Local sponsor sought for Mahon Foundation

Western Texas College in Snyder is looking for a local sponsor for the Mahon Foundation which currently awards a $300 scholarship to a Mitchell County high school graduate each year.

The Foundation is in honor of former Congressman and Mrs. Eldon Mahon who made Colorado City their home after retiring from politics. The Mahons knew of the foundation before their deaths.

Dr. Jim Tulley of WTC said that there is about $3,000 in the foundation and most of that money came from four or five different areas on campus.

"We would like to be able to give a renewable scholarship to a graduate from each of the three high schools in Mitchell County each year," said Tulley. "Right now, the money is earning 8-9 percent interest. The money is in secure investments, such as certificates of deposit."

Tulley said he would like to see a service club or some organization become a sponsor of the foundation. If more money is put into the foundation, more scholarships can be awarded. Also, the sponsoring organization will be able to screen the applicants for the scholarships and award them based on the applications.

Tulley said he will be happy to talk to any group or organization about the foundation. Call him at 573-8511 for more information.

the two suspects were still at large.

Federal drug officials continue to piece together information apparently tied to a drug smuggling operation with links to Borden County, Palo Pinto County, Austin and Mexico.

Approximately an hour and a half before the private plane touched down and was abandoned in Borden County, it had allegedly been used to deliver over 1,200 pounds of marijuana in Palo Pinto County near Lake Possum Kingdom. Mexico was thought to be the source of the marijuana and the individuals implicated to date are from the Austin area.

The Snyder Daily News reported that law enforcement officers arrested two men and confiscated the marijuana in Palo Pinto County around 9:30 p.m. Monday. They had allowed the airplane to take off again, after unloading its cargo.

Reports indicated a DPS assault helicopter followed the plane to Borden County, where two individuals fled the aircraft upon landing at the airstrip just west of Gail around 11 p.m.

Borden County Sheriff Norman (Slick) Sneed was quoted as saying he believed the airstrip had been used before by planes carrying marijuana. Sneed speculated the plane, a Beech KingAir, returned to Borden County to retrieve seats which had been removed from it earlier. He believed that the pilot would fly from Austin to Lamesa, where the plane would be refueled. They would then land at the rural airstrip to remove the seats to allow for greater storage space.

Custom officials and DPS agents had followed the plane from Mexico to a small airstrip at Sportsmans World on the west side of Possum Kingdom Lake. They observed two men loading 40 large bundles from the aircraft to a large four-horse trailer, hitched to a pickup, and left the scene in separate vehicles. Police chased the two men for about 15 miles before arresting them and confiscating the marijuana, valued at about $1.2 million. Arrested were Gerald Blake Mackey of Cedar Creek and Gary M. Whittington of Austin.

A SALUTE TO....
Our Civic Boards

Within the confines of our community are men and women playing roles of good citizenship as elected and appointed members of all types of civic boards and commissions.

There are also those working on state and federal levels from our community.

Some individuals are compensated, but for the most part, these persons serve without pay and often put in many hours.

When you consider there are millions of dollars in budgets and projects, these folks have much responsibility, paper work and field studies involved where the personal satisfaction of serving their fellow man is the only reward.

Aside from the city and county commissions, these folks can be found as members of planning, zoning, airport, library, industrial development, cemetery, council of aging, public health and recreation boards to name a few.

The school board is another important group where there is tremendous responsibility but little in the way of reward save fulfilling a desire to help students.

Considering they are ordinary citizens doing what they can as volunteers, they are to be praised for dong their duty for mankind.

Thanks to all our volunteers!

With the new year upon us, I want to take time to thank all of our individual volunteers, musical and singing groups, churches, clubs and organizations for all of the time they spend with our residents throughout the year. Our residents certainly enjoy the cakes, cookies, fruit, the crafts, the singing, the music, gospel messages and just a good visit that all of these groups and individuals provide.

It really does brighten up their days and holidays. They know that there is someone who is going to come and bring something or just come to visit tomorrow or next week and they anxiously wait.

Also, our thanks go out to Jessie's Villa Restaurant, Dairy Queen and Mac-Michaels for the coffee and tea they provide for our residents when we go on our weekly coffee outing. This gives them an opportunity be be out of the home into a different environment and enjoy a good cup of coffee and a good visit. They wait patiently for their time to go again. Thanks each and everyone of you for your kind deeds, time and dedication throughout the year.

