VOL. 59—NO. 51

MATADOR, MOTLEY COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, MARCH 4, 1954

PRICE SEVEN CENTS

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Looking at truth without any designs upon its influence, the camera and mirror report it honestly, and in the total absence of fear. It is unfortunate they have no souls to reward.

Laughter was in the room like warm sunlight in a valley. It was soft and wholesome with the spontaneity of a clear mountain stream, and as unaffected. Each of the three attractive children seemed eager to be considered and joined in the family life through separate entrances of affection. Poverty was obvious and refreshing in the patched but immaculately clean table covering, the worn but scrubbed flooring and the antiquated furniture, yet there was no tension of want. The slightly graying mother was peeling apples from a large wooden bowl and the odor of baking bread caused her to rise at intervals and go into the small kitchen. The older daughter was reading to her father from the newspaper, and paused a moment to fill his pipe and place a match in his hand. He felt for the flame with sensitive fingers, then held it to the tobacco.

These automatic clothes dryers have gone a long way to provide a degree of personal secrecy never attainable with the wind blowing garments on a clothes line.

Profanity is one of the most revolting aspects of human nature, and consumes the dignity of a man or woman with terrifying velocity. That which the profane posesses is temporal, including respect and affection; their works perish with awesome certainty.

It would be interesting to record, as a matter of scientific history, whether or not the wife of the inventor of the electric blanket was troubled by cold feet.

If absence makes the heart grow fonder why is it necessary that the return be accompanied by an at least plausible explanation for the delay?

Speed is the flame that forever destroys the wings of drivers who are not content to ignore the wiles of chance.

Intoxication comes in many forms besides the liquid in sealed bottles. One of the most hopeless conditions is reached by lacking ignorance with egotism while the victim remains in the proximity of his own voice. A self-evaluation binge may develop into a chronic case.

Even since childhood the fates have pulled manikin strings attached to my dreams and laughed at the resulting consternation. One night when the steam calliope screamed at the summer darkness beyond the merry-go-round I bought two extremely important tickets. The girl was chubby, bright-eyed and freckled; love can be and frequently is both insipid and wonderful. The platform began to move as I placed my foot in the stirrup and the music was gay and loud. Our wooden, glass-eyed horses were matched Pegasuses, galloping through the clouds and fields of stars, until the girl laughed and pointed. My horses' tails had been torn out by the roots. The tents, the lights and the people were moving but my world was standing still. The music ceased and the night closed in, with a mocking laugh still echoing in my heart.

Mrs. Tex Litteral Breaks Hip In Fall

Mrs. Tex Litteral was hospitalized at Providence Hospital in El Paso, Monday after she fell and broke a hip, and underwent surgery Tuesday morning.

Leaving Tuesday for El Paso were her mother, Mrs. J. S. Lambert and sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford.

Mr. and Mrs. Litteral had visited their relatives here last week, and left Friday to return to their home.

'Drouth' County Judges to Meet With Governor

An appointment cancelled last week by Gov. Allan Shivers with County Judges from 14 "drouth disaster" counties, has been re-set for tomorrow. At a meeting of the judges held Monday in Childress, Senator Andy Rodgers completed arrangements for the Friday appointment. The judges will meet Governor Shivers in Austin at 10 a. m.

Andy Hurst Moves Stock To Sudan, Store To Reopen

Large trucks Tuesday loaded most of the stock of Gabriel's Department store and hauled it away to Sudan. Loaded on one of the trucks were the household effects of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Hurst who have moved to Sudan to make that their future home.

The stock will augment merchandise in the G&H department store in Sudan which Mr. Hurst will manage.

Contrary to a statement which was released to the Childress Index last week announcing that "Matador's last dry goods store is closing today", Gabriel's Department store here is merely closed until new stock can be placed in the shelves.

EDITOR'S NOTE—In fairness to customers whose families have been buying merchandise in Matador for over half a century, it is necessary to refute the propaganda statement. Matador Variety which is a junior department store will be closed a few days because of a trade transaction, not affected in any way by local economic conditions.

Matador has not had a dry good store failure. Harry Willett closed his store because he desired to retire and not because of the absence of patronage. Matador is one of the most substantial small communities in Texas. It is true that it suffered a loss of business because of the 1953 drouth conditions, but its businessmen did not suffer any loss of faith in the area and the future.

