City Acts To Extend Limits

Long Term In Jail And Big Fine Possible

Sentencing Is Set Dec. 9; Woman Is To Get Freedom

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) today withdrew his plea of not guilty to charges of payroll padding, and threw himself on the mercy of the court.

The 54-year-old legislator changed his plea to one of nolo contendere. That means he does not contest the government's charges.

Woman Is Freed

With this startling development, Judge Alexander M. Holtzoff dismissed a charge against Miss Helen Campbell, former secretary to Thomas. She was accused of conspiring with Thomas to defraud the government through padding of the lawmaker's office pay roll.

Holtzoff set December 9 for sentencing of Thomas.

Thomas faces a possible maximum sentence of 32 years in jail and $40,000 in fines.

Pending the sentencing, Thomas was allowed his continued freedom under his present bond of $1,000.

Holtzoff said that since Miss Campbell seemed to have acted merely as an employe of Thomas, he would dismiss the charges against her.

Compulsion Charged

John R. Fitzpatrick, lawyer for Miss Campbell, had contended at the outset of the trial on Monday that every act of Miss Campbell was under "compulsion" from Thomas due to their employe-employer relationship.

Fitzpatrick told the court then

Defendant Fails In His Arithmetic After Judge Allows Choice On Assault Penalty

HARLINGEN, Nov. 30 (U.P.)—Vincent John Donegan had a lesson today in the comparative values of jail sentences and jail fines.

He failed in his arithmetic.

When a county judge found Donegan guilty of an assault charge, he gave the defendant his choice of 30 days in jail or a $250 fine.

"I'll take the fine," Donegan decided.

But he discovered he didn't have the money, so he was sent to jail to serve out the equivalent.

A $250 fine equals 90 days in jail.

TIME OF BLASTS KEPT SECRET

Test Of New Atom Weapons Revealed

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Some more, and probably even more deadly, atomic weapons are going to be exploded by the United States in a secret test. It will be weighty with meaning for Russia and the rest of an A-bomb conscious world.

A joint announcement by the Atomic Energy commission and Defense department last night gave the place—the mid-Pacific proving ground in Eniwetok atoll—but kept secret the time. It said only that tests are "planned."

Foreigners Not Wanted

There was an obvious reason for concealing the month, week or days on which the tests will be made: to foil any attempt by Russian submarines or airplanes to steal close enough to the atoll to make some technically useful observations.

Russia now has produced her own atomic explosion. Scientists here believe that Soviet bombs are far behind the new and vastly more powerful designs developed by the United States.

Apparently no foreign visitors, friendly or unfriendly, are wanted at Eniwetok for the forthcoming tests.

The announcement said "full security restrictions as required by the atomic energy act apply to all aspects of test preparations, including the time of the tests." This was interpreted in some quarters to mean that the rigid provisions of the atomic law, prohibiting transmission of secret data to any foreign power, would mean that Britain and Canada wouldn't be invited to send observers. This policy would be in line with the previous Eniwetok test of three weapons in April and May of 1948, when none but American military men and scientists of the commission was present.

Eight Weapons Tried

Up to now the United States has exploded eight atomic weapons. Two of them were dropped in wartime on the Japanese cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, the others exploded in the initial pre-attack test at Alamagordo, N. M., in the 1946 tests at Bikini and at

FBI Agents Ordered To Appear In Court

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan today ordered all FBI agents who investigated the Coplin-Gubitchev spy conspiracy case to appear Monday at a hearing to determine whether illegal wire-tapping was used.

The order also told the government to show cause on Monday why all evidence obtained through wire-tapping should not be suppressed and why any indictment obtained by these methods against ex-government girl Judith Coplon should not be dismissed.

Annexation Of 10 Big Areas Gets Approval

Addition Of About 10,000 Persons To Population Looms

First steps toward annexing 10 large suburban areas to the city limits were taken by members of the city commission Tuesday night after a seven-hour public hearing.

They voted down an extension of the city boundaries to include a large section of Southeast Lubbock and took under advisement the proposal to annex the "Westchester" area bordering the Levelland highway at the western edge of the city.

To Add To Population

Officials estimated the extension will add at least 10,000 inhabitants to the city's population when the federal census is taken next year and about six miles to the Lubbock territorial area. The commission was advised that 2,299 residences, many of them multiple unit dwellings, are in the areas approved for annexation.

Estimates are that the actions will increase the city's population to 75,000 to 80,000 and the total area to about 17 square miles.

A second reading of each of the annexation ordinances will be necessary to complete actions upon them. These are scheduled for consideration at the regular commission meeting Dec. 8.

Rules On Zoning

Members of the commission also announced that any building under construction by next Jan. 1 in the annexed areas can be completed without being affected by zoning regulations.

The areas approved for annexation follow:

1. North Lubbock, including the Country Club addition.

2. East Lubbock between Fourth and Nineteenth street bordering the north side of East Broadway about two miles and the south side of that thoroughfare approximately one mile.

3. East Lubbock consisting chiefly of the Seiber addition, including "Queen City," a negro district.

4-A. Southeast Lubbock extending from Avenue A almost a mile eastward and southward from the

(By The Associated Press)

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 30 — State and city police today sought the man who shot and killed 'teen-aged Mrs. Lenore Angle last night.

The young wife, at 17 a bride of 11 months, was shot on a street near her apartment home.

Police Detective Frank Breen said her husband, Langdon Angle, jr., 22, an optical company worker, was missing.

A navy veteran and described as a sufferer from migraine, Angle was absent from the couple's recently rented apartment when police got there.

His 1941 car, which lacks both fenders, also was missing, Breen said.

Pretty Mrs. Angle, shot in her head and heart, was found crumpled on a street on the northeast side about 10:30 p. m. Neighbors said they heard a man and woman quarreling and then two shots.

The Angles, married last January, recently became reconciled after separating for

Bodies Found Three Hours After Mishap

Albert Clubb, Jr., Vernon L. Wilkins Smother To Death

By BILL CLARK
Journal Staff Writer

WILSON, Nov. 30.—The bodies of two men were discovered at the bottom of a grain-filled pit shortly after 1 p. m. today at the Clubb Grain company here.

Dead were Albert Clubb, jr., 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Clubb of 2809 Twenty-sixth, Lubbock, and Vernon Lee Wilkins, 32, of Wilson.

The accident is believed to have occurred about 10 a. m. but the tragedy was not discovered until about noon

Rescuers Go To Work

When word of the accident spread, more than 150 men from the community came to help dig through the eight feet of grain to recover the bodies.

Wilkins' body was found about 1 p. m. and Clubb's several minutes later.

First announcement of the cave-in came after John Hill of Tahoka had gone to the gin office across the street from the granary and asked for directions for unloading his grain.

Mrs. D. C. Newsom, wife of the manager of the Farmer's Co-Op Gin, where Clubbs shared office space, gave him the information.

Cave In Is Reported

Soon Hill came back and said he could not unload because there had been a cave-in.

Mrs. Newsom said young Clubb usually came into the gin office several times a day, frequently as early as 8:30 a. m. "Today," she said, "he did not come into the office."

Her explanation served as an indication that the cave-in of the granary pit's wooden walls may have been early this morning, but a gin employe, Elmer Beasley, said he believed it was about 10 a. m. when he heard a loud popping noise.

"I didn't investigate," he explained, "because I thought it was grain being loaded into a box car."

Noticed Wall Caved In

J. W. Lamb of Wilson said he drove by the pit en route to the gin about 11 a. m. and noticed "that the wall had caved in."

The men are believed to have gone to the bottom of the pit to open the door to the conveyor belt tunnel when the tons of grain poured in on them.

Wilkins is believed to have tried

New Hospital Plans Pushed

Looking forward to letting a construction contract during the first half of 1950, four officials of Lubbock Memorial hospital and two local architects will leave tomorrow for Austin where they will confer, Friday, with William R. O'Connell, architect for the Hospital Construction division of the State Department of Health.

Making the trip from here will be Dr. J. T. Kruger, C. E. Hunt, Don Lewis and J. H. Felton, all of Lubbock Memorial; and S. B. Haynes and L. H. Kirby, architects.

To Discuss Plans

Purpose of the trip, said C. E. Hunt, is to discuss the hospital's construction plans with the state architect and also confer with him regarding the employment of a consulting architect in the field of hospital construction.

Lubbock Memorial plans to build its new home on West Nineteenth street, in the 3600 and 3700 blocks, in order to make way for business expansion on Broadway, west of Avenue L. The hospital's present location includes a block on Broadway between Avenue L and M; a half block on Avenue L between Broadway and Thirteenth street and a full block between Broadway and Thirteenth on Avenue M.

Detailed plans for the new structure have not yet been completed, awaiting advice from O'Connell's office and from an architect who specializes in hospital construction. However, Lubbock Memor-

Escaping Convict Employs Caveman Style Of Love-Making In Abducting Girl Taxi Driver

(By The United Press)

IOWA CITY, Ia., Nov. 30 Tiny and pretty 22-year-old Lee Stuart planned to quit her job as a taxicab driver today—just 24 hours after she started.

"Enough is enough and I've had it," she said.

On her first day out, Miss Stuart got herself abducted by an escaping convict who alternately slugged her and tried to make love to her. He wasn't very adept at either.

"He couldn't seem to make up his mind what line to use," she said.

"He started out by asking me for a kiss. I refused. Then he suddenly started punching me and I hopped out of the car.

"He called me back and apologized. Then he started slugging me again. That time I screamed—good and loud. He drove off and left me standing there, miles from nowhere."

Police said Miss Stuart had had a narrow escape.

Her troubles began when Phillip Hall, 28-year-old convict rapist serving time at the Fort Madison state penitentiary, escaped from the University of Iowa hospital where he had been taken for treatment of a nose ailment. He eluded his guards and dashed from the hospital's eye, ear, nose and throat clinic.

Miss Stuart was answering a call in University Heights when Hall suddenly jumped

Air Crashes Kill 246

17 Tragedies Recorded For 5-Week Span

(By The United Press)

A series of 17 major air crashes in five weeks brought to 246 today the number of persons killed or missing in accidents involving multi-engined commercial airlines and military planes.

The total rose sharply yesterday with the deaths of 28 passengers and crew members aboard an American Airplanes DC-6 at Dallas, and five persons aboard and Air France DC-4 which crashed at Lyons, France.

Crashed In Flames

Both of the big transports crashed in flames when the pilots tried to bring their planes in for landings.

Eighteen of the 46 persons aboard the American Airlines plane survived but most were burned or injured when the New York-Mexico City airliner tried to come down with two of its four engines dead at the Dallas municipal airport.

The French four-engined plane overshot the mist-covered Bron airport at Lyons and crashed in fairly open country 18 miles away. Seventeen persons escaped with injuries.

Began On Oct. 28

The series of air disasters began Oct. 28 when another Air France transport, a four-engined Constellation, crashed in the Azores islands, killing all 48 persons aboard. One of the victims was French boxer Marcel Cerdan.

The casualty toll includes six Air Force crewmen missing aboard a C-54 believed to have crashed Nov. 22 on Mt. St. Henens near Portland, Ore., and nine passengers and three crewmen on a Lansa Airlines DC-3 which crashed on a mountain near Bucaramanga, Columbia, Nov. 26.

Rescue parties set out today on the last leg of a search for the missing air force fliers believed dead in the wreckage of a plane spotted on the slope of the Washington peak. Those aboard the Columbian

Society's Gift To Make Merry Christmas

Pennsylvania Child, 4, Born Without Feet, Given "Legs"

(By The Associated Press)

SHARPSBURG, Pa., Nov. 30 — "Mummy, where's my feet?"

Sadly, Mrs. Sylvia Stypula would explain over and over to her blonde, four-year-old daughter Evelyn:

"Baby, God didn't give you any feet."

That would satisfy Evelyn for a while. But then she would see her older sister, Virginia, 6, and her little cousins dancing and running about while she crawled or sat on the floor.

And again she would ask: "Mummy, where's my feet?"

The chubby little girl with the Dutch doll haircut was born with two misshapen stumps for legs. Her left arm ended at the elbow. The fingers on her right hand were deformed.

Last February, Evelyn entered Mercy hospital for an operation that would enable her to have a normal life. The leg stumps were amputated at the thigh.

On August 15 Evelyn got her feet—a present from the Allegheny County Society for Crippled Children which will buy her all the various sets of legs she will need until

Late November Heat To Abate

(By The United Press)

Texans who have been suffering from "late November heat" will get a change to cool off this afternoon and tonight, but temperatures will rise again tomorrow.

Alice and Cotulla recorded torrid maximums of 96 degrees yesterday. Corpus Christi reported the hottest Nov. 29 in its history with 95 degrees, while San Antonio had an all-time high for the day with 91 degrees.

Even 32 At Amarillo

It was believed that El Paso, with a maximum of 77, enjoyed its warmest Nov. 29 in history, too.

The U. S. weather bureau said the weather would be fair and not quite so warm this afternoon and tonight, except in the Panhandle and South Plains where the mercury played around the freezing point during the early morning hours today.

Dalhart, at the tip of the Panhandle, shivered in 29 degree weather, while Amarillo reported an even-freezing 32. Wink, Wichita Falls, Mineral Wells and Ozona each had a low of 38 degrees, while Abilene had a 34.

31 At Lubbock

Oddly, the highest minimum, 66 degrees at Brownsville, was warmer than the lowest maximum, 61 degrees at Amarillo.

A 31-degree minimum in the Dallas Police Seeking Clues In "Mistaken Identity" Slaying

(By The United Press)

DALLAS, Nov. 30.—Dallas police investigators moved about the city's underworld today, looking for clues that would confirm their belief that a "mistaken identity" slaying may touch off a war between rival gambling factions.

Mrs. Herbert Noble, wife of a Dallas gambler, died horribly yesterday when she set off a dynamite bomb in the automobile her husband usually drives.

The automobile, a 1946 mercury, had been parked overnight in front of the Noble residence in the Beckley Wood division of Dallas.

Noble, who had business to transact in Fort Worth yesterday, veered from his usual routine and departed in his wife's sleek green 1949 Cadillac.

Police believed that the bomb which had been planted in Noble's car was of the nitroglycerin type. Mrs. Noble detonated the bomb by either turning the ignition

FREE LABOR GROUP OPEN TO BLOW

Reds Wooing Catholic Unions Following Organization Rift

LONDON, Nov. 30. (AP)—Moscow once again is wooing Europe's Catholic labor unions to form a solid "front" with Communist workers in what may become a new campaign aimed at disrupting the west's recovery program.

The Russian-led Cominform International Information bureau) in a resolution published yesterday after a secret meeting this month in Hungary urged Communist workers:

"In the struggle for working class unity special attention should be given to masses of Catholic workers and working people and their organizations . . ."

This call coincided with a bitter rift which has arisen here in the organizational meetings of the anti-Communist Free World Labor confederation over failure by its credentials committees to invite Catholic unions from Belgium, the Netherlands, Switzerland, Denmark and Luxembourg.

Aware Of Snub

Observers here felt that the Cominform may have been well aware of this snub and had decided to take advantage of it.

The Cominform resolution was also seen by most observers as an attempt to counteract the recent Vatican decree excommunicating Catholics who militantly support Communism.

It advised its followers to bear in mind "that religious convictions are not an obstacle to working class unity, particularly when this unity is needed to save peace."

The observers noted that it is a well-known Communist tactic, particularly where they are in the minority, to try to create a "front" consisting of all parties on popular issues. They then see to it that they are in control of key positions in the front from which they can direct their campaign along Moscow-directed lines.

Breakup Threatened

This tactic was used with considerable effectiveness in Italy and France.

France's Catholic unions were invited to the London anti-Communist labor conference. Italian labor leader Giulio Pastore threatened to withdraw his organization from the new world group unless the Catholic unions were invited.

A heated row almost threatened to break up the budding new organization because of the omission. But it appeared today that speedy invitations would go out to the previously snubbed organizations in the hopes of bringing about calm and unity to the anti-Communist labor front.

U. S. delegate George Delaney of the AFL in Washington told the conference:

"Christian unions certainly are free and they certainly oppose Communism. So we want them here and I might say the American delegation presents a good example in this respect."

Labor sources in London estimated that the Catholic unions who were originally ignored represented about 5,000,000 members in Europe. The labor confederation itself hopes to bring strong anti-Communist ties to some 50,000,000 workers.

Several delegates at the London conference predicted a new wave of Communist attempts to provoke strikes aimed at sabotaging European economic recovery.

But in Rome a Catholic source said the Cominform resolution indicated the Communists were losing the battle for western workers' allegiance.

The source said the creation last year of independent anti-Communist labor unions in western Europe drew many members from the Communist-dominated groups.

Many other Catholic workers withdrew from these pro-Russian groups after the pope's excommunication decree.

Lamesa Girl Leaves Hospital Walking After Four Months

LAMESA, Nov. 30. (Special)—Mary Etta Arwin, seven-year-old Lamesa girl stricken by rheumatic fever, took her first steps in four ..onths Tuesday when she walked from the hospital.

Her first steps since she was ordered to bed on July 27 were taken after Dr. H. W. Bischoff found her "doing fine" in a monthly examination Tuesday.

According to her mother, Mrs. E. N. Arwine, she "scooted along" after the examination in which the doctor reported her heart "nearly normal."

Mary Etta is still getting several letters a day, her mother reported although she has lost count of the mail received by the young lass.

Since her picture appeared in The Lubbock Morning Avalanche with a request for letters, Mary Etta has received more than 2,000 letters and over 300 packages.

She received several packages at Thanksgiving, as well as autographed pictures of her favorite movie stars, Gene Autry and Roy Rogers.

But she is looking eagerly forward to Christmas which she had thought she would have to observe in bed.

Although she still must spend much time in bed, Dr. Bischoff Tuesday prescribed movement from 8 to 10 a.m. and from 12 to 2 p.m. He also stopped giving medicine at least for the time being. Plans had been for her to stay in bed until February.

