

PROBE OF FERGUSON PARDONS IS INDICATED COMMISSIONERS READY TO GO WITH LUBBOCK PAVING PLANS

SALARIES OF CITY EMPLOYEES ARE RAISED BY BOARD

COMMISSION VOTES MORE MONEY TO MUNICIPAL FORCE

WANT MORE POLICE

CHIEF MAY ASKS FOR SOME ADDITIONAL OFFICERS

Expressing their readiness to advertise for bids for paving, voting approval of the proposed second fire station and increasing salaries for a number of city employees, members of the Lubbock city commission yesterday had one of the busiest sessions for several months.

A number of visitors appeared before the body and all were allowed to state their business. Chief E. O'Neill volunteered to give the city property valued at more than three thousand dollars if the commission would build larger water mains to Ellwood Place.

Chief May appeared before the body and asked that he be allowed additional help during the fall and winter. "We are doing the best we can," stated the chief. "But we really need more help."

Water Charges

Several people have been complaining of water charges and these will be adjusted. Leaks in pipes have been the cause of most of the trouble. Where more than one family is using water on one meter all will have to pay the minimum monthly charge regardless of the amount of water used.

Vote Warrants

The commissioners voted $40,000 in warrants to take up present indebtedness and to finance the present building campaign, which will include considerable paving.

The salary of the city electrician was raised from $175 to $200 per month on motion of Commissioner Hankins who also stated that he felt that some people employed by the city, the chief of police included, were being paid too much.

SAYS MOSELEY HAS STATE-OWNED CAR

$1,800 AUTOMOBILE STILL HELD BY FORMER COMMISSIONER, ER, ESTES ADMITS

AUSTIN, Oct. 28.—Admitting that it was a bad practice to have one's personal automobile repaired at the state highway department's depot at Camp Mabey, even though it was used for state business, Edward Estes, highway commissioner from Dallas, has been investigating committee chairman of the state highway commission, has yet to turn over to the state a state-owned automobile. Cost $1,800.

This machine, bought at the request of Frank Lanham, another former highway commissioner from Dallas, has been in use by Lanham before Estes requisitioned it of the state board of control. Estes told the committee. It was bought without competitive bidding for $1,800 he said, from John Shelton of Dallas.

Asked by Judge Richard Criss of Taylor, who he had failed to register, Estes said, "I am going to wait until I get instructions. When I tried to get the state automobile from former highway commissioner Joe Burnett of Eastland, he showed me a statute that said he was commissioner until his successor qualified. "I see said, after he had resigned. "I still highway commissioner." Yes, Burnett drove to his home in Eastland in the state automobile. I later got it from him."

CITY PARK CASE EXPECTED TO GO TO JURY TODAY

ARGUMENTS BY SEVEN OF ATTORNEYS SLATED FOR AFTERNOON

PRICE TAKES STAND

SHOWS DEED CONVEYING DISPUTED LAND TO HIM

The long delayed "park suit," which went to trial Wednesday in the 72nd district court, in which Dr. M. C. Overton, the City of Lubbock, and W. H. Bledsoe and T. T. Price, are fighting for possession of two blocks of city property, of an estimated value of $40,000, is to go to the jury before the sun sets today.

After the city had yesterday presented testimony to support its claim to the land as city parks, adopting the testimony of Dr. Overton given Wednesday and putting a number of citizens on the stand who testified that they had bought land in the vicinity of the property in question with the understanding that parks would be put there, T. T. Price took the stand to prove the claims of Senator Bledsoe and himself to undisputed title to the property.

Introduces Deed

Price introduced documentary evidence, including, deeds, and vendors lien notes, which included the land in dispute, with other property which Dr. Overton admits having sold to Bledsoe and Price. The deeds made no mention of the oral agreement, testified to Wednesday by Dr. Overton, whereby the two blocks in question, which conveyed to Bledsoe and Price along with the other property, were not taken into consideration in the purchase price, and were to be held in trust to be offered to the city as parks.

Price testified that Dr. Overton told him at the time the lands were transferred that he, Overton, had already offered the city the ground for park purposes and that the city had refused to accept it.

Bledsoe to Testify

Bledsoe is expected to testify this morning, after Price, who left the stand with his testimony unfinished, completes what he has to say. Argument will follow, possibly from all 7 of the lawyers employed as counsel in the case. Among those who testified for the city yesterday, were C. W. Goodjohn, who said that Bledsoe and Price told him when he bought land near the lots that city parks would be put there; Mr. Murfee, who said that when he bought a lot near high school, Price congratulated him, saying that the property would be near the high school and also near the contemplated park, and a number of the citizens whose testimony was to the same effect.

Those Important Final Touches

By JAMES BLAUVELT For NEA Service

The ornaments you choose for your home will tell the world a long story about you—what your background is, whether you have inherent taste, whether you merely want to splurge with costly articles you do not really care for.

The choosing of the little things about the house requires as much care as the selection of the big ones. For a single bad floor lamp or an overloaded mantel may ruin the entire room on which you have spent so much energy and money. Here is a cluster of random suggestions about a variety of these smaller items.

Modern trends in lighting are toward greater simplicity. Many modern homes have no ceiling lights or wall brackets at all, but are lighted with an even glow from a number of soft-colored table, floor and bridge lamps.

Use Candles Where Possible

You may wish a ceiling pinwheel cluster in the dining room, but you will want to use candlelight for the table, wherever possible. If you can light your dining room with table candles and a great bedside candelabra, you will get an effect of charm never to be equalled by electricity.

The hall is sometimes a rather empty room, and will benefit by a hanging lantern of quaint design.

If you must have fixtures built in, allow enough money in the building budget to get very good ones for the cheap fixtures common in America are so bad in line and material as to wreck the whole scheme of decoration.

If you are building, install a great number of base plugs and spend your money on lamps of different kinds.

Lamp shades are another problem that call for caution. English and early American homes may be suitably decorated with shades of parchment paper, old maps, music scores, old Godey prints and hunting prints. Painted silk, taffeta, tulle de jony and chintz make charming shades of the American type.

Bridge lamps should be adjustable. Dull colonial brass is a good material for these small lamps, in which simplicity of line is essential.

Luckily, American women are learning that heavy marble lamps, with twining flowers and cupids and height of luxury in a home but an evidence of extremely bad taste.

Wrought Iron Effective

If you can afford a wrought iron lamp on the bedside, wrought iron flower stands and radiator boxes and light fixtures, you will find it most effective.

Place the lamp or curved end of your piano toward the room, and drape it with some rich fabric, or ornament it with a lamp or a bowl of flowers. To conserve space, push the side against the wall.

Keep your mantels clear of all but the ornaments that really belong on it. A pair of candlesticks or vases, with a painting or fabric or mirror hanging above the mantel, furnish all decoration any fireplace needs.

Round pillows are most in favor now, and the usual size for use on a six-foot davenport is between 16 and 18 inches. The covers should repeat colors notes of the room, and should be harmonized with one another, as well as with the davenport covering. A black couch with rather vivid, variegated pillows gives a smart effect.

The tendency now is to make city houses as much like country houses as possible, and to use in the winter the same bright slip covers used in summer.

I prefer slip covers pleated and hung within a half inch of the floor. Glazed chintz is too slippery and limp for slip covers. But you may have the piece upholstered in it, and then back on the flounces, to stimulate a slip cover.

Screens are extremely useful to break an awkward line, to soften a corner, to give privacy or intimacy to a nook, or to shield a bed from draughts.

Mirrors Multiply Beauty

If you cannot afford tooled leather screens, there are chintz and fabric and scenic paper screens that are almost as beautiful. A scenic screen or a landscape painting lends perspective to a small room. Chinese screens are especially pretty in English rooms.

Mirrors are also useful to give perspective, and to lighten dark spaces. Plan so that each mirror reflects something beautiful, and catches light where light is needed. A crystal candelabra placed in front of a mirror is multiplied in beauty.

A home should not be "decorated" and then left to stand, complete, immobile and uninteresting, till the next renovation. It should be a growing, changing work of art, on which you may work forever, without finishing or growing tired.

GREATEST ARMISTICE DAY CELEBRATION EVER HELD IN LUBBOCK IS THE PLAN FOR ELEVENTH OF NOVEMBER

The Woman's Day

For more than half a century Mrs. Charles House has lived in the gold-rush town of Nankerville, perched in the tree-clad hills 40 miles east of Quebec.

Not long ago, Mrs. House decided it was high time she saw the world. She rode the rocky wagon trail to Queenel, another frontier town.

But old Mrs. House has come home. "It's too much for me," she says.

I am in the brush, in the flaming woods of the North Canadian autumn. Overnight a 20th century train whisked me into a world so new, so strange, so simple and yet with all its simplicity so complex to a city dweller that I seem as strange to these people of the patois as they and their life seem to me.

I am in Mrs. House's country, where she is glad and content to live and die. I marvel at her strength. There must be something within herself to let her meet the wilderness like this, serene and confident.

Off the train at the little frontier town, we inquired about the house we sought. "Oh, that is about sixty miles in the brush," they said, as casually as we would direct a stranger to the postoffice.

Yes, there was one car in town for rent. The taxi man would drive us there. If we could stand it, pretty bad. Maybe we could do the sixty miles in four hours, probably five.

It was a wagon trail through tangled underbrush, a sandy path that slid and melted under the car, a rocky road that ran along steep precipices. There was no restaurant along the way, we had no lunch with us.

We passed only one house, a trapner's. He and his family were at dinner as we passed. They spoke only French, but smiled a welcome to our feast of boiled mutton. We thanked them and hurried on.

