Blackwood & Nichols To Drill Ellenburger Test In W-C Reagan

The Blackwood & Nichols Company of Midland will start drilling operations immediately at its No. 1 Hughes, Ellenburger wildcat in West-Central Reagan County, four miles east of Stiles.

Carl B. King Drilling Company of Midland has the rotary contract.

Exact location for the wildcat is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 22, W. M. Cleveland survey.

That makes it eight and one-half miles southeast of W. Dave Henderson and others No. 1 Weddell, Ellenburger wildcat in Northwest Reagan County which has already indicated that it might produce from the Spraberry.

The No. 1 Weddell is drilling below 10,773 feet in lime and shale.

Sun Reports Final For Coke Discovery

Sun Oil Company has completed another discovery from the Pennsylvanian series in Northwest Coke County.

That concern's No. 2 H. L. Bloodworth, two miles east of the Jameson-Strawn lime field, made a 24-hour flowing potential of 55 barrels of oil, and no water from pay in the Strawn sand at 5,664-69 feet.

The flow on the potential test was through a one-quarter inch tubing choke. Gravity of the oil was 46 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 1,376-1. Flowing tubing pressure was 35 pounds and shutin casing pressure was 60 pounds.

Location is at the center of the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 462, block 1-A, H&TC survey. The new field opener is 16 1/2 miles northwest of Robert Lee.

Ellenburger Wildcat Is Staked In Runnels

Vincent & Welch, Inc., of Midland and Lake Charles, La., and associates, are to start operations at once at their No. 1 August W. Stoecker, which is slated to be a 4,800-foot wildcat to explore the Ellenburger in Central-North Runnels County.

Location is 330 feet from south and east lines of section 2 1/2, C. O. Davis pre-emption. That makes it one mile southeast of the town of Winters and one mile west of the same concern's No. 1 Davis, Palo Pinto discovery completed several months ago.

Prospector Spotted In NW-C Kent Area

Kewanee Oil Company has made location for its No. 1 Bill Wyatt which is to be drilled as a wildcat two and one-half miles northwest of the same firm's No. 1 Oliver, indicated one and one-half mile extender to the Salt Creek field of Northwest-Central Kent County.

The No. 1 Bill Wyatt will be drilled 660 feet from south and east lines of section 1, block 42, H&GN survey and 13 miles northwest of Clairemont.

The same operator will drill a one-location north offset to its No. 1 Oliver. Exact drillsite is 660 feet from north and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 11, block 42, H&GN survey.

It will be Kewanee No. 2 Oliver.

Roosevelt Wildcat Gets Show Of Gas

Gas at the rate of 3,200,000 cubic feet per day was developed by Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 J. B. Brown, Roosevelt County, N. M. wildcat in a drillstem test at 7,996-8,023 feet.

The section making the gas is an unidentified lime. The tester was open three hours. The gas came to the surface in 63 minutes and continued to blow for the remainder of the test. There were no signs of oil or water.

Location is in section 6-7s-34e. Recovery, when the tool was pulled after the drillstem test was 218 feet of gas cut mud.

The project then cored at 8,024-38 feet. The recovery was porous lime. Another core was being cut at last report.

Salt Creek In Kent Gets Three Stepouts

General Crude Oil Company and the Percy Jones estate have staked locations for three stepouts to production in the Salt Creek region of northwest-Central Kent County.

The operators' No. 1-6 Percy Jones estate will be a southwest offset to the Kewanee Oil Company No. 1 Oliver, discovery from the Pennsylvanian lime reef, which is one and one-half miles north of the nearest completed oil well on the north side of the Salt Creek Field.

Drillsite is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 6, John Rodman survey and nine miles

War Danger Still Great Says Truman

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman Thursday said the danger of a third world war is just as great as it ever was.

The President told a news conference, however, he hopes there never will be a World War III and he is doing all he can to prevent it.

The President would not comment on a speech Wednesday by Speaker Rayburn that large numbers of troops are massing in Manchuria and that they are not all Chinese Communists. He did say the speaker is a truthful man.

As to the remark by Rayburn that there is "terrible danger" of another war, Truman said he had no further comment.

Situation Still Critical

Then, pressed as to whether he thought there is still danger today of a third world war, Truman declared there was still as much danger today as there has ever been.

He recalled there was danger at the time America had to institute the Berlin airlift, danger at the time the Greek-Turkish aid program was started, and danger since the time the Communists invaded South Korea.

We still are faced with that situation in Korea, Truman said.

Truman was asked whether General MacArthur has been authorized to bomb Communist bases in Manchuria.

That, he replied, is a question that cannot be answered because of military strategy.

However, military leaders here have left no doubt that if Reds enter the air war in Korea in strength their bases will be subjected to bombing.

Rayburn made his remarks about the danger of world war during House debate Wednesday on the draft - universal military training bill.

Almost 200 Dogs Vaccinated, Tagged In City This Week

Almost 200 dogs have been vaccinated and tagged this week by Midland's two veterinary hospitals.

Veterinarians reported Thursday that more dogs were coming in each day during the city's campaign to have all dogs vaccinated for rabies and tagged with city licenses.

The drive will continue through Saturday and next week, according to Col. Milan N. Plavsic, director of public safety. Untagged animals will be picked up.

With the cooperation of the Shannon and the Mills veterinary hospitals, the dogs are being vaccinated and given license tags for a total cost of $1.50 each.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is providing free collars for dogs whose owners are unable to purchase them.

Allies Punch At Main Red Troop Bodies

TOKYO—(AP)—Allied troops advanced in force north of Korea's 38th parallel Thursday, aiming to throw off balance a massive Chinese buildup for a new Red offensive.

Resistance ranged from stubborn to light.

The deepest penetration was almost eight miles north of the old political boundary by an American task force on the central front. Spearheading the Allied drive along a 40-mile-wide front in Central and Western Korea, it dispersed an estimated enemy company near Chail.

Farther west, two American divisions, pacing an advance in a 10-mile-wide sector, hit bitter Chinese opposition. These Doughboys seized two hill masses by running over four Chinese positions. There was about a battalion (up to 1,000) Reds in each of the well-dug defense centers, south of Chorwon.

"We have to kill them in their holes," one American officer reported as the Americans advanced against strong mortar fire and some artillery. Elements of the Chinese 26th and 40th Field Armies were reported fighting in that area. At full strength this would be upward of 60,000 men.

Ridgway Joins Troops

It was on the central front, however, that the major Red massing was indicated, despite less resistance to the Allies there.

AP Correspondent William C. Barnard reported 18 to 24 Chinese divisions—180,000 to 240,000 men—were arrayed against the United Nations advance in the center.

The United Nations ground commander, Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, joined his border-crossing troops. Ridgway wore a live grenade, dangling from his familiar paratrooper harness.

Allied artillery blazed a path for the United Nations forces driving toward the biggest Communist troop

Prayer Of Midland Minister Heard In Congress Thursday

WASHINGTON—A Midland minister, the Rev. Vernon Yearby of the First Baptist Church, opened the U. S. House of Representatives Thursday with prayer.

Mr. Yearby, with other Baptist ministers, was a luncheon guest Wednesday of Rep. Ken Regan of Midland and other congressmen. He had been conducting a revival at nearby Alexandria, Va.

The Midland pastor was to be gone from his home church for two weeks to participate in Baptist simultaneous revival services until April 8 east of the Mississippi River. J. Q. Woodward, assistant pastor, also was out of the city, leading the singing at services in the First Baptist Church at Griffin, Ga.

Mr. Yearby's prayer that opened the day's meeting of the lower house of Congress is quoted in full:

"Our heavenly Father — Great God, in humility we recognize Thee as sovereign and boldly come to Thy Throne of Grace. We beg divine direction in these unprecedented days when our world is fear-ridden. We pray for a true sense of spiritual values when we see men's minds are warped, their faith damaged and values are distorted. We bring these statesmen to Thee, asking that Thy hand may rest upon them to bring healing to this sick civilization. Grant these, our petitions, and may Thy mercy and grace be demonstrated in spiritual awakenings because we pray in Jesus' name. Amen."

Two Killed In Dallas Shootings

DALLAS—(AP)—Police arrested Charles Vinson Saterino, 38-year-old gambler, Thursday for questioning in the fatal shooting of two men Wednesday night.

One of the victims, John L. Zupancic, was an ex-convict wanted for questioning in the bombing of a Dallas leather shop. Saterino lived in an apartment in the building. The other victim was John Charles McDowell, 41, owner of Mac's Grill, in Oak Cliff, where the shootings occurred.

Police ordered the arrest of Saterino shortly after the shootings.

The short, bareheaded gunman fled to a waiting automobile.

