Extension Of Denver To North Plains Is Sought Freezing Weather Is Indicated For South Plains Area

Freeze Descends Upon South Plains Area Last Night

Steady Drop of Temperature Indicated Freezing At 1 o'clock; Clear Sky Promises Fair Weather

Amarillo Is Cold

Heavy rains are reported in various sections of Texas; Rio Grande Valley Basks In Sunshine.

The long-predicted freeze had evidently included Lubbock and the South Plains in its grasp last night according to indications at 1 a. m. this morning which revealed the mercury hovering around the freezing point after showing a steady drop from 9 o'clock on. At 9 the thermometer showed 28 degrees while at 11 it stood at 21.

A clear sky gave promise of fair weather today as the forecast stated.

While the Rio Grande valley basked in balmy temperatures the thermometer in the freezing mark at Amarillo early last night with indications that the South Plains, and possibly other sections of the state, would have sub-freezing temperatures by morning. Precipitation over most of the state was light but heavy rains fell from Dallas east to Palestine where almost two and one-half inches of rain fell in the 24 hours ending at eight o'clock.

Pickers Expected To Flock to Area

Approximately 5,000 Workmen Are Held Up South Of Here Due to Rains; Expect Rapid Work

Approximately 5,000 cotton pickers, who were tied up for several days at Ballinger, Winters and other towns down-state, by the heavy rains and resultant bad roads, are expected to arrive in the South Plains section beginning today, according to R. F. Nelson, United States farm labor bureau representative located here to direct the work of securing hands to gather this season's cotton crop.

Pathfinder Plane Visit Is Delayed

Because of weather conditions, the Pathfinder airplane, which was scheduled to arrive in Lubbock from Fort Worth Thursday afternoon, did not get here, a telegram to George Benson, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce air post committee, stating yesterday that the plane would be here at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon instead.

Vote in Party, Love Declares

CLEBURNE, Nov. 1. (P)—No Texas democrat need quit his party to cast a vote for Herbert Hoover, November 6, State Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas, an anti-Smith leader of the state, declared in an address delivered here tonight.

SUMMARY
 The market today was dull and featureless. The New Orleans cotton exchange was closed for All Saints' Day and trading in the New York exchange ruled quiet. December contracts showed a four point gain from last night's close. The weather map was unfavorable, many rains being reported in east Texas. A cold wave was predicted for Oklahoma and for the north portion of West Texas. Crop picking continues to indicate that picking and ginning are almost complete in many localities.

Liverpool ruled. Hedge selling in cotton market. Bombay bought while the continent sold.

Manchester ruled. Fair cloth sales to Indian but Shanghai less favorable.

New Orleans: Domestic cotton goods markets report moderate trading.

CLOSE FOR ELECTION
 All New York City exchanges and the Chicago Board of Trade and the Chicago stock exchange will be closed election day, Tuesday, November 6. The Winnipeg grain exchange will remain open as usual. All central grain exchanges will close election day. The live stock markets will remain open.

Hastings, Nebraska reported as much as two inches of snow.

Tupelo, Miss.: This section has picked about 90 per cent of its cotton and ginned nearly as much. Crop will be short of last year's.

Waco, Ga.: Picking of cotton 90 per cent completed. A great number of weevils will go into winter quarters.

Georgia, N. C.: Very rapid progress being made with cotton picking and ginning. Crop begins to look very short. Weevils plentiful on late cotton.

decrease of 3,500 from a week ago and 7,500 short of the same day last year.

Curtailed receipts sponsored a 10 cent advance in the big market; the day's top of 20.40 was paid both at Chicago and St. Louis, while at Kansas City and St. Joseph the best mark was 19.15; total offerings approximated 60,000, as compared with 66,294 last Saturday and 67,693 a year ago.

CHICAGO GRAIN
 CHICAGO, Nov. 1. (AP)—All grain, especially corn, went up today, owing a good deal to blizzards en route and to 87,000,000 bushels' curtailment of estimates of corn yield. Wheat gains, however, failed to hold well in the face of hedge selling from the northwest.

Closing quotations on wheat and corn were firm, 1 to 1 3/8 net higher. Wheat finished nervous, at the same as yesterday's finish to advance, with oats showing 1-4 to 1-2/8-8c gain, and provisions varying from 2c decline to a rise of 90c.

NEW YORK STOCKS
 NEW YORK, Nov. 1. (AP)—The stock market checked its retreat today and again started forward with a firm pace, despite the enormous increase in brokers' loans of $154,000,000 announced after the close, which carried the federal reserve total to a new high record of more than $4,900,000,000, in contrast to $3,270,000,000 a year ago.

Humors that the federal reserve figures would show a substantial increase, spread about Wall Street during the day, but was offset as a market factor by a seemingly inexhaustible supply of call money at 7 1/2 per cent. Some $30,000,000 in loans were called during the day, but the funds were easily replaced from other sources.

The increase was vastly larger than had been expected, however. When the call money rate held at 7 1/2 per cent yesterday and banks were reported to be paying off their indebtedness at the reserve bank in the face of the huge month-end dividend and interest disbursements, there was talk in banking circles that the figures would show a decrease.

There was considerable selling during the day, but it dwindled out toward the close and in the last hour the market took on a decidedly bullish aspect. This indicated that the pre-election tightening of accounts had generally been accomplished, as well as large pool distributions, which have been in progress for the last few days.

A firmer tone in the rails was an outstanding feature. Union Pacific led the advance with a spurt of more than 6 points, selling up to 209 1/2-2, the highest price in about 20 years, in expectation of distribution of some of its non-rail assets. Canadian Pacific, Pittsburgh and West Virginia, Delaware and Hudson, St. Louis-Southwestern and New York Central went ahead 2 to 4 1/2 points.

The electrification program of the Pennsylvania, announced last evening, had a negligible effect upon the stock of the railroad, but resulted in a wide upturn in the stocks of equipment manufacturers which may benefit. Westinghouse sold up more than 2 points, and General Electric made a 2-point gain. Public service of New Jersey, which will provide part of the power, sold up more than 2 points at one time.

Coppers as a group again leaped forward. Anaconda and Granby stepped up about a point to New York peak prices, and Kennecott sold up nearly 2 points to a new top at 128 1/2-3, while Greene-Caracas made an extreme gain of nearly 3 points. International Nickel was again a strong point, climbing 4 3/4 points to a new record price at 191 1/4, but cancelling most of its gain in realizing.

American Express made a spectacular advance of 27 points to a record price at 260, and American Radiator extended its gain by about 6 points. Barnes Leather jumped ahead 15 points.

The automotive group made good recovery. General Motors going ahead more than 4 points, and Briggs Manufacturing and Chrysler about 3 points. Graham-Paige, however, yielded about a point.

Merchandising shares responded to announcement of good increases in mail order sales in October: Montgomery-Ward made an extreme gain of 6 1/2 points, and Sears-Roebuck nearly 4 points. First National Stores jumped more than 3 points to a new high at 87 1/2.

Oils also rallied. American Republics, Atlantic Refining and Pan-American pushing up more than 3 points. Other strong points were Dupont, up 12, Shubert Theatre, up International Harvester, Jewel Tea and Columbia Gas and Electric, up about 5 points each.

A few issues closed lower, including Abitibi preferred, Brunswick Terminal and Adams Express, down about 3 points. Western Union yielded more than 2 points to profit-taking, but regained half of it.

