IN MITCHELL COUNTY

Amendment Gets 10 to 1 Approval

Mitchell County voters Tuesday straggled to the polls in small numbers like the rest of the state.

And just as the other Texans, they balloted lopsidedly for State Constitutional Amendment No. 9.

The amendment, which will allow financial aid for permanently and totally disabled persons, was approved in Mitchell County by vote of 313 to 30.

Mitchell County's margin was even higher than the state ratio which was about 8 to 1.

Only 343 persons cast their ballots at the county's nine polling places here Tuesday. Just a week earlier 3,178 Mitchell County citizens had cast their vote in the presidential election.

Balloting was meager over all the rest of the state, too, with approximately 200,000 persons voting in the Amendment No. 9 election.

Eight other amendments were approved last week in the presidential election, but an error by the State Legislature left Amendment No. 9 off the Nov. 6 ballot and required the separate election Tuesday.

Here is the way Mitchell County voted by precinct boxes:

Precinct 1, Courthouse—152 for and 13 against.

Precinct 2, Westbrook—33 for and none against.

Precinct 3, Spade—14 for and none against.

Precinct 4, Landers—5 for and none against.

Precinct 5, Cuthbert—6 for and 4 against.

Precinct 6, Carr—8 for and none against.

Precinct 7, Loraine—60 for and 7 against.

Precinct 10, Buford—14 for and 4 against.

Precinct 12, Legun Hot—24 for and 2 against.

There was not an absentee ballot cast in the election.

The approved amendment is an enabling act that will allow the Texas Legislature to draft legislation to take advantage of federal assistance available under Social Security Act of 1950.

IN COUNTY RESOLUTIONS

Farmers Union Supports Full Parity, Seeks Acreage Probe

Mitchell County Farmers Union in official resolutions has called for five major actions on the part of West Texas cotton farmers and other segments of agriculture.

The resolutions, adopted at a meeting of the union here last week, urge repeal of sliding scale to cotton and 100 per cent parity for all farm commodities; an immediate Congressional investigation of shift of cotton acreage from West to East Texas, U. S. Department of Agriculture control of Mexican National farm labor import, revised formula for calculating parity prices and adequate funds for continuation of Rural Electrification Administration's program.

"As a matter of conviction," the Mitchell County Farm Union declared by resolution, "we believe that all farm commodities are basic to the families who produce them."

"We, therefore, favor the enactment of legislation that will provide 100 per cent of parity in value over protection to beef cattle, milk, wool and lambs, hogs, poultry and eggs, grain sorghum, barley, oats, rye, corn, cotton, wheat, peanuts, rice, soybeans, fruits and vegetables, and all other commodities."

In a separate resolution the farm group urging repeal of laws applying sliding scale to cotton, establishment of at least 100 per cent of parity with loan basis founded on 7-8-inch middle, consideration of light spot and plus cotton as separate grades with different loan rates. The same resolution described the cut in West Texas cotton acreage the last season as a "political move" to get more votes in more thickly settled region East Texas, a movement to divide the state by pitting West Texas against East Texas, and a move to divert attention from policies that "is to destroy our whole farm program."

"We, therefore," the resolution continued, "resolve that the Texas Farmers Union request an immediate Congressional investigation of the action of the State ASE Committee's action."

In the same resolution the Farmers Union asked for permanent policy keeping the state cotton acreage reserve at two per cent, better cotton grading under the Smith-Dooley Act with same penalty for under-grading as for under-grading plus identification of graders on cotton grade sheets.

A resolution recommended extension of the agreement with Mexico in regard to imported farm labor, but urged rigid law enforcement to halt illegal immigration.

"And we recommend an amendment to the Migratory Labor Law," the resolution stated, "that the expense of transportation, insurance and contract be added as wages to such labor."

"We further recommend that the Mexican National Program be shifted from the U. S. Department of Labor to U. S. Department of Agriculture."

The union declared that formula for calculating parity prices should be revised to enable farmers to earn family income equivalent to those that can be earned by other people in the population.

"And in crop acreage quotas," the formula resolution said, "if production falls below 35 per cent of normal production be-

WOMEN ARE NABBED

Pair Grab Money, Land Behind Bars

An ex-convict and her female companion reached for more than $200 in cash here Monday, but ended up in jail.

Not only failed in their theft attempt and sentenced to 30 days in county jail, they also were fined $77.50 each.

