Gen. Taylor Gives Warning On War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor warned today of worldwide repercussions unless the United States demonstrates in Viet Nam that Communist wars of subversion are "costly, dangerous and doomed to failure."

Appearing before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in a growing debate over the Viet Nam war, the high Johnson administration adviser testified there is a simple answer to the question: "What are we doing in South Viet Nam?"

TELLS ANSWER

The answer is, he said, that: "For more than a decade, we have been taking sides in a cause in which we have a vital interest."

Alluding to the falling-domino theory, the former ambassador to Viet Nam said he does not exactly subscribe to it if it means that adjoining nations will fall automatically if South Viet Nam goes.

"But," he said, "I am deeply impressed by the probable worldwide effects."

Communist leaders of Red China, Russia, and Hanoi, he said, have made plain their plan to back so-called "wars of liberation," which he described as actually internal subversion.

They believe, he said, that such wars are bound to succeed and spread to other vulnerable nations.

One aim of the United States in Viet Nam is to "destroy the myth of invincibility," the general said, to show that such subversion cannot win.

HOPE OF U.S.

He declared that U.S. policy is based on the following hope:

That failure of the Viet Cong to win on the ground, combined with U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam targets will cause the Hanoi regime to change its mind, "redefine its aims" and join in negotiations to better the lot of all the Vietnamese people.

But "until it becomes perfectly clear to them that we are not to be thrown off our course by anything they do," the chances that they will appear at a conference table are unfortunately slim, said Taylor, who is former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

In advance of Taylor's testimony committee chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., defended the public, televised hearings, saying he hopes they will help the administration make wise decisions about the war.

QUESTION PURPOSE

Fulbright began the day of Johnson administration testimony by noting that some critics have questioned the purpose of the hearings.

Taylor, now an adviser to President Johnson, said he agrees it is proper for Congress to examine the course of the war.

Johnson told an Atlantic City, N.J., audience Wednesday night that the Viet Cong's strategy of terror "will spread elsewhere if it succeeds in South Viet Nam."

"If the takeover of Viet Nam can be achieved by a highly organized Communist force employing violence against a civilian population, it can be achieved in another country at another time and with even greater cost to freedom," he said.

Taylor is on record as saying that U.S. bombing has limited the ability of North Viet Nam to infiltrate the South.

He advocated continued bombing at a "controlled, deliberate rate." He has contended that the limited warfare being carried on now is not likely to bring any military confrontation with China as many of the President's critics fear.

Taylor also has said the complete surrender or destruction of the Communist Viet Cong is not a prerequirement for a cease-fire and negotiations.

These and other issues figured in Senate debate which erupted Wednesday over a $4.8-billion authorization bill covering part of the $12.3-billion package of emergency funds for Viet Nam.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, urged his colleagues to pass the bill without any riders which might either caution the President against expanding the war or might offer congressional approval of Johnson's policies.

Saying he could come up with no alternative to the course Johnson is pursuing, Russell said he thinks critics "have not given the President and the secretaries of state and defense the credit they deserve for the earnestness, the soul-searching and the vigor with which they have attempted to find a solution leading to peace with honor."

Debate Nears On Voter Bill

AUSTIN (AP) — Legislators cleared the way today for debate Monday on Gov. John Connally's annual voter registration plan, with an end to the special session possible by next Wednesday.

Rep. R. H. Corry of Victoria, chairman of the House State Affairs Committee, said a subcommittee worked until 4 a.m. today perfecting a bill he said he is confident his committee will approve.

A total of 99 House members have signed the bill Connally recommended with several jockeying for the honor of being the 100th co-sponsor—the necessary two-thirds majority needed for quick passage.

The Senate State Affairs Committee approved its version of the bill Wednesday after a 14-7 committee vote. It will be on the senate calendar for debate Monday.

Speaker Ben Barnes presided at a 10-minute session of the House today, before representatives quit until 11 a.m. Monday.

"I anticipate it will take only one day for the bill," Barnes said of Connally's plan.

Senate and House passage of their bills Monday would send the proposition to a conference committee with a final agreement easily possible by Wednesday.

Nine Still Missing After Rioting At Girls School

CLERMONT, Ind. (AP) — Indiana State Police stood ready today to move swiftly into the Indiana Girls' School in any renewal of riots at the correctional center Wednesday and Wednesday night.

School officials reported about nine girls still missing following the outbreaks that started in midafternoon and left a trail of broken windows and smashed furniture in the low-security institution.

QUELL DISTURBANCE

More than 100 state police and sheriff's deputies quelled the disturbances.

The inmates range from 12 to 19. The first rioting erupted when a girl attacked the principal of the institution's high school. During the struggle other girls began smashing windows and furniture.

It was the second major outbreak at the school in 17 months.

Sheriff's Capt. Lee Eads said, "It's the same as a year ago," referring to a Sept. 10, 1964, riot that prompted a grand jury investigation.

"NEEDS DISCIPLINE"

He added, "Unless they get better discipline and security here, there will be more outbreaks."

Eads quoted one inmate as complaining of a change in writing privileges and not being able to see visiting brothers and sisters.

Rioter Subdued At Girls School

Officers, Dogs Quell Sooner Jail Rioting

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Eighteen prisoners confined to one cell unit of the Oklahoma County jail rioted for about four hours early today. They were subdued by dozens of officers, dogs and tear gas.

At least nine prisoners were taken later to a hospital for treatment of dog bites, cuts and tear gas effects.

Policeman Bill Jackson suffered a broken hand. Officer Bill Vetter received hospital treatment for a minor leg injury. Several other officers were treated for minor injuries.

The rioting started about 1:15 a.m. after officers said a police dog was severely slashed by a knife made from a plastic toothbrush.

About eight dogs assigned to the Police K9 Division were used to help bring the prisoners under control.

Freeze Goes Almost To Texas Coast

By The Associated Press

Freezing weather extended almost to the Texas coast today as the latest cold front finished a sweep across the state.

Skies cleared everywhere except along the lower Texas coast, where Brownsville measured .02 inch of moisture in an overnight drizzle.

Despite the widespread cooling, temperatures were milder than expected in many areas.

18 AT ABILENE

Abilene recorded 18 degrees for one of the lowest marks before dawn. At Dalhart in the Panhandle, where the mercury had been expected to hit 10 degrees, the reading was 20.

Thermometers ranged through the 20s and 30s except near the coast and in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, where McAllen registered 47 degrees and Brownsville 48.

LITTLE WARMER

Forecasts promised a little warmer weather throughout the state by Friday with increasing clouds in most sections. A light drizzle was expected in parts of Northeast and South Central Texas.

Subzero cold stung the northern Midwest today and the Arctic air which dropped temperatures to more than 20 below whipped across much of the north central region eastward into western Ohio.

A deep low-pressure system consolidating northeast of the Great Lakes drew the cold air southeastward from the Arctic region and also was responsible for rain and snow in wide areas in the Eastern states.

Korean And U.S. Fighters Strike Cong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. and South Korean troops pushing on with Operation White Wing 300 miles north of Saigon struck the Viet Cong in four separate sectors today and claimed 80 killed.

The Communists had their inning in Saigon.

Two Claymore mines set by terrorists shortly after noon near the headquarters of the Vietnamese joint general staff killed 12 Vietnamese and wounded 60. Six of the dead and 44 of the wounded were military personnel.

27 MISSING

Bad weather returned to North Viet Nam but U.S. Air Force and Navy pilots flew 27 missions Wednesday against bridges around Vinh and Dong Hoi and storage areas south of Dien Bien Phu. Spokesmen said the weather prevented assessment of damage.

The United States acted to put more juice into the civil programs emphasized by President Johnson at the Honolulu conference. Deputy U.S. Ambassador William Porter was named to boss all American aspects of the largely stalled rural pacification program.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said in a statement: "We are determined that this program for peace and progress shall be carried forward with all the energy and skill of a fully coordinated U.S. mission effort, always with full recognition that the basic task of nation building here belongs to the people of Viet Nam and their government."

CONTINUE CLEANUP

On the Operation White Wing front, troops of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division continued their cleanup of the An Lao Valley and were attacked about 7 miles southwest of Bong Son just before breaking their overnight bivouac.

The Viet Cong left 37 dead behind after a half hour firefight. U.S. casualties were said to be light.

Another prong of the 1st Cavalry tangled with a unit of about 180 guerrillas 12 miles south of Bong Son. The action was continuing and there were no immediate reports from the field.

THIRD COLUMN

A third column in the same area jumped an enemy platoon of about 25 and killed 6. The U.S. troops reported capturing two heavy mortars, three recoilless rifles, one rocket launcher and eight individual weapons.

The whole operation has scooped up about 250 highly prized guns around the An Lao Valley.

Farther south, Korean troops ran into an estimated 70 Viet Cong 20 miles southwest of Qui Nhon. Artillery supported a two-hour firefight and spokesmen said the Viet Cong left 37 dead and five weapons when they withdrew. Three guerrillas were captured.

On the coast near Tuy Hoa, the 101st Airborne Division continued its operation to secure 30,000 more tons of rice being harvested.

Witness In Cross Trial

J. Neill Kinnard, of Dallas, sits outside 147th District Court in Austin today, moments before he took the stand as the first witness to testify in the murder trial of James C. Cross Jr. Kinnard is an uncle and legal guardian of Shirley Ann Stark. Young Cross has been charged with strangling Miss Stark and Susan Rigsby in Austin last summer. Cross is being tried specifically in Miss Rigsby's death. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Coed Slaying Trial Testimony Starts

AUSTIN (AP)—Mrs. Robbie Rigsby, mother of beautibrunette Susan Rigsby who was slain last July 18, said on that fatal day as she departed her Dallas home headed for Austin and the University of Texas: "This is the biggest day of my life." She said the girl and her coed companion, also murdered, both "were very happy."

• • •

AUSTIN (AP) — Defense lawyers demanded today that Dist. Atty. Tom Blackwell be forced to disclose any mystery witnesses he might spring during the James C. Cross Jr. murder trial.

Dist. Judge Mace Thurman Jr. made no ruling at once on the surprise request that was a preliminary to the beginning of testimony.

Jury selection was completed Wednesday.

"Every cop in town is a potential witness," Blackwell said, in protesting that he did not want to be bound by the 64 subpoenaed prosecution witnesses.

Only five defense witnesses were subpoenaed.

Cross stood rigid, his eyes downcast, as Blackwell read the grand jury indictments accusing Cross of strangling Susan Rigsby and Shirley Ann Stark, both 21 and of Dallas, in a tantrum of passion and panic.

Cross is being tried specifically in Miss Rigsby's death.

Blackwell called Neill Kinnard of Dallas as the first witness. He is Miss Stark's uncle.

The second witness called was Miss Rigsby's mother, Mrs. Robbie Rigsby.

'Valentine' Is A Booby Trap

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Police said love that turned to hate motivated a teenage shipping clerk to send his former sweetheart a booby - trapped valentine that injured her little sister.

The jilted teenager, Hollis Victor Robison, 19, told Birmingham police Wednesday, "I don't know why I did it, but I knew if she opened the case it would kill her."

Police said Robison signed a statement admitting he rigged the huge "valentine" with the working end of a sawed-off shotgun inside a newspaper-wrapped attache case.

The package was intended for Nancy Adams, 17, a high school cheerleader, but her sister Patricia, 13, opened it and received the shotgun blast in her foot Wednesday.

The girl was reported in fair condition at West End Hospital. Physicians said the blast had not broken any bones in her foot.

Robison was charged with assault with intent to murder. Detective A. Wallace said that after Robison signed the statement, he took officers to a rural area where he had thrown away pieces of the shotgun he used to make the booby trap.

Wallace quoted Robison as saying he had planned the shooting for two weeks in revenge for a broken romance between him and the pretty cheerleader.

The girls were alone in the house at the time of the incident. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Adams, had left for work at Avondale Mills just minutes before the package was placed on the doorstep.

Urgent Needs Prompt OK By Humphrey

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey offered India a $100-million loan today, an official U.S. source reported.

The loan is for importing urgently needed raw materials to get India's industry, now running at 50 per cent capacity in many sectors, speeded up, the source said.

The offer does not constitute a resumption of American development aid, which was halted during India's war with neighboring Pakistan in September, the informant said.

PAKISTAN LOAN

Humphrey, in India for a short visit, announced Tuesday night Pakistan would get a $50-million loan to import commodities needed to speed up its economic progress.

The question of resuming long-term U.S. aid to India apparently is being left open until Prime Minister Indira Gandhi visits Washington, probably next month, for talks with President Johnson.

The United States has stepped up shipments of food grains to famine - threatened India, but the curtailment of development aid has seriously hamstrung the economy, which has been faltering for years.

TOP LEND TALK

Mrs. Gandhi and Humphrey met in her office for talks this afternoon.

Wearing a flowing sari, Mrs. Gandhi greeted the vice president on the steps of her office in the Parliament building. Their conference was attended by her close aides, President Johnson's roving ambassador, W. Averell Harriman, and the U.S. ambassador to India, Chester Bowles.

Earlier in the day, Mrs. Gandhi told Parliament India is "deeply concerned" over the possibility that the Viet Nam conflict will escalate. She said her government would consider any proposals to settle the war.

But there was no indication Mrs. Gandhi was contemplating a peace initiative or that Humphrey would ask her for one.

EMERGENCY HELP

Humphrey, before leaving Karachi Wednesday, announced a $50- million loan for neighboring Pakistan. U.S. aid programs to both countries were suspended when they went to war over Kashmir last September, but they have been getting emergency help because of acute food shortages resulting from drouth.

The vice president met first with Indian Finance Minister Sachindra Chudhuri, Food Minister Chidambaram Subramaniam and Planning Minister Asoka Mehta. Economic and development aid to India was believed to be a main topic of discussion.

FARM PROJECTS

During a tour of farm development projects and a new agricultural university in India's Punjab State Wednesday, Humphrey said the United States "is ready and willing, in fact, we look for the opportunity to share" American abundance.

Allowable Calls For High Output

AUSTIN (AP) — The Railroad Commission set March's oil allowable today at 33.2 per cent of capacity, the third big production month in a row.

The percentage factor will provide a production ceiling of 3,118,951 barrels daily next month. The February production pattern of 32.7 per cent permitted a maximum allowable of 3,157,864 barrels a day.

ASK INCREASE

Six of the 13 major Texas crude oil purchasers at the commission's monthly statewide hearing asked for an increase from this month's allowable.

Last March, a 29.2 per cent factor limited production to 2,923,153 barrels daily.

The reduction in the estimated calendar day allowable is due to a recent survey in the two largest oil-producing districts, 3 and 8, which resulted in lower allowables for some wells in those fields.

SITUATION HEALTHY

Commission Chairman Ben Ramsey said all indications are that there is a healthy oil situation throughout the state.

Purchasers' nominations today, in barrels daily, by percentage:

36—Texaco 155,000.

34—Sinclair 104,900 and Pan American 278,890.

33.5—Mobil 263,200.

33—Standard of Texas 39,800; Atlantic 82,300.

32.5—Sun 117,524 and Cities Service 73,500.

32—Gulf 220,700.

31—Phillips 125,684, Continental 30,000, Humble 419,475, Shell 172,400.

End To General Strike Pledged In Dominican

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The majority of the Dominican Republic's labor leaders agreed today to end a damaging general strike after President Hector Garcia-Godoy promised to send two top military officers abroad.

The strike leaders acted shortly after the president warned in a radio-television speech that government employes would lose their jobs if they did not resume work today.

He said if necessary he would use police to reopen Santo Domingo's port and airport and other public services. He added that he was taking steps to see that his Jan. 6 order transferring military leaders to diplomatic posts abroad was fully obeyed.

The strike was called eight days ago to protest police violence during a Communist-led student demonstration in which three students were killed. But moderate and extreme leftists used the walkout to pressure the government into ousting the military leaders who had refused to obey the presidential order.

The terrorism that had swept the city for the last seven nights and by unofficial estimates cost 20 lives subsided during the night. Only two bomb explosions were heard, and there were no reports of any casualties.

Terrorists fired wild shots at three members of the Inter-American Human Rights Commission as they were about to take off on a helicopter inspection tour Wednesday. The commission was appointed by the Organization of American States to investigate charges of atrocities during the revolution last April.

Niagara Falls Water May Be Turned Off

NEW YORK (AP) — Niagara Falls has gotten a notice that its water may soon be turned off.

Did they forget to pay last month's water bill? Or is it an anti-honeymoon plot hatched by the likes of those who planned to blow up the Statue of Liberty?

No, it's just the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

A FACE-LIFTING

The engineers are looking for a way to turn off the falls to give it a face-lifting. Rock slides, it seems, are threatening to ruin the American side of the falls.

Although the announcement came from the Corps of Engineers, it can be revealed that the idea originated in one of the most hush-hush agencies in Washington — Operation G.E.N.I.U.S.

Operation G.E.N.I.U.S. is dedicated to the proposition that man's ingenuity knows no bounds.

He can put a spacecraft on the moon, move the ancient statues in Egypt's Nubian Valley, tame the rampaging Mississippi River.

FULL NAME

Operation G.E.N.I.U.S., by the way, stands for Great Engineering Nuggets of Ingenuity Under Study.

Here are a few of its other hush-hush programs:

Project Westward Ho — This is a plan to move Washington, D.C., lock, stock and White House, from the banks of the Potomac to the Pedernales. Despite the coincidence the project has been under study for more than a hundred years. The idea was to shorten stagecoach travel from the West to the Capital. In later years, however, the feasibility study staff grew too large to dismantle without affecting the nation's economy.

Project Liberty — In 1886 the Statue of Liberty was erected in New York Harbor, and there she has stood ever since. In response to requests from several Midwestern senators, G.E.N.I.U.S. has undertaken a study of sending the Statue of Liberty on a nationwide tour.

ERECT MOUNTAIN?

Project Mountain — Three years ago Mohammed, a small resort on Florida's Atlantic Coast, was casting about for some means to compete with its neighbor, Miami. The city fathers hit upon the idea of erecting a mountain — something even Miami doesn't have.

Johnson Says $10 Billion Earmarked For Education

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) —Four short years ago the nation's school administrators urged the government to invest an astronomical $8 billion in education and were roundly criticized for their presumption and their naivete.

Wednesday night President Johnson told the same group that his budget this year proposed a $10-billion investment in education and no one was even surprised.

And that's the way it is in education — reality keeps gaining on the dream. It never quite catches up, and often it falls far behind, but it remains forever in pursuit.

TO CONGRESS

The President told the American Association of School Administrators he is sending Congress five top priority requests.

One of them is "to double funds for our imaginative and precedent-breaking Operation Head Start, which will next year help more than 700,000 youngsters from poor homes get ready for the rigors of learning."

But the dream once more is ahead of reality. Only hours earlier the AASA adopted without dissent a resolution which declared: "We urge that free public pre-kindergarten and kindergarten education of the best quality be available to every young child in the United States."

Johnson, who made a flying trip here to receive the 1966 American Education Award for his efforts in "the education of mankind," was roundly applauded as he ticked off his priority requests to Congress.

Besides the one on Head Start, they are:

" — To enlarge each one of the programs in the Elementary and Secondary Education Act and to make them run through 1970.

TEACHER CORPS

" — To fund the new National Teachers Corps so that our best college graduates can be recruited to work in our worst schools.

" — To pass the child nutrition act of 1966 to help pay for school lunches for those who really need them, without subsidizing those who can afford to buy their own. We also want school breakfasts for children who would otherwise start the day with empty stomachs."

"Finally," the President said, "and this summarizes reams of recommendations in a single sentence, my budget this year proposes a $10-billion federal investment in education and training. In 1960 the government was spending only a third this much. The Office of Education alone will spend on programs six times as much as it did six years ago."

Decision On Stay For Poll Tax Ban Pending

WASHINGTON (AP)— Justice Hugo Black has been asked to stay a federal court ruling that the Texas poll tax is unconstitutional, pending a formal request by the state for Supreme Court review of the decision.