Mary Etta's legs are still stiff, but she is overjoyed at being able to quit her bed for intervals.

She has been studying her second grade lessons at home, and her teacher says she will be ready for the third grade next year. She may even be able to attend school after the first of the year.

In addition to heart ailment, Mary Etta must have her tonsils out. The operation will be performed within a month perhaps.

Fort Worth C-C To Honor Gen. Ramey

FORT WORTH, Nov. 30. (U.P.)—Maj. Gen. Roger M. Ramey, Eighth air force commander, today was theannounced winner of the 1949 Chamber of Commerce civic award for distinguished service.

Presentation of the award will be made at the annual chamber meeting Dec. 15, at which Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, former army chief of staff and now Columbia university president, will be principal speaker.

Four reasons were given for Ramey's selection. Included were his action in placing all resources at his command available for work during the disastrous flood here last May 17.

Another was his part in insisting the B-50 non-stop world-girdling flight originate and end in Fort Worth, which brought international publicity for the city.

Indians gave the Bad Lands of South Dakota their name—Mako Sica in their language—says the National Geographic Society.

Conant School Meet Speaker

HOUSTON, Nov. 30. (AP) — James B. Conant, president of Harvard university, will address the Southern Association of Colleges and secondary schools tonight at its annual banquet.

He will discuss "Science and Common Sense." Two general sessions were scheduled during the day.

The association held no general sessions yesterday. Its commission on secondary schools heard representatives of 11 states agree that southern public schools are getting better because of increased interest by state legislatures. The speakers told of progress made by their states this year.

Laws Big Achievement

T. P. Baker, Austin high school principal, said Texas heads the list in improvement. He said the Gilmer-Aikin laws, which reorganized the Texas school system, were the biggest achievement.

He praised the forbidding of high school fraternities and sororities, the establishment of multiple textbook lists for elementary schools and interscholastic league high school clinics.

Baker told the educators about Austin and Tyler outdoor programs giving every sitxh grade child a chance to camp out for a week with their teachers.

Tennessee and Georgia delegates said their legislatures also passed minimum foundation programs this year. Florida has had such a program since 1947.

Free Lunches rovided

Other delegates reported these achievements:

In Louisiana every child in public schools gets a free lunch. The legislature appropriated $6,925,000 this year for the lunches.

In Mississippi, all existing laws on accreditation and on teacher certificates were abolished and committees are writing new ones.

Dr. Henry H. Hill, president of the association, said the association must, if it is to keep its influence, become more than an accrediting institution.

"Accrediting has became a much less important matter than it was in the beginning of the organization," Hill said. "It can no longer challenge the best thought and interest of school people."

Dr. W. E. Pafford of the Atlanta, Ga., public schools, was named chairman of the secondary schools commisison.

Music was presented by Mrs. Ellis Coombes, organist, and Mrs. B F. Cain, vocal soloist.

At the reception given in the Frye home after the ceremony, the bride's table was laid with a white drawnwork cloth and centered with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums flanked by white candles in silver holders. Mary Haworth's Mail

After Discarding Unfaithful Husband, She Grows Sensitive To Divorced Status

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My attention was captured by the headlines on a front page news story about the forthcoming marriage of a young society woman to a British peer.

As I read a little further I came across these words, "The slender, dark-haired American divorcee—," and again I experienced a feeling of rebellion, as I have so often before. Even in the announcement of wedding plans, there is no escape from the word "divorce."

I am almost 30 and have been divorced for seven years. I had a conservative upbringing and I did my best to make a good marriage, but when my husband could not be faithful to me, I felt obliged to terminate our relationship.

FACES THE FUTURE IN HOPELESS MOOD

I HAVE been reared in the church and I choose to associate with people who go to church, but even in church circles I experience a feeling of panic when I am introduced to a stranger, because I know that sooner or later it will come out that I have been divorced.

I have made a reasonable adjustment to the situation in the work I am doing, but I face a future with no home or children, which is all I ever wanted. And almost as bad is the constant reminder that I am a divorcee. No one ever lets you forget it. How can one get rid of this feeling?

(Signed) E. L.

HER SELF ESTEEM HAS TAKEN BEATING

DEAR E. L.: It may seem to you that being a divorcee is the main source of your wretchedness in relation to society. But if we could see your life history in clear perspective, I think we might find that your broken marriage was just another blow in a series of hard knocks that had been battering your self esteem from the time you were knee high to a duck.

The foregoing assumption — namely (1) that it is an old story with you to feel "outside the pale" and (2) that the indignity of divorce seems the last straw—is based on the melancholy intensity of your rebellious feeling that "there is no escape from the word divorce."

The general tenor of your complaint amounts to saying that, from your viewpoint, to be a divorcee is to be shamefully stigmatized, per se, as a moral failure, a social failure, a failure in love, etc. Although you earnestly believe you are simply reporting what others think about divorced persons (or how they treat them), actually you are wrestling to a considerable extent with a vast accumulation of unconscious guilt feelings, which make you acutely allergic to mention of "divorce."

JUST ONE SYMPTOM OF SELF CENSURE

IN psychiatric parlence you are "projecting" the latest quirk in your lifelong habit of self reproach, in imagining nowadays that anyone who gets to know you must, sooner or later, share your innermost conviction that you are "no good" and that your being a divorcee is absolute proof of it. In short, you are always defensive against being "discovered" at your wretched estimate of yourself,—a very low estimate not formed in your mind, but branded upon your emotions by discouraging experiences and disheartening criticism in early years.

Your essential problem is an anxiety neurosis; and to say, as you do, that nobody lets you forget your divorcee status, that you are being constantly reminded of it, that there is no escape from the word disparagingly used, etc., is simply to touch on one concentrated symptom of obsessional self concern. You live in the shadow of some nebulous threat to your well being, you feel; and you vaguely indicate that others' condemnation of your record is the destructive something you most fear.

The bogeyman isn't outside yourself, in unkind views that others may hold. Nor is it in the misfortune of being divirced. Such as it is, it has its existence in your unconscious, in a a complex of self-damning fears implanted before you reached the age of reason. And to rid yourself of that affliction, you may have to enlist firsthand psychological help.

HE LAY DOWN, WAITED FOR DEATH

Big City Tenderfoot Learns Alaska Not Easily Conquered

By JACK RYAN
United Press Staff Writer

HOMER, Alaska, Nov. 30 — A Chicago tenderfoot who carried his city's motto of "I will" into the Alaska wastelands, won the admiration of oldtime Alaskans today. But they hoped that he would learn the ways of the wilderness in a hurry.

Grady Deas, 24, was found shivering in a soggy sleeping bag yesterday by search parties who had hunted through the Lake Caribou swamplands, 30 miles east of here, for four days and three nights to find him.

Plenty Chicago Experience

Deas went into the backwoods to carve out a homestead. With him he took a rifle, sleeping bag and plenty of self-confidence.

"I lived all my life in Chicago without getting lost and I figure I can find my way around Alaska," he said. "Don't worry about me."

But when he didn't return, residents of the area formed search parties. They found Deas with the aid of two dogs.

He was lying in his wet sleeping bag in the middle of a swamp. He had thrown away all his other equipment while trying to get out of the wilderness.

"I was finished," Deas admitted to his rescuers. "I didn't have the strength to go another foot.

Waited For Death

"I just rolled my sleeping bag out in the open where a plane could sight me. Then I waited for death."

Lawrence Roach of Homer, who lead the search party, then broke the news to Deas that he was "waiting for death" only a few hundred yards from a homesteaders canyon.

In the four days of wandering, Deas had never been more than three miles from a settlement on Kachemak bay, Roach said.

Deas was too weak to walk and had to be carried to Roach's cabin.

But his "I will" spirit carried on.

"I'm going back and stake that homestead," he said firmly.

Homer residents sighed and said they'd have another search party standing by.

Man's Attempt To Get Princess On TV Show Failure

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30. (AP)—An attempt to get a Texas-born princess on a television show nearly turned out to be a kidnapping case.

The Princess Aleene, former wife of Prince Johannes of Lichtenstein, told police yesterday that a man telephoned her at her hotel, saying she had won an automobile in a San Francisco drawing and made an appointment to meet her.

She and a woman friend got into a car, but became suspicious and got out. The car sped away, but they got its license number.

Police Lt. Harry Didion said the owner of the car was a television producer, who explained he used the scheme to "get a real, live princess" on his show. No charges have been filed.

The princess married Prince Johannes in London in 1931 and they were divorced 10 years later. She is the daughter of the late Charles McFarland, Weatherford, Tex., cattle raiser.

Community Chest Drive Is Climbing

Lubbock's 1950 Community Chest financial campaign is slowly but surely climbing toward its goal of $98,850, in spite of the lackadaisical attitude on the part o' many of the drive's team workers, Chest campaign leaders reported today.

Total collections in the drive had reached $79,914.09 today.

There are still 236 unit accounts not reported in the drive, indicating that many of the campaign workers have failed to make second contacts with the various business firms and individuals.

Many contributions have been sent in by mail from accounts on which kits were issued at the start of the drive.

Four groups, the finance division, cotton brokers, department stores and autos and trucks dealers have exceeded their quotas in the campaign. Other groups which have completed their reports include the women's division, amusements, education, and insurance and real estate.

All firms and individuals who haven't been contacted by workers for the second time in the drive can speed up completion of the campaign by sending their reports by mail to Chest headquarters, Earl Kerr, manager, said today.

TO HEAD DRIVE

SEMINOLE, Nov. 30.—County Commissioner Joe Anderson has been named by H. R. Winston of Brownfield to head Gaines county's drive for funds for the reactivated USO.

The county's quota has been set at $577.50.

Lewis' Recent Truce To End

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 30—John L. Lewis again today postponed a meeting of his United Mine Workers policy committee until tomorrow morning—to late to avert a new nation-wide soft coal strike due tonight.

A three-week truce is scheduled to expire at midnight. The union's 200-man policy committee has been marking time here since Monday, ready to act if Lewis gave the signal either to extend the armistice or to allow the miners again to lay down their tools in their contract dispute with the pit owners.

Again Is Postponed

Lewis met with his district presidents this morning and then allowed a spokesman to say that the full-dress policy meeting scheduled for 3 p. m. (CST) would again be postponed.

The meeting was put off Monday and Tuesday while Lewis remained in Washington.

The next session now is set for 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Lewis gave no word publicly about his plans to allow a strike or not.

Can Only Speculate

All that reporters could do was to speculate that the mines would be shut down tomorrow, since the committee authorized by the union constitution to act on such major issues would be unable to move before the deadline.

Whether Lewis has sent out word by his own methods through district presidents could only be guessed about. He gave no hint of what behind-the-scenes move he was involved in.

Mine owners were reported standing solidly against any contract concessions, and there was no indication of government intervention.

Reports from Key West, where President Truman is vacationing, said presidential advisers apparently were clinging to the hope of an 11th hour resumption of negotiations between Lewis and the operators which would permit extension of their three-week truce, expiring at midnight.

The policy committee had been directed by Lewis to meet here Monday, but at the last minute the session was postponed until yesterday, and then again until today. Lewis was busy elsewhere.

Abandoned Old Policy

Lewis abandoned his old-time policy of "no contract no work" when the miners' agreement with the operators expired last June 30.

A short work week and a 52-day strike were interrupted on Nov. 9 by Lewis' order to go back to work. The truce order was issued after a meeting of the policy committee in Chicago Nov. 9.

The United Mine Workers chief sent word Monday and again yesterday that he would prefer to have his followers mark time while he tried to forge a new contract out of the very cool negotiations which have occupied the soft coal operators and union officials for months.

Lewis offered no explanation for postponing the meetings. But he apparently decided yesterday that another 24-hour postponement was justified, as direct talks with major coal operators were reported in the making.

Lewis was reported to have held an important conference with Harry M. Moses, president of the H. C. Frick Coke Co., principal negotiator for "big steel" mining operators.

The steel company vigorously denied that Moses had met with Lewis.

The UMW chief remained in Washington Monday and Tuesday while his policy committee assembled here and waited for his instructions on the possible extension of the present three-week truce or for rsumption of the strike or at least the 380,000 miners east of the Mississippi river.

Should a walkout occur again, most union officers believe it would include all of the mine workers across the nation—the anthracite diggers in eastern Pennsylvania and the soft coal miners west of the Mississippi as well as the bituminous coal miners who were idle east of the Mississippi for the 52 days up to Nov. 9.

BONDS ARE APPROVED

NEW BRAUNFELS, Nov. 30 (AP)—New Braunfels approved a special election yesterday. The $550,000 school bond issue at a program includes a new $350,000 high school.

80-Year-Old Paralysis Victim Accused Of Trying To Kill Wife With Hatchet

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 30 (U.P.)—Sheriff Jess Jack explained today he couldn't jail A. J. Pratt, 80, because the jail can't take care of wheel-chair invalids, but bond for the paralysis victim was fixed at $1,000 on charges of trying to kill his 78-year-old wife with a hatchet.

Pratt pleaded innocent from an ambulance yesterday at arraignment proceedings held in front of the Cleveland county courthouse.

He allegedly wheeled his chair to a kitchen table last Saturday, removed a hatchet kept in a drawer as "protection against burglars," and struck his wife when she leaned down to pick up a broom.

Mrs. Pratt's nose, almost severed, required 32 stitches.

CONSTRUCTION NOT YET OKAYED

U. S. Is Planning 312 Public Buildings Throughout Nation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (U.P.)—Three hundred and twelve public buildings in 44 states, Puerto Rico, Hawaii and Alaska will advance to the blueprint stage under authorization of the federal government today.

The list, representing the first major step in the biggest public works proposal since the end of World War II, was announced by general services administrator Jess Larson and Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson. They did not authorize construction of any of the projects, but only planning and site acquisition.

Of the 312 approved, 190 are ones planned several years ago and deferred during the war. Congress appropriated $40,000,000 for the planning work and specified that these 190 be included. The remaining ones were drawn from a shelf of 4,000 projects requested throughout the nation.

Most Are Postoffices

Most of the buildings will be postoffices. Some are combination postoffice - courthouse structures, while others include border stations and health facilities.

It is estimated that these 312 projects, plus 263 others which are being considered, will cost $377,000,000 to build. This money has not yet been appropriated by Congress.

The most expensive of the buildings is a $14,000,000 postoffice at New Orleans. Others include a $13,000,000 U. S. mint at Philadelphia; a postoffice and courthouse at Houston, to cost $12,000,000, and three $8,000,000 projects—postoffice at Seattle, federal office building in Baltimore and courthouse and postoffice at Cleveland.

Projects Listed

In the following list, cities named are to receive postoffices unless otherwise noted. The amount of money after each city is the total amount needed for construction, and does not represent the money being granted for planning and site acquisition. No amount is listed where projects will cost less than $200,000. An (x) signifies the 190 projects which had been deferred. The include:

Arkansas—Augusta (x); West Memphis (x) (additional land and building), $220,000; Harrisburg; Bald Knob; Fayetteville (x), $710,000; Ashdown, $280,000, and Camden.

Dallas Love Burglar To Be Tried Dec. 12

DALLAS, Nov. 30. (AP) — Fred Felix Adair, jr., handsome book keeper accused as Dallas' "love burglar," will be tried Dec. 12 on rape charges.

Adair, 25, was indicted yesterday. Judge Henry King set the trial date.

Adair told King he didn't know whether his wife had been able to hire a lawyer.

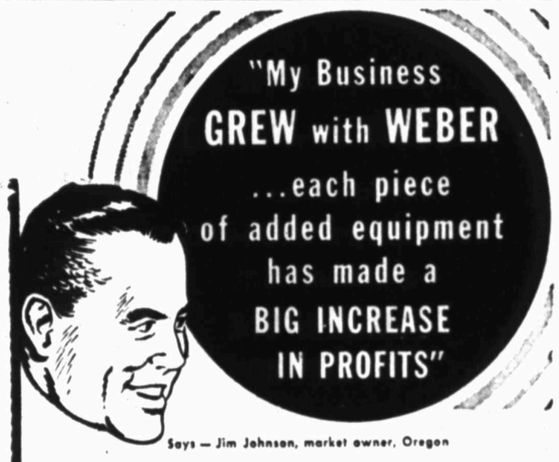

"If you don't have a lawyer in a few days," the judge said, "let me know and I'll appoint one for you."

After his arrest, Adair signed statements admitting a series of burglaries and assaults but later repudiated the statements and declared he is innocent.

The indictment charges he entered the home of a Vickery, Tex., woman last February and raped her while her children stood by screaming.

Red Raiders To Play In Raisin Bowl Dec. 31

Tech To Meet San Jose Team

Texas Tech's Red Raiders will appear in the Raisin Bowl at Fresno, Calif., on Dec. 31, Tech officials announced Tuesday afternoon after being notified that the bowl committee had approved a guarantee of $17,500 for the Lubbock college.

The bowl group met at noon yesterday to consider the Tech proposal, which meant an increase of $3,500 over the initial figure, and the fund boost was unanimously approved. A few minutes later Al Radka, chairman of the bowl selection committee, telephoned Dr. J. William Davis, chairman of the Texas Tech athletic council, that the Tech proposal had been accepted.

San Jose Host Team

San Jose State college, winner of the California Collegiate Athletic association title this year, will be the host team for the game, to be played on Saturday before most of the New Year's Day games, slated for Monday, Jan. 2.

Radka told Dr. Davis that San Jose State was enthusiastic about the opportunity to play Texas Tech and that the Fresno Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the bowl, also was enthusiastic about having the Lubbock team play in Fresno.

Texas Tech received the Raisin Bowl bid by telephone Monday afternoon, but held out for a larger guarantee, pointing out that they could not make the trip financially with security at the original offer, reported to be $14,000.

TWC Also Given Bid

Originally the bid had been extended to Texas Western college, but when Texas Tech declined the Sun Bowl bid, the Miners accepted to keep peace in El Paso. The Raisin Bowl bid then was extended to Tech. The Tech players unanimously voted to go.

