PRICE FIVE CENTS

Kidnapers Hear Their Sentences

FOUR KIDNAPERS gaze into a future hemmed in by bare prison walls, as sentence is pronounced in the Urschel abduction case in federal court at Oklahoma City. One of the defendants goes free, on a suspended 10-year sentence. Left to right, as they stood in court, are Albert Bates, Harvey Bailey, Armon Shannon, R. G. Shannon and Mrs. Shannon. Armon Shannon was given clemency, the others life terms.

FROM OTHER PAGES

Breezy paragraphs by our contemporaries:

ALBERT COOPER. Shamrock Texan—Stars of yesterday are the sadder, of all when they are former high school players, for they are too young to give up their fun. It is hard for them to forgive the newcomer his mistakes and hold back the urge to rush upon the field and show him how the game is really played.

MAX WADE. Groom News—For a number of years, J. B. Smith was in the telephone business. He has been called Telephone Smith for a long time. Now he is with the gas company and is asking his old friends to call him Gas Smith. We feel like everyone ought to go to 50-50 and call him Telgas Smith.

CHAS. A. GUY. Lubbock Journal A match is burned out and thrown away, forgotten regardless of the services it performed. A man dies—burned out of life—and generally he, too, is forgotten soon after his burial. We're none of us so important, after all, when we come to think of it. Are we?

J. C. ESTILACK. In Donkey County Leader—If you rent a house, you pay insurance. When the purchase of a suit of clothing is made, or groceries or anything else, the buyer pays a per cent of fire insurance. Besides the saving in dollars and cents, thousands of lives may be saved through the year by cutting down fire hazards and using diligence in avoiding a fire in any place wherever possible.

HOME TOWN STUFF in Vernon Record—A revealing legislature discovery is that Governor Jim has been enjoying a brisk trade in the butter and egg business. Every once in a while he would show up at his newspaper office and hand the boys a thousand or so to deposit to his dairy account. That's an idea.

WHAT CAUSED EXPLOSION IS STILL PUZZLE

FARMERS SAW VICTIMS MILLING AROUND IN TWIN-MOTOR SHIP

CHESTERTON, Ind., Oct. 11 (AP)—The scattered bits of a giant twin-motored transport plane—one of its massive wheels hung suspended from a tree—was all that remained today of a New to Chicago ship of the United Aid Lines that carried its seven occupants to a flaming death.

Just what happened when the all-metal ship with a top speed of more than three miles a minute crashed to earth in flames shortly after 9 o'clock last night about five miles southeast of here, probably never will be known, but witnesses said they heard a terrific explosion.

A few minutes before while over North Liberty, Ind., company officials said it had radioed that "all was well" and that before that it had landed at Cleveland and had passed over Toledo.

The seven bodies were recovered last night. Farmers who flocked to the scene said they saw the victim scene said the (wreck) times milling around on the inside of the cabin unable to save themselves. Some said they even heard screams.

The dead were: Pilot Harold R. Tarrant, Oak Park, Ill.; Co-Pilot A. T. Ruby, Oak Park, Miss. Alice Scribner, Chicago, stewardess.

Fred Schendorf, Chicago. E. Smith, Chicago. Warren P. Burris, Columbus, O., radio service employee of the line. Dorothy Dwyer, Arlington, Mass. Due to the complete break-up of the plane and the wide area over which the wreckage was strewn any attempt to discover the cause of the tragedy probably will be difficult, but officials of United Air Lines said they were launching an immediate and thorough investigation.

They said it was the first fatal crash of a multi-motor ship in seven years of flying over sixty million miles and that both pilots were thoroughly experienced.

The scene of the crash was a wooded patch on the farm of James Smiley in the Indiana sand dune region, within a few feet of a gravel road. The explosion brought scores of nearby residents to their doors and many of them saw the blazing plane hurtle earthward with its human cargo.

D. W. Davis, a local barber, who was walking on the sidewalk, was pinned between the automobile and the building, the impact breaking both of his legs. Mr. Davis was carried into a near-by drug store for first aid and soon afterward was taken to the hospital. He was reported to be doing well late yesterday.

Mr. Wiggins was considerably shaken up, but was unhurt except for a few minor bruises and scratches. Clarence Eller, who leaped from the truck as it turned over, was unhurt.

Shawnee Game to Be Under Lights

Pampa Harvesters will play in Shawnee, Okla., on Friday night instead of the afternoon, it was announced by Coach Odus Mitchell today. The game will start at 8 o'clock. The NEWS will have the scoring by quarters for information of local fans.

The local team will drive to Shawnee Thursday in time to work out under the lights, if the field can be obtained. It is conceded that meeting the Shawnee passing attack under the lights will be difficult. The Harvesters have played no night football this year.

TRIP IS POSTPONED
The scheduled trip of Pampans to a community pie supper at the Webb school on Friday evening, has been postponed until Tuesday. The new date is believed to be more satisfactory to local people. The chamber of commerce good will committee are to sponsor the trip.

I HEARD—

J. N. Duncan say that if Clint Small and a few other state senators down at Austin can nose around and find that Jim Ferguson has a thousand dollars in his private bank account, then they can proceed to impeach Governor Ma Ferguson for letting Jim have that much money at one time.

Big Spring fans remarking that Pampa's Coach Mitchell seemed never to have an "off year"; that his eleven could always be depended upon to be tough and well-coached.

TEXAS AREAS GET DROUGHT RELIEF FUND

Marvin Jones Pushes Road Construction Plans To Successful Conclusion.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP)—The public works administration has approved the $5,000,000 emergency road construction program in Texas to combat drought areas.

The administration granted $2,676,000 and announced that the remainder would be furnished by the federal relief administration. Work will go forward in 17 counties in the Panhandle and six counties in the Midland area, both drought sections, and in three lower Rio Grande valley counties recently struck by a hurricane. Some work in those areas already is under way.

The grant is independent of $24,605,000 already allocated to the state by the bureau of public roads in its employment building road campaign and means Texas will get a total of about $33,000,000 for road work, by far the largest allocation to any state in the union.

John Wood, chairman of the state highway commission, and Representative Marvin Jones were among those who had been steering the drought-storm program.

Counties in which emergency money will be spent follow: Panhandle—Dallam, Hartley, Oldham, Sherman, Moore, Hansford, Hutchinson, Carson, Ochiltree, Roberts, Randall, Potter, Armstrong, Lipscomb, Hemphill, Gray, and Deaf Smith.

No definite decision as to the manner of division of the fund among the areas has been made, but a preliminary estimate indicated that most of the money—about $5,000,000—would go to the Panhandle.

Representative Jones prepared to leave for Amarillo tomorrow. He expressed great satisfaction with the administration's action.

"This is a constructive method of handling the situation," he said. "It is the most common-sense form of relief that gives folks work to get with out the dole."

Details as to projects were unavailable here. They will be started as soon as they are ready, under authority of the federal district engineer at Fort Worth.

Map Will Show Area Resources

Research necessary to prepare industrial and agricultural maps showing the resources of this territory was authorized last night at a meeting of the Board of City Development.

The maps and data will be convincing, it is believed, of the stability and opportunity of Pampa and this area. Wholesalers will be particularly interested in the findings. Some of the facts will prove startling to those who have failed to realize the permanency of the development in this territory.

In some cases, the federal census figures can be used, while in others research will be necessary. The need for such a survey in printed form has been felt for some time.

49 YEARS OLD
WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt celebrated her forty-ninth birthday today.

HEROINE AND VILLAIN ARE TRUE TO OLD TYPE IN THEATER PLAY

"A H H A, muh proud beauty! Now I have you in muh pow-wuh!" sneers Richard Murgatroyd (Gold Hughes) in a typical line in "The Hills or the Dead Sister's Secret," Little Theater play which will be produced Monday night, October 23, at the city auditorium.

A typical answer from Neil Stanley (Beth Blythe), "only a farmer's daughter," is the old bromide, "Rags are royal raiment when worn for virtue's sake." Again she says "Lips that touch liquor shall never touch mine."

Mr. Hughes is properly cynical, cruel, leering, grasping. He will wear a villain's mustache, a diamond ring and will carry a riding crop. His acting will be melodramatic to a side-splitting degree.

