ROTARY CLUB ORGANIZED HERE THURSDAY NIGHT

Through the efforts of Coke R. Stevenson and John M. Hankins, a Rotary Club was organized in Junction last Thursday night, with Mr. Arthur B. Mahew, District Governor of Uvalde, present as organizer and to install the officers.

The charter members were as follows: Coke R. Stevenson, W. P. Riley, Emil A. Loeffler, R. H. Loeffler, Dr. L. E. Standifer, Rev. Milton F. Hill, W. B. May, Buck Frazier, C. W. Atchison, George R. Pepper, E. R. Borden, J. N. Hodges, K. G. Durst, H. O. Denman, Joe Fritz, Dr. J. Holt Smith and John M. Hankins.

A large feed was spread at both the Graves and City Cafes, and a very enjoyable time was had, as there were some 45 or 50 people present to be entertained.

The Kerrville Rotary Club was represented by the following members: L. A. Shreiner, G. E. Brooks, J. L. Pampell, Milton Pampell, W. B. Brown, Dr. W. P. Dickey, J. J. Delaney, Dr. H. Lang of the same, John H. Ward, R. E. Franklin, Anton Ernst, W. A. Fawcett, W. C. Fawcett, Dr. E. Galbraith, Lee Mason, E. H. Prescott, Emil Saenger, C. E. Salter, G. W. Walker, J. O. Wheelus, O. M. Sammons, A. C. Schreiner, Jr., E. H. Patton, Hal Peterson, J. M. Dennis, J. E. McCleary, Dr. J. E. McDonald, Jas. A. Peril, O. J. Dobkins, C. B. Wheelus and Dad Walther. Sid Kring of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce, was also present.

After the banquet the body went into a business session and the following officers were elected for the local club:

Coke R. Stevenson, president; Emil A. Loeffler, vice-president; Dr. L. E. Standifer, treasurer; John M. Hankins, secretary.

The Rotary Club will mean much for the upbuilding of Junction in the future, and as it has started off with an excellent corps of officers, there is no reason to doubt that the Rotarians will do some great work locally.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH OF GEORGE C. BRALEY

News reached here Monday night about 1 o'clock, of the accident which caused the death of George C. Braley at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning. The accident occurred at a filling station where Braley was standing near an automobile in conversation with others, when the explosion of a gasoline tank caused his death, and injuring two others.

The injured were rushed to a local hospital in Dallas where medical attention was given, but the burns and other injuries were so severe that Braley succumbed at 7 o'clock.

The remains were brought to Menard where they were met by a number of the members of the local American Legion Post and thence to Junction where funeral services were held at the Methodist Church, conducted by Rev. Milton F. Hill, the pastor. Interment was made in the Junction Cemetery at 5 o'clock Wednesday evening.

The dust has become quite a nuisance the past few days. It seems that some arrangements might be made to again put the street sprinkler back on the job. It was on the job last summer and the effect was quite noticeable. The condition as now exists does not speak well for Junction business men. Tourists are commenting in no very favorable terms. We will have some two or three months yet of windy and dusty weather, so why not make an attempt to have at least a part of the dust eliminated? Yes, it will cost something.

Rev. J. J. Ray, pastor of the Christian Church at Mason, was here Saturday of last week en route to Menard. Rev. Ray was accompanied by Mrs. Ray.

ASPHALT TOPPING BE- ING POURED THIS WEEK

The Kelley Construction Company began the pouring of asphalt topping on the highway east of Junction one day this week, and have up to the present covered some six or eight miles.

A number of people from Junction were out to witness the beginning of work leading to the realization of their dreams. This class of road has been in the minds of many of our citizens for a number of years and they are now about to see the completion of a first class highway.

This asphalt topping will, under the existing contract, extend from the North Llano bridge on the west to Mountain Home on the east, and will eventually be continued to Kerrville, which will give the residents of this section a tarviated highway the entire distance to San Antonio.

There is at present an injunction pending against Kerr County restraining it from letting contract for the link between Mountain Home and Kerrville, but in the opinion of those familiar with court procedure, state that it will be only a matter of a short time until this question is eliminated and work will progress on this section.

W. A. Kelley, manager of the Kelley Construction Company states that the work of topping will be pushed as rapidly as possible consistent with good work, and again asks that motorists observe the signs of "detour" closely and avoid delay in traffic.

B. Y. P. U. REORGANIZES

The B. Y. P. U. re-organized last Sunday under the direction of Morris Day, who was here with the Starnes Evangelistic Party. Mr. Day gave an interesting talk on B. Y. P. U. work and all the members present expressed a desire to make our organization a success. This can be done only with the wholehearted support of the members of the Union, who can all do their part by being present and taking part in the meeting and getting other young people to come.

The following officers were elected: Bennett Kendrick, president; Lola May Goben, first vice-president; Ruth Lee Hoggett, second vice-president; Inez Ragland, third vice-president; Ruby Davis, fourth vice-president; first group captain, Ruby Johnson; second group captain, Mrs. Luther McDonald; third group captain, Frank Coffield; secretary and treasurer, Ray Munn; reporter, Mrs. W. T. Carpenter; pianist, Vivian James; chorister, Mrs. Luther McDonald.

All the young people of Junction are invited to attend whether they belong to our church or not. We assure them a hearty welcome and hope they will enjoy our meetings. It surely will not be necessary to urge the young people of our own church to come for we feel that they will do so as soon as they know that we have re-organized.

