Film Star Back On Front Pages After Marriage

(By The Associated Press)

YUMA, Ariz., Feb. 18—Mary Astor, of screen and diary fame, eloped here today from Hollywood, kissed her new husband, rushed by auto with him to the Mexican border and saw him leave alone for Mexico City.

The bridegroom is Manuel Del Campo, Mexico City insurance salesman who had aspirations to become a movie actor. She is 30 and he is 25.

Arrive After Midnight

The couple arrived here after midnight in a chartered airplane. Hollywood friends and Dr. Franklyn Thorpe, divorced husband of Mary Astor, were taken by surprise. Those who knew the couple were flying from Hollywood thought she was merely accompanying him to Mexicali, Baja California, where he was to embark on an airplane for Mexico City, where Del Campo's father died yesterday of pneumonia.

The elopement plane landed here. The couple, Mary wearing dark glasses, sped to the home of Superior Judge Henry C. Kelly and were wed. She gave the name of Lucille L. Thorpe, her maiden name having been Lucille Langhanke.

After the wedding they drove to Mexicali, where Del Campo boarded a plane for Mexico City.

Interviewers caught up with her

Keep Calm, Relax, Stay Inside Advice Given To Residents Of Dust Area

EXPERT CLAIMS DUST WILL NOT AFFECT YOUR HEALTH; BUT SAND—NOW IT'S DANGEROUS

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 18.—Don't worry about dust storms affecting your health—just keep calm, relax and stay inside, Oklahoma's health commissioner advised today.

"We've analyzed dust," declared Dr. C. M. Pearce. "There isn't anything in it that would hurt you. Why there isn't even enough silica to cause silicosis."

But breathing sand is different. That, he said, is dangerous.

"Harsh sand particles irritate the tissue," he asserted, "producing 'mechanical pneumonia', commonly called 'dust pneumonia.'"

Only in areas subjected to extreme "black blizzards," said Dr. Pearce, are the blowing sand particles of sufficient size to induce intense enough tissue friction to cause "mechanical pneumonia."

The way to avoid irritation, he said, is to breathe as little dust as possible and to avoid use of protective measures which would aid, rather than halt, irritation.

He recommended dust masks for persons in areas heavily ridden by dusters. Dampened handkerchiefs, he said, would aid in keeping more comfortable those persons living where the swirling dust was not so severe.

For children, Dr. Pearce advised tightly closed rooms.

Labor Will Back Court Proposals

COAL BILL TO BE BOOSTED

PRODUCERS SAY THAT DEMANDS OF MINERS WILL HIKE COST

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. — The United Mine Workers and Appalachian soft coal producers turned over their wage and hour negotiations today to a joint committee.

The full Appalachian joint conference then recessed, subject to the call of Chairman Duncan C. Kennedy of Charleston, W. Va. He probably will not bring together the full conference until the negotiating committee is ready to report an agreement or finds an agreement impossible.

Increase Coal Bill

Soft coal producers estimated today the increased wages and shorter hours demanded by the United Mine Workers would increase the country's coal bill by at least $270,000,000 a year.

Philip Murray, vice-president of the miners' union, immediately challenged this figure. He told reporters the 30-hour work week and 15 per cent pay increase the miners ask for their new agreement with the operators would "not by any means" cost 60 cents a ton.

The operators maintained their estimate was conservative. Their

A. F. OF L. PLANS FOR CAMPAIGN TO HELP PUSH MEASURE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18—The American Federation of Labor rallied today behind President Roosevelt's court program simultaneously with a prediction by Secretary Wallace that farmers generally would approve it.

William Green, federation president, said the executive council preferred Mr. Roosevelt's proposals to the "slow, tedious process of a constitutional amendment" as a means of realizing social and economic advancement.

Campaign For Plan

The organization will campaign, Green said, to acquaint congressmen with the desires of "labor and labor's friends for favorable action upon the president's recommendation at the earliest possible date."

The federation's announcement followed endorsement by labor's Non-Partisan League and by John L. Lewis, chairman of the committee for Industrial Organization. It is one of the few issues on which Green and Lewis, leaders of opposing labor factions, have united in recent months.

Wallace said he believed its enactment would give administration farm measures a better chance.

"It would seem to me if the president's proposal was adopted," he

SLAUGHTER OF THOUSANDS OF BIRDS IN LUBBOCK IS STARTED LAST NIGHT

Slaughter of the thousands of starlings which have been roosting nightly on the fire escapes of Hilton and Lubbock hotels was started last night.

Scores of the birds were shot as they swooped down to the roosts last night.

Using .410 gauge shotguns, Alfred Parrack of the fire department and Sid Caraway of the police department shot repeatedly at the birds.

This is the first winter in which the starlings have flocked into this section in great numbers. Hotel guests have complained that the birds have disturbed them.

The firing will continue tonight.

W. E. (Bill) Lyle, whose hobby is birds, said that 12 starlings were introduced in northern United States from Europe about 47 years ago.

Rapidly increasing in numbers, the birds first began wintering in Texas in 1932, and then only in small numbers, Lyle said he had been informed.

The starlings' increase in the

OKLAHOMA SCHOOLS ON SCHEDULE AGAIN AS DUST THINS OUT

(By The Associated Press)

GUYMON, Okla., Feb. 18—Dust thinned slightly over the Oklahoma Panhandle today and Guymon schools reopened after a shutdown yesterday at the height of a "black blizzard."

Citizens could see approximately 100 feet through the dust pall as they went to work. There was no prospect of rain to bring a respite from five days of dusters.

Another Storm Feared

Most of the remainder of Oklahoma breathed air free of dust particles, but Harry Wahlgren, federal weather observer at Oklahoma City, warned the storms could be expected to sweep the state once more late today should the wind veer to the northwest.

Visibility increased to three miles at Oklahoma City, after dropping to one-half mile in yesterday's duster.

A "black blizzard" subsided at Hugoton, Kas., where eleven persons have died of influenza and pneumonia in the last few days but blowing soil still plagued parts of Colorado and Texas.

No Classes Held

Schools closed here yesterday. Only about 50 of the 250 high school pupils appeared for morning class. Those who had braved the weather sat in dusty classrooms, playing games, a few couples danced in the auditorium to piano music. Some read.

None returned in the afternoon.

But the one-holiday was to go no further.

"The whole day was lost," said E. L. McNeill, school superintendent, "but classes will resume today, dust or no dust."

At Hugoton, two church basements were turned into emergency

Condemned Killers Will Die In Chair

CHICAGO, Feb. 18 (AP)—Guards at the Cook county jail prepared the electric chair today for the execution of two condemned murderers.

Rufo Swain, 27-year-old negro policy game runner, convicted of slaying Mrs. Mary Louise Trammel with a water pitcher in her hotel room, was scheduled to die at two minutes past midnight.

Thrice reprieved, Joseph Rappaport, 30, was to follow Swain within a few minutes. Rappaport was convicted of murdering Max Dent, government informer, who was to have been a witness at Rappaport's trial on a narcotic charge.

Houston Men Held In Death Inquiry

LIBERTY, Feb. 18. (AP)—Officers held two Houston men today in connection with the slaying two years ago of an unidentified officer of an Italian ship.

District Attorney R. M. Briggs said one of the suspects made a statement implicating himself and the other man.

Briggs indicated he would prepare murder charges today.

RING OF WOMEN SPIES IN SPAIN IS DISCOVERED

(By The Associated Press)

GIBRALTAR, Feb. 18. — A ring of women spies — one of whom died before a firing squad as she cried "viva la republica!" —was held partly responsible today by Spanish insurgents for Gen. Francisco Franco's failure to smash Madrid's defenses.

The ring's center, reports reaching here said, seemed to be at Grinon, 18 miles southwest of Madrid, where a large base hospital was made the main theater for the women's work.

Several Are Captured

Several of the spies were said to have been captured there—caught questioning soldiers whom ostensibly they had come to comfort and cheer.

Main items of information the women were said to have sought were the number of troops along the front lines, where they were concentrated and the positions of artillery batteries.

At least one of the women spies was reported to have been shot by an executioner's squad in a small village near the capital.

TAX INCREASE IS FAVORED

REVENUE BILLS GIVEN COMMITTEE ACTION IN THE HOUSE

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 18.—A proposal to increase the tax on sulphur from the current $1.03 to $2 a ton today was on the list of revenue-raising bills approved by the house of representatives revenue and taxation committee.

The sulphur tax proposal, by Rep. Harry Graves of Georgetown, late yesterday joined a recommended 700 per cent tax increase on corporation franchises and a bill to boost the oil tax from the present 2 3-4 to 10 cents a barrel.

Another Raise Defeated

Reported favorably by an 11 to 6 vote, the proposed sulphur increase barely missed being raised to $2.50 per ton, Chairman Alf Roark of Saratoga voting "no" to tie the count and kill the amendment.

Graves told committee members sulphur companies of Texas produced the commodity at $8 and sold it for more than $16 a ton. He declared his bill would take "just one-fifth of that profit."

L. Mims of the Freeport Sulphur company, Harry Webb of the Texas Gulf Sulphur company and Kenneth McCalla of the Jefferson Lake Oil company argued the sulphur industry was the highest-taxed in the state.

FRANCE SIGNS DECREE TO BAN FRENCHMEN AS VOLUNTEERS

(By The Associated Press)

Insurgent victories dotted the Spanish war map today as Generalissimo Francisco Franco's men were hurled against government troops in mass offensives southeast of Madrid and a triple air attack left many dead and wounded in Madrid streets.

While the civil war raged with renewed intensity, Portugal remained aloof from intervention efforts in London, again refusing to join 26 nations in a plan to stop foreign help from reaching Spain.

French Decree Signed

In France, however, President Albert Lebrun signed a decree prohibiting Frenchmen from joining either side in the war. The general ban on foreign volunteers to Spain is effective Saturday midnight.

Severe fighting was concentrated in the siege of Madrid. Insurgents reported they crushed a mass onslaught of government forces on the La Maranosa chemical factory settlement in the bullet-swept Jarama river sector. Heavy casualties were reported among government troops.

Ten persons were reported killed and more than 70 wounded in the Vallecas district of Madrid alone as insurgent planes three times swooped down out of a moonlit sky.

Volunteers Are Slain

In the Jarama river sector, 17 foreign volunteers in the government cause were reported slain when trucks in which they were

MAN AND WIFE FOUND SHOT TO DEATH AT SUPPER TABLE

(By The Associated Press)

BRECKENRIDGE, Feb. 18.—F. L. Steward and his wife were found shot to death, their bodies sprawled down from the supper table, last night at Midway, a village seven miles east of Breckenridge.

Coroner J. W. Castleman decided that Steward, 65, had shot his wife to death and then ended his own life with a bullet through the brain.

Teacher In Schools

Mrs. Steward, teacher in the county schools for the last 14 years, was engaged as a teacher at Midway. She was married to Steward last August.

Frank Roberts, Breckenridge attorney, said Mrs. Steward recently had retained him for the purpose of filing suit for divorce.

Former Officer To Change Plea Again

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—John S. Farnsworth, former naval officer charged with conspiring to communicate naval secrets to the Japanese, asked permission of the federal district court today to change his plea to "not guilty."

He threw himself on the mercy of the court on Monday, pleading nollo contendre—that he would not fight the charge.

He said today that plea was made under "enormous pressure" and finally "on the flip of a coin."

His first plea made some months ago was innocence, like his third one.

DUST DELAYS DAWN IN OKLAHOMA

Billowing dust clouds rolling over much of the old southwestern dust bowl the past several days blotted out the sun in places and retarded traffic. Clouds of light colored dust, obscuring the sun, are shown in this view dimming the lines of several Oklahoma City skyscrapers. And similar scenes have been noted in Lubbock and other parts of the South Plains.

