(By The Associated Press)
SANTA PAULA, Calif., March
14. (P)—The general relief committee in charge of rehabilitation
following the breaking of the St.
Francis dam, today requested
Governor C. C. Young to order 200 National guardsmen to the stricken area.

SANTA PAULA, Calif., March 14.
—Rehabilitation movements sprang up like mushrooms today throughout the section of Southern California laid waste or damaged yesterday by the breaking of the St.
Francis dam.

While searching parties continued
to bring in additional bodies recovered from the silt and slime left in the wake of the flood, making a known death total of 254, steam shovels, wrecking cranes and bridge telescopes and telegraph repair gangs took the field in the first steps to restore the San Francisco Canyon and the Santa Clara River Valley to their former beauty and industry.

Red Cross and county and city organizations kept step with all demands on them for food clothing and medical attention, and police forces, augmented by American legion volunteers, kept the affected territory under strict supervision,
amounting almost to martial law.

Officials of Ventura county,
whose activities are centered here,
estimated that 200 head of cattle of various breeds had been swept by the flood. Accurate damage estimates were impossible, since all competent to judge the situation.

Denver Rail Crew Hits Rapid Stride

Lay Three Miles of Track In One Day; Girders Will Reach Lubbock by April
1, Report.

With rapid strides and at a record pace, the construction crew, laying tracks of the Fort Worth and Denver South Plains railroad extension, are rapidly nearing Lubbock. Rails will reach the city by April 1, it was learned yesterday by officials of the Lubbock chamber of commerce.

Three miles of track, a record
run for the crews, was laid Tuesday.

Rails are now complete to a point
one and one-half miles south of Junction. They will be laid to Lubbock by Saturday and into Lubbock by April 1.

Approximately 25 carloads of materials are used by the track layers each day. As soon as the main line has been laid to Lubbock, construction
crews will return to Junction, capital of Briscoe county, and from Junction into Plainview and on into Castro county to Dimmitt, a western terminus.

REED RETURNS

Says Prospects for Democratic Victory Bright

WASHINGTON, March 14. (P)—
Senator Reed of Missouri returned to Washington today from a 26 day speech-making tour that carried him to the Pacific coast, breathing confidence that the democrats have the makings of a successful presidential campaign.

The issue, he reiterated, is corruption which he contends cannot be dissociated from the management of the republican party. The American public, he believes, is thoroughly aroused and can be depended upon to render its verdict in the November election.

Four Granted Furloughs

AUSTIN, March 14. (P)—Four prisoners were granted furloughs
Wednesday by Governor Moody, and Ole Holloway, convicted in Jackson county of game law violation,
was restored the right to hunt.

Clue to Missing

Mexicans Fled To Nearby Hills

SANTA PAULA, Calif., March
14. (P)—A possible clue to the disappearance of many persons, reported missing in the St. Francis dam disaster, tonight was given partial confirmation by Red Cross agencies in charge of relief work here. They were declared to have been Mexicans who for 24 hours had hidden themselves in the mosquito-infested hills because of fright, and reappeared today.

The clue was based on the widely quoted report that a stream of people early yesterday
issued out of the Santa Clara river valley towns and over the hills to safety in the Ojai valley. The Red Cross workers expressed the opinion these fleeing ones, mostly Mexicans, had fled desperately from what they believed would be death in a tidal wave or other little understood catastrophe.

Indictments Give Promise of Swift Trial for Byrnes

Three Charges Returned by Special Grand Jury; Addition Made by Slayer to Confession.

(By Associated Press)
SAN ANGELO, March 14. —Three indictments charging Floyd Newton
Byrnes with the murder of Mrs. W.
J. Burgess, Myrna Burgess and Mrs. Rose Burgess were returned by a special grand jury here at 7 o'clock tonight. It was understood that Byrnes was to be arraigned Friday morning.

Byrnes, charged with the murder,
added a signed supplement Wednesday to his confession stating he answered a telephone call in the Burgess home on March 4, a little more than 12 hours after the killing,
and told Mrs. L. D. Byrnes that members of the family had gone to church and that he would have Mrs.
Jurgens call when she returned.

Byrnes said he did not know how long he remained in the house with his three dead persons, saying he was drunk. He had spent the morning at a filling station here and during the afternoon he and a friend and two girls went riding.
Byrnes and his friend then spent the night in a filling station, he said.

Byrnes today had received no word from relatives. His mother, Mrs. J. A. Burgess, lives in Birmingham, Alabama. Byrnes was brought to Lubbock Wednesday and very nervous Wednesday.

So many curious persons have called to view him at the jail that officials posted a notice Wednesday that no one could see him.

BANDITS CHARGED

Cisco Robbers Face Bangs
Indictment

BROWNWOOD, March 14. (P)— Four men, two of them already indicted for participation in the robbery of the First National Bank at Cisco and a third facing trial on similar charges, were indicted today Wednesday by the Brown county grand jury for robbery with firearms in the holdup
of the First State Bank of Bangs, November 9. They were Marshall
Ratliff, Henry Helms, Raymond
Helms and Robert Hill.

Henry Helms is under sentence of death. Ratliff is serving a 10-year sentence and faces two murder trials.

HOWELL TO SPEAK

Poultry Association Will Meet Saturday

L. D. Howell, professor of agricultural economics at Texas Tech will speak to the gathering of the Lubbock County Poultry association
here next Saturday afternoon.

The meeting will be held at the court house at 3 p. m. Professor Howell will speak on "The Economics of Co-operative Marketing."

Reports of committees will be made, among them the report of the committee for the organization of the marketing division, headed by Mrs. F. P. Revere.

Confessed Slayer of Three

Here is Newton
Byrnes, 24, who has confessed to the slaying of two women and a girl at San Angeles.

Lubbock Man Was Robbed And Kidnaped But Is Now Safe, Family Is Notified

The mantle of mystery which had enveloped the disappearance of T.
H. Pence, local man, was torn aside last night when Mr. Pence telephoned his family from Lamesa that he had been hi-jacked and temporarily kidnaped but that he was now safe and was enroute to Lubbock. He will arrive here this morning.

Mr. Pence's assistant waylaid him on the highway near Amherst Tuesday night and at the point of a gun took several hundred dollars in cash from him, then forcing him to drive to Midland. There, according to the meager details obtained in the telephone conversation, the hi-jacker left.

Mr. Pence did not give in details. He said he would amplify his story today, members of the family told the Avalanche last night.

Four was first told for Mr. Pence who periodically travels between Lubbock and Amherst, selling groceries and candy to merchants along the line, when a telephone call was received at the Pence home, 2103
Fifteenth street early yesterday morning. The call was from Midland and only bits of the conversation, which told of the hi-jacking,
could be heard.

Nothing further was heard from Mr. Pence until about 9 o'clock last night when the call came from Lamesa. Meanwhile, the family, frustrated by the lack of news, had been calling the aid of both local officers and those at Midland
in an effort to clear up the mystery of his whereabouts.

According to a son, Dick Pence,
his father had probably $500 or $400 with him. The amount taken by the hi-jacker was not divulged in the conversation last night.

SANDINO THREATENS

Writes Senate to Call Away
Marines

WASHINGTON, March 14. (P)—
An implied threat against the safety of any north American official resident in Nicaragua territory unless American marines are withdrawn immediately from that country is contained in a message sent to the Senate by Augusto Sandino, the Nicaraguan leader.

The message, along with a letter from Sandino to Rear Admiral Sellers, commander of the special service squadron in that territory,
proposing supervision of the Nicaraguan section by Latin-American representatives instead of by American marines was made public here
today.

TREES FOR PLAINS

Appropriation From Congress Urged

WASHINGTON, March 14. (P)—
The Garber bill to authorize $25,000 for experimental work in the growing of trees in the southern great plains area passed today by the House and sent to the Senate. The section in which the experimental work would be undertaken includes South Colorado, Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas.

Lubbock Term Of Federal Court To Be Asked In Bill

Addition of This City As Division of U. S. District Court Favored by Judges
At Dallas.

GROWTH OF CITY IS REASON OF APPROVAL

North Texas District Now
Has Courts at Six Cities;
To Take Counties from Other Courts.

