A HOT AFFAIR Chili Champs In Cookoff

TERLINGUA, Tex. (AP) — The chili cooking battle of the century started Saturday afternoon in this little ghost town of Far West Texas near the Rio Grande.

Hundreds of spectators thronged the dusty caliche road around the former mercury mining settlement.

On the porch of the one remaining intact building, Texas' chili champion Wick Fowler of Austin met the challenger, Author H. Allen Smith of Mount Kisko, N.Y., who said he is now a Texan.

Called "A Soupy Inedible Potion"

Fowler claims Smith's chili is a soupy, inedible potion.

Smith says Fowler's concoction would make anyone but a Texan gag.

The prize was a big horseshoe of red and white carnations decorated with red chili peppers and a hangman's noose.

Each was allowed two hours to prepare his favorite recipe of hot chili peppers, garlic, chopped meat and whatever secret ingredient they wished to add.

The impartiality of two of the three judges was in question. In advance of the contest, Floyd Schneider, San Antonio brewery executive, announced he was for Fowler; Mrs. Hallie Stilwell of Alpine said she was on Smith's side. Dallas financier David Witts said he guessed he was impartial.

Witts also carries the title of mayor of Terlingua, because the old town is located on a large ranch owned by Witt and Carroll Shelby, internationally known race car driver and designer from California.

Complete With Mexican Sombrero

Fowler's cooking uniform consisted of an enormous Mexican straw hat, a serape and a bib which is the banner of the Chili Appreciation Society of Texas.

Smith was clean shaven, wore a sport shirt and pulled off a sweat shirt from Sul Ross State College at Alpine, his adopted home town.

Bill Rives, editor of the Denton Record Chronicle, was master of ceremonies. Frank X. Tolbert, Dallas Morning News columnist, was referee.

"This thing is about as organized as the Republican Party," Rives said as they passed out song sheets to sing the city Anthem. It was to the tune of "Hello Dolly."

Served With "Official" Documents

Two official documents were served on Smith before the cooking began. One, by Terlingua City Solicitor Gene Palmer of Austin, attempted to keep Smith from participating because, Palmer alleged, "His soupy mess called chili" disturbs the peace and dignity of Terlingua. Smith countercharged that the city solicitor violated the law by soliciting in public.

The second document, signed by Lt. Gov. Preston Smith as acting governor, would have made Smith an honorary Texan. Smith refused the honor for two reasons. He said he was already a resident of Alpine and of Texas and second, "I never intended to do anything honorable in Texas from now on."

Big Spring Week

. . . with Joe Pickle

Those scrappy Big Spring Steers proved their mettle Friday with determination and composure that shattered a quarter-century hex and brought them a victory in Abilene over the Abilene Eagles. They had the poise to capitalize on some breaks, and more importantly, they couldn't be rattled when they fell behind. In the end, they were in command. Consequently the stands here Friday when Abilene Cooper comes to town ought to be jammed. Fans will see the state's No. 1 team (Cooper) in action; they just might see the biggest upset of all.

The United Fund got traction last week and soared past the 60 per cent mark. Latest tabulations showed $62,499 so far paid or pledged toward the $116,000 goal. Another couple of weeks like this one with everyone working and giving could do the job.

The long-range forecasts show the temperature outlook to be near normal for the next 30 days, but the morning coolness of the past week conditions us for an early frost. Last week the mercury dipped to 39 degrees and there were several

Antiwar Demonstrators Thrust Back At Pentagon

Violence Climaxes Washington Rally

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of youthful antiwar demonstrators, some waving Viet Cong flags, tried to storm the Pentagon Saturday but were thrown back by soldiers and club-wielding U.S. marshals.

At least one round of tear gas was fired during one melee in the driveway leading to the Pentagon Mall.

The violence broke out after demonstrators marched on the nation's military nerve center following a mass rally at the Lincoln Memorial where Dr. Benjamin Spock, baby specialist, author and outspoken war critic, charged President Johnson is "the enemy."

ESTIMATES VARY

U.S. Park police estimated the number of demonstrators that spread from the Memorial almost to the Washington monument at 37,000. The leaders of the demonstration put the number at nearer 200,000.

The Memorial scene was generally peaceful except for a pair of counter-demonstrators who charged the speakers' platform and caused a scuffle. One was described by onlookers as an American Nazi.

BOTTLE THROWN

It was when the marchers reached the Pentagon that the trouble broke out as demonstrators clashed with marshals and troops in efforts to probe for weaknesses in the security lines.

In the clashes, demonstrators lurched at the lines of marshals and MPs, and threw vegetables and at least one bottle at the troops.

Federal officials said 21 arrests were made by about 5:30 p.m.

There was a period of relative quiet after the Army reached into its hidden reserve of troops—which one source estimated at 10,000—and brought in troop reinforcements and more MPs, some carrying tear gas equipment.

TEMPO PICKS UP

But then the tempo picked up again with wild shouts as thousands of the demonstrators broke through security lines and stormed a Pentagon entrance.

The troops held their weapons at port arms and stood fast.

At least three of the demonstrators penetrated the Pentagon before being thrown out.

The breakthrough came along a weakly held flank in the security line. This flank had been manned mostly by federal marshals. Only about a dozen marshals and few soldiers had been deployed along an access drive to the right of the mall entrance.

COUNTERATTACK

The soldiers counterattacked, pushing against the crowd and down the stairs. More than 100 soldiers, their rifles at port arms, thrust against the milling demonstrators.

Meanwhile about 400 soldiers held the main crowd in check in front of the mall entrance. As the soldiers pushed out from the threatened doorway, many of the demonstrators sat down in the roadway.

The Army moved up additional troops around the edges of the crowd which ground to a shouting halt, waving placards and shrieking.

It took less than five minutes for the soldiers to clear the doorway. But more than 1,000 demonstrators sat in the roadway, refusing to move.

BLOOD

Blood spattered the steps leading to the assaulted door, but it could not be determined immediately how many had been hurt.

Eight demonstrators, including David Dellinger, leading organizer of the demonstration, were dragged off to vans by marshals from another area.

Demonstrators Storm Pentagon Entrance

Military police reinforced by Army troops, throw back antiwar demonstrators as they tried to storm a Mall entrance doorway to the Pentagon in Washington Saturday. The melee climaxed a gigantic demonstration in the nation's capital.

Soviets Admit Losing Signal From Venus

MOSCOW (AP) — An official account of the Soviet Union's space probe of Venus said Saturday for the first time that instruments from Venus 4 satellite stopped functioning at the time of landing.

Until that time, said the account given by the Tass news agency, instruments from the Venus 4 package that was parachuted to the planet's surface Wednesday sent back signals to the last moment.

536 DEGREES

The last temperature sent back — and according to Tass this was at the planet's surface — was a reading of 280 degrees centigrade, which is 536 degrees Fahrenheit. Previous accounts had given this high reading but left uncertain whether it was surface or atmospheric temperature.

The official account also insisted that the instrument package had made a soft landing by parachute, something that had been in doubt before.

Why then did the instrument package cease sending signals? Tass gave this explanation: The antenna of the instrument package failed to point in the right direction, and the package's bulk blocked direct contact with the earth.

North Viet Torpedo Boats Blasted By Navy Aircraft

SAIGON (AP) — Two U.S. Navy Skyhawk pilots slashed Saturday at a flotilla of six North Vietnamese torpedo boats, perhaps massed for an attack on U.S. 7th Fleet warships, and said they destroyed four. It was one of the stiffest such actions of the war.

IN GULF

The speedy, 50-ton torpedo boats, which ordinarily cruise alone or in pairs, were spotted in the Gulf of Tonkin off the mouth of the Thanh Hoa River, about 80 miles south of Hanoi. The jets, from a 7th Fleet carrier on station in the gulf, worked them over with 250-pound and 500-pound bombs. The pilots—Lt. Cmdr. Wilmer P. Cook, 32, of Annapolis, Md., and Lt. (J.G.) Mitchell Watson, 25, of Portland, Ore.—said two were blasted apart, another disintegrated and the fourth rolled over and sank. Cook reported anti-aircraft fire from both the boats and the beach was intense and "they were still shooting when we were well out of range."

PROTECT POLLS

Ashore in South Vietnam, American and government troops joined forces to protect polling places for the election Sunday of a 137-member House of Representatives.

This was the final elective step in the creation of a legal successor to the military governments that have run the country nearly four years.

Though Viet Cong leaders had exhorted their agents to carry on with the sabotage and killings that marked other national elections over the last 13 months, little terrorism showed up this time. While various combat units took up guard duty on approaches to the polls, field dispatches reported allied troops killed 272 Communists Friday in two of the northern provinces that make up the main theater of the ground war. Troopers of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division said they killed 75 of the enemy in a series of small actions in Quang Nam Province, centered on the coast 365 miles northeast of Saigon. One American was reported killed and six wounded.

ATTACK STOPPED

South Vietnamese infantry teamed up with armor, artillery and armor in the border province of Quang Tri to frustrate reported plans of the Viet Cong's 814th regiment to attack a militia outpost at the town of Co Lu. A spokesman said 197 Viet Cong were killed in a 20-hour battle that cost the government forces 18 dead and 107 wounded.

This action centered nine miles east of Quang Tri City, the provincial capital, and about 20 miles south of the demilitarized zone, where U.S. Marines form the main shield against any North Vietnamese attempts at mass invasion.

Two American ground sweeps that started Oct. 11 were ended: —U.S. Marines wound up a multibattalion search-and-destroy operation called Medina in the southern section of Quang Tri Province. They said they killed 54 of the enemy and seized 26 suspects. Marine casualties were 34 killed and 225 wounded.

—The U.S. 9th Infantry Division's mobile riverine force called off a drive in the Rung Sat Special Zone, centered about 20 miles southeast of Saigon, from which guerrillas have harassed shipping between Saigon and the South China Sea. Spokesmen said two of the enemy were killed and six U.S. soldiers were wounded in this operation, called Coronado Six.

Israeli Destroyer Sunk By Missiles

CAIRO (AP) — A second Israeli naval unit suffered "severe damage," in a renewed naval clash between Egyptian and Israeli forces two hours after the Israeli destroyer Elath was sunk Saturday north of Port Said, the Egyptians reported Sunday.

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israel announced the 1,710-ton destroyer Elath was sunk by the Egyptian navy Saturday north of Port Said and tentatively identified the attacker as a patrol boat armed with Soviet missiles.

"Hit me. Abandoning ship" were the last words radioed from the vessel, the Israeli army reported.

"She must have been hit in a critical spot because she went down fast," an Israeli source said.

A widespread air-sea rescue operation began immediately and preparations were made in hospitals ashore to treat as many as 150 of the 250 aboard.

The Israeli army late Saturday night said reports from the rescue operation indicated only "tens" of crewmen from the Elath had been picked up—not 200 as reported earlier.

"The situation is very confused," an informed source said. "We have no idea of the casualties at this moment, but it looks as though they may be heavy."

The Elath was the first Israeli warship sunk since the navy was formed in 1948.

"This attack is the most serious escalation since the June war," an authoritative source commented. "The ship was not in Egyptian waters and the missiles were fired from Port Said."

Broadcast reports heard in the Middle East said an air raid warning sounded in Port Said at nightfall.

There were no immediate reports of air attack or fighting between Egyptian and Israeli forces facing each other along the 107-mile length of the Suez Canal cease-fire line set up after the June 5-10 Arab-Israeli war.

Israeli military officials first surmised that the ship was sunk by an Egyptian cruiser anchored at Port Said, the northern terminal of the Suez Canal.

Later, the Israeli army said the missiles, believed to be Soviet-supplied, were a far-controlled short-range weapons, were understood to have been fired from a missile patrol boat in Port Said harbor.

Old Timers Think Early Frost May Be In Making

Many old timers believe that the first "killing" frost of this fall season may not be too far in the offing.

The early mornings have a definite "nippy" feel, and Jack Frost can easily show at almost any time. There have been readings as low as 39.

Last year the first hard frost of the season hit on the night of Nov. 1. Early that evening, the temperature began falling and by midnight it was at 32 degrees. By 8 a.m. the next day it was down to 23 degrees.

The earliest date for a hard freeze, in the 56 years that records have been kept here, was Oct. 19, 1917. The official reading for that date was 28. There have been killing frosts on nine other days in October after that record setter.

Farmers generally hope for a late frost this year. For many who have immature grain in the field, the later the freeze the better. There are thousands of acres of grain which need much more time to ripen and harden.

Most cotton farmers, too, would like to see the frost stay away as long as possible. Belated rain has caused a heavy growth in many cotton fields which had been nearly dead for many weeks. Young bolls on these plants might make it if there could be enough time before the freeze hits it.

On the other hand, there are a few fields where the cotton is already opening and where a hard frost could lend a helping hand by defoliating the stalks to clear the way for the strippers.

Actually, most farmers would probably approve a repetition of the fall of 1933. That year, the U.S. Experiment Station records show, there was no killing frost until Dec. 5. This would help in 1967.

Two Meet Death In Auto Mishap

WACO, Tex. (AP) — A man and a woman were fatally injured Friday night when their car left an overpass at a high rate of speed, police said.

The victims were identified by police as Mrs. Katherin Hudlin, 31, and Cleveland Williams, 31, both of Waco.

Short Cotton Crop Slow; Grain Outlook Up Slightly

By SAM BLACKBURN

Possibly 300 bales of 1967 cotton have been ginned so far in Howard County's 11 gins, but all but a score or so bales has been cotton from an irrigated district of Glasscock County.

Speculation on the probable crop for the county this year is anything but optimistic. There are a few who hope or estimate that 10,000 bales may be produced — if there is a late frost and good growing weather right down to the deadline.

Most observers predict from 7,000 to 9,000 bales as an estimate on the probable ginning of Howard County cotton. Undoubtedly it will be one of the smallest crops in many years. In 1953, the cotton production in the county was 9,263. This was regarded as the all-time low until the disastrous season of 1956 when only 3,500 bales were produced.

LOMAX LEADS

Check of the county's gins this week shows that several have ginned some cotton but very little.

Lomax gin, which had processed 250 bales, was the top in ginning. However, Cecil Long, operator of the gin, pointed out that nearly all of this cotton was from Glasscock County. Most of it is from the Dr. Hall Ranch south of the community where irrigation boosts production each year. This year's cotton is of exceptionally high quality, Long said. Some lint pulls 1 1/4 inches.

Some St. Lawrence cotton in southern Glasscock has found its way to Howard County gins. Planters Gin north of town has handled 19 bales of St. Lawrence's current crop and farmers were at the gin in midweek to pick up trailers to bring in more of the crop.

Co-op Gin in Big Spring had ginned 14 bales at midweek—all produced by the same grower. Fairview's eight bales were from one man's farm. A few scattered bales have been ginned at two of the Knott plants but it was not learned if the cotton was from this county or from adjoining Martin and Dawson counties. One gin at Knott, reportedly, will not operate this fall due to the short crop. Last year Knott had phenomenal dry land cotton yields; this year many of the fields are barren.

OFF LAST YEAR

Fairview's gin set a record of 10,000 bales last year — more cotton than will probably be produced in the county in 1967. It had ginned eight bales through last Wednesday.

Total crop for the county's gins in 1966 was 56,853 bales. Vincent's gin is being rebuilt. No cotton has been ginned as yet. The two Coahoma gins have not had a call for their services and apparently no cotton has been ginned at Luther. Activity won't pick up until mid-November.

Few farmers have attempted defoliation, and most cotton that has been ginned has been picked. No stripping has been reported.

MAY BE BETTER

The grain crop, like the cotton, is short this year but, according to Clyde Eager, manager of the Kimbell Mills, it is turning out better than would have been predicted two months ago.

"We anticipate we will buy

200 or more carloads of grain this season," said Eager. A carload of grain is 100,000 pounds or 50 tons.

He said that the grain which is coming in at this time is largely from the south and southwest part of the county and some from Glasscock County.

"The quality is exceptionally good," Eager said. "Much of it is less than 15 per cent damp which makes it grade A. So far we have not had to dry any of the grain brought to us. We have had to turn down a few scattered loads, however, where the seller had cut far too early and the stuff was too wet for use."

SURPRISING YIELD

He said that the yield is surprisingly good. Some farmers, he reported, are getting from 1,200 to as much as 1,500 pounds to the acre.

Much of the grain raised here goes to South Texas as feed stock. Kimbell is doubling the size of its processing plant so more local grains can be converted into feed for local markets.

KEEPING CLOSE TAB ON THE SCORE

LBJ Eyes Spending Fuss

WASHINGTON (AP) — While House and Senate had the spending ball back and forth, President Johnson is watching the game quietly from the sidelines, at least for the moment, and keeping close tab on the score.

And if the past 10 days are any indication, Johnson will probably continue to play it cool publicly while the current economic fight in Congress heads toward a climax, perhaps this week.

Not since Oct. 12 has Johnson spoken in public about spending cuts and his proposed 10 per cent surcharge on individual and corporate income taxes.

White House press secretary George Christian apparently set the tone of the current administration strategy when he was asked for comment on House approval of a blanket cut in spending estimated at between $6 billion and $8 billion.

In declining direct comment, Christian said "the matter is still pending. We'll wait and see what develops."

What developed was that the Senate Appropriation Committee threw out the House resolution ordering the cuts but the fight is still far from over.

In the meantime, other top administration leaders kept up their appeal for higher taxes in speeches around the country, an apparent effort to stir up more grass-roots support for the surcharge.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler, Secretary of Commerce Alexander B. Trowbridge and Gardner Ackley, chairman of the White House Council of Economic Advisers, joined forces in appearing at a Business Council meeting which ended Saturday at Hot Springs, Va.

The Council is comprised of 200 of the nation's top business and industrial leaders.

Taxes were raised three times during the Korean War and one government source said the tax fight now might have been easier if the surcharge were labeled a war tax. Others disagreed, however, contending the economic arguments make the best sense especially to persons who don't like the war.

Boys Quizzed About Abuse Of Livestock

Seven youngsters ranging in age up to 17 years of age and older were interrogated on Saturday by Sheriff A. N. Standard and his staff relative to the abuse of cattle on a farm near the northeast city limits.

Standard said that several of the boys have admitted they have been going to the pasture where the cattle were beaten. They also admit, the sheriff said, that they have thrown rocks at the cattle and chased the animals. However, he said, all deny that they ever struck any of the cattle with clubs or scraps of pipe.

The investigation is to continue on Monday, Standard said.

It was brought about by the death some time ago of two head of cattle, beaten so badly on the spine they had to be destroyed, and by the serious injury of a third in the past few days.

Standard said that several other youngsters are to be interviewed after school Monday.

He said that leads have been found which he feels certain will lead to the solution of the case.

Stanton's Aero Club Sets Course

Harrison Named Bell Wire Chief

Alva Lee Harrison, who has been chief switchman in Odessa, has been named wire chief for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in Big Spring.

He succeeds Wendell W. Faris, who has been appointed a repair foreman in Fort Worth.

Harrison had been in Odessa for two years. He moved there from Colorado City, where he had been wire chief for a year.

The new Big Spring wire chief joined Southwestern Bell as a framer in Lubbock in 1952. He became a switchman five years later, then moved to PBX repairman early in 1964, a few months before being promoted to the Colorado City post.

