Selecting a name for a college is not the easiest chore in the world, although it is a pleasant one. Trustees of the Scurry County Junior College District pondered many suggestions before they finally settled on Western Texas College as the name of the two-year community college now in the process of being established.

All of the trustees contributed to a list of suggested names, and these in turn included suggestions that had been made by citizens.

Officially, the junior college district will always be known as the Scurry County Junior College District, but the name of the college the district operates is left to the board. And, the time definitely had come this week to select a name because the architects are making progress on tentative designs of buildings as well as a general plan for development of the campus.

Western Texas College ultimately was selected because it fits the general idea that the board had in mind—it makes a geographic distinction and at this time does not conflict with the name of any other college. At one time, Western Texas College might have posed some sort of conflict with West Texas State College, but now that the institution at Canyon has been elevated to university status, that is not the case. Also considered was Texas Western College, since it has been abandoned by the school at El Paso which now is known as University of Texas at El Paso. But that was rejected as being "second-hand." Other names, such as Rolling Plains College, and even White Buffalo College, fell by the wayside for one reason or another until only Western Texas College was left on the list.

Anyway, before long, it will mostly be "WTC."

If you're wondering when winter will end, think back just one year ago. March was over all the coldest month of the year, with a light freeze as late as March 29. And the cool weather went on through April, May and the first half of June.

BOARD GIVES NEW SCHOOL A NAME

Call It Western Texas College

Western Texas College is the name of the two-year community college which will be operated here by the Scurry County Junior College District.

That decision was formally announced Wednesday afternoon during a busy session of the board of trustees which saw them move closer to launching a construction project on the campus.

The name Western Texas College was selected from a list of some 25 suggestions. It had been agreed upon several days earlier but final action was delayed until it was determined that the proposed name would not conflict with that of any other edueational institution.

The junior college board also approved a resolution to forward an application to the Vocational Education Division of the Texas Education Agency requesting approval for an area covational school. A priority list recommended by an advisory committee of some 30 local citizens was approved.

Also okayed by the board was a contract with First Southwest Co. to serve as the college district's financial advisors in the issuing of $3.25 million in bonds which were authorized in an election at the same time the college district was created. The bonds must be sold before the district can enter into contracts for construction of buildings on the campus south of town.

An informal session with the district's architects followed the regular business meeting. Representatives of Parcker-Croston Associated showed some preliminary work on building designs and over-all plans for campus development.

Joe Smith of Lubbock, Vice President of First Southwest Co., who met with the board, said that the bonds likely could be sold in time for construction contracts to be awarded in July. Meanwhile, architects will be busy preparing for bidding.

Another resolution adopted by the board authorized a college housing loan-grant application to the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development under its college housing program. The resolution authorized Dr. Robert L. Clinton, president of the college, to execute and deliver all documents and forms necessary for the application.

The priority list for vocational education courses recommended by the advisory committee, and which were approved by the board, includes the following: 1. Licensed Vocational Nursing Program and the Registered Nurse Technician; 2. Police Administration Technology; 3. Automotive Technology—Automotive Mechanics; 4. Office occupations—stenographic, general secretarial, general office, clerical; 5. Petroleum Technology — Engineering Technician, instrumentation technology; 6. Agriculture, agribusiness, farm and ranch management; 7. Mid-management; 8. Welding; 9. Drafting; 10. Building trades, basic electrician.

Aid To Students Reforms Proposed

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Proposing a major reform of federal aid to college students, President Nixon asked Congress today to put even the poorest students on an equal financial footing with those coming from families earning $10,000 a year.

In a special message, the most arresting feature in a series of Nixon-advocated changes would greatly increase dollars available for grants and loans to students from low-income families. He said:

"Every low-income student entering an accredited college would be eligible for a combination of federal grants and subsidized loans sufficient to give him the same ability to pay as a student from a family earning $10,000.

The administration program would make federally guaranteed loans available to every qualified student, regardless of the income level of his family.

But, the President said, direct federal subsidies would be directed to students who need them most.

Nixon said the effect of concentrating subsidies in the lower income brackets would nearly double the actual amount of assistance available to most students with family incomes below $7,500.

And, under his plan, "All eligible students from families of $4,500 annual income would be guaranteed a total of $1,300 each in grants and subsidized loans. This would constitute the financing floor; it will be supplemented by earnings, other scholarships and access to unsubsidized loans."

To justify the proposed shift in emphasis in dispensing federal aid, Nixon said:

"Something is basically unequal about opportunity for higher education when a young person whose family earns more than $15,000 a year is nine times more likely to attend college than a young person whose family earns less than $3,000."

He said it is now time to achieve a long-held national goal that "no qualified student who wants to go to college should be barred by lack of money."

US General Injured In 'Copter Crash

By MICHAEL PUTZEL
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — A helicopter carrying the commanding general of the U.S. Army's Americal Division crashed on a jungle hillside two days ago, killing two men and injuring the general and the other five persons aboard, the U.S. Command announced today.

The command also announced that 101 U.S. troops were killed in action last week and 620 wounded. It was the second week this year that the number of American battle dead exceeded 100.

The Americal Division's commander, Maj. Gen. Lloyd B. Ramsey, and other survivors of the helicopter crash were rescued Wednesday after an all-night ground and air search. Helicopters lowered medical personnel to them on slings through a 100-foot double canopy of jungle trees because the choppers could not land. Then the survivors and the two bodies were lifted out in helicopter slings.

Ramsey, 51, broke his left arm and suffered other lesser injuries, sources in his division said. He was reported in good condition. The other five injured men were reported in fair to good condition, most of them with lesser injuries than the general. But all were suffering from exposure to rain and cold after waiting all night on the mountainside.

Oil Allowable Set At 68%

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—The Railroad Commission set the statewide oil allowable today at 68 per cent of potential for April, the fourth straight month it has permitted such relatively high production.

The April allowable will permit maximum production of 3,655,018 barrels of oil a day, the same as this month.

Three of 14 major buyers of Texas crude oil asked the commission for more oil in April, 10 sought the same amount as March and one requested fewer barrels of oil in April than in March.

Nominations by major purchasers in barrels per day, for April:

Atlantic Richfield 200,000
Cities Service 91,000
Continental 37,000
Diamond Shamrock 33,000
Gulf 235,000
Humble 613,000
Mobil 240,000
Pan American 435,000
Phillips 116,000
Shell 151,500
Standard of Texas 57,500
Sun 143,000
Texaco 185,000
Union Oil of California 73,775

Before setting the April allowable, the commission took its annual forecast from oil industry spokesmen.

All major purchasers predicted a slower growth rate in U.S. demand for petroleum products in 1970 than the 5.2 per cent in 1969.

The forecasts for increased demand ranged from 3.3 per cent by Mobil and Standard of California to 4.5 per cent by Signal Oil and Gas Co. and 4.3 per cent by Shell.

Mail Strike Is Spreading

By BOB MONROE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Letter carriers in parts of three states today joined the illegal wage strike begun by New York mailmen. Despite a federal court back-to-work order, indications were the mail tieup would continue in the world's business and financial capital.

Locals of the letter carriers' union in several New Jersey cities, in parts of Westchester, Rockland and Orange counties north of New York City, and in Stamford, Conn., voted Wednesday night to walk out. Votes were scheduled in other cities around the nation.

A national embargo ordered at the start of the day-old strike already had diverted tens of millions of pieces of mail addressed to New York to storage bins in post offices around the nation.

The impact of the strike, the first of its magnitude in American postal history, was immediate. It was felt in brokerage houses, banks, businesses and law offices.

