Red Strength In S. Viet Stands At Record High

4 Regiments Are Added

By JOHN T. WHEELER

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Four North Vietnamese regiments have moved to within 60 miles of Saigon as Communist strength in South Viet Nam reached a record high, informed military sources report.

In all, nine North Vietnamese regular regiments have been confirmed as present in South Viet Nam, two more than reported earlier.

Intelligence estimates say the northern units total about 20,000 men. Viet Cong strength is given at about 234,000 full-time guerrillas.

The invasion by North Viet Nam — and officials here call it just that — began slowly earlier this year. The present level of infiltration runs in excess of about a regiment a month. The figure is expected to double soon to 4,500 a month.

The four highly mobile regiments, whose positions can and do change overnight, are ranged in a fan from northwest of the capital near the Cambodian border in Tay Ninh Province through Binh Long to the eastern edge of Long Khanh Province.

Although no one expects an all-out assault on Saigon, the sudden strengthening of Communist forces, in what has long been Viet Cong-dominated territory, certainly will mean bitter fighting for the U.S. 1st Infantry Division and Vietnamese units north of Saigon.

A South Vietnamese regiment was destroyed in vicious fighting 35 miles north of Saigon last week.

As the invasion steps up, more information on North Vietnamese movements comes from defectors and prisoners.

The five and possibly six regiments operating in the central highlands are supplied by two recently completed roads and by air, via Cambodia. A dirt airfield is about four miles inside Cambodia, northwest of Pleiku, the Vietnamese Highland Corps headquarters.

Three of the regiments there are from the North Vietnamese 325th Division, which formerly had its headquarters in northern Cambodia near the Laotian frontier. Now its headquarters is west of Kontum City in South Viet Nam, about 260 miles north of Saigon.

The division brought in an estimated total of 25,000 tons of supplies before it opened its campaign for control of the highlands. Its headquarters is large, highly mobile and includes more than 1,000 men and a radio network.

Outlook Fine For Longest Space Flight

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —With a cloudy sky gradually brightening, the final countdown ticked along flawlessly today for man's longest space journey, the 14-day flight of Gemini 7 astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell Jr.

The countdown began under a threatening, overcast sky. But the picture brightened as the count continued and a space agency spokesman said weather would be cloudy but satisfactory at the scheduled launching time.

A Titan 2 rocket was to thunder to life at 2:30 p.m. (EST) to hurl Air Force Lt. Col. Borman and Navy Cmdr. Lovell away from the earth on the start of their epic voyage.

If all goes well, they will rendezvous nine days from now with the two pilots of Gemini 6 and go hurtling around the world together, possibly only inches apart.

Technicians finished loading 215,000 pounds of fuel into the nine-story-tall Titan 2 at 2 a.m. The operation went without a hitch and the countdown began right on schedule at 8:30 a.m.

"We're ticking right along," the spokesman said.

A solid but high overcast hid the rising sun as the big day began for Borman and Lovell, and forecasters said there was a possibility of showers during the day.

"But we're told by the weatherman that we shouldn't have any rain at 2:30," the space agency spokesman said, "and if the clouds don't drop any lower than 2,000 feet we probably can go."

Borman and Lovell were up before 7 a.m. they had a light breakfast of orange juice and toast about 7:15 a.m.

After a physical examination, they had a mid-morning brunch of steak and eggs.

The Gemini 7 backup pilots, Air Force Lt. Col. Edward H. White II and Air Force Maj. Michael Collins, climbed into the spacecraft in early morning to check out radio and other systems.

Doctors pronounced Borman and Lovell in excellent health. As the astronauts left for a trailer near the launch pad, Lovell was quoted as saying he was "looking forward to a good long flight."

In the trailer, they had medical sensors attached to their bodies and donned their new lightweight space suits.

Sentenced To Death For Slayings

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — A U.S. District Court jury's decision that Duane E. Pope, 22, be electrocuted for slaying three bank employes in the bloodiest Midwest bank robbery in recent years, was attacked today by defense counsel as a "miscarriage of justice."

Robert B. Crosby, former governor of Nebraska who was appointed by the court as Pope's chief counsel, said he would go to the U.S. Supreme Court if necessary in his fight to set aside the death penalty.

Pope's role in the tragedy at Big Springs, Neb., last June 4 was admitted at the outset of the trial, but Crosby contended that Pope was insane when he staged the $1,598 robbery and shot the bank employes as they lay face down on the floor.

However, the jury of 10 men and two women late Friday returned a guilty verdict after 14 hours deliberation and ordered that the Kansas farm youth die.

Judge Robert Van Pelt set 11:30 a.m. next March 3 as date for the execution. Appeal moves are expected to stay the date.

The chief prosecutor, U.S. Dist. Atty. Theodore L. Richling of Omaha, called it a "just verdict" from "an exceptionally high-caliber jury."

When Pope, of Roxbury, Kan., heard the verdict his face carried the trace of a smile.

While his mother, Mrs. Earl J. Pope, sobbed, Pope was summoned to stand before the bench.

Judge Van Pelt asked Pope, a shy college athlete, if he had anything to say before sentence was pronounced.

Pope turned to Crosby for guidance.

"There is nothing to be said," Crosby stated.

The judge asked Pope if he concurred.

"Yes, sir," he replied.

They were the only words he was heard to utter before U.S. marshals returned him to a maximum security ward at the state penitentiary in Lincoln.

Pope had readily admitted entering the Farmer's State Bank five days after he was graduated from McPheron (Kan.) College, taking the available money and shooting the four bank employe witnesses.

Terrorists' Bomb Leaves 11 Dead

By ROBERT MOOREFIELD

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A small band of Viet Cong terrorists with machine guns blazing stormed and blasted an enlisted men's billet before dawn today, leaving 11 persons dead and scores injured.

The raiders escaped without a trace. The bomb they used to blast the eight-story Metropole Hotel in downtown Saigon took the lives of two Americans, a New Zealand trooper and eight Vietnamese.

Seventy-two Americans were injured and estimates of Vietnamese wounded ranged to more than 100, many of them women and children. Officials still had no exact figure this morning.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge called the bombing "a diabolical act" and "murder."

The Viet Cong also broke a three-day lull in the war today with attacks on government outposts from the South China Sea to the central plains of the north.

A battle still raged late today about 20 miles south of Quang Ngai City in the central coastal plains, where the Viet Cong attacked a complex of three hamlets. A government force was sent to help the defenders.

Each of the hamlets was defended by a platoon of Vietnamese militiamen. The reaction force met an estimated company of Viet Cong just outside the complex.

There were no reports of casualties on either side. A U.S. Navy destroyer lent support with its five-inch guns.

In the Mekong Delta, an outpost 80 miles south of Saigon also came under heavy Viet Cong attack.

Government casualties were reported to be moderate. Three Viet Cong were killed.

U.S. Navy Seabees were clearing the rubble left by the blast at the Metropole Hotel.

Ordnance disposal men believe that the terrorists exploded a 250-pound device.

The blast came after an unknown number of Viet Cong opened fire with machine guns on U.S. military police and guards and Vietnamese police.

United Fund Still Seeking Contributions

Contributions and pledges to the Scurry County United Fund campaign were still trickling in at the end of the week, and campaign officials hoped that others would continue.

The weekend tabulation showed a total of $22,819, or 83 per cent of the $27,500 goal.

Most of the campaign work is being conducted by mail now. Cards were sent out several days ago to a number of local citizens who had not been contacted during the drive. A moderate response resulted, although many more still have not been heard from.

At the same time, some campaign workers still had a few cards and were in the process of making late contacts and it was hoped that these would result in still more contributions.

A plea went out for anyone who has not contributed to send his contribution to the Scurry County United Fund, Drawer CC, Snyder.

Moon Shot On Course

MOSCOW (AP)—Luna 8, the fourth Soviet attempt this year to make history's first soft landing on the moon, was reported functioning normally today at a distance of 132,352 miles from earth.

The position was recorded at 10 a.m. EST.

An official announcement said "the probe's trajectory is close to the prescribed one."

This is the normal way of describing the course of an unmanned Soviet moon rocket. The course is normally adjusted automatically in flight.

The brief announcement, first since Luna-8 was launched Friday on a 3 and ½ day flight to the moon, also gave the clearest indication yet that a soft landing would be tried again.

"The main purpose of this probe is the further refinement of the system of soft landing on the moon," it said.

Draft Quota Remains High

WASHINGTON (AP) — Next month's draft quota is about 2,000 below the December call but remains at a high level.

The Pentagon Friday asked the Selective Service System to induct 32,200 men next month.

This compares with 40,200 in the December call.

January marks the fifth straight month of high draft calls growing out of President Johnson's order to build up the regular armed forces by 340,000 men over a 21-month period. It was ordered [illegible] to test combat [illegible] Vietnam.

Long Bridge Takes Shape

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Europe's longest suspension bridge is taking on a finished look.

The 150-foot center section was put into place last week, leaving about 300 feet of side spans to be filled before the 3,323-foot bridge is complete.

It will cross the mouth of the Tagus River, linking Portugal's industrial north and agricultural south. Four traffic lanes will handle 6,000 vehicles an hour. A dozen ferries will be retired. Later the government plans to add a double-track railway to end a 40-mile detour around the estuary.

Trio's Conviction Hailed By LBJ

By DUDLEY LEHEW

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — President Johnson says "the whole nation can take heart" from the conviction of three Ku Klux Klansmen in Montgomery on criminal conspiracy charges in the death of a civil rights worker.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and other civil rights leaders said the verdict by the all-white jury Friday was an encouraging sign, but King added he felt new legislation still was needed to protect Negroes and civil rights workers.

