Begin Responds To Carter Plan

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)-Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin had a surprise meeting today with President Carter and the White House said the Israeli government had "responded positively" to a new U.S. plan for breaking the Mideast peace deadlock.

White House press secretary Jody Powell emphasized, however, that "difficult issues remain." He said "The next step in the peace process is still under discussion."

Carter's secret proposals to salvage faltering peace hopes stirred interest in Israel and optimistic reports in that country's press.

Carter, holding a black umbrella aloft, walked from his Oval Office to greet Begin in a driveway. After a brief greeting, the president escorted the prime minister into his office.

Summoned to join the president for the brief mid-morning meeting were Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance, presidential advisers Zbigniew Brzezinski and Hamilton Jordan and Powell.

"The Israeli government has responded positively to American suggestions on ways to help resolve some of the remaining differences" between Israel and Egypt, Powell said in a statement.

"However, it is important to understand that difficult issues remain. The next step in the peace process is still under discussion."

In Cairo, meanwhile, Egyptian officials said President Anwar Sadat spoke by telephone with Carter today and would decide within 48 hours whether to go to Washington.

The surprise development appeared to buoy the hopes of U.S. officials who had expressed no optimism Sunday in announcing the American move.

But even then they emphasized that the U.S. suggestions dealt with only some of the remaining obstacles to completion of the long-elusive peace treaty.

"I'm sure that it's going to contribute to the process of the negotiations," Deputy Prime Minister Yigael Yadin told reporters after the cabinet meeting in Jerusalem. He made clear he was referring to Begin's recommendations and not Carter's proposals.

More SALT Critics

WASHINGTON (AP)-President Carter, already facing stiff opposition to a U.S.-Soviet arms limitation treaty from conservatives, is now hearing complaints from liberals.

Sens. George McGovern, D-S.D.; Mark Hatfield, R-Ore.; and William Proxmire, D-Wis., said Sunday they might oppose a new strategic arms pact unless it will "substantially curb the arms race."

Iran Exports Resumed

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)-Iran resumed oil exports today for the first time in three months, and Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's revolutionary regime executed seven more of Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi's former officials, including four generals and a former member of Parliament.

A spokesman for the National Iranian Oil Co. said the tanker was the World Ambassador and is bound for Japan.

Die At Birthday Party

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)-A barrage of bullets turned a family birthday party into a deathtrap as a teen-ager calmly entered a room and killed his father, mother and older brother, police said.

Lonnie Cruise, 19, was arrested in a bedroom of the house, police said. He was treated at a hospital for an apparent overdose of an unspecified substance and held without bond, police said.

Climber Killed

LONGMIRE, Wash. (AP)-Willi Unsoeld, one of the first four Americans to scale Mount Everest, was killed in an avalanche on Mount Rainier, the second in his family to die while mountain-climbing.

Three years ago, his 20-year-old daughter, Nanda Devi, died on an expedition with her father and others on the Himalyan peak for which she was named. Unsoeld died Sunday.

Rig Burning In Gulf

NEW ORLEANS (AP)-A gas well exploded in flames on an offshore drilling rig in the Gulf of Mexico today, killing two men and leaving six missing, officials said. Twenty-seven others escaped by jumping into a survival capsule.

The rig continued to burn, but there was no immediate word on pollution.

The dead and missing worked for Penrod Drilling Co. and other contractors aboard a Placid Oil Co. platform, located about 45 miles south of Morgan City, said James King, a Placid spokesman in Houma, La.

Rule Stands

WASHINGTON (AP)-The Supreme Court today refused to hear arguments aimed at getting the Gregory-Portland School District in Texas cut from under a racial desegregation order.

The justices left intact a ruling that leaves the school district under threat of losing $500,000 in state funds if it does not desegregate one elementary school with a 92 percent Mexican-American enrollment.

At issue was a jurisdictional dispute over which federal judge in Texas had authority to hear a 1973 school district lawsuit filed against the Texas Education Agency, the state board of education.

TESCO Hearings

AUSTIN (AP)-Electric companies in the Texas Utilities system followed federal accounting rules in exchanging part ownership in a lignite power plant, the Public Utility Commission was to hear today.

Robert K. Campbell, president of Texas Power & Light Co., was expected to offer prepared testimony today that his company acted properly in selling interest in the Martin Lake plant to sister company Texas Electric Service Co.

Campbell is one of two rebutal witnesses scheduled to counter recommendations from the commission staff that TESCO, TP&L and Dallas Power & Light refund some $20 million to their customers.

The three-member commission has heard testimony since Feb. 20 about a six-month investigation of affiliate transactions among the three utilities.

Alimony For All

WASHINGTON (AP)—State laws that provide alimony payments only for women foster unconstitutional sex discrimination, the Supreme Court ruled today.

By a 6-3 vote, the justices struck down an Alabama law that required husbands, but never wives, to pay alimony.

Similar laws are on the books in 10 other states: Georgia, Idaho, Louisana, Mississippi, Nevada, New York, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee and Wyoming.

Deadline Approaching...

Few Candidates Seeking City And School Posts

Wednesday, March 7, is the deadline for school and city candidates to file for places on election ballots, but there has been no stampede of candidates so far.

In fact, races for some area positions have no contests so far, and in some cases there are not enough avowed candidates to fill all of the places which will be open in the April 7 elections.

Tax problems, general red tape and other time-consuming matters which usually stimulate critics apparently have made service on non-paying boards and councils unattractive. At least these factors seem to affect all agencies this year.

With two days remaining for candidates to file, the area candidates are as follows:

Snyder City Council--Dr. John Best for Place 1; Ronald Shaw and Incumbent Joe Reaves for Place 3; David Holt for Place 5.

Snyder School Board--Vera McSpadden, incumbent, for Place 1; Bill Seale and Don Stacy for Place 2.

Hermleigh School Board--Jerry Gannaway, Doug Foster and Dub Kimzey for three places on board.

Ira School Board--Larry Denson, Richard Hester, Floyd House, Leland McCarty and Robert E. Barbee for two places on board; top two will be elected.

Hobbs School Board--Odell Rains, incumbent, and Jerry Hodges for two places on board.

Colorado City School Board, Eddie Mitchell and Gene Blassingame for two places on board.

Roby School Board--Melvin Thompson, Scott Feagan, Incumbent Roy Herron and Incumbent Leonard Mitchell for three places.

Rotan School Board--Incumbent Earnest Ragan and Louis Hayes for two

Man Killed In Shooting At Rotan Sunday

ROTAN--Celestina Sanchez, 20, of Snyder was shot to death here early Sunday and a 19-year-old suspect has been charged with murder.

Police Chief Charles LaFever said the body of Sanchez was found in a car at about 12:30 a.m. Sunday. Police arrested Larry McDaniel, 19, and filed charges against him. McDaniel was in the Fisher County jail at Roby.

Sanchez was reported to be employed by a construction firm, and was a nephew of Benjamin Torres of Snyder. LaFever said the shooting apparently occurred following an argument over money.

The body was taken to Weathersbee Funeral Home and was to be forwarded to Colima, Mex., for funeral rites and burial.

It was reported that Sanchez had lived in Snyder for about six months.

City To Discuss New PUC Powers

Legislation which would repeal the city's jurisdiction over electric power and gas utility rates is due to get some attention tonight at a meeting of the Snyder City Council.

The meeting is set for 6:30 p.m. at city hall.

A bill now before the legislature will pass to the State Public Utilities Commission the responsibility for setting the rates for gas and electricity. The PUC already sets telephone rates.

Cities in the state apparently are divided over the issue, with some already on record as favoring the bill, while others want to retain this power for city governments. The local council will decide tonight whether to adopt a resolution concerning the legislation.

Also on the agenda are first reading of an ordinance setting new rates for Lone Star Gas Co.; appointment of three persons to serve on the city tax equalization board and setting a time and date for the board's final hearing and bids on installation of some double doors and other modifications at city hall, and bids on sanitation containers.

The council plans to go into executive session with the city attorney to discuss legal matters at the conclusion of the regular meeting.

Ask Us

Q--When school taxes are raised to take the full value of property; how is this school system going to operate?

A--Operations will be the same as other schools in the state. If you are referring to finances alone, it will mean that local property owners will be paying a bigger share of the expenses than has been the case since the late forties when the major oil fields were developed. Before it reached the point where full values and a maximum rate would not support the school, we would be in the foundation program. Snyder district's values still are far above the amount to take it off the budget-balanced (pay your own way) list so far, however.

