."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

The spiritual basis of man's true independence will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God".

Man's God-given freedom will be brought out in readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following passage (227:14-16, 24-26):

"Discerning the rights of man, we cannot fail to foresee the doom of all oppression. Slavery is not the legitimate state of man. Citizens of the world, accept the glorious liberty of the children of God, and be free! This is your divine right."

Among the passages to be read from the King James Version of the Bible is the following (Isaiah 33:22): "For the Lord is our judge, the Lord is our lawgiver, the Lord is our king; he will save us."

"Have a good night?" the hostess asked sweetly of the house guest who had slept on a couch. "Fairly good", he answered sleepily. "I got up from time to time and rested."

By ROY DYER

They say TV writers have a lot of sleepless nights, and one of the reasons is the long list of taboos that have to be avoided if a script is to be acceptable. For instance, most TV series want stories with a positive theme and a happy ending. This is partly because of the belief that that's what the viewer's want, and partly because happy stories create the most receptive mood for the "commercial".

Most of the taboos can be traced to the sponsors. Beer sponsors, for one, don't want drinking scenes in their scripts (oddly enough). They don't want bars or taverns even mentioned. Soft drink sponsors, too, dislike drinking scenes in their TV plays, unless they're soft drinks!

Shows that are sponsored by the cigarette manufacturer Philip Morris ban the use of the word "lucky", for obvious reasons. And the TV series called "Trouble with Father", which is sponsored by a flour manufacturer, forbids the portrayal of a grocer as a villain. Can't even show a butcher with his thumb on the scale.

Kidnapping of a child is rarely treated on any sponsored TV show—nor in radio. There aren't many things you can't view on television these days, but there are a few! There's one sure way of seeing everything that TV has to offer at its very best, and that means at its brightest and clearest. That's through our reliable service. There's nothing left out of our service picture at DYER HARDWARE & FURNITURE, Phone 2590, Muleshoe.

Anderson's other son, was seriously injured in the accident. Charges of murder without malice have been filed in Farwell against Paul Franklin Dowdy, 32, of McCook, Neb., harvest worker, who was driving the truck which collided with the 1953 Chrysler club coupe which Mrs. Anderson was driving. The other victims were passengers in the Anderson car.

Originally charges of driving while intoxicated were filed against Dowdy, and the charge still contains that allegation, reports state.

Dowdy and three youths were going east in the 1951 Chevrolet truck and Mrs. Anderson was driving west. When the collision occurred, the two vehicles hit in the ditch on the north side of the road, as both drivers pulled that way trying to avoid the collision. None of the persons in the truck were injured.

"She was a person who loved everyone, and always had a good time", one of her friends said. "So far as I know, she didn't have an enemy in the world".

In addition to her other activities, Mrs. Anderson had taken an active part in the Democratic Party in Texas, and was district committeewoman from the 30th Senatorial district. This was not just an empty title, for she took active part in executive committee meetings.

Her love for children embraced not only her own, but those of all of her friends, and she sincerely enjoyed helping children have a good time, going out of her way on many occasions that she might accomplish this.

Gabe D. Anderson, Mrs. Anderson's husband and the father of Johnny Anderson, is manager of Sherley Grain Company in Farwell. Other survivors include the boy's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Anderson, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. John S. Williams all of Farwell.

Mrs. White's survivors include her husband; four sons: Elton Rhodes, Silvious Rhodes, Lawrence Rhodes and Nolan Rhodes; two brothers, C. L. Rury of Clovis, Okla.; and two sisters, Mrs. F. W. Ayers of Bovina and Mrs. Jennie Shroyer of California.

WHITELEYS HERE
Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Whiteley, of Shawnee, Okla., were here last week looking after their farm four miles north of Muleshoe. They plan moving here next year. Mr. Whiteley said, "They have a son in the army, stationed in Korea."

C. R. Anthony Co. Acquires Burr Chain Of Stores

Effective July 1, the C. R. Anthony Company acquired the locations, stocks and fixtures of eight L. C. Burr stores located in Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Texas. In this transaction the C. R. Anthony store at Van Nuy, Calif., was transferred to the L. C. Burr Company. This addition of stores will bring the total number up to 137. Leases have already been signed on new locations at Magnolia, Ark., Tulsa, Okla., LaMesa, Calif., and Garden Grove, Calif.

