Ranchers Apply For Feed Under Emergency Plan

Restoration Of Program Brings Rush For Feed

Crockett county ranchers hard hit by the late freeze which increased feeding needs or made stock feeding necessary in cases where it was not already under way, were rushing to the FFA offices here for purchase of feed following the action of the Department of Agriculture in placing this county on the emergency list last week.

More than 20 orders had already been issued at the ASC office this week and the local FFA committee was processing other applications as dry weather continued.

Application blanks are available at the local FFA office in the Ozona, where George James is in charge. Applicants are required to list their livestock, and the amount of feed on hand. Each rancher may apply for enough feed to last him through May 15.

These applications are approved by the FFA committee which includes Marshall Montgomery, John Fogarty and George James.

Applications which are approved are sent to the ASC office in the floor of the hospital building and there purchase orders are issued for the amount of feed the rancher wishes to buy. These purchase orders are issued as they are called for, Mrs. Mary Dunlap, executive officer, explained.

All applications must be made here April 29 and all purchase orders must be used by May 15.

Many Ranchmen See Demonstration Of Wool Shearing, Preparation

About fifty interested ranchmen were on hand Saturday at the Ozona Wool & Mohair Co. warehouse to witness a demonstration of the proper method of shearing and preparing a wool clip for market.

The demonstration was conducted by James A. Gray, sheep and goat specialist with the A&M Co. extension service. Twenty head of sheep from the Bill Bagley flock were shorn by local shearers and Mr. Gray pointed out the correct shearing methods, and showed the ranchmen how to cut tags and how to properly pack the 12-month fleece.

Ozona Girls Win Volleyball Title; Play In Regional

Beat London For District; Brownwood Regional Site

Ozona High School girls volleyball team, won the district championship in a play-off between east and west half champions in Sonora Monday night.

The Ozona girls, coached by Miss Geneva Knox, had won the west half championship and met the London High School team, winners of the east half title, in the sudden death playoff in Sonora.

The play-off game was set for four 8-minute quarters, the team with the largest score at the end of this play being the district winner. The Ozona girls, after a shaky start, got the range of the net and were still piling up points when the game ended with the score 42-10 in their favor.

The district championship entitles the Ozona team to play in an unofficial regional title tournament to be staged Friday and Saturday in Brownwood, under sponsorship of Howard Payne College. Eight teams will compete in the Brownwood tournament, beginning Friday morning and continuing through Saturday. Since the tournament is unofficial and designed solely to further interest in volleyball, no trophies will be awarded.

Ozona's first game is set for 10:45 Friday morning, but information as to the opponent in the opener was not available at press time.

Tornado Drill For Schools Gets Serious As Cloud Is Sighted

Pupils and teachers at the North Elementary school have been having regular tornado drills this year, a precaution which could prove a possible life saver for children in case of a real blow.

All thought it was just another drill shortly afternoon Wednesday when the tornado alert was sounded. Teachers rounded up pupils in the hallways, lined them up against the walls in the manner prescribed as the safest place in case of a tornado, and everything was orderly in perfect drill fashion.

But outside, the school janitors, Gilbert Sanchez and Macedonio Landin, were keeping watch for Principal Frank James on a suspicious cone-shaped cloud which stood upright in the northwest sky moving directly toward the school building. The janitors had sighted the cloud and called Mr. James' attention to it.

"It looked like a huge smoke-stack", Mr. James described it. "It was white and moving in the wrong direction from what I had always understood tornadoes do, but it was funnel-shaped and moving rapidly and we decided to play it safe with the children."

First And Second Graders Get First Polio Shots Tues.

Nearly 200 Children Given Salk Immunizing Vaccine

First and second grade pupils of Ozona schools nearly 200 of them, received their first shots of Salk polio vaccine Tuesday and Wednesday in a mass inoculation given by Drs. H. B. Tandy and Ralph Simon and their nurses and staff nurses of the Crockett County hospital.

The children were loaded by classes into school buses and driven to the hospital where the shots were given. The children were for the most part very orderly and few of them even cried, the doctors reported. One youngster panicked at the sight of the needles and bolted, but she was later returned by her mother and submitted to the ordeal.

A total of 179 pupils of the two grades had been signed up to receive the shots and all but 11 of these reported the first day, the others being absent from school because of illness or other causes. Most of these were inoculated Wednesday and the balance will receive the shots as soon as they report.

A supplemental supply of vaccine was flown by air express from Austin Wednesday to provide inoculations for 14 children in the first and second grades of the negro school, overlooked in the original totals on which the original vaccine order was based. These children are to receive their shots today.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which is providing funds for purchase of the vaccine for all first and second grade pupils in the nation's schools, has decided on the method recommended by Dr. Salk for giving the vaccine, two shots two weeks apart and a third, or booster shot, in seven months or more. This procedure will be followed here. Dr. Tandy said.

