Industrial Activity Quickens

★ ★ ★ A. M. Veep ★ ★ ★ Visits Here

The man who will be chief executive officer in charge of the American Magnesium Co. plant here whizzed into Snyder yesterday for a busy 24 hours and a brief visit with the local industrial development corporation board.

Frank E. Love said he came here on an engineering assignment, but at the same time welcomed an opportunity to talk with members of the local industrial board.

Love, who joined American Magnesium in July as vice president, is due to head the executive staff that will guide the plant here.

"We will have a plant manager and several superintendents on the plant site," Love said. Home offices of the firm are in Tulsa, Okla.

Love said the primary purpose of his trip at this time was to stake off the building site and arrange for soil tests so that final plans for structures on the plant site could be made.

At a dinner session with members of the local industrial board, Love displayed plans for buildings and some of the equipment which will be installed to extract magnesium from salt water. Also, he discussed briefly and in general terms some of the by-products which American Magnesium hopes to produce in commercial quantities including chlorine.

The main plant building as presently planned will be 250 feet by 270 feet, and there will be other structures at the site. Moreover, the initial plans are drawn with a view toward expansion, although Love said this naturally is looking into the future.

Love said that work toward starting actual construction on the plant here was moving rapidly. However, he said it is a big project and much of the planning work requires time.

He said there are few such plants in the world, which means there are few precedents that planners may follow. Among the larger magnesium plants are one in Norway and the Dow plant at Freeport, Tex.

Plans for the plant here have excited considerable interest, especially since last July 3 when it was announced that an industrial plant employing some 225 persons would be established here. Subsequently, the identity of the firm was revealed and a plant site was purchased by the Scurry County Industrial Development Corp. The development organization established a policy some time ago to furnish plant sites to any industrial firms wishing to establish plants in the Snyder area.

Love said that Roger Wheeler, president of American Magnewsium, expects to be in Snyder soon.

Bill Wilson, co-chairman of the Scurry County Industrial Development Corp., presided at the dinner session at the Country Club. Love got an official and enthusiastic welcome to the city by Mayor M. L. Broman.

Broman, like Love a mining engineer, and superintendent of SACROC, said he was fascinated by the plans of American Magnesium. He had conferred with Love on some of the production plans. "These people know what they are doing," Broman declared. He expressed hope that all persons associated with American Magnesium would also associate themselves with the civic life of the community. The Snyder area will welcome them as full - fledged citizens, he declared.

Love planned to leave at about mid-afternoon today on his return trip to Tulsa.

MAGNESIUM PLANT OFFICIAL WELCOMED — Frank E. Love, center, vice president of American Magnesium Co., was welcomed by Bill Wilson, left, and Harry Reed, right, co-chairmen of the Scurry County Industrial Development Corp. Love came here Tuesday on what he described as "an engineering assignment" in connection with plans for construction of the plant.

Railroad's Ownership In Snyder Now

Two of the oldest corporations now operating in Scurry County were brought into the same fold late Tuesday when the Roscoe, Snyder and Pacific Railway was purchased by Roger B. Mize of Snyder and the Murchison Interests of Dallas.

Mize, president of Snyder National Bank, said the purchasers paid over a million dollars for the railroad, which has a track in operation between Snyder and Roscoe.

The acquisition of the RS&P brings Snyder National Bank, chartered in 1905, and the short line railroad, which officially came into being in 1906, under control of the same ownership.

In discussing the deal today in his office at Snyder National Bank, Mize said the bank and Murchison interests regard the railroad property as a great potential and one that could very well have a significant role in the industrial expansion of the Snyder area.

The railroad property was purchased from the Wooten interests of Abilene. For the past few years Don Wooten has headed the operating firm as chairman of the board. Also in recent years, the RS&P has been diversifying its operations, moving into the rail car modification and car-building field.

Mize said the new ownership plans to go after the car-building business in earnest. Expansion in this field is regarded as one of the primary potentials for growth by the firm, and it is mostly in this field that Snyder might eventually look for some expansion of its own industrial horizon.

At present, Mize said the new ownership plans no changes in the operation of the RS&P railroad. However, the new owners will be alert to development of new business for the RS&P in both the car-building, car modification and in actual freight traffic on the railroad itself.

"We're going to operate the railroad in what we hope will be the most profitable manner possible and in what we hope will be to the best interests of the area served" Mize declared.

The three top operating officials of the railroad will continue in their present postitions. These include Wooten, chairman of the board; William L. Bailey of Abilene, president, and E. G. Stafford Jr. of Roscoe, vice president.

The RS&P has been controlled chiefly by Abilene area ownership since its founding 61 years ago. Thus, its control shifts to Snyder for the first time, although most of its track has been in Scurry County. In fact, the Scurry County segment of the RS&P dominated the line until the portion from Snyder to Fluvanna was abandoned in 1941.

Mize and P. K. Lutken Jr. of Dallas, who is associated with the Murchison Interests, were named to the RS&P board of directors following the purchase of controlling interest Tuesday.

COSTLY FOR REDS

Cong Assault Fails

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

SAIGON AP) — About 2,500 guerrillas tried to storm the provincial capital of Tam Ky for three hours before dawn today but were beaten off with the loss of 219 dead, including three company commanders, and a mass of weapons.

Behind barrages of mortars, rockets and hand grenades, the Viet Cong assaulted eight positions in and around the city of about 12,000. They got into the streets burned houses and unsuccessfully attempted to empty the city jail.

The attack force was made up of the hard-core 70th and 72nd battalions, crack Red provincial units, heavily reinforced by less stalwart local force guerrillas.

South Vietnamese officers said at least 130 enemy weapons were captured and the defending forces suffered only light casualties.

Tam Ky, 30 miles south of Da Nang, is the captial of Quang Tin Province in the northern 1st Corps area. The Viet Cong made another unsuccessful attempt to raid it Saturday, before the weekend presidential election.

The assault today followed the battle Monday and Tuesday 14 miles northwest of the city in which U.S. Marines killed 180 Communist troops while losing 54 dead anj 104 wounded.

The flareup in ths north, coupled with lesser but often sharp fighting elsewhere in the country, ended a two-month lull in the ground war that preceded South Vietnam's presidential election Sunday. The Communists have lost almost 600 dead in major actions in the past few days, while about 70 Americans have been killed.

The air offensive against North Vietnam was slowed by heavy thundershowers over much of the country. U.S. headquarters reported 119 missions flown Tuesday, with none into the Hanoi-Haiphong area.

The coordinated assault on Tam Ky and posts on the perimter of the city followed the pattern of such previous attacks as the pre-election assault on uang Ngai City in which guerrillas freed nearly 1,000 prisoners from the provincial jail.

In Tam Ky, however, the attack was met by stiff resistance. Within minutes of the first assaults, American flareships were overhead, lighting up the city with a steady stream of parachute flares and zooming down to spray the assaulting forces with quick-firing Gatling guns.

Floods Hit Bonham Area

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seven-inch rains ripped Fannin County in North Texas early today, causing flooding at Bonham that forced evacuation of least 20 persons.

Two creeks in the area rose out of their banks and water was waist deep in some places in the southern part of Bonham. Bonham had an official Weather Bureau rainfall total of 7.15 inches for the 24 hours ending at 7 a.m. today. The rains continued at mid-morning.

The tiny town of Telephone in Fannin County had 5.65 inches and nearby Trenton got 7.21.

Damage was extensive through the southern portion of Bonham.

Firemen called out on emergency duty before dawn evacuated about 20 persons from their homes. Flooding from Power Creek and Bois d'Arc Creek surged through sections of Bonham.

A textile mill was surrounded by flood water and the day's first work shift was sent home.

Corsicana, 56 miles south of Dallas, also had limited flooding. The city had 8.94 inches of rain since 1 p.m. Monday. Water rose 8 inches deep in one basement, lapped to the doorsills of several other houses and filled a few low traffic crossings to fender depth.

The continuing rains in Texas were an agricultural boon to critically dry farm and ranch lands but did little good for the summer cotton harvest.

Nearly every point in the state reported some rain Tuesday and early today.

Temperatures were cool in the rainy shroud caused by warm Gulf of Mexico air hitting a high level weather disturbance. Overnight lows ranged from a chilly 64 degrees at rainy Childress to 86 degrees at McAllen in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Bonham firemen said one elderly woman in the little town 75 miles northeast of Dallas declined evacuation from her water-filled home. She waited until the waters receded.

Employment At New High Last Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's total employment hit an all-time August high of 76.1 million, the Labor Department said today, and a spokesman called it evidence of "a moderate and orderly resumption of economic expansion." At the same time, the nation's unemployment rate edged down to 3.8 per cent of the civilian labor force, a decline of one-tenth of one per cent from July.