Journey's end—and no one at home. No restaurant, no food. Even Baptiste was not eager to redivide that 60 miles in the darkness, which was only two hours away. We had a bar of chocolate. There was a rub in the car. Hunger and cold were better than death over a cold blizzard, we agreed.

But there was a town 30 miles further up the "Red River." We hurried there before dark came, and found what was called a "boarding house." There was a room for me if I'd sleep with the two kids. Fly-paper, diet, odor of drying shoes. There was moon steak in the supper.

I was tired and wanted to sleep. The only feminine household object on watching me disrobe. Inexpensive, tooth-brushless, combless, handkerchief.

In the morning I spoke of the wealth of the woods. It was a view worth millions in "landscape scenery." If I had my camera, which was did not look up. "Never noticed it much," said she stirring porridge, butter and carrying the last baby on her hip.

Children and men-folk to feed and clothes, chickens to feed, now to milk the day to day. Hunting, fishing, swimming—only work. For hunting was what driving the cat is to the city dweller. Fishing was going to market, swimming was the way to get somewhere.

Lonely? "Never knew nothing else." What else is there?

And leaving her, I pondered. After all, what else is there? The city woman's problem is only her's—getting the kids to school, feeding 'em, clothing 'em. What matters a neighbor, more or less? "Happy? Never thought—got my trousers."

Plans were made yesterday by the officials of the Tech and the American Legion for the greatest patriotic and memorial ceremony ever held in Lubbock to take place at ten o'clock Armistice Day at the Tech Athletic field. The Tech, the Legion and the town as a whole, will be included in the services.

A giant parade will precede the services, forming at 5:30 down town and marching out to the Tech field. Every organization of the town and schools will be included in the formation.

Dean J. M. Gordon of the Tech is general chairman of the day and will preside at the services at the Tech. Col. Clark M. Mulligan will be the principal speaker of the ceremony. He will be seconded by others who will talk on patriotism and subjects of the memorial. At 11 o'clock, the throng will stand in silence for one minute as the bugle sounds retreat.

Loud speakers will be secured for the meeting and the stands will be able to accommodate 4000 people. Should the weather be bad the meeting will be transferred to the Tech pavilion.

The ceremony at the Tech will precede a district meeting of the American Legion which will be held in the afternoon, beginning with a regular army mess line feed at a downtown business house. Business will occupy the meeting of the afternoon. According to H. D. Woods, local commander, over 250 men are expected here for the ceremony and the meeting. Delegations from all the nearby towns will be invited and any ex-service man is urged to attend.

KLAN ELECTION PROBE CLOSES

SENATOR REED LISTENS TO LAST TESTIMONY ON HOODED ORDER

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 28. (AP)—Activity of the Ku Klux Klan in both State and national political affairs covered a wide range, the senate campaign funds committee was told here today by half a dozen members and former members of the hooded order.

High spots in the testimony at what Senator Reed, announced were the closing sessions of the pre-election investigation into campaigns in eastern states included:

That high officials of the Klan infiltrated themselves in the election contests in Minnesota and Iowa involving the senate seats of Senator Thomas D. Schall, republican and former Senator Smith W. Brookhart, Republican.

That William F. Zumburn, general counsel for the Klan and active director of the campaign of Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana for re-election in the primary last May, testified before the committee that he had been a member of the Klan and was deeply interested in Watson's campaign and made a number of visits to Indiana for political conferences with Klan leaders.

That $400,000 of Indiana Klan money was used to defray the expenses of Indiana Klan officials in Washington last December to discuss the appointment of Charles Orshon as corporation counsel of Indianapolis.

That William F. Zumburn is the executive agent of the hooded order at Washington, looking after such matters as the seating of Senators.

That Senator Watson in 1924 carried a card of membership in the imperial Klan, the national organization with headquarters at Atlanta and that this card directed all Klans to freely admit to their secret meetings persons to whom they were issued. Previous testimony before the committee that Senator Watson attended a conference of Klan officers at Washington last January at which the resignation of Walter F. Boshert as grand dragon was demanded and received was denied by both Boshert and Boshert and George W. Meyers of Houston, a former Klansman.

Boshert asserted that there was no one present when Dr. Evans asked him if he was ready to resign. W. Lee Smith, who succeeded Boshert as grand dragon and Joseph Huffington of Indianapolis, were in Washington at the time. Boshert said that he insisted under vigorous questioning by Senator Reed that neither of them was present at his meeting with Dr. Evans.

J. E. Swenson was a business visitor from Florida yesterday.

BOYS GET BEEVES

Plans Being Laid Now for Lubbock Youngsters to Compete in Fort Worth Show

Lubbock county club boys have prospects for a brilliant showing of baby bees at the Fort Worth Stock show next spring, according to the plans worked out by the county farm agent and officials. The bees, all March and April calves, are being selected and placed now by the various men of the county. The stockman or rancher sells the boy one calf and gives him another, so as to encourage him in his work.

A carded lot will be distributed in the county, according to D. F. 127. A show is being planned for next spring here for the boys. The club will enter both carded lots and individual showings at the Fort Stock show. Much interest is being shown by the club boys and close competition is expected among the boys of the county.

REFUSES TO HALT IN WRIGHT CASE

LETTERS TO PROSECUTOR FAIL TO DETERMINE HIM IN HEARING OF ARCHITECT

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 28. (AP)—Lafayette French, federal district attorney here tonight declared that regardless of a letter written to him by friends of Frank L. Lloyd Wright that "such a letter cannot possibly affect the government's case."

The letter, made public in Chicago today urged French "not to permit your high office to be used as an instrument of persecution and revenge," and was signed by several, fairly prominent Chicago men. Wright faces federal charges in this state and state charge in Wisconsin. Mr. French said he had not received the letter, but was informed of it by newspaper men.

He expressed surprise that "men of such intelligence would sign a document of that nature," adding that the letter would be treated "like any other when under similar circumstances."

He expects to present the case, considered a violation of the Mann Act, to the federal grand jury. The case involves Wright, living here with Miss Milano, his daughter by a former husband, and Wright's daughter by Miss Milano.

The Chicago letter included the signatures of Ferdinand Scherill, professor of history at the University of Chicago; Robert M. Lobert, editor of the New Republic; Carl Handberg, Chicago writer; Derwent Whitlesey, professor of geography at the university of Chicago; Alfred MacArthur, Chicago publisher and Harold Kent, Chicago geographer.

The letter asked Mr. French to consider that Miriam Noel Wright lived with Wright seven years outside the bonds of matrimony, that they were married at his suggestion, that she left Wright five months later, vowing never to return and instituted divorce proceedings. Wright, the letter says, did not meet Miss Milano until about a year after Miriam Noel Wright had left him and when he had thought himself legally free.

Mrs. Catherine Wright, first wife of the architect, today made known her intention of coming here to assist her husband.

SAPIRO ADDRESS CAUSES INTEREST

FARMERS FROM ALL OVER SOUTH PLAINS TO HEAR FARM EXPERT

Interest is being shown by the farmers and business men all over the South Plains in the address of Aaron Sapiro, who will be here Tuesday to speak to the farmers and business men of this section concerning the cotton situation. N. H. Payne, farm bureau representative, and R. E. Overstreet, director of the bureau, are making all the towns of the South Plains, advertising the meeting. According to their reports, large delegations will attend the meeting here from Post, Slaton, Crosbyton, Meadow, Rojas, Brownfield, Abernathy and other points.

Mr. Sapiro's discussion of the cotton situation and a permanent solution of it, is expected to be closely allied with the debt paying power and purchasing power of the cotton growers and the raising of the standard of living upon the farm homes of the South. These are of course matters in which everyone in the country is sincerely interested. R. E. Overstreet, chairman of the arrangement committee says: "It is a subject to which all are turning their attention at this time in a greater degree than ever before and non-shoed miss the opportunity to hear a man of Sapiro's ability and experience, discuss the subject."

A special invitation is being extended to the high school clubs and young organizations of the city as well as the ladies clubs. The Tech student body will also turn out to hear Sapiro's address.

VEToes BILLS NOT PROPERLY SIGNED

GOVERNOR KNOCKS OUT SEVEN ROAD BOND VALIDATION MEASURES

AUSTIN, Oct. 28. (AP)—Because they were not signed by the speaker of the house and the president of the senate in the presence of their respective branches of legislature, as requested by the constitution, Governor Miriam A. Ferguson Thursday vetoed 11 senate bills passed at the recent ca session of the 23rd legislature.

Seven of the bills created road districts and validated bonds voted by such districts, two pertained to special road laws for Davall county, one referred to the creation of common county line school district number 5 in Borden, Mitchell and Scurry counties, and one made emergency appropriation of $5,000 of which about $3,000 was for district attorneys.

Road districts affected by the veto are: Number 5, Fort Bend county, Number 4 in Hillside district two, four and five in San Patricio; Number one in Van Zandt and Number 4 in Wilbarger.

Governor Ferguson has signed approximately 500 validating road districts including three general bills. These bills becoming laws by virtue of her signature, validate approximately $100,000,000 of district road bonds, validating of which was jeopardized by opinion of the United States Supreme Court in the Archer county case.

It is expected the 40th legislature will enable new validation measures for the seven districts, deprived of legal validation through an oversight.

Dr. J. A. Green, of Crosbyton, was transacting business in Lubbock yesterday.

The Morning Avalanche Menu for the Day

BREAKFAST—Orange juice, cereal, thin cream, corn griddle cakes, syrup, crisp broiled bacon, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Mock club sandwich, celery, peach cottage pudding, milk, tea.