There were twenty-five present last Sunday and they all promised to come next Sunday and bring a friend. Let us try not to lose the wonderful spirit of fellowship and co-operation with the church that we had during the two weeks of the meeting just held.

CLASS PARTY

A happy occasion was the swimming party given Tuesday afternoon by Miss Mary Ellis Blackburn for the members of her Sunday School class of the Methodist Church.

The crowd met at McWright's Tourist Park where the young folk enjoyed a dip in the cool waters of the Llano. After the swim amusing games were played and the pleasant afternoon brought to a close when sandwiches, cookies and soda pop were served.

A Toast to a Fellow I'll Never Know

Here is a toast I want to drink to a fellow I'll never know—
To the fellow who's going to take my place when it's time for me to go. I've wondered what kind of a chap he'll be and I've wished I could take his hand. Just to whisper, "I wish you well, old man," in a way that he'd understand.
I'd like to give him the cheering word that I've longed at times to hear. I'd like to give him the warm handshake, wherever a friend seems near. I've learned no knowledge by sheer hard work, and I wish I could pass it on. To the fellow who'll come to take my place some day when I am gone.
Will he see all the old mistakes I've made and note all the battles lost? Will he ever guess of the tears they caused or the heartaches they cost? Will he gaze through the failures and fruitless toil to the underlying plan? And catch a glimpse of the real intent and the heart of the vanquished man?
I dare to hope he may pause some day as he tells as I have wrought, And gain some strength for his weary task from the battles which I have fought. But I've only the task itself to leave with the cares for him to face. And never a cheering word may speak to the fellow who'll take my place.
Then here's to your health, old chap, I drink as a bridegroom to his bride—I leave an unfinished task for you, but God knows how I tried. I've dreamed my dreams as all men do, but never a one came true. And my prayer today is that all the dreams may be realized by you.
And we'll meet some day in the great unknown—out in the realm of space. You'll know my clasp as I take your hand and gaze in your tired face. Then all our failures will be success in the light of the new found dawn. So I'm drinking your health, old chap, who'll take my place when I'm gone. Anonymous.

INTERESTING CHANGES IN POSTAL RATES

Effective the first of July, some interesting changes in postal rates were made.

Parcel post rates remain the same in first, second and third zones, but carry a 1 cent decrease per package in zones beyond the third.

All post cards and private mailing cards were reduced from 2 cents to 1 cent each.

Newspaper and magazines, mailed by individuals, reduced from 2 cents for each 2 ounces to 1 cent for each 2 ounces.

Postmaster Tracy states that there were other changes made which do not effect the patrons of this office, hence they are not given here. These changes stated above will be heartily welcomed by the general public.

Walter Buck and Earl Tracy left Monday evening for Colorado, to spend a couple of weeks fishing. They go from here to Dalhart, thence to Denver and out on one of the smaller streams where they expect to make some record catches. They will no doubt have a very pleasant outing and come home much refreshed, but it will be a safe bet that they will not catch as many "big ones" out there as they could in the Llano.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Maddox, Mrs. H. O. Denman and children, Jack and Barbara, returned Friday from a motor trip to New York, where they attended the golden wedding anniversary of their parents. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Van Cleave.

THIS WEEK'S PROGRAM AT THE TEXAN THEATRE

For Thursday and Friday nights of this week, the Texan Theatre will have on the screen "Cohens and Kelleys in Paris," one of the most laughable of comedies.

On Saturday matinee and night Hoot Gibson in "Rawhide Kid" will be presented, then Monday and Tuesday of next week, Harold Lloyd in "Speedy," will be seen, and on Wednesday night Reginald Denny in "That's My Daddy."

The program for the past week has been above the average, and Mr. Lockley informs the Eagle that he is making an effort to keep the programs of the Texan a little above the average.

On last Sunday at a business session of the Church of Christ, Rev. J. S. Newman was asked to remain as pastor of this body for another year. The request was unanimous, which shows the esteem in which he is held by his fellow workers, which also just about expresses the sentiment of the public generally. Brother Newman has been in the work of christianizing this community for the past two years, and the longer he remains the more beloved he becomes.

Mrs. James Garrison and family of Galveston are spending the summer on the Llano, located at the VbarH ranch. Mrs. Garrison is a sister of Mrs. Victor Hardeman, and this is her first visit to this country.

PROGRESS BEING MADE ON 9-HOLE GOLF COURSE

In conversation with Mr. O'Bryan who is promoting the 9-hole golf course, he states that work is being pushed as rapidly as possible, and the course is beginning to take on the proper appearance. He has a force of men grubbing mesquite and Johnson grass, and will soon place a roller in operation to level the ground. After this is done the remainder of the work will not be so slow and tedious.

The sale of the permit books has been good, though quite a number yet remain to be sold. These books should be purchased readily by those most interested in the success of the course, as it will stimulate interest in the game, and at the same time prove to Mr. O'Bryan that the people of Junction are really interested in the completion of the course.

Mr. O'Bryan states that within a short time now he will issue an invitation to the public to visit the course and observe for themselves just what has been done, and learn what the future plans are.

