Attorneys Say Never Before Has Presidential Hope Come to State

The first boom in the 1924 fight for the presidency of the United States in America will be heard in Wichita Falls today and broadcasted all over the world when Senator Oscar Underwood of Alabama, as a guest of the Rotarians here, will announce his candidacy for the highest office in the gift of the American people.

Senator Underwood has honored Wichita Falls in choosing this city to make his initial step in the direction of the presidency. In return Wichita Falls citizens and those for a hundred miles around have made preparations to give the distinguished visitor the best hospitality within their power.

The thousands of supporters of Senator Underwood have expressed themselves as not being unmindful of the distinction that accrues to Wichita Falls by his acceptance of an invitation to begin his campaign here. Several lawyers last night said that within their knowledge at no time in the past had a candidate for the presidency ever come to Texas during his campaign. That Texas and Wichita Falls have the distinction of being chosen the place for a candidate for the presidency to begin his campaign here, is spoken of by leading citizens as a signal honor.

Senator Underwood is due to arrive in Wichita Falls this afternoon at 3 on the Fort Worth and Denver. The reception committee of the leading citizens of this section of the state will be at the union station to greet the senator. From the station Senator Underwood will be escorted to the Kemp hotel by the reception committee in automobiles.

From 3 to 4 this afternon at the Kemp, W. W. Silk, chairman of the Underwood forces here, has arranged an open house for those who desire to meet the senator personally. From 4 until 6 the senator will be left to rest and prepare for the banquet which has been arranged to begin promptly at 6. A program has been arranged for the banquet and all reservations were sold at 4 Tuesday afternoon, the arrangement comittee announced.

Tonight Senator Underwood's address is scheduled to begin at 8 at the Palace theatre. That the auditorium will not be large enough to seat those who plan to hear the address is the opinion of the arrangements committee last night. Visitors from every part of west and north Texas have expressed their intention of attending the meeting and large deletions from nearby towns are planning to come by hundreds. It is expected the theatre auditorium will be filled long before the time for the address.

Press representatives from leading eastern, central and western cities are to be at the meeting tonight, advices from Underwood state headquarters in Dallas said last night.

"Tonight's meeting will in all probability make national history in which the name of Wichita Falls will be forever linked. Senator Underwood who stands an excellent chance of being nominated as the democratic standard bearer and finally elected president, will begin his campaign here. Underwood's address here will be referred to from now on until the campaign is over, and Wichita Falls will reap the benefit therefrom." This was the statement of Chairman W. W. Silk regarding the visit here of Underwood.

BAKERS LOSING AT 5,000,000,000 MARKS PER LOAF

By The Associated Press.

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—Bread is bringing 5,500,000,000 marks a loaf in Berlin and little is to be had as the bakers say they cannot afford to buy flour in the open market and sell at that price. There were long queues of anxious people before the bakeshops today, hoping to obtain bread before the closing hours.

Two billion five hundred and forty million marks was the cost of a lunch consisting of weinies, potato, rolls and beer today.

One could obtain coffee at one billion marks per cup, a piece of cake or pie at eight hundred million and a plate of soup at 300,000,000. In the streets three salvation Army women served free hot soup from a field kitchen to a miserable crowd of cripples and aged persons who had brought pans and buckets and had waited hours before the kitchen arrived lest they should not be among the lucky who are fed there every noon.

NEXT SUNDAY IS TO BE BLUE ONE

Sheriff Announces Closing Law Will Be Enforced Throughout County

The Sunday closing law will be rigidly enforced in Wichita Falls, and in every part of Wichita county beginning next Sunday, Oct. 28, Sheriff W. W. Murphy announced Tuesday.

When asked if the action of local motion picture operatives in demanding the law be enforced in full or not at all were responsible the sheriff replied negatively. "The motion picture business has nothing to do with it. I have investigated and to my surprise find a great majority of the proprietors who keep their places of business open on Sunday, would really be glad to have the law enforced. The law is going to be made airtight and will be enforced in all its phases and in every nook and corner of Wichita county," Murphy said.

The Sunday law according to Wayne Somerville, assistant county attorney, if followed in full will allow very few business houses to keep open. The employers as well as the employees in every store found open Sunday will have separate charges filed against them, Murphy declares.

An investigation of the statute regarding Sunday business operations will mean that every grocery store must close by 9 Sunday morning and every meat market. When asked about drug stores Murphy said these will be allowed to stay open for prescription business and the sale of medicines. "Under no condition must the drug stores sell tobacco in any form or dispense cold drinks," the sheriff said.

Somerville, when asked to give a list of places that could stay open on Sunday said bakeries could operate. Hotels, telegraph and telephone stations, ice dealers, newspaper vendors, bath houses and livery stables may stay open. Somerville stated the drug stores under the law will be allowed to sell ice cream and milk drinks but no other kinds.

Sheriff Murphy said filling stations were included in the drive and all must not open for business on Sunday. The sheriff said the law against persons working on Sunday was to be enforced with the closing program and warned against violation of the law.

The fine, according to Somerville, for those found guilty of violating will be from $20 to $50 with costs. The costs, range from $23 to $100 the assistant county attorney said.

When asked if he proposed to have deputies go to Electra, Iowa Park, Burkburnett and other places in the county and make arrests next Sunday Murphy said compalints would be filed Monday against every place of business that stayed open.

The Sunday closing law which is found in Article 302, Texas Penal Code follows in full:

"Any merchant, grocer or dealer in wares or merchandise, or trader in any business whatsoever, or the proprietor of any place of public amusement or the agent or employee of any such person who shall sell, barter or permit his place of business or his place of public amusement to be open for the purpose of traffic or public amusement on Sunday shall be fined not less than $20 or more than $50. The term 'place of amusement' shall be construed to mean circuses, theatres, variety theatres and such other amusements as are exhibited and for which an admission fee is charged and shall also include disorderly houses, low dives and places of like character, with or without fees or admission."

FALL CHALLENGES IN 'DOME' PROBE

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Challenging the senate public lands committee, before which he appeared today, to find another oil company which would have accepted the Teapot Dome contract on the terms negotiated with the Sinclair interests, former Secretary Fall of the inferior department asserted that in his judgment the lease now under investigation by the committee was highly beneficial to the government.

Texas Woman Kills Missionary's Wife

Gun - Wielder Was Stepmother of Woman Slain and Was Separated from Husband; Tots Witness Shooting

By The Associated Press.

KOPPERL, Texas, Oct. 23.—Mrs. Phillip Bosche fatally shot Mrs. Eugene Kellersberger today and this evening was in county jail charged with murder.

Mrs. Kellersberger was the wife of a medical missionary of the Presbyterian church, now in Africa. She was fatally wounded by an automatic pistol at the home of her father, Phillip Boschc, on a farm seven miles north of Kopperl. She died about 30 minutes later.

Mrs. Bosche, stepmother of Mrs. Kellersberger, went to Kimball, near Kopperl, in Bosque county, and telephoned Sheriff Will Wright at Meridian. Sheriff Wright with Charles Barker, deputy sheriff, took Mrs. Bosche to Meridian where she was in county jail tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Bosche have been living in Dallas. The husband and wife have been living separately for some time.

A verdict returned at an inquest at the home of Mr. Bosche declared Mrs. Kellersberger's death was caused by pistol wounds.

Mrs. Kellersberger's two small daughters witnessed the shooting.

Returning from Africa about a year ago her friends found her in ill health from an attack of sleeping sickness contracted in missionary work with her husband. She had spent seven months in a hospital in London before she was able to return to America. Her husband remained in Africa.

Mrs. Early Brown of Concord, N. C., a sister, also survives her.

Man and Wife Are Shot Dead In Dance Hall

By The Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 23.—Mystery tonight surrounded the killing of Wilford Grant and the wife of Chicago and the serious wounding of Wilfred Stalnaker, their chauffeur, at a resort in the western outskirts feoht :- 2 in the western outskirts of the city this morning.

Stalnaker, upon regaining consciousness, said he believed the double slaying was the result of a disagreement among bootleggers, as he thought Grant was engaged in the illicit trafficking of liquor between Chicago and St. Louis. He declared that three armed men walked into the dance hall of the resort where he and the Grants were the only patrons and that they began shooting when he tried to knock a revolver out of the hand of one of the men. Grant and his wife died almost instantly.

Joseph Hardaway, proprietor of the resort, which is named the Plantation Inn, and two employes, however, gave a different version of the shooting, saying that three armed youths entered the place, held them up, rifled $00 from the cash register and then went into the dance hall. Shortly afterward, Hardaway continued, he heard shots and expressed the belief that the couple was killed when they offered resistence to the attempt of the highwaymen to rob them.

LOCAL BUSINESS MEN WARNED

At Least 400 Face Arrest for Operating in an Illegal Manner

At least 400 local business men are to be arrested and charged by the county attorney's department with operating a business under an assumed name unless they comply with the law by next Saturday, Wayne Somerville, assistant county attorney announced Tuesday.

According to Somerville no owner of a place of business, unless the business is incorporated, can run his business under any name except that of all in the partnership, unless affidavits have been filed. Somerville said the business proprietors of Wichita Falls have had eight months to comply with the law and have failed to do so. Somerville said three legal notices warning the violators had been published in local papers and nothing had been done.

The assistant county attorney explained that if one man owned a business, the business had to go under the full name and initial of the one owning the business. "Jones and Smith, grocers" won't do for a name. It must be "John Jones and Harry Smith" grocers. It can't be called the "Cut Price Grocery" but must go under the same name. If six men own a part of the business, the business must be run under names and initials of the six," Somerville said.

Where persons have filed affidavits or their businesses are incorporated, the law has been complied with. All others are to have complaints filed against them and if found guilty must pay a fine of from $25 to $100, Somerville says.

NEW CHARGE IN STOKES TRIAL

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—An attempt of W. E. D. Stokes to obtain evidence against his wife, Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes, from Henry Williams, a negro waiter on a transcontinental train, in return for testimony favorable to Williams, who had been charged with stealing Mrs. Stokes' jewels, today was recorded in the retrial of the wealthy hotel owner's divorce suit.

Bernard H. Saudler, attorney for the waiter in the theft case, testified Mr. Stokes had come to him with an offer to exchange evidence of value to Williams in his theft trial for evidence against Mrs. Stokes in the divorce suit. He denied Mr. Stokes had offered Williams money through him

BOOZE AND LOVE CAUSE SHOOTING

By The Associated Press.

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 23.—A. H. Mitchell, a Denver plumber, today shot and instantly killed Mrs. Georgia B. Bryan, wife of an assistant fire chief, and A. J. Sherie, a farmer. Mitchell's divorced wife's strong religious feeling, he told the police, caused him to confess the crime first to a minister and then to the police.

After the shooting, Mitchell told the police, he went from Sherie's farm where the shooting occurred to the home of his divorced wife, Margaret Mitchell, and confessed. Later, he said, he confessed to the pastor of a Baptist church.

"Insane love of a woman and rotten whiskey are responsible for this," said Mitchell.

NEW REPUBLIC OF RHINE NOW VIRTUALLY DEAD

Loyalists Re-Capture All Buildings in Aix La Chappelle

RIOTS SHAKE HAMBURG

Several Reported Dead in Fights With Communist Supporters

By The Associated Press.

AIX LA CHAPELLE, Oct. 23.—The Rhineland republic tonight is virtually dead, as for as Aix Le Chapelle is concerned, after two days of a precarious existence.

The loyalists have recaptured all the buildings in Aix held by the separatists, except the provincial government building and, failing the arrivals of re-inforcements summoned from Crefeld, this building probably will be evacuated during the night.

The separatists also have been defeated at a number of places where they established themselves two days ago, including Julich, Meunchen-Gladbach, Neuss and Mayence.

The recaptures were attended with a certain amount of bloodshed, but the worst fighting took place in Aix, where a number of persons were killed or wounded during the fighting.

The Belgian authorities and troops are assisting the police in patroling the street. At seven o'clock tonight curfew was rung, sending the people to their homes as a precaution against further trouble.

By The Associated Press.

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—Seven policemen were killed and nineteen severely wounded and at least 14 other persons were killed and 103 wounded in today's rioting in Hamburg, according to advices thus far received in Berlin.

