MOVE TO OUST PRISON BOARD FAILS IN HOUSE

Federal Oil Conservation Board Urges Six-Day Week For Refining Trade

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

The state prison board has decided to receive no more prisoners at the Huntsville prison until something is done to relieve the overcrowded condition there. Senator W. D. McFarlane of Graham has introduced a resolution in the state senate calling upon the members of the state prison board to resign charging that the action of the prison board in refusing to accept prisoners is a political move to force the legislature to adopt a certain prison rehabilitation plan.

There may be something in the charges. Of course the duty of the prison board is to administer the prisons under whatever laws are in force and not to attempt to coerce the legislature. But if the legislature has failed in its duty then the members of the board could throw the responsibility back upon the legislature by resigning.

If the action of the prison board was prompted by a desire to attract attention to conditions it will have that effect as Senator McFarlane's resolution proves. There is nothing like conflict to attract attention. A dog fight is an example, not that Talker would compare a legislative proceeding with a dog fight. But now that there is somewhat sharp and picturesque conflict in the movement we can expect to see the public begin to sit up and take notice of the penitentiary problem.

Donovan Weldon, son of Judge and Mrs. H. F. Weldon of Wichita Falls and at one time a reporter on this newspaper, is in the limelight at San Antonio. Mr. Weldon was city editor of a San Antonio newspaper. In that position he saw many things that needed reform and which aroused his spirit of protest. He resigned his job as city editor and started a weekly newspaper of a crusading type. Boldly and fearlessly he attacked things he believed to be wrong. Now he and a number of his newsboys have been hailed into court to answer charges that they have violated the ordinances of the city by carrying placards through the streets.

If he had not attacked the powers that be, likely he would not have been arrested. He may lose in the San Antonio corporation court but he will likely win with the public.

The "wet" side of the case before the senate judiciary committee holding hearings on the proposal to repeal the 18th amendment will close tomorrow and then the "drys" will start their testimony. The "wets" have made a fairly strong showing for their side of the case. The "drys" will now attempt to make a stronger showing. But no matter what showing is made it is pretty safe to predict that if a proposal to repeal the 18th amendment comes to a vote it will be defeated by a substantial majority.

The sound device has purified the movies, according to a writer in Motion Picture Classic. It has, he says, delivered them right into the hands of the moral-protectors. The principal reason why sound has saved the day for purity, reads Motion Picture Classic, is that a talkie cannot be changed for different parts of the country. Everybody must accept what is permitted by the censorship laws of the strictest state in the Union. What if there are still a few states so radical as to think "hell" a harmless word? They will not be allowed to hear the word "hell" because the Slushville Sewing Bee decided it's wicked. California may not see its "Flash of Flesh" because at Puddleton, Pa., they feel girls ought to wear bloomers, cast-iron girdles and whalebone corsets. Don't believe the ads—they're just kidding. You can see more on the beach any afternoon, and for nothing. Even as I write, a copy of a Hollywood studio daily comes to my desk with a list of new words henceforth to be barred from talkies, by order of the censors. Among them are "bum," "liar" and "hussy."

But if Hollywood has shortened its kisses, covered up some of its "flesh" and toned down its "langwidge" it is still somewhat disrespectful to Mr. Volstead, and really, the talkie patron can still get an eyeful and an earful too.

MANILA, March 4. (AP)—All police reserves of Manila were called out tonight to deal with the strike of 10,000 high school students. Several students and two policemen were beaten, two school officials were threatened with lynching and announcement was made that all strikers might be expelled from schools.

Police Chief Columbus E. Piatt said that he was taking precautions against general rioting in Manila, although he believed there was no serious danger.

Rights of 'New' Texans To Be Given Protection

AUSTIN, March 4. (AP)—The legislature today adopted a resolution assuring property owners in the strip of land heretofore in Oklahoma along the eastern boundary of the Texas Panhandle, that the legislature would do everything it could to protect their rights to title there after the area becomes a part of Texas under a United States supreme court decree. The resolution was by Representative Dewey Young of Wellington.

SABBATH REST PROPOSED FOR FUEL MAKERS

Governors of Three Main Oil States Asked to Aid Gasoline Curb

HUMBLE JOINS MOVE

Texas Subsidiary of Standard to Close All Work One Day Weekly

WASHINGTON, March 4. (AP)—Elimination of Sunday refinery operation was recommended today by the federal oil conservation board to the oil industry to curb increasing gasoline stocks.

The board, composed of the secretaries of interior, war, navy, and commerce, pointed out that refining capacities are increasing faster than consumption.

Aid of the governors of the three great oil producing states—Texas, Oklahoma, and California—was solicited to persuade the industry to adapt a six-day week.

Statement by the board that "there is coming to be too much gasoline" was matched by figures on the bureau of mines showing that 10,000,000 barrels of refined stock have been placed in storage since the beginning of the year.

Unofficial estimates of excess production indicated that nearly 53,000,000 barrels of gasoline are on hand at refineries in addition to unsold stock held by distributors.

"Stocks are higher than they have been since 1927," the board reported, "while the domestic demand is only up to the level of 1928."

Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, said today after a conference with the commerce secretary and with Governor Holloway of Oklahoma, that cooperation of the independent producers of oil had been assured.

Announcing at the same time that he would re-submit his proposal for a tariff on oil Thomas said whether it were obtained or not, the producers would cooperate with the conservation board.

HUMBLE JOINS IN "SIX-DAY" MOVE

HOUSTON, March 4. (AP)—Starting Sunday, March 9, the Humble Oil and Refining company and the Humble Pipe Line company will shut down Sunday on all drilling, producing, transporting and refining operations, "where physical conditions make this possible," W. S. Farrish, president of the former company, announced today.

Where a complete shutdown is unpractical he added, weekly operations will be reduced one-seventh.

Nicholson Vividly Describes Bewildering Cave Tunnel

Milk-White Crickets Only Signs Of Life In Yawning Pit

By FRANK ERNEST NICHOLSON
Leader Carlsband Cavern Expedition.

(Copyright 1930 by the New York Times Company. All rights reserved)

CARLSBAD, N. M., March 4.—The tunnel through which we have been traveling and which promises to lead on to newer subterranean wonders brought us yesterday into a new section of Carlsbad Caverns with a floor level approximately the same depth of what is known as the lower level.

The country we have found, however, is particularly interesting for its hills, valleys and contours and unusually beautiful with a variety of formations that differ altogether from other parts we have seen. The ceiling above is of a white calsite formation that reflects back the rays of our lights giving the impression of a moonlight sky.

There is a maze of immense chambers in seeming endless succession with towering rocks covered with a formation heretofore unfound in the cavern. It is of raganite crystal with a delicate tint of pink and forms in clusters that reminds one of orchids.

We were making a careful scrutiny of one small chamber when I discovered a black pit small in diameter. After making soundings, we hitched a 150-foot rope to a stalagmite at the edge of the hole and descended hand over hand to a ledge a bit over 100 feet deeper. Here the hole turned and continued on to a black depth impenetrable even with a powerful flashlight. I shouted up for more rope and descended approximately 90 feet further. Still the pit yawned beneath me.

I was now too deep for my shouts to be audible to those on the level above me so another member of the party descended to the first ledge. I relayed an order for more rope and the third strand gave me access to a room 1350 feet from the surface of the earth, establishing a new deep level 325 feet lower than what was formerly considered the deepest level of the Carlsbad Caverns.

The room I found was a bewildering chamber filled with mammoth formations that resembled huge monsters lying about the floor, grotesque, eerie, things one sees in that gap between the consciousness and the semi-consciousness of a dream.

The descent had been an exhaustive one and and I stooped down to drink from a cool pool of water. The bottom of the pool held a large deposit of the most perfect cave pearls I have ever seen. Gradually I became conscious of a chirping noise beside a nearby formation. It proved to be a nest of crickets, white as milk and strange to say they were not blind, and I am at loss to explain their source of food.

I was exhausted from the strenuous climb down the rope. The heat here was stifling and there seemed not enough air for one to breathe. I glanced back up the shaft to where the remainder of my party stood, 325 feet above, equal in height to a 30-story building.

I dared stay no longer in this chamber that seemed lacking of air and began climbing the long rope, swaying from side to side against sharp formations on the walls of the pit that brought blood. After what seemed to be an eternity but what in fact was a little less than two hours, I pulled myself over the edge of pit and was back with my companions.

We continued surveying the territory in the vicinity of the shaft and have come on to a hallway that leads upwards.

The air current here is strong like a breeze of fresh air, and we are hoping it will carry on to another entrance, which we want so much to find.

Farm Board May Seek Rail Embargo On Grain

OIL DUTY FIGHT TO BE RENEWED

Franklin Tells Committee of 'Intimidation'

WASHINGTON, March 4. (AP)—Another effort to obtain a tariff on crude oil and petroleum products was promised today by Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, as the senate lobby committee completed its investigation into activities of independent oil operators in behalf of a duty.

Senator Thomas made his announcement after the committee had finished questioning Wirt Franklin, president of the American Independent Petroleum Producers association, which had advocated a duty of $1 a barrel on crude oil and 40 per cent ad valorum on petroleum products.

An amendment by Senator Thomas to make these rates effective was defeated by the senate by 12 votes. He intends to offer a modified amendment, probably for a duty of 80 cents a barrel on crude oil and 40 per cent ad valerom on petroleum products.

The committee today summoned Philip P. Campbell, a former representative from Kansas, to appear tomorrow for questioning concerning any attempt he may have made to oppose an oil tariff. Franklin told the committee Friday he understood Campbell had been "looking after the interests of the Standard Oil company."

Most of the testimony today centered around statements by Franklin that the independent oil companies had been "intimiated" by

Final Vote on Sugar Tariff Increase Today

WASHINGTON, March 4. (AP)—A final vote on an attempt to increase the sugar tariff in the senate will be taken tomorrow at 3 p. m. with both sides conceding a close decision.

The sugar tariff came up again late today as the senate completed nearly six months of work on the Hawley-Smoot bill in what is known as "committee of the whole" and took up the measure for the final phase of revision. With the controversial sugar duty out of the way, an early decision on the whole bill is expected.

Colorado Fugitive Held in New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, March 4. (AP)—Carey Adams, alias C. C. Arnold, Colorado fugitive banker, was arrested here today by police and held for federal authorities in Colorado on a fugitive's warrant. Adams was said by the police to have been indicted in Denver, Colo., in connection with the failure of a bank in 1927. He refused to discuss the charges against him, but police said Adams admitted to them he was at one time connected with the First National bank of Denver.

CAR VICTIM DIES

MARLIN, Texas, March 4. (AP)—Gabe Simmons, 23, died today of injuries suffered when his automobile overturned Monday night on the highway four miles west of here.

Mardi Gras Reveler Is Gun Victim

NEW ORLEANS, March 4. (AP)—J. Adair (Tiny) Lawrence, 28-year-old Tulane university medical student and former football player with the Green Wave, was shot and instantly killed today as with college companions he joined a street fight between sailor-costumed revelers and negroes in the French quarter as the mardi gras celebration was at its height. He was a native of Tahlequah, Okla., where his parents reside.

Police said they learned from witnesses that Lawrence was riding with fellow students in a truck chartered like many others to parade the streets of the city. Their journey through the French quarter brought them to the scene of the fight, and Lawrence jumped from the truck joining the melee.

He was badly beaten about the head, and police arrested William Springer, 33-year-old negro, who witnesses said struck Lawrence with a club, and tonight officers were seeking another negro.

Mrs. Pauline Jolly Claimed by Death

Mrs. Pauline Jolly, 71, pioneer settler of Clay county and former resident of Wichita Falls, died in a local hospital about 12:30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The aged woman, whose home had been in Long Branch, N. J., for the past several years, came to Wichita Falls last Feb. 1. She became ill and was taken to the hospital Feb. 21, her condition growing more serious until her death. She left this city about seven years ago after a residence in this section of the state since 1889, when she first came here with her husband, William Jolly, who died in Long Branch several years ago. The body will be taken to Long Branch for interment.

The nearest surviving relative is a sister, Miss Lydia Holden, who has been here with the aged woman since her arrival.

Mrs. Jolly married in New York at the age of 16, she and her husband moving to Clay county a few years after the marriage. There they acquired extensive farm and ranch property, which remained the property of Mrs. Jolly until her death. The community of Jolly about eight miles southeast of Wichita Falls was named after the family. Mrs. Jolly was originally a Denver, Colo., girl.

Pioneer citizens in all parts of Northwest Texas knew the family, which was numbered among the first to begin settlement of this territory.

Lawyer-Business Woman Shoots Self to Death

LAREDO, Texas, March 4. (AP)—Borrowing a pistol from a chief deputy sheriff, Mrs. Elizabeth Threadgill, 40-year-old Laredo lawyer-business woman, shot and killed herself in her automobile near here today.

Her body was discovered by a man and woman whose attention was attracted to the automobile, parked in an out-of-way place, by a stream of blood running down its side. Mrs. Threadgill was shot through the head. The borrowed 45-caliber, pearl handled pistol was found in the car.

A justice of the peace returned a verdict of suicide.

