The City of Wellington will seal coat 200 blocks of city streets, completing the work during the remainder of the summer and fall. This project is not only to improve the streets but to preserve them for deterioration due to normal use and weather.

Farmers Union Annual County Convention Set for Sept. 3

Collingsworth County Farmers Union will hold its annual county convention and officer election Thursday, September 3 at 8 p.m. at the Farmers Union Building.

Members will elect a president and three directors.

There is a possibility that state Farmers Union president Mike Moeller will attend the meeting, although plans had not been completed at press time.

Resolutions will be drawn and voted on at the meeting, and then they will be forwarded to the state Farmers Union convention to be held in Ft. Worth in January.

County president Carroll Nunnelle urged all members to attend the annual meeting.

Several Collingsworth County Farmers Union members heard national FU president George Stone speak at the FU District 1 banquet in Spearman Tuesday, August 18.

Stone discussed the omnibus farm bill now moving through Congress, and state president Moeller reviewed this year's two sessions of the state legislature, including legislation that exempts gasoline from the 5 cents per gallon state tax for five years

City to Borrow $100,000 For Street Improvement

The Wellington City Council has authorized Mayor Ralph Owens and City Manager Glen Taylor to borrow $100,000 from its depository bank, the Wellington State, in order to complete its commitment to street improvement this summer.

This loan will enable the city to apply a seal coat to 200 blocks of streets which have had one or more coats of asphalt in the past. Some of these have begun to deteriorate.

This program is in addition to the seal coat applied to a number of streets in the summer of 1980, and it will put most, if not all, of Wellington's streets in good surface condition.

The deterioration to be found on many of the streets results from normal wear and weather conditions, especially from wet, freezing weather through winter months, the council has pointed out many times.

The council then authorized Taylor, Owens and Councilman Willie Gragson, to contract with a road contractor of their choice to lease paving equipment with which to do the work. The city does not own this kind of equipment. Operators to operate the leased machinery will be included in the agreement, and city employees will do the remainder of the work, which is due to be completed before weather becomes too cold to pour asphalt.

Gragson is an engineer for the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

The motion for the city to borrow the $100,000 was made by Councilman John Rainey and seconded by Councilman Gary Brewer. Councilman Lyndon Crelia moved that the city contract for the equipment and this was seconded by Councilman Sam McGill. Both motions were unanimously approved.

In another street improvement proposal, 13 residents of an area bounded by Haskell, Graham, 14th and 15th streets met with the city to request paving of four blocks within that area.

Taylor explained the city's policy that it will be glad to pave the streets provided the property owners will curb and gutter those streets. Present cost of laying the curb and gutter is estimated at $6.50 per foot.

In other action, the council members voted to change the carrier of its Workmans Compensation and Insurance to a plan operated by The Texas Municipal League and to bring under Workman's Compensation for the first time members of the Wellington Volunteer Fire Department.

However, the council deferred until its September 14 meeting any action on selecting a pension plan for members of the fire department.

Two plans were discussed during the Monday night meeting, and the merits of both were touched on. At present the city carries its own retirement system.

Meeting with the council were Danny Gray, fire department chief; J.D. Sheer, department secretary; Buster Hughs and David Peters, both retired fire chiefs.

The council also deferred

County, Hospital Propose Large Tax Increases

Collingsworth County Commissioners Court and Collingsworth General Hospital Board have both approved tentative budgets for the coming fiscal year and both have set public hearings on the tax increases necessary to fund those budgets.

The Commissioners Court has proposed an increase of 96% in its property tax levy (the total amount of taxes the county levied on all property), and the Hospital Board has proposed an increase of 49.04% in its property tax levy.

Neither body has set a tax rate yet, because they do not yet have a final valuation of property within the county. The final valuation has been held up by the new county-wide appraisal and reappraisal notices have not yet been sent to taxpayers. After the reappraisal notices are sent, the board of equalization must meet before the various taxing entities will have a tax roll to levy taxes against.

Both public hearings will be held Thursday, September 3. The county's hearing is set for 5 p.m. in the County Court Room, 2nd Floor, Courthouse, and the hospital district's hearing is set for 7 p.m. in the Court Room, 2nd Floor, Courthouse.

The county will also hold a budget hearing at same time it holds its public hearing on the tax increase. The hospital's budget hearing has been set for 7 p.m. September 14 at the hospital board's regular monthly meeting at the hospital.

Sleeping Sickness Found In Three Horses Here

Three cases of sleeping sickness in horses have been reported here this week and the situation is serious enough that veterinarian Mark Fires has recommended that all horses in the county be vaccinated immediately.

Sleeping sickness (Western Equine Encephalomyelitis) is transmitted through mosquitoes and the mosquitoes can bite and transmit the disease to people.

"We've had three known cases on the west edge of Wellington," Fires said, "and we suggest that people do everything they can to control mosquitoes around their houses and that they use an insect spray on their horses."

The City of Wellington began fogging operations Tuesday night and will spray all areas of the city two times.

Fires said that horses that have been previously vaccinated need a booster shot now, and that horses that have never been vaccinated need one shot now and a booster in 4 weeks. He said that even horses that had been vaccinated earlier this year need a booster shot now.

Symptoms of the disease in horses are a drooping bottom lip, staggering and a dumb appearance, Fires said.

Japanese Student Here This Year

Minako Kiyama, a 17-year old Japanese girl whose home is in Shizuoka City, will live this year in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Hudson and complete her junior year in Wellington High School.

She comes here through the Academic Year in America program, sponsored by the American Institute for Foreign Study.

While Minako is here, an American student will be living in Japan for the same period of time.

Her parents are Youichi and Yuki Kiyama. Her father is a rice merchant.

Minako flew from Japan late last week and the Hudsons met her flight in Amarillo Sunday. By Tuesday evening, she was enrolled in regular courses in Wellington High School--speech, biology, typing, American History, English, physical education and home and family living.

The petite Minako has attended Shizuoka Eiwa High School, a mission school.

Already, she is fitting into Wellington School life and has been to a group meeting in Shamrock with new-made friends.

In addition, Tommy and Beverly Hudson, with their two children, plan to take Minako to the State Fair of Texas at Dallas in October, and hopefully at the same time they will see a Dallas Cowboys football game. One or more college football games and rodeos are also planned for her, and with the family she will participate in various Wellington activities through the year.

Not all things will be strange.