Zupancic was shot four times in the back. He slumped face down in a litter of beer bottles.

Waitress Describes Slayings

A waitress, Marjorie Parmer, said Zupancic and another man and woman had been sitting in a booth drinking for about an hour and a half.

She said when the gunman entered, the man and woman in the booth with the ex-convict got up and stepped to one side.

The gunman then blasted Zupancic.

McDowell, on his way to the bar, was shot when he started to speak.

The gunman fired once at a youth on the sidewalk, and three times at a passing car.

Police believed the two persons with Zupancic may have led him to his death.

Midland's School Census Shows Gains Of More Than 1,000

Midland has 1,000 more children of school age listed in a new census than now are enrolled in public schools.

Mrs. Gladys Tolbert, co-chairman of the school census committee, Thursday reported the total census count is 6,332. This figure will vary between now and September 1.

Last year's census count totaled 5,165 and the current school enrollment is 5,330.

T. Whitehead, chief accountant of the Midland public schools, said the state per capita allowance for each pupil is $50. This would bring Midland schools $316,600 for the 6,332 pupils.

Mrs. Inez Luce, co-chairman of the census group, and Mrs. Tolbert, urged parents of children who will be between the ages of six and 18 on September 1 to notify one of the school principals or contact the office of the census director if their children have not been listed in the 1951-1952 census.

Faculty members of the city schools blanketed Midland March 1 in the census drive.

Two Charges Of Kidnaping Filed Against Ex-Convict

McALESTER, OKLA. —(AP)— Two charges of kidnaping were filed Thursday against Robert Phillips, 23-year-old ex-convict, in connection with the abduction of two McAlester High School students.

Phillips was held in the Pittsburg County jail pending arraignment after he admitted kidnaping Bill Coghill, 17, and his date, Jackie Parris, 16, at a McAlester skating rink Sunday night.

The boy was released several hours later. The girl was found early Wednesday with Phillips in Latimer County, south of Kinta.

The girl still is in a hospital after an examination.

Truman Accepts Senate's Verdict On Troops Issue

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman Thursday described the Senate's troops-for-Europe resolution as "further evidence that the country stands firm in its support of the North Atlantic Treaty."

Truman hailed the resolution—endorsing his plan to send four additional Army divisions to the Western European Defense Force—in a statement.

He read it at a news conference and then brushed off questions about a provision his leaders in the Senate fought against bitterly. This was the declaration that Truman should not deploy more than four divisions to Europe "without further congressional authority."

The President has taken the stand he has full constitutional power to send American troops wherever he believes their presence best will serve the nation's interest.

In effect, the Senate declaration that he should get congressional approval amounted to a challenge of that position.

But the President was in no mood to press the issue.

In response to questions, he said he always has consulted with both houses on all major foreign policy steps.

The only thing under consideration by the Senate was the question of providing the four divisions, Truman added.

Asked directly whether he would or would not seek approval of Con-

House Panel Links Oscar Winners With Communist Groups

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee has linked several hundred prominent Americans—among them movie Academy Award Winners Jose Ferrer and Judy Holliday—with what it described as a Communist "worldwide peace offensive."

At the same time Wednesday night, the committee intimated that many so named may have been unwitting dupes of the Red campaign, which it described as "the most dangerous hoax ever devised by the international Communist conspiracy."

A prompt denial came from Miss Holliday, whose portrayal of the dumb blonde in "Born Yesterday" won her this year's movie Oscar.

In a statement issued in New York, she declared she was "not a member of any organization listed by the attorney general as subversive. In any instance where I lent my name in the past, it was certainly without knowledge that such an organization was subversive."

Sworn Denials

Miss Holliday said she previously had made a sworn statement "to the effect that I am not now and never have been a member of the Communist Party."

Both Miss Holliday and Ferrer were named among the sponsors of the Scientific and Cultural Conference for World Peace, held in New York in March, 1949. The committee called this an American front for a campaign which had its origin on a worldwide basis in 1947 with creation of the Communist Information Bureau—successor to the Communist International.

Among sponsors with alleged "Communist affiliations," both Miss Holliday and Ferrer were listed as having been associated with from five to 10 Communist-front organizations.

Ferrer, whose role in "Cyrano de Bergerac" won him the male Academy Award, also was named among 49 sponsors who have "given their open support to Communist candidates in election campaigns."

Two Workers Injured On Building Projects

Accidents at separate construction sites injured two workmen Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning.

Jose Padillo, bricklayer's helper at work on the V & J Tower Building project, suffered a dislocated shoulder while lifting mortar Wednesday.

Odell Taylor, negro, received a head injury Thursday, when struck by a lifting elevator at the McClintic Building project.

Both were given emergency treatment at Western Clinic-Hospital.

He pleaded guilty in district court to a "carrying a pistol charge," and was fined $100 and court costs.

He said in his defense: "I thought all Texans wore guns."

Judge Terms Crime Worse Than Murder

NEW YORK—(AP)—Convicted atom bomb spies Julius Rosenberg and his wife, Ethel, were sentenced to death Thursday in federal court.

Their co-defendant, Morton Sobell, who never testified in his own behalf, was sentenced to 30 years imprisonment.

In sentencing the Rosenbergs, Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman ordered them executed some time in the week beginning May 21.

In a lengthy preliminary discussion before imposing sentence the judge told the Rosenbergs:

"I consider your crime worse than murder."

U. S. Attorney Irving R. Saypol said federal law, under the judge's sentence, would require the Rosenbergs be executed in the electric chair.

No Reason For Mercy

Judge Kaufman told the Rosenbergs:

"Plain, deliberate murder is dwarfed by your acts."

The court added that he had "searched the records and my conscience for some reason for mercy but I am convinced that I would violate the trust placed in me if I showed any leniency to the Rosenbergs."

The Rosenbergs and Morton Sobell were convicted last week of obtaining atomic spy secrets and passing them to Russia.

Army Slates Rotation For Korean Vets

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Army will begin about the middle of this month to bring back from Korea men who long have been engaged in the fighting there. They will be replaced by fresh troops.

Secretary of the Army Pace announced the "rotation" plans Thursday. He said General MacArthur will decide policy on selection of men to be sent home. The first battle veterans should sail from Korea within a few weeks, Pace said.

Pace emphasized that the rate of rotation will depend both upon the flow of replacements to the war theater and upon the necessity to maintain the combat effectiveness of all units now in Korea.

Weatherstripping Is A Wise Investment—

What can be more unpleasant than the blowing sand that sifts into your home, causing extra work and damage to your furniture? Metal weatherstripping keeps your house snug. It keeps out drafts, sand and rain that blows in around windows and under doors. Metal thresholds add to the appearance of your home when you have them in aluminum or brass. Let WEST WEATHERSTRIP COMPANY, 204 East Pennsylvania, install metal thresholds and weatherstripping. Call 3624 for estimates.

Interior Decorating—

There are no wrinkled corners—the sure sign of the amateur paperhanger, when ARTHUR MUSSELWHITE hangs your wall paper. Mr. Musselwhite is an experienced decorator, having been in the contracting business for thirty years. He often does the work himself, or he can supply experienced men for the job. He knows the technique of color-harmonizing to transform dull, drab rooms into glamor. When you want painting and paper hanging done, call 577-W and ask for Mr. Musselwhite at 301 South Mineola.

Wedding Invitations—

The wedding—heaven sent—blossom scented! If you plan for a June wedding, now is the time to have RAY GWYN OFFICE SUPPLY, 215 West Wall, order your invitations. Increased Understanding

In many nations outside the Communist world the United States is not popular. Why is this so?

Just plain envy of our wealth and power is one reason. For another, it's human to dislike the insufferably charitable person who keeps you afloat when you can't make it alone. And plenty of the non-Communist peoples are dependent on us for help.

Then, too, other countries feel we don't really understand them and don't try to. To a great extent they're right. But one should add instantly that the shoe fits the other foot as well; not many foreigners actually know America. They too often judge us by a body of myth and legend which has only a frail link to reality.

To dispel envy and induce the receiver of charity to like the giver is not easy. But certainly it lies within our power to help eliminate the fundamental misunderstandings between us and foreign peoples.

We can do much more than we now do to grasp their traditions and customs, their geography, their historic and cultural backgrounds, their economic base, their political make-up.

Out of this increased understanding will come an appreciation of a fact too frequently overlooked by some of our most ardent patriots: we cannot make these people over in our own image. We cannot foist our traditions upon them, nor cram them into the same mold that delineates our economic and political system.

Many of these people will continue to need our assistance for a long time. We cannot demand as the price of that aid that they simply ape America. We can, however, require that any money given be spent as wisely as possible, and it's fair to set up control arrangements which afford that assurance.

