Bold, Gold, Unite in Special Wedding

Miss Piggie Bold and Kermit Gold were united in marriage before a packed house at the community center Saturday in the first womanless wedding ever held in the Post Community.

Prudencio Basquez was stunning in 'his' white wedding gown as he was brought down the aisle by father, Jack Alexander to stand before preachers Preston Poole and the Rev. William Scott.

Most weddings are somber occasions, but this one had the audience rolling in the aisles, so to speak, with laughter.

As in most weddings, the mothers of the couple were escorted in to begin the affair with Lane Tannehill, mother of the groom escorted by Dwayne Binford, the father followed by the bride's parents, James Dye mother and Jack Alexander, father.

The matron of honor, Jimmy Redman, took center stage next, followed by the 'beautiful' bridesmaids in their chosen colors of plaids and stripes, long and short gowns and included Dr. Charles McCook, Kenneth Bullard, David Nichols and Bo Jackson.

Flower petals were thrown down the aisle by flower girls, Ronnie Gradine and Johnny Kemp, followed by ring bearer, Jimmy Jones.

'Traditional' wedding music was provided by Noel White and David Morrow.

Larry Mills, the lucky groom, attired in a Bold Gold shirt, was attended by groomsmen, Charles Johnson, Shug Thomas, Bill McBride, Donnell Harper and Jack Clinesmith.

Those who paid their $2 to attend the "wedding of the year" were shocked when the preacher asked anyone attending to speak up if they had objections to the uniting of Miss Piggy and Mr. Kermit when a boistrous (Continued on Page 2)

Church to offer employment help

St. Michael's Catholic Church in Ralls is doing its part to help those looking for work, and those needing someone to work. The church, on a volunteer basis, will be manning an office at the Church building from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, for those needing work to call and leave their name and also for anyone who is needing someone to work to call and make the contact easier.

Father Malcolm Neyland, pastor of the church, in explaining the procedures to The Dispatch, stated that he and members of the parish would provide this service as their way of helping those who might be out of work due to the mill closing in Post and other causes that have made some shut-downs in our area necessary.

The service will be available to those in Crosby and Garza counties and the surrounding area.

Anyone who needs a job, or anyone needing someone to hire, are urged to call 806-253-2008 and leave the information with those at the office.

Anyone wanting part time, full time work and anyone wishing to hire are urged to use this service and give them a call today.

The wedding is interrupted by Jack King, left and Bob Palmer who object to the wedding taking place. Others in photo are bride, Pru Basquez, groom Larry Mills and preacher, Preston Poole.

Bold Marries Gold

father, Jack King, interrupted the ceremony with cries of a protest because he had a daughter, Bob Palmer, in a family way!

Before the ceremony could go any further, the E.M. Tetts were called because of the little 'bundle.' Jim Jackson and Jerry Hays were in charge of 'delivery'.

Following the interruption, the wedding went on as planned.

Guests were ushered to their seats by Edwin Lewis, Charles Williams, Donnell Harper and Jack Clinesmith.

A reception followed the ceremony with cakes, donated by mothers of the Bold Gold players, and punch served to the guests attending.

