Lazbuddie in Bi-District Battle Friday

...Let us Give Thanks

I asked God for strength, that I might achieve. . . I was made weak, that I might learn humbly to obey I asked for health, that I might do greater things. I was given infirmity, that I might do better things. I asked for riches, that I might be happy. . . I was given poverty that I might be wise. I asked for power, that I might have the praise of men. . . I was given weakness, that I might feel the need of God. I asked for all things, that I might enjoy life. . . I was given life, that I might enjoy all things. I got nothing that I asked for, but everything I had hoped for. Almost despite myself, my unspoken prayers were answered. I am, among all men, richly blessed.

CHRISTMAS TREE ARRIVED TUESDAY--Eight men returned to Muleshoe late Monday night after making a trip to New Mexico to obtain the Christmas tree for the Mule Memorial site. Jerry Hutton, Morris Nowlin, R.A. Bradley, Lyndal Murray and Harold Cowan accompanied Businessmen Activities Committee co-Chairmen Olan Burrows and Harvey Bass to the Sacramento Mountains near Cloudcroft to obtain the 57 foot blue spruce. J.R. Copley provided the truck for the huge tree. Bass said there wasn't much snow in the area they had a good trip. Tuesday, Bailey County Electric Cooperative and Southwestern Public Service Company workmen erected the tree with 'Old Pete' silently supervising in the background.

Alicia Aguirre Aided By Opportunity Plan

Alicia Aguirre, West Texas State University student from Muleshoe, advises, "don't jump to conclusions about college." She says everyone should get as much information as possible and make up his own mind whether or not he wants to go and is willing to work, there is a way for him to finance his education.

Alicia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amado Aguirre of 1313 West Avenue C, is one of the six students sponsored this year by the Stegall-Muleshoe Division of the Opportunity Plan, Inc. Of the OPI she says, "They are giving me a chance to go to school and that's all I need."

Dreams of a college education to prepare herself to teach in the elementary school have long been a part of Alicia's life. Ben Gramling, Muleshoe High School counselor, told Alicia that he would see if someone could help her.

Milton Morris, founder and director of OPI, visited the school last spring, giving information about available financial aid and advising students.

In other action, City Manager Field was instructed to work with City Police Chief Harold White on deciding furniture needed for a waiting room at the new law enforcement center.

Jim Clements Pleased by Top Cotton Yield

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Clements are proud of their field of cotton northeast of Muleshoe. They planted the acreage with Dunn 56 seed the last days of April and the first of May. They irrigated the crop twice, every other row the last time.

When they began harvesting the cotton on Monday, they found the yield to be approximately a bale an acre. This was a welcome surprise to them as they had expected possibly much damage from the early freeze.

Mr. and Mrs. Clements moved to Bailey County in 1933 from Dickens County and have lived and farmed in the county since that time. Their homeplace is in the Longview community.

Their extensive farming and ranching operation covers 600 acres in Bailey County and several hundred acres in Parmer County. They raise cotton, wheat and milo, plus running several head of cattle in a ranching operation on their home place south of Muleshoe.

dents of application procedures. Alicia had an interview with him and made plans to attend WTSU.

Alicia, like other OPI applicants, had to have school counselors and principal and businessmen of her community to write letters of recommendation for her. Through sponsorship by OPI, students are allowed to borrow money they need with no more security than their signatures and the faith people have in them. One teacher said of Alicia, "She is honest, has fine morals and religious character. Her desire to help others, especially her own people, is very keen."

Upon receiving this statement and others such as, "She is eager and ambitious," and "Always loyal and courteous," Morris accepted Alicia as a participant. He said, "We can help kids like this. If they have good character and are ambitious, then they deserve an education as much as the boy or girl who is the best scholar or the best athlete or the richest kid in school."

Alicia graduated from high school in May and entered college in June. She attended both summer sessions and is back in school this fall. She says college is not a place to come and have fun, but a place to work. "Sure, there is fun, but mostly they want you to work. Some kids think it is all just fun, but they're wrong."

A petite 4 foot eleven inches, Alicia at 18 has some definite views about college education. She says a person should think it over first and decide whether an education is what he really wants. Then, when he is sure

Booster Club Watches Game On Reproduc

The Muleshoe Athletic Booster Club met Monday night in regular session and watched the final football game of 1969 on a newly purchased TV recorder-reproducer.

The audio-video recorder provides instant replay action and will be utilized by the athletic departments of the schools. The new machine will replace movies which were used in the past.

Placed into use for the first time during the Mule Freshman-Tulia game last Thursday night, the recorder was also used during the Muleshoe-Permyton game Friday.

Featuring audio reproduction, along with the video, the machine replay is through a TV set. Each film can be used up to 500 times before having to be replaced, thus cutting operation costs to a minimum. Costing in excess of $2,500, including extra equipment for the machine, it can be utilized by other organizations and clubs upon approval of the Muleshoe High School Athletic Director.

During the meeting, Athletic Director Fred Hedgecock expressed optimism for next year. He said that during the off season, prospective football players will be working on building strength.

Hedgecock said, "I am proud of all the youngsters; of the effort they gave all year long. You could see the physical punishment the boys were taking, but they still stayed in and scrapped all the way."

Cardiac Emergency Equipment Sought

by Marshall Cook

West Plains Memorial Hospital

How dear is your heart to you? It doesn't take a heart specialist to know that this most important organ must function properly for life to continue. Cardiac patients have been wheeled into West Plains Memorial Hospital this year at a rather alarming rate. Some of these patients are your loved ones, some of them are mine. But most of them are people from our own community.

As the cardiacs arrive at the emergency entrance of the hospital, doctors and nurses begin the all-out effort to keep the heart functioning. These first few moments are the most vital ones. If the patient received prompt diagnosis and treatment at this crucial time, his chances of survival are greatly increased.

West Plains Memorial Hospital is no longer privately owned. It is a community hospital governed by a Board of Directors who serve without pay. It is a non-profit organization, with no individual ownership, no stockholders. Therefore, all donations qualify for tax deduction advantages to the donor.