Some holidays are international and Minako told of Christmas ceremonies that

Dela B. Ford, Leader Retiree

Dela B. Ford, an employee of The Wellington Leader for 20 years, has retired, but she will continue to make her home in Wellington and will return to the newspaper from time to time to help for brief periods.

Mrs. Ford has done much to develop the Wellington Leader office supply department, building it to one of the most complete in a town of any size in this part of the state.

Another area in which she excelled is development of the newspaper's classified advertising section, of which she was in charge.

Since joining the staff in 1961, she headed the bookkeeping department and was proof reader. For part of the time she was circulation manager.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Ford taught in Collingsworth County schools 13 years, one at Ring and 12 in Wellington Elementary School.

Later she was associated with an insurance firm and with her mother, the late Mrs. J.L. Burt, in her dress shop.

Mrs. Ford served in the Women's Army Corps in World War II and during this time she was married to Jack Ford of Lawrence, Mass. After a brief period in that state, they returned to Texas, where he was in the engineering section of the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

He died two years ago. Dela B. Ford has two sons, Johnny Ford, on the coaching staff of Midland High School and Lanny Ford, with the Department of Highways and Public Transportation. There are three grandchildren Rachelle, Amber and Ryan of Wellington.

Along with her work, Mrs. Ford is active in First Baptist Church.

She was also a member of the group which organized Wellington B&PW Club and was active in Cub Scouting when her sons were small.

Dove Season Opens Sept. 1, Other Game Seasons Follow

It's only 5 days until the arrival of that harbinger of fall—Dove Season.

The two-months long open season on mourning doves opens Tuesday, Sept. 1 and closes Oct. 30, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, which has jurisdiction over hunting seasons.

Following the dove season, Collingsworth hunters have open seasons on deer, turkey, squirrel, quail, pheasants, prairie chicken and an archery season on deer and turkey.

Copies of the Texas Hunting and the Texas Sport Fishing Guide for 1981 and 1982 are now available. Prospects for a good early dove season look "kind of skimpy, but there's enough to hunt," reported Game Warden Dennis Thomas, who checked much of Collingsworth County Friday afternoon.

Thomas pointed out, however, that there are both resident and migratory doves, and the approach of cool weather in Kansas, Nebraska, and other states to the north will bring in additional birds. "There should be plenty of birds," Thomas believes.

"The doves we are seeing right now are those that stay and raise here," he added.

This year's daily bag limit is 12 birds, up two from the past several years. Possession limit is 24.

Shooting hours are 30 minutes before sunrise to sunset.

No person shall possess more than one daily bag limit of freshly killed migratory game birds while in the field, and any freshly killed migratory birds given to another person, except at the residence of either the person giving or receiving the birds must have a tag attached signed by the hunter who took the birds, stating his name, address, total number of birds and date birds were taken.

A split fall and spring season will be effective for turkey, Thomas reminds. The fall season is November 21 to December 6, with a bag limit of one turkey of either sex. The spring season will be April 17-May 2 with one additional gobbler. This applies to most of the Panhandle.

The same dates, November 21 to December 6, also apply to the White-Tailed Deer season. The bag is one deer, buck or antlerless and this season applies to the same Panhandle counties as the turkey season.

Additionally, there is an archery only season for white-tailed deer and turkey, which opens October 3 and closes Nov. 1. The bag limit is one buck only and one turkey of either sex. Legal archery equipment is to be used. This means the bow must be capable of shooting a hunting arrow equipped with a broadhead hunting point for a distance of 130 yards; the broadhead point must be at least 7/8" wide and not more than 1 1/2" wide. Arrows must be marked with the name and address of the user. There are other regulations which the archer should check before hunting deer or turkey in Texas.

Deer or turkey must be tagged immediately upon being killed and in a secure manner.

The tag is to be placed on any part of the carcass where it is not likely to be disturbed; must be properly and legibly filled out; and taken from the license of the hunter who killed the deer or turkey and the tag can be used only once. The tag must remain on the carcass until it reaches its final destination, which is the home of the permanent residence of the hunter or a commercial processing plant.

The Quail season will be December 1 to January 31 for Collingsworth and Wheeler Counties, also Hardeman and Cottle, and for all other Panhandle counties it is October 31 through January 31.

The bag limit has not been announced, as the quail count is now under way, the game warden said.

The pheasant season for this and other Panhandle counties is December 12 through 27, with a bag limit of 2 cocks per day, and a possession limit of four cocks after the first day. The head and feet must remain attached to the carcass until it reaches its final destination.

The prairie chicken season is October 17 and 18 and the bag limit is two per day with a possession limit of four after the first day.

It is unlikely that any Collingsworth landowner having either of these scarce game birds will allow hunting by any one except themselves or their families.

County hunters wishing to try their luck with an aoudad sheep may hunt in Armstrong, Briscoe, Donley, Floyd, Hall, Motley, Randall and Swisher Counties. The open season is Nov. 7-20 and Jan. 2-17 and the bag limit is one aoudad.

Minako's home city has a population of 425,965 and is located on the seacoast about two hours train ride from Tokyo.

Its business and commercial area is one of the most modern in Japan, but homes are in the traditional style.

To acquaint her new friends with something of her life style, she brought pictures of her home, with its tatime floor coverings and shoji screen partitions. The quiet, serene interior design of the Japanese homes is known to most Americans only in pictures. "This is a temporary situation, and we hope to have it remedied by October 1," Trooper Bill Ricks said.

The reduction in office days here is a result of Trooper Bill Ricks, who has served the Wellington office since October, 1972, being promoted to Sergeant of the 22 county area from Perryton to Aspermont to the Wichita Falls county line. The DPS hopes to replace Ricks with one of its new graduates as soon as they finish school next month.

If people need service on days that the trooper is not in Wellington, they may go to the Childress DPS office located one quarter mile east of Childress on the south side of Hwy. 287, Ricks said. They may obtain renewals, duplicates or written tests on any days during regular office hours, but driving tests will be administered only on Mondays at the Childress office, Ricks said. If anyone needs further information, they may call 817/937-2560, Ricks said.

season in Donley and Gray and a number of other Panhandle counties October 3 through 11, with a bag limit of one antelope per season by permit only.

The open season on mule deer is Nov. 21-29 and surrounding counties included are Childress, Cottle, Donley, Hall and Gray. The bag limit is two mule deer, no more than one buck, antlerless by permit.

There is also an archery season for mule deer Oct. 3 through Nov. 1. The bag limit is one mule deer buck.

Thomas urges hunters who are not already familiar with the general hunting laws to learn what they are before going into the field.