DALLAS, March 14.—Creation of a new division in the North Texas United States district is to be asked in a bill which probably will be introduced at the present term of congress and which would provide a term of court to be held at Lubbock. It was learned here Wednesday.

Postmaster John W. Vaughan and a committee of seven other Lubbock citizens were in Dallas to ask the sanction of Judge William H. Atwell of the North Texas district and Edward R. Meek, senior judge.

In the event recommendations are asked by the authorities in Washington, Judge Meek will approve the naming of the new district to be made up of counties removed from other courts, he said.

Six divisions are now included in the North Texas district court terms
being held in Dallas, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Amarillo, Abilene and San Angelo.

Although he opposes the movement when a previous effort to obtain the new court, Judge Meek said he now favored it on account of the increased population of Lubbock.

DRYS OPTIMISTIC

Gathering From All Parts
For Dallas Confab

DALLAS, March 14. (P)—Predications were freely made Wednesday at headquarters of the committee on arrangements for the statewide conference of dry democrats
here Thursday will produce a Texas dry democratic organization which will be influential in swinging the national convention at Houston to a dry candidate. A fighting army with this end in view is a certainty, declared Secretary George C. Paul.

A. A. King, Throckmorton county legislator, headed a delegation which he said is primed for a hot scrap that will send a Texas delegation to Houston instructed against all candidates for the nomination
who are wet.

YOUTH INJURED

Willie Edwards Suffers Cut
In Accident.

Willie Edwards, assistant pres-
man for the Lubbock Daily Journal suffered a laceration above the right knee and bruises about the right arm when the Chevrolet coach driven by John Brock overturned about six miles out on the Idalou road last night at about 9:30 o'clock.

Brock and four other youths in the car were shaken up, but not injured.

Fliers Further Delayed

GALVESTON, March 14. (P)—Delayed here thirty-six hours on their flight to the canal zone, first by motor trouble and today by fog
along the coast, Assistant Secretary of War F. Truett Davidson and Maj.
General James E. Fehert hope to leave at dawn tomorrow for Panama.

Income Tax Payments Come Easier In Assurance of Reduction for Future

American Taxpayers Must Dig Down Into Their Jeans
For Uncle Sam's Annual Dues Today—But Basis
Of Payment Will Gauge Reduction In Taxes

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 14.—American taxpayers dug into their purses again today to meet tomorrow their annual dues to Uncle Sam—but with reassuring knowledge that on the basis of their income tax payments this year a permanent reduction in rates may be possible in years to come.

Awaiting the return from the first instalment of income taxes which must be paid up by tomorrow, the senate finance committee is suspending judgment on what level to insert in the tax reduction measure it received some time ago from the house.

Gauge on Conditions
The return of tomorrow will give the first real gauge on the financial condition of the country during the last year and if there is any appreciable drop in the nation's income it will cloud the prospect of a measurable reduction at this session.

There is no indication of such a trend, however, on the basis of preliminary returns, although an official survey conducted by the government recently was declared by Senator Smoot, chairman of the finance committee, to indicate a falling off of 9 to 10 per cent in income last year.

Slight Increase
Income tax returns made during this month up to the twelfth totaled $24,923,231 as compared with $21, 112,110, made during the same period last year.

"Miser" Tortured Robbers Brand Old Man; After Hoard

HUNTINGTON, Tenn., March 14. (P)—Robbers, using medieval methods of torture, last night applied hot irons to the bare flesh of William Woodward, aged retired and reputed miser, and his 81-year-old invalid sister in a vain effort to force them to reveal the hiding place of their life savings,
they told police today.

After their victims had withstood the torture for three hours and Woodward had lost consciousness from the pain, the intruders, numbering three and described as unmasked white men, wrecked their little farm home 18 miles from here in a ransacking search that netted them $700 found hidden in an old trunk.

Community legend had given Woodward a reputation for possessing a hoard of gold estimated at from $5,000 to $10,000.

Two suspects taken into custody
were not identified by Woodward.

Two Dead, Result Of Gun Battle In Prohibition Raid

Investigator, Smiling to The Last, Dies of Wounds; Farmer Is Killed and His Daughter Hit by Bullets.

(By The Associated Press)
HOUSTON, March 14.—Smiling
courageously to the last, Carl Green, 33, investigator in the district attorney's office, wounded in a gun battle at Sam Magallito's farm near here Wednesday forenoon, died at a hospital in the afternoon.

Sam Magallito, Italian farmer, father of 12 children, was killed in the battle at the farmhouse in which nine shots were fired, and his daughter, Beadie, 22, was wounded in the right leg and arm by glancing bullets.

The pistol battle took place when Beverly, went to the farm to serve a liquor search warrant. Magallito met the officers at the gate with a smile and invited them in after the search warrant had been read.
Magallito entered the house at Greene and Beverly started for the barn.

Cautioned by Beverly to "watch him," Greene went into the house.

NO BOLL WORMS

Several Weeks' Search Here
Fruitless

Several weeks of investigating have failed to reveal any pink boll worms in Lubbock county, according to information last night by federal research agents who have been working in all parts of the county.

Lack of federal appropriation has forced a curtailment of activity for a while, but there yet remain eight research men working in the county.

JURY DISCHARGED

No Cases Tried In 99th
Court Yesterday

No cases were tried in the criminal session of the 99th district court yesterday and Judge Clark Mulliken has discharged the jury
for the remainder of the week.

District Attorney Durwood Bradley will be busy with the sessions of the grand jury which will reopen
today.

MEXICANS EXECUTED

Priest and Five Civilians
Shot to Death

MEXICO CITY, March 14. (P)—
Military authorities at San Luis Potosi announced tonight that Don-ciano Villarreal, a Roman Catholic priest, and five civilians were executed at El Saucito cemetery Monday after having been found guilty
by a courtmartial of seditious activities.

The courtmartial was of the summary type. It lasted several hours and at its conclusion the prisoners were placed in automobiles and driven direct to the cemetery. There the chief of the military garrison and other authorities were already in waiting as witnesses of the execution.

AMARILLO TRIAL

Pair Held In Slaying Are Arraigned

AMARILLO, March 14. (P)— Nicholas Trotter and Elmer Rul-ley, brought here from the Federal prison at Leavenworth, Kansas, went on trial Wednesday for the slaying of Len J. Laley, Amarillo druggist, last September 18. Selection of a jury was in progress on Wednesday afternoon.

Reports of Fliers Come From Many Points But Pessimism Takes Grip As Hinchliffe Plane Long Overdue

Philadelphia, Believed To Be Destination, Fears Res-ports Groundless; Boston Reported Plane.

Secrecy Ended

Philadelphia Was Goal;
50 Hour Gas Supply

LONDON, March 14. (P)—Capt.
Walter G. R. Hinchliffe and the Hon. Elsie Mackay are the sole occupants of the Stinson-Detroit plane Endeavour, which started a trans-Atlantic flight Tuesday morning and at midnight tonight was becoming one of the tragic mysteries of the North Atlantic.

This became known definitely when Maj. Gordon Sinclair, close friend of Hinchliffe and whose whereabouts since the flight started have been a mystery, appeared at Purley, the suburban home of the British war ace. He said that Miss Mackay was the only passenger on the plane.

Mrs. Hinchliffe, dry-eyed, but maintaining her fortitude with difficulty, welcomed Maj. Sinclair and his wife as companions of her vigil.
Throughout the day and evening
she scarcely stirred from the telephone over which she momentarily

Stinson Is Pessimistic

DETROIT, Mich., March 14. (P)— Edward A. Stinson, president of the Stinson Aircraft corporation and manufacturer of the airplane in which Capt. Walter Hinchliffe yesterday took off from England on a supposed trans-Atlantic flight, was pessimistic tonight
regarding the safety of the flier.

George Haldeman, who piloted a Stinson monoplane in an unsuccessful eastward flight over the Atlantic, expressed the "hope" that the pilot would accomplish his aim.
"I am looking forward to hearing of his landing at any moment," he said. "I not only hope that he will get to land safely but I feel that he will."

Newfoundland On Alert

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., March 14. (P)—
As darkness fell over New Foundland tonight nothing had been seen of Capt. Walter Hinchliffe, British airman, attempting the east to west
trans-Atlantic crossing.