The commodity markets were generally steady, cotton improving slightly on further reports of unfavorable weather. Foreign exchanges were also steady, with sterling rates unchanged.

Britain's new registration of voters will cost nearly $1,400,000.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK
 FORT WORTH, Nov. 1. (AP)—Not enough steers were here to make a market today, and, with the exception of calves, which were 25c higher, the other classes were unchanged.

Hops recovered 10c of yesterday's loss, the bulk of the receipts selling from $9.55 to $9.25. Sows sold from $7.15 to $8.00, and pigs from $9 to $12.

The sheep market was steady, with lambs bringing $12.00.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK
 KANSAS CITY, Nov. 1. (AP)—(U.S.D.A.)—Cattle supplies at most points around the district were light with no material price changes reported; Chicago had a liberal supply and reported strong to 25c higher values on choice fed steers and yearlings but showed a 35¢-40¢ decline on the in-between grades; she stock at Chicago was also under pressure with weak to 25c lower values prevailing; choice medium weight steers and yearlings at Chicago sold $18.00; average receipts were estimated at 24,000, a decrease of 3,500 from a week ago and 7,500 short of the same day last year.

"Hoover, the Administrator and Humanitarian"

"Few men in the history of mankind have exemplified exceptional talent in supplying the necessities and relieving the suffering of their fellow beings. Mr. Hoover is noted as the world's greatest relief administrator. His career, apparently, has not reached its climax; but it is already distinguished by many unusual experiences and praiseworthy achievements. Bearing the commission of Woodrow Wilson, Mr. Hoover opposed and halted the deadly advance of hunger, pestilence and famine following the war in Belgium, Russia and other foreign lands. Hospitals for the sick and wounded; food and clothing for the victims of hate and wrath. Among the suffering and the dying he bore aloft a banner saluted with respect in every land—the banner of the Red Cross. This large assembly and these ceremonies attest the appreciation of the people of Arkansas for the unusual service which Mr. Hoover has rendered by special commission of the President in time of great distress. His presence, his advice, his counsel and leadership are an inspiring example to men in high places throughout the world. Mr. Hoover's heart has not only shared the sorrows and burdens of the passing flood disaster; he assumes a task which he might avoid and leave others to perform. We have not forgotten, we will never forget, the human touch, the kindly spirit, the friendly sympathy, the effective aid which Mr. Hoover and his associates brought in a time of strain and need."

HOOVER LEADS IN TEXAS

The Literary Digest of Nov. 3, 1928, will show that Hoover will carry Texas. Hoover's vote in Texas, according to the Digest poll, is 52,864 and Smith's 35,626. It also shows that 55 Democrats out of every 100 in Texas are going to vote for Hoover.

We call upon all Hoover supporters to assist financially in this campaign. Mail all checks to Carr P. Collins, Treasurer, Anti-Al Smith Democrats of Texas.

THIS HAS HAPPENED
JERRY RAY decides that love is a delusion and makes up her mind to marry for money. She works in a store and denies herself petty luxuries in order to save for a vacation at Atlantic City in "the best hotel." But her money is stolen the night before her departure and she is stunned by the loss. Nothing remains but to go camping with her roommate, MYRTLE, on the north shore of Long Island.

But their camp is wrecked the first evening when an airplane crashes into it. Wealthy young ALESTER CARSTAIRS, from an adjoining estate, was taking a lesson from his pilot, DAN HARVEY. They escape injury; also Myrtle, but Dan picks Jerry up unconscious from a blow on the head. He is holding her in his arms when she comes to. Then Alester sends him for the doctor and pays Myrtle for the damage done.

The doctor finds Jerry not seriously injured, but desires to make a fuller examination at his office next day. Both men offer to drive her there and Jerry accepts. Alester because of his money, although her heart belongs to Dan. She is amazed when he hands her a hundred-dollar bill next day to pay the doctor's fee.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER V
She must not argue with Alester Carstairs about money. Jerry told herself.

She must be nonchalant—certainly he wouldn't admire humility, and it was not fair that he should bear the expense to which he had put her. She could return what was left of the hundred dollars after the doctor was paid.

She flashed a sunny smile at him. "Lucky for you I didn't break an arm," she said.

He regarded her gravely. "I'm glad you didn't, of course," he replied, "but I'd be happy to assume any liability I might incur with you."

Jerry was slightly confused by his remark, and her confusion annoyed her. He hadn't done anything to cause her to add a double meaning to the things he said. She turned quickly toward the house—Dr. Belden's office was in his residence.

Alester smiled as he watched her go. "Not so dumb," he told himself complacently.

When Jerry returned she handed him the folded bill. "Thirty-two dollars," she said meaning the change. "What is Dr. Belden's bill?"

"That's a renewed surgeon," Alester told her. "What did he say about you?"

He took the money because something in Jerry's manner made him realize that he could not pay for her injury with dollars, except as she must pay for it. The other girl had accepted his check for $150 a little too eagerly. He was glad Jerry was different. Such girls as she, those who "spurred small change, usually wanted something worth while, he believed. He liked costly things himself—even expensive playmates.

"I'm not to have any excitement for a while," Jerry said, and laughed softly.

Excitement! Why, not 48 hours back the bottom fell out of her world and it had been a tragedy. And now she knew that it had dropped her right into an entirely new universe, a universe that hitherto had been only a dream to her.

"In that case I'll have to see that you're kept quiet," Alester assured her promptly. "Can't go back to camp. Dan's taking the plane over to the hangar, I think no room to take it off where it is." Jerry wished he hadn't mentioned Dan. For the moment he was out of her mind. She'd been getting a tremendous kick out of spinning along on a work day in a car that would have drawn a crowd even if it had been parked on Fifth Avenue.

Thought of Dan dispelled some of her thrill. She didn't want him to think that she had refused his offer to bring her to Dr. Belden's simply because Alester could account for more gold . . . but that was precisely why she had refused him!

Jerry felt decidedly uncomfortable. "We'll drive out to Port Jefferson and drop in for tea at the Rolling Stone Inn on our way back," Alester was saying. The prospect of a drive appealed to Jerry—perhaps a sense of motion and constantly changing scenes would help her to think as she wanted to think.

This was more than she'd ever expected out of life—and her enjoyment of it was clouded because a man with dark blue-gray eyes had magnetism in his touch. It seemed cruel to Jerry that the realization of more than her wildest dreams would be so marred. She told herself that she was beginning to dislike Dan Harvey.

There had been days when she worked in the humid, breathless atmosphere of Pane's on which she'd have been tempted to gamble with her soul at stake for a drive like this.

The sweeping, wooded hills, the sudden descents upon little harbor villages, the landscaped grounds of beautiful estates, the luxury and speed of the highpowered motor car—all were equidistantly new to Jerry. They seemed to release a wellspring of emotion, to cause her to feel as if she were fairly soaring over the earth.

And yet her elation was dimmed by a troubled conscience—she felt she had been ungrateful to one who had been tender toward her.

At Port Jefferson they turned back, inland, and drove far beyond the speed limit on their way to the inn. Jerry thought of many cool black steeds charging furiously ahead of them. This man-made thing under the hood held power equal to nearly a hundred horses' strength, Alester had told her. Influenced by Alester's importance and the knowledge that she was near some of the finest estates in the world, Jerry was prepared to find the Rolling Stone Inn a palatial place.