Hospital Board OK's Budget, Tax Hike

Collingsworth General Hospital board approved a tentative budget at a special meeting Tuesday, Aug. 25 but postponed setting a tax rate. The board does not yet have a final property valuation total to set a tax rate against because of the county-wide reappraisal which has not yet been completed.

The board unanimously approved a budget which would require 49.04% more in local property taxes to fund.

At regular meeting on Monday night, the board hired Russell Altmiller of Olney as auditor for the coming year and approved renewing bank notes of $45,000 and $55,000.

The board referred new radiology and respiratory therapy contracts to its auditor and to the medical staff for review.

And the board approved turning over to a collection agency $9,764.98 in inpatient bad debts and $1,309.10 in outpatient bad debts.

Present were board members Corky Bowen, Lyman Daniel, Robert Owens, J.M. Orr, Buddy Carter and Bill Patrick.

Councilman McGill asked what can be done about littering in the east part of Ellison Park during weekends, when that area is a gathering place for many groups.

It is immediately across the street from his home and he cited beer bottles that are thrown into the street and broken, papers, paper cups, disposable diapers and other items that are thrown on the ground.

The park attendant can have the park clean and in good condition on Friday and on Monday morning the east side is a "disaster area," McGill said.

NOTICE

IF YOU SMELL NATURAL GAS, FOLLOW THESE 3 STEPS TO SAFETY.

The natural gas industry has an excellent safety record.

The fact that you can smell natural gas is because we add a harmless chemical to it as a safety feature. Otherwise, it would be completely odorless. If you detect faint whiffs of what you think may be gas, investigate. It may be something that is as easily and safely corrected as a pilot light that has gone out, or a burner valve that's partially open.

If your equipment seems to be working properly and the odor intensifies and seems to be everywhere, please follow these precautions:

1. Do not switch anything electrical on or off. Do not use the telephone in your own home. Do not strike a match. Do not do anything that might cause a spark.
2. Have everyone leave the house immediately, leaving doors open to help ventilate.
3. Go to a nearby telephone and call Lone Star Gas Company. Wait until we have found the source of the odor to determine whether it's safe for you to return to the house.

You may never have a natural gas leak, but we want you to be informed in case one does occur. Please make sure your family is aware of these precautionary steps. And we suggest that you keep this message for future reference.

L.C. Sweat Named August RTA Teacher of the Year

The Collingsworth County retired teacher of the month for August is L.C. Sweat, whose teaching career started 53 years ago--1928--at Plymouth.

This was one of the schools that later consolidated to form the Samnorwood District.

When consolidation came in the mid-1930s, the grade schools were kept in the 7 communities involved; high school students went to Samnorwood.

"From Plymouth, I taught next at Nicholson, another of the schools that consolidated. After a few years, all the grades were brought to Samnorwood, where a new grade school building was built. In this district I taught 10 years," Mrs. Sweat said.

"All the years I was teaching, I did correspondence work, attended classes at West Texas State University at Canyon in the summer and taught each winter," she continued.

This was the procedure by which many teachers in predominantly rural counties achieved a bachelor's degree until state laws began to require a degree for teaching.

L.C. Sweat concluded her teaching career in Wellington Jr. High School, and after 6 years, she retired in 1975.

Her years in the classroom were not consecutive, for she remained at home for some years to raise her family.

There were still reminders of the pioneer days when Mrs. Sweat was born, and no present Collingsworth teacher can make this claim: She was born in a half dugout.

She was the 8th child of the late John and Harriet Young of Lutie. Six of the 12 children became teachers.

"My first 9 years of school were at Lutie, but the last two years of high school were completed in Wellington, by driving in from Lutie each day. The first year we drove in a Model T, the last year a Model A Ford," she reminisced.

"Rufus Sweat and I were married Dec. 15, 1928 and had three children, Doris Sweat Didway of Irving, VaRue Sweat Coley of Richardson, and Don Sweat of Houston."

Much is now said of adults who return to college after being out of the classroom for a period of time. L.C. Sweat made that decision 24 years ago.

"I was out of the school room, as a teacher, for 20 years. In 1957 I started back to college at WTSU, Canyon. I drove each day, there and back, for the year and received my B.S. degree in 1958 in elementary education.

"Then I started teaching 7th and 8th grade language arts in Wellington Junior High, I was there for 6 years, retiring in 1975.

"This age group of boys and girls have always been very special, for they're too young to be adults, too old to be little children, but are the right age to be complimented and given a 'pat on the back' for encouragement and understanding," continued the retired teacher.

Mrs. Sweat belongs to Delta Kappa Gamma, an international honorary society for teachers and served as chapter president in 1962-1964.

She is also a member of the local, state and national Retired Teachers Associations and was president of the local unit in 1976-78.

An active member of First Baptist Church, she has worked with Monte Sinai Mission Baptista on Sunday mornings since it was organized. Additionally, she is a member and past president (1961-62) of the Business and Professional Women's Club and belongs to Samnorwood Extension Homemakers Club.

One of the highest awards which Texas offers its farm women came to L.C. Sweat in 1952 when she was chosen Texas Conservation Homemaker of the Year, in the Save the Soil and Save Texas awards program. This was sponsored by the Ft. Worth Press and more than 20 other Texas business and industries, carried out in co-operation with the Texas Soil Conservation Association.

For many years, she has worked with the Red Cross, Cancer fund drive and heart fund.

For as long as any of her friends can remember, singing has been a part of the Young's family way of life. For many years she and her sister, Mrs. Jack Lowry, sang as a duet at entertainments, family gatherings, funerals, and church activities.

She sums up her philosophy of life by saying "I really believe in 'living in a House by the Side of the Road to Be a Friend to Man.'"

Traditional Events At Wood Reunion

The family of the late Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Wood met Saturday and Sunday, August 8 and 9, for their reunion that is already building its own traditions.

Wellington is the regular meeting place.

After registration, which began at 10 a.m. Saturday in the Heritage Room, reunion visitors were served coffee, donuts and orange juice and began their day and a half of visiting.

The talent show, an annual event, was given by children of the family. These included Jody Wood, Amanda Wood, David Duncan, Margo Duncan, Vanda Wood, and Alicia Thompson of Midland.

Family members were on their own for lunch, but returned at 1 p.m. for more visiting and looking at pictures.

As is their custom, Ray Wood of Sudan prepared chili for the chili dogs, always served Saturday evening at the reunion. Home made ice cream completed the meal, then there were games of volleyball at Ellison Park.

