Ford Airplane and Daredevil Draw Crowds

Over Two Hundred People Take Rides in Giant Monoplane

More than two hundred people, big and little, experienced their first plane ride Monday when the giant tri-motored Ford plane landed at Yoder Field. During the day more than 1,500 people were at the field, and it was estimated that when "Shorty" Raddack made his parachute leap, at least four thousand people were either on the field or close to it.

C. W. Kenyon, owner of the plane and resident of Morrow, Minn., stated Tuesday morning that Snyder turned out the greatest crowd and the largest number of passengers ever enjoyed by the big plane on any Monday since they put the ship out for passenger-carrying. Mr. Kenyon also stated, "There were more children who took their first ride here than at any point we have ever visited."

R. S. Riggs, pilot of the plane and native-born Texan, stated that Yoder Field was a fine spot to land and was optimistic over the future of the local airport. Of rejoicing thought was the added impetus given to aviation outside of Snyder in the fact that the largest plane now in commercial air work landed without the slightest bit of trouble here and that plenty of landing space is at the field.

The big plane left the field Tuesday morning en route to Slaton where it spent the day. Yesterday they were at Plainview where the Panhandle Plains Dairy Show is on. Bill Hutchinson and Lon Faver were passengers in the plane when it left here.

Snyder showed its air-mindedness in turning out a wonderful crowd, and the only regret expressed was the non-arrival of the Monocoupe plane which had originally planned to fly here from Big Spring.

PLENTY OF PUBLICITY

Photographer M. E. Miles spent several days this week in taking pictures of newly erected homes in Snyder, which with an article of the remarkable building program that has been on here will aid in securing a large amount of publicity for the coming meeting of the Seventh District, Texas Federated Women's Clubs. The First Methodist Church will be used for the meetings instead of the First Baptist Church as originally announced.

NEW SIGN PAINTER LOCATES IN SNYDER

A. E. Harvey has opened up a new sign shop on the east side of the square and is equipped for all types of work. Mr. Harvey arrived here from Birmingham, Ala., last week and is a nephew of Mrs. Sam Larue. Mrs. Harvey arrived with her husband, and the Times-Signal is happy to welcome these newcomers to Snyder.

FIRST TRADES DAY IS BIG SUCCESS

The first Trades Day last Monday was a success, even with the big Ford plane as a counter attraction. Good prices were secured for what was sold, and "Red" Townsend was in his glory selling the goods. Sec'y Watt Scott was on the job and hopes these first Mondays will be welcomed by county farmers who have anything they want to sell.

ANTI-BRIDGE PARTY WINS ELECTION

The election Tuesday proved beyond the shadow of a doubt that the voting strength of Snyder wants no bridge west of the post office at this time. In the East Ward where the only contest was on, Casstevens defeated Bell 46 to 3.

With only 143 votes cast in the city election Tuesday, Snyder witnessed the quietest election in many years. Three aldermen were named, as follows: H. L. Wren, North Ward; Sam Casstevens, East Ward; Earl Brown, West Ward.

Dr. J. G. Hicks and Joda Monroe withdrew their names from the tickets late last week.

Chautauqua to Begin Monday

Monday will mark the opening of the Snyder Chautauqua when a four day program will open with George Staples and Company in baffling magic and unique cartooning.

Four night performances and one matinee show will be given, with Olivar's Phillipine Troubadours occupying the Tuesday night bill and E. Jefferson Gardner, lecturer, the third night.

Next Thursday afternoon Smiling Bob Hanscom and associates will give the dramatic success "Smiling Thru" with another performance by the same players at night.

The advance sale of tickets has exceeded the guarantee necessary to make the chautauqua here a success.

GAS COMPANY JOINS IN SPRING CLEAN-UP

A spring beautification and clean-up campaign has been started by the Lone Star Gas Company for all of its stations and buildings throughout the territory it serves, including Snyder. Through this means the company is attempting to do its part in aiding all towns and cities in its territory in spring clean-up plans.

The metering station of the company located near the city limits is to be dressed up by planting shrubbery and leveling off the ground around the building. Where fences around the buildings and bridges over streams are necessary, these will be built. These buildings house finely adjusted instruments for measuring the supply of gas which comes into the city.

Plans for the beautification were suggested by J. A. Martin, superintendent of transportation and maintenance of the company, with headquarters in Dallas. The local manager, L. M. Scholl, is aiding in the work.

The company, which now supplies more than 230 towns and cities in Texas and Southern Oklahoma, maintains approximately 250 such stations scattered over a territory larger than many entire states. The company now has more than 3,200 miles of main pipe line and supplies more than 250,000 domestic consumers. In preparation for the expected demand of next winter and the following years the company is planning a new huge pipeline for transporting additional gas from the vast fields in Oklahoma and the Panhandle district of Texas to Fort Worth and Dallas, capable of handling 100,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily. The Texas Panhandle field is the largest gas field in the world.

Preparations are under way for the annual May Fete Day that will be held in the new athletic stadium. Homer F. Springfield will direct the pageant this year which insures a real entertainment.

J. C. Penney To Open Within Next Ten Days

New Fixtures and Stock Are Being Installed For Big Opening

The J. C. Penney Company, the largest retail department store organization in the world, expects to open its new Snyder store within the next ten days, according to Manager H. H. Thomas, who has been on the ground floor here getting the plant in readiness. Store fixtures which have been in transit for some time have held up getting the store ready.

Manager Thomas related to a Times-Signal reporter yesterday that the new Snyder store is one of the 500 new stores to be opened this year in the chain which already totals over 1,200 units.

Stock will include a full line of ready-to-wear garments in men's, women's and children's lines, footwear, haberdashery, millinery, lingerie, piece goods, cosmetics, notions with the newest style elements and will be one of the most complete stocks ever shown in this city according to advance statements from the merchandising department of the organization.

In its relation to the community, the store will operate as a local business house in its banking connections and, so far as is possible, in the building up of the store personnel.

The J. C. Penney Co. was founded in Kemmerrer, Wyo., 27 years ago by the man whose name it bears. The present organization, which covers 47 states, is the outgrowth of the mother store which did $28,000 in business its first year. Last year total sales of the company were in excess of $176,000,000.

Mr. Penney, the founder, and now chairman of the board of directors, has, for the past several years, devoted a large portion of his time to the development of agricultural and dairying interests.

He is also interested in philanthropic work and in publishing, being president of the Christian Herald Association.

His dairy herd of purebred Guernsey cattle at Emmadine Farm in New York is one of the outstanding herds of the world and has been shown at all leading state fairs and dairy exhibitions for the past five years.

He has recently become chairman of the board of Foremost Dairy Products, Inc., a $5,000,000 dairy company operating 26 dairies in five states in the Southeastern part of the country.

At the town of Penney Farms, Florida, he is operating an agricultural enterprise which has recently attracted widespread attention because of the cooperative method employed in making resident farmers into farm owners.

There are 120,000 acres in the Penney Farms tract, and extensive experiments are being carried on in raising Satsuma oranges, tung oil trees, potatoes, corn, small grains as well as in dairying, poultry raising and turkeys.

With hundreds of cities and towns bidding through their civic organizations for J. C. Penny Co. stores, the officials have confined their selection to communities in which local conditions have been comparable to the best business conditions in the leading cities throughout the country.

NEW CHEVROLETS HAVE PRETTY COLORS

Watching the new Chevrolet as it moves gracefully through traffic or presses forward eagerly on some highway, you may have wondered how its various color blendings are conceived, and why they appear in such profusion. You might have guessed that so alert an organization as General Motors does nothing haphazardly, that there must be a special department in charge of color creation. And if such was your guess, you were right.

The Art and Color Division of General Motors is the source of all the color schemes which enhance every General Motors car from the graceful Chevrolet to the baronial Cadillac. Here colors are evolved systematically, the same degree of efficiency prevailing that is found in the sales and manufacturing divisions. Nothing is left to guess work.

The studio, in charge of Captain H. Ledyard Towle, has a research department without any known duplicate in the world. Chief among its functions is to keep the art staff constantly posted as to the fluctuating color preferences in America and abroad, for styles in color as in other things, are known to move in cycles.

DETOUR TO WESTBROOK IS IN BAD CONDITION

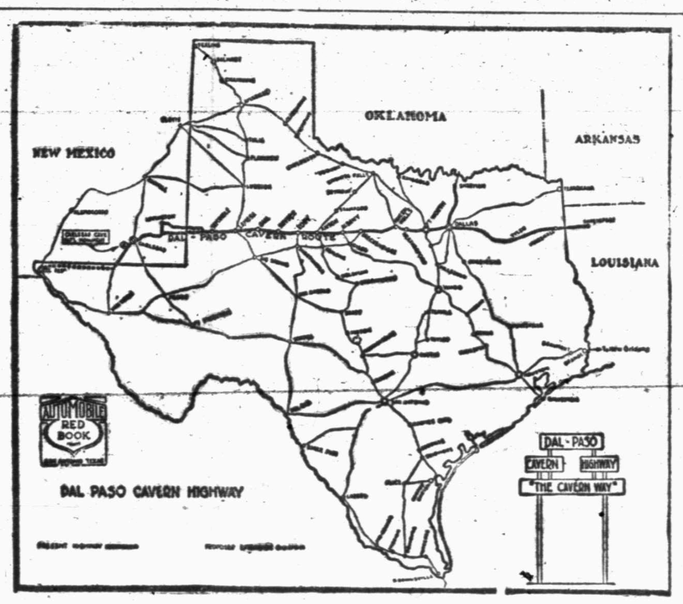

Frequent complaints are heard about the condition of the south detour to Westbrook, by way of which all west-bound traffic is directed by signs leading from the city. The road is said to be so rough in places that cars are forced to barely creep along. This detour is exceptionally bad in wet weather, owing to the clay formation, and is almost impassable in places.

Iatan Flats has also afforded pretty rough traveling, but was being gone over with road drags last Saturday and Monday.—Colorado Record.

LEAVES FOR AMARILLO

Mr. and Mrs. "Bill" Autry left for Amarillo Tuesday where Mr. Autry has accepted a position as foreman of the Southwestern Plainsman. Mr. Autry, who owned a two-thirds interest in the Snyder News, has sold his holdings to J. A. Autry. "Bill," as everyone knows him, is an old home guard here, and the best wishes of his many friends join the Times-Signal in wishing him every success in the new field.

DAL-PASO MAP TO BE MADE

Snyder as well as every important point on the Dal-Paso Cavern Highway are going to receive more constructive advertising during 1929 than at any time in the history of the route, with the issuance of a new road map that will give every detail.

Work was started last week on the compilation of a new and revised log and map of the Dal-Paso Highway by T. A. Keene, publisher of the Automobile Red Book, of San Antonio, in collaboration with the Dal-Paso Highway Association, through its secretary, William A. Wilson of Lamesa, says the Dallas News.

Keene will relog the entire road from El Paso to Dallas and it will be shown in the red on the new 1929 Red Book maps, to be issued April 25. With the issuance of the maps a series of stories regarding the road and the caverns located twenty-nine miles southwest of Carlsbad, N. M., will be begun in the papers throughout the Southwest.