Alarm system at nursing home designed to prevent runaways

A new alarm system signaling when a resident leaves the building has been installed at Kristi Lee Manor nursing home, 1941 Chestnut.

Clark Moody, administrator/owner, said the new system is designed to alert personnel when one of the residents prone to run away opens the front door to the nursing home.

The other exits already have alarm signals that ring out when the door is opened, but the front door had not been equipped with one because of the number of visitors entering and leaving the building.

The new system is called Wonder Guard and utilizes a wrist bracelet worn by patients prone to wander off from the nursing home. The bracelet, which must be replaced every 90 days, will sound a piercing alarm on the door if the door is opened.

Moody said the alarm bracelets were put on three residents Monday and by Thursday, the alarm had sounded three times, alerting personnel that a resident might be trying to leave the building.

Moody said that the nursing home has videos available explaining the system and that anyone interested may view the videos.

Moody said the new alarm system is one of several improvements currently underway at the 59-room facility. He said a remodeling project including new paint and tile and new bathroom fixtures is about half completed.

Body control classes set

New body control classes are set to begin Feb. 22 at the Kelley School Cafeteria. The instructor is Joanne Sanderson.

The classes will meet three nights per week starting on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday for a total of six weeks. Preregistration is required through Wallace Center before the classes begin.

The fast paced class will meet on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday from 6-7 p.m. The slow paced class will meet on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday from 7-8 p.m. The cost will be $25 for two nights and $30 for three nights. A $3 late fee will be charged for payment after first class night.

Both classes will involve a series of exercises set to a variety of music that emphasize weight loss, muscle tone, and cardio-vascular fitness. The workout will utilize both floor and aerobic type exercise programs.

The fast paced class is designed for those participants with previous exercise experience, and the ability to withstand a moderate to high level workout capacity for a lengthy period of time.

The slow paced class is designed for those participants with limited or no exercise experience who wish to begin an exercise program that will emphasize all fast paced areas but yet at a much slower pace.

A new business in town is making an impact.

The business, a restaurant, is open until 9 at night, and just about any night of the week, except Sunday when the already-popular restaurant is closed, there are actually cars parked on main street!

My wife and I ate downtown Monday night and it brought back memories of the 1950s and 1960s when downtown Colorado City was bustling all the time.

That was before Interstate 20 bypassed the town and there were four lanes of traffic going right through the heart of the business district. There would be cars and trucks going through town all hours of the day and night. The stop lights were timed so that if a driver drove 20 miles an hour, he wouldn't be stopped by a red light. But when traffic was bumper to bumper at times, the 20 mph formula didn't work.

Some businesses, including several cafes, would stay open late every night to capture what business they could from the travelers.

The Baker Hotel had been remodeled and motorists and as well as people traveling on the train would stay overnight.

The train station, now torn down, was located across from the hotel. Watch repairmen from the jewelry stores (yes, there was more than one jewelry store) would go to the train depot each morning to get the accurate time in order to set the watches and clocks in the stores located on Second Street.

My family moved from Snyder to Silver in about 1957. Every Saturday we would travel somewhere to shop and look around. Many times we would come to Colorado City. My dad would drive around the blocks looking for a "good" parking place (one that was in the shade if it was summer time and one that was in the sun if it was winter and one located near Max Berman's Department Store, regardless of the season).

We would get our shopping done and our haircuts (my brother and I were forced to endure haircuts every other Saturday) and more likely than not, would sit in the car for a while watching the traffic and the people.

Sometimes our dad would treat us to an chocolate malt at the drug store where the new restaurant is now located. The soda fountain with the stools in front of the counter remains as a pleasant reminder of the old Colorado Drug store where Si Hamm filled prescriptions for many years.

If there was a good show playing at the Palace Theater, my brother and I would sometimes go to the Saturday matinee while our parents shopped.

We weren't alone in our Saturday afternoon outings. There were other families sitting in their cars, too, watching the people pass by and visiting with their friends.

The same sort of thing is still happening. It's called mall sitting. That's when people sit around in shopping malls merely to visit and watch the people. But, of course, you have to go out of town to do it.

You have to beat out 50 or 100 equally qualified applicants to get most high-powered jobs.

Fortunately the U.S. presidency isn't that difficult.

