United Fund Lacks Only $1,100 As Drive End Nears

Deaf Smith County's 1965 United Fund Drive stood just $1,100 short of its $30,160 goal Saturday as officals forecast sucess in reaching the goal for the first time in four years.

Collections totalled $29,000 Saturday as workers announced the drive would officially end next Saturday—regardless of whether the goal has been reached.

But United Fund president Clint Formby predicted that citizens of the county would put the drive over the top of its goal prior to the conclusion of the effort.

"WE ARE this close, just $1,100 short of the goal, and it presents an interesting challenge to everyone in the county who is interested in seeing a successful drive this year—both the workers and those who have contributed to the drive." Formby said.

"We are closer than we have been in four years if we get the cooperation we have had during the preceding five weeks of the drive, I see no reason why we cannot go over the top," he continued.

"WE ARE NOT going to beg and harangue the people about the United Fund," Formby said.

"Many have increased their gifts this year and many individuals, organizations, and businesses have participated in the United Fund for the first time this year.

"And we have seen better support from the rural areas of the county," he continued.

"WE KNOW people are interested in completing a successful drive this year and I think those who are interested will put us over the top," the United Fund president said.

Formby pointed out that contributions have been received through the mail, addressed to the United Fund in care of radio station KPAN and the Hereford State Bank.

Anyone wishing to make additional contributions may do so at these two locations.

A MEETING of the board of directors of the United Fund has been scheduled for 10 a.m. Wednesday in the Community of the First National Bank, where the board will review the drive and discuss problems.

The United Fund billboard located in front of the Post Office currently lists 68 organizations and businesses in the county whose management and employees have participated 100 percent in contributing to the drive.

Officials commended these groups for "doing their fare share" in putting contributions for the United Fund near the goal, pointing out that a much larger number of employees have participated in the effort this year than in the past.

VFW Turns Down Veterans Park Trade Bid From City

Vote Apparently Ends Hopes For Improvements

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Thursday turned thumbs-down on the city's proposal to improve 213 acres of land now owned by the VFW and American Legion.

The vote was 43 for, 37 against-10 votes short of the necessary two-thirds majority required by the VFW Constitution and By-Laws concerning sale and transfer of property. Eighty ballots were cast.

The American Legion, co-owners of the property in question, had given their overwhelming approval Tuesday night by a 47-15 vote-well beyond the two-thirds majority.

The negative vote by the Veterans of Foreign Wars apparently killed hopes of locating a large city park and an additional nine-hole golf course on property owned jointly by the veterans groups.

"WE HAVE no immediate plans to pursue the project further", Mayor Cowsert told the Brand Friday.

"We presented what we thought was a fair proposal — a proposal that we could live with — a proposal that we felt would assure the citizens of this area not only a beautifully landscaped park, but an additional nine-hole golf course to help attract visitors to Hereford."

"That's how they voted, so I suppose that's what they want", said Charlie Morris, Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Woodrow Wilson, chairman of the park board comprised of members of both Veteran's groups, would not comment on the negative vote.

SENTIMENT on both sides was running high Friday morning. A number of new members were refused entrance to the meeting Thursday night, and many others expressed disappointment at the negative vote.

One veteran, who declined to be named, told the Brand Friday morning that he had attended believing that the VFW would

Buddy Poppies – From Flanders Fields Of Graves And Flowers

By TOM WINGO
Staff Writer

During World War I, the beautiful flower-filled fields of northern France and Belgium became the battlefields on which men fought and died, giving their lives for the country they loved so much, and for their loved ones at home, so they might have a better life.

SOME MEN died in groups, others died alone, but all died with the same thought, and for the same reason, their God, their loved ones, and their country.

As the war wore on, the once beautiful fields were turned into barren and vast fields of graves and piles of rubble almost too brazen to bare. Then, as days passed, the fields seemed to take on a red glow, as the one flower which had refused to yield to the exploding bombs, or the tramping feet of the immortal foot soldier, once again began to bloom.

The 'Flanders Poppy' had returned to form a vast blanket over the many graves. The bright red poppy gave a new light of life to those who were fighting for their country, and now, those who lay in "Flanders Fields"!

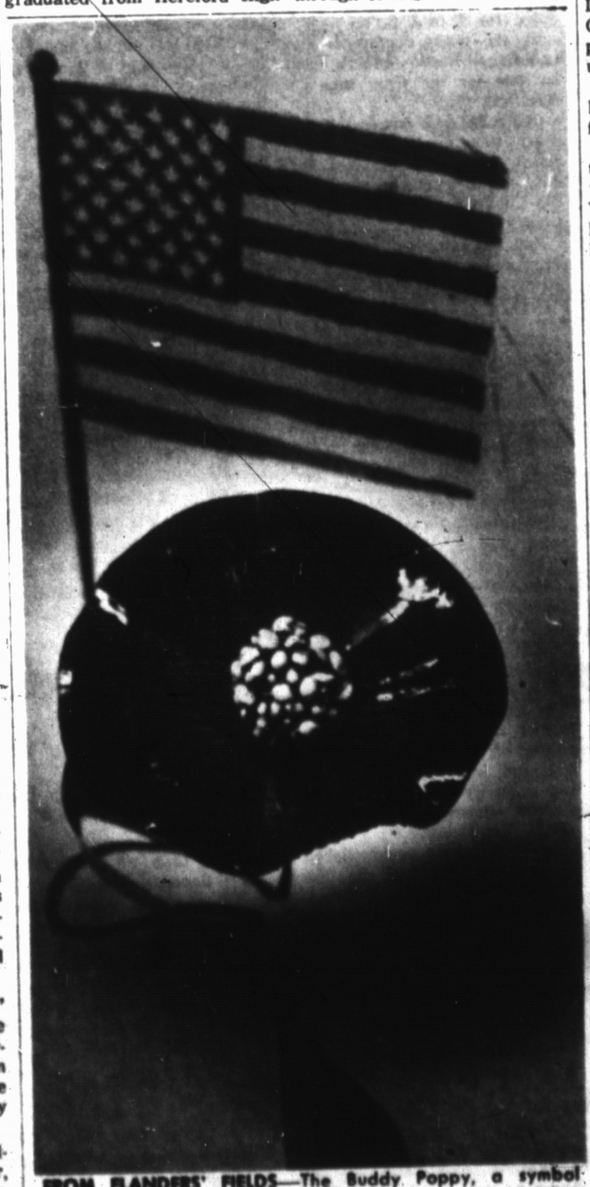

TODAY, in 1965, a new light of life is given to many, by what is now called the "Buddy" poppy.

It is in reality, only a paper flower, with a wire stem, but in the purpose it serves, and the memories that it returns, it is the most honored flower that a citizen can wear on his or her lapel.

Today, as the beaming youngster proudly shows his first poppy to his grandfather, he is likely to receive a pat on the shoulder as the grandfather remembers his first "buddy poppy" when he was but a youngster himself, and realizes that his grandson is now entering his manhood by realizing the importance of this 'red flower'.

THE "BUDDY POPPY" was originated during the first World War, for ex-service men, by the American Legion, who began selling the poppies which were made by veterans in hospitals.

The poppy of today, although it is made of paper, can not actually be called artificial, because, it is worn by the living today, just as proudly as it was worn by the dead during World War I, in the Flanders Fields.

Bravo Smokes Press Day Unveils Lettuce Product

Some 75 persons — including 35 members of the region's working press — heard the story of the developement of Hereford's newest industry at a press conference here Thursday.

Members of the press, along with a group of Hereford citizens on hand at a luncheon in the Hereford Country Club, were introduced to Bravo Smokes and the people who developed the product and established the Bravo factory here.

AT THE luncheon and during a tour through the Bravo plant, they were told of Bravo's potential for becoming one fo Hereford's biggest industries.

Representatives of the city of Hereford and the Chamber of Commerce also commented concerning the Bravo facility, saying that it represents another sign of local progress.

THE PRESS day resulted in renewed worldwide publicity for Bravo and its home city —Hereford — as stories hit one of the world's largest wire services. Additonal stories and photos appeared in many area papers, and were the subject of comment on radio and television stations.

Puzant C. Torigian — the man who developed and patented processes used in manufacture of the smokes and heads the Bravo corporation — told the audience that Bravo's present plant is a prototype facility and predicted rapid expansion.

He said he hoped a much larger factory could be established in Hereford in coming months.

IT WAS also announced that the public is being invited to tour Bravo's compact but fascinating factory on Sunday, Nov. 14, at an Open House.

Hours for next Sunday's public showing are tentatively scheduled for 1 to 4 p. m.

As the press conference got underway, Bravo Smokes went on sale for the first time in Hereford.

OFFICIALS of Bravo told the press that the product would reach Amarillo markets on Friday and marketing expand to the Lubbock area the following week.

But by Saturday, it became clear this schedule could not be kept.

DEMAND for Bravos in Hereford exceeded expectations, Torigian said Saturday. The smokes were being sold as fast as the plant could produce them. . . and, to put it bluntly, Bravo found itself working night and day just to supply Hereford sales outlets.

Production of the smokes made from lettuce leaves is a completely new operation, Torigian said, varying greatly from production of tobacco cigarets.

As a result, Bravo personnel have had to innovate operations as the needs became clear.

He publicly thanked Hereford businessmen who have helped Bravo to make innovations at the plant, pointing out that as with any completely new product, there are many obstacles to overcome to produce the results sought.

It was also emphacized that improvements will be made daily in the product as innovations are perfected.

TORIGIAN told the history of the developement of Bravo, concluding by saying "and now the safer smoke is here (the smoke contains no nicotene — the tobacco ingredient which is apparently detrimental to health) and we are proud to be the one to prodice it."

The facility's contribution to local economy was also outlined:

Torigian said some $22,000 in contract work, $16,000 in payroll, and $2,000 in payment for labor used to establish the facility had already gone into the local economic stream.

HE FORECAST a $150,000 payroll, some $60,000 in materials and service payments, and $72,000 payment to farmers for lettuce during the coming year to local concerns.

Bravo's public relations director, Brad Lynch of The Rumrill Company, Inc., New York, explained the plan of sales for Bravo.

"WE ARE starting out simply and sanely," he said, "there will be no national advertising at the present. . .Bravo will expand its market area city by city."

Later, Torigian told of the growth potential for Hereford's newest industry.

He said that within the four months, the market success of the product should become evident.

IF SUCCESS meets anticipated amounts, an additional Bravo factory would be established here. . .a much larger one than the prototype facility now being used.

If one percent of the nation's 70 million smokers were to buy Bravo regulaly. . it would represent a $70 million gross sales, he pointed out.

A telegram from Texas governor John Connally was read at the noon luncheon. The message commended Bravo for its birth and welcomed it as a new Texas industry.

demonstrate its faith in the community and place the property at the disposal of the city. "I'm sorry I was wrong", he said.

Dr. C. D. Kelton, speaking during the meeting, told the group present that "this is the most detrimental proposition ever to come before this post," and John Green, a long time member of the organizations, censured members for their non-attendance in the past. "Those of us who have worked and have been active should have some say in this matter", he told the group.