STATE OFFICIALS SAY SCAFFOLD TWICE WAS DECLARED UNSAFE

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—Four investigations were launched today into the 200-foot death plunge of 10 Golden Gate bridge workers from a collapsing scaffold.

State officials said the scaffold was twice declared unsafe. Bridge builders asserted it never was criticized.

Fails Without Warning

The 10-ton movable structure, suspended on wheels beneath the giant span, fell without warning when a wheel slipped from a girder on which it ran, tilting the scaffolding into its fatal plunge.

It crashed into a safety net, tore out a whole section of the net and plunged into the water. Several victims were tangled in the costly rope net, built to save them if they fell while working.

Only one body had been recovered early today, the other nine presumably were tangled in sunken wreckage or carried far away by

Col. P. G. Murphy, who will direct the lending, said loans would be limited to farmers "who have no other source of credit." The size of the loan will be limited to the amount "actually needed to grow crops or maintain livestock until pasturage or forage crops are available." The maximum will be $400 at 4 per cent interest.

Loans will be made by field representatives, aided by county crop loan committees, under supervision of regional offices, including: Dallas, Tex.

SECURITY FOR FARM STATES IS SOUGHT

PROTECTION WOULD BE GIVEN AGAINST ALL NATURAL HAZARDS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18—President Roosevelt recommended to congress today adoption of a system of crop insurance to provide the farmer with a buffer against disastrous crop failures.

He said such insurance coupled with a system of storage reserves for crop surpluses in good years "would assist in providing a more nearly even flow of farm supplies, thus stabilizing farm buying power and contributing to the security of business and employment."

Part Of Foundation

"A program of crop insurance and storage of reserves," he said, "should be part of the foundation of agricultural policy which we are building and which must include the conservation of soil and water, better land use, increased farm income, and alleviation of distress in rural areas arising out of factors beyond the control of individual producers."

The president sent to congress with his message a report of his special committee of government officials which planned the insurance program.

Under the program the insured farm would be protected against such natural hazards as drouth, grasshoppers, and hail.

Protect 75 Per Cent

The farmer would be protected up to 75 per cent of his normal yield.

Thus if his wheat crop would have returned him 12 bushels to the acre, he would be protected against nine bushels of the loss. He would be paid either in the commodity or its cash equivalent.

The president recommended that crop insurance be extended to wheat for the crop year 1938.

"I believe legislation should authorize application of similar programs to other commodities," he said, "when it is established that producers desire them and application of the plan to wheat has provided a back log of experience in applying the principles of crop insurance."

MOTHER STOUTLY DEFENDS MARRIAGE OF HER YOUNG DAUGHTER AND NEGRO

(By The Associated Press)

SEATTLE, Feb. 17—A mother in the city jail today stoutly defended her youthful daughter's marriage to a 38-year old negro with the declaration, "love is all that matters."

Police, striving to break the marriage, held the bridal couple, Delta Palmer Menefield, and the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Palmer. No charges were filed.

Weeping over difficulties that have arisen because of the marriage here Sunday, the 50-year old mother said she and her husband intended to stand by their daughter, a grade school pupil, and their dusky son-in-law.

"They've lived together like man and wife and should now," Mrs. Palmer said in an interview in the city jail.

Both parents contended the girl actually was 18, as a marriage license showed, though Seattle school records listed her as 14 in January.

"They love each other," said

CHANGES MADE IN OFFICERS

SAM FORT NAMED TO LIQUOR BOARD IN LUBBOCK COUNTY

Changes in the personnel of the liquor board here and the appointment of Sam W. Fort, police identifications officer, as an investigator were announced here last night by J. R. Ramsey, deputy supervisor of the Austin office.

N. B. Hilyard, deputy supervisor, is being transferred to Austin. E. G. Pinson of Fort Worth is replacing Hilyard here. Pinson said he would move his family to Lubbock as soon as suitable residence quarters could be found. He has three children.

Praises Work Of Fort

Ramsey said the work of Hilyard eminently had been satisfactory and was to be appreciated. Concerning the naming of Fort, he said:

"The board is glad to announce his association with it. Fort's conduct of police duties has been outstanding, as revealed in our study of his qualifications. He has been asked to report Monday and will be stationed at Lubbock temporarily."

A spokesman for the sheriff's department said, concerning Fort's work here: "This department regrets the severing of relationship that would result from Fort's changing of departments, should he leave Lubbock. He has assisted us in every way we could have asked, and in a manner most helpful. We are glad of his promotion, however."

Fort said his appreciation of those who had assisted him in his capacity as police identifications expert, included business men, city and county commissioners, the sheriff's department, "and all others who made that work pleasant." The officer, recently given a salary increase by the city commission, expressed hope his successor would be given "the same cooperation."

NEW NIGHTWATCHMAN

MULESHOE, (Special) — W. A. Kelley has been named nightwatchman for Sudan. Selected by the city commission, he will be paid by business men and will work from 6 p. m. to 6 a. m. E. L. Weldon, former part time watchman, was named city marshal.

ANNUAL SHOW DATES SET

QUALITY MEAT SHOW WILL BE STAGED MARCH 29-31

March 29, 30, and 31 were named as the dates for Lubbock's seventh annual Quality Meat Show after a meeting of the executive committee held at chamber of commerce headquarters Wednesday.

Durwood Bradley was re-elected chairman and E. J. Parsons head of the finance committee. Parsons will appoint other members of his committee soon.

Other members of the meat show committee are Ray C. Mowery, C. C. Jobson, S. E. Cone, Richard Roberts, J. E. Barr, Parker Prouty, G. A. Simmons, Alex McDonald, Sam C. Arnett, sr., Fred Snyder, Jot Smyth, W. H. Stanton and R. C. Harvey.

Jobson General Superintendent

Jobson, Lubbock county agricultural agent, is general superintendent, and Homer Thompson, assistant county agent, is assistant superintendent.

Featuring events of the third day will be an auction sale. The committee is making arrangements to contact Col. Earl Gartin of Greensburg, Ind., who has been auctioneer in all previous shows. It is probable that he will serve again.

A rule was adopted by the committee to the effect that unfinished animals and those not placing become sifted and they will not pass through the sale ring. The show will not accept responsibility of the sale of these animals and owners may remove them from grounds immediately if they desire.

Eliminate One Division

The canned meats division has been eliminated and for it the committee voted to substitute a system of educational booths, each to convey "a definite idea." it was pointed out. The booths are to show importance of good breeding, feeding, killing, cutting for canning and curing, sugar curing, smoking, storage and utilization.

General premiums will remain practically the same as in the past.

The first night of the show has been designated as "play night." There will be a campfire at the fair grounds, the scene of the show, and games, exhibits and other forms of entertainment for participants and officials of the affair.

A dance is planned for the second night.

General Rules Adopted

General rules and changes adopted by the committee in its meeting Wednesday were:

1. Exhibitors required to take proper care of stalls and be on hand with their exhibits to answer questions, help keep exhibits tidy, etc.

2. An affidavit from county agents and vocational teachers that boys enrolled under his supervision be used in lieu of boys' record books.

3. Any complaint from any individual must be in writing and signed and must be presented to superintendent of the department wherein the complaint is made.

4. Weight division of calves be at 850 instead of 900 pounds.

5. Groups of five calves fed by one boy be changed to group of three calves fed by one boy.

Entries will be accepted from the following counties: Parmer, Bailey, Cochran, Yoakum, Terry, Hockley, Lamb, Castro, Swisher, Hale, Lubbock, Lynn, Briscoe, Floyd, Crosby, Garza, Kent, Dickens, Motley, Cottle, King, Stonewall, Fisher, Nolan, Mitchell, Scurry, Borden, Howard, Martin, Dawson, Midland, Ector, Winkler, Loving, Andrews, and Gaines of Texas; and Lea, Roosevelt and Curry of New Mexico.

COUNTY FARMERS SIGNING BLANKS

Members of the county soil conservation committee gathered this morning in the office of C. C. Jobson, county agent, to sign between 1,450 and 1,500 application blanks asking payment for soil conservation practices performed during 1936.

These are the final signatures before sending the papers to College Station for final checking and making out of check payments. Previously, three district groups per day had approved the applications through supervisors. Proof of performances had been given.

Papers Not Returned

Only about 50 applications do not have the signatures of both landlord and tenants, said Mr. Jobson. These have been forwarded to the landlord but have not been returned. In some instances the landlord lives at a distance and it will take time to have the papers returned.

Lubbock county farmers signed 1,968 work sheets but only about 1,500 of them were completed, the others not caring to go on with the program.

Mr. Jobson said he expected clerical work on the applications will be completed either the last of the week or the first of next. Papers will then be forwarded to College Station. No comment was made on the probable date of receipt of checks in payment for services performed.

WEMPLE SETS DATE

LEVELLAND, (Special) — Fred Wemple, Midland, district governor of the 41st district of Rotary International, will visit the Levelland club Tuesday, Feb. 23, he advised President W. J. Baldwin. D. W. Sherrill is program chairman.

CROSBY PLANNING ON SOIL PROGRAM

LORENZO, Feb. 18 (Special)—County commissioners have been convinced of the value of combatting wind and water erosion in Crosby county and theories established in evening schools will be put into use.

Saturday, a diesel caterpillar tractor equipped with a 12-foot grader blade, will be unloaded here to mark beginning of an ambitious program of terracing and contouring.

It is estimated that a much greater acreage than the 10,700 already contracted will be pledged in the new program. Expenses of which will be paid for by farmers, on an hourly basis.

The county bought the new equipment on its credit, but farmers are expected to absorb the cost. The tractor will not be used for road maintenance.

To Arrange Schedule

Lorenzo farmers will meet at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning to determine where first work will be done and to assist in making a schedule of work.

Work will be conducted under direction of the county farm agent Ralph Howe of Crosbyton.

The program will be initiated Monday, and it conservatively was estimated costs an acre would not exceed 80 cents.

Says Varicose Veins Can Be Reduced At Home

Prove It At Small Cost

If you or any relative or friend is worried because of varicose veins, or bunches, as good advice for home treatment as any friend can give, is to get a prescription known as Moone's Emerald Oil.

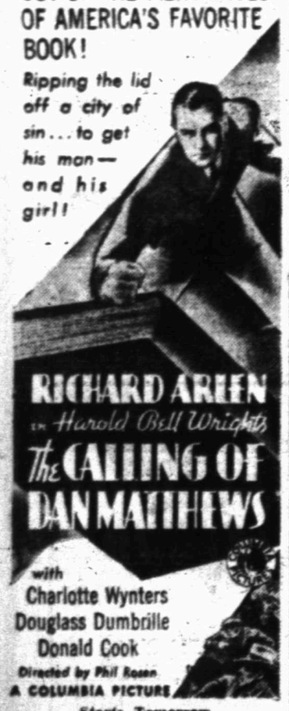

Simply ask Mark Halsey Drug or your druggist for an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil and apply night and morning to the swollen, enlarged veins. Soon you should notice that they are growing smaller and the treatment should be continued until the veins are no longer burdensome. So penetrating and powerful is Emerald Oil that it helps simple swellings due to strain to disappear. Adv.

CIVIL APPEALS PROCEEDINGS

THIRD COURT REPORT

AUSTIN, Feb. 18. (AP)—Proceedings in the third court of civil appeals included:

Motions granted:

Universal Life & Accident Insurance Co. vs. Will Murry, Tom Green county, appellee's motion to affirm on certificate.

