More Troops Asked By South Viet Nam

By EDWIN Q. WHITE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —South Viet Nam's military government asked U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara today to increase American forces in the country.

Assistant Defense Secretary Arthur Sylvester said the Saigon government's top leaders made a detailed request in a session with McNamara that lasted more than two hours.

Sylvester said Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and Defense Minister Nguyen Huu Co did not ask for a specific number of troops but put their estimates of Americans needed in terms of "force levels."

McNamara and his fact-finding party made no comment of commitment on the request, Sylvester said.

A U.S. spokesman announced earlier that American intelligence officials had confirmed the presence in South Viet Nam of an entire regiment of the North Vietnamese army's 325th division, the "probable" presence of another regiment and the "possible" presence of still another.

Meanwhile, U. S. military spokesmen announced that 152 Viet Cong were killed in a bloody angagement fought Thursday about 15 miles south of Da Nang. The spokesmen said the figure was confirmed.

Vietnamese army losses were "heavy," the spokesmen said.

U.S. aircraft were credited with a major part in breaking up the Viet Cong forces and preventing government casualties from being even higher.

Hundreds of U.S. and Vietnamese soldiers guarded Saigon's airport as McNamara arrived with Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador-designate, and the U.S. Joint Staff Chief, Gen. Earl E. Wheeler. Lodge is succeeding Maxwell D. Taylor in Saigon.

As many as 20 persons reportedly were detained. On McNamara's last visit to Saigon, on May 10, 1964, a Viet Cong terrorist planted a big bomb under a bridge on the road from the airport to town. The terrorist was caught and later executed. The bomb was recovered and McNamara took another route into the city.

The secretary said he would spend four or five days reviewing field operations and determining, in talks with Vietnamese and American officials, whether additional U.S. combat units are needed in Viet Nam.

An appraisal of the use of American fighting men was one of his "prime missions," McNamara said.

He said he also would discuss the possibility of more U.S. logistic support for the war against the Viet Cong.

McNamara denied that the Joint Chiefs of Staff had unanimously recommended an increase in American combat troops. He did not mention other U.S forces. But he reiterated the American commitment to provide whatever is needed to defeat the Communists and said, "We propose to fulfill that commitment."

In the ground war, two Viet Cong attacks were made on Vietnamese army units 12 and 20 miles west of Saigon Thursday night and early today, U.S. military spokesmen reported. They said casualties in both actions were light; no U.S. involvement was reported.

A U.S. Navy A4 Skyhawk had mechanical trouble and crashed in the South China Sea today, but the pilot was rescued unharmed by a destroyer, a U.S. spokesman said.

The plane was returning to the carrier Coral Sea after bombing with another Skyhawk about 135 miles south of Hanoi, the spokesman said. He added that the other plane returned safely.

Peking's New China News Agency claimed that one American F105 jet was shot down Thursday near Viet Tri, in North Viet Nam's Phu Tho Province. The fate of the pilot was not mentioned.

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Man's first closeup picture of Mars shows a remarkably earth-like desert area — but gives no hint of an answer to whether the mysterious planet could harbor life.

The poorly defined picture snapped as Mariner 4 flew within 10,500 miles of Mars Wednesday was released Thursday night while the U.S. spacecraft was relaying its second picture across 134 million miles of space.

Almost half the picture showed only the dark void of space, with but a small portion of the edge of Mars visible in the streaked and smudged frame.

The portion of the planet outlined in the picture, snapped at an extreme angle at the start of a north to south run, is apparently a bright desert with an even brighter area in the center.

Bordering the desert-like area are smudges which could be low-lying hills, darker colored soil or possibly even vegetation.

Scientists said the picture, streaked with lines representing improper radio signals, was not clear enough to warrant speculation about the cause of differences in shadings.

To the unscientific eye, however, it could have been a photograph taken from a very high altitude of one of earth's deserts bordering a jungle region.

Despite lack of detail, scientists at Jet Propulsion Laboratory were elated, calling the unprecedented electronic image a tremendous technical achievement.

"I did not expect this or any of the other 20 pictures we may get from Mariner 4 to give a final answer to the controversy over whether there may be some form of life on Mars," said Dr. Robert B. Leighton, chief of the team of scientists who will study the photographs over the next several weeks.

"However, I believe we have seen a few markings, smaller details than anyone else has ever seen," he told a news conference.

He said the picture showed markings as small as three miles across, indicating it was some 50 times sharper than those made by telescopes.

The success of the $200 million Mariner Mars exploration program gave the United States a prestigious first in space. A Soviet attempt to photograph Mars failed last April when radio signals stopped coming back from Zond 2, launched two days after Mariner 4 went aloft Nov. 28.

Leighton predicted the best of Mariner 4's pictures being radioed to earth slowly over a 10-day period could show surface markings as small as one and one-half miles in length or diameter. If there are canals and great cities on Mars as some scientists have speculated the later pictures might detect them, but the lack of sharpness in Thursday night's photograph makes this doubtful.

The first photograph showed light wisps just above Mars' horizon which resembled clouds, but Leighton said he thought these were due to false signals in the transmission.

"There is no other evidence that Mars has the sort of atmosphere in which clouds could form," he said.

Clouds could indicate that Mars has enough air to support life but telescopic studies have shown no trace of oxygen.

Further information about Mars' atmosphere was expected today, when scientists were to announce the result of an experiment to measure its depths and density. Any radio fading just before the spacecraft shot behind Mars would indicate an atmosphere dense enough to weaken the signals.

Earlier Thursday scientists reported instruments on Mariner 4 had failed to detect a magnetic field around Mars or a concentration of solar radiation trapped by that field.

This was good news for men designing future Mars landing craft — they probably won't have to include heavy shielding against radiation.

Nation Pays Tribute To Stevenson

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The mighty of the nation paid the capital's final tribute today to Adlai E. Stevenson, America's eloquent voice in world councils and champion of the cause of man.

President Johnson led the distinguished company of dignitaries assembled in sorrow at the National Cathedral (Episcopal) in a memorial service for the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Citizens by thousands already had paid their respects, filing in silent procession throughout the night past the statesman's flag-draped casket in a little chapel of the great cathedral.

The file—old and young, men and women—was still moving through the Bethlehem Chapel when the time came for a military honor detail to carry the casket up one flight to "The Great Crossing" of the cathedral for the ceremony.

The spot is the intersection of the cross formed by the architectural layout of the cathedral.

And it was there that some 2,000 invited notables, led by Johnson and his wife, assembled for the rites and a eulogy by an old friend of Stevenson, appeals court Judge Carl McGowan.

Dr. Richard Graebel, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Springfield, Ill., where Stevenson formerly served as governor, flew in to preside at the ceremony.

McGowan's eulogy centered more on the theme of Stevenson as the friend of man than as the statesman and political figure.

The world lost a friend, he said, when Stevenson died of a heart attack Wednesday in London.

But he said Stevenson "died as he would have wished, engaged in his country's business and mankind's."

The Stevenson family had chosen McGowan to deliver the tribute. The two men had been long-time friends and McGowan had been a prime-mover in persuading Stevenson to run as a presidential candidate.

Stevenson was the Democratic nominee for president in 1952 and 1956, losing both times to Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Sharp Quakes Shake Southern California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two sharp earthquakes shook a wide area of Southern California within hours of each other late Thursday and early today.

The latest tremor was felt at 12:46 a.m. today and rattled doors and windows in parts of Los Angeles, the San Fernando Valley, Hollywood, Pasadena and as far south as Long Beach.

Housing Bill Is Assured Passage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The heavily disputed rent subsidy program for low-income families today appeared certain of becoming law after it won approval of both branches of Congress.

The Senate Thursday passed 54 to 30 a $7.5-billion housing bill containing a modified version of the rent program.

The high priority administration measure was sent to conference with the House, which passed it June 30 by a 245-169 tally.

Democratic leaders said they expected a compromise would be worked out easily since the differences are relatively slight.

President Johnson received most of what he asked in the big bill although the rent subsidy program was different from the one he first proposed.

In addition, the Senate, like the House, knocked out his recommendations for a package of aids to help in development of new towns near metropolitan areas.

The rent subsidy program survived by seven votes, 47 to 40, when Republicans tried to strike it from the bill in the Senate. In the House, it was saved by six votes.

As originally submitted, the program was designed to aid families with incomes too high to be eligible for low-rent public housing but still too low to be able to afford decent private housing. But it was altered by both House and Senate to cover only those families in the public housing income range. The argument was made in both branches that millions of these families do not have decent homes yet, so that subsidies should not be paid those with higher standards of living.

Under the Senate bill, a family receiving a rent subsidy would have to pay 25 per cent of its income for housing. The subsidy would be the difference between this amount and the economic rent which would make it possible to finance the apartment project by nonprofit type private organizations.

