Facts sur... in youth's injuries

With Snyder High School freshman Stacy Browning still listed in critical condition at Lubbock's St. Mary's Hospital, family members this week have continued to piece together the story of exactly what caused the severe head injuries to the local 14-year-old.

He was injured last Friday around 4:45 p.m. on the company yard of Pengo Industries — a business his father Billy Ray Browning manages here.

Individuals who were near the scene of the accident report hearing a loud boom, and the youth himself was found some 10 ft. away from the high pressure air-compressor line which has been blamed for the injuries.

Initial reports indicated the line had freed itself and struck the youth in the head. It is now believed the line exploded, family members say.

His sister, Shannon Grantham, said Wednesday that

Guerrillas retreat...

Vietnam strongholds seized

KHAO SARAPEE, Thailand (AP) — Vietnamese forces seized partial control of the two major Khmer Rouge strongholds in western Cambodia today in a fierce artillery-backed assault that sent hundreds of guerrillas retreating into Thailand, Thai military officers said.

Maj. Gen. Salya Sriphen, commander of the Eastern Field Force, said the Vietnamese had seized part of the Phnom Malai headquarters and were poised to overrun the entire area within the next two days. Other military sources said Hanoi's forces had taken control of half of the Khao Din stronghold to the south.

Today's ground assaults followed intense artillery barrages that cleared defense outposts and dispersed the fighters to nearby hilltops. Hanoi's advances today, if verified, would be the most stunning setback yet dealt to the Khmer Rouge, hardbitten fighters who have roamed the Cambodian countryside for the past 15 years and successfully defended their mountainous strongholds against previous bloody Vietnamese offensives.

Hundreds of Khmer Rouge guerrillas fleeing the assault on the Khao Din-Phnom Chakrey stronghold trudged northward on a dirt road near this border village about 19 miles from the key Thai border town of Aranyaprathet. The guerrillas dragged with them recoilless guns, supplies, even two elephants. They told reporters the Khao Din-Phnom Chakrey area was basically under Vietnamese control.

The Khmer Rouge stronghold is in a small mountain range near the Thai border and a couple of miles south of Khao Sarapee.

At a news conference at Aranyaprathet, Salya said the Vietnamese had penetrated parts of Phnom Malai and brought troops to within two miles of Phum Thmei, the guerrillas' showcase camp along the Thai-Cambodian border.

The Phnom Malai area, which the Khmer Rouge have held since 1981, is in densely forested, rugged mountains.

Q. — Is it the policy of Snyder police to allow civilians to ride in police cars?

A. — Chief Bill Stone notes this is allowed but only after being cleared through his office. In this way, he said, any possible abuse of the privilege is curtailed.

In Brief

Amend bill

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate Natural Resources Committee adopted over 50 amendments to their version of a statewide water plan while the House gave final approval to its proposal with a 105-17 vote.

Both water plans differ in varying degrees with the House proposal having an $800 million price tag compared to the Senate's more expensive package of $1 billion.

Other differences in the House and Senate plans are sections concerning environmental protection. Sierra Club spokesman Ken Kramer said the Senate plan, introduced by Sen. John Montford, D-Lubbock, offers better protection for bays and estuaries along the Gulf Coast.

The organization fears the House version would lead to inland dams that would cut needed fresh water flow to the bays.

The Senate version also would give the state control over ground water pumping in some areas if local voters did not enact controls.

Note scuffle

SIDON, Lebanon (AP) — Israeli forces clashed with U.N. troops today after the Israelis surrounded a Shiite Moslem village and bulldozed several homes and a cultural center, a spokesman for the U.N. troops reported.

Witnesses said Israeli troops in about 20 armored personnel carriers and trucks stormed into Bourj Rahhal on the northeastern fringe of Lebanon's southernmost port of Tyre. The troops rounded up dozens of youths for questioning about attacks against Israel's army, which is preparing to withdraw from Lebanon, they said.

'Lean' recommendations given for swine show

By NOBLE B. YOUNG
SDN Staff Writer

Swine judge Joe Tarter of Lazbuddie imposed a "lean meat" criteria while picking the swine winners Wednesday at the 41st Annual Scurry County Junior Livestock Show.

From a field of 206 hogs, Tarter chose a heavyweight Hampshire barrow exhibited by Carol Tankersley of the Snyder FFA as the 1985 Grand Champion.

He followed that with a mediumweight Duroc hog exhibited by Andrea Smith of Hermleigh as the Reserve Champ.

During the traditional judge's criteria talk which followed his placing each of the 12 classes shown, he cited the current demand for lean meat in the market place.

Tarter consistently passed over pigs which had placed higher in earlier shows this season, picking animals he saw as having the least fat and the greatest potential production of lean.

The Hampshire exhibited by Tankersly had been named Reserve Champion of the Snyder FFA Project Show Monday, but Smith's Duroc had placed only fifth in its weight class in the Hermleigh FFA show that same night.

Overall, Hermleigh exhibitors dominated the winner's circle — claiming four of eight breed champion and reserve breed champion rosettes. But it was really "lady's night" as female exhibitors won not only both top championship trophies but five of the eight breed ribbons and the 1985 Showmanship Award.

In addition to the Hampshire and Duroc ribbons presented to Tankersley and Smith for their top hogs, breed championships were also awarded to Lisa Massey of Snyder in the crossbred catagory and Rodney Foster of Hermleigh in the other pure breeds classification.

