AAA Concerned Over Growing Opposition On Quotas Vote

Speaker Is Sent To Texas Areas By Wallace

I. W. Duggan Is To Make Plea For Proposal In Four Cities; In Lubbock Next Friday

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 5—Reports of mounting opposition in the cotton belt to Secretary Wallace's proposal to apply marketing quotas to the 1938 cotton crop aroused concern at the agriculture department today.

The proposal will be submitted to more than two million cotton growers in 19 states at a referendum March 12. To become effective, it must be approved by two-thirds of the farmers voting.

Ordered To Texas

The department ordered one of its top-ranking officials—I. W. Duggan, director of the southern division of the Agricultural Adjustment administration—to Texas for a series of speeches next week. Duggan was to stress the advantages which the department says cotton growers would derive from the quota system.

Under Wallace's proposal, the sales of cotton would be limited to about 11,000,000 bales. Growers selling more than their marketing quota would be subject to a penalty tax of two cents a pound and loss of subsidy payments.

Year's Supply On Hand

Wallace estimated that the surplus cotton on hand when growers start gathering their new crop would be at least 12,000,000 bales—sufficient, the official said, to supply normal needs for a whole year.

Duggan said opposition to the quota appeared strongest in Texas and Oklahoma, where one of the factors was fear that foreign markets might be lost.

Duggan said the Texas Agricultural association had arranged his speaking itinerary thus: Waco,

Provisions On State Community Property Rights To Be Same

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP) — Representative Sanders (D-Tex.), third ranking member of the house ways and means committee, said today the new tax bill would leave provisions regarding state community property rights unchanged.

"This means a great saving in income taxes to the eight states with community property laws," said Sanders. "It is simply the recognition of the rights of married women and the protection of those rights."

British Terms Are Sent To Dictators

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, March 5.—Great Britain, having proclaimed to the world the vastness of her armed might, tonight sent her terms for friendship to Italy and prepared demands to Germany as the price of a general European appeasement.

The Earl of Perth, British ambassador to Italy, left for Rome with full instructions from Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and Viscount Halifax, the foreign secretary who succeeded Anthony Eden who resigned rather than deal with dictators immediately on a "practical" basis.

Talks May Parallel

The groundwork also was laid for parallel talks with Germany through a conference yesterday of Sir Neville Henderson, British ambassador to Germany, with Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler and Germany Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop in Berlin.

These were expected to get under way actively when von Ribbentrop, former German ambassador to London, comes here Wednesday to take leave of his post and also to see Chamberlain and Lord Halifax.

Rearmament Is Disclosed

At the same time the prime minister has disclosed how far Britain has pushed her mammoth rearmament program in a year and what still is to come.

Chamberlain has shown the government may spend even more than the originally-planned $7,500,000,000 for the five-year defense plan instead of trimming rearmament in anticipation of the success of his foreign policy.

The new defense estimtes, however, took into consideration possibility of slowing down rearmament if Chamberlain's approach to the Fascist and Nazi rulers should succeed.

How much confidence parliament places in this possibility probably will be shown in debate Monday in the house of commons on the defense estimates for the 1938-39 fiscal year starting April 1.

Everything Was OK But Direction

PERU, Ind., March 5. (AP)—Ira Watts' automobile skidded on icy pavement, overturned and righted itself near here.

He examined the car and found only a crushed top and broken glass. He started again, thinking he was headed for Peru, but he arrived shortly at Kokomo. The car had righted itself in the opposite direction.

TVA Proposes To Buy Out All Private Firms

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 5. — The Tennessee Valley authority waved a well-filled purse at private power companies in southeastern states today and told them to "come and get it" if they were willing to sell out on the basis of what President Roosevelt calls "prudent investment."

David E. Lilienthal, director at odds with Chairman Arthur E. Morgan of the TVA, announced the proposed purchases and invited interested utility officials to meet him and Vice Chairman Harcourt A. Morgan at a conference in Chattanooga, Tenn., March 11.

Would Eliminate Companies

He said the proposed purchases virtually would put private power enterprise out of business in northern Alabama, northeastern Mississippi and about all of Tennessee. He added that, in event cities were unable financially to float bond issues to buy local facilities, the TVA would stake them from a $50,000,000 fund made available by congress in the amended TVA act.

Lilienthal told reporters he was unable to say how much power TVA could turn out at first but added that he expected to take over the immediate adjacent market (the Muscle Shoals area), and others progressively.

His offer was pursuant, he said, to authority delegated to him some time

FDR's Reforms Battle Shifted To 1938 Voting

BY KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 5— The zone of President Roosevelt's battle for reforms has shifted from congress itself to the congressional election front.

While he still hopes for further reform action before adjournment of the present session, he is prepared, if not reconciled, to see much of his program left over for the 76th congress which meets next January.

Will Usher In Issues

And it is that congress, not this, which will usher in the presidential campaign issues of 1940 and which may produce the candidates of 1940.

To most Washington observers this is the explanation of the curiously paradoxical exposition of presidential policy and tactics which marked the last week of Mr. Roosevelt's fifth year in the White House.

Reform Is Lagging

From the president himself came a written contention that it was reform, not recovery, that was lagging; that reform was as essential to permanent security in 1938 as in 1933. That was the central theme of the foreword published in a magazine (Liberty) to his story of the five years of the New Deal.

In sharp contrast to this evidence of fixed resolve to carry forward with reform against all opposition

Luling Bank Robbed Of $2,494 Saturday

LULING, March 5. (AP)—A youthful looking gunman, dressed as a cowboy, held up two women employes of the Citizens State bank of Luling this afternoon and escaped with $3,494 in loot.

Miss Addie Walker, assistant cashier, and Miss Anna Marie Wallace, an employe, were alone in the bank when the man entered. Threatening to use his pistol if they did not obey his commands, the robber ordered the women to shove all the cash in their cages through the windows to him.

The gunman then walked from the bank and drove away in an automobile he had parked at the curb. Later the robber was reported seen passing through Gonzales, about 35 miles southeast of Luling. A description of the man was broadcast and highway patrolmen in South Texas were instructed to be on the watchout.

Ironically a bank examiner was in Luling a short time before the robbery.

Charges Filed On State Official

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 5.—Miss Edgar Ellen Wilson, second assistant state school superintendent, was charged with extortion in the collection of fees and misapplication of public money in two indictments returned today by the Travis county grand jury.

One indictment accused her of unlawfully collecting fees for supervising, examining and grading papers in connection with college entrance examinations and the second charged she converted to personal use money belonging to the state.

Woods Charges "Politics"

State Superintendent L. A. Woods said on his return from a national educational meeting that the departmental practice for which Miss Wilson was indicted had been in effect for at least 15 years.

"On the very face of it," he said, "the whole thing smacks of a political scheme. . . . At no time in the past 15 years have these examination expense charges and accumulation of this money been considered as public funds; yet a woman in public service must be charged by grand jury indictment with a misappropriation of public funds. Estes Declares Facts Distorted By Gov. Allred

Tyler Man Says He'll Do Some Airing Of Facts Too In Fight On Friendship With McCraw

(Special To Avalanche-Journal)

DALLAS, March 5—Entering the publicity aired political row between Gov. James V. Allred and Attorney-General William C. McCraw upon the strength of his name and friendship for McCraw having been included in the dispute, Carl L. Estes, Longview publisher, today made a statement of his own.

CARL ESTES

A supporter of Governor Allred and an active campaigner in his behalf in the 1934 elections, Estes lashed out at the governor for what he called "distorting the facts." Said Estes:

"The governor of the great state of Texas saw fit Saturday in a public statement to object to Attorney-General McCraw and myself jointly owning an airplane, though following his custom he inaccurately stated I had made a present of it to Mr. McCraw. In that public statement he said what he wanted was facts and not wisecracks.

To Give Out "Facts"

"When the 'speakin' begins," Estes continued, "not only is Governor Jimmie going to get the so-called 'facts' he is asking for, but I propose to see to it that the people of Texas get all of the record. Such things, for instance, as automatic license plate locking devices, railroad crossing safety devices, oil, cement, race horses, bank accounts, influence practicing, mink coats, diamond rings, old age pensions, the whisky board, etc. They will all be hung out on the 'fact' clothesline.

"Since he (Allred) said something about Bill McCraw and my-

Postal Workers Meet In City

First get-together of postal workers of the 19th district held last night at the Lubbock hotel was attended by 175 persons from 18 counties over the district outside of Lubbock. Out of the meeting is expected to come an informal organization to work for closer friendship among the federal employes, said Postmaster Amos Howard, host to the group.

W. T. (Tanlac) Strange, Big Spring and Lubbock, was master of ceremonies for the occasion and kept the audience amused with his usual line of take-offs on the workers, Cleve R. Austin, Lamesa postoffice worker, gave the invocation.

Chas. A. Guy, editor and publisher of The Avalanche-Journal publications, welcomed the "members of the Farley-for-President

WEATHER COLDER HERE

A mild cold wave which promised sub-freezing weather before morning struck the South Plains along with other sections of North and West Texas Saturday night.

The temperature at midnight had dropped to 33 degrees from a maximum of 56 degrees at midafternoon.

Wife-Beater Gets Flogging

WRITHING in agony as great sobs came from his lips, Clyde Miller, Baltimore printer, is pictured above, lashed to the whipping post, as the state of Maryland carried out its ancient law prescribing the cat-o'-nine tails for wife beaters. Administering the whipping to Miller's bare back is 225-pound Sheriff Joseph Deegan. Mrs. Miller, left, so severely beaten by her husband in a tavern brawl that doctors had to take five stitches in her face, tried to witness the whipping, but was denied entrance. She announced that she would seek a divorce. Miller, who now must serve six months in jail, was able to walk to his cell after the flogging with the assistance of jailers.

Moving Mountain Is Again Shifting In Los Angeles; Death Toll 159 Saturday

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, March 5.—Elysian park's moving mountain, apparently given new impetus by heavy rains, began moving in a new section today, causing police to order persons from seven homes and three business places.

A crack opened for a distance of 300 feet and about 1 1-2 miles west of the slide which recently wrecked Riverside drive. In one place the earth had sunk nearly two feet.

Death List At 159

The flood death list stood at 159, with 63 identified and 22 unidentified dead, and 74 reported missing.

Estimates of public and private property losses climbed to $60,000,000.

Following the looting of two homes in Anaheim last night, 100 men with police power patrolled the city tonight, 60 of them from the National guard.

Red Cross Is Active

Many hundreds still are homeless, being cared for by the Red Cross and others in schools and churches.

Hundreds still are isolated in the Canyons. The number of deaths may increase, officials feared, when authentic reports from these sections come in.

Rehabilitation of homes and stores and highways and bridges in the five hard hit counties is going forward slowly.

Weather Forecast Disheartening

To the thousands who are so engaged, and to hundreds of thousands of others who suffered losses and discomfort, today's weather forecast was disheartening.

Police Baffled By Kidnaping

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., March 5.—Uncertain whether hoax or terrible truth confronted them, New York police turned to a Bronx lake today in search of the body of 12-year-old Peter Levine, missing since February 24 and believed to have been kidnaped.

Distracted by the possibility their son was dead, Murray Levine, New York attorney, and his wife waited at home, praying the search would be fruitless and Peter would be returned for $30,000 ransom.

Three Calls Received

Search of the lake followed police receipt of three anonymous telephone calls from widely separated parts of New York City.

Acting Captain William J. Sullivan said the messages which sent the police to Indian lake in Crotona park might be the work of a hoaxer,

Governor Looses Sharp Attack On Saturday

Allred Intimates He Might Personally Essay Task Of Stopping McCraw In Race

By HARRELL E. LEE
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 5. — Governor James V. Allred and Attorney General William McCraw heaped fuel upon the Texas political fire today with another of their wordy battles.

Allred, who has intimated he might personally essay the task of stopping McCraw in the latter's race for governor, loosed a sharp attack upon McCraw which immediately brought rejoinders from the attorney general and Carl L. Estes, publisher mentioned in Allred's statement.

Friends Are Pleased

The outbreak of statements failed to dim the jubilance of McCraw's friends over the unexpected big breaks they feel have come his way the past two weeks. They did not ask the senate general investigating committee to turn its gaze on their leader but were frankly pleased at the results.

Allred's press statement criticizing McCraw was interpreted by observers as an indication that he still was strongly considering standing for a third term.

Asked if he did not believe McCraw's cause had been helped by the proceedings and subsequent "blow-up" of the senate committee, Allred replied that "immediate reactions are not always ultimate reactions."

Governor Denounces McCraw

"I don't believe you can judge," he said, "what's going to happen by what happens the first day or so after a show."

The governor denounced McCraw for assertedly attempting to muster support solely on wisecracks and grandstand plays.

"The people like a good show all right," he said, "and the attorney general staged one; but the people are not interested in electing a comic opera governor. They are interested in what a man has done and what he stands for. With them I await with interest one serious statement from the attornty general of any principle for which he stands."

McCraw's prompt retort was: "I am glad Allred has come out into

Post Is Offered To Yale Law Professor

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—Attorney General Cummings said today that he had offered the post of assistant attorney general to Prof. Thurman Arnold of the Yale law school. Arnold would succeed Robert H. Jackson, formerly in charge of the justice department's anti-trust division who was sworn in today as solicitor general.

Cummings made the announcement to those assembled in his office to witness Jackson's oath-taking.

Senate approval of his nomination by a 62 to 4 vote advanced Jackson yesterday to the important post of solicitor general.

The 46-year-old Jackson, who has risen swiftly in the councils of the New Deal, succeeds Stanley F. Reed as solicitor general. Reed now is a member of the Supreme court.

Bit Of World's History Will Be Commemorated Today In Services In Memory Of Defenders Of The Alamo

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, March 5. — A bit of world history and a story of courage in the face of overwhelming odds will be commemorated here tomorrow at services in memory of the defenders of the Alamo.

The ceremonies will be held at the grave of Benjamin R. Milam in Milam square. Milam was killed in an assault on San Antonio on the December 9, preceding the fall of the Alamo on March 6, 1836.

On the former date the Mexicans, led by General Cos, were in possession of San Antonio. Stephen F. Austin, commander of the Texas forces, had been called from the army to serve as a commissioner in seeking aid of the United States government. Milam, who had escaped from a Mexican prison and had aided in the capture of Goliad in October, was among the besiegers when Austin went away. The volunteers became restless. There were those who wanted to storm the Alamo; others wanted to go home.

"Who will go with old Ben Milam into San Antonio?" Milam is quoted as having said. Some 300 men responded. Outnumbered three-to-one, on December 5 they marched on the Alamo, with some artillery, but mostly house-to-house fighting. Cos surrendered Dec. 9, but Milam was among the several Texans killed.

The reprisal came in the form of Gen. Santa Ana and his siege of the Texans in the Alamo.

The political situation in Texas at that time was fouled Gov. Henry Smith's call to arms was taken with a grain of salt. It was planting time, anyway. So the garrison in the Alamo was left to the executioners.

The story of the fall of the Alamo is one of those stories of mass martyrdom which transcends the issues involved. It belongs to the history of humanity. Among the defenders of the Alamo were persons who came from Alabama, Arkansas, Connecticut, Georgia, Kentucky,

Questions And Answers Offered On Unemployment Compensation

The following questions and answers will clarify some of the moot points associated with functions of Texas Unemployment Compensation commission, officials said:

Q. My employer deducts a social security tax from my pay check. Does this make me eligible for unemployment compensation if I lose my job?

Draw Monthly Amounts

A. The tax your employer deducts from your pay check is to pay your old age insurance tax. That tax is paid by both you and your employer and is collected by the federal government. If you retire at 65 or thereafter, you may draw monthly amounts from the fund made up of these payments.

The unemployment compensation tax is paid only by the employer and is collected by both the federal and state governments. Unless your employer pays this tax, you are not eligible for unemployment benefits if you lose your job.

Q. What is meant by "covered" employment?

A. That employment in which the employer is liable for unemployment compensation taxes and employe eligible for unemployment benefits, is called "covered" employment.

Some Employers Exempt

Q. Do all employers pay an unemployment compensation tax?

A. No. Only employers who have eight or more employes during portions of each of 20 weeks in a calendar year have to pay this tax. Also, certain occupations such as domestic labor, agricultural labor, and other classes are exempt.

Q. Are all employes eligible for unemployment compensation if their job is lost?

A. No. Only employes of "covered" employers are eligible. Also they must have earned enough salary to equal sixteen times the amount of their weekly unemployment benefits.

Q. What is meant by "benefits"?

A. "Benefits" or "compensation" means the check the eligible unemployed man or woman receives weekly from the unemployment compensation commission during unemployment periods. Roughly, this check will equal 1-2 of the unemployed man's former weekly wage with a maximum payment of $15.

Q. What is a "work record"?

Record Is Kept

A. Every three months your employer, if he is "covered" under the Texas unemployment compensation act, will send a statement of your job and wages to the Unemployment Compensation commission at Austin. He will also pay a tax on your wages every month. This information will be placed under your name and social security account number at the commission and constitutes your "work record", to be used as reference in case you have been employed and the salary you have drawn will determine the amount of your weekly unemployment benefits and the number of weeks you can get them. If you don't have a work record you can get no benefits.

Q. I got my check for benefits several days later than I was supposed to have it. When it got to me, it was almost time for me to have another check. What caused this delay?

A. Unemployment compensation benefits are not paid in advance. After the waiting period is ended, a claimant must show he is still unemployed by filing a continuing claim with the Texas State Employment service. The employment service sends the claim to the Unemployment Compensation commission in Austin where the man's name and the amount of his benefit check is placed on a payroll list and sent to the comptroller's department. There the checks are prepared and then returned to the Unemployment Compensation commission to be mailed. All of these operations require on the average about seven days from the time the continuing claim is filed until the check reaches the claimant.

Establishment Of Field Offices For Crop Insurance Is Planned

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—Roy A. Green, manager, said today the newly organized federal crop insurance corporation would establish two field offices in the wheat belt soon to inaugurate the government's wheat insurance program. Selection will be made Thursday.

The corporation, authorized by the new farm law, will offer wheat growers insurance against crop losses or damage from drouth, freezes, floods, storms, insects, plant diseases and other natural causes.

Green said the corporation also would establish offices in each of the major wheat producing counties, which number, he said, about 1,500. Each office will be manned by an agent.

Political Battle Flares Up Again

the open and is doing his own talking instead of operating through his 'Charlie McCarthys,' Hill and Holbrook (Senators Joe L. Hill of Henderson and T. J. Holbrook of Galveston.)

"I made a serious statement of principle in a speech at Somerville last night," he continued. "I said Texas is rotten ripe for a change in administration of its governmental affairs. The extravagances of the spoils system have resulted in mounting costs to the extent that administration has taken a substantial part of what should go for the general good."

"Honeymoon With Estes"

Allred, commenting on McCraw's formal entry into the governor's race this week, said: "That is no surprise. He has been running ever since he collected $10,000 from Tom Clark and started on a political honeymoon with Carl Estes in an airplane generously and unselfishly paid for by Estes.

"The attorney general says he will run for governor on his record and his own merits. What are they? Wisecracks? Grandstand plays? Tom Clark? Carl Estes? Changed marble machine opinions? Compromised lawsuits?"

Inquiry Ends In Row

The senate committee inquiry into McCraw's affairs ended in a row Thursday, possibly never to be resumed. Two of the committeemen broke up proceedings after their motion for new subpoenas for certain bank accounts failed on a tie vote. Accounts involved were those of McCraw, his former law partner, Tom C. Clark, and the old Dallas firm of McCraw and Clark.

Nine days earlier the action of Chairman Holbrook of the committee in subpoenaing the account of Mrs. McCraw had aroused considerable criticism. Holbrook said no disrespect was intended and the sole purpose of the subpoena was to check on certain testimony by Clark. He accused McCraw of "bringing the matter before the world for attention."

Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson continued to saw wood quietly, content for the moment to let McCraw and to a lesser extent Allred occupy the spotlight. Indications were that the commissioner, who announced for governor more than two months ago, would open state headquarters here within the next two weeks.

Called Meeting Of Board Of Directors Scheduled

A called meeting of the board of directors of Texas Technological college will be conducted at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning in the office of President Bradford Knapp, with Chairman Clifford B. Jones of Spur presiding.

It is probable that a graduate dean to succeed the late Dr. W. A. Jackson will be announced as well as other administrative appointments. Routine business also will be brought before the board.

The board had postponed appointment of a graduate dean at an earlier meeting and deans of the other divisions have fulfilled duties of the graduate dean.

The board will attend the cornerstone laying ceremony at the library building at 2 p. m.

Directors are Jones; Spencer A. Wells, vice-chairman, Lubbock; Mrs. John A. Haley, treasurer, Midland; Joe T. Sneed, jr., Amarillo; Chas. C. Thompson, Colorado; Mrs. W. R. Potter, Bowie; Thomas G. ago by a majority of the board (himself and Harcourt A. Morgan) but was without the knowledge of Chairman Arthur E. Morgan, who recently demanded a sweeping investigation of the TVA after long controversy with his colleagues over policy.

The chairman, now in Florida, did not vote on the authorization to negotiate, Lilienthal said.

Lilienthal described his proposal as a "comprehensive plan for a long-term adjustment of relations between TVA and private power companies."

the coast, the weather bureau said.

Business in Los Angeles was proceeding normally little by little. Roads, communication lines and railroads were being repaired.

Other sections, however, still were isolated.

The Santa Ana river, which raged over its banks at Santa Ana and Riverside, was going down today and no further damage was expected.

Waters Are Receding

Waters in the San Fernando valley lowlands, where 100 special police have been pressed into service to hunt for bodies, were receding also.