A second question arises. If community funds are raised to provide this equipment, will a charge be made for its use? Not a charge will be made for the professional personnel who operate the machines, but not for the use of the equipment.

The Cardiac Emergency Equipment we are talking about is a package of four instruments on a mobile cart, permitting it to be rolled into the operating room, emergency room, or patient rooms. Included are: Cardiac Monitor, Pacemaker, Defibrillator, and Telephone Transmission Unit. The cardiac monitor constantly flashes the heart pattern on a screen. While the patient is in surgery, a constant check on the heart function is available to the surgical team. The pace-

Longhorns Amass Impressive Record

High School football is over. . . that is, for most teams High School football is over! But -- not for Lazbuddie. They just don't like for football to end, so again this year, the season has been extended for them. Now, special privileges have not been extended the team, they earned the right to continue playing, at least for another game or two.

Last Friday night, the one-time beaten players downed the Matador Matadors to take the District 1-B title. Matador fell 28-8 to the fired up Longhorns, who wanted another chance at the Regional title they couldn't quite take last year.

Going into Bi-District last year, the Longhorns defeated Groom in a game at Tulia, 26-6, to win the Bi-District title. The following week the Longhorns lost out, 27-6, to the powerful Throckmorton team for the Regional title.

Friday night, the Longhorns will again play Groom for the Bi-District title. The game will be played at Panhandle. The winner of the game will meet Throckmorton. Coach Pat Casey said his team wants to play Throckmorton again this year. He did say, "Groom is tough and we don't expect an easy game."

Lazbuddie's only loss for the year was a disappointing 26-32 score when they played Bovina. Last year, they breezed through the entire football season without a loss until they met Throckmorton.

In their first game, the Longhorns defeated New Home, 49-0. Tatum, N.M. was the next team to face the 'Horns. Tatum fell 35-0. Then came the disastrous Bovina game. Whiteface felt the Longhorn defense when they were blanked out 42-0. Amherst managed one TD, but fell 20-7 to the Lazbuddie team. Turkey was next on the list as they toppled 48-8. A stunned Nazareth watched the score of 42-0 rack up on the scoreboard. Tough Hart managed two points on a safety as they fell behind 22-2. Alamo Catholic of Amarillo felt the bite of the Longhorn defense and offense as they stumbled 26-0 and the Matador team was downed 28-8. Lazbuddie gathered in 338 points for the season while giving up only 55 points. This was an average of 33.8 points for Lazbuddie, and 5.5 points for their opponents.

Halfback Derrell Matthews, a senior, was the leading scorer on the South Plains with 152 points. He made a total of 23 touchdowns and had 14 points on conversion attempts. Matthews edged out Terry Bridges of Earth-Springle Schools for the honor. Bridges had 147 points for the season.

Matthews also led in individual rushing for the Longhorns with 1571 yards gained in 185 carries of the ball. This was an average of 157 yards per game.

Larry Hodges had seven touchdowns and eight extra points for a total of 50 points. Cont'd on Page 2, Col. 5

Season Tickets For Basketball Go on Sale

Superintendent of Muleshoe Schools Neal B. Dillman has announced that season tickets for the 1969-70 basketball season have gone on sale.

The tickets went on sale in Muleshoe High School and Muleshoe Junior High School on Wednesday, November 26. They are available at this time in the business administration office.

The tickets are $10 for adults for the entire season and $5 for students for the season. They are for all home games and tournaments during the regular season; not restricted to one grade they are for all junior high school and high school boys' and girls' home games. They will also be available at the first varsity home game for 1969 Friday night, when the Muleshoe Varsity and B team boys and girls play the Dimmitt teams.

Representing a substantial savings, Dillman urged all basketball fans to take advantage of this offer. He said that with varsity tickets being $1 for adults and 50 cents for students and junior high individual tickets being 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students, perhaps more than half the price of individual tickets could be saved with the purchase of a season ticket.

Freshmen End Season 8-1 Record

by Randy Williams
The Muleshoe Mules' Freshman team ended a great season Thursday night by defeating the Tulsa Hornets, 18-0.

To get the game going the Mules' way, Danny Blaylock recovered a fumble on the 30-yard line. The Mules carried the ball down to the 20 yard line and from there, Gerald Bara ran in for the score. The conversion attempt failed.

With Tulsa fumbling again, the Mules got another chance to score. This time Rex Black recovered the ball on the 20. The Mules carried the ball down to the one and on the fourth down, Gerald Bara dove over for another Muleshoe score. The conversion attempt failed again. At the half, the score stood 12-0.

The second half looked as though it would be scoreless until Danny Blaylock recovered another Tulsa fumble on the 48 yard line. The Mules got down to the 39 yard line and from there, quarterback Charles Ray Young threw a spectacular pass to David Faver to give the Mules another six points. The conversion attempt failed.

The Mules ended this season with an 8-1 record. They racked up 180 points against their opponents' 65 points.

Lazbuddie Schools LONGHORN STAMPEDE

by Mike Casey

The Lazbuddie Longhorns registered their ninth victory of the season November 14, as they whipped the Amarillo Alamo Catholic Mustangs by a score of 26-0.

The Longhorns' first touchdown of the night came on Derrell Matthews' four-yard run in the second quarter. Minutes later Matthews found the end zone again. This time he punted it across from ten yards out.

In the third quarter, Matthews picked up his third touchdown of the night. He scampered fifteen yards. Arthur Graves was credited with the Longhorns' final score. He grabbed a 12 yard aerial from Derrell Matthews and then ran the two-point conversion.

The Horn's had 207 yards rushing and 19 passing. Derrell Matthews gained 107 yards with his running.

The Alamo Catholic Mustangs had a total offense of 47 yards. They also had 6 first downs. Villarreal, Mario Pedroza, Mike Grimsley, Alex Ybarra, Angel Villa, Perry Hall, Gerald Bara, Charley Vela, Larry Vinson, Billy Don Williams, Delmer Bleeker, Ear Ladd III, Billy Wimberley, Kenny Taylor, Joe Pat Jones, Steve Wolfe, Danny Blaylock, Paul Bell, David Seymore, Joe Rojas, Kenneth Ragland, Lino Martinez, Gilbert Lueras, Tim McCormick, Charles Ray Young and Chuck Clemmons.