In the suburbs of Barmbeck and Debsheide fighting broke out afresh this afternoon when the communists began firing from the roofs of houses. A vigorous counter action was promptly begun, and the police were at last accounts, in control of the situation.

By The Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 23.—A dispatch to the Havas agency from Mayence says that five persons were killed and several wounded, all of whom were inoffensive spectators, during another attempt to establish the Rhineland republic in Mayence. The attempt failed before the determined resistance of workingmen organized by the unions.

The separatists this morning attempted to rush the city hall but were repulsed and pursued by the workmen.

The dispatch adds that the police have been confined to barracks.

By The Associated Press.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 23.—A detachment of nationalists from Cologne is reported to be marching on Duren, now occupied by the separatists, and a column of peasants from the Mount Joy district is marching on Aix la Chapelle.

By The Associated Press.

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—Another parliamentary crisis which will harbor far more serious internal ramifications than that which recently carried Dr. Stresemann into office for a second time at the head of a loosely jointed coalition, is an early prospect, in the opinion of political leaders. Socialistic impatience with the Stresemann government's tolerance of Von Kahr, the Bavarian dictator, and the indignation of the radicals over the resolute manner in which Saxony is being dealt with under the existing state of military law already constitute points of divergence, which threaten the socialists defection from the present coalition.

The chancellor's failure to make prompt and categorial use of his dictatorial authority in enforcing urgent remedical measures is also causing restiveness in the ranks of the radical party and its principal organ, Vorwaerts, which is not holding back plain spoken criticism of the government, in which the party is represented by three ministers.

By The Associated Press.

COBLENZ, Oct. 23.—The pendulum in the bitter struggle which has been raging since Sunday between the separatists attempting to install a Rhineland republic by force of arms and nationalists, communists and certain elements of the workmen's union, opposing such action, is swinging back and forth with alternate advantages to the contending sides. But to the neutral observers it appears that the republicans have made little headway since their green, white and red emblem was first raised over Aix la Chapelle's city hall three days ago.

SWAG IS $14,000 IN PAY HOLDUP

By The Associated Press.

BELLEVILLE, Ills., Oct. 23.—A. Ganaway, paymaster, and Walter Ambs, a guard, carying a payroll of about $14,000 from a St. Louis bank to mine No. 1 of the Southern Coal, Coke & Mining company here, were held up by an automobile load of bandits as they alighted from a street car close to the mine this afternoon. After pointing pistols at the paymaster and guard the bandits escaped with a satchel containing the money.

Boat Containing 3 Swept Over Dam

Flood Swollen Washita River Takes Dread Toll When Trio Attempts Crossing in Boat

By The Associated Press.

CHICKASHA, Okla., Oct. 23.—Three members of a Chickasha gas and electric company working crew perished today when the boat in which they were trying to cross the flood-swollen Washita river was swept over the dam.

The dead:

William Venable, constructing contractor of the company.

L. N. Alsup, foreman of the company's electrical department.

Joe Osborne, an employe.

Their bodies were carried down stream by the raging torrent below the dam and have not been recovered.

The men put into the river in a light steel boat about 200 feet above the dam in an effort to cross to the other side to make certain repairs. Their paddles proved inadequate against the swift current.

Alsup jumped into the river just as the boat disappeared over the dam. He was sucked under by the swirling waters after reaching striking distance of the bank.

NEW LANDSLIDE IN PANAMA CANAL

By The Associated Press.

PANAMA, Oct. 23. Unusually heavy rain caused the slide yesterday of a large quantity of earth which covered the Panama railroad tracks for a distance of 300 feet about three miles from Pedro Miguel, resulting in suspension of traffic between Panama and Colon. The slide is 16 feet deep at one point. A provisional track is being built around the slide and it is hoped that traffic will be resumed before night.

The big flood in the Chagres river caused by the rainfall started a very strong current through the Panama canal this morning at Gamboy, necessitating the suspension of all navigation in the canal for the day. It was thought the operation of the waterway might be resumed tomorrow as the rains show signs of lessening.

KEMP WITNESS WON'T TESTIFY

By The Associated Press.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Tex., Oct. 23.—George McKinley, white, charged with murder in connection with the slaying of Otis Ballard, September 21, was placed on the witness stand today in the trial of Burl Kemp, negro, also charged with the slaying of Ballard. COOLIDGE HOLDS 'HOPE' CONFER

Prominent Republicans Discuss Condition of Party

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Impetus was given political discussions in Washington today by a series of conferences held at the White House by President Coolidge.

The president inquired as to the party situation in New England in conferences with Earle S. Kinsley, national committeeman from Vermont, and Frank Knox, a prominent New Hampshire republican, and then went over the general situation with a number of leaders at a luncheon conference.

Participating in the luncheon discussion were John T. Adams, chairman, and Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the republican national committee; C. H. Huston, chairman of the committee's ways and means department; William R. Wrigley of Chicago, who, with Mr. Upham, is a house guest at the White House; William C. Sproule, former governor of Pennsylvania; E. T. Stotesbury of Philadelphia, James H. Stanley of Denver and Frank W. Stearns of Boston, one of the president's leading advisers. All of those at the luncheon were guarded later in the statements regarding subjects discussed, but it was understood that chief attention was given to party finances and methods of wiping out the deficit incurred in the 1920 campaign.

BOY THOUGHT DEAD ALIVE AND WELL

By The Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 23.—Ralph Saxon, 16, escaped inmate of the Eldorado, Iowa, reformatory, who was believed dead by his parents at Marion, Iowa, is in Oklahoma City alive and well. The body of a boy identified by Saxon's parents as that of their son and buried by them is probably that of his chum, a boy named "Kiddie," Saxton told Ray Frazier, police chief, here today.

Saxton arrived in Oklahoma City from Blackwell, Okla. He told welfare workers that he was penniless and he was turned over to the police. He said that Kiddie parted from him soon after their escape, wearing Saxton's coat. This, he said, probably accounted for the belief that he had been killed when the body was found beside a railroad track in Iowa last June.

He will be sent home as soon as money is telegraphed here by his parents, police said.

Move Places Muskogee Man In Executive Position Temporarily

By The Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 23.—Governor J. C. Walton was suspended from office at 6:40 p. m. when the state senate, by a vote of 36 to 1, dopted a resolution temporarily relieving him of his official duties, following the submission by the lower house of a bill of impeachment against him.

The impeachment bill charged the executive with entering into "a corrupt agreement" with Dr. A. E. Davenport, state health commissioner, to place T. P. Edwards, the governor's personal chauffeur, on the payroll of the health department at $200 a month; and that thereby "certain moneys were diverted from the statutory object and purpose for which they were appropriated by law."

The suspension resolution was introduced by Senator W. M. Gulager of Muskogee. A committee was named to inform the governor and lieutenant-governor of the action.

Lieutenant-Governor Trapp is in Sapulpa, Okla., and was notified by telephone.

The committee delivered its message to the governor in his office.

Immediately afterward the house transmitted article 3, charging the gov-

CAMPAIGN COST COMES TOO HIGH

Gilmore Says He Cannot Afford to Run for Governor

By The Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 23. — His cost of campaign was ascribed today by Clarence E. Gilmore, chairman of the state railroad commission, as his reason for declining what he declared was the request of many friends that he run for governor in the democratic primary.

Mr. Gilmore issued a public statement in which he said solicitation that he be a candidate had come "from all sections of the state."

"The cost of making a campaign for governor," said Mr. Gilmore, "is so great that I am forced to forego whatever opportunity there may be for success. It it a matter of serious concern that a campaign for governor and other state offices involves so great expenses and our people may well take thought to the matter of devising ways to correct the condition which results in many useful men refusing to make the sacrifice always incident to public service."

Vernon May Get Champ Football Battle

M'CALLUM IS TOLD GAME IS FOR VERNON IF THAT ELEVEN TAKES FRIDAY QUANAH GAME

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 23.—The championship for the north half of district number four will be played at Vernon if Vernon beats Quanah next Friday, was the decision given Coach McCallum of the Wichita Falls Coyotes by Roy Henderson, director of the interscholastic league. The place for the play-off will still be open if Quanah wins, Henderson further told McCallum.

This action is taken, according to Henderson, in order that the championship game may be alternated from year to year among the different high schools in the district.

Last year the championship game was played at Wichita Falls which fact insures the certainty that the game will not be played here this season. Should Quanah win the game Friday in playing off the 0 to 0 tie between that high school and Vernon Hi, negotiations will probably follow to place the game in the best available town near enough the center of this portion of the district so that the largest crowd possible may see it. This naturally follows the reticence of Henderson in failing to name Quanah the place for the big game in cure that team wins Friday at Vernon. Some other town may be selected that is due the game, which has not been decided upon yet, and is held pending the outcome of the Vernon-Quanah elimination game.

While Wichita Falls has a clean slate in four games, winning all of them, the last of which was the elimination of Electra, Vernon and Quanah have won all their games except the tie between themselves, Accordingly the winner Friday will meet Wichita with a straight number of wins.

In commenting upon the word received from Austin last night, Coach Moore of the Coyotes expressed the regret that the game could not be played here on account of the larger number of people who could attend, but said that the decision of the interscholastic authorities was entirely acceptable.

Coach McCallum who was expected back from Austin last night, will probably arrive today with news as to whether or not, the Coyotes will meet Dallas Academy here this week-end. This game, if played, will have no bearing upon the interscholastic race, as the Dallas school is not in the league. It will be a strictly exhibition affair.

Should the game not be made with Dallas Academy, the Coyotes will probably meet the Frederick, Oklahoma high school team here in an exhibition game.

The Coyotes are taking light workouts this week with only two men on the injured list. Bennett Moore, half back, will probably not be in the game this week-end, not having yet recovered from a wrenched back received in the Electra affair. Leo Baldwin, the star Coyote full back who made all the touchdowns in the Electra game, is also out of trim, but will be in the game this week, according to Coach Moore.

No new tricks are being pulled as yet by the coaches, as they have a bagful yet to be unmasked this season. The only new play coming out in last Saturday's game was the punt-pass-or run threat play started from punt formation. So far straight football has won for the Coyotes.

LITTLE LESSONS IN Big Sports

How is an off tackle play executed?
Answered by
KNUTE ROCKNE
Coach of football, Notre Dame university. Famous for his fighting teams, beaten only twice in last four years.

* * *

The key to an off tackle play is the defensive tackle. It is therefore wise to put two men on him, the offensive end and an extra backfield man. The first two backs will have to block the end out but if one can get him, the other goes through for the defensive halfback. The guard, pulling out of position, should go through the defensive line and get the defensive fullback out of the play, leaving his feet to do so. The man carrying the ball runs easily for several steps, as if going wide, cuts in almost at right angles and drives through the hole between defensive tackle and defensive end. Men on opposite side of line hit by runner go through to take out the secondary defense and to form wave of interference for the runner when he breaks through and cuts back toward the middle of the line. The play, to be successful, depends on good interference, line blocking, fast starting, and timing.

TEXAS MADE 131; OTHER STATES ZERO

By The Associated Press.

DALLAS, Tex. Oct. 23.—Five football games played thus far this season between Texas teams and those of other states, and in some instances other sections, resulted in a total score of 131 points for the Lone Star players while their opponents failed to score.

Possibly the greatest victory of this strong showing in the southwest, was that of the University of Texas over Vanderbilt, 16 to 0. The Sewanee game, which was taken by the Texas Aggies, 14 to 0, was next. hTe others were the defeat of Tulane by Texas University, 33 to 0, and the victory of the Southern Methodists over the Rolla (Mo.) Miners, 35 to 0, and the Henderson-Brown team from Arkansas, 33 to 0.

RAIN POSTPONES JUNIOR SERIES

By The Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 23.—Today's game at Oriole Park in the junior world's series between the Baltimore Internationals and the Kansas City American association team was postponed because of rain. Continued bad weather was forecast for tomorrow by the weather bureau.