ARE YOU Weak and Sleepless?

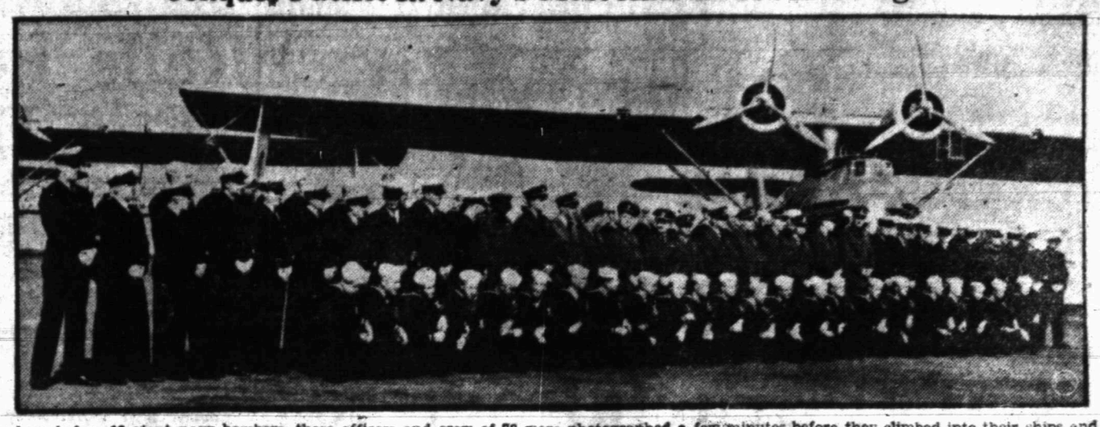

FOR the relief of nervousness, irritability and discomforts associated with functional menstrual disturbances, try the tonic effect of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It stimulates the appetite and this in turn increases the intake of food, helping to upbuild the body. Mrs. Lizzie Green of 1717 Baylor St., Dallas, Texas, said: "A few years ago I was weak and so nervous I was unable to sleep soundly. Every noise annoyed me and I suffered from headaches, associated with functional disturbances. But after taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a tonic I was able to sleep, enjoyed my meals, and was relieved of the headache." Buy now at drug store.

Conquer Pacific In Navy's Most Ambitious Mass Flight

Lined up before 12 giant navy bombers, these officers and crew of 78 were photographed a few minutes before they climbed into their ships and took off from San Diego, bound for Honolulu, 2270 miles distant. Although termed by Admiral Arthur J. Hepburn, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet, as merely a "routine delivery" of the planes to their Pearl Harbor base at Honolulu, the flight was the most ambitious in the history of the navy. The planes, known as PBY-1 patrol bombers, are the forerunners of an aerial fleet of 216 planes which will be stationed at strategic points on the Pacific. The flyers reached their goal in less than 22 hours.

FLASHES OF LIFE

What's In A Name?

ST. LOUIS — Lynn Talient, 53-year-old relief client, paced the halls of a hospital as he awaited the twentieth visit of the stork.

"No, I am not nervous," he explained, "but what can I use for a name that I haven't already used?"

Harsh Smoke

WEST POINT, Neb. — John Meier soaked a home made pipe in alcohol to mellow its flavor.

When he lit it the pipe burst into flames.

Hoping to save his briar, Meier tossed his coat over it.

He lost both.

Gag Man

CHICAGO — "It was just to get a laugh out of the cops," Frank Knabl offered in explanation of his walking into a wall after his arrest for drunken driving.

"Ten days," said Judge Charles Dougherty, "laugh that off."

No Bull's Eye

STERLIN — The William Tell act is spectacular but by no means fool proof, John Ahrens reflected ruefully.

Ahrens held a target for a friend to shoot at but the bullet missed its mark and nipped off a finger.

"I didn't aim to do it," the marksman alibied.

And A Comeback

NEW YORK—Twenty-two students, demanding cancellation of a German class examination, sat down in protest in the corridors of Lincoln school.

Frederick Rex, the instructor, tactfully called off the test after the two-minute demonstration.

The next day the students marched in, exultant over their victory. Rex calmly announced the test, so regrettably postponed Monday, would be in order. Stunned silence was followed by the scratching of pencils conjugating German verbs.

Near-Tragedy

PITTSBURGH — Six-year-old Tommy O'Toole hurried home, clutching an ice cream cone for his sick brother.

He didn't hear the clanging bell as he darted onto the street car tracks. Witnesses picked him up—bits of the cone still clasped in his hand.

Physicians said he may recover.

In Reverse

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah—Police have a prisoner and a confession. Now they want to find the victim.

Art M. Ellison, 38, questioned on a routine charge, told them of the theft of a watch and $15 from a woman whose identity he did not know.

No one had reported the theft.

Very Funny

CHICAGO — It was just in the spirit of fun, William Bartley, 28, told police who found him waving a gun at some cowering bystanders.

"Somebody ran past and stuck the gun in my hand," Bartley explained.

"I just thought I'd see how they'd act."

Obliging Return

DANVILLE, Va. — Joseph Allen's wandering car is back—plus 4,000 miles on the speedometer and a new coat of paint.

Allen missed the car from his garage, which was locked as he had left it. A month later he found the car again in his garage.

Quick On Trigger

KISSIMMEE, Fla. — Shine Guest, negro turpentine woodsman, is quick on the draw.

Captain George L. Dickinson, naval stores operator said Guest was walking along a dim woods trail when he felt something squirming beneath his foot.

Whipping out his pistol, the negro shot the head off a seven foot rattlesnake before it could strike.

In fourteen years, from 1916 to 1930, black stem rust cost farmers in the Upper Mississippi Valley an estimated $600,000,000 by destroying 422,000,000 bushels of wheat and other grain.

JONES IS RENAMED

LOCKNEY. (Special) — J. W. Jones, superintendent of the schools for the past five years here, has been reelected. G. D. Tate was renamed principal of the high school and C. E. Blount, grade principal.

NEW TAHOKA PHYSICIAN

TAHOKA. (Special) — Dr. E. Prohl, formerly of Fort Worth, has moved here and is establishing himself to practice medicine. For more than a year this city has had only two doctors.

Beware The Cough

From a common cold

That Hangs On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements common to many remedies; such as, Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, fluid extract of Licorice Root, fluid extract of Wild Cherry and Menthol, but also has fluid extract of Ipecac for its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect and, most important of all, Beechwood Creosote is perfectly blended with all of these to reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion can be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children with remarkable results.

Thousands of doctors use Creomulsion in their own families as well as in their practice knowing how Creomulsion aids nature to soothe the inflamed membranes and heal the irritated tissues as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion top for coughs because you get a real dose of Creosote in Creomulsion, emulsified so that it is palatable, digestible and potent for going to the very seat of the trouble.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations and especially those stubborn ones that start with a common cold and hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund every cent of your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Don't worry through another sleepless night—phone or go get a bottle of Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning above there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

U. S. Senator Gerald P. Nye says:

"I enjoy the comfort a light smoke gives my throat"

"I have smoked Luckies off and on ever since my first term in the Senate 11 years ago, and I have always enjoyed their taste and the feeling of comfort and safety a light smoke gives my throat. I have done a great deal of public speaking, on the floor of the Senate, over the radio and at conferences. Necessarily this results in a strain on the voice. So naturally, in smoking, I have to think of my throat—and I have found that a light smoke is suitable to my throat."

Gerald P. Nye

HON. GERALD P. NYE
U. S. SENATOR FROM NORTH DAKOTA

In a recent independent survey, an overwhelming majority of lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc., who said they smoked cigarettes, expressed their personal preference for a light smoke.

Senator Nye's statement verifies the wisdom of this preference and so do leading artists of radio, stage, screen and opera, whose voices are their fortunes, and who choose Luckies, a light smoke. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on your throat.

Golf Plans For Texas Are Made

WHOLE MONTH OF PLAY FOR PRO STARS BEING CONSIDERED; FOUR CITIES ARE LINED UP

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT

DALLAS, Feb. 18 (AP)—Aggressive Fred Corcoran, tournament bureau manager of the National Professional Golfers' association, has plans going that could make Texas the golfing center of the world for a month . . . Come next February, he would plant his professional nomads on Texas soil for four open tournaments . . . Houston will come up with a bigger and better tourney—possibly $5,000—while plans to include Dallas, Fort Worth and San Antonio are progressing . . . Corcoran, successor to the ousted Bob Harlow, says the pros are anxious to visit San Antonio, once scene of the Texas open, again. . . . There were more than 4,000 paid admissions scrambling over River Oaks course on the final day of the Houston meet.

Jim Fogerty, squat New Yorker, provided the biggest thrill of the open. . . His spoon second shot on the 498-yard tenth hole found the cup for a double eagle. . . And then he faltered and finished with a 39, four over par . . . Ponderous Ed Dudley, stony visaged Georgia professional, holed a four-iron second shot on the par four ninth hole before 3,000 gallerytes. . . . Harry Cooper waited three minutes for the cheering to subside before shooting . . . Shouts of a huge gallery following Jim Demaret, hometown favorite, could be heard a mile when he dropped a birdie on the 15th hole of the final round that put him four under par and left him but a stroke behind Cooper. . . . Moans were almost as loud when he bagged a six on the par four 16th.

Encounter Difficulties

William T. Tilden and his professional tennis troupe, encountered difficulties at Waco Monday night. . . . Mr. Jinx Tucker, eminent sports scribe, relates that the tall netter pulled his companions off the court during the doubles match because he believed there were more persons in the Baylor university gym than there were dollars in the till. . . . It was explained that youngsters have a way of getting into "pay-as-you-enter" places without ever reaching for their pockets and the "no play, no pay" edict was handed Tilden. . . . The net master then declined to continue until all the balls that had been grabbed off the court for souvenirs had been tossed back. . . The balls were returned and the matches went on to completion.

Coaches Matty Bell and D. X. Bible went on record last week as saying Morley Jennings, Baylor coach, was "one of the best in the business." Strangely, both gave the same reason: "He turns out fine teams from what appears to be none too promising material and is a credit to collegiate football."

Morris Norton, West Texas amateur golf champion, blasted a 290-yard hole-in-one shot at the Wichita Falls Country club course, his second in 28 days. . . . He had only been trying 15 years for a dodo. . . When Sammy Baugh made that recent trip to Washington to talk pro football, he had orders to step off the plane with a ten gallon hat cocked on his head and boots pinching his feet—All for publicity. . . . Sammy had to borrow the outfit.

BUT FULL LIMIT IS REQUIRED TO GET THE JOB DONE

Kirby Watkins, but not the same Sailor Tex so familiar hereabouts, came through with a victory over Jerry Markus, the Brooklyn Hebrew, last night in the main event of Sled Allen's wrestling card—but he didn't do it in straight falls.

Markus, pulling the same stunt that one Bob Pastor recently pulled against one Joe Louis, back-tracked all over the ring and kept his distance therefore being able to go three rounds with the veteran villain from Post.

An almost-capacity crowd came away satisfied with their box office investment but a bit downcast over the Sailor's inability to get the job done in shorter time.

Markus Fools 'Em

Jerry, for whom the funeral bells were all set to ring, fooled the customers and Watkins, too, by using his head and staying out of Watkins' reach. When they did come to clinches, Markus worried Tex more than somewhat by exploring the Watkins eyes with fingers and foreign substances. Everything from nails to screwdrivers seemed to be concealed in Jerry's trunks, and deftly he used them to advantage.

The Hebrew outsmarted Watkins something pitifully to win the second fall. Tex took the first in 17 minutes with his pet play—the headlock and corner rush. He had Jerry stretched out like a sidewalk with a couple of these. He used the same thing to win the third fall in 13 minutes, but there was an accident between these times.