Traffic congestion became so bad at Anaheim, in Orange county, today, that the National guard took control.

Mud, silt and debris—piled six to eight feet deep in some sections of the Anaheim-Fullerton-Atwood district—may cover bodies that never will be found.

March field, the great army air base, was still isolated.

LEVELLAND, (Special)—The city commission has bought a new electric pump for its water system. It replaces a pump 10 years old. The new pump has a capacity of 500 gallons per minute into the storage tank, 112 feet above ground.

Bits Of Gossip On The Ether . .

FREE SEEDS OFFERED

Radio listeners all over America are accepting the free offer of a guaranteed $1 worth of flower garden seeds now being offered on "The Party Line" over Station KFYO.

This annual spring event sponsored by the Busy Bee Garden club of Monticello, Ill., offers radio listeners eight large, full sized packages of selected seeds as a part of the Garden club's plan of beautifying all types of communities through the stimulation of interest in home gardening. Included in this year's selection are zinnias, marigolds, nasturtiums, bachelor buttons, cosmos, straw flowers, poppies, and nicotiana.

Full details of the offer are being announced daily on "The Party Line," which is heard over Station KFYO every morning at 10:15 o'clock.

"SIDEWALK SNOOPERS"

"The Sidewalk Snoopers," a new Man-On-The-Street program, will be broadcast over Station KFYO, Monday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock. R. B. McAlister and Wesley Youngblood and a microphone will be on the corner of Broadway and Avenue J each day to ply passers-by with pertinent questions of the day.

MUSIC CLUB ON AIR

A 30-minute program will be presented this afternoon by the Lubbock Music club. The broadcast is scheduled to run from 4:30 to 5:00.

"STARS OVER HOLLYWOOD"

Hollywood looks at Hollywood in a colorful new radio play, "Stars Over Hollywood," which takes the air Monday morning over KFYO at 9 o'clock.

Produced by the well known C. P. MacGregor studios in Hollywood, it is the story of Pamela Pride, a small town girl who goes to Hollywood for fame, and finds it. The locale of the story is the movie studios where Pamela works, glowingly depicted by the author, Eugene Carmen, young movie scenarist and former motion picture actor.

Starred in the lead as Pamela is the beautiful Lila Lee, motion picture actress. In the supporting cast are a corps of famous radio and cinema performers, among them Miss Duane Thompson, leading lady of "Scattergood Baines" and star of "Hollywood Hotel," who takes the role of Robin Radcliffe, Pamela's friend and counselor.

"Stars Over Hollywood" will be broadcast over KFYO every Monday and Friday mornings at 9 o'clock.

Woman Faces Charge

surely the citizenship of this state will see the high hand of designing politicians in these charges."

Pays Cost Of Grading

Woods said the small sums forming the basis of the indictments were collected from college applicants to pay the cost of grading their examination papers. The department hires outsiders to do this grading, he explained.

She was alleged to have extorted $117 from six individuals during 1937 in connection with the college entrance examinations, and the second indictment listed funds totaling $578.09, ranging from $1 to $71, which it said were "unlawfully and fraudulently misapplied and converted to her own use."

The indictments listed as state witnesses T. M. Markham, C. B. Gresham and T. H. Conklin, members of the state auditor's staff, who have been engaged in an audit of various education department funds since last May.

Work Not Concluded

A house committee which investigated the department has not concluded its work.

The extortion indictment charged Miss Wilson illegally collected fees from J. G. Banick of Round Rock, Earle Bryant, Edward Bryant and Lucille Dube, all of Creedmoor, John T. Rountree of Lampasas and Sister M. Joseph of San Antonio. The alleged offenses occurred on April 28, 29 and 30, 1937.

The misapplication charge claimed the offenses took place in April, May and June, 1937.

Lubbock Has 57 Present

Lubbock was represented by 57 persons. Postmaster W. D. De Grassi of Amarillo presented eight from his town and Postmaster C. Herbert Walker, Pampa, and Mrs. Walker, were present.

State Senator G. H. Telson gave a resume of Dr. Henry Van Dyke's "Ships and Havens." He praised the service records of all postal employes. Mr. and Mrs. Julien Paul Blitz presented three musical numbers.

Postmaster De Grassi, first vice president of the Texas chapter of the National Association of Postmasters, emphasized the need of all joining in a common cause.

Bruce Luna, former Dallas postmaster and a veteran of 51 years in the service, told of the benefits of organization. He has been a member of a service group for 49 years, he said, and he urged every group of workers to organize. Luna announced he was sending to postmasters a digest of measures before congress, affecting all workers.

Clerk Wright Boyd, Lamesa; Carrier Charles I. Duncan, Lubbock, and C. W. Foote, rural carrier at Petersburg, expressed the hope each that a definite group would be the outcome of the meeting.

Postmaster Walker, one of the three from Texas first class offices to go to San Francisco last fall, suggested a joint meeting of 18th and 19th district workers in April at either Pampa or Amarillo.

H. H. Mann, Levelland, district organizer, made a plea for postmasters to join the state group as did Postmaster Storey of Littlefield.

Soape To Seek County Office

Carrol Soape of Idalou Saturday announced his candidacy for commissioner of precinct 3, subject to Democratic primaries.

In a formal statement, he said:

If elected to the important office of county commissioner, I can truthfully say I will adequately serve the voters in this precinct in a very efficient manner.

In Idalou 13 Years

I have lived in Idalou for the past 13 years, during which time I attended Texas Technological from 1930 to 1934, and two years later successfully completed the engineering course prescribed for the air corps unit of the United States army.

I fully realize the office of commissioner is one not to be regarded lightly, but one that a person should run in a very precise manner, to the full satisfaction of the people and to himself.

Realizing that the county commissioner should have a full knowledge of the conditions that surround his work, I will say that I can qualify in any respect to the duties of this office.

I will appreciate to the utmost any support that may be given me by the voters of this precinct.

but they would be investigated nevertheless.

On the lake bank, drawn in the snow, was a message:

Meanwhile there was inactivity at the Levine home, where ransom of $30,000 was ready. Levine refused to say whether Rabbi Abraham Nowak, to whom the last ransom note was addressed, was serving as intermediary, but through all of Friday night an unaccustomed light burned on the rabbi's porch.

Both federal and local officers apparently have withdrawn from active participation in the case at Levine's request.

Battle Is Shifted

or obstruction, White House intimates who should know have argued for weeks that the president was keeping hand off congress except to reiterate his general objectives.

Demands Soft-Pedaled

Not since the special session assembled last November have there been White House demands on congress for action. Always the president has phrased his requests as suggestions. It was and still is being left to congress to work out details.

Yet it is always added, as a part of this White House strategy explanation, that congress will be held responsible for failure to advance toward the objectives.

To Go Into Elections

This contrast between presidential objectives and tactics appears to many a positive indication that the reform fight will be carried into this year's Democratic congressional primaries first of all, then into the election this fall.

It also underscores the increasing activity of the administration in senatorial primary contests, in Kentucky, Florida, Wisconsin, Idaho and elsewhere, in behalf of incumbents who have been loyal to the president's leadership. Just how far the president intends to go in aiding his supporters has not been revealed, but there have been hints of much traveling during the campaigning months ahead.

Provides Ammunition

Publication of the White House story of the New Deal provides campaign ammunition for New Deal stalwarts, as observers see it, both in party primaries and in the election campaign itself.

Just when the president made his indicated decision to await another election test of public sentiment before a vigorous renewal of the reform campaign is a matter of dispute. Administration spokesmen are inclined to picture it as a recent development, due to happenings during the special and current sessions of congress. Most observers believe it dates back to the bitter party revolt in the senate that wrecked the administration's court bill.

Reports Of Successes In War In China Are Conflicting

SHANGHAI, March 6 (Sunday) (AP)—Japanese asserted today 200,000 Chinese defenders of Shansi province were in complete rout while Chinese reported new successes in North Honan province to the east.

The Japanese claims were on top of earlier reports that 20,000 of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's soldiers were captured in northwest Honan and another 1,800 wiped out in Shansi.

Both of these reported successes were behind the lines of Japanese advance columns.

McCULLOCH BOY WINS

SAN ANGELO, March 5. (AP)—Weaver Ivy, 13-year-old Richland Springs vocational agriculture pupil, exhibiting as a McCulloch county 4-H club boy, won the grand championship of the boys' calf show today with his senior and grand champion milk fed calf, Texas. Reserve championship honors of the show went to Pop Kidd, Menard 4-H club boy, whose junior first was grand champion of the dry lot classes.

Lubbock Automobile Dealers Join In National Used Car Week Observance

Excess Stocks To Be Moved

Lubbock automobile dealers this week are cooperating with dealers over the nation in staging National Used Car Exchange week to promote a better sales condition for used cars.

Used car business is the backbone of the entire industry, dealers say. There is need for an outlet for cars taken on trade-ins to motivate new car sales.

First Time In History

It is the first time in history of the industry that manufacturers and dealers have cooperated to sponsor a nation-wide movement of its kind.

The industry has, however, long recognized the importance of used car business to all branches of the trade.

Designation of the week for promoting extended used car sales primarily was planned to get dealers in shape for spring business that prospective buyers may be benefitted. Need for good used cars gives buyers opportunity to receive better trade-in values. Excess used cars on hand would make necessary curtailment of attractive offers to prospects for old cars, it was pointed out.

Dealers to Offer Values

During the week and in the period to follow, dealers expect to offer values in used cars they never before have been privileged to offer. Buyers will have oppotrunity to select from the best used cars ever marketed. Although it was pointed out that dealers are not overloaded, they have on hand good, clean cars for sale.

Manufacturers and dealers over the country are cooperating with the general safety movement against use of outmoded automobiles. The industry has spent considerable money to help remove unsafe cars from the highways.

In many instances cars have been condemned and salvaged at a loss to dealers. Dealers are spending more thought, time and money in reconditioning used cars in interest of safety and value.

Used Car week was started here Saturday afternoon with a parade sponsored by local dealers.

Special Meeting Of Farmers Is Slated

Ralph W. Moore of Granger, state master of the National Grange, and P. W. Smith of Washington, D. C., representative of the utilization division of the rural electrification administration, will be speakers at a special meeting of farmers in the agriculture building at Texas Technological college at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, according to announcement here Saturday.

Arrangements for the meeting are in charge of officials of South Plains Electric Cooperative, Inc., and of the Grange. The electric cooperative is the agency which received a federal allotment recently as the first step toward the provision of electric power for several thousand farms in Lubbock and adjacent counties.

Invitation Extended

Invitation to every farmer interested in securing electricity for his farm was extended by those in charge of arrangements to attend the meeting.

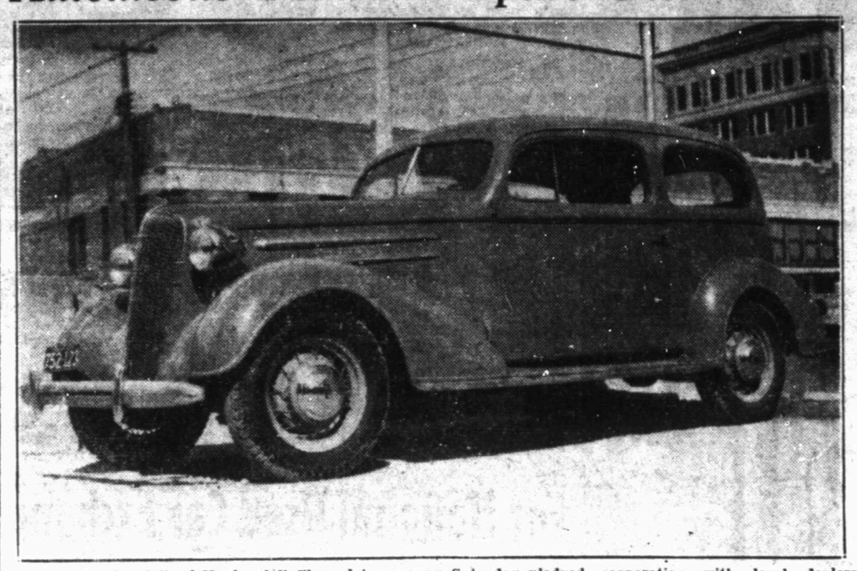

Moore was described as being vitally interested in the possibilities of rural electrification and was credited with having taken an active part in securing the recent $103,000 allotment for the South Plains project. He is Texas state committeeman on the president's committee for rural electrification.

Moore's talk will deal with the part the Grange has taken in the endeavor to provide electricity for the farm.

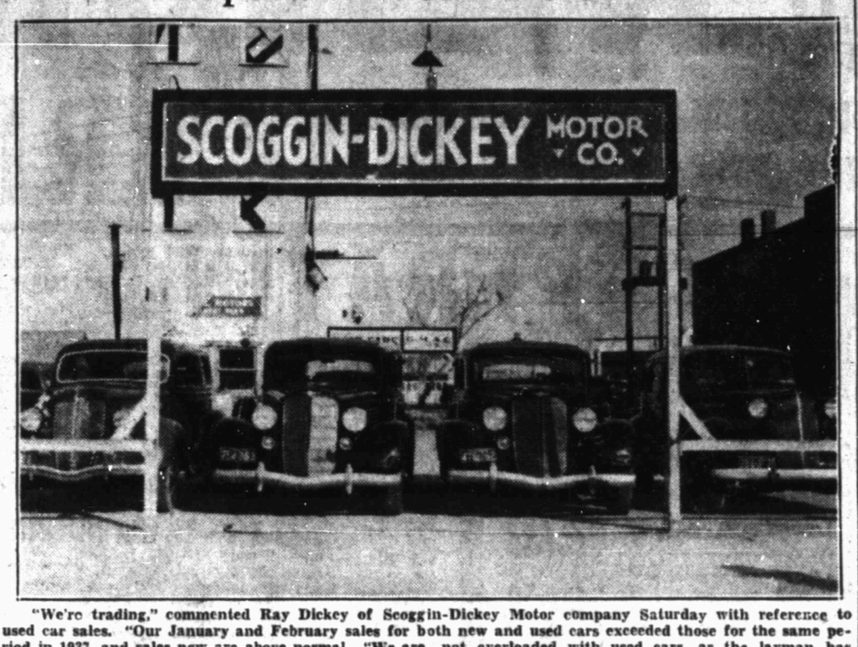

Smith will discuss salient facts on the use of electricity in the farm and in farm work, he advised.

Automobile Dealers Prepare Used Car Stocks For 'Special' Week Here

G. F. Kuykendall, of Kuykendall Chevrolet company Saturday pledged cooperation with local dealers during National Used Car Exchange week and expressed belief used car buyers would have opportunity to get unequaled values during the week. They have accumulated many good used cars, and believe they can meet the demand of the most careful buyer, as to models, price and terms. First class reconditioning of used cars has been their policy for the past 14 years. Photo by Reeves

"We're trading," commented Ray Dickey of Scoggin-Dickey Motor company Saturday with reference to used car sales. "Our January and February sales for both new and used cars exceeded those for the same period in 1937, and sales now are above normal. "We are not overloaded with used cars, as the layman has been led to think from general automobile reports. My idea is to dispel any doubt in that connection. We are, however, looking forward to good used car business through the spring and summer."

Farmers Well Can Afford To Smile; Consider Records

Snowfall of seven inches in February, coupled with rainfall has given the farmer total precipitation since Jan. 1 2.09 inches of moisture, or .95 inch more than the normal of 1.14 inches for that period, showed a report of Don L. Jones, superintendent of Texas agricultural experiment sub-station No. 8.

Average February snowfall is one inch, Jones said.

Over February Average

Precipitation in February alone was 1.18 inches, .44 inch more than the February normal of .74 inch.

All elements considered, what with the heavy snow and the fact February usually is considered a "cold month," is deemed unusual that maximum temperature would have hit 76 degrees and that the minimum fell only to 18 degrees for February extremes, said Jones, "although this winter has reflected a tendency almost since its beginning to be mild."

He pointed to the fact September and November were unseasonably cold, that December came back with warmer weather culminated with an all-time 82-degree temperature one Sunday and that, except for brief flurries since, the rest of the winter has been extremely mild.

Fruit Trees Step Out

Fruit trees have "stepped out much earlier," he said and, despite extremely favorable moisture conditions, farmers who have been in the habit of preparing their land in February have had to wait in many instances until March. He said precipitation and the retarding influence of gathering a heavy 1937 crop contributed.

Another noticeable factor making for general comfort in February was a light wind run of only 3,382 miles as compared with a normal of 5,109 miles, and a mean temperature of 48.2 degrees.

Total evaporation was 1.867 inches; number of clear days, 2; number of partly cloudy days, 13, and number of cloudy days, 13.

Texas Tech Matador Band To Lead Mother-In-Law Day Parade In Amaril

Mrs. Roosevelt Is Honor Guest

When Amarillo's annual Mothers-In-Law day parade winds its several-miles-long array of floats, mounted riders, musical organizations, and massed general public Wednesday morning, 83 pieces of the crack Matador band of Texas Technological college will be in the vanguard.

And when the biggest bouquet of history—weighing almost 3,000 pounds and composed of thousands of roses—is swung over by crane in front of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt at the parade reviewing stand, a Lubbock man will be among the six "six-plus footers" who will have a part in the ceremony. He is Wesley Joosten, 275-pound, 6 feet 4½ inch paper salesman.

For the second time, the committee in charge has given the Double-T organization that honor, the band having marched at the head of the 1935 celebration.

Three Drum Majors Lead

Designated for the day "Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's parade band," Tech musicians will have only an escort of motorcycle officers and the band's three prancing drum majors, Toy Dial, Lee Edwin Haile and Torchy Bright, ahead of it.

Prof. D. O. Wiley, band director, said the Tech group would leave Lubbock at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, taking from the 125-piece aggregation eight trombone players, six baritones, six bases, 12 cornets and trumpets, eight saxaphones, 28 b-flat clarinets, and two piccolos.

May Play Concert, Too

Prof. Wiley said he had not been informed whether his band would be asked to play in a concert after the parade.

"Tech's band will return to Lubbock before the program on which Mrs. Roosevelt, Amarillo's guest of honor, speaks in the evening.

While not as colorful, perhaps, as that of the band, Joosten's contribution to the big day will be important. For the honor of presenting the biggest bouquet to Mrs. Roosevelt, there have been selected six of the biggest and best proportioned men in the Panhandle-Plains region. Plans are to have them dressed for the occasion in cowboy regalia.

Evidence of the magnitude of preparations to honor Mrs. Roosevelt, who will speak in Lubbock the night before at Senior high school auditorium, and of the thousands of mothers-in-law is found in the column of Gene Howe, Tactless Person who originated the celebration.

He writes that the mammoth bouquet, so heavy a crane will be required to lift it, will be paraded up and down Polk street at 11:00 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Crowds To See Mrs. Roosevelt

At 11:30 o'clock, Mrs. Roosevelt in an open car sent to Amarillo from Detroit will be driven the entire length of that street to a reviewing stand at Thirteenth and Polk, where the bouquet will be presented.

At 11:45 o'clock, Col. Julius Dorenfield, marshal, and army officers will arrive with the giant parade, which will march down Polk street to Twenty-second street or farther, depending on the crowd massed on the sidewalks. The parade, he said, would be formed at Sixth street at 11:30 o'clock.

One float alone has 20,000 hand-made flowers that defy attempts to adjudge them artificial only on close inspection. For weeks, home demonstration club women have been getting out of bed at 3 o'clock in the mornings to make the flowers.

Notables To Be There

Notables from throughout the country are arriving for the spectacle, which increasingly is becoming the major annual show of far West Texas.

Governors from several sister states will be in the parade. Amarillo and several other places have declared "closed shop" policy for the event. National news reel cameramen and noted feature writers will be on hand. The business district of Amarillo has been decorated. Traffic police, believing their first estimate of attendance far too small, have begun recruiting more aid in keeping clear the line of march. At least 100,000 spectators are expected.

Besides experienced traffic officers from El Paso, Fort Worth and other officers who will augment the Amarillo force, 100 American Legionnaires wearing special police arm bands will be detailed to direct traffic and guard the crowds.

Mrs. Roosevelt will arrive late Tuesday night or early Wednesday, accompanied by her son Elliott and his wife, and Governor and Mrs. James V. Allred. The party will occupy the Thompson bungalow atop the Amarillo hotel.

All the 2,541 seats of the Amarillo Municipal auditorium were reserved in advance of the lecture, which will be at 8 o'clock Wednesday night.

Colonial Home Built In 1907 Is Destroyed By Flames

LAMESA, March 5—Fire recently destroyed one of the oldest residences here, a colonial house built in 1907 by J. W. Burleson, now of Lubbock, who hauled lumber here from Big Spring.

When he built the place there were only a few stores here and the town had not been actually started. Chicago was the center of business activity of Dawson county.

The house was owned by Dewey Davis, and family. Furniture had recently been purchased and installed. It was located a mile north and east of town.

Queen Catherine I of Russia was Peter the Great's mistress for nine years before she became his wife.

Originator And Inspiration For The Day

Gene Howe, editor and former mother-in-law joke-maker, is shown here with Mrs. Nellie Donald, the mother of his own wife. Howe inaugurated National Mother-in-Law Day to make amends for describing Mrs. Donald in a column as "the standing army."

Four Texas Tech Judging Teams; Livestock And Faculty Members To Participate In Annual Fort Worth Fat Stock Show

Texas Technological college will be represented in four judging contests, exhibits, and in division management at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show in Fort Worth, March 11-20.

Livestock, dairy products, dairy cattle, and meat judging teams will compete.