Harrison is a graduate of Plainview High School, and attended Texas Tech. He served in the Marine Corps from 1953 to 1956. He and his wife, Shelby, are the parents of two daughters and a son.

Faris, who resided at 1748 Purdue, had been Big Spring's wire chief for eight years. He was a member of the Big Spring Rotary Club and the local organization of Telephone Pioneers of America.

Faris and his wife, Avalon, are parents of one daughter and one son.

Faris joined Southwestern Bell in 1957 as installation foreman in Ft. Worth after having held a number of positions in Llano where he began his telephone career in 1939 with the United Telephone Company. Later in 1957, he was appointed wire chief in Alpine. In August, 1959, Faris moved to Big Spring as plant foreman and became wire chief in November of that year. He served in the Army from 1942 to 1946.

LeMay's Solution To The Vietnam War - Win It

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — Gen. Curtis LeMay, former Air Force chief of staff, said Friday

"There is only one simple solution to the Vietnam war — win it."

Certificates Are Given Those Who Complete Course

Certificates for parents, teachers and those active in the adult division were awarded at Thursday's final session of the Methodist five-day leadership training school.

Members of Wesley Methodist and First Methodist, North Birdwell Methodist and First Methodist churches joined together for a total enrollment of 50. The Rev. Tom Strother, pastor of Wesley Methodist, was dean of the school.

The school began last Sunday with an evening worship service in the First Methodist sanctuary. "Kick-off" speaker was Dr. Walter Hofheinz, professor of Abilene's McMurry College.

This leadership school and others similar to it are supported by the annual conference office throughout Methodism to help volunteer church school teachers set certain goals to be met in their classrooms.

LeMay, addressing the annual Permian Basin Petroleum Association symposium, said he believes the United States needs a shift in emphasis from limited ground war to an expanded naval and air attack.

"I don't think that we should rule out any area of strength which might help us bring this war to a halt," he told the approximate 1,000 persons attending the symposium.

Allan Shivers, former Texas governor who is now president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, said that the American people are vitally interested in getting over their frustrations of Vietnam, inflation, crime, violence, rioting and looting.

"Democracy will only succeed if it belongs to the people and it will only belong to the people if they take a sufficient interest in it," Shivers said.

News commentator Paul Harvey said the United States must stop using its energy and resources "to wet nurse the whole world." He said "there is a point beyond which Uncle Sam cannot keep going."

Compromise 'Lousy' Say Steel Haulers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Striking steel haulers vote this weekend to accept a compromise their leader calls "lousy," or reject it and continue their violent strike grinding through its third month.

Strike leaders from the eight states where the highway shipment of steel has come to a virtual standstill agreed in Cleveland, Ohio, Friday to submit the plan to the rank-and-file without official recommendation. An answer is expected by Monday.

Truckers in the Cleveland area, the first reported to have voted, approved the plan Friday night. Specific figures were not given. It was rejected in the Somerset, Pa., area by a reported 68-3 margin.

The plan approved by 150 trucking firms would give the independent owner-operators $13.70 an hour after waiting four hours at steel mills to be loaded and unloaded. Trucking firms would get about $3.70 of that for bookkeeping.

Earlier, the drivers accepted a two-hour free waiting time proposal with $10 an hour thereafter. Trucking firms turned it down.

One Of Six Sign To Vote

One out of six of Howard Countyans has qualified to vote in the 1968 elections.

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor, said that her office has signed 2,150 men and women since the registration period opened on Oct. 1. It is estimated there are slightly more than 12,000 men and women in the county who are qualified to vote and need only to register to take part in the 1968 voting.

Deadline for registration is Jan. 31.

Mrs. LeFevre said that Howard County taxpayers have paid in $155,999.43 so far since Oct. 1. The taxpayers have through Oct. 31 to pay their current taxes and save 3 per cent.

In November the discount drops to 2 per cent and in December to 1 per cent. Taxes paid in January are at the face amount with no discount.

DWI Sentence Is Revoked

A probated sentence granted George Huckabee on last Dec. 8 in 118th District Court was ordered revoked Friday afternoon by Judge Ralph Caton.

Huckabee had been found guilty of DWI second offense. He was sentenced to a year in jail and fined $250. It was stipulated the fine must be paid in nine months if probation was to be granted.

The court was advised that Huckabee has not paid the fine in the stipulated time, and further, that he had been arrested on Aug. 11 in Glasscock County on a new charge of DWI.

Judge Caton ordered him to county jail for the year and ordered he must also serve the nine months unless he pays off the fine.

Health Research Service Draws Panel's Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — A report charging excessive payments, indifferent management and casual direction of federal health research programs was issued Saturday night by the House Government Operations Committee.

The report said the Public Health Service and its principal research arm, the National Institutes of Health, have made little effort to improve administration of research grants since previous critical reports in 1961 and 1962.

Annual spending on health research has grown from $14 million in 1950 to more than $650 million in 1966.

"NIH and other PHS bureaus were found to have made excessive indirect cost payments to grantees," the report said, adding that research projects supported by NIH grants "have, according to the agency's own ratings, declined in quality over a period of years."

"A large proportion of the projects now being supported by PHS were rated lower than good quality by the agency's expert consultants," the report said.

The report was based on studies by the intergovernmental relations subcommittee headed by Rep. L. H. Fountain, D-N.C.

Fountain said "the report clearly demonstrates the inability of NIH and the Public Health Service as a whole, under present arrangements, to manage effectively the tremendous amounts of money which the Congress appropriates each year for health research."

"Despite repeated reminders from our subcommittee," he said, "there has been continued mismanagement of grant programs and the improper and wasteful expenditure of public funds."

Fountain said that an earlier diagnosis still holds "that the Congress has been overzealous in appropriating money for health research and that the pressure for spending increasingly large appropriations has kept NIH from giving adequate attention to basic management problems."

But he added that "the apparent disinterest of NIH and PHS in obtaining high quality management has also been an important factor contributing to the low priority that has been given to correcting serious administrative deficiencies."

Within NIH, the report said, "the individual institutes used different indirect cost rates when dealing with the very same grantee institutions."

In one case, involving Health Research, Inc., of Albany and Buffalo, N.Y., the report said NIH overpaid nearly $500,000 to one organization through fiscal 1963.

The committee recommended various procedures to tighten administration of various grant programs, limit future programs and assure uniform application of criteria.

THE WEEK

readings in the low 40s. If that persists, it will be easy to dip to freezing level. There are hundreds of hay fever sufferers, having the worst time in years, who would welcome it.

The advice of Marvin Springer, city planner, is being heeded by the historic big spring development committee. An executive panel was set up and all concurred that a master plan for the famous water hole should be drawn up. Animation of the spring may be one of the first steps.

Petitions are being circulated, asking the county commissioners court to call referendum on creation of a county-wide airport authority; also, the issuance of $750,000 in bonds. The latter would be for the purpose of absorbing outstanding county bonds on the airport, plus financing the improvements including longer wider runways.

Howard County picked up a couple of wildcat oil tests during the week. Cobb & Ruwe No. 1 Guffee will seek the Pennsylvanian reef at 7,700 feet two miles northeast of Vincent, in O'Daniel area 12 miles northeast of Big Spring, Shenoadoh No. 1 Freeman will go to 8,550 in search of Pennsylvanian pay. Texaco No. 1 Jones will be a deepening prospect in the Vealmoor pool in northern Howard. One of the area's most interesting tests will be Fortune No. 4 Ellwood, 13 miles southwest of Colorado City in Mitchell County. It will be looking for the Yates pay at only 500 feet.

Voting was in the news. While several hundred qualified for 1968 elections, others were getting ready for absentee voting for the upcoming Nov. 11 election on constitutional amendments. There may be other elections, too, such as perhaps the airport authority and bond issue mentioned previously, and even the prospect of a city sales tax referendum.

Billy Paul Thomas, who has been directing the county's road operation resigned last week to take another post. Since the county has had no engineer for several years, this leaves the department without an administrative head. It is an ideal time to look seriously for an engineer.

Our own vicinity escaped without traffic tragedies, but not our people Mrs. Jessie C. Olgun, 50, of Big Spring was killed instantly in a one-car mishap near Sonora.

Some wretch with a warped sense of something - or - another called Gibson's and reported a bomb was hidden in the store and due to go off at a certain time. This crude, cowardly call necessitated clearing the store just to be safe.

School enrollment, although slightly off the pace for last year, continues to hold well. A few more additions last week boosted the total to 7,406 enrolled. This is only .7 of one percent below the comparable date a year ago.

Speaking of schools - Big Spring High School will have lots of activity Nov. 10-12. Homecoming will center around a parade and the Odessa game here Nov. 10, and there will be a big get-together of exes at the high school the evening of Nov. 11. The following afternoon, open house will be held so the public can see the vast enlargement and improvements made to the high school.

Volunteers at the Big Spring State Hospital were presented with awards last week when 20 were cited for 500 hours or more. Another 34 were recognized for more than 100 hours. A little arithmetic makes this an impressive figure. Well, you can about double the total on these individuals to approximate their hours, for some of those over 500 hours get into the stratosphere of service.

But, she'll be going back to Texas again with the Mexican president and his wife when they go with President Johnson to El Paso next Saturday for the ceremonial signing of the Chamizal treaty exchanging territories the two nations hold along the border.

Austin Witnesses 'Parade For Peace'

AUSTIN (AP) — More than 800 marchers stretched five blocks along Congress Avenue Saturday afternoon in a "Parade for Peace" to the capitol grounds, where a philosophy professor called for a revolution.

"We can't change the American society one thing at a time—the whole bloody mess has to go," said Dr. Larry Caroline, a bearded six-footer. The crowd applauded this loudly as it sat in the shade of huge trees.

The demonstration was sponsored by the Austin and University of Texas Committee to End the War in Vietnam (CEWV). It was in support of the larger demonstration in Washington, D.C.

Caroline was one of several speakers. He said: "What America needs is a revolution. You don't get a revolution by marching in a parade. The black people in this country have woken up. When will the white people wake up? The black people know they're never going to get anything with the vote."

He said Che Guevara was not dead. "He will not be dead until the day the revolution comes to this country," he said.

Newsmen later asked Caroline what kind of revolution he was talking about. "I don't know what kind of revolution," he said. "If I had that answer I would have given it to them. But it is not evolutionary. It may not have to be bloody."

CEWV is an officially recognized campus organization, with membership limited to students, faculty and staff.

Most of the crowd was young and white. There were several strikingly beautiful girls. Many of the men wore mustaches, beards or both. Some were well groomed—some not.

The marchers walked behind a burlap banner reading: "Parade for Peace."

About half carried signs, of which perhaps 25 per cent were hand-lettered.

School Trustees To Meet Monday

Results of an interest survey taken last week at Big Spring High School will be considered by school trustees Monday as they decide whether or not to file an application for the ROTC program beginning Sept., 1968.

The special meeting will be held in the high school conference room following a noon meal in the school cafeteria.

Dallas Wants To Retain That Big Football Game

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Chamber of Commerce endorsed Saturday the continued playing of the annual Texas-Oklahoma football game in Dallas.

Some movement has started, as it has in the past, to have the game played on a home and home basis.

This was strengthened after pre-game celebrations in Dallas Oct. 13 resulted in the arrest of about 800 persons, mostly for violations of liquor laws by youths, drunkenness and fighting. More than 100 persons suffered injuries.

The Chamber of Commerce directors passed a resolution saying, "The continuation of the colorful, spotlighted Texas-Oklahoma game in the Cotton Bowl at the State Fair of Texas is important to the two universities and their students and their alumni; to sports lovers of the region; and to the entire Southwest, as well as to Dallas and the State Fair of Texas."

The resolution said, "The facts indicate that irresponsible and often youthful people from the Dallas area, rather than visitors to the city, represented the majority of those involved in disorder and misconduct."

It called for a communitywide educational program, coupled with firm police action, to maintain order.

The resolution said, "The irresponsible actions of a small minority of people on Dallas streets on the eve of the game has distorted the reputation of one of the finest traditions in Southwestern sports."

Most of the arrests—about double those of last year—were at Commerce and Akard where the traditional pre-game celebration takes place.

The Cotton Bowl has a contract for the game that runs through 1971. Texas won this year's game 9-7.

Large Crowd At TESCO's Open House

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Two thousand visitors, mostly residents of Mitchell County, gathered at the Morgan Creek site of the Texas Electric Service Co., power plant on Morgan Creek Saturday.

The occasion was an open house at which TESCO displayed its recently enlarged plant which now generates 835,000 kilowatts of electricity.

The Morgan Creek plant is six miles southwest of Colorado City on SH 165. It is the largest generating installation in West Texas and one of the largest in the state.

Plant and service company employees were on hand to welcome the visitors and explain features of the installation to the company's guests. A tour of the plant, with the visitors marching through roped off aisles was a highlight.

A big circus tent had been erected on the grounds and free balloons and suckers for the youngsters and free cold drinks for all were available.

A western band played in an adjoining tent.

The company officials told the visitors the purpose of the open house was to demonstrate the extent of equipment, machinery, and technical knowhow to meet the needed heavy demand for power in West Texas.

TESCO's first plant at the site was built in 1950 with a capacity of 30,000 kilowatts. This has been increased several times. The most recent was the 1966 addition of equipment to produce an additional 500,000 kilowatts.

Congress Acts To Tighten Up Riot Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — As thousands of antiwar demonstrators gathered here Saturday, President Johnson signed an act increasing penalties for unauthorized demonstrations or activities on the Capitol grounds and in all congressional buildings.

Fines up to $5,000 and jail terms of five years could be imposed for carrying firearms, explosives or dangerous weapons on the Capitol grounds or in any of its buildings.

Unauthorized parades, picketing or other violent or disorderly conduct could bring fines of $500 and six months in jail.

The legislation, amending laws that date back 100 years, was pushed through the House last Wednesday with some members claiming it was aimed at Saturday's demonstration.

Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass., took the floor to deny this, saying it was a coincidence that the special additional security for Congress happened to come up for action this week.

The House approved the bill by a 323-20 margin and then substituted a similar measure passed by the Senate on a voice vote. This was the bill signed by the President.

Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., and minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., teamed up to get prompt Senate passage of the security measures after two recent Senate incidents.

They said existing laws failed to provide adequate penalties for youthful antiwar demonstrators who tossed leaflets onto the Senate floor from a public gallery.

The new law bans the carrying or discharge of dangerous weapons, firearms, and incendiary devices on or in the Capitol grounds and buildings.

It also prohibits disorderly or disruptive conduct, loud, threatening or abusive language, or acts of physical violence.

It continues a ban on parades, demonstrations or picketing without prior approval of the Capitol police board.

Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., told the Senate that the legislation would serve to deter "mobs and unruly groups before they arrive at the Capitol."

Romney Strikes A Blow For Economy

FREDERIKSTED, V.I. (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan did some Republican politicking shore Saturday, accusing President Johnson of government extravagance which has confronted Americans with a tax increase.

The presidentially ambitious Michigan governor has himself endorsed a federal tax boost as a step to combat inflation, but with this proviso: "I believe there should be no tax increase without making sure that we are going to do a better job of controlling spending."

California's Gov. Ronald Reagan, Romney's chief rival for Republican attention at a crucial conference of governors, balked at anything implying blanket endorsement of a tax raise. Romney, in a GOP fundraising speech on the island of St. Thomas, some 40 miles from the Frederiksted berth of the conference ship S.S. Independence, said Congress has taken the right approach by demanding a $5 billion to $7 billion budget cut before it acts on taxes.

"Extravagant federal spending is part of the story," Romney said. "The administration has failed to pay its own way."

The nation's governors turned tourists after a politically stormy 99th National Governors Conference, and scattered across the island of St. Croix for a day in the sun.

The Independence was to hoist anchor at midweek to cruise back to New York, but many of its gubernatorial passengers were flying home instead. Romney and Reagan were among them.

Those two Republicans split on the tax-boosting issue—Reagan opposing a Romney resolution to have the conference formally endorse an increase along with budget cuts. The measure was shelved Friday.

But they stood together on the most explosive issue of the conferece—a Democratic effort to secure a declaration of endorsement for the U.S. stand in Vietnam. Blocked by near-solid Republican opposition, the conference refused to even consider that measure.

The construction money was authorized for the 1968 fiscal year that began July 1. Actual appropriations must follow.

The major amounts are $385,712,000 for the Army, $461,132,000 for the Navy and $398,376,000 for the Air Force.

City Employee For 39 Years, Skeet Foresyth, Succumbs

Richard Vinus (Skeet) Foresyth, 56, who went to work for the City of Big Spring behind a span of mules and moved up to be assistant director of public works, died at 3 p.m. Friday in Cowper Hospital, following a long siege of illness. He had been gravely ill about a month.

With 39 years of continuous service, he had the longest tenure of any city employe.

Mr. Foresyth was born Nov. 22, 1910, in Gorman and moved to Big Spring in 1927. He joined the City of Big Spring work force Nov. 28, 1928, shortly after the city adopted its commission form of government, and worked for all seven of the city's managers.

Mr. Foresyth's long tenure covered the growth of the small prairie town into a modern city, and he had a big share in its physical improvements. The city's rolling stock back in 1923 was only three vehicles, valued as about $11,000. Today, the vast yard has 192 pieces of rolling stock, valued at more than a half-million dollars.

Mr. Foresyth joined the city working in the water department back in 1928, but after two weeks, he transferred to the street department, which consisted of a span of mules and a grader blade. There were only two in the department at that time, and Mr. Foresyth daily walked behind the mules, grading the streets in the downtown area.

He bedded the mules down nightly, and until his death, he continued to see that all the city's equipment was in the yard before he left for home in the evenings.

By 1934, the city sold its mules and began using all mechanized equipment, and Mr. Foresyth was named foreman of the street department, with a crew of eight.

In 1939, the city fathers decided the city needed a garbage collection department, and Mr. Foresyth had another job, to organize and implement the innovation. He launched the program with four men, 22 customers, and a dump ground on East Sixth Street, near the present site of the Ponderosa Apartments.

He supervised both of these departments until his death, and the street department had grown to 21 men and the sanitation department to 17. In 1955, he was tapped to add supervision of the garage department, which employs eight men.

Through the years, he worked and had supervision of most all of the city's public works departments, including the parks, cemetery, water distribution, and others.

Through the years, it was not always rosy. Mr. Foresyth recalled that twice the city could not meet its payroll.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday in the Rosewood Chapel of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home, with burial in the City Cemetery. The Rev. Tom Strother, pastor of Wesley Methodist Church, of which Mr. Foresyth was a member, will officiate, assisted by the Rev. Leo K. Gee, pastor of First Methodist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Dean Foresyth, 1004 Nolan; two sons, Jimmie and Jerry Foresyth, both of Big Spring; six sisters, Mrs. Loy Smith, Big Spring, Mrs. Bernice Hale, Abilene, Mrs. Ralph Bone, Plains, Mrs. Florence Garrett, Houston, and Mrs. Modell Hughes, Sacramento, Calif.; one brother, Weaver Foresyth, Big Spring; two grandchildren.

Don Ellison Is Decorated

Spec. 4 Donald R. Ellison, who has been serving the U.S. Army in Vietnam, has been awarded the Bronze Star medal for heroism.

He was seriously wounded while disregarding his own safety to administer help to wounded and evacuate them.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ellison, 1901 Rummels. His wife, Rita, and their daughter, Cindi, reside in Lamesa.

