Moore... ABOUT EASTLAND

by Virgil E. Moore

Four year old Debbie Dickey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dickey, and her big sister, Linda, were going settled to their bed the other night when Debbie noticed that her pillow was quite a bit smaller than Linda's. She was puzzled and asked, "Nannie, will my pillow ever grow big like yours?"

Norman Wright spent his entire column Thursday trying to convince the people of Ranger that we had placed shame on the back of that city.

We said Tuesday we had finished this year's feud, but we can't help but add this: Norman, old buddy, there's just one thing bothering you. You can dish it out—but good—but just can't take it, fellow!

And a letter from Lee Harr, former editor of The Ranger Times comes from San Marcos. Lee is news editor of that prize winning South Texas weekly newspaper. He wrote, "I hope that you are pleased with yourself. Instilling this idea of sevep. I started to come up Friday night for the game, but now I'm sure glad that I didn't. Couldn't have put up with you, I know. Started to send you a telegram called Saturday morning, but was afraid that you wouldn't bail it out. After following your stories and scores—especially the comparison of the Eastland-DeLeon and Ranger-DeLeon games, I was sure surprised and needless to say, disappointed. So I'm like 4000 people over there at Ranger, huh?"

Last week was National Newspaper Week and we let it go without a word. That's usually the way it is with newspapers, praise everything but their own product. But we are gonna do just a bit of bragging. Eastland, Ranger and Cisco as far as we can find out, are the smallest cities in the world to have tri-weekly newspapers. We mentioned San Marcos a minute ago. That city has a population of 14,500 and has one newspaper which publishes once a week. Outside of Eastland County you cannot find a town the size of Eastland which has a semi-weekly newspaper, much less a tri-weekly. We are far from pleased with the Telegram. There's lots we could do to improve it. You could help by shooting more news our way, or maybe a little old ad now and then. But just remember this one fact would help. In an average eight page issue there are 10,752 lines. There are about five words to a line, or 35 letters. Therefore there are 575,320 chances for the typesetter to the blunders the writers make. If you don't think that's a rough situation just sit down and type everything that appears in the Telegram one day. And remember you just have 16 hours to do it in!

Says Les Strawn: "You forgot one seven Virgil. It's exactly seven miles from the Ranger City limits to Maverick Stadium."

Heard Larry McGraw giving one of his top sales talks the other day: "And when you push this button," he said, "the date of the next payment appears in red on the dial below."

Charles Freyschlag passed this our way: "My grandpa notes the world's worn cogs. And says we're going to the dogs."

City Pledges More Help For Fire Dept.

Members of the Eastland Volunteer Fire Department took their troubles before the Eastland City Commission Thursday night and left with promises from the city that the City would strengthen the department.

Fire Chief Billy Jack Johnson, Assistant Chief Guy Robinson and Wayne Jackson served as spokesmen for the Volunteers.

The fire fighters asked for two things: (1) A supply of new fire hose, and (2) a new fire truck to fight rural fires. They ended up with a promise from the commissioners that the City would order 500 feet of inch and a half hose and 500 feet of 2 1/2 inch hose. That's about $1400 worth. Commissioners also pledged themselves to work towards getting the new truck.

Volunteers asked that the City take the $50 a month which the county now pays for rural fire fighting and apply it on the purchase of a new truck. No definite commitment was made by the City, but commissioners told the volunteers they would do everything in their power to get a new truck. City Manager Jimmy Young told a Telegram reporter money paid by the county has been used to defray costs of fighting rural fires. He said equipment repair is always high.

Shortage of money was the

Eastland Man's Father Buried In Fort Worth

Funeral services for Earnest I. Mayfield, father of Roy Mayfield of Eastland, were held at 2 p.m. Thursday in Fort Worth.

Mr. Mayfield died Tuesday after a lengthy illness. He was 71. Burial was held in Greenwood Cemetery in Fort Worth.

Survivors include his wife; three sons, Roy, Robert of Fort Worth and Ralph of Yuma, Ariz.; one brother, Mack of Pasadena, Calif.; one sister, M. Ruth Johnson of Bellingham, Wash.; and two grandchildren.

Attending the funeral from Eastland were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mayfield, Mr. and Mrs. Hood King and Mrs. Charles Jackson.

Rev. Floyd E. Fevers of Fort Worth presided over the service. Harverson and Cole Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Jim Beard appeared before the Commission and asked that the City do something about water pressure in some south sections of the city. Young estimated it would cost $6000 to do the work Beard requested. Commissioners gave little hope that the work would be done.

Commissioners voted to give priority in the future to paving jobs in the City where curb and gutter will also be put down. They said they hoped no more paving would be done unless curb and gutter was also put down.