Miss Blythe will be equally melodramatic and her performance, as the rehearsal last night evidenced, will be marked with many a sigh, a scream, many a melodramatic gesture, many a look of horror—as befitted the heroine of thrillers of the gay 'nineties.

The younger generation will hear the song hits of the 1890s, perhaps for the first time, and the older generation will hear them and remember. Among the songs sung by the actors include "The Bowerly," "Sweet Marie," "Bird in a Gilded Cage," "Two Little Girls in Blue," "Sweet Rosie O'Grady," and others. The large cast includes 27 players.

DR. JARREL QUILTS UNDER FIRE BEFORE TESTIMONY BLAMING HIM IS STARTED

KELLY'S WIFE TESTIFIES IN URSCHER CASE

DENIES DEATH THREATS WERE WRITTEN BY HER

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 11 (AP)—Assisting she was drawn unwittingly into the $200,000 abduction of Charles F. Urschel because her notorious husband deceived and threatened her, smiling Kathryn Kelly told her story today to the federal jury trying her for kidnapping conspiracy.

But as prosecutors dragged out a reluctant story of her past and its associations she insisted she still loves the husband, "Machine Gun George," on trial with her.

"And you still believe in him?" asked Joseph B. Keenan, assistant attorney general.

"No," she replied. She said she "begged" Kelly to release Urschel from his Paradise, Texas, farm prison, the home of her mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Shannon, when she found out "what was going on" there last July.

"He said they were going to kill him. I begged him not to," the blue-eyed, fashionably dressed woman of thirty said.

Denying she ever had written death threats to Urschel or others, as government witnesses had testified, she told of the flight with her husband over the Middle West and South, culminating in their capture at Memphis when the 12-year-old girl they had used as a "shield" told officers of their hiding place.

Unable to recall the dates of most of her several marriages, she was led through a winding trial of cross-examination by Keenan in an effort to break down her story that Kelly deceived her and forced her into crime.

John V. Roberts, attorney for Kathryn, told newsmen he was disappointed with her testimony. He said he had not wanted her to testify but that she insisted.

Assistant Attorney General Keenan then led the witness through a tortuous cross-examination regarding her marriage to L. C. Frye, Allie Brewer, Charles G. Thorne, and Kelly. Thorne, she said, "committed suicide."

"And there was a note pinned on him when they found him?" prodded Keenan.

"No, it was on his desk."

"No, I didn't write that note, did you?"

"No, I didn't."

"He was shot, wasn't he?"

"Yes."

"And you got his property?"

"Yes."

"How much—about $10,000 or $15,000?"

"I don't know."

Asked if she had ever been arrested.

NRA TEST SEEN AS EMPLOYER IS DEPRIVED OF BLUE EAGLE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP)—NRA's grip on the nation was at a new test today in the first case of an employer deprived of his Blue Eagle.

Theodore G. Rahutis, Gary, Indiana, restaurateur, was under orders from Hugh S. Johnson to cease displaying and surrender his NRA insignia. Johnson's command left the public the final decision on how much the Blue Eagle means to a store window and business house.

Johnson telegraphed Rahutis the Gary compliance board and reported he was violating the minimum wage and maximum working hour provisions of President Roosevelt's reemployment agreement. He added:

"Even if it is not true, your refusal to come forward with some explanation when respectfully to do so by your local board indicates that you are not willing to cooperate with the president in his recovery program. . . you will refrain from using the Blue Eagle in advertising or otherwise."

A few hours after sending this telegram—the first case of an employer losing his Blue Eagle—Johnson told the American Federation of Labor last night that loss of the eagle was "a terrific economic punishment." He also stated formally that similar action will be taken against flagrant violators in other sections.

ABOUT $2000 COLLECTED IN SELLING JOBS

AUSTIN, Oct. 11 (AP)—D. H. Williams testified today before the appropriations committee of the Texas house that he and his brother, Royce, had collected approximately $2,000 from the sale of jobs affecting the live stock sanitary commission and turned all except about $300 of it over to Dr. E. F. Jarrel of Tyler, member of the commission.

The testimony was given as the committee resumed its inquiry into reported bartering of state positions. Williams formerly lived in Gilmer but now resides at Poteet, Atascosa county.

Dr. Jarrel today submitted his resignation as a member of the commission to Governor Miriam A. Ferguson. He said he was "entirely innocent of the charges which have been brought against him."

He charged members of the investigating committee were actuated by the desire to make a political football of the investigation and with not trying to elicit facts about the matter. Dr. Jarrel was not in the room during Williams' testimony.

Williams testified that he had no agreement with Dr. Jarrel about selling jobs, but that early in December of last year Dr. Jarrel told him he was behind in expenses of the gubernatorial campaign and asked him if he knew any one who would make a cash campaign contribution.

Williams testified that Dr. Jarrel told him he would be appointed a member of the live stock sanitary commission and would have jobs to give those who made contributions to the campaign fund.

Williams testified that he received each from seven or eight men at Chickwater and Gilmer and that he paid money direct to Dr. Jarrel at Tyler. He said that he and Dr. Jarrel were on friendly terms until a short time ago when Williams made an affidavit to a Texas ranger setting out his activities.

Some of the job-seekers, Williams testified, made payments directly to Dr. Jarrel in Dr. Jarrel's office with the live stock commission in Fort Worth. He said he saw others make payments direct to Dr. Jarrel at Tyler.

MURDER CHARGE FILED IN ARKANSAS QUARREL

JONESBORO, Ark., Oct. 11 (AP)—A charge of first degree murder was filed today against the Rev. D. S. Crowley after the death of J. W. McMurdo, aged janitor, who was shot by the minister late yesterday at the Jonesboro Baptist tabernacle, scene of intermittent disturbances for several months.

The Rev. Crowley was held for safekeeping in an unannounced northeast Arkansas town as an aftermath to the shooting of McMurdo, 65, Baptist tabernacle janitor, the latest outbreak between two opposing factions over the church's pastorate.

The minister was taken out of town last night as feeling between the factions continued to mount. McMurdo was shot three times as Mr. Crowley, pastor of the tabernacle, went there armed with a court order recognizing him as such and ordered the janitor to leave.

A statement given to Deputy Prosecuting Attorney A. A. Tadlock by McMurdo before he died said the pastor shot him "in cold blood."

Mr. Crowley told officers he fired in self-defense after McMurdo had shot at him.

The shooting followed two months of controversy and court action between forces of the church led by Crowley and a group headed by the Rev. Joe Jeffers, evangelist, who has sought to oust Crowley as pastor.

ALLEN CHILD DIES
News of the death of little Dorris Lavere Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Allen, near Pie Town, N. M., Sept. 1 has been received here. She was born here Oct. 10, 1931. She died at the home of Dr. Graham Tier, 35 miles northeast of Pie Town, and funeral services and burial were held there. The Rev. Iona Hutzen was in charge. Besides her parents, she is survived by a brother, Johnnie Dean.

Williams testified that he received each from seven or eight men at Chickwater and Gilmer and that he paid money direct to Dr. Jarrel at Tyler. He said that he and Dr. Jarrel were on friendly terms until a short time ago when Williams made an affidavit to a Texas ranger setting out his activities.

SCHOOL SYSTEM FACES COLLAPSE

The next session of Congress will probably be asked to vote for the relief of the nation's public schools; and when the question comes up for debate we are likely to get a look at one of the most critical phases of the entire depression.

In a way, the whole business is a sample of what happens when an irresistible force meets an immovable object.

The irresistible force is the schools' need for money—a need that simply must be met. The immovable object is the fact that thousands of cities and counties simply haven't got the money and can't possibly get it. In consequence, the problem becomes one of the great number that is being tossed on the receptive lap of Uncle Sam.

Superintendent Charles A. Lee of Missouri, head of a committee of education officials appointed to present the schools' case to Congress, lists a few of the ways in which the depression has crippled the schools.

This year will see 80,000 fewer teachers on the job in America than were employed last year—although NRA has released at least 100,000 boys and girls of school age for further study. Teachers' pay has been reduced, on the average, by 20 per cent. In some regions the cuts are as high as 60 per cent.

Half of all the teachers will get less than $400 for their year's work. Some are actually getting less than $35 a month—the week labor wage in NRA codes. In many localities schools will be in session for only three or four months. Many high schools have had to go on a tuition basis, which means that thousands of youngsters won't get the education they are entitled to.