The action for which he was decorated occurred May 20, 1967, while he was serving as communications chief of Company A, 2nd Battalion, 35th Infantry. The enemy attacked the perimeter of his unit during the night, and in the initial phases, some on the perimeter were wounded.

The citation noted that "Specialist Ellison immediately volunteered to join a rescue effort, and, disregarding his own safety, moved through enemy fire to the post. After administering first aid to one of the wounded, he then moved about the company position treating other wounded. Spec. Ellison was wounded seriously by an enemy grenade, but he continued his efforts and allowed himself to be evacuated only after all other injured had been removed from the area."

BY GOVERNOR'S ORDERS Popsicle Vendor Wins His Case

SATELLITE BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A former lemonade salesman who became governor of Florida has come to the aid of an 11-year-old popsicle vendor forced into early retirement.

Gov. Claude Kirk hustled an aide off to Satellite Beach Friday with the command, "I want that stand reopened by Tuesday!" after learning that health authorities had closed down Billy Churchill's sidewalk refreshment stand.

"The governor used to operate a lemonade stand as a boy and says he personally will be on hand for the reopening Tuesday," Kirk's news secretary said.

The governor learned of Billy's plight through a telegram from the boy and his father, William F. Churchill. The telegram asked for the governor's help and charged Dr. T. Paul Haney, Brevard County Health director, discriminated against Billy in closing the stand.

The problem began last month when someone complained to the Health Department that the sidewalk stand was being operated without a permit. Among other things, a Health Department spokesman said, Billy was violating state and county health laws because he didn't have separate toilet facilities for his customers.

At the time of the closing, the youngster — who describes himself as a "small businessman" — had earned $27 selling homemade popsicles.

Sally Churchill, Billy's mother, offered to let his customers — mostly school children — use her two bathrooms if the Health Department would relent. And she said a Florida firm had offered to give her two mobile outdoor toilets, free of charge.

Two Held In Lieu Of Bond

Ronnie G. Fisk, 21, and Roy L. Goswick, 22, Snyder, are being held in the Howard County jail in lieu of $5,000 bonds on charges of robbery by assault.

The two men were arrested early Friday morning on the Snyder highway a short time after they are alleged to have taken a camper trailer from two Vernon tourists by threatening the owners with a knife. The men were first placed in the jail at Colorado City but later Wayne Burns, district attorney, filed the robbery by assault charges against the pair here. The complaint was lodged in the court of J. Gary Slaughter, justice of the peace.

Sheriff A. N. Standard dispatched a deputy to Colorado City to take custody of the pair. The two men will be taken before the Howard County grand jury which is to convene on Tuesday.

County Must Hire New Road Department Head

Each year since 1960, the Howard County Commissioners have set up $8,000 in the road and bridge department budget for the salary of a county engineer.

There has been no county engineer serving the county in those years. Walter Parks, the last county engineer the county had, left to go to New Mexico in the latter part of 1960.

Howard County operates and maintains its road department under the "1947 Optional County Road Law," approved Nov. 2, 1947, by a 2,991-1,336 vote. A referendum on Oct. 15, 1955, resulted in a second affirmative vote 532-411. There has been no further test.

The law provides that a county which adopts it will invest all of its county road building and road maintaining operations in the hands of its road and bridge department.

The department is administered by the county commissioners court "as a policy making board" and by a "county road engineer" as its chief executive officer. Under the law all road and bridge money is lumped into a single fund without regard to county commissioner precinct boundaries is spent as the county board approves, subject to the recommendations of the county road engineer.

The law specifies that the county road engineer who serves as an executive officer of the road and bridge department, should be "a professional licensed road engineer." He is hired by the county commissioners. His salary, as pegged in the original 1947 law, was $7,200. Later more leeway was allowed and commissioners budgeted $8,000 for the place.

DUAL ROLE

Billy Paul Thomas, who had been with the department for several years at the time Parks resigned, became road administrator and supervisor and has served in a combination role in lieu of county engineer. He has no professional license.

Now Thomas has resigned effective Nov. 1 to take a job with a Uvalde firm. For some time, Thomas had had no assistant. There seemingly is no logical person on the department payroll as of this time to move up to the spot which Thomas filled.

NO PLANS DISCLOSED

No one has made any comment as to the plans of the county commissioners for replacement of Thomas, who was being paid $7,200 annually at the time he resigned.

In the past commissioners said they could not hire an engineer for $8,000 per annum, and that this was all the county could afford.

The optional road plan has been effective in providing this county with an exceptionally well built and well laid out network of hard-surfaced county roads in addition to the construction and maintenance of a vast system of secondary roads.

Beginning in 1956, the commissioners set a plan in operation which contemplated the building of a fixed number of miles of new paved road each year. The goal was not always achieved in the year that it was set up, but over the past decade the county has built over 100 miles of hard-surfaced road. The quality of the roads is comparable with the state highway's FM and ranch roads.

LARGEST DEPARTMENT

Howard County road and bridge department has approximately 45 full-time workers. It has an annual budget of more than $350,000 a year and is the biggest single county governmental agency.

SPACIOUS, ELEGANT, DESCRIBE GIFT CENTER Mrs. Modesta Simpson, Mrs. Roy Bruce in new shop

OPENING MONDAY AT 604 MAIN

Modesta's Gift Center Now In New Location

Monday's formal opening of Modesta's promises local residents a view of one of the area's most unique gift centers — one offering everything from best sellers and critter candles to exotic and elegant imports.

Newly situated in a larger store at 602 Main, Modesta's was formerly at College Park Shopping Center for five years. Hours for the formal showing are 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

A color scheme in varying shades of Wedgwood blue is carried out in wall-to-wall carpeting and wall paint. Adding a touch of royal blue is a background accentuating the crystal selection. A speaker's lectern in the same color is used to display family Bibles in the book department.

Bright gold, orange and green cloths over circular display tables add colorful highlights, while a bone white west wall softly breaks the dominant blue theme.

Adjustable standards and glass shelving in the gift section allow a change of pace in display. Lighted shelves on the north wall highlight figurines and enameled room accessories, while gold shelving is used to present Dansk designs.

"Unusual presentations for the gift buyer — people looking for something different, is one of my main concerns," said Mrs. Modesta Simpson, owner.

From the moment one enters the doors, her accomplishment of this goal is evident. To the left are books, at peak periods up to 9,000 of them, on almost every imaginable topic. They cover subjects to match the moods of anyone from the youngest reader to more elderly citizens.

Quickly scanning the book titles puts one in touch with humor, sports, aviation, travel, games, cooking, etiquette, religion, psychology, photography and best sellers on both non-fiction and fiction lists.

As agent for Crane's stationery, Modesta's is the only Big Spring store designated to carry that brand. In addition, the shop also stocks a number of items manufactured by other companies. Coordinated desk sets in bright attractive colors, complemented with both plain and decorated stationery, mark the section as one of the more popular spots.

Candle corner, a new feature added to the 2,400 square foot show room, is nestled in a wood-paneled section at the back of the gift area. Here the buyer finds almost every shape, size, color and kind of candle made in the United States and abroad. Fortune telling candles for the superstitious, gold and decorative ones for formal entertaining — even those which soar 22 inches for a perfect centerpiece — find a spot in the display. Gas candles, wax-shaped liquor bottles, butterfly candle snuffers and other related items add extra charm.

Handsomely displayed in the remaining half of the store are imported and domestic gift items. In a section reserved for serving dishes and place settings are the bold, striking lines and hues of Dansk servingware. A popular item pointed out by Mrs. Simpson are fondue cheese cookery dishes designed for the national food favorite of Switzerland. Also in the area are coffee mugs in approximately 35 styles.

"Bless This Mess" reads a waist apron in the gag gift display Mrs. Simpson describes as "quite popular." For the happier moments in life, the customer can find gifts to fit any hobby or habit, such as solar cigarette lighters or motto-painted ash trays.

—AND MANY MORE Norman Rockwell figurines, Wedgwood, enameled table and smoking accessories, bar items and imported crystal are some of the elegant gift ideas arranged on mirrored shelves.

Two special items are the 1967 Royal Copenhagen porcelain Christmas plate and religious prisms of hand-blown crystal.

For the men are hard-to-find presents touching on the unusual. There's a "four-pack" of four one-quarter yards for beer, chess sets, special ash trays and desk accessories.

Boutique gifts for the women, all occasion and Christmas cards, habachi grills, personalized soap — these and others are just a few to be featured at Monday's grand opening.

Grand Jurors To Check 10 Counts

Twelve grand jurors to be selected at 9 a.m. Tuesday will hear evidence in 10 felony complaints, it was announced Saturday by Wayne Burns, district attorney.

One new case was added to the list Friday — charges of robbery by assault were filed Friday morning against Roy L. Goswick, 22, and Ronnie G. Fisk, 20, both of Snyder. The pair is accused of forcing two Vernon men, G. W. Anderson and D. C. Congle, from their camper trailer early Friday. Congle and Anderson told officers two men threatened them with knives after they had been given a ride.

The defendants were brought to Big Spring on Friday afternoon from Colorado City where they were placed in jail after their arrest.

Other cases to be considered by the grand jury, according to Burns are:

Samuel E. Dominguez, worthless check; Andy Miller, theft; Mary N. Cope, worthless check; Donald Kirkpatrick, theft of a hog; Raul Miguel Hernandez, theft over $50; D. A. Duggan, worthless check; Isidro Hernandez, statutory rape; Arthur Gustafson, worthless check; and Evie Winn, kidnapping.

The grand jurors are to be chosen by Judge Ralph Caton from a panel of 20 names selected for the court by a special jury commission last week.

Judges Will Meet Here

The judges of the district courts in the Seventh Judicial Administrative District, who will be in Big Spring on Oct. 28 for a one-day conference, will meet in the First Federal Savings and Loan Community Room.

Judge Ralph Caton, of 118th District Court, said he had talked with Judge Owen Thomas, 104th District Court at Abilene, the presiding judge of the Seventh Judicial Administrative District, and the judge had approved the site selected.

Caton said arrangements have also been made for the visiting jurists to eat lunch at the Corden Country Club.

The meeting begins at 9 a.m. Caton said it is not certain how many will be here but it is usual for district judges from all of the districts in the area to attend.

This meeting replaces one scheduled for earlier in the fall in the Rio Grande Valley. This first meeting was cancelled out by high waters following on the heels of Beulah.

Though no VMI players are in sight, Terry Sellers, 20, of Georgia sails 62-yards on a punt return accompanied by a group of cheerleaders. Sellers scored on the play. Georgia won the game, 56-6.

Chris Gilbert Leads Texas Past Porkers

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Tailback Chris Gilbert, a man with all the moves, broke two University of Texas school records, tied a Southwest Conference record and scored three touchdowns as the Longhorns put down Arkansas 21-12 Saturday afternoon before a national television audience.

Gilbert, a junior, gained 164 yards to run his 16-game total to 1,702 yards. Gib Dawson rolled up 1,633 yards during his career at Texas which spanned 1950-52. Gilbert carried 38 times, breaking his own record of 32 carries for one game and tying a Southwest Conference record. Defensive end Mike Perrin, 206-pound junior from Cameron, Tex., led the Texas defensive charge. He intercepted two passes, returned a blocked punt 19 yards to set up Texas first touchdown and blocked an extra point try.

Texas appeared to be in command of the game after Gilbert blasted 10 yards for a touchdown with 5:21 left in the third period. Rob Layne's conversion made it 14-6. Arkansas didn't pick up its initial first down of the second half until late in the third period and didn't appear to get a sustained drive going. Ronnie South, a senior quarterback who was benched after the first two games of the season, gave the Longhorns a scare by passing the Razorbacks 80 yards for a touchdown with less

U.S. Assumes Big Advantage In Ryder Cup

HOUSTON (AP) — Gardner Dickerson and Doug Sanders spun a string of seven straight 3s — five of them birdies — and added a reluctant eagle in two smashing team triumphs that paced U.S. golf professionals to a runaway 13-3 lead over the British Saturday in the 17th biennial Ryder Cup competition. Masters champion Gay Brewer and Bill Casper, ringing in 11 birdies, also scored a double victory as the Yanks swept seven of the eight 18-hole four-ball matches over the Champions Club Cypress Creek course and halved the other, which was finished in semidarkness.

Headlamps from a dozen cars provided light for the finishing hole, where a four-foot birdie attempt by Dave Thomas hung on the lip. In the halved match, the last in 11 hours of play, the surprising stars of the British side — 23-year-old Tony Jacklin and Welshman Thomas — played to a standstill with Gene Littler and Al Geiberger after losing to the same pair, in the morning on the 36th.

The rookie Jacklin and the brawny Thomas had scored Britain's only two winning points in the scotch two-ball foursomes Friday in which the United States got off to a 5½-2½ lead. Arnold Palmer, held out of the morning action, and his partner, 47-year-old Julius Boros, were forced to stage a strong comeback for a 1-up victory over Scotsman George Will and Irishman Hugh Boyle.

PALMER CHARGES The unsmiling British pair soared to a four-hole lead through nine holes with a five-under-par 31 but started sagging after three putts the 10th for their first losing hole. Then Palmer started charging, winning three of the next four holes with birdies, all on putts under six feet.

Aggies Flog TCU; Rice Nips SMU

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — a 20-0 Southwest Conference victory over Texas Christian. Billy Hobbs streaked 100 yards with a stolen pass Saturday night as Texas A&M rolled to two steps deep in the end zone on the first play of the final period and outran a flurry of frantic TCU defenders to the goal.

The record-equaling romp pushed the Aggies into a 14-0 lead and insured their second straight conference decision. The Cadets, with a story-book victory over Texas Tech last week, moved into a contending role with a 2-1 conference record.

A&M dropped its first four games. The loss was the fourth straight for the winless Horned Frogs, their second in conference play. And it was the eighth straight loss dating back into the 1966 season.

P-P-K Zone Winner

Jeryl Wayne Dickens, 11, shown here with his father, J. W., qualified for district competition in the Ford Motor Company's Punt, Pass and Kick competition by finishing first with a score of 233 in Zone competition at Midland Saturday. Jeryl Wayne and his father will go to Dallas next Saturday in transportation furnished by the Bob Brock Ford Inc., for the next level of competition. National finals are scheduled Jan. 7 in the Orange Bowl at Miami. Young Dickens, whose accuracy with a football is amazingly true, had the second highest score among all the 96 boys entered in City competition here several weeks ago. The Dickens family remains in Dallas for the SMU-Texas Tech game. The family makes its home on the Sterling City Route. Father and son display the two trophies the boy has already won in competition to date.

HOUSTON (AP) — Tailback Terry Shelton broke over tackle and raced 42 yards Saturday night for a touchdown to give Rice University a 14-10 comeback behind Southwest Conference football victory over Southern Methodist.

The win gave Rice the undisputed lead in the young Southwest Conference race. The Owls were playing their first league game and now have a 1-0 conference mark while all other members either have at least one loss or a tie. SMU is 1-1 in conference play.

Shelton, a 190-pound senior, scored both Rice touchdowns — the other on a two yard run — but it was the great Owl defense that must get credit for the victory.

The Owl defensive unit twice intercepted passes in the end zone and on another occasion, pushed the Mustangs from the one-yard-line back to the four.

SMU, which held a second quarter 10-0 lead, scored on a 32-yard field goal by Dennis Partee and on a four yard pass from Mike Livingston to Daryl Doggett.

TAKE CHARGE IN SEC RACE

Tide Loses To Vols; First In 26 Games

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Third-string quarterback Bubba Wyche led a fired-up Tennessee team to a 24-13 victory over Alabama Saturday, the first defeat for the proud Crimson Tide in 26 games.

The victory by the seventh-ranked Vols over No. 6 Alabama put Tennessee in a commanding position in the Southeastern Conference race. Wyche, operating with the aplomb of a veteran, directed a Tennessee running and passing attack that kept the pressure on Alabama most of the game.

The Tide, down 17-13 with less than two minutes to go, came fighting back but defender Albert Dorsey picked off his third interception of the day and raced 31 yards into the end zone for the clincher. The alert Vols picked off five of Alabama quarterback Kenny Stabler's passes. The victory was the first for the Vols over Alabama since 1960. The 1965 game ended in a

7-7 tie. The last team to defeat Alabama before Saturday was Georgia, 18-17 in the first game of the 1965 season. The first half ended in a 7-7 tie on a one-yard run by Tennessee tailback Walter Chadwick and an 8-yard sprint by the Tide's Stabler. Tennessee grabbed the lead for good midway of the third period on a play that completely fooled the Alabama defense. Wyche pitched out to Chadwick and he tossed an 11-yard pass

Potent Oklahoma Stampedes State

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Spindley Bob Warmack's faking running and passing to Eddie Hinton led potent Oklahoma in an impressive 46-7 victory Saturday.

Kansas State could never be certain whether the 6-2, 170-pound Warmack had given the ball to one of his runners or really had the ball on his hip, running wide.

Wilson, switched to halfback this fall by Murray Warmack and returned to quarterback only this week in an apparent goal to beef up Minnesota's running attack, completed 14 of 28 passes for 262 yards.

WON-LOST RECORD IS 5-1

Hinds-To-Flores Aerial Gives Shorthorns Win

Odessa got the first break of the contest early in the opening period when Shorthorn center Roy Anderson's snap went wild and Odessa took over at the Big Spring 22. An offside fine moved the ball to the 17. The locals dug in, as Mark Green replaced Tommy Ward at quarterback for the visitors and drove to the one-yard line. On the payoff pitch the next play, Billy Spier pounced on an Odessa fumble and killed the drive.

After Big Spring failed to move, Odessa took over on the locals' 34 and drove to the 12, first down. Another Broncho bobbled the Shorthorns the ball at the 14, with a penalty moving it out to the 29. As the second period opened, Gary Hinds tossed a 23-yard touchdown pass to Luven Flores for the game's only score. The PAT kick was blocked by Dan Dumaway. Playing catch-up the rest of the way, the visitors failed to keep any sustained drives going, but threatened at the Horn 34 as the half expired. The third period was highlighted by a 20-yard jaunt by Ricky Thomas for the local eleven, but both defenses stiffened until Jimmy Wilson recovered another Broncho bobble at their 35. A John Patton to Flores pass put the ball at the Odessa nine, first down, but the drive was killed by staunch Pony defense.

Wilson Leads Gopher Surge

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Curt Wilson, Minnesota's running quarterback of 1966, stunned Michigan State and 56-554 Gopher homecoming fans by firing three touchdown passes Saturday, leading the Gophers to a 21-0 victory over the Spartans in a Big Ten game. It was the Spartans' first Big Ten defeat in 17 conference games, since Illinois beat MSU 16-0 in the final game of 1964. That also was the last time before Saturday the Spartans were shut out over 26 games. Wilson, switched to halfback this fall by Murray Warmack and returned to quarterback only this week in an apparent goal to beef up Minnesota's running attack, completed 14 of 28 passes for 262 yards.

Passing By Pajcic Ruins Tech Hopes

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Statistics of the Texas Tech-Florida State University football game.