Should the flier reach New Foundland tonight he would have difficulty in locating the Harbor Grace landing field, which is not lighted. It was believed here he would be compelled to land in the vicinity of St. John's, identifying the city by its lights.

Rumor Stirs England

LONDON, March 14. (P)—England surged with hope this evening for Captain Walter Hinchliffe and the Hon. Elsie Mackay, when a report was received that the drone of the airplane, which might have been the "Endeavour," had been heard off
New Foundland.

When this information was telegraphed to Mrs. Hinchliffe in her little home at Purley, the quietly
but with evident effort to control her anxiety, said: "Well, as that is only a report, I will not pay much attention to it until it is verified."

$436,310 IN BUILDING

Another Step Toward Goal
Taken

Another step toward a half million dollars of building in Lubbock
during the first quarter was made yesterday when permits issued from the city office brought the year
total thus far to $436,310.

J. P. Rice is contractor for a $5,000 residence being built by W.
H. Atkins on block 2, lot 15 of Webb addition.

A. B. Clanger will remodel and add to rooms to a residence owned by Lonnie Saunders, and O. W.
Moore was granted permit to move and add to a garage.

DUNCAN BACK

Superintendent To Tell Of
His Tour

M. H. Duncan, superintendent of city schools, who recently made an inspection tour of the St. Louis city schools, is to tell of his trip this evening at 8 o'clock in the East study hall of the high school. Patrons of the institution and other persons who are interested are to attend this lecture. It was announced yesterday.

ATLANTIC CITY MADE REPORT OF "MOTOR"

Few Retain Optimism for Success of Venture; Fear
Plucky Captain and Girl
Lost In Sea.

(By The Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, March 14. (P)— As midnight passed without definite word from Captain Hinchliffe and Hon. Elsie Mac-Kay, belief was expressed at the Philadelphia airport, the goal of the British fliers, that the airplane reported heard over New England cities and later at Atlantic City, N. J., was not the Endeavour.

The report from Atlantic City gave the time a plane was believed to have been heard in that vicinity as 11:20 p. m. By airline from there to Philadelphia is about 50 miles and the plane, if Hinchliffe's machine, should have reached here before midnight.

Tendency to Discount Newfoundland Rumors

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., March 14. (P)—
Again the matter of airplane engines has caused rumor to run ran-tant in the wake of an overdue airplane.

After each of the disasters of last summer persons were found who told of hearing planes pass in the night which might have been the missing ships. Search parties were organized to run down these clues
but in each instance they led to nothing.

Again today, the monoplane Endeavour, long overdue from England,
reports which seemed authentic began to circulate. Various persons told of hearing a plane over Briggs and Evans Cove last night and investigation established that the plane operating with the sailing fleet, only plane known to be in

Technicality Of Law Halts Trial

Pair Indicted For Burglary
Must Wait Until April
Term for Hearing Due To Tardy Serving of Charge

A legal technicality delayed the trial here yesterday of J. L. Dale and Bill Coan, arrested in Lamesa
while in the act of robbing a store,
and indicted here for burglary of the Lubbock laundry.

Judge Clark Mulliken explained
last night that the law requires that two days elapse from the time of the serving of the indictment until the date of trial. This is in order to allow the defendant to retain legal counsel, file briefs, and take whatever steps necessary for the defense.

The indictments against Dale and Coan were returned March 7, but

Class Silver Tea Is Well Attended; Will Meet Pledge

Methodist Builders Class Entertains In Paul Horn Home Yesterday Afternoon; Is Annual Event.

Approximately two hundred women called at the Paul W. Horn home yesterday afternoon between 3 and 6 o'clock when the First Methodist Builders class, of which Mrs. Horn is teacher, entertained there with a silver tea.

This was an annual entertainment of the class and money made in to assist in meeting the class's pledge to the church building fund. A program of music and readings that had been prepared by Mrs. E. E. White, was given during the afternoon. Spiced tea, sandwiches and mints were dispensed from a table during the tea hours.

Serving at the table were Mesdames R. R. Foy and W. H. Meador, H. T. Kimbro and Walter P. Jennings, Miss Ruth Horn and Mrs. R. D. Erwin, Miss Flora McGee and Mrs. Eric Stuedeman. They were assisted by members of the class in the dining room, other class members, including the class officers, receiving callers.

In the house party were Mesdames H. B. Hawkins, William J. Miller, Vernon Brown, K. L. Riggs, R. T. Campbell, Herbert Maxwell, Edgar Shelton, Allen T. Stewart, I. C. Knocha, Webb Duval, C. H. Smith, S. P. Wilson, M. K. Foster, Tom J. Foster, R. S. Williams, Marvin McLarty, Rufus Rush, E. F. Alford and K. A. Payne. These were assisted by Elizabeth Louise White, Rita Louise Hawkins and George Rufus Rush.

Enjoyable program numbers included violin, vocal and piano solos by Miss Beulah Dunn, Miss Dorothy McDonald, James O. Allen, Mrs. J. Beck, Miss Majorie Mitchell and Miss J. T. Shaver. The college trio, consisting of Misses Helen Robertson, Frances Garland and Mae Foster favored with musical numbers and Miss Virginia Smallwood and Miss Eunice Cox appeared in delightful readings.

Saint Patrick favors were presented each guest.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Stevens will entertain the Town and Gown club in the evening at 1400 Avenue O.

What Spring Will Bring In Evening Gowns

By HENRI BENDEL For NEA Service

NEW YORK, March 12.—The lines of new spring evening gowns are as fresh and fluttering as the season's breezes.

The solidity and regularity of the straight line silhouette seems a very dead thing right now. All the new fashions break the straight lines to bits. If I were asked to name the most interesting point of new evening styles, I think I should say the killing of the straight line continuity.

Winter Paved the Way. Winter deserves honorable mention in this matter. For the ponds and haws and bustles tastefully prepared the way for the present tendency to diagonal lines, slanting tiers and hemlines that just cannot seem to accept the even tenor as their mode of life.

Spring materials are particularly dainty for evening wear. Flowered freshness comes to us in printed satins and chiffons. The swish and sheen of moire adds a sophisticated quality to any party. And taffetas come in luscious shades—all of them soft like the off-whites, the honey beiges, the moonlight greens and so on.

Three Divergent Interpretations. I show today three divergent interpretations of just how fashion has the upper hand in this matter of breaking up the straight lines, once and for all.

First is a frock as daintily fresh and graceful an embodiment of the season as spring flowers themselves. On an ivory background, roses in soft pink tints gleam among delicate traceries of green leaves.

A new note in slanting effects is achieved here by having the downward line of the irregular neckline, the belt, the skirt yoke and the skirt's flounce converge on the left hip. Novel, different and charming is the effect.

"Bye, bye straight silhouette," say spring evening gowns, of which these three are chiefly typical; (left) rose and green traceries on ivory chiffon, (center) periwinkle moire, the neckline and bodice caught with platinum-set turquoise ornaments, and (right) dignified, rich, black velvet with swallow-tail hemline.

The flounce is circular and of generous fullness, with dipping, pointing ends on the opposite side. The bindings are of the deepest shade of rose. Crisp as the spirit of spring is the moire of periwinkle blue. This gown has two noteworthy effects in its lines—the off-the-shoulder suggestion of its curved neckline and the fluttering tendency of its pointed panels.

These Be-gemmed Gowns. Two very lovely costume jewelry pins ornament this blue frock-square turquoise set in platinum, in modern design. One of the twin pins catches the bodice at the point of the V and eases a little fullness into the neckline. The other fastens the girdle. The be-gemmed gown really has the edge on the others now.

I must mention, too, the suggestion of a blouse this bodice has. This might be taken to forecast a day—not too far distant—when the fullness of frocks may come above study.

the waistline, with slender hip effects—quite a different effect from today's modes.

The third establishes all over again the chic of black for evening—especially when it is velvet, delicate, transparent velvet.

Black Velvet's Elegance. I have remarked before but would like to emphasize the insistence of evening modes on a more elegant formality. Black velvet has this intrinsically. And when the lines have flowing grace it is doubled.