"After the soft period in the economy the first half of the year, the economic expansion has begun to resume in an orderly way," said Commissioner Arthur M. Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The record August figure for total employment followed July's all-time high job figure for any month of 76.2 million, and Ross said the two-month figures showed employment rising in most segments of the economy.

He said the rate of growth was such that skilled manpower shortages that caused production bottlenecks in late 1965 and early 1966 can probably be avoided.

"It was necessary to cool off the economy in 1966 because of the flationary pressures," Ross said. "The expansion was too great," he added.

He said the moderate rate of growth in recent months was necessary to avoid "excessive price increases and oversized wage increases" that occur when rapid expansion boosts employment and causes shortages of workers.

"We want to continue it," he said of the present economic growth, "but not at such a rapid pace."

The bureau said the unemployment rate for Negroes showed substantial improvement since May, dropping drom 7.8 to 6.9 per cent. But the Negro jobless rate is still double that for white workers.

Saved After Two Weeks Underground

CHONGYANG, South Korea (AP)—Rescue workers brought to the surface today a 35-year-old South Korean gold miner who had been trapped 410 feet underground more than two weeks.

Kim Chang-son walked unsteadily but doctors who examined him near the mine said he was in fair condition. The miner's wife and four of his five children were among 500 persons who gathered to greet him.

Kim was pulled through a narrow hole out of the Kubong gold mine 80 miles south of Seoul after rescuers, fearing their efforts would touch off new earth slides, spent hours digging the last few feet to a recess where the miner lay. Shouted instructions from Kim helped to guide the diggers.

Doctors described Kim as a "man of unusually strong will" and said it was largely his will power that had kept him alive during the 15 days, 8 hours and 36 minutes he had spent alone in the mine.

The miner, a veteran of the Korean War, drank water and ate wood bark he found in the mine. Doctors sent down a dextrose and salt solution before fellow workers brought him up in a mine lift.

Told that he would be flown to Seoul for medical treatment, Kim replied, "I am not properly dressed to go to the capital."

Grid Contest Begins Today

Football season already has one foot in the door and the weather man is cooperating. So, the annual Snyder Daily News Football Contest launches another season today.

The contest offers participants an opportunity to pick the winners of a select list of football games each week for cash prizes offered by sponsoring Snyder business firms.

The contest rules and regulations, along with the games for this week's contest, may be found on the contest page of this issue of The Snyder Daily ews.

City Budget Has Final Approval

A city budget totalling $964,707 for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1, was adopted last night by the city council following the public hearing.

At the same session, the council set the tax rate at $1.65 per $100 valuation, the same rate that has prevailed here since 1956.

Two other ordinances were approved by the council. Ordinance No. 350, which provides for control of weeds on vacant lots, was approved on second and final reading. This ordinance establishes procedure by which the city may require property owners to keep vacant property free of weeds.

Also approved was an ordinance changing the speed limit for motor vehicles from 15 miles per hour to 20 miles per hour in school zones.

The council scheduled a special meeting for Sept. 15. At that session bids will be opened on three cars for the police department. Also, the council is scheduled to formally accept the assessment portion of the downtown improvement project at that session.

The downtown project, which is virtually completed now, will be inspected Thursday by members of the council and the architect, J. D. Hinton.

Chinese Execute 'Revolutionaries'

TOKYO AP)—Two "counter-revolutionary" supporters of Chinese President Liu Shao-chi were sentenced to death and executed publicly before cheering thousands in Shanghai Aug. 28, according to a Shanghai Radio report received in Tokyo today.

The broadcast said the victims were two of eight anti-Maoists tried before more than 10,000 persons in the big port city. They were Shan Shung-lin, described as a counterrevolutionary, and Liu Yung-ching, a "counterrevolutinary killer."

It was the first okficially circulated report of an execution of anti-Maoists since Mao's purge began in June 1966. He calls the purge the great proletarian cultural revolution.

Basic Education Classes Slated

Through the Texas Education Agency and the Snyder Public Schools, funds have been made available here for adult classes in basic education.

These classes will be for people over 21 years of age who did not finish the 8th grade during their formal education. At present there is no plan for classes for people wishing to finish high school but who dropped out after grade 8. Counseling service will be offered those individuals and a plan may be devised by which a "Certificate of Equivalence" may be earned through self study.

The students will be grouped according to achievement and divided into groups grades 1 through 3, 4 through 6, and 6 through 8. A total of 25 students may be accepted.

The people admitted will be on a first come-first served basis except those who were enrolled last spring and attended classes. Those enrolled last spring are accepted immediately and should come by the Child Development Center in the near future for fall enrollment.

Students who wish to attend but did not attend last spring should also come by and have their names placed on the list of selectees. They will be enrolled as soon as the last spring student has been enumerated.

There will be 6 classes of no more than 15 per class. The following instructors will conduct the classes: Mrs. Vera High, Mrs. Carolyn Martin, Mrs. P. Kelley, Mrs. Francene Allen, Mrs. Frances Thompson and J. M. Kayser. Classes will begin Sept. 14 at the Travis Junior High School. The first meeting will be devoted to final enrollment and testing for group placement.

Those who have questions concerning the program, should contact J. M. Kayser at the Child Development Center, phone HI 3-7583.

STRIKE SEEMS INEVITABLE

Ford, Union Resume Talks

DETROIT AP) — Negotiations between the Ford Motor Co. an the United Auto Workers Union resumed today in the face of an apparently inevitable strike by 159,000 Ford workers across the nation at midnight tonight.

"An exercise in futility" was the way UAW President Walter Reuther described the start of negotiations before the strike deadline as he closeted himself with bargainers for Ford.

"Both parties are obligated to sit at that table and do everything possible to avert a strike," Reuther said, adding he expected bargaining would go right to the last minute.

It was not immediately clear whether the UAW contract with Chrysler would be extended past the deadline.

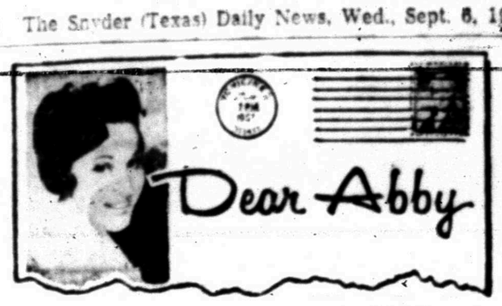
The union has requested such an agreement extension, and Chrysler has said there will be [illegible]

Today, however, Chrysler advised the union it would answer the question of a contract extension later in the afternoon, according to Doug Frazer, chief UAW negotiator at Chrysler.

Reuther told newsmen at Ford the first order of business today would be discussion of how to continue work on any defense items the nation's second largest auto producer might be working on.

Reuther said the only chance of avoiding a strike would be a change in attitude on the part of Ford, adding that he has seen no indication of any such change.

Malcolm L. Denise, Ford's top negotiator, said Tuesday he anticipated no new offer by the second largest automaker.



DEAR ABBY: Recently, my 30-year-old son and I had to make an extensive crosscountry trip.

We drove and stopped at motels overnight. The average single room was $11. A twin-bedded room was $13. It seemed only sensible for us to share a twin-bedded room for $13 instead of spending $22 for two singles.

When I recounted our experiences to friends, I casually mentioned the fact that my son and I had shared a room each night, and you should have seen the eyebrows shoot up at the implied "indecency" of such an arrangement.

Do you see anything "indecent" about a mother and her 30-year-old son sharing a room? Or am I too stupid to see it?

CALIFORNIAN

DEAR CALIFORNIAN: The only "stupidity" in this situation would be for you to seriously concern yourself with what others think.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I know it's awfully early to be worrying about Christmas, but I am. You see, last year we had lots of sickness in our family, and owed a lot of money, so we decided not to give Christmas presents to anyone excepting our children. Not even to each other.

We asked all our relatives not to give us anything this year because we couldn't give them anything.

Well, along came Christmas, and all our relatives gave us real nice gifts, just like we hadn't said a word. Abby, my husband felt so bad. It was the first time I had ever seen him cry.

When we asked our relatives why they gave us gifts, they said "Because we wanted to, not because we expected anything in return."

This year we are still in debt, but my husband says he is not going to be the poor relative again, and he will borrow the money to buy everyone Christmas gifts.

I don't think he should, but he has a lot of pride.

Weren't our relatives wrong to give us presents when we asked them not to? How should it be handled this year?

CHRISTMAS SADNESS

DEAR SADNESS: Had your relatives been able to foresee your husband's reaction to their gifts, I'm sure they would have respected your wishes. But their generosity exemplified the true Christmas spirit — giving without expecting anything in return.