She was both surprised and put at ease when Alester turned the nose of his car in at the approach to what looked like a private home such as they had passed by the dozen. A shingle on the house bore the name, else Jerry would not have been certain that they were at their destination.

Alester parked the car on a pebbled space and helped Jerry out. She saw, on closer inspection, that the place was more impressive than she had thought at first. There was a fountain in a more or less formal garden and as they approached the entrance the door swung open for them and a burly colored man in uniform greeted Alester familiarly.

Jerry surmised that he must be a frequent visitor here. And for an instant she felt that the door man regarded her in what might have been surprise or confusion or alarm. She could not decide which.

They were shown to a pleasantly placed table on a screened porch. Jerry noted that it had a more luxuriant center piece than the other tables. It seemed, in a way she could not define, to be a special table. The waiter hadn't exactly shown the duo to it, but when he led the way to that end of the porch Alester had indicated that they would sit there.

Again it seemed to Jerry that she inspired something like consternation when the waiter glanced at her. She became self-conscious. Her dress, of course. She knew that she wasn't dressed as the girls of Alester's acquaintance dressed.

Oh why had she been too indifferent about camping to care what she wore. All those pretty, dainty things in her suitcase. She must get them tonight when she went to town with Myrtle and George. She wondered what time it was and how long it required to have tea in the Rolling Stone Inn. She hoped they would wait for her if she were late.

There seemed to be no hurry about bringing their refreshments. Indeed, Alester did not bother to give an order. Jerry expected him to ask what she liked but he didn't do that either.

They talked. He's been asking her questions all afternoon. Jerry thought he must be deeply interested in her to want to know so much about her. Where did she come from? What did she do? Where did her family live? Presently, when she was wishing that he would talk of something else, a waiter appeared with a tray and Jerry found a tall glass filled with amber fluid and tinkling ice set before her. It looked like tea. There was also a plate of tiny paper-thin sandwiches. Jerry regarded them greedily. She had eaten little at lunch, but Alester ignored them, not even suggesting that she have one.

She looked around for sugar for her tea. There was none. Alester lifted his glass. She couldn't take tea without sugar. "Will you please have the waiter bring some powdered sugar?" she asked, wishing she didn't sound so timid. The next time . . . when she was better dressed . . . and people didn't look at her so strangely . . .

"Sugar!" Alester repeated. "I don't think you'll need it with this. No one ever has improved upon Slim's mixing."

Jerry wondered what he meant. Perhaps iced tea came to the table already sugared at the Rolling Stone Inn. She told herself that she must be more careful about making stupid breaks. She said nothing more about sugar, but lifted her glass and took a drink from it. Instantly she set it down—a startled expression on her face.

This was not tea. Alester was watching her. "What's the matter," he asked. "Don't you like it?" Jerry stammered. Her throat tingled and her eyes smarted. She had almost choked over the strong beverage and only an heroic swallow had saved her from greater distress.

"It's too strong," she managed to say when she could take away the napkin she had hurriedly pressed to her lips.

"I'm sorry," Alester said. "I should have asked what you'd like." Jerry smiled at him. "If you don't mind," she said hesitantly, "I'd like tea." Then more boldly, "with sugar." "This wasn't at all the way she had planned to act when she got "her chance." Where was her in-souciance, the woman-of-the-world air she meant to assume? She glanced anxiously at Alester. But apparently he was not noticing her slipperiness. His attention was held by someone who was approaching them unseen by Jerry. And his face wore a very odd expression.

Do you enjoy your food?

If you do not enjoy your food it is a true sign that you are losing your appetite. And when your appetite is "gone" it means you haven't the resistance to ward off diseases. Loss of appetite is only a symptom. General weakness pervades the entire body. There is no desire to work or play.

Rich, red, blood builds and sustains
Your physician will tell you that lowered vitality is the result of an insufficient supply of red blood cells—those vitalizing elements in the blood that build and sustain the body.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there can be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

When you get your blood cells back up to normal, that sluggish, let-down feeling, loss of appetite, rheumatism, boils, pimples, and skin troubles disappear. You get hungry again; sleep soundly; solid flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby. You feel

How to Achieve Beauty

LET YOUR PERSONALITY RULE OF YOUR HOME

You have often heard someone say that a house looks cold because it has not been lived in. As a matter of fact, the truth of the matter is that until you, as the prospective mistress of the establishment, have had the opportunity to impress your personality upon the house—it remains just that—a house not, in any case, a home.

I know I need never tell or impress her personality on her four walls. I shall try to tell her how to recognize her personality so that when it is impressed the house will be harmonious and not a discordant jangle of furniture and hangings, rugs and china, and all the other lifeless objects which are mere necessities until beauty glorifies them.

In America there are hundreds and hundreds of types of women—in fact it will be safer for me to admit at the outset that there really is no such thing as a typical American.

When the European discusses a "typical American" he is considering not what you are, or what you look like, but how you act. Flappers were "typical Americans" to the Europeans until a few years ago—and from my intimate knowledge of hundreds of flappers let me assure you quite confidently that "flapperism" was a temporary state of mind and not a permanent state of character.

When I begin to think in terms of individuals I find that types in American attach themselves to communities. As an example, the woman who hails from the far south has a personality quite distinctive, and yet you will find that it bears a close resemblance to the personality of her next door neighbor. The woman of Chicago and the woman of Detroit are alike significant of the middle west. Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont seem to breed a type of women quite unlike any other. California and the far west are also different from all other regions.

Beginning with the northeast we find personalities that fit and flourish in the clean, quiet towns which have been the birthplaces of some of America's greatest men and women.

Rigorous weather and the peculiar power which the majestic sea has over its intimates develops a race of reserved men—great thinkers and powerful leaders. The mothers and the wives of these men have lived under cherished conditions and passed along the folk-bound morals, the steadfast faith and the clean and cool personality which is reflected in the wide streets, the quiet houses and the serene spirits of our hardy northerners.

If, when you stop to consider your own character type and personality, you find an interest and understanding—a kinship with the world—build your home, as our far easterners build theirs, solid and firm—clean and cool, yet alive with a quiet gleam. And everything else, serene and calm. Chintz in gay colors on white ground, natural polished woods and polished floors (white wood wherever the floor plan permits—with every decorating effort turned toward creating an impression of spaciousness, will fit your type. It will set it off just as an exquisite setting, rich, simple and beautiful, will glorify a diamond.

Three Women Who Have Moved Here Feted At Affair

Three women who have moved to Lubbock within the last few weeks were complimented Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Floyd Bowen entertained with a large bridge party in the Country Club halls. These three honorees were Mrs. C. E. Gough and Mrs. D. E. Bibbee, sisters of Mr. Bowen, who have recently moved here from Dallas, and Mrs. E. I. Stephenson who has moved to Lubbock from Ballinger.

A pretentious affair blossomed the club, creating a pretty scene for the arrangement of bridge tables. Hallow'en covers and napkins covered the tables when a delicious collation of chicken salad, potato chips, olives, hot buttered coffee and cake were served.

Mrs. Guy McAfee won high score in the bridge game and high cut fell to Mr. Ed McCreary. Each of the three honorees was presented with a party bag from the festivity.