Membership of the dairy products team was announced Saturday night by Mart G. Pederson, assistant professor of dairy manufacturing, after a final try-out Saturday afternoon in which seven candidates competed. Members and alternate are Charles Gillham, Hughes Springs; Claiburn Harrell, Spur; Martin Van Scherd, Whitesboro; and Arch Lamb Fort Worth. The group will leave March 13 and will compete March 15. En route to Fort Worth, the team will enter practice judging at Abilene and Mineral Wells.

Team Is Announced

Ray C. Moxery, animal husbandry professor and livestock judging team coach, has announced the following students have been chosen from 13 candidates as members and alternate of the junior livestock judging team: Vestel Askew, Del Rio; John Henry Baumgardner, Wellington; Russell Cook, Littlefield; John Jackson, Roaring Springs; Eldon Lawrence, Peacock; and Leo Meier, Darrouzett.

The team is composed of junior students, none of whom competed in the junior judging contest at Denver last fall. It will enter stiff competition comparable to that at the Kansas City Royal contests. Approximately 15 teams will compete. The team will enter practice judging in Amarillo at the fat stock show today, and will leave Thursday by automobile. At Decatur, it will judge Shropshire sheep through arrangement made by Arvle Elliott, Tech graduate who is county agent there. The team will compete Saturday, judging cattle and steers, hogs, sheep, mules and horses.

Harbaugh Announces Team

Membership of the meat judging team has been announced by Dr. F. G. Harbaugh, associate professor of animal husbandry and veterinarian. Russell Reed of San Angelo, John R. Baumgardner of Wellington and Curtis Wheeler of Lorenzo will compete in the first meat judging contest in collegiate circles in Texas. The team will leave May 13 and will compete May 15.

The dairy cattle judging team will be announced Monday, said Casey Fine, assistant professor of animal husbandry. The team will leave Friday and will enter practice judging en route to Fort Worth.

Stangel Is Superintendent

W. L. Stangel, head professor of animal husbandry, will be superintendent of the Aberdeen-Angus cattle division of the show.

The animal husbandry department has announced Tech steers to be exhibited at the show will be shipped Tuesday, with W. H. Rodgers, beef cattle herdsman, accompanying, and barrows will be shipped Thursday, with B. Odell, swine herdsman, accompanying. Stangel will have supervision of the steers' exhibit March 14 and Mowery will supervise the barrows' exhibit March 15-16.

Six Hereford and six Aberdeen-Angus steers and two breeds of beef cattle will be exhibited. Steers will be exhibited on weight basis, over 1,150 pounds, 1,036 to 1,150, 900 to 1,025, under 900, and also as groups of three regardless of weight classification. Tech will have entries in all classes. Tech hogs to be exhibited are nine head of Durocs and 9 Hampshires to be shown as individual entries and pen entries, in each of three weights for each breed, 180 to 220 pounds, 221 to 260 pounds, are 261 and up.

Society Notes Of Yesterday . .

March 10, 1910 — Last Friday at one o'clock four of the jolliest T. G. G.s boarded an auto for Mr. and Mrs. Albert Taylor's ranch home, twenty-five miles from Lubbock. After a very pleasant journey the girls were glad to reach their destination. They found Mrs. Taylor awaiting them with her usual happy smile. Later in the day six other girls arrived with Mr. Taylor in his big touring car. After a delicious supper it was milking time and the girls were ready to do their part.

South Plains Shrine Club Is To Entertain On Wednesday

South Plains Shrine club plans to entertain approximately 50 couples at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night in Hilton hotel, said L. D. Thomas, club president.

Plans for Rolla V. Cartwright, past potentate of Khiva temple, and J. S. Pittman, assistant recorder of that temple, and their wives, all of Amarillo, to attend were discontinued when the officials wrote Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's visit there Wednesday would preclude their attendance at the Lubbock gathering.

Instead, they will be here April 19, when South Plains Shrine day is observed, just as it was last May in all-day festivities.

At Wednesday's meeting there will be music, bingo, a banquet and introduction of out-of-Lubbock and new members, said Thomas.

BUYING WITHOUT INSPIRATION

NEW YORK, March 5. (AP)—Stocks idled at slightly lower levels in today's market as traders conducted a fruitless search for buying inspiration.

After four consecutive weeks of net advances, the list turned in a loss for the past six weeks.

The Associated Press average of 60 issues was off 1 of a point at 44.5. On the week the composite was down 1.6 points. The turnover amounted to only 222,000 shares compared with 303,230 on the preceding Saturday. The week's volume of 2,618,875 shares was the smallest in more than three years.

Steels and coppers were up most of the day, but few managed to retain gains. Ahead at the noon closing were Bethlehem Steel at 57, Republic 17¼, Anaconda 32⅛ and Cerro de Pasco 40⅜.

Rails marked time along with leading utilities, mail orders, rubbers and aircrafts.

Weekly developments considered by markets included further declines from a year ago in bank clearings, steel production, freight loadings, electric power production, automobile output and retail trade.

Cotton . .

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, March 5. (AP)—After reacting partially from an opening advance cotton rallied in late trading today and closed at the highs. Final prices were steady, 5 to 9 points above the previous close.

Foreign markets were lower but more favorable than expected and induced enough buying at the start to lift initial prices 1 to 4 points. Recent buyers liquidated, however and hedging orders from the interior were executed.

Offerings were absorbed around yesterday's close and prices recovered rapidly in late trading under covering by shorts, commission house buying and increased trade calling.

When the final gong sounded prices were at the top with March at 9.24, May at 9.27, July at 9.32, Oct. at 9.30, Dec. at 9.41, and Jan. at 9.41.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 5. (AP)—Cotton was steadier today on week-end covering, light offerings and steadier foreign markets. May sold up from 9.07@9.16 and closed at 9.14, with final prices 7 to 9 points net higher.

After holding steady for an hour, prices rallied later in the morning about 7 to 10 points from the lows as early sellers rebought, trade price fixing continued and a fair amount of New Orleans and local buying appeared.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, March 5. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 9.18 cents a pound, average for the past thirty market days 8.85 cents a pound.

Chairmen For South Plains Counties Being Selected

Announcement of the appointment of chairmen for four South Plains counties to assist youths to qualify for the citizens military training camp to be held in July at Fort Sam Houston near San Antonio was made Saturday by Col. Ralph H. Durkee, state aide for Texas to the secretary of war.

Those appointed were R. A. Simms of Brownfield for Terry county; G. A. Graham of Morton for Cochran county; R. H. Nowlin of Crosbyton for Crosby county; and John Thoman of Levelland for Hockley county.

The camp, Col. Durkee advised, will continue 30 days, and will carry no obligation on the part of those who enroll for future military service of any kind. The government will provide without charge transportation to camp and return, food, uniforms, laundry service, athletic equipment and medical attention, the bulletin said.

CHICAGO REPORTS

CHICAGO, March 5. (AP)—The wheat price slide registering market reaction to improved crop conditions in the southwestern belt came to a halt today.

Buying credited to export and milling interests and scattered short covering lifted quotations as much as ⅝ cent at times but the gains could not be maintained in the face of lagging speculative activity and the market closed practically unchanged.

Some early buying was believed to be based on indications of revived export and miller interest in wheat as a result of the recent price break. Only moderate trade was reported, however. It was understood some flour had been worked for export out of Kansas City. One cargo of hard wheat was reported sold to Great Britain.

Wheat futures closed ⅛ higher to ⅜ lower compared with Friday, May 90⅛@90⅜, July 85@85⅛, September 85¼@85⅝; corn was ⅛ off to ⅛ up, May 58⅜@58⅝, July 60⅜, September 61½; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, May 29¾, rye ⅛ to ¼ lower, May 72; provisions 2 to 10 cents down.

Sea Beckons To Man And Wife, Beached Since Boat Burned

HOUSTON, March 5 (AP)—The sea beckons to Karl Acton and his wife, beached for 18 months by a fire that destroyed their boat in Matagorda bay. The two had 25 cents between them when they were informed they had won the $2,500 second prize in a national advertising contest.

"We've had enough of dry land living," Acton said, "and are going to build a 26-foot boat, buy $1,000 worth of photographic equipment and head out to sea."

The couple in 1931 rounded Cape Horn in a small boat and got their first taste of South Sea life.

LEVELLAND, March 5—Money orders, written by the local postoffice in 1937, numbered 13,478 and amounted to $157,839.14 according to Postmaster Harry Mann. It was a record for the office.

Postal receipts were $16,900.87, likewise a record.

Orders cashed here numbered 1,666 and amounted to $25,944.74. The local office has increased in sales ever since it was started in 1922, said the postmaster.

Display Rooms To Be Assigned

Preparations for the 16th semi-annual wholesale clothing market here March 31 through April 3 will begin taking definite shape this week with the completion of the assignment of display space at Lubbock hotel, according to information given Saturday by officials of Western Wholesale Market association, sponsor of the event.

Deadline for making reservations for exhibit space will be Monday, officials explained. However, time will be allowed for mail to arrive from distant cities before rooms are assigned, association officials said.

Rooms Being Taken

As at previous events, they explained, the plan has been followed of giving exhibitors at the last previous show first opportunity for reservations. Thus far, according to the announcement, they have taken approximately 30 of the 75 rooms available on five floors of the hotel. That number will be further increased, officials believed, by other reservations mailed before deadline.

Any space which then may be left will be available to a waiting list of concerns which have asked for rooms, according to association officials. Fifteen such firms, officials added, have made unsolicited applications for space.

Indications are, officials said, that the approaching show, like that of last spring, will find the rooms available insufficient for the demand. Officials further predicted that the show, from standpoints of number of exhibitors and visitors, and range and quality of merchandise, will surpass all previous similar events here.

Dinner-Dance Is Feature

Following the assignment of space, attention will be centered on preparations for the dinner-dance the night of April 2 which will feature entertainment. Post card reminders of the dinner to approximately 1,000 retailers in West Texas and New Mexico were mailed Saturday. They were urged to make reservations for the dinner without delay.

Reservations will be limited to three for each establishment and they will be granted in the order they are received, association officials said. Because of the limited seating space at the banquet tables, some of the late reservations likely cannot be accepted, officials warned.

Whew! And We Always Thought It Would Be An Easy Job To Sit In Cashier's Cage And Do Nothing But Take In The Cash

BY CLAUDE TUCKER

"How many, please?" is not all the versatile young cashier at the theater says—far from it.

"Are there any seats in the back where I won't get powder burned?" is a favorite question on Saturdays. Or "I want to sit back far enough where the blood won't splatter on my new suit!"

Sometimes the cashier doesn't know whether the questioner is wanting information or is trying to get personal when he calls up and asks, "Have you got on anything tonight I'd like to see?" Or "What kind of shorts have you got on?"

Sometimes Gets Funny

Persons call the theater and ask the name of the current picture or the one scheduled. If the cashier answers that the picture is "Heidi" the would-be Gracie Allen retorts, "Howdy, how are you?" "Second Honeymoon", "Not interested, one was enough for me"; "Love on a Budget", "Well, I've tried it on nearly everything else"; "Everybody Sings", "Oh, no, they don't. I know one who doesn't"; "45 Fathers", "I could afford to get drunk, if I had that many parents to pay the fine"; "Marry the Girl", "That's just exactly what I did!"

"What is your future today?" is getting to be an old one.

Consider the patron who shouts (cashiers can hear much easier than one might think) through the hole in the glass panel, "Have you seen my husband? He has black hair and blue eyes, and he always wears a green tie." Or "Have you seen my wife? She's left me and I can't find her. I think she had on a blue dress, and she always wears her hair in curls."

What A Hat For A Kid

An irate parent inquired, "Did you see a little boy go in the show with a hat on about four feet high?"

"May I go in and look for my daughter?" a mother asked. "She went in the show at one-thirty and it is now eight o'clock!"

It is very annoying, cashiers say, when a long line is waiting to buy tickets, and the customer waits until he gets to the window before looking for his money, then fumbles in several pockets before finding it.

And there is always the person who says, "Let me get 'um" and then hangs back hoping the other fellow will "beat him to the draw".

Forget To Get Change

"I gave you a five. Or did I?" a customer occasionally asks when the cashier hands him his change. Men frequently forget to pick up their money when several are waiting, and the line is delayed until they can be called back.

A young man stepped up to the window and said all in one breath, "Please change this twenty for me one five fifty cents worth of pennies two quarters two dollars worth of dimes a dollar's worth of nickels the rest of it one dollar bills thanks."

"Don't give me any dimes," one man remarked, "my wife's saving them."

Even Mothers Call Down

"Honest, I'm just eleven years old," big husky boys insist. Often the mother calls on the telephone, "My little boy will be down there in a few minutes to see the show. He is rather large for his age, but he was only eleven years old last January."

The indignant parent retorts, "Why, we've never paid on him before!"

Women often come out of the show, then ask of the cashier, "Did I have a hat and purse when I went in there?"

"To answer all the questions I'm asked," one cashier laughingly remarked, "I would need a mental faculty equal to the combined information of an encyclopedia and a bureau of missing persons."

Yellow is the ideal color for a "blackboard" and blue is the best chalk to use on it, British experimenters report.

Orval Davidson, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Davidson of Lubbock, arrived Saturday to spend the weekend with relatives. Orval Davidson is associated with Walker-Smith company at Sweetwater. His father is night desk sergeant for the police department.

Dallas Woodrow Wilson Stops Abilene To Capture State Schoolboy Cage Title

Unbeaten West Texas 5 Goes Down, 41-27

By RAY NEUMANN
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 5. — Woodrow Wilson's wily Wildcats of Dallas tonight won the 1938 Texas high school basketball championship, walloping a willing but outclassed Abilene aggregation, 41-27.

Malcolm Kutner, Wilson's great forward, took high point honors with 13 in leading the fast-breaking team-work which spelled victory for the Dallas five.

Kelly Simpson, other Wildcat forward, annexed runner-up honors, keeping 11, while Jimmy McCarthy, a guard, snagged 10. Guards Frank Erahaney and P. H. Hill tied with nine each to lead Abilene's scoring.

Wilsons Know Fiserwork

The Eagles played a blazing brand of basketball compared with their ragged showing against Bowie of El Paso in the semi-final contest this morning, but their best was to no avail against the smooth-functioning Wildcat crew.

Bullet-like passing and well-timed floor plays enabled the inspired Dallas five to pull away steadily from the start. Baffling shifts repeatedly drew Abilene men out of defense positions under the basket, leaving the Wilson goalers free to sink push shots.

John Reagan's Bulldogs of Houston, pre-tourney title favorites, vanquished a fighting Bowie combination from El Paso, 25-22, for third place honors in the curtain-raiser to the championship clash.

Bowie's brilliant Bears, small in stature compared to Reagan's towering five, fought every inch of the way, pushing the Bulldogs, exhausted from their feverish semi-final contest with Dallas, to the utmost.

Henderson Is Star

Burly Bill Henderson, the Bayou City captain, won the game almost single-handed in looping 16 points. His teammate, George White, a guard, shared runner-up honors with Jesus Bulos, Bowie's center, each tallying 7.

The blazing Bears, showing unbelieveable stamina, smeared play after play of the winners with quick floor work and the game was in doubt until the final whistle.

Wilson's Wildcats, led by their brilliant captain, blonde Malcom Kutner, upset the high-powered Reagan outfit in the semi-finals by the scant margin of one point, the winning score swishing through the hoop in the final minutes.

Furious passing inside Reagan's defense finally enabled the Bulldogs to overcome a lead the Wildcats held for three quarters and the score stood 28-27 for a moment. While the stands screamed, the elongated Kutner sank a field goal to make it 29-28 for Wilson and the Dallas club then froze the ball.

Kutner, a forward, led both clubs in scoring, totalling 11 points.

Miss Free Shots

Abilene's high-flying Eagles, looking like anything but the fast-breaking team which took the court in the first round, could thank the inaccuracy of Bowie's free shots for their 27-20 win over the irrepressible El Paso cagers.

The fighting but outclassed Bears nervously missed 11 free tries in all but managed, through rapid floor work and under the bucket goaling, to whittle down a long Abilene lead in the last half.

In forst round games yesterday, Reagan coasted to a 37-16 win over Bailey, "dark horse' entry from East Texas; Wilson washed out Belton of Central Texas, 43-24; Abilene blasted Carey, 1937 champions, by 36-14, and Bowie eliminated Kingsville, 45-30.

It is estimated that the average life of an automobile is 2100 hours. If the car is driven at an average speed of 30 miles an hour its life may be figured, in miles, at 63,000.

Stagehand Winner In Photo-Finish

By ROBERT MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

SANTA ANITA PARK, LOS ANGELES, March 5. — Stagehand, a mere colt but a mighty one, captured the fourth running of the richest horse race in the world today—the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap.

Fifty thousand hysterical fans saw the rollicking 3-year-old drop the curtain on the race favorite, Seabiscuit, in a head-to-head battle down the stretch and in a camera finish by a nose.

Pompoon, who shared the pre-race favoritism with the great Seabiscuit, ran third.

A Sande Victory

Victory to Stagehand, owned by Maxwell Howard and trained by the ex-jockey king, Earl Sande, brought $91,450 net to the stable and marked the second major triumph of the black and white silks to Howard at the Santa Anita meeting. Stagehand won the $50,000 Santa Anita Derby Feb. 22.

Jockey Nick Wall, flown here from Florida to take Stagehand into the race, booted the 3-year-old son of Sickle and Stagecraft over the mile and one quarter in track record time of two minutes one and three fifths seconds—a mark that has held here since Azucar won the first Santa Anita handicap in 1935 in two minutes two and one fifth seconds.

Stagehand, running virtually the same race he turned in the derby, came up from behind, racing wide, to challenge Charles S. Howard's erstwhile handicap king, Seabiscuit, as they pounded down the stretch.

Howard Is Loser

It was a bitter disappointment to Seabiscuit Howard for Mr. Biscuit lost the Santa Anita classic just a year ago by a nose to Rosemont.

Stagehand, emerging as a powerful threat to every three-year-old in the nation, broke Mr. Biscuit's heart as they pounded toward the wire.

Jerome H. Louchheim's Pompoon, rated as "the horse Seabiscuit would have to beat," ran two lengths or more back of Seabiscuit, and Gosum, a slightly regarded candidate owned by still another Howard, Nelson A. Howard, ran fourth.

Top Row, A. A. Baroni's winner of the classic in 1936, apparently broke down in the gruelling struggle and his racing days were believed ended.

Stagehand brought his backers $9.20, $3.80 and $3.00. Seabiscuit paid $3.40 and $2.80 to place and Pompoon's third spot was worth $3.40.

A record also was set for the track in betting when $406,994 was wagered.

Seabiscuit made his bid first off the back turn with Stagehand, winner of the Santa Anita derby and an entry in the Kentucky Derby, getting his head on the turn to pass Anerold, the early leader.

New Mexico Aggies And West Texas Buffs In Tourney

KANSAS CITY, March 5—(AP) — Thirty-two teams, all champions or near-champions, were converging on Kansas City today for the opening Monday of the first annual national interscholastic basketball tournament.

The field, representing outstanding college quintets of 18 states, is rated so uniformly strong the tournament committee, after trying to figure out teams possibly worthy of seeding, finally junked the idea and virtually tossed the names in a hat to get first-round pairings.

Among the outstanding contenders for the national crown are New Mexico State college, Marshall college of Huntington, West Virginia; the towering West Texas Teachers, the Warrensburg, Mo., Teachers; the Murray State Teachers of Murray, Ky., and the Central State Teachers of Edmond, Okla.

Tiger Nine Not Bragging About Hopes For '38

HUNTSVILLE, March 5. (AP)—Baseball prospects up here behind the walls of state penitentiary are very, very gloomy.

Diamond talent among the gents with stained records has either reformed or is staying out of trouble.

Manager Albert Moore, who has guided five prison Tiger nines, admits "things aren't looking so hot this season." Two hours daily he sends 23 candidates through hard drills—getting them ready for the season, opener against the Houston Buffs of the Texas League on April 3.

Manager Moore started digging around in his "farm" system — prison farms in nearby counties — for talent to bring into the "home" office. Of the 23 who reported, only eight were holdovers from last year.

Things began looking up, however, when a couple of outfielders from Jasper "reported." If they develop, Manager Moore is a cinch to have them under five-year "contract."

Beau Bell Turns In Suit At Aggieland For Brown Camp

COLLEGE STATION, March 5—(AP)—Bulky Beau Bell, St. Louis Browns' slugging outfielder, finished up his last day of drilling with the Texas Aggie baseball team today and prepared to report at the Brownies' San Antonio training camp.

Bell, former Aggie star who led the Southwest conference hit parade in 1931, was a stubborn holdout with the Browns through the first two weeks of last year's training. His younger brother, Woody, captains the Aggie team.

Pete Dowling, another former Aggie now catching for the Minneapolis Millers, also spent a week working out with the Aggies.

Young Corbett Is Hailed As Middleweight Fight Champ

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5. (AP)—In a surprise and unprecedented move, the state athletic commission announced today that Young Corbett had been recognized in California as world's middleweight boxing champion.

George Payne of San Jose, chairman of the commission, said the Fresno left hander was recognized as a result of his 10 round decision over Fred Apostoli here last month. Apostoli was ranked second and Champion Freddie Steele third.

War Admiral Is Easy Winner At Hialeah

MIAMI, Fla., March 5—(AP)—War Admiral, unbeaten three-year-old champion of 1937, today won the $50,000 Widener challenge cup at Hialeah Park for his tenth straight victory.

Zevson was second and War Minstrel third.