While this is a small course, with its completion, it is the opinion of those familiar with the game, it will be a small matter to enlarge the course to one of 18-holes, and when this is done, the prediction is made that it will be liberally patronized by a class of tourists and visitors that have never heretofore visited this beautiful "Playground of Texas."

A LAMENT

Listen to this lament from "Think" in San Antonio Express. "Think" apparently is laboring under the impression that no other section or city is entitled to consideration in road building or public improvements until San Antonio has first been considered.

The fact that Highway No. 10 is one of the most important cross-State routes and that Fort Worth recognizes this fact, causes the following from "Think":

"Announcement that Fort Worth has undertaken a campaign to extend State highway No. 10 through Stephenville and Brady to Rocksprings and Del Rio, is another reminder that San Antonio is doing nothing toward extending and completing Highway No. 108, which also goes to Stephenville, almost directly north of this city. Completion of No. 10 is desirable as every good road serving any part of South Texas is desirable. But there is no reason why a highway bisecting the territory northwest of San Antonio, to reach Fort Worth, should be completed before one between that city and San Antonio—except the reason of Fort Worth energy."

It is perhaps true that when this highway 10 is completed will divert quite a bit of traffic through this section that otherwise and heretofore has been passing through San Antonio.

ENTERTAINED

Complimenting her house guests, Mrs. Hunter Hardeman of Texarkana and Mrs. M. E. Rogers of Austin, Mrs. Charles Henderson entertained Friday afternoon with a bridge party at her ranch home, Rivershon. The large, pleasant living room was gay with garden flowers banked on the rock mantle and tucked into numberless baskets and bowls and vases.

Following the game, Mrs. H. G. Hubert was awarded the high score prize, a basket of Italian pottery, and Miss Olive Chadwell won the cut favor, a chiffon sachet of rose buds and petals.

After the refreshment course a twilight social hour was spent in Mrs. Henderson's lovely garden with its flowers and trees, its vine-hung pergola and twinkling fountain and quaint rock well house.

BAPTIST CHURCH TO ERECT NEW BUILDING

As one of out-growths of the Starnes Evangelistic party, the local Baptist church have decided to endeavor to build a new church building on their properties in Junction.

For many years the need for a new building has been evident to everyone in close touch with the situation and several attempts to work out and finance a plan have been under consideration. No plan was realized until Sunday, July 1st, when the matter was considered at a regular conference of the church and a recommendation of the finance committee was adopted. The resolution was as follows:

1. We, the committee, recommend that the First Baptist Church of Junction, Texas, shall erect a new and fireproof building, to cost not less than $14,000.00 nor more than $16,000. estimate $15,000.00

2. We further recommend that work on this building shall begin not later than September 1st, 1928, this year.

3. We also recommend that an immediate drive be made for raising of $7,000.00 or more minimum cash to be paid on or before September 1st, 1928. That the additional cost be cared for by a loan on property covering a period of five years, one fifth to be paid annually. That on the day the new building is opened a subscription be taken covering debt on church, each pledge to be paid at rate of one-fifth per year for five years. We would have this understood, however, that anyone who feels that he or she is giving all in cash which he or she can contribute to building, shall have the right to attach such statement to check contributed and it is to be clearly understood that such is to guarantee such a person against further solicitation. If such a person should feel at a later date that he or she can contribute an additional amount, it shall be done by his or her own free will and accord and without solicitation.

Since this committee is to function the finance committee it is their desire that they have the privilege of enlisting such help and co-operation as they desire.

More than the minimum amount necessary to comply with the terms of the resolution was pledged and it is believed that ten thousand dollars will be available by September 1st. This movement will supply a long needed want of this church and will add much to the attractiveness of the city.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

A special request is extended to all the members to be present at all the services Sunday morning and Sunday night. Bible classes will meet at 10 a. m. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. Special song practice at 8 p. m. At 3 p. m. we will have our regular business meeting. As this meeting will be the last service before I leave for my meeting at Leona I hope to have every member present at all of these services. A special invitation is extended to the congregations of London and Reese to meet with us. Our motto is for a full house. I take this means of expressing my appreciation to all the membership for unanimous expression that I remain with the church another year. My heart's desire and prayer to God is that we may be able to do a greater work for the Lord in the year to come that we have been able to do the one we have passed. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to meet with us.

Yours fraternally,
J. S. Newman,
Minister.

Mrs. Dorothy Westmoreland and Mrs. H. O. Patterson and little daughter, Patricia returned Sunday from a visit with relatives in San Antonio.

WEST TEXAS C. OF C. WILL SPONSOR MOTORCADE

Stamford.—Scenic spots in two of the most picturesque states of the Southwest, Texas and New Mexico, and a romantic foreign nation, Old Mexico, will be visited on the third annual motorcade to be sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Date for the event has been set for August, as a result of the adjournment of the annual convention just closed, and because primary elections do not occur until July 28.

Among the distinguished members already signed up for the party are: A. M. (Andy) Bourland of Vernon and Oklahoma, newly elected president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and Mrs. Bourland, Miss Frances Long of Abilene, now known as "Miss West Texas," a number of officers and directors of the West Texas organization, state officials, well-known newspaper writers and photographers, and prominent West Texas citizens. The famous Simmons Cowboy Band, new official musicians of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will make the motorcade trip to afford entertainment. The party will be limited to 150, including the band.