GRID GAMBOLS

Coach "Bootjack" Moore is not taxing the Wichita Coyotes this week merely giving them signal practice and other light workouts in the absence of Coach McCallum. The Coyotes are in pretty good shape, bearing evidence to some extent of Saturday's ame. Stiff muscles are being worked out in preparation for the probable game Friday or Saturday, which will be played with either Dallas Academy or Frederick, or Oklahoma high, here. Bennett Moore, regular half back, will probably be out of the game this week-end on account of a twisted neck received last Saturday. Baldwin, star full back, is suffering with a boil on his neck, but is expected to be ready to start this week. Coach Moore stated yesterday afternoon. Bennett Moore will be missed, but McCallum has good backs in Curtain, Lawson and company.

According to reports from Austin last night, it all depends on Vernon as to whether or not the championship game for this half of the district will be played there. If they win against Quanah, then they can remain at ease and mark time until the Coyotes come around for a set-to Should Quanah win, then there will be more correspondence and negotiations. But it is unlikely that the game will be played here, again. The Coyotes are ready for them, we will bet, either way it happens to fall. It's the team and not the place that makes the score, at the last analysis.

A golfing title, it would seem, is harder to hold than a red hot poker. At the start of the 1923 season Hagen, Sarazen, Sweetser, Holderness, Miss Wethered and Glenna Collett were the respective champions of their countries and their class, and yet but one Sarazen was able to successfully defend a national title.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS

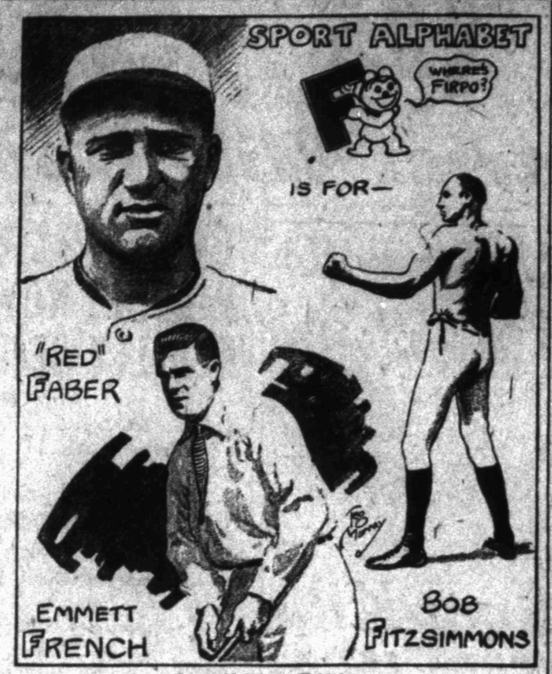

The final chapter in James J. "TUT" Jackson's fistic career is being written at Washington, C. H., Ohio, the home of the former "would be" champion, Tut now suing Billy Palmer, his former manager for a large sum of money which Jackson claims is due him out of his last ring earnings. Tut says he is through for good and is now driving a furniture van for a local company.

If anyone has the impression that college football is not a popular pastime, it might interest them to know that the tidy sum of $23,000 was returned to applicants who desired to see the Ohio State-Michigan game, it being estimated that 100,000 seats could have been sold if available.

Eastern football critics are bubbling over in their praise of Knute Rockne, Notre Dame's great coach. They are a unit in the declaration that the quality of the game put up by the South Benders on Ebbets Field against the army eleven recently, surpassed anything displayed by any combination since football was revised by the introduction of the forward pass.

Sports of 1923

By FEG MURRAY

Sport Alphabet—F is for

"Red" Faber, veteran right-handed pitcher, who has just finished his 10th season with the Chicago White Sox. Red is one of the few to win three world's series games. He worked against the Giants four times in the 1917 series and lost once. Faber, didn't get a home run until he'd been in the big leagues 13 years. His first was a four bagger against the Yankees last June. Red was born in Iowa in 1888. This year he has won 14 games and lost 11.

Emmett French, of youngstown, Ohio, who is one of the best professional golfers in this country. He was runner up to Sarazen in the professional golfer's championship last year and finished high up in the 1922 and '23 open championships. His greatest record was made in 1922, when in two successive tournaments, the Ohio state open, and the Southern open at Nashville, he shot eight rounds at an average of 69 1-2 strokes per round. In other words he played 144 holes in 557 strokes, which is 19 strokes under even 4's.

Bob Fitzsimmons, probably the hardest hitter to ever hold the heavy weight championship. He actually finished his opponents with one punch, not like Dempsey and Firpo, who rained blows on each other at times in their fight without any visible effect. Ruby Robert had a fine pair of shoulders but very spindly legs, and the drawing shown above is one of the few you'll see of him where he isn't depicted as all covered with huge freckles. Fitz held the heavy weight title from 1897 to 1899 and fought his last fight in 1914, when he was 52 years old.

SNAPPY CARD IS AGAIN REPORTED

Dago Ryan Is Matched to Meet Country Boy in 10-Round Go

Dago Ryan, the boy who has two decisions over County Boy Lance, and who is well known here as some leather pusher, takes his laurels into danger Thursday night when he meets Duke Trammel, the Ft. Worth school boy, who last Thursday night k-oed Alvin Williamson, at the Legion boxing go. This ten-round special will be one half of a double final-bill, Speedy Binyon of Alvord and Jimmie Carroll of Ft. Worth furnishing the other section.

When the flashy Alvord steppeh climbs into Carroll next Thursday night, there is expected to be no end to the stuff shown. All elements of a slow bout should be absent when these two well known pushers meet.

An added feature will be the appearance here of the touted Mexican scrapper, Joe Rivers of Fort Worth. The Mexican will be matched with either the old favorite, Kid Snyder, or Mickey Savage of Sapulpa. Either way the match is made, there's bound to be action galore, according to the reputations of one and all in that group.

Preliminaries are also promised of interest, and it is probable that the pin-weights and heavy paper weights will again be matched for the k-o decision. To meet and wrest from the beetling black brow of Rattlesnake, the Electra "Tar-Baby" has been obtained. This will be another bout for honors, the decision giving to the winer the crown of brown and black in this section.

St. Louis Church Uses Films

St. John's Methodist church, one of the leading protestant churches of St. Louis, has turned to the movies as a means of carrying the message of the church to the masses. A contract has been signed with the Rothacker Film company of Chicago to tell in film form the versatile work of the church.

W. K. Kavanaugh and J. W. Fristoe and other leading members of the congregation are behing the movement. The film will be used to stimulate work for the church among other Methodist congregations by showing them what St. John's is doing in St. Louis.

Sunday, October 7, was Go-to-Church Sunday for every department of the congregation, for everywhere the motion picture machine was grinding.

Starts Sabbath Shows

The Union district of Endicott Village, N. Y., had its first Sunday pictures last week when S. Howard Ammerman, manager of the Elvin theatre and former mayor, ran a Sabbath show.

Mr. Ammerman announced his action was prompted by the result of a straw vote, taken in the theatre which resulted overwhelmingly in favor of Sunday pictures. A village ordinance in Endicott proper forbidding Sunday performances has been allowed to remain dormant for two years. Two theatres there are running on Sundays.

D. W. Griffith Films "America."

New England has agreed to open its treasures of Revolutionary relics to motion pictures, and D. W. Griffith has gone to Boston with 150 members of his staff and players to photograph the incidents of the early war on the actual sites; for his next production "America."

By arrangement with several of the historical societies including in particular the Lexington Historical society, the weapons, drums, costumes, vehicles, etc., used during the war will be used in the action. It will be the first time these articles have ever been shown to the world through motion pictures.

Battle scenes will be taken on the famous Lexington Common, where the historic "shot heard round the world" was fired. Buckman's tavern and the Adams house where John Hancock and John Adams were sleeping on the night the British came, will be used as settings.

The action under Griffith's direction will continue along the road to Concord where the battle of the bridge will be fought. It is Griffith's intention that all scenes shall be taken on actual sites excepting where improvements prohibit, but in every action scene photographs of the actual site will be included.

"Hunchback" Premieres

Two big openings during the past week marked the course of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," the Universal production filmed by Wallace Worsley from Victor Hugo's romance with Lon Chaney in the featured role. Both Philadelphia and San Francisco saw premieres of the spectacle film, and in both these cities the premiere was a decided success, it is said.

"The Hunchback of Notre Dame" continues to repeat its initial success in New York, where it opened in the Astor theatre early in September, and its later successes in Boston, and Pittsburgh.

The opening at Philadelphia was in the Chestnut Street Opera House. In San Francisco, the premiere was held in the Capitol theatre.

The next opening of "The Hunchback" will be in Toronto.

Edeson Gives Up Stage

For the first time in thirty years, the opening of the 1923-24 theatrical season did not find Robert Edeson "among those present" in the cast of an opening attraction.

Although Mr. Edeson plays part of each year in motion pictures, he has always split the twelve months 50-50 with the stage.

He was cheated out of his 1023 fall Broadway opening, however, because he had not completed work in Cecil B De Mille's new Paramount picture, "The Ten Commandments," and therefore, instead of making his usual New York jump, he is staying in Los Angeles for William de Mille's "Everyday Love," adapted by Clara Beranger from the novel, "Rita Coventry," by Julian Street.

"Little Old New York" Release

"Little Old New York," Cosmopolitan's starring vehicle for Marion Davies, will be released nationally by Goldwyn-Cosmopolitan on November 4.

The production has just completed a three month's run on Broadway at the new Cosmopolitan theatre. It was directed by Sidney Olcott.

"Pioneer Trails" Stars Landis

Cullen Landis, who is to star in his own pictures according to reports from Hollywood, plays the leading juvenile role in "Pioneer Trails," the great epic of the west which Vitagraph is releasing. It is a David Smith production and Alice Calhoun plays opposite Landis.

Anna Katherine Just A Girl

Anna Katherine Green, the author of "The Leavenworth Case," which Whitman Bennet translated to the screen, is now seventy-seven years old. She makes her home in Rochester, N. Y., and is as active and alert as ever. Miss Green finished a new novel recently.

Mother of de Milles is Dead

Mrs. Beatrice M. de Mille, mother of Cecil B. and William C. De Mille, passed away at her home in Hollywood last Monday following a brief illness. Deceased was the widow of Henry C. de Mille who was at one time associated with David Belasco.

Mrs. de Mille was a resident of Los Angeles for the past eight years and in addition to being among the most successful authors agents she was prominent in many charitable activities. Funeral services were conducted Tuesday from the Hollywood St. Stephen's Episcopal church.

GOV. NEFF TO BE BACK THURSDAY

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 23.—Governor Neff will return to Texas Tuesday night, after an absence of eight days. He notified Mrs. Epsa Stanford, executive Saturday in a telegram sent from Washington Sunday night, that he would stop over in Indianapolis Monday to meet Former Premier Lloyd George, and would reach Texas again Monday night. Term of Acting Governor T. W. Davidson who served as executive during Neff's absence from Texas, will close when Governor Neff recrosses the state line at Denison.

WELCOME TO SENATOR UNDERWOOD

All Wichita Falls will welcome Senator Oscar A. Underwood to Wichita Falls today.

Senator Underwood has picked Wichita Falls for the first stop on his Texas visit. That he chose Texas to announce his presidential candidacy should not be passed lightly, and that he has included this city on his itinerary should not pass unnoticed by our people.

For many years this famous democrat has been an outstanding figure in the congress of the United States, where he has ever been a leader and has held many positions of honor and trust. Wichita should pay him the tribute deserving a man of his calibre.

Whether Oscar Underwood is nominated for the presidency of the United States is beside the point. The fact is that he is a national figure, and will have something to say here which will be worth the while of every man and woman who can crowd into the Palace theater tonight. His visit here is just a friendly visit. Wichita Falls has no axe to grind, and is not bringing the Alabama senator for any purpose other than to give him a royal northwest Texas welcome.

May he enjoy that visit as much as will the people of Wichita Falls.

A NEW CIVILIZATION

Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover declares an annual saving of more than $300,000,000, and 50,000,000 tons of coal to the users of electricity in the New England and the Middle Atlantic states could be made on an investment of $1,250,000,000 by the establishment of a comprehensive super-power system.

He would do this by developing readily accessible waterpower and by providing a highpower transmission regardless of state lines. Hoover is one of the great engineers of the world. He must know whereof he speaks. He is going ahead with the work. He has won the approval of the officials in 11 states to his project and economy in distribution of vast power is the principal feature of his scheme.