On the other hand, there is not a city nor a county in America that is not pressed for money. Tax revenues have fallen off, both because of the depression and because of antiquated tax systems.

Furthermore, we are beginning to hear a wave of propaganda in favor of still further economy in the schools—propaganda backed, for the most part, by wealthy individuals who have far less reason for complaining about school expenditures than the ordinary middleclass citizen who pays his taxes without a whimper.

It is a critical situation. The school system is in the process of collapsing, and it is supremely important that the collapse be averted. If no one but Uncle Sam can do it, it looks very much as if he would have to dig down in his pocket for whatever funds may be needed.

Markets

NEW YORK, Oct. 11. (AP)—Pre-holiday apathy held the stock market within narrow bounds today and leading issues backed and filled in a desultory fashion. Professionals continued to account for most of the meager transactions. A late mild rally failed to hold and the list closed somewhat easy. Approximately 980,000 shares changed hands.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 11. (AP)—A sudden outburst of late speculative buying today hoisted the wheat market to 1 1/2 cents above earlier low levels. Gains, however, were subsequently more than wiped out.
 The upturn was due partly to the fact that tomorrow being a holiday the wheat pit had become temporarily bare of offerings. Sharp watch was also being kept of forecasts of what might happen relative to the administration's monetary policy.
 Wheat closed nervous 1/2-1 1/2 under yesterday's finish, corn 1/4 down, oats unchanged to 1/4 lower, and provisions unchanged to 10 cents decline.

TO ENROLL CORPS

AUSTIN, Oct. 11. (AP)—The Texas rehabilitation and relief commission today sent instructions to county administrators in this state incident to the enrollment of 4,738 men between the ages of 18 and 25 for service the next six months in the Civilian Conservation corps.

RACING BILL PASSES

AUSTIN, Oct. 11. (AP)—The Texas legislature today passed finally a bill to re-enact the statute to legalize betting on horse races. Action became final when the house voted overwhelmingly to concur in a senate amendment eliminating the provision which proposed to authorize dog race wagering.

SOONER BANK ROBBED

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 11. (AP)—Four men, one brandishing a sub-machine gun, robbed the International State bank at Haskell of approximately $400 at noon today and escaped in an automobile.

R. B. HAYNES in Miami Chief—Coming back from our trip to the Gulf Coast, we were literally entranced by the beauty of the South Plains growing crops and the Pan-handle's broad acres. We visited no section which would compare with this one.

ROY (JUMBO) HAYNES in Floyd County Hesperian—A friend of a fellow could look at his belt and trace the depression. I delved into the subject and doggone he was right. I have nine punched holes in my belt and the buckle tongue is now in No. 5, reading from right to left. One year ago I had her down to No. 9.

DESKINS WELLS, Wellington Leader—I saw a man buying a suit Saturday. He told me it was his first in four years. When I think of the demand and need of millions of persons like him it staggers me.

JOHN L. McCARTY, Dalhart Texan—You often hear of individuals committing suicide, but did you ever stop to think that perhaps communities also commit suicide? They can die as a result of selfish attitudes. Lack of cooperation, lack of civic and community pride. Communities can die from an overdose of intercommunity gossip and jealousy. A community is nothing more than the sum-total of the individuals in it. If our community dies, it does so at our hands.

 "I have never been to the penitentiary."
 "That is not what I asked you," Keenan insisted. "Have you ever been arrested and convicted of robbery?"
 "Yes."
 "And how much was your sentence?"
 "Five years but I appealed and the case was reversed and thrown out."
 That, she added, was in Oklahoma city "seven or eight years ago."

Then Judge Vaughn ruled that the government had not shown final conviction and told the jury: "You will disregard this as evidence."

PROBE STARTED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11. (AP)—Secretary Hull today ordered a detailed check-up by American diplomatic representatives in Germany on the status of those prosecutions of Nazi storm troopers that were promised by the German government for participation in attacks on American citizens.

THIRTY-THIRD STATE PLACED ON WET LIST

REPEAL CERTAIN TO BE IN EFFECT ON DECEMBER 6

By The Associated Press.
 REPEAL of prohibition in the United States swept into its final stage today with every indication that an eighteenth amendment will be voted out of the constitution on November 7.
 On that day six states will ballot on repeal. Approval by only three is needed to cancel the prohibition amendment.

A decisive vote by Florida yesterday in favor of repeal brought the number of states in the repeal column to 33. No state has voted to retain the amendment.
 The six states passing on the question on November 7, are: Pennsylvania, Ohio, North and South Carolina, Utah, and Kentucky.
 If the necessary states vote for repeal November 7, actual repeal of prohibition will not be in effect until December 6, due to the fact that formal ratification conventions must be held.

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 11. (AP)—Florida has voted for repeal.
 By a margin greater than repeals expected, the state voted yesterday for the end of the prohibition era by 4 to 1.
 The count from 763 precincts out of 1,272, with virtually every big city accounted for, was: for repeal 76,888, against repeal 18,098.

 On the basis of estimates by the secretary of state that there are nearly half a million qualified voters in the state, it was believed not more than a third of the electorate went to the polls.
 The result of the election was to name 67 delegates to a repeal convention which meets in Tallahassee November 14, to cast the state's official ballot.
 The incomplete vote did not show a single county in which the anti-repeal ticket led.

WYNDHAM, Australia, Oct. 11. (AP)—Wing Commander Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith clipped more than 40 hours from the England-Australia flying record when he landed here today to the cheers of a mighty throng of welcomers.

BATTLESHIP TO CUBA
 WASHINGTON, Oct. 11. (AP)—The navy today ordered the battleship Wyoming with a battalion of marines aboard, to proceed to Guantanamo naval base in Cuba. Officials described the movement as a part of the "regular training" of the marines.

GENEVA, Oct. 11. (AP)—The chief British delegate, Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon, today took a decisive stand against any resumption of Germany during the first stage of any arms convention which might be drawn up.

AFTERNOON PROGRAMS GIVEN BY FOUR CLUBS HERE YESTERDAY

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUBS START COURSES FOR YEAR-- EL PROGRESSO MEETS ALSO

FOUR study clubs met yesterday afternoon, three for their first regular programs of the year. Two heard programs on contemporary novels, and two on parliamentary law. Opening programs of their study courses were given by the three Twentieth Century clubs.

Mrs. Smith Hostess.

Mrs. W. J. Smith was hostess to Twentieth Century members at her home, and Mrs. Myrl Fitzgerald was leader of the parliamentary study. Members answered roll call with sections of the club by-laws.

Mrs. Fitzgerald's topic was "What Every Club Woman Should Know." Mrs. R. B. Fisher discussed the importance of public speaking to the club woman, urging members to acquire this gift rather than envy it.

A refreshment course was served during an informal social period after the program.

Junior Twentieth Century.

Mrs. A. B. Goldston was hostess and leader for the Junior Twentieth Century club. A business meeting was held in charge of the new president, Miss Margaret Buckler. Members voted to assist in providing needed furnishings for the city club rooms, and to give a tea towel shower for the club rooms at the next meeting.

The popular new novel, "Little Man, What Now?", by Hans Fallada, was reviewed by Mrs. Goldston. Mrs. M. C. Overton sketched the life of the author, and all members joined in a discussion of the book and the writer.

A Halloween decorative motif was emphasized in the refreshments.

Review of a novel was also the program for El Progresso club, meeting with Mrs. George Briggs. Mrs. S. G. Surratt was leader, and the book was "Pageant."

Roll call was answered with the name of a modern novel and its author. Mrs. Surratt reviewed the book under discussion, and Mrs. John Andrews presented the synopsis. Mrs. C. P. Buckler discussed life and customs of Tasmania as portrayed in the book.

Members present, who voted to assist in the club room furnishing program, were Mesdames Andrews, Buckler, W. M. Craven, J. M. Dodson, W. R. Ewing, C. T. Hunkapillar, W. Ledrick, C. C. Ledrick, Carson Loftus, Dave Pope, W. Purviance, Surratt, Charles Thut, James Todd Jr., George Walstad, and the hostess.

The Twentieth Century Culture club had its meeting at the club rooms, with Mrs. J. P. Wehrung as hostess. Mrs. F. E. Leech was leader of the parliamentary program, and roll call was answered with a parliamentary rule.