War Admiral, prohibitive choice in the mutuels, paid $2.70 for a $2 win ticket, $2.80 to place and $2.50 to show. Zevson, an outstander, returned $14.00 for a $2 place mutuel ticket and $7.10 to show. A $2 show ticket on War Minstrel was good for $5.60 at the payoff window.

War Admiral, carrying the silks of Samuel D. Riddle of Philadelphia, covered the mile and a quarter in 2:03 4-5. The victory was worth $49,550 to the Admiral's owner and ran the colt's earnings to $231,625, only about $18,000 less than his famous sire, Man O' War, won during his illustrious campaign of 1919-20.

Revolta Wins Title In Golf Play-Off

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 5—(AP)—Johnny Revolta, former P. G. A. champion of Evanston, Ill., won the St. Petersburg open championship today by defeating Chandler Harper, 23-year-old Portsmouth, Va., professional, two strokes in an 18-hole playoff.

Revolta had intended to leave the golf caravan at Thomasville, Ga., but changed his mind at the last minute when he learned that the tournament would be played at the Lakewood Country club where he got his start as a course patrolman 11 years ago.

He blazed the way to the 54-hole mark with successive rounds of 69, 69 and 71 but faltered in the stretch and was tied by Harper, who posted cards of 69 and 68 for the last 36 holes yesterday.

They tied at the end of 72 holes with 282s, bettering par by two strokes.

Meadow And Frenship Divide League Basketball Program

Meadow High school boys defeated Frenship boys last night to the tune of 30 to 15 in the Frenship gymasium. The Frenship girls came through with a 23 to 15 defeat of the Meadow High schools girls to even the score as far as teams are concerned.

Both girl's teams plan to enter the state tournament at Greenville.

Ropes and Southland are tied for first place in the second half of the league race and will play in the Frenship gym at 8 p. m. Monday to decide the winner.

Arkansas, Baylor And SMU Cagers Land All-Southwest Conference Positions

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, March 5. (AP)—One of the most explosive mythical offensive combinations in history today formed the Associated Press' All-Southwest conference basketball team, chosen, almost unanimously, by the seven coaches.

Three repeaters off the 1937 honor roll bobbed up again in the following five:

Forwards—Don Lockard, Arkansas, and J. D. Norton, Southern Methodist. Center—Hubert Kirkpatrick, Baylor. Guards—William Dewell, Southern Methodist, and Jack Robbins, Arkansas.

For Dewell, Norton and Lockard it was old stuff. Curly-thatched Robbins, gridiron idol, moved up to a first team he missed by a single vote last year. Kirkpatrick, Baylor's thin man, pulled himself from nowhere to unanimous acclaim as the sector's ranking center.

Some 750 points poured through the hoop from the fingertips of the five tall stars—or an average of 150 each. To Kirkpatrick, a gangling senior who didn't find himself until his last season, goes full credit for the amazing scoring punch. He shattered the league's single-game individual scoring record with 35 markers against Texas Christian and then moved along to top 200 points and set an all-time scoring record—one that may last for years.

Bill hustlers Dewell and Robbins worked in their scoring as a "side line." Defensive bulwarks and backboard specialists, they probably had their hands on the ball more than any two men in the conference. Once, against Texas A. and M., Dewell, cat-like giant, missed only one rebound off the Aggie backboard. Robbins, together with Lockard, was instrumental in regaining Arkansas' lost cage glory.

Deadpan Don Lockard, who finished the season with 168 points, nine more than his winning total of 1937, ran a ragged second in defense of his individual laurels but sacrificed many shots in teaming with Robbins, who surged up from his guard post to rope 149 points.

Only One Returns

Norton, Southern Methodist's sniper, surged past his 125 total of 1937 to easily grab a forward position for the second straight year.

Of the five only Dewell, a junior, will be back next year.

Forwards—Willie Tate, Texas, and Everett Clark, Texas A. and M., center—Ray Hamilton, Arkansas. Guards—Clarence Gernand, Baylor, and Mike Seale, Rice Institute.

Honorable mention awards went to James Benton, Arkansas; Robert Moers, Texas; Ed Mabry and Jack Reedy, Texas Christian; Sam Dwyer, Texas A. and M.; Raymond Acker, Southern Methodist, Louie Freiberger, Texas A. and M.

Barlund's Trainer Chief Casualty As Finn Wins From Buddy Baer

NEW YORK, March 5. (AP) — "In the confusion," Dizzy Vance once remarked, "I found myself in the World Series."

In the confusion at the Garden last night Buddy Baer fought himself out of the heavyweight picture. Gunnar Barlund, the enduring Finn, fought himself in, and Al Ramo, Barlund's trainer, was the only casualty of the evening.

Ramo's mishap gave the battle an authentic light-comedy touch. As Referee Billy Cavanagh pushed the beaten Baer to his corner in the seventh round, Ramo leaped into the ring to greet Barlund, tripped on one of the ropes and fell, flat and out, with a sprained ankle.

To hardened ringsiders, Gunnar's technical knockout victory in 1:36 of the seventh was as astounding as the sight of a trainer being carried out of the arena. A short-ender in the wagering, Barlund carried the fight to the massive younger brother of Max and took every round but the first, which he lost on Baer's stinging punching and his own low blows.

Hank Luisetti Sets All-Time Scoring In Basketball

BERKELEY, Calif., March 5. (AP)—Angelo "Hank" Luisetti, the lanky, sharpshooting forward who led the Stanford Indians to the southern division championship of the Pacific Coast conference, was hailed today as the highest scoring collegiate basketball player of all time.

LUISETTI

Luisetti's 22 points which helped Stanford defeat University of California at Berkeley last night boosted his total 19 points above the national four-year scoring record of 1,531 set from 1932 through 1935 by Glenn Roberts of Emory-Henry college, Virginia.

Luisetti, who has bettered by 24 points his own one-season conference scoring mark of 108 points in 12 games, was knocked unconscious for four minutes in the second half last night when he stumbled over a California player and fell prone. He returned to the game with five minutes left to play and scored three points.

Defeating California 63 to 42, Stanford won the right to meet the winner of the northern half of the conference in a three-game playoff series for the Pacific Coast conference title, which Stanford has held the last two years.

University Of Texas Noses Out Rice In Border Meet

LAREDO, March 5. (AP)—One half point got the University of Texas' track and field team off to a winning start for the season here last night and the Longhorns took the University division of the sixth annual Border Olympics by that slim margin.

A breath behind them was Rice institute while North Texas Teachers, winners last year, trailed in third place with 24 points. Texas totaled 35 1-2 and Rice 35. The Texas Aggies got 10 points.

Brackenridge of San Antonio and Lockhart High school tied for first place in the schoolboy division, with 12 points, while Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio finished third with 10 points and Cuero fourth with seven.

Eight meet records fell and two were equalled in the meet.

Kathryn Hemphill Is Winner Of Florida Golf Tourney

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 5. (AP)—Kathryn Hemphill of Columbia, S. C., defeated Mrs. Jane Cothran Jameson of West Palm Beach, 1 up in 19 holes, today to win the Florida East Coast women's golf championship.

Bill McWilliams, Ralls coach, will be in charge.

Utah And Colorado Tie For Mountain State Cage Title

SALT LAKE CITY, March 5. (AP)—Utah university's Indians, unbeatable by any Mountain States Intercollegate conference team except Colorado university, shared with Colorado today the championship honors of the new conference's first basketball season.

Utah won the co-championship by defeating Brigham Young university 54 to 43 last night.

Mustangs Down Bears, 45-36 In SWC Game

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, March 5— Hubert Kirkpatrick, stringbean Baylor center ran his record-breaking season scoring total to 210 points tonight by meshing 13 points against Southern Methodist university, although his team fell before the Mustangs, 45 to 36.

The game had no effect upon the Southwest conference standings. Baylor has cinched second place behind Arkansas, and Southern Methodist third place.

Kirkpatrick had a difficult time getting started. Bill Dewell, S.M.U.'s fine center, stuck to him like a leach, and he was able only to ring in five points in the first half.

Beats Deitzel's Record

In the second half, he made several circus shots for goals. Dewell went out on fouls five minutes before the game was over, and Kirkpatrick immediately sank two field goals.

The old scoring record was 196 points, set by Ad Dietzel of Texas Christian university. The game was the season finale for both teams.

Dewell was the outstanding man on the floor, both defensively and offensively. When he went out cheers resounded for several minutes. The officials couldn't make their whistles heard and had to halt play until the hubbub quieted.

The game was in the bag for the Methodists all the way.

Norton, Dewell and Cannefax had possession of the ball virtually the entire first 10 minutes, and ran up an 11 to 3 score. Kirkpatrick had one shot for a field goal in the first 10 minutes, and missed that. He also missed two free throws.

Bears Early Start

Baylor made no field goals in the first 2 minutes. Kirkpatrick finally nailed one, then Creasy and Shanan followed, and finally Baylor cut the lead to 16 to 12.

Acker and Dewell connected, however, and the half ended with S. M. U. ahead 21 to 15.

In the second period, Crouch jumped in with a couple, followed by Norton and Dewell, and ran the score to 29 and 15.

Another flurry by Acker, Cannefax and Dewell made it 40 to 20. Dewell and Norton then fouled out and Baylor began hitting the basket with four S.M.U. subs in the game.

In the last few minutes the game was rough. Gernand, Baylor's star guard, fouled out in the last seven minutes.

Shanan, guard, was Baylor's best floor man and Ball hustler.

Houston And Dallas Quintets Reach TAAF Cage Finals

PORT ARTHUR, March 5 (AP)—Houston's Second Presbyterians and the Dallas Dr. Peppers moved into the finals of the Texas T.A.A.F. basketball tournament here today by convincing victories over Belleville and Ingleside in semi-final games.

Houston, paced by Willis Orr who scored 34 points to set a high market for the meet, downed Belleville, 72 to 39, and Dallas won over the Hustling Ingleside, 47 to 34.

The Waco Policemen and Fort Worth's KFJZ won their way into the consolation finals, Waco defeating Corpus Christi's Allright parking, 39 to 18, and Fort Worth downing Wichita Falls, 38 to 32, in the semi-finals.

RESIGNS PASTORATE

SPUR, March 5, (Special)—Rev. Fred Cairns, pastor of the Presbyterian church here for several years, has resigned and gone to Conway, Ark., where he has accepted a similar post.

District AAU Boxing Tourney Is Booked

Amateur boxing is slated to return to the local picture on the night of March 18, this time to select eight delegates to the Southwestern A. A. U. tournament in Dallas late this month, and to provide fight fans with more of the entertainment that marked the recent Golden Gloves tournaments.

The Lubbock District Amateur Athletic Union tournament will again be under the direction of Milton Coffey, Texas Tech ring coach, and will be staged at Sied Allen's Auditorium, which has been leased by Coffey for that night.

There will be only one night of fighting, and contestants will be limited to four in each weight division. If as many as four boxers register for each group, a program of 24 fights will be assured. To win the district title, a fighter will be required to take only two bouts.

Because of a shortage of heavyweights, flyweights and bantamweights in this territory, Coffey plans to invite outstanding boxers of other sections to compete with Lubbock's Golden Gloves champions.

Possibility of bringing Truett Fulcher, Abilene heavyweight who won a decision over Babe Ritchie, Lubbock district champion, in the finals of the State Golden Gloves tournament was seen by Coffey. Fulcher would be matched in a return bout with Ritchie, who decisioned the Abilene heavyweight there before the Golden Gloves tournament.

A flyweight to oppose Lubbock's Rudy Russell and a bantam to meet Tommy Coats will be sought.

Boxers of Lubbock and surrounding territory are invited to send their entries in as quickly as possible, either to Milton Coffey at Texas Tech or to the sports department of The Avalanche-Journal.

It is hoped that sufficient entries to provide a 24-bout show will be "signed up" hurriedly, so that plans may progress.

Tickets will go sale about March 14.

Lubbock has been designated as a district center by Bob Humphries, president of the Southwestern A. A. U.

Winners here will be guests of the local and Southwestern A. A. U. organizations at the Dallas tournament, and from there will receive free trips to Boston, Mass., for the national A. A. U. tournament.

The A. A. U. event is not to be confused with the Golden Gloves, which is a comparatively new organization.

Sports' Busiest Season

By Collier Parris

The "off season" in sports?

For the fans, perhaps, but not for the athletes of the land. For them, it's the busiest season, right now.

For those who make their bread and butter—anyway, their board and room—by the horsehide and pigskin, the toughest part of the year is at hand, the beginning of spring training. The vacation is over, and they must take off those home-fed pounds and otherwise collect and concentrate their muscles.

Basketball teams are in the process of winding up the season over the country. Track and field athletes are closing out the indoor season, opening the outdoor campaign. Tennis stars are re-stringing their racquets preparatory to the outdoor season.

And the lucky golfers! The "work season" has opened for them, too, in full force. With the shivvery part of the year gone in most states, and with the grass beginning to push through greens and fairway areas, there is now going on a lot of divot digging on courses the nation over.

No, we wouldn't exactly call this the "off season."

Raiders Start 36-Day Campaign

BRINGING THE SUBJECTS closer home, tomorrow means the official, and legitimate, opening of the spring football season at Texas Tech. The Westerners of Lubbock High have been at it for several weeks. No strings are attached to high school spring training.

The Red Raiders are allowed, by conference rule, 36 days of spring training. Tech's spring grind closes on April 30 in a big ball game here against Sul Ross. It is longer than 36 days until April 30, but there'll be days when the boys'll find it inconvenient to work out, and Professor Pete Cawthon is getting an early start.

You downtown coaches are invited to be on hand for the opening Monday, with your little red books and your "systems" all worked out to hand over to the coaches. It is understood that Coach Robby Robertson, Coach Jack Parsons and Coach Bill Dean will introduce some sensational plans.

Lubbock's baseball team starts training this week at Longview, and won't move here until mid-April. But there'll be baseball all around us as semi-pro clubs of surrounding neighborhoods start warming up.

The golfers and tennisers have started their chopping and lobbing, and it points to a big summer here in these sports.

Roswell Differences Reported

Speaking of baseball, a note of alarm has crept into the West Texas-New Mexico league plans. A report last night indicated trouble in Roswell, where a team flourished under Manager Neal Rabe last season and apparently was all set for another season.

Differences between the franchise owner, Jim Payne, and others connected with the club, brewing for several weeks, have not been ironed out completely. Yesterday's report said that Owner Payne has suspended Manager Rabe. It has been rumored that efforts have been made to cause Payne to give up his control there, due to unpopularity with the fans and team management. Payne, however, is hanging on. The club has a working agreement with Beaumont and the Detroit club, and its financial worries are practically nil.

Two other towns, however, are watching and waiting, ready and anxious to grab Roswell's place in the league. They are Hobbs, which operated through the season last year but which gave up its franchise to Midland, and Odessa, which started but did not finish last year.

There seems no doubt that the league will be a reality, but there is some doubt regarding Roswell's future in organized ball. It is to be hoped that the trouble will be ironed out. So far as Lubbock is concerned, Hobbs or Odessa would be a suitable opponent, probably more so than Roswell, but we'd like to see Roswell stay in, thus increasing probability of an eight-club league next year.

When The Gabby Was Out-Gabbed

Enjoyed a pleasant visit with Tommy Heath, St. Louis Browns catcher, Friday. The Heaths, en route from Ventura, Calif., their winter home, to the Brownie training base at San Antonio, stopped off a couple of nights with the Sam Wests, he of the drug and baseball business.

The Heath is quite a fellow. Large, humorous, bald and energetic, he's a great guy to talk with. He had his big mitts and a couple of worn baseballs with him, and did a bit of preliminary warming up with Centerfielder West and your reporter, all the time never stopping a flow of wise cracks. He ought to be a fine pepper-upper for a pitcher.

Heath, unlike the stubborn Samuel Filmore, returned his signed contract some time ago, and plans to do a lot of backstopping for the Browns. With the comical Rollie Hemsley out of the way, Tommy may get the job, too.

We were going over the Browns' troubles and weaknesses, and it was this department's idea that with better pitching, the Browns might do some better.

"Pitching? We had pretty good pitching. But the Lord himself couldn't have won for us," exploded Heath, "what with some of the infielding and"—looking at West—"a one-legged centerfielder."

The "one legged centerfielder" does not regard himself so lightly. He has returned three unsigned contracts, and has asked for a conference with club officials. He'll get it at San Antonio next week.

But Sammy did crack back at the rotund catcher.

It was late in the season, after Gabby Street had replaced Jim Bottomley, who had replaced Rogers Hornsby, as the skipper. The Browns were playing a double header with Cleveland, and had won the first game.

Trotter was sent out to pitch the second game. Getting in deep water, Trotter was signaled by the ranting Street, who was trying to give him the word to do a certain thing to a certain hitter. Trotter sarcastically "waved him down," and Gabby started up from the bench, screaming epithets at the disobedient pitcher.

Heath to the rescue. He rushed over to Street, consolingly said: "Take it easy, Gabby, we've had a heluva day! We've won a game!"

Gabby quieted down, returned to the bench. "Yeah, I guess you're right," he said.

Data Is Compiled On Truck Crops

Information relative to production with irrigation of sweet corn and tomatoes has been compiled by committees and mimeographed for distribution at the regular meeting in the courthouse Monday night of the Lubbock County Irrigation association.

Preparation of material on production of onions also will be prepared before the meeting Monday night.

Members of the committee from the association to investigate possibility of tomato producton on a large enough scale for carload marketing are T. J. Foster and T. M. Nelson. It was pointed out that tomatoes "will grow better and produce a larger yield if they are on land devoted to previous year to cotton production than grain sorghums."

The committee, in the material prepared for prospective tomato producers, recommended that the farmers raise their own plants.

Travis Tubbs, R. M. Lowe and R. L. Oldham are members of the committee appointed for obtaining information relative to production of sweet corn. Fertilizers, though not necessary, "are highly desirable for high yields," committee members explained. Several Lubbock stores will be recommended for purchasing seed and it was suggested that six pounds of seed be planted on each acre.

Members of the committee for onion production are E. R. Steen, C. R. Ballard, and R. C. Hopping. Committee for sweet potatoes is made up of W. R. Birchfield, Chas. Adams, jr., and O. C. Medlock.

Monday night's session will be devoted principally to prospective production of sweet potatoes, sweet corn, and onions. The following meeting will deal chiefly with tomatoes, cantaloupes, and Irish potatoes, according to Robert H. Bean, association president, and P. F. Revier, general chairman.

Two Amateur Radio Stations Here Aid In Death Message

Two amateur radio stations here Friday night proved vital in carrying the death message of her father to Mrs. Cecil Richter of Los Angeles, Calif.

After the accidental death Friday afternoon of W. W. Hancock of O'Donnell, efforts were made to communicate with the Los Angeles daughter. Sheriff B. L. Parker of Tahoka sought aid of the police radio station here; but since such broadcasts are prohibited by federal authorities, Silas Anderson night police radio operator, gave the information to Roy Robinson, Lubbock amateur station operator.

Robinson began efforts to communicate with Los Angeles at 7 o'clock Friday afternoon and finally was successful at 1:30 o'clock Saturday morning. An answer came back to Lubbock and was received by James Baker, another amateur station operator here, who informed Anderson.

Anderson, in turn, notified Parker, and Mrs. Richter had started from her California home toward Texas to attend funeral services.

It'll Be Max Again Over Joe--Take It From Doc

Schmeling: "Next, please."

DETROIT, March 5. (AP) — "Doc" Casey takes the witness stand to give expert testimony in the case of Joe Louis vs. Max Schmeling.

"Joe can't whip Max. When they meet again the Dutchman will repeat," says the bald Irishman, who was chief second in Max's corner the night he felled the Brown Bomber. He has seconded Schmeling in every bout he has had in the United States.

Casey does not regard Louis lightly. He simply believes that the rugged, determined Schmeling has what it takes to repeat his surprising victory over the Sepia Swatter.

"All Joe's got," Casey says, "is a wallop in both hands, dancing legs, nice timing and almost perfect coordination."

Casey's list of the Louis capabilities sounds like the requirements of a champion.

Why, then, does Casey think Schmeling will repeat?

His reasons are fivefold:

1 — Schmeling is tougher than Louis.

2—He is quicker.

3—He is more adaptable.

4—He is cooler under fire.

5—He is equally as rugged, if not more so.

"There is a pride in Max," Casey says. "In his homeland, he is Germany's No. 1 athlete. He considers it his patriotic duty to live the role his nation's leaders thrust on him. It's a sacred trust. Max is never out of condition.

"Max sticks to a plan," Casey says. "He usually has the grit and the body to make it work."

"Doc" points out that in bestowing praise on Schmeling's mighty right hand punch, sports writers overlook his left.

Accident Report Compiled Here

Forty-two traffic accidents investigated by Lubbock police in February resulted in serious injury to only one person but caused damage of at least $1,150 to the vehicles, according to a detailed report prepared Saturday by Lewis Kittrell, police traffic sergeant.

The report was prepared both for the department and for Lubbock Safety council, by which it will be referred to the national council.

Total Of 83 Vehicles Involved

Involved in the collisions were a total of 83 vehicles of which 66 were passenger automobiles. One item of the report which should give the ladies a laugh is that of the drivers, 65 were men and 13 were women. Sex of the drivers of the remaining cars was not shown.

The report discloses that of the 42 collisions, 13 occurred between 5 and 7 p. m., four between 7 and 8 a. m. and three during the noon hour. Of the drivers, 17 were under 20 years of age, 29 were 20 to 29 years, 22 were 30 to 49 years and two were older than 65 years. Thirty-seven of the crashes occurred at intersections and 22 were "angle" collisions. Only four were head-on. At least 49 of the drivers obviously were driving improperly, according to the report.

