Bitter Debate Results Over A Plan For Unemployed Insurance And Group Votes Down Proposal As Offered

(By The Associated Press)

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 15. — Organized labor launched a drive today to improve business conditions, backing American Federation of Labor leaders in an attack all along the line, with salient points ranging from beer to building projects.

President William Green and all other general officers were reelected amid cheers indicating the confidence of the rank and file, and the recommendations of the executive council were almost unanimously adopted.

Cincinnati Chosen

Cincinnati was chosen for the 1932 convention.

The federation voted to ask the next congress for 2.75 per cent beer, which Green said might be "the spark that would set the wheels of industry turning."

It had already backed the executive council's extensive plan for temporary and permanent relief of unemployment, embodying public building projects, long range planning, maintenance of the United States wage standard, job assurance, prohibition of child labor, shorter work hours, stronger employment agencies, preference for workers with dependents and financial relief from public and private funds.

Insurance Opposed

After bitter debate, the convention voted down any form of unemployment insurance or the so-called "Dole" system, but speakers warned "capital and industry" that

Unemployment To Be Studied Today

AUSTIN, Oct. 15 (AP).—Texas business and industrial leaders were gathering here tonight in response to a call of Governor R. S. Sterling that they meet and discuss the state's unemployment problem.

Captain J. F. Lucey of Dallas, connected with President Herbert Hoover's unemployment commission, was one of the first to arrive preparatory to a mass-meeting tomorrow in the house of representatives chamber.

He spent the day in conference with R. B. Gragg, state labor commissioner and members of the legislative unemployment committee.

Longshore Strike On Gulf Coast Is No Nearer An End

GALVESTON, Oct. 15, (AP)—Renewal of a former offer for settlement of the longshore labor strike in this district was made by labor representatives before a joint meeting of the Galveston and Houston maritime labor committees, but appeared to bring the strike no nearer a conclusion. Maritime committee members said they would put the proposal before all the steamship men but that the situation at present was unchanged.

Motor Carrier Law Is Now Said To Be In Full Force

AUSTIN, Oct. 15 (AP).—Mark Marshall, director of the motor division of the Texas railroad commission, announced today the motor carrier law upheld by a federal district court decision was in full force.

He said prosecutions had not been made because the federal court requested that the provisions be not enforced until it had had opportunity to render a decision on an application for an injunction.

Mary Is Wed

Mary Astor

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 15 (AP).—The marriage of Mary Astor, film actress, and Dr. Franklin Thorpe, Hollywood physician, in Yuma, Ariz., June 29 became known here through a check of Yuma records, although Miss Astor and her husband have repeatedly denied they were wed. Miss Astor signed the marriage license with her true name, Lucille Langhanks.

State Of Coma Brings Edison Near To Death

Dreaded Condition Now Holds Inventor; Physician States That Victim Will Not Come Into Consciousness

(By The Associated Press)

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 15. —Thomas A. Edison tonight slipped into a state of coma from which Dr. Hubert S. Howe said he probably never would emerge.

Dr. Howe's announcement of the change in the condition of the aged inventor was made from New York after he had been in communication by telephone with the Edison home.

He said the change had occurred about 8:45 p. m.

Escort Arranged

A police escort has been arranged to convey Dr. Howe from New York to the Edison home in event of an emergency.

"Dr. Howe does not feel that Mr. Edison's condition necessitates his coming out tonight," said a bulletin by Charles Edison at 10 p. m.

"Mr. Edison is sleeping quietly There is only a slight change in his heart action." Dr. Howe told newspaper men that "Mr. Edison's circulation is growing weaker under the strain."

Promoter Of Oil Promoters Takes Stand In Own Behalf

FORT WORTH, Oct. 15. (AP) — Dewey I. McNabb, "promoter of oil promoters," took the witness stand in his own behalf in federal district court today to tell of the willingness of oil promoter acquaintances to give him money for "influence at Washington," and to deny emphatically that his co-defendant, J. Forrest McCutcheon received any thing as bounty from McNabb.

The trial of MacCutcheon, former United States assistant district attorney and McNabb on a single remaining charge of conspiring to defraud the United States neared its close as defense counsel called six witnesses.

Separation Of Church From State Is Attacked By Paper

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 15. (AP)—Osservatore Romano, the Vatican City newspaper, asserts in an editorial tonight that by separating church and state the Spanish republic has jeopardized its own future.

Referring to the six-month's old government as an "unripe fruit," the editorial asserted that although separation of church and state had been procalimed in the name of liberty, the action was in fact "oppression, violence and persecution."

Five Persons Are Killed As Train Strikes At Crossing

SAFFORDVILLE, Kas., Oct. 15. (AP).—Juan Manpano, his daughters, Amelia, five, and Camelia, seven, and Jose Cordanodo and his daughter, Josephine, 13,, all Mexicans were killed late today when their automobile was struck by Santa Fe passenger train No, 2 at a crossing here.

The five were on their way to a Saffordville store from their homes in Ellinor.

Louisiana Governors On Increase As Hours Pass

Huey Long Holding Fort; Cyr Takes Fight Seriously

(By The Associated Press)

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 15.—Louisiana is like the old woman who lived in a shoe. She has so many "governors" and "lieutenant governors" she doesn't know what to do.

As darkness fell, the count stood three "governors," two "lieutenant governors," a third applicant for the lieutenant governorship and one who has taken both the governor's and lieutenant governor's oaths.

Long Is Laughing

During it all, Huey P. Long, who said he is "governor, by the right of the people," sat in the governor's mansion "just laughing my head off," to quote him.

But it was no laughing matter to Paul N. Cyr, present or ex-lieutenant governor, who said he was making a serious fight to unseat Long either as governor or United States senator and that Long could not hold both positions simultaneously.

Cyr said he took the oath as governor in Shreveport Tuesday since Long had vacated the governorship by becoming elected to the senate and Cyr was next in line of succession under the constitution. He said he would file an ouster against Long within a few days.

See Governor's Hand

Leaders of the Cyr movement said they saw the canny hand of Huey Long in the oath-taking by two jobless men, one for governor and the other for lieutenant governor.

The new aspirants said they were out of work and could use the jobs that "apparently were vacant." A grocer in Shreveport said that since times were sort of hard he planned to take the oath as lieutenant governor. Anyway, he added, each of the three "governors" should have a "lieutenant governor."

The status of Dr. Cyr was uncertain. He declined to discuss it, but Long said he had closed the door against Cyr stepping back into the lieutenant governorship by swearing in Senator Alvin O. King, president pro tempore of the senate and third in constitutional succession.

Office Not Vacated

Counsel for Cyr said the lieutenant governor's office had not been vacated by their client unless

America Asked To Aid League

League Council Overwhelms An Opposing Vote By Japan And Will Issue Invitation For Participation Today

(By The Associated Press)

GENEVA, Oct. 15.—The council of the League of Nations overwhelmed Japanese opposition tonight by voting 13 to 1 to invite the United States to participate in its discussion of measures to bring peace between Japan and China in Manchuria. The council's action revived hope that the league, with the support of the American government, would be able to bring about a pacific settlement of the Manchurian controversy.

"We are still loyal members of the league and have been from the first," Kenkichi Yoshizawa, Japan's spokesman, told questioners at the end of the long secret session at which the position maintained so persistently by him and the Tokyo government was overruled:

"We objected on judicial grounds alone in inviting America, a non-member of the league. I have acted in close conformity with my government's instructions and now must inquire again from Tokyo for directions as to my future attitude."

DEMAND IS FIXED

TULSA, Oct. 15. (AP)—The statewide proration committee, meeting here this afteronon, fixed the "probable demand" for Oklahoma oil from November 1 through December 31, at 545,000 barrels daily and advocated taking of new potentials for the Seminole field.

Kitty Bears Brunt In This Family Tangle But Doesn't Live To Offer Testimonial

(By Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—On the grounds that the food she prepared for him killed the family cat, Samuel Sherman in domestic relations court today sought exemption from supporting his wife.

"Judge," said Sherman, "she prepared a meal for me but the cat ate it by mistake and passed out."

Vehement denial was entered by Mrs. Sherman and the court granted an allowance of $5 a week for the support of an eight year old child.

Lubbock Post Names Kucera As Commander

Local Attorney Will Succeed Glen Hess; Other Officers Also Are Named To Serve In Unit For Coming Year

Benjamin Kucera, Lubbock attorney, was elected commander of Allen Brothers post No. 148, American Legion, for the ensuing year at the annual election of officers Thursday night at the Legion home. Kucera succeeds Glen Hess as head of the local unit.

The attorney headed a complete ticket of nominees submitted by a committee, of which N. L. Peters was chairman. The post voted to accept the Peters committee ticket in full. Another list of nominees, submitted by a committee headed by J. A. Raley, jr., also was voted upon.

Others Listed

Other new officers named were: Louis Murfee, first vice commander; Walter H. Wright, second vice commander; C. E. Luce, third vice commander; A. M. Scott, adutant (re-elected); W. L. Bradshaw, finance officer; Daniel L. Blair, service officer; Glen Hess, historian; W. H. Waln, sergeant-at-arms; Rev. J. D. Welch, chaplain, and Alex McDonald, mess officer.

The new officers will be installed at the next regular meeting of the post, Thursday, October 29. Members of the women's auxiliary will be invited to attend the ceremony, it was said. Ballots were counted by C. E. Maedgen, K. N. Clapp and Robert Moxley, as a committee of disinterested persons, it was said.

Amarillo Charity Workers Look For Alleged Swindler

AMARILLO, Oct. 15 (AP).—Amarillo charity workers today were looking for a man who apparently believed that "charity begins at home."

And the charity fund was several hundred dollars short because an itinerant director of a benefit show "forgot" to divide with the community chest before leaving town. He checked out at his hotel at midnight, shortly after the show ended. The American Legion post auxiliary received $200 for sponsoring the production, in which home talent was used, before his departure.

Mrs. R. Q. Lee Is Reported Improved Following Illness

CISCO, Oct. 15. (AP)—Mrs. R. Q. Lee's physician today characterized her condition as improved.

Mrs. Lee was ordered to a hospital several days ago to take a rest after a nervous attack. Constant exertion with too infrequent intervals of rest was blamed for her condition.

Large Amount Of Cotton Said To Have Been Stored; Total Of $1,000,000 Is Collected Throughout District

DESPITE adverse business conditions and low price of cotton, collections of federal farm production loans in the St. Louis district, which includes eight states, have been good, R. H. McElveen, director of the St. Louis feed-seed loan office of the United States department of agriculture, here Thursday for a conference with new field men of the office, said.

Collections this season in the district have amounted to about $1,000,000, exclusive of cotton stored in bonded warehouses as collateral for production loans granted last winter in drouth stricken areas, he said.

Very Encouraging

"This is very encouraging considering the fact that the loans are not due until November 30," McElveen said. "In addition, a large amount of cotton has been stored in warehouses over the south to cover many other loans."

In the eight states in the St. Louis district a total of about $12,000,000 was lent 107,000 farmers, who suffered from the drouth. Of this amount, $3,100,000 went to 13,513 Texas farmers, he said.

Others Here

In Lubbock for the conference with McElveen was C. C. Ellis, state supervisor of agents in Texas, and four new field men: Thomas Scheilinger, Jefferson; John C. Mackey, Wichita Falls; Lester L. Smith, Dallas, and Robert E. Shipworth, Stephenville. The four additions to the Texas field service of the office brought the total to 16. Two other men probably will be added soon, it was indicated.

New Schedule To Be Issued

Railroad Commission Studying Application Of Railroads; Order Is Likely To Be Made In Near Future

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 15. (AP)—The Texas railroad commission tonight had under advisement an application of railroads to decrease their rates for hauling cotton to seaboard to meet motor truck competition.