However, police believe the two women took from Jerry Rose Magnolia Service Station, between $35 and $40 that has not been recovered.

Alma Fay Harper, 34, who three times has been sentenced to state penitentiary for theft and assault to rob, and Mary Ann Simms, 25, both of Slaton, pleaded guilty to taking money from the cash register at Fuller Foods, just across W. Third from City Hall.

But they have denied nothing more than parking near the service station, where money was taken from the cash register.

The pair were apprehended near Big Spring Monday at 4:55 p. m. by Big Spring Police Chief Rogers and State Patrolman Jimmy Parks less than 40 minutes after they had failed in their attempt to steal at Fuller Foods.

It was the quick eye of Raymond Fuller, owner of Fuller Foods, that prevented the pair with escaping with a handful of cash at his store.

He was clerking at the No. 2 checking stand at about 4:20 when the two women approached to purchase items. Alma Harper, larger of the two women, asked for tobacco items.

Fuller had the cash register open, but turned away from the register to show items to the female ex-convict. And he was kept busy away from the register as the woman repeatedly asked to be shown different brands.

However, a quick glance by Fuller over his shoulder revealed the other woman, Mary Simms, attempting to stuff a handful of bills into the pocket of her three-quarter length coat.

Fuller grabbed the woman's hand and retrieved the bills—bill brand-new $5 denomination that had come from the cash register drawer.

As the two women left the store, Fuller asked Fireman Truman Henderson, who had walked into the grocery, to notify police.

Police Chief Leon Yeager hurried to the store and was obtaining a description from Fuller when Bob Motley, rural mail carrier, overheard their conversation.

He reported seeing women fitting the description driving east on W. Second just a few moments earlier, in a gray two-toned Oldsmobile sedan.

Police radio put out a pickup alert for the car and women, resulting in their arrest at 4:55 p. m. near Big Spring.

However, in the meantime, See PAIR Pg. 5

A new wildcat test five miles southwest of Westbrook highlights a week of busy oil activity across Mitchell County's western half.

The busy week, in addition to the prospector, counts up to six well-completions plus three new drilling locations in four fields.

Adding to production in the newly developing Albaugh (Yates Field) in the southwest corner of the county was the completion of Couden Petroleum Corporation's No. 1 Mary Chalk, 12 miles southeast of Coahoma and east of Mitchell-Howard County line.

No. 1 Chalk was finished for daily pumping potential of 42 barrels of 25.2 gravity oil, no water, from perforations between 1,229 and 1,255 feet over total depth of 1,262.

In another of Mitchell County's new fields, the Turner-Gregory (Clear Fork), a 69.12-barrel oiler was completed as the Duncan No. 1-C Turner-Gregory.

Production for No. 1-C Turner-Gregory was from pay zone topped at 2,640 feet or total depth of 2,760 feet. Oil gravity was 25 degrees.

Site for the producer is five miles northwest of Westbrook and 1,650 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines, Section 13, Block 28, T-1-N.

In the Westbrook Field there were two new drilling sites and two additional oilers, three by C. W. Guthrie.

Adding to Westbrook production were Guthrie No. 8-A Bird and Blue Danube Oil Company No. 3-A O. L. Simpson.

No. 8-A Bird has daily pumping potential of 97.5 barrels of 28 gravity oil, plus two per cent water. Production was from pay zone topped at 2,980 feet over total depth of 3,063 feet.

Site for the oiler is 2,308 feet from south and 330 feet from east lines, Section 39, Block 28, T-1-N, T&P Survey. The No. 3-A Simpson has daily potential of 67.62 barrels of 26 gravity oil, plus 20 per cent water, after fracturing. Production from perforations between 3,081.3,087 feet and 3,125-3,137 feet.

Location of the Danube-Simpson oiler is nine miles north of Westbrook and 330 feet from south and 1,320 feet from west lines, northeast quarter, Section 1, Block 26, H&TC Survey.

Staked as new drilling locations in the Westbrook Field are Guthrie No. 10-A O. T. Bird and Guthrie No. 11-A O. T. Bird, both scheduled for 3,500 feet two miles northwest of Westbrook.

The No. 10-A Bird will be 1,650 feet from north and 2,310 feet from east lines, Section 34, Block 28, T-1-N, T&P Survey, on a 480-acre lease. No. 11-A will be 990 feet from north and 1,650 feet from east lines, southeast quarter, Section 34, Block 28, T-1-N.

