Ike, Truman Trade Angry Insults

Harry Asserts GOP Peddles Potent Poison

WITH TRUMAN IN NEW JERSEY—(AP)—President Truman Tuesday described Republican claims his Administration has been soft toward communism as an "outrageous falsehood."

He said the Republican high command has used "every propaganda technique and huge sums of money" to try to put over this "big lie" on the American public.

He said the government has been taking "concrete measures to fight communism at home and abroad" while Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and his party have been "trying to sow false seeds of suspicion."

He made these statements in an address at Jersey City during a day of campaigning by train and automobile in the industrial East.

The audience at Jersey City, first stop on a long automobile tour, was told that the GOP presidential nominee has been advising party workers "to appeal to emotion rather than to reason" in this campaign.

Truman said the record "may paint a picture of softness toward communism in the minds of demagogues, intent on grasping political power," but he added:

"It is time even for them to come to their senses, because the poison they peddle is dangerous to the security of the republic they profess to revere.

Cruel, Brazen Hoax

"There is nothing more subversive of our form of government than the Communist, Fascist, anti-religious doctrine that the end justifies the means."

He said the Reds would be "delighted" to see the Democrats defeated.

"It is a cruel and brazen hoax on the American people to try to tear down their confidence in their government," he said. "Moreover, it is a dangerous hoax. Those who are trafficking in panic and hysteria in order to get votes may well have cause to regret it more if they succeed than if they fail."

In a subsequent automobile stop at Newark, he attacked Eisenhower on the civil rights issue.

Adlai Begins Final Wooing Of 12 States

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—(AP)—Given a rousing sendoff by Illinois home folk, Gov Adlai E. Stevenson struck out Tuesday on a final 12-state whistle stopping tour aimed primarily at capturing New York's vital 45 electoral votes.

The Democratic presidential nominee told a cheering crowd estimated at 5,500 persons in the Springfield, Ill., Armory Monday night that his bid for the presidency "is going well." Friends and neighbors turned out before the rally for a torchlight horn-blowing parade to bid the governor goodbye.

'No Program, No Faith'

Asserting that he was having trouble "getting my opponent to talk sense about the issues," Stevenson said Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is "saying one thing" while Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio assures the country "that he really meant something else."

"While the galaxy of political followers ride off in all directions, with the general struggling mightily to keep from falling off the thrashing elephant, the expediency of it all is showing through — no policy, no program and no real faith in the future of America," Stevenson declared.

After whistle stops during the afternoon at Decatur, Champaign, and Kankakee, Ill., Stevenson makes a major address Tuesday night in a studio (NBC) television appearance 8:30 to 9 p.m., CST. His talk will be rebroadcast by radio (CBS-9:30 to 10 p.m., CST).

HAIR-RAISING EXPERIENCE—Tommy Schultz, four, of Cleveland, Ohio, was pretty tired of being mistaken for a little girl. Those long curls, left, really were beginning to annoy him. After a long campaign, his mother, Mrs. Norbert Schultz, finally consented to the shearing operation, and Tommy now feels he can face the world again with his new hair-do, right.

Organized Write-In Drive Started In Duval Dukedom

ALICE—(AP)— An organized write-in campaign started Tuesday for two men defeated in the July Democratic primary by candidates backed by Political Boss George Parr of Duval County.

The Alice Echo said 20 businessmen who insisted that their names be kept secret met here Monday night to finish up plans for the campaign. It is in behalf of District Judge Sam Reams, Alice, and Mark Heath, Falfurrias, defeated candidate for district attorney.

Reams was defeated in the primary by C. Woodrow Laughlin, Alice. Raeburn Norris, Alice attorney, beat Heath.

Norris is the law partner of Nago Alaniz, charged with murder and conspiracy to murder in the fatal shooting September 8 of Jake (Buddy) Floyd Jr., 22.

The youth's father and officers say he was shot by mistake in an assassination plot aimed at the elder Floyd and Reams. The elder Floyd testified at examining trials for Alaniz and Mario (El Turko) Sapet, San Antonio, also charged in the case, that he was told the plot was inspired by fear a write-in campaign would be started for Reams.

The businessmen who laid plans for the write-in campaign were from Jim Wells, Duval and Brooks Counties. Starr County, the fourth county in the 79th Judicial District, was not represented. The group said field workers would be sent to Starr County to try to organize write-in voters for Reams and Heath.

Chain Letter Circulated

The Echo said the businessmen would allow their names to be disclosed later in the campaign.

Meanwhile, a chain letter seeking write-in votes was being mailed around the district. It had no apparent connection with the group that met here.

A spokesman for the group was expected to go to Austin Tuesday or Wednesday to try to persuade five candidates for state office to request that voting supervisors be stationed at polling places in Duval County. State law requires that five candidates make such a request.

The spokesman also was expected to ask Department of Public Safety Director Homer Garrison for Texas Ranger protection in Duval County.

The chain letter says in part: "I will scratch Woodrow Laughlin and write in Sam Reams. I will also scratch Raeburn Norris and write in Mark Heath. Before another 24 hours pass, I will write five of these letters to other people in Jim Wells, Brooks, Duval and Starr Counties."

Demo Charges Denounced As Lies, Scandal

ABOARD EISENHOWER SPECIAL IN NEW ENGLAND—(AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower asserted Tuesday he still is a "no deal" man and has made no commitments to win supporters in his presidential campaign.

The GOP candidate made his declaration to a chilled crowd of about 4,000 at Manchester, N. H., in the wake of a statement by Senator Wayne Morse (R-Ore) he was offered a "high position in public life."

The Morse statement given to the Portland Oregonian carried the implication he was offered the post only if he would support Eisenhower — and claimed to have the documentary evidence which he would produce after the election November 4.

Morse was one of the original Eisenhower-for-President supporters but since has withdrawn his support on the grounds the general has embraced policies and candidates he cannot accept.

Eisenhower made no mention of Morse in his remarks at Manchester, but he appeared to be taking note of this development as he said he still was a "no deal" man.

'Campaign Of Fear'

He also ripped into the Administration again with accusations its leaders are "spreading a campaign of fear" that a Republican victory would mean another great depression.

Eisenhower gave no indication he was ready to accept President Truman's statement that he (Truman) had not accused the general of being anti-Catholic and anti-Semitic.

Again he spoke out at Manchester and Nashua against "lies" and "slander" he said had been spread against him—and said he was grateful that Jewish and Catholic friends had come to his defense.

Pushing himself and those around him at a machine gun pace, the GOP presidential candidate put aside lofty appeals for the most part in favor of ramrod counter-attacks against the Democrats.

Scarlet Thread Of Anger

Through virtually every speech he made in this industrial Northeast ran a scarlet thread of anger—anger against his one-time friend, President Truman, and charges he said have been made against him and his party.

Eisenhower was drawing big and enthusiastic crowds at each stop. Even snow flurries and cold winds failed to drive the people indoors. Late Monday as Eisenhower was running behind schedule — crowds waited in the cold more than an hour to see him and hear him talk.

He spoke in some cities where Truman spoke last week and although Truman had the better of it in weather, police figured the general was out in front on crowd-pulling appeal.

Out-Pulls President

Police estimated the two broke about even on crowd sizes in Providence, R. I., 12,000, and Worcester, Mass., 8,000, but they said that in Fall River, Mass., and Taunton, Mass., Eisenhower had out-pulled Truman two to one in each city—10,000 to 5,000.

Eisenhower got his biggest responses when he assailed the Democratic Administration. He was making liberal use of such words as "lies" and "falsehoods" and "corruption" and "distortions." He was fighting to smother whatever Democratic fires Truman might have started on his swing through this same area last week.

Illness Halts Sparkman's Dixie Swing

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator John J. Sparkman, Democratic vice presidential nominee, entered a hospital Tuesday for treatment of laryngitis and what his physician termed a mild respiratory condition.

Sparkman had been scheduled to leave on a campaign trip into the South. The Democratic National Committee said it was arranging for other speakers to fill his engagements. Sparkman went to Bethesda Naval Hospital. Dr. B. W. Hogan, commanding officer of the hospital, reported he would be treated for a respiratory condition. He is expected to stay in the hospital several days.

Charles Chambers Designated City's Personnel Officer

Appointment of Charles Chambers, former assistant city manager, as personnel officer for the City of Midland was announced Tuesday by City Manager W. H. Oswalt.

Chambers was appointed to the $450-a-month job on his return from the Army, in which he has been serving the last two years.

He left his job as assistant to Oswalt two years ago.

Morris Howard subsequently was named to the assistant's post.

Oswalt said the newly-created office will handle not only personnel and employe relations but that Chambers also will serve as public relations director for the city.

San Angelo Chosen By WTCC As Site For '53 Convention

By BILL COLLYNS

WICHITA FALLS — San Angelo was chosen Tuesday as the next annual convention site for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The Concho City won in a close contest with Lubbock.

Wright Armstrong of Fort Worth will serve as president of the world's largest regional chamber for the ensuing year. He succeeds Frank Kelly of Colorado City.

Armstrong will be remembered as the former director of the Old Gray Mare Band from Brownwood which took the spotlight at WTCC convention for years.

Lt. Gen. E. O. Thompson discussed "Oil and Gas Conservation in West Texas" in a featured talk on Tuesday's program. State Senator Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo talked "UN Agreements Abridge the U. S. Constitution."

Big Crowd Urged To Hear Selecman

Ministerial leaders in Midland Tuesday renewed their appeal for a large attendance at the Reformation Day Service at 3 p.m. Sunday in the high school auditorium.

The Rev. R. J. Snell, chairman of arrangements, underscored the outstanding ability of the featured speaker, Methodist Bishop Charles C. Selecman of Dallas. The former president of Southern Methodist University will discuss "Why I Am a Protestant."

A special musical program will be presented.

Texas Still Waits For Signs Of Rain

By The Associated Press

East Texas skies were clear and it was partly cloudy over West Texas Tuesday. The weather stayed much as it had been for a week.

Pre-dawn temperatures ranged from a low of 39 at Junction to a high of 61 at Corpus Christi with most thermometers showing readings in the 40's and 50's just before 6 a.m.

There was no rain for another 24 hours and none even was mentioned in Weather Bureau forecasts.

Coal Strike Idles Railroad Workers

PITTSBURGH —(AP)— The coal strike spread unemployment among railroaders Tuesday as more than 322,000 miners carried their protest walkout into its second day.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, an important coal carrier, laid off 1,200 workers and the Norfolk and Western told another 300 there will be no more paychecks for them until the miners return to the pits.

The Virginian Railway said it will lay off 600 shop workers if the strike continues through Friday.

Thousands of Pennsylvania Railroad employes face reduced work days if the walkout lasts more than a few days.

An industry appeal for a return to work went unanswered. UMW President John L. Lewis has maintained silence.

Harry M. Moses, president of the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, has made public a letter asking Lewis to "strongly urge" the miners to return to the pits.

West Virginia and Pennsylvania, the two top coal producing states, are hardest hit by the strike. In West Virginia, all 115,000 of the UMW members are out. Pennsylvania has 86,500 of its 92,500 miners idle.

Only violence reported thus far was at Grundy, Va., where Buchanan County Sheriff Ishmael Fletcher reported shots were fired into a cabin which housed seven non-union miners. No one was injured.

Permian Basin OIL & GAS LOG

James C. Watson, Oil Editor

Wolfcamp Opener Is Completed In Andrews Field

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1-KK University, project in the Block 11 (Devonian) field of Southwest Andrews County, has been completed as a discovery from the Wolfcamp to open a new pay for the field.

The oil gr was completed for a daily flowing potential of 142.76 barrels of 42-gravity oil through an 18/64-inch choke and from perforations in casing at 8,030-8,045 feet.

Gas-oil ratio was 801-1.

This new well is 667 feet from south and 678 feet from east lines of the northwest quarter of section 22, block 11, University survey and one location northwest of Devonian production.

Pennsylvanian DST In Pecos Wildcat Gets Gas, Distillate

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1-C Puckett, wildcat in Southeast Pecos County, found gas and distillate on a drillstem test in the Permo-Pennsylvanian.

Interval tested was from 9,015 to 9,056 fet. Tool was open 75 minutes. Gas surfaced in four minutes at the rate of 516,000 cubic feet daily.

Recovery was 10 feet of distillate, 150 feet of distillate cut mud and 353 feet of distillate-cut water blankt.

Open flowing bottomhole pressure was 325 pounds. Shutin pressure after 15 minutes was 2,525 pounds. Gravity of the distillate is 55.5 degrees.

More hole was being made below 9,094 feet.

Location is one and three-quarters miles northwest of Phillips No. 1 Glenna, recently completed gas discovery, and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 42, block 101, TC survey.

Abilene Concern Will Drill Deep Test In Upton

Sandor Petroleum Company of Abilene has spotted location for No. 1 Alec J. Sabo as a wildcat in extreme West-Central Upton County.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 174, block E, CCSD&RGNG survey and five miles west and slightly south of the Wilshire field.

That makes its two miles east of the McElroy field and five miles east of Crane. It is on a 640-acre lease.

Rotary tools will be used to drill to 13,500 feet to test the Ellenburger. Operations will begin at once.

Lowe Wildcat In SE Andrews Finds Ellenburger Water

Ralph Lowe No. 1-K Fasken, wildcat in Southeast Andrews County, was bottomed at 13,016 feet in the Ellenburger awaiting orders after salt water developed on a drillstem test from 12,985 to 13,016 feet.

Tool was open two hours. Recovery was 1,223 feet of gas-cut mud and 10,707 feet of salt water with no shows of oil.

The Ellenburger was topped at 12,940 feet, on a datum of minus 9,943 feet. It is 331 feet low on the Ellenburger to Andersori-Prichard Oil Corporation No. 1-24 Fasken, recently completed Ellenburger discovery in the area.

Operator was running logs and awaiting orders.

Pipe may be set and tests made in the Pennsylvanian and Wolfcamp zones. Those formations indicated as possible producers when the wildcat was being drilled.

Location is 2,160 feet from south and 500 feet from west lines of section 43, block 41, G&MMB&A survey, T-1-N.

NE Nolan Wildcat Is Running DST

Payne-Johnson and others of Tyler No. 1 Jessie Little, Northeast Nolan County wildcat, is at total depth of 5,415 feet in lime and is taking a drillstem test from 5,395 to 5,415 feet.

Operators took a drillstem test at 5,370-87 feet. Tool was open one hour and 45 minutes. Gas came to surface in three minutes and stayed oil in 45 minutes.

Final recovery was 776 feet of oil and 40 feet of heavily oil cut mud. Flowing pressure was 350 pounds and shutin pressure after 90 minutes was 1,350 pounds.

Another drillstem test from 5,382 to 5,394 feet, with tool open one

Workers Continue 'Big Push' Tuesday As Chest Gifts Lag

Community Chest division chairmen were pounding the sidewalks for the "big push" Tuesday as gift reports through Monday showed the fund drive was $25,224 short of its goal.

Total gifts through Monday reached $43,026. The goal set by the chest is $68,250.

Only 30 per cent of cards distributed to workers had been reported late Monday, and with the final report meeting to be held Thursday, campaign officials agreed there was a long way to go in a short amount of time.

Chairmen of the various divisions met Monday afternoon for a pep meeting to revive interest in the drive and to revamp plans for an all-out canvassing of prospects.

Midlanders are being asked to give "a decent share to your Community Chest," and it was pointed out that the funds collected had to be spread out through eight agencies which benefit from Chest funds.

A report meeting was held at noon Tuesday in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church.

Red Assault On Sniper Hill Bogs Down In Blinding Rain

SEOUL—(AP)—About 1,500 Chinese Reds attacked in a blinding rainstorm Tuesday night in a renewed assault on mud-coated Sniper Ridge.

The Communists struck under cover of an intense artillery and mortar barrage. But South Koreans held them at bay with heavy rifle and artillery fire.