C. V. Terrell, chairman of the commission, announced that an order promulgating a new schedule of rates would be issued Saturday and that it would become effective that day. Terrell said that although the commission recognized the necessity of putting the lower rates into effect immediately it would require considerable time to review the testimony and consider requests of Corpus Christi and Beaumont for certain concessions in rates to meet freight charges from certain territories to the ports of Galveston and Houston.

The reduction under prevailing charges would be approximately 33 1-3 per cent, J. H. Hershey of Galveston, general freight agent of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe railway told the commission.

Final Steps In Three-Year Fight Taken By Government; Legal Defense Resting

(By The Associated Press)

FEDERAL BUILDING, Chicago, Oct. 15.—The United States government began today the final step in its three-year battle—the most far reaching war ever waged against an underworld character—to put Al Capone behind prison bars through conviction on income tax evasion charges.

With a barrage of objections and motions, Capone's legal defense staff rested its case today, leaving in the court record of the scar-faced gangster's trial the testimony of a dozen race horse gamblers who said they won $375,000 from Capone over a five-year period.

Then began the government's closing address to the jury—an address in which Prosecutor Jacob I. Grossman invited the 12 middle aged farmers, merchants and tradesmen to go with him on a tour which government under-cover operatives took in tracing the gangster's alleged ill-gotten wealth.

The government sought to prove that the defense admitted loss of the case when the gamblers told of Capone's extensive

Ten True Bills Are Returned By 99th District Court Jury At Adjournment On Thursday

Nineteen Indictments Ordered By Body During Term Here; One Murder Count Is Facing Lubbock Negro

RETURNING 10 true bills Thursday afternoon, the 99th district court grand jury for September term was adjourned by Judge Clark M. Mullican. A total of 19 indictments were found by the deliberative body during the term.

Dewitt Shelton, Lubbock negro, was indicted for the murder of Bertie Robinson, negro woman, who was stabbed to death here last July 6 at the close of a negro baseball game at Merrill park. Shelton is in jail at Hillsboro and will be transferred to Lubbock soon for trial, members of the district attorney's office said last night. Bettie Lou Heron, another negro woman, who was stabbed during the affray in which the Robinson woman was killed, was first charged with the murder. The Heron woman was arrested on a justice court complaint and released under bond. She was no-billed by the grand jury which adjourned Thursday.

Alexander Indicted

C. E. Alexander, 30, alleged to have illicit relations with his 16-year-old sister, Gladys, was indicted for incest, the district attorney's office reported. Alexander is now in the Plainview jail.

B. H. Dildey, convicted forger and allegedly an escaped convict from the Louisiana prison, was charged with perjury in an indictment returned Thursday. He is charged with testifying in district court here that he had never before been convicted of a felony. Evidence showed he had served terms in the Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana penitentiaries, Assistant District Attorney Burton S. Burks said. Dildey attempted to take his life by stabbing himself in the chest shortly after members of the sheriff's office had taken his fingerprints, officers report. He was given two years here recently on a forgery count.

Indicted for Burglary

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Unusual accidents, reported today in the newsletter of the National Safety Congress:

A man's glass eye exploded while at work, making him unconscious.

A young man was seated on a summer resort plazza, with a charming young lady seated on his lap. Her weight stopped circulation in the young man's legs. He arose and his legs, fast asleeep, collapsed. In falling, he broke his ankle.

Another man, standing in his shower, slipped; he grasped some piping, got an eectric shock and fel out of a window.

Oklahoman Opens Murray Stations

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 15 (AP).—"Bill Murray filling stations" have made their appearance in Oklahoma but the governor says he is going to put a stop to them.

Governor Murray declared today he had learned some enterprising operator was capitalizing on his threat to establish state owned filling stations if oil operators refused to maintain the price of crude.

"He has put up my picture at all his stations and signs saying 'Bill Murray indorses this station,' and I have been trying to get hold of him," Murray said. "He had better take them down because he can be prosecuted for fraud."

San Marcos Man Convicted But Gets Suspended Term

SAN MARCOS, Oct. 15. (AP)—A district court jury late today convicted Andrew J. Wimberley, 64, upon his plea of guilty in the slaying of Riley W. Plant, but recommended leniency for the aging pioneer, a five year suspended sentence.

Judge M. C. Jeffrey imposed the sentence.

Wimberley shook hands with each member of the jury and with friends who gathered about him. Judge Jeffrey warned spectators no demonstration would be permitted in the court room.

Oklahoma's Newest Flaming Gusher Is Shut In Thursday

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 15. (AP)—Oklahoma City's newest wild oil well was shut in late today, six hours after its flaming torch had been extinguished by a blast of nitroglycerin.

Passing Motorist Discovers Stricken Man Near Tokio In Terry County; Accident Is Verdict Returned

(Special To The Avalanche)

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 15. — B. Smith, about 50, a resident of Yoakum county for many years, was fatally shot this afternoon in some undetermined manner. He was found lying near his automobile, which was parked on the Brownfield road about a mile east of Tokio, Terry county, in a semi-conscious condition by A. M. Brownfield, who was returning to Brownfield from a trip to Yoakum county.

The man died before he could tell Brownfield how the wound was inflicted. A 22 calibre rifle was on the ground near his body.

Justice of the Peace J. E. Shelton, County Judge Jay Barret and Sheriff J. M. Telford of Terry county returned a verdict of "death from gunshot wounds accidentally inflicted" after holding a court of inquiry.

Pellet In Lung

Examination revealed a pellet from the small rifle penetrated Smith's right lung.

In reconstructing circumstances of the affair, Justice of the Peace Shelton said Smith apparently had gotten out of his automobile, walked around the car to the door on the right side and had attempted to remove the rifle, probably to take a shot at a bird or rabbit. The trigger of the gun is believed to have become ensnared in some part of the upholstery resulting in the discharge of the weapon.

The rifle was of cheap make and was of the single shot type, officers said.

Unable To Speak

Brownfield told officers he saw the man lying beside the automobile when he was returning to Brownfield. Smith apparently was conscious but was unable to speak. The

Damages Sought After Accident

Damages totaling $7,586 are sought by J. A. Wade of Lubbock in a suit filed Thursday in 72nd district court against Fred A. Truitt of Fort Worth and the Frankfort Distilling company of Louisville, Ky., for alleged injuries suffered by Mrs. Wade in an automobile accident here last September 8.

The plaintiff alleges Mrs. Wade, 20, suffered severe lacerations on her head, arms and body when she was thrown against and through the windshield of the Wade automobile when it allegedly was struck by a light coupe driven by Truitt. Truitt is alleged to be the representative of the Frankfort Distilling company in this territory.

The plaintiff asks $1,500 for alleged loss of Mrs. Wade's services as housekeeper; $5,000 for physical and mental pain suffered by the woman as result of injuries suffered; $52 for hospital and doctors' bill; $34 for damages to Wade's automobile, and $1,000 punitive damages.

Lubbock Man Dies Thursday; Funeral To Be At Levelland

B. F. Kinnel, 76, died at his home, 1927 Avenue F, at 11 a. m. Thursday after an illness of about a month. Funeral services will be held today at Levelland, Mr. Kinnel's former home. The body was sent overland to Levelland late Thursday by Bynum-Morgan Funeral home.

Mr. Kinnel is survived by his widow, four daughters, Mrs. E. J. Abell, Levelland; Mrs. Addie Locke, Brownfield; Mrs. Flossie Shackelford, Lubbock and Mrs. Frances Knight, Glen Rose, and two sons, Ollie Kinnel, Glen Rose, and T. L. Kinnel, Littlefield.

Gift Of $100,000 Is Made To Demo Party By Raskob

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP).—While political interest was centered today in the disagreement between former Gov. Alfred E. Smith and Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt over the latter's reforestation program, John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, put another $100,000 in the party's coffers.

Latest available figures show the Democratic organization owes Raskob $295,250 for loans.

The $100,000 contribution, however, was an outright gift.

Yorktown Is Besieged! But This Time Friendly Armies Are Marching On Historic Virginia Soil

(By The Associated Press)

YORKTOWN, Va., Oct. 15.—Capes Henry and Charles—the sunlit portals that guard historic Virginia's gateway to the Atlantic saw another gallant Frenchman enter American waters today, this time Henry Petain, Marshal of France, who came to help America celebrate with pomp and pagentry the 150th anniversary of the battle of Yorktown.

The hero of Verdun landed at Old Point Comfort from the cruiser Duquesne and was greeted on behalf of the government by General John J. Pershing, his associate in the trying days of the world war when America returned the aid of Lafayette and sent a great army overseas.

From another Frenchman of war, the cruiser Suffren, came ashore another group of distinguished foreign guests, descendants of Washington's comrades in the Yorktown seige.

Other invited guests from foreign lands came by train and these too counted among them such names as De Chambrun, De Rochambeau, and Von Steweben.

The four-day celebration will start officially tomorrow.

General Pershing, in greeting Marshal Petain, said:

"On behalf of the president of the United States and on my own behalf, it is my great pleasure to welcome you this day to American soil."

Petain smiled and unawed by America's fondness for the microphone, replied in French:

"Landing on American soil, it is indeed for me a great pleasure to be welcomed in the name of the American government by you, dear general. In turn, I convey to the American government and to the American people the salute of France."

Petain could not wait to step

Hallowe'en Is Used As Motif

Games Of Bridge Are Played And Novelty Skits Heard During Evening; Several Guests Attend

One of the gayest parties of the week was given at the Country club last evening when four young women entertained for members of Las Chaparritas club, social organization of Tech campus, and several guests. Hostesses were Misses Harriette Roach, Glyds Grimsley, Mary Lois Gamel and Beth Wulfman.

Hallowe'en decorations were arranged throughout the entertaining rooms. During the evening several novelty numbers were interspersed between games of bridge. Miss Louise Jennings played piano selections.

Favors Are Given

Vanities were given as favors.

Club members in attendance were Misses Virginia Murray, Gail Quinlan, Sue Barton, Camille Stobaugh, Gertrude Standefer, Voncile Gilkerson, Cecile Horne, Frances Ford, Jean Shelley Jennings, Polly Barrow, Maxine Clark, Sylva Wilson, Johnnye Gilkerson and Marjorie Ann Ainsworth.

Other guests were Misses Ada Mae Gilbert, Mary Earl Lofland, Melba Gilbert, Dorothy Hall, Geraldine Durham, Pauline Warren, Lenora Brownfield, Ima Baker, Melba Watson and Maurine Cook.

Two Are Hosts To Group Last Night

A delightful informal occasion of last evening was the buffet supper served by Mr. and Mrs. Fiske Miles, 2418 13th street, for members of the young people's executive committee in the First Methodist church.

Guests were Misses Marie Price, Lilah Gaye Rodgers, Mayetta Mounts, Louise Lawson, Lizzie Belle Clements, Eleanor Simmons, Willie Mae Hawthorne, Vera Armeling and Messrs. Virgil Rowland, Don Weilenman, Lovic Liston, Carl McAdams, James Whiteside, Bates Thornton, Ethridge Eagan and Rev. J. O. Haymes.

Way To Get At A Cold Is Through The Bowels

As soon as you catch cold, the pores close: perspiration is checked. Gases and waste can't escape through the skin. That's why your doctor's first advice in case of colds is a mild laxative like cascara. Medical authorities agree it actually strengthens bowel muscles. You get cascara in its most pleasant form in candy Cascarets.

Remember this when you catch cold; whenever breath is bad; tongue coated; or you're headachy, bilious, constipated.

Why resort to harsher things when Cascarets activate the bowels so quickly, so harmlessly and pleasantly—and cost only a dime?—Adv.

Japanese School Student Has Unknowingly Started Movement Which Brings Diplomats And Officers Together

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15. (AP)—A movement unknowingly started by a school boy in Japan brought diplomats and army officers together here today to honor the memory of Lieut. William W. Caldwell, American aviator who was killed just a year ago while escorting the Japanese instrument of ratification of the London naval treaty across the United States.

Representatives of Japan and America gathered to unveil a bronze plaque in the form of a wreath in the San Francisco presidio.