New Mexico Man Held In Slayings

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Murder counts were filed against a man after a trail of three killings ended Thursday night in a gun battle with an undersheriff.

"They're dead," said Clifford Kizer, 25, after his arrest. "I guess I'm dead too."

Kizer was held on murder counts in the shooting deaths of Harvey Bergorom, 24, a television repair shop operator; John Crosno, 25, who was reported by witnesses as being with Kizer in Bergorom's shop; and John Sandoval, about 30, who stopped to help free a panel truck stuck in sand north of Corrales. Kizer had been driving the truck officers said.

Undersheriff John Velarde arrested Kizer after they exchanged gunfire at the scene of Sandoval's slaying.

The killings started in Bergorom's shop. Witnesses told police Kizer and Crosno entered the shop, threatening Bergorom because of a report made to police.

Dianne Holquist, 18, was forced to accompany Kizer and Crosno to Crosno's home where Joanne Mayes, 19, was forced to join them.

Police said the girls told officers Crosno then was shot and killed.

Misses Holquist and Mayes said they then were told to lie on the floor of the panel truck while Kizer drove north of the city, where the truck became stuck in Sand.

Sandoval stopped to help and was shot three times.

Probe Theft Of Dynamite In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Theft of 350 pounds of dynamite from an industrial arsenal south of Chicago will be investigated in connection with a wave of mysterious, random bombings in Chicago.

Charles Siragusa, executive director of the Illinois Crime Investigating Commission, said two men accused of stealing the explosives will be subpoenaed and possibly granted immunity to prosecution under a new state law which would compel hem to answer questions.

Siragusa and Chicago bomb unit detectives questioned Francis Cozzi, 29, of Chicago, and Ralph Kittle, 27, of Romeoville, Ill., after the two men were charged with theft. The dynamite was stolen from Atlas Chemical Industries, Inc., at Romeoville.

Investigators said both men insisted under questioning that they had no ties with Chicago underworld bombers but admitted they had taken seven cases of dynamite in hopes of selling it to outlaws in Cicero.

Cicero, on the southwest fringe of Chicago, was the headquarters of the old Al Capone gang.

Police are investigating eight bombings in downtown Chicago which have occurred since July 7. The predawn bombings caused no injuries.

Calm Weather Is Restored In Area

Skies cleared as calm weather followed a period of showers in the Snyder area today.

Light showers fell in the area early Thursday afternoon. The official gauge in Snyder logged .10 of an inch, making a two-day total of 1.09.

Turbulence over other areas of the state had subsided this morning. A tornado hit at Canyon City west of New Braunfels in Comal County, damaging several buildings, toppling trees and power lines, but injuring none.

Fairly heavy rainfall ranged from the South Plains to the coast, across a good part of North Central Texas and in East Texas.

Up to 1.20 inches of rain falling in a brief period at Dallas and collapsed the roof of a tire store.

Lightning struck a corner of Dallas Auditorium, putting two holes in the roof and loosening 100 square feet of brick.

Terrell, east of Dallas, had a 2.42-inch downpour.

At Texas City a tank containing 120,000 barrels of crude oil was ignited by lightning at the American Oil Co. refinery.

In the long dry South Plains sector, Slaton caught 1.50 inches of rain and Lubbock measured .53 inch within a half hour.

Up to 1.90 inches of rain fell in parts of Abilene. Points from Snyder southward past Eden got smaller amounts, often with some hail and brilliant electrical storms.

On the lower coast, Annaville gauged 2.50 inches and Calallen 1.60. Both are west of Corpus Christi.

Unofficial measurements in East Texas ranged up to 2 inches at Nacogdoches.

By morning, skies were clear across the state except for clouds over the extreme west and in th Rio Grande Valley.

Temperatures were a few degrees lower where rain fell.

Forecasts were for warm weather with chances for showers by evening in around 20 per cent of most sections.

Donations will be accepted at the blood bank at Cogdell Hospital Wednesday at 8 a.m. and donors are reminded to have no food before donating blood.

U. S. Says Soviet Talks Have Not Changed Issues

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States today described Thursday's U.S.-Soviet Moscow conference on Viet Nam and other problems as "of interest" but denied that it brought any change in the position of either country.

The statement was issued, it was learned, because administration officials feared worldwide speculation about the conference was overemphasizing the possibilities of Vietnamese peace talks.

The U.S. ambassador-at-large, W. Averell Harriman, had said that his long meeting with Soviet Premie Alexei Kosygin had produced "some significant information," which he promptly cabled to Washington.

The State Department said in a statement today: "The discussion was of course of interest but did not reflect any new developments or change in well-known points of view."

Talking with newsmen in Moscow today, Harriman indicated that a principal aim of his mission is to make sure there is no Soviet misunderstanding of the U.S. position on Viet Nam.

"We must be careful to make our positions clear — that they (the Russians) understand ours and we understand theirs," he said.

Kosygin is understood to have told Harriman that the Soviet government considered the United States was engaging in aggression in Viet Nam and also that the U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam should stop in the interest of promoting peace talk prospects.

Harriman is understood to have told Kosygin that President Johnson is determined to take any military actions which may be necessary — meaning further escalation of the war as he sees need — to prevent Communist guerrilla forces supported from the north from taking over all of South Viet Nam.

In both Soviet and Western official quarters there was evidence of feeling that widespread new efforts were under way to try to break the long deadlock over Vietnamese peace talks. Reports from Moscow today said Harriman would have more talks with Soviet officials.

U.S. officials reported Johnson administration leaders are not optimistic about prospects for an early peace. However, they described the leaders as hopeful North Viet Nam might enter into negotiations toward the end of the year after more hard fighting in Viet Nam.

Harriman gave the hint in a Red Square interview after it was learned he is tentatively scheduled to have a second meeting with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin next week.

They met for three hours in the Kremlin Thursday and Harriman later said he had cabled to President Johnson "some significant information."

There were signs here and in Washington of a major American effort to break the Viet Nam deadlock. In today's interview Harriman emphasized the need for understanding by Washington and Moscow of what the other is doing.

Former Premier Nikita Khrushchev and the present premier, Kosygin, "have no desire to become involved in nuclear war," Harriman said.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Since January 1, 1960, I have sent 917 greeting cards. I am not counting Christmas and Easter cards. I sent 346 of those. I mean get-well, sympathy, birthday, graduation, wedding anniversaries, and new baby cards. I go through our local newspaper to be sure I haven't overlooked a birth, engagement, accident or death. I am on a limited income and can't afford to send presents, but I spend as much time shopping for appropriate cards as most people do in the selection of gifts. My question: Aren't people supposed to acknowledge cards? Only 16 out of the 917 people I sent cards to bothered to let me know that they received them. I am listed in the telephone directory. If I am wrong to expect thanks, please tell me.

IGNORED

DEAR IGNORED: Well-bred people acknowledge cards with a telephone call, a note or a verbal "thank you" — should they see the giver before having had the opportunity to call or write. However, the giver who is motivated by pure thoughtfulness will send the card and forget it. To keep a ledger on "thanks receivable" suggests that the giver is unduly interested in placing the burden of gratitude on casual acquaintances. However, the laziness and boorishness of those who fail to acknowledge a thoughtful gesture is inexcusable.

DEAR ABBY: We are a retired couple who are together all day. In the evenings I enjoy watching TV, but my husband prefers the quiet relaxation of solitude. He enjoys just sitting alone on our front porch. Of course he likes having company occasionally, but there is one neighbor who is a terrible pest. He is a bachelor, and lately he has been coming over EVERY night. This man has an opinion on everything, and he NEVER STOPS TALKING. He doesn't even hear what the other person has to say. He stays for the entire evening. Tonight my poor husband said to me, "I am so tired of that man coming over here every night. How can I get rid of him tactfully?" My husband is a good man who hates to hurt anyone's feelings, but this neighbor is a nuisance. Can you advise me?

HIS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: The only way to solve the problem is the obvious way. Tell the pest (in a nice way) that you like to be alone once in a while so he should not visit you nightly. It's either your husband's privacy or the pest's feelings. And your husband's privacy is more important than the pest's feelings.

DEAR ABBY: In 21 years of marriage I have never won an argument with my husband. No matter how small the argument he is always right, or he says he is. I don't like to argue, or perhaps I give up too easily, but just once I would like to prove him wrong. Please help me.

I have lost 24 pounds in the past seven months. Yesterday I mentioned that since I had lost so much weight, my shoes were too large for me. My husband said no matter how much weight a person loses, it doesn't make any difference in their feet. I say it does and I should know when my shoes are too big! I would appreciate a reply in your column. My husband is one of those who has to see everything in black and white.