After fast and furious exchanges of bites, chokes, fists and feet, Watkins got his head-in-the-corner hold again, and rushed Jerry once. He got the hold again and started across the ring. But Jerry stopped suddenly, slipped away, and sent Watkins shooting through the ropes and into the patrons. As he attempted to regain the ring, Jerry pushed aside Referee Isaac Clements and booted Watkins out again. Once he helped him back in, grabbed a Watkins arm, gave him the old "buster" over the shoulder, and Watkins yelled for help. He was played out, his back was hurt, and he was slowed up.

Haddock, Joe Draw

They almost pinned each other with legitimate wrestling holds in the third round, gave up wrestling and started fighting in earnest. But Markus surprised the folks by staying in the race, holding his own. He was not beaten nearly as badly as the cash customers hoped. At the finish, he was yelling and jabbering, protesting loudly and demonstrating furiously to one and all that his shoulders were NOT flat when the official counted him out.

Dale Haddock, the Detroit demon, started the back-pedalling movement when he wrestled Yaqui Joe in the semi-final. He was outside the ropes half the time, but it was a right snappy scrap. Haddock was posessed with deadly fear of the long, limber legs, and he ran all over the ring to elude Yaqui's flying drop kicks. It was fifteen minutes before he got the hold, and then Haddock rowed for the ropes.

Andy's Drop Kick Wins

They went to a draw, winding it up with a flurry of fists as Joe got serious about the slugging business. He was punishing Haddock smartly at the gong.

Andy Tremaine polished off Jittery Joe Bauer in 12 minutes of their scheduled 20-minute preliminary. Andy was slow to get started, but once he was peeved at Joe's repeated illegal attacks, he went to work with fists and drop kicks, planted one solidly to the Bauer button and covered him up for the fall.

REAL KAYO IS TO FANS WHO PAID CASH

BROWN GETS COUNT IN FOURTH AND REFEREE GOES TO FLOOR

BY WHITNEY MARTIN

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 18. (AP)—Joe Louis' victory over Natie Brown was booked as a fourth-round knockout today but more than a few of the 10,222 spectators at the bomber's one-night stand in the municipal auditorium thought the real kayo was to their pocketbooks.

They paid $27,138 to see the brown bomber patch up his prestige last night at the expense of the punch-weary Washington Hebrew, who provided a burlesque ending that must have made journeymen wrestlers green with envy.

Bout Very Dull

It was Louis' first start since his unfortunate foot race with young Bob Pastor, in which Louis trailed by two laps at the finish but was given the decision for trying.

The bout was all dull as the expressionless eyes of Louis. For two rounds, Brown carried the fight to the bomber, but neither man landed a punch hard enough to dent a grapefruit.

Midway in the third round Louis caught Brown coming in and flailed him with short rights and lefts. Brown's face began to assume a well cushioned appearance. As the round ended he apparently was in a bad way, half out of the ropes and half out of his head.

No Answering Fire

The fourth was Louis' subpar round. He started at the gong, driving in a barrage of rights and lefts which slipped through Brown's protecting gloves. Fifteen times the bomber bombed without answering fire. Finally the weary Natie sank to the floor in a sitting position. Referee Walter Bates started counting, ceased abruptly as the apparently groggy Brown grabbed him by a leg and pulled him over.

Brown staggered to his feet and weaved an unsteady way toward Louis. Before Brown could make it, Bates recovered his footing, took a short cut to Louis and hoisted his hand aloft.

Bates said the timekeeper had completed the count before Brown regained his feet.

For his brief exercise Louis and his stockholders received $8,826.84. Brown's cut was $3,310, which was better than in the previous meeting when his cuts were over both eyes.

Crucial Series Opens For Tech

FOUR GAMES ARE SET FOR TECH CAGERS IN FIVE NIGHTS

Texas Tech's basketball department begins a crucial and desperate series tomorrow night in an effort to stay in the running for the border conference championship. The Arizona State Bulldogs of Tempe come here for a series beginning Friday night, and the Red Raiders, their backs to the wall, must sweep the two-game series to retain a mathematical chance at the title.

Four games are coming up for the Huffman Hustlers in the next five nights, and they need to win 'em all.

Even then it is not certain that Tech could win. University of New Mexico and New Mexico Aggies, leading the league now, must divide some of their remaining series before Tech has anything like a good chance to regain the title it lost to University of Arizona last year.

The Tempe Bulldogs, coached by Earl "Powerhouse" Pomeroy, are expected here today. They defeated Tech, 39 to 38, in Tempe last week, after losing the first game to the Red Raiders, 34-36.

Featuring the Tempe attack are Kenneth Heywood, 6 foot, 1 inch forward, and Worth Phelps, 6-3 center. In the games with Tech, Heywood scored 13 points each night, Phelps making 8 both nights. Harold Clemence, Melvin Owens and Marvin Palmer, all of them over six feet, are probable starters with Clyde Phillips due to play some at guard.

Two of the Jones Boys

Then there are the Jones boys, Earl, a 6-foot, 3-inch center and Hank, 6-foot forward, who are capable of doing a lot of goal shooting and defensive work.

Coach Huffman shifted his lineup during the eight-day trip on which the Raiders won three games, and has not announced his starting team for tomorrow night's game. The club is in good shape physically and should be at the top of its season during the next four games, which wind up the Raider schedule.

MUSTANGS FAR IN THE LEAD

PONIES ARE ALL SET FOR FIRST TITLE IN BASKETBALL

By The Associated Press

The Southern Methodist Mustangs, gunning for their first Southwest conference basketball title, were well out in front today after a 25 to 20 triumph over the Baylor Bears last night.

The victory was the Methodists' seventh in eight starts. The accurate foul line shooting of J. D. Norton, Mustang sophorpore flash, and the air-tight defense play of the entire quintet contributed to the win.

Sinks Five Charity Shots

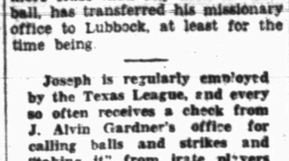

Norton sank his first five charity shots to keep the Ponies ahead early in the game. He also added two field goals to pace the Mustangs with nine points.

Wilson White of Baylor was high scorer, however, with 11 tallies.

The Rice Owls grabbed sole possession of second place and erased the University of Texas Longhorns from title consideration with a 40 to 35 victory over the Steers.

Maxie Campbell, gangling Rice guard, found the hoop for two quick field goals in the closing minutes for the victory margin. The Longhorns took an early lead but the Owls had reduced it to a single point by half-time.

Ralls Is Champ For District 5

JOSEPH WILLIAM PATE, who has flung his southpaw slants for more clubs than any man in baseball, has transferred his missionary office to Lubbock, at least for the time being.

Joseph is regularly employed by the Texas League, and every so often receives a check from J. Alvin Gardner's office for calling balls and strikes and "taking it" from irate players and their fans. (But the Texas League ain't what it used to be—ask Pate and Sled Allen—when umpires really did catch the dickens and baseball players spent their time between innings filing their spikes to keen edges.)

(Up to 1932, if you'll allow us another parenthetical spasm, all umpires were rotten to the core, crooked, and blind as bats that lived and died in dark caves. Since then, umpires are the cream of civilization and society, and they're never wrong. This edvice comes from the same Pate, who had a reputation as an umpire baiter, although there usually were no doubts when he flung one through.)

In his off moments, Pate is employed by the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues as a member of the organizing staff. Just now he is attempting to help organize a West Texas League. He gets his check from Judge Bramlett's office just the same, regardless of whether or not a West Texas league is formed. It is to his interest, however, and to the interest of organized ball, that he succeed in putting the deal over in this section.

For some weeks, Pate has been working from Midland headquarters, and has done right well. He has succeeded in lining up, more or less definitely, at least five towns who are anxious to get in the league. He won't name them, Lubbock among them. He is optimistic, but he is not trying to high pressure anybody.

From Lubbock, Pate will visit Roswell and Clovis in New Mexico, and Amarillo. But he is not having any illusions about the latter town. Amarillo is not likely to react favorably to his proposition, although it would be a fine thing for Ama-

DECIDING GAME GOES TO JACKRABBITS BY A LONE GOAL

TAHOKA, Feb. 18 (Special)—After trailing for 31 minutes and 55 seconds of the game, the Ralls Jackrabbits jumped ahead to win the basketball title of District 5, Class B, here last night in a thrilling finish.

Lamesa and Ralls, winners of their halves of the district, had split the first two of a three-game playoff, necessitating a third game.

That game, played in the Tahoka gym last night, was knotted intermittently. In the last few seconds there was a double foul, Riddle of Lamesa and Wright of Ralls faced the tee line for gratis shots. Wright scored, deadlocking the count at 26-all. A moment later, "Beans" Reed sank a free shot after being fouled by Easterwood, crack Lamesa guard, and the Ralls man's goal proved the winning margin. The ball was worked quickly to the Lamesa end of the court and was shot, but rolled around the hoop and out.

The game was one of the most thrilling every played here.

Lamesa got away to a fast start and, at the end of the first quarter, led 17 to 3. At the half, Lamesa continued in the van, 20 to 13. At the end of the third period, Lamesa tenaciously held the lead, by a narrow 21 to 20.

Thereout, the Jackrabbits could do no better than tie the count several times. Never were they able to get ahead—until Reed's last free shot.

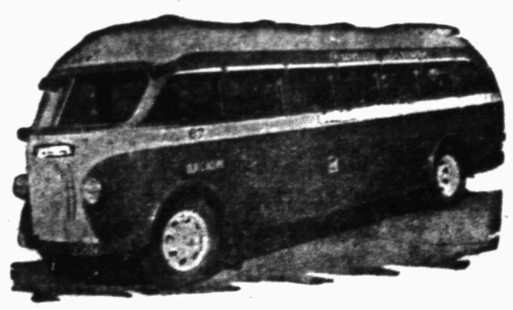

Wheeler, Ralls forward, led the winning contingent of Coach Sammy Bryan. Easterwood looped eight points for Coach Lester Gregg's team, to show the way.

Starters: Ralls—Anstead and Wheeler, forwards; Reed, center; Wright and Dendy, guards. For Lamesa—Sandel and Hogg, forwards; Hill, center; Riddle and Easterwood, guards. For Ralls, Smithee and Brown substituted; for Lamesa, Ross. Hogg left the game via the personal foul route.

'Gly-Gas' Action Almost Miraculous'

Says Mr. Montgomery; Limbs And Ankles Badly Swollen With Rheumatism, Suffered Continual Aches and Pains; Gly-Cas Again Proves Unfailing

"It is easy to understand now why so many people are praising Gly-Cas so highly," said Mr. Scott Montgomery, 904 Willow St., Austin, Tex. "For years everything I ate caused me suffering afterwards. Gas would form in abundance and I would bloat until I could hardly get my breath. I was also badly constipated and my entire system became clogged with poisons. Rheumatism settled over my body and my kidneys became disordered. My legs and ankles were badly swollen and I was in constant pain and seemed to ache all over. I tried all kinds of medicines without relief and had about decided that I was doomed to finish my life in this awful suffering when I was persuaded to give this new Gly-Cas a trial.

"The results Gly-Cas gave me were almost miraculous," he continued. "I have a good appetite, sleep good the entire night through without the least disturbance, enjoy the foods I wish without any ill effects afterwards and cannot say too much for this new medical discovery. Even those dreadful pains in my limbs have been relieved, can get around better than I did and do not hesitate to tell anyone of the action of this wonderful remedy, Gly-Cas."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.—Adv.

rillo and for the league in general. Especially for Lubbock.