Last night sponsors of the Sun Bowl, according to an Associated Press dispatch, decided that they no longer would be obligated to invite the Border Conference champion. They dissolved the agreement they had had among themselves.

Texas Tech officials had pointed out earlier that there was no agreement between the Border Conference and the Sun Bowl. The conference champion always was extended the bid, but there was no moral obligation to the champion to attend. Although Sun Bowl officials had tried to force the Border loop to sign an agreement to send the champion, the conference resisted every attempt.

To Resume Drills Dec. 15

Coach Dell Morgan announced that football practice would be resumed Dec. 15, with intensive work starting Dec. 20. Players will be given two days off at Christmas.

When the squad will leave for Fresno is not known at this time. Tech officials are studying various transportation routes and means of travel. It will be either by plane or by train.

The enthusiasm in Fresno apparently was equalled by Lubbock counterpoints. Football players, coaches, officials and students generally were enthusiastic about the opportunity for the Raiders to close the year in a bowl game.

According to the records, it should be a close battle. San Jose State's Spartans lost four games, all to larger opponents, while Texas Tech had an identical record.

The Spartans won eight games, including a 40-13 licking of St. Mary's, while the Raiders won seven games, including a 15-0 trouncing of Tulsa, later conquerors of Villanova.

Fresno is located in the heart of the San Joaquin valley at the geographical center of the state. It is the Fresno County seat and has a population of over 70,000. The surrounding country is rich and fertile, with grain and fruits the chief occupations, although there are also flour and lumber mills, machine shops and factories. Oil also is abundant. The city was incorporated in 1885 and is the trading and shipping point for a large area.

Rice, Baylor Dominate 1949 All-Southwest Grid Eleven

DALLAS, Nov. 30 (AP) — Champion Rice and runner-up Baylor dominated the all-Southwest conference football team selected by the coaches of the seven schools for the Associated Press.

Rice, with the acknowledged top line, appropriately enough placed three linemen on the team — end James Williams, Tackle Ralph Murphy and Center Joe Watson.

Baylor came through with two linemen and a back. They were J. D. Ison, pass-catching wingman; Don Mouser, great all-around guard, and Adrian Burk, the precision man under center in Baylor's T formation.

Southern Methodist and Texas Christian each placed two—backfielders Doak Walker and Kyle Rote of the Methodists and Tackle Harold Kilman and Quarterback Lindy Berry of the Christians.

The other spot went to mountain Lewis (Bud) McFadin of Texas, who got votes for both guard and tackle.

Texas A. and M. and Arkansas did not place although Bob Smith of the Aggies ran a close race for a backfield spot.

Williams, Watson and Walker were unanimous choices. Rote lacked one ballot.

Others who ran a tight race for first team honors were Ben Procter, the great Texas pass-receiver, and Randy Clay, the line-ramming Texas halfback.

The second team has Procter and Jack Wolcott of Rice at the ends; Bobby Collier of Southern Methodist and John Lunney of Arkansas, tackles; Carl Schwarz of Rice and Jack Halliday, Southern Methodist, guards; Gerald Weatherly of Rice, center, and Smith, Clay, Bobby Lantrip of Rice and Leon Campbell of Arkansas, backs.

Rice had an unusual situation—"Two All-American centers," as the sports writers often said. If Watson hadn't been on the team Weatherly undoubtedly would have been the first all-conference center.

There are two juniors on the team — Kilman and Rote. The others all finish up this year.

Between the Lines by Joe Kelly

So the football season for Texas Tech isn't over. Instead, it rolls merrily along, although not quite on a par with Lubbock High school. After all, the Westerners will be playing each week, while the Raiders have nothing more to do than work. It will be hard work, too, for they'll have had two and a half weeks away from the gridiron. Coach Dell Morgan has told them to keep in shape by running daily, doing exercises and generally keeping their systems well toned. But then will come the practice field with the inevitable scrimmage sessions and that will be almost strange to the players at first. Knowing Tech's men, we know that they will accept the rough work in view of the good that is to follow. And we know that they'll go to California with only one thought in mind—to win.

• • •

This has been a good season for the Raiders. They were the class of the Border Conference again, a situation that is getting somewhat monotonous to the other clubs. They wound up their third straight season without defeat in circuit competition. They started slowly and gathered speed as they went along, acquiring speed, finesse, poise and hard drive. They beat two outside teams, Abilene Christian and Tulsa, although only Tulsa qualifies as a top rate team—and they proved it by beating Villanova, a good team. But when they ran into the Southwest Conference elevens, that was something else again. They were too tough—as they should be—and all the Raiders could do was play as well as they could and make things a little tougher than most non-Southwest Conference could.

• • •

The year 1949 brings to a close the ninth year that Coach Dell Morgan has been in charge of the destinies of the Red Raiders. It also is the 25th year on the gridiron for the Raiders. During that period they have won 150 games, lost 89 and tied 18. Under Coach Morgan, the Raiders have accounted for 52 of the 150 victories (over a third), have lost 39 games (less than half) and tied three (one-sixth). Half their Border loop championships have come in that period.

• • •

The record also shows that Tech has won 25 Border Conference games in those nine years, lost only one and tied two. Against Southwest Conference competition, Tech has won nine, lost 23 and tied one. Against all other competition the record is 18 victories, 15 defeats and no ties. The Raiders have scored 621 points in 28 Border Conference games in nine years, have allowed only 206. They have scored 231 points against SWC teams, have allowed 622. Against all others they have scored 516, allowed 412.

• • •

What the record doesn't show is the high esteem in which Tech is held now by the persons that count. Where once Tech was despised by the SWC, the Raiders now are welcome on SWC schedules, even though they are considered breathers. At the same time, SWC coaches respect Tech's potential abilities and are eager to pit their teams against Tech's. The Raiders have turned down opportunities to play other teams outside the immediate confines, not because they wouldn't like to give players trips or play other teams, but because there is more financial gain to be made by playing teams closer to home. This, in turn, makes it possible to build the athletic department more.

• • •

But what does the future hold? The Border loop teams are getting a little tired of seeing Texas Tech continually outclass them in football. They have done everything in their power to whip up enthusiasm when their teams play the Raiders. We think we are safe in saying that Texas Tech has played more Homecoming games than any other team in the conference. Homecoming is one way to whip up spirit, to arouse opposing players. But what happens? Tech goes merrily on its winning way, winning game after game. And the future doesn't indicate much change. They find themselves at the top in the Border Conference. If they lose, everyone sneers and says the Raiders are bums. If they win, well, they ought to, they have everything with which to win. In winning Texas Tech has accomplished, in the eyes of most people, nothing.

• • •

So they try to go out of their league. They play the perenially strong SWC elevens. There is a general smile at the thought that Tech might be serious about taking its rightful place in the conference. But the same schools are eager to play Tech. It seems that the persons who cast their votes in secret are not the onces who direct teams against the Raiders. Those who do, respect the Raiders for being well coached and providing good competition. There are those who say that SWC teams hold off the attack to make the score look decent for Tech's sake. Bring us a signed statement to that effect by one of the SWC coaches and we'll believe it. We have yet to meet one SWC coach who doesn't hold the Raiders in respect.

• • •

Tech isn't in the SWC and there is slim chance for them to make the grade. If left to the coaches, we think that the Raiders would be in by now. All of which leaves the coaching situation in a difficult position at Tech. If the Raiders win the Border title, that is expected. If they don't beat the SWC teams, they are bums. They are in the middle in more ways than one and there apparently is no solution. They want to become bona fide memebrs of a conference that doesn't want them, are members of a conference that doesn't enjoy being beaten continually and yet must play both conferences with Border Conference material to remain on friendly terms with all. If you have a good, workable solution (and don't suggest wildcat—that's empty), shoot it to us. Maybe you have the solution that Tech is looking for now, and continues to seek.

Five Lubbock players—End Billy Wright, Tackle Doug Ross, Guard Freddie Gray, Center Douglas Wienke and Halfback Wayne Stroud —were chosen on the third team.

Offense Tops Austin Drill

EL PASO, Nov. 30 (Special)—Austin High's Panthers went through a long, hard scrimmage here Tuesday as they continued preparations for their bi-district tilt with Lubbock's Westerners.

Aimed at sharpening their T-formation attack, the team came through with a fine display of offensive power which it hopes will equal that of the Westerners here Saturday afternoon in a game which opens the door to further Class AA honors.

Polish Passing Attack

Coach Charles (Red) Harris ran his offensive unit through its second day of scrimmage devoted almost entirely to polishing up the Panther running and passing game.

The Panther backfield of Noel McCormick, Ted Feidner, Jerry Baker and Jimmie Agee ripped through the defensive unit repeatedly as they stressed wide plays and pass formations.

Harris pointed out the need for the drills by recalling Austin's inability to maintain a sustained attack against El Paso High last week. The Panthers bogged down several times in the shadow of the Tiger goal posts.

The defensive platoon also came in for a big siege of work on fundamentals, with Line Coach Freddy Salem accenting blocking and tackling assignments.

Harris indicated another hard drill was on schedule for Wednesday, with lighter sessions beginning Thursday.

Meanwhile ticket sales here indicated a near sell-out crowd would be on hand in R. E. McKee stadium Saturday afternoon to watch the game.

Hale Center, Anton Split Double Bill

ANTON, Nov. 30. (Special)—The Hale Center and Anton high school basketball squads treated local fans to a pair of thrilling games last night as they split a cage twin bill.

The Hale Center girls team edged the local sextet, 24-22, in a double-overtime encounter. The score was knotted at 20-20 at the end of regulation playing time, and at 22-22 at the close of the first overtime session. Burns scored 11 points and Burgess made nine to pace the winners. Myrtle Brown and Carla Jean Herrington counted 10 each for Anton.

Whitey Williams flipped in a field goal with less than one minute to play to give the Anton boys a 22-21 decision over Anton's quintet. Billy Ray Glasscock and James Greer starred for Anton, while Jerry Johnson sparked the visitors.

Lubbock Backfield Will Be In Top Shape For El Paso Tussle

Drills have speeded up this week at Chapman field for the Lubbock Westerners, but there has been no heavy scrimmaging.

Coach Pat Pattison and assistant Coaches Bill Floyd and Fred Taylor are rounding the team into shape for the bi-district encounter against EL Paso Austin Saturday at El Paso with stress on fundamentals and defense.

Players Boost Scoring Marks

Three Lubbock Westerners broke into the scoring column in last week's district game with Brownfield, and other players boosted their scoring higher.

Ends Bobby Day and Jerry Van Pelt scored their first touchdowns of the year on passes, Van Pelt taking a pass from Jack Weldon good for 32 yards and Day catching a nine-yard aerial from Billy Presley. Presley passed also to Tommy Fisher, giving the back his first six-pointer, although a 92-yard touchdown gallop was called back.

Halfback Mack Taylor scored two touchdowns and gained 194 yards rushing for his eighth and ninth tallies of the year, raising his total to 54 points. Right Half Charlie Williams also scored twice and has 54 over the season.

Stroud Top Scorer

Continuing to pace the Bronc Busters with 71 points is Wayne Stroud, who has gone scoreless in the past two games while playing at fullback. Fullback Malcolm Young is runner-up with 60 points, being out of action two weeks with an ankle injury.

Williams picked up 82 yards last week to run his season's total to 657, going ahead of Stroud who has 609 yards gained rushing. Taylor is third with 524, and Young has 455. Fourth is Don Rawls with 103 yards.

The best average belongs to Fisher with an average of 12.5 on six carries. Among those with more game service, Taylor owns a 10.8 average on 48 attempts. Next is Williams with 9.8 on 67 carries, and Stroud has averaged 8.3 yards on 73 tries. Young has handled the ball 70 times for a 6.05 average.

Brown Heads Passers

Quarterback Bobby Brown leads the passers with 26 completions in 45 attempts for five touchdowns and 450 yards, a .578 completion percentage. Morris Turner has thrown three touchdown passes, completing 17 of 38 for 266 yards. Presley has completed seven of 17 for 112 yards and two touchdown, and Weldon has connected on one heave in four attempted for 32 yards.

Continuing to lead receivers is End Garnet Reeves with 11 catches for 207 yards. Reeves has scored five touchdowns, two on fumble recoveries. Billy Wright has picked up 128 yards by catching nine aerials, and Williams is third high with 122 yards on seven catches.

Presley added six points to his season's total by booting that many extra points against Brownfield to run his total to 36 in 43 attempted this season.

Last week's play ended the District 3AA schedule, with Lubbock, Odessa, Midland, Lamesa and Brownfield finishing in that order.

OWLS OPEN SLATE

HOUSTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—The Rice Owls open their basketball season tonight against Sam Houston State at Huntsville. It will be Don Suman's debut as head basketball coach of the Owls, defending tri-champions of the Southwest conference.

TYLER GAME SET

TYLER, Nov. 30 (AP)—The Fort Lewis Apaches of Durango, Colo., will meet Tyler Junior college here Dec. 10 in the third annual Texas Rose bowl football game.

Only innovation is the use of the Cowhands, Lubbock's "B" team, against a Westerner defense. This gives the coaches four complete teams, and all can be working at one time, rather than having two of the Westerner teams in action while the third watches.

Sparking the team in its workout with smooth ball-handling and straight passes was Bobby Brown, and working with him in the backfield were other regulars, Halfbacks Wayne Stroud and Charlie Williams and Fullback Malcolm Young.

GAME TICKETS ON SALE

Tickets for the Lubbock-Austin High football game have been received at the high school athletic office and are on sale, according to E. J. Lowrey. Lowrey reports that many calls have been received regarding tickets which sell at $1.50 for adults and 40 cents for students.

For the first times since the Lamesa contest on Oct. 28, the Westerner backfield will be at full strength for the El Paso contest. At Odessa Young was ill and could not play his best and he missed the Midland and Brownfield games because of an ankle injury. Brown was sick and did not play against Midland. But now the regular starters are working together again and should be operating smoothly by Saturday.

Two Men Injured

Two regular linemen will miss Saturday's tilt, Tackle Joe Brock and Guard Freddy Gray being out with knee injuries. But Tuesday both were jogging around Chapman field in full uniform in an effort to strengthen their injured limbs. Reserve Guard Deverle Henslee is out with a fractured bone in his right leg.

The work of Mack Taylor has been impressive in the past two games, and the junior halfback has taken definite strides toward becoming one of the offensive leaders for the Westerners, scoring five touchdowns in the last two district starts while lifting his season's ball-carrying average to 10.8 yards per try.

Against the Westerners Tuesday, the Cowhands used plays similar to those of Austin High, operating off a split-T offense, with tackles and ends set wide on the line of scrimmage. Doing the quarterbacking was Charles Brewer, and he was hitting the mark frequently with short passes, End Don Jones being a favorite receiver.

Panthers Serious Threat

By game time Coach Pattison hopes to have his regulars well-versed on Austin's offensive plays.

With three of the fastest backs in the state in Noel McCormick, Ted Veidner and Jerry Baker, the Panthers are a serious threat to Lubbock's undefeated, untied record this season. The offensive line is lighter than that used on defense, Austin employing a two platoon system, but the style of play suits the players, who are capable of opening holes for quick-opening plays. Speedy Jim Agee does the quarterbacking and most of the passing for Austin.

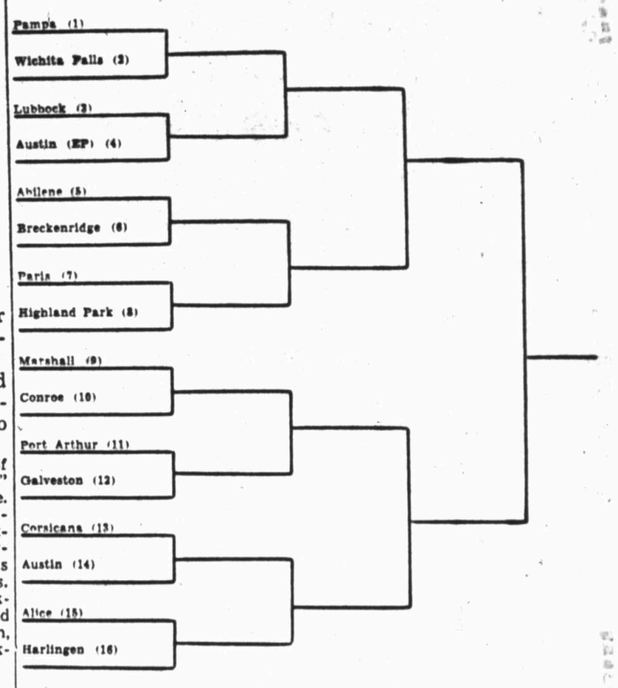

Sun Bowl Policy On Loop Champ Broken

EL PASO, Nov. 30. (AP)—The Sun Bowl's sponsors won't have to risk a snub by being required to invite the Border conference champion to the annual post-season football classic after this.

The Sun carnival has had an agreement obligating it to invite the conference champion. Three times in four years, the champion has turned down the bid. Twice it has accepted invitations to other bowls.

The Sun carnival executive committee voted unanimously yesterday to dissolve the agreement. C. D. Belding, vice president in charge of team selections, offered the resolution.

Picadors Meet RAFB In Opening Tilt

Red Raider Cagers To Battle McMurry Quint Here Tonight

McMurry brings its powerful Indians here tonight for a basketball joust with Texas Tech's Red Raiders at 8 in Tech gym, with court fans being treated to a curtain-raiser between the Picadors and the Reese Air Force base quintet.

A rough scrimmage session yesterday wound up Raider preparation for the game, their second of the season. Coach Polk Robison, still not satisfied by the showing against West Texas State college Monday night, when the Buffs took home a 67-45 victory, worked his squad hard. He is seeking to rub off sophomorish tendencies of the predominantly sophomore team.

