U.S. Prepares For Atlantic Alliance Talks

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The Truman administration, with powerful Republican backing, made ready today to begin crucial new talks looking toward an Atlantic alliance against expansion of Soviet power.

These discussions may possibly begin here next week.

Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg have been laboring in London seeking agreement on a draft of an agreement for submission to Secretary of State Marshall here.

Marshall told his news conference yesterday that he assumes the United States will begin discussions shortly with these countries and Canada.

When the U. S. negotiators agree with the other countries on terms of the proposed alliance, it is expected that a number of other countries will be invited to join in a full-fledged international conference to consider the question.

Whether the United States ratifies the proposed pact, and just what military aid this country will give to the other nations are questions for Congress to determine finally.

But the alliance idea drew strong support today from Rep. Eaton (R-NJ), top Republican foreign policy adviser. Eaton has been chairman of the House Foreign Affairs committee in the 80th Congress and will be ranking minority member of the committee in the new Congress.

The United States, he told reporters, should stand ready to supply arms and technical advice to friendly western European nations "if they need it and if we have it to spare."

It would be "the last calamity

HOLIDAY SEASON COMES TO CITY

Yule Decorations Turn Streets Of Lubbock Into Maze Of Color

OF THE thousands of persons who flocked to downtown streets to see this year's Christmas lights, turned on for the first time last night, none were more thrilled with what they saw than Kelly Eugene Adkison, 6, and his older brother, Robert Wayne Adkison, 8.

The two youngsters, who live with their mother at Milam's home, were on their way to a downtown picture show with an attendant of the home, and had paused to admire The Avalanche-Journal Christmas decorations.

Asked what he wanted for Christmas, Kelly Eugene replied without a moment's hesitation that he wanted a pair of boots, a gun, a cowboy scabard, and cowboy spurs.

"I don't know what all I want," Robert Wayne said, but after some thought said he wanted the same things as his brother, plus an electric train and an electric show.

At mention of which, his younger brother added to his list.

Settlement Of Both Coastal Strikes Near

(By The Associated Press)

TERMS of settlement of the West and East coast maritime strikes were agreed upon Thursday by ship owners and union officers.

In each case the settlements must be ratified by the union memberships.

The West coast strike, involving CIO longshoremen and four other unions, was in its 85th day. Settlement was announced last night between employers and the longshore union.

Earlier, in New York, an agreement was reached on the 16-day-old strike between ship owners and union officials representing 65,000 AFL longshoremen.

Wage Hike Won

The most important terms of coast agreement:

1. A 15-cent hourly wage increase, effective upon work resumption. The union had asked for 15 cents, bringing the base pay to $1.82 per hour. The employers had offered 10 cents.

2. A three-year contract to June 15, 1951.

3. Agreement to operate under a long-range peace plan.

4. National CIO underwriting of contracts.

5. Improved grievance machinery.

6. Increased vacation benefits.

7. A designated day off each week, nine hour maximum shift and an 8 a. m. starting time.

Proposed Pact Praised

Signing the joint announcement were Longshore Chief Harry Bridges, Employer Negotiators Dwight C. Steele and Colonel John Kilpatrick, and R. J. Thomas, national CIO representative.

Their announcement termed the new proposed pact "one based on complete good faith." They joined in the prediction "this contract and this new spirit can mean a new

Safes Blasted Open At Carnival Offices

Intensive Search On In West Texas; Car Stolen; Six Employes Tied Up

By BILL HAMS
Avalanche Staff Writer

WEST TEXAS law enforcement agencies were alerted Thursday night to be on the lookout for five men, armed with automatic pistols, who held up six employes of the Tommy Tidwell Carnival shows at Big Spring and escaped with an estimated $20,000 in cash, fleeing in an automobile belonging to one of the victims.

Big Spring police said they were told two men burst into the winter quarters of the carnival show at Big Spring Municipal airport at 8:50 p. m., held guns on the two women and four men at the huge warehouse while two more men entered and hammered apart two safes with sledgehammers. The fifth man remained outside the building and directed operations through the door.

While the attack was being made on the company safes the six employees were bound by the gunmen.

Holdup Described By Victim

The carnival workers were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Everett E. Morris, Clyde Talbert, elephant trainer, Dad Towers, helper, and Mr. and Mrs. Jake Alexander, negroes. Morris was reported ride superintendent and truck foreman and in charge of the warehoused show. Alexander was said to be in charge of animals.

The show is owned by T. J. Tidwell whose residence was reported to be in Chicago. Police did not know whether he had been contacted concerning the loss late last night.

Mrs. Morris, wife of the ride superintendent, told a Morning Avalanche reporter that she was sitting by the door to the warehouse smoking a cigarette while her husband Towers and Alexander were playing rummy nearby when three masked men armed with automatics "burst" through the door and warned:

"This is a holdup. Everyone be quiet."

"I screamed," Mrs. Morris said, "They had handkerchiefs over their faces and they kept waving their guns around. One of the guns in particular looked mighty big."

Safes Were In Office

One of the bandits dressed in khaki overalls, Mrs. Morris said, left the section where they were being held at gunpoint and went to a truck in which Talbert was staying. When the masked man came into his quarters, Mrs. Morris said Talbert declared, "Well, come on in."

"I guess he thought it was a joke, but it certainly wasn't," she said.

The two safes were in the office near the truck in which Talbert was staying. No one, not even the secretary knew the combinations to the strongboxes, Mrs. Morris said. 'Mr. Tidwell, probably, is the only one that knows the combinations," she said, "and besides the door to the office was heavily padlocked."

When Talbert was brought into the front section with the others, Mrs. Morris said they were told to turn their backs and cover their faces with their hands. She said that a short man carrying a sledgehammer came through the door and went to the office.

Mrs. Morris told a Morning Avalanche reporter that all the while a man was standing outside the door in the dark giving instructions to the khaki overall clad member.

While the safes were being smashed apart, two bandits began to tie the hands of the holdup victims. Alexander requested that he be taken to his quarters to be tied. His request was granted. Tape and wire were used to bind Towers and Mattie Alexander, and rope was used to tie the others, Mrs. Morris said.

"The bandits were very polite. They placed blankets on the floor for Mattie and I to lay on after we were tied and then covered us with other blankets. The men, however, were forced to lay face down on the cold concrete floor," Mrs. Morris declared.

Soon the man carrying the sledgehammer and the khakiclad one came from the office, carrying sacks of money, Mrs. Morris reported.

Took Car Near Building

The superintendent's wife said the bandits told her they wanted the car outside. The keys were in her husband's pocket, and when one of the bandits reached in his pocket for the keys he told Morris:

"I don't want your money, I just want your keys."

Mrs. Morris said they promised to leave her car on the edge of town. "I have been to every edge of town and I haven't found it

CIO Bolsters Fight On Reds

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 25. (AP)—The CIO today gave its leadership almost unlimited powers to deal with Communists who have moved into small CIO unions.

Thus the convention delegates transformed into concrete action the jolting anti-Communist speeches that have made this convention one that will be long remembered in labor history.

By a standing vote roughly estimated at a 10-to-1 ratio, the convention adopted a resolution which gives the CIO executive board power to take such action "as may be appropriate and necessary" to bring about effective organization of workers in industries where CIO unions have "failed".

CIO Action Defied

Later, James Durkin, president of the Office and Professional Workers, issued a statement to the press, defying the CIO action.

He said his union's membership has determined its policies and leadership in the past and will continue to do so. He said the resolution is "an unwarranted and unjustifiable attack on our union and a threat to the autonomy and independence of all unions."

The resolution doesn't mention Communism, and in fact by its language would apply to weak right-wing unions as well as those on the left.

But President Philip Murray left no doubt of what was mainly in his mind.

Murray Lashes "Cliques"

He said: "I'm not going to protect small cliques of men whose interests are promoted and propagated by the Daily Worker and the Communist party."

He said these cliques "maintain political organizations, captive organizations, and don't fulfill their mission of organizing the unorganized."

He particularly attacked the leadership of the Office and Professional Workers union, which opposed the resolution. A delegate from the United Public Workers also spoke against it.

He was taken to a hospital, where his condition was reported not serious.

Officer Henry Aycock fired 10 shots at a car fleeing from the rear of a clothing store. Two other negro men were arrested when officers surprised a group of negroes carrying suitcases filled with clothing from the rear door of Hub clothiers.

Neutral Nations In New Peace Efforts

PARIS, Friday, Nov. 26. (AP)—The six "neutral" members of the United Nations Security Council met from just before midnight until nearly 2 a. m. today in the two-months-old effort to solve the Berlin problem.

No details of the meeting, called by Argentine Foreign Minister Juan Bramuglia, were available. The delegates also dealt with some supplementary Russian replies to additional questions put to the Soviet Union and the western powers.

Before the late meeting began a source close to Bramuglia said he would propose a formula for settling the Berlin issue.

The informant said Bramuglia, also is requesting the neutrals to empower him to appeal both to Russia and the western powers to refrain from any action in Berlin which may cause further deterioration of the situation.

Chinese Claim City Recaptured

NANKING, Nov. 26. —(Friday) (INS)—The Chinese government announced today that its forces have recaptured Suhsien, key rail point 70 miles south of Suchow.

General Liu Chih's headquarters reported that Nationalists driving north from Anhwei blasted into Suhsien yesterday.

Suhsien had fallen to the Communists last week.

Recapture of the city indicated that a column commanded by General Huang Wei will soon meet the second army group driving south from the Suchow pocket.

The second army is commanded by General Chiu Ching-Choun. The Communists claimed last night to have "completely isolated" embattled Suchow—guardian city of central China's rich heartland — despite government reports of recent victories.

A Chinese Communist radio broadcast declared that 14 Nationalist divisions had been "annihilated" in the battle raging on the east and west flanks of Suchow.

The Nationalists, however, said their hard-hitting air forces — which already has given government forces vital support in the first phases of the Suchow battle —was striking hard at Communist columns fleeing east and south of the key government base.

EISENHOWER'S 'CRUSADE IN EUROPE'

Minute Details Were Made For Allied Invasion Blow

(This is a condensed serialization of Dwight D. Eisenhower's "Crusade in Europe." It contains highlights of the book. Copyrighted by Doubleday & Company, Inc.)

DURING all this period my personal contacts with the Prime Minister were frequent and profitable. He took a lively interest in every important detail, and was able to lend us an effective hand when some of our requirements demanded extra effort on the part of overloaded British civil agencies.

Visits to Chequers, the country home of the Prime Minister, always had business as their main purpose. But the countryside was so pleasant and peaceful that an occasional hour spent in strolling through the fields and woods was real recreation.

Churchill Scored Official

Mr. Churchill rarely failed to inject into most conferences some element of emotion. One day a British general happened to refer to soldiers, in the technical language of the British staff officer, as "bodies." The Prime Minister interrupted with an impassioned speech of condemnation—he said it was inhuman to talk of soldiers in such cold-blooded fashion, and that it sounded as if they were merely freight—or worse—corpses!

I must confess I always felt the same way about the expression, but on that occasion my sympathies were with the staff officer, who to his own obvious embarrassment had innocently drawn on himself the displeasure of the Prime Minister.

AS in most other British homes, there was a guest book in Chequers. Each guest was expected to sign it every time he entered the house. Once, on a trip to the southern coast, I dropped in at Chequers to see Mr. Churchill for ten minutes, after which I dashed for the door to continue the journey.

Just as I gained the seat of my car I became aware that the family butler, in all his dignity, was standing by to speak to me. He said, "Sir, you have forgotten the book," and his solemn tone meant to me that he found it difficult to forgive my oversight. I corrected the omission and sped upon my way.

Final Talks Conducted

On May 15 a final conference was held at St. Paul's School under the supervision of SHAEF. At this final meeting every principal member of the British Chiefs of Staff and the War Cabinet attended, as did also the King of England and Allied generals by the score. Field Marshal Smuts came with his old friend, Mr. Churchill. During the whole war I attended no other conference so packed with rank as this one. The purpose was to assure that any doubtful points

'Expert' Musician Rings In Holiday At Church Organ

(By The Associated Press)

SEATTLE, Nov. 25.—Beautiful organ music, played expertly, issued from the Plymouth Congregational church, greeting the Thanksgiving Day at 3:30 a. m. today.

George H. Becton, church caretaker, heard the music and went to investigate. He knew that both the doors of the church and the organ itself had been locked.