There is a new civilization almost here and in this new civilization the waterways of America will be harnessed and the coal barons of America will be given the surprise of their lives.

A NEW DEPARTURE

President Coolidge, Vermont-born and republican to the core, is a champion of the rights of the state. He bluntly told the governors assembled in the city of Washington to go back to their homes and use all the power of state to crush the violators of the prohibition laws.

Why not?

Forty-five of the 48 legislatures ratified the Eighteenth amendment. This ratification carried with it the responsibility of prohibition law enforcement. And it has come to pass that a republican president, born in the state of Vermont and who rose to eminence in the state of Massachusetts, has become the foremost champion of the old democratic dogma of states' rights.

A MOIST SENATOR

Senator James Couzens of Michigan has returned from a European jaunt. He must have found living to his liking over there, as he recommends an early modification of the Volstead act. Michigan is a very dry state; Detroit is a very wet city. Senator Couzens hails from Detroit. He may be of the opinion that Detroit is all here is to the state of Michigan.

ALVIN COMING HOME

Colonal Alvin M. Owsley is coming home. He served a year commander-in-chief of the American Legion and retired covered with honors. In the political haunts of men they do say that Colonal Owsley will be a candidate for governor next year. If so, he will be one of many. Really, the woods are full of them.

SPURNED A MILLION

Eleven prominent citizens of New Jersey were arrested in the city of New York for offering a bribe of $1,000,000 to prohibition enforcement officers. And those tempted did not take the money.

There is plenty of honest life in the old land yet.

An American jeweler has a plan to reduce divorces to a minimum. It calls for negligent husbands to take home gifts from the diamond shops at appropriate times. This is where all the women will line up for proposal and carry it without a dissenting vote.

Only Two Players Between Them and the Goal Posts

Black Money

BY J. S. FLETCHER AUTHOR OF "SCARHAVEN KEEP" "THE BOROUGH TREASURER," ETC.

"Then he let his hand be seen, more plainly. He told Lady Riversreade that a certain gang of men in London had become acquainted with the facts of the Sellithwaite matter, and that they were also aware of Madame Listorelle's engagement to Lord—we will refer to him as Lord X—and that they wanted a price for their silence. In other words, they were determined on blackmail. If they were not paid their price, they were going to Lord X, with all the facts.

"Of course, Lady Riversreade was alarmed on her sister's account. She asked Baseverie what he wanted. He told her at his next visit what his gang wanted—30,000 pounds. So she told Baseverie that she would discuss it further on Monday evening and made an appointment at Vivian's. She drove to her sister's flat in Paddington after the meeting. Madame Listorelle determined to go to New York at once and get certain papers which would establish her innocence in the Sellithwaite affair. Leaving Lady Riversreade in the flat, Madame Listorelle set off for Southampton before 5 o'clock next morning—yes?"

Matherfield, uttering a deep groan, smote his forehead.

"Aye!" he muttered. "But go on!"

"At Southampton she booked a passage. Then she began to think things over, calmly. And in the end, instead of sailing for New York, she set off by train to Lord X's country seat in Wiltshire, and told him the whole story. You know the rest, I fancy, except that we are having Baseverie watched."

"Now as to how we came to issue the advertisement—how we came to connect the affair with the poisoning of Hannaford, of which, of course, all of us had read in the newspapers."

"Aye! how, now?" asked Matherfield.

"Because of this," answered Blenkinsop. "Because of this: Baseverie told Lady Riversreade that the gang of blackmailers had in their possession the original warrant for Mrs. Whittingham's arrest!"

"Ah!" Matherfield and Hetherwick together exclaimed sharply.

"Baseverie made a false step there," continued Blenkinsop. "He should never have told that. But he did—no doubt he thought a rich woman easy prey. Now, of course, when we came to consult, we knew all about the Sellithwaite affair; we knew, too, that Hannaford was superintendent at the time, and that he had the warrant; it was not at all improbable that he had preserved it in his pocketbook, and had it on him when he came to London. What, then, was the obvious conclusion? That the men who now held that warrant had got it, probably by foul means, from Hannaford, and were concerned in his murder. Next to no information could be got as to Hannaford's movements between the time of his arrival in London and the night of his death. The one man who might have given more information about Hannaford's doing on the evening preceding his death, Granett, was dead—evidently poisoned, as Hannaford was poisoned.

"Our theory, then, is that if there is a gang, Baseverie is a leading member; that Hannaford was previously acquainted with him or some other member; that Hannaford was with him or them on the evening preceding his death; that he jokingly told them that he had discovered the identity of Madame Listorelle with Mrs. Whittingham; and that they poisoned him—and Granett, as being present—in order to keep the secret to themselves and to blackmail Madame Listorelle and her sister."

Just then a clerk opened the door and entered with a telegram. Blenkinsop tore open the envelope, glanced hurriedly at the message and flung the form on his desk with an exclamation of annoyance.

"This is from our man!" he said. "Sent from Dover. Followed Baseverie down there—and Baseverie's slipped him!"

Hetherwick, a young well-to-do barrister, witnesses the death in a London train of Hannaford, a former police superintendent in Sellithwaite, who dies suddenly after calling attention of his companion to a newspaper portrait he carries. His companion later found to be Granett, a chemist, disappears, but later is discovered dead and it is shown that the same sort of poison killed both.

Rhona Hannaford, the superintendent's granddaughter tells Hetherwick that Hannaford had perfected a chemical invention on which he expected to make his fortune The formula he always carried with him but it was missing when the police examined his body.

Matherfield, police inspector, and Hetherwick work together on the case. The newspaper portrait is identified as one of

Lady Riversreade, a handsome wealthy widow who has established a Home for officers at Dorking, and also as Madame Listorelle, her twin sister, an expert in jewels. Madame Listorelle, then known as Mrs. Whittingham, lived ten years before in Sellithwaite and, through no fault of her own, was charged with giving a worthless check in payment for a diamond necklace. She was arrested but escaped from Hannaford's hands. Later the jeweller was reimbursed.

Dr. Cyprian Baseverie, a debarred physician, learns of this and attempts to blackmail Lady Riversreade. In spite of his knowledge.

Major Penteney, who is interested in Lady Riversreade, defies him on her behalf. Baservie is watched, but escapes.

Kidnaped.

"That's unfortunate!" Penteney exclaimed. "Of course, the fellow's slipped off to the Continent."

"You should have employed two men, gentlemen," said Matherfield as he got up and moved toward the door.

"Outside, be turned to Hetherwick.

"Well!" he said. "We've cleared up a few things—or, rather those two have cleared them up for us. But are we any nearer answering the question that we want answered—who poisoned Robert Hannaford?"

"I think we are!" replied Hetherwick. "I am, anyhow! Either Baservie poisoned him, or he knows who did—and he's gone!"

Later that day Matherfield learned that one of his men had found the chemist whose torn label was on the bottle found in Granett's room and from him learned that a Dr. Charles Ambrose had prescribed the formula. He procured a description of Ambrose, that to Matherfield, resembled that given at the inquest of the "tall, well-dressed man" seen with Hannaford early on the night he was shot. The Medical Directory, however, showed no "Dr. Charles Ambrose" and when they applied at the address given by the chemist they were told he had been away three weeks.

Telling the caretaker his business Matherfield entered Ambrose's apartment with Hetherwick, at his heels. Hetherwick, after a first glance at the sitting-room pointed to a framed photograph which hung over the mantlepiece.

"There's a significant piece of evidence—at once!" he exclaimed.

"It's a famous church at Sellithwaite, England."

"It's a mighty significant thing," agreed Matherfield. "We're getting at something!"

There was little to see, Hetherwick thought. The furniture was plain, old, rather shabby; the whole place suggested that its occupant was not over well-to-do. A desk in the center was littered with [illegible] and papers.

"See that?" Matherfield exclaimed [illegible], pointing to a morable calendar which stood on the [illegible] ledge of the desk. "Notice the date! March 18th. That's the day on which Hannaford got his quietus. At least, strictly speaking, it was the day before. Hannaford actually died on the 19th, about—what was it?—very early in the morning, anyway. What's one to gather from this? That Ambrose hasn't been here since the 18th! So—hello!"

Turning over the loose papers that lay about the blotting-pad, he had suddenly lighted upon a telegram.

"Look at that!" he exclaimed. "Now, that is a find! Biggest we've had so far!"

Hetherwick read the message.

All right will meet you Victoria bookstall this evening as suggested.

HANNAFORD.

"See the date?" said Matherfield excitedly. "March 18th! Now we've got at it! Ambrose was the man that met Hannaford at Victoria! That's certain! Let's be moving."

"Where now?" asked Hetherwick.

A Good Job

One Mother Says:

One rainy day I started my children and their friends at painting the porch furniture. I found that painting is a job they love, so I provided them with old overalls, and now they take great delight in "doing over" old furniture, keeping shelves freshly painted, and doing many other "odd jobs" of painting in our basement on Saturdays.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

THE GOLDEN GOOSE

The Dutch, who first invented cheese
Way back in thirteen eighty four—
Good honest souls—omitted holes,
And built 'em solid, to the core.
The burgher, when he went to buy
A Sunday cheese of goodly girth,
Was well assured that he secured
And carried home his money's worth.

The Swiss improved, as they declared,
This simple product of the Dutch,
But cheese they found, sold by the pound,
Did not enhance their earning's much.
And so they blew them full of air
Their outward seeming to increase,
And reaped great gains from dames and swains
By always selling by the piece.

As time went on the holes grew large;
Though bulky to the outward gaze
The cheeses sold for good hard gold
Were light as omelet souffles.
Till soon the peasantry who fed
Upon this thin inflated fare,
Were wont to say: "Alack a-day!
We feel as if we'd eaten air."

And now the world has risen up,
Demanding economic freedom,
And buys no cheese unless it sees
That it is plainly branded "Edam."
The cheese that Switzerland "improved"
Lies like a drug upon the mart,
Which proves, forsooth, that ancient truth
"It doesn't pay to be too smart."

TIMELY VIEWS on WORLD TOPICS

"GERMANY CAN PAY BUT IS PLAYING WAITING GAME," SAYS RETURNED PROFESSOR

"Germany is able to meet the reparations terms but she feels that time will operate in her favor, so she is playing a waiting game." This is the view of John Grier Hibben, president of Princeton university, who but recently returned from Germany and other European countries.

"I did not find any evidence of poverty or unusual distress in Germany," he continued in a recent interview. "The stream of population passed before me much as it appeared in the days of 1912. I learned, however, that there was suffering, confined to a certain class. Those whose incomes are fixed amounts in marks and for which no adjustments can be made to keep pace with the fall of the mark in value are the only ones who suffer.

"Much money is being made and lavishly spent by all who are engaged in industrial pursuits. The profits are deposited in large banks in Switzerland, England, and New York and investments made in foreign securities. There is every evidence upon all sides of great industrial activity and prosperity.

No Scarcity of Food

"It is significant that during the last eight months Germany has been the heaviest buyer of cotton from our country, paying more than $72,000,000 for it, and is also the heaviest buyer of copper, her importation amounting to something above $17,000,000. It is a mystery where this money comes from, but it is evident that Germany is not insolvent and canot be regarded as a bankrupt nation.

"There seemed to be an abundance of food, not only in the higher priced restaurants, but in the more modest priced cafes and in the beer gardens frequented by thousands of Germans, seemingly happy, in excellent spirits, enjoying their food and beer. The life of the people, not of the richer class but of all people, flows on in much the some way as formerly.

Germany Views on Reparations

"All of this has, of course, direct bearing upon the question of reparations. It is evident from the conversation I had with those who are intimately concerned with the present and future of Germany that he attitude of Germany towards the reparations, which are constantly urged.

"The first is that Germany, from the beginning, waged 'a war of defense' and against invasion; the second, that Germany was never defeated on the field, and, therefore the peace was a 'peace without victory.'

"If any one accepts these premises the attitude of Germany at the present time must be regarded as logical; that she will not pay any more indemnity than she is compelled to pay. Moreover, there is a general feeling that, by shrewd waiting, time will operate in Germany's favor.