Reserve Breed Champion awards went to Michael Hess of the Scurry County 4-H in the crossbred division; Jeff Roemisch of Hermleigh in the Duroc contest; and Neosha Beach of the 4-H in both the

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Happy Valentines Day."

People express their love in many different ways. The non-dieters still opt for the traditional heart-shaped box of candy.

Inside today's issue are Valentine pictures of youngsters and love-line ads directed at sweethearts.

All the hearts and flowers remind us that Valentine's Day is special for many people–especially the gals. For some of the guys, it's more difficult to express true feelings.

We're reminded of a guest speaker a few years ago at 37th Street Church of Christ. He had been a basketball coach and then had spent many years in family counseling.

He told about a man he once knew whose wife kept asking why he never told her he loved her.

Finally, one day, the man turned to her and said, "Honey, when I married you 25 years ago, I told you that I loved you. If I ever change my mind, you'll be the first to know."

A fellow in the coffee shop said his wife had dropped many not-so-subtle hints that Valentine's Day was approaching.

Asked if he considered that nagging, the husband replied, "With my luck, if I died and came back as a dog, my wife would come back as a flea."

There's also brotherly love, and lots of folks practice that on a daily basis in Snyder. The Snyder Ministerial Alliance helps needy folks by keeping vouchers at the police station to be issued by the dispatcher on duty. The organization provides up to $10 in gasoline and or food per family.

Ken Coffey, minister of the First Christian Church and president of the Ministerial Alliance, said about 3 a.m. last Sunday, a young man traveling from Dallas to Denver City came through town and needed gasoline.

Said Coffee, "What makes this case unusual is that the father called when the boy got home to say 'thanks' and to get our address. We received his note with a check for $100.

"In my 30 years of helping transients, this has never happened. Transients just don't repay this kind of aid, although some promise to do so."

Like the old saying, "Love makes the world go around."

New Kmart manager with firm nine years

Snyder's new Kmart manager has now completed his first week on the job here. Moving locally from Dallas is Leonard Green, 32, who has been with the nationwide chain of stores for nine years.

His most recent position has been as a merchandise comanager for one of seven Kmarts in Dallas.

He has been associated with other stores in Waco, Hurst, Corsicana, Palestine, Marshall and Balch Springs.

Green earned his high school diploma from University High in Waco. He holds an associate degree from McClendon Community College in Waco and has completed work toward his bachelors degree at Baylor.

The position locally will be his first general manager's post with Kmart.

He said he expects his family to join him before the end of the month. He and his wife Janice have two children, Leonard III.

Horse racing bill may get statewide referendum

AUSTIN (AP) — It appears that horse racing legislation will include the statewide referendum Gov. Mark White and some others want.

Rep. Hugo Berlanga, D-Corpus Christi, added a statewide referendum before the House Urban Affairs Committee met Wednesday night. Berlanga also said other substitutions to his bill would include sections on charity days and lower ownership regulations.

After hearing over three hours of public testimony, committee chairman Rep. Geoege Pierce, R-San Antonio, said the bill would remain pending until next week for the substitutes to be reviewed.

Earlier Wednesday, House Speaker Gib Lewis said it appeared the horse-racing legislation would include the statewide referendum, but Lewis said that he still doesn't favor the demand from black lawmakers that parimutuel proceeds should be dedicated to Aid to Families with Dependent Children.

The Legislative Black Caucus last week withdrew support for horse racing, complaining there wasn't enough in the bills for its constituents. Caucus members are upset that the bills don't include a dedicated fund for AFDC and a statewide vote on whether to legalize horse-race betting.

White also has said a statewide vote is needed or he will veto a racing bill. Current proposals before the Legislature lack the referendum, but can be amended.

Lewis said he told black caucus members there are "several changes I'd like to personally see in the bill," and one is the statewide vote "that's going to be necessary to get the bill passed."

Lewis said he does not "care one way or the other" about the statewide vote, but thinks it should be put in to satisfy White.

The speaker said he sees no room to negotiate on the dedicated fund for AFDC. Lewis opposes creation of any new dedicated funds.

Did You Know?
Your Hospital
Cogdell Memorial
Working with You and your Doctor For Your Better Health

Dr. Lamb

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

See doctor about bleeding

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am concerned about blood that is passed in the bowel. I had a bowel X-ray taken recently, and it showed mild diverticulosis of the colon. There were several diverticula. Can you give me some information on this subject? Can anything help the situation? Should I follow a fiber diet or a bland diet?

I have passed blood at least four times in the past few months. I have noticed blood in my bowels before, but never so frequently. It is something I've never worried much about until now. I never have any pain. I'm 60.

DEAR READER — One of the complications of diverticulosis is bleeding. An artery usually perforates the wall of the colon at the point where the small pocket forms. Some physicians think the artery that passes through the wall weakens it, which is why the small rupture of the colon wall occurs at that point.

More than 50 percent of people 60 or older have diverticulosis. Very few people with diverticulosis, probably less than 2 percent, have bleeding from one of the small pockets. The fact that you have diverticulosis and also have blood in your bowel movements does not prove that the bleeding comes from a diverticula.

You could bleed from internal hemorrhoids. This portion of the rectum is not seen on an X-ray of the colon. You should have an examination of the rectum for internal hemorrhoids and any other disease. Internal hemorrhoids usually do not cause any symptoms other than bleeding.

I can't advise you about a diet for diverticulosis without knowing exactly what your condition is. The concept about different diets for diverticulosis is discussed in The Health Letter, Special Report 20, Diverticulosis: Pockets of the Colon, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. However, check with your doctor regarding what to do in your case.