None of the vaccine is yet available commercially. A quantity has been ordered by the local hospital for delivery when it becomes available.

100 Area Golfers May Enter Pro-Am Tourney Here Fri.

Balanced Foursomes To Compete In Invitational Meet

Amateur and professional golfers from all over West Texas, expected to number a hundred or more, will converge on Ozona Friday to play in the invitational pro-amateur golf tournament at the Ozona Country Club course.

The tournament will be run off under a handicap plan by which foursomes will be balanced with professional and amateur talent. Players will be rated A, B and C according to ability and professionals will be scattered one to a foursome, with A, B and C talent distributed so that all foursomes will be as nearly as possible equalled in potential scoring ability. Both men and women players will play in the tournament.

Invitations have been posted in all golf clubs in the area and advance information indicates that players will be here from most of the surrounding towns to participate in the play.

Tournament directors will start foursomes as they are formed and players will be assigned to groups as they report through the day, foursomes teeing off as play progresses. All Ozona golfers are invited to enter the 18-hole tournament. Entry fee will be $3.

For the convenience of visitors and any local people who desire to take advantage of it, luncheon will be served at the club house at $1.50 a plate.

SIMPLE ENOUGH

Arthur Krock of the New York Times, who is widely regarded as the country's ablest and most knowing Washington correspondent, has said that the row over the Dixon-Yates contract, under which taxpaying private enterprise is to build a $107,000,000 electric plant to serve an Atomic Energy Commission installation in Arkansas, is one of the worst exhibitions of partisan politics in years.

The contract has been declared sound and favorable to the government by a long list of top organizations and individuals — including AEC commissioners, the Federal Power Commission, ranking Senators and Representatives, and the President of the United States himself. It was the result of painstaking negotiation, in which the interest of the government was the paramount consideration.

Why, then, should there be so bitter and prolonged a controversy?

This quotation from an editorial
in the Council Bluffs, Iowa, Nonpareil, helps to answer that question: "This Dixon-Yates controversary is a fight between public power and private power. Nothing else. If public power is good for the country, so is public ownership of coal mines, steel mills, automobiles companies, grocery and department stores, collective farms like they have in Russia."
And there you have it!

PURE AND IMPURE
ELECTRICITY

It's obvious from the squabble over the Dixon-Yates contract and other such events that the public power advocates regard the electricity that comes from tax supported socialized systems as pure
— and that which comes from tax-paying private plants as impure.

The Wall Street Journal had an enlightening commentary on this.
It said: "One of the things that has made the public power stalwarts throw up their hands in horror over the proposed Dixon-Yates contract is the thought that a private power company — perish the thought — would be furnishing electricity to the TVA.

"Public power is public power,
so the TVA refrain goes, and private power is beyond the pale and never the twain should meet.

"Well, we have just been looking at the annual report of the Louisville Gas and Electric Company. We see that for some time now the TVA has been calling on the Louisville company for help whenever it ran short of power.
Let the rains slack off and lower the water level in TVA dams and the Authority hooks in with the private company to fill its electrical lines. Last year this was no small business. Louisville's sales to TVA in 1954 totaled $4,251,868 worth of electricity... We haven't heard any speeches on the floor of the Senate denouncing it. And we haven't heard that this mixing of private power with Government power blew out any fuses...

"We don't suppose this bit of intelligence will dampen the fervor of those who think TVA will be contaminated by Dixon-Yates power. But it ought to perish a thoughtless argument."

day the woodshed was replaced

RANCH FIRE

A bunkhouse at the Embree Bunt ranch, 15 miles southwest of Ozona, was destroyed by fire late Wednesday afternoon. The Ozona fire department sent two trucks to the ranch to fight the fire and prevent its spread to other ranch buildings.

A PRECIOUS RIGHT

A short time ago the Utah legislature passed a right-to-work bill,
under which no one can be compelled to join a labor union or any other type of organization in order to work at his trade or profession.

In signing the measure, Governor Lee observed that no one should be "forced to join any organization and pay dues for its support in order to gain employment or keep a job."

The unions claim these laws will hamper the union movement. That is frail argument indeed. For the laws protect the right of a man to join if he so chooses as well as to not join. Certainly, if any union can show that it is performing a valuable service, it will have no trouble maintaining and increasing its membership."

All the right-to-work laws do to make membership in an organization voluntary, not compulsory. That is as precious a right as a free people can enjoy.

"Without God, there could be no American form of government."
— President Eisenhower.

Time To Spray Pecan Trees For CASEBEARERS

From now through the next two or three weeks is the time to spray your pecan trees to control Casebearers — the insect which destroys the nut crop.