5 Solons Wounded By Crazy Radicals

Most sensational news of the week occurred in Washington Monday afternoon during a House session when three fanatical Puerto Ricans, spectators in the House gallery, suddenly shouted, "Free Puerto Rico!" and waved a Puerto Rican flag and cut loose with wild, indiscriminate pistol fire that wounded five congressmen.

Two congressmen were hurt seriously. The other three had leg injuries. The two gunmen and their woman companion, Puerto Ricans from New York City, were overpowered and captured immediately. House Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) said they were part of a busload of Puerto Ricans who came to the capital Monday. He said approximately 20 of them have been taken into custody.

Most seriously wounded is Congressman Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich.) who was struck in the left side below the heart. After an emergency operation he was reported yesterday to have better than a 50-50 chance of recovery.

Roaring Springs Teachers Plan To Attend Convention

Roaring Springs schools will be dismissed Friday, March 12, in order that faculty members may attend the State Teacher's convention to be held in Big Spring.

Several teachers have indicated that they will attend this convention, while others will attend a similar convention scheduled to be held in Amarillo, Supt. Paul Sweatt said.

ATTACK FATAL TO MRS. J. A. GROVES

Mrs. J. A. Groves, 76, a resident of Motley county since 1910 died at the home of a daughter in Plainview, early Tuesday, of a heart attack, and funeral services were held Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. in the First Baptist Church, Matador.

Mrs. Groves, who was visiting at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Arvil Kingery of 1415 Independence St., Plainview, died shortly after a heart attack about 4:30 a. m.

Rev. Bruce Oliver, pastor of First Baptist Church, conducted the final rites, assisted by Rev. W. B. Vaughn of Matador, former Methodist pastor.

Burial was in East Mound cemetery under direction of Eudy-Seale Funeral Home. Pallbearers were: Noble Groves, Algie Groves, Freeman Thacker, Joe Campbell, Alvin Stearns and Buck Waybourn.

Born In Tennessee
Minnie Gertrude Hancock was born in Shelby County, Tenn., Sept. 15, 1877. She was about 5 years old when her parents moved to Texas and settled at Mexia in Limestone county. She was married at Mexia, April 14, 1897 to John A. Groves, who preceded her in death, March 11, 1938. Nine children were born to the union, eight of whom survive.

Mr. and Mrs. Groves moved to Motley county in 1910, after living in Haskell county, and later for a short time in New Mexico. They had made their home in this community continuously since coming here.

Mrs. Groves had been a member of the church since 1910. (Continued on back page)

School Centennial Observed In Area

Concluding a week's observance of a century of progress in education in Texas public schools, Friday March 5, has been designated as "visitation day" in Matador schools and all parents and other patrons are invited to attend classes.

Open house was held Wednesday at the Roaring Springs schools, when a large number of parents and friends visited the school plant, enjoyed lunch in the school lunchroom, and heard an address by a former school superintendent, C. W. Giesecke, now of Floydada. He was introduced by Supt. Paul Sweatt.

Roaring Springs Lions Club and Masonic Lodge members, who had met at the school, went from there to Patton Springs School, where an address was made by G. F. Yeates, Principal of Northfield school, formerly of Afton. He was presented by Supt. J. L. Huey. Following the program, a stock show was in (continued on back page)

AFTON FFA BOYS WIN TOP HONORS

More honors were collected last week by the Patton Spring FFA livestock judging team which won the Lubbock district judging contest held Friday at Cooper high school in addition to the first place team, the three boys rated the first high in the contest.

Soil Group Asks Government To Buy Seed For Erosion Control In Drouth District

Appeal to the government to buy seeds to be used in the control of "drouth-distressed" area erosion, was made Tuesday by the Upper Pease Soil Conservation District at a meeting held in Paducah.

J. E. Taylor of Matador, chairman of the district, said a letter addressed to V. C. Marshall, chairman of the State Board of Soil Conservation, was approved at the meeting.

Excerpts from the letter are as follows: "The continued drouth through the district area as well as surrounding district areas, and the financial status of the farmers being such that it is felt that there is a definite need for the inclusion within the ASC practices now available to farmers and ranchers of an emergency tillage practice to control wind erosion, with federal cost share payment.