No one should disregard bleeding from the bowel, since it can be a first sign of cancer. Don't guess, but see your doctor for an examination and advice.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am 81. I have discussed a question several times with my wife and many other people and have gotten different opinions. The question is: When a woman gets pregnant by a man, does her blood get mixed with his?

DEAR READER — Your question reminds me that sex and reproduction still mystify many people. No, there is no exchange of blood. The normal semen does not contain any blood. The pregnancy is caused when one sperm cell from the male's millions unites with one ovum from the female. There is no blood involved in the process. The fertilized ovum is then one complete cell that begins life.

Half of the genes in the new cell are from the sperm and half are from the ovum. Together, these make up the total number of genes a cell contains. This one cell then divides repeatedly to form all of the new cells used in developing the baby. The genes control what the baby's blood type will be. That will depend entirely on which blood-type gene comes from each parent. In that way, the mixed gene pool from the parents determines the baby's blood type. However, that is not a mixing of blood; the baby forms its own blood.

Decorations and correct settings add sparkle to Valentine tables

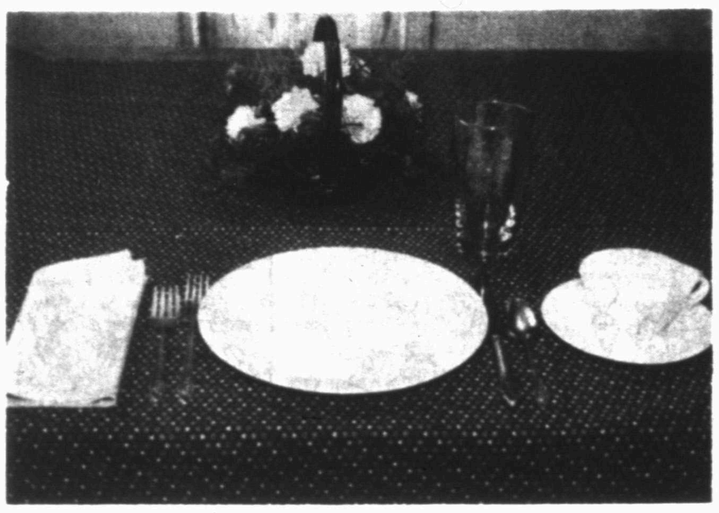

By VICKI BROWN
SDN Staff Writer

The fast pace set by women today often leaves little time for the "extras" once provided families. Table settings and decorations are a few of those extras that working women may not have time to prepare.

Holidays and other special occasions offer the opportunity to dress up an ordinary meal or holiday party with colorful table settings.

SITTING DOWN IN STYLE — A more formal Valentine banquet might include crystal and red placemats. Carolyn Limmer, who created these place settings, added that candles will add a romantic touch to the atmosphere. (SDN Staff Photo)

Carolyn Limmer, homemaking teacher at Snyder High School, feels that many people forget the basic rules that govern table setting. "We don't dress up our tables as often as we used to," she said. "And many people have never learned how to set a table correctly. If their mothers didn't do it and they have never studied homemaking, then many people haven't had the opportunity to learn."

Valentine's Day means "Sweetheart" banquets and other parties. Limmer offers these rules to make the holiday table look its best.

The plate should rest in the center of the cover — the area covered by one place setting — one inch from the table's edge.

Place the knife to the right with its sharp edge turned toward the plate. The spoon or spoons to be used belong to the right of the knife. Forks are usually placed to the left of the plate.

When a meal requires more than one of each utensil, remember that the piece to be used first should be farthest from the plate.

Limmer remarked that whether setting a table or enjoying the meal, this is one of the most important rules to remember. "Once my husband and I were eating in a very exclusive restaurant. There were nearly 25 pieces of silver at each setting. As we started to eat, we realized that we were the only two who knew which utensil to use first. Don't feel uncomfortable at a formal dinner, just remember that most people have the same problem."

If a water glass is used, it should be set at the tip of the knife with the milk or tea glass on its right.

If coffee or other hot beverage is to be served, place the cup and saucer to the right of the spoons with the cup handle turned to the right.

Food served at the affair will determine the arrangement of side dishes. A bread and butter plate is usually set at the top of the fork. The butter spreader or knife rests on the plate with its edge toward the center. If a bread and butter plate is not used, the salad plate takes its place. Otherwise, the salad plate is placed to the left of the fork.

Always position the napkin to the left of the fork with the open edge facing it.

Limmer also suggested a few inexpensive decorations for the Valentine table. Tulips purchased from a grocery store or flower shop offer a simple but colorful way to brighten the holiday.

Find a dead branch out in the yard, pot it in a container — even a fruit jar. Tie construction paper hearts to the branch and a large bow around the container. Children can help with this project.

Also available are decorated cardboard hearts that can be used under crystal plates as mats or placed around the table.

Limmer remarked that most major cookbooks offer a section on table settings and decorations.

On a clear night in the country, away from city lights, a person should be able to see as many as 2,000 stars.

SEMINOLE PATCHWORK DEMONSTRATION — Pearl Wheeler, on the left, and Dorothy Campbell, on the right, demonstrated the art of Seminole patchwork to 12 women attending the Patchwork Squares Extension Homemakers meeting Tuesday. Meeting in the Wheeler home, members were asked to help furnish sandwiches or cookies for the 4-H concession booth at the Junior Livestock Show this week. Saundra Evans and Janet Stribling presented reports and Gingah Williamson was elected secretary-treasurer for the remainder of the year. The late Adam Meredith was an eccentric bidder, but a card player of such consummate skill that he was a key factor in the British team's winning the World Championship in 1955. He later lived for many years in the United States, where he was a feared rubber bridge competitor at the Cavendish Club in New York.