Richly seasoned old-fashioned West Texas meals will be served de luxe from a weathered chuck wagon, this to be provided for the occasion. Col. R. L. Penick, sturdy pioneer Westerner of Stamford, will have charge of the attendant camping and commissary arrangements, and expenses of these features will be shared by all who make the trip. A special trouble car and mechanics will accompany the party to insure a "bon voyage." Whenever desired, arrangements will be made at nearby hotels for parties preferring those accommodations to camping.

The manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will have charge of the itinerary and other features of the motorcade, being assisted in this by members of the staff, their aim being to exploit and advertise the vocational and recreational advantages of the beautiful West Texas region.

While the complete itinerary has not been worked out, main objective points are ready for announcement. The start of the trip will be made from Snyder, Scurry county, August 6. Setting forth at 9:30, the party expects to travel over Highway No. 83 as far as Carlsbad, N. M., where the first night will be spent.

August 7 will be an epochal day in the motorcade program when the party attends the Inter Mountain District Convention of the WTCC which session will be held in the famous Carlsbad Caverns, known as the eighth wonder of the world.

Leaving the Caverns at five o'clock, the motor caravan will move to McKittrick Canyon, a gorge east of the famed Guadalupe Peak, the highest in Texas, where the night will be spent. The following day, the tour will include a drive around the peak, which is nearly ten thousand feet high, and is crowned with two thousand feet of rock, and which is acknowledgedly one of the most beautiful points in Texas.

From this spot, the group will move through Van Horn, thence down the Southern Pacific Railway through Valentine, and to Fort Davis where members will camp or divide into groups to visit the wonder towns of Alpine and Marfa and other points.

August 9 will write another historic day in the motorcade when the second regional convention of the trip will be staged in the romantic Mile High Town of Fort Davis. The session will be that of the Big Bend District. Scenic drives, trips to famous camp grounds and ranch houses, will be features of enjoyment while in this place.

Departing from Alpine, home of picturesque Sul Ross Teachers' College, at noon, August 10, the route will follow the Southern Pacific Railway, thru the great sheep and goat raising section of Texas, crossing the Pecos River near the highest railroad bridge in America, and on to Devil's River, one of the most beautiful streams in the southwest. Langtry, former throne of Roy Bean, the well-known "Law West of the Pecos," whose rulings were dispensed from his saloon, is one of the most interesting and historic towns on this route.

Camping arrangements will be made at Devil's River for the night and the next day, August 11, visit will be made to Del Rio, from which point a short excursion will be taken into Old Mexico. Mexican officials will welcome the party.

The party will start from Del Rio August 12, en route for Junction, a distance of 135 miles. A brief stop will be made at Rocksprings, recently devastated by a cyclone, but now rebuilt into a more attractive city than ever. The night will be spent at Junction, known throughout the country for its scenery, restful environment, bathing and fishing opportunities. A real camping opportunity will be afforded here, as the start from that point will not be made until August 14.

From Junction, the journey will be continued for two days, the exact route and breaking up point to be determined by members of the motorcade.

Detailed plans for the third motor caravan are being worked out at the headquarters office of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Stamford, where registrations for the event are being received.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING

Black and White

Black has long held the fort as "the darkest color," and its popularity has rested largely upon its qualities to conceal dirt. White is the opposite to black, and the white pigment has obtained a sort of poetical fiction as representing color for cleanliness.

Black and white seems to be in the same class with the dog who has had his day. In every walk of life "color's the thing." An all-black automobile is as out of date as a sepulchral white dining room.

Leading stores are now advertising color in bed linens, including sheets and pillow cases. Even Frigidaire cabinets are shedding their dead white and striking out into beautiful colors. Pick up any newspaper filled with advertising and the sales appeal emphasize colors. It runs all the way from artificial flowers to sideboards, and tables and chairs; and chases down the hall to include the bathroom; and then after circulating into every nook and corner it becomes resplendent in the fashionable rayon designs that appear upon milady's back, and in "trimmings"—as mere man would describe the practical uses of his new man-made textile.

"INSIDE" INFORMATION

If a woman's hips are large in proportion to her waist and bust, she should choose long vertical lines from the shoulder to the floor in designing her dresses. These lines may be stripes in the material, bands, or rows of trimming, rows of buttons, tucks, and so on.

To whip cream successfully you must have the cream and the bowl very cold. If the kitchen is hot, it is better to whip the cream out of doors, using a dower beater. Or stand the cream bowl in a pan of cracked ice. To obtain the best whip it is well to use cream that contains at least 30% butterfat and that has aged at least 24 hours.

An easy dinner menu for wash-day may be acceptable: Cold sliced corn beef or other meat; vegetable curry; radishes; baked bananas. You can use various vegetables in the curry, but a good combination contains rice, onion, carrots, fresh or canned peas, celery, in about equal amounts, and seasonings. Cook the rice first. Cook the vegetables the necessary length of time for each in a small amount of water. Make a ring of the rice, and put the vegetables in the middle, pouring over them a sauce made of the vegetable water, seasoning with curry, salt, pepper, or Worcestershire sauce, and butter.

One of the best forage crops for temporary pasture for sheep, particularly where the soil is thin, is soy beans, a crop which is eaten with great relish by both sheep and lambs. Although the earliest plantings of soy beans can be ready for pasture about a month after seeding, it is usually desirable to allow five or six weeks between seeding and grazing. Soy beans can be ready for grazing about the middle of July or later and will furnish most of the feed until October or the first frost. The feature which soy beans have of making a new growth after being grazed is a valuable one for a rotation of forage crops.