The big need is to devise programs of aid and improvement, particularly for backward Asia, which take into full account the condition of the peoples. It is absurd to think of the Asiatics in standard democratic terms; they know little of democracy and care less. To insist that an Asiatic nation adopt our form of it as the price of help would be like trying to grow sweet corn at the North Pole.

Communism makes headway in Asia and in some parts of Europe because it offers a specific practical program that can be understood by the man who is worrying about his stomach, not about his freedom.

We have to understand that the virtues of our life are not readily apparent to a man in such state. We have got to offer him something just as practical and specific as the Communists do.

What we come up with in various countries may not look too much like what we have here. But that will not matter if it gives these peoples something that fits their needs and their nature, and amounts to a real alternative to communism.

If we have the imagination to devise such programs, then there is a good chance many of the beneficiary nations will go beyond merely respecting our power and wealth and begin liking us. For they will have realized that we think of them as distinctive human beings, not as potential carbon copies of Americans.

And it's very possible, too, that they will want to know us better, to junk the foolish myths which today give them so warped a notion of our living. With that, we'll be on the road to the kind of mutual understanding which alone can provide a lasting foundation for peace in the free world.

Change Of Sentiment

It wasn't so long ago that Democratic Senators Douglas of Illinois, Fulbright of Arkansas and Kefauver of Tennessee were known among their party's professionals as the "Gold Dust Triplets."

The idea was that they were just too darned upright and consequently were almost insufferable. Fulbright was digging into RFC, Kefauver into crime, and Douglas was upsetting a dozen political applecarts with his tireless searching for facts.

But when these efforts hit real pay dirt and the moral fiber of the Democratic Administration was cast in question, the professionals changed their attitude. Henceforth it may be proper to identify Douglas, Fulbright and Kefauver as the "three saviors." For that's what the [illegible] hope they will prove to be.

[illegible] had a funny feeling that something is missing on the baseball scene this Spring? In spite of all the [illegible]lines, don't things seem just a little less turbulent than usual?

The answer, of course, is yes—something is missing. The usual John L. Lewis fit of rage. In case you've forgotten, he's already signed a new coal wage contract [illegible] and there won't be any strike. The Old Lion is [illegible]dding back and forth in his cage without the [illegible]int of a roar.

A Peculiar Place In Which To Choose To Live

DREW PEARSON ON The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: Chester, New Jersey, adopts town in Yugoslavia; People of Kumrovec are vigorously pro-American; G.I.'s hit by increased living costs.

WASHINGTON — Four brief years ago an American plane flying along the Yugoslav-Austrian border was shot down by trigger-happy Yugoslav troops. Tempers flared, diplomats protested, ill feeling between the United States and the most powerful nation in the Balkans reached a dangerous climax.

Today, in contrast, the small farming town of Chester, N. J., is adopting the Yugoslav town of Kumrovec, which happens to be the birthplace of Marshal Tito.

There is nothing official about this adoption ceremony. It was worked out not by the governments of either country, but through an exchange of messages between its citizens, in which 300 Chester school kids participated.

Most interesting thing about Kumrovec is that, though the birthplace of Tito, it's getting quite sick of communism and is vigorously pro-American. Gaston Coblentz, Belgrade correspondent of the New Yord Herald-Tribune describes the town as "a lovely picturesque place in the Croatian hills, but the atmosphere is far from gay. The peasants are clinging to their land. All but two of the village families have defied local authorities by refusing to join a Red collective.

"The 250 families of Kumrovec are happy about their new tie with the United States; it signifies to them that a beneficent American influence may be exercised on the Communist government."

When I was in Yugoslavia recently, I found the Yugoslav people vigorously pro-American, violently anti-Russian. What is happening is that the United States long has maintained it did not care what kind of government another country had as long as it did not try to force its type of government on the rest of the world.

The people of Yugoslavia now are taking us up on this, and today's ceremony at Chester, N. J., is one indication.

G.I. Gripe Bag

In order to help enlisted men with their many problems, this column will publish from time to time excerpts from G.I. letters received, and the answers. Names are not published without permission:

"A bunch of sailors," Naval Station, San Diego, Calif.—"We feel a grave injustice is being done to us, and indirectly to our families, by the recent increase in clothing prices. The ship's store now charges more than double for most articles, whereas our standard maintenance allowance has been increased less than 50 per cent."

Answer — You are absolutely right that the cost of living has shot up in the Navy, so that enlisted men now must pay $39.65 for the same overcoat that sold for $17.50 before Korea, $20 for a blanket that previously sold for $7.50, and $16.50 for a jumper that used to sell for $6.70. This column has found that Navy clothing prices have increased from 127 to 146 per cent. Yet the monthly clothing allowance for enlisted men has been increased only 20 to 71 per cent, depending upon rank. The real blame, however, rests with the White House for not ordering inflation controls early enough. For, the truth is, the cost to the Navy of basic fabrics has shot up even higher than the prices charged in the ship's store.

Lloyd Hoppes, Wabash, Indiana—"I am 20 years old, and I am also married. I went to see the recruiting officer today, and he told me that married men could not enlist in the Army. We want to help our country just as much as the single men."

Answer — Paradoxically it is true that at the same time the Army is crying for more manpower, it will not enlist married men below the grade of sergeant, though it will draft them. This is something the Army ought to explain to Congress. But if you wait around long enough, you may be drafted and still get a chance to serve.

A noncommissioned officer, Keesler Air Base, Miss.—"On Saturday, March 10, the NCO's were told if they did not become members of the NCO Club by midnight, they would be restricted to the field. Yet an Air Force regulation plainly states that membership in an NCO club will be voluntary."

Answer — Brig. Gen. J. F. Powell, Keesler's commanding officer, admitted to this column that non-joiners were restricted on the technicality that they hadn't paid up their debts. He explained that all noncommissioned officers "automatically" belong to the NCO Club, therefore those who hadn't paid their dues were restricted. However, he claimed that any NCO could have gotten out of this punishment by writing a "letter of resignation" from the club. This still smacks of intimidation and coercion to push the NCO's into a club which they were not required to join. The real reason, this column has learned was to collect the $1 membership fees sorely needed since the slot machines were abolished. This cut out the club's main revenue.

Allen Davidson, Quincy, Florida—"My uncle, Sergeant Jesse Ferguson was wounded in Korea. During the retreat from North Korea, he got lost from his outfit for 17 days, and was found with his hands and feet frozen. He was flown to a hospital in Japan and kept off his feet for one month. He is now back in Korea. I understand that once you get your hands and feet frozen, you should never let them get cold again. Why does the Army send combat men back to Korea who have had frozen hands or feet?"

Answer — Only light frostbite cases, which have fully recovered, are allowed to be sent back to combat. If Sergeant Ferguson was frozen so severely that he had to be hospitalized for a month, he should not have been returned to Korea. This column has asked the Army for a complete investigation.

A corporal, somewhere in Korea.—"I don't like to complain, but our rations are so low that the men are always hungry."

Answer — "There is no food shortage in Korea. The Army supplies plenty of tinned foods for a normal daily diet, also does its best to deliver enough fresh food to each unit for at least one hot meal per day. However, under battle conditions, occasionally supplies are delayed or diverted. This happened in isolated instances.

What's RIGHT?

Your wife is telling an anecdote to a group of friends and she makes a statement you think is wrong.

WRONG: Interrupt her to say flatly that she is wrong.

RIGHT: Either keep quiet or wait until she has finished the story to make the correction if it is really important enough to mention.

Abe and Ikey met on Brooklyn Bridge. Abe asked, "What are you doing these days?" His friend replied, "I'm studying mental telepathy." Abe exclaimed, "What's that?" The other explained, "The ability to read your mind—tell you what you're thinking about." Abe declared, "I'll bet you $5 you can't tell me what I'm thinking about?"

Ikey said, "You are thinking about going over to Brooklyn, opening a clothing store with a $15,000 stock, taking out $20,000 in fire insurance, have a fire and then have a fire sale." Abe handed over $5. Ikey said, "Did I read your mind?"

His friend answered, "No, but it's a durn good idea; it's worth the money."

I dropped into the Hotel Madison the other day to see my favorite partner, John Crawford, in his newly established card school. Johnny was busy giving a lesson, so I proceeded to listen in.

"Whenever you have to guess," Johnny was saying, "there's a chance that you'll guess wrong. The job of a good partner is to turn guesses into certainties. Here's an example."

And he laid out the hand shown today. I cribbed it from him to give all my readers a free lesson.

West opens the seven of diamonds, East plays the queen, and South wins with the ace. Declarer leads a club to dummy and returns a trump. East plays the queen, and South wins with the ace. South next leads the jack of hearts, and East wins with the king.