"There is a real desire in many minds to restore some form of monarchial government."

SCORPIO

The early morning aspects are inauspicious for business matters. After 11 o'clock the influences change for the better making the remainder of the day and evening excellent for all pursuits, including business, pleasure and courtship.

A child born today will be active and industrious, always making work of play and play of work.

You should study well your character if today is your birthday, for you are naturally of the type among which are to be found bigots and those who think in circles. You prefer action to meditation and for that reason your thinking is apt to be done by someone else and probably by someone who has something to gain by making you think what he chooses.

Your are energetic, courageous and productive, but you are also moralistic. In fact you are apt to shape your conduct according to a proverbial axiom whether it be right or wrong. So as occasion demands, you will follow the ethics of "haste makes waste" or "procrastination is a thief of time." You never experience any difficulty in finding a moral sanction for what you wish to do all of course quite subconsciously.

You have a nervous temperament which responds to all emotional appeals. You are just as apt to follow a crowd to a lynching as you are to follow a Salvation Army band to a prayer meeting. It is simply a question of being in the swim.

You are unquestionably and unquestioningly idealistic.

You are inventive and resourceful and intensely practical in the application of your pet devices and profitable uses.

You have a highly developed sense of fellowship and friendship you prize beyond love itself. This is because your are fundamentally afraid of being face to face with dangerously personal responsibility. You would rather be in a crowd than alone with one you love. But when you have once overcome this diffident attitude you go to the other extreme and begrudge sharing your loved one with anybody else.

THE COLONIZATION QUESTIONNAIRE

Best Nationalities for Settlers.

Many questions that have been answered by the land owners has shown a diversified opinion. On a few they have been almost unanimous, but of all the questions that have been asked no other has had so many different answers as the following:

"What do you think of trying to bring in foreigners to settle these lands (such as Japs, Mexicans, Germans and Swedes)?"

Here are some of the answers:

"They would be more successful."
"Good Idea."
Two said they perferred Japs.
"Germans all right."
Three said Germans and Swedes are very good.
"Bring the Swedes."
"Any Europeans that would become good Americans."
"No Japs."
Two said "No Japs or Mexicans."
"Bad Idea."
"Not under any circumstances."
"They don't dare to try to bring Japs in."
"It does not appeal to me."
"No foreigners at all."

The above are typical answers. Practically everyone answered the question, and most all of them expressed an opinion other than just "yes" or "no."

About the only conclusion that can be drawn is that this is a matter that has been given considerable thought by the owners, and they have formed strong opinions either for or against.

Beauty and Health Go Hand in Hand

San Antonio, Texas.—"I used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for feminine trouble, and it helped me very much; I suffered at times so I would have to go to bed. I would have headaches and a dragging sensation and was very nervous and irritable, but after taking the 'Prescription' I gained in weight and felt better in every way. I certainly am glad to tell others what this medicine has done for me."—Mrs. J. D. Scott, 223 Keller Street.

Keep Too Much To Themselves

Many men and women of middle age feel that they have never had a chance to make anything out of themselves. But the main reason for it usually is that they let such things as pimples, rash, "breaking out," eczema, tetter, etc., on their face, neck, hands or arms make them feel that they are not wanted around and they keep to themselves too much.

You can get just as much out of life as anyone. All you need is confidence in yourself, which you get naturally when you rid yourself of those skin troubles, if you just use the wonderful Black and White Ointment. It is economically priced, in generous packages. All dealers have it. The 50c size contains three times as much as the 25c size.—Adv.

The session was opened with a brief business session which preceded the program in which Miss Burks in Japanese costume sang "A Japanese Love Song" and "Lullaby."

The rooms were decorated in oriental style with Japanese parasols forming a canopy under which stood Japanese boys. Imitation bamboo intermingled with many vari-colored flowers was used further to enchance the beauty of the setting, and the whole was lighted with the soft glow of Japanese lanterns.

After the program, Mrs. W. L. Davidson from the Oriental studio, gave a short talk at the same time displaying some Jananese embroideries and art goods.

COLOR CUT-OUTS

The Fortune Teller's Den.

"Cut the fringe long and stringy, Betty Cut-out, so it will rustle in the wind and make you feel creepy and shivery," warned Natalie Clipper, who was supervising the construction of the booth in the corner of the yard where fortunes were to be told at the Hallowe'en party.

"It ripples all right," answered Betty, beginning to tack the strips in place.

To make the booth for your hat box party, get a cereal carton of the proper size, and cut out one end for a door. Then cover it with fringed crepe paper or white paper you have colored with your crayon. The glowering witch cut out and pasted over the door will give the finishing Hallowe'en touch.

Across the yard from the witch's booth is Spooky Lane where you can find tomorrow most everything including owls and bats and bad luck. Remember to add to your party box every day.

Black Satin Now Popular

Black satin is the thing for afternoon wear says Dame Fashion. And Wichita women listen with interested ears, for lovely creations can be found in the shops in black satin, and lovely creations may be fashioned in ones own home of black satin if one is as skillful in sewing and design as many of the local young women whose hobby it is to make pretty things.

Black satin forms such an interesting foundation for the smart little fall hats with their low brims that are so good at this time. Veils, large filmy squares with heavy patterned borders that hang far below the little hat are correct, and loose veils are better than the closely pinned veil of other seasons.

Long skirts feature all new fall dresses and suits except of course, those for sports wear. Many skirts are draped, one clever style is pulled from the front to the back and caught up in bustle effect, but is very long.

Coats have left the cape silhouette and are long draped models in the main, trimmed with fur. Occasionally a front drape is caught with a massive clasp, the only ornament on the wrap.

Jacquettes in astrakahn and other woolly materials are the thing for the young girl and are very smart. Local shops report marked interest in this new style of short coat.

Sweaters are in evidence everywhere—coat sweaters of brilliantly colored wools, and sleeveless models in brushed wools that button very low. Colors of sand shading down to brown prove the most popular and checks and plaids are quite good. A finely pleated skirts, suede shoes and hose and a small cloche in corresponding colors complete a costume that is proving very popular among Wichita misses.

BEADWORK IS STILL DELIGHT

Continues Popularity With Women

Is it beaded? Then it's correct.

Beadwork in various forms has been the delight of a woman's heart since before the days of Queen Elizabeth. It can even be traced back to the period when pieces of bone and shells were strung on a thong to adorn primitive maidens.

Fine beadwork is an art. Blending of color and design is quite as intricate as embroidery or painting, and nothing is quite so lustrious and rich in color as beadwork.

Beaded bags are good either in purse form in richly backgrounded designs, or in the circular bag form of solid color made of rows and rows of loped beads and finished at the bottom with a beaded tassel.

There is no limit to color shades in beads, beautiful lustrious beads in small and bugle lengths may be found in bronze, gold, silver, and all metal color tones. Clear glass and opaque glass in all shades as well as opalescent and pearl beads form a wide assortment for the bead worker to choose from.

Bead weaving on a loom produces attractive bags, neck ropes, bead fobs and the like. The work comes from the loom in a flat woven strip, and possibilities for color and design are endless. A necklace made in tiny metal beads forms a lovely accessory for the new fall dresses.

Bead embroidery is good on afternoon and evening dresses and works up most beautifully with sheer materials. Designs are effective in contrasting colors, though some models demand beading in self color.

The newest art in bead work is bead work crochet. Attractive neck ropes of silk studded thickly with fine beads are the result of this method, and prove quite a mystery to the needleworker who does not know just how it is done. Round bags solidly beaded with tiny loops, are much more beautifully made in this way than the old method of sewing the beads on a cloth bag.

The beads are strung on purse twist and the string of beads is crocheted into the article desired allowing regular numbers of beads to appear looped between the stitches.

Perkins Timberlake company are giving free instruction with beads bought in the store and Wichita Falls women are availing themselves of this privilege of learning the new art that is proving so popular.

Woman's Missionary Union Meets Monday

Those present were Mesdames A. G. Micheal, H. F. Haley, W. F. Ward, A. J Holt, Burr Clemm, M. C. Hayes, J. J. Boseman, J. M. Goin, L. C. Blakely, J. L. Powell, Jr., Charles West, T. W. Skeleton, W. J. Morrison, Clyde Crawford, J. L. Crawford, J. J. Hester, Will Cook, W. R. Harper, J. J. Hampton, M. B. Rawls, L. B. Anderson, H. W. Conn, W. G. Collins, A. J. Catlin, R. F. George, H. M. Wichita Falls Is Blessed With Thoroughly Modern Laundry

Especially designed for a modern dry cleaning department is their De Laval continuous clarifier. As fast as the dirt is removed from the clothing, the gasoline is also removed and pumped through this clarifier which takes the dirt from the gasoline. This action keeps the gasoline sweet and clean, and the clothes will not have that odor of rancid gasoline. This section of the laundry is equipped to turn out dyeing of the best quality. Presses of the latest type are also used in this department. When the clothes have been pressed with steam they are absolutely sterilized for no germs can live through this steam treatment. Germs destroy the fabric of the clothes, and the modern machines help in prolonging the life of the clothes.

First Floor—The Flat Ironer in the Foreground

In the foreground is the mammoth flat work ironer. This machine irons nothing but such things as table cloths, napkins, towels, and other flat pieces. The flat work ironer covers 200 square feet of floor space and when running at full capacity keeps twelve people busy. One sheet every ten seconds or six sheets per minute can be ironed in this machine. Sixty or 70 other machines of different types are used in this plant. Giant washing machines, which wash over 300 pounds of clothes at one time, and which holds 150 gallons of water are also in the laundry. Drying tumblers which fluff and dry out blankets, quilts, bath towels, and knit underwear are used in the Wichita Falls laundry. There are extractors which remove the water without twisting or tearing the clothes, they do not pull off the buttons.

Second Floor

On this floor, most of the ironing and finishing is done. First the articles are starched. The "rough dry" pieces are then dried in the steam heated dry house and sorted out, each piece to its proper bundle. Those articles which are to be finished are sent to the presses and hand ironers. For dresses, the press does most of the work, but the ruffles are done by the hand ironers. There are three sizes of presses, and they are steam heated so that nothing can be scorched or burned.

Seven different machines are used to iron a shirt. The cuffs are ironed on one machine which is steam heated, the neck band on another, then the bosom, the sleeves, next the body of the shirt. Another process which the shirt is put through is the sewing machines where the buttons are sewed on and patches put on where needed. Finally, the shirt is touched up with a hand iron and neatly folded to be sent home. The process for finishing a starched collar is first the collar starched, the dry house, the dampener, the ironer, seam dampener, edger, molder—seven machines do do the shirt, and six of them for the collar.

Waurika
NEWS AND PERSONALS

Slays Self

Frank Stotts, a former banker at Ringland, Oklahoma, and known by many Waurikans, shot himself last Monday at his home in Mulhall, following the closing of his bank doors by the bank examiner.

Stotts and his brother were tried for murder several years ago, after they shot two men who were making some kind of trouble in the bank at Ringland. They were both acquitted at the trial.

Chas. G. Morris, county superintendent will conduct a teacher's examination at Waurika, Oct. 25-26-27. Those who successfully pass the examination will be awarded county certificates.

After Bonus Notes

Attorneys are bringing action to collect the unpaid railroad bonus notes, as regards the Wichita Falls and Waurika railroad. The bonus was paid promptly but that does not relieve makers of these notes of their responsibility to pay and collection will be pushed.

Board of education of Waurika has advertised for bids for a new roof to be placed on the separate school Personals.

Aged Rector Dies.

By the Associated Press

LONDON.—Canon Ostert Mordaunt, widely known in England as proprietor of the "Parson's Public-house," which sold only pure beer and no spirits, is dead at the age of 80. For 48 years he was rector of Hampton Lucy, near Stratford-on-Avon.

Waurika Society and Personals

Suit Filed.

The Kingfisher Improvement company filed suit last Friday praying for an injunction against the paving of district number two, which is the eleven blocks in the heart of the business district of Waurika. The injunction was not unexpected. Just what effect it will have on the progress of the paving is not known thus far. Attorneys for the paving contractor had approved the proceedings, so it hoped that the paving will go on unless the injunction is made permanent which is hardly probable. The history of Waurika's endeavor to pave has been one of discouragement all the way through, but this time it was thought that the procedures had been so regular that there was no loophole for further lawsuits or delays.