Gus Johnson, head of the striking Manhattan-Bronx local of the AFL-CIO National Association of Letter Carriers, publicly appealed to his men to return to work. The union attorney conceded in court that "the strike is illegal."

But Jack Leventhal, president of the striking Brooklyn local, said the union's constitution required three days notice before a membership meeting to vote on whether to obey the injunction.

That meant the earliest such a vote could be held was Saturday and the decision meanwhile on whether to return was left to the individual workers.

Only about 12 per cent of the 6,000 night shift workers showed up at Manhattan's huge General Post Office, and overnight pickets outside the facility said they were determined to stick it out despite the possibility of federal penalties.

Two Injured In Mishap

Two Scurry County residents were injured, one seriously, in a one-car mishap on the Old Loyd Mountain Road about nine miles northeast of Snyder at 10 p.m. Wednesday.

Joaquin Martinez Felan, 31, Route 2, Snyder, was transferred to a hospital in Abilene last night for treatment of a possible fractured neck. He and a passenger in the car, Thomas Gutierrez, 25, 1907 Avenue O, were originally taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital for emergency treatment by Snyder Ambulance Service. Gutierrez remained in the hospital this morning, but his condition was described as good. His injuries are minor.

Investigating Highway Patrolmen said Felan apparently failed to negotiate a turn in the road as he was traveling west on the Old Loyd Mountain Road. His 1967 Model Ford overturned and sustained heavy damage.

96 Draft Boards Closed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

As a week-long nationwide antidraft campaign moved toward an end, Selective Service officials in New York announced that 96 draft boards were being closed today to avoid a confrontation with activists who had pledged to shut them down with nonviolent civil disobedience.

"There is no sense in staying open and letting them do what they want to us," said Maj. William Sangemino, a Selective Service spokesman.

He said the 13 offices which service the 96 boards were expected to reopen Friday.

In California, 10 draft boards in San Francisco and one in San Rafael were closed until next Monday. A spokesman said they were shut after business Tuesday to catch up on work and that it was "sheer coincidence" the closings occurred during a week of demonstrations.

Draft resisters in New York had made plans to try to close Manhattan's draft boards No. 1 through 4.

A War Resisters League leaflet describing the plan said, "A group of people willing to commit civil disobedience will sit down on the pavement in front of the building, obstructing the entrance. If these sit-ins are arrested, another group will take their place."

In Washington, about 400 women marched through a cold rain outside the White House and chanted, "Out of Vietnam, out of Laos."

The members of "Woman's Strike for Peace" wore gags to protest alleged political repression by the Nixon administration. Most had arrived on a special train from New York and Philadelphia.

In Durham, N.C., 60 young demonstrators marched through the rain from the Duke University campus to a downtown draft board office.

Selective Service offices in Austin, Tex., were evacuated briefly after a telephoned bomb threat. No bomb was found.

The draft board in Brooklyn, N.Y., was picketed by 150 persons.

The New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam is sponsoring the nationwide demonstrations.

Burns Says Tight Money Supply Eased

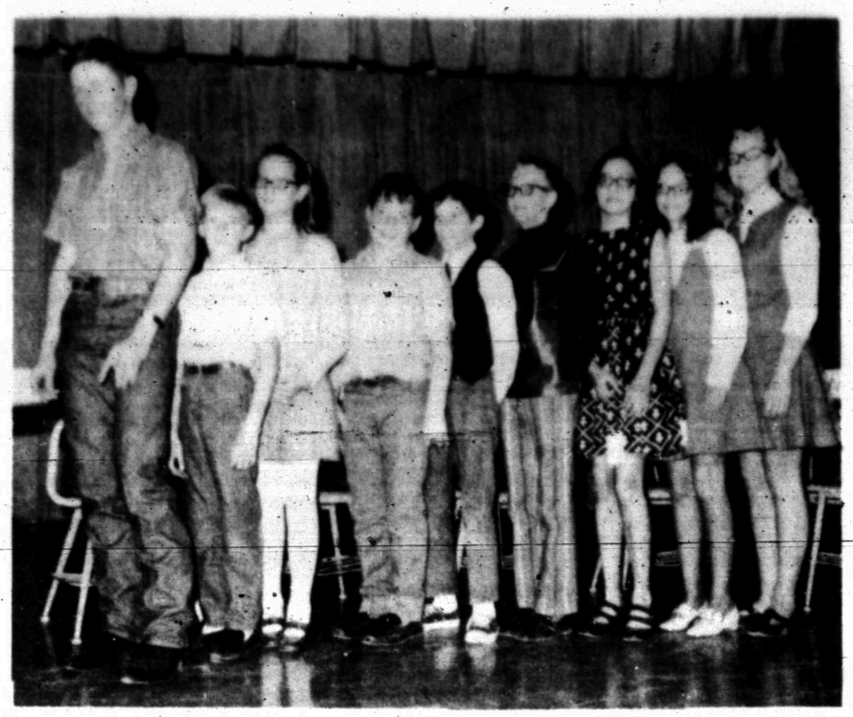

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Reserve Chairman Arthur Burns says the tight money supply is easing, but refuses to confirm reports the chances of a recession are nil.

Burns told the Senate Banking and Commerce Committee to look at the Federal Reserve's weekly money supply report to be released today for proof the currency in the hands of the public and bank demand deposits are increasing.

But he contradicted a recent statement by House Minority Leader Gerald Ford that the chances for a recession are "nil" and that inflation has been "defeated."

"No, I don't think the problem of inflation is at an end," Burns said. "Nor can I say there is no danger of a recession."

In discussing the current economic situation, Burns declined to state specific actions taken or planned by the board to force interest rates downward.

Cold Air Spreads Across Texas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Up to 5 three inches of snow coated parts of the Texas Panhandle today and light rain or drizzle fell in most other sections as the latest cold front knifed deep into the state.

Skies were clear only in the West Texas area west of the Pecos River.

Colder air spread southward behind a front which near dawn had pushed southward to a line linking Pairs, Tyler, Waco and Del Rio.

Amarillo measured three inches of snow and Dalhart two and one-half inches accumulated around Borger and Pampa — a moisture-shy sector where it was welcomed particularly by wheat growers.

At other points the snow melted as it fell while temperatures held a little above freezing in most areas.

Travel warnings were up until midmorning for the central and northern parts of the Texas Panhandle, but state police reported all routes open and traffic moving with little difficulty.

Moisture was generally light outside the snow belt and expected to end by evening.

Early morning fog hung low in scattered sections, including Austin, Killeen, College Station and Palacios.

Forecasts promised colder weather throughout the state even though the spring season bows in officially at 6:57 p.m. Friday. Readings down to 20 degrees were predicted in the Panhandle and far West Texas, and in the 30s and 40s elsewhere.

Near dawn today the mercury dropped to 26 degrees at Dalhart, 27 at Perryton and 30 at Amarillo, all in the Panhandle. Early morning marks at other points ranged through the upper 30s to 60s.

County Spelling Bee Is Held Here

Pretty Dana Minick, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Minick, 3615 Avenue B, is the winner of the annual County Spelling Bee, held yesterday at Lamar Junior High School.

Her father, Bill Minick, is minister of the East Side Church of Christ. Dana is a 7th grade student at Travis Junior High School. She has a brother and three sisters. Her hobbies include playing the flute and tennis.

Dana correctly spelled 57 words to win the contest. The word that eliminated the runnerup was definite. Dana correctly spelled it and the next word, "initial," to win the contest.