No woman made a nominating speech at the Republican Convention, but three of them made seconding speeches. Just like a woman to want the last word.

OUR FEMINE INCONSISTENTS

Women have an amusing way of appropriating, usually with certain adaptations, of course, whatever in the masculine mode that may appeal at the moment.

The long and cumbersome divided skirt gave place to masculine riding togs when the decorous side-saddle went into discard and riding for women became more of a sport and less of a smart pastime. A short period of severity and it underwent a feminizing influence. Now it retains the elements of comfort while being at the same time highly decorative.

Who but does not remember a few years ago the sudden appearance of the "misgendered sex," most unbecomingly appressed in golf knickers—even in some cases plus fours? Bad enough when confined to their legitimate sphere, but alas all too frequently in combination with a georgette blouse, silk stockings, high heeled shoes and a be-flowered hat, made to serve as street attire. Happily, perhaps because khaki and tweed were not easily adaptable to feminine influences, but a short lived though depressing fancy.

Nineteen Twenty Eight's infringement into masculine fields is more amusing and in certain phases quite delightful. For in case you are one of the uninitiated, we women have adopted for ourselves this season man's sacred dinner jacket or tuxedo coat!

Perhaps just another of fashion's fancies, though those serious minded persons who seek motives behind the decrees of that fickle arbiter of what we shall wear, may find in this case a perfectly plausible explanation in daylight saving, or again, in the eternal press of modern affairs that gives the modern woman little time between afternoon bridge and dinner to make a complete change of costume.

Whatever the cause—dislike of appearing in filmy evening gown in broad daylight or inability to rush home between engagements to make the desired change—the dinner jacket is one of the season's most pre-eminent fancies.

It may be well disguised as a frivolous coquette of lace or chiffon looking for all the world as if it had wandered by mistake from some absent minded lady's boudoir; it may be a more dignified version of transparent rayon velvet undeterminedly vacillating between the status of evening wrap and tuxedo coat; or it may be and often is, frankly a man's "tux" in line and cut, differing only in material.

And just here women have shown their ingenuity far from the stiffer satins, moires and colorful rayon metallic broadsides, while keeping strictly the conventional cut, they have achieved an air of utterly sophisticated distinction and originality. Posing over frivolous and filmy chiffon frocks they are charmingly and femininely inconsistent.

ONE HUNDRED HUSBANDS TELL THEIR TROUBLES

For the past two years Doctor G. V. Hamilton, an eminent scientist, has been making an intensive study of marriage under the auspices of a New York foundation. The purpose of his study is to find some basis upon which practical advice can be offered to young men and young women before marriage and to help husbands and wives suffering from "mal-

One hundred husbands and 100 wives, all normal men and women, were interviewed in the latest stage of Doctor Hamilton's experiment, nearly 400 questions being put to each individual and frank answers invited. Doctor Hamilton wrote down the answers, which ran into some 2,000,000 words.

Now, beginning in the current issue of Woman's Home Companion, the hundred husbands' stories of marital unhappiness are unfolded, condensed of course to the most salient points which have been edited into a highly absorbing series of articles.

The hundred husbands who tell their troubles are, save ten, college men. Twenty-two are in business; 32 are engaged in various professions; 11 are engineers; 26 work in literature or the arts; 6 are in religious work. There are 2 over 50 years of age, 21 between 40 and 50, 60 between 30 and 40. Most of them have been married 5 to 15 years. Only 20 are childless; half of them have two children or more.

Generally, there are 11 classes of troubles which caused the unhappiness in the households of these hundred husbands. Temperamental dissatisfactions number 49; physical dissatisfactions number 39. Lack of personal freedom, 10; ill health, 10; jealousy, 8; troubles over children, 8; economic troubles, 8; friction over relatives, 7; religious conflicts, 1; "everything wrong," 2.

Silk dresses for ladies and misses are coming in daily at our store. Come in and inspect them and make your selections.

OUR VIVID AGE

The vivid woven patterns of the wicker furniture on your porch, the gaily lacquered bread box in your kitchen, the restful colors in your bedroom are significant evidences that the present is a vivid age. Women's clothes and women's decorations have brought into harmony the castles in which they live, and the brightly hued cars in which they travel. Yet it is noticeable that the modern gait of fashion calls for a compromise in favor of more feminine grace and less fussy pretentiousness and foolish fancy work than existed when mother wore a tight-laced corset, carried a suffrage banner and joined in the revolt of women. The makers of toilet articles in every line from perfume bottles to combs and brushes have spared no pains in creating their new products. A beautiful new material has appeared in toilet articles. It is richly textured and is of a translucent substance that absorbs perfectly the correct shades of Empire, Oriental and Colonial colors, the more brilliant hues such as Mandarin red.

Now that a strong prohibition plank has been adopted, the thirst is yet to come.

It is said that only one man in Kansas City escaped being mistaken for a political leader. He is being offered a vaudeville contract.

NOTICE

We don't take long distance calls at the Exchange Building, and it would save tourists considerable trouble if local citizens would direct anyone wishing to place long distance calls, to go the City Cafe, Hankins Drug Store, Fritz Hotel, Hodges Hotel or our business office next to the post office, where pay stations are provided.