Traffic Ordinance

The four month old traffic ordinance problem came up again, but was left where it has been most of that time—tabled. Commissioner Virgil Seaberry Jr. immediately attempted to amend the ordinance when it came up for a vote. The ordinance is one which would regulate speed on Highway 6 and Highway 80 through the City. The speeds were recommended by the State.

Seaberry is opposed to speeds set up for Highway 6, saying they're too high. He tried to amend the ordinance and lower the speeds, but couldn't get a second for his motion.

Then Commissioner Jack Germany made a motion the ordinance be approved as is. He couldn't get

Early Growth of Cisco Is Outlined by Writer

(Editor's Note: This is 27th in a series of articles taken from the book, "History of Eastland County, Texas," written by Mrs. George Langston in 1904.)

Cisco Begins to Grow

Mrs. Haws began the building of her hotel, which was blown down in a furious gale, but immediately replaced before the sale of lots, and managed the same until her death in 1890. The Majestic, standing near where Hall's wagon yard is, was kept by Mr. Hoddinger, W. D. Chandler had a boarding house where the Broadway now stands, and Mrs. Parker kept a private boarding.

Shortly before the sale of lots took place a large number of Miller's cowboys came into town and created great consternation among the tent dwellers, as they exercised great freedom in the use of their pistols, so much so, in fact, that the constables of both Cisco and Eastland City, together with the men summoned to assist, were all night long (in some safe place) devising means for their capture. They made two more arrests next day, and this is no reflection on the courage of Constable Alex Smerl, either.

The first bill of lumber sold in Cisco was to Horace Donaldson, who built the first residence on the lot now occupied by Moody's blacksmith shop. About the same time W. D. Chandler, T. M. Taylor, W. A. Stevens and others were building homes, and J. K. Miller, Ed Epler, L. Lamb, B. F. Jones & Son, and Mr. McCormick were the carpenters.

Gray Matter

At the time I hit the Canadian border this August the Canadian dollar was at its all time peak with relation to the American dollar. As of August 31, the Canadian dollar stood at $1.06 American. This is to the disadvantage of the American tourist, but that isn't all that makes the American a little peeved at traveling in Canada this summer.

Everything one has to buy is higher in Canada than it is in the United States. Even if one used Canadian dollars it's still too high. Gasoline, of course, is out of reason as soon as one gets out of Texas. I spent as much as 41c a gallon for gasoline a lot of places this summer. As a matter of fact the only place on the entire trip that I got it for less than 30c a gallon was in Seattle, Wash., where they were at that time having a localized price war. In Canada the price was, in most places, 40-odd cents. That, however, isn't as bad as it sounds at first blush. The Canadians use the British Imperial gallon, which is larger than ours. There is 277.274 cubic inches by volume; ours is 231 cubic inches.

But in the grocery store cane sugar sells for $1.19 a pound in a grocery chain that has stores both in the United States and Canada. And the same necktie that sells for 2.50 in Vancouver, British Columbia, sells in the same company's store in Seattle for 1.50.

And this isn't all. Almost everything one buys in British Columbia is subject to a five percent sales tax.

I walked into a drug store in downtown Vancouver to buy a roll of Eastman color film for a 35 mm camera. In this country I've found in the past that I can buy this film for from 1.44 for a 20-exposure roll to $2, depending on where one buys it. The price quoted in this drug store was $2.40. I handed the man an American five-dollar bill. He then said there would be 12 cents tax (5 percent) on the sales price and 30 cents premium on my five dollars. That made the roll of film come to $2.22. At this point I asked him to hand me my five dollars and let's forget the whole thing.

I'm willing to pay a fair price for a piece of merchandise. I expect to pay a little more when I'm traveling than I pay at home for the simple reason that I don't know where the bargains are.

when I'm in strange territory, but I don't intend to pay that kind of tribute to anyone.

To start with the Canadian price on this type of merchandise is entirely too high; it's beyond reason. And five percent is too much of a sales tax to make the purchaser pay at the time of purchase. And, if the Canadians can't take that dollar of theirs and put it in proper ratio with the American dollar, they've seen the last of me as a tourist.

From the rate of exchange on Canadian money, one would think that Canada is really bursting over with prosperity. It is if you consider a dollar an hour as a good wage and are willing to take a dollar so earned, put it with 65 more and buy a good 35 dollar suit with it.

Everything I can find in Canada is higher than a scared cat's back, except wages. Frankly I don't know what the rank and file Canadian does for a living. I don't see how he lives off of what he makes and as one walks around one of the larger cities of Canada late in the afternoon one begins to understand what the economists mean when they speak of the American standard of living.

Canada has the second highest standard of living in the world today, exceeded only by the United States. But you'll find more expensive pants, more seedy suits and more people needing haircuts walking around in one block of Vancouver, British Columbia, than you'll find in all of Fort Worth.

Hollis Shines, But Line Outcharged

Eastland's Mavericks took advantage of the breaks and made good use of the breakaway running of Larry Hollis and the hard charging of Saul Pullman to rack up a 33-19 victory over the fighting Gorman Panthers Friday night in a non-district clash played in Gorman.

