

Three Sonorans To Own Variety Store in Sanderson Soon

Lawrence Grimland Successor To Preston Prater, One of New Retailers

Establishment of a variety store business in Sanderson next month will take from the Sutton community Mr. and Mrs. Preston Prater and daughter, Sally Dawn.

The business will be owned and operated by Mr. Prater and Mrs. Prater's aunt, Mrs. Theresa Friend and her son, Houston Stokes. Mrs. Friend and Mr. Stokes have been living in Menard but were formerly Sonora residents. There is not a variety store in Sanderson but a building has been secured for the Sonorans' enterprise.

Mr. Prater, son of Arthur Prater of Eden, came here in the summer of 1928 and has been a resident continuously since that time. He first worked for J. T. McClelland, contractor, and in the fall of that year began work in the grocery department of the E. F. Vander Stucken Co., Inc. After four years in that department he was transferred to the dry goods and men's wear department and has been there since that time.

Mr. Prater, a brother of Mrs. A. W. Awalt, was reared in Mason county and was graduated from high school there in 1926. He attended Southern Methodist University in Dallas nearly two years before coming to Sonora.

The duties of a secretary are being handled by Mr. Prater for Dee Ora Lodge No. 715 A. F. & A. M., of which he has been active for several years, for the Men's Brotherhood and for the Men's Bible Class.

Succeeding Mr. Prater in the Sonora store will be Lawrence Grimland, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Grimland, former Sonora residents, and a brother of Mrs. B. W. Hutcherson. Mr. Grimland was formerly employed at the store six or seven years but recently has been ranching. Announcement of Mr. Grimland as Mr. Prater's successor was made yesterday morning by Mr. Vander Stucken.

Civic Club's Help in Sponsoring of Contests Assured

City's Water Well May Permit Offering of Desirable Summer Rate

Assistance in the holding of the 4-County Interscholastic Meet in Sonora March 25 and 26 was given by the Lions Club Tuesday noon when a contribution of $10 was authorized for use in a fund to purchase awards of various sorts.

F. T. Jones, superintendent, told of plans for the two-day program of competitive events of many kinds between high school and elementary pupils of Kimble, Menard, Schleicher and Sutton counties. He said that it is likely bedroom accommodations in private homes will be needed for some of the visitors. About 300 are expected from the three counties.

It was estimated that $55 or $60 will be needed for the twenty-five medals, five cups, five trophies and nine pennants which will be given. Cost of bringing judges from out-of-district towns and for miscellaneous expenses is to be borne by the school and by sale of refreshments to the visitors.

W. C. Gilmore suggested that $10 be given and that the board of directors consider the matter of giving more. Dr. Joel Shelton suggested that the organization sponsor the meet in cooperation with school authorities.

A description of the city's new water well was given by Mr. Gilmore who stated that if the well tested finally as much as 400 gallons a minute it would be possible for the city to offer a very attractive summer water rate.

Instrumental numbers by Mary Burtle and George S. Schwiening, pupils of Peter A. Chase, constituted the program.

The Red Cross Handbook of First Aid will be used as a basis of the problems and the instructions. The Council's Health and Safety Committee, composed of Dr. W. E. Schulkey and H. H. Precinct Two Road On Community Basis

Action Postponed on Petition By Fifteen Citizens

A proposal of a road in Precinct 2 from the Sol Kelly gate on the Juno Road southward to the Sutton-Val Verde line, ordered by county commissioners January 11, has been abandoned by the county commissioners.

A restraining injunction was secured last month by Sol Kelly in district court. The commission's recent action was based on the assertion that beginning and terminal points of the road were not clearly enough specified.

A petition by Mrs. Nannie Wilson and fourteen other citizens for the establishment of a county road in Precinct 2 is being considered by the commissioners and will be acted upon later.

Alvis Johnson, county judge, said last week that the Sol Kelly road would be maintained as a community road rather than as a county one with the county doing such work on it as possible without assuming responsibility for its maintenance.

Junction Minister Heard by 110 Men at Class Banquet

Barbecue Dinner For Members of Non-Denominational Group and Their Friends

More than 100 men of Sonora, Eldorado and San Angelo Wednesday night at the Baptist Church enjoyed the first annual men's banquet sponsored by the Men's Bible Class, non-denominational organization which meets each Sunday morning in La Vista Theater building.