I think your husband is wrong to consider going deeper into debt to salve his pride. Do your best to persuade him not to. And ask your relatives to please omit gifts this year.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My wife and children have been visiting my wife's parents in the east for the past three weeks.

Last night I became lonesome and wanted to hear her voice, and tell her that I missed her, so I picked up the phone and called her. I realized that it was nearly one o'clock in the morning where she was, but she told me that she and her mother always sat up talking until that late.

When she answered the phone, she gave me a two minute lecture on why I shouldn't have called her at that hour. Then she asked me what I wanted.

Do you think I was out of line calling her at that hour?

LONESOME JOE

DEAR JOE: Not if you were certain she would be up. Perhaps your unexpected call startled her. But if that's the way your wife continues to react to your expression of affection and lonliness, I'll be looking for another Dear Abby letter (from her) with a bigger problem.

Damage to Pinkerton's 1967 Model Mustang was placed at $500, and damage to the other car, a 1954 Model Oldsmobile, was set at $300. Neither motorist received injuries serious enough to require hospital treatment.

Troops To Be 'Trigger Pullers'

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — The 45,000 to 50,000 new U.S. troops ticketed for duty in South Vietnam by early next spring will include a larger percentage of front-line combat men than ever before.

At least 75 per cent of the new troops—probably 20 battalions or more—will be "trigger pullers," it was learned today.

The reason for the increase in combat soldiers is that over the last two years the United States had to build an enormous logistics base as well as help fight the war. The logistics base is now said to be capable of supporting the new combat troops with a proportionately much smaller increase in its own strength.

At the same time, it also was learned that the U.S. Command believes the estimated enemy strength in South Vietnam is perhaps much lower than the 297,000 carried in weekly U.S. headquarters reports over the past several weeks.

It is known that some high-ranking U.S. officers feel the figure is meaningless because it includes at least 57,000 men and women who are political cadres and administrative types.

American intelligence lists 120,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong main force units in South Vietnam, plus another 120,000 local guerrillas.

The American command, it is understood, now has a much larger base of solid intelligence, including more documents, better interrogators and more informers. A broad new intelligence analysis of the enemy strength is being made and results are expected to be made public in a month.

The new American forces scheduled for Vietnam will include several helicopter units. The U.S. Command wants to get the new troops into South Vietnam as soon as possible.

There is no target date, but by present reckoning, barring unforeseen logistical problems, all of the new troops can be expected in the country by next March or April instead of July as earlier indicated. One new Army brigade, the 198th Light Infantry, is expected here by the end of this year.

The command now lists 462,000 U.S. troops in South Vietnam, as of the week ending Aug. 26. There are another 69,000 U.S. military men involved in air war operations out of Thailand and Guam and aboard destroyers and cruisers bombarding the North Vietnamese coast, and aboard carrier units in the Gulf of Tonkin.

Texans To Tour Europe

DALLAS (AP) — One hundred Texans will leave Sept. 12 for Europe to explore market systems, promote good will and see the sights.

The group, mostly farmers, ranchers and their wives, will stop in France, Switzerland, Germany, Holland, Belgium and England.

The tour will participate in the Texas Farm Bureau's third annual Market-Builder tour of Europe, headed by Walter Meyer, commodity director.

Participants represent every section of Texas, and in addition to sightseeing will talk with importers, economists, farm and government officials, and others.

Meyer said the farmer-to-farmer contact will give all a better understanding of "each other's agricultural operation."

Previous tours have resulted in opening of European markets for such Texas products as beef, grapefruit, turkey, feed grains, carrots, pecans and onions.

Israeli Girl Has Surgery

HOUSTON (AP) — A three-year old Israeli girl was in good condition today following surgery to correct a renal artery disease.

A Methodist Hospital spokesman said Mazal Shlomo would remain in the hospital several weeks.

The 2½-hour operation Tuesday performed by a heart team headed by Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, involved bypassing a narrow area of an artery running to the right kidney with an artery graft and then placing a patch in the narrowed area of an artery to the left kidney.

Mazal, who will be four years old next month, entered the hospital last Aug. 19. She was accompanied to the United States by her father, Zacharia Shlomo, an employe in a pipe factory at Ramle, Israel.

Young Farmers Meet Thursday

FLUVANNA — A program on putting up ensilage will highlight Thursday night's meeting of Fluvanna Young Farmers.

There will be a question and answer period and group discussion following the program. Also there will be a short business meeting at the conclusion of the program, after which refreshments will be served.

Testimony Given On Home Loans

By TOM JOHNSON

DALLAS (AP) — Two witnesses testified in a court of inquiry today said they contracted for improvements to their homes but ended up paying more than they had agreed to for interior workmanship.

The testimony came in the second day of the inquiry which was set up to get information on a number of such complaints in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

Benjamin McGee of Arlington said Triangle Aluminum Co. of Dallas agreed to put an asphalt roof on his house for about $1,000. But he said the firm later told him the job would cost $2,049.

Asked if he had tried to clarify the terms of the agreement with Triangle representatives, he replied: "I can't catch them."

Both McGee and Tom Page of Dallas, said they were not aware that liens were being taken out on their property when they signed the improvement papers.

Page, 73, who said he can neither read nor write, said a salesman for Home Specialities Co. Inc., agreed to perform several improvements to his house for $2,300. He said he was later told that the cost would be $3,400 and added that most of the work still has not been done a year later.

He said the agreement specified that the company would paint his house but he was sent 5 gallons of paint and told to paint it himself.

He said he understood that the lawyer for the company had tried to have him evicted.

"I don't know what I signed," he said.

An official of Gulf Coast Investment Corp. of Houston testified Tuesday that only three or four per cent of persons making home improvement loans with his firm have annual earnings of less than $4,000.

All Voters Must Sign

Everyone who is qualified to vote in the 1968 elections must register this year, according to an announcement by Don Adams, Scurry County tax assessor-collector.

He said that previously "older residents" who lived in the county were not required to register in order to vote.

"Now they must do so," he added, "— everyone must register. The registration period for the 1968 elections runs from Oct. 1, 1967 through Jan. 31, 1968."

The 1968 "election year" extends from March, 1968 until March, 1969.

Massive Teacher Strikes Feared

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The vast school systems of New York City and Detroit moved closer to massive strikes today and empty classrooms in cities across the nation marked the failure of school boards and teachers to agree on issues of salary and educational policy.

New York City's United Federation of Teachers rejected what was described as a final proposal from a mediation panel Tuesday only hours after Mayor John V. Lindsay strongly recommended acceptance. The teachers threaten mass resignations on Monday, the first day of school, a move that would affect 1.1 million pupils.

Detroit's 300,000 pupils, scheduled to go back to school today, stayed home as the opening was put off to Thursday so negotiations could continue between the Board of Education and the Federation of Teachers. Lt. Gov. William Milliken said, "There is no sign of a settlement."

Some 19,000 pupils who trooped to classrooms in other Michigan school districts were sent home Tuesday when their teachers refused to show up without new contracts.

Milliken expected another 74,000 to be sent home today.

By Thursday, he said, the figure could reach 500,000.

About 24,000 pupils in East St. Louis, Ill., were in their second week at home as a teacher boycott closed most classes. Only 300 of the 920 teachers have reported for work.

The Broward County School board in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., decided Tuesday to close its schools until Sept. 25 after 2,534 members of the Classroom Teachers Association voted to submit resignations. The schools shut their doors on 90,000 pupils who had returned for classes.

The action by the Fort Lauderdale Teachers came just after Gov. Claude R. Kirk Jr. named a commission to develop a plan for quality education, but said he would not call a special session of the legislature to appropriate more money for education and salaries—as demanded by teacher groups—until the 15-month study is completed.

Teacher-school board disputes also threatened Groton, Conn., Randoph, Mass., and McCracklen County, Ky., schools. Negro protests troubled schools in Milwaukee, Wis., and Woodville, Miss.

Newport, R.I., public schools opened as usual after a boycott threatened by the Newport Teachers Association was averted when the School Committee approved pay raises and other benefits for the teachers.

In Worcester, Mass., some 1,000 teachers in the Educational Association chose to press for mediation of their dispute rather than fail to report for today's opening of classes. They said they would ask the state to mediate the dispute.

Fit Kitchen To The Cook

Now that the hired cook has departed and, the lady of the house has taken over her culinary chores there's more reason than ever to suit the kitchen to the cook.

If the family is a young one, the kitchen should be set up as a good command post for supervising the children and have good views of inside and outside play areas. In any case, it should be capable of serving as a center of family activity because m'lady will be spending a major portion of her time there.