Caldwell met death near Laramie, Wyo., October 15, 1930, when his plane crashed in a snow storm while escorting another army plane carrying the Japanese document from the Pacific coast to New York on its way to London.

The school boy, Shigeyoshi Fukushima, upon being told of the death of Williams, set aside a part of the money his father had given him for an educational trip and sent it to the Tokyo newspaper Asahi Shimbun with the request that it be used to buy flowers for the aviator's grave.

Later, another contribution came from an unnamed student of the Imperial University of Japan. The ultimate result was the erection of the plaque.

Houston Alderman Is Found Dead In Auto On Highway

CORPUS CHRISTI, Oct. 15. (AP)—Alderman J. W. Cheatham of Houston was found dead with a bullet through his heart today on the Shell road eight miles northwest of Robstown.

He had been missing since yesterday afternoon. His automobile was found about a mile down the road. Near the body was found an automatic shotgun. One cartridge had been fired.

Magistrates of Rumania have been forbidden to play cards, the penalties ranging from fines to dismissal.

BOWELS
need watching

Let Dr. Caldwell help whenever your child is feverish or upset; or has caught cold.

His simple prescription will make that bilious, headachy, cross boy or girl comfortable, happy, well in just a few hours. It soon restores the bowels to healthy regularity. It helps "break-up" a cold by keeping the bowels free from all that sickening mucus waste.

You have a famous doctor's word for this laxative. Dr. Caldwell's record of having attended over 3500 births without loss of one mother or baby is believed unique in American medical history.

Get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from your drugstore and have it ready. Then you won't have to worry when any member of your family is headachy, bilious, gassy or constipated. Syrup Pepsin is good for all ages. It sweetens the bowels; increases appetite—makes digestion more complete.

GRADUATES HAVE PLACES

A large per cent of the graduates of the home economics school in the class of '31 now have positions, and many of those who are working are teaching vocational home economics, according to a report from the office of Miss Weeks, dean of the school.

Of this number, Leta Alyce Cross is teaching at Saratoga, Pauline Hargrove at Shallowater, Margaret Harvey at Mesquite, Evelyn Jennings at Colorado, Ruby Kennedy at Levelland, Eleanor Ragle at Lemesa, Jessie Walker at Canadian, Joellene Vannoy at Silverton, Thalia Parker at Hereford, Edith R. Kral at Roby, and Mrs. Lottie Heath Ford at Groom.

Dorothy Gleason is dietician in St. Joseph's hospital, Concordia, Kansas, and Frances Larmer is office assistant in the school of home economics at Tech. Daisy Lockwood is teaching in the home economics department at Morton.

MAKE SCHOOL SURVEY

The department of education, of which Dr. A. W. Evans is head, is working on a school survey at Albany, Texas. All members of the department have visited the school system there, studying the buildings, teaching methods, finances, and other details connected with it, for the purpose of reporting on possible improvements. Dr. Evans and Dr. R. E. Garlin will go again early next week to complete their investigation.

Among former Tech students who are members of the Albany faculty are: D. T. Smith, superintendent of schools, Nina Gordon, '31, and Lloyd Pyeatt, who attended school here the past summer.

ALUMNI SEEK INFORMATION

Texas Tech Alumni association is trying to get in touch with all graduates of whom they have no records, and attempting to do this by including a "lost list" in a news letter being sent out now to all members.

Miss Mamie Wolffarth, secretary of the association, estimates the number sent out to be between 500 and 700. From the letter the alumni will learn all the news of the college, the football schedule, and information on the annual homecoming game November 20, when the Matadors play New Mexico university.

SUPERVISOR HERE

Miss Sybil Thomas, district supervisor in home economics, has arrived in Lubbock.

Her office is in the home economics building and she is living at the home of Mrs. Ray Mowery, 2416 Broadway.

WORK ON LA VENTANA

Contract for the engraving and art work of the 1932 LaVentana has been awarded to the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, Jesse Cooper, business manager for the annual, announced last night.

Plans for the year are gradually taking form and several novel features will be noticeable when the book is completed. Robert "Red" Huff of San Antonio is editor this year.

Brown's studio is making the student photographs again this term and approximately 100 photographs have already been taken. Students are asked to come to the studio at the time they were assigned during registration, but if they have already let that date pass, it is not too late to go.

NEW MEMBERS JOIN

Five girls have been added to the original roster of the girls' band, Viola Cravens, president, has announced.

The new musicians, who make a total of twenty players, are: Blanche Brannen, Lucille Heggen, Evelyn Jackson and Mrs. Trotter, clarinets; and Lois Gleason, cornet.

The band holds regular rehearsals at 5 o'clock each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, with drill practice at 6 o'clock Monday and Friday. Miss Zella Riegel, women's physical education instructor, is drum major.

The band members plan to appear soon in new uniforms in Spanish style, featuring gored skirts, bolero jackets, and flat black hats.

WIN RECOGNITION

Three Texas Tech professors in the school of engineering, according to the Toreador, college newspaper, are listed in this year's edition of "Who's Who in Engineering."

The men are Dean William J. Miller, Prof. Carl Lars Svenson, and Prof. J. H. Murdough. Mr. Svenson is head of the engineering drawing department, and Mr. Murdough of the civil engineering.

Recognition in "Who's Who" implies many years of work and study as well as definite achievements in engineering fields.

ORGANIZE STUDY GROUP

At a meeting held in the Y. M. C. A. office Thursday a group of students organized a class to study the hearing of current world events on local situations.

Ten men were present and Cecil Kersey was elected chairman. Any man on the campus who is interested in the economic study is invited to come to the meetings, which will be at 11 o'clock each Tuesday and Thursday morning.

APPOINT COMMITTEE HEADS

Officers of the Freshman Y. council have appointed the following members to head committees: Martin Hamilton, Lubbock, membership; Lawrence Kahn, Denver, Colorado, program; and George Anderson, Corpus Christi, social.

Fred Williams is president of the council.

Kidnaping Of Cisco Child Is Reported To Officials

CISCO, Oct. 15. (AP)—The kidnaping of his five year-old daughter was reported to police here today by Henry Haverland, Cisco laundry worker.

He said two women and a man, one of whom was his divorced wife, took the child. He said they claimed to have a court order for her custody but failed to display the order.

At the time of his divorce Haverland was assigned custody of the child by order of the court.

Cameraman Finds Wildest Still

Here is an unusual picture of a wildcat still, snapped by an alert photographer, in its native haunt in the northwest Arkansas Ozarks. It is of the variety that can be hastily dismantled and moved to a place of concealment. The still itself is made of copper and from its top a pipe runs to the tub in which it is coiled. As the mash boils in the still, the steam or vapor passes through the coil, is condensed by cold water piped from a spring located behind the still, and, as mountain dew, empties in a small stream into the glass fruit jar shown beneath the end of the coil.

Wichita Falls Youth Near Death Following Accident

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 15. (AP)—Mark Franklin, 21, of Wichita Falls, was in a hospital today with a fractured spine and other critical injuries received in an accident on the highway near here Tuesday morning.

Physicians had little hope he would recover.

He was injured when the trailer of a cotton truck, on which he was adjuusting tie ropes overturned. He was thrown 20 feet and crushed under bales of cotton.

APPEALS FILED

AUSTIN, Oct. 15. (AP)—Criminal appeals filed: Talmadge Bryant, Grimes county, selling liquor, one year; J. B. Dawson, Grimes county, two cases of forgery, three years and two years respectively; Nannie Mae Dobbs, Angelina county, murder, five years; Velmot Mott, Angelina county, selling liquor, two years.

"FATIGUE? I just postpone it!"

"No, I don't have 'nerves.' You can't have them, and hold this sort of position. My head used to throb around three o'clock, and certain days, of course, were worse than others.

"Then I learned to rely on Bayer Aspirin."

The sure cure for any headache is rest. But sometimes we must postpone it. That's when Bayer Aspirin saves the day. Two tablets, and the nagging pain is gone until you are home. And once you are comfortable, the pain seldom returns!

Keep Bayer Aspirin handy. Don't put it away, or put off taking it. Fighting a headache to finish the day may be heroic, but it is also a little foolish. So is sacrificing a night's sleep because you've an annoying cold, or irritated throat, or grumbling tooth, neuralgia, neuritis. These tablets always relieve. They don't depress the heart, and may be taken freely. That is medical opinion. It is a fact established by the last twenty years of medical practice.

The only caution to be observed is when you are buying aspirin. Bayer is genuine. Tablets with the Bayer cross are safe.

STOMACH TROUBLES

HOW frequently we hear people complain of "indigestion." And how seldom there is actually anything wrong with the digestive organs!

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali to neutralize the acids. But don't use any crude helps. Use what most doctors would advise: use what your own doctor prescribes in his daily practice for just that condition.

The very best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. You will find nothing else so quick in effect, so harmless, so efficient. One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Results are immediate, with no harmful after-effects to follow your relief.

This pleasant way to alkalinize your system is so much better—so much quicker—than attempting to accomplish the same thing by a diet! But you cannot do this with any form of magnesia. Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is the formula; it is the one preparation that gives you magnesia in perfect suspension. It is alkaline, its action is thorough, and there is nothing more soothing to an ailing stomach or more helpful to sluggish bowels. Druggists have Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in 25c and 50c bottles.

The best way to whiten teeth is with Phillips' Dental Magnesia—the ideal dentifice. Try it and see for yourself how white your teeth become. At drug stores everywhere.

Heavy Reserves Go With Sooners To Dallas Game

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 15. (AP) — Fortified with the heaviest reserve list it ever had had, the Oklahoma University football squad packed its togs tonight and prepared to entrain for the annual game with the Texas Longhorns at Dallas Saturday.

Even the oldest fan can't remember when 32 men have been taken on a road trip. That number leaves tomorrow to establish tactical headquarters at Denton.

Captain Guy Warren will join the team Saturday, remaining here tomorrow to make up scholastic work. Final practice today bore out predictions that Coach Lindsey's starting backfield would be Dunlap, Ellstrom, Massad, and Maloney.

Fight To Keep The Record Clear

FORT WORTH, Oct. 15.—These three Horned Frog leaders—Coach Francis Schmidt, Capt. Harlos Green and Sub-Capt. Johnny Vaught, are wondering just what their charges will be able to show in their first conference test of the season Saturday against the Texas Aggies. All are determined, if possible, to manitain the T. C. U. tradition that "The Aggies Don't Win!" Not since 1925 have the Farmers carried off the long end of the score when meeting the Christians. In the six games played since that date the Frogs have been victorious four times and two games have resulted in ties.

Nation's Football Teams To Plan Post-Season Games For Unemployment; Idea Gaining

Various Conferences Willing To Suspend Rules And Play "Hoover Football" At Close Of Regular Season

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. —Given impetus by the decision of eight leading eastern elevens to engage in two football rodeos at New York and New Haven early in December, the campaign to mobilize the nation's gridiron forces in the cause of unemployment relief took on fresh vigor today.

From every section of the country game reports that indicated the various conferences and colleges were prepared to suspend their rules relating to post-season play and strike a lick for President Hoover's committee. The response was remarkable, considering the fact that Owen D. Young, chairman of the committee, broached his plan only yesterday.

Tournament Idea Popular

The "tournament" idea, which originated with E. K. Hall, chairman of the national football rules committee, also promised to prove popular. Its novelty, members of the president's committee felt, was certain to attract capacity crowds.

Yale, Brown, Dartmouth and Holy Cross have agreed to clash in a four-cornered carnival at New Haven December 5, while Princeton, Pennsylvania, Columbia and Cornell will hold their battle royal four days later at the Yankee Stadium. In each instance there will be three 20-minute jousts, the winners in the first two meeting in the final.