"The Need of the World Today Is Men," was the subject of an inspirational address by Dr. J. J. Kellam, pastor, Baptist Church, Junction, who has been known fifteen years for his religious activities in Texas. For a number of years he traveled in Texas and Oklahoma. He has been in the ministry thirty-five years.

Men Challenged By God

The world of 1938 is presenting more problems that need solution by real men than ever before, in Dr. Kellam's opinion. As he developed his subject:

"There are many views of what a man is. I know only what I see in Jesus—the only perfect man that has ever been. True manhood is not based on just physical strength, nor merely on intellect; the need now is for men of strength and men of mind, men created in the image of God...."

"The kind of man needed today is a strong, brave, true, stalwart one. No man can be what he ought to be and turn his back on Jesus of Nazareth. You are all obligated to help men live and to help men die. God is calling on men to be manly men and His challenge to you today is to realize your responsibility to your fellow men and to Him."

Musical Numbers Presented

J. D. Lowrey, class president, opened the program by presenting H. V. Stokes who was in charge during the evening. Vocal or instrumental music was given by the following:

Miss Marie Watkins, Miss Elizabeth Caldwell, Miss Leeta Mae Garrett, Margaret Ada Martin, Patsy Gilmore, Doris Meckel, Boyd Caffey, Lavelle Meckel, Peter A. Chase, the Juno Playboys.

Special recognition was accorded by the master of ceremonies to E. C. Saunders, the Rev. B. E. Huggins of San Angelo, W. B. Person, Theo Savell, Robert Johnson, Marion Stokes, the Rev. R. F. Davis, and the Rev. R. C. Brinkley, class teacher.

A barbecue dinner was served, buffet style, by several men of the class after the musical program.

Out-of-town guests of the Sonora men were:

Eldorado: Aaron Edgar, E. W. Brooks, W. T. Whitten, W. N. Ramsay, Jimmie West; San Angelo: Len W. Lagle, the Rev. B. E. Huggins, W. L. Bowden.

The Seniors enjoyed a delightful picnic Thursday afternoon with a party following the picnic. The class met at the school at 5:30 and reached the picnic grounds on the Ozona road about thirty minutes later. Immediately after the picnic we continued our fun-making with a party at the home of Elward Glasscock. Here we enjoyed program and tag rances, and various other games. When tired of dancing, we were refreshed at the punch bowl. Each guest expressed his appreciation to Mrs. Glasscock, and our room mothers, Mrs. Espy, Mrs. Hutcherson, Mrs. Trainer and Mrs. Awalt. We had as our guests Mr. and Mrs. Jones, Coach and Mrs. Adams and Mr. Lightfoot.

SAN ANGELO, TEXAS

STATE OFFICE BRIEFS 1938 CONSERVATION WORK

H. C. Atchison, Sutton county agent, said this week that he had heard nothing more about the details of the 1938 program than this story out of the state office. Sutton county ranchmen's checks for 1938 compliance have not been received but are expected daily as all reports have been sent from Mr. Atchison's office to the state headquarters.

The Range Conservation Program under which ranch operators may earn specified payments for practices designed to maintain and improve range land will continue under the provisions of the recently passed Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 practically the same as under the Agricultural Conservation Programs of 1936 and 1937, according to George Slaughter, chairman of Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee.

Slaughter summarizes the status of the range program as follows: The Act includes an allotment of not to exceed five per cent of the total appropriation for payments for the range program, and noncrop pasture lands.

Under this limitation a program has been devised for the conservation of natural resources on range lands. The program is essentially the same as the 1937 program under which 15,000 ranch operators controlling 62,000,000 acres participated in Texas. Texas had about one-third of the participation in the entire United States.

The 1938 range conservation program establishes range-building allowances as the maximum amount which ranch operators may earn for approved practices.

In Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota and California, this allowance is two cents an acre on all range land in a ranching unit, plus $1.00 times the grazing capacity.

All the practices approved by which part or all of the allowance may be earned are designated to fight erosion by promoting or restoring stands of grass.

They consist of natural reseeding by deferred grazing, better distribution of water sources, runoff and erosion control by contour furrowing and other devices, removal of range destroying plants which compete with grass, and the establishment of fire guards.