The Klansmen were sentenced by U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. to 10 years in prison in the shooting death of Viola Gregg Liuzzo, a white Detroit housewife.

The jury, which deliberated 11 hours, at one time told Judge Johnson they were hopelessly deadlocked. However, the judge ordered them to continue over the protests of defense attorney Arthur Hanes.

Hanes told Judge Johnson an appeal would be filed and bond for the three men was set at $10,000 each. The Klansmen are Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., 22, of Bessemer, Ala., and Eugene Thomas, 42, and William Orville Eaton, 41, both of Bessemer, Ala.

The decision came about 24 hours after a jury of white men in Anniston, Ala., convicted Hubert Damon Strange, a 25-year-old white man, of second-degree murder in the fatal shooting of Negro Willie Brewster. Strange also was sentenced to 10 years imprisonment.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach telephoned the President at Johnson City, Tex., from Washington to inform him of the verdict in the trial of the Klansmen.

Post-Christmas Tax Cut Slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's taxpayers will be getting a post-Christmas present — a $1.6-billion excise tax cut.

Under a bill passed by Congress last June, a variety of taxes will be chopped, some of them for the second time.

The measure's ultimate reduction has been estimated at $4.7 billion annually. The first round amounted to about $1.7 billion and was effective immediately.

The second phase will take hold at the end of this month.

Telephone users will be the biggest beneficiaries this time.

The 10 per cent levy on local and long distance service will be slashed to 3 per cent effective Jan. 1. It will be reflected in telephone bills for January. The reduction is estimated at $610 million.

Over the next three years this tax will be eliminated entirely, at the rate of 1 per cent a year.

The manufacturers' excise tax on automobiles, reduced from 10 to 7 per cent in June, will go down another percentage point to 6 per cent on Jan. 1. If fully passed on, this should save car buyers $190 million.

The auto levy will be dropped to 1 per cent by Jan. 1, 1969.

New Year's Eve revelers also get a break under the tax reduction program.

Effective at noon on Dec. 31, the 10 per cent cabaret tax will be eliminated. This levy has brought in $47 million annually.

The same timetable applies to repeal of the general admissions tax at theaters, movies, concerts and athletic events. This tax is 1 cent for each 10 cents in excess of $1.

Order Ends Rail Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — A strike of railway trainmen hit overnight operations of the Southern Railway System, but a federal court ordered a halt to the walkout today.

The railroad said a temporary restraining order was issued early today by U.S. District Judge J. Robert Elliott in Georgia and was served on representatives of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen at Macon, Ga., at 6:30 a.m.

L. G. Tollison, assistant vice president in charge of labor for Southern, said the apparent issue of the strike was a dispute over whether firemen on freight trains should ride in the engine or the caboose.

Demand For Water Gains In November

Unseasonably warm weather had its effect on water deliveries by the Colorado River Municipal Water District during November.

The district pumped to its customers 767,893,474 gallons of water during the month, or approximately 73,000,000 more than for November of 1964. This represented a 10.59 gain, one of the widest margins of the year and reversed slight decline in trends for the past several months. This also put the district past the 10 billion mark on deliveries once more and with assurance the 11 billion mark will be topped.

Through 11 months deliveries have amounted to 10,571,621,638 gallons, or 2.52 per cent off last year's record pace. There is a good prospect that the district will end the year close to 11½ billion gallons, which would be about 2 per cent below 1964.

Member cities of Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder took 452,194,600 gallons in November, a gain of 9.62 per cent. Oil companies required 315,698,874, a gain of 12.01 per cent.

Odessa used 229,480,000 gallons, up 7.83 per cent; Big Spring 174,334,000, up 7.25 per cent; Snyder 48,380,600, up 30.28 per cent. The big gainer among the oil companies was Sun Oil which took 104417,000 gallons for a 51.43 per cent gain, but then part of this was due to the addition of the Perkins - Prothro unit to the Sun Oil contract.

Basketball Team To Appear On School Television Show

Snyder High School varsity basketball squad will hold the spotlight on Monday evening's "Know Your Schools" TV program. Coach Ned Underwood and his first string basketeers will give fans information concerning this year's schedule.

Snyder Public Schools' broadcast will be projected over Channel 2, SCAT. This cable belongs to Snyder Community Antenna Television company. The programs may be viewed each Monday evening during the school term from 6:30 p.m. to 7 p.m.

SHS varsity squad saw its first competition in a pre-season game last Tuesday evening against Andrews. In a hard fought game, played here, the local squad bowed to its visitors by a narrow margin, 74 to 72. The local squad will travel to Andrews on Tuesday, Dec. 14, for their second tilt with this team.

District competition opens with a game here on Dec. 31. Snyder is pitted against Lamesa in the district play opener.

Underwood will introduce team members to be seeing action this year on Monday evening's program. This group includes Bill Blum, Tommy Bullard, Bobby Clardy, Verrnon Clay, Tom Duke, Ronnie Lasater, Billy McClain, Steve McMahan, Langston Powell, M. C. Powell, Sandy Wellborn and Eldon Woodward.

This year's basketball squad will have the support of three lettermen. Blum, Duke and McMahan were members of last year's squad that gave Snyder High School its best won-loss record in the school's history with 22 wins and five losses. Last year, the SHS varsity squad won the Brownwood tournament, the Canyon Reef tournament and was runner-up in the Seminole tournament.

Several members of last year's team received caps and gowns with last spring's graduating seniors. Graduating team members included Drew Bullard, Leslie Brown, Steve Crowell, Ronnie Detrich, Jimmy Featherston, Phillip Floyd and Jerry Vestal. Two team members received scholarship awards. Drew Bullard is attending Hardin-Simmons, and Leslie Anderson, who is now in Odessa Junior College, are the award winners.

Snyder High School's varsity squad has placed well in district competition the past three years. They won third in 1963, district in 1964, and earned second place last year.

Coach Underwood is a graduate of the Snyder High School completing his senior year in 1953. Besides his coaching activities, he teaches four classes a day in American History.

After graduating from Texas Tech in 1957, Underwood taught for five years in the Snyder junior high school and coached basketball. In 1962, he was transferred to the senior high school as head basketball coach.

SHS's basketball mentor has had good training in his chosen coaching field, as well as gaining experience the past eight years. He played both basketball and football during his high school years and served as captain of teams in both competitive sports. He was chosen all-district for two years for his basketball prowess. Gene Gibson, Texas Tech's current basketball mentor, coached Snyder High School's varsity squad at the time Underwood was playing.

During his college athletic career, Underwood gained further basketball experience under two more of the area's outstanding coaches, Ernest Kinney, now of Oklahoma A&M, and Polk Robinson, Tech's current athletic director. He attended Texas Tech on a basketball scholarship, and played his first year there on the freshman team. The three remaining years saw him in action with the varsity for the Red Raiders. He was captain of the Red Raiders his senior year.

As is required today of SHS athletes, Underwood excelled in other areas of the school's activities. During his high school career, he was voted Mr. SHS; served as president of his senior class, and was a member of Who's Who.

Basketball is the only major sport of strictly US origin. It was invented in 1891 by James Naismith, a Canadian by birth, who was residing in this country at the time. To fill a void between football and baseball seasons, the head of the physical education department at the Sprinkfield, Mass., college asked Naismith to invent an indoor game. Naismith was an instructor at the college.

Naismith prepared a set of 13 rules embodying five principles that still govern the game. His principles were: there must be a ball, large, light and handled with the hands; there shall be no running with the ball; no man on either team shall be restricted from getting the ball at any time it is in play; both teams are to occupy the same area, yet there is to be no personal contact, and the fifth principle, the goal shall be horizontal and elevated.

A pair of peach baskets nailed to the balcony ten feet above the floor, became the goals. In the early days, the courts were of irregular shapes with occasional obstructions such as pillars, stairways or other hindrances. In 1903, it was ordered that all boundary lines must be straight. At first, the number of players upon a team varied according to the size of the playing area, but in 1895 the number was set at five.

The game became popular imediately in the United States. Its popularity had spread to Canada and to the European continent by 1894. As an international sport, basketball is second only to soccer.

A special committee of the U.S. and Canada meets annually to formulate rules for the N.C.A.A. and the National Federation of State High School associations.

Preceding the 20-minute program feature, news from the system's various schools and administration will be given. News items are gathered each week by students of the high school journalism classes. Speech class newscasters will be Barbara Gracey, high school; Nan Martin, junior high schools; Donna Davis, elementary bringing administration news and acting as mistress of ceremonies for the entire TV program.

In-training students operating equipment this week will find Glenn Arnold and Tom Lowe on cameras; Douglas Burney operating the slide projector; Herbert Eades handling mikes, and Bobby Wesson controlling audio.

Daniel R. Martin and Ed Phy, the school's director of educational materials including audio-visual and the TV program director respectively, will be on hand to see that equipment is handled properly and that the program moves along smoothly. Coy Thompson, an employee of SCAT acts as trouble shooter for the school bradcasts.

On Monday evening, Dec. 13, "Know Your Schools" viewers may expect to see displays and demonstrations of work done in the senior high school art classes. Mrs. Lillian Jones, art instructor in the Snyder High school for eight years, gives instructions in painting, ceramics and leather craft.