STORAGE GLUT AT TERMINALS

Legge Says Hoover Backs Board's Actions

WASHINGTON, March 4. (UP)—Heavy congestion of wheat in terminals may bring the government to ask railroads to embargo shipments to terminals, Chairman Legge of the farm board said today. The board is seeking to avoid such drastic action, however.

The board's own purchases before its recent decision to purchase only at the market price contributed considerably to the brimming grain elevators of the wheat concentration centers, he said.

Legge and Agriculture Secretary Hyde acted today to intervene in the senate's proposed grain investigation, by asking action on the Nye inquiry resolution be delayed until they can appear. Chairman McNary of the agriculture committee told them to appear before the committee Friday.

The agriculture committee decided also to call the American minister to China, Nelson Johnson, and Chairman John Barton Payne of the Red Cross for advice on a bill to authorize purchase of 25,000,000 barrels of American wheat or flour by the farm board for shipment to China for famine relief.

Legge in discussing the possibility of a wheat embargo, made another defense of the decision of the farm board advisory conference in Chicago in stopping its attempt to peg wheat above the market price.

President Hoover, according to Legge, has supported the board in every move it has made so far, but the president did not request the Chicago action.

Legge said the Chicago order, which involves only the stabilization corporation, does not affect the loan value status of wheat. Loans on grain, made exclusively through another farm board agency, The Farmers' National Grain corporation, will continue to be made independently of the market price of wheat, he indicated.

Texas Prison Muddle Threatens Law Enforcement, Martin Declares

Wichita Judge Urges Legislators to Agree on Some Program To Remedy "Horrible Conditions"

A plea for sweeping changes in the present prison system in the interests of law enforcement, and to prevent in Texas prison riots which have occurred elsewhere, was made by Judge P. A. Martin in a letter addressed Tuesday to the legislative representatives of the district at Austin.

The letter followed an announcement from the prison board declaring that no more prisoners can be accepted until the prison population is reduced. Judge Martin declares that "horrible conditions" at Huntsville and on the farms will make juries over the state hesitate to convict men, hampering law enforcement. His letter adds that a repetition of the riots at Auburn and Canon City may be expected in Texas at any time unless conditions are improved.

Solons Urged to Agree

The judge declared that he favors Governor Moody's plans for a new penitentiary near the seat of government, but urges the senators and representatives to come to some agreement, regardless of expense, which will meet the situation.

"It would seem that we are making bad men worse, instead of better, by sending them to the penitentiary," the judge declared, "I believe that conditions can be permanently improved only by sweeping changes."

The letter, addressed to Senator W. D. McFarlane, Cecil Story, J. D. Avis and Bob Long, is quoted in full below:

"Gentlemen:

"As a citizen of this state, and as a public servant, engaged in the administration of the laws of the state, I am deeply concerned about pending penitentiary legislation, and I write to say to each of you gentlemen, that I believe it to be absolutely necessary for the legislature to agree upon some measure that will completely rehabilitate the system. I notice in this morning's paper that the penitentiary commission has passed a resolution closing the doors of the penitentiary to any further increase of its population, which, of course, will mean that the counties of the state will have to care for all convicted felons until some relief is furnished.

Difficult to Convict

"I believe also that the horrible conditions existing at Huntsville, and on the prison farms becoming known to the general public, will make it quite difficult to convict men and send them to the peni-

Evidence Explodes To End Liquor Trial

OAKLAND, Calif., March 4. (AP)—Just as the prosecution was about to introduce in police court today the evidence in the case of John Kruzevich, charged with a liquor law violation, the evidence exploded with a bang. It had been contained in a jug which rested on the clerk's desk.

After gazing for a moment at the red wine, being absorbed by the courtroom carpet, Judge Howard L. Bacon dismissed the case "for lack of evidence."

ABILENE JUDGE DIES

ABILENE, Texas, March 4. (UP)—Judge H. A. Tillett, 69, former state senator and resident here for 46 years, died today from heart failure.

RANDLETT MAN HURT IN CRASH

Don Chandler Near Death In Wichita Hospital

Don Chandler, 23, of Randlett, Okla., was probably fatally injured late Tuesday night when the car which he was driving overturned on the highway on the outskirts of Randelt.

The injured man was brought to the Wichita General hospital in an ambulance from the Owens Funeral home of Burkburnett, called to Randlett after physicians there had examined him. An X-ray examination at the hospital here revealed a critical fracture of the skull extending from below the right ear almost across the top of the head. Physicians stated they had not determined the amount of hemmorhage of the brain at an early hour Wednesday morning but little hope was held for his recovery.

Mrs. Chandler, also in the machine at the time of the accident, was seriously injured but examination revealed no fractured bones and she was taken to her home in Randlett. Mike Marson of Randlett, another passenger in the car, suffered deep gashes on his head but was reported resting well at Randlett late Tuesday night.

The accident occurred but a few minutes after Chandler had started to drive out of town, it was reported. The machine had attained high speed soon after the start when it suddenly swerved and catapilted on its top, crushing the passengers inside.

BURKBURNETT MAN HURT IN ACCIDENT

O. H. Dixon of Burkburnett, oil field employe, suffered the loss of three fingers on one hand and a slight fracture of the arm in an accident at a rig near Iowa Park late Tuesday, according to reports of attendants at the Wichita General hospital, where the injured man was brought following first aid treatment in Iowa Park.

RESOLUTION TO ASK OFFICIALS TO QUIT FAILS

Proposal Altered to Merely 'Deplore' Before Vote Is Taken

NEW POLICY FLAYED

Legislators Call Barring of New Convicts Violation of Law

AUSTIN, March 4. (AP)—The house of representatives late today refused to rebuke the state prison board for its action yesterday in issuing orders that the doors of the penitentiary system be closed temporarily to new comers.

The vote came after much juggling which turned an outright proposal to oust the board into a proposal to "deplore" the board's action, terming it "ill-timed and ill-advised." The proposal also would have placed the house members on record as not "desirous of being coerced to legislate along lines to meet views of the prison board."

SULPHUR TAX

AUSTIN, March 4. (AP)—The senate state affairs committee tonight voted to place a tax of 50 cents per ton on sulphur, cutting the tax proposed in the house bill in half. Vote on the motion came after the committee rejected an amendment which would have placed an occupation tax on all the natural resources being exploited in the state. The bill proposing $1 tax however, will come before the senate for action through a minority report being prepared by Senator Nat Patton of Crockett.

Resignation Asked

The original resolution by Representatives J. C. Duvall and Frank Patterson of Fort Worth and W. E. Pope of Corpus Christi called for resignation of the board, on grounds it had acted "contrary to law," in ordering transfer agents of the penitentiary to accept no more prisoners until the present population had been decreased to the "normal capacity."

It recited that the board would "not comply with the laws of this state," and that their action was "contrary to the public policy and the best interests of the state." After suggesting that the members turn in their resignations, it proposed that the governor "appoint men who will endeavor to obey the laws of this state in managing and conducting the penitentiary system."

Reprimand Fails

The amendment to merely "deplore" the action was sent up by Representatives Coke R. Stevenson of Junction and W. K. Hopkins of Gonzales and Duvall accepted it. The vote to adopt the amendment carried, 55 to 52 but the resolution

Coolidge Urges Southwest to Work For Boulder Dam in Arizona Speech

COOLIDGE DAM, Ariz., March 4. (AP)—Standing upon the concrete mass of a great irrigation dam named for him, former President Calvin Coolidge today took the occasion of its dedication to urge the people of the Southwest that they dedicate themselves to reaching agreements for the successful construction and operation of a greater public project—Boulder dam.

The ex-president, directing his voice across the waters slowly rising behind the great structure, threw out a summons to the throng gathered upon the rugged mountains encircling the irrigation lake.

"This dam and its waters do not need dedicating," he said, "it is the people gathered here who need to be dedicated.

"You have not yet been able to agree as to the details of Boulder dam development, and I think that you should take my advice to you. Whether you be Arizonians, or from Nevada, Utah, Colorado or California—when you get home take down your Bibles and read that passage which says 'agree with your adversaries quickly.'"

Coolidge called upon his listeners to dedicate themselves to the "advancement of religion, the benefits of education, to better homes and a better country." He said he had done all he could to make Coolidge dam possible and also "the very best I could to make Boulder dam possible."

Administration Spokesman Denies Alarming Reports of Unemployment

WASHINGTON, March 4. (US)—Alarming reports of unemployment were discounted by Secretary of Labor Davis today.

At the same time he made the specific charge that the delay of congress in enacting the pending tariff bill is largely responsible for what unemployment does exist.

The fact that the secretary's statement was issued following a meeting of President Hoover with his cabinet, at which the unemployment situation was discussed, was considered significant.

Reports received by the president were said to indicate that the nation's business is sound and that there is no excuse for apprehension.

Before issuing his formal statement, Secretary Davis sharply opposed the proposal by Senator Brookhart of Iowa that congress appropriate $50,000,000 in doles for the unemployed.

"The American worker does not want doles—he only wishes a honest day's work and an honest day's pay," he said. "The $50,000,000 could better be applied to public works."

In his formal statement the secretary predicted that the decennial census will show 43,000,000 out of the country's 46,000,000 workers employed.

CHURCH PLANS 'OPEN HOUSE'

First Baptist Members Asked to Reception

The entire membership of the First Baptist church and non-members who have been attending services will gather Wednesday night in a "church reception" to be held in the basement of the church between 8 and 10 o'clock.

A special program of entertainment has been arranged, and Dr. O. L. Powers, pastor, has urged the attendance of each of the 2,300 local members in the fellowship gathering.

Dr. Powers said Tuesday that invitations have been extended to 1,265 Wichita Falls homes represented in the membership. Of the 3,000 members enrolled, 2,300 are residents of Wichita Falls, he explained. The invitation includes also many not enrolled who are attendants at the church.

"We are hoping to solve the city-church problem of 'knowing others in the church' in this fellowship reception," the pastor explained.

The regular mid-week prayer service will be held as usual just before the reception hour.

Students Give Program For Shrine Meeting

Members of the uniformed bodies of Maskat temple and their ladies Tuesday night enjoyed an entertainment program in the temple auditorium atop the City National bank building when Miss Hermione Vanghan, director of music at the high school and Junior college, presented the high school orchestra and several young entertainers in musical numbers.

Plans for the spring trips of the uniformed bodies, scheduled for discussion Tuesday night at a business session, were postponed until a later meeting, probably the regular meeting of the temple next Tuesday night, according to Potentate Ed Peterson.

The program for the evening opened with "March Militaire" and "Moonlight on the Nile" by the high school orchestra. Miss Lillian McAbee gave musical readings of "Your Mother and Mine," "King for a Day" and "Little Pal," later presenting "Ship o' Dreams" with the orchestra accompanying. The orchestra concluded with "Indian Dawn."

Featured on the program were Misses Lucile Snyder and Lucile Crouch in a violin duet, accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Crouch at the piano.

Nobles and their ladies remained following the program for a social hour in the temple.

Prison Board Ouster Move Fails; Convict Bar Widely Protested

as amended then failed of adoption.

Action of the prison board agitated both houses of the legislature and emphasized the strained feelings that had existed over whether the prison system should be rehabilitated as it is now situated or centralized around a main industrial plant near Austin.

Opponents of the Austin site plan contended that the prison board's order was timed to influence the legislature to vote for the administration bill proposing centralization near the state capitol.

Governor Moody denied that he had any knowledge of the board's proposed action until after it was taken.

STORM OF PROTEST FOLLOWS ACTION

Varied threats and predictions were made Tuesday from county officials over the state regarding the order of the Texas prison board that no more prisoners be admitted to the penitentiary system until over-crowded conditions are relieved, according to Associated Press dispatches to The Record News.

Sentiment of several county officers was expresesd, Judge P. A. Martin of Wichita Falls, who said there was a possibility of a "serious situation" resulting from the order.

"The jails in most places are over-crowded, as well as the penitentiary, and the action in regard to convicts will aggravate the situation, which may grow more serious as time goes on," Judge Martin said. "I believe that the convict is better off in the penintentiary, if he is sentenced there, than in the closer confinement of a jail. If the situation is prolonged, I shall not be surprised to see jail rots."

Debenport Threatens

County Judge H. R. Debenport at Big Spring said prisoners sentenced in his court would be held in county jail for a reasonable period, but should the state indicate it would leave the prisoners for an indefinite period they would be taken to Huntsville by county officers and virtually "dumped" within the walls.

Officials of Gray county viewed with apprehension the decision of the board. County Judge Ivy E. Duncan said should many more prisoners be placed in the Pampa jail the county would have to board them in neighboring jails.

Pessimism was the dominant note of Chief Deputy Sheriff Oscar Fleming's comment in Houston. "I don't see how they'll turn them down, and I don't know how we can manage," he said. "We have only a small county jail, and little room in the city jail."

Dallas county officials said state prisoners would remain in jail at Dallas until the agent of the state prison system comes for them.

Adams Unworried

"I'll just do what the laws provide," declared Judge Grover C. Adams. "I'll sentence my convicts and let them remain in jail to await the coming of the prison agent. If no agent comes, it will be no worry of mine."