DINNER—Ham baked in cider, steam brown rice, stewed okra and onion with French dressing, green tomato pie, bran bread, milk coffee.

Brown or unpolished rice is preferable to the polished grain we usually meet. Polishing removes most of the mineral matter, leaving the grain mostly starch. Polished rice is white but is not shiny. The shine is retained by a coating of talc and glucose. This coating washes off of course, when the rice is washed for cooking. If green tomatoes are plentiful in your garden and there's danger of frost before they can ripen, try a green tomato pie. It's amazingly good.

Green Tomato Pie Three cups sliced green tomatoes, 1-4 cups granulated sugar, 1 lemon, 1-4 teaspoonful salt, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-8 teaspoon nutmeg, plain pastry.

Line a pie pan with pastry. Mix and sift sugar and flour. Sprinkle half of the mixture over lower crust, add tomatoes cut in slices, sprinkle with remaining sugar. Pour over juice and grated rind of lemon. Sprinkle with spices and salt and dot with bits of butter. Put on top of crust and bake forty minutes in hot oven. The heat should be reduced after the first ten minutes of baking. Keep in mind that it takes 1-2 cups flour to make one pie with two crusts. Copyright 1926, NEA Service.

GOD TESTS HIS PEOPLE.—"O Lord, our God, all this store that we have prepared cometh of thine hand, and is all thine own. BIG CROPS AND POOR PRICES

Farmers in great numbers throughout this country are suffering from crops that exceed the present effective world-demand. This applies to the South and parts of the West, where bumper crops have brought reduced prices.

In this great country it is very hard to determine just what the outcome of any crop may be. So different is the climatic conditions and the chances of the crop's failure or production that no one can come within a million bales of guessing the production of cotton at the beginning of the season.

This year the people as a whole were expecting a light yield in cotton, and you see what happened. Right on the eve of picking time, the weather suddenly changed favorable to the crop, and come than 17,000,000 bales is the result, according to the government report.

We are unable to offer any suggestions as how the suicide part of this condition can be remedied. The only way to do that will be to ascertain the causes of such, and then begin to check up on some remedy for her causes.

WHEN WILL IT END?

Probably most people are sick and tired of the controversy over Muscle Shoals, yet it is an important matter and will continue to be of considerable national interest until some final disposition of the property is made.

THIS THING OF GROWING IS HARD WORK

When anyone thinks it is an easy thing to build a town they are just simply not acquainted with the job. They have never had anything to do with the growth of a real rapidly growing city, like Lubbock.

Whether it be a child or a city, the process of getting bigger and better is one accompanied by hard work, growing pains and expense. All of these are necessary, but they are worth while.

It is quite an art to determine just how much too big to make little Willie's suit so that he will not outgrow it before he wears it out. It is just as much of an art, if not more so, for a municipality to look into the future and determine how much beyond present needs its developments of today should go in order to meet expansion.

This burg is going to keep on growing for a number of years to come. It will grow whether we develop an enormous oil field or not, and with the oil the growth will be too rapid for conveniences at all times.

It is hard indeed to map out the exact size of public buildings. Our postoffice has been a fair example of that. How many times have we been compelled to call upon the department for an increase in the size of the building and for additional equipment and help in the office.

Our program of paved streets is now found to be inadequate to the needs of the city, and traffic is congested in many places because of the limited amount of paved streets. Our sidewalk plans are outgrown, and the churches of the city are confronting the problem of taking care of those who want to attend Sunday-school.

HOMICIDE, SUICIDE AND AUTOMOBILE

When a person makes up his mind to commit suicide the method would seem to be relatively unimportant. We recall the instance of a man who drank poison on a ship, became deranged and shot the captain and several passengers.

In one large American city last year 994 persons saw fit to end their existence. This in itself is a commentary on the happiness of this life. One-third of the number went out by turning on the gas.

It begins to look like something could be done to stop the suicide of so many people, and the useless killing of them on the highways. Together these formed five-sixths of the total fatalities in the year in one large city.

We think when the county commissioners get through explaining to the club women of this county why they re-empowered the farm demonstrators and just a question mark after the farm demonstration agent's contract they will be very glad to take all the responsibility of renewing the contract even before it has expired instead of thirty days afterwards.

IT IS REPORTED

That three hundred voters will be here today for the Westers-Standard game. Let us come—the more the merrier, and the better we will like to pour it on 'em.

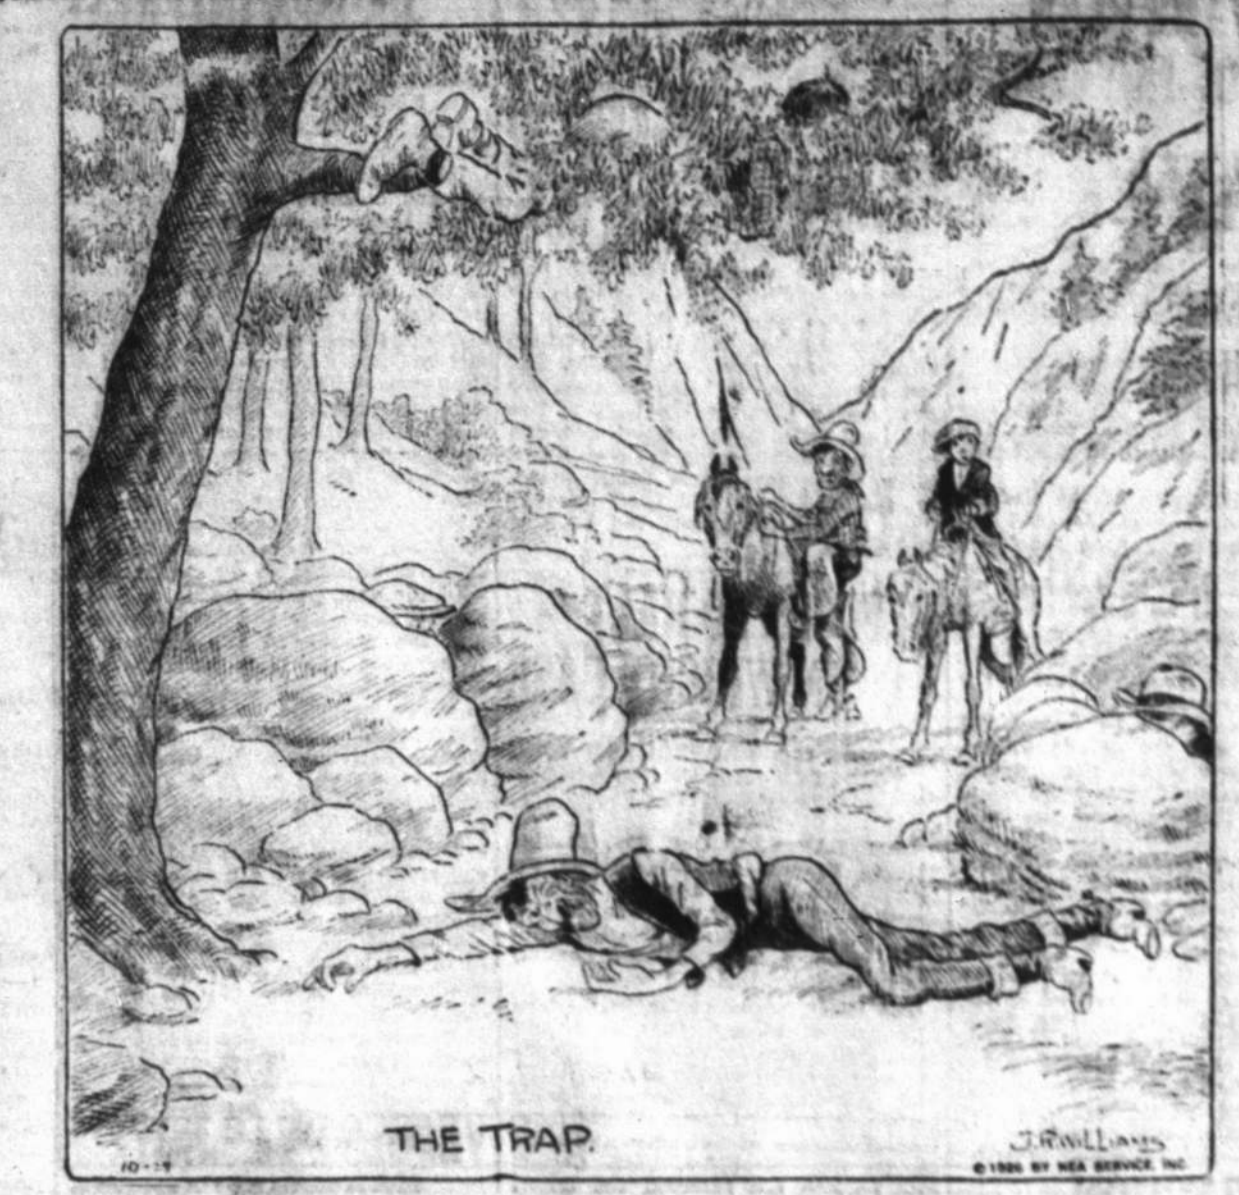

That the Avalanche-Journal special T. C. U.—Matador game, train will be well filled with prominent men of the city who will journey to cowtown to help the mighty Matadors put the conference team out.

That many a man has run into debt, and had to return on his knees. This nearly always happens to the fellow who lives beyond his income.

That sometimes with some people even experience the big teacher of all has to repeat the lesson.

That philosophy has never been able to prove much on earth.