Next morning the Woods children and their families went to Ellison park at 7 a.m. for the outdoor breakfast, which the men prepared and served.

More visiting at the Heritage Room was followed by a luncheon and business meeting.

Farris Wood was elected president for the coming year and his wife, Vada Wood, was chosen secretary.

R.L. and Ira Dorinda Wood came to Collingsworth County many years ago and settled in the Fresno community. Their farm is still in the family, and it has been the first home of several of the children after they married.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Dear Editor:

I was visiting my family in Wellington recently and read a copy of your paper, The Wellington Leader, dated July 16, 1981. In that issue, I read about the sheriff breaking up a teenager's pot party. I was encouraged by the sheriff department's education concerning the legal aspects as well as the outline in your paper of the statutes concerning marijuana for your readers.

However, I hope that you or someone followed with the latest scientific and medical facts. Too many young people and adults believe that marijuana smoking is a harmless fad, a passing fancy. Not so! Rather than a harmless recreational drug, marijuana is a virtual time bomb, loaded with four hundred twenty-one known chemicals. The most potent is THC which "likes" the best parts of our bodies, for example, the brain, reproductive organs, lungs, etc, because this chemical stores itself in the fatty tissue or protective lining of these organs. It stores and accumulates in the user's body. This is not scare tactics, its scientific fact according to Nahas, Robert DuPont, Susan Dalterio, Peggy Mann, Carlton Turner, and many others. Of course, there is confusion because there are medical studies trying to uncover what medical uses of those four hundred twenty-one chemicals there might be, particularly for THC.

While the scientists have been discovering these facts, our country has been experiencing an epidemic of younger and younger users and abusers. But it's not entirely their fault. The "drug use" message from peers, movies, rock music, and other sources has had a forceful "turn on" appeal; this has been highly sophisticated and glamorized. At the very same time, parents were just not that aware of what was going on or what to do about it. Generally speaking, our world and our children's world have been worlds apart concerning this.

Throughout the United States there has been an overwhelming effort to reverse the trend because we do love our children. Parents are educating themselves and standing firm against the drug culture. They are joining in a war against drugs that our youth have been combating for quite sometime. Some have managed fairly well; others are becoming victims as that teenage party in Wellington indicates. Regardless of whether the child is a user or whether he is still straight, he is living in a drug world. He must cope.

Our young people are worth our support of them as we stand firm against this social and health hazard. Don't stop now; help the youth of your community with education and involvement.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — The Texas Legislature may not meet in a second special session after all—Gov. Bill Clements announced last week he has reconsidered the call to repeal the ad valorem tax.

Repeal of the tax was the only issue important to Clements which he "lost" during the recent special session, and the Governor is the kind of batter who wants to knock every pitch out of the ballpark.

But the tax is the focus of a lawsuit, and both Clements and the Legislature now seem content to wait for a settlement in the courtroom. The verdict will give the officials the direction they need.

College Construction

The Texas Constitution levys a 10-cent per $100 valuation ad valorem tax which is dedicated to construction at 17 state universities and colleges. In 1979 the Legislature attached a statute which lowered the rate, making the tax so small that no one even bothers to collect it. However, Midwestern State University at Wichita Falls sued to overturn the Legislature's action as unconstitutional. It is scheduled for trial on August 24, but may be postponed 30 days.

Midwestern Regent William M. Thacker, Jr. came under a lot of pressure in the last days of the special session when the repeal issue was hot. Thacker reportedly caught a lot of heat from Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and other directions to drop the lawsuit. Thacker held his ground.

Would-Be Assassin

Several new twists have occurred in the strange case of Rep. Mike Martin, R-Longview, who was wounded in the elbow with a shotgun fired by an unknown person.

The attack on Martin in the final days of the special session left his colleagues baffled, and the police and press cynical, but for reasons no one could really figure.

Martin repeatedly made statements about living in fear, and indicated first that the shooting was related to an investigation his office was conducting.

Later he said he was the target of an anti-Christian occult group.

In the course of the probe, Martin ignored two Travis County jury subpoenas and left the state, going into hiding.

Cousin Arrested

Late last week authorities announced Martin's cousin in Longview admitted shooting Martin. No details were released.

And Martin himself is now being sought for arrest by Gregg County officials who uncovered an old misdemeanor warrant for his arrest.

Martin, a carpenter, allegedly assaulted his cabinet shop employee.

Medfly Lawsuit

Texas agriculture officials last week filed a lawsuit against the California produce industry and the U.S. Agriculture Department, seeking reimbursement for funds spent protecting Texas from the Mediterranean fruit fly.

Now in effect is a $5,000-per-day program to stop produce trucks entering Texas borders and inspect them for the Medfly.

Leading the search is Texas Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown, who has thrown the state's agriculture industry into a tizzy looking for the Medfly. Brown even convinced the Legislature to give him extra funds to combat the fly.

Last week Brown admitted his search program has stopped after inspecting over 70,000 produce-laden trucks, but none have been carrying fruit flies or their larvae. He also said that aerial spray planes are poised to spray Texas fields the minute one fly is found and positively identified.

GOP Gears Up

The Republican Party of Texas chalked up the points in the recent regular and special legislative sessions, and, of course, scored high with Reagan's tax cut victory in Congress.

Now the GOP reportedly is actively recruiting candidates for the 1982 elections, and is courting several conservative Texas Democrats.

Targeted in Congress are Phil Gramm of Bryan and Kent Hance of Lubbock, two Democrats who voted with Republicans on the tax cut issue. Several legislators are also eyed as possible switch-overs.

In the Legislature, the battle over congressional redistricting has polarized the members, particularly in the House. The Democratic Party pitted itself against the Republican Party on the issue, and the outcome cannot really be categorized until all the ballots are in. Democrats claim Speaker Bill Clayton stepped in to win a compromise favoring Republicans. Republicans down-play the victory, saying it was conservative Democrats who actually carried the win for them.

And Clayton, who should know better than most, says his plan does not favor Republicans.

Who's right?

No one will be able to say until the ballots are counted in 1982. But between then and now, political movers are not going to let the grass grow under their feet.

At any rate, conservative Democrats are on the spot again by virtue of pressure within their own party, and Republicans stand to gain a few seats in the Legislature.

Of course, there should be other benefits of the gasohol bill that are not readily predictable. One is that it creates a new market for agricultural products.

The bill specifies that the alcohol used to make the gasohol be from a renewable source. That will be grain for the near future, but it could be other renewable sources later. Either way, gasohol will decrease our dependence on foreign oil.