The attack bogged down on the muddy slopes and the Reds withdrew at 8:40 p.m., AP Correspondent John Fujii reported from the front.

An Allied officer said the Chinese directed their attack at Pinpoint Hill, highest peak on the ridge.

"They came down the ridge from the north," the officer said. "We can't use flares because of the overcast and rain."

The night was so dark the South Koreans couldn't see the Chinese until the attacking troops were almost upon them.

An ominous quiet hung over nearby Triangle Hill, where U. S. 7th Division troops awaited an expected Chinese onslaught.

Some 20 miles to the east, South Korean troops battled to within 40 yards of the crest of Iron Horse Mountain at noon Tuesday. They pulled back, however, because their supporting tanks could not find their targets through heavy fog.

Enemy Losses Severe

Reports from the front said the Reds lost more than 7,500 men killed or wounded in the first week of fighting on the two peaks.

U. S. 7th Division officers said the Reds suffered 4,640 casualties on Triangle alone.

These estimates brought reported Communist casualties for October to more than 25,000.

Heavy Rush For Absentee Ballots Indicates Record Vote November 4

A heavy rush for ballots by prospective absentee voters indicated Tuesday that Midland County—as well as the rest of Texas—will go to the polls in record numbers on November 4.

And some officials predicted the Midland County vote might go as high as 10,000, more than twice the number cast in the 1948 general election.

County Clerk Rosenelle Cherry reported 91 absentee ballots already had been cast in her office and requests have been received for more than 500 others to be sent out. Most of these have been mailed.

Only 275 absentee ballots were cast in the 1948 election, when the total vote—which, incidentally, gave President Truman a margin of 2,032 to 1,410 over Governor Dewey—reached 4,001.

This figure was topped in 1952's first Democratic primary, when almost 6,000 votes were cast.

"I would predict," said County Judge Clifford C. Keith, "that the vote in November will be at least a third or a half over the primary figure and it may go as high as 10,000."

With the whole state following the same trend as to absentee voting, Bob Johnson, manager of the Texas Election Bureau, predicted 1,800,000 votes would be cast in November.

Johnson had figured earlier that 1,400,000 to 1,500,000 ballots would be marked. Either figure would be a record since 1948's turnout of more than 1,259,000 voters exceeded all previous highs for a general election.

Johnson has estimated that there are 2,500,000 qualified voters this year. That is based on paid poll taxes, plus exemptions. The precise number of exemptions is not known because in counties of less than 10,000 population they are not recorded.

Absentee voting started October 15. It ends at midnight October 31.

The first sign that Texans were unusually interested in politics bobbed up earlier in the year when record poll tax payments were recorded in many counties. Professional politicans wondered if the interest would be sustained, and it begins to look as if they have their answer.

The bitter struggle between Democratic factions in Texas, keen interest in the presidential race stimulated by personal appearances of both Gov. Adlai Stevenson and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, plus no let-up in organization, advertising and other ballyhooing on the local level were regarded as the chief reasons contributing to the upsurge of interest in absentee balloting this year compared with 1948.

The number of requests for absentee ballots is usually considered a tip-off to general voting interest, although many of those who ask for such ballots do not cast them.

The Associated Press asked newspapers in all parts of the state to make a spot check on applications after the Fort Worth Star-Telegram reported requests in Tarrant County already far exceeded 1948's total.

Requests were running twice as heavy in vote-lush Dallas County. Here are responses from other areas:

Corpus Christi (Nueces) — 715 votes cast and ballots mailed; 1948 total cast 514.

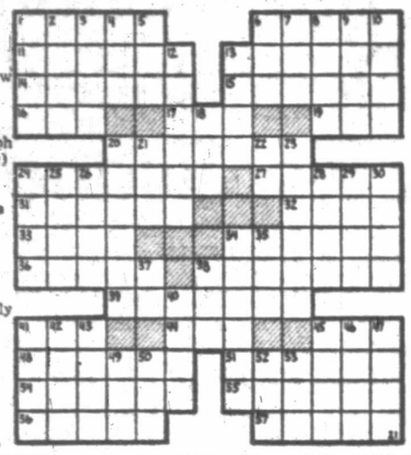

Galveston (Galveston)—106 absentees cast during first six days

Remote control bombs will keep H-bombing from being a suicide mission. The Navy's Bat, pictured above, is one such robot missile. Sensing is an outstanding author, lecturer, and advocate of the democratic system of government. Responsibilities of citizenship will be outlined in a speech by Raymond Lee Tollett, president of the Cosden Petroleum Corporation, Big Spring. Tollett began work in the oil industry as a roustabout in 1919 and advanced to the presidency of the corporation a few years ago.

SERIOUS PROBLEM CONFRONTS U. S.—

Politicians Should Consider Husband Of Lady President

By PAUL PETT

NEW YORK —(AP)— Almost everyone agrees that a loyal, smiling wife is an asset to a political candidate.

But suppose, in the future, a woman is nominated for President. Would a husband be an asset or a liability?

Would many male voters resent seeing a man play second fiddle and couldn't they easily transfer that resentment to his wife, the candidate? By an inverse psychology, would many female voters say, well, if she isn't smart enough to get a husband smarter than she is, is she smart enough to run the country?

It could be a problem, you must agree.

What about the campaigns? Should the lady candidate take her husband along? People cluck with satisfaction when they see an adoring wife sitting behind the candidate. But what would they think of a husband sitting there while his wife does all the work?

Free Loading Passenger

What expression should he wear while she propounds the issues—adoration, respectful interest or good-humored tolerance? Would many people in the audience wish he were back home making an honest living instead of free loading on his wife's campaign train?

Obviously, any husband who has nothing better to do than drag around the country while his wife talks her lungs out would be subject to cracks about his masculinity. It would be fatal if he were smaller than his missus. Hair would help. It would help even more if he were a weightlifter.

Should the husband speak out on political issues or maintain a wide-eye innocence? If he doesn't talk politics, people will say he doesn't have a mind of his own. If he does talk politics, people will say his wife doesn't have a mind of her own.

And what should the husband do when the opposition gets nasty—when they say his wife's background is suspect, when they say she can't be trusted? Should he keep silent or invite the other candidate to step outside?

How About A Chaw

Whistle stop tours would present problems. The local welcoming committees couldn't give the candidate's spouse roses. Should they give him new bowling shoes, a plug of tobacco or two tickets to an Elks smoker?

And when the lady candidate finishes her speech she would have to be careful in presenting her mate to the crowd. She couldn't say, "and now I want you to meet my Sammy." That possessive tone could kill the male vote.

And suppose the lady is elected President. What would we call Sam—first gentleman of the land, President consort or "that woman's husband?" What would Sam do, commute every morning to his coal and ice business or just hang around the White House? Would he have to give the teas for the cabinet wives?

Only one thing is sure. The husband of the President wouldn't dare wear a mink coat.

Calhoun confirmed the separation, saying, "It's just a case of two people who love each other but can't get along."

They were married in June in Las Vegas, Nev., separated in September, and were reconciled early this month.

Exclusively Yours: "For my own good I've temporarily given up television." Comedian Danny Thomas straight-shouldering it about the reason he's missing from the home screens this season and explaining:

"Television just isn't a medium for a stand-up comic. I discovered that after my first show. I was never panned, but some of my material was. How can anyone put on three or four good routines once a month or once every three months? I can only come up with three acceptable new routines once a year for my night club act.

"When I find the right format—a situation comedy maybe—I'll be back."

Danny's big screen career is zooming, however, with "The Jazz Singer" due this Winter. Worried about following Al Jolson in the role? Not Danny, who told me:

"I said this to the studio and then dismissed it. 'It's impossible to combat legend and the dead. So let's not try.' And we didn't."

There may be a big censorship howl when John Huston brings "Moulin Rouge" back to the U. S. from Paris. The can-can numbers, I hear, are noisy, bold and bawdy.

If you noticed a wince on the face of Raj Kapoor, the Clark Gable of the India movie industry, in news photos from Hollywood, here's the explanation as told by Kenneth McEldowney: "He was wearing shoes in public for the first time and they were killing him."

Is It Worth It?

Compo's Movietime, U. S. A., is one year old.

Three hundred-sixty Hollywood personalities have visited 1,300 cities and towns in the U. S. But is it worth all the effort?

I doubt it. The big theme is, "Hollywood stars are normal people just like your next-door neighbor." Baloney! Who wants to see their next-door neighbor on the screen? Hollywood stars on tour should sell glamor and sex and Act like movie stars. That's what people want and will pay to see.

There's a big split in the ranks of Mario Lanza's pals. One side claims that a friend's advice (he's an actor) is the reason for all of Mario's troubles with MGM. It all adds up to a hunk of story that can't be told.

State's Witness Reaffirms Grammer's Marriage Plans

BALTIMORE —(AP)— George Edward Grammer's defense counsel set about Tuesday trying to tear down testimony of the state's star witness, a trim, attractive New York secretary, who told the court she and Grammer had talked about marriage.

Mathilda Minibrocky's testimony was what the state felt it needed to pinpoint what it has contended from the start of the week-long trial—that Grammer killed his wife so he could wed the pert 28-year-old United Nations office worker.

Dorothy May Grammer's body was pulled out of her car the night of August 19 after the car ran out of control down a sloping suburban Baltimore road. On her head were deep gashes the medical examiner said could not have been caused by objects within the car.

Judge Herman M. Moser permitted as evidence a statement Grammer made to police saying he hit his wife with a piece of pipe after a half-dozen drinks because she said something about his thinking more of his job than he did of her. Grammer told the court he made up the account.

Wedding Discussed

Miss Minibrocky told Judge Moser, hearing the case without a jury, that she and Grammer met last November in a bowling alley. Their friendship blossomed into love, she said, and the two discussed marriage.

The only problem keeping them from marrying, she said, appeared to be that of religion. She said she is a Catholic. Grammer is a Protestant (Methodist).

She said Grammer never mentioned being married already.

"I saw so much of him I didn't believe he could have a family," she added. "He convinced me later he didn't."

She told of their two-weeks stay at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago from July 25 to August 4.

Federico, in cross-examination, asked if they stayed there as man and wife. She replied, "Yes."

Before she left the stand, Judge Moser asked if she still loved Grammer.

She paused, then said:

"It's difficult to say. You love a person for what you think they are. Ed lied to me."

Washington's Senate Battle Attracts Big Political Guns

OLYMPIA, WASH. —(AP)— Two young but veteran campaigners, never beaten for public office, are locked in a bitter fight for the only Washington State seat in the U. S. Senate at stake in this election.

The Republicans have it; the Democrats think they can get it.

Big guns of both political parties have wheeled into the state to fire salvos in behalf of the candidates.

The seat, held by Senator Harry P. Cain since 1946, is sought by Henry Jackson, a Democratic member of the U. S. House of Representatives the last 12 years.

Cain was mayor of Tacoma before his election to the Senate after World War II service in Europe.

President Truman, Gov. Adlai Stevenson, Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Senator Paul H. Douglas of Illinois stumped for 40-year-old Jackson during their campaign trips through the state. Senator Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma will be here Wednesday to continue the Democratic pitch for Jackson.

Cain received the support of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower when he was here. Senator Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin will be in the state Wednesday and Senators Styles Bridges of New Hampshire and Robert A. Taft of Ohio are on their way.

McCarthy, whose primary election victory heartened the Cain camp, will invade Jackson's home town of Everett to make a state-wide broadcast. Cain will introduce him.

Opposed Wallgren

Cain, 46, gained national prominence two years ago when he successfully opposed President Truman's nomination of former Gov. Mon C. Wallgren of Washington State as chairman of the National Security Resources Board.

His opponents have attempted to associate him with the "real estate lobby" and "power trust," charging he takes his orders from them and other "special interest" groups. Jackson's advertisements have quoted Eastern publications describing Cain as one of the nation's worst senators.

Cain, in turn, has labeled Jackson "a rubber stamp" for President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson," asserting that he dances to their tune whenever they pull the strings.

Labor leaders have gone all out for Jackson and against Cain.

130 Kenya Colony Terrorists Arrested In Swoop By British

LONDON —(AP)— Authorities in Britain's East African Kenya colony Tuesday held more than 130 natives rounded up in a lightning swoop against the fanatic, secret, anti-white Mau Mau Society that has been terrorizing Kenya for months.

The roundup was carried out under a state of emergency—equivalent to martial law—declared Monday night by the Kenya government. A battalion of the British troops, Lancashire Fusiliers, rushed by air, landed at the colonial capital of Nairobi to add steel to the government's drive.

Members of the Mau Mau, who take a blood oath to drive the British out of the colony, have murdered at least 43 persons, burned buildings and crops and slaughtered cattle in last weeks. Some 200,000 of the Kikuyu tribe are said to belong to the society.

The troops flown in to the colony will be backed by Naval force, the British Colonial Office said. The Royal Navy cruiser Kenya will go to Mombasa, Kenya's chief port 280 miles from Nairobi, to support the military action.

It was the first major show of force Britain has made in East Africa in years. The British plainly fear the Kenya could become another center of guerrilla warfare like Malaya. So far as can be learned, however, the Mau Mau has no Communist leadership or backing.

NEW INCENTIVE FOR IKE, ADLAI

SOUTH PASADENA —(AP)—Last New Year's Day the Democrats wailed when South Pasadena's float was sighted in Pasadena's Rose Parade.

The float showed an elephant tromping into the front door of the White House and a donkey leaving at the rear.

City officials Monday announced that their next float will be "A Bicycle Built for Two," with a donkey and and an elephant riding tandem. If Adlai wins next month, the donkey will be up front; if Ike comes through, the elephant will be riding in the front seat.

Harrison Says Reds 'Common Criminals'

TOKYO—(AP)—Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, top UN command delegate at the Korean armistice talks, Tuesday said "I don't believe that any man can be a thorough-going Communist without being a common criminal."

He said in an interview that he would include the Red truce team at Panmunjom in that class, and added:

"You can't deal with them like you would an honorable man."

DOUBLE WOES STRIKE TWINS

BEVERLY HILLS, CALIF.—(AP)—Trouble just naturally comes double to Charlotte and Georgia Steeves. They are identical twins.

The 22-year-olds were decorating a tractor for the homecoming parade at Los Angeles. They were in the earth-moving tractor's scoop, which somehow went into gear and tossed them eight feet to the ground.

Both girls suffered the same injury—fractures of the left elbow. Tuesday both are wearing identical casts.

"Sometimes," moans Charlotte, "we think we carry this twin thing too far."

State Baptist Meet Opens Tuesday Night

FORT WORTH—(AP)—The Baptist General Convention of Texas convenes here Tuesday night after two auxiliary groups wind up annual meetings Tuesday afternoon.

Speakers at the auxiliary groups included Ben H. Wooten, banker and president of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce; Dr. J. D. Grey of New Orleans, president of the Southern Baptist Convention, and Dr. Oscar Johnson, pastor of the Third Baptist Church in St. Louis.

Hobby Heads New 'Ike' Organization

NEW YORK—(AP)—A nation-wide "Democrats for Eisenhower" group opened its headquarters here Monday.

Head of the new movement is Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, co-publisher and editor of the Houston (Texs) Post. She was the first director of the Women's Army Corps.

The announcement said Mrs. Hobby would conduct the new group from the headquarters of Citizens for Eisenhower-Nixon in New York City.

Announcement of the new organization came from the headquarters of Citizens for Eisenhower-Nixon, with a statement by Dwight D. Eisenhower saying that a large group of Democrats, including three Southern governors, had rejected "Stevensonian Trumanism."