Climbing three flights of stairs, he found a man sitting at the organ—somewhat tipsy but none the less the master of the organ.

The man broke and ran. Police were unable to find a trace of him.

Both Becton and his wife conceded that the intruder was a good musician.

"It sounded," said Mrs. Becton, "as if the angels were playing."

Local Woman Hurt In Traffic Accident

Mrs. Emmett Burford, 45, who resides near the Ed Moore gin on the Idalou highway just east of Lubbock, was admitted to Lubbock Memorial hospital shortly before 8 p. m. last night after she had been struck by a car on Broadway, almost at the hospital's doors.

Mrs. Burford had stepped from a parked car on the north side of Broadway, and was crossing the street toward the hospital when struck by a car driven by Joe Lynn Leech, 17, of 3603 Thirty-fourth street.

The vehicle, which had been proceeding south on Ave. L, made a right turn onto Broadway on a green light, striking Mrs. Burford about 10 or 15 feet west of the pedestrian crosswalk, police reports showed. An attending physician at the hospital said the woman suffered a possible fractured arm and a possible skull concussion. He indicated, however, that the latter injury was not very probable. X-rays were taken to make diagnosis more certain.

Bobby Brown, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Brown of Lubbock route 4, was resting well in West Texas hospital last night, after suffering a broken right leg and minor other injuries when struck by a car early Wednesday afternoon about a mile southwest of Wolfforth.

The boy had stepped from a Frenship School bus, walked around behind the vehicle and attempted to "beat a truck" which was approaching the bus from the rear. In crossing the highway with his attention focused on the truck, he ran into the path of a car coming from the opposite direction, a friend of the family said.

Greek Premier Is Stricken With Second Heart Attack

ATHENS, Nov. 25. (AP)—Themistokles Sophoulis, 87-year-old premier, had a second heart attack today. In view of his relapse the coordinating council named two acting-deputy premiers.

Deputy Premier Constantin Tsaldaris, a Populist, is now in Paris at the United Nations meeting. The two acting deputies are Petro Mavromihalis, Populist minister of the navy, and Constantine Rentis, Liberal.

Sophoulis, a Liberal, was stricken by a heart attack yesterday in the midst of guiding his government over a still critical political period. He was revived by oxygen and injections but was not removed from his office.

DALLAS, Nov. 25 (AP) — The Civil Air Patrol here announced tonight that a single-engine plane and its pilot is reported missing in a five-state area in thesouthwest.

The CAP said the plane, enroute to Dallas, left Allentown, Pa. Nov. 17. It was last accounted for Nov. 18 at the municipal airport at Tulsa, Okla., where it stopped to refuel.

The pilot was listed as Joel Ritter of Allentown.

Alfonso (Pancho) Urtado, 20, of 123 Ave. M, was shot and critically wounded about 9 o'clock last night in front of the Llano theater at Fifteenth and Ave. G.

A warrant charging assault with intent to murder was issued by Justice of the Peace C. E. Lynn for the arrest of Ray Cisnero, 18, on complaint of District Attorney Lloyd Croslin after he had talked with the wounded man at Lubbock Memorial hospital. Urtado was still alive at midnight.

The hunted man, who was believed to live on a farm near Post, was hospitalized Sept. 17 at Lubbock Memorial hospital for knife wounds allegedly inflicted by Urtado in a fight between the two on the last night of a three day Mexican fiesta.

Given Jail Sentence

Cisnero later declined to press charges against Urtado of assault with intent to murder, and the latter was sentenced to 45 days in county jail on a reduced charge of aggravated assault. He was released from jail Nov. 1, records at the sheriff's office showed.

U.S. Observes Holiday, Shares Harvest With Other Peoples

(By The Associated Press)

IN TRADITIONAL Thanksgiving fashion, America celebrated its many blessings Thursday—peace, liberty and the bounty of its harvests.

For most Americans it was a day of rest and relaxation, with a turkey on the dinner table.

And the heart of the nation was gladdened with the knowledge that American prosperity was being shared with a world in want.

Observance of the historic occasion took many forms. There were family reunions, football games, banquets, parties, prayers, parades and many an event dedicated to brightening the day of the not-so-fortunate.

President Truman, like countless other citizens, had turkey and trimmings with his family. But the President put in a morning's work at his White House desk before sitting down to the festive board.

New York and Philadelphia had gigantic parades, featuring a pre-yuletide visit from old Santa himself. New York's event, down Central Park west and Broadway, drew staggering throngs of delighted youngsters—and their

Admission Of Israel To United Nations Membership Is Urged

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Nov. 25.—Admission of Israel to the United Nations was urged today by the acting Palestine mediator, Dr. Ralph Bunche.

He assailed as "a contemptible slander of a dead man" the allegation by Slav bloc delegates that American and British representatives secretly wrote the section of the Bernadotte report suggesting the Negev desert in the south go to the Arabs.

Bunche also warned that the Arabs must "accept responsibility for prolonging" the Palestine dispute by refusing to negotiate with Israel. Egypt, Lebanon and Trans-Jordan, however, once again gave notice that they would not negotiate directly with the Jews.

Bunche put a seven-point peace plan before the 58-nation political committee of the UN Assembly after Russia's Semeon K. Tsarapkin had formally submitted a resolution which observers said apparently was intended to force all UN truce observers, as well as all Arab armies, to withdraw from the Holy Land.

Tsarapkin said the Soviet "rec-

PROGRAM NOW UNDER STUDY

Demos To Launch Drive To Cut Some 'Nuisance' Excise Taxes

By FELIX COTTEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25. — Truman Democrats said today that they would launch a drive in the House when the new Congress meets to cut "nuisance" excise taxes, which are still at their wartime peak.

Rep. Forand, R. I., chairman of the House Democratic caucus, and Rep. Eberharter (D-Pa), disclosed that they would take the lead in this attempt. Both are members of the powerful Ways and Means committee, which originates tax legislation.

Forand and Eberharter said they would support a "limited" excess profits tax to raise enough revenue to offset the excise tax cuts and leave the government with a revenue surplus.

Various Levies Mentioned

They insisted that excise taxes should be reduced on such things as cosmetics, telegraph messages and long-distance telephone calls. Eberharter advocated repeal of the tax on freight shipments. Forand proposed reduction of levies on jewelry, electric light bulbs, luggage, and transportation of persons.

Eberharter declared that the tax laws should be overhauled and income taxes increased to some extent on persons earning more than $20,000 a year.

The views of the two congressmen, both of whom have worked hand in glove with the President, are regarded as straws indicating the direction of Truman administration thinking.

HST Opposes Cuts

The President, who looks upon a substantial budget surplus as an essential part of his anti-inflation program, is expected to recommend a modified excess profits tax, and possibly some increases in income taxes on the upper brackets, in his budget message. This will be sent to the new Democratic Congress soon after it convenes Jan. 3.

There has been no indication thus far that he will propose any reductions in the excise taxes. In recent years, he has opposed all tax cuts.

Democratic tax policy, however, has been against excise and sales taxes and in favor of relying chiefly on the personal income tax as a revenue source.

This contrasts to some extent with Republican tax policy, which has held that the income tax is unstable.

Forecasts are that the President will submit a budget of 44 or 45 billion dollars for the next fiscal year and emphasize the need for more taxes to forestall a one or two billion dollar deficit.

He has inveighed particularly against the 4.8 billion dollar Republican tax cut, passed by Congress over his veto last spring.

Forand and Eberharter said the excess profits tax which they would propose would touch only about 25,000 of the nation's 300,000 corporations. This would be the larger concerns, they added. They would grant corporations a tax credit 35 per cent or so higher than that allowed in wartime, and graduate the tax.

Two Gunmen Escape With $2,000 Loot

KENOSHA, Wis., Nov. 25 (INS)—Two daring gunmen who took more than $2,000 of the Household Finance corporation's money without benefit of loan signatures were the object of a widespread police search tonight.

The pair entered the Kenosha office of the firm yesterday at gunpoint and forced Manager E. L. Selner to hand over $400—all the money on hand.

The gunmen expressed dissatisfaction with the amount after they had herded six employes and customers into a room the men forced Helen Duskiewicz, a clerk, to make two trips to Kenosha's First National bank.

Miss Duskiewicz's first "instalment" payment to the pair consisted of $700 contained in a deposit bag.

Her second trip resulted in cash payment of a $1,200 check the men forced Selner to sign.

On each trip through the city's crowded streets the girl was trailed by an armed gunman who threatened her with instant death if she made a false move.

German Women In Revolt Against Plan Of Church, Kitchen, Home

By JOSEPH FLEMING
United Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Nov. 25 — German women are rebelling against the traditional kirche, kuche, kinder —church, kitchen, home.

The majority of male Germans still believe women belong in the home. But the women themselves are beginning to show different ideas.

For one thing, women know that many of them will never be able to marry and have homes of their own.

In all German,y there are 7,500,000 more women than men. In the American zone, according to the 1946 census, there are 124 women to every 100 men. The difference is even greater in the marriageable ages. For every 100 men between 20 and 25 years of age there are 171 women.

Women Discouraged

This result of two wars has made women increasingly insistent that there be more opportunity for them in business and the professions, more adequate training for girls so that they may be prepared to earn a decent livelihood.

However reluctantly, women in this man-short nation are slowly leaving their homes and kitchens for business careers.

Because of their number they will have to bear the brunt, military government officials believe, of the major part in the reconstruction of Germany.

Women of all ages hard at work clearing rubble is a common sight in this devastated city.

Tradition Holds

As they turn from Hitler's slogan of "Out of business, and back to husband, kitchen and fireside," they also are becoming clerks, shopkeepers, secretaries, teachers, journalists.

The process is not without opposition, for military government research shows the traditional German attitude toward women, particularly the emphasis upon having children, still holds.

An opinion survey by military government's information services division showed that Germans believe a man should have preference in any position he can fill satisfactorily.

American officials assert this attitude runs counter to reality. They say it ignores the excess number of women, the pressing need for reconstruction and export production.

Medals No Good

The "mutterzreuz," the mother's medal awarded by the Nazis to women with four children, is of little use to a war widow who must support her family, officials declare.

They see in German women a group that is learning that nationalism does not pay.

Psychologically, according to a military government report, women are better oriented to reconstruction on a democratic basis than men.

"They have no face to save," the report concluded. "Since 1933 they have had no status. In fact, their post-war World War I spurt to a better position flickered out by 1928. They were not part of policy-making in Nazi Germany. They have everything to gain, nothing to lose in a democratic reorganization which sweeps away old stifling traditions."

Maker Of Whipping Canes Gets Dose Of Own Medicine

ECCLESHALL, Eng., Nov. 25. (AP)—Eric Wildman, who makes canes for whipping schoolboys, was recovering tonight from a dose of his own medicine.

He tried to sell his canes to the wrong school and got himself spanked by six husky students who were put up to it by their own headmaster, Robert Copping.

Copping, 28, runs Horsley Hall, a progressive "self-expression" school where the pupils do as they please and never get punished.

Wildman, 27, runs a company which makes a whipping cane for schoolmasters. He also calls himself president of the National Society for the Retention of Corporal Punishment in Schools.

Lecturer Is Flogged

He came to grief last night when he accepted a lecture bid at Copping's school. He had just explained that "a most reasonable punishment is six (strokes) of the best," administered "in the place that seems to have been provided by nature for the purpose."

While he spoke, a student sneaked behind his chair and tipped it over. Other boys dashed to the scene. One sat on Wildman's head, another pinned his ankles and a third drew up his coat. Then a strapping 16-year-old administered seven strokes to the place provided by nature—and with one of the 20 choice malacca canes Wildman had brought with him to illustrate his lecture.

He admitted today he was "feeling very sore, more mentally than physically."

Dr. Shirkey Of San Antonio Named To Houston Church

HOUSTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—Appointment of Dr. Albert P. Shirkey of San Antonio, one of the outstanding ministers of the Methodist church, as pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church here, was announced today by Bishop A. Frank Smith of the Texas Methodist conference.

Dr. Shirkey for 10 years has been pastor of Travis Park Methodis church in San Antonio.

He replaces Dr. Dawson C. Bryan, who left in mid-October to become executive secretary of the national Methodist board of evangelism, Nashville, Tenn.

Chicago Youth Decides He Can't Take Care Of Infant

CHICAGO, Nov. 25 (INS)—A 22-year-old Chicago youth decided today after two days that he had too much to learn to take care of a year and a half old baby girl.