When Ronald Reagan is forced into retirement in a few months, only a handful of politicians will aspire to the oval office. Even now, there are only a dozen or so people in the entire country who are interested. Of those, Pat Paulsen and Gary Hart, are just applying to be funny.

People say the position causes great stress, but I've got my doubts. Insiders say Mr. Reagan insists on working a light slate. He vacations either in Camp David or on his California ranch practically every weekend. You and I, being the compassionate employers that we are, even foot the bill for his plane and helicopter rides to-and-from those locations.

We send along several heavies to shoot anybody that might harm the family while they're sunning, too.

If the president gets bored, he can always call a summit meeting and fly in a fairly snazzy jet to some of the most exotic places on earth.

How many of you get paid a tax free salary? The way it works, see, is we pay our own taxes first, then his.

The job is just loaded with perks. If you're in the mood for a formal dinner, you have the finest chefs in the land arrange the menu. The best entertainers we have, drop by the White House. They even talk to you personally between numbers.

How many of you get top entertainers to stop by your house to perform for you at no cost. Again, we the employers, provide the perk.

You don't even have a degree in the presidency. You can be a peanut farmer, or an actor.

Once you get the job, the secret, is knowing how to delegate authority. No, wait a minute. The secret is to delegate your authority to a group of people who will do the delegating for you. You just sort of give them the green light, then forget about it until the next press conference.

Now there's a problem area. If you delegate all the authority to some one else and are only lightly briefed, if you avoid anything complicated or unpleasant, then how do you answer the nosy questions of reporters at a press conference?

Simple.

You don't call press conferences. The press will howl, and anchormen will remind their audiences of how many days it's been since you last spoke to them. But the audiences don't much care.

If, and when, you decide to call one, you simply fall back on past experiences. Mr. Reagan was an actor, so he can memorize the lines of his so-called subordinates. That works pretty well, though even the best actors occasionally blow their lines. The president is hardly an exception.

So you call a clarification press conference after the presidential press conference. One of your aids merely stands in front of a microphone and tells the press corp you didn't really mean to say what you said, and to clarify, you'd just like to let them know the president actually meant exactly the opposite of what he said.

Oh, there are a few obnoxious reporters who will holler at you while you're walking back to your bedroom, but all you have to do is cuff your ear with your hand - indicating you can't hear the question while you're walking as fast as possible to assure his voice is even less audible when he repeats himself.

If occasionally you get into hot water for secretly bribing terrorists, there are any number of fall guys waiting to hit the canvass for you.

How many of you high-powered employees have somebody to take the hit when your own dirty laundry gets exposed? Not many I'd guess.

Considering all the perks, the high salary and the relatively few applicants, I'm surprised a lot more people aren't filling out their resumes for our perusal.

Toll free financial aid hotline planned

Families who seek information regarding options for paying college costs will find help close at hand—as near as their telephones.

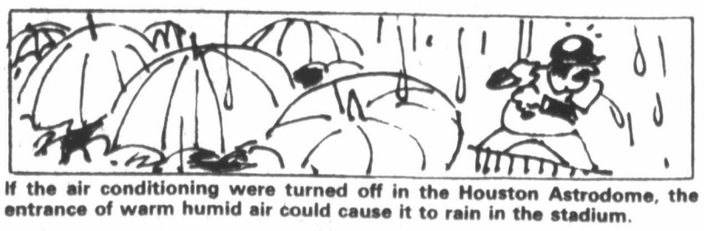

Many financing options exist. To help spread this word and to assist students and their families with the applications processes, the Texas Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators (TAS-FAA) is sponsoring the second annual Financial Aid Hotline. Scheduled to operate between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, February 27 and 28, the toll free number for parents and students to call is 1-800-537-8745.

Financial aid administrators from Texas schools and colleges will be standing by to answer questions regarding aid eligibility and the types of assistance available. They will also assist families with the completion of the financial aid application forms.

"The economic conditions in Texas have caused many families to seek outside help in order to finance college costs. The good news is that financial assistance is available from a number of sources to supplement what the family can reasonably contribute," said A. D. James, Director of Admissions and Financial Aid at Prairie View A&M University and Chairman of the TAS-FFA Public Relations Committee. "Merit scholarships, employment opportunities, grants and loans for students and parents are available, but eligibility criteria vary among the programs. We encourage everyone to explore the possibilities so that no opportunity is lost.