The runnerup is Paula Pierce, 12, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. B. (Bill) Pierce, who live on Cogdell Drive. Paula, a 6th grader at Stanfield Elementary, has two sisters, and she is interested in dancing and playing the piano.

The third place winner was David Dea, a student at North Elementary. Other contestants included Kenneth Heath of Central Elementary, Jo Ellen Kubena of East Elementary, Darrell Grant of Northeast Elementary, Robert Huddleston of Lamar Junior High, and Richard Daves of the Ira School. Gilbert Gonzales was winner at the Fluvanna School, but he didn't compete in the county contest.

Sponsor of the annual contest in Scurry County is Buford Browning, county school superintendent. Pronouncer of the words was Charles Anderson. Judges were Mrs. Jerry Bowers, Mrs. Mary Kennedy and Mrs. Patsy Williams.

The county winner will compete in the regional Spelling Bee, which will be conducted at 1 p.m. April 4, in the Smylie Wilson Junior High School Auditorium, Thirtieth Street and Quaker Avenue, Lubbock. The top 15 winners of the regional bee will receive prizes and all county winners will receive plaques.

Winner of the regional contest will receive an expenses-paid trip to Washington, D. C. to compete in the National Spelling Bee in June.

Couple Loses Two Sons In Crash

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — "I have no sons now," said John R. Hunter, his eyes red from tears, as he looked up to the passing formation of six F4 Phantom jet fighters in the shape of a cross.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter of nearby Vista were among 35 relatives and friends of 14 men killed Dec. 22 when a F8 crusader jet crashed into a hangar at Miramar Naval Air Station after the pilot ejected. The Hunters lost their sons, John Jr., 23 and Christopher, 20.

"This memorial is a memorial to courage and bravery and the brother-to-brother relationship between men," Navy Capt. Alfred W. Chandler said at dedication ceremonies Wednesday.

The memorial, in a cypress grove on the base, has identification tablets at its foot.

Brown Trial Site Shifted

BEL AIR, Md. (AP) — The arson and inciting to riot trial of black militant H. Rap Brown has been shifted to its third consecutive site. No new date has been set for resumption of proceedings, already recessed twice.

Judge Harry E. Dyer Jr., who was to preside over the trial in Harford County Circuit Court disqualified himself Wednesday, a day after the prosecutor had asked him to step down because of statements to the press.

The trial was transferred to Ellicott City in Howard County, 10 miles west of Baltimore, and was expected to be heard by Chief Judge James Macgill.

Brown, former head of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, is charged with arson and inciting to riot in connection with disorders and burning which followed a speech he made in 1967 in Cambridge, Md.

The trial began March 9 in Harford County and two black associates of Brown were killed that night when a bomb demolished their car near Bel Air. About 24 hours later another bomb ripped a corner off the courthouse in Cambridge where Brown initially was to stand trial.

The FBI reported Wednesday that parts of key-wound clocks found in the debris of the two explosions appeared to be made by the same manufacturer.

"At this point we haven't substantiated any kind of relationship" between the bombings, said Gov. Marvin Mandel pointing out the FBI had labeled its reports preliminary.

William B. Yates, Dorchester County prosecutor, had asked Dyer to disqualify himself Monday because of a statement by the judge that "I think Mr. Brown can win this case."

William M. Kunstler, Brown's defense attorney, said in New York Wednesday that "No conditions have changed. We don't believe a fair trial is possible anywhere in Maryland, but a fairer trial can only be had in Dorchester County."

Clock Socks, Panyhose Click Up Heels In Spring

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

If a mouse isn't careful about which clock he runs up this spring, he might get quite a shock. The clock might walk.

The message for spring from stocking manufacturers is clock designs—both on new sheer knee socks and the popular pantyhose.

Floral clock designs go up the side of the knee socks that are available in muted patterns and sheers with ribs. Colors included pink, white, light blue, lilac, coral.

In addition to clock ornamented pantyhose there are some that sport racing stripes. And you don't have to be a member of the horsey set to enjoy the colorful side stripes—black, white, brown, navy, pink, periwinkle, blue, melon, violet.

The popular bodystockings, that provide the irreducible minimum dressing effort in underpinnings, are also available in new prints, lace and rib designs bright colors go merrily from toe to neck. Young people may wear the bodystocking as outerwear or add a skirt, vest or jewelry. Let's say that a little something added will give the outfit individuality.

It was the pace-setting under-20 set who started the trend to bodystockings and pantyhose. The Establishment quickly took a look-see. Thin types could work themselves into the hip-hugging pantyhose, but hippier homemakers had difficulty when they tried to fit the panty part around their capacious posteriors. That problem has been eased in the last year. Now there are pantyhose in every size to fit the petite 4-foot-10-inch girl or the tall girl over 5-foot-6—as well as those plump ladies who like to refer to their bulges as feminine curves.

Russian Soup Not Skimpy

By TOM HOGE
Associated Press Writer

A country so vast that it stretches 7,000 miles between its eastern and western borders is bound to have a wide variety of foods.

The Soviet larder runs the gamut from the haute cuisine of modern Europe to the culinary delights of ancient Persia and the Ottoman Empire.

Russian eating habits never have ceased to astound foreigners. In the days of the czars, rich landowners often bemused their guests with 50 dishes at a single meal. Winston Churchill, on a visit to the Kremlin during World War II, sat in open awe while Joseph Stalin topped off an evening carousing by devouring a whole roast pig.

Ivan the Terrible may have been a fair cry from an ideal ruler, but there was nothing niggardly about his ability as a host. One European told of an evening at Ivan's court when 600 nobles sat down to a banquet featuring such dainties as roast peacock, spiced swan, crane seasoned with ginger, loin of bear and saddle of reindeer.

Peter the Great combined the taste of an epicure with the voracity of a starving serf.

An average supper for Peter consisted of soup containing four varieties of cabbage followed by such incongruities as gruel, pig with sour cream sauce, lamprey eels, salted meat, ham and limburg cheese. The ruler washed down this conglomeration with a flood of beverages ranging from a sour beer called quass to vintage Burgundy.

The lavish days of the czars are gone, but the Russians are still prodigious eaters and drinkers. Instead of imbibing cocktails, they usually precede a meal with several belts of vodka. And belt is the word—the Russians never were sippers. It may be the colorless, odorless liquor known in the West. Or it might be zubrovka, a yellowish, herb-flavored vodka, or gorilka which boasts a pod of red pepper in the bottom of each bottle and after a few months takes on the aspects of an active volcano. We tried gorilka in Odessa more than 20 years ago and still wince at the memory.

The Russian meal, whether it be at the home of a top commissar or a tractor driver, invariably leads off with soup. There is hearty sauerkraut soup, spicy pickle and kidney soup and an epicurean creation of sliced sturgeon and dry white wine.

And there are the countless varieties of borsch, any of which would serve as an entire meal at most American tables.

Here are two Russian soups at either end of the spectrum: Ukranian Borsch which one might find in a workers' kitchen and an exotic combination of champagne and salmon steak which one would associate with the fancier hotels in Moscow.

UKRAINIAN BORSCH

2 pounds bottom round trimmed (beef)
6 strips bacon cooked to crisp point
1½ pints condensed consomme
1 bay leaf
6 peppercorns
1 clove garlic
1 bunch parsley chopped
1 carrot diced
1 stalk celery diced
1 leek cut up in small pieces
8 medium-sized beets
1 cup shredded cabbage
2 large onions chopped
3 large potatoes peeled and halved
1 medium size can tomato puree
1 cup cooked navy beans
1 tablespoon wine vinegar
1 teaspoon sugar
5 frankfurters sliced
1 tablespoon flour
1 tablespoon butter
1 pint dairy sour cream

Place soup meat and bacon in deep pan and cover with 1½ pints condensed consomme and 1½ pints water. Bring to boil and cook for half hour. Skim off fat from surface and add bay leaf, peppercorns, garlic, parsley, carrot, celery and leek. Cover pan and simmer for two hours.