Someone will have to run the gasohol plants, so we expect the industry will bring in hundreds of jobs at good wages. This is in addition to the construction jobs to build the plants.

We believe gasohol is perfect for the Panhandle. It brings together three of the important things of this decade — agriculture, energy and jobs. We have the market and the means of production in our part of the state; all we needed was to give gasohol a fighting chance.

We have given gasohol its chance. Now we expect to see a thriving Panhandle industry that was not there before. Many of you have opinions on gasohol production and on the future of the Panhandle, and we want to hear from you. Please write to Senator Bill Sarpalius, P. O. Box 12068, Austin, Texas 78711.

Campbells Head Fair Parade

Jack and Frankie Sue Campbell are parade co-chairmen of this year's Collingsworth County Fair which always opens that big event.

At this time, they are urging Wellington business firms and organizations of all kinds to participate by entering floats, vehicles and other appropriate parade units.

They remind that time is short for preparing these entries.

The parade will roll onto the court house square at 11 a.m. Friday, September 11 and will disband in time for the crowd to get to attend the barbecue at Ellison Park and see the fair exhibits before going home.

Because the parade is already longer than usually held, Campbell announced that it will circle the court house square only once.

The parade will form on West Avenue, turn east at the southwest corner of the square, circle it and upon returning to that point will then travel west two blocks to Bowie Street and First Methodist Church. It will go south on Bowje to a point where it disbands.

Assembly of God Revival Begins Aug. 30

The Rev. Jarrell Kuykendall and his family will be at the Assembly of God, preaching and singing for a revival that begins Sunday, August 30 and continues through Friday, September 5.

Services will start at 7:30 p.m., said the Rev. James E. Smith, pastor of the church.

Rev. Kuykendall is an evangelist, and he, with his wife, Joan, and their children Allen, Wayne and Kathy, are from Electra.

The public is invited to attend, Rev. Smith said.

Skyrockets To Meet Friona, Friday

Wellington Skyrocket varsity and JV teams will meet Class 3A Friona on neutral ground Friday, August 28 in the second of the two scrimmages before the 1981 football season begins.

The game will be played at Silverton, starting at 6 p.m. according to Coach James Williams, who is urging Skyrocket boosters to attend. In case of wet weather, however, the scrimmage will be canceled.

The Skyrocket Varsity outnumbered Miami Warriors nearly 2-1 in the first scrimmage Friday, August 21. The varsity scored one time and held Miami to none, but in JV action, Miami was able to score against Wellington. Miami could field only 15 boys. "But they had some pretty good linemen and linebackers," said Williams.

"I was real pleased with the way we moved the football. We threw the ball real well and we did get a look at the secondary, but we still have a lot of unanswered questions."

This week, Friona is due to be a stronger opponent, having not only some size, but a lot of depth, Williams believes.

"We will have a complete scrimmage, with 20 plays offensively and 20 defensive, and alternating with the JV.

"We'll have a chance to see if we can play defense as well as we think we can and see if we can move the football against a larger team," said Williams.

Hollis outplayed Memphis 4-3 Friday night and the Tigers will open their 1981 season against Sayre, Ok., Friday, Aug. 28.

Gospel Singers Here For 2-Day Convention

Gospel singing will be the Wellington sound this weekend, as the 17-County Gospel Singing Convention is held Saturday and Sunday, August 29 and 30.

Several hundred out of town singers, will be here, coming from an area that has the Dallas-Ft. Worth Metroplex, and Oklahoma City on its eastern borders, and New Mexico at the west.

The singing will come from Bura Handley Community Center, 10th and Amarillo Street.

Mrs. Vela Tisdale, president, announced that the Saturday night singing will start at 7 p.m. and continue until 10.

Singers will gather at 10 a.m. Sunday and sing until noon, when a basket lunch will be served at the community building.

An hour later, 1 p.m. they will return for the afternoon session which will last until 4 o'clock.

A Fort Worth trio from Ft. Worth consists of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Brown and their daughter, Cindy. Another trio, coming from Oklahoma City will be that of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Riblin and D.H. Holly.

The Tom Pound Family Singers of Memphis consist of Mr. and Mrs. Pound and their four daughters.

A Wellington based quartet is made up of Hugh Bledsoe, Mrs. Sam Adams, and Mrs. L.C. Sweat of Wellington and Buck Lancaster of Turkey. Their accompanist is Mrs. Lancaster.

Assisting her is Mrs. Fred Brown of Borger, secretary, while Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bledsoe and Charlie Ameron are working on local arrangements.

"This is an event you can't afford to miss. It is uplifting and good for any town," said Mrs. Tisdale.

Counties which make up the convention are Randall, Moore, Floyd, Hale, Hall, Hutchinson, Childress, Swisher, Gray and Briscoe, Collingsworth, and Harde- man in Texas, and Harmon, Jackson, Kiowa, Tillman and Greer in Oklahoma.

Wellington was the host city for this gospel singing convention several years ago.

Country Music Festival Set For Saturday, August 29

The fourth annual All American Country Music Festival will go on stage Saturday, August 29, at 7:30 p.m., with a new sponsor, Wellington Parent-Teacher Organization.

This year's featured artist will be the Ken Murphy family, and much of the program will be reminiscent of the music of the late Bob Wills, said John Alf Thomas, festival producer.

Murphy formerly played the fiddle with Leon McAuliffe and the Texas Playboys, Wills old band.

Mrs. Murphy is a vocalist and their 9 children will be presented in a variety of musical numbers, including the three-year-old who plays the fiddle.

There will be talent with a local flavor.

Elvis Sain of Canyon who grew up here, and his niece, Donna Holt, a Wellington high school student, will present fiddle and guitar numbers. They were 1980 winners of an Amarillo radio station talent contest.

Virginia Kennedy of Vega, formerly of Quail, will give lively comedy numbers in the style of Grand Old Opry star Minnie Pearl. She and her husband lived at Quail 18 years while he was vo-ag teacher.

She is currently justice of the peace of Oldham County.

Thomas and his 11-year-old son, Lindy, will MC the show.

Some of the fiddle tunes that have become Murphy's trademark are "The Devil Went Down to Georgia," and "Orange Blossom Special."

In 1971 he was the Missouri State fiddling champion and the Arkansas State fiddling champion.

Arlene Murphy is "a marvelous singer," Thomas declares.

She has appeared on the Mid-Ozark Jamboree and is a recording artist with Jasper.

Tickets for adults are $2.50 each; for school children $1.25; and children under school age get in free.