The Indian quintet that visits Lubbock tonight is the same one Tech beat handily last year. But it's a year older and a year better, while Tech has lost heavily in varsity material and needs much polish.

Among those slated to see heavy action against Tech are Herschell Kimbrell, Dick Richey, Hubert McClesky and Gordon Chambers, forwards; Dell Riley, guard; and Edgar Payne, center.

Coach Robison, although deep in material, has only three lettermen to throw at the invaders, Charley Pinnell, Gene Gibson and Jiggs Jackson. He probably will round out his starting five with Jack Alderson and Ted O'Neil, both of whom appear to be the more promising sophomores.

Frosh Make Debut

In reserve and expected to see considerable service as Coach Robison seeks to find an effective combination or combinations are Weldon McClure, J. R. McAnaly, Verdell Turner, Jim Eddins, forwards; Irl Brown and Jim Cole, centers; and Doral Sandlin and Jim Sharp, guards.

Coach White will be sending his freshman team out on the court for the first time this year and with next tono practice. Yesterday was the most intensive drill

New Constitution Adopted By Area Officials Group

A new constitution was adopted Tuesday night by members of the South Plains Officials and Coaches association. The association also made preliminary plans for its annual football banquet and nominated 11 members for office.

The new constitution incorporates basketball into the scope of the organization and calls for classification of members based on experience and other factors.

Seek Improvements

Recommendation that two officials be used in basketball games and four officials in football games was also included in the new doctrine.

It was also stated in the new constitution that basketball officials belonging to the organization shall work games on a basis of not less than $5 per man per game plus travel with tournament fees to be agreed upon by the officials concerned.

Objects of the association as mentioned in Article 1 of the constitution include "The Improvement of officiating through a better understanding of the rules and officiating mechanics of the sports in which the officials are engaged and the improvement of the relationships between players, coaches, officials and fans."

Vaughn Is Nominated

Finis Vaughn and Cotton Neely were nominated as candidates for president of the organization. E. H. Wilkins and Ed Haley were nominated for the post of vice president and Curtis Barrett was the sole nominee for the position of secretary-treasurer.

Three directors will be elected from the following nominations: Joe Holmes, Howard Price, M. R. Hayhurst, J. R. Callahan, Russell Wimberly and L. L. Judd.

Committee reports on date and place of the banquet were incomplete and Wilkins, chairman of the committee to procure a guest speaker, said he was not ready to announce the name but indicated he would be a "name" coach.

Yancy Price presided.

that the squad has had.

Heading the Picador quintet will be Center Paul Nolen of Alvorado, a six foot eight and a half inch pivot man. Lewis Martin of Dimmitt and Buddy Brock of O'Donnell probably will be the starting forwards; and Virgil Johnson of Lubbock and Sandy Welton of West Virginia, an all-stater, probably will be starting guards.

Other players Coach White can call on are Forwards Jack Little of Amarillo and Dale Knight of Stratford; Center Dutch Leuenberger of Lamesa; and Guards Don Seale of Idalou, Blair Hankins of Lubbock and Benny Weber of Shallowater.

The public will be admitted in limited numbers, with tickets selling for $1 each.

Levelland Quintet Beats Springlake

LEVELLAND, Nov. 30 (Special)—Coach Gano Tubb's Levelland Lobos today held their second win of the infant basketball season over Springlake, after handing the Wolverines a 37-14 drubbing here last night.

The Lobos piled up a 17-2 halftime lead, then coasted to victory. Glen Clarkson was high point man with 12 tallies. The Springlake scoring was evenly divided among several players.

The Levelland girls team gained a narrow 24-23 triumph over Springlake, with Wanda Sewell and Hattie Collier scoring nine and seven points, respectively. Top scoring honors for the game, however, went to Springlake's Lois Cleavenger, who netted 11.

Springlake won the "B" boys game, 22-20.

BARBER COLLEGE WINS

Lubbock Barber college clipped Trammell Service, 90-50, Tuesday night in an independent basketball game as Y. F. Bowley scored 25 points. Dave Lawson made 16. Hottest man on the court however, was the losers' Self with 30 points. Barber college led at halftime, 46-16.

Two Tilts Set At Boys Club

A light Boys club basketball slate of two games is scheduled today. In the Peewee league, the Roughies meet the Wildcats, while the Alley Rats take on the Galloping Ghosts in the Midget league.

Tuesday's top cage game at the club found the Boys Club Independents taking a 40-28 verdict from Plains Ice Cream, with Jackie Cook and Jack McLarty in starring roles for the victors.

Cook scored 14 points while McLarty was notching 12. However, Kenneth Street of the losing quintet was high for the game with 16.

In the Peewee league, James Wiley tallied 10 points to lead the Mustangs to a 16-8 win over the Stampeders. Lannie Shofner made four points for the Stampeders.

The Eagles, with Wesley Houston scoring eight points, downed the Five Little Angels, 16-8, in a Midget league setto. Dean Fawcett made all but one of the losers' counters.

The Fancy Five took a 34-28 decision over the Big Five in a Junior league game. Leon Bostick dumped in 15 points for the victors, while Billy Sims led the losers with 12 tallies.

To Referee Matches

Abernathy Cagers Trounce Tahokans

ABERNATHY, Nov. 30.—In a non-conference basketball game here Tuesday night, Abernathy outclassed Tahoka, 65-16, in a non-conference tilt.

Esten Blackmon paced the winners with 17 points, being pushed closely by Murry Sandefur with 15 markers. Howell was tops for the Tahokans with six markers.

In a "B" team game, Abernathy won, 32-10, with Floyd Myatt and Orville Toler scoring six points and Short getting four for the losers.

"Strangler" Lewis To Referee Bouts

The referee will be one of the top celebrities tonight at Sled Allen's arena, with Ed (Strangler) Lewis scheduled for duties as third man in the ring.

One of the top figures in mat wars of the past, the Strangler is visiting friends and relatives in these parts and agreed to do the officiating when contacted by Promoter Allen.

Meeting in the main event for the best two of three falls are Andy Tremain and Alex Kasaboski, two of the toughest men in the area at present.

Tremain Lacks Weight

Kasaboski won a contested decision last week over George Overhul in the main event, and promptly was challenegd for this week's top spot, but Tremain got the nod, having made the bid earlier.

Tremain will be giving away several pounds to Kasaboski, but he believes he can make up for it with speed and science. Recognized by the wrestling fraternity as one of the most scientific, smart and aggresive men in the country, Tremain will be called upon to use all his resources in the match.

Going all out to win and using any method possible, Kasaboski is well-versed in the art and will give Tremain trouble all the way.

Clean Match Slated

Overhul takes on Parks in the semi-final bout, and this match should be more scientific. Both are powerful and hard to beat which should give the fans a clean but rough match. Overhul wants another shot at Kasaboski and should try to use the match as a stepping stone.

Returning to the local ring in the preliminary event is Jack Pappenheim, who tangles with Salvador Flores, one of the smoothest and well-liked wrestlers to come out of Mexico City.

Prefering clean wrestling, Pappenheim and Flores should open the activities with a good show.

Tickets for the matches are on sale at the arena, 606 Texas, until 5 p. m. today and may also be purchased at the gate. The preliminary bout begins at 8 p.m.

HST STARTS WORK ON MESSAGE

Hobbies Holding Spotlight As Trumans Enjoy Vacation

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 30. (AP)—The Trumans gave their favorite hobbies full play today at this submarine station retreat.

The President went in for long walks, paddling about in the waters of the Gulf, horseshoe pitching and, so the grapevine had it, an occasional bit of poker.

Those being the hobbies of the President, they have, reasonably enough, become the hobbies of virtually his entire staff.

Singing daughter Margaret went around taking pictures, being camera fan enough to own four, including a fancy new gadget which takes and develops pictures simultaneously. She turned to color photography today.

Strike Threat Up To Ching

Mrs. Truman, going in for more leisurely pursuits, relaxed in quiet dignity. She enjoyed sitting under the palm trees in the spacious yard of the old commandant's residence that is the temporary White House. For excitement, she read mystery stories.

The threat of a resumption of the coal strike at midnight seemed far away from this vacation scene. The President left matters in the hands of Cyrus Ching, federal mediation chief, at Washington. Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman, who is here with the chief executive, was in constant touch with Ching.

Steelman apparently clung to the hope of an eleventh hour resumption of negotiations between the United Mine workers and the coal operators under which John L. Lewis might extend his three week truce.

Working On Message

In any event, there was little disposition among White House advisers to urge the President to invoke the emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley act in view of what they say is an apparent desire on Lewis' part to negotiate with the operators.

Meanwhile, the President has started work on the "State of the Union" message he will submit to Congress in January.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said the message is in the "discussion stage" and that Mr. Truman has jotted down some of the ideas he has in mind.

It is certain to be a strong appeal for enactment of the remainder of his "fair deal" program.

Not much work has been done, however. The concentration so far has been on relaxation and rest.

A-Bomb Tests

Eniwetok.

Although thousands of persons have worked on the tests—40,000 at Bikini, 10,000 at Eniwetok—the only people ever hurt or killed were the intended victims, the Japanese of the two cities. Nor have there been any injuries as the result of test explosions.

It was clear that the forthcoming Eniwetok tests are to test-fire weapons improved in design and efficiency even since the 1948 explosions. The AEC has pointed out that, in addition to the computations of scientists and laboratory-room experiments, "the need for proof testing or the need for full scale experiments is a natural requirement."

Blast Zone Explained

Also, there was the recent television broadcast by Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo). He talked of new bombs "six times the effectiveness of the bomb we dropped on Nagasaki" and of "considerable progress" toward perfecting a "super bomb" with 1,000 times the effect of the Nagasaki bomb. It wasn't clear whether Johnson meant those already tested in the 1948 Eniwetok experiments were six times as powerful or whether he was talking of some yet to be proof-fired.

References to bombs of any type—conventional explosive or atomic—being six or any other number of times as powerful are tricky. A bomb may have six times the blasting power, but this does not mean that the area of devastation can be multiplied by six. The blast zone of an explosion drops off sharply with distance.

Therefore, if a Nagasaki-type bomb crushed all buildings at points up to 8,000 feet from the explosion, it would not mean that a new bomb would have the same effect on all buildings up to 48,000 feet.

What it does mean is that the power to crush by shock and by the outward and then inward sweep of air from the semi-vacuum created by explosion would be intensified by a factor of six. There would, of course, be some increase in the area of the blast zone.

Texas Flier Dies In Air Force Jet Crash

SHAW AIR FORCE BASE, S. C., Nov. 30 (U.P.) — Authorities said today that an Air Force jet pilot who crashed to his death here last night had taken off a second time because he was dissatisfied with his first landing.

Lt. Col. Hugh H. Marble, jr., of Houston, Tex., crashed his RF-80 Shooting Star jet reconnaisance plane about two miles from here after zooming off the ground again after making a safe landing.

The plane was demolished and Marble was believed to have died instantly, authorities said.

Marble was commanding officer of the 161st Tactical Reconnaissance squadron here.

Heart Briefs

Theft of $47 worth of clothing from Margie Dworzky's room at Fifteenth and College was reported to the police today. A juvenile suspect was described.

Police said they had arrested and charged vagrancy to a man who admitted he had called a prescription place and, representing himself to be a physician, "authorized" that narcotics be delivered to a man who would call in a brief time. He was the man, and he did call. He was charged as Jessie Harvey Lloyd.

Police said Frank P. Lara of 205 North Ave. L, had recovered his automobile, but that a radio, sun visor, spare tire and wheel, and two spotlights had been stripped from it.

An 8mm motion picture camera was reported to the sheriff's office today as stolen from Ray Downing of 413 North Van Buren.

Thomas J. Novak, 34, of Lubbock was fined $100 and county court costs when he pleaded guilty this morning of an Oct. 11 charge of illegally carrying a pistol.

Amount given to a fund for emergency use to aid families of eight Latin-Americans killed in a truck-train crash near Shallowater last Wednesday has been increased to $610 by contributions of $10 from Watkins Products and $50 from Dr. A. P. Portela. The Red Cross has charge of distribution of the fund.

Mrs. Stotts, who suffered fractures of the left hip and both ankles, is in St. Joseph's hospital in Fort Worth. Mr. Stotts also suffered a broken right arm and bruises in the mishap. They were enroute to Dallas at the time.

Mrs. Carl Case, 60, who died in Muleshoe Tuesday night of a heart ailment, was the mother of Mrs. J. G. Wilhite, jr., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the former Miss Vivian Case who was education director of the First Christian church until her marriage. Mrs. Wilhite flew to her mother's bedside. Funeral services will be conducted in Portales, N. M.

C. O. Randolph, 27, Lubbock man, was adjudged guilty of possession of whisky for purpose of sale, in a jury verdict signed by D. B. Gordon as foreman and returned to County Judge Walter Davies about 1 p. m. It recommended a fine of $200. Randolph was in possession of only one four-fifths quart of whisky, officials said, but had a prior record of liquor law violation.

Edna Houghton of 1510-A Ave. M didn't think much of it at the time. Monday night she was driving down an alley near Junior High school—taking a short cut to visit a friend. There was an explosion. Today she took her car to a garage for repair work and found paint chipped off the rear of her car, the gasoline tank indented in numerous places. Police theorized a shell loaded with No. 4 shot, perhaps a crude bomb, had exploded under her car.

Strip-Teaser Makes "All-Out" Effort To Get Boss In Jam With Authorities

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30 (U.P.)—Strip-teaser Marie Sagert admitted that she stripped to the altogether just to get her boss, Theater Manager Leon De Voe, into trouble with authorities.

Municipal Judge Harold Schweitzer dismissed charges yesterday that De Voe had staged an indecent act when Miss Sagert stripped off her panties during her act last July 18.

Schweitzer threw the charges out after the stripper admitted that she was deliberately trying to have him arrested to avenge herself.

"I hated him because he interfered with my act," the dancer said.

"I didn't know how to get back at him except to leave off my net panties when I did my dance."

Her revenge act was a big success. Police closed the theater and arrested De Voe.

But De Voe was back in business today. He also was looking for a new strip-teaser.

Railway Head Talks To Rotary Club At Luncheon Meet Today

Congratulations to:

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Lawrence of 1210 Seventh street on birth of a daughter weighing 8 pounds 7¾ ounces at 2:31 p. m. Tuesday in Lubbock Memorial hospital.

Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Storrs of 3615 Thirty-first street on birth of a daughter weighing 7 pounds at 9:15 a. m. Tuesday in West Texas hospital. The father is a staff member at West Texas hospital.

American freedom does not come to us gratis, warned William G. Vollmer, president of Texas and Pacific railway, in an address today before a luncheon meeting of the Lubbock Rotary club.

"It's a hard-won heritage which had to be fought for," Vollmer said, "and unless we are willing to fight for its preservation, we shall surely lose it."

Vollmer's comments were directed toward the "middle-of-the-roaders of today whom he described as almost as dangerous to the preservation of the free enterprise system as those who work against it.

"Indifference and apathy oftentimes are as effective as outspoken criticism," state Vollmer.

Hits Socialism

He pointed out that our freedom in the past has allowed us to work and become the most prosperous nation in the world today.

"Socialism has always produced scarcity instead of plenty; slavery instead of freedom," he said.

He said socialistic schemes are not sound economy, that they take out of a nation's productivity more than is put into it, and pointed to past records to prove it.

Vollmer was accompanied by a number of other railroad officials, J. J. Finegan, J. B. Shores, and K. D. Howard, all of Dallas; H. L. DeLane and Don A. Scrivner, both of Abilene; and G. L. Brooks of Big Spring.

Vollmer was introduced by Truman Chumley.

7. South Lubbock from the present city limits at Forty-second to Fiftieth streets and from Avenue Q westward to Monroe avenue, a distance of approximately 1¼ miles.

8. A large rectangular area in Southwest Lubbock between Thirty-fourth and Forty-second streets and from Monroe avenue westward to the Slide road, about 2½ miles.

Commission Actions Unanimous

Actions of the commission on all the additions approved were unanimous.

Mayor W. H. Rodgers joined Commissioners W. B. Price and John Spikes in voting down the southeastward extension. Commissioners Clarence Whiteside and E. K. Hufstedler voted for it.

The decision to take the Westchester extension under advisement resulted from a little maneuvering by Hufstedler and Whiteside. Both made clear they favored this annexation. The mayor, Price and Spikes made equally clear they would vote against it. But they were agreeable to taking the proposal under advisement—which means that the commission still might approve it.

"Maybe one of you will change your mind," Whiteside remarked to Rodgers, Price and Spikes as action was deferred on the proposal.

Mayor Opposes Westchester Action

Mayor Rodgers said that, if required to vote, he would feel compelled to vote against the Westchester extension "because all the information to the commission indicates the majority of the residents of that area are opposed to annexation."

The hearings attracted a crowd said by Mayor Rodgers to be the largest ever to assemble in the city hall. It overflowed the second floor hallway, down the stairways and the first floor lobby.

Opposition was negligible to most of the proposed extensions which were approved.

The council chamber was packed for the hearing on the No. 4 Southeast Lubbock addition. In a showing of hands, only two of the 38 people in the room indicated they favored annexation. W. L. Joosten, sr., was the chief spokesman for the opponents

Another near-capacity audience was present for the hearing on No. 9-A, the so-called Westchester area.

W. G. McMillan, a former city commissioner and a contractor, was spokesmen for the group. He presented petitions signed, he said, by 92 per cent of the residents of the area who are agreeable, conditionally, to annexation.

One petition bearing 22 signatures required guarantees that the city would start "immediate" construction of water, sewage and other facilities to serve that area. Another petition, signed by 101 persons, said their approval of annexation was conditional upon assurance by the commission that utility services would be provided within three years.

The members of the commission promptly and unanimously made clear they would not approve any such conditions. The mayor declared that Westchester residents would not be given preferential treatment over any other portion of the city "as long as I can prevent it."

switch, or pressing the starter.