OUT OUR WAY

SO THINK WE

We think it is a mighty fine thing that the school board has been able to arrange for the building of some sidewalks on the school grounds. Now if the people of the city property owners will only help they can control all of the schools very nicely, and make it much more pleasant to get back and forth to school.

We think you might save money by purchasing our Christmas presents now. It will cost more during the Christmas shopping days, and you would not have an opportunity to take your time in shopping.

We think it is real rude for people to run over the stop signs. But some folks seem to delight in being rude.

We think that originality is a new art. It is remembering something that you heard some one else pull. This is a fair example of the art.

We think with the help we get on the outside to think up this column of stuff, we will be able to take a vacation soon.

We think when people see a sign on the street to stop they should comply with the request. It might mean something.

We think that if a man will empty his purse into his hand, both will very likely be full in days to come.

We think the ordinary teacher forgets the child to learn while the great teacher leads the child to want to learn.

We think how very stingy you may be with compliments you have to hand them to the highwayman with what ever else you may have.

We think that mental poverty and financial poverty are close kin. To open you must learn, and you must learn to earn. So there.

We think when the county commissioners get through explaining to the club women of this county why they re-empowered the farm demonstrators and just a question mark after the farm demonstration agent's contract they will be very glad to take all the responsibility of renewing the contract even before it has expired instead of thirty days afterwards.

We think that wise men make fools pay for their experiences.

We think a crank is a fellow that has turned the same thing over as many times that it has become lopsided.

We think when a person gets to where they can not see but one side of a thing they are getting to where no one is going to pay very much attention to what they claim they see.

That the schools nearly all have sidewalks on the grounds now. It is time for the sidewalk committee to get busy and recommend where walks should be placed to do the most good for the school children.

That about the hardest blow to anybody is the blow about things that people do not believe.

That some folks are afraid the special train will not be able to make the trip on scheduled outlined. We see no cause for uneasiness. It's the Santa Fe all the way.

That since lobbed hair has become the vogue, men do not buy so many clothesbrushes—the reason? Well you can figure that out for yourself.

SOUTH PLAINS PRESS

EGGING: Plainview Herald: Ten lines of 25-cent each were assessed by cooperation court on six many Plainview boys who participated in the "egging" of Lubbock high school student Friday following the football game between Plainview and Lubbock high schools.

While Lubbock voters were indulging in the game a party of boys in a car threw eggs at them. As a sequel to the egging at Lubbock and Plainview boys engaged in a fistfight, which was promptly halted by Policeman Paul Harty. Both boys were taken to the city hall and Mayor Risner notified. Upon his arrival he released the Lubbock boy from custody and the Plainview boy was turned out on bond. He has entered a plea of guilty to affray and was fined $10.00.

It is not often that anything like that happens in West Texas. The people of this section of the country are above such as that, and are usually better sports than to show their bitterness in such a way. However, this was engaged in by only a very small number of the boys of Plainview, and none of which were on the team. Plainview authorities were prompt to express regrets that such a thing should happen, and as is stated above by the Herald, they made good their promise that those who participated in the "egging" be amply punished for the offense.

Navy Is Big Brother to Trade

By T. V. O'CONNOR Chairman U. S. Shipping Board

It is generally believed the navy is merely instrumental of war. True, it is our first line of defense. It also, however, contributes largely as an aid to merchant shipping, aid to the general economic welfare of the nation.

The physical perfection rendered by our navy to merchant shipping dates back to 1789 when our difficulties with Tripoli over developments on American commerce first began. Congress soon realized the futility of conducting an important trade without the backing of a navy, and ordered the construction of six frigates, two of these, the Constitution and the Constellation are still afloat.

In this campaign against the Tripoli pirates, Commodore Stephen Decatur distinguished himself both as a fighter and a diplomat and soon got on end to the practical practices of the Mediterranean.

During the war between England and France in 1798, neutral American vessels were frequently interfered with by the French navy. President Adams finally authorized our frigate to capture French vessels guilty of depredations on American ships. After a few sea fights, in which the American navy again distinguished itself, the objectionable practices were abandoned by the French.

The war of 1812 also had its origin in our situation as neutral, while Great Britain and France were fighting. The British constantly interfered with our commerce. The American navy, notwithstanding the great superiority of the British, was many notable deeds, finally causing the British to discontinue these practices.

Before the Civil War few European nations were serious competitors in our trade with China. This trade contributed greatly to American prosperity. Had it not been for the American navy this trade, could not have existed, since piracy and common law Chinese waters. Even today the conditions there are unsatisfactory. A force of gunboats is maintained for hundreds of miles on the Chinese coast and protection is afforded our cargo vessels on the great rivers of China.

During the late war the traditions of the American navy were again upheld by the splendid service rendered ocean shipping.

In the design, the construction, manning and operation of the vessel, and in the personnel of our shipping yards and seamen's organizations, the navy has contributed indirectly to a large extent. Among the personnel board of our merchant ships will be found former navy men both in the deck department and engine room.

Merchant Marine Reserve: The merchant marine naval reserve is a contributing factor towards the building up of the world and efficiency of our ocean carrier, and every effort should be made to strengthen our naval reserve, which is indispensable, in times of emergency.

Another important aid is the development and training of men who will become our future merchant marine officers through cooperation of the navy with the states maintaining nautical schools.

In this connection, every inducement should be offered to encourage more of our young men to follow the sea, so that eventually we will have all our ships manned with American seamen.

To protect our commerce, to uphold and insure the freedom of the seas, to enforce our foreign policies and protect the rights and interests of our countrymen abroad are services rendered by the navy. The sea power of our nation is reflected in the strength of our navy and merchant marine combined—they are one and inseparable.

MATADORS READY TO NAIL FROGS TO WALL

WESTERNERS ARE TO BATTLE SANDIES FOR TITLE TODAY

TECH COLLEGE FOOTBALL TEAM PRIMED FOR BATTLE WITH CHRISTIANS SATURDAY AT FORT WORTH

The Matadors are ready and will sling a mean dagger, wave a red flag, and start in to nail the Horned Frogs to the wall. Taking a very light work-out yesterday afternoon, the Matadors have completed their training for the Christians. Driving them with new plays, and establishing a more efficient offense the "bull-fighters" coaches are awaiting the time when they will get with the Frogs on Saturday in "cow-own."

500 To Accompany Team

A special train has been gotten up under the direction of the Avalanche-Journal publications. All pullman reservations have been made for the special train; however, the Santa Fe has put on two extra pullmans for the fans who have waited until the last minute, and accommodations may be had on an over flow basis. Three chair cars have been provided for those who do not desire to take the pullman reservations. The entire train will carry something in the neighborhood of 500 ardent fans to accompany the team.

Train to Leave at Six

The train will leave Lubbock promptly at six o'clock this evening. All fans who desire to see the Lubbock-Amarillo game may do so without any disturbance for the game is to be started at three o'clock and will allow ample time for all who wish to see the game and make the trip. But be sure that everything is ready to go, so that no delay will be caused.

The special will arrive in Fort Worth on Saturday morning at eight o'clock. Immediately on the arrival of the train, the fans and the band will pass through the streets of Fort Worth. Headquarters for the Lubbock delegation will be announced on the train, at the present it is thought to be at the Texas hotel.

The college band, consisting of 48 pieces, which is to be one of the big features of the day, will be on the special train and will serve as an important factor during the game. Radio station WCAP the Star-Telegram and Record, has consented to allow the band to broadcast Saturday evening from 9:30 to 11. The special train is scheduled to leave Ft. Worth at 11:45 and arrive in Lubbock Sunday at 11:45.

Club in Good Condition

Coach Freeland and Higginbotham state that the Matadors are in excellent condition and are "ready to go" with but the regulars injured, Jennings and Walker, the remainder of the team will be ready for the offerings of the Texas Christian University.

The "bull-fighters" have met with five of West Texas' strongest clubs already this season, and can boast of a clean slate. Included in the five, is the strong Cowboy eleven of the Simons University, with whom the Matadors battled a successful tie.

From a fight view point, the Matadors have unquestionably a fighting combination. The defense department is its strong feature, and the development of the offense has been cared for in the last week's actions. The defense offered by the Tech lads is one of the strongest machines ever offered in West Texas, and but few opposing teams have been able to show the Matadors line with any degree of success. In the wing positions, the club will miss the work of "Al" Jennings, a former all-fighter college end of Texas, who will be out on account of injuries received in the St. Edwards game. However, Freeland will have Vincent and "Teacher" Calloway to rely on. These huskies have proven very well in the vacancies made by the injured Dodge White and "Al" Jennings. White will likely appear in a part of the Frog-buffet clash.

Backfield Stronger

The Matador backfield will give the Frog much to worry over, as the lads are rapidly shaping themselves into a strong offense machine. Freeland and Higginbotham are in a position to shoot in at any time of the game, a varied and shifty backfield. With Linster directing the plays and with the work of Red Hamilton, Floyd Woodruff, and Satchel Hill, it will no doubt present a mighty drive for the "bull-fighters."

Von Tangelin is no doubt, one of the most powerful fulls in the gridiron circles of West Texas colleges and both Hamilton and Woodruff, are shifty and fleet, capable of carrying the oval for good gains.

Archibald's top may be called for at any time in the game. His ability of studs the defense is also a good feature of his work. Percy Walker, who has been on the injured list for the past two games, is a fast ground runner, and an excellent passer. In all probability, he will aid in carrying on a part of the Matador offense.

