SECRETARY OF CITY TAKES OVER POST

MILLER RESIGNATION ACCEPTED TUESDAY BY COMMISSION

"Still doing business at the same old stand", although in a more exalted position, W. H. (Will) Rodgers, for the past five years Lubbock City secretary, today had taken over the duties of the City manager's office.

Sitting in executive session yesterday afternoon at City Hall, the five-man administration heard City Manager J. Bryan Miller proffer his resignation for the second time since late February. Following Mr. Miller's statement a vote was cast and was unanimous in attendance of the resignation.

Offered February 26

Mr. Miller's resignation was first offered on February 26, but after a discussion no vote was taken. Meeting the following day, the commission took a vote, balloting two and two with Mayor Jerry Clements voting off the tie. At that time George E. Benson, commissioner of streets and alleys, and John Roach, utilities commissioner, voted to accept the resignation while Police Commissioner D. N. Leaverton and Finance Commissioner John F. Bacon voted against acceptance. Mayor J. Clements then voted with the latter two commissioners and Mr. Miller retained the place.

Selection of Mr. Rodgers as acting city manager has struck a popular chord, if reactions voiced on the streets today are to be

Tech's Library Fund Is Omitted

FATE OF DAIRY UNIT PROPOSED IS NOT YET DETERMINED

AUSTIN, April 15.—(Special)—Funds for a new library for Texas Technological college have been omitted by the house appropriations committee.

Both the library and a dairy unit also asked by Technological college, are included in the senate educational appropriations bill. Whether the dairy unit will be granted probably will depend upon a decision by a free conference committee.

Library Urged

The educational bill turned in to the house Tuesday carries a total of $15,988,734 for the biennium, which is $1,850,000 less than board of control recommendations. The board urged a $250,000 library for Technological college.

An appropriation for this structure by the forty-first legislature was vetoed by former Governor Moody.

The Technological college board of directors asked the house appropriations committee for a library and dairy unit, two improvements stressed for the last four years as essential to the college's growth. Increase in enrollment has necessitated more buildings, the college now having 2,400 students, it was contended.

Use Oil Royalties

The University of Texas and Texas A. & M. college are the only state schools having larger enrollments, but they use oil royalties instead of depending on the legislature for building appropriations.

Tuesday's measure allowed West Texas only one new college building, a $200,000 administration building for the School of Mines at El Paso.

The committee bill also contains an item for $25,000, if matched by a similar amount by the West Texas Historical association, for a museum at West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon.

Total appropriations for 1932 and 1933, respectively, include:

Texas Technological college, $492,370 and $492,370.

West Texas State Teachers college, $290,274 and 281,300.

UNITED STATES TO PROTECT CITIZENS

FROM FOUR TO ELEVEN AMERICANS REPORTED SLAIN AT SEAPORT

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The United States moved today to protect and evacuate its 300 citizens in the insurgent-threatened Nicaraguan seaport, Puerta Cabezas.

Official dispatches said four Americans already were dead and three missing, while reports to the Standard Fruit and Steamship company placed fatalities at 11.

Information Sought

As relief forces deployed in the disturbed region, additional information was sought. The state department had decided conditions were serious enough to warrant debarking of armed forces from the gunboat Asheville. Twenty-five marines landed from the gunboat but were withdrawn when national guardsmen returned to the city.

The downtown as well as the residence section will be divided into districts and a corps of workers will make a canvass in the ticket sales. Wesley Read is chairman of the ticket sales assisted by Judge Chas. Nordyke of the Salvation Army Advisory Board and Glenn Hess of the RANGOON, Burma, April 15. (AP)—Two hundred persons were reported killed and scores injured in the last few days in skirmishes between military police and rebels in the Thayetmo district.

McALESTER, Okla. April 15. (AP)—E. S. (Choc) Hembree will be moved tonight to a prison death cell only a few yards from the electric chair in which, soon after midnight, he is to be executed for a criminal attack on a Loco, Okla., school teacher.

All hope vanished for Hembree when plans for a sanity hearing failed to materialize. Governor Murray has declined to intercede.

Today the 38 year old Indian was good natured and smiling. He told attendants he was not worrying about tomorrow.

Stock Market Has New Sinking Spell

NEW YORK, April 15 (AP)—The stock market had a fresh sinking spell today, and U. S. Steel common broke slightly below its minimum level of last December to record the lowest price since 1928. Declines throughout the list ranged from $1 to $3. Selling was in comparatively light volume, however.

U. S. Steel declined $2.25 to $134.25, or 12 cents below the previous minimum price of the 1929-31 bear market. It quickly rebounded to above $134, however.

"Next To Nature" Agitation "Wrong"

CHICAGO, April 15. (AP)—Curtis Sleeper pushed a couple of porches off his chest yesterday and decided that there must be something wrong about all the agitation for getting next to nature.

Sleeper, who lives in a third floor apartment, walked out on his porch to attend to his deep breathing exercises when the floor collapsed.

The second floor porch also gave way. When firemen found him on the first floor, he had both porches piled all over him.

His injuries were slight.

Bible Shortage Is Drawback To Court

EVANSTON, Ill., April 15 (AP)—It's good business to have a Bible on hand.

Magistrate Harry H. Porter couldn't find one yesterday and as a result his court lost some business.

The Bible shortage was discovered when William Kapster wanted the magistrate to hear a suit for damages against Peter Vincent.

"Your honor," said Vincent, "I don't believe him and he doesn't believe me, but we'd both believe each other if we both testified with our hands on a Bible."

Clerks searched, but found nothing better than a 1926 almanac.

"Let's go to another court," said Vincent.

Kapster agreed.

FISHING IN PRIVATE POOLS UPHELD; POPE'S SENTENCE AFFIRMED TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 15. —A man can fish in a private pond any time he desires and has the owner's consent, the court of criminals appeals held today. Closed seasons fixed by the game, fish and oyster commission have no effect on such a fisherman, the opinion said.

The court made this holding in reversing and remanding the case of J. R. Jones, who had been fined $10 in Wichita county. The court found Jones caught a bass in a private tank, the water in which originated on the farm where the tank was located. The fact the bass was caught out of season made no difference, the court said.

The court affirmed the 99-year murder sentence against Henry Johnson, negro, from Angelina county. The negro was alleged to have killed L. D. Etheridge over a $6.80 loan.

The court affirmed the six year sentence assessed J. M. Pope, former owner and manager of the Southland bank in Garza county, on a charge of accepting a deposit in a private bank which was insolvent.

Two Women Held In "Love Mart" Probe

CHICAGO, April 15. (AP)—Two women were held today as the alleged heads of a "love mart" which procured young "party girls" for wealthy and influential men.

The arrests followed a raid on a North Side apartment in which a book containing more than 200 names of patrons and girls was found. Most of these, Sergt. Michael Ohern who conducted the raid said, would be questioned.

AMARILLO IS TO FINANCE SYSTEM

AMARILLO, April 15 (AP)—Announcing that the city of Amarillo will finance its own gas distribution system and let contracts on a cash basis, the city commission has returned unopened all bids received at its meeting last night and will advertise for new bids to be opened April 28.

Mayor Ernest O. Thompson said a contract had been signed with G. M. Dunne and associates of Wichita, Kan., to furnish up to $1,600,000 for the project, the bond company to receive a deed of trust and a mortgage on the distribution system as security.

Mayor Thompson announced that 7,900 contracts to buy gas from the municipal system had been signed, representing more than three fourth of the city's consumer.

BOND ISSUE TO COME UP TODAY

AUSTIN, April 15. (AP)—Proponents and opponents of the $212,000,000 state highway bond issue were ready today for their long-awaited battle in the house.

All members not sick or absent because of illness in their families had been ordered to be on hand. Practically all of them were expected to be present for the vote which perhaps will not be taken until tomorrow.

The senate passed the proposed constitutional amendment last week and a favorable vote by 100 of the 150 house members was all that stood between the resolution and its submission to the people November 3. That was a high hurdle, however.

QUEEN ON WAY TO EXILE IN FRANCE

COLORS OF REPUBLIC DRAPE OVER DOORS OF THE PALACE

BY CLARENCE DUBOSE
Associated Press Staff Correspondent

MADRID, April 15 (AP)—Queen Victoria of Spain left the royal palace for France today with four of her children, the last of the royal family to go, and the colors of the new Spanish republic were draped across the doors of the palace.

King Sails Westward

In the meantime King Alfonso, who boarded a cruiser at Cartagena this morning, was sailing westward on the Mediterranean, presumably for England.

The final scene of parting took place in the little station of Escurial, near the palace, today as the queen and her two daughters and two sons, last of the royal family to depart, bade adieu on the station platform to a little band of faithful retainers, grandees and aristocrats who had gathered to wish them Godspeed. With the queen were the infantas Cristina and Beatriz the crown prince of the Asturias and Prince Gonzalo, the youngest son.

The tragic events of the past week, while the ancient throne was tottering and royal lives were even thought to be in danger, had laid a heavy hand on the queen.

Safety Guaranteed

General Jose Sanjuro, regarded as Spain's bravest, toughest and most hard-fisted soldier, although a republican, had asked to be allowed to see the republican government's guarantees of safe conduct carried out, and he had chosen

SEAGOING COWBOYS GUARD POTENTIAL FUR COATS WHEN SEALS START SWIM

(By The Associated Press)

OAKLAND, Calif., April 15—The seagoing cowboys of the coast guard sail northward today on their annual chore of protecting Uncle Sam's valuable fur seal herd on part of its swim from mid-Pacific to the Bering sea.

The job is assigned to the guard's Alaskan patrol. Coast guardsmen in other seas care for distressed shipping, but those who sail past the far-flung Aleutian islands are the only ones prepared to succor a lot of potential winter coats.

The business comes about because of the inclination of the original wearers of sealskin coats to seek warmer climes when the snows begin to fall. Just where the seals go in winter is a mystery. Some say they have a liking for the west coast of Mexico.

Anyway, as soon as the sun begins to creep north of the equator, the seals get restless and start for Alaska again.

Off the coast of Washington their troubles begin. The Indians there have the right to spear seals at sea, usually getting them while they are sleeping on the surface—a seal must sleep sometime, you know. Per-

HOOVER'S AID IS ASKED IN RESOLUTION

MORE THAN 500 CALL AT WHITE HOUSE WITH PROGRAM

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 14—More than 530 women, armed with a resolution calling for outright repeal of the 18th amendment, today waited personally upon President Hoover to ask his aid to this end.

The White House offices were filled to overflowing and a long line stretched into the courtyard, as members of the women's organization for national prohibition reform waited to shake hands with the chief executive.

Secretary Named

The organization's second annual convention a few minutes earlier had named Mrs. Courtland Nicoll of New York, its secretary, to present the unanimously adopted resolution.

Mrs. Nicoll, in presenting the resolution to President Hoover said:

"At the second annual convention of the women's organization for national prohibition reform, comprising a membership of over 300,000 from every state, it was voted the copy of the resolution passed by the convention this morning be presented to you and to the congress. Mrs. Taft is the widow of George Taft, vice-president of the Farmers' State bank of Garber, who was found, fatally wounded, in the road beside his car on the Garber-Billings highway October 16.

STERLING NOT TO HALT EXECUTION

AUSTIN, April 15 (AP)—Governor Sterling stated today he would not interfere in the scheduled electrocution of Moncus Twitty, convicted in Gray county of criminal assault on a three year old child. Twitty's electrocution had been set for April 24, but he had not been transferred to the penitentiary.

Clifford Braley, who prosecuted Twitty, W. R. Ewing, the district judge and the then sheriff and a then deputy sheriff at Pampa were among the county officials who recommended commutation. They said Twitty's conduct in the jail since the trial had convinced them he had the mentality of a ten or twelve year old child.

Governor Sterling said the issue of insanity was raised at the trial and the jury held that Twitty was sane.

FOR ANY CHILD

CHILDREN are happy and carefree by nature, so when they cry for no apparent reason any careful mother worries. No one can always guess just what is wrong but the remedy can always be the same. Good old Castoria! There's comfort in every drop of this pure vegetable preparation and not the slightest harm in its frequent use. As often as baby has a fretful spell, is feverish and cross and can't sleep, let Castoria soothe and quiet him. Sometimes it's a touch of colic. Sometimes it is constipation. Just keep Castoria handy and give freely for any of the above conditions; relief will follow promptly.

All through babyhood, Castoria is a mother's standby, and wise mothers do not change to stronger medicines as the child grows older. Just increase the dose of Castoria and keep the youngster's stomach sweet and the bowels in good order.

To be sure of getting genuine Fletcher's Castoria you should look for this signature: Chas. H. Fletcher

"The Woman With A Sunbonnet"

Who came to Texas in the early days did not know the luxury of turning a valve, applying a match and having a fire ready for cooking. Thought, labor and capital have united to make natural gas available to the successors of the pioneer woman. Life is much easier for us all as a result.

Natural gas has made possible clean cut, smokeless, West Texas cities, new industries, new people and beautiful homes.

Since the summer of 1927, West Texas Gas Company has extended its service to 42 West Texas cities and towns.