Producers completed in Sharon Ridge-1700 Field were Stallworth No. 3-A Crawford and BHB&S No. 5 C. C. Mills.

The No. 3-A Crawford, with daily potential of 65.6 barrels of oil after fracturing, has production from perforations between 1,664 and 1,676 feet. Location is 330 feet from north and west lines, 13-13 O'Keefe Subdivision, Reiger Survey 2 and 3.

Daily potential of No. 5 Mills is 66.5 barrels of 28 gravity oil with production from pay zone topped at 1,560 feet over total depth of 1,600 feet. Site is in Section 196, Block 2, H&GN Survey.

IN O. E. RHODE HOME

Mrs. P. K. Mackey Directs Art Program for 1921 Study Club

Mrs. P. K. Mackey Friday afternoon was program leader for the 1921 Study Club in the home of Mrs. O. E. Rhode.

Program topic was "Art".

Participating in the afternoon study were Mrs. W. C. Hooks, Mrs. Lee Lavender and Mrs. A. O. Hickman.

Mrs. Hooks told the story of the Mission in the Sun, a non-sectarian mission of Guadalupe, built by Ettore (Ted) De Grazia.

"When De Grazia was a small child playing around the mining camp where his father worked," Mrs. Hooks said, "he was modeling the face of Christ in mud."

After receiving degrees from the University of Arizona, he became a successful business man in Bisbee, Ariz., but he couldn't keep from painting.

"He experimented continuously," the group heard, "seeking how to record in color his love of Indians and Mexicans and their primitive, simple lives and legends."

The mission, dedicated to Our Lady of Guadalupe, is in the Santa Catalina Mountains north of Tucson.

The 18 by 40 foot structure is made of native materials, the speaker explained. De Grazia drew no plans. His chapel was to grow as a painting grows.

"The colored glass windows are one of De Grazia's most interesting projects," Mrs. Hooks continued. "Three figures in the main glass window show Navajo Indians representing Joseph, Mary and the baby Christ."

Comments of D. C. Mellon's collection of art were reviewed by Mrs. Hickman.

She discussed various artists' style of painting.

Mrs. Lavender traced the history of the National Gallery of Art from its establishment in 1937 to its current operation.

The gallery was established by a joint resolution of Congress as a bureau of the Smithsonian Institution. Mrs. Lavender began, "It belongs to no one city or state," she continued, "but to all the people of the country."

Under the direction of the board, the group heard, the gallery is charged with the responsibility of assembling and maintaining a national collection of paintings, sculpture and the graphic arts.

Roll call for the meeting was answered by each member naming an artist.

Guest for the meeting was Mrs. O. H. Donaho of Sulphur Springs.

Members present were Mrs. R. P. Ainsworth, Mrs. M. J. Dawson, Mrs. Landon Dorn, Mrs. W. L. Doss, Mrs. U. G. Hardison, Mrs. Hickman.

Hesperians Study Contributions By Negroes to Science, Music

"Contributions Negroes Have Made to Culture in Science and Music" was topic of study for the Hesperian Club Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. E. H. Winn.

Mrs. C. E. Cogswell was leader for the program. Mrs. J. W. Watson and Mrs. Otto Jones reviewed the lives of George Washington Carver, known as the Wizard of Chemistry, and Marion Anderson, a famed concert singer.

He derived 118 products from sweet potatoes and 300 from peanuts, which was pioneering work in turning waste into wealth.

"In 1938 Dr. Carver discovered that an oil in the peanut would fatten the muscles when rubbed on the body," the group heard.

"This oil is widely used in the treatment of limbs wasted by infantile paralysis," Mrs. Watson said in closing.

Unconscious Enemies

The church of the Lord has had her enemies from the day it was established. But she has many enemies who do not intend to be, nor do they realize they are enemies. This is a lesson that concerns all of us.

Undefeated Snyder To Host Winless Wolves Friday Nite

Snyder High Tigers will be looking for their first victory in 17 years over a Colorado High football team when the squads begin battle Friday, 7:30 p. m. in Tiger Stadium.

And the Tigers are expected to fulfill that ambition, making the Wolves victim No. 9 this season.

It's been six years since the Wolves have met a Snyder team. That was in 1950 when C-City stormed over the Tigers in winning the district title.