Twenty-Seven to Go

The coaches of the Tech club will take 27 of the "bull-fighters. The men that will wage battle with the Frog demons will be White, Yimand, Calloway, Linster, Calloway, Adridge, Westerfield, Goldstein, Reed, DeWitt, Smith, Corley, Lassiter, Walker, Archibald, Woodruff, Hill, Nicholas, Calloway, Red Hamilton, Harris, McWilliams, Ketchum, Hamilton, Stevens, Parks and Jennings.

CLARK QUILTS PIRATES

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28. (AP)—Fred Clark's official connection with the Pittsburgh National League club came to an end today when the board of directors accepted his resignation as vice president. Sam Dreyfus, treasurer of the club, said the board had purchased all Pirate stock held by Clark, thus severing the last tie between the club and the Kansas.

An Emporia, Kansas, basketball team, 12, College of Emporia Freshmen, 1.

WANTS WAY FOR FOUR MEN

Coach Higginbotham requests that if any person is driving through via automobile to Fort Worth and should have room for four men to call him. He has four other players that he wants to be in Fort Worth on the day of the Frog-Tech game.

Strolling Down Sport Lane

With James R. Dow

The Sandies are ready to fire and are confident that the game will be a victory for them. According to advisers received of the Amarillo team, the club has been slow in development, but with this week's work-outs has brought out a much different team.

Three hundred followers of the Sandies will arrive in Lubbock before the game this afternoon. The Amarillo high school band and three pep squads are expected to attend the clash.

It is all over town—in every Lubbock high school students tongue—"Beat Amarillo."

Fan attention—if you expect to make the Fort Worth trip you will have plenty of time to see the Lubbock-Amarillo game, as the game is starting early and will be over in time to catch the special. Be ready though, have all your things together, so there will be no delay.

Children of Lubbock—back your high school aggregation this afternoon with the game for the Panhandle championship—remember 50 to 1.

Looks like there will be around 500 to accompany the Matadors on their first encounter with the Frogs, a Northwestern conference team.

The Tech fans are hoping the bull-fighting crew will be able to boast of a clean slate on their return from Fort Worth.

Matty Bell has run all of his injured Frog out of the hospitals and is getting them in shape for the Tech Matadors. It is odd—but true, that the coaches of the college clubs can't say an about injuries—the crippled all come alive when in a pinch—except there will be plenty of pinches for the Christians to come out of alright.

Hobo Carson, a fast backfield man, is expected to do much of the Frog offense against the Matadors Saturday. He is a fast and powerful backfieldman, runs with high leg action, is shifty and a great broken field runner.

"Ox" Reed "Red" Smith and Vaughn Corley will no doubt hold their own against the Frogs Saturday. These three bullies have always been a sensation on the defense, smashing the backs of the opposing clubs with hard drives.

Von Tangelin and Frnka, Westerner coaches are proud of the fact that they have a fighting crew. If nothing else, and it is true, the Westerners have shown more fight and vigor in the recent clashes than any of the teams in the past years.

A record breaking crowd is expected to attend the high school clash, this afternoon. The Panhandle championship is at stake, and the two clubs will be defending their rights for it.

A Little Thing Like a Broken Neck Can't Keep This Chap Out of Football

BOSTON, Oct. 28.—Five years ago the hushed stands watched an un-conscious player carried from the field in the annual Syracuse-Colgate gridiron tilt—watched and realized that someone was seriously hurt.

Slowly word went around that Harry Herbert of Hartford, Conn., star quarterback of the Syracuse team, had suffered a broken neck.

Hope for Herbert's life was despaired of but he fooled them all. Today he is out in football togs at Boston University. The intervening years have been spent in recuperating. Herbert's accident meant a veritable new start in life for him.

Undaunted, the scrappy Hartford boy, who last season came back to college sports as a basketball player, has defied the odds—this year and is running wild in practice sessions. He bids fair to be one of the strongest quarters at the disposal of Coaches Reggie Brown and Ed Robinson, formerly of Brown University, now of the Boston institution.

The R. U. Terrier mentors are placing great faith in Herbert. Absolutely clear-headed in running the team, he is a scrappy fighter and a remarkable brokenfield runner.

Nerve—that's Herbert's middle name!

Baylor Hard Nut for A. M. to Crack

STEPHENSVILLE, Oct. 28. (AP)—"Plow boys" of John Tarleton College, primed for their second conference football game of the season will clash with the Hillsboro Junior College eleven here Friday.

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 28. (AP)—"Baylor will be a swift current for us to cross Saturday, and we will have to play at top speed throughout the game in order to make it," Coach Dana X. Bible of Texas A. and M. College said Thursday, referring to the game that will follow the second Saturday of the Cotton Palace at Waco.

Thursday was the last hard practice session for the Agies with a light workout planned for Friday. "Jenny" Wren, W. S. Lister, R. J. Mosser, Z. W. Bartlett and J. G. Holmes, who will substitute for injured members of the team are being given special attention. Prospects are that captain Ox Dietrich and A. C. Sprout, tackles, H. P. Wylie, guard, and W. D. Willis, halfback, will be out of the Baylor game with injuries incurred Saturday at Dallas.

Tahoka High Wins from "All-Stars"

(Special to The Avalanche)

TAHOKA, Oct. 28.—The Tahoka Bulldogs defeated the All-Stars here by a score of 7 to 6.

The All-Stars played a remarkable game to not be in practice but the Bulldogs were too powerful for the town squad to get under way.

The Bulldogs score on an end run by Fullback Wells, in the fourth quarter with only a few minutes to play.

Harrison and Barney Davis did good work for the All-Stars on the offensive while Wells and Bennett for the Bulldogs did remarkable work in tearing the plays of the All-Stars to pieces.

CLOVIS MAN WILL DEBATE WITH OXFORD ARGUERS

AUSTIN, Oct. 28. (AP)—Word comes from San Antonio that the forthcoming debate on November 1 between St. Edwards University and Oxford University of England, to be held in San Antonio has aroused great interest. The St. Edwards team will include up of Richard Mahon of Clovis, New Mexico; John Henrick, of St. Paul, Minn.; and Elmore Borchers, of Laredo, Texas. The English team consists of Glyn Isnam, Patrick Monkhouse and Michael A. Franklin.

ARLINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Following a week's strenuous practice grind, North Texas Agricultural College football eleven is ready to meet Wichita Falls Junior College here Friday afternoon.

PANHANDLE CHAMPIONSHIP IN QUESTION AS NORTH AND SOUTH PLAINS GRID-ISTERS CLASH; LUBBOCK LADS READY

Having had an overdose of drilling this week the last work-out, consisting of only light signal running, the Westerners now only await the anxious moments when the referee's whistle will send the Sandies and Westerners together for the Panhandle championship title. Intense interest is being manifested in the game, students of the high school with their band and other followers of the high school eleven are speaking aloud "Beat Amarillo." It is on the tongue of every Lubbock fan.

The high school band and three pep squads composing a rooting squad of 200 persons will attend the game here this afternoon, according to word received here from Amarillo yesterday afternoon. The Sandies arrived in Lubbock early last evening in high spirits and express themselves of being confident of the win.

Arrangements have been made for the benefit of the football fans who will leave for Ft. Worth late this afternoon so that they may also attend the high school game. The game starts promptly at 3 o'clock this afternoon and will be over in ample time for everyone to catch the T. C. U. special train.

Comparative scores indicate the Lubbock is the stronger of the two clubs; but nevertheless, the Westerners are going into the game as the under-dogs; for a number of the men on the Sandie aggregation, who were out of the Clovis game on account of injuries, will be ready to march with their school in the game against the Westerners here this afternoon. Last season the Amarillo Golden Sandstormers defeated the Westerners by a large score, 59 to 3, and a number of the former members of the Amarillo club have returned for action this season. They are good men, and are capable of good football on every instance.

Coach Hays, Sandie mentor brought eighteen husky Sandies for the clash. His probable line-up for Amarillo will be: Pearce and Knox, ends; Larsen and Eckhardt, tackles; Conklin and Hamilton, guards; Bishop, center; Bassett, quarter; Rockwell and Doebler, halves; and Smith, fullback.

The high school band and three pep squads composing a rooting squad of 200 persons are expected to attend the game from here. Amarillo fans are quite confident of victory despite the relative scores which given the Lubbock club the edge over the Sandies. The Amarillo team has developed very slowly throughout the season and the boys believe that they are right for the game tomorrow.

The valuable services of Nappa, giant tackle of the Sandies, will be greatly missed. He is ineligible for action due to his scholastic standing.

O'BRIEN JOINS STEERS

DALLAS, Oct. 28. (AP)—C. A. O'Brien, a 254 hitter from the Raleigh club in the Piedmont league was added to the coaching staff of the Dallas Steers, Texas League champions, Thursday. Secretary Walter Morris of the Dallas club put in a draft for O'Brien early in October and an adjustment of claims had to be made by the national baseball commission. Word of the award came Thursday. ABILENE GAINS IN POPULATION

8,112 IS JUMP IN TWO YEARS FOR TAYLOR COUNTY CITY

ABILENE, Oct. 28—Registering a population gain of 8,112 in the last two years Abilene now has a population of 25,257, according to the new Worley directory which was distributed here today.

Since 1926, when the last federal census was taken, Abilene has more than doubled its population.

The new directory contains 10,112 names, not including a large number of women and children. The Worley Directory Company reaches its population figures by multiplying the number of names by 2.1-2, the ratio employed in determining its total.

Interesting is the three-page summary of Abilene appearing in the frontpiece. It shows that Abilene's growth has been attributed largely to the agricultural development of the area. During the last five or six years Abilene has continuously been in the "white area" or prosperity zone of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The census is based upon figures obtained during the summer when the directory was compiled. Since then many hundreds of new people have come in, particularly in the last sixty days following the bringing in of the new No. 10 oil field 22 miles west.