Here I have applied the shirred flounce to get the swallow-tail hemline. And for diversity, this hem is curved and notched to show the apple green satin lining. The neckline and sleeves arm holes are likewise bound with green which shows over and under as Milady moves, giving a fresh note to the gown.

Officers Elected When Class Meets

Pleasant Social Meeting Of Althean Class Yesterday In E. W. Provence Home; Is New Class.

Some new officers were elected reports were heard on class work and a social hour was enjoyed yesterday afternoon when Althean class members, of the First Baptist church, were entertained in the home of the teacher, Mrs. E. W. Provence.

Other hostesses were Mesdames G. A. Gunn, C. G. Eall, R. L. Goad, H. T. Davis, Webb Cammack and Sid Clark.

Mrs. J. E. Griggs was elected assistant teacher, Mrs. Sam Denman was elected treasurer and Mrs. J. G. Biddle was named assistant secretary. Two new group captains were appointed. They were Mrs. J. B. Brown and Mrs. E. R. Swain. Mr. W. H. "Doc" Presard in the absence of the president, Mrs. Geo. Duval.

The class has been organized about six weeks and a report made yesterday showed that the membership has doubled during that time. There were thirty present and the following visitors: Mrs. O. W. Cowden of Abilene; Mrs. E. Stuedeman, T. E. L. class teacher; Mrs. J. E. Hamilton, superintendent of the Panhandle S. S. adult department; Mrs. F. B. Malone and Mrs. S. A. Henry, associate members.

Several contests were participated in and the hostesses served an ice course, favors being shamrocks.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Wright and Frances Baker went to Plainview yesterday and Mrs. Wright remained for a visit.

When Every Grocery Store Is Closed

You don't have to leave out of your kitchen to make a wonderful dinner or salad—if you have a package of Knox Sparkling Gelatine on your pantry shelf. Take down a can of fruit or vegetable—combine them with Knox Gelatine—and you have a dessert or salad that will tempt the most fastidious. Keep this recipe handy:

COFFEE JELLY
Take a can of instant coffee, remove and discard in it one tablespoonful Knox Sparkling Gelatine. Combine fruit and Knox Sparkling Gelatine. Add the juice of a lemon and a small amount of sugar. This is served by ladling into the refrigerator jelly the white of one egg, and a small dollop of Calumet Baking Soda in the fruit.

Other recipes in every package.

—THE— WOMAN'S DAY By Allene Sumner

Only 2 per cent of nearly 1000 women asked by a recent questionnaire why they never married, gave "desire for a career" as an answer. The main reason given was "never met the right man," which is rather ambiguous, as it might mean either that they were never asked for help or that they were asked and didn't care to give a yes.

I have always suspected that the impression that "a career" kept many women from marriage was a mistaken one. I never met "a careerist" who didn't topple like the rest when she met the right man.

OLD AND NEW
Different standards of living are why so much havoc results when an old and young generation try to live together. It's the real reason, rather than jealousy of son or daughter's affections, why daughters-in-law can't live with mothers-in-law. Daughter-in-law wants latest American furniture, books, rugs, gay pottery, many lamps, books and chintzes, a la the interior decorating mode of 1928. Mother, who spent her girlhood in a log cabin and finds her present surroundings most elegant, her linoleum rug and her velvet overstuffed furniture aren't "good enough for anybody."

Mrs. C. W. Cowden, of Abilene, is visiting in the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. H. Spaulding.

COMPLETE STUDY Mrs. C. L. Fowler Leader In All-Day Meeting

A mission study book, "New Challenge of Home Missions," was completed Tuesday when Circle 2 of the First Baptist W. M. S. met in the home of Mrs. J. R. Barrier, 1614 Avenue K, for an all-day meeting. Mrs. C. L. Fowler conducted the study and examination on the book. Lunch was served at noon.

Beauty! How and Why

WATCH YOUR WEIGHT
The first beauty that the eye recognizes is beauty of proportion. That is why we are offended by too much fat.

If we should become fat very suddenly, over night for instance, what a shock that would be to us as well as to our friends—and what desperate means we should take to free ourselves from much ugliness. But fat accumulation is an insidious and gradual process, so gradual that we do not realize how far we have departed from our original proportions until some chance comment reaches our ears.

Many body defects may be corrected by artistic arrangement of clothes, hair and dress accessories, but fat is something that forces itself on one's attention. If we wish to return to a normal figure, strict measures for correction must be taken at once. A great deal may be done by wearing frocks whose lines and broken-in expanses are antithetical for force bulk. And we should take advantage of all such relief measures, but at the same time, we should pin our faith to diet and exercise for permanent results.

NEXT: Weight reduction.

A WISE MAN: A wise man will hear, and will increase learning; and a man of understanding shall attain unto wise counsels.—Prov. 1:5
PRAYER: Teach me Thy way, O Lord, and lead me in a plain path.

THE FAITHFUL WIFE

In these days when we read so many stories that are so common in the newspapers of this day and time of the many divorces and broken homes and discontent among the wives and husbands of this land, it causes us to reflect and wonder just what it is all about anyway. How such things can be and how it can all happen that way. We cannot imagine how that people who have bound themselves together as husband and wife so soon become displeased and dissatisfied with each other, to the point of wanting to become separated by legal proceedings, tearing up the family ties, and breaking asunder the bonds of matrimony. The sadder it seems the old couple that have lived together for many years, and then break asunder the marital relations after having reared a large family and they have become heads of families too.

Self-effacement is a fundamental tenet in the religion of Jesus. He enjoined it again and again in His discourses and exemplified it in His ministry. He taught and healed the poor and lowly, far removed from the great cities and all unknown to fame. He went to Jerusalem only to die when He realized that His work was about finished. The martyrs, saints and other holy men of the succeeding centuries fully appreciated the weight of the Master's teaching and example on so vital a truth—a doctrine affecting one's attitude toward the world and the ordering of one's whole life. But this modern age has gone far afield in that respect. The truly devout and shrinking, as a rule, command little regard and less reverence today. Modesty, humility, self-abnegation, self-sacrifice, are all but erased from the average "practical" man's code. He is nothing if not self-seeking; he does not believe in hiding his light under a bushel. He is firmly convinced of the merit of letting the world know about his virtues and his talents; accordingly he neglects no opportunity to put himself forward. In the parlance, he acts on the theory that self-depreciation will not get him anything. That would be merely to follow an "inferiority complex," which the psychologist tells him is a handicap alike to self-expression and to success. Yet even in this materialistic epoch there are lives fashioned after the tenets of the Master, and they are far from being a failure, judged by any true standard. Not long ago H. G. Wells eulogized, at its close a career:

"She was the maker of a free and hospitable home; the best and sweetest of her is known only to one or two of us." The great novelist was speaking of the wife of his wife, and he added: "Some lives stand out on headlands and are beacons for all mankind; but some, more lovely and more precious, come only by chance gleams of reflection to the knowledge of the outer world."

That was the tribute of a man who has ascended far up the peak of literary fame, who has been much in the glare of publicity and has made a great furor as a social crusader and critic, to his helpmeet whose lot was, by contrast, obscure. At the same time it was praise for thousands of good women whose self-sacrificing devotion even today is reflected in other people's successes. History is replete with such examples. The books of biography—a current literary craze—tell the same inspiring story over and over. There is hardly a great man of letters, hardly an eminent statesman, but owes most that he has accomplished to a self-effacing wife. Only a few weeks since, the obituary of Thomas Hardy brought such a touching tale to light. Surely, here was an appreciative man; the glory of obscurity was his constant theme in both prose and verse. Never was the lowly life treated more sympathetically or with profounder understanding. Wordsworth's Lucy and his solitary reaper are types of a pure, sweet and humble existence spent along the byways, but its influence is spread afar. Much more than they realize such persons mold the lives and characters of those about them and the world at large.

They exert in the sum total a great moral, a powerful social force.
Here is another "choir invisible"—living out of the spotlight and therefore unseen of the multitude—"whose music is the gladness of the world." Men, as well as women, belong to this noble company, the best of its times. Is it really worth while, even in this self-seeking age, to live and walk like that—simply and humbly, pursuing and asking neither fame nor riches? Considering that folk who follow this path deliberately, of their own volition, find therein a strange happiness not of earth, we may conclude that it is. True merit will not remain hid always, nor will it be forever deprived of its reward.