Others Offer Services

Among those offering their gridiron services today were the University of Tennessee and the University of Dayton. Officials of both institutions began seeking suitable opponents. A post-season game at Denver December 5 was announced as "reasonably certain," with expectations of a crowd of 30,000. Possible pairings included the Universities of Colorado and Wyoming. Denver University and an intersectional rival, or the Utah all-stars against an Eastern Rocky Mountain picked team.

Plans were under way for a game at St. Louis between the University of Missouri and the winner of the Thanksgiving Day game between Washington University and St. Louis University. Members of the "Big Six" were said to be generally willing to enter any kind of post-season competition, but awaited permission from the faculty council, which meets Saturday.

Members of the western, or "Big Ten" Conference, were making time pending a decision from the ruling body. The movement was gaining in all the small midwest conferences.

Strong Line Play To Feature Aggie And Frog Contest

FORT WORTH, Oct. 15. (AP) — With both teams due to show stubborn resistance against line attacks because of staunch forward walls, respective effectiveness of their passing game may decide which way victory will go in the Southwest Conference clash between the T. C. U. Horned Frogs and Texas Aggies here Saturday.

Neither team has shown any brilliance on long aerial thrusts and it may be those short flips across the line that will sweep one of the opposing elevens down the field and across the goal.

"Passing, punting and the breaks are likely to decide the game," said Coach Francis Schmidt of the Frogs this afternoon.

Owls Show Drive In Preparing For Ponies

HOUSTON, Oct. 15. (AP)—Showing much drive, Rice's varsity gridsters went seriously about their work of preparing for Saturday's advent here of the S. M. U. Mustangs.

The Owls have the warmest respect for the ability of Morrison coached teams and are unanimous in realizing their hardest test of the year will take place here Saturday.

Ponies Practice Tricks

To make sure that the Rice skull work was up to par, Coach Meagher drilled his men tonight on S. M. U. formations and the tricks the Ponies may pull out of the bag.

Class at the guard position has been exhibited daily this week by Bob Schulze, who may get into action against the Wiley Mustangs. Schulze is one of a number of strong Rice guardmen.

Odis Harris, Rice center, showed to advantage in breaking up passes.

WALSH DENIES RUMOR

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 15. (AP) —Ed Walsh, sr., famous White Sox pitcher of the early 1900's, one of the few who have pitched two-hit games in a world series, denied that he was in San Antonio to negotiate for the purchase of the Indians, Texas League baseball club.

Walsh revealed that he was here to attend the wedding of a son, Ed, jr, to Miss Mary Lorraine Terry.

Morgan And 32 Fish Leave To Scrap Badgers

Picadors Have Even Chance In Game With Tough Junior College Team; Amarillo Centers Attention On Game

Coach Del Morgan and 32 of his best Texas Tech freshmen gridsters were to depart at 7 o'clock this morning for Amarillo where they meet the powerful Amarillo Junior college Badgers this afternoon in one of the most important games of the year for the Picadors.

Drilled to near perfection in recent scrimmages against Pete Cawthon's varsity Matadors, the frosh squad today is in fine shape for a game of their own. Spirit was rampant among the first year gridders last night as they looked forward to dawn and their first road trip of the year.

Have Improved Since Game

Successful in holding the varsity to a 13 to 7 score in the first local game of the season, the Picadors have displayed much improvement since that game and against the varsity practice they have shown considerable stuff.

Coach Morgan will have two complete teams ready to shoot into today's game, and he plans to use them both. Queried last night for a statement, Morgan said they had an even chance against the Badgers this afternoon. While he would not commit himself to a suggestion of the final score, Morgan seemed satisfied that his charges would give a good account of themselves.

Badger Team Is Ready To Meet Picadors

(Special To The Avalanche)

AMARILLO, Oct. 15.—With every member of the Badger team in perfect condition, Coach Al Baggett tapered off training today for the game which will be played with the highly touted Texas Tech Picadors here Friday. After a week of intensive practice and drilling on defense, the Badgers are prepared for anything the Tech boys have to offer in the melee. The Badgers have perfected their shift so the plays run off in first class manner from all formations.

Passes and deceptive plays have been stressed in the past week and Baggett is planning to use everything in the hopes of adding another game to the string of victories. Last year the Badgers defeated the Tech freshmen in one of the hardest fought battles on the schedule, so the game Friday is looked upon as one of the best that will be played in Amarillo this year.

Large Crowd Expected

One of the largest crowds in the history of the Badger games is expected to be on hand for the contest.

The Badgers, now in their second football season, have lost but one game in their brief history; that to the strong Cameron Aggies when the teams met in a night game early in the season.

Coach Baggett, advocate of the Rockne system, has developed a much stronger aggregation than he had last year when he defeated the Picadors by a 9 to 0 score on the Tech field.

Former Pampan at Quarter

Albert Lard, who plays quarter for the Baggettmen, runs his team well and considered to be one of the best broken field runners ever seen on the Amarillo gridiron. Captain Bob Cox flips most of the passes and is a good plunger as well as a first class blocker. At fullback, Bill Cras stands out as a triple-threater, doing all the punting for the Badgers.

Arkansas Razorbacks Enroute To Waco For Baylor Tussle

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 15.—(AP)—The Arkansas University football squad, including 23 players and a pair of optimistic coaches, was en route to Waco, Tex., today for a Southwest Conference game Saturday with the Baylor University Bears.

Coach Fred Thomsen pinned his offensive hopes on the following backfielders: Homer Ledbetter, Oliver Holmes, Elwin Karr, Tom Murphy, Winton Kyle, Henry Phillips, Joe Biddle and Alvis Fuller.

Linemen making the trip were Captain Earl Secrest, Lewis Stout, Earl Darr, J. L. Erwin, Jim Edmonson, Lewis Stout, Leroy Kelley, Jack Robison, Red Johnson, Walter Neeley, Raymond Gibson, Les Nations, Gerald Ralston, Leon Hirshorn, Kinny Holt and Paul Tidball.

Coach Chapman Tells Of District One Grid Outlook

Amarillo - Pampa Go To Have Bearing On State Race

BY WELDON CHAPMAN
Lubbock High School Coach

By special permission of the copyright owners and at the earlier request of the Avalanche-Journal sports editor I am about to let fall upon an unsuspecting reading public something of my impression of football in District No. 1 and of the prospects of the Lubbock Westerners.

District No. 1 has two of the best teams in the state in Amarillo and Pampa, and either team would have a cinch in over half o fthe sixteen districts in the state. Which team is the better is the moot question to be decided Saturday in Pampa, barring a tie game.

Pampa Has Speed

Pampa appears to have an edge in speed, with their ball luggers Kahl, Martindale and Chastain comparable with the fastest trio in high school football. Hill, a 230-pound fullback, rounds out a neat backfield. Amarillo may have the best line. It is a husky bunch, led by the veteran "Cotton" Estes, a 190-pound tackle who has been looking great. The Sandie backs cannot, as a whole, match Pampa's trio in speed but in Enochs Amarillo has a fast, hard-charging ball carrier who has already won one game by his individual brilliance, and he is improving with every game. Pampa's line has six veterans of last year's crew.

As for the Westerners, they have done fairly well against the teams played. Efforts have been made to match a game with a strong Class A team this week but to no avail. They will go against Pampa on October 31 without having had a real test.

Crawford Stands Out

In Captain Bob Crawford, the Westerners have a center who should prove as good as any in the district. He is big and experienced and just as capable as he wants to be. His understudy, Chester McCarty, is very capable and plays a good game, particularly on the defense.

The guards are not so large, but they are battlers and will give a good account of themselves. Griggs at left guard is a great blocker and a dependable man. "Cotton" Welch, light but scrappy, plays the other guard and has looked good so far this season. Louis Spears, who plays either guard or tackle, and Howard Bains offer good reserve material for the guard positions.

Tackle positions are taken care of by Bert Williams, a 185-pounder; Rosser Abbott, a guard of last year's team; Elmer Calhoun, who lettered in 1928 but who has been out of school since; Harold Gaines, the heavyweight of the squad, and "Chief" Jones, out at present with a sprained ankle. Williams and Abbott have been getting the call at the tackles but Calhoun and Spears are rounding into shape and may replace them.

Will Ed Watson, a letter man of last year, and diminutive Dalton Blagg, whose specialty is pass snatching, take pretty good care of the ends. Blagg is a good blocker and defensive man despite his small stature. John Bell, Eugene Brown and Kenneth Leslie have been looking good and two of them may displace the regulars.

O. H. Britton, stocky built quarterback, has been improving with each game and his defensive work and blocking are highly valuable assets to the team. Charles Crenshaw is Britton's understudy and has been showing good ball carrying ability in some of the games.

As halfbacks, the Westerners have Doc Merrill, Mack Scoggin, Bill Davidson and R. L. Stovall. All of these boys are of nice size, can drive and block with the best of them and can tote the proverbial mail with pleasing form.

Gene Barnett, fullback, who does the spinning in the Warner system of offense, is also the best passer on the squad. Merrill, Barnett and Scoggin do the punting with Abbott and Davidson kicking the goals. Joe Nelson is the other reserve back and is a hard hitting lad for his size.

This squad of Westerners and their coaches are taking each game as it comes, but are looking ahead to Pampa and then Amarillo. These two teams are good, plenty good, but the Westerners say they are not going to give up to either of them without putting up a real fight.

To Be Fullback

Harold Crites, above, one of Pete Cawthon's plunging backs on the Texas Tech Matador team, will be shifted from halfback position to that of fullback in connection with the changes made necessary when Bill Teal, star end, sustained injuries in last Tuesday's game at Dallas which will keep him out of the game for the balance of the season. Yancy Price, regular fullback, will be moved to left end to supplant Teal. Price played at end while at Lubbock High school and with the Tech freshman team last season. Slick Close will thus move up to a halfback position on the regular outfit.

Peacock Academy And North Texas Aggies In Deadlock

ARLINGTON, Tex., Oct. 15. (AP)—Peacock Military Academy and North Texas' Agricultural college battled to a scoreless tie on a water-soaked gridiron here today.

The Cadets threatened in the second when Harris plunged to the Peacock 10-yard line, and from which point successive smashes carried the ball to the one foot stripe. Peacock's line then braced itself and held the Cadets for downs.

No Deer Nor Turkey Shooting In Lamar County For 5 Years

PARIS, Oct. 15. (AP)—Shooting of deer and wild turkeys will be prohibited in Lamar county during the next few years under a bill introduced by Representative W. H. Wiggs of Paris and passed by the recent session of the Texas legislature. Wiggs is endeavoring to locate a reserve in the county which can be stocked through state assistance.

Federal Laws Cut Shooting Season Short

Today Only Oct. 16 For Duck And Goose Hunters; Season To Start At Noon November 16; Warden Warns

Comes the day when all good and otherwise nimrods usually take the old shotgun from the rack and go forth among the rivers and lakes in search of the high-flying mallard, the tasty coot, the sporty brant and other members of the duck and goose specie. But to Texas duck and geese huntsmen, today is just October 16.

Heretofore October 16 has been known as the opening of the fall hunting season, but 1931 chooses to be different. Hunters who possess state and district hunting licenses may read thereon where the season opens today, and according to the state laws of Texas today is the date. But there is a federal law to contend with always, and attention is called to the provisions of the regulations adopted in connection with the Migratory Bird Treaty Act, especially as it deals with the season of 1931.

Season Cut In Half

The duck and geese hunting season has been cut exactly in half for this year, and the first half of the usual season limit has been the side to suffer.

The open season for ducks (except wood ducks, for which there is no open season, brant and geese in all portions of this state is November 16 to December 15 inclusive. Thus saith the new provision, a copy of which was received by M. W. Dickinson, local and sectional game warden, from the office of the game, fish and oyster commission at Austin yesterday.

Be it further known, says the new regulations adopted by the federal authorities, that geese, ducks and coots may not be shot in this state until twelve o'clock noon on November 16th.