Above all, though, the kitchen should work efficiently. Nothing will fray housewifely nerves more than a kitchen that requires constantly wasted motion during meal preparation, serving or cleaning.

Closets, cabinets and appliances should be suited to the housewife's height and reach. Work should flow easily between sink, range and refrigerator. Storage space should be adequate.

Surfaces should be attractive, durable and easily cleaned. A material like ceramic tile on countertops, back splashes and floors will withstand almost any punishment and be easy to clean.

The kitchen should also be located within the house for the convenience of the cook - housewife - mother. In modern living it is as much a primary living area as any other part of the home.

Perhaps no other room in the house can give as much satisfaction to its mistress as an attractive, well - planned and efficiently functioning kitchen.

Are You In Tune With Husband?

Married couples who constantly bicker might look for the cause in what a New York psychiatrist describes as "communication codes." This applies particularly, says Dr. Richard Rabkin, to couples whose family backgrounds are widely different. At least the idea is worth a try before heading for the divorce court.

Take this example which, Dr. Rabkin says, was furnished by two of his patients.

Wife: Would you like to go to the movies? (asked in an earnest, information - gathering voice).

Husband: No.

Wife (after a pause): You never take me out! Why did you refuse to take me to the movies?

Husband: But you never asked me.

Wife: I never asked! I asked you ten minutes ago. You never listen to me. You don't care about me.

Here one party wasn't receiving what the other was sending, although the words did get across and were understood perfectly. What was not understood, however, was that each was using a different communication code, with the result that meanings were garbled.

In the wife's family, requests were always put tentatively, to avoid their being taken as commands. But in the husband's family wishes were generally stated outright — and requests regarded as tentative even when they were not. This husband, then, truly thought that his wife was asking only for information. They growled at one another the rest of the night.

Or take this case, also reported by two patients. Wife: Would you turn off the faucet in the kitchen? Husband: O.K. (He walks into kitchen, feeling suddenly annoyed.)

In this instance the wife comes from a family in which simple requests were freely made and often as freely rejected. In the husband's family, however, requests were equal to demands, and were made only in situations of great necessity. The husband was miffed because, judged by his code, this was too trifling a request. He considered this an imposition. But he turned off the faucet anyway, muttering to himself.

These separate communication codes are always unconscious, says Dr. Rabkin. Yet each partner uses his own to interpret the meaning of the other. What must be done is, first, to recognize the fact, and then to make an effort to harmonize the codes. It could mean more harmony all around.

Move Flowers To Brighten Outdoors

NEW YORK (AP) — Enjoy the portable beauty of container plants outdoors this summer. You'll find that outdoor living can be more attractive if you do.

There are hundreds of varieties of professionally grown plants to enhance every background. Use them on porches, terraces or patios — and enjoy the convenience and fun of container - grown plant decoration on a limited budget.

There are many interesting ways to use summer's popular flowering plants. Try a "double feature" — repeating window box plants on a walk or terrace immediately below the display. White petunias and pink ivy-leafed geraniums in matching rows — top and bottom — are attractive.

A colorful welcome mat can be formed by an informal grouping of pink geraniums and blue ageratum — in red clay pots with matching saucers. The display will add beauty and interest to front porch steps.

A mixture of pink and bright red geraniums in large clay pots will create an interesting pattern that will soften the bareness of a brick foundation. A porch, too, can be filled with the color of tuberous begonias in clay pots to provide a warm earthy contrast against white siding.

If you have a bare brick or wooden wall — along a garage or fence — you can easily relieve the monotony of this expanse of space. Simply place clay - potted plants into metal wall brackets and arrange them decoratively along the wall. Your florist or garden center can show you ivy or trailing plants ideally suited for this purpose.

Novel Is Death Study

DEATH KIT. By Susan Sontag.

The disintegration of a psychopathic personality is not exactly a cozy subject for a novel. But then, Miss Sontag is not a cozy writer.

The story is about Dalton (Diddy) Harron, a 33-year-old advertising man whose wife has divorced him. The narrative opens four weeks after he has made an unsuccessful attempt on his own life.

Diddy takes an express train from New York City to an upstate town for a week-long meeting of company executives. During the ride two things happen: (1) he has hallucinations about having killed a railroad worker, and (2) he makes a quick pickup of Hester, a beautiful, blind young woman who is en route to the same town for an eye operation, which she feels sure will fail.

After the company meeting is over, Diddy remains with Hester until she is released from the hospital, and then takes her to his apartment in New York. He quits his job and begins the long slide down toward fulfillment of his death wish.

The author utilizes surface thoughts, daydreams and night dreams to depict what is going on in the hero's mind, weaving these elements together in sometimes confusing fashion. Some readers may grow a little fed up with Diddy's endless irrationalities, and with the author's stylistic mannerisms.

If you wish, you may take this story as a study of death and self-destruction, and read into it whatever social comment you fancy. It's an In Group novel.

Problems Of Space

Present-day space problems are not all centered about high-altitude orbits and interplanetary travel, notes the Tile Council of America. Our more earth-bound space problems concern living room and how we make use of whatever space we ourselves have, the trade group says. The advice of architects and designers can be of great assistance in improving space efficiency in our home, and so can versatile materials like ceramic tile that can be adapted to a wide variety of uses, it adds.

Visitors going through a large lumber mill in the Pacific Northwest may see how bark is blasted off logs with high-pressure jets of water. Wafer-thin veneer is swiftly peeled off ogls with a sharp saw.

GOP Move Underway To Boost State Governments

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republicans have blunted, if not reversed, the Johnson Administration trend toward granting federal aid directly to local communities.

By insisting that states be made the major channel for such aid, Republicans are giving impetus to a movement already under way that could revitalize state governments.

So far this session the House, with Republicans supplying the most votes, has overridden the administration and voted to put a new crime control program and an existing school aid program under state administration.

Although the Senate as not acted on the legislation, the House votes were so decisive it is unlikely they will be reversed.

Now Republican are determined to enlarge the state's role in the antipoverty program and it is hard to see how they can be defeated in the House.

Administration forces warn that states are without the people or experience to conduct such programs and that they are unresponsive to needs of cities.

But in fact, the traditional route of federal aid has been through the statehouse and most of it still goes that way. Last year, out of 14.6 billion in federal grants, only $3.8 billion went directly to local agencies.

The significant point for the administration, however, is that the $3.8 billion in direct aid is double the total of a year earlier. Although direct local grants for special purposes have existed since World War II, they have become a major artery of federal aid under Johnson.

The 89th Congress enacted 86 new programs providing direct local aid, more than were in existence before then.

The GOP drive against this approach has necessarily been piecemeal, since the Republicans are in the minority. Should they gain control of Congress they could be expected to move across the whole broad front of federal grants-in-aid.

Republican leaders have pledged solid support for a proposal to return to the states a share of federal income taxes for use as each state wants.

If they try to enact such a program in the immediate future, however, the major argument against it will be furnished by the states themselves. For even ardent states-righters agree there is much truth in the criticism that state governments have failed to keep up with the times.

Although court-ordered reapportionment is ending the long domination of rural interests in state legislatures, methods and procedures are still geared to slower times.

In only 13 states do the legislatures meet each year in general legislative sessions. In only 17 is there professional staffing for more than one committee in each house. Only 5 provide individual office space for members. Eight states fail to provide any secretarial help for legislators.

Such conditions cause concern among believers in a healthy federal- state relationship and efforts to correct them are being made on several levels. The prospect that Republicans will succeed in diverting new federal funds to the states is certain to spur those efforts.

Junior Editors Quiz on BROWN SUGAR

QUESTION: How is brown sugar made?

* * *

ANSWER: Most of the sugar we eat comes from either sugar cane or sugar beets. These materials are cleaned. Sugar cane is crushed and sugar beets are soaked to remove the juice. This juice is heated and passed through various filters, which can control the color and size of the crystals in the finished product. The juice is evaporated to a mixture of crystals and heavy syrup. This is then introduced into a centrifuge, a machine which can spin the mixture very rapidly. The centrifugal force, working outwards, spins off the sirupy molasses, which drains out through an outer pipe, but the crystals fall down through the center. Since the molasses gives the color, the sugar crystals come out lighter. After spinning several times, these crystals can be made pure white, which is our familiar white sugar. To produce brown sugar, special filters are used which result in crystals of smaller size and not all the syrup is spun off, which gives a special and pleasing taste to brown sugar. All sugar tastes good, but people tend to split into those who like the white or brown better. c 9-6

How Fares Garden Of Memories?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is the best of all gardens.

Therein, winter and summer, the seeds of the past lie dormant, ready to spring into instant bloom at any moment the mind wishes to bring them to life again.