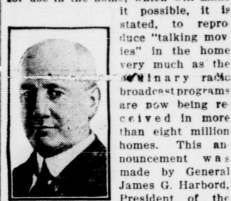

This is done for the betterment of the service, eliminating the necessity of the operators doing a lot of un-necessary talking, when their attention is required at the switchboard.

VOICE AND PICTURES

NOW SYNCHRONIZE

Engineers are now at work on a simplified photophone device suitable for use in the home, which will make it possible, it is stated, to reproduce "talking movies" in the home very much as the ordinary radio broadcast program is now being received in more than eight million homes. This announcement was made by General James G. Harbord, President of the Gen. J. G. Harbord Radio Corporation of America, at the formation of a new company to be known as "R. C. A. Photophone, Incorporated."

In discussing the formation of the new company, General Harbord pointed out that although the Radio Corporation, General Electric and Westinghouse had been preparing for several years to market apparatus synchronizing voice and music with motion pictures, public introduction of the apparatus had been delayed until the engineers had achieved "com-pete practicability" so that it would be as simple to operate as a radio set, and, at the same time, highly perfected.

"The Photophone," said General Harbord "is both simple and practical. The essential principle is the recording of pictures and sound on one film. While various methods have been devised for 'talking movies,' experience has shown that the most practical is that of recording pictures and sound on the same film. This is the method employed by the Photophone. It is now possible to photograph the President of the United States—voice as well as action—and to distribute films reproducing the event throughout the country."

Uses and Operation
"Easily operated reproducing apparatus for use in theatres, schools and churches will be nationally available. An entire opera, musical comedy or drama can be electrically recorded on the film, just as it is seen and heard, and then reproduced from the same film. Whatever can be seen or heard, whether it is a nightingale singing or an army in battle, can now be recorded and reproduced for both the eye and the ear. Moving picture dramas with complete orchestral accompaniment, or with music and speech, will be available for nation-wide use."

"Standard films without the sound can be used without any change in the machine. The only thing the operator has to do is to close one switch when he is projecting pictures with sound, and open it when he does not want the sound. Any type of 'talking film' can be used in the machine. The type of sound reproducer to be used will vary with the size of the room in which the pictures are to be shown. The reproducer embodies some remarkable new developments in acoustics."

"Sight and hearing have been the two avenues of approach to the human mind for 'education, religion and entertainment. Now one medium combines the appeal to sight and hearing simultaneously, with universal accessibility and availability. The complete practicability of the new art has already been demonstrated, and there remained only the need for an intelligent and serviceable system of manufacture and distribution."

"One can only guess at the many varied uses of this invention as an instrument for the spread of knowledge, for bringing the people of the world closer together, and for the advancement of civilization."

This Week

By Arthur Brisbane

Felstead, with betting 33 to 1 against him, won the Derby. Horses, more fortunate than men, can inherit a father's qualities. Felstead's father, Spion Kop, also won the Derby.

Rich fathers, ask yourselves what would have happened had Spion left him winners to his son, to squander as he chose. Would Felstead have won any races?

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., tells Fisk University students that merely going to college doesn't necessarily mean getting an education. It may mean only "forming habits of indolence, acquiring an unwarranted sense of superiority, or becoming dissatisfied with circumstances and environment in which one's lot is cast."

Mr. Rockefeller's definition of what education ought NOT to do should be posted up in every college. It ought not to enslave the mind with dates, facts, figures, produce shrewd, money seeking lawyers, turn out doctors that reckon success in dollars, or "fit men for a business life that is sharp, slick, shady."

The mechanical man, or "talking robot," has been financed $25,000,000 worth. Manufactured in thousands, he will be used as a salesman, mechanically uttering certain words, handing out cigarettes, etc.

You may say, "But he cannot THINK, how can he be a salesman?" He can be THAT kind of a salesman, and it's a numerous kind.

In Ohio, fifty years ago, an earnest young clerk named Phipps worked all day in a hardware store, then walked eight miles and back to keep books for blacksmith. Phipps, the blacksmith and young Andrew Carnegie went into the iron business.

Some farmers think they need a low tariff, but don't. Tariff protection makes possible high wages, and high wages make it possible for American workers to buy farm products.

This country produces ninety billion dollars' worth of new wealth every year, thirteen billions from the soil, six billions from mines, sixty-three billions from industry.

Cripple that industry with foolish tariff tinkers, and everybody will have trouble.

A survey by the Illinois Association for Criminal Justice, partly financed by the Carnegie Foundation, says gambling, though organized for many years, plays a great part in Chicago's crime problem.

Gambling is literally the worst of vices, most dangerous to those that practice it and to the community on which they prey.

Those that promoted a revival of Chicago race tracks are responsible, whether they know it or not, for much of Chicago's crime.

It is hard to escape the crime wave these days. In one case, bandits kidnaped a doctor, ordered him to treat one of them wounded, then beat him cruelly and finally killed him.

Six active bandits in New York City rounded up four taxi drivers among their victims. Taxicabs are associated with handiwork in the public mind. The policeman "meaning it all for the best" shot down two of the innocent taxi men, killing one, knocked a third unconscious with his club.

Old China changes slowly. Chang Tso-lin fled from Peking to Mukden, his stronghold, on the advice of magicians and astrologers. Two astrologers, one called "Prince Benevolence," seventy-seven years old, another "Iron Mouth," have predicted things that convinced him.