The Mavs, looking for an easy win from their neighbors to the south, got more than they bargained for. At halftime the boys wearing the red and black left the stadium with a slim one point lead and they were lucky to have that.

Gorman fumbled the first four times they got the ball, killing three drives and setting up Eastland's first touchdown. The Panthers displayed a hard-to-handle ground game, but didn't have any passing attack to go with it. In John Brinegar, Gorman has a sophomore sensation. The 15-year-old Panther back ripped the Mav line to pieces time after time.

Eastland couldn't move the ball the first time they got the ball, but Clinton (Button) Humphrey got off a beautiful 49 yard punt to the Gorman 19. Then on first down the Panthers fumbled and a Mav linebacker, Joe Martin, pounced on the ball on the 19. Bill Norwood ripped off five yards to the 13, then Hollis carried to the eight. From there Norwood took a fitchout and raced wide to the right for the tally. Kenneth Watson converted to put Eastland ahead, 7-0.

Gorman marched 77 yards to tie the score in the second period. With Brinegar and Eddie Gregg, the Panther speed demon, dividing time, Gorman marched to the Eastland 14 yard line in 10 plays. Then James Whitlock and Quarter back Delbert Smith got four to the 10, Gregg carried to the 10 and Brinegar raced to the one. From there Gregg went over. Brinegar then ran over the extra point.

Late in the second quarter Eastland scored again. This time the Mavs marched 73 yards in just seven plays. Pullman, coming back into the game after an early injury had sidetracked him, got 25 yards on first down, moving to the 48. Then Norwood went to the 49 and Pullman ripped off 29 more yards to the 20. Hollis and Norwood took it to the 13, then Pullman went to the nine. From there, Humphrey passed to Hollis for the score. Watson converted to make it 14-7, Eastland.

With seconds left on the clock the Mavs kicked off. On first down Smith passed incomplete. Then Gregg tucked in the ball, and as time ran out in the first half, scooted 55 yards for another Gorman score. The extra point try was no good and the half ended with Eastland ahead, 14-13.

Eastland got a quick score in the third period, driving 74 yards. Hollis did most of the damage on this drive, getting runs of 27, 21 and six. Norwood contributed a 12 yard run to take the ball to the one, from which point Joe Martin, running the fullback slot, went over. Watson's kick was blocked.

Gorman again pulled within winning range in the fourth period. This time the Panthers marched 65 yards in 18 plays with Gregg going over on a beauty of a play from the 10. Smith faked to Brinegar on the play and the Mavs smothered him, but failed to note that the Panther quarterback had given the ball to his halfback. The try from placement was no good and Eastland held a final quarter 20-19 lead over the Gorman eleven—a team they were picked to beat by four touchdowns.

The sluggish Mavs used Hollis to rip the game wide open. It took the Mavs just seven plays to score again after the Panther tally. Hollis went over from the one after setting up the TD with a 50-yard scamper to the 17. Pullman went to the eight, Norwood carried to the two and Hollis took it one before scoring. Watson's extra point try was good.

Knicky Arther intercepted a Gorman aerial five plays later on the Gorman 43, and Eastland needed but three plays to score and ice the game away. Humphrey lost seven on the first try, but then went back and heaved a 48 yard pass to end Charles Thompson. Thompson carried to the two, then on first down Humphrey carried it over. Watson's kick was blocked.

The Mavs looked far from sharp against the Panthers. The Eastland line took a beating all night long, and couldn't stop the Gorman running game even with a nine man line. If Gorman had had a passing attack to go with their ground game, Eastland might be

Eastland County Pays Respect to Oil Men

Eastland this week joins Texans from all over the state to pay praise to the oil men of Texas. This is Oil Progress Week.

And a county as rich in oil history as Eastland County should have a lot of praise for the oil man. Mention Eastland to anyone and he immediately thinks of oil. Oil made this city and this county and today it does far more to keep it alive than the average person realizes.

Actually Oil Progress Week wasn't set up as a time to praise the oil man. Ten years ago the week was set aside so "the 1,650,000 men and women of the oil business could report to the nation on accomplishments to date, and on plans for the future."

Eastland County in the past year has had more oil activity than it has had in years. At least one major oil field discovery has been made in the past 12 months and many new oil wells have been brought in.

Oil was discovered in Eastland County back in 1917. Since that time approximately 115,000,000 barrels of crude oil has been produced. In the past year production was near 1,000,000 barrels.

Texas would have to hunt somewhere else for most of its tax money if the oil business wasn't here. For instance, in the past year oil and gas taxes provided 45 percent of the state funds spent for public education and 36 percent of the state cost of higher education.

Oil men paid $200,000,000 in State taxes in 1956. This was 33 percent of all taxes and 69 percent of those paid on businesses and property.