The opening lead was the diamond king, ducked all around. On the diamond continuation, East discarded a heart and Meredith won the trick. Had East ruffed this trick, declarer could make the contract by playing four rounds of spades, which would squeeze East between hearts and clubs. After winning the diamond ace, declarer led a heart to the king. He then played three rounds of trumps, played a club to the queen, another club back to the king and then played a third club toward dummy's ace. West, who could not gain by trumping this trick, discarded a diamond. Now dummy's fourth club was played and Meredith threw his last diamond. East had to return a heart, and again West was stymied. If he ruffed, declarer would play low from dummy. When West discarded still another diamond, Adam Meredith won the trick, played dummy's last diamond and trumped it.

For today's smaller and more affluent two-wage earner families, salary increases are not as important as they used to be. These families, according to a study by the American Council of Life Insurance, are more concerned today with paid leisure time, fewer work hours, child-care and related employer services than they are with higher wages.

Frogs harvest five chippers but miss heralded receiver

by The Associated Press

The Texas Christian Horned Frogs got as many schoolboy football blue chips as the rest of the Southwest Conference on national signing day Wednesday, but the SWC failed to "touch the heart" of Bay City wide receiver Hart Lee Dykes, the state's top prospect.

TCU Coach Jim Wacker described his harvest of what he called "gold-chips" as "stinkin' unbelievable."

Five of the state's top 14 blue chippers signed to play for Wacker, who was the SWC Coach of the Year with an 8-4 record. Four blue chippers went out of state, including Dykes, who signed with Oklahoma State of the Big Eight Conference.

"Oklahoma State showed a personal interest in me," Dykes said. "They touched my heart."

Overall, recruitment day belonged to Wacker and TCU.

"Quite honestly, it still hasn't quite soaked in that this could be all really be true," Wacker said in the wake of the school's gold-plated harvest of schoolboy talent. "The response we have received this year has been just stinkin' unbelieveable."

Jasper wide receiver Reggie Davis, Huffman running back Greg Moore, Houston Madison quarterback Ronald Jiles, Fort Worth Eastern Hills defensive tackle Mitchell Benson and Madison wide receiver Jarrod Delaney - all Texas blue chippers - will play for the Horned Frogs next season.

Southern Methodist got two blue chip signees from Corsicana, running back Bill Jones, 6-1, 205, and linebacker Robert McDade, 6-3, 230. Navasota quarterback Lynn James, who had earlier given a verbal commitment, and Lamar Consolidated cornerback Roderick Wilson, also chose the Mustangs.

"We're very pleased with the way things went," said SMU Coach Bobby Collins. "We recruited well to our needs."

The Texas Aggies signed three outstanding running backs - Steve Greene of Littlefield , Troy Jones of LaFayette, La. and James Howse of Murfreesboro, Tenn.

Greene, 6-1, 195, was a Class 3A all-stater, who led all the state's runners with 2,885 yards for the 1984 season. He also rushed 349 yards in a game against Friona, the top rushing performance of the season.

Howse led his team to a Tennessee state championship last season and rushed for 2,400 yards and scored 29 touchdowns. Jones scored 34 touchdowns land rushed for 1,856 yards.

"Outstanding out-of-state recruiting really helped us," said A&M Coach Jackie Sherrill. "We made a decision to recruit Louisiana like it was Texas."

The Aggies also signed Adam Bob, the Louisiana Defensive Player of the Year who also is out of Lafayette.

Arkansas Razorbacks Coach Ken Hatfield helped stem the trend of losing Arkansas players to out-of-state schools by signing two members of The Associated Press' Super Team, Helena lineman Freddie Childress, 6-4, 295, and Pocahontas lineman LeShon Browne, 6-2, 235.

The Texas Longhorns signed Ed Cunningham, a 6-8, 260 defensive tackle from Sanford-Fritsch. Cunningham had earlier given a verbal commitment to Texas.

Lubbock Dunbar blue chip tight end Sam Collins signed with the Baylor Bears.

SWC co-champion Houston picked up Galveston Ball running back Kimball Anders, 5-10, 200.

Delaney was the final blue chipper to come into the Horned Frog fold, making his decision late Tuesday.

"Jiles and I have been hooking up since the seventh grade," Delaney said. "I figured if we went to TCU and played to the best of our abilities, we could win a championship there."

SMU regains summit; Raiders defeat Baylor

DALLAS (AP) - The smallest Mustang stopped Southern Methodist's stampede off the Southwest Conference basketball summit with his finest game.

Stubby Butch Moore, a 5-foot-9 junior guard built like a bulldog who looks like smokin' Joe Frazier, scored a career-high 25 points Wednesday night to carry the Mustangs to a hard-earned 81-79 victory over Texas A&M.

The victory gave SMU a one-game edge over A&M, Arkansas and Texas Tech in a still-to-be decided league race.

In other games, Tech nudged Rice 61-60 and Texas Christian bounced Baylor 81-70.

"Butch Moore is the best player they have," said Aggie Coach Shelby Metcalf. "I've said that all along. He's a great competitor."

Moore hit his first nine shots and said, "I haven't had a game like this since I played against Mt. Vernon in high school back at Newburgh, New York.

"I felt in the warmups like my shot was going to go. So I took it to 'em."

SMU made 15 of 18 foul shots in the second half but went 8:29 without a field goal as the Mustangs almost blew a 19-point lead.