Her mangled body was thrown 10 feet from the demolished automobile and landed on a sidewalk in front of her home.

It was the third attempt on Noble's life in recent years.

Chief of Detective Will Fritz said that he questioned a 29-year-old former convict last night behind closed doors for three hours but did not arrest the man. Fritz emphasized that questioning of the man did not mean that every known police character in Dallas would be picked up.

Police also believed that a $5,000 reward had been "put on Noble's head."

Noble has insisted that he no longer is a gambler. At the time of his wife's death yesterday he was concluding a transaction at the U. S. district attorney's office in Fort Worth for purchase of Hicks' field, a small Fort Worth airport.

He returned to Dallas immediately.

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Noble, 36, were incomplete earl ytoday.

The government contended that neither ever did any real work; that their salary checks were deposited to Miss Campbell's account in a bank here, and that Miss Campbell in turn transferred funds to Thomas' bank account at Allendale, N. Thomas' change of plea came when the government was ready to put Miss Midkiff and Miss Minor on the stand.

Oklahoma Firm Gets $25,000 Texas Fine

AUSTIN, Nov. 30 (U.P.) — The Denver Producing and Refining Co., Oklahoma City, today was the loser of a $25,000 suit to the State of Texas.

Denver was assessed the $25,000 fine by District Judge J. Harris Gardner here yesterday for allegedly running "hot oil" in West Texas.

The suit, brought by Attorney General Price Daniel, charged that from 1938 to 1946 Denver brought in wells on the Wasson pool in Gaines and Yoakum, some of which were water wells. The state alleged these wells were reported to the Texas Railroad commission as oil producing wells.

Daniel also charged that the defendant company gained high allowables on some of its wells by filing false gas-oil ratio reports with Railroad commission.

Then he forced her to drive to a lonely spot three miles east of here on highway 6.

It was there that Hall began his caveman style of love-making.

Hall gave up quietly at a roadblock near Maquoketa, Ia. His freedom spree had lasted just seven hours. The stolen taxicab was found abandoned just three blocks from the Maquoketa business district and a block from the county jail.

Officials said he would be returned to the Fort Madison prison to serve out the remainder of his term. He had been sentenced from Des Moines several years ago.

Miss Stuart didn't care what happened to Hall.

But she was pretty well convinced that she was through with the taxicab business.

"Too hard on the nerves," she said.

She didn't like the legs because they were uncomfortable at first, but that all changed after she went to a cousin's birthday party.

"For the first time she was able to stand up like the other kids," her mother reported. "After that, she liked them."

Evelyn, four years old September 27, can stand on the legs and can walk if someone holds her hand. Her solo efforts still result in falls but the crippled children's society think it can fix that with some walking instructions.

"It will be a merrier Christmas this year," Mrs. Stypula said. "Even though Evelyn is afraid of Santa Claus."

"I don't like his big boots," said little Evelyn who screamed at the sight of a department store Santa.

At Miami Beach, Mrs. Engstrom said, the couple quarreled and Angle was arrested on a disorderly conduct charge.

Residents of the shooting vicinity said they heard a man and woman arguing, then a scream.

A passerby, Raymond Visser, told police he was walking up the street when he heard a shot and, turning, saw a man bending over a figure on the ground. Visser said the man fired again and fled.

Tours For Members Of 4-H Clubs Set

SEMINOLE, Nov. 30. (Special)—Assistant County Agent Bill Taylor said today that plans have been made for a series of conducted tours for members of Gaines county's six 4-H clubs who will visit members who are raising beef calves during December.

Taylor said that the club boys will make detailed inspections of all beef calves in their respective areas and that discussions on the types of stock and methods of feeding will be held.

Two of the county's clubs are located in Seagraves, one in Loop and three in Seminole. The six clubs have a combined membership of about 300 boys and interest in 4-H work is growing steadily, Taylor said.

Determined Virginia Hunter Uses Club And Knife To Finish Off Wounded Deer

ROANOKE, Va., Nov. 30 (U.P.)—Alger Holt said today that if you can't finish off a deer with your gun, use a club and a knife.

When Holt wounded a 200-pound eight-point buck in the foreleg, he couldn't chase it with his gun under the Bent Mountain hunting club rules. So he went for it barehanded.

When the deer turned and charged, Holt picked up a stick and stunned it, then wrestled it to the ground and killed it with a knife stab in the heart.

Two prongs of the deer's antlers snapped off in the wild threshing, Holt said.

Murder Charge Filed Against Youth In Suffocation Slaying Of Cousin

EDINA, Mo., Nov. 30 (AP)—A second degree murder charge was filed yesterday against a 17-year-old boy, accused of suffocating his cousin. The death occurred after a drinking party involving teen agers.

A coroner's jury held James Karnoff, 17, responsible for the death of William S. Karnoff, also 17.

Carlene Pruett, 14, testified the boys attended a movie with her on the night of Nov. 20 and afterwards drank several bottles of liquor.

She said that William got out of their car and fell to the ground, yelling.

Then "Junior (James) tried to sober him up," she said. "He hit William in the head with his fist three or four times, pinned William's arms down with his knee and held his hand on William's throat and over his nose and mouth for 10 or 15 minutes.

Charges against two men also have been filed in the case. Prosecutor Charles E. Murrell, jr., said they are accused of selling and buying liquor for a minor.

Child Missing In California Found After Long Search

GREENVILLE, Calif., Nov. 30 (AP)—A three-year-old girl, missing through the night and then found seven miles from her home, indicated today she had been carried away.

Charles Camp, father of the child, said she told him "I know who they are—they live in Greenville." He asked her how she got so far away.

Then she added "Daddy, I'll never run away again."

More than 300 persons had searched for the girl. The temperature in the mountain country had dropped to 20 degrees.

But Camp said little Marian Lee, or "Bunny," as she is called, seemed "perfectly all right," except for slight exposure.

Support For Hoover Group Report Urged

R. S. Wilkinson, president of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce, today asked members of the Exchange club to support the findings of the Hoover Commission report, a national Jaycee sponsored project, at a luncheon meeting in Hotel Lubbock.

He recommended that members tell Congressman George Mahon of their support for the economy program.

"Congressman Mahon has already indicated he favors a program of economy in government spending," Wilkinson said, "and he has asked that his constituents inform him of their regards in the matter."

Wilkinson said if congress adheres to the findings of the commission, "more than $5 billion dollars a year can be saved, eliminating a need for a tax increase."

He was introduced by Dr. James M. Reynolds.

to dig his way clear because his body was found above that of Clubb.

They were taken in a Stanley Funeral home ambulance of Tahoka to the Mercy Hospital in Slaton, where they were pronounced dead upon arrival.

A Lubbock physician, Dr. Olan Key, went to the scene but arrived after the bodies had been removed as did a Lubbock fire truck carrying an inhalator.

Their bodies were then taken to the Rix Funeral home in Lubbock.

Wilkins, a former resident of Dalhart, had been working for the granary here for about two weeks.

Clubb, son of the owner of the granary, had been working here since the beginning of the harvest season. He is also survived by a sister, Mrs. Jack Clater of Petersburg.

TEMPORARY BUILDING TO BE USED

Site Is Purchased For A New School

The board of trustees of the Lubbock Independent School district last night approved the purchase of a 10 acre tract of land in southwest Lubbock for the erection of a new elementary school building.

The action was taken at the board's regular monthly business meeting, held in the school business office at 1007 Texas Ave.

The land lies between Fortieth and Forty-second streets from Monroe Ave. to Jackson Ave., adjoining the Modern Manors housing development now under construction.

The site was purchased from Mrs. Louis Hunter of Abilene for $9,000.

A. C. Jackson, business manager of the school district, last night was authorized by the board to move the temporary building which now stands on the P. F. Brown elementary school ground to this newly-purchased tract immediately. The temporary structure was in use at the Brown school last year while the permanent building was under construction.

Plan Studied Several Months

The school to be put into operation there within forthcoming months will serve the rapidly expanding area south of Thirty-fourth and west of the area from which the Brown school draws its scholastics. The school board has been considering a school for this area for several months, especially since construction on the Modern Manors project was begun.

It and numbers of small-homes developments in the immediate area are expected to increase the enrollments of the Lubbock schools considerably. Hence, the new school in that vicinity to take care of the influx.

Jackson said last night that the land is now under contract. The deal will be closed subject to title

District Attorney Lloyd Croslin and assistants, E. G. Pharr and A. W. Salyars, assisted the grand jury in its work which was commenced at 10 a.m. Monday.

Almost 100 bills of indictment were returned by the jury in October and November, court officials said. The new bills, where pleas of guilty are not entered, will be tried the week of Dec. 12.

THE QUESTION
What does Christmas mean to you?

THE ANSWERS

(All children answering this question are sixth grade students at Brown Elementary school).

HELEN GRACE SMITH, 2307 Thirty - Second, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack I. Smith: "Christmas to me means the birth of Christ. I think that Christ's birth should be our first thought when we think of Christmas, for after all, Christ is the savior of the world. I enjoy the holidays and Santa Claus, too. Christmas also means a trip to my grandmothers'."

JEANETTE WILLBANKS, 2719 Thirty - Fifth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Willbanks: "I enjoy the Christmas holidays we get from school. Christmas also means the joy of giving and receiving gifts. We should also remember that Christ was born on this day."

MARGARET ROSE, 3310 Ave. X, daughter of Mrs. S. O. Rose: "It means the joy of giving gifts. It also means that Christ came on this day. After I've opened my presents, however, all the joy of Christmas is gone."

DON WELLS, 2400 Thirtieth, son on Mr. and Mrs. W. Y. Wells: "It makes me remember that Christ was born on this day. I don't think that people should take trips during Christmas, because this is a time when families should stay home together."

RONALD BURNS, 2208 Thirty-Eighth, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Burns: "It means that I'll get a lot of presents and can go to my cousins' and have a lot of fun. We always go to my grandfather's, so it means a little trip for me."

KENNETH MARMADUKE, 2417 Thirty-Sixth, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Marmaduke: "Christmas to me means the birth of Christ. It also means holidays from school and no homework, and the joy of giving and receiving gifts."

A chemist at Wyne, England, asked that his ashes be spread on his tennis lawn.

News About People

Come this time every year when Lubbock children join in with the other little folks all over the world in sending letters to Santa Claus addressed in care of his North Pole residence.

Here are a few of the epistles that have been intercepted by the Avalanche-Journal to save St. Nick some time because he reads the newspaper, too.

* * *

From 5½-year-old Frank Norman Crane comes this cagey letter—Dear Santa, I have been a pretty good boy all year (pretty good propaganda to open a letter). I would like for you to bring me a belt with two guns and holster and five boxes of caps (he'll get a bang out of this) and some spurs for my boots (get the point, Santa). Please remember all little boys and girls everywhere.—Santa won't forget you, Frank.

* * *

Another young man who puts a lot of faith in Santa is Jerry Arant of Lubbock route 3 who writes, "I want a Shetland pony and a cash register for Christmas. I have been a good boy."

* * *

Santa had a little trouble reading this hand printed message but his chief yeoman elf translated it into the following:—Will you please (he really means it) bring me a big basketball, a red silk shirt, a little football, a black board, a doctor set and a tricycle. Please make other people HAPPY too. Love, Jeffie Williams.

* * *

Linda Bryant wrote Santa she wants "a record player, a toni doll, (The Bryants will soon be asking which doll has the toni) a weaving set, a new wagon and a desk and chair" when she takes her first peek at the Christmas tree after Santa has made his trip to Lubbock.

* * *

"Remember all the little boys and girls all over the world" was the unselfish request of Mary Edith Crone whose letter asked St. Nick to bring her "a zipper note book and a Bible with my name on it."

* * *

"Dear Santa C-l-o-c-e, I want you to bronge me a big doll and doll buggy, a little table and 2 chairs and some dishes, too. Bronge my 2 little playmates some toys, too. Please remember the other children, too. Judy Smith, 1401 East Broadway.

* * *

Her playmate, Susan Nichols of 1610 East Main wrote Santa a similar letter—"Will you please bronge (It's bring, Susan and Judy, except in Lower Slobovia) a table and chairs, some paper dolls, dishes, nuts, fruit and a big doll I saw in the Lubbock paper. All so please remember all auther children." Santa saw the doll, too, Susan, and he will remember you and all "auther" children.

* * *

NORTH POLE, Nov. 30 (Special)—Santa's chief yeoman elf, who translates many of the letters addressed to the North Pole, has informed the Avalanche-Journal that Santa reads every letter sent to him from children in Lubbock. However, he warned children to be good "because Santa may be peeking in your window when you least expect him."

* * *

From Plains comes word of much building activity. Alvin Wolfenberger, principal of the elementary school there is constructing a super service station a half mile east of the courthouse. A pretentions general merchandise store that will handle everything from notions to farm implements is partially completed. Its owner is O. W. Curry, formerly of Eunice, N. M. Nearing completeion there is the new Assembly of God church. A 50,000 storage tank for Yoakum county to supply water for the fire department, swimming pool, school system and courthouse, will be delivered Dec. 1.

* * *

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. William E. Dent of Post that their son, Woodrow E. Dent, Navy chief opticalman, has reported for duty at the Naval Air Station at San Diego, Calif.

* * *

Braniff will provide a special air trip to Dallas Saturday for those who still want to see the coming four-act tragedy between SMU and Notre Dame.

* * *

Wanda Mahone, who clerks at the Hub Clothiers, believes her combination ring-watch is the only one in Lubbock. "It keeps good time, too," she said. She also says her current flame is a lad who farms near Wolfforth.

* * *

Jimmy R. Taylor, former commercial artist at Fort Worth, is free lancing here in Lubbock now. He has desk space at Art Craft Engraving company, 1112 Fourteenth. His specialty is commercial and advertising artistry.

JUST ONE PROMISE
By John J. Metcalfe

A hundred moons or more ago . . . I promised to be true . . . And I declared I wanted, dear . . . To share my life with you . . . You meant the very world to me . . . For ever and a day . . . And there was just one little word . . . You ever had to say . . . Perhaps your heart was bashful or . . . The stars were out of sight . . . But all I heard you whisper was . . . A casual good-night . . . And that is why the seasons and . . . The months and years have gone . . . And I have never looked for you . . . To hold you in the dawn . . . To kiss your loving lips again . . . And keep my promise true . . . That all I ever wanted was . . . To share my life with you.

PERHAPS MOST readers, like The Plainsman, missed up to now knowing that a trio of Americans recently set up what is said to be a very fine and workable tax system for Japan.

Anyhow, that happened, as attested to in the following report from Columbia university:

"President Eisenhower has received a letter from the Department of the Army expressing appreciation 'for your co-operation in making available Professors Carl S. Shoup, William B. Vickery and William C. Warren to serve on the recent tax mission to Japan.' The letter, signed by Maj. Gen. Carter B. Magruder, added that 'General MacArthur has advised the department that the energetic devotion of Doctor Shoup and his associates to a most complicated task and their quick grasp of its essentials have produced remarkably constructive results. He further indicated that the mission in the execution of its task has made an indelible impression upon the work of the occupation and the future of the Japanese economy by producing what appears to be an unquestionably sound blueprint for a taxation system to replace the unwieldy and inequitable structure which had developed in Japan."

★ ★ ★

We didn't realize how long General MacArthur had been gone from home until we discovered that he had turned to the U. S., of all places, for men to work out a just, equitable and practicable system of taxation for Japan. Verily, if the general knew what had been going on here, taxation-wise, of late, this continent is the last place he would have looked for tax experts—experts, that is, in equitable taxation. He might have gotten thousands of tax men who could show him how to get blood out of Japanese turnips—but the fact that he apparently found three guys able to set up a just tax system is little short of miraculous.

We might suggest, too, if we may, that Columbia university make Professors Shoup, Vickery and Warren available to Mr. Truman, Treasury Secretary Snyder and the U. S. department of Internal Revenue.

Of course, they might not be interested in a just, equitable and practicable system of taxation, since they seem to be doing all right—as far as they are concerned—with another kind.

But strange things happen, and 1950's an election year. Maybe, under that circumstance, Truman & Co. would not mind giving the home folk as good a tax system as they're preparing to give the dear, dear Japanese.

NOVEMBER 30 is the natal anniversary of three great men of letters: Jonathan Swift, born in 1667; Mark Twain (Samuel Clemons), born in 1835, and Winston Churchill, born in 1874.

Of the three, Churchill has spent many less hours at his writing, yet has collected the most money for the words in print. Although a sound writer, Churchill does much better with the spoken word, than with the written. From a strictly literary point of view, he is not in the same class with either Swift, or Twain, although, of course, a much more heroic figure—using "heroic" in the exact sense of the word.

SCATTERED over these South Plains of ours are thousands of itinerant workers, busily engaged in handling the gigantic cotton crop.

Nobody knows just how many itinerant workers there are. In Lubbock and the 10 adjacent counties, alone, there are about 69,000 working itinerants—not including children too young to pull a sack—according to the Texas Employment commission office. Of the total number of workers—nearly all Latins—about 7,000 are "braceros," in other words, Mexican nationals working in the U. S. by special permit.

We think it is high time that somebody said something good about these Latin-Americans—aside, of course, that "we have to have them," and they spend considerable money in our towns on the week-ends.

We think it is time to point out that by and large they behave themselves very well—much better than 69,000 of us might do if we were dumped into interior Mexico, or into border towns, with little or no effort made to give us something constructive to do in our spare time.

We think that the ratio of their law violations to their total number is almost unbelievably low—and they should be given credit for it.

By and large, our itinerant Latins are inoffensive; when given any attention at all they are pleasant and agreeable. They are grateful even for small favors.

In a few years, when mechanical pickers largely do away with our Fall itinerants, we're going to miss their presence each harvest time.

Just wait and see.