An index to the growth may be found in the fact that already this year building permits have approximated $4,000,000, or more than a million dollars ahead of a corresponding date last year.

The city has practically outgrown its large water supply, so that now an election to vote $600,000 in bonds for an augmented supply will be called within the next two weeks.

Among the larger buildings which will be under construction shortly are the new administration building for Abilene Christian College, to cost $150,000, and a ten-story hotel building at the northeast corner of Pine and North Fourth streets. And then there are several hundred new residences now under course of erection in various parts of the city, together with the opening of two new residence additions.

THORNTON WELL GOES DOWN FAST

MID-WEST COMPANY DRILLS FOR PAY SAND CLOSE TO DISCOVERY WELL

By HAMILTON WRIGHT Special Correspondent

ABILENE, Oct. 28—Just 400 feet from the pay sand the Mid-West Exploration Company's No. 1 Thornton No. 1, the southwest offset to the Phillips Petroleum Company's Joe Winter No. 1, 700 barrel producer, is rapidly putting elevation above it in quest for the sand. It promises now to be second well in the field to get the pay.

The Joe Winter well which started West Texas seven weeks ago by coming in for 1,800 barrels is showing little weariness or effects from the many weeks of "bleeding" as it is making around the barrels natural flow. It was reported today.

At 1750 feet, the Sears No. 1, Harney Oil Co., three miles east of the Winter well, is making rapid progress and expects to top the pay sand in the next 10 days.

Phillips, Tossie No. 1 is around 1800 feet, being an offset to the south of the Winter well.

The Marland Oil Company's Mason No. 1 rig has been skidded over twenty feet and is ready to start in. The original well gives up gas to a crooked hole and smashed casing at around 1600 feet.

Another mild excitement was created in Abilene with the advent Sunday afternoon of the Flores well, in the shallow field six miles south of Baird, 22 miles east from Abilene, which is reported producing 285 barrels daily from the 70 foot sand. A nearby well the Manhattan, is expected to top the sand within the next few hours.

Several drills are running between Abilene and the Baird shallow field, which are expected to open up a new field further west.

Oil operators and lease holders are tense as the hours roll by that will determine just what the offset wells in the No. 10 Creek pool will develop. While leading has been active for several weeks, there is now an apparent lull in exchanges and transfers, pending the outcome of the Mid-West Exploration's Thornton, near the Winter sand.

SCHOOL TAX RAISE MEANS $1,678 MORE FOR ABILENE

(Special to The Avalanche)

ABILENE, Oct. 28—Public school funds of Abilene will be augmented to the extent of $1,678 as a result of the signing of the appropriation bill by Governor M. A. Ferguson. The census shows that Abilene has a total of 1,675 scholars.

Taylor county, of which Abilene is the principal city, will receive about $23,000 from the special school appropriation.

FLOYD STUDENTS TO PICK COTTON

SCHOOLS TO CLOSE AT NOON SO CHILDREN CAN WORK IN FIELDS

FLOYDADA, Oct. 28—In order to allow the school children of the district to help in gathering the cotton crop, the trustees of the Floydada school district voted to disband school at noon each day until the situation is relieved. Every effort is being made to secure laborers from outside the county has failed and the problem of gathering the cotton was discussed from every angle with the result that every school child is now engaged in spending half of each day in the cotton fields.

The schedule has been changed and now school is opened at eight o'clock and continues until noon. This arrangement will prevent the loss of time and will not make it necessary to continue past the regular nine month course.

PICKERS NEEDED IN COLLINGSWORTH

2000 LABORERS WANTED FOR COTTON FIELDS NEAR WELLINGTON

(Special to The Avalanche) WELLINGTON, Oct. 28—At least 2,000 laborers are needed at once in Collingsworth county to harvest the cotton crop, a week of sunshine has caused nearly all of the cotton to open at one time. Fields are solid white, and need to be picked at once.

The local chamber of commerce is making an urgent plea to secure labor from neighboring states, and some are now coming from the best fields of Colorado. Farmers are reporting from one-fourth to three-fourths of a bale yield per acre, and it is said that cotton is much easier to pick this year than the past two or three years.

MORE FEED ON FEWER ACRES WILL BE BE SLOGAN ALL OVER WEST TEXAS AS DIVERSIFICATION CAMPAIGN STARTS

By HAMILTON WRIGHT Special Correspondent

ABILENE, Oct. 27—Diversification—preached for years from the house tops, but never greatly practiced—is to have a "ninth- inning rally" Monday when the "More Food on Fewer Acres" campaign covering all West Texas is to be inaugurated by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. George W. Fry, general manager of the West Texas Lighters company, is chairman of the committee called by Homer D. Wade to meet in the chamber of commerce here at that time to start the diversification ball to bounding over West Texas prairies. With him are associated A. Claude Easterling, sales manager of the Swenson ranch interests, Stamford, C. T. Watson, secretary of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, J. P. Williams, business man of Mineral Wells, Hon. G. P. Thune, banker of Snyder, and Halbert Jones, manager of the Postex cotton mills, Post, Texas.

King Cotton's magic wand has lost its power over Western subjects. The scepter of diversification is now to be swung. In the plan for "More Feed on Fewer Acres," the idea is not to drive poor old King Cotton entirely off the field, but he is to occupy a subaltern place in the farm economy of the new agricultural kingdom. And the idea that feed alone shall be the principle of farm endeavor is erroneous. But the big idea, as seen by the disciples of better farming, is to raise feed in large quantities and market it through the hog and cow. With maize at $10 a ton now feed for feed's sake would be little better than cotton at $55 a bale. But when maize is given four swine feet and driven to market, the commodity immediately takes on a $50-a-ton significance.

With a powerful factor like the West Texas Chamber of Commerce behind the movement success is assured in advance. Co-operation of every Western county is to be sought and as an added stimulus for the average West Texas farmer there is to be the added lure of cash prizes of magnitude. That the campaign from its inception will appeal to the masses of the farmers has been expressed by officials of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. At no time in the history of West Texas has the appeal for diversification found a more powerful ear, leaders say.

DAILY MARKET

NEW YORK COTTON
NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—The cotton market was only moderately active today. Transactions were comparatively narrow. January sold up from 12.23 at the opening to 1.49 and closed at 12.30, compared with 12.27 at the close of yesterday. Then general market closed barely steady at net advance of 1 to 1 1/2 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 8 to 10 points in keeping with relatively firm cables. A little south-western selling was readily absorbed around the initial prices, and the market held generally steady during the day. The small volume of selling from the south was reported by local traders as indicating an absence of spot pressure in the interior and this view was strengthened by private reports of a firmer spot basis, particularly in the eastern belt.

Buying for both Continental and domestic trade accounts was reported on the dips, while there appeared to be considerable investment buying as well as covering by recent sellers. Buyers, however, did not follow up the advances aggressively and after selling up from 12.22 to 12.40 for December and from 12.61 to 12.75 for March, or about 29 to 32 points net higher, the market eased under profit taking.

Southern selling was a little more active in the last half hour and last prices showed reactions of 10 to 12 points from the best.

Liverpool cables attributed the steadiness there to a smaller volume of hedge selling, covering and trade buying, and also reported improved demand for cotton cloths from India.

Reports from the local cloth market indicated a better tone with a little more business, which may have helped to steady futures, but the factors chiefly mentioned were the comparatively small volume of southern hedging and the persistence of trade buying on the dips.

Today's spot sales here, as officially reported, were 10,400 bales. Exports today 29,929 making 2,291,532 so far this season. Port receipts 67,947. United States port stocks 2,372,932.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—The raw sugar market was easier today as a result of Cuban duty paid. Sales included 10,000 bags of Cubas, from store, at 4.52 and 23,000 bags of Cubas, November shipment to an out port, received at 4.49 duty paid.

Increased offerings in the spot market discouraged new buying in raw sugar futures. Prices were a shade lower under scattered liquidation and commission house selling. December and January seemed to be under most pressure and at one time showed declines of 3 points, while later positions held around the previous closing level throughout the day. A little covering near the close caused a slight rally, with final prices 2 points lower on December, 1 on January and net unchanged on later positions. December closed 2.70; January 2.72; March 2.71; May 2.79; July 2.87.

Refined sugar was easier and unchanged to 5 points lower. List quotations now ranging from 5.7 to 6.00 for fine granulated. Withdrawals on old contracts were again in fair proportions, but new business was light.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 28 (AP)—Whipsaw action of wheat values today kept traders on the jump. Sellers, however, had an advantage most of the time, prospects appearing less bright for quick settlement of the British coal strike. After many swings within a range of 2 1/2 cents wheat closed nervous at the same as yesterday's finish to 1/2 cent lower, corn 3/4 cents to 1 1/2 cents down, oats at a shade to 1/2 cent off, and provisions unchanged to 79 cents decline.

Corn prices acted heavy. Weather conditions were favorable and the movement to terminals has now fairly begun. Oats were influenced by the downward trend of corn.

In line with hog values, the provision market was easier.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO, Oct. 28 (AP)—Cattle 15-60, hogs and yearlings generally 15 cents to 25 cents lower, feeders, stockers and range steers about steady; top yearlings 12.00; bulls easy, vealers around steady at 11.00 @ 11.80. Hogs, 35,000; generally 25 cents to 10 cents lower; top 13.50; butchers 13.10 @ 13.40; mediums 12.50 @ 12.75; sows uneven; bulk 10.50 @ 11.50; estimated hold over 9,000.