"Last year's Hotline was a great success, with over 800 phone calls received and responded to in a two-day period," James continued. "We hope that even more families will take advantage of this service this year. Financial aid is available," James concluded, "and the Hotline help us reach those families who need help and advice to guide them through the process."

The toll free Financial Aid Hotline will cap a week of activities planned for Financial Aid Awareness Week, sponsored by college and university financial aid officers throughout Texas.

If the air conditioning were turned off in the Houston Astrodome, the entrance of warm humid air could cause it to rain in the stadium.

Men turning 26 reach an important milestone

The Selective Service System has announced that men who will reach their 26th birthday in 1988 and who have not registered with Selective Service may forfeit their eligibility for some federal programs.

Men who were required to register with Selective Service in 1981 will be turned 26 this year. The law requires that young men register with Selective Service within 30 days of the day they turn 18. Although tardy registrations usually are accepted, Selective Service does not have the authority to accept registrations after a man reaches age 26. By failing to register before turning 26, a young man may permanently forfeit his eligibility for federal student aid, job training and most federal employment. Likewise, some states require registration for state student aid, entrance to a state supported college or university, state employment and permission to practice law.

Many of the men who have still not registered may be unaware of the requirement or do not understand the importance of the obligation to register. Some may even have served in the military but failed to register either before entering the Armed Forces or after leaving active duty. Others may have been institutionalized or incarcerated at the time of their 18th birthday and not realized that they were required to register within 30 days if released prior to age 26.

For those men born in 1962 who have registered, 1988 also marks the year that ends their eligibility for selection for induction under present law should there be a return to the draft. Nearly 20 million men, age 18 through 25 have registered with Selective Service since registration was reinstituted in 1980. These men comprise over 98 percent of those required to register.

Men who have not yet registered should do so at the post office. Failure to register is a felony punishable by a fine of up to $250,000, up to five years in jail, or both.

UT-Permian Basin sets workshop for secondary, elementary teachers

ODESSA - The University of Texas of the Permian Basin will host a workshop for secondary social studies teachers and elementary teachers from 9 a.m.-4:30 p.m. on Saturday, Feb. 27, in the Devonian Room.

The workshop for secondary teachers, entitled Geography's Big Ideas and Their Application in Teaching the Social Studies, will introduce and explain the five conceptual themes of geography.

Map Skill Activities for the Elementary School will introduce elementary teachers to a variety of hands-on map and globe activities designed to address the essential elements. Free geography related materials from Rand McNally will be available.

NHS INDUCTION - Seventeen Colorado High School students were inducted into the National Honor Society during a ceremony Thursday, Jan. 21. They joined 13 other members of the group. CHS teacher Kathy Wilson is sponsor.

National Honor Society inducts CHS members

The Colorado High School chapter of the National Honor Society held its annual inductions on Thursday, Jan. 21, in the school auditorium. Seventeen students - one senior and 16 juniors - were installed.

Reese Moore, president, gave the welcome for the National Honor Society induction. Ruben Parras and Cary Redwine led the pledge to the flag and gave the prayer, respectively.

Speaker for the evening, Dr. Mary Hood, was introduced by the NHS sponsor Kathy Wilson. Dr. Hood is a counselor at Western Texas College.

Members James Woods spoke on scholarship, Jody Webb on service, Mary Alice Davila on leadership and Melanie Aston on character. These four requirements were exemplified by the lighting of candles by each speaker. Moore then lit the candle of knowledge and all new members repeated the pledge. The inductees were presented their membership cards by principal Jerry Reynolds. A reception followed the induction.

New members of the National Honor Society include Billie Muncrief, Misty Bentley, Oria Gonzales, Darla Gregory, Denise Lowrance, Daneshu Lusk, Lisa Mendoza, Jodi Mitchell, and Mark Molinda. Hal Morren, Bhavesh Patel, Chris Perkin, Beau Rees, George Rivera, Sandi Smith, Stacie Smith and Audrey Weatherly also were inducted.

Old members consist of Melanie Aston, Mary Alice Davila, secretary-treasurer; Belynda Grisham, Lorianne Hendrix, Nikki Holman, Christy Mitchell, Reese Moore, president; Ruben Parras, Cary Redwine, Cary Ritchey, Tony Selvera, Jody Webb, vice president; and James Woods.

USDA booklet available here

"Soil Erosion by Water" is the name of a new booklet published by the USDA Soil Conservation Service.