All tickets will be sold at the door.

Proceeds after expenses go to the Parent-Teacher Organization.

Milburn Derryberry Honored After 35 Years Service at Post Office

Several senior boys from the 1938 graduating class were discussing jobs available in Wellington. Milburn Derryberry said he wouldn't mind working for the Post Office. He didn't really mean it, he remembers, but he thought it was the best job Wellington had to offer.

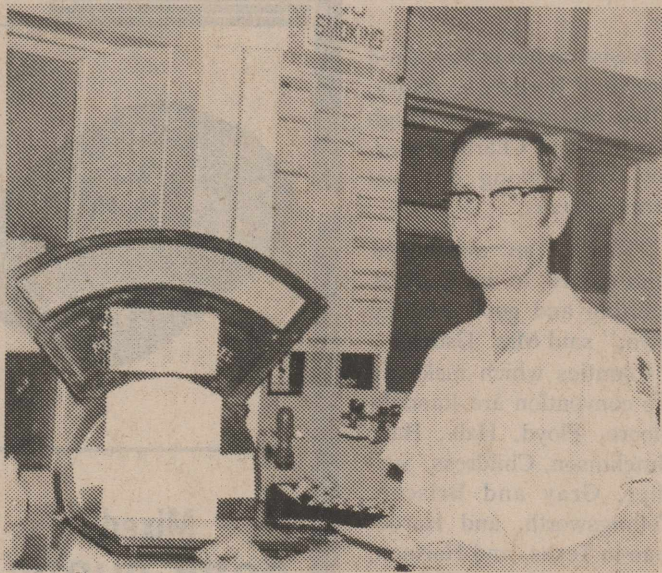

Eight years later, in 1946, the late R.F. Curry, postmaster, stopped him one day:

"I came in the Post Office to get my mail. Mr. Curry motioned me in to his office," Derryberry recalled Friday. "How would you like to work for the Postal Service? Let me know by Sunday morning," he told me.

Derryberry had not applied for this job and he remembers that in fact, he held in his hand a letter he had just taken from his box. The late Bud Manzer was inviting him to come to Wellington State Bank for a job interview. He had applied for that job, along with several others in town. But he wasn't considering it, either.

In the meantime, Derryberry had been accepted for the Texas Highway Patrol School at Austin and was planning to enroll.

He looked at what the postal service had to offer, and when R.F. Curry came to his home the following Sunday morning after their talk, Derryberry said "yes."

The next day, in August 1946, he began work for the U.S. Postal Service.

Since the schoolboy discussion, the Great Depression had ended and World War II had been fought.

On the 35th Anniversary of his beginning work, Derryberry was awarded his 35-year service pin denoting that period of service to the Postal Department. The presentation was made by the present postmaster, L.B. Bratten.

Credited to this are his additional 4 year, 9 months and two days of military service and a year of sick leave he has not taken, which brings his tenure to almost 40 years.

Except for work in grocery stores before he went to the Army, it is the only job he has held.

"I was in the first draft of men from Collingsworth County. I had volunteered to go," says Derryberry. He was assigned directly to Texas 36th Division and went overseas with the unit and into fighting in North Africa.

He went with it through France, Italy and Germany.

However, he missed the invasion of Southern France, for he had been wounded and was in a military hospital.

He rejoined the 36th and was fighting with it in Alsace-Lorraine when he received the battlefield commission of second lieutenant on January 19, 1945.

In October, 1945, he came home, having been in action more than 24 months.

"I had spent 282 days within rifle range of the enemy," he remembers.

From his military experience, Derryberry received the Purple Heart and a Bronze Star for gallantry in action.

Then, approximately 20 years later, surprised Milburn Derryberry was awarded the Oak Leaf Cluster to the Bronze Star (the equivalent of a second Bronze Star.) Somewhere in the vastness of the Pentagon, his recommendation for this decoration had become lost. As a second lieutenant, he remained in the Army Reserve 12 years, commuting to Amarillo for drills, until it began to interfere with his work.

Derryberry has only praise for the Postal Service and the people he has worked with. "We've had a real good group. Real good," he comments.

Derryberry, the son of Mr. Alvis Derryberry and the late Mrs. Derryberry, was born at Dexter, Cook County, and the family moved to Wellington when he was 8.

He is a member and past commander of Frank King Post, American Legion and a member of Disabled American Veterans, and the Chamber of Commerce.

A member and deacon of First Baptist Church, he was a Sunday School director five years.

He married Betty Stockton, January 2, 1946, and they have one daughter, Beth.

A.L. Robinson, Quail Farmer, Dies Aug. 21

A.L. Robinson, 89, of Quail, who had lived in Collingsworth County for 71 years, died Friday, August 21, in Thomas Nursing Center, where he had been a patient 10 days. He had been ill four weeks.

He retired from farming in 1965.

Funeral services were conducted at Quail Baptist Church Monday, August 24, at 10 a.m. with the Rev. Jeff Messer, a former pastor now of 11th Street Baptist Church, Shamrock, and the Rev. Elvis Pitts, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Quail Cemetery under the direction of Guy Owens Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were Bennie Carson, Loyd Langley, Cary Don Neeley, Jerol Morris, Delbert White and Ross Oatman. Honorary pall bearers were Orbie Hartman, George Scott, Paul Fielding, Monty Mitchell, Dick Campbell and Ople White.

Arthur Loston Robinson was born January 14, 1892, at Alexandria, DeKalb County, Tennessee and was the son of the late John William and Mollie Vandergriff Robinson.

He moved with his family from Tennessee to Collin County in 1902, and to Castro County in 1906, where he worked as a cowboy with his father on a ranch. They came to Quail in 1911.

He had taken an active part in community life of the Quail area all of his adult life.

He was married to Miss Emmie Boyett on March 5, 1916 in Collingsworth County.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Emmie Robinson; 5 sons, Arthur E. Robinson and Jess L. Robinson of Hereford, Cleo Robinson of Amarillo, Leroy Robinson of Fritch, and C.W. Robinson of Canyon; four daughters, Mrs. Eunice Mathis of Goldsmith, Mrs. Mary Louise Owen of Lubbock, Mrs. Olene Jett of Wellington and Mrs. Shirley Brown of Amarillo; one brother, Ervie Robinson of Perryton and two sisters, Mrs. Dollie Holscher of Honey Grove, Kansas, and Mrs. Lillie Thomason of Mesquite; 28 grandchildren and 32 great grandchildren.

One son, Leo Robinson, died in 1918.