THE FARM RELIEF BILL THAT WILL PASS

On motion of Representative Buchanan of Texas the House has raised the appropriation for county agricultural agent service. The increase, amounting to a bit more than a quarter of a million dollars, is stated to be necessary in order to afford this type of aid to all counties in the country. In principle at least, this step should be supported in the Senate, as it doubtless will be. This is the really practical farm relief bill now before Congress. It is the farm relief bill that will pass. Most of the other farm aid measures are either inconsequential or else downright buncombe. The county agent is a person to be reckoned with when you go to talking about farm progress in this country. When the post is filled with the kind of man who knows both his subject and his people, it is a place of the highest usefulness and prestige. The county agent teaches good farming by good farming. He talks some, of course, but he does more. It is the doing that convinces the farmer. It is the doing that accomplishes the good work of better farming. The county agent is a factor in community life. He is first in organizing community fairs. He is interested in what is going on at the country schoolhouses and country churches. He has to be a volunteer veterinarian in neighborhoods where the services of a regular are not to be had. He is a sort of frontiersman for science in detecting inroads of insects and the appearance of epidemics in poultry, livestock and even the wild life of the open country. He is of use in a thousand ways that nobody notes publicly. And all that he learns is at the disposal of his people. The town profits from his work immensely. In the first place, prosperity on the farm assures prosperity in most towns. In the second place, as a sort of liaison man the county agent keeps the farm in touch with the town and the town in touch with the farm. Bankers are interested in better sires for farm stock. Farmers are interested in better food and feed supplies for their own establishments, so that they become more substantial and more reliable customers of the town. The county agent is ambassador of a tomorrow better than today, of a next year better than this, of a posterity wiser than its fathers. He is no high and mighty functionary. But he is not infrequently the most valuable factor in the group of which he makes himself a part. He is helping valiantly to make Texas. He is helping manfully to make America. He deserves a good word and a good name.

VIRGINIA'S NEW ANTI-LYNCHING LAW SETS AN EXAMPLE

Nation-wide praise and congratulations are due the Hon. Henry F. Byrd, Governor of Virginia, for having signed the first anti-lynching law to be enacted by a Southern legislature.
This act will become a model for other lawmaking bodies, state and national—as was the famous Virginia statute for religious freedom, written by Thomas Jefferson and passed in 1786, two years before the national constitution was adopted. The two laws are essentially akin; each is designed to safeguard fundamental and inalienable rights.
Governor Byrd proposed this measure in his message last January 17. He brought the legislators to vindicate the Old Dominion's good name, which lately had been besmirched by a lynch-murder in a border county.

However, Virginia never was plagued by epidemics of these atrocities as have been Texas, Florida, Georgia and Mississippi, for examples. Mob outbreaks have been comparatively infrequent there in recent years.

The governor's appeal to state pride was effective—both houses passed the bill practically in the form he had recommended, by overwhelming majorities. Sharp objections on the ground that "local self-government" would be undermined—such as were heard in the congressional remarks on the Dyer bill, after which this legislation partially was modeled—were to have been expected, but evidently did not come to pass.

The new statute specifically defines lynching as murder—to be prosecuted by the attorney general—and imposes $2500 fine on the county in which the crime was committed, for the benefit of the victim's heirs.
Application of this law will be watched with deep interest. Should it prove effective as a deterrent, other states—including Texas, where similar legislation, the Dayton and Kittrell bills, vainly was attempted in 1919—may be moved to follow Virginia's example.

Indictment and arrest of lynchers are unusual, and their conviction and imprisonment even more rare. The record set by a Coffee county (Georgia) court in November, 1926, when 12 mob participants received prison sentences ranging from four to 20 years, stands almost alone in recent times.

Several weeks of survey will be necessary to fix the total loss.

Los Angeles Blamed

Morgues scattered throughout the stricken area were focal points for lines of survivors seeking to identify their dead in the long rows of refrigerated bodies. Citizens of Santa Paula, one of the communities that suffered heavily, met today to discuss the responsibility and rehabilitation. Through the voice of their chairman and others they laid the blame at the door of the city of Los Angeles, which owned the demolished dam.

C. C. Teague, resident of Santa Paula and president of the California Fruit Growers exchange, was chosen chairman of the rehabilitation conference, which met at the call of Mayor M. L. Steckel.

Old Fight Revived

Teague headed the fight waged against building the St. Francis dam for the residents of the Santa Clara River valley, the latter charging that Los Angeles, by means of the dam, was usurping the water rights of the valley by diverting the flow of the Santa Clara river.

Legal suits to test the disputed points are still in the courts.

Dr. D. W. Mott, former state senator from Santa Paula, declared that one of the first duties was to fix responsibility for the disaster. He said that Governor C. C. Young had asked him to express an opinion on the question of responsibility.

Mott's reply to the governor, as he gave it to the meeting today, was:

"The responsibility is that of a selfish city that took the water belonging to us."

Mott quoted the governor as saying that the events of yesterday proved by the way the water flowed out of San Francisco canyon that it was "confluent to the Santa Clara Valley." He reported to the meeting that Governor Young had promised a full investigation into the Santa Clara water rights.

"Took Millions Away"

The speaker's closing declaration to the meeting was:

"We want Los Angeles to know that it has taken millions from us."

Chairman Teague, following Dr. Mott, asserted that "the responsibility of the city of Los Angeles to our community must be determined."

"There must be an early and just appraisal of the damage done to individuals."

"The city of Los Angeles will try to minimize the damage and to prove that we are not entitled to anything. We probably will have to appeal to the courts."

Teague said that probably 200 homes had been damaged in this vicinity and if the damage to each averaged only $1,000, this phase of the loss in Santa Paula would total $200,000.

Touch City First

A committee chairman interrupted to say that he had received upwards of 50 offers of financial aid from individuals through Southern California which he had tentatively declined. The committee asked for instruction regarding similar offers in the future and chairman Teague replied:

"The great city of Los Angeles which caused the damage should be approached first of all for funds for rehabilitation."

Few More Bodies Are Recovered by Workers

SANTA PAULA, Cal., March 14. (AP)—A thousand men tramped the sand-laden stretches of the Santa Clara river valley today and recovered but a few more bodies to add to the known toll of the St. Francis dam disaster.

"We have done all we can," scratched the surface with pick and shovel," one of the officers directing the search said late today. He expressed the belief there was little hope of easily finding the bodies of some 300 men, women and children still reported missing.

Surviving relatives and friends of the dead and absent, who crowded about the doorways of morgues, voiced a common thought—that they were giving up hope. They surveyed the muddy wastes of all which buried their home lands and probably their loved ones, under one to 30 feet of barren yellow sand. The haggard faced and weary searchers declared that probably for many it was the final burial place.

The list of recovered dead tonight still stood a little under 200. The day's search of the mud-covered, piled debris had brought in but two bodies at Fillmore and four at Newhall. One or two others were unofficially reported recovered in other areas.

Whether the dam will be rebuilt, officials of the Los Angeles Water and Power bureau declined to state. They declared no decision could be reached until after the pending official investigation.

They did announce, however, speaking through R. F. Del Valle, president of the water and power board, that the breaking of the dam would not cause any shortage of water in the city.

Income Tax

last year. A slight reduction, however, is shown in the total payments during this fiscal year, from last June 30 to March 12. Payments so far this year total $43,439,497 as compared with $1,164,547,309 during the same period a year ago.

The treasury ended the last fiscal year with a surplus of more than $600,000,000 and there is little difference so far this year in the returns, but tomorrow's contributions will tell the real tale.

Chairman Snoot has announced that several days will be required for a study of the returns to determine their full meaning, and he does not expect to assemble the senate finance committee to take up the tax bill again until March 25 at least.

Technicality

colled to Gainesville by the death of his father, and the indictments were tossed on the sheriff's desk and forgotten until Tuesday when they were served.

Friday is therefore the first day that the two men can be tried, and on that date Judge Mullican will be in Florida in an exchange of courts. This week will end his criminal court for this term, and unless the case is transferred to the 72nd judicial district court, the men will not be tried until April. Meanwhile, the two men must remain in jail, having failed to make bond.