"The team came back from three tough losses (Arkansas, North Carolina State, Baylor)," said SMU Coach Dave Bliss. "The Aggies made a great comeback at the end but we just gutted it out. The first half of this game showed what this team can do."

SMU meets Louisille in Moody Coliseum in a nationally televised non-conference game on Saturday afternoon.

SMU improved its league record to 9-3 while the Aggies fell to 7-4 before a sellout crowd of 9,007 in jammed Moody Coliseum. The Mustangs are 19-5 overall and A&M is 15-7.

Guard Don Marbury scored a game-high 27 points before he fouled out for the Aggies.

Jon Koncak scored 24 points for the Mustangs and had five blocked shots while Kenny Brown scored 24 points for the Aggies.

Coming off a 94-90 upset win over SMU on Monday, Baylor lost to TCU as guard Dennis Nutt scored 22 points and Jamie Dixon added a career-high 21 off the bench.

TCU improved its record to 14-9, 6-6 in the SWC, while Baylor dropped to 9-13 and 2-9.

In Houston, guard Bubba Jennings scored 28 points, including a pair of free throws with eight seconds left, to pace Texas Tech, which upped its record to 15-7 overall and 7-4 in the conference.

Rice is 2-10 in the conference and 9-13 overall.

Freeman honored; playoffs scheduled

By BILL McCLELLAN
SDN Sports Editor

More honors for Snyder's youth.

Kyle Freeman, Ragin' Tigers tight end, has been named to the first team All-Texas Super Football Team. Freeman joins Willie Greathouse and Justin Webb as gridders receiving post-season honors from Snyder.

The All-Texas Super Team is a unit composed of players across the state and is selected by the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce with the aid of 15 sportswriters.

Other area players named were John Layfield, Sweetwater tackle; Bobby Lilljudahl, Abilene Wylie quarterback; Cooper defensive lineman David Newman; quarterback Alton Holloway and wide receiver Greg Anderson of Permian; running back Tyronne Thurman and kicker Greg Kamradt of Midland Lee; and Central defensive backs Rodney Anthony and Ottoway Perryman.

Also chosen were Anthony Scurark, Monahans linebacker; Jay Brownlee, Andrews lineman and Kirk Greer, Post defensive back.

You gentlemen out there who were blessed with three daughters and no sons - thus bringing to a half the dream of a budding Larry Bird - can take heart. Your kid can still do you proud.

You've probably heard that the Harlem Globetrotters are going coed.

They'll end a 58-year tradition and bring a woman - or two or three - into the act.

One restriction. The word is that she should have the skills of a Cheryl Miller, the University of Southern California All-American.

Snyder high school boys will play their final basketball game of the season when they host Pecos on Friday night at 8:30. A victory could give the Tigers third place in the District 2-4A race along with Pecos.

A junior varsity game begins at 7. The late times are due to the travel distance between Snyder and Pecos. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for students at the coliseum.

Snyder will also host a bunch of area playoff games, including Levelland and Sweetwater girls. Levelland is ranked No. 2 in Class 4A; Sweetwater is No. 8. That game takes place Saturday night at 7.

Western Texas looks for victories tonight

CLARENDON -- Western Texas College's Dusters were in shape to put a near-lock on second place in the Western JC Athletic Conference here tonight as they prepared to clash with Clarendon.

The women's game is the first of a doubleheader between the two colleges, which starts at 6.

A win for the Dusters tonight would give them a three-game lead over the third place Lady Bulldogs with just three games left on the season. That outcome would almost assure the Dusters of the conference's second seed into the upcoming Region V Tournament.

Western's men, the Westerners, are currently tied for fifth in the standings and need a win tonight to remain in that spot. Finishing fifth or sixth in the standings would assure the Westerners a home berth in the first round of the playoffs.

Dusters vs Clarendon

Western's women are 25-5 on the season and 8-2 in conference play. The conference record includes an 83-62 win over Clarendon.

The Lady Bulldogs, one of the conference's most improved teams of late, are 15-5 and 6-4. The 'Dogs are in third place in the conference standings, two games behind Western's Dusters.

The Dusters come into the game following a disappointing 58-54 loss to No. 1 ranked Odessa. Odessa is leading the WJCAC with an 11-0 record. Clarendon defeated Frank Phillips earlier this week, 78-59.

The Dusters are led in scoring by 6-2 Clara Campbell, who averages 16.9 points. Patti Hayes, Renvy Evans and Lyndy French - all sophomores - are putting up 11.3, 10.7 and 9.6 points respectively.

Western is averaging 73.3 points and giving up 63.5 while shooting .431 from the field and .615 from the freethrow line.

Clarendon is led by 5-11 sophomore Pam Walker, who averages 20.4 points and 7.7 rebounds. Yolanda Terry, a 5-7 sophomore, averages 12.1 points.

The Lady 'Dogs average 68 points and avera allowing 61.6. They are shooting .451 from the field and .586 from the line.

Westerners vs Clarendon

Western's men come into the game at 16-10 overall and 6-7 in Western JC Athletic Conference play. Clarendon men are 6-19 and 1-12.

Western struggled in their previous meeting with the Bulldogs, edging them 69-67 at home.

The Westerners are getting 17.1 points and 6.3 rebounds from 6-5 freshman James Dawn. Alvin Hicks, a 6-3 freshman, is averaging 13.9 points. Sophomores Victor Spencer and Floyd Singleton average 13.3 and 12.4 respectively.