The original dimensions of the Washington Monument were changed as a result of research by George Marsh, a United States minister to Italy. A true obelisk, he reported, would have a height about 10 times its base width, hence the monument's final proportions: 555 feet 5⅛ inches high to a base 55 feet 1½ inches square.

Kelly's Star Is Dimmed By Dolphin

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Stardom, when it comes to an actor, means that his name is in lights on a marquee, in big letters on a billboard or occupies the television screen alone.

Where film-making is involved, it also results in a bit of a stir on appearances around Hollywood. And in discreet, modest interviews praising the talent and camaraderie of the rest of the show's team.

Consider then the plight of a tall, good-looking actor named Brian Kelly who has star status, sure enough, on an NBC hit series. But the undeniable, real star of the show is a dolphin named Suzy who plays the title role, and a group of five other hard-nosed mammals who help out with stunts and as stand-ins, or swim-ins.

Add to that the fact that the series, "Flipper" — the dolphin's name in the show — is filmed entirely in studios, locations — and under the waters — of Florida and the Bahamas, far from the normal haunts of show business people.

The average actor, in his second season costarring in a successful series, begins to grouse about the long hours and hard work. Kelly's main complaint is at least unusual: "Why do I always have to work in a rubber diving suit when its boiling hot in July or August, but it's always just swim trunks in the early-morning in January when the water is icy?"

Suzy, the prima dolphin, is a pretty good actor, Kelly admits, but occasionally makes things difficult when the director wants her to perform but she wants to play.

"All those dolphins are creatures of the deep, but they have a real feeling for human beings," he said. "I think Suzy recognizes me — but anyway, when she decides she wants to play, and I'm in the water, I play. One flip of that tail could break your arm — they are very strong. And, of course, they tackle sharks by butting them with those tough noses. If they ever turned on a man they could kill him — but they are really friendly, and easy to get along with."

Strict Aloofness Is Pure DeGaulle

By RICHARD K. OMALLEY

PARIS (AP) — Charles de Gaulle's Olympian silence through most of the French election campaign is something of a key to the man himself.

For him, competition doesn't exist in the accepted sense. Even the manner in which he announced as a candidate was pure De Gaulle.

Without me, he told the people, France will tumble into chaos. With me, it will continue on its lively and prosperous way.

This drew less than unanimous enthusiasm from the people. Close associates hurriedly tried to get across the idea that De Gaulle hadn't meant it exactly that way.

He is a devotee of the mystique of leadership and admits it. Without it, he feels a leader becomes commonplace. So he surrounds himself with a glacial aloofness. Only three or four officials see the texts of his speeches in advance. He writes them himself, tailoring his own sonorous and sometimes involuted prose.

When he wants to, or sees the need of it, he can be charming in almost an imperial way. This correspondent once watched him stride across a lawn at a Bastille Day reception to shake hands with a group of Tuareg tribesmen, brought to Paris for the celebration. De Gaulle radiated good will and chatted easily through an interpreter who scurried to his side.

He has a temper fully as great as his dignity but it is icy and under control. He displayed it publicly during the Algerian rebellion. European settlers had risen in revolt and the army stood idly by, half in sympathy. This went on for several days without a word from De Gaulle. Then he told the army to do its duty. It did, and the revolt collapsed.

His single-minded attitude caused bruises on both sides when he was an exile leader in London during World War II. Britain and the United States tended to regard him as a lone hand who didn't really have much influence in his own country. Some went so far as to think him an upstart.

This attitude enraged him, and perhaps sowed some of the seeds of opposition he now shows toward America and Britain.

"Grandeur" is a keynote word in De Gaulle's thinking — French grandeur.

It motivates a good deal of what he has done to try to minimize American influence on the European continent.

His attacks on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, his scornful description of an integrated Allied command as "subordination," his whittling away at American business influence in France — these are all dedicated to recreating the "grandeur" and leadership of France in Europe and at the world's council tables.

But a new factor appeared in the closing days of the political campaign.

Sources close to De Gaulle intimated he may have changed his tune to a rising obbligato of pro-Europe and pro-American sentiment in France and in Europe.

It may be that he has sensed that it is time now to mend some fences and not isolate his country inside Europe. If this is so, then the future of American-French relations has brightened perceptibly.

It would not mean that he plans to abandon his aims. But it could mean a lessening of harshness, a constructive, instead of destructive, attitude toward such a difficult problem as NATO. And De Gaulle considers NATO as the principal point of difference between himself and the United States.

Texas Drilling Continues To Lag

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Texas drillers completed 108 oil wells and 73 gas wells this week, the Texas Railroad Commission reported Saturday.

This brings the year's oil well total to 6,316, compared with 7,697 completed by this time a year ago. New gas wells total 2,297, compared with 2,493 last year.

Wildcatters drilled five oil and three gas wells. Two wildcat oil wells were in Dist. 4, one each in Dists. 7-B, 7-C and 9. Two gas discoveries were in Dist. 4 and one was in Dist. 7-C.

The commission said 138 wells were plugged, including 68 dry holes.

Farm Bureau Opposes Monetary Plans

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — A broad attack on the Johnson administration's monetary policies is being planned by the American Farm Bureau Federation, the farm group with the largest membership.

The criticism will be launched at the bureau's convention opening at Chicago Dec. 12. The issue is expected to occupy about as much attention as more specific issues involving agriculture.

For years, Farm Bureau leaders have contended that inadequate farm income should be attributed to failure of the government to stablize the economy.

These leaders point out that cash receipts from sale of farm products have climbed to a record high of around $40 billion a year. But gains in gross income have been offset by increases in farm production costs. Agriculture Department reports show that since 1960, farm product prices have risen 4 per cent, but that prices of goods and services used by farmers in production and in family living have gone up 8 per cent.

Farm production costs have climbed from $26 billion in 1960 to $30 billion this year or about

Seminole Edges By Tigers Varsity

SEMINOLE—The Snyder Tigers varsity basketball team got behind in the first quarter here Friday night and never could catch up as they bowed to host Seminole 56-68. The Tigers played the Indians on even terms in the 2nd and final quarters, but were edged by 9 and 4 points in the 1st and 3rd stanzas.

Snyder was scheduled to play Brownfield at 7 p.m. Saturday for third place honors. The Cubs bowed to Tulia in the opener Friday by the score of 45 to 63.

Tiger Coach Ned Underwood commented Saturday morning that the Brownfield team was the best that he had ever seen from that school.

Underwood said that the Tigers made too many mistakes in their game with Seminole, especially on defense. He added that the boys lost the ball too many times and missed shots that they should have made.

Sophomore guard Tommy Bullard led all shooters in the contest with 21 points on 8 field goals and 5 gratis shots. The only other Snyder player in the double figures was Bill Blum who had 14 points on 7 field goals.

Seminole had four boys in the double figures, with high-point honors going to Kenny Roberts, who had 16. Bob Keyes and Darrell Price hit for 13 each and David Cummings had 12.

The Tigers hit on 14 of 35 attempts in the first half for 40 per cent and 11 of 27 in the final half for 40 per cent. The hosts made 55 per cent of their shots in each half.

Seminole out-rebounded the Tigers 36 to 30. Leading in that department for Snyder were Langston Powell and Bullard, who had 8 and 7 respectively.

The Tigers will next see action Tuesday night when they journey to Colorado City to battle the Wolves. Following that they will be hosts at the Canyon Reef Tournament which will be unreeled on the local court Friday and Saturday.

Clemson Hit With Fine

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Clemson University has 18 too many football and basketball players on scholarship and it has cost the Tigers a $2,500 fine by the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Commissioner Jim Weaver of the ACC announced the penalty Friday, saying Clemson informed the conference office it had violated a conference rule limiting football and basketball scholarships to 140.

Weaver said R.R. Ritchie, Clemson's faculty chairman of athletics, reported the violation.

Said Ritchie: "We just wound up with too many boys. We usually lose 15 to 30 a year from the freshmen and varsity squads for academic reasons. Butt his fall, all but two showed up."

Weaver notified Clemson that 18 members of this year's freshmen football squad currently receiving aid must be held out of competition during the 1966-67 academic year.

SWC Foes Are Tough

By The Associated Press

Texas Christian lost in an overtime to Georgia Friday night and that meant the Southwest Conference still was winless in intersectional basketball.

Frank Harscher poked in a field goal with 26 seconds left to give Georgia a 76-75 decision and it was Texas Christian's second loss in a week—the only Southwest Conference team to have already dropped two.

Thus far the conference has played six games with the outsiders and has lost them all, with TCU coming nearest to posting a victory.

Tonight six of the conference teams are in action and all are intersectional games.

Southern Methodist hosts Georgia Tech, Texas Tech meets Kansas at Lubbock, Texas entertains Mississippi, Arkansas gets Missouri at home in a day game, Baylor plays its first game—against New Mexico at Albuquerque—and Rice takes on Alabama at Tuscaloosa.

Weather May Wither Orange Blossom Classic

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Weather may be a factor in the 33rd annual Orange Blossom Classic, called the championship game of Negro college football, when Florida A and M University plays Morgan State in the Orange Bowl tonight.

The weather bureau reported a 20 per cent chance of showers, with the temperature expected to be about 70 degrees at kickoff time.

The heat, rather than the humidity, may affect the players although a wet turf could make the footing treacherous for fleet ball carriers.

Morgan State arrived here Wednesday with a squad of 43 players, coming in early to get away from the chill of Baltimore. Coach Earl Banks remembers that two years ago, when Morgan State lost to the Rattlers from Tallahassee, his players complained of being tired and overworked.