Court was ready yesterday and the men were ready to go on trial when the technicality was pointed out.

JOSHUA. (AP)—O. C. Riddle of Joshua believes he holds a record for watch repair work. In 29 years he has repaired 59,037 watches, he said.

after Magallito and saw him standing in the back doorway pointing his pistol at Beverly's back, according to the story told by Greene at the hospital as he was being placed on the operating table.

"Don't do that. Drop it," Greene shouted.

Magallito whirled and fired at Greene, who returned the fire, shooting five times.

Beverly, who heard Greene shout to the Italian, and the shots, ran to the kitchen.

Was On Knees

Magallito was on his knees, gun in hand, and Carl was staggering from the room. I fired three times at the Italian and he fell over dead," Beverly said.

Beverly hailed a passing automobile and brought Greene to Houston.

Mrs. Magallito said her husband had been making whiskey for about a week. The reason he made it, she said, was to get money to feed his hungry family.

A quantity of liquor and a still were found on the place.

that vicinity, was not operating over Brigus or Broad Cove.

However, undue reliance was not placed in these reports as indicating that Endeavour had passed that way, because other reports told of planes heard in other places at conflicting times.

The general belief was that none of the reports would help to clear up the mystery of the Endeavour's whereabouts, but each one was carefully investigated on the chance that it might prove valuable.

False Report Plane Heard Near Halifax

HALIFAX, N. S., March 14. (AP)—(Canadian Press)—This entire section was on the alert throughout the day and until late tonight with diminishing hope that Captain Walter Hinchliffe's plane, long overdue from England, would "report."

The anxiety led to numerous false rumors of airplane motors having been heard overhead at various points. One such example came in a long distance call from Mount Uniacke. Investigation there proved that the sound really had been made by a distant motor truck.

Atlantic City Hears Plane Overhead

ATLANTIC CITY, March 14. (AP)—A large plane was reported heard flying over Northfield, near here, toward Philadelphia, at 11:20 p. m.

E. N. Wells of Northfield reported that he had heard the "big" plane flying over Northfield apparently heading in the direction of Landing, which would be in the direction of Philadelphia.

Mr. Wells said he connected the mystery plane with the Hinchliffe flight because he had heard radio reports of the progress of a south-bound plane over New England.

Boston Airport Reports Plane

BOSTON, March 14. (AP)—The Boston airport tonight reported that a plane was thought to have passed over the field about 9:30 tonight. The attendant on duty said he "couldn't swear to it, but we thought we heard a plane."

"The information from the airport followed close on reports from Portsmouth, N. J. Salem and Lynn that a plane, apparently a big one, had been heard in those localities, flying south."

hoped to hear news of her venture-some husband.

"I will not give up hope," she said.

Sinclair Talks

"It was only a couple of hours before the Endeavour started that Miss Mackay finally decided to fly," said Ma) Sinclair. "I had been working for a fortnight to get the plane ready and was so busy at that task that I did not take much notice of the repeated conferences which Miss Mackay had with Capt. Hinchliffe."

"We were up all night Monday completing the preparations, and suddenly at 2 a. m. Tuesday I was told that I was not going."

"Capt. Hinchliffe, Miss Mackay, her friend Miss Eves and myself left the Hotel George at Grantham about 4 a. m. in Miss Mackay's car, as soon as we reached the air-drome, the Endeavour was wheeled out, the engine was started and Hinchliffe and Miss Mackay climbed into the machine."

Am Was Ready

"I had the plane completely ready so there was nothing left for them to do but take off. I shook hands with both of them and wished them luck."

"The next thing I remember, I was waving cheerily to the Endeavour as it became a smaller and smaller speck upon the horizon. That was the last I saw of them."

"Now we are waiting anxiously, but I am full of hope."

"Hinchliffe told me many times that he would make Philadelphia, if possible, and I think it quite likely that the Endeavour slipped past the watchers at New Foundland in the fog. There was enough petrol aboard to last 50 hours, so he may still be flying."

Newspaper investigators at Cranwell learned that for a fortnight Miss Mackay had been staying at the George Hotel in Grantham. She hid her identity, but accompanied Hinchliffe on every test flight previous to the actual start. Several close relatives of Miss Mackay visited the hotel, and tried vainly to dissuade her from accompanying Hinchliffe. Once she went back to London, but she returned the same day and resumed her test flights.

Girl Not Worried

Miss Mackay was smiling as the plane rose and seemed not in the least worried about the outcome of the flight. She sat beside Capt. Hinchliffe, thus being able to help him either by flying the machine or by transferring gasoline to the main tanks.

Major Sinclair said his only reason for "lying low" and not earlier revealing the identity of the occupants of the plane, was to keep his promise to Miss Mackay to maintain secrecy until the flight was over. He said that she did not wish to worry her parents who are in Egypt.

POSEY CLUB MEETS

Fourteen New Members are Added Yesterday

Fourteen new members were added to the Posey Girls' 4-H club yesterday when the club met with County Demonstration Agent Louise Baird for a sewing lesson.

The New Hope girls' club had 21 of its 22 members present to hear Miss Baird give a discussion of the making of buttonholes. Seven members of this club joined the "Appropriate Dress" contest, and Miss Ruby Phillips entered as a contestant for a college scholarship.

Twenty-three members of the City Line' women's demonstration club studied walls and draperies at the club meeting yesterday.

Appeals Court

AMARILLO, Mar. 14.—The following proceedings were had in the Court of Civil Appeals for the Seventh district at Amarillo, today:

Motions Overruled: Arthur Scruggs vs. R. L. Wheeler, rehearing; C. R. Garner, et al vs. Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf Ry. Co., rehearing.

Affirmed: Standard Accident Insurance Co. vs. Albert L. Williams, et al from Dallas; O. E. Clem vs. W. W. Fulgham from Dallas; Watson company vs. J. Blecker, et al, from Dallas; R. H. Clark vs. First National Bank, from Wichita; Texas Employers Insurance Association vs. T. L. Davidson, et al from Wichita.

Reversed and Remanded with Instructions: S. E. Duncan vs. National Union Fire Insurance Co. from Floyd.

Set for Submission On April 4: N. M. Stewart vs. Emma Gattis, from Hardeman; Ernest Schmor, vs. J. K. French, from Wilbarger; Keller J. Bell et al vs. W. G. Mulkey, from Hardeman; J. S. Johnson, et al vs. Joe Heret from Lubbock; P. Worth and Denver City Ry. Co. vs. Harper Kirby, from Wilbarger; G. C. Dunn, et al Oil Well Supply Co. from Hutchinson.

AUSTIN, March 14 (AP).—In a relatively "light" session, the Court of Criminal Appeals Wednesday affirmed the death sentence of Bill Smith, in Jones county, for the killing of Deputy Sheriff Jake Owens, of Fisher county, and upheld two other murder sentences.

Philip White's 40-year Bastrop county sentence for the slaying of St. Perkins, was one of those allowed to stand and the 20-year term imposed on A. F. Rhodes Kent county, after the murder of George Smith, was the other.

Jack Goss, serving one year sentence from Liberty county, was denied habeas corpus release. He claimed under commutation statutes his term should have been ended some time ago and that prison officials, the governor and the board of pardons had denied him relief. The court held such parole power vested in the governor's discretion and is not mandatory on him.

Germany Motion Overruled
AUSTIN, Mar. 14. (AP).—Proceedings in the court of criminal appeals today:

Affirmed: Philip White, Bastrop; Bill Smith, alias Roy Miller, alias Joyce Sheppard, Jones; A. F. Rhodes, Kent; Henry Willingham, Washington; T. J. Hoover, Brown; Luther Gausse, Fannin; S. B. Coker, Popola; H. F. Paver, Haskell; Weldon Frasier, Dallas; Frank Holimon, Liberty; Domingo Esparsa, Atascosa.

Reversed and remanded: D. M. White, Taylor; Mack Elliott, Tom Green; Charley Thomas, Grayson.

Appellant's motion for rehearing overruled: Tray A. Carrell, Dawson; Edgar King, Navarro; John Frey, Gray; Dick Wright, Hall.

Motions for rehearing filed by both state and the appellant overruled: J. R. Germany, Lubbock.

Application for leave to file second motion for rehearing denied: A. J. Gordon, Poudre.