The oil business, indeed, is a big business. But it's a business where there's room for the small operator.

Oil production in Texas during the past year totaled 1,111,172,000 barrels, or 43 percent of the total production in the U. S.

The state has 18.2 billion barrels of oil reserves, or 50 percent of those known in the U. S.

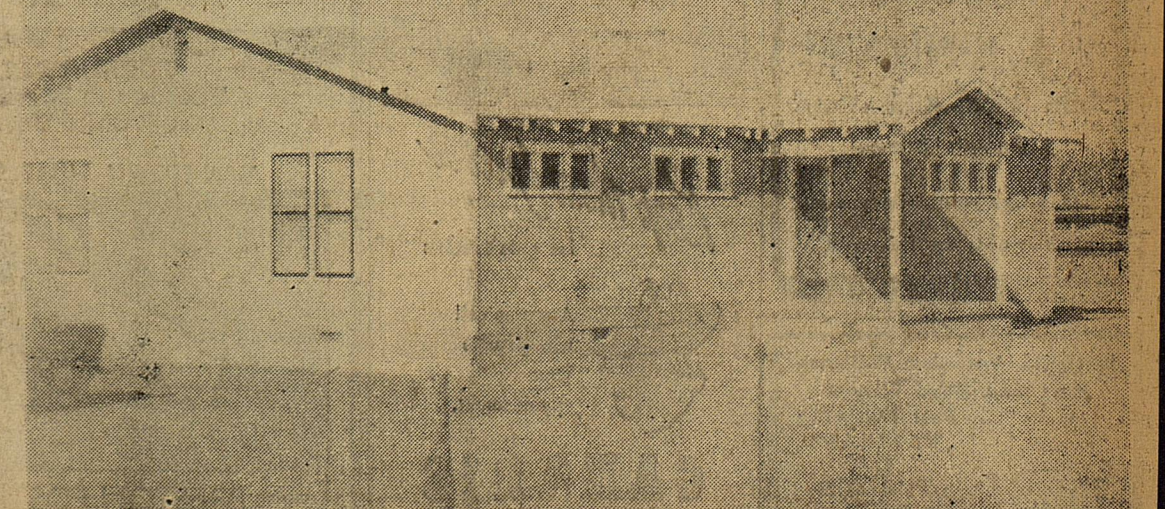

A total of 21,519 wells were drilled in Texas in 1956 and 60 million acres of land is now under lease. One out of every six dollars paid Texas employees goes to a second either. Mayor Horace Horton, who can't make or second a motion, expressed favor of the ordinance. Commissioners Bob Perkins wouldn't vote either way. Horton then called for a motion to table the ordinance "until Cyrus Frost is with us." Commissioner Frost was absent from the meeting.

No Action

And no action report was given on work on the City ordinance by Manager Young and Commissioner Seaberry. Seaberry is to work on codifying all ordinances, but said he couldn't do the work until City workers type up all old ordinances. Young said his staff had been too busy on taxes and other work.

Young said he would have the City budget prepared by the next meeting.

Horton reported that the City has not as yet filed any delinquent tax suits on personal taxes in Small Claims Court, but said the City is now ready. A look at the September financial report shows that $28,328.51 is now owed the City in back taxes. Most of that Mayor Horton said, is personal taxes.

and numbers of fish to be placed in a pond: (1) If the pond is less than one surface acre in size, the landowner may request bass and blue gill or bass and red ear in combination or he may request channel cat alone, (2) if the farm pond is over one surface acre, the landowner may request channel cat in combination with bass, blue gill or bass and redear. Blue gill and redear are both used to furnish fingerlings for bass to feed on and the hatchery will furnish the one available to them for stocking. Landowners need to study the above possible stockings and request accordingly. It is too late to change the application for kinds of fish after the fish truck has been loaded to meet definite deliveries per consolidation of individual requests for an area.

Hornbeck stated that due to the widespread rains this spring, fish requests have been made in record numbers and for this reason the hatchery is now out of bass and has been since late July of this year. Many local landowners had requests in for bass and redear fish but due to the above situation no bass were delivered. Hornbeck has these applications and will make bass deliveries as soon as they are available to him. Many landowners who stocked ponds several years ago are reporting some excellent catches, representing a nice outing and a good fish fry.

Two Men Who Hated Each Other's Guits!

WE SALUTE
EASTLAND COUNTY
OIL MEN DURING

OIL PROGRESS WEEK

(October 13th-19th)

PRIVATE EYES IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST!