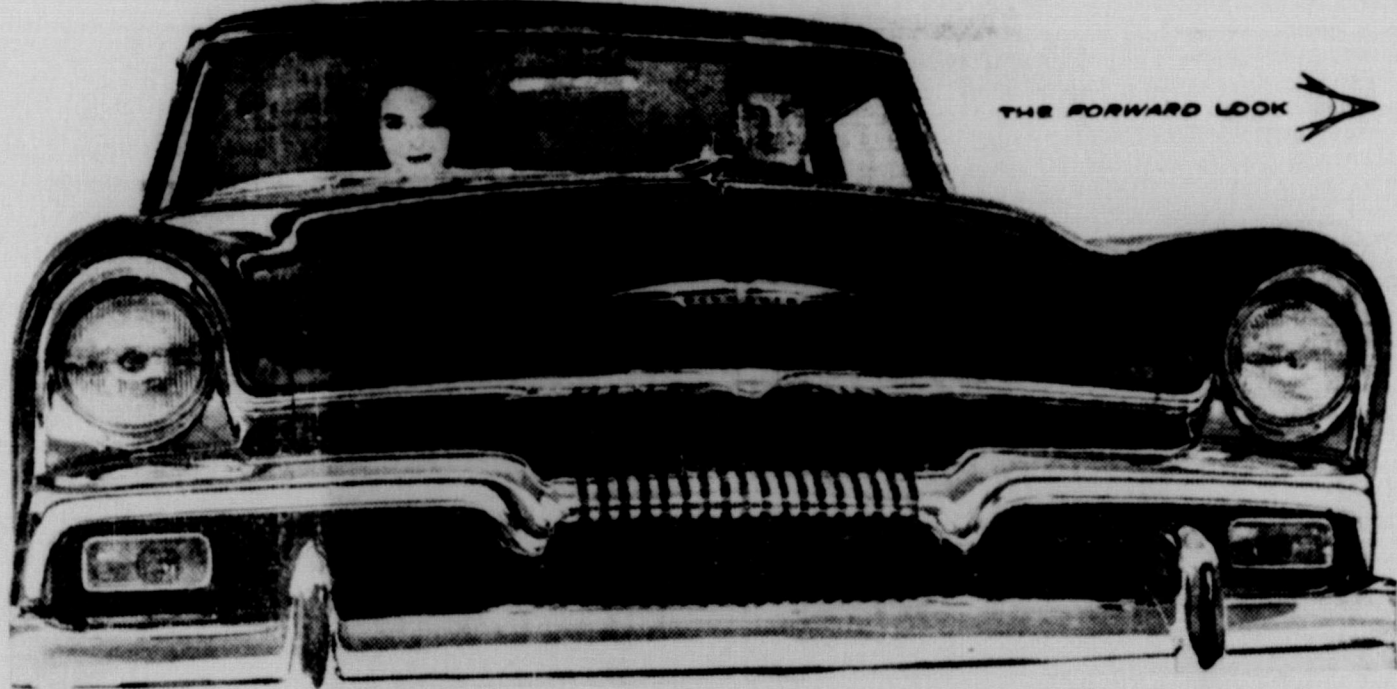

Time of spraying is vital in controlling the casebearer. A killing compound must be on the tree to destroy the eggs or larva before they bore into the embryo nut — afterwards is too late.

We are watching trees and at the proper time will begin spraying. The scientifically compounded formula we use stays on two or three weeks, barring rain, and will be effective in destroying eggs and larva before they develop.

Leave your order with us and just tell us to "take care" of your trees. Also controls for caterpillars and pecan borers.

Must Satisfy Nature's Requirements If Land
Is To Yield Maximum

By Sam Fitzhugh, SCS

Nature is a cheerful helper but a relentless foe. Before man came along, her way of keeping balance was hard and ruthless; drought, winter cold, disease, and predators regulated the grazing population. With these controls, she was able to maintain the most productive plants and build up the soil. By studying the requirements of Nature and using the range according to those requirements, the rancher can get a good harvest of forage and produce a good turnout of meat and wool. At the same time, he will keep the basic resource — the soil — in good order.

In the United States, over half the land, nearly a billion acres produces grass for livestock. Yet, in our own section, there remains only a small per cent of the original type vegetation. The grasses such as sideoats grama, the blue-stems, green sprangletop, plains brome along with the desirable forbs upperleaf, dusty miller, the daleas and many others used to be in great abundance over our own locale.

Continuous yearlong use, coupled with the droughty climate contributed largely to this decrease and change of our grasses. As the perennial high quality grasses were used excessively, nature was thrown out of balance. She quickly retaliated by covering the ground with lesser producing grasses, weeds, and even many undesirable invading forms of vegetation in order to protect herself.