East naturally cashes the king of diamonds, and South cleverly drops the jack. East thinks matters over and wonders who has the missing deuce of diamonds. Should he lead another diamond, or should he lead spades? He has to guess correctly since otherwise dummy's clubs will take care of South's losers.

This would be a guess to many players—but not if West is an expert. A really fine West would play the three of hearts on the first round of trumps and the two of hearts on the second round. That would eliminate the guess.

This play, called a "trump echo," shows a holding of three trumps and is used only when the player has some chance to ruff something with his third trump. When used in this hand, it shows that West is ready to ruff the third round of diamonds; and it warns East not to lead spades.

A very delicate point, to be sure, but this was a lesson for experts.

Revise Intelligence Agency To Avert Future 'Pearl Harbor'

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—If the Russians decided to throw their navy and air force into the Korean war against the United Nations, would there be ample U. S. intelligence reports and advance warning?

If the Russian army decided to move against Iran, would leaders of the anti-Communist countries know what to expect?

If the Balkan satellite countries were ordered to attack Yugoslavia, would Marshal Tito be given proper support in time?

Or if the Russians themselves advanced any place in Western Europe, would the correct estimates have been made on the Soviet potential for waging an all-out war?

These are just a few of the key questions with which the U. S. government's Central Intelligence Agency is daily concerned. They are the same sort of questions which faced the U. S. before Pearl Harbor and before the North Koreans made their sneak attack across the 38th parallel last June.

There was great debate after both these wars were started as to whether the U. S. intelligence services gave adequate warning. Army and Navy intelligence services both maintained that they had furnished adequate information to anticipate the attacks. The fault was said to lie in failure to estimate and evaluate the information from the intelligence services correctly.

Argument Still Rages

It was to remedy this defect that the U. S. CIA was created by Congress three years ago. That the defect was not entirely corrected is evident from what happened in Korea. But the argument still rages in Washington over whether the Korean attack caught the United States off guard because of an intelligence failure or a command failure.

This argument will probably always rage over every new military crisis that arises. For no matter how good the intelligence services may be, there always will be an element of tactical surprise in war. If tactical surprise could be completely eliminated, war itself might be made impossible.

When Lt. Gen. Walter B. Smith was made director of Central Intelligence last October, one of his principal moves to strengthen the organization was to improve its system for making estimates of intelligence reports. He created an Office of Estimates. Its head now is Dr. William Langer, Harvard and Columbia University professor and wartime chief of research and analysis in Office of Strategic Services.

Dr. Langer's staff is small. Its function is, briefly, to receive intelligence reports from Army, Navy, Air Force, State Department, FBI, Atomic Energy Commission and other government agencies, as well as CIA's own staff. These reports are pulled together and evaluated. Then a report is prepared which will give the President, the Department of Defense and the State Department the information they need to have in order to make their policy decisions for diplomatic or military moves.

Interpretation Needed

Sometimes, of course, the estimators assigned to any "task force" cannot agree on what interpretation to make of their intelligence. The problem then passes to the Intelligence Advisory Committee. This group is headed by General Smith. Its other members are W. Park Armstrong, Jr., of State Department's intelligence research, and the heads of intelligence for the three armed services: Maj. Gen. Alexander R. Bolling, Army, G-2; Rear Adm. Felix Johnson, chief of ONI—Office of Naval Intelligence; Maj. Gen. Charles P. Cabell, A-2 for the Air Force.

Intelligence reports go primarily to the National Security Council, which is the country's top policy committee. In addition to the President and vice president, it consists of Secretary of State Acheson, Secretary of Defense Marshall, Chairman W. Stuart Symington of National Security Resources Board and General Smith.

The reports constantly are revised and brought up to date. And by this system, General Smith believes the government now is equipped to avoid the intelligence breakdowns of Pearl Harbor and Korea.

General Smith himself was never an intelligence officer. But as chief of staff for General Eisenhower in Europe and as U. S. ambassador to Moscow, he recognized the value of the best possible intelligence.

In addition to being head of Central Intelligence, which handles research and analysis, General Smith also is head of Central Intelligence Agency. This is the operating end of CIA, and about it little can be made public. Its size, budget, methods and functions are top secret.

KILLER'S PACE

BY JULIUS LONG

COPYRIGHT 1951 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Star Williams, criminal lawyer, obtains acquittal for Rose Bidault at her murder trial by showing the jury that her gun, which experts said wouldn't go off accidentally when dropped, would do so. After visiting a lady magician, he drops the gun in court and it goes off. I, Jim Marshall, his leg-man, am convinced there is something fishy about this business. I am now taking Rose home from her trial so that she can write a check for the balance of Star's fee.

VI

ROSE BIDAULT came out of her boudoir. She's put on a slinky kind of slacks and a halter. These were dark blue and there was a blend with her smoky black hair. She wore no makeup, save bright lipstick. Her eyes were dark and sultry.

I don't know what there was about Rose that got you. She had done all right. Quitting school when she was 16, she had married a railroad fireman, but he had died on an engine that went into an open switch at 70 miles an hour. Rose collected insurance and compensation and her next husband had been a real estate man named Hubert LeVeque, who had committed suicide two years later. There was no talk of foul play—Rose had been in Miami at the time. She married Barney Bidault a couple of weeks after the funeral.

"I showered and put off those awful clothes. They smelled of the jail," she said. We went to the portable bar and I mixed drinks with seltzer water which was about half flat.

"Well, Mrs. Bidault, I hope you have enough strength to write that check," I said.

"Don't call me Mrs. Bidault and don't worry about your check," she eyed me with lids half closed. "I want to tell you something, Marshall."

"You can call me Jim."

"All right, Jim. I want to tell you something. I never told a soul before. I don't think Larry's ever mentioned it, either."

She meant Larry Stone, a local playboy. District Attorney Andy Tanner had spent a lot of time trying to link Larry with Rose Bidault, but there hadn't been enough for him to go on.

She hesitated. "That's right, isn't it, about them not being able to try me again, no matter what happens?"

"That's right. Even if Andy Tanner should dig up six eye-witnesses, he couldn't use them against you now."

Rose sighed. "Well, I guess it doesn't make any difference if I tell the truth about Barney's murder now."

I straightened. I hadn't realized the drink had hit her that hard. She looked so cool and sober.

"Listen, Rose, I don't want to hear about it. The jury's returned a verdict of not guilty, so let's leave it that way!"

"But you don't understand. I didn't kill Barney."

SHE said it so simply and directly, looking me in the eyes and using a tone she might have used to say that she had just emptied her glass, which she had.

"All right, Rose, you didn't kill him. You say it, and the jury said it. So let's let it go at that!"

"I really didn't do it. I had nothing whatever to do with it—I didn't even drop the gun. It was Larry who told me to say that. It was Larry who fixed up the whole story. He even insisted that I shouldn't give any other story to Star Williams. That's why I never told Star."

She drew her legs up and cuddled in the big chair. She had finally claimed my undivided attention.

"It happened like this. Barney told me he was going to Cleveland on business. He said he was carrying a lot of bonds and wanted to borrow my little gun. I told him to take it and welcome. Actually, I never shot a gun in my life. I laughed at him in the first place when he bought it for me." She laughed now. "I never needed a gun to protect myself. I wasn't afraid to be alone with all the servants gone, and of course I got rid of them that night. It seemed like a swell time to have Larry over.

"Well, it turned out that Barney was wise to us. He borrowed my gun to kill us both when he caught us. But something went wrong with his plans. Somebody was with him when he barged in here. Whoever it was took the gun away from him and killed him with it."

She frowned at the incredulity in my eyes.

"That's what happened — don't look at me like that! We were both in there—" she pointed to the sunroom—"when we heard the shot. Larry came out and looked. He was scared, and so was I. At first I thought Barney had committed suicide. Then Larry convinced me it couldn't have been.

"I was to tell the police that Barney was going down to the office and was worried about leaving me alone with no servants around, so he had insisted that I get out my little gun and keep it handy. When he handed me the gun I let it slip to the floor. It went off and killed him." She bit her lip ruefully.

"A fine bill of goods the rat sold you. He knew the suicide story wouldn't hold. He was only looking out for himself."

THE sultry eyes shot me a resentful glance. "That's what's worrying me—I can't believe it was suicide. Somebody trailed Barney into the house and shot him! Whoever it was ran out of the room, downstairs and got away. Maybe the killer was waiting out there—knowing that Barney would come—anyway, he knew where to find my gun."

It was a great big chunk all of a sudden, and I couldn't swallow it.

"You don't believe me," she said. "What do you believe?"

"That Barney discovered you and Larry Stone and that either you or Stone shot him."