Another surprising fact cited by Kittrell was that 26 of the crashes occurred when street and weather conditions seemingly were ideal for safe driving. Only 16 could be traced in any way to slippery streets or reduced visibility.

Census For School District Is Made

Aproximately 600 names have been enumerated with reports still to be received from two of the six enumerators in the 1938 census for Lubbock independent school district which started March 1, according to information given at school district offices Saturday.

House to house canvass by the enumerators, officials said, will require about two weeks longer and the remainder of the time to April 1 will be devoted to re-checking in the effort to insure the census will be complete. Estimates are the final total will be between 6,000 and 6,500 as compared with 5,673 last year.

Meanwhile, those in charge of the work asked cooperation of the citizenship in making the census complete. Every additional name, it was explained, will increase the revenue received by the schools from the state per capita apportionment.

Scholastics who should be included on the census roll are those between the ages of six and 17, inclusive, on next Sept. 1.

Hard Times For Mexico Hinted

MEXICO CITY, Mar. 5. (AP)—President Lazaro Cardenas told the nation this week hard times might be ahead.

Addressing the national convention of the Confederation of Workers of Mexico, he gave the first official expression to the fear of economic collapse that has held business virtually stagnant here for six months.

Saying his government stood ready "to limit its budget when economic conditions require it" and declaring workers of the state were prepared to accept reductions in wages, the president laid the blame for the economic recession directly on British and American oil companies here.

Because of their conflict with labor, the president charged, they have "hurriedly withdrawn all their economic resources" and campaigned through the press "to spread uneasiness among business men and restrict or deny credit to industry."

Would Bring Pressure

This was with the purpose, Cardenas said, of bringing pressure to bear on the supreme court, soon to rule on the $400,000,000 industry's appeal against an arbitral verdict granting its 18,000 workers increased benefits the companies estimate will cost them $12,000,000,000 yearly.

Earlier, Vicente Lombardo Toledano, the labor confederation's politically astute secretary general, had painted even blacker the economic picture of the next few months.

In view of the announced intention of the foreign oil companies to abandon operations in Mexico, he said, it was "inevitable that representatives of the state and of the workers" would take over the idle plants, adding Mexico would find it difficult to market her petroleum under those conditions. He predicted "an armed uprising" might grow out of the difficult situation caused thereby.

Roaring Yes Is Given

Dramatically, Lombardo called upon the 3,000 delegates present to pledge they would "take up arms against reaction and imperialism." A roaring "yes" was his answer.

Outstanding causes for the economic recession of which Cardenas took note were these:

1. General nervousness over the petroleum companies' threats to quit the country.

2. Depletion of the Bank of Mexico's reserves as the result of the flight of capital and consequent drying up of private credit.

3. Partial failure of the Cardenas administration's board program to reconstruct the agricultural basis of the nation through division of great estates into communal farm projects, partly as the result of inefficiency of the program in its initial stages, and partly on account of unfavorable weather conditions.

The Woman's Angle

by Margaret Turner

GIVE the failure credit for nerve. The successful man would fail, too, if he tackled a bigger job than he could handle.

THEY SHINE THROUGH

NO woman remains lovely very long unless she wears tolerance, gentleness and kindliness as she might wear jewels. No art of the hairdresser, the cosmetician or the dressmaker, the jeweler or the shoemaker can hide or even obscure a woman's meanness, selfishness, cruelty, treachery or greed for power.

HIS INTERPRETATION

A FEW collegiate actors in the opera have been the bane of the impresario's life, for they have perpetrated practical jokes onstage.

One story goes that a college extra in "Lakme" once remained behind when the other nonenities in the bizarre scene walked off the stage, leaving the diva to sing her aria, alone. When he was met by the personnel manager, who was in a rage backstage, the university man stood his ground. "You've ruined the opera by your crazy joke," the manager screamed. "That's your opinion," the student said, "but this happens to be my interpretation of the role."

The superior man is always on the hunt for ideas and advice, whereas the ordinary man resists both.

SCATTERINGS

THE sun shone, spring was in the air and dozens of little boys turned kites loose in the brisk, warm wind last week or drew lines for marble games. The yo-yo craze is enjoying a comeback. . . Nomination for a clever description given by a commentator over a national hookup: "California, as usual, is having unusual weather." . . . Every youngster in town, it seems, is wild for a Charlie McCarthy doll. . . . David Dodge bears a marked likeness to Robert Montgomery the movie star. . . . Mrs. R. T. Campbell has regular Clark Gable dimples. . . . Mrs. Ruth Yarbrough of Dallas won first place in a recent margarine essay contest. . . .

SONJA HENIE not only skates with the acme of grace but she can take a sprawl on the ice with elegance, too. Before an audience of 16,000 in Boston recently, a flaw in the ice sent her into a nosedive, but she got up with such aplomb and good nature, she gathered a salvo of applause.

TO sprout sweet potatoes cut them in half. Place flat sides up in a shallow bowl filled with water. Keep in the sunshine. After several weeks a vine will develop. (We hope. However if you have no more success than we you'll throw the potato away). . . . Jack Benny and Mary Livingston dress up in their newest and smartest outfits for their broadcasts. . . . It's "Rev. Bob Burns" now. The Arkansas wag preached a sermon in the First Baptist church of Glendale, Calif., one Sunday recently. . . . If you feel your posture is not as good as it could be, check on your shoes. A strong supporting arch is indispensable if you are to swing along the street in a graceful, easy walk.

THE TECH BEAUTIES

A GRACIOUS, intelligent, shapely girl, neither definitely blonde nor brunette, who swims, dances and plays tennis is the composite beauty of 1,200 Texas Technological college co-eds.

She is 5 feet 5 and weighs 124 pounds, has well-manicured nails and hair worn in the newest fashion with long bobs and loose curls in favor. She is slightly over eighteen.

This was discovered by interviewing and observing the eight young women chosen Wednesday afternoon by Arthur Portune, companion of Harold Bauer who appeared in piano concert last week.

In dress she prefers suits and other sports clothes most of the time. Her preferences include English classes, social and dormitory life. Except Miss Lorena Owens, the girls live in the dormitory. Miss Ella Norene Moreman, freshman engineering student who was No. 1, is the only blonde beauty of the group. She is 18 years old, weighs 110 pounds and is 5 feet 3 inches tall. She was "very shocked" at being told of her rating as she had never been in a similar contest. She is intensely interested in her art work at the college.

None of the girls work.

ON AWAKENING

WE heard recently of the most ingenious contrivance for getting up in the morning. It seems there is a noted scientist who also is a great music fan. He doesn't like the sound of a clock; nor does he like to get up. So what do you think he does?

He hooks up his alarm clock to his phonograph, so that when the alarm goes off, it starts his phonograph playing a record. The sound of sweet music wakes him from his slumbers. Wakened, he lies there until the record is finished, and then he has to get up and take off the record. When he has done that, he is up and ready to begin his day.

City Garden Club Is Planning To Sponsor Flower Exchange And Tag Sale This Month

A sale of tags and azaelmum plants and an annual plant and flower exchange are being planned by the Lubbock Garden club. The sale will be held on downtown streets Saturday although the plants may be bought from members at any time, Mrs. J. E. Hartley, club president, has announced.

The flower exchange will be held Friday, March 18, from 9 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. in the Harold Griffith Furniture store, 1015 Main street. The exchange, in which anyone interested may participate, will take the place of the regular garden club meeting for this month, Mrs. J. O. Ellsworth, arrangements chairman, said Friday.

Persons bringing plants are asked to label them, giving names and colors.

The azaelmum is a new patented plant, akin to the chrysanthemum, that is on the market for the first time this year. It is a hardy pot plant that blooms from August until frost and it may be bought in four colors, red, white, pink and orange. Mrs. Marvin McLarty, financial chairman in the garden club, is chairman of the azaelmum sales.

The tags will be sold to raise funds for various campaigns the garden club will conduct this year, mainly the yard beautification contest for which March 15 is deadline for entries and the Christmas Lighting contest to be conducted in December.

Civic Music Association Plans For Full Week Of Activity

Schoop And Company To Dance Thursday

Trudi Schoop and her Dancing Comedians will be presented in the dance-pantomime "All For Love" at 8 o'clock Thursday night at the Senior High school auditorium under the auspices of the South Plains Civic Music association.

Admittance will be by membership or special card.

The ballet will be portrayed in seven tragi-comic episodes conceived and staged by Miss Schoop. Music is by Lothar Perl and Mr. Perl and Max Fickel will be at the pianos.

The program announces the scenes as follows: At the Street Intersection, in School; at the Night Club; Under the Christmas Tree, the Masked Ball, in Court, revue, All For Love. The role of Catherine will be taken by Miss Schoop.

Born in Zurich, Switzerland, blue-eyed, silver blonde - haired Trudi Schoop led a healthy outdoor life throughout her childhood, playing with her sister and brothers in the orchards, taking long hikes in the mountains. Her ingenuity in make-believe games led to her enrollment in the State Theater school where directors prophesied that she would become a great actress. Too sensible to think that they meant anything but encouragement to a beginner the young woman went to Vienna to study ballet, then trained at the Duncan school.

On a concert tour through Switzerland and Germany, she enjoyed great success but was never completely happy. Strolling with her father in the Swiss Alps, she was caught in a wind and lightning storm. Against the somber sky a tree bending before the blast was caught by a sliver of light. A desire filled her to interpret in a dance what the picture of nature meant to her. She asked her father and her brothers to witness her private performance a week later. With gravity she explained the theme and endeavored to put it into movement. To her amazement they burst into uncontrollable laughter. She had been screamingly funny.

Like a flash she realized that comedy offered the outlet for her talents that she had been seeking. Within a short time she had created several tragi-comedies, trained and rehearsed a company of twenty-two. From her father, a newspaper editor, she inherited a gift for writing stories. "Want Ads" and "Fridolin on the Road" are two episodic ballets that have won the favor of American audiences.

Critics in this country and abroad have likened the dancer's art to that of Charlie Chaplin. With pathos and love her comedies describe the meek, the disinherited and lowly waging their small battles with the world and dreaming their small dreams.

The ballet is staged through pantomime, vivid dance and eloquent music and through the entire performance not a word is spoken, yet observers have said that there is keener characterization and wit, more laughter and charm than can be found on the contemporary stage and screen.

Flattering

Perfect under a coat now and sure to be useful all spring, this handsomely tailored frock of sheer, all-wool crepe, in navy or black, has a braided belt, fly front, short, fitted sleeves, buttons down the front. It gives the figure that new "long look" through the waistline, flares just enough at the hemline to be flattering to the legs.

Memberships To Be Asked This Week

Third annual membership campaign of the South Plains Civic Music association will open Monday and continue through Saturday with 20 captains and their helpers enlisting renewals and new members throughout this territory. No goal has been set but it is expected the number will exceed this year's enrollment of over 800 members.

The campaign is being conducted in the spring, rather than late summer as in past years because of the opportunity to get better talent in an advance selection, it was explained by Dr. Fred W. Standefer, president of the association. The memberships are $5 for adults and $2.50 for college and public school students, as customary with the national organization.

Banquet Planned

The campaign will get underway Monday night at 7:15 o'clock at a banquet given in the north ballroom of Hotel Lubbock for officers and captains and their workers. Mrs. W. P. Clement is banquet chairman.

The headquarters will be maintained in the pine room of the hotel with Mrs. W. L. Stangel, campaign secretary, in charge.

H. D. Woods is director general of the campaign.

Those who become members for the first time will have the privilege of attending, without charge, the Trudi Schoop ballet Thursday night in a section arranged in the balcony, it was announced this weekend.

Mrs. J. S. Johnson, captain of captains, has announced her list as the following: Mesdames Floyd Beall, T. E. Hendrick, R. M. Chitwood, Robert J. Allen, John L. Ratliff, P. H. Laverty, R. C. Goodwin, W. O. Harbison, Robert Crawford, Ben Hutchinson, Mamie I. Neal, A. W. McKee, Robert Hester, Sam D. Jones, Misses Mary and Beulah Dunn, Ruth E. Ford, Margaret Huff, Catherine Jameson and Adelia Anderson, all of Lubbock; Mrs. Tillman Jones, Post; Mrs. Raymond Ralls, Ralls; Harry Taylor, Portales, N. M.; Guy N. Woods, Plainview; Miss Margery Clevenger, Hobbs, N. M.; Mrs. C. E. Payne, Littlefield; Mrs. Joe Hudson, Seagraves; Mrs. R. E. Dickson, Spur; Miss Jeanette Ramsey, Slaton; Mrs. W. H. Dallas, Brownfield; Mrs. J. K. Applewhite, Tahoka; Mrs. Matt McCall, Lamesa and Mrs. Rex Hudson, Levelland.

The list of workers, as yet incomplete, will be announced in Monday's paper.

The South Plains Civic Music association, organized in the fall of 1936, enjoyed a steady growth under the presidency of Rev. W. R. Vivrett, who resigned the first of the year when he left for graduate study at Yale university. This season's programs consisted of concerts by the duo piano team, Luboshultz and Nemenoff, and the Metropolitan opera star, Joseph Bentonelli. An appearance of Florence George, soprano, tentatively scheduled for February, was put off because the star is engaged in making a picture in Hollywood.

Meeting Of Band Parents Is Called For Monday Night

There will be a meeting of the Band Parents association at 8 o'clock Monday night in the music room of Senior High school auditorium. Every parent of a member of either junior or senior high school bands is urged to attend, it was announced Saturday by the president, Mrs. D. O. Wiley.

Other officers of the association are: Vice-president, Mrs. Gordon Flenniken; secretary, Mrs. G. A. Brown; treasurer, J. Ray Dickey; reporter, Mrs. G. C. Abbott. Mrs. C. W. York is chairman of the board of directors composed of Dr. James M. Gordon, H. A. Anderson, Joe Haden, J. D. Hassell, J. A. Fortenberry, W. H. Edgett, Mrs. C. C. Born, Mrs. George Dupree, and Mrs. Abbott.

A recent benefit banquet and tea sponsored by the organization cleared $97.87 for the fund toward sending delegates to spring convention in San Angelo and to purchase music and instruments.

Crosby County Has Supply Of Moisture

CROSBYTON, Mar. 5. (Special)—With more than two inches of rainfall measured in Crosby county for February, ground conditions here are the best since 1915 when three inches fell. Normal rainfall is about .4 inches based on records from 1918.

Freezes which accompanied the snowfall during February pulverized the ground. Penetration of moisture has been unusually deep.

Wheat crop condition is estimated at better than normal. Acreage is large and the moisture is enough to last the crop well up into April, it is said.

Records from 1886 show heaviest February fall was 4.61 inches in 1911. Average February fall from 1898 to 1918 was .9 of an inch and for the past 10 years, .4 of an inch. Since 1918 only two years show over an inch of moisture in February 1931 and 1932.

Nails Used Half Century Ago In Home Building Are Found

FLOYDADA, March 5—Old square type nails, used in the construction of houses of West Texas half a century or so ago were found here recently when two houses, built in the late 80's were razed.

In remodeling the S. W. Wright home, six miles west of Cone and built 49 years ago, more square nails were found. A daughter of the builder still lives there.

from Lou to Louella . . .

DEAR Louella: Someone from Sudan for whom I've never done a favor nor written anything sent me last week a huge bunch of moist, sparkling violets because they reminded the donor of my "pretty eyes". It was the nicest compliment I've ever had.

My efforts last week to describe "Judge" DeWitt Landis' popularity as an impromptu speaker were lost because of typographical errors. Respect for Mr. Landis prevents my trying to tell it all over again.

The Mark Allens and Mrs. J. B. Burke are in the midst of a visit in Waco with the Lyle Barnetts of West River, Md. The former Lubbock minister and wife are concluding a long vacation this week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Burke left Thursday to join them.

Mrs. Burke will also visit her daughter, Mrs. Clayton Carter, at Hamilton, near Waco.

Wednesday night I worked late as usual, then rushed home and through the bathtub and made a concert and two receptions. The concert, as you know, was by the unpleasantly temperamental Harold Bauer and the receptions were for Mr. Bauer and Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Thompson Seton of Santa Fe, N. M.

I ENJOYED Mr. Bauer's piano playing very much but, in my opinion, the highlight of the reception in his honor was the much talked of attic—which I'd never seen—in the home of the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Mills.

The artist was indifferent and had little to say except to agree with Misses Mary, Myrtle and Beulah Dunn and other local musicians that their mutual friend, Francis Moore of New York, is a great musician and a fine fellow.

The Mills' hospitality was as usual and everyone had a lovely time. Upstairs an old-fashioned music box played softly old-timey tunes. In the dining room Mrs. Roscoe Wilson presided at a beautifully appointed tea table where hickory nut cookies (made by Mrs. Mills) and other good things were being served. Through all the rooms swished Mrs. Richard Douglas, Miss Ruth Pirtle and others in pretty long dresses as they saw that all the guests were comfortable.

I met the Setons—guests of the Tech college Ko Sharis who have a habit of meeting interesting people of Santa Fe—in the W. G. McMillan home. Doctor Seton is almost 80 and he has the looks and the manner of a man of 60 years. His charming wife looks—and surely she is—much younger than he looks.

IN only a few minutes of conversation I learned from Doctor Seton, a great naturalist and curator of Indian lore, something I hadn't known: That in this country there has never been a massacre by Indians.

"Massacre", the visitor quoted from Webster, "means 'the indiscriminate killing of human beings without authority or necessity, etc.' and every so-called massacre by Indians known has been in defense of the red man's own territory against white invasion".

The conversation was just a snatch, as I was only one among many in a long receiving line.

One of the hostesses, Doris Jobe, is a brilliant and lovely college co-ed for whom I've long had a compliment. She is a writer and a potential newspaper reporter and that is the reason I had the opportunity of meeting her in the first place. Many have been the times that she has come to my rescue in gathering news items that I simply could not find. She is sweet, dependable and very, very attractive.

I thought I had a big scoop for you on the Scoggin-Barnett engagement, but the bride-elect's mother beat me to the announcement. I know of another forthcoming wedding, but I am going to play fair about it. I shall wait until next Sunday, then if no one asks me to keep quiet, I shall tell all.

MR. and Mrs. Howard Scott, a popular young couple, are moving to Amarillo this week. Maybe, they'll move back some day.

By the way, Dorothy Levey who moved to Houston this winter is back in Lubbock at her old job.

I've had two letters from my friend this week. Excerpts follow:

"I was talking with young Billy Baskin the other morning and he said his sister Kay (Mrs. E. Roes Camp) is living in Florida. Her husband is a pilot for the Pan-American Airways and they expect him to be transferred to South America or, perhaps, Panama.

"I understand the Sam Wests are to live at the Arno Dalby home for a few days, until they have to begin a trek toward Sam's spring baseball training location.

"Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Daniels were celebrating an anniversary at the opening of the Coronado club the other night. A nice cake was brought to their table for the occasion."

Yours, Lou.

Denver Pool In Yoakum County Given Another Extension

Record Completion Is Reported For Well In Seminole Sector

BY JOHN B. BREWER
Special Oil Writer

Shell No. 1-C Geo. Baumgart, flowing 220 barrels of oil in 23 hours, after a shot, extended the Denver pool in southwestern Yoakum county another 1 1-2 miles eastward; Sid Richardson's No. 1 S. E. Slaughter, 2 1-2-mile north extension to Hockley county's pool, was completed for a 434-barrel flow, and the Pecos Valley pool in northern Pecos county appeared extended across the Pecos river into southern Ward county to furnish West Texas' oil development features this week.

Ohio No. 2 Averitt, already the largest natural producer in the Seminole pool in Gaines county with a gauge of 315 barrels, flowed 953.85 barrels of oil in 24 hours through 2½-inch tubing for record completion at 5,089 feet following treatment with 2,000 gallons of acid. Location 1,980 feet from the north and east lines of section 228-G-WTRR, it extended the field a quarter mile southwest.

No Failures Are Listed

For the first time in many months not an abandonment or a failure was listed this week. Thirty-six producers were completed in 11 counties, compared with 35 in 12 counties the week before when five dusters were plugged. Locations dropped to 33 for field tests and four for wildcats and two old tests to be deepened, in 12 counties, from 41 for field tests and six for wildcats in a dozen counties during the preceding week. Ector county added eight producers, Ward seven, Winkler six, Yoakum four and Howard three. Ector also remained in front in locations for field tests with eight, Ward being next with five.

Shell No. 1-C Baumgart, the Denver east extension in Yoakum county, 1,320 from the north, 2,200 feet from the east line of section 866-D-John H. Gibson, tubed to acidize, bottomed at 5,018 feet. Shell staked locations for two more tests in the area: Nos. 1 Hensley and No. 1 Dowden, and Denver started No. 5 Whittenberg. Opener of the pool bearing its name, Denver has completed six wells and is drilling three.

Flows Through Tubing

Humble No. 1 Abilene State Bank in the Denver field near the Gaines county line, in the southeast corner of section 37-AX-psl, flowed 6 1-2 barrels of oil hourly at 5,005 feet through choked tubing after treatment with 1,500 gallons of acid. Denver completions this week were Wynne No. 1 Fairman for 262 barrels, Ohio No. 1 Fairman for 285, Denver No. 4 Whittenberg for 688 and The Texas No. 2 Willard for 267 barrels.

Bond & Bohago No. 1 J. L. West, 1 1-2 miles east and half mile south of the same operators' No. 1 M. M. West, a discovery six miles southwest of Plains, swabbed 80 per cent salty-sulphur water at 5,393 feet, Gulf No. 1 Dixon, wildcat about 3 1-2 miles east and slightly south of the Bond & Bohago producer and 4 1-2 miles northwest of the Bennett field, recovered some bleeding lime in coring to 5,371 feet and cemented 7-inch casing at 4,752. Texas-Pacific No. 5 Bennett in the Bennett pool appeared a 1,500-barrel well in the making at 5,270 feet after a 485-quart shot.