Green also read from Article 709 of the Constitution and By-Laws concerning the two-thirds vote requirement.

THE PARK property is bordered on the north by New York Ave. and Dairy Road, on the east by Progressive Road, on the west by a tract of city property just east of S. Main St. and on the South by Victory Drive. The area in question contains approxiately 213 acres within these boundaries.

In return for the gift of the 213 acres of land, the city had promised the veterans to proceed immediately on preliminary planning for a nine-hole golf course; to start an immediate clean-up operation on the tract, and to engage a qualified park engineer or architect to draw up a plan of development for the area.

THEY ALSO agreed to put a 6 inch compact caliche base, 22 feet wide on Victory Drive, a road running east and west on the south side of the park.

To be retained by the veterans were all water rights and mineral rights under the land.

The city would then entertain a petition calling for a bond election for the purpose of developing the park.

The tract of land has been under consideration for a park since early in 1930 when the county acquired it by purchase and condemnation.

IT WAS then conveyed to the State of Texas Park Board for the purpose of developing a park The Civilian Conservation Corps established during the '30s did some work in the park, including the construction of the building now known as the Rock Club House.

The State, however, eventually returned the property to the county, who sold it to the two veterans organizations for a sum of $7,500, again with the stipulation that the area by retained as a park.

THE VETERANS organization acquired the property in 1948 at a cost of $7,500 which was raised by private subscription, according to veteran members of both organizations. The property was purchased from the county with the understanding that it be developed into a public park.

Since that time, the organizations have disposed of a portion of the land. Eighteen acres was deeded to the county for the site of the present Bull Barn; a number of acres was given to the city for a sewage disposal system, and some property has been sold or leased for business and other development.

Cunningham Jr., the Amarillo Area Conservationist. In his recommendation, Cunningham commented on the local unit's excellent accomplishment record in achieving a sustained above average work performance.

NEWMAN explained that the award covered a period of time from July 1, 1964 to June 30 of this year.

Some of the projects accomplished by the unit include helping the farmers of Deaf Smith County make a conservation plan for their farm.

The plan included making a map and suggesting how the farmer might improve the situation on his farm by levelling land, laying pipeline, planting grassed waterways, or the initiation of conservation irrigation.

Another project accomplished by the unit this year has included the composition of a book let published giving the program and plan of the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District.

RURAL ELECTRICITY helps America grow . . .

Placing power lines where they are needed is fun for a child, but it is a big job for the nation's power industry.

Today, consumer-owned electric systems such as ours serve 54% of the rural population, and the demand doubles every seven years.

Meeting the rising power-needs and preparing for tomorrow takes the best efforts of the entire power industry. In our area we are proud to be carrying our share of the load.

Bravo for Bravo! Bravo smokes moved into the limelight this week with the new tobaccoless cigarets going on the market for the first time in the area. In fact, the new lettuce cigarets pretty well dominated the conversation around town Thursday and Friday.

The nicotine free smokes went on sale in local stores Thursday morning, and latest reports we have from retailers say they are being swamped with calls and find it difficult to keep the smokes on their shelves.

Puzant Torrigian, President of Bravo Smokes, Inc. told reporters and businessmen at a noon luncheon Thursday that it one in every hundred people actually accepted the new smoke then the local company could expect to gross more than $70 million.

That's looking pretty far in the future however. Local production has not been able to satisfy the demands in Hereford, let alone look towards the $70 million mark. Company officials had hoped to get the smokes on the Amarillo market sometime this week, and will do so if they possible can. However, local sales have been fantastic and at this point has pretty well taken care of the production. Most local stores are limiting sales to two packages until production catches up with demand.

Naturally, the novelty of the new lettuce smokes will keep sales high for a time, but after the first few weeks in any market area, the product will have to rely on other factors to sustain sales. This of course is expected. And it's the number that continue to smoke the Bravo brand after the "new" has worn off that really interests company officials. That's when the importance of that 1 out of 100 customer acceptance bilt will begin to take shape.

ACctually, we have heard many favorable comments on the new smokes. Along with some unfavorable, of course. But newsmen as a whole were enthusiastic towards Bravo. Tanner Laine, veteran newsman with the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal indicated Thursday that he liked the smokes. And he also passed out a few bouquest for Hereford as a whole. He was quite impressed with the city and the people he found here.

Area news medias were pretty well represented. Both the Amarillo and Lubbock papers, plus all the television stations in Amarillo, and most of the stations from Lubbock had representatives on hand. Also here for the press conference was was Tom Hough, regional director for UPI wire service.

—HB—

Being a non-smoker, it took a little doing before we gathered enough nerve to try the smokes. But we did. And frankly, we liked them. Doubt seriously however, that we'll ever take up the habit again, but if we do, we'll smoke Bravo.

Also, due to the fact that neither my wife or myself smoke cigarettes, we did not wish to try the smokes in the house. Other non-smokers will understand this — the darn things stink up the living room. Consquently, we stepped out into the back yard to try Bravo. Reminded us a little of days gone by when we did most of our smoking out behind the barn. And chances are, those were tabaccoless smokes too. Most likely, cedar-post bark.

But that's enough about Bravo.

Veteran's Day Nov. 11, once known and honored as Armistice Day, will be coming up this week. We understand the two local veterans organizatons have made plans for the day which includes a march down main street to show support for the nations efforts in Viet Nam and to protest the "draft card burning" incidents of the past few weeks. "We'd like to let people know that we stand behind our country in times like these", said Ira Ott, a member of both the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

—HB—

Incidentally, the local band parents organization, the Band Aides, will be selling fruit cakes pretty soon. We'll let you know more about this next week.

The Hereford State Bank's third annual new car show got off with a bang yesterday with a record number of folks in attendance. It will continue through today, so if you haven't been down, better do so. It's a good opportunity to see all the new automobiles together. And this year, we have a couple of airplanes on the lot too.

The event is being held on the parking lot of the Hreford State Bank and will continue from 1 to 5 p. m. today.

Irving Alexander is a typical father.

Irving tells us that he had attended only one football game in his life before coming to Hereford. And few since. That is, up until son Sheldon started playing ball.

"Now I drive all over the country", he says. "Muleshoe, Perryton, Plainview, Canyon, everywhere."

But Irving is not the only father who got the "football bug" when their son started playing the game. That's the sure way.

And we might add, there are a few mothers too, who catch the fever.

—HB—

Speaking of football, we might add our congratulations to the Whitefaces for their performance this season. The boys have played well all season long and have earned a pretty good record so far. They have a couple of rough ones left. Tulia and Dumas, but with a little luck and a lot of hard work they can win them both.

Those beatniks who burned their draft cards are not only going to be in dutch with the FBI but also with bartenders who insist upon proof of age before selling a beer to them.

There are a few junior league Agent 007's around H. H. S. Friday an occurence which could very well be called the "Kitten Conspiracy" took place.

IT ALL BEGAN when Charlie Hill discovered a kitten in one of the lockers before first period. She took the kitten to the office where Coach Jeese Geron promotely suggested that it be taken outside.

It was so cold Friday morning that the Counselor's Assistant couldn't bear the thought of leaving the poor thing out in the cold. So for most of first period the kitten had an unsafe but warm hiding place in the counselor's office. After the kitten seemed warm he or she was quickly taken outside. Thus ended the conspiracy.

Toastmasters Adams, Flores, Jayroe and Rex Lee are slated as speakers at the weekly meeting of the club this week.

Toastmaster of the Evening will be Bob Lohr and table topics will be handled by one of the newer members, Raymond Dement. Stan Knox is to be in charge of the jokes while Toastmaster Coker will evaluate the proceedings of the evening.

IT WAS the pleasure of the group present last Thursday evening to hear Paul Arnpriester speak again on the Constitution of the United States. Paul was named the winner of the 29th annual American Legion Speaking Contest last week. We wish Paul success as he competes this week in the Legion's Zone Oratorical Contest.

The meeting last week was under the able leadership of Bill Lamm as Toastmaster, and Toastmaster Traweek shouldered the task of general evaluator.

Toastmaster Dement was awarded the honor as "Speaker of Distinction" for his speech dealing with the burning of draft cards in the various parts of the country.

"MOST Improved Speaker" was Knox for his talk on the subject of teen-agers being allowed to vote. Coker reaped honors in the table top session.

Bring that new work and a guest next week, Toastmasters, as both will add to the enjoyment and enrichment of each person.

Even a 120-year-old is a mere whippersnapper compared to some tortoises. Claims of tortoises living 300 years and more cannot be authenticated, but one famous Marion's tortoise lived on the Indian Ocean island of Mauritius from 1766 to 1918 when it was accidentally killed at the age of 152.

Yule Bazaar Date Fixed

An annual benefit event of the holiday season, the Christmas Bazaar held by women of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, has been scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 20, at the church.

Mrs. Gene Parsley is serving as chairman as members prepare for the sale which will be staged from 10 a. m. to 7 p. m., with the public invited. This will be the third year for the annual bazaar.

A tasting table will be featured again, with a variety of dishes which are specialties of the church women. Recipes for all these dishes are being compiled and will be on sale.

There will also be a parcel post sale, with packages mailed from various places including some with foreign postmarks, a White Elephant sale, puppet show, sale of gifts, canned and baked.

Some Married Men May Receive Draft Notices

State draft boards will be authorized in December to draft any young married man without children, regardless of the date he was married, to fill the biggest Texas draft call in more than 12 years.

This was announced Wednesday by Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, who said the new policy pertained to men 19 through 25 years old.

THE STATE draft quota for December calls for 1,714 men, the biggest since June 1953, when a call for 1,749 was made on Texas boards. The November quota has been increased from 1,231 to 1,456.

The December quota of 1,749 is the state's share of a national call of 45,224 men, 40,200 for the Army and 5,024 for the Marine Corps.

No married man with children, or an expected child, will be selected to fill the December call.

"DRAFT boards, of course, must have information about children," Colonel Schwartz said, "and an unborn child must be certified by a physician. Otherwise, a young husband and father may find himself selected."

The state draft director explained that childless married men will be ordered for induction when boards exhaust pools of examined and acceptable single men 19 through 25 years old.

Approximately 9,000 men will be sent for pre-induction mental and physical examinations in December. The December local board quotas for induction and examination are scheduled to be mailed to the boards on or about November 10.

Childless married men may be forwarded for physical and mental examinations in both November and December, as well as men down to age 18 years, 11 months if necessary.

Inductions are scheduled to proceed throughout each week in December.

Christmas Card Project Begins In Auxiliary

Project Christmas Card, an annual fund-raising activity of Deaf Smith County Medical Auxiliary, is beginning for the 1965 season, Mrs. Joe Whitley, Auxiliary president, announces.