BY DREW PEARSON: CONGRESSMAN PARNELL THOMAS COLLECTS FOR FAVOR TO SOLDIER

Swedes Say Solon Asked For Scanty Smorgasbord

WASHINGTON, — Unfortunately it is not illegal for a congressman to keep a soldier from seeing combat duty — and then collect a political campaign fund from his family. If this were illegal, Congressman Parnell Thomas would be tried for another offense in addition to taking kickbacks on the salaries which Uncle Sam meant for his office staff.

PEARSON

In 1944, when Congressman Thomas was up for re-election, he received a contribution of $250 from Herman Kimmel of Long Beach, N. Y., which is, of course, outside the congressman's New Jersey district. Again in 1946, when the congressman faced a primary election, he received another $100 from the same Kimmel.

New Jersey voters had no way of knowing what was behind these facts.

Most people have forgotten it, but Thomas was not only chairman of the un-American activities committee, but also a member of the House military affairs committee, which passed on army legislation; therefore, had great weight with the War department.

In 1943, Private Edward Allen Kimmel, serial No. 32801902, son of the above Herman Kimmel, faced shipment overseas to combat duty. So Congressman Thomas telephoned the Second Service command in New York and informed them that young Kimmel was an undercover agent for the un-American committee, therefore had to be kept close to the New York area. Accordingly, Col. C. E. Miller, director of personnel for the Second Service command, transferred Kimmel from Camp Upton, N. Y., and assigned him as an investigator of the internal security division in New York.

• • •

Army Gets Skeptical

A few days later, Colonel Miller asked Kimmel to drop in to see him and seemed surprised that he was only 18 years old, had no experience as an investigator, in fact was merely a student at New York university before entering the army.

Skepical, Colonel Miller telephoned Congressman Thomas's office, reported that Kimmel said he had never met Thomas, had never worked for the un-American activities committee.

To patch up these crossed wires, the congressman immediately sent Ray Rockefellar, an investigator for the un-American activities committee, to see Colonel Miller. However, Colonel Miller remained skeptical. He kept Private Kimmel in internal security only 18 days, but did not transfer him overseas. Instead, he was assigned to the Broadway Central hotel in New York—a temporary army barracks — and later to Camp Blanding, Fla.

Private Kimmel did not go overseas. His buddies did, many never to come back.

Waiting a very scant time after performing this priceless favor, Congressman Thomas attempted to cash in on it. The congressman also operates an insurance agency on the side—"Thomas and Godfrey"—so, on Sept. 30, 1943, he wrote a letter to Private Kimmel's father, introducing his insurance partner.

"This will introduce my partner, Spencer K. Godfrey," Thomas wrote to the father of the boy who had been saved from overseas duty. ". . . . I know that Godfrey can be helpful to you; at least, I would appreciate any courtesies which you may care to extend him."

The letter got no results. Godfrey sent it back to Thomas with a notation scribbled across the bottom: "This man refused to talk—said he doesn't know you."

Later, however, Kimmel overcame his discretion. And when the congressman who had kept his son out of combat duty came up for re-election, Kimmel contributed a total of $350.

• • •

THE above incident was not the only time the congressman from New Jersey used his insurance firm to cash in on favors. For instance, Thomas helped Joseph J. Brunetti, a New Jersey contractor, recover some $40,000 held in escrow by the Federal Housing administration.

Later, when Brunetti started a huge apartment project in Maywood, N. J., the congressman wrote him a letter and was rewarded with the insurance on Brunetti's business.

The congressman also used a neat scheme for printing stationery for his insurance firm. It was done by the government printing office, paid for out of his congressional stationery allowance. Christmas cards for the firm of Thomas and Godfrey also were printed and paid for by Uncle Sam in the same way.

Thus did the gentleman who posed as a great American chairman of the un-American activities committee squeeze the dollars not only out of his office staff on salary kickbacks but out of the government at every turn.

• • •

Capital News Capsules

Those inhospitable Swedes? —The Swedes claim they were merely carrying out Senator Thomas's own request when they failed to roll out the royal carpet for him. The junketing senators sent word from Oslo that when they got to Stockholm they wanted to rest, didn't want to be burdened with a heavy program. Senator Thomas of Oklahoma wired this ahead to the American embassy in Stockholm, which, in turn, advised the Swedes to lay off.

Phil and Harry—CIO President Phil Murray, who won his first-class contract for the steelworkers, without keeping them off the job over four months—as did John L. Lewis—got a big pat-on-the-back from President Truman last week.

"You conducted yourself like a statesman, Phil," said Truman, "and the nation is indebted to you. Also, you didn't depend upon the government to carry the ball for you, like some labor leaders I could mention. You won the steel strike yourself, fairly and squarely."

Inefficient spying — U. S. military leaders aren't happy about the Central Intelligence agency. They complain that CIA agents have been picking up trivial gossip and even Soviet information deliberately planted by the Kremlin. This is passed on without proper evaluation. Nothing is done, the brass hats gamble, because CIA hides its inefficiency behind an iron curtain of secrecy. Maybe the CIA should take a few tips from J. Edgar Hoover.

INVESTIGATORS of the crash that killed 55 in Washington recently say the following data "appears to be true" . . . Letter from S. America: "The landing he attempted when he crashed is typical of him. I have seen him do it several times, fortunately luck was with him. Many of us wonder why he didn't crash long ago. He has a mania for showing off. About a year ago he missed a tower in Santa Cruz by not more than 3 feet attempting a night landing. He was advised not to try it, but came in anyway. He cockily said later he missed it by 30 feet. But he was about 300 feet off course of the runway. He was informed he should not endanger other lives and would crash some day, and it was hoped he'd be alone. I wonder what he would say if he saw me face to face now? He cannot deny that he buzzed the town of Cachabamba (Bolivia), skimming tops of buildings, flying between trees in a P-38 and full of beer! Burning The Mid-Election Oil

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

Writer Fears Marriage Will Restrict Veep's Activities

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30 — Midst all the rejoicing over the late-blooming romance of our romantic veep, or vice president, I was just a little saddened, like the mother of the bride who weeps at the wedding.

RUARK

I got to thinking how being a married man is going to cut in on dear Alben's vice presidential duties, which, it seems to me, have consisted chiefly of going to functions and kissing girls. There may have been some other duties by way of political wage earning, but they were not so well publicized.

It is known by one and all that a bachelor may kiss pretty girls for publication without arousing enmity, except possibly from the boy friends of the girls who are getting kissed, but this is a dangerous game for a Benedict, even in line of duty. A foreign flavor of lipstick on a husband's lips, a smudge of same on shirt, or a festoon of alien hair on a serge collar arouses the beast in a wife, no matter how usually docile.

A man may come home and say that he has put in a hard day at the office, if the office is a jute-mill or a bank, and mother will get out his slippers and maybe even fix him a toddy to rejuvenate his brain-cells. But if he comes home and says he was put in a hard day kissing Miss Strawberry Festival queen or Miss Horners' Coroners, 1949, he is going to get a stony stare, at best, and maybe even a skillet alongside his kisser.

• • •

"Warning" Is Given

It is a strange thing about lipstick on handkerchiefs, too. It does not make any difference whether you got it from kissing hello to your wife's sister, in wife's presence, or whether you got it from Mme. Chiang Ki Shek at a state reception, or maybe even a quickie from the hatcheck chick — lipstick on a handkerchief is never really explainable to any wife worthy of wearing the pants in the house.

Lipstick on the handkerchief, even worse than lipstick on the cheek or collar, conjures up visions of mad revels with lush blondes, if the wife is a brunette, and lush brunettes if the wife is a blonde. This is really very simple. It is because lipstick on the handkerchief denotes a certain crafty guile, indicative of the gay dog, the artful rake.

IN FEMALE figuring, it means the brute has something snide to hide, or he wouldn't have bothered to wipe off his mush in the first place. You can get away with that lipstick on collar stuff if you talk fast enough, but I never knew a man to beat lipstick-on-handkerchief rap.

Another thing the veep is going to run into is a curtailment of his weekend flights to christen this and officiate at that.

"I think I will run down to Hot Springs this weekend and attend that retired crapshooters reunion," he will say casually. "It's the boss's idea, sweetie, and I'd really rather not," he will say, and he will get no further.

He will get the succinct treatise 2 on the kind of man who goes lallygagging off with the boys every weekend, leaving his poor slave to pick oakum in the eight-floor walkup. And he will get that treatise 3 about I-never-go-anywhere-any-more-and anyhow-you-spend-too-much money-on-these-things and anyhow the lawn needs mowing and anyhow and furthermore. That's what he will get and he will decide that maybe the retired crapshooters aren't worth it after all.

Folsom Is Recalled

I hate to hang crepe on cupid, but I do recall my friend kissing Jim Folsom was going great guns and maybe even figured to be president one day. He was kissing the girls and making them cry and flying every whichaway. Then one day Governor Folsom marries up with a pretty little peanut of a girl and the next thing I heard he not only wasn't kissing any other girls any more, but had been beaten badly for delegate to the national convention and his career seemed deader than the Dixiecrats.

I would just like to say to the veep that all the world loves a lover, with just one mild exception. That would be the lover's bride.

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

IN SOME places today's teen-agers seem to have a code that makes it pretty hard for the girl who doesn't want to "go steady."

The code, as near as I can figure it out from letters written me by both parents and teen-agers, works something like this:

MILLETT

At the beginning of a school year Joe asks Sally for a date. She goes out with him a few times, even though she may secretly like some of the other boys better.

But by accepting a few dates with Joe she has tagged herself as his girl. The other boys won't date her, so for Sally it is Joe or nobody.

"This has happened to my daughter three times since she started dating," one mother told me. "Right now she is at a new school and is afraid to start dating for fear she will get stuck again. We don't want her to go steady and she doesn't want to. But as soon as she has a few dates with one boy all the others stop asking her for dates."

That's a pretty silly code, it seems to me, and I don't blame the parents for not liking it, especially the parents of the girl.

• • •

GIRLS ARE TAGGED

UNDER SUCH a code the girls don't have any choice whatever in the matter of dates. They are tagged as private property by the first boy who takes them to a party.

If they want to buck the system, then they're left out of everything until they've been nobody's girl for so long that some other boy will feel free to ask for a date.

It's pretty silly of the girls to let themselves be put into such a position, it seems to me.

They are giving up all the fun of dating different boys, of measuring one against another, of being able to grant dates instead of being always taken for granted because they are a certain boy's girl.

Sure, it's hard for one girl to try to buck such a system. But if the girls were smart they'd stick together and say "Nothing doing" to the whole idea of going steady.

It's foolish for a teen-age girl to sell her right to date any boy who asks her for the small satisfaction of knowing that she is sure to have a date for anything that comes along because she is somebody's girl.

That is robbing herself of an important part of her girlhood.

Proportion thy charity to the strength of thy estate, lest God proportion thy estate to the weakness of thy charity: let the lips of the poor be the trumpet of thy gift, lest in seeking applause, thou lose thy reward. Nothing is more pleasing to God than an open hand and a close mouth.—Quarles.

"Try And Stop Me"

THE North Shore of Long Island was the scene of a gay party whose guest list was studded with the names of prominent authors, publishers, and journalists. It was a masquerade, and an editor conceived the notion of going as a motorcycle cop. He managed to finangle equipment and a cycle, and set out in style for the party. Unfortunately, he got lost on the way. The roads in that section are quite empty after dark at that time of year, but at long last a Rolls-Royce glided by, and it was obvious from the dress of the occupants that they, too, were bound for the masquerade. The editor tagged behind.

Suddenly the driver of the Rolls became aware of the motorcycle in back of him, and he stepped sharply on the accelerator. The chase was hectic for a while, but the editor hung doggedly onto the trail, and finally the driver of the car slowed down and stopped. "Here at last," thought the editor happily, and pulled up at the side of the Rolls, just in time to have a fifty-dollar bill thrust into his hand by an expressionless chauffeur. He pocketed the bill, parked his motorcycle, and had a fine time at the party.

The next day the Red Cross received an anonymous donation of fifty dollars.

POLL TAX PAYMENT TIME

For those who prefer to pay their poll taxes early, there is no better time than the present. This applies equally to the qualified electors of Lubbock and other counties of the area and State.

Most people will be in the vicinity of their courthouses while doing their Christmas shopping. This, particularly, will be true of Lubbock and the other large communities of the area. A visit to the tax collector's office will involve little time or inconvenience.

Those who delay until the last few days—Jan. 31, 1950, will be the deadline date—must expect long waiting in line. With many important local, state and national offices to be filled, poll tax payments are likely to be record-breaking. And these and most other local, school, county and state taxes are deductible items from 1949 federal income tax returns if paid on or before December 31.

Thus they are convenient and, in most cases, profitable chores to attend to without avoidable delay.

WRITING NEW PLATFORM PONDERED

Attacks On Welfare Program Seen As GOP Campaign Policy

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—An attack on President Truman's welfare program seemed likely today to become the choral chant of any Republican policy statement aimed at the 1950 campaign.

Serious doubts exist here that the minority party can agree (1) on whether it ought to write a new platform for the congressional campaign and (2) what any such declaration should contain.

While he said he himself is assailed by these doubts, Senator Smith (R-NJ) told a reporter he thinks the one thing most Republicans can agree upon is opposition to those Truman proposals which the GOP claims would amass more government authority in Washington and provide "hand-outs" for the people at excessive cost.

Facing Tough Problem

"I think most of us are opposed to what is called the welfare state, where the people lose the initiative and the government takes over the direction of everyone's life," the New Jersey senator said.

Smith, a former member of the GOP national committee, said he thinks national Chairman Guy G. Gabrielson has handed Republicans one of their toughest problems in asking them to decide whether there should be a policy statement and, if so, what it should contain.

Gabrielson wrote Republican governors, state and county chairmen and national committeemen yesterday asking for grass roots expression of views that could be laid before a committee he will name to study the platform question.

Smith said he could see a lot of practical difficulties ahead in attempting to compromise the viewpoints of Republicans who are split widely over many domestic and foreign issues.

Taft Questions Move

"I'm afraid that as long as we are the minority party, we are going to have to feel our way very carefully on many of these issues," he said.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), who heads the party's policy committee in the Senate, is one of those who remains to be convinced that it would be wise for the GOP to attempt to draft a set of principles now.

However, he left little doubt in a report to Ohio voters yesterday that he intends to make what he called the Truman administration's "hand-out state" an issue in his campaign for reelection to the Senate next year.

Coming out against future foreign arms spending, Taft called for a slopping off in Marshall plan outlays so that an effort could be made to balance the budget in 1951 without additional taxes.

Example Of Split

Asserting that continued red ink spending would bring a depression-breeding inflation, Taft declared:

"The problem before us emphasizes the idiocy of adopting the so-called new deal program. Socialized medicine would cost more than $6,000,000,000 and other features of the hand-out state would add more billions."

Taft probably would get agreement from most of the Republicans to including in any policy statement a clause opposing repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor act.

But as an example of the split among Republicans, his call for abandonment of the program by which this country had undertaken to help western Europe rearm runs into strong opposition from another party leader, Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich).

NEW INTERNATIONALS OFFERED—New truck engineering and design providing advances in performance, safety and comfort mark the 87 new L-line basic truck chassis models introduced today by the motor truck division of the International Harvester company and on display at the Commercial Truck company, 713 Texas avenue. Light, medium and heavy-duty trucks from the new line are pictured above.

New Line Of International Harvester Trucks To Be Introduced Here Today

The International Harvester company will introduce today through its nationwide dealer organization a complete new line of heavy-duty engineered motor trucks designed to meet the ever-increasing needs of truck operators. The Commercial Truck company, 713 Texas avenue, will have the trucks on display.

Built to handle every type of hauling job, trucks in the company's newly designed L-line, consisting of 87 basic truck chassis models, present a complete new design and incorporate many new mechanical engineering improvements to promote operating efficiency and economy.

New Advantages Claimed

Included among the new, test-proved advances in model design and engineering incorporated in Harvester's new L-line of International trucks, are:

1. Complete restyling that blends a new modern truck streamlining with extreme practicability.
2. A newly designed cab offering more room, added comfort and conveniences and all-around visibility, factors in safe operation.
3. New chassis dimension engineering permitting better load distribution, greater maneuverability, improved engine accessibility and short overall lengths while maintaining or increasing load-carrying lengths.
4. New, improved valve-in-head International truck series engines, inculding an all-new Silver Diamond engine.

New Features Given

Spearheaded by four classifications of four-wheel model trucks, ranging in gross vehicle weight from 4,200 pounds to 30,000 pounds, the new L-line also features new multi-stop units, products of the company's Bridgeport, Conn., plant; a new group of six-wheel chassis units, ranging in GVW from 22,000 to 50,000 pounds, and a new group of cab-forward chassis units, ranging upward from 14,000 pounds.

Biggest change in the chassis dimensions, the company's motor truck general manager continued, is in the wheelbases, which have been shortened as much as seven inches in some models.

Together with reproportioned cab-to-rear axle dimensions and front-to-cab dimensions, the shorter wheelbases have resulted in a shifting of load weight, so that it is in balance between front and rear axles.

The shorter wheelbases and other chassis dimensions have made possible shorter overall lengths, it was pointed out, with no actual decrease in load-carrying lengths. In some cases, greater load-carrying lengths are available within the shorter overall lengths of the trucks.

Easier handling results from the shorter turning radius of the shorter wheelbases, as well as from the widened axle treads. The turning angle on practically all models in the new line has been increased to a minimum of 37 degrees for both popular and standard tire sizes.

Cotton Acreage Plan Opposed

CORPUS CHRISTI, Nov. 30 (AP)—Farm leaders in a 12-county coastal bend area plan to ask a federal injunction against their 1950 cotton acreage allotments.

The farmers claim allotments were distributed unfairly in Texas.

Following meetings at Robstown and Sinton Monday and yesterday, the cotton growers voted unanimously to seek a federal court injunction.

Assessments Agreed

The injunction would prevent the state production marketing administration committee from distributing allotments on the proposed basis of 95 per cent of the 1947-48 average planted acreages.