Tenth Birthday of Alma Watkins Was Honored at Party

Mrs. M. V. Watkins entertained for her daughter, Alma, on her tenth birthday with a party at her home.

Guests enjoyed games, then were served ice cream and cake. Those present were the honoree and Betty Clark, Rosalie Kribbs, Jo Ellen Stapp, Jewel Hill, Della Laffett, Simmons, Alta Horn, Mary Helen Bernadene Tucker, Robin Adair.

Bronchial Troubles Need Creomulsion

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agents for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the source, is absorbed into the blood, and attacks the seat of the trouble.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Your own druggist is authorized to refund your money on the spot if your cough or cold is not relieved by Creomulsion. (Adv. 9E)

All High School Girls Will Hear Mrs. Greene Talk

All high school girls will be guests of the American Association of University Women at gym tomorrow to hear a talk by Mrs. Josephine Greene, dean of women at West Texas State Teachers college.

Mrs. Greene will be here to address a meeting of Sam Houston Parent-Teacher association later in the afternoon. Mothers of high school girls are also invited to hear her.

Miss Idelle Cox, faculty advisor from the A. A. U. W. for high school students, will be in charge of the program.

Mrs. J. M. Dodson, president of High School Parent-Teacher association will read "If" for girls, and the A. A. U. W. scholarship will be explained under the direction of Mrs. A. N. Dille Jr.

All girls who wish employment through the A. A. U. W. employment agency this year will sign up at this meeting. Mrs. J. B. Massa, president of the club, announced.

Mission Work In Orient Studied by Methodist W. M. S.

Missions in the Orient were studied by women of the Methodist church, who met in circles Monday afternoon for programs from the magazine "The Outlook." Circle two also included a social hour.

Mrs. H. L. Wilder was leader for circle one, which met in the Friendship class room. The meeting was opened with an interesting devotion on the subject, "Ye are the light of the world." In connection with this Mrs. Wilder read the poem, "Where Cross the Crowded Ways."

Mrs. S. C. Evans discussed the Hiroshima girls' school, and Mrs. Nell Walberg the kindergarten in Japan. A short business session was conducted.

Mrs. Ralph Jones was welcomed as a visitor. The 12 members present were Mesdames L. N. Atchison, F. C. Walberg, S. C. Evans, Lottie Pierson, Nell Walberg, C. E. Ward, J. L. Nance, Joe Shelton, S. A. Hurst, A. B. Pullingim, Ralph Chism.

Circle 2 In Social.

The home of Mrs. Horace McBea was the meeting place of circle two, with John B. Hessey in charge of a social hour following the program and business session.

Mrs. W. Purviance directed the devotion from chapter two of Philipians. Mrs. Hessey's subject was Lambuth Training School; Mrs. Lee Harrah's was "Good Morning, Teacher"; and Mrs. Robert Morris, Building the Church in Korea.

Mrs. Hessey told fortunes during the social period, to further the Halloween atmosphere of house decorations, cookies, and punch.

Mesdames R. K. Elkins, Silver Faulkner, Harrah, Hessey, C. T. Nicholson, Purviance, Morris, and Lee McConnell were present.

First National Piano Tournament Is Announced; Texan Is In Charge

ABILENE, Oct. 11 (AP)—Plans for the first annual national piano-playing tournament sponsored by the National Music Guild of New York and open to all grade school, high school and college students throughout the nation, have been announced by Irl Allison of Abilene.

Allison, dean of the Simmons university music school, and organizer of the tournament plan of national competition in piano, will be general director. Edwin L. Gunther, New York, is guild secretary.

The tournament will be held in 76 cities in 48 states and the District of Columbia during national music week in the first week of May, 1934. It will introduce a new type of competition for piano students. Objective will be not only perfect playing but the encouragement of extensive repertoire as well. Students participating will not be in competition against one another, but against a standard. In golf parlance, they will be "playing against par."

A uniform system of judging will be used in each of the 76 units. Method of rating will be such that a second elimination will be unnecessary, making a single entry final. Judges in each unit will receive instructions from a corps of supreme judges headed by Edwin Hughes, New York; John Thompson, Missouri; and Charles Wakefield Cadman, California, recently appointed by Charles F. Horner of Kansas City, guild president. Awards will consist of embossed certificates on which ratings will be designated by red, for unit honors; blue, for state honors, and gold seals, for national honors. The certificates will be signed by the supreme judges.

National competition is the outgrowth of the all-southwestern tournament founded by Allison and now in its sixth season. Starting in 1929 with one unit—Abilene—last year it had grown to eleven units of 212 students in four states.

The 1934 tournament units by states include: Arizona, Tucson and Phoenix; Arkansas, Little Rock; Colorado, Denver; Kansas, Topeka; Louisiana, New Orleans; Shreveport; Missouri, Kansas City, St. Louis; New Mexico, Albuquerque; Oklahoma, Tulsa, Oklahoma City; Texas, Abilene, Austin, Beaumont, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, Plainview, San Antonio, Tyler, Waco, Wichita Falls.

Miss Simmons' Father Dies

Miss Pearl Simmons, third grade teacher, received word Saturday afternoon that her father who lives at Erick, Okla., had died. She left immediately for Erick, and is still there due to the fact that her mother is seriously ill.

Those from McLean who attended the funeral which was held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 were: Mr. John Harding and A. R. McHaney, Mrs. Mary Sillar, Misses Althea McCarty and Vera Cummings; Mrs. J. E. Lynch, Miss Elizabeth Wilkerson, T. N. Holloway and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Caldwell.

Persons

Carl Overton and family of Canyon were guests in the Chas. E. Cooke home Sunday.

Mrs. M. J. Everett of Amarillo is spending a few weeks with her two sons, Perry and Bee Everett. Eld. Alvah Johnson, pastor of the Church of Christ of Turkey, who is holding a protracted meeting at Magic City, was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Blevins.

Miss Elizabeth Kennedy, English teacher in the local high school, was in Amarillo for the weekend.

Choral Club At Work

The high school choral club, under the supervision of Mrs. Cecil G. Goff, is well under way for the year's work. Officers are: President, Clara Faye Carpenter; secretary, Avalie Back; treasurer, Gertrude Rouse; librarian, Marie Landers; reporter, Juanita Carpenter; pianist, Dorothy Jent St. Clair.

Meetings are held each Monday afternoon. Several programs are to be given during the school year.

KID BAND HAS INVITATION TO GO TO AUSTIN

WILSON SCHOOL GROUP
MAY PLAY IN STATE CONVENTION

HONORS which have come to the Kid band of Woodrow Wilson school in the form of an invitation to play at the state convention of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs also reflect credit to Pampa as a whole.

The band will probably play in Austin on the morning of November 15, it was announced last night by Mrs. Annie Daniels, principal of the school, who would accompany the band. The director, Winston Savage, and Miss Lois Stallings, the accompanist, also would make the trip, taking about 20 pupils. The invitation was under consideration today.

Parents of the young musicians also are thrilled by the invitation and offer to help defray the expenses of the trip. The band would leave about two days before the concert, going by train. It would be an educational trip for all, since the group would see the legislative hall, the capitol building, the deaf and dumb institute, and the public schools of Austin.

The band has been heard in many towns of the Panhandle, but this would be the longest trip it has made. Its fame has spread all over the state. It is fully and neatly uniformed.

Principal Will Be Speaker For Horace Mann PTA

Mrs. Jim Stroupe will be leader of the program for Horace Mann Parent-Teacher association tomorrow afternoon, when the principal, Miss Josephine Thomas, and Mrs. C. F. Hunkapillar will be speakers.

The subject will be "Character development through education against liquor and narcotics." Miss Thomas will present the discussion on this topic.

A program outline follows: Group singing. Invocation, C. E. Lancaster. Violin solo, Miss Harnera Stover. Talk, Miss Thomas.

Tap dance, June Marie Amick. Talk, Parents and Teachers Working Together for the Good of the Child, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar.

Mrs. Mathers won high score for the guests and Mrs. W. L. Austin for the members. Mrs. Bennett won the traveling prize.

First Birthday Party

Master Earl Ellsworth Scadden was honored by his mother, Mrs. Earl Scadden, with a party last Monday afternoon, celebrating his first birthday.

His guests were Bobby Fry, Eugene McAdoo, Jimmie Fritzel, Leroy Williams and Nora Conaster, all of whom were accompanied by their mothers. Mrs. Frank Cole and Miss Dorothy Dolcater were also present.