Keene said that from the present trend of travel over the country, that the year 1929 will be a banner one and the Dal-Paso highway should receive its share of the travel. If the motorists of Texas and Oklahoma and other Southwestern states were more familiar with scenery within the cave and its size, there would be a tremendous rush to see it this year, Keene declared. For the benefit of the general motoring public, a complete and concise story regarding the caverns will be published, together with scenes from important points along the route, stories of the various places and views of hotels and tourist camps, garages, service stations on the new maps, which will be printed in rotogravure colors and red.

Newspaper articles concerning the cavern and the highway will begin early in April. A great number of stories will be illustrated, as a majority of the papers desire to show scenes of the Carlsbad Caverns.

All cities and towns between El Paso and Dallas will be visited on the trip, and it is expected that the new maps will be complete in every detail as to the scenes and stories about the towns. State Highway No. 1 will be covered from Dallas to nine miles west of Albany, where a short run is made up to No. 18, to its junction with No. 83, which leads direct to Carlsbad through Anson, Roby, Snyder, Gail, Lamesa, Seminole and through Southeastern New Mexico through Hobbs to Carlsbad. At present the road is paved to nine miles west of Albany, thence graveled to the Jones County line. It is paved across that county and there is good graded dirt to within sixty-seven miles of Carlsbad, which is a Federal aid improved gravel-surfaced highway.

Both the Dal-Paso Highway Association and the Automobile Red Book will mail copies of the new maps all over the United States to the principal touring bureaus, chambers of commerce, automobile clubs and other institutions handling motor travel, with a view of encouraging more traffic into Texas and Carlsbad. The highway passes through Fort Worth, Weatherford, Mineral Wells, Caddo, Breckenridge, Albany and thence from Albany through Snyder on to the caverns. From Carlsbad it traverses the country southwest of Van Horn, and through Sierra Blanca to El Paso, over State Highway No. 1, or the Broadway of America.

"Buy at Home Campaigns Suggested by Retail Merchants Ass'n of Texas

Timely suggestions as to how to conduct "Buy at Home" campaigns have been sent to the Snyder Retail Merchants Association by the Retail Merchants Association of Texas, with headquarters at San Antonio. Some of the suggestions are as follows:

A campaign of this kind can only be successful if the merchants of the town co-operate and get behind the movement whole-heartedly and with determination to win. A plan of action should be outlined in advance but it is not necessary to spend a large amount of money. We feel that the following suggestions may be helpful.

Maintain a good, active Retail Merchants Association and boost your town home town, boost everything your town produces, everything it has for sale and everything that is connected with it.

Agree upon a slogan, have it printed and displayed in the stores, as for instance, "Buy it in Snyder, patronize your home merchants and your industries." Stick a sign of this on every show-window, in front of the post office, the city hall and every other public place.

Us your slogan in all your advertising, get your local paper full of advertising and mention your "Buy at Home" slogan in every advertisement.

Run a buy at home advertisement in your newspaper from time to time as you find it necessary or convenient, and your editor will back it up in the news columns.

Print your slogan on all of your letterheads, on your billheads, and envelopes, and print it on every piece of literature you are sending out to your customers.

Have a speaker at all of your big gatherings to make a few remarks on the advantages of buying at home, urge your citizens to back up the movement and help to build up the community by patronizing home business and home merchnats.

Make arrangements with the ministers of your churches to back up the movement whenever an opportunity presents itself. They will be glad to co-operate with you.

Do not forget to make your stores attractive. Attractive show-windows and attractive store entrances, newly painted and varnished store fixtures, clean floors and clean walls help a great deal to bring business, to attract customers and to hold them.

Arrange for the necessary accommodations of the shopping public, as for instance, fresh drinking water, convenient seats for resting, rest rooms, etc.

Efficiency on the part of the sales force and the business management is, of course, one of the principal factors for success.

HANGAR STARTED MONDAY AT AIRPORT

Yoder Field is to be further enhanced in aviation appearance with a fine 80x60 hangar, which when inspected by the Department of Commerce representative will give Snyder a Class B rating insofar as a landing field is concerned.

Mr. Yoder, original airplane enthusiast in Snyder, started the work Monday, and as quickly as the iron is received here from Wheeling, W. Va., and it is on the way, not only the hangar but the Cabin Inns will be completed, which will likewise hasten dedication ceremonies.

Snyder proved beyond the shadow of a doubt Monday that the city and county both are sold on "air-mindedness." Folks from every section of the county were here, along with Post, Lubbock, Colorado, Roby, Rotan, Loraine and Lamesa represented.

SNYDER IS INVITED TO TAHOKA MEETING

Invitations are being received in Snyder to attend the district meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Tahoka April 24th. The program there includes a speaking contest in which high school students will compete for a prize, the subject being "My Home Town."

Snyder will send a delegation to attend the Tahoka meeting, according to Sec'y Watt Scott.

PASTOR TO ARRIVE

Rev. Thomas M. Broadfoot, newly elected pastor of the First Christian Church, is expected to arrive here this week with his family and occupy the pulpit for the first time next Sunday.

J. C. SEABOURN DIES HERE LAST FRIDAY

James Cleveland Seabourn, 44, old time resident of Scurry County, died at his home in the Bethel community Friday, March 29. Funeral services were held the following day at the Snyder Church of Christ, with W. M. Speck in charge.

Mr. Seabourn was born in Parker County and lived there until he came to Scurry County with his parents 22 years ago. He united with the Church of Christ at an early age, and four years ago placed his membership in the Church of Christ at Bethel.

He was married to Effie Mae Brotherton on November 22, 1922. He is survived by his wife, his father, W. B. Seabourn, six sisters, Mrs. J. T. Ramsey, Mrs. J. E. Davis, Mrs. A. B. Eicke, Mrs. C. W. Huckabee, and Miss Ruth Seabourn, all of Snyder, and two brothers, J. R. Seabourn of Sabinal and Joe Seabourn of Big Spring. His mother and one brother preceded him in death.

MITCHELL COUNTY GETS SECOND LARGE GAS WELL

The second sensational gas well in the new Ellwood field south of Colorado blew in Friday morning at a depth of 610 feet, making an estimated flow of about 20,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

The well is Simms Oil Company's Ellwood No. 2, 330 feet east and 660 feet north of the discovery well, in section 29, block 18, S. P. survey, Mitchell County. The Ellwood No. 1 blew in recently making about 12,000,000 feet of sweet gas.

MRS. E. B. BAUGH DIES HERE TUESDAY

Friends of many years gathered at the family residence yesterday to pay their last respects to Mrs. E. B. Baugh, who died Tuesday following an illness of several years. Mrs. Baugh, who was born in Murphreesboro, Tenn., on February 13, 1850, was one of seven children. Walter Wasson and Mrs. Z. P. Gillum, living in this county, are a brother and sister.

She came to Johnson County, Texas, in 1878 and was married in 1882 to E. B. Baugh, who with a son, Bert Baugh, and one daughter, Mrs. Estelle Wiley, survive her. The deceased joined the Christian Church in 1862 and maintained her membership to the last. The family moved to Snyder in 1889.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon with Bro. W. M. Speck officiating, assisted by Rev. G. S. Hardy.

The many friends of this fine family join with the Times-Signal in extending sincerest condolences to the bereaved husband and family. God's infinite wisdom creates a haven of rest for mothers such as Mrs. Baugh.

CHURCH OF CHRIST REVIVAL MEETING OPENS

Great interest has been displayed in the series of revival meetings that opened last night at the Church of Christ. Minister W. M. Speck has announced a series of sermons, with E. M. Taylor leading the singing. The church is extending a welcome to all to join in the meetings.

FARMERS PRODUCE CO. MOVING TO BRIDGE ST.

The Farmers Produce will be moving to the Bridgeman building next door to the Times-Signal soon. We sure want to welcome this fine firm as next door neighbors and hope their removal brings them increased business and that they will continue to enjoy a fine trade.

NEW EGG AND CREAM FIRM LOCATES HERE

The Titman Egg Corporation, whose main offices are in New York, and the Mistletoe Creameries have opened up a branch plant here in the room formerly occupied by the Chrysler agency. Bob Terry is the local manager and expressed satisfaction for business already given the new firms, who got under way Friday.

W. T. C. C. MEMBERS WANTED NEXT WEEK

E. H. Whitehead and L. B. Campbell of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will arrive in Snyder next week for the annual membership canvass for Snyder. This city has always been loyal to the parent organization, and it is hoped more than fifty memberships will be secured here during the campaign.

Mrs. Stewart Womack has opened "The Vogue," a ready-to-wear and millinery shop, which is located five doors north of the Snyder National Bank on Scarborough Street.

Mrs. C. R. Buchanan was honored yesterday at Breckenridge by being elected secretary of missionary education of the Abilene Presbyterial.

Much Interest Shown at Fair Mass Meeting

Department Heads Named and Dates Set for Big County Fair

September 26, 27, and 28 will be red letter days in the history of Scurry County when the annual county fair is held, judging from the response shown at the meeting Saturday.

Plans were laid for another mass meeting for April 15, when another meeting will be held at 3 o'clock in the county court room.

The executive committee for the Scurry County Fair Association includes O. P. Thrane, president; J. J. Koonsman, first vice president; Harrie Winston, second vice-president; Harvey Shuler, secretary-treasurer; J. A. Merritt, Hugh Taylor, Joe Caton.

Smith, publicity; Harrie Winston, general superintendent livestock; J. J. Koonsman, superintendent beef cattle; J. W. Scott, dairy cattle; Tom Huffman, swine; L. N. Periman, sheep and goats; John Spears, horses and mules; John L. Webb, dog show; C. C. Redman, vocational agriculture; Mrs. Joe Caton, general superintendent ladies' department; Miss Jessie Lee Davis, home demonstration clubs; Ernest Taylor, finance.

EASTER CANTATA AT METHODIST CHURCH

The Easter cantata, "Redemption's Song," as given Sunday night at the First Methodist Church, was a huge success and was attended by a capacity crowd that enjoyed every moment of the hour's program.

The solo, quartette and ensemble numbers showed careful training and with Conductor E. D. Curry in charge the program moved with a dash that showed extraordinary work had been used in the special effort for the program. Mrs. A. G. Preuitt at the piano added a great deal to the success of the program with Mr. Curry's directing superb.

The members of the choir who participated were:

Sopranos: Mrs. W. W. Hamilton, Mrs. W. W. Smith, Mrs. Mary Waskam, Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, Mrs. L. G. Ely, Mrs. A. M. Curry, Mrs. Joe Caton, Miss Lillian Walton.

Altos: Mrs. Geo. D. Dixon, Mrs. C. C. Higgins, Mrs. E. F. Wicker, Mrs. W. B. Lemons, Mrs. Homer Snyder.

Tenors: I. H. Walton, L. P. Merwin, A. C. Preuitt.

Basses: D. P. Yoder, W. J. Ely, J. W. Ely, Adrian Rea.

TOWN PROGRESS TALKS

Our town's prosperity is gauged by hat of our business men. They have what they call dull times, when trade is sluggish. Instead of doubling their advertising to combat this condition, some quit entirely, thus making matters worse. This has a bad effect on the town, hence as a matter of town boosting, their attention is called to the advisability of giving business a swift jolt when it shows signs of lapsing into a coma. This dull season is the time to trot out bargains and novelties, and to rearrange the store, making it more attractive. Just as it is necessary to tempt the invalid's appetite with tooth some dainties not on the daily menu, so it is good business to tempt the shopper's dollar with something special during dull seasons.