Member-Guest Tournament Set

As many as 60 teams are due to play in the Wellington Country Club member-guest golf tournament to be held Saturday and Sunday, August 29 and 30. Club pro Randy Cole estimated this week.

Guest players will come from as far away as Ft. Worth and Rio Rancho, N.M. (Albuquerque).

Nearer home, players are already signed up from Childress, Shamrock, Wheeler, McLean, Memphis, Quanah, Lubbock, Amarillo and Borger.

Tee off time both days will be 8:30 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Hopefully, there will be 5 flights, championship, first, second, third and fourth, Cole said.

"We're trying real hard out here," the pro declared. "We have one of the better golf courses in this area, including all of those around the lower Panhandle and the course at Quartz Mountain State Park.

None of them comes close to ours."

Cole credits the weather with much of this, since it has been an exceptional year for moisture and perfect for the club's bent grass course.

But Floyd Bailey, a former Wellington man now living in Rio Rancho, N.M. recently called the course "in super shape," and wished "everyone realized the work that has gone into it."

A barbecue with home grown watermelons will be served Saturday night.

"This will be the "most fun" tournament we've had," says Cole. "Our members are here for a good time." He explained that in a member-guest tournament, each team consists of one club member and his invited guest. Two members cannot make up a team.

"We need for members who haven't signed up to get their guest and sign up," the pro urged.

Cole also said that any person not a member who would like to play should contact him at the country club and a member will be found to be his partner. Anyone wanting other information should also call Cole, 447-5050.

"We're getting a lot of players out here, and a lot more green fee players from out of town," Cole said. "Word is getting around about the condition of our course and it's getting more people from other towns interested."

Members of the tournament committee are Steve and Katy Davis, Bill and Ann Long, Gary and Linda Brewer and Cole.

CJC Course Enrollment Here Sept. 2

Enrollment for the two courses to be offered in Wellington by Clarendon Junior College will be on Wednesday, September 2, at 6:30 p.m. in Wellington Elementary School, reminds Mrs. Wanda Cardwell.

Those coming should enter through the north door, into the administrative area of the building.

The courses will include child psychology, which Mrs. Cardwell will teach, and conversational Spanish.

Those interested in additional information may call Mrs. Cardwell at Wellington Junior High, during school hours.

City Receives $14,089 Rebate

The City of Wellington has received a check for $14,089.54 in payment of the city sales tax for the period ending August 9, according to an announcement from the office of Bob Bullock, state comptroller.

This is up from $8,392.78, the payment for a comparable period a year ago.

Payments for 1981 to date total $50,294.57, up 2.06% from the 1980 payments for the comparable period, which were $49,279.06.

Bullock said the August payment includes quarterly payments from merchants and businesses for the year's second quarter.

Wellington's sales tax rebate goes into the city's operating budget, and without these, the sum would have to be raised in some other manner.

Youngster Is Veteran Fiddler at Age of 4

By BOB BANTA
Austin American-Statesman
LLANO, Texas (AP) — A gold medal, a plaque and $30 is not a bad start in the music business, especially when you're 4 years old and have to have someone hold the microphone at ground level while you fiddle.

Jason James has been sawing catgut since he was 3 and already has made appearances at the recent Llano Old Time Fiddlers Contest and other events.

The $30, which is safely tucked away in his piggy bank, was for the fifth place he won in the Llano fiddlers' battle in the age 0-17 division.

"I'm going to buy something with it," said Jason, who, after a little coaxing, revealed that it will be used to purchase equipment "to build a go-cart that my daddy's going to make for me."

Jason inherited his love for the fiddle from his grandfather.

Tilmon Harlow, who has been playing since 1935. He gathers the family every month or so at his home, where they break out the instruments and play for fun.

Jason's father, Jesse James, who raises turkeys and hogs on a ranch northeast of Llano, said Jason had begun showing an interest in music during the family get-togethers.

"When Jason was 2, he would pick up a fiddle and start playing around with it every time we finished," he said. "And he had a harmonica that he nearly wore out from blowing on it, so we decided he needed lessons."

Lessons meant a 200-mile round trip to Austin every week with his mother.

What makes Jason unique among other minifiddlers is that he is completely uninhibited about performing in front of people.

"I don't get scared," he said. He picked up his 12-inch violin, scaled to his size, tucked it under his chin and ran down his repertoire.

"I'll do 'Twinkle, Twinkle' fast," he announced, warming up with a solemn rendition of that old song about a star. Then he moved into one of his favorites, "Go Tell Aunt Rhody," a snappy little country piece that sets his foot to tapping on the breezy front porch of the family's two-story home.

After the last, drawn-out note of Aunt Rhody's song had faded into the hum of insects in the adjoining fields, Jason put down his fiddle to explain that:

— The gold medal he won for his performance at a festival in nearby Evant "got dirty because I wore it while I was riding on my brother's motorcycle."

— His favorite pastime is "riding the tractor and helping feed the hogs" — facts which are somewhat unrelated but need telling.

"Jason, how about playing the first part of 'Little Liza Jane'?" his father suggested.

But Jason shook his head. He was still working on the first part of "Little Liza Jane" and is not ready to go public with that venerable folk song.

OVERCOMING HEARING LOSS

Deaf people can play musical instruments. In fact, they're playing the guitar, trumpet, flute, piano, drums, oboe and organ at Rochester Institute of Technology (RIT).

The National Technical Institute for the Deaf (NTID) at RIT is sponsoring the first full-scale college music program for deaf people in the country. More than 350 deaf students are now playing musical instruments.

Why would deaf students want to play music?

NTID Music Consultant Bob Mowers says, "We find most students have some residual hearing. There may be some distortion and a reduced volume at certain frequency levels, but they do hear something. And if what that student hears is enjoyable, that's all we need to develop musical skills."

Mowers says one of the reasons the students have so much incentive to play is that many of them have been told earlier that they couldn't play.