Master Earl proved to be a worthy host at the party.

Grand Matron Honored

A large crowd was present Monday night at the meeting of the local Eastern Star Chapter, honoring Mrs. Riva Burnett of Miami, Grand Matron of Texas.

Mrs. Burnett was accompanied by her husband and Mrs. John Newman.

A nine pound baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Miller on October 7. The young miss has been named Audrey Lee.

Millard Rowden, of San Diego, Calif., is visiting his cousin, Judge W. L. Helton, and family.

Margaret Dobbins is reported ill this week.

Room Mothers to Sell Quilt as Aid To Classroom Fund

Fifth grade room mothers of Baker school planned to sell a quilt on Fathers Night, next month, to provide funds to purchase extra notebooks for pupils in that grade. Plans were made at a meeting yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. A. L. Jones served pumpkin pie with whipped cream, and coffee after the business session to Mrs. J. R. Arrington and Miss Beatrice Drew, fifth grade teachers, and the following mothers: Mesdames Ira Boynton, J. P. James, Clyde Dunlap, Earl Root, J. M. Sowder, Claude Lard.

FIRE SAFETY PROGRAM WILL BE GIVEN PTA

World Relations Study Is Started By AAUW Class

America's policy regarding the Panama canal was discussed last evening at the first session of the class in international relations sponsored by the American Association of University Women.

John V. Osborne was the speaker. He presented the background of relations with Panama, and traced dealings with that country to the present. Round table discussion followed.

The class met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Massa. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Will, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thut, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Leech, Mrs. E. L. Norman, Mrs. Earl O'Keefe, Misses Angela Strnad and Charlotte Embry.

Next Tuesday evening the meeting will be at the city hall club room. Attendance is open to anyone who is interested. Those who have signed for the course are especially urged to be present next week.

Get Rid of Malaria!

Banish Chills and Fever!

To conquer Malaria, you must do two things: (1) Destroy the infection in the blood. (2) Build up the blood to overcome the effects and to fight against further attack. There is one medicine that does these two things and that is Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic! The tasteless quinine in Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic destroys the malarial infection in the blood while the iron builds up the blood. Thousands of people have conquered Malaria with the aid of Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. In addition to being a noted remedy for Malaria, it is also an excellent tonic of general use. Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic is pleasant to take and contains nothing harmful. Even children like it and they can take it safely. For sale by all stores.

TAX FORUM IS PLAN OF BPW CLUB FOR CITY

EVENTS FOR COMING
WEEKS OUTLINED
BY MEMBERS

STEPS for arousing public interest in payment of delinquent city taxes were taken by the Business and Professional Women's club in a business meeting last evening, following discussion of an editorial on Constructive Economy in Government from a recent issue of the club magazine.

Mrs. Alex Schneider and her public relations committee will secure specific details from the city commission, then present the problem to Pampa civic clubs with the definite aim of rendering service as needed.

Open Meeting Planned.

Plans are under way for an open forum meeting in the next few days, with capable speakers presenting the pressing need of tax collections to the public. This action will be taken because all past due interest and penalties are to be remitted on city taxes paid within the next two weeks only.

The editorial which aroused interest of the club in the local situation was written by Thomas H. Reed, chairman of the committee on citizens' councils for constructive economy. The program of this committee was endorsed by the national Business and Professional Women's convention in Chicago this summer.

"The citizens' council is a means of fostering interchange of information and views among all organized elements in a community that realize the need for reducing budgets and municipal expenditures, but too wise to cripple basic social services which make civilization real," he stresses.

Since this program is in accord with the 10-year objective plan of B. & P. W. clubs, several clubs have instigated the formation of these councils in their cities, members here were told.

Legislative Report.

Mrs. Lillian Jordan, vice president, presented the discussion. She also reported that the state legislature had rejected for the third time a child labor amendment to the federal constitution, which 15 states have ratified, and suggested that the club take some action on this bill.

Two social events for coming weeks were planned by the club. One is a dinner for husbands and friends, to be given at the Schneider hotel November 28. It will take the place of the regular November social, and will be in charge of Mrs. Schneider. Reservations must be made a week in advance with Ola Nellis.

The club also will hold an inter-city meeting in the form of a tea on Sunday afternoon, October 22. Members of Amarillo, Clarendon, Wheeler, Borger, and Shamrock clubs will be invited.

Mrs. Carl Sturgeon is in charge of the program, with Hazel Christian, Louise Durenberger, and Lillian Jordan as hostesses.

Christine Smith, program chairman, announced that programs for the year are practically complete, and that yearbooks will be ready for distribution soon.

E. D. Garrett of St. Louis is a business visitor today.

Buck Luther was over from Amarillo yesterday.

J. W. Morrow of Dallas was in Pampa yesterday.

J. L. Dykes was here from LeFors on business yesterday.

GOVERNMENT WILL BEGIN DRIVE TO END FLOUR BOOTLEGGING

FARMERS ARE VIOLATORS OF PROCESS LAW

GROWERS ARE SELLING TAX-FREE FLOUR IS COMPLAINT

BY SA MILDSE, Associated Press Staff Writer. (Copyright, 1933, By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP)—A new form of bootlegging—illegal wheat milling to escape the processing tax on the grain—has grown to such proportions that a determined drive to end it is planned by federal authorities.

Collection of the 30 cents a bushel tax on wheat, and enforcement of the regulations surrounding the levy are the immediate problems of the bureau of internal revenue.

The farm adjustment administration is vitally concerned, however, because the proceeds from the processing tax are depended upon to raise funds to pay farmers who agree to reduce their acreage by 15 per cent next year.

As indicated by the steady flow of complaints that has come to the farm administration, the chief violators of the law are growers, whom the processing tax was designed to help.

The wheat farmer was given the privilege of having wheat for his own family use ground into flour tax free. The charge has been made, and repeated from virtually every wheat growing section, that some farmers are having more wheat ground than they need and disposing of the excess, tax-free flour at a profit.

Custom millers in some sections are reported to be accepting the farmers' estimates without question. The growers are requested by internal revenue bureau regulations to make an affidavit that the custom ground wheat is for their own use and also that it was grown on their land.

Protest has been made, however, that in some instances commercial truck drivers are signing affidavits and are receiving the flour for disposition.

The farm administration believes some of the complaints have come from enemies of the processing tax but the widespread reports have caused concern. Consequently, plans have been made to offer every cooperation to the bureau of internal revenue in detecting violators.

The sale of small milling outfits which may be operated on the farm by motor, or hand even, is reported to be increasing at a high rate. The receipts from the tax in 22 days in July was only $384,000. Officials said, however, that this figure had no particular significance since millers were slow to pay because of unfamiliarity with the tax regulations.

Outrageous Fortune

—By PATRICIA WENTWORTH

OUTRAGEOUS FORTUNE
SYNOPSIS: "Jimmy Riddell" must be his name, because Nesta Riddell tells him he is her husband—also that he has stolen the famous Van Berg emeralds, and shot Elmer Van Berg. All "Jimmy" knows is that he woke up in a hospital, unable to remember anything behind that awakening. Now he has run away from Nesta with very little money to go on; fragments from the past come to him, and to his horror one shred of memory has to do with having drinks with Elmer Van Berg and seeing the emeralds! Meanwhile, Caroline Leigh, who had thought the man in the hospital might be her cousin Jim Randall, has fallen in her attempt to see him, and is reading over some of his old letters.

FOOTSTEPS APPROACH

That was the Christmas letter. Caroline answered it at once. She told him she was living with Peter Ann, and she told him just how dreary and lonely and neglected Hale Place was getting to look—on the pineapples at the entrance—and if you don't come home soon, the trees will meet across the home? I do so want you to come. Your loving Caroline.

She had always signed like that to Jim from the time that she wrote him her very first letter when she was seven years old and he had sent her a doll for her birthday. It had real hair, and brown eyes that opened and shut. Jim was sixteen.

He wrote again in February. He was very hopeful about an invention of his. He couldn't tell her about it, because it was all extremely confidential. Elmer Van Berg might back it. If he did, the thing was made.