Leaders of the group said the request for an injunction will be filed soon.

The farmers will be assessed six cents a bale on their 1949 cotton to defray cost of the litigation. Truett Barber, Corpus Christi attorney, has been employed to represent the farmers in their court battle.

OLD TIMERS TO MEET

FORT WORTH, Nov. 30. (AP)—The Texas Editorial association will hold its annual meeting in Fort Worth Dec. 9-10. The association is made up of old timers in the newspaper business.

Aims Of New Electrical Union Include Wage Boost, Pension

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30. (AP)—The economic aims of the CIO's new electrical workers union are on the record today—a fourth round wage boost ranging from nine to 25 cents an hour, pensions and social insurance.

Delegates to the founding convention of the international union of electrical, radio and machine workers (IUE) voted for that program yesterday after being told not to worry about court injunctions and to proceed with expansion of the union.

James B. Carey, secretary-treasurer of the CIO and acting head of the IUE, advised the delegates to go ahead with their plans for building up the union despite any court actions brought by the rival united electrical workers (UE).

The UE has gone to the courts in a number of instances in an effort to tie up the funds of various locals and otherwise prevent them from shifting to the new organization.

The IUE was organized early this month after the CIO had ousted the UE on grounds it was Communist-dominated.

The wage increase program approved at the second-day session of the convention went beyond an earlier recommendation by Carey.

The slender, fiery IUE leader had urged the delegates to seek an increase "which will at least partly close the sizeable gap" between the electrical industry and the average for other durable goods production workers.

That gap was set at 3.3 cents an hour.

The wage resolution adopted yesterday declared "we want adjustments to bring the wage status of workers in our industry up to that of steel, auto, aircraft."

No Rush On Demands

The resolution listed the average hourly wage in the electrical industry as $1.448 compared with $1.703 in autos, $1.652 in steel and $1.54 in aircraft production.

The pension to be sought would pay $100 a month minimum, including social security, to workers 65 years of age with 25 years experience. Except for the social security contributions by workers, the cost would be born by a management.

This pension plan closely resembles that agreed upon by the Bethlehem Steel corporation and the United Steel workers in their strike-ending pact.

Meanwhile, there were indications the electrical industry would not be confronted immediately with the IUE's wage demands.

The constitution committee is expected to report its recommendations to the full assembly later today on the question of when a constitutional convention should be held.

Referendum Favored

IUE spokesmen said they thought it likely the panel will advise delay, perhaps for as long as six months. This would enable the union to consolidate its gains and await outcome of National Labor Relations board hearings and elections to determine bargaining agents.

IUE spokesmen said it was generally thought expedient to hold off a constitutional convention call at least until spring, so that locals accredited meantime would have a proper voice in policy and proceedings.

Similarly, the consensus seems to be that the most satisfactory way of choosing officers would be by referendum.

Although sentiment on the whole apparently favors that course, some delegates have voiced misgivings about prolonging IUE leadership on an acting basis. They say an indefinite continuation of the 10-man administrative committee, now directing IUE affairs, might provoke cries of "dictatorship" and other attacks outside the union.

Deadline Sought

Therefore, they seek a deadline, as early as possible.

A chance and premature discussion of the subject brought into the open yesterday the only slight semblance of real disagreement the convention has heard.

Ruling the debate out of order, Carey scoffed at expressed fears that critics of the union would accuse leaders of keeping themselves in office.

"It's just the contrary," he asserted. "We are perpetuating ourselves out of office."

"Anyway," he added, amidst a chorus of approval, "we don't care what our enemies say. They'll blast away at us no matter what we do or don't do. Let's just go ahead with the job of expanding our union."

The convention speakers today are three members of President Truman's official family—Navy Secretary Francis P. Mathews, Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin and Air Secretary W. Stuart Symington.

The Concord grape, original American table grape, first was grown commercially in 1853, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Girl Kills Self On Her Wedding Eve

TOKYO, Nov. 30. (U.P.)—A 20-year-old girl committed suicide on the eve of her wedding today because she considered herself unfit as a bride, being "extremely poor at cooking and sewing."

In a note to her fiance, Mitsu Masuda added apologetically that she was adept at the "soroban" abacus, or Japanese finger manipulated adding machine.

The girl, who used to work in a bank, poisoned herself after mailing her trousseau to the waiting bridegroom.

Former Area Farmer Claimed By Death

Jack Lanham, 48, gin manager at Carey near Childress, died at 9:40 p. m. Tuesday in Lubbock Memorial hospital after an illness of several months.

Lanham lived in the Lubbock area about 20 years ago, farming near Shallowater for one year.

Funeral services have been scheduled for 3 p. m. Thursday in the Carey Baptist church. Burial will be in Childress cemetery with Masonic graveside rites.

His body, taken to the Sanders Funeral home in Lubbock, will be taken to Childress this morning.

Survivors include his wife, two sons, Joe Bob and Billy Wade, and two grandchildren, all of Carey; a sister, Mrs. Roy Doss of Childress; and his mother, Mrs. Mary C. Lanham, three brothers, S. N., C. V., and O. E. Lanham, and four other sisters, Mrs. J. I. Exum, Mrs J O. Bumpass, Mrs. Billy Meyers and Mrs. L. C. Karnes, all of Lubbock.

Ohio State Student Indicted For Murder

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 30. (AP)—James D. Heer of Euclid, indicted yesterday in the slaying of a fraternity brother at Ohio State university, will undergo psychiatric observation and examination.

Franklin County Prosecutor Ralph J. Bartlett said the 20-year-old student will be sent to Lima state hospital for the criminally insane. The observation period for persons charged with capital crimes usually is 30 to 60 days.

The grand jury returned a first degree murder indictment against Heer in the death Nov. 12 of Jack T. McKeown, of Norwood, managing editor of the Ohio State Lantern, daily campus newspaper.

Heer was a pledge and McKeown a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity. The shooting followed a homecoming party at the fraternity house and a dance at a private club the night before the Illinois-Ohio State football game.

Firemen Wait For Train With Flames

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Nov. 30. (AP)—Firemen were waiting at the station here when a Boston and Maine freight train pulled in, bringing the fire.

The flames, in a bale of wool in a box car, were extinguished quickly last night.

The fire had traveled more than 30 miles.

The first alarm came from a motorist in Hoosick Falls, N. Y. who reported smoke was pouring from a box car.

The railroad told its agent at Petersburg, N. Y., to check the report. He saw smoke and notified the dispatcher at Greenfield, Mass. The Williamstown fire department was asked to be ready.

"It'll be right along," the railroad promised.

Awesome Notre Dame Invades Cotton Bowl

Mustangs Hope To Duplicate Texas' 1934 Win Over Irish

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

DALLAS, Nov. 30—When Southern Methodist plays Notre Dame here Saturday, Texas college football will be pushing for its second victory in history over the Fighting Irish.

A look at the records shows Southern Methodist, a decided underdog (betting gives Notre Dame a 27½ point edge), shouldn't feel too badly about taking the expected drubbing.

Notre Dame has played Texas college teams seven times but the only victory for the Lone Star state was engineered by a former Notre Dame player.

Jack Chevigny, who lives in the color of gridiron annals as the man who "scored one for the Gipper," led Texas to a 7-6 upset of the Fighting Irish at South Bend in 1934.

The defeat for Notre Dame was made more stinging from the fact that Texas wasn't a good also-ran that year in its own conference.

Chevigny, who was killed in the late war, was the player who carried the ball across with "here's one for the Gipper" in that memorable game with Army when Notre Dame won one for fabulous George Gipp.

They still talk down at Austin about the great pre-game talks the talented Chevigny could make. He was a dressing room orator of top billing. The speech he made to his Longhorns before they played Notre Dame in 1934 was a classic, those who heard it said.

Notre Dame comes to town Friday bringing along a record of 37 straight games without defeat. It is rated No. 1 in the country. Southern Methodist isn't even in the top 20. Added to that is the fact that Southern Methodist probably won't have the services of All-America Dork Walker, who has a badly injured leg.

But Southern Methodist is rated probably as good a chance of beating Notre Dame as Texas was in 1934. Southern Methodist Coach Matty Bell should brush up on his dressing room oratory.

Franchise For Pro Grid Team Claimed

HOUSTON, Nov. 30. (AP)—Oilman Glenn McCarthy has received franchise papers for a team in the All-America Professional Football league, the Houston Post said today.

A spokesman for McCarthy said he did not know whether the papers had been received. He said McCarthy probably will take no action on bringing a team here until after the Shamrock bowl charity game Dec. 17.

The game will match the All-America conference's 1949 champions against a squad of stars from the other teams of the league.

McCarthy said several weeks ago that he was interested in a professional franchise for Houston.

IF A LAMP CARRIES THIS TAG

IT'S GOT TO BE GOOD

The appearance of the "Certified" tag on any lamp, of any type, assures you that the lamp has been submitted to rigid testing by an impartial testing laboratory. It assures you that the manufacturer of that lamp, one of over 100 leading American companies, has submitted his product to a complete test.

For example, the laboratory has determined that the switch will operate efficiently. It has ascertained that the cord is at least seven feet long, has a certified plug, to assure safety. The lamp itself is properly weighted to resist tipping, and of a finish which will ordinarily resist scarring or marring.

And above all, the "Certified" lamp has an exclusive new type reflector which will gain the most light from the bulb, and apply the light correctly for the use for which the lamp has been designed.

The next time you buy a lamp, make sure it is "Certified." Inquire at your favorite store for this new lamp.

HIGHER TAXES TAKE A BIG BITE

Incomes Greater Now Than In '39, But So Are Living Costs

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 — When you talk of income, it always comes down to a question like this:

What's a dollar worth? How much will it buy? So, even though I'm making more than last year, am I really better off?

A few days ago the government — through the Federal Reserve board—issued a report on income.

It said that in 1939 personal income—since it was personal income it did not include the profits of corporations—was $73 billion.

But in September, 1949, personal income was $211 billion, or almost three times greater than in 1939.

Did that mean that Americans—on the average—in 1949 were making three imes what they made in 1939? No.

The $211 billion personal income for 1949 was a total figure. No average was involved.

Living Costs Up

To begin with, things in 1949 were different from 1939.

In 1939, with 45½ million employed, there were about 9½ million unemployed. In 1949 about 60 million people were employed, with unemployment running around 1½ million.

So the increase in the number of people employed alone would be bound to increase the total figure on personal income, plus the fact, and it's a very important one, that wages and salaries have climbed.

But, since personal income was $211 billion in 1949 and only 73 billion in 1939, were Americans generally three times better off now than in 1939? No.

For one thing, higher taxes have taken a big bite out of the higher incomes of Americans. In addition, the increase in living costs has chewed up the value of the income.

Living costs in 1949 were 67 per cent higher than in 1939.

Taxes Cut Total

Higher taxes and increased living costs cut into he income of everybody who has an income. The most convenient example is that of the factory worker, since the government has a lot of figures on him and not such detailed ones on other people.

Take the average pay of a worker in the manufacturing industry. In 1939 it was $23.86. In 1949, it was $55.72, or $31.86 more.

Was he thus $31.86 better off, with that much more money to spend than he had in 1939? No.

The higher 1949 taxes and living costs reduced the total and the value of his 1949 income.

For example: take that same average pay of the workers in the manufacturing industry.

In 1939 his pay was $23.86. After deducting taxes—this was for a man with no dependents—he had $23.58.

In 1949 his pay was $55.72. After deducting the higher 1949 taxes and allowing for the higher living costs, his pay was worth $28.57 in terms of 1939 dollars and buying power.

Printers Highest Paid

To put it another way: in 1949 he had $4.99 more a week than he had in 1939.

All this—the information comes from the government's bureau of labor statistics—has dealt with the "average" weekly pay of a worker in the manufacturing industry.

Since it's an "average" figure, it means some workers made more a week, some less, than the average of $55.72.

For example, and this information comes from the statistics bureau, too:

The highest paid workers in the manufacturing industry are the mechanical workers on newspapers, such as printers and so on.

In September, 1949, they were averaging $80.33 a week. In 1939 they averaged $37.58.

Now take the lowest paid workers in the manufacturing industry. They're the workshirt-makers.

In September, 1949,, they averaged $27.35 a week. In 1939 they averaged $11.03.

Steelworkers Extend Company's Contract

CINCINNATI, Nov. 30. (AP) — The United Steelworkers of America (CIO) agreed last night to extend, without change, their present contract with the Lunkenheimer Co., until April 15, 1950.

Al Whitehouse, director of district 25 of the steelworkers, said the extension of the contract was approved because of recent losses in earnings by the company. He said the company could not afford to grant pay increases to the 1,100 workers at this time.

Losses in profits, Whitehouse said, have been caused largely by an extensive modernization program by the company.

"Because of the present financial position of the company and its recent losses in earnings we have agreed to extend our contract at no increased cost to the company," he said.

"The company is in a sound financial position now and, although it is not earning any profits, it stands to be in a position next spring where it will make more money than ever before."

The contract actually expired last summer but was extended at that time until last midnight.

Shotgun Murderer Of Negro Is Convicted

AUSTIN, Nov. 30 (AP) — John Thomas Riley, 63, was convicted last night of murder in the death of a negro soldier. He was sentenced to life imprisonment.

An all-white jury deliberated less than two hours finding Riley guilty of the shotgun slaying of Charles I. Clark, 20, Camp Hood negro soldier. The shooting occurred in the white man's home Oct. 19.

The prosecution had asked the death penalty for Riley.

The state claimed Riley ran a "bawdy house" and shot the young negro after inviting him in. The defense claimed the negro invaded Riley's home, thus giving the defendant the right to shoot.

Woman In California Loses Sons' Custody

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30 (AP) — Mrs. Florence Walton, Los Angeles society matron, is deprived of full custody of her three sons after being accused of adultery with a former film actor.

Her husband, Delvy T. Walton, was awarded a contested divorce decree yesterday. Of her relations with Richard Powers, a real estate broker formerly known in pictures as Tom Keene, Superior Judge William R. McKay declared:

"The evidence is so conclusive that Mrs. Walton was guilty of adultery with him that I must give Mr. Walton the divorce."

Walton was awarded custody of the children, Craig, 14; John, 12, and Laurence, 10.

Judge McKay gave her custody of the boys on alternate weekends and during the first six weeks of their summer vacations. The couple married in 1933 and separated last year.

Rockefeller Has Big City In Tizzy Over Christmas Tree

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK—Squire Rockefeller has our town in a tizzy.

It's about that Christmas tree he put up between his ice pond and the RCA building.

The squire is a right neighborly fellow. Every year about this time his hired hands whacked down a tall tree somwheres, and haul it into town and put it up—for the community to look at free.

It's got so that the Christmas season isn't official in these parts until the Rockefeller tree is lit.

Town Excited

Well, all last week our town was as excited as Dan'l Boone at a turkey shoot. Word had got around, somehow, that this year the squire had really outdone himself.

A goodly throng of citizens had gathered in advance to welcome the tree.

Along about then Mayor O'Dwyer's boys in blue sirened the tree around the corner. It seemed like everyone was there for the big hoedown 'cepting Grover Whalen, who was busy in his perfume shop—a customer had just walked in.

Well, sir, our folks took one look at Squire Rockefeller's 1949 Christmas tree—and all hullabalooo broke loose. The tree waren't green at all. 'Twar white—yep, white all over.

Tree Feeling Ill

"The dang thing musta fainted!" said a visitor from Brooklyn.

"No, we done it deliberate," said a hired hand, importantly. "The squire didn't want to catch the town on fire by no accident. So we sprayed the tree with 200 gallons of white camouflage paint—it's fire-retardin.' Ain't she a beaut?"

Well, yes! and, well, no!

The town has been a-arguin' about that 'air tree for days.

Some folks come right out flat and say:

"We got to grow up with the times. Nobody in Boston would think've settin' up a white Chirstmas tree. The squire has kep' us ahead again."

But other folks are just as sot t'other way.

"He oughta tear it down and start all over," they opine. "It ain't a Christmas tree to begin with. It's all painted."

Diplomats Ousted By President Of Panama

PANAMA, Panama, Nov. 30 (AP)—In a wholesale shakeup of Panama's foreign service, President Arnulfo Arias today fired 16 diplomats stationed abroad.

Arias, who was installed as president last week after a police coup, was declared the legal president last night by the national assembly. The assembly rejected a claim to the presidency by Dr. Daniel Chanis, jr., who was forced out of office by Police Chief Jose Remon.

Among the diplomats ousted by the Arias government were Panamanian ambassadors to Argentina, Costa Rica, Colombia, Ecuador, Venezuela, and Nicaragua; ministers to Italy, Salvador, Honduras, Uruguay and the Dominican Republic; the charge d'affairs in Cuba and consuls general in San Francisco, Calif., New Orleans, La., San Jose, Costa Rica, and St. Nazaire, France.

Last Saturday the government fired Octavio A. Vallarino, ambassador to Washington during the Chanis regime.

The president of France and the Spanish bishop of Urgel are joint governmental heads of Andorra.

Library Plan Is Discarded

The possibility of remodeling the Broadway Church of Christ, at Broadway and Ave. N, into a public library was discarded at a special meeting of the city commission Tuesday afternoon.

The action followed the unanimous statement of directors of the Lubbock Public Library association that they do not regard the building or site as satisfactory for library purposes.

Members of the library board who appeared before the commission were Mrs. H. F. Godeke, president, Floyd Honey, J. T. Carter, Thord Dockray, Mrs. A. F. Rasor, Mrs. Ben Brewer and Mrs. A. W. Young.

Option Is Dropped

The commission had been given an option to buy the property for $135,000. Members, without a record vote, directed that the option be released.

Alex McDonald and B. Sherrod, representing the church in the proposed deal, charged after members of the library board had left that much "pressure" by "selfish interests" had been brought to bear on the association representatives or urge their opposition to the purchase of the church property.