Specific rates of pay have been established for the various practices outlined. Full details will be sent to all county offices as soon as received by the state.

Slaughter pointed out that the range program is now available for the entire state.

Jones Calves Sell at 6 and 7
Pitman and Reynolds of Albany were shipped 100 head of calves yesterday by C. T. Jones, Sutton county ranchman. The lot was a mixed one with 6 cents a pound paid for the heifers and 7 cents for the bulls. The calves were some raised by Mr. Jones. Two truck loads of bulls are expected by Mr. Jones this week-end from Brady. They will be sold to Sutton county ranchmen.

Calf-Cattle Prices at Market in Fort Worth Increased

Sheep and Lamb Volume Off With Shorn Lambs Up 25 Cents;
Receipts Off in '38

By FRANK REEVES, JR.
(Special to the NEWS)

Fort Worth, Feb. 24.—Practically all classes of slaughter cattle and calves at Fort Worth Wednesday were fully 25 cents higher than a week earlier, but most of the advance was made last week. There was a strong undertone to the trading this week with light supplies salesmen did not have any trouble disposing of their receipts. Stocker supplies, particularly the better grades, sold to a broad demand and prices that were 25 cents higher.

With light supplies of sheep and lambs for the week, trading was active and by Wednesday shorn fat yearlings and woolled fat lambs were fully steady.

Decrease From Last Year
Livestock supplies for the first three days this week were: Cattle, 4,199; calves, 2,352; sheep, 3,289. Receipts for the corresponding three days in 1937 were: Cattle, 6,716, calves, 3,384, sheep and lambs, 7,991.

Medium weight and heavy fed steers sold from $6.50 to $7.10 with some light weight fed steers at $7.85. Medium grade steers sold around $6 with plain and common lots around $5.50. Most of the bulls sold from $4.25 to $5.25 with the best heavy bulls quotable up to $5.50.

Loads of medium to good fat cows turned from $4.50 to $5 but good to choice cows are quotable up to $5.50. Butcher cows cashed around $4.25 and canner and cutter sales bulked from $3 to $4.

Buyers Want Stockers, Feeders
Packages of fed yearlings from some of the shows sold at $8 to $8.50. Medium to good fed yearlings and heifers sold from $6.75 to $7.85 in load lots. Yearlings made up a good portion of the carload lots. Butcher yearlings sold around $5.50.

Cull calves were marketed from $4.25 to $5; plain calves around $5.50 and medium to good calves cashed from $6 to $7. Some heavy calves on the yearling order sold up to $7.40. Veal calves were in light supply and sold up to $10.

Buyers showed a preference for the better grades of stocker and feeder cattle. Medium to good steer calves sold from $6.50 to $7 but choice grades would bring more money. Good yearlings sold up to $6.75. Cows suitable to go back to the country sold at $4.50 and down.

At the middle of this week shorn fat yearlings sold at $5 and shorn fat lambs brought $6.50. Woolled fat lambs were purchased up to $7.25. Feeder lambs sold at $5.75 and down but supplies were light. Some fresh shorn ewes and wethers sold at $3.

VANDER STUCKEN CALVES LOADED OUT WEDNESDAY

Six cents for heifers and seven cents for steers was received this week by Joe M. Vander Stucken, Sutton county ranchman, when he sold 131 calves to Frank Cartwell of Kansas City and W. L. Kothmann of Mason county.

The animals, divided about evenly between steers and heifers, averaged 340 to 350 pounds. They were loaded out at the Sonora pens Wednesday afternoon.

They're Our Friends

The Sutton county community will have ample opportunity in the next few months to maintain its reputation for hospitality and friendship that has been established through the years.

The first will be the 4-County Interscholastic Meet here March 25 and 26. Pupils from three counties will compete with Sutton students.

The first Saturday in April—date: the second—Boy Scouts of America from each district of the large Concho Valley Council area will compete in Sonora. Their First Aid knowledge will be displayed in an effort to "carry on" to the sectional meet in Sweetwater and then to the regional one in Dallas.

In June—date: the sixteenth and seventeenth—4-H Club boys from many West Texas counties will show in Sonora the wool they have grown on sheep they have managed. Awards will be made and the wool sold at auction.