He wrote at length about Elmer Van Berg, for whom he seemed to have a high admiration. "The better is, he's interested in too many things. He takes turns at them. Whilst he's riding one, the others might as well be dead. Just as I thought I had brought my job off, his uncle, old Peter Van Berg, died and left him an extraordinary collection of jewels. Elmer's too busy with them to have time for me and my affairs."

There was a lot more about the Van Bergs. Susie Van Berg was awfully pretty, and awfully kind. They were great friends.

In March he wrote that the Van Bergs were coming to England for the summer—"Susie wants to go to Court in as many of Peter Van Berg's jewels as possible."

After that there was nothing for a couple of months. Then he wrote again, still from New York. "The Van Bergs were in England. He was half thinking of coming over after them. Susie thought it might be worth his while—she thought Elmer was working up for a change of hobbies. They had taken Packham Hall for the summer—"You might go over and call as it's so near."

Caroline had gone over to call with Patsy Ann; but it was June, and the Van Bergs were taking their London season very seriously and only coming down for week ends. Caroline and Patsy had been asked to lunch on Sunday—and of course it had to be just that one particular Sunday which Robert Arbuthnot had already commandeered. He was a distant cousin of Patsy's still more distant cousin of Caroline's and trustee to both of them. He was an able lawyer and a blinding boor.

Caroline maintained that he only came to see them when he had something unpleasant to impart with regard to their investments. On this occasion he left Patsy the poorer by about twenty pounds a year, and made it impossible for Caroline to meet the Van Bergs.

In July Caroline went north to visit her father's sister, who kept open house every year in the Highlands. It was while she was at Craigellachie that Jim wrote to say he was in London. He was given a warm invitation to join Mrs. Ogilvie's party.

Caroline passed quickly over the time when they waited for his answer. He would come—of course he would come. They would go for tremendously long walks and tell each other all the things that you couldn't put into letters.

If he got Aunt Grace's letter on Wednesday morning he might catch the night train and come right through. Caroline had gone about in a queer warm dream of happiness. Which it hurt her to think about now.

Because Jim hadn't come. He hadn't written for three days, and then it was just a few lines to Grace Ogilvie. He thanked her very much and he hoped perhaps he might be able to get up later on, but just at the moment he was afraid he couldn't spare his time. He didn't write to Caroline at all, not until the beginning of August, and then it wasn't what you could call a letter: just half a dozen lines, all scrawled in a hurry.

"I may be able to get off on the 8th. If Grace can still have me. I shall probably take a steamer up the coast."

And that was all. It might have been written to a Mere Acquaintance. It wasn't the kind of a letter to be Jim's last letter to his loving Caroline. It gave her a very desolate, grey, hopeless feeling. It made her feel, quite illogically, that Jim was drowned. The Alice Arden, who was on the eighth of August and had gone to bits on the Elston rocks.

That was a very frightening thing to hear. It seemed to make it certain that Jim had sailed on the Alice Arden. A cold shiver passed over Caroline. She put the letters together again with hands went over to put them away, the room felt very cold.

She drew a sobbing breath as she shut the drawer. It felt as if she were shutting Jim away. The tears began to run down her face, and all at once she couldn't fear the light any more. It is only happy people who want to stand in the light. Caroline pushed down the switch, and was glad of the dark.

She cried bitterly, crouching down by the bed and pressing her face into the pillow lest Patsy Ann should hear. Patsy had come up stairs was moving about in the room across the tiny landing. Caroline cried all her tears away. She had held them all in for a long time, and now they were all gone, and she felt rather like a ghost, weak and light and insubstantial.

She went to the window and opened it.

Something in Caroline's mind said quickly, "It's no use crying over spilled milk." She thought that was very odd.

She leaned out farther. A faint damp breath moved the trees across the road. Over the edge of the silence came the sound of footsteps coming nearer.

Tomorrow, Caroline tangles herself in a strange adventure.

Books For Study Chosen by Women Of Baptist Union

New study books were chosen by three circles of First Baptist Missionary union in their meetings Monday, while one group started the study of a new text.

Mrs. R. E. Gatlin was elected chairman of circle one, which met with Mrs. J. A. Arwood. Mrs. R. W. Tucker was in charge and led the devotional. Mrs. Gatlin spoke on stewardship.

"Things We Should Know" was the book chosen for a series of programs beginning next week.

Members present were Mesdames Anna Brooks, H. C. Price, H. C. Boyd, E. G. Hemphill, H. E. Crocker, C. T. Stevens, H. C. Wilkie, Arwood, C. E. Cheatham, Fritz Weichter, Joe Randall, Jordan, L. E. Hawkins, E. I. High, E. A. Davis, W. B. Henry, J. C. Bernard, Tucker, and Gatlin.

Circle two selected the same book for study, when it met with Mrs. C. H. Schulkey. She was in charge of the devotional, and Mrs. T. B. Solomon led a program on the life of Abraham.

Pumpkin pie with whipped cream and tea were served during a social hour to Mesdames N. B. Ellis, T. W. Jamison, O. C. Malone, J. P. Reynolds, H. Haynes, J. P. Wehrung, and Solomon.

Study of "Things We Should Know" was started by circle three, with Mrs. R. L. Edmondson as leader. Mrs. E. S. Brake was hostess at her home. Mrs. J. M. Cash led the devotional.

Others present were Mesdames Dee Campbell, Joe R. Foster, F. E. Hoffman, and one visitor.

Mrs. O. L. Beaky was hostess to circle four, and also in charge of the business meeting in the absence of Mrs. J. A. Meek, chairman, who is ill.

Mrs. C. E. Lancaster conducted the devotional. Members chose the book, "Our Lord in Gethsemane," to be taught by Mrs. Cox.

WORLD WILL BE DESTROYED BY A GIANT EXPLOSION SOME DAY, IS BELIEF OF BELGIAN SCIENTIST

Earth Has Exploded Several Times Already

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP)—Possibility that the universe, like the cat with nine lives, may be "re-born" every so often through a mighty explosion, only to "die" and be re-born again in another giant blast was outlined today by Abbe Georges Le Maitre, noted Belgian scientist.

Under this theory our universe is perhaps built out of ashes of another universe that existed before this one began, the Abbe explained. When the present universe "dies" also, as many scientists believe it will, still another universe may be "born" out of its ashes and live on for untold ages more.

Abbe Le Maitre is world-famous for his theories about the origin and structure of the universe. He is on leave from the University of Louvain to give a course in the theory of relativity here this winter at the Catholic university of America.

How the universe began is more easily explained through the idea of a periodical "Re-Birth" of the universe, Abbe Le Maitre pointed out, though he is far from sure the re-birth idea is correct. It helps explain, however, the origin of the huge atom from which, he holds, our universe was born.

This atom contained all the matter now existing in the universe, the Abbe believes, packed into a space several times larger than the distance from the earth to the sun (93,000,000 miles). About ten billion years ago this huge atom was exploded, perhaps by the same mysterious force that causes the radio-activity of radium. The fragments, which are our sun and the countless other stars and star-clouds, still are flying apart.

Origin of the original mighty atom is a mystery, but it might have consisted simply of the fragments of the explosion of a previous universe which had flown back together again, says the Abbe, like a motion picture of a bursting shell shown in reverse. When the stars of this previous universe were packed together again in a single atom as before, this atom might have exploded again to form the universe as we know it today.

Abbe Le Maitre disagrees with some of the scientists who think the universe is alternately expanding and contracting, like a toy balloon blown up and then deflated. If there is any expansion and contraction it takes place only once in each of the succession of different universes. Most scientists think the universe is expanding because study of the light coming from distant nebulae of star-systems seems to show that they are receding from earth at speeds up to 15,000 miles a second.

McLean Lions in Clever Program In High School

M'LEAN, Oct. 11.—Tuesday was a busy day for Lions of McLean. In addition to their regular luncheon at the Baptist church basement, they gave an unusually entertaining program at the high school.

All club members were grouped around a table on the stage as the curtain came open. The program was begun like a regular club luncheon with the tail twister doing double duty. Among the fines collected was one from Lion Tamer Holloway, who was accused of going swimming in the children's wading pool last summer.

Witt Springer was fined for having a silver spoon in his pocket which was alleged to have been stolen from the table. T. A. Landers, Boss Lion, was compelled to add to the treasury for having in his pocket a cigar when he has the reputation of being bitterly opposed to the use of tobacco.