Back in the "old days", the Snyder-Colorado City games were noted for their roughness and the eventual gang-fights among fans that always followed the football game.

The two clubs have contrasting records this season.

Snyder has won eight straight games, scoring 218 points to the opponents' 13.

Colorado City has lost eight straight, scoring 52 points to the opponents' 240.

The only common foe between the two teams is Sweetwater. Snyder edged Sweetwater on a field goal 3-0 while Sweetwater laced the Wolves 34-7 last week.

Snyder is ranked one of the top two teams in Class AAA in the state and is favored to reach the state finals.

Their defensive record is exceptionally great.

Only Weatherford and Dumas have been able to crack the strong Tiger line for touchdowns this season. Weatherford did on Snyder's second string after the first string had run up 52 points.

Dumas scored the other six points in taking a 27-6 defeat.

Snyder has had two close games, one with Levelland a 2-0 victory and Sweetwater with the 3-0 win.

Other Snyder wins were over Berger, 21-0; Big Spring, 39-0; Breckenridge, 28-0 and Lakeview 46-0.

According to Wolf scout reports, Snyder has the strongest line the Wolves will face this season, but about the third best backfield.

Four of the seven linemen are returning regulars from the 1955 team that advanced to the state semi-finals.

Second-team all-state end Milton Hamm is the top lineman. He's a rangy 175-pounder who is rugged on defense and tops in pass catching.

Other line regulars are tackle Wiley Denson, 197; guard Gary Hill, 168 and center Joe Reaves, 168.

All are two-year lettermen except Hill.

Up from the B-team is Billy Phillips, 185-pound right tackle. Rounding out the starting forward wall is Roger Hensley, 183-pound left guard, who is only a freshman.

The Snyder line (offensive) averages 183 pounds-per-man.

Key to the Snyder offensive machine is Powell Berry, 163-pound quarterback, the only returning backfield regular from 1955.

Snyder's 1956 backfield is much lighter than the '55 crew with three little scabcats taking the place of big, bruising runners like Jack Spikes, Joe Baxter and Alan Sneed.

Berry leads the Snyder ground gainers while halfback Tommy Prichard, 163, is second.

Bobby Pollard, 130-pound wingback and Bill Fowler, 151-pound fullback, round out the backfield quartet.

Berry will probably be the slickest quarterback the Wolves will face this year. He hides the ball well, runs like a jackrabbit on the keeper plays and is a deadly passer.

Snyder makes a couple of changes on defense, slipping in halfback Israel Hinojos for Prichard and tackle Bill Jennings for Hensley in the line.

The two teams will be about the same in weight.

Wolves' line averages around 180 pounds while both backfields boast lightweight performers.

Wolves will be in good physical shape for the Tiger game.

Tackle Jim Windham, mainstay of the line at 205 pounds, suffered a broken finger in the Sweetwater game. He didn't mention the injury to coaches until the game was over. A splint has been placed on the finger and he will be ready to go at his offensive right tackle post and defensive left end position.

Bobby Caffey, sophomore quarterback who injured a finger

PAIR OF EX-WOLVES—Arlis Parkhurst, left, and J. B. Padgett are two former Colorado High football stars on the University of Texas varsity team. Parkhurst is starting center on the Longhorn team while Padgett is a reserve tackle. Both have been playing outstanding ball this year and will see action Saturday against Texas Christian University.

several weeks ago, will be ready to play.

James Shoemaker, who has been out the past several games, will be out another week.

Relly will stick with the same line-up he has employed in the past several District 3-AAA tilts.

That would place Marion Flipplin, 180, and Jimmy Richardson, 156, at ends; Windham and Dru

Vowell, 176, at tackles; Joe Maddox, 190, and Paul Free, 157, or Kenny Simmons, 165, at guards; Bobby Carpenter, 166, or Gene Blasingame, 156, at center.

Richard Compton, who has improved consistently all season, will get the call at quarterback while Don Black, 136, and Roy Maples, 140, operate at halfback and fullback.

Banker Cade, 156, will start at wingback.

Black is the Wolves' leading ground gainer despite his size. Relly also plans to use Lucky Merket at halfback and Don Powell at wingback.

The Snyder game will mark the next to the last game for the Wolves. They close the season Nov. 24 in San Angelo when they tackle the Lakeview Chiefs.