Coaches for this year were Bob Graves and Curtis Diddyway.

The Longhorns traveled to Matador last Friday to take on the Matador Matadors in the season finale. The Horns defeated a stubborn Matador team 28-8.

After a scoreless first quarter, Lazbuddie sent Derrell Matthews through the Matador line for a 23-yard touchdown run. The conversion attempt was unsuccessful and that was the extent of the scoring in the first half.

In the third quarter Derrell Matthews again got the call. This time he plowed his way into the end zone from four yards out. Arthur Graves ran for the two-point conversion. Jimmy Noland raced 33 yards with a blocked punt in the third quarter and got Lazbuddie their third touchdown of the night. Arthur Graves pushed the two-point conversion across and at the end of the third period of play the Longhorns held a 22-0 lead.

In the fourth quarter Matador came storming back and Ronnie Welling, their fine halfback scored from three yards away. Minutes later a Matador player tackled Arthur Graves behind the goal-line for a safety.

Lazbuddie's Larry Hodges tucked the game away for keeps in the final period of play as he galloped 10 yards for a touchdown. The conversion attempt was no good.

Statistic-wise the Horns accumulated 278 yards total offense. Derrell Matthews had 198 of these yards rushing. He also became the South Plains leading scorer with a total of 152 points.

Mrs. Clements said they hoped to retire in two or three years and she plans to spend more time with her handicrafts and growing flowers, which are her hobbies.

he should start making preparations. This is important to her, because, as she says, "Too many kids just come to college without knowing why. They start and pay all their money and then decide it's too hard and stop again. But, by that time they have lost their money."

When asked the best part of OPI, Alicia replied, "It's a

Monte Barnes, Arthur Graves, Charlie Lee and Mike Casey each had four touchdowns. Mark Barnes had two touchdowns for the season and Jimmy Noland had one touchdown.

Hodges was also second in the individual rushing department. He gathered in 622 yards in 124 carries for an average of 62 yards per game. Monte Barnes carried the ball 66 times for 198 yards for an average of 22 yards per game. Arthur Graves carried the ball 81 times for 455 yards, for a total of 46 yards per game. Mark Barnes carried the ball eight times for 54 yards for a total of eight yards.

Offensive yards gained during the season were 3,807 with 850 yards of this being in the air. The Longhorns averaged 381 yards per game on offense.

Eleven of the 43 completed passes were for touchdowns. The Horns also made a total of 197 first downs and held their opponents to 84 yards.

All in all, under direction of Head Coach Pat Casey and Assistant Coach Mike Flanken, Lazbuddie has amassed another impressive record for the 1969 football season. The Lazbuddie community is justifiably proud of their outstanding team.

Out of it
A lady approached a surgeon and asked him if he would perform an operation.
"What for?" he inquired.
"Oh, anything you like. You see, I attend a lot of women's bridge parties and, never having an operation, I simply can't take part in the conversation."

pretty good plan for any kid that needs help. I don't think I, or lots of others, could go without their help."

Like all OPI students Alicia keeps a record book in which she records all income and all expenditures. She says the book is helpful for her. "It's a good idea; then you know where your money is and how much you have left in your budget." Keeping within the estimated budget is important, according to Alicia. Otherwise, the student might overdraw and be in trouble.

The most important factor in having a budget and keeping a record book is that they help limit the amount of indebtedness at graduation. Alicia explains the idea, "If we have to record everything we spend, then we don't spend as much. We limit our budgets. When we pay them back when we've finished school, we don't owe so much we can't pay it."

Asked what was the worst part of OPI, Alicia replies, "I don't think there is any worst part. It is all good for me."

maker is that all-important machine which takes over and causes the heart to beat at a pre-determined rate. This machine alone has saved the lives of many cardiacs where it has been available. The function of the defibrillator is to shock the heart electrically if the heart stops, or if abnormal rhythms develop. Very recently a life was saved by use of the obsolete defibrillator at West Plains. With the telephone transmission unit, doctors would have the knowledge of cardiologists at their fingertips. The hookup would enable the doctors to transmit by telephone an electrocardiogram to the cardiologists, and receive immediate assistance from him in the diagnosis and treatment of the patient.

This equipment is of the utmost importance in saving lives, and the cost is insignificant compared to the loss of one human life. Our community is fortunate in having Mrs. Sandra Owings, R.N., on the hospital nursing staff. Mrs. Owings was previously employed at a Fort Worth Cardiac Intensive Care Unit, and is qualified to train others in the proper use of this equipment.

As the people launch this fund drive, the Reverend Robert O'Leary is chairman of the Business and Professional Division. Volunteers are urgently needed to assure success of the campaign. Clubs, groups, or individuals wishing to assist in the campaign are urged to contact Father O'Leary immediately. For those who wish to contribute, checks should be made payable to West Plains Memorial Hospital, and marked "Contribution to Cardiac Emergency Fund". Father O'Leary reports several generous contributions already. Let's get busy and get this job done.

Independent research proves:
RCA has the brightest,
you can buy.

These are the reasons:

- 1. RCA'S 100% BRIGHTER PICTURE TUBE. The HI-LITE 70 picture tube—computer designed and engineered for 100% more brightness than any big-screen in RCA's history. Revolutionary! Outside: a face plate with computer specified density. Inside: on the screen the positions of 1,200,000 red, green and blue phosphor dots are precisely specified by computer. Each dot surrounded by a unique black matrix. Finally, there is a computer designed electron gun system with advanced electron optics.
- 2. RCA'S EXCLUSIVE PICTURE-POWER-BOOSTER. This is the "Little Monster." An RCA exclusive, it's the big reason independent research proved RCA brightest. It is a solid-state Silicon Controlled Rectifier—a computer tested picture-power-booster. In every Trans Vista chassis, two "Little Monsters" replace less efficient tubes. They boost beam current. Make the HI-LITE 70 tube deliver the brightest big-screen color-TV picture you can buy.
- 3. RCA'S UNIQUE SOLID-STATE DESIGN. The Trans Vista chassis is virtually 100% solid state. Solid-state devices are the most reliable and most efficient known to science. Designed to run cooler, longer and more efficiently than tubes. (And tubes are the major cause of set breakdown and repairs.) So in the Trans Vista chassis all tubes except one rectifier have been replaced with transistors, diodes and computer-tested and inspected integrated circuits. All for a new standard in solid-state dependability and performance.