I. M. RIGHT

DEAR I.: If your husband had been in your shoes for the past seven months, he would know that you are right!

Wiretapping Is Forbidden

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has prohibited any wiretapping by his administration except in cases where it is essential to protect the national security, the White House says.

Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary, said Thursday the President believes it must not be condoned or tolerated under any other circumstances and never, never without the approval of the attorney general. This approval must be obtained in advance, he said.

Moyers said Johnson laid down that rule soon after he became President and emphasized it again recently in a message to Cabinet officers and agency chiefs.

Three Pleas Heard In County Court

Three pleas were heard yesterday and this morning in county court here.

Paul Barnes entered a plea of not guilty Thursday to a charge of illegal possession of beer and wine. Bond was set at $500. The charge was filed by Texas Liquor Control Board agents.

John Arthur Sharrock pleaded guilty this morning to a charge of driving without a license which had been filed by highway patrolmen. He was assessed a fine of $25 plus court costs.

C. C. Waters pleaded not guilty to a charge of child desertion and was freed on $100 recognizance bond.

Fired Waitresses Protest Appraisal

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — When we were dismissed "we were told that we were too old, that we were not sexy enough, that we were not exciting, and that we didn't have it distributed in the right places."

That, Jean Strzelecki, 35, told the State Board Against Discrimination Thursday, is why she and Darlene Smith, 32, were dismissed from their jobs as cocktail waitresses.

The board postponed its decision.

SHORT THOUGHTS

SHORT THOUGHTS

We should be very grateful that the building of Noah's Ark didn't have to go thru the Committee's Court, else every body would have drowned. . .

The Angels that left their first habitation and came to earth and married the daughters of men must have been insane. . . The first Recorded Death upon this earth was that of a good man, and the man that caused this death became the first City Builder, as it was then so it is now, Jobs have to be created so men can work.

I don't care what weeping and wailing or what effort is used to keep Snyder dry, man will always be governed by his Heart, Satan fell in Heaven, Adam fell in Paradise, and Lot was righteous in Sodom . . . even if we place people in stocks, like the Puritans used and have public floggings every first Monday, Man will still be governed by his Heart . . .

To reverence and worship man is pure idolatry, the only prayer in the Bible where man prayed to man was useless . . . whoever Drinks beyond Temperance should decide which he wants to throw away, himself, his wife, his children, or what he is drinking . . . Whoever says the Bible forbids drinking in Temperance commits not only blasphemy but heresy as well. . .

The City that Abraham looked for, with foundations, whose builders and maker is God, is the same city the Angel showed John in Rev. 21-9. . . I finally found out what Governor John meant by "Higher Education". He meant that as long as he was Governor it would cost more to get one. . .

We are the 25th civilization to inhabit this earth, 24 fell by following tradition and custom, we will go down in History as the "Intelligent" civilization, we had just enough to destroy ourselves . . .

There has always been and will forever be, three classes of people on this earth. Those who want to go backward, those who want to sit still, and those who want to move forward, and when these three classes have about equal numbers in any city, they become like still waters, and to keep these waters from becoming stagnant there has to be an agitator to keep these waters stirred, God put him here too.

2 Negroes Are Accepted By Rice U.

HOUSTON (AP) — Two Negro students are the first of their race accepted as undergraduates by Rice University and will start attending classes this fall.

They are Jacqueline McCauley, 17, of Houston and Charles Freeman of Port Arthur. The two said Thursday they were invited to apply for admission.

Trustees of the university went into state court to change the terms of an indenture written by the late William Marsh Rice, founder of the school, in 1891.

He specified that the school be free and for white students only. In their suit, the trustees sought to admit students regardless of race and to charge tuition.

The district court ruled in favor of the trustees but two Rice alumni, Val Billups and John Coffee of Houston, then asked the First Court of Civil Appeals to reverse the decision.

The appeals court refused, and Billups and Coffee appealed to the Texas Supreme Court. It agreed to review the case but no date has been set.

Miss McCauley is a graduate Houston's Kashmere Gardens High School. She will attend Rice on a four-year national merit awards scholarship. The foundation does not disclose the amount of it's scholarships.

Freeman was a co-valedictorian of his graduating class at Lincoln High School in Port Arthur last May. He has accepted a $1,200 a year William Marsh Rice scholarship, renewable for five years.

Rice currently has one Negro graduate student enrolled, Raymond Johnson, 21, of Houston. He entered last September and is working on his doctorate in mathematics.

Demonstrations Banned In Athens

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Greece's new premier, George Athanasiades-Novas banned demonstrations in Athens today as he tried to form a government and resolve the country's worst political crisis since the Communist civil war.

The no-demonstration order was aimed at George Papandreou, premier until King Constantine replaced him Thursday before Papandreou made his announced resignation official. The ex-premier vowed to fight his way back to power and called on the Greek people to demonstrate against Athenasiades-Novas and any other members of Papandreou's Center Union Party who joined the new government.

The new premier's interior ministry quickly ordered police to break up any disturbances.

Informants said Papandreou was trying to stem a mass defection of his party members by demanding an oath of personal allegiance from Cabinet ministers who had served under him.

So far two members of the party had joined the new government and it was reported that three more members of Papandreou's cabinet would be sworn in later today.

Such defections could mean the breakup of the how dominant Center Union party and new national elections.

Constantine, 25, incensed by Papandreou's campaign to purge the army of politically active officers, swore in Athanasiades-Novas after Papandreou, 77, broadcast a statement that he was resigning. The new premier was president of Parliament.

Income Has Huge Gain

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income rose nearly $4 billion in June to an adjusted annual rate of $524 billion, the Commerce Department reported today.

The June increase was 7 per cent greater than the advance registered in the same month last year, but was slightly lower than the rise between April and May 1965.

Personal income, as the department uses the term, includes all types of payments to individuals including wages, salaries, rents, interest and dividends.

The department attributed much of the June increase to "sharp rises" in the income of farm owners and increased corporate dividend payments.

WOMEN

FRESH PEACH COBBLER welcomes the spring fruit season in a delicious revival of last generation's favorite deep-dish dessert. Juicy, tart-sweet peach flavor is simmered through layers of cloud-light peacemaker dumplings, with more of the same traditional "short" dough added before baking to form a spicy top crust.

New Version Of Old Favorite

Remember the fragrant cobblers of a generation ago? Beneath the sugar - glazed richness of their golden top crust, they offered an irresistible temptation to winter - jaded appetites, with sweet - tart juices bubbling up through layers of sliced fruit and "short" dough dumplings.

Because the best cooks of those years rarely used a recipe in concocting such delights, the traditional deep-dish cobbler has lost much of its appeal in today's cookbook versions, which call for a top crush only.

In seeking the secret of old-fashioned cobbler flavor, recipe researchers for peacemaker flour found the answer in a two-step cooking method. Yesteryear's expert cook began by simmering fruits with sugar and spices, adding dumpling strips for steaming in the rich-flavored fruit juices before baking.

For modern homemakers, this preliminary simmering cuts baking time in half — and takes the gamble out of dumpling-making as well, with tender, cloud - light results guaranteed by peacemaker flour.

In this new adaptation of the old - favorite deep dish cobbler, peacemaker improves on the old - style version by furnishing contemporary cooks a dependability and uniformity old-time cooks could only hope to find in the flurs they used. Present day homemakers have an added advantage, too, in improved methods of packaging—peacemaker flour's exclusive new flip - top canister reseals for storage to guard quality and purity.

Fresh Peach Cobbler

2 cups peacemaker flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup milk
½ cup butter or margarine (1 stick)
3 cups sliced peaches, fresh or frozen
1 cup sugar
½ to 1 cup water
½ teaspoon allspice

Mix dry ingredients, work in butter with tips of fingers, and stir in milk gradually to make smooth dough. Roll or pat out on floured board to ¼ - inch thickness; then cut in two-inch strips with a floured knife or spatula. Reserve sufficient dough for the crust and of remainder in two inch lengths. Combine peaches, sugar, water, and allspice. Bring to boil over low flame, stirring occasionally.

Handling dough carefully to avoid tearing, drop strips in simmering fruit mixture a few at a time, pushing them beneath surface before adding others. When all are added, remove from heat. Add top crust strips, trim, sprinkle with additional sugar and allspice, and dot with butter. Bake in 350 - degree oven until crust is golden-brown —about 15 minutes. Serve hot, with heavy cream for topping if desired.

Snyder Girl Scouts At Session V

Session V, the final session, opens at the Girl Scout's Camp Boothe Oaks on Sunday, July 18th. This is a one week session closing on Saturday, July 24th. A full capacity of campers will check in for this session.

When this session closes, approximately 365 campers will have experienced the adventures of camping during this 1965 season. The activities at Boothe Oaks have offered fun, new skills, stimulated awareness of the scope of the natural world and helped to develop an individual sense of responsibility to conserve the natural world.