County Schools Granted More Aid This Week

Supervisor Commends Rural Improvement After Inspection

Inspection of the Scurry County schools was completed yesterday when Frank Van Winkle, a member of the state rural school supervising staff, completed a week's inspection. Increased aid of $4,000 over last year was given when the inspector noted the remarkable advances made in all phases of rural school work and which has been led by County Supt. A. A. Bullock.

After a thorough inspection, the inspector pronounced the rural school system in fine shape and granted the schools a total of $11,300. This amount added to the special aid received on consolidation bonus, industrial equipment and rural high school tuition brings the total of outside aid to the highest sum yet given Scurry County, approximately $16,000, which, as stated before, is something like $4,000 more than in any previous year.

According to County Supt. Bullock, who has given widespread publicity to the Scurry County rural school system, and being one of three editors in the entire state of Texas of a monthly school newspaper, the state grants aid to all rural schools that measure up to the standards set by the State Department of Education. Each school receiving aid must have A-1 equipment with a school house that measures up to the requirements of the state, together with playground equipment and a corps of teachers with professional training and certificate of high school rank and with increased educational rank of the principals.

The industrial aid is given to any school putting in the industrial work such as home economics for girls and vocational training for boys. The bonus for consolidation is given as an encouragement to schools who vision the absolute necessity of grouping their children, $500 going to each district entering a group. Scurry County now boasts of three schools to take advantage of this fine offer to enhance the advancement of education.

County Supt. A. A. Bullock and the county trustees are happy over the fine report made by the state supervisor.

BUILDING PERMITS $12,350 FOR MARCH

Building permits for March totaled $12,350, and included the following:

Mrs. Louise Darby, res.	$2,100
Henry Howard, barn	100
J. O. Stimson, tourist camp	1,000
W. E. Holley, residence	4,000
H. G. Towle, filling station	1,250
King & Brown, repairs	2,000
W. P. King, garage	200
E. W. Huffman, residence	700
R. L. Terry, garage	400
A. C. Preuitt, alterations	400

The March permits added to the two preceding months gives a grand total of $50,250 for the year.

Fines collected during March totaled $121.10, with street tax of $882.00 being turned over to the council Monday night.

Several building projects have been intimated for April.

ORGANIZING RETAIL MERCHANTS ASS'N

Munger Y. Lewis, who was formerly associated with the Retail Merchants Association at Sweetwater, has recently come to Snyder to organize an uptodate Retail Merchants Association here. One of the main features of the new organization will be the installation of the "Hot Check Chain System" as a preventative measure against the cold checkers.

Merchants who belong to the association will have credit reports available on anyone moving to Snyder, as well as knowing the folks who pay their bills promptly.

HOME TALENT PLAY PRESENTED FRIDAY

"Professor Pepp" as produced Friday night by the Snyder High School Choral Club was one of the finest and best presented home talent plays ever given in Snyder. Under the skillful direction of Homer F. Springfield, the various members of the cast showed to perfection in the parts they had been assigned.

The High School Orchestra with vaudeville numbers by Miss Brentz Anderson and Harold Brown, with a saxophone solo by Herman Trigg added spice to the evening's entertainment. A fine crowd was present and enjoyed every minute of the entertainment.

THANK YOU, GEORGE

George E. Johnson, writing from Alton, Illinois, yesterday, in which letter a check was enclosed for another year, said: "Please boost my subscription ahead another year, with $2.50 enclosed." Thanks, George!

The new filling station being built in the rear of the Towle store on Highway No. 7 will soon be ready for occupancy, Bill Hutchinson will be boss and at present is undecided as to what he will name the new place.

H. W. Archer, editor of the Manchester (England) Evening News, says:

"THAT if you must make a song about what you do, you need not make a gramophone record of it.

The rolling stone gathers no moss, but as all events it isn't a tombstone.

If you cannot keep your head up you may as well put your hands up.

Yes, We Are Running a Newspaper; Not a Back-Biter's Official Organ

Most every newspaper that is published today or that has ever reared its editorial head above the horizon has met with some funny experiences from the layman who wants the editor to carry his personal animus to the public, fight his battle and then hide behind the skirts of someone else. The Times-Signal has been no exception to the general rule. Folks with no more spine than a jelly-fish will come and solicit your support for their pet "peeve," but my goodness, they don't want their names mentioned, but they want the editor to stand their battle.

Not long ago a man came to us and wanted us to do a Sherlock Holmes stunt and ascertain "how come" his next door neighbor was making money so fast. It was none of our business, and we told him so. Not 24 hours later the man who asked us was caught red-handed on a county highway in a petting party with a girl twenty years his junior.

All of which is simply a preamble to the masterly editorial that appeared recently in the Jayton Chronicle and which speaks louder than words just what the Times-Signal position is, especially on hear-say and so-called scandal.

Editor L. F. Wade of the Chronicle nobly said under a caption, "Yes, Why Don't We?", the following well-written words:

"One of our readers asked us why we don't write up these folks who get drunk, get into the courts, pay fines, etc., that would be interesting news, and you are publishing a newspaper, aren't you? While we did not say much in answer, we have been doing a little thinking since. You know it's claimed now days that very few folks think any more. Thank goodness, we haven't gotten entirely out of the habit. We know quite a number of our readers wonder why we don't do these things. It's done by the papers in other towns, and the city daily papers play them up big, and yes, why don't we?

"Some may think and a few have hinted that perhaps we haven't the nerve to do it. Well, maybe not, but we have lived 53 years, mostly on nerve, for we never did have an over plus of physical strength, and we hope to keep on living a few years longer. We believe our nerves are alright, but there are some other things to take under consideration.

"The man, the boy, the woman, the girl was never born but what had a mother and father. And while we will admit that there are several around here that seem to have no love or respect for their parents, their wives or their children, and don't particularly deserve any sympathy from us or anyone else, we still have respect for those they seem to have no respect for, and it's against our habit to intentionally and willfully hurt the feelings of any human, when we can with reason avoid doing so. This news that is in fact semi-scandal travels fast enough without the aid of the newspaper, and fathers and mothers this day and age have enough to grieve about without seeing the names of their loved ones played up on the pages of the home paper, in connection with some law violation that has already crushed their hearts and depleted their finances. Take it home to yourself. Suppose it were your boy or your husband, or your wife or your daughter? Wouldn't you much prefer not to see it played up in the 'old home paper?' The Chronicle is here to do good, not evil, to build character, to encourage the right, to help the weak, to be neighborly and kind with our readers, and when it becomes necessary for us to do otherwise in order to get by, we're just quitting, that's all, and leave it up to the other fellow. Call it what you wish to call it, it's immaterial to us. We try to do as we would be done by.

FOR A CLEANER AND MORE ATTRACTIVE COMMUNITY

In March, 1928, the League of Claude Crozet School put on an intensive Clean Up Campaign which extended over a period of six weeks, with the cordial support and co-operation of the community, including churches, merchants, railroad officials, and private individuals. The League Committee met with committees from all the churches, both white and colored, as well as railroad representatives.

Streets were cleaned, pavements improved, fences removed or replaced by better ones, a park laid out at the railroad station, unsightly sign-boards removed and better and safer ones installed. The banks of a stream passing through the northern section of the community were made sanitary and beautified by the planting of annuals. Church committees thoroughly cleaned and improved buildings with repairs and paint. Church grounds were also beautified and improved.

Lot owners of the local cemetery co-operated. Weeds were cleared out, walks and driveways were improved, and permanent flower containers were installed, which add materially to the beauty of the cemetery, located on the public highway.

A far-reaching health program was put on in the school to instill the principles of clean bodies, clean homes and clean premises as essential characteristics of citizenship. These points were emphasized by posters and booklets. An outstanding feature of the campaign was the cleaning and beautifying of the public school building and grounds. The road leading to the school was [illegible] driveways about the building were repaired, and quantities of shrubbery and flowers were set out. Under ordinary conditions this would have been very expensive, but plants were donated by members of garden clubs, generous florists and school patrons. This work was done by the pupils under the direction of the teacher of agriculture. Gravel and sand for the road improvements as well as the trucks to transport it, and the actual work were donated by pupils and patrons.

Striking improvements of the grounds and homes of the negro residents were an outstanding feature of the campaign. The white citizens aided in this by contributing lime, flower seeds, plants, and so forth, not only for private homes but for the negro school and church grounds.

We feel that much lasting good will result for this intensive clean up campaign has made our little town, Crozet, ideally located among Virginia's beautiful mountains, much more attractive to tourists and safer for its residents.

SNYDER NATIONAL BANK

Fluvanna News Notes

Mr. Jas. H. Tate (V. P.) is the authorized correspondent for Fluvanna, and as such is authorized to receive renewal and new subscriptions. Cooperate with him in building a fine weekly news column for this thriving town.

RAIN AND OUTLOOK

The fine rain that fell over the Fluvanna territory on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week, amounting to 1 5-8 inches, gives us a fine surface season and is ample for the starting of grass and early crops. All things considered, the weather of the last few weeks has been fine, and the outlook for a good crop and a prosperous year is very encouraging. If the farmers are careful to keep their weeds under control and conserve their moisture, we may reasonably expect a bountiful harvest.

Church Services

Last Sunday being the fifth, there was no church service here in the morning, but at night a large and attentive audience assembled in the Presbyterian Church where, after an inspiring song service, the pastor delivered a cheering and enthusiastic Easter sermon.

Next Sunday regular preaching services will be held at the Methodist and Fluvanna Baptist Churches.

School Affairs

Fluvanna people are enthusiastic over the splendid work being done in our public school. The teachers are all very faithful to their charges and the students are conducting and applying themselves in a worthy manner.

On Thursday night of this week a play, "A Little Clodhopper," will be put on at the same place where the former play was given.

Superintendent Wedgeworth and the senior girls, Miss Ruth Truss, Nadine Haynes, debaters, and Burline Boynton, declaimer, motored to Post Monday where they met in contest the team from Southland. The Southland contestants are to meet those of the Fluvanna school here on Friday night of next week.

Deaths

Alfred and Mrs. Browning of the Dermott community, had the misfortune of losing their second child, Bob Edward, age one year, on Monday. The funeral service was conducted by the writer at the Fluvanna cemetery in the afternoon of Tuesday. These young parents have our hearty sympathy.

Felix Wheeler, age 24, nephew of Mrs. Louis Beaver of this place, was killed in a car accident at El Paso last Saturday. Mrs. Beaver and daughter, Frances, in company with Bud Shepherd, a brother, of Rotan, left Sunday afternoon for El Paso where they will attend the funeral.

Visits and Trips

D. A. Jones and wife, J. A. J. Jones and wife, John A. and Mrs. Stavely and Wallace H. Jones all made the trip to Midland last Sunday where they attended the Knights Templar Easter service and fraternal dinner. They report a hard drive but a most delightful and profitable occasion.

Mrs. H. H. Haynes left Tuesday for Plainview where she was to attend the Woman's Missionary Annual Conference of the Methodist Church.

J. W. and Emmett Craft and their families, who for several years have resided on a ranch southwest of Fluvanna, departed Saturday afternoon in their touring cars for Cleburne, near which place the Crafts have recently purchased a ranch. Two cars—one an emigrant and the other a stable—were loaded out for the same destination Saturday. We regret to lose these good people from our community. Nevertheless, our best wishes go with them.