The club quartet, composed of W. D. Biggers, T. A. Landers, Jesse J. Cobb, and Reep Landers, sang several numbers. Claud Williams made a talk on "Lionism." The entire program was under the direction of Boyd Meador, who received much praise from the student body for the splendid entertainment.

At the club's regular luncheon, all members were present with the exception of one member, who was out of town. Even the "half-member," County Agent Ralph Thomas, was present.

As special guests of the club, Miss Kennedy and Mrs. John Butler helped with the program. Miss Kennedy read "A Boy's Essay on a Horse" and Mrs. Butler spoke in the interest of the Parent-Teacher association, inviting all Lions to join.

The Lions plan a Halloween program for ladies' night, at which a supper will be served on the last Tuesday evening in October.

KEN MOYER AND HIS FAMOUS ORCHESTRA COMING HERE TO PLAY AT PLA-MOR ON MONDAY

One of the greatest orchestras and floor shows that has ever been brought to the Panhandle will be presented at the Pla-Mor auditorium Monday night when Ken Moyer and his orchestra and show comes to Pampa. Moyer is nationally known, having been with Paul Whiteman, Rudy Vallee, and the Paramount theater in New York. With the orchestra will come Miss Virginia England, crowned Miss Miami last year. She is a talented singer and dancer and one of the most beautiful women in the nation. Happy Roy Thomas, for some time a headliner with R. K. O., and Dick Daugherty, former Columbia star, will also be with the orchestra. The orchestra has a saxophone king and his appearance has been a headline attraction for several years. His orchestra is composed of well known musicians who take individual parts during the entertainment. The Pla-Mor will be beautifully decorated for the occasion and a packed house is anticipated. The orchestra and show will be presented at a popular price.

WITH THE HARVESTERS

By HARRY E. HOARE

The game with Shawnee, Okla., Friday afternoon will give the Harvesters a chance to perk up for the coming of the Amarillo Sandies on Armistice day. Shawnee boasts an aerial attack that is second to none and Amarillo is touted to have one that is a close second. If the Harvesters can hold Shawnee's vaunted aerial circus, our minds will be a little more at ease about the Amarillo tilt.

Already fans are dopping out the size of the crowd that will see the Sandies and Harvesters battle here Nov. 11. The opinion is that between 6,000 and 8,000 will pack the Harvesters park for the big game. Remember two years ago? Between 12,000 and 15,000 howling fans saw the Harvesters upset the dope buckers and defeat Amarillo for the first time in history and now—will history repeat itself in 1933? We are "banking" on the green and gold, but it is going to be a herculean task.

Many fans are taking Cisco lightly because the Lobos lost a couple of early games. That has been the history of Oilbelt teams for many years. They start slowly but look what usually happens at the end—an Oilbelt team is battling in the finals. Word comes from Cisco that the Lobos have hit their stride and that stormy weather is in store for future opponents. Cisco, you will remember, was ruled out of their conference last year and they took advantage of the lay-off to gather a bunch of fine players. They are just now rounding into form and I see them as state contenders before long.

Well, so long for a week. Leave tomorrow morning for Shawnee and after that Dallas to see Oklahoma and Texas battle.

Mrs. A. H. Doucette returned this morning from a visit with friends in Kansas City and Paola, Kan.

B. B. Adams of Amarillo is visiting in Pampa today.

One of the dangers of jangled nerves is that the victim is often not aware of his own condition. Jangled nerves can betray us into sharp retorts that not only hurt others—but ourselves as well. M'LEAN'S TIGERS WILL FACE STRONGEST FOES AT SHAMROCK FRIDAY NIGHT

VICTOR WILL BE PICKED TO WIN DISTRICT

'DOPE' SHOWS TEAMS TO BE EVENLY MATCHED

What is being talked as one of the year's outstanding football games of the season will be played in Shamrock Friday night, when the McLean Tigers invade the home of the Shamrock Irishmen for a conference game. The teams are said to be well matched and about the same size.

The winner of the important tilt will have an inside track on sectional honors, but will have the Clarendon Branches to pass before the title will be safe. Shamrock showed one of the trickiest aerial attacks of the year in a 20 to 7 victory over LeFors last Friday night. The Irish also presented a couple of running half backs that looked like the McLean "scouters," Christian and Crockett.

Many Pampa fans plan to drive to Shamrock for the big game. It is creating a lot of interest in Pampa. Local enthusiasts are looking for McLean to go to the finals again this year—and win. McLean held the Harvesters to a 6-6 tie the opening game of the season here.

CARL HUBBELL CHOSEN MOST VALUABLE PLAYER FOR 1933

Klein Is Second; Berger Is Third and Terry Fourth; Pepper Martin Fifth.

By HERBERT W. BARKER Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK, Oct. 11. (AP)—The selection of Carl Hubbell as the National league's "most valuable player" for 1933 will bring few squawks from John Heydler's circuit and absolutely none at all from the Washington Senators, champions of the American league.

By almost unanimous consent, the southpaw pitching ace of the world champion New York Giants was adjudged most valuable to his team in balloting by a committee of eight members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America. The results of the poll were announced yesterday by Denman Thompson of the Washington Star, committee chairman.

Hubbell polled 77 points out of a maximum possible total of 80 and won out by decisive margins from Chuck Klein and Wally Berger, slugging outfielders of the Phillies and Boston Braves respectively.

For several years Hubbell has been rated one of the National league's most effective hurlers but the lean master of the screwball never before enjoyed so sensational a season as he did this year. He was the dominant pitching figure in the Giants' dramatic drive to the National league pennant, winning 23 games, ten of them shutouts, and twice turned back Washington in the world series. The Senators failed to get an earned run off him in 20 innings.

Hubbell's selection marks the first time a pitcher has gained the award since 1924 when Dazzy Vance, then of Brooklyn, was the winner. No member of the Giants had been

CONNIE MACK APPROVES OF CRONIN ACTS

JUSTIFIES SELECTION OF CLIFF BOLTON TO PINCH HIT

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11. (AP)—Baseball's veteran strategist, Connie Mack, speaking from the authority of 50 years in the game, justified Manger Joe Cronin's selection of young Cliff Bolton to pinch hit for the Washington Senators in that "hot spot" of the fourth game of last week's world series.

At the same time he points out that if the Senators had been equal to making two bunts in the last two games, the series would have returned to New York with Washington a game in the lead.

"Bolton hit hard right down to the close of the season," he explains. "He was 'hot' and you always use your 'hot' man to bat in a pinch. That was why Cronin no doubt selected Bolton to bat in the fourth game with the bases loaded."

Analyzing those two failures to bunt, Connie says the first was in the eighth inning of the fourth game when Buddy Myer walked and Goose Goslin came up with orders to bunt, but hit too fast, forcing Myer.

"In turn, Dave Harris forced Goslin," Connie adds. "Had either of those bunts been able to advance the runner on first, he could have scored on Cronin's single, and the Senators would have won 2 to 1 in nine innings, instead of losing by that score in the eleventh."

"Then, in the fifth inning of the final game, Fred Schulte and Joe Kunkel singled. Ossie Bluege got two strikes out under the rules. Had Bluege made his sacrifice, Schulte would have had no trouble scoring on Sewell's long drive, and, again, the Senators would have won 4 to 3 in the ninth, instead of losing by that count in the tenth."

Marriage Risky If Courtship Is Too Short or Too Long

CHICAGO, Oct. 11. (AP)—University of Chicago scientists have come to the conclusion that either extremely long or unusually short courtships end the same way—in matrimonial difficulties.

They came to the conclusion by studying the answers of 6,000 married couples to questionnaires.

There's a considerable hazard in courtships lasting less than three months and great risks in those that drag along more than 5 years.

From three to five years was held to be an ideal length of time.

College graduates were given a 25 per cent better chance for happiness in marriages than persons with eighth grade educations.

Couples living in cities, the investigators concluded, find it more difficult to adjust themselves to married life.

named since Larry Doyle won the old Chalmers award in 1912.

Back of Hubbell in this year's balloting finished Klein with 48 points, followed by Berger with 44. Manager Bill Terry of the Giants was fourth with 35 with Pepper Martin of the Cardinals fifth at 31.

CAPTAIN PATTON PRAISED BY COACH FOR ALL-AROUND PLAY

Praise for Captain J. Patton, who let a couple of long passes slip through his fingers at Big Spring, was given today by Coach Odus Mitchell of the Harvesters, who called attention to the excellent all-around play of the end.