Sheriff Henry Brooks of Bowie county said the ruling would "strike us particularly hard at this time. There are now about 45 or 50 inmates in the jail at Boston, so we are nearing capacity."

Tarrant county officials believed the warden of the state penitentiary could be cited for contempt of court for refusing to take prisoners.

Reports from San Antonio, Sherman, Brownsville, San Angelo, Corsicana, Amarillo, Brownwood, and Corpus Christi indicated the ruling would not affect jails in those counties, at least for a while, as none of them was reported filled to capacity.

HOUSTON MEETING OF BOARD ADJOURNS

HOUSTON, March 4. (AP)—Its order refusing newly convicted prisoners admittance to the Texas penitentiary system still in the status quo, the state prison board adjourned its regular meeting today while wide discussion concerning its action continued.

The board's resolution was not taken up further, W. A. Paddock, chairman said.

His body, he added, had no authority that he knew of to remunerate counties for the expense which which keeping men sentenced to state prison in jail will create. The board, he explained, probably would fill each vacancy in "the walls" and farms with the man whose commitment dates was the oldest without regard to which of the several jails was the most crowded.

Meanwhile, at Huntsville Warden E. F. Harrell announced he immediately would put into effect the order. Only men already on the way to the prisons will be accepted.

MARTIN URGES PRISON CHANGE

Wichita Judge Declares Conditions 'Horrible'

tentiary, especially in minor felonies. I can well remember the effect produced by a certain candidate going over the state and exhibiting to his audiences the leather strap with which convicts were being whipped in our penitentiary. It was used as an argument with telling effects by attorneys representing the defendants in the courts. I was a district attorney at the time, and I am quite sure that the present conditions will make it all the more difficult to enforce the law.

"I am inclined to believe that Governor Moody's idea of an entirely new penitentiary situated near the seat of government is the best solution of the problem, but whether this idea is adopted or not, I am quite certain that radical change is absolutely necessary. We can not afford to temporize with this vital question. Something horrible like the occurrences in Canon City, Colo., and Auburn, N. Y., may happen at any time.

"I believe the people of Texas want a penitentiary system that will accomplish in some measure, at least, the two-fold object of criminal laws; this is, first, the reformation of the offender, and second, the setting of an example that will deter others from violating the law.

Tells of Appeals

"From the pitiful appeals that I receive from men who have been sentenced in the 89th district court, and the descriptions I have heard of the conditions at Huntsville, and on our prison farms, it would seem that we may be making bad men worse, instead of better, by sending them to the penitentiary. So, I appeal to you gentlemen to lend your support to any measure that promises a reform of present conditions, and I believe the citizenship of Texas will approve your action regardless of the expense involved.

"I don't believe that conditions can be permanently improved except by a sweeping change.

"I trust that neither of you will consider this letter presumption upon my part, for I assure you that it is prompted only by a sincere desire to see the law enforced and its ultimate objects attained.

Yours very truly,
P. A. MARTIN,
Judge 89th district court.

SIX-DAY WEEK FOR REFINERS

Conservation Board Urges Weekly Holiday

operations," the announcement added, "no reduction in personnel and no reduction in payroll is now contemplated."

The action was in response to the oil conservation board's suggestion that gasoline refining operations be put on the basis of a six-day week schedule to cut down increasing surplus stocks.

"These companies," Mr. Farrish said, "have not participated in the accumulation of excess stocks and crude and gasoline and their operating program is now in balance; nevertheless they are adopting this policy, both on account of their consistent desire to cooperate with the conservation authorites and also because they see in this suggestion of the federal oil conservation board, if followed by a corresponding reduction in crude producing and transporting operations, a practical means of relieving the situation which has resulted from the over-production of crude and gasoline by the industry as a whole."

The suggestion of the board relates only to production of gasoline. It is obvious, however, that if refinery operations are decreased the volume of raw material must of necessity be decerased in like porportion, as otherwise the waste which the conservation board is seeking to avoid would merely be transferred from storage stocks of gasoline to storage stocks of crude."

large companies. He said, however, he was unable to produce any evidence.

Franklin said William G. Skelly, of Tulsa, Okla., president of the Skelly Oil company, had told him privately he was for an oil tariff but that "he was in such a position as national Republican committeeman and his company in such a position that he could not afford to come out openly."

Pressed for details, the witness asserted:

"Senator Blaine, if you had been in the oil business as long as I have, and had had your credit cut off by reason of positions you took in it, if you had known these conditions where these major companies controlling the finances of the United States prevent an independent oil company from getting the necessary help to carry on its business, you would not ask such questions and you would not be on the side of this case that you are if you knew the facts."

GRAHAM TRIAL SEEKS JURY

Slayer of Man Who Killed Father in Court

Special to The Record News.

WALTERS, Okla., March 4.—The trial of Jim Graham, charged with the murder of Harry Adair, convicted slayer of J. D. Graham, late city marshal of Temple, Okla., and father of the defendant, got under way here today. Selection of the jury began at 3 p. m. and 12 men were in the box when court adjourned today.

Peremptory challenges by attorneys had not been exhausted, however, and the process of obtaining the jury will be continued Wednesday morning.

Adair was shot to death as he was being shaved in a Temple barber shop on the morning of Jan. 28. Jim Graham entered the shop unaware, it was said, of Adair's presence. When the hot towels were lifted from Adair's face, Graham recognized him and the shooting followed.

Adair, at the time of his death, was on bond awaiting the outcome of an appeal of a 40-year sentence imposed after his conviction of the murder of the Temple city marshal. This killing occurred on a night in the spring of last year. The city marshal, it was said, had requested Adair, said to have been drinking, to leave a pool hall and go home. Adair departed, it was said, returning later with a shotgun. The officer was shot to death in the street.

In the present case the lawyers representing the defendant and the state are somewhat juggled. The firm of Lon Morris and son, which assisted in the prosecution of Adair last year, is defending Graham; while Water Hubbell, attorney who defended Adair, is assisting in the prosecution of Graham. The trial is being presided over by Judge W. M. Pugh, of Marlow, Okla., sitting for Judge E. L. Richardson, who is holding court in another district.

The case is attracting wide interest.

"Hello! Hello! How Much Does Happiness Cost?"

Only the price of learning a simple health rule, this smiling youngster finds!

"Happiness is on the other end of your phone too," says little Barbara

"HAPPINESS just radiates from our baby since we began giving her—".

What was it that Mrs. Fred E. Schmitt of 2023 Stone Street, Falls City, Nebraska, discovered, which she could give to her baby that made her happy, well, strong and buoyant?

Not a medicine; not a drug of any kind; just harmless bodily lubrication. Only that, and nothing more. Mrs. Schmitt's discovery that little Barbara kept well when she was made regular as clock work is the same discovery as has been made by millions of other people, who are enjoying the happiness of health because they use Nujol.

Babies, old folks, people in the prime of life—all alike need to have the bodily poisons (we all have them) regularly cleaned out. Drugs, cathartics, pills, all they do is irritate the body and you have to keep increasing the dose. Nujol works in an entirely different way. It is not a medicine at all. It just gently, naturally, normally lubricates the actions of your body, which needs lubrication as much as any other machine.

We have just had over five thousand letters from people all over the world—and all of them discovered this same way to be well and happy. Do you think so many people can be wrong?

Please remember that Nujol contains no drugs; is non-fattening; is not absorbed in any way by the body; can form no habit; cannot hurt you, no matter how much you take. All it can do is keep you internally clean, and make you continually feel better. Colorless, tasteless as pure water, Nujol will make you see the bright side of life; it will help you to get the most out of your life; it will make you wake up in the morning feeling fit, and help you to do a good day's work with a smile.

Millions of people have discovered this fact—why don't you? You can buy Nujol in sealed packages at all drug stores. It costs but a few cents, and makes you feel like a million dollars. Get a bottle today and see how brimming zestful health will boost your day's happiness.

GIRL TO STUDY JUNGLE TRIBES

California Student to Enter Brazilian Jungles

NEW YORK, March 4. (UP)—A dimpled young woman, graduate student of anthropology, will sail from here Saturday for Rio de Janeiro en route to the interior of Brazil. There, with no white companions, she will endeavor to find and study a "lost" tribe of Indians.

Elizabeth Steen of San Jose, Calif., is the adventurer who believes she will be the first civilized person ever to set foot in the particular region of Matto Grosso that is her goal. For aides she will have only an Indian guide and a negro maid interpreter. She faces, among others, these dangers: The poisoned barbs of native arrows; the mad rushes of herds of peccaries; the sting of death-dealing insects; the fatal venom of reptiles; the enervating heat of the equatorial jungle.

"You know," Miss Steen confided to the United Press today, "I'm almost scared to death."

But, frightened or not at the perils and hardships that lie ahead, Miss Steen is determined to go ahead with the expedition that may result in the award of a doctor's degree from the University of California. Her sex, she believes, will aid rather than handicap her when she meets hostile tribesmen.

Miss Steen hopes to learn from the savage Karajas the whereabouts of "the lost tribe of the Atpirape"—a band that at least 200 years ago retired to a district north and west of the River of Death after a series of defeats in battles with other Indians.

Insects, she declared, probably were more to be feared than humans or wild animals. The mosquitoes in that locality consider ordinary netting a tasty hors d'oeuvre. Cambric masks and thick clothing—even in temperatures of 130 degrees—are necessary.

Because of numerous rapids in the Araguaya river, making portages a common occurrence, Miss Steen will be able to take little food with her and that mostly hard tack and other concentrated calories.

Prosperity Just Ahead for Mexico

MEXICO CITY, March 4. (AP)—Close observers of the Mexican political situation feel that the next six months will be of utmost importance in determining the country's future, the predominant hope being that within this period Mexico will be well embarked on policies which should lead her to progress and reconstruction.

Early indications of President Ortiz Rubio's intentions are viewed as constituting a harbinger of solid stability and, now that the president has recovered from his wounds and is actively engaged in his work, rapid strides toward achievement of his plans are looked for.

Communism apparently has been done away with definitely in Mexico, and ample guarantees are promised for foreign as well as native capital. The proposed labor code, which caused a storm of protest from capital when it was presented in congress a few months ago seems to have been well pigeon-holed, and prominent government spokesmen have been quoted in remarks calculated to inspire the confidence of investors. Recently General Jose Maria Tapia, governor of the northern district of lower California and considered one of the brightest prospects in Mexico's administrative ranks, said there was no place in this country for bolshevism and declared capital would receive the fullest protection.

Girl Sold as Bride Regains Her Freedom

MOSCOW, March 4. (UP)—A pretty 13-year-old girl, sold for 200 rubles as a bride to a 17-year-old boy, has been restored to freedom, and the parents of both children have been expelled from Moscow for three years.

The transaction took place in Moscow, where a public trial was staged in an effort to counteract the ancient custom of bride purchases.

All persons involved in the sale were Syrians, from a region where fathers always provided their sons with the healthiest and prettiest child brides they can afford.

'Radio War' Between Rumania and Soviet On

BUCHAREST, March 4. (INS)—Rumania has declared a "radio war" upon Soviet Russia, it was learned today.

Rumanian officials charge the Soviet government is fomenting revolution in the province of Bessarabia by causing propaganda to be broadcast from Russian radio stations in the Rumanian language.

Hereafter, whenever such propaganda broadcasts are heard in the air, Rumanian stations will broadcast on similar wave lengths to drown out the Russian sending stations.

There still are many ranches of more than 100,000 acres in the Southwest.

Bill Would Avert City Receiverships

AUSTIN, March 4. (AP)—A bill exempting cities from being operated under a receivership where the records show all property has been assessed at its full value and the taxes used for the necessary operating expenses of the government has been introduced in the senate by Senator Oliver C. Cunningham of Abilene and in the house by Representative O. F. Chastain of Eastland.

Senator Cunningham said the bill was designed especially to be of assistance of the city of Cisco, which had been unable to meet its annual payments on $4,500,000 in bonds.

It was pointed out that when Cisco was booming a few years back the taxable valuations were $16,000,000, but that they had fallen to between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000.

PECOS MURDER GOES UNSOLVED

Woman and Girl Are Still Unidentified

DEL RIO, Texas, March 4. (AP)—Although a complete description of the murdered woman and girl whose bodies were discovered recently on the Pecos river has been broadcast, there has developed no hint either as to their identity or that of the slayer. Pecos county officials, with only slender clues to guide them, admit the grim tragedy has eluded all efforts at a solution so far.

A laundry mark on a sheet, which with a kimona, was wrapped around the body of the woman, and the number on the movement of a wrist watch found on the bridge of the road between Imperial and Grandfalls, from where officers think the bodies were hurled into the river, are the only tangible things to work on.

The woman was apparently around 32 years old, five feet, four to six inches tall, and weighed about 130 pounds. She had brown hair, and rather coarse features. Two blows from a blunt instrument had fractured her skull. Two rings adorned the fingers. One was a white gold, rather expensive circlet, the other just a cheap ring.