Eugene Everette, 22, presented the baby to police, who transferred the child to St. Vincent's orphanage.

Everette said the baby was left in his care Monday by a woman he befriended, who said she was the child's mother.

He identified her as Marie Wolf of Green Bay, Wis.

Everette said when the woman failed to return that night, he asked a friend, Max Starlbanks to act as baby sitter while he went to work.

Senator Wants End To Indian Program

TUCSON, Ariz., Nov. 25 (AP)—Federal guardianship of Indians in Arizona should be ended at the earliest possible moment in the opinion of Senator Ferguson (R-Mich).

"The 801year guardianship of the federal government over Indians has produced pretty dreary results," he said after a five-day visit to the Navajo and Hopi reservations in northern Arizona.

Ferguson left here last night after a two-week vacation in Arizona.

"Conditions among the Navajos make a mockery of President Truman's civil rights talk," he said.

"During the emergency session of the Congress we appropriated $2,000,000 for Indian welfare. It was the intent of Congress that this money be used for the Indians—for food and other necessary items. I find that an infinitesimal amount of that money went for food or welfare.

"It went for other things, like building roads, buying equipment and such uses to further the Indians' dependence upon the government rather than to make them more independent and self-sustain-in Maybe a few of the more able bodied Indians received money for working on the roads but that's about all."

Ferguson said he wasn't posing as an expert on Indian affairs after a five-day trip through the reservations but expressed the belief that the education the Indians have been getting is not effective.

He said some Indians must be educated so they may take their place in a free society among white men. There are too many of them on the reservation. In this way, those left on the reservation to raise stock, farm or work in developing natural resources can make a good living.

CHEERING VISIT

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD Billy Hamilton, who had the unique experience of receiving a visit from the Chief Scout of Boy Scouts of America, couldn't help but be cheered by the humor of the Chief Scout, Dr. Elbert K. Fretwell of New York, Tuesday afternoon in Lubbock Memorial hospital.

Young Billy, who is an Eagle Scout, was recuperating from serious injuries he received Nov. 15 in an accident which occurred while he was riding a motor scooter. Dr. Fretwell, who came here to make speeches and was the first chief Scout ever to visit in Lubbock, walked into the room, greeted Billy as if they were longtime friends and opened a series of remarks beginning with the statement that Billy's friends wouldn't have any trouble finding him for awhile.

Dr. Fretwell probably feels as if he is a longtime friend of any Boy Scout. Until less than three months ago, he held the professional position of chief Boy Scout executive, then when he resigned was given the title of Chief Scout, which he holds in volunteer capacity. His wife is chairman of the Greater New York Girl Scout camping committee.

At the time he visited Billy Hamilton, five levels of scouting were represented in the room. There were Billy, an Eagle Scout; W. A. (Mose) Hood, scoutmaster of troop five; W. R. Postma, executive of the South Plains council; Harold W. Lewman, executive of region 9, of Dallas, and Dr. Fretwell.

"We haven't any illusions in scouting as to who the important people are. The scoutmaster is the one," said Dr. Fretwell.

Mr. Hood, smiling, pointed to the boy in the hospital bed. "There's the important one," he said.

DR. FRETWELL said there are one and one-half million or more Boy Scouts and Cubs in the nation and the Girl Scouts are going to have to get about one-half million more members so there will be enough for the boys to marry.

Sold on the work of both Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, Dr. Fretwell said there is no doubt that the home comes first in importance. "Homes, schools, churches and scouting are four things important in life," he said.

IN THE MAIL

DEAR MARGARET TURNER:

It may be an old Lubbock custom, but it has not happened to us before and we think it is such a thoughtful act, we want to say thank you.

My little ten-year-old granddaughter, Frances Anne, spent several days in a Lubbock hospital. On the third day, a nurse asked her if she would like some more flowers in her room. She said a Lubbock woman had given a party and was bringing the flowers to the hospital to be given to the patients. Of course the answer was "Yes."

All of us enjoyed Frances Anne's bouquet of four large yellow mums, (which by the way are still pretty), surrounded by small ones and fern sprays. We think it is a fine thing for any one to do and so with our granddaughter we say "thank you" to the gracious woman.

Mrs. Lee Saffell,
2520 Twenty-third.

DEAR MRS. SAFFELL: Thanks for your letter. We don't know how prevalent is the custom of taking party flowers to the hospital, but we know Lubbock women have always been generous about sharing their flowers, either with friends or anyone who might enjoy them. We hope the donor you mentioned, sees this notice.

DEAR MISS TURNER:

My favorite fruit cake, recipe for which I am enclosing, is simple to make and so good everyone likes it. I have not seen it published in a paper.

One can condensed milk, two cups cocoanut, two cups pecans, two boxes of dates (double deck). Run dates through food chopper. Pour milk over dates and let stand for a few minutes. Add other ingredients and bake for two hours at 300 degrees. Place pan of water in oven in order that the cake will not brown too much. This may be served any time after baking.

Mrs. R. J. Coffey,
Crosbyton.

DEAR MRS. COFFEY: Years ago we ran a similar recipe and it met with an overwhelming response. Thanks for sending it.

Newlyweds On Trip

Before a mantel decorated with mums and autumn leaves and lighted by tapers in candelabra, Miss Tommy Jean Weldon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Weldon, 2134 Nineteenth, exchanged wedding vows Wednesday night at 8 o'clock with Harrold Edwin Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Shaw of Wink.

Rev. C. A. Bickley, pastor of Asbury Methodist church, read a double ring ceremony in the Weldon home.

A reception followed and the couple left for El Paso and will return here to be at home at 2207 Thirteenth after Dec. 1.

As Jean Allen lighted the candles, Miss Belva Jean Blake played "Indian Love Call" and she accompanied the bride's cousin, Edwin Wilkes, who sang "All Of My Life."

Father Is Escort

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown fashioned with lace yoke outlined with net ruffling, fitted bodice and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. The long skirt extended into a train and her veil of illusion fell from a halo of braided satin and pearls. The bridal bouquet of an orchid showered with satin streamers was carried on a white Bible. Something old and borrowed was an heirloom cameo necklace.

Mrs. Dan Rogers, the bride's sister and matron of honor, wore an aqua taffeta gown and a corsage of pink carnations.

San Anderson of Big Spring served as best man.

Miss Fern Duncan and Miss Patricia Rankin assisted in serving a three tiered wedding cake and punch. The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of autumn flowers and fern.

The bridegroom's parents and his brothers, Glen, Nolan and Rickey, of Wink were out-of-town guests.

The bride traveled in a green wool suit with black accessories and an orchid corsage. She is a graduate of Lubbock High school and a former student at Texas Technological college. Mr. Shaw is a graduate of Big Spring High school and a junior petroleum engineering student at Tech college and a member of the Tech Engineering society. He is a veteran of the late war.

Miss Leslie Stone and Miss Phyllis Chambers gave a shower for the bride recently at the Chambers home, 2118 Twenty-seventh. Twenty-five called.

First class mail between principal cities in Rumania is to be transported by air without payment of extra postage.

Janet Camille Ragland, Riley Leo Baxter Marry

Miss Janet Camille Ragland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar G. Ragland of 1005 Ave. W, and Riley Leo Baxter of Lubbock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Baxter of Glenn, were married Wednesday night at 6:30 o'clock at the College Avenue Baptist church with Rev. Abe Hester reading a double ring ceremony.

The couple has gone to Albuquerque and Santa Fe and after Nov. 30 will be at home at 2302-B Sixteenth.

Tall baskets of mums and pomchurch and candles lighted the background of greenery and were placed on the ends of the bridal aisle.

Wears Traditional White

Mr. Ragland gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a white slipper satin gown with round lace yoke accented with off shoulder bertha outlined with white sequins. The fitted bodice was attached to a peplum and the long pointed sleeves were trimmed with satin covered buttons. The full gathered skirt extended into a chapel length train and her laceedged veil of illusion fell from a tiara of white seed pearls. The veil belonged to an aunt and something borrowed was pearl earrings belonging to an aunt. She carried a cascading bouquet of Talisman roses tied with white satin streamers.

Mrs. Phil Ragland, the bride's sister-in-law, was matron of honor; Miss Doris Baxter of Plainview, the bridegroom's sister, and Mrs. Edwin Visage were bridesmaids. Mrs. Ragland wore an amber taffeta ballerina length dress with off shoulder bertha and carried a Colonial bouquet showered with ribbons and flowers shading from amber to deep maroon.

Miss Baxter's dress was golden yellow taffeta; Mrs. Visage wore forest green and the former carried a Colonial bouquet with ribbons and flowers shaded in autumn green and the latter two carried bouquets showered with yellow autumn flowers, and ribbons.

M. L. McLaurin was best man and Dick Guest, Phil Ragland and Foy Bomar were ushers.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ragland, 2912 Twenty-first, uncle and aunt of the bride.

A three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple, centered the bride's table. The cake was encircled with yellow maline and yellow satin streamers extending from the table were interlaced with yellow rosebuds and greenery. Yellow tapers in crystal candlebra flanked either side of the cake.

For travel the bride wore a gray gaberdine suit with wine and black accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses. A graduate of Lubbock High school and former Tech student, she is employed by the Southwestern Associated Telephone company. She is a member of Nu Phi Mu sorority.

Mr. Baxter is a graduate of Plainview High school and is employed by Ponca Wholesale company.

Judge Has To Visit Jail To Collect Bet From Friend

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 25 (U.P.) — William A. Young, 31, made a special trip to Milwaukee from Oshkosh to tell a judge friend he had quit drinking and pay back the judge some money he had lent Young.

But Young met another friend first and ended up in district court on a drunken driving charge. The judge friend got his money back, but he had to go to the district court bull pen to collect it.

55 Guests Flee As Fire Sweeps Through Albuquerque Hotel

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M., Nov. 25. (AP)—Choking clouds of smoke forced hasty evacuation of a small (Grand Central) hotel in the business district here today.

The blaze was one of two spectacular before-dawn outbreaks causing $200,000 damage in Albuquerque and Socorro, 75 miles south. Origin of both was undetermined.

Alerted by a 3:35 a.m. (CST) alarm, 55 guests fled the third story of the Albuquerque building at Second and Central within five minutes. Some had time only to throw robes about their night clothing, and a few went barefooted into 35-degree weather.

Starts In Pool Hall

Starting in a pool hall's first floor rest room, the fire spread to adjoining quarters of Western Union, a drug store, a sewing machine firm and business offices on the first and second floors. Fire Chief Art Westerfeld said the cause might never be known. The structure, one of Albuquerque's oldest, was built about 1887.

Only one hotel lodger, Mart Yepe, was injured.

Loss was tentatively estimated at $100,000. Western Union reported part of its leased wire circuits disrupted, and provision was made for emergency service from other locations. Repairmen were ordered here from Denver and Dallas.

While firemen were fighting the blaze, the Albuquerque department was forced to turn down a request for aid from Socorro. The fire there was in a building at the intersection of U.S. 85 and 60. It destroyed a variety store and a barber shop and damaged the post office. The Socorro loss also was estimated at $100,000.

Both men submitted to lie detector tests at Austin. Officers said results were in favor of the two.

Woman Is Held After Two Small Children Are Slain

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 25. (INS)—A 27-year-old mother who stabbed to death two of her infant children was held by Hennapin county authorities today pending a possible mental examination.

She is Mrs. Margaret Harper of suburban St. Louis park, wife of Harry D. jr., a truck salesman.

Harper found the tiny victims, George, 2, and Margaret, four months, dead in their beds from stab wounds in the throat and his wife lying on the floor in a daze when he returned from work yesterday.

Harper said his wife had been under medical treatment since Margaret's premature birth last July and that she had suffered a nervous breakdown last October.

A third child of the Harpers, Harry III, 5, was visiting his grandparents when his brother and sister were slain.

Sheriff Ed Ryan said questioning of Mrs. Harper had been unsatisfactory because of her "dazed and incoherent" condition.

A chemical called trichothecin, which is produced by fungus itself, has the power to stop the spread of other fungi. It does this by preventing the fungi from reproducing.

Red 'Police Force' In Germany Seen As Possible New Army

By ROBERT HAEGER
United Press Staff Writer

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 25—The menacing new "police force which Russia is building in its zone of Germany may be just the beginning of a far bigger, tougher army.