Rushing yardage	227	144
Passing yardage	31	260
Return yardage	138	77

Yards penalties	144	48

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Sharp passing by Florida State quarterback Gary Pajcic led the Seminoles to a 28-12 victory Saturday over Texas Tech as heavy penalties nearly stymied the Red Raiders. Pajcic threw to his favorite receiver, Ron Sellers, and two others on two touchdown drives. A 41-yard pass interference call helped Florida State on another 78-yard scoring drive while a total of 40 yards of penalties against Texas Tech on one play pushed the Seminoles most of the way on a 79-yard march to a touchdown. The Seminoles racked up their third straight victory before an enthusiastic homecoming crowd of 33,179. Pajcic hit 13 of his 20 passes for 157 yards, most of them to Sellers — a passing combination that began in a Jacksonville high school. Kenny Vinyard broke the Florida State 41-yard field goal record with a 42-yard boot in the second quarter, then topped his own performance with a 50-yard field goal. The only Texas Tech touchdown came after defensive tackle Gene Darr recovered a fumble by Seminole Bill Moremen on Florida State's 25. Five plays later, quarterback John Scovell scored on a determined eight-yard run around left end. The penalty incident came when a personal foul was called against Tech on an incomplete pass which started from Florida State's 40. Red Raider Coach J. T. King came on field to protest as the penalty was stepped off from midfield instead of the 40. Officials added another 15 yards, moving the ball to Texas Tech's 20-yard line.

Cadets Stomp Rutgers, 13-3

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Charlie Jarvis, Army's 205-pound junior fullback, scored two first half touchdowns, one on a 34-yard pitchout, as the Cadets defeated Rutgers Saturday 13-3. The game was marked by the erasing of one of Army's prize football records. End Terry Young caught a 20-yard pass to raise his career total to 1,047 yards, eclipsing the mark of 1,044 set by Bill Carpenter, the famous Lonely End of 1937-8. Jarvis' first touchdown, the 34-yarder on a pitchout from sophomore quarterback Roger Ledoux, came after eight minutes of play and was set up by an interception of Bruce Van Ness' pass on the Army 30 by Dick Luecke. Luecke returned to the Rutgers 48 from where Army punched to the 34. Rutgers came right back, scoring a field goal by Jim Dulin, their great kicker, from 32 yards out, after Sid Rhines recovered Jarvis' fumble on the Army 23. Army put the game on ice in the second period after a field goal attempt by Nick Kurilko was downed on the Rutgers' two and Rutgers quick kicked out to the 21. From there, the Cadets pounded to the seven and then Jarvis drove over right guard for the touchdown.

Goliad Cowboys Grab Fourth Straight Win

The Goliad Cowboys ran their Seventh Grade league football record to 4-0 and clinched a tie for first place in the standings by turning back the Runnels Packers, 28-14, here Saturday morning. In other action, the Runnels Saints banged out a 18-0 victory over the Goliad Wranglers. Behind the Cowboys in the standings are the Packers, 2-2; Saints, 1-2-1; and Wranglers, 0-3-1. In the feature game, Randy

Crittenden ran 60 yards for a score following a pass interception and the Cowboys' first score in the opening period. Ricky Steen added the extra point. In the second, Runnels counted on a reverse play that carried 40 yards but the try for PAT failed. Dale Denis put the Cowboys farther out in front in the second on a 30-yard end sweep to the left. In the third round, Runnels counted from two yards out to make it 13-12, then went ahead by adding two points on a run. On the first play of the fourth, Steen punted 55 yards, then ran down and caught the Runnels safety man, who had retreated into the Packer end zone, for a safety. The Cowboys increased their lead to 21-14 when Steen bounced over from the two following a long drive. Runnels later gambled for a first down needing 12 yards and failed, Goliad taking the ball on the enemy's 35. The Cowboys drove on down to the three, from which point Donell Robinson went over. Steen again booted the PAT. Cornerback Crittenden, right end Mike Parker and guard

Greg Crawford excelled on defense for the Goliad team. Fullback Dick Conley rumbled across for both of the Saints' touchdowns, counting in the second period and again in the third. Quarterback Terry Davis added two extra points on a run and Conley got the other two the same way. Halfback J. T. Smith set up one TD for the winners on a 45-yard run. Larry Gonzales, Bob Coleman and Smith were outstanding on defense for the Saints, as was linebacker Conley.

Hoosiers Win 5th Straight

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Sophomore John Isenberger, who scored two touchdowns and passed for a third, rammed one yard for the deciding score with 1:10 to play, bringing unbeaten Indiana a 27-20 Big Ten victory over a scrappy Michigan team Saturday. The Hoosiers, now 5-0 over-all and 3-0 in the conference, are off to their best start since 1945 when Indiana won its only conference title. The Hoosiers Harry Gonso drove his team 50 yards in 11 plays for the deciding touchdown after Michigan's Mike Hankwitz missed a 22-yard field goal attempt with four minutes to play. The Wolverines, now 1-4 and 0-2 in the Big Ten, knotted the score at 20-20 with eight minutes to play on a one-yard plunge by Ron Johnson. Indiana jumped to a 14-0 lead in the first quarter, scoring twice within a three-minute span, and led 20-0 before Michigan began its comeback. Isenberger raced 26 yards with the first TD, capping a 77-yard drive. Michigan's Johnson fumbled at his own 34 and Gonso moved his team in for another score in five plays, hitting end Eric Stolberg with an eight-yard pass for the score. Another Michigan fumble, this one at the Wolverine 41, set up the third score, a 41-yard pass from Isenberger to Jade Butcher.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Steer Gate To Improve

By TOMMY HART

A paid crowd of 5,775 witnessed the Midland-Big Spring football game here last week, contributing toward a gross income of $6,276.75. The season's turnout for three home games (Lamesa, Plainview and Midland) totals 16,840, compared to the 16,478 which witnessed the first three home contests last year — with Snyder, Midland Lee and Abilene. Big Spring's over-all gate should be substantially larger than it was last year, with Abilene Cooper coming in with its horde of followers this week and the Steers due to wind up in San Angelo, which invariably draws well. Final figures on the crowd the Steers and Midland Lee drew in Midland several weeks ago are not in but the net turnout should have approached 10,000. W. O. (Watty) Watkins, 50, who performed against Big Spring for Roswell in the old WT-NM league several times prior to World War II, died recently in Houston. Watkins later managed a Houston team that won the National Semi-Pro championship at Wichita, Kan. Shorty Snyder says that, in the wake of San Angelo's recent football reverses, the fans should be referring to the Bobcats as the Burnt Orange rather than Angry Orange. Coach Don Stevens of Forsan High School was expecting one of the school's finest girl basketball teams until one of his players got married but the Buffalo Queens should still be as good as the best before the 1967-68 campaign is history. The team will be built around Mollie Condon, who averaged 24 points a game last year, and all-state guard Deryl Dunagan. No one plays football harder than Texas Tech's center, Jerry Turner — he dropped ten pounds in the Raiders' game with Texas A&M. The Mississippi State Maroons didn't spend a night in Lubbock during their recent trip west to play Tech. They flew to Lubbock the morning of the game, rested in a motel during the afternoon and then flew back home that night. When they arrived on their campus at 2 a.m. they were greeted by an enthusiastic crowd estimated at 4,000.

SONNY JACKSON

If America's appetite for football ever wanes, I think an excess of uneven officiating rather than over-emphasis will deal the death blow. This is not to fault the conscientious arbiters who make every effort to blend into the background but rather those officials who never let the team develop any consistency by crowding into the spotlight on every maneuver. There are arbiters who can't resist rising to dramatic heights by throwing their flags on long, spectacular plays. A very questionable call cost the Big Spring Steers a possible victory in the recent game with Midland High here the other night, when visiting players kept hitting Rocky Wooley after he had been downed, yet one arbiter insisted the play was not dead. Harry Mehre of the Atlanta Journal says he is convinced the calibre of officiating will not improve until the custom of getting half the arbiting team from one region and half from another is abandoned. Such a practice is practically a guarantee for a poorly-officiated game, Mehre (a former coach) maintains. I am sure most officials are completely honest but the arbiter who starts looking for infractions before they happen (reasoning he has to call 'something' in order to earn his money) is not a good official. California is not kind to the Kansas City Chiefs of the AFL—they've dropped five games in a row out that way. I don't think this happened in a local classroom but a teacher, explaining a math problem on the blackboard, was pleased to see that her dullest student, an athlete, was watching intently. When she finished, she said, "Jim, you were so interested, I wonder if you had any questions?" "Yes Ma'm," replied the boy, "I got one. Where do the numbers go when you rub 'em off the board?" One of the fine football players Coahoma fans will be watching in their Homecoming Game next Saturday night is fullback Steve Fuller, an all-state performer for Jal, N.M., last season. Bill Gray, the public schools' building supervisor here, says he plans to plow up Memorial Stadium's playing field after this season and replace it with an ideal crown. Houston should have traded infielder Sonny Jackson out of the National League rather than to Atlanta, when it decided to deal him away. He'll come back to haunt them.

Officials added another 15 yards, moving the ball to Texas Tech's 20-yard line.

WARDS ALL-NEW RIVERSIDE L.M.T. LONG MILEAGE TIRE

The only tire you can buy with guaranteed free replacement on tread wear! Here's why...

The Riverside L.M.T. is a completely new tire. The only one of its kind. It has a new polyester cord body that's as strong as nylon. Yet as smooth riding as rayon. And the L.M.T. has not 2, but 4 full plies of polyester cord—for extra mileage and strength. The L.M.T. is concave molded—like the racing tires that go the full 500 miles at Indianapolis. New concave molding lets the L.M.T. run cooler... so it lasts longer. Gives it a flat, even footprint... for greater traction and even tread wear. A new high-speed, wrap-around tread makes the L.M.T. at home on turnpike or boulevard. And it's siped full depth... to give safe traction for the life of the tread! It all adds up to a new kind of tire. One that can perform as well as it's guaranteed. And no other tire you can buy is guaranteed like Wards new Riverside L.M.T.

Stanton Buffs Rally To Vanquish Post

By NATE MITCHELL — A 7-0 first period and seemed down, and out performed his teammates on defense with a determined 17 tackles for the evening. Back Alan Gregston chipped in 93 yards of offensive effort in the clash.

Injured David Jones, Stanton's regular signal caller, directed most of the Buff attack although heavily bound to protect his back. Pat Hall, a senior who also quarterbacks for Stanton when he is off the disabled list, came to Jones' rescue throughout the contest and did an admirable job.

A Bison miscue at their own 44-yard stripe, teamed with a 15-step fine, put the home squad at Stanton's 31, first down. Antelope pilot, Ray Altman, made two hand-offs and connected on a six-pointer — with tallback Jim Pollard accepting the ball in the end zone. The kick made it 7-0, Post.

BOUNDS OVER
David Jones took his "Big Red" 51 yards in eight plays — with Decker bounding over from the four — to get Stanton on the scoreboard. Jones came right back with a pass to Gregston which was batted up in the air, but Alan jumped high to snare it for the two-point bonus.

Displaying an august performance before the large homecoming crowd, Altman combined a 35-yard pass with a fine piece of running by his brother, Denny, to get to the Buff 25. A major infraction by Stanton advanced the ball to the Buff 12, where it became first and goal from the nine after a play. Decker, doing a superb job as middle linebacker, exploded through the Prognhorn wall the next two plays — throwing QB Altman all the way back to his 13-yard line.

On fourth down and a mile to go, an Altman-to-Altman pass produced Post's second touchdown. Denny made an unbelievable leaping, one-handed grab in the corner of the end zone for the score. The kick for PAT missed, leaving Post out front, 13-8.

Determined to recover an on-side kick, the Prognhorns tried it again, but John McMeans was there at the Buff 47. After being thrown back to their own 38 due to a penalty, the Buffs went 54 yards in 11 strategems, with Gregston going off tackle for a six-yard TD. A Jones pass to David Avery, plus substantial surges by Decker set up the score. The running PAT attempt was short, but Stanton recaptured the lead as the half ended.

JARS BALL LOOSE
Neither squad scored in the third segment, but Post threatened with a first down at the Buff 21. Decker's bruising tackle, however, jarred the ball away and Denny Brantley was there for the Bison recovery. With less than a half minute remaining in the period, Decker took a Pat Hall pitch at the Buff 25 and stormed 50 even yards to the enemy 25 before being halted. The period ended with Stanton at the seven, first down.

Coming off the bench, David Jones performed a perfect fake to Decker, then tucked the ball away and strolled to pay dirt untouched. For the PAT, Jones tried the same play, reversed his field and raced in with the two-point bonus.
In the waning minutes of the clash, Butch Curry stole a pass away from Denny Altman at the Buff 20 and raced 45 yards to the Prognhorn 35. A Bison fumble killed the drive. Later, David Jones hit Jim Jones at the one inch line, but the home team recovered a fumble in the end zone as the time ran out.

Clanton Goes In

Lonnie Clanton (44) is shown scoring one of the two touchdowns he managed against Abilene High in Abilene Friday night. Clanton played despite a gimpy leg. Big Spring won a 25-20 thriller in the District 2-AAAAA contest.

Vancouver Is Lone Survivor

TORONTO (AP) — The death of a major league franchise at 78 years of age of the Toronto Maple Leafs' ball club leaves only a single survivor from what was once an impressive list of organized professional baseball teams representing Canadian cities.

The only Canadian franchise still breathing is at Vancouver, B.C., of the Pacific Coast League. The Mounties are affiliates of the Kansas City A's, themselves given permission recently to move next year to Oakland, Calif.

Toronto will be replaced in the International League in 1968 by Louisville, Ky., the site of horse racing's Kentucky Derby. And the 100,000 persons who watch the Run for the Roses annually are 19,000 more than witnessed all of the Leafs' home games in 1967.

LOSES HEAVILY
Under community ownership, the team lost an estimated $500,000 during the past four years, and in at least a couple of those campaigns with players who later starred for the Boston Red Sox, 1967 American League pennant winners.

Outfielder Reggie Smith, second baseman Mike Andrews, first baseman George Scott and catcher Russ Gibson and Mike Ryan were among the former Leafs who helped Boston win its first flag since 1946.

The demise of the Leafs, which placed fifth in the IL the past season, can be traced to 1966 when their fans were led to believe the city was in the running.

Mustangs Crowd By Littlefield
SWEETWATER — Sweetwater's Mustangs slammed Littlefield 33-21 here Friday night to up their district 3-AAA record to 3-1.

Quarterback Aubrey McCain and Tailback David Redwine led a first half effort for Sweetwater that chalked up 27 of the 33 points. McCain scored from four yards out and threw a 23-yard TD aerial to Kent Boatright. Redwine scored on runs of one and two to up the Horsies' advantage to 27-0 at halftime.

Redwine opened the final half's scoring parade on a four-yard drive play. Littlefield dominated play from there on as they scored once in the third period and twice in the final canto to account for their 21 points.

Panthers Play Spoiler, Drubs Midland Lee Rebs
ODESSA — State-ranked Odessa Permian played the role of the spoiler here Friday night as the Panthers knocked the Midland Lee Rebels out of a share of the District 2-AAAAA lead by a 7-0 punch.

The game was actually a runaway in every department except scoring as the Panthers dominated the entire game. They rolled up a 274-54 total offense and had 18 first downs to 4 for Lee.

Cup Captain May Live Up To Promise

LONDON (AP) — Before Owen Davidson, Australian tennis star, left home for London to become professional coach to Britain's Davis Cup Squad, he made a farewell promise to his old teacher, Harry Hopman.

"I'll be back in 1968," he said, "and I'll be bringing the British team to play Australia in the challenge round."

To set about that task, Davidson intends to employ the methods of Hopman himself—a ruthless program of hard work for Britain's up-and-coming youngsters.

MUST WORK HARD
"They're going to have to work harder than they've ever worked before," the 25-year-old left-hander said on arrival at Wimbledon.

Davidson's job, worth $8,400 a year, is officially coach to the All-England Club—the club that runs the Wimbledon tournament. But under a traditional arrangement he is also responsible for coaching the Davis Cup team, the Wightman Cup girls' squad and the young players who are being groomed for national selection.

Britain has been without a full-time national coach since George Worthington, another Australian, died three years ago.

This country prides itself on being still a leading tennis power. Wimbledon is still the unofficial championship of the world. Sell-out crowds pack the Center Court for the big tournament year after year.

But since World War II Britain's playing results have slumped. It has won the European Zone of the Davis Cup once—in 1963—and produced one Wimbledon singles champion—Angela Mortimer, winner in 1961.

Tennis officials are looking to Davidson to lead British tennis back to the glories of the thirties. Between 1933 and 1937 Britain won the Davis Cup four times, and Fred Perry was three times Wimbledon champion and three times winner of the U.S. title.

Davo, as they call Davidson on the world amateur circuit, wrote his name into Wimbledon history in 1966 when he reached the semifinals of the men's singles.

TRIED STOLLE
Britain's tennis chiefs had been looking for a dedicated Australian to take over their Davis Cup squad.

They tried Fred Stolle, but he preferred to join the big-money professional circuit.

Davidson, who never made the Australian Davis Cup team despite his spectacular 1966 Wimbledon run, decided to leave the amateur ranks and take up the British challenge.

Almost the first thing he did on arrival was to have an argument with Mark Cox, 21-year-old British hopeful.

Midland Ekes Out Victory

MIDLAND — A penalty on a PAT attempt spelled the difference and handed the Midland Bulldogs a scanty 7-6 victory over the Odessa Bronchos here Friday night.

The victory enabled the Bulldogs to remain undefeated in loop play while the Broncos plunged to their third straight loss.

All the offensive action took place in the initial half with the closing half being dedicated to defensive standoffs.

The difference in the contest came after Odessa had scored in the first period on a 45-yard TD aerial from David Taylor to Bryce Pool. Ronny Peoples then kicked the extra point, but a penalty erased the effort. On a second PAT try, they elected to go for two points, but the pass fell incomplete.

In the second period, the Bulldogs returned when halfback Steve Shanessy scored on a 4-yard sprint to cap a 34-yard drive. Mike Cool cooly kicked the all-important PAT which proved to be the winning margin.

Forsan Wins Second Conference Decision

Following the last TD, Dolan ran in the two extra points. Nose guard Bill Crutcher became a member of Forsan's exclusive Black Mamba club by getting 16 tackles, thus earning a helmet star for the sixth time. Linebacker Gayland Reed had 15 tackles for the winners, left end Randy Banks 17, Jackie Wil-

RIC-RACK PATTI-WAC First locally bred point champion

Kennel Club Plans Scrap Collection To Raise Funds

Plans for a scrap metal drive to raise funds for an ARK-licensed dog show were discussed at the regular meeting of the Big Spring Kennel Club. The club met in the Community Room of First Federal Savings & Loan.

Anyone having scrap metal of any size or type is urged to call Bruce Wright, (267-8276) or Dorothy Linn, (263-4490) or Lois Jernigan, (267-5063). Club members will pick up the metal starting with an all-day drive on Oct. 28 and continuing throughout the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tubb received a plaque in recognition of their collie home-bred champion, Ric - Rack Patti - Wac, which finished to the title in June of this year. She is the first locally bred champion and won her points in seven states from Arizona to Florida in completing her championship total.

Sissy, a German Shepherd dog owned by Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Jernigan, has won the three legs toward her companion dog degree on the recent West Tex-

Cooper Rolls On In 2-4A Competition

SAN ANGELO—Ablene Cooper, breaking the jinx of the Orange, deflated a group of high-flying San Angelo Bobcats 28-7 here Friday night before a packed house. Tough defenses led to the exchanging of 13 punts through the game while each team was limited to 165 yards rushing. The game began in a stalemate with neither team able to move the ball. With the ball sitting on his own 17 yard stripe late in the first quarter, All-state candidate Kenny Stephens banged over right tackle and set sail on an 83 yard trip to paydirt. John Villareal added his first of four PAT's on the extra point try.