For several years the Auxiliary has invited county residents to express their holiday greetings to friends within the community through a listing published in the Hereford Brand, and contribute the amount they would have spent on cards to a fund which provides nursing scholarships and buys equipment for Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Needs of the hospital are being investigated now by Auxiliary members to determine what the gift will be this year. Girls to receive the scholarships are selected from Future Nurses in Hereford High School.

Final plans for the project are to be shaped at the next Auxiliary meeting, the morning of Nov. 15 in the home of Mrs. Wesley B. Owens.

ECUMENICAL PRESIDENT

THURMONT, Mr. (AP) — President Johnson is a member of the Christian (Disciples of Christ) Churches, but he has an interdenominational family and interdenominational habits, frequently worshipping in other churches.

On a recent weekend at his Catoctin Mountian retreat, he worshipped for the first time in St. John's Lutheran Church. His wife and daughter Lynda are Episcopalians, and daughter Luci has become Roman Catholic.

Roswell Quartet In Concert Here

The public is invited to attend the concert. There will be no admission charge.

ATTENDS CIVIL DEFENSE COMMUNICATIONS MEET

Deaf Smith County Civil Defense director Bill Thompson was scheduled to attend a Civil Defense Communications seminar today in Brownfield.

Thompson, who served as communications director for the local CD group, said the meeting was to discuss communications in time of regional disaster. The session began Saturday.

NEW RELIGIOUS ORDER

CANTERBURY, England (AP) — The first religious order to be established in Canterbury since the Reformation will be set up in the city parish of St. Martin's by the Anglican Deaconess Community of St. Andrew. St. Martin's is believed to be the oldest Christian church in England. The deaconesses will work among students at Canterbury University and give English lessons to the wives of foreign students. At the same time they will keep up a vigil of prayer for Christian unity in the ancient church.

TRAFFIC STOPPER — Airplanes landed on South Main Friday afternoon and taxied across southern downtown Hereford to the parking lot of the Hereford State Bank . . . creating a lot of second looks from passeds-by. National Music Club Award Given In Aftermath of District Meeting

An award from the National Federation of Music Clubs for outstanding newspaper coverage of the 1964 convention of District I, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, was presented Thursday to Melvin Young, managing editor of the Hereford Brand

The presentation was made by members of the Music Study Club who received the certificate at the 1965 district convention in Amarillo last weekend. It cited the Brand for its reporting of last year's convention held in Hereford. Miss Carma Thomas was club reporter for the Brand at that time.

Mrs. A. O. Thompson, member of the district board, and Mrs. Dick Godwin, who served as district program chairman last year, were Music Study Club members who gave the ceretificate of award to Mr. Young. The Brand had previously been given a similar award by the Texas Federation, but this was the first from the national organization.

It was signed by Mrs. Exa Burford, national chairman of publicity, and Mrs. Billy Mack Simms of Wellington, state publicity chairman. Mrs. Burford, now a resident of another state, was president of the Texas Federation when Mrs. Thompson was serving as president of District I.

Mrs. Godwin took part on the convention program at Amarillo responding to the welcome address and singing a solo at the luncheon, accompanied by Mrs. Joe Hacker. Others going from the local club were Mrs. T. W. Roberson, delegate, and Mrs. Wes Fisher, alternate, as well as Mrs. Thompson and a guest, Mrs. D. W. Palmer.

Mrs. Fisher was elected district auditor, to serve in the 1966 administration of Mrs. Carl Wimberly of Dawn Music Club, who was chosen president. The Dawn club received third place award for its achievement record book, and was made hostess club for the district convention next fall, which will again come to Hereford.

Junior music club members from Hereford and Dawn participated in Junior Day at the convention. Mrs. A. H. Schroeter of Music Study Club, district music festivals co-chairman, was honored at the luncheon with Mrs. D. L. Darden of Borger.

Appearing on the junior concert program were Becky Long, Joy McCathern, Cynthia Coleman and Sharon White of Hereford and Beverly Lemons of Dawn. Junior Club delegates attended a Halloween concert by the Amarilo Symphony.

AWARD PRESENTED—Two members of the Music Study Club, Mrs. Dick Godwin and Mrs. A. O. Thompson, present an award from the National Federation of Music Clubs to Melvin Young, managing editor of the Hereford Brand, citing the newspaper for coverage of the 1964 convention of District I, Texas Federation of Music Clubs. Representatives of Music Study Club at the recent 1965 district convention in Amarillo received the certificate. Miss Carma Thomas was club editor of the Brand at the time the award was earned.

LAYMEN TO RUN SCHOOLS

VANCOUVER, B. C. (UPI) — Lay control of Roman Catholic parochial schools has been voted by an overwhelming majority in the 68 parishes of the Vancouver archdiocese.

Home Landscape Plans Studied In Garden Club

Practical advice on landscaping was given Garden Beautiful Club members on a program Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Ansel McDowell. Mrs. Jess Robinson was the speaker, who listed principles of design to be considered in planning the home yard.

Much of her material was from a Department of Agriculture bulletin, A Planning Guide for Home Landscaping, which offered step-by-step an outline for work toward an attractive yard.

Christmas party plans were discussed as Mrs. Will S. Kerr presided for business. Members agreed to bring gifts for migrant workers at the Labor Camp here rather than to exchange gifts. The party is set for Dec. 3, in Mrs. Charlie Noland's home.

The horticulture tip given for this month was a list of tender bulbs for winter house plants. The bulbs named are Amazon lily, glory lily, amaryllis, chincherichee and sprekelia, recommended for easy cultivation.

Mrs. E. W. Young was hostess with Mrs. McDowell. They served a frozen salad, snowball cakes and coffee to Mmes. Don Robinson, Roy Smith, W. J. Stanford, Leo Witkowski, Homer Newton, L. H. Lookingbill, Charles Hood, V. O. Hennen, Ray Burney, Kerr, Noland and the speaker.

Mrs. Kelly Is Hostess For Club

Use of Cosmetics was the program subject for Hereford Study Club at a meeting Thursday in the home of Mrs. Dillie Kelly, the second program concerning personal appearance and grooming. A previous meeting was devoted to hair styling demonstrations.

With Mrs. Baxter London as her model, Mrs. Emmett Harper demonstrated three steps in facial makeup.

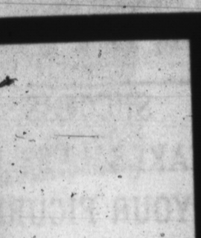

Mrs. London presided for business, which included voting Mrs. Jesse Odham to membership.

Others present were Mmes. R. N. Yarbro, J. W. Witherspoon, Ed Wilson Jr., Maurice Tannehill, Art Stoy, W. H. Gentry, Johnny Clark, T. E. Braddy and Labry Ballard.

A pair of shoes...and your mattress

Strange Combination?

Not when you stop to think you're in one – or on the other – twenty-four hours a day, day in and day out.

Both have to fit you correctly. Both have to be comfortable – give proper support.

We're not in the shoe business and can't tell you the best to buy. But when it comes to mattresses, we're experts. We always recommend the new Beautyrest made by Simmons. It's the one mattress that is made differently to sleep you like no other mattress can.

Here's what we mean.

Ordinary mattresses have about 300 wired-together springs that sag down together under weight. Push one down and the others sag down too. Beautyrest is different. Over 800 springs are not wired together. They are separate – independent. Push one down and the others aren't affected.

Since independent Beautyrest springs are separate and independent each adjusts to your weight and gives firm, body-fitting comfort. No sag – no curved spine. In a Beautyrest double bed there are "His" springs and "Her" springs – those in between are not affected. Result. Single bed comfort in a double bed. No sag – no rolling together.
Another comforting thought. Beautyrest lasts longer—outlasts other mattresses by 3 to 1 according to rigid tests by the Nationwide Consumer Testing Institute. Costs only a penny more per night than so called "Bargains" too.

We invite you to make a test for yourself. Just come in and lie down on a Beautyrest for a few seconds. If you don't think its the most blissfully comfortable mattress you've ever tried, we'll say no more.

Beautyrest, standard sizes, twin or double . . . $79.50
Beautyrest, Queen Size – 20% more sleeping space . . . $199.50 per set
Beautyrest, King Size – 54% more sleeping space . . . $299.50 per set

Annual Junior Red Cross Benefit Program Slated At Stanton School

Junior Red Cross activity, including the annual pay assembly program, occupies the attention of a number of Stanton Junior High students at present. The assembly, open to the public, is scheduled at 12:40 p. m. Wednesday.

Each of ten home rooms in the school will present a program number, Principal W. C. Quattlebaum announces. Mrs. Lottie Wertenberger, art teacher is faculty sponsor for the Junior Red Cross at Stanton.

Home rooms giving the program are those of Mmes. Carol Miller, Eleanor Hudspeth, Joel Hodges, Nancy Walker, Mildred Todd, Gladys Legg and Mary Griffin; Miss Flo Dickenson, Fred Mercer, Dalton Gill, Bob Kennemer and P. M. Miller.

Another current project is being conducted in a special education class in homemaking, taught by Mrs. Joe Smith. Girls in this class are making 50 bags of gaily-colored denim, which will be filled with small gifts and sent to children in Viet Nam as Christmas gifts.

Material for these Friendship Bags is supplied by the Red Cross and they will be filled by members of 4-H Clubs in the county. The project was arranged for the class by Mrs. Juston McBride, Red Cross representative to the school and Jerry Don George, assistant principal.

SUCCESS MAKES LESS OF YOUR FIGURE

If your figure is good but leaves just a little to be desired for a more trim tummy, hip or derriere line . . . then read on.. Fortuna, well known for their way with women's figures can solve your personal problem.

They've achieved SUCCESS . . . a panty and girdle but with a difference that's patented, because it smoothes every ounce . . . sleeks every bulge . . . makes you look thinner and holds you so comfortably in carefree and light Lycra spandex.

The secret is in artfully folded Lycra panels that form a complete ring of control in front and back, envelope you from hip to hip . . . and slenderize with double thigh panels.

Most girdles are made to fit the average figure . . . SUCCESS is made in 3 proportioned torso lengths that lets you custom select the precise torso length (waist-to-crotch dimension) for you.

No more rolling over because of too long a garment or so short that it doesn't reach you waistline . . . SUCCESS comes in your own torso proportion: SHORT, AVERAGE and LONG TORSO, each in sizes SMALL, MEDIUM, LARGE and EXTRA LARGE. You'll find SUCCESS in panty and girdle in our area at:

Band Prepares For UIL Marching Contest

Hereford High School Marching Band will compete Tuesday in the Region I University Interscholastic League Marching Contest in Buffalo Bowl in Canyon.

But before the contest, the band — under the direction of Ben Gollehon — will spend many an hour on the practice field in preparation for the contest.

Hereford will be seeking its fourth straight first division rating from contest judges. The band has earned the highest mark in marching ratings three years in a row — and has gone on to take first division ratings in sight reading and concert contests to earn the coveted Sweepstakes Trophy presented to bands which rate high in all three events.

Hereford will compete in class AA along with Canyon, Dunbar High of Lubbock, Levelland, Littlefield, Dumas, Perryton, Tulia, and Muleshoe.