There was no indication when Black will act on the request, filed Wednesday by the Travis County Republican executive committee for submission to the justice after the government has an opportunity to reply.

TANGLES PROCESS

The Feb. 9 poll tax ruling by a three-judge federal court in Austin tangled the state's election process since it came after the deadline for poll tax payments and candidate filing.

The 1965 Voting Rights Act called on the Justice Department to seek action through the courts against poll taxes used by Alabama, Mississippi, Virginia and Texas for state and local elections.

The Texas suit was filed last August by Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach. It claimed the poll tax law discriminates against Negroes.

Thomas Gee, counsel for the Travis County GOP committee, said in his application for a stay that unless it is granted Texas will be hard pressed to devise "a fair and workable voter qualification and registration system to replace the one struck down."

VOTER LAW DUE

Gov. John Connally called a special session of the Texas Legislature and asked it Monday to pass a law requiring annual voter registration.

It also would open registration books for the last two weeks in March to allow conditional registration of those who did not pay poll taxes before the Jan. 31 deadline.

Texans have been required to pay poll taxes and register before Jan. 31 in election years.

Mathis Mayor Vetoes Firing

MATHIS, Tex. (AP) — The city commission voted to fire Police Chief Joe Garcia Wednesday night and Mayor Winston Bott promptly vetoed the action.

The 2-1 vote to discharge the chief came after a 5-hour closed session.

The city attorney, James Ryan of Corpus Christi, said the mayor has the power to veto any ordinance or resolution of the commission within three days.

ANOTHER VOTE

After the three-day period, the commission may again vote on the issue. Commissioners Manuel Chavez and Joe Ramirez intend to call for another vote at 8 a.m. Monday.

Chavez said Monday was selected because the three-day veto period would end somewhere around midnight Saturday.

A group of affidavits bearing on the issue was handed to the commission at its regular meeting Monday night by San Antonio lawyer Matt Garcia Jr., representing a group of Mathis citizens who had petitioned for the chief's ouster.

Mayor Bott had talked to Chavez Wednesday afternoon in an effort to delay last night's meeting. Chavez and Ramirez refused a delay.

The affidavits were submitted at the request of the commission after a petition containing the names of 564 citizens of Mathis had been signed asking for the chief's ouster.

The original petition basically alleged mistreatment of prisoners, use of profanity in a courtroom and intimidation.

Job Mishap Deaths Dip

CHICAGO (AP) — Workers killed in accidents on the job totaled 14,100 in 1965, the National Safety Council said today. This was 100 fewer than in 1964.

Disabling injuries, however, rose to 2,100,000 from 2,050,000 the preceding year.

The council placed the cost of work accidents to the United States economy at $6 billion. This consisted of lost wages, medical expenses, overhead costs of insurance, interrupted production schedules, time lost by workers other than those injured and losses from work-associated fires.

Valley Gets Jet Flight

HOUSTON (AP)— A new jet powered service to Houston for the first time from the cities of Beaumont-Port Arthur, Harlingen-San Benito, and Mission-McAllen - Edinburg, effective March 1, has been announced by Trans-Texas Airways.

Airline officials said the service also will be added to the early afternoon non-stop flight to Dallas.

Officials said the Silver Cloud Convair-600 will fly in excess of 325 miles per hour, cutting the flight time to only 28 minutes from Beaumont-Port Arthur to Houston and only one hour and 11 minutes from the Lower Rio Grande Valley to Houston.

Burial Blankets A State Expense

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The blankets in which Indians are buried constitute a legitimate funeral expense, Arizona's attorney general has ruled.

By state law, up to $100 may be paid from state welfare funds for "reasonable funeral expenses" of those on old age or blind assistance.

Atty. Gen. Darrell Smith said Wednesday he couldn't find anything in Arizona law books about it. But he noted that the New York Supreme Court defined as funeral costs those "such as the expenses of a wake and mourning apparel, flowers and music."

Reservation Indians who die traditionally are wrapped in blankets and their saddles are buried with them.

The question came up when Welfare Commissioner John O. Graham asked whether charges for tribal burial items could properly be paid by his department.

Cheyney State Nearing Lead

By The Associated Press

Cheyney State of Pennsylvania has rushed toward the top of the small-college Top Ten basketball rankings, but Southern Illinois still holds a slim lead.

Each team received three of the 13 first - place votes, but Southern Illinois, 14-4 maintained its lead by drawing 97 points over-all to 92 for Cheyney State, the only unbeaten small-college team in the country.

The Salukis' first-place margin was cut by their 65-61 loss last week to Tennessee State, which climbed from ninth to seventh in the rankings. Cheyney State, on the other hand, increased its record to 22-0 with victories over Mansfield and East Stroudsburg.

Voting in the poll was based on games through last Saturday.

Cheyney, third last week, changed places with Grambling, 17-3, which split in two games last week.

The Top Ten, with records through Saturday, and points:

1.	Southern Ill. 14-4	97
2.	Cheyney State 22-0	92
3.	Grambling 17-3	69
4.	North Dakota 19-3	66
5.	Northern Mich. 14-3	59
6.	Youngstown 16-1	53
7.	Tenn. State 17-2	43
8.	Evansville 15-6	33
9.	Indiana State 20-3	31
10.	Seattle Pacific 19-3	28

Knicks Triumph Over Warriors

By The Associated Press

Suddenly and belatedly, the New York Knicks are about the hottest item in the National Basketball Association.

The perennial cellar dwellers in the NBA's Eastern Division have won eight of their last 10 games with four of those victories on the road.

The Knicks defeated San Francisco's Warriors 112-108 at San Jose, Calif., in the only NBA game Wednesday night.

The game, the Warriors' fourth straight loss, was decided by a little Bowling Green graduate who played and a large Bowling Green graduate who couldn't play.

Howie Komives, the Knicks' 6-foot-1 backcourt man, topped scorers with 22 points, 16 in the second half. Included among them were two in the last 70 seconds that kept New York safely in front.

Lad Admits Taking Hubcaps

A 15-year-old Latin American boy admitted to Sherrill Farmer, city detective, today the theft of automobile hub caps from the car of James Wortham last Saturday night, and the theft of two other hub caps Tuesday, Farmer said this morning.

Farmer said Wortham's car was in the Ritz Theater parking lot when the theft occurred. The owner of the other hub caps has not been determined, he said.

The youngster will be turned over to the juvenile officer this afternoon, Farmer said.

Deductions For Sales Tax Are Listed

The Internal Revenue Service has released a state sales tax table, which may be used in Texas in filing income tax returns. However, if you can establish that you paid a larger amount, you are entitled to deduct that amount. Sales tax for purchases of automobiles are not included in this table and they should be included to the table amount, if applicable.

It is suggested that readers clip this table and have it handy in completing income tax returns.

Schellhase Lead Is Shrinking

NEW YORK (AP) — Dave Schellhase's lead in the individual major-college basketball scoring race is shrinking and the Purdue star may be ousted from first place on Saturday.

That's the day the Boilermakers play Michigan and Cazzie Russell, the nation's fourth-highest scorer, on the road at Ann Arbor. In four previous games against the Wolverines, Schellhase has averaged only 17 points compared to his current 31.1. In these same four games Russell has averaged 20 points compared to his current 30.1.

Since Schellhase is in first place by only .005 over the 30.6 runner-up Dave Wagnon of Idaho State, according to today's weekly NCAA statistics from the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, the Purdue senior is in very real danger of falling out of the No. 1 spot for the first time this season.

Volunteers To Meet Tonight

Organization of a Howard County Rehabilitation Center Volunteer Auxiliary will be discussed at a meeting for all interested persons tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the center.

Jim Thompson, physical therapist, said that volunteers are needed in every facet of the center's program, from office work to speech therapy aid. Especially needed, Thompson said, are persons who are willing to donate at least a half-day weekly to volunteer work at the center.

The volunteer organization will elect its own officers, operate under its own by-laws, and set its own theme for work at the center, Thompson said.

"Anyone who has any time at all to donate to volunteer work here would be appreciated," Thompson said. "Little things, like answering the phone and taking messages, greeting patients and preparing them for treatment, are important."

Jim Deel Dies Today After A Brief Illness

James E. (Jim) Deel, 77, 1011 Wood St., died today at 8:55 a.m. in a local hospital, after several weeks' illness.

Services are pending at the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

He was born July 21, 1888, at Farris in Dallas County, and was reared in Fisher County. He married Miss Maudie Viola Sargent June 14, 1908, at Rotan.

Mr. Deel farmed in Fisher County until 1924, when the family moved to Howard County. He farmed in the Center Point community and had been employed by the Big Spring Co-Op Gin for the past 21 years as a cotton ginner.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Maudie Viola Deel, Big Spring; three sons, Avery Deel and Lindsey Deel, both of Big Spring, and Ollie Deel, Abilene; two daughters, Mrs. Harley McGaugh, Big Spring, and Mrs. W. O. Robinson, Garden City; six brothers, Henry Deel, Irving, Pete Deel, Roby, Birt Deel, Fort Worth, Bill Deel, Snyder, Orris Deel, Arlington, and Ally Deel, Hamlin; two sisters, Mrs. Adron Ivison, Snyder and Mrs. Tom Miller, Jayton; and 29 grandchildren and 36 great-grandchildren.

Poster Contest Has 115 Entries

About 115 posters have been submitted by students in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades for the Big Spring Little Theater poster contest, according to Mrs. Jim Bill Little. The posters, made in conjunction with the Little Theater presentation of "The Steadfast Tin Soldier," will be judged tonight.

Prizes will be awarded in each of the grades at the afternoon performance of "The Steadfast Tin Soldier" Saturday, Feb. 26, at 2 p.m. in the city auditorium. First prize of $15, second, $10, and third, $5, will be awarded. Prize money is being donated by Hemphill-Wells. Judges for the contest are Mrs. Harlan Sandidge, Mrs. Robert Oday, and Mrs. Jim Bill Little.

Cited For Suggestions

Postal clerks Nile Cole, left, and Orbin Daily, right, examine citations of award presented them for suggestions to improve mail service here. A third employe of the post office, James R. Piper, letter carrier, was also cited. He was not on hand when the photograph was taken.

Postal Workers Get Citations

Three Big Spring postal employes have been given citations for suggestions to improve mail service here. Two of the three suggestions are to be sent on to Dallas for consideration by postal officials there. It is possible the suggestions could win these employes a cash award.

James R. Piper won his citation for a suggestion dealing with the parking of employe and official cars on the post office parking lot. Frank Hardesty, postmaster, said that while Piper's suggestion was localized and not eligible to try for a regional cash award, at least it has been of great help here and will do much to help with a traffic problem the parking lot poses.

Orbin Dailey, a stamp collector himself, and a stamp clerk, offered a method by which fellow philatelists in the area can be better served with the numerous new commemorative and special issues of stamps which are being released.

The Big Spring post office is widely known to collectors for its cooperative attitude toward philately. When Elmer Boatler was postmaster, many orders for special issues and commemoratives were received here from distant communities. Many of these collectors said that the post office in their home town did not provide opportunity for stamp fans to keep up with the new stamps.

His suggestion is to be sent on to the Dallas office.

Nile Cole, another clerk, offered a most timely suggestion on how to expedite the handling of parcel post mail, Hardesty said.

"His plan," said Hardesty, "we believe will save a lot of time in the transmission of such mail."

His suggestion, applicable to many offices, is also being sent to Dallas.

The post office offers various citations and cash awards for workable suggestions from workers in the offices which improve mail service.

Arms Theft Suspect Held

LAREDO (AP) — A former Orange, Tex., resident was held today on federal charges of theft of rifles, pistols and an electric meat cutter.

The charges claim the articles were taken from Laredo Air Force Base by Charles Franklin Talbert, 28, who had resided here nine months.

U. S. Commissioner Jack Hornberger set bond of $7,500 at his arraignment Wednesday. Police said the articles were found in the trunk of Talbert's car.

Terms Proposed In Wage Dispute

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Terms for settlement of a wage dispute between San Francisco newspapers and the American Newspaper Guild were recommended Wednesday night by a Labor Council mediation committee.

The previous contract expired last Sept. 26 and provided a top minimum of $171.25 a week.

Australia Keeps Coveted Symbol

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Australia has retained The Ashes, mythical symbol of Australia - England cricket supremacy, by playing England to a draw in the five-game series. Each team won once and they drew three other times. In the final test, which ended in a draw Wednesday, Australia's Bob Cowper had a record-breaking 307 runs.

Argument Leads To Gunshot Death

PASADENA, Tex. (AP)— An argument ended in the fatal shooting of Wilburn Hall, 32, late Wednesday night at his home in this Houston suburb.

Hall was shot once with a .38 caliber pistol. Authorities charged his wife Allie, 21, with murder.

Warrant Issued For Convicted Lawmaker

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)— A state legislator recently convicted of theft for padding the Senate payroll, was sought today on a warrant charging he tried to kill his ex-girl friend—the key witness against him.

Dist. Atty. Sargent Pitcher Jr., went to Dist. Judge Fred LeBlanc's home Wednesday night to obtain the warrant for Sen. Jack Fruge, 42, a Ville Platte Democrat.

Miss Elouise Stegall signed an affidavit, Pitcher said, complaining that Fruge forced his way into her apartment and attacked her hours earlier.

"I ought to kill you," Miss Stegall's affidavit quoted Fruge as saying, the district attorney disclosed.

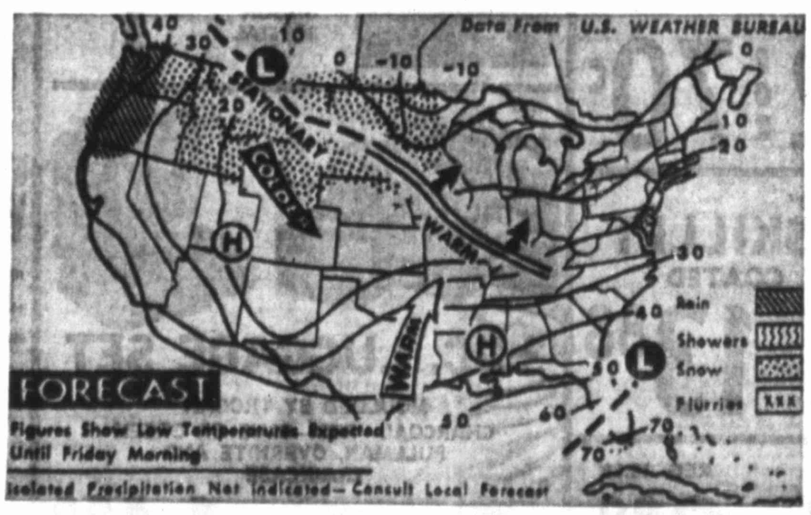

Pitcher, who prosecuted Fruge when another district court judge convicted the legislator of stealing $190, said Miss Stegall was bruised and had a cut on the back of her head.

At the trial, Miss Stegall, 39, a receptionist for the State Conservation Department, testified she had been intimate with Fruge and that he had devised the scheme to place the names of two women on the senate payroll as secretaries and allow her to cash their salary checks.

Four Wrecks Are Checked

Four traffic accidents Wednesday injured no one, officers said today.

Involved were the cars of Tony Alan Holland, Silver Heels Addition, and Elaine White Clark, 3621 Connally, at Twenty-First and Johnson; the parked car of Winfred R. Campbell, 1511 Stadium, and the car of James Daryll Phillips, 810 Johnson, 200 feet west of Birdwell Lane on Third Street; the cars of John R. Fierro, 607 NW 9th, and Claudie Joe Horn, Ellis Homes, at Third and Goliad; and the car of Mary H. Pineda, 700 NW 10th, which hit a telephone pole at Gregg and Second.

Weather Forecast

Rain is forecast for the Pacific Northwest on Thursday night with snow in the North Central area and flurries in the Lower Lakes. It will be colder from the Lower Mississippi Valley to the Atlantic Coast and warmer from the South Pacific Coast to the Middle Mississippi Valley. (AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

Railroad Loses Its Mail Cars

Another historic feature of railroading in West Texas has disappeared from the scene.

No longer do passenger trains on the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. include post office mail cars.

Westbound passenger trains of the T&P ceased to include railway post office cars Feb. 7, and on Feb. 10, the eastbound RPO cars were eliminated.

The railroad still carries some mail — catalogues, advertising material and other "cargo" type parcels and packages—but to all practical purposes the railways have lost one of their most lucrative and important operations.

The abandonment of the RPO stops payment to the railroad by the postal department of $225,000 annually.

Frank Hardesty, postmaster, said that no longer does the post office dispatch a truck to pick up the mail at the railway station.

Replacing the RPO, which served for nearly a century, are the highway postoffices. These are modified buses which travel the highways. They carry crews of postal clerks and other workmen who sort out mail for delivery at each point along the route. They operate much as the old mail cars on the trains did, except they follow the highways and not the rails.

Clinic Discussion Highlights Meet

Discussion of a proposed mental health clinic for Big Spring will highlight the meeting of the public health and safety committee of the chamber of commerce this afternoon at 5:15 o'clock in the chamber office.

Police chief Jay Banks will present suggestions for traffic safety and law enforcement. Dr. B. Broadrick is chairman of the committee.

Burglars Get A Big Haul

Over $800 worth of merchandise was taken from Lewis 5 & 10 store, 503 Lamesa Highway, in an early-morning burglary today, police said.

Officers Ruben Gonzales and James Childress, on patrol at 1:08 a.m. today, heard a dog barking behind the store and investigated. They discovered the southwest door to the store had been battered in with a four-inch diameter pipe which they found on the scene.

Store officials said the following items were taken in the burglary: a cash register valued at $500; 14 wrist watches, total value, $250; 10 cartons of cigarettes valued at $30; a "Barbie" watch worth $8.95; and five alarm clocks worth $24.90. Store officials made the value estimates, officers said.

Footprints were found leading away from the store, police said, and a number of fingerprints were found.

Chicago Police Hunting Texan

CHICAGO (AP) — A Texan charged with armed robbery of two Houston banks and with kidnaping was sought today while a woman companion was held for a court appearance on similar charges.

Miss Janice Teichman, 24, sitting in a wheelchair, surrendered at the state attorney's office Wednesday. Detective James Flynn said she admitted being in an automobile Monday with William Neal Lee, 35, of Houston while Lee kept Policeman Lawrence Traub a prisoner in the back seat.

Flynn said that Traub identified Miss Teichman as the driver of the car which sped through city streets at high speeds to elude pursuers. Traub jumped from the car as it slowed for a turn.

She said she was shot in the left knee when Lee's pistol accidentally discharged.

Flynn said empty money bags were found in a car the couple abandoned. It had been stolen in Houston last Oct. 5, he said.

Stork Prods Squad Again

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Loveland Life Squad thought it had completed its job.

Members were sent on an emergency Wednesday to the home of Alice Patterson, 35. They assisted in the birth of a girl.

But as they accompanied her to a hospital, Mrs. Patterson began complaining of pains. They speeded up the trip and after reaching the hospital, Mrs. Patterson gave birth to another child, a boy.

Mrs. Patterson and the twins —and the Life Squad members — were reported "just fine."

Incidentally, the births were the 14th and 15th for Mrs. Patterson. But it was the first set of twins.

OIL REPORT

Two Counties Gain Locations

Dawson and Garza counties have two new prospectors. Roy H. Smith Drilling Co. has staked the No. 2-A A. D. Brown one and a half miles north of Ackerly to test the Ackerly (Dean) formation at 8,600 feet. It spots 660 feet from the south line and 2,000 feet from the east line of section 2-34-3n, T&P survey, in Dawson County.

The Rocker A, Northwest formation will be tested at 3,000 feet six miles northwest of Justiceburg in Garza County by the Southern Minerals Corp's No. 5-A A. B. Conner, which spots 1,787 feet from the north line and 950 feet from the west line of section 9-5, GH&H survey.