The election to vote on the question of detaching the southeast corner of Jefferson county and attaching the same to Love county will be held next Tuesday. Only voters living in the affected teritory are entitled to vote in regard to the change and a vote of 60 per cent in favor will carry it.

Tex.-Okla. Development Meet.

The first regular meeting of the Texas-Oklahoma Development association was held in Ardmore on Friday night of last week, with representatives from Ardmore, Wichita Falls, Temple, Hastings, and Waurika present to enjoy the luncheon served by the Ardmore chamber of commerce at 6:30 at the Ardmore hotel and to make plans for the building of the Ringland-Waurika railroad.

Definite plans of procedure were made. Sub-committees were named to take up the matter with parties who are interested or that there is a chance to interest, and their repors will soon be made. J. L. Morgan, C. G. Stuard and C. S. Storms represented Waurika.

One of the fundamentally essential books in the library of the youngest scholar, or the most finished student, is the dictionary. Knowing that and that children should early be instructed in its use, all the grades of the Waurika schools from the 4B up have been equipped with standard dictionaries this past week.

The death of W. H. Wilson, one of Jefferson county's pioneers, familiarly known as "Uncle Billy," took place at the family home in north Waurika last Tuesday evening. He was stricken with an attack of gall stones on Friday and passed away on Tuesday. He is survived by his wife, two children, Mrs. J. W. Black of Los Angeles, and Sam Wilson of Liberty, Mo., and one grand-daughter, Mrs. Irene Pointon of Los Angeles.

His passing removes one of our best citizens and he will be mourned here as well as in his old home in Missouri.

There was a brief funeral service conducted by C. S. Storms, an old and trusted friend of the family, consisting of scripture reading and prayer at the family home Saturday afternoon. The body, accompanied by the bereaved wife and daughter, was taken to Liberty, Mo., the old family home for burial.

Waurika High school students are taking subscriptions for the Ladies Home Journal this week, at the new price of $1.00 per year. One half of the subscription money goes to the school, the other half to the magazine. Forty subscriptions were taken by the students the first day.

Arrested Again.

Elmer Kirk, noted Waurikan for having been often in the toils of the law, was again arrested this past week in company with his wife, both of them accused of breaking into the Smythe dry goods store at Marlow on last Saturday night, and taking $2,000 worth of merchandise. Others are implicated but no other arrests have been made.

With the Kirks were a number of suit cases all packed with sweaters, shoes, silks, etc., and more of the stolen goods were located in a pasture where they had been hidden.

Entrance was made by filling off the store lock, and no one discovered it during the terrific downpour of rain that night. When it was found out Monday morning officers took up the trail and followed the Kirks to the home of Tom Perry, Mrs. Kirk's father, and there the arrest was made.

Kirk has served one term in the penitentiary. Their trial is set for Monday of next week at Duncan.

Colonel Hardy Watson, who claims the distinction of being the marrying justice of southern Oklahoma, seems to be living up to his reputation. Arthur Denham, an old friend of the E. R. Woolridge family, arrived in Waurika last Saturday to visit a few days, was taken very ill and passed away on Saturday afternoon. Funernl services were conducted Sunday afternoon by Rev. Marion Franklin and interment made in the Waurika cemetery. The deceased was a genial, philosophical old Englishman, 68 years of age, having been in this country for the past thirty-five years, but without a single living relative nearer than England.

Mrs. W. H. Shook, who has been in Wichita-Kansas, by the bedside of a sick brother, started home the other day, after the death and burial of her brother, accompanied by her aged mother. Enroute the mother was taken very ill and Mrs. Shook is still with her at Kingfisher, Okla.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Stock prices generally failed to give any indication of a definite trend in today's quiet market, most issues floundering irregularly within a narrow trading area.

Renewed weakness of sterling exchange, which carried it down to another new low level for the year, had a depressing effect on sentiment, but its effect on stock prices was generally held to be negligible the financial community, however, is paying close attention to European cables which have formed the major topic of morning conferences in some of the largest banks.

Fluctuations in stock prices continue to reflect the play of opposing speculative forces. Fresh weakness cropped out again today in the rubber leather issues, most of which fell to new low records for the year, and in a few special stocks such as American sugar, famous players and international paper, which also sold at the year's minimum prices.

Stocks of mail order houses, chain stores and tobacco companies were in good demand during most of the session. The whole market improved in the last hour on rather active short covering in Baldwin, American Can and U. S. Steel, all of which closed fractionally higher.

Demand sterling broke to a new low of $4.47 5-8 in the early trading but rallied later to 4.49 3-8 on public action of dispatches announcing the defeat of separatist forces in various cities of the Ruhr. Continental exchange also recovered after an early period of heaviness. German marks continued their course toward the vanishing point, being quoted at once cent a billion.

Call money opened at 4 1-2 per cent and then eased to four. More time money was available today at 5 1-4 per cent for all maturities up to 90 days but brokers are still bidding five.

MONEY At Work

Short selling is an advantage to the community because it stabilizes prices.

The short seller goes against the crowd. He prevents crowd contagion from first wildly shooting prices sky high and then just as swiftly dropping them down again. The public buys in streaks; everybody wants to buy or sell, as the case may be at the time when everyone else is doing it.

The short seller watches prices closely. When he believes a wave of buying has forced prices too high he sells. This tends to keep prices from going higher.

Finally the public all trys to sell at once which puts prices down again. When they get down to the point where the short seller thinks they are low enough, he buys in his stock to cover his short sale. This buying prevents a flapse of prices, at the same time that it makes money for the bear. (Copyright, 1923, Associated Editors)

COTTON MARKET UP HALF CENT

Smaller Private Crop Estimates Bring Firmness

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Cotton futures closed steady.

	High	Low	Close	prev. close
Oct.	30.35	29.95	30.35-	29.80
Dec.	30.25	29.84	30.17-22	29.60
Jan.	29.83	29.40	29.80-83	29.26
March	29.88	29.48	29.85-88	29.32
May	29.98	29.57	29.91-95	29.46

Opening: Oct. 30.00; Dec. 29.95; Jan. 29.50; March 29.55; May 29.70.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—There was an advance of approximately half a cent in the cotton market today owing to smaller private estimates of the crop, unfavorable weather in the south and the relatively firm showing of Liverpool. December contracts sold up to 30.25, or 56 points net higher, and all deliveries made new high records for the season on active general buying. December closed at 30.17, with the general market closing steady at net advances of 35 to 55 points.

The market opened firm at an advance of 10 to 27 points on the higher Liverpool cables and reports of frosts in the south. There was considerable realizing and some scattering liquidation of October owing to the issuance of nine or ten notices, but the offerings were soon taken and prices turned upward on reports that a southern authority estimated the crop at 10,280,000 bales and ginnings to October 18 at 6,418,000 bales.

The highest prices of the day were reached in the late trading. The October notices were allowed to circulate during the early afternoon, but appeared to have been stopped later, as October sold up to 30.30 on covering in the late trading. January advanced to 29.81 and last prices were within a few points of the best. Freezing temperatures were reported in parts of Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas, which were regarded as putting a stop to any further plant development in those sections, and the tendency to scaledown estimates of the yield was further promoted by the prospect for unsettled weather in the southwest.

Port receipts 76,991, U. S. port stocks 695,108. Exports 16,237, making 1,407,121 so far this season.

Cottonseed Oil

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Cotton seed oil advanced to new high levels on urgent demand for October contracts from shorts and a covering buying, inspired by the firm crude situation and the strength of lard and cotton. October sold at 12.50. Closing bids were near the top and 20 to 28 points net higher. Sales 22,700 bales. Tenders of 1,500 barrels were issued. Prime crude 9.62½; prime summer yellow 12.25 bid. October closed 12.40; December 11.05; March 11.15; May 11.30, all bid.

Chicago Livestock.

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Cattle 13,000; uneven; steady to weak; top matured steers 12.35; yearlings 12.00; bulk yearlings 10.00@11.50; steers 7.50@9.25; western grassers 5.75@6.25; veulers around 10.00.

Hogs 32,000; strong to ten cents higher; bulk 7.40@7.50; top 7.60; light 7.15@7.35; packing sows 6.35@6.60; pigs 5.40@6.50; estimated holdover 10,000.

WHEAT MARKET AGAIN BULLISH

Gossip on Wheat Tariff and Rates Results in Gains

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Renewed gossip about possible governmental action regarding increase of the wheat tariff or as to reduction of railroad freight rates on export wheat had a bullish effect today on the wheat market. Gains, however, failed to hold well. Closing prices were unsettled, 1-8 to 3-8 @ 1-2 cent net higher, with December 1.05 3-4 to 1.05 7-8 and May 1.10 3-8 @ 1-2. Corn finished at 1-8 to 1-3 cent decline, oats 1-8 to 1-4 @ 3-8 cent off and provision varying from unchanged figures to a rise of 25 cents.

Fine weather and the likelihood of liberal receipts sooner than had been expected had a depressing effect on nearby deliveries of corn. Oats were easier in sympathy with corn.

Provisions averaged higher in response to the action of the hog market. Lard scored new high price records for the season.

Fort Worth Livestock

By The Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 23.—The cattle market was generally slow today with the exception of steers, which sold at a seasonable hour.

Fat cows suffered a decline of 25 cents and on canners there was a cut of 10 cents. Most of the medium to good cows brought around 35 to 40 cents lower than at last week's close. Steers, yearlings, and good light calves sold on a steady basis. Heavy and medium calves suffered a decline of 25 to 50 cents. Stocker rates remained around steady. Receipts were estimated at 5,000 head of cattle and 3,000 calves. The best cattle here cleared around 5.50. Good heifers sold around 5.75 to 6.00. Bulls brought 3.00 to 3.75.

Buyers picked over the calf supply, the best here selling at 7.00 to 7.25.

Hog receipts amounted to 1,500 head. Outside buyers took over practically everything that was here for the opening market, purchases averaging around 10 cents higher, quality considered. One sale was made at 7.30 and a few cars brought 7.25. Most of the run was disposed of at a spread of 7.00 to 7.25.

Pig prices were in line with the week's opening decline. Most of the run was disposed of at a spread of 6.00 to 6.50.

Trading in the sheep house was fairly active with 2,000 head estimated as receipts. Prices were weak to a shade lower, but not quotably lower. Wethers sold at 6.50, lambs brought 11.00.

Curtain Drying Machine

This machine dries your curtains. You will be interested to see this curtain drying machine—it is so arranged that the curtain is kept in its regular shape and size. We will be glad to explain just how it operates when you come in to visit us this week.

Steam Heated Press

This machine is used to iron such garments as women's wash dresses, children's clothing, aprons and many other kinds of wearing apparel. It is steam heated, which insures against scorching the most delicate fabrics.

De Leval Clarifier

By the use of the De Leval Clarifier, all the gasoline is cleaned immediately after the dirt is removed from the garment. It insures sanitation—and removes the odor of gasoline. That is why your dress or suit is returned to you from our cleaning plant free from odor.

This Is National Visitors Week at this Laundry

But not alone for that reason do we want you to pay us a visit. We want the ladies of this city (and the men, too) to come here and see our modern way of laundering clothes. We want to clear up that old idea that to send your clothes to the laundry, meant that they would be returned streaked, torn, faded and the buttons torn off.

We Want You to Visit This Modern Laundry

—to see the modern machines we use that are all but human

—to see how the clothes are washed in sanitary tubs in rain-soft water and pure soap

—to see how the proper pieces are starched

—to see how each garment is ironed separately, one part of it ironed by one machine, the other part by another machine

—to see our modern curtain machine and the way it dries and keeps the curtains in the exact size that they were when you purchased them.

—to see the great flat ironer and how rapidly it operates

—to see our modern dry cleaning plant

AND ABOVE ALL—We want you to see just how the clothes appear when they are ready to be returned to the home.

YOU will be interested to visit our dry cleaning plant which is separate and apart from our main laundry building. We want you to see the De Leval continuous clarifier and how it separates the dirt from the gasoline as soon as it is removed from the clothing.