The girl was apparently about 12 years of age. Her brown hair and eyes and pug nose that featured the older woman led officials to believe they were mother and daughter. The girl was clad in fairly good clothes with one strap pumps. She had been choked, it was indicated by marks on the throat and a protruding tongue. There were bruises also on the forehead which led officers to believe the girl had witnessed the slaying of the older woman, had attempted to interfere and had been killed to silence her. No autopsy was held.

Although E. C. Dyche of Fort Stockton, justice of the peace, conducted an inquest, a formal finding has been delayed in hope of at least establishing the identity of the victims.

Officers think the crime was committed a considerable distance from where the bodies were found, probably some oil field settlement.

Sisters Differ Widely in Views Upon Politics

NEW YORK, March 4. (US)—The Socialist platform strikes at the roots of our American policy of progressive individualism, which, tempered by the principle of equal opportunity, has been the bedrock of our political, social and economic life.

So writes Evelyn Tuttle, 21, daughter of U. S. District Attorney Charles H. Tuttle and like her father, a rock-ribbed Republican.

"Bosh," thinks her sister Charlotte, or words to that effect. Charlotte, 19, is a Socialist. She is a junior at Vassar, where she heads the League for Independent Political Action, the Socialist organization there.

Charlotte's political and sociological views are the result of six week's work last summer in a Chicago print shop, where she saw girls trying to live on a weekly wage of $13, for which they worked nine hours a day.

Last November she took an active part in efforts to unionize workers in exclusive Fifth avenue dress shops. She addressed a public meetnig while her father listened proudly from the audience.

That Evelyn was likewise active politically became known Thursday, when she won a prize at a meeting of the girls' Republican committee of one hundred for her essay, "What Is Your Republican Intelligence Quotient?" The above dismissal of Socialism is quoted from that essay.

THREE BRIDGE BILLS FAVORED

House Committee Approves Red River Plans

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 4. (UP)—Bills authorizing construction of three free bridges across Red river by Oklahoma and Texas were reported on favorably today by the house interstate commerce committee. Congressman Milton Garber advised state highway commission members.

The bridges will span Red river between Durant and Denison, Thackerville and Gainesville and Ringo and Terrill.

Garber advised the commission the measures would be rushed through the house so they may be had at the earliest possible moment.

Senator Elmer Thomas has told the commission he expects the senate interstate commerce committee to report favorably on the main bills this week.

The three free bridges will replace present toll spans.

"This favorable action is after a most determined effort on the part of present bridge owners to prevent passage of these bills," Highway Commission Chairman Lew Wentz said.

Smelting Patent Battle Settled For $1,059,584.99

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4. (US)—Patent infringement claims of George C. Carson against the American Smelting and Refining company have been settled for $1,059,584.99, it was revealed today.

The definite figure, long a source of conjecture in financial circles, was made public for the first time in the annual report of the company.

Carson, until a few years ago a penniless metallurgist working on his patents in a little waterfront hotel room, became reputedly a multimillionaire over night when his basic patents on a certain type of smelter were upheld by the courts.

He obtained the backing of Rudolph Spreckels, Robert Hays Smith and other capitalists in pressing his infringement suits against most of the corporations of note in the metals industry. Under this corporative plan, it is understood, Carson receives only a percentage of the proceeds of the litigation.

It has been estimated that $20,000,000 or more would be recovered by Carson and his backers of infringements. That this may be excessive, however, is indicated in the fact that the American Smelting and Refining company settlement was rumored at the time it was effected to be close to $5,000,000.

More than 10 suits, including that against the Anaconda Copper company, have been settled as a result of Carson's victory in the courts. Several more are pending.

Exact figures on the settlements have always been jealously guarded by the parties concerned in them.

One reason for her husband's parsimony, the wife alleges, is "another woman," a fact which she says she only recently discovered.

GIRL SHOOTS TO SAVE HOME

Young Woman Wounded By Daughter of Lover

ALAMO, Ga., March 4. (INS)—While Miss Grace McDaniels, 26, of Chauncey, Ga., lay seriously wounded with a pistol bullet near her heart, authorities today investigated the story of Miss Marion Bullard, 18, who declared she shot the wounded woman to "preserve her home."

Miss McDaniels was shot once by the young girl, a high school student, as she alighted from her automobile parked in front of the filling station operated by Miss Bullard's father, F. I. Bullard.

After the shooting, Miss Bullard returned to her home. She was not arrested.

Officers investigating the case quoted Miss Bullard as accusing the wounded woman with having caused the estrangement of her parents. The girl also charged that Miss McDaniels had "taken my father from me."

A divorce suit is now pending between the parents of the young gun wielder. The mother conducts a hotel here.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

Two ladies, very young, in red dresses sat in a local cafe. One had voluminous skirts swirling round the legs of the chair; the other a gracefully crossed pair of ankles. When they put on their coats to leave, the dress did not show beneath one outer garment but the other had long circles of red swinging to touch the floor with glimpses of legs between. Old and new styles and we must confess we like the old style better.

Smoking in public cafes has grown to be a regular procedure. And when one smokes, she might as well smoke in public as in private—but there are inhibitions it is hard for one to overcome.

On March 2, there were 268 fewer people who attended Sunday school in Wichita Falls than on the previous Sunday. Some one suggested the previous warm weather gave opportunity for new dresses and hats, but we insist that warm weather slipped up on women before they had time to buy spring toggery.

A new moon shone Monday night and it came near being the death of us. We always like to see the gleaming crescent and if our glance had not been just a casual one Monday evening we'd be sleeping a dreamless sleep at present. For a car that didn't hold nature lovers, passed us at a terrible speed just as we jumped out of its way. The law against passing stopping cars while passengers alight is one not well observed.

Osbert Sitwell has written a new novel and he says in his introduction, "The adventures of the mind and soul are more interesting because more mysterious than those of the body." We expected that Mr. Sitwell would talk—and possibly think—that way when we saw the "too-awful" pose of his photograph.

The more we learn of Wichitans, the more we find the citizens are readers. The more we question, the more we find the horizon of the city has been widened by literature.

Lives that would have been futile under the same circumstances 25 years ago, are rich in contact now. Good stories, good books—bring a far wider horizon.

We truly believe that our children can have no greater gift than that of being taught to read good books while young.

We remember with a tender irony our choice of literature as a child. But all of us regard our young selves with tender irony unless it is with bitterness.

There's a tale told of Douglas Jerrold who, while recovering from a violent illness, tried reading Browning's "Sordello," and could not get a consecutive thought. He was sure his illness had affected his mind until Mrs. Jerrold, glancing at the book, said, "Bother that gibberish; I don't understand a word of it!" Jerrold was relieved.

So many of us have feared our minds were not built right because we could not get from certain learned books what some one else professed to get. It's good to know we are not mentally defective. There's every sort of literature being poured into the world in our day and one mind can't appreciate all.

SLENDERIZING THE LARGE FIGURE
Pattern 1844
By ANNE ADAMS

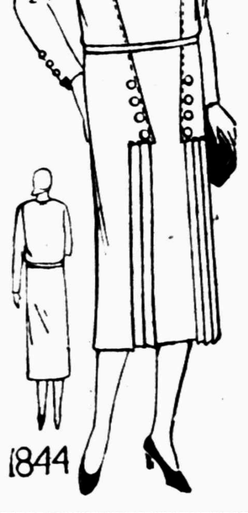

The woman of more ample proportions will welcome this smart frock because of the slimming effect created by the long, slender front panel. Skirt fullness is achieved with narrow pleats inserted in the front skirt. The belt is very narrow and does not detract from the length giving lines.

Favorite Books of Wichita Women

MRS. H. B. PATTERSON

Mrs. H. B. Patterson, who has the reputation of being one of the best read women in Wichita Falls, says she has no favorite book, that she is a greedy reader and likes many.

One gathers that books, to Mrs. Patterson, must be more than something to pass an idle hour. There must be a fundamental truth in her reading. History, biography and travel stand high in her affection and most of all, she likes stories of people who have battled with the earth and people who have achieved.

"I believe I would have made a good farmer's wife," Mrs. Patterson said. She felt the kinship with the soil shown in the saga "Joseph and His Brethren," by Freeman. Ellen Glasgow's stories of the battles after the civil war to reclaim plantations and Willa Cather's stories of the pioneers tug at her sympathies. Sigrid Undset's trilogy of Norwegin life makes her feel the pull of the centuries depicted.

Then in achievement, Paul de Kruif's "Hunger Fighters," his "Microbe Hunters" and "Ten Iron Men" stand out pre-eminently.

"I've traveled all over the earth" said Mrs. Patterson, "with amagination and a good book of travels." Then she spoke of the fireside book that had probably done her more good than almost any other "The Meditations of Marcus Aurelius Antoninus."

To crown all this, Mrs. Patterson is now studying the course outlined by Will Durant and says she is astonished in the outline of science, to find how many of the little scientific facts she has forgotten.

George E. Cornforth of Melrose, Mass., spent 20 years making a single cane, of 10,294 postage stamps run through by a steel rod and hammered to ivory hardness.

Heirs of J. R. Walkup Settle Contested Will

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, March 4.—The heirs of J. R. Walkup, who died several months ago, came to a compromise today following a hearing before Judge A. J. Fires in district court on a contesting action filed by relatives of the deceased. The property left in the will located in Colorado and Hall county, was divided evenly between the heirs and Judge J. M. Elliott.

The original bequest left the entire property to Judge Elliott, with whom Mr. Walkup had made his home here for many years prior to his death.

Wife Wonders How Husbands Can Be Pleased

"Why Are Our Husbands Always Holding Up to Us as the Objects of Their Admiration Women Who Have Certain Qualities and Do Certain Things, and Then, If We Try to Follow Their Example, Bat Us for It," Quaries a Disgruntled Wife.

"What I can't understand about men," said a woman the other day, "is why they don't like the qualities in their wives that they admire in other women.

"Now my husband, for instance, has a keen eye for a woman who looks like a living fashion plate, and he is always telling me about how smart Mrs. Smith dresses, or what a lovely frock Miss Robinson had on, or what a gorgeous wrap Mrs. Brown has, but does he want me to go and doll myself up in imported finery? Not a bit of it. He never notices what I wear, and if I have a new hat or a new gown I have to call his attention to it and ask him how he likes it, and then he just says "ug-ugh" without ever looking up from his newspaper.

"And he enjoys the society of intelligent women who are well educated and well read and who can discuss the new books, and world movements, and things like that, and who are witty and apt at repartee. When we meet that clever Miss Green, or he draws that interesting Miss Gray as a dinner partner, he just hangs on their words and comes home singing their praises.

"But when I try to talk to him about books or tell him a good story he yawns in my face and asks me if the plumber came to fix the leaking faucet in the bathroom, and how is little Johnny's cold. What he wants me to talk to him about is the gossip of the neighborhood and the family—what his mother wrote about the old cow being sick, and his sister's new baby, and how late the boy friend of the girl next door stayed last night, and the awful way in which the Jones' hired girl went off and left them when everybody was sick.

"And my husband is always telling me about what a fine business woman Mrs. Thompson is, and that, by George, he takes off his hat to a woman who can start a business on a shoestring and build it up the way she has done hers, and that she is as keen on a trade as a bank president, and that nobody could take her in on a deal. But if I should suggest going into business he would go up in smoke, and his favorite story is telling how I sold an old clothes man $50 worth of clothes for 50 cents.

"And he is always talking about how well groomed some woman is, and how beautifully manicured her hands always are, but goodness knows what would happen if I spent most of my time and money in the beauty shops. Now what I would like to know is, why is this thus? Why are our husbands always holding up to us as the objects of their admiration women who have certain qualities and do certain things, and then, if we try to follow their examples, bat us for it?"

"For precisely the same reason," I replied, "that when a man goes to a restaurant occasionally he orders caviar and made dishes, but for daily consumption he wants roast beef and potatoes. We all like to nibble on candy now and then, but we would perish of surfeit on a steady diet of chocolate creams.

"And that is the way men are about women. They enjoy the exotic women that pep them up for a bit, but for wives they want the nonspectacular women who are strong on the good old-fashioned feminine virtues, and who do not have to be lived up to, or make too great a demand upon them.

"In their hearts men have a passion for extravagantly dressed women. They adore laces and chiffons and satin slippers and furs and jewels, but the only time they can give themselves up freely to the admiration of these gewgaws is when some other man's wife or daughter has them on. When it comes to paying for such fineries themselves, that's another story, and that is why your husband praises Mrs. Smith's and Mrs. Robinson's Paris frocks, but never suggests your going to the same specialty shop.

"Of course a clever man enjoys the conversation of a bright and witty woman now and then, but he doesn't want any wise-cracker on the earth who would make a snappy comeback every time they had any family argument, and whose tongue would be a two-edged sword that stabbed his vanity to the quick. He would rather have some dumb Dora who would think him an oracle, and who would end a domestic discussion with a burst of tears instead of an epigram.

"Once upon a time I heard a famous man say of a famous woman: 'She is brilliant and fascinating and there is nothing I enjoy more than a conversation with her, but I wouldn't marry her if she was the last woman in the world. Fancy being married to a wife who would always keep you on your tiptoes to keep up with her, and who would want to spend a pleasant evening discussing some abstruse theory of philosophy. I get enough of that sort of thing in the outside world in my profession.