Campers attending Session V from Snyder are: Jane Barnett, Kitty Dysart, Debra Krause, Marsha Lynn McKinley, Allana Patterson, Peggy Patterson and Marion Watts.

Wafting Around In Circles

KNIGHTS AND DRAGONS By Elizabeth Spencer.

Somehow there must be a way of conveying, however nebulous it must be necessarily, with all its mistiness and Roman fogginess, like a movie, shot through gauze for an arty effect, that this is a dreamily vague story of a mentally detached — but dear Martha Ingram had suffered, so much, and had fallen so deeply into the shimmering well where one or the other side of the mirror was another trap for words that struck like pellets into her partial consciousness, because she really was a fugitive from her divorce, although her husband Gordon supposedly was a great philosopher back there in New York, and even when she had taken a job with the Roman consulate, as a refuge, she was fleeing from the ominous messengers that he was sending her way (or was he?); but of course in the Italian rain she ignored, in her way, the messages and sought comfort — not that comfort could be achieved — from a dreary little American economist named Jim Wilbourne, who was married to a sorry creature who made ceramics, and he didn't seem to mind that they always had to talk in unanswered questions — though there are times when the reader feels like screaming, but who could blame her when she tells him she is intentionally mad, which becomes a bafflement for her boss George Hartwell, who tries — ineffectually, of course — to save her from that awful day when "The direction of the car pulled against the direction of the laugh, in an exact mathematical pivot, herself being the central point of strain, and in this counterweight, she felt her life tear almost inaudibly, like ripping silk" poor dear.

It needs only to be said that if any intrepid reader succeeds in figuring out what this thing is all about, please advise.

If you have a lot of children and loads of laundry, here's how to save sorting time. Label children's socks, blue jeans, and T-shirts with cotton iron-on tape. Let each child pick his favorite color in the tape, which will last through many washings.

Running out of aprons? Sew yourself a colorful patchwork apron. Use remnants from piecegoods counters or old sewing projects. Cut blocks of fabrics in assorted cotton prints, each about ten inches square, and seam together for an apron skirt.

LAMB STEW with vegetables, baked in the oven, and accompanied by delicious biscuits made the easy way with instant-type flour.

Up-To-The-Minute Lamb Stew, Biscuit

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

IF YOU like basic, up-to-date recipes that taste good and are wonderfully convenient, here's a lamb stew with biscuit that you may enjoy adding to your file.

This recipe is designed for use with the new instant-type flour that blends quickly and easily with the other stew ingredients. You just dump everything into a casserole. Mix lightly and stir after a half hour of baking. Canned carrots and frozen green beans are used so no peeling or preparation of the vegetables are necessary.

When you make the biscuits with the instant - type flour, again you just stir them together in a small mixing bowl.

Oven Lamb Stew With Quick Biscuits

Boneless lean lamb shoulder (1 pound after bone and fat are removed)
1 can (1 pound) whole carrots, undrained
1 package (9 ounces) frozen cut green beans, partly thawed
1 cup water
1-3 cup instant - type flour
1 tablespoon packaged dried minced onion
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon garlic salt
2 teaspoons bouillon granules or 1 envelope beef - flavored broth mix
Quick Biscuits

Into a 2½ or 3 quart casserole (2½ to 3 inches deep) turn the lamb, carrots, partly thawed green beans, water, instant-type flour, onion, salt, pepper, garlic salt and bouillon granules; lightly mix together. Bake, covered, in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 30 minutes; stir thoroughly. Continue baking until meat is very tender — about 1 hour longer. Skim off any excess fat on surface of stew. Drop biscuits (made according to Quick Biscuits recipe) in 8 large of 12 small portions around edge of stew. Bake, uncovered for 20 to 25 minutes or until biscuits are baked through. If biscuits are not so golden brown as you like, raise oven temperature to hot (425 degrees) and bake another 7 to 10 minutes or so. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Quick Biscuits

½ cup milk
2 tablespoons salad (not olive) oil
2 tablespoons minced parsley, if desired
1 cup instant - type flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt

Into a small mixing bowl, turn the milk, salad oil, parsley (if used), instant - type flour, baking powder and salt. With a fork, stir only until the dry ingredients are moistened. Use and bake as directed in recipe for Oven Lamb Stew with Quick Biscuits.

Police Auxiliary Meet, Make Plans

Members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Snyder Police Department held their regular monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in corporation courtroom, with president Mary Lou Simons presiding.

The ladies discussed plans for a "Back to School Party" for the school age children of members, finally voting to make it an entire family affair slated for 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 10 at Towle Park.

A division of the auxiliary into three groups was decided on by the members, the purpose of this being to make the club more productive and better organized. These three groups are to be led by group captains, Betty Tatum, Ann Wright and Laverne Tullis.

The seven members in attendance were presented with their year books and were served refreshments by hostesses Virgie Clemons, Betty Tatum and Mary Lou Simons.

First Aid Tips Take Simmer From Sunburn

This year's bathing suits are briefer than ever, so more of you will be exposed to the sun. You'll risk a painful sunburn more than ever; unless you follow some simple advice.

Be sure to use plenty of protective lotion, especially the first time out. Put on more lotion every time you come out of the water and don't lie in the sun too long.

Burns usually don't show up until a few hours later, so don't be deceived if you don't look red. Here's a good test to see if you're burning: Press a finger against your skin. If a white spot remains when you lift your finger, it's time to cover up with a shift or slacks.

If you can see yourself turning red, it's really too late to prevent burning, but apply lotion and cover up immediately to prevent a more serious burn.

Whether you're slightly pink or frankly red, you can ease the sting by gently smoothing cream or lotion into the skin with pads made of tissues folded over three times. Tissue pads are softer and, as a cushion between fingers and sensitive skin, apply lotion with less pressure than fingers.

Wear loose clothing if you're burned. Anything tight will make you extra aware of sensitive skin.

If you begin to peel, just keep up applications of lotion with tissue pads. This will help moisturize the skin while easing pain.

Make bath mats reversible and get longer wear from them. Sew two cotton terry cloth mats together, back to back. Use coordinated mats . . . one in a solid color and one in a pretty floral print.

Is Business Up Or Down? Both Versions Are Right

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Business activity is slowing down. Business activity has climbed to still another high. You can hear both these versions of where the economy stands today. And both are right.

It all depends on how you present the current statistics — and on the inherent contrariness of statistics themselves. If you are confused by the conflicting interpretations, it could be that the bulls and bears are, too.

There are many measures of the U.S. economy. The one considered the most comprehensive is the Gross National Product — the dollar value of all goods and services produced.

In the first quarter of this year the GNP had what the slide-rule boys called an "abnormally large rise", a jump of $14.2 billion over the fourth quarter of 1964, to an annual rate of $648.8 billion. That's a mighty big jump and a mighty active economy.

The preliminary estimate for the April-May-June quarter just released shows the annual rate now has climbed to $658 billion.

On how they interpret these figures is how you separate the bullish from the bearish.

The bullish will note that another record has been set with this $9.2 billion advance. They also are chortling because this gain, too, was abnormal in the sense that predictions had been for only a $6-billion or a $7-billion rise. In other words, the best-ever second quarter was not only better than what had been billed as a freakishly high first quarter, but also was unexpectedly better.

The bearish concentrate on the difference between the $9.2 billion gain in the last three months and the $14.2 billion one in the first three. The latest advance also trailed the average $10-billion gain the first nine months of 1964. This would show that the rate of economic growth is slowing down, and that a new stimulant should be found.

But the statistics can be tricky.

It's always hard to compare any quarter with the preceding one. The seasons change the figures. Retail sales rise before the December holidays. Heating fuel sales rise in winter, air conditioning use goes up in summer. Vacations change both production and spending patterns.

The last three quarters have been particularly beset by unusual circumstances. The final three months of 1964 saw the GNP's rise slowed by the auto industry strikes. The first three months of 1965 saw the GNP inflated by a rush to catch up on auto production and sales. It also saw rising steel production due in part to an attempt by users to build stockpiles because of a threatened steel strike May 1.

The current third quarter could be tricky. The steel strike threat still isn't allayed. Auto sales are still setting records for the season. Backlogs of factory orders are still high.

Junior Editors Quiz on MICHELANGELO

QUESTION: Why is Michelangelo regarded as such a great artist?