The continuation of punting exchanges held on until deep into the third quarter. With everybody getting into the running act, Mildren loped around left end and fell over the glory line from the 11.

Cougar center Skitch Rougeux will always remember the final TD. He scored it. A Mildren pass was batted into the air at the three, and from nowhere, Rougeux shot forward, grabbed the ball, and fell into the end zone. Following a war dance by Rougeux, the defense returned to shut the Bobcats out.

For the number one ranked Cougars it was their seventh victory of the season and the third in district play. The Orange's mark fell to 0-3 for circuit play.

Wolves kayoed By Stamford

STAMFORD — Stamford's fired-up Bulldogs struck for three quick touchdowns in the second quarter to build up a 22-0 halftime lead over the Colorado City Wolves here Friday night, and then coasted in for a decisive 35-0 victory.

Actually, the game was a hard-fought offensive battle in which even the losing Wolves made 21 first downs and 228 yards.

Responsible for the majority of the second quarter damage was Stamford tailback Rene Alvarez. The speedy back journeyed 26 three footers for one score and then took a two-yard pass and turned it into a 47-yard trip to gold dust.

End Jondy Selmon tallied on TD aeriels of 21 and five.

The win put Stamford into a tie for first place in District 5-AA with Haskell and Hamlin—all with identical 2-0 records. The Bulldogs are 4-1-1 for the season while Colorado City is 3-3.

GAIL — Despite a three-touchdown spurge by Flower Grove's Jimmy Walker, the Borden County Coyotes edged the Dragons, 22-18, in a District 3-B eight-man encounter here Friday night.

A first inning safety, which occurred when the Flower Grove center snapped the ball over a back's head and out of the end zone, helped Gail achieve its win.

After picking up the safety, Gail counted again in the first period when Hensley went seven yards on a keep play.

Flower Grove got on the board in the opening round when Walker raced 75 yards on the ensuing kickoff. Flower Grove, however, failed to convert.

In the second, the Coyotes tallied again on a 35-yard pass play to take a 14-6 edge.

No scoring resulted in the third but Flower Grove went ahead in the fourth on rollout plays by Walker, one for seven yards and the other for ten.

John Unitas Goes After New Record

John Unitas goes after another record and the Baltimore Colts try to stretch their unbeaten streak through six games Sunday at Minnesota as the National Football League runs off another full eight-game program.

11 Unitas breaks many more records there will be a movement to stuff him and ship him off to the Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio. Among his many accomplishments are throwing the most touchdown passes, passing for the most yardage and throwing the most passes in NFL history. Eight completions Sunday will move him past Y.A. Tittle's mark of 2,118.

The Colts, 4-0-1, are the only unbeaten team in the league and the leaders in the Coastal Division of the Western Conference. However, they bump into a Viking 1-4, that has just upset Green Bay 10-7 and is beginning to get its feet on the ground.

Baltimore has won five straight from the Vikings and holds a 10-2 edge in the series. However, the doubtful status of tackle Jim Parker and end Raymond Berry and the probable loss of defensive end Ordell Braase help Minnesota's chances.

The Green Bay Packers, 3-1-1, come to New York, 3-2, for the first time in regular season play since 1959. Vince Lombardi's first year. The Packers have won 11 straight over the Giants, including eight pre-season, one regular season and two title games.

Although Green Bay won an exhibition game 31-14 Sept. 9 the Giants are sky high after Fran Tarkenton's game against Pittsburgh. Bart Starr's uncertain status clouds the Green Bay situation.

St. Louis, 3-2, comes home to repeat a pre-season decision over San Francisco, 4-1, at Kzar Stadium. The Saints won 24-10 on Aug. 26 when it didn't count.

Gary Cuozzo has taken over as New Orleans quarterback for Bill Kilmer, the ex-49er. San Francisco's attack is in high gear with Ken Willard and Gary Lewis running and John Brodie throwing behind that solid front wall.

Gale Sayers of the Chicago Bears, 2-3, and Leroy Kelly of Cleveland, 3-2, will meet in a head-to-head duel at Cleveland when the Bears and Browns clash for the first time since 1961. The return of Gary Collins has perked up the Browns' air game and the Bears' revamped offensive line is making a few holes for Sayers.

Mel Farr's injury has shaken the Detroit Lions, 1-3-1, who will be at home to winless Atlanta, 0-4-1, which got away with a tie against Washington last Sunday on a field goal at the final gun. Detroit won the only previous meeting, 28-10 last year.

Sterling had one touchdown called back in the second due to a penalty.

The defeat was Sands' first in eight-man play this season and left it with a 4-2 record. The Pones go to Garden City for a crucial test Friday night.

On defense, Ken Gillespie led the Sands' team with 19 tackles while Maxwell had 16, Alfonso Calvio 14 and Jim Fryar 13.

On offense, the entire Sands backfield shone along with Jim Fryar, Kelly Gaskin, Joe Grigg and Ronnie Taylor.

Score by quarters: Sands ..... 0 0 0 0-0 Sterling City ..... 0 0 0 8-8

Long Pass Enables Flock To Sneak By Sands, 8-6

extra points on Esau Vargas' slant run to edge Sands, 8-6, in an important District 3-B eight-man game here Friday night.

The Mustangs had a slight edge in statistics and seemed on their way to victory until Vargas took a pass from quarterback Phil Cole and raced 55 yards to score on a third down play.

Sands had scored in the third when Lance Hopper slipped a pass to Kym Maxwell for six yards at the end of a 46-yard drive.

The Mustangs tried to add the two PAT's on a run but failed.

The Pones advanced as far as Sterling's eight in the second period but were saddled with a 15-yard holding infraction.

Sterling had one touchdown called back in the second due to a penalty.

The defeat was Sands' first in eight-man play this season and left it with a 4-2 record. The Pones go to Garden City for a crucial test Friday night.

On defense, Ken Gillespie led the Sands' team with 19 tackles while Maxwell had 16, Alfonso Calvio 14 and Jim Fryar 13.

Snyder Rolls Past Chiefs

SNYDER — High-flying Snyder climbed to a 26-7 halftime margin here Friday night and coasted in to a 33-14 District 3-AAA victory over the Lake View Chiefs.

The victory, which was the third district win in a row for the Tigers, was established in the first half on fine performances by Raymond Rios and Efrain Cervantez. Each member of the duo scored two TD's in the initial half.

Lake View scored first to take a 7-0 lead. However, Rios scampered 12 yards to paydirt to cap a 61 yard drive. The PAT was good. After an exchange of punts, Rios broke for 39 hash marks and another six points.

A 97-yard punt return for a TD by Chief Terry Ford was annulled by a penalty. Cervantez caught two second canto aeriels for TD's off the arm of Steve Holder on play of eight and 53 yards.

Rios chalked up a third score on a five yard run to paydirt in the final period of play.

Wolves Kayoed By Stamford

STAMFORD — Stamford's fired-up Bulldogs struck for three quick touchdowns in the second quarter to build up a 22-0 halftime lead over the Colorado City Wolves here Friday night, and then coasted in for a decisive 35-0 victory.

Actually, the game was a hard-fought offensive battle in which even the losing Wolves made 21 first downs and 228 yards.

Responsible for the majority of the second quarter damage was Stamford tailback Rene Alvarez. The speedy back journeyed 26 three footers for one score and then took a two-yard pass and turned it into a 47-yard trip to gold dust.

End Jondy Selmon tallied on TD aeriels of 21 and five.

The win put Stamford into a tie for first place in District 5-AA with Haskell and Hamlin—all with identical 2-0 records. The Bulldogs are 4-1-1 for the season while Colorado City is 3-3.

GAIL — Despite a three-touchdown spurge by Flower Grove's Jimmy Walker, the Borden County Coyotes edged the Dragons, 22-18, in a District 3-B eight-man encounter here Friday night.

A first inning safety, which occurred when the Flower Grove center snapped the ball over a back's head and out of the end zone, helped Gail achieve its win.

After picking up the safety, Gail counted again in the first period when Hensley went seven yards on a keep play.

Columbia Lions Beaten, 21-7

NEW YORK (AP) — Workhorse Don Barrows, scoring one touchdown and setting up two others, spearheaded Yale's rushing attack that ground under Columbia 21-7 Saturday for the Bulldogs' third victory in four games and second without a loss in the Ivy League.

While the Yale line completely bottled up Columbia's scrambling quarterback, Marty Domres, Barrows carried for most of the yardage on scoring drives in the second and third periods and powered over from the two in the final quarter. He finished with 141 yards on 26 carries. The Elis collected 324 yards on the ground.

“Touchdown!”

By JO BRIGHT

When the signal comes that sets a football in motion, thousands of eyes are fastened on the healthy young athletes that struggle to hold their ground — or push to gain a yard that might determine the outcome of the game.

As the play ends, attention often shifts to the sidelines as fans study the actions or reactions of the coaches who have brought the team to this point of competition. The training has meant toughness, discipline, long hours — and sometimes short rewards. The scoreboard tells little of the story, yet, to some, it is all that matters.

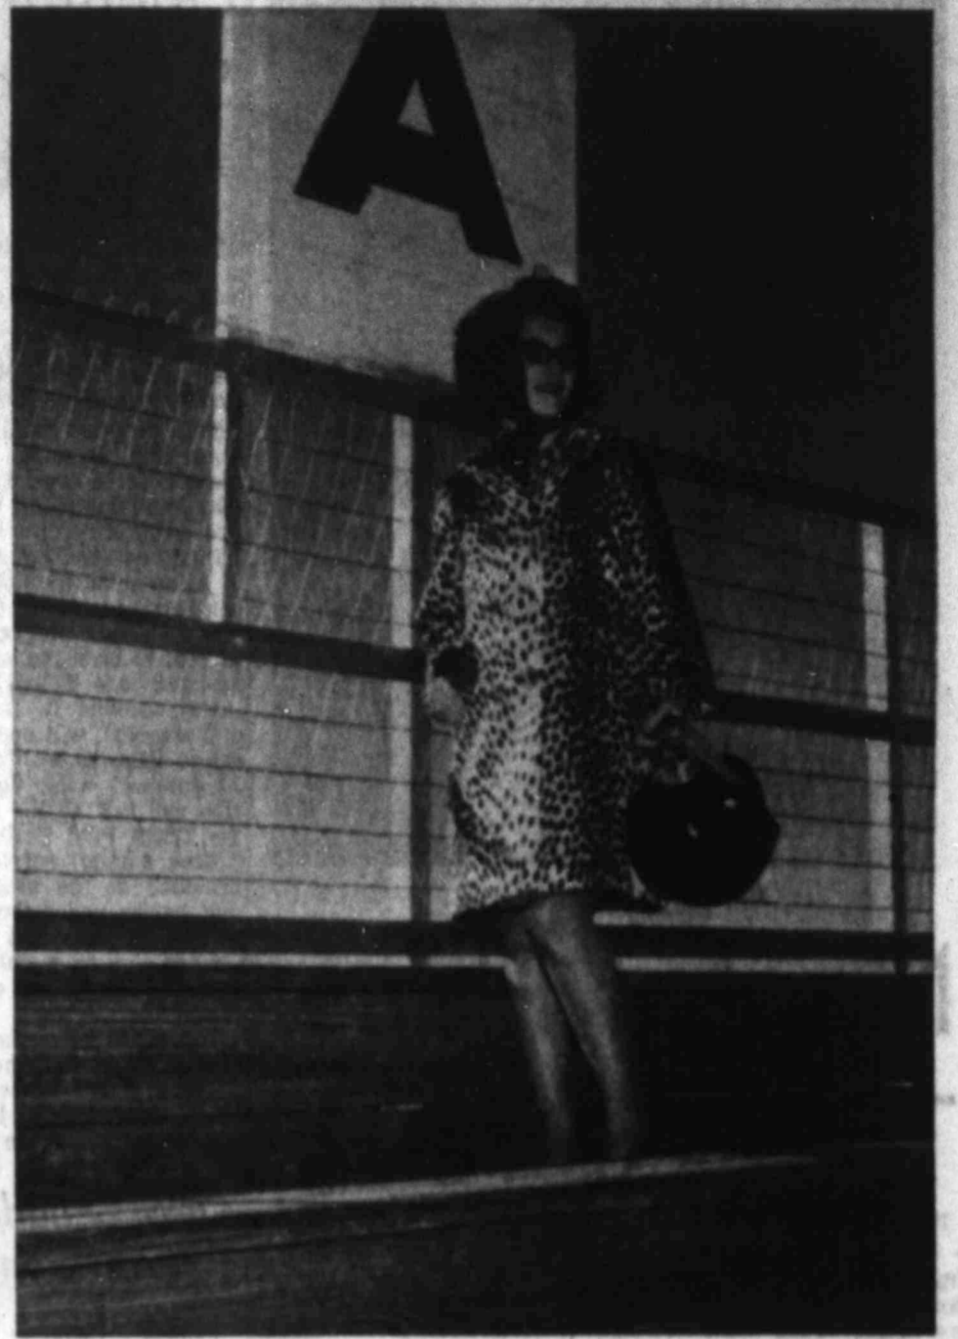

The rest is important to many — the players and their parents, teachers and friends — and the coaches and their families. These people, actively or otherwise, touch the lives of these young men and hold the hope that each will be a winner — when the stadium is darkened and the cheers become silence.

Shown today are wives of coaches at Big Spring Senior High School. They are women who “wait out” the season as dinners grow cold and children are put to bed before their fathers come home from the practice field.

The wait is worth it — for there will always be a Friday night — and a team to cheer to victory. “Go, Big Steers!”

Miss McDonald's chosen colors of red and white were carried out in the decorative motif. The bride's table was covered with a gold cloth, overlaid with net and centered with a tall gold and white cupid figurine holding white anthuriums, white butterfly roses and Fuji chrysanthemums. The focal point was gold sequined bells tied with satin streamers engraved with the wedding date, Dec. 22.

The register table was accented with a matching smaller figurine arrangement. The large table in the den was laid with a linen cloth, which the honoree brought from Venice, and the

Keith Swim Explains Head Start Program

The 1948 Hyperion Club met Thursday in the Blue Room of Cosden Country Club with Mrs. Ross Boykin and Mrs. Glen Cox as hostesses.

Mrs. R. W. Whipkey was program leader, and Mrs. Cox, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker, Keith Swim. Swim has been with the Big Spring Independent School District as administrative assistant, directing special programs including the Head Start program and adult basic education.

Operation Head Start stems from the president's poverty program. A majority of school teachers say they can tell almost from the first year which students are potential dropouts who will likely become welfare recipients. The purpose of the Head Start program is to cut down the number of dropouts.

AMONG FIRST

Three years ago the program was held for two months; two years ago for five months, and the district is now in the second year of operating the program for nine months. This district is among the first in the Southwest to be granted a nine-month program. The program operates at Kate Morrison School with children from four schools in town with the highest concentration of low income families. The ethnic ratio is 60 to 65 per cent Latin American, 17 per cent Anglo, and the balance is Negro. Each class has the same proportionate ratio.

Two hundred students are permitted under the program, and they are under the supervision of 10 teachers, 10 aides, one full-time nurse and one social worker who also assists the nurse.

The four- and five-year-old youngsters receive well-balanced lunches with early morning and afternoon snacks. A medical examination is given each child, and $67.50 per child is allowed for medical expenses. There is a rest period after lunch.

Swim showed numerous slides to illustrate how teachers, go-

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

There is a name for the fear of heights which escapes me at the moment but whatever it is called, I have it. This fear doesn't carry into the field of air flight, as a matter of fact I feel quite safe in an airborne plane.

The type of heights that simply does me in is going around the mountain on the outside edge or looking from the tower of a 60-story building straight down to the street where the cars look like ants.

They tell me I have missed quite a scene by not taking the little narrow gauge train ride from Durango to Silverton, Colo. But I counter with 'I have seen a mountain' and stick to the road that goes mostly inside, through tunnels. I once went through Yellow Stone National Park with a driver who thought the riders would feel safer if he drove the car always next to the mountainside. This thought he carried with him even though he was on the wrong side of the road. I have never recovered and I don't like mountain driving... when it's next to the great beyond, so far as I am concerned.

Another experience that warped me was going over the Royal Gorge... it was years ago and the Million Dollar Highway only had a few thousands spent on it then. I know that times have changed and the highways are better but I'm older and would like to get a lot more so, so I'm sticking to IS 20 and US 87. If I have to, I drive visitors up on scenic Mountain but even there the road seems more narrow than when I was a child.

MR. and MRS. J. M. GRIF-FITH plan to leave tomorrow for Fort Benning, Ga., where they will attend the graduation ceremonies for Officer's Candidate School where their younger son, Robert, will be commissioned as a second lieutenant in the US Army. He will be assigned as an instructor at Fort Benning where his wife, the former LINDA DUNCAN, has joined him.

The Griffiths have another lieutenant son, WAYNE, who is a pilot instructor at Reese AFB near Lubbock where he and his wife make their home.

MRS. MONROE GAFFORD who has spent the past four weeks in a local hospital has returned to her home, 1607 Indian Hills. She is still undergoing some treatment but is able to be up and around.

Due back from Kansas City, Kans., are DR. and MRS. LEE O. ROGERS who have been in attendance at the Southwestern Regional meeting of the Orthodontist Society.

MR. and MRS. VERN VIGAR have been in Corpus Christi to visit their son, Larry, who is recuperating in the Naval Hospital from wounds received in Vietnam.

Recent guests of MR. and MRS. JESS SLAUGHTER were MR. and MRS. J. C. SHOTWELL of Crockett. Mrs. Crockett and Mrs. Slaughter are sisters.

DAVID DEMING, accompanied by his mother, MRS. ROBERT DEMING, is in San Antonio where he is undergoing corrective surgery at Lackland Hospital.

MR. and MRS. O. H. IVIE have returned from Oklahoma City, Okla., where they attended a national water meeting.

CAPT. and MRS. WILLIAM DROKE will leave Monday for his new assignment in Albuquerque, N.M. after spending a week with her parents. MR. and MRS. WILLIAM McREE, Capt. Droke has just recently returned from an assignment in Vietnam.

Exercise At Home For Tired Feet

Tired feet often need reviving and nothing feels so luxurious as engaging in some toe-wiggling, ankle-circling exercises. Such workouts, which take less than 30 seconds, let pores "breathe" and muscles exercise unrestricted. One "at home" method to massage the arch is to place one foot at a time on a rolling pin and push back and forth. Each roll relaxes the arch and eases tension.

The Evolution of Pharmacy

By Bill R. Spain, R. Ph.

The ancient Hindus held their own ideas regarding the medicinal properties in plants and herbs. It was their belief that at some remote time all the animals, birds, and insects of the world banded together against humans for the destruction of their kind. Whereupon, Mother Nature, in the form of grass, herbs, shrubs, trees, etc. got together and held their own meeting and agreed that they would furnish a remedy for any disease that might be inflicted by the aforementioned invaders. No matter how rushed we become, we always prepare your prescription with painstaking care and accuracy, as though yours was the only one in the world...