COMPLETIONS

GLASSCOCK

The Gordon Street, South (Lower Wolfcamp) formation flowed 312 barrels of 44.5-gravity oil per day from perforations between 9,696-9,711 feet in the Hancock, Berry & Benedum No. 1-A Houston Poe. A 4½-inch casing was set at bottom, the well flowed through a 20-64ths-inch choke, there was no water and a gas-oil ratio of 1,870-1, after operator acidized the formation with 6,000 gallons. Total depth is 9,900 feet. The well spots 1,000 feet from the north and west lines of section 8-35-2s, T&P survey, eight miles southeast of Stanton.

MITCHELL

G. R. Robinson's No. 1 Enid Thomas Estate has been plugged and abandoned at a total depth of 3,950 feet. The wildcat sought the Clear Fork formation at 3,500 feet. It spots 467 feet from the north line and 2,173 feet from the west line of section 18-26, H&TC survey, 10 miles northwest of Westbrook, and 2.5 miles southeast of Vincent, East pool.

DAILY DRILLING

BORDEN

Huber No. 1 Porter flowed 152 barrels of oil on a 20-64th-inch choke with tubing pressure of 110 pounds and a casing pressure of 10 pounds. Operator is testing. The drillsite is 660 feet from the north line and 1,980 feet from the east line of section 16-32-3n, T&P survey, 15 miles southwest of Gail.

DAWSON

Knox & Aikman Bros. No. 1 Smith's operator is preparing to plug and abandon at an unknown depth. Location is 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 10-33-7n, T&P survey, five miles southwest of O'Donnell.

No. 1-C Wright is pumping back load. It spots 1,650 feet from the north line and 1,908 feet from the east line of section 21-1, J. Poitevent survey, 17 miles northeast of Lamesa.

No. 2-C Wright's operator is preparing to fracture. Drillsite is 1,980 feet from the south line and 660 feet from the east line of section 16-1, J. Poitevent survey, 17 miles northeast of Lamesa.

No. 1-D Wright's operator is moving off rotary. Total depth is 7,621 feet. Location is 660 feet from the south and west lines of section 3-1, J. Poitevent survey, six miles south of O'Donnell.

Midwest No. 1 Marshall is still waiting on a pump. Location is 780 feet from the south line and 660 feet from the west line of section 36-35-5n, T&P survey, three miles southeast of Lamesa.

STERLING

Cabot No. 4 Sellers flowed 56 barrels of fluid in 24 hours on a 13-64ths-inch choke with a tubing pressure of 320 pounds. Shakeout was 55 per cent water. Location is 660 feet from the south line and 1,980 feet from the west line of section 65-17, SPRR survey, 18 miles southeast of Coahoma.

City Budget Shaping Up

The City of Big Spring budget for the year will be completed in about two weeks and will be printed by March 16, according to Larry Crow, city manager.

Public hearing before the city commission will be March 22, Crow said today.

The document will be about 100 pages long when printed in final form.

"We have a number of problems with this year's budget," Crow said. "For example, we are going to reconstruct Tenth Street to all-weather use; have an increased City Cemetery program of beautification and maintenance; and rehabilitation of the City Park swimming pool filtering system up to health standards.

"And we're not counting on parking meter revenue this budget." Parking meters were temporarily removed last Nov. 26, and the period of no meters was recently extended another 90 days. The meters collected about $30,000 per year for the city until removal.

Dope Smuggle Charged Pair

FORT WORTH (AP) — Francisco Maldo, 29, and his wife, Yolanda, 25, have been charged with smuggling $100,000 worth of marijuana into this country.

Officers said 100 one-pound bags of marijuana were stuffed inside door panels of Maldo's car when the two was arrested at Comanche, Tuesday night.

Maldo is a Mexican national, he was held under $10,000 bond in the Tarrant County jail. Mrs. Maldo's bond was set at $1,000.

Wall Attends Monitor Class

J. C. Wall Jr. has returned from a course in radiological monitoring held in Lubbock Tuesday.

Wall, as a new member of the Soil Conservation Service, is required to have the course. The SCS has the responsibility, in event of nuclear attack, to measure radiation on food and to locate land areas which would be safe for continued production of agricultural products.

Instructors were from the III Corps headquarters, the Fort Hood intelligence division, and the SCS. They were Lt. A. H. Vacas, Sp. 6 John D. Stewart, U.S. Army, and Jack C. Williams, SCS. Subjects included effects of nuclear weapons, use of radiological monitoring equipment, techniques of monitoring, medical effects of fallout, protection and decontamination, fallout prediction, etc.

Office To Stay Open Tuesday

The Social Security district office, 1009 Gregg, will be open on Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:45 p.m.

This is a national holiday and normally the administration observes the holiday along with other federal agencies. However, because of the importance of Medicare and the impending deadline of March 31, the office is remaining open to serve all those who wish to take advantage of this new health insurance.

The office will also be open every Saturday morning, 8:30 to noon from now until the deadline.

SMU Granted Fellowship $$

DALLAS (AP)—Federal funds granted to Southern Methodist University for fellowships and traineeships now total $294,097 for the current fiscal year.

Dr. Claude C. Allbritton Jr., dean of SMU's Graduate School of Humanities and Sciences and a former Corsicana resident, made the announcement.

Karl Is Named Aide In NFL

DALLAS (AP) — Larry Karl, director of public relations for the Dallas Cowboys since 1960, was named assistant general manager of the National Football League team Wednesday.

His successor as public relations will be Al Ward, publicity director of the American Football League.

War Tugs At Economy

NEW YORK (AP) — The impact of the Viet Nam war on the American economy is growing.

It hasn't reached the proportions of the Korean War, when wage and price controls were imposed, but it is very real. And it brings with it the ominous threat of inflation.

Labor and material shortages are occurring and some transportation is being taxed.

Government officials and business executives face problems that will have to be solved as the Viet Nam conflict escalates. Liaison between government and business has become an everyday affair as the administration seeks cooperation on prices, balance of payments and availability of strategic supplies.

Big orders for airplanes and helicopters are keeping the aircraft plants humming. Apparel manufacturers are having a hard time meeting government needs for uniforms. Airlines are struggling to haul vast quantities of materials and men to the war zone.

MILITARY DEMANDS

The military demands are coming on top of a booming civilian economy that has pushed factories to capacity or near capacity production. Apprehension about inflation is rising.

All forecasts of stock market and economic activity are hedged by the uncertainty of the Viet Nam situation.

The sensitive stock market has been jolted by talk of war and talk of peace. Recently a report of a peace feeler by North Viet Nam sent it into a brief tailspin.

Commenting on the market's reaction, Eldon A. Grimm, a senior partner in the big brokerage firm, Walston & Co., said: "We are in a financial foxhole — a semiwartime market."

Prudential Insurance Co. of America said stepped-up military activity in Viet Nam, coupled with growing inflation, has prompted it to revise upward its economic forecast for 1966.

Prudential's chief economist, Dr. William V. Freund, now sees the 1966 Gross National Product—total of all goods and services — at $726 billion, up from a $714 - billion prediction issued last November.

The 1965 Gross National Product was $676 billion, up 7.5 per cent from 1964.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler said the Viet Nam escalation is pulling gold and dollars out of the United States at a $700-million-a-year clip. This outlay goes for troop costs, construction and purchase of supplies that cannot be obtained in the United States.

Fowler said the administration is holding to its goal of trying to balance the U.S. international payments position this year but he warned that a fresh jump in Viet Nam costs could put the target out of reach.

Fowler has quoted President Johnson as saying that the prime reason for maintaining the sales of savings bonds, on which interest has been raised, is to help meet the cost of the Viet Nam war. The secretary also said that the savings bond program could prove one of the nation's most valuable weapons in averting inflation.

HOME FRONT

It seemed likely that Johnson's Great Society program might be a major victim of the war. Increases in appropriations for the domestic war on poverty and other programs already have been pared. Further cuts could come if war expenditures continue to rise.

In an increasing number of industries, demand-supply conditions have reached the point where manufacturers have had to allocate their products among their customers to assure a fair distribution.

When the Defense Department has found it necessary to boost a military inventory for a product or to place a large order for equipment, civilian customers have become uneasy and have raced to place orders to protect future requirements.

Some businessmen describe such purchases as anticipatory or protective buying but others simply call it "war-scare buying."

The steel industry has reported recently that it has noticed some anticipatory buying.

Other fields in which customers have been trying to buy heavily for future needs include copper, lead, zinc, molybdenum, motor trucks, machine tools, electric motors and other components.

Inter-University Unit Head Named

DENTON, Tex. (AP)—J. C. Matthews, president of North Texas State University, has been chosen chairman of the Inter-University Council of the Dallas and Fort Worth metropolitan area for 1966.

Dr. Matthews succeeds Dr. Willis M. Tate, president of Southern Methodist University.

Library Of Congress Keeps All Comic Books

WASHINGTON (AP) — Batman, Superman and other heroes of the golden age of comic books are being kept behind locked doors in the Library of Congress.

But, as Batman's sidekick Robin would put it, Holy Thesis!

They're off limits to the kids and are for scholarly research only in the sedate library where the "quiet" signs mean no laughing as well as no talking.

Unless you're a sociologist, a reporter or a graduate student writing a dissertation, you can't get near the library's 12,000 or so comic books.

The comics, dating from the late 1930s to the present, are kept in gray boxes on dusty shelves in two locked corridors of the library's stacks. The collection includes about 2,500 titles and may be the world's largest.

"We don't know of any other library that collects them," says John H. Thaxter, assistant chief of the library's serial division.

They are still coming in — 136 different titles at present — under copyright laws that require that the library receive two copies of every copyright periodical published.

Unlike magazines, there are no bound volumes available, so the library has to take special care of the yellowing, cracking old comics. In addition their value is growing — a copy of the first comic in which Superman appeared sold last year for $100.

"We're giving serious thought to microfilming some of the earlier editions," Thaxter said.

The oldest comic book listed in the library's files is a January 1938 edition of Detective Comics. Although earlier comic books had reprinted newspaper funnies, Detective Comics became the first one with original material when it was first issued in 1937.

A year later, Action Comics came along and gave birth to Superman, followed by Batman who started in Detective Comics but got his own book in 1940.

There seems little difference between the Batman of 25 years ago and the masked figure who darts twice weekly across television screens.

Roundup Time In Viet

A U.S. soldier thrusts his M16 automatic rifle at two Viet Cong guerrillas being taken to a central interrogation point near Bong Son in South Viet Nam. Troops of the 1st Air Cavalry Division were bringing in suspects captured during "Operation Eagle's Claw," about 280 miles northeast of Saigon. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Sleepy Town Takes On Vital War Role

NHA TRANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — Seven months ago this once-sleepy resort town on the South China Sea coast was given a job to do.

Today, it is starting to pay off.

The task was to serve as the base for Field Forces Viet Nam — FFV. Now it is one of the busiest nerve centers of the entire war effort against the Viet Cong.

EAGLE CLAW

The force has directed the huge Operation Masher, White Wing, Eagle Claw of the 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division, South Korean and South Vietnamese regiments around Bong Son and the An Lao Valley to the north. It directed the 101st Airborne and Korean marine drive around Tuy Hoa which has liberated almost 28,000 tons of rice. It directs the security and protection for the giant Can Rann Bay project, where the harbor rapidly is growing into one of the best in the world with its natural deep water.

And it works with all the Special Forces in Viet Nam, the plucky little units which go out into the jungles and the paddies and provide intelligence on insurgent movements.

Two hundred miles northeast of Saigon, Nha Trang has become almost a world of its own.

Out of Nha Trang go the orders for almost 50,000 Allied troops on the move throughout the 2nd Corps area with its 30,000 square miles — just about half of South Viet Nam.

2ND CORPS

The American command coordinates its work with the Korean division and marines and with the Vietnamese government forces which are in fact the 2nd Corps.

That's why the Americans devised the phrase "Field Forces Viet Nam" so that the Vietnamese would be assured their corps and their corps responsibility were not being taken away from them.

Maj. Gen. Stanley R. Larsen, the commanding general, has the delicate job of running war operations in the complex multination setup without stepping on toes.

The Koreans, for instance, pride themselves on controlling their own forces. In practice, the Korean commanders link up with Larsen's plans.

"They're great," the general said. "They really cooperate."

RECALLS BRADLEY

In a way, his job compares not in size but in character with the Army group assignment Gen. Omar N. Bradley had in France during the World War II push that coordinated such disparate elements as Montgomery's British and Canadians, Patton's tanks and where they overlapped De Tassigny's 1st French Army.

The nerve center ripples with field reports.

Batteries of officers deal with top-secret information on the location of North Vietnamese regular regiments and Viet Cong battalions. They've pretty well placed about 10,000 "pawns," as the North Vietnamese are called, and they've got a pretty good idea where Viet Cong hide out.

As the forces grow, it is the intention to move in strength with the single mission — search and destroy.

Larsen, born in Honolulu in 1915, has been a general since he was 41. He started his career as a company commander of the 25th Division — the outfit now here in strength and liberally sprinkled with Hawaiians.

Every time he sees a Hawaiian soldier he rushes over and gets into conversation. And when he can, he manages to have a veteran Hawaiian noncom at his elbow.

He trusts them. They worship him.

Space Radiation Threat 'Slight'

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — What is the probability Apollo astronauts will be injured fatally by space radiation? Only 2½ chances in 100,000, according to a physiologist from the Manned Spacecraft Center, Houston, Tex.

Dr. John Billingham told the annual meeting of the Radiation Research Society that chances of the astronauts getting radiation sickness are only slightly higher.

U.S. Board Ex-Head Dies

GILMER, Tex. (AP) — A former chairman of the Federal Petroleum Board, Leo S. Hart, died Wednesday at his home.

Hart, one-time Upshur County attorney and auditor, was appointed to the board by then President Dwight D. Eisenhower. He served in the board's Kilgore office for two years before retiring in 1956 because of ill health.

Hart formerly was grand master and grand secretary of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Texas.

Survivors include the widow and a daughter, Miss Rose Ann Hart of Victoria.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Friday in the First Methodist Church here.

Head Named For Recreation Area

DEL RIO, Tex. (AP)—Coleman Newman, assistant superintendent of Big Bend National Park, has been named superintendent of the new Amistad Recreational Area around the projected international lake on the Rio Grande.

The recreation area will be on the United States side of the reservoir near here.

Newman, a former Texas Game and Fish Commission staff member, joined the National Park Service in 1952.

Anson, Crane Tangle Here Tuesday Night

Anson and Crane will clash at 8 p.m. here Tuesday in the high school gymnasium in a Class AA bi-district basketball game. The contest will be sponsored by the local chamber of commerce.

Winner of the "sudden death" playoff will advance to regional competition.

Anson wrapped up District 5-AA honors Tuesday night by turning back Stamford at home, 80-65. Crane took the 6-AA title by hurdling McCamey at McCamey Tuesday, 56-38.

Details for the games were worked out at a meeting held at the Settles Hotel here Wednesday morning. Admission prices for the contest will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. Ducats will be available at the gate and at the two schools.

Anson won ten of 12 conference starts. The Tigers are sparked by Eddie Andrus, who scored 18 points against Stamford, and Pat McGlothlin, Mike Brown and Jimmy Faulks.

Crane's conference record is 6-0 and its over-all mark 22-7. The Golden Cranes are one of the top scoring Class AA outfits in the state. They recently scored 94 points against a respectable Alpine club.

The team is coached by Jack Gothard. Bob McKay, 6-5 senior, is a standout performer for the Cranes. Others who play regularly for the 6-AA power include Hayne Hamilton, Tommy Jones, Eddie Jones and DeWayne Erwin.

Anson's basketball coach is Tom Burks.

Pasarell Has Lofty Plans

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — Charlie Pasarell has a new tennis philosophy which he hopes finally will project him into the big time.

"I've decided the only thing for me to do is play every match as if my opponent is champion of the world," the 22-year-old UCLA senior said today.

"That's what I'm determined to do. I am fed up with winning big matches and losing the little ones."

Pasarell's first big test under this formula comes tonight when he meets Bobby Lutz, 18-year-old national junior champion from Los Angeles in the quarter-finals of the National Indoor Tennis Championships.

With top-seeded Dennis Ralston and Manuel Santana of Spain as well as defending champion Jan-Erik Lundquist of Sweden out of the tournament as the result of second-round upsets, many observers are picking Pasarell to take it all.

He has beaten Ralston twice, Roy Emerson of Australia twice and also Santana. He won the Philadelphia Indoor last week by crushing Lundquist and Arthur Ashe on consecutive days.

"I've beaten just about everybody," Charlie said. "Trouble is I've lost to just about everybody, too.

"I'm inclined to be lazy and not prepare for matches which didn't seem tough to me. The result is I've got an awful spotty record, but I've got to grow up sometime."

In Lutz, Pasarell won't have an easy pigeon. The husky Los Angeles youngster, built like a blacksmith, upset Lundquist Wednesday night 7-5, 6-3. He hasn't lost his service in the tournament.

A second quarter-final match tonight sends Brazil's giant killer, Tomaz Koch, against Rafael Osuna of Mexico. Koch toppled Ralston 6-4, 3-6, 6-3 while Osuna won a thriller from Frank Froehling III of Coral Gables, Fla., 3-6, 13-11, 6-4.

The other two quarter-final matches are scheduled Friday, with semifinals Saturday and finals Sunday.

CHRISTOVAL — Bronte and Christoval square off in Class B bi-district basketball competition in the San Angelo Coliseum at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Bronte is the District 67-B champion while Christoval won the 68-B title. Christoval defeated Mertzon in a playoff for the 68-B crown Monday and has a 14-6 record for the season. Bronte is 14-5 over-all.

Ponies Visit Meadow Gym

ACKERLY — Coach Arlen White will take his Sands Mustangs to Meadow Friday night for a 7:30 engagement with that community's Bronchos.

The two quintets are marking time for bi-district competition which begins next week.

The Sands team will meet Imperial in its bi-district test in the Midland High School gymnasium at 8 o'clock Tuesday, Feb. 22. Winner of that engagement qualifies for the Region VI-B tournament at Big Spring.

Imperial boasts a 13-9 record and has beaten Garden City and Sterling City, among other foes. Bob Pigg coaches the 79-B Longhorns.

Meadow was fourth in the state meet last year and had a fine team returning. The Broncs have lost only one game since Christmas.

Meadow, the District 8-B representative, beat Sundown earlier this week, 63-44, Jim Wilkes leading the way with 18 points.

Bout Is Delayed

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—Heavy rain caused postponement of an outdoor light-heavyweight boxing bout between Eddie Cotton of Seattle, Wash., and Sipa Fine of Tonga Thursday. It will be held next Tuesday.

Two Sands Boys On All-League

Two members of the championship Sands team were chosen on the District 71-B boys' all-star basketball squad selected recently by the coaches.

The Mustangs honored were Oren Lancaster, 5-11; and Lynn Maxwell, 5-11. Both boys are juniors.

Zandy Goode of Dawson, one of the players picked, was named the league's representative in the Texas Six and Eight-Man Coaches All-Star game to be played this summer.

Johnny Howard of Flower Grove was picked as an alternate.

In all, ten players were named on the all-star club while 12 girls were chosen in that division of competition.

Among girls chosen on the elite squad were Cindy Dykes, Flower Grove; and Kay Sample, Sands, both forwards; and Diane Massingail and Caroline Ann Pribyla, Flower Grove, both guards.

The teams:

BOYS

Zandy Goode, Dawson; Oren Lancaster, Sands; Johnny Howard, Flower Grove; Terrel O'Brien, Klondike; David Nell, Klondike; Alvin Petty, Dawson; Dan Nunnally, Gail; Lynn Maxwell, Sands; Kenneth Pribyla, Flower Grove; and Kenneth Teichek, Gail.