Chinese Pulling Out Of Vietnam

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)-China announced today it has begun withdrawing its troops from Vietnam, 16 days after they struck across the border to teach a bloody military "lesson" to Hanoi.

Peking's official news agency said the invasion force was being pulled out "after achieving the goals assigned them." But Vietnam called the Chinese attack a failure. It reportedly cost the lives of thousands on both sides.

Kyodo, the Japanese news service, said in a dispatch from Peking that the government announced all Chinese troops were being withdrawn.

The announcement by China's Xinhua Hsinhua agency warned, however, that "the Chinese side reserves the right to strike back again in self-defense" if Vietnam resumes the border "provocations and incursions" that China said forced it to launch its "self-defense" invasion Feb. 17.

The announcement added: "The Chinese government proposes once again that the Chinese and Vietnamese sides speedily hold negotiations to discuss ways of ensuring peace and tranquility between the two countries and then proceed to settle the boundary and territorial disputes."

It also called on the rest of the world to "take measures to urge the Vietnamese authorities to stop promptly their aggression against Kampuchea Cambodia and withdraw all their forces of invasion."

A radio commentary by the Voice of Vietnam, broadcast at about the same time as the Chinese withdrawal statement, said Peking's leaders had "failed in their large-scale invasion to teach Vietnam a lesson and could not fulfill their expansionist aims."

A Hanoi summary of the two-week war said 10 percent of the Chinese invasion force was killed or wounded and half the tanks and armored vehicles were destroyed.

Accountant Asked To Testify Again

FORT WORTH (AP)—Accountant Stan Winters was asked by defense attorneys trying to link Cullen Davis' personal and business fortunes, to return to the stand today in the multimillion divorce trial of Davis and his estranged wife, Priscilla.

Winters testified for about five hours during Friday's session, telling about the companies owned by Kendavis Industries International, the conglomerate owned by Davis and his brother Kenneth Davis, Jr., of Tulsa, Okla.

Mrs. Davis' attorneys hope to use Winters' testimony to show the personal financial affairs of Davis are part of the business empire controlled by him and and his brother and should be shared in a property settlement with Mrs. Davis.

Davis contends his business interests should not be considered part of the community property.

Davis spent seven days on the witness stand after the trial began two weeks ago as Mrs. Davis' attorneys Jerry Loftin and Ronald Aultman grilled him about his finances.

Davis stepped down Thursday, and Mrs. Davis was the next witness. She testified she was not aware of the extent of Davis' wealth when they wed Aug. 29, 1968.

"He said he would always care for me and give me far, far more than Jack Wilborn, her first husband ever could," Mrs. Davis said, but when asked if she intended to claim his inheritance she said "I never gave it any thought.

the view from 1979

"I don't see him getting hold of this."

"He needs to convey a stronger sense there is some fire under his belly."

"Stability has to come from the top and I'm not sure he can providde it."

"He", in case you haven't already caught the drift, is Jimmy (James Earl) Carter, 39th president of the United States and, according to the large school of critics such as supplies the above quotes for a recent Wall Street Journal mini-analysis of his presidency, very likely to give way to the 40th in 1980.

To those who know their presidential politics and performances, Jimmy Carter is not viewed as promising material for a two-term presidency. He is seen as beset by seas of troubles at home and abroad and woefully short of arms - or will - to take up against them.

For just a few headline examples, the collapse of Iran has eroded the U.S. position throughout the Middle East and beyond. Israeli-Egyptian dickering may not be quite all the way back to square one, but it has certainly backed up. And it may be questioned whether there are more rabbits to be pulled out of the Camp David hat.

The United States may no longer be a party of the first part in Southeast Asia, but it is actuely concerned over a conflict there it cannot control but that could well involve it in war-and-peace consequences.

At home, inflation rages - and rages and rages - with the public not perceiving Carter as providing the leadership necessary to straighten out the economy. Big labor's George Meany, after some flipping and flopping, has declared himself off the president's team. But Carter can't have all the luck. There is still Congress, which may be willing to pay, but it's way - raising the possibility that a veto threat-override threat confrontation will stall progress on an anti-inflation program of any description.

Under the dismal circumstances, critics may be right that the Carter presidency at mid-first term has nowhere to go but down and out. On the other hand, it may at this point be worth remembering some very recent history.

Back in the late 1960s, when Lyndon Johnson was being war-protested into unwilling retirement so shortly after he had been riding so politcally high, there was a lot of speculation that the presidency might have developed into a one-term job. It was suggested that the complexity of domestic and world problems, the pressures on an incumbent president and the potentially devastating consequences of wrong decisions, made it increasingly unlikely that an individual of less than superhuman powers could either stand the pace for more than one term or retain sufficient public popularity to be re-elected.

Then along came Richard Nixon. He had considerable assistance from Democrats wallowing in suicidal impulses at the time, but his 1972 re-election stunnngly disproved the one-term theory and seemed to put him securely at the top of the national political heap.

The point of all this is not to praise or damn the current administration, but to note that presidential races are a lot more difficult to call than horse races, particularly two years in advance.

Prescient critics assaying the Carter prospects and also public opinion samplings showing him running behind any of a clutch of possible challengers from either major party usually postulate the election being held today, or this week or this month. It isn't going to be. It will be held in 1980, and a lot can happen in almost two years.

Right, Lyndon Johnson, Richard Nixon and Harry Truman?

at wits end

by erma bombeck

In the beginning, there was a credit card.

I slipped it into my billfold and every time I went to that particular department store, I handed it to the salesperson and she stamped it and gave it back.

In time, I had a dozen of them or so rattling around in my purse. Then came a general charge card that was to do away with all the little ones, followed by a more sophisticated one that I could use in Europe and Asia if I ever got there.

Then my bank came out with one that had my picture laminated on it. This was followed by one that guaranteed to the world that I was good for $25 even if I was caught naked without my other charge cards.

Today, I have 135 pieces of laminated identification in my handbag. It has turned into an awesome responsibility just keeping track of them. Sometimes, I have terrible dreams where I go into a department store, open my handbag and my credit cards are gone. All I have is cash.

You cannot imagine how choked up I got this week when through the mail came "THE NOTHING CARD." It's put out by a company in Loveland, Colo., and is touted as "the card to end all credit cards."

The NOTHING CARD looks like your basic credit card only it is stamped with a picture of Millard Fillmore who stood for nothing, did nothing and actually ran on the Know-Nothing ticket in 1850.

Frankly, I regard the NOTHING CARD as a way out of the economic pits. The card buys nothing. Therefore, you owe nothing at the end of the month, have no monthly statements, no finance charges, no computer errors, no letters or mailgrams or phone calls threatening to take it away and no travel magazines.

It'll take a little getting used to--not paying for food that you ate 30 days ago or going now and paying now -- but the rewards are worth noting. Once Americans put aside as much as they want to spend and pay in cash, prices will go down, business will give you the money instead of the car company and according to the brochure, "People will buy fewer lamps with hula dancer bases."

My husband is crazy about the NOTHING CARD. He says it's safer than Traveler's Checks, buys what we can afford and besides, Millard Fillmore photographs well.

He won't let me leave home without it.

"Put me down as having a deeply felt sense of powerlessness and disengagement, which has led to a profound crisis of confidence."

in washington

martha angle and robert walters

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Cocktail parties in this capital currently are overpopulated by self-proclaimed experts peddling facile answers to the season's most popular question: "Who lost Iran?"

Neither of the two most frequently cited scapegoats, the Central Intelligence Agency and the National Security Council, distinguished itself in the closing months of the Iranian crisis. But the tendency to blame those agencies is a reflection of the short-sightedness of most of the postmortems.

Too little attention has been paid to the root causes of Iran's problems and to a far more important question: What are the lessons of the Iranian experience and how can they be applied to the future conduct of United States foreign policy?

Circulating within the State Department, however, is an exceptionally thoughtful treatise which presents a compelling case that the Iranian crisis must be treated "as a failure in policy leadership and not as a failure in intelligence."

The analysis appears in a recent issue of the Armed Froces Journal. Its author is listed as "Abul Kasim Mansur," but that is a pseudonym for "a former State Department official with intimate experience in Iranian affairs."