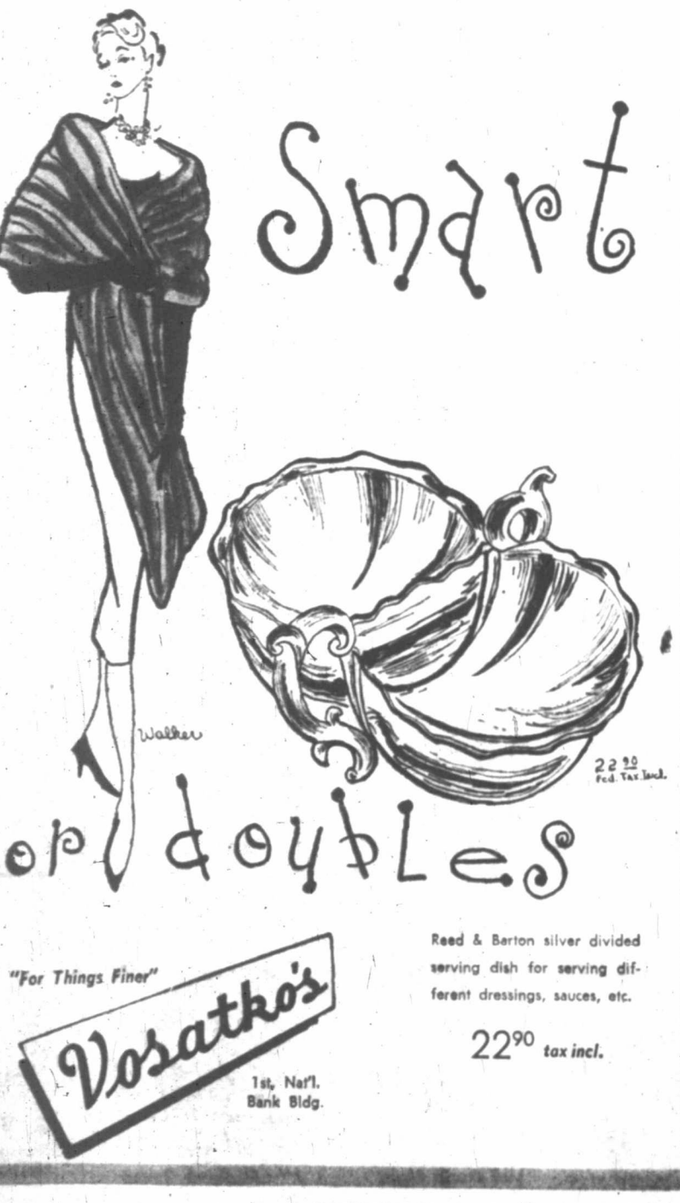

The Republican presidential nominee said: "These disillusioned and dissatisfied Democrats who put love of country above love of party now will have a national headquarters to serve the fast-growing number of Democrats who have had enough of the Truman Administration, who are heartsick about corruption and communism in government and who cannot stomach the present Administration's move toward socialism and the centralization of power in Washington. We welcome them to our crusade for the return of honor to government."

The three governors named by Eisenhower were James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, Allan Shivers of Texas and Robert R. Kennon of Louisiana.

hour and 50 minutes. Gas surfaced in 13 minutes. Recovery was 120 feet of heavily oil and gas cut mud.

Flowing pressure was 120 pounds and shutin pressure after 30 minutes was 2,200 pounds.

Location is 1,750 feet from south and 660 feet from most easterly east lines of section 25, block 20, T&P survey and one and three-quarter miles northwest of the one-well McLeod (Strawn) field.

Scurry Unitization Project Assured For Diamond 'M'

Sufficient signatures representing royalty and working interest ownerships in the Kelly-Snyder and Diamond "M" fields of Scurry County have been obtained to qualify the SACROC unitization project, it has been announced by the land committee of the Scurry Area Canyon Reef Operators Committee.

The SACROC unit includes 1,227 producing wells on more than 47,000 acres comprising the Kelly-Snyder field and part of the Diamond "M" field.

R. F. Bryant, Jr., Magnolia Petroleum Company, Dallas, chairman of the SACROC land committee, has notified M. Darwin Kirk, Sunray Oil Corporation, Tulsa, chairman of the SACROC executive committee that more than 33 per cent of the working interests and approximately 80 per cent of the royalty interests have signed the unitization documents. These signatures represent approximately 90 per cent of the combined ownership of the oil under the prolific Canyon Reef area of the Kelly-Snyder and Diamond "M" fields. The project is the world's largest oil conservation plan to gain an additional three-quarters billion barrels of oil production through regulated pressure maintenance.

A formal application to the Railroad Commission of Texas for a hearing to consider and approve the unitization agreements is now being prepared. The Railroad Commission is expected to set an early date for the hearing, probably in Austin, November 18-20.

Bryant indicated that additional signatures from both working and royalty interest owners who have held out for one reason or another will be immediately forthcoming, now that the project has qualified for submission to the Railroad Commission for approval, and that additional signatures will be added to the already sufficient total prior to the commission hearing.

W. L. Horner, Sunray Oil Corporation, Tulsa, chairman of the engineering committee of SACROC has announced that George Kingelin, Pan-American Producing Company, Houston, chairman of the Equipment sub-committee, has placed authorized orders for $2,000,000 of equipment incident to inaugurating the pressure maintenance program. The SACROC Executive committee has authorized a $3,000,000 expenditure to install the physical equipment necessary to put the project into operation starting Jan. 1, 1953.

Floyd Is To Drill Ellenburger Test In Reagan Area

Jay H. Floyd of Midland has staked location for a 9,500-foot Ellenburger wildcat in Southeast Reagan County.

Drilling will begin at once. Ground elevation is 2,347 feet. The project will test the Strawn.

The wildcat is being drilled as a result of a deal worked up by Charles W. Shelton and Arthur R. Brown of San Angelo. They took a farmout from George Edward Day of Springfield, Ill., on a checkerboarded spread of 1,020 acres in sections 4, 11, 5 and 10, Block L, GH&SAF survey, then turned it to Toklan and Catlett to drill. He retained an override and acreage.

Invalid Mother Dies As Fire Razes Home; Children Are Saved

DALLAS —(AP)— A 26-year-old crippled mother died in her burning home Tuesday, overcome as she crawled toward safety. A roomer guided eight children outside the flaming house.

The fire occurred in West Dallas.

The charred body of Mrs. Sybie Jackson was found inches away from the door of her home.

Mrs. Nadine Bryant, a roomer, sent her own three children out of the house, then guided Mrs. Jackson's five children, ranging in age from one to 10, to safety.

Mrs. Bryant then tried unsuccssfully to rescue the crippled housewife.

The house was almost destroyed before the fire department could answer the call.

Water Is Local Problem, WTCC Delegates Are Told

WICHITA FALLS—(AP)—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce, in annual convention here, was to elect officers Tuesday before adjourning its two-day meeting.

Delegates Monday heard Paul Walser of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service at Temple say the current drouth merely was a sympton of a bigger problem.

"If we had taken care of the land, the consequence of the drouth would not be so bad," Walser said and added:

"You need rain to make the grass grow, but you need grass to better use the rain when it comes."

Men with enlightened self-interest on the local level can reach the problem's solution, speaker after speaker told the WTCC members.

Besides Walser, others speaking on the drouth and its aspects were Sam W. Cooper, manager of the Central Colorado River Authority, Coleman; Joe Pickle, secretary of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, Big Spring; J. B. Thomas, chairman of the State-wide Water Committee and president of the Texas Electric Service Company, Fort Worth, and Tom McFarland, manager of the Hi-Plains Underground Water District, Lubbock.

McFarland said the people on the High Plains want to solve their water problems with no assistance from bureaucracies. "We must work out our own problems," McFarland said.

When McFarland praised Gov. Allan Shivers for setting up the Statewide Water Committee, mingled applause and boos came from the audience.

Annual Awards

At Monday night's annual banquet, top West Texan plaques for outstanding work in conservation work went to:

J. S. Bridwell, Wichita Falls, oil man, rancher, soil conservation.

J. B. Thomas, Fort Worth, president TFCO, water conservation.

Lt. Gen. Ernest O. Thompson, Amarillo, Texas Railroad Commission, oil conservation.

WTCC President Frank H. Kelley, Colorado City, was presented a plaque for his activities as chamber president and as head of the body's taxation and legislation committee.

Dr. James W. Fifield, minister of the Los Angeles, Calif., First Congregational Church, was principal speaker at the banquet. He blasted the Truman Administration in a talk he called "immorality in government" and then called the United Nations "an instrument of evil instead of good."

Petition Seeks Dismissal Of Denton's Blind Sheriff

DENTON—(AP)—A petition asking the removal of Denton County Sheriff W. O. (Ones) Hodges was under consideration Tuesday by District Judge Ben Boyd.

Two attorneys, Durwood Dyche and State Rep. Doug Crouch, presented the petition to the judge Monday. The lawyers said they represented several citizens of the county.

Judge Boyd said that if he files the petition with the district clerk a district court trial will be held. At the trial the burden of proof will rest on the petitioners to show cause why Hodges should be removed, the judge said.

The judge declined to say what the petition alleges until and if it is filed with the clerk.

The sheriff, who was blinded by a gunman in 1948, wouldn't comment on the petition Monday night. But Earl L. Coleman, Denton lawyer and former county and district attorney there, telephoned The Associated Press to say he and five other attorneys had committed themselves to Hodges' interests.

'Purely Political Move'

Coleman described the petition as "purely a political move."

"It's an attempt to try to influence the people in this write-in campaign before the election," he said.

Hodges defeated two opponents in last Summer's Democratic primaries. But he is being opposed in the general election by Andy Kerstine, an independent conducting a write-in campaign.

If the petition is filed with the district clerk, Coleman said, "We will push for an early trial and make every effort to dispose of this before the election."

There are about 2,700 earthquakes per day on earth, says the National Geographic Society.

Model Homes Built For Invalid Wives

CHICAGO —(AP)— A project of designing tailor-made homes for handicapped housewives was described Tuesday to delegates of the fortieth annual National Safety Congress.

Dr. Edith L. Kristeller, director of the New York University project, said model rooms have been set up that enable handicapped women to do household work from their wheelchairs.

Truman Denies Saying Ike Enemy Of Catholics, Jews

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman says he did not call Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower "anti-Catholic and anti-Jewish." Some Republican leaders, he says, are "deliberately distorting" his words.

"I said no such thing," the President said in a statement issued Monday on the eve of his departure on his next-to-last campaign tour for the man he wants to succeed him, Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois.

At the same time, Truman added, he stands by his statement that the GOP presidential nominee "cannot escape resposibility" for his endorsement of Republican senators who pushed through what the President calls discriminatory immigration laws.

He repeated the words in last Friday's speech read before the Jewish Welfare Board—a speech which is swelling into a major controversy with election two weeks away:

"The Republican candidate . . . cannot escape responsibility for his endorsements. He has made an attack of moral blindness, for today he is willing to accept the very practices that identified the so-called 'master race' although he took a leading part in liberating Europe from their domination."

Eisenhower himself took note of the growing controversy Monday when he told whistlestop crowds at Providence, R. I., and Attleboro, Mass., the Administration had accused him of being anti-Semitic and anti-Catholic.

"How long can they get to try to sell that sort of thing?" he asked.

Bureau Says Prices Of Food To Maintain Level Through 1953

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Agriculture Department said Tuesday that retail food prices are likely to average about the same in 1953 as in 1952.

In a report on next year's food outlook the department gave these prospects: some increased in civilian buying of beef, veal, chicken, margarine, frozen fruits, juices and vegetables. These increases will be countered somewhat by lesser purchases of pork, eggs, turkey and butter.

The outlook for food production next year is for some larger marketings of meat animals and increased output of fruits and vegetables if weather conditions are more normal than this year.

Little change in military food buying is in prospect unless the international situation should change markedly. Export shipments of food, the bulk of which are food grains, are expected to decline, due to larger wheat crops in many countries this year and the shortage of dollar exchange.

LUMP IN THROAT OR TONGUE IN CHEEK?

Tugboat Digs Into Reports On Pampa, Finds Himself Shuddering In Gloom

By COPE ROUTH

It's hard to tell whether Coach Tugboat Jones is sporting a lump in his throat or a tongue in his cheek.

But he sounds awful unhappy.

His Midland High School Bulldogs have gone undefeated in five games this year and even have two District 1-AAAA victories in their first year in that tough competition.

But all that victory string does is increase the pall of gloom surrounding the chunky little Tugboat.

And every game looming ahead is just an insurmountable barrier for the Bulldogs.

Big Line Cited

Take the game with Pampa this week, for instance.

"Ooh," shuddered Tugboat, thumbing through a notebook filled with scouting reports. "They are always tough.

"They haven't been beaten but twice in the last couple of years and that big line they have is just too much for our smaller boys."

How big is the Pampa line?

"Okay," said Tugboat, "take down these figures."

He read down the line up, totalled up the poundage and divided by seven and came out with the average.

One hundred and 72 pounds!

"See what I mean," he said, meaningly.

What about Midland's line?

Again Tugboat read down the lineup and divided by seven to get the average.

One hundred and 70 pounds!

Two pounds difference!

"Well, anyway," shrugged Tugboat, "They're going to be tough.

"Take that Ed Dudley in the backfield. He weighs 168 pounds and can do everything. He runs and passes and he's the spearhead of the Harvesters offense. We'll have a job stopping him."

Up till last week, the versatile Pampa halfback did look formidable. He had carried the ball 54 times and piled up 393 yards rushing.

He almost compared with Midland's little Jesse Hatfield, who tips the scales at 140 pounds.

"Although I doubt if he even weighs that," added Tugboat.

Hatfield Scampers

Hatfield, who ran wild in the first three non-district games, has carried the ball 50 times this season and has picked up 599 yards rushing. Another 167 yards worth of passes brings his offensive total to 766 yards.

Hard-driving Dick Spencer has added another 281 yards in carrying the ball 36 times and Darrell Spivey, Roy Kimsey and Russell Rutledge have been other potent backfield weapons.

Robert Keisling, the stellar Midland end, has carried the ball three times from the scrimmage on end-around plays and has picked up 75 yards himself.

Altogether, the Bulldogs have chalked up 1,685 yards rushing while holding the opposition to 526 yards. Passes have added another 452 yards to give the Midland offense a total of 2,136 yards compared to 1,126 for the opposition.

Still, Tugboat just can't show any happiness about the situation.

"Every game we have left," he said, "is a tough one.

Bulldogs Praised

"We have a nice bunch of boys and they're doing their best. That's one thing you have to say for them."

Tugboat Jones mulled that over for a moment.

"In fact," he added, referring to the boys who have scored 193 points to their foes' 51, "there's only one reason they have won so far.

"They just don't like to lose."

POTENTIAL CHAMPIONS—Prospects for Coach Audrey Gill's Midland High School golf team already have started practice rounds at the Midland Country Club. Left to right, they include Dickie McHargue, Luke McFarland, Buzzy, Bray, David Breedlove and Marcelino Moreno. Two other candidates not in the picture are Lee Snead and Waldo Liggett.

BOOSTERS GET JONES' IDEAS

A film of the Borger-Midland football game will be screened at a regular Tuesday session of the Midland Bulldog Booster Club at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium, President Harlan Howell reminded Tuesday.

Tugboat Jones, Bulldog coach, will review highlights of the game. Scouts of the Pampa game last week will make reports. The Bulldogs and Pampa will tangle there Friday night in a crucial district affair.

Sports Stars Shine Again; This Time In Korean Battles

WITH THE U. S. 45TH INFANTRY DIVISION in Korea — Sports stars whose names once dotted sport pages throughout the U. S. currently are playing on another winning team—the 180th Warrior Regiment of the 45th Infantry Division.

Six members of the regiment have starred on several college and pro clubs, and received either state or national acclaim before they entered the Army.

Cpl. Walter Humenick, a 25-year-old hockey goalie with the World Champion Detroit Red Wings, is a company clerk.

Humenick stands five feet five inches tall. In his youth he was turned down by several Canadian clubs because they thought he was too small.

Named to the all-star high school team in Canada after his sextet had won 26 straight games (including five consecutive shutouts) Humenick, at 15, became a practice goalie with the New York Rangers. With the Red Wings, Walt played second to Harry Lumley in the nets in 1950.