"When I come home I want to come to a cheerful woman who will chatter along about things that are as inconsequential as the piping of a canary in a window, and to which I won't have to give more than one lobe of my weary brain. I want a wife who will coo to the baby, not one who will want to give me her idea of the theory of relativity."

"And that is why men marry as they do, and why wives can afford to smile at their husbands' admiration of other women."

Rehearsal Dinner Honors Miss Jewel Rose Akin

The bride-elect's chosen colors of green and white made a setting of beauty when Mrs. J. W. Aiken Jr., entertained Tuesday evening at the Woman's Forum clubhouse with a rehearsal dinner honoring Miss Jewel Rose Aiken, whose marriage to Dan Thomsen of Amarillo is a social event that will unite members of two pioneer families Wednesday at high noon.

The dining table was lovely with an imported cover of madeira and Italian cut work. The silver bowl in the center was filled with fragrant plum blossoms, white roses with trailing sprays of ferns. Green candles in green crystal holders and white and green crystal service emphasized the springtime motif. Place cards were miniature brides and grooms.

A delicious five course dinner carrying out the bride's colors was served to the bridal party and out-of-town guests.

Covers were laid for Miss Jewel Aiken and Dan Thomsen, Dr. and Mrs. R. Thomsen of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Aiken Sr., Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Aiken of Amarillo, Mrs. J. H. Cochran of Orange, Texas, Miss Marguerite Fisher, Mrs. F. M. Hansen, Jack Wayland of Amarillo, John P. Aiken, Tom Cochran and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Aiken Jr.

Ten Oklahoma Banks Get Judgment in Suit

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., March 4.—Judgment amounting to $9,167.98 was rendered by Judge Frank Mathews in district court here today in favor of 10 banks of Jackson county against Mrs. Rotha Smith as county treasurer, for recovery of tax paid into the county treasury under protest in 1928 in excess of four mills or $4 per $1,000 valuation.

The judgment was sought for the reason that all the matters in controversy have been finally settled by the decision of the supreme court of Oklahoma last Oct. 29, wherein E. B. Bonaparte, as county treasurer of Oklahoma county, was plaintiff in error, and the American First National bank in Oklahoma City, was defendant in error.

APPETITES MUST BE AROUSED

Essential Foods "Go Begging" When Lacking in Flavor

Foods rich in vitamins, minerals and roughage often become tiresome to the taste. This may be due to incorrect cooking or the fact that the food itself is lacking in flavor.

Vegetables are outstanding in the class of foods that "go begging." Spinach is rejected because its flavor is too mild. Tomatoes are often "turned down" because their flavor is too sharp. Carrots and peas, when too old, or cooked too long, become tasteless.

By using sugar to season these vegetables as they cook, their flavor will be noticeably improved. A dash of sugar to a pinch of salt is a good rule to follow. It is surprising how this combination will heighten, for example, the mild flavor of spinach and pleasantly soften the sharp taste of tomatoes.

Doctors and dietitians are heartily in favor of this use of sugar in making essential foods more pleasant to the taste — not only of adults but of children. They also approve the serving of wholesome desserts as a means to introduce variety as well as nourishment in the diet. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

Healthiest!

"My little daughter is about the healthiest girl I know," says Mrs. Wm. L. Pieper, 1043 Drexel Ave., San Antonio. "And I want to give credit where it is due.

"Elaine was constipated several years ago and I gave her California Fig Syrup. It helps her so wonderfully that I have used it ever since for all her upsets or colds. It has kept her strong, energetic, rugged."

Children suffer when bowels are not regular. Breath becomes fetid; tongue coated; eyes dull. When these symptoms are neglected, biliousness, feverishness, lack of appetite invariably follow.

The first dose of California Fig Syrup relieves these symptoms and activates sluggish bowels. Successive doses help tone and strengthen weak bowels; improve appetite; encourage digestion and assimilation. Try it with a bilious, headachy, constipated child and see how it helps.

The pure vegetable product, endorsed by doctors for 50 years, always bears the name California. Be sure to look for it when buying.—Adv.

NEW MEMPHIS CHURCHES OPEN

Dedication Services Held by Congregations

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, March 4.—Memphis is celebrating the recent completion of the new $40,000 educational annex to the First Baptist church and the dedication of the new mission style Church of Christ. The two new structures have just been thrown open to the congregations through widely attended dedication services.

The educational annex, which included two full stories, a basement and a "top floor," will be used to house every department of the Sunday school, the business offices of the church, assembly halls, and a banquet hall in the basement. The annex adjoins the main church structure, reached by a spacious archway, much of which was financed by the women of the church alone.

The new Church of Christ was built at a cost of $20,000. It is distinctly modern and embodies some of the most recently developed ideas of church architecture. It is a substantial brick veneer structure.

The church consists of one main floor and a basement, and is of old Spanish mission type construction. At the top of the steps are four octagon pillars, believed to be the only ones of their kind in Texas. The main auditorium measures 50 by 60 feet and has a seating capacity of 500.

Clutching at a Marvel

EITHER some kind of an authentic curse protected the tombs of the dead pharaohs in Egypt's Valley of the Kings, or the arm of coincidence is proving rather longer than usual.

Nine men who were connected with Howard Carter's famous excavations there have died—most of them violent deaths. Lord Westbury, leaving a note saying "I cannot really stand any more horrors,' is the latest and the most matter-of-fact person can hardly read the account of his taking off without feeling a faint, somewhat delightful chill run up and down his spine.

Yes, there have been nine deaths; and if you choose to believe that some ancient curse is really working, you can make out a pretty good case for yourself.

A great many people, judging from casual conversations, do hold to that belief. Indeed, the curious thing about the whole business is not the string of nine deaths so much as the eager way in which people are talking and thinking about them. It almost seems as if a large portion of the public found it comforting and pleasant to credit this fable.

After all, is it surprising that this should be the case? A skeptical age, living by scentific formulas, has gone shy on mysticism. It will have no miracles that cannot be worked out in the laboratory. Probably the trouble that started when Benjamin Franklin proved that the thunderbolt was not the thrown hammer of an angry god but a simple electrical phenomenon that could be harnessed and duplicated; but at any rate we have reached a point where everything, from high to low, is explained, measured and documented.

Into a situation like this, a horror story such as this business of the curse of the pharaohs comes positively as a relief. No wonder people are snatching at it, giving it a measure of belief even when, in the bottom of their hearts, they know that they doubt it. It is a marvel, even if a grisly one. That, in an age that has outlawed marvels, is enough.

The wanderings of the human spirit are strange. One of the great items on the credit side of the ledger for this scientific era is that it has freed us from the necessity of believing in baleful spirits, foul spirit-lands where dreadful shapes move for the discomfiture of mortal men. The werewolf and the banshee have been chased over the borders. And yet—

And yet we have grown so sick of the matter-of-fact, the purely material, that we jump at the chance to believe in a lot of tarradiddle about nine men being killed by a curse 30 centuries old!

In other words, there is something in mankind that impels it toward mysticism. If our current civilization has left our mysticism no outlet except cheap shockers like this Egyptian curse, the whole business needs considerable revision.

Why Not Use the Rack?

MICHAEL FIASCHETTI used to be in charge of the Italian squad of the New York City police force. Now he is at the head of a private detective bureau; and he believes that any American city can quickly clean up its underworld problem if it will only let its police use the stool pigeon and the third degree in unlimited quantities.

The stool pigeon, as you know, is an underworld informer; a member of the criminal class who secretly passes out information to the police.

And the third degree, of course, is the business of taking a prisoner and hammering the living daylights out of him until he confesses.

Fiaschetti defends both of these system. He has found, he says, that they work; and he can't see any sense in handling gangsters with kid gloves.

Several years ago, he says, a little boy was kidnaped and murdered in New York. The police for a long time got nowhere in their investigation. Finally Fiaschetti got a stool pigeon, who told him who the murderers were. There were five of them. Fiaschetti arrested them, but he didn't have enough evidence to take them to court. They refused to talk.

"Then," says Fiaschetti, "I went to work. I put the five men in a room and walked in several minutes later armed with a sawed-off baseball bat. When I came out there was blood spattered on the walls and ceiling—and I had five signed confessions. All the men went to the electric chair."

The end is usually justified by the means, and the murderers of a small boy hardly deserve much sympathy, no matter what happens to them. But just suppose that in some similar case the stool pigeon might make a mistake, or lodge a false accusation to work off a personal grudge, so that the police should become convinced that five utterly innocent men were guilty.

Is there anything very agreeable about the thought of a burly cop wading in, with a sawed-off baseball bat, using it until "there was blood spattered on the walls and ceilings"—when all of his victims were innocent?

That's the sort of thing that can and does happen when third degree methods are used. Men have confessed to crimes they never dreamed of committing, just to escape from being beaten to death.

Besides, if we are going to make human torture a part of our police methods, why use baseball bats and fists? The police of the middle ages had better ideas. Why not go back to them? If we must torture prisoners to get confessions why not install the rack and the thumb screws and the other devices of the inquisition?

The third degree, after all, is only a substitute for brains. The police of London do not have to use it—yet they manage to convict a far higher percentage of criminals than our American police do. They are able to get their evidence in legal ways. Are we too dumb to do likewise?

Things I Never Knew Till Now

That away back (oh, long before you were in long pants) a femme tagged Artemesia married her own brother. And after his death and cremation she drank his ashes in hooch. Just a nize gurl.

That equal parts of mutton tallow and lemon juice make a swelegant lotion for your chapped paws.

That man's lot is no cinch, either!

That Gilbert Gabriel, of the N. Y. American, had an interest in the Vanderbilt theater but gave it up when he became a critic.

That sow stews cure their hiccoughs by swallowing a tablespoonful of powdered sugar, dry, but a surer cure, believe you me, is drinking a glass of water through a napkin.

That most people who yell murder in restaurants when they find a fly in their soup never think of disinfecting their phone mouthpiece.

That they are reviving the ditty called: "If the Plymouth Rock Had Only Landed on the Pilgrims Instead of the P. I. o. t. Rock."

That a plot is on to make people believe Joseph Hilton Smyth, who parented the Satevepost yarn, "Back to Broadway," is none other than Retlaw Chinwell. Mr. Smyth is a local advertising man.

That the pay-off in left-handed slaps is the shaving cream ad in the Feb. 22d Satevepost which is running a contest and which states: "To insure fairness we have engaged Liberty Magazine to act as the judges!"

That the smarter speakeasies on Park avenue sell you a book of coupons for $10, each coupon rating a dollar drink and the only design on the coupon is a Liberty Bell. Heheheh.

That the first play performed in America was "The Merchant of Venice," which was done in 1752 in a Virginia town.

That to evade the payment of taxes in England, St. John Ervine has incorporated himself, his letterheads now reading: "Ervine, Ltd."

That Lindy's check for $25,000 for flying to that dear old Paree may be seen at the desk at the Brevoort hotel, if you say "Please?"

That when Hylan was mayor here he granted an official pardon to the pirate, Captain Kidd, the document now hangs on the walls of "The Pirate Den."

That, according to "Stable Wise," a book about horses, the knees of a horse correspond to the human wrist, and that the hoof of the front feet is similar to the nail of your third finger and, wait a moment, that the hind hoof is like your toe. Tee, hee.

That there are verse writers who think they can imitate Dorothy Parker by using flip last lines, and there are other mistaken people.

That the best snap-out-of-it lotion is the juice of a lemon, a teaspoonful of bicarb, and a dash of seltser.

That Rudy Vallee is evening things with the columnists from the stage of the Brooklyn Paramount. But what kind of circulation is that? Huh.

That "Strictly Dishonorable" and "June Moon," two of New York's most popular hits, are Chicago flops.

That gals can make themselves blush by holding their breath.

That "Sons o' Guns" is the first musical comedy of its class and cost to start making a profit after its third month.

The Trash Can Beautiful

The very latest freak movement in America is a drive to glorify the rubbish can. A New York society has offered a cash prize of $500 for the best design for a municipal trash receptacle that will be a thing of beauty and a joy forever.

The trash can now used in most American communities is unnecessarily ugly, the society believes. People ignore it. The need of America today is a rubbish can that will have "it."

"PHILLIPS"

The Rubbish Can Beautiful, as it were.

What do you do when you see a trash can on a street corner today? Does it attract you? Do you feel drawn to it? Are you moved by an urge to know it better? Frankly, do you give a whoop about it one way or the other?

Probably not. The reaction of the average American to the present-day rubbish can is that it is just a rubbish can, severely plain and coldly uninteresting. If there is one thing toward which a person finds it difficult to show any tenderness it is a trash can. You never hear of anybody looking at a rubbish can and murmuring, "Oh, isn't it a dear? I love it!" Or, "How chic!"

Now, at last, the matter has been taken up by a group of serious rubbish-can thinkers, a rubbish-can cult, a sort of Society To Give the Trash Can Its Place in the Scheme of Things.

The organization behind the drive sounds a clarion call for the Trash Can Beautiful. It must be of an artistic design and color scheme, pleasing to the eye, and it must be designed to be attached to a pole or tree, instead of standing on the sidewalk.