One means of covering the bare spots and lesser plant forms with the better, higher producing ones is by resting or deferment. Deferment permits the good plants to become strong, increase in size and vigor. It permits litter and cover to accumulate to protect the soil and absorb rainfall. Plants are allowed to seed out to produce seedlings and resist undesirable invaders. On pastures where there are large areas of bare ground with only a small per cent of the good grasses, comeback may appear to be slow. When severely denuded ranges are present, two growing seasons will insure quickest and best results. In Nature's order of plant succession, the next step above bare ground is an annual type of plant growth. For the large part, these are low producing and may even be undesirable plants. These produce only sufficient cover for soil protection and make a seed bed for the better plants to grow in.

Rest is most beneficial during the growing season, with five or six months being better than less time. Moderate use after the grasses have seeded out will help spread seed.

Maximum production is obtained only when 40 to 50 per cent of the annual growth is grazed. This allows the plants to retain their vigor and sufficient leaf surface for growth plus the added protective cover that is formed on the ground to get maximum benefit of rainfall, be it 1 or 3 inches.

By resting the best pasture first gives the best and most economical improvement in building up forage production. Don't overuse part of the range in order to rest part. Livestock should be adjusted to the amount of forage being produced.

justed to the amount of forage being produced.

Deferment is an excellent method of getting production ahead of the livestock.

GOSSIP —

Dear Wanda

With this summer weather finally arriving everyone has spring fever and is just too lazy to do much. In fact it's almost an effort for us to write this, especially since everyone else is too lazy to do anything for us to write about.

Last week something just happened to us and we didn't get your letter mailed so I guess if we put in some of last week's doings no one will mind.

Martha and Carol F. were real secretive about their dates for Wednesday night. They weren't telling anyone who they were going with or where they were going. But the next day they admitted they had gone to the drive-in with Jesse and Kent Babb and "that the best time."

Carolyn and Martha left Saturday for Lake Walk with Martha's aunt to spend the night on the lake with some friends from the University of Houston. Then Sunday, they went to Old Mexico to watch the bull fights. Martha tells us that they had a real good time.

Sonny seemed to be having fun imitating how Ann acts when she gets mad at him. It was exaggerated, of course, but pretty funny. At least John S. thought so. Ann and Barbara didn't get such a kick out of it.

Carol and Jody, Barbara-John, went to Angelo Sunday just to mess around. Jody had a wonderful time playing with a periscope. He decided that it was looking at girls in other cars. But Carol soon put a stop to that.

Elizabeth had a thrilling ride in town Friday afternoon. She had a date with him and he came after her in his airplane.

I know of several girls who would have given their eye-teeth to be in Liz's place but from what I hear it is an invitation deal, only.

Everyone is measuring time by when school will be out and the way we figure it there is only 16 days left to come to school. Not that we won't miss it, of course.

Well, we'll see you next week.
Barbara and Sandra

It seems as if Pat and Charles are still going steady, and Mary Jo and Joe Boy haven't said the word yet, but it looks that way. Wanda and Rodney are going pretty strong, maybe this is a new love, who knows? I wonder why Martha enjoys watching Jr. High ball games so much. Could it be because of Mr. Rollin's playing, or the first baseman? The freshman had been rather quiet until a few weeks ago when Royal Caswell came visiting, then everything went off with a bang. It seems his favorite target was Genelle Childress.

From The Headliner—

Dear Kids,

It has been said that "in the spring, a young man's fancy turns to love." But, we all know that this is not always true. In fact, around O. H. S., it seems that the young men's fancies are turning to the barber and odd hair cuts. Nevertheless, to you "unclaimed blessings" (girls without boy-friends), don't be downhearted, because the puppy love, existing among your friends, will more than likely lead to a dog's life anyway.

To you boys that are now out of track, don't get out of condition, lest there is a girl who can run faster than you, and you will find yourself hopelessly (?) in love.

Golly, glad I'm an elf!! Just look at all the worries I keep out of!!!! Until next week.

Roaringly,
Headliner

VOLLEYBALL

Darlyne Alford

Friday, April 15, the volleyball girls traveled to Eldorado to compete in district competition. There should have been three teams competing but, Sonora didn't have a team so that left Ozona and Eldorado in this half of the district. The game was played at 1:30 Friday, in the Eldorado gym.

The games were played on the basis of the best two out of three — 8 minute ball and play time. In short, the clock stopped everytime the ball did. Ozona won both games so there was no need for a third game. Monday, April 18, the girls played London, the winner of the other half, which consisted of London, Junction, and Menard, in Sonora at 8:00 o'clock p. m. Ozona won the game and Friday and Saturday they will go to Brownwood to compete in the regional meet.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

By Suzanne Dale

If it wasn't for the optimist, the pessimist would never know how happy he wasn't.

You don't have to tell how you live each day;

You don't have to say if you work or play;

A tried, true barometer serves in the place,

However you live, it will show in your face.

If your life is unselfish, if for others you live,

For not what you get, but how much you can give;

If you live close to God in His infinite grace—

You don't have to tell it, it shows in your face.