You can spend an interesting and profitable half hour by coming here to see for yourself the many things about this advanced idea of laundering that we have tried to impress upon you through our advertising.

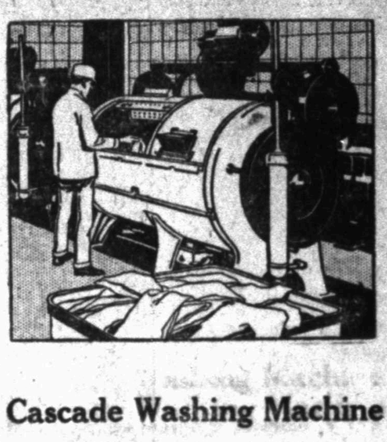

To every lady who visits our plant we will give her a coupon which is good for 50 cents on her laundry bill—each one of these coupons are numbered and the lady that holds the number corresponding to a sealed number which we now have deposited in our safe will be given a whole week's washing and ironing without charge.

Make up your mind now to stop in and visit us this afternoon on your way down town.

"We Prolong the Life of Your Clothes"

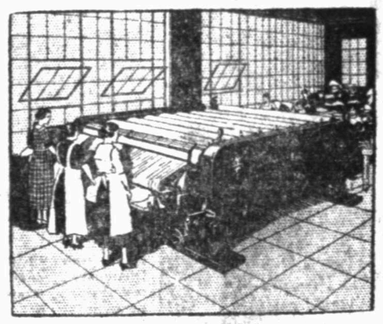

Cascade Washing Machine

This Cascade washing machine is one of several that we have in our plant—the number is sufficient to permit us to separate the white clothes from the colored ones and is a guarantee to you that there is never any chance of your clothing being returned to you streaked or discolored.

Extractor

By the use of this extractor it does away with the old way of wringing clothes through a wringer which tore off the buttons. This extractor removes the water from the clothes by a whirling process—the water escapes through the perforated holes in the sides of the cylinder—it will be interesting for you to see just how this extractor operates.

Flat Ironer

This is the machine on which all the flat ironing is done—it will iron six flat pieces per minute and when working at full capacity it requires from 10 to 12 people to operate it. It also is steam heated to insure against scorching

FAIR PREPARED FOR K. K. K. DAY

Wizard Evans and Mayor Blaylock Will Speak

By The Associated Press.

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 23.—The arrival of Imperial Wizard Hiram W. Evans and his personal staff and members of the kloncilium of the ku klux klan this evening foreshadowed ku klux klan day at the state fair of Texas here tomorrow.

Brown Harwood, imperial klasik; H. K. Ramsey, imperial kilgraph; F. L. Savage, imperial klakonsel; Judge C. J. Orbison, imperial klokard, were in the party.

The first event on the klan day program will be the formal dedication tomorrow morning of the new Hope Cottage for Foundlings built by Dallas klansmen. Mayor Blaylock, of Dallas, will deliver the principal address.

The Oklahoma klansmen will meet tomorrow morning at 11:30 o'clock and Wizard Evans will speak at 1:30 o'clock. A klan football game and athletic events are scheduled in the afternoon while a public initiation will be held at night. A downtown celebration will close the festivities to be engaged in by klansmen from many states.

The stars and bars of the Confederacy scored today, set aside for the "boys in gray" and the tune of "Dixie" was heard over the fair grounds.

Panting bronchos, bellows of maddened steers and clatter of hoofs in the arena today accompanied by calls to "stay in there, cowboy," marked the third day's rodeo. So far six persons have been injured, two of them seriously.

Former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, was the principal speaker at the fair as the guest of the fair association and the holstein breeders' association and other organizations today.

HENRY FOR PRES. CONFER CALLED

Backers Hope to Form New Party With Him at Head

By The Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct 23.—The movement initiated by a small group of Henry Ford's friends and neighbors to make him president of the United States took its first major step forward today, in the announcement that Ford for President clubs scattered throughout the country will be called into conference here December 12, 13 and 14.

Formation of a new national political party with Mr. Ford as its standard bearer was announced as the object of the conference.

Admitting the sponsors of the movement had no assurance from Mr. Ford that he would accept the leadership of the proposed new party, William Kremberg, Dearborn editor, and one of the founders of the original Ford for President club, announced that decision to call the conference was at the insistence of similar organizations throughout the country.

SENATE ADOPTS

ernor with preventing the meeting of a grand jury that was to inquire into his official acts, and the senate accepted it also.

The senate notified the house that it would convene at any time to receive additional impeachment articles that might be adopted later by the lower body and then adjourned. The house ended its session almost at the same time.

The text of the resolution suspending the governor follows:

"Whereas, the house of representatives of the ninth legislature, pursuant to the provisions of the constitution, has filed with the senate articles of impeachment, and

"Whereas, J. C. Walton, governor of Oklahoma, is charged with offenses made grounds of impeachment by the constitution, and

"Whereas, the filing of the articles with the senate automatically suspends J. C. Walton as governor and the office with its duties and compensation evolves upon the lieutenant governor;

"Now, therefore, be it resolved by the senate that the governor and lieutenant-governor be advised as to their duties in this event and that the secretary of state notify the governor and lieutenant-governor of the proceedings thus had and to present to each of them a copy of this resolution."

The senate will resolve itself in a court of impeachment tomorrow morning, it was said. Chief Justice J. E. Johnson of the state supreme court will preside.

Will Go to Office

Governor Walton told the Associated Press later tonight that he intended to be at his office tomorrow as usual.

"Certainly I will go to my office tomorrow," he said, after refusing point-blank to answer a question as to whether he considered mandatory the senate resolution of suspension.

Shown the text of the resolution as printed in a local newspaper, he treated it lightly, declaring, "That's just what the newspaper says."

The executive emphatically declined to make a statement, meeting each query as to his future intention with bland:

"I havent a thing to say."

It was agreed in political quarters that the suspension order is absolute. The text of the senate resolution was pointed to as proof that the senate acted upon its interpretation of the constitution in disqualifying the executive. Should he fail to comply with its provisions, it was considered entirely probable that the senate would test its authority in the courts.

The belief prevailed, on the other hand, that the governor soon will launch a counter-offensive in the criminal court of appeals, contending that the impeachment is null and void on grounds that the legislature was summoned specifically to pass anti-ku klux klan legislation and that it has no constitutional authority to consider any other subject.

"I shall be governed entirely by the law," was Lieutenant-Governor Trapp's statement when he returned here late tonight from Sapulpa. He would not amplify the statement.

Meanwhile the house is to continue consideration of the remaining 20 counts in the impeachment indictment.

Governor Walton was among the last to leave the darkened state house tonight. With a small group of friends he walked slowly down the stairway to the main floor.

"We still consider you our governor," one of the group said quietly. The governor made no answer.

Only a few lights cast isolated rays through the long hall as the party moved toward the door. The governor halted briefly to read a copy of the senate resolution suspending him from office which a press representative handed to him.

"The vote was 30 to 1 for the resolution," the governor was told.

"Who voted for me?" he inquired in a low voice.

"Senator Barker."

The executive inquired about three other votes, all of which had been cast against him.

"Will you have any statement tonight, governor?" he was asked.

"Not a word," the executive replied.

A heavy cloud hid the moon and J. C. Walton was swallowed in the darkness as he waited silently for his automobile.

The vote on the impeachment charges in the house came unexpectedly late in the day. After most of the session had been devoted to reading testimony taken by the investigation committee, and one effort to suspend the oral presentation had been voted down, the house suddenly changed its course, cut off the reading and plunged into consideration of the article in the impeachment bill. Consideration of Article 3 followed at once.

Testimony that had been presented was that of Dr. E. T. Bynum, who was at different times executive counselor and state banking commissioner; Aldrich Blake, counselor, who succeeded Bynum and who was, like him, deposed, Buck Garrett, former sheriff of Carter county and recently a personal body guard to the executive, and "Colonel" Zack Mulhall, wealthy cattleman and personal friend of the governor.

Bynum told the committee he believed his removal from office as bank commissioner resulted from his refusal to appoint an incompetent as his assistant at the order of the governor.

Bynum said he was called before the executive who told him "that stuff won't get by with me. I have five friends you have got to take care of."

The witness detailed his activity in the governor's various financial campaigns, declaring that he raised a sum from wealthy oil operators in the state which was used by the governor in different political undertakings.

He made it plain that he had never promised contributors favors from the governor.

Dr. Bynum declared, according to the testimony, that he had warned the governor that his financial operations might be made the subject of grand jury or legislative investigation and that the executive had told him "other men can forget," and never again asked him to solicit funds.

Blake's testimony at his second appearance before the committee dealt with the governors' alleged use of state department payrolls to accomodate his friends. The former executive counselor told the committee that on one occasion while the governor was out of the city he had discharged 29 employes of the state highway department who had been added to the payroll, because there were no funds from which they legally could be paid.

Outlining the plan pursued in issuing special police commissions by the governor, Blake said that at first "thirty decent citizens" were commissioned. He said originally the endorsement of sheriffs and county attorneys was required to obtain a commission, but later the executive declared the "policy must be more liberal" and the issuance of commissions then became wholesale.

Members of the house had their first act of comedy when Mulhall's testimony was read. The witness testified that he was placed on the payroll of the state health department as an inspector at $200 a month during last March.

"I was an inspector," Mulhall testified, "and was doing as little as I could. My expenses in Oklahoma City in doing good and enjoying myself was from $800 to $1000 a month, so the $200 health department expense money did me little good."

Asked what duties he had performed Mulhall replied:

"I examined quite a few restaurants in Henryetta, but I did not pay much attention to them."

"Everybody in the health department was green," Mulhall added. "Nobody knew anything about anything. Neither did I. I inspected a fruit stand once, ate all the fruit I could and told the man he ought to do better. I did not make a report because the man was a foreigner and I could not spell his name."

Mulhall declared "certainly I think I earned my money. The state is in a sanitary condition compared to what it was."

Arrest Man Who Is Accused of Embezzlement

By The Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Oct. 23.—A deputy sheriff and private detective today arrested a man who they say is William M. Ward, wanted in Houston, Texas, on charges of embezzlement involving $425,000. The prisoner denies that he is Ward and says his name is W. M. Watson, but admits that he came here from Houston.

Ward, acording to the detectives, on May 23, last obtained $100,000 from the First National bank of Houston, on falsified warehouse receipts for cotton. They allege also that he obtained $325,000 more at different times by the same method.

GEORGE VISITS HARDING TOMB

By The Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 23.—Declaring that Great Britain seeks nothing in Europe except a cessation of strife and that "there you can help us," David Lloyd George war time premier of Great Britain, at a chamber of commerce luncheon here today renewed his plea for "effective cooperation" between the two great English speaking commonwealths.

Mr. Lloyd George arrived here at noon from Marion where he placed a wreath on the sarcophagus of the late President Harding and visited Mrs. Harding.

Why Not Move to the Delicatessen?

Words by Ring Lardner.

Friend Al:

Well our new colored gal Carrie give us our first home cooked meal tonight and we was suppose to get it at 7 o'clock but it was ½ past 8 before she called us in the dinning rm. but no wonder it took her so long because here is what we had. First we had canned soup and sardines which she got over to the delicatessen and then we had some cold boil ham and saratoga chips and pickles which she got from the delicatessen and we had some bread which she got at the bakery and some ice cream from the drug store. The only thing she cooked was coffee and she only cooked 3 cups of that and I don't know if it was coffee or mable syrup as she spilled my cup down my neck and all as I know is it was hot. Along about 10 o'clock I told Edna I was going to the corner and buy some cigarettes but where I went was a cafe and what I bought was a big steak and fride eggs and 2 cups coffee and apple pie. When I got home Edna and her sister was makeing fudge which they said was for me but I notice they managed to choke down some of it themself.

'SINBAD' INBAD AT THE LIBRARY

Children Pass Him Up; Non-Fiction Desired by Women

"Required reading lists influence the literature which children read," stated Miss Irma Powell, librarian of the Kemp library yesterday. "There are few calls for such books as Sinbad, the Sailor. Classics are read largely, and I have reordered duplicates in all the classics.