Guests were Mesdames Roy D. McKinstry, O. H. Aker, Lawrence Bacod, Buster Mobley, Clark Mullen, C. D. K. Bondurant, O. E. Brascher, Byron Brown, S. E. Cone, A. B. Conley, Ernest Conley, D. D. Cross, Marlin Smith, Amos Howard, J. T. Hutchinson, W. A. Jackson, John Harvey Payne, H. L. Johnson, Lloyd E. Davis, Byron C. Dickinson, R. L. Douglas, O. W. Egan, Wylie, Dallas, J. H. Goodman, Homer Grant, H. H. Griffith, Charles Guy, Alvin Hendricks, J. H. Hankins, Joe Hilton, Miss Jeanne Lewis, Elizabeth J. Kemmer, Murray Jones, Hurd Jones, Garl Patton, Owen McWhorter, Frank Jones, Herbert Maxwell, Jack May, Guy L. McAfee, Hub Jones, Ed McCreary, Jo Dick Slaughter, W. O. Schellin, L. E. Miller, Louis F. THE MORNING AVALANCHE Menu for the Day

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, cereal, cream, scrambled eggs, crisp whole wheat toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Scalloped rice and mushrooms, hearts of lettuce with French dressing, graham popovers, scrapple, cranberry milk, tea.

DINNER: Hot-pot of hedge-podge, cabbage and pineapple, salad, chocolate cream cake, milk, coffee.

GRAPE CONSERVE Five pounds Concord grapes, 5 pounds sugar, 1 pound seedless raisins, 2 oranges, 1 cup hot water. Hickory nuts, pecans or English walnuts are the best nuts to use. Almonds can be used but they must be blanched and shredded.

Wash grapes and pick from stems. Pulp and cook pulp and skins separately. Rub pulp through colander to remove seeds. Put the skins, stirred pulp, graded and dried raisins of oranges and raisins into preserving bottle. Bring to the boiling point and slowly sift in sugar. Cook twenty minutes and add nuts. Cook ten minutes longer and put into sterilized glasses. Cover with paraffine when cold.

Plain grape marmalade is very good and is made the same way, omitting the raisins, oranges and nuts.

Experiments and Impulses A mischievous boy is not a bad boy. Mischievous is largely experimental. And what boy is not that? A boy with a ball wonders if he can bat it across a certain lot. He doesn't see the plate glass window directly opposite that is, he doesn't see it with his mind. As far as thoughts go the window isn't there at all. Crash! The window is gone.

With experiment is mixed impulse. A boy sees some wet cement. Some driving force he cannot explain prompts him to set his foot on his soft surface. He is instantaneously aware that he doesn't see it and puts on bravado and says he did it on purpose.

He is as surprised at himself as others are at him. But with this difference. They are indignant. He is in varying degrees, ashamed. He will be admit it? Not he. He laughs and puts on bravado and says he did it on purpose.

Emotions Sway Them Boys are more impulsive as a rule than girls. But acting first and thinking after is characteristic, more or less, of all children.

Suppose they do things as a result of emotions such as anger, jealousy, hatred, or contempt. Does that brand them as "bad"? Are you yourselves never swayed by such emotions?

Because you take out your anger in beating your brother, or instead of punishing him in the eye like Johnny does, do you think you are "bad"?

Children are elemental. They are motivated not by deep-dyed villainous intent. But by pure animal impulse, usually.

Be careful of that word "bad."

Mrs. Whatley Is Buried Thursday

Large Crowd of School and College Teachers and Students Attend; Dean Gordon in Charge.

College and public school teachers and pupils made up a part of a large gathering which attended funeral and burial services yesterday afternoon for Mrs. W. A. Whatley, whose death came suddenly on Tuesday afternoon.

Dean J. M. Gordon, of Technological college, made a short talk at the First Presbyterian church where the funeral was conducted before the deceased was taken to the Lubbock cemetery for interment under the direction of Rix Morticians.

Was Raised in Lubbock The deceased, who was only a little more than 20 years of age, was the wife of a professor of Spanish at the Technological college, W. A. Whatley. The couple was married last spring and Mrs. Whatley had continued her studies in the school until her death. She was the daughter of Mrs. Eppie Sowder, a member of the public school faculty, and R. A. Sowder of this city and had been living in Lubbock during most of her life.

Funeral services for the funeral were held at the college faculty. B. T. Cummings, A. B. Strahl, W. C. Cole, T. J. Beck, R. S. Underwood and R. W. Fowler. A quartet from the college sang at the church service.

Mrs. Whatley died suddenly Tuesday afternoon following an emergency operation for acute appendicitis on the night before.

Monroe Kiwanis Meet Postponed

The meeting which was to have been held at the Kiwanis community school Thursday night was postponed because of inclement weather and bad roads, according to Roy Mowery, chairman of the Kiwanis club's agricultural committee, which organization was to have conducted the gathering.

At the Kiwanis luncheon Thursday noon at the Lubbock hotel, a quartet, composed of Hunter W. Richardson, C. E. Albritton, Eldridge Eagan and C. J. Atkinson, sang several numbers. New members received into the club were Ira Deak, W. H. Rodgers and Charles J. Norton.

Next week's Kiwanis meeting will be in charge of M. H. Duncan, W. T. Stangel and athletic officials of Tech college and the Lubbock high school.

NEW LICENSES ISSUED

Besides the issuance of four licenses to new cars, by the county tax collector Thursday, new Texas licenses were issued to cars whose owners had moved to this state from Maryland, New Mexico, Kansas and Colorado, one from each state. The new car licenses were as listed below:

Albert Isaac, Lubbock. Ford coupe, W. E. Brady, Lubbock. Buick coach, E. H. Pugh, Lubbock. Dodge sedan, J. C. Hornsby, Lubbock. Nash coupe.

OFFERS $1,000 REWARD

Lad Is Willed That Much If He Taboos Tobacco HOUSTON, Nov. 1. (AP)—One thousand dollars as a reward for the absence from tobacco until he was 21 years old was willed by Mrs. Taylor Mumhall by his mother, Mrs. Louise Mumhall, who died here recently.

The Woman's Day

By Albene Sumner

With the urging of their civic duties upon women at every hand, it is rather surprising to run into some words of exhortation to women to stay out of public life. Such admonition comes from Bishop James E. Freeman of Washington, addressing the Daughters of the King, a woman's organization of the Episcopal church. The bishop says: "There are, indeed, many admirable women in public life. But the essential duty of the sex lies in the preservation of the standards of the home." He proceeded to warn the women against too much exercise of their civic and political privileges.

DISCOURAGING! "Use of this privilege can only result in a weakening of the moral fibre of the nation," he explained. "It is the woman's job to preserve a religious atmosphere in her own home."

All of which must be very rewarding to women who thought they were doing this latter work and also, as citizens and voters, working for better schools, better health centers, better playgrounds, better towns and cities, and all the things that spell the woman's influence outside the home.

"WHISPERINGS" "Whispering campaigns" seems bound to be a new phrase to rank with the obsolete "normalcy" of a previous administration. Perry W. Hale, tax collector of Portland, Maine, sued someone for slander the other day, alleging that the someone in a whispering campaign said that Hale lost his eyesight through too much liquor drinking.

IN DIVORCE SUIT And here's Richard W. Gilliam of Chicago with a $50,000 alienation suit against his father-in-law and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew A. Fisher, saying that Bill "whispering campaign" of slander aimed primarily at his religion alienated his wife's affections. The election will be dry and dead as a dried herring before we hear the last of "whispering campaigns."