GIRLS

Forwards—Lavene Russell, Loop; Cindy Dykes, Flower Grove; Kay Sample, Sands; Marquarite Minten, Klondike; Sheryl Williams, Gail; and Jackie Dennis, Gail.

Guards — Diane Massingail, Flower Grove; Caroline Ann Pribyla, Flower Grove; Wanda Zant, Gail; Cathy Todd, Loop; Jan Cohorn, Klondike; Jones, Gail.

Two Quintets Move Closer To Playoffs

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Chicago Loyola and Oklahoma City, two of the nation's top independents, have moved closer to their objective of landing a bid to next month's NCAA tournament that determines the national collegiate basketball champion.

The Loyola Ramblers, fourth-ranked nationally in this week's Associated Press poll, invaded Dayton, Ohio, Wednesday night and scored an impressive 77-72 victory over the Dayton Flyers, another leading independent. It was Loyola's 19th victory against two defeats.

The Oklahoma City Chiefs also won impressibly on the road. They came from 12 points back to defeat West Texas 87-80 at Canyon, Tex. It was the Chiefs' 10th in a row, their 14th victory in their last 15 games and upped their season record to 20-3.

Penn State, Virginia Tech and Temple similarly kept alive their hopes for a postseason tournament bid.

Penn State 14-4, rolled over West Virginia 108-81 for its 25th straight home - court victory. Virginia Tech, 17-4, downed The Citadel on the road 67-61. Temple, 18-5, crushed Fordham 91-74 in the opener of a doubleheader at the Palestra in Philadelphia. Villanova routed St. Bonaventure 93-81 in the second game behind Bill Melchionni's 44 points, his career high for one game.

Chicago Loyola, the only team in the AP Top Ten to play Wednesday, weathered a furious late rally by Dayton. A sellout crowd of 5,880 cheered as the Flyers, behind by 12 points at 68-56, cut the deficit to one point at 73-72 in the last minute. The Ramblers held on as Jim Coleman converted twice from the foul line and Doug Wardlaw scored a two-pointer at the final buzzer.

Wardlaw led the Ramblers with 28 points as they snapped Dayton's 20-game winning streak at home. Don May, with 25, and Henry Finkel, with 20, were high for Dayton, now 18-4 for the season.

Jerry Lee Wells, with 31 points, led the Oklahoma City rally that wiped out West Texas' 12-point lead near the end of the first half. Mickey Fitts paced the Buffaloes with 30 points, 19 of them in the first half.

Maryland, on the rebound after losing eight games, won its sixth in a row by defeating Virginia on the road 71-64 for an over-all 13-8 record. Toledo also won the road. The Rockets downed Bowling Green 71-66 and kept alive their hopes of beating out Miami of Ohio for the Mid-American Conference title.

In other Wednesday games, Mississippi State scored a 90-74 road triumph over Mississippi. At home, Georgia beat Auburn 83-74, Xavier of Ohio downed Marquette 82-78, and the Air Force whipped Valparaiso 98-69.

Pros Descend Upon Tucson

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Golf touring pros tried their putters on the Tucson Natoinal Golf Course's giant, twisting greens and veteran Gardner Dickinson Jr., tested his ailing back today in the first round of the $60,000 Tucson Open.

The greens, averaging nearly 11,000 square feet, are expected to be a big scoring factor, with even the pros three-putting them regularly.

The field includes Dudley Wysong, a 26-year-old third-year pro from Casper, Wyo., who rolled in three long birdie putts on the back nine Monday to win the $9,000 first prize in the Phoenix Open.

Dickinson, taking pain pills daily for his chronic back ailment, led for three rounds at Phoenix. He slipped to a two-over-par 73 on the final day, but still nailed down the $5,000 second-place money.

He had said he would skip the Tucson Open, then changed his mind. "I hope I'm not making a mistake," he said Wednesday. "The back's a little better, but I probably shouldn't be playing. I just hope I don't do any permanent damage."

The 7,200-yard course is playing tougher than it did last year when lefty Bob Charles blistered it for a 17-under-par 271.

Charles, back to defend his title, doesn't anticipate the same kind of scoring.

Charles, who missed the 36-hole cut at Phoenix, his first U.S. tourney of the year, credits a taller rough for increased difficulty.

Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper and Ken Venturi, who all finished back in the pack at Phoenix, are passing up the Tucson tournament. So are Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player, both in South Africa for a series of matches.

Atlanta Prospers In Stock Program

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys and Minnesota Vikings agree that the newly stocked Atlanta Falcons fared better than they did as National Football League expansion franchises in 1960 and 1961.

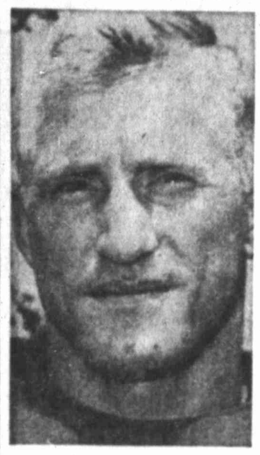

"I would like to have had that group when we started," said Tex Schramm, general manager of the Cowboys, who finished their first season in 1960 with an 0-11-1 record.

"They are better off than we were," said John Thompson, assistant general manager of the Vikings, whose first team in 1961 wound up with a 3-11 mark.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle and the other NFL owners went along with the thinking of the Cowboys and the Vikings.

"I feel, with the stocking program and the rookies Atlanta has signed, they are in much better position than either Dallas or Minnesota at the start," said Rozelle.

Vince Lombardi, coach and general manager of the champion Green Bay Packers put it this way:

ATLANTA BOUND
Alex Hawkins

"They are very well stocked, far better than anyone thought they would be at the time."

The Falcons were stocked Wednesday with 42 experienced players from NFL rosters. They averaged 26.2 years old and about 3½ years pro experience. The Falcons also have 22 rookies and a large number of free agents, making a total of 94 players.

"I am very pleased," said Coach Norb Hecker of Atlanta. "We have a fine group of defensive backs and defensive linemen.

"The big surprises to me were Dennis Claridge of Green Bay, Alex Hawkins of Baltimore, Larry Benz and Bobby Franklin of Cleveland and Maury Youmans of Dallas.

"As of now, Claridge is my quarterback. I think he is a great prospect."

The league never has announced any financial figures on the Atlanta franchise, but it is reported owner Rankin Smith put up $8.5 million to get the team.

It is understood that $50,000 goes into the league treasury as a franchise fee, and the rest is divided among the other 14 clubs over a period of years. That would give each team about $600,000. As each gave up three players, it could be figured at $200,000 a man.

The Falcons took 23 offensive players and 19 defensive men from the established clubs. According to league compilations, 22 of the players have held starting jobs in the NFL although not all in 1965.

Hecker outlined his personnel on a blackboard depth chart, showing an offensive unit with Claridge at quarter, Ernie Wheelwright of New York or Junior Coffey of Green Bay at fullback and Perry Lee Dunn of Dallas, Dan Lewis of Washington or Randy Johnson of San Francisco at running back.

His receivers would be Neal Petties and Hawkins of Baltimore, Bill Martin of Chicago, Bob Jencks of Washington, Dale Messer of San Francisco and Red Mack of Pittsburgh.

Among the brightest rookies acquired in the college draft or signed as free agents are Tom Nobis, All-America linebacker from Texas; halfbacks Bill Wolski and Nick Rassas and end Phil Sheridan of Notre Dame and quarterbacks Randy Johnson of Texas A&I, Steve Sloan of Alabama and Tom Hodges of Virginia.

San Angelo and Odessa Permian are getting all the attention in the analyses being conducted about next fall's District 2-AAAA football fans — and deserve such lofty regard — but don't undersell Abilene Cooper.

The Cougars are coming out with their "best team ever" and are benefitting from a fine program installed by coach Merrill Green. Cooper, as a result, is threatening to eclipse Abilene High as the athletic power in that city.

Football attendance at Cooper last fall, by the way, was up 12,000 over 1964 (for all ten games), whereas it dropped 1,000 at Abilene High.

Goose Tatum, the basketball clown, says he never realized his arms were overly long until he went into a haberdashery one day and asked for a long-sleeved shirt.

The longest the store had was 36 inches and the sleeves stopped at his elbows. He has to have all his shirts tailor-made because he wears a size 48 sleeve length.

The 1966 State ASA Softball tournament will be held in Brownwood again this year but not because Big Spring's D. A. Miller, a delegate to the convention that voted the site, was for the idea.

Miller went along with a proposal that the meet be moved to Wichita Falls. He said that Brownwood had held the meet so long that promoters there were getting complacent about it and becoming lax with eligibility rules.

The troubles Texas Tech has experienced in Southwest Conference basketball wars this season probably surprised coach Buddy Travis of HCJC less than most cage buffs.

Travis caught the Red Raiders early in the season and came away convinced that they had but three outstanding ball players — Dub Malaise, Norman Reuther and Bob Glover.

The Tech freshman team may not be in a position to offer much help to the varsity, either. Coach Gene Gibson of the Raiders may have to recruit on the junior college level as never before.

Incidentally, the charge coach Harold Bradley of the University of Texas made against Raider home fans before he took his Longhorns up there to play ball recently was, no doubt, a piece of master psychology.

Bradley had entered a demurrer to the effect that the Lubbock fans swayed the judgment of game officials by verbally abusing them at critical times.

The Lubbock audience remained strangely silent during most of the game and Gibson sadly remarked later:

"We were too concerned about what was happening in the stands, and not with what was going on on the floor."

Texas, in event you missed it, won the game, 87-74.

Three of the 129 native Texans who play in the two major professional football leagues are Big Springers — not a bad ratio for a city of 35,000.

This state, incidentally, leads second place California by 25 boys in supplying native sons to the pro leagues. Pennsylvania is third on the list, with 78 young men in pro football; followed by Ohio, which claims 64; Michigan, who has 39; Louisiana, 37; Illinois, 36; and Mississippi, 31.

One NFL team sends a scout to Texas every spring to scout high schools for future talent.

Carter's Scoring Mark Imperiled By D. Smith

BROWNWOOD — Roaring along with a 12 game victory skein in their last 13 starts, the Howard Payne College Yellow Jackets invade Abilene Saturday for a Lone Star Conference basketball tilt with McMurry College Indians.

Coached by Glen Whitis, the Jackets will put a 10-0 won and lost LSC record on the line when they meet Coach Hershel Kimbrell's outfit, a team they outmeasured in Brownwood by a slim, hard fought margin of five points, 68-63.

Of particular interest to Yellow Jacket fans will be Dan Smith's performance against the Indians. The 6-6 sophomore from Denton needs but two points to tie the all-time individual season mark of 503 points, established by Walter Carter during the 1964-65 season. Carter formerly starred at HCJC in Big Spring.

Although the Paynemen are well out in front in the LSC race, Coach Whitis is taking nothing for granted.

Following their tilt with McMurry the Jackets must meet East Texas State at Commerce, Feb. 21, and close out regular season play against Stephen F. Austin and Sam Houston State College in Brownwood.

Smith, who can fire away with either hand, can also grab rebounds with the best of them; and he has all the traits needed for defensive play.

Majoring in physical education, he has meshed 188 of 322 field goal attempts and 125 of 157 free throw attempts on the season.

His LSC worksheet shows 86 of 152 field goal attempts and 58 of 66 free throw attempts.

He gets ample support from Captain Dan Faubion, junior guard from Talpa, who is expected to be in strong contention for the LSC player of the week; Tom Carter, 6-3, and Eddie Nelson, 6-2, both of whom played for Howard County Junior College; Mike Gibbs, 6-3 sophomore from Bowie; and Paul Aday, 5-9 sophomore from Plainview.

They help to form the hottest field goal percentage-wise shooting team in the land with a season accuracy mark of better than .560 per cent.

For the season, Nelson has 331 points, Carter 292, Faubion 219, Gibbs 171, and Aday 153. Smith is averaging an even 23 points in conference action. Nelson has 189 points, Carter 166, Faubion 112, Gibbs 81, and Aday 73.

The Jackets have scored 920 points in league play to 793 for their opponents.

1-A Grouping Due For Clay

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Cassius Clay, an extraordinary young man, faced today what millions of ordinary young men face on other days: a possible call to arms through the military draft.

Clay's draft board, Local Board 47, was to meet, with Clay's name among those expected to be reclassified 1-A, the top classification level. Clay currently is draft exempt, with a 1-Y rating.

Should he be reclassified, Clay's name would go on the list of those eligible to satisfy Louisville's March draft quota, as yet unassigned.

J. Allen Sherman, chairman of the local board, said Clay's name would be near the top, since he is 24 years old and unmarried. Sherman implied Clay would be called when the quota is received.

"The quota must be filled within 10 days," Sherman said Wednesday.

The Selective Service allows an inductee 10 days after his order for induction to appeal his selection. In Clay's case, an appeal would be made to the Kentucky Selective Service Appeal Board at Frankfort.

Clay's intimates are keeping hands off, letting the heavyweight champion make his own decision on a possible appeal.

Clay hasn't said whether he will appeal.

Clay twice was rejected because he failed to make passing grades on the draft's mental examinations. The standards since have been lowered below Clay's level, because of manpower demands of the Viet Nam conflict.

Texans Slam AC, 90-84

AMARILLO — South Plains toppled Amarillo College, 90-84, here Tuesday night to maintain its leadership in Western Juco Conference basketball.

The win boosted the Texans' Conference record to 9-1 and their over-all mark to 16-10. Amarillo is 6-5 in league competition and 10-11 for the season.

Dwight Haley led South Plains with 20 points while Dennis Patton tossed in 19 and Vic Hines 17.

Mickey Vaclav was tops for Amarillo with 18 while Sammy Gast had 17 and Jesse Baza 15.

South Plains led at half time, 44-37.

HELP!

Have we got troubles?
Don't ask!
There we were, minding our business and tending to our little distillery in our own quiet way.
SUDDENLY THE ROOF FALLS IN!
Overnight, everybody discovers our rare old Sippin' Whiskey. We're a hit! We're also way behind in our orders.
The trouble is Ezra Brooks is so sippin' good, you buy it faster than we can deliver it.
So if your liquor store is out of Ezra Brooks, take heart. More is on the way.
Keep asking for it. Or play it safe and leave your order. Today. It's worth waiting for.

Ball Park's Location Still Stalls Agreement

Jack Watkins, chairman of the Parks and Recreation Board, asked permission from board members to try to get the last kink out of the Lakeview Park-Campus project yesterday at the regular meeting.

"This project has been around for three years," Watkins said, "and I'm frankly getting tired of delays."

The last kink, apparently, to the completion of the project is in the softball field's location. The school system wants it relocated facing northeast, the city wants it where it is. The city's position is that the ball park belongs where it is (facing southwest) because of the position of the sun during the heavy-use period, and because it is near present school parking facilities.

Watkins was authorized to contact school board members to try to work out a solution quickly without the necessity of another school-city joint meeting.

Board members quickly adopted financial reports on the cemetery fund and the parks system, though there was a mathematical error in the parks report, falsely indicating a shortage of some $5,000.

City Manager Larry Crow said bad bookkeeping was probably responsible for a "missing" $5,000. About $72,000 was originally allocated for the parks program, $55,000 was spent, and only $14,600 is on hand—indicating $5,000 shortage.

He told Johnny Johansen, parks superintendent, to recheck his figures and account for the error. He said the error may be found in the fact that more money was allocated for projects than was in the fund, and that some bills were only estimated.

The cemetery fund balance was reported at $1,934.65, including the estimated expenditures for completion of all improvement projects. Actual cash on hand as of Jan. 31 was $12,000, out of the original capital of $28,000, some $16,000 having already been spent on cemetery projects.

John Berry, representing the YMCA swim club, received permission to use the City Park swimming pool for the annual YMCA swim meet July 16, the city acting as co-sponsor of the event, as for the last two years.

Johansen said the park pool will be completely renovated by the time of the event, including an expenditure of about $14,000 to replace the outdated filter system, and cleaning up and repainting the pool and the restrooms.

Jess Looney, representing the Optimist Club, asked board members what would be needed to authorize the construction of a new building for Boy Scouts on the Park Avenue lot where the present building is located.

Board members and Crow said they did not know who had erected the present building, or what zoning was on the property. Crow said he would ask Johansen to check with John Burgess, city attorney, to find out what original arrangements had been made with the Optimist Club.

Board members said there were no plans to use the land for anything other than the Scout Hut.

Following the meeting, board members made a tour of all parks and recreation facilities in the city.

Plans Are Made For School Week

Jimmy Felts, co-chairman of the Texas Public School Week committee of Howard County, told the gathered committee at a 7:30 a.m. breakfast today; "Anything we can do to get parents to attend county schools during Public School Week is good."

The gathering included members from the local school system, Sands, Forsan and Coahoma.

The breakfast at Coker's Restaurant was held in preparation for Texas Public School week, which will be March 7-11 this year.

"After 112 years of free schools in Texas," Felts said, "we've come a long way in education. Texas has done a marvelous job.

"I ask the members and schoolteachers to talk to schoolchildren and parents, to ask the children to ask their parents to come visit the schools during the week. With an extra effort, we can have great participation this year."

"I've done work with Public School Week committees in Bexar County," Hugh Smith, high school administrative intern, representing the school district, said, "but I've never seen one this hard-working. If Bexar County folks would work as hard as this committee, everyone in Texas would know of their program."

Smith passed out a list of Public Schools Week activities planned by the Big Spring Independent School District schools, and asked members from the outlying districts to prepare a similar one for the news media.

RAMBLER AMERICAN
SHOWS ITS NEW MUSCLE!
Out runs Corvair, Dart, Falcon at Daytona.

Rambler Wins Big!
Comes in 1, 2 in Class VI Acceleration Test—One of 3 Events in 1966 Pure Oil Performance Trials.

This is the car with the newest, biggest, most powerful standard engine in its class! This is the car that, even with all this performance, is still the lowest-priced car made in the U.S.A.!*

This is the car that, with automatic transmission, got a tremendous 24.48 miles-per-gallon in the Economy Test. (The only car that could do better, by a scant 0.5 mpg, had such a small engine that it took nearly 4 seconds longer than the American to accelerate from 25 to 70 mph.)

This is the car with more flair, more downright road sense than any other car in its class. The car you have to try—right here and soon.
*Based on a comparison of manufacturers' suggested retail prices.

"NASCAR" SUPERVISED
The famous Pure Oil Performance Trials held at the Daytona International Speedway are run under strict supervision of NASCAR officials. Cars are selected by surprise visits to dealers. No special parts or preparation permitted. The result is the most realistic and reliable comparison of car performance ever devised.

It may seem strange in today's film world, but Italian movie actress Monica Vitti, above, has announced that she is going to keep her clothes on in her film roles, no matter what the cost. She added that she hopes her pictures still make some money, despite this "flaw," the report said. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Man Hears Of Social Security

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Will Mullins came to the Social Security office recently to see if he could begin collecting some benefits. He's 102.

Mullins, who held his last full-time job in 1946 at 82, apparently didn't know about Social Security until a relative told him about it.

Mullins has 11 children — eight of them are still living. He worked most of his life at a sawmill near Macon, Ga. He lives with his daughter in Akron.

Convict At Mossler Trial Faces Further Cross-Quiz

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Bible-conscious jailbird goes back beneath the trip hammer of cross-examination at the Jacques Mossler murder trial today, his ears still smarting from defense cries of "liar" and "perjurer."

He is Arthur Grimsley, a curly-haired thief from the Arkansas State Penitentiary. He has changed the time of a kill-for-hire offer he claims to have received from Melvin Lane Powers.

Powers' lawyer, Percy Foreman, subjected Grimsley to 30 minutes of cross-examination Wednesday, and was scheduled for more today.

Before Grimsley returned to the stand Wednesday, the state had witnesses to pursue its relentless stop-watch surveillance of Powers' movements before and after 1:45 a.m. June 30, 1964 — when the 69-year-old Mossler was bludgeoned and then stabbed 39 times in his Key Biscayne apartment.