"Furthermore it is felt that on practices 1, 2, 4, 28 and 29 of the Texas State handbook the practices should carry a 100 per cent federal cost share of the seed. This will better enable the farmers and ranchers in the drouth stricken areas to control erosion on the lands that are not covered by allotted acreages. In these areas of severe drouth it is felt (continued on back page)

L. B. Turner Makes Announcement In Commissioner Race

The Tribune is authorized to announce the candidacy of L. B. Turner of Flomot for the office of county commissioner, Precinct 2, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, July 24, 1954.

In a statement to the Tribune regarding his announcement, Mr. Turner said: "I have lived in the Motley county and the Flomot community for fifty (50) years. I served with the armed forces in World War I, but this in no way obligates the people of precinct two to support my campaign.

"I have stayed in the county because I like the county and the people and their neighborly attitude, and now my desire is to serve my people. I have always served every worthwhile movement for the development of the county.

J. R. Whitworth

Other new officials elected during the Tuesday meeting were: John Stevens, vice-president; Bill Seale, 2nd vice-president; Glenn Woodruff, 3rd vice-president; 2-year directors, H. F. The 1954 quota is slightly over 25¢ per capita. Mr. Rattan declared. He said the drive was launched Tuesday and that the volunteer workers are hopeful it can be completed by the end of the week, altho extension of time will be made if necessary.

Plans Readied for Farmers Meeting

COLD SNAP ENDS "SHORT SUMMER"

Balmly summer weather with mid-day mercury reading in the 80's ended over the week-end when a cold front Saturday brought the temperature down close to the freezing point.

A trace of rain accompanied by some snow cleared some of the dust from the air and benefited wheat in the area. A second cold front struck Monday night while weather stations issued "stock warnings" for the north Panhandle. The mercury remained around the freezing point through most of Tuesday and dropped further during the night. City Water Superintendent Lee Burns said the reading Wednesday morning was 20 degrees.

Day Of Prayer Set For Friday

World Day of Prayer will be observed here tomorrow (Friday) with a program in the Methodist Church sanctuary at 3:30 p. m. in accordance with an announcement made last week.

The program is open to the public and a cordial invitation is extended everyone to join in this special service of worship for world peace.

Mrs. Fred Simpson will lead the program which will include discussions on home and foreign missions, and will close with a special offering for missions. There will be, "That they may have life".

Complete order of service as it will be presented, is found in the church and social section elsewhere in this issue of the Tribune.

Dog Owners Hurry To Immunize Pets

"Dog Gone" but it seemed that all the dogs in West Texas and a few strays from Arkansas were brought here Tuesday for rabies vaccination. When the yelps had silenced Dr. J. T. Westbrook, registered veterinarian of Paducah, had with the assistance of County Agent Bill Pallmeyer, immunized 86 dogs and one cat.

Whole-hearted cooperation of the citizens of Matador and surrounding communities in the city council's drive to eliminate the danger of a rabies outbreak, was reflected in single day's vaccinations. Dr. Westbrook will return here Tuesday and continue to make regular visits as long as there is a demand for his services. He will be in Roaring Springs Monday.

In the meantime the city set in motion its machinery to destroy the stray dogs in the community. The dogs are being captured and impounded. They will be kept for one week and if unclaimed at the end of that time they will be destroyed.

Hammond To Speak During "Kick-Off" At Legion Building

One of the nation's top agriculture leaders, J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, will speak in Matador Monday night.

Walter Hammond, president of the county organization. The meeting will be held at the American Legion building, beginning at 7:30.

One of the special features of the program will be music by the Patton Spring High School band. Other entertainment by local talent is announced in the program. Group singing will be led by J. R. Whitworth, with invocation by R. E. Campbell, Sr.

Mayor Douglas Meador will give an address of welcome and State Representative Elbert Reeves will introduce the speaker.

Following Mr. Hammond's address, benediction will be pronounced by Mrs. Rose Turner of Flomot.

Hammond, a West Texas farmer from near Abilene, was president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation for approximately 20 years and is recognized as one of the nation's leading farm authorities. The Texas Farm Bureau now has a total membership of over 53,000.

4-H Club Members Are Eligible In Sears Pig Project

Eight sows and one boar pig are available to Motley county 4-H Club members through the Sears Foundation, according to County Agent Bill Pallmeyer. All animals in the Sears program are registered Poland China.

4-H members enter the contest through a letter to Mr. Pallmeyer, titled, "Why I Want A Pig." Awards will be made the winners in May. Deadline for applications is April 24.