MAY LOCATE SITE

Third Attack Air Group May be Moved HOUSTON, Nov. 1. (AP)—F. Truber Davidson, assistant secretary of war will come to Houston between November 15 and December 1 to survey a thousand acres of land near here offered as a site for the relocation of the third attack group of the United States army air force now stationed at Galveston, it has been announced.

NEW MANAGER APPOINTED BROWNWOOD, Nov. 1. (AP)—John H. McKee has been appointed district manager here for the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, succeeding Fred W. Greuber, who was president and general manager of the West Texas Telephone company at the time of its sale recently to the Southwest company. Twenty exchanges, including Brownwood, are in this district.

New Point of Law Brought Up Here

A point of law never brought up in any court, so far as is known, came up in the ninety-ninth district court Thursday before Judge Clark M. Mullican, when attorneys for an indemnity insurance company entered a plea in abatement in the case of two Lubbock men.

The case involves a damage suit for $20,000 and the insurance company has been joined in the suit as a party defendant. The case in question is one for a jury trial and does not come up until the eighth week of this term of court. Judge Mullican, after hearing arguments of attorneys for both the plaintiff and defendant, still makes a ruling on the plea in abatement within the next few days, it is believed.

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 1. (AP)—Stricken with heart attack, Richard Albert Howard, 97, one of the three remaining campaigners of the siege of Vera Cruz in 1918, died at his home near here today. He enlisted in the U. S. artillery in 1918 and joined his unit at Vera Cruz. After being mustered out of service the same year, Howard went to Sterling City, Texas, and built the first home in the West Texas town.

Two remaining survivors of the siege are William Fitzhugh, 100, Paris, Mo., and Owen Thomas Edgar, 97, Washington, D. C. On the Firing Line at the Nation's Capital

BY CHARLES F. STEWART

ARLINGTON, Nov. 1.—The trouble with international tribunals is that their members find it so hard to agree among themselves.

It has settled a large volume of Canadian-American differences of opinion—some of them pretty bitter—in that time.

Busy as it has been, it is safe to say that mighty few, either of American or Canadian, ever heard of the International Joint commission.

Some long-forgotten Canadian suggested the joint commission at a meeting in Denver, to consider international water rights, back in 1894.

Secretary of State Knox and James Bryce, the British ambassador in Washington, framed up a treaty. It was ratified after considerable delay, the commission was set up, and here it is, doing business to this day.

A woman, once powerful as the leader of a religious body, died the other day. She had said that she was immortal, would never die.

Nothing is settled unless it is settled right, and we hope this presidential election campaign will be settled on November 6th.

If the average golfer would only strive as hard for business success and home happiness. When?

We think that it is fine that there is no such thing as a permanent wave, for these waves of indignation that spring up in the nations on presidential election years might be of the permanent variety, and if they were. Oh, boy.

We think there are too many people in America who are politically dry and personally wet for the general good of the prohibition cause.

We think when a fellow is willing to do his very best he hardly ever has very strong competition.

We think if the scientists are right we are going to get ahead of the ordinary world in a very short time.

We think one of the big road problems of the day is to know how to pass the car ahead of you, or rather to know just which side of the road the car ahead is trying to drive on.

We think when son and daughter go away to college pa and ma get to use the family car, provided it does not take all of the money pa has to pay the college expense, and leave none for gasoline to operate the car with.

We think that Lubbock county will get along better after the election, for what we need is more pork, poultry, milk, butter and biscuits than she does politics.

We think some times possibly the barber is not to blame for dropping a scalding towel on your face when he shaves you. Some times it is too hot for him to hold.