So says Walther Schreiber, major general in the German Army medical corps, who was offered the post of surgeon general of the new army.

After 3½ years in Soviet captivity, Schreiber seized the police offer as an opportunity to get back to Germany. Then, accompanied by his family, he threw in his lot with the Americans.

Now in U.S. Army custody, he has revealed these things about what he calls "the first stage of rearmament in eastern Germany."

Calls It Red Army

1. It is not a police force at all, but a "red army."

2. It is armed with "tanks, artillery and other heavy weapons."

3. It will be doubled in size (now about 300,000) by early 1949 and will continue expansion thereafter.

4. Neither the Stalingrad field marshal, Friedrich von Paulus, nor Gen. Walter von Seydlitz, bosses of the Russian-promoted Free Germany movement, are connected with the new force in any way.

5. The army is being built around a core of German military experts who will be milked of their knowledge, then discarded.

6. The top man thus far appointed to the force is its chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Vincenz Mueller, a "fanatical Communist."

Disclosures Credited

The disclosures by the high-ranking refugee Schreiber are presumably accepted by the American command in Germany, which made him available for an official press conference.

Schreiber said that Col. Sergei Tulpanov, the powerful Russian propaganda chief in Germany, and Kurt Fischer, interior minister of the Soviet zone, furnished him with the above information while trying to recruit him into the organization, Schreiber escaped shortly after refusing the job.

The little doctor-general said that figures as to size of the new army of the east lead to wrong conclusions since it is only beginning to develop.

The latest official western statement on the subject is Gen. Lucius D. Clay's estimate of 300,000.

Best Weapons Promised

Both Tulpanov and Fischer mentioned the heavy re-armament of the new outfit and Tulpanov promised "the best of German weapons," according to Schreiber. The gray-haired surgeon pointed to their statements as "clear proof that its activity will exceed police activity."

The doctor said high-ranking German officer-prisoners picked for policy duty, many of them famous in Germany and usable as "bait," are gathered in Camp 7073 near Moscow. They are given an intensive "Antifa" course, a high-powered indoctrination in Communism, the 55-year-old doctor said.

"If these people enter the police now, they are supposed to work as experts," he explained. "They are supposed to hand out their knowledge. Later they will be kicked out and others will take their place."

Under the plan, a child may write a letter to Santa Claus, inclose ten cents in it and drop it in a special box at White's and an answer will be received from Santa Claus at Santa Claus, Ind., famous Christmas town.

A child doesn't have to include a dime in a letter if he or she doesn't want an answer; but all letters desiring an answer from Santa must have a dime included with the letter.

The club started operation on Thursday.

Clark Gable Back On Top At MGM; To Take Leading Role In New Film After Jan. 1

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Motion Picture Editor

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 25.—Forget all those stories that Clark Gable is pouting with MGM because they won't lend him out for "Born Yesterday." Forget that Clark Gable is pouting, period.

The "King" returns to work on the home lot January 1 and "Any Number Can Play" has got him. Just before Mervyn Leroy took off for Chicago to attend his stepdaughter's wedding he was handed the directorial assignment, with Arthur Freed producing. Merv is the fairhaired boy since "Little Women" went over so wonderfully at the sneak preview.

"Any Number Can Play" is authored and scripted by Richard Brooks who wrote "Crossfire." You can bet that Clark likes the story. Believe you me, the King still wears the crown around that lot and can pick and choose his own stories.

I should say the most difficult assignment in the world would be to find a little girl to play Shirley Temple when she was the No. 1 child actress. I have never seen a child like her.

But Shirley figures in "You're My Everything," which is the history of Hollywood from 1924 to 1938, so ten-year-old Shari Robinson from Indiana will play the Temple child with Shirley's permission.

Nick Castle, who directed most of Shirley's dance routines, will do the same for little Miss Robinson. Shari will also sing "The Good Ship Lollipop." However she will not be called "Shirley." Too many people remember.

Most marked indication, that the royal family does not want sympathy over King George's ailment, is that social engagements are going on.

Prince Philip will escort the Queen and Princess Margaret Rose to the command performance Monday where so many of our Hollywood stars will appear.

Speaking of this third jaunt to London, I hear that Alan Ladd received the biggest fan reception of any male star since Danny Kaye and Jack Benny. I might also add that special arrangements were made at the Albany club in London for the Americans to celebrate a real, honest to goodness Thanksgiving dinner—yep, with Turkey and trimmings.

Family Of Eight Given Holiday Dinner As Father Has Sandwich

QUINCY, Ill., Nov. 25 (AP)—A family of eight children and their mother enjoyed a Thanksgiving Day dinner today in the home of the county sheriff, while a few feet away the father had a cheese sandwich and a glass of water.

Yesterday Cleo Lagg, who lives with his family in a shack on an island in Quincy Bay, was sentenced to ten days in the county jail after pleading guilty to stealing a piece of iron. Lagg, when taken to his cell, said "I want turkey tomorrow." Sheriff Otis Woodruff then investigated and said that Lagg had made no provision for his family.

So this morning the sheriff welcomed as guests at his Thanksgiving Dinner in the county courthouse the Lagg family nine strong, while in a cell Lagg ate a cheese sandwich and a glass of water.

Community Chest Benefits From Juke Boxes In Dallas

DALLAS, Nov. 25, (INS)—Forty-eight thousand nickels rolled into the Dallas Community chest this year through the city's 1,100 juke boxes.

The owners of the coin-operated machines set aside a day in the campaign as juke box day. The contribution from the machines was $2,400.

College Students Are Held After Salt Lake City Riot

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 25. (AP)—Five college students were held in city jail today—aftermath of a riot at the Newhouse hotel last night.

Utah State Agricultural college students held a rally at the hotel on the eve of the traditional Utah State-Utah university football game here today.

At the conclusion of the rally, scores of university students, who had held a rally at a theater, converged on the hotel to demonstrate their spirit.

Several fist fights started almost immediately. Detective J. Ross Hunsaker attempted to quell the disturbances, but his suit was torn and he was battered. He called police and five patrol cars were ordered to the scene.

Order was restored for a time, but fighting broke out again after the officers left. A second trip to the hotel by police ended the row.

Five students were arrested—three Aggies and two Utes. They were held on charges ranging from drunkenness to inciting riot and destroying property.

New Wildcat Test Scheduled To Be Drilled In Shafter Lake Area

Another exploration is to be drilled to the Ellenburger in the Shafter Lake area of north-central Andrews county.

That venture will be at Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Company No. 1-F University, located 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 13, block 13, University survey.

This exploration has already proven for production from the Clear Fork and the Wolfcamp of the Permian; from a lime in the Pennsylvania zone, and from the Devonian. It had reached 10,400 feet in Devonian lime and chert, and was making more hole.

It is expected to find the Ellenburger by the time it reaches 10,560 feet.

Well Location Given

The Texas Pacific project is on the north side of the Shafter Lake field, and is north of the Sinclair Prairie Oil Company, et al, No. 2-154 University, the discovery well for Ellenburger production in that region. That well is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 24, block 13, University survey. It is bottomed at 11,898 feet, and has set a string of casing at that point.

It had water in the bottom, and will complete from the section above the water and the top of the Ellenburger at 11,695 feet. That interval showed for good, natural production.

Test Is Scheduled

General American Oil Company No. 2-B Carmickle, Southeast Floyd county outpost to the Arick field, and located 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 18, block K, TTRR survey, is bottomed at 5,910 feet in the Pennsylvania lime, and is to test and try to complete as an oil well.

It took a 15-minute drillstem test at 5,851-5,910 feet. Gas showed at the surface after nine minutes. The volume was not gauged or estimated.

Recovery was 50 feet of oil cut mud, and 350 feet of clean oil. There was no formation water. Shutin bottom hole pressure, after 15 minutes was 2,000 pounds.

Operator has set a string of 5½-inch casing on bottom and will try to complete from perforations in the zone between 5,851 feet and 5,910 feet.

Application Filed

Robert W. McKissick, of Abilene, has filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas, requesting a permit to start operations immediately at his No. 1-B R. W. Eubanks, as a 3,300 foot cable tool wildcat in Southwest Scurry county, one mile south of Ira.

It will be 660 feet from east and 330 feet from north lines of the lease in section 120, block 97, H&TC survey.

That puts it inside the Sharon Ridge 1700 field, but since there is no production nearby from pays below 1,700 feet, the McMissick venture is classed as a wildcat to try to develop production from zones below the regular pay section of that area.

Extension Probable

A west extension to the Dollarhide-Devonian field of Southwest Andrews county looks probable by Lion Oil Company. That concern developed free oil on a drilstem test at its No. 2-B Tennie Cowden, on the west side of the pool, 330 feet from east and 660 feet from south lines of the northwest quarter of section 6, block A-35, psl survey.

The tool was open three and a half hours at 8,295-8,370 feet in the Devonian. Gas reached the surface in six minutes. Recovery was 5,650 feet of clean oil plus 180 feet of slightly oil and gas cut drilling mud. There was no water.

Operator is to drill another 20 feet and attempt to complete. It is not going to the Ellenburger.

Ellenburger Barren

The Southeast Dawson county Ellenburger was found barren at Seaboard No. 2 Lee, 440 feet from north and east lines of section 47, block 34, T-5-N, TP survey, about 15 miles southeast of the town of Lamesa.

The wildcat was bottomed on 11,060 feet in the deep lime. A one-hour drillstem test at 10,989-11,010 feet recovered 35 feet of mud and 100 feet of sulphur water. No signs of production were detected.

Operator plans to plug back to around 7,000 feet, run seven-inch casing to 6,420 feet, and attempt to make an oil well from the top of the Sprayberry pay in the lower Permian. Some oil shows were found in that formation.

EULESS, Texas, Nov. 25. (BS)—Local burglars must operate from moving vans.

Lubbock Westerners Roll To 46 To 0 Victory Over Brownfield

Hard-Fighting Post Edges Lockney's Longhorns, 7 To 6

Brown, Young, Decker Spark Hub City Team To Second 1-AA Win

By EARL SCUDDAY
Avalanche Sports Writer

BROWNFIELD, Nov. 25.—Lubbock High's determined Westerners, slowed by a stubborn Brownfield defense and 60 yards in penalties in the first half, pounded out two second quarter touchdowns and five additional six-pointers in the last half to crush the Cubs, 46-0, in a District 1-AA clash here this afternoon.

A capacity crowd of approximately 3,000 persons jammed Cub stadium to watch the Westerners chalk up their second victory in 1-AA competition this season, and clinch the fourth spot in the loop standings. The win, fourth of the year for the Hub city gridders, also gave the Westerners their sixth consecutive triumph over the Cubs.

Brown Paces Lubbock

Although the entire Westerner squad turned in a brilliant performance, with every Lubbock player seeing action, it was Tailback Bobby Brown who paced the Lubbock eleven into a 19-0 lead early in the third quarter. The slender junior tallied the first three touchdowns, on gallops of 34, 35 and one yard, and made 157 yards rushing on 14 carries. The performance boosted Brown's season record to 1,003 yards rushing—one of the best marks in Texas schoolboy ranks.

Malcolm Young, junior fullback, churned for long yardage during the encounter, and climaxed his ball-carrying chores with a 73-yard touchdown sprint in the fourth quarter. Wingback Donald Decker was another standout today, smashing through the Cub forward wall for consistent gains and tallying on a 27-yard run.

In the line a dozen Westerners shared honors, with the work of Ends Bob Rooker and Ted Vaught, Tackles Jack Hensley and Joe Brock and Center Douglas Wienke especially outstanding.

Cubs Halted Drive

The Westerners went ahead in the setto early in the second quarter, after a first period drive had been stalled on the Brownfield eight-yard line as a result of two penalties and a stubborn Cub defense. But the Lubbock gridders took over on the Brownfield 34 following Back Bill Bridge's recovery of a Cub fumble, and on the next play Brown broke over left tackle and raced all the way to paydirt. Back Jimmy Richards booted the extra point and Lubbock led, 7-0.

The Westerners scored again late in the second quarter, following Decker's interception of Fullback Bill Tankersley's pass on the Brownfield 25. Decker returned the ball to the Brownfield 13, where officials ruled that he was the victim of unnecessary roughness. The penalty gave Lubbock the ball on the Brownfield one-yard line, then Brown cracked over right taekle for the counter. Richards' conversion attempt was no good, but the Westerners held a 13-0 halftime margin.