Concludes the perceptive discussion of the crisis:

"It is ironic that events in Iran could have taken the United States so much by surprise. There have been countless examples of similar situations producing cultural and economic explosions since World War II.

"There also have been countless examples to prove that authoritarian regimes cannot put a lid on political instability; that when they try, the pressure builds up to the breaking point; and that in the process of repression, such regimes cut themselves off from contact with their people ...

"Moreover, in Iran's case there were exceptional long- and short-term warning indicators. The United States has been intimately involved in Iran since 1943, and it literally should have had a quarter century of warning."

This country not only ignored those warnings, argues the author, but it also remains oblivious to the "painful similarities" with situations in at least four other nations that could be next to erupt in revolution -- Saudi Arabia, Indonesia, South Korea and the Philippines.

The explosive elements present in Iran (and often in those other countries as well) include:

—A phenomenal rate of population growth (producing a large number of restless young people) and a massive shift from peasant agriculture to an urban economy -- a combination leading to problems of education, job creation and career expectations doomed to go unfulfilled.

—An authoritarian leader who tolerates -- and even encourages -- a pervasive police state atmosphere, widespread corruption and an overheated economy fueled by "modernization" moving at a pace far in excess of what the nation can tolerate.

—Excessive, inflation-inducing spending, much of it devoted to purchases of outrageous amounts of arms supplied by the United States in our futile attempt to prop up a militar ally in an unstable region of the world.

When Iran's oil boom began in 1972-73, United States arms deliveries were running at an annual rate of $210 million to $240 million. By 1977, that figure had increased ten-fold, to $2.24 billion.

During a single three-month period last year, arms deliveries totaled $2.5 billion. When the Shah was toppled, an additional $11 billion worth of United States armaments were on order.

To avoid a recurrence of the Iranian crisis, this country must exercise far more restraint when lavishing military and economic aid on other nations in our efforts to "buy" friendships around the world.

The analysis also warns that we must "accept the risk of broadening contacts with all the pro-Western elements in developing nations" while recognizing "the unpredictability and independence of such elements."

what's ahead

NEW YORK (AP)—You seldom hear them mentioned along with the other leading economic indicators, but demographics certainly are. In fact, their lead time is in years rather than months.

Take the baby boom of the years 1946 through 1964, during which 76.4 millions babies were born, creating a child-centered society in which school costs soared and baby food companies thrived.

Before the end of the baby boom the population bulge was felt in entertainment, sports and adolescent rebellion, somewhat later in college and university enrollments, and then the job market.

The impact continues, and to some extent it explains today's high housing prices and a continued boom in housing sales despite those prices and mortgage rates that now are well into double digits.

In the first issue of the magazine "American Demographics", Conrad Taeuber, a demographer, dispels such notions, forecasting the impact for decades ahead of the 46.5 million births between 1954 and 1964, the boom's peak.

In 1980 these people will be between 16 and 26 years old, and will furnish the last large classes of college undergraduates until their own children reach the same ages. Less than half will be married.

In 1990 most of them will have spouses and have children. They will have moved up from beginner work levels and be eligible for supervisory positions. About 40 percent will own their own homes.

In 2000, now between ages 36 and 46, about 68 percent will be home owners. Most will have had their last child. More of family income will go for food and clothing than at any other time of their lives.

In 2010 these babies of 1954-1964 will be at the peak of the earning and spending power. Most will not change jobs again. Health and personal care expenses will begin to rise.

Ten years later, in 2020, their household income should be falling, but if traditional criteria prevail, their personal care and recreation expenditures will rise. And 10 years later, most of them will be out of the labor force, dependent upon social Security and savings.

Demographics goes into greater detail of course. It can foretell personnel bottlenecks in business, shortages of skilled help, demand for specific products, pressures on social services and the like.

It examines the characteristics of groups and foretells the likely impact.

Oswald: "A look at all four hands shows that North and South can make a grand slam at either spades or notrump."

Alan: "Not that seven is a good contract. Declarer must start by picking up the queen of spades. Then he must decide to take the heart finesse. He needs a red-suit finesse and only the heart finesse works."

Oswald: "Six is a very good contract and any expert worth his salt will wind up by using a safety play that will only let him make six."

Alan: "In other words, the best play at six won't produce an overtrick."

Oswald: "South should win the club lead in dummy, lead a spade to his ace, then cash his ace of clubs. That is a very slight risk. Someone might trump it, but once that ace goes through South has a sure thing."

Alan: "He just leads a second spade. West plays low and dummy's jack is finessed. East takes his queen and is forced to give declarer his twelfth trick. A club lead allows a heart discard and a ruff in dummy. A red-suit lead makes one of dummy's red jacks a winner. The hand is over and the slam made."

Ask the Experts

A New York reader asks what the "No better place for it" play is. It is a specific bad play that got its name when a loquacious player holding ace-10-small overruffed declarer's king with the ace while remarking, "No better place for it." Of course, there was a better place. If he didn't ruff he would have taken two trump tricks instead of one.

Vocational Programs In Special Education

Editor's Note--This is an article dealing with special education programs provided in Snyder Public Schools, which have been prepared in connection with the observance of Texas Public Schools Week.

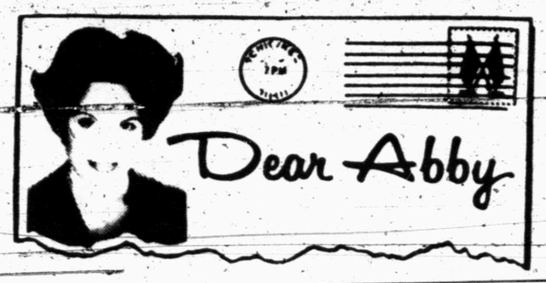
The Vocational program or special education pupils is a real concern for the special education personnel. With the beginning of the 1978-79 school year, Snyder Schools instituted a vocational education home economics program for the special education pupils at Snyder High School and Snyder Junior High School. This program, which is taught by Mary McCown, offers a curriculum in the areas of cooking, sewing, and housekeeping skills. The pupils are learning skills which would help them in carrying out jobs in the fast food establishment and garment factories.

The housekeeping skills which are taught might assist the pupils in employment in custodial jobs in motels and hotels. The vocational education for the handicapped classes are geared to the level of the pupils and provide a successful school experience for pupils who may be experiencing difficulty with the regular school program.

There are also vocational education opportunities for special education pupils in the regular vocational program at Snyder High School. The vocational teachers on the high school campus cooperate with the special education teachers in providing vocational training for the special education pupils. Ken Lynch, vocational adjustment coordinator, and Dorothy Lavender, resource room teacher, provide communication with the teachers and assistance to the pupils who are enrolled in these programs to insure their success.

Lynch also provides work experiences for the special education pupils in the school cafeterias, high school student center, and other work stations. When pupils have worked under Lynch's supervision on a campus job, he will seek employment for them in some business in the community.

The special education program for hearing impaired children was begun in January when Nelda Hearne was employed as the teacher for deaf and hearing impaired children. The program presently serves four children with various degrees of hearing loss. Several more children are in the process of being evaluated for the program.



She Rues Writing To Lovelorn Con

DEAR ABBY: I have been corresponding with a man in an out-of-state prison for quite a number of months. We have never met. I started writing to him because a mutual friend asked me to. You might say I did it as an act of kindness.

He is serving time for armed robbery. From his letters, I am not convinced that he has learned his lesson. He has a lot of anger and hostility in him.

My problem is that he thinks he is falling in love with me. I do not feel the same. (We've exchanged pictures.) I care for him as a friend and would like to keep in touch, but not at the risk of endangering myself. He might get out in six months; I don't want a lovesick, rejected ex-con on my hands, if you know what I mean.

How do I go about letting him know I don't want a romantic relationship with him? I don't want to hurt his feelings, but I certainly don't want him for an enemy either. Please advise.

OKIE FROM MUSKOGEE

DEAR OKIE: Be honest. Write your pen pal and tell him you hope that he isn't falling in love with you because your feelings for him are strictly platonic.

DEAR ABBY: I work in the Department of Vital Statistics, but nobody listens to us. Maybe they will listen to Dear Abby.