Mr. Pallmeyer will personally visit the 4-H club members who write letters, to determine that the applicant can properly care for a pig and that the applicant's family is sufficiently interested to indicate a successful completion of the project. The contest is open to both boys and girls who are 4-H club members.

Winners will be selected from the group of applicants who qualify. Requirements are that the animals be cared for during the summer and shown during the Sears exhibit in September. Gilts will be bred in the latter part of the year so as to farrow in March or April of 1955. At this time winners in the 1954 program will give to the 4-H club the best gilt, to provide another premium in the 1955 contest.

All other pigs and the original gilt become the property of 4-H members. Prizes will be given for the heaviest litters, which will be weighed at the age of eight weeks.

The club member receiving the boar is obligated to furnish free service for the eight gilts in the 1954 program, but may charge other hog owners. The owner may dispose of the boar after June 1, 1955 or after all the gilts in the program are bred a second time (gilt owners must pay for 1955 boar services).

Only contract necessary is a signed agreement by winners that they will pay the pig club $15 in event of loss of a pig through personal negligence.

Other information regarding the program may be obtained from Mr. Pallmeyer's office.

White Scheduled At Childress Show

John White, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, will be the keynote speaker at the 3rd Annual Childress Farm Implement Show and Demonstration Tuesday, March 9th, according to Vernon Hafner, Childress County Agent and show chairman. Commissioner White will speak at 10:00 a. m. following the show's official opening at 9:30.

Seven different lines of implements will be shown and demonstrated by their distributors on the 15 acre show site, just west of Childress on Highway 83 at the railroad underpass.

Of interest to most everyone, businessmen and farmers alike, will be the showing of the Tri-State Cotton Harvester, which not only strips the cotton plants, but also gins and bales the cotton at the same time. This new machine has been invented and constructed by the staff at the Imhof Equipment Company in Childress and has made a couple of successful trial runs in the local cotton fields. Even though the machine is not on the market yet, it has proven its theory of operation; and, with further perfection, it will revolutionize the cotton industry, its owners and designers claim.

Irrigation farmers will find several displays of interest at the show, Hafner added.

"We are staging this one-day show for the convenience of the dealers, the farmers, and the public, and there will be no admission charged," Truman McFarland, Chairman of the Childress C of C-BCD Agriculture Committee, announced.

World Day Of Prayer Program Prepared For This Year By Sarah Chakko Of India

Each year the National World Day of Prayer committee of the United States Church Women invites one or more women from a chosen country to write the service. The 1954 service comes from Sarah Chakko of India, and will be presented by women of the Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service, Friday, March 5, at 3:30 p. m. in the church sanctuary.

Theme for the program, which will be led by Mrs. Fred Simpson, is "That They May Have Life," from the Scripture, John 10:10.

Purpose of the service is to unite all Christians in a bond of peace.

For centuries women have prayed for a better world individually and in groups. The regular annual observance began in 1887 when Mrs. Darwin James of the Presbyterian Church called upon her women to gather in their own communities on a specified date to pray for home missions. In the early nineties, under the leadership of two outstanding Baptist women, a day was designated for united prayer for foreign missions. In 1919 these two groups came together and in 1920 the women of Canada joined them. In 1927, the movement became a "World Day of Prayer". In 1953, it was observed in more than 19,000 communities in the United States and in 118 countries around the world.

Service Of Worship
Service of worship which will be conducted by the Matador W. S. C. S. is as follows: Hymn, "O For a Thousand Tongues"; Prayers and responses to follow; Hymn, "Blessed Assurance"; Talks: Division of Home Missions, "The American Indian"; Mrs. Robert Darsey; "Low income farm communities"; Mrs. Bill Pipkin; "Migrants"; Mrs. Vance Gilbreath; Division of Foreign Missions, "Christian Literature"; Mrs. Nelson McMahan; "Foreign Students"; Mrs. Melvin Meason; "China Colleges"; Mrs. James Priddy; "Women's Christian College—Madras and Isabel Thoburn"; Mrs. Sterling Price; "St. Christopher's College, India"; Mrs. Harry Willett; "Tokyo Woman's Christian College"; Mrs. Frank Pohl.

Act of Dedication and offering will be followed by departing hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Blinds".

W. M. U. Observes Home Missions Day Of Prayer

A prayer program for home missions was held Monday by the Baptist W. M. U. in an all-day service at the church, with Mrs. Edgar Lee as leader for the day. Subject was "Freedom's Holy Light".