Lubbock Roars Back

Coach Pat Pattison's smooth-working grid machine roared back to tally again in the first two minutes of the third stanza and clinch the win. Bridge returned the second half kickoff to the Lubbock 45, then Brown moved to the Brownfield 35 in two carries. On the third play Brown slipped through left tackle, picked up a wave of blockers and sprinted 35 yards to the double stripe. Wingback Wayne Stroud's kick from placement was no good.

Minutes later a pass by the Cubs' Billy Anderson was intercepted by Fullback Malcolm Young on the Brownfield 41 and Decker, running from the tailback slot, carried to the Cub 27 in two tries. Decker then hit over right tackle, shook off two would-be tacklers and crossed the goal line standing up. Blocking Back Norman Bantz kicked the extra point and Lubbock led, 26-0.

Three TDs In Fourth

Three Lubbock touchdowns were chalked up in the final period, as wholesale substitutions failed to slow up the scoring pace. Bridge counted on a 37-yard gallop on the first play of the fourth quarter, then Young tallied minutes later on a brilliant 73-yard sprint. End Garnet Reeves kicked the extra point following Young's touchdown to give Lubbock a 39-0 margin.

Stroud, another of the 16 juniors who performed for the Westerners this afternoon, closed the scoring late in the stanza when he intercepted a Tankersley pass on the Lubbock 45 and blazed all the way to paydirt. Stroud kicked the extra point for the final 46-0 count.

Brownfield threatened only once, when Young's fourth-quarter fumble gave the Cubs the ball on the Lubbock 30, but Tankersley and Backs John Thompson and Maurice Martin had moved up only to the 20 when the ball went over on downs.

Most District Champs Decided

(By The Associated Press)

All except one district champion has been named in the Texas schoolboy football race and that will come Friday night.

The double-barreled state title race—City Conference and Class AA—will begin next week with the bi-district round.

Thomas Jefferson and Brackenridge fought to a 7-7 tie Thursday to give the San Antonio district championship to Jefferson and complete the play-off bracket in the City Conference.

Brackenridge had to win the game by more than 21 points to get the title but all Jefferson had to do was gain a tie.

Woodrow Wilson (Dallas), Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) and Lamar (Houston) are the other district champions of the City Conference. In the first round of the state play-off next week Woodrow Wilson meets Arlington Heights and Lamar plays Thomas Jefferson.

Wichita Falls backed into the district 2 class AA championship when Quanah played Childress to a scoreless tie. Wichita Falls beat Graham 26-0 to finish in front by a half-game. If Childress had won from Quanah it would have taken the title.

Denison won the district 5 championship by beating Sherman 21-6.

Thursday's activity left only one district championship to be determined in class AA. That is in district 9. Waco will meet Temple for the title Friday night at Waco.

The 13 class AA district champions decided are: Amarillo, Wichita Falls, Odessa, Austin (El Paso), Denison, Highland Park (Dallas), Breckenridge, Texarkana, Palestine, Port Arthur, Baytown, Austin and San Benito.

Amarillo Notches 26-0 District 1-AA Triumph Over Plainview

AMARILLO, Nov. 25. (Special) — Amarillo's Golden Sandies struck for one touchdown in the second quarter, then added three more in the final stanza, to notch a 26-0 District 1-AA triumph over the battling Plainview Bulldogs here this afternoon.

The Sandies' first tally came on a 31-yard pass from Tailback Marvin McNeil to End James Garner, with Guard Bobby Hudgins kicking the extra point for a 7-0 lead.

In the fourth period, Wingback Charlie Priolo scored on an 11-yard run, Fullback Jack Newby tallied on a 30-yard jaunt and Back Joe Goulding went 21 yards on a pass interception for the fourth six-pointer.

DETROIT, Nov. 25. (AP)—Stalled on the ground, the Chicago Cardinals scored twice on passes and once on Jerry Davis' 69-yard punt return today to beat the stubborn Detroit Lions 28 to 14 in a National football league game. A Thanksgiving morning crowd of 22,957 fans saw the Cardinals take their eighth straight victory and their ninth in 10 games this season.

LOCKNEY STAR IN DEFEAT BY POST—Jerry McCullough, whose 41 flashed before Post eyes all afternoon, gets off for a short gain on a fourth quarter march. McCullough ripped the Antelope line all afternoon yesterday, as the Longhorns lost a hard-fought 7-6 Bi-District game to Post in Jones Stadium. Identifiable Lockney players in the picture are, in addition to McCullough, Robert Huckaby (32), Donnie Bybee (27), Joe Keeter (28) and Charles Hammit (40). Post players are Kay Kirkpatrick (71), Jim Smith (62), Don Carpenter (64), Maurice Stelzer (65) and R. E. Josey (57). Avalanche staff photo by Bill Hams).

Idalou Noses Hale Center, 25-24

Wildcats Capture Bi-District Title

By JEFF CLARK
Avalanche Sports Writer

ABERNATHY, Nov. 25.—Idalou's Wildcats copped the bi-district championship from the slightly favored Hale Center Owls with a 25-24 victory in a battle that was almost entirely offensive. It was a close-fought game all the way with the Owls on the Wildcat three-yard line when the final whistle blew.

With a crowd of about 2,000, in the stands, Idalou received the opening kickoff. Left Half Leon Jarrett caried the ball to the 21-yard-line before he was tackled. From there the Wildcats, their offensive sparked by Jarrett and Fullback Don Seale, marched to pay dirt, scoring when Seale passed to Left End Lloyd Allen. The attempted pass for extra point was no good.

Lost Little Time

The Owls lost little time in scoring a return tally. With Fullback Ed Weil, Quarterback Jerry Johnson and Left Half Eldon Davis alternately carrying the ball, the Owls made a sustained drive of 65 yards for a touchdown. Johnson passed to Back Castleberry for the tally. Try for extra point failed and the period ending with the score 6-6.

Right Half Al Joiner took the kickoff opening the second quarter and from their own 42-yard-line the Wildcats drove to a touchdown, Joiner going around left end from the 11 yard line. Seale passed to Johnson for the extra point, making the score 13-6.

Hale Center made a return tally when, after a 73 yard drive, Johnson passed to Left End Benny Shackelford for seven yards and a score. Try for extra point failed. On a poor Owl kick the ball was returned from the Wildcat 40 to the Owl 45. The Wildcats had marched to the 20 at the half.

Owls March Again

In the third period, Idalou kicked off. Davis took the ball and fumbled on the 13 yard line, Joiner recovering for the Wildcats. In a single play, Seale went around right end for a touchdown. The try for extra point was no good. The following Owl drive bogged down on their own 33 and Johnson punted 40 yards. Seale returned the ball to the 50. After failing to gain a first down, the Wildcats had a punt partially blocked punt, the ball advancing only 15 yards. From the Wildcat 49, the Owls marched again to score, with Weil going through center for 13-yards and the touchdown making the score 18-19.

The Wildcats took the kick-off from their own 41 ran a series of end plays for a tally, ending the third period ahead 25-18.

Early in the final period Weil scored from the two yard line making the score 25-24. After a drive failed, the Wildcats kicked to the Owl 6-yard line. From there the Owls drove to the Wildcat three when their time ran out.

The Owls punted once for 40 yards, gained 229 yards rushing, completed seven of 12 passes for 81 yards, make five penetrations and were penalized one time for five yards. The Wildcats punted twice for an average of 18.5 yards, made five penetrations and were penalized five times for 25 yards.

Idalou made 19 first downs, and Hale Center 17.

LINE TROUBLES ARE IRONED OUT

Raiders Hold Rugged Final Drill Before Facing Cowboys Saturday

Holiday didn't a mean thing yesterday to Coach Dell Morgan's Texas Tech gridders, who waited until Post and Lockney had completed their Bi-District game, then went through a rugged final drill for Hardin-Simmons.

The Red Raiders, favored by everyone except the Cowboys, had a stiff drill on both offensive and defensive assignments. The coaches attempted to straighten out line troubles, getting the linemen to block better and to get their assignments down pat. Meanwhile, the backs also sharpened their timing and blocking in the dummy scrimmage.

A large portion of the concluding intensive drill was spent on defense against the diversified attack the Raiders can expect Saturday afternoon. The cross-blocking Hardin-Simmons uses was studied carefully and Tech's defenses appear set to stop the thrusts of Pat Bailey, the slants of Hook Davis and the passing of John Ford.

The Raider squad also spent a busy two-hour chalk talk in the morning, polishing their offensive on paper and studying the formations that the Cowboys will be using Saturday. There seems to be no overconfidence on the Tech gridiron and both players and coaches know that they will be in for one of the roughest, hardest games of the year.

Coach Morgan will depend on his light but sturdy line to check the Cowboy offensive, which has been plenty potent this year. And he also will be looking for his secondary to break up the dangerous passes that John Ford throws. And for offense, he expects that the Raider line will open holes as they have all year, with two platoons of fast backs ready to race through them.

Cal Steveson, who led the Raider attack against New Mexico, has taken over the ground-gaining title on the Raider squad with 302 yards gained. Glenn Lewis is only a yard behind him and Bud Conley, injured in the first quarter last week, is third with 281 yards. The other swift backs, J. W. Thompson, Charley Reynolds and Earl Jackson trail in that order.

Reynolds tops the scorers with six touchdowns, 14 or 21 concersion efforts and a field goal for 53 points. Steveson has 24 points on four touchdowns and Lewis, Jackson, Thompson and Conley each have three touchdowns.

The Raiders will leave about noon today for Abilene, where they will take a light workout this afternoon.

Mines Annihilates New Mexico Aggies

EL PASO, Nov. 25 (INS) — Fred Wendt scored 42 points all by himself today and set a new all-time collegiate season's rushing record as Texas Mines annihilated the New Mexico Aggies 92 to 7.

Wendt, blonde fullback for the Miners, who have one regular game yet to play this season before facing West Virginia in the Sun Bowl at El Paso New Year's Day, picked up 326 yards in 25 carries today to run his season's mark to 1,383 yards.

The former record of 1,281 yards was set by Rundy Mobley of Hardin-Simmons in 1942.

Wendt had six touchdowns and six extra points in pacing the Miners to their devastating achievement today.

Abilene Christian Drops Howard Payne

ABILENE, Nov. 25 k(AP)—Abilene Christian college came from behind late in the first half here today and ended up with a 27-7 decision over Howard Payne college.

V. T. Smith, the Wildcats' jackrabbit halfback, sent Abilene Christian into the lead early in the game on a 25-yard touchdown run. The try for extra point failed and Howard Payne took the lead when Al Langford punched over from the one-yard line after the Yellowjackets' recovered a fumble and Preston McClesky booted the extra point.

The Wildcats stormed back and Mick Mason climaxed a 70-yard march with a 35-yard scoring sprint in the second quarter. In the third Smith passed to Rogers for a touchdown and then Smith bullied over from the one in the fourth quarter.

UTAH WINS TITLE

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 25. (INS)—Utah university won its 13th Mountain States Conference football championship today, defeating Utah State 41 to 7, and immediately afterward decided not to accept any bids for a New Year's Day bowl appearance.

McMURRY DROPS GAME

MARSHALL, Mo., Nov. 25. (AP)—On a fourth quarter touchdown, Bill Lingenfelder, Viking halfback, gave Missouri Valley a hard-earned 20-13 victory over the McMurry Indians of Abilene, Tex. Six thousand fans saw the intersectional contest here today.

Cameron Aggies Roll Over San Angelo Rams, 14 To 7

LAWTON, Okla., Nov. 25. (AP)—The Cameron Aggies put the San Angelo Texas, Rams on the platter, 14-7, here today for a Thanksgiving homecoming crowd of 6,000 in Roosevelt stadium. It was the Aggies' eighth win of the season.

They whipped the Rams both on the ground and in the air, although they had come from behind, 7-0, at the half to make it pay off on the scoreboard. In rushing, the Cameron two-platoon outfit gained 200 yards to San Angelo's 45, and they also dominated the air, 157 to 72.

The Rams scored in the second quarter when right Half Pete Hickman intercepted a Cameron pass from Quarterback Al Lenz in the clear and breezed 55 yards for the touchdown. Gene Haynes kicked.