Office Orchid

MRS. BEULAH G. JOHNSON

Mrs. Beulah G. Johnson, who was born in West Plains, Mo., remembers that her first job was all in the family. She served for eight years as secretary to her father, who was a representative in the State Legislature of Missouri. To qualify for this position, she had previously graduated from high school in West Plains and Draughan's Business College in Springfield, Mo.

"I have always been content to work as a secretary," said Mrs. Johnson, "especially when it is combined with some financial work." In addition to the eight years she spent with the government in Kansas City, Mo., she worked for five years as a law secretary in Kansas City and Midland. Coming to Big Spring in 1952, Mrs. Johnson took a job as secretary to Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College. In 1958, she changed to the position of financial secretary in the business office of the college. Mrs. Johnson said that when she first joined the college staff, she was the only full-time secretary, but now there are ten secretarial and clerical workers.

Widowed in 1959, Mrs. Johnson has one daughter who lives in San Francisco, Calif., and two granddaughters. She was a charter member of the local chapter of the National Secretaries Association but has since resigned due to lack of time. Her church membership is with the First Baptist.

For several years, Mrs. Johnson has lived in a mobile home and finds it has many advantages for a working woman who has little time to do housekeeping. Her home is located at Hillside Trailer Park where she spends most of her evenings enjoying color TV and semi-classical music. Her favorite leisure time activity is attending sports activities of any kind, and she has been bitten by the "travel bug." She has taken jet trips to Europe and Africa and has traveled to the West Coast several times. She likes to cook when she has someone to cook for, but finds that cooking for one "isn't very interesting or satisfying."

Use Baking Soda For Rough Spots

A paste of baking soda and water helps to remove those rough spots from legs, heels, and knees. Apply mixture to strategic areas and leave on for a few minutes. Then scrub with a wet brush, sprinkled with baking soda, and rinse. A foot bath of drying soda and warm water also soothes burning feet, silks flesh and softens cuticles prior to a pedicure.

Reception Will Note Wedding Anniversary

The Golden Wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cunningham of Garden City will be celebrated Oct. 29 with a reception from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. All relatives and friends are invited to attend.

Hosting the affair will be the couple's children and their husbands and wives. The children are Mrs. Phineas Lee Keith, San Francisco, Calif.; Phelps Cunningham, Inglewood, Calif.; Mrs. Sara Scardacci, Martinez, Calif.; Dale Cunningham, Reseda, Calif.; Jay Cunningham, Big Spring; Mrs. Emma Keith, Santa Anna, Calif.; and Charles Cunningham, Washington, D.C.

Mr. Cunningham's parents came from Wills Point to Glasscock County in 1914, and Mrs. Cunningham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cox moved to this area from Swisher County in 1906. The couple was married in Garden City at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Chaney, on Oct. 28, 1917. Mr. Cunningham was ranching at that time but later became a home decorator and followed this profession until his retirement in 1964.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham are members of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

Buy Boots That Are Large Enough

Boots are fashion-right for fall but make sure they are also footright. To fit well there should be a thumb's width between the big toe and boot tip. And if it's a long style extending up the calf, check that there's at least two fingers' width of space at the top, so material doesn't bind limb.

Most boots today are waterproof and extremely flexible.

MR. AND MRS. A. J. CUNNINGHAM

where she has taught Sunday school in the past. She is a charter member and past matron of the Eastern Star Chapter in Garden City.

Mrs. Cunningham will be presented a white orchid corsage.

Care For Feet

Stretch vinyl boots can be trying to the feet, stylish as the fall footwear is. To prevent blisters and to soothe callouses, rub on a thin layer of petroleum jelly each morning and before bedtime.

Hyperions Hear Talk On America

Mrs. O. T. Brewster chose the topic, "Unity Through Diversity" when she was speaker Thursday for the 1965 Hyperion Club in the home of Mrs. W. A. Hunt, 626 Tulane.

Mrs. Brewster said that unity is culture that is developed, and diversity in America is welcomed and appreciated.

"Unity is born of God," she said, noting that languages bring people together, and that "in struggles we become as one." She closed by reminding the women that similarity and repetition become dull and new things add a challenge.

Mrs. Hayes Stripling Sr. presided as the women agreed to send books to the Boys Ranch in San Angelo and to place a new book in the Howard County Library in memory of the late Mrs. H. F. Taylor, mother of a Hyperion Member, Mrs. Robert Currie.

The refreshment table was decorated in fall colors, and the president presided at the coffee service.

The next meeting will be Nov. 16 in the home of Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow with Mrs. Ben F. Johnson bringing the programs on America's natural resources.

Use Baking Soda

Small boat windshields made of unshatterable but easily scratched acrylic sheeting can be scoured safely with dry baking soda applied with a damp sponge.

Number Puzzle

To help children keep track of jigsaw puzzle pieces, number each piece to correspond with the picture to which it belongs.

Then if puzzles get mixed up, the pieces are easier to separate.

To Marry

Mr. and Mrs. Al Aton, 2609 Rebecca, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Kay Elaine, to Lt. Larry K. Reynolds of Webb Air Force Base. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Reynolds, Pasadena, Calif. The couple is planning a Jan. 25 wedding in the First Presbyterian Church with the Rev. R. Gage Lloyd officiating.

Area Church Women Slate District Meeting

There will be a Dist. 3 meeting for Church Women United Oct. 26, at First Presbyterian Church in Lamesa. Coffee and registration are at 9:30 a.m., and the meeting will end with the noon luncheon, which will cost $1.50.

Theme is "Open Wide the Door," and Mrs. Doyle Ragle will be the main speaker, explaining the new structure planned for Church Women United next year. It is requested that each church to be represented in order to interpret these changes locally. A nursery will be provided. Representatives going may contact Mrs. Don Wiley, 267-7958, Mrs. Marvin Dixon, 263-2750, or Mrs. Carl Rihard, 267-6169, about transportation.

Cold Sufferers Use Less Makeup

Nobody is beautiful with a cold but most of us have to put in our daily public appearance anyway. This is a time to wear a minimum of make-up, a moisturizer, a dusting of powder and a little blush of color. Go easy on eye make-up, which only draws attention to watery eyes. Wear a light shade of lipstick, and over and under it apply petroleum jelly to keep your lips from looking dry and caked.

Scrub Feet Daily For Health Care

Feet respond well to good care. Scrub them daily in warm water with a hand brush, then dry thoroughly with a Turkish towel and dust with a foot-powder. Massage your feet with a lotion to keep them smooth at least once a week. Cut or clip your toenails straight across, keeping the nails long enough to extend slightly beyond the tips of the toes. You are safe in using pumice stone on calluses, but never cut them.

Hong Kong Fashions Go 'Original' Design

HONG KONG (AP) — The Hong Kong fashion industry, for many years one of diligent imitation, hopes to break into the world of original design.

To that end, and in an effort to gain the support of a world market for the creations of local designers, the Federation of Hong Kong Industries will hold its first local Festival of Fashions Oct. 30 to Nov. 3.

The federation has invited buyers and fashion editors from all over the world to come to the colony for its fashion debut.

Acceptances have been received from buyers and editors in many foreign fashion capitals. The federation has even gotten a feeler from Moscow.

WESTERN FLAIR

To bring some Western ingenuity to the festival, the federation has called on Michael Whitaker, producer of fashion shows for the British royal family, to organize the week's events. It has also brought in a French designer, Chloe de Brunet, to design many of the garments that will be displayed.

So Hong Kong, which has to import most of the materials that go into the making of the clothing exported from the colony, also has had to import Western talent to help create the designs that will sell in the West — leaving the colony, in the minds of many, right where it started.

Milton E. Petrick, chairman of the festival's organization committee, says there is little hope for original Hong Kong designs unless factories and fashion houses break out of the insulation that has relegated them to copying. He advocates importing foreign designers and sending local designers to foreign fashion capitals to gain a better consciousness of international fashion demand.

Petrick should know. He is an associate of Linden E. Johnson, founder of Dynasty Fashions, a U.S.-owned, Hong Kong - based garment factory whose labels are found in expensive stores in the U.S., Canada, Australia and Europe.

FORMER FLYER

Petrick, a former U.S. Navy flier, joined Johnson, a former U.S. military intelligence expert, in 1960. Johnson started Dynasty in 1950, shortly after coming here from China.

Although the company started as a fashion house devoted mainly to traditional oriental-style clothing, Dynasty has increased its gross sales by almost 300 per cent since switching to Western styles and Western fabrics.

Dynasty has brought in much automation, some of it not immediately accepted by the Mandarin tailors, whose pride in their work and station in life at first caused them to regard any proposed change as a loss of face. But there is still much handwork.

HANDWORK

"What you get here that they can't get in the United States or Europe, is the detailed handwork. They can't afford to put that into their garments. We can," states Petrick.

Otherwise, he attributes Dynasty's success to original design, a well-formed distribution system, and the best working conditions to be found on the colony. They are attributes that are hard to find here and ones which would mean costly changes for any of the company's prospective local competitors.

Hong Kong exported almost $350 million worth of garments last year. The greater amount of that was in Oriental styles or copies of Western styles.

But Petrick says there is a decreasing demand for traditional oriental styles on the international market. And the Hong Kong fashion houses copies were at least a season behind.

GREAT SHOW

The Festival of Fashion will be a great show for many, but it remains to be seen if the Hong Kong's manufacturers are prepared to make it anything more than a flash in the bucket, by increasing their expenses to establish the kind of creative ingenuity that will enable them to compete with a relentlessly fast-moving western market.

(Editor's note: Mr. and Mrs. Jim Zack of Big Spring will attend the Hong Kong Festival.)

Candles will burn more evenly and drip less if they are chilled in the refrigerator for about 24 hours before using.

New Bride Feted At Gift Shower

Mrs. Arvel Stansel, the former Miss Leah Johnson, was honored with a bridal shower Thursday in the home of Mrs. Billy Piew, Silver Heels Addition.

The couple was married Oct. 14 in the West Highway 80 Church of Christ.

Hostesses were Mrs. Harold Gilmore, Mrs. M. A. Dunagan, Mrs. R. L. Arnold, Mrs. W. A. Greene, Mrs. Ira Dement, Mrs. Hilliard Dismore, Mrs. James Wolverton, Mrs. Clint Miller and Mrs. Ted Poindexter.

Games were directed by Mrs. Dunagan, and the hostess' gift to the bride was kitchen articles.

The refreshment table was laid with a white cloth and centered with miniature kitchen utensils. Thirty-seven attended.

Africa Missionaries Visit In Son's Home

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Balzer have had as guests his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Balzer of Sunland, Calif. The senior Balzers have been missionaries in the Central African Republic for some 20 years, and after Nov. 1 will return to their work there. They have been headquartered in California during a sabbatical. Balzer is a building contractor for his denomination.

Floyd Dixon is in Rochester, N. Y., attending a seminar on corrosion sponsored by the Pfaunder Company.

Mr. and Mrs. John Damron plan a hunting vacation in Colorado next week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Tappin are proud grandparents. A son was born to their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Davis, in Laredo.

Mrs. R. B. Davidson visited recently in Amarillo with the Gary Bradburys.

Mrs. Glenn Guthrie was in Tyler recently to see her mother, Mrs. W. C. Malloy.

J. R. Asbury and his party of hunters left this weekend for their annual deer hunt in Colorado, near Pagosa Springs.

AIR FORCE MEN HELPING RESTORE YOUNG WAR VICTIMS

'Miracle' Raises Viet Orphanage

By BOB WHIPKEY
It's not all life-taking in Vietnam. There is life-saving, too. And much of the credit goes to the American boys who are over there. Many of them do not roam the streets of Saigon on their off-hours, as some reports would indicate; they are spending every free minute, along with their own money, to helping youngsters, the child-victims of a war.

"This is being done on many fronts, in many areas, but this article will concern one project. It is the Thu Duc orphanage which, despite all the obstacles, keeps growing and today is housing more than 600 children. For the history of Thu Duc, one must go back to September, 1965.

FATHER JOHN

There appeared at the Tan-Son-Nhut Air Base a little fellow in black robes, who walked right into the commanding officer's office. This was the Rev. John Chu-Van-Hien, a Catholic priest who had been riding his bicycle for days, looking for help. Father John, in earlier years, had received some assistance from a great humanitarian, the late Dr. Tom Dooley. But now he needed more.

Father John himself was an outcast of the war from North Vietnam, and his father had been tortured to death by the Viet Cong. The little priest made his way to South Vietnam, established a struggling orphanage for the little ones who were the real victims of a fratricidal conflict.

MIRACLES

Now, Father John told the Air Force, there must be more help.

"What do you need?" asked the commander, Col. George Budway.

"Everything," replied Father John. "I need soap, toothbrushes and toothpaste, clothing, building materials."

The operations officer at the Base was Lt. Col. Jack E. Bailey, now commanding the 4760th Combat Crew Training Squadron at Webb Air Force Base.

Col. Budway called him in. "These people don't need much," he said. "All they need are miracles."

Col. Bailey and all his staff, officers and airmen, set about and must have wrought a miracle.

THE START

First, they found a big stock of American goods that had arrived too late for Christmas, and been undeliverable. When Father John saw the store of foodstuffs and toilet articles, he, indeed, proclaimed it a miracle.

But the delivery of this great find was just the start. This group of Air Force officers and men "adopted" the Thu Duc orphanage. They scrounged here, they begged there, they tapped their own pockets for cash and they sought donations whenever and wherever they could.

ERECTED BUILDING

And they gave without stint of their own time. They worked to clean up old buildings, to find adequate beds and furnishings, to get a supply of food and clothing. It was not just a supply system; the men gave their full personal attention to the welfare of the kids. They gave parties — a big one at Christmas — they directed games, they helped a bit in the educational work.

And they donated their labor to building structures. Under way, and perhaps nearing completion by now, is a chapel for the children.

Father John was one of a few religious leaders — Buddhists among them — who have taken charge of children rendered homeless by the war, including those from North Vietnam. There are several orphanages.

TELLING THE STORY

The men at Tan-Son-Nhut Base have been helping three of these, fixing up the buildings, painting them, caring for the children.

They are hoping that their work will spread, and they never cease to tell the story of the needs in a desolated land. Col. Budway, as Base commander, has said his group hopes to formalize a program of assistance for these orphans the Air Force has adopted. "It's not just boxes of clothing," he said. "There are several things vitally needed: soap, vitamins and other medicines, concentrated foodstuffs like powdered milk; funds for building materials; selected items of clothing (tee shirts and trunks), rubber shoes, school supplies."

ON HIS OWN TIME

How do you tell the story of this need to others? Well, every serviceman who has had a part becomes a devout spokesman for the cause.

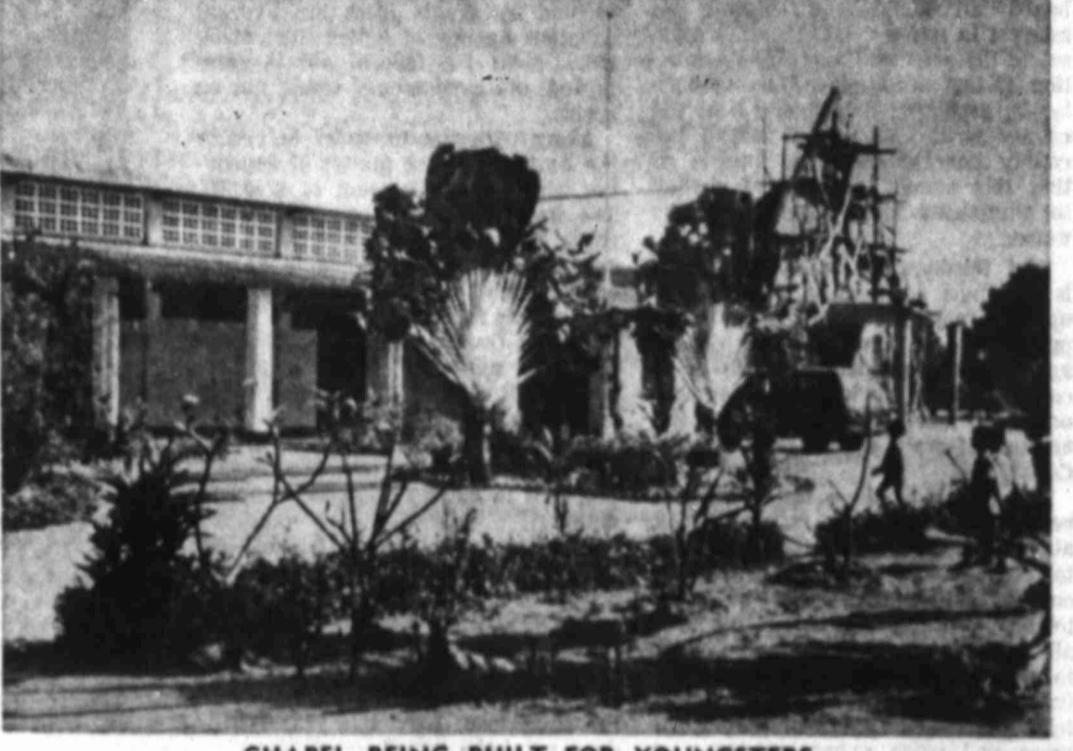

Col. Bailey was dedicated enough to the orphanage project that he returned to Vietnam, on his own, during a leave period, just to see what else he could do. He never ceases to tell the story of what needs to be done for young victims of war.

Not long ago, Col. Bailey showed some films of Thu Duc orphanage, and related what the Air Force men have done to improve it. This was before a crowd of newspaper people, attending the West Texas Press Association convention in Big Spring. He had scarcely finished (without asking for any help at all) until a spontaneous offering occurred and the West Texans sent more than $100 to the orphanage.

If you just want the full story of a miracle — about Father John and his ill-fed, ill-clothed and poorly-housed charges, and about how young American airmen are giving of their time and money — just listen to Lt. Col. Jack E. Bailey.

A Devotional For The Day

My soul shall be joyful in the Lord: it shall rejoice in his salvation. (Psalm 35:9)
 PRAYER: We thank Thee, our Father, for the joy of belonging to Thee and for peace of mind. Help us in our surroundings to live according to the glad tidings. May we be joyful in Thee, reassured that Thou lovest us; through Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Airport Authority Proposal

It appears now that taxpayer-voters of Howard County will have an opportunity in early December to write a decision to keep the general community in step with the demands of the modern age.

This will be a referendum to determine whether or not a Howard County Airport Authority shall be created; also whether bonds will be issued for major improvements to the airport.

Why a new Authority? In the first place, it puts responsibility for operation of the airport in the hands of a board that should have the time and interest to make it both a service asset to the area and a profitable function. In the second place, this Authority, by assuming the bonded debt the county now owes, could relieve the county government of a burden so that this agency could have money to administer other needed public works.

And thirdly, the Authority system is the most economical way to face up to airport needs. Were the same program to be handled under county auspices, there would have to be a considerable jump in county tax values, and this would raise the amount of state taxes from Howard County.

And we must face up to airport needs. Only those who refuse to look at present and future developments fail to see the booming growth in commercial aviation. We do not refer to the "weekend flyers" — they have all the airport they need. We refer to more and more commercial air transport; to more and more industrial and company use of planes; to more and more expansion in air freight. It is not inconceivable that, some day, virtually all distant travel and freight and express handling will be done by air. The community that has no air facilities is much like the one which — a few generations ago — never had railroad service. It is a dead or grossly constricted community.