You Can Eat All You Want But Eat Less Too

Sounds like double talk, but it isn't. In other words, asks the guy who is fighting the battle of the bulges, "How can I take off weight without going hungry?" Well, common sense is the watchword. You eat plenty to satisfy your appetite and still eat LESS.

It just doesn't make sense to go on a strenuous diet '— take off weight, then quickly put it back on again when the diet period is over. For it is obvious that one cannot go on a rigid diet over a protracted period.

Recently there has appeared on the market several diet and vitamin "plans" which mean a strenuous diet and vitamins to fortify against weakness caused by lack of food. But as mentioned above, you can't keep this up very long and when you quit—back comes the fat.

An exhaustive survey made among Texas druggists recently has shown one outstanding reducing aid is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan". It allows you to eat all you want, but you eat LESS.

Nearly four million bottles of this preparation, called Barcentrate, have been sold in Texas in the past eight years.

There is an ingredient in Barcentrate which definitely curbs your appetite and stops you from eating more than necessary for the energy you spend. At the same time it dehydrates and eliminates. There is nothing harmful in Barcentrate. The formula is plainly printed on the label. You can get a four ounce bottle of Barcentrate from any Texas druggist. Mix with 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice and take two tablespoonsful twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose that ugly fat, the makers agree to refund your money.

I wish to express my appreciation for the confidence you have shown in electing me to Place 3 on your city council.

Daddy Ringtail :: By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail, Yellow Cat And Gray Squirrel

A gray squirrel once came to live in a tree not far from the very tall tree where Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, lives up in the top in his monkey house.

The gray squirrel was not a squirrel-people. The gray squirrel didn't talk the talk that people talk. Oh, but Daddy Ringtail was happy anyway to have the little fellow live in the tree close by. Daddy Ringtail often fed him nuts.

What fun to do it! The squirrel could chatter and talk in squirrel talk. He would frisk his tail up over his back, and up he would come to take the nut from Daddy Ringtail's hand.

Well, but I want to tell you, too, about Minneybell, Daddy Ringtail's yellow cat. Minneybell began to chase the little gray squirrel, I am sorry to say. Often he would run with a jump and scramble to climb a tree just ahead of Minnybell chasing him. Then he would sit up on the limb of the tree and scold and scold at Minnybell for being so very unkind.

Daddy Ringtail gave Minnybell a talking-to, but it didn't do any good. One day he gave her two talkings-to, but that also did no good. Daddy Ringtail didn't know what he was going to do about Minnybell. Why, several times the little squirrel had been chased away and up the tree before he could take the nut that Daddy Ringtail was trying to give him. One, time, too, Minnybell began to climb up the tree to get the squirrel where he sat on the limb to crack the nut with his sharp little teeth. Oh, my yes. What excitement!

Up, up, up climbed Minnybell. There! She was now on the limb where the squirrel was, and then—and then—what ascrimble and scramble of fur all yellow and gray. Well, it was quite a fright, and who was the big winner?

Oh, a squirrel has sharp, sharp teeth, remember, and that Minnybell has learned her lesson, she never chases the gray squirrel any more. Nossir, because the little gray squirrel now is the one who chases Minnybell, all for fun. Up a tree goes Minnybell in a hurry. Yes, and she sits on the limb while the little gray squirrel eats all the nuts he wants on the ground. Happy day, and it served old Minnybell right, I think, don't you?

SAVED REVOLUTION

A small fleet under Benedict Arnold in Lake Champlain helped save the American Revolution by delaying for a year British invaders from Canada, who then were defeated disastrously at Saratoga, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Among the inventions of Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, are an electric probe for locating bullets in a human body and a device resembling modern iron lungs.

Mickey Can Forget About Texas Unless He Tries To Return

AUSTIN —(AP)— Gambler Mickey Cohen apparently can forget about Texas if he doesn't came back here.

At least that's the way things look after the chairman of the Texas Crime Committee announced his group didn't want extradition of Cohen at this time.

The Los Angeles gambler was indicted for contempt by a Travis County grand jury Tuesday for failure to show up at a committee hearing.

Sheriff Ernest Best, to whom the arrest warrant was issued, said he expected to go ahead and serve it.

But Rep. Fred Meridith announced the committee is perfectly willing to "accept Cohen's statement that he will confine his activities and living to the other 47 states."

Pending Personal Entry

He said the committee would request the county attorney and officers to hold copies of the warrant pending any personal entry into Texas."

In a side development on the Cohen case, two El Paso police officers were fired Wednesday for their hospitality to Cohen.

Detective W. D. White and Radio Patrolman John Hartridge said they would appeal to the Civil Service Commission.

Acting Police Chief Roy Vinson said Hartridge was fired for being absent two days, including time spent with Cohen.

White is accused of associating with a known criminal. Detective Capt. R. H. Lessor also said he had asked White to discourage Cohen's visit to El Paso for the funeral of slain Police Officer Ralph Marmolejo.

Cohen, in Los Angeles, termed the firings an "outrage" and said the only favors shown him by the two officers was that "they didn't arrest me."

Paris Scene Is 'Picture Of Month' At First National

"Opera Plaza, Paris" is the April "Picture of the Month" on display in The First National Bank here. The painting is by Pierre Gagni, famous French artist.

The tonal values of the "Opera Plaza" painting are exceedingly subtle and express the delicate atmospheric effects of Spring. The artist achieves a rare combination of color, light and atmosphere, through which he captures the varied and fleeting moods of the Paris streets. Critics say this is one of his outstanding paintings.

Pierre Gagni, an impressionist of rare feeling, was born in 1900, and early in life his desire to paint overshadowed all other interests. He loved the Paris streets with their movements, color and depth and, after attending the Beaux Arts, he began to paint them as they looked to him and as he felt them.

His works have been exhibited in leading art galleries throughout the world.

Eighth President Of Mormon Church Dies

SALT LAKE CITY —(AP)— George Albert Smith, the kindly, soft-spoken eighth president of the Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) Church, died Wednesday night at his Salt Lake City home.

Death came on his eighty-first birthday as members of the mighty Mormon Empire flocked into Salt Lake City for the church's 121st biennial conference.

President Truman commented that this nation has "lost a great man."

Church president slightly less than six years, Elder Smith had been ill most of the Winter following a virus infection attack.

Funeral services will be held Saturday in the famed, oval domed Mormon Tabernacle on Temple Square, a short distance from the family home.

Head-To-Head Twins Go On Exhibition

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Public exhibition of the negro Siamese twins born here 23 months ago will bring Mrs. Willie Jones, their mother, at least $10,000 a year.

The mother signed a contract with Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Younger Wednesday under which she will receive 70 per cent of the net proceeds or a minimum of $5,000 every six months.

The twins, their heads joined together at the top, went on display Thursday at a circus and later will be taken on tour, traveling in a glass-paneled trailer.

Carpenter Says He's Now Really "Rarin' to Go!"

How bad can things get? After all when your job is carpentry and requires lots of climbing up and down in all kinds of weather, you can't be bogged down, slowed to a walk, by aches and pains. Your job suffers, your interest in life suffers, and you start feeling years older than you are.

When Mr. T. G. Pude Morlan, Rural Route No. 1, Monett, Missouri, ran into just this situation, though, he decided to act fast, get back on the road to feeling right again. He'd heard how HADACOL had helped folks who were suffering aches and pains caused by a lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron and he decided to see what it would do for him. The wonderful results of this decision can only be told properly in Mr. Morlan's own written words, sent to us voluntarily.

He says: "Just a line in regard to HADACOL. I am a carpenter by trade, have worked out in all kinds of weather which lately caused me considerable aches and pains and stiffness. I started taking HADACOL, so today, I am on my eighth bottle and am working every day. I am 58 years old and can climb up and down on my job. I have a good appetite, sleep good at night and I wake up mornings raring to go. I started feeling better when I had taken but 4 bottles. So I intend to go on taking your wonderful product. I have recommended HADACOL to all my friends, and I have four who told me they would give it a trial at once. So, as I am very well known in and around Monett, Missouri, you are welcome to use my name in any way as you choose in regard to your wonderful product."

So the letters go, day after day, from state after state, telling of the real, genuine help that HADACOL has brought to folks like Mr. Morlan. For, you see, HADACOL supplies more than the minimum daily requirements of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron to correct the very cause of aches and pains when due to a lack of these very elements. These elements, plus helpful quantities of Phosphorus and Calcium, are in a special liquid form, already dissolved for quick, easy absorption in the system.

No wonder thousands say that only HADACOL gives you that "Wonderful Hadacol Feeling." Won't you give this wonderful formula a chance to help you, to give you new hope for the future, to stop your being a burden to yourself and to your friends and family? Remember HADACOL is recommended by many doctors and is sold on a strict money-back guarantee. Only $1.25 in the trial size; only $3.50 in the large economy family size.