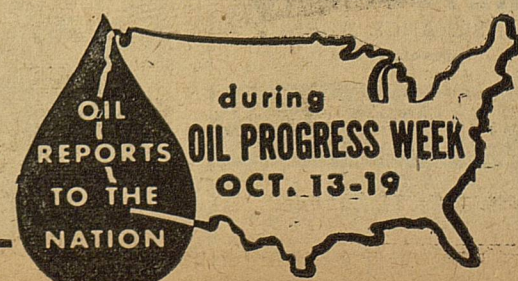

Believe it or not . . . today there are thousands of detectives on the trail of better products for you. These detectives are American oilmen trying to find the elusive oil that hides miles beneath the surface of the earth.

And it's a risky business. Yet their search goes on and you benefit by it. Because new and better oil products are your keys to greater comfort, convenience and economy.

That's why you'll always find "private eyes" searching for oil in the public interest. This is how oilmen, serve you as a good neighbor. Another of the benefits you get from oil—industry of people, products and progress!

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Marceil Underwood and Laminack

Wedding vows were exchanged by Marceil Underwood and Donald (Don) W. Laminack in the Church of Christ in Gorman Friday evening, Sept. 27 at 6:30.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Underwood of Route 2, Gorman. Parents of the bridegroom are the late Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Laminack.

Milton Underwood officiated at the ceremony amid baskets of white gladioli and blue carnations.

Kathy Underwood, sister of the bride, attended the bride as bride's maid. She wore a light blue brocaded taffeta, street length dress with a taffeta fitted jacket. She carried a bouquet of white camellias.

Sue Underwood, cousin of the bride, wore a light blue brocaded taffeta dress with three quarter length sleeves and full skirt.

Freddie Rogers of Gorman was the best man. Vance Laminack, brother of the bridegroom, was ring bearer. Ushers were Billy Earl Simpson and Jackie Don Wheeler.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown styled with a V neckline, lace bodice and long pointed sleeves. The dress was styled with a full satin skirt covered with nylon net.

Her finger tip veil of nylon net was attached to a head band of white flowers. The tradition of something old, something new, something blue and something borrowed was carried out by the bride. She carried a white Bible topped with a gardenia bouquet.

Luke Palmer, Tom Dunn, Jessie Lee Eison, Zenna Simpson, Earnestine Todd, Stella Thurman and Mrs. Rankin, all of Gorman, sang "I Love You Truly," "Tell Me Why," and "Here Comes the Bride." Maxine Stacy of Carbon sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Underwood chose a light blue suit for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Timmons, grandmother of the bridegroom, wore a black silk dress.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held in the parsonage of the Church of Christ. The bride's table held a three tiered wedding cake and an arrangement of blue carnations. The table was laid with a white lace cloth over blue.

Linda Laminack and Dianna Rodgers ladeled punch while Mrs. L. S. Crawford served the cake to about 85 guests.

Mrs. Laminack wore a light blue two piece dress for the wedding trip. After the trip the couple will make their home on the Laminack farm near Gorman.

Mrs. Laminack was a senior of Carbon High School. Laminack is a graduate of Gorman High School.

Church Vows Unite Miss Kay Squires and Lowell E. Herring

The wedding of Miss Mary Kay Squires, daughter of Mrs. Warren C. Squires, 2209 Tenth Street, and Lowell E. Herring, son of Mrs. Milton P. Herring and the late Milton P. Herring of Eastland was solemnized at 7 p.m. Saturday night, Sept. 28, in Mackenzie Park Church of Christ in Lubbock.

The church was decorated with chrysanthemums, palms and candles.

Dr. J. J. Coats of Monahans, brother-in-law of the bride was officiant. Preceding the double ring service, the Broadway Church of Christ Wedding Chorus sang "Because," "Pledge My Love," "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Gowned in an original model of white French lace and nylon tulle over net and satin, the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Bill Squires of Denver, Colo. Designed with a portrait neckline framed by scalloped lace, the bodice of a sheer yoke enhanced by embroidered lace and long tapered sleeves. The fully skirted tulle skirt, over-shadowing a net skirt, was encircled with a lace extending into points.

The brides silk illusion veil was secured by a tiara-type cap of seed pearls. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of gardenias and stephanotis with white velvet and pearl leaves.

Miss Joyce Earp of Lubbock attended as maid of honor and Misses Pat Crews and Juenetta Henderson, both of Lubbock, were bridesmaids. Their waltz-length frocks of turquoise nylon chiffon over net and taffeta were identically styled with portrait necklines framed by chiffon draped in a cowl effect and elongated bodices. They wore headbands of velvet cording and carried crescent bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums.

Cindy Kay Squires of Denver, Colorado, and Tina Herring of Lubbock, nieces of the bride and bridegroom, respectively, were flower girls.

Murray Herring of Midland served his brother as best man and Brooks Herring of Lubbock, also the bridegroom's brother, and James Pollard of Post, his brother-in-law, were groomsmen. Completing the wedding party were Hugh Shrader of Odessa and Ernest Sneed of Lubbock, who ushered guests and lighted candles.