Banks brought only 34 players that time, and 17 of them played most of the game. This time he will have two full units.

The Bears still will be outmanned. Rattlers Coach Jake Gaither arrived Friday from Tallahassee with a squad of 65 players.

However, the veteran Florida A and M mentor noted that his players don't have the experience of other years and injuries have hurt. The Rattlers have a 7-2 record, with losses to Tennessee State, 45-6, and Texas Southern, 34-21.

Morgan State, 8-0, gained close to 370 yards per game while holding opponents to 96.4 yards and a total of 27 points.

The Rattlers have won 17 of these contests, with 14 losses and one tie. Last year they defeated Grambling of Louisiana 42-15.

The Morgan State squad includes one white player — offensive tackle George Bowers III, a 6-foot-2 210-pounder and a freshman. If he gets into the game he will be the first white player in the history of the Orange Blossom.

The game is expected to draw 35,000 fans for the 8 p.m., EST, kickoff.

Move Giant Suit?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The owners of the San Francisco Giants have petitioned for a change of venue of a $110,000 damage suit filed by Los Angeles Dodger catcher John Roseboro against the Giants and pitcher Juan Marichal.

The petition, filed Friday, asks that the suit be transferred to San Francisco for trial. Superior Judge Shirley M. Hufstedler scheduled a hearing on the petition Dec. 16.

Roseboro charged Marichal with assault and battery in connection with an Aug. 22 game in Candlestick Park in which he was hit with a baseball bat.

Raines Scores TKO During Colorful Boxing Program

Spectators enjoyed an entertaining and exciting evening at the opening of the Scurry County Boys' Club Friday Night Boxing Program, according to spectators who saw the program.

In the main events of the evening against Lamesa, Snyder won 3 and lost one. Fred Benetiz was pitted against a tough ever-pressing fighter in John Briones but Freddie outboxed and out-maneuvered his opponent, all the way, for a unanimous decision.

In the battle of Odessa Golden Glove champions, the Snyder Boys' Clubbers had last year's lightweight champion Vince Gaona against last years welterweight champion Doyle Raines of Lamesa. In the middle of the second round Raines landed a hard right cross to the chin sending Gaona down for a short count and though the game Gaona was up, he never recovered sufficiently to fight or protect himself. Raines, following up his advantage pinpointed two hard right leads flush on the chin sending Gaona to the canvas, and referee Bill Butler stopped the bout awarding Raines a TKO.

The third bout was a thriller all the way with Jessie Costello of Snyder and Jimmy Briones doing plenty of toe to toe slugging. It was anyones bout going into the third round. Midway in the third round after the Lamsa lad was seemingly getting the best of the frequent exchanges, Costello suddenly whipped over a whistling left hook square on the jaw that buckled Briones knees and dropped him for a clean knockout.

In the fourth bout, Lamesa had a fast and vicious lightweight fighter in Volenta Briones, who swarmed over his heavier opponent Eloy Benitez of Snyder in the first round, but bantamweight Benitez showed plenty of coolness and determination as he methodically and persistenty made the most of his reach to left hand jabs or left right combinations to win unanimous decision.

Other bouts saw Andrew Trevino of Snyder win a split decision over Joe Breeding of Lamesa in a fast and furious three round go. There was plenty of cheers as fans saw the exuberant J. V. James of Snyder make his first appearance in the ring. He won a quick mismatch over his younger opponent Carlos Leal. Encouraged by the fans and desiring to rematch a second fight, J. V. willingly took on the fast free swinging experienced Joe Breeding of Lamesa which proved much to much for the inexperienced Snyder lad to cope with at this time.

Another colorful and upcoming fighter is Bill McCain who put on an exhibition with Bill DeKnight, both of Snyder.

In other bouts winning by unanimous decision were Alvin Porter over Kevin Stanley, Pete Rios over Louis Salinas, Ronnie Porter over Tom Clayton, Ruben Delao over Steven Stanley, Rickey Rios over Floyd Jackson, Junior Rios over Frank Costello, Charles Rioe over Sherman Floyd, Eugene Morris over Jerry Loper, and Felix Martinez over Tony Molina.

Those winning by split decisions were Vince Ellard over Joe Garza, Daniel Campos over Tommy Moore, Paul Torrez over Don Davis, Wallace Rice over David Lindsey, Junior Floyd over Mike Lindsey, Joe Rios over Granville Stanley.

Judges and officials for the bouts were Howard Jones, Shelby Coker, Joe Brown, James Bickel, Buck Byrum, and Charles Freeman with Bill Butler doing all the refereeing.

Class AAAA Schools Survive First Round

All of the Class AAAA schools entered in the Snyder "B" team basketball tournament won opening round victories. Both Lubbock Schools advanced to the second round as Lubbock High stopped Andrews 48-43 and Monterey bested Seminole 39 - 26. Midland Lee beat Brownfield 62-41 and Big Spring bopped the tourney hosts, 43-36.

One second round game was held Friday night with Andrews scoring a thrilling 66-58 win over Brownfield in an overtime game on the Consolation side of the bracket.

The score was tied up, 56-56 at the end of regular play, Andrews had made a great comeback in the fourth quarter, scoring 22 points while limiting Brownfield to 12. Then, in the overtime period, the young Mustangs socked in four quick field goals, aided by some fancy stealing, and added two bonus throws to win going away. The hapless Cubs could manage but one good shot from the field in overtime.

Brownfield's Masso led tournament scorers with 30 field goals and six free throws for 26 points. His teammates Bells and Webster added 11 and 10 points respectively. Nine Andrews boys got in the scoring act with Sharbutt hitting for 17 and Benham for 11.

Monterey outscored Seminole in every period and never was pressed. One boy on each team finished in double figures. Rickey Dyer had 10 for Monterey and Steve Stanley meshed 10 for Seminole.

After trailing 8-16 at the end of the first quarter and 20 - 25 at halftime, Midland Lee put on a great rally to overcome Brownfield, holding their opponents to only 16 points in the second half while scoring 42. Brownfield did not hit on a single field shot in the third quarter.

Lubbock High also used a second half comeback to dispose of a determined Andrews team in the first round. The Westerners led 8-5 going into the second quarter, but trailed 23-22 at halftime. An 18-point barrage in the third quarter recorded the momentum for the victory.

Saturday games found Seminole meeting Snyder with the winner to take on Andrews for the Consolation trophy. Lubbock tangled with Lee, and Monterey collided with Big Spring. Winners of these two tilts were to meet Saturday night for the championship with the losers scheduled to fight it out for third place.

Tigers Impressive In Playoff Victory

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texarkana hurdled the Dallas Hillcrest menace in style Friday night and enhanced its status as favorite to win the Class AAAA schoolboy football championship.

Furthering its reputation for being able to muster the big shots in the clutch, Texarkana, under the expert guidance of its quarterback, Joe Norwood, lashed Hillcrest 21-6 and advanced to the semifinals.

Norwood ran 67 yards for one touchdown, scored another by smashing over from the one and passed to Ronnie Mitchell for the third. Norwood also kicked three extra points.

Hillcrest had held the Tigers scoreless in the first half and came closest to tallying itself when Bob Bearden missed a field goal.

Freeport Brazosport remained unbeaten as it clouted Houston Jones 28-15 in the lower bracket of Class AAAA, with David Pratt running for three touchdowns and throwing for the other.

Two other semifinalists will be determined Friday night when Weatherford strapped Nacogdoches 34-6. Ronnie Colliflower passed for two touchdowns and Dave Davis ran for 81 yards in leading the Kangaroos to their triumph.

Weatherford intercepted four Nacogdoches passes and turned three of them into touchdowns.

The other three semifinalists in AAA will come from the clash of undefeated, untied Dumas and Brownwood at Abilene this afternoon and the Bridge City-Bay City battle at Baytown and Del Rio's contest with San Marcos at San Marcos tonight.

Plano scored the first three times it had the ball and went on to a 22-0 victory over DeKalb while Needville knocked over Bellville 17-7 in Class AA quarterfinal games.

(Fifth Game)

Brownfield—Sherrod 1-1-3; Perkins 0-4-4; Bells 3-3-11; Masso 10-6-26; Webster 5-0-(10); Rattan 0-2-2. Totals: 20-13-58. (Andrews tipped in two).

Andrews—Laminack 0-5-5; Loving 2-3-7; Nieman 1-0-2; Benham 5-1-11; Langston 2-1-5; Rogers 2-0-4; Pearson 14-6; Finley 4-1-9; Sharbutt 8-1-17. Totals: 25-16-66.

Late Gratis Tosses Sink Tiger 'B' Team

Big Spring scored eight points from the free throw line in the last quarter to turn back the Snyder "B" team, 43-36, in the fourth annual tournament held on the Tiger court.

Until the fatal fourth, Snyder struggled desperately to pull within one point of their taller opponents at 32-31 with splendid team work. Coach Bill Hartsfield's boys outscored their foes, 12-10 in a torrid third quarter.

It was a nip -and - tuck ball game all the way. The young Tigers took a commanding 8-0 lead, but Big Spring began to cut into it in the final four minutes of the opening stanza, trailing only 8-10 at the end of the period. The visitors closed fast to take a 22-19 halftime margin. Then Snyder won the third quarter only to ose all the marbles in the penalty-plagued final eight minutes.