Program introduction included the song, "America", pledges to flags, responsive reading, prayer and a review of the life of Annie Armstrong by Mrs. R. E. Campbell, Jr.

Divided into five parts, "American Indian" was the topic discussed in part 1. Following leader's introduction, Mrs. Bob Ham, at the piano, played "Indian Love Call" and a quiz on Indian mission work was conducted by Mrs. Bill McCaghren.

Discussions included in part 2 on the subject, "European Americans" were by Mrs. Ben Keltz, "Safeguards to Freedom"; Mrs. T. E. Cammack, "Among the Spanish"; Mrs. Bruce Oliver, "Signs of Triumph"; Mrs. Fred Clower, "Strongholds of Freedom"; and Mrs. Bob Ham, "Towers of Freedom and Light".

Talks on "Oriental Americans" for part 3 were as follows: "New Born to Freedom", Mrs. C. M. Barton; "His Wonders to Perform", Mrs. T. E. Long; "Scattering the Darkness", Mrs. H. S. Watson; "A Path of Light for the Japanese", Mrs. J. L. Woodruff.

"Church Extension" was subject for part 4, with Mrs. A. A. Harp speaking on "Our Demonstration Grows", followed by Mrs. Louis Poteet, who discussed "What the New Churches Face", and Mrs. C. P. Waybourn, whose topic was, "What Failure Means".

Part 5 was a discussion of "America" with introduction by leader, and talk on "Needs from the field". Prayer and meditation closed each division and an offering for home missions with dedicatory prayer concluded the program.

NAME OF HOSTESS OMITTED FROM LIST

Through an error which is regretted, the name of Mrs. Bill McCaghren was inadvertently omitted in a story that appeared in last week's Tribune, listing the hostesses for the stork shower held for Mrs. James Ed Russell.

The omission was an oversight and unintentional on the part of either of the other hostesses of the Tribune.

Representative For Social Security Is Scheduled Here

Although it is time to make the 1953 report, a number of persons who work for themselves have not yet made the required 1951 and 1952 social security reports, John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock social security office, said today. This is shown, he said, by contacts being made by the social security office field personnel and by inquiries being received by that office.

Some people, he said, have the impression that payment of social security tax by the self-employed and the resulting old-age and survivors insurance coverage is a matter of choice. "This is not so. It is as compulsory as making an income tax return if your net self-employment income is as much as $400 and is not from one of the professions excluded from social security coverage. In fact, the covered self-employment income must be reported on a section of the income tax return at the time the income tax report is made.

Hutton pointed out that self-employed people who have net earnings of at least $400 during their tax year must file the social security section of the income tax return even though they aren't required to make a Federal income tax return. Personal exemptions permitted for income tax purposes are not permitted in determining self-employment not earnings for social security purposes. Therefore, quite a few self-employed who do not ordinarily file income tax returns must make social security returns.

He urges persons who had self-employment income to contact the local social security office, 1616-19th St., Lubbock, or Internal Revenue office, Lubbock, if there is any question about their self-employment being under social security.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security office will be in Matador on March 10th at 11:30 a. m. at the First State Bank and will be glad to be of assistance.

CAST IS SELECTED FOR SENIOR PLAY

The Seniors of Matador High School began rehearsals Monday night of their play. The title is "Beanes For Breakfast", and it is a very funny comedy written by Jay Tobias. A definite date hasn't been set for the presentation of the play.

A group of the Matador High School teachers selected the individual parts for the students. The characters are: Mrs. Mimi Kent (Bette Montgomery), a plump, rather handsome woman of forty, who is flighty and a bit rattlebrained. She longs for wealth. Gertie Gallop (James Graham) a comical-looking hill-billy girl of nineteen, with blowy hair braided into two stiff pigtailed that stand out like wire. She has a loud nasal penetrating voice and is dressed in an untidy print dress. Peggy Kent (Lois Hughes) an unusually pretty girl of eighteen. She has dash, style, vivacity and charm. Farel Kent (Cecil Irwin) a clean-cut buoyant young fellow of twenty, lively, and fun-loving. He is tall and well-proportioned with an attractive boyish grin. Ruth Elton (Reba Bain) a sweet faced girl of nineteen, who is attractive in her wholesome way. Speedy Edwards (Neal Pipkin) a good looking, twenty-year-old college lad of medium height. He is impetuous, jolly, and extremely likeable—in spite of a slightly jealous disposition. Miss Eudosa Edwards (La Nelle Rattan) a militant-looking spinster of forty-five, slender in a wiry gaunt sort of way. She is sharp-featured and tart-tongued. Bessie Elton (Nancy Vaughn) a sort of wash-out dishwater blonde in her late thirties, with a mournful droopy voice. She is a bundle of raw nerves—and so is everybody else after they are around her for awhile.