"Remember the Alamo!" changed the map of America

SANTA ANNA SURRENDERS TO HOUSTON (From a Painting by W. H. Huddle in the Capitol at Austin, Texas)

This is the fourth of a series of historical sketches portraying the pioneer history of the Southwest, in commemoration of Founders' Month of the Magnolia Petroleum Company, pioneer Southwestern refiners.

A FIFTEEN minute battle, ninety-five years ago this month, changed the map of all America and brought the Pacific Coast within the political view of the Atlantic. A pitiful handful of men, principally from Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas, led by a stalwart Virginia-Tennesseean, swept Santa Anna's proud army from the field of San Jacinto and set the seal of liberty on a domain soon to be extended from the Louisiana Purchase to the Golden Gate.

The soldiers who marched painfully from Gonzales to San Jacinto, their families who fled destitute before the invaders, left sons and daughters to develop the magnificent country they had saved for liberty. Oil, a resource undreamed of by Houston, Rusk, Burleson or Deaf Smith, has, within a single lifetime, contributed more to the material comfort and happiness of millions of people than any other single resource.

From the beginning of commercial production in Texas at Corsicana in 1896, oil, within a little over three decades, has proven a magic wand . . . changing the tide of an empire, turning pastures into towered cities, giving employment and fortune to thousands and placing the Southwest fifty years in advance of what it would have been without the assistance of petroleum and its many diversified by-products. With the discovery of Spindletop in 1901, Texas forged to the front as an oil producing State.

The domain, directly or indirectly, brought into the United States by the battlecry of "Remember the Alamo!" now produces three-fourths of the crude petroleum of the entire country and about half of the world production. Refineries of the Southwest handle over a half billion barrels of crude annually, while Texas produces more gasoline than any other State.

The history of the Magnolia Petroleum Company is closely entwined with the successful developments of Petroleum as a Southwestern industry. An outgrowth of the first refinery in all the Southwest, Magnolia Stations and Dealers today dot every highway in the Southwest, serving Socony Motor Oil and Magnolia Ethyl and Maximum-Mileage Gasoline to thousands who motor over historic trails to visit scenes where pioneer Texans struggled for independence.

Preliminary Plans For State Convention Of Texas Federated Clubs Are Made

Mrs. R. F. Lindsay, State President Of Texas Club Federation Visitor Today

"We're going to make this next convention of the Texas Federation of Women's club sthe best in thirty-three years," Mrs. R. F. Lindsay of Mount Pleasant, president for the state, asserted this morning as she arrived for her pre-convention visit in Lubbock. She then outlined high points in the program as evidences of the promised success.

Lubbock club women will be hosts next November for the annual T. F. W. C. convention. Mrs. Lindsay's visit here today is the routine visit of the president preceding a convention. She has been conferring with Lubbock women who will head committees and will be in charge of arrangements for the entertainment, in order that they may be informed about necessary machinery.

Her visit here is a stop-over between the seventh district meeting in Memphis and the sixth district meeting in Big Spring and she expects to proceed to that latter city this afternoon and speak there tomorrow.

33rd Convention

This year will make the thirty-third annual convention of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs and the first time that Lubbock has been host. Several hundred women are expected to be drawn here for that occasion.

Outstanding speakers will be selected for the meeting, Mrs. Lindsay said this morning. The program theme is to be on health and a speaker is to be sent here from the famous Mayo clinic as a part of the program.

There is to be an expert on highway beautification and city planning and "the dean of speakers from the dean of women's association" will be asked to come here. A part of the Federation program concerns securing a dean of women for every high school in Texas.

Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Technological college, and other speakers are to be asked to appear on this program she stated.

Features of Interest

One feature of the convention this fall is to be the $500 cash purchase prize to go to some artist for a picture using a Texas subject. This picture will hang in the permanent Federation headquarters at Austin and plans for this proposed headquarters will be on display at the November meeting. Another feature of interest is to be the Texas dinner, portraying Texas under six flags Presidents of districts will preside over various tables at this dinner and each table will represent the state during a different period. Music and other program features will be in keeping with the theme, Mrs. Lindsay pointed out.

The convention will begin in Lubbock during the second week in November with a board session on Monday and meetings during the next three days.

A convention headquarters will be selected today and the local people will be informed about their part in the entertainment, Mrs. Lindsay states. She conferred with a group today noon at a luncheon served at Hotel Lubbock. Mrs. F. R. Friend is chairman of the local entertainment committee.

More interest than usual is seen in the meeting here this fall, Mrs. Lindsay pointed out. Thi sis to be an election year and many women of the state will make an unusual effort to attend because of the interest that is already aroused in this event. Then, too, many of the women want to come to Lubbock, Mrs. Lindsay said.

W. T. Gaston Talks To Club Women

W. T. Gaston, of Texas Technological college, talked on eleemposynary institutions before members of the Athenaeum club in a meeting with Mrs. S. C. Wilson, 1615 10th street, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. R. G. Shelton, president, presided during a business session. Mrs. S. B. Haynes is representing this club at the district convention of Women's clubs in Memphis this week.

Wister Discussed At Club Gathering

The life and main works of Owen Wister, famous American novelist, were discussed by members of the Sorosis club in a meeting at the First Methodist church Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Horace B. Hawkins as hostess.

Mrs. J. C. Reynolds related facts in Wister's life and told of the influence of Kipling and Stevenson on his writings. Mrs. Leroy Patton reviewed "Philosophy Four", and "The Virginian" was reviewed by Mrs. J. T. Howell.

During a social hour, Mrs. Hawkins served light refreshments.

FINEST CHOCOLATE CREAMS ARE DIPPED ONE AT A TIME

For a Similar Reason Hills Bros. Roast Their Coffee a Few Pounds at a Time

Candy makers agree that when creams are dipped one at a time in the chocolate, the coating is applied much more evenly than when dipped in big batches.

According to the results achieved by Hills Bros., this same principle holds true in roasting coffee. By roasting a few pounds at a time by a continuous process, instead of large batches, a uniform roast is certain.

This process originated, and patented by Hills Bros., is called "Controlled Roasting." "Controlled" is a most appropriate word because during the entire roasting process there is automatic regulation. This control accurately regulates the flow of coffee through the roasters—also the temperature. Every berry of the rare blend is roasted to a degree that insures perfection. No other coffee has the same delicious flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee.

Freshness is always guaranteed in Hills Bros. Coffee because it is packed in vacuum cans. By this method, air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is taken out, and kept out of the can. Ordinary cans, even if air-tight, do not keep coffee fresh. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can. Sold everywhere by grocers.

Doctor Myers' Dailu Column On Child Welfare

DR. MYERS

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

SCHOOL TEACHERS

An increasing number of letters are coming from teachers who read this column. They apparently are beginning to see that as I urge parents to teach reasonable restraints in children before the school age, I am tryig to reduce some of the problems teachers must be troubled with. Teachers are also interested in my feeble discussion of personality problems in school children and in ways and means I have suggested to parents for helping the child succeed in school.

I am impressed by the earnest, conscientious tone of these letters by teachers. Such facts give me a new faith in the profession. I always have believed, however, that among teachers are to be found many of the most sympathetic, sincere and self-denying souls to be met anywhere. The bad opinion so many parents have of teachers in general they get because of a few who hardly merif the privilege to be teachers. Of course, there are some very bad teachers; but there are more who are very good.

It so happens that I spent about fifteen years teaching education and psychology in colleges of education of the public schools of New York City and Cleveland. Only about four years ago did I shift entirely to parent education. Prior to that time, nearly all my researches and writings were in the field of learning and teaching, a goodly number on arithmetic and class-room problems. I write each month for the "High School Teacher," of which I am associate editor, occasionally for "The Grade Teacher," and have a series of articles on Personality of Pupils now running in the "Journal of Education." I speak about as often before groups of teachers as before groups of parents.

I wish more teachers would grow interested in the problems of parents and would try to know more about the home contacts of their pupils. More and more parents are coming to teachers for advice about the management of their children at home and for counsel in ways and means of home-school co-operation. More teachers, too, are finding opportunities to improve their services and widen their usefulness by active membership in the local P. T. A. Conscientious teachers are reading this column and reading books written for parents to get suggestions for themselves and to find something they can turn their parents to.

Really there is no such thing as home or school as separate institutions. Pupils have parents, and older children go to school. The best home does the most it can to make the school as useful to the child as possible, and the best school does the most it can to extend its usefulness to the home.

Nobody has a corner on all wisdom. Indeed,nobody really knows very much about anything. We are all just "babes in the woods." We all have reasons to be very humble, striving earnestly to increase our wisdom and, therefore, our usefulness. With our honest endeavor to make the most of our opportunities come a good many satisfactions. For such pleasures we all have a right to seek. Our greatest happiness surely comes in knowing that we have been trying at least to do about the best we can.

Bridge Party Honors Mrs. Fehleison

As a compliment to Mrs. H. Fehleison, of Fort Worth, Mrs. Lawrence Bacon nad Miss Virginia Bacon entertained Monday afternoon with bridge at the home of the latter. Five tables were in play during the afternoon. Mrs. Fehleison is leaving tonight after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Stanton. She was formerly Miss Mary Alyce Stanton.

Film Program Will Benefit PTA Group

To enable the Lubbock Parent-Teacher association council to reduce its indebtedness, a film program is being presented today and Thursday at the Lyric theater under auspices of the council, according to Mrs. W. W. Royalty, president.

"Songs of Kentucky" and a comedy, "Hollywood's Children," comprise the screen exhibition. The Parent-Teacher council is composed of the seven local Parent-Teacher groups.

Through an arrangement with Mrs. G. T. Scales, owner of the theater, one half of the proceeds from the sale of tickets, will be given the Parent-Teacher council.

Presidents and other officials of the seven groups will be on the streets today to sell tickets. Tickets also will be on sale in the schools. No advance in price will be charged for admission.

Officials of the organization are hopeful of a steady patronage, it was said by Mrs. Royalty yesterday. Members of the council said that it was planned to put on a film recommended by national workers for children and the film and comedy were chosen for this reason.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Crabb, of 1905 27th street, are announcing the birth of a daughter, who has been named Carol Ann, at the West Texas hospital on Tuesday, April 14.

WHITE OF MANY COLORS

We usually think of newly laundered sheets and linens as pure white. But the truth is that most of the time they are not white at all. Sometimes they are gray, sometimes they are yellow, and sometimes they are even blue. It all depends on the soap.

White things will emerge from washing absolutely white if they are washed with White King Granulated. White King is pure. No "filler" or foreign matter—nothing but the finest vegetable and nut oils, good enough to eat! White King needs no bleaching or bluing help.

It's economical too! Because White King Granulated is condensed, a little of it goes a long way. One teaspoonful in a wash basin, one cupful in the washing machine—plenty, even in hard or lukewarm water. Safe and swift for blankets, dishes, delicate colored fabrics. Your grocer has it.

Camp Fire Group Is Organized

When You Are Queen

THE EMPRESS of Germany was taught as a girl to mix dough and bake bread. Housekeeping was a serious problem for Queen Victoria of England.

The Empress of China sent anxiously to remote parts of Asia for delicacies to serve to guests.

When you as a housewife enter the portals of your new home, whether it is a small apartment or a residence of magnificent proportions, you are truly a queen with power greater and swifter than any of these regal ladies possessed over their own tables.

You have behind you the organized resources of the greatest merchants in all the world. These merchants do not wait for your orders. They anticipate them!

Bread? Merchant-bakers will deliver it promptly to your order, in waxed paper, warm from the oven, perfectly mixed and baked to perfection!

U. S. EMBASSY IS DAMAGED

FIRE BREAKS OUT IN WING OF BUILDING EARLY TODAY

BERLIN, April 15. (AP) — The famous Bluecher palace on Pariserplatz, which had been purchased by the American government for an embassy building here, was badly damaged by fire before dawn today.

The whole right wing of the three story building was ablaze before the arrival of firemen, who, despairing of saving the palace, concentrated their efforts on preventing spread of the blaze to nearby buildings. Additional alarms emptied other firehouses and almost every piece of apparatus in the city was called out.

Origin of the fire was not determined. There were no known casualties but the offices of the United States commercial attache, the only part of the embassy which had been moved to the building, were destroyed.

Title to the building was still in its former owner's hand so the United States government presumably escaped serious loss.

Ambassador Sackett said he probably would have to postpone his projected trip to America because of the fire. He could not determine immediately whether a new building would have to be erected or, in that case, how long America would have to wait for a new embassy.

Austria will at once spend $2,300,000 on new highways.

POLICE NET $85 IN THEIR DANCE TUESDAY NIGHT

Receipts totaled about $138, net being $85, at the dance held last night at the Uptown Dance Palace under auspices of the Lubbock police department to obtain money for new uniforms, according to Chief of Police John Lemond.

Two hundred or more persons attended the dance, but women were admitted free, and there were those who wanted to "go in and find my brother to borrow some money" or "just watch and not dance."

Policemen made good their word and danced, pistols dangling on their hips. Jimmy Garrett, floor manager, executed the police motif by sounding a traffic officer's whistle in guiding movements on the floor. Sheriff Wade Hardy and some of his deputies attended.