With these young people will come many adults. To both the youngsters and their elders Sutton county citizens should show every courtesy possible, make them feel that they are welcome and help them to a realization that they would enjoy coming to Sonora often on business or pleasure.

Refrigeration, Developed Through Ages, Marvel of Steady, Pleasing Improvement

When the mercury starts climbing, both men and beast hunt a shady spot.

They've been doing it for many centuries.

Rumor hath it that the caveman went so far as to douse perishable foods in cool streams of water in an attempt to preserve his next meal from the ravages of Old Sol.

Which leads up to the fact that modern electric refrigeration is a far cry from the first recorded cooling system, tried out by the ancient Greeks and Egyptians before the birth of Christ.

Roof Once Played Part

According to W. R. Parsons, Sonora manager for West Texas Utilities Company, the first refrigeration was accomplished by filling shallow earthen dishes with water and covering them with sugar cane. This crude apparatus was then placed on a roof, where exposed to the air currents or fanned by slaves, some of the water was evaporated during the night and with it went some of the heat. Loss of the heat left the remaining water considerably cooler. The chilled water was then placed around bottles of wine to cool them.

Nero—he who fiddled while Rome burned—is given credit for discovering the preservative powers of snow. Hundreds of his slaves brought bales of snow from the Apennine Mountains down to the emperor's courtyard where it was buried in deep trenches insulated with sod and straw. It kept for weeks and was used for cooling wines, fruits and fish that formed part of the Roman feasts. In the Explorer Spends Months on Hainan Island.

San Francisco. — Nicol Smith, young San Francisco explorer and adventurer, has returned to his home here from a six-month exploration trip to lonely Hainan island off the southeast coast of China.

Smith brought back hundreds of photographs, botanical specimens and maps of the remote island. He recorded native life on more than 4,000 feet of sound film.

Hainan island is northeast of Indo-China off the southeastern China coast. It is 190 miles long and 95 miles wide. Until Smith's recent explorations in the interior of the island no white man had ever penetrated inland. The island is populated by primitive natives of Malay origin who still hunt with poisoned arrows.

Attacked by Water Buffalo.

Smith had several "close shaves" with death on his latest trip, he said. On one occasion his car was attacked by a huge water buffalo and at another time, he said, an airplane in which he was flying from Hainan to Canton, to get permission to take photographs in the island's interior, was forced to land in the wild-tiger district of Liu Chow in South China, miles from civilization.

In the heart of the wild Hainan country Smith almost died from the effects of a severe sunstroke. On another occasion quick action of a companion saved him from drowning in a swift mountain river.

Smith made the only motion pictures ever taken of the Loi aborigine tribes of Hainan and obtained recordings of their native music. He made the first inland maps for the National Geographic society and obtained botanical specimens for the American Museum of Natural History.

Rare Bear Captured.

A rare Hainan bear, captured by the expedition, died before it could be transported from the interior and the animal was stuffed. It was the only bear of this species ever seen by a white person, Smith said. Among other trophies was the skin of a 14-foot python, killed by a member of the exploring party.

At the completion of his Hainan island exploration Smith traveled to Yunnan on the Burma-Tibetan border. While there he was the first white man to visit Kocbul, the "mystery city of Asia," in more than 20 years. In Kocbul, Smith said, 25,000 children have been sold into slavery.

In the last ten years Smith has toured unusual out-of-the-way sections of Europe, Asia, America and the South Seas. He has made extensive explorations in the interior of Dutch Guiana.

It is not surprising that there are reports of internal unrest in Japan. There were 38,000 entries in a poetry contest there.—Ed Scanlan in Buffalo Evening News.

Review of
"The Nile" Event of Next Thursday

Mrs. Frank Bond was leader of the program, "Are Children Vegetables?" Thursday afternoon of last week, when the Sonora Woman's Club met at the clubhouse.

Mrs. W. J. Wilkinson assisted Mrs. Bond. Mrs. John L. Nisbet played a record giving pronunciation of words used in the English lesson number nine.

Mrs. Sterling Baker was appointed to talk to Mrs. Gladys de Sylva Bates of San Angelo, and to select a book for review for Thursday night, March 3, at the clubhouse. "The Nile" by Emil Ludwig, is to be given, it has been decided.