The Mongolians like magicians. Genghis Khan was ruled by one of them nearly 700 years ago. Ultimately and wisely, he had the magician's back broken by a strong wrestler.

HOOVER'S ACCEPTANCE

The spirit in which Herbert Hoover, nominated by the Republican Party for the highest office in the land, responded to his nomination was beautiful and touching. The good taste of his message of acceptance must remain unchallenged by all friends and foes alike.

Hoover denied that the party "owed" him the nomination, as some politicians had put it. Hoover said that the country had no obligation to him at all; owed him nothing. Rather, he owed the country a great deal.

He stressed the fact that in no other country could a man coming as he did from a tiny village in Iowa, with no background of wealth or official position, receive the opportunities which he had received in America. He expressed gratitude for having been able to serve the country in the various posts he had held. His message was a paean of praise for America and the opportunities that it offers all citizens, rich and poor alike.

There was no vainglory in his message—there was simple, straight-from-the-shoulder gratitude, and a beautiful reverence for the land that gave him birth. He showed that he felt indebted to America for the chance to do the work he has done in this country and elsewhere, rather than feeling that America needed to repay him for his service.

The rise of Herbert Hoover from an Iowa cottage to the Republican candidacy for the Presidency is but one more manifestation of the democracy and equality of opportunity in the United States.

SOME WAYS TO TELL IF MEATS ARE GOOD

Careful purchasers have learned five requirements for good meat. It should be bright in color. It should be elastic to the touch. It should have a clean and fresh odor. It should be juicy and streaked with fat. Last of all, it should be cut across the grain.

Proper refrigeration will retain the bright, natural color of the meat, will keep it firm but elastic and will preserve the clean freshness of its odor. If the meat is naturally juicy, automatic refrigeration will retain this desirable quality and will make the meat easy to slice across the grain.

Beef should have a bright red color, while pork should be a dark pink. Veal should be pink, but less firm than beef. These natural colors of meat can be preserved only in a constant temperature, which is neither too warm nor too cold.

After the meat leaves the market, the housewife should be sure that the care taken by the dealer to keep it properly refrigerated is not wasted by improper preservation after it reaches her home. The wrapping paper should be removed as soon as possible, and if the meat is to be retained for a time before cooking, it should be kept in a constant cold temperature.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

(By John Joseph Gaines, M. D.)

An Example

One of my patrons from another state is now 86 years old, and is here for a short vacation. He is not a freak; he is a normal man, and has been so for four-score years and more. He has no need of my medicines or advice; he knows how to live, perhaps better than I do; but he lets me take an inventory—his blood-pressure, condition of his heart and circulation in particular; just wants to see if anything is wrong that he hasn't noticed!

Now, if this man can live so long and happily, why cannot you and I do it as well?

The one big, outstanding reason is, we violate too many laws of right living.

We lie in bed too late mornings. He is up at five a. m. every day. We go to bed too late nights; he is in bed before 9:30 every night. We stuff our bodies with food at the end of the day; his best meal is—breakfast; his lightest meal, "supper." We have high blood-pressure, tubby bodies, indolent nerves, poisoned arteries, and all that go with them—he doesn't. Yet, he is just the sort of human being that we are.

He has done everything in the shape of hard work that came along—it hasn't hurt him any. We accuse our work of being the cause of our troubles—when it is excess of highly-seasoned food and indolent habits. My old patron has lived in the open; we are in all day, and out most nights. If our mode of living is absolutely unavoidable, then we should not complain, if we die before our Creator intended us to.

"Back to first principles" is, homely, but powerfully conducive to four-score years of life, or more.

Fires in the United States each year cost about 15,000 human lives, according to fire insurance statistics.

Junction Trade Notes

Mrs. Floyd Little, from up North Llano, was on Gann Grocery Company market the past week with choice Kentucky Wonder beans from her irrigated garden. Other farm-gardeners of the valleys of the Llanos are selling beans, cucumbers, squash, peas, etc., locally. Some day the valleys of the Llanos may supply the larger cities of Texas with their summer vegetables, instead of importing them from California and other intensively cultivated States.

A scenic and industrial record of Texas, to be made by Paramount News, will be shown to millions of people in Public and other motion picture theatres, according to W. T. Wheeler, manager Texas Highway Club, who is co-operating in the movement. The program will be incomplete unless it includes the scenic attractions of the Llanos and their tributaries.

Sunkissed preserves in 5-lb. tins, much cheaper than preserves in glass, and of equal quality. Medium or large families will be interested in the economic value of preserves in tins. Gann Grocery Company.

Since the initial purchase of wools on contract, there is a reported lull in the market, which is usually the case, and people who are informed on the subject of wool marketing are not uneasy as to the outcome. The Schreiners at Kerrville, it is reported, sold their accumulation of long wools at 39c to 42½c, and short fleeces at 35c.

Wheat Bradford, South Llano ranchman, has a 100% calf crop on his range—and he has more than one cow. He has 22 cows and as many calves, which is a record for any range country.