Texas — Tax plans tailor-made for the House before adjournment last week-end.
A tax-cutting team carried the House "flea to ura-tembus tax compromise.
The House threw the ball over the fence. Net result:
The House refused to pass the bill
in reading. It had to be for further action.

Members rebelled because they weren't in on the play.
The compromise, with more and a less taut rein, however, promised an ultimate tax cut. Members have been talking "$100 million new taxes".
It was just about what the House plan embraced. It involve face saving all a-

four-point plan included:
1. The House cut of the tax to one cent, from originally asked by Governor Shivers. At the same time, the House cut the tax
fourth of its revenue — $100 million a year — would be to cities and counties to pay-of-way.

2. A 10-cent increase on cigarette taxes.

3. A 10-cent increase on beer dealers' taxes. The House voted by a majority of 100 to 0, in deference to group demands, $1 a baron beer was added.

4. A gas production tax to be frozen at its present level. By present law, it dropped to 8 cents in September 1, 1956.
The bill stood when the House passed it, it would raise
one-half million dollars.
Various changes proposed a second compromise would be up to $50 million a year,
reaching the "$100 million"
which members talked.

There still is talk of a special bill should the regular session
be able to iron out differences and how to raise the revenue.

Other Bills Pass

The House walked around the House, a number of non-constitutional bills were passed.

By the House was concurrent in Senate amendments to a bill naming "lewd and depraved"
books.

A Senate amendment shortening the "cooling off"
in divorce cases. The House passed a bill setting the time days. The Senate made it 60.
A Senate bill calling for longer jail sentences in sex offenses involving children approved by the House.
A bill giving a bill
the length limit of
from 45 to 50 feet.

The Senate, 43 local and under bills were passed.

Probe To Continue

Trans land investigations will continue in the Senate, despite bitterness of some members.
Senator Jimmy Phillips said it was wrong to stop it because parties responsible for the fraud have not been exposed and named.

Senators Dorsey B. Hardeman
and Ralph A. Weinstock contended the probe has established the existence of fraud and the time has come for trial of persons indicted.
The bill was 19 to 12 to carry the bill through May 10.

A week was the first in a long time when no new criminal charges, indictments or civil forfei-tures were filed, involving the land.

Passage of additional land
has been voted by the Veterans Board two-to-one with General John Ben Sheppard voting no. Hearing has been given in the Senate on Sen.
Moffett's $100 million bond
bill. A $200 million resolution was passed in the House.

Water Bill Passes

A bill passed by the House was designed to create the Trinity Authority.

The conservation, flood control and irrigation projects are authorized by the bill which specially forbids construction of the canal between the Gulf coast and the Fort-Worth area.

It was the destiny in the House of a proposed constitutional amendment to finance dams and water projects.

The House favored the resolution 78

Asian-African Conference Site

The Republic of Indonesia is host April 18-24 to over 600 delegates from 30 nations, representing half the world's population, meeting for the Asian-African Conference. Sessions will be held in the Dwi Warna "Two-Colors" building (above) (named for the Indonesian two-color flag), Bandung, Java. Although Indonesia is co-sponsor the Government has said that views expressed at the meeting do not necessarily reflect the Republic's own foreign policy nor are binding on any of the other participants. A major objective of the meeting is a search for ways to lessen world tensions. Inset are the prime ministers of the five Colombo Powers sponsoring the conference. Left to right: (top) Mohammed Ali, Pakistan; Ali Sastryamidjojo, Indonesia; Jawaharlal Nehru, India. (Bottom) U Nu, Burma; and Sir John Kotelawala, Ceylon.

Under the defeated proposal, a State Water Commission, with increased authority, would supplant
the State Board of Water Engineers.

Tidelands Again

More trouble looms between the federal government and Texas over the tidelands.

Attorney General Shepperd said
he had discovered that the U. S.
Interior Department and the Department of Justice will oppose Texas' sale of tidelands oil and gas leases May 3.

Congress restored ownership of the tidelands, out to the 10½ mile limit, after the submerged areas had been claimed by the federal government.

Only three miles of the offshore
lands were returned to other states.

Now it appears the federal government wants to hold Texas rights to three miles.

Money from sale of the leases goes into the Texas permanent school fund.

House Invites Salk

Commending Dr. Jonas E. Salk highly on his development of the polio vaccine, the House has invited the Michigan doctor to address the Texas Legislature.

Wool Sales Slips Important To Secure Incentive Payments

With the effective date for the new wool incentive payment program, beginning April 1 of this year, the Texas State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee urges wool growers to secure and hold on to all sales slips showing date and quantity of 1955 wool sold.

These slips, they explain will determine the grower's eligibility for payment and the amount of the payment to be received. The payment will be based on a fixed percentage of what the grower receives for his wool. No payment will be made for less than $3.00.