McMullen IS RUNNER-UP IN CONTEST

Bolin Misses One Game, Picks Key Score For Grid Tickets

J. V. Bolin Sr., 2124 Locust, is this week's top winner in the Record football guessing contest.

Bolin, shop forman at Craddock-Witten, missed only one game in the past weekend's games and picked the key score right on the money, 34-7.

The lone miss was the game that practically every contestant missed—the big upset of TCU by Texas Tech.

And by winning the contest, Bolin receives two reserve seat tickets to the Texas Tech vs. University of Houston game Nov. 24 in Lubbock.

The game should be a top contest with the sudden rise of Tech to the grid powers. Houston has a strong club and is credited with doing something no other team has done this fall, hold Texas A&M to a 14-14 tie.

Bolin's son won first in the contest earlier in the year.

Also missing only one game and the key score by only one point—34-6—was James E. McMullen, 1230 Oak St. McMullen missed the same game and receives a one year subscription to the Record as his second place prize.

Maherry Willbanks, 1041 Cedar, was third place winner with one game missed and a key score of Sweetwater 33, Colorado City 6, just two points off the correct figure.

Kay Swann, Rt. 3, took fourth place with one miss and a key score of 34-13.

Both Willbanks and Miss Swann each missed the Tech TCU game.

Also missing only the Tech TCU game, but further off on the key score, were Ernestine Herford, 950 E. 13th, Mrs. Philip Berman, 643 Chestnut and Jack Burkhalter, 1640 Austin.

A long list of contestants missed only two games. The other games that seemed to throw the contestants other than the before-mentioned Tech game, were Arkansas' win over Rice and Texas Western's victory over Arizona State.

One game, the Kermit vs. Pecos game, was ruled out of the contest when the two teams fought to a 21-21 tie.

Persons missing two games were:

Mrs. Win Talley, Mrs. J. H. Forrester, Melvin Biggers, R. J. Wood, J. D. Baker, LeLou Baker, James Herford, D. M. Costlow, Anne Burkhalter, Bill Quimby, Mrs. Earl D. Taylor, Johnny

Grubbs, Charles Munselle, Francis Winn, Lawrence Feaster, Henry Hoyle, J. V. Bolin Jr., Earl D. Taylor, John T. Stewart, Jackie Don Burkhalter, Alfred Eyrd, Joan Swann, Willis A. Jones, Clyde Feaster, Mrs. E. J. Lelek, Drew Ballard, Mrs. Floyd R. Higgins, Gene Garner, Steve Smith, Mrs. Gene Garner, Julius Smith, Luke Thomas, Mrs. Glenn Thomas, C. G. Harkins, Philip Berman and Mrs. Lynn Fox.

Mrs. Fox was one of the few persons to pick Texas Tech over TCU.

This week's contest marks the next to the last for the season.

Maynard scored the initial TWC score on a 46-yard punt return while Corbell booted four conversions.

There are several factors that make a victory anything but a certainty. One is the caliber of the Buffs, who have run roughshod over all opponents except Arizona, who handed Frank Kimbrough's team its only loss this year. In no other game have the Buffs been held to a close score.

A third factor is injuries, which are beginning to take their toll. Halfback Rusty Rutledge of Midland, Texas, is out with an injured leg; co-captain and right guard C. L. Chappell of Van Horn has been limited to spot action because of a bad knee; starting Fullback Hugh Harman, a top candidate for all-Border Conference honors, has an injured cervice and may be sidelined, and alternate fullback Charlie Ward has an injured ankle. Ward is expected to be ready to go Saturday however.

The Border Conference championship is the first in history for Texas Western.

The Miners were aided in their victory over Arizona State by Don Maynard and Berman Corbell of Colorado City.

Negro Gridders to Play Here Nov. 22

All preparations have been made for the football game here Thanksgiving Day between Black-shear High Yellowjackets of Lamesa and the Booker T. Washington team of Vernon.

Joe Salter, president of the Quarterback Club which is sponsoring the game here Nov. 22, said tickets are now on sale and moving good.

The two outstanding Negro High School grid teams will square off at 2 p. m. Thursday for the game.

The two teams have been outstanding this year. They are both in the same conference and have finished their season with Vernon finishing first and Lamesa second.

The two teams met on November 2 in Lamesa to determine the district champion and Vernon won the game 16-0.

But Coach McCalister says his boys are eager for another crack at the Vernon team.