A brief summary is taken from a description of the book:

"As we follow the course of the Nile, originating in a primordial land of wild beauty and maturing amidst our ripest civilization, there arise before our eyes, shadows of all the past: an endless train of all the historical figures, the warring tribes, the strange races, that have desperately fought and struggled for existence along its shores.

"The river nurtures and sustains them all—men of the mountains and men of the marsh, Arabs, Christians and cannibals, pygmies and giants. The Nile, 'mighty artery of life to land and people, flows majestically through the ages while humanity grubs and claws on its banks!'"

Attending the meeting last week were:

Mesdames Sterling Baker, Frank Bond, O. G. Babcock, W. R. Cusenbary, Lloyd Earwood, J. L. Nisbet, E. F. Vander Stucken, W. J. Wilkinson, Earl Duncan; Miss Nann Karnes.

ACCEPTANCE OF RESPONSIBILITIES
OBLIGATION OF WOMEN TODAY

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—"Human beings, understanding them and appreciating them," is the favorite hobby of Miss Earlene White of Washington, D. C., president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, who is the leader of the organized business and professional women of the country.

By profession Miss White is a newspaper woman but for a number of years she has been Postmaster of the Capitol Division of the United States Senate. She has had an extensive experience in advertising, news writing and publicity, and has directed a number of campaigns to raise endowment funds for colleges. She has served as business manager of the El Dorado News of El Dorado, Arkansas, and the Biloxi News of Biloxi, Mississippi. She is now conducting a column entitled "Modern Women," for a syndicate serving 6,000 weekly newspapers throughout the country.

As a keen observer of human beings and an analyst of problems affecting women, Miss White recently stated that although women have been voting citizens throughout the country for seventeen years they still have one great lesson to learn and that is the lesson of accepting responsibilities instead of looking for privileges.

Moderation Urged For Women

"Some one said recently that women's chief contribution to our country has been along the line of social welfare legislation. We must be careful not to overdo this, so that we make people supine and unable to help themselves. After all, the economic necessity is often the spark plug to greater achievement. Privileges entail responsibilities, and if women are really to advance they must cease

What Owners Say
Is What Counts!

Here's what MRS. AUBREY KENNEDY, Brownwood, Texas, thinks about her kerosene-operated Servel Electrolux:

"Everything you told me about what my Servel Electrolux would be and do for us has proven true—only you didn't tell half the story. Its operation has been very economical, burning only about a half gallon of kerosene per day during the hottest weather last summer. It keeps food, milk, cream, butter, leftovers, etc., perfectly. It has never failed to give more than an ample supply of ice cubes. I would not part with my Servel Electrolux."

From J. L. BRUMBELOW, El Paso, Texas, comes this statement on her gas-operated Servel Electrolux:

"I have anyone in my family who is in any way benefited by the Servel Electrolux. It will save enough on the ice bill and the foods left over from day to day to pay its way. You can be assured that the foods will be kept wholesome and delicious."

"It provides ice at any time it is needed and it will keep foods for a long period of time without them spoiling. The operating cost is so small that it is hardly noticed on the meter. No home with growing children should be without an Electrolux because of the need of wholesome foods for children."

SERVEL ELECTROLUX
THE Gas REFRIGERATOR
(OR KEROSENE)

THE one piece of home equipment the whole family enjoys is a Servel Electrolux—the Gas or Kerosene refrigerator. It is the only one that more than pays for itself. Ice cream every day, if you like. Delicious ices, frozen salads, frozen desserts of all kinds—yet your Servel Electrolux operates for as little as 2 or 3 cents per day!

And even more important than the pleasure is the safety it provides. Did you know that 70 per cent of all sickness is caused by what you eat or drink? Maybe you can't taste or smell the spoilage—but that doesn't mean it's not there! Can you afford to take chances, when Servel Electrolux protection costs as little as 2 or 3 cents per day?

And while it protects, it saves. Saves leftovers. Lets you buy bargains. Lets you buy in quantity. Servel Electrolux is the different refrigerator—different from all others. Its freezing unit has no moving parts. Nothing to wear. Nothing to make noise.

That's what makes Servel Electrolux an investment—one that more than pays for itself. Or—put it this way: You're paying for a Servel Electrolux now—why not own one? Why not NOW?

Different From All Others—No Other Refrigerator Can Give You All These Advantages...