STATE'S CONTENTION

Prosecution testimony already had placed Powers near the scene an hour before Mossler's death. Subsequent testimony dealt with Powers' departure by air from Miami after the slaying.

The state claims Mrs. Mossler left the Mossler apartment with her children in a premeditated murder design, clearing the way for Powers to kill her husband.

Mrs. Mossler, admitting to a 40th birthday Friday, is accused with her nephew, the husky, dark-haired Powers, 29, of doing away with her aging husband. The state says they wanted his money and did not want to stop a love affair.

Grimsley, who says he became an ordained minister as a result of his behind-bars Bible study, testified earlier this week that he once worked in a magazine sales crew with Powers.

He said that about June 15 or 16, 1962, Powers offered him money to kidnap Mossler.

ADMITS "ERROR"

"We don't want him back. We want him killed," Grimsley said Powers told him.

Wednesday, Grimsley said he rechecked and decided his sequence was in error.

Recalled to the witness stand, Grimsley said he based his prior testimony on the fact that he had picked up his father-in-law at a tuberculosis sanitorium on June 14.

Actually, the witness said, he now has determined that the pickup he alluded to occurred March 24, therefore his contact with Powers had to be March 25-26, instead of the following June.

Defense Associate Harvey St. Jean, called Grimsley a "liar and a perjurer."

The defense moved for a mistrial, contending that Grimsley had changed his story only after learning that Powers was in a Houston, Tex., hospital and could not have made any proposal to Grimsley to kidnap and kill Mossler.

The mistrial motion was denied.

Garcia Identifies Man As The Late Gilroy's Son

COLORADO CITY (SC) — In Mitchell County Court Wednesday, Martin Garcia, 68, Loraine merchant, identified a 50-year-old resident of Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, as Carlos Gilroy Jr., son of the late Charlie Gilroy, wealthy Loraine farmer and rancher, who died Oct. 5, 1964, at Temple.

Gilroy left an estate valued at about a quarter of a million dollars and many claimants. Eleven nieces and nephews are interested in the disposition of the case, and two Mexican claimants are involved. Mrs. Maria Ana Cabrero Perez de Gilroy and Carlos Gilroy Jr., of Nuevo Laredo, have entered claims on the estate alleging that they are Gilroy's widow and son.

In a letter allegedly typed for him by Garcia, Gilroy states that he married Maria Ana, Jan. 3, 1915, and that Carlos was born Dec. 25, 1915.

Mexican authorities say that marriage records and birth records for this period are burned or lost.

In Wednesday's testimony, Garcia emerged as the principal sponsor for Maria Ana and Carlos as the rightful heirs to the Gilroy estate.

After Gilroy's death, Garcia placed advertising on three border radio stations asking for information on a Maria Ana Gilroy and finally received a letter from her from Nuevo Laredo. He visited her there and became convinced that she was the legitimate widow of the late Charlie Gilroy.

He told the court that he had made the efforts to find Gilroy's wife and son because of a promise that he had made to Gilroy before his death.

He testified that he had spent over $1,000 on the quest for the two, but that they had promised to repay him.

Martin kept the stand most of the day, appearing both Wednesday morning and afternoon. Two other witnesses testified briefly. Darrell Ainsworth, of Snyder, a candy salesman, testified as to seeing the copy of the letter Garcia had typed for Gilroy, and Deputy Sheriff Roy Richards of Loraine testified that he had heard that Charlie Gilroy had a wife and child in Mexico but that he knew nothing about it.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Adhesive Paper Can Renew Old Shades

Dear Heloise:

I found that placing a strip of adhesive - backed paper across the bottom of a worn window shade, made the shade look better than before.

Just cut the strip the width of the shade, and stick it on — no bother. Besides, now this strip may be wiped off easily when it becomes soiled. . . . Harriet Luthiger

* * *

Dear Heloise:

Did you know that an empty, clean Worcestershire sauce bottle makes a dandy vinegar dispenser for table use?

HELOISE

With the label washed off, it is neat, compact, and so serviceable. . . . Elsie

* * *

Dear Heloise:

I ripped out just enough stitching at the top of the label that is sewn into my coat, to insert a dime.

Should my purse get lost, or have no correct change, I can at least make a phone call. . . . Kay Ryan

* * *

Dear Heloise:

There was a time when I used to keep my sterling silverware hidden away in tarnish - proof bags for twice-a-year company dinners . . . 'til I smartened up and realized the sterling is made to last a lifetime and comes out lovelier with each washing.

So now I reverse the situation by packing my odd stainless steel and silverplate items in plastic bags for emergency use, and my family enjoys the luxury of our sterling every day of the week. . . . Mrs. G. H.

* * *

Dear Heloise:

After washing my white cloth gloves, I fasten them to a coat hanger, then hook the hanger on the clothes line in the sun.

When the gloves are almost dry, I spray them with spray starch.

I find they stay clean much longer, and the starch gives them body. . . . Loraine Healy

* * *

Dear Heloise:

Here's another idea for your nylon net, especially leftover scraps:

After sewing a stuffed animal together (leaving an opening), stuff it with nylon net . . . then, of course, sew up the rest of the animal.

By using nylon net, the animals wash easier and dry faster.

And the toys (stuffed animals) are so light, even the tiny tot can pick them up with ease.

They also hold their shape beautifully, and do not get lumpy . . . Mrs. John Miktuk

* * *

Dear Heloise:

My baby outgrew his playpen, and insisted on crawling all day.

I found the best way to keep him out of trouble was to get a portable, folding wooden fence, and stretch it across his bedroom door, baby-proofing his room, and letting him play in there with all of his toys.

Now he is able to crawl, feels free with so much space all to himself, and stays happy long enough for me to get my work done! . . . K. E.

* * *

Dear Heloise:

Here's a hint for watering small plants.

Use an empty plastic ketchup or mustard squeeze type container partly filled with water. As the water squirts in a stream, there is no chance of overflowing or drowning the plant . . . Willie Soper

Wins Beauty Title

Mrs. Frank Neal Jr. is reigning as the local National Beauty Salon Week queen. Her winning coiffure was created by Mrs. Harold Bentley who used a variation of the new "Dickey-Bird" hair styles.

Beauty Crown Goes To Mrs. Frank Neal

Mrs. Frank Neal Jr. placed first in the National Beauty Salon Week beauty queen contest held Monday evening by the Texas Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, Affiliate No. 24. The competition was held at Atha's Salon and judges were Mrs. Dean Forrest, Mrs. Elaine Clark and from Midland, Neal Moore.

Sixteen hairdressers and their models competed, with Mrs. Harold Bentley creating the winning coiffure. Other winners were Mrs. Rick Terry, second, the styling by Mrs. Chub Jones; Miss Nita Medley, third, the styling by Mrs. Bob McNallen; and Mrs. Terry Kilgore, fourth, the styling by Mrs. J. H. Eppler.

The queen was presented with a bouquet of roses as she was crowned and a robe placed about her shoulders.

Prior to the crowning of the queen, Mrs. Joe Crump, a volunteer at the Big Spring State Hospital, presented a certificate of appreciation to the National Beauty Salon Week chairman, Mrs. Fred McGowan, and the welfare chairman, Mrs. David Faulkenberry. The awards were made for the work the local hairdressers have done in the hospital's rehabilitation program by assisting the patients with their grooming. For a number of years the group has donated time and equipment to caring for the patients' hair. A certificate was also received by the Midland representative, Neal Moore.

Members were told that the hairdressers provided 23 permanents, four haircuts and four sets Sunday afternoon for patients at the State Hospital.

Members assisting were Mrs. Dave Faulkenberry, Mrs. Joe Howell, Mrs. A. H. Harding, Mrs. Opal Gibson, Mrs. Houston Parker, Mrs. Bobbie Cary and Gary Don Cary.

On Sunday morning, beauty operators from Midland provided 22 permanents, 18 sets and four hair cuts. The work was done in observance of National Beauty Week.

Refreshments were served to 65 members and guests.

Home League Has Luncheon Session

A covered dish luncheon was served at the Wednesday afternoon meeting of the Ladies Home League of the Salvation Army. The 15 attending met at the Citadel with Mrs. J. R. Kirby presiding. During the program session a film entitled "Inns of Healing" was shown and Mrs. Jimmy Moore won the attendance prize.

Daughter Born To Paul Garonies

FORSAN (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cardwell were in Odessa to visit with their first great-granddaughter, Gay Lynn, born Feb. 7 to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Garonie.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Tippie were recent Midland visitors.

Mrs. M. M. Fairchild visited in Odessa with Mr. and Mrs. Larry Digby.

Mrs. J. W. Griffith has returned home from DeLeon where she was a guest of her father, Jeff Frazier, who is convalescing from an illness.

Card Party Given In Blue Room

A "welcome" card party was held Monday evening in the Blue Room of Cosden Country Club by the Xi Mu Exemplar Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi.

The party guests were BSP members who have received the ritual of jewels and are eligible for the exemplar degree.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Wade Choate, Mrs. James R. Shannon and Mrs. Jimmy Taylor.

Refreshments were served to 15 members and guests from a table decorated with a seasonal flower arrangement in shades of green and orange.

Mrs. Louis Jones won the attendance prize.

One Joins Rebekahs

Mrs. Mira Beavans was accepted for membership when the Big Spring Rebekah Lodge No. 284 met in the IOOF Hall Tuesday evening. The initiation is scheduled March 1.

Miss Shirley Lee presided and welcomed a visitor, Mrs. Guy Peterson of the Plains Rebekah Lodge.

Following the meeting, Mrs. Kenneth Duffer was honored with a stork shower hosted by Mrs. A. F. Gilliland, Mrs. Carl Bowers, Mrs. A. J. McCall, Mrs. Leon Stockton and Mrs. S. A. Wilson.

The honoree received gifts and a corsage of blue carnations.

An overlay of lace covered pink linen on the refreshment table and the cake was centered with a blue stork and accented with pink roses. Thirty-six attended.

Church Circle Slates Speaker

Plans to hear a guest speaker March 7 were discussed during the Tuesday evening meeting of the Ruth Circle of First Christian Church. The members met at the home of Mrs. George Anderson, 1902 Purdue, with Mrs. John Black presiding.

It was announced that the guest speaker will be a missionary to Paraguay and the talk will be at the church fellowship hall.

Mrs. W. A. Turner gave the devotion, "Green Bough and Singing Bird." Mrs. Preach Martin led the lesson.

Refreshments were served to nine members and three guests, Mrs. Mira Beavans, Mrs. Alberta Elam and Mrs. H. B. Gaines.

Mrs. Joe Hoard Holds Meeting

FORSAN (SC)—Mrs. Joe B. Hoard Sr. was hostess to members of the Dorcas Sunday school class of the Baptist church Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Harry Parks presided, and Mrs. Carl Tippie gave the devotion. Mrs. C. V. Wash conducted the program.

Refreshments were served, and the next meeting will be at the fellowship hall in March. Mrs. Tippie will be hostess.

Family Supper Plans Told

Plans for a pot-luck supper were discussed during the Wednesday morning meeting of the Protestant Women of the Chapel. Thirty-three members met at the Webb AFB chapel annex with Mrs. William Hascall presiding.

Hostesses were Mrs. R. L. Tuck and Mrs. J. F. Brown. Valentine colors of red and white were used in the room decoration and the table was centered with an arrangement of spring flowers.

The family pot-luck supper will be Feb. 25 at 7 p.m. at the chapel annex.

Guests were Mrs. Richard Michaels, Mrs. G. E. Griswold, Mrs. C. O. Edger, Mrs. Carl Owen, Mrs. L. N. Junkin, Mrs. J. P. Hallett, Mrs. S. E. Chapin, Mrs. William S. Bailey, Mrs. R. B. Johnston and Mrs. Myrtle L. Longbottom.

The program speakers and their topics were Mrs. J. E. Hogan, "Ten Danger Signals in Marriage"; Mrs. B. F. Meacham, "Marriage Ceremony"; and Mrs. G. E. Franks, "Divorce."

Mrs. W. L. Russell closed the program with the singing of "Bless This House."

It was announced that on March 7 Chaplain William Warren will begin a Sunday school teachers training program.

Club Has Breakfast

COAHOMA (SC)—A valentine "come - as - you - are" breakfast was held Saturday morning by members of the Young Homemakers Club at the home of Mrs. Johnny Justiss. Mrs. Bernie Hagins was cohostess.

Fifteen members were present, and the refreshment table featured a red ribbon heart centered with white roses. The individual tables were lighted with cupid figurines.

Plans for community projects were discussed during the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the group in the home of Mrs. Harold Harrington.

P-TA Board Managers Meet In Colorado City

Mrs. R. E. Ray, 1216 E. 15th, was elected recording secretary during the Wednesday meeting of the 16th District board of managers of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers. The session was held in the Terrace Room of the Baker Hotel in Colorado City.

Mrs. Alvie L. Cole, Sterling City, presided, and introduced A. G. Langford, Lamesa, as vice president for Andrews, Dawson and Borden counties.

It was announced that the Colorado City units will host the March 24-25 spring conference. The district meeting will be held at the civic center, and the program will be entitled "The Challenge of Our Changing Education."

Guest speakers will be Mrs. L. L. Ledger, state president; Mrs. A. T. Leveridge, state legislative chairman; and R. E. Slaton, Texas Education Agency.

Representatives from 20 area boards attended. They were from Colorado City, Sweetwater, Maryneal, Miles, Lamesa, Sterling City, Silver, Forsan and Big Spring.

GIs Fighting Ants, Cong In Tunnels

CU CHI, South Viet Nam (AP) — Special squads of American "Tunnel Rats," armed with tear gas, explosives and DDT spray bombs, prowl the vast and deadly Viet Cong tunnel system under and around this newest U.S. strongpoint.

Threatened by Viet Cong ambush, cave-ins, spiders, rats and millions of vicious black ants, the GIs are dedicated to the destruction of what one called "the little IRT," after one of New York's subway lines.

The Viet Cong have dug tunnels and underground hideouts throughout the country, but none is more sophisticated than the vast complex which stretches perhaps 35 miles from just west of Saigon to the Cambodian border. The network was begun 20 years ago during the war against the French. It has survived countless bombings, military operations and powerful smoke and tear-gas machines.

INSIDE ATTACK

Now the Tunnel Rats, picked for their small size and strong nerves, are attacking the tunnels from inside the complex.

It's a strange world in the multitiered tunnel system. So far the GIs' worst enemies have been the large black ants rather than booby traps of Viet Cong lying in ambush in the system they know so well.

On one underground expedition, Spec. 4 Neil Kohl of Volin, S.D., reported on his specially rigged telephone:

"God, I've run into the ants again. There's thousands and thousands of them all over the walls, the ceiling, the floor, everywhere. I'm going to use the bomb" — spray can filled with DDT.

"STILL BITING"

"Okay, I'm moving forward again," Kohl said after several minutes' pause. As he crawled over the mass of ant bodies now covering the floor, Kohl reported, "I didn't get them all, there are some live ones biting me."

The half-inch ants have such a powerful bite that to pull them off often means losing a bit of skin. When they are especially thick, the Tunnel Rats puncture the DDT bomb and toss it in, retreating to pick up a gas mask.

On the same trip, Kohl asked his buddies above ground whether any other GIs were in the tunnel with him.

When told none was anywhere near him, the young GI's voice dropped and reported he heard voices above him. Presumably they were Viet Cong on another level.

SCURRY BELOW

The tunnels have proved one of the Viet Cong's most effective tactics. They can blast away furiously from hiding at Allied troops and then scurry underground, closing off the mouth of the tunnel with a cleverly camouflaged trapdoor which nearly always escapes detection.

Hundreds of Allied troops have fallen under the guns of the tunnel-dwelling Viet Cong. Many more will until and unless the vast labyrinth is destroyed — a truly monumental job.

The 2nd Brigade of the 25th Division, including the famed Wolfhounds of the 27th Infantry, has been plagued with sniper fire even at brigade headquarters ever since the unit moved 25 miles west of Saigon in late January to Cu Chi.

The Tunnel Rats, temporarily headed by Capt. Herbert Thornton of Morehead City, N.C., have been crawling underground ever since, following tunnels to their junctions with other tunnels, into sleeping areas, up camouflaged entrances into other levels on into a maze seemingly without end.

"These things have got everything but clover leaves," said Thornton, of the 1st Infantry Division. The chemical warfare officer and demolitions expert is helping the newly arrived 25th form its own tunnel-busting squad.

The tunnels are built for Vietnamese and most Americans are too large for the job of slithering through openings and passageways.

TEAR GAS

When one entrance is found, the Tunnel Rats descend and prowl around exploring until they find another exit and the side passageways leading to other tunnels. Then they blow the first length of tunnel and fill it with CS tear gas. The powderlike particles become thoroughly mixed with the dirt and any Viet Cong who tries to clear the tunnel later would quickly break down since the CS crystals can't escape and dissipate.

Using the newly discovered entrance, the tunnel men then follow on through the maze until they can isolate another segment and destroy it.

One typical day, the team destroyed about 300 yards of tunnel and explored sections of offshoots prior to destroying them.

Spec. 4 Theodore Schwarz of Somerville, N.J., said, "It's quite a funny feeling when you lift up an entrance cover at an exit you've just discovered and find the woods all round you."

Those who have followed the tunnels respect the ingenuity, determination and tenacity of the Communist foes.

Two-Car Crash Fatal To Three

HILDAGO, Tex. (AP)—Three men were killed in a two-car collision on FM 1926 near here Wednesday night.

Killed were Daniel Ceballos, 45, Edinburg funeral director, and Frank Bloxsom, 55, and William L. Menger, 56, both of Houston.

Pope Decrees New Rules On Abstinence

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI decreed major changes today in the centuries-old rules of fasting and abstinence for the world's Roman Catholics.

Days of fasting during the pre-Easter Lenten season were reduced to two — Ash Wednesday and Good Friday. The obligation to abstain from meat on all Fridays remains in force but children do not have to observe it until they are 14. The present age is 7.

The Pope specified that Friday abstinence applies only to meat — not to eggs, dairy products and soups and gravies made with animal fat.

NO MEAT

Ash Wednesday was made a day of abstinence as well as a fast day—meaning no meat can be eaten.

The Pope decreed the changes in an apostolic constitution titled "Do Penance."

The new regulations were announced in Washington Wednesday night by the apostolic delegate to the United States, Archbishop Egidio Vagnozzi, through the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

NEW REGULATIONS

The Washington announcement said the Pope had issued new regulations for days of fast and abstinence "making them apply only to Ash Wednesday and Good Friday."

"The traditional law requiring Catholics to abstain from meat on Friday remains in effect," the announcement added.

"The age bracket for the law of fasting remains the same," it said, "beginning at 21 and ending with the beginning of the 60th year."

Turnpike Users Given Free Drive

BOSTON (AP) — Motorists on the Weston-to-Boston extension of the Massachusetts Turnpike may ride toll-free Friday, as a birthday present.

The Turnpike Authority said the free ride is in celebration of the extension's first anniversary. The toll is normally 50 cents.

France Orbits Second Satellite

HAMMAGUIR, Algeria (AP) — France today successfully fired a three-stage rocket and put a 41-pound scientific satellite into orbit. It was the second all-French launching of a satellite.

After two failures due to mechanical troubles last Friday and Saturday, the liquid-fueled Diamond II rocket lifted off from this base on the edge of the Sahara.

Officials said the rocket functioned normally and the satellite's orbit closely followed the one planned — from a high point of 1,660 miles above the earth to a low point of 517 miles.

Technicians at the Bretigny Tracking Center near Paris said they were receiving the Zebulon satellite's radio transmissions normally.

The satellite is to send back information for mapping the earth's magnetic field and to aid studies of the earth's form and structure.