Results: The brightest color. The most vivid color. A sharper, more detailed picture. Plus solid-state dependability. Yours in every HI-LITE '70 "Trans Vista" model—only from RCA.

Julie Williams Bride Of Melvin Lingnau

Mrs. Melvin Herbert Lingnau

First Presbyterian Church of Muleshoe was the scene of a double ring ceremony Sunday, November 23 at three o'clock which united in marriage Miss Julie Elizabeth Williams of Muleshoe, and Melvin Herbert Lingnau, of Farwell, Texas. Officiating minister was Rev. Clem Sorley, pastor of the church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Williams of Muleshoe, and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lingnau of Farwell.

The couple stood before an altar decorated with a pair of candelabrum decorated with Salas greenery, white gladioli, and red carnations around the white tapers.

Wedding selections on the organ were furnished by Miss LaNell Spurgeon of Farwell, who also accompanied Mrs. Dale King of Plainview, cousin of the bride, as she sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a formal A-line gown of peau de sole, fashioned with long fitted sleeves ending in petal points. The bateau neckline was outlined in Alencon lace encrusted with seed pearls and beads. Appliques of the same lace, with pearls and beads, enhanced the skirt and the chapel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught to a crown of pearl-and-bead embroidered petals.

She wore the traditional blue garter, her new clothes, borrowed a handkerchief from a friend and wore an antique ring belonging to her grandmother Wire, and a penny in her shoe.

The bridal bouquet was of Cattleya orchids, baby roses, tulle, pearled leaves and white satin streamers with love knots.

Maid of honor was Miss Annette Williams, of Muleshoe, sister of the bride. She wore a floor length princess-style gown of red peau de sole, fashioned with long pointed sleeves and bateau neckline. Her headpiece was of silk illusion and red peau de sole and she carried a garland of red carnations on a white fan, with streamers of white satin.

The mothers of the bride and the groom wore corsages of pink cymbidium orchids which complemented their attire. The grandmothers wore corsages of glamelias.

Candles were lighted by Roger Williams of Muleshoe, brother of the bride, and Donna Kalbas of Farwell, cousin of the groom.

Best man was Edwin Lingnau of Farwell, serving his brother. Guests were seated by Frosty Jones of Muleshoe and Delbert Lingnau of Farwell.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. Assisting in hospitalities were Mrs. Frosty Jones; Mrs. Tommy Beal of Farwell, sister of the groom; Mrs. Morris Childers and Miss Cynthia Harris of Seymour.

The register table was decorated with the bouquets of the bridal party. Red punch in a crystal punchbowl and coffee from a silver service were served with the traditional wedding cake.

For a wedding trip to Colorado the new Mrs. Lingnau chose a red knit dress with brown accessories and wore a corsage of Cattleya orchids.

The bride is a 1965 graduate of Muleshoe high school and attended South Plains College. The groom is a 1964 graduate of Farwell high school, served two years in the U.S. Army and is engaged in farming in the Lariat community.

The couple will be at home on Route 1, Farwell after December 1.

Special guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wire of New Orleans, La., grandparents of the bride; Mrs. H.J. Hintz of Honey Grove, Texas grandmother of the groom; Mrs. Martha Kalbas of Farwell, grandmother of the groom; and guests from Littlefield, Clovis, Lubbock, Plainview and Lamesa.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Williams, uncle and aunt of the bride, hosted a buffet Saturday evening in their home, following the rehearsal, honoring the couple.

Miss Barnett Party Honoree

Miss Marilyn Barnett, bride-elect of Lawrence Green, was honored Friday evening at a miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. Roy Dyer.

Guests were registered by Miss Devona Bradley and Miss Elizabeth Seales. Honored guests were Mrs. Dorothy Green, mother of the prospective groom, Mrs. Florence Elliott of Irving, the honoree's mother, and her aunts, Mrs. Clifford Mardis and Mrs. Ernest Martin, both of Muleshoe.

Needmore Dinner Best Yet

MOUNTAINS OF DISHES....and gallons of gravy, that's the way it was at Needmore Community Club supper Saturday night. Pictured is Mrs. Rudolph Moraw, the president, doing her share of the work.

Needmore Community Club took in $277.50 at the Saturday night Thanksgiving dinner and felt it was the best one yet, a spokesman said.

They did not know the number of persons served but could tell they served six turkeys weighing an average of 19 pounds each; 42 quarts of gravy and they ran out of this; six roasters full to the top of dressing; 60 pounds of potatoes; 24 dozen rolls and ran out and had to serve bread; eight gallons of green beans; about fifty pies and very little left; 120 cups of coffee and six gallons of tea, plus apples, carrots, and other items served.

The Club is attempting to make enough money to carpet the club house.

Recipe of the Week

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

Never before has the butcher sold so many pounds of hamburger as in the last few years. Use shoulder, bottom round, chuck or bits of well flavored meat. Ground meat dries out rapidly so for the best flavor have meat ground to your order.

Barbecued Meat Balls

2 lbs. ground beef
2 eggs slightly beaten
1/2 c. milk
1/2 t. prepared mustard
2 t. salt
1/2 t. pepper
1/2 t. nutmeg

Mix and shape into 1 1/2 inch balls. Pan-broil. Serve with barbecue sauce.

Joyce Hill Circle
Honor Families

Joyce Hill Circle of United Methodist Church and their families attended a Thanksgiving dinner in Fellowship Hall of the church Friday evening, with 39 persons in attendance. Following the meal, the meeting adjourned to the church parlor and the children were cared for in the nursery.