Wardens Can't Arrest, But—

Game Warden Dickinson was further notified that "game and fish wardens of this department will have no authority to make arrests for violation of the federal regulations and prosecute in the state courts, but lest any would-be nimrod takes this as a sign that he will not be weighed in the balance, a further provision is listed. "Game and fish wardens of this department are specifically charged with the duty of reporting any cases of violation of the federal regulations to the nearest federal court or to the nearest federal game warden and shall appear as a witness to assist in the prosecution of such cases."

In further interpreting the meaning of the above clauses, Dickinson said yesterday that "It is true that I shall have no authority to make arrests but I have all authority that is needed to determine when a violation has been committed and to see that it is properly dealt with by the authorities having jurisdiction and I shall use my very best endeavors to this end.

To Aid In Catching

"I am requested to notify all concerned," Dickinson continued, "that the officers of this department will assist the federal authorities in the apprehension of anyone violating the provisions of the federal regulations affecting ducks and geese. It is my duty to notify all concerned of when ducks and geese may be taken without violating federal regulations, and of the numbers that may be taken."

The bag limit for ducks is fifteen in the aggregate of all kinds for one day and not more than thirty in possession. The bag limit for geese, including brant, is four in the aggregate of all kinds killed in one day and not more than eight in possession. The bag limit for coots is twenty-five in one day, according to specifications mailed to all game and fish wardens.

Parrish Resigns As Coach At Texas Military College

TERRELL, Oct. 15 (AP).—Coach Lowell Parrish, director of athletics at Texas Military college, resigned today. He gave no reason for his action, which came as a complete surprise to school authorities.

Parrish was graduated from Texas Christian University in 1928. He starred in four sports for the Horned Frogs. As a coach at T.M.C., his work was considered successful. Last year his football team tied for second place in the junior college circuit.

Restricted Area Is Now In Force

SANTA FE, N. M., Oct. 15 (Special.)—A restricted area in which two deer may be killed this season has been announced by Gilbert Espinosa, state game commissioner.

The area which may be hunted follows: Bounded on the north by the divide between Tom Moore canyon and Diamond creek; on the west by the East fork of the Gila between Tom Moore canyon and Alum mountain; on the south by the divide running from Alum mountain to Copperas peak and then around the head of Apache and Squaw creeks, to a point two miles east of the Meason place, thence across Black canyon at the mouth of Bonner canyon and on the north to Meown mountain.

This area is accessible from Silver City, Beaverhead and Copperas canyon.

No additional charge will be made for the taking of an additional deer in this area, but hunters must pass through a checking station at the boundary both going into and leaving the zone. Either two does or a doe and a buck may be killed there.

The New Mexico deer season opens October 20 and closes October 31.

Corn fed into a new machine invented by an Italian is ground into flour, mixed with other ingredients, and baked into loaves in 20 minutes, claims the inventor.

Ohio Dancers Help Feed The Needy

More than 2,000 cans of food for the needy were contributed in a "Can the Surplus" dance at Akron, O., when each dancer was admitted for a can of food and a dime. The dance was sponsored as a feature of Akron's movement to aid the unemployed in the coming winter. Above are the cans of food collected at the dance and some of the dancers.

Jazz Age Catches Great Britain In 1913 Methods; Tries For Come-Back

LONDON, Oct. 15 (AP).—Great Britain, having balanced her budget, is trying to balance her trade and make her exports pay for the imports.

Otherwise England will be eating her capital.

Outwardly her troubles date from the war. Britain's heavy industries were flourishing before 1914. During the war all bent their energies to its needs. Markets were neglected, improvements in equipment delayed, trade trends passed by, new technique unstudied.

The war ended, British industry turned to resume its old proud place in the world. Its old place was not there. British industry was still geared to the 1913 pace.

But it wasn't a 1913 world that was buying. Wants and tastes had changed. The world whistled jazz tunes, liked silk stockings, bobbed its hair and made jokes about flappers.

Even before the war there were indications difficulties were on the way. The war left Britain with a national debt of $37,000,000,0000 and nearly a million men in narrow graves.

This was a burden to carry through 10 years of trouble while Britain was trying to catch the new step.

Southern Texas Rail Line Being Asked Of Commission

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. (AP)—Another railroad for southern Texas today was proposed to the interstate commerce commission.

The Del Rio and Northern Railroad company applied for authorization to construct 132 miles of line running from Del Rio in Val Verde county through Edwards county to Sonora in Sutton county and from Del Rio through Kinney county to Quemado in Maverick county.

The proposed line would serve the Maverick county water district which is spending between $4,000,000 and $6,000,000 for an irrigation system.

Labor disputes in the Philippines are continuing.

New Life Insurance Business Reveals Decrease Over 1930

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP).—New life insurance production last month was 19.5 per cent less than the like month of 1930, while the cumulative total for the first nine months this year showed a decline of 13.3 per cent below the like period last year.

Total new business of all classes written by 44 member companies of the association of life insurance presidents last month was $720,218,000, compared with $894,396,000 for September last year. New ordinary insurance amounted to $483,100,000, against $545,481,000; industrial insurance $199,218,000, against $210,423,000, and group insurance $37,300,000 against $138,492,000.

For the first nine months total new business of these companies was $8,303,342,000, compared with $9,572,897,000 last year.

IT'S one thing to make broad claims. It's quite another to publish and print, in black and white, the definite figures which prove that Phillips 66 . . . the greater gasoline, is honest high test without higher price. (See figures above.)

We are able to do this because the Phillips Petroleum Company is the world's largest producer of natural high gravity gasoline. We charge nothing extra for this remarkable motor fuel, because our established policy is to give more value for the money.

In a sensationally short time this policy has earned for our product a place among the old established leaders. A Good Idea For Lubbock

WEN D. YOUNG, who knows a thing or two about finance and who is chairman of President Hoo-'s committee on mobilization of the nation's re-urces for relief, has made a suggestion which, if lowed out, will aid greatly in collection of funds. Young has asked every school and college foot-l team in the country to play at least one post-son game, proceeds of which will go to some ef agency.

The suggestion, as we see it, is good for the na- and would be welcome in Lubbock, too. We have good football teams here, not to mention the h freshmen and the secondary squads at the high ool, and there are several charitable and charac- building agencies which would welcome funds from enefit football game.

With the city and county caring largely for char- we see no reason why one or both of the grid ens here could not play a post-season tilt, pro-ds to go to the Community chest. People would by seeing an added game or two, before football over, and certainly the money can be well ap-priated.

Mr. Young's suggestion, we think, is worthy of sideration here.

TRIAL OF "THE BIG FELLA"

One hardly knows whether to break down and or laugh out loud at testimony emanating from trial of Alphonse Capone, who is "Snorky" to his nds and "Scar-Face" to everybody else. The spec-le of "the big fella," attired in raiment fit for a and being taken for a financial ride by every -bit race "bookie" in Chicago, is almost more in the imagination can stand.

But whether he again "beats the rap" or is con-ted of defrauding the government by concealing e facts concerning his income, the trial of the per-gangster offers us at least one thing. It of-s us the last word in study of our modern civili-ion, which permits a man to mow his enemies wn with machine guns, break almost every law own to the statute books—and, at the same time, er to "swap out" with the federal government en charged with an income tax violation.

Here-to-fore, Capone has made a monkey out of enforcement officers of Chicago and Illinois and, so doing, has likewise made a monkey out of every nest and reasonably law-abiding citizen in the ntry. Now, in his battle with the federal govern-nt, it remains to be seen whether Capone, and the ings for which he stands, are to triumph or ether right will be victorious in the end.

Trial of Capone is more than a mere legal battle tween government prosecutors and slick defense yers. It involves a principle, loss of which will ake the very foundations of this country.

This is one time when there shouldn't be any oling around or any "agreements" between attor-ys, the judge or the defendant. Unless Capone is ade to take his medicine we cannot expect any-ing except a further breakdown of our laws.

The sun's age is estimated at 5,000,000 years. Its g life may be due to never staying out at night.

As the world grows wiser and wiser, it finds more d more ways to make a fool of itself.

Practical Health Problems

TROUBLES WITH FEET

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

LL sorts of troubles can happen to a foot. Among the most common conditions are sprains, strains, ctures, dislocations, excessive sweating, corns, cal-ses, warts, chilblains, ringworm, bunions, hammer s, painful heels, ingrown toenails, cracked toes, sters, bruises and disturbances of the circulation. y one of these conditions may eventuate into a ious disturbance affecting the body as a whole.

One need only recall the death of the son of a rmer president who, while playing tennis, devel-ed a blister on his heel from rubbing by his tennis oe. Within a short time the blister became in-cted and general septicemia developed, and death llowed.

In a recent consideration of the care of the feet, r. Philip Lewin provided a number of footnotes hich every mother and every industrial worker ll do well to consider carefully.

Obtain a shoe that has the shape of your foot.

Fit your feet and not the other person's eye.

The most important shoe measurement is from e tip of the heel to the middle of the big toe joint. his point should come opposite that point of the oe where the shank goes over into the sole.

It should not be necessary to "break in" shoes.

The purpose of modification of shoes is to give ne support and to compel him to walk over the roper walking angle.

The purpose of exercises is to strengthen the sup-rting structures of the arches and to stimulate the rculation.

The purpose of massage is to increase the circu-tion of the muscles of your feet, in order that they ay grow stronger by the exercise.

The purpose of contrast sprays, that is alternating ot and cold, is to furnish a tonic for the nerves, lood vessels, muscles and ligaments.

Overeating is usually reflected in the form of ainful feet as well as pain in the abdomen.

Overeating causes foot dyspepsia.

Obesity throws additional strain on the feet.

Flat feet are not necessarily painful feet.

Flat feet plus rheumatic feet are very painful and tiff.

A slight degree of pigeon toes may be a very de-irable condition.

The child walks on the same hard surfaces—hard rs, cement sidewalks, and asphalt streets—as ults, and therefore it should have the same pro-ction that the adults do, rigid or semi-rigid shank hoes.

A flexible shoe is sufficient for those who need nly exercise, but for those who need both exercise nd support, it is insufficient. It may be used part ime to alternate with the rigid shank shoe.

Observe your child's foot and leg posture occa-ionally during sleep.

Be on the lookout for improper sitting posture or ositions during rest or play. One of the worst sit-ing positions is that in which the child sits with its egs folded, so that the heels nearly touch the but-ocks and the feet are in flat foot position.

Flat feet and a weak back go together all too requently. Keep your back flat and your feet rched.

Remember that no matter how long you live you ave to carry your feet and your feet have to carry ou.

Effect Of Plan Gauged

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The effect of his plan for the country's economic rescue on Mr. Hoover's presidential future will depend on how the plan works.

CHAS. P. STEWART

This is the Washington reaction.

It is a political reaction, but Washington's reactions are all political rather than commercial. For commercial reactions the place to look is Wall Street.

Politicians thought at first that the original moratorium announcement might furnish just the needed impetus to set the national and perhaps the international business machinery again running at a rate which presently would approach normal. It failed to do so.

Considering that experience, observers are inclined to wait a while now before drawing definite conclusions.

REPUBLICAN regulars naturally profess absolute confidence.

Conservative Democrats are cautious. In point of cold fact, they do not want a pronounced trade revival before next election, but of course they are forced to express good will, qualified only with blame of G. O. P. management for present conditions.

Their leaders, indeed, are chary of pledging their co-operation too warmly—a mistake which Senator Joseph T. Robinson, Democratic leader in the upper house of congress, made last winter when he acquiesced in the administration's unemployment relief program, thereby seriously damaging his prestige.

This time both he and his fellow Jeffersonians who attended the White House conference were more careful, emphasizing their agreement with the president merely "in principle."

Even so, there are signs that Representative John N. Garner's popularity suffered from his presence at the conference and especially from the attendant ballyhoo of his flight thither in an army airplane possibly to the extent of jeopardizing his speakership prospects.

Garner will need every vote he can get, including the Progressives of his own party, and the Ultra Progressives, regardless of party distinction, who are not on the bandwagon.