J. G. Landrum and family visited relatives in Big Spring last Sunday.

Miss Girline Dane, formerly of this place but now of Fort Worth, made a short visit with the Boynton family here last Sunday.

Lee Lane and family, formerly of this community but now of Weatherford, spent a few days visiting relatives here last week.

J. J. Belew and family visited in Post City last Sunday.

Auti Gleghorn and Roy Patterson made a business trip to Seagraves last week.

Mrs. N. C. Boone of Lavon, Texas, is here for an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. J. R. Patterson. Pete James, of the same place, brother of Mrs. Patterson, spent the week-end here visiting.

W. M. Wilkerson and family of Borden County will occupy and work the John Squyres farm south of Fluvanna this year.

Thomas Matlock expects to depart this week for Kansas where he will be engaged in writing crop insurance and later operating a thresher for the next few months. His family will remain here.

Haley Haynes, son of H. H., reared and educated at Fluvanna, has recently joined the aviation corps at Big Spring. Haley possesses considerable mechanical skill already and is a young man of fine moral qualities. His many friends will gladly extend all good wishes for his success in this his new adventure.

Strange Things

It is not within our province, neither is it our purpose, to try to describe the airplane flights and the parachute leap exhibited last Monday at the airport of Snyder. It so happened that V. P. was just at the right spot to see the parachute prepared for this exhibition. The strange thing, as V. P. sees it, is the fact that several sheets of common newspaper and a little common wrapping twine such as merchants use constituted an important part of the preparation or equipment for this hazardous undertaking. The reader is left to guess how these simple materials filled an important place.

It is an old saying that "Bought wit is the best." That may be true. Anyway, John Stavely and V. P. have each recently made a purchase. They probably know more about wiring a radio now than formerly. At any rate, they know something of the high cost of mistakes.

WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS

Spearman will be burning natural gas by August 1st. Six inch pipe lines are to be laid to the town from the Stinnett fields to supply the commodity. The price is to be reduced from 75 cents to 65 cents per 1000 cubic feet of gas.

Fort Stockton is experiencing a lively building boom. The new opera house when completed will represent an expenditure of 75,000. Brick business houses costing $20,000 are being built and plans for more made. Many substantial residences are going up.

Santa Anna, after completing a new school building and a modern city hall, has now started excavation preliminary to paving five blocks of the town's main streets. Plans are being considered for additional paving to be done upon the completion of these five blocks.

Although having an adequate water supply at the present time, Childress is preparing for the future by purchasing a tract of 280 acres of land at a price of $16,000 to be used in drilling water wells. A dam may be built later to make a lake.

Contract has been let for the new Silverton high school building to cost approximately $85,000. The building will be completed by September. It will be modern in every respect and will be built and equipped with the latest and most modern of conveniences and material.

Tulia will represent Swisher County at the Second Annual Panhandle Plains Dairy Show at Plainview April 2 to 5 with three hundred citizens headed by the Tulia High School band of thirty-two pieces. Eighty-six head of dairy cattle are being fitted for the show.

More than 500 carloads of maize, kaffir, and other sorghum grains have been shipped from Tahoka this season. One hundred cars are yet to be shipped. A carload of heads consists of about twenty tons, and brings about $17.00 per ton.

Ten per cent of the farmers of Dickens County took advantage of the poultry and dairy short course conducted by E. N. Holmgreen and E. R. Eudaly at Spur; and are putting into practice the knowledge gained. Many farmers have taken up the idea of diversification in farming around Spur.

The outlook for dairying in Haskell County is better now than ever before due to the various organizations in several towns boosting the establishment of a creamery. Farmers in this section realize that the cow is hard to replace on the farm when it comes to an income the year around.

Forty head of dairy cattle will be taken from Lockney and Floyd County to the Panhandle Plains Dairy Show. A Floyd County delegation, composed of farmers and business men of the county, are planning to attend the show in unison on Wednesday, April 3. The delegation will be led by the Floydada band.

The South Plains District Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be held at Tahoka April 25th will sponsor a "My Home Town" oratorical contest at which all high school children under 21 years of age will be eligible. Secretary C. C. Williams of the chamber of commerce has mailed out rules and regulations.

Two well known West Texas women will be on the program of the Oil Belt District convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce which will be held on April 18. They are Lexie Dean Robertson, poetess of Rising Star, and Christine Carter, vocalist of Breckenridge.

Some of the recent charities of the Moran Delphian Club have been the buying of a memorial window in the new Methodist Church for $75. The club started a piano fund for the high school with a contribution of $60. A window in the new Christian Church for $75 was also purchased.

Plainview is building up. The new Hilton Hotel will bring the skyline from four stories to eight. Montgomery Ward, J. C. Penney and other well known companies are building in the town, and permanent buildings are being erected for the Panhandle Plains Second Annual Dairy Show.

Out of seventy 4-H Club boys around Big Spring, 25 have decided to buy young Jersey calves from 6 to 12 months old, through cooperation of business men and have pledged to raise three acres of cotton and two of maize—the cotton to pay off the note on the calf and the maize to feed the animal.

Five vocational agricultural livestock, dairy and poultry judging teams and pecan budding teams will be sent from Coleman High School to the Agricultural & Mechanical College short course at College Station in April. The winning dairy judging team will be given a trip to Memphis, Tennessee.

A banquet celebrating the 22nd year of the Alfalfa Growers Association recently held at Roswell, N. M., brought out the facts that 4,802 tons of hay had been handled up to March 1st of the 1928-29 season. This organization is worked on a non-profit basis and handles business amounting to $1,500,000 annually.

A plan for building a sports ball court in addition to a commodious stage for the presentation of various shows in a combination gym and auditorium at Dalhart is a plan of the local Lions Club. The Sixth Annual Tri-State meet would be one of the first attractions held in the meeting.

The Manchurian sunflower may form a source of income in the South Plains in the future. One farmer on a Levelland ranch planted 1,600 acres and realized $25.00 an acre on the seed which are used for poultry feed, and as cooking fat and in the manufacture of varnishes. From 750 to 1200 pounds of seed per acre can be grown which sell for $100 per ton.

The local paper, the chamber of commerce, the business men, and the women's clubs are cooperating in an effort to get a modern, fireproof hotel for Hereford. Contributions are coming in to the committee appointed to get them in an increasing volume.

The winner of the first prize and a registered heifer calf in the annual fat stock show of the vocational agricultural class fo Mertzon went to Howe Mayse, who took them to the Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth. Fourteen other ribbon winning calves were taken to Fort Worth and sold after being distributed.

The farmers short course held in Sweetwater recently was one of the most successful ventures ever sponsored by the board of city development, business men and a well-known implement company. The program was entirely educational, having lectures, music and picture shows.

Contract has been let for a 40-bed sanitarium at Paducah to cost $41,490. The structure will be of three stories of fire proof construction and will be equipped with every modern convenience. The building was made possible by the will of the late W. C. Richards, pioneer ranchman, who gave $50,000 for the building and $10,000 on an endowment.

The Brady Chamber of Commerce under the direction of Carl Blasig, secretary, is planning for prompt action on an airport. A landscape gardener has been obtained to help in a beautification campaign in the town during the coming year.

KNOW TEXAS

Cabeza de Baca was the first white man to enter Texas. He was shipwrecked on the Gulf coast in 1528 and reached Mexico City after crossing the southern part of this state.

Ysleta, near El Paso, is the oldest town in Texas. It was founded in 1682.

We have at Washington various departments functioning for the common weal. Departments of agriculture, commerce, education and war. Why not a department of Matrimony? This department could be made an auxiliary of the war department, functioning specifically for domestic danger zones throughout the country through which husbands would receive secret instructions in tactical strategies of the common enemy, who, while retaining the privileges of their sex, is rapidly acquiring more than her share of rights.

She sold a Law suit

After an old lady in Frankfort, Indiana, died leaving a number of valuable business properties, a niece appeared from Allentown, Pennsylvania, and produced papers indicating that she was the only heir. She sold the property and returned home telling her fire brothers and sisters that the old lady left practically nothing.

When the fraud was disclosed, the "purchasers" of the real estate found that they had bought a lively law suit. Title insurance would have absorbed the loss.

DERMOTT NEWS

Bro. Sanders of Snyder preached for us Sunday at 11 o'clock. The attendance was good. Our Sunday school is progressing nicely. We would be glad to have a large attendance next Sunday morning.

We have quite a number of sick folks in our community. Mrs. S. H. Lebow, who has been quite ill, is able to be up this week. Mrs. Warren Scrivner is on the sick list.

Mr. Swanner's son was taken very sick with appendicitis Friday night and was hurried to a sanitarium at Fort Worth for an operation.

Mrs. Lena Stringer of Lubbock spent last week-end visiting her sister, Mrs. Virgie Scrivner.

Elvie Greenfield and family are moving this week out to their farm north of Dermott. Mr. Dowdy is planning on taking the hotel and running it.

Mr. Harris has purchased a Ford sedan.

L. N. Periman and daughter attended church here Sunday. We are always glad to have them with us.

Little Bob Edward Browning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alford Browning and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Browning and Mr. and Mrs. Claxton, died Monday at 10 o'clock a. m. of pneumonia. He was 1 year and 20 days old. The funeral service was held at Fluvanna Tuesday afternoon by Bro. Tate, with burial in the Fluvanna cemetery. Bob Edward was a child who wore a smile always and who was loved by all who knew him. He was very patient during his sickness. Many beautiful flowers covered his little grave. Heaven can only reward this little child. May all his friends and loved ones prepare to meet him in the better world beyond. We extend condolence to the bereaved father and mother, his little sister, and other relatives.

POLAR NEWS

We are sorry the news arrived too late for the paper last week. Mr. Editor, I don't see how you can find room for the community news, for the Times-Signal comes nearer being full of real news than any county paper I ever read. We thank you, though.

A good slow rain fell over our section of the country last Tuesday night and Wednesday. It put a good season in the ground for sometime.

Last Saturday afternoon Grandfather Herring passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Sellers. Mr. Herring had been blind for several years and was past 70 years old. He had been ill for the past week or so. Funeral services were held at Snyder cemetery by a Primitive Baptist minister of Snyder. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. John Sellers, a son of Seymour and another son whose address we did not learn; also a number of grandchildren. Friends of Polar give their sympathy to the bereaved ones.

A powerful Easter sermon was preached to a full house Sunday morning by Rev. W. H. Harris of Fluvanna. Dinner was served at the church. The Easter program and Sunday school were postponed on account of the funeral Sunday afternoon.

Singing was well attended Sunday night, and everyone did his best.

Miss Alene Ford was taken ill quite suddenly last week with pneumonia. While her mother was trying to get a doctor, she received word that her son, Burl, who was near Big Spring, was injured seriously. He was rushed home, and both children have had daily care from the doctor for the past week. We are glad to report them better at this writing.

An Easter egg hunt was enjoyed by Polar school children, teachers and a few patrons last Friday afternoon. Forty dozen candy eggs were hidden. Grady Sellers had the honor of finding the largest number of eggs by finding 25. Patrons who were present were Mesdames A. C. Elkins, W. T. Vick and B. A. Moore, also Miss Pauline Kelly's aunt, who has been staying with her for some time.