Mickey Almond was the only boy in double figures for Snyder. He hit on four field goals and three gratis tosses for 11 points. Other locals who found the range: Frankie Grummett 8, Gus Tovar 7, O. L. Cooper 6, and Craig Bell and Drake Snyder, each with 2.

Drake Snyder played an aggressive, hustling brand of ball and kept plenty of pressure on the Longhorns. Gus Tovar fouled out in the fourth quarter after hitting on two field shots.

Wayne Johnson, with 11 points, was the only visitor to finish in the double column.

Two Employes Of Standard Honored

"I appreciate what you have done for Standard Oil Company and hope you will be with us for many more years," said M. L. Broman, SACROC district production superintendent.

He spoke at a dinner Thursday night at Snyder Country Club in honor of two employes who have together completed a total of 25 years service.

The honorees were Douglas Bell and Rudy Minor, both pumper gaugers. Bell's service with the firm began Oct. 30, 1950. All but a couple of those years have been with the SACROC Unit here. Minor's 10 years all were with Standard in Snyder. He began work for the firm Dec. 12, 1955.

Broman praised the two employes for "their loyal service." He said with obvious sincerity, "You have spent several years of your life with the firm, and we want you to know that we appreciate your fine work."

Prior to the dinner, Broman, who also is Mayor of Snyder, said Standard would contribute to the economy of Snyder for the next 80 years—and maybe longer.

Pins in recognition of their service were given to Bell and Minor. They were pinned on the employes by Jimmy Thompson, production foreman, following the presentation speech by Broman.

The banquet also was attended by Norman Phillips, production foreman and guests Charles Freeman (an operator in the filtration plant) and Malvin Orr (pumper gauger).

Bell-Seale In Order Of Golden Rule

B. J. Seale of Bell - Seale Funeral Home, 3101 Avenue S, has been officially notified of his firm's acceptance into the fellowship of the Order of the Golden Rule—an international organization of funeral directors.

The affiliation was gained only after Bell-Seale Funeral Home received approval of many Snyder people who are in a position to speak with authority on the subject.

Funeral director-members of the Order are selected for their ability to uphold the ideals of this world-wide organization, which has been in existence for more than three decades.

Notification of the firm's membership was made by letter from the Executive Director of the Order, who stressed the distinction Bell-Seale Funeral Home holds by being accepted for membership, since ordinarily but one funeral directing firm in each community can belong. Moreover, the requirements are such that only those firms of high ethical standing in the profession can attain the distinction of membership.

The Order lays particular stress on the necessity of providing service to humanity at the time of need that is modern and comprehensive, and at the same time so moderately priced that it is within the reach of all—even those in the most humble circumstances.

Members of the Order identify themselves by means of a symbol consisting of an armored knight with raised visor, who supports with his left hand a shield bearing the Order's motto "Service Measured not by GOLD, but by the GOLDEN RULE." In his right hand the knight grasps a drawn sword, as if to signify his readiness to defend the high principles inscribed upon the shield.

How Far Will Soviets Go To Oppose The Chinese?

By HENRY S. BRADSHER

MOSCOW (AP) — There it was, on Moscow's television screens. A Soviet border defense soldier pointing his bayonet to the east, where a slant-eyed and unmistakably oriental figure, his hair in a pig-tail, peered over the horizon.

The program was one of folk songs, illustrated with drawings, depicting the heroism of troops who defend Soviet frontiers.

Not so long ago Soviet radio and television had songs about the friendly Chinese comrades in the east. These disappeared as the two Comunist nations sank into today's bitterly hostile conflict of nationalism and ideology.

The use of an oriental face to represent the enemy goes much deeper than the Moscow-Peking dispute.

It spans more than seven centuries of Soviet history, the complex subject of Soviet racial prejudices and a possible fear of the massive size of China's population.

It is particularly significant now in a nation that has been taught over the 48 years since the Bolshevik Revolution that the capitalistic West is the enemy.

Today an American occasionally may hear a Soviet citizen say that "we westerners" or "we white people" must stick gether against the capitalists.

This means that at least some Soviets think there are more important things than the idea of all communists sticking together against he capitalists.

But how many Soviets? How do the Soviet people as a whole feel about the Chinese? And about uniting with Americans to oppose them?

Western-style opinion polls exist in only a limited way here, mostly unpublished. Westerners are restricted in their freedom to discuss attitudes with Soviets. So generalizations have to be cautious.

One obvious thing is a Soviet sense of history. It teaches a suspicion of orientals.

In the early 13th century, Mongols conquered Russia, laying waste cities and enslaving survivors. They ruled 250 years.

Some historians think the Mongols left a permanent mark in the Russian system of tightly centralized rule, whether tsarist or soviet. Karl Marx called Russia a "semi-Asiatic" country in tradition and institutions, character and conditions.

But the Soviets regard themselves as westerners. Their history is one of trying to catch up with the West. It is a history of shunning the oriental.

Racial prejudice is a touchy subject here — but the Soviets are just as human in having prejudices as most other people, that all workers are brothers.

Racial prejudice can be heard in remarks about the Chinese as well as some other non-caucasian peoples. There is reason to believe that most Soviets consider themselves superior to the Chinese — just as most Chinese consider themselves superior to anyone else.

The historic sense of danger from the East and an ingrained dislike of the Chinese were long latent. Soviet leaders have awakened it.

They picture the Chinese Communists as in a stalinist period, which is a dirty term here now. Soviets know that Stalin expanded the borders of the Soviet Union.

In the last days of his premiership, Nikita S. Khrushchev did much to spread the idea of Chinese danger. He publicized a longstanding Chinese claim to some 580,000 square miles of border regions held by the Soviets and he opened the door of secrecy a crack to reveal minor border clashes.

His successors have closed that door again but the Soviets are still somewhat apprehensive.

Passing remarks show a strong awareness of China's 750 million people — three times the U.S.S.R.'s population. The Soviets learned a lot of wars ago that numbers count and they have no desire to tangle with a massive, militant, menacing China.

No one here is suggesting that a Sino-Soviet war is coming soon. It is just that many signs point to a growing feeling that the most likely future enemy is in the East rather than he West.

The Chinese themselves accuse Soviet leaders of drifting that way. They charge Soviet collaboration with the United States. The Kremlin denies it, but at the same time seeks to maintain good relations with the West.

How far will the Soviet Union go toward cooperation with the West against China? The Soviet leaders themselves probably do not know just where events might push them.

But one factor likely to be in the back of their minds is the concept of an oriental face with pigtail looming over the border.

Snyder Delegates Return From Parent Teachers Convention In Corpus Christi

The Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers held its 56th Annual convention in Corpus Christi, recently. Mrs. Florence Danforth of Fort Worth, state president presided. There were approximately 3500 delegates present representing over 300,000 members.

Wednesday afternoon the Congress unanimously adopted a proposal to reinforce state and local control of all federal aid to education and child welfare, and passed a proposal to increase annual national and state dues from 25 to 35 cents.

Thursday's sessions consisted of conferences on what were considered todays most critical issues. Background for the convention was the Dynamic Role of the PTA.

Thursday evening Judge Harold Sam Kessinger of Ridgewood, New Jersey, spoke to the delegation on "The World's Greatest Adventure". He said that mass education is giving the American school system its most severe and disturbing challenge. He warned of too many people whose only interest in children is having them. He also pointed out that--the modern school teacher every day is faced by the almost unsolvable problem of going too fast and losing the backward children, and going too slow and boring the gifted children.

"The World's Greatest Adventure is starting where you are, with what you have and making the most out of it."

New officers elected for 1966 - 68 were: Mrs. L. L. Ledger of Copperas Cove, president; R. H. McKay, of Dallas, first vice president; Mrs. Jean Harris of Alto Duce, second vice president; and Mrs. Bill Leadbetter of Donna, recording secretary.

The State Congress annually presents a National Congress Life Membership to an outstanding Texas citizen interested in PTA work. This year's membership went to Dr. Danforth, a longtime civic leader in Fort Worth. His wife accepted for him in his absence due to illness.

Delegates were told Friday morning the state board of managers has submitted the name of Mrs. Danforth to the National Congress nominating committee, suggesting she be considered for the office of regional vice president of the National Congress.

Others attending but not pictured were Mrs. Betty Honse of Ira, Mrs. Billy Joe Middleton of West Elementary, and Mr. Bob Smith, principal of Travis Junior High School.

MISS VIRGINIA ODOM, MISS JUDY HOFFMAN and MISS BETTY JAMISON are all teachers at Lamar Junior High School.

MISS FAYE COOK and MISS BARBARA SOJOURNER of Stanfield, and MRS. H. L. MCCORMICK of Central Elementary.

SOLO SHOULDER — The new solo bare-shouldered evening silhouette achieves a special dramatic effect with the complexion-flattering glow of luminous velvet in this slender princess gown. Tiny bolero jacket flashes a vivid lining of contrasting color.

These go-go velvets are in step with youth's hectic pace in their performing skills as well as in appearance. Another is an elegant ensemble that combines glowing boulevard velvet with a shimmering lame blouse.

For late day and formal coats, glowing festive velvet has no rival. Here the touch of youth is again apparent, in styles such as a short swirling rise coat with a deep inverted back pleat that gives movement and grace.

Floor-length formal gowns of velvet are pure enchantment, paying the greatest tribute to a woman's figure and skintone. The new single bare-shoulder silhouette is at its most magnificent in soft, radiant velvet. Satin panels and streamers intensify the regal sweep of long skirts; the tunic line is dramatized by an underskirt of satin.