Only wool of the 1955 clip sheared after January 1, 1955 and marketed in the period April 1, 1955 through March 31, 1956, will be eligible for the incentive payment. Lambs and yearlings, sold for slaughter, unshorn or once shorn but with a wool growth of one and one-half inches will also be eligible for payment.

In the case of lambs and yearlings payments will be made to those who have owned the lambs or yearlings 30 days before slaughter. Certificates to establish this ownership is necessary. The seller of lambs and yearlings to the slaughterer may endorse the ownership back to a prior owner or the original producer who would then be eligible to receive the payment.

The payments will be made some time after March 31, 1956, the end of the marketing year, when the average payment percentage can be determined which will bring the average return for wool to 62 cents per pound, grease basis or 106 per cent of parity as of September 15, 1954. The 106 per cent of parity figure has been determined as the rate which will bring the desired wool production increase within the limits of the estimated funds available. Funds for payments are obtained from 70 per cent of the tariff income on imported wool.

The program is intended to bring U. S. wool production up to 300 million pounds annually. The program also provides payments on mohair which will bring the U. S. average return to growers to 91 per cent of parity as of September 15, 1954.

Fort Worth. — All classes of cattle and calves were weak to 50 cents lower in the week's opening trade at Fort Worth Monday. Fed cattle were under most pressure and moved in a slow trade at prices 50 cents, or more, lower than last week.

The 5,000 head received at Fort Worth was the most since November. Total receipts at the twelve major markets was the largest since January and this had some influence in lowering prices. Also, many of the cattle are off of lush grass pastures, which reduces the dressing per cent.

Stocker were about the only kind that sold at steady prices. Choice stocker steer yearlings and stocker or steer calves still sell up to $22. Low grade stockers are slow and hard to move at $15 and less. Stocker cows brought $10 to $12.

Want to feel like a pilot feels?

HOTTEST BUICK IN HISTORY

No wonder you see so many '55 Buicks on the highway — they're setting up bigger sales than ever before in history — helping the popularity that has already made Buick one of the "Big Three" of America's best sellers.

Today's the day to "Join The Test Pilot Club" and see what a thrill you get when you try Variable Pitch Dynaflo®

We're not kidding.

When you try a '55 Buick with Variable Pitch Dynaflo, you'll feel like a pilot does when he heads his plane down a runway for take-off.

For you, in the driver's seat, are doing what that pilot does — you're changing the pitch of your propellers — one way for instant response on getaway — another way for better gas mileage in cruising.

Your propellers are whirling in oil, deep inside the Dynaflo unit. When you press the pedal in the normal way, you hold those propellers in their economy angle — and you enjoy plenty more miles from your gasoline.

But when you want instant acceleration — for quick getaways, or for a sudden safety-surge of emergency power — you just press the pedal way down, and — with absolute smoothness — you get the action you want, and split-second quick.

It's the thrill that's the talk of the industry — performance unlike anything you have ever known before on the ground.

And so many folks have been asking to try it that we Buick dealers across America have set up April as "Test Pilot Club" Month. All it takes to join the "Club" is a test drive at the wheel of a new Buick. That's all.

So we cordially invite you to win your "wings" — to try the spectacular performance of Variable Pitch Dynaflo — and to feel the mighty V8 power that puts the whip to these gorgeous new Buick beauties. Drop in this week.

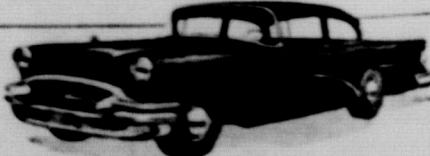

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional on other Buicks.

Local Delivered Price of the 1955 Buick SPECIAL Sedan, is less than some models of the best-known smaller cars!

Come in and check it!

Said a sleuth: Ah! The mystery's unraveled — About cars that "take off like a jet." But with Dynaflo's switch Of its Variable Pitch — You were here. Now you're there. Buy, that's travel!

(Why don't you try a Buick?)

Texas Viewpoint

In Washington

By PRICE DANIEL
U. S. Senator

Judge Guy C. Jackson, Jr. of Anahuac and Dr. Walter Prescott Webb of Austin last week were presented the Conservation Award of the Department of the Interior for their contributions to water resources development throughout the nation and particularly in Texas. Secretary of the Interior McKay presented the awards to the two Texans in his office in Washington.

Dr. Webb, professor of history at the University of Texas, is the author of a book, "More Water for Texas," dealing with the water problem and pointing out the role of the Bureau of Reclamation in working toward a solution. Judge Jackson, for many years County Judge of Chambers County, is President of the Texas Water Comservation and First Vice-President of the National Reclamation Association. He is recognized as an outstanding leader in water resources development in Texas.