Kirkpatrick Boots Extra Point To Give Antelopes The Victory

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

A stout-hearted Post Antelope eleven spotted the strong Lockney Longhorns a touchdown in the first quarter, then stormed back in the third quarter to punch over a score of its own and kick the extra point for a hard-earned 7 to 6 victory yesterday in Jones Stadium.

Jack Kirkpatrick's educated toe was the difference in the game, the Antelope halfback calmly booting the point that gave the District 4-A champions the victory. On that one point, Post advanced to the regional game and will meet the winner of the Lefors-Phillips game.

Fine Football Displayed

But before the game ended with Post on top, there was some of the finest high school football of the season unveiled before an estimated crowd of 9,000 persons. It was a clash that featured hard tackling, hard running and good, sound football.

Junior Malouf, Roy Teaff and Charlie McGuire stood out like beacons in the Antelope backfield, while Lockney threw a hard-driving Jerry McCullough and Jack Cole at the winners. In the line, Robert Huckaby and Joe Keeter turned in fine games defensively for the Steers, while Post had reason to be proud of Maurice Fluitt, Jimmy Smith and Donald Carpenter.

But it was the spot running of Post's R. E. Josey that gave the Antelopes a spark when they needed it, slashing, driving his way forward to light the attack. In the end, it was Malouf who did most of the dirty work for Post, while McCullough was the wheelhorse for Lockney.

Steers Open Scoring

The Steers opened the scoring in the first quarter, driving 33 yards on seven plays to send McCullough driving over center into paydirt. There was only 15 seconds of play left in the quarter at that point. McCullough's plunge for the extra point was stopped an inch or two short of the goal that would have given the Steers a tie, and possibly a victory.

Post had to wait until the third quarter to score, although they drove to the Lockney 15-yard line just before the half ended. And a 71-yard surge in the opening moments of the third quarter was halted on the one-inch line.

It was that drive, though, that handed the Antelopes their biggest scoring chance and the second time they made good. They covered 38 yards on five plays with a 15-yard unnecessary roughness penalty against Lockney helping them. Malouf carried the ball every time except once, when McGuire lugged leather, to send the drive into the end zone. Kirkpatrick stepped back, surveyed the goalposts and calmly flipped the ball over the bar to hand the Antelopes the win.

Fumble Ends Threat

Lockney wasn't through with four and a half minutes remaining in the third quarter. Calvin Pyle returned the kickoff to the 26 and a drive of 37 yards started, with Cole passing once to Pyle for a good gain and McCullough lugging consistently. On second down, Lockney went for the distance, pulling Pyle out on an end around.

But the handoff was bad, causing Plye to fumble and an alert Roy Teaff recovered for Post. That was the turning point in the game and when Lockney next got the ball, in the fourth quarter, it was on their own 18-yard line.

Even that wasn't too late a time for them to start a drive, which they did, reaching the Post 36-yard marker. But there the Antelopes held, forcing Lockney to punt. Malouf got off the prize kick of the game at this point, sending a quick kick 71 yards to the Longharn 16.

Break Ends Game

With less than three minutes remaining, Lockney disregarded the air and stayed on the ground, despite one successful pass from McCullough to Plye. Using power, the Steers reached the Antelope 47, where Cole fumbled and Kay Kirkpatrick recovered.

That was the final break that Post needed to stall off the desperate Longhorns and they froze the ball for the remaining few minutes, driving down to the Steer 31-yard line when the game ended.

Play yesterday was hard, but clean, with some of the best tackling and blocking of the season displayed. Both elevens gave ground grudgingly and treated the Thanksgiving Day crowd to a fine football game.

Case Team Drops Western Reserve

CLEVELAND, Nov. 25 (INS) — Fullback Bill Rigot passed for two touchdowns today to lead the Case rough-riders to their first victory over Western Reserve in 11 years, a 15 to 7 Thanksgiving Day contest.

Nearly 14,000 fans in League park saw the underdog Case team move in front to stay by smearing Western Reserve's Adrian Castilla behind the goal line for a first-period safety.

Then Rigot pitched 38 yards to Dave Steigerwald for a second period touchdown and 25 yards to Frank Yarsa for the final Case score in the last quarter. Bob Conklin kicked one extra point for the victors.

The best the defeated Red Cats could do with a fourth period touchdown, effected via a 43-yard Castilla-Johnny Franco pass. Tom Murphy kicked the point.

Never-Say-Die Aggies Battle Longhorns To 14-14 Tie

Texas Knocked Out Of Chance To Share SWC Title With Methodists

AUSTIN, Nov. 25. (AP)—The never-say-die Texas Aggies fought the Texas Longhorns to a 14-14 tie today, knocking Texas out of a chance to share the Southwest Conference championship with Southern Methodist.

It was two touchdowns in the fourth period, plus two place kicks for the extra point by Herb Turley, that gave the Aggies what their partisans jubilantly acclaimed as a moral victory.

For the Aggies, it was the perfect finish for a football season that had been disastrous with nine straight losses. Not since Texas' Memorial stadium was finished in 1924 had the Aggies beaten or tied the Longhorns here.

Wright Recovers, Scores

Th tie portion of that jinx was buried late in the fourth quarter.

Texas had gone ahead by a 14-7 count. The first play after the kick-off, Buryl Baty faded back and aimed a long pass at End Charlie Wright. Texas' Bubba Shands tried to knock it down but it bounced high in the air. Wright made a startling leap to recover it and ran across for the score.

The play was good for 72 yards. Turley's placement cinched the tie.

Texas had at least four good scoring chances in the first half, but the Longhorns could cash in on only one of them. A fumble by Aggie Bob Goode started Texas on this scoring drive from midfield.

Scoreless Periods

Ray Borneman ran to the Aggie 20 on a delayed buck, then Campbell passed 14 yards to End Lewis Holder on the six. After two plays, Borneman shoved over by inches for the touchdown and Randall Clay's place kick for the point was good.

The second and third periods went scoreless.

A pass interception by Aggie Halfback Ralph Daniel set up A. and M.'s first touchdown. He scooted 33 yards to the Texas 27. Passes from James Cashion to Bob Goode and Wright worked the ball down to the Texas two.

From there Goode plunged over for the touchdown and Turley kicked the point.

Landry Intercepts Pass

Texas scored next in 10 plays—a 54-yard drive that started after Tom Landry intercepted one of Cashion's passes. Shands, Landry and Clay carried to the seven on line plays. Campbell then threw a high, wobbly pass to Shands near the goal line flag.

He almost fell out of bounds, but recovered and went over for the score. Clay's kick was good, and Texas apparently had iced the game down. The closing-minute thriller from Baty to Wright followed.

The 68,000 fans that jammed Memorial stadium for the annual clash between the two Big State schools got their money's worth in thrills, good and bad football, and dogged fight.

The ball was changing hands so fast on fumbles and pass interceptions at times that it left the fans bewildered. There were five interceptions and five fumbles.

Missouri's Tigers Win 21 To 7 Victory Over Kansas Jayhawks

Entsminger Paces Split-T Offensive

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 25. (INS)—A record-breaking crowd of 32,000 today saw Bus Entsminger lead Missouri's football Tigers to a 21-7 victory over Kansas and second place in the final Big Seven standings.

Entsminger drove the Missouri split-T offense flawlessly in the first half, when the Tigers got all their points, scoring two of the touchdowns himself.

Entsminger slid two yards off tackle for the Missouri touchdown to climax a 52-yard march. Later in the first period, Dick Braznell swept end for ten yards and the second Tiger touchdown after Nick Carras had set up the score by intercepting a Kansas pass.

A Kansas fumble, recovered by Missouri's Win Carter on the Jayhawk 23, led to the third Tiger t.d. in the second period. Entsminger scored five plays thereafter from a yard away.

Kansas' lone touchdown came in the fourth period after a Missouri fumble. Dick Bertuzzi plunged the final yard for the Jayhawker score and Ken Sperry added the point, as Bob Dawson had in each scoring instance for Missouri.

Nevada Cops 42-12 Win Over Wichita

WICHITA, Kans., Nov. 25. (INS)—Stan Heath, Navada's passin' fool, left one record after another lying in the dust today as he pitched the Wolfpack to a 42-12 conquest of Wichita university.

Heath's touchdown aerial to Carl Robinson in the fourth period, after Nevada had the game safely won, was his 22nd scoring pass of the season. He completed five passes for 144 yards today, running his season's total passing gains to a tremendous 2,005 yards.

In the first period today, Heath passed 20 yards to Dick Trachok for a Navada touchdown after Tommy Kalmanir had plunged over for the t. d. that put the pack in front to stay.

Ted Kondel and Trachok bucked over for Nevada touchdowns in the second and third quarters, respectively, and in the final stanza Heath hit Robinson for one score and Bill Osborne plunged for the final one.

Wichita's two touchdowns came on passes, Harold Reynolds connecting to Anton Houlik in the second period and Earl Hamilton tossing to Eddie Kriehill in the final chapter.

BOB DEAN SHATTERS QUAKER LINE

Cornell Tops Penn, 23 To 14, To Earn Ivy League Grid Title

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25. (AP)—Cornell university's wrecking crew dynamited all the defenses Pennsylvania could build today and blasted to its first Ivy league gridiron title in nine years with a 23 to 14 victory over the Quakers before 78,000 fans at Franklin field.

The Big Red from high above Cayuga's waters did it the hard way, pounding and smashing through a Penn line that had the second best ground defense record in the land before today.

It was a superbly-drilled Cornell team that took everything Penn had to offer and dished out more in the form of a whirling demon named Bob Dean.

The 190-pound fullback from Bloomington, Ind., punched huge holes in the Penn line and capped his collegiate career by scoring one touchdown, setting up another, booting a 20-yard field goal and adding two extra points.

Cornell hadn't beaten Penn since 1939, but it went after this one with an utter disdain for the records. Penn was supposed to be almost invulnerable through the line but none too good on defense against passes.

The Big Red flipped a mere eight passes, only two of which were completed, but cracked Penn's line for 187 yards and the ball game.

There was little question about Cornell's superiority. Chuck Bednarik, the All-America center, and Bernie Lemonick, a brilliant sophomore guard, kept the flood gates closed most of the way with some sterling defensive work. But that was nowhere near enough.

Most of the fireworks came in a five touchdown first half. Cornell scored the first time it got its hands on the ball, marching 55 yards in eight plays within five minutes of the opening whistle.

It was Dean who did the scoring on that one, cracking off his left tackle for five yards.

Brown Tramples Colgate, 35 To 7

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 25 (INS)—Eddie Finn's passing and Roger Young's running sparked Brown to a 35 to 7 victory over Colgate today in the two schools' traditional Thanksgiving morning football game. Twenty thousand fans were in Brown stadium for the turkey day classic.

Finn threw three touchdown passes, one each to George Paterno, Frank Mahoney and Chuck Nelson in bringing his brilliant college football career to a close.

The game was scarcely three minutes old when Finn passed to Paterno for a touchdown.

Colgate fought back to tie the score briefly at 7 to 7 with a 50 yard march ending with a short touchdown pass from Carroll McLoughlin to Harry Wylie.

But then Young ran the ensuing kickoff back 76 yards to the Colgate eight, and in four line smashes Fred Kozak scored to put Brown in front again in the beginning of the victory march.

The fourth touchdown came on a 98-yard drive, which was spurred by two 15-yard penalties against Colgate. The payoff came on a pass from Finn to Nelson.

Johnny Scott then intercepted a pass on the Colgate 30 and Loren Rodewig ultimately went over for the final score.

The victory was Brown's sixth in its eight starts for the season, its first really successful campaign since 1932.

BROWNS RETAIN RECORD

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25. (AP)—The Cleveland Browns kept their unblemished record intact today, defeating the Los Angeles Dons, 31 to 14 in an All-American Football Conference game before 60,031 fans in Memorial Coliseum.

Wake Forest's Demons Triumph

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 25 (INS)—Wake Forest's Demon Deacons lived up to expectations today in defeating the University of South Carolina Gamecocks, 38-0, before a crowd of 18,000 fans.

Wake Forest, who has accepted an invitation to play in the Dixie Bowl at Birmingham New Year's Day, got its sixth win of the year against three defeats in downing the Gamecocks.

The Gamecocks fumbled the ball on several occasions at crucial moments.