(1) Any home, anywhere, can enjoy it—runs on gas or kerosene. (2) No moving parts—no wear, no noise, and constant, steady cold—no starting, stopping. (3) Defrosts automatically. (4) Plenty of ice—twice the average family's daily needs. (5) Ice tray grids of stainless steel—a flip of your thumb gets the ice cubes out. (6) One piece seamless shell—a box as good as the freezing unit.

PRESCRIPTION DRUGGIST

By L. L. STEVENSON

New York of another day was recalled by the retirement of George A. Robb, a motorman on the Sixth avenue elevated. Jay Gould was president of the road when he was hired away back in 1885. In those days, the motive power for trains was not electricity but steam engines. Usually anthracite was burned. But when strikes shut off the supply, soft coal was substituted. That made smoke. Housewives of Harlem, which wasn't a colored section then, angry because their washings were soiled, threw bricks at the trainmen. Also in those days, on Sundays, a special car was attached to trains. This was for the benefit of bicyclists who wanted to go to Bronx park or Moshulu for exercise far from the throngs of the city. The wheels, as they were called in the gay nineties, were carried in the special car and Robb says that some of the old racks are still in existence.

Robb spent 52 of his 73 years running up and down Sixth avenue. In all that time, he never was late to work once. In all that time, he did not take so much as one drink—a fact which may have some bearing on his punctuality record. He started as a wiper, became a fireman and then an engineer. When the line was about to be electrified in 1903, he availed himself of the opportunity to learn to operate electric trains, qualified and swapped the throttle for a control handle. His various trips averaged 100 miles a day. Up until 20 years ago, when trainmen went on a six-day week, he made those 100 miles seven days a week. No vacations were granted, but once a year he took a week off on his own time. So despite the fact that his trips were only from the Battery to up into the Bronx, he has covered quite a string of miles.

Now that he has a chance to think back to the time when there were no black signals and when the keenness of the engineer's vision was a bigger safety factor than it is now, Robb is not quite sure what he will do. One thing is certain, however. He won't spend his time riding up and down Sixth avenue and visiting with former fellow workmen. As a matter of fact, should he desire to do so, he wouldn't have the chance for a great while longer. When the Sixth avenue subway, now being dug, is completed, the Sixth avenue elevated will come down.

Just learned why Phil Baker's accordion has a keyboard just the reverse of conventional practice. It seems that back in pre-war days, in Philadelphia, the youthful Baker bought himself a pleated piano with a left-handed keyboard. Having learned to play on that, he is no good with the regular kind. His present instrument, built to his order, cost him $1,200. It is insured for $2,000, part of the indemnity being to cover loss should it be necessary to replace the accordion. There are none like it on the market and to make one, a master craftsman would have to work several weeks.

Before Spencer Bentley went into the show business, he was an assistant purser employed by one of the large steamship lines. The other day he received a call to report for duty as purser on one of the ships of the line. When he quit seafaring, he forgot to have his name removed from the active list.

On Broadway, the other afternoon, I encountered, swinging along with great, strong strides, an officer of the Scottish guard attired in his uniform including kilts, of course, sporran, jaunty feathered cap and long, flowing cape. Completely unmindful of the stares of the curious, including myself, he stopped now and then to peer earnestly into a shop window. And at any moment, I expected the bagpipes to start their skirling.

Subway eavesdropping: "His face was as red as if he'd dropped a couple of crap dice in the collection plate."

American Men Are Buying More Clothes

New York. — Style-conscious Mr. America has increased his clothes budget to almost double the figure it reached even in the boom year of 1929.

A survey of sales figures for the first ten months of 1937 by the Merchant Tailors Designers association, national organization of custom tailors, shows that the average American man of the business executive or professional type patronizing his local tailor, has ordered from one to three more suits in 1937 than he did in 1929, and has spent from three hundred to five hundred dollars more in the process.

MEMBER how crude the old family bus of a decade or so ago seems today? Cost three or four times as much to operate as the present efficient machine. Well, Sir, the same is true of electric refrigerators. They blazed the trail, bringing the greatest domestic improvement of all-time into every other West Texas home by 1937. So now, in 1938, there is no comparison with those pioneer models. Electric refrigeration of today gives absolute food protection with temperatures around 40 to 45 degrees—the only safe temperature. No other form of mechanical refrigeration can offer this guarantee at any price. But Electric Refrigeration gives that guarantee at a cost which drops to less than 3 cents a day!