ON THE HOUSE

There comes a time in every man's life when

That room he thought was a den is turned into what is called a nursery.

Or that nook intended for looking over office papers at night becomes part of what is called a study center.

Or the basement finished so carefully to entertain adult guests is taken over by the teen-agers for what is called dancing.

This is an era when more living space in a home really means more living space for the children. It's the chief reason why, when a couple is looking to buy a home, so much importance is placed on the expansion possibilities of the structure. Will there be a place for Jane or Junior when there is a Jane or Junior? And if there already is a child, where will he or she be able to play and still be under the watchful eyes of mother while she is preparing the dinner?

As for a recreation room, while everybody agrees it is for family use, the wise parents know that it really will serve to give the youngsters a chance to play or talk with their friends without disturbing Mom and Pop.

Those same parents, if their wisdom is still working, will see to it that the recreation room is decorated with a kind of carefree touch. Light colors and even a little bizarre effect not only will please the youngsters, but often is a psychological topic for the oldsters on those occasions when they are permitted to use the room. Painting one or more walls a sharp, bright color is one way to achieve a cheery atmosphere.

Realism also is called for in the matter of furniture and even in the types of walls, ceilings and floors which are selected if the recreation room is created after the family moves in.

Sturdy furniture will serve the purpose at the sacrifice of beautiful but fragile fabrics. Asphalt or vinyl asbestos floor tile will stand up well, and these days can be purchased in sparkling designs.

Accoustical ceiling tile may be a wise choice if some of the noise must be kept inside the room. Walls of durable materials are preferable over those which can be easily dented or punctured.

In short, you might as well make the recreation room a place for the young. You'll have to do it sooner or later.

QUESTION: I am getting ready to finish our attic, but can't make up my mind what kind of wood to use for the walls. The more I look around at the many kinds of wood in the lumber yards, the more confused I get. And the opinions I get from friends don't help any.

One tells me regular lumber panels 16' wide are best. Another suggests plywood, another hardboard, and still another says I can't use cedar indoors that it is an outdoor wood. Can you help me?

ANSWER: There isn't too much we can tell you except to stop listening to your friends and make up your own mind. If those friends have finished attics of their own, ask to see them and you'll get a better idea of what suits you best. And if they don't have them, try to find some place in your community where finished rooms are on display. Lacking such a place, look for other areas where you might find wood paneled rooms, such as a doctor's or an executive's office.

As for the friend who gave you that advice about cedar, he's all wrong. While there was a time when cedar was only used outdoors, it was merely because of tradition and the fact that cedar is a wood which stands up well when exposed to the elements. But it is being used quite often these days on the inside of a house. It can be stained and finished the same as most other woods.

Miss Gladson, Mr. Page Wed In Double-Ring Vows Nov. 26

Double-ring vows united in marriage Miss Janis Dianne Gladson and George Earl Page at 2 p.m. Nov. 26 in the Northside Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard B. Gladson, 2705 Thirty-fifth Street. Mr. Page is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Page of San Marcos.

The Rev. John Duke, pastor of Northside Baptist Church, officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in silk peau de sole, designed with a classic neckline re-embroidered in alencon lace jeweled in seed pearls. The molded bodice featured long sleeves tapering to petal points over the hands. A sheath skirt with paneled lace was fashioned with a redingote chapel length train.

The veil of elbow length illusion fell from a colet cap of alencon lace centered with a rosette enhanced with seed pearls.

She carried a white orchid surrounded by Frenched mums and stephanotis atop a white Bible.

Gayna Gladson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a gold crepe sheath with brocade empire top and a floor length train. Mrs. Elvin Rousseau of Mount Pleasant, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her costume was identical to that of the maid of honor.

Jan Holley of Big Spring, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a yellow crepe sheath similar to the maid of honor's costume.

Mrs. Royce Gladson, of Odessa, sister-in-law of the bride, and Joyce Spies of Seguin were bridesmaids. Their costumes were identical to that of the flower girl.

Candlelighters were Ronal Gladson, brother of the bride, and Gary Holley of Big Spring, cousin of the bride.

Peter John Navarette of Austin was ring-bearer and Bill Page of Denver, Colo., served as best man for his brother. Groomsmen were Peter Navarette of Austin, Royce Gladson of Odessa and James Shaffeur of San Marcos. Usher was Elvin Rousseau of Mount Pleasant.

The altar was decorated with three arches of candelabra entwined with boxwood ivy. Two baskets of white Gladioli completed the church decorations.

Mrs. Elvin Rousseau, sister of the bride, sang "Because," "Whither Thou Goest," and the Lord's Prayer. She was accompanied by Kay Pitner, organist.

At the reception in Fellowship hall of the church, Janet Womack and Vickie Minor presided at the bride's table and Mrs. Peter Navarette of Austin at the groom's table.

For the wedding trip the bride selected a three-piece suit of beige wool flaked with gold, a gold hat and beige accessories.

Following the wedding trip the couple will live in Austin where Mr. Page is assistant manager of White's Inc.

The bride is a graduate of Snyder High School and a student at Southwest Texas State College. Mr. Page is a graduate of San Marcos High School and the college at San Marcos.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding came from Seguin, San Marcos, Austin, Big Spring, Odessa, Mount Pleasant and Denver, Colo.

Seeing Red May Produce Hunger Pangs

Waving a red flag at a bull may make him angry but studies show it may make a person hungry.

Research in the effect of colors on human emotions shows that reds, oranges, pale yellows, and greens stimulate the appetite. Reds rate the highest but yellow - greens and purples may be nauseating, especially in a kitchen or dining room.

To cheer up a dull kitchen and dull appetites, the trade association of the nation's ceramic tile manufacturers recommends a splash of color. Brightly colored chairs and tables and a two - toned floor of ceramic mosaic tile, perhaps in red and white, may do the trick.

Vivid color - matched decorative tile scattered throughout a backsplash of a solid color and matching hardware on drawers and cabinets are other possibilities that will stimulate the breakfast and luncheon crowd.

Dining rooms are by tradition subdued in color, reflecting elegance and the warm color tones associated with home. Here, natural materials, such as a rich-looking floor of red - brown quarry tile and a paneled wall, will complement the furniture. Here, too, is a good place to experiment with soft yellows and greens. But, says the Tile Council, shy away from heavy greens and all blues.

There's apparently a good reason for the expression, "I have the blues." Pale blues tend to be too relaxing and dark blues too depressing in any room where food is served.

Always bake custard in another pan of hot water. This equalizes the temperature so the custard at the bottom of the pan doesn't cook faster than the rest.

Pocket Is Full Of Goodies

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

ARE YOU game to try something different in meat cookery-something for which directions are not usually given?

Then we recommend an ingenious way of cutting a pocket in a pork loin roast and stuffing the pocket with a bread dressing made with season fresh cranberries and other good things.

Cutting the pocket is quite simple if you follow the directions in this recipe.

Another tip: when the roast comes out of the oven, allow it to stand for 10 to 15 minutes before carving. After this procedure, we found the roast carved well and the stuffing stayed in place in each chop.

PORK ROAST WITH CRANBERRY STUFFING

Pork loin roast (8 rib chops) weighing 6 to 7 pounds
Salt, pepper, poultry seasoning
1 cup boiling water
1 beef bouillon cube
½ cup butter
1 package (8 ounces) herb - seasoned bread stuffing
1 cup cranberries, knife-chopped
1 small red apple (unpeeled), cored and diced (¾ cup)
¼ cup finely chopped celery
¼ cup minced parsley
1 large egg

Have your meatman saw off the backbone (chine) of the roast. Place the meat rib ends up, on a cutting board. Holding the meaty side of the roast with one hand and starting 1 inch from one end of the roast and ending 1 inch from the other end, cut a slit between meat and rib bones almost to the bottom of the roast. With your fingers, pull the meaty part slightly away from the ribs so as to form a pocket. Sprinkle the inside of the pocket and the outside of the roast with salt, pepper and seasoning salt.

Into a large skillet or medium saucepan, off heat, pour the boiling water; add the bouillon cube, and stir to dissolve. Add butter; over very low heat stir until melted; remove from heat. Add the bread stuffing, cranberries, apple, celery and parsley; mix well. Beat the egg until thick and pale colored and mix with the stuffing.

Spoon the stuffing into the pocket in the roast and any left-over stuffing into a small baking dish. Roast the stuffed pork on a rack in a shallow roasting pan in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 35 minutes per pound. About half an hour before the roast is ready, put the baking dish of extra stuffing in the oven to heat. After the roast has been removed to a hot serving platter, pour off the fat in the roasting pan; spoon some of the drippings over the top of the stuffing in the roast and some over the small baking dish of extra stuffing. Makes 6 servings.

CRANBERRY STUFFING enlivens a pork loin roast cut with a pocket.

To cut meringues, dip a serrated knife in warm water and slice with sawing motion.

MRS. LADDIE ROYCE STOWE

Ramsey-Stowe Marriage In Odessa Methodist Church

The Asbury Methodist Church of Odessa was the scene for the marriage of Patsy Ann Ramsey and Laddie Royce Stowe on December 4th at 1 p.m. Rev. H. L. Atkins, III, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ramsey of Snyder, and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Stowe of Odessa are parents of the couple.

The bride wore an ivory street-length A-line wool dress with brown accessories.

Mrs. John Bill Oman of Odessa was matron of honor and Mr. Henry H. Tolleson of Snyder served as best man.