MRS. M. A. JABOR

Lebanon Homecoming Banquet Described

By JO ANN PHINIZY

Before this year is done, the M. A. Jabors, 611 N. Gregg, plan to make a return trip to their "old country" of Lebanon. It will be their first trip back since 1910, and they expect to see a multitude of changes in everything except a Lebanese banquet.

The tentative plans start with meeting Jabor's brother and his family in Argentina. From there, the group will begin the long-delayed pilgrimage to the small Mediterranean country.

Mrs. Jabor says that the results of two major world wars and the establishing of the Lebanon Republic in 1944 would alter about everything she recalls of the country; but that the art of Lebanese cooking would remain the same through all time.

A Lebanese banquet is the prologue for any event of note. It preceeds major holidays, weddings, or a family reunion that has been 55 years in the making.

The preparation of such a feast is no casual undertaking. For weeks, the whole village is involved in the selection of wines, meats and fruits. The cooking and seasoning of the special dishes is lost in the family histories and customs.

ROAST MUTTON

Mrs. Jabor describes such a meal as being centered around a whole "corn fed" mutton that has been roasted for days on a rotisserie and tended constantly.

Another meat specialty will be skewer-broiled shish-kabobs of lamb, or beef, or chicken; each layer separated by slices of onion and tomato.

The table will be burdened with a host of fresh, garden-grown vegetables which will include a bowl of lentil beans that have a taste unequaled in any other country. Served with the vegetables there will be a sauce made of crushed garlic, olive oil and lemon juice.

Among the elaborate choice of liqueurs there will be Arriah made from grape seeds and known for its change of color from dark to white when water is added.

One of the most complicated dishes will be Balua. It's made of 13 layers of gossamer thin pastry. Alternating between the layers is a filling of chopped nuts, in a syrup of sugar and orange rose wine, and melted fresh butter brushed on with a turkey feather.

DRIED FIGS

Fruit is the dessert at a Lebanon meal and holding center-stage will be sun-dried figs that have been boiled in sugar-sweetened water flavored with anise.

Mrs. Jabor says that the meal epilogue will be Turkish coffee made with the coffee bean ground to a fine powder. The powder is then added to boiling water flavored with a drop of rose water, or cardamon seed; boiled "half a second" longer and served in small, deep cups.

Mrs. Jabor says that this particular Lebanese banquet is very likely to have the addition of her favorite American dishes—fried chicken and chocolate pie.

In selecting her recipes, Mrs. Jabor chose those that are typical in the "old country." She says that, here, the preparation is perhaps too lengthy, but that the end results are well worth the trying.

SOMBUSIC
(Fried Meat Pie)

3 cups plus 2 tbsps. flour
½ stick plus 2 tbsps. butter
3 tbsps. salad oil
2 tsps. baking powder
Pinch of salt
2 eggs
½ cup warm milk
½ cup warm water
1 small onion, chopped fine
2 lbs. ground meat without fat
1 tbsps. parsley

For crust: Mix flour, baking powder and salt. With a pastry blender, cut in ½ stick butter and eggs. Add milk and water and knead for about 10 minutes. Shape dough into individual balls, cover with waxed paper and let set for 10 minutes.

For filling: Brown ground meat and put aside. Using the remaining butter, fry onions to a pinkish color. Mix onions and flour with drained meat mixture and finish cooking meat.

Roll dough mixture into thin circular shapes. Place meat mixture into crust circles by the tablespoonful. Fold crust circles together and seal with fork tines. Fry in salad oil until crust is done.

KIBI
(Lamb Loaf)

4 tbsps. butter
1½ onion
2 tbsps. sniobr (pinon seeds)
1 lb. ground meat
2 tbsps. flour
Salt
White pepper
Black pepper
2 tsps. cinnamon
2 cups burgul (chopped wheat)
4 lbs. fine ground lamb meat
1½ cups ice water
3 tbsps. olive oil

For filling: Brown ground meat, drain and let cool. Cut one onion in thin slices and fry in 2 tablespoons of butter until pink in color. Mix in sniobr, flour and ground meat.

For crust: Wash burgul in water, drain well, and let sit for 15 minutes. Trim lamb meat of fat and gristle and grind twice in meat grinder. Mix salt, ½ chopped onion, white and black pepper, cinnamon, mint, burgul and ground lamb, and ½ cup ice water.

Grind mixture twice in meat grinder, add remaining ice water and mix well. Grease a 12x12 baking pan with olive oil and cover bottom of pan with half of the crust mixture. Add filling for second layer and cover with remaining crust mixture.

Cut the loaf into individual patties of a diamond design and puncture each diamond with a deep hole. Over the top of the loaf, sprinkle the remaining butter, 3 tablespoons of olive oil and water.

Bake in a hot oven (500 degrees) for 18 to 20 minutes.

CABBAGE ROLL

1 medium size cabbage
½ cup rice
1 tbsp. salt
3 tbsps. shortening
3 tbsps. butter
1 tsp. cinnamon
White pepper
Black pepper
1 small can whole tomatoes
2½ cups ground chili meat
1½ cups water
1 onion
4 cloves garlic
Dry mint
2 lemons

Put water in sauce pan and bring to boiling point. Remove from heat and add rice and salt; stir and let stand.

Remove core from cabbage and place cabbage in pan of water and boil until tender. Wash the rice in hot water and drain. Mash one of the whole tomatoes.

To the rice add shortening, butter, cinnamon, a dash each of white and black pepper, and the remaining tomatoes, plus 2 tablespoons of the mashed tomatoes. Mix ground meat with the rice.

Roll balls of the meat and rice mixture into individual cabbage leaves and place the rolls in top of double boiler. For additional flavor, to the bottom part of the double boiler, add onion, cut in fourths, and two cloves of garlic.

Pour remaining mashed tomato to over cabbage rolls, cover with heavy lid and cook at high heat for 15 minutes.

Make a mixture of 2 mashed garlic cloves, dry mint and the juice of the lemons; pour over cabbage rolls. Continue cooking over a low heat for 45 minutes.

Make Famous Dessert For Patriotic Holiday

This Cherry Jubilee Dessert is sure to add the finishing touch to your Washington's Birthday dinner. A warm, tart cherry sauce spooned into flaky patty shells, then filled with your favorite ice cream and topped with a generous amount of this sauce, makes a delicious finale to any meal.

CHERRY JUBILEE DESSERT

1 pkg. frozen patty shells
1 (1-lb. 4 oz.) can pitted red cherries, packed in water
2 tbsps. quick-cooking tapioca
½ cup granulated sugar
¼ tsp. cinnamon
¼ tsp. nutmeg
⅛ tsp. cloves
⅛ tsp. salt
Few drops red food color
1 qt. ice cream

Prepare patty shells according to package directions.

Drain cherries, reserving liquid. In saucepan, combine the tapioca, sugar, and seasonings. Stir in reserved cherry liquid and ¼ cup water; then let stand for five minutes.

Cook, stirring until mixture just boils. Remove from heat. Stir in cherries and enough food color to give a nice red color.

Spoon some of this warm sauce into the bottom of baked patty shells, then a scoop of ice cream and top with more cherry sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Make Game By Shelling New Pecans

Bring out the nutcrackers and sharpen the picks.

These stay-in-doors days are ideal for the family sport that pecan shelling provides. Children of all ages can participate. And they will, eagerly, when they think in terms of pecan-enhanced fudge, cakes, cookies, salads and pies.

Ma and Pa better stick around for the operation, too. Little fingers may falter on some stubborn halves. Parents also may have to bring on the broom when the job's all done.

There are plenty of pecans to work on. The U. S. Department of Agriculture cites a huge 1965 pecan harvest of about 264 million pounds — enough for 1 1-3 pounds for every man, woman and child in the country. Because of this abundance, USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service has put pecans in the future spot of its January list of plentiful foods. So, as they shell, let the kids eat all they want.

You're ahead of the game if you have a pecan supply from your own trees, as many in this area have. But if you're not that fortunate, you'll find plenty in the store at attractive prices.

Flavorful in-the-shell pecans generally are more economical than those already shelled. Compare costs by figuring two pounds of in-the-shell nuts to one pound when shelled.

Pecans are noted for being good keepers, particularly when unshelled. USDA home economists say shelled pecans will keep fresh up to 9 months in the refrigerator and in an air-tight container; up to 2 years in the freezer. So shell out plenty for fast, easy use whenever you want to make something better with pecans.

Tests Prove Pork Easy To Digest

That old wives' tale that pork is hard to digest has been disproved many times by modern nutritional scientists. Pork, like all meat, is virtually completely digestible.

Its protein is used for both tissue growth and maintenance.

Pork makes many other contributions to good nutrition: It is one of the most valuable sources of thiamine, the B vitamin needed for growth, utilization of carbohydrates and the proper functioning of the heart, nerves and digestive tract.

Pork is rich in other B vitamins (riboflavin and niacin) and in minerals such as phosphorus and iron.

Washington's Birthday Needs Traditional Americana Soup

February is the month for celebrations. Patriotic holidays spotlight the calendar.

Make these occasions "souperb" with tempting soup suppers. Let all help themselves to a tureen filled with hearty vegetable soup made with dry soup mix garnished with bologna and cheese pinwheels.

Dessert for the festive day is superb, too . . . frozen puff pastry cherry turnovers a la mode.

VEGETABLE SOUP AMERICANA

1 can (2 ozs.) vegetable dry soup mix
5½ cans (3 cups) cold water
⅛ tsp. oregano, crushed
2 thin slices bologna
2 slices (2 ozs.) process American cheese

Empty soup mix into saucepan. Add water and oregano. Bring to boil; stir often. Partially cover; simmer 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Meanwhile, top each bologna slice with cheese slice; roll in pinwheel fashion. Cut each roll in 4 pieces. Fasten with toothpicks. Add to soup; heat. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Or, try this colorful treat made with chicken noodle dry soup mix. It, too, is available in single cans and sports a gay red label.

SUPPER CHICKEN NOODLE SOUP

1 cup cubed luncheon meat
1 tbsp. butter or margarine
1 can dry (1¾ ozs.) chicken noodle dry soup mix
5½ cans (3 cups) cold water
½ cup grated carrots
½ cup cooked peas

In saucepan, brown luncheon meat in butter. Add soup mix and water. Bring to boil; stir often. Partially cover; simmer 7 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add vegetables; heat. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Early Americans Used Gingerbread In Holiday Treat

In George Washington's day, no holiday was complete without the addition of some form of gingerbread. At his home in Mount Vernon, the spiced bread was always considered a treat.

1¾ tsps. salt
2½ tsps. baking powder
1¼ tsps. each ginger, cloves and cinnamon
1¼ cups shortening
1¼ cups sugar
1¾ tsps. soda
1¼ cups unsulphured molasses
2 large eggs
1¼ cups buttermilk

Sift together flour, salt, baking powder and spices. Cream together shortening, sugar and soda. Blend in molasses. Stir in ½ cup of flour mixture. Beat in eggs, one at a time.

Add buttermilk alternately with remaining flour mixture. Beat ½ minute. Turn into a well-greased and lightly floured 15½ by 10¼ by 2½ inch baking pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 50 minutes. Makes 24 servings.

TEATIME CAKE
Made in coffee cans

On Washington's Day Serve English Cake

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

The English have a delightful way of calling the cakes they serve at teatime "cut-and-come-again cakes."

The term probably originated because in England cakes are often served whole and cut right at the teatable. A guest cuts himself a slice and then "comes again" if he wants more.

The following recipe was given to us by a young Englishwoman now living in California. It's her mother's tried-and-true rule, purloined from a cookbook published by the English makers of a gas cooker.

Our recipe donor suggested that we bake this cake in two one-pound cans to take the place of the "sandwich tins"—smaller in diameter and deeper than our regular cake pans—that are used in England. We did just that and found the cans make fine pans.

We served one cake right after baking and stored the other for later use. We suggest you do the same because the cake is on the crumbly side. This doesn't matter when it's served fresh, but after storing it benefits from being reheated with a little spirit.

CUT-AND-COME-AGAIN CAKE

2 cups sifted flour
3 tsps. baking powder
¾ tsp. salt
½ cup sugar
¾ tsp. cinnamon
¼ tsp. nutmeg
2-3 cup butter or margarine
1 cup raisins, coarsely chopped
½ cup currants
¼ cup chopped mixed candied peels
1 large egg
¾ cup milk

Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt, sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg. With a pastry blender cut in butter until particles are fine; stir in raisins, currants and peels. Beat egg until thick and lemon colored; add to dry ingredients with milk; stir with a fork just until dry ingredients are moistened. Turn into two greased and floured one-pound coffee cans. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven about 50 minutes or until golden brown and cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Turn out on wire racks; cool.

Serve one cake shortly after baking. Wrap the other cake tightly and store in refrigerator. When you wish to serve it, slice thin, sprinkle with sherry and reheat in a double boiler; top with whipped cream.

NOTE: Rinse whole raisins and currants in hot water and drain before using.

Creamy Frosting Makes The Cake

Chocolate cake with creamy coconut frosting makes a happy ending on this simple but delicious menu.

CREAMY COCONUT FROSTING

½ cup butter or margarine
⅛ tsp. salt
1 lb. confectioners sugar, sifted
2 egg yolks
1 tsp. vanilla
2 tbsps. (about) milk or light cream
2-3 cup flaked coconut

Beat butter until soft; add salt. Gradually beat in part of the sugar. Beat in thoroughly the egg yolks and vanilla. Beat in remaining sugar alternately spreading consistency.

Makes about 2½ cups. Spread over top and sides of chocolate cake baked in a 13 by 9 by 2 inch pan; sprinkle with coconut.

Family Talk In Court

Objections To Death Penalty Stalling Trial

BRENHAM, Tex. (AP) — Objections to the death penalty continued Wednesday to keep prospective jurors off the panel for the murder trial of Paul Eric Krueger, San Clemente, Calif., teenager.

Eight were excused and none accepted. More than half the veniremen called have been excused in the three days of jury selection because of their views on capital punishment. Only one juror has been seated.

PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE

Defense Lawyer Warren Burnett used the third of his 15 peremptory challenges Wednesday after an hour of questioning failed to disqualify a prospective juror.

It was learned later that the venireman, Charles Stolz, of Brenham, is a cousin of a peace officer involved in the case.

Dist. Atty. Sam Jones of Corpus Christi has used one peremptory challenge.

Krueger is charged with murder in the slaying of John D. Fox, 38, of Corpus Christi. The youth also has been indicted in the deaths of Van. D. Carson, 40, and Noel D. Little, 51, both of Corpus Christi.

THREE SHOT

The three men were shot last April 12 while fishing near Corpus Christi.

The only juror selected, Harold Kramer, 50, Brenham root beer stand operator, is isolated in the sheriff's offices of the courthouse.

Sheriff Johnie Schulte said Kramer has not been allowed to go home since his selection and is not allowed to read, watch television or listen to the radio.

LBJ Replies To Critics

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — President Johnson, in his latest defense of administration policies in Viet Nam, has talked of eventual military victory and, perhaps pointedly, avoided all references to hopes for a peaceful solution.

Addressing the convention of the American Association of School Administrators here Wednesday night, Johnson devoted almost as many words to Viet Nam as to education.

REPLY TO CRITICS

In an obvious response to critics who claim this country's stake in Southeast Asia does not warrant war, Johnson said he came away from his Honolulu conference with leaders of South Viet Nam "convinced that we cannot raise a double standard to the world."

He said: "We cannot hold freedom less dear in Asia than in Europe or be less willing to sacrifice for men whose skin is a different color."

Adding that political and social reforms in South Viet Nam must go hand in hand with military action, Johnson asserted, "in other words, while winning a war we must get at the defects that caused it."

FEED ON MISERY

At another point, he said that "unless this job is done a military victory in South Viet Nam would be no victory at all — only a brief delay until the aggressor returns to feed on the continuing misery of the people."

At no point during his discussion of Viet Nam, interrupted several times by applause, did Johnson use the word "peace." Neither did he mention any hope for a negotiated settlement.

This seemed significant inasmuch as all the presidential statements on the subjects in recent months have coupled affirmations of American determination on the military front with expressions of hope for a peaceful settlement.

CONG TERRORISM

Johnson said those who hate war should not ignore the "strategy of terror" of the Viet Cong. He said terrorism is "the chief instrument of Viet Cong aggression in South Viet Nam" —not just a biproduct of military action but a deliberately planned campaign which they hope will win the war.

The President said the Communist guerrillas hope to force the people of South Viet Nam into submission through fear and death. "It is as simple and as grim as that," he said. "And it must not succeed. If these tactics prevail in Viet Nam, they will prevail elsewhere."

Texas Private Killed In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — One Texan was among 26 U.S. Servicemen identified Wednesday by the Defense Department as killed in Viet Nam action.

He was Army Pfc. Bobby J. Braswell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey J. Braswell, 351 11th N. E., Paris.

Unmanned Apollo Poised For Launch

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The first unmanned Apollo moonship is poised for launching here next week aboard the most powerful rocket ever built by the United States, a 22-story tall Saturn 1B.

The maiden flight for both the Apollo and Saturn 1B is programmed to last 39 minutes, 28 seconds. But if all goes well it will be a major step toward a manned lunar landing.

If three such unmanned shots work well, three astronauts will ride into orbit on the fourth launching, hopefully late this year. During an eight to 14-day trip, they will work out techniques for the moon flight.

SATURN TEST

There will follow early next year the first test launching of the Saturn 5 rocket, the 36-story Apollo moon booster. Three men could ride the Saturn 5 into earth orbit as early as the third launching of the rocket and to the moon on the fourth or fifth — in 1968.

The Saturn 1B is scheduled to blast away from Cape Kennedy at 7:45 A.M. next Wednesday to hurl the Apollo spacecraft 300 miles high and ram it back through the atmosphere at 18,000 miles an hour to determine how well its heat shield protects it from re-entry temperatures of more than 5,000 degrees.

The cabin of the craft, an 11,000-pound section which will house astronauts on future flights, is to parachute into the Atlantic near Ascension Island, 5,300 miles southeast of Cape Kennedy. Recovery will be attempted.

TO BE SIMILAR

The Apollo spacecraft will be similar to the actual moon vehicle, but without the lunar excursion module, the capsule which two of the three astronauts will ride to the moon's surface while the third circles the moon.

The Saturn 1B, 224 feet tall and weighing 650 tons on launching, follows the Saturn 1, which completed a 10-shot program last year.

British Will Purchase F111

LONDON (AP)— The British government will buy the U.S. supersonic F111 fighter-bomber manufactured at Fort Worth as the main thrust of its strategic nuclear strike force.

Delivery in 1968 is expected.

The first order will be for training purposes, but as many as 150 planes are expected to be purchased in follow-up orders.

One source said that with spare parts a cost of more than $1 billion is projected.

The prime minister and the defense secretary have worked out a plan with the United States whereby the drain on Britain's scarce foreign exchange assets will be spread over a number of years. The arrangements also include U.S. purchase of British naval equipment.

Soviet Hits N-Flights

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet government denounced the flights of American bombers carrying nuclear weapons today as a violation of the 1963 partial test ban treaty.

A Soviet memorandum, read to the 17-nation disarmament conference by Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin said collision and crash of an American B52 nuclear bomber in Spain last month led to radioactive contamination of the coastal waters of Spain and the Mediterranean.

"The Soviet government considers this a flagrant violation of international law and a violation of the Moscow treaty," Tsarapkin told the conference.

City Traffic Jams Have Bright Side

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Traffic jams have a bright side, according to Rex W. Whitton, federal highway administrator.

Whitton, addressing a group of businessmen here recently, said that when city streets become choked with traffic "this is not so much a symptom of illness as it is proof that the city and its downtown are very much alive."

Have A Pancake, Then See The Show

Kiwanis officials pointed out today that Big Springers who plan to attend the Friday night performance of Les Feux Follets, a special feature on the Community Concert Association series, will have ample time to eat their fill of Kiwanis pancakes ahead of curtain time.