Cook seven of the beets unpeeled in the soup. Peel remaining beet and grate. Mix with three tablespoons water and hold mixture for coloring. When the other beets are tender, peel and dice. Add to soup with cabbage, onions and potatoes. Add tomato puree, navy beans, vinegar and sugar. Cook for 45 minutes longer.

Skim off remaining fat, cut meat into serving chunks. Twenty minutes before serving add frankfurters. Thicken soup with flour browned in butter and bring to a boil stirring steadily. Add juice from grated beet and water for coloring. Serve hot in soup bowls. Garnish with sour cream. If desired, meat can be placed in side dishes. Makes about three quarts.

CHAMPAGNE SALMON SOUP

2 pounds salmon cut into 1 inch steaks (6)
2½ cups chicken broth
1 bay leaf
1 stalk celery diced
1 large onion diced
1 bunch parsley chopped
2 tablespoons fresh chopped dill
salt and pepper to taste
3½ cups champagne

Place salmon steaks in a large skillet. Add heated chicken broth, bay leaf, celery, onion. Bring to boil; let bubble for five minutes, then simmer for 20 minutes. Add champagne and again bring to boiling point. Place in a heated tureen, adding parsley, dill, salt and pepper. Garnish with lime slices. Serves six.

DINNER FOR FOUR

The flavor of chile benefits if it is made ahead and reheated.
Quick Chile con Carne — Rice Salad Bowl — Corn Bread
Ambrosia or Pineapple Ice

QUICK CHILE CON CARNE

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 and 1-3rd cups frozen chopped onion
1 green pepper, chopped (¾ cup)
1 pound ground chuck beef
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon powdered cumin
1 teaspoon garlic salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 to 4 tablespoons chili powder
1 can (1 pound) diced peeled tomatoes with added puree, undrained
1 can (15½ ounces) red kidney beans in chile sauce, undrained
½ cup water

In a 10-inch skillet in the hot butter, gently cook the onion and green pepper until soft. Add beef and mash with a fork until it crumbles and loses its red color. Stir in the remaining ingredients. Simmer until hot through—longer if you like. Tastes best if made one day, refrigerated and heated the next. Serve over rice. Makes four servings.

Marinated artichoke hearts are delicious added to a tossed green salad. Use the marinade as part of the salad dressing.

Here's the Answer

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Q—When I was very young, I remember my grandfather spreading talcum powder on wood before he sanded it. Is this a good idea and what is the purpose of it?

A—You probably know about the practice of using powdered pumice and oil to smooth and remove irregularities from wood surfaces. The use of talcum powder accomplishes the same purpose, but generally does not achieve the same high degree of excellence. With powdered pumice, a rubbing oil is placed on the same surface. The two are then rubbed lightly with a cloth or rubbing pad. With talcum powder, no oil is used, but it is necessary to sand the surface with a fine grade of sandpaper. The powder acts as a lubricant.

Q—I recently purchased some enamel for a job I intend to do shortly. The instructions on the back of the can say to use an enamel undercoating or primer on raw wood or wood from which the previous finish has been removed. Since I bought more enamel than is necessary for a single coat, won't two coats of it do just as well as one coat of primer and one coat of enamel?

A—Two coats of enamel are better than one, but most of the time one coat of primer and one of enamel are even better. That's because a primer acts as a sealer to prevent the enamel from soaking into the wood too much. The primer also enables the topcoat to cling more securely. If possible, attempt to purchase a primer made by the same manufacturer as that of the enamel. Otherwise, ask the paint dealer to suggest the proper undercoater for the enamel you already have on hand. Incidentally, since you have the extra enamel, why not use one coat of primer, then two coats of enamel? You'll be surprised at how good it will look.

How Human Body Works

THE BODY HAS A HEAD. By Gustav Eckstein. Harper. $12.50.

To say that this book is about the human body is only a starting point. It was written by a professional teacher of physiology who happens to have a brilliant talent for communcating ideas which span most of the topics of human experience.

Eckstein has one of those broad intellects that we associate with Renaissance man. He writes in short bursts of prose—and he often is a vivid phrase-maker—about the known aspects of physiology. He enlivens his explanations with anecdotes, witty remarks, cogent observations, and some striking comparisons from such fields as music, philosophy, literature, science, theater, art—even comic strips and rock 'n' roll. In short, he communicates thoroughly.

His basic theme is the marvel, mystery and magic of the human body. Along the way he pays tribute to the great pioneers of physiology, and describes landmark experiments. He tosses in odd facts: the sense of smell registers "garlic" if one molecule in 50,000 is in the air; male canaries have singing contests; the parrot, the crab and the lizard see color, but the cat and the rat see only grey.

In the later chapters there are some remarkable observations on Freud, the analysts, sleep, dreams and computers.

This is a big book, almost 800 pages. Occasionally the author becomes so engrossed in providing a complete exposition that his narrative slows down. But Eckstein has smoothed out the technicalities and gives you the message in a style that sometimes crackles, sometimes seems telegraphic, but always is warm and human. It is the sort of informative, mind-opening book that primes the reader to keep up with its intellectual challenges. And such a book comes along rarely.

NY To Ban Noontime Traffic On 'Earth Day'

By JOE NICHOLSON JR.
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay has banned all noontime traffic April 22 on Fifth Avenue, the city's fashionable main street, in support of a nationwide "Earth Day" protest of pollution.

A 45-block stretch of the Manhattan avenue will be closed to vehicles from noon until 2 p.m. so that "one of the most beautiful streets in the world will become for this one day, at least, a pedestrian mall for our citizens to enjoy," Lindsay said Wednesday.

The mayor also announced the closing of Manhattan's 14th Street from 2nd to 7th avenues between noon and midnight as part of the protest.

Many business groups expressed dismay and shock at the plans. The Fifth Avenue Association, an organization of about 1,000 businesses, called the move "a very, very bad precedent" and said it was absolutely opposed to it.

However, the Environmental Action Coalition, which coordinates efforts to protect the environment, called the announcement "a major victory for the people."

"Earth Day" began as a student movement. Students plan teach-ins April 22 at colleges and demonstrations against polluters of the environment in hundreds of communities.

Lindsay said 14th Street was decided upon to dramatize the environmental problem of urban areas" because it "is the most striking symbol of these problems: power plants, changing neighborhoods and other aspects of the environment."

Asked if the street closings might be a trial balloon for city plans to make midtown streets into pedestrian malls, Lindsay replied:

"Who knows? Obviously we have high hopes for this. We hope it will work and then after it has happened we will have to evaluate it."

SOS Group Fighting Constructions

By BEVERLY PETERSON
Associated Press Writer

HONOLULU (AP) — Hawaii's SOS Committee says big-scale beach building threatens to shut the South Shore surfers of Oahu off from their sea swells including those at famous Waikiki.

"We're fighting the Army, the state, the Chamber of Commerce and the tourists," declares John Kelly, president of SOS—Save Our Surf—and a surfer here since 1929.

Eighty per cent of the surfing areas on Oahu's South Shore would be destroyed under current construction plans," he said. "From Koko Head to Pearl Harbor would be just one big stone wall."

Under SOS prodding, 12 bills have been placed before the state legislature to protect reefs and surfing areas from destruction.