★ THE DOCTOR SAYS ★

See Your Doctor Promptly If Bladder Trouble Develops

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

For some reason which is hard to understand, many people are more inclined to neglect or ignore pus or blood in the urine, painful or burning urination or similar abnormalities more often than almost any other symptom which could be serious. Perhaps the reason is that so many urinary signs tend to come and go. But whatever the excuse, postponing a search for the cause is dangerous and too often leads to serious trouble which could have been avoided by prompt action.

Among the common urinary symptoms is the presence of pus—usually accompanied by burning sensations—in the urine. This indicates the presence of inflammation, usually actual infection, somewhere in the urinary passages from the kidneys on down. It is well to find just where this comes from—and start treatment before the condition has become chronic.

One of the common locations for inflammation is in the bladder itself. This is called cystitis. In addition to causing pus to appear in the urine, cystitis is likely to produce some pain, and chills and fever are by no means uncommon.

The lining of the wall of the urinary bladder becomes inflamed, swollen, and red. If this is allowed to go on too long the wall of the bladder may become thickened, its capacity lessened, and a state of chronic difficulty may go on for years.

Rapid Treatment

Most cases of cystitis are caused by germs, though chemicals or other irritating substances also can bring it on. Now, however, thanks to the many preparations which attack germs, the treatment of most forms of cystitis (if found early) is more effective and more rapid than it used to be.

Moreover, the use of an ingenious instrument, called the cystoscope, makes it possible to look into the bladder and tell quite accurately what is wrong and just what part of the bladder is involved.

But the doctor cannot drag patients into his office who need attention. It is therefore up to anyone who has pus in the urine or any other suspicious symptom to act promptly.

After the Shakespeare Memorial Theater at Stratford-on-Avon burned in 1926, America contributed more than half of a million-dollar fund for its rebuilding.

Texas Employers' Earned Premiums At All-Time High

DALLAS — Earned premiums of the Texas Employers' Insurance Association reached an all-time high of $15,146,358.98, A. F. Allen, president, reported at the annual luncheon meeting of the policyholders of the Association held recently. This was an increase of $439,558.26 over 1949. The assets at the close of business, Dec. 31, 1950, totaled $13,365,980.79, and surplus to policyholders amounted to $4,373,914.78.

Reporting on savings made for policyholders, Allen stated that during 1950, cash dividends were paid in the amount of $1,847,684.74 in addition to $1,171,270.90 received by policyholders as guaranteed cost discounts. These two items represent total savings returned to policyholders during 1950 amounting to $3,018,955.64 or 19.9 per cent of earned premiums. The operating expenses for the year were 21.9 per cent.

Three new directors were added to the board of the Texas Employers' Insurance Association: W. W. Lynch, Dallas; Cecil R. Rix, Port Arthur; and Ben H. Mitchell, Dallas.

Lasting Metal Spray

This young woman gives herself a near-professional shampoo at home, with the aid of a spray permanently attached to wall of bathroom. Flexible, four-foot steel hose stretches for thorough rinsing of all parts of her head.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Today's improved preparations for home hair care are tempting more women than ever to try their hands at such unfamiliar tasks as tinting and permanent - waving their locks.

Since thorough hair rinsing is an important part of these operations, a new shampoo spray should prove a help to those amateur beauticians in making their efforts appear more professional.

This shampoo aid, described by its makers as a lifetime spray, is designed for permanent installation on the wall of the bathroom.

It consists of four feet of flexible, stainless-steel hose and a chromium-plated brass spray head. The wall hook is also a chromium-brass combination.

Hot and cold water are controlled by a diverter valve on the washbowl fixture, to adjust the spray to the temperature that you desire.

The spray, which is always conveniently at hand whenever you need it, is held by the hook in a non-drip position when it's not in use.

Molasses Is Real Spring Tonic

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Remember hearing about people taking black strap molasses as a spring tonic? That was long ago in the difficult days. Now science has improved molasses into a pure high quality source of iron that children love.

Golden brown instead of black, sweet and mellow, unsulphured molasses contains an average of 73 per cent natural sugars . . the cane, dextrose and levulose found in the concentrated juice of sunripened sugar cane, is also several times richer than spinach and near liver in its rich iron content, and also contains important Vitamin B1 which is essential to good appetite and steady nerves.

Growing in popularity and recommended by pediatricians is the use of high quality molasses in milk drinks.

Molasses Milk Shake

Pour 1 cup milk into tall glass. Stir in 1 tablespoon of unsulphured molasses.

Jumbo Molasses Cookies

Four cups sifted enriched flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 2 teaspoons soda, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1 1/2 teaspoons ginger, 1/2 teaspoon cloves, 1 cup shortening, 1 1/2 cups unsulphured molasses, 1/4 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1 cup raisins.

Sift together first six ingredients. Melt shortening in a saucepan large enough for mixing cookies. Add molasses and sugar; cool slightly. Stir in egg and raisins. Gradually add flour mixture. Mix well. Chill dough several hours in refrigerator.

Shape into 1 1/2-inch balls. Place on ungreased cookie sheets about two inches apart to allow cookies to spread during baking. Bake in a moderate ovem (350 degrees F.) 15 minutes or until browned. Store in cookie jar to keep soft.

The average non-farm household declined from 3.2 persons in 1940 to three persons in 1950.

MOLASSES MILK SHAKE will make active youngsters even more active.

Golf Course Thieves Get Caught In Trap

TRIPOLI, TRIPOLITANIA —(AP)—Two Arab employes at Wheelus Field, U. S. air base in North Africa, were tempted by high prices paid for scrap metal. While at work on the air base golf course, they gathered up some brass water couplings, Diesel engine bearings and other items taken from equipment in use. They threw their loot over a 12-foot wall surrounding the course, intending to pick it up later.

They're in jail now. On the other side of the wall at the time was the local police commissioner.

Other recent scrap metal thefts have included switch points from a railway line, a 400-year-old antique gun, manhole covers and telephone wire. All except the gun were in use when stolen.

Beaver Sanctuary Aids Cree Indians

QUEBEC — (AP) — At Rupert's house on James Bay, lives Maud Watt, first and only woman game warden in Quebec. On the death some years ago of her husband, a Hudson's Bay factor, Mrs. Watt pressed to a successful conclusion his idea for a beaver sanctuary.

At that time beaver were so scarce they no longer figured in the fur harvest of some 300 Cree Indians settled here. Those were hard times for the Crees. Now the country is rich in beaver and the Indians buy government bonds. They have a sawmill and are building frame cottages to replace their skin and canvas huts.

He Might Find One In Stanton, Texas

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH. —(AP)— In 1671 John and Priscilla Thurber left Stanton in Lincolnshire, England, and moved to Rehoboth, Mass. Eleven generations of their descendants have lived in the United States. Now one of the eleventh generation lives in Stanton, Mich.

The story is told by Charles H. Thurber, Sr., a World War I veteran who lives in the soldier's home here. A heart patient, he has been checking up on his family tree as a hobby. His grandson lives in Stanton. He has been trying to get in touch with other members of the Thurber clan to check on other aspects of the 11-generation saga.

Youth Center Chatter

By Joyce Howell and Gail Baker

Howdy, teeners! There's plenty going on in Midland from all reports we've had—and here are the major goings ons!

While talking to Mrs. Glidewell in the Youth Center last week, we were surprised to look up and see—Joel Sims! During the last two weeks, we've only heard about how sick he has been with the measles and mumps. Then, to see him here at home when we thought he was in the Sick Bay was just a little too much for us.

After recovering our wits, we went over to talk to him. It seems as though he really did have the measles, but, although they thought he had the mumps, he really didn't. One of his friends had mentioned it when writing home. "Hink" is home from San Diego for 14 days. He said that Bill Secor, who also is stationed in San Diego, ought to be home quite soon.

"Hinky" had been at San Diego a while when he got a letter from home, saying that Bill Secor also was stationed there. "Hinky" said he started looking for Bill's barracks (?) and was surprised to discover he lived right across the street from him.

Bill Little, another ex-Youth Center member now is on the swimming team at San Diego.

Big Time Tonight

Thursday is the BIG night for the Juniors and Seniors. Yes, it is the night of the Junior-Senior Prom. An early peek at the menu tells us the food will be exceptionally good. The art classes have been busy working on the decorations, for that is to be a surprise for many. We'll just let you read all about the banquet and prom Sunday on the Bulldog page.

Friday night also is a big night for a lot of teeners. It is the night of the Spring Formal Dance at the Youth Center. Music will be furnished by Jimmy Furman and his orchestra. Free refreshments will be served. We don't know exactly what Teddy Kerr, head of the decoration committee has cooked up, but we know it will be quite good.