The bride is a 1960 graduate of Snyder High School, a 1965 graduate of McMurry College, Abilene where she received her BBA degree in Business Education and Secretarial Science. The groom is a 1965 graduate of Olney High School, attended Texas Tech, Lubbock and is employed by General Adjustment Bureau in Odessa as an insurance adjuster.

Following the trip to San Antonio and Corpus Christi the couple will be at home at 1301 W. Thirteenth, Apt. 9, Odessa, Texas.

Pennysaving Tips On Roasts

Big roasts save fixing time, for most are oven - ready, although adding your own seasoning touches takes barely a whit longer. Big roasts save you cooking time—no watching needed—and fuel because they take so little extra time to cook. And they're showy to serve, easy to carve. Boned big roasts may cost a little more per pound, but they are often a wiser buy because there is so little waste and that means more servings from each pound.

Holiday Pewter Spruce Up

Getting ready to polish your pewterware for the holidays? You may want to try these suggestions.

Use a soft cloth and regular pewter polish on modern pewterware. Always rub in the direction of the shape of the article. Remember that pewter is a soft metal and is easily scratched, so never use an abrasive on it. Keep pewter away from heat, and don't let pewter pieces touch one another, for contact causes dark "burn" marks. Never polish antique pewter. To keep it looking presentable, just wash it occasionally in hot suds and dry with a soft cloth.

Industrial Designer Predicts

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

As machines become almost human, people are in danger of being dehumanized by their products, says Henry Dreyfuss president of the Industrial Designers Society of America. But on the other hand we are nearing the time when the home can almost run itself.

". . . You can have just about anything if you can get someone to build it," he explains. Soon we'll be able to serve whole meals by pushing a button. . . put dirty dishes right into a closet and remove them clean . . . stove and freezer may be one unit. . . clothes will be removed wrinkle - free and clean from a closet (and may even be disposable). . . our houses may be cleaned in electrostatic manner. . ."

Dreyfuss already has designed an automatic cooking machine for a drive - in (designed for American Machine and Foundry).

"You give your order, a girl pushes a button and a machine makes a hamburger, slices a roll, puts the meat on the fire, cooks it and drops it on a conveyer belt. Fried chicken goes from a ferris - wheel conveyor into hot fat. The machine can also mix drinks," he explains.

The interior of a supersonic airliner he is designing (for Lockheed, due 1975-1980) will need to speed - feed 250 people who make the 1½ hour flight across country.

Because of the steep half-hour ascent and half - hour descent, eating must be done on the half - hour level flying.

A slim rolling cart that scoots along the floor attached to a rail at the top of the plane will have tray compartments stacked up like drawers. A magazine rack and bar service will move along the same way. A cleaning device will also attach to the rail as the $20,000,000 plans must be unloaded, cleaned, fueled and reloaded within a half hour in the interest of economy. Cleaning plans will change, he says, as new ideas become available and perhaps we'll have electrostatic cleaning by then. Ashtrays will have foil liners for emptying. Polaroid will be used at windows and there will be no curtains to clean.

Comfort is evolved by using Dreyfuss charts, "The Measure of man," long years of study recorded in a collection of anthropometrical, environmental and other data that has enabled designers to fill gaps between human behavior and machine design in designing anything that must fit people.

From his studies he knows how hard a hand can squeeze and how much pressure the average foot can comfortably exert on a pedal, the reach of an arm and head sizes. They have figures to 1980.

"An interesting development is that in 20 years man has grown 1.9 inches and gotten heavier. Woman is taller, but she has lost 7 to 8 pounds. In 20 years we don't expect this figure to vary much. This generation has realized their development potential by better diet and exercise than their parents enjoyed," he says.

In ships (he worked on the Constitution and Independence) and trains (the 20th Century) or in planes we don't use mustardy yellow or yellow green. Clear colors are better, for planes, he says, although he has designed a red interior for the 77 passenger "bus" type commuter plane that American Airlines will put on short flights.

In his 38 years as an industrial designer he had turned out just about everything including radar equipment and the newest telephone with a dial headset. He once took a 6-week sewing course to redesign a sewing machine. He leaves something of the past in his new models.

"Things made by machine should look as if they are made by a machine, but I think machines have done something pretty bad because everything looks alike," he says.

"But if Paul Revere and Cellini lived today, they wouldn't make things by hand. They'd probably be industrial designers," he says.

Use Old Cake For New Treat

Here's an excellent dessert suggested by home economists who have developed a delicious recipe for using up stale pound, yellow or white cake.

The left-over pieces of cake are baked in a rich custard and topped with sliced fruit. If your cake is frosted, don't forget to remove the icing before adding it to the custard.

CAKE 'N' CUSTARD

8 slices of stale cake, pound, yellow or white
1 cup sliced peaches, drained
3 eggs, slightly beaten
⅓ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups milk, scalded and cooled
1 teaspoon vanilla

Line 9 by 9 inch pan with cake slices and arrange peaches on top.

Combine eggs, sugar, and salt. Slowly stir in milk and vanilla. Pour into cake lines pan. Place pan in another pan of hot water. Bake at 325 degrees for 40 to 45 minutes or until inserted knife comes out clean. Cool. Cut in squares.

Piecrusts Discussed

"Making tender flaky piecrusts is easy when you understand the reasons why pastry is tender, flaky, crumbly, or tough" Miss Ruby Butts, County Home Demonstration Agent, told the group of homemakers gathered at Lincoln School Monday night.

Flakiness, Miss Butts said, is caused by small pieces of fat in the dough at rolling time. These bits of fat melt during baking leaving tiny spaces where steam can collect to form flakes and separate the pastry into layers.

Toughness is often the result of too much handling, Miss Butts told the group. It can also be caused by adding too much flour either because of sticky dough, or because of "kneading" the pastry.

Those attending were: Mrs. Jearldene Anderson, Mrs. Frances Jones, Mary Helen Brandon, and Mrs. James Collins.

The next meeting of the group will be on Monday night, Dec. 13 at Lincoln School.

War On Poverty Leaves Many Puzzles Unsolved

By BEM PRICE

WASHINGTON (AP) — From New York to Los Angeles, the nation's frontline warriors against poverty — those at the comunity level — have raised a number of questions, the chief being, "Where are we going to find jobs for all the people we are training?"

After a coast-to-coast study of the poverty war's progress, The Associated Press collected the major questions and presented them to Sargent Shriver, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Here are the questions and Shriver's answers:

Q. OEO is training a host of people in the Jobs Corps, the Neighborhood Youth Corps and in other programs. Where are you going to find jobs for these people? Have you given any thought to the possibility of a large public employment program in event of a slump?

A. All of these people are not being trained for jobs we have to create that are new. There are 77 million Americans employed today. Some of them are going out of the work force every year and they have got to be replaced, so that we are equipping persons today who are totally unequipped. We are equipping them to get jobs in regular lines of work, not just new lines.

And that brings me to the second half of the question: What happens if there is a substantial recession?

If there is a substantial recession — or depression — this affects a lot more than the success or failure of the war against poverty.

As a consequence I'd say that the war against poverty, like everything else, is dependent upon a healthy American economy.

Q. At $1.25 to $1.75 an hour nobody really moves out of poverty. How does this go to the question as to whether we should raise the minimum wage?

A. Let me say this: People in the group we are dealing with have a median income of $1,800 a year. And if we are able to take all those fellows and put them on a $1.25 five days a week for 52 weeks, they would be so substantially improved that it would be a great boost for them, irrespective of whether they technically be deemed to have emerged from poverty.

Q. There is a long-range question which concerns a great many: How do the poor go about acquiring the social and economic mobility, regardless of race, religion or national origin, which is apparently going to be necessary if they are going to move into the mainstream of American life?

A. Well, my own belief is that these problems have got to be solved by American society if we are going to have "the Great Society."

What are we doing about it is the next question. First of all, we have to start at position one, which is to get people equipped intellectually and socially so they can have the fundamentals necessary for mobility. What does that mean? It means education. It means housing. It means medical care. It means a lot of other things — and that is what we are doing.

Q. One of the things that turned up in connection with Head Start the pre-school training program for poor children, aged 4-6 specially in Chicago, is that a number of the children — maybe as high as 20 per cent — had diseases or other troubles — ringworm, anemia, malnutrition, lung ailments. Now it is one thing to examine these people and discover they need help, another to do something about it. Where are the doctors to come from, the hospital beds and who is going to pay the bills?

A. You have asked a question about one of the toughest problems facing American life.

I am extremely pleased that President Johnson's administration finally got through the Congress in the last session a big bill to provide federal money to enlarge medical education in the United States. We are producing too few doctors.

However, that is only part of the problem. In our program we are producing health aides. They are people who can go out and lead people to clinics as a method of bringing health services to people. I think the question of how this is to be financed is one of the biggest problems facing America, but medicare has shown that certain types of assistance can be given to older people without disrupting either our economy or our philosophy of government.

Let me say this: I think one of the benefits of the war against poverty is that we have uncovered some of these conditions.

Q. Another question which has arisen is whether it is a legitimate function of the federal government to foot bills for legal aid in areas involving tenant-landlord relations, purchase agreements and civil rights. What are your thoughts?

A. Well, it seems to me that one of the greatest functions of government is justice.

The purpose of the Department of Justice is to make sure that society does justice to the people who are members of society. Now, what has been found out with increasing accuracy and detail is that there is a huge number of Americans who don't get justice under existing law.