Joseph lets us in on a circle of recent developments: (1) Big Spring, hitherto considered no better than an outside chance and a long shot at that as a league member, is getting set, and (2) Midland is definitely ready, and the head of the Midland club, if and when the league is organized, will be one of baseball's prominen's, Ed Konetchy, who performed in the big leagues for not less than 17 seasons.

As announced herein before, if and when the league is organized, Lubbock very probably will be among those present. Facts and fancies concerning the local entry will be presented in due time. This much we can say: Sled Allen, who was called Fletcher when he managed the Houston club, probably will be the big skipper of the Hubbers, or whatever they're called.

Tomorrow morning's papers over the state will carry the announcement that Lubbock has been selected as the meeting place for what is hoped will develop into the final "organization meeting" of the proposed league.

Fate, in the meantime, is to scout around some more. The ambition is to organize an eight-club circuit, but failing in that, the league may go ahead with six clubs this season.

We're still not letting our hopes and imagination get the better of us, but things are shaping up very nicely, from all indications, in favor of organized baseball for West Texas. And why not?

MRS. LOU WRITES A NEW SONG; HUSBY TO GET $36,000

BY SCOTTY RESTON
(Pinch-Hitting For Eddie Briets)

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (AP)—Eleanor Gehrig (Mrs. Lou) has written another song entitled, "We Wrote Our Love Song Together." . . . Her first, "I Can't Get To First Base With You," would make a good theme song for Lou's comic skit with Col. Ruppert. . . . The dope over here is that Gehrig will take $36,000 this year or stay home. . . . Bill Reid, Colgate director of athletics, will run for mayor of Hamilton, N. Y., again soon. . . . Virginia not only got one of the country's finest football coaches in Frank Murray, but as fine a poker player as the game ever knew. . . . "Holy cow" is his favorite and most violent expression. . . . Alabama's boxers take salt baths and sleep without pillows, and as Lynn C. Doyle of the Philadelphia Bulletin remarks, sleeping without pillows is great preparation for a ring career.

Jack Dempsey celebrated the second anniversary of his entry into the restaurant business yesterday by declaring a general raise for his employes. . . . Wealthy young Alfred G. Vanderbilt, jr., is going to the races with Ginger Rogers these days. . . . "How many lawyers are there in this country?" asks Joe Gould, Jimmy Braddock's manager. . . . "And why do you suppose they're all having this fuss over the Supreme court?" . . . "Well, I'll tell you—it's because people break contracts. . . . And that's what I'm gonna do to that Schmeling-Braddock thing—break it." . . . Bob Zuppke's still bowling at the football rules committee. . . . He doesn't like their recent tinkering, claiming "there's now danger that no interference will be called unless in extreme cases". . . . This falls far below another of his retorts: "If they don't stop fooling with the rules, we'll soon have a round field with rubber goal posts."

THREE RECORDS FALL

ABILENE, Feb. 18. (AP) — Three seasonal records fell last night as the league leading McMurry college Indians trimmed the Austin college Kangaroos 67 to 39 in a Texas conference basketball game.

It was the highest total score of any game this year, the highest score tallied by a winning team and Max Arrant's 27 points were the most tallied by a conference player.

COMISKEY GROANS AS HE TELLS OF HOLDOUT TROUBLES; FIVE ON LIST

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY
(Pinch Hitting For Paul Mickelson)

CHICAGO, Feb. 18. (AP)—J. Louis Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox, dropped his 365-pound bulk into a chair in the famous woodland bards' room at the ball park today, and groaned.

Comiskey was suffering from holdout troubles — five of them, with Luke Appling, 1936 batting champion of the major leagues and Zeke Bonura, the Sox first baseman, causing the principal groans.

The other holdouts are Jackie Hays, second baseman, Rip Radcliffe, an outfielder, and Pitcher "Sugar" Cane. Comiskey, however, wasn't worrying about the last three.

The master of the White Sox was worried about Bonura, who is wintering down at New Orleans, but not so much concerned about Appling, who, he feels, will accept the latest offer made him. Appling, ace shortstop, has been sent a contract with the handsome figure of $17,500 written therein, representing the largest wage ever paid a White Sox ball player, outside of Al Simmons.

Comiskey says that Bonura is a holdout "way out of line." He has returned his contract unsigned and has been telling everybody except Comiskey what he wants in regard to salary. He received $3,500 last year and Comiskey offered him $10,000 for the 1937 season. Bringing his fist down with a rap on his desk, Comiskey says Zeke will accept that figure or stay in New Orleans.

LEMOND SELECTED AS DEPUTY HERE

Announcement was made yesterday of the appointment of an enforcement official, associated with the South Plains peace problems approximately 20 years ago, to the office of deputy constable of Precinct 1, Lubbock.

John LeMond replaced Ross Berry, who had been assistant to the late J. C. Roberts. His appointment was by Mrs. Winnie Coleman, whose bond of $1,000 was approved Wednesday morning by the commissioners court, which recognized her new status as constable, succeeding her father.

LeMond's association with law enforcement began before Lubbock county achieved to its present status—of being a separate political entity. Grouped with it for judicial purposes were Hockley and Cochran counties. LeMond acted as deputy sheriff in that dim heyday.

He was chief of police six years, going out in June four years ago. He had been associated with the police department five years earlier than the date when his tenure as chief was begun.

PUZZLE

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—Robert E. Cunningham, 70, a former sailor, is building a 12-foot boat, but how he'll get it out of his 16-foot room on the second floor of a boarding house here is puzzling landlubbers.

"There is plenty of time to worry about that," says Cunningham. "The boat won't be finished for several months yet."

RAMS WIN FIFTH

FORT WORTH, Feb. 18. (AP)—The Texas Wesleyan Rams won their fifth consecutive basketball victory last night as they turned back the Trinity Tigers 48 to 24. Decker, Ram ace, controlled the tip-off throughout and paced the scorers with 11 points.

STRENGTHEN LEAD

NACOGDOCHES, Feb. 18. (AP) — The Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks thumped the East Texas Teachers 33 to 27 last night to strengthen their lead in the Lone Star conference basketball race.

RALLY TO WIN

ALPINE, Feb. 18. (AP) — The Sul Ross Teachers rallied in an overtime period last night to defeat the West Texas Teachers 37 to 34 in a nip and tuck basketball contest. The score at the end of the second period was 31-all.

Possibility of a state mental hospital being located in Lubbock has released a string of stories dealing with the insane. One of the best of the lot runs like this:

A patient who had been undergoing treatment over at Terrell for several years was thought to be cured and ready for dismissal. As a final test the warden had a guard bring the man in for questioning.

"John," said the warden, "if I let you go home will you promise never to have anything to do with wine, women or song?"

"Yes, sir," said John, with alacrity. "Yes, sir, I sure will promise."

The warden turned to the guard with a sigh.

"Lock him up again," he ordered. "He's still crazy."

An interesting visitor in Lubbock is Dr. T. H. McMichael, of Monmouth, Ill., president emeritus of Monmouth college. With Mrs. McMichael, the doctor is visiting in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Chas. J. Wagner, both of whom attended Monmouth college where their two daughters, Helen and Ruth, now are students.

Doctor McMichael was president of Monmouth college for 33 years, retired from active duty a short time ago and has held the title of president emeritus ever since.

White-thatched and jovial and with a touch of Erin in his tongue, Doctor McMichael's face belies his years which must be in the neighborhood of 70. His face is almost boyish, untouched by evidences of care and his twinkling eyes mirror his love of fun and humor.

It is refreshing, we think, to come into contact with a man who has lived over a long span of years yet who still naturally possesses a flair for happy, active living.

The visiting educator gives every evidence of being that kind of a man.

Walter Posey, who is not only one of The Plainsman's favorites but also a favorite of an army of Lubbock and South Plains people, dropped one of his frequent bits of philosophy at lunch the other day.

"It's getting so now," he observed, "that we humans are becoming standardized, just like the automobiles, the radios, the electric refrigerators and moving pictures. We all wear the same kind of clothes, smoke the same kind of cigars and cigarets, sleep on the same kind of beds and eat the same kind of food. Naturally, we're beginning to think the same kind of thoughts.

"About the only difference in men now-adays is that some of them have that indefinable something which enables them to distinguish right from wrong, to make the logical business moves and to reach the sensible decision on most questions, public and private."

That's pretty good logic and is indicative of Walter's talent to cut through the underbrush and go straight to the clearing.

And that "indefinable something" of which he speaks is still man's most valuable possession—native intelligence.

LOST: (or perhaps strayed or stolen) The Plainsman's four months old male puppy, cross between a police dog and a collie. Answers, when he sees fit, to the name "Major." Is a muckledy dun color save for ears and back which are dark brown. Weighs about 12 pounds and is especially fond of chewing up papers, bedroom slippers, curtains and rugs. Anyone who has seen such a pup will do The Plainsman a favor by calling him at 13. The Journal number, or at home. Phone 834. (Note to poundmaster: If you've got that pup you'd better get him back where you found him. Pups under 6 months do not have to have license tags and I'd hate to have to sue the city for $100,000 damages, more exemplary than real.)

That Man on Avenue Q says the furore about the Supreme court furnishes a live topic of conversation to fill in the dull season between the holidays and the appearance of the latest new style bathing suits.

A New Mexico boy, who had been brought up with a high-power rifle on his saddle, joined the army. Shortly thereafter his company was taking target practice and the captain was astounded at the lad's prowess. Going over to him, the captain looked at the gun and then ejaculated:

"Ye gods, boy! How do you do it? You've got your sights set at 600 yards, the range is 1,000 yards, but you're hitting the target every time!"

"That's easy," said the old boy from New Mexico, "See that white rock out there about 400 yards?"

"Yeah," said the captain, "what of it?"

"Well I'm bankin' 'em off n it!"

Trent C. Root, associate professor of economics and business administration out at Tech, has a lulu of a takeoff on economists and how they reach their opinions concerning probable business trends.

The Plainsman used to edit a weekly business feature by Economist Roger Babson and Professor Root's burlesque is so good that it's hard to distinguish it—in wording—from the real thing.

The only possible bad thing about Mr. Root's stunt is that Mr. Roosevelt may hear the speech and call the Tech man to Washington to help the "brain trusters" in their "brain trusting."

And that might not be such a bad idea, after all.

Gordon Webb brought this in. He says folks all over town were cracking it yesterday.

President Roosevelt does things in a big way. He's now moving dust across the country to use in building levees along the Mississippi and Ohio rivers!"

Last summer, when The Plainsman was browsing about in the East and was attending the Democratic National convention, he said in a column sent home from Philadelphia that handsome, personable Governor Paul V. McNutt, of Indiana, was conspicuous about the place and that providing he didn't stump his toe was headed for high places politically speaking.

Yesterday Mr. McNutt, now former governor of Indiana, was appointed as U. S. high commissioner of the Philippine Islands by his friend, for whom he plumped in the Midwest campaign, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Don't think for a minute that Mr. McNutt is going to be satisfied with the high commissionership of the Philippines.

Not a chance of that.

A former national commander of the American legion—which spells political power in anybody's league—Mr. McNutt has his eye on the big mansion at 1600 Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, D. C., now under lease to a former resident of Hyde Park, N. Y.

Hands down the most strikingly handsome man in American public life, Mr. McNutt will be back in this country long before party lines are drawn for 1940—in time, perhaps, to enter the U. S. senatorial race in the Hoosier state.

Mark down on your cuff—(we advised that last June)—the name of Paul V. McNutt, for future reference.

You might be voting for—or against—him for the presidency some day.