Protected from the buffeting of new snows and fresh rains, those timeless flowers dwell serenely in the fair weather of the soul. Only the killing frost of death itself can tumble their unforgettable beauty.

How fares your own inside garden? It is well stocked with flowers—and perhaps a few thistles, too—if you can look back and remember when—

In the days before hippies, only children went barefoot along city streets.

One of the biggest problems in juvenile delinquency was keeping kids from raiding watermelon patches at night. The kids all thought the watermelons were guarded by irate farmers carrying shotguns loaded with bacon rind that would burn your skin off.

Hair dyes were so awful that you could tell at a glance whether a blonde was real or a product of the local drugstore—a "henna blonde."

Only chemists had heard of plastics.

When you went for a Sunday drive, the children in the back seat made a game of counting the number of white horses they saw on the farms. Now they could ride all day and never see a one.

Bluebirds—a lovely sight—seemed almost as common in the country as pigeons in the city. Today many a person old enough to vote has never seen a bluebird in his life.

There were more American homes with outdoor plumbing than indoor plumbing.

If you were too sophisticated to believe that the stork brought babies, you were told either that they grew in cabbage patches or that the doctor found them on tree stumps in the woods.

In most U.S. business offices the secretaries neatly pinned papers together instead of using paper clips.

Falling elevators and runaway horses killed more people each year than automobile accidents. That was 'way back when folks laughed at the phrase "23 Skidoo."

Bashful lads in the prairie states dreamed of growing up and going to sea because, it was thought, "sailors have girls in every port."

It was somewhat unusual to reach maturity without, somewhere along the way, having learned how to milk a cow.

If a fellow lost his buttonbook, he couldn't put on his shoes properly in the morning.

A big front porch was an essential of any home that held a large family, because where else could older daughters be courted without starting neighborhood gossip?

Children believed that if they were bad an evil demon called the boogeyman would get them. The boogeyman was sometimes thought to dwell at the bottom of the backyard well, and during daylight hours some kids were brave enough to throw small stones down the well to torment him.

Police Investigate Dallas Man's Death

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Police were investigating today the death of James Edward Brown, 19, of Dallas who was found with his skull fractured beside railroad tracks near here.

The body was discovered last Wednesday in a Seattle suburb. Police said the body was identified by fingerprints sent to the FBI.

Brown's street address was not known.

Tubbs Joins Dallas Squad

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jerry Tubbs was out of retirement—again—and six players had been one more to go today as the Dallas Cowboys moved to meet the player limit of 43 in the National Football League.

Tubbs, who came out of retirement last year to both play and continue to coach the linebackers, Tuesday was prevailed upon to become a regular linebacker again. So he will coach and play when needed. "I hope I'm never needed," he said.

Waived out were veteran corner back Warren Livingston, veteran fullback J. D. Smith and rookies Leavie Davis, defensive back; Austin Denney, tight end; Coy Bacon, defensive tackle, and Bill Quinter, linebacker. Davis, Denney and Bacon were placed on the taxi squad. The others are free agents.

President Tex Schramm was negotiating a trade that would take care of the other player who must be released. Obviously either Mac Percival or Harold Deters, rookie place-kickers, will be the one to go.

Fame Is A Sometime Thing

HOUSTON (AP) — Fame is fleeting. Tommy Brooker can tell you so.

In 1962 Brooker kicked a 25-yard field goal that gave Dallas the American Football League championship over Houston in the longest game in history.

It was not decided until 17 minutes and 54 seconds of a sudden death overtime.

This year Brooker was sent by the Kansas City Chiefs, the team that succeeded Dallas, to Houston.

Tuesday Brooker was released by the Oilers. They let him go in cutting to the league player limit of 40.

IN SIX-MAN RACE

Injuries Hold Key To Ira Fortunes

IRA — Injuries are the key to the performance of the Ira Bulldogs' football team as it returns to the District 3-B Six-Man grid wars this year seeking to improve on a 5-5 record.

Coach Lynn Jackson, in his second year at the Orange and Black helm, has only two returning starters — Jim Wilson and Ricky Holladay, — and both boys are out of action now. Jimmy, a 165-pound senior lineman, recently spent a week in the hospital and still is a doubtful starter for the season opener Sept. 8 at Mertzon. If his physical ability measures up to par with his mental outlook, then Bulldog foes had better watch out.

"I've been playing football every year since I was in the 7th grade, and I'd sure hate to drop out now," declared Wilson. "I guess I'll give it another whirl."

Wilson was one of the best defenders on last year's team. Holladay, a senior 155-pound end plays defensive safety. He underwent an operation recently and his future status also is a question mark. Both boys saw double duty in 1966. No other regulars return.

Another lad who figures prominently in Coach Jackson's plans when he recovers from a hand injury is Joe Briseno, 122-pound junior back, who was ineligible last season. Ira lost all of its kickers, and Joe is perhaps the best prospect for the extra point chores.

The Bulldogs lettered several candidates last year, but it is a school policy to give letters to anyone who participates in three sports. And most of the football lettermen had more experience in sports other than football.

"Very few lettermen have much playing experience," said Coach Jackson. "Only a couple of them saw a lot of action."

The two he refers to are Gary Weir, 170-pound senior quarterback, and John Ezell, 165-pound senior center. Both are seasoned performers. Gary is a better than average passer.

Candidates who could break into the starting alignment include Terry Sterling, 140-pound junior offensive back and linebacker; Eugene Briseno, 132-pound senior back and linebacker, who was ineligible in 1966; Doug White, 132-pound junior end; and, Tino Gutierrez, 160-pound sophomore defensive end and lineman. White could be the favorite target for Weir's aerials.

Others who may see action are senior Drewell Clark, junior Dea Hooker and sophomores Joe Murphy and Ricky Hester. The squad also includes Bob Fowler, Tommy Cox, Joe Williams, Riley Sterling and Rue Galvean.

"Out first bunch should be hard hitters," said Coach Jackson, "however, we don't have the depth to plug many gaps if there are a lot of injuries." The Ira defense should be adequate while the offense remains a question mark. Overall team speed is only average.

Highland perhaps has the best first team in the district and will be favored to win on that basis. However, the strength in the loop is better balanced this season and Ira, Blackwell and Hobbs have the ability to challenge Highland for the crown.

Injuries could hurt Highland's chances. But then, the same misfortune could spell doom to Bulldog title hopes.

With a healthy squad, Ira definitely must be considered a title contender.

SIX GAMES OFF PACE

Surging Angels Take Baltimore, 7-2, 11-4

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The crush at the top of the American League remains unchanged today and don't look now but Bill Rigney is trying to toss another log into the jam.

Rigney's California Angels stand just six games off the pace after sweeping Baltimore 7-2 and 11-4 Tuesday. Bubba Morton drove in four runs with two hits in each game.

Ordinarily, six games behind with 20 or so to play wouldn't be so bad, but the Angels have a problem. There are four teams in front of them.

The status quo which survived four doubleheaders on Labor Day remained unchanged Tuesday when the first-place Minnesota Twins and pursuing Boston, Chicago and Detroit all won. Thus California, which took a pair, was the only team to gain ground Tuesday. The fifth-pla[ce] Angels have won seven of t[he] last eight games.

Minnesota battered Cleveland 9-2. Boston stayed one-half game back with an 8-2 triumph over Washington as Carl Yastrzemski cracked a pair of home runs. Chicago topped New York 5-3 and remained one game behind. Joe Sparma hurled a brilliant two-hitter as Detroit blanked Kansas City 4-0 and stayed 1½ games off the pace.

In the only National League game played, Philadelphia nipped Atlanta 4-3 in 11 innings.

Morton tagged a pair of two-run doubles while Rick Reichardt and rookie Leo Rodriguez smacked solo home runs as Clyde Wright hurled a four-hitter for the Angels in the first game against the Orioles.

Then Morton knocked in four more runs with two two-run singles in the second game as California completed the sweep. Roger Repoz drove in three runs in the nightcap with a double and a homer.

Jim Kaat was rocked for 13 hits but threaded his way out of trouble and won his 11th game of the season as the Twins ripped Cleveland.

Rich Rollins' bases-loaded triple keyed a four-run first inning that got Kaat off to a quick lead against Sam McDowell.

Ted Uhlaender slammed a pair of triples and scored twice for the Twins.

Yastrzemski, fighting his way out of a 7-for-41 slump, walloped his 37th and 38th home runs, driving in four runs.

Sparma struck out eight Athletics including the first four he faced. The only hits off him were a one-out single in the third by Phil Roof and Jim Gosger's grounder which struck base runner Ramon Webster in the seventh.