State's motion for rehearing overruled: M. K. Simmons, San Patricio.

Appeal reinstated and affirmed: Lofton Wall, Collin.

Appellant dismissed at request of appellant: Wesley Williams, Pecos.

INTEREST IN CLUBS
Appropriate Dress Contest Feature for County

Concentration on an appropriate dress contest will feature work in the home demonstration clubs of Lubbock county during the spring.

Miss Louise Baird, demonstration agent, said yesterday. Local girls will participate in other state contests, she said.

There are several girls in the county who have a splendid chance to win prizes, among which are trips to a national council of 4-H clubs at Washington.

Much interest has been manifested locally in the 4-H clubs, Miss Baird said. She especially pointed to the meetings held this week at Grovesville and Carlsle as among those in which the interest shown was gratifying.

Stomach Troubles Headache and Dizziness

If your stomach is sick, you are sick all over. If you can't digest your food, you lose strength, get nervous and feel as tired when you get up as when you went to bed.

For 10 years Tanlac has restored to health and activity many thousands who suffered just as you do.

Mr. John Robertson, of 822 Spring St., Little Rock, Ark., says: "I couldn't eat anything, couldn't sleep, and working was almost an impossibility. But after 3 bottles of Tanlac I could eat a bull's horn and sleep like a log!"

Let Tanlac do for you what it did for this sufferer. It corrects the most obstinate digestive troubles—relieves gas, pains in the stomach and bowels. It restores appetite, vigor and sound sleep.

Tanlac is made of roots, barks and herbs. The cost is less than 2 cents a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Your money back if it doesn't help you.

Stocks Continue Active But Pace Somewhat Lower

Radio and General Motors Vault Upward Again, But Settle Back; Bankers Disapprove "Pyrotechnics."

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 14. (AP)—Violent advances took place in a few pool specialties on the New York stock exchange today as harassed "pyrotechnics" were driven to cover, but speculation in the general market slowed up considerably on unconfirmed rumors that leading bankers had bluntly expressed their disapproval of recent market pyrotechnics. Although the day's sales ran above 3,000,000 shares for the fourth consecutive full session, they were nearly 800,000 shares below yesterday's record-breaking total.

Radio Fluctuates
Radio common, recent transactions in which are under investigation by stock exchange authorities, opened $9 a share under at $138, rallied to $153.50 and then slipped back to $150. Michael J. Mehan, who was accredited with having named a fortune of several million dollars in that issue, was disclosed tonight as a purchaser of another stock exchange seat, his seat at the record-breaking price of $315,000, an advance of $5,000 above previous high marks established earlier in the year. The seat was bought for a member of Mr. Mehan's firm, as he is allowed to hold only one seat in his own name.

Linseed Oil Speculation
American Linseed common was a spectacular feature in today's market. Soaring $17.50 a share to a record breaking price of $111.75, or nearly double the year's low, it then eased to $107. Total sales in this issue fell just short of 100,000 shares, as contrasted with an outstanding capitalization of only $167,500.

The rise in Linseed, which was largely at the expense of an overcrowded "short" interest, accompanied by rumors that a new group, said to be quarters to be the DuPonts, had acquired a substantial interest in the company with the expectation of seeking representation on the board of directors.

"Short" Covering Faster
Floor traders reported that "short" covering also was an important factor in the brisk advances in the American Zinc common and preferred, International Match preferred, Hudson Motors, General Cable "A", and Houston Oil, most of which reached new high ground for the year.

General Motors came back into the limelight by climbing within $2 a share of the record breaking price of $111, established last Saturday, but it lost part of its gain on profit taking. United States Steel common closed nearly $1 a share lower at $144.62 1-2.

Railroad shares gave a good demonstration of group strength for the first time in weeks with Wabash, Texas and Pacific and the St. Paul issues elevated to new high prices for the year.

ROAD WORK DELAYED
Starting On State Road Sur-facing Program Held Up

AUSTIN, March 14. (AP)—Definite announcement of the highway department's proposed maintenance road surfacing program, to include about 300 miles of road in every division in the state except No. 5, is being held up pending rights-of-way adjustments, it was learned Tuesday.
The department, however, has not yet determined exactly what roads are to be benefited and when contracts will be let.
The entire project will cost close to $2,000,000.

DAILY MARKETS

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, March 14. (AP)—An early advance in today's cotton market on unexpectedly large domestic consumption figures for February was followed by reactions. May sold off from 18.88 to 18.71 and closed at 18.72, the general market closing steady, at a net advance of 4 points on March, but generally 1 point higher to 2 points lower.
The market opened steady at an advance of 7 to 11 points on relatively steady Liverpool cables and the report of the census bureau showing domestic consumption of 372,210 bales of lint cotton for February, compared with 582,417 for January and 589,512 consumed during February last year. The trade evidently had been looking for lower figures, and for a time the market was rather active and firm. Market selling up to 18.88 and October to 18.22 as 12 to 15 points net higher on active months.

Demand tapered off at these figures, however, and the market firmed off during the afternoon under comparatively small offerings. No southern selling of consequence was reported here, but there appeared to be some liquidation by recent buyers or reselling by early buyers who were probably disappointed by the failure of the statistical showing to create a more general or aggressive demand. Prospects for cotton in West Texas also were a factor on the reaction which carried prices back to about yesterday's closing quotations or a shade below on the late deliveries. Last prices were within a point or two of the lowest.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, March 14. (AP)—Cattle prices in the livestock market here today were generally steady with only a small number of receipts available to traders. Steers sold from 9.25 to 11.00, bulls 5.50 to 7.00, canners 4.50 to 4.75, cutters 3.00 to 5.50, cows 8.50 to 9.00, yearlings and heifers 10.00 to 12.50, the common kind 5.00 to 8.00, and calves up to 11.50.
Trading in sheep was steady with slaughter lambs making 12.50 to 12.75 and feeder lambs 13.50.
Hogs were mostly 10c lower with the best lot selling around 8.15. Sows sold from 6.75 to 7.00 and pigs 5.00 to 6.00.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, March 14. (AP)—The cotton market showed considerable more activity today than has been the rule of late and prices fluctuated within a broader range. Market turned easy near noon recovery nearly all of the gain. Recovery in early afternoon gave way to ease, in the final trading and the market closed steady net six points up to two down.
May contracts opened at 18.40 and advanced to 18.48, or 16 points net up. The subsequent decline carried that month down to 18.35 where it closed, compared with 18.32 at yesterday's close.

Liverpool cables were better than due at the start here and the market opened firm. The census bureau's February consumption total of 372,210 bales was construed as mildly bullish and prices continued to advance after the start until July reached 18.29 and October 18.02 or 12 to 27 points net up.

WOOL

BOSTON, March 14. (AP)—Wool continues very quiet. A little trading is being done in woolen cloths, but sales of domestic worsted-wools to mills are slow. Dealers are buying some Michigan line and medium grades of last year's clip. Prices advanced at the opening of London sales fully up to predictions, and reflected the recent advance in foreign primary markets.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 14. (AP)—Rain and snow spreading eastward today gave a downward trend to the wheat market, but had a directly opposite effect on corn. It was expected that the winter wheat crop would benefit from moisture, whereas movement on corn would be interfered with.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 1-2c lower, corn 1-2c to 7-8c up, oats varying from 1-4c decline to 1-2c advance, and provisions at 5c setback to a rise of 16c.

Provisions were somewhat firmer owing to corn strength.

COTTONSEED OIL

NEW YORK, March 14. (AP)—The cottonseed oil market was slightly more active today, but prices continued to fluctuate over narrow limits on a mixed local trade. Prime crude 8.12 1-2, prime summer yellow spot 9.50, March closed 9.50, May 9.50, July 9.50, August 10.04, September 10.17.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, March 14. (AP)—Wild speculation for the advance was resumed in a number of specialties in today's market, but the general list sagged under the weight of heavy profit-taking sales. Extreme gains in some of the pool favorites ranged from 5 to 17 1-2 points, but these were materially cut down in the late selling movement. Trading failed to maintain the dizzy pace set earlier in the week. The day's sales aggregating 3,185,000 shares, compared with yesterday's record-breaking total of 3,913,400 shares.