Kelly, 51, estimates there are 40,000 surfers in Hawaii.

Melvin Lepine, chief of the state harbors division, concedes that surfing areas are threatened but says "it is a matter of priorities on surfing versus expansion and safety."

Lepine said a 600-foot jetty in Kewalo Basin had been proposed to calm the waters of the channel and make it safe for fishermen. He agreed with critics that it would also destroy a major surfing area.

"The solution seems to be to develop some artificial surfing and to improve some of the present sites," he said.

Levelland Paper Endorses Bentsen

AUSTIN (AP) — Lloyd Bentsen, candidate for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator, said Wednesday he has been editorially endorsed by the Daily Sun-News of Levelland.

Bentsen's headquarters said that other daily newspapers that have endorsed Bentsen include the Houston Post, Dallas Morning News, Wichita Falls Record-News, Fort Worth Star Telegram, Houston Chronicle, Kilgore News-Herald, Valley Morning Star at Harlingen, McAllen Monitor, and the Brownsville Herald.

Three Texans In Boxing Finals

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Although four more Texas fighters fell by the wayside Wednesday night, the Lone Star State still sent three boxers into today's semifinals of the National Golden Gloves Tournament.

The survivors included two defendefs of the national championships they claimed last year, flyweight Tony Moreno of San Antonio and featherweight James Busceme of Beaumont.

Joning them in the semifinals was teammate Melvin Dennis, a welterweight from Houston.

The semifinal bouts were scheduled this afternoon and the nationally televised finals are on tap tonight.

Texans bowing out in the quarterfinals were heavyweight Nick Wells, the McMurry football player from Fort Worth; light weight Roy Barrientes of For Worth, light welterweight Joe Louis Valdez of Houston and bantamweight Gary Swinney of Tyler.

Moreno won by a unanimous decision Wednesday night over Darrell Benedict of Springfield, Ill. He put benedict on the canvas in the second round for the only knockdown.

In defense of his 125-pound title, Busceme fought a nip and tuck battle for two rounds with Williams Samms of Huntington, W. Va., but scored handily in the third round and also claimed a unanimous verdict.

Dennis got the nod over Tim Taylor of Grand Rapids, Mich., in the 147-pound class.

In decisions going against the Texans, heavyweight Wells bowed to Ronald Lyle of Salt Lake City; Barrientes lost to Norman Goins of Indianapolis in the 132-pound class; Valdez was defeated by Rudy Acuna of Las Vegas in the 129-pound division and Swinney was eliminated by Isaac Vega of Chicago in the 119-pound class.

Ball Team To Play 3 Tilts In Two Days

The Snyder High School baseball team will play three games in two days in Towle Park. The Tigers host Lubbock Monterey at 4 p.m. Friday, then entertain San Angelo in a twinbill beginning at 1 p.m. Saturday.

As usual, the opposition is of Class AAAA caliber, and the Bengals will have their work cut out for them.

Coach Speedy Moffett is planning to start Merce Hernandez on the mound in the Friday affray and follow with Jim Patrick and Bobby Schrader Saturday. If Schrader starts, it will be the first time the Tigers have opened with a lefty on the hill since 1965. Schrader, a junior, is a transfer-student from Edinburg.

Tentative lineup for the Friday contest:

Randy Levens 3b, Wesley Bishop 2b, Larry Wall c, Merce Hernandez p, David Thompson rf, Stewart Sims ss, Jim Patrick cf, Butch Buchanan lf, and Jackie Murray 1b.

Barry, Caps Bomb Denver

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rick Barry has found the range again, brightening the hopes of the Washington Caps of catching Denver in the American Basketball Association.

Barry broke loose for 49 points to lead the Caps to a 135-129 victory over Pittsburgh Wednesday night to stay two games behind first-place Denver in the Western Division.

The Rockets maintained their lead by defeating Indiana, the Eastern Division champs, 128-112. Los Angeles went two overtimes to beat the Pacers 124-115 in the other ABA scheduled game.

In the National Basketball Association, Milwaukee beat New York 116-108, Philadelphia defeated Baltimore 119-113 and Boston humbled Los Angeles 137-122.

All Owls Won Was Cage Crown

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Rice got the championship gravy but had none of the records in the final statistical breakdown of the 1969-70 Southwest Conference basketball race.

Southern Methodist's Gene Phillips, The Associated Press Player of the Year in the SWC, set a full-season scoring average record with 684 points. He averaged 28.5 points to better the standard of 28.2 by Dick O'Neal of Texas Christian in 1955. Phillips also beat O'Neal's one-season point total record of 676.

Doug Boyd, TCU's rugged 6-foot-8 center, hauled down 235 rebounds to break by 29 caroms the mark set by Gene Elmore in 1964.

Rice paced the SWC in scoring in loop play with a 75.4 average. All-SWC guard Gary Reist was tops in the SWC from the charity stripe with an 83.5 percentage.

Baylor averaged the most points overall with an 80.2. The Bears' All-SWC frontliner, William Chatmon, had the finest field goal shooting percentage—a sizzling 60 per cent.

Texas Tech was the best defensive team, allowing 70.7 points overall and only 69.4 in SWC action.

Vet Pitchers Unawed By 'Rabbit' Baseball

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

They used the livlier X-15 baseball in spring training again Wednesday and most of the pitchers weren't exactly thrilled with the experiment.

But the new wrinkle didn't mean a thing to old pros Hoyt Wilhelm and Bob Veale. They might as well have been throwing the regulation ball for all the good X-15 did the hitters who swung against them.

Both Wilhelm and Veale hurled five scoreless innings, shrugging off the rabbit ball that hopped all over most other camps. Wilhelm allowed one hit in his stint as Atlanta trimmed Montreal 7-5 while Veale allowed two safeties in his stretch and Pittsburgh topped St. Louis 4-2.

Elsewhere the X-15 ran wild. Washington nipped Kansas City 18-13 in 11 innings, Detroit topped the Chicago White Sox 19-13, Seattle edged Cleveland 19-14 and the Chicago Cubs slipped by Oakland 12-11.

In other more sedate games, Boston topped Philadelphia 6-5, Los Angeles whipped Minnesota 8-2, Houston whacked Cincinnati 10-5, San Diego dropped California 8-5, the New York Yankees slugged the New York Mets 8-1, and Baltimore defeated the Mexico City Tigers 9-4.

Wilhelm, who'll celebrate his 47th birthday at mid-season, knuckled the life out of the X-15 and the Montreal Expos.

He protected a two-run lead produced by Mike Lum's pinch triple in the sixth inning, and allowed only two base-runners in his stint. Coco Laboy homered for the Expos.

Veale also worked five innings in the Pirates' victory, allowing just two hits and striking out three. Dave Cash homered for Pittsburgh.

The Cardinals, who learned earlier in the day of the loss of third baseman Mike Shannon with a serious kidney ailment, gained some solace from a home run by Rich Allen, who was making his St. Louis debut.

Washington scored five times in the 11th inning to beat Kansas City. Rookie Tom Grieve drove in four runs for the Senators, two in the 11th, and Ed Brinkman, who has had three homers in three American League seasons, homered. Lou Piniella, George Spriggs and Ed Kirkpatrick homered for the Royals.

Dick McAuliffe cracked two home runs and shortstop Cesar Gutierrez collected four hits as Detroit walloped the White Sox with a 21-hit attack. Rookie Rich McKinney had four hits and five RBIs for Chicago.