Pfc. Hugh O'Brien, a Bronze Star winner, was a Little All-America end with Xavier University in Cincinnati, cited for heroism during the battle for Old Baldy and T-Bone Hill, also was named to the All-Ohio team as well as to the Catholic All-America.

Another Warrior, a former court star for Niagara University, was a platoon leader with Company K, before his recent assignment as Assistant as Special Services Director.

Lt. Bill Smith, another T-Bone hero, scored 15 points against CCNY when the New York City club won the NCAA and NIT championships in 1950. Niagara was one of the two teams to defeat the Beavers during that double-title season.

Pvt. Leroy Bookman, was a teammate of Bob Waterfield and Glenn Davis on the Los Angeles Rams pro football team. Leroy is a cook in Company L.

Bookman, is a graduate of Tillotson College in Texas and a former outfielder with the Austin Flyers in the Texas League. He was a back with the Rams in 1950 until he entered the Army.

Charles Chang, a platoon sergeant in Company A, won his honors in basketball. Chang, an All-Hawaiian star, toured the States with Hawaii University competing against top flight American quintets. The six foot one inch sergeant scored 12 points against the world-famous Harlem Globetrotters when his team lost by a scant three points.

The sixth Warrior athlete, Cpl. Thomas Brooks, in the 180th Tank Company, was a former pro soccer player. He was a star on several Philadelphia semi-pro clubs. Brooks also played with the Philadelphia Nationals for two years before he was called into service.

Elementary Schools Engage In Tough Gridiron Struggle

By JOHN BOWERS

The football race in the elementary circuit of the Midland schools stands up the way it was figured. The "big boys" of the league, the South Wildcats, still are undefeated, untied, and unscored on, but they had to come through with a second half rally Friday afternoon to get by a tough North eleven, 14-0.

Ranked second in the conference is the unpredictable "dark horse," Sam Houston Blue Jays, undefeated and untied, but with one touchdown marring the defensive record in their initial game of the season with North. The surprising Blue Jays, who could walk off with the conference crown, had a field day Friday afternoon, besting scrappy DeZavala with ease, 24-0.

Predictions of coming games are a hazardous affair, but here goes. South will have another rugged encounter this week with a revived Crockett squad that has won two and lost two, but the Wildcats are figured to take this one in a close contest. Prediction of the week: South's goal line to be crossed this Friday afternoon for the first time by Crockett.

The Sam Houston Blue Jays, featuring a close football technique that has just enough to come through with the all-important wins, will have an easy time of it against winless Terminal.

North, rebounding from last week's loss to South, will take an even struggle from the Lamar Longhorns. This tilt will be one of the closest games of the week. Both teams have a split record, two wins and two losses.

West, which also has registered two triumphs and two defeats, should have little trouble with DeZavala, which has yet to hit the victory column. Don't underestimate West, as they have a well-rounded ball club.

If the South Wildcats and the Sam Houston Blue Jays can continue their winning habits, their clash on October 31 will be the game of the year, deciding first and second place in the conference.

Climbing out on a limb on Friday's games:

South Wildcats 18, Crockett 6.

Sam Houston Blue Jays 30, Terminal Termites 0.

North 12, Lamar Longhorns 6.

West 24, DeZavala 0.

Iraan's Huddleston Continues To Lead Aggie Fish Scoring

COLLEGE STATION—The Texas A&M freshmen football team, with a 1/2 record to date, close out the season November 6 and 22 with home games against Rice and Texas frosh.

Latest outing for Coach Cooper Robbins' Fish was the 19-7 loss at the hand of the Texas Christian Wogs in Fort Worth.

Billy Pete Huddleston, Iraan, was the Fish's top ground-gainer as he has been all season. He totaled 83 yards including a fine 62-yard jaunt to the Wog 13. However, the Fish failed to score.

THE SPORTS ROUNDUP

Charles To Hit Comeback Trail Against Big Galoot

NEW YORK—(AP)—Ezzard Charles, the cautious pugilist, starts back up the long comeback trail this coming Friday night when he fights Cesar Brion, a big, awkward galoot from the Argentine, at Madison Square Garden.

Ezzard figures to win this one without too much trouble. Almost everyone over voting age has beaten Brion at one time or another. But in Ezzard's particular case, a simple victory will not be enough, and he knows it. If the former heavyweight champion is to become one of the foremost contenders for Rocky Marciano's title, he must win this one impressively, preferably by a knockout.

Situation Peculiar

The situation really is a very peculiar one. The Cincinnati negro has proved on occasion, that he comes close to being a great fighter. Actually, he won the crown back from Jersey Joe Walcott in their last meeting at Philadelphia as several million televiewers can testify. Just about the only ones who didn't think Ezzard deserved the decision were the officials, and they had the vote.

And now, such a short time later, Charles finds himself on the other fringe, striving desperately to get back in the running. A purely personal hunch here is that no matter what he does, Ezzard will never get a shot at Marciano. On a given night, Ezzard might cut Rocky into ribbons. The men who guide the new champion's destinies are among the smartest in the business. They will make few mistakes.

* * *

Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, playing captain of the American Davis Cup tennis team, is scheduled to leave for New Zealand and Australia within a few days, and there still seems to be some uncertainty about who is going with him.

Though no official announcement has been made, our information is that Straight Clark of Los Angeles probably will be on the plane with Seixas. Ham Richardson, the former junior champion from Baton Rouge, will not leave for Sydney until late in November.

So far, only Seixas and Richardson have been named on the team. It has been taken more or less for granted that Tony Trabert would be given another leave of absence from the Navy to help challenge the Aussies for the cup.

Barstow To Send Bears Up Against Fort Davis Friday

BARSTOW — The Barstow Bears will invade Fort Davis for a conference football game with the Indians at 2:30 p.m. Friday.

The Bears will be fresh from a 38-13 victory over Weed, N. M., last Friday.

Dudley Rogers unleashed a deadly aerial attack to pace the Bears to victory. Outstanding defensive players for the Bears were Ramon Garcia, Jerry Castleberry and Jackie Hayes. Isabel Flores and Rogers were oustanding on the offense.

At the end of the half, the Bears were leading 25-7. The final touchdown for Barstow was a 40 yard pass from Rogers to Flores, who caught it in the end zone.

Sportsmen Advised To Protect Reserves

DENVER—(AP)—Thomas L. Kimball, Colorado's Game and Fish Director, says sportsmen must police their own ranks in order to maintain public hunting and fishing at high levels.

"If you saw a man blowing a safe in a downtow nstore, you'd report it to the police," Kimball told a sportsmen's meeting. "So, if you see a man shooting out of season, taking too much game, leaving gates open, breaking down fences and otherwise destroying private property, you should report that, too."

COVERAGE OF SERIES

NEW YORK —(AP)— The radio and television coverage of the World Series was the most extensive in history. More than 700 outlets were hooked up on the big coverage. Sixty-eight TV stations in 64 cities carried the games to an estimated 93 million viewers. Telecasts were carried to every TV city in the U. S. except Albuquerque, N. M., which does not have a network affiliation.

Heavy Slash In PGA Field Is Proposed

DETROIT —(AP)— Match play in the Professional Golfers Association Tournament would be cut to 16 players, instead of 64, in changes proposed to the PGA by the club that will be host to its 1953 tournament from July 1 through July 7.

The Birmingham Country Club voted Monday to ask the PGA for a new tournament set-up. It got a quick okay from the Michigan PGA chapter.

It proposes that the defending champion and the 15 low-scorers in four days of medal play covering 72 holes compete in four rounds of match play in the final three days.

Now the defending champion and 63 low-scorers in two days of medal play over 36 holes compete in five days of match play for the championship.

Jack Calvert, Birmingham club president, and Art Zebedee, tournament chairman, proposed the changes.

PGA President Horton Smith, pro at the Detroit Country Club, and Harry Moffitt, PGA secretary, expressed perference for a change, which could be made by delegates to the PGA Convention in Chicago November 10 or by the PGA's 13-man Executive Committee.

A major reason advanced for the change is to guarantee the appearance of top-flight stars for four days, and thus increase the tournament boxoffice take.

In many past tournaments upsets in the first day of play have eliminated major drawing cards

Baylor-Aggie Tilt Highlights Southwest Conference Slate

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
Associated Press Staff

The headline game of the Southwest Conference this week pits Baylor's Golden Bears against the improved and dangerous Texas A&M eleven.

And both teams scheduled hard all-out practice sessions tuesday in preparation for their annual encounter, this one at Waco on Baylor's Homecoming Day.

All the Aggies came through last Saturday's 7-7 tie with Texas Christian in good shape. And Baylor had no injuries from their Saturday victory over Texas Tech's Red Raiders. Both expected to be in top shape for this week's battle.

Texas, rejuvenated after a 44-7 win over Arkansas' hot-and-cold Razorbacks, started preparation Monday for its game with Rice Institute by watching movies of the one-sided Saturday win. Then the Longhorns went through a brief workout in sweatsuits. Tuesday, harder work was on tap for Ed Price's charges.

Rice Coach Jess Neely, meanwhile, welcomed Halfback Carl Johnson and Fullback Kosse Johnson back to the ready-and-willing list of Owls. Carl had been out two weeks with a lame ankle while Kosse was limited to punting Saturday night because of a leg injury. Neely set heavy scrimmages Tuesday and Wednesday in preparation for the Longhorns.

Coach Rusty Russell said he expected a busy afternoon for his Southern Methodist Mustangs this weekend. The Mustangs return to the intersectional wars with a game in Dallas against the Kansas Jayhawks of Siki Sikes, one-time Texas Aggie star. Russell's Ponies catch the Kansans on the rebound from a defeat at the hands of Oklahoma, their only loss of the season.

The Ponies are due to have three stars on the sidelines for the Kansas encounter—Lou Miller, Don Goss and Frank Eidom.

Hogs vs. Ole Miss

The Arkansas eleven watched movies of their loss to Texas and then took a light workout Monday afternoon. Contact work was expected Tuesday and Wednesday after Coach Otis Douglas promised his team "some hard work" to get ready for Mississippi University Saturday. The Hogs expect All-Conference Quarterback Lamar Mchan back in the lineup for the Little Rock game with Ole Miss. He was injured in the October 11 game with Baylor.

Defending Champion TCU, still morose over the 7-7 tie with Texas A&M, took it easy as it began a two-week preparation for its November 1 setto with Baylor. The Christians have an open date this weekend.

Midland Junior Teams Try Again To Defeat Odessans

Midland Junior High School elevens will come out on the gridiron with the old try again Saturday, still seeking their first win against an Odessa squad. To date, San Jacinto and Cowden have lost a total of ten games with the rugged Odessa outfits, and for some of the Midland teams, this week will be their last chance.

In the seventh grade category, Cowden faces Crockett at Odessa and San Jacinto tangles with Bowie in Midland. A game between the two Midland schools the following week winds up their schedule.

The combined eight and ninth grade squads, which still have several tilts to wade through, will meet out-of-town teams this Saturday. San Jacinto will have a respite from the Odessans when they travel to Lamesa for their game. But Cowden is up against more Odessa trouble, going against Crockett in Midland.

Currently, Cowden appears to be the stronger of the two Midland junior high elevens. Each Cowden team has garnished a victory from their San Jacinto counterparts.

TRICK ANKLE AND ALL—

Norton Fires Up Mustang Offense

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS—(AP)—Chances are that Jerry Norton, Southern Methodist's triple-threat back, will leave the field at least once during a game, aided by the trainer and student manager. And he'll be limping and obviously in pain.

But that won't be a reason for the other team to rejoice—that is, if the other team knows the details. Jerry will be back in a few minutes.

He has what is known as a trick ankle. It goes out on him when he makes a quick turn. Just what causes it isn't known but apparently a nerve is pinched. Anyway, it's troublesome. But there's nothing serious about it.

High School Injury

Jerry has had the injury since high school football. He couldn't play the first part of his sophomore season at Southern Methodist. But when he did get in, Jerry really went to town.

And he has taken up just where he left off. He reached the heights last Saturday night against Rice when he ran for 140 yards, passed for 84 and kicked for an average of 36.1 although having one punt blocked and getting off one short one in trying for the coffin corner.

The ankle acted up once, and he had to go to the bench and let it straighten itself out.

"Jerry's performance against Rice will become a chapter in Southern Methodist football to compare with what Doak Walker did against Texas Christian in 1947 and Kyle Rote against Notre Dame in 1949," says Lester Jordan, Southern Methodist publicity director.

SMU Team's Keyman

Norton is the keyman of an SMU team that gave Duke and Georgia Tech good games and beat Missouri and Rice—and which, its followers think, has a fine chance to win the Southwest Conference championship.

Thus far this season he has made 250 yards rushing and 168 passing while punting for an average of 40.5.

And before the season started there was doubt that Jerry would be a regular. He had those brilliant sophomores, Frank Eidom and Roy Pace, to worry about. Neither has kept him out of the lineup.

Norton was known more for basketball than football in high school at Texarkana. He was on the all-star basketball team at the Texas Coaching School but wasn't given much thought in the selection of the football squad. But at SMU he hasn't played basketball. Rather, he has become one of the greatest football players SMU ever had.

They tell this story of Norton in last year's Notre Dame game. Southern Methodist started out passing on every down and finally the crowd began to yell: "Take out the basketball team and put in the football team." Finally Jerry went into the game. He ran for 36 yards and then he ran for 24 more. The crowd changed its tune like this: "Say, put the basketball team back in."

Betsy Rawls Is Medalist

FORT WORTH —(AP)— The girls moved into the first rounds of match play at the Women's Texas Open Golf Tournament Tuesday with sharpshooting Betsy Rawls hogging the spotlight.

Betsy got into the fore Monday by capturing medalist honors.

To do it, the former University of Texas co-ed who now registers from Spartanburg, S. C., had to fire a three-under-women's-par 72. That nicked Defending Champion Mrs. George Babe Zaharias by a single stroke.

Betsy cruised around the front side of the 6,209-yard River Crest Country Club in two-under-par 35, then whacked another stroke from regulation on the back nine.

Babe Zaharias Slips

Mrs. Zaharias slipped a two-over 39 going out. Her blistering four-under-par 34 coming back wasn't quite good enough. The Babe was bidding for her fifth victory in this tournament.

Betsy is former National Open Champion.

Home-town Favorite Polly Riley, the Curtis Cup star, was carrying the banner for the amateurs in the seventeenth renewal of the match play event. She carded a 34-39-73, including an eagle three on the 408-yard sixteenth hole.

Pat Garner of Midland, listed among the pre-tournament favorites, shot a qualifying round of 82, and was paired Tuesday against Mrs. George Wilcox, Jr., of Miami, Fla., 90.

Valley Open Put Back On PGA Tour

CHICAGO—(AP)—The Rio Grande Valley Open at Harlingen, Texas, has been restored to the PGA tour, the PGA announced Tuesday.

The Harlingen tournament wasn't held last year but was placed back on the Winter tour after strong protests from that city and after sponsors of the tournaments on the Winter tour got together and worked out their own schedule, which was presented to the PGA.

Texas thus will have four tournaments on the Winter tour—the El Paso Open February 5-8, Texas Open at San Antonio February 12-15, the Rio Grande Valley Open February 19-22 and the Houston Open February 26-March 1.

SOONERS JUMP TO THIRD—

Spartans Continue To Top Grid Heap

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK — (AP) — Michigan State's rampaging Spartans continued their strangehold on the No. 1 spot in The Associated Press' weekly football poll Tuesday by nosing out Maryland in the fourth edition.

The result gives Michigan State a record of three out of four firsts. Only in the second week did the Spartans falter. That was when Wisconsin took over the top rung, State was second then.

The undefeated Spartans, who are making the experts look good—they were selected as the best team in the country in The AP's pre-season poll—had a margin of 50 points over Jim Tatum's powerful Maryland outfit.