Brothers and sisters who attended the bedside of Alene and Burl Ford last week were M. C. Newsom and family of Pride, Clyde Clanton and family of Luther, Ernest Ford and family of Martin County, and Mrs. Bert Massingill of Brownfield.

Roy Elkins and family of Dermott were visiting Mr. Elkins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Elkins, last Tuesday.

Mr. Herring of Seymour, son of Grandfather Herring, came to the bedside of his father last week.

Miss Stella Smith returned home from Sweetwater last week where she has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Edd Ware, and family.

Visitors at the Easter service Sunday were Roy Elkins and family of Dermott, W. O. Christopher and wife of Dunn, and Ernest Massingill and wife of Lamesa.

A. N. Edmonson and family of Dermott were guests in the W. J. Cargile home Sunday afternoon.

Johnnie Cumbie and wife of Jayton were visiting relatives and friends in Polar Sunday.

—SAYS—

HOW DO LITTLE BIRDS KNOW WHEN "IT AIN'T GONNA RAIN NO MORE"?

One day last summer I sat out on the lake front watching the play of both young and old, when a storm came up.

The wind blew out and the people flew in and the rain came down in torrents. Lightning flicked wickedly over the water and the waves rolled to shore with adornment.

It was very apparent where the people went. I did not note where hid the birds, but this I say: the flies we all so detest, and other living flying things took refuge under the visor of my windshield. They were not blown there, for the wind was in the opposite direction—they came there.

Then the birds came out, and immediately it stopped raining.

Who told the birds that the rain would cease—what guided the flies to an automobile?

Call it God—Nature if you like—or instinct may suit your pleasure; but call it what you may, who can sit at the water's edge in a raging storm, watching man and bird and insect and say there is no great Master Mind? Where is the man who thinks his powers of such import that he can match the gift that tells a little bird that "It ain't gonna rain no more"?

Country man go to the city; city man, go to the wide open spaces, and there learn your insignificance. As big as you think you are, the greater man you'll be when your recognize your littleness by comparison.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By Edson R. Waite,
Shawnee, Okla.

THAT stores that advertise offer merchandise of value to those who appreciate value and who want to get the most for their money?

THAT these stores are filled with fresh, new stock—bought right and sold right?

THAT the stores of your city offer a great assortment of real values and unlimited selections?

THAT they give the kind of service that satisfies?

THAT they sell the kind of merchandise that pleases?

THAT there is no substitute for quality? They sell quality goods only, and safeguard their customers.

THAT they always give attractive values—merchandise that is designed for everyday demand; food for each season and worthy of your patronage?

THAT advertised goods have the certainty of continued reliability?

THAT advertised merchandise is the best that money, experience and constant effort can produce?

STORES THAT ADVERTISE STAND ON THEIR OWN MERITS, AND THRU THEIR DEPENDABLE AND EFFICIENT SERVICE GIVE SATISFACTION TO THEIR CUSTOMERS.

HOME MADE FURNITURE POLISH DEVISED AT DONNA

An economical method for making a very satisfactory lemon oil furniture polish has been worked out by Mrs. George W. Vaughn, a home demonstration club woman who lives here. "I take olive or sweet oil and put in as many lemon peels as it will cover," she says, "using fresh peel with lots of oil in it. I let this stand for about an hour before polishing, but for old furniture it is best to let it stand for several hours. This oil gives an excellent polish which doesn't come off in a day or two but is good for several weeks with just a little rubbing and polishing."

HOW ABOUT THIS

There are 365 days in the year. You sleep eight hours per day, which makes 122 days, subtract 122 from 365, equals 243. You have eight hours recreation each day, which makes 122 days, subtracted from 243 equals 121. There are 52 Sundays that you don't work, which leaves a balance of 69 days. You have 52 Saturday, afternoons off, or 26 days subtracted from 69, equals 43. You have one hour for lunch each day, or 16 days, from 43 days, equals 27 days. Then you have two weeks vacation, or 14 days from 27, leaving 13. Now, deduct the 12 holidays, that leaves one day, and that's Armistice day, and you don't work.

Lots of people think the world owes them five or six livings.

A DEMOCRAT STILL

Editor Star-Telegram: I am somewhat confused, on account of the political upheaval, and I am not sure where I belong as to party. My blood is altogether Southern. I had two brothers, two uncles and three cousins in the Confederate service and have voted the Democratic ticket since the days of E. J. Davis, up to the last election. But Al Smith was too much for Southern Democrats and we were forced to vote for Hoover—not because we loved Hoover or the Republican party, but because we could not afford to support Al Smith. We do not rejoice over a Republican victory, but we do rejoice over Al Smith's defeat. Now we are called Hoovercrats by some, Hooverites by others, and still others call us Hoover-Democrats.

If the Al Smith bunch, with the assistance of Governor Moody, reads us out of the party it will be suicidal to the party, but will not hurt the Democrats who cast their votes for Hoover. We are Democrats still and as we are free and independent we have no apology to make. I suppose we will be known as Independent Democrats. That sounds good to me. If the Democrats of Texas are expected to stand hitched, we must put out good, clean men for office, men whose characters are above reproach and who stand for principles as well as party. When that is done Texas will roll up the same Democratic majorities as of old.

W. G. RALSTON,
Snyder, Texas.

Texas Has Good Crop Prospects

DALLAS, Tex., April 3.—Statistics gathered by the Department of Public Relations of the Southland Life Insurance Company for March indicate unusually good prospects for crops this year in Texas. The reports would tend to show that all crops may be somewhat retarded but no seriousness attaches itself to this fact at this time.

One of the most encouraging aspects of the report is a large number of counties reporting sizable increase in grain and feed crop acreage and great decrease in cotton acreage. There is, however, a rather peculiar situation in regard to this. It is indicated that East and North Texas will plant more cotton probably because of scattered failures of small grains. Central and West Texas on the other hand indicate a large cut in cotton acreage in favor of grains.

Much cotton is yet to be planted. Sixty-five per cent of the reporting counties have planted less than fifteen per cent of the possible cotton acreage. No counties reported all cotton in the ground.

One county, Runnels, reports what may be nearly 100 per cent diversification, possibly due to a county-wide program launched toward that goal.

In general the outlook is hopeful and with a fair crop Texas farmers this year should have more ready cash than at any time during the past nine years.

How to Raise Poultry

By Dr. L. D. LeGear, V.S., St. Louis, Mo.

Dr. LeGear is a graduate of the Ontario Veterinary College, 1892. Thirty-six years of veterinary practice on diseases of live stock and poultry. Eminent authority on poultry and stock raising. Nationally known poultry breeder. Noted author and lecturer.

ARTICLE XV
A SHORT CUT TO LONGER PROFITS

Trap-Nesting Displaces Guesswork in Favor of Certainty for Selecting the Really Profitable Members of a Poultry Flock.

Editor's Note—This is another story in a series of 52 stories on poultry raising written by the well-known national poultry authority, Dr. L. D. LeGear, V. S., of St. Louis. The entire series will appear in this paper. Our readers are urged to read them carefully and clip them out for future reference.

You think you have eliminated the heavy eating light-laying drones from your flock, but are you sure you have got them all? If you are a good judge of the signs which indicate poor layers, the chances are you have eliminated the worst drones. In all likelihood, however, there are still a number of hens left which are on the border line or just below it; either they consume as much in food as they pay back in eggs or just a little bit more. In either case, they are unprofitable to keep, but hard to discover when ordinary methods of culling are employed.

Now these "border line" fowls require just as much care and equipment as their more profitable sisters. Care and equipment represent part of the investment on which a profit must be paid. It becomes self-evident, therefore, that very many such fowls will cause a serious cut in the percentage of profit returned on each dollar of capital invested. But the question is how to convict the offenders of their shortcomings. I know of but one certain way and that is to keep books on the whole lot of them and in a short while you will know beyond peradventure or doubt which are the egg layers and which are destined for a speedy trip to market.,

Trap-nesting, in short, is the one sure method of determining exactly how much each hen is laying and whether or not she is going to be worth keeping on the job. Such knowledge is of especially great importance to the breeder of fine pedigreed fowls, but is sufficiently important to most poultry raisers to be worthy of consideration. Trap-nesting, incidentally, is valuable in taming young birds which tends to increase productiveness.

Many will object that trap-nesting involves too much labor. It is true there is some additional work involved, but it is questionable whether there is much more than would be required for taking care of a large number of fowls from which no profit could possibly be realized. Furthermore, the work can be materially reduced by dividing the flock and trap-nesting one section at a time. As soon as the desired purpose has been definitely achieved another section can be put through the course and so on until a dependable record has been made for every hen in the flock. This record not only serves to indicate the best layers, but is an invaluable guide for the selection of breeding stock.

A flock should be trap-nested for twelve (12) months to tell accurately just what each individual hen is capable of doing in egg production. To trap-nest for three months and multiply by four does not give an accurate yearly record.

And now, just a word about the mechanics of trap-nesting. A trap nest, as everyone knows, is one equipped to hold a hen captive when she enters it to lay. Each hen in the flock has a numbered leg band on one of her legs, and before she is released, if she has layed, her number is put down on a daily record sheet, indicating that she layed that day. After a hen lays in a nest, she has to be released by an attendant and the nest left open ready for another hen. Home-made nests of this kind are easily constructed, although space is lacking in this article for giving definite instructions as to how it is done. There are many ready-made forms of trap nests that give satisfaction and are reasonably priced. Some manufacturers simply furnish a front with the trap mechanism attached. It can easily be fitted to a suitable form of home-made nest. Numbered leg bands for identifying the hens are purchased in series at comparatively trivial cost.

At least one trap nest should be furnished for every four birds in flocks of fifty or more, and one or every three in smaller flocks. Try to have a sufficient number so that hens do not have to wait too long for their respective turns. For the same reason, pay a bit more attention to the trap nests during the normally busy hours of the day, which are usually from 8 to 11 a. m. They should be visited once every hour, especially during the forenoon.

The use of trap nests enables the poultry raiser to learn some really astonishing facts about what his hens are really doing. He will be surprised to find that some of those in which he had most faith were least deserving of his trust, and vice versa. He will definitely drop guessing from his payroll and substitute scientific certainty. The change may mean more work of one kind, but it also means less work of a less profitable kind, and in the long run trap nesting is bound to pay a sufficiently large increase in cash dividends to more than justify the increased investment in labor and equipment.

Mrs. Oak Suffers 20 Years; Sargon Brought Health

"I suffered from inactive liver for twenty years and about three years ago I became so terribly rundown I could not attend to my household duties without stopping to rest.

MRS. JULIA OAK

"I would have such severe pains in my stomach after meals that I would have to run for the soda box. Dieting did not help me, and even the best medicines I could buy did not reach my case.

"But Sargon went right to the root of my trouble without losing a minute's time. I never saw anything like it. I felt better from the very first dose, and now I eat anything I want without any ill effects. I am not the least bit nervous and I feel so well and strong that even after I get through with my housework I want to be up and on the go.

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills completely overcame my liver trouble and constipation. They act so gently that they did not upset my system to make me the least bit sick.

"I know from experience that the Sargon treatment will end stomach and liver complaints. I feel just like I have been made all over like new, and I want all my friends to know what this grand medicine will do."

The above statement was made recently by Mrs. Julia Oak, well known and highly esteemed resident of R. F. D. 1, Box 157, San Antonio, whose motherly kindness has endeared her to hundreds of friends throughout her community.