These transactions are further steps in the big expansion program of the C. R. Anthony Company. As Mr. C. R. has stated several times "When you stop being better, you stop being good". He feels that there are more stores to be opened and more work to be done to "be better". This alone should help renew the ambition and the enthusiasm of every man in the C. R. Anthony Company to work harder and sell more, to prepare himself for a bigger and better position when the time comes.

In addition to the new stores, two manager transfers and 10 new managers were selected as follows: Johnnie Wilburn of the Henryetta store will manage the new Tulsa Harvard Store. Johnnie will be replaced in Henryetta by Tom Cox from Roswell, T. J. Duggin from Amarillo will manage the new West Plains, Mo., store. Owen Davis from Elk City will manage the Batesville, Ark., store. Roy Richmond will transfer from the Van Nuy store to manage the Searcy, Ark., store. Roy Nunn of the Oklahoma City S. W. 29th store will manage the new Pauls Valley, Oklahoma store. Jim Daniel from Plainview, will manage the Durant, Okla., store. Sherman Lindley from the Oklahoma City Casady Square store will manage the Ennis, Tex., store. G. C. "Doc" Stone, from Hobbs will manage the Coleman, Tex., store. Lynn Miller from Berger will manage the Magnolia, Ark., store. Claude Doolin of the Van Nuy store will manage the Garden Grove, Calif., store. Roland Rea of Guthrie will manage the LaMesa, Calif., store.

By keeping "Selling Foremost" the expansion of the Company will continue to go on and on.

CUTTING FARM COSTS

Farmers who are faced with the problem of increasing farm operational costs may be able to lower them by using improved fertilizer and other cultural practices.

Investigations and experiments show that improved practices, as compared with farm practices currently used, can cut the cost of producing a bushel of wheat from $1.65 to $1.28, of oats from 90 cents to 69 cents, and of corn from $1.21 to $1.02. Recommended practices also lowered the cost of producing a ton of alfalfa-brome grass hay from $16.80 to $13.30 and a ton of sugar beets from $11.21 to $8.19. All this means more profit to the farmer.

75.77 Miles of Roads Built In Bailey Co. In Past Five Years

During the last five years, 75.77 miles of roads have been built in Bailey County. It was Texas' greatest period of road construction history. Highway Department files show.

The breakdown by counties as well as state totals prepared by the department showed that $793,456.97 was spent in the county for maintenance of present roads and for the gigantic construction program.

Meanwhile in Austin Governor Shivers cited the impressive figures "as evidence that the state's construction program is giving Texas motorists the best roads that engineering can provide."

The report showed that 14,926.10 miles of roads added to the state highway system over the period covered cost $375,158,577.32, more money spent for construction than in any other comparable period.

Figures also showed that Farm-to-Market roads came in for a lion's share of the total. The roads were named a priority because they give farmers needed routes to markets and access to towns surrounding rural areas, a highway official said.

Shivers, who said he was very proud of the excellent way Texas roads have improved in the last half-decade, listed dollars and time saved as two prime benefits to Texas motorists.

"State drivers have been able to save countless hours and money through good roads that provide the ultimate in safety and design," he remarked.

He also pledged that he "would do everything in my power" to continue the present rapid pace of road-building and maintenance.

"A road system worthy of its name must provide its motorists with swift, safe routes," he said.

Lewis And Elrod Wedding Solemnized At First Methodist Church, Clovis, N. M.

MR. AND MRS. BILLY ELROD

The wedding of Miss Lenita Lewis and Mr. Billy Elrod was solemnized June 26 at 8:00 o'clock in the evening at the First Methodist Church in Clovis, N. M.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Joe B. Scrimshire.

The bride was radiant in a starched lace ballerina length dress of cornflower blue. The fitted bodice featured a scoop neckline, outlined with a scalloped fold of pleated net. The full skirt was caught with a side panel of matching pleated net. Her accessories were pink, and she carried a cascade arrangement of pink roses atop a white Bible.

Carrying out the tradition, something old was her small pearl earrings; something new was the white Bible; something borrowed was a single strand pearl necklace belonging to Annamary Elrod; and something blue was her dress.