If you anticipate a need for your birth certificate (in applying for a passport, Social Security, entering a new school, or for any other reason), DON'T wait until the last minute. Write to the Department of Vital Statistics in the city where you were born and request your birth certificate to have on hand in case you need it.

Don't wait until two weeks before you take a trip to a foreign country. It sometimes takes THREE MONTHS to get a birth certificate. (Everyone waits until May or June.)

A letter stating that your birth is on file is NOT acceptable. You must produce the certificate itself (with the raised seal) in most instances.

If for any reason your birth is not recorded, this will give you plenty of time to file a delayed birth certificate before you need it.

Please, be wise and act accordingly.

JACKSONVILLE JOURNAL FAN

DEAR FAN: All right, all you readers out there who weren't born yesterday, please take note!

DEAR READERS: For 23 years I've been helping you with your problems. Now is your chance to help me with mine.

If you should see DEAR ABBY T-shirts, nightgowns or anything else for sale bearing my name, please let me know where it was purchased. (The name of the store and city.)

The DEAR ABBY name is being used without my permission and in order to protect my copyright I must take legal action against the manufacturers. Will you please help me to track them down? Many thanks.

Rig Count Dips Again

Permian Basin oil fields saw another decline in drilling activity last week, according to Reed Drilling Equipment's weekly survey. The active rig count was 217, a decrease of three from the previous week.

A year ago at this time, there were 311 drilling rigs running in the Basin.

Lea County, N.M., was the leader last week with 26 units in operation. Pecos County led the Texas side of the Basin with 14.

Scurry County had four rigs running, the same as the week before.

Figures for other area counties, with last week and the week before, in order: Borden, 2 and 2; Dawson 1 and 3; Garza, 3 and 4; Howard 4 and 6; Mitchell 2 and 2.

Oil And Gas Association Meeting Set

The 46th annual meeting of the West Central Texas Oil and Gas Association has been set for March 11-12 at the Abilene Civic Center, Jack Frizzell, president, has announced.

The meeting will feature four speakers. James E. Russell of Russell Petroleum, Inc., of Abilene, will speak on oil pricing regulations. Frank M. Burke Jr., of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Co. of Dallas, will speak on current and proposed tax regulations affecting the oil and gas industry; Bill H. Abington, executive vice president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, Dallas, will brief the group on current legislation in the mill at Austin, and Jim Gillie, assistant to the vice president, public affairs, Phillips Petroleum Co., will address the session at the noon membership luncheon on industry coordination.

Twenty new directors and a new vice president will be elected at the luncheon, and a special award will be presented to Omar Burleson, retired Congressman from the 17th District.

Snyderite Joins U.S. Air force

Benjamin Fuentez of Snyder has entered the U.S. Air Force delayed enlistment program, according to Sgt. Art Clark, the Air Force recruiter in Big Spring.

Airman Fuentez, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Fuentez, 1711 Ave. I, selected electronic communications as his area of job training. He will attend a six week basic military training course at Lackland AFB, San Antonio, beginning June 6. Sgt. Clark said there are Air Force openings for qualified young men and women and he may be contacted by calling collect 915-267-1721.

Auto Insurance Rating Procedures Under Fire

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

The traditional system of basing auto insurance rates on factors like age and sex is under attack and the resulting changes are expected to mean lower premiums for some drivers and higher prices for others.

Several states, including Hawaii, North Carolina and Massachusetts, already have put into effect regulations barring the insurance companies from taking marital status, sex or age into account when setting rates.

A series of public hearings is scheduled in California this month and next to consider the fairness of using geographical territories in setting rates. Hearings on the use of age and sex as rating factors were held last month in Florida and South Carolina.

Most insurance companies oppose the changes. They argue that the traditional criteria are valid, based on the risks presented by various groups of drivers.

Opponents of the existing system contend it unfairly penalizes some groups of people. One problem with eliminating the old standards is finding new ones to use instead. The most frequent proposal calls for linking premiums to individual driving records and experience.

While a new system of setting rates would benefit some drivers - people under 35 would no longer pay higher prices just because of their age, for example - it would also mean an increase in premiums for those who now get preferential treatment.

Regardless of the rating system in use in your state, you can save money if you shop around and learn what to look for. Compare rates from several companies. The variation from one firm to another can be substantial.

Consider cutting your coverage by increasing the deductible amount you pay yourself. Suppose, for example, you have a collision policy with a $50 deductible and you are in an accident involving $300 worth of damage. You pay the $50 and the insurance company pays the rest. If you are willing to pay more in the event of an accident, your premium goes down. A switch from no deductible to a $50 deductible can save you nearly 30 percent increasing the deductible from $50 to $100 cuts the bill by 10 to 20 percent.

Don't buy coverage that you don't need. Collision coverage which protects your car against damage may not be needed on an older car. It makes little sense to pay $100 a year for a car worth only $300.

Look for discounts. Does your insurance company offer lower rates if you don't smoke? What about a "good student" discount for younger drivers or a multi-car discount for families with more than one auto? Can you save by joining a carpool?

And Heads For Saturn...

Voyager 1 Relays 1st Close View Of Juipter

By ROBERT LOCKE
AP Science Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) —Voyager 1 made its closest encounter with Jupiter after 18 months in space today, flying within 172,744 miles of its colorful, cloudy surface. The spacecraft then began its 20-month cruise to Saturn.

Voyager's two television cameras were furiously transmitting never-before-seen pictures back to Earth in the form of radio signals, which scientists develop first into black-and-white, then color prints.

However, a problem developed within one of Voyager's 11 scientific instruments, and scientists ordered a temporary shutdown of the device, a photopolarimeter that measures chemical elements above Jupiter, the largest planet in our solar system.

"We're always concerned when we have to turn an instrument off," said project scientist Ed Stone, "but we will be turning it back on...to determine whether the instrument will recover."

The failure occurred while the spacecraft was inside Jupiter's very intense radiation field, which may have caused the problem, Stone said.

Stone said the device would be turned back on around 7 p.m. PST Today.

Dr. Garry E. Hunt of the Voyager photography team said results of the historic approach were outstanding and "the excitement is really tremendous" among National Aeronautics and Space Administration scientists at Jet Propulsion Laboratory.

Voyager's pictures showed in great detail the swirling clouds around Jupiter, and also produced several pictures that were surprisingly featureless.

Hunt said the picutures were closeups of brown spots that drift across the Jovian surface.

"This may mean we are looking at a very bland area," he said. "It may be featureless, but it may also contain a great amount of information."

The Voyager, curving around Jupiter less than 200,000 miles above the planet's surface, was examining several of the 13 Jovian moons as it sped away to Saturn. Before its closest incounter at 4:42 a.m. PST, Voyager excited scientist by photographing the tiny moon known as Amalthea.

The pictures also showed churning clouds and several dark ovals.

The pictures, displayed on JPL television monitors, looked like snow drifts, ripples and swirled by the wind. Others showed the spiraling clouds inside Jupiter's Great Red Spot - a centuries-old feature much like a gigantic hurricane.

Legislature Uncommonly Quiet

AUSTIN (AP)-The 66th session of the Texas Legislature has been uncommonly quiet so far - too quiet for some.

Daily floor action has been perfunctory. Minor issues abound while issues of substance lie dormant.

"It's been a strange session, the strangest I've been in," says House Speaker Bill Clayton, who has been a legislator since 1963. "There's a wonderment about what is going to happen."

But there is a good chance the legislative tempo will quicken this week. A possible confrontation between Gov. Bill Clements and state agency heads, a resumed filibuster and House committee action on tax relief should heat up the session.

A sideshow that should interest the lawmakers occurs Tuesday afternoon when Gov. Bill Clements talks with state agency heads about his plan to reduce state employment by 25,000 jobs in four years.

"We expect a big crowd," said gubernatorial press aide Mark Heckman.

Sen. A.R. Schwartz, D-Galveston, will have the floor when the Senate returns Monday morning with his extended attack on a bill allowing truckers to get together in seeking rate adjustments from the Texas Railroad Commission. Under present law, such joint action would violate state anti-trust laws.

"This is price-fixing at its very worst...The truckers' lobby wants this because it will help them lie, cheat and steal," Schwartz said in Thursday's debate.

Sponsors said the alternative would be to enlarge the Railroad Commission staff to handle an overload of individual rate requests.