SYNOPSIS: Because Laurie does not approve of certain suggestions made by Mark Albery, her employer, she resigns. Albery had been under the impression that there had been something damaging in the relationship between Laurie and Rex Moore, Albery's star aviator. Now Laurie is telling her former employer the whole truth, and is rather relieved to be able to do so, and very distrait at the necessity.

Chapter 35
THE TRUTH

She flung the whole story at him, scornfully, and he listened in amazement. As Laurie's rich voice rang out, he desired her more than ever, and hated Rex Moore more than ever, because it was so plain that she loved him and would willingly tarnish her own character to defend his.

"But why did Moore go on with it?" he asked, when she had finished.

"Because he said you'd never forgive him for deceiving you and pretending he had a wife. He said you thought such a lot of yourself and you couldn't stand being fooled, and he said I'd done well out of being his widow for two years, and I owed it to him to help him in his job, now that he had come back."

"You're a good pair of actors, I must say," remarked Albery very quickly, but with a note of concealed anger that frightened the girl. Then, he fixed his glowing dark eyes on her. "And so it was all a pretense—your married life?"

"It was a pretense", she said dully. "We lived in the same flat because we had to—to keep it up. Mr. Albery," she added, raising her voice, "I've told you the truth, because I will not allow you to misjudge Rex Moore."

"He has treated me wonderfully. He forgave me for what was a wicked thing to do. It was not until I saw him that I realized I had been a liar, a cheat, and a fraud. And I deceived you, too, and I ought to be sorry for that. But I am not so sorry, because, after all, I did work for you as well as I could."

"You need not be sorry, Laurie," he said, and in his voice trembled his overmastering passion for her, which might have been a fine thing but for its underlying madness. "I think you are a wonderful girl. And I know you did it all for your sister."

She was the most beautiful, the most enchanting woman in the world to him, as she sat there so white, her face working with such tragic emotions.

"Laurie will you be my wife?" he asked.

"Oh, no, Mr. Albery, I could not marry you! I don't care for you."

"I will take the risk." He spoke slowly, suavely, as usual, and without sign of feeling. "You are the only woman I have ever asked to be my wife. All my life I have had a prejudice against marriage. The women I met never seemed worth while. From the first I loved you. Now I want to marry you, to make you a part of my life for good and all."

He came towards her, smiling, inspired by his own vision of their future; but she waved him away.

"Mr. Albery, I can't marry you. Please don't say any more!"

"I hope you will change your mind," he said. He himself was a changed man. Gone was every trace of the admirer, the lover. Even the friendly, considerate employer was no more.

He sat down in an armchair and looked at her with a face as unreadable as the blank, sightless carvings on an old Egyptian temple.

"I cannot change my mind," Laurie said.

"Perhaps when you have heard what I have to say you may change it," he remarked impersonally. "Or have you no interest in Rex Moore any more, now that you are going to part from him? Do you not care what becomes of him? If he never achieves his ambitions? If his career comes to an abrupt end? I thought you said you owed him something."

"What do you mean?" she asked in a shocked voice.

"That unless you marry me, I will ruin Rex Moore. He will have no more career."

"You mean you wouldn't help him any more?"

"Not only that, but I would prevent anybody else from helping him. He will have no more backing from anyone in the world of aviation. No money behind him. He will stand alone. And I will let the world know the whole story of your pretty little game that you and he have been playing. Rex Moore as an airman will cease to exist."

"There are other people," she murmured fearfully.

"My dear girl, you know better than that. You have been working for the firm for two years, and privately for me for quite a little time. You know that I and my friends control practically all the air routes of the world, the air fields, the filling stations, the dumps in the deserts and jungles, the people who keep the lines of communication on land. With me behind him, Rex Moore will be the greatest airman of his time. Without me—he might as well be dead."

Laurie clasped her hands in agony; she could not take her eyes from his face.

Albery's gaze was fixed on her unsmiling, mesmeric.

"Do you wish that to happen, or will you marry me? What do you say?"

Laurie's brain moved in a tortured circle. She thought she was going mad for a few minutes. With Rex she had been safe. He was a man of honor. He was her hero; of him she had nothing but beautiful memories now. That he did not love her was the last thing she could hold against him.

"What do you say?" asked the smooth voice again. "Come, it can't be such a difficult choice!"

And then, it was all clear to her at once. There was only one thing she could do. She must save Rex Moore's career. His job was his life. And he was her life. It was simple.

"I will marry you, Mr. Albery," she said.

"You make me the happiest man in the world," he informed her, with his fleshing smile, but in his heart was rage rather than joy. So she loved Moore as much as that. Even his overweening egotism could not

THE FIGHT AGAINST RACE TRACK GAMBLING

G. H. Nelson, of the 30th district, hasn't been in the state senate long as senatorial terms go, but he hasn't missed any tricks since he's been there. That he knows when he's being "taken for a ride" was brought out in Austin the other day when upper house action on the proposal to outlaw pari-mutuel race track gambling was postponed through some smart work on the part of Senator Frank Rawlings, of Ft. Worth.

"I can see my bill sinking like the Titantic," observed Senator Nelson when public hearing date on the question was set for March 9—thus giving track gambling proponents time to marshal their forces, "shoot the works" in lobbying and otherwise prepare to hold their fortress against popular odds.

As we have said before, regardless of public opinion, opponents of race track gambling have about as much chance to outlaw the custom as a refrigerator salesman has to sell his wares at the North Pole. As long as smart lobbying—backed with scads of money—can work wonders at Austin, the race gambling bloc can hold out against heaven, hell or high water, or even against a combination of all three.

It isn't that we blame Senator Nelson for trying to outlaw the pari-mutuels; everyone knows that legalized race track gambling has cost legitimate Texas business millions of dollars in the last five years. We merely agree with him that he has a terrific job on his hands in trying to ram the anti-gambling bill through the senate.

It's so terrific, in fact, that his chances for success are slim.

From Hollywood MOVIE SIDELIGHTS

Behind The Scenes With The Stars Of Talkietown

BY ROBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 18.—"Gardenia-white skin with the delicate flush of girlish wholesomeness, crowned by a silken mass of flaxen hair—"

JEAN ROGERS

This translated from studio biography of Jean Rogers, means that she is a pretty blonde, not unlike many another pretty blonde. But what puts her in a class by herself is that while not very famous in Hollywood, she is a favorite in the world of boys and girls, and gets more fan mail than many a name you know better.

Her virtual anonymity locally, is explained by the fact that nobody—well, almost nobody—deliberately goes to see a serial movie. And Jean's career, until now, has been confined to serial-queening, unless you count a couple of feature leads on the side.

Risky Business

Jean at 20 is the survivor of a crowded, thrilling cinematic existence. While other ingenues of her age pined for the peaks, Jean was leaping from crag to crag as serial queens must.

For really hazardous stunts, a serial actress is "doubted." Even so, Jean nurses black and blue marks from her last serial, while she "ingenues" currently in a feature. She is not sure it was her last serial—they always seem to find one more for her.

There is no "double" for a 3 a. m. call to location, nor for the rigors of a hasty shooting schedule which sometimes requires working straight through the day to 10 p. m. That means, for six weeks at a stretch, Jean doesn't play at all.

What, I wonder aloud, does an "action actress" do with her hands when she works in a feature and merely has to talk? That, says Jean, is easy. In the first place, a feature director has time to tell her what to do, whereas the harried serial-maker is too busy rushing into his chapter-after-next. In the second, it's rather nice to rest your hands.

Still A Movie Fan

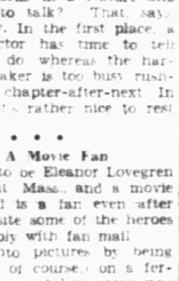

Jean used to be Eleanor Lovegren from Belmont, Mass., and a movie fan. She still is a fan, even after playing opposite some of the heroes she used to pin with fan mail.

She got into pictures by being (accidentally, of course,) on a ferryboat the day a talent scout was to select candidates for the film "Eight Girls in a Boat." After she won, she and her mother stored the furniture and came out—intending of course, to go right back. It was mother, says Jean, who thought they might as well gamble on staying. After a partless year under contract, Jean went to Universal and signed there. She still says she wouldn't stay in Hollywood if it meant struggling for a job.

Jean is shy, although she works here at not being—but she is the only one of the "boat girls" now being featured. The others went home or are doing but. She thanks you.

Here And There

Grand parade: Constance Bennett, newly signed by Hal Roach, was talking not long ago about forming her own company. . . Maybe she will, but the comedy plant has options for future films after the late Thorne Smith's "Topper." . . . A star's own company is risky business, as Charles Ray, Clara Kimball Young, Gloria Swanson and others—who tried it—can testify. . . . Gloria is coming back, signed by Metro for a role they say is tailored to her measure. . . . Incidentally, there's a heavy out here named Jack Adair, who used to work with Gloria in the Essanay days. Says he was engaged to her once and was the one who introduced her to Wallace Beery, whom she married. . . . Gloria was 17 then, in the old Sennett regime, and Wally was a Sennetter too. . . . This is movies: Gloria was on the heights when Wally was skidding, and Wally made his comeback while Gloria slipped. . . . Speaking of Wally, he is on loan from Metro to 20th Century, and he had his set closed to visitors. . . . until he missed the sound of pencils scratching on note paper, and went up front" to explain that he didn't mean the press . . . only sightseeing visitors. . . . Remember the time Beery impersonated Garbo as a "gag," at one of the local premieres? . . . .

CONSTANCE BENNETT

Wayne Morris, the kid with the grin, is wearing a toupee for "Kid Galahad," and he's only 22. . . . He's not bald. . . . They just wanted to change his hairline, and they have. . . . Also they've used makeup on him for the first time. . . . Trying to make me handsome," the boy behind the grin says ruefully. . . . Make-up men long have succeeded in making all the movie girls look alike, but this is the first time on record they have gone for taking away masculine individuality. . . .

Bouquet department: There isn't a brighter more genuine face in Hollywood than little Deanna Durbin's. . . . The new streamlined Bette Davis is an optical pleasure. . . . . Hear that Ida Kay Francis's ex-maid is plotting stardom for Doris Nolan, her new mistress. . . . And is confident Doris, when she gets there, will stay as sweet as she is. . . .

Scott Kolk's farm at Houghton, Me., has a railroad station but no town to go with it. . . . Neighboring South Portland has a town but no railroad station. . . . And the word is that Kolk, who acquired the station with the farm, may be approached as a public-spirited citizen, and so on. . . .

Since the fire at 20th Century the "No Smoking" signs on sets mean it. . . . Reri from Tahiti and her manager, Mildred Luber, have gone their separate ways after six years of teaming. . . .

When Does Judicial Reform Begin Here?

Court Injunction Against National Labor Board Explains Why Board Did Not Function In Recent Automobile Strike

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—A recent decision of the eighth circuit court of appeals and the events and factors surrounding it provide at least partial answer to several current questions, among them:

Why didn't the National Labor Relations board function in the General Motors strike?

Dutcher

What did Roosevelt mean by "government by injunction" in his recent message to Congress?

What is the significance of the Wagner act now spectacularly before the supreme court?

Why has the administration failed to take a stern attitude toward sit-down strikes?

The decision of the three judges in the circuit court of appeals (only one of whom is over 70) was a refusal to vacate a stay which since last June has prevented the NLRB from investigating and holding hearings on complaints that General Motors had discharged numerous employes for union activity, employed industrial spies and dominated employes' organizations at the Saginaw Chevrolet-Fisher Body assembly plant. The complaints involve alleged violations of the Wagner Labor Relations act and the board complained that under the stay it was "prevented from discharging its duties under the law of the United States."