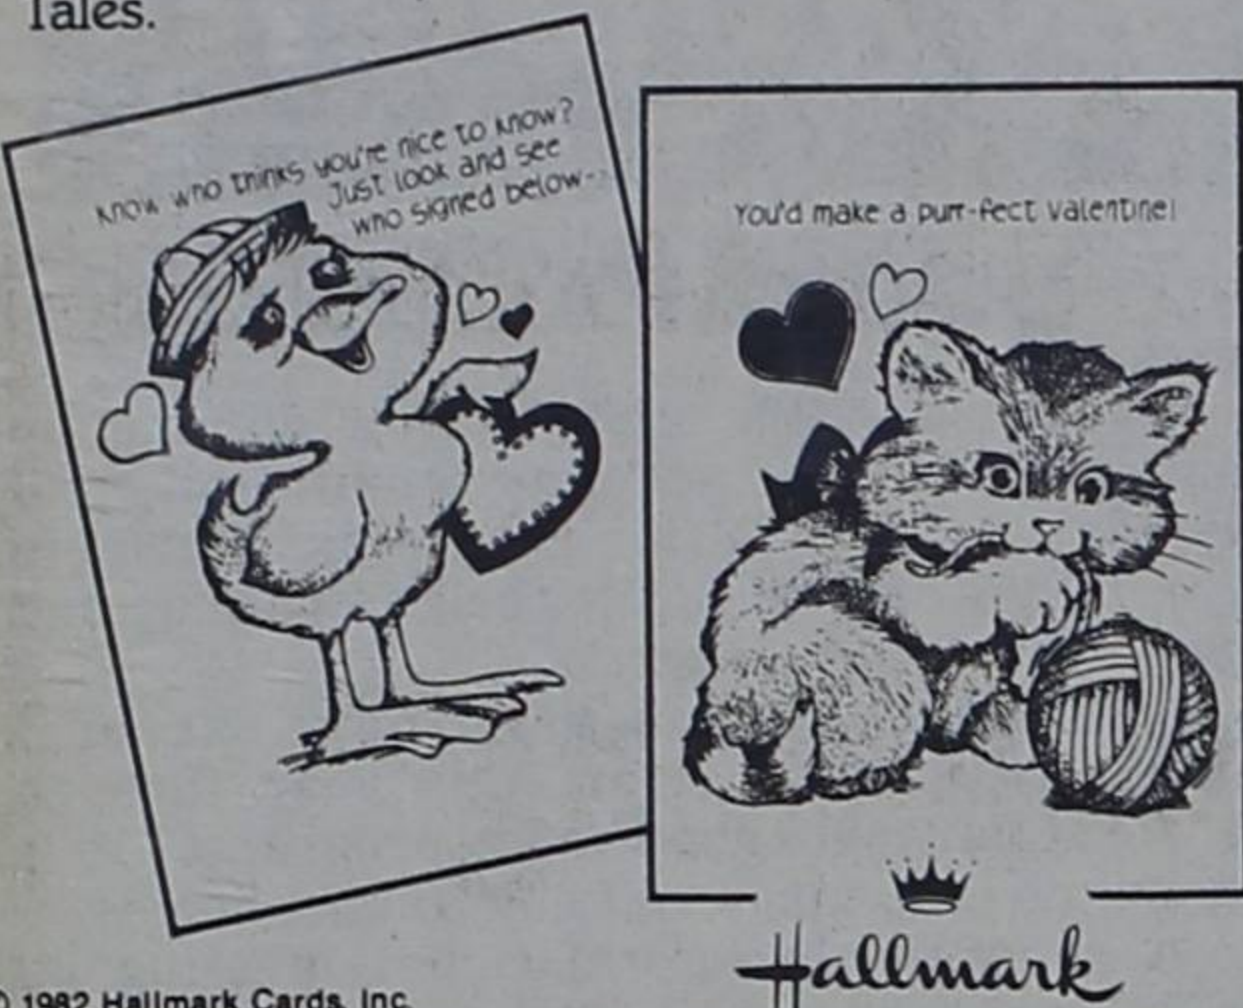

The event, sponsored by the Post Antelope Booster Club netted around $500 for the organization with proceeds going towards various projects.

With the uniting of Miss Bold and Mr. Gold, the bold Gold Legend lives on.

Letter to the Editor

I was extremely disappointed to see you add the horoscope to our Post Dispatch. Although it appears to be a seemingly harmless game it can in fact become extremely addictive causing one to put their trust of their future in the stars, rather than their creator.

God warns us of this danger in Deuteronomy 18:10-12 and II Peter 2:1.

We citizens of Garza County enjoy the Dispatch. I know folks who read every word of every issue.

For this reason I feel very strongly about the matter.

Please reconsider your position on it. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Fireflies taste bad; this saves them

Fireflies have managed to avoid extinction because they taste bad to predators, says Dr. Joseph Bonaventura of the Marine Biomedical Center, Beaufort, N.C.

He placed an extract of freeze-dried fireflies in tanks of seawater containing foot-long Atlantic sharp-nosed sharks. Within minutes the sharks struggled to get away, and when they couldn't they became paralyzed and died.

New book in Library

Did you ever need to speak to young people about books? "Book-talk!" tells how to interest that audience in reading books. "Booktalks" come in two varieties, short and long. Joni Bodart, the author, suggests two rules: (1) don't tell how the book ended, and (2) don't talk about a book you have not read. Well, if this reviewer had to read every book that's mentioned in this column, there wouldn't be a column! (And now you know).

Library Column

Ruth Montgomery, who in a previous book pointed to Walk-ins, enlightened beings who she says walk secretly among us to guide us through the upheavals of the next twenty years, now reveals some of their identities, and offers the information that the Walk-ins can help us improve our health and live longer, use the unused portions of our minds and spirits, and especially save ourselves from the coming world war and global natural disasters that will mark the close of our century. She says that "Threshold to Tomorrow" is a survival manual to the New Age that is upon us. I say, at least you won't have to waste your own $13.95 - the Library has already bought a copy.

Wind and Water Erosion can Ruin Farms and Ranches

By Robert W. Schmidt
 Now is the time to think about protecting your farm and ranch from wind or water erosion. Certain conservation practices are generally needed to prevent or slow down erosion. These practices may be expensive to apply in some cases. How can one off set the costs of applying these practices to his or her farm or ranch? One way is to receive cost-share assistance through the Soil Conservation Service's Great Plains Conservation Program (GPCP).