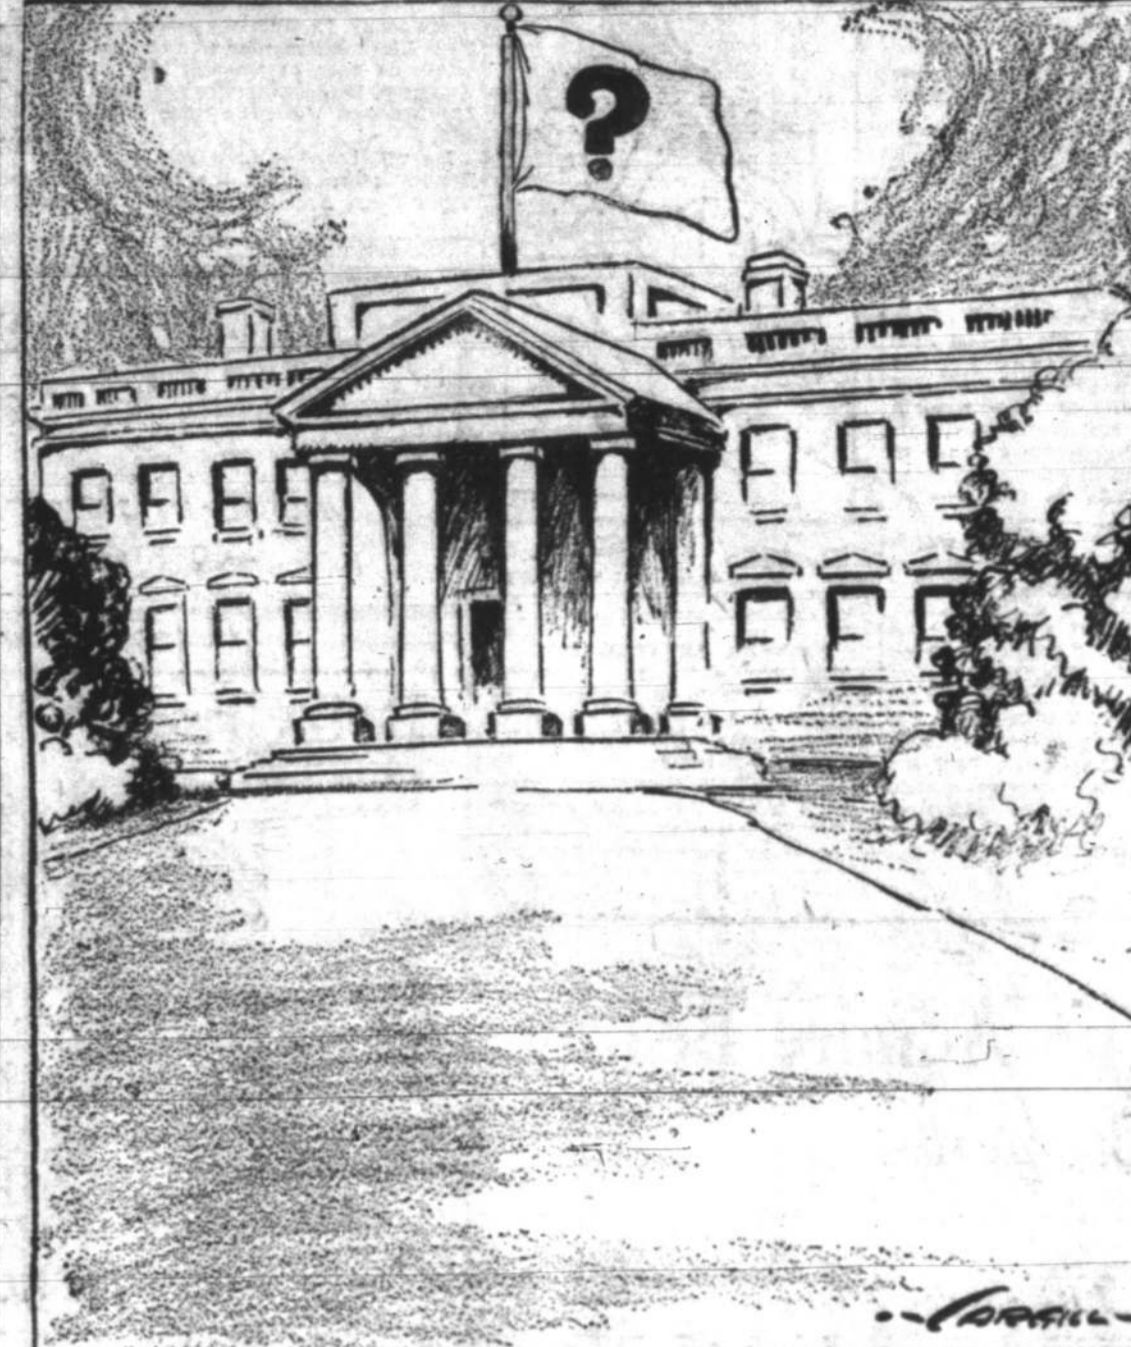

We presume that some of the stumblers who have been making the schedules in behalf of their favorite candidate will still be speechless after the campaign. But they will at least be put out of their misery.

We think all this campaigning by the two-bit politicians over the state on either side is just a humorist program going on between acts, and does not have any more to do with the big act than the ordinary front of the curtain comedy stunt.

We think some of us say some awful hard things about our relatives. We forget sometimes that our own blood and kin are on the other side of the political fence, and we have called them some awful names, and compared them with some awful looking beasts to have to claim kin to them a little later.

We think that gambling does not necessarily imply dishonesty, but it is pretty certain to result in the loss of the ordinary man's money.

Living Forever. A woman, once powerful as the leader of a religious body, died the other day. She had said that she was immortal, would never die.

There is no exception to the rule of the earth. Protest as much as we will, make all the extravagant claims we care to, the house of the spirit wears out and falls away.

There is only one way to carry on through the ages, and that is to put something of ourselves into great causes and great institutions of service. These go on.

SOME CANNED FOODS ARE RICH IN VITAMINS

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBURN

Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Canned foods form an increasingly large proportion of the American diet. Many a housewife depends on the can opener more than on a knowledge of cooking for preparing the family meals.

As a result scientific investigators are giving more and more attention to the quality of canned foods as compared with the fresh foods, particularly as relates to the fundamental constituents of the diet, including the vitamins, the mineral salts, the proteins, the carbohydrates and the fats.

Experts in diet have urged a greater consumption of vegetables and fruits largely because of their vitamin content, mineral salts and alkaline effect on the body.

It was formerly thought that the vitamins were destroyed by the cooking incidental to canning. Later it was found that it is the oxidation that destroys the vitamins rather than the cooking.

Modern canning processes avoid oxidation, so that some commercial products are richer in vitamins than home cooked foods.

In a recent consideration of the subject, Dr. E. F. Kohman notes that the raw fruits and vegetables have been found to lose vitamins on storage.

Peas held in the pods for six days in a cool place lose some of their vitamin content. Apples held in cold storage from October to April lose half their vitamin C content, whereas apples canned in October from the same lot still had their original vitamin content eight months later.

Canned tomatoes and canned spinach have been tested three years after canning, and the evidence did not indicate any appreciable loss of vitamins. Indeed, the canned tomatoes after three years were as rich in vitamins as raw tomatoes. Canned strawberries were also found to equal raw strawberries in vitamin content.

Vitamin Content. Among some of the important facts now made available by Echanan are that canned tomatoes are richer in vitamins A and B than orange juice and only smaller in vitamin C.

Spinach is among the richest sources of vitamin A, with the exception of cod liver oil, and its vitamin A content is not lowered by canning.

Canned cabbage, peas, spinach, apples and peaches have been shown to be several times richer in vitamin C than the same products purchased fresh in the market and home cooked without consideration and possibilities of oxidation.

Title for Site Of New Building Must Be Approved

County Jail Must Be Moved Before 1932; May Be Moved Before That Date, Officials Say

The next step necessary for Lubbock to secure a new federal building, to house the postoffice and governmental offices, will be getting a title to the site selected by the United States treasury department, on the southeast corner of the county courthouse square, which was announced Wednesday.

Upon completion of this title and transfer of it to the government by the county of Lubbock, bids are to be received and a contract let for construction of the building. It will require two and a half years' time before it is possible for the building to be completed, probably, according to H. G. Richey, federal engineer, who was here several weeks ago on an inspection trip of the site. Perfection of title will require from three to six months, possibly, six months being thought necessary to have the plans for the structure drawn up, several other months for advertising for bids and a year and a half on top of all this before construction can be completed.

Jail Must Be Moved. Lubbock county will have to remove the present jail building before the government accepts the federal building, but construction can be started before the jail is removed. A rule of the government is that no other building can be within 40 feet of any federal building. Specifications place the new structure within about eight feet of the present jail.

Final date for moving the jail building has been set by the Lubbock county commissioners' court as 1932, although it may be removed at any time necessary before that date. Charles Nordyke, county judge, and John L. Vaughan, postmaster, state

SOUSA TO BE JUDGE

The Lubbock high school band and other bands of the neighboring towns are to participate in a contest November 15 and the judge is to be none other than Lieutenant Commander John Phillip Sousa, who appears here with his band for two concerts on that day.

The silver loving cup, award for the band judged the best, is in Mr. Provence's office.

CLUBS AVAILABLE FOR

Thirty organizations on the campus are available for women members according to statements brought out yesterday at the orientation hour, conducted in the auditorium of the Engineering building for all Freshman girls. Short talks were made by Miss Mary Hope Westbrook, president of the Y. W. C. A., Miss Sylvia Wilson, president of the Forum, and Miss Flora Goforth, president of the Home Economics club.

These organizations are of different interests and include in their scope almost every thing that one could be interested in. However, if a girl is unable to find herself in any of the extra-curricula activities she is invited to make her desire of a club known and efforts will be made to please her.

EXTENSION CLASSES ADDED

Three new extension classes have been started within the last week at neighboring towns.

One of the classes, educational psychology, meets in Plainview, on Tuesday evenings for two and one half hours and is taught by Dr. A. W. Evans. There are eighteen members in the class.

Prof. W. F. Giesent has a class in the history of education in Texas with a membership of sixteen and meets with them each Thursday evening at Littlefield.

The third class is in advanced American history and is taught by Gus L. Ford, on Tuesday evenings at Roswellville, with thirteen members.

GROVELAND, Fla., Nov. 1 (AP)—The vault of the Bank of Groveland, which was closed for 72 hours by a time lock set by J. M. Hightower, missing cashier, contained no money when the lock opened today. It was announced by George C. White, state bank examiner. Officials previously had said it had held approximately $20,000. Hightower, who disappeared

Saturday, is sought on a warrant charging larceny of $5,000 of the bank's funds. White said, however, he could not estimate the total alleged shortage. The bank was capitalized at $15,000.

Rheumatic Pains Yield To Capudine

Those who suffer from rheumatism will find that Capudine will greatly assist in the treatment by relieving the pain and reducing the fever and inflammation. Rheumatism is a serious disease and should have the attention of a good physician, but the patient should be made comfortable as suffering retards recovery. For this purpose nothing is safer or surer than Capudine. Being liquid, it acts almost instantly—much quicker than tablets and powders. Capudine does not upset the stomach and contains no habit-forming drugs, yet it is more effective in relieving pain and high nerve strain. At all drug stores—30c and 60c sizes. (adv.)