Insofar as caring for the duties of a captain are concerned, Coach Mitchell said, Jess "is the best captain I've had in 8 years of coaching. Of course, he missed those passes, but the Big Spring coach told me that, in spite of that, he

Shawnee Causes School To Study Fire Prevention

The Woodrow Wilson Kid band entertained at the assembly program this morning at 10 o'clock. Fire prevention was the general theme.

The complete program follows: Fire drill by Boy Scouts. Woodrow Wilson Kid band. Talk by John Sturgeon. Sing-song by entire school.

Today's assembly was unusually good, for we had two victorious football teams to cheer. The chief question in the way of five prevention was to show how to keep Shawnee from burning us up.

Students heard the Woodrow Wilson Kid band last year will remember the hit they made, and John Sturgeon always has something interesting to say. The sing-songs each week also have proved diverting. If you have any suggestions for songs to be used, give them to Miss Siddons in the library.

Visitors are always welcome at high school assembly.

SPORTS OF P. H. S.
The Harvesters are over their losing streak. Last Saturday they defeated Big Spring at Big Spring 20 to 6. It seems that the Harvesters were too much for their contenders. Two of the touchdowns were made on about 50 yard runs.

This week they are going to Shawnee to play. Shawnee was runner-up for the Oklahoma state championship last year, and the coaches are expecting a real battle after this game. The Harvesters will be at home again to play Cisco Oct. 21.

Last week two Gorillas were overheard talking about what they would do if they were not left on the squad when Mr. Kelley cut the squad down. One of them said to the other: "Well, if I get put off the team, I'm going out for the Harvesters."

The Gorilla football team certainly has some promising material. Last Friday they won from the White Deer Bucks 10 to 6. Right from the beginning they played like veterans, making mistakes only in a few instances. From the first play to the end of the game they showed themselves to be superior to the White Deer team.

There was much larger attendance at the game than there has been at any Gorilla game for a long time. Perhaps that was because the Harvesters were playing away from home, but we believe that the fans knew that the Gorilla-Buck game was going to be worth seeing.

This week the Gorillas will play a return game at White Deer. Although the Gorillas won the first game, they are working hard for their next game with the Bucks.

Both boys and girls are getting interested in volleyball this year and several practice games were played last week between boy and girl teams. Practice is being held regularly at the gym from 4 to 5 o'clock every afternoon. Coach Weathered's team from Hopkins will come in for a practice game one day this week, and a game with LeFors is planned soon.

Mr. Kelley started teaching advanced tumbling and new tricks to his first hour gym class yesterday morning. The first hour class is composed of veterans, while the third hour class is made up chiefly of freshmen and sophomores. Judging from the fighting ability shown by two members of a gym class last week, Mr. Kelley also has ample material to start a class in boxing.

MEETING CHANGED
Child Study members will meet tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. R. S. Thompson instead of with Mrs. A. N. Dille Jr. as first scheduled. The change was made as Mrs. Dille is to be out of town this week.

RESPECT BOOKS

(An Editorial)
"EDUCATION"
Child! do not throw this book about! Refrain from the unholly pleasure Of cutting all the pictures out; Preserve it as your chiefest treasure.

Child, have you ever heard it said That you are heir of all the ages? Why then your hands were never made To tear these beautiful rich pages.

Students and faculty members, we wonder if you ever stop to think of how you cheat the other persons of the school when you take a book out of the library without signing for it at the desk? The librarian has a way of tracing books except by the cards that you sign. Many times students thoughtlessly carry out library books with text books without signing for them. Faculty members often go in and take a book out for one period and forget to take it back. A week or so later they clean out their desks and find the book which they forgot to return. Seven new books were lost last year by people taking them out without signing for them.

Students, do not cut the pictures out of the reference books. This mars the beauty of the book as well as the reading material. Many of the annuals have been destroyed by the students of the high school who cut pictures of their friends out of them, and many history reference books are now practically valueless because the pages are so cut up.

We cannot build up a good library if we tear it down as fast as we build, for our funds for new books are limited. Henry Ward Beecher once wrote, "A library is not a luxury but one of the necessities of life." The library is for you, and you are the one who uses it; so therefore, do your best to help build a good library and keep others from destroying it.

Night brings movies, campus caroling and whatnot to many students, but with the boys on the University of Florida football team, things are different. They do most of their practicing under flood

Novel History Classes Taught

Students in Mr. Castleberry's American history class are staging a contest. The class has been divided into five sections which take turn about conducting the recitation. The idea is to see which group can have the most interesting class.

The winning group last week was captained by Frances Reid. Other members of the group were Earl Seitz, Carl Smith, Lester Stevenson, Burton Tolbert, Roger Townsend, and Marguerite Williams.

Seniors Learning To Write Letters—No Foolin' Pal!

Any senior will tell you that when you get out of school you're supposed to know how to write letters. At least Miss May seems to think so, for that's all she had her English IV students do since school started.

Each student was asked to prepare a folio of thirty-two letters, all representing types of business letters and social notes that the average person has occasion to use. Miss May explained that the purpose was not to prepare students to become secretaries but to take care of their personal correspondence. Each day several examples of the type were discussed. Then students were asked to write an original letter of that type in class.

Among the types of social letters written were informal notes of invitation, and replies accepting and regretting; formal invitations, acceptances, and regrets; notes to accompany gifts and notes of thanks for gifts; bread-and-butter notes; notes of appreciation, congratulation, introduction, apology, and condolence; and personal news letters. The business letters written included a notice to the postmaster of change in address, a request that your daily paper be forwarded during vacation, a magazine subscription, a request for a college catalogue, an order, a letter requesting an adjustment, a letter of inquiry, a letter of application, a letter of recommendation, a letter accepting or rejecting a position, and a sales letter.

Miss May declares that this is more practical preparation for

300 OVERCOME WITH GLEE AT DONKEY BRAWL

SHRINERS GIVE SHARE OF PROCEEDS TO CAFETERIA

The score was a 2-2 tie, but that didn't really matter.

Wheeler Shriners brought a dozen donkeys of the "Mexican canary" variety and they stole the show. The donkey baseball game was played at Danciger park, with about 300 yelling fans present. Pampa Shriners, clubmen, and ex-Harvesters were in the local lineup. The proceeds were divided with Pampa's share going to the school cafeteria.

The three burros chosen for running bases had other ideas of the fitness of things. For instance, they preferred a jaunt down toward third base, even though their heads were pointed toward first. Two of them, especially, declined to submit gracefully to being ridden and spilled the riders over their heads several times before becoming docile. Pampa made one "snappy" double play.

Nor did the burros have any appreciation of a base hit. Several times they stopped within a foot of a base and refused to step into the circle. When they wished to stop, they put on four-wheel brakes and the riders went over their heads. Some hard falls resulted. No saddles were allowed. The game went 5 innings.

Dr. H. E. Nicholson of Wheeler gathered up the steeds, paying an average of $15 each for them. Some had shoulder welts showing they had done hard work; others were unbroken even to pack-saddles. The doctor offered a return engagement. John Studer umpired the game. The starting lineups

An Electric Mixer Is Never Out of A Job

An Electric Mixer doesn't know the meaning of unemployment—if it isn't doing one thing to help you out it's doing another even more helpful. It's the housewife's best friend—and even her husband uses it thoughtfully in making drinks that call for lemon or orange juice. Besides extracting fruit juices, your Electric Mixer mashes, whips, mixes, stirs, beats, and makes salad dressing. With a few inexpensive attachments it chops vegetables, grinds meat, opens cans and sharpens knives. In short, it saves both time and hard work. A child can operate it—see it demonstrated at once.

1 JAR RESINOL HEALED SEVERE ECZEMA

"More than 35 years ago, when I was a child, I developed a severe case of eczema behind my left ear. In spite of all the remedies used the disease spread rapidly over my head. Finally our doctor, one of the best in Kansas City, told Mother to try Resinol Ointment as he knew it was good. It was wonderful and after using a full jar the affection was entirely healed. Since then I have been an ardent user of Resinol for burns, cuts, and all manner of skin affec tions, and have never known it fail. There is nothing like it for the skin disorders of babies, it is so soothing and healing." (Signed)—Mrs. O. S. F., Goodman, Mo.