 What is the Great Plains Conservation Program? It was created in 1956 as a voluntary program to help farmers and ranchers to protect their land from erosion and to stabilize their production. The length of a contract varies from 3 to 10 years and it allows landowners the opportunity to apply complete conservation measures to meet their own special needs. Through GPCP a landowner can receive from 50 to 80 percent of the cost of each approved practice in each county.

The rate varies according to the urgency of needs in each area. The landowner pays the rest of the cost. The contracts are also flexible so the landowner can apply the practices more quickly than scheduled or modify the contract if conditions change. The Soil Conservation Service provides the technical assistance in installing and maintaining the conservation practices through the life of the contract. Money is set aside when the contract is written and approved so that landowners need not worry about receiving costshare money when practices are carried out and completed. The maximum a landowner can receive under the contract is $35,000.

Some of the practices that are set up for cost-share under GPCP in Garza County are diversions, terraces, and windbreaks on cropland. Ponds, water storage facilities for livestock water, and brush control are practices set up for rangeland in the county. Also grass planting is set up for conversion of cropland to pastureland and for reseeding of range-land following brush management such as rootplowing of mesquite. Some of the practices set up not only help to prevent or reduce erosion but also benefit wildlife and the aesthetics of the land.

If a landowner is interested in applying for a Great Plains Program contract and wants to know more

Tigers Edge Antelopes by Two Points

In their second matchup of the district season, the Bold Gold 'Lopes again came up on the short side with the Slaton Tigers 48 to 50. While the 'Lopes played hard throughout the entire game, it was just not good enough to stay up with the Tigers. Even though the 'Lopes were ahead during the final period, the Tigers came back to overcome the 'Lopes lead and take the game.

Behind by seven at the end of the first period, 8 to 15, both teams added 11 in the second period with the 'Lopes behind 19 to 26 at the intermission.

The Bold Gold did outscore the Tigers in the third 16 to 13 to cut the Tiger lead to four and again outscored the Tigers in the final period 13 to 11.

The 'Lopes had a 50 percent free throw average but a poor 31 percent average from the field.

Irvin Price led the scoring with 14 followed by R. J. Great-house with 12, Bill Black had 11, Milton Williams six and Will Kirkpatrick had five.

The 'Lopes played the Idalou Wildcats here Tuesday night with complete results in Sunday's Dispatch. Even though the

'Lopes are down in the pack in district standings, first half statistics show the 'Lopes to lead in scoring and rebounding with a 56.8 per game in scoring compared to 45.4 for opponents and had 41.4 rebounds per game with opponents having 34.8.

The Bold Gold averaged 36 percent in field goal shooting with opponents having 42.4 and 47 percent in free throw shooting compared to 61 percent for the opponents.

Milton Williams goes for a two point lay-up and makes it in the game with the Slaton Tigers Friday night. Even though the Lopes played hard, they lost to the Tigers 48 to 50.

Presbyterians Vote to Unite

Presbyterians in West Texas voted overwhelmingly in favor of the Re-Union of the two largest Presbyterian bodies in the world. The historic vote took place at the 34th Stated Meeting of Palo Duro Union Presbytery, held in Wichita Falls, January 28-29. Neal and Jenny Francis, Tom and Suzanne Pass attended the meeting from Post.

The local congregation has been part of the "Union" Presbytery of Palo Duro for almost eleven years, and thus has belonged for over a decade to both the United Presbyterian and Presbyterian Church in the United States, the two churches considering re-union.

The United Presbyterian Church was split in 1861, making

Revival Services at Nazarene Church

The Rev. Dr. Fred Fike began a series of Revival services this week at the Church of the Nazarene at 202 West 10.

Dr. Fike is currently involved in District Administrative work at the District office of the West Texas District of the Church of the Nazarene.

He has served as pastor in Texas, Colorado and New Mexico besides having preached in revivals in 22 states. His travels in Israel, Egypt, Rome, Athens the Civil War inevitable. Some historians insist that the Presbyand the Middle East nations have given him a warm and beautiful insight into the Scriptures. His Biblical oriented messages are timely and challenging to the hearts of those who hear him.

The church and pastor encourages all of our friends in Post and surrounding areas to share with us the inspiration of these services. Services begin each evening at 7 p.m. through Saturday and at 11:45 a.m. and 6 p.m. on Sunday.

terian Church was the only entity prior to the War between the States that could possibly keep persons in the North and South from breaking apart into two nations. When the Southern Church organized in 1861, however, there was no organization to keep the various parties talking.

An affirmative vote by 3/4 majority of regional presbyteries in the South, and a majority vote of presbyteries in the more-geographically extensive United Presbyterian Church will lead to a vote of the two General Assemblies in Atlanta this summer. The two denominations have a strong tradition of cooperation in many areas of mission.