It must be something you will have to look at twice before deciding whether it is a trash can, a flower box, a Japanese vase or some kind of decoration for a Mardi Gras. Under no circumstances must it look primarily like a rubbish can.

And there must be a slogan with the winning design.

Something like: "The Trash Can You Love to Touch!"

Or "Try the Rubbish Can Beautiful. It Satisfies."

Or possibly, "The Trash Can With That Certain Something."

And be prepared for a movement to beautify the letter box, make the fire alarm more ornamental and transform the hydrant into something any patron of the arts would like to have in front of his home.

Rainy Day at Ormond Beach

Here I sit in this hotel
With the weather far from swell,
Harking to the pelting rain,
Staring at the weather vane.

Things outdoors an awful mess,
Indoors only slightly less.
Tinkle, tinkle, highball glass,
Tell me if the storm will pass.

Sitting here quite sore and pifft
Watching for the wind to shift,
Muttering through long-drawn mouth
"So this is the Sunny South!"

MOODY SEEN AS HAVING 'EDGE'

If Governor Seeks Re-Election, He'll Be Favorite

By R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 4.—Four of Texas' most spectacular campaigners are expected to beat the bushes for votes in the Democratic campaign for governor this summer. In fact three are already actively at it. The fourth is expected to get in soon.

The three political figures extraordinary now at work for the nomination are former Gov. James E. Ferguson, former United States Senator Earle B. Mayfield and State Senator Thomas B. Love. The fourth expected to make the race is Governor Moody.

Presence in the campaign of Ferguson, Mayfield and Love is designed to have much to do with Governor Moody's decision to seek a third term.

Miller Has Following

Certain people who do not want either Ferguson, Mayfield or Love as governor, and who, under normal circumstances, would not be "hot" for Moody have decided that Moody is the man to beat either of the other three.

Of course, there are others in the race, but interest now centers on the four mentioned, although Lieut. Gov. Barry Miller still has a sizeable following and insists he will stay in regardless of who runs.

But, observers have predicted that Love would withdraw in case Moody got in. They claim he would then become a candidate for lieutenant governor, shifting his fight to get a place on the Democratic ticket from the governor's office to that of lieutenant governor.

Some folks who are now strong for Moody would not be so enthusiastic if they did not believe he is the only one who can defeat Love under the present lineup. On the other hand, there is an element that ordinarily would be for Love or Mayfield who are afraid Ferguson could defeat either in a run-off primary, hence they prefer Moody to Ferguson and would vote for him to avoid a situation that caused Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson's nomination in 1924 when she went into the run-off with Judge Felix Robertson.

Moody Has Edge

All things considered, it looks like Governor Moody occupies an advantageous place should he decide to try for a third term.

His friends claim he does not want to be governor longer, preferring to retire to practice of law in an effort to recoup his private fortune, somewhat depleted by his four years as chief executive. However, he feels the legislature has not reflected the sentiment of the people in the matter of remedying penitentiary conditions and is of a mind to try for another term in order to thrash out the matter before the people.

They said his decision to abandon public life entirely lent strength to his own beneath-the-surface argument that he should run, in that he feels, having decided to rest his political honors with the governorship, he could afford to be defeated for a third term.

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home

You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough or chest cold can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in millions of homes, because it gives more prompt, positive relief than anything else. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to make a full pint. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes good—children like it.

You can actually feel its penetrating, soothing action on the inflamed throat membranes. It is also absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. At the same time, it promptly loosens the germ-laden phlegm. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief even in severe bronchial coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Scenes from the "Girl With Red Hair"

Gay Terris, young, pretty, left the doctor's office in a daze. Everything before her eyes seemed clouded and she walked to her office with a slow, weaving step. Where could she get $5,000? She must have the money to send her sick mother to Arizona. But into Gay's thoughts came no one who would loan her $5,000. What could she do?

Back at her desk, Gay tried to work, but tears came to her eyes . . . her mind was too troubled to even read her dictation notes. Then suddenly Gay flicked the cover off her typewriter, inserted a piece of paper and quickly typed: "Personals. Young girl in desperate circumstances will agree to marry for loan of $5,000. Address Box . . ."

Just as Gay hit the last key she felt a chill run down her back. Someone was standing behind her. Without looking up, Gay hurriedly placed the piece of paper that held the fate of her future life into the drawer of her desk. As she raised her head, a voice behind her said, "Miss Terris, would you mind coming into my office. You might bring that bit of paper with you."

Gay didn't need to look up to know that voice. It was Mr. Patterson, 50, a bachelor and Gay's employer. Trembling she seated herself in Patterson's office.

"You wrote this?" came Patterson's cool voice, after glancing at what Gay had written. "You are in earnest about this, Miss Terris?"

"I'm going through with it," said Gay. "I must have $5,000. I need it desperately!"

Without another word, Patterson drew out his check book, filled out a check to Gay for $5,000 and handed it to her.

"Then, Miss Terris, we will be married in three months," said Patterson. Gay couldn't find her voice. Jumbled thoughts ran through her mind.

Married to Mr. Patterson, she thought! This was different than she had imagined. But she had to have $5,000. With a trembling hand, Gay took the check from Mr. Patterson and without saying a word, left his office. Only three months of happiness, then marriage with a man she never could learn to love. But a lot can happen in three months. What will happen to Gay Terris?

Hand Surgery for Adhesions

When the adhesions have become tightly formed, the most satisfactory way to loosen them is by means of deep manipulations with the skilled fingers of someone who has learned the technique of this particular work. If you have been told that you have a serious case of adhesions, I am sure that you will appreciate the knowledge that most adhesions can be separated bloodlessly by stretching them loose with the special manipulations that have been developed in the last few years.

As the well trained fingers of your treating doctor work to separate these organs that have joined together, you can notice the improvement as the connecting tissues are gently severed, and the beauty of this treatment is that it can be done without the need of cutting into the walls of the abdomen and without the danger of serious surgical adhesions forming. The bloodless treatments for adhesions is practically painless and even in severe cases the connective tissues can be severed although sometimes it takes several months of treatment. As these adhesions disappear, it is interesting the watch the progress under the fluoroscope of the x-ray. And as these kinks and adhesions are banished, constipation and digestive disorders often disappear with them.

Once the adhesions have been removed, you will have to keep your normal muscular tone by taking various abdominal exercises. Those taken while standing are not of much value. Take either the exercises on the slanting board or those while lying on the back with a pillow under the hips. You can develop your abdominal muscles so that you need not fear a future return of prolapsed organs and adhesive tissue.

In cases where the internal muscles surrounding the intestines have become weakened from years of prolapsus or adhesions, they often do not respond to any exercise which you can give yourself, but fortunately there is an electrical machine invented which will cause these sleeping muscles to wake up and move with vigorous contractions. There are a number of forms of this machine put out by various companies, but they all use the slow sinusoidal wave current. The best method is to use a slow alternation of relaxation and contraction so that the muscles have a chance to work and then rest.

Even though one is old it is often possible to develop the abdominal muscles until they are as firm and flat as in youth.

The protruding abdomen is usually a sign of prolapsus within and should serve as a warning indication.

Although the effects of adhesions are quite serious and far-reaching if not attended to, it is a satisfaction to know that they can be readily overcome through the use of the right methods.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Fruit Juice

Question—M. E. T. asks: "In taking your orange juice diet, do you suggest using the juice with the pulp left in or straining it?" Personally, I like it better strained, then eat the pulp later. Is it good policy to mix the orange juice with grapefruit juice at various intervals for a change? I am planning on taking this diet for 30 days.

Answer: It is not necessary to strain orange juice, but I would not advise you to use the heavy pulp. It is all right to mix the orange and grapefruit juice, or you may add lime or lemon juice. These fruits are all citrus acid fruits and their juices combine together.

Sleeping After Meals

Question—G. K. asks: "Will you kindly tell me if it is harmful in any way to one's health to lie down right after a hearty meal and sleep 15 to 30 minutes? Would this practice cause indigestion or heart trouble?"

Answer: It is always a good plan to lie down and rest after a meal. Digestion is improved in this way as most of the bodily energy is used in the digestive processes. There is no reason why it should cause heart trouble unless you overeat, causing food or gas pressure against your diaphragm.

Do Nerves Rebuild?

Question—Mrs. W. asks: "Is it true that nerves do not rebuild themselves when once destroyed? Also do poisons such as alcohol, nicotine, phosgen and chlorine if consumed or inhaled often but in small doses destroy the nervous system or injure it beyond repair?"

Answer: Some cells are completely destroyed through injury and never rebuild but with the ordinary changes taking place in the body the cells are rebuilt as fast as they are destroyed. Wood alcohol destroys cells often causing blindness, but grain alcohol is a stimulant and does not cause poisoning except when used in excess. Nicotine is a violent poison but only small amounts are taken in through chewing tobacco and smoking. Phosgen and chlorine are poisonous in large quantities.

Woman Nominated To Unveil Statue

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 4 (UP)—Mrs. Mattie D. Robson, 53-year-old Oklahoma City resident, today became the first nominee to unveil the statue of the "pioneer woman" at E. W. Marland's estate at Ponca City.

The ceremony will be held at the wealthy oil man's estate, April 22. The committee in charge of the ceremony is searching for an outstanding pioneer woman of the southwest to jerk the silken cord that will drop the veil from the bronze statue.

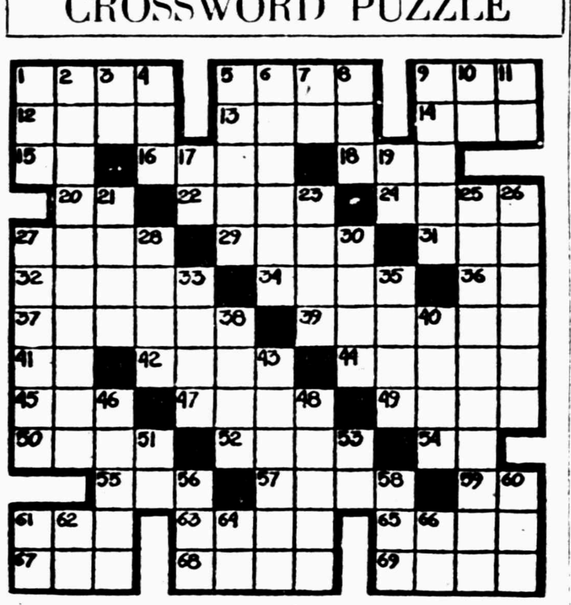

Mrs. Robson started her pioneer days in Texas and recalled today the time when a herd of stampeding Longhorns kept her up a tree on her parents ranch along the Brazos river. She later came to Oklahoma and was postmistress at Cordell eight years.

Sex Pamphlet Case May Go to Supreme Court

BROOKLYN, N. Y., March 4 (UP)—The case of Mary Ware Dennett may not yet be closed, United States Attorney Howard W. Ameli indicated today by announcing that he would ask the solicitor general of the United States for permission to carry the case to the United States supreme court.

Mrs. Dennett was convicted and fined $300 last April for sending her brochure, "The Sex Side of Life," intended for the education of children, through the mails. It was charged that the pamphlet was obscene.

COMPROMISE GIVING BABE RUTH $85,000 CONTRACT IS RUMORED

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED D. THOMPSON

Up betimes and while breaking fast did saye unto my landladie: "Woman, I shall to the course," whereon she did say, "What?" and I did answer glibly, "Of course you would know nothing about the course," being mistaken badly, however, for she did fire back, "Aye, you may start on the course, and mayhap in course of time you will learn to stay on the said course."

My face did flush and I made no retort but hoisted my clubs and did take five golf balls, and after calling two friends and having them get me we fared unto the sunny fairway in surging spirits, singing on the way a merrie drinking song, albeit we drank nothing but the sweet air, the which I much prefer to the wash being peddled hereabouts.

And as our motor chariot roared up to the clube house we saw a fair beautie with driver uplifted, and she did strike a mightie stroke, the ball ascending unto the very heavens, and then did crash on the fairway and with a quivering bounce did jog along at a merrie rate, whereon I loudly exclaimed "How divine!" but she heard, and thinking I spoke of her form—her golf form, I do mean—she did titter, whereon I blushed and hurried to hire a caddie, not leaning unto foolishness this day.

So to the tee, and my friend Bill being the best wielder of clubs, Tom and I did let him strike first, but he did woefully, I thought, although I said with great heat, "An omnivorous pelt, my friend!" my mother having taught me at her knee to saye words that would be relished at all times. Then Tom did wield, and so I, but neither of us having lessened the distance to the hole as did Bill, I chided myself for my unspoken hypocrisy, and so much did I ponder thereon that for six holes I was aquiver with a revolting conscience and did putt in most miserable fashion.

And at the seventh hole it did come unto me that the greate golfers win through sheer mentality, the greatest drives being first thought, then done, and that a mind stuffed with insincerity such as mine was as an oat stack on the green, and I did finally regain my pure conscience and so could look Bill in the eye, and I thought thereby to play a mightie game of golf.