Mrs. Godeke listed several objections to the proposed project. She criticized the downtown location and the parking problems which could not be avoided. She said further that no remodeling plan could convert the building, completed 24 years ago, into a satisfactory library. Others of the library board concurred in these opinions.

The property is for sale because the Broadway church is building a new edifice further out on Broadway.

A $500,000 bond issue for a library was voted in the city in 1947. The bonds have never been sold and the entire sum still is available for the project.

New Zealanders Vote On Parliament Seats

AUCKLAND, N. Z., Nov. 30 (AP)—New Zealanders voted today in a parliamentary election that will determine whether the Labor party's 14-year rule will be extended.

Native Maoris voted yesterday and, as expected, returned four Labor party members to the 80-seat parliament.

The real test came today with voting by citizens of European descent. For the last three years Labor has held 38 of the 76 "European" seats with the opposition Nationalists holding the same number.

Prime Minister Peter Fraser has kept his Labor government in power with the support of the four Maori votes.

Main election issue is Nationalist opposition to Labor government controls on prices, imports and exports.

MEET THE MANAGER—Wade Brake, manager of White's Auto Store, 1301 Texas, was born at Altus, Okla., Jan. 29, 1916. He went to school there and then to junior college at Altus, then started with White's in 1938 as a salesman. He was transferred to Paris, Texas, in 1940 as assistant manager and stayed there eight months, until he opened a store at Clarksville in 1941. In 1944 he joined the Navy and served in the Pacific theater on an aircraft carrier, taking part in seven sea battles from Saipan to Okinawa. His ship won a Presidential unit citation. He was released from the Navy in the latter part of 1945 and he went back to Clarksville as manager of the White's store, remaining there a year. He returned to the Paris store as manager in 1946 and stayed there until July of this year, when he came to Lubbock as manager of this store. He is a Baptist. His hobbies are baseball and football games, and playing golf. Mr. and Mrs. Brake and one daughter, Beverly Sue, one year old, live at 3320 Twenty-sixth. (Staff Photo).

Negro, Father Of Nine Children, Held In Strangulation Slaying Of Daughter

DETROIT, Nov. 30 (AP)—Walter Dotson, 31, negro father of nine children, was held today in the death of his daughter Addie, 16.

It was one of the strangest stories to come to police attention.

Yesterday morning Dotson, barefoot with street clothing over his pajamas, was found lying in the Rouge Park area.

He could give no explanation; he had not been drinking, police said.

After observation and treatment at a hospital, he was released.

Admits Murder

In the afternoon he walked into police headquarters and, according to Lt. Gerald Walters, said he had strangled his daughter two days earlier.

The body of Addie, who was born to Dotson when he was 15, was found in her locked bedroom.

The eight younger children had not known it. The mother, Lola, is in a hospital.

Lt. Walters said that Dotson declared he killed Addie in a quarrel after the girl had rejected a hominy grits breakfast.

No formal charge was placed against Dotson pending investigation.

Former President Of Philadelphia Rubber Company Is Claimed

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30 (AP)—John Kearsley Mitchell, nephew of the late Edward T. Stotesbury and former president of the Philadelphia Rubber works, died yesterday at his home in suburban Bryn Mawr. He was 78.

Mitchell, who headed the rubber firm until its sale to B. F. Goodrich Co. in 1929, was exonerated after being questioned in the mysterious slaying of Dorothy Keenan, New York artist's model, in 1923.

The girl's body was found in her apartment, reeking with chloroform, March 15, 1923. Ten days later, Ferdinand Pecora, then assistant district attorney of New York county and now a New York supreme court justice, disclosed he would question Mitchell.

Pleaded In Probe

Pecora said the Philadelphian had befriended Miss Keenan and lavished her with gifts.

Authorities announced the girl apparently had been slain by a man who tried to get her to enter a blackmail plot against Mitchell, using letter which Pecora said Mitchell admitted having written.

After several interrogations of Mitchell, Pecora said "I still have no information that would suport the view that Mr. Mitchell was in any way concerned with the girl's death."

The man sought in connection with the alleged blackmail plot was never found.

Mitchell, who was a nephew of the late Dr. S. Weir Mitchell, noted psychiatrist and author, is survived by his widow, Mrs. Frances S. Mitchell, a son, daughter and six grandchildren.

Hale Center Church Planning Auditorium

HALE CENTER, Nov. 30. (Special)—The congregation of the Hale Center First Baptist church has voted to construct a new auditorium, to cost approximately $40,000. Plans for the new church call for a 48x90-foot one-storied brick veneer building with a seating capacity of 622 persons.

Included in the plan will be remodeling of the present church into an educational building. On the building committee are Arthur Landers, J. D. Ritchey, R. D. Oliver, Mrs. Mack Fisher and Mrs. J. D. Ivey.

The committee reported several thousand dollars is already on hand for the new building program and that a campaign to raise an additional amount to finance the project will get underway soon. Jack Anderson has been named to work out plans for the finance campaign.

White House To Be Expanded Into 77-Room Mansion By '51

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. (AP)—President and Mrs. Truman are going to have room for extra guests when they move back into a safe and modern White House in late 1951.

They'll have space, too, to store all those things that people don't like to throw away.

They will find it expanded into a 77-room mansion with a two-story basement when the repair job about to get underway is finally completed.

The present 150-year old structure, to be completely renovated inside, has 69 rooms and no basement.

Demolition Job Set

Engineers disclosed today that eight additional rooms will be built on the top—or fourth—floor, possibly for use by guests.

In the past this floor has been used for maids' quarters and guests who could not be accommodated in the limited bedroom space on the third floor. The third floor is used by the chief executive and his family.

Presidents themselves have been known on rare occasions to sleep in the "attic" to permit very important visitors to occupy their bedrooms. So, when the new rooms are added, it may not be necessary ever again for Citizen No. 1 to do like the office clerk who doubles up on a sofa to make way for a rich relative.

Actual work on repairing the home of presidents will get under way in about a week. An underpinning subcontract was let yesterday. The first job will be a demolition one to get ready for the new interior foundation and strengthening the base of the outside sandstone walls.

Maj. Gen. Glen E. Edgerton, one of the engineers attached to the renovation commission, said the new White House should last 150 years or more. Congress has appropriated $5,400,000 for the whole job.

Scrap Disposal Problem

The commission is now considering how to dispose of hundreds of pieces of scrap and other materials salvaged from the historic structure without running afoul of the congresional dictum that there be no "commercial exploitation."

General Edgerton said the commission might ask new legislation to defray the cost of distributing the souvenirs. Care must be taken to authenticate these, he said, to avoid an avalanche of fakes being sold to the gullible.

For example, he said, there are about 500,000 bricks—many of them still charred from the burning of the mansion by the British in 1814— and most dating back to 1818 when restoration was completed. Old timbers could be sold or donated—whole or by the splinter.

Damaged mantels, scraps of metal and new nails—all are among the disposable items.

The material will be put in four categories: (1) complete items like doors and mantels that can be preserved for use in the renovated mansion, (2) pieces with historical value for display in museums, (3) fragments that may be of sentimental value only, and (4) perishable stuff for the dump heap.

AT ANNEXATION HEARING—Eight residents or property owners of East Lubbock, seated against the city hall council chamber wall, participate in the city commission hearing Tuesday afternoon on the proposed annexation of that area to the city limits. They are, from foreground to background, David Sooter, C. R. Rogers, W. M. Jackson, S. W. Morrison, M. H. Smith, J. B. Strawn, Pierce Winn and Bryan Gleaton. Seated at the council table are J. E. Hamilton (back to camera), a member of the delegation, and City Commissioners John Spikes, Clarence Whiteside (conversing with members of the delegation), and E. K. Hufstedler, who peers over Whiteside's shoulder. See story on page 1. (Staff Photo).

Boy Testifies In Klan Trial

ROME, Ga., Nov. 29. (AP)—A pint-sized, 10-year-old witness, his feet swinging slowly, gave the mass civil rights trial here its tensest moment.

The small, fourth-grader, Cecil Foster, was considered qualified as a witness late yesterday after he observed that if he didn't tell the truth "the boogerman will get me."

Cecil was called by the government in the trial of 12 men accused of conspiring to have seven negroes seized by a mob of Ku Kluxers and whipped April 2.

Deputies Seen

The boy said he saw sheriff's deputies William Hartline, John Bleckley and Stokes McCauley at a cross building last spring.

Defense Attorney Frank Gleason pointed to two men and asked, "which of these two men is Mr. McCauley?"

Cecil turned slowly to Gleason and said, "I don't reckon either of them is Mr. McCauley."

Later, Cecil admitted he knew Deputy McCauley only because his mother told him at the time that it was the officer, but he was sure about Deputy Bleckley "'cause he brings his little girl to school." He also said he was sure about Deputy Hartline because he once lived in a house owned by the Dade county official.

Sheriff No Help

The three deputies, Sheriff John W. Lynch and eight private citizens are the defendants.

One of the seven flogged negroes, Charlie Roberts of Hooker, Ga., told the court that after he had been seized by the mob, "they told us they was gonna hang us."

With that, he said, "I asked the sheriff, you are the sheriff, can't you help us? But he just turned his back and walked away."

The testimony by Roberts was the first to place Sheriff Lynch at the home of Miami Clay the night the seven negroes were beaten by men in Ku Klux Klan robes. Roberts said all three of the sheriff's deputies also were present.

The muskmelon, a member of the gourd family, is native to India and Guinea.

Solons Must Find Places For Busts Of Truman And Wallace

Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—Congress has its work cut out for it when it returns in January: it has to find some place for the busts of Henry A. Wallace and Harry S. Truman.

While the congressmen are at it, they also can find spots for John Paul Jones and Brigham Young.

Capitol Architect David Lynn admitted today that Congress is falling behind at its bust-placing. But there's a reason for this. Statuary hall is being redecorated, and it was thought best to wait until this job was completed.

But now Congress can dally no longer.

Maybe you wonder, how does a man become a bust?

Well, the ways are various. One of the simplest ways is to get yourself a job as vice-president of the U. S.

Busts Are Ready

Then the bust goes into the Capitol automatically.

Or you can be a big shot in your home state. Every state is entitled to two busts. That's how Brigham Young got in. Utah wanted to honor the man who had led the Mormon exodus into the wilderness.

Or you can be a miscellaneous here, which seems like a tougher way.

After all these years, the Navy is sponsoring John Paul Jones.

As for the Messrs. Wallace and Truman, their busts are ready and waiting. Charles Keck did one of Mr. Truman, in 1947. Wallace's bust, by Jo Davidson, was completed last year.

In case your history is hazy: Mr. Truman hasn't been a vice-president since April, 1945. Wallace gave up vice-presidenting on Jan. 20, 1945.

Memory Has Faded

Finding a spot for the new busts won't be at all easy. For this nation always has turned out a plentiful supply of heroes.

The memory of some of these have faded with the passing years.

Why did Arkansas honor Uriah M. Rose ith a bust in the nation's Capitol? Why was John Campbell Greenway similarly honored by Arizona? Or Miguel Jose Serra Junipere by California?

The answers: Rose was a famed international lawyer in the early 1900's; Greenway was an outstanding soldier, a member of the famous Rough Riders; and Serra Junipere was an early day missionary.

But the moderns are on hand, too.

Louisiana is represented by Huey Long, and Oklahoma by Will Rogers.

Officers Elected By Local Optometrists

A total of 17 members of the South Plains Optometric society met for a regular business meeting and annual election of officers at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the office of Drs. Cauley and Welch, 1114 Ave. L.

Dr. Wayne Hardy of Lubbock and Dr. B. W. Armistead of Littlefield were elected to the new board of directors.

Retiring president was Dr. B. W Armistead; vice-president was Dr. J. Davis Armistead. Other retiring officers were Dr. Farron and Dr. C. M. Neel.

"PEOPLE MUST BE PROTECTED"

Fight, Not Rescue Is Goal Of Europe

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 30—The hub of the west's defense strategy, as viewed by Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, must be to protect western Europeans from invasion and not just to rescue them afterward.

Montgomery, top military man in the western alliance, said last night that if western Europe is overrun again by invaders, "that is the end of the people who live there."

Promise Is Useless

"The point that is fundamental," he said, "is that to promise to rescue the west in due course after a successful invasion from the east is quite useless. The peoples of western Europe must be protected against invasion, and not just told that they will be rescued after it."

The field marshal, who heads the commanders inchief committee of the western European union, spoke before 1,800 persons at a Waldorf-Astoria hotel dinner meeting sponsored by the English-speaking union of the United States.

They Want Assurance

In his address, broadcast nationally, Montgomery said western Europeans "want to know that their allies and friends will fight side by side with them to hold off the menace from the east should it develop."

The basis for such protection, the British war hero said, lies in the economic recovery program and the defnse organization of western Europe.

If these succeed, he said, "there will be no war."

Another speaker, U. S. Ambassador-at-Large Philip C. Jessup, declared the arming by America of the Atlantic pact nations was not in conflict with the peace efforts within the United Nations.

Declaring that further progress in economic integration of western Europe is immediately necessary, Jessup said:

"There are several schools of thought as to whether European union or federation with close political ties is essential to lasting peace. Such a union may be desirable. It raises, however, a further complex series of problems which cannot be easily or quickly resolved."

Convict Is Facing Prison Again After 30 Years' Freedom

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30 (U.P.)—Charles Zind, 72, who walked out of an Ohio prison farm 30 years ago, would still be free today if he hadn't sold strawberries without a license.

He was held for Ohio authorities who will try to return him there to finish a one to 20 year sentence.

Zind said he was imprisoned at the London, O., farm for two years before his escape July 7, 1919, for passing a $6 bad check to buy a pair of pants. His clean record since then, he said, entitled him to freedom.

He went under the name of Joe Dollar here while working and rearing a family. Lynwood, Calif., police identified him after his arrest on the berry-selling charge.

Zachary Scott Hurt In Surf Boat Mishap

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 30. (AP)—Zachary Scott is in a hospital today, after being knocked unconscious in a surf boating accident and being rescued by another actor.

Scott and John Emery were riding a rubber boat in the surf. The craft capsized and Scott, a good swimmer, was knocked out when his head struck a rock, his studio disclosed yesterday.

Emery grabbed him in the churning water and carried him ashore. The mishap occurred Sunday. Scott is under treatment for head and side injuries and probably will be hospitalized several more days.

Crosby Sheriff Gets Young Trio's "Gun"

CROSBYTON, Nov. 30. (Special)—Sheriff Foy Addison "disarmed" a young trio here Tuesday, but they weren't the same three who pulled the Saturday night robbery and shooting here.

Acting on a tip from a Lubbock motorist who said his three hitchhiking passengers had acted suspiciously and had a gun, Addison drove to the edge of town.

He found the trio, and sure enough, one had a toy pistol stuck in his belt. Addison relieved them of the gun with a promise to return it if they called with their parents.

The boys, one 15 years and two 16 years, said they were from Sundown, and were going to Dickens.

Rites Set Today For Woman At Plainview

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 30 (Special) Funeral services for Mrs. H. L. Moon, 80, a pioneer resident of the South Plains, were conducted at 11 o'clock this morning at the Plainview First Baptist church with the pastor, Dr. A. H. Owen, officiating.

Burial was to be in the Lockney cemetery, Roy G. Wood Funeral home of Plainview reported.

Mrs. Moon, who died at 3:20 a.m. Tuesday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Robert Crouthers, was the wife of a pioneer Hale Center merchant and had lived in the South Plains area since about 1900. She had lived in Plainview during the last 20 years.

Other survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Lou Ella Hinkel of Lubbock; a son, Ivy Moon of Hale Center; and a sister, Mrs. J. H. Harrison of Greenville.

Nathaniel Hawthorne was born in Salem, Mass.

Prisoner Clears Up Amarillo Burglaries

AMARILLO, Nov. 30 (U.P.)—James H. Harris, recaptured last week after escaping the Potter county jail, signed a statement early today which Sheriff Paul Gaither said "cleared up" seven Amarillo burglaries.

Loot taken in the burglaries totaled $10,000.

Gaither said Farris led officers yesterday to a location 15 miles northwest of here where a safe blown from concrete in a local food store had been abandoned.

Farris, 28, escaped last Wednesday with two other jail inmates, Leo and Edward Rader, 23-year-old twins. They were recaptured Saturday.

Wage Increase For Workers Announced

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. (U.P.)—The defense department today announced a 10 per cent wage increase averages about 13½ cents an hour for civilian workers at the White Sands, N. M., proving grounds. The increase will be effective Dec. 10.

Typical hourly increases are seven cents for laborers, nine cents for helpers, 13 cents for machinists, 16 cents for electricians and 20 cents for tool makers.

Pittsburgh's Night Policemen Increased After Sex Slaying

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 30 (AP)—Twice as many policemen are pounding night beats as a result of the brutal sex slaying of attractive Jean Brusco.

Mayor David L. Lawrence, in the first major revamping of police duties in 10 years, yesterday ordered the number of foot patrolmen on night duty doubled.

Additionally, Lawrence said he will ask city council to appoint 100 new policemen.

The 38-year-old Miss Brusco was bludgeoned and raped Friday midnight within sight of her home. A milkman discovered the saleswoman's body the next morning.

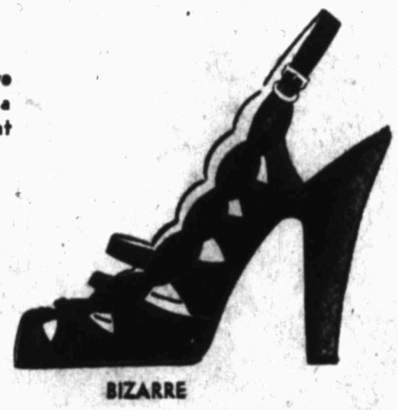

Police still have no clue to the slayer.

As a result of the slaying, groups of residents in Pittsburgh's Shadyside district formed volunteer male escort groups to protect women walking from trolley stops to their homes along mark streets.