Al Dark, manager of the Indians, called the X-15 experiment "a disgrace" after Seattle cracked four home runs including a pair by Gerry McNertney to beat Cleveland. Sam McDowell, strafed for six runs, also bad-mouthed the X-15, calling it "a lousy joke." Jack Heisemann hit two homers and Ted Ford had a grand slam for Cleveland.

Jim Hickman had a pair of homers and the Cubs won a 32-hit showdown with Oakland. Ron Santo's third hit of the game delivered Chicago's winning run in the ninth inning.

Joe Lahoud had a homer and a game-winning single as Boston edged Philadelphia. George Scott had three hits including a homer for the Sox.

Rookie Bill Buckner crashed a single, double and triple to raise his spring average to .349 as the Dodgers clipped Minnesota. Alan Foster, Pete Mikkelsen and Fred Norman overcame the X-15 with a combined four-hitter.

Denis Menke and Joe Pepitone tagged back-to-back homers helping Houston past Cincinnati. Tony Perez connected for the Reds.

Nate Colbert collected four RBIs with a double and two singles for San Diego with Raphael Robles adding four singles as the Padres trimmed California.

Pitcher Fritz Peterson allowed two hits in six innings and rapped his first home run ever, helping the Yankees defeat the Mets. Rookie Thurman Munson also homered for the winners.

Baltimore pushed across five unearned runs in the third inning to beat the Mexico City Tigers.

Coaches Enter Golf Tournament

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Coaches from Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Mississippi have entered the first Hurricane Golf Classic tournament to be sponsored by the University of Tulsa, officials announced Wednesday.

Darrel Royal of the University of Texas, Frank Broyles of Arkansas, Chuck Fairbanks of Oklahoma and Johnny Vaught of Mississippi State are to play; the university said at a news conference.

Others include Vince Carillot, Tulsa; Bobby Dobbs, University of Texas at El Paso; Billy "Spook" Murphy of Memphis State, all football coaches; Keny Hayes, Tulsa basketball coach, and Gene Shell, Tulsa baseball coach.

The tournament is on an invitational basis with a $50 entry fee. It will be a best ball tournament played on a handicap basis at Oak Country Club May 22.

Buddy Peterson, who managed Corning, N.Y., last season, this year will manage San Jose in the California League for the Kansas City Royal organization.

Texas Gloves Team Has 3-Point Lead

By TERRY RYAN

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Two slugging heavyweights, rated among the hardest hitters in years, were trying to slug their way into tonight's finals of the national Golden Gloves.

The two battlers, Thomas Kost of Buffalo, N.Y., and William Thompson of Chicago, both flattened their opponents for good Wednesday before 60 seconds had ticked by.

Kost, a shaggy-haired giant, took 57 seconds to drive Ronald McIntyre of Des Moines, Iowa, into a corner and pummel him into senselessness. Then the referee stopped the quarter-final fight.

Thompson did exactly the same thing against Jesus Maldonado of Elizabeth, N.J., but it took him only 45 seconds as he rained blows on a cowering Maldonado until the referee stopped the bout.

Kost faced Lawrence Podesta of San Francisco and Thompson faced Ronald Lyle of Salt Lake City, Utah, in the semi-finals before tonight's final bout.

The team from Ft. Worth, Tex., was leading for the team title after the quarter-final bouts at the Las Vegas Convention Center. Ft. Worth had 17 points, followed by Cincinnati and San Francisco with 14 each.

Two defending champions won in Wednesday's quarter-finals, but a third fell by the wayside.

Tony Moreno of Ft. Worth, Tex., registered a unanimous decision over Darrell Benedict, Springfield, Ill., as he closed in on the 112-pound title he is defending. He dropped Benedict in the second round for the only knockdown of the fight and was in command all the way.

James "Bubba" Busceme, another Ft. Worth boxer defending a Golden Gloves title, had a tough time with William Samms, Huntington, W.Va., but came on strong in the last round to win a place in the 125-pound semi-finals.

Defending champion Morris Jordan of Cincinnati was knocked from the 156-pound competition by a quarter-final decision to Levon Session of Elizabeth, N.J. in the semi-finals. Session faced Louisville's William Beeler, the class of the 156-pound division so far.

At 119-pounds, San Francisco's Dave Kibby moved through the quarter-finals with an easy win and faced Michael Anderson, Columbus, Ohio in today's semi-finals. Kibby of Ft. Smith, Calif., fought on the U.S. team that recently toured Russia.

Jerry Martinez of Roswell, N.M., knocked out his 132-pound opponent to move into the semi-finals against Roger Seales of Billings, Mont.

Rudy Acuna of Las Vegas dropped Joe Valdez, Ft. Worth, in the second round of their 139-pound contest and went on to take a split decision from the veteran fighter.

Injuries Hamper Thinlies As They Prep For Meet

The Snyder High School track team will enter its fifth Meet of the season Friday and Saturday at the West Texas Relays in Odessa.

Coach Bill Hartsfield's lads have not placed below third in a Meet this year, but some recent injuries is giving the veteran mentor cause for concern this week.

For instance, Johnny Spears, an alternate on the mile relay unit, sustained a pulled muscle while broad jumping at Lubbock last week and probably will not make the trip to Odessa. Johnny, a sophomore, won first in the broad jump at the Canyon Reef Tournament a couple of weeks ago.

Steve Pierce, a senior member of the sprint relay team, has a slightly pulled leg muscle and his ability to compete in the Odessa Meet is still a question mark. Moreover, Joe Louis Martinez, a sophomore who runs the 880, has a leg injury and may not be able to run. Thus the Bengals probably won't be "up to snuff" in the relays.

Fortunately, however, most of their strength has been in field events and individual track events.

Hartsfield listed probable starters in the various events, as follows:

100 yard dash — Willis Harrison and Randy Beard.
220 yard dash — Harrison and Beard.
440 yard dash — David McCommas and David Wittee.
880 yard run — Freddy Murphy.
mile run — Craig Allred.
high hurdles — Gary Patterson.
intermediate hurdles — Larry Allen.
high jump — Jeff Stewart.
borad jump — Leon McKnight.
pole vault — Mark Gilstrap.
shot put and discus — Jerry McKinney, Herbert Hodges and Mike Line.
440 yard relay and mile relay.

V'ball Girls Vie Today

The Snyder High School volleyball team will host Sweetwater in a match today at the Tiger gym. The program is to begin at 6:30 p.m. After today's matches, the Snyder girls do not return to action until next Tuesday when they go to Lamesa for a match. The district tournament is scheduled for April 4 in Colorado City.

Also today, Lamar and Travis volleyball teams tangled in a program in the Texas gym beginning at 4 p.m. The slate called for matches between the 8th grade A and B teams and the 9th grade team of both schools. The Junior teams are slated to compete in a tournament at Big Spring Saturday, then they close their slate with another confrontation between each other beginning at 4 p.m., Thursday, March 26, at the high school gym.

Golf Team Gets Ready

The Snyder High School golf team held qualifying rounds yesterday to determine who will compete in the first District match at Lamesa Saturday.

"If the weather permits," said Coach J. P. Ward, "we'll go over there this afternoon to get in a practice round."

As a result of yesterday's rounds, the first team will be comprised of Phil Ator, Ronald Ward, Glen Rambin, Art Kidd and Sammy Baker. Glen apparently is sufficiently recovered from a knee injury to compete in the match.

The second Snyder team will consist of Steve Boydstun, Terry Rannefeld, Tod Lambert, Mitch Butler and Mike Kerley.

The match Saturday begins at 9 o'clock in the morning.