Texas Onions

Last week each Senator and Congressman received a small sack of onions grown in the Rio Grande Valley of Texas through the courtesy of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers. A large truck rolled into the grounds of the National Capitol with a sign on the side reading "Texas Onions for Congress," after making the trip from Laredo to Washington. Mrs. Lyndon Johnson and Mrs. Joe Kilgore, dressed in Mexican costumes from the Charro Days celebration in Brownsville, distributed the onions from the steps of the Capitol.

Prosperous Prospects

Unless Communist China decides to initiate a war soon, every indication here is that the nation will enjoy continued peacetime prosperity in the immediate future. Much of it will be in evidence in Texas, which is still rated as one of the brightest spots in the country for future industrial growth and expansion. The hydrogen and atomic age will witness continued decentralization of industry, and there is no State in the nation which has more to offer in the way of resources, good relations between business and labor, and other attractive environments.

It is only in the agricultural field that prospects are not as bright as we should hope for. Overproduction of crops and livestock, and reduced allotments for farmers, present a problem which must be met by cooperation between the government and those engaged in agricultural pursuits. The biggest need now is to develop markets for our products and to improve price support and allotment programs so long as they are necessary. Congress can be expected to do considerable work in this field, because many members are unhappy with the injustices that are now being felt by farmers and livestock producers throughout the country.

How Advertising helps you

BY CHARLES B. ROTH

Time to Spare

AN ADVERTISING man, interested in farming, was talking to the head of the agricultural college of his state about some new methods and reforms in farming which had been discovered and which put into use would greatly increase farm production. "How long do you think it will take the majority of farmers to adopt these improved methods?" he asked the college president. "I should say at least twelve years, more often twenty," was the reply.

This lag between the production of knowledge and its distribution, as the advertising man pointed out in discussing this incident, is not confined to farming. It exists everywhere.

It exists everywhere, that is except where advertising is applied.

Take an example. A manufacturer, after long and costly research, discovers a way to improve his product. One current development is the use of chlorophyll. It didn't take a dozen or twenty years for you to discover the advantages of chlorophyll.

Advertising brought you the exciting news of this new discovery by science overnight, and within hours after you heard it you were enjoying its advantages.

This points up one other advantage of advertising which may not have occurred to you: it enables you to live longer by cutting down the time-lag between a new idea and its entry into your life.

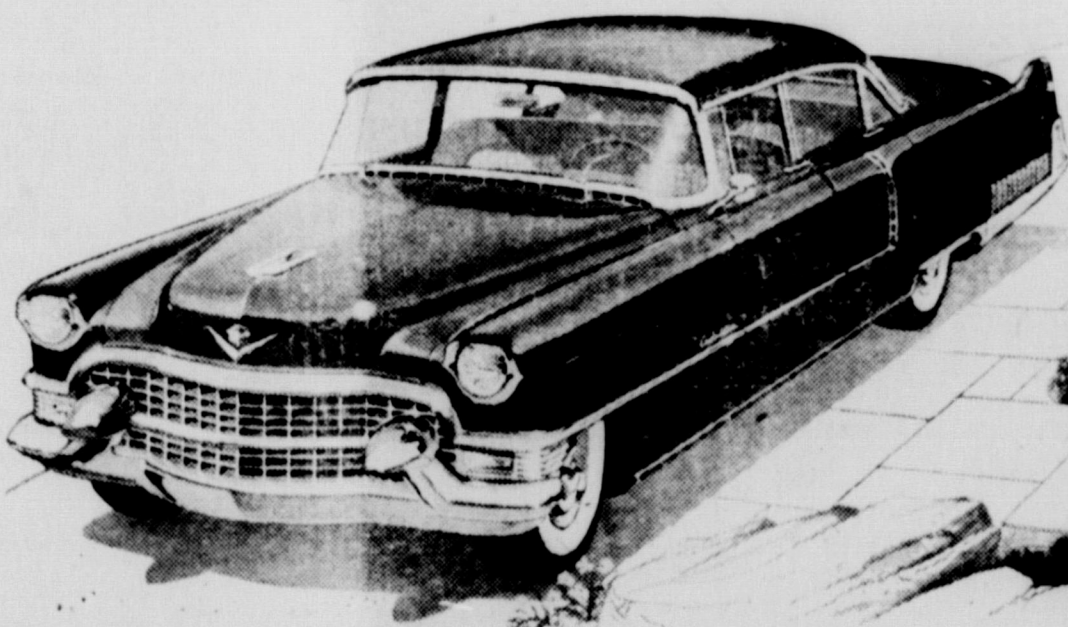

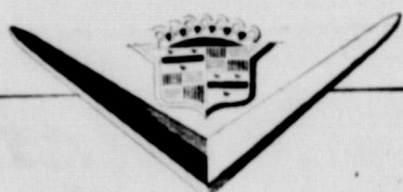

Every time you pick up your newspaper, some advertiser is telling you about something new or different or improved that has been developed to help you.