No burglars or thefts were reported during the dance, according to the night desk sargeant. A few patrolmen remained on duty to punch clocks and maintain vigilance.

Music was furnished by a negro orchestra.

SOUTH PLAINS AREA AIDED

MORE THAN $60,000 IS DISTRIBUTED BY RED CROSS

The American Red Cross has distributed more than $60,000 in nine South Plains counties during the last four months, more than 2,100 families receiving aid, according to Carl Van Hoorebeke, special representative of the Red Cross who has announced that he will withdraw the last of this week.

"We still have 400 familes receiving aid from the Red Cross," Mr. Van Hoorebeke said. "I think that this work will be closed soon."

Active In Nine

Mr. Van Hoorebeke has 12 counties in his district, although the organization is active in but nine of these at this time. The active counties, are: Lubbock, Lynn, Dawson, Martin, Garza, Crosby, Borden, Cochran and Bailey. Inactive counties are: Hockley, Lamb and Hale.

"We distributed over 2,000 packages of garden seed, each containing 18 varieties, to people in the nine counties," Mr. Van Hoorebeke said. "There was enough seed in each package to plant a garden of about a half acre.

"The seed was the purest and best money could buy. We used only the best we could get."

In a number of counties where farmers had gardens up before the late March freezes, the Red Cross has replaced the seed, it was said.

The distribution here was a part of a state-wide program, under the direction of William M. Baxter, Jr., St. Louis, southwestern representative of the American Red Cross.

In Texas a total of 22,000 four pound packages of seed was distributed more than a month ago, in nearly 100 counties receiving aid.

Just recently an additional 24,000 pounds of seed, or 6,000 packages, was sent to Texas for distribution. This brings the grand total of seed to 106,000 pounds. It is believed this is enough to take care of the immediate needs of the area for some months.

Mr. Van Hoorebeke explained that the federal aid given through loans to world war veterans and to farmers for production loans, was the big thing that has started a wave of prosperity sweeping over West Texas.

"World war veterans represent more than three per cent of the population, it is estimated," he explained. "Lubbock county has nearly 40,000 people and that means that a little less than 1,200 veterans are eligible to secure loans.

"I had a talk with Daniel Blair, service officer here. He tells me the average loan is $375. You can figure up what it means to have over $300,000 left here in the county in a few months.

"Take Garza county. I understand that with what the federal government loaned to farmers and ex-soldiers, that around $125,000 was spent or will be, in federal money. That will mean a whole lot to the 5,000 or so people of that county."

All persons who were to receive federal aid were the first to be cut off the Red Cross lists, the representative said. This was done because it was evident they would be soon receiving assistance.

"We are now helping only a few, just those who have not been able to get help otherwise," he said in conclusion.

FRED BURKE, LIKE JAKE FLEAGLE, CAPTURED BY SMALL TOWN POLICEMEN; BOTH CRIMINALS MADE SAME MISTAKE

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) —When a squad of peace officers surrounded a farm house at dawn March 26 to capture Fred Burke, for the second time within a year a nation-wide manhunt ended in Missouri.

"Killer" Burke, notorious criminal, made the same mistake as Jake Fleagle, bank robber and murderer. He thought that in the rural regions of Missouri, far from the scenes of his more lurid and bloody crimes, he would be safe.

He misjudged the vigilance of smalltown officers trained in modern methods of detection and identification, who kept themselves constantly informed on criminals at large and equipped their offices with machine guns and tear gas.

He reckoned without such men as Chief E. M. Mathews and B. T. Andrews, fingerprint expert of the St. Joseph, Mo., force, and Sheriff L. C. Hoover of Sullivan county.

Often Burke had been identified —by photograph. Once his picture was picked out by a payroll robbery witness in New Jersey the same day that witnesses of a jewel robbery in California were pointing out his "mug" in a rogues' gallery.

Run to earth at last, the one-time member of the St. Louis gang of "Egan's Rats" was locked up in the very town—St. Joseph—where Jesse James, an early-day believer in the Missouri hinterland as a hideaway, met his fate.

To the south are the Ozark hills where the James gang made its rendezvous; to the north along the river bluff the caves where they once hid their loot.

Fleagle's apprehension also was brought about by a Missouri peace officer, Sheriff Harry Stephens of Carthage.

A year ago Stephens saw a picture and read a description of Fleagle in a national police publication. That same afternoon he and a deputy were held up on a highway by a lone armed man whom he recognized as the much-wanted bandit.

The information was passed on to police and postal inspectors, a watch was established on all mail coming from the Ozark section around Carthage, and a few months later the vigil was rewarded.

Fleagle walked into a trap, tried to "shoot his way out" and was himself fatally wounded.

Again a nation-wide manhunt has ended in Missouri, with the capture of Fred Burke (left). Less than a year ago Jake Fleagle (right), bank robber and killer, was trapped in the same state. Below are some of Burke's guns.

Mountains surrounding Birmingham, Ala., contain 1,700,000,000 tons of iron ore, enough to keep present furnaces running 165 years, it is estimated.

LADIES NIGHT FETE HELD

MORE THAN 75 LIONS, WIVES AND FRIENDS ATTEND DINNER

The quarterly ladies night dinner of the Lions club was attended by more than 75 Lions, their wives and women friends Tuesday night at the Hilton hotel.

Talks were by E. L. Pitts, county judge, and Rev. J. O. Haymes, pastor of the First Methodist church, and a musical program presented by students and faculty members of Texas Technological college.

Taking the subject, "Lionism," Rev. Haymes outlined the purpose of the club and some of its principles. He also discussed the attitude to be taken toward one's work.

"A man's vocation is sacred rather than secular," he said. "He has got to think that he has the most important job in the world in order to really be successful. However, he should avoid becoming a slave to his work. A man is a poor civic club worker who will not take time to meet his fellow men outside of business hours."

Judge Pitts discussed "Civic Clubs and Civic Development."

"The mission of civic clubs is to aid in community problems," he said. "The civic club worker will aid in any movement which is expected to be detrimental to community interests.

The speaker told of the friendships made through civic club work.

John Mitchell delivered the address of welcome to the women visitors.

S. S. McKay, president of the local club, presided. The program was in charge of Ben Condray. Selections were given by the Tech students' orchestra under the direction of Harry LeMaire.

A cornet duet was given by Stancil Bagwell and Ronnie Sheppard, accompanied by Mr. LeMaire. Miss Evelyn Richter played a banjo solo and Mr. LeMaire gave a piano accordian solo.

Besides Mr. LeMaire, other members of the orchestra participating on the program were Mrs. Harry LeMaire, James Thornhill, Mrs. James Thornhill, Miss Alleen Huston, Miss Evelyn Richter, Stancil Bagwell and Ronnie Sheppard.

FOURTEEN THOUSAND NEW STATUTES PASSED BY AMERICAN LEGISLATORS

By MORRIS C. WATSON

NEW YORK, April 15—(AP)—American legislators felt "there ought to be a law," some 50,000 times this year and translated that feeling into more than 14,000 new statutes.

The number adds to the variously estimated 2,000,000 to 10,000,000 laws which have been enacted since the United States came into existence.

May Be Swelled

The national congress accounted for 1,524 laws while legislators of 43 states to date have passed more than 12,000 out of 48,403 bills introduced. The number may be swelled as some legislative sessions still are in progress.

North Carolina, just finishing the longest legislative session of its history, is expected to write 825 new laws into its books.

Since North Carolinians need to heed only the laws of their own state and those of the federal government they will have but 2,349 new guide posts for their conduct.

Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi and Virginia held no legislative sessions this year. Florida has just commenced its biennial lawmaking and forecasting of the output isn't being done.

The remainder of the states have either just adjourned their legislative sessions or expect to do so within a few days.

Many Unimportant

Many of the laws are relatively unimportant to the citizenry at large; Maryland, for instance, must pass a law to raise the pay of a dog-catcher. The free state approved 400 new acts out of 954 proposed.

New York solons poured the greatest number of bills into their lawmaking process —4,265 in all— and approved nearly 1200.

Estimates for some of the states whose legislators are still in session are Massachusetts 225, Michigan 300, Missouri 300, Nebraska 200, New Hampshire 250, New Jersey 200, Oklahoma 125, Rhode Island 150, South Carolina 450, Texas 230.

More than 18,000,000 dozen eggs were shipped from the United States in 1930.

• STANDARD RATING SCALE for Electric Refrigeration

- Is the refrigerator manufactured by a reliable company with proper experience in the electric refrigeration field?
- Has it plenty of food and shelf space?
- Is the cabinet itself well designed, sturdily built and properly insulated?
- Is there provision for the freezing of an adequate supply of ice cubes? (Quantity of ice rather than number of cubes, which may be of large or small size, should be taken into consideration).
- Will the refrigerator constantly maintain a proper temperature for the preservation of foods?
- Can the freezing of ice cubes and desserts be speeded up when the need arises?
- Can this extra freezing speed for ice cubes be had without affecting the temperature on the food shelves? (Too low a temperature on the shelves will, of course, injure food).
- Is there a place to keep ice cream, meat, fish, game, "quick frosted" foods or extra ice cubes indefinitely at a below freezing temperature?
- Are these various temperatures (a. extra fast freezing; b. fast freezing; c. below freezing for storage; and d. normal food preservation temperature) automatically maintained without any attention from the owner?
- Does the refrigerating unit operate often or infrequently? (The fewer "stops" and "starts" the longer the unit will last and the less it costs to run).
- How long will the cooling unit continue to cool the refrigerator even though the current is shut off? (Refrigeration should continue for 10 or 12 hours).
- Can the back parts of all shelves, even the lowest, be reached without kneeling or sitting down?
- Has provision been made for keeping vegetables fresh and crisp?
- Can the refrigerator top be used to "set things down for a moment" while the contents of the cabinet are being re-arranged?
- Will the refrigerator add to the attractiveness of the kitchen?
- Has the experience of users over a long period of years proved the refrigerator long-lived and dependable?

Konjola Goes To The Very Source of The Ills This Medicine Is Designed To Relieve

Strange, yet true, Konjola seems at the very peak of its powers when pitted against the obstinate cases that have defied all else tried.

Mrs. W. S. Claywell

Just read the grateful words of Mrs. W. S. Claywell, 3730 Holmes street, Dallas: "I had about given up hope of finding relief, and then I found Konjola. Indigestion, constipation and nervousness had me in a run-down condition. Every meal meant agonizing pain. But no sooner than I started with Konjola than I got wonderful results. I eat anything; nerves are calm, and I am feeling better in every way."

Mr. J. R. Carlisle

Mr. J. R. Carlisle, 603 S. Ninth street, Waco, is another staunch friend of Konjola, and no wonder. He declares: "For three years I had stomach trouble and rheumatism. Gas and pain came after every meal. Konjola began to help me almost immediately. Today pain is gone and indigestion is no more. Konjola is the most wonderful medicine I have ever used."

Mrs. Daisy Embrey

And consider the happy experience of Mrs. Daisy Embrey, Grain Valley, Mo. She says: "Ten years I had stomach trouble and neuritis, with every meal followed by gas, bloating and misery. Neuritis pains almost set me crazy, and headache added to my distress. Konjola put an end to all this, after all else I tried had failed. I can't find words strong enough to praise Konjola."

Isn't this the medicine sufferers need; one that makes good like this after years of misery? Test Konjola; that's the best way. Don't just wish for relief; get it.

SCHWAB WINS HIS BATTLE

"LAST STAR IN THE DIADEM" WON BY STEEL HEAD

NEWARK, N. J., April 15. (AP)—Charles M. Schwab, "the old man" of Bethlehem Steel, apparently has won "the last star in the diadem" which crowns his years in the industry.

He appeared at a meeting of stockholders yesterday, faced a hostile faction and pleaded for ratification of the bonus system under which officers of the corporation have received approximately $36,000,000 in the last 14 years.

Taken To Court

The management, which he represented, held proxies for 72 per cent of the outstanding common and preferred stock. In their struggle to prevent a vote on the bonus system, a minority had carried the case into court. Shortly before the meeting was called the court ruled that a vote might be taken but the result could not be entered in the minutes until the suit should be finally determined. The minority asked that fixed sums be paid to officers and directors in lieu of the bonus.

Mr. Schwab accepted responsibility for the bonus system. His defense of it was such that even dissenting stockholders sometimes joined in cheers and applause.

"The crowning star in the diadem of long steel management is the approval that people give to what you have done," he said. "The old man won't be with you many more years—and I am not appealing on the ground of personality—but he would like to add to his diadem that one last star of your approval of what he has done."

Tabulation of the vote probably will be completed tomorrow, but even then it will remain secret until the final order of the court is delivered.

SALT WATER IN TEXAS WELLS

ABOUT 50,000 ACRES OF FIELD LOPPED OFF THIS WEEK

DALLAS, April 15 (AP)—Salt water, most feared of oil field bogeys, made its appearance in the edge of one of the East Texas pools this week to lop off approximately 50,000 acres from the potential production area in the Kilgore district.