• • •

ANSWER: Michelangelo was born in 1475 near Florence, Italy. In those days of the Italian Renaissance, civilization had become more stable and great interest was shown in art and culture. The wonderful sculptures and buildings of the Greeks and Romans were being rediscovered. Young Michelangelo was in love with ancient art, but felt he could do something even finer. It is difficult to believe that the famous Pieta, which we illustrate, was carved by this genius when he was only 21. Study the tenderness of feeling, the religious emotion, expressed by the statue, showing the body of Jesus held by the Virgin Mary. There is something else, too: the thing artists call rhythm or design. Your eye moves in and out following the graceful swinging forms. Later, the artist made this rhythmic design even stronger. It became so full of action that statues and painted figures seemed almost bursting with life. Many critics feel that Michelangelo, by using such powerful design, expressed more life and intensity than any other artist, and so they rank his work among the greatest achievements of mankind.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Fortunately for America, the wonderful Pieta is being exhibited again this summer at the World's Fair in New York. If you can't see it in person, watch for articles on the Fair and you may find some more pictures showing different views of the Pieta.

He Fights For Both Hate, Love

By HAL BOYLE

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — Some men fight out of hate, some fight out of love.

Nguyen Van Ham, 23, a sturdy, handsome Vietnamese sergeant, fights for both reasons.

"I hate the Viet Cong, and I love my country," he said.

"I have killed three Viet Cong. When I shoot them, I don't know why, but I feel very good."

"I love life very much because I am young. It looks to me like a rose. But I don't know how it will be later."

Sgt. Ham is hardly a typical Vietnamese soldier. He is a Catholic, has a high school education, and now serves as a battlefront interpreter with the Da Nang special sector forces here. But his story illustrates both the wartime plight and the long-term hopes of Vietnamese youth.

"I was eight when they — the Viet Cong — shot my brother," he said. "I came across his body in the street. I cried and cried. Not long after that they came to our house at two o'clock in the morning. They asked my father for 1,000 piastres. He refused.

"They took him away. I was a young boy and could do nothing. We heard six years later that they had buried him alive in a well. From that time on my mother, who had been very sad, never remembered anything again at all. She died six months ago."

At 20 Sgt. Ham joined the Vietnamese rangers as a volunteer. He worked with an intelligence platoon and infiltrated enemy territory wearing Viet Cong garb.

"But at night we killed them," he said. "Once we got a cash bonus of 5,000 piastres for ambushing a V.C. platoon with 18 men.

"I still want to go more often into the field and kill the Viet Cong. Now I no longer think so often of my father and brother. That was a long time ago.

"I just think it would be bad if the V.C. take over Viet Nam. I love my country. If I didn't, I would desert. I have had some commanders I did not like."

Ham gets 3,400 piastres a month — about $47. He pays 500 piastres a month for lodging and 1,200 a month for two meals a day. He tries to save at least 1,000 piastres a month.

Study Group Finds Ruins Of Old Fort

TAOS, N.M. (AP)—A University of New Mexico summer study group has unearthed what it believes are ruins of an unidentified U.S. frontier cavalry post on the Rio Hondo in Northern New Mexico.

Jerry Brodie, director of the archeological group, said a five-pound cannon ball, a musket ball, bone knife handles and a U.S. cavalry belt buckle have been found. He said the Army has not been able to provide information on the fort.

"There's no doubt in my mind he said.

The area is about half the size of a football field.

Baylor Short Of Housing

WACO (AP)—Lack of dormitory space has created a crisis at Baylor University, the Baptist school's trustees were told Thursday.

President Abner McCall said Baylor has put students in every available space.

Trustees spent almost an hour discussing the proposed lifting of restrictions on borrowing federal money for self-liquidating projects.

Baylor asked the Baptist General Convention of Texas last May to let its institutions decide for themselves whether federal loans may be accepted. The request is expected to trigger controversy at the convention meeting Oct. 26-28 in Houston.

Two World Records In A Day

Ron Clarke Smashes Two Pending World Marks

OSLO, Norway (AP) — American athletes, victors in most of the events here in a two-day international meet, still were enjoyed today over the amazing running exp'oits of Australia's Ron Clarke.

Marine Lt. Billy Mills, surprise winne of the Olympic 10,000 at Tokyo last year, said Clarke's double world record-busting feat Wednesday night probably was "more historic" than the smashing of the four-minute barrier for the mile by Roger Bannister 11 years ago.

After beating fellow American Bob Schul, the Olympic 5,000-meter champion, in the 5,000 here c.. a wet and cold evening Thursday, Mills commented:

"By watching Ron Clarke Wednesday night, one unde.stands there is a revolution in running going on. You have to be a long distance runner yourself to understan wholly how great was the performance of Clarke.

"His effort was probably more historic than the dream mile by Roger Bannister."

Bannister smashed the four-minute barrier with a time of 3:59.4 at Oxford, England, May 6, 1954. This opened the gates and today sub-four minute miles are common. The record has been lowered to 3:53.6 by France's Michel Jazy.

Clarke, a lean, tall, 28-year-old Melbourne businessman, won the 10,000 meters — about 6¼ miles — smashing the six-mile record en route b. 24.6 seconds with a time of 27:11.6 and clipping 34.6 seconds off the 10,000 mark with his clocking of 27:39.4.

Four days earlier, the tireless Aussie broke the 13-minute barrier for three miles in 12:52.4.

Mills, from Coffeyville, Kan., beat Schul, of West Milton, Ohio, handily in 13:41.4, a Bislet Stadium record and a personal best for the Kansan. Schul was second in 13:51.2. Clarke did not compete.

Other American victors Thursday included Theron Lewis, New Orleans, 400 meters, 46.5; Ron Whitney, Los Angeles, 400 meters, 47.5; Blaine Lindgren, Salt Lake City, 110-meter hurdles, 14.1; John McGrath, Pasadena, Calif., shot put, 59-8; John Cramer, Everett, Wash., pole vault, 16-1¼, and a 1,000 meter relay quarter of Lewis, Lindgren, Whitney, and Otis Burrell of Los Angeles, 1:54.

CLARK CRACKS TWO WORLD RECORDS—Australia's Ron Clarke, foreground, runs 10,000-meter race in Oslo, Norway — the race in which he cracked two world records. Clarke bettered pending world marks for six miles and for 10,000 meters. In center is Jim Hogan, Ireland, who finished second. Right is Claus Boersen, Denmark, who was third. Gold Cup Is Sight Of Large Race

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Native Diver, Hail to All and Tom Rolfe, three entirely different type of runners, put their imposing records on the line in three of the most important horse races Saturday.

Native Diver, with a record of seven stakes victories, one second and two thirds in his last 10 starts, goes after his 22nd career stakes triumph in the 1¼ mile $162,100 Hollywood Gold Cup at Hollywood Park. The 6-year-old gelding has scored all of his stakes successes in California, five of them at Hollywood Park.

Hail to All, a 3-year-old title contender whose stretch runs carried him to victory in the Jersey Derby and Belmont Stakes, is the short priced favorite to take the 48th running of the 1¼ miles of the $75,000-added Dwyer at Aqueduct.

Tom Rolfe, away from competition since finishing a close second to Hail to All in the Belmont Stakes after winning the Preakness, returns to action in the one-mile $50,000-added Citation Handicap for 3-year-olds at Arlington Park.

Native Diver, winner of the American Handicap in his last start on July 5, goes in the Gold Cup as the top weight under 124 pounds. This year he has four wins, one second and one third and earnings of $113,250 to show for six outings. His career bankroll totals $434,250. Victory in the Gold Cup, with eight starters, would be worth $102,100.

Hail to All ran one third the last time out but the distance was only one mile. The additional one-quarter-mile figures to be right down his alley even though he will carry topweight of 127 pounds and give as much as 17 to six probable rivals. First Family is the second highweight under 119 pounds. With seven starters the race will gross $82,150 with $53,397.50 to the winner.

Tom Rolfe will pick up 126 pounds and give weight to all his eight probable rivals, including Pass the Word, Swift Ruler and Mr. Clown.

Astros Lick Texas League

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Subdued from a 5-1 licking administered by the Houston Astros, the Texas League all-stars returned to the regular grind today.

They struggled 11 innings Thursday night trying to knock over the Astros for a fourth straight time.

A couple of bobbles by Dave Pavlesic, the Tulsa catcher, led to Houston's first victory in the all-star series.

Pavlesic's passed ball in the fourth inning let Jim Wynn reach third base and he scored on Bob Aspromonte's sacrifice fly.

In the fatal 11th Pavlesic tried to pick a runner off first and the throw was wild, allowing a score that won the game and opened the gages for a four-run splurge. Doubles by Lee Maye and Ron Brand completed the rout.

It was a fine fame for 10 innings. A crowd of 11,076 overflowed the stadium—the second largest in the 24-year history of the all-star game. The record is 12,636 at Fort Worth in 1948.

The all-stars tied the score in the fifth when Bobby Pena of Dallas-Fort Worth tripled and Mike Sinnerud of Austin singled him across.