'Little', Great Results

Ministerial Alliance

J. R. SMITH

Surely the song writer knew whereof he spoke when he penned those words. Isn't it exciting to realize how God can take our 'little' and make great and mighty results? In the ninth chapter of Luke's Gospel we read of this very thing. The first few verses are introductory to the main circumstance: Feeding 5,000 people with just five loaves and two small fish. Let us look a bit further into this miracle.

Here were 5,000 people, all unprovided for, and the sun was sinking in the West. The situation seemed critical in the eyes and minds of the disciples. The only thing they could think of was for Jesus to dismiss the crowd as quickly as possible and thereby end all responsibility toward them. Have we not too often tried to meet the emergencies of life by simply trying to get rid of them...sending the people away?

Could it be that we, who profess to be Christians, and, yes, the Church...have treated the world's mighty famishing multitude this way? Are we guilty of attempting to send the multitudes away without offering them the "Bread of Life"; "Food for their soul"; ...Genuine salvation from sins?

When the disciples spoke to Jesus concerning this situation He was not disturbed. Very calmly He said: "Give ye them to eat." The disciples wanted to send them away but Jesus' attitude was that it would not be necessary for them to be sent away... "Give ye them to eat." What emptiness on the one side, what fullness on the other. All we need in our day to feed the multitude is this Christ-like spirit.

Five loaves and two small fishes plus the divine blessing are all-sufficient for every emergency of hunger, whether of the body or of the soul!

We must give to God what we have if we would receive from God what we need. We find Jesus asking the question: "How many loaves have ye?" Having found out, He said: "Bring them hither to me." Now it was with these five loaves and two fishes that Jesus Christ worked, making them go round and having more than enough. This is how He always works, He takes and uses what we bring to Him in sincere consecration, giving us back what we need; or through us and with what we have given Him He feeds the needy multitude. The truth is universal in its application. God desires something from man upon which to work before His love and power will be effective.

Special Bible Study

Calvary Baptist Church invites you to attend a special Bible Study on the Book of First Peter. The study will begin Sunday Night, Feb. 6, and will close Wednesday night, Feb. 9. Each service will begin at 7 p.m.

Brother Jim Wilkerson from Westview Baptist Church in Slaton will be the speaker. Everyone is welcome, and there will be a fellowship following each service.

Having had the great multitude set down in companies, all in good order, our Lord took the bread and fish in hand and then looking up to Heaven, He asked a blessing upon them. Here was the act on the part of Jesus that brought into the food on hand the mighty power of God. In this lay the essence of the miracle. By looking to Heaven in prayer, we cannot work miracles; but we can secure all the needed supplies of life both for the body and for the soul. Prayer opens God's storehouses!

Had the disciples kept them among themselves there would have been no such supply. Had half the number been neglected the fragments remaining would have been no greater. It was the free and full distribution of it that made the quantity of bread to be on so large a scale. Here is the trouble in our day, Christians keep the bread of life instead of setting it before the multitude, hence the spiritual famine. When we see that it is our first duty to give of the Gospel to others, then the great miracle of feeding the multitude will be gloriously accomplished.

The fragments here spoken of were not the fragments of ordinary bread, but of that which had been produced by the miraculous manifestation of divine power. May we soon learn that what has come to us through very marked answers to prayer or special religious experiences, or tokens of the divine favor, must be valued supremely and cared for with great anxiety.

From Fame to Failure

By Steve Traw

Solomon's reign as Israel's king marked the pinnacle of that nation. The great Temple was constructed. The empire of Solomon, international trade and commerce, its army, economy and fame have never been surpassed. The queen of Sheba traveled some 1200 miles to meet this great leader and to see his remarkable prosperity.

The first ten chapters of I Kings portray the unparalleled rise of the nation. But as chapter eleven begins, the swift downfall of the once awesome king is revealed. By the end of the twelfth chapter, the kingdom is divided, soon to be under Assyrian captivity.

Gross idolatry and spiritual decline came with a severe price. Indeed the success of any one person, and of any one nation as a whole, is dependent upon loyalty to God. Obedience was the route to freedom and riches untold. Failure brought decline and captivity.

Sunday at First Christian, the life of Solomon of the sixth century BC will be studied as it gives God's truth for our day.

Worms enrich earth

Earthworms eat the dirt they live in, or at least the edible leaf bits, insects and their eggs, and soil bacteria. Worms' castings, the material they don't digest, contain five times as much nitrogen, seven times as much phosphorus, 11 times as much potash, and three times as much magnesium as the rest of the dirt.

In 1882 the United States enacted its first national law restricting immigrants.

Pistoia, Italy, was the birthplace of the pistol.