Mrs. C.A. Black, the Circle chairman, led the prayer circle, to open the meeting.

Mrs. Jack Rennels was in charge of the program on the fourth and fifth chapters of Revelations. Quoting from the text, she told the group, "The outline for the whole book of Revelations is presented in Rev. 1:19 when he says 'Write the things which thou has seen, and the things which are, and the things which shall be hereafter.'"

Chapter I is "the things which thou hast seen"; Chapter II and III are the "things which are" and Chapter IV forward are "the things which shall be hereafter."

"Chapter four and five are the introduction and background of the tremendous sweep of prophetic events predicted in the rest of the book."

In the business meeting it was decided to have the birthday party at Muleshoe Nursing Home December 8 at 1:30 p.m.

December 10 will be the only meeting for the month of December, this to be in the home of Mrs. Jack Rennels for another study of Revelations.

Mrs. Marcia Gragg and her grandfather, Zed Robinson sang several songs. Mrs. Gragg's little son and Mrs. Zed Robinson also attended the meeting.

A Psalm of Thanksgiving

Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all ye lands. Serve the Lord with gladness. Come before his presence with singing. Know ye that the Lord he is God: It is he that hath made us and not we ourselves: We are his people and the sheep of his pasture. Enter into his gates with thanksgiving. And into his courts with praise: Be thankful unto him and bless his name. For the Lord is gracious, his mercy is everlasting: And his truth endureth from generation to generation.

James Varner

WITH U.S. COMBAT AIR FORCES, Vietnam--Deep in the Mekong Delta surrounded by swampland and rice paddies, U.S. Air Force personnel at Binh Thuy Air Base, including Staff Sergeant James T. Varner, have been given unique recognition by the Republic of Vietnam for their assistance to the Vietnamese. Sergeant Varner and fellow servicemen have been awarded the Vietnamese Civic Action Medal, marking the first time the honor has been bestowed "en masse."

Installation personnel were cited for completing more than 80 projects during the past year to better the welfare of the Vietnamese and Viet Cong (VC) defectors. VETERANS Q's and A's

Q--Last year I attended the state university under the G.I. Bill. I want to enroll there again. Must I have authorization papers from the VA to do so?

A--Assuming you have not attended school anywhere else under the G.I. Bill during the intervening period and providing you are taking the same course, you do not need further approval from the VA. Simply inform the registrar that you are re-enrolling as a veteran. The university will inform VA of your re-enrollment and assuming you have remaining eligibility, you will be paid from the date of re-admission. If you have a question, however, contact your nearest VA office.

Joe Adams Candidate For All-Ivy

HANOVER, N.H.--Joe Adams, Dartmouth College standout defensive halfback, intercepted another pass in Saturday's win over Cornell University to bring his total to four on the season.

"Joe is our leading candidate for All-Ivy honors," said Coach Bob Blackman. "He is one of the most consistent defensive players on the squad and I'm sure that he could play for almost any school in the country."

Adams, a two-year starter for the Indians, is one of the key reasons that Dartmouth is undefeated through eight games and has assured itself of at least a tie for the Ivy League championship. They have a final game next weekend with powerful Princeton. A Dartmouth win will bring the Ivy crown back to Hanover and a loss will see a tie for the championship with Princeton and possibly Yale.

Thanksgiving, 1969

Our American Thanksgiving Day dates officially from 1863 when the nation was locked in a sectional struggle. At that time Mrs. Sarah J. Hale, who had been proposing a national day of thanksgiving for decades in Boston and Philadelphia as a magazine editor, wrote to President Abraham Lincoln—who in October of 1863 issued the first Thanksgiving Proclamation.

There had been earlier thanksgiving days; some date the American observance to the days of the early settlers of the nation—who gave thanks for their food supply and the opportunity America offered. The first probably occurred in the Plymouth Colony in 1621.

There have also been observances in other lands but few countries had adopted annual thanksgiving days prior to the American custom. England had observed several days, usually to commemorate a great victory. An international thanksgiving day was held in Washington in 1909, having been conceived by the Rev. Dr. William T. Russell of St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

Thus the American Thanksgiving Day, this year on the 27th, is uniquely American. In 1969 it finds us blessed with great wealth but again the nation is engaged in warfare, and there is division among us over the issues involved.

Nevertheless, we can all join in the spirit of the day, and give thanks for the many blessings all Americans enjoy. In doing so, we can resolve to build a better community and a greater nation—for in spite of our blessings and accomplishments, there is still much to be done in the building of our country.

John Tower
United States Senate COMMITTEE ON ARMED SERVICES

The Vice President of the United States recently initiated a serious discussion in our nation concerning responsibility and freedom within our news media, particularly the television media.

I know that many Texans have been concerned about this for some time, because I have received letters from many of you expressing that concern. The Vice President's address has now served to bring the issue squarely before us on a nationwide basis, and it has sparked a dialogue between representatives of the various news media, public officials and the people.

This dialogue will be significant even if it serves only as a reminder to each individual news reporter and broadcast commentator of the burden of responsibility he has shouldered as a journalist.

The journalist holds a unique position in the American democratic system. His daily efforts to report to the voting public the activities of government constitute the most vital link between elected officials and those who do the electing. Perpetuation of that link on a free and unbiased basis is essential to the health and well being of our democracy. Without it, voters would have less opportunity to elect the most qualified candidates for office; and without it, public officials could freely engage in activities of their own special interest without regard for the public interest.

We hear much about ethics in public office these days. But this is because there is a larger body of professional journalists looking more carefully into the day-to-day activities of public officials at all levels of government. I believe it is safe to say that were it not for this continual scrutiny and this continual concern over ethics, there would be a great deal more unethical practices actually being carried on by public officials.

So that the professional journalist can continue his much needed work which actually serves to protect our democratic system, he must enjoy a high degree of freedom from governmental control. This is why I am strongly opposed to legislative sanctions on the journalism community.