Investigation of the alleged "technical corner" in Radio had a sobering influence on that stock which opened 8 points lower at 138, rallied to 159 1-2 and closed at 150, up 4 points net. American Linseed was the outstanding feature in today's session, soaring 17 1-2 points to a new high record at 111 3-4 and then slipping back to 107. The day's transactions in this one issue totaled nearly 100,000 shares, on more than half of the outstanding capitalization of 187,500 shares. The run-up was at the expense of an over-crowded "short" interest.

"Bear" traders also were hard pressed in such issues as American Zinc common and preferred, Houston Oil, Timken Roller Bearing, and Vanadium Steel, all of which closed with net gains of 5 points or more.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO, March 14. (AP)—United States Department of Agriculture—Cattle 9,000; better grade fed steers and long yearlings steady; lower grades 10 to 15 lower; fat cows and butcher heifers and cutters weak to 25 lower; hogs slow; vealers steady; best fed steers 14.75; long yearlings 13.50; best light vealing heifers 13.15; bulk 11.50-12.25; low cutters 5.25-5.50; sausage hogs 9.00 downward; light vealers to packers 12.25-13.00.
Hogs 22,000; closed bull 15 to 25 lower than yesterday's average; 170 to 200 pounds 8.75-9.45; choice 180 to 200 pound weights at 8.50; top 8.65; 230 to 270 pound 8.10-8.25; 280 to 340 pound butchers 7.90-8.15; 140 to 160 pound averages 7.50-8.25; pigs 6.50-7.00; packing hogs 6.90-7.40; estimated hogfence 8.00.
Sheep 10,000; fat lambs fairly active steady to 25 higher; top 16.00; wooled lambs 15.00-16.10; clipped lambs 12.00-14.00; sheep scarce steady; few fat ewes 9.50; feeding and shearing lambs 14.50-15.25.

MURDER SUSPECTED

Finding of Skeleton At San Angelo Makes Stir

SAN ANTONIO, March 14. (AP)—Discovery of a skeleton, buried face downward, today was being investigated by deputy sheriffs as a probable murder. The fact that the skull had been crushed and that the body had been buried face downward gave color to the murder theory.
The skeleton was found by workers digging the foundations for a building for a tourist camp near the Salado creek. Officers were attempting to identify the body by the teeth which were said to be well preserved.

Robinson to Answer
AUSTIN, March 14. (AP)—A supplemental brief answering one recently filed by attorney general in seven pending supreme court cases attacking validity of the mineral relinquishment act, was being prepared Tuesday by Land Commissioner J. T. Robinson, respondent, of defendant in the actions.

Improved Farming Held Plains Need

Amarillo Chamber of Commerce Men Study Farm Methods As Revealed At Tech Experiment Depot.

Development of agriculture was held the paramount need of the Panhandle Plains section yesterday when Col. H. Haines, vice-president and general manager of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development spoke before the Lubbock Rotary club, in session at the Hotel Lubbock.

Col. Haines headed a delegation of Amarillo men who were here studying agricultural progress as evidenced at the Tech and at the experiment station east of the city. Others of the party were: Norris Ewing, assistant general manager of the News-Globe Publishing company; F. C. Bennett, manager and J. A. Bush, chairman of the agriculture committee of the Amarillo B. C. D.

A new member, R. E. "Bob" Strickland, was received into the club.

The Saint Patrick's Day theme was carried out in the program today with T. A. White, chairman of the day. J. J. Kilpatrick explained to the club the significance of the day in history. Various other men made short talks including Neil Wright, Mr. Ewing, Mr. Bush and Mr. Bennett, and Joe T. Bonner of Temple.

Visitors introduced were: Claude F. Anderson, of Slaton; Muckelroy McDonald, Austin; Bruce A. Ray, of Wichita, Kansas; Joe T. Bonner, of Temple; and John Delrymple, I. P. Holland, Charles W. Ratliff, and Dean A. H. Leidigh, of Lubbock.

Meetings of the trustees, executive committee and committee chairman were held following the luncheon.

CONCERT TOUR

Several Towns To Be Visited by Floydada Band

FLOYDADA, March 14.—A concert tour which will include several neighboring towns will be made by the Floydada Municipal band under the direction of Prof. A. L. Lundgren beginning Monday, March 19. Entertainment of different kinds including the regular band concert will be staged at various South Plains towns. Proceeds from the tour will be used to defray the expenses of the forty piece band to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention at Ft. Worth.

March 19th the band will visit Silverton; March 21, Quitaque; March 22, Lockney; March 23, Crosbyton; March 26, Lorenzo; March 29, Petersburg and March 30, Ralls. Other towns including Plainview and Lubbock are on the itinerary but final arrangements have not yet been completed, according to Prof. Lundgren.

Baptists Intend to Send Nurse To Africa

FORT WORTH, March 14. (P.)—The Woman's Missionary Union of Southern Baptists today set a goal of $920,000 to be raised to complete their work for 1928 and voted to raise $1,200 by May 1 to send a trained nurse to Africa. Today's meeting was the first of a two day session and was attended by 150 persons. The nurse will be Miss Lena Koller, of Waco, who will go to Africa to assist Rev. B. L. Tockett, missionary whose wife was a Fort Worth civic woman.

Explain Dead Fish Poison from Ducks Held Cause

Poison carried on the feet of ducks and spread to the surface of the county lake east of the city is causing the death of the numerous fish that have been observed floating on the surface of the water there, it was stated yesterday by Roscoe Parks, district deputy game warden. Farmers are spreading poison over their fields to get rid of the ducks and therefore are unintentionally doing away with the fish.

LUBBOCK BOY SCORES

Is On Honor Roll at T. C. U. This Year

FORT WORTH, March 14.—Wm. Boone Goode of Lubbock, a freshman at Texas Christian University here, is on the honor roll of T. C. U. for the first semester of 1927-28 with an "index" average of 3.50.

Index averages are computed by assigning a value of 4 points to a grade of "A", 3 points to a grade of "B", 2 points to a grade of "C" and 1 point to a grade of "D". A student, to merit the honor roll must be carrying at least three subjects for credit toward a degree, and must make an average of at least "B", or an index average of 3.00.

Three hundred and seventeen names appear on the complete honor roll out of a total enrollment of approximately 1250. These 317 are divided by classes as follows: freshmen, 88; sophomores, 96; juniors, 79; seniors, 79; graduate students, 16, and special 1.

"Gee, Mom! It's a peach"

A WATCH for his birthday! How proud, how happy he is, for he had always wanted one. And mother is happy too, for she had selected it with so much care to please him.

In this important purchase as in her daily buying, she applied woman's ability to compare to obtain the best. Comparison is helpful in buying coffee, also.

Folger's Coffee is the supreme of the world's coffees. So fragrant, so rich... never was coffee so deliciously good. Just watch your husband's eyes light up when he takes his first sip of Folger's. Compare Folger's by making the famous Folger Coffee Test.

The Folger Coffee Test: Drink Folger's Coffee tomorrow morning; the next morning drink the coffee you have been using; the third morning drink Folger's again. You will decidedly favor one brand or the other. The Best Coffee Wins. That's fair, isn't it?

FLOOD CONDITIONS

Melting Snows and Heavy Rains Cause Fear

MILWAUKEE, March 14. (P.)—Melting snow and heavy rains have caused flood conditions in southwestern Wisconsin, where, today several cities and villages were cut off from rail and automobile communication and in a few cases, from electric power.

Most of the damage was in the lower valleys of the Wisconsin and Kickapoo rivers. In eastern Wisconsin little damage was reported except in Oshkosh and Fond Du Lac. There, scores of families were marooned in their homes, streets and basements were flooded and bridges and roads reported damaged.

FEATURE AWARDS

One Ranch Wins Three Prizes At Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, March 14. (P.)—The winning of three championships by Kuykendall-Gilpin, Menard, featured the awards in the sheep division of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show today. The Menard firm produced both champion ram and champion ewe in type B. American and DeLaine Merino, and the champion ram in type C. The champion ewe in the latter, was shown by Texas A. and M. college.

Hairpin production in England has dropped from 4,700,000 pounds in 1913 to 1,100,000 pounds in the past 12 months.