Drum major for the band is Roger Suttle. Twirlers are Patti Roach (not shown) and Penni Jones.

We're newspaper people, with our ears to the ground and strength in our right hand.

For a long time it has been our job to meet the people of our area — in their homes, work, schools, churches, and in their civic and social activities. It has been our job to understand their needs and desires; to report their joys and sorrows.

Few know this area and its people better than we.

Many merchants look to this background of experience and understanding for assistance in reaching their audience most effectively. It is an unusually strong right hand to their merchandising efforts — an effective source for information and advice.

Public Speaking Group Launched

By ARGEN DRAPER
Home Demonstration Agent

The 4-H Public Speaking group started Thursday. Members who are eligible can begin now considering the contest sponsored by the electric cooperatives. The age is 16 and 17 for boys and girls. The cooperative awards two trips to a girl and boy. Maura McAndrews reports the trip is a very wonderful experience.

The American Legion Contest sounds exciting. I appreciate all opportunites given to help young people become better citizens.

• • •

A COMPLIMENT: Three different persons at three different times and places have commented on the many things there are for young people to take part in in Hereford. Those people are newcomers to the area. I appreciate them for appreciating the local effort made by many citizens to develop youth.

• • •

Some of us on the Family Economics Committee are real excited. The reason being that Hon. Wright Patman, U. S. Congressman, may be in Hereford for the open house at the Credit Union. Mr. Patman has always been a very strong advocate of thrift and wise money management.

• • •

WATCH FOR the pretty new flags at the Courthouse. I think November 11 is the proper day to begin using them.

• • •

Rhe candy making demonstrations at club seem to be popular. After November 15, the candy team will begin work on its demonstration.

So many club meeting dates are changed in November, I hope I don't miss a club. If club members assemble and I'm not there, give me a call at the office.

No more has been learned about the group from the neighboring county that plans to make a tour of Hereford industries. Our council committees are working on the tour and our groups will be ready when the date is set.

MRS. PAUL HOFF has made some very good grape jelly. She blended juice of Concord and Fredonia grapes. The combination makes a very interesting flavor. I have Mrs. Hoff's quick sweet pickle for the woman who requested it. Also, an inquiry for coloring in pickles. What I find is to add a "few" drops of food coloring. I would underline few as a little food coloring gives a lot of color. Pickes and relishes with vidid artifical coloring are not too appetizing in appearance.

WHO HAS the recipe for Glorified Rice? It is an old recipe and the woman who asked for it has misplaced her recipe. Please call the office if you have that particular recipe.

IN LOOKING for Glorified Rice, I found this recipe and tried it. It is different.

HAWAIIAN ALMOND-COCONUT RICE

Ingredients for 6 servings call for ¼ cup slivered almonds, ½ cup firmly packed coconut, 1 cup uncooked white rice, 2 cups water, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ cup margarine or butter, 1 cup chopped onions, and 2 hard-cooked chopped eggs.

To prepare, toast almonds and coconut separately in pre-heated 350 degrees F. oven, stirring occasionally until they are a golden brown. Put rice, water and salt in a 2-quart saucepan and bring to a vigorous boil. Turn heat as low as possible, cover and continue cooking for about 14 minutes.

While the rice is cooking, melt the butter or margarine in a saucepan, add onions and cook until they are tender and yellow. Stir in the almonds and coconut. Allow to heat until very hot.

After the rice has cooked, remove from heat, but leave in pan with lid on for about 10 minutes. Pour rice into a vegetable dish and top with onion - almond - coconut mixture. Sprinkle with chopped eggs.

GENE FOOKS

WE'VE ALL GOT A LOT TO LEARN

Many changes are taking place in the world of religion that were not even thought of five or ten years ago. It is too early to determine how these changes are going to affect chu ch going people. We still cannot determine how the present trend will affect the non-believers.

It seems to me, that one thing is definite, all believers in Christendom are realizing there is much more to be learned from on another, from the Bible, and in dealing with man-kind.

Since there is this great drive for some kind of unity and a better understanding, it seems that most of us are realizing that we can no longer afford the dubious luxury of a divided Christendom. United we stand; divided we fall. Christ said, "Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation". (Matt. 12:25). This means the kingdom of God, the church, as well as earthly kingdoms.

The forces of evil act on the theory, "Divide and conquer." These forces of envy, jealousy, bigtory, prejudice, etc. have divided believers. Percentage wise believers in Christ are getting fewer and weaker; while the enemies of Christianity such as Communism, immorality and false doctrines are increasing in number and growing stronger. Thes things, and people sympathetic to these things are creeping into and polluting the church.

Believers have learned through painful centuries of division, that we cannot successfully combat the forces of evil arrayed against us. It is time for us to admit our mistakes of the past, and (if we are not too proud) repent.

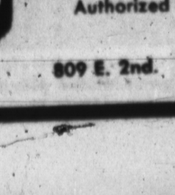

We can unite by humbly coming together as God directs in His Holy Scriptures. When Christ and the Apostles united the believers into one body in the beginning of the Christian era, they started with common people at the grass-roots level.

Christ our Savior praved for unity among believers, (John 17:20-23); Paul the Apostle pled for unity, (I Cor. 1:10); He also gave believers a divine plan for unity, (Eph. 4:1-7).

WHITEFACES CHALK UP 44-20 WIN

By DAVID BUTLER
Sports Editor

The Hereford Whitefaces put together six long drives down the gridiron Friday to win their second conference game of the season, scoring more points against the Muleshoe Mules than any other opponent this season.

Approximately 3,000 persons in Whiteface Stadium watched the two teams as they ground out yardage inch by inch with a minmum of passing in the game.

Only one long run occurred in the game, when Mule Joe Adams returned a Hereford kickoff 80 yards to paydirt.

In the first quarter, Hereford ran into the brick wall defense of the Mules and found that every inch gained took an effort.

But the 'Faces did manage to grind out 311 yards in the game, while the sharp Hereford defense held the mules to 136 yards on the ground.

THE MULES did all their playing on the ground during the first half not attempting any passes at all.

Hereford's passing was off slightly from what it has been with the team completing only 5 of 15.

The Whitefaces more thaft doubled the Mules in first downs driving for 21 while holding Muleshoe to 10.

HEREFORD controlled the ball game completely and never let the Mules ahead at any time, although in the first quarter it looked as if the Mules might tie the score, but their conversion attempt was stopped short by the brilliant Hereford defense.

Hereford scored on its second time to handle the ball in the game.

The touchdown drive started at Hereford's 46 with Gary Tucker driving to the 50.

Muleshoe jumped off sides giving the Herd a five yard gain.

A PASS to Greg Richards was incomplete, then Tucker took a handoff from Hodges and drove through the middle to the 40.

Hodges faded back on the next play and hurled a pass to Owen, taking the Whitefaces to the 34-yardline.

THREE PLAYS later Hodges, on the quarterback keeper, plunged to paydirt from the six.

A pass to Owen was complete for the conversion points with 4:22 remaining in the first quarter.

JOE ADAMS took Richards' kick and dodged tacklers as he plunged 80 yards down the field to tally for the first time of the evening for the Mules.

John Thompson kicked a successful extra point, but the play was called because of a penalty against the Mules for holding. Thompson attempted the kick a second time — after the Mules had been penalized 15 yards — and it was good bringing the Mules within one point of the Herd.

TUCKER scored again with 1:58 remaining in the first stanza of the game when he drove through the middle for six yards to climax the Herd's second drive of the night. A conversion attempt to Owen was unsuccessful.

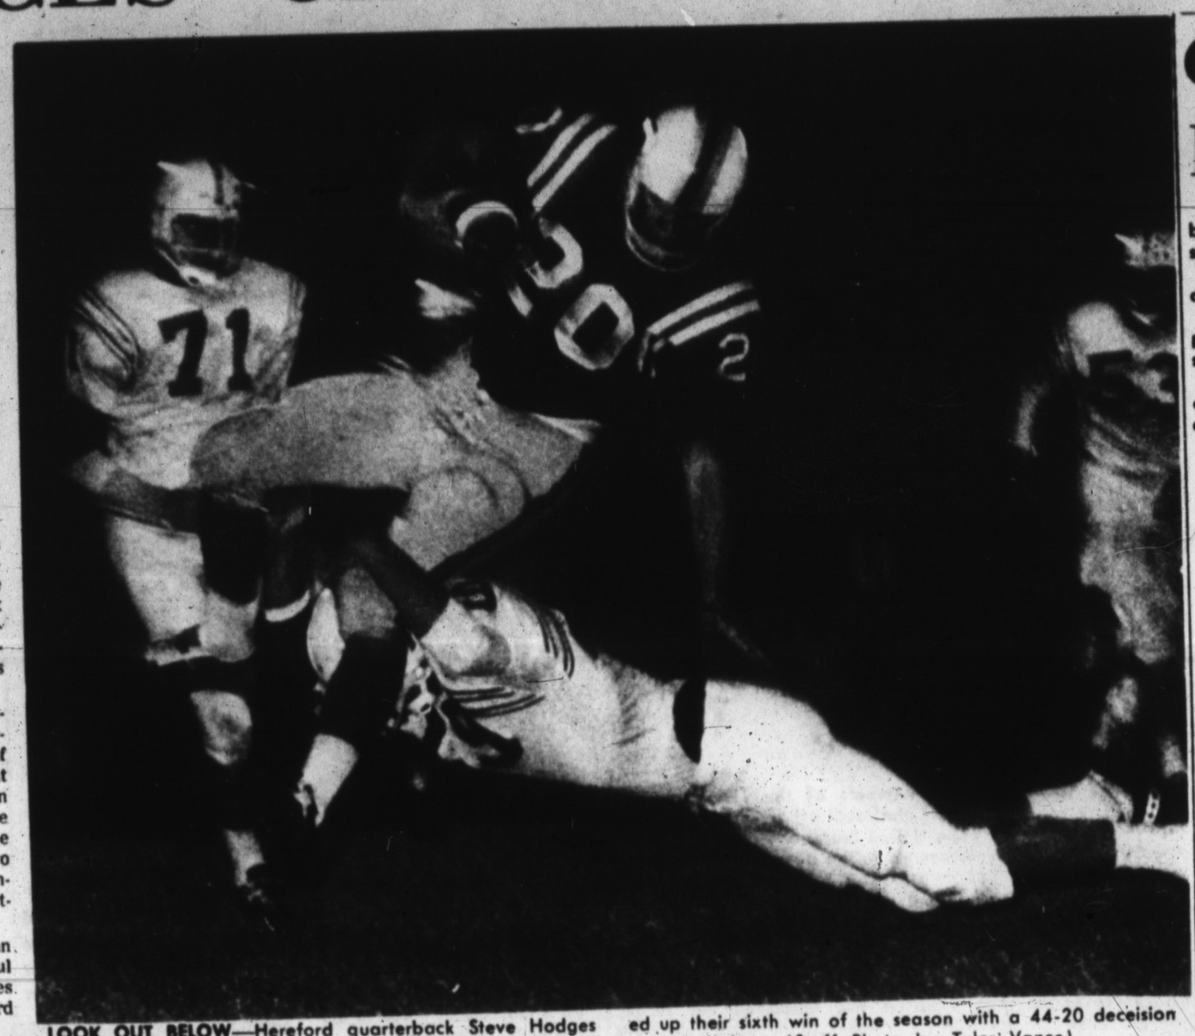

Once again the Mules threatened the Herd when they scored in the first few minutes of the second quarter. Ronnie Swint plowed two yards to paydirt on a fourth down attempt. The Whitefaces successfully held the Mules on the two for two plays, but the Mule offense finally broke through on a last-ditch attempt.