In addition, any such sanctions would raise a legitimate question as to whether it might constitute an abridgement of the Constitutional guarantee of freedom of speech upon which our understanding of freedom of the press is based.

But with this immunity against governmental control, must come to the journalism community a severe responsibility. Our democratic system has given the journalism profession a public trust fully as important as that given to public officials, but void of the built-in safeguard of reelection.

The mechanics of network television broadcasting has served to magnify the need for responsibility in news reporting which has always existed in the other communications media. Network television reaches a larger audience than any previous media could attain. This means that the decisions involved with the gathering of information and the presentation of that information are concentrated in a smaller number of professional journalists compared with this larger number of people receiving the information.

The mechanics of network television dictates that the majority of these journalists be employed in New York City and Washington, D.C., and it is therefore understandable that these men may take on general philosophical beliefs which are shared by the majority of people living in these two cities.

I am convinced however that the majority views of those who live in New York City and Washington are not necessarily the majority views of Americans. A solid indication of this is the 1968 presidential election. And during the past year, there have been countless public opinion surveys which support this basic truth.

In my opinion, these facts of mechanics and logistics only serve to point up the need for increased responsibility on the part of the newsmen involved. It is widely understood that newsmen are supposed to strive for objectivity in their reporting. At the same time, the newsmen are in business of finding out the facts and therefore, because they are close to the facts, are often capable of rendering judgements and valuable opinions.

But good journalism practice dictates that these opinions be carefully and clearly labeled for what they are and that there be no opportunity for a reader, a listener or a viewer to confuse journalistic opinion with objective news reports. I believe it is the responsibility of the journalism community to take such voluntary action as may be necessary among its own members to insure such confusion does not take place.

I am not a journalist and would not presume to recommend any form of regulatory system for use by the journalism community. I do believe there is a need for some sort of voluntary journalistic code which would insure the highest possible degree of responsibility among individual journalists as they carry out their public trust.

FARMERS & PRICES

The Agriculture Department reports the prices farmers received for their products rose three-fourths of one per cent during the month ending October 15. This was 6 per cent more than a year ago and the first increase since last spring.

MEDICARE FEE UP

An Administration official has disclosed the monthly fee paid by the elderly for doctor coverage under Medicare will be increased to something over $5. This will be the second increase since the program began in July, 1966.

TO LIMIT JET NOISE

The Federal Aviation Administration plans to invoke its power to limit noise from commercial jetliners this month. The new rules will require the larger jets now being built to be quieter than planes now in the air.

ON JOB ABSENTEEISM

The Labor Department has reported that women workers had a slightly higher record of job absenteeism than men because of illness and injury. It also reported that single men lose more work time because of sickness than single women.

From Congressman BOB PRICE

(The following are excerpts of remarks by Congressman Bob Price before the National League of Postmasters (West, Central, and Texas Panhandle Chapters) Red Raider Inn, Lubbock, Texas - 2:30 p.m., November 21, 1969.)

"All available information indicates that the U.S. Post Office is in serious trouble, but its troubles cannot necessarily be blamed entirely upon the postal system itself. As now constituted, it would appear that the Post Office Department does not have the means to do the job it has been assigned. Indeed, it cannot be expected to continue -- let alone to exceed the present level of postal services in the face of the tremendous increased mail volume. I would like to take a few minutes to look at some of the recent postal legislation and then to see what the future may hold in store for postal reform and progress."

"On May 27, 1969, President Nixon sent a message to Congress proposing specific reforms to the Nation's postal system. The following day Congressman Udall introduced H.R. 11750, designated as the Postal Service Act of 1969, to implement the recommendations of President Nixon's message. 'The Postal Service Act would take the Post Office Department out of the President's Cabinet and establish a government-owned postal system to be known as the United States Postal Service.'

"The Postal Service would be run by a nine-men board of directors selected without regard to politics. Seven members of the board would be appointed by the President with the advice and consent of the Senate for rotating 7-year terms. The President would designate one of the seven to serve as Chairman and serve in this capacity at the pleasure of the President. The seven would then select an eighth member to serve as chief executive officer of the Postal Service and the eighth would select the ninth member to serve as chief operating officer."

"It is hoped that this new Postal Service would become entirely self-supporting, within perhaps five years, except for subsidies for which Congress chooses to appropriate funds on

South Plains Cotton Harvest Nears Peak

The South Plains cotton harvest is gaining momentum daily as stripping operations increase in all counties, according to W.K. Palmer, in charge of the U.S.D.A. Cotton Classing Office in Lubbock. This great increase in harvest activity is reflected in the increasing number of samples being received daily at the four area U.S.D.A. classing offices. Approximately 40,000 samples were received at the four offices last Friday. During the peak of the harvest this volume usually reaches 50,000 to 60,000 samples per day.

The U.S.D.A. classing offices at Lubbock, Brownfield, Lamesa, and Levelland classed 113,000 samples last week and had approximately 60,000 on hand Friday afternoon. Total classed so far this season now stands at 166,000. This is far behind the volume at this date last year when 452,000 samples of the 1968 crop had been classed.

Strict Low Middling Light Spotted was the predominant grade at Lubbock last week with 20 per cent of all cotton classed. Strict Low Middling made up 12 per cent, Low Middling 13 per cent, Low Middling Light Spotted 10 per cent, and all Spotted and Tinged grades 31 per cent. Twenty per cent was reduced in grade because of bark.

Staple length averaged between 31/32 and 1-inch. Forty-four per cent stapled 1-inch and longer.

Seventy-seven per cent of all cotton classed at the Lubbock office last week had micronaire readings in the premium range of 3.5 to 4.9. Three per cent "miked" 5.0 and better, 8 per cent "miked" 3.3 - 3.4, 9 per cent "miked" 3.0 - 3.2, and 3 per cent was 2.7 - 2.9.

Seventy-nine per cent of the cotton classed at Lubbock last week had Presley readings of 80,000 pounds and higher. Presley is an indication of fiber strength and the most desirable Presley reading is 80,000 pounds and above.

Trading increased on the Lubbock market and prices were higher. Prices ranged from $15.00 to $20.00 per bale over the loan for the most pre-behalf of specified public-service groups.