Dean Taylor Invitation Sent Undergraduates of 1883

Austin, Feb. 23.—Personal invitations from T. U. Taylor, dean emeritus of the College of Engineering, University of Texas, will be sent to men and women who enrolled in the university as its first student body in 1883, urging them to come back to the campus as honor guests for the 1938 Round-up, ex-student homecoming, April 8 and 9. It is estimated that of the 221 students who enrolled that first year, approximately fifty still survive, all of them well in their seventies. The Round-up committee hopes at least fifteen or twenty will respond to the invitation by attending.

Dean Taylor has been placed in charge of entertainment arrangements for the official reunion classes, those graduating in '03's and '08's. He is sending his personal invitation to members of the 50- and 25-year classes, those graduating in 1888 and 1913, and will entertain them at his own home for breakfast Saturday, April 9.

Each year, the Round-up selects some veteran member of the university staff as special honor guest, naming him honorary chairman or foreman. This year, Dr. Henry Winston Harper, dean emeritus of the Graduating School and chemistry professor, has been chosen for this distinction.

Chosen By Unanimous Vote

Friendliness and frankness are the chief characteristics of this leader of business and professional women, and they are qualities which she applies not only to business problems but to social enterprises.

A gifted speaker, able to address 500 or 50,000 persons, she has the art of telling stories in an amusing way. She is the only woman ever unanimously elected president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. She formerly was vice-president of the National Federation, and president of the Mississippi Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. In her earlier days she served as president of three local clubs: the El Dorado, Arkansas, and the Hattiesburg and Gulfport, Mississippi, Clubs.

SIMPLIFIED MOTOR FOR PLANES BUILT

Has One-Fourth the Parts of Ordinary Engine.

Mexico City.—Joe Borneo, retired motorcycle and automobile racer, has just obtained a Mexican patent for a simplified airplane motor.

All details of the new motor are kept secret for fear that somebody in a country where patents are not respected might steal the idea.

"I've had more than 30 years experience as a mechanic," Borneo said, "and I have a Pennsylvania diploma. For the last four years I've put in all my experience and earnings in developing a new type airplane motor. My first experiment was a failure. The second was not so good, and now I have the third, which has been patented."

Borneo was born in Monterrey, Mexico, of American parents. He has lived mostly in the United States, and has raced there, in Cuba and in Mexico. He's now back in Mexico City, interested in pushing his new project.

The motor sounds like a marine motor. Borneo said that it is simplicity itself, listing among its advantages the following:

"It can be manufactured as a Deisel motor, or as an ordinary motor. It has one-fourth of the number of parts of any other motor; with one spark plug it makes four explosions per revolution. It has no gears, no connecting rods, no valves, no crankshaft, and no gasket, and is therefore lighter than an ordinary motor. It has more torque than any other motor built."

"It is speedy, economical in original cost and upkeep. It can be made in series, with several motors right together. A motor can be cut on or off at will from the others in the series."

Borneo believes that eventually somebody will realize the possibilities of the motor, and that it will then be put into use.

Dust Bowl Will Bloom, Says Reclamation Expert

Amarillo, Texas.—Visions of turning America's dust bowl region into a land of milk and honey are seen in a proposed agricultural program involving $160,612,387 in expenditures which has been recommended to authorities in Washington.

W. H. Finnell, director of the soil conservation service, with headquarters in Amarillo, made the recommendation in a detailed survey. He believes that this area can be made one of the greatest agricultural regions in the world.

The survey reveals possible results from an efficient utilization of water resources in the five-state region, which includes the Panhandle plains. It is a long-range program, to realize the fullest possibilities of the natural resources of the one-time dust bowl, Finnell explains.

About 75 per cent of the suggested amount would be devoted to water-retention projects, such as level terraces, contour furrows, stock water ponds and small reservoirs.

Farm Laborers Young
Washington.—Farm laborers are young compared with other occupational groups, according to a recent survey in 11 states by the Department of Agriculture. More than one-third of the farm laborers included in the survey were between the ages of twenty and twenty-nine years old and two-thirds were under forty.