While a long-range development of the airport — longer and wider runways, with more ramp space, new lighting and marking; new terminal building and related improvements — envisions a capital focal outlay of some $640,000, this would be supplemented by grants from the Federal Aviation Agency of better than $455,000. Unless the federal aid is committed, the local money would not be spent.

Along with the proposal to create the Authority is the matter of approving bonds in the amount of $750,000. The fiscal experts have said that to carry this debt (and to assume the county's indebtedness) and to handle operations, the tax assessment would be in the range of 18 cents. This, based on county valuations, gets the cost at a minimum, in the neighborhood of 30 cents a month on a home valued at $10,000.

There are many facets to the December referendum, and The Herald proposes to outline these in complete detail.

The broad conclusion is, however, that here is a procedure to get modern air-service facilities at the lowest available cost. It is an opportunity for the Howard County area to keep pace with growth requirements. The other side of the coin is: How much would the area lose, over the years, if it does not keep pace?

Free World Must Aid U.S.

WASHINGTON—What is the Vietnam war all about? Many a citizen has been misled by the argument that the United States should "stop the bombing and make peace" with the North Vietnam government. The trouble is that the Hanoi government is not the only enemy. Red China and the Soviet Union are the main adversaries.

THIS WAS MADE clear 13 years ago when Richard Nixon, as vice president of the United States, delivered an off-the-record speech on the subject of Vietnam before the American Society of Newspaper Editors on April 16, 1954. The text was not given out, but a paraphrase was printed. The main points were summarized as follows:

"But the Vietnamese lack the ability to conduct the war by themselves or govern themselves. If the French withdrew, Indo-China would become Communist-dominated within a month.

"THE UNITED STATES as the leader of the free world cannot afford further retreat in Asia. It is hoped the United States will not have to send troops there, but if this government cannot avoid it, the administration must face up to the situation and dispatch forces.

"Therefore, the United States must go to Geneva and take a positive stand for united action by the free world. Otherwise it will have to take on the problem alone and try to sell it to others."

THE STATE DEPARTMENT announced the next day that the speech enunciated "no new United States policy in regard to Indo-China," but that it supported the official policy set forth by Secretary of State Dulles on March 29, 1954, when he said:

"Under the conditions of today the imposition of Southeast Asia of the political system of Communist Russia and its Chinese Communist ally, by whatever means, would be a grave threat to the whole free community. The United States feels that that possibility should not be tacitly accepted, but should be met by united action. This might involve risks, but these risks are far less than those that will face us a few years from now if we dare not be resolute today."

THE GENEVA conference on Indo-China took place shortly after Mr. Nixon's speech was delivered. The United States made every effort there to obtain collective action to insure the independence of Vietnam and the right of the people to free elections. The conference instead decided on the partition of Vietnam, and the United States "disassociated" itself from the agreement. Secretary Dulles tried hard to prevent a Communist takeover, but neither France nor Great Britain would join in this undertaking.

SO IT IS CLEAR, after 13 years of accumulated evidence, that the only answer to the Vietnam problem is a collective defense against Communist aggression. This cannot be achieved today through the medium of the United Nations because of Soviet influence therein. The United States has brought to its side a few allies — Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, Thailand and South Korea. Until more of the free countries of the world — especially the larger European nations — join in a collective defense, neither the Soviet Union nor Red China is likely to be persuaded to stop the war.

Senate Snuffs Out Forced Spending Cut

AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The House put a multibillion-dollar squeeze on the government's spending plans this past week, but the Senate Appropriations Committee quickly eased the pressure.

For months President Johnson has been asking for a 10 per cent surcharge on corporate and personal income taxes. But Congress has balked, contending the administration first must cut government spending.

This past week the House passed a resolution telling the government to cut its spending an estimated $6 billion to $8 billion. But the Senate committee erased the limitations by approving a resolution, 18 to 4, that would continue until Nov. 15 the spending authority of government departments whose regular appropriations for the 1967-68 year still are pending in Congress.

FORCED CUT BEATEN — Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., moved to force a 5 per cent cut in all but defense expenditures and other appropriations required by law but was defeated. Mundt and other Republicans said they would carry the fight to the Senate floor when the extension resolution comes up for action, probably Tuesday.

The committee also rejected a motion by Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., to put a ceiling of $131.5 billion on government spending this year.

Negotiators, meantime, appeared to have wrapped up all but a few details of a contract proposal to end the 44-day strike at Ford Motor Co.

Meanwhile, Frederick L. Deming, undersecretary of the Treasury, said higher taxes were needed to prevent increasing inflation. Deming said the economy cur-

Signs Mostly Up

Auto output, sales off last year, but Ford due back

- Housing starts at 2-yr. peak, other building looks up
- Steel production increases 2.6 pct. for week
- Personal income reaches new high of $633.5 billion
- Several major firms report increased earnings

rently was not overexpanding, but added: "The trend is clear in pointing to a steadily rising head of steam."

HOUSING PERKS UP

The Federal Reserve Board said strikes disrupted the advance in industrial production in September. It said its index of industrial output dropped 1.5 points to 156.3 per cent of the 1957-59 base period because of strikes in the auto, copper and steel-hauling industries.

At the same time, the Commerce Department said housing starts increased by 3.8 per cent during September to reach their highest level in almost two years. Home building activity during the month totaled 1,457,000 units at an annual rate, the department said — the highest since December, 1965.

The department also reported personal income continued to advance at a record rate during September. It said the annual rate was up $2 billion from the $4.5 billion rise in August, and reached an annual rate of $633.5 billion.

BUILDING MAY BOOM

The F. W. Dodge Co., a leading construction analyst, predicted the construction industry will reach a record $58.95 billion in contracts next year. It said the gain would represent a 10 per cent jump above 1967's estimated total of $51.87 billion.

Auto output for the week was expected to rise 10 per cent above last week as General Motors Corp., Chrysler Corp., and American Motors Corp., scheduled higher output. Because of the Ford Motor Co. strike, output was expected to trail the year-ago pace by 29 per cent. The automakers scheduled 148,577 assemblies for the week, compared with 135,142 the previous week and 208,093 a year earlier.

Retail car sales in the Oct. 1-10 period ran about 24 per cent below a year earlier. The sales were estimated at 198,763 cars, compared with 260,652 in the comparable period last year.

EARNINGS GAIN

A number of the nation's larger firms issued third-quarter earnings reports. Among those showing earnings advances were Xerox Corp., Radio Corp. of America, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., and Eastman Kodak. Lower earnings were reported by du Pont Co., Aluminum Co. of America, and Youngstown Sheet & Tube.

Steel production last week was 2,488,000 tons, up 2.6 per cent from 2,434,000 tons the previous week.

Around The Rim

Christmas Shopping—Right Now

Cartoon in a current magazine shows a fellow putting up a big "Merry Christmas" sign in front of his store, and a passer-by exclaims, "My goodness, here it is October already."

And more truth than jest.

IF YOU THINK Christmas isn't with us, just look at your junk mail. Or, you can go into the metropolitan centers, parade the big stores and find that, as of right now, the Yule atmosphere is at hand. The wrappings are out, the gift boxes are on display, and the clerks are telling you what'll make the best gift for anybody you choose to name.

There's nothing wrong with buying all your Christmas presents in October; in fact, it would be a good thing, except what would you do on December 24?

But back to the mail.

OUR CORNER is literally flooded with catalogues from all manner of sales establishments, reaching from Maine (Ye Olde Ship's Store) to the Texas coast (Citrus packed any way you want it). The food people are really busy, and leading this parade are those firms which offer cheeses. You can get cheese in any sort of a container, supposedly usable after the food is eaten, including ale tankards, sewing baskets, fishing tackle boxes and even baby cradles. All you, the giver, have to do is find a friend who likes Edam or Gorgonzola and who also has need for a cradle.

BUT YOU don't have to limit your choice to foods. There are plenty of other catalogues, including one which lists gifts for men only, and others which cover the range from $500,000 gems to zipper snow boots.

The novelty items have reached, for this year, anyway, the zenith in imagination. Of some appeal to me is a book titled "The Insult Dictionary, or How to Be Abusive in Five Languages." And if that doesn't express the Christmas spirit well enough, the same outfit offers antique Spanish cavalry swords. Presumably a duel could follow the exchange of insults.

WELL, YOU CAN get a gun which you fire a spray at your car windshield on a frosty morning, and the ice disappears, and just for contrast, there is an electronic "time machine" which stimulates the youth glands and guarantees you a face-lift within 30 days. Nothing is said about the return of the sag when your time machine exhausts its magic.

SPEAKING OF electronic marvels, there is an electric shock rod, a sort of transistorized walking cane which theoretically is a safety item. Just prod the oncoming dog or jab the advancing thug, and no need to call the police.

There's no use going on. Just look at your own catalogues and begin to dream up how you want to make a real impression with a Christmas gift.

THEN WHEN YOU get through, throw the catalogue in the wastebasket, go on down to your local store where the clerks know better than you what you ought to be buying for relatives and friends, and complete your Christmas buying right then and there.

But remember, it's October already.

A New Kind Of Togetherness

WASHINGTON — A government-sponsored study on alcoholism has just been released and some of the recommendations are bound to cause quite a flurry in the United States.

The study said that it should be national policy to adapt realistically to a predominantly "drinking society." It is believed that if you made alcoholic beverages available to children, there would be less drinking than if you repressed them.

HAVING LIVED in France for a long time, I'm not sure the suggestions will produce the hoped-for results. Children in France drink wine at a very early age, and the French have one of the largest alcoholism problems in the world. I recall that in the Calvados, where the best apple brandy is made, the teachers once protested because mothers were giving their children a shot of brandy in the morning and the kids were staggering all over the roads on their way to school.

Even if the study is correct, the big question is 'How do you promote drinking in a family setting?'

THE SCENE is the home of the Thompsons. It's 6 o'clock in the evening. Mr. Thompson yells up to his teenage son, "George, can I make you a martini?"

"No thanks, Dad, I'd rather have a glass of milk."

"Listen, you come down right away and drink this martini or you won't get any dinner."

"OK, but I still have a hangover from the white wine Mom packed in my lunch."

"One martini won't hurt you, and besides, it will keep you from becoming an alcoholic."

GEORGE COMES downstairs, and

Mrs. Thompson comes out of the kitchen.

Karen Thompson, their 14-year-old daughter, enters and says, "Hi, folks. What's for dinner?"

Mrs. Thompson says, "I've made a turtle soup with sherry, a beef in Burgundy sauce, salad with white wine dressing and for dessert branched cherries and coffee served with whipped cream and Irish whiskey."

"Oh, boy," George says, "I knew I should have done my homework before dinner."

"THAT'S ENOUGH of that," Mr. Thompson says sternly. "Your mother has been slaving over a hot bar all day long, and the least you can do is not make wisecracks about her cooking."

Mrs. Thompson says, "Karen, you didn't eat the orange in your whiskey sour."

"Mother, you know I hate oranges." "But how else are you going to get your vitamins?"

"Where's Freddy?" Mr. Thompson asks.

"HE'S UP IN BED. He passed out from all those liqueur-filled chocolates you brought home last night."

"Serves him right for eating between meals."

After dinner the family is back in the living room. Mr. Thompson and George are singing "Sweet Adeline." Karen is sitting on top of the piano, and Mrs. Thompson is making daquiris for everyone.

Freddy comes staggering down the stairs. "I'm hungry."

"All right," Mrs. Thompson says. "Help yourself to a cold glass of beer in the icebox."

The Real Threat From China

WASHINGTON — Behind Secretary of State Dean Rusk's outburst over the China peril was a prolonged and highly secret debate at the top level of the Administration. On the conference table were intelligence reports showing China's amazingly swift progress in the development of nuclear weapons.

On one point there was general agreement. Official public statements had consistently underestimated that progress.

THE REPORTS showed that Peking has already tested and is believed to have operational an intermediate-range ballistic missile capable of carrying a hydrogen warhead. The range is 2,000 miles. This winter, far ahead of the previously assumed schedule if the reports are correct, China will test an intercontinental ballistic missile with a range of 5,000 miles or more.

SO CONCERNED were the top men of government that they foresaw even more extraordinary developments growing out of the brilliance and dedication of Chinese scientists and technicians. China is believed capable in the near future of building a Polaris-type submarine with nuclear missiles. The intelligence reassessment followed Peking's "proof test" on June 17 of a hydrogen bomb.

ALL THIS makes the glib reports out of Hong Kong about the imminent collapse of China into anarchy and chaos look slightly foolish. Within the government here the more sober China watchers have warned against exaggerated reports of breakdown. They were convinced that the Red Guards were never entirely out of control by Mao.

What is happening today is like the chain of events that began on Sept. 23, 1949, when President Harry Truman announced that the Soviet Union had broken the American nuclear monopoly by setting off an atomic explosion. It underscores the dictum of the philosopher, George Santayana, that "those who cannot remember the past are condemned to repeat it."

THE DIFFERENCE between 1949 and 1968 does, however, seem significant. Both Truman and his Secretary of State, Dean Acheson, took great pains to put the announcement of the Soviet explosion in the most careful and unemotional context. Anticipating what was to come, the government had already created an elaborate detection system to pick up evidence of atomic particles.

THIS IS IN sharp contrast with Rusk's press conference warning that a billion Chinese on the mainland will be on the march armed with nuclear weapons. He pictured Asia cut in two by Chinese communism, with non-Communist nations living under deadly and constant pressure from Peking, with their future circumscribed by fears.

The final judgment may be that the Chinese, after decades of colonialism, war and revolution, were so full of xenophobic hatred that blind aggression was inevitable. But American policy since 1950 can only have contributed to their isolation and xenophobia.

I have a friend whom they say is a lesbian, and she lives with a girl friend. They both go to church and seem sincere. Can a lesbian be a Christian?

W.K.
 Your question reveals a common quirk of human nature: to accept rumor as fact. Many women live together who are not lesbians. What is wrong with two bachelor women living together — or two bachelor men, for that matter? Only scandalmongers would jump to questionable conclusions under such circumstances. Statistics show that only about three of every one hundred people have such tendencies, and not all these practice homosexuality. So, calm your fears, and stop the "whispering," if you have done any of it, and let these women live in peace.

Some of the finest Christians I have ever known have been unmarried, including the apostle Paul. Just because a person doesn't marry, doesn't necessarily mean that they are maladjusted, sexually. Some, like Paul, don't marry because they wish to devote their total time to Christian service. Others don't marry for economic reasons. Some have had a love affair in the long ago, and prefer to live on the pleasant memories of the past. Perhaps others just like to live alone, have a physical handicap, or have seen too much tension among some married people. Many other reasons could be given, all of which are personal, and no one else's business. Let these women worship the Lord in peace.

KINGMAN FIELD, ARIZONA, 1934
Kirby Russell, left, with passengers a year before his death

Local Man Died 30 Years Ago Where Two Families Crashed

By BECKY NUGENT
Tragedy on Mexico's treacherous mountain slopes in late August claimed the lives of nine members of the Howard Loyd and John Polone families. It reminded local residents of another Big Spring man, Kirby Russell, who perished when his small plane crashed along the west coast of Mexico in 1935.

KIRBY RUSSELL

While the Loyds and Polones were returning from an Acapulco vacation, the flight Jan. 31, 1935, was strictly business for Russell. He was employed by a large mining company, flying in both passengers and supplies, as well as bringing out gold and silver substitutes.

CRASHED
He died when his plane crashed and burned on the way out. According to mine workers who witnessed the take-off, Russell's plane struck an air pocket or downdraft, causing him to lose control of the plane and crash into the high side of a peak, completely destroying the plane and his body in the fire that followed.

Leaving at mid-morning on a seemingly routine trip, the 38-year-old pilot took off from a small landing field hidden in towering snow-capped mountains along Mexico's west coast.

His mountain grave where he still lies buried in a small cemetery near the mine.
After much correspondence through the American consul, the president of the mining company and a service officer for foreign war veterans, his mother and sisters learned arrangements might be made to disinter the body, cover it with quicklime and seal it in a leaden casket to be flown out by some of Russell's fellow fliers.

Two sisters, Mrs. Ruby L. Read, 502 Edwards Blvd., and Mrs. Mignonette R. Siverling, 700 W. 18th, recall problems presented by Mexican laws.
"At that time it was required that the dead be buried within a 12-hour period, so it was that my brother was dead and buried before we could be notified," said Mrs. Siverling. "We had no choice then but to leave him in

"LET TREE LIE"
"My mother would not consent to such conditions, recalling a decision made by Theodore Roosevelt when his son was killed overseas in World War I to 'let the tree lie where it falleth,'" said Mrs. Read.
None of his relatives have been able to visit the grave, a trip which would require either a dangerous flight or a week of mountain traveling on mules. The American consul at Matzatlan, Mexico, assured the family burial rites befitting a WWI veteran were conducted. The casket was enclosed in a vault and the grave is covered by a cement slab on which all identifying information is carved.

"A fellow-flier sent us a picture of the grave. With this arrangement we have had to be content for a period of nearly 33 years," said Mrs. Siverling.

MARINE PILOT
Russell joined the Marines and served during the last two years of WWI as a pilot. Following his discharge, he bought his own plane and flew tourists on sight-seeing trips across the Grand Canyon and other landmarks. While living in California he took night courses in maintaining aircraft.

The only son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Russell, both deceased, he attended Big Spring schools and served as an apprentice cooper-smith in the local Texas and Pacific shops. After the war he lived briefly in El Paso, when he was married to Mrs. Jewell Neal Russell. They had one son, Robert Neal Russell, a now-retired Army flier who lives with his wife and two daughters in Riverside, Calif. He is also survived by a step-daughter, Ruby Helen Russell, Los Angeles, Calif.

LUBBOCK (AP) — Texas Tech's Dr. Richard Carlson of the Psychology Department is compiling a prairie dog "brain atlas" by sectionizing the brains to determine where brains can be stimulated electrically.

The object is to find out how prairie dog colonies determine leadership without any of the conflicts found in most animal groups—and humans.
Decided Aardvark Is A Female
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Determining the sex of a baby aardvark is difficult, but the people at Miami's Crandon Park Zoo have proven equal to the test. They have a girl aardvark.
Usually the zoo doesn't really care whether its aardvarks are male or female, but this one had the distinction of being the second born in captivity and the first to survive more than a few days.

Dear Abby Quality In A Man

DEAR ABBY: I am still haunted by a letter in your column from a mother. She was irritated because strangers would stop her on the street when she was with her three little daughters, and invariably comment on "THAT GORGEOUS RED-HEADED CHILD!" This was done in the presence of all the little girls, and that mother was justifiably provoked.

Not all mothers are that wise. Some show favoritism among their own children. In my husband's family, for instance, my husband went into the priesthood. He has pictures of their son, the priest, in every room of their home. Not one of my husband's and how they brag about their son, the priest. People would think they had only the one son. My husband, who is equally fine, rates not one word. His success in business is due to "pull" or "lucky breaks." Never hard work. Thanks, Abby, it helped to get this off my chest. KOKOMO

DEAR KOKOMO: A priest or a nun, in most Catholic families, is regarded as a special contribution to the life of the church. A business man, by comparison, is commonplace. Don't stew about it. His quality as a man is what counts—to himself, to you, and to society, even if not to his family.