Maryland also was second last week, but the margin that time was 65 points, so the Terps gradually are trimming the margin.

State garnered 1,191 points, along with 49 firsts, from the 138 sports writers and sportscasters from coast to coast who cast ballots. Maryland which has won one more game than Michigan State, five, had 1,141 points and 36 firsts.

The votes are tabulated by giving 10 points for first place, nine for second, eight for third and so on down the line.

Two Newcomers

There were two newcomers to the first 10—Virginia, No. 9, and Wisconsin, No. 10. To make room for the pair, Kansas and Purdue, both of which were defeated last Saturday, went tumbling downward.

The most impressive gain, however, was made by Oklahoma, which vaulted from sixth to third and gathered 23 first-place votes along with 913 points. The Sooners just about wrapped up the Big Seven title for the fifth straight year with their triumph over Kansas.

After Oklahoma came California, No. 4; Georgia Tech, No. 5; Duke, No. 6; Southern California, No. 7, and UCLA, No. 8.

The leaders with first-place votes in parentheses:

1.	Michigan State (49)	1,191
2.	Maryland (36)	1,141
3.	Oklahoma (23)	913
4.	California (9)	883
5.	Georgia Tech (5)	803
6.	Duke (5)	574
7.	Southern Cal (1)	503
8.	UCLA (3)	476
9.	Virginia (5)	188
10.	Wisconsin	162

THE SECOND TEN

Terminal Girls Set Kickball Race Pace With Perfect Record

The girls from Terminal, unbeaten this year, ruled Tuesday at the top of the standings in the Girls' Elementary Kickball race.

Terminal defeated Crockett, 27-10, last Friday to keep their record clean and this Friday will play at Sam Houston Elementary.

In the other games last week, DeZavala defeated Sam Houston, 38-17; West Elementary beat Lamar, 14-11, and North Elementary won over South Elementary, 26-24.

In other games this week, DeZavala plays at West Elementary, Lamar at North Elementary and Crockett at South Elementary.

Wink, Alpine In Top Game

WINK—The spotlight in District 5-A this week will be centered on two undefeated teams—Wink and Alpine—when they tangle Saturday night in Wink.

Both delegations were pre-season favorites and each have racked up three district games to prove the stuff of which they are made.

Wink steamrolled over Fort Stockton, 47 to 7 last week. Stockton was on the losing side the week before again Alpine, 27 to 0. Last Friday, Alpine had an easy time in sockjg Iraan 39 to 9. It will be one of those games where anything can happen and probably will, when Wink and Alpine meet.

Finally getting into the win column, the McCamey Badgers tunneled Crane, 28 to 13, last week. The Badgers had dropped two straight in the district until last week, while Crane had a one and one record.

Hitting paydirt in the closing seconds of the game, Marfa edged Big Lake, 14 to 13, last week.

Other battles shaping up this week find Marfa hosting McCamey, Big Lake will go to Fort Stockton, and Iraan will journey to Crane.

The directors decided to alternate the all-star game between Lubbock and Amarillo, with Lubbock being host in 1953.

Dry Dallas' Water Outlook Brightens

By The Associated Press

Dallas officials figured Tuesday they could make the city's critically-short water supply last about seven months.

Stringent conservation measures and an all-out search for new water sources brought the new estimate. Last week Army engineers advised the city that less than four months of water remained in Lake Dallas, the principal municipal source. A strict water rationing order was passed immediately.

Thursday night, City Water Supt. Karl Hoefle said Dallas would start taking water soon from Bachman Lake, a small lake adjoining an old purification and filtration plant in the city. Hoefle said the lake was very low and badly silted but the water would be used "as long as it lasts."

Dallas also got encouragement Monday night from Oklahoma.

Ira C. Husky of the Oklahoma Planning and Resources Board said his state would be willing to make "temporary arrangements" with Texas for Dallas to get some water from Lake Texoma.

Dallas engineers have found a spot near Gainesville where Texoma water could be pumped into the Trinity River for Lake Dallas.

Oklahoma Gov. Johnston Murray agreed that if "There is danger of Dallas running out of water. I certainly want to help them all I can."

New Well Offered

The Dallas Power & Light Company also offered the city a 3,000,000-gallon a day well it has drilled at the sit of a new power plant. Hoefle said the well water would be accepted if the city can find a booster pump.

Meanwhile other Texas cities had their water worries.

Waco found that Lake Waco has only about a six-month supply. However, Water Supt. Hubert Davis said that if the lake runs dry the city can get plenty of water from the Brazos River.

The little Van Zandt County town of Canton reported only a two-month supply in its city lake. In 1951 the city lake went dry but a critical shortage was averted by building a reservoir on Mill Creek and pumping the water into the lake.

Boy Scout 'Purge' Conducted By Reds

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Czech Communists report they have just about conquered the "unhealthy" influences of the Boy Scout movement.

Before the Communists took over four years ago, said a Prague radio broadcast, the Scouts sought to "befog young people about loving cooperation between rich and poor." The broadcast also said the Scouts "promoted an unhealthy romanticism in the young, centering on cowboys, redskins and conquerors, instead of teaching them that it is their mission to build a better social order."

Better Stop Drinking; That Ice Could Be Full Of Filth

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The ice in your drinks may not be so nice, a scientist warned Tuesday.

It can be unsanitary and even may be loaded with germs. Or it may be contaminated with everything from dirt to pieces of hair and bits of a waitress' finger nail polish.

This finding in much of the crushed ice and ice cubes served in public places was reported Tuesday to the American Public Health Association by V. D. Foltz of the Kansas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Ice in water or drinks or on foods sometimes may be the cause of food poisoning, diarrhea and other illnesses, he said.

Foltz said ice usually is pure when it's made in ice machines because of pure water supplies and health standards to keep the ice pure.

But no one, he says, seems to have studied what can happen between the time pure ice is made and its serving to the public.

Four of the other five people had been named in an earlier indictment for the same offense. They are Fred R. Worsham, Houston used car dealer; a cousin, Herman Dayton Worsham; Robert E. Myser, now awaiting sentence on conviction of possession of marijuana, and Michael Lynch, who is in jail.

The sixth named was Mary Wainwright, identified as "a Houstonian."

Panel Report Hints Gifts Helped Quiet Liquor Probe

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A congressional committee reported Tuesday "there is an inference" that political contributions by liquor companies had some connection with the "tapering off" of an antitrust probe of the industry in 1949.

However, the committee said "the evidence is not conclusive," and committee aides declined to tell reporters who drew the inference or on what it was based.

The report, issued by a House Judiciary subcommittee that has been investigating the Justice Department, said the political contributions were not made by the companies themselves, but by individuals connected with them, and:

"There are indications that the contributions were regarded by the individuals who made them as necessary business expenses."

The contribution went to both major political parties, and the same individuals frequently gave to both parties in the same year, the report said.

Of a total between $155,550 and $166,550 contributed during the four years 1948 through 1951, the report said between $112,450 and $120,450 went to the Democrats, while the Republicans received btween $43,100 and $45,100.

'Big Four' Involved

The report, one of a series, dealt mainly with operations of the liquor industry's "Big Four"—Joseph E. Seagram and Sons, Inc.; Schenley Industries, Inc.; National Distillers Products Corporation, and Hiram Walker-Gooderham and Worts, Ltd.

The committee looked into a complaint, from an unascribed source, that the Justice Department's Antitrust Division in 1948 and 1949 "failed to make a thorough investigation to determine whether the four large distillers had violated the antitrust laws."

The Antitrust Division staff reported in 1949 that there was "a total absence of evidence of conspiracy or collusion among these companies."

The 1949 probe, the committee said, was limited to government sources and to trying to detect any concerted action by "the Big Four" to monopolize trade. The committee said the division erred in discounting complaints that did not allege conspiracy and collusion.

Army Denies Claim GI's Use Outmoded Weapons In Korea

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Army described as untrue and "extremely destructive criticism" the statement of two former intelligence officers that the GI in Korea is armed with outmoded weapons and this results in needless death.

and this results in needless death.

Garett Underhill, formerly of the Army's G-2 section, and Ronald Schiller, a naval intelligence officer in World War II, said in a Look magazine aticle that soldiers in Korea carry antiquated arms although the Army has a variety of new weapons either in existence or on drawing boards.

Maj. Gen. Ward H. Maris, Army deputy chief of staff for research and development, said this was "conjecture" and challenged Underhill and Schiller to show that "any more reliable weapons exist and can now be produced."

The American soldier, General Maris said, carries the most modern arms of any foot soldier in the world.

Stassen Keeps Busy In Quiet Endeavors To Help Ike's Cause

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Harold E. Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania and an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, says he is working 100 per cent for the election of Eisenhower.

Mostly Stassen has worked quietly but diligently behind the scenes.

Stassen says he has placed himself at the complete disposal of the general, his strategy board and the Republican National Committee. It was Stassen's home state of Minnesota whose change of vote after the first roll call had been completed at the Republican National Convention swung the nomination to Eisenhower.

Sought AFL Backing

The former Minnesota governor says he has made numerous trips to New York to confer on Eisenhower speeches and strategy, and worked hard in September to get an AFL endorsement for Eisenhower. The AFL finally endorsed Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic standard bearer for President. Stassen helped draft Ike's AFL, convention speech.

Stassen has made quite a few television appearances on behalf of the Eisenhower camp and says he is devoting as much time to the campaign as his university duties will allow him. He recently made arrangements for a dinner meeting in New York October 22 and plans to make a speech himself in New York state later this month.

Solon Demands MSA Officer Answer Quiz On 'Pro-Red' Record

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) said Tuesday he has demanded the return from Paris of Paul R. Porter, a Mutual Security Agency (MSA) official, for questioning about writings which Ferguson called pro-Communist.

"I was shocked and amazed," Ferguson said, "to learn that Porter, in association with other pro-Communists, has a long record of advocating revolution—by violence if necessary.

Ferguson emphasized the man he was talking about was not to be connected with Paul A. Porter, who once headed the Offic of Price Administration.

W. John Kenney, MCA deputy director, said Porter wanted to come back and answer all questions Ferguson may have.

Asserting Porter's actions have "shown him to be a vigorous fighter against communism," Kenney said:

"I am sure all fair-minded citizens will withhold any judgment on this case until all the facts are in."

Ferguson's statement said his attention had been called to "voluminous statements by Paul R. Porter over many years showing a strong pro-Communist line."

Wrangle On Korea Clouds UN Future

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. —(AP)— The UN General Assembly set the stage Tuesday for the crucial East-West diplomatic wrangle over Korea—the question casting the gloomiest shadow over the future of the world organization.

The Assembly Monday put off the rest of its opening general debate, in which delegates of member nations usually present a broad outline of their governments' policies, until after the U. S. presidential elections. The way was thus paved for the Assembly committees to get down to detailed work on Korea and the rest of the loaded agenda confronting the 60-nation body.

Russia has demanded that Korea be given top priority. The Americans, though sensitive about discussing issues figuring in the political campaign, have said they are ready to take up the matter at any time.

The Americans also have announced they will ask kthe UN Assembly to investigate Communist charges that the U. S. has launched germ warfare in Korea.

Decision Is Near

Soviet Delegate Jacob A. Malik vetoed a similar American request in the Security Council last Summer. The Americans decided to bring it up again in the Assembly—where there is no veto—after hearing the old charges repeated this year by Poland, Russia and Czechoslovakia.

The Assembly's Steering Committee met Tuesday to decide whether to include on the already lengthy agenda a Polish resoultion outlining Communist terms for a Korean armistice.

The UN Command in Korea already has rejected those terms, but Western delegates indicated they would agree to debate the Polish proposal.

Houston Sheriff Says Underworld Ring Offers $10,000 For His Assassination

HOUSTON—(AP)—A $10,000 standing offer for his assassination has been dangled before the underworld for the last 15 months since the collapse of an original conspiracy to blow him up in his car, Sheriff C. V. Kern said Tuesday.

Kern said he obtained a written statement from a 29-year-old man that a Houston political figure, whose name is known, has offered the money in the hopes of becoming sheriff and throwing Harris County wide open to gambling again.

"We have obtained corroborating statements from at least five other witnesses who heard of the $10,000 offer," Kern continued, "and are looking for three or four underworld characters we understand were approached recently to do the job on me."

The sheriff's disclosure came after he had made a surprise appearance before a grand jury Monday and started a super-secret investigation into the reported assassination plot.

Heard during the jury's first session were the 29-year-old man, a former Houstonian who is out on bond on a murder charge, a Heights shoemaker, a groceryman and his wife, who reportedly heard the political figure talk about the $10,000 assassination offer, and attractive, dark-eyed Mrs. William J. Young, 24, wife of a deputy constable recently slain in a reported holdup attempt.

"Mrs. Young's husband had no connection with the "assassination attempt," Kern said. "But she says that he also told her of hearing the political figure talk about having me killed."

Kern said he believed he had enough evidence already to arrest the political figure he accuses of plotting his death but had decided to put the whole matter up to the grand jury.

The original reported assassination plot, which failed to come off in July, 1951, was uncovered by investigation of the sheriff, his deputies and Texas Rangers Eddie Oliver and Johnny Klevenhagen, Kern said.

"I first heard that Dallas gangsters had been offered $10,000 to blow me up last December," Sheriff Kern said. "At first I did not believe it. Then in January Johnny Klevenhagen got a lead on it in Corpus Christi that convinced us it was all deadly serious."

GOSSETT CHARGES AT LAMESA-

Socialism Trends Moving U. S. Nearer Destruction

By JOHN BOWERS
Reporter-Telegram Staff

LAMESA—"The closer we come to national socialism, the nearer we come to the brink of destruction," warned former Rep. Ed L. Gossett at the seventh annual Lamesa Chamber of Commerce banquet Monday night in the high school cafeteria.

Gossett replaced Senator James Duff of Pennsylvania, who could not appear because of family illness.

The speaker drew upon parallels in history of his analysis of present world conditions. He told the audience the only progress in the United States towards a better way of life was due to free enterprise.

"We have 5 per cent of the land, 6 per cent of the people, and 50 per cent of the world's wealth." He attributed this to a free economy.

He gave the case of England as an example of what can happen to a country under "the benevolent despotism of expanding bureaucracy," characterizing the nation as a land whose people have lost their pride and spirit.

"You can't get something for nothing," said Gossett, and added, "The only absolute security is that of the grave, jail, or slavery."

Initiative Robbed

Gossett attacked big government as a menace, and said many Americans are suffering from a "security psyschosis" that is robbing them of their initiative. He attributed American progress to "insecurity as a stimulus to our achievement." He charged that Washington bureaucrats are becoming too powerful for the good of the nation.

The former congressman from the 13th Congressional District in Texas was particularly concerned about the dangers of government spending. He said the nation could go broke if present trends in government spending are continued unchecked.

"Spending is a virus," he said. "We have bigger schools, but not better education; bigger churches and less religion." He stated that we are being deluged with propaganda from high places to continue the ruinous program of extravagance. He believes grafters are corrupting our society with wasteful spending.

Gossett quoted figures on the rising costs of American wars, and he said another war would destroy our capitalists society. He said the Communists hope internal decay will weaken us.

"Beware of the apostles of reform who want the United Nations to become a world government," said Gossett. He held that the only eras of world peace have been on the nominance of great powers, giving the cases of Rome and the British Empire as instances. He said we can be destroyed if we become "we and indolent."

Gossett recommended the preservation of constitutional democracy as an essential in the United States. He said we need it "if we are to survive in a mad world." He stated that powers emanate from the people, not from government bureaucrats.

"Nothing is so permanent as a temporary job in Washington," he told the assembled group.

Electoral College Hit

He concluded his talk by coming out in favor of abolishment of the electoral college. He said the present system permits crooked politicians to control elections by concentrating on the big city votes. He said the best system would be to divide the electoral vote in each state on the exact ratio of the popular vote for more democratic government.