Condemnation of this acreage, on the west side of the Bateman-Crim field was only one of a conglomeration of developments, including threatened investigation of alleged hoarding of tank cars, steps by the state railroad commission to enforce proration of the pools regardless of a restraining order and what some termed "virtual collapse" of the market.

Theory Proven

Some operators argued that when salt water showed in the Magnolia Petroleum company's No. 1 Florey and the Burton Drilling company's No. 1 Florey, the theory that unrestricted production, such as had obtained in East Texas since the discovery of oil there five months ago, caused channeling and coning to ruination of fields, had been borne out.

While the salt water disappointment west of Kilgore caused abandonment of extensive drilling plans in that section, it having been reported the Sun company especially discarded several locations in the vicinity where derricks were up, the Lathrop Gregg county pool near Longview had been extended a half mile westward by completion of three producers. One of these, the B. A. Skipper Oil company's No. 1 Thad Snoddy, was regarded by oil men as the largest yet found in that field.

Complete Producers

More than half a hundred producers had been completed during the past week in the Kilgore, Joiner and Lathrop areas of the field and the estimated daily production had been fixed at in excess of 250,000 barrels.

Appearance of salt water and reduction of the price of oil in the field to 25 cents per barrel, announced by several large buyers, was said to have influenced some anti-prorationists to temper their previous uncompromising attitude toward orderly curtailment of production. There were reports that some oil had been contracted for 10 cents per barrel.

The state had sent investigators into the field in response to complaints that discrimination against small operators had been shown in the allotment of railway tank cars for transporting oil. The complainants charged this action had been taken to force the "little fellows" to sell oil at ridiculously low prices to brokers.

Relief Offered

Some relief from congestion in the field was offered by announcement of Daniel T. Pierce, assistant to the chairman of the board of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil corporation, that plans had been completed by Sinclair to ship 60,000 barrels of crude oil daily, either to its northern or gulf coast refinery under a joint tariff arrangement with the Prairie pipe line system.

This would be accomplished, it was announced, by construction by the Sinclair Texas Pipe Line company of a 12-inch line from East Texas to a connection with the Prairie Pipe Line company at Mexia.

THIRTY-FIVE HUNDRED DEATHS OUT OF 5,000 CHOLERA CASES REPORTED

WASHINGTON, April 15 —(AP)—Tirty-five hundred deaths out of 5,000 cases of cholera.

That was the word brought to the Red Cross convention by Colonel M. A. Delaney, executive member of the Philippine chapter, in describing the Epidemic which broke out in the province of Cebu, Philippine Islands, in the spring of 1930.

Under Control

The outbreak was brought under control but taxed to the limit relief facilities which had at the time been operating to succor typhoon victims in the nearby province of Tayabas.

"This was a small epidemic," Delaney said, "compared with the great scourge of the early days of the American occupation when 168,000 died. The mortality was about 80 per cent."

Between two and three million persons were given the cholera prophylactic in the 1930 outbreak.

The speaker, one of several on the second day's program of the convention, said the Red Cross also was doing good work in the leper colony on Gullon island.

Miss Elizabeth Gordon Fox, executive director of the visiting nurse association, New Haven, Connecticut, said Red Cross chapters have an opportunity to extend their work by forwarding the program of the White House child health conference.

SIXTEEN DRIVERS TO ARRIVE IN CITY LATE TODAY

Sixteen trucks and drivers, in charge of Charles Martin of the Dallas branch, will make up the first annual Ford Spring Truck caravan arriving here late this afternoon, George E. Benson, manager of the Lubbock Auto Company, Inc., said this morning.

The caravan, which includes commercial bodies not generally stocked, left Plainview this morning and had stops at Hale Center, Abernathy, Littlefield and Levelland scheduled for today. It will remain over night and until tomorrow noon with the models on display on Texas avenue near 8th street.

Ambulance police patrol and heavy duty Ford models will be included in the display, Mr. Benson said.

Among the 8,000,000 holders of British Savings Certificates are 104,000 named Smith, 68,000 Jones, 62,000 Williams and 57,000 Taylors.

Dress Reform

An old-fashioned "Mother Hubbard" dress—the last thing to be expected on Fifth Avenue in New York—made its appearance there the other day.

No one had ever seen anything like it on that glamorous thoroughfare. The dress was ugly, uncomfortable and outmoded by 30 years. It was shown with others as unattractive as part of an exhibition arranged by Julia Jaffray, penologist. All of the dresses in the exhibit were institutional costumes selected from various charitable and penal institutions for women and children. It is Miss Jaffray's hope that seeing these drab, harsh costumes may crystalize public sentiment to support a movement to do away with such clothing.

The agitation to substitute colors and up-to date patterns for the hideous aprons which women prisoners now wear cannot be ignored as just another fad of the sentimentalists. It is reported that present prison garb is wasteful. Mother Hubbards require more cloth than modern cuts would. The heavy, old-fashioned materials cost more by the yard than attractive, equally serviceable fabrics. A feature of the New York display was the bright colored cotton frocks in which New Jersey clothes its homeless children of school age. These frocks were made by women in one of the state's reformatories. It is said the demeanor of the women prisoners was considerably improved by the change in the material and patterns on which they work.

Prison stripes for men have long since been abandoned in most reformatories and the beneficial effect is generally recognized. It seems logical that women prisoners may be even more affected by the appearance of their garments than are men.

The Explosive

Before the World war, Germany was the heap of dynamite waiting for the spark which would set it off. It was a danger to Europe, because of its weak-minded and vain and strutting kaiser, because of its huge and powerful army and because of the men who had built it and wanted to try it out.

Today, situated in the very heart of Europe, a sorely-tried and struggling republic, Germany is once more the danger place. The moderate political parties in Germany, who want to build up their great nation in the freedom of republican institutions, find themselves menaced at the same time by the extremists of the right—the Hitlerites—and the extremists of the left—the Communists.

The Hitlerites are all for repudiating the burdens imposed upon their country by the treaty of Versailles. They are not staggered even by the idea that this might plunge their country once more into war. The Communists are all for creating in Germany a nice version of the Bolo paradise right near their borders. They, too, have a contempt for written treaties. They, too, denounce the burdens imposed by "capitalistic" countries.

In ordinary times, the appeal of these madmen of the right and of the left would make small impression upon the bulk of the steady-going Germans. But these are not ordinary times in Germany. Her business is badly crippled. Her financial burdens are enormous. Her taxes are staggering. Her unemployment lists are enormous. Her middle class is being ground between the upper and the nether millstones.

In their despair at conditions, not only the young and thoughtless, but even some of the soberer elements of the community are turning either to the swastika cross of Hitler, or the red banner of the Communists. Every election lately has told the same tale. And this is not only a danger to Germany itself, but a direct menace to the peace of Europe.

The Plainsman Says:

That Girl on Broadway says it takes a girl with dreamy eyes to keep most men awake.

When a Bourbon king quits his throne — That's a NEW Spanish custom!

THE PLAINSMAN noted by yesterday's Journal that a couple of well-meaning gents had applied for a permit to install a radio station in Lubbock. While there is little chance that the permit will be approved it will do no harm to mention here that the type of station that could be supported in Lubbock would be of no use to anybody.

* * *

Anyone who has studied the radio situation from the standpoint of a Lubbock station will agree that Lubbock has about as much need for a small broadcasting outfit as the average man has of a third leg. It just wouldn't be worth fooling with, any way you take it.

* * *

In the first place, there isn't enough business in Lubbock and the contributing territory to make a real, honest-to-goodness radio station pay its way. In the second place, when radio stations in Texas cities ten times Lubbock's size are skidding financially, where could a Lubbock station hope to 'get off at'? And, saying for the sake of argument that Lubbock could and would financially support a dinky station, what good would it do if we got it?

* * *

EVERYBODY knows that the average radio listener wants to tune in on 'red hot' programs—and by 'red hot programs' The Plainsman doesn't mean jazzy ones, but real, good ones. And everybody knows that there isn't enough talent available here or in this section to compete with the big boys, who think nothing of laying $50,000 on the line for what they want.

* * *

It wouldn't bother The Plainsman any, because he doesn't use a radio. But a little station in Lubbock would clutter up the air here-abouts until the fans would have a sweet time cutting through a phonograph record of "Little Annie Rooney" in order to hear Ben Bernie, John McCormack, Olive Palmer and Rudy Vallee—not to mention Amos and Andy, the big molar cleansing boys.

* * *

When radio was a fad, instead of a science, every little station that could be heard was a big event. But times—as they are wont to do—have changed and radio, like everything else, has grown 'big business conscious'. If you care to take The Plainsman's opinion, we'll be better off with no station at all until we can get one like WEAF—if ever.

* * *

That Map on Avenue Q says scientists have a distinct advantage. They can tell ordinary folks anything because there's no chance of being contradicted.

That Absent-Minded Tech professor came home the other night, put his top-coat to bed and hung himself up in the closet.

THE PLAINSMAN rarely signs petitions. As a matter of fact, he took a stand a number of years ago that signing petitions is bad business and has since refrained from slapping his 'John Henry' on various and sundry of them.

* * *

But it's a bad rule that can't be broken once in awhile for the benefit of all concerned and there's going to be a petition brought out here in a day or two that The Plainsman is going to be glad to sign. It's a petition, being circulated by the Union Labor council, asking that contractors in local construction jobs hire Lubbock men before putting drifters to work.

* * *

During the unemployment and charity campaigns staged here, organized labor has done a bang-up job of taking care of itself, despite the lack of work. On top of that, a lot of those boys have helped aid other folks when their own pocketbooks were slim enough. They agreed, with everybody else, that local benevolences should be applied to local people and now it's their time to get a break on the jobs which are opening up.

* * *

JOHN GALLAND, head of the council, tells The Plainsman that local labor is being favored in Plainview, Clovis, Amarillo, Big Spring, Ft. Worth, Dallas and everywhere else and that Lubbock artisans, seeking work at those points have been turned down in preference to home labor. Since that's the condition in other places there's no reason why it shouldn't be here and The Plainsman is going to be one of a thousand Lubbock businessmen who'll sign that petition when it comes out.

* * *

Lubbock can't get to first base without its home workers—and for your information some of our best citizens carry a card or work at a trade. They have been the backbone of business, aside from the farmer, and they deserve the support of the rest of us when the time arises.

An artisan, specialist or ordinary workman, who makes his home here, pays his bills and taxes here, sends his kids to school here and otherwise functions as a part of this community, has the right to the first crack at the jobs as they arise.

If you get a chance to sign that petition, sign it—even if, like The Plainsman, you've made a rule in the past to stay off'n petitions.

Prohibition May Receive Serious Blow As Congressional Redistricting Shifts Strength From Dry To Wet Section

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, April 15—Prohibition, judging from the statements of dry leaders, may receive a more serious blow between now and 1933 than it ever has suffered before.

The congressional redistricting necessary under the reapportionment law, which must be carried out in time for the 1932 elections unless a state desires to elect its delegation to the House as congressmen-at-large, will shift a certain amount of congressional strength from rural dry territory into urban wet territory.

The drys may lose as many as 50 House seats to the wets, some of the more lugubrious prohibition leaders have warned as they sought to stir up their followers to do something about it.

If such predictions were approximately correct and if the 1932 congressional elections also showed wet gains in equal proportion to the election of last November, it is easy to see that the wet-dry lineup in Congress would be a lot more interesting than it has been heretofore with dry majorities averaging somewhere around three to one.

Wets Might Get Majority

The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment claims that 161 of 435 representatives favor submission of prohibition to the people and if that is true only 57 more votes would be needed for a House majority, although the wets claim only 22 out of 96 in the Senate.

Hardly anyone really believes that the wets will gain 50 House seats. It's a matter of conjecture, but they will do well if they get half as many. Nevertheless, any time the wets can take a score or more seats away from the drys all at once it's going to be something for them to cheer about.

The drys, of course, think it would be a fine idea to amend the Constitution so as to stop including aliens when population is counted for congressional representation. That would hit the big wet centers where most of the aliens are concentrated and keep the drys from losing those seats. The proposed amendment, sponsored by Senator Capper, will be advocated more and more vigorously, but it can't possibly be put into the Constitution before the first election under the new setup in 1932.

Rural Sections Fight Out Issue

Word comes meanwhile, as most state legislatures struggle with redistricting bills and gerrymandering seems rife, that rural sections and cities in several states, respectively representing the dry and wet causes, are fighting out the issue at home. To the extent that dry legislators can keep the cities from obtaining the representation to which their population entitles them under the 1930 census, the national effect created by increased wet congressional strength will be diminished.

Michigan gained four representatives under reapportionment and although Detroit has about half the state's population the dryer sections have undertakeen to see to it that she gets only six congressmen of her total delegation of 17. Cleveland, which is wet, has been claiming Ohio's two new representatives as her own and legislators from the rest of the state have sought to keep them away from her.

Politically, the states which have redistricted on the whole appear to have given the Republicans a slightly better break than the Democrats. Missouri has had an especially interesting partisan fight, with a Democrat legislature plugging for its party in the redistricting and a Republican governor promising to veto any bill which injures the G. O. P.