Extensioner Is Shot

Richardson No. 1 Slaughter, extensioner in Hockley county, in the southwest corner of labor 59, league 39, Maverick county school land, flowed 434 barrels of oil in 24 hours through a half inch tubing choke, having been shot, bottomed at 4,994 feet. Honolulu No. 1-51 Dorothy Slaughter, east offset to Texas No. 2 Slaughter, a producer, was making hole below 4,381 feet after drilling casing plugs. Gulf No. 1 Mallett, a southwest outpost, was standardizing at 4,755 feet and Gulf No. 1 Gordon, a southeast outpost, was drilling casing plugs at 4,757 feet.

P. N. Wiggins and others' No. 1 Dean, eastern Cochran county wildcat four miles northwest of the Duggan pool, flowed 102 barrels of oil on air lift in 18 hours at the end of which period a break in the compressor halted a scheduled 24-hour gauge. The well, bottomed at 5,078 feet, recently was acidized. Devonian and others' No. 2-A Duggan, southeast of the discovery in the Duggan field, had passed 3,900 feet.

Rogers & Rogers No. 1 Holt, southern Andrews county wildcat, in the northwest corner of section D-43-psl, was swabbing 160 barrels of fluid daily, three-fourths oil and one-fourth salt water, bottomed at 4,531 feet. It is three miles east of the discovery in the Emma pool. Seaboard No. 1 Munger & Nix in Andrews county, in the northeast quarter of section 1-A41-psl, six miles west of the Deep Rock and Walker pools, showed some saturated lime in drilling to 4,526 feet and cemented 7-inch casing at 4,306.

H. I. Waid and others' No. 1 Brown heirs in southern Ward county, indicating an extension of the Pecos Valley pool in Pecos county northward across the Pecos river, made a national flow of 388 barrels of oil in 24 hours through a 3-4-inch tubing choke, bottomed at 1,871 feet in lime. It is 10,230 feet from the northeast, 1,980 feet from the west line of section 34-1-H&TC.

Sayre No. 1 Bertner, three-quarters of a mile farther north, swabbed 16 barrels of oil in 12 hours through tubing, bottomed at 1,971 feet in redbeds, and prepared to plug back and shoot. It topped broken pay at 1,821 feet and struck no water. Location is 8,345 from the northeast, 990 feet from the northwest line of section 34-1-H&TC.

Patillo & Webster No. 1 Johnson, promising a new producing spot in southern Ward county, obtained increases in drilling to 1,980 feet in sand and headed at a rate estimated at 75 barrels daily. It is 660 feet from the Pecos river and 1,900 feet northeast and 660 feet southeast of the west corner of section 8-32-H&TC, five miles south of Grandfalls production in Ward and two miles southeast of the Netterville pool in Pecos county.

Magnolia and Tex-Mex No. 1-A McKee, northern Pecos county wildcat that headed oil from Simpson sand at 5,271-80 feet, had drilled to 5,360 feet in lime and shale, unchanged, carrying 7-inch pipe. Stanley Thompson No. 1 Elsinore, south central Pecos, county wildcat, had passed 7,192 feet in shale and sandy lime.

Irrigation Congress Set March 9-10

Varied Program Being Arranged

PLAINVIEW, March 5. (Special) Answers to many of the questions now perplexing this "underground rain" conscious Panhandle area will be attempted during the two-day irrigation congress slated in Plainview Wednesday and Thursday, March 9 and 10.

Such vital phases of irrigation as the underground water supply of the High Plains of Texas, crops suited to high Plains irrigation, growing of sugar beets, and other subjects will be commented upon by outstanding men of the Southwest who are widely recognized in their respective fields.

Mayor To Speak

The congress, to open officially at 10 o'clock March 9, at the city auditorium with an address of welcome by Plainview Mayor Tom Shelton, will be held at the city auditorium. Registration will begin at 9 o'clock.

Winfield Holbrook, manager of the Texas Land and Development company office here, heads the committee on program and other local arrangements. E. H. Perry, J. K. Crews, H. S. Hilburn and Pete Smith are other committee members.

Next week's congress will be the second held at Plainview since this section began serious development of irrigation. The first congress was held in 1935.

Explanation To Be Given

H. M. Bainer, special agriculture agent for the Santa Fe Railway Co., will inaugurate the program proper with an explanation of the congress at 10:10 a. m.

The next feature of the program, a highlight of the congress, will be a report on the underground water supply of the High Plains of Texas, delivered by Walter N. White, senior hydraulic engineer, U. S. Geological survey, Washington, D. C. White is expected to include in his report facts heretofore undetermined regarding the much discussed question of extent of the underground reservoir of this section.

D. L. McDonald, Amarillo, water development specialist, will lead a discussion on White's report that will be concluded with the adjournment for noon.

Leidigh Will Preside

A. H. Leidigh, dean of agriculture of Texas Technological college, will preside at the morning session.

K. J. Edwards, district extension agent, will preside over the afternoon session that will open at 1:45 with a discussion of "Irrigation In Europe" by Victor H. Schoffelmayer, agriculture editor of the Dallas News.

M. K. Thornton, soil expert of the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college, will discuss "Plains Soils and Soil Analysis" at 2:45.

The Hereford electrification project in Deaf Smith County will be the subject of a report by A. O. Thompson, Hereford, at 3:45. Alex Bateman, Deaf Smith county agent, will lead the discussion preceding the afternoon adjournment.

Resume To Be Offered

Opening at 9:30 Thursday morning with Frank Phillips, of the department of agriculture, West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon, presiding, the congress will hear a resume of the "Carlsbad Irrigation Project" from L. E. Foster, superintendent of the project.

J. J. Bayles, superintendent of the Balmorhea substation in Texas, will lead the discussion.

At 10:15, G. R. Quesenberry, director of extension in New Mexico, and a former Plains farm superintendent, will discuss "Crops Best Suited to High Plains Irrigation." Quesenberry at one time superintended the Helen Temple farms located near here and owned by Drs. Scott and White of Temple.

H. L. Bush, representative of the National Seed company, Brush, Colorado, will discuss "Growing Sugar Beets for Sugar and for Seed" at 11:30.

Brooks Is To Speak

L. E. Brooks, superintendent of substation 17 at Iowa Park, will discuss "Experience in Irrigation at Iowa Park," to open the afternoon and final session at 1:30. Joe W. Jennings, superintendent of the Lockview Farms east of Plainview, will preside.

Don L. Jones, superintendent of substation 8 at Lubbock, will talk on "Experience in Irrigation at Lubbock Experiment Station" at 2:15.

"Irrigation from Surface Run-Off" will be the subject of a report by R. E. Dickson, superintendent of substation 7 at Spur. The discussion led by C. B. Martin, Hale county agent, will close the congress.

Small Fee Is Levied

A fee of 50 cents, levied to help defray expenses of the congress, will be charged.

The Plainview High school band, under direction of Robert C. Davidson, will provide music at the opening of each morning session.

The congress is under auspices of the Plainview Board of City Development and the irrigation committee named by that organization. R. Q. Silverthorne, is president of the B.C.D.

Farmers, especially those now practicing irrigation or those contemplating irrigation, are especially urged to take advantage of the opinions and findings of the carefully selected group to appear on the congress program, committeemen said. However, all farmers and others will be welcome, committeemen said.

Mrs. M. H. Sneed of Amarillo is the week-end guest of Mrs. J. P. Edgar, 2305 Ninth street. Mrs. Edgar will accompany her home for a week's visit.

Revival Spirit Being Reported

With the Aldersgate anniversary of Methodism two and a half months away, when the "heart warming" experience of John Wesley will be observed May 24, a spirit of revival is sweeping the churches of the Lubbock and other districts of the Northwest Texas conference, leaders here declare.

"We have had new members come in on profession of faith in nearly every church and charge in this conference," said Dr. O. P. Clark, presiding elder.

Meetings Are Held

Ministers of the district, under leadership of Dr. Clark, have been holding a series of meetings in strategic points over the district. In turn, every charge is to be contacted by outside workers.

In the First church, Lubbock, there have been additions to the church every Sunday for January and February. Many were on profession of faith, with a number of others bringing in letters from other churches.

"I have never seen anything like it," Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, pastor, explained. "We have had accessions every Sunday. There has been no special effort, just the regular appeal.

"One presiding elder told me every charge in his district had had accessions, since the Aldersgate program was begun."

Other ministers have made similar reports. Audiences are larger than before and there is an increase likewise in financial matters. All departments of the churches seem to be affected by the increase as well as attendance at Sunday services.

Lubbock District Methodists Gather In Tahoka April 21

Owing to conditions it was decided best to have the conference last only one day, Dr. Clark explained. Delegates are being asked to report early, as the conference is to be open at 9 o'clock, so as to get the work completed by late afternoon.

Besides hearing reports from the 29 churches in the district, delegates to the annual conference next fall will be selected.

Hollywood On The Loose..

Franchot Tone Gets Reprieve For Head-Shaving But It Is Too Late To Save Him

BY PAUL HARRISON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, March 5 — Short takes: Fire broke out the other day in the cutting room of a studio where a very poor, but expensive picture was being assembled. The blaze was extinguished, though, before it could do much good.

Franchot Tone kicked about having his head shaved for his part in "Three Comrades," but finally, convinced that it had to be done, he went to the barber-shop. A little later a messenger panted in with a reprieve, but it came too late. The Tone locks had been shorn.

Stock players are not the only ones who are losing jobs in the current retrenchment campaign. At Warner Brothers alone, Billy and Bobby Mauch, Beverly Roberts, Lana Turner, Mary McGuire, Gloria Blondell and Gordon Oliver were featured people who got the bad news.

Miss Turner, though, immediately went to Metro, and Miss McGuire to 20th-Fox. Incidentally, Gladys Swarthout's option won't be taken up by Paramount, and Columbia has decided not to make any more semi-operatic flickers with Grace Moore.

The aforementioned Oliver likely will get the role of Ashley in "Gone With the Wind." And Frances Dee has sufficient assurance that she will play Melanie that she has withdrawn from the cast of "The Texans" at her own studio to await the starting gun on David Selznick's long-delayed epic. There is still considerable doubt about Paulette Goddard being Scarlett. The colony is snickering that Selznick had better hurry the picture along, or the Civil war will be over.

Snow White A La Ritz

LOOKS as though Marlene Dietrich will continue in pictures, after all, this time with Walter Wanger. Metro gets a lot of fan mail asking that Mickey Rooney be starred. He would have been, before this, had he not been such a fresh, cocky youngster that executives feared greater prominence would spoil him completely.

Patricia Walthall, daughter of the late Henry, and until recently a chorus kicker, has been signed by Metro for glamor-drammer roles. In "Kentucky Moonshine," the Ritz Brothers are planning to burlesque "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

Harry Ritz will be Snow White, Al and Jimmy three and a half dwarfs each. Bette Davis sings in "Jezebel," and so well that she'll have to go on the radio to prove that her own voice is being used.

Censors pondered for weeks over the title of the new Irene Dunne-Doug Fairbanks, jr., picture. "The Joy of Loving." The finally changed it to "The Joy of Living."

From Grauman's Chinese Theater, a big, one-line electric sign swings across Hollywood Boulevard. Business was extra good the other evening during the run of "Everybody Sing," which was billed on the sign. The "g" went out.

Make 'Em Virile

VIRILITY department: The campaign being staged to muss Robert Taylor's hair and toughen up his roles has given some other studios an idea. Dick Powell is said to be through with the namby-pamby parts which were beginning to impart a slight scent of jasmine to his screen standing. He does a he-man job in "Cowboy From Brooklyn" and says it's his best picture.

Tyrone Power, too, was in danger of acquiring a pretty-boy reputation —at least until "In Old Chicago" came along. And Power's next assignment will be in a super-western —"Jesse James."

There is a population of more than 12,616,300 in the metropolitan area of New York City.

"The Goldwyn Follies" At Palace; Broadway Is Showing "Lost Horizon"

PALACE — Sunday, Monday and Tuesday: "The Goldwyn Follies" (United Artists). Adolphe Menjou, Ritz brothers, Zorina, Kenny Baker, Andrea Leeds, Helen Jepson, Phil Baker, Ella Logan.

A big-time Hollywood producer finds a simple little country girl and brings her to the film capital to supply him with the unspoiled viewpoint of millions of movie fans. He falls in love with her but she prefers a hamburger cook who turns out to be a tenor.

BROADWAY—Sunday, Monday and Tuesday: "Lost Horizon" with Ronald Colman, Jane Wyatt, Margo, Edward Everett Horton.

Five persons are kidnaped in an airplane in China and carried to faraway Tibet. They are escorted to an unusual hideaway known as Shangri-La where everything is a modern Utopia. Romance and adventure befall the bewildered victims and all but one surrender to the spell of the bewitched valley.

LINDSEY — Sunday and Monday: "Penitentiary" (Columbia). Walter Connolly, John Howard, Jean Parker, Robert Barrat.

A story concerning a hard-boiled district attorney with political ambitions who is forced to convict a clean youngster, victim of circumstances. He later runs across the youth when he becomes warden of the prison.

LYRIC — Sunday and Monday: "Imitation Of Life" with Claudette Colbert, Warren William.

A young mother struggles against life to provide for her daughter. When the daughter grows to young womanhood she finds that they are both in love with the same man.

TECH — Sunday and Monday: "Hearts Divided" (Warner). Dick Powell, Marion Davies, Charlie Ruggles, Claude Rains, Edward Everett Horton.

The young brother of Napoleon visits America and falls in love with a Baltimore belle. He takes her to France with him but Napoleon disapproves and goes to the girl who decides to sacrifice their love that the younger brother might live to serve his country.

TEXAN — Sunday and Monday: "Love And Hisses" (20th Century-Fox). Walter Winchell, Ben Bernie, Simone Simon, Bert Lahr.

A French lass is discovered to be a great singer. Bernie tricks Winchell into giving her a buildup in his column. Winchell, learning he has been framed, concocts an elaborate fake kidnaping which backfires.

PALACE — Wednesday: "Angel" (Paramount). Marlene Dietrich, Herbert Marshall, Melvyn Douglas, Edward Everett Horton.

Typical English drawing room triangle story wherein a beautiful young woman finds herself with two men on her hands and the problem of what to do about it.

BROADWAY — Wednesday: "Smart Blonde" with Glenda Farrell, Barton MacLane.

BROADWAY — Thursday: "The Kid Comes Back" (Warner). Wayne Morris, Barton MacLane, June Travis.

A logical contender for the heavyweight crown is greatly let-down when the champion retires. So he decides to build up another fighter for a showdown fight.

LINDSEY — Thursday:— "Daughter Of Shanghai" (Paramount). Anna May Wong, Charles Bickford.

The daughter of a Chinese merchant joins forces with an immigration agent after her father is slain by a gang engaged in smuggling aliens into the country. They manage to wreck the ring.

LYRIC — Tuesday: "Westbound Limited" with John Wayne.

"Bringing Up Baby" is a comedy riot, and here is a scene from picture which starts at the Palace Thursday, with Cary Grant and K arine Hepburn.

Dick Powell, as the younger brother of the famous Napoleon, falls in love with Marion Davies in "Hearts Divided," showing at the Tech today.

Ned Sparks adds a touch of comedy to the life of Claudette Colbert in "Imitation Of Life," opening today at the Lyric.

An About-Face In Tokyo

AN aroused Uncle Sam still is a highly respected individual in the capitals of the world, as evidenced by developments the last few days in Tokyo, Japan.

There and elsewhere on foreign soil they obviously regard him as being an even-tempered old gentleman whose good nature seems almost limitless. They step on his toes, pull his whiskers, thumb their noses and otherwise heap indignities upon his kindly souls.

Then something happens.

Thus, something has happened in the case of Japan which thumbed a Nipponese nose when the United States asked concerning the correctness of reports that 45,000-ton warships are in the process of building there. Tokyo let Uncle Sam know, with typical Oriental politeness, it was none of his business what may be happening in Japanese naval yards.

Now, for some reason, the Japs have done an about face. They who bolted naval reduction conferences now urge that one be held. They who undoubtedly are building the largest warships ever to be put to sea declare in favor of abolishing all large warships. They who have prosecuted wars of conquest upon helpless foes without an instant's interruption for more than 15 years assure us that if we, too, were helpless we need have no fear of our dear friend and old pal, Japan.

JUST what has happened in Tokyo's inner circles is problematical. Some guesses likely not far from the truth can be made. First of all, those in the inner councils may have thought that the placid American people never would approve an appropriation for huge naval expenditures.

Seemingly, they now have become convinced they may be in error. They already knew that we have the facilities, the wealth, the materials and the ingenuity to build not merely the largest but probably the most capable sea fighters the world has known. Japan has known that Uncle Sam COULD do those things. The question has been, WOULD he do it. Japan now seems to think he would.

The United States, of course, should do more than merely participate in any movement which might lead to settlement of world problems. It should take the lead in those endeavors.

But in this case, it may be the best possible leadership would be to adopt the attitude: "You started this race; now we'll finish it." Uncle Sam should do what he can to impress upon the Oriental mind that Japan has taken a bigger bite than can well be masticated when the United States finally is forced to an acceptance of the challenge to building competition. Thereby he may cause thoughtful pause in Tokyo before that nation or any other "starts something" in the future.

Get Behind The Museum!

THOSE arranging the annual meeting of the West Texas Museum association in Lubbock March 18 have requested prompt acceptances from those invited to be present at the dinner which will be a feature of the gathering.

The requested courtesy is one which should—and doubtless in most cases—will be extended. Furthermore, any person who has the opportunity to be present will be doing himself an injustice, depriving himself of a pleasure, unless he accepts.

The museum enterprise is one of the finest and worthiest undertakings to be found in the entire West. Supported by men and women who have absolutely nothing to gain except the personal satisfaction of a worthy deed performed, it seeks to assemble those things reminiscent of West Texas which will be lost for all time to come unless they are obtained now. The association seeks also to add other units to the unfinished structure on Texas Technological college campus, where the present display of many thousands of objects will be amazing to those inspecting them for the first time.

To cooperate with and support the association in its endeavors should be accepted as both the obligation and the opportunity of every true West Texan.

The One-Minute Sermon

The preparations of the heart in man, and the answer of the tongue, is from the Lord.

All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes; but the Lord weigheth the spirits.

The Lord hath made all things for himself: yea, even the wicked for the day of evil.

Every one that is proud in heart is an abomination to the Lord; though hand join in hand, he shall not be unpunished.

By mercy and truth iniquity is purged: and by the fear of the Lord men depart from evil.—Proverbs 16, 1 through 6.

Hervey Allen, Author Of "Anthony Adverse," Turns Out Another Fine Novel, One To Be Remembered In "Action At Aquila"; Robert Nathan Writes Extremely Moving Little Story, "Winter In April"

"ACTION AT AQUILA," by Hervey Allen; (Farrar & Rinehart, New York).

"ANTHONY Adverse" is just passing the 900,000 mark in sales, in this country alone. It just has been translated into French, the tenth translation so far, if memory serves. The book is an American institution.

Shortly after the excitement which followed "Anthony's" launching nearly five years ago Allen began a new novel. It was to be set in the Cherry Valley of New York, and was to be another long novel. But it is yet to be completed, because before its author was well into the center of it, he became obsessed with another idea, which grew out of the Civil war and was an embodiment of a good many ideas Allen has had since his own experience in what we used to call the "World war."

Only 120,000 Words

The Civil war novel is published as "Action at Aquila." It is comparatively short, only 120,000 words, and these used with greater economy than was Allen's habit in "Anthony." The setting, too, is comparatively concentrated—the Shenandoah Valley, and the borders of Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia. Although there is rather a forbidding cast of characters supplied by the author, it is a waste of time to read it, for the chief people are few, and one is not likely to confuse them.

Allen's story is quite simple—a Union colonel is forced to burn the home of a Southern officer and with it the body of its owner. A little later he finds and befriends the widow and her family—though she does not know she is a widow, and he cannot bring himself to tell her. There is an "action" at Aquila which rearranges summarily the lives of some dozens of people; now it is the widow who cares for the wounded colonel, and soon love replaces pity and there is an end.

Allen has explored most of the human relationships that can grow out of war, even young love. War itself he writes about as senseless conflict and actual death. His people think. An army sweeps by, and Allen's eyes are on the sweepings, not the broom. It is a fine novel, one to be remembered.

On "Puppy Love"

"WINTER IN APRIL," by Robert Nathan; (Alfred A. Knopf, N. Y.).

THERE is a special quality to the books of Robert Nathan which is rather hard to describe; a sort of melancholy tenderness, a sympathy and understanding for the doomed dreams of helpless folk, which is nowhere explicity expressed but which infuses each story with a peculiar, fragile charm.

This sort of thing is risky business for an author to handle; it can so easily slop over and become swishy sentimentality. But Nathan seems to us to avoid that hazard very neatly in his newest book, "Winter in April" and the result is an extremely moving little story.

Has A Granddaughter

We get here the household of an elderly savant: a wise old codger of a literary historian, who amiably dodders away his declining years in a New York apartment which he shares with his granddaughter, a sprightly miss of 15.

To this home there comes, presently, to hire out as secretary to the old duffer, a nice young German emigre; and on this young chap the budding granddaughter immediately pours out the riches of her young love. And the story, accordingly, becomes a sympathetic study of what we call "puppy love."