The Lubbock home of Dr. and Mrs. Kline Nall was the scene of the ensuing reception. Mrs. Brooks Herring of Lubbock, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, registered guests and Miss Naneska Nall of Lubbock played piano selections.

The chosen wedding colors bronze and turquoise, were further carried out in reception decoration. The serving table held a cake, silver punch service and turquoise tapers. Mrs. J. J. Coats of Monahans, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Bill Squires of Denver, Colo., her sister-in-law, presided at the table.

Other members of the house party were Miss Ha Junde Chandler, cousin of the bride from Amarillo; Miss Betty Stewart of Lubbock; and Mmes. James Swafford, George Hughes, George Callvert, Kline Nall, Arthur B. Watkins, Herbert Griffith and Aubrey Daniel, all of Lubbock.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Monahans where Herring is employed with Lane Wells. His bride traveled in a light weight black wool suit with Dior blue and black suede accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Herring both attended Texas Tech. Their respective high schools are Eastland High and Lubbock High.

wells drilled in a promising area where oil has not been found before ever turns out to be a producing oil well. The other 8 are costly dry holes. Yet in spite of great odds like these, U. S. oilmen continue to find more oil than the nation uses up.

That's just one reason why all of us in America's competitive oil business take pride in the progress of our industry and in the part we play to make this progress possible.

THE WONDROUS YEARS OF OUR TIME...

Man's use of petroleum — of oil and natural gas — began before the first records of history. But petroleum's full usefulness to man has been a matter of decades only.

They have been wondrous years, those decades. Years that saw automobiles built by the millions because gasoline was available as a cheap source of power. Years that saw the oceans dwindle under the high speed of great ships powered by oil. Years that saw the evolution of a more comfortable living in homes warmed by oil and natural gas. Years that saw rubber, fibers, paints and many other useful items of everyday living produced from petroleum's hydrocarbons. Years that saw the earth shrink under the wings of the airplane, and great wars decided by the availability of oil.

Thus, the oil industry has led the way into the wondrous years of our time. The industry, through foresight, ingenuity, research, and risk-taking, has found and produced the oil required in greater quantity each year, has conserved oil for the future, has devised the transportation systems that move oil economically, has built the refineries and plants that convert crude oil and natural gas to the hundreds of useful products needed by a growing United States.

The Humble Company, founded in 1917, has participated in petroleum's progress during four great decades, and has pioneered in the development of many current techniques for finding, producing and refining oil. This week, with the industry, Humble invites you to consider the variety and extent of oil's progress... Surely no other industry has contributed more to the making of modern America.

Day of Social Activities Opens Civic League and Garden Club

A day long series of social activities opened the season for the Civic League and Garden Club Wednesday. A coffee, exhibit and lecture at the Majestic Theatre plus a luncheon and afternoon of games at the Woman's Club made the day a busy one for members.

Interesting facts, legends and historical stories about birthstones were told by guest speaker, Harry H. Schwier, gemologist from Halton's House of Diamonds in Fort Worth.

In exciting conclusion to the talk a birthstone ring was awarded as a door prize by Halton's to Mrs. Cecil Collings.

Club Meets With New Member

The Thursday Art Club met this week with their new member, Mrs. Marvin Hood, 1510 South Basset, for the first time.

It was reported that the club had a "delightful" meeting in her home where she showed them some of the paintings that she had finished some years ago.

Mrs. Hood had decorated her home with roses and coleus. She served opened face sandwiches, clives, cake, ice cream topped with strawberries and coffee.

Members present were Mmes. Homer White, W. W. Walters, Roy Lawson, Frances Urban, Ed Layton and Marvin Hood. One guest, Mrs. Mary Roop of Cisco, also attended the meeting.

When the meeting was adjourned Mrs. Urban took the group to the Church of Christ to see the painting she is finishing for the baptistry of the church. Mrs. Lawson reported that the club was "very proud of Mrs. Urban."

A decision was made by members to select as jewel of the club, the Topez stone, which Schwier described as the "Jewel of friends, symbolizing loyalty, fidelity, and integrity." The stone, which is that designated for the month of November, will harmonize colorwise with the club's colors of gold and brown.

The motion was made by Mrs. Samuel Butler.

Mrs. Art Johnson, president, presided throughout the day and introduced Schwier. Mrs. M. A. Treadwell gave the invocation.

An exhibit of stones from Halton's was on display in the foyer of the theatre where guests were served coffee preceding the lecture. Hostesses were Mrs. Johnson and members of the Yearbook Committee, Mmes. Cecil Collings, W. A. Leslie, and Ben Hammer. Aubrey Van Hoy, theatre manager, served as host.

The stage of the theatre was beautifully decorated with two enormous arrangements of Golden Glow flowers.

Mrs. James Horton was door prize winner of a turkey fryer to be given her by Kincaid Feed Store.