Our Picnic

Friday afternoon we nad a picnic and Easter egg hunt. The picnic was for the health contest. We had planned for the side that won to bring the supper. As we tied, we decided for all to bring the eats.

We invited Mr. and Mrs. Claunch to go with us. Mr. Claunch could not go, but Mrs. Claunch went.

After we had found the eggs, we cooked our supper and ate. I surely did have a nice time.

Ruth Letcher.

A Jolly Picnic

Friday afternoon our room went on a picnic. Mrs. Claunch went with us. We went down on Deep Creek where they hid the Easter eggs. I watched the others slide down the hill.

Then about that time Mrs. Lemley called us to go find them. I found five Easter eggs. Ruth, my friend, was with me, and she had not found any, so I gave her two.

Walter Jones had found a little rabbit. The rabbit got away, but Chalmer Watkins caught it. He got the rabbit and put some green grass in his hand and laid the rabbit on it.

We ate supper, roasted marshmallows and then went home. I had a very nice time.

Geraldine Shuler.

Our Picnic

Friday we went on a picnic at three forty-five. We asked Mr and Mrs. Claunch to go with us. We took weenies and some bacon and bread. We wanted to make lemonade but we did not have a bucket to make it in. Before we ate supper we hunted Easter eggs. I found five. While we were hunting Easter eggs Mrs. Claunch helped Mrs. Lemley roast the weenies and fry the bacon, then we ate supper and went home.

Elsie Holley.

Our Picnic and Easter Hunt

The high fourth went on a picnic and Easter egg hunt. We had the Easter egg hunt first. I found three Easter eggs. Then we ate supper.

I had a very nice time.

A Picnic

In our health contest at school both sides tied at the end of the three weeks.

Our teacher decided for all to bring weenies, bacon, onions, bread and marshmallows and have a picnic. We had an Easter egg hunt, too. I found thirty-four eggs.

When the Easter egg hunt was over we ate supper. I surely did have a good time.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By Edson R. Waite, Shawnee, Okla.

J. PERRY BURRUS, PRESIDENT OF THE BURRUS MILL & ELEVATOR COMPANY OF DALLAS, TEXAS, SAYS:

THAT honesty is the best policy. Many young men start in business with the thought that by "short cuts" they can advance more rapidly than by pursuing a straight forward course in the conduct of their business and relationship with other people.

It is not necessary to tell an absolute falsehood to convey a false impression; many times false impressions are conveyed by concealing the truth rather than by telling a lie. In either case it will reflect finally upon the one who follows the practice. One's life is like a mirror that reflects everything that you do, and everything that is done to you.

Nature very rarely makes a mistake. If you are honest the chances are that you will deal with honest people. If you are crooked the chances are you will want to be and deal with crooked people, largely because honest people will not deal with you. To be successful you have to have the confidence of your associates and friends and to achieve permanent success you have to be honest.

HONESTY IS NOW, AND ALWAYS HAS BEEN, THE BEST POLICY.

Mr. C. F. Redlich, the successful expert says:

The "Perfect Retention Shields" hold the rupture perfectly, no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief, contract the opening in a remarkably short time and strengthen the weak tissues (the real cause of rupture) so that they frequently recover their previous natural retaining power, needing no further outside support. Stomach trouble, backache and constipation often caused by Rupture promptly disappear.

Truly remarkable and prompt results have been obtained not only with recent and not fully developed ruptures but also with old, long neglected ones.

Ingenious, recently perfected devices are now holding ruptures firmly which heretofore never had been retained.

No elastic belts nor filthy legstraps are used.

I guarantee to hold the rupture and also the durability of my absolutely sweat and moisture proof, sanitary appliances.

75% of ruptured children recover completely through expert mechanical treatment according to statistics.

Do not waste your money on widely advertised mail order contraptions. You cannot fit yourself.

...ETTY ...ONSON HOME

Mrs. J. C. Stinson and Miss Cecile Strayhorn complimented Misses Dorothy Strayhorn and Mary Lynn Nation, who were home from college for the Easter holidays, with a bridge party last Friday evening at the pretty new home of Mrs. Stinson.

In the bridge games Mrs. Forest Sears and Robert Curnutte Jr. were winners of high score favors.

Refreshments were served in two courses at tables centered with violets and pansies to the following guests: Messrs. and Mesdames Forest Sears, Robert H. Curnutte Jr., and Misses Neoma Strayhorn, Vera Nell Grantham, Eloise Scott, Mary Lawlis, Dixie Ruth Smith, Dorette Beggs, Frances Ratliff of Midland, Helen Boren, Hattie and Gertrude Herm, Myrtle and Faye Harrell, Lucille Carpenter and Messrs. Cleve Blackard, J. D. Scott, J. P. Strayhorn, Charles Cooper, E. O. Wedgeworth, Marshall Higgins, Robert Gray and Frewen Morrow.

Mrs. Stinson and Miss Strayhorn were assisted in hostess duties by Mrs. Joe Strayhorn.

FALLS—MILLER

Rea Falls and Miss Thelma Miller of Ira were married Saturday afternoon at three o'clock at the Presbyterian Church at Colorado. Rev. Elliott, pastor of the church, officiated. Miss Mozelle Tamplin and A. D. McWilliams of Ira were the only witnesses.

The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Miller. She is loved by all who know her.

The groom is the son of Mrs. T. B. Falls. He is engaged in farming.

The TimesSignal joins with the many friends of this young couple in wishing for them a full measure of happiness and prosperity.

McMEANS—BANKS

Walter McMeans, a son of Mrs. J. H. Berroth of Gordon County, and Miss Nina Frances Banks, daughter of Mrs. Mary E. Banks, were united in marriage last Monday evening at the Clairemont court house. Judge Hugh Davis, uncle of the groom, performed the wedding ceremony.

The bride is a popular member of the younger set of Snyder. Her many friends wish for her much happiness. The groom is an estimable young man.

Mr. and Mrs. McMeans expect to leave soon for Tuemado, New Mexico, where he owns a ranch.

The many friends of this young couple wish for them every success and happiness.

MRS. DIXIE SMITH HOSTESS AT EASTER BREAKFAST

Miss Frances Ratliff of Midland, who was a house guest of Miss Dixie Ruth Smith last week-end, was named honoree at an Easter breakfast given by Mrs. Dixie Smith last Friday morning. The Easter motif was favored in the table appointments.

Those enjoying this delightful occasion with the honoree were Misses Dixie Ruth Smith, Mary Lynn Nation, Helen Boren, Mary Lawlis, Dorette Beggs, Eloise Scott.

Regular meeting of Snyder Chapter No. 450, O. E. S., will be held Thursday night, April 11th.

ALTRURIAN CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. YODER

Mrs. C. J. Yoder was hostess to the Altrurian Club members last Friday afternoon at her home.

Mrs. W. W. Hamilton was leader of the lesson for the afternoon. The subject of the lesson was "Wordsworth's Poems." Mrs. Lee Stinson gave a sketch of Wordsworth's life and Mrs. C. C. Higgins gave an analysis of one of Wordsworth's poems.

A delicious salad course was served to sixteen club members and two guests, who were Miss Eula Stimson and Mrs. T. J. Thompson.

STOP, LOOK, LISTEN CLUB

The High Fifth Stop, Look, Listen Club met March 29. The minutes were read and approved and the program turned over to the program committee, the following program being given:

Club song.

Riddles, Estelle Grant.

Spelling race, Billy Smith and Louis Wilsford, Billy winning 80 to 50. They were blindfolded during the race.

Story, Milford.

Reading, Louise Wilsford.

Song, Doyle, J. B., Georgia, Louise and Katherine.

Jokes, Nirene Bixley.

Reading, Vivian Archer.

Imitation, Eunice Duff.

Snyder High School campus does not look the same since the new flower beds are completed, together with many other notable improvements. The entire school grounds simply look like a million dollars, and that's no exaggeration.

A soft answer doesn't turn away as much wrath as a hard look.

Being popular doesn't leave much time for making real friends.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Mrs. H. G. Towle was the charming hostess to the Sine Cura Bridge Club members and guests Tuesday with a bridge luncheon at her home.

A lovely two-course luncheon was served at tables centered with pink roses.

In the bridge games Mrs. J. M. Harris was favored with high score award, and Mrs. Marshall Fuller and Miss Mary Lynn Nation received guests prizes.

Those enjoying this splendid party were Mesdames J. M. Harris, E. J. Anderson, R. H. Curnutte Sr., A. D. Erwin, W. B. Lee, W. W. Lechner, A. J. Towle, W. R. Johnson, Dixie Smith, Fritz Smith, Vern McMullen, Ernest Taylor, W. W. Wilsford, Wayne Boren, Miss Cecile Strayhorn, and guests, Mrs. Marshall Fuller of Fort Worth and Miss Mary Lynn Nation, student of the College of Industrial Arts.

MRS. O. D. CARTER'S PUPILS IN STUDIO RECITAL

The piano and voice pupils of Mrs. O. D. Carter were presented in studio recital yesterday afternoon at four o'clock at her home in Southwest Snyder. Close friends and relatives of those on the program were present.

After the recital Mrs. Carter served a delicious salad plate to the guests.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB MEETS WITH MRS W. J. ELY

Mrs. W. J. Ely was hostess to the Twentieth Century Club members Tuesday afternoon at her home.

Mrs. Nelson Dunn was leader of the lesson for the afternoon on "Music." Members answered roll call with names of well known composers and their best compositions. Interesting histories of musicians were given by Mrs. Earl Fish and Mrs. P. C. Chenault. Miss Estine Dorward gave a musical reading, and Mrs. J. E. Sentell favored the club with a vocal solo.

A salad course was served to about seventeen club members.

BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN ENJOY PARTY

Mrs. A. G. Eiland and Miss Maurine Cunningham were hostesses to the Business and Professional Women's Club Tuesday evening at the Presbyterian Church, with a cleverly planned party.

An April Fool program was given which was carried out in rhyme, and it was also a backward party.

A clever song, entitled, "Hallelujah, I'm a Bum," was sung by Miss Georgia Bolin, which was followed by a debate. Resolved: That a thousand leg suffers more from corns than a giraffe does from sore throat. Mrs. Wedgeworth gave two readings. After the program the guests then went into the dining room where the dinner was served. Clever verses were written on the place cards by Miss Maurine Cunningham. Boxes of gun powder with cannon crackers centered the table.

During the business meeting the club voted to send a check for $10 for flowers to beautify the school grounds, and $15 was given for the Federation tea. The club also voted to amend the constitution by beginning the club year the first of September instead of the first of April.

About forty members and several guests were present.

Next Saturday the Snyder school board trustees are to be elected. So far as we have been able to ascertain there will be no contest, as none has announced aside from the three gentlemen seeking re-election, Sam Bradbury, Charles Ross and Watt Scott.

A Chorus of More Than Sixty Zippy Stepping Girls—

COME EARLY

FORT WORTH PASTOR PAYS WORTHY TRIBUTE

One of the most remarkable tributes we have ever read appeared in a recent issue of The Fundamentalist, Baptist paper edited by Rev. J. Frank Norris of Fort Worth. The tribute is of interest to Scurry County residents, for it speaks of a former resident here, Mrs. T. J. Faught, who has lived in Fort Worth for some time. The beautiful prose that the pastor has written is outstanding, carrying a theme that strikes straight to the heart.