THE ONLY Republican at the conference who could imaginably qualify Progressively was Senator Borah, and the real radicals long ago ceased to consider him dependable. Among Democrats Senator Walsh of Montana, to be sure, generally is so classified, but not as an irreconcilable like Senators Wheeler and Costigan, who were noticeably absent. Some Progressive comment concerning the Democrats who sanctioned the White House gathering by their presence actually is unprintable.

Senator Brookhart employing what he considers moderate language, said:

"The conference was a fine Wall Street party. Wall Street knew what the baby was to be before it was born. Stocks skyrocketed the afternoon beforehand. These stocks were too high already. Inflating them further means deeper disaster. The relief tendered to agriculture is inadequate. They called it a non-partisan conference. Wall Street always is non-partisan."

This plainly foreshadows savage attacks on the plan in congress next winter. If the plan has begun to make good, the attacks will not matter. Otherwise its recoil may be destructive as the moratorium's failure to result in an improvement has been.

• • •

THE PROGRESSIVES diagnose the situation thus:

Agriculture incurred enormous obligations secured on land at wartime valuations.

With the post-war agricultural slump this land no longer was worth what it was mortgaged for. Foreclosures not only ruined the farmers, but the farm belt banks could not get back the money they had loaned, and have been failing ever since in thousands.

The industries being better organized, maintained inflation standards much longer, but at last the banks which financed them find themselves in the same straits that the agricultural banks encountered a decade earlier and it is a similar epidemic of failures in their ranks that President Hoover is acting now to prevent.

The Progressives do not object to such prevention, but do demand assurances against the governmental taking over of frozen industrial securities at inflated valuations.

IN CONNECTION with Mr. Hoover's plan they also expect to demand next winter a congressional investigation to determine whether or not the banks have encouraged stock inflation and if so, to what extent and how much they have profited by it.

Progressive estimates run the figures high into the billions.

Still, there must be a silver lining to the gold situation.

Would it be rash to say that England had been penny wise and pound foolish?

The fellow who sold us the 14-karat ring not long ago apparently had dropped the gold standard also.

NEA FICTION

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Pretty NORMA KENT, 20-year-old secretary, marries MARK TRAVERS, son of F. M. TRAVERS, millionaire real estate dealer, in spite of the father's opposition and threats to disinherit Mark.

The story opens in Marlboro, middle western metropolis. Mark sells his expensive roadster to get money for the honeymoon and he and Norma go to fashionable Blue Springs. There Norma meets HOLLIS STONE, and it is evident from the girl's manner that she has known Stone before.

Their money is soon gone, partly due to Mark's gambling. With $500 borrowed from Stone the couple return to Marlboro. Mark sets out on a round of pleasure seeking instead of hunting a job. When their funds dwindle again Mark and Norma move to a cheap apartment. Mark gets one job and loses it. Then he becomes a floor-walker in Blossomdale's department store. Norma practices rigid economies at home and in spite of poverty the young couple are happy. Then Mark's father sends for him, offers to take him back into his own company if Mark will prove he can make good. His first task involves a business trip to France. Norma is to remain at home. Mark, with no suspicion of trickery, is eager to go.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXIX

Norma gave a sharp tug at her slipper heel, then stood up. She looked across the room. "I'm frightened, Mark!" she said. "I wish I didn't feel this way but I can't help it!"

"But, honey, you know that's foolish. There's not a reason in the world for you to be affraid—"

"I know! Maybe that's why I'm so worried. Everything looks all right. It sounds all right when you tell about it. But five whole weeks—how do you know?—it might be six! Anything can happen in six weeks, Mark! Oh—I don't want you to go!"

She was wearing the peach-colored frock that had come from Fanchon's. The slippers also peach-colored, had frivolous heels of gold. Norma's hair had been brushed to a metallic luster. Her arms and shoulders were like warm ivory. Every detail of her appearance was meticulously correct, but instead of the charming picture she should have presented the girl's face was pale and her eyes were uneasy. She crossed the room to where Mark stood before the mirror, engaged with his tie. Norma put a hand on each of his arms.

"I don't want you to go!" she repeated feverishly.

"Now, see here, Norma, we've been over all this before! I've told you what it means to me. The chance—the one chance I've been waiting for! We can't throw Dad down when he's been so decent about everything. Besides, there's no time to argue. If we're going to be there by 7:30 we've got to hurry!"

"I'll do it for you," Norma offered, raising her hands to assist with the bow knot, but Mark shrugged her aside. He tossed away the tie and foraged in a drawer for another. His coat, freshly pressed, hung on the back of a chair. Mark had not worn dinner clothes for more than a month.

"I've told you everything's going to be all right!" he insisted, attacking the second tie and making a better job of it. "You're just looking on the black side of things. Instead of five weeks it may be four."

Norma leaned against the arm of the davenport, watching him. Her brightly reddened lips quivered slightly. "I wouldn't mind," she said slowly, "if I were going with you, I wouldnt be afraid then—

"But you know it's against company rules. And Dad isn't willing to make the slightest exception for me. That's all right; I don't want him to. I'm going into this thing, Norma, to show him I'm not the dub he thought I was. I tell you it's a great chance! Why, look, he's going to begin paying me $75 a week right away! Where could I ever hope to get at the kind of thing I've been doing? Blossomdale's! Why, you'd be living in a dump like this the rest of your life!"

His sweeping gesture expressed disgust at everything about them. The apartment was in a rather miserable state. The living room, suddenly transformed into dressing quarters, was littered with Mark's discarded clothing, stray towels and toilet articles. Drawers of the commode that during day-time hours was masked by a dignified covering were pulled out and garments overflowed from one of them. Norma's little black mules occupied the center of a chair. A closet door had been left open, revealing clothing on hangers and the bathroom, also visible, was in disorder. This was what

Idalou Man Writes Again On Condition Of Business

Big business flourishing, stocks raising and money so plentiful that King Morgan recently negotiated a loan of $400,000,000 from home people, from whom this money was collected in interest and big profits and through other special advantages, but to be sent to other countries, so say flowing headlines in the daily press.

Yet, at this same time, farming and little business is paralyzed and panic, unemployment and suffering overshadows the whole country. Can you harmonize these two extreme conditions?

The producers, builders and supporters failing, being closed out in all lines of production and little business, and the big profit gatherers' safes overflowing with the money so gathered from the common people. And these are the people who rule the country and make the prices and conditions. The people only have the ballot. We can all see the effect, but the causes that produce these effects seem to be so deep and obscure that even our wisest sages cannot fathom or unravel them.

What will be the result of all this? The great hope of the American people—the fundamental citizenship of this great Republic, which was founded on the true democratic principles of justice, equal rights, religious and political liberty—should be that through these principles, and the honest and sincere efforts of wise and honest statesmen and the earnest and unselfish co-operation of all humanly interested people, that much and lasting good may come.

The cost is going to be enormous; the loss and the suffering great, but let's hope that through investigation, sanity, reason and through adjustment on fair and unselfish lines, for the best interests of our people, our country and our government, that the people may be lifted out of despondency, depression, oppression, unrest and unhappiness and may be enabled to enter a new era of hope, industry and prosperity for the whole country instead of the few manipulations of big profits. Beside this great hope and anticipation, the people are getting some great and useful lessons out of present conditions in thrift, economy, co-operation, sanity, reason and in various other ways that may be of great benefit.

Let's all strive and hope for the best and that after the storm and dark and threatening clouds have passed that the sunshine will be brighter, the air purer and the people happier.

All little business, public interests and the common people in general are in the boiling pot and suffering together, and now all should unite and pull together for right, justice and better condition. Will we do it?

Idalou, Tex.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

always happened when Mark dressed for a state occasion. The limited space in the apartment made it worse.

"I don't want anything but to be sure you'll come back to me, Mark! We've been—happy here!"

Suddenly the young man caught her up beside him. "Of course I'll come back, darling! Nothing in the world could keep me away from you. Of course I'll come back!"

"Oh, if I could only be sure—!"

"But I will! As if anything could keep me away! Why, Norma, there's a tear—we can't have anything like that. We—Good Lord, who's that?"

The bell from the entrance of the building rang a second time, louder than the first.

"I'll see," Norma said quickly and went to answer. A moment later she turned. "It's your father's chauffeur," she said. "He's downstairs waiting for us."

"Oh—Harvey! Might have known Mother'd send him. Well, that's 10 minutes saved. Harvey'll get us there quicker than any taxi."

Neither spoke for the next few moments. Norma helped Mark locate hat and gloves, transfer his keys to the right pocket and at the last minute grab a handkerchief. She slipped the short velvet wrap about her shoulders.

"Ready?" she asked.

"Yes, I'm ready. Come on—let's go!"

When they were settled in the luxurious motor car Norma found Mark's hand "I'll feel better about things," she whispered, "after tonight."

"You mean—talking it over with Mother and Dad?"

The girl nodded.

"Sure you will!" Mark agreed. "You're going to like them, Norma. They're—well, Dad's a lot different than you think he is. And you know Mother likes you."

"I hope so!"

"Of course she does! And so will Dad. Now just get it into your head that everything's going to be all right. Tonight's a celebration! Prodigal son, fatted calf and all that! You've got to be happy about this, Mrs. Travers!"

Mark was elated, in his gayest and most winning mood. The girl smiled.

"I'll try, Mr. Travers."

"Idiot!" The word was an endearment. Marks arm which was about her tightened.

The camouflage of false gaiety stood Norma in good stead when three-quarters of an hour later she looked across the heavy lace, the crystal goblets and candlelight of the Travers' dining table. The room was very large, with dark wood-paneled walls. Brocaded curtains of rich coloring hung almost from the high ceiling to the floor. There was a spaciousness and dignity about the Travers home unlike anything Norma had ever seen. An expert and highly paid decorator had collected the authentic Jacobean furnishings.

Mrs. Travers in stately black at the head of the table, seemed an entirely different person than when Norma had seen her before, weeping in her son's arms. Her husband's manner was formal. Only Mark, directly opposite from Norma, appeared to be natural. Mark did most of the talking. Several times he tried rather unsuccessfully to draw Norma into the conversation. There was about the dinner an air of persistent frigidity.

It was a relief when they arose to have coffee in the living room. A fire burned in the grate here. That at least suggested warmth. Norma settled in a deep chair gazing at the flames.

Mrs. Travers, beside her, said, "We're going to be so happy to have you here, my dear!"

Norma roused herself. "I—I'm sorry. I'm afraid I wasn't listening!"

"I said we're going to be so glad to have you with us while Mark's away. It's going to be a splendid thing for him, you know. I can tell you now what a terrible thing this—er, misunderstanding has been. No one but a mother could realize what I've been through! But it's to be all right now. It's wonderful to have Mark getting into the business seriously, Mr. Travers needs him. There's no limit to what he won't do for him if this works out well."

The girl felt her head swimming They were all rushing ahead. Planning Mark's future. Talking about "great opportunities," about "big things," about money and business success as though they were the only things in life. What about Norma? She felt she was being lost in the swift tide.

"I'm glad," Norma said slowly, "for Mark's sake. I hope it all comes out as you say."

"Oh, it will! When Mr. Travers makes up his mind on a matter there's never the slightest doubt."

Mark, a little distance away, was lighting a cigaret.

"That's right, Mother," he said. "Tell Norma I'm not going to fall into the ocean or be eaten up by sharks. She has the idea crossing the Atlantic is about like flying to the moon."

"Mark will be all right," the elder Travers put in. "He's a good sailor."

"Yes, of course!" Mrs. Travers was speaking to Norma again. "And while he's gone you'll be busy, you know. I'm sure you'll want to find a little place to live—in this part of the city, I mean. Of course the rooms you have are very nice but it would be so much more convenient if you and Mark could be near—"

Planning, planning! The rest of the evening was devoted to it. Everyone was planning for the future except Norma. Everyone had a great deal to say but somehow the girl's own wishes were ignored. She was to do this; she was to do that—but no one consulted her. It was all to be very wonderful though in exactly what way no one explained.