Gossett was introduced by R. Stansell Clement, prominent Lamesa attorney. Clement gave a brief history of the former congressman's activities, and said he was now with the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in Dallas as general counsel. / highlight of the program was the presentation of a prize to Tom Brannon as an outstanding C-C organizer.

Henry Norris, retiring president of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce, presented his successor, Skeet Noret, to the audience. Noret spoke on achievements of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce under Norris, and outlined plans for future expansion of activities. Noret presented a certificate of appreciation to the retiring president in recognition of his efforts in Chamber of Commerce work. Noret emphasized the slogan of Lamesa, "Building by toil, cotton, cattle and oil" in his request for support in the program of improving Lamesa.

Guests included President Jack Wicker and Burvin Hines of the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

Mass, Rosary Services Held For Wendy Ann Woolcott, 14

Mass was said at 9 a.m. Tuesday in St. Ann's Catholic Church for Wendy Ann Woolcock, 14-year-old Midland girl who was killed Sunday afternoon when an automobile overturned.

Rosary services for the victim, which were open to the public, were held at 7:30 p.m. Monday. The Rev. Thomas J. Kennedy officiated for the mass service.

Miss Woolcock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Woolcock, 1201 West Kansas Street, died in a Midland hospital without regaining consciousness four hours after the accident.

In addition to the parents, she is survived by an uncle Ray Woolcock of Sparks, Nev.; the paternal grandfather, Peter Woolcock of Sparks, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hawkins of San Francisco.

Pallbearers were R. C. Maxson, A. J. Hill, Alden Donley, Ralph Osborne, H. F. Kelly and R. A. Kelly.

Three of Miss Woolcock's schoolmate at San Jacinto Junior High School were injured, one critically.

Remains Unconscious

Gloria Hicks, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hicks, 1501 West Storey Street, was reported "slightly improved" at Midland Memorial Hospital Tuesday. She still was said to be unconscious.

Less seriously injured was Helen Short, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Short, 1011 West Louisiana Street. She suffered a fractured collar bone and multiple cuts and bruises.

Nannette Hays, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hays, 608 West Kansas Street, received emergency treatment for minor injuries.

Police Officers Jim Morris, who investigated, said the four girls were headed north on North A Street in the automobile owned by Miss Hays' father and driven by Miss Short.

Near the Boyd Street intersection, they were overtaken by another automobile driven by Gene Adkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Adkins, and a friend of the four girls.

Morris said Miss Short told him as the other vehicle attempted to pass, she moved to the right on the sandy, unpaved street to give him room.

Apparently, said the police officer, the soft sand of the street caused the automobile to lurch to the right and overturn.

Rigid Common Front Against Reds Urged By Chiang Kai-shek

TAIPEH —(AP)— Chiang Kai-shek Tuesday urged East and West to form a common front against communism. Unless they do, he said, the East will fall to Soviet imperialism and after that the whole world.

By the term "East," he explained he meant the Far East and Middle East.

The Chinese Nationalist generalissimo expressed his views at a general news conference, open to all foreign correspondents and the Taipeh press—first of its kind he has ever given on Formosa.

For any effective fight against communism and Soviet Russia, he listed two things as essential:

1. Far-sighted statesmen of the West, led by the United States, should understand the aspirations of the Eastern countries and try to meet them, particularly on economic matters.

2. Eastern countries must be warned that, if they tried to disrupt their ties with the West, it would be the quickest and shortest way to fall into the trap of Soviet imperialism.

Chiang said he was sure that if the West, led by the United States, gave assurances to Eastern countries about their national aspirations, these would be accepted and the East would cooperate.

Nixon Raps Record Of Adlai In Talking To Illinois People

ABOARD NIXON TRAIN—(AP)—Republican Senator Richard M. Nixon carried his vice presidential campaign into Missouri Tuesday, expressing confidence of victory for the GOP ticket.

Following trainside talks at three towns between St. Louis and Cape Girardeau, Nixon was scheduled to fly into the Southwest part of the state for an airport appearance at Springfield and a speech at Joplin Tuesday night.

The California senator said in a talk at East St. Louis, Ill., Monday night that Stevenson's record as governor "exposes him as a "weakling, a waster and a small caliber Truman."

An audience which packed a 3,000-seat hall with several hundred other persons outside heard him say General Eisenhower is the master of the GOP campaign.

"He is the captain of the team in the very best sense of the word," Nixon said. "With due regard for his team members and their abilities, he is calling the plays."

He said Stevenson had a "black record" of scandals in cigarette taxes, race track stock, insurance and horsemeat in the state administration.

The governor's record, Nixon said, "shows him to be a Grade A spendthrift."

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES 52

UNUSUAL FRANCHISE OPPORTUNITY
Rolliton offers a ground floor opportunity for individuals and groups to participate in the greatest roofing development in a hundred years—a unique aluminum roof of the type that Alcoa (Aluminum Company of America) says will last 100 years—that is applied right on the job with mobile roll forming equipment—that is covered by seven patents.

This project has by far a greater volume and profit potential than the aluminum storm window, siding and awning business combined. Technical knowledge is not necessary. Of greater importance is knowledge of direct-to-consumer merchandising.

Interested parties must have substantial capital to secure franchise on royalty basis.

Write now for full information, giving financial and business history.

OKLAHOMA BEAT TEXAS last week. But here's a home that cannot be beat. Located on Nobles Street, it has two lovely bedrooms, 2-carport, and it's 2 years old. Relaxing living and dining room combination, clean bath, and elongated kitchen with built-in drop-leaf bar. Large closets and storage space, Weltex paneling featured in all the rooms. Carpeting in living and dining rooms and hall, central air-conditioning. It's immaculate inside. Fenced yard with youthful lawn, paved street. Assume GI 4% loan and make payments of only $59 per month. Priced at $10,500.

THIS IS GOING TO HURT. I'm a Yale man, but I've got to admit that there is something good on Harvard. As a matter of fact, it's rather terrific. Three large bedrooms, 2 tile baths, magnificent kitchen with separate breakfast room which can be used as den or sewing room. The living room, with the wood-burning fireplace, is a book full of comfort and beauty. Central heating, 5-ton refrigeration unit, luxuriously carpeted thru-out. Nice lawns, tile fence and patio for your private outside dining and living. Sadly I admit the beauty of Harvard. $29,500.

EAST LYNN is more than a city in Connecticut. It's a play. It's a street in Midland. And on it, a cute home which has two surprisingly large bedrooms, wonderfully wide living room, and kitchen big enough for a breakfast set right in the center of the room. Attached garage, large corner lot with paving, and nice lawn. Can be purchased for as LITTLE AS $1,000 down. ONLY $9,396.

THE CUTE ONE ON CUTHBERT is the way that you'll remember this one. It's got two BIGGER and BETTER bedrooms, lovely living room, dining room, and clean kitchen. Constructed just before the war and is in perfect condition. Attached garage, trees and trees, nice lawn, fenced yard, and wonderful neighbors. Water well. Owner purchased larger home and must sell. $12,500.

DRIVE SLOWLY BY: 1709 North Weatherford. Then call to see the interior of this attractive 2-bedroom home. Then hook a look at 114 East Parker. While you're still in low gear, drive by 205 West Nobles. Now that you know, take a look-see. 'Course, you'll need more information. Drive home. Pick up the phone and dial 2-1693. We'll arrange the rest.

REMOVED FROM THE RUSH and the routine of office and deals that might-not-go-through, to the quiet hush of sheer living. Proudly placed among comparably spacious homes is this cream brick Texas rambler. Spreading for over 80 feet across the front, it has 3 bedrooms, den, 1½ tile baths, and 2-car attached garage. Huge kitchen in tile, lovely living room, and separate dining room. Central summer and winter conditioning, fully carpeted, large closets, and all the finest of features in a well planned home. Tile fence, nice lawns, overly-charitable water well and brick well house and storage. $26,500.

ONE SURE WAY TO HAPPINESS is good health. But to be completely happy, a home of your own is next in line. And towards your complete happiness we offer the Maness house at 106 East Oak. Only 15 months in use, it has two lovely bedrooms, welcoming living room, and well arranged kitchen. Central air-conditioning, washer connection, lovely, tile bath. Attached garage that could easily convert into a den. YOUNGSTOWN kitchen cabinets, Vent-A-Hood, and good closet space. Can be handled for about $2,000 down.

SO YOU WANNA TRADE? Here's an unsurpassable opportunity of shedding your old four walls for a beautiful home. This one has 2 lovely bedrooms and a paneled den (or 3 bedrooms), living and dining room combination, magnificent tile kitchen with pine cabinets, and 2 TILE BATHS. Attached garage, central heating and ducted for air-conditioning. The garage is neatly finished and can be converted into a huge den. Nice closets, washer connection, and many extra features that you've always wanted. On West Louisiana, and it's scintillatingly new. Priced at $17,950.

Kansas Gains Push Crude Flow Upward

TULST —(AP)— Domestic crude oil and condensate production continued its record breaking pace during the week ended October 18, the daily average output increasing 13,025 barrels to another new high of 6,525,800 barrels, the Oil and Gas Journal reported Tuesday.

Cumulative production now is 1,800,906,650 barrels for the year, compared with 1,788,898,050 barrels at this date a year ago.

Kansas more than accounted for the total net gain, spurting 14,300 barrels to 346,000 barrels, while Oklahoma registered the largest loss, down 3,300 barrels to 525,400.

Although a dozen other states reported increases, the only sizeable ones were 1,300 barrels each in Colorado and North Dakota, to 88,800 and 5,000 barrels, respectively.

Suspect In Grisly Murder Released After 'Lie' Test

RENO—(AP)—What does it feel like to be jailed for six days on suspicion of brutally killing a father and three small children?

"It's worse than a nightmare," says Louis Edmond Blair, 37, Chester, Calif., movie operator.

Blair was freed after two lie detector tests Monday. District Attorney Jack Streeter of Reno said the results were inconclusive.

"They neither clear this man nor indict him," Streeter said. District Judge John Belford freed Blair on a writ of habeas corpus.

Blair never was accused formally in the $7,128 robbery-massacre of grocer Guard Young and three children near Chester October 10.

He was taken into custody here for questioning at the request of Sheriff M. H. Schooler of Plumas County, Calif.

Blair said he had had "neighborly disagreements" with Young but knew nothing of the killings.

In an exclusive AP interview Blair said Tuesday:

"Every statement I would make about my whereabouts that terrible afternoon of the killings the officers would tell me I was a liar.

"Why, they almost convinced me I was nuts—then I would regain my reason and know I was innocent.

"I believe in religion, but I have not gone to church regular and I haven't done much praying.

"I did a little praying this week, though, and from now on I think we'll both go to church a little more often."

Sheriff Schooler and Plumas County District Attorney Bertram Janes were to return to Chester Tuesday to continue their investigation.

Also released Monday after two days in jail at Quincy, Calif., was Martin Russell Ryan, 30, service station operator at Crescent Mills, Calif.

Halsell Slips Through Guards To Greet Tempelhof Texans

By GRACE HALSELL
Reporter-Telegram Special Correspondent

BERLIN—In this outpost, news ops like rice crispies, and one international "incident" merely replaces another.

A French airliner is fired upon, and then weeks later, an Army plane.

You have the pilots' words that they stayed inside the limits of the "air corridors."

With such friendly gestures on the part of our "gallant allies," it's no small wonder nerves get pulled around like a batch of taffy.

With the arrival of Mrs. George Kennan, wife of the ousted ambassador to Russia, security came down like a vise.

The rule went out: No photographs, no reporters, not anyone to bother the Kennans.

Grace Halsell

Reporters in Berlin all were so informed—with the exception of a Texas reporter, who was out early looking around for Texans to interview.

Unaware and even uninterested in Mrs. George Kennan's arrival, I headed for the famed Tempelhof Air Base, where Texans always may be found.

I had no trouble walking through the gate.

"I'm From Texas"

The password: "I'm from Texas."

"So am I," said a guard.

Actually, I learned later, the guard throughout Tempelhof had been doubled for security reasons and to keep out reporters.

For three hours, I interviewed Texans.

Looking down on the famed Tempelhof airfield (designed by Hitler) I spotted a couple of Russian officers.

I though Berlin reporters must be lazy not to be out at the base seeing what was going on.

Scampering down the runway, I approached them, put out a hand:

"How do you do," I said, and to my surprise, one of the officers replied with the same words, in excellent English.

He was rather tall and slender, the other shorter and more sturdy, the type we think of as being typical "Russian."

They both gave me firm, friendly handshakes—the kind they call "Baptist handshakes" in Texas.

"Nice weather we're having," the taller of the Soviet soldiers said.

He looked out into the gray skies.

"Not so nice," I replied. "Too much rain."

It might have been any American talking to any other American.

"Well," said the Russian, "one has to begin the conversation with talk about the weather."

Toothpaste Ad Smile

He smiled, a big smile. It bared all his teeth. They were clean, white teeth, and I was fascinated to note one solid gold tooth, right near the front, standing out more than the nose on his face.

He told me he lived in "Moscow" and he said the word with a tone which indicated to me his pride. "A very fine city," he said.

It was while we were so talking that a big man, surrounded by secretive-looking men, rushed up detective-style, so that I took him to be either Dick Tracy of J. Edgar Hoover.

Steering me quickly away, they turned me over to a stern-faced provost marshal, who wore a gun at his side and fired more questions than a jealous wife.

What were you doing when and why. . . Through all the confusion, I didn't get to speak, but next was whisked away to be displayed to a major.

"We doubled the guards, and she still got in," the provos marshal explained.

I was beginning to feel as if I had broken the Potsdam Agreement, or had a run in my hose.

Next a full colonel came in.

The provost marshal seemed determined either to (1) Exterminate or (2) Incarcerate.

The Plot Thickens

I remembered I hadn't even told the Russians good-bye. They probably were thinking the secretive looking men would put me in jail. I wasn't so sure but what they might, but for what I wasn't sure.

The provost marshal calmed down a bit to ask.

"Didn't you know you weren't supposed to come on the grounds to interview Mrs. Kennan."

"But, I'm not remotely interested in the Kennans," I said. "I came to interview Texans."

"Texas!" the provost marshal exclaimed. Then his voice softened. His face changed.

"Put her there," he said, extending his hand.

"I'm from Texas, myself."

The provost marshal, Trefter Thomas, formerly of Kerrville, then suggested coffee. He even paid for it.

Costliest Campaign Races To Big Finale As Parties Bombard Eyes, Ears Of Voters

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The costliest of all political campaigns is winding up with the biggest splurge in history.

Between now and November 4 Republicans and Democrats—and the organizations supporting them—will bombard us voters by eye and by ear, using television, radio and literature.

Each side will argue its case until the last minute.

On November 3, the Democratic National Committee will take over all radio and TV networks from 9:30 p.m. until 10 p.m. (CST).

Then the Republicans move in for their last licks. The Citizens for Eisenhower Committee will have all radio-TV networks from 10 p.m. until 11 p.m. (CST).

You'll get some idea of the tremendous costs from this:

More than a million dollars have been or will be spent on national radio and television programs alone for the last three weeks of the campaign.

Starting at the middle of last week, the final three weeks on the networks line up like this: 12 1/2 hours of radio time, 11 1/2 hours of TV.

Programs boosting Eisenhower: four and three-fourths hours or radio time, and also four and three-fourths hours of TV.

Demos Pay More

If the parties or other sponsoring organizations pay the listed rates ($24,000 an hour for radio, $50,000 an hour for TV), this would cost Stevenson supporters about $869,000 and Eisenhower backers around $351,000.

Network officials say they expect more time will be purchased. And they point out that their figures do not include spot announcements or programs carried by single stations or by state networks.

Oddly, no one knows for sure how much a campaign costs in a presidential year. One guess, by Illinois' Democratic Senator Paul Douglas in his new book, "Ethics in Government": 75 million dollars. This figure includes expenses of congressional as well as presidential candidates.