A conversion attempt by Johnny Embry was unsuccessful once again, putting the Mules only one point behind the Herd at 14-13.

AN IMPRESSIVE play by the Whitefaces soon added another tally to the board for insurance and the 'Faces defense never let the Mules threaten on the scoreboard again during the rest of the game.

With 5:02 remaining in the first half, Gene Drummond ran around the left end to paydirt and a conversion pass from Hodges to Owen gave the Herd a 22-13 advantage.

Four plays later the Mules were forced to punt and the Whitefaces began another touchdown drive which ended up with Greg Richards plunging four yards for the final tally of the first half. A kick by Hodges was good giving the Herd a halftime 29-13 advantage.

Drummond drove from the one for the tally and a kick by Richards was successful for the extra point.

The Mules took the ball, made a first down and started what looked like it might be a successful TD drive but on the third play the Mules fumbled the ball with Hodges recovering for the Whitefaces.

TUCKER took the ball for a seven yard gain, but on the next play Muleshoe's Adams jumped up and intercepted a pass from Hodges intended for Owen on the Hereford 27.

Six plays later Swint drove through the Whiteface defense from the six for the final Mule score of the evening. Extra point kick by Thompson was successful, making the score 36-20.

With :05 remaining in the game, Gary Victor plunged through the Mule line from the two for the final tally for the Whitefaces. A pass from Owen to Tucker was good for the extra points, winding up the scoring at 44-20.

Muleshoe's Billy Darnell returned the Whiteface kick as the final gun went off.

Next week the Whitefaces travel to Tulia for a clash with the tough Hornets for their fourth district game of the season.

Friday's win gave the Herd a 6-1-1 season record and the Mules a 4-4 record. In loop play, Hereford stands 2-0-1, leaving the Whitefaces in contention for the district title.

Football Mothers To Meet Monday

The mothers will discuss a football banquet for members of the high school teams.

Bees Collect 22-0 Victory Over Mules

Another victory was chalked up by the Hereford B-team Saturday morning, the final score being 22-0 over the Muleshoe Mules.

Sid Shaw and Lenney Petree led the offensive attack with Shaw completing nine of 17 passes.

In the second quarter, Sid passed to Petree for the first T. D. from four yards out. Then he passed to Benny Leigh for the extra points.

Also in the second quarter, Ron Henderson got lose for a 56-yard run. Shaw then carried from the one yard line to score, afterwards passing to Petree for the two point conversion.

In the third quarter, Shaw passed to Petree from 17 yards for the third touchdown.

The statistics looked like this:

	Hereford	Muleshoe
First Downs	16	13
Rushing	199	171
Passing	133	0

Freshmen Take 14-8 Win Over Muleshoe Mules

The Hereford Freshman team romped over Muleshoe Saturday morning by a score of 14-8.

In the first quarter, Jim Scott latched on to a 24-yard pass from Bill Cole. This added to the fighting sprit of the Herd, and in the second quarter, Ollie Williams scored on a 46-yard-run. This brought the score to 14-0.

In the fourth quarter, however, the Mules managed to score on a 27-yard-run, and add two extra points, bringing the final score to 14-8, in favor of the Herd.

Hereford had five first downs to 10 for the Mules. The Mules also led in yards rushing with 152 for Muleshoe and 128 for Hereford. In passing yards, Hereford's main offense, the Herd had 40 to Muleshoe's 6.

'SEMITIC' IS SEMANTIC

NEW YORK (AP) — The terms "Semitic" and "Semite" refer to language, not race, Dr. Marvin Pope, Yale University Old Testament scholar, pointed out in a lecture here. He said: "The term 'anti-Semitism' was conceived in ignorance and bigotry and lives on in confusion."

Cagers Begin Light Practice Sessions

"We're not working hard now," said Hereford Basketball coach, Cuby Kitchens, "we are just trying to stay in shape in preparation for the coming season."

Kitchens said he has about nine returning seniors and a large number of juniors on this year's team.

HE SAID some of the men for the varsity team will be playing football at least til Nov. 19 and it will be hard to start before then.

Hereford has a 23 game-schedule beginning No. 23 and ending Feb. 15 with B-team games beginning at 6:15 p.m. and the varsity games at 8 p.m.

Two Hereford Students Appear In WT Opera

Two Hereford students at West Texas State University will appear in the operatic selections to be presented by the Opera Workshop in the Branding Iron Theatre Thursday and Friday. Curtain time is 8:15 p. m.

APPEARING in the farcical "Gallantry," by Douglas Moore is Mrs. Allan Cansler of Canyon, formerly Joe Ella McGee of Hereford.

Sung in English, the best-known ensembles from "The Marriage of Figaro," "Don Giovanni," "Fidelio," and "Faust" have been chosen for the production, said Royal Brantley, director of the Opera Workshop.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Betzen of Hereford, Betzen, senior music major, is active in Phi Mu Alpha, music fraternity, and Alpha Psi Omega, dramatics fraternity.

A sophomore music major, Mrs. Cansler is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McGee, 426 Star.

PLEASANT TASK—Paul Lerwald, a route carrier for the Hereford Brand, looks forward to the first of the month—that's when he gets to greet his 106 customers in person. Usually, in the early morning when he delivers papers twice a week, he sees nobody except an occassional dog or two. He is shown visiting in the late afternoon with Mrs. Louis Woodford, 216 Star St., as he collects subscription fees. (Staff Photo by Tyler Vance.)

Friend's Broken Leg Gave Start To Paul For Paper Route Work

"So you want to be a paperboy?"

These were the words put to Paul Loerwald of 224 Star St. when he applied for a paper route six months ago.

Paul replied that he sure 'nough did want to get into business for himself with a paper route. . .he had had a taste of it some months before when a friend broke his leg on a skiing trip and Paul handled his route for him while the cast kept his buddy confined.

AFTER THAT, Paul had considered the opportunities available for a young man and decided he would try his hand at operating a paper route.

Now — after six months of early-morning duty while serving his customers — Paul says he is glad he took the job, which at first seemed a little tough.

He has 106 customers.

SOMETIMES when Paul is running late, like on Thursday mornings before school, his brother Dave lends a hand in helping to roll the Brands. Paul says Dave's aid has not only helped him. . .but now Dave is thinking of following in the footsteps of his brother and become a carrier someday.

During the summer, Paul — who is 13—gets plenty of practice for throwing papers. He played on the Little League. . . as a pitcher.

Paul says he really enjoys his work, and plans to stay on as a paperboy for quite a spell.

Hereford Youth Club Holds Meet

Hereford Youth Club, meeting in the Arts and Crafts Room of Community Center, planned at a recent session to participate in a style show to be sponsored by St. Anthony's Catholic Church the evening of Nov. 11. The show will be held in St. Anthony's auditorium.

Jerry Ross, president, conducted the meeting and Mrs. Wesly High, program chairman, led the discussion.

Flag Dedication Event Planned By AL Auxiliary

Dedication ceremonies for the new flag to be raised at Hereford Community Center at 11 a. m. on Veterans Day, Nov. 11, were announced at a recent meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, which purchased the flag and pole.

A brief ceremony will dedicate the gift to the memory of men who died in U. S. military service. It is open to the public, and veterans and their families are especially invited.

Date of the Auxiliary's Thanksgiving dinner was announced as Nov. 16. Mrs. Ira Ott asked that members bring gifts for the gift shop at the Amarillo VA Hospital to this dinner.

Report of Mrs. Bill Gilleland, president, on the fall convention of Legion and Auxiliary groups of the 18th district, held at Dumas, featured the program. Mrs. Grant Hanna of Hereford, district Auxiliary president, conducted a convention workshop on leadership which she defined as enlisting the aid of an entire group to work together to accomplish goals.

Flag etiquet was another point stressed in the workshop, Mrs. Gilleland said, and Mrs. Hanna reviewed duties of Auxiliary officers and urged members to a act as "salesmen" for Auxiliary programs. Mrs. Hanna also presided for business sessions and introduced the special guest, Mrs. John Lakeman of El Paso whose keynote address was on the subject, Peace.

A dinner, tea, memorial service and church attendance were also included in the convention schedule, Mrs. Gilleland reported.

Mrs. Ott, whose two-year term as president ended in September, was presented a past-president's pin by Mrs. Cecil Wilkins. Mrs. Hazel Sparks, Americanism chairman, read an article suggesting aid which members can give to war victims in Viet Nam.

Mmes. F. S. Smith and Mabel Wagger, hostesses, served coffee and cake to ten members and Lisa Williamson, junior member.

L'Allegra Observes Birthday

TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY of L'Allegra Study Club was marked with a tea honoring charter members and past presidents Thursday afternoon in the Ansel McDowell home. Hostesses were Mrs. Jim McDowell, Mrs. W.C. Russell and Mrs. Alex Schroeter and the program was a book review by a guest, Mrs. Clint Formby. Autumn flowers decorated handsome rooms of the McDowell home. The table, its silver appointments sparkling under a crystal chandelier, had a low arrangement of white mums as a center piece.

FIRST PRESIDENT of L'Alleara and the only charter member still active in the club, Mrs. Walter London in the picture at upper right pours coffee for two former presidents, Mrs. John D. Pitman and Mrs. Bill Dameron, as guests moved into the formal dining room from the family room where the program was heard.

INFORMAL TALK was a pleasant part of the tea hour, typified by the meeting of Mrs. James Higgins, a former club president, and one of the hostesses, Mrs. W.C. Russell, as pictured at lower left. In addition to approximately 30 members and former members, Mrs. Ronald Zimmerman and Mrs. Ansel McDowell were guests.

PROGRAM GUEST, Mrs. Clint Formby, discusses with Mrs. Schroeter, program chairman, the biography of Catherine the Great which she reviewed in entertaing style. Mrs. Formby is seated, center right, on the raised hearth of the family room fireplace.

SCRAPBOOKS which preserve club history were on display to spur reminiscences by long-time members and inform newer ones. One of the volumes is inspected by Mrs. Joe Easley, immediate past president, left, and Mrs. Hilton Higgins, one of her predecessors in the office, in the picture at lower right.

Vows Exchanged In Home Setting

Double ring wedding vows were exchanged in a Tulia home Friday evening by Miss Patricia Ann Chandler and Donald Gene Elliott. Formerly of Hereford, the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Turner, Route 1.