There was talk of men and women of whom Norma had never heard. Travers, his wife and son chatted easily. They seemed to forget the girl's presence.

She sat back very still and white, listening to the others. "They hate me," Norma told herself. "No matter what they say or how much they smile I know they hate me! They don't want me here!"

"They" referred to Mark's parents. There was nothing tangible to which she could trace this presentiment. There was no slights of his wife evident to Mark.

Yet when the two were in their own apartment later that night Norma dropped her wrap. "Mark!" she begged, clinging to his shoulders, "don't go away! Please don't go!"

He kissed her. "I've got to, sweetheart. You know that."

"Please don't! I'm sure something terrible is going to happen. I know it will! Oh, I know it!"

"It's just that you're tired, dear. Better get to bed. Mother and Dad will look out for you while I'm away. If I didn't know that I'd be worried myself. Come on. Get out of that dress and let's get to bed. You looked awfully sweet tonight, Norma."

She refused to be quieted and comforted. There was a scene ending with Norma's crying herself to sleep. On Sunday—the following day—they went over the same arguments. Norma was willing to admit the trip would be a good thing financially for Mark. She could not explain her deep-rooted prejudice. No use telling the youth she knew his parents loathed her. No use telling him it was feminine intuition that warned her against the separation.

"Something will happen!" she repeated a dozen times. "Something that will be terrible!"

It all resulted in a strained, miserable state of affairs lasting until four o'clock Monday afternoon. Mark's train was to leave at 4:10. They were gathered in a little group in the station waiting room—his father, mother and Norma.

Mark, brisk, smiling a litle nervously, put his arms around the girl. "You're going to write often, dear? You're going to try to be happy?"

"I—I'll try, Mark!"

A red cap appeared to take the bags. They went to the car with him. There were kisses, farewell messages. Noises and confusion. A quick tremulous embrace between Mark and Norma.

Suddenly all the girl knew was that the train was pulling away from them. She cried out. Tears filled her eyes.

On the rear of the last platform she could still see Mark, waving.

Lost Ugly Fat

Her Husband Says She Looks Five Years Younger!

There is a certain weight at which every woman looks her loveliest—not skinny underweight nor pendulous overweight, but normal weight. "My husband says I look five years younger," writes this lady of 29 who—thanks to her daily dose of Kruschen Salts—has unburdened her body of 18 pounds of ugly fat. Read her letter:—

"Having heard from a friend of mine that she had lost considerable weight since taking Kruschen Salts, I started using them in July last, when I weighed 177 lbs. I have lost weight steadily since then, and am now 159 lbs.—my normal weight. Moreover, I feel brighter and more energetic in every way. I have enquired of my dressmaker my measurements, which in August last were:—Bust 40, Hips 43 1-2, Waist 33 1-2 inches. Last week they were:—Bust 38, Hips 40, Waist 31 inches, which is normal for my height, which is 5 ft. 8 in. My age is 29. My husband is a very severe critic. He says I look five years younger. There is no other reason for my loss of weight except Kruschen, as I do not take any particular diet."

Tom Connally Raps Policies

Texas Senator Terms Depression As "Most Radical" And Blames Republican Policies As One Of Causes

UVALDE, Oct. 15 (AP).—Senator Tom Connally, principal speaker today at the Uvalde good roads celebration, termed the current depression as the "most radical in the history of the United States."

He urged that the United States call an international conference on coinage and currency in order to obtain world-wide cooperation in foreign exchange.

In discussing causes of the depression he pointed to war debts, stock gambling, corporate inflation, gold standard and currency problems and the American protective tariff as being responsible.

"Europe owes us billions, which she can pay only in goods or gold," he said. "As France and the United States have 65 per cent of the world's gold in their vaults, Europe cannot pay in gold. Neither can she pay in goods, due to the Republican tariff.

"The United States has a treasury deficit of more than one billion dollars. Secretary Mellon advocates a general tax to obtain increased revenues to balance the budget. Such a tax would be a burden on the poor. If new taxes are to be levied I favor an increase of the inheritance taxes on the great fortunes of the land."

Connally said that surtaxes in the higher brackets of the income tax should be increased.

Turning to politics, he said the Democratic party seemed assured of victory in 1932.

"It is to be hoped the Democrats will not allow themselves to be torn and divided by internal strife," he said. "If our party is victorious we should enact a clean-cut program of reform. High tariffs should be lowered. Measures to restore foreign trade should be adopted. Short selling on cotton and stock markets should be prohibited and stringent regulations regarding their conduct should be established."

Injured Youth Battles Death

Thomas McMillan Is Believed To Be Weaker Thursday In Fight For Life Following Accident Wednesday

Thomas McMillan, 15, high school senior, whose neck was broken Wednesday afternoon while playing with a friend in the high school gymnasium, Thursday lost some ground in his battle for life, attending physicians at the Lubbock sanitarium said last night.

Although passing a fair day at the sanitarium Thursday, young McMillan seemed to be weaker last night. His body, from the neck downward, still was paralyzed, physicians said. Little hope is held for his recovery.

Suffers Fracture

The youth suffered a fracture to his sixth cervical vertebra Wednesday afternoon when he and Hollis Carroll, high school cheer leader, collided as they were doing a somersault stunt. It is believed Carroll's head struck McMillan's neck, causing the fracture and dislocation of the vertebra. Although dazed for a short time, Carroll was unhurt.

Young McMillan's popularity in high school was manifested Wednesday night and Thursday by the many high school students and grown persons calling at the sanitarium to learn of his condition. Many inquiries also were received by telephone, attendants said.

Miss Menchik, the English chess player, whose opponents included two well-known European experts, won the major open tournament at the Worcester, England, 1931 chess tournament without the loss of a game.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 15 (AP)—Although cotton was comparatively quiet most of today's session, prices ruled steady. Following a slight improvement at the start of 2 to 5 points mainly on good Liverpool cables, prices eased off during the first part of the morning on hedge selling, dropping 4 to 9 points from the opening figures, but later rallied well on buying and covering induced by firmness in the stock market and recovered 8 to 14 points from the earlier lows to levels 6 to 10 points above the previous close.

After ruling quiet within the earlier range most of the afternoon, the market weakened near the end, making new lows for the day 12 to 15 points below the highs and closed steady at net declines for the day of 5 to 7 points. Liverpool is due tomorrow 4 to 5 penny points down on New Orleans.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP)—An early decline in cotton today was followed by rallies, but prices eased off again in later trading.

December contracts, after advancing from the early low prices of 6.13 to 6.26 sold off to 6.12 and closed at 6.13. The general market closed steady at net declines of 4 to 9 points.

The opening was steady 3 points higher on October but generally unchanged to 7 points lower under overnight selling orders which appeared to come partly from the south. There may been a little buying in response to relatively steady Liverpool cables, but Liverpool was credited with selling here at the state and prices worked off later.

Brownfield ranchman said he returned to Tokio quickly to summon aid from Brownfield. The man was still alive when Brownfield returned to the scene of the accident, but died before doctors and officers arrived from Brownfield.

Justice Shelton said evidence indicated no other person was near the automobile when the man was injured. Powder marks showed the shot had been fired at close range, he said.

Smith lived on a ranch, five miles northwest of Tokio. He was the father of a large family of children, who survive him. He also is survived by his widow.

"Why attempt to prove deductions if we have failed to prove income, as the defense alleges?" asked the prosecutor.

"There can't be the slightest bit of doubt that this man had an enormous, a fabulous income, and that he did not want to pay a tax or deal with the government. That was 'the law,' something to be avoided, to be reckoned with only in the last emergency."

The possibility of sending the case to the jury by tomorrow night arose when, at the defense suggestion, Judge James H. Wilkerson ordered tomorrow's session to start a half hour earlier than usual to enable both defense attorneys to speak during the day. U. S. District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson said the government's last speech would not be long and that he considered it "very likely" the trial would end tomorrow.

Jobless men were attracted to the positions after Walter L. Aldrich of Shreveport took the oath as governor with the explanation that he had "as much right to it as Cyr." Then L. D. Reed, grocer of Shreveport, said he would take the oath for lieutenant governor because "the third governor ought to have a lieutenant governor."

Dr. Cyr has taken both the oaths of governor and lieutenant governor, but is not now on the payroll for either place and his status probably will remain undetermined until the courts act.

Financial Developments Center In Credit Field And Railroad Market

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP)—Financial developments today centered largely in the field of credit and the market for railroad bonds.

The federal reserve bank of New York raised its rediscount rate to 3 1-2 per cent, brokers' loans dropped $72,000,000 to below a billion and the tide of outgoing gold ebbed.

Stocks did better and closed higher, but there was a considerable reaction from the highs of the dull session. Carrier liens made some substantial gains on the strength of intimations from Washington that plans for helping them were making progress, although nothing might be announced until the freight rate decision was published.

Shares accomplished an average rise of a couple of points during the morning, with rail issues prominent. When the market eased in the afternoon trading was quiet and there was a stiffening of prices at the close.

Oklahoma Section Visited By Cloudburst On Thursday

DAVIDSON, Okla., Oct. 15 (AP).—A cloudburst that precipitated more than four inches of rain within 20 minutes broke upon this vicinity at breakfast time today.

Although the streets were running with water and basements of homes were inundated no residents were obliged to evacuate dwellings.

Heavy rainfall was recorded over virtually the entire county and crop damage was unofficially estimated at 10 to 20 per cent. Cotton was washed from bolls and seeded land washed out in most parts of the county.

Livestock

MIDDLEWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 15 (AP)—Arrivals of cattle around the circuit numbered 29,000 compared with 26,173 last week. Fed steers and yearlings were generally strong to 25 higher while other killing steers held steady. Other centers secured high sales on fed yearlings and mature steers within a range of 6.50-10.00. Fed western erns brought 7.00-8.50. Stockers and feeders were steady to weak at 4.00-5.50.

Various centers estimated 89,700 hogs compared with 71,058 last Thursday. Values rated unevenly 10-30 lower.

was charged by complaint with burglarizing the E. and A. Dry Goods company at Slaton last Sunday night, the assistant district attorney reported. McCleskey, in a statement made to County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson, admitted entering the store through the roof and taking $46 in currency from a safe and about $4 in silver from a cash register in the store. He said he was a former employe of the establishment and he knew the combination on the safe.

While waiting for a train to Sweetwater after the robbery, McCleskey told County Attorney Wilson he became frightened and placed the paper money in a commode at the Slaton depot and allowed the currency to pass on into the sewerage system. The man was arrested at Big Spring by Tom Abel, chief of police at Slaton.

Other indictments found by the grand jury were not announced Thursday night, since the defendants either were at liberty under appearance bonds or had not been apprehended, it was said.

Strange Apparition Whimpers Like Baby As Indian Braves Fire Shots

CLOQUET, Minn., Oct. 15. (AP)—One thousand persons last night gathered at a Chippewa Indian cemetery four miles from this city, to watch for an apparition reported seen for a week in the old burial ground.

The phenomenon, witnesses said, takes the form of two lights, similar to the headlights on an automobile. The lights are reported to rise from the ground, turn red at times and either flutter away or disappear when approached.

The apparition was reported by some folks to have appeared nine days ago after an Indian woman was buried in the cemetery. Two Indian men walking near the cemetery first told of the strange phenomenon.

Last Monday night other Indians took a practical method of disposing of the apparition, but without success. They told townspeople here they fired two shots at the apparition, only to "hear it whimper like a baby" and flutter away.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Oct. 15 (AP)—Corn was still slow sale on the Fort Worth cash grain market today with other commodities wanted.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate, or group three points, freight paid:

Wheat, No. 1 ordinary hard milling 51 1-2@52 1-2c; No. 2 hard 13 per cent protein 52 1-2@53 1-2c; 14 per cent 56 1-2@57 1-2c; 15 per cent 60 1-2@61 1-2; 16 per cent 64 1-2@65 1-2c.