Wall Street Report Presents Dim Picture For Investors

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The financial situation on Wall Street, financial capital of the world, is not one to inspire confidence. Some observers, in fact, speak of a crisis of investor confidence.

Red ink is smeared on brokerage house books. For a while it looked as if such problems affected fringe operators only. But now it is very clear that the establishment itself is in serious trouble.

This is the darkest side of the picture:

Bache & Co., second largest brokerage house in the country, lost $8.7 million in the 12 months ended January 31. Francis I. DuPont & Co., another giant, lost $7.7 million before taxes.

Goodbody & Co. held its losses to less than $1 million but now must consider consolidating some of its 105 branches after its accountants noted that last year's dismal fortune followed like a shadow in 1970.

Other firms are precariously balanced between profits and losses and are desperately seeking an increase in commissions. One company, Kleiner Bell, simply withdrew from selling stocks.

Hayden Stone Inc. has apparently averted a capital crisis through the infusion of $17.5 million by some Oklahoma investors. But other firms may not be so lucky.

Gregory & Sons is being liquidated because of problems with insufficient capital to conduct its affairs. Two other firms, Amott Baker & Co. and Pickard & Co., also are being liquidated with aid of N.Y. Stock Exchange personnel.

Another big firm, McDonnell & Co., soon will be in the same situation, having already announced that it was giving up the ghost amid financial, bookkeeping and personal problems. It too was one of the largest.

Nine brokerage houses are now under restrictions from the NYSE, meaning that until they resolve various problems they must turn away business. This figure, however, is an improvement; months ago 48 firms were restricted.

Latest figures show that $1.46 billion in certificates are listed as "fails," meaning that following transactions, brokers have failed to deliver to each other that amount of certificates within five business days.

But large as that figure is, it too is a considerable improvement. At one time in late 1968 there were $4.1 billion of certificates undelivered.

Some brokers were so confused in those days that certificates were simply lost within their offices. But it is feared many millions of dollars worth have been stolen, a matter now being investigated by state and federal officials.

During the glory days of the roaring sixties, when stocks rose like kites and everyone made money, some brokers and mutual fund managers were idolized. Now some of their activities are being investigated.

As fortunes changed on Wall Street, the business of small investors was blamed for being a drain on finances. His efforts to buy stock were thwarted by uncooperative brokers. He was turned away.

Now, however, that situation also may have taken a subtle turn, and some high ranking securities officials are concerned that maybe the small investor will stay away of his own accord.

Remarks College Heads Tire Of

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that a college president gets tired of hearing:

"There's a delegation of outraged students waiting to see you, sir."

"Your office will be quite shipshape, Dr. Bedrock, as soon as we finish sweeping up the broken window glass."

"Do you teach anything at this place except rebellion?"

"Certainly the board feels you deserve a raise, Dr. Bedrock, but let's look at it realistically. After all, you're already earning more than a master plumber."

"There's a delegation of outraged alumni waiting to see you, sir."

"It was bad enough for them to scatter your confidential files to the winds, Dr. Bedrock, but when they also stole your Phi Beta Kappa key—well, that's really playing dirty pool."

"Good old Cobweb College. No wonder I'm sentimental about it. Some of the best riots of my life were fought here."

"It's the mayor on the phone, sir. He says he's sorry but he has to have his police force back. City Hall is under attack."

"In a way I envy you fellows who live the academic life. It helps protect you from having to face reality."

"No, this isn't a battlefield. It's our campus."

"I know you must be starving, sir. If you'll give me permission, I'll try to break through their picket lines and bring you back a sandwich. Even though they know I'm your secretary, I don't think they'll strike an old woman."

"I hate to twist the arm of an old classmate, Bedrock, old buddy, but for old times' sake can't you overrule your admissions committee and get my son in some how? He lasted almost a full semester at his last college."

"There's a delegation of outraged parents waiting to see you, sir."

"It's the governor on the phone, sir. He says he's sorry but he'll have to withdraw the National Guard troops in order to protect the State Capitol. It's surrounded by a delegation of outraged taxpayers."

"Of course, we will admire your scholarly reputation, Dr. Bedrock, but what this college needs is more endowment money. To put it bluntly, you'll have to get it or go."

"About the only real emergency we have to confront this morning, Dr. Bedrock, involves the student infirmary. They're out of birth control pills again—and there's a full moon tonight."

"I don't mind them hanging you in effigy, sir, but that thing they are hanging doesn't really look much like you."

"There's a delegation of outraged student athletes' wives waiting to see you, sir. They say they can't live on what we pay their husbands."

North Vietnamese Drive Farther South In Laos

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The North Vietnamese drove farther south in Laos today and more thousands fled before their advance.

Laotian military sources said the North Vietnamese pushed out from the Sam Thong base they captured Wednesday and attacked an outpost five miles north of Long Cheng.

The sources also said the North Vietnamese fired four rockets at Long Cheng, headquarters of Gen. Vang Pao and his 7,000-man guerrilla army of Meo tribesmen which the United States finances, equips and trains. The rockets burned several houses, but no casualties were reported, the informants said.

The sources said as many as 18,000 civilians and soldiers had been evacuated from the Long Cheng area because of the buildup by the North Vietnamese and their Pathet Lao allies.

At the Vientiane airport 80 miles to the south, Air America transport planes unloaded both civilians and soldiers from Long Cheng. Most of the soldiers were in uniform and carrying weapons. Some were wounded but able to walk.

There was no immediate report on whether U.S. Central Intelligence Agency personnel who had been at Long Cheng, had left.

Long Cheng is 10 miles southeast of Sam Thong, and Sam Thong is 15 miles southwest of the Plain of Jars, which the North Vietnamese recaptured in February.

Since the 1962 Geneva agreement that was supposed to make Laos a neutral state, Communist forces had never pushed into the Sam Thong-Long Cheng area although they held the Plain of Jars until last summer. Many observers had thought they would content themselves in the current offensive with a drive west across central Laos to the Vientiane-Luang Prabang highway, taking only what they lost last summer when Vang Pao's army drove across the Plain of Jars.

There were no reports of new fighting at Sam Thong although Laotian sources claimed government troops still were on the edge of the village and base and in control of two hilltops to the north and south.

One American helicopter pilot landed briefly in the Sam Thong area Wednesday and picked up three wounded Laotian soldiers. He said a U.S. aid warehouse and 10 houses for U.S. military attaches had been destroyed by fire.

The 16 Americans stationed at Sam Thong and more than 2,000 tribesmen and peasants including 200 hospital patients were flown out before the North Vietnamese moved in.

The observer said the American-operated hospital was still standing. Earlier reports said it had burned. The pilot said the hospital had been confused with the warehouse because of haze.

He said he talked to Gen. Vang Pao at Long Cheng and found the general as "in good shape but tired."

Fire Officials Forbid Dance

CHICAGO (AP) — Fire officials have forbidden members of the audience to dance on stage at the finale of the rock musical "Hair."

Frances Murphy, head of the city's Fire Prevention Bureau, said that 150 persons crowding onto the stage constituted a fire hazard. Members of the musical said they plan to fight the fire order in court.

The musical traditionally has had members of the audience join performers in a final dance number, although the London production did not.

Junior Editors Quiz on OBOES

QUESTION: Why is an entire orchestra tuned to the A of the oboe?