HERVEY ALLEN

Puppy love is usually looked on as a joke. It isn't a joke at all to the person who is experiencing it; it is, for the moment, the highest and holiest thing in life, a pure and all-consuming emotion which is never quite duplicated later on. Youth is not only at the mercy of the world; it is at the mercy of its own innocence and its own undisciplined fervor.

All of which, of course, has been said before. Yet Nathan manages to say it again and to make it sound new; and "Winter in April," as a result, is a deeply moving and appealing novel.

Strange Story Of Yankee Irish

"BOUNDARY AGAINST NIGHT," by Edmund Gilligan; (Farrar & Rinehart, N. Y.).

EDMUND Gilligan's new novel, "Boundary Against Night," is a strange book. It is sometimes confused, occasionally dismaying—and, now and then, extremely eloquent and powerful.

It is a story of the "Yankee Irish" of Boston and vicinity; of the impact which the World War made on them, of the place they have made for themselves in the life of New England, and of the tortured, agonizing struggle which some of them have to make against an implacable fate.

It is also a story of the famous Boston police strike, in which cold-eyed men goaded decent public servants into fighting against intolerable conditions and then smugly broke them. As a study of that strike, and as a sidelight on the lamented Calvin Coolidge, the book is most abundantly worth reading.

Story Sprawls A Bit

The story sprawls a bit rt begins as the tale of a young man who is blinded in the war. Then it becomes the story of two other wounded war veterans, and their families. Then it is the story of a Boston policeman. It is infused with violence, clouded by a preoccupation with death, shot through with a mystic, febrile intensity which sometimes results in incoherence and sometimes in vivid, living beauty.

Gilligan's people do not talk like ordinary folk; neither, for that matter, does Mr. Gilligan himself, which is all to the good. And although most readers will find this book overwrought and hard to follow, there will be some who will rejoice in it as a work of poetic power and insight.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

POPULAR choice of Senate Democrats for the important post of Senate Campaign Committee chairman—Frank Maloney of Connecticut—is a self-made man who should go far in the future.

Like many men in public life, the quiet, hard-working and able Senator began his career as a reporter—on the Meriden Record. He also corresponded for many metropolitan newspapers. From writing politics he turned to active participation, and was elected mayor of Meriden in 1930. It is said that he could have held the office for life, but in 1932 he was elected to the House and in 1934 to the Senate. He also heads a thriving insurance company in New York.

Mr. Maloney has an understanding of practical politics which not all his colleagues possess. In 1932 he delivered numerous speeches for the national ticket, and in 1936 he served as vice-chairman of the Senate Campaign committee. He's solid, sound, studious and conscientious, talks only when he knows what he's talking about and votes his convictions even when, as in the Supreme court battle, it forces him to break with a President he admires.

KIND: Two incidents reveal the courage and the kindliness of the man from Connecticut—perhaps his most notable traits.

When the President was summoning party men to the White House to line them up behind his court bill, he exerted all his charm and influence on Mr. Maloney. The latter listened quietly, then said: "Mr. President, I wouldn't object to the bill so much if you could sit in the White House forever. But you won't. And suppose, under your scheme, that some day we had a man like Huey Long in your place?" Not even F. D. R. could answer that stinger, yet the President has never seemed to nurse the grudge against his frank adviser that he does against other anti-court Democrats.

Some years ago a friend of Tom Heflin approached the Senator with the suggestion that he ask "Jim Farley to give the Al Smith baiter a job. Tom was then low in spirits and money. Though the Tammany man had been a hero to all Nutmeg State Democrats in 1928, Frank's sympathies were touched. He saw Farley and old Tom got a federal post. Tears streaming down his jowls, Heflin subsequently informed Al's fellow-religionist that his forgiving attitude had chastened the ex-Klansman's spirit. It was a good deed in a naughty political world.

COMPROMISER: Vice-President Garner can endure party feuds and stalemates and delays only so long, then he erupts. He has reached the explosive stage earlier than usual this year, and has taken charge of the senatorial situation behind the scenes. He's afraid the Democrats are making fools of themselves.

It was the V. P. who persuaded both sides in the anti-lynching fracas that it was time to call a halt. Neither side was completely satisfied with the no-decision result, but they saw the point to his argument that they would be pilloried for blocking farm, relief and tax bills designed to aid recovery. He also coached "Jimmie" Byrnes, a close pal, on changes that may make the reorganization measure more palatable to anti-Roosevelt die-hards.

Last year Mr. Garner headed a revolution against the White House, helping to spike an administration program for which he had no stomach—though his digestion is excellent. At this session he is playing the role of compromiser—saving the faces of the White House, the Senate and the party. Age doesn't seem to rob him of his shrewdness.

FORCE: The private letter of a prominent American physician stationed in Shanghai has created an emotional and political stir at the capital. Its description of Japanese cruelties undoubtedly help to explain Secretary Hull's sub-rosa bitterness against Tokyo for the doctor keeps close contact with our diplomatic family in the Orient.

The Japanese invasion, he reports, has destroyed all life, all hope, for the Chinese: "What can a penniless refugee do if he returns to his former home? There is no little hut, no farm ready to plant, no seed, no water buffalo for the plow . . . In that part of Shanghai where usually a million people live, asking nothing more than a chance to work, we saw just two Chinese." As to food: "Little children sit on the curbs of Avenue Petain waiting for leaves to fall from the trees. Hardly a leaf touches the ground before some child dashes out, regardless of traffic, to grab it and put it in his basket. Small children pluck twigs, hack at roots, chop down trees."

He warns against acceptance at face value of stories or photographs picturing the Chinese as welcoming their "deliverers". The Japs force teachers, pupils, workers, families to turn out with Rising Sun flags in their hands just as Mayor Frank Hague musters a crowd to welcome a political big shot—except that you lose your head if you don't turn out in China and only your job in Jersey City.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

PRESIDENT Roosevelt's refusal to arbitrate the Pennsylvania Democratic squabble was logical. There was no reason why he should risk burning his fingers in a local fuss. But New York political sharps figure that his apparent non-intervention put a subtle but effective spoke in the wheel of John Lewis' political ambitions—and that this was no accident.

Mr. Roosevelt is reported to have made only one request of the Pennsylvania conferees—that Joe Guffey should remain in the Senate instead of resigning his seat to run for governor. The President intimated that he couldn't spare Joe's stalwart support—an indirect slap at John Lewis' protege Thomas Kennedy, who would presumably have been named to take Guffey's place.

This sudden White House enthusiasm for Guffey amuses insiders who know how hard Joe has been working to recapture his former status as a presidential favorite in recent months.

GUILE: The real point is that the President was well aware that the Pennsylvania Democratic machine would never swallow Kennedy for governor. Therefore Lewis' only hope of promoting Kennedy to a major office—thus strengthening his own political power—lay in Guffey's switch to the governorship, with Kennedy going to the Senate. That solution was seriously considered by Pennsylvania leaders to appease Lewis.

Now Mr. Roosevelt has neatly slammed this door in the C. I. O. chief's face—and the beauty of it is that it can't be pinned on him. All he has done is to express his loyalty to his old friend Guffey.

Comment runs that F. D. R. could still give lessons to Machiavelli in political guile.

HARRISON: The existing leadership of the American Federation of Labor is composed almost entirely of men long entrenched in positions of power. They are fighting desperately to retain their authority, but it will soon become evident that the parade has passed them by. About the only leader of importance on the Federation side who is likely to gain in stature when a peace agreement is reached with the C. I. O.—as it inevitably will be—is George Harrison of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks.

Mr. Harrison has a well-earner reputation as an expert conciliator. Before the C. I. O was even launched he made his mark by settling a long and bitter jurisdictional squabble among the building trades unions. He has been a consistent worker for reconciliation with the C. I. O.—and he has stronger White House backing in these efforts than the world suspects.

He is almost certainly slated to occupy a key position in a reunited labor setup.

GERSON: Simon W. Gerson, an obscure New York communist until two months ago, may become the center of a spectacular court battle to determine the legality of the communist party in this country.

Gerson was a former city hall reporter for the Communist Daily Worker. When Stanley Isaacs became the new borough president of Manhattan in January, he chose Gerson as a confidential inspector.

"Miracle Of The Stigmata" Still Goes On

Thousands Of Pilgrims Visit German Village To View

KONNERSREUTH, Germany, Mar. 5.—Although it is 12 years since the "miracle of the stigmata" first revealed itself in the person of Therese Neumann, nothing has yet been found to shake the faith of thousands of visitors that they have seen the Passion of Christ reflected before their own eyes.

The wounds which appeared in the hands, feet, and body of Therese Neumann in 1926 continue to bleed at regular intervals, unhealing, yet without effect on her general physical condition.

Neither has 12 years' claimed abstinence from food and water—except for the Communion wafer—affected the physical well-being of this remarkable woman. She is now about 40 years old, and no similar religious phenomenon in modern times has been subjected to close and as prolonged a scruti

Texas Women Urged To Help Prevent Crim

Democratic Clubs Now Have 150,000 Organized Political

BY BETTY JANE FERGUSON
NEA Service Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Mar. 5. — The firm belief that women are better equipped than men to deal with the prevention of crime led Mrs. Frances Haskell Edmondson to organize 150,000 Texas women into Democratic clubs.

Mrs. Edmondson is sure that women legislators would get right at the root of crime. In other words, that they would figure out ways and means to teach women how to bring up their children to be useful citizens and give working women more free time to put the teachings into practice.

"I always have believed that women would be more sympathetic when making laws to regulate the working hours of wives and mothers in factories," the attractive, auburn-haired political organizer said.

"Once these really are regulated, mothers will be able to get home just before the children arrive from school. Young wives will have time to read, make their homes more attractive, and really prepare themselves for the task of bringing up a family."

WITH no financial aid—certainly no support from the men in state politics—Mrs. Edmondson toured Texas in an automobile and single-handed organized the 150,000 women. An ingratiating speaker, she made friends, and inspired confidence in every town in which she stopped.

Once the women were organized, Mrs. Edmondson set about drawing up a new kind of bill of rights—one which gives Texas women in politics equal rights with men. As a result, if and when the bill is passed, there will be 62 representatives from the 31 senatorial districts—31 men and 31 women, instead of 31 men as there now are. Furthermore, the bill states clearly that when vacancies occur, women are to be replaced by women, men by men.

The tall, blue-eyed Texan comes from a political family. Her father was Oklahoma's first governor. All of her life has been devoted to various causes—always in the hope of helping others. When she was a very little girl, she used to worry about a system which punishes criminals instead of preventing crime

AT the beginning of the Wo war, Mrs. Edmondson ente Post Graduate Hospital in New Yo studied nursing for a year, went Europe and served as a Red Cr nurse for the duration of the w Afterward, she did social serv work on Ellis Island—then back Texas and into politics.

The new disease is characterized by the dying or stunting of the plants a month or six weeks after planting. Often the disease works so slowly that the plants do not die, and the first time the grower realizes that something is wrong is at harvest when he finds his yields are extremely low. Wet soil and low temperatures are the best conditions for the development of this organism.

Isolated Planting Urged

"It is planned to replace the old susceptible milo with this new disease resistant variety and as this seed is being distributed for the express purpose of providing seed of this resistant strain to your community, we hope that you will plant it at least 100 yards from any other sorghum so as to maintain its purity. Your neighbors undoubtedly will desire seed in 1939 and only by isolating this field seed can it be kept pure. Plant at the usual time and rate. Your county agent will aid you further with this planting."

To Make Reports

Superintendent Jones secured the names of farmers from county agents and vocational teachers in the area. He is asking each farmer to report to him the yield next fall.

Many farmers have written in asking about control of the disease and reporting their entire crop gone. Enough seed was furnished each man to plant about two acres.

Counties in which farmers will experiment with the new type of seed include: Briscoe, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Crosby, Dickens, Concho, King, Lynn, Garza, Stonewall, Haskell, Throckmorton, Blanco, Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Fisher, Jones, Shackelford, Menard, Howard, Nolan, Mitchell, Taylor, Callahan, Coke, Runnels, McCulloch, Parmer, Terry, Bailey, Brown, Tom Green and Lubbock.

MAKE WINDBREAK PLANTING

AFTON, March 5, (Special)—A windbreak planting with nearly 500 trees being used, was had at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Middleton east of Afton.

Two rows of trees were set out west of the house, 170 Chinese elms and 107 desert willows.

Products Gathered And Canned From 10,000-Mile Garden

COLLEGE STATION, March 5. (Special)—The 57,000 home demonstration club women and 4-H girls who cooperated with garden program of the Texas A. and M. college extension service during 1937 planted 58 million feet of row space to vegetables, the annual report of J. F. Rosborough, extension horticulturist, shows.

The gardens, if converted into mileage, would approximate one row of vegetables 10,000 miles long. Rosborough also noted that 7,204 orchards adequate for the family's needs were set out during 1937. These orchards contain some 140,000 fruit trees and vines.

Meanwhile, the annual report of Miss Grace I. Neely, specialist in food preservation, shows that the women and club girls preserved more than 11 million pints of fruits and vegetables during the past year.

Details of Miss Neely's report show that 6,779,114 pints of vegetables were canned or brined, while 4,723,268 pints of fruit were canned or preserved. Also canned were 1,415,992 pints of meat.

In addition, 3,654,192 pounds of vegetables and nuts were stored in the family pantries. Much of this volume was in a dried form.

More than three and a half million pounds of meat was also cured and stored, of which three million pounds was pork and a half million pounds beef.

Farmers In Seminole Area Buy Trees For Windbreak Planting

SEMINOLE, March 5, (Special)—Farmers in the Seminole consolidated school district have bought about 2,002 trees, mostly Chinese elms, from the state expriment substation at Lubbock, for planting of windbreaks and farmstead plantings.

T. A. McQuistion, vocational agriculture teacher, secured the trees from Lubbock. Cost was about two cents each.

Preparations On For Farm Vote

LEVELLAND, Mar. 5. (Special)—Hockley county farmers and land owners will vote Saturday, March 12th, on the question: "Do you favor marketing quotas for cotton in 1938?", according to Miss Mildred Beard, office secretary for the county agent.

Educational meetings extending over four days are to be conducted next week before the vote in each of eleven community centers of Hockley county. D. W. Sherrill, county agent, Harvie Pool, assistant agent, will have charge of the meetings, and will be assisted by members of the county agricultural committee: W. W. Scott, R. L. Goolsby, and A. C. Jungman.

Schedule for the meetings: Tuesday: Smyer, 10 a. m.; Center, 2 p. m.; Ropesville, 4 p. m.; Wednesday: Clauene, 10 a. m.; Cobleland, 2 p. m.; Sundown, 4 p. m.; Thursday: Levelland, 10 a. m.; Pep, 2 p. m.; Pettit, 4 p. m.; Friday: Hodges, 10 a. m.; Anton, 2 p. m.; Whitharral, 4 p. m.

More than two thousand letters are being mailed to cotton farmers and land owners, telling plans for the cotton referendum.

Referendum To Be Taken In 7 Land Communities

AMHERST, Mar. 5. (Special)—In seven communities in Lamb county cotton producers Saturday will decide on whether or not they want to enter into the proposed cotton marketing quotas.

The referendum, to be effective, must carry by a two thirds majority of the producers voting. It is a south-wide election.

Regulations have been issued on the election. The county agricultural association has named committees in charge of each ballot box.

Detailed Set Of Rules For Tech Judging Contest Are Posted; Date Is April 8

Detailed sets of rules and regulations covering the 13th annual vocational agriculture judging contests to be conducted April 8 at Texas Technological college have been mailed to vocational agriculture teachers of West Texas and a few in eastern New Mexico.

Between 700 and 750 students took part in last year's contest. Ray L. Chappelle, head professor of agricultural education is superintendent.

Eight Divisions Provided

Judging will be in the following divisions: Livestock, dairy cattle, poultry, farm shop, plant production, dairy products, cotton, and meat identification. The cotton and meat identification contests have been added this year, at the request of teachers in West Texas.

In addition to the usual cups and sweepstakes honor, ribbons and medals will be offered to contestants this year. Ribbons will go to the high five men in each part of each contest. Gold, silver, and bronze medals will be awarded to first, second and third winners, respectively, in each contest. A few other prizes awarded by various breeders associations will be announced and given the night of April 8.

Students regularly enrolled in all-day vocational agriculture in Texas high schools and secondary schools are eligible, provided they have never participated in the same contest heretofore (example: only once in poultry); that they have never practiced judging on college material that is to be used in the contest; they have never taken part in an interstate or statewide contest; and that their scholastic standing is as high as required for athletics.

No contestant will be allowed to enter more than one contest. Only one team of three students can be entered in any one contest from one school. Schools may enter teams in all contests, but only three will count for sweepstakes.

J. S. Edwards Of Slaton Buys Land For Small Farm Units

MULESHOE, March 5, (Special)—J. S. Edwards of Slaton, banker and owner of a gin here, has bought a quarter section of land two and a half miles northwest of town, on which he plans to establish small farm units.

Edwards said he would cut them up into small tracts. The acreage is in the shallow water belt. Gas and electricity is available. R. L. Brown made the sale of the land.

Area Ships Out Much Livestock

The Slaton division of the Santa Fe handled over 13,000 cars of livestock during 1937 according to officials. It was a record movement for recent years.

The movement included cattle, sheep and hogs, both into and out of the towns on the division. The animals were moved from breeding locations to feed pens and on to market, as well as direct from the breeding town to market.

Territory covers from Canyon and Farwell on the north, to Sweetwater, the branch lines out of Lubbock, Slaton and Plainview, and the old Orient line from Chillicothe to Presidio and Alpine.

Hale County Farm Session Is Set; To Discuss Oil Mill

HALE CENTER, March 5, (Special)—Hale County Farm association is to meet in the Rex Theater here Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Fritz W. Struve, Abernathy, president, announced.

Election of officers for 1938 is one of the major objectives of the meeting. Another is a discussion of a proposed cooperative cotton oil mill, planned for Hale Center.

The tap root of the giant Sequoia tree disappears after the eighth year.

Much Livestock Is Auctioned In City

During the seven months period from June 1 to December 31, 1937, a total of 19,672 head of livestock was handled through a Lubbock auction sales ring.

Horses, mules, cattle and hogs were sold. Animals were brought here from long distances, mostly by truck. Prices compared well with market prices, it was said.

TARZAN THE MAGNIFICENT No. 43 By Edgar Rice Bu

Warily Tarzan scaled the wall to Woora's apartment. At the window he paused while his ears and nostrils searched the dark chamber. His ears heard the scuffing sound of sandaled feet and the faint closing of a door. His nostrils clearly caught the scent of Woora.

The ape-man pulled himself silently into the room. Clutching his club, ready to strike, he stood listening, but no sound came to his ears, not even the sound of breathing, which his keen hearing could have detected had there been anyone else in the room.

He concluded that Woora had seen him coming, and that those first faint noises had been caused by the magician's hurried departure. Now he must be doubly on his guard. There were three rooms in the suite, besides the throne room. To which had Woora fled?

Tarzan came to a door. Noiselessly opened it. Utter blackness! He advanced slowly. Suddenly he felt something beneath his feet—like cords laid upon the floor. Instantly, he was suspicious—suspicion of a wild animal that sensed a trap.

Money Troubles Bother Studes

Familiar figures around any college are those students who do not have sufficient funds to enable them to face a semester without worry. Registration time is a crucial period to them.

Texas Technological college has its share of young people, forced by unfortunate circumstances to make pecuniary adjustments the best way they can. One student, a junior, only took two courses last semester, and worked approximately 10 hours daily in a downtown drug store.

He Learns About Sodas

"I have about decided," he told a friend, "that I came to college in order to learn how to 'skeet soda'. . . . At least I know more how to do this than I do my accounting problems."

Another waited through two days of registration for the "check from home" which never came.

"Why not look for a job?" he was asked.

"Because," he answered. "I am using money belonging to my grandmother. In fact I have lived with her for 15 years — since my mother died. If she is unable to send a check, she needs me, and I'm going to her."

Remarks Are Heard

Standing in line waiting to pay their fees at the college cashier's window, these remarks were common among the students.

"Are you buying an activity fee?

"No, it will take all I have to live this semester."

"How about the artist course ticket?"

"I can live on bread easier than I can on beauty," one student answered this question.

Nevertheless most students paid the medical fee. One husky young fellow characterized the fee as "a cheap way to visit the nurses."

Loans Must Be Repaid

One miss, scarce with her pennies, decided the second semester would cost too much and declared to a friend she would go home. When asked if it would be impossible to obtain money from any source, she nodded affirmatively.

"There are student loan funds," she was informed.

"Yes, and those loans must be repaid. I'm going home," she said.

That afternoon she received enough money from her parents for enrollment.

Students are widely different in their attitudes toward money troubles. Some blame themselves, others their parents, some the depression, a few the educational system, and some the government. They show varying degrees of pride and sensitivity. One girl who is working this semester for the first time since being in school, said she thought "how nice it would be to earn money and have something to do."

Practically all agree that instruction is offered at as low prices as is reasonably possible.

"It's not the college, but the times," said one student with a hoe.

Rural Telephones Are To Be Discussed On Monday Night

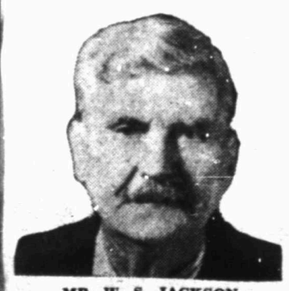

ABERNATHY, March 5. (Special) Southwestern Associated Telephone Co., officials will be here Monday night for a meeting of the Abernathy Chamber of Commerce to discuss rural telephones. Meeting will be in the home economics cottage.