APPROVED

The hundreds of Lubbock housewives who have attended the Sixth Annual Avalanche-Journal Cooking School have all expressed themselves as being extremely happy over the benefits they have obtained. And, it has been just as they have said—A SUCCESS.

The hundreds of dishes that Mrs. Dougan has prepared have been culinary innovations to this section of the State. These edibles have been judged by the most critical and efficient experts in food circles—housewives who make cooking a business. All declare a complete satisfaction. They marvel at the finished product.

Mrs. Dougan gives much credit of her success as a Culinary Artist to the stove she uses. "A cook is as good as the stove she uses" says the present conductor of the Avalanche-Journal School. Continuing "I'm better satisfied with the results of a Detroit Jewel than any stove that I've ever demonstrated"

Senate Chamber Is Object of Dispute

Anti-Smith Democrats And Jeffersonian Followers Debate Over Use Of State Hall For Talks.

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Nov. 1.—The senate chamber in the state capitol was the object of a controversy today between the anti-Smith Democrats and those of the Jeffersonian faith who are remaining loyal to the party's presidential candidate.

Charles E. Baughmann, manager of the anti-Smith Democrats, Austin regional district, applied to R. B. Walthall, chairman of the board of control, for use of the chamber on Saturday night for an anti-Smith Democratic rally. Upon direction of Lieut. Gov. Barry Miller, the board yesterday granted permission for the hall's use for an address by Cullen P. Thomas Friday night when the Democratic nominee's cause will be pleaded, after it had refused several weeks ago to give Rev. John Roach Straton, of New York, anti-Smith speaker, use of it.

Walthall passed back to Lieutenant Governor Miller, who, he said, as presiding officer of the senate, could authorize its use and revoke the rule of the board of control, invoked when Straton wanted to speak there, that legislative halls should not be used for political meetings.

Walthall added, however, that under no conditions would the board allow use of the senate chamber if the weather should be good enough for open air meetings. He added that the chamber is not to be used for Thomas' speech tomorrow night if the weather is good.

Lawson-Johnson, 28, was divorced a year ago by the former Barbara Guggenheim, heiress to the huge Guggenheim copper fortune.

Didn't Want Out Atheist Ired at Fine Payment

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 1. (P)—Indignant because a person whose identity was not disclosed had paid the remainder of his fine, Charles Smith, hunger-striking New York atheist leader, today was prepared to resist release from the hospital "unless ejected."

Smith, convicted in police court and fined $25 for displaying alleged illegal literature, refused to pay his fine and shortly after confinement in the city jail began a hunger strike. He was removed to a hospital because of his weakened condition.

The fine was paid yesterday, according to Abner McChee, circuit judge, and eliminated the necessity for a habeas corpus hearing on a petition filed in Smith's behalf.

Physicians announced that Smith would be released today if his temperature is normal.

WHAT do you want from your Motor Fuel?

- a Quick Start ?
- Snappy Acceleration ?
- Power ?
- Mileage ?
- Smooth Running ?

Split-second starting is the rule with Conoco Ethyl users. This quality of instant ignition is a great saver of batteries—and minimizes crankcase dilution caused by fuels which require the excessive use of the choke.

Conoco Ethyl picks up rapidly—for the reason that its even rate of combustion assures a constant push against the pistons. A most important consideration for traffic driving.

Ethyl gasoline made the new powerful high-compression motors possible. Before Ethyl Gasoline was developed, motor-car manufacturers could not safely increase the compression ratios beyond a certain point.

In the lower-compression motors, carbon deposits increase the compression by decreasing the size of the combustion chamber. Ordinary gasoline cannot withstand this increased pressure. It explodes prematurely with a resulting loss of power. Conoco Ethyl, on the contrary, performs perfectly under this high-compression condition with a resulting increase in power.

By preventing knocking and reducing gear shifting, Conoco Ethyl is propelling the smoothest running motors on the streets today.

Lubbock Business Is Reported Good

According to the map of Texas business published in the November number of the Texas Commercial News, business is good in Lubbock.

The "good" areas of Texas, as shown by this map which is compiled from large numbers of business reports received from all sections of the state, are given as in the extreme northeastern area of the state, and extending to Dallas, a large area in West Texas, another in the Rio Grande valley, and a fourth as a narrow strip, including Beaumont, Houston and Galveston.

Papers Have Big Issues Thursday

All week-day production records were broken Thursday by the Avalanche-Journal papers, so far as recorded in history of South Plains newspapers, when The Morning Avalanche, with 20 pages; the Daily Journal, with 20 pages; and the South Plains Farmer, weekly agricultural paper, with 12 pages, made a grand total of 52 pages published in one day.

With the 40 pages of the Avalanche and the Journal, all records of daily production were broken, while the 12 pages of the South Plains Farmer raised the figure to that high score. Only with the recently installed equipment, purchased at the cost of many thousands of dollars, coupled with Avalanche-Journal papers capacity of serving this growing field and the volume of advertising carried by progressive Lubbock merchants who choose these papers to carry their messages to the people, could this record have been made.

Lubbock Exhibit Closed Tomorrow

Lubbock people who want to have a look at the exhibit shown at the State Fair this year by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce will have to see it today or tomorrow. The exhibit has been on display in a show window at the Rix Furniture company for several days. It is set up exactly as it was at the fair at Dallas, having the revolving wheel, loaded with products, that are divided off by eight railroad and highway spokes. The miniature model of the Texas Technological college, the map showing Texas and the South Plains section, the signs and the agricultural products are all with the exhibit.

The exhibit will be removed from the window Saturday evening, officials of the Rix Furniture company and of the Chamber of Commerce believing that everyone has had an opportunity to see the display in the time that it has been on exhibition.

Has New Way Dr. Hodges Kills Duck with Car

A new and very unique way of killing a duck was accidentally discovered by Dr. T. B. Hodges, local veterinarian, Thursday night.

Dr. Hodges states that he was coming into Lubbock from a call he had made southwest of town, at about 7:30 o'clock when, within about seven miles of the city he noticed a wild duck in the road immediately ahead of his car. The lights blinded the duck, evidently, as it stood still in the road without making any effort to run or to fly. The doctor's automobile ran into the choice fowl, the front axle striking it in the head and killing it instantly.

It was a splendid specimen of mallard, good and fat.

and what Mrs. Johnston found out about the taste of cooking fats!

When I first saw the Crisco advertisement which said, "Taste your Cooking Fat," wrote Mrs. W. L. Johnston, "I, being a woman and curious, opened the Crisco can and took a very little upon a spoon. I received such a surprise—and such a pleasant one! No wonder my biscuits, pies and cakes are so much better since I have been using this pleasant, sweet-tasting shortening, Crisco."

Whole Wheat Biscuits (Rolled) With or without raisins Use one cup whole wheat flour in place of 1 cup bread flour. Add 1/2 cup Sultana Raisins before adding milk.

Lemon or Orange Tea Biscuits (Dropped or Rolled) Stir in 1 teaspoon grated rind before adding milk.

Maple Nut Biscuits (Rolled) Roll dough 1/4 inch thick, spread with 1/2 cup shaved maple sugar mixed with 3 tablespoons Crisco. Roll and cut as for chocolate biscuits. Lay in pan, sprinkle maple sugar over each and bake with 1/4 walnut in center.