Now, not to get justice is just as bad as not being able to get health aid, not to be able to get housing, not to be able to get education. In some respects, not being able to get justice alienates people from our society because they figure it is an unjust society. Therefore all citizens have to address ourselves to the question: How do we get justice?

This is not to say that we will start off on the assumption that we will give free legal advice or free something else. But the question is the simple but profound question: How do we get justice to these people for today they are not getting justice. What we are trying to do is experiment in a number of different ways to find out how we can get justice to these people.

Peaceniks Moved This Man To Action

PEEKSKILL, N.Y. (AP) — About a month ago, Norman L. Kishbaugh "got boiling mad" when he read about American demonstrators against the U.S. policy in Viet Nam and he decided to do something about it.

"I sat right down and wrote to my Marine Corps Reserve commander and requested active duty," he said.

Today, Kishbaugh leaves New York by plane for Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Kishbaugh, 40, a staff sergeant, is married and the father of two children. He owned a home heating service.

Junior Editors Quiz on FLIGHTLESS BIRDS

QUESTION: How did flightless birds get that way?

• • •

ANSWER: Birds developed wings as a way of flying from enemies and moving quickly from place to place in search of food. But a few birds found themselves in situations where wings were not necessary and were actually in the way. The little kiwi of New Zealand, for example, found an abundance of worms, berries and insects in thick woodsy places, through which its small size enabled it to creep. To protect itself from enemies, it hid during the day. The wings, no longer necessary, were a hindrance, so they disappeared; the flat flight feathers turned into something more like hair. The African ostrich, living in wide open country, developed long, powerful legs to speed away from enemies. It also lost the power of flight because it was no longer needed. The rhea, emu and cassowary, all ostrich-like birds, lost their wings for similar reasons. Penguins, living in regions where fish was the only food, had to develop expertness in underwater swimming. So the wing bones flattened to give less resistance. The whole wing changed into a highly efficient paddle which enabled the bird to swim up to 20 miles an hour. For a penguin, flight had no longer any importance.

• • •

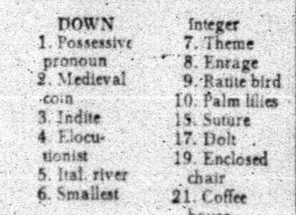

FOR YOU TO DO: Try to think of another well known bird which has almost lost the power of flight. Give up? It's the chicken. Why would chickens need to fly around in the sky when their meals are brought to them, every day, right on the dot? 12-4

Toasty Nuts Are Tastiest

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

WHO'S READY to bring out the best in a filbert?

Then follow our advice and toast the nut. There's something about toasting that yields up every speck of flavor.

Various temperature recommendations have been made for this oven heating. This year we tried a hot (400 degrees) oven with good results.

For the toasting, be sure to use a shallow pan. A candy sheet with low sides and a jelly-roll pan both answer this description. Of course you can, if you like, make a pan from heavyweight foil.

Spread the filberts in a single layer in the pan. It's a good idea to stir the nuts, or shake them, a couple of times during the heating. It will take 10 to 15 minutes at the 400-degree temperature to get them toasted; the time varies a bit. We have on occasion left the filberts in the hot oven for 10 minutes, then turned off the heat and left them in for another five minutes. But the only way to tell whether the filberts have reached the stage were tey give off teir full toasty flavor is to taste them.

When the filberts are out of the oven, we usually let them cool slightly and then rub them between our palms to remove any of the brown skins that will come off.

One excellent way to use filberts is in the delicious cheese spread whose recipe follows. This is a combination of Camembert cheese, butter and dry white wine. The mixture is shaped into an attractive flat round and coated with the chopped toasted nuts. Serve the spread shortly after the filberts are added so they will be at their crisp best.

CAMEMBERT SPREAD WITH TOASTED FILBERTS

8 ounces Camembert cheese
1 cup dry white wine
½ cup butter
1 to 1½ cups coarsely chopped toasted filberts

Put the cheese, without removing the rind, in a small deep non - metallic bowl or similar container. Pour the wine over the cheese; poke down, if necessary, so that it is covered with the wine. Tightly cover the container and refrigerate overnight.

Drain the wine from the cheese. Scrape off any discolored portion of the rind but do not remove the rind. (You will have to discard the wine because it will have taken up salt from the cheese.)

In the small bowl of an electric mixer, cream the butter; gradually and thoroughly beat in the drained cheese so that it blends with the butter. Cover tightly and chill for about 1 hour. Turn the cheese mixture onto a sheet of wax paper; shape into a ball. Cover with part of the chopped filberts and shape into a flat round about 5 inches in diameter. Turn upsidedown onto a small serving plate or board; remove wax paper and coat top with remaining chopped filberts. Cover and chill. Remove from refrigerator about ½ hour before serving. Serve with French bread or toasted crackers as an hors d'oeuvre, or with a salad course or as a dessert course with fruit. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Note: You may use individual foil - covered wedges of Camembert cheese to make up the amount (8 ounces) called for.

CHEESE SPREAD—Concocted with Camembert and chopped toasted filberts. Serve the spread with French bread and a tossed salad for a delightful luncheon course.

ANNOUNCEMENT
It is our pleasure to announce the recent installation in our offices of a Mackay-Marg Electronic Tonometer. This method of testing intraocular pressure for possible early indication of glaucoma was developed at the University of California. It is safe, easy and accurate. Because we believe that pressure testing should be a part of every eye examination, especially for those over 40, we are adopting it as a routine office procedure.

To test the stiffness of egg whites for angel food cakes or meringues, turn the bowl upside down. This is not as risky as you may think. First, test by tilting the bowl on its side. If the egg whites start to slip and do not cling to the bowl, they need further whipping. If you can turn the bowl completely upside down, the egg whites are perfect for your confections.

HEMINGWAY ON LOVE, By Robert W. Lewis Jr. (University of Texas Press, $6.00)

Reading Ernest Hemingway seems simple. He doesn't ask you to jump mental hurdles. All you need do is follow the story stopping only to marvel at the beauty of his terseness.

Literary critics can't believe such simplicity. They must probe and dig until they find that the writer really wasn't intending to tell a story at all but was trying to tell the reader something he didn't really want to tell.

Such literary criticism is lots of fun and, after all, what else is an English professor to write about? In this one opinion, however, few of the dissertations have any real significance.

An exceptional exception is a new criticism off the University of Texas Press called "Hemingway on Love." It is written by a University of Texas assistant professor, Robert W. Lewis Jr.

Lewis is interested in whether Hemingway's viewpoint changed with maturity.

It is a form of psychoanalysis based on Hemingway's writings, and proceeds on the assumption that the author's approach to the subject was something felt within himself. On the other hand, Hemingway's expositions could have been objective examinations of the subject for a calculated effect.

Lewis makes a good case for a transition by Hemingway from juvenile, selfish love to a mature, self-sacrificing love.

About Hmingway, we don't know, even in the face of Lewis' logic. It is sufficient for this reviewer just to read Hemingway.

At any rate, Lewis has performd the unusual. In tearing Hemingway apart and fastening him together again, he has written a remarkable volume on the subject of mature love which many people outside literary circles would find absorbing.

Hemingway probably would just growl at the book and say something dirty about it. But it should be on any Hemingway collector's shelf.

ZODIAC PARTIES. By Choral Pepper (Naylor, $4.95)

"Zodiac Parties" is a collection of menus and recipes pegged together with an idea. The plan is to invite guests under the name Zodiac sign because, in theory, they will like the same things, therefore be congenial. It is as good an excuse for a party as any. The menu even suggests drinks. Particularly interesting for Leos is a julep consisting of a trace of lemon, mint and four ounces of gin. We guarantee that after a couple of these, you will become a Leo no matter your zodiac sign.

EPIDEMIC DISEASE IN MEXICO CITY, 1761-1813. By Donald B. Cooper (University of Texas Press, $6.00)

"Epidemic Disease in Mexico City," is one of a series of monographs being published for the Institute of Latin American Studies at the University of Texas. It tells the reasons for the illnesses which swept that city from time to time and why, even with improving knowledge, they were hard to stop.

In Bygone Times

Do you realize that in our forefather's time everyone made his own soap? It involved boiling up bones and fat, skiming the grease, and adding lye water made by pouring over wood ashes. Think of that when you tear the wrapper off your favorite bar of soap.

Grandmother ironed with sadirons, heated on the range. There was a wooden handle she clipped onto a hot iron. Then she ran the iron over a lump of beeswax, and the ironing chore began. No wonder the electric mangler was greeted with open arms when it made its appearance!

Brownie Troop 248 (Mrs. Ed Neves and Mrs. Buddy Craig) welcomes Mrs. G. J. Nunley to the troop. Mrs. Nunley will be as Assistant Leader.

The leaders of this troop are making plans for a Christmas party for this Troop on Dec. 10. Troop members will exchange gifts, play games, and have refreshments.

Brownie Troop 72 (Mrs. Bruce Gardner and Mrs. L. C. Harber) met at the Scout House Tuesday afternoon.

Gayle Beckham and Dana Thompson, from Cadette Troop 325, taught the Brownies some songs at this meeting.

Cadette Troop 325 (Mrs. H. P. Redwine) selected the Abilene State School for their Christmas project this year. They have sent a large box of gift articles, mostly cosmetics and jewelry, to the school. These will be wrapped by volunteers over at the school and given to the patients on Christmas. They also sent 17 pounds of good clothing.

Troop 325 will have a sale of small gifts, candy, and cookies, on Dec. 11. Please check newspaper for place and hours and DO NOT do all your shopping early.