Sheep, 17,000; fat lambs steady to weak; top natives 14.00; bulk fat lambs 12.25 @ 11.75; fat ewes 6.50 @ 6.50; feeding lambs unchanged, top 1.85; bulk at 1.75.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 28 (AP)—The cotton market was quiet today, but the undertone was steadier and the general trend of prices was upward although there were occasional drives against prices by ring traders.

There was a marked absence of hedge selling which was taken to indicate more determination on the part of the interior to withhold offerings. The market started 8 to 11 points higher in sympathy with better cables than due and continued on the upgrade practically all morning on moderate trade buying and short covering until near noon prices showed gains over yesterday's close of 20 to 22 points. During the afternoon prices eased off 14 to 16 points on selling by ring traders but the dip met the usual trade buying and prices rallied almost to the highs but in the final trading eased off about 10 points from the best, closing at net gains for the day of 10 to 13 points.

With Liverpool coming in better than due, first trading was stronger, showing gains of from 8 to 11 points, with December at 12.35, January at 12.61 and March 12.58 and these proved to be the low levels of the morning. The market continued to gain all morning and near noon December traded as high as 12.27, January at 12.53 and March at 12.70, or 29 to 32 points above the previous close.

During the afternoon, prices reacted under pressure from ring traders and December eased off to 12.33, January to 12.39 and March to 12.54. These were new lows for the day. In the final hour prices rallied almost to the earlier highs but lost 19 points of this rally right at the end, closing 6 to 7 points above the lowest. Exports for the day totalled 17,929 bales.

COTTON SEED OIL

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—An easier trend to lard, selling by refiners and the unsettled condition due to competing fats and grosses caused a lower market in cotton seed oil today and closing prices were 10 to 15 points net lower. May sold at a new low record for the season. Total sales for the day were 15,100 barrels. Prime crude 7.25; prime summer yellow spot 8.55; November closed 8.40; December 8.45; January 8.55; March 8.75, May 8.94.

COTTON GOODS

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—Business more active in gray cotton goods today, sales of print cloths being made for delivery in the first third of next year on a basis of 6 1/2 cents for 36 1-2 inch, 64x69 print cloths. Yarns were in moderate demand with prices easier. Raw silk declined slightly. Durlaps were unchanged at Calcutta with little new business developed. Knit goods sales were stimulated by lower prices. Wool goods were less active for immediate delivery.

COFFEE

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—Coffee futures were lower today under realizing by recent buyers and re-selling inspired by reports of easier Rio exchange rates and unsettled price changes in Brazil which later were denied. March sold off to 14.85 or 23 points net lower and closed at 14.88, the general market showing net losses of 23 to 25 points. Estimated sales 23,000 bags. Close quotation: December 15.45; January 15.30; March 14.85; May 14.40; July 14.05; September 13.51.

Spot coffee dull, Rio 7 1/2 14-14 to 2-8, Santos 4 1/2 20 1-2 to 20 3-4. Cost and freight offers included part Bourbon 7 1/2 and 5 1/2 at 19 to 19 1/2.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Oct. 28 (AP)—Strength featured the cattle market today. In spot cows looked 10 cents to 15 cents higher, while other classes held fully steady. The sheep trade also was steady, but a decline of from 10 cents to 15 cents was recorded in the hog market. Receipts were posted at 2,800 grown cattle, 1,200 calves, 1,400 hogs and 300 sheep.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—E. W. Marland, president of Marland Oil Company, says a mistaken idea prevails, so far as most oil companies are concerned, that a cut in crude oil prices will necessitate an adjustment of inventory affecting earnings in the last quarter this year. All companies wrote down inventory last December, so the then prevailing prices, which advanced early this year and are still at much higher levels for the character of oil in storage than the price at which it is carried on oil companies' books, he said. He thought it would require a 20 per cent cut in crude prices to cause any inventory loss to companies that have not marked up their inventories since last December and a 5 per cent cut in mid-continent prices as there have been two 25 cent advances since December.

SAYS WATSON HAD KU KLUX CARD

INDIANA SENATOR MEMBER OF SECRET ORDER, ROGERS DECLARES

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 28 (AP)—A flat statement that Senator James E. Watson, Republican nominee for reelection in Indiana, carried an Imperial Klan membership card in 1924 was made today to the senate campaign funds committee by William M. Rogers, an Indianapolis klansman.

Rogers said Watson showed him the card in the reception room of the Senate Chamber in 1924. He declared the card was stamped good for 1924 and 1925 and commanded all Klan chapters to admit the bearer to all meetings.

"You could not be mistaken about the card he showed you?" asked Senator Reed, the chairman.

"I do not think so," Rogers replied. Later he added that Senator Watson had the card in a bill folder so he could exhibit it quickly.

With the conclusion of Rogers' testimony, Senator Reed announced that hearings had been closed at least until after the election. He added that if Senators Watson and Robinson wanted to make affidavits to rebut testimony given, he would receive them and make them public immediately.

Watson Denies It

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 28 (AP)—A statement by William M. Rogers, Indianapolis klansman before the senatorial campaign funds committee in St. Louis today to the effect that Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana, carried a Ku Klux Klan membership card in 1924, was branded as an "infamous lie" by Watson today.

Notified at the hospital to which he has been confined for several weeks with injuries received in an automobile accident, Senator Watson denounced Rogers' assertions as "fabrications of a disappointed office seeker."

of the Retail Merchants association announced yesterday.

Representatives of the athletic association at the high school petitioned the merchants to close from three to five o'clock but the board of directors decided that it would be impractical to close for the game and would not be in keeping with the closing agreement of the association. The board went on record as backing the team in every manner practical and will urge all merchants to work about hounded during the game and let as many employees attend the game as possible.

A notice of this action of the directors is being mailed to every member of the Retail Merchants association. Word has come down from Amarillo that the Golden Standard supporters are coming to Lubbock on a special train, 300 strong for the annual clash which will determine the championship of the Panhandle in the Class A race. A big crowd of local business men is expected to attend the game and back the high school in addition to the entire student body of the High school.

NO CONSPIRACY TO CONTROL PRESS ADVERTISING SAYS J. A. PARK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—The federal trade commission's complaint charging conspiracy to control newspaper advertising was denounced today at the annual meeting of the American Association of Advertising Agencies. The attack was made by John A. Park of Raleigh, N. C., president of the southern newspaper publishers' association in a message to the convention.

"The commission is threatening to destroy the whole advertising structure without offering a single remedy or plan as a substitute," the message asserted.

The complaint, directed against the southern newspaper publishers' association, the four A's, the American Press Association and the Six Point League, was described by Mr. Park as "inducious" on its face.

S. W. WILKINSON BURIED HERE

PIONEER CITIZEN IS BURIED IN LUBBOCK CEMETERY BY OLD FRIENDS

S. W. Wilkinson, 82, Lubbock county pioneer, died at 2:30 p. m., at his home 1231 Seventeenth Street yesterday, and was buried yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Lubbock cemetery, after Rev. L. J. Sanders had conducted funeral services at his home.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Della Wilkinson, with whom he lived, and Mrs. O. L. Slaton, 1312 Avenue R. Another daughter, Mrs. A. J. Hoover, of Norman, Okla., who was not able to come.

Confederate Veteran
Mr. Wilkinson was born November 10, in Burleson county. He fought for four years in the Confederate army enlisting when he was 16 years of age, and later ranched in Texas until recent years. He came to Lubbock from the Spur ranch in 1904. Mrs. Wilkinson died in April, 1923.

During the last few days since Mr. Wilkinson has been ill, his memory has turned in his delirium to the days he spent on the battlefields, and to many of the more stirring times on ranches. He has talked much of the officers in the war and of companions of other days, according to those who have been near him.

Connected With Ranch Here
Soon after the war, Mr. Wilkinson bought a ranch in Collin county near Bell Plains. He moved from there to King county and from there went to the famous Spur ranch in Dickens county. Since he has been in Lubbock and has been connected with a ranch near here belonging to O. L. Slaton.

He was a member of the Church of Christ, and was for many years an active member of the Masonic lodge. Numerous publishers were other pioneer men who have with Mr. Wilkinson, lived much of their lives on ranches. They are Judge W. D. Crum, W. K. Dickinson, J. B. Green, M. Green, J. H. Mobley, E. P. Barhart, George Glickerson, J. T. Magee, C. W. Mallard and P. S. Rucker. Active publishers are Bob Crum, W. S. Pender, H. L. Johnson, Baxter Honey, John Denman and E. L. Robertson.

METHODISTS WILL SHOW BIG GROWTH

NORTHWEST TEXAS CONFERENCE TO MEET AT CHILDRSS NEXT MONTH

(Special to The Avalanche)
ABILENE, Oct. 28.—The seventeenth annual session of the Northwest Texas Methodist conference, under the bishopric of Rev. John M. Moore, of Dallas, which convenes at Childress November 18, will disclose a phenomenal membership growth for the church during last year, high dignitaries of the denomination declared today.

The conference is composed of 208 clerical members, not including 15 lay men and 2 second year students, and 11 "supplies." In the confines of the conference are 22 local preachers, conductors with the regular itinerant ministers.

Noteworthy at this session will be the extraordinary class of young ministers, who will be applicants for admission on trial into the itinerant ministry. Nearly all of the eight districts of the conference are sending up men recommended for ministerial work this year. Despite the crowded condition of the conference, presiding elders are of the opinion that all of them will be assigned places in the roster of appointments.

Morning sessions will be given over almost exclusively to business sessions over which Bishop Moore will preside and afternoon will be occupied with committee meetings, lectures and sermons by noted divines of the denomination.