Kevin Wright, district conservationist for SCS at Coloardo City, said the booklet explains how water erosion happens; how it damages land, water and wildlife resources; and outlines some ways to control erosion.

Single copies of "Soil Erosion by Water" are available free to teachers, students, farmers, ranchers and other interested persons.

Farmers need to have conservation plan by '90

Farmers with highly erodible cropland have less than two years to begin meeting the conservation requirements of the 1985 Farm Bill to remain eligible for USDA benefits.

Kevin Wright, district conservationist for the USDA Soil Conservation Service at Colorado City, said these provisions require farmers who have highly erodible cropland to have a conservation plan approved by their local soil and water conservation district by 1990.

"The plan must be prepared by Jan. 1, 1990, if they want to remain eligible for farm program benefits, loans or guarantees on all their land," Wright said.

"We estimated that about 850 new conservation plans need to be prepared for local farmers by our staff by 1990. Our goal is to get at least 650 written by the end of this year.

"Then we will try to schedule the remaining plans during 1990," he said.

Wright said the planning workload will be difficult for the local SCS staff, especially if farmers wait until the end of 1989 to being developing plans.

The sooner farmers ask SCS to help them develop a conservation plan, the greater the change we will have to get to everyone by the deadline, Wright stressed.

Wright said that since highly erodible land is not always obvious, farmers should check with their local SCS office to see if they have land that meets the criteria if such a determination has not already been made.

Another option is to enroll highly erodible land into the Conservation Reserve Program. Under CRP, farmers received annual rental payments for putting cropland in grass or trees.

BEATITUDES OF A LEADER

-Blessed is the leader who has not merely sought high places, but who has been drafted into service because of ability and willingness to serve.
-Blessed is the leader who knows how to lead without being dictatorial; the best leaders are humble.
-Blessed is the leader who leads for the good of the most concerned and not for the personal gratification of his own ideas.
-Blessed is the leader who develops leaders while leading.
-Blessed is the leader who considers leadership an opportunity for service.
-Blessed is the leader who knows how to listen to the ideas of those he leads.
-Blessed is the leader whose first service is always to God.

And, of course, there is that very ancient beatitude, "Blessed are they who go round in circles, for they shall be called wheels."

The Lady Jays, who enjoyed a definite height advantage over the Lady Bulldogs, led from start to finish. Jayton led 16-6 after one period, 40-14 at halftime and 56-22 after three periods.

Scoring for coach Jim Nau's Bulldogs, 7-20 and runners-up in district 17-A, were Chery Alvarez 8(2 three-pointers), Jolinda Troutt 7, Betty Garcia 6, Trena Williams 4 and Leticia Garcia 3.

Leading scorers for the 18-A champion Lady Jays, 25-2, were T. Bryant 20, B. Brown 20 and T. Hamilton 15.

Westbrook, Roby in Bi-district play Tuesday

Coach Jim Hill and the Westbrook Wildcats will be making their second consecutive appearance in the Class A boys state basketball playoffs when they play Roby at Snyder's Scurry County Coliseum Tuesday night.

The Wildcats, who were outright champions of district 17-A last season, finished as co-champions with Ira this season with a 5-1 record. Ira won a one-game playoff that determined the playoff positions.

Westbrook, playing as the 17-A runner-up, will play 18-A champion Roby at 6:30 Tuesday.

The Wildcats scheduled two practice games to prepare for Roby. The Wildcats lost 53-51 to Sterling City at Big Spring's Dorothy Garrett Coliseum Tuesday and were to have played Trent at Highland Friday.

"We were down(against Sterling City) but came back right there at the end," said coach Hill. "We had our chances in the last few seconds but we just couldn't hit our shots. We were kind of in awe in the first half playing in a big place like that. In the second half we played real well."

Frankie Fuentes scored 18 points in the loss. Scooter Hines, Neal Ginkinger and Wayne Carter added 10, 6 and 2 points, respectively, for the Wildcats.

Coach Hill expects a big challenge from the 18-A champion Roby Lions Tuesday night.

"They're ranked number nine in the state," said Hill. "Ira's played them two or three times. Roby won by 20-something a couple of times and Ira played them within 14 once."

"They'll be pretty tough," said Hill, "but anything can happen. If we play hard we can play with them. We need to go over there and play our type of game, play hard and not their pressure get to us. They play a tough man-to-man. It's going to take a hard effort. We just need to play hard."