Hostesses for the luncheon at the Woman's Club were Mmes. T. E. Stamey, Grady Pipkin, Jack Carothers, Cyrus Frost, Jr., and T. M. Pullen.

A group of pink ceramic birds before an arrangement of Queen's wreath on the piano was the focal point of the room's decorations.

Mrs. Arthur Murrell received the door prize at the luncheon.

Mrs. B. W. Brewer was in charge of the sale of yearbooks throughout the day.

Mrs. Harris Is Speaker To FHA

Mrs. R. D. Harris, owner and operator of Dema's Beauty Box was the speaker at the meeting of the Future Homemakers of America Tuesday afternoon in the high school cafeteria.

When Mrs. Harris was asked to be on the program of the FHA meeting she said she wondered what she could bring to be of interest to the girls. She chose to tell the FHA members how to be more attractive.

To begin she said, "One's hair is one's personality and it tells whether the person is patient or impatient as well as expressing traits. It is better to keep a loose permanent than to roll the hair every night and hair should never be rolled dry."

Mrs. Harris also gave instruction for the care of the complexion and hands, and pointed to a good diet as being a real asset. Time was allowed for the girls to ask questions.

Jan Robertson, president, presided over the meeting and the minutes of the previous meeting were read by Marion Woods, secretary.

All members were present.

MRS. R. L. WRIGHT

Nelda Roth Wed To R. L. Wright

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wright, married Sunday in the Little Chapel in the Woods at Denton, will make their home at 2721 Forest Park Boulevard in Fort Worth after Oct. 16.

The bride is the former Mrs. Nelda W. Roth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Wood of Eastland. Rev. James Reed, pastor of First Christian Church in Denton, married the couple.

Mrs. Wright attended Texas Woman's University in Denton. Her husband is a graduate of TCU and SMU Law School.

'The American Family' Is Study Topic of Alpha Delphian Club

Alpha Delphian Club opened its season of meetings with an autumn tea in the Woman's Club Thursday night. Mrs. B. O. Harrell president, presided over the meeting, and issued the yearbooks.

The club has chosen as their study for the year, "The American Family". A panel discussion was given as the first program of the year. Mmes. E. K. Henderson, E. J. Turner and Floyd Robertson were members of the panel discussion. Mrs. Henderson's topic was "Is the American Family Gone or Going Strong?" Mrs. Turner spoke on "What is the effect of a Working Mother on the Family." "Who are the Delinquents, Parents or Children?" was Mrs. Robertson's topic.

Mmes. C. M. Pogue, Roy Lawson and W. W. Walters, social committee, were hostesses for the meeting. Mrs. Pogue presided over the silver tea service.

Spiced tea and homemade cookies were served from a table laid with a lace cloth.

Centering the table was a "Horn of Plenty" filled with golden rods. Arrangements of golden rods were distributed throughout the club house.

Loretta Morris Presides Over Wesleyan Guild

Wesleyan Guild of the Methodist Church met Wednesday evening at 7:30 with Miss Loretta Morris presiding. Mrs. Charles Marshall gave the devotional. The program chairman, Mrs. D. E. Frazier, in the "most delightful and inspiring manner" introduced the new Mission Study, "Christ, The Church and Race."

Mmes. Milton Day, Floyd Robertson, Joe Anderson, Thura Taylor, and Miss Loretta Morris brought parts on the program, that were later discussed at a round table discussion.

The program was closed with the ensemble singing, "In Christ There Is No East Nor West" with Mrs. Ruth Poe Herring at the piano.

Those present were Mmes. Anderson, J. M. Cooper, M. S. Dry, H. H. Durham, E. O. Everett, Charles Marshall, B. N. Robertson, Taylor Smith, Joe Stephen, Thura Taylor, Ruth Poe Herring, D. E. Frazier, Milton Day, J. C. Whatley and Miss Loretta Morris.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, Oct. 16 with Mrs. Whatley bringing the Mission Study Lesson.

SURE KLEAN NO. 404 PARAFFIN SETTLER AND REMOVER

A MESSAGE TO YOU OF THE OIL INDUSTRY

Perhaps you are faced with a paraffin problem or you may have had a paraffin problem in the past. Chances are you are interested in something that will work and not create additional problems which often occur in most types of solvents that are presently used. It is very apparent that many oil companies are becoming alarmed due to some products now in use for the removal or prevention of paraffin. They have found, in many cases, the material used has a damaging effect on certain phase of refining. Also, they have discovered that many of these materials are hazardous to their personnel and equipment.

We feel that it is very important to point out to you that Sure KLEAN NO. 404 Paraffin Settler and Remover does not contain chlorine, carbon tetra chloride, acetates, corrosive acids or sulfur. Basically Sure Klean No. 404 Paraffin Settler and Remover is made from vegetable oils and certain types of emulsifiers such as rosins.