On one thing everyone is agreed. Whatever the total cost, with television being used widely for the first time, this is the most expensive campaign ever.

Shipwrecked Sunday School Party Saved

BRADENTON, FLA.—(AP)— The Coast Guard Monday rescued 40 children stranded since Sunday afternoon when a pleasure boat ran aground.

The boat, Ranger II, struck a sandbar at the mouth of the Manatee River in Tampa Bay on the West Coast of Florida.

The children and five adult chaperones—all from St. Petersburg—spent anxious hours waiting to be rescued while the Coast Guard rounded up small craft that could reach the boat, stranded in shallow water.

John Roosevelt Due At Lufkin Ike Rally

LUFKIN —(AP)— John Roosevelt, youngest son of former President Franklin D. Roosevelt, is scheduled to speak at a Lufkin Eisenhower rally Friday.

W. R. Beaumier, Lufkin Daily News publisher, and 23 other East Texas residents invited Roosevelt to Lufkin for the rally.

The group said young Roosevelt voted against President Truman in 1948 and planned to vote for Eisenhower this year.

State Fair Crowds Set National Mark

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★

Adjust To Idea Of Retirement By Intelligent Planning Ahead

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Part of a long letter from a reader will serve to introduce a most important subject. She writes:

"I learned early about how an inferiority complex develops by having to wear peculiar clothes, and by having no time for play or social adjustment. Another lesson that just came naturally was that if I intended to survive I was going to have to fight back occasionally. Is it any wonder that I soon developed a critical, suspicious, distrustful dislike for people?"

This reader says she married at 19, has two sons, and now 28 years have passed. She adds:

"But now, with the boys away at school most of the time, my home is like a morgue and days drag, and I am wonderinng about what to do with the remaining 30 or so years of my life. I am really not so elderly that I can't develop new interests, even if I do wear glasses for reading, sewing and close work, but I have got to change my attitude toward people."

This reader presents a problem with which millions, roughly between the ages of 40 and 55, are faced in varying degrees. The busy years of raising children to the point where they are more or less independent and adult slip by rapidly, and suddenly the mothers, in particular, are faced with carving out new interests and activities to replace those which kept them busy for so many years.

Practically the same problem hits the fathers, too, but later—when they come near the time to retire from their life work. Both problems, however, are similar.

Most human beings who are not physically or mentally incapacitated do not take well to doing nothing. Consequently, planning and adjusting either to the growth of a family or retirement requires some intelligent thought, preferably before these events actually occur.

Some useful activity which the person likes and does well is what is most desirable. Recently, a pamphlet has come to my attention which seems to me should be of particular value, and, while designed for those who are about to retire, it should be almost equally useful for those who are like the writer of the letter quoted at the beginning of this column.

This pamphlet is called "Getting Ready to Retire," and can be obtained from the non-profit educational organization known as the Public Affairs Committee, 22 East 38th St., New York 16, N. Y., for 25 cents.

Alaskan Arrested In Texan's Death

KODIAK, ALASKA —(AP)— A 37-year-old Civil Service worker was under arrest here Monday in connection with the fatal shooting of Raymond Cruz, 19, Santa Ana, Texas.

Officials said a five-dollar debt precipitated the shooting. No charges had been filed.

The use of carbon black in tires started when one manufacturer used it to color his tires to distinguish them from those of his competitors and learned that it toughened the rubber.

DO READERS WANT OBJECTIVITY?—

Hot Campaign Gives Press Tough Task In Being Fair

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A record vote November 4 is predicted by editors of some of the nation's leading newspapers who agree that this is one of the hottest presidential contests in history.

The editors, who came here for a weekend meeting of the directors of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE), said this campaign has brought more pressure on the press and more criticism from partisans of both sides than any other pre-election news coverage in memory.

Here are some of the editors interviews:

James S. Pope, executive editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times, which are supporting Governor Stevenson:

Nixon Case Told

"I have become convinced of one thing: Readers cannot judge the objectivity of a newspaper in a presidential campaign for the simple reason that they cannot read objectively. Most of them do not want objectivity—they want their side favored.

"Many Republicans complained that our news stories about Nixon were 'Democratic Propaganda' until Nixon made his television speech; then Democrats started complaining that stories about Nixon were 'Republican propaganda.'

"Some Democrats think we are trying to hurt Stevenson by putting on Page One accounts of Truman's attack on Ike; but if we played Truman down, just as many Democrats would scream."

Truman Upsetting

Pope added: "It is fairly easy to keep news even as between Adlai and Ike, but Truman throws things off balance."

J. Donald Ferguson, president and editor of the Milwaukee Journal:

"The only other presidential campaign I can recall which reached so high as emotional level was the Al Smith-Herbert Hoover campaign of '28. The emotions aroused there were of one kind—religious. In this campaign we have numerous emotional currents, ranging from grievances against the Truman Administration to resentments within the Republican party because Senator Taft was not the nominee.

"Newspapers can only print the news as accurately as it comes to us. I suppose that so long as the shadow of Russia falls across the world and fear is in the minds of men, the public is going to be extremely edgy, suspicious and angry temporarily at facts that do not please it."

Wonderful Way to Start the Day!

Well, there he goes, backing out into the challenge of an October morning—and there's no denying that he's off to a wonderful start.

You see, he's at the wheel of a Golden Anniversary Cadillac—and there's no greater lift to the spirits than the deep-throated whisper of a Cadillac engine.

It says inspiring things to the man at the wheel.

It tells him, first of all, that life must have gone rather nicely—to take him from where he was—to a place where he owns and enjoys a beautiful Cadillac. Pretty good precedent for a good day today!

It tells him, too—that wherever he drives in the day's activities—the Cadillac crest will pave the way for the respect of the people he encounters.

Yes—he feels pretty good as he turns into the highway, touches his toe to the sensitive throttle, and heads into the adventure of another day.

The miles go softly by . . . the occasional tick-tick of the electric clock reminds him that he's well ahead of time for his first appointment... and so he just settles back—relaxed and at ease. Nice, nice going!

Many men have told us that the drive to work in a Cadillac is the finest part of the day. Their heads are clear and their minds at ease as they roll serenely along—a wonderful time to think and plan.

Of course, this is only an extra value that comes with a Cadillac: comes in addition to comfort and safety—and dependability and long life—and all the other wonderful things that make this magnificent car the Standard of the World.

Why not come in and see us—and arrange to enjoy them all yourself?

We'd be happy to see you—any time.

Anti-Recession Weapons

Some of the men who make their living by diagnosing the state of the nation's economy are saying we may be in for a mild recession soon. It's both noteworthy and heartening that the word they're using is recession and not depression. And the consensus seems to be that any recession will not be severe. Nothing like the dark days that followed the crash of 1929.

Another happy point is the lack of unanimity among the prophets as to when the recession will come, if indeed it does. Some say in a few months, some say in a few years.

Already there have been some recession signs. There was a decline in some business fields in 1949 and again in 1951, but they were more than offset by increasing manufacture of arms.

• • •

Some believe a recession is inevitable when we begin to meet our defense goals and arms manufacture tapers off. But even if that comes to pass, the country will be much better prepared to cope with it than it was following 1929.

For one thing, we have a valuable store of experience gotten the hard way during the depression of the 30's. For another thing we now have some practical cushions against a recurrence of bad times—bank deposit insurance, unemployment insurance, farm price supports, old-age pensions.

• • •

A big program of public works, providing emergency employment to thousands, almost certainly would be put into effect if the recession were severe enough to throw any appreciable number of people out of work.

Forward-looking businessmen, aware of certain recession warnings, are guarding against overconfidence. This awareness of what might develop is a mental attitude we all might well adopt. Because, certainly, one of the strongest anti-recession weapons we have is an informed and clear-thinking public.

Shocking Figures

It always comes as a shock to see the figures on how many of our young men, presumably at their lifetime physical peak, are rejected as unfit for military service.

The latest figures show that 42 per cent of the draft eligibles have been rejected during the Korean war, an increase of six per cent over World War II. That's a high figure any way you look at it.

Particularly is it high when one considers the fact that much younger men are being drafted now than in World War II.

Physical requirments are about the same now as they were in World War II. And certainly no one can say those standards are too high when one remembers some of the hardly Herculean specimens who were called on to lug a rifle then.

Manpower undoubtedly is the most important resource we have. And its quality is almost as important as its quantity. But the draft rejection figures would seem to show that the quality is not what it should be.

Improving that quality is a matter of prime importance to the nation. The latest figures released by the Selective Service could be the shock that stimulates some action in the matter.

It's human nature for people to disagree, and smart when they can do it without being disagreeable.

"A little gadget Joe fixed so he doesn't waste any time getting to his coat at five o'clock!"

You Can Easily Tell It's An Election Year

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1952, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: Ford dealers are told they must contribute to Republican National Committee; Regional meetings of Ford representatives get political assessment word from Detroit; Chairman Summerfield got into trouble in 1948 for raising money from auto dealers.

WASHINGTON — A meeting of Midwest Ford automobile dealers was held in Omaha on October 10, at which time they were told that a political emergency faced the nation and that each dealer would be expected to contribute to the Republican National Committee for use in the current political campaign.

The Omaha meeting was attended by Ford dealers from Nebraska and Iowa only. Earlier, a meeting was held at Colorado Springs at which Allen Merrill, personal assistant to Henry Ford II, and Walker Williams came from Detroit to tell Ford dealers that the future of Ford depended on a change of administrations in Washington.

Unless there is a change of administrations, Ford dealers were told, big business in the United States, including the Ford Motor Company was doomed.

Word of the Colorado meeting was brought to some of the Nebraska and Iowa dealers by Ed O'Shea of Lincoln.

The lowest assessment of any Ford dealer in the Omaha area was placed at $100, while one dealer, Walter Mahoney of Sioux City, was expected to pay $1,000. Dynamic Don Gell, the Ford dealer at Red Oak, Iowa, one of the top notch dealers in the industry was assigned to collect funds for Western Iowa. He advised fellow dealers to send checks to him at Red Oak, make them out to the Republican National Committee, but not make them on a company check.

This meeting follows a pattern set by Arthur Summerfield, now chairman of the Republican National Committee, in Michigan in 1946 and 1948. At that time, Summerfield was Republican national committeeman for Michigan and still is the largest Chevrolet dealer in the world. His collection of GOP contributions from auto dealers was based upon the number of cars they sold and eventually led to the indictment of 20 dealers and the conviction of 18 for violation of the Corrupt Practices Act.

This is probably why Ford dealers this year have been warned not to use company checks; since it was the fact that Michigan auto dealers did use company checks which led to their conviction.

Summerfield And Corruption

Summerfield's money-raising scheme in Michigan is one reason why members of the Dewey wing of the Republican Party were surprised to put it mildly, when Summerfield was made chairman of the Republican National Committee. They felt that his appointment took part of the punch out of the corruption issue against the Democrats.

One Republican especially surprised at Summerfield's appointment was the former attorney general of Michigan, Eugene Black, who as a Republican had attempted to prosecute Summerfield and Michigan auto dealers.

In the end, Attorney General Black faced such tough opposition from members of his own party that he finally came to Washington and placed his evidence before the Justice Department.

Black's charge against Michigan auto dealers in May, 1948, was that they were able to avoid paying the state sales tax in return for raising a huge campaign chest of $250,000 for the Republican Pary. Black gave full credit to Summerfield for cooking up the scheme and charged that the auto dealers were told that if they did not contribute to the GOP they would not get their normal quota of cars from the factory.

Black estimated that the State of Michigan was cheated out of $30,000,000 of sales tax by auto dealers as a result of the Summerfield scheme.

GOP Yells: 'Ingrate'

Black's clean-up of Republican politics immediately brought vitriolic opposition and charges of "ingrate" from other Republicans. The Republican State Committee actually telegraphed Black: "You are a menace to good government, and we respectfully suggest that you immediately resign."

Gov. Kem Sigler, also a Republican, even withheld from Black $35,000 which he needed to prosecute the auto dealers. And when Black dug up an unexpended balance of $12,498 left over by his department from 1947, the GOP state auditor clamped down in order that this money could not be used to probe Republican campaign funds.

It was at this point that the Republican attorney general of Michigan went to Washington and turned over his evidence to a Democratic administration.

The Justice Department, calling a grand jury in Detroit, under U. S. Attorney Thomas P. Thornton, not only indicted 20 dealers for violation of the Corrupt Practices Act, but subpoenaed the books of the new Republican national chairman. Summerfield brought suit for the return of his books, but was not able to get his books back until the prosecution was over.

One witness, Mrs. Dudley C. Hay, former Republican committeewoman, testified that auto dealers gave a dollar to the Republican treasury for every car they sold, and that they took this money out of "miscellaneous" expenses, which are tax deductable, rather than campaign contributions, which are not.

Among those who helped collect funds for Summerfield were such high-up General Motors officials as W. F. Hufsteader, vice president of Buick, and Harry Gault, General Motors attorney, both of whom served on the Michigan GOP Finance Committee.

It was suggested editorially at the time of this finance scandal that Ford and General Motors might want to drop some of their dealers who were convicted of violating the Corrupt Practices Act. The suggestions was not followed.

The fact that Ford officials in Detroit have now sent word to their dealers throughout the country to raise money for the 1952 Republican campaign indicates why the suggestion was not more favorably received.

Boone Rites Held At Midland Chapel

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

A bridge match for the championship of the world will take place next week in New York, and bridge players all over the world will have their attention riveted on the playing tricks and the tricky plays that are executed at the two tables.

When this hand was played in last year's world championship, the American pair held the North-South cards at the first table. The South player was George Rapee, who will again be a member of the American team next week.

East won the first trick with the ace of clubs and returned the jack of clubs, which Rapee won with the king. With seven sure diamond tricks and one club, declarer now needed one additional trick in order to make his contract.

Rapee immediately led the jack of spades from his hand. East considered this trick briefly and finally decided not to win it. This was a mistake, to be sure, but East had no way of knowing this at the time.

Having already taken one club and one spade, Rape now rattled off his seven diamond tricks and thus made his contract. The score for North-South was therefore plus 600 at the first table.

At the other table a European pair held the North-South cards. South won the second trick with the king of clubs and decided to run his seven diamond tricks at once.

As soon as South led his third diamond it immediately became apparent to the American defenders that declared had seven sure diamond tricks in addition to the club that he had already won. Each defender immediately signalled his ace to indicate the correct defense.

It was therefore easy for the defenders to hold their two aces and their clubs. When declarer finished with his diamonds, the defenders were ready to take a total of two aces and three club tricks, defeating the contract.

The result at the second table was minus 100 for North-South. Hence, the American team gained 700 points on the hand by being plus 600 instead of minus 600.

CARD Sense

Q—With both sides vulnerable, the bidding has been.

West	North	East	South
3 Hearts	Double	Pass	?

You, South, hold: Spades J-9-7-3-2, Hearts 7-5, Diamonds Q-8-4, Clubs 8-6-5. What do you do?

A—Bid three spades. Your partner's double asks you to name your best suit. You are far from enthusiastic but the responsibility is on North's head.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades K-Q-J-7-3-2, Hearts 7-5, Diamonds K-8-4, Clubs 8-6-5. What do you do?

Q—Why might the War of 1812 be called the War of Faulty Communication?

A—Two days before the war was declared the British government had stated that it would repeal the laws which were the chief excuse for fighting. If there had been telegraphic communication with Europe, the war might well have been avoided.

Murder she yelled

"But you see how it is—I couldn't afford to have any bodies found on my land."

The story: Midge Burnett, a guest at High Hill, a Summer resort operated by Al Kemmer, tells Dan Morrison, athletic director at the lodge, Eddie Fields and Kitty Lane, entertainers, she found a body in the woods.