Westbrook will be the visitors Tuesday.

Coach Mickey McCartey's Roby Lions will be the home team in dark colors.

The Lions, 24-4, went undefeated in 18-A this season for their third consecutive title. Losses have been to Coahoma, Albany, Haskell and Eula-currently ranked number five in Class A.

"We played Eula the first game of the season," said coach McCartey. "They won 74-69 but they don't play football so we were kind of pleased with our effort."

"We're small," said McCartey. "Our tallest player is maybe six feet tall. We play mostly man-to-man and press full court. We're quick. That's one advantage. Another is that we're pretty balanced."

Carter Edmondson and Jerry Carrion lead Roby scoring with 20 and 18 points per game, respectively. "Reggie Spencer is one of our leading rebounders," said McCartey.

The Lions last lost during the Christmas Holidays to Albany January 2. The Lions reached the area round last year after a bi-district win over Loraine.

"We expect a good game Tuesday," said McCartey. "We expect a hard game. Westbrook doesn't play football. Basketball's their main sport. We're expecting a hard game."

To the Citizens of Mitchell County:

I am David Ginkinger, Candidate for Sheriff of Mitchell County. I have based my campaign on the fact that the current administration lacks patrol, visiability and name recognition throughout the county. I arrived at this conclusion by talking to a great number of citizens all over the county.

Recently, (the last two months), the sheriff's department has increased efforts in the areas I described, but they should be doing these things 365 days a year, not just two months before election.

Another item that has been made public is the operating budget for the sheriff's department and I would like to clarify this. After extensive research of the budget with the county auditor, the estimated budget for 1987 was $300,875.34, and after the auditor saw that the budget was going to exceed the estimated budget, (mostly because of overtime pay), the commissioners court met and amended the budget to $313,675.81. However, by the end of the year, the actual figures were $306,382.38. In another article by another candidate, it showed a budget of $313,675.81 plus an additional $16,300.00, making the total budget $329,975.81. These figures were misleading and does not show the actual amount spent by the sheriff's department. I have gone over these figures with the auditor and these records are public knowledge and any citizen is welcome to look at them.

If a person is seeking the position as sheriff, it is his duty to investigate all the facts and present them as truthfully as he can. I strongly feel that this was not done by one of the other candidates. As a candidate for sheriff, I have concern for the operating budget. I would do my best to stay within the recommended budget, but sometimes things will happen that I nor anyone else has control over and due to unforseen expenses you can go over your budget limit.

I also feel that the current sheriff knew these facts and should have corrected the article. But maybe he did not know or just doesn't care.