Lamesa holds victories this year over Big Spring, 19-0; Plainview, 21-9 while losing to larger schools in Midland, 12-2; Odessa, 13-6 and Abilene, 13-6.

They were scheduled to play Big Spring again Nov. 9, but majority of the Big Spring players were drafted into service and the game was cancelled.

The record shows that no team has beaten the Lamesa squad more than one touchdown this year.

Vernon's record is not known, but it is better than Lamesa's.

Lamesa has one of the most dangerous runners in the conference in Melton E. Conaway, 155-pound left halfback.

Conaway is rated by Coach McCalister as one of the greatest runners he has ever coached. The speedy halfback runs the 100-yard dash in less than 10 seconds, high jumps 6-feet, plays baseball and basketball in addition to his grid duties.

Joel C. Osborne, Lamesa's 165-pound fullback, is a triple threat. He runs, kicks and even passes from his fullback position.

Heaviest man on the Lamesa starting lineup will be Leo Munt-er, 192-pound right end.

The remainder of the starting lineup weighs in the vicinity of 155 to 170.

Adult admission to the game will be $1.00 with proceeds going to finance football banquets for the Colorado High football team.

Christmas Has Foe in Prejudice

Christianity is inherently opposed to every form of narrowness and bigotry. The two forms of prejudice that seem to be deepest and most persistent in the world are racial prejudice and religious prejudice.

Both are involved in the story of the conversion of Cornelius. Cornelius, an officer in a Roman regiment, was a Gentile and a representative of the power that held Palestine in subjection. Nevertheless, he was a devout man, and he saw in a vision a messenger who told him that he should send for Simon Peter.

But Peter also needed a vision before he was prepared to receive Cornelius' messengers and to respond to his call.

While praying on top of the house, Peter fell into a trance. He saw a vision of a great sheet being let down by the four corners, in which were all manner of beasts and fowl. There came a voice, saying to him, "Rise, Peter; kill and eat," but Peter replied, "Not I, Lord; for I have never eaten anything that is common or unclean." Then came the real message of the vision: "What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common."

The coincidence was too marked even for Peter, with his strong prejudices, to miss the divine teaching and rebuke. He went to Cornelius, and he found there such evidence of the work of grace that he was ready to baptize Cornelius.

Could anything be plainer for Peter's day or for ours in the application of all this to these two prejudices that still afflict mankind? Too often these very prejudices have been bolstered, instead of rebuked, by profession of Christianity.

The real Christian lives by love and kindness and good will, by a recognition that God is no respecter of persons. Let us oppose evil as evil, wherever and in whom it is found.

Let us recognize men for the goodness that is in them, no matter what their race or color, and no matter how much their outward creed may differ from our own. This is the spirit of Christianity.

LONE STAR FARMER

Ag Commissioner Backs Bur Usage

By JOHN C. WHITE,
Agriculture Commissioner.

Use of Cotton Burs on the Soil

New research by the cotton industry indicates farmers should think twice before allowing that by-product of the harvest—cotton burs—go to waste.

Some areas of Texas cannot return burs to the soil without special treatment to kill pink bollworms.

But once protective procedures are observed, the burs can be a real boon in stretching benefits of rain and maintaining fertilization.

Preliminary studies show that on bur-treated soil, wind erosion is lessened because of the better condition of the soil. It is also known that burs mellow the soil and make it spongy and easier to work. Water penetration from rainfall is greater and evaporation is minimized.

Crop yields and their relationship to burs is being studied. On one test farm, five tons of composted burs increased the yield of cotton lint by 65 pounds per acre; 10 tons of composted burs increased the yield of lint per acre by 275 pounds.

Cost of bur usage varies, but the general figure is about $2.50 per ton. The burs themselves usually are free, with the farmer paying only for the spreading. When this spreading is done by the individual, the cost figure is less.

Effects of burs on the land remain for an extended period. Definite increased yields from one application of burs has been noted for a three or four-year period.

Increased yields made by farmers using burs in an area usually spurs others to action. The increased water holding capacity is most attractive to irrigation farmers who are confronted with annual underground water level declines.

For information on laws regarding the use of cotton burs, write to John White, Commissioner of Agriculture, Austin.

Daniel Hurls GOP Charge at Shivers as Senate Election Becomes Key to Congress

By VERN SANFORD,
Texas Press Association.
General election results, nationally, have added new suspense to the already tense issue of who will succeed Texas' Gov. Elect Price Daniel as U. S. Senator.