The above explanation is the reason why this product is called a paraffin settler instead of a solvent, as it actually pulls the paraffin into a state of emulsion and retains it in this liquid status until it reaches the refinery. This is done without the usual chunks of paraffin coming loose and settling in the tank bottom or clogging the lead lines. This product has a flash point of 160 degrees Fahrenheit, thus it will go through your heaters or set in tanks on hot days without evaporation. This function is performed without corrosive effects to equipment or injury to the workmen.

This product is fully guaranteed and I am sure if you will contact us, at the address below, we can supply you with data and information pertaining to the successful use of this product.

Will we STRIKE OIL-or STRIKE OUT?

That's the question an oil company—like ours—asks itself every time it drills into the earth. Yes, drilling for oil is a risky business:

But when we do strike oil it's good news for us—and for you. It means you are assured of continuing supplies of fuel oil for heating your home, gasoline and lubricants for your car. It also means more petroleum to make the thousands of oil-based items that today help make your life more comfortable and enjoyable.

Exploring and producing is the part we play in America's progressive oil industry. Like thousands of other independent companies—large and small—we compete to supply you with the oil products you need.

Tailor Your Teen-Age Room

Tailor your teen-agers' rooms to their individual tastes, with trim decorating tricks that make cleaning easier.
Easy-care styles in window and bed covering, sturdy fabrics, and plenty of stowing places can turn a teen's room into an orderly center able to stand plenty of activity, says an article in the October issue of Better Homes & Gardens magazine.
Denim bed-covers withstand wear, are non-wrinkling, and give the teen's room a "jeans a n d shirt" look when used with gay, checked bed flounce and drapes. Fitted sheets, blankets, make bed-making easier.
Bold-striped linen bedspreads can also modernize a teen-ager's bed. For a neat decorating trick, "upholster" the old wooden headboard with the same fabric. Just tack linen over padding, and finish with a narrow band of cording on top, the magazine suggests.
Utilize corners and under-the-window spaces for bookshelves and cabinets. Make more seating areas by cushioning tops of chests, low cabinets. Next-to-the-wall storage spaces leave room for light study areas in the room.

B. L. Pate, Mr. Bunnell and family, the cyclone of 1893, J. J. Wallace, Gomer Williams, and Miles and Quitman Eppler, George Daniels and W. A. Gude.
A 16 by 20 school house was put up free of charge by B. F. Pate and Sons and J. K. Miller. In this building a Baptist minister, J. C. Fennell, taught a day school. Here, also, a union Sunday school was conducted. Mr. Chaffin, a contractor on the Texas Central Railroad, was the superintendent. At the weekly prayer meeting every Wednesday night, there was frequently not standing room, "many being turned away." This school house was used for church purposes until the different denominations erected their buildings. From time to time additions were made to the 16 x 20 school buildings, until it grew to be about 16 by 100 and was known as the "long school house." Franks Kynette, assisted by Miss Sallie Greer, now Mrs. Reed, succeeded by Dr. Stout, who did so much for the school and town. Dr. Stout might properly be called the introducer and founder of the public schools of Cisco. He came here when educational interest was chaotic in condition, and being a man of deep learning he proved himself a Joshua, leading his people into a promised land that has since blossomed and fruited many times. Judge Fleming, aided and encouraged by Dr. Stout, worked for a special tax for the enlarging of the school house and the incorporation of the school district, which at that time included four sections of land. He lived in the town long enough to see his desire accomplished. Hugh Corrigan was a warm supporter of this measure.
G. W. Graves was the first Mayor of the town and Ed Campbell, constable.
The first graduating class included Burette Patterson, Mamie Blake, Eva Winston and Laura Richardson. This was in 1888 while Charles T. Alexander was Superintendent.

Christian Science

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" will be the subject of the Lesson - Sermon at Christian Science services this Sunday.
Readings from the King James Version of the Bible will include the following from Psalms (67:1, 2): "God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us; That thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations."
From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following selections will also be read (206:26-28, 30): "Instead of God sending sickness and death, He destroys them, and brings to light immortality... God does not cause man to sin, to be sick, or to die."
The Golden Text is from Proverbs (12:28): "In the way of righteousness is life; and in the pathway thereof there is no death."

Dallas and Houston put together. In its latest census Vancouver has 344,000 people, so it isn't any great shakes of a city. But for so-called people walking around with nothing to do, it takes the cake of any I know about.

UNUSUAL HAPPENING

Mrs. J. O. Thomas of 213 South Walnut received a free package assortment of zinnia seed with a item that she purchased at Worth Food Mart some time back.
She planted them this spring and they have been blooming since the first of August. On one stalk there is a red zinnia, a white zinnia and a zinnia that is half red and half white. There was also a tomato seed in the package.

RETURNED HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCoy have returned home from visiting with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Turner and Charlene of Dallas. They also visited Mrs. McCoy's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Edwards.