Many of the teeners will be leaving Midland Friday for the Interscholastic League Literary events in Lubbock. Our sympathy goes to Ruth Bleyberg, a member of the girls debate team, who is a victim of that dread disease, the mumps.

Last week the members of the contest play cast and their alternates journeyed to Lubbock to present the play for an Interscholastic League rating. The play, "The Enemy," won a third place. Ruth Bleyberg and Robert Stubbeman won places on the all-state cast, which is quite an honor. Members of the first cast were: Tony Dunagan, Robert Stubbeman, Shirley Harrison, Ruth Bleyberg and Isleta Terry. Alternates were: Patsy Yeager, Joe Barnett, Beverly Keisling, Wilma Like and John Petty.

Bright Red Blisters

Richard Hull, Phil Slough and Doug Atwill were sporting bright red blisters the first of the week. The boys went to Lake Blaylock, near Garden City, for a day of fishing last Sunday. Doug had a pretty bad case of blistered eyes. Say, boys, did you catch any fish?

Our sympathies also go to Jimmie Linebarger and Ralph Brooks this week. Ralph injured his foot rather badly while jumping for a basket while playing basketball at the center last week. He was back at school Monday, however. Jimmie had an operation and still is in the hospital. Hope you recover quickly, Jimmie.

Tuesday was a gay day for the high school teeners. Due to the In-service Training program, school was dismissed an hour and a half early. The members of the band spent this extra time practicing marching for their contest.

The band isn't the only organization to have all-day clinics! The members of the A'Cappella Choir had an all-day clinic last Tuesday. Professor Boles of Hardin-Simmons University was in charge of the clinic.

People may wonder about a certain dark headed girl and a certain red-headed girl, both members of the Junior Class, and both named Emily. Emily Hamilton and Emily Studdert are the two girls we are talking about. Last Sunday we heard loud wails of anguish from Emily Studdert—bemoaning the fact she didn't have any car keys.

Simple Explanation

There is a very simple explanation for all this. Yes, there is even a simple explanation for Emily Studdert running around on the roof of the Episcopal Church; Emily S. threw Emily H's. shoe up on the roof of the church. Emily S. then went up on the roof to get the shoe, but she refused to return it to Emily H. until Emily H. would return Emily S's keys. Slightly confusin', isn't it?

Graham Mackey has been striding around with a huge smile on his face lately. The reason? Last Monday Graham and Johnny Ward played the Bauer Sisters in an exhibition golf match at the Country Club. On the 17th hole, they were one up and they tied the girls on the eighteenth hole.

Tuesday was the "great day" (finally!) for the candidates for cheerleaders. When Tuesday finally rolled around, there were many white faces in the gym, because these teeners really were scared! However, even though they were scared, they all did good jobs of leading yells!

During tryouts, did anyone hear an odd sounding horse laugh? If so, guess who it was. None other than Gwyn Grisham. They say, "Big things come in small packages—"—now, we believe it!

Many of the boys felt inspired, so they threw pennies at the girls. John Midkiff just can't seem to control himself when he sees money, because the minute he saw the money, he was right out there gathering up every coin!

Quite Different

We said not long ago that Gail Dixon just "couldn't stay away from Lubbock!" But that was only if her friends from Lubbock weren't here. This last weekend she had three Lubbockite visitors—Charles Blount, Earl Padgett and B. T. O'Connell. We think that since these people came down, she was satisfied with Midland. Right, Gail?

Larry Mayfield was all out for "campaigning" Tuesday morning before school. He greeted each student with a card saying "VOTE FOR MAXINE HILL AND LARRY MAYFIELD" and a handshake.

Before long, Larry went into the band hall, and came out accompanied by a pep band he had promoted.

Mary Ann McRae recently has ordered some decals with the Confederate flags. She had quite a few of them so she has been giving them to everyone she sees. Some of the people who now have their cars decorated with a Confederate flag are Jerry Ball, Alan Olson, Ann Ashby, Jane Stuart and loads of others.

The Presbyterian Church of Midland had a Youth Rally for all the youths in the El Paso Presbytery last weekend.

Bobby Harris had a new fashion for boys. He has a pink rose on a green baseball cap that he wears all day long. (The rose belongs to a certain young lady).

Mr. Glidewell has asked us to announce that in the next week or so he is planning to take the swimming team to Odessa to work out. He said he wants to take 20 or 25 girls that would like to go swimming in the Odessa gym. This does not mean the ones that go will be on the swimming team—there will be no eliminations on the trip. Please contact Mr. Glidewell if you wish to go.

Serious Trouble

It seems Arnold Drake was in serious trouble over the weekend. Or at least he thought so for awhile. While Arnold was out of the car, Pat Fields and Norma Gwyn sneaked into the back of his car, and while he was on a dark street, they poked their fingers in his back—talk about being scared—ohhh! Poor Arnold!

Marijann Forrest now has become a teacher of the "art of making carnations out of Kleenex!" She instructed many teeners in making carnations for Friday night's formal dance at the Center.

That's all the news for this week, so—"So long, it's been good to know ya, but now we've got to be going along."

The violet is the state flower of Illinois, New Jersey, Rhode Island and Wisconsin.

Change The Name Of Arkansas? Never!

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government wants to take the word "liver" out of Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Carter's Products, Inc., of New York, the manufacturer, objects and says the company will test in the courts an order issued Tuesday by the Federal Trade Commission.

The commission also ordered the company to stop what it called misleading advertising claims to the effect that the pills are an effective treatment for a sluggish liver.

Suits Are Hard To Resist

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—The budget suit, trimly tailored and priced under $20, is clothes bait to many women these days. It becomes even more tempting when it's made of worsted-and-sheen gabardine, or nylon--and-acetate cord that washes with spectacular success. These fabrics are hard to find in budget suits. And detailing in many budget suits squals that found in far more expensive designs.

The suit that's a perfect travel companion (right) is washable, is in gray and white stripe nylon and acetate cord, is a Lampl design. This is a suit classic, buttoning from stand-up collar to the waist with pearl buttons. The shoulders have a hint of epaulet; the skirt is straight and slim.

Another good travel companion, this time in pink worsted and sheen gabardine, is a suit (left) with a tricky button-down collar. This motif is repeated in hip pocket tabs. Good, classic lines make this slim suit easy to wear.

You can get draining trays, for dishwashing. In aluminum, rubber, or plastic. If you choose one of plastic make sure it is the type that won't be damaged by almost boiling water.

AF Hurries To Finish Big Florida Guided Missile Range

Beside "Bluetail Fly," a display missile, Maj. Gen. William L. Richardson, commanding officer of Patrick Air Force Base, peers into the wild blue yonder where AF's missiles will fly.

In wrappings, a missile is shown poised on launchipg pad in this USAF photo made at Long Range Proving Ground on the coast of Florida.

CRASH SACK—A nylon net able to withstand a crash force of 8000 pounds is the newest safety device for airborne fighting men. The net, developed at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, O., soon will be standard equipment on all Air Force cargo planes. It is designed to fit over a paratrooper or airborne infantryman and his 150-pound pack and protect him from crash impacts and take-off and landing jolts. (U. S. Air Force photo from NEA-Acme.)

K AIR FORCE BASE, —Top U. S. scientists, all three armed services dreds of construction ishing feverishly to uided missile firing f history's most im- aces.

Korean war began, than doubled their ish the project, which from Florida's Cape halfway between Jack- d Miami, across the Ba- a spot beyond the eastern ail.

goal is to cram four years' rk into 18 months. Already an undisclosed number of secret missiles have been fired from this Air Force Long Range Proving Ground with makeshift facilities.

Final phase of the construction has just begun. It involves the building of down-range radar and radio stations on five Bahama islands including Grand Bahama, Eleuthera, San Salvador, Mayaguana and Grand Turk. When completed, it will give scientitsts tight radio and radar control over an area of 100,000 square miles.

Quick Information

This will provide instant information on the exact location and condition of any missile at any moment during a possible 1,000-mile flight. Eventually the range will be extended to 5,000 miles, into the South Atlantic. The range is considered to be 100 miles wide, and a sea lane that wide is kept clear during firing.

Two radar and radio tracking stations are being built at points near the base to follow missiles during the early phases and for short flights. Also under construction is the most modern launching pad, block house and central control building which the new science of guided missiles can produce.

Concrete for the launching pad is reinforced with steel, 30 inches thick. Below it runs several hundred feet of thick, reinforced concrete tunneling. The tunnels carry control wiring to the block house, 550 feet behind the launching pad, where the man who pushes the button for firing watches through a periscope and a heavy plate glass direct-view mirror.