The Fundamentalist said:

There was a little woman—she perhaps will never be here again in the body—some of you know her. Yesterday afternoon I went out to see Mrs. Faught. The doctor says she has but a little while—any moment may be the last, so we drove out there—it grieves me because I can't visit the sick—I just feel sometimes like I want to resign and let somebody else come here who can—but I am so crowded and rushed with so many things I just can't do it. I'm not made out of iron—but when the message came that she was not long for this world—instantly my mind went back over the years—some of you know the record—some of you know how this quiet little woman, fifteen years or more ago, when we were facing a great crisis—not like we are now, with a million dollars worth of real estate in the clear—no! no! we were in debt, we were in the hole, we were in the red—didn't know what we were going to do. One day she called me to one side—I didn't know what she wanted. She said, "How much will it take?" We couldn't move a peg—with the walls of the first section of the building going up—"How much have you got to have?"—I looked at her. I didn't want to discourage her, not thinking what was coming. I told her—it was a very large sum. She added, "Will that do it?" "Yes," I said, "Sister Faught, if we can get that much"—and I had walked my shoe leather off, and had gone and gone and gone and walked and walked—we couldn't put another rock on the wall—I would go out and hold meetings and come back and put every cent in, but I didn't know what we were going to do, pay day was coming—"Will that do?" she said. I said "Yes." She just opened her purse, pulled out a check book and wrote on it. I didn't know what she was putting down—she filled it out and I can see that signature now, that I would identify it anywhere around the world. When I saw the check, I could not believe my eyes—Oh, I thought, she must have made a mistake—I said "how much did you intend this to be?"—"Why," she says, "Isn't that the amount you said you needed?" Well I thought maybe she was just lending it to us—"no," she says, "it is a gift, that is all right, just say nothing about it."

Oh, my friends, when eternity rolls on and the stars cease to shine, and our bodies have gone to dust, and our spirits have gone where the spirits of just men are made perfect—that little woman that is lying yonder on her sick bed, on the borderland, will have a large part in the work of this church!

Yesterday when I saw Hattie, her daughter, she said, "She wants to talk to you." "I says, "What does she want to talk about?" "She wants to talk to you about going home." I went in, bent over her bed, and, oh, instead of my giving her a message she gave me one. No comfort could I give her, but what an inspiration she gave me. Afraid? Ten thousand times no. "Disturbed? Why she was as quiet as a babe in its mother's arms. Her words were too sacred to repeat here—oh, how and with what confidence she told of how her fears were gone, and said, "Just think of it, I will soon look on my dear Saviour's face."

PAINFUL INDIGESTION

"I SUFFERED a good while before I found something that would help me," writes Mr. E. W. Berry, of Neosho, Mo. "My trouble was indigestion, pains in my chest and a tight, bloated feeling that would make me feel smothered.

"Speaking of this to a friend of mine, he told me that Black-Draught was good for this trouble. I went over bought a package. It certainly did help me, so I continued to use it.

"I am in the transfer business, and sometimes when I would be hungry and ready to eat, I would have a call and would have to eat later. Then I would eat too much or too hurriedly. This would cause indigestion. After I started using Black-Draught, I found it did me a world of good. It is splendid for biliousness and stomach troubles."

We ought to talk more to our loved ones about going home—it's not defeat, it's victory—how glorious the thought. We rejoiced together as I repeated to her those immortal words:

"There I shall bathe my weary soul
In seas of heavenly rest,
And not a wave of trouble roll
Across my peaceful breast."

TRADE AD SCHEMES GO FOR SNYDER TOO

At the annual meeting of the Retail Merchants Association held in Lubbock last week the secretary reported that out of 38 gyp advertising schemes presented by traveling grafters, 34 had been stopped, at an estimated saving of nearly $12,000 to the business men of that city. That was excellent service—more than paying for the expense of the organization that year.

Every town has to contend with such advertising fakers, and Littlefield is no exception. Seldom a week goes by but the Leader is presented with some wild-cat advertising scheme for its endorsement. They are invariably turned down. Sometimes they are put over anyhow and we are offered the printing job, which we also refuse. We do not believe in making money at the expense of our fellow business men, and that is about all it amounts to.

Three weeks ago a restaurant menu was put out in this town; the business men paying for its production, plus about fifty per cent profit to the promoter. We refused to print the job. Last week another business concern saw fit to gratuitously accept an advertising booklet, likewise paid for by other business interests, the promoter walking away with a fat profit in his pocket. The Leader refused to print this, also.

It has always been the theory of the Leader that every business concern ought to be able to stand on its own bottom without filching off of other concerns for their own profit. No one concern has a moral nor business right to promote any enterprise that costs another concern good money and for which they do not get value received.

Since Littlefield has no merchants association for its protection against advertising grafters, the Leader believes it would be well to delegate this matter to the Chamber of Commerce, with a committee to assist the secretary in passing upon all such proposed advertising schemes, the business men referring such matters to this organization and agreeing to abide by their decision as to their merits or demerits.—Littlefield Leader.

The following poem came from one of the Home Rooms in high school as a result of a lesson taught on citizenship.—Miss Maurine Cunningham.

This morning at half past eight
We had a meeting to keep the building in shape.
The purpose was to stimulate citizenship,
By each and every one doing his bit.

The program was started by the teacher
Who really sounded like a preacher
When she began to talk
Of citizenship in every walk.

Soon the pupils understood
The duty of pupils as they should—
The specific aim—as you know—
Was to inspire the children to help the flowers grow.

"Don't be a slacker, do your bit," was said.
And every pupil nodded their head
In approval of helping the campus to be
The prettiest one you ever did see.

The meeting was over at nine.
And everyone knew the results were fine,
But because everyone was "in line."

The pupils left with the determination
To make the campus an inspiration
For all to come in and seek the knowledge therein
By making the campus prettier than it has ever been.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

The guy who invented the doughnut was sure a fiend for ventilation.

The reason young people and old people who remain young in spite of their years love the movies is because the movies are full of action.

The man who ate the first oyster must have done it at the command of one of those old emperors who made the poor fellow take his choice between the bivalve and death, and there are a lot of things we eat that doubtless were discovered in the same way. Let us then be grateful for ancient despots who helped blaze the way into the gorges that we now enjoy.

I often think that one of the greatest humorists of modern times was Charles Darwin. He spent most of his time making monkeys out of people. Dean Swift gave the human race "the horse laugh" in his "Gulliver's Travels" and the scholars consider him a great wit. But the modern highbrows have not seen Darwin's great joke yet. Maybe they'll never see it. You know, the Irish gave the Scotch the bagpipes, as a joke, and the Scotch haven't seen the joke yet.

GUERNSEY CATTLE

So many farmers have expressed a desire to purchase some registered Guernsey cows that Sec'y Watt Scott is securing information for their purchase. Plans are being completed to purchase a registered bull also, and anyone interested in buying this fine grade of cattle should see Mr. Scott at the Chamber of Commerce at once.

the Telephone that Tinkled all Day long

Mrs. Walters measured nervously, put two more pins into the hem of Jane's new party dress. The dress had to be ready by 8 o'clock—and already it was 6:30.

"No!" she answered her husband, who was rumpling his hair irritably in the sewing room door, "Supper isn't ready yet, and—stand still, Jane."

This last to blond, 16-year-old Jane, who posed stiffly on the low table while her mother fitted the garment on her.

"—and don't ask why!" she finished sternly, through a mouthful of pins, "It's a wonder I've accomplished anything! I've spent the afternoon running downstairs to the telephone—down to give Maisie Jones my cake recipe—down to answer the butcher, the preacher, and goodness knows who else!

"I've a notion to move this sewing room downstairs, where I can grab that 'phone the moment it rings!"

Walters, moving ruefully toward the stairway, turned his head to agree with her:

"Either that," he answered, "or have a telephone put in the sewing room."

Ten Reasons why

300,000 careful buyers have chosen the New Chevrolet Six since January 1st

Ever since the date of its introduction, the new Chevrolet Six has swept triumphantly on to greater and greater heights of popularity. Value for value and price for price—buyers have compared it with other cars in the low-price field. And the result has been an overwhelming public preference—over 300,000 buyers since January 1st. And everywhere the enthusiasm is constantly increasing—for the new Chevrolet Six combines, as does no other car in the world, those ten great fundamental factors which careful buyers are now demanding in the cars they buy.

6-Cylinder Smoothness

Due to the finer inherent balance of its six-cylinder valve-in-head motor, the new Chevrolet provides that smooth, quiet, flexible performance which is the distinguishing characteristic of the truly fine automobile. At every speed, the power is delivered easily, freely and without annoying vibration. You can ride and drive for hours without annoying rumble or noise fatigue—every mile a delight for both driver and passengers.

6-Cylinder Getaway

And in sheer brilliance of performance, as well as in smoothness and quietness of operation, the new Chevrolet Six is a revelation. An automatic acceleration pump results in remarkably fast acceleration whenever the accelerator is suddenly depressed. And a new high-compression, non-detonating cylinder head eliminates every trace of "lugging"—even when you have occasion to accelerate swiftly in high gear.

6-Cylinder Speed

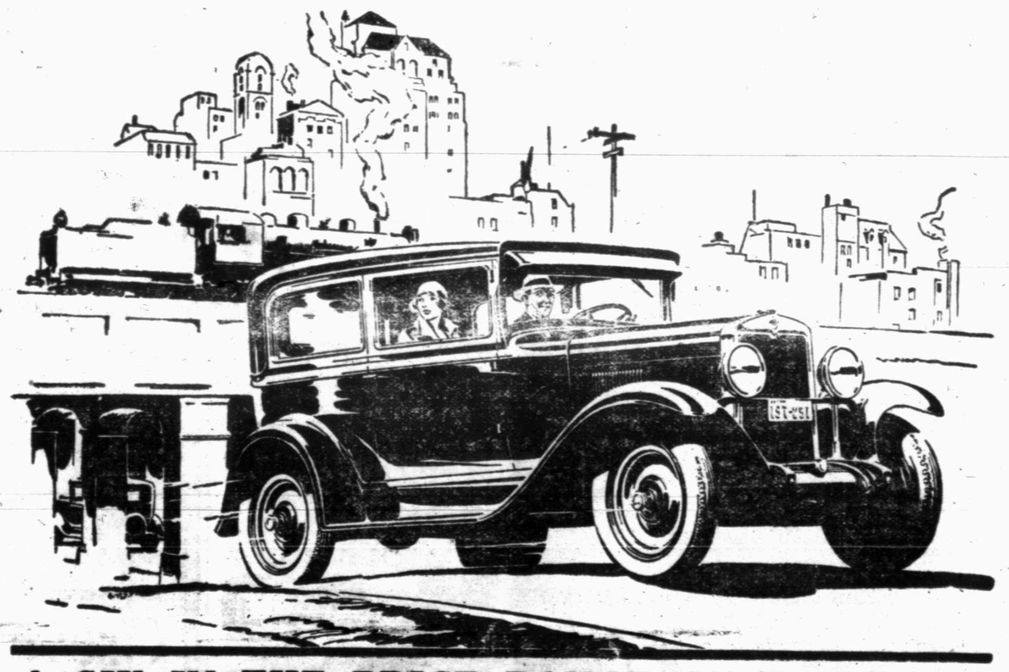

Naturally, Chevrolet's powerful six-cylinder valve-in-head motor might be expected to provide speed in abundance. But even more important than the speed of the new Chevrolet Six is the smooth, quiet, restful comfort you experience at every point on the speedometer. You can open the throttle wide with a feeling of complete security—and you come to the end of a full day's drive entirely free from the weariness caused by engine noise and body rumble.