Face Voting Mix-Up

It would seem that a pretty state of affairs might occur in case some states can't or won't get their redistricting done, whereupon candidates for Congress must be elected by state-wide vote. In such elections states which have recently gone wet by large state-wide vote might unseat a substantial group of dry congressmen—New York, Massachusetts and Connecticut, for instance.

In dry states, perhaps even in such large ones as California and Pennsylvania, the drys might elect a full slate. Thus far it cannot be predicted that any state will elect all its representatives at large. Twenty-one of them, however, were required to combine some of their present congressional districts with others and give up 27 congressmen, while 11 states are creating new districts for 27 new congressmen.

SIGNS OF RICKETS

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Your baby should be given a good inspection in the spring. Especially for the early signs of rickets.

Dr. Clendening

And especially if it is a dark skinned baby.

Sunlight alone will prevent rickets. That is why it is a disease of spring. The cold winter days keep the baby indoors, unless especial efforts are made to overcome this tendency, and even at the best the winter days do not have much sunshine. The dark-skinned children have even less chance than the fair-skinned children of getting sunlight into the blood. And the brunette babies have the disease much oftener than the blondes. Rickets is not a gentleman.

In the late winter and early spring this lack of sunshine begins to have its effects. So it is important to make careful observations at this time. There are all stages of severity of rickets—mild cases can run into severe cases. And since it is preventable it is wise to catch it and arrest it in the early stages.

Head sweating and restlessness are among the earliest and minor symptoms. While in severe cases the bones are more affected than any other part of the body, the muscles may show some of the first signs. Muscular weakness, evidenced by unwillingness to sit up, or to crawl or walk is noticeable. The child does not hold its head up or sit erect. It makes little effort to handle itself or move its arms.

Irritability is marked. The appetite is poor, the bowels do not function, there is a slowing up of tooth development and growth. The soft spots in the skull do not tend to close and even the bony parts of the skull may be shown to be getting soft.

There is general evidence of a chronically sick child, but usually without or with little fever. This latter is, however, not absolute.

Later the abdomen may become distended, and all degrees of this distention may be observed from the first stages of the illness to the last.

Late also come the bony changes. The enlargement of the ribs where they join the cartilagenous part of the chest, making a row of little knobs, called the rickety rosary, is a fairly constant finding. The wrists and ankles may swell and become painful to touch. And the skull assumes a peculiar square sort of shape.

Fortunately a search for early signs of rickets is rewarded, because we now know of two methods of cure which are sure and certain—one is sunlight as has been mentioned, the other is cod liver oil. They are equally valuable for treatment and for prevention. Your baby should have cod liver oil added to the diet from the time partial weaning is begun. If the disease is actually established the dose of cod liver oil is half a teaspoonful three times a day.

Thinks Domestics Should Organize

NEW YORK, April 15. (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who qualifies as an expert on the servant problem by virtue of the fact she runs three households, thinks domestics should be organized into a union.

Band them together and tie them up with the American Federation of Labor, she says, and it'll be better for both servant and mistress.

Mrs. Roosevelt is executive director of a comfortable home in East 65th street, of the executive mansion in Albany and of a manorial place in Hyde Park, Dutchess county.

She is taking an active part in the conference on housework at the Young Women's Christian association.

Truck Injunctions Are Made Permanent

AUSTIN, April 15. (AP)—J. D. Moore, district judge, today made permanent the temporary injunctions obtained by the railroad commission restraining the South Texas Brokerage company and W. R. Collins from further operation of truck lines.

The South Texas Brokerage company had operated between Houston and Brownsville and Collins had operated between Dallas and Bonham.

The court also awarded the commission $72,500 in penalties from Collins.

In New York With Gilbert Swan

SWAN

NEW YORK, April 15—For several years a modernesque oval window, perched just above a doorway in the smarter section of Madison avenue, has framed one of New York's most curious tableaux.

Here, where all who pass may look and see, four shoe artisans sit at their benches, hammering at leather and sewing at vari-hued cloth. They wear uniforms which include a trim workcoat of striking blue-green.

Thus engaged in a pantomine of continuous creation, they provide a novelty for the swankier shopping which otherwise reflects a business-like austerity. Now and then, in the late hours of the afternoon if you put your ear close to the lower panes, you may hear soft voices engaged in humming arias from the Italian operas.

For here are Mike Salluca, Vincent Crapero, Al Perrecca and Louis Perrota, and they are shoemakers to the hoity and the toity and to her excellency, the Manhattan woman of fashion. They turn out some of New York's most expensive and exclusive shoe patterns. At almost any swanky affair, the feet of the socially elect bear witness of their handiwork.

As for the four gentlemen in the window, once they have left their benches they hurry away to their tagliarini and antipasto and veal escallopini. Two of them appear from time to time among the chorus groups at the Metropolitan Opera House. All of them attend the opera regularly.

And odd as it may seem to find artistic temperament caged during the day in a smart shop window, here you'll find plenty of it. It seems that Italians are among the world's best makers of shoes. All of the four gents discovered in the window began to learn their trades when they were six or seven years old. When they were 14 or 15 they were ready for work. Their fathers had been craftsmen before them.

If their work is criticized, they break into tears and beat their chests.

And making their acquaintance, I stumbled upon one of the more colorful and romantic chapters of Manhattan industry and business. Their tableau is the bright idea of an imaginative merchant named Delman. When he opened his shop—now a "salon"— he introduced cigarets for customers, a wood fire in a grate and a parlor-like place in which customers could lounge.

At that time, he couldn't afford to extend credit accounts, and Mrs. Willie Vanderbilt would come in and pay cash, vastly amused by this novelty. Madge Kennedy, the actress, was one of his first customers. Then came a parade of Broadway stars, headed by Alice Brady, Adele Astaire, Judith Anderson, Gertrude Lawrence, Jane Cowl and such. Mary Pickford sends orders from Hollywood.

And it seems that Mrs. Irving Berlin, the former Miss Mackay, specializes in sandal pumps and gets 20 pairs at a time.

Before going abroad, Mrs. Jesse Lasky usually buys from 25 to 30 assorted pairs of shoes. One of the fanciest clients was Countess Donabelle Cazzani, who purchased two pairs of specially adorned rhinestone and sapphire evening pumps at a mere $1,000 per pair.

One day, Beulah Croker, widow of the historic Richard, came in and amazed everyone by asking for $5,000 worth of shoes. These, it was said later, she placed in a room full of mirrors.

Mrs. Martin Johnson, who goes on those amazing jungle exploits, sends skins of deer and other animals all the way from Africa and has shoes specially made of them.

And if he also has a list including Mrs. Edsel Ford, Mrs. Hugh Dillman, Mrs. Vanderbilt Church and some Brokaws and Stotesburys, M. Delman attributes it to the fact that he lies in bed inventing designs.

He was the chap who painted shoes with aluminum—for dark nights!

A criticism of Charley Chaplin's art, observes the office sage, is largely composed of foot-notes.

Maybe the drum major preens like he does because of his high baton average.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The boat the Tinymites were in soon drifted near an awful din. "My goodness," shouted Carpy, "what is making all that noise? Perhaps it's music but I think it's more like just a plink, plink, plink." The Travel Man said, "We'll find out, if you'll be patient, boys.

"Look yonder to that little place and you will see a smiling face apeeking through a window. Let's drift up and say hello." And so they reached the spot with ease and then a friendly Siamese cried, "Come right in. We'll play for you and put on quite a show."

The Tinies did and soon they found out what had made the funny sound. A group of natives sat around and played on odd shaped things. The music really wasn't bad and all the Tinymites were glad that they had stopped to watch the men all plunking on the strings.

When they had had their fill, one said, "A good plan popped into my head. Let's head right on to Bangkok, where I'm sure there's heaps in store. How can we go, by railroad train or shall we take a monstrous plane? Of course we cannot go in both." This made the Tinies roar.

"You're right," replied the Travel Man. "So we will do the best we can. I have our railroad tickets, so a train ride it will be.' They reached the town of Bangkok where queer things just seemed to fill the air. The scenery was wonderful, as far as they could see.

To real tall trees the Travel Man called their attention. Up they ran. "What are they?" shouted Clowny, "and why are they trimmed so queer?" The Travel Man replied, "Well, son, all of that fancy trimming's done to make the trees look prettier to folks who visit here."

(The Tinymites ride in a Sampan in the next story.)

"I'd love to meat you," as the butcher said to the prospective customer.

When an expensive specialist takes your pulse, you learn on receiving the bill that feeling runs high.

Sugar Daddies of Politics

With another presidential election only 18 months away and campaign managers ready to collect cash for the next $16,000,000 show, here are some interesting facts on the men who give the big sums and what they get for their money

Dwight F. Davis, the governor general of the Philippines. . . . The G. O. P. campaign in 1928 cost him $10,000.

John N. Willys, U. S. ambassador to Poland . . . who gave $25,000.

Pierre Du Pont, of the Delaware Du Ponts . . . who gave liberally to both campaign funds in 1928.

Henry Morgenthau, former U. S. ambassador to Turkey . . . who gave $20,000 to the Wilson fund in 1912.

Planning a fund-raising campaign for the next presidential race. . . . John J. Raskob (at the right) with Jouett Shouse, chairman of the Democrats' executive committee.

By W. C. MURPHY, JR.

DURING the next year and a half the American public will once more be treated to the pleasing and instructive spectacle of high-powered money-getting campaigns by the two great political parties

This is an affair that takes place once every four years. A presidential campaign is about to begin, and if the future may be forecast from the past an interesting and gaudy show will be the result.

The Republicans, with a substantial balance on hand, notwithstanding their $9,500,000 campaign in 1928 and generous contributions from the National Committee to local candidates in 1930, have not, apparently, started worrying about financing for 1932.

But with the Democrats, whose deficit at last account was still about $625,000, the situation is different. Chairman John J. Raskob recently induced the Democratic National Committee to approve plans for a $6,000,000 fund raising campaign to carry the party through the 1932 campaign and take care of operating expenses and the deficit in the meantime.

The Raskob plan, a new departure in political money raising, includes all of the appurtenances of a Red Cross drive—high powered advertising, personal solicitations, direct mail appeals, radio talks, lapel buttons for contributors, and such. Its progress will be watched with interest, but whether it succeeds or not it is safe to assume that huge sums will be raised by both major parties during the next 18 months.

WHILE most of the real maneuvering will be done as far away from the public gaze as possible, a substantial part of the results, at least, will ultimately be brought to light. Congress, reflecting a growing public opinion, is becoming increasingly sensitive on the question of campaign expenditures and committees of the House and Senate—particularly the Senate—are constantly inquiring into things of this nature.

When it is recalled that the two major parties admitted expenditures totaling $16,586,115.73 in the 1928 presidential campaign, it will be realized that the field for inquiry is a large one.

The remark credited to a long dead chairman of a national committee to the effect that he would "fry the fat out of the corporations" to finance a presidential campaign gives a hint as to only one of the arguments utilized in the collection of campaign funds.

The psychology of campaign financing was brought into bold relief about a year ago when the Hon. Joseph R. Grundy, short-time senator from Pennsylvania, was testifying before the Senate lobby committee. That was before Mr. Grundy became a senator, and the committee was trying to find out what he was doing with respect to the tariff bill then pending. Mr. Grundy is both a fund raiser extraordinary and a liberal contributor, so his views are unusually illuminating.

He told the committee very bluntly that he and his associates in the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association had raised about $1,000,000 to support President Hoover's candidacy in 1928 and now that Mr. Hoover and a Republican congress had been elected the contributors expected to cash in. What is even more to the point, they did cash in—at least they got just about the kind of a tariff bill that Mr. Grundy wanted.

SINCE the principles—and even more emphatically the practices—of the two major parties today are almost indistinguishable, it must be something more than unselfish altruism which causes men to go down into their pockets for thousands of dollars to support a particular candidate.

Probably economic interests are responsible for most of the contributions, but social ambition, undoubtedly, plays a large part. An ambassador, for instance, can penetrate circles where mere multi-millionaires are barred.

Looking over the list, as officially reported, of Republican campaign contributors in 1928 it will be noted that M. J. and O. P. Van Sweringen, railroad magnates, gave a total of $35,370. There is no evidence, of course, to indicate that the Van Sweringens had any idea than their campaign liberality might have any effect upon the government's attitude toward the railroad consolidation plan which they have been promoting for several years.

Nevertheless their contributions were recalled recently when the president let it be known that he was favorably impressed by a consolidation proposal which harmonized generally with the hopes of the Van Sweringens.

Another Republican fund contributor in 1928 was William H. Crocker of Sacramento, Calif., who lists himself as a banker and director of public utilities. He gave $25,000.

George F. Baker of New York, who gave $27,000, and his son, George F. Baker Jr., who gave $20,000, both list themselves as bankers and railroad and utilities directors.

William Nelson Cromwell of New York, who gave $25,000, was one of the organizers of the United States Steel Corporation and describes himself as an officer of many corporations.