"The other bill I want to discuss is Congressman Dulski's bill, H.R. 4, the Postal Reform Act of 1969, which provides for reorganization within the framework of the Post Office Department. As you know, Congressman Dulski is Chairman of the House Committee on Post Office and Civil Service."

"Basically H.R. 4 proposes three changes in the Post Office Department: (1) to give to top management the authority it needs to operate consistent with its responsibilities; (2) to modernize employee-management relations to fit today's operations; and (3) to provide the Department with updated business-type financing."

American Describes A Church Service In Center Of Moscow

By Walter J. Brown
Moscow - Attending a Baptist church service in Moscow is an experience a visitor will not soon forget. From the outside, the yellow-painted building would not be recognized as a church. Inside is a large rectangular hall with a balcony on each side. There is an elevated pulpit at one end. The choir is in the balcony.

A foreign visitor is given special attention. He is greeted at the door and then escorted through the congregation to a balcony seat. The congregation is made up, for the most part, of elderly people. The women, who constitute almost two-thirds of the congregation, reveal in their faces hard-working lives. The men are better dressed.

The choir directors direct, and the members sing with more fervor than do American choirs. It is a sight to behold to see the faces of the congregation light up as the antiquated pipe organ and the 50 voices of the choir give out with their renditions in Russian; the music is recognizable as hymns familiar in America, such as "The Old Rugged Cross."

The service lasts for two hours, and there are three each Sunday. The pastor has guests, and at least six people talk from the pulpit during one service.

Between the talks and singing at regular intervals, those seated stand up and move into the aisles to make it possible for those standing to be seated.

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm joins the television controversy this week.

Dear editor:
After reading about it in the newspapers and listening to it on television -- I'm talking about the big controversy stirred up by Vice President Agnew over the way television handles the news -- I've decided what this country needs is a Department of Humor with full cabinet status.

I mean, now you take Mr. Agnew's complaint about the way a panel of commentators handled President Nixon's speech a while back. As he reported, as soon as Mr. Nixon got through speaking, these commentators came on and sat around tearing his remarks apart and explaining what he said and didn't say and generally going on; Mr. Agnew objected to it, said they ought to let the public digest the speech on its own.

I hadn't thought of it that way. I didn't know those commentators were there to contribute anything or influence anybody. I thought they were there because television operates on an inflexible schedule, it never ends a program at say 10 minutes till 9, but always exactly on the hour or half-hour, and it was their job to fill out the 10 minutes left over from the President's speech. I didn't hear what they said because I left to get a drink of water, but I didn't suppose anybody paid any attention to what they were saying. I thought they were just killing time till the clock reached 9 and the regular patent medicine commercial could come on, although of course it could have been the one about false teeth.

A Department of Humor could be used to explain that the only people who take the commentators seriously are the commentators and that if say Gunsmoke ever ended 10 minutes short of the hour they'd be used to round out the clock with a discussion of the sociological-economic impact of Festus Hagen.

As for Mr. Agnew's complaint that television concentrates on the sensational, like focusing on a window smashing by a few marchers when 100,000 others are walking peacefully, or on 50 students throwing a dean out when 20,000 others are in their rooms studying or reading comic books, he's right, of course, but that's human nature for you.

There never was a football game so exciting that the fans' attention couldn't be drawn away, even during a tie-breaking touchdown run, by a fist fight in the stands between two drunks.

Of course, one fist fight right after another would finally become boring, and Mr. Agnew is right in sensing that the mob scenes are becoming tiresome. By the way, I asked a man who watches the television news without fail every night what happened a few minutes after the show was over last night since I'd missed it and for the life of him he couldn't tell me.

A lot of things on television shouldn't be taken too seriously. Make that 95 per cent.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Operation Success: Patient Died

BY PAUL HARVEY

"The operation was a success; the patient died." That definitive phrase, or its equivalent, passed the lips of a doctor somewhere in the United States last year 47,000 times.

The patient has survived the operation but, resting in bed afterward, a blood clot has formed in his leg and moved to his heart.

More than 47,000 deaths from pulmonary embolism: this disease cost more lives than did either lung cancer or automobile accidents!

And the preventive now being tested is so simple you'll wonder why you didn't think of it yourself.

In lay language, you block is pumped from your vigorous heart through arteries to the extremities of your body. By the time the blood pressure reaches your feet it is reduced from 130 millimeters pressure to approximately zero.

On the return trip to your heart, movement of that blood depends almost entirely upon muscular massage (similar to the finger massage that milks a cow).

It is the muscles contracting, which "squirt" the blood through a myriad of veins back up to the heart.

During bedrest, when those muscles are inert, this return circulation grows sluggish. It is then that clots (emboli) form, usually in the legs. Several small clots merge to form one dangerously large embolism. When this solid mass breaks loose and hits the heart and lungs, usually after the third to seventh day of convalescence, the patient is almost certain to die within minutes.

Physicians will recognize that I am generalizing and simplifying the circulatory process, but I do so for the purpose of explaining the function of a promising new device which mechanically massages the legs during convalescence, thus stimulating circulation, thus--hopefully--ending the "three-day reign of terror" which has haunted every surgeon and every post-operative patient for generations.

Despite World War II experiments with early ambulation (getting the patient out of bed promptly following surgery), there has been no measurable decline in the death rate due to pulmonary embolism in the past 50 years.

I have guarded very jealously a mutual respect with the medical profession which has survived most of those 50 years, so what I am here reporting is a shirt-sleeve-English summation of the evaluation of many medical scientists.

Litter and Wood established in 1953 that "veins in the leg can be completely emptied of blood by external pressures," pressures less than one-tenth what you feel from the inflated rubber tube with which your blood pressure is measured. Dr. A.J. Guyton, chairman of the Department of Physiology and Biophysics at the University of Mississippi, says, "Every-one has known that a gentle, intermittent rhythmic leg pressure device would be very valuable." Hopefully we now have an apparatus that will be commercially acceptable.