In the 10th the all-stars made their last tough bid. Sinnerud singled and Dick McLaughlin of Albuquerque drove him to third with a Texas Leaguer to left, but he died there.

Jim Gentile of the Astros was put out of the game when he argued violently with umpire Frank Walsh and had to be restrained. He was questioning a called second strike.

Mason Rudolph of Lehigh Acres, Fla., made his best showing in the recent U.S. Open — his seventh. He shot 290 to tie for 11th place. He won $1,150.

JIMMY BROWN

Jim Brown's Trial Brings Girl's Story

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Attorneys for professional football player Jim Brown are to continue their cross-examination today of Brenda Ayres, 18, who accused the Cleveland Browns' star of assault and battery.

In cross-examination Thursday, Norman S. Minor, one of Brown's three lawyers, questioned the 108-pound girl about the number of dates she had with Brown and the number of times she was intimate with him.

Miss Ayres denied that she had said at any time that Brown would give $1,000 to have her leave him alone. She also denied saying Brown told her to leave him alone.

Miss Ayres broke into tears before the noon recess and sobbed in the arms of Albert Corsi, assistant police prosecutor after telling that Brown slapped her on several occasions.

Miss Ayres hesitated when asked how many times she had had sex relations with Brown and Minor asked if sexual activities "were so usual in your life that you can't tell how many times you had relations with Brown before the first part of June."

The girl said no, and finally admitted to about seven different occasions before June 19, the night she says Brown slapped her and allegedly forced her to commit an unnatural sex act.

Kansas City Gains Win Over Minnesota

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Minnesota Twins had no idea that Haywood Sullivan's slingshot was loaded.

Sullivan's Kansas City Athletics finessed their way past the meatgrinding Twins 3-2 in the second game of a twi-night doubleheader Thursday night as major league baseball swung back into action following the All-Star break.

American League-leading Minnesota tore into Sullivan's last place Athletics for an 11-3 first game victory in the kind of mismatch that reminded you of David and Goliath.

Maybe the Twins wore themselves out running around the bases in the opener but when the second game reached the ninth inning Sullivan and the A's were still within hailing distance, trailing only by 2-1.

Ken Harrelson, who homered in each game for Kansas City, opened the ninth with a walk and when John Blanchard singled, the A's had runners at first and second with none out. Sullivan fingered his slingshot.

A sacrifice moved the runners up a notch but then Al Worthington fanned Nelson Mathews. Sullivan aimed.

Tom Reynolds, a .208 hitter, was the A's last hope. The young outfielder lined a double off Sandy Valdespino's glove in left field, scoring Harrelson and Blanchard with the tying and winning runs. Pop went the slingshot.

The split kept Minnesota's lead at five games with Cleveland moving into second place with a 6-3 victory over Boston. Baltimore slipped to fourth by dropping a 5-4 10-inning decision to Detroit. Chicago defeated Los Angeles 5-2 and New York nipped Washington 2-1 in 12 innings.

In the National League, St. Louis edged New York 6-5, Milwaukee battered Pittsburgh 9-6, Cincinnati whipped Philadelphia 8-1 and Los Angeles blanked Chicago 5-0.

Fred Whitfield tagged a three-run homer and Joe Azcue and Pedro Gonzalez delivered clutch singles as the Indians ended their six-game losing streak.

Azcue's bases-loaded single broke a 3-3 tie in the sixth and then Gonzalez followed with a two-run single that wrapped it up for Cleveland.

Chicago's three-run eighth inning beat the Angels with Dave Nicholson's two-run triple the big hit. Don Buford had a homer with one on for Chicago.

Buford's shot in the third inning broke an Angel pitching string of 32 straight scoreless innings and also erased a 1-0 Los Angeles lead.

Al Kaline's single delivered Jerry Lumpe with the winning run as Detroit edged the Orioles. Lumpe had opened the 10th inning with a double and Kaline singled following an intentional walk to Norm Cash.

Brooks Robinson's two-run homer had tied it for Baltimore in the eighth.

Relief pitcher Steve Ridzik nicked Clete Boyer with a pitched ball in the 12th inning with the bases loaded, forcing in the Yankees' winning run against Washington. Ridzik had a one ball, two strike count on Boyer when his sidearm curve hit the New York infielder on the forearm.

Mickey Mantle had tied it for the Yankees in the sixth with his 12th homer of the season after Washington had scored on Jim King's double and Dick Nen's triple.

MacCall Plays Tough Role With The Richey Family

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — George MacCall's tough disciplinarian role as non-playing captain of the U.S. Davis Cup squad made the National Clay Courts Tournament the backdrop today for a rebellion by America's premier tennis family.

MacCall, who earlier this year benched the nation's top ranked player, Dennis Ralston, Thursday ruled potential No. 2 Davis Cupper, 18-year-old Cliff Richey, out of the pending American zone showdown with Mexico.

MacCall, from Los Angeles, made his drastic stand against the up-and-coming Richey at the River Forest Tennis Club, just 24 hours before his planned announcement of his Cup line-up today.

MacCall, who came here to view America's top talent in the Caly Court show, admitted he considered Richey for the tno. 2 singles spot behind Ralston.

But he ran into an impasse when he suggested that Cliff's father, George Richey, a Dallas teaching tennis pro, fade into the background during preparation for the Cup tangle with Mexico at Dallas, beginning July 31.

The whole Richey family, including Cliff's sister, Nancy, 22, nationally top-ranked women's player as well as his parents, said in effect that papa knows best and should stick to his close supervision of the brilliant young player.

Even while MacCall was scratching Richey from his Davis Cup list, Nancy was named to the Wightman Cup squad for the fourth time.

Nancy is defending champion in the women's phase of the Clay Courts meet which ends Sunday. Cliff hopes to join his sister in a family sweep to match their title triumphs in the Western Open at Milwaukee last weekend.

Nothing, however, is going to keep young Richey from trying to win the Clay Court title. He meets rugged Ron Holmberg today in quarter-final play.

While Cliff tries to beat Holmberg today, sister Nancy, meets Roberta Alison of Alexander City, Ala. Miss Richey is rying for her third straight crown.

Also playing a women's quarter-final match will be Stephanie DeFina of Hollywood, Fla., and Nancy Reed of Gaithersburg, Md.

Snyder Goldjackets Out To Beat Hamby

Snyder's Goldjackets will play Hamby tonight in Winston Park at 8 p.m., and will be the second meeting of the two clubs.

The Goldjackets dropped the first game between the two clubs in the Winter's tournament. Snyder will be out to even up the score in tonight's contest.

Gene Allison will be the starting pitcher for the Goldjackets.

The Goldjackets have a 6-2 record going into tonight's affair. The Goldjackets is a girl's softball team.

Taylor, Estep Win Over Top Seeded

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)— Two Texans pulled major upsets Thursday in the junior division of the eastern junior and boys tennis championships here.

George Taylor of Houston and Mike Estep of Dallas defeated the first and second seeded players in lopsided battles.

Taylor, 15, dropped the first-seeded player, Bernard Adelsberg of Fresh Meadow, N.Y., 6-1, 6-0.

Estep defeated second-seeded Steve Siegel of Teaneck, N.J., 6-1, 6-3.

Taylor was eighth seeded and Estep was seventh seeded.

Field Narrows In Canadian Open

TORONTO (AP) — It was more like a sick bay than a golf tournament as the field was cut to 74 from 144 in the $100,000 Canadian Open Golf Championship Thursday.

The survivors, who managed to shoot two-round scores of 146 or better, started out today in pursuit of an ailing Australian.

Bruce Devlin, now playing out of Hilton Head Island, S.C., teed off Thursday with a sore left shoulder, the remnants of a throat infection that bothered him in last week's British Open, and varicose veins.

He shot a four-under-par 31 on the front nine, the lowest nine-hole score he's had in his four-year professional career, and followed it up with a par 35 on the back nine for a 66 and the second-round lead with a 134.

One stroke back was Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, who had a red-hot 66 to go with a first-round 69 for 135. Joe Campbell, of Peridido, Fla., the first-round leader with a 66 Wednesday, shot a 70 to stay within two strokes of the lead with a 136.

Devlin, 27, said his shoulder pained him three times in the first round but he was unable to find a doctor to examine it Wednesday night and simply rested it.

The soreness disappeard during the second round.

The Australian ace, who has earned $52,545.28 on the tour without scoring a victory in 19 starts this season, wasn't over par once, had four birdies and capped his round with a fine recovery shot on the 18th hole.

On that one, a blind approach shot left him up against a tree 40 feet from the pin. But he pulled out his putter, knocked the ball within one foot of the hole and one-putted for a par 4.