Virginia Military Institute Beats Virginia Polytechnic

ROANOKE, Va., Nov. 25. (INS)—Virginia Military Institute, led by Bobby Thomason's accurate passing, today defeated Virginia Polytechnic Institute 33-7 in their 44th renewal of their annual turkey day football rivalry.

VPI jumped into the lead early in the game, drawing first blood in the initial quarter when Ralph Beard scooted across the double stripes after six minutes of play. Orr converted. After that, however, it was Thomason and VMI all the way.

Davidson Concludes Season With Victory Over Furman

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Nov. 25. (INS)—Davidson concluded its 1948 football season in Charlotte this afternoon with a 7-0 turkey day victory over the Furman Hurricanes.

The sole touchdown, which came in the second quarter, enabled Davidson to finish the season with a record of three victories against one tie and five defeats.

Furman also suffered five defeats during the current season, while winning three and tying one.

Denver University Squad Closes Season With Win Over Wyoming

DENVER, Nov. 25. (INS)—Denver university topped its 1948 football season today with a 13 to 0 victory over the Wyoming Cowboys in Hilltop stadium, for third place in the final Big Six Conference standings.

A crowd of 20,000 turkey day fans, numb with cold, saw the Pioneers put a fitting climax to an amazing comeback that began when they tied Georgetown after losing five straight games. The win today was the third in a row for the Pioneers.

St. Louis University Hands Kansas State 21-7 Defeat

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 25. (INS)—St. Louis university today handed Kansas State its ninth football loss in ten games this season, stifling the Wildcats 21 to 7 before 8,237 Thanksgiving Day fans.

Howard Nevius provided the 'Cats with their only moment of joy with a brilliant 47-yard run for their only touchdown on the final play of the third quarter.

Ranger Beats Hillsboro, 39-0, To Capture Texas Junior Title

HILLSBORO, Nov. 25. (AP)—Ranger beat Hillsboro 39-0 today to win the northwest region championship of the north zone of the Texas Junior College Conference.

Ranger scored all its points in the second and third periods, two of the touchdowns coming on runs by Shorty Brock. He sped 87 yards with one and 27 for the other.

Junior Arterburne, Brawley, Frazier and Oates made the other Ranger touchdowns and McClendon kicked two points after touchdown.

Boudreau Wins Player Award

Tribe Manager Named Most Valuable With Landslide Total Of 324 Points

By DAVIS J. WALSH
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 25. — Cleveland's superlative Lou Boudreau, toast of all dugouts and the pride of his own, was named tonight—practically by acclamation — to the 1948 American league's most valuable player award with a record 324 points.

In other words, the playing manager of the world champion Indians got only 12 less points than a perfect 336—a "landslide" no one else in baseball ever has accomplished before.

DiMaggio In Second

Nobody else was close. In fact, last year's winner, Joe DiMaggio, of the Yankees, finished more than 100 points back in second place.

Boudreau got 22 of the 24 first-place votes cast by the Baseball Writers association selection committee, thus scoring a brisk one-two punch at the expense of Stan Musial. Briefly, he broke one of Stan's major league balloting records and equalled another.

Until the Boudreau landslide, Musial's 22 first places and 319 points in winning the National league's award in 1946 had stood unchallenged. The other two first-place ballots, on that occasion, went to Musial's talented colleague on the Cardinals, Enos Slaughter.

This time, it was the distinguished DiMaggio who got the two firsts, to wind up as runner-up with 213 points.

Boston's Ted Williams, the American league batting champion, got none in the top category but polled enough favor thereafter to finish third at 171 points. His shortstopping associate, Vern Stephens, was next in line with 121.

Of the others, only Bob Lemon, Cleveland pitcher who got 101 points, was able to finish above the century mark.

All told, Boudreau's sweep through the ballot box was the greatest personal tribute in league history—no piffling matter, considering that there once was a man named Ruth.

The award wasn't in circulation when Cobb, Speaker and Sisler flourished.

Made 199 Hits

Of the two "top" votes Boudreau didn't get, one placed him second and the other fourth—a rather unflattering rating for a gent who hit .355 for second place behind Williams, made 199 hits, including 18 homers; drove in 107 runs, and fielded like a man with a fish-net.

The Cleveland shortstop's additional feat in leading the Indians to their first pennant in 28 years and then a world's championship went unrecognized, perforce, by the committee which is required to consider its candidates on playing merit only.

However, it may be mentioned that he's the first player-manager to be so honored since Mickey Cochrane got the award with Detroit back in the mid-30's. He's also the first Clevelander elected in more than 20 years.

Boudreau and DiMaggio shared one distinction—neither was rated below fourth place on any ballot. In fact, only two of the 24 votes placed them that low.

DiMaggio got 10 seconds and 11 thirds, in addition to his pair of firsts. Seven votes named Williams for second place and five for third, but thereafter came a marked decline in esteem, including single votes for eighth and ninth.

yet," she told the Morning Avalanche.

She said the bandits raced the motor to the 1941 Pontiac and then roared off. Talbert worked his bonds loose first and then helped free Morris. Talbert then went for police while Morris freed the other holdup victims.

Alert Sounded In Area

Mrs. Morris said that the show went into winter quarters about four weeks ago. She said that she understood that it was not "unusual" for large sums of money to be in the safes.

"In fact," she said, "I understand that sometimes there are several times that much cash in the safes. Most of the money taken, I believe, was in bills. The small change was in paper rolls."

On the South Plains the Texas Highway patrol, the Lubbock county sheriff's department and Lubbock city police had been alerted by a statewide police radio alarm filed by the Big Spring police department and the Howard county sheriff's department who were pushing an investigation into the robbery.

Suspect Sought

of the theater. Urtado staggered back into the lobby of the place after the shooting occurred, and the attacker made his get-away in a nearby automobile.

Two slugs, believed to be from a .38 caliber revolver, had penetrated Urtado's body. One slug had gone completely through the chest from one side to the other. The second bullet entered the man's back, possibly angling downward into the stomach cavity.

Two Youths Sought

Two other Latin - American youths were sought for questioning in connection with the shooting, both allegedly having been with Cisnero during the evening.

Rifle and pistol shots in the negro section of Lubbock broke the pre-Thanksgiving quietness before midnight Wednesday, but no one was injured.

Three negroes, one of them a juvenile, were arrested pending further investigation.

They Went "Hunting"

A 16-year-old youth allegedly took a .22 rifle belonging to his father and, joined by one, perhaps two other juveniles, went hunting for Burnell Trumble, 18, a negro they said had been pushing the 16-year-old black around.

Shots were fired, and Trumble and the 16-year-old were arrested. Officials want to talk with other juveniles, they said.

Fred Coleman, 41, a negro, was arrested after a complaint of George Brown that blacks were shooting up his cafe in the Queen City negro residential addition. Another negro was able to escape before officers arrived. No charges had been filed.

A 22-year-old Lubbock negro was arrested late last night for carrying a prohibited weapon, a long-bladed hunting knife, after a party in the Queen City negro section had reported the man to the sheriff's office.

A 1940 Ford, license AP 1713, was reported stolen in Lubbock last night, and a 1938 Ford sedan, license AL 1188 was reported stolen from Lockney.

A hunting knife, valued at $5, was taken from the car of W. C. Jones of 1409 Ave. O. The car was parked in 1000-block of Texas Ave., he told police.

A $65 bike stolen early in the day from Bobby Brand of 2318 Nineteenth was later marked recovered by police.

Strike Settlements

era for West coast shipping."

The Pacific American Steamship association must still settle with the CIO Marine Cooks and Stewards, the independent firemen and the CIO radio operators. An agreement was reached sometime ago with the marine engineers but it was contingent upon settlement with the other unions.

East Coast Wins Hike

East coast terms:

1. A 13-cent hourly wage increase retroactive to Aug. 21 when previous contracts expired. The longshoremen's previous lowest demand was 25 cents an hour increase. The employers had originally offered 10 cents. Straight daytime pay was $1.75 an hour.

2. A welfare plan of undisclosed scope.

3. Retention of the traditional twice-a-day "shapeup" or work call, with the guarantee of four hours work for men called to work only once in a single day.

4. Extra vacation benefits.

5. An increase of 19½ cents hourly in the present night, weekend and over time pay rate of $2.62½, retroactive to Aug. 21.

The terms were accepted by negotiating committees headed by Joseph P. Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's association, and John V. Lyon, chairman of the New York Shipping association, representing employers.

Nearly $30,000,000 worth of Marshall plan cargo has piled up as a result of the East Coast strike. Unofficial estimates of the losses caused by the strike run into millions of dollars.

On the West coast, the tieup has cost an employer-estimated $4,000,000 per day.

THREE LOST AT SEA

GUAM, Friday, Nov. 26. (AP)—The motorship Santa Maria sank about 750 miles northeast of Guam today. At least three crew members were believed lost. Navy rescue vessels were standing by after 14 other men were picked up safe. Reports relayed here said the American-owned motorship went down at 10 a. m. in heavy seas. It developed a port list. The main deck bulkhead was swept away. Life rafts were lost.

NO ONE HURT

Bus Takes Off On Driverless Spree

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25. (AP)—Driver Russell Luke brought his Greyhound bus in from its regular run and discharged his passengers in the station at Fifth and Mission streets.

He moved the bus to the front of the depot, turned off the motor, set the emergency brake and put the bus in first gear, then left the depot.

About 15 minutes later the bus figuratively shrugged itself and rolled down a slight ramp. The diesel engine started and the machine was on its way under power.

Ordinarily Mission street is crowded with streetcars, pedestrians and automobiles. But today it was deserted. The bus rolled across the street, thence through a block-long parking lot, which likewise was empty, and across Minna street.

There its journey ended with a slump against the brick wall of the Mint hotel. The wall and the front of the bus were smashed. No one was hurt.

Policeman Robert Thomson, who investigated, said the hydraulic brakes apparently lost their grip due to a leak and gave the bus its rolling start.

America Celebrates

elders, too. Police estimated the total at 2,250,000.

Squeals of glee greeted not only St. Nick but giant helium-filled balloons representing such things as a pirate and a crocodile, a candy cane, monkey on a trapeze and countless other merriment makers.

Strike Settlement Welcomed

Police holding the crowds back winkingly turned the other way when kids scooted under barricades to get a better look.

The early morning hours brought an occurrence which was not a usual feature of Thanksgiving day but which nevertheless was heartily welcomed. Union and employed representatives reached agreement on terms to settle the long and costly East coast dock workers' strike. Union members must approve the settlement, however.

Among other things, the strike has held up countless European aid shipments.

Hundreds of the striking longshoremen happily sat down later to turkey dinners provided by a group of AFL unions.

DPs Enjoy Repast

A group of 23 persons had a special reason to give thanks in Los Angeles. An air liner on which they were riding made a bumpy landing in a fog at the airport there and caught fire and burned. The passengers got quite a jolt but they and the crew escaped injury.

In New York, a group of 63 displaced persons arrived in time to help celebrate the day. Enroute from Munich, Germany, to new homes in Caracas, Venezuela, they had a real old-fashioned American holiday dinner at international airport during a stopover.

The group ranged in age from five months to 70 years.

All enjoyed the repast, but they showed particular appreciation of the great amounts of butter and milk on the tables.

Bowery Residents Served

Traditional—in its own way—was the annual dinner of the Vegetarian society of New York. The 175 members sat down to a $3.50 dinner of vegetables, but they had pumpkin pie in honor of the occasion. Speakers urged that vegetarianism be adopted throughout the world.

Another notable occasion was that on New York's Bowery—home of the down-and-outers. Dinner was served to all who asked, and three habitues of the area were selected by the Bowery Comeback association for financial and other aid in a new start in life.

Among them was the first woman chosen for such a project.

She identified herself as Mrs. Gladys Layton, 42, a former waitress who said her husband and daughter died on the same day nine years ago, and that since last January she had had no place to sleep except subway stations, halls and railroad stations.

Said she:

"It's the best Thanksgiving day I ever had."

OBSERVANCE OF HOLIDAY OVER SOUTH PLAINS QUIET

A quiet Thanksgiving day passed in Lubbock Thursday, with a majority of the city's residents spending most of the day in their homes, enjoying a welcome respite from everyday work, giving thanks for the year's blessings, and visualizing the Christmas holidays soon to come.

Most of the business places were closed in observance of the traditional day of thanks.

Streets were practically barren of people as most of those who left the comfort of an easy chair by the fire attended Thanksgiving services in church and football games scheduled in the area. Virtually all churches impressed upon those in attendance the true, unselfish spirit of Thanksgiving day.