A plastic strip, held in place with gauze, extends along the leg, with inflatable bladders located at the lower leg, upper leg and abdomen. Some patients report absence of the usual "numbness" or "coldness" during bedrest; are reluctant to have the Phlebo-Dynastat, as it's called, removed.

Dr. F.J.L. Blasingame, former president of the American Medical Assn., says, "This is the best device I have seen to assist the return of the venous blood from the lower limbs and abdomen to the heart."

Perhaps it is too soon to say that massage by a machine will prevent all postoperative emboli, but physicians watching further clinical testing are unanimously optimistic and about as excited as scientists allow themselves to get.

Farmers in the 25 High Plains counties represented by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. in 1970 will receive cotton price support payments totaling slightly more than those paid in 1969.

Projected cotton yields, on which price support payments are based, average 499 pounds per acre for the area, 41 pounds and 9.2 percent below the 540 pound level in 1969. But this loss of pounds will be counteracted by a 14 percent increase in the per-pound payment rate, from 14.73 cents to 16.8 cents, and by an overall 6.6 percent increase in acreage allotments, from 2,308,806 to 2,461,914 acres.

Payments are made only on "domestic" allotments, which are 65 percent of total allotments, meaning they will be made in 1970 on about 4 percent more acres than in 1969.

Projected yield changes on the Plains from 1969 to 1970 range from a 15 percent increase in Martin County to a decrease of 13 percent in 10 other counties. Martin was one of only 5 PCC counties getting an increase.

Industry representatives, including a representative of PCC, were called together November 17 in College Station by the State ASCS Committee for an explanation of the calculations used to set county projected yields.

The recurrence of the 13 percent reduction in 10 plains counties (and in 121 other cotton counties of the state) resulted from Washington ASCS instructions to State Committees providing that "no county projected yield may be established below 87 percent of the 1969 county projected yield."

The other 118 cotton growing counties of Texas were given the county harvested acre average yield for the three years 1966, 1967 and 1968, adjusted by a "uniform factor" of 101%. The factor was used to weight county yields to the State projected yield.

Some will note that the total counties come to only 239 instead of the 254 often referred to in recent years as cotton-producing counties. The reason is that since the inception of the Agriculture Act of 1965, with its provision for sale and lease of allotments, 15 Texas counties have gone out of the cotton business.

State ASCS officials explain that the three-year average was used "in order to establish a county yield that will be as nearly in line with farm data as possible, and to help eliminate the need for large numbers of yield appeals." Individual farm yields are determined by County ASCS Committees on the basis of a three year average, as opposed to the five-year average used for setting the National and State projected yields.

The National projected yield for 1970 has been set at 500 pounds per acre, down from 545 pounds in 1969. Texas yield was set at 395 pounds, down 26 pounds from this year's 421.

The increase in county acreage allotments came as a result of an earlier USDA announcement raising the national allotment from 16 to 17 million acres. USDA said the increase was brought about by declining prospects for the 1969 crop and "in order to assure the maintenance of adequate stocks in the U.S. to provide a continuous supply of the different qualities of cotton needed in the U.S. and in foreign cotton-consuming countries."

Industry people at the College Station meeting were also told that the State Committee also would be emphasizing the need for more cotton production in its administration of the 1970 program. State ASCS Administrator David McElwraith said County Committees would be instructed to strictly enforce the requirement that cotton acreage be farmed in a "workman like manner," and that haphazard farming practices not designed to make a cotton crop in 1970 could cause a producer to lose eligibility for payments.

County ASCS offices are expected to mail individual farm allotments and projected yields to producers on the Plains during the week of November 23.

Williams, an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Eston Graham, and Denise, all of Littlefield.

Mrs. Keith Menefee was hostess to her Sunday School class monthly meeting Thursday November 20 in her home. Those attending were Mrs. Jeanette Precure, Donna Smith, Pearl Tims, Joyce Johnson, Rita Hawkins, and Sherry Menefee. Plans were made for their annual Christmas party.

Mrs. Carrie Withrow turned her car over Saturday afternoon south of Lazbuddie. She received a cut under an eye and bruises.

Mrs. Dorothy Wright, wife of Don Wright, was involved in a car wreck Saturday southeast of Lazbuddie. She and the children received no serious injuries. Lazbuddie Longhorns captured their ninth win of the year and District 2-B title Friday night at Matador. The Longhorns hooked the Matador Matadors 28-8 victory.

Darrell Matthews got the first TD on a 17 yard run in the second quarter. The try for EP was no good. It remained 6-0 until after the half. In the third quarter, there was lots of action. Matador ran a 3 yard TD. EP no good, 6-6.

Matthews ran a 3 yard TD and Arthur Graves made the two point conversion, score 14-6. A few plays later, Rene Flores blocked a Matador punt, and Jim Noland scooped up the ball and galloped 25 yards for another TD. Graves ran the extra points making the score 22-0 with five minutes left in the third quarter.

Later Graves was hit behind the goal line for an automatic safety, making the score 22-8. Monte Barnes's long pass to Charlie Lee was incomplete in the fourth quarter. Matthews recovered his own fumble. With six minutes 37 seconds left in game, Larry Hodges recovered a Longhorn fumble. On a third down, Monte Barnes tried another long pass to Mike Casey, incomplete. On the fourth down, Barnes punted the ball from 40 yard line into end zone. Ball was moved to 20 yard line. Jim Noland recovered a Matador fumble on the 37 yard line. With one minute 30 seconds on the clock, on a pitch out from Barnes on the 30 yard line, Matthews carried the ball to 12 yard line. On the second down following, Barnes handed to Hodges who ran ten yards with power, for the final TD. Donny Coker tried for EP, no good. Score 28-8 with 42 seconds on the clock.

Last plays of the game, Matador recovered their own fumble. Roque Flores was in on last tackle of game.

Darrell Matthews broke the South Plains scoring record with his two touchdowns in this game. Terry Bridge of Springlake, finished his season with a total of 147 points and Matthews' 12 points game him a 152 season total. The community is proud of Darrell and all the Longhorns.