The Tigers pushed a run across in the fourth when Dick McAuliffe drew a bases-loaded walk and then added two more in the fifth on singles by Al Kaline, Jim Northrup and Bill Freehan. Jerry Lumpe's seventh-inning single drove in Detroit's final run.

Steve Jones and Bobby Locker hurled seven innings of scoreless relief protecting Chicago's victory over the Yankees.

The White Sox snapped a 3-3 tie in the third inning when their qinch hitting specialist, 41-year-old Smoky Burgess, drew a bases-loaded walk. Don Buford added an insurance run with an eighth-inning homer.

Dodgers Leap Ahead 6-5

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) —Albuquerque's Dodgers held a 1-0 lead in the Dixie Series with Birmingham going into the second game tonight.

The Texas League champions edged the Southern League kings 6-5 in 11 innings as the series opened Tuesday night.

Albuquerque scored two runs to win after Birmingham had taken a 5-4 lead on Art Miranda's triple in the top of the 11th.

Kenny Washington singled in one run and the other—the one that won the game—came on Miranda's throw wide of the plate that allowed Luis Alcaraz to score.

Alcaraz, the leading Texas League hitter, sent the game into extra innings when he led off with a homer in the ninth to tie the score 4-4. He previously had batted in three runs with a double.

After two more games here, the seven-game series shifts to Birmingham.

IMPOSSIBLE TASK?

U.S. Seeks New Davis Cup Captain

By WILL GRIMSLEY

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — The Unted States is looking around for a new Davis Cup tennis captain and nobody's breaking down doors to get the job.

"I really feel sorry for the guy who captains our team next year," Harcourt Woods, the chairman of the Davis Cup cimmittee said today. "It looks like an impossible task.

"Arthur Ashe already is in the Army. Cliff Richey and Charley Pasarell are prime Army material since both are out of school. Our new kids coming up just don't seem to be hungry—they don't give a darn.

"Some of them have got college coming up, and after that maybe Vietnam. It's not much to look forward to."

The U.S. tennis picture took on a darker aspect Tuesday when two of the nation's top Davis Cup aces, Richey and Pasarell, lost third-round matches in the men's division and invaders again grabbed a hold on the aged grass court event at the West Side Tennis Club.

The outlook can't be any brighter today when the top half of the men's bracket is played with only one American, seventh-seeded Clark Graebner of Beechwood, Ohio, among the eight who will see action.

Here's t he schedule:

Thomas Koch, Brazil, vs. Jan Leschly, Denmark; Ronald Barnes, Brazil, vs. Bill Bowrey, Australia; Mark Cox, Britain, vs. Graebner, and Marcelio Lara, Mexico, vs. Roy Emerson, Australia.

Three Yanks managed to come through in the other half of the draw Tuesday but they don't figure to be around long. They are Ron Holmberg, the paunchy veteran from Highland Falls, N.Y.; Gene Scott of New York and Bob Lutz, one of the fresh young blood from Los Angeles.

Scott plays Holmberg, so America can be assured of at least another round of survival there. Lutz takes on Bob Hewitt, the Australian exile who now plays No. 1 for South Africa.

Tyrone Discusses Abilities Of Foe In Season Opener

The Snyder High School football team, including the varsity and junior varsity, were special guests along with their fathers at a meeting of the Quarterback Club, held Tuesday in the school cafeteria. An ice cream supper was served to all.

Club members voted to have a drawing each week with two men selected to sit on the bench with the varsity team during the game of the following Friday night. The lucky men whose names are drawn out of the hat also will be allowed to visit the dressing room during halftime ceremonies and ride the bus with the boys.

Coach Wayne Tyrone introduced members of the varsity squad, and Coach Roy Carter introduced members of the junior varsity. New coaches in the school system also were introduced.

Tyrone, the head coach and athletic director, dicussed the capabilities of Andrews — the opposing team in the season opener Friday night. He said the Mustangs have a good defense and normally employ a variation of the "Arkansas five."

"They use the I formation on offene," said Tyrone, "and like to run trap plays, pitchout options and quick pitches to the tailback."

Coach Bill Hartsfield presented the film of last Friday's scrimmage with Midland, saying the staff was pleased with the overall showing of the Tigers. He added that the defense did a good job, although the offense had a "tough time." The passing was improved. Hartsfield is varsity backfield coach.

Coach Jack Gray, line coach of the varsity, told Club members that, for their size, the Tigers are doing a good job, although there still is room for improvement. He said "we whipped them (Midland) physically" and have to be tough.

Coaching assignments for the various team were announced, as follows: Lamar 9th, Tommy Echols and Gene Westmoreland; Lamar 8th, Ken McAllister; Lamar 7th, John Gary and Ned Underwood; Travis 9th, Bill Herrington and Larry McNair; Travis 8th, Bill Boles; and, Travis 7th, Albert Lewis and Geral Mack Greene.

Club members also viewed a film of grid highlights of the 1966 season in the Southwest Conference, narrated by Kern Tips.

The club, on a recommendation of Dave Harlin, voted to sponsor a PeeWee League football team.

President Jerry Rice presided over the meeting.

SPECIAL GUESTS — Varsity and junior varsity squads were special guests of the Quarterback Club at an ice cream supper held Tuesday night in the high school cafeteria. The fathers of the Tiger athletes also were recognized by the Club. First game of the season begins at Andrews Friday night with kickoff set for 8:30 p.m. Tickets still are on sale at the school administration office on Thirty-seventh Street.

IN NFL

D. Cowboys No. 1 Choice

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — When the two division winners play for the Eastern Conference title of the National Football League Dec. 24 it will be the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Dallas Cowboys in the Cotton Bowl.

Dallas, despite troubles with its offense in the preseason games, is a solid choice to repeat as Eastern champ and get another shot at the Western winner in the NFL title game Dec. 31.

The new Century Division of the East, composed of Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Cleveland and New York, looks like a wide open battle.

Before the Army called up Charley Johnson, the Cards appeared to have the best of it. Everybody has serious problems and any one of the four could be the fortunate survivor.

Dallas must beat off the challenge of Washington and Philadelphia in the Capitol Division as well as the threat of the New Orleans Saints who appear to be the best expansion team in league history.

Here's the way it looks from here in the two division:

CAPITOL

1. Dallas
2. Washington
3. Philadelphia
4. New Orleans

CENTURY

1. Pittsburgh
2. St. Louis
3. Cleveland
4. New York

The Redskins seem to be best equipped to challenge the Cowboys in the Capitol because of the passing of Sonny Jurgensen and the receiving of Charley Taylor and Bobby Mitchell.

If Ray McDonald, the big rookie from Idaho, lives up to his No. 1 draft pick, the Skins could have a balanced attack.

Dallas is the solid club with an experienced, talented defensive unit and a fast-striking offense built around Don Meredith, Bobby Hayes, Don Perkins and Dan Reeves.

Meredith's chronic arm trouble has made him erratic in the early games but Dandy Don will come around when the season starts. If the Cowboys have to go with Jerry Rhome or Craig Morton they could be in a real battle.

The Eagles shape up a a threat on the addition of men like Mike Ditka and Gary Ballman and the two fine rookie running backs, Harry Wilson and Harry Jones.

If Joe Kuharich gets consistent quarterbacking from Norm Snead, he ca n put a flock of points on the board. The defense can be had although it has its spectacular blitzing moments with free safety Joe Scarpati on the loose.

Nobody expected the Saints to beat St. Louis, Pittsburgh and San Francisco in preseason but things will be different when they start playing for real.

Tom Fears has solid veterans in Billy Kilmer and Jim Taylor. His defensive group has done a surprisingly solid job. To use the coaches' favorite cliche, they're going to beat somebody.

The Century Division is something special. If Johnson hadn't gone into the Army, the Cards would be favored. If Cleveland had more depth and everybody was absolutely sure about Frank Ryan's arm, the Browns would be top ranked despite the effects of the five-man strike.

New York, a sad, sad 1-12-1 last year, has helped itself considerably and could win it if things continue to go wrong for the others.

Pittsburgh, however, is the pick here on the theory that (1) they are long overdue (2) Bill Nelsen is ready to become a top flight quarterback (3) Bill Austin brought order out of chaos last year.

The Steelers never have won but they closed strong in 1966 when Nelsen finally got back into action. They can not afford any more injuries like the loss of Ben McGee and Earl Gros.

Do-It-Yourself Abortions Foreseen

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP)—A professor of religion says "in a few years there will be safe "do it yourself' abortion medications" so women can decide whether to have a baby.

Prof. R. Paul Ramsey of Princeton University made the prediction in a paper prepared for the opening today of an International Conference on Abortion, sponsored by the Harvard Divinity School and the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation.