The Kiwanis fourteenth annual pancake supper will be served in the Howard County Junior College Student Union Building starting at 5 p.m. Friday. Serving will close at 8 p.m.

Curtain time for the Concert Association attraction at the City Auditorium is 8 p.m. This gives patrons ample opportunity to come to the SUB, take part in the supper and still be at the auditorium on time.

Kiwanis committeemen were busy today assembling the supplies for the supper. Normally, the club serves around 1,500 to 2,000 guests at these suppers. The fame of the pancakes prepared by the Kiwanians is such that many Big Springers look forward from year to year to attending the event.

This year, an opportunity for patrons to buy pancake mix assembled in the Kiwanian tradition is offered. The packs of mix are 25 cents each.

The tickets for the supper are 75 cents. This is for adults and children alike. The slogan is "all the pancakes, bacon, syrup and coffee you can eat for the price of your ticket," and this means seconds for any patron who desires to make the rounds again.

Tickets have been on sale for 10 days from Kiwanians. They are also to be available at the SUB starting at 5 p.m. Friday.

All Kiwanians are to assemble at the SUB at midafternoon to begin preparation for the big supper.

Advance ticket sales are said to be good.

Unions Eye Boycott Of Nations' Ships

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Maritime unions meeting here today reportedly will consider boycotting foreign ships — including those of Allied nations—that trade with North Viet Nam. The boycott in effect would close U.S. ports to hundreds of foreign vessels.

A spokesman for the AFL-CIO Maritime Trades Department said the International Longshoremen's Association which imposed a boycott against U.S. wheat shipments to the Soviet Union two years ago, will propose the new boycott.

COUNTRIES LISTED

The spokesman said such a boycott would affect ships of Great Britain, France, Norway, Italy, Greece, United Arab Republic and other nations that have dealt with North Viet Nam.

"The ILA is seriously considering refusing to load any such ship," the spokesman said.

ILA President Thomas W. Gleason is expected to ask support of the boycott by the 28 other maritime unions meeting here today and Friday.

The spokesman said Gleason may even go a step further and propose applying the boycott to all ships of any nation that has sent even one vessel into North Viet Nam ports.

"The people who have been trading with North Viet Nam are going to get hurt by this proposal if it goes through," the Maritime Trades spokesman said.

He said federal officials have refused requests of the maritime unions to blacklist such ships as the United States once did to vessels trading with Cuba.

"The State Department does not want to offend Great Britain, France, Norway, Italy, Greece and those other countries which have been making a pretty penny dealing with North Viet Nam," the union spokesman said.

"They have delivered hundreds of tons of cargo to North Viet Nam and they have the gall to come to U.S. ports," he said.

While Gleason, with the support of other maritime unions boycotted U.S. wheat shipments to the Soviet Union in 1964, it took White House action to persuade them to resume loading the Soviet-bound ships.

Minister Points To Distressing Straws

There are a lot of distressing straws in the wind, the Rev. Leo Gee, First Methodist pastor, told the Downtown Lions Club at its meeting Wednesday at the Settles.

He did not have many answers he said, but he did pose the questions because they merit serious consideration. He cited governmental and international straws which seem to presage a shift in the seat of power, the failure of aid to win friends, the global population explosion, the sobering thought that the United States possesses a stockpile of nuclear bombs capable of universal destruction, the threat (and existence) of war.

Where the church once told society how to do, society now dictates to the church, he said. There is racial strife, class division, social distinction, rising divorce, increasing illegitmate births, greater juvenile delinquency. In the field of religion, the press and communication media do not seem to give it much weight, he said. The laity seems to put more stress on the green back than its motto "in God we trust."

Against these complexities, the Rev. Gee pleaded for a reawakening to the worth of the individual, for a willingness for men to stand up and be counted for right, spirituality and morality.

"We need people who will say: 'I count, because God made me that way,' " he said.

Frosty Robison, president, reminded the club's light bulb sale will be April 18-19. From this project, the club last year provided children with 107 pair of glasses at a cost of well over $1,000.

Hears Gaskins

The Howard County 4-H Club Tuesday evening heard Kelly Gaskins give a talk on the "History of Howard County." Three new members joined the club, including Terry Pool, Karen Peterson, and Carole Perry. Kathy Shaw, president, presided at the meeting.

Meningitis Claims 3; 'No Epidemic'

By The Associated Press

Meningitis has claimed three lives in Texas but health officials say there is nothing to indicate an epidemic of the disease.

W. R. Ross, San Antonio health director, said, "It's the time of year for meningitis."

Two children died this week and an airman stationed at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, died last week.

The children were the 1-day-old infant of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Malacara of San Antonio and Beatrice Hunnicutt, 5, of Dallas.

OTHERS RECOVER

At Ft. Hood, gigantic army training installation in Central Texas, an information officer said there had been "a very small number" of meningitis cases and all had recovered.

Refusing to say how many cases there had been, Lt. Col. Louis Breault added:

"The number of cases is insignificant compared to the number of trainees received. There is no epidemic and there has been no epidemic. There has been no danger to the community . . ."

An airman formerly stationed at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, has been hospitalized with meningitis at North Adams, Mass.

ON FURLOUGH

Airman 2.C. Paul F. Sprague, 20, who had been transferred to Kessler Air Force Base in Mississippi from Lackland about six weeks ago, became ill last Saturday while home on furlough.

Dr. Edmond P. Larkin said it was not determined immediately the type of meningitis Sprague has. The airman was reported improved Wednesday.

In Dallas, a spokesman for the infectious disease service of Parkland Hospital said there are seven known cases of meningitis at the hospital.

Dear Abby

Getting A Bad Deal

DEAR ABBY: My friend, Mary, met John five years ago. They fell deeply in love. John told Mary that he had been separated from his wife for 25 years and had no intention of divorcing and remarrying. Mary gave up all her social contacts to devote her time and attention exclusively to John. John also told Mary that two nights each week he had to entertain a girl friend of long standing for whom he had great compassion, but to whom he couldn't reveal the fact that he was in love with Mary. Mary is heartbroken and feels she cannot share John with another woman. How can this be worked out? PUZZLED

DEAR "PUZZLED": If you will pardon me, I am "puzzled" as to why you are trying to help "heartbroken Mary" work out an adulterous dilemma with a swinger like John. As I see it, the only thing John "deeply loves" is his appetite for femmes. So tell Mary she can't win in this game because John is holding all the aces, plus two queens. And the old curmudgeon is probably dealing from the bottom.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I don't know who thought up that "show and tell" idea but it's time someone put a stop to it. In case you've never heard of it, the teacher asks her pupils to bring an interesting object to school and tell the class about it. She urges them to bring something unusual, that the other kids have never seen before, so you can imagine how frightening the possibilities are.

Abby, I always thought teachers were paid to teach kids what's in the books, not to encourage them to bring stuff from home and run off at the mouth about it. Youngsters do not always have the best judgment, you know.

Well, last Halloween my husband went to a costume party dressed as Mae West. This morning the teacher called to tell me that our seven-year-old son had brought a pair of size 44 "falsies" to show the class what his FATHER wore under his DRESS! See what I mean?

AGAINST SHOW AND TELL

• • •

DEAR ABBY: The other evening my husband and I attended a dinner party for four couples at the home of some friends. The hostess went all out to set a lovely table, using fresh flowers and candles. When we sat down we were horrified to see the plates in front of us covered with dust thick enough to draw pictures on! All the other guests noticed it, but no one said anything. I can't understand how the host and hostess missed it. We all ate off those dusty plates, but it wasn't easy knowing that germs live in dust. Would you have eaten off those plates, Abby? How could the hostess have been told without embarrassment?

LOOKING BACK

DEAR LOOKING: Dust "thick enough to draw pictures on" is too thick to ignore. I would have promptly (and privately) called the hostess' attention to the oversight. She would have appreciated it.

Stories On State To Woo Tourists

AUSTIN (AP) — Nearly 400 newspapers and magazines are receiving monthly illustrated feature stories promoting Texas as a vacation land.

The Texas Tourist Development Agency prepares and mails the color stories.

The first released nationwide tells of developments at Big Bend National Park. The next story will focus on the Texas coast as a "winter wanderland," the agency says.

A Devotional For The Day

That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye, being rooted and grounded in love, may be able to comprehend with all saints what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height; and to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge. (Ephesians 3:17-19)

Javits Proposal

Sen. Jacob Javits, New York Republican, has introduced a bill to curb strikes against the public interest. The bill would amend the Labor-Management Relations (Taft-Hartley) Act and the Railway Labor Act to give the President of the United States necessary powers to protect the public interest in labor disputes. (An identical bill was introduced in the House by Rep. C. T. Reid, New York Republican.)

"This proposed legislation is designed to protect the public interest in a wide variety of controversies ranging from city transit strikes, like the recent one in New York City, to steel labor crises, to rail work-rules disputes—all areas where existing laws have proven to be grossly inadequate," Javits said in introducing his bill.

While the proposed amendments would not affect the emergency labor dispute provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act, they would give the President power "to assert the public interest not only in labor disputes of a national character, but also in any labor dispute affecting commerce which imperils the public health or safety in any substantial part of the population or territory of the nation." It would affect, too, labor controversies involving state or municipal employes engaged in transportation, transmission or communication.

Some labor leaders may discount this approach, coming as it does from a Republican in a Congress overwhelmingly controlled by Democrats. To do so would be to mistake the temper of the people which will most certainly be conveyed to their senators and representatives.

The feeling behind the Javits bill had better be construed as handwriting on the wall. Organized labor has been a powerful and influential factor in shaping legislation and in bettering the wages, hours and working conditions of not only its members but working men generally. Yet there is a limit beyond which the public will not tolerate the exercise of union power, just as the public demanded and obtained legislation to curb the excesses of business monopoly.

If unwritten agreements against strikes against the public do not prevail, then laws surely will be imposed.

Logical Approach

The state college coordinating board has come up with a major recommendation in reducing to four larger institutions the full scale of doctoral programs. It made exceptions for North Texas State University and Texas Woman's University, and possibly for Arlington State, in specialized fields.

This means, if finally adopted, that the University of Texas, Texas Tech, Texas A&M, and the University of Houston will become the major citadels of graduate learning on a doctoral level. Schools which currently offer work on doctorates may be expected to protest if they are not in the circle. Yet, in principle, the board's recommendation is sound.

If a doctorate is to mean anything, it must be of unquestioned quality. To provide a program which will require great depth of study and research, institutions must be equipped with facilities and top faculty, and with considerable resources. To attempt this without these elements, a school would either risk turning out sub-standard products or would inadvertently pinch down on its other graduate and undergraduate work.

West Texas is fortunate in have one of these centers. Those who cannot find room in the state institutions still have to resort to the private institutions, which, incidentally, are doing heroic work in several fields despite uphill battles.

The Penalty For Dissent

WASHINGTON — Dissenters in the United States may not realize it, but they may be prolonging the war in Viet Nam. They could be responsible indirectly for the continuing loss of American lives.

This is the conclusion which many observers here, including veteran senators, have reached. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, for example, has no right under the rules of the Senate to hold hearings on strictly military matters concerning operations in Viet Nam or elsewhere. If any committee has jurisdiction on the question of whether a war is being fought effectively, it is the Senate Armed Services Committee and its counterpart in the House of Representatives.

WHEN ASKED by this correspondent about the discussion of American military strategy in public hearings, Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, Democrat, who happens to be chairman of the Armed Services Committee, replied:

"I think it would be a grave mistake for any active U.S. military officer—or civilian official—to testify in open hearings on so delicate a subject as Viet Nam."

"What about the significance of dissent generally?" was the next question.

"EVERY DISSENT," the senator replied, "prolongs the war. It makes no difference if some poor, half-baked beatnik—he can do it—or a senator of the United States who is highly critical of the war demands that we get out, or has a different theory than the administration as to the objectives and purposes of the war. This undoubtedly confirms Ho Chi Minh in his basic concept that the United States just wouldn't have the patience to wage a very lengthy war there."

IT IS IMPORTANT that committees be kept informed in confidence about virtually every significant development in a war that has taken 200,000 American troops to a distant land. During the two world wars, there was frequent communication between the President or his cabinet officers and the committees of Congress. This is because, under the Constitution, the obligation is placed on the Senate and the House to make rules for the governing of the armed forces of the nation. Public hearings are not required and usually are not held during a war.

WHAT THE Senate Foreign Relations Committee, however, is doing nowadays with its public hearings on military matters in the midst of a hot war does not have any sanction in the rules of the Senate. Nor is it liked by the executive branch of the government. Indeed, around the capitol it is said that the Foreign Relations Committee is split up into two factions and that the hearings are really an effort on the part of certain senators to get into the spotlight. When arrangements, moreover, are made for television coverage by the major networks and dissent is emphasized, the hearings witnessed by millions of people take on a different meaning. Many citizens are led to assume that Congress is at odds with the administration over the conduct of the war.

CERTAINLY THE impression created abroad is that serious discord exists in our government. This in itself can encourage the enemy. The psychological effect resulting from the publicizing of a dissent that is not representative of any big segment of public opinion but only looks that way can be damaging to America's interests and lengthen the war.

Billy Graham

I am ashamed of my violent temper. Can you tell me please, how to overcome it? R. L.

The ancient sage, Plutarch, said, "I have learned that anger is not incurable if one wants to get victory over it."

The first step is to recognize it as wrong. You have done that, and asked for help.

The next step — to confess this sin to God. You have told me about it, now confess it to the Lord. He has said: "If we confess our sins unto Him He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness."

Next, you must change your habit patterns. Whereas, you once gave vent to violent anger, you must restrain yourself and learn to control it. Temper, like other habits, grow with use. The more you yield to it, the stronger it becomes. On the other hand, the more you restrain it, the more subdued it will be.

Then ask God to let your anger take the form of righteous indignation. Get indignant about the sin, immorality and crime around you! Get disgusted with the injustices in the world, and do something about them. Peter the aspostle, had a violent temper, but after the Holy Spirit took charge of it, he found a boldness to do right, and to glorify God he had never had before. That's what the Bible means when it says, "Be angry and sin not." Use your anger for good, not evil.

Gold Rush

ROME (AP) — Filming has been completed on the "Film D'Equipe" production "Un Straniero a Sacramento" — (a Stranger in Sacramento) based on John Murphy's novel "I Will Kill You." Mickey Hargitay plays the lead.

Most of the filming of scenes in the Gold Rush days in California was done on a ranch built in the farming flatlands south of Rome. A herd of 500 Italian cows and 50 horses was rounded up for some of the scenes.

VIET NAM COMMAND POST

LBJ Sees No Early Peace Negotiations

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson reportedly believes another 12 to 18 months of unrelenting pressure against the Communists in Viet Nam will be necessary to make them realize the crushing weight of the power brought against them. After that they may begin to move toward negotiations.

SOME OFFICIALS see the possibility of a prolonged and spreading conflict in Southeast Asia, continung for years. Others speculate that the Communists are beginning to be so badly hurt they may decide for peace talks in early 1967.

Johnson's own informal estimate of future possibilities is said to be that maximum military, economic, political, and diplomatic pressure will probably have to be sustained for 12 to 18 months before it makes itself felt decisively and the Communist leaders decide they have no hope of victory.

Johnson's thinking is geared to a four-front strategy.

This calls for continuing buildup of U.S. power in Viet Nam step by step as he deems necessary, with continuous ground and air offensives to batter the Viet Cong, deprive them of secure bases in the jungles, and break their morale.

THE STRATEGY also calls for restoration of the Saigon government's political authority and police power in cleared areas as rapidly as they can be made secure from Communist attack. A third element provides for broad social and economic reform and rehabilitation of war-stricken villages in an effort to win popular support for the Saigon government.

The fourth front is the diplomatic one, of which Johnson has said the United States must keep pressing for peace talks or a scaling down of the war — however remote concrete results may appear to be at the moment.

THE PRESIDENT evidently feels that if he can pursue his strategy on present lines, and keep the fighting within present limits, the day will come when the Communists decide they can't win and are being hurt too much to go on fighting.

In that event he is reported to see four possibilities: The Viet Cong may fade away into the population and head back to North Viet Nam. North Viet Nam and the Viet Cong may decide to negotiate. The Viet Cong may split with Hanoi and seek a settlement in the South on their own. Hanoi may cut its ties with the Viet Cong and leave it to fight or make peace as best it can.

Everyone Has A Distinction

NEW YORK (AP) — The most saving grace of man is his desire to be different.

We live in an age of mass conformity. But no matter how meek and obedient to patterns and programs we all may be, each one of us has a secret passion against anonymity.

If you become well enough acquainted with any person, you will find he cherishes some fact of distinction that yields him separate identity. It is a very human need.

FOR EXAMPLE, once I met a man of late middle years who, while reminiscing, remarked he had turned in two fire alarms during his life.

"What's so unusual about that?" one of his listeners asked.

"Well," said the man, "have you ever met anyone else who has turned in two fire alarms?"

His point was obvious. Most people are born, married, raise a family, pay off a mortgage, and die without ever having to turn in even one fire alarm.

Some people become standouts on purpose. Like Alexander the Great, they conquer the world. Or they sell a refrigerator to an Eskimo.

THOSE ARE deliberate men of distinction. They win immortality or brief notoriety by great deeds or freak performances that catch the long admiration or short-lived attention of mankind.

William Shakespeare, naturally, will be remembered as long as the English language is. Turning to the other category, perhaps the name of Philip Yazdzik already has faded from your memory. But in Chicago on April 25, 1955, Yazdzik accomplished the record feat of consuming 77 hamburgers at one sitting.

But whether he seeks or avoids the glare of the limelight, a man can always find something in his life that lifts him from the dead level of the commonplace. Something has happened to him somewhere along the way that makes him different.

AND THE difference doesn't have to be an occurrence rich or greatly strange.

Mulling over the distinctions that set me apart from my fellows, I think I have three that are perhaps noteworthy:

So far as I know, I am the only American who broke a molar while chewing on a candybar during our military campaign in Tunisia in 1943.

So far as I know, I am the only husband in the United States whose wife calls him "Rover."

SO FAR as I know, I am the only living human being who has been hit by a parked bridge in Missouri while riding in an auto, struck by a motorcycle while watching a parade in Paris, and run over by a horse-drawn milk wagon in Greenwich Village.

These may be odd claims to individual fame, but they helped make me me. What happened to make you you?

Tensions Cause Cardiac Neuroses

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What are the symptoms of cardiac neurosis? I am a woman of 40, and have painful heart cramps and palpitations, shortness of breath, and weakness. Please advise me what to do.—MRS. M. K.

You have rather well described the major symptoms of cardiac neurosis, which means you think that something is wrong with your heart when there is no evidence to substantiate your fear.

This is quite a frequent situation, enough so that the term cardiac neurosis is in common use. Cardiac means heart; neurosis means an emotional involvement, as anxiety or fear.

Your letter doesn't make clear where you acquired the term. Did your physician say this was your trouble, and you misunderstood and thought he meant something was wrong? Or did someone else mention it to you?

However, let's not speak of painful heart cramps. These are chest pains, perhaps real enough, but they aren't heart cramps. The other symptoms—palpitations, shortness of breath, and weakness—can all be manifestations of nervous tension. And so can chest pains, since constant tension can lead to muscle tenseness.

What to do? See a doctor in whom you have confidence, perhaps a heart specialist, because what the person with cardiac neurosis needs above all is reassurance. A specialist can examine you with such methods as will show whether you do or do not have any heart disorder: X-ray, electrocardiogram, etc.

If anything needs attention, you'll be told so. If there is nothing the matter except cardiac neurosis, accept that fact.

Dear Dr. Molner: Would the health of children aged 6 to 16 be affected by sleeping in a fully insulated, heated and dehumidified basement which is completely below ground level? — J.M.S.

There must be some ventilation. The hazard of basements is carbon monoxide from furnaces or water heaters, whether the fuel is oil, gas or coal. If you can get fresh air into the basement at night, there will be no harmful effect otherwise.