Broadcasting Junction and the Llanos

(Coleman Democrat-Voice)
"Junction, of the Llanos, is due to be the prettiest town in Texas if not in the whole U. S., and Kimble County will eventually be the popular playground of all Texas," said H. G. Hubert who was in Coleman Monday on business. "Kimble County," said Hubert, "has from five to six hundred miles of perpetual running water and an altitude of 2000 feet, which is ideal for the summer vacationist. Junction is four hours from Coleman over good roads, practically all the tourist camps of the Llanos are full for the future. Grande Courts is a new and modern resort now under construction on the South Llano just out of Junction, and a golf course is being laid out nearby."

LONDON LOCALS

Mrs. Willie Herbst was in town Tuesday of last week and was looking pleasant and important. We made some inquiry and were informed that William, Jr., had arrived and that mother and baby were both doing well. Mr. C. E. Weaver and Mr. J. F. Thurbur attended the Uvalde live stock fair. The boys say they saw some real stock and especially some fine goats.

The citizens of London community met at the Community Hall last Thursday to construct some new seats. A good crowd was present and every man and some small boys did real work. The result was the building of 39 new seats, cleaning off the grounds and building other improvements that were necessary. When the people of London decide to do a thing they go to it. Sometimes they are a little slow to begin, but like the tortoise in the fable, they never fail to win the race.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Kothmann are the happy parents of a fine baby boy born July 1st. Mother and baby doing well, but Grandpa Kothmann and Granddaddy Cummins seem to be recovering rather slowly.

Miss Hazel Herbst is spending the week with her brother, Willie, and family. We suppose Hazel is trying to teach the baby to say Aunt Hazel.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Amberson presented the writer and wife some as fine peaches as I ever saw grow, even in California, where we have spent three years of our life. This is another positive proof that the sandy belt of Kimble County is adapted to the growing of fruit. Try it, and if you will give your fruit trees the proper care and cultivation you will be well paid for your time and trouble. I speak from experience as well as observation.

The services at the Baptist revival are being well attended. Don't fail to hear Dr. Davis. He will interest you whether you believe in his way of thinking or not. Dr. Davis is identified with the Baptist church but he would not turn around to make a Baptist of you. That is not his purpose. It is his purpose to preach, or present Jesus Christ and Him crucified for the redemption from sin, and he insists that you and I accept the sacrifice made, and the atonement offered for your sins and mine through which sacrifice and atonement we may attain to justification through faith in Him and stand justified before God.

We are made to feel very sad by the cries at this time of J. R. DeSpain who happened to the misfortune of breaking his arm and is now having it set.

We know that foods containing rancid fat are unpalatable, but how can fats be prevented from becoming rancid? The precautions are very simple. The main thing is to keep air away from the fats as much as possible. Fats in cans that have been sealed in a vacuum or in completely filled containers with air-tight covers, such as fruit jars, will keep indefinitely without becoming rancid. In some instances, as in case of lard in pails, the fat itself may seal the cover and reduce the exposure of the fat to the air. If it is impracticable to exclude the air entirely from the fat, refrigeration and darkness will delay the development of rancidity. Heat, light, and contact of a fat with uncoated metals hasten the development of rancidity, so that under exceptionally adverse conditions a fat may become rancid in a few hours.

Several species of flies commonly found in houses resemble the true house fly so closely that it is difficult to distinguish them from it. One of these is the biting stable fly which is so often mistaken for the house fly that many people think the latter can bite. Several species of metallic greenish or bluish flies are sometimes found in houses; and still another fly, a smaller one, is called the lesser house fly, but is distinguished from the house fly by its paler and more pointed body. The true house fly—which is found in all parts of the world—is a medium-sized fly with four black stripes on its back and a sharp elbow in one of the veins on its wings. The true house fly can not bite, its mouth parts being spread out at the tip for sucking up liquid substances.

Forest Service Rangers report that heavy losses of sheep from poisonous plants are likely to occur when the sheep, after trailing long distances without being permitted to graze, are turned on ranges where poisonous plants occur.

MORE HUNTERS

Despite the favoritism shown for fishing by the White House, the rod and the worm are not growing in favor correspondingly with the gun and the dog. During the season 1926-27 more than 5,750,000 hunting licenses for the taking of wild game were issued to sportsmen throughout the United States including Alaska, and the revenue to the States amounted to more than $7,800,000. This was a big increase in numbers of licenses issued and fees received over the preceding three years. Game propagation and sensible game laws are restoring the old-time pleasures and successes to sportsmen.

AMERICAN MACHINERY

More than $53,000,000 worth of industrial machinery was shipped to Europe in 1927, representing an increase of 29% of such exports during the year.

ICE

A GOOD ice refrigerator is self-operating and self-regulating. No delicate adjustments necessary—simply keep the ice chamber well filled. When the outside air is warmer the ice melts faster; when the air is cooler the ice melts more slowly; it maintains the same cold, constantly.

Odors and impurities are absorbed by the film of melage on the ice cake and automatically eliminated, through the outlet.

Ice works automatically, maintaining the proper refrigerating temperature.

Borden Ice Co.

Evidently Yankee inventions are in high favor in the Old World, as our outgoing ships are filled with machinery to be set up in foreign manufacturing establishments.

Our trade with Latin America has also moved upward, and it amounted to $56,557,000 in 1927, which was a gain of more than two and one half million dollars over the previous year. Cuba moved from ninth place to the fourth best customer of the United States last year.

Instruction in 57 trades is given by 600 trade instructors in Pennsylvania to 12,900 students.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Joseph spent the Fourth in San Angelo.