Devlin wasn't the only golfer suffering from assorted ailments. Champagne Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif., pulled out after the eighth hole with severe pains in the small of his back. Lema, winner of the British Open last year, said that he was tired both mentally and physically. He left Toronto for his home in San Leandro with his wife, Betty, and planned to see doctors there.

Another second-round dropout because of illness was Howie Johnson of Palm Springs, Calif., who shot 73 in the first round.

George Knudson of Toronto led the seven Canadians who survived the 146 cutoff score by shooting a second-round 69, one-under-par on Mississaugua's 6,828-yard layout. Coupled with his first-round 70, he went into today's third round with a 139 and was still within striking range of taking the first-place prize money of $20,000 when the final 18 holes are played Saturday.

Joe Nuxhall Still Is Carrying Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, OHIO, (AP) — "When you get this old, you're happy just to be here," says Joe Nuxhall, who will be 37 July 30, which is almost considered old age for pitchers.

But Nuxhall seems to be getting stronger since he made his major league debut with the Cincinnati Reds in 1944 — 21 years ago — at the age of 15.

Nuxhall, supported by a 15-hit attack, went nine innings Thursday night in pitching the Reds to an 8-1 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

"It was kind of a struggle," said Nuxhall. "The boys played a good game behind me."

The victory was Nuxhall's fifth straight and his second nine-inning performance against the Phillies since July 4. He is now 6-2 for the season.

Nuxhall has won five of the Reds' last eight victories.

$125,000 Suit Filed Against NFL Cowboys

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — A former Long Beach State College football player filed a $125,000 suit against the Dallas Cowboys here yesterday in connection with a wrist injury suffered last year.

The former player, Dee Andrews, 25, claimed in his suit that team doctors in the Cowboys' training camp failed to diagnose as a fracture an injury he suffered to his right wrist.

He said they let him continue playing and a result he suffered severe and lasting damage. He said the injury occurred July 17, 1964.

Andrews reported to the Cowboys as a free agent and was released before the regular season began.

Words Fly Again Over Oil Imports

By CHRLES HASLET

WASHINGTON (AP)— Words are flying again in the Washington battle over imports of residual oil, a heavy fuel used for industrial and other big heating jobs.

The adversaries are the same —the coal industry crying for a tighter choke on the imports and New England and other interests clamoring for more of the foreign fuel.

The National Coal Policy Conference, representing all segments of the coal industry, has asked Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall to reduce residual oil import quotas for the sake of the economy of coal producing areas and in the interest of national security.

Joseph Moody, president of the conference, said data now available on the domestic supply of residual oil "casts serious doubts on the validity" of forecasts on which a 27 million barrel increase in the current import quota is based.

He said there were serious miscalculations of the domestic supply of the fuel and import quotas this year were fixed on the assumption there would be a further decline of 53,000 barrels a day, or 20 million barrels, in the domestic supply. This, he said, would be nearly five times as large as the actual decline in "the most recent year."

Meanwhile, Rep. Silvio Conte, R-Mass., contended that the residual import quota system no longer has any bearing on national security except to endanger the nation's relations in South America.

At a meeting in the office of Buford Ellington, director of the Office of Emergency Planning, Conte said further investigation by that agency of the need for controls on residual imports is a needless waste of the taxpayers' money.

The agency, charged with responsibility for civilian preparedness, is making the study at the request of the Johnson administration.

Minor Jameson Jr., executive vice president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, recently submitted to the agency a statement listing matters he said should be given careful consideration in the study.

One is the extent to which oil imports could adversely affect the stability, health and vigor of the U.S. petroleum industry.

In opposing any increase in the flow of imports of residual oil, the coal and allied industries said in arguments filed with the federal agency that this country cannot afford to risk total dependence by the East Coast on a fuel imported from areas vulnerable to missile attacks from submarines.

Probe Continues In Fatal Shooting

SAN ANTONIO (AP)— Investigation continued today into the fatal shooting of a student doctor from Philadelphia, Capt. Alan Berman, 26.

Berman reported last Friday at the Air Force School of Aerospace Medicine. He was found shot in the head Wednesday in his bachelor quarters at Brooks Air Force Base.

Glassmaking was a major industry of antiquity.

London Changes In Two Decades

By LEO BRANHAM

LONDON (AP) — Any one who returns to London after an absence of 20 years is in for a delightful and surprising experience. Except for centuries-old landmarks, one has difficulty in recognizing much of today's bright and busy London from the dreary, battered British capital of World War II.

Blocks of rubble and bomb craters have given way to office buildings and apartment houses soaring to heights unheard of 20 years ago. A few bomb-leveled areas have been cleared of debris and are used a parking lots. The harsh outlines of the crumbling walls and of ruined structures framing some of these lots are softened by clumps of wildflowers blooming in the crevices.

When I was here before the tallest building was the 11-story University of London. The tallest building today is the 43-story British General Post Office.

I took a sentimental journey to Edgeware Road, near the marble arch corner of Hyde Park, where several American correspondents lived during part of the war. The surrounding area was badly hit by Nazi bombs.

This area of bombed-out London has been entirely rebuilt. A 22-story building is nearing completion.

London's traffic appears almost as heavy as New York's. Traffic often stalls for a few blocks. But not a single horn is honked in a traffic snarl-up.

The biggest change in London traffic is the great number of motor scooters darting around the streets. A magazine says there are 600,000-700,000 on the roads in the United Kingdom, one-third of them in London.

Another very definite change is the human traffic. The tourist invasion of London is expected to be the largest in history this year. The British Travel Association and the London Chamber of Commerce predict a general increase of 10 per cent in tourism this year over last.

Honeymoon Set On Creaking Ship

By JAMES CALOGERO

BOSTON (AP) — She may be an old tramp freighter to the waterfront gang, but for her Greek captain and his young Ecuadorian sweetheart the creaking Ocean Ranger will sail Saturday as a honeymoon cruiser.

Capt. Dimadiros Damaskos, 30, of Volos, Greece, and Miss Sonnia Moreno, 17, of Guayaquil, Ecuador, will be married tonight after only five chaperoned dates 14 months ago.

Damaskos will head the Ocean Ranger for Japan with a load of scrap metal. The captain's quarters will serve as the bridal suite during the 45-day trip.

"Sonnia will go where I go," Damaskos said. "Eventually we'll settle down in my hometown in Greece."

Although Miss Moreno speaks no Greek and Damaskos' Spanish is less than adequate, language is no barrier. They speak to each other in broken English.

Damaskos said he had met his bride-to-be in April, 1964. He brought the Ocean Ranger into Ecuador from Savona Italy, then went to the resort town of Salinas in Ecuador for a few days' rest.

There, while swimming in the Pacific, he first saw Sonnia Moreno.

"It was love at first sight," he said today.

He dated her for five evenings — "all under proper chaperoning" — before the ship pulled out. And for the next 14 months they corresponded.

Last week, when the Ocean Ranger pulled into Boston, a ham operator in suburban Brookline heard about the love-struck captain through the ship's Boston agents, the Bernard S. Costello Co.

The amateur radio operator, James Jacobs, arranged for the couple to speak to each other with the aid of a radio operator in Ecuador.

"That's when I talked Miss Moreno into marrying me," Damaskos said.

She and her father, Raul Moreno, flew to Boston Wednesday.

Youths Have Close Call

DALLAS (AP) — Two youthful window washers fought a duel with death Thursday 19 stories above the city — and lived to talk about it.

Eugene Parish, 29, and Charles Bennett Jr., 28, were washing windows on a scaffold on the 19th floor of the Fidelity Union Tower, about 12:30 p.m. Thursday when heavy rains and blustery winds arrived.

The winds pushed the entire scafford 15 to 20 feet out from the side of the building.

The two struggled to hold on. For five minutes it was touch and go. The scafford swayed back and forth, smashing against the building and then waving as much as 30 feet out from the building.

Finally one of them grabbed a steel rod and smashed a window in the reception room of the Alcoa Co., during a close swing toward the building.

Jack Ogden and an unidentified telephone repairman helped catch the elusive scaffold and pulled the two windowwashers inside.

The muslins of ancient Dacca were the most delicate cotton fabrics ever fashioned.

Episcopal Series Set

The Rev. C. Fitz Simons Allison will be the speaker for 12 weeks on the Episcopal Series of the Protestant Hour, starting July 17 over 525 radio stations, including KSNY.

The program may be heard over KSNY at 5 p.m. Saturday.

Dr. Allison is noted as a historian and a softball pitcher, a theologan and a former Army non-com, a gifted teacher, a skilled carpenter and a charismatic counselor.

His 12 Episcopal Series sermons will be designed to propel his listeners down the King's Highway leading to wholeness and meaning in life by first confronting them with, then illuminating and penetrating roadblocks indigenous to the journey. He compels listeners to probe such puzzles as guilt, suffering, failure and death.