Many changes in the presiding eldership and appointments of ministers are anticipated at the hands of Bishop Moore, who is now serving his first year with this conference. Appointments will be read out on the last night of the conference, probably Nov. 14.

Childress is making elaborate preparations to entertain the visiting ministers and lay delegates, providing free entertainment for them during their stay in that city.

The membership of the church in the Northwest Texas conference, according to official figures of 1925, was 55,861. A total of 284 churches owned by the denomination was worth $6,456,325, and there were 342 parsonages, valued at $184,606.

EIGHTY PARDONS? NO, ONLY EIGHT

GOVERNOR OBJECTS TO MISPLACED "V" IN NEWS-PAPER HEADLINES

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 28. (AP)—One misplaced "v" in a headline of a local paper caused a conference between newspaper men and Governor Miriam M. Ferguson today in which she delivered an ultimatum on the handling of news about pardons.

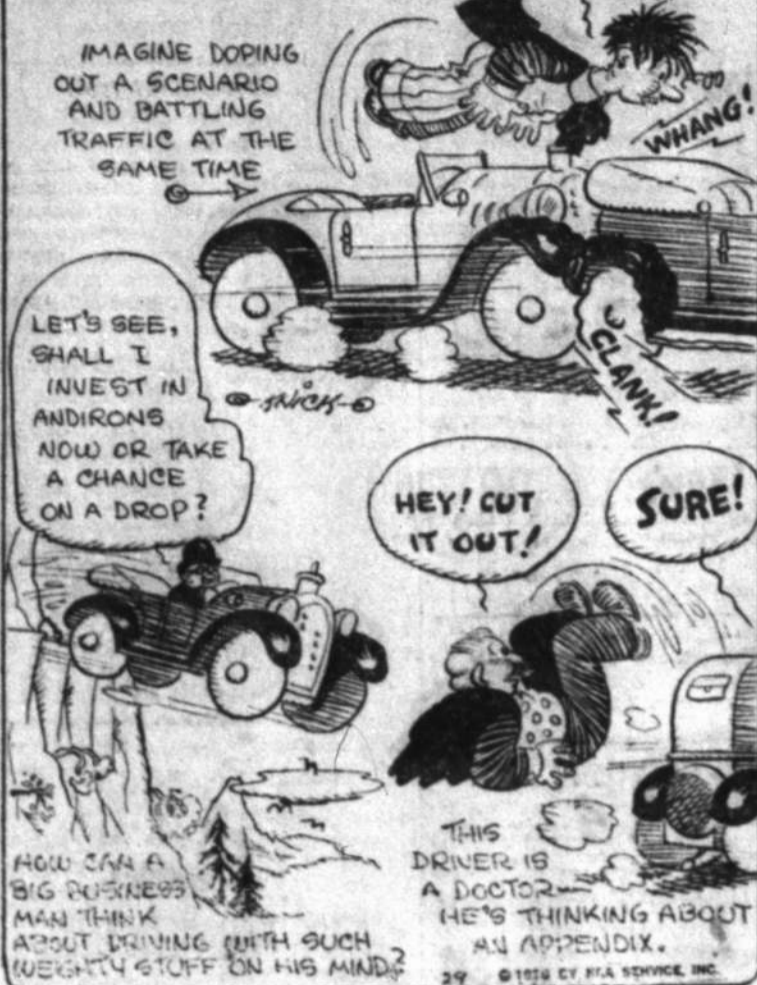

The governor is going to announce her own clemency proclamations hereafter and no newspaper man can obtain them from the records in the office of the secretary of state, she said.

The "v" in the headline was ticked out to "eight" which erroneously read that "eighty" pardons had been granted by her. It was pointed out by the chief executive that although eight pardons had been granted and were on the records, she had yet to sign the proclamations, which were so her "desk."

Governor Ferguson has granted 2,531 clemency proclamations.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY WILL TURN ATTENTION TO DIVERSIFICATION SEEING THE USELESSNESS OF ONE-CROP PLAN

By E. S. SHOAF, Special Correspondent
WELLINGTON, Oct. 28.—Being made to realize the utter uselessness of depending on the one crop, cotton, by the recent depression, the farmers and business men of Collingsworth County are turning their attention more to grain and dairying. Many fields have been broken and grain already planted for next year's crop. Others are being put in good condition. With plenty of moisture and a good season in the ground the grain should get a good start. It will make excellent pasture for stock during the winter, for those who wish to graze their grain. The increase in grain acreage in this county this year over 1925 will be at least 20 per cent, according to County Agent, C. C. Stinson. He says that the cotton acreage will be decreased for another year, and united efforts will be made along this line.

Among The Boys
Stinson is doing a great work in the county among the farmers and club boys. Coming to Collingsworth county the latter part of February, Stinson immediately set to work in organizing the boys clubs of the county. The effectiveness of his work among the boys was clearly shown by the many prizes won by the club members at the Collingsworth County Fair, the Childress State Fair, the Amarillo State Fair, the Texas-Oklahoma Fair at Wichita Falls and the Texas State Fair at Dallas. Stinson was also successful in placing one of his club boys on the state livestock judging team which will enter the international livestock judging contest at the royal livestock exposition which will be held at Kansas City, November 13 to 17.

Under Stinson's influence and with his aid, besides planting more grain, the farmers are turning their attention to dairying also. This means that other blow at the cotton crop, for bigger forage crops will have to be provided for the dairy cattle. In the past month a herd of eleven registered Jersey heifers with butter records behind them, have been imported into the county along with a registered bull of merit. And several more bulls are expected to be shipped into the county shortly.

C. C. Helps
The agricultural committee of the Wellington Chamber of Commerce is contemplating the organization of bull circles, and at the present time this committee is endeavoring to interest the farmers of the county in pure bred dairy cattle, and later meetings will be held by the Chamber of Commerce in the different communities in an effort to further this interest, and to organize the farmers so that they may be in position sale of sweet cream and milk. Wellington is already the home of a large creamery which is rendering its support to the cause.

Another industry in which the people have been somewhat interested, but in which they are really becoming engaged for profits to a greater extent, is the poultry business. There are many farm women in Collingsworth county who have been able to pay for the groceries and the clothing for the entire family, from the sales of chickens and eggs. There are several large poultry farms in the county, and aided by the efforts of the poultry association and the chamber of commerce that at least 40 per cent more poultry will be produced in 1927 than in any previous year.

The turkey production is one of importance in this county, as there are numerous large flocks, with a large increase in production over the year of 1925.

The hog industry is also receiving its share of interest and at the recent Collingsworth County Fair many fine specimens of swine were shown both by the farmers and the club boys of the county. One of the Wellington Chamber of Commerce in its work for the coming year will be for at least "One Cow one Sow, and a hundred Hens on every Collingsworth County Farm." And a live at home program.

CURRY COUNTY HAS MAMMOTH HATCHERY

(Special to The Avalanche)
CLOVIS, New Mexico, Oct. 28.—R. Weeks & Son of Clovis, have ordered a new Smith incubator which has a capacity of 47,000 eggs per setting and with the Buckeye installed last year will have a total capacity of nearly 60,000 eggs per setting.

Many doubted the possibility of keeping a 12,000 egg incubator busy last year, but as the demand could not be supplied a new Smith was ordered to help meet the demand for this season. The new Smith will be received, installed and tested out before December 1st, and be in fine shape for heavy business which will start the first of January.

EXPECT BIG CROWD TO HEAR SAPIRO AT ABILENE

(Special to The Avalanche)
ABILENE, Oct. 28.—An immense audience is expected to hear Anron Sapiro, famous co-operative marketing expert, when he speaks at the First Baptist Church in this city at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of November 1. Sapiro will address the farmers on "The Present Cotton Situation—Cause, Effect, and a Proven System of Permanent Solution."

Sapiro, after speaking here, will go to Colorado City for a night engagement.

A stray dog fed by Edward Taylor of Louisville warned his family the same night when fire broke out and all escaped.

ABILENE GIRL TO CHRISTEN SHIP

MISS FRANCES LONG TO BREAK BOTTLE ON "WEST TEXAS"

Miss Frances Long, of Abilene, will break the bottle over the Southern Steamship company's latest craft, "West Texas," at the christening ceremonies to be held under the auspices of the West Texas chamber of commerce at Houston, November 6.

Miss Long is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Long, pioneer residents of Abilene, and her designation for this honor was sponsored by president Arthur P. Duggan, of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Elaborate plans for the christening service of the steamship named in honor of the world's largest regional chamber of commerce organization, have been perfected. The Stamford Firemen's band, official band of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will furnish the music for the occasion. The address of welcome will be extended by Mayor Holcomb, of Houston, with president Duggan, of the West Texas chamber, making the principal speech of the occasion. Introduction of Harvey C. Miller, president of the Southern Steamship Co., and of George C. Delaney, traffic manager of the company, will be made before the christening ceremony proper. Short talks will be made by various officials.

Miss Long, attended by a lady-in-waiting of her own choice, will break the bottle of mineral water over the prose of the new vessel which will make it "West Texas," floating monument to the great regional organization of the West and to the territory served by it.

Following the christening, there will be a ride down the ship channel to the San Jacinto battle grounds, with luncheon served at the San Jacinto Inn, when attending West Texans will be guests of the Houston Chamber of Commerce.

A large and representative crowd of West Texans are expected by the Houston chamber of commerce who are making plans for entertainment and courtesies to be extended. A special fare and one-third rate has been offered to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce so that the christening ceremony will be well attended.