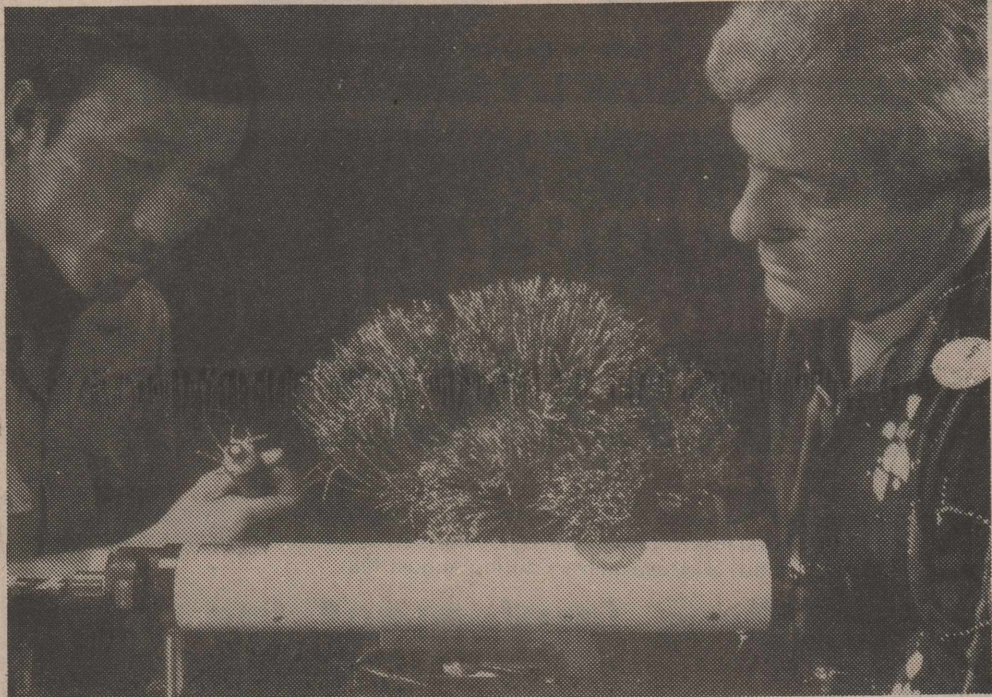

"All their lives, they've been excluded from such things, so they really try harder," he explains. "I believe they also get a great sense of accomplishment."

About 40 deaf students enter the program each quarter. Four students now enjoy their music so much that they've formed a disco/jazz combo group with members playing saxophone, piano, guitar and drums. Three of the deaf students played for Lady Bird Johnson at her recent visit to RIT, and the combo is now planning performances for Rochester-area functions.

NTID at RIT is the world's largest technological college for the deaf. Created by Congress and funded by the U.S. Department of Education, it represents the world's first effort to educate large numbers of deaf students within a college campus planned primarily for hearing students. Together with 9,000 hearing students, nearly 1,000 college-age deaf students from 49 states and Puerto Rico study and reside on the campus of Rochester Institute of Technology.

The 28th Langley Annual Reunion was held August 14, 15 and 16, at the Langley Reunion grounds 11 miles west of Wellington on the Memphis highway, with 153 relatives and 21 visitors. Eight states were represented.

As usual the crowd started gathering on Thursday night, and they were greeted by our usual rain storm. We received over an inch of rain in a very short period of time, but as a whole the weather was perfect for our reunion.

The time was spent visiting, picture taking and our usual games of Wahoo, bridge, dominoes and horse-shoe pitching.

After the evening meal, the drawing was held for the lucky number on a "Round the World" quilt and it was won by Mrs. Bobby (Connie) Haven of Clarendon, another number was drawn for a crocheted bath mat.

Our business meeting was held after supper and Bill Langley was elected for president, succeeding Hoyt Langley of Paris, who had served for the past year. Pam Neeley was retained as secretary and treasurer for another year. The new trustee is Benny Carson, replacing Danny Gray who had served for three years.

Allsup's Support MD Campaign

Some 21,000 member stores of the National Association of Convenience Stores (NACS) are kicking off their second coast-to-coast campaign to support the Muscular Dystrophy Association. The cooperative community relations effort, which will see collection canisters placed on counter-tops across the nation, is being conducted from now through Labor Day. In Wellington, these are Allsup's No. 1 and No. 2.

The NACS campaign, "Your Change Is the Key to the Cure", was a huge success in 1980 and will be repeated in 1981. NACS members' stores expect to create strong interest in this in-store canister program by combining it with special fund raising events in which the public can participate.

In the Panhandle area, Allsup's, Circle K Food Stores, 7-11 Stores, Handy Hut, and Love's will take part and more stores are joining the program daily. Local store representatives will be eligible to present contributions raised by their stores on KFDD, Channel 10 in Amarillo, one of the 200 television stations carrying the 1981 Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Labor Day Telethon.

Phipps Attend Annual Monk Family Reunion

The 25th annual reunion of the family of the late Charles M. and Myra L. Monk was celebrated recently by 48 relatives and friends who gathered for the weekend at Mountain Harbor Resort near Hot Springs, Arkansas.

Five of the six living children, 11 grandchildren, and 16 great-grandchildren, together with spouses and friends, enjoyed the many activities of the weekend.

Highlights of the occasion included a commemoration dinner hosted by E.C. and Leora Caudle, Bob and Jean Smith, and Marvin and Mary Ann Graham. Mistress of ceremonies Jean Smith, presented perfect attendance awards to the Caudles, Ruth Phipps of Wellington and Opal Avery, as well as awards for other special contributions. A gift from the Smiths and Grahams for each member of the family was a keepsake calendar with the family trees of individual families and special dates, births, marriages, deaths, all noted on the calendar.

Occasionally you will hear someone refer to the time when Collingsworth County had 41 school districts in contrast to the two it has now. Goat Hopper has come up with the list and here it is, along with the district number.

1-Wellington, 2-Aberdeen, 3-Buck Creek, 4-Dozier, 5-Fresno, 6-Lutie, 7-County Line, 8-Elm Creek, 9-Marella, 10-Dodsonville (Dodson), 11-Rolla, 12-Shinners, 13-Enterprise, 14-Quail (later changed to No. 4), 15-Kelley, 16-Bear Hill, 17-Plymouth, 18-Salt Fork, 19-Lillie, 20-Prairie View, 21-Houselog, 22-Ring, 23-Pleasant Hill, 24-Ella, 25-China Grove, 26-Cottonwood, 27-Needwood, 28-

Lone Mound, 29-Abra, 30-Bowen or Midway, 31-Cross Roads, 32-Kesler, 33-Hackberry, 34-Wilnuc, 35-King, 36-Roundup, 37-Swearingen, 38-Pleasant Point, 39-Indian Creek or Seale, 40-Nicholson, and 41-Pleasant Mound.

All of these were in operation at one time. There were a number of other schools that were established in the county in its earliest years but most of these lasted only a few years.

You can use a crickett as a thermometer. Count the number of chirps in 15 seconds and add 37. The result will approximate the Fahrenheit temperature.