Three miles behind the block house, the main control building houses all the central radio and electronics control gear and is the brain-point of a firing, being in constant touch with the down-range stations.

The launching area is 18 miles above Patrick base on a 12,000-acre plot that is heavily fenced and guarded. Elaborate fire-fighting equipment is always on hand, since a misfire could cause a devastating blaze.

Station Jammed

Patrick Base, which was the Navy's Banana River Air Station during the last war, now is jammed with more than 2,000 persons including 600 civilians, most of whom are scientists. Representatives of each firm which is doing missile development work also are present for each firing.

Commanding officer of the base is natty, gray-haired Maj. Gen. William L. Richardson, who has been with the Air Force's guided missile program since before the end of the last war. Few men know more about Uncle Sam's missile development program than he does. Although he's bound by rigid security provisions governing the program, he's very optimistic about the status of the work here and at the other missile centers in the U. S.

During a firing all shipping is kept out of the area. And all flying above the base is restricted. The fact that a spent missile falls into the water is not considered important. Radar information on its flight and other data on what is going on inside the missile, gathered by a special system of radio signals called telemetering, provide practically all the data the scientists need. But the missiles carry special dye which colors the water where they fall, and they have been located three minutes after going into the drink.

The range also involves the biggest single surveying job ever attempted. It is under the direction of Comdr. Carl I. Aslakson of the U. S. Coast Guard and Geodetic Survey. He will use his own special airborne sonar system of surveying, which incidentally revealed a brand new standard for the speed of light, and is accurate down to the smallest fraction of an inch. When he finishes it is expected all the Bahama Islands will have to be relocated on charts.

A big part of his job will be determining how land masses under the sea will affect the flight of the missiles.

After preliminary studies, Commander Aslakson is convinced the range is absolutely the best site in the world for the purpose for which it was selected. The weather is best. The Bahamas provide perfect range-station sites. And furthermore, he says, such a range over land would be prohibitively expensive to create.

Scrub Hairline With Brush To Remove Make-Up Traces.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Those stubborn make-up traces that cake your hairline between shampoos are best dealt with at hair-washing time by a thorough scrubbing with a sudsy brush.

Before you actually douse your head, take a few moments to loose this clinging grime. Begin by working a small amount of shampoo into a foamy lather. A soapless powder shampoo is a good type to use.

Dip your brush into the suds, coating the bristles well. Then tackle your hairline, giving particular attention to the area in front of your ears.

A nail brush is excellent for this as well as for general scalp scrubbing. Select one with a handle for good gripping and actually put muscle-force behind your brushing.

A good choice for this task is a plastic-backed nail brush offered by a well-known brush firm. Tufted on both sides, the brush provides one set of bristles for toning the scalp and another to work simultaneously through your hair.

After your hairline is clean, wet and lather your whole head. Go over your entire scalp until you can feel it tingle.

A nail brush is applied vigorously by this young woman at shampoo time to remove caked make-up from her hairline.

Southwestern Life Adds To Long List Of Texas 'Firsts'

Texans, who like to tell their out-of-state friends about Texas "firsts," could add to the state's already fabulous reputation by reference to Southwestern Life Insurance Company's 48th annual report, recently distributed to policyowners. The booklet reveals that Southwestern Life:

1. It is the largest life insurance company in the United States that does business in only one state (Texas, naturally).

2. Ranks in the top eight per cent of the more than 600 legal reserve life insurance companies in the nation from the standpoint of the amount of life insurance in force.

For the benefit of folks who think all dollars paid out by life insurance companies are related to the unhappy occurrence of death, there's a surprise in Southwestern Life's report. During 1950 more dollars were paid to living policyowners—in the form of maturities, cash values, annuities, disability benefits and other income payments—than were paid to beneficiaries of deceased policyowners. The former received $5,943,138 and the latter $4,346,418.

Southwestern Life is represented here by M. R. Gayle.

Half of the non-farm single-family homes in the United States in 1950 were estimated to be worth $7,400 or more.

Sophisticated Separates Have Ortenial Look

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—Sophisticated separates that have an Oriental look can form the backbone of change-about wardrobes for travel or for wear at home.

The fabrics used for these new separates are exotic: silky Chinese pongee, rough textured Hindu cloth, fisherman's netting, and mandarin straw braid. The Oriental look becomes apparent in short coolie jackets, sweeping saristoles and billowing harem skirts.

The designs of Greta Plattry, these separates are in soft jade pink, deep lotus green, Ming yellow, China blue and white porcelain.

A muted plaid in lotus green and Ming yellow is used for a Hindu cloth mushroom pleated skirt (left) topped by a matching plaid sleeveless blouse and a lotus green linen rib length coolie jacket. The jacket has elbow length fan sleeves.

Silky natural pongee fashions a full skirt (right) worn with an ebony fish net cardigan with an all-over surface pattern in natural straw braid embroidery. The cardigan has push-up sleeves and smoothly fitted rib-knit waistband.

The National Geographic Society says Indians made the first brooms used by American housewives.

What's RIGHT?

A child is talking to you, about something he is enthusiastic about.

WRONG: Don't bother giving him the same interested attention since he is so carried away with what he is saying he probably won't notice that you are thinking about something else.

RIGHT: Look at him and give him the same interested attention you would an adult, for a child is quick to sense when a grown-up is not listening to him.

You have accepted one invitation and then receive one for the same evening that appeals to you more.

WRONG: Make some excuse for getting out of the first arrangement.

RIGHT: Never call off one set of plans because something better turns up, if you want to keep your friends.

Modern Linens Resist Wrinkles

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—A good linen dress in her wardrobe represents, to almost any woman, a touch of luxury. Modern linen is often wrinkle-resistant and it may not look like linen at all on the surface. It may look like wool—tweed, for example. Actually, when linen is lined and tailored like wool, it assumes the character of wool. And it's going places for Spring and Summer in white, pastels and black. Linen makes suits, coat dresses and cocktail dresses. White linen is stunning when it's touched with black velvet.

Gray-and-white checked linen in a classic coat dress, left, by Eisenberg has the look of wool. It's shined up with gleaming buttons that travel the length of the front closing. There's the same shine in a black leather belt coiled about the waist. Fly pockets appear just above and below the waist. A small collar stands up; three-quarter sleeves are wide and cuffed.

A pink linen dress, right, by this same designer could appear in town and in country and look right in both places. A pin-tuck yoke is split by a slit V neckline. Front closing, from bottom of yoke to the hemline, is marked by pearl buttons. The pin-tucking is repeated on the straight, cuffed sleeves that reach almost to the elbow.

ADMITED TO HOSPITAL

H. G. Gregory, 908 West Missouri Street, was admitted to Western Clinic-Hospital Tuesday night as a medical patient.

If you want to remove deposits on the inside of your teakettle boil a mixture of equal parts of vinegar and water in the kettle, cool, and let stand several hours. This treatment loosens the scales so it's usually possible to scrape it off with a wooden spoon.

Iowa Farmer Finds Chickens Beat Cows

DES MOINES, IOWA —(AP)— A year ago last Fall, the Vaughn Staeblers sold their 14 dairy cows and went into the poultry business. They are convinced they did the right thing for the Staebler 80-acre farm.

At the end of a year's operation, Staebler said, his flock of 1,100 laying hens produced $3,242 worth of eggs. After all costs were deducted—including the cost at market price of grain produced on the farm—more than $1,800 was left for profit. Poultry and egg production are particularly adapted to a small farm he believes.

"You have to feed a dairy heifer for two and one-half years before she starts producing," says Mrs. Staebler. "But it takes only five and one-half months to grow a pullet to laying age."

A pretty and delicious vegetable dish is made this way: mash two cups of cooked or baked acorn squash, season and beat until light; reheat and mound leaving a depression in the center; then fill the center with hot drained cooked green peas or green lima beans.

SMEAR TECHNIQUE—Turn one 10-month-old baby loose with a big chocolate marshmallow bar and anything can happen as Leo Hussey, of St. Louis, discovered when he glanced at his son, Randy.

Eagerness To Learn Given Top Rating

ANNANDALE-ON-HUDSON —(AP)—Two psychologists and a sociologist at Bard College set out to find out what characteristics a college should give its students. After an extensive survey they came up with Here are the 10 they list as the most what they think are the answers important:

Eagerness for learning; integrity—moral and intellectual honesty; use of knowledge—the ability to apply it; maturity—adult behavior and attitudes; self-reliance; interest in major field; intelligence; progress—individual improvement; emotional stability and open mindedness.

When you are making custard in a double boiler see that the water in the lower saucepan is almost, but not quite, boiling. If you use a glass double boiler it's easy to manage this.