DEAR ABBY: I am 23, tall, slim, and attractive. I recently became engaged to J who is 25. We've gone together two years. J was married at 20. His parents forced him into marriage with a pregnant girl who claimed he was the father. He was able to disprove it and got a divorce.

Three weeks ago J told me that his father had noticed some "stretch marks" on my upper legs while I was sun-bathing around their new pool, and J was told that I should get medical proof that I had never had a baby!

I consulted my family doctor, who was furious, but wrote a letter to state that I had never had a child. I presented the letter to J and his parents. J apologized, and asked me to go through with wedding plans. I agreed on the conditions that I would not have anything more to do with his parents.

Shortly afterwards, J said he was short of money and wanted to wait a year before marrying me. He has a good job, and a nice bank account, but he lives at home and his parents handle all his financial affairs. I told him that inasmuch as all my wedding plans had been made, I would not wait. His only comment was, "When you change your mind, call me." Nice, eh? What would you do? BEEN HAD

DEAR BEEN: Show her with silence. And send up a silent prayer of thanks for having been spared from a marital disaster.
Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have inspired ideas and should carry through with them if you really want to be more successful. Don't waste time. Communicating with those at a distance who can be helpful is wise. Gain more knowledge as you go.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Brain this new week by keeping the promises you have made and get all matters out of the way quickly. A close tie is very devoted, so do not be so bored, about. Happiness comes from within.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) An associate although emotional, will cooperate with you more now if you are specific about matters of policy in operations. Opportunity comes knocking right at your door now. Be alert for some.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You are interested in getting much work done, but you have to tackle it from a different angle, abandoned for best results. Show co-workers you will cooperate even more in the days ahead. Get much accomplished.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Begin the week properly by getting your best talents before others and then out for pleasure if you like. Believe in others. Others want to entertain you and you should accept. Become their friend.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow he, or she, will be one of those persons who finds having a charming home life is most important and who will have ideas to offer individuals of a shy nature that can help them to get ahead under his, or her, management. A highly affectionate person here, provided you teach early not to have so much self-pity.

GENERIC DRUGS ARE OFTEN TOO CHEAP

Before this "Miracle Drug Age," most prescription drugs were generic, which means that they can be manufactured by any supplier. Different makes all, as a rule, have the same name.

But they accomplished less. We then had no complicated hormones, antibiotics, or today's expensive researched drugs. The pharmaceutical firms that discover new drugs, brand them with their exclusive name and physicians prescribe that name on their prescriptions. We have no choice. We must dispense that exact brand. Sometimes other suppliers can make these new drugs and use their common or generic name. Only if we are absolutely certain a generic product equals the original, when a physician prescribes by the generic name we will dispense the lower priced medicine.

Bond Issue On State Parks Up For Vote

(Editor's Note—This is the first of three articles on the state proposed constitutional amendments on which Texas vote Nov. 11.)

By LEE JONES
AUSTIN (AP)—Texas voters will decide Nov. 11 whether to take on a $75 million debt to provide 150,000 acres of publicly owned wide open spaces for an increasingly brick and concrete state.

Constitutional Amendment No. 5 authorizes a $75 million general obligation bond issue to buy and develop new state park land.

"General obligation" is the phrase around which much of the debate about the amendment revolves.

A bill that will take effect if the amendment is approved allows the Parks and Wildlife Department to charge entrance fees at state parks to help pay off the bonds. But if the admission charges—probably $1 a car don't amount to enough to pay off each year's debt requirements, the legislature must appropriate the needed money from general tax sources.

INTEREST LIMIT
That means the burden of paying off the bonds could fall in part on all taxpayers, rather than only on those who use the parks.

The amendment provides that the state may pay no more than 1 per cent interest on the park bonds.

Looking at the other side of the picture, what would Texas do with the $75 million raised by the bonds?
The Parks and Wildlife Department has prepared an ambitious 10-year park acquisition and development plan endorsed by Gov. John Connally. The governor also proposed the park bond amendment.

MORE PARKS
If the plan is carried out, it would add 150,000 acres to the present 60,000-acre state park system. Of these, 61,000 acres would comprise 26 recreational parks, primarily water-oriented; $4,395 acres would be of scenic interest in 14 new areas and additions to six existing parks; and 8,605 acres would contain 41 historical sites.

The Parks and Wildlife Department is not putting out any information on precisely what land would be acquired. One reason is to prevent land speculation and commercialization in the areas.
Backers of the bond program say the state must act quickly to provide for tomorrow's recreational needs. Land values are steadily climbing, they say, and pressure on existing parks is increasing.

By 1971, they say, the present parks system will have as many visitors as it can handle.

CROWDED NOW
"Park visitation in excess of this capacity will ultimately result in destruction of the state's park resources and will severely limit opportunities for Texans to recreate in the outdoors," a recent brochure on the land acquisition program says.

State officials hope that if Texans approve the program, the federal government will chip in an additional $7 million.

The bond amendment was approved by two-thirds of the legislature without much debate.

Those who support the amendment say the state's tax resources are too limited to finance a rapid park development program. A bond issue would bring in the necessary money quickly, they say, and could be liquidated by park entrance fees. They point out that the Parks and Wildlife Department estimates the fees would be sufficient to pay principal and interest on the bonds.

MORE TOURISTS
They add that a better state park system would encourage the tourist trade.

Opponents contend that estimates of entrance fees are theoretical at best and that tax money might be needed to help pay off the bonds.

Also, the opponents argue, matching federal funds for parks are available under the Land and Water Conservation Fund Act of 1965. They think the legislature should appropriate funds to match the federal money after the amount of any federal grant is determined and as the need arises. It might prove unnecessary to issue bonds to raise funds for matching federal grants, they say.

Seeks Answer To Stopping Pain

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Dr. W. R. Klemm of Texas A&M University has been awarded a $17,281 grant by the Health, Education and Welfare Department for research related to physiological mechanisms of animal hypnosis.
Hypnotic trances reduce pain in animals, Klemm notes. He said pain might be abolished altogether if trances can be made more effective.

'THE KING AND I' High School Musical Set

A highlight of the amusement scene in Big Spring — a musical drama by the fine arts departments of Big Spring High School — has been announced by Dan Shockey, speech and dramatics teacher.

"The King and I" will be staged in the modernized and expanded high school auditorium Nov. 30, Dec. 1-2, with tickets going on sale Nov. 6 at the band hall or from any cast member.

Shockey has staged three previous musicals with the high school students, all of them remarkably successful and well received by local audiences. These have included "Oklahoma," "South Pacific," and "The Music Man." These difficult productions have been a combination of the talents in the drama, choral, band and art departments.

Shockey will direct the drama, with Kenny Sjøgaard as choral director; Bill Bradley and Don Turner, directing the orchestra; and Mrs. Mary Jean Byrd, art work and scenery.

"The King and I" made its debut on Broadway in 1951 and has since become one of the most popular of dramatic musicals. It is based on the popular book, "Anna and the King of Siam," and was later made into a motion picture.

In a setting of the mid-nineteenth century era of the imperial palace of Siam, the plot involves an attractive English widow and her experiences as a governess for the many children of the uncivilized king of Siam.

In addition, there will be a reserved section in the auditorium this year, Shockey said, located in the center section. Tickets for this section will be $2. Regular adult tickets will be $1.50 and student tickets, $1.

Named to appear in this first musical of the year are Rob Chapman, Bobby Dyer, Beth Hayworth, David Cooper, Richard Macklin, Mark Shaver, Dwight Fortson, Cheri Cederberg, Annette Fitzhugh, Joe Clower, Danny Johnson, and Jim Clark.

Sports Figure Cast As Tarzan

Mike Henry, who stars in "Tarzan and the Great River," opening Thursday at the Ritz Theatre, is one of the latest in a long line of headline athletes who have turned to acting with notable success. Henry, a former line-backer with the Los Angeles Rams and the Pittsburgh Steelers in the National Football League, portrays Edgar Rice Burroughs' jungle hero in the film, in Panavision and color.

Henry also represents what might be termed the "new breed" among the athletes-turned-actors — he has displayed a substantial dramatic talent.

There have been many sports heroes who were cast in motion pictures, not because of a flair for acting, but to capitalize on their fame and popularity.

Babe Ruth, who represented no challenge to the late Gary Cooper, portrayed himself in "The Pride of the Yankees," the film biography of Lou Gehrig. And there are few who will maintain that Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris were as talented before the cameras as they were on the playing field when they appeared in "Safe at Home."

One of the first of the professional athletes to qualify for "new breed" status was Elroy Hirsch, the former Rams star who was instrumental in bringing Mike Henry to the Los Angeles team. Hirsch played himself in his screen biography, "Crazylegs, All-American," and was so successful, he also was signed to play in a non-sports film, "Unchained."

Other sports luminaries who played themselves in motion pictures include decathlon champion Bob Mathias, baseball's Jackie Robinson and West Point football stars Glenn Davis and Felix "Doc" Blanchard.

Probably the most famous of the former athletes is John Wayne, who was a top performer for the University of Southern California, Mike Henry's alma mater.

While Henry has yet to attain "Duke" Wayne's screen status, he already has three films, in addition to "Tarzan and the Great River," to his credit and a television series.

Coincidentally, another great athlete, who many rank with Jim Thorpe and Jim Brown for all-around prowess appears in "Tarzan and the Great River" with Henry. He is Rader Johnson of California, a former decathlon champion and Olympic hero, who is cast in the important role of "Barcuna."

'Guide For Married Man' Opens Today At Ritz

The phrase "technical advisor" in the Hollywood lexicon generally describes a professional who sits in on the production of a film and makes the suggestions which insure the verisimilitude of the events being photographed. A viewer can rest assured, if he goes to see a war film which carries the name of a captain as technical advisor, that the army gear, the weapons and the dialogue will pretty much be authentic.

However, the phrase has been slightly changed — around for the new marital comedy "A Guide for the Married Man." Listed in the credits of the Panavision-Deluxe Color motion picture are 18 technical advisors, all of whom are top stars and comedians in their own right. Their function in the light-hearted spoof is to serve as illustrations of the various situations with which infidelity-prone husbands can become embroiled.

Lucille Ball and Art Carney play husband and wife. Interestingly enough, the two comic stars have been wanting to appear together for the past decade. In their cameo roles, Carney is seen as a husband trying to get out of the house to spend the night with his girlfriend. He picks a fight with Miss Ball, goes off, and apologizes to her the next day.

Academy Award-winning Walter Matthau, who plays a husband with an 11-year itch, is told this by Robert Morse, an expert in these affairs, as an example of how to successfully get away from his wife, lovely Inger Stevens. Other demonstrations are provided by Morse, and illustrated by the guest stars include Polly Bergen, Joey Bishop, Sid Caesar, Art Carney, Wally Cox, Jayne Mansfield, Hal March, Louis Nye, Carl Reiner, Phil Silvers, Terry-Thomas, Ben Blue, Ann Morgan Guilbert, Jeffrey Hunter, Marty Ingels and Sam Jaffe, with the latter playing a doctor.

'GUIDE' Walter Matthau, Elaine Devry

Other lesser known — but not for long — talents who aid the stars in the "technical advice" sequences are such lovely girls as Sue Ane Langdon, Claire Kelly, and Linda Harrison.

Grand Ole Opry Stars In Coming Jet Film

The greatest array of country and western music stars ever assembled for a motion picture and numbering many Grand Ole Opry headliners, grace the cast of "Nashville Rebel," musical drama which opens at the Jet Theatre on Thursday.

Topping the cast is Tex Ritter, whose career has spanned many years and extended from the national networks to Grand Ole Opry and star of his own film series. He has appeared in eight movies. Also a top recording star, Ritter's best-selling records include "High Noon," "Boll Weevil," "Way a Way Wind" and "Hillbilly Heaven."

Another star appearing in the Technicolor and wide screen drama is Faron Young, an artist with many hit records to his credit and a familiar personality on the Grand Ole Opry stage.

Most of the singing stars in "Nashville Rebel" are also composers as well as singers and instrumentalists such as Sonny James, youngest in a family of singers. His most popular record was "Young Love," a million-seller which won him the Gold Record.

On the distaff side, the performers include Loretta Lynn, who travels 150,000 miles a year to fill her engagements. Loretta has sung to packed audiences in the huge Hollywood Bowl. She has won hundreds of awards and her biggest hit record was "Happy Birthday." Loretta has also composed a number of hit tunes.

Also prominent in "Nashville Rebel" is Cousin Jody, a native East Tennessean who became a star on Grand Ole Opry in 1937 with Roy Acuff after a guest break-in on WNOX in Knoxville.

One of the performers in the field of country music and contributor to the Nashville Sound is Porter Wagoner, a native of West Plains, Missouri, who made good in the high competition of the Grand Ole Opry. His greatest song hit was "Satisfied Mind" with "Green, Green Grass of Home" running a close second. Among many songs he has composed are "Trademark" and "Look What Followed Me Home Tonight."

Completing the cast of Opry all-stars are the Wilburn Brothers, Teddy and Doyle. Following the winning of a talent contest in Arkansas when Doyle was not quite 10 years of age and Teddy just under 11, the Wilburn Brothers made their first guest appearance on the Opry when they could barely see over the footlights. Thirteen years later they became regular members of the Opry cast. Prolific musicians, Doyle plays the guitar, fiddle, bass and mandolin while Teddy is an expert on the guitar, bass, autoharp, mandolin and ukelele. Their singing though is what catapulted them to stardom. Their biggest hit is "Trouble's Back in Town."

"Nashville Rebel" additionally features famous comic Henry Youngman and introduces a new star in Waylon Jennings with Mary Frann portraying the romantic feminine lead. In supporting roles are Gordon Oasheim, Ce Ce Whitney and Archie Campbell.

'MURDERER'S ROW' Dean Martin and Ann-Margret

Dean Martin In Helm Twin Bill

"Dean Martin as Matt Helm" probably is one of the familiar motion picture phrases today, as a result of the star's success in two super-spy spoofs, "Murderer's Row" and "The Silencers." The films now have returned to the Jet Theatre as a twin-bill filled with comedy, romance, adventure and excitement. Plus girls like Ann-Margret, Stella Stevens, Daliah Lavi, Cyd Charisse, Beverly Adams as Love Kravetz and, of course, the "Slaygirls" without whom no Matt Helm super-agent adventure could be complete.

Matt Helm is, for Dean Martin, the sort of role that combines tongue-in-cheekiness with rugged action drama.

Based on the scrappy — but suave — hero of Donald Hamilton's novels, Matt Helm is an urbane, sophisticated type, ready with a wisecrack or a wallop — be it with an enemy agent or a beautiful girl. Martin, who has all of these qualities in his makeup, also has a physical capability that makes his Matt Helm believable.

Dean, is seldom if ever, ruffled. But the star is also a man who, despite his relaxed demeanor, goes where the action is; especially the outdoor kind. He wields a mean golf club and knows his way about the fairways as well as any man, but he also likes the more robust type of action as well, which explains his enthusiasm for roles in western and other action films, and his special delight in the Matt Helm films.

Martin is an all-around sportsman. He rides horseback, is an excellent swimmer and a skilled motorcyclist. And, liking anything on wheels, he's a sports car fancier. He enjoys nothing better than to take his favorite speedster out in the desert flats and really let her rip. A skilled and resourceful driver, he knows every trick in the book.

And another thing that fits Martin for the Matt Helm role, is his splendid physical condition. A former professional pugilist, Martin is naturally endowed with quick reflexes that make his physical combat sequences wholly credible. Martin studied judo and karate.

OFF THE BEATEN TRAIL

Old Rip Small Timer In The Big Sleep League?

By ED SEYERS
Well, you Eastland folks, here it is: the way I got it from Spur's C. A. McClain. That horned toad displayed in your courthouse — Old Rip, who slept out 31 years in your cornerstone: he's an infant, a dozing rookie in the Big Sleep Leagues. Now, here's a real graybeard from up South Plains ways.

"In northeast Garza County," recalls McClain, "a man and two sons broke up a hard sand rock on farm land, to remove it. It had to be broken with several sticks of dynamite; it was about 10 tons in weight and about three feet thick."
"When the rock broke in several pieces, a horned toad dropped out of a cavity that was shaped as though moulded with a large spoon. This skinned the toad's head some. The toad's size was about that of an adult one today; its color, snow white."

"There was no air passage of any kind leading to the toad's location; but he was alive some two hours later — the last time the men noticed him."

"This happened in 1935, and I do not hesitate to tell you I don't know when the toad was entombed; but it must have been in antediluvian times."

"I tell you this because I was the farmer, with my two sons, who broke up that rock."

AN OLD HOME

Just east of little Santa Maria, in Valley's Cameron County below Mercedes, is a great mission - arched, L-shaped hacienda with much age, and grace enough to demand the sketchbook of Texan artist Buck Schwetz for 'its sense of near perfect proportion.' From that home now, hear its owner, La Feria's Kyle L. Tanner (Military Road):

"Our land is called 'Rancho de Santa Maria,' originally part of a grant to Jose Hinajosa de Balli in 1730. According to the abstract, very long ago there were buildings on that land, but they were not described."
"Some believe that our building was in the Balli hacienda even in 1830. But over the years it has been a stage stop, store, post office, army headquarters (1915-17). It is scheduled shortly for a historic marker."

Searcher Tanner has heard that the building was well known a century ago as 'Rancho del Gallo,' or 'Rancho Blanco' alternately. "Yet no one," he says, "seems really to know its age or history." (Note: A dim trail indeed. Can anyone help to the real age and story of what might be one of our very oldest homes?)

AND OLD BUILDINGS

San Antonio Conservation Society's Mrs. V. L. Lockett Jr.: "The National Park Service, Bexar County Historical Survey Committee and (her conservationists) are cooperating in an architectural survey of historical structures of San Antonio and this county."

"We need any information about locations of old farm houses, stores, city homes, businesses, stage stops, etc. . . and histories . . . of their people. Above all, we need aid in establishing the original owners and would like to copy old abstracts and photographs."

Please address our office, 511 Villita Street (Alt'n: Research), San Antonio 78205.

Piano Soloist To Appear In Concert

Over the years the Big Spring Concert Association has featured some outstanding pianists, and one of the offerings this season bids to continue if not improve upon this record.

Appearing here Jan. 19 will be Miyoko Yamane, a brilliant young international artist. In addition to her concert tour this year, Miss Yamane is making several appearances with major orchestras in the country.

Other programs on this year's series include the Broadway production, "The Impossible Years," starring Tom Ewell, Oct. 31; Fred Waring and His Pennsylvanians, Dec. 12; the famous Texas Boys Choir, now on European tour, Feb. 29. Memberships ($9 adult, $4 student) may be had by calling Mrs. Donald Van Meter or Mrs. E. H. Boullion Jr. A graduate of the Paris Conservatoire with highest honors, Miss Yamane established herself as a sparkling professional in her native Japan. She won top honors at the Busoni International Piano Concours in Bolzano, Italy and immediately was in demand as soloist with the Tokyo Symphony.

Rudolph Serkin heard her in Japan in 1965 and induced her to come to America. She was awarded the Baldwin Piano Lucien Wulsin fellowship and appeared at the Boston Symphony Orchestra's Berkshire Music Center, presented recitals across the country and appeared as soloist with leading orchestras. Meanwhile, she has sandwiched in another successful European tour.