The ceremony was conducted by Earl Cantwell, pastor of Rock Creek Church of Christ, in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Edgar M. Workman, and Mr. Workmen. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Chandler of Tulia.

Mrs. Workman attended her sister as matron of honor and Carroll Elliott of Hereford was his brother's best man. The wedding party stood before an arch of greenery decorated with white pompom mums and yellow satin bows, and flanked by candelabra holding white tapers.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Chandler was wearing a winter white wool suit. The skirt was straight lined and a jacket with Peter Pan collar opened over a matching shell. Her hat was of winter white velvet and mink with whimsey veil and her corsage of the white mums.

Mrs. Workman also wore a wool knit suit in shades of caramel and beige with brown accessories and white mum corsage.

A reception in the Workman home followed the ceremony. Miss Kathie Chandler, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Carroll Elliott served frosted punch and the three-tiered wedding cake which was ornamented with yellow sugar roses.

The table was covered with white linen and centered with a bouquet of autumn flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott left on a trip to Carlsbad Cavern and will be at home at 418 NW Third in Tulia.

She is an employee of Swisher County ASCS office, a former student at West Texas State University after graduation from Tulia High School. Elliott, with the Tulia Police Department, was graduated from Hereford High School.

Really like to Score?

First you have to know the score . . . how to hit pay-dirt when a tough line has you in a hole. Like a lineup of bills. They can keep your budget so off-balance you're forever playing patsy in your own end zone. Best way to score in this pickle is to call in a specialist from S.I.C. He may break the game wide open with a Bill Consolidation Loan. It's a play that may pay off all of your bills and leave you with just one much smaller payment each month. Might even let you have a reserve amount riding the bench. Pretty hard not to score with S.I.C. cheering you on.

—Small Talk—

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Speaking of clothes, and aren't women always doing that? — some droppers-in at our office this week have been dressed smartly enough for style show appearance.

Mrs. Dick Godwin was wearing a beige suit with the jacket actually a trickily-cut cape. Linda Kids' costume, a knit in cafe-au-lait shade, was set off with an unusual purse, a varicolored square of nubby material that looks like it was intended for a carpet but was happy as a purse.

And Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr., who always is becomingly dressed and so perfectly groomed she has that band-box look. She must be about the busiest woman in town, too.

CLOTHES, continued with observations about some at recent club events: The three women at the head table of the B&PW Club dinner Monday all dressed in flag blue; wonder if it was by pre-arrangement? At any rate it was quite effective against the red background of the Caison House dining room.

WHEN SHE presided for her final session as president of the Women's Golf Association, Mrs. Jim Easley was wearing a striking blouse with horizontal stripes in gay shades, and bright pink pants.

"What color is that?" someone inquired.

"It's not any color", Mrs. Easly said casually and then as the questioner looked pointedly at the glowing pink, "I mean it didn't have a name listed!". They decided maybe it was shocking pink, at least.

AT L'ALLEGRA Club's guest tea Thursday afternoon, pretty women in prety costumes made attractive pictures in the pretty rooms of the Ansel McDowell home. In one of the new greens of the fall, this one with a mustard tinge, Mrs. James had a small feather hat shading into greens and browns set on her blonde hair.

Mrs. McDowell, who had loaned her home to her daughter-in-law and friends for the party, was attractive in a simply-cut mink-collared dress but was unhappy about a sting in her eyes.

"I knew I shouldn't have gone back into the yard where the chrysanthemums are in bloom," she admitted, "knowing perfectly well I'm allergic to them."

FRIDAY started off as a red-letter day for a society editor. Five club meetings Thursday, five club reports on the desk by 10:30 a. m. Friday.

Mary Stoy of Hereford Study Club and Mrs. Paul Hoff of North Hereford Home Demonstration Club phoned in their reports; Mrs. Mack Noland of Summerfield Club and Mrs. D. H. Alexander of Bay View Club brought in nice, complete notes.

The fifth meeting was L'Allegra Club's, covered in person with plenty of hostess committee help.

Repeating my constant reminder to club reporters, it's not how you get it here, it's when —the sooner the better.

KITT AS "PUSSYCAT"

NEW YORK (AP) — Russell Nype, former musical comedy leading man, teams wth Eartha Kitt in a 25-city tour with "The Owl and the Pussycat."

On the swing, slated to begin in September, the pair will play the roles created by Alan Alda and Diana Sands on Broadway.

Members Speak On Club Topic

Two members presented the program on Mental Health for Summerfield Study Club Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. R. B. Baker. Mrs. Earl Lance was co-hostess. The speakers were Mrs. Thurman Atchley and Mrs. J. C. Clearman.

Mrs. Atchley discussed New Hope for Mental Health, saying that prospects for the mental patient today are better than at any time in the past. There is still a long way to go, she added, and cooperation is necessary for the research and education which must be carried on.

She gave the classification made by psychiatrists of the mentally ill as neurotics and psychotics, explaining the meaning of the terms and noting that such illness may strike anyone, anywhere, anytime.

Reviewing a magazine article by Robert O'Brien, The Challenge of Confident Living, Mrs. Clearman stressed that self-confidence enables a person to be wiser and happier, and to progress toward the deepest kind of confidence.

Capable persons are held back by lack of self-confidence, she said, and suggested that it may be acquired by heeding admonitions to "know thyself, accept others, accept life."

Mrs. R. E. Lance Jr., club president who attended the recent Top of Texas District board workshop at Spearman, reported on its program which had the theme, Facets of Opportunity in Federation.

A project undertaken by the club as a member of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, contribution by each member of "four quarters for headquarters" was completed. Summerfield Club achieved 100 percent contribution in this project to support the TFWC headquarters building at Austin.

Mrs. Charles Riley of Dodge City, Kan., was a guest. Other members present to answer roll call with notes on current medical progress were Mmes. Lee Curry, George DeLozier, J. R. Euler, Ray Johnson, L. H. Lookingbill, Mack Noland and Guy Walser.

MODERN 'VALPONE'

LONDON (AP) — Academy Award winner Rex Harrison will start work soon in Rome on "The Tale of the Fox," a modern version of "Valpone." His costars will be Cappucine, Anne Bancroft and Maggie Smith.

Before Europeans arrived, Mohican Indians knew Ellis Island as Gull Island. In the 17th and 18th centruies, it was variously called Oyster Island, for the surrounding rich oysterbeds; Dyre Island, for a former mayor of New York who owned it; and Gibbet Island, after the hanging there for a notorious pirate.

BRAVO!

EVERYTHING YOU EXPECT FROM A CIGARETTE EXCEPT NICOTINE

Now you don't have to give up smoking to give up nicotine.

New Bravo is a no-nicotine smoke.

It gives you everything you expect from a filter cigarette.
The taste, the flavor, the satisfaction of a truly fine smoke.

Bravo is guaranteed 100% nicotine-free.

Since 1936, scientists have searched for a "safer smoke." The Surgeon General's Report asked for it.
Now, at last, you can have it. Modern technology has found a way to convert the outer leaf of the lactuca sativa — a pure, wholesome variety of the lettuce family — into a fine smoking product that gives you everything you expect from a good smoke...except nicotine, and its harmful effects.

This new process is so revolutionary it has been awarded U.S. Patent #3,106,209.

If you've been looking for a safer smoke, a more enjoyable smoke, or if you've wanted to give up tobacco but can't give up smoking — try a pack of Bravo.

Discover how refreshing a smoke can be, without nicotine.

Then ask yourself: if the first cigarette had been made this way, would there ever have been any other kind?

CALLED GLAMOR JOB

Dress Designing Career Is Based On Hard Work

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Dress designing, classed as a "glamor career" is the goal of many girls with a flair for style, who picture themselves in plush studios, sketching creations which will soon be sold in smart shops everywhere.

THERE's MORE to it than that, says Lucy Funk, designer for Hereford's Dolly Textiles Inc., whose creations for small girls sell widely in stores including two of the national chains.

Some girls wonder how to start a career of designing; Mrs. Funk's began when she designed a contour diaper. Next she thought of cute pinafores which proved popular, and finally worked on dresses.

As a background for this work, which was done for a family-owned manufacturing firm in Water Springs, a suburb of Kansas City, Mrs. Funk had a quarter century of experience in operation of a dry goods store, which gave her a first-hand knowledge of what customers want.

BEFORE she really began designing dresses, she attended a school of designing and pattern-making in Kansas City going to classes four days a week for two years. All this training and experience taught her what the professional designer must know — how to design for a price bracket.

"It would be a pleasure to simply dream up a style and plan materials to make it", she says, "but if your dress costs $20 to produce it would be of little value for a customer who wants a dress to sell for $5.95".

While Mrs. Funk works, her second floor-front office in the Dolly Textiles plant at 148 N. Main is cluttered with bolts of material, samples of trimmings, heavy-paper basic patterns in all sizes, dresses in various stages of completion, cost charts and sheets for figuring each step of construction and its cost.

THIS PAPERWORK is as vital a part of her job as ideas for dress styles. All of it "come naturally" for silver-haired, blue-eyed Mrs. Funk now, after years of work. She over sees construction of the Dolly Textile dresses as well as creating the styles.

When the plant was established here she came from a similar job in Las Vegas, Nev., where she had moved from Kansas.

A native of Iowa, she was born at Clinton, on the Mississippi River, and attended schools there. Her father was a railroad conductor and she was the only girl in a family with six brothers. Her job career began when she was 14 years old, working Saturdays in a five-and-ten store.

"That was when you did a day's work, had your wages, a dollar, handed to you by the cashier at the end of the day, then had to spend a nickel of it for carfare home", she laughs.

BY THE TIME she was a high school senior she was working half days as cashier in a department store, but managed to graduate in the top half of her class. She had two years in college at Cedar Falls, Iowa before her marriage in 1925.

With her husband, she moved to Kansas that summer and they began operation of the dry goods store. Their only child, a son, Bill Weber, grew up during that time and joined his parents in the family business, working with his mother after his father's death.

The son, who died in 1963, had five children of whom Mrs. Funk is as proud as most grandmothers.

Her oldest granddaughter, Lucy Jane, has made her home with Mrs. Funk for two years and is a student in an Amarillo beauty school at present. The other children, Dick, Vicky, Robbie and Barbara, range in age from 16 to 11 years old and live with their mother in Kansas City.

MARRIED to Joe Funk in 1957 at Hillsboro, Kan., Mrs. Funk likes living on the Texas plains as well as in the Midwest. A salesman for a number of years, Funk now travels for Dolly Textiles with a territory covering six states.

The couple has bought a home here at 1606 Blevins and Mrs. Funk works in her yard as relaxation from her confining job. Her work is demanding but she "just likes to make dresses for little girls".

She keeps looking ahead to new tasks; the plant here began making dresses for girls in 7-12 sizes with the 1965 back-to-school line, and she is working now on designs for women's tea aprons.