No End To The Gly-Cas Praise

Mr. W. S. Jackson, Age 71, Regains His Health After Forty Years Of Miserable Suffering

"Gly-Cas has been almost miraculous in my case," said Mr. W. S. Jackson, 1200 Sumner St., Hot Springs, Arkansas. "Every joint in my body was sore and stiff and I ached all over. This dreadful rheumatism at times caused me much suffering. My system was filled with poisons brought on by over forty years of stomach troubles and I could eat nothing but what bothered me. Gas would form in such abundance and press against my heart until I would become dangerously short of breath. The attacks of nervous indigestion which followed my meals were unbearable too and a good nights sleep was simply out of the question. It was not until I began Gly-Cas that I found a medicine to fit my case."

"Gly-Cas wasted no time in getting to the very source of my health troubles," continued Mr. Jackson. "I can now eat and enjoy foods without suffering afterwards—the first time in so many years. Even my nerves are quieted, sleep good and new energy and strength has been given to me. That stiffness and soreness has left my joints, get around with ease and I cannot say half enough in praising such a remarkable remedy. Gly-Cas is one medicine sufferers can depend upon."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by all the leading drug stores in surrounding towns.

Increased Cash Prizes To Be Offered In South Plains Junior Fat Stock Show

4-H Club Boys In 39 Counties Are Invited To Participate In Event

Increase of more than $100 in cash prizes to be paid at the eighth annual South Plains Junior Fat Stock show at Panhandle-South Plains Fairgrounds here April 4, 5 and 6 was shown in the printed program delivered at the chamber of commerce Saturday.

The fair association and the chamber of commerce will be joint sponsors of the stock show. Vocational agriculture students and 4-H club boys in 39 counties of West Texas and New Mexico have been invited to participate in the event and expectation is, officials of the stock show said, that nearly all will be represented.

Total Of $470 Offered

The program lists cash prizes totaling $470 for various of the divisions as compared with slightly less than $400 at the show last year. However, last year's prizes included those for the cured meat division which has been eliminated from the approaching show.

Largest of the individual increases in awards has been in the baby beef division where a contribution of 20 per cent of the total from the American Hereford association has made the more generous prizes possible, officials of the association announced. In the individual class of the baby beef department, 15 prizes will be given this year totaling $118 as compared with $71 in the same division last year. The prizes this year range from $14 down to $5 as compared with a range of from $12 to $4 last year.

In Each Of Two Classes

The 15 prizes will be paid in each of two classes, one for the best calf weighing more than 850 pounds and the other for the best calf less than that weight.

Other prizes in the beef division will be $10 for the grand champion calf, five awards ranging from $8 to $4 for the best group of three fed by one exhibitor, and three prizes ranging from $8 to $4 for the best group of five calves from one county.

Four classes in the fat pig division will be awarded prizes. One for pigs weighing between 180 and 225 pounds will carry 10 prizes ranging from a top of $9 down to $1. The same prizes will be given for pigs weighing from 225 to 325 pounds. The ward for the grand champion pig will be $5, while five prizes ranging from $7 to $1 will be paid for the best litter of five pigs or more. Cash awards in the pig dicision will total $104.

Five Classes In Lambs

Five classes of competition will be provided in the fat lamb division. They will be: wool lambs, seven prizes; best group of five wool lambs fed by one exhibitor, five prizes ranging from $5 to $1; best group of five mutton lambs, same prizes; and best group of 15 lambs from one county exhibited by not less than three exhibitors, first prize $6, second of $4 and third of $2.

The cash awards, according to officials of the show, will represent a comparatively small portion of the value of the event to the exhibitor. The auction sale to be held at 1 p. m. on the last day will bring premiums totaling several thousand dollars above the market for the animals sold. Col. Earl Gartin of Greensburg, Ind., will be auctioneer.

C. C. Jobson will be general superintendent of the show and Homer Thompson assistant superintendent.

Officials of various divisions will be: baby beef, Ray Chappelle, Lubbock, superintendent; Jason Gordon of Farwell, assistant superintendent; and W. L. Stangel, Lubbock, judge.

Fat pig, R. L. Burdette, Lubbock, superintendent; Davis Pounds, Crosbyton, assistant superintendent; and E. M. Regenbrecht, College Station, judge.

Fat lamb, V. F. Jones, Tahoka, superintendent; L. M. Hardgraves, Wolfforth, assistant superintendent; and Ray C. Mowery, Lubbock, judge.

Best Crop Conditions In Years Reported

TULIA, Mar. 5. (Special)—Best wheat crop conditions in at least 15 years prevail in central Swisher county, according to farmers.

Recent rains and snows have added enough moisture content to the sub-soil to carry wheat through until in April. Condition is estimated at 90 per cent or better.

This was the first time in more than a decade that moisture has come in February.

In this vicinity it is estimated there are 9,000 acres of wheat under irrigation. The crop is in excellent condition and growth has begun since the snow.

Voters Totalling 2,677 Are Eligible In Hockley County

LEVELLAND, March 5 (AP)—Hockley county's 17 voting precincts have 2,677 voters with poll tax receipts this year.

Box 4, Levelland, has the most, 351; box 3, 350; box 2, 319 and box 1, 255.

Ropesville has 208 voters; Anton, 243; Whitharral, 211; Pettit, 167, with rural boxes less than 100 each.

Parade Planned For Final Day

Members of 4-H clubs and Future Farmers of America chapter of three New Mexico counties and 36 Texas counties will take part in first annual parade April 6 of the South Plains Junior Fat Stock show.

All units will assemble in front of the city hall for preparations an hour before parade time, Homer E. Thompson, assistant county agent and FFA chapter presentation.

All Boys Are Invited

Clubs or chapters do not have to be exhibitors in the show to enter the parade, Thompson said. All boys are invited to enter. Visitors and parents of boys are urged to witness the massive parade.

The parade will be an annual feature of the show. The eighth annual show will be held April 4, 5 and 6. It is sponsored by district and county agents, district leaders in FFA work, and club and chapter sponsors of the section.

Keen Interest Is Reported

Each county and community has opportunity through its various clubs and chapters to display to thousands of visitors accomplishment of their local boys. Keen interest is reported to be brewing over the parade in all communities.

It is hoped that each county will have a band represented. There are approximately 5,000 boys listed in club work of the two organizations in the section. Each club or chapter may enter a float.

Counties to be represented are: Curry, Roosevelt, and Lea, New Mexico.

Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cottle, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Fisher, Andrews, Martin, Howard, Mitchell, Nolan, Loving, Winkler, Ector, and Midland, Texas.

Reporter Discovers That He's Not Riding A Gravy Train When He Sets Out On Trail Of Story; Tech Profs Hard To Find

BY IVAN LITTLE

"Number, please."

"240, please."

"Hello."

"Is Doctor Knapp, there, please."

"No, he isn't, he is at a banquet."

"Thank you."

Such is the life of a reporter on the downtown paper trying to get a story out of Texas Technological college professors at night.

"Hello, is Dean Gordon there?"

"I'm sorry, he's dining out."

Eating seems to be a favorite pastime among the professors. Sometimes they go to shows, but regardless of where it is—they are usually gone, and the city editor is riding the reporter's neck for that overdue feature.

O. K., I'll try another.

"May I speak to Professor Pender, please."

"He isn't in, will you leave your number?"

Foiled again, but wait a minute, there's no use being licked yet. The C. E. wants that story. Dr. Craig never leaves home.

"Hello, please is Dr. Craig at home?"

Just Leave Your Number

"No, he isn't. He went to a meeting. If you will leave your number, he will call when he returns."

"That's all right, no need, thank you."

Ah, try something else, the psychology department, for instance.

"Hello, I must speak to Miss Dysart, please."

"She isn't here."

The clock reads 10 minutes after 9. Surely Miss True is home. Why, she must be there!

"Is Miss True there please?"

"No, she went——"

"Thanks."

Now, les'see. Pick out a man who's been married a long time. One who is apt to be home at this time of the night. Here's the very one.

"Number please."

"778W, please." (Dr. Qualia's residence.)

The "line busy" sound deafens sensitive ears. Well, at least, one "victim" is cornered. Try another while waiting. Dr. Underwood is a solid citizen.

Line Is Busy Again

Another busy line. Surely everything should be quiet at the Qualia residence by now.

The line is still being used by persons not in a hurry. There is a chance Dr. Blank is at home.

"Hello, is Dr. Blank there?"

"Yes, I'll call him." (Allah be praised!)

"Dr. Blank, —— reporter, Dr. Blank how about an opinion concerning the so-and-so case?"

"I'd rather not make a statement just now, Mr. Reporter, I'm sorry, but there are two sides to the question and some folks might not understand."

"That's Fine, Thank You"

"Oh, that's all right, Dr. Blank. That's fine, thank you."

One professor out of a whole bunch at home, and he refuses to talk. Tick, tick, ten bells and nothing's well. How about the "line busy" professors. No, wait until tomorrow and use them on another yarn.

Try Mr. Pender again, he should be home by now.

"No, he hasn't returned yet."

That ends it. There's no use trying. Hard, earnest effort is worth exactly nothing. . . The city editor is near again—even at one's elbow. He says,

"I'll say, old man, about that so-and-so feature. No special hurry about it. We don't have room for anything but straight news anyway . . . . thought for awhile we might run short, but all's o k now. You better run along home. You look tired."

"Yes, and I feel—sick!"

Several Conferences Will Be Conducted On South Plains

Several conferences will be conducted Sunday and Monday on the South Plains by Miss Mary Alice Biby of Nashville, Tenn., associate secretary of the department of intermediate work of the Baptist Sunday school board of Nashville, and by Mrs. Joe Trussell, approved state worker for intermediates of the Sunday school board in Texas.

Miss Biby will speak at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at Meadow to workers of the intermediate Sunday school of Brownfield Baptist association; Mrs. Trussell will speak at Ropesville this morning, Miss Biby at Brownfield; tonight, Miss Biby will speak again at Meadow.

Monday night, Mis. Biby and Mrs. Trussell will be in Lubbock for a conference with Lubbock Association Baptist Sunday school workers with intermediates.

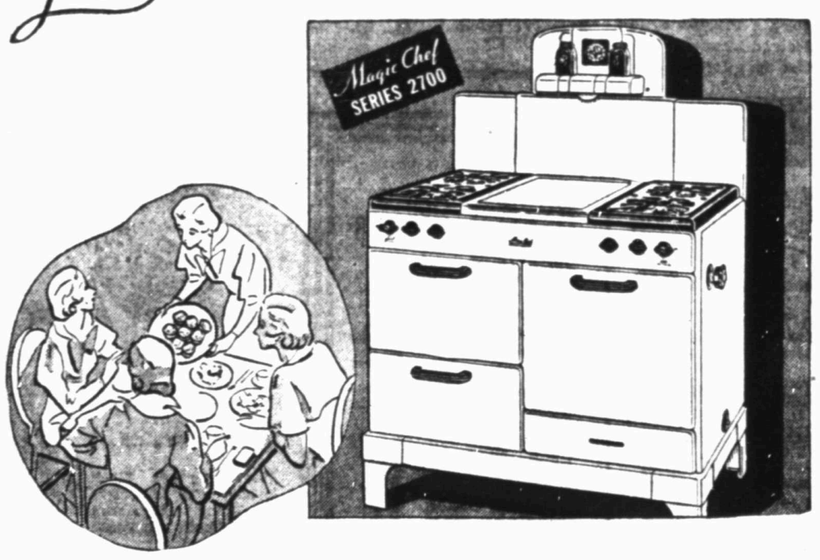

LAND VALUES INCREASED

CROSBYTON, March 5. (Special)—Land values in Crosby county for 1938 will be five per cent higher than last year, Clay Henry, tax assessor, reports.

The commissioner's court recently voted the increase. Henry and his assistant, Earl Florence, are now taking renditions of property.

The Lubbock National Bank Takes Pleasure In Announcing

A New Personal Loan Service

Small Personal Loans

AT THE BANK'S CUSTOMARY LOW DISCOUNT RATE, AND REPAYABLE IN SMALL CONVENIENT MONTHLY PAYMENTS.

Automobile Loans

ON NEW STANDARD MAKE PASSENGER CARS AT LOWEST INTEREST RATES

THERE are occasions when almost all of us need additional funds—emergencies do not wait for available cash.

It is for such emergencies, as well as for other needs of the small borrower, that our PERSONAL LOAN DEPARTMENT is designed.

Although we invite your account at all times, IT IS NOT NECESSARY that you be a depositor in this bank in order to take advantage of this loan service.

Through This Department The following Types of Loans Are Made

1. Loans to employed persons without collateral, who can make a satisfactory statement, and who can furnish signatures of two other employed persons on the note. Such loans may be repaid in as many as twelve monthly payments.

2. Loans to responsible persons with such collateral as automobiles, household appliances, or acceptable securities. Such loans may be had for the purchase of new standard make passenger cars at the low discount rate of six per-cent, and payments may be extended as long as eighteen months. This plan offers many advantages to the borrower. You may pay cash for your car, and at the same time establish credit at your local bank. Then, too, YOU MAY SELECT YOUR OWN INSURANCE AGENT.

PROCEDURE

LOANS may be procured through our Personal Loan Department with a minimum of "red tape" and investigation.

The borrower obtains an application blank from the Personal Loan Officer. He fills out this blank at his convenience and submits it to the Personal Loan Officer. The borrower is notified not later than the following day as to whether or not his loan will be accepted.

If the loan is accepted, then a special account is opened for the borrower in the bank's Saving Department. Regularly monthly or semi-monthly deposits are made to this account until a fund has been created sufficient to retire the loan. A Savings Pass Book is furnished the customer so that he may know at all times the exact status of his account.

We believe that this plan will prove a distinct advantage to those desiring small loans, as well as those who plan to purchase automobiles, etc. All loans are available at regular bank discount rates.

Our Personal Loan Officers will be glad to explain the service further to any interested individual.

Lubbock Facts Are Detailed

Compilation of "facts and figures about the city of Lubbock" has been completed and is available for distribution, according to information given at the chamber of commerce Saturday.

The compilation, covering six typewritten pages, has been needed because of the numerous inquiries from all parts of the United States concerning the city and its territory, chamber officials explained.

Information Is Given

It attempts to detail information concerning the geography, population, business, transportation, climate, utilities, churches, education and potentialities of the city and region.

Of Lubbock it says:

"Lubbock is the hub city of a vast territory known as the South Plains of Texas. Lubbock is the geographical, trading, financial, industrial, commercial, medical and education center of this area. Most cities the size of Lubbock are circumscribed—their territories bounded by competing cities of equal or larger size. Lubbock is the largest city of a territory extending nearly 300 miles north and south and an equal distance east and west. Railroads and highways radiate from Lubbock to this territory as spokes from the hub of a wheel."

Some Of Other Facts

Some of the other facts listed in the compilation include:

Lubbock and the South Plains have appeared in the "white" on the map of the magazine "Nation's Business," more frequently in recent years than any other section of the country.

Lubbock's per capita retail sales total $516 as compared with $270 for the nation as a whole.

Lubbock retail sales in 1937 showed the greatest percentage of increase of any city in Texas.

More than 3,000,000 pounds of dressed poultry, 2,500,000 dozen eggs, 4,700,000 pounds of butter, 150,000 bales of cotton were produced in or shipped out of Lubbock in 1937.

Deposits Are Reported

Banks have resources of $10,625,000 and deposits totaling $9,993,757, according to latest official reports.

Population of the city has grown from 1,938 in 1910 to an estimated 30,543 in 1938. Population growth on the South Plains for the same period has been from 29,000 to 225,000.

Utility connections, as of last of January 1, were: telephone, 5,085; gas, 5,223; electric, 6,586; and water, 4,875.

Because of the high percentage of native born white people, there never has been any labor trouble in this territory.

Lubbock has the lowest tax rate of any city in Texas; it has three modern hospitals, 38 churches, and eight parks totaling 116 acres additional to adjoining 545-acre Mackenzie park.

Although 3,665,000 acres of land on the South Plains are under cultivation, approximately 4,700,000 acres equally good have not been put under the plow.

Warnings On Flying Of Kites Offered

With the hint of spring in the air and just enough briskness in the March winds, kiddies and some grown-ups turn to the favorite pastime of flying kites.

Electric companies in Lubbock warn kite flyers to avoid power lines and stress the fact that children should never attempt to climb for a kite caught in the wires, to do so may be "absolute suicide."

Children should not fly kites with a wire under any circumstances and especially in rainy weather. A metal kite string caught on an electric wire may cause fatal shock. A kite with a metal string should not be flown when a storm is brewing due to the danger of lightning striking the wire.

A good rule to follow is to stay away from power lines. If the kite starts falling near an electric wire the child should turn loose the string.

All-Weather Road To Kalgary Community To Be Constructed

SPUR, March 5 (Special)—Residents of Kalgary community at a meeting here, raised $1,500 in cash for construction of an all-weather road to that community, where oil development is under way. A large amount of gravel also was pledged, and the services of a number of trucks.

Spur chamber of commerce officials aided in the work. Tom McArthur, E. L. Carraway, Dr. B. F. Hale, O. C. Arthur and W. B. Ford were named an operating committee. George S. Link, sr. and M. C. Golding, president of the chamber of commerce, were named on a funding committee.

Work On Highway 24 Started; Bridges Are Being Erected

DICKENS, March 5 — Work on highway 24 from Dickens east to the King county line has been started by the contractor and erection of bridges on the new route is being started.

Grading and drainage work is to be done, with caliche surfacing. Later asphalt topping will be started. The sector to be paved is the only unpaved mileage between Lubbock and Fort Worth. It will, when completed, shorten by several miles, distance from Plains towns to the North Texas towns.

STUDES WIN HOLIDAY

PLAINVIEW, March 5—A room in the junior high school here recently won a half day holiday because the pupils had brought 1,700 coat hangers to school. One girl brought 500 hangers.

The school in all gathered 5,400 during the semester and received $27.

Here's A Fellow Who Chases Bugs Every Day And His Work Proves Fascinating

COLLEGE STATION, March 5. (AP)—All H. J. Reinhard has to do is chase butterflies, moths, June bugs and grasshoppers. His work fascinates him and he plans to spend the rest of his life at it.

Reinhard's job is to catch and classify the species of insects that call Texas their home.

Work Never The Same

All he has to do this week, for example, is stand around a doodle-bug hole and coax a doodle-bug out. Maybe next week it will be grubworms, ichneuman flies or stinkbugs. That's the way the life of a taxonomic entomologist goes, the work is never the same.

In four years he has caught 70,000 bugs and filed them away in the experiment station here. They represent some 5,000 species of Texas insects. There are an estimated 100,000 species in Texas.

Reinhard doesn't have to work alone. The state has given him some assistants here, and county agents send in funny looking creatures whenever they run across them.

Bugs Are Durable

The taxonomic entomologist doesn't hold to the theory that species of bugs are disappearing. Bugs have been here 40,000,000 years and man only 4,000,000, he said, so maybe the bugs are more durable than man.

"Despite the advances man has made in his efforts to control insects, he has never been able to entirely destroy a species," Reinhard said.

Frequently, the scientist said, one hears an oldtimer complain there are more insects now than when he was a boy.

"There are not any more insects," Reinhard said, "they are just becoming more in evidence."

Food Supplies Disappear

"For instance, types of insects which formerly lived on the roots and foliage of the more unsettled sections of the country are finding their food supplies disappearing due to plowing up of the land. So these insects transfer their attentions from the wild to the cultivated land, and the farmer thinks the insects are increasing."

The taxonomist classified as an insect "anything that has six legs." He is constantly on the alert for rare insects.

His work will not be in vain. Economic entomologists will be able to find among his collection both harmful and helpful insects and possibly learn some way in which to get more work out of the insects friendly to mankind.

WORK IS ASSURED

LITTLEFIELD, March 5 — The state highway commission has assured county commissioners of Lamb county that the proposed highway 51 from Herring gin to Spring lake will be "taken care of," in the very near future, County Judge L. R. Crockett announced. The court met the highway commission recently in Austin and conferred with Robert Lee Bobbitt, chairman. The road is 15 miles long.

Increased Interest Is Being Shown In Future Farmer Work

LEVELLAND, March 4. (Special) Future Farmers of America throughout the South Plains are conducting functions with increased interest and attendance, as evidence that of the Whitharral chapel Wednesday.

Eighty persons attended the annual meeting in the gymnasium of the high school.

Ray. L. Chappelle, professor of agricultural education at Texas Technological college, spoke on The Cotton Control Program for 1938.

There was music by the FFA Hillbilly band, a one-act play, presentation of sweethearts. The sweethearts, Margaret White, freshman; Othello Westmoreland, sophomore; Patsy Polk, junior, and Bernice Stewart, senior, were presented.

Gain In Visitors At Park Is Announced

CARLSBAD, N. M., March 5 — February visitors at Carlsbad Cavern national park near here, showed a 23 per cent gain over 1937, the monthly report shows. There were 7,343 this year compared to 5,952 a year ago, a gain of 1,391.

Texans lead in attendance, 1,286. California was second with 799; Illinois third with 677; New Mexico, fourth with 609; Minnesota fifth with 408 and Colorado sixth with 345.

Every state in the union had representatives in the list of visitors. Six other states had 200 or more, Oklahoma, Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio, Iowa and Kansas. Fourteen states were listed also.

Daily visitors ranged from 151 to 454. Up to March 1, a total of 14,736 have visited the underground area. Total visitors since the beginning of a government park is 1,045,554.

February's total was greater than for the entire years of 1924 and 1925, the first and second years of the cave's service. Also, they exceeded the combined totals of all February lists from 1924 to 1931.