Would Create Strife

The circuit courts of the second, fifth, sixth, seventh and ninth circuits have refused to grant injunctions prohibiting the board from holding hearings.

In the injunction suit last June the company alleged the investigation would create strife and dissatisfaction among its employes that a hearing would interfere with full operation of the assembly plant and would take from the plant various employes necessary to its continued operation.

The NLRB on the other hand, claimed it was seeking to prevent industrial strife arising from grave violations of law which would create a stoppage in the flow of interstate commerce. The court decided for the company.

After that time, strikes of 3900 workers at the St. Louis plant and 2500 in General Motors plants at Kansas City, Mo., also under jurisdiction of the eighth circuit court, closed those plants. While the strike was on, NLRB petitioned the court to vacate the stay, urging that "the situation has greatly changed and a present emergency exists in respect thereto. The industrial disputes which the National Labor Relations board sought to prevent, and of which it warned in its June complaint have now occurred. . . . Every consideration of equity, as well as of the paramount public interest, indicates that the stay herein should be vacated and the National Labor Relations board allowed to administer the applicable law of the United States."

The court denied the request to vacate the stay.

Brought To Stop

Roosevelt, in his message, said, "We find the processes of government itself brought to a complete stop from time to time by injunctions issued almost automatically, sometimes even without notice to the government, and not infrequently in clear violation of the principle of equity that injunctions should be granted only in those rare cases of manifest illegality and irreparable damage against which the ordinary course of the law offers no protection."

The administration unofficially holds that sitdown strikes are no more unlawful than the threatening coercion and discharge of employes in violation of the Wagner act.

Its attitude is stiffened by evidence that employes are placed at an unfair advantage by employers who hire private detectives and industrial spies to corrupt their leaders and betray them. It has been testified that a Pinkerton detective spied on Assistant Secretary of Labor Ed McGrady while he sought to mediate the 1935 Chevrolet strike at Toledo, that there were 40 or 50 spies operating in Toledo at the time and that evidence of union activity unearthed by private detectives led employers to close down plants and throw workers out in retaliation. The LaFollette committee has disclosed how employer-hired thugs have beaten up union leaders, how G. M. paid the Pinkertons $167,500 for work in 1935, how spies have precipitated strike violence and "framed" union men, how underworld criminals are hired to break strikes, how union men are blacklisted over wide areas.

The Wagner act was intended by the administration as a mild blow against that sort of thing.

A TIP FOR LUBBOCK

Dear Plainsman: I am writing you so you can, in turn, give your fellow citizens a little advice. You know how you always give other towns advice when you think they are too high on rent, etc., such as Dallas during the centennial.

Now there isn't any centennial going on here or an oil boom to make any excuse for such high prices. Rent is going up every month or two. Unfurnished houses rent for as much as $75 a month.

Now if Lubbock as a whole, but I hope, if they keep going up on rent, that I will be one of the ones that leaves here real soon. And you would be surprised how many feel the same way.

So see if you can make some of your old timers wake up and make this a place that people want to live in and not move away, else I'm afraid it won't grow so fast.

Yours truly,
Mrs. W. C. Covin.

SENIORS WILL OFFER PLAY

"THE GINGHAM GIRL" WILL BE PRESENTED ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Final preparations for presentation of "The Gingham Girl", which will be offered at 8 o'clock Friday night in Senior High school auditorium, are being made today by the senior class.

Proceeds from the play will go toward financing the school yearbook, the 1937 Westerner.

As "The Gingham Girl" is a Broadway hit of several seasons ago, the 1937 class is undertaking something new in producing a musical comedy that is modern in its setting, costumes, dialogue and song hits. Miss Lula Mae Cravens is the dramatic director; Mrs. Waldo Trotter the musical director; Miss Beulah Dunn, director of the orchestra; and Mrs. Laverne Kirby, director of the dances.

Ran For Year On Broadway

Originally "The Gingham Girl" was produced by Schwab and Kusel at the Earl Carrol Theater where it ran for one year. The story of the production includes the entanglements which ensue when a simple country girl, played by Lenora Shaffer, gets into big business in New York all because of a cookie recipe. The part of the country boy from Crossville Corners who goes to New York to make his fortune is played by Stanley Young.

Other characters include: Wilson Dickson, Othie Upton, J. W. Gamble, Mary Grace Ellison, Jack Delahunty, Betty Lee Lindsey, Fern Newton, Jeanne Roane, Henrietta Bowlin, Orville Stewart, Joe Horne, Claribel Lee, Mildred Mitchell, Lurline Tarlton, Mary Ruth Hufstedler, Helen Robinson, Lois Jane McDonald, Gwendolyn McKinnon, Cathryn Dykes, Carolyn Seale, Gertrude Claiborne, Geraldine Philips, Dorothy Smith, Murray Venable, Rebecca Butler, Ramon Tapp, Phyllis Higley, Doris Sanders, Margaret Schroeder, Anna Mae Slack and Levelle Allen.

Throughout the production music will be furnished by the Senior High school orchestra.

James Heald is stage manager, assisted by Lonnie McCurry and Bob Ritchie. Mary Elsie Parrish is to be prompter, and Ida Rule Duff the make-up artist.

Scenery has been designed and settings arranged by Phyllis Higley and Tom Ramsey.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, 2 lower to 3 higher on near month liquidation and trade and foreign buying in late positions. Mch 12.56; May 12.40; Jly 12.25; Oct 11.80; Dec 11.75; Jan 11.76.

Although there was a fair volume of trading early price changes were narrow and irregular. Some foreign and commission house buying appeared in the forward positions. March liquidation in advance of first notice day next Tuesday continued and there was considerable exchanging from March to later deliveries.

The trade was again the best buyer of nearby positions. During the first half hour fluctuations were confined to a range of 2 or 3 points and shortly after prices were ruling 1 point net lower to 3 higher. May fluctuated between 12.39 and 12.42.

Liverpool was dull and furnished little incentive for the early trading here. Cables noted a lack of buying power in that market although dust storms in the southwest cotton belt and the British rearmament program were construed bullishly.

The market became quiet later in the morning but the undertone was steady. Price fixing in near months absorbed continued March liquidation. Business otherwise consisted largely of exchange between months. May sold up to 12.43 and was 12.42 at mid-day when prices were 1 to 6 points net higher.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 18. (AP)—Cotton was 1 to 3 points higher at the start of trading today.

Buying came mostly from the trade. Shorts also took some of the cotton on the advance.

Offerings were principally hedge selling, reportedly against sales of loan cotton at interior points. A large spot house and the co-ops were active on the selling side.

March opened up 3 points at 12.48. May gained 2 points to 12.37 while July at 12.23 and Jan. at 11.82 were unchanged to a point higher.

Dealings were not active in the early minutes of trading, uncertainty over loan cotton continuing to put a damper on speculative activity.

Improved foreign markets failed to change the domestic situation and at mid-day at New Orleans prices were showing little net change. March managed to retain an early gain of 2 points, but Oct. was net unchanged in dull dealings.

Liverpool cabled that the new British armament program and the dust storms in the western part of the American cotton belt had been construed as bullish, but brought little buying into the market there. Foreign growths were higher with Indian spots up 5 points. Egyptian futures closed 11 to 20 points higher. Bombay futures eased a point or so.

More reports were heard relative to loan cotton, the latest being a New York wire quoting a C. C. C. official to the effect that no change will be made in the present minimum price of 12.75 cents a pound for loan cotton.

PLAINTIFF WINS IN CIVIL ACTION

Judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff this morning by Judge E. L. Pitts of 99th district court in the civil suit of Minnie O. Bond against Bankers Life and Loan association, involving an insurance policy.

Evidence and pleading was heard Jan. 30, and arguments by attorneys were presented Feb. 16.

No Fees Awarded

A 99th district court jury answered "none" to the single special issue of the amount of money to be awarded the plaintiff for attorneys' fees in the suit of Lubbock National Bank against J. K. Jackson and others, debt and foreclosure. The verdict was rendered late yesterday afternoon after evidence and argument were completed at noon.

Attorneys for the plaintiff are Vickers and Campbell; for defendant, McWhorter and Howard; and for Lubbock Cotton Oil company, Wilson, Randal, and Kilpatrick.

Scheduled for trial this afternoon in 99th district court is the civil action of Nabob Oil and Gas company against Arran Everest, and others, suit on debt. It is a non-jury case.

Showing little energy were American Telephone, Western Union, Consolidated Edison, General Electric and Du Pont.

Bonds were irregular. Grains and cotton were narrow. The pound sterling and the French franc were steady.

SCHOOL NARCOTIC RING IS BROKEN

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 18. (AP)—Detectives arrested a high school student and two Mexicans today and announced they believed they had nipped a narcotics "ring" in one of the Utah capital's largest schools.

Bob Bogden, 19, a student at West High school, will be charged with possession of a narcotic and a similar charge is to be placed against Pete Hernandez, 56. Chief Deputy Sheriff George Beckstead said. Corona Mersedes, 40, was charged with sale of the narcotic, he added.

"The three evidently were operating through encouraging high school students to take up the weed (marijuana) as a lark, and then selling it to them regularly when they acquired the habit," Beckstead said.

Fred B. Keeler, West High school principal, said he believed the attempted sale of narcotics had just started at the school.

"Bogden, who is above school age, enrolled only about two weeks ago and was very irregular in class attendance," Keeler said. "In the two weeks I believe he was present at class only five or six days."

hospitals to aid the stricken community of 1,500. There were as yet no patients. The Red Cross announced two nurses had been ordered there to meet the emergency health situation.

HAZE CONTINUES IN WEST TEXAS

A dust fog of varying intensity hung today over that portion of Texas extending from Dallas west to Wink and from the middle Panhandle south to San Antonio.

The pall was fanned by light variant winds.

Thickens Westward

The United States weather bureau reported visibility at Dallas and Waco of one and one half miles. Westward the fog thickened. Abilene had visibility of three-fourths mile, San Angelo one-quarter mile, Santo one-quarter mile, Big Spring three-quarters.

San Antonio, in the south, reported visibility of one mile.

Dust was thinning in the Panhandle. Borger reported clear weather, Amarillo, the bureau said, had a three-quarter-mile visibility.

Street lights at Lubbock were hazy. Observers said the dust was like a thick fog.

New Duster Reported

Wichita Falls reported silt and a new "duster" at Woodward, Okla., headed in that direction on the wings of a fresh wind.

Airplane pilots at Big Spring reported the dust cloud 5,000 feet thick.

Dr. J. L. Cline, meteorologist in charge of the Dallas weather bureau, said there was little chance of immediate rain in the northwestern portion of the state, needed to settle the dust. He said winds from the gulf would prevent dust extending as far south as Tuesday when clouds enveloped the Rio Grande valley for the first time in two years.

FOG IS LIGHTER IN THIS SECTION

Dust was still settling down over Lubbock this morning, but the wind had dropped somewhat and the mercury was beginning to rise. The dust was considerably lighter than that of previous days, indicating possibility of the approaching end of this session of the dust storm.

No damage to crops or crop land has been reported in this area. There is very little wheat in Lubbock county. Counties to the north where there is wheat may expect some damage if the dust continues, it was indicated.

Wednesday's maximum was 55 degrees, state experiment sub-station reported. Minimum this morning was 33. West Texas Gas company reported a rise of from 35 to 45 degrees between 7 and 10 a. m.

Mexican Is In And Out Of Local Jail

In again, out again, in again Arrendondo" might well replace the old rhyme about Finnigan.

Pedro Arrendondo, a Mexican, is under indictment for murdering another Mexican.