Some 70 experts in religion, law, medicine and the social sciences are participating in closed panel discussions today and Thursday. About 1,500 prominent perons from this country and abroad will take part in open sessions Friday.

In a summary of his paper, Dr. Ramsey contrasted the differing legal and moral considerations of abortion but noted this distinction may soon be outmoded.

"This is soon going to become a question having nothing to do with the penal code, a practice wholly in the personal or private realm which laws cannot reach," he said.

"More important," he continued, "is the fact that in a few years there will be safe 'do it yourself' abortion medications so that no one need resort to what the state legislature thinks about it.

"Abortion will have been brought entirely into the arena of private decision," he said.

Dr. Ramsey said some fashionable women's magazines have already discussed this procedure under the name of the "M-pill."

"Any woman will be able to keep herself systematically ignorant of whether she is with some frequency performing an abortion on herelf," he said, by taking the pill regularly, whether or not she thinks she's pregnant.

"She need not face the question whether" she should affect an abortion, Dr. Ramsey said.

"She only need imagine, she will be systematically tempted to believe, that he is only doing what comes naturally every month."

Expenditures Up

BOSTON (AP) — Owen B. Kiernan, state education commissioner, says Massachusetts increased its per-pupil expenditure on schools by $40 over last year. It's now $590.

EASED DOLLAR DRAIN?

Uranium Trade Studied

By ROBERT GRAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a complicated trade to acquire $24 million of uranium it didn't need, the U.S. government swapped surplus foods for $27 million worth of industrial diamonds it didn't need either, the comptroller general has told Congress.

In a report on the dealing, Elmer B. Staats disagreed with the claim of executive-branch agencies that the transactions helped ease the dollar drain. He argued it had the opposite effect.

Figuring in varying degrees in the arrangements in late 1965 were the balance-of-payments issue, foreign policy, the national stockpile of strategic materials, agricultural surpluses, South African uranium, diamond smuggling in the Congo, the Atomic Energy Commission, and the Agriculture, State, Treasury, Justice and Defense departments.

"Just a simple business deal," a spokesman for the comptroller general commented Tuesday in providing additional details.

It began when the government, concerned about the dollar drain stemming from a long-term contract to purchase uranium from South Africa, decided to shift to a barter arrangement.

In such transactions, a government agency purchases surplus foods from the Commodity Credit Corporation. Private contractors sell the foods abroad. The foreign exchange realized is then used to finance U.S. purchases without spending of dollars, thus easing the drain on U.S. gold supplies.

The United States agreed in 1953 to purchase the uranium when it was short of that material. By 1962, it had developed reserves and "no longer needed uranium being produced abroad," the comptroller general said.

But the purchase contract was still enforced.

After extended discussions, including revisions to meet Justice Department complaints about a lack of competition on bidding, a package plan was arranged.

Eight contractors would take over enough surplus food to raise foreign exchange for $30.7 million worth of Defense Department needs in Europe, $24.7 million worth of uranium and $27.7 million in industrial diamonds for the South African national stockpile. The comptroller general's office said the contractors were basically diamond dealers.

The Treasury Department approved, anticipating a favorable effect on the balance of payments.

The State Department suggested if diamonds were to be acquired, they be bought in the Congo to help that country's economy. The international diamond syndicate had reduced its purchases there on the ground that a lot of diamonds had been smuggled out and sold through other organizations.

But the comptroller general said there were already too many industrial diamonds in the U.S. stockpile of strategic materials and there was no need for more. The $27.7 million in agriculture commodities that eventually financed the diamond purchase could have been used to barter for goods actually needed, the report continued.

"The over-all result of the transaction was to deprive the United States of an opportunity to favorably affect its balance of payments position by an additional $7.7 million," Staats wrote.

The Agriculture Department agreed with Staats' view that each dollar of the barter that went to acquire unneeded strategic materials tended to decrease balance-of-payments benefits.

"Accordingly, we are limiting strategic material barter to very exceptional cases," the department said.

Makes Bond In Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH (AP) — A figure in the Bethel Baptist University bond case surrendered to the sheriff's office Tuesday and posted bail bonds totaling $35,000.

Charles A. Lindsey of Chattanooga, Tenn., appeared at county jail with his attorney to make bond on a seven-count indictment, returned four months ago alleging securities violations.

Lindsey was freed last March on $10,000 bond after being named in a theft indictment stemming from the sale of some $32,000 in Bethel bonds to a Fort Worth barber, since deceased.

Investigators contend the university, an Oklahoma corporation, is non-existent. Lindsey was identified as an officer of the corporation.

Four other men also were named in the felony theft indictment and all but one, O. A. Cole of Fort Worth, are free on bond. Cole has not been arrested.

Covered In Concrete

NEW YORK (AP) — The exterior of the new Madison Square Garden—nearing completion above Pennsylvania Station — has been covered with 2,400 concrete panels.

HINT OF THINGS TO COME

US Perfecting N-Weapons

Editor's Note — Twenty five years ago the race for the atomic bomb began in Oak Ridge, Tenn. Following is an assessment of America's present nuclear arms posture—and a hint of thing to come—given by Atomic Energy Commission and Defense Department officials.

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even as America's weapons makers revamp and improve stockpiled nuclear weapons, work is underway on exotic new types of armament.

Government officials say future objectives include not only the so-called "neutron bomb"—once described as a kind of death-ray weapon—but also pure-fusion weapons that would not require atomic bomb triggers and thus would produce no radioactive fallout.

These and other developments concerning America's present nuclear arms posture came out in response to queries submitted to the Atomic Energy Commission by The Associated Press.

The AEC collaborated with the Defense Department in preparing its answers. AEC Chairman Glenn T. Seaborg and Brig. Gen. Edward B. Giller, director of the AEC's Division of Military Applications, were interviewed separately.

In addition to references to research work on the pure-fusion weapon and the neutron bomb, the AEC's written answers offered these further highlights:

—The American stockpile of "tens of thousands" of individual nuclear weapons ineludes nuclear antisubmarine rockets, torpedoes and depth charges — weapons that have had little official mention in the past.

—Red China apparently has a "rational, well-organized" nuclear weapons development program—and conceivably could launch an intercontinental ballistic missile test vehicle before the end of this year.

—The United States still holds an over-all lead in nuclear weapons over the Soviet Union.

Seaborg also referred to that over-all lead, but he cautioned: "Weapons can beome almost obsolete in comparison to those of a potential adversary. And that's why we need to test so frequently. We're rebuilding and re-working our stockpile constantly."

Seaborg also said, without mentioning any particular type of weapon, that the United States has "things on the drawing board that will be the weapon of the future" and "we have some good—yes, some very good—ideas coming along."

Giller said U.S. advances in nuclear weaponry go far beyond the expectations of the pioneer weapon-makers of a quarter-century ago.

A clear implication of Giller's remarks, though, was that the same scale of advance beyond expectations is also true of the Soviet program.

Other highlight of the interviews:

—Giller said the AEC's research weaponeers continue to try to develop "tailored outputs" of so-called conventional nuclear bombs—including continued work on the "neutron bomb."

—The Defense Department, said Giller, has shown interest, for possible military use, in comparatively "clean" nuclear explosive devices—that is, devices relatively low in radioactivity yield— that the AEC has developed from its "Plowshare" program. The latter program is aimed at using nuclear explosives for peaceful uses, such as carving out canals and harbors.

—Seaborg said that, for the present at least, the United States has no plans for further cutbacks in the production of plutonium a key ingredient of nuclear explosives.

Tax Reform Package May Leave Depletion Untouched

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson Administration is nearing completion of a tax reform package incorporating the first overhaul of estate and gift taxes in a quarter century. But the revision is unlikely to touch the 27½ per cent oil depletion allowance.

As now contemplated, the tax reforms would apparently result in no tax windfall for the Treasury Department but would basically represent a shifting of tax burdens.

This would run counter to supporters of a congressional drive to tighten exemptions and special preferences in the present tax law to reduce or even eliminate the need for a tax increase.

One of the targets is the oil depletion allowance which some critics want lowered to 15 per cent.

The depletion allowance is a portion of the income from producers' sales of petroleum which is exempt from taxes. The theory behind it is that the sales represent disposal of capital assets rather than net gain.

Opponents of the allowance have tried unsuccessfully for years to lower it. Present indications are that they'll get no help from the administration this year.

Instead, the reform program is expected to cover estate and gift taxes, industrial development bonds, tax-exempt foundation and churches, and the multiple exemptions corporations sometimes claim by setting up paper subsidiaries.