New materials give her changing goals, too. Now she is designing dresses of specially treated fabric, to be completed, pressed, put on hangers and then baked at 400 degree temperature for five minutes to make them completely wrinkle-free with no-iron and permanent-pleat qualities.

"Not too many years ago we sold mothers material to make girls' dresses", Mrs. Funk reminisces, "then they bought dresses because they didn't want to sew; not they want material they won't have to iron".

While new materials call for new designs, Mrs. Funk finds new interest in her "glamor career".

SIX YEARS OLD—David Walterscheid celebrated his sixth birthday Thursday when he went with Phyllis Kaliche, Michelle and Brent Walterscheid; his mother, Mrs. Kenneth Walterscheid, and Mrs. W. Kalich to appear on a TV children's program in Amarillo, then returned for a snack supper topped with birthday cake and ice cream. The trip followed a party in the Harold Hersley home for David and a group of his friends.

Living High On The Hog

People are always asking why Hereford and Deaf Smith County have jumped out so far ahead in the realm of growth. At long last, we have a simple answer, It's that "filthy lucre" or, if you choose to be more dignified, sum it up as "prosperity".

Figures released in New York last week showed that Deaf Smith County folks spent $36,165,000 during 1964, which is way, way above the average spent by people in other parts of these United States. Specifically, with only .0083 percent of the national population, we spent within the county .0090 percent of the national income—and this doesen't count what we splurged in other parts of the country.

Now that we have established ourselves as prolific spenders, let's take a look at how we stack up with the remainder of the free world which, incidentally, is tremendously far ahead of the Communist dominated countries. The United States has 6 percent of the world's population and 7 percent of its land area, but we produce and consume more than 40 percent of the free world's goods and services.

All of which says that residents of Deaf Smith County, as high income spenders in this nation, are truly living "High on the hog".

In addition to the money spent for retail purchases and services, it is important to note that bank deposits and savings were last month reported at an all-time high within the county. This emphasizes the fact that our particular community is one of the foremost per-capita income areas in the world, making the fact that we are heavy buyers the by-products of a fortunate situation.

Besides, we doubt if the "Little Woman" or, for that matter, even the youngsters would agree that we are a population of spendthrifts. In fact, this is the very best place to get the other side of the story. In Hereford as elsewhere in the nation, the wives invariably "have nothing fit to wear"; most of us find it hard to pay our monthly bills, meet car and house obligations, or put away "a few bucks for a rainy day". Like our spendable income, our per capita bank and institution loans are also probably well above the average, chiefly because the higher income makes our credit better.

When we do look around, we can easily spot more and more two-car families, and so often the number extends to three and four automobiles per household; our population is well dressed, cosmopolitan and widely traveled, blessed with an abundance of college educations and, proud of it or not, we rank away, way up there when it comes to paying income taxes.

Anyway, with Thanksgiving just around the corner, these things should give us something to think about.

Panhandle Will Be Prime Target

With preliminary studies underway in regard to possible location of a $300-million atom smasher on the air base site in Amarillo, announcements in Canyon this week pointed out this is one of 33 areas still in the running, and that prospects for the location on the Panhandle is a definite potential.

Primarily because the movement has had very little publicity or even much push in the Amarillo territory, we doubt if very many people have stopped to ponder over what the location would mean. To begin with, it would affect the entire territory with a heavy emphasis on Amarillo, Canyon and Panhandle, along with intermediate points. West Texas State University would emerge as one of the leading schools in the nation, due to the staff of nuclear physicists which the project would attract. Some 3,000 families would be moved into the Panhandle as a result of the project, and the disbursement of $300 million would, within itself, be quite an item, followed by an operational budget which should rival that of pretty well any other industry in the area.

In addition to present facilities at the air base, including long jet runways, flat terrain, climate and several other factors indicate that the Panhandle would, indeed, provide a practical and worthwhile location.

Another item, perhaps not so pleasant to anticipate, is the possibilty of World War III. Should this struggle materialize, location of the atom plant in the Panhandle would make the area one of the prime world targets. Without doubt, it would draw the first or second hydrogen bomb to fall in the nation. Even this factor, however, is an argument for the location, due to the fact that it is well inland and would be difficult to reach without setting off our alarm system well in advance of any strike.

All of these things, added together, possibly present some of the reasons that so little has been heard of the project. There are arguments on both sides, of course, but so long as the chances are still one-out-of-33, there is no need to get excited at this point.

Better Kids?

In spite of all the propaganda we hear about juveniles, the passing of Halloween 1965 finds youngsters in this community with an enviable record.

A minimum of damage, none serious, was reported here. The annual "trick and treaters" pretty well ranged down to the small fry, all of whom appeared unusually well behaved. This, in constrast with previous years, means that much was saved in the form of property damage which often has run into sizeable amounts back when Hereford was much smaller. In addition, a total of $1,500 was collected through the CROP drive, proceeds of which are used to benefit needy families overseas.

All in all, it seems to us that we have a mighty fine bunch of youngsters—and they seem to be getting better as the years pass.

Fidel Generous?

Fidel Castro's surprising generosity toward his would-be refugees is explained usually in terms of Red Cuba's worsening economic plight.

It's noted that the Cubans now joining exiled relatives in the United States are mostly freedom-loving irreconcilables who never would have fitted into Castro's mold anyway and their departure leaves him with fewer mouths to feed.

But more significantly, it's suggested that the suddenly authorized exodus may be a gambit intended to draw the United States government into direct negotations with Castro and thus afford him an opportunity for introducing other subjects such as a possible resumption of business and diplomatic ties with this country.

This, of course, would promise eventually to rehabilitate his creaky economy, give him back his sugar quotas, restore his vanished tourist trade and in general lead him out of the economic wilderness he entered when he expropriated United States business properties and disclosed finally that he was a dedicated Marxist and always had been one.

Americans familiar with the state department's almost infinite capacity for turning the other cheek will hope it doesen't succumb again in this instance. Relevant certainly is a bromide favored by the late

It HAS Been A Good Year

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

First Session Of 89th Congress Out With Bang

The 1st Session of the 89th Congress is over, and it went out with a bang for Texans. A strong, determined and vocal "educational campaign" mounted by a bipartisan group of Senators saved our state's Right to-Work law from unwise, untimely repeal.

Indeed, on the final, crucial vote 50 Senators supported the position taken by a majority of Texans — that states should retain the right to decide whether or not to have Right-to-Work laws.

IT WAS my privilege to be a Team Captain for the extended debate and to present the views of Texas. Thousands of Texans wrote to me in support of our state's position; and scores of individuals, groups and newspaper editorialists provided debate material that was particularly helpful.

In the event the Administration chooses to challenge again next year the laws of our state and the majority will of Texans, I will once again devote all my energies and time to yet another campaign to preserve the right to work. I believe that is what Texans want their Senator to do. And, I will do it.

It was quite an amazing session for Congress, as we look back on it. More significant laws were made than perhaps ever before in a single year. Many changes were programmed for the American way of life.

SOME persons have called this year's legislation the result of a "do-anything" Congress, and in many ways this is an apt description. In several instances the Congress rushed through massive spending programs without accepting con structions amendments. Even the Majority Leader has acknowledged that a lot of "perfecting" will have to be done next year on the laws unwisely hurried through this year.

We have ventured into the unknown field of Federal Medicine; into the clouded realm of rent subsidies for families earning $10,000; into the quagmire of increased "poverty" funding at a time when funds already provided have yet to seep down to the poor.

A TIME OF TESTING

It is relatively easy for a President blessed with a two-thirds majority in Congress to get through a great volume of law. The time of testing comes when the new projects are administered. We already have an inkling of what the record will be. Confusion, waste and political exploitation in the poverty program have been widespread and disgusting. I think it is past time to take the bureaucratic profit out of "poverty."

PREPARATIONS for Federal Medicare are meeting serious problems. And the new program of federal aid to elementary education finds great overlapping with state and local efforts. Already one city (Chicago) has been denied taxpayer education funds because it refused to administer a federal "social-adjustment" test to third graders a day—long test asking questions such as "Who is now a father to you?" Only last-minute pressures saved Chicago schools from a federally dictated financial crisis.

The 1966 cars, at least some of them, are longer and wider than ever before. This leads us to conclude that Detroit is edging nearer its ultimate goal, the two-garage car.

As everyone must know, this nation has gone a long way toward what is called a welfare state. But it's a safe bet that few realize how fast the trip has been. It's an equally safe bet—human memory being short—that equally few realize how enormously the costs have escalated.

What has happened to the federal budget?

The answer is that the course of events have taken much of the meaning out of past estimates—including the $99.7 billion budget submitted to Congress last January to provide for the current fiscal year. Actual spending is running much above that figure.

Labor Secretary Willard Writz has recently permitted a second group of braceros to enter the U.S. to help with the harvesting of fruits and vegetables. Yet we've heard no admission from him of error in his previous statements that no "foreign" labor was necessary because there are plenty of able and willing U.S. citizens to do this kind of work.

"What have you there, Betsy?" asked the minister when he met the little girl on the street.

"A dime to buy an ice cream soda.," was the happy reply.

"But why don't you contribute the dime to the mission?" suggested the minister.

"I thought of that," admitted Besty, "but I decided to buy the ice cream and let the drug store man get the credit for giving it."

Wisdom is knowing the ideal point between two extremes. Wisdom is knowing how far we can go before getting into trouble fiscally.

On the outskirts of a-near-by city a church group of less than a hundred members built a church seating more than a thousand. As might be expected, they overbuilt, defaulted on their payments, had to get out, and finally moved back in. Not long ago, the building was heavily damaged by fire.

Somebody had faulty judgement.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's noe: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm shies away from a new idea in farming.

Dear editar:

I was out here looking this bindweed farm over yesterday afternoon without really planning on doing anything about it, I guess the reason some people don't get ahead is that they don't know they're behind, and for no reason at all I kicked a brush pile and a copy of a farm magazine fell out, which I took home and read that night. At first I thought it was a rabbit.