Opal Beane (Martha Jones), a prepossessing woman of forty inclined to stoutness, with a dominating and positive personality. She has an air of pseudo-culture and speaks in an affected manner. Botsford Beane (James Sturdivant) a meek Casper Milquetoast of a man of forty-two. He speaks in a precise manner and wears an habitually apologetic air when he is near his wife Opal. Maude Beane (Barbara Neighbors), a beautiful dark-haired girl of nineteen, with flashing brown eyes. She distinctly has a mind of her own. Cadwallader Beane (Dewayne Martin) a tall chap of twenty-one rather shallow but with an engaging personality. He is selfish, spoiled, has a flashing temper and is inclined to be cynical.

Jack Winters (Lonnie Lynn), a personable young man of twenty-two, with a frank and open countenance. Uncle Podge (Jack Spray) a jovial, short stocky man of sixty-five, who prides himself on spittin' out jest wot I think, Iganny. Sam Shaffner (Jerry Swaringen) a thick heavy-set salesman of thirty-five with a masterful jaw and fierce black brows.

We are enjoying learning this play, and are hoping you will come to see it. We will let you know the definite date it will be given later.

KAMPUS KLATTER

Hi There!

My, everywhere I went last week, I saw someone making a poster for Centennial Week.

Some of them are really pretty. You should see Duck Hamilton's illustration for English. It is something very unusual.

Say, but I surely felt flattered when I received a letter from Albany, California this week. An old, old friend of mine wrote and mentioned enjoying my Kampus Klatter. Thanks a million Mrs. H. for the compliment.

The Seniors have almost finished those dreadful Practice Sets!! What next??? We are all afraid to ask, but we think it is a test.

All the kids seem to be playing tennis and track now. It surely is pretty weather for tennis.

I can't seem to think of anything to rattle about this week, so I'll just say Adios Amigos, until next week.

SCHOOLS ...

progress by members of the vocational agriculture class.

In Matador, highlight of the week's activities was the program presented Tuesday night in the high school auditorium. Every grade in school was represented in skit or pantomime, with Mrs. J. R. Whitworth and Jimmie Graham as narrators.

Teachers Are Recognized At the beginning of the program, several early-day teachers of the county were recognized and presented with corsages. These included Mrs. Duff Green and Mrs. L. E. Cooper of Roaring Springs, Mrs. Anna Hughes of Quitaque, and Mrs. W. L. McWilliams and Mrs. Claud Jeffers of Matador.

A brief review of the history of county schools from pioneer days to the present revealed many interesting facts, and enacting of classes in session in the early-day one-room schools provided nostalgic entertainment.

The program included a study of contrasts by several departments of high school, and a background of old, familiar school and popular song hits of the past century, by the High School Girls Chorus, directed by Mrs. L. D. Wilkerson.

"Education Week" windows in the business section of Matador were attracting unusual interest this week. Many phases of school work are represented by the windows which were prepared by students and faculty members. Much of the work is outstanding, indicating an unusual amount of study and preparation.

Drivers Uninjured In Two Accidents

Drivers escaped injury in two separate automobile accidents investigated by Sheriff John Stotts during the past six days. In both accidents the automobiles turned over one or more times.

Clarence Hammonds of Floydada skidded on snow-swept paving early Saturday afternoon and went into the bar ditch with his 1953 Cadillac, resulting in damage to the automobile top. The accident happened on US Highway 70 about ten miles west of Matador.

Mr. Hammonds was accompanied by two nieces and they also escaped injury, obtaining transportation to Floydada before the accident was investigated. Robert Thornton, employee of the Red Lake Cattle Corporation lost control of a 1951 Ford about 1 a. m. Monday morning, and turned it over after plowing into the fence along the right of way. The accident happened on State Highway 70 at the west edge of town. Sheriff Stotts said the automobile was rendered almost a total loss. Thornton was driving alone at the time.