The House Ways and Means Committee meets Monday morning, hoping to finish work on a bill implementing the non-automatic portions of the 1978 Tax Relief Amendment. Clayton says the bill should be on next Monday's floor debate calendar.

Key provisions include a $10,000 homestead exemption from school taxes for the elderly, on top of a $5,000 mandatory exemption for all homeowners. Two cars per family would be exempt from property taxes starting in 1980. The bill includes a formula for taxing agricultural land on its productivity, and both family farmers and corporations would get the tax break.

The session also reaches a landmark on Friday, which is the last day bills can be introduced without suspending rules.

Kite-Flying Safety Tips Are Listed

Kite flying season is here again, and Texas Electric Service Co. urges young kite flyers to follow a few simple rules for their own safety.

H.F. Clark, TESCO manager, warns of the danger of flying kites in the vicinity of electric power lines.

"If your kite should get caught in electric wires, call Texas Electric Service Co.," Clark says, "and someone will be sent to get it down for you."

Clark also recommends the following safety rules for kite flying:

--Always use dry string, not wire, anything metallic or any string with metallic threads.

--Always use kites made of wood and paper, not wire or metal.

--Don't fly your kite on rainy days.

--Always avoid busy streets and highways while flying your kite.

--Don't pull on the string or climb a power pole to loosen a kite snagged in electric wires.

--Always fly your kite away from TV and radio antennas.

"Posters containing these safety rules have been distributed by the company to all schools," Clark said. "Young people following these rules will get more fun out of flying kites and at the same time will keep from getting hurt or losing their kites."

Bill Would Give Time For Politics

AUSTIN, Texas (AP)-Employers would have to give time off for anyone selected as a delegate to a county or state political convention under a bill filed by Sen. Carl A. Parker.

Parker, D-Port Arthur, said employers are presently required only to let their employees attend precinct conventions.

"In effect, many people are eliminated as choices for delegate posts to county or state conventions because they cannot get off work. It is enough penalty when a person does attend a convention and he is not paid for that day's work," Parker said.

The bill has been referred to the Senate State Affairs Committee.

All-purpose vitamins

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am a bachelor and, quite frankly, my cooking leaves a lot to be desired. I eat intermittently at best and wonder if I should start taking vitamins. The question is, are there better brands than others and can vitamins replace a good dietary intake?

DEAR READER — I wish people would get their vitamins and minerals from good wholesome foods. That's the way nature planned things. There are people who do not eat a good, balanced diet, for a variety of reasons, and these are the ones who should take vitamins. Many people who live alone, young or old, don't eat properly. This is sometimes related to lack of cooking ability, as you confess. In other instances it is from lack of interest or just plain difficulties in cooking for one person.

I don't think it makes a lot of difference which vitamin tablet you take, as long as you take an all-purpose vitamin tablet you can buy at any grocery store which contains the recommended daily allowances (RDA) for all the important vitamins.

I'm also sending you The Health Letter number 4-6, Balanced Diet, Recommended Daily Dietary Allowances (RDA) to give you my thoughts on what you should be eating. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

There is nothing wrong with taking vitamins, if you need them. I believe some older people's vitamin requirements are increased. The hazards in vitamins are associated with taking large amounts, more than the recommended daily allowance.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have just given birth to a baby with the Down syndrome and congenital leukemia. Both the baby and I were extremely anemic. He is at the children's hospital in the intensive care unit now with a very uncertain prognosis. I would appreciate any information you can give me about this birth defect.

DEAR READER — The classic characteristics show a rounded head with physical features that resemble those commonly ascribed to orientals. That's a very superficial distinction, however, because you can readily tell a baby of oriental parents born with this defect.

You are going to hear a lot about this problem so I will confine my remarks to two points that you might not hear. In the past, it has commonly been said that women over 35 were the ones who gave birth to children with the Down syndrome. More recent evidence shows that only 20 percent of children with the Down syndrome were born to women over 35 and 80 percent to women below the age of 35. Most births are from women below 35. These women have 90 percent of all babies born.

The abnormal gene for the Down syndrome doesn't necessarily come from the mother. Recent studies have shown that the chromosomes from the father cause the Down syndrome in about one out of four cases.

There is a slight increased risk that parents who have had one child with the Down syndrome may have another one with the second pregnancy. If you wish, you can have tests made during the early phase of future pregnancies to detemine whether or not the child has the Down Syndrome. The test is done on fluid around the baby that is drawn from the womb during pregnancy.

Alternate Energy Sources Studied

NEW YORK (AP)-Higher oil prices and spot shortages brought on by the shutdown of Iranian oil production are focusing interest on several alternate forms of supply that a few years ago were little more than dreams.

While commercial solar, wind and geothermal power are decades away, other alternate sources - like oil from tar sand and shale, and natural gas made from coal - may be practical in the next few years.

"The Iranian situation points up the United States' vulnerability," says Gary Ross, an analyst for the Petroleum Industry Research Foundation, and industry group. "Therefore, from both economic and political considerations, we have to look more favorably on alternate energy sources."

The sources of two of the three most practical sources are plentiful in the United States; oil shale and coal. And large deposits of tar sand lie just over the border in Canada.

Known in the trade as synfuels - short for synthetic fuels - the three processes involve producing ordinary types of crude oil and natural gas from unlikely sources. Shale oil production involves mining oil-bearing shale and using heat to squeeze the oil out of the rock. Experts estimate there is enough oil shale in Wyoming, Colorado and Utah to supply the United States' oil needs for nearly a century.

To get oil out of tar sand - also known as bitumen - the heavy, sticky sand is washed with hot water to separate the sand and oil. In coal gasification, the coal is smashed to bits and heated until it turns into a mixture of gases. The better quality gases can be mixed with natural gas to augment supply of that fuel. The low-quality gases produced can be used to power the gasification plant itself.

Although the technology for synfuels has been in place for several years - small-scale coal gasification projects existed before World War II - the cost has been seen as prohibitive. The price tag on extracting crude oil from shale, for example, is estimated by most experts to be about $20 a barrel.

New Plan To Melt Ice Jams

WAHOO, Neb. (AP)-Civil Defense officials have spread a black, sand like substance called bottom slag over portions of the Platte and Elkhorn rivers, hoping it will help melt ice jams and curb spring flooding.

The slag idea was recommended by the Army's Corps of Engineers, which opposes the practice of dynamiting river ice. Officials hope sunlight will be absorbed by the dark substance, thus warming and melting the ice. The slag, taken from coal pits, was spread over the ice in three rows by commercial crop-dusting planes converted to handle the heavy substance. The ice is estimated at between 24 inches and 30 inches thick.

Film Slated By Mormons

A special showing of the film, "Man's Search for Happiness," has been set for Thursday night in the Snyder Savings and Loan Community Room.

The film is sponsored by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon).

The film will begin at 7 p.m. and the public is invited. There will be no admission charge.

Club Opens New Golfing Season

Snyder Country Club completed its first even of the season over the weekend, a Battle of the Sexes Tournament which drew 60 players.

A free clinic will be held March 31 at 5:30 for members and invited guests.

"We will go over common swing problems and remedies along with a short specialty shot show. After the clinic we will have time for personal instruction to help with their individual swing problems," explained golf professional Don Bryant.

Results of the weekend tourney were:

1. (27 under) Mairl McFaul, Robert McFaul, Mutt Herod and Kevin Carver.

2. (20 under) Tom Burton, Bobby Cumbie, Boe Moffett and Bill Moss.

3. (18 under) Carolyn Green, Betty Hildreth, Xan Harris and Finnie Seale.

4. (14 under - tie) Bear Hardin, Don Sealy, Bill Erwin, Pinky Ferguson, Bobbie Hargrove, Becky Knipe, Pat Gallagher, Retha Pickering, Lu Wolf, Alice Gray, Francis Gann, and Barbara Carver.

Play was best two net balls of the foursome.

Connors Wins Fifth Indoor

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) —Jimmy Connors defeated veteran Arthur Ashe 6-4, 5-7, 6-3 Sunday to win a record-tying fifth U.S. National Indoor Tennis Championship. The last man to win the national indoor title five times was Wylie Grant early in the century.

Rams Beaten In State Finals

AUSTIN (AP)-The 1979 schoolboy basketball tournament might be remembered for two teams losing perfect records and as a time of disappointment for several college basketball prospects.