THE foregoing are a few contributions by men of large business interests which are somewhat dependent upon the attitude of the government for their prosperity or depression. There is, however, another class of contributors who gave liberally to the Republican war chest in 1928.

Dwight F. Davis gave $10,000. F. Trubee Davison gave $5000. Charles G. Dawes, a leader of the Hoover opposition in pre-convention days, gave $5000.

Five members of the Guggenheim family gave a total of $109,000, including $25,000 from Harry F. Guggenheim. John N. Willys gave $25,000.

It may be unfair—since there is nothing to show any direct connection—but it is interesting to see what happened after the new administration took office.

Dwight F. Davis was made governor general of the Philippines. F. Trubee Davison became assistant secretary of war. General Dawes became ambassador to London, Harry F. Guggenheim became ambassador to Cuba and John N. Willys became minister to Poland.

SINCE the Democrats have not elected a president for 15 years it is necessary to delve into comparatively ancient archives for materials with which to paint the other side of this picture. Official records of contributions to the two Wilson campaigns are incomplete, but some of them are still on file in the office of the clerk of the House of Representatives.

It is recorded there, for instance, that John Barton Payne contributed $15,000 to the Democratic campaign fund in 1916.

Henry Morgenthau gave $20,000 to the Wilson pre-convention campaign in 1912. Abram I. Elkus gave $12,500 to the same pre-convention campaign fund. B. M. Baruch contributed at least $25,000 to the Democratic campaign chest in 1916. Frederic C. Penfield gave $12,000 to the pre-convention fund in 1912 and $10,000 to the Democratic campaign fund in 1916. Francis Burton Harrison gave $7000 in 1916. David R. Francis gave $5000 to the Democratic campaign fund of 1916. Francis P. Garvan was another $5000 contributor to this fund.

Once again it is interesting to see what happened.

John Barton Payne, during the second Wilson administration, was general counsel for the U. S. Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation, general counsel for the U. S. Railroad Administration and secretary of the interior.

Henry Morgenthau became ambassador to Turkey, where he was succeeded by Abram I. Elkus. B. M. Baruch was made chairman of the War Industries Board. Frederic C. Penfield became U. S. ambassador at Vienna. Francis B. Harrison was made governor general of the Philippines, David R. Francis became ambassador to Russia and Francis P. Garvan became alien property custodian.

In 1928 the Democrats were the beneficiaries of contributions from men opposed to prohibition. National Chairman John J. Raskob himself announced that this was the primary reason why he accepted that position, and he gave $129,593.34 to say nothing of indorsing notes to make up the party deficit of nearly a million dollars.

THE du Pont barons of Delaware, who are interested in maintaining American valuation as the basis for tariffs on dyestuff ingredients as well as in bringing about the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, worked both sides of the street, so to speak, in 1928. They gave a total of $129,599.27 to the Democratic fund, and $55,000 to the Republicans.

Visualize the scene which will be enacted many times next year as a Democratic salesman and a Republican salesman interview a Wealthy Prospect (they would call him a "Fat Cat" in private). It might run something like this:

Republican salesman: "Good morning, Mr. Prospect. I just dropped in to ask your assistance in maintaining our good old Republican prosperity for another four years."

Democratic salesman: "He means the stock market crash and the depression of 1929 and 1930, Mr. Prospect. Before you sign up let me show you our line."

Wealthy Prospect: "Do your stuff, boys; what have you got to sell?"

R. S.: "Well, here is our tried and true protective tariff. It is guaranteed to protect infant industries no matter how large; in fact the larger the better, I might say. It also—"

D. S.: "Mr. Prospect, did your mills earn a greater profit under the Hawley-Smoot tariff in 1930 than under the Underwood-Simmons tariff in 1920?"

W. P.: "Well, no—"

R. S.: "Oh, but that was the war, Mr. Prospect. Now tell me how your business was in 1928 as compared with the 'psychological depression' in 1913?"

D. S.: "Oh, that was due to the war, Mr. Prospect."

R. S.: "Our party is greatly interested in the welfare of business; just think of the reduction in taxes during the past nine years."

D. S.: "Just think of the increased taxes you will have to pay because the Republicans ran up a deficit in 1931."

Both salesmen: "Our candidate is for a business administration, Mr. Prospect."

W. P.: "That's a good idea."

Both salesmen: "Our candidate is anxious to improve the American diplomatic service by inducing eminent business men to accept foreign posts as ambassadors and ministers."

OF course, the two salesmen do not interview their prospects simultaneously, but they might just as well. Each knows what the other is offering because they both have the same wares.

American presidents, as the politicians are fond of announcing, are elected by the free and untrammeled ballots of a sturdy, God-fearing citizenry whose votes are not for sale.

Doubtless it is nothing more than mere accident—or perhaps the diabolical work of Soviet agents—that with one single exception from 1896 to 1928, both inclusive, the presidency has gone to the man whose party spent the most money. The one exception was the abnormal election of 1916 when the Democrats spent $1,958,000 to elect Woodrow Wilson over Charles Evans Hughes, on whose behalf the Republicans spent the then record-breaking sum of $3,829,000.

TEXAS LEAGUE TEAMS READY FOR SEASON'S OPENERS TODAY

MAJORS OFF TO AUSPICIOUS START

SPYING ON SPORTS

The San Angelo scrivener calls attention to an error made in last Sunday's issue of the Avalanche-Journal. In our resume of the Texas Tech High School Relay carnival held here Saturday we stated that Hill of Lamesa equalled the Texas Interscholastic League 100-yard dash record when he navigated the century in 9.9 seconds. We stated that the record had been set in 1925 by Weldon Draper of Fort Worth and equalled in 1927 by Davis of Freeport.

* * *

Being a closer observer of football and baseball than track we forgot the fact that Babe Russell of Hereford High school eclipsed the dash record no earlier than last spring, setting as a new mark the time of 9.8 seconds. We see our mistake and gladly offer the correction.

* * *

Russell also holds the state record for the 220-yard dash, having established that last year also. The time is 21.5 seconds, according to statistics at hand.

* * *

Just to keep up to date on the various records we searched the files and score sheets recently and find that the state records compare favorably with the marks set last Saturday in the Tech relays, truly a successful meet.

* * *

McClinton of Snyder leaped the low hurdles in 24.5 seconds, whereas the state record, as held by Abolwich of Greenville is 24.7, according to the latest statistics at hand. Ayers and norman, representing Pampa and Levelland respectively, cleared the high jump bar at 6 feet 1 inch. The state record is 6 feet 3 1-4 inches, set by Yarborough of Kaufman. in 1928. Guyon of Columbus jumped it at 6 feet one-half inch last year at the state meet.

* * *

The official time on the mile relay for the league is 3 minutes 30.5 seconds, set by Vernon in 1925. The Tech Relays time for the event, won by Lamesa, was 3:34.3. The boys here last Saturday fell down considerably on the javelin throw. Graham of Brownfield winning the event with a throw of 159 feet 10 inches. The state record is 178 feet 7 inches. Biebig of San Jacinto High, Houston, sailed the spar 175 feet 2 1-2 inches at the state meet last year.

* * *

We are in receipt of a letter from Karr Wells of the Tahoka baseball club which reads as follows:

Dear Sir

The Tahoka baseball team has now started its spring training and would like to play any amateur or semi-pro clubs on the South Plains. Teams caring to play us will please write or phone Jack Wells or Karr Wells for matching of games. After April 12 we have all Sundays open so far

We have played and won three games so far this season, and meet Post next Sunday at Post.

Hoping that you will publish this so that we can arrange for some games, I am

Yours very truly,
Karr Wells.

Tahoka had one of the best teams on the South Plains last year and should have won the South Plains league championship. In Skip Taylor the club had one of the best managers of the circuit and there was no better pitcher than Lefty "Art Shires" Squires, now reported to be seeking a place in organized baseball. You may be assured of a good game if you can match the Tahoka club.

* * *

At this writing two clubs have been fully organized for participation in the City league. The Avalanche-Journal club has been promised financial relief by the sponsoring newspaper and Hollis Payne Lubbock High star, has been appointed manager. With Bill Davidson, one of the best pitchers in Lubbock, on the team the club should make things interesting for the other members. The American Business club of Lubbock was organized last Friday at the weekly luncheon meeting with "Windy" Watkins appointed as manager. Other clubs, Lions, Rotary, Kiwanis, Rainbow, Santa Fe and Cheri Casa, are expected to complete the business of organizing this week and send representatives to the meeting Thursday night at the city hall where definite plans will be worked out for the season.

VETERANS ARE TO OPEN UP CAMPAIGN

FORT WORTH CATS TO MEET SPUDDERS IN HEADLINER

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Seven veteran pitchers, who won more than half their games last year, were ready to rub the polish off new baseballs and open the 1931 Texas league championship race today. The eighth hurler nominated to start is Harold Carson of San Antonio who failed to win half of his games last season. Today starts the Texas league on its twenty-fourth campaign, and plans are for a straight through race without the usual July 4 split. Opening games and probable hurlers:

Fort Worth (Dick McCabe at Wichita Falls (Milt Steengrafe).

Dallas (Lee Meadows) at Shreveport (Oscar Tuero).

San Antonio (Harold Carson) at Galveston (Herb Thormahlen).

Houston (George Payne) at Beaumont (Charles Morrow).

The Fort Worth and Wichita Falls opener, bringing together the first and second half winners last year as well as the eventual champions, the Cats, looms as the most interesting of opening day combats. Manager Phelan, intends to start McCabe if the weather is fair and there's no wind. If not McCabe, then Hansen will start. Manager Williams of the Spudders is almost sure to fire Steengrafe after the Cats. Both veterans have been impressive in spring exhibition games.

Lee Meadows, right hand curve ball artist, has been selected by Manager Morse to start for Dallas against Shreveport. Manager Atz plans to use Oscar Tuero, spit ball hurler, against Meadows. Tuero was one of the league's bit winners last year, cashing in for 17 wins against 6 defeats. Meadows, joining Dallas after the season was well under way, won 9 and lost 7.

One Exception

Skipper Claude Robertson has elected Harold Carson to twirl for San Antonio against Galveston, and in doing so, he crossed up the other managers by not picking a man who was a 1930 winner. Carson won 6 and lost 17 last year. However, he has pitched excellent ball this spring, and Robertson believes his young find is set for a big year. Opposing Carson for Galveston will be Herb Thormahlen who won 13 and lost 10 last year pitching for Waco and Fort Worth.

George Washington Payne, who stopped Texas league batters for 13 wins against 10 defeats last year, has been announced as Houston's starter against Beaumont. Del Baker will probably rely on Charles Morrow, who won 6 and lost 3 last season, as his opening pitcher.

LOW WHEAT PRICE SEEN

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—The wheat advisory committee believes 1931 wheat prices will sink to levels far below production costs if the crop is average. The committee, established by grain cooperatives, sketched this pessimistic outlook in a resolution adopted at a meeting in Chicago last week and filed today with the farm board.

PLAINVIEW WOMAN DIES

PLAINVIEW, April 15 (AP)—Mrs. A. H. Mabry, wife of the district manager of the Panhandle Refining company, died Tuesday after an operation. The couple moved here last October from Wichita Falls. They formerly lived at Terrell.

Negro Wins Back His Championship

JACK THOMPSON GETS A TECHNICAL "KO" OVER FREEMAN

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND, Apr. 15 (AP)—Young Jack Thompson, Oakland, Calif., negro youth, is back on the throne today as welterweight champion of the world.

Thompson regained the title he lost to Tommy Freeman six months ago by scoring a technical knockout over the titleholder in the twelfth round of their scheduled 15-round encounter in Cleveland's public auditorium last night. Freeman, with his left eye swollen shut, was unable to respond when the bell clanged for the start of the twelfth round. The eye started to swell in the tenth and by the end of the eleventh it was tightly closed. He protested he was unable to see and surrendered to the California negro on the advice of a physician.

Explodes Belief

By his victory, Thompson exploded the popular belief that they never come back. His performance in winning back the title he lost takes rank with the achievements of the late Stanley Ketchel and Pete Herman who won back their championships after losing them.

"Now, boy ain't that something," grinned Thompson as he sat in his dressing room after the fight.

"I got my championship back. I never should have lost it, but I'm sorry I won it the way I did. I would have liked to have knocked him out."

Fight Disappointing

For a championship fight, the battle was highly disappointing to a crowd of 9,000 spectators who paid $46,670 to witness it. It was dull and so uninteresting at times that the spectators yelled and booed, demanding action.

Thompson fought cautiously and Freeman waged a boring in attack that was none too flashy. The crowd began to express disapproval as early as the ninth round and kept yelling until the entirely unexpected finish.

Freeman was heart broken over his loss but explained it was useless for him to continue as he could not see. In fairness to the beaten champion, he wanted to continue but quit on the advice of his handlers.

TYLER GIVEN DEADLINE

MUST RAISE QUOTA BY THURSDAY FOR NEW LEAGUE

KILGORE, April 15 (AP)—Tyler was given until Thursday to raise its quota of money for entrance to the East Texas baseball league at a meeting of representatives from Kilgore, Longview, Henderson, and Tyler here last night for final organization of the league.