Western is shooting .552 from the line and .640 from the field while averaging 91.3 points and allowing 82.1.

Clarendon scoring leaders are Carl Curry, a 6-7 freshman averaging 9.2 points; Adam Richards, a 6-6 sophomore averaging 8.8; and Keith Kubicek, a 6-6 sophomore averaging 6.7. Kubicek also averages 5.8 boards a game.

Lewis reportcard gives good grade

Snyder Coach Albert Lewis said he was pleased with the Tigers' first baseball scrimmage of the season, held Monday with Abilene Cooper.

The Tigers, defending 2-4A champions, will scrimmage again Saturday at 1 o'clock in Midland against Midland Lee.

"It was a pretty good scrimmage as far as we were concerned. Our pitching and defense were good. We didn't hit the ball very well, though," said the coach.

Lewis noted that he was especially pleased with the first-time showing of pitcher Justin Webb and catcher Ricky Hunter.

Webb pitched "strong" for three innings while Hunter tossed out four of five baserunners. He might have had five-of-five, had it not been for a dropped ball, Lewis added.

In addition to Webb, Jimmy Velasquez threw for two and two-thirds innings and Jimmy Cain went for one-third.

"I thought they whould pound us pretty good," said Lewis of Abilene Cooper, "but we took a two-run lead into the bottom of the sixth. We had an error and gave up two walks. Two of their runs were walked in."

Both teams got three runs and three hits.

Lewis said he plans to take a look at Arkansas transfer William Foree, a junior righthander, when the Tigers scrimmage Midland Lee. The coach said Foree, 6-4, is also a good basketball prospect for Snyder High.

Lewis will also gander at senior lefthander Willie Greathouse.

Charles Bollinger, a two-time all-district pitcher for the Tigers, will probably join the Tigers for Saturday's scrimmage but may not see duty on the mound. He winds up his basketball career Friday night as Snyder entertains Pecos in the final cage contest of the season.

Health care providers attack budget plans

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Members of the U.S. House Budget Committee have been told that the Reagan Administration's proposals for fiscal 1986 spending on Medicare and Medicaid would be "a major blow to some of the most vulnerable people in Texas."

"The government and administration are not treating patients as individuals, but rather as groups," Dallas physician Dr. Emmett Conrad told the committee Wednesday. "Good health simply cannot be produced by mass production."

Witnesses representing health care providers — including community service groups, hospitals and private physicians — testified during one of the House panel's field hearings on President Reagan's budget blueprint.

"We're either going to have to drop some of the people we're serving or we're going to have to drop some of the services," said commissioner Marlin W. Johnston of the Texas Department of Human Resources, speculating on the effect of a proposed cut in the federal share of Medicaid expenses.

The administration's budget proposal calls for a $1.1 billion reduction during the 1986 fiscal year in the federal portion of the health care program for low-income Americans, Medicaid, which is administered by the states.

The White House also is seeking fiscal 1986 savings of $250 million in the Medicare program for the elderly. Reagan's budget message put total savings through 1990 at about $5.2 billion, if Congress approves an increase in the Medicare premiums paid by senior citizens, a hike in the annual deductible, and requires recipients to begin paying a fee for home health services.

Conrad also attacked the administration's budget plan for failing to take into account medical advances that have prolonged life and helped increase America's elderly population.

Aside from blasting the Reagan budget proposal, few speakers offered suggestions for ways the Budget Committee could trim spending without affecting health care services.

"The bills are going to have to be paid," said Rep. Marvin Leath, D-Texas, adding that "the bills are either going to be paid in higher taxes or ... in sensible reforms to programs where we can try to live within the means."

Dear Abby

'Twenty Questions' Is Serious Game for Gamblers Anonymous

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1985 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I've been married to Al (not his real name) for 16 years. I love him and I know he loves me, but I cannot stay in this marriage unless he quits gambling. Al owns his own business and we live well, but he owes money all over. He bets on football, basketball, baseball, boxing, horses and dogs. He even bets on elections, and he bets big!

I know he's won a lot of money, but he never tells me how much he loses.

Please help me to help him, Abby. Gambling is like a disease with him.

AL'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Compulsive gambling is a disease; it's never "cured," but it can be controlled. Gamblers Anonymous (fashioned after Alcoholics Anonymous) offers this questionnaire:

1. Do you ever lose time from work due to gambling?
2. Is gambling making your home life unhappy?
3. Is gambling affecting your reputation?
4. Have you ever felt remorse after gambling?
5. Do you ever gamble to get money with which to pay debts or otherwise solve financial problems?
6. Does gambling decrease your ambition? Efficiency?
7. After losing, do you feel you must return as soon as possible and win back your losses?
8. After a win, do you have a strong urge to return and win more?
9. Do you often gamble your last dollar?
10. Do you ever borrow to finance your gambling?
11. Have you ever sold anything to finance gambling?
12. Are you reluctant to use "gambling money" for normal expenditures?
13. Does gambling make you careless of the welfare of your family?
14. Do you ever gamble longer than you had planned?
15. Have you ever gambled to escape worry or trouble?
16. Have you ever committed, or considered committing, an illegal act to finance gambling?
17. Does gambling cause you to have difficulty in sleeping?
18. Do arguments, disappointments or frustrations create in you an urge to gamble?
19. Do you ever have an urge to celebrate any good fortune by a few hours of gambling?
20. Have you ever considered self-destruction as the result of your gambling?

Ask your husband to answer these questions honestly, and if he answers yes to seven or more questions, he is a compulsive gambler, and I strongly recommend that he get in touch with Gamblers Anonymous (it's in your phone book).