But wurra, wurra, what should happen but that I, while concentrating on a mightie drive at the eighth tee, did so congratulate myself on my regained inner purity, and did so eagerly look for the reward of my virtue that I did miss the drated ball entirely with an awful whif that showered the unclean dust o'er my pantaloons and onto my sweater, and my comrades did augment the mess by a fury of laughter, and so I, muttering, followed them the remaining holes unable to stroke grandly, being confused in my logic, which, indeed, appeared quite illogical. And so we finished, my distemper refined by the kind words of my comrades who seemed quite expert in consoling losers, an accomplishment which I suspected, however, of being much diluted with inner sniggers.

As as our gas buggie did clip along I suddenly bethought of a nobler game than golf, to-wit, baseball, and to my comrades I exclaimed, "Let us to Athletic park whereon the Spudders gambol, and there we can observe the game so that we may learn it, and have done with this piddling golf business!" but they laughed again, saying I was a poor loser and did think of baseball only because of my cellar score at the green. But I was quite athletic and afire with sports, and as they proceeded to their labors I hied to the lot and eyed the players, being quite aghast at the manner in which they did make great hurls, and some of them did run so speedilie after a ball high in the heavens that I did recall a scene of my childhood, wherein a brisk brown dog was racing madly across the meadow underneath a low-flying lark at which the canine did bark with much noise.

So enrapt was I that I burned to show my prowess, and upon receiving the consent of a kindly man named Fitzgerald, who was tutoring the men, I did grasp a mit and made ready to toss a ball with a player the tutor assigned to instruct me, and I struck the poise I saw about me, to-wit, my arms outstretched and in like manner my legs, and awaited the start of the game with a terrific beating of the heart. Then lo, my playmate, whom I thought gentle, did make divers contortions with his body as if cranking a Forde, and when he did straighten up let loose of the sphere with such might that the wind burned, as did my poor hand, alas, when it reached that member, and with much disgust I flung the mit upon the earth and with a great oath never again to invest my bodie with exercise I strode forth and so unto my office and to scrivening.

BARGAIN IS FOR ONE YEAR

Babe Won't Get Three-Year Papers, Is Belief

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 4.—A chill, biting wind swept across the park but perspiration dropped from the ruddy face of Babe Ruth.

Grunting and "hollering," posing for cameramen or exchanging wise cracks with bystanders, the big fellow cavorted around first base like a rookie just up from a class "B" league.

The camp and hotel lobby gossip is that a compromise will be reached by the end of this week on the salary issue by which Ruth will sign a one-year contract for $85,000, the figure the Babe demanded for a new three-year contract.

The belief is that Ruth is inclined to gamble on the future if he can have his own figure met for at least this year. Col. Jacob Ruppert, the Yankee owner, may be willing to concede this propisition when he arrives here Thursday night to settle the situation in a personal conference with the big hitter. Then again, he may not, but there seems not the slightest reason to doubt that Ruth will sign. All the ballyhoo that this contract business has had is too valuable to be tossed overboard.

Ruth and the Yankees are bigger drawing cards than ever, to judge from the crowds of natives and tourists that have flocked out to see them drill during the past two days.

Automobiles with license plates from Maine to California, Ontario to Texas, packed the approaches to the park. The stands are filled with men and boys as well as women and babes in arms.

All seem anxious to inspect the rather stout person who considers he is worth $10,000 more a year than the president of the United States.

Owls With Best Scorers Had Little Teamwork

DALLAS, March 4. (AP)—An interesting commentary on the necessity of teamwork in basket ball is the fact that the Rice institute Owls had the two greatest individual scorers in the recent Southwest conference race, yet were able to finish only a jump out of the cellar.

Jake Hess, with 113 points, and Ray Hart, with 107, were almost the whole show for the Owls. Their only teammate to do any scoring to speak of was Norman, with 42 points.

SPUDDER SQUAD SLOWLY GROWS

Fans Flock to Lot to See Early Training

By FRED D. THOMPSON
The Record News Staff

Early workouts of the Spudders went on apace down at Athletic park Tuesday afternoon, with three players in uniform who were not present when the group of about a dozen began training Monday under the guidance of Howard Fitzgerald.

The new arrivals on the lot were Carroll Burrows, Waxahachie infielder who arrived in town Monday; Gus Taylor, local rookie outfielder; and Nelson McCord, also of Wichita Falls, who aspires to the mound.

BETTENCOURT SIGNS

Larry Bettencourt, last of the Spudder veterans to be heard from, accepted his contract with the 1930 Spudders Tuesday, Prexy William E. Huff announced. The acceptance came in a telegram from Oakland, Calif., which also stated the crack infielder was leaving for Wichita Falls Tuesday. Howard Fitzgerald and Hal Wiltse are here, and Milt Steengrafe, Jack Crouch and Lester White, other veterans, are on their way.

Downs Arrives

An additional player arrived Tuesday too late to get into uniform for a workout. He is Clifford Downs, semi-pro hurler from Portsmouth, Ohio. He expects to join the squad Wednesday afternoon, as does Ben Flechtner, another Ohio semi-pro, who, however, has lived in Wichita Falls the last several months. Flechtner is also a pitcher. Several other arrivals may be expected Wednesday.

The spectators far outnumbered the players Tuesday afternoon, as Trainer Fitzgerald continued to dish out light exercises for the squad until the arrival Friday of Skipper Carl Williams. There were at least two score fans loitering around the park and in the bleachers Tuesday afternoon for an early glimpse at the pennant chasers.

Fitzgerald kept the squadmen at leg work, dividing the players into groups for fungo smashing and fielding and pepper games, while others darted around the orchard. The players are as yet restricted to the outfield, but likely will be permitted to accustom themselves to the infield Wednesday, as repairs on that section are about completed. The high wind of recent days scattered the foundry sand which had been put in place, and a replacement was necessary.

Detail work on the grandstands went on Tuesday, laborers putting the new wire netting into place. The protective covering this year will cover the entire grandstand.

Secretary Guy Airey was among the spectators at the field Tuesday afternoon.

As the newly-arriving players were welcomed on the field, so the handful of fans welcomed any new additions to their number. There was at least one brand new fan. He is A. R. Asbill, of 1315 Twenty-fifth street, lately of Fort Worth, where he was an ardent admirer of the Cats. His change of allegiance to the Spudders will not, however, be difficult, he said.

O'Doul Signs

WINTERHAVEN, Fla., March 4. (UP)—Holdout worries dissolved in the Phillies camp today with the receipt of a telegram from Frank (Lefty) O'Doul, the National league batting champion last season, saying he had signed his contract and was starting for camp at once. O'Doul was one of three serious holdouts, the other two being Chuck Klein and Pinkie Whitney. Whitney, star third baseman, fell into line yesterday, leaving Klein as the only unsigned regular. Cool weather continued today, and the players held another very short workout.

Cardinals Bat

BRADENTON, Fla., March 4. (UP)—With Carmen Hill, despectacled pitcher, arriving in camp today, the only St. Louis Cardinals' absentees were Frisch, Rhem, Hafey, Douthit and Martin. Frisch and Rhem have not signed contracts.

The Cardinals engaged in batting practice for two hours, preparing for the opening game of the exhibition series against the Philadelphia Athletics in Miami Saturday.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 4. (UP)—In spite of the continued cold weather the Boston Braves went through their usual two practice sessions today. The first scrub game of the season will be played tomorrow with George Sisler and the veteran Hank Gowdy captaining rival outfits.

Gene Roberson is still among the missing. Jim Welsh, the tall outfielder from California is the only unsigned player.

Bob Smith and John Clough, one a veteran and the other a rookie pitcher were the first casualties of the training season. Smith had one of the fingers of his left hand dislocated by a line drive during batting practice and Clough was cut over the left eye by a sharp foul tip. Neither injury is serious.

Census Takers Have Own Way of Deciding Who's 'Head of Family'

Oft Argued Issue in Many Homes to Be Asked Point Blank By Men Who Will Count Nation's Noses

By FULTON LEWIS

WASHINGTON, March 4. (US)—There's no telling how much domestic infelicity Uncle Sam may cause next month when he starts counting your nose and the noses of your 119,999,999 neighbors.

Because when a census enumerator comes to the front door the first thing he will ask is a question that has probably caused more domestic difficulty in history than war, drink, or pretty stenographers: "Who is the head of the family?"

Simple Formula

The enumerators, however, will be instructed as to how to decide for themselves. If a husband is alive and capable of supporting the family, he is. If not, the wife is. If she is dead the oldest child is. And if there is neither wife nor children, then the person is the head of himself.

When the census is completed, Uncle Sam will have a record of every man, woman and child in America, and included in the record will be such interesting little tidbits as "own a radio?"; "how much is your home worth?"; "who were your father and mother?"; "where were you educated?"; and "how do you earn your living?"

By a peculiar system of super-human machines the information will be taken from the census sheets, placed on cards, and the records will go in sealed vaults to remain for 60 years. Each person becomes merely a number and thus all information is kept secret.

Counting Machines

Remarkable equipment has been developed for the gigantic task of counting America's noses, it was disclosed today. With 32 facts to be determined about every person in the country, it would be virtually impossible to make the tabulating by hand, and thus, when the individual cards are made out they are made to fit in counting machines which later do the work.

Instead of writing the data, a machine similar to a typewriter punches "yes" or "no" holes in each of the 32 questions. When the time comes for a count these cards are run through a machine at the rate of 400 a minute, and without error the machine tabulates the total result in each one of the items.

In several of the columns the problem is more complicated than just a yes-or-no answer, as in the case of ages, races or nativity. But even this fails to stump the counter. When it is through with the pile it discloses, for instance, just how many persons there were of each age.

Gasoline Pipe Line Survey Started

TULSA, Okla., March 4. (UP)—Preliminary plans for a survey to determine the advisability of constructing a huge gasoline pipe line carrier from the Mid-Continent field to Milwaukee were started today by Barnsdall Oil corporation engineers, Barnsdall officials told the United Press.

The proposed pipe line is estimated to cost between $8,000,000 and $10,000,000. Plans are only in the formative stages, officials said. Definite plans, including the routing, probably will be known within a few days.

Officials had not decided whether the line would pass through Kansas City or not. It was tentatively determined that Okmulgee would be the starting point of the huge carrier.

State Asked To Rule in Gray

(AP)—Admitting that voluntary proration in Gray county had failed, representatives of oil companies meeting here today approved a resolution to ask the state railroad commission to take charge of the proration in the flush production areas of Gray, Carson and Hutchinson counties. The motion included a request that a hearing on the proposal be held here soon. Representatives of the Gulf and Magnolia companies did not vote on the resolution.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, March 4. (AP) An early decline in today's cotton market under a continuation of the recent selling movement was followed by rallies on trade buying and covering. Selling was less active after the early offerings had been absorbed and May contracts which sold off to 14.97 early, closed at 15.05 compared with 15.16 at the close of the previous day. The general market closed quiet and steady at net declines of 1 to 2 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 1 to 2 points under further liquidation and local selling, and sold about 13 to 16 points net lower during the morning. The early weakness of the wheat market was a factor on the decline. Some stop orders were uncovered as the market broke through the 15-cent level for May and into new low ground for the season on new crop months. This decline carried March off to 14.73 and October to 15.35 for the old contracts, but these prices seemed to attract an increased demand. Prices steadied on trade buying and covering, but rallies of some 8 to 10 points from the lowest met a little more cotton and were not fully maintained. Closing quotations were about 3 to 8 points up from the lowest.

Trading in new contracts seemed to be broadening somewhat. There was considerable switching from the old contracts into the new, and some fresh buying of new contracts, believed to be for European trade account. These interests were said to have buying orders in the market for execution on a scale down from 15.30 for the new October delivery.

Liverpool cables said that covering had been supplied by Bombay selling in Liverpool and complained of a limited demand for cotton cloth from India. It was a holiday in the New Orleans market.

Exports today 26,948. Making 5,497,202 so far this season. Port receipts 12,046. U. S. port stocks 2,100,479.

Stocks Close Higher Despite Talk Of Widespread Unemployment Wave

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, March 4. (US)—Although nervousness of the speculative community was enhanced by unemployment talk and continued unsettlement in commodity markets, stocks closed higher today. Advances in a good many instances represented group operations aimed at a crowded short account but some of the Oils and a few Specialties benefited from special developments. Steel finished 1½ points higher while Westinghouse gained 5½, General Electric 1½, Anaconda 1¾, New York & Harlem 25, Fox "A" 1⅞, Consolidated Gas 2¼, Standard of New Jersey 1½ and Houston Oil 2½. Railroads were quiet but fairly steady on the average. Call money rate was held at 4 per cent throughout. Turnover held around the 3,500,000 share level.

Reduction in crude oil output, while seasonal, influenced a little better feeling toward the Petroleum shares. The main factor, however, were the wires from California telling of another meeting that had been held by leading producers there at which plans were made for further curtailment of output. California has been the principal source of disturbance to stabilization in the Oil industry. The large operator who has refused to "play ball" out there is still at large and may upset the plans again. With the improved news those interested in some oil stocks resumed work but most had a hard job in view of expectation that unfavorable dividend announcements are likely from at least two independent companies before long. General Asphalt attracted some following, however, as it is enjoying good earnings from departments other than the oil end. Report of plan to dispose of the profitable roofing business continues in flotation.