Every town except Tyler already had posted its money. Kilgore representatives voiced some opposition to extension of time to Tyler, wishing to be assured of definite organization of the league before beginning construction of a park here.

Some argument developed over a motion to require unconditional release by other clubs of any player employed by a member of the league. E. E. Munsell, Henderson manager, threatened to withdraw the Henderson money if the motion were adopted, explaining that his team would be supplied with players from Shreveport of the Texas league. He was persuaded to compromise and the motion was adopted.

It was decided that any member violating the salary limit, $1,000 for each club per month, would be automatically discharged. It also was decided that a player receiving money from any source besides the club employing him would be suspended indefinitely. A schedule of 135 games was adopted. Kilgore opens at Longview April 29, Henderson playing at Tyler the same day.

Cub Baseball Fans Forget Their Boos

CHICAGO, April 15 (AP)—The memory of Cub baseball fans apparently is not nearly as large as their love of the game.

When Rogers Hornsby replaced Joe McCarthy in the first game of the final series of the 1930 season, there were many boos and there was much said about not going to watch the Cubs play this season.

Perhaps some of them kept their word, but they were not missed yesterday. The Cubs opened the season with 45,000 in the stands.

Jones And Diegel To Seek Revenge

LOS ANGELES, April 15 (AP)—Bobby Jones, world golf champion, and Leo Diegel, twice holder of the United States professional championship and four times Canadian open champion, seek revenge for defeat they received April 5 at Agua Caliente at the hands of George Von Elm and Mortie Dutra.

A charity match will be played at the Wilshire Country club here April 26. Proceeds will be divided among the Bobby Jones charity trust fund of Atlanta, Ga., Los Angeles charities and the motion picture relief fund.

AUSTIN, April 15 (AP)—Mrs. Adrian Pool Tuesday noon underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis. She was resting well today. Mrs. Pool is the wife of Adrian Pool, member of the state board of control.

GREAT THINGS PROMISED BY FIRST DAY

NEARLY 250,000 FANS PACK STANDS FOR YEAR'S OPENERS

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

With all the fanfare that usually accompanies the start of a new baseball year, the major leagues have launched what promises to be a highly successful eason.

The size of the opening day crowds, which filled eight ball parks with nearly 250,000 fans, and the quality of the first game performances combined to promise great things. All around the two circuits, the teams that have been picked to finish in the first division performed well enough to justify the predictions while the others showed that they may become contenders. A number of the recruits, particularly on the weaker teams, shone in the opening games.

A's Down Sens

In no case was the margin of victory more than four runs while one game which brought together two of the prospective pennant contenders was carried into extra innings. The Philadelphia Athletics, the world champions, defeated the Washington Senators, who finished second to the A's in the American league last year, 5 to 3 in an eleven inning battle. The A's tied the count in the ninth just about the time President Hoover left the scene, then bunched hits off Al Crowder in the eleventh to win. For the most part the game was a mound duel between Rube Walberg of Philadelphia and Lloyd Brown of Washington.

Three other good pitching performances turned up in the American league. Before a crowd of 70,000, Charley Ruffing of the New York Yankees held the Bost Red Sox in check to gain a 6 to 3 victory. Babe Ruth added to the festivities by hitting his first home run of the new season while Winsett made a pinch homer for Boston. Wesley Ferrell started out to beat last year's mark of 25 victories for Cleveland as his mates hit well behind him to beat the Chicago White Sox 5 to 4. Walter Stewart of St. Louis limited the rebuilt Detroit Tigers to six hits while the Browns doubled that number to win 7-3.

Allows Four Hits

Charley Root, ace of the Chicago Cubs, turned in the National league's best hurling performance as he allowed the Pittsburgh Pirates only four blows while gaining a 6 to 2 triumph.

The champion St. Louis Cardinals found trouble with Larry Benton's pitching in the early innings but came with a rush at the finish to defeat Cincinnati 7 to 3. The New York Giants and Philadelphia quickly found the range of the right field wall at Baker bowl, Philadelphia, and slammed out four homers, three in that direction. Chuck Klein walloped two in succession but could not keep his team ahead as a big seventh inning gave the Giants a 9 to 5 victory.

John Picus Quinn started his 29th year as a professional pitcher on the mound for Brooklyn but failed to foil the Boton Braves batters after the first few innings. He was removed in the seventh but the damage was done and Boston won by a 7-4 count.

TOURNAMENT AT TECH CONTINUES

The second division in the double round robin intramural basketball tournament continues tonight with the juniors and seniors of the Liberal Arts league playing at 6 o'clock. At 7 o'clock the "fish" and soph teams of the Engineer league will meet for the second time and at 8 the juniors and seniors of the latter loop will tangle.

In last night's games, the "fish" of the Liberal Arts league won their second game over the sophs by flashing a brilliant offense to win an almost evenly matched contest, 30 to 24. Lefty Bryant and Jesse Holmes were high scorers.

The Y. M. C. A. and Bookstore teams of the Independent league gave a neat performance which finally turned out, 20 to 18, favoring the former. The sophomore Aggies defeated their fellow leaguers, the juniors, 21 to 8, in a rather listless contest.

Eight million acres of forest land were burned over in Mississippi in 1930 at a loss of $10,000,000, says the Mississippi forest service. More than 12,000 fires were reported.

PROSPECTIVE TRACK, FIELD STARS ARE TO MEET TODAY AT TEXAS TECH

Track Coach "Dutchey" Smith has called a meeting of all prospective track and field stars for 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Tech gymnasium. He expects to inaugurate an intramural track season at that time. All cross-country runners are requested to be present.

Since track has been abandoned as an intercollegiate sport at the local college for this season, all track and field activities will be held on an intramural basis. Lack of funds in the athletic department resulted in the curtailing of spring sports, track and baseball falling under the hammer. It is hoped to renew the sport on an intercollegiate basis next year.

Varsity letter men in track will assist Coach Smith during the season. The tracksters have been divided according to four schools and will compete against each other for the intramural championship. James Harley Dallas will coach the school of liberal arts team. The engineering team will be directed by Herschell Tadlock, veteran trackster and cageman. RETAIL DRY GOODS SALES HERE OF NEARLY $1,000,000, CENSUS SHOWS

Retail dry goods sales here annually total nearly a million dollars representing a substantial share of Lubbock's yearly dry goods bill, according to a report by the United States department of commerce as a result of a general study of the dry goods trade in the Gulf Southwest.

The dry goods survey is one of a series of special market studies planned by the commerce department to place in the hands of business men of the gulf southwest and the country at large information which will aid them to increase profits and improve service through the elimination of uneconomical trade practices and merchandising wastes, according to Sherwood H. Avery, manager of the district office of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce for this territory, located at Dallas.

Merchants of Lubbock and a number of other principal cities of the gulf southwest are personally interviewed by the bureau's trade specialists in an effort to obtain a clear picture of the fundamental factors affecting successful merchandising in the area, which includes Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Missouri and western Tennessee.

The official report of the dry goods survey gives individual attention to Lubbock and the surrounding territory which may be said to be tributary to it in a trading sense. Population growth, principal industrial activities of the city and aspects of its commercial resources are sketched. In addition there is a separate map setting off the boundaries and showing in detail the content of Lubbock's special sphere of influence in the dry goods field.

YESTERDAY'S ANSWER

Are People Changing ... or is Coffee?

Both" Say Domestic Science Experts

Loading Central American Coffee for shipment to Folger.

From mountain plantations mules bring these coffees to town.

...are Coffees from the West Coast of Central America Are Giving a New Idea of How Good Coffee Can Be your coffee has lost its oldtime and delight . . .

tastes suspiciously "flat" or thin no matter how you make it . . .

a change—a real change, not another "brand,"—but a different kind of coffee. Try the flavor of coffees from a different part of world.

y come from certain mountain tricts along the West Coast of ntral America. A region where ture produces coffees utterly unany you ever tasted before. Bees with a rare tang and rich llow body that, world experts cede, have no equal today. Coffrom which Nature leaves out "rough" offensive oils.

Introduced by Folger

ars ago Central American coffee first served in the famous Bohemian restaurants of San Francisco, re it was introduced by Folger. velers tasting it there were captated by its unusual flavor. Flavor duced by a peculiar combination of rich volcanic soil, altitude, sun's rays and tropic rainfall—that is found nowhere else in the world.

The Folger Test

Would you like to see for yourself just how different these coffees are—in richness and in flavor? Here's a test that is as simple as it is fair.

Tomorrow morning drink Folger's. The next morning drink the coffee you have been using. The third morning drink Folger's again. In a morning or two you will decidedly favor one or the other; the best coffee wins. That's fair, isn't it? 10

DAILY MARKETS

Stock Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 15 (AP)—The stock market experienced a sharp setback in the opening transactions today, carrying U. S. Steel within a small fraction of last year's minimum.

Selling was still in limited volume, however, and showed signs of drying up at the end of the first half hour when moderate recoveries from the lowest appeared.

American Telephone and Standard Gas lost 3 points, although the former soon showed partial recovery. Auburn fell 6 points, then regained its loss. U. S. Steel sagged nearly 2 points, getting down to 134 3-4, or within 3-8 of the December low, then rebounded to above 135. Issues getting down 2 points or so included Westinghouse Electric, North American, Johns Manville, Union Carbide and New York Central.

Shares losing a point or more included American Can, National Biscuit, Radio, Consolidated Gas, Bethlehem, and Paramount. General Electric was well supported, losing only a fraction.

Sterling cables opened at $4.85 7-8, up 1-16.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 15 (AP)—Cotton opened steady today 7 to 9 points lower under rather general selling in small lots by commission houses and some local or Wall Street selling which appeared to be promoted by relatively easy Liverpool cables and a favorable view of the weather map.

There was some comment on bullish features in the weekly report of the weather bureau but they appeared to have very little effect on the market which sold off to 10.17 for May and 10.73 for October, or about 12 to 14 points net lower before the end of the first half hour. May liquidation was a little more active during the early trading.

Liverpool cables reported local, Manchester, continental liquidation and hedge selling. Egyptian cotton futures in Alexandria were 30 to 42 points lower. The Indian spot liquidation in Liverpool was 10 points lower.

The volume of business tapered off later in the morning but the market remained rather nervous and unsettled under further local or commission house selling. May sold off to 10.16 and October to 10.72 and the market was within a point or two of the lowest at midday.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 15 (AP)—Cotton here opened easier owing to lower Liverpool cables than due, first trades showing losses of two to four points. The market was somewhat steadier right after the start as Liverpool reported spot sales of 8,000 bales and Manchester stated there was more inquiry from India. A little later however, prices broke in sympathy with a decline in the stock market. July traded down to 10.40 and October to 10.73, or 11 points below yesterday's close while May dropped to 10.13, a decline of 13 points.

At the end of the first hour the market was a shade steadier and had recovered one to three points from the lows.

The market continued to ease off during the first half of the morning owing to liquidation due to weakness in stocks. July dropped to 10.37 and October to 10.71, or 13 to 14 points below yesterday's close. Later in the morning, prices rallied on covering due to some recovering in stocks and by noon July had traded at 10.46 and October at 10.79, or eight to nine points up from the lows, and prices were ruling steady.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, April 15 (AP)—Cotton opened steady today:

May 10.24; July 10.45; Oct. 10.81; Dec. 11.04; Jan. 11.13-asked; March 11.35-asked.

NEW YORK OPEN

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, April 15 (AP)—Big export business in North American wheat and renewal of dust storms in spring wheat territory led to material fresh upturns in grain prices today. Unexpected advances in Liverpool wheat quotations also were a bullish factor, together with word that French millers had been granted permission to increase use of foreign wheat five per cent. Opening unchanged to 3-4c higher, wheat afterward continued firm. Corn started unchanged to 3-8c up and subsequently rose all around.

Members of the patrol said musical instruments were employed to attract the seals to the surface to aid lookouts in estimating the size of the herd.

The play, a three-act comedy by Booth Tarkington, is under the direction of Arthur Brown, local photographer who has had professional experience on the stage as well as in Little Theater work. Rehearsals are being conducted nightly by the cast in preparation for the show.

The use of the Palace Theater is being donated by C. C. Lindsey, manager. Mr. Lindsey is also offering the time of his ushers, ticket takers and other employes for the night.

The play is the only production of the Little Theater for the 1930-31 season. Eight people comprise the cast. They are: Mrs. J. R. Eubanks, Mrs. W. C. Rylander, Mrs. A. B. Strehli, Miss Aleen Spears, A. B. Brown, W. O. Daniels, Robert Stephenson and O. W. Ribble.

LEVELLAND CHILD IS BADLY INJURED

Run over by a truck driven by her father, seven-year-old Frances Alline Williams of Levelland is in plaster casts at Lubbock sanitarium. Her condition was satisfactory, the attending physician said shortly before noon today.

Both of the child's legs were broken above the knees when a truck driven by her father, F. W. Williams, passed over her legs late Tuesday. She was brought to the sanitarium Tuesday night.

Mr. Williams said that the little girl was playing unobserved in rear of the truck when he started to back the machine out of the yard of his farm home near Levelland. The child's screams attracted his attention and he threw on the brakes, the father said.