"Christ and Guilt" is the title of the first sermon in the series of 12.

Be still

"Be not righteous overmuch, neither make thyself over wise." Ecclesiastes 7:16.

The over righteous sink on leaden wings.
The man too wise is an owl that sings.
Oh help us somehow find the right
By walking humbly in Thy sight
(In slowing steps or those of youth)
And learning wisdom lies in truth!

2 Hospitals Are Accused By NAACP

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has filed complaints accusing two hospitals in Texas of racial discriminations.

The hospitals are among 12 institutions similarly charged in six southern states. They are Henderson County Hospital at Athens and St. David's Hospital in Austin.

Robert Lloyd, administrator of St. David's, called the NAACP complaint "ridiculous" and "untrue." He said Negroes had been treated at the hospital on a regular basis for about a year in medical and surgical cases.

Lloyd added that St. David's has four Negro professional workers on its staff, including an X-ray technician and three persons in nursing service.

Officials at the Henderson County Memorial Hospital in Athens refused to be quoted on the matter but indicated they felt there was no basis for the charges.

St. David's was accused in the NAACP complaint of excluding Negro professional workers from its staff and of refusing to treat Negro patients.

Lightning Strikes Twice, Kills Cousins

DANIELTOWN, Va. (AP) — Last May Robert Lee Daniel, 79, was struck and killed by lightning as he worked with another man in a tobacco field near this southern Virginia community.

Thursday, his cousin, William Bryant Daniel, 49, was struck and killed by lightning as he worked with another man in another tobacco field, four miles away.

Blazing Sun Blamed In Girl's Death

CHANDLER, Ariz. (AP) — Lost under a blazing sun, stumbling for water, young Cheryl Ebeling, 19, died almost within sight of her home.

Her body was found Thursday, 18 hours after she and her husband, Richard, had abandoned their car stalled in sand.

"I called back to my wife, 'Come on — it's just a little ways now,'" Ebeling said. "When I looked back, she wasn't there."

The couple, married last August, drove into the desert southeast of Phoenix early Wednesday to hike and hunt for rocks. Their car bogged down six miles from the community of Olberg.

Ebeling, 26, said they had given up trying to free the car by noon and, under the 105-degree sun, started walking back toward Chandler some 20 miles away.

"Sticks looked like rattlesnakes, and rattlesnakes looked like sticks," Ebeling recalled.

After four miles, Ebeling said his wife was lagging 50 yards behind him when he climbed a small hill and spotted Chandler-area homes below and Phoenix in the distance.

"I called to tell her the news," he sobbed. "I walked on, thinking she was following. But that's when I should have turned back."

Ebeling reached a telephone, and he and his mother returned to seek Cheryl. During the night, about 50 law enforcement officers joined the search. The young woman's body was found beside a bush the next morning. She was clutching a small shrub for shade.

A coroner's jury ruled she had died of dehydration caused by exposure to the sun.

Soviets Launch 5 With One Rocket

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet news agency Tass said the Soviet Union launched five orbiting satellites today with a single 71, 72, 73, 74 and 75 in the unmanned Cosmos series, which the Soviet Union has been sending up to probe the space around the earth.

Tass said the five Sputniks, like the others in the series which started in March 1962, carried scientific instruments and radio transmitters to send back information.

The agency added that all five went into nearly circular orbits and their equipment was functioning normally.

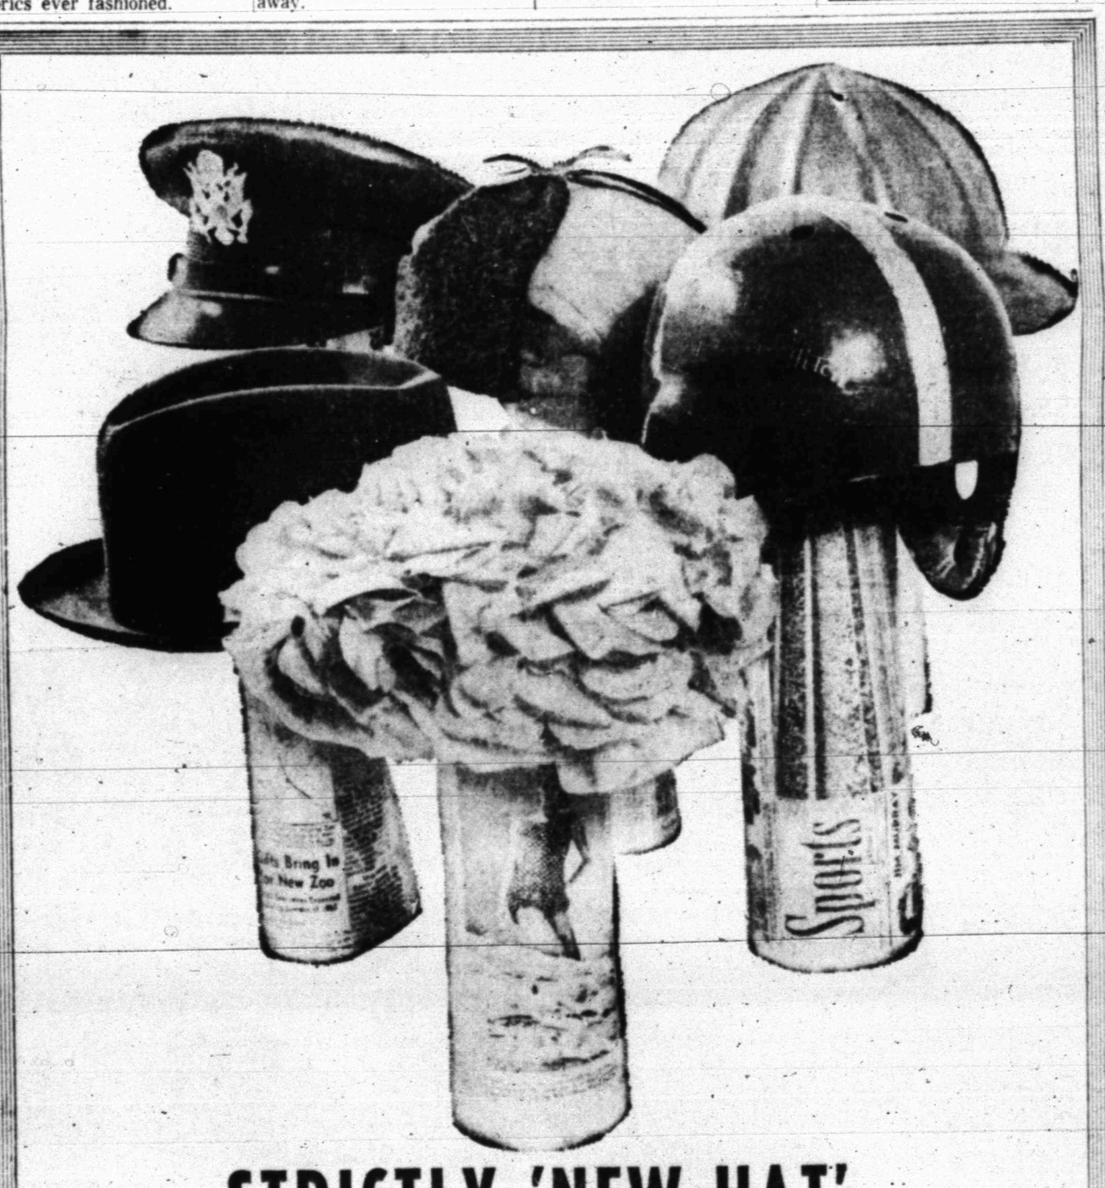
July 25th — Aug. 1st.
A HEARTY WELCOME AWAITS YOU



STRICTLY 'NEW-HAT' EVERY DAY!

There's nothing brighter, fresher, newsier and more welcome than your daily paper. It keeps you current on world affairs, stimulates your mind, tickles your sense of humor, puts facts at your fingertips.

It's short-lived — but it grows old gracefully. Today's paper won't be dead tomorrow or even the day after that. So much that's in it is timeless as well as timely. Things like expert financial and medical advice, recipes, do-it-yourself hints, special features and stories, pictures — these are just a few of the ageless extras your daily paper gives you.

In this era of mass communications, your newspaper stands out as a tangible document. It's yours to read, put down, pick up and read again, clip and save.

Please God, Help Us!

In every man's life there is a moment when he is inadequate to the forces he faces. At such a time only his moral integrity will sustain him.

Those who have based their lives on their own strength inevitably will face the time and the place when that strength is insufficient to the necessity of the moment. They will crumble unless they know that they are never alone . . . that there is a power that can and will help them, no matter how terrible the times.

The man who has learned to rely on God can draw from this source of never-failing power and with resurgent strength face his future, unafraid.