Officials are also discussing—but no decisions have been made—the possibility of including the changed tax treatment of the elderly which the House Ways and Means Committee rejected in approving an increase in Social Security benefits.

Under this system, the exclusion for tax purposes of Social Security benefits, the retirement income credit and the extra $600 personal exemption for persons 65 and over would be replaced by a flat exemption—$2,300 for single persons and $4,000 for married couples.

This program would not affect the tax-free status of 16 million elderly who pay no tax. About 2.8 million would enjoy tax cuts, the Treasury said.

The taxes of the remaining one million elderly would be raised.

Any tax reform message is also likely to reject the use of tax incentives to finance such project as pollution control and the cost of a college education.

Lubbock New Spot Market

WASHINGTON (AP) — Effective Sept. 8, Galveston, Tex., no longer will be an official spot cotton market.

The U. S. Agriculture Department made the announcement Tuesday.

Only markets where cotton is sold in enough volume to reflect accurately the value of middling cotton and the price difference between other grades are spot cotton markets.

USDA said Galveston trading has declined in recent months to the point where it provides no base for accurate quotations of prices and values.

Lubbock, already a bonafide spot cotton market, will replace Galveston on the list of spot cotton markets for futures contract settlemen purposes, the USDA said.

Spot cotton markets issue spot cotton quotations daily in cooperation with the department. These daily published quotations are widely used in cotton trading throughout the country and in principal foreign markets.

May Lose Certificates

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Teachers in Dallas public schools who resign without good reason and with little notice may face cancellation of their teaching certificates.

Dr. W. T. White, superintendent of the Dallas schools, told a luncheon club Tuesday that "we are going to have to be strict."

"These resignations hit us hard last year," White said, "and we suffered for it... It nearly ruined us."

Pregnancies or transfer of husbands to other jobs in other cities, White said, would be sufficient reason for resigning.

The superintendent said he had to start the policy about two weeks ago when the Dallas school district suddenly was left with 300 vacancies.

As of the first day of school today, however, the system is only 50 or 60 teachers short, he said, and the problem is "being cleared up."

Mrs. Connally Hospitalized For Surgery

AUSTIN (AP) — Mrs. John Connally, the governor's vivacious 48-year-old wife that thousands of Texans know as "Nellie," enters M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute in Houston today for surgery.

The governor made a surprise announcement at a news conference Tuesday that Mrs. Connally would enter the hospital today for surgery Thursday morning.

Connally said a routine medical checkup last week resulted in a decision by physicians that a small growth in a gland on her neck should be removed immediately.

"Every test and indication is that it (the growth) is negative and benign (non-malignant)," Connally said.

The governor said the growth "is in a gland, sort of a hard little knot, on the right side of her neck just under the point of the right jaw."

He said the growth did not "bother" her.

Connally said it was hoped Mrs. Connally would be in the hospital only about two days.

The governor said Mrs. Connally's condition would finally determine his present plans to attend the Southern Governor's Conference in Asheville, N.C., Sept. 10-13. He is scheduled to appear twice on the program.

Mrs. Connally, 48, stayed at the governor's mansion while Connally was on a six weeks hunting trip in Africa. She said she wanted to keep close watch on a mansion grounds remodeling project now underway. Connally returned last Thursday.

Bircher Files Charge

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Bigotry and discrimination was charged Tuesday against the State Fair of Texas by an official of the John Birch Society.

The charge by Rex Westerfield, the society's western regional public relations director, came after the Fair's officials refused the conservative organization a booth in next month's exposition.

Westerfield said the society's request was refused for the second year in a row.

He told a news conference that last year the Fair turned down the Birch request because application was made "too late."

This year, he said, the fair turned down the group's request, made months earlier, because the society was too "political and controversial."

Noting that the United Nations Association was granted a booth, Westerfield said he conceded the Fair's right to say who has an exhibit but urged it to be "consistent."

Texas Production Remains Unchanged

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Production of oil and lease condensate eased back slightly last week, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

It averaged 9,368,855 barrels per day, down 9,855.

Oklahoma and Kansas accounted for the dip. Kansas' output averaged 276,980 barrels daily, down 2,690; and Oklahoma's was 642,930, down 13,300.

Figures were unchanged for Texas at 3,396,975, Louisiana at 2,332,300 and New Mexico at 344,900.

Brings Good Price

MARSHFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Jay Johnson, a Marblehead antique collector, purchased at auction recently a 200-year-old walnut dressing table built by William Savery of Philadelphia and paid for it in cash—$30,000.

TUBE TO SPARE! — The dwarfed size of their Volkswagen didn't defeat these three Richardson, Tex., youths in getting a giant bulldozer intertube to Lake Texoma for use as a water raft. Standing through the sun roof of the small car, Frank Faris held the tube aboard while Ken Rauell and David Hawkins had a less strenuous ride. (AP Wirephoto)

Miss Texas Has Dandy Tall Tale

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — Here's what sounds like a Texan's tall tale but "believe me, it's true," according to the Texas lady who tells it.

It seems a sea gull lifted ballet shoes and leotards from the 12th-floor hotel window of Miss Texas Tuesday morning.

The gull circled over the boardwalk and headed back to the Claridge Hotel and conveniently dropped the packages, according to Mary Louise Rogers of Fort Worth, the chaperone of Miss Texas, Molly Grubb.

"When I told my predicament to the bell captain, he raised his eyebrows and didn't believe me," said Mrs. Rogers.

The ballet shoes were in a box closed with a rubber band lying beside the leotards in a plastic bag on a radiator next to an open window.

"I heard this fluttering and I saw this big beautiful white bird perched on the sill," she said.

"I started to get a piece of bread to feed it, and when I looked up he had his beak wrapped around the two packages."

Mrs. Rogers said the bird flew away with the packages dangling from its beak and started to circle in front of the hotel.

A few moments later, she was downstairs in the lobby telling her dilemma to the unbelieving bell captain. Just then, she continued, the doorman walked in with the leotards in the pastic bag.

The bird had dropped it in the street. A search uncovered the shoes on a second story landing of the hotel.

Miss Texas, who was rehearsing in convention hall at the time, laughed when she heard the story and said, "the folks back home won't believe it."

Machine's Not Human

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — When an electronics company announced the development of an automatic bartender which could be programmed to offer a selection of 1,000 mixed drinks, it admitted the machine can't fully supplant the human barkeep. "After all, who ever heard of telling your troubles to a machine?"

Pete Wynn is one of the best of the best

A welder with El Paso Natural Gas Company, Pete has the high training and skills that welders everywhere must have. In addition, he has developed the special abilities of pipeline welders.

Pete helps operate and maintain El Paso Natural's facilities, using materials and procedures that are exactly right for each job. A purification plant vessel, for example, is best welded with a rod that has a lower hydrogen content than a rod used on pipelines. All of Pete's welds that are subject to significant stress are x-rayed to be sure that they are flawless.

Every six months Pete must pass a welding test in which he solves a problem that is equal to the most difficult he will ever meet. The passing grade: 100%. All of Pete's welds — and the welds of all other pipeline welders — must be stronger than the parent metal itself. Pete makes a profession of perfection.

His skills and those of the other 5,400 employees of El Paso Natural Gas Company — whose specialties range from economics to engineering to welding — are among the reasons that the West has assured supplies of natural gas.

EL PASO NATURAL GAS COMPANY
Through its pipelines El Paso Natural serves Texas and ten other western states.

Test Your Skill...Win CASH PRIZES

HERE ARE THE RULES OF THE CONTEST

In each advertisement on this page you will find the contestants in a prominent football game being played in the country this week-end. Get an entry blank from one of the merchants who are helping sponsor this contest and whose message is on this page. Fill in your selection of the WINNING TEAM only . . . opposite the name of the firm on the entry blank. Then send your complete blank to FOOTBALL CONTEST EDITOR, THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS, Entries must be in the hands of the editor by 12 o'clock noon, Friday. Games ending in a tie score must be specified as a tie or else it will be considered a miss.

If there is a tie for first place the winners will divide the cash money of $12.50 and no second prize will be given. If there is a first place winner and a tie for second place, the second prize winners will divide the money for the place. If more than two persons tie for second place, no second prize money will be awarded and the cash will be added to next week's prize. Tie for perfect score will split $25.00. There will be fun for the entire family. Only one entry blank will be permitted from any one person. More than one will disqualify all of the person's entries. Scores listed on the entry blank will have no bearing on the choice of the winner. Sign your entry blank and list your address and phone number — and watch for the story on next Wednesday's front page for the winners. Hurry now, and get your entry blank from one of the merchants on this page. The contest blank must be in your own handwriting. Employes of The Snyder Daily News and their families are not eligible to enter.