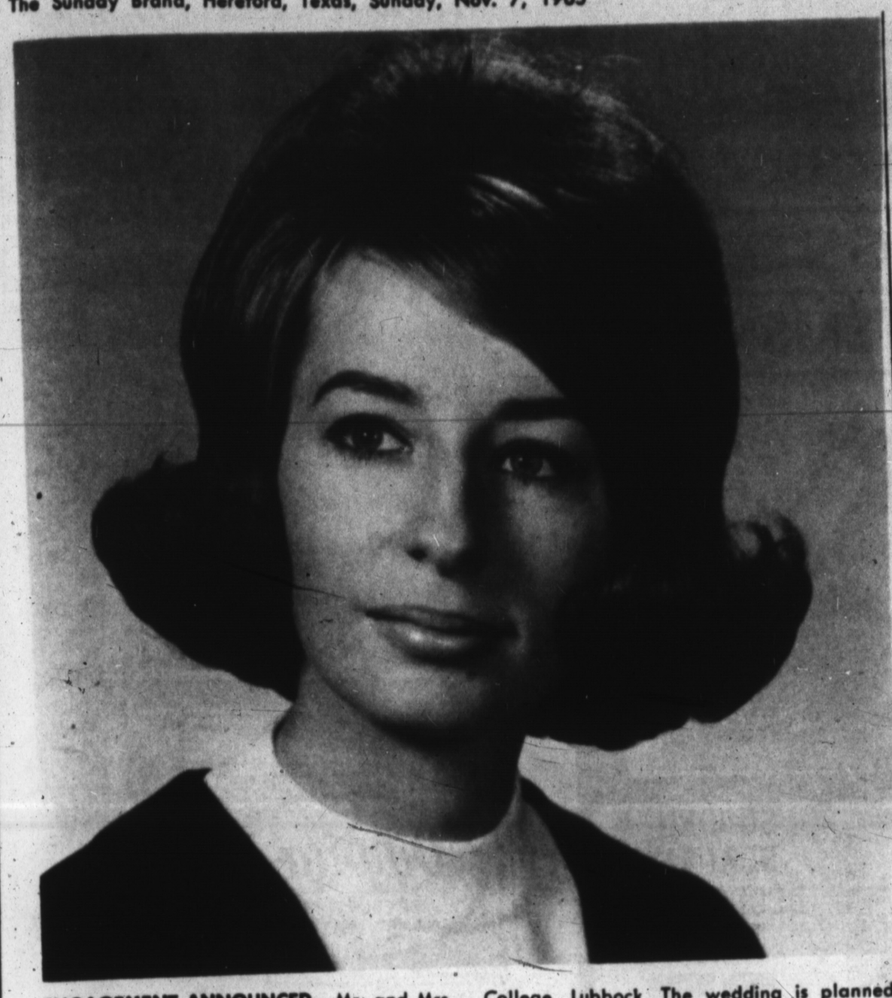

According to an article in it, electronic computing machines, the kind that guides astronauts down from space when a fuse doesn't blow and they have to do it by hand, will some day be common plate for farmers and ranchers.

You'll carry a tiny tape recorder with you and talk each day's farm business into it as you go about your work, then at night you plug the recorder into your telephone and a central computer collects your day's reports and stores them in its electronic mind. When you need to make a decision on something, you phone the computer and have it do the figuring for you.

I don't know about business men, newspaper publishers, lawyers, etc., maybe they keep their minds on business and nothing else all day, but I reviewed some of my thoughts for one day and I doubt if science has yet produced a computer that could digest them to any great advantage. Here are some of them: (8 a.m.) There must be some way to figure out a football game where both sides win and everybody leaves the stadium happy. Will work on it tomorrow. (9 a.m.) One way to stop having so many junk yards alongside highways is to stop building so many highways. (10 a.m.) That sick calf will either get well or die, wish he'd do one or the other, I'll check on him tomorrow. (11 a.m.) I'm getting hungry. (1 p.m.) I'll think about Viet Nam after my nap. (2 p.m.) That fence needs fixing. (3 p.m.) Coffe break. A man can't work all the time. (4 p.m.) It's a little late in the afternoon to start the tractor now. (5 p.m.) When you capture the moon, what have you got? (6 p.m.) I'm getting hungry. (6:30 p.m.) Time to quit work. Wonder whats on television tonight?

I guess if the government gave me one of the these machines to talk into I'd take it, but I believe I can get the same results and do it cheaper just by talking to myself.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED—Mr. and Mrs. Boston announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Kathy Kay, to Troy Don Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Moore. Both families reside in Hereford and the engaged couple attends Texas Techological College, Lubbock. The wedding is planned for Dec. 27 in First Methodist Church here. Miss Boston is a member of Delta Delta Delta Sorority at Tech. Mr. Moore expects to receeive a BA degree in finance from the college next May.

State Department Studied By Club

The State Department, largely responsible for the making and administration of U. S. foreign policy, was the subject of a study by Bay View Club members Thursday afternoon. Mrs. W. J. Gilliland discussed the topic, one in a series of studies on Federal Government.

Mrs. Lee Benefield was hostess in her home and presided for business in the absence of Mrs. Ansel McDowell, club president.

Mrs. Gilliland described the composition and functions of the State Department, saying that its work in the past has been principally concerned with military matters but because of changing world conditions is doing two-thirds of its work on matters related to economics.

The department is becoming an agency of international development, she continued, and is facing some of the most challenging problems in the history of the nation.

Announcement was made that the Camp Fire Girls Group sponsored by Bay View Club will present a program soon for members. Mrs. Earnest Langley is guardian of the group.

Mrs. Bruce Burney's home will be the meeting place Nov. 18, when a representative of the Wichita Falls State Hospital will be guest speaker. In an annual custom, club members will bring gifts for patients in the hospital to this meeting, to be distributed at Christmas.

Mrs. Benefield served refreshments to 12 members after the program.

The total includes 10,123 men and 4,956 women students, and they are among a total enrollment of 17,903, including students at Okmulgee and Oklahoma City campuses of the university.

Local students at OSU include James K. Higgins, sophomore, majoring in agriculture; and Dennis J. Hoffman, sophomore in the technical institute.

comings of the vast new social programs come not simply because of Congressional law-making, but primarily because of interpretation and administration of those laws. Most federal bureaucrats seemingly have little idea how to accomplish the glowing goals the laws set forth and, therefore, go their own way, doing pretty much as they please, making sure that every penny of the money appropriated is spent — whether the money is doing any good or not.

Thus, says Newsweek, does the "broad highway paved with legislative good intentions end in an administrative swamp."

THE "WATER CONGRESS"

Of course, many solid accomplishments were made in Congress' 295 days of activity. Items of particular interest to Texans are progress in soil and water conservation and in improving the nation's defense posture.

This Congress might well be called the "Water Congress." It enacted more major water conservation laws than any Congress before it. I am most pleased that I was able to cosponsor four of the major water bills approved and to play an active part, on behalf of Texans, in perfecting several other conservation measures.

THESE water bills will ensure federal-state-local cooperation in planning and developing our water resources, in studying better precipitation utilization and in seeking desalinization breakthroughs. In addition, new funds were made available for development of rural-community water systems.

And, Congress provided that state desires and experience will be recognized in anti-pollution efforts. We Texans have been working with water for years. It is especially important that the knowledge of our experienced officials be taken fully into account. Not all of the nation's water wisdom resides in Washington.

DEFENSE PREPAREDNESS

Congress this year, acting upon the recommendations of the Armed Services Committee on which I serve, made many moves to improve the nation's defenses. This is of particular interest to our state which is host to 250,000 military personnel and does millions of dollars worth of defense contract work each year.

In February, Congress was told no additional funds would be necessary for the Vietnam War. But, that obviously was not correct; and the Armed Services Committee continually urged the Secretary of Defense to reject this error, to ask for the added funds he needed and to stop stripping weapons and equipment from U. S. forces at home and in Europe in order to meet the needs of Vietnam.

Many members of Congress were most distressed to find that because of a lack of funds our Army's readiness to fight had dropped to an unacceptably low level. This must be corrected. There must never be any question but that our Army is ready to go when called upon. Our crisis-notice in recent years has been very short indeed.

BY AUTUMN the Defense Secretary had accepted Congressional advice and asked for more funds. You may be sure that I will continue my efforts to see that our men in Vietnam are provided everything they need in ample supply. The best hope of world peace rests in stopping Communism's Asian advance.

I will be going to Vietnam this month on an inspection trip for the Armed Services Committee. When I return, I I will report fully to Texans on the situation there.

NEXT YEAR?

Looking forward to the new Congressional session starting in January, we can see a number of pending items of concern to Texans. Most important will be any renewal of the Right-to-Work repeal fight, and we will continue our interest in maintaining a strong American stand against Communist aggression.

But, I expect one of my areas of greatest activity next year on behalf of Texans will be attempts to cut short the inflationary trends that face our nation and to obtain additional tax law adjustments so that a more reasonable tax load can be obtioned for each Texan.

IT IS A matter of grave concern to me that continual federal deficit spending — the paying out of dollars the government does not have — has driven the cost of living ever upward. For a majority of Texas wage earners 1965's federal income tax cuts will be more than offset by the ever-increasing cost of living and by the increase in taxes needed to pay Medicare.

Figures from the Treasury Department show what a married man with two children will have to earn next year just to maintain the same buying power he had in 1963:

Income in 1963	Income Needed in 1966	Change
$ 4,000	$ 4,087	Up $ 87
$ 6,000	$ 6,175	Up $175
$ 8,000	$ 8,217	Up $217
$10,000	$10,232	Up $232
$12,000	$12,247	Up $347
$15,000	$15,232	Up $232

More shocking than the above table are the figures affecting Texans living on Social Security and similar pensions. Even with the recent seven percent cost-of-living increase in Social Security benefits — an increase I fully supported — these pensioners now have less buying power than they had in 1958 and 1954 under the Eisenhower Administration.

Inflation has eroded away all of the Social Security increase voted this year. A person who has paid into the Social Security Fund since 1940 on an annual salary of $3,000 has $9.19 less purchasing power today with his larger check than he had in 1958.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN

What does all this mean? It means food costs have been driven up by unwise federal farm and import policies. It means the dollar has progressively lost pennies-worth of buying power because of federal fiscal insanity. It means what cost $10 just six years ago now costs $11.02.

IT MEANS THAT IF YOUR family's salary has increased. from $6,800 in 1955 to $10,000 today you take home only $92 more; your taxes have increased$1,242; you are now spending more for taxes than for food.

It means also that unless solid steps are taken in Gongress next year the increased salaries of the last 10 years soon will buy even less than previous, lower salaries.

We are paying every day at our supermarkets and banks for the fiscal mistakes of the federal government. Correcting this will be one of the major tasks facing the Second Session of the 89th Congress. We must restore reason to federal financing. I know Texans want that done, and I will welcome their assistance and suggestions as I represent them in this vital effort.

President Kennedy: "Fool me once, shame on you; fool me twice, shame on me."

Nothing better illustrates the attractions of free enterprise than the shabby Marxist "showcase" that Castro and his Russian sponsors are running in Cuba. The longer this threadbare posture is maintained, the more devastating its moral for the rest of Latin America and the greater its resulting service to the whole non-communist world.

With what real conviction could any Castroite prescribe communism for some other part of the hemisphere when the failure of the system is so abysmally one of the most prosperous and well fed countries in Latin America. Now it is one of the least prosperous and hungriest.

Its precarious, hand-to-mouth survival is costing Soviet Russia an estimated million dollars a day, a burden the none too affluent Kremlin ill can afford and one that may explain its supposed instructions to Castro to get on better terms with the United States.

But the United States will be even a worse chump than usual if it falls for any such transparent overture. Castro wanted a "people's paradise" for Cuba and now he's got it. Let him live with it while his better educated classes vote with their feet to leave at every opportunity.

The propagandistic beating that communism is taking in Cuba is equaled only by the one it long has taken at the Berlin wall.