Peanut Biscuits (Rolled) Sift 1 tablespoon sugar with dry ingredients. Beat two eggs, add enough milk to make 1/2 cup. Stir in 1/4 cup chopped peanuts before adding milk.

Cheese Rolls (Rolled) Delicious for soup and salads Roll dough 1/4 inch thick. Sprinkle with about 1/2 cup (grated) cheese. Roll as you would jelly roll. Cut slices 1/4 inch thick, lay in Criscoed pan cut side down.

Delicious Raisin Biscuits (Rolled) Sift 1/2 cup sugar with dry ingredients. Beat one egg, add enough more milk to make 1/2 cup. Stir in 1/4 cup chopped raisins before adding milk.

Date Biscuits (Rolled) Follow recipe for Peanut Biscuits omitting nuts. Roll thin, cut in rounds, put stoned date in center, wet edges, fold over, press together.

Cheese Biscuits (Dropped or Rolled) Stir in 1/4 cup grated cheese before adding milk.

Master Recipe for both "Drop" and "Rolled" Biscuits 2 cups bread flour, 1/2 cup milk or water, 4 teaspoons baking powder (for "drop" biscuits) or 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup milk or water (for "rolled" biscuits), 4 tablespoons Crisco.

Sift dry ingredients together 5 times. Work Crisco in with fork. Add liquid gradually.

FOR "DROP" (Emergency) BISCUITS: drop by spoonfuls on Criscoed baking pan. Brush top of biscuits with melted Crisco or milk. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 10 to 15 minutes.

FOR ROLLED BISCUITS: form dough into shape, roll 1/4 inch thick, cut. For round-shaped biscuits, cut squares, then diagonally in half. Brush top of biscuits with melted Crisco or milk. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Makes about 12 biscuits.

To use buttermilk or sour milk beat in 1/2 teaspoon soda for each cup of milk. (If milk is very thick, use a little more milk.) Use same amount of baking powder and follow method for either "drop" or "rolled" biscuits.

Mystery Still Shrouds Burning Of Illinois Girl; Declares She Had A Pact With Some Unknown Individual

Other Party Did Not Go Through With Agreement She Says; Police Fail To Believe Story

(By Associated Press) LAKE BLUFF, Ill., Nov. 1.—Miss Elfrida Grace Knaak, whose mysterious burning is under investigation, had a pact with someone, whose name she did not disclose, she said tonight when talking to her brother, Alvin, as she lay in a hospital bed near death.

"We had a pact," she said, "but the other one did not go through with it. I went through with it alone." Later she added that she didn't think the other girl would put it over on me.

Although authorities investigating the case, particularly the physicians, are beginning to accept the theory that Miss Knaak burned herself, Alvin and other relatives insist she was the victim of an assault.

Police Refuse Story. The police refused to accept the repeated statements of the dying girl that she committed self-immolation to prove her spiritual faith. Miss Knaak was found Tuesday morning in the basement of the Lake Bluff village hall with arms and legs burned to the bone.

A search was started today for Frank P. Mandy, Lake Bluff teacher, as a result of Miss Knaak's repeated mumbling that "Frank turned me down." Mandy shared a studio with Charles Hitchcock, Lake Bluff policeman, who taught elocution in his spare time, and the cock resulted in a further investigation of his possible connection with the case.

Decided on Act. Miss Knaak informed that she probably cannot live, had said she went to the village hall Monday night, found it deserted and after spending the night there, decided on self-immolation to prove her spiritual faith and on Tuesday morning removed and burned her clothes and then thrust her legs and arms one after the other into the live coals of the village hall furnace until they were burned to the bone.

The attractive girl book agent, Sunday school teacher and former university co-ed and student of psychology manifested real concern today when Hitchcock's name was mentioned. Hitchcock formerly instructed her in elocution and public speaking and she was believed to have gone to the village hall to see him. Hitchcock, however, was at home with his wife and four children suffering from a broken leg.

No One Understands. Today an intimation by Mr. Smith that Hitchcock might be taken into custody met with excited protests from the girl who declared such a move would be "rank injustice" and that no one could understand because they did not understand the spiritual.

Mr. Smith ordered an x-ray examination made of Hitchcock's injured leg to determine whether it would have been possible for him to venture forth on it.

Cooking School (Continued from Page 1) tions were included in yesterday's lesson, which followed a businesslike demonstration of bread making on Wednesday afternoon.

Demonstrates Jelly Filling. After a five-egg white cake and a whipped cream cake had been made yesterday, the home economist made a lemon jelly which she made in various ways as a cake filling. Using miscellaneous kinds of fruits and nuts, such as collect in a housewife's ice box, she made of this jelly a toothsome and nutritious filling for cakes. A seven-minute marshmallow frosting was made and large and small cakes were decorated as they might be for special occasions.

Syrup pies were made and served to those attending the school. Because some women who attended yesterday missed the recipe for the lemon jelly, Mrs. Dougan has given this recipe to the Avalanche-Journal for publication. Ingredients

Institute

On many other occasions, Lamesa has responded well, and tonight the business men there are looking to Lubbock to repay these calls.

J. D. Howell, president of the Lubbock Retail Merchants' association, will meet with the committee that is composed of J. C. Anderson, H. D. Erwin, Jack Parsons, Olin J. Green, George Moore, J. O. Harris, A. W. McKee and Fred H. Rice.

Vardeman Talks. Ben E. Vardeman, of Chicago, nationally known lecturer, editor and business counselor, will address the gathering tonight on the subject of "Increasing Business by the Use of Suggestions." He will conclude a week's institute tonight, having made two addresses daily to a full house of Lamesa citizens and visitors.

Freeze (Continued from Page 1) moneter at Abilene and Wichita Falls was slightly above 40. Cooler weather was indicated for the rest of the state, however, most points reporting falling temperatures.

"Tees in the highland region reported a temperature of 36 and no rain. Fort Worth and Dallas had temperatures of 37, and 36 respectively. Forecasting 34, Waco 35, San Antonio 32, Brownsville 38, and Galveston 34.

Light Rain Reported. Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, San Antonio, and Corpus Christi reported light rains. Slightly more than half an inch of water fell at Dallas early in the day and later about the same amount fell at Houston and Dallas.

Zeppelin

The youth's act has captivated the German imagination and from the ends of the dirigible's sighting there were cries for his appearance. The crowd manifestly was disappointed when it was learned he had been spotted out the back door for a conference with the American consul, John E. Kehl.

When he emerged from that, cheering crowds raised him to their shoulders and thereafter wherever he went he was the center of an admiring throng. Young Terhune was committal as to his intentions, and said he must look through his mail first before he could say what he intended doing.

When the Graf Zeppelin was brought to its hangar at 7:09 o'clock this morning (12:08 a. m. central standard time), it had completed a round trip across the Atlantic of more than 10,000 miles, with several record-breaking features.

Then, too, there are the two big features of the trip, that the Graf Zeppelin is the largest ship ever to cruise the air, and that it represents the first commercial transatlantic air service.

At a banquet tonight, in honor of the crew of the Graf Zeppelin by the Zeppelin corporation, Dr. Eckener declared: "We have not conquered the ocean yet."

"All our energy and ability must be concentrated now on elaborating plans of the present Zeppelin to provide a more dependable, powerful dirigible to insure really reliable transatlantic air service," he said.