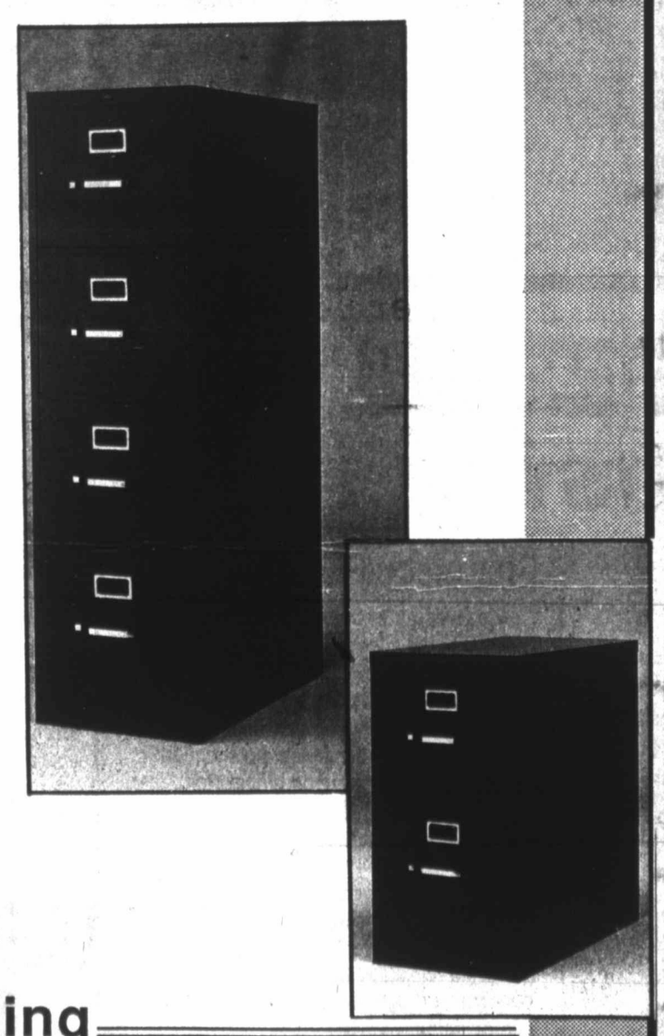

Thank you

Elderly abuse on the rise in Texas

Investigations into abuse of the elderly by the Texas Department of Human Services have risen by more than 150% since 1983. DHS estimates that at least 110,000 incidents of elder abuse occur every year in Texas, many of which go unreported.

The U. S. Census reported 1.9 million Texans age 60 or over in 1980 and projects 2.4 million by 1990 and more than 3 million by the year 2000. Abuse of the elderly will undoubtedly increase as well, unless we do something about it.

KINDS OF ABUSE

The elderly can be abused by their children or other family members and they can be abused by caretakers including nursing home personnel.

Abuse takes many forms: it can be psychological or physical; it can range from neglect of basic dietary needs to sexual assault.

Evidence of psychological abuse is hard for untrained observes to recognize. But many warning signs of physical abuse, neglect and sexual abuse are visible and apparent.

Frequent injuries, burns, bruises in unusual patterns, or passive and withdrawn behavior are warning signs of physical abuse.

Obvious weight loss, lack of personal cleanliness, dirty or torn clothes, and obvious fatigue and listlessness are warning signs of neglect.

Evidence of injury to the genital area, difficulty in sitting or walking, or physical signs of sexually transmitted diseases are warning signs of sexual abuse.

CONSUMER ALERT

by Jim Mattox
Attorney General

Texas law requires any person who had reasonable cause to believe an elderly or disabled person has been abused to report it to the Department of Human Services.

WHAT THE LAW SAYS

Chapter 48 of the Texas Human Resources Code deals with abuse of the elderly. It provides that:

- the report may be made orally or in writing;
- DHS will investigate within 24 hours of getting the report;
- anyone reporting in good faith is immune from civil or criminal liability;
- an elderly person may request protective services;
- district courts can issue orders for emergency protection services for 72 hours, which may be renewed for another 72 hours.

HOW TO REPORT

If you know of a case of abuse, exploitation or neglect of an elderly Texan, report it to your nearest office of the Department of Human Services, or call the Abuse Hotline: 1-800-252-5400 or the Nursing Home Hotline: 1-800-252-9106.

If you want more information, write for the Texas Attorney General's brochure, "Abuse of the Elderly." Send a stamped self-addressed envelop to: Jim Mattox, P. O. Box 12548, Austin, Texas 78711.

Tax tips

Working students may have to pay withholding tax

Many students with summer or part-time jobs can no longer claim exemption from federal income tax withholding, according to the Internal Revenue Service.

Because of tax law changes made by the Tax Reform Act of 1986, students who can be claimed as dependents on their parents', or another person's, tax return cannot claim exemption from withholding for 1987 if they have any investment income, such as interest on savings, and their wages plus this investment income will be more than $500 for the year.

However, students whose wages for the year are $2,540 or less and who have no investment income generally will be exempt from withholding.

Students can claim exemption from tax withholding on their Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate, only if last year they had to pay no federal income tax and this year they expect to have to pay no federal income tax, the IRS said. If exempt status is claimed, it remains in effect until February 15 of the next year.

Generally, students not exempt from withholding should claim one withholding allowance if they have only one job at a time. Or, if they need or want more tax withheld, they should claim zero allowances. See the Form W-4 instructions for more details.

Many students who had to pay no tax in the past may have to pay tax for 1987, and so cannot be exempt from withholding, because of the Tax Reform Act of 1986, according to the IRS.

Beginning in 1987, any child who may be claimed as a dependent on a parent's return is not entitled to a personal exemption on his or her own return.

Also, the standard deduction for an individual who can be claimed as a dependent on another taxpayer's return is limited to the greater of:

- $500, or
- the individual's earned income, but not more than the allowable standard deduction, ($2,540 for a single child who is not blind).

For example, a dependent child who is not blind, has investment income, and does not work, gets a standard deduction of $500. If this dependent child works and earns over $500, the standard deduction equals earned income, but may not exceed $2,540.