It is a non-profit fellowship of men and women who admit that gambling is not a game or a sport—it's a disease they must learn to control.

Encourage your husband to go to a meeting and learn firsthand how he can overcome the disease.

For more information about Gamblers Anonymous, write to the national office: P.O. Box 17173, Los Angeles, Calif. 90017. Please enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

CONFIDENTIAL TO YOU: Don't tell me it's St. Valentine's Day again! Well, it is, so be a sweetheart, and call someone you love and say, "I love you." (Make two or three calls. Who said you can't love more than one person—in different ways, of course.)

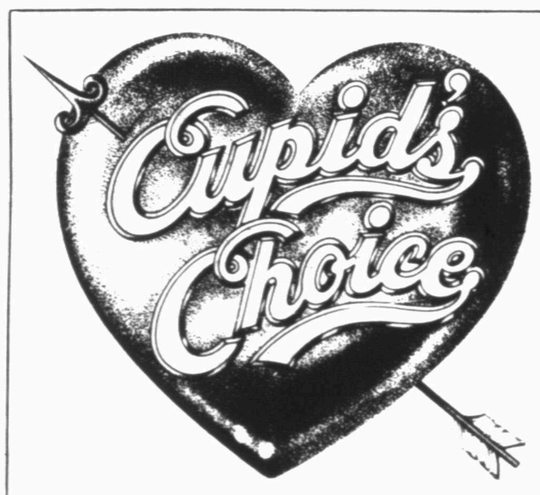

Go through your closets and put all those clothes you haven't worn in a year in a box for Goodwill or your favorite charity. Take some flowers to someone in a nursing home and offer to take him or her for a little ride. Forgive an enemy. Pray for your friends. Donate some blood. Pay your doctor bill. Listen to your teen-ager. Tip the cook in addition to the waiter—or waitress. Invite a lonely lady (or gentleman) to lunch. Tell your parents you think they're wonderful. Drive carefully. If you're walking, watch where you're going.

And don't wait until next year to be a sweetheart again.

Love, ABBY

China or glassware with depressions in the design can often be a catchall for coffee and tea stains or even invisible germs. To clean the cutwork design, here's a tip from Family Circle magazine: Clean with an old toothbrush dipped in a water and ammonia mixture; follow with soap and water, then rinse well.

Officials of Porsche motor cars says quality control is of major importance to them. They say every eighth person on the manufacturing lines is an inspector, while workers themselves are given a sizeable portion of the finished product to assemble to ensure quality.

Shultz questioning Castro's sincerity

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dismissing overtures from Cuba's Fidel Castro as "a lot of rhetoric," Secretary of State George P. Shultz says a peaceful settlement in Nicaragua is possible only if the Sandinista government takes a democratic turn.

In an interview Wednesday in his office, Shultz adopted a tough stance toward both Cuba and Nicaragua even while defending an expanded U.S. dialogue with the Soviet Union, with which the two Marxist countries have close ties.

He called U.S. negotiations with Moscow "a damage control operation" essential to reducing tensions, but brushed aside recent statements by Castro that U.S.-Cuban relations could improve in President Reagan's second term.

"It's a lot of rhetoric," Shultz said in an interview to be broadcast Saturday by the Voice of America on its 30th anniversary. "What we look for is some change in his behavior. And his behavior is to continue to try to export revolution all over the hemisphere."

Similarly, Shultz said Nicaragua "doesn't show any signs at all of an inclination to live up to the stated aims of its own revolution." He accused Nicaragua's leftist government of holding a conscientious objector hostage and said the action "belies the words they like to use."

Shultz said the incident involving Jose Manuel Urbina Lara prompted Costa Rica, Honduras and El Salvador to refuse to attend a meeting on settling the conflicts in Central America.

"We're ready to help in the Contadora process in any way we can," Shultz said. "We tried. But we don't see the talks with Nicaragua getting any where."

The Contadora group, a collection of Latin American nations seeking a peaceful resolution to Central America's conflicts, announced cancellation of the meeting Wednesday in Mexico City.

He died Sunday in Claremont, Calif. of gunshot wounds suffered during an apparent robbery attempt in that city.

Two juvenile suspects have been arrested by Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department personnel in connection with the shooting.

Stormie's mom to wed Feb. 14

DALLAS (AP) — When Greg Brown decided to wed Lois "Susie" Jones on Valentine's Day because it would be easy to remember anniversaries, he didn't realize the date was already unforgettable for his future wife.

On Feb. 14 last year, Ms. Jones' daughter, Stormie, became the first person in the world to receive a heart and liver in the same operation.

"I didn't put two and two together for a long time," Brown said. "I had no idea Feb. 14 was the day of her operation."

A party celebrating Stormie's first anniversary has been moved from the University of Texas Health Science Center at Dallas to the Victory Assembly of God Church, site of her mother's wedding and reception this afternoon.

The 7-year-old girl was born with a genetic disorder that dangerously elevated her blood cholesterol levels, leading to two heart attacks in late 1983.

CNN newsman escapes from captors

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Jeremy Levin, the Beirut bureau chief for Cable News Network who disappeared last March 7, escaped from his captors early today, according to a Beirut radio report and a Syrian source in the eastern Lebanese city of Baalbek.

"He escaped. He is with us," said the Syrian source, who spoke to The Associated Press on condition he not be identified.

The Christian Voice of Lebanon radio station said Levin, 51, had escaped, and that he had appeared at Syrian military headquarters in Baalbek at about 2 a.m. It gave no further details.