I note that this basement is dehumidified. This is important. Moisture encourages growth of mold which can be a troublemaker from the standpoint of causing allergies.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: I have always wanted my ears pierced but my mother is afraid I might get an infection. A neighbor said if it is done by a doctor you don't have to worry about this. What do you say?—B.S.

I say just what the neighbor said. There is danger from do-it-yourself ear - piercing, of course.

Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for your copy of his booklet, "How to Take Care of Your Heart," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Thorny Problems

Most any day, public announcement of the figures for the city's 1966-67 budget will be released — probably calling for considerable increases of expenditure in some areas. The city administration has been faced for many years with continually growing costs, but somehow has managed to hold the tax line.

IT HAS BEEN seven years since the city has had a tax increase, depending on increased water revenues to match the growth of the town. Although such frugality is to be commended, unfortunately some of the savings have come at the expense of the some 250 city employes.

Not too long ago, there were city employes working a seven-day week, and almost all of them even now work a six-day week—some in excess of 50 hours. Employe benefits are almost non-existent, for instance a hospitalization program.

THE CITY PAY scales, best known for being low, are far behind comparable positions in other cities, as well as local private industry.

Some progress has been made in recent years, but not much. The city still depends on some euphemeral loyalty to hold its employes, rather than being competitive in pay, working conditions, or benefits.

A LOT OF budget work has already been done, and perhaps some decisions made regarding these several problems. Certainly, one of the big budget problems is finding revenue to replace that lost in the parking meter shuffle. If these are to be left in storage—and there seems no reason to bring them back—then the city must recoup the revenue somewhere else, just to stay even.

In addition, water revenues last year fell short of expectations with another loss in revenue. That pretty well narrows it down, additional revenue is needed from some source.

TWIN PROBLEMS are posed—the need for more revenue balanced against the need for employe consideration. The answers will not be easy to find, and hopefully, the latter will not be disregarded.

Holmes Alexander

—Whose Ox Is Gored

U. OF UTAH, SALT LAKE CITY—Even among intellectuals, it is a question of whose ox is gored.

One of the most eloquent speakers at this Challenge Conference was Robert McKay, professor and associate dean at the New York University Law School. Dean McKay told us about the virtues of civil disobedience. Every example that McKay gave of sit-ins, teach-ins, trespassers, free speech agitators at Berkeley and draft card burners all over the place—each example was pointed at with pride as a blow struck for liberty. Dean McKay relished them all, but he fairly smacked his lips with epicurean delight over the martyrdom acquired by Julian Bond.

THIS YOUNG Negro legislator was denied his seat in the Georgia General Assembly for cheering on the draft-dodgers and other obstructors of the undeclared war in Viet Nam. The Dean liked the test of free speech which the case posed, but he enjoyed a liberal scholar's near-ecstasy as he indulged his taste buds on the discomfort which the Julian Bond case could bring to the Georgia General Assembly.

But it's a funny thing—the definitions and criteria on civil disobedience which Dean McKay gave his young listeners were far more applicable to the Georgia General Assembly than they were to Julian Bond, whose race gets him special attention among our academic and political intellectuals.

THE DEAN was enthusiastically goring the ox of the white power structure in Dixie, but there was a Newton's Law of reverse action in all that he said. When I had a chance to examine my notes on Mr. McKay's lecture, I found he had inadvertently made a dazzling case of heroic civil disobedience on the part of the Georgia lawmakers who had refused to let Bond take his seat. Dean McKay had said that civil disobedience was a public good under the following conditions:

There must be a strongly-held conviction that the law is wrong. In this instance, the General Assembly was convinced that the lawful election of Julian Bond was invalid because Bond had made disloyal statements and could not honestly swear that he would uphold the American and Georgian Constitutions.

THERE SHOULD be a sincere effort to exhaust all remedies. The legislative action in refusing to seat Bond forced the legal remedy of a hearing in court and a special election in which Bond would go once more to the people.

There must be a public flaunting of the law. In this instance the election law was publicly defied by the legislature. Bond was rejected for membership in an open debate.

THERE MUST BE non-violence, a willingness to take the penalties of non-compliance with the law, and there must be the acceptance of the verdicts reached by the courts and other democratic forums. The General Assembly used no violence, it invited public disapproval of its action and it left the final decision with the courts and the electorate.

As things have turned out, the General Assembly and not Julian Bond had performed the classic pattern of civil disobedience. The legislators came forward in the public interest to learn whether they were forced to seat a duly-elected member whom they had reason to believe to be ineligible under other considerations.

THE GEORGIA General Assembly has taken the method of civil disobedience in order to map out a landmark case on the loyalty of lawmakers. The legislature deserves the commendation of all students and masters of Constitutional Law—but it won't happen that way. Approval and disapproval will depend on whose ox is gored.

Housewives And Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON—John Schneider, the new president of CBS, was quoted as saying the other day that one of the reasons he had cancelled some of the daytime live Senate hearings was that the "opinion makers in the United States did not watch daytime television."

I don't know who the opinion maker in Mr. Schneider's family is, but in my house it happens to be my wife, and she has been watching the hearings faithfully. If it's true in other homes, the American housewife may be the best informed person on Viet Nam in the country.

THE OTHER DAY I came home from the office and said casually, "What's new?"

"George Kennan made a very interesting case against our present containment policy."

"Oh," I said, "that's nice."

"He differed in some respects from Gen. Gavin on the enclave policies, but he has come out for courageous liquidation of unsound positions, rather than stuborn pursuit of extravagant or uncompromising objectives."

"That's fine," I said. "What's for dinner?"

"I DIDN'T HAVE time to get dinner because I got entranced listening to Sen. Fulbright, who feels that our present policy could get us entangled with Communist China, which would lead to a ground war that nobody wants."

"Look, I'm tired," I said. "What did the kids do today?"

"I have no idea. They came in just when Sen. Morse started praising Mr. Kennan for his forthright position. Morse also praised Gavin, but he wasn't very nice to David Bell."

"Who's David Bell?" I asked.

"HE'S THE HEAD of AID, and he was the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's first witness. He has a nice face."

"Did the plumber come?" I asked.

"I have no idea. Mr. Bell was interesting about the social and economic gains that had to be made in South Viet Nam, if we ever hoped to win over the people, and he's asking for an extra $500 million to continue the work. I think we ought to give it to him."

"That's good. When is dinner going to be served?"

"Don't you want to know what I think of the dangers of an open-end escalation policy?"

"I hadn't given it much thought," I said.

"WELL, THE real danger of escalation is that, no matter how many men we put in, Hanoi will put in a number equal to it in ratio. Therefore, we can never hope to win by escalation. On the other hand, if we pulled out, and both Gavin and Kennan seem to agree on this, the South Vietnamese government wouldn't last a week. We've got to find a solution which will bring neither victory nor defeat, but will guarantee freedom on our terms rather than those of the Communists."

"It sounds complicated," I said.

"Oh, it is. I spoke to Marjabelle Young and she says she's not happy with our options there."

"Who is? Now, can I eat?"

"In a minute. I just want to see what Eric Sevareid has to say."

The phone rang and my wife picked it up.

"OH, KATHY, I'm so glad you called. I was going to phone you. I know, but don't forget we still have to hear from Maxwell Taylor and Dean Rusk. I'm keeping an open mind on it until then. Well, really, Kathy, how can you say it's possible to have a blockade without an open declaration of war. . . I know, but Ky's policies are not consistent with ours . . . Can I call you back? My husband is screaming for his dinner. Yours, too? . . . You would think they'd take a slight interest in what was going on in the world."

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Just about everybody's Valentine this year is Dorothy Malone, the plucky Texan whose heart stopped, then was revived, during an 11-hour lung operation last September.

The actress now is working three full days each week on "Peyton Place" — more than her schedule before her illness — and enjoying it.

"I do get tired," she admitted. "And when I go out in the evening, they are very short dates. I usually go to bed at the same time as my daughters. I haven't even watched 'Peyton Place' since I've been back on the show; I'm asleep by then!"

STILL BEAUTIFUL

Miss Malone looks wan, but beautiful as ever. Not only did she lose 10 pounds during the illness; she dropped another 10 since through lack of appetite. "I just regained my interest in food last week," she reported.

Now she feels strong enough to attend to some unfinished business: answering the thousands of get-well messages that came to her in the hospital.

WILL ANSWER

"I may take years to do it, but I'm determined to answer all the letters," she remarked.

"The stacks of mail that filled my back bathroom are beginning to diminish, but I've still got a long way to go. Now I'm starting to get thank-you notes for my thank-you notes. I'm afraid those will have to remain unanswered."

Miss Malone was stricken Sept. 22 with back pains. By evening she was near collapse and she was rushed to Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, where her illness was diagnosed as blood clots in her lungs. Prompt action by a team of surgeons and use of a new heart-lung machine saved her life.

IS CONTENT

Unlike some series stars, Miss Malone is content with her lot. She is, in fact, one of the biggest boosters of "Peyton Place."

"We have succeeded where imitations have failed because of quality," she argued. "Our shows are filmed with all the care and production value of a feature movie. The sets are impressive, the stories are good, and everyone is well cast; there are good performers on the show."

She has followed with interest the various rumors about the series: That it will reduce to twice-weekly next season, that it will be filmed in color.

FAVORS IT

"I haven't talked to the studio about cutting down from three a week, but I think it might make sense," she said. "Two shows a week would provide a better rhythm and make the production details more manageable.

"I have suggested that we film in color, and I hope we do. Our sets would photograph beautifully, and we could use color to compete with the new shows next year."

It could be added that Dorothy's tawny hair and bright-blue eyes would enhance the show as well.

U.S. Presses Estes Claim

EL PASO (AP)—U.S. government lawyers are scheduled to take a deposition from Billie Sol Estes at Leavenworth federal prison Feb. 24 regarding a $1.7 million lawsuit.

Allan Poage, attorney for the trusteeship that oversees the shattered Estes empire, said the government seeks $1,737,796.61 from Commercial Solvents of New York.

The money was allegedly paid the firm by the Commercial Credit Corp. (CCC), a government agency.

The CCC was to pay the money to Estes for his storage of grain in West Texas. But Estes assigned the payments to Commercial Solvents to pay for large quantities of anhydrous ammonia (liquid fertilizer) being supplied him.

The government contends that Estes secured contracts with the CCC for grain payments fraudulantly, Poage said. It claims that Estes' costs of storing the grain amounted to $5,858,228.74, while the CCC paid Commercial Solvents $7,596,024.35 for that storage.

AWOL Airman Charged In Attack

ATHENS, Tex. (AP) — An AWOL airman was charged with rape in Henderson County Wednesday and was questioned about a similar offense in Dallas County today.

Sheriff J. W. Brownlow of Athens said Mason Gene Smith, 19, of nearby Mabank was charged in an attack on a 17-year-old girl at Payne Springs Monday. The sheriff said that Smith also was charged with burglarizing a house Sunday.

An officer at Sheppard Air Force Base in Wichita Falls said Smith had been absent without leave since Feb. 1. He was arraigned here before Justice of the Peace C. C. Adrian, who ordered the youth held without bond.

Brownlow said Smith was turned over to the Dallas County sheriff's office for questioning about the rape-murder of Mrs. Herbert L. Vann, 45, of Seagoville.

The body of Mrs. Vann, mother of three children, was found in her burned automobile after she left a self-service laundry Jan. 30.

Smith was arrested Wednesday near a farm house three miles east of Mabank. A pickup truck reported stolen in Dallas was at the house. He has been charged with theft of the truck.

The Henderson County girl was found with a piece of venetian blind cord wound tightly around her neck, Brownlow said. She was in serious condition at a Kaufman hospital.

CBS Names Salant Acting News Head

NEW YORK (AP) — The Columbia Broadcasting System has named Richard S. Salant as acting president of its news division.

Salant, 51, succeeds Fred W. Friendly, 50, who resigned Wednesday in a dispute over a network decision not to provide live coverage of a Senate Foreign Relations Committee hearing on Viet Nam last Thursday.

John A. Schneider, CBS vice president in charge of broadcasting, named Salant to the post Wednesday. Salant had served as CBS news president from 1961 to 1964 when Friendly succeeded him.

Salant, an attorney, has the title of vice president and special assistant to the president with CBS, Inc.

Allowable Climbs

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' total average calendar day oil allowable is 3,090,127 barrels daily, an increase of 28,478 barrels since Feb. 1, the State Railroad Commission reported Wednesday.

Opening lead: Ten of ◇

In today's hand South did not give himself the best chance in the play of his six spade contract.

West opened the ten of diamonds, the jack was played from dummy, East covered with the queen and South won the trick with the king. Three rounds of trumps were drawn winding up in dummy, as West discarded a diamond and a club.

South was solid everywhere but in clubs and it appeared to him that he must play that suit so as to restrict his loss to one trick. The jack of clubs was led from dummy, East covered with the queen and declarer played the ace.

The North hand was reentered with the ace of hearts and another club was led. It did not matter which card South played, however, for West sat behind the ten-eight with the king-nine and he took the next two tricks.

South would have made the slam if East had held the nine of clubs instead of West for, when that suit is led the second time, declarer's eight forces out the king and establishes the ten for a trick.

South had actually chosen the wrong suit to concentrate on. He had better odds available in hearts where only one of two cards need be favorably located. If West has either the queen or jack of hearts, success becomes assured.

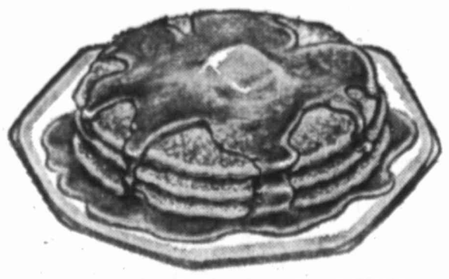

After trumps are drawn, it is suggested that the declarer lead a small heart from his hand and finesse the dummy's nine. East wins with the queen but, when South regains the lead, the heart finesse is repeated by putting in North's ten. The eight and ten of clubs are discarded on the ace-king of hearts, and declarer loses only the one heart trick.

UNFORTUNATES KEEP PACE

From Slums To Harvard

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The boys who learned their first lesson in the slums when they probably never dreamed of college have made their mark at Harvard.

Harvard's deans said today the college has won its gamble on more than 200 youths it has admitted since 1957 who never would have qualified if judged on their college board test grades.

The 200, chosen partly for their courageous response to a poverty-stricken upbringing, are no ordinary scholarship holders.

REARED IN SLUMS

Most were raised in city slums. Many attended unaccredited high schools. More than 50 per cent are Negroes. A few are the sons of maids and migrant workers.

The results of one of the first college recruiting efforts of its kind were termed "amazing" by the dean of admissions, Fred L. Glimp, in an interview.

Eighty-five per cent of those selected have graduated, a number with honors and one with a Rhodes scholarship.

KEEP PACE

The students have kept pace academically with their more fortunate associates from the nation's best preparatory schools and its academically strong public high schools.

And they've done it, Dean Glimp says, "without overcompensating, without burning all the bridges of their past behind them."

It began when Harvard's deans were mulling the question of how much weight college board scores should be given in the cases of boys raised in poverty and educated in substandard-quality schools.

The result was establishment of what became known as "The Gamble Fund."

ACROSS COUNTRY

The drive to ferret out promising students was spearheaded by alumni interviewers across the country and organizations working among the poor of all race and nationality backgrounds.

Dean Glimp said Harvard was looking for "boys who are tough, in the psychological sense, the resilient."

The college board scores of the disadvantaged students are generally in the 400s. Most others who get into Harvard these days score in the high 600s and in the 700s.

The 85 per cent figure for Gamble Fund graduates is six per cent less than the one for other students.

Prisoner Is A Part-Timer

FORT WORTH (AP)—County Criminal Court Judge J. C. Duval is among the first to try a new state law which allows jail prisoners to work during the day outside bars and return to jail at night.

He allowed a 23-year-old machinist, convicted of aggravated assault, to pay a $500 fine and serve a two-year jail sentence on the "in-and-out" basis.

The man is working from 3 p.m. until 11 p.m. and gets back behind bars by 11:45 p.m., according to Duval's ruling.

"I thought the thing (the new law) was in there to be used. I thought I ought to be the first judge to try it," Duval said, adding:

"If too many of them are permitted to do this, they may have to put a revolving door on that jail."

Board Bans Photo For U.T. Humor Mag Cover

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Ranger, University of Texas student humor magazine which gets most of its publicity from giving its censors fits, is at it again — this time by trying to use a retouched photograph of President Johnson on the cover of the February issues.

But most students seem to feel "Who cares?"

The attempt failed when a student - faculty board voted 5-3 Monday to ban the cover, which featured a photograph of Johnson with a wig drawn in and the label, "Mother Baines Snake Oil Elixir."

Jack Holland, dean of students, called the cover "an attempt to ridicule the President."

"Not so," said Ranger Editor Byron Black. "We only used the cover because Johnson is an authentic product of Texas folklore and a folk hero of Texas, and this issue is on Texana. It wasn't viciously or maliciously done. In fact, it wasn't even funny."

But Black indicated his staff hasn't given up completely.

The new cover, which delayed publication of the February issue for a week until next Wednesday, will have a drawing of "hairy Ranger," the magazine's mythical symbol.

A RESEMBLANCE?

"Look real close at Hairy's face. It might resemble someone you know," commented Black, chuckling.

Two student members of the Texas Student Publications Board voted with three faculty representatives to ban the Johnson cover.

"We are his (Johnson's) university," said David Carlock, student member.

Voting for publication, however, was John Orr, student body president. "He (Johnson) lets himself in for this sort of thing" because of his political life, Orr said.

Prisoner Eager For Death Row

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Ralph Carl Powers, 23, convicted murderer, has told officers that after 18 months in the Bexar County Jail he was looking forward to being transferred to death row at the state penitentiary.

Shortly before he was sentenced to death, he said that while in the jail here he had been put in a cell by himself and missed conversations.

Powers said at death row he would be permitted to talk to other prisoners, watch television and paint.

Eulogy Paid Rep. Thomas

HOUSTON (AP) — The late Rep. Albert Thomas, not widely known outside his home district in Texas, was considered an influential force in Congress.

Friends said today this estimate of his influence on Capitol Hill came in from other members of Congress and officials in the executive branch of the government.

Thomas, 67, died Tuesday in Washington. Services will be here Friday.

Thomas gradually climbed in seniority after entering Congress in 1937. He ranked No. 2 among Democrats on the House Appropriations Committee at his death and had headed major subcommittees since 1949.

His death means two powerful Texas voices will be missing when a new Congress is organized next January. Less than a month ago Rep. Clark Thompson of Galveston announced he would not seek re-election. The combined service of Thomas and Thompson exceeds 50 years.

Memorial services for Thomas were held Wednesday at Washington and were attended by President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson.

Thomas' body was returned here Wednesday night.

Federal Grants For Texas Projects Listed

Public Housing Administration —$12,000 loan to Gatesville Housing Authority to plan 60 low-rent homes, 46 for the elderly.

Office of Economic Opportunity—30,063 grant to Yorktown Independent School District to give remedial instruction in language, reading and science for 100 low-income students; $116,000 grant to conduct Head Start program for 585 children in Mission, McAllen and Mente Alto, through the Associated City-County Economic Development Corp., of Hiladgo; $19,755 grant to community council of Uvalde, Kinney and Real counties for development anti-poverty programs.

Explaining U.S. Policies Urged

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP)—C. J. Schmid, Austin businessman and native of Switzerland, wants the story of the United States' racial problems and policies in Viet Nam told in detail about the world.

Back from a six-month visit in his native country, Schmid proposed that news services and the State Department make an all-out effort to educate people around the globe along these lines.

He said he wanted the State Department to equip tourists from this country with information on U.S. foreign policy and background on racial troubles so they can present it intelligently abroad.

The information could be put together in a pamphlet and issued with each passport, he suggested.