At stake is whether Democrats will control the U. S. Senate, when Congress convenes on Jan. 3.

Democrats now have a precarious 49- to 47-member advantage. But it would be 48- to 48 if a Republican replaced Democratic Senator Daniel.

GOP Vice Pres. Richard Nixon can vote in case of a tie. Therefore this one vote, which Texas could bestow upon him—in a round-about way—could determine the balance of power. Most important of all, it could decide which party could organize the Senate and appoint the all-important committee chairmen.

This possibility puts Gov. Allan Shivers in the national spotlight again. And Senator Daniel, Texas' election laws and conflicting statements by Daniels and Shivers have clouded the issue as to whether Shivers legally can call a special election before Jan. 15. That's when Daniel takes office as governor. This because Daniel's letter of resignation from the Senate specifies Jan. 15 as the effective date of his resignation.

Shivers says that inasmuch Daniel's resignation is not effective immediately, there is no vacancy until Jan. 15.

Daniel argues that Shivers has the authority to call an election now and accuses Shivers of delaying the election in an attempt to deliver the U. S. Senate into Republican control.

Both point to different provisions of the Texas election code. Unless Congress is in session a governor cannot make an appointment to fill a vacancy. Therefore, should Senator Daniel resign effective today, Shivers could not name a successor until Jan. 3—opening day of the new Congress.

Shivers says that Daniel should resign outright and the governor claims he will call an election. But Shivers sidesteps the point of when he actually will call an election and says only that he will call a special Senate election "at earliest possible date."

The governor is required to call an election within 90 days from the effective date of the resignation, and not before 30 days have elapsed. This means that the governor could call for an election in December—or he could designate a January or February date.

Whatever course Daniel pursues, Shivers undoubtedly will have a chance to appoint a temporary replacement. First, because Shivers is not likely to call for a December election. Second, if Daniel submits a new resignation before Jan. 3, effective immediately, Shivers automatically can name a successor on Jan. 3. And third, if Daniel sticks to the Jan. 15 date, Shivers will have from 12:01 a. m. on the 15th until Daniel is inaugurated at 12 noon, to name a successor.

Drought Authority
Gov. Shivers has been authorized to designate Texas farmers eligible for reduced railroad rates. Secy. of Agri. Ezra Benson asked the governors of seven drought-stricken states to indicate persons qualifying for this aid.

Railroads have offered free return transportation for cattle shipped from dry areas to western grazing areas. Designated persons also can receive a 50 per cent reduction in rates on hay shipped from western states to drought regions.

Farm Income Up
Improved methods have kept Texas' overall farm income up, despite drought setbacks.

Cash income for January thru September totaled $1,108,000,000, an increase of $13,000,000 from last year, reports the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Average for the dry years of 1951-55 was six per cent above 1947-49.

Irrigation, conservation and improved crop varieties are credited for the increase. Some areas, the bureau noted, have not had a major crop in five years. Offsetting these are such areas as the Panhandle-South Plains region where spectacular results have been achieved with irrigation.

Shivers Buys Home

When Governor Shivers becomes Mr. Shivers next January, his family will move from one historic Austin mansion to another.

He has purchased Woodlawn, 103-year-old residence bought by Gov. Elisha M. Pease when Pease retired from office. Seller was R. Niles Graham, grandson of Governor Pease.

Known locally as "The Pease Mansion," the 17-room antebellum home still contains century-old furnishings. Its new owners plan only such remodeling necessary to accommodate their family.

PROVEN COLDS MEDICINE

Construction Up
An all-time record for 1956 with a healthy boom carrying over into '57 is foreseen for the Texas construction industry.

Awards through October totaled $1,049,179,948. This was only slightly less than the total for the whole 12 months of 1953, the highest previous year.

October awards of more than $84,000,000 did not include a Texas Highway Department contract letting. This means the November figure, with two months of road contracts, likely will be large.

Bond Vote Upheld
State Supreme Court has upheld and clarified a new law for unlimited issuance of bonds by school districts.

Validity of some $75,000,000 in school bonds was affected by a test case from Hamilton County.

Voting in bond elections is limited by the Constitution to property-tax payers. An act for school bond elections passed by the last legislature further restricted voting to those who had rendered property on the county tax roll. High court ruling removed this restriction, but upheld constitutionality of the rest of the law.