The girl was given emergency treatment at Levelland.

"VIVA ESPANA!" IS KING'S FAREWELL

CARTAGENA, Spain, April 15 (AP)—"Viva Espana!"—long live Spain—were Alfonso's words of farewell to the country which has acknowledged him as king since his birth, 45 years ago.

It was four o'clock this morning when the automobile bringing him, a cousin and the chief of the royal household from Madrid arrived here, driving through the city by a circuitous route so as to avoid demonstrations. Only a few hundred persons saw the royal car and its escort of soldiers. Some of these cheered, others jeered.

Heavy police guards were stationed about the docks and would not let any one come near except a few newspapermen and port authorities. A party of army and naval officers were already gathered at the quay and they cheered as the deposed monarch stepped down from the car.

He was smoking a cigaret and was attired in a sack suit covered by a brown overcoat. He wore a grey hat, which he doffed for a moment as he shook hands with the officers. One of them, Admiral Magaz, who was a member of General Primo de Rivera's cabinet during the dictatorship, spoke to him, remarking how much he felt about all that had happened.

Alfonso replied: "I am continuing my traditions."

eft of a few," Senator Connally said.

Says Hoover To Run

He predicted President Hoover would be the nominee of the Republican party in 1932 and that Democrats should start now to prepare to fight against continuance in power of a party that has placed the country in the worst depression in 50 years.

Urging that prohibition and repeal of the 18th amendment be buried in the background, Senator Connally declared a split in the Democratic party over the liquor question would fill the Republicans with joy because it would take the attention of the people from the incompetencies of the G. O. P.

Attacks G. O. P.

"The Republican party would be most happy to see the Democrats tearing their hair and flying at each others throats over the prohibition issue, because they know it would wreck the party and drive all other issues off the stage, diverting attention from the miserable efforts of the Republicans during the past several administrations."

The Republican administration was attacked several times by Senator Connally who claimed it had departed from the principles of the Monroe doctrine by intervention in Nicaragua. He termed the Nicaraguan condition as "war in fact, if not in theory."

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Feminine anti-prohibitionists met in executive session today, prepared to stay anew the Eighteenth amendment.

Their hopes were bolstered by word from Matthew Woll, a vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, that working men were organizing to "thwart the persistent and fanatic attempt to force prohibition on a free and unwilling people."

Says Act Failure

Woll told the women's organization for national prohibition reform yesterday that the Eighteenth amendment and Volstead act have not and cannot, stop the use of liquor.

He described prohibition as the "greatest experiment in hypocrisy known to history."

"What we have toady is nullification," he said. "What we have is moonshining, home breweries and distilleries, beer and liquor running, hijacking, bootlegging, racketeering, immorality and the development and extension of every known form of vice and crime. I speak for a return to sanity in the enactment and the enforcement of law."

BREACH BETWEEN JACK AND ESTELLE WIDENS; ACTRESS IS TO FILE SUIT

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., April 15. (AP)—The breach between Jack Dempsey and his actress wife, Estelle Taylor, widened a little today as Miss Taylor announced, with slight reservations, that she had decided to file a divorce suit here "very soon."

By way of reservation, the actress intimated that a reconciliation was not an impossibility and she might yet exercise her prerogative of changing her mind.

Makes Statement

Miss Taylor, who is now interested in an operatic career, made the announcement after the former world's heavyweight boxing champion had issued a statement from Reno that he was there to establish residence for the purpose of divorce, at her request.

One shred of hope for reconciliation rested in an unconfirmed report that Dempsey was returning to Hollywood immediately. Miss Taylor said her home would be open to him as always. She said she had not heard from him, directly or indirectly.

"I feel," she said, "that within the next forty-eight hours there will be some message from Dempsey." What result this might have on her intentions to file suit Miss Taylor did not say, but added:

"I have left the matter with my attorney. The complaint will be filed whenever he thinks necessary, but there isn't going to be any delay. I have made up my mind not to linger longer, and to seek the protection of my home in the courts. Jack started this, I didn't.

"A sensational divorce would injure my career, and I need to work. I will include as little as possible in my complaint. I don't know yet whether I will ask for alimony."

JACK GOES FISHING

RENO, Nevada, April 15. (AP)—The opening of the fishing season diverted the attention of Jack Dempsey today from a divorce action he said he would file here at the request of Estelle Taylor, his actress-wife.

A statement by Miss Taylor threatening a counter suit, but leaving open the way to reconciliation was before the former heavyweight boxing champion as he prepared for recreation with the rod.

Both Dempsey and his manager, Leonard Sachs, indicated the former champion would agree to reconciliation only in the event Miss Taylor abandoned her career in the interests of home life.

"There's nothing more Jack can say about this," Sachs, said. "Obviously he is here for a divorce. Anything Miss Taylor might wish to do regarding a divorce is her affair entirely."

Dempsey described reports he was interested in another woman as "absurd."

Hoover May Spend Summer At Capital

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—President Hoover probably will spend his entire summer vacation in Washington, keeping his weekends free of engagements, however, for trips to his Rapidan fishing camp.

In making this announcement at the White House today, officials said present indications were that Mr. Hoover would not take his proposed trip through the national parks.

DECORATING UP FOR DISCUSSION

Plans for decorating Lubbock for conventions to be held here in May and June were discussed at a meeting of 14 business men and representatives of Allen Brothers post, No. 148, of the American Legion, this morning.

The group met at chamber of commerce offices at 9:30 o'clock. A new means of arranging for decorations was proposed.

Conventions scheduled for Lubbock during the next two months include:

West Texas Chamber of Commerce, May 14, 15 and 16; Texas Retail Merchants association, May 25, 26 and 27; Texas League of Municipalities and Texas city managers, June 15, 16 and 17; annual fifth division and quarterly eighteenth district conventions of American Legion, June 20 and 21.

The West Texas golf tourney will be held here May 21 to 24.

Order Inoculation Of 25 For Rabies

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 15 (AP)—Inoculation of 25 persons with anti-rabies serum after they had drunk milk from a cow that died from the disease was scheduled here today.

City Health Director Miles ordered inoculation after conferring with physicians as to whether drinking milk from an infected cow would prove dangerous.

The cow, bitten by a mad dog, later died of rabies. Meanwhile the milk had been used.

HIGHWAY SUIT SET TODAY

DECISION EXPECTED TO BE MADE BY HIGH COURT

Decision in a suit resulting from an attempt to block proposed rerouting of state highway No. 24 between Lubbock and Idalou is expected to be handed down by the state courts of civic appeals at Amarillo either today or a week from today, Assistant County Attorney William Evans indicated Tuesday.

The case appealed to the state court at Amarillo is styled Nairn et al vs. Bean et al., and was the outgrowth of disagreements on preferable routing of highway No. 24.

"The case was submitted on its merits before the court last Wednesday, as well as a motion to dismiss the temporary injunction granted in the case," Mr. Evans said. "Generally a case is submitted with arguments one week and a decision handed down the next week or two.

"I do not know whether there will be a decision Wednesday or not."

The motion submitted by Vaughn Wilson, county attorney, Tom Garrard, local attorney and T. S. Christopher, Lamesa, assistant attorney general, asked that the injunction granted temporarily be denied on the ground that the court was without jurisdiction in the case.

Judge R. W. Hall, who is involved in similar litigation in another county, disqualified. Other judges are: Hal C. Randolph and M. J. R. Jackson.

W. H. RODGERS

given credence. He moved to Lubbock in 1925 and a few months later became City secretary, a post which he has held to the satisfaction of three administrations during the past five years. He is a member of the Methodist church, the Lubbock Kiwanis club and has been particularly well liked by the rank and file of city employes, members of the commission said today.

Will Do My Best

Mr. Rodgers had little to say this morning as he took up his new duties.

"There's nothing much to it," was his remark, "except that I'm going to do the best I can, I appreciate the trust."

Appointed acting secretary, to fill the place of Mr. Rodgers was J. L. Holt, who has been in Mr. Rodgers' department of the city work for more than two years. Mr. Holt has resided here for nearly a decade.

Opinions Differed

Mayor J. J. Clements re-iterated former statements in regard to the city manager's office when interviewed this morning and members of the commission said differences of opinion in regard to policies of operation were the basis of Mr. Miller's resignation and that the action yesterday afternoon held no tinge of bitterness.

"Every member of the commission," Mr. Clements said, "has respect for Mr. Miller. Individually and collectively, we wish him well."

Mr. Miller came to Lubbock on May 10, of last year, succeeding O. W. McCleary in the municipal manager's office. Prior to coming here he had served for six years as city manager of Bryan, Texas, and had done municipal work at Electra, Nacona, Jacksboro, Wichita Falls and Decatur. He is a graduate of Texas A. & M. college, class of 1918. Since coming to Lubbock he has been active in the First Presbyterian church and the Rotary club.

FIRST VERSION OF FACULTY FOLLIES PROVES HIT WITH AUDIENCE OF 500

An audience of more than 500 persons chuckled and then laughed uproariously as members of the Texas Technological college faculty presented the first version of Faculty Follies, billed as "strictly high class vaudeville," in the high school auditorium, Tuesday night.

The production was for the benefit of the college Young Women's Christian association, and possibly will become an annual event.

From the opening chorus until the final notes of the farewell song, the audience was entertained.

Staid rulers of the lecture room forsook their scholarly roles as they sang, danced, cavorted, skipped, dramatized and apparently enjoyed themselves in presenting the evening's acts. The program was under the general direction of Mrs. Allen L. Strout.

The rise of the curtain found a mixed chorus under the direction of Mr. H. F. Godeke presented in several vocal selections. Members of the chorus were: Mesdames R. M. Chitwood, W. P. Clement, Doughtie, R. C. Goodwin, H. F. Godeke, C. E. Mast, J. T. Shaver, Carl Scoggin, Thor J. Beck, Misses Mary DeBardeleben, Margaret Weeks, Johnnie McCrery and Zella Riegel and Messrs. W. P. Clement, C. C. Galbraith, H. F. Godeke, Clarence Hotson, J. H. Murdough, C. C. Rodeffer and Edgar Shelton.

Following the chorus, a group of Spanish dancers gave a short skit followed by an encore tango. Dancers were: Misses Boysen, Lucile Gill, Emma Main, Frances Whatley, Mamye Twyford, Jean Dorrell, Elizabeth Stafford, Gussie Teague, Ruth Horn, Johnson and Mrs. A. B. Strehli.

"Tumble-N" was the next act on the program, featuring "descendants of an extinct race" from the wilds of Arizona and New Mexico and also the tumbling of Dr. F. G. Harbaugh whose antics were of a professional nature. Others taking part in the act were: Mrs. A. W. Evans, Mrs. R. A. Studhalter, Mrs. Harbaugh and Misses Sylvia Wilson blackboard, added up figures and and Blanche Bacon.

A farce love drama was the next presentation in which students took part. It was directed by Mrs. Ray Mowery. Students taking part were Geraldine Holt, Graydon Ausmus, Woodrow Bristow, Hilma Bartlett, Aleen Brown, Idabel Templeton and Francis Burke.

Then came the hit of the evening, Prof. W. R. Waghorne and his Grecian ballet dancers under the direction of Miss Johnnye Gilkerson. Others taking part were Profs. M. F. Landwer, Lonnie Langston, A. B. Strehli, and R. S. Underwood.

Following the presentation of old Southern melodies by a group from the first chorus, Dr. O. C. Boone, local chiropractor, mystified the audience with his "mental telepathy" act in which he picked out colored ribbons, wrote names on a shot a target when under blindfold.

Miss Zella Riegel was featured in a clog dance.

"Wild Nell," a movie, very silent and a tragedy of the South Plains, was one of the amusing acts of the evening. Characters taking part were: Mrs. Strehli, Mrs. L. T. Patton, Dr. Patton, Virginia Robertson, Mrs. Underwood, Mr. Strehli and M. E. Heard.

A dialogue, "Amos 'N' Andy" by K. M. Renner and Carl Brandt preceded the closing chorus.

Frank Stone's Collegians furnished music for the evening.

RECEIPTS HERE DECLINE

MARCH POSTAL TOTAL $42 LESS THAN LAST YEAR

Lubbock postal receipts for Marhc 1931, were almost $42 less than those of March, 130, according to John L. Vaughan, postmaster, who announced total receipts for the first quarter.

Receipts were $9,525.58, or $41.68 below the March 1930 figures of $9,567.26, he said.

First quarter reports this year were $29,150.40, compared to $30,381.39, a decrease of $1,230.99 for this year.

"We have had a good start on our April receipts, "Mr. Vaughn said. "With all this new building starting this quarter, the new federal building, the county jail, the Conley and Temple Ellis buildings, I am expecting that our deficit for the first quarter will be wiped out and more, during this second quarter.

Last year the Lubbock postoffice made a gain of in excess of $12,000 over the previous year. Each month during 1930 showed a substantial increase over the same month in 1929.

With the construction of the new federal building expected to start some time early next month, it is believed by postal officials that there will be an increase in receipts.