A crowd of 13,210, the largest in Texas high school basketball history, watched Lufkin defeat Fort Worth Dunbar, 75-74, in Class 4A on Saturday with a football recruit - Ronnie Blake - banking in the winning goal with two seconds remaining.

Lufkin had ruined Houston Madison's 39-0 season in the semifinals by upsetting the Marlins, 62-55.

Blake, who plans to play quarterback at the University of Texas at Arlington, scored 19 points against Madison and added 21 against Dunbar although he is only 5-foot-7.

College basketball prospects Greg Kite, John Simple and Pat Hicks of Madison had sub-par games, with Kite, 6-11, scoring only five points, nearly 13 below his average. However, he had 20 rebounds.

Kite reportedly has scholarship offers from schools throughout the nation, and several colleges apparently are recruiting Kite and the 6-6 Simple together. Simple tallied 16 points, hitting 8 of 20 field goals.

Snook, the defending Class A champion, edged Krum, 57-56, in the B finals. The victory snapped Krum's 50-game winning streak that stretched back to last season, when it won the B title. Krum was 44-0 this season.

Huntsville defended its 3A championship by defeating Mineral Wells for the second year in a row in the finals, 48-45.

Seminole upset Altair Rice, 56-49, in Class 2A and Vega stunned Larue La Poynor, 52-44, in Class A.

La Poynor's Billy Douglas, a 5-9 senior with great jumping ability, is said to have attracted much small college attention, and he scored 51 points and raked in 31 rebounds in two games. However, he made only 20 of 60 field goal attempts, a poor 33.3 percent.

Kevin Carlile of 1978 champion Whitehouse, which was eliminated in the 2A semifinals, had what one college scout termed his worst game of the year in scoring only eight points and fouling out.

John Grammer of Altair, an all-state player as a junior last year, was impressive in scoring 24 points in the defeat of Whitehouse - hitting 10 of 19 field goals and 4 of 4 free throws. But against Seminole, in another of 24-point performance, he made only 11 of 33 field goals and fouled out.

One prospect who did not hurt his chances was Elton Webster, 6-4, of Austin Lanier.

Lanier fell to Dunbar in the semifinals, 76-69, but Webster pitched in 26 points, scoring from near the basket and on medium-range jumpers. He also had 11 rebounds in a battle against three Dunbar leapers an inch or so taller.

Aggies Grab Border Title

LAREDO (AP)-The surprising Baylor Bears may have been the fastest team in the Border Olympics university division but the Texas Aggies took the team title by being the strongest team in the field events.

The powerful Aggies chalked up 66 field event points en route to a winning total of 118 points. The Bears could manage only 18 points in the field events and took second in Saturday's gusty meet with 96 points.

A&M's siege of the field events was led by Tim Scott - the division's only double winner. Scott took the discuss and shotput titles.

The Aggies also took first in the high jump with Jim Howard clearing 7-1½ to set a meet record. Texas A&M clinched the meet late Saturday night when Randy Hall pole vaulted 16-0. Two other Aggies placed in the top four in the vault.

The event became pivotal when Baylor's runners pulled to within three points of the Aggies by taking the mile relay. Anchorman Chris Clark zipped by the Aggies' Steve Willis to give Baylor the important relay win.

The Bears captured five track events and piled up 78 running event points to A&M's 52.

Classic Ends In Humdrum Game

By Denne H. Freeman
AP Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP)-The Southwest Conference's Fourth Annual Post-Season Classic was a flawed jewel because of a slow-motion championship game Saturday night that made a good advertisement for the 30-second shot clock.

With Arkansas passing 27 times before it took the first shot of the game against Texas' match-up zone defense, the tempo of the game was set.

And Texas Coach Abe Lemons can be just as stubborn and patient as Arkansas Coach Eddie Sutton. The Longhorns retaliated by playing the passing game against the tight Razorback man-for-man defense.

The result was an 18-15 score and a 39-38 final. Arkansas ahead on both counts.

It's a shame a frenzied sellout crowd of 15,000 in The Summit and a large television audience were treated to such a showdown sham.

Since the SWC now plays a brand of ball second to none, the Razorback and Longhorn faithful deserve better.

Texas' Ron Baxter summed it up eloquently: "All these games point to the fact that we need a 30-second clock. A 39-38 game and we are supposed to be college ball players? It looked like high school. No, junior high."

Lemons felt he had no choice once Sutton dictated the style of play.

"There wasn't much else we could do," said Lemons. "It is an old Indian trick. They hold it all day and then they want you to come down and shoot in five seconds. You get two points every five minutes. We fell for it once. I was surprised we could play as well as we did in a makeshift style."

All America Arkansas guard Sidney Moncrief said the Razorback game plan got out of hand.

"Our plan was to be patient, but instead we were passive," said Moncrief. "I think we misinterpreted what Coach Sutton had told us. Texas played the same way we did, and we sort of put each other to sleep."

The dozing crowd was awakened by a wild finish that salvaged the evening as Moncrief hit a technical foul-free throw and a layup for the game winner.

Then Sutton and Lemons, who were involved in a run-in last month when Sutton said something to a Texas player and got a dressing-down from Lemons, buried their feud by shaking hands at Midcourt.

There was no doubt going into the game that both the winner and the loser were going to get NCAA playoff bids.

Cats Fourth In Big Spring

BIG SPRING--Snyder eighth grade boys took fourth place in the Big Spring Optimist Track Meet held here over the weekend.

Big Spring Runnels won the meet with 98 points, followed by Midland Goddard with a 74, Odessa Blackshere with a 59 and Snyder with a 57.

Glenn Parham pulled down three blue ribbons for the Cats. He took first in the broad jump with a leap of 19-11¼, first in the high jump with an effort of 5-8, and first in the 440 yard dash with a time of 57.8.

Matt Davis was third in the board jump with a distance of 18-4 while Curtis Gafford took sixth in the shot put with a throw of 42-1.

Davis, Rosendo Martinez, Brent Roemisch and Parham clocked a fourth-place finish in the mile relay with a time of 4:11.2.

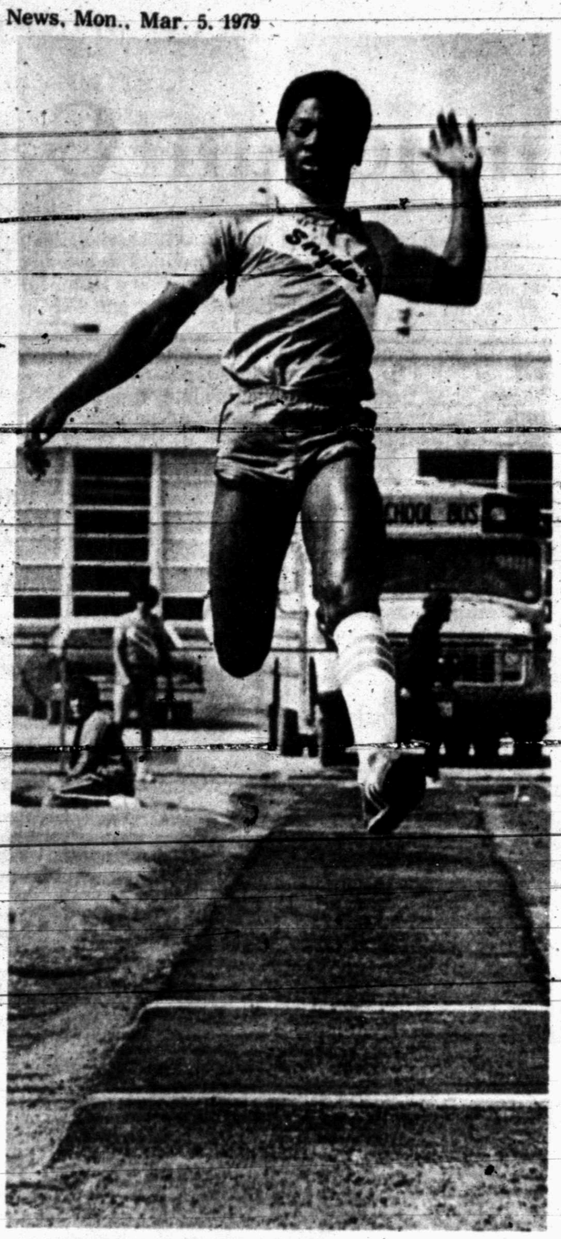
Gafford, Davis, Roemisch and Parham took fifth in the 440 relay with a mark of 50.2.