Corn, No. 2 mixed or white 35@37; No. 2 yellow 43@45c.

Barley No. 2, 36@38c.

Sorghums, No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 72@73c; No. 2 kaffir 71@73c.

Basis delivery group three: Oats, No. 2 red 23@24c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 15 (AP).—Fresh upturns in grain prices, despite active profit taking sales, went hand in hand today with renewed attention to the warlike strain between China and Japan.

Indications were the orient had been a good purchaser of wheat on the Pacific coast, and it was announced China had bought three cargoes today in Canada.

Liverpool advices said the maximum pressure of wheat supplies had now probably been experienced, and that more than half of the world's wheat requirements were still to be obtained from North America.

Wheat closed irregular, 1-8 cent off to 3-8 cent up, corn unchanged to 1-4 higher, oats at 1-8@3-8 decline, and provisions unchanged to 5 cents advance.

Loan Director

day, reiterated the department's policy of liberality in relations with its farmer borrowers. The allowance of $7.50 per bale and seed to West Texas farmers; the policy of allowing the placing of cotton in warehouses as collateral on loans and releasing the balance of the crop to be disposed of as the borrower sees fit, were some of the steps taken to make the repayment of the loans as easy as possible for the farmers, he said.

Is Being Lenient

"The department feels it is being as lenient as possible with the farmer borrowers and an increase in the amount allowed per bale, which is in addition to the cottonseed, is not expected," he said. "Farmers east of the Mississippi river are harvesting their crops with an allowance of $5 per bale, others in East Texas are getting by with an allowance of $5.50 per bale, and as long as this is true of other sections the department does not feel justified in increasing the allowance in West Texas."

Extension of loans will not be considered until after November 30, maturity date, the St. Louis director said. The actual granting of extensions will not be made until after January 1, 1932. Field men, however, now are investigating cases where extensions probably will be necessary and are forwarding reports to the St. Louis office, he asserted. Each loan will be considered upon its own merits in the granting of extensions and the regional office will be guided by reports furnished by its field men.

Farmer borrowers who are storing cotton in warehouses as collateral on their loans at the allowable rate of six cents per pound cannot help but be benefitted by the plan, according to McElveen. In effect, the plan creates a cotton pool, which keeps the cotton off the market until the borrower is ready to sell, he said.

Mistaken Idea

"There is a mistaken idea regarding the collaterization of cotton by storing it in warehouses," he said. "This cotton is not transferred to the government, but remains in the name of the producer until such time as he desires to sell the product. It may be sold only with the written consent of the producer. It is accepted at the rate of six cents per pound as collateral on the loan. If the price goes up, the borrower receives the benefit of the increase. If the price goes down, the government does not hold the borrower responsible, nor will it require him to put up more cotton to cover the loss."

Release on the balance of the crop will be given the farmer after he has deposited enough cotton in a bonded warehouse to cover the loan, after deducting the $7.50 allowance for harvesting the production, an to cover a reasonable amount interest, fire insurance and storage fees. The government considers one bale additional to 10 bales stored as sufficient to cover the extra costs, he said. The loan, however, bears interest until the indebtedness to the government is liquidated. A release will be sent the farmer from the St. Louis office as soon as the officials there are satisfied the loan has been protected by the proper collateral. The farmer then may dispose of his crop as he sees fit without fear of being prosecuted for disposing of mortgaged property, McElveen said.

Is Allowed Cost

The farmer will be allowed actual cost of harvesting their crops, where loans were made on feed crops, and will not be required to sell feed unless he has a surplus, McElveen explained.

The director said his office next week would advise farmer borrowers in Texas when they might see the field men assigned to their respective districts. Each borrower will be sent a notice giving the itinerary of the field agent in his district.

While McElveen's visit to Lubbock primarily was for the purpose of conferring with the new field men, he conferred with chamber of commerce representatives, county agents and borrowers of this territory during the afternoon. He is to leave this morning for New Mexico for a similar conference.

Arkansas Officers Are Using Matches To Hunt Bootleggers And They Find It Successful

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 15. (AP)—They're hunting stills with matches in Arkansas.

Sheriff Rucker of Saline county and Sergeants Traweek and Henson of the Little Rock police department will vouch for the efficacy of the system. This is their story and they stick to it.

The officers chanced to meet at the Saline-Pulaski county line and were exchanging pleasantries when somebody detected the odor of mash in the air. Someone else suggested the flame of a match would point the direction of a still, even against the wind when the mash odor was strong.

A match was struck; the officers followed the flame. They found a still and, in a nearby house, arrested two men and three women. Two other men, they said, escaped as they approached the still.

Deficit Again Looming Large

Cold Figures Emphasize Hard Position In Which Federal Government Finds Itself As Period Is Ended

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. —(AP)— Cold figures emphasized the difficult financial position of the government anew today, the deficit passing the half billion dollar mark.

For the first three and a half months of the fiscal year, which began July 1, the treasury books show the government to be $502,106,600 in the red.

Even as this was revealed, fiscal experts of the department were pondering over how to adjust the situation—whether taxes should be increased. President Hoover has said the study will continue some time, with no decision likely before congress returns to work in December.

The deficit is $485,000,000 more than it was for the same period of the previous year. At the close of business October 13, the government had collected from all sources $629,786,231 and had spent $1,131,874,831.

The receipts were $250,000,000 less than collected in the same period of last year, and the expenditures $200,000,000 more than spent in the first two and one-half months of the 1931 year.

The seriousness of the government's financial position became apparent early this year when income taxes dwindled away at an alarming rate and the government finished the fiscal year on June 30 with a deficit of $903,000,000.

The chief cause of that deficit was a decrease of $550,000,000 in income tax collections.

Fee Problems Of Sheriff Studied

FORT WORTH, Oct. 15. —(AP)— Methods to be followed in collecting mileage fees were discussed at a meeting of the Sheriffs' Association of Texas here today.

Sheriff Coley C. White, Austin, president, presided over the called meeting.

"The state comptroller and attorney general have ruled," Sheriff White declared, "that sheriffs are not entitled to services rendered and mileage for executing a justice's court warrant other than $4, the examining trial fee.

"We contend we are entitled to the mileage if the man in question is indicted."

Senator T. H. McGregor, Austin, counsel for the association, outlined the purpose of the meeting "With the law clearly stated," he declared, "there is no occasion for any member of the sheriff's association, or the association, to permit the comptroller or the state auditor to prevent their collecting fees that are justly due them. The remedy is clear and should be invoked wherever arbitrary action is taken by an outsider to beat a sheriff out of his fee."

Par For Courses In Expenditures Is Newest Plan

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 15 (AP).—What tax paying United States needs is a par for courses of public expenditures.

That's what Dr. Harley Lutz, Princton university professor and tax authority, says. He is attending the annual congress of the National Tax association here and spoke in opposition to placing a limit on tax rates.

"Present day expenditures and budget criticism," Dr. Lutz said, "is exactly like deciding what is good golf on a course where par is unknown.

"The taxpayer wants eagles, birdies and holes in one, while the budget maker may want a civil war score, out in 61, back in 65.

"Both the budget maker and his critic, the taxpayer or the taxpayers' association, need to apply the basic principle of golf to the determination of expenditures. They must set up pars for each department and the whole budget.

"Instead of determining by referendum whether to add 50 policemen to the town force or firemen or janitors, let the city fathers consult the par of job analysis."

Dr. Lutz said no person is required to do better than par in golf, not even Bobby Jones, and no taxpayer can do better than par his expenditure course.

Conscience Fund Lamesa's Latest

(Special To The Avalanche)

LAMESA, Oct., 15. — A "Conscience Fund" has been established in Lamesa to be distributed to charity. The idea and initiation of this fund came about Monday, this week, when a letter was received by the chamber of commerce from Delta, Colorado, enclosing a $5 bill, with the request that it be distributed to certain merchants who lived and operated businesses here ten years ago. The letter stated that the writer, while a youngster living here at that time, had the habit of "taking things that did not belong to him," and that this bill would heal his conscience of the amount he took while here. The letter was unsigned.

Officials of the chamber of commerce reported that the bill would be given to charity.

Dr. W. A. Jackson Speaks At Kiwanis Club Luncheon

Europe is discovering America anew, Dr. W. A. Jackson, head of department of government at Texas Technological college, told members of the Lubbock Kiwanis club Thursday at a Columbus day program.

"Columbus' discovery marked the most important discovery of the age," Dr. Jackson said. "It marked the beginning of the individualistic idea which was developed in America and afterwards was substituted by cooperative effort. Europe is discovering America anew, turning to the United States for relief when a disaster occurs there. Europeans have the idea that all they have to do is to call upon this country for aid and it will be granted. It is true that we have wealth and influence but we should use these elements in the proper way."

The program was under the direction of A. C. Jackson. David Humphreys, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. R. F. Humphreys, gave a flute solo.

Lupe Velez En Route To Europe And Trail Of Marriage Rumors Is Left

Lupe Velez

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. (AP)—Lupe Velez and Jack Gilbert were en route to Europe today leaving behind them a trail of reports that they are shortly to be married.

Interviewed by reporters before they sailed on the Europa, the movie stars expressed their mutual admiration in no uncertain terms but declined either to confirm or deny that they are to be married.

Lupe said: "I don't say whether I'm going to marry him or not. And I won't say whether we are engaged—but maybe later—who knows?"

Jack said: "Lupe is splendid, isn't she? But it would be in bad taste for me to say anything about marriage now when legally I am still the husband of another woman (Ina Claire,, from whom he is being divorced.) When I am free maybe we might both have something to say."

The author's major one-man revolt, however, has been against dial telephones. So far it has been utterly unsuccessful. The trouble he said, had been that he hasn't been able to get any answer when he dials the company manager.

Consider the cost of fuel. Modern kerosene (coal oil) is the convenient, dependable fuel.

High-Power Perfection stoves give the cooking speed of the costlier fuels . . . using the most economical of fuels . . . safe, clean kerosene.

HIGH-POWER, Perfection's new burner, boils the kettle faster, fries faster, heats the oven faster, yet it is economical of fuel. With all its speed, High-Power is easily controlled. It adjusts instantly, high or low.

High-Power cooking heat spreads evenly over the bottom of the utensil, making it possible to fry a whole griddle of potatoes, mush or pancakes to an appetizing golden brown at the same time. The High-Power burner gives clean heat. It never stains the bottoms of pots and pans.

High-Power Perfection stoves and ranges are strongly built of heavy steel. Even low-priced models are beautifully finished in modern color . . . porcelain enamel, lacquer and baked enamels in pastel green, ivory and satin black.

Prices as low as $18.50

Pioneer Oil Man Is Death Victim

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 15. (AP)—Peter Harding Williams of San Angelo, 57, pioneer oil well driller, died here today after a year's illness. His career included the extension in 1927 of the Powell field in Crocket county, which he sold for $500,000 and the completion, unaided, in Irion county last year of the world's deepest test for oil drilled with cable tools, No. 1 Ash Bros., 8,900 feet deep. It was dry.

About twenty years ago Williams assisted in shutting in what was the world's greatest oil well. No. 4 Patrero De Ono, in the Tampico, Mexico field until Yates, Pecos county, gushers eclipsed it. A river was converted in a wall of fire thirty miles to the sea as the gusher ran wild for twenty-six days.

Williams owned ranches in Presidio, Tom Green, Yoakum and Dallam counties. His widow, one son, one daughter and five brothers survive. Burial will be made here Thursday afternoon under Masonic auspices.

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES

Resinol clears them away

"My complexion was very poor because of pimples and blackheads which covered my face and neck. I had been advised to try Resinol Soap and Ointment, but had tried so many other things without success I was disgusted with everything. However, a friend urged me to try a sample anyway. In three days' time the improvement was so great I could hardly believe it. I will always have a word of praise for Resinol." (Signed)—