In the days of old America was young such news traveled by word of mouth. Then it took several years for new ideas or new products to reach coast to coast.

Now it takes only days. And because of the way advertising has minimized this element of time, you live a fuller life, a richer life, a more interesting life.

If it's new, if it's improved, if it's to your advantage you will find it advertised in the newspaper, which thus becomes the carrier of good tidings for every consumer.

Cadillac

What The Doctor Ordered... For Himself!

The doctor had owned his new Cadillac for about a month—and he was talking to a friend.

"About the only recreation I get," he said, "is at the wheel of my motor car—driving to and from the hospital, my office, and the homes of patients."

"Other doctors, of course, have the same situation—and some of them kept telling me what a big 'lift' they were getting out of their Cadillacs."

"I decided to see for myself—and they were certainly right. I actually approach the day with a lot more zest—knowing that I am going to spend a couple of hours driving my Cadillac."

The doctor is experiencing, of course, what so many other professional and business men are experiencing—the wonderful lift to the spirits that a Cadillac brings a man.

Try it sometime—and see for yourself. You'll find there's something about the way you feel as you take the wheel. You know there's a car under you! Solid, substantial, capable and protective. Just to sit there gives you a wonderful feeling of confidence and well-being.

And when you start to move, the thrill is continuous. You almost never hear the great engine, except when it answers a smart touch to the throttle. Steering is little more than the response to your thought. You just ride and relax.

We hear it every day: "I drive my Cadillac for rest and relaxation."

Why not come in today—and make the test yourself. We'll give you the keys and a Cadillac—and the "rest" is up to you!

P.S. It's only fair to warn you: You probably won't find it easy to give up the keys. Some people simply refuse!

this much STILBESTROL has to go a long way... must be mixed just right!

and Purina's Exclusive MICRO-MIXING Process does this job!

Mixing 1/3 ounce of stilbestrol into one ton of cattle feed presents a big problem to most feed companies. But this kind of mixing is just routine for Purina's Micro-Mixing... and only Purina Chows are Micro-Mixed.

Just 1/3 ounce of stilbestrol in one ton of feed means it is added in the proportion of only 1 part to 90,000 parts. Purina's Micro-Mixing process is accurate to the 1:10,000,000 part! So you can rest assured when you feed Purina Steer Fatena or Beef Chow with stilbestrol that every bite is mixed just right.

And accurate mixing of stilbestrol is extremely important. You want each steer to get just the right amount to produce maximum gains.

We have Micro-Mixed Purina Chows and proved Purina feeding plans. We can answer your questions about stilbestrol feeding, too. Come in for a visit!

Livestock Raisers Warned Of Poisonous Plants On Ranges

College Station, — Livestock raisers are warned to be on the alert for death-dealing poisonous range plants, especially after the late-season freezes in March.

Buds, leaves and tender shoots of all trees in the oak family possess a toxic substance which may cause severe illness in cattle, sheep, goats and horses. These plants were made even more toxic by the cold weather in March. A. H. Walker extension range specialist, says.

The poisonous condition of oak exists from the time the buds begin to swell until the new leaves turn dark green in color. Low growing oaks — low enough to be reached by livestock — cause most of the trouble. Cattle are most commonly affected.

Walker says livestock should be moved any area where poisonous vegetation is found until the danger period passes.

Severe and prolonged drought has left many ranges "ripe" for invasion by bitterweed, a plant especially toxic to sheep. Deferred and rotation grazing are recommended controls for this plant.

Loco and peavine are other poisonous-to-livestock plants. Walker says animals should not be allowed to graze pasture containing these plants until sufficient growth of other plants can satisfy the forage needs of grazing animals.

The common cocklebur in the seedling stage is very poisonous to hogs and to cattle, in a lesser degree.

the New PACKARD with Torsion-Level Ride

Smooths the Road
...Levels the Load

Automatically

Here's comfort you've dreamed of . . . and a ride to set you dreaming! It's the new Packard Torsion-Level Ride—a new system of suspension eliminating conventional coil and leaf springs to give you comfort unequalled by any car, on any road.

In other cars, twisting forces due to wheel shocks are transmitted to the frame. You submit to the resulting pitch and bounce . . . the car is subjected to wracking of frame and body. But with Packard Torsion-Level Suspension, these same twisting forces are transmitted along the new torsion bar system, and absorbed before they can reach either frame or passengers. And an ingenious power-controlled levelizer automatically compensates for changes in passenger and luggage load.

All this is yours plus the tremendous power of the new "free-breathing" V-8 engine developing 275 horsepower in the Caribbean and 260 in all other models. Plus, too, the smooth response of the new Packard Twin Ultramatic—actually two transmissions in one. All this in a setting of magnificent luxury and beauty. See and drive this one new car in the fine car field. "Ask the Man Who Owns One."