The office of the French news agency Agence France Presse in Beirut said an AFP correspondent in Baalbek had seen Levin and that he appeared to be in good health, but was tired.

Pictures shown by AFP to The Associated Press in Beirut showed Levin looking extremely tired, with his hair in disarray. AFP said the photographs were taken between 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. today in a Syrian intelligence office in Baalbek.

Youth still listed critical an individual who was near the scene of the accident said there was a hissing sound coming from the ground before the accident.

She said the line itself was a buried 2-inch plastic line which linked an air compressor at Pengo. It was beneath the ground just a few inches, she said.

The speculation is the boy placed his ear near the ground to determine where the hissing was coming. The leaking line then apparently exploded, possibly due to the weight of someone kneeling over it.

Family members say individuals across the street from the Pengo yard heard the explosion, which was described as so loud one person thought a train from the nearly Santa Fe railway line had derailed.

After being transported to St. Mary's Friday night, the youth underwent eight hours of surgery.

Although still listed in critical condition, his sister said Wednesday that hospital officials have expressed confidence that he has weathered the most dangerous portion of his recovery.

He remains unable to speak or react, but machines which monitor his internal reactions note his blood pressure rises when family members speak to him or enter the room.

This has led to speculation that he is conscious of his surroundings.

Although he was listed in critical condition Thursday morning, the report is his vital signs are stable. Doctors have told family members that it will be weeks before they can make a definite diagnosis regarding all aspects of his recovery.

Texas Senate has approved bills for bingo, health spas

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate has voted to protect Texans from "sham" health spas that sell memberships and then never open their doors.

Senators on Wednesday also sent to the House bills to prevent any "criminal element" from moving in on bingo and to establish a council that would develop a statewide plan for fighting cancer.

A total of 44,500 Texans were diagnosed last year as having cancer, which causes an annual loss to the Texas economy of over $1.5 billion.

Sen. Lindon Williams, D-Houston, said his health spa proposal would require all funds collected as prepayments for membership to be deposited in an escrow account, where the funds would be held until 30 days after the spa had opened for business.

Full refunds would be made if the spa did not open for business within six months of the sale of the first membership. Spa owners in business for two years would be exempt from the escrow provision.

Spas would have to file a bond of from $20,000 to $50,000 as security against possible financial losses.

Violators of the law could be sent to jail for a year and fined $2,000, and spas that violated any injunction would be subject to civil penalties of up to $50,000.

The Texas Department of Labor and Standards would administer the new regulations. Spas already in business on Sept. 1, the proposed effective date of the law, would not be affected.

Two bills were offered by Sen. Carlos Truan to strengthen state regulation of bingo games.

One measure would make penalties more consistent and would allow the state comptroller to suspend bingo games if he determines they are a "public threat." The other bill would allow the comptroller to obtain criminal records in investigating those applying for or holding bingo licenses.

"We're concerned that a dangerous element might come into our state and take over these games," said Truan, D-Corpus Christi. The bingo law of 1983 was designed to benefit non-profit charitable and fraternal organizations.

Sen. Roy Blake, D-Nacogdoches, said, "The criminal element has become involved or there would be no need for this legislation."

"There is a concern," Truan said.

A measure by Sen. Chet Brooks, D-Pasadena, would create the 16-member Texas Cancer Council, which would be attached to the state health department.

Stocks, retail and car sales advance

NEW YORK (AP) — Bullish investors buoyed by a belief that the economy will continue to grow without triggering runaway inflation pushed the most-used indicator of Wall Street's health to record heights.

Volume on the New York Stock Exchange swelled to 142.46 million shares Wednesday, up from 111.12 million on Tuesday, as the Dow Jones index of 30 industrial stocks closed at 1,297.92 for a gain of 21.31 points on the day.

At one point Wednesday the index broke through the 1,300 level, hitting 1,304.66 before retreating in the last half hour of trading. The widely watched market barometer's previous closing high, 1,292.62, was reached Jan. 29.

Wall Street is encouraged that interest rates have remained relatively stable following their declines in late 1984. The declines lowered yields available on bonds, making returns on stocks more competitive. Inflation on the consumer level was a modest 4 percent in 1984.

Retail sales rose 0.7 percent in January thanks to a 4 percent gain in auto sales.

PUBLIC NOTICE

AT&T Communications of the Southwest, Inc. ("AT&T Communications"), in accordance with the Public Utility Regulatory Act and the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas ("PUC") hereby gives notice of its intent to implement a new schedule of rates for its services. The new rates will be effective February 22, 1985, unless otherwise determined by the PUC. All customers and classes of customers would be affected by the proposed rates.

AT&T Communications has filed restructured tariffs designed to more closely recover access and other costs for private line, DATAPHONE* Digital Service, OCC Facilities, WATS and 800 services.

Also proposed is the institution of a charge for directory assistance to begin to recover access costs incurred for such service, and increases in rates for operator assisted AT&T Long Distance calls.

AT&T Communications is proposing to restructure its AT&T Long Distance Service and to reduce its overall revenues from basic long distance approximately $25 million.

While long distance rates will, in most instances, be reduced, certain AT&T Long Distance rates are proposed to be increased to more nearly recover the access charges approved by the PUC for such service.

The proposed new rates for all services would result in an increase in adjusted test period revenues of $123.4 million, or 11.3 percent.

A complete copy of the proposed tariffs are on file with the Texas Public Utility Commission.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene or participate or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information also may be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227 or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.