• • •

We were riding past the cottages now. A few of the girl guests were sitting on the tree - shaded steps, and they whistled, clucked and hooted at us, the way they always did when a male strayed up their way. Midge tightened up and didn't say another word till we were past the last of the cottages. In a little while the cinders gave way to soft earth, and we were rolling past crowded woods toward the little creek that marked the end of High Hill's grounds.

"What did this guy with the hand look like?" Eddie Fields asked.

"Oh, I didn't look at it—I just ran," Midge said. "I mean—well, I'm not afraid now, but I wasn't expecting anything like that, and . . . . I almost stepped on it!"

"H'm — with your rubber shoes, too. Sounds like a game of corpse and rubbers."

"Oh, Eddie!"

About 200 yards farther on, just before we reached the rickety wooden bridge across the creek, Midge pulled at my arm. "Right here!" She hustled Eddie out of the car, darted around him and started into the woods at our left. Eddie and I pushed in after her through a wicked tangle of briars that throve in the shadow of the pines, hemlocks, and oaks. Midge skipped ahead like a puppy, letting the briars have a taste of her smooth, tanned legs.

We moved fast, but not fast enough. Midge was suddenly out of sight. "Hey, hold it!" I called out uneasily, and started to run.

Half a dozen steps and she was in sight again. She was standing still, pointing. Eddie and I came up to her. "Right there," she said.

Sure enough, there was a rough pile of earth and leaves just a few yards ahead of us. But I couldn't see any hand.

"Look—no hands," Eddie said.

I walked over and prodded the pile with my foot. Nothing. I stooped and scrabbled through it. There was nothing hidden in it except some stones.

I looked back at Midge. She was watching me with the biggest eyes even seen outside a Picasso painting, "Nothing there?" she said hoarsely.

"Just skipped off—whoosh!" said Eddie, smacking his palms together. "One of those new high-speed corpses."

"Maybe you've got the wrong place," I said.

• • •

Midge bit her lower lip. She looked around, took a few steps toward the road, stopped and turned back. "No," she said firmly, "that's the spot." She came over and bent down and prodded through the mess squeamishly.

"There was a hand here," she said. "Somebody . . . somebody's removed it!" She straightened up and gave me a horrified look.

"Where's Al Kemmer?" Eddie put in. "You said you sent him here."

"I did — I told him to turn off the road just before the creek."

"So what's happened to him? You think he—say—I'll tell you: He took the corpse down to the office and made him register. Al don't stand for no free camping on his grounds."

Then we heard it. All of us at the same time. A sound of swishing, scratching — underbrush being ruffled somewhere in the woods.

"What's—what's" — Eddie's lips fumbled—"what's that?"

"It's . . . eerie," Midge whispered. She edged closer to me.

We stood there trying to locate the sound, our heads circling, our glances bumping into each other.

"Oop, here he comes," Eddie said. "Backward."

That wasn't a gag.

A man — and he was coming backward. A man in a brown jacket. Bent over — dragging something from side to side. Crackling through the undergrowth, his back to us—coming straight toward us.

"Why . . . it's Mr. Kemmer!" Midge cried.

"Well, cut off my nose and call me flat-face," said Eddie.

At that moment, Al Kemmer reached the shallow creek and turned, holding up a thick hemlock branch. Crazily I saw it on a Christmas card: Kemmer Bringing in the Yule Log. He started shakily across the rocks. Just as he reached our side of the creek, he saw us. His eyes flipped open like eggs popping out of shells. "Don't move!" he yelled.

• • •

Then he turned his back and continued toward us as before, swinging the leafy end of the branch from side to side along the ground.

"Morrison," said Eddie, "you're smart. You went to college. Tell we what the man is doing."

"He's beating a path to your door, you mousetrap."

Al swished his way to the mound. He poked the branch through it and scattered the debris somewhat; then swung around with all the grace of a teeter-totter and tossed the branch away.

"Finished," he said. He hauled out a handkerchif and wiped his puffy, strawberry-tinted face, and the sad bald spots above his temples. "Okay, let's go," he said, starting toward the road and waving a thumb at us.

"Hey — hold it a minute," I said. "What's been going on around here?"

"Don't ask me no questions, Mr. Information Please," Al said, his thumb moving more emphatically.

"Have you been moving dead bodies, Al?" I said politely.

Al turned. "Morrison, watch your language—don't you see there's a lady here?" He came back, put his arms around Midge and me, and started us toward the road. "Come on, Eddie," he said. He smiled around at each of us.

"I'll tell you kiddies something. When you're in business, sometimes you got to do things that maybe sound funny to people that ain't in business. But you see how it is—I couldn't afford to have any bodies found on my land. You know what would happen: cops, detectives, newspaper reporters. Half the people I got booked would cancel. But if it so happens the body happens to be found on the other side of the creek, then Grandview Manor gets all the noise. Sam Stacey is having a good season—he can stand a little canceled reservations. Me, I can't." He pushed another smile around at us. "Okay?"

"I'm going to have a look at the body," I said.

"Nosiree." Al wagged his nose in my face. "I just practically busted my back smoothing out the way where I dragged the body. Now you want to go make footprints and get the cops all upset?"

He trundled us to the road. "Station wagon—good. Let's go, kiddies." He patted Midge and Eddie gently in their rears and got them into the back seat. Then he prodded me in behind the wheel.

"You surprise me, Al," I said. "Nonchalantly carting bodies around and knowing all about wiping out footprints and such. You've done this sort of thing before?"

"Positively not." Al wasn't in a kidding mood. "This is the first time such a terrible thing happened to me. Handling that thing—it almost made my stomach do a dirty trick — if you'll excuse my language, Miss Burnett."

• • •

I drove past the long porch of the recreation hall and parked alongside the maintenance building. Kitty Lane was still waiting in the doorway.

"Now wait a minute, everybody," Al said softly. "You all got to stick by Al Kemmer. You got to promise not to say a word about me moving that body. Not to anybody."

"Aw, Al," said Eddie, "can't I even—?"

"No jokes, Eddie—this is serious, you can believe me. Okay, everybody promise. Out loud. You too, Miss Burnett."

A confused murmur came out of us.

"Thank you kiddies," said Al. He got out of the station wagon and went up the steps. "Kitty, my little canary bird, you're back in Papa Al's nest!" His arms flapped around her. Kitty looked over his shoulder, not smiling. Then Al turned to close the door, and I saw he wasn't smiling, either.

"Lovebirds, that's what they are," said Eddie.

Sergeant Reenlists After 36 Army Years

NEW YORK—(AP)—"I wouldn't know what to do with myself if I retired this early," says 57-year-old M/Sgt. Linsley S. Lewis, post sergeant major at Fort Wadsworth, N. Y.

With only two breaks in service since he enlisted in 1912, Lewis has 36 years of service and recently reenlisted. "I'm going to make it 40," he explained.

Recalling 1912 he said, "We came in at $15 a month, were fed on 21 cents a day and had to buy our own milk." Lewis, who spent 22 years in the infantry, is the father of five children. One of his sons, Sgt. Edward F. Lewis, is himself a veteran of 17 years Army service and was at Hickam Field during the Pearl Harbor attack.

Indochina Air Base To Accommodate Jets

KIENAN, INDOCHINA— (AP) —A new airfield is being built in Northeastern Indochina, not far from the port of Haiphong through which comes much of the U. S. war aid for the French forces.

The end of the year should see it completed. It will be the first airfield in Indochina capable of handling any jet-propelled aircraft.

Already, broad runways stretching almost one and one-half miles have been finished—and hundreds of Vietnamese coolies are hard at work to finish the job.

Red Party Tagged Puppet Of Soviets

WASHINGTON—(AP)— A government panel Monday called the American Communist Party "a puppet of the Soviet Union" and recommended that it be required to register with the U. S. government and bare its membership roster and its finances.

The recommendation came in a report by a two-member panel of the Subversive Activities Control Board (SACB), which had listened to more than 14 months of testimony.

"Nutured by the Soviet Union," the panel report said, the party "strives incessantly to make the United States a Soviet America."

The panel recommended that the party be required to register with the attorney general as Moscow-dominated, list its officers and members and give a financial accounting.

Under McCarran Act

This marked the first step in a "you must register" drive directed against the American Communist Party.

It was taken under the Internal Security Act of 1950, better known as the McCarran Act. The law requires that all "Communist front" and "Communist action" organizations register.

The Communists claim the party is not subversive; the Justice Department says it is. And party attorneys challenged the constitutionality of the McCarran Act.

A two-member panel of the SACB, made up of Chairman Peter Campbell Brown and Dr. Kathryn McHale, listened to pro-and-con testimony before issuing its report and recommendations Monday to the full board, which has four members. There is one vacancy.

Daddy Ringtail Scratch Paper

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, had gone to visit Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf. They were there at the Huffen's hollow tree house.

They were talking of what they should do if Dagger Dan, the dangerous man, should come a-knocking at the Huffen's door.

Said the Huffen: "Folks are afraid of Dagger Dan, they are, because he looks daggers with his eyes."

"Now, now, now," said Daddy Ringtail. "The daggers are made of ice. All you need is a warm smile, and you can melt the daggers."

"Oh no you can't!" said a voice from the window.

"Oh yes I can!" said Daddy Ringtail.

"Oh-oooooh!" said the Huffen.

There at the window stood Dagger Dan. He began to look his daggers with his eyes. They flew through the air and made a cage of daggers around the Huffen where he stood against the wall.

"Help!" said the Huffen.

"Steady, Huffen," said Daddy Ringtail. He began to smile a very warm smile with all of his teeth a-showing. The daggers of ice began to melt, but Dagger Dan turned a cold shoulder to the room, and the melting stopped.

"Br-r-r-r!" said the Huffen from the cold. "Oooooh!" he said from his fright.

"Sure is cold," said Daddy Ringtail.

"It's going to be cold until I get some scratch paper," said dangerous Dagger Dan McStew. "I want scratch paper!"

"Quick!" said the Huffen. "Get him some scratch paper."

Daddy Ringtail hurried to the kitchen. He looked in the drawer where the Huffen kept the sandpaper. Was it sandpaper (scratch paper the dangerous Dagger Dan McStew was wanting? Daddy Ringtail thought it was. He hurried back to give it to him.

"Thanks," said Dagger Dan.

He took the scratch paper in his hand. He scratched the ear of his wooden horse where it leaned against the house outside. Then he jumped on the horse and rode away in a cloud of dust, and this was the last that anyone ever saw of dangerous Dagger Dan McStew, I am happy to say. Happy day!

Red Feather And Other Funds Take Over Where Government Aid Ends

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Red Feather Community Chest and USO National Defense Fund drives now going on in some 160 U. S. communities are expected to raise something more than the $235,900,000 pledged last year. This is only about 10 per cent of the public assistance payments made by the federal and state governments for aid to the needy out of taxes. Where the Red Feather fund fits in is to take care of health, youth, family and armed forces welfare services that can't be covered by any law.

The tendency over the last 20 years has been to put more and more of the charity and relief work on the taxpayer. Both General Eisenhower and Governor Stevenson have been promising more and not less social security. But no matter how much these services are expanded, they never can carry the whole load. There now are more than 33,000 private charities to which contributions are tax exempt. They collect an estimated $4,000,000,000 a year.

A Red Feather campaign contribution is, after all, only a little thing.

Star Snarl

There's a Pentagon SNAFU over giving a fifth star to four-star General Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme commander of North Atlantic Treaty forces in Europe. General Ridgway now is handicapped by being inferior in rank to British Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery and French Marshal Alphonse-Pierre Juin, who are his deputies.

The White House has said it would promote Ridgway if the Pentagon recommended it. But Pentagon four-star generals who now rank General Ridgway in seniority are reluctant to promote him unless they get a fifth star, too.

Ice Cream's Our Dish

America's milk-drinking, butter-eating and other dairy products-consuming habits are changing gradually over the years. They indicate the possibility of further revolution in the dairy industry over the next decade.

Butter consumption has dropped from 18 pounds per person to about nine pounds per person in the last 20 years. At the same time, consumption of nonfat milk solids has increased from 39 to 47 pounds per person per year. Cheese consumption in the U. S. has gone up from 4 1/2 pounds per person per year to 7 1/2 pounds since 1930. And ice cream consumption has gone up from 22 to 44 pounds per person per year in the same time.

The rise of margarine consumption is responsible for the drop in butter sales. Margarine consumption this year is expected to be about eight pounds per person — only a pound less than butter. In 1930 margarine consumption was only three pounds per person. Total production of margarine this year is expected to be 1,230,000,000 pounds, as compared to 1,380,000,000 pounds of butter. Next year margarine consumption may surpass butter consumption.

War between the railroads and the trucking industry in Pennsylvania now has reached a new high of intensity. Both sides have hired press agents to wage a propaganda battle for public support of their views.

Pennsylvania now has the lowest truck load limits for any state in the heavy traffic St. Louis-to-New York area. The truckers charge this is because of railroad domination of Pennsylvania state legislature. In retaliation, Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association has started a campaign to make 162 railroads pay up to $50,000,000 a year more in state taxes to help Pennsylvania's somewhat desperate financial condition. It is the truckers' charge that the railroads in Pennsylvania now "pay more than trivial taxes on their real estate holdings only in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh."

Defense Secretary Robert A. Lovett thinks the record ought to be straightened out on those so-called "guided missiles" that were shot off a Navy carrier at North Korean targets not long ago.

They weren't guided missiles at all. They were "drone planes" carrying an explosive "warhead." The drone was controlled by the pilot of a "mother" plane through television apparatus that watched the drone's instrument panel. There is an improvement in these controls over those used for drone plane flight in the last war. But this still isn't a true guided missile.

More Irans?

Investigation of the internatitonal oil cartel by U. S. Department of Justice and Federal Trade Commission has the government of many foreign oil-producing countries all mixed up. These countries have been doing business with U. S. oil companies for a long time. Oil provides a principal source of their revenue. The U. S. now points a finger of suspicion at the oil companies. So the foreign governments begin to suspect these companies, too.

A recent editorial in "The Daily Star" of Beirut, Lebanon, summed it up this way:

"The Arab governments are studying with deep consideration the background of the U. S. accusations. If they lead to an unexpected decrease in oil revenues, they might have to revise their attitude toward the whole oil problem. In that case, Iran's example might be taken as a good example to copy. Full nationalization frees the government, tomorrow if not today, from constant worries about prices through intermediaries."

If the Venezuelans should begin to talk like that, it would mean real trouble for U. S. oil imports.

Score Another For Gals

The Germans have introduced something brand new in Washington diplomacy. It's a "Women's Affairs Secretary." Diplomatic missions always have had military attaches, economic experts, agricultural advisers, labor counselors and the like. But this is the first time any embassy has recognized that what goes on in the women's world is of some importance. The idea may grow.

First to occupy this new position as women's affairs secretary in the German embassy is Frau Otto Kiep. Her husband was an official in the old German embassy in Washington before World War I. So she knows Washington and America. Her job is to report back to her government what women's organizations are doing in this country. But she'll also let American women know what German women are doing.

While the U. S. now has two women diplomats heading missions abroad — Ambassador Eugenie Anderson in Denmark and Minister Perle Mesta in Luxembourg—it has no high ranking women's affairs secretaries abroad or in Washington.

SHE GETS A HEAD — Meet "Miss Punkinhead, 1952," otherwise pretty Louise Davis, of Cleveland, Ohio. A panel of photo experts at General Electric's Nela Park awarded her the title—and also the job of letting the country know that GE is sponsoring a nationwide prize Hallowe'en snapshot contest from Oct. 15 to Nov. 15. To be eligible, snapshots must be on a Hallowe'en subject and must be taken by photo flash.

SWEET TALK IN TEXAS—Former Vice President John Nance Garner, left, presented Gov. Adlai Stevenson with a jar of "Victor" honey, as the Democratic presidential nominee prepared to leave Uvalde, Texas, after a visit with Garner. Stevenson, who is battling to offset a rebellion among Texas Democrats, has decried "this talk about infidelity in the Democratic heart of Texas."