"Non-fiction is read largely by the women who come to the library," Miss Powell said, 'for they are interested in club work of various natures."

There are a number of new books in the library which are now available. Among them is "Dancing for Strength and Beauty" by Edward Scott. It is a critical and practical treatise on dancing, and in the preface the author says, "It suggests the rebirth of a style that is healthy and virile opposed to certain degenerable movements which obtained too firm a hold on the public fancy in the years immediately preceding the great war, and the formless dances to rhythmless music that followed." There are chapters explaining its purpose what dancing is, the relation of art to the public, fashion and movement, the principles of gracefulness, the salutary exercise to promote strength and beauty, the pedagogics of dancing, and other charters, and a final chapter given to classics and the Greek ideal.

"Lifes Minor Collisions" by Francis and Gertrude Warner is another new book in the library. The two sisters who are the authors of the book say in their preface that 'Collisions are measured by what they will smash. Potentially all collisions are major. A slight blow will explode a bomb. But since most of us do not carry dynamite through the busy sections of this life, we can take a good many brisk knocks and still survive.

"The collisions though dealt with in separate chapters by two of us, are seldom between two people alone. They are collisions, mostly minor, between the individual and the group, the individual and the circumstances, the individual and the horse he rides on.

"All the chapters are for those kindred spirits who try to easy to live with and find it difficult."

Another new book which will be of interests to women is "For God, For Country, For Home," a story of the first national organization of American women mobilized for war service. It is written by Bessie Rowland James. The preparedness period of the war in regard to woman's work is discussed, and other chapters take up the organizations of the woman's motor corps, gardens and 'canneries, service clubs, canteens, and other activities of the women during the war. Sixty illustrations are given in the publication.

"Human Nature In Business," is a book on how to capitalize your every day habits and characteristics by Fred C. Kelly is also in the Kemp library. Chapters discussing the law of averages, candy and soda, men's moods at the lunch hour, street cars and pedestrians, human nature and the weather, meeting human nature half way, and to buy and not to buy, with several other chapters of interest to business people.

Rail Conditions Now Better North Of Wichita Falls

Condition of railroads north out of this city are better, the M. K. and T. having crossed Red river yesterday morning for the first time in about ten days. Everything is moving between here and Reeding, Oklahoma, and in general service has practically been adjusted, according to local offices.

Train 52, which is scheduled to leave here for Oklahoma City at 7 p. m. and train 51 which is due to arrive here from Oklahoma City at 8 a. m. will not be established until Thursday, it was announced yesterday by officials of the Katy here. It was further announced that sleepers will not be handled from here to Oklahoma until the Frisco has been established into Oklahoma.

The only two railroad bridges now out over Red river are the Frisco, between Vernon and Tulsa, and the Wichita Valley, between Byers and Waurika, it was reported yesterday. It will probably be ten days before these connections are re-established. The Katy further announced that the bridge over the Canadian river has not yet been replaced, and will probably not be ready for traffic for about ten days.

DRILLING CONTINUES AROUND WAURIKA

Continuation of drilling in the oil test located on the Anderson farm in 31-4-8 will be rushed from now on as all the obstacles were cleared away last week. There was a lease, the ownership of which was in question, but these matters were thrashed out to the satisfaction of all parties concerned and the well will be drilled to quite a great depth in event a paying sand is not found at a less depth. The location of this well is on a well defined structure and various big companies are interested in the outcome.

The well being drilled by the J. C. Cook interest of Ardmore, which is on the Gibson farm near Sugden gives promise of being a thorough test also. The drilling in this well is with standard tools.

The Hutton well on the Embrey farm in 5-5-7 two miles southeast of Waurika was spudded in last week and on account of the terrific rains drilling has been delayed some but is being pushed as rapidly as consistent with general conditions.

TAX COLLECTIONS MONDAY GOOD

Tax collections in Wichita Falls were good Monday the reports of Guy Raley, county tax collector and W. R. Hyer, city tax collector, showing more than $6,000 taken in by both collectors the first day of the week.

Raley said the bad weather last week kept a number from coming from the country last week and Monday being a pretty day accounted for approximately $3,000 of taxes being collected. Hyer said with so many delinquent in the city and suits being filed for collection, the $3,000 receits Monday was the result.

U. CLUB HEARS OF LOWLY ONION

Grafton Tells Luncheon Members Its Comparable Qualities

"Lessons We Gain From the Onion," was the subject of the address given by Dr. N. F. Grafton at the University club luncheon yesterday at the Kemp.

From the lowly onion, the speaker drew four conclusions which may be in the life of a man. The first that the onion is a lowly vegetable, unheard, unsung, yet it is a staple food and makes palatable other foods. So it is with the life of man, many men are steady citizens, yet they are never praised. The second thought gleaned from the onion was that the onion is a hardy plant, strong, and so much is expected of it. The strong hardy man who does things is not credited very much, but the thing he does is expected of him. That does not keep him from growing, neither does it discourage him.

Dr. Grafton reached the third point by showing that there is a wrong use of the onion in feigned sincerity, and so there is in the life of man. The fourth lesson gained from the onion is that from the flavor of the onion which pervades that which is near to it, so is the personal influence of man in his associations with others.

Several numbers of music were given by Misses Josephine and Glenore Fisk.

President R. O. Kenly appointed F. G. Swanson and C. A. Rogers to have charge of the program for the meeting of next Tuesday. G. T. Rippy was in charge of the meeting yesterday.

Work on membership of the club was begun and following a motion by Julian Bobo, a committee composed of Judge J. D. Akin, G. T. Rippy and C. A. Rogers was appointed. A motion by W. J. Townsend that each member bring a new member to the next meeting of the club was unanimously passed.

SOME ARE GOOD TO REMEMBER
Here Is What to Say When Tagged

Doctors of Wichita Falls must be doing a thriving business according to alibis handed to Desk Sergeant McConnell at the police station by men and women who come to give bond on the overtime parking charge.

"I was up in the doctor's office and I just couldn't get away in time to come and move my car," say most of the offenders.

"I know my car couldn't have been there two hours, why, I asked the girl at the ticket window how long the show would last before I went in and she said an hour and 45 minutes so you see it couldn't have been two hours." This is another time worn alibi.

"I loaned my car to a fellow and he parked it in the wrong place and I couldn't find it," says one motorist.

"I've been gone all summer to Colorado or perhaps its California, and didn't know you had a parking law," says another.

"I took my car over in front of the garage and told them to wash the car (or fix a tire) and they didn't do it. They let it set there, make them pay the fine." This one is frequent.

"I lost my key." This one is mostly from women.

"My sister had the keys and when I thought about it I went to get them and move the car and when I came back there was already a notice on it." Another one from the women.

However only a few of the violators alibi, most of them come in smiling to pay up some of them with a check already made out.

The parking law is going over in fine shape resulting in much better regulation of affairs in the crowded downtown sections.

"Parkers" get full two hours and often over. The checking starts at a given point, and it is always two hours and 10 or 15 minutes before the recheck starts at that point and if any notices are made out down the line, it is sometimes two hours and 30 minutes before the patrolman gets to the last of that section, so motorists are not being cheated out of their parking time.

NEW CONSTITUTION FOR THE DE MOLAY

The DeMolay Patrol adopted a new by-laws and constitution to govern the organization for a year last night in the meeting at the Masonic Temple. A new scribe, Ted Brown, was elected to take the place of Edgar Smith, who resigned last night. Concluding the business session. A new member, Frank Curtis, was received into the Patrol.

The Patrol held drill practice for an hour and a half after the business meeting was adjourned. Captain Williams is polishing his drill team for the parades and out-of-town demonstrations and entertainments to be held this winter.

TENT REVIVAL NOW IN CHURCH

Services at the revival being conducted by Rev. Baucom at the southside Baptist church will be held in the church building hereafter instead of in a tent, the pastor, Rev. W. Nicholson, announced last night.

To date 25 members have been received in the church since the revival and interest is still growing with large crowds present, the pastor said.

STILL EXAMINE LOCAL CATTLE

Dairy cattle in Wichita Falls are still being examined for tuberculosis in accordance with the rules of the state livestock commission, Dr. L. L. Lucey of the city health department said Monday.

Dr. Lucey said the cattle examined so far had shown few traces of tuberculosis.

Campaign of the first presidential election in this country was conducted within an area of 200 miles wide, along the coast from Boston to Savannah, and enlisted the interest of a population of perhaps less than 4,000,000.

KLANSMEN MARCH TO SPECIAL TRAIN

Two hundred ku klux klansmen, in full regalia, marched down Ninth street at 11 o'clock last night behind a 38 piece band to the strains of "The Old Gray Mare" and boarded a special to Dallas for the fair and what reports say will be the greatest meeting of klansmen ever held there tomorrow.

The special, over the M. K. & T. railroad, pulled out at 11:30, carrying two pullmans, two day coaches and a baggage car.

The special will arrive at Dallas at 7 o'clock in the morning, and will return Thursday morning.

Despite the fact that there had been little or no public announcement regarding the event, a crowd of people ranged the curb and the depot platform to see the party off.

'SOCK SUPPER' IS THE LATEST

Ever attend a "sock supper?"

Sox as a diet and an inducement to cause people to spend their money to pay for either a radio, phonograph or an organ, was never heard of here until yesterday.

Burl Bryant, county school superintendent, announced Monday the "sock supper" will be held at City View school between here and Iowa Park Friday night.

Bryant explained that sox would not be the main entree on the menu. He said instead of putting the eats in a fancy colored box and having a "box supper" the women patrons of the school decided to put the goodies in a sock.

He says its not much of jump from "box" to "sox."

Cotton is distinguished from all other fibres by the peculiar twist it possesses and which makes it valuable in spinning.

ABBOTT IS MADE BANK OFFICIAL

Is Elevated to City National Assistant Cashiership

W. S. ABBOTT

At a call meeting of the officers and directors of the City National bank Monday W. S. Abbott was elevated to the office of assistant cashier of that institution.

The announcement of the promotion of Mr. Abbott as a member of the official family of the City National bank, has caused his many friends to congratulate him for his rapid rise since he began his work in 1919. Mr. Abbott is 31 years of age and after a little more than four years and a half of service in every capacity of the bank is now an official.

Mr. Abbott is graduate of Webb school at Bell Buckle, Tennessee, and early began laying his foundation for the career he has chosen. In 1916 he was associated with Hamilton National bank of Chattanooga, Tenn., remaining in that capacity until the war began in 1918. At that time he was sent overseas by the auditor of war department. Later he was appointed financial secretary by the American Relief Administration for the devastated regions of southeastern Europe.

Coming to Wichita Fals in 1919 Mr. Abott became associated with the City National bank of this city. Beginning in an humble capacity his climb has been forward, being director of public relations of the bank until recently. He is treasurer of the Wichita Falls Association for Credit Men, a member of the Presbyterian church, a 32nd degree Mason of the Dallas consistory, and a member of the Maskat patrol here. He is a member of various civic and social organizations.

P. P. Langford, president of the City National bank in speaking of Mr. Abbott's latest promotion said it comes as "a distinct recognition of unusual banking discernment." The board of directors expressed themselves as welcoming Mr. Abbott into their midst and predicted further advancement for him in the future.

PLAYERS WILL HOLD MEETING

Community Players will have their regular weekly meeting today at 12 o'clock at the Kemp. All members are urged to come.

WARNINGS FOR 'DEATH CORNER'

Police Chief George Hodgins announces that danger signs have been placed at the intersection of Eleventh and Lamar streets where 11 accidents have occurred the last two months.

The signs tell the motorist to "Stop" while coming down the Eleventh street hill and to "Slow Down" while going each way on Lamar at the intersection. If the warnings are observed the police chief believes serious accidents and possible fatalities will be avoided.

In addition to the signs at Eleventh and Lamar, 75 other signs are to be placed in different sections of the city. Warnings to motorists to slow down at all school buildings will be placed in each school block. The safety zones are to be re-marked and made plainer and two hour parking limit signs placed in the area where this ordinance operates.

"We are modernizing our traffic department to where it is going to be the best in the state," Chief Hodgins commented.