March 17 the group will travel for a meet in San Angelo. They will be in Sweetwater on the 31st and host a meet in Snyder on April 6.

Mattioli Out With Injury

SAN REMO, Italy (AP)-A broken wrist has ended Rocky Mattioli's championship reign, but the new king, Maurice Hope, says he plans to give Mattioli a chance to regain his crown.

"I will offer him a rematch," said Hope, of Great Britain, who dominated their bout Sunday for the World Boxing Council junior middleweight title. Mattioli fractured his right wrist during the fight and finally gave up after the eighth round.



LENGTHY LEAP--Snyder's Thomas Selmon pulled off a leap of 22-6 in the Lamesa Relays broad jump competition over the weekend, taking first place. Snyder ripped down a number of blue ribbons in the meet, and won the competition by 65 points. (SDN STAFF PHOTO)

Win Relays By 65 Points...

Bengals Wreck Lamesa Meet

LAMESA--Snyder High School track team ran away with first place at the Lamesa Relays held here Saturday.

The Tigers rounded up 176 points to finish 65 ahead of second-place Sweetwater (111). San Angelo Lake View had 109½, followed by Seminole 61 and Lamesa 35½.

Keith McClain was high-point man for the meet, winning the high jump (5-10), the 110 hurdles (15.17), the 300 hurdles (42-2) and was on the first place 1600 meter relay team (3:35.6).

McClain, who set a meet record in the 110 hurdles, garnered 35 points.

Snyder's Lloyd Benson pulled down a trio of blue ribbons, winning the 400 meter dash with a 52.43 and competing on the winning 1600 meter and sprint relay (44.26) teams.

Ronnie Collins snapped a meet record with his 10.81 effort in the 100 meters, and was also a part of the 400 relay team.

Dale Jenkins stripped the meet pole vault record with a 14-0 try, despite 25-30 mile an hour winds which swept the area Saturday. Jenkins took fourth in the high jump, second in the 110 hurdles and third in the 300 hurdles, giving Snyder some added points depth-wise.

Thomas Selmon fell short of the meet record but snapped his personal best with a 22-6 effort in the long jump to finish in first place. Selmon also took second in the 100 meters, and was on the winning sprint relay team.

A number of other Tigers took third, fourth, fifth and sixth place ribbons, giving Snyder depth it lacked in its first meet of the season two weeks ago.

Tommy Tullis was a part of the sprint relay team, while Miguel Ortegon and Rudy Garza competed on the 1600 relay squad.

Friday, Snyder will travel to Odessa to compete in the two-day West Texas Relays. Action is scheduled to begin at noon on both Friday and Saturday.

Tigers Tripped Up By Ector Basemen

ODESSA-Snyder High School baseball team was hit with a succession of early-inning runs here Saturday and though it pulled within a point, was never able to catch Odessa Ector.

The 8-7 loss gives Snyder an 0-2 record going into Tuesday's 4 p.m. game at Midland.

The Tigers slipped up at the outset of Saturday's game, committing two erros in the first inning. Two walks and a single added to the Ector effort, and Odessa went ahead 4-0.

Odessa picked up two more runs in the second inning, off of a single and another error before Snyder pitcher Sid Everton fanned the final two batters.

Snyder got its first run in the second stanza. Richard Crayton was sent to base on a hit pitch and Sammy Willis pushed him around on an error. David Lee brought him in on a sacrifice.

Ector scored its final two runs in the third period, again getting its lead runner on via a Tiger error. A single and a walk did the rest.

Scott Crenwelge and Crayton both singled in the bottom of the third, but to no avail. Snyder scored three runs in the fourth however, cutting the Ector lead to 8-4.

Lee walked and Toby Neves singled to get the Tigers going. Ricky Gambol blasted a double and next-up Everton tapped a single. Bobby Degrate came up with a sacrifice.

The Tigers added one more run in the fifth and two in the sixth. Crenwelge singled, as did Willis, Lee and Neves in the fifth stanza. The four hits brought in only one run, however. In the sixth inning, Everton got on an error and both Degrate and Mitch Mackey walked. Toby Neves opened up the final inning with a single and Gambol sacrificed him around. Snyder was never able to get him in though, and the scored stayed at 8-7 in favor of Ector.

Pride was the winning pitcher which Everton picked up the loss. Everton hurled two innings, getting six strike outs while Banks pitched four and fanned three and Degrate hurled the last for one strike out.

Elrod Named To West Team

Dana Elrod, Snyder High School senior, has been chosen as one of 12 girls to represent the West Team in the 1979 Volleyball All-Star Game planned for July.

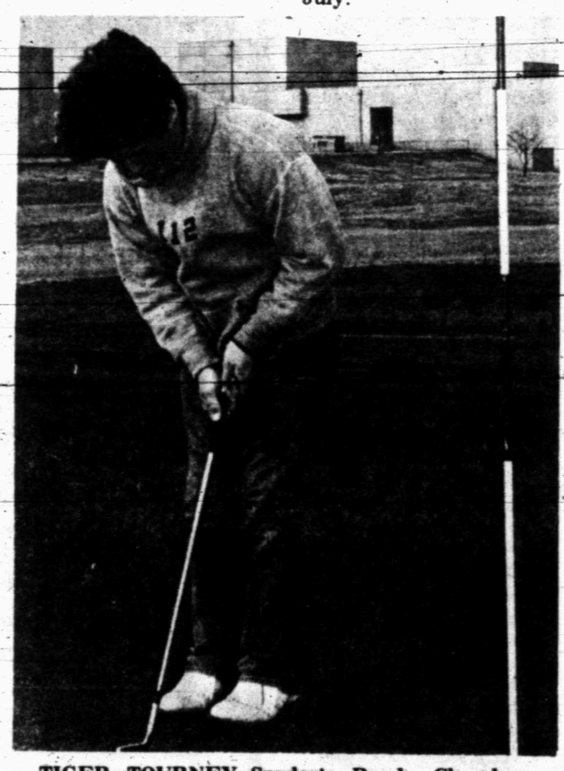
Dana, a 5-4 setter, was a key figure in Snyder's Class AAA state-championship effort this year. The Tigers concluded the season with a 34-3 record.

Miss Elrod was named to the state All-Tournament team this season and was an All-State player last year. She has been All-District and All-Regional the past three years. All-State selections for 1979 have not been determined yet.

The East-West All-Star game will be held July 13 in Abilene. It is sponsored by the Texas High School Girls Coaches Association, and will be in conjunction with the girls coaches clinic.

Others on the West Team will be Katrina Dornseifer and Dianne Urey of Pearce (Richardson), Irene Sollano of Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio), Gracie Gallardo and Denise Palacios of Burges (El Paso), Gail Hix of Denver City, Julie Ochsner of Robert Lee (Midland), Leslie Lucas of Turner (Carrollton), Debbie Whitfield of Arlington, Alfia Annette Vela of Harlandale (San Antonio) and Michelle Huckleberry of Lamar (Arlington) high schools.

Coaches for the teams have not been selected.



TIGER TOURNEY--Snyder's Randy Chambers putts on the number 9 green during last weekend's Tiger Classic here. Strong winds hampered the tourney and made necessary the use of heavy sweaters and jackets. Snyder placed third and seventh in the competition. (SDN STAFF PHOTO by John Long)

Heiden Sweeps Competition

INZELL, (AD) West Germany (AP)-Eric Heiden, the 20-year-old pre-med student from the University of Wisconsin, has completed a sweep of the all-around titles for the Heiden family in the Golden Skate speedskating competition.

Heiden, from Madison, Wis., clinched the championship Sunday, winning the 1,500-meter race in 1 minute, 56.36 seconds. Earlier, in the four-day meet, he won the 500 in the track record time and a persnal best of 37.80, finished second in the 5,000 to Klaas Vriend of The Netherlands, and won the 10,000 in 15:02.67.

Golfers Take Third Place At Local Tournament

Snyder High School golf team placed third in the final results of the Tiger Classic held at Western Texas College course over the weekend.

SHS senior Lance McMillan carded a two-day 156 to serve as tourney medalist. Bobby Knox of Brownfield, who hit an 83 on Friday, came back with a 74 on Sunday to serve as runnerup.