American & Foreign Power financing announcement was used as another bullish argument on Electric Bond & Share on the basis that it will benefit because of payment by foreign power of its debt to the parent group. Even though Electric Bond is to receive such payment, however, it is reported that it too will have to do new financing before long. In this respect it is believed that current activity in the stock is based in part on desire to make rights to subscribe for new stock as valuable as possible for stockholders. Columbia Gas pool resumed but their operation is regarded as mainly for the purpose of getting rid of salvage stock taken in the October-November break.

Despite denials the report persists that the American Telephone interests have been purchasing Warner stock. At the same time there is further talk of eventual combining of Warner and Paramount. Buying of Warner by the Telephone group, it is claimed, is due to expectation that a substantial settlement will have to be made under patents dispute and by holding the stock the Telephone subsidiary will reduce the actual expense. All of the motion picture companies are enjoying record earnings this quarter, it is indicated. The Fox stockholders meeting tomorrow will be the center of all interest. At a later hour, today, it was extremely doubtful that any one group could show anything like a two-thirds vote of stockholders although there was some slight possibility of a "compromise," it was stated.

With the emphasis placed on "unemployment" in Washington dispatches and newspapers generally those trying to get a following in their pet stocks met added difficulty. While such a subject is being emphasized there is little chance of any material improvement in major industries for there is a tightening up of demand from the manufacturer of the ultimate consumer. The buying ability of the public generally has not changed materially but its psychology has and stressing of unemployment enhances nervousness and delays recovery. As one banker points out if Washington leaders would only voice half the optimism they did last year instead of unnecessarily stressing unfavorable developments recovery in business would be hastened.

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, March 4. (AP) (U.S.B.A.)—Trade in wheat on the cash grain market continued slow today. The agent of the grain stabilization corporation was said to be taking some wheat at the government price, while mills were taking some of their bids of around $1.15½@1.16 basis No. 1 ordinary hard delivered Texas common points.

Bids and offers on coarse grains, basis carloads delivered freight paid to Texas common points:

Corn—No. 2 mixed 91@92c; No. 2 white or yellow 94@95c; demand fair.

Oats—No. 2 red oats 56@57c; No. 3 white delivered Texas group one points 54½@55c.

Barley—No. 2 barley nominal.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per hundred pounds $1.50@1.60; No. 2 kaffir $1.39@1.40.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 4. (AP)—United States senate notice of proposals that $25,000,000 worth of breadstuffs be supplied to relieve Chinese famine gave quick upturns to wheat values today. Definite steps by the senate agricultural committee looking toward authorizing use of part of the federal farm board's revolving fund to purchase that amount of wheat and flour for China were reported, and the wheat market made a prompt response, rising as much as 3½c a bushel as compared with the day's lowest level. Earlier, the price of wheat had been breaking as a result largely of persistent lack of export demand.

Closing quotations on wheat were irregular at ¾c under the top figures reached. The finish ranged from ⅛c a bushel net decline to 1⅝c advance for the day. Corn closed unchanged to ⅛c lower, oats at a shade down to ¼c gain, and provisions varying from 5c setback to a rise of 2c.

Word of farm board purchases of 500,000 bushels of domestic hard winter wheat at the Gulf of Mexico tended also to strengthen the wheat market today. There were some late complaints, too, of dry weather prevailing over parts of the United States wheat belt. On the other hand, export business in the North American wheat today was again nearly at a halt, and evidence pointed to future delivery selling here on the part of foreigners.

Corn and oats were swayed chiefly by the action of wheat.

Scattered buying put firmness into the provision market, despite downturns in the value of hogs.

POLICE HUNT KIDNAPER'S CAR

Greenville Man and Girl Reported Heading Here

Police here Tuesday were watching for an automobile stolen from Greenville Monday by a man believed to be the kidnaper of Marion Carlock, 10-year-old Greenville girl, according to reports at headquarters. The girl was reported to have been seen with the man before he left that city in the stolen car.

Word was received by police here Tuesday that the car stolen last week from George Ward 904 Austin street by a man who a few minutes later held up a filling station at Harrison and Avenue E had been found on fire about a mile and a half from Broken Arrow, Okla., by the city marshal of that town. The bandit escaped after setting fire to the machine, which was destroyed, the message stated.

A car stolen Sunday from V. I. Grisham, 1651 McGregor street, was recovered Tuesday by the city marshal at Snyder, Okla., according to another message received by police here. The car was unhurt.

A machine belonging to the Sinclair Crude Oil Refining company, driven by Evert Meadows, 609 Sunset drive, stolen here last Thursday was recovered Tuesday by City Motorcycle Officers J. H. Pogue and Earl Brooks and returned to the owner.

'I Never Intend to Be Without Orgatone,' She Says

"I Suffered Four Long Years and One Bottle of Orgatone Restored My Health," Says Austin Seamstress

Mrs. Laura Lee Bishop, residing at Barton Springs Heights, Austin, Texas, made the following remarkable statement regarding Orgatone, the widely known medicine that is being so widely discussed and distributed in this city. Mrs. Bishop said: "I never intend to be without Orgatone for it has certainly relieved me of all my troubles. I suffered for four long years, with a general run-down condition. I kept going down hill every day, and was troubled very much with nervousness, constipation, pains in my back, dizzy and bilious spells and a general run-down condition. All during the day, I would feel tired and worn out and those dizzy spells would come upon me and also suffered severe headaches. I was so nervous I could hardly keep my feet still, but wanted to be moving all the time, and never could get a good night's rest.

"I saw where Orgatone had helped so many people and it was recommended for ailments that seemed to be my trouble that I bought a bottle and started on it. I have just finished my first bottle and seem like a different person. I have gained in strength and the general run-down condition suffered has been built up something wonderful. Those dizzy spells have left me and my headaches have been relieved. That tired, worn out feeling has disappeared, and I am no longer nervous. In fact, I am just better all around. Orgatone has restored my health, and I feel it my duty to give it all the credit that is due it, and only hope that it will help others suffering the same as I have."

Frank Bird and his Bluebirds orchestra, which has been increased to 12 pieces especially for this affair, will play throughout the afternoon and evening programs.

A meeting of the merchants and committees from the Woman's Forum will be held in the directors' room at the City National bank Wednesday morning to complete plans and arrangements, it was announced Tuesday afternoon.

A great deal of enthusiasm is being shown in adjoining towns and local clubs report heavy ticket sales. Tickets are on sale at booths at P. B. M.'s, Saul's, Perkins-Timberlake and McClurkan's.

City Department Heads Prepare Year's Budgets

Department heads of the various divisions of the city government Tuesday began compilation of their budget estimates for the fiscal year beginning April 1, according to city officials. The estimates of finances necessary for the work of the year will be handed to City Manager George D. Fairtrace for consideration.

Officials said Tuesday the budgets for the year would be somewhat smaller than in the past due to present depression in the financial condition of the city and the entire nation. Tax collections have not equalled those of previous years up until this time and the resources of the city will be proportionately less, it was pointed out.

Iowa Park Fair And Church Incorporated

Charters of incorporation issued Tuesday at Austin, according to Associated Press dispatches, include two for which applications were filed from Wichita county, both without capital stock.

The Floral Heights Presbyterian church, incorporated with L. C. M. Blakely, E. B. Morrow, and W. L. Whittington as incorpartors, recently began erection of a new building at 1914 Kemp boulevard. The congregation has been organized for more than 10 years.

J. G. O'Donohoe, J. C. Searl and E. C. Knox are named as incorporators of the Wichita County Fair at Iowa Park.

Marathon Dancers To Answer Accusations

DETROIT, March 4. (INS)—Ten marathon dancers at Eastwood park are under arrest today on charges of disorderly conduct after the gruelling grind of 109 days of continuous shuffling.

The dance came to an end at midnight last night when Sheriff Percy L. Moore of Macomb county armed with warrants and backed by state police, placed the 10 under arrest.

The warrants were based on the state ordinance which provides that any one receiving public alms is a disorderly person.

City of Detroit to Fire All Alien Employes

DETROIT, March 4. (UP)—More than 1,600 aliens in the city employ in Detroit are to be discharged at once except in cases where there are "extenuating circumstances."

This was the effect, today, of an announcement by Mayor Charles Bowles that he believes the council's "fire aliens" policy passed yesterday is sound and that he should not interfere.

"I will not veto the council's resolution directing the discharge of aliens," the mayor said. "I do not believe any injustice will be done."

Orders to dismiss aliens are expected to go to the various department heads of the city tomorrow.

VERNON MAN SEEKS OFFICE

John Derryberry Announces For Legislature

John Derryberry, a native of Texas and a Vernon business man for the past five years, Tuesday afternoon announced his candidacy for election to the Texas house of representatives from the 112th flotorial district, comprising Wichita and Wilbarger counties, subject to the Democratic primaries in July.

Mr. Derryberry reminded the voters in his announcement that Wichita county, with its two regular representatives, has in the past conceded the flotorial position to Wilbarger county, and declared that his only wish in seeking the office is to completely represent the two counties.

Backs Land Bill

Born and reared in Red River county, Mr. Derryberry was made tax collector there in 1918, serving until 1922. In the fall of 1925 he moved to Vernon where he has been engaged in the lumber and building business during the past five years.

The candidate declared Tuesday that one plank in his platform is a strong support for the Small land bill, explaining that if the supreme court should declare the present bill unconstitutional, he would favor the passage of another act validating the claims.

Mr. Derryberry said he is in favor of the regulation of the chain stores, but declared that the lawmakers and the people of the state will have to find some way to work out the problem.

Opposes Relocation

Continuing a brief outline of his political convictions, Mr. Derryberry said he believed the state should take ample care of the inmates of its tubercular colonies and orphans' homes, of Confederate veterans and their widows, and of the world war veterans if it becomes necessary for the states to join in their support.

"I am against the relocation of the present prison system," the candidate declared. "Let us improve and make adequate what we already have rather than spending millions of dollars in beginning all over again."

Mr. Derryberry said he expected to make an active campaign and meet most of the voters over the district before the primary.

Studio Work of Radio Station Shown Ad Men

Studio machinery of radio advertising-program construction was demonstrated to members of the Ad club at the Kemp hotel Tuesday noon by representatives of station KGKO, in charge of Jerry W. Moffett.

In a short skit prepared by Mr. Moffett, a merchant, the continuity writer, and a musical unit were used to show just how entertainment and advertising matter are combined to form the program. Jack Gross, program director of station KGKO, assisted Mr. Moffett in the dialog, and music was furnished by the Royal trio.

A short talk by Darrold Kahn, manager of the local radio station, preceded the skit.

Zack Hurt, formerly of the KGKO staff, and now with station WDAG, Amarillo, sang a number at the luncheon, accompanied by Frank Dinkins, pianist.

Physician to Give Talk on Tuberculosis

Dr. J. A. Little will be the speaker Thursday morning from radio station KGKO at 10 o'clock in the period devoted by the Wichita County Tubercular association to prevention and cure of that disease.

Speakers are carrying on the educational campaign daily under the direction of the association.

MAJESTIC: Harry Green in "Kibitzer," with Mary Brian and Neil Hamilton. Laurel and Hardy in "A Perfect Day." Sound news.

STRAND: "Sunny Side Up," with Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell. All right if you like it. Talking comedy. Sound news.

STATE: "Red Hot Rhythm," Alan Hale, Josephine Dunn. Not so bad. Talking comedy. Sound news.

GEM: "Charming Sinners," with Ruth Chatterton and Clive Brook —and that's a picture. "Bear Escape," comedy.

The laughs have it. Artistry and a well chosen story from life which made George Arliss' "Disraeli" at once the greatest talking picture seen here and the season's champion box-office flop gave way Tuesday to burlesque on modern life in the form of "Kibitzer," played principally by Harry Green. In the "pulling" of "Disraeli" one day ahead of schedule is revealed phases of the public's attitude toward current screen entertainment which have even the exhibitors puzzled. It was pulled out Tuesday morning simply because it received a minimum of patronage.

Presumably, the public wants "better" pictures. "Disraeli" presented the greatest male actor on the American stage, supported by a cast in which there was not a single weakness; the story was a thrilling chapter from real life, filled with tender and genuine romance; but it was called by its real name. Possibly some such title as "Eve's Apple" would have filled the house; and that name would have been as appropriate to its picture as most such titles are to the productions which they misrepresent. No picture shown here has gripped its audience more completely, in profound absorption, than "Disraeli." Those who went to see it apparently thrilled to its excellence. But why so few, who are willing to risk two hours with such entertainment as an Arliss masterpiece? That is, if good pictures really are wanted.

Harry Green in "Kibitzer" more than fills the bill in supplying comedy. His is a combination take-off; one glance at that face, and one earful of the Yiddish song which he synchronizes with solitaire, reveals the racial branch which is succinctly burlesqued. The second element is equally obvious—every village has its own "kibitzer." The third phase of his characterization may arouse thorny memories among "lambs" shorn in the Wall street tail-spin last fall. Regardless of the raucous humor which abounds in "Kibitzer," the closing moments around the ticker, just before 3 o'clock, builds up a suspense ruinous to finger nails.