Arrendondo's bondsmen turned him over to the sheriff's department Monday, saying they wished to be relieved of the $3,500 responsibility of having him in court when his case is called.

Second bond of $3,500 was made Wednesday by Arrendondo. But by 10:10 o'clock last night, the second group of bondsmen had placed the Mexican in the custody of police.

The Mexican was in county jail this morning pending posting of another $3,500 bond.

CROP INSURANCE

cials who planned the insurance program told Mr. Roosevelt it was "too large an undertaking for private companies."

They said the federal government could "well afford" to pay "administrative" and overhead costs for the plan to protect farmers against crop losses by drouth and other "unavoidable disasters."

Secretary Wallace, chairman of the committee, said the plan "would have the effect of storing up reserves of wheat in years of large crops and releasing them on the market in years of crop failure."

No Substitute Measure

The insurance was not a "substitute" for any federal farm measures, he said, but rather "supplementary."

Estimating more than $600,000,000 in federal funds had been expended in the last 10 years for distressed farmers who lost crops, the insurance committee said much of this would be eliminated by "assisting wheat farmers to assist themselves."

The committee report said "wheat crop insurance would probably find its greatest usefulness in the great plains states, where it is perhaps needed the most because of wide fluctuations in yield, and where most of the nation's wheat is produced."

It suggested the insurance plan be voluntary.

Federal officials estimated $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 would be needed to set up the plan and establish adequate reserves and pay necessary costs.

BIRDS KILLED

United States, he said, had been as rapid as that of the English sparrow, which has become a nuisance.

The starling, he said, is of a dark green color with a white tint on the feathers.

"I had several of them in cages and they became tame more quickly than blackbirds," said Lyle, "but they ate so much that I turned them loose."

He said the birds would devour any grain, bread, lettuce and other vegetables (including onions), and would eat fruit.

"Because they have been staying in Texas only from November to February, they have not been very destructive," he continued. "But if they decided to spend the summer here, they probably would eat everything in sight."

"The thousands of starlings which have been roosting in town apparently spend the daylight hours in the country in feed lots devouring farmers' grain."

"No one can tell what they would cost," O'Neill said. He called the miners' demands "amazing" and "utterly impossible."

INSTRUCTION FOR ADULTS IS GIVEN

Emergency education program classes taught in Lubbock range from typing to auto repairing and from cooking to piano. And tuition is free to all who wish to attend.

Graduation of more than 200 students into jobs as stenographers, bookkeepers, and clerks is one of the accomplishments of the program here in its two years of operation. One student now is a court reporter.

Recently the government needed 150 stenographers. The demand could not be met.

Classes From 6 To 9

Classes are held from 6 to 9 o'clock each night. Two groups meet in the courthouse. Instruction in commercial arithmetic, commercial English, commercial spelling and typewriting is directed by S. M. Wilson in 72nd district courtroom. In the office of Walter Davies, justice of peace, C. A. Sumner teaches shorthand, bookkeeping and accounting, commercial spelling, and typewriting. Average enrollment for the two classes is 65. New students are being added.

Other courses offered are woodworking, forestry, cooking, vocal music, piano, accordion and stringed instruments.

Latest addition to the courses is auto repairing which is taught at 708 Thirteenth street by J. L. Ayers.

Kerr District Supervisor

E. E. Kerr of Lubbock is district supervisor of the education program.

Housewives, laborers, and clerks are included among those who attend classes. Most of them are preparing for better positions. Such students are given preference when the federal government needs employees.

The school was begun in 1934 under the Texas Relief commission. Later it was placed under the WPA setup and is sponsored by Lubbock county public schools. Work will continue until June 30, end of the fiscal year. After that it is hoped the school will be made permanent. Adults may enroll in the school.

BRIDGE TRAGEDY

swift tides which swept in and out the harbor entrance.

Officials of the Pacific Bridge Co., who expect to complete the $35,000,000 structure in May, listed the following as victims of the only major construction accident so far:

Gustave Dummitzen, whose body was recovered; W. W. Bass, Chris Anderson, Charles Lindros, E. Hillen, T. Hallinan, Jack Norman, Nol Flowers, C. A. Anderson, O. Dester.

Nearby boats rescued Oscar Osberg and E. C. Lambert, who fought clear of the entangling net while holding onto the body of Dummitzen.

"Ten of my friends are dead," Lambert said at a hospital. "I saw them die all around me and I couldn't do anything about it. When the stripper gave a funny shudder, I shouted to the rest of the fellows and jumped.

Men Were Screaming

"I landed in the net. A moment later the net tore like tissue paper. Men were screaming. A piece of timber hit me on the head. I was almost unconscious. The icy water brought me to.

"A few seconds later I saw Dummitzen. I was afraid he was dead, but I couldn't take a chance. I don't know much more. I only know I keep hearing the cries of my friends."

Investigations were launched by the bridge builders, the state industrial accident commission, the San Francisco county officials of the Golden Gate bridge and highway district, which financed the world's longest suspension span.

NEGRO MARRIAGE

Mrs. Palmer. "Love is what really counts. It's all that matters. Why do people care? Why do they make all this fuss?

"I guess some people object because she married a negro. But that shouldn't matter. She loved him."

Under Washington state laws, inter-racial marriages are permitted but police said a girl of 14 could not legally marry even with parents' consent.

WOMAN ANGRY AT JAILING

HUSBAND AND SPOUSE ARE BEING HELD IN KIDNAPING CASE

DENVER, Feb. 18. (AP) — Black-haired Genevieve Oley asserted today she "couldn't understand" why the federal government held her in jail on a charge of harboring her own husband.

In another part of the jail her husband, Francis Leo Oley, accused in the kidnaping of John J. O'Connell, jr., of Albany, N. Y., arraigned the penal system in an interview and said he is "the victim of a political frameup."

Married For Love

Mrs. Oley, slight and neatly dressed, asked, "when did living with a husband you love and being hospitable to his friends constitute a criminal act called 'harboring'?"

"I am one of these women, rare I'll admit these days, who marry for life as well as for love," she said.

"Of course, I was surprised when I was arrested and brought to this jail. But the experience will be worth all it has cost us, if I can make the public realize the degradation of filth, vermin, bad food, and disease to which men and women here are subjected."

Oley, pacing his cell nervously, talked in similar vein.

"Why don't you tell the public about the deplorable conditions in our jails?" he asked. "They are cesspools of iniquity. They are dens of vice and moral corruption. If a boy isn't contaminated when he comes in here, he will be when he leaves."

INSURANCE LAWS TO BE EXPLAINED

State unemployment insurance laws recently enacted will be the subject of the first of a series of five 15-minute talks which will be delivered from 7:15 to 7:30 o'clock starting tonight over radio station KFYO by Ed Merriman, field representative here from the Texas Unemployment Compensation commission.

All the high points of the measure will be discussed by the representative in talks tonight and Friday of this week and Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. His final speech will be made Feb. 24, the day before the deadline for payment without penalty of state 1936 unemployment insurance taxes.

To Be General Discussion

Merriman's talk tonight will be a general discussion of the Federal Social Security act, outlining the history of the measure. He will stress title 8 of the federal measure which is concerned with old age benefits. It will be of interest to persons who are employers, employes or who are neither one, Merriman said.

His talks Friday night and Monday and Tuesday nights of next week will deal chiefly with title 9 of the federal act, which is relative to unemployment insurance, and the Texas unemployment compensation law. It will be of interest primarily to employers of 8 or more persons, but will be valuable for others as well, the field representative said, for employers with less than 8 employes may obtain benefits for employes by complying with rules and regulations of the law.

To Answer Questions

His last talk will be devoted to answering questions sent in by employers and other interested persons of this district. Merriman has invited employers to contact him with questions either in person or by mail.

Time for the speeches is being donated by the radio station, according to DeWitt (Judge) Landis, manager. He said the station was glad to cooperate with Merriman and the commission in giving time for the talks.

at 8 o'clock p. m. at Central Fire station. Persons interested in woodcraft or metal work are invited to attend. Membership is open to both men and women. Each member is asked to bring some project he has made.

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

make him believe that she wanted to marry him.

Laurie collected herself; slowly, she was able to think again. She had recovered that cool poise that had carried her through the strange situations that had made up her life.

"I must make some conditions," she said. She spoke as unemotionally as if she were addressing him in the office on business matters.

"Oh, so you make conditions!" His tone was mocking but indulgent. His eyes devoured her eagerly.

"I will marry you," said Laurie, "but everything must go on as it is. Rex Moore and I must be supposed not to get on and to have parted, and to be divorced later on in the ordinary way, as we have planned. You must wait until it is all settled."

"But that's preposterous! How are you going to play it out? If you're supposed to be getting a divorce, people must hear about it. And that means, if you're supposed to start proceedings at once and get a decree, I couldn't marry you ostensibly for six months! Something else will have to be managed.

"I won't consent to anything that reflects on Rex Moore in any way," she said stubbornly.

"You only think of him." In his eyes flamed his hatred of the man and this time she saw it, and shivered, as the old premonition of evil came back to her. "Of course, he'll have to take the blame in any case, in the eyes of the world. You can't."

"No, of course, he would not allow me to do that," she said. "But it must be managed so that there is nothing against him."

"My dear little girl," Albery urged, "don't bother your head about ways and means. Leave it to me. I'll fix it up with Moore. I can manage something that people will swallow whole.

"We'll save Rex Moore's face. And you and I will slip away somewhere quite quietly, where nobody knows us, and get married by a registrar, and nobody will be the wiser until the time comes when we can announce it."

Laurie's clearness of mind deserted her. She stared at him in confusion.

"You mean—you want me to marry you—soon?"

"My dear little girl, do you suppose a man who is madly in love wants to wait months when the woman is as free as air? It shall be made perfectly fool-proof."

Laurie has another disturbing blow, tomorrow.

FOOD SOURED! STOMACH WAS FULL OF GAS!

Texas Lady Victim Of Awful Indigestion; Weak Kidneys Caused Night Rising; Ankles, Feet Swelled Up; But Now Van-Tage Has Relieved Her!

Some of the Leading Druggists of Lubbock and throughout this section now frankly say they have never seen anything like the way Widely-Known Local Residents continue to come forward day after day and publicly endorse the 'Amazing New Medicine' known as VAN-TAGE, which is now being introduced to the public daily at The Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway. These are all truthful, sincere testimonials given by men and women who wish to help others who are suffering as they used to. For instance just recently, Mrs. M. L. Moses of 2924 South Blvd., Dallas, Tex., endorsed Van-Tage. This Prominent Lady says:

MRS. M. L. MOSES

Stomach Sour And Gassy! Kidneys Sluggish

"My stomach was all upset and my food would turn sour inside of me and I would fill with gas. I also had weak, sluggish kidneys and had to keep rising with them at night, and I had sharp pains in my back over my kidneys. My feet and ankles swelled up from the contamination in my system and the pains I had in my feet and ankles were just terrible. Nothing helped me. So I was badly discouraged. Then, recently, I found Van-Tage. And it began to drive the poisons from my body and every day I felt better. Now my gassy, sour stomach is relieved. I can go to bed and sleep. My pains are relieved and I just feel like a new woman. I can't say enough for Van-Tage."

Acts On Bowels, Stomach, Liver And Kidneys

VAN-TAGE invigorates bowels, stomach, liver and kidney actoin. Its 21 Great Herbs and Other Splendid Medicinal Agents (over 30 Ingredients in all) have a surprising effect on suffering people. Another thing—due to the immense volume in which it sells, the price of Van-Tage is reasonable. So, don't hesitate. Get it—TODAY—at The Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway. —Adv.