The Tigers are scheduled to compete in the Big Spring Invitational on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Snyder I moved from fourth to third place on Saturday after Sweetwater I dropped 20 strokes on the second day of action. Snyder drilled a 344 the first 18 holes and came up with a 343 on the second. Sweetwater, which had scored a 334 on Friday, hit a 354 on Saturday.

Pecos won the tournament with a 347-331-678. Lamesa I was second with a 680. Snyder II took seventh place - up from eighth - with a two-day total of 749.

Tuesday's Big Spring tourney will be held at Commanche Trail Golf Course. Wednesday the teams will move to Big Spring Country Club.

1. Pecos 347-331 - 678; 2. Lamesa I 342-338 - 680; 3. Snyder I 344-343 - 687; 4. Sweetwater I 334-354 - 688; 5. Sweetwater II 341-365 - 706; 6. Brownfield 350-360 -710; 7. Snyder II 372-377 -749; 8. Lamesa II 393-390 - 783; 9. Levelland 360-withdrew.

Medalist Lance McMillan (Snyder) 77-79 -156.

Runnerup Bobby Knox (Brownfield) 83-74 -157.

Snyder I: McMillan 77-79 -156; Randy Wolf 86-88 -174; Devin Donelson 86-88 - 174; Mike Wolf 95-88 -183; Joe Lee 112-101 -213.

Snyder II: Randy Chambers 98-80 -172; Kris Seale 94-93 - 187; Barry Blackmon 92-100 -192; Joe League 108-103 -211; Chris Raines 94-dq.

USC Takes Swim Title

SOUTH GATE, Calif. (AP)-Jamie Fowler was the only individual winner for Southern Cal, but the Trojans showed excellent depth as they captured their eighth consecutive conference swimming and diving title.

"This has to be one of the biggest wins in our history," said USC Coach Peter Daland after the Trojans won the Pacific-10 championship Saturday. "We were all but out of it Saturday morning. Then our swimmers qualified eigth for the finals. That gave us the chance we needed."

ANNOUNCING
AN IBM SEMINAR
FOR INSURANCE AGENTS AND BROKERS
If you're an Insurance Agent or Broker, you've probably thought about how a computer could help with your expanding information needs.
Well, now there's a free IBM seminar designed for agents and brokers just like you. It features a discussion of the applications and benefits of an IBM system in Insurance Agency management accounting.
The IBM Insurance Agency management account systems, handles a wide range of important jobs, including automatic preparation of invoices, monthly statements, accounts current, commission accounting and expiration reports. In fact, the Insurance Agency management accounting system, even provides sales analysis by line of business, producer, insurance company, transaction type and location, allowing management to identify trends quickly.
But whatever your data processing requirements, the IBM seminar for Insurance Agents and Brokers can help you with the kind of basic information you need to make an informed decision about the role of a computer in your Agency.
If you'd like to attend this free IBM seminar for Insurance agents and brokers, call your Lubbock IBM General Systems Division office....Ask for Ronna Davis to reserve a seat.

Fraud Control Unit Funded

AUSTIN (AP)—Attorney General Mark White said Thursday his office has been awarded a $978,691 federal grant to establish a Medicaid fraud control unit.

"The establishment of this Medicaid fraud control unit is the first concerted effort in this state to determine the extent of fraud in the program," White said.

Fraudulent practices might include billing for services that were not provided, billing for unnecessary services, consistent overcharging and upgrading services on billing forms to claim higher reimbursement from the state, White said.

Ottawa was chosen as the capital of Canada in 1857 by Queen Victoria.

City Firemen Called Twice

Two fires were doused during the weekend by city firefighters.

The first, a grass fire, was called in at 9:33 p.m. Saturday at the Old Lincoln School.

The second was a car fire that was called in at noon Sunday. Reports show the fire occurred in a 1971 Oldsmobile owned by Benny Botello. Fire control units were dispatched to 1007 24th St.

ASTRO-GRAPH

Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

March 6, 1979

Take advantage of situations this coming year where you can make business contacts socially. Something very beneficial could develop from such an arrangement.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You will be adept at keeping the big expenses under control today, but the smaller outlays might damage your budget severely. Be pennywise, too. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in 1979 by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth sign.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If you are not sure of what you want to do or what your motives are, put off doing anything until tomorrow. You'll then have a more positive direction.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Getting your facts straight should be your No. 1 priority today. You have a strong tendency to jump to conclusions because of faulty information.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your head may not be all-together today, and you might have trouble trying to add two and two. Take special care with financial matters.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Important goals could slip through your fingers today because of your lack of attention. Negligence will take its toll.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) The ways and means to say what is on your mind may not be present today. Rather than talking in circles and making little or no sense, keep quiet.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Although sometimes we may be justified in telling others what we think of them it is rarely wise to do so. Turning the other cheek will get you farther in the long run.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct.23) Advice given by you or offered to you will fall on deaf ears today. Neither you nor the other parties are listening, so nothing can be resolved.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) It won't be the big things that can give you fits today but bunches of incidental items. Don't spend more on them than they're worth.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Before making plans involving another, better check to see if this person will go along with you. You could get caught holding an expensive bag.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Touchy family issues could create unnecessary friction today, if you voice them without thinking of the consequences. Leave them at rest.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Before finding fault today, be double sure your own skirts are clean. You may start the critique, but someone else could end it.

Two Mishaps Are Reported; Tires Slashed

Two criminal mischief complaints and five minor traffic accidents were among the activities investigated during the weekend by city police.

Sunday, Mary Clay told officers two tires had been slashed on a vehicle parked at her 1001 28th St. home. Damage in the incident was set at $140.

Also Sunday, Bing Bingham told officers that a 2½-by-1½-foot hole had been knocked in a wall at the City Automatic Laundry.

The first traffic accident of the weekend occurred at the intersection of 37th St. and College Ave. at 5:10 p.m. Saturday. Reports show a 1977 Pontiac driven by Mary McCraw Burkett collided with a parked vehicle owned by Delores Sandoval.

At 9:06 p.m. Saturday, a 1978 Ford driven by Antonio Sosa collided with a 1977 Mercury driven by Esteven Fuentez. That collision occurred in the 2600 block of Ave. E.

In the 3500 block of College Ave. at 9:18 p.m. Saturday, a 1965 Buick driven by Troy Lynn Grisham and a 1970 Chevrolet driven by John Scott Birdsall were in collision.

A 1963 Ford driven by Ross Roosevelt Rochelle and a 1972 Chevrolet driven by Richard Villanueva collided at 9:47 p.m. Saturday in the 1000 of 30th St.

The only accident Sunday was at 6:47 p.m. at the intersection of 37th St. and East Highway. Reports show the wreck involved a 1968 Buick driven by Michael Wayne Lindsey and a 1967 Ford driven by Sarah Jo Hancock.

MICHAEL WIMMER

SHS Senior Is Awarded Scholarship

Michael Ernest Wimmer, a senior at Snyder High School, has been awarded a four-year Permian Honor Scholarship at Western Texas College and The University of Texas of the Permian Basin. Permian Honor Scholars are chosen on the basis of academic class rank and test scores on college examinations.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin H. Wimmer.

Wimmer's career objective is pharmacology, with strong interest in the health sciences. He is a member of the National Honor Society, a member of the high school choir, and of the science and math teams of Snyder High School. He has served as athletic trainer for the varsity football and basketball teams.

A co-sponsor of the Permian Merit Scholarship Foundation, Inc., is Texas Electric Service Company. Permian Honor Scholarships amount to $1,200 payable over four years. These scholars are also eligible for gasoline and mileage allowance (GAMA Grants) recently announced by the University of Texas of the Permian Basin.

Martin, both of Snyder, and Arvil Martin and Frank Martin, both of Lufkin; 19 grandchildren, 21 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

Man Wounded By Gunshot

Shot once in a finger of the right hand, 23-year-old Gilbert Gonzales was treated and released from Cogdell Memorial Hospital early this morning.

Police said the shooting occurred outside the Latin American Center, as Gonzales was leaving a dance, about 12:15 a.m.

Although no arrests were immediately made, police reported they were looking for a known suspect in the case.

Citing accounts by witnesses, officers said the assailant is alleged to have driven up to where Gonzales was standing and began firing. Three shots from a handgun of undetermined caliber were allegedly discharged.