ANSWER: If you attend a concert featuring a large symphony orchestra — we hope you will do so — you will notice how at the beginning, before the music is actually played, the various players will start tuning their instruments. One thin, reedy note seems to penetrate between the other tones. This is the A of the oboe, and the others are adjusting their instruments so that their own A's are exactly like this one in pitch. Without such an adjustment the beautiful orchestra tone would be a fearful jangle of discord. We should remember that big modern orchestras came into being when the members of the violin family — violin, viola, violoncello and double bass — had become perfected and the wonderful richness and flexibility of these string instruments had been realized. But such stringed instruments have a weakness. The continual down pressure by the players fingers tends to change the pitch of the sensitive strings, so that a violin player usually has to retune his violin between pieces. One of the reasons that wind instruments were added to the orchestra was that they lose their perfect pitch less easily. This is particularly true of the oboe, which is built around the pitch of a standard A which has 440 vibrations per second. Possession of this pitch together with a clear, penetrating tone, make the oboe the ideal instrument to act as a pitch setter for the rest of the orchestra.

Patients Testing Docto

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — Seventy patients at a Glasgow hospital are consulting a polite computer; and some prefer it to a human doctor.

The patients at the Southern General Hospital are taking part in 20-minute experimental consultations with the machine, called Docto.

It types out questions about their ailments, and to reply the patient presses keys marked Yes, No and I don't know.

One hundred questions are programmed, and the computer always says please and thank you.

"People have established a rapport with the computer," said Dr. Chris Evans, an experimental psychologist who taught the machine its manners.

"The computer has been given a personality. It is like a person talking, and I am working on a voice for it."

The patients all see specialists after Docto's interview, and the findings of man and machine are compared.

"We have some months more of exploration, but, depending on the results, a computer might be able to take over from a doctor in collecting evidence for case histories," said Prof. Wilfrid Cad of Glasgow University, who is in charge of the project.

UN Council Approves Resolution

By THE ASSOCIATED-PRESS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council approved a compromise resolution Wednesday calling on member states to sever all transportation links and diplomatic relations with the white minority government in Rhodesia.

The council adopted the resolution 14 to 0 after the United States and Britain vetoed a tougher African-Asian resolution Tuesday night. That measure would have urged U.N. members to cut all means of communication with Rhodesia and condemned Britain's refusal to use force against its former colony, where the government declared a republic March 1.

U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost voted for the compromise resolution with reservations, saying: "We have serious doubts about the wisdom of seeking to impose a complete ban on all surface transportation." He had said he cast the first U.S. veto in history against the earlier resolution because the United States could not support a resolution designed to isolate its citizens living in Rhodesia.

Moslems Smash Chinese Holmes

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Thousands of Moslems smashed and burned Chinese homes and shops in a six-hour rampage in the North Sulawesi Celebes capital of Menado after they claimed a Chinese insulted "the name of the prophet Mohammed," the official Antara news agency reported today.

There were no immediate reports of any deaths as the mobs surged through the town, Antara said.

The Moslems burned a Chinese temple to the ground and stoned a Christian church and a building occupied by the Roman Catholic youth secretariat, the agency reported.

St. Patrick Parade Goes Back To 1776

NEW YORK (AP) — The first St. Patrick's Day parade ever held in the United States took place here on March 17, 1776—a few weeks before the Declaration of Independence was signed. The Grand Marshal of that first parade was Gen. George Washington. Washington held honorary membership in the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, an organization founded in Philadelphia in 1771. Unlike the 194th parade up Fifth Avenue this year, the first St. Patrick's Day parade was entirely military in nature.

Since then many other American cities—Chicago, Boston, Cleveland, San Francisco, Detroit, Dallas, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Newark, Jersey City, Mineola, Yonkers and Garden City, N.Y., have inaugurated parades on St. Patrick's Day. And in Canada, the city of Montreal has a parade of its own to honor the saint on March 17.

ICOA Holding Special Assembly

MONTREAL (AP) — The International Civil Aviation Organization is holding special assembly June 16 to discuss ways of dealing with terrorists who put bombs aboard airliners or commit other acts endangering air travelers.

Ten European governments asked for the assembly after the explosions last month that sent a Tel Aviv-bound Swissair jet into a crash that killed 47 persons and forced an Austrian airliner into an emergency landing.

Houston Carriers To Remain On Job

HOUSTON (AP) — Letter carriers in Houston voted Wednesday night to remain on the job.

Sam A. Madonio, president of Local 283 of the National Association of Letter Carriers, called a meeting to discuss the strike by metropolitan New York postal workers.

Madonio said he would attend a conference in Washington Friday called by the president of the national association.

"We've been getting the crumbs on pay instead of the loaf too long," Madonio said earlier Wednesday.

Bridge partner overplays hand

By Abigail Van Buren

1970 by Chicago Tribune N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: We're new in town. My husband's company transferred him here. I met a very nice woman at a women's club meeting and we hit it off very well. Since she and her husband are bridge players and so are we, I invited them here for an evening of cards. The husbands also seemed to like each other, so we had several fun evenings of bridge with them.

Well, at their house last evening, the husband of my friend started playing "footsies" with me under the bridge table. I tried moving my foot as far out of his reach as I could, until I nearly slid off my chair, but that didn't help much.

I didn't want to risk a scene because I really like his wife, but I was quite upset.

I certainly don't want this friendship to develop into anything like that, so how do you think I should handle it if he starts in again where he left off? DOUBLE IN SPADES

DEAR DOUBLE: At the first opportunity, get "Daddy Long Legs" alone and tell him his footwork is fine, but he's overplaying his hand. In other words, you got his message, and the answer is NO!

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my mother-in-law. Rick and I were married last summer and are living with his parents as this is our last year of college, and frankly, the price is right.

Rick and I have our own bedroom, but we have absolutely no privacy. Like none. Rick's mother (I call her "The Inspector General") is forever bursting into our bedroom, unannounced, to "see if the windows are closed," or "if the radiator is on," or if "all the lights are out."

Yesterday I was standing in the hallway when she burst right into the bathroom, knowing that Rick had gone in there to shower. (She said she had to get the soiled towels.) She opened the door wide—and there stood Rick, stark naked!

Naturally he was mad, and shouted "mother!" So she calmly said, "Oh, be quiet, I used to diaper YOU."

So, if you know a nice way to get the message across to my mother-in-law that we'd like a little privacy, will you please let me know? STUMPED IN MADISON

DEAR STUMPED: Other than telling her, the key to the situation could be a key for those doors.

DEAR ABBY: You have printed much about kids who study with loud noise for a background, many say they cannot study without it.

It became my duty to navigate long range aircraft. It took lots of work to learn to do the rapid, intricate task despite the noise. I used to get lost just because my thinking was made fuzzy, and that meant even more, harder work to find myself again in time. But I learned, like all the rest.

The noise did another thing. Hours of it, not nearly as loud as the kids play their music, damaged my auditory nerve, destroyed my high frequency hearing. I can no longer understand conversation if there is a background noise—even a whispering fan—and no hearing aid can be fitted to help. Like so many others, I was grounded to keep me away from the noise; that cost me about $60,000 in flight pay. And being primarily a pilot, now of no further use in that job, the noise-caused hearing loss cost me the potentially best part of my career and caused me to become— F. C. WARE

Laird Receives No Confidence Vote

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — Laredo Junior College President Ray A. Laird received a 28-13 no confidence vote from the school's faculty senate Wednesday.

The ballot followed a student boycott called because four instructors were not rehired.

The resolution, approved in a closed session Tuesday, stated there was "no due cause" for denying the instructors tenure.

Dr. Laird said he refused to renew contracts of the teachers because he wanted to upgrade the quality of the faculty. He said the unnamed instructors were adequate but not exceptional.

Mervil Moore, acting board of trustees president, said he would bring up the matter at a special board session as soon as he receives formal word of the no confidence vote.