6-Cylinder Power

The great reserve power of the new Chevrolet Six is a constant delight. The steepest hills are taken with ease. Heavy roads are negotiated without the necessity for frequent gear-shifting. And even at the higher speeds, there is always that feeling of confidence which comes from the knowledge that additional power is at hand . . . instantly available for whatever need may arise.

Modern Safety Features

The new Chevrolet Six is equipped with every modern safety and convenience feature—typified by a full ball bearing steering mechanism, non-locking 4-wheel brakes with separate emergency brake, foot controlled adjustable two-beam headlights, automatic fuel pump, theft-proof Electrolock, electric motor temperature indicator, and Fisher VV windshield and adjustable driver's seat in all closed models. As a result, it is one of the easiest and safest cars in the world to handle.

A SIX IN THE PRICE RANGE OF THE FOUR

Better Than 20 Miles Per Gallon

The marvelous performance of the Chevrolet Six would be considered exceptional in any automobile. But in the new Chevrolet it is nothing short of sensational—for here it is combined with operating economy of better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline. As a result, those who can afford to own any automobile can afford to own and operate a Chevrolet Six!

Exceptional Riding Comfort

Another vital factor that has influenced hundreds of thousands in their selection of the new Chevrolet Six is its exceptional riding comfort. Built on a wheelbase of 107 inches . . . offering the deep-cushioned luxury of bodies by Fisher . . . and with the entire upper structure cradled on four long semi-elliptic shock absorber springs—it travels the roughest highways with amazing comfort. And its balance on turns and curves is equally exceptional—for the rigid frame and the long springs reduce sidesway to the minimum.

Beautiful Fisher Bodies

The marvelous bodies on the Chevrolet Six reveal, as never before, the matchless artistry that has made the Fisher name renowned throughout the world for excellence in coachcraft. Longer, lower and roomier . . . finished in attractive, long-lasting colors . . . and upholstered in rich deep-tufted fabrics that give to the interiors an air of custom elegance—they introduce into the low-price field an entirely new measure of style and distinction.

Proved Dependability

Before the new Chevrolet Six was presented to the public, it had been tested for more than a million miles on the roads of the General Motors Proving Ground. Never did a new motor car go into the hands of its owners more thoroughly proved in every detail. And now, reports of its performance on the highways of the nation pay glowing tribute to its endurance and dependability.

Amazingly Low Prices

Many people do not realize that this marvelous new six-cylinder Chevrolet is actually offered in the price range of the four. Compare total delivered prices as well as factory prices when determining automobile values. You will find Chevrolet delivered prices include the lowest handling and financing charges available.

West Texas Needs Spanking, Eh?

RICHARD H. McCARTY
in The Albany News

The West Texas crowd have been quite wrought up this week down at Austin. To start with, Governor Moody vetoed their pet bill and then someone told them they could not secede from Texas without a real reason. If there is any bunch in Texas that are spoiled, it is the West Texas crowd. They are fine fellows, they have some wonderful organizers in charge of their work, some of the best executives in the the state, but sometimes we feel like they need a good spanking, like the spoiled boy, and put to bed without their bottle for one night at least.—Richardson Echo.

The above clipping is from the facile pen of the Hon. Sam P. Harben, editor and proprietor of the Richardson Echo and secretary of the Texas Press Association. He is large mentally as well as physically —yes, some boy, but he has stirred up a hornet's nest and he's going to get his feet wet when he jumps on West Texas. O yes, he says that West Texas needs a spanking, but what we want to know is who in the hell is going to do the spanking—Says that we were mightily wrought up about Governor Dan Moody vetoing that land bill—Well, boy, did you notice how we spanked the red headed governor of Texas? Yes just as soon as the giants came down from the West to storm the State Capitol, to register their protest, and the doggoned law makers dove-tailed, fell into line, and gosh, we swamped that red headed governor of Texas—O yes, it was a regular landslide, passed it over his veto, and West Texas got what was coming to her—Be it said that it has ever been thus. West Texas has had to scrap for what she wants and by doggies we know how to strike back—Of course, you durn "fellers" down there in the sticks think of West Texas as a waste, howling wilderness, inhabited by wild animals, rattlesnakes, mule-eared rabbits and mollie cotton tails and long horned cattle—And they think that just because we wear ten gallon hats, bell-spurs and leather leggins that we are wild and wooly and simple. But get this boy, when West Texas puts on a show, they rush the ticket office for front seats in the grand stand—Actors? Why Lordy yes—Did you notice that Simmons Cowboy Band in the tour of the eastern states—Why doggone like to have stampeded the inauguration proceedings, and Washington city declared a holiday to flirt with these western giants—Put on a show? why bless your soul boy, we went after Herbert, wanted to fetch him west and show him a sure enough to God country—why yes, we bait our hooks for big fish, and by gosh he said he would come—Yes, captured the president of the United States, general of our armies and admiral of our navies coming west to be our guest this coming May at El Paso during the annual meeting of the West Texas Chamginoal commercial body in the ginoal commercial body in the world, and think of it, the Commander-in-chief of the armies of the greatest Republic on earth has set up and taken notice, and agreed to visit this great Empire. Spank West, Texas Eh? Why boy, she is a giant, and if you ever undertake it you will sure get stung. Stuck up eh? why hell, who wouldn't be stuck up living in a country like this, some five or six hundred miles across it from east to west, and about a thousand miles long, play snowball up in the northern part in the early morn, hop across this vast domain and lunch on oranges and grapefruit in the magic valley at noon, and bathe our feet in the Gulf of Mexico at even-tide—And here comes you fellers from down in the sticks and talk about spanking West Texas and putting her to bed without her bottle—Yes, we are easy and stuck up, have a right to be, living in the greatest country on earth, and with our varied interests out here, we have a right to some of the rich, ripe political mejons being cut down there at the State Capitol. Spanking West Texas eh? Roll up your britches and wade in boys, the water is warm and the swimming is good, shed your duds and get in, the fracas is on—O yes, it's a great country Sam, and the richest in the world—Its whitefaced cattle, Jersey cows, sheep and goats, copper mines and oil wells, fertile valleys and undulating hills, green grasses and babbling brooks, fructified breezes, where the ozone puts kick in the blood and takes the bile out of your system—Pretty women and handsome men—And scrappers did you say? Come on, you durn fellers down there in the sticks, and put on that spanking stunt. Eh?

COMMUNITY PROJECTS

"LET THERE BE LIGHT"

"Hello, folks! come with me out from Atlanta in dear old Georgia across the Chattahoochee into Cobb County and just eleven miles along the new Kennessaw Memorial Drive or Atlanta-Marietta road, better known as the Dixie Highway. Here is Springhill, a quiet little village of twelve homes.

Five years ago we organized a woman's club with the one idea of making Springhill a wonderful place to live. Our road was narrow and dusty. For more than twenty years we had had street car service into Atlanta every hour but it had never occurred to the officials of the Atlanta Northern Power Company that people in the suburbs might need a litle light when boarding cars, or finding their way home in the dark. We used kerosene lamps because our power line had to come from Smyrna three miles away, at a cost of $1,000. Really, we were nearly off the map and yet just eleven miles from busy, growing Atlanta. We had no capital, but decided we would ask for a few things.

First our road committee presented a petition signed by property owners along the way. We followed this up and did much to hasten the completion of a wider paved highway under construction by our county.

Next our light delegation called on Mr. Arkwright, president of the power company, about installing lights at our car stops. This he assured us would be impossible. His company never could afford lights on our inter-urban line. We did not intend to give up or burn tallow candles either, so we called again, this time a promise to have lights installed at a cost to us of $43.00 each, and $10.00 maintenance per year. We signed a contract and proceeded to hold a rummage sale, ice cream party and other functions. Very soon the first two lights on our car line were burning brightly at a cost of $53.00 each to Springhill. Just one year later, the Atlanta Northern installed lights at all stops from Atlanta to Marietta, a distance of twenty miles, making a beautiful white way where all had been darkness and gloom.

Sometimes our cars run off schedule. How we did need a shelter in case of rain! The shelter committee received no help from the Atling little wayside rest, all our own. A friend in Brunswick sent palmettoes, and a Cobb County farmer brought sturdy white oak for the frame, so we have an attractive shelter, different from any other along the line.

We gave a plant party one day and beautified our station with shrubs and flowering plants. Crepe myrtle of watermelon shade was planted along the highway and car line through Springhill. Last year we planted living Christmas trees to be lighted during the happy Christmas season, and to burn quietly in memory of all that is good. Entire expenditure—$250.00.

THE SHORT CUT TO HAPPINESS

Does happiness mean the immediate fruits of indulgence, or the ultimate harvest of achievement? When this is answered all may know how short is the way to happiness. Many people seek present joys, which is certainly worthy in motive. Others, however, remain steadfast in the belief that the only real and lasting happiness is that gained from self-sacrifice through long years of striving.

Contrary to the more or less popular opinion, the short-cut to happiness is the long road of perseverance. One often hears the expression, "O, well, we only live once; let's have a good time now." This is very well, provided the "good time" really is good and wholesome activity. Such a plea is persuasive, appealing and alluring. It contains a germ of wisdom. But when meant in the sense of sacrificing future needs for present follies it becomes deception and empty platitude.

Look about us and see the men and women of sixty, seventy, eighty and more. Can you pick those who have found the short-cut to happiness? Do you see poverty or comfort? Do you see stalwart bodies bent with the fruitage of earlier dissipation? Perhaps not, for that these whether there is an EASY WAY to success, a pleasant pathway to peace, or an easy detour to life's fullest destiny. Their answers will ring true to experience.

Present pleasures, yes. All that can be crowded into the short span of human life. But let them be pleasures that hold the balance of power for good as against evil. Such attainments can be had in play and in work, and in health or in illness, in joy and in pain, in sports and in business, in the home and in the world.

McCLAREN TIRE GIVES 7½ YEARS OF SERVICE

"McClaren Performance," a magazine published monthly by the McClaren Rubber Company of Charlotte, N. C., recently contained a remarkable story of one of their tires giving 7½ years of service. The tire is sold here by Yoder-Anderson Motor Co., and the story read:

From Snyder, Texas, the following letter reaches us:

"We are sending you a photograph of a 33x5 McClaren Autocrat truck casing which we feel should be indicted in the Grand Daddy class. It has seen 7½ years of constant service, and for the past year has been used as a spare or on exhibition in our sales room. It was shipped from your factory June 19, 1920, Serial No. 197153, and immediately put into service on a gravel truck hauling crushed stone for our county highways. After this, it carried loads of oil a distance of more than 25 miles, two round trips or 100 miles a day, to a wildcat test. After this, the truck with tire was purchased in the spring of 1923 for service in ice delivery and continued until 1927 when purchased by a local garage from the truck to be used as a wrecker. For the past year it has been used as a spare. Seven and one-half years of active service, 2,250 days with an average of at least 35 miles per day, ap-