Aprroximately 500 students of Lubbock High school and many townspeople went to Brownfield in the afternoon, where they saw the Lubbock Westerners roll easily over the host team, 46-0.

The Lockney-Post playoff in Jones Stadium for the bi-district championship afforded entertainment for approximately 8,000 grid fans, who saw Post emerge with a 7-6 victory from one of the hardest-fought scrambles of the season. Other holiday grid games which drew sizeable crowds were Hale Center and Idalou at Abernathy, Plainview and Amarillo at Amarillo, and Borger and Pampa at Pampa.

Weather Threatened To Upset Invasion

would be ironed out and corrected.

This meeting gave us an opportunity to hear a word from both the King and the Prime Minister. The later made one his typical fighting speeches, in the course of which he used an expression that struck many of us, particularly the Americans, with peculiar force. He said, "Gentlemen, I am hardening toward this enterprise," meaning to us that, though he had long doubted its feasibility and had previously advocated its further postponement in favor of operations elsewhere, he had finally, at this late date, come to believe with the rest of us that this was the true course of action in order to achieve victory.

BY the time the operational staffs had moved to Portsmouth, I felt that the only remaining great decision to be faced before D-Day was that of fixing, definitely, the day and hour of the assault. However, the old question of the wisdom of airborne operation into the Cherbourg peninsula was not yet fully settled in Air Chief Marshal Leigh-Mallory's mind.

On May 30 he came to me to protest once more against what he termed the "futile slaughter" of two fine divisions. He believed that the combination of unsuitable landing grounds and anticipated resistance was too great a hazard to overcome. He estimated that among the American outfits we would suffer some 70 per cent losses in glider strength and at least 50 per cent in paratroop strength before the airborne troops could land. Consequently the divisions would have no remaining tactical power and the attack would not only result in the sacrifice of many thousand men but would be helpless to effect the outcome of the general assault.

Leigh-Mallory was, of course, earnestly sincere. He was noted for personal courage and was merely giving me, as was his duty, his frank convictions.

Had To Study Possibilities

It would be difficult to conceive of a more soul-racking problem. If my technical expert was correct, then the planned operation was worse than subborn folly, because even at the enormous cost predicted we could not gain the principal object of the drop. Moreover, if he was right, it appeared that the attack on Utah Beach was probably hopeless, and this meant that the whole operation suddenly acquired a degree of risk, even foolhardiness, that presaged a gigantic failure, possibly Allied defeat in Europe.

I went to my tent alone and sat down to think. Over and over I reviewed each step, somewhat in the sequence set down here, but more thoroughly and exhaustively. I realized of course, that if I deliberately disregarded the advice of my technical expert on the subject, and his predictions should prove accurate, then I would carry to my grave the unbearable burden of a conscience justly accusing me of the stupid, blind sacrifice of thousands of the flower of our youth. Outweighing any personal burden, however, was the possibility that if he were right the effect of the disaster would be far more than local: it would be likely to spread to the entire force.

LEIGH-MALLORY'S estimate was just an estimate, nothing more, and our experience in Sicily and Italy did not, by any means, support his degree of pessimism. Bradley, with Ridgway and other air-borne commanders, had always supported me and the staff in the matter, and I was encouraged to persist in the belief that Leigh-Mallory was wrong!

I telephoned him that the attack would go as planned and that I would confirm this at once in writing. When, later, the attack was successful he was the first to call me to voice his delight and to express his regret that he had found it necessary to add to my personal burdens during the final tense days before D-day.

There was, of course, much to do aside from merely waiting to make the final decision concerning the timing of the attack. We had visits from many important officials. One of our final visitors was General de Gaulle, with whom some disagreement developed, involving the actual timing and nature of pronouncements to be made to the French population immediately upon landing.

De Gaulle Wanted All Authority

General de Gaulle wanted to be clearly and definitely recognized by both the Allied governments as the ruler of France. He insisted that he alone had the right to give orders to the French population in directing the necessary co-operation with the Allied forces.

President Rooseyelt was flatly opposed to giving General de Gaulle this specific and particular type of recognition. The President then, as always, made a great point of his insistence that sovereignty in France resided in the people, that the Allies were not entering France in order to force upon the population a particular government or a particular ruler.

THE STAFF thought the argument was, in a sense, academic. It was considered that, in the initial stages of the operation at least, De Gaulle would represent the only authority that could produce any kind of French co-ordination and unification and that no harm would result from giving him the kind of recognition he sought.

He would merely be placed on notice that once the country was liberated the freely expressed will of the French people would determine their own government and leader. We had already, with the consent of our governments, accepted De Gaulle's representative, General Koenig, as the commander of the French Forces of the Interior, who was serving as a direct subordinate of mine in the Allied organization.

We particularly desired De Gaulle to participate with me in broadcasting on D-Day to the French people so that the population, avoiding uprisings and useless sacrifice at non-critical points, would still be instantly ready to help us where help was needed. We worked hard, within the limits of our instructions, to win De Gaulle to our point of view, but although after the campaign was started he co-operated with us effectively, he did not meet our requests at the moment.

Final Date Set

The final conference for determining the feasibility of attacking on the tentatively selected day, June 5, was scheduled for 4:00 a. m. on June 4. However, some of the attacking contingents had already been ordered to sea, because if the entire force was to land on June 5, then some of the important elements stationed in northern parts of the United Kingdom could not wait for final decision on the morning of June 4.

When the commanders assembled on the morning of June 4 the report we received was discouraging. Low clouds, high winds, and formidable wave action were predicted to make landing a most hazardous affair. The meteorologists said that air support would be impossible, naval gunfire would be inefficient, and even the handling of small boats would be rendered difficult.

WEIGHING all factors, I decided the attack would have to be postponed. This decision necessitated the immediate dispatch of orders to the vessels and troops already at sea and created some doubt as to whether they could be ready twenty-four hours later in case the next day should prove favorable for the assault.

The conference on the evening of June 4 presented little, if any, added brightness to the picture of the morning, and tension mounted even higher because the inescapable consequences of postponement were almost too bitter to contemplate.

At 3:30 the next morning our little camp was shaking and shuddering under a wind of almost hurricane proportions and the accompanying rain seemed to be traveling in horizontal streaks. The mile-long trip through muddy roads to the naval headquarters was anything but a cheerful one, since it seemed impossible that in such conditions there was any reason for even discussing the situation.

Change Was Forecast

When the conference started the first report given us by Group Captain Stagg and the Meteorologic Staff was that the bad conditions predicted the day before for the coast of France were actually prevailing there and that if we had persisted in the attempt to land on June 5 a major disaster would almost surely have resulted.

This they probably told us to inspire more confidence in their next astonishing declaration, which was that by the following morning a period of relatively good weather, heretofore completely unexpected, would ensue, lasting, probably thirty-six hours.

THE prospect was not bright because of the possibility that we might land the first several waves successfully and then find later build-up impracticable, and so have to leave the isolated original attacking forces easy prey to German counteraction. However, the consequences of the delay justified great risk and I quickly announced the decision to go ahead with the attack on June 6.

The time was then 4:15 a. m., June 5. No one present disagreed and there was a definite brightening of faces as, without a further word, each went off to his respective post of duty to flash out to his command the messages that would set the whole host in motion.

Churchill Refused Trip

A number of people appealed to me for permission to go aboard the supporting naval ships in order to witness the attack. Among those who were refused permission was the Prime Minister. His request was undoubtedly inspired as much by his natural instincts as a warrior as by his impatience at the prospect of sitting quietly back in London to await reports. I argued, however, that the chance of his becoming an accidental casualty was too important from the standpoint of the whole war effort and I refused his request.

He replied, with complete accuracy, that while I was in sole command of the operation by virtue of authority delegated to me by both governments, such authority did not include administrative control over the British organization.

He said, "Since this is true it is not part of your responsibility, my dear General, to determine the exact composition of any ship's company in His Majesty's Fleet. This being true," he rather slyly continued, "by shipping myself as a bona fide member of a ship's complement it would be beyond your authority to prevent my going."

ALL of this I had ruefully to concede, but I forcefully pointed out that he was adding to my personal burdens in this thwarting of my instructions. Even, however, while I was acknowledging defeat in the matter, aid came from an unexpected source.

I later heard that the King had learned of the Prime Minister's intention and, while not presuming to interfere with the decision reached by Mr. Churchill, he sent word that if the Prime Minister felt it necessary to go on the expedition he, the King, felt it to be equally his duty and privilege to participate at the head of his troops. This instantly placed a different light upon the matter and I heard no more of it.

("D-Day and Lodgment" is the chapter title in "Crusade in Europe" for General Eisenhower's own description of the fighting in the fields of Normandy while force was being built up for the great breakout which sent the Allied armies plunging deep into Europe. It was an anxious time. Storms, V-1 and V-2 bombs, and bitter German resistance slowed up the difficult job of coiling the springs for breakout.

This is described in the fifteenth installment of "Crusade in Europe," which will be published in this newspaper tomorrow.)

Alliance Discussions

of our age," he said, if western Europe should fall under the domination of Russia.

Strong support for military, as well as economic aid, for western Europe came, too, from a committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The recommendations were made in a special report by a United States Chamber of Commerce committee reviewing political relations between America and the Soviets.

Threat Claimed Dangerous

The report labeled "The Soviet Threat" to the security and structure of western society "the most dangerous and baffling known to modern history."

Headed by Clem D. Johnston of Roanoke, Va., the committee urged this government to make it plain to Russian leaders that:

1. "The United States, by word and action, will avoid both aggression and the path that leads to appeasement.

2. "The United States will develop not only its own means of defense, but will assist economic cooperation administration nations to help themselves economically and militarily."

At the same time, the report warned that the "present struggle is likely to continue for some years, and may even increase in scope and intensity."

Would Correct Weaknesses

Therefore, it suggested that U. S. businessmen assume the responsibility of correcting "any social, economic and political weaknesses in the American system, actual or potential, upon which Communism may feed."

The report added:

"The Communist movement has its roots mainly in the complexities of modern industrialism. Military strength-in-being may prevent war, but it cannot destroy these roots."

The report acknowledged that the "strained relations" between the U. S. and Russia "are causing grave apprehensions here and throughout the world."

But, the businessmen wrote, this country "must use the machinery of the United Nations whenever possible" to avoid war and, at the same time, we "must demonstrate and exert leadership that will merit continuing respect both at home and abroad."

The unusually frank report pointed out that "what the Kremlin seems to respect is force and only force."

ommends the immediate withdrawal of all foreign troops and foreign military personnel from territory of the Jewish and Arab states in Palestine whose establishment is provided by the decision of the General Assembly of Nov. 29, 1947."

He said this would be a step to prevent resumption of military operations in Palestine.

Britain Revises Stand

Another top development in the Palestine case was the submission by Britain of a revision of her resolution which a spokesman said was designed to bring closer together the British and American viewpoints.

It still asked that the last report of Count Folke Bernadotte, slain UN mediator, be taken as a basis for a permanent settlement, however, and the British indicated they still favored giving the Jewish-occupied Negev to the Arabs.

The Americans have proposed hewing closer to the original UN partition scheme which gave the Negev to the Jews.

Elsewhere in the UN:

1. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky said he would vote against re-submitting membership applications of Italy, Finland, Portugal, Trans-Jordan, Eire and Ceylon to the Security Council.

2. Juan Bramuglia of Argentina decided not to publish the answers of Britain, the United States and France to his questionnaire on the Berlin currency question until he gets an okay from the Kremlin to publish the Russian reply.

3. The Security Council heard the charges of Pakistan, and the denials of India, that India has started offensives in Kashmir state.

Yule Decorations

fic similar in volume to that of a harvest-time Saturday night jammed downtown Lubbock streets as Mr. and Mrs. Lubbock and their offspring, stuffed full of Thanksgiving turkey, took a first-time look at local merchants' 1948 Christmas decorations and merchandise.

The miles of Christmas decorations, hung during the past week, gave an air of festivity to approximately 25 blocks in the downtown part of the city.

Sidewalks, however, bore less traffic, and a great part of the sidewalk window shoppers were children who were determined their parents should take them out for closer inspection of retail offerings—especially toys.

One small girl, who with her mother was running the gamut of toy displays in a store window grew more ecstatic as she edged slowly down the length of the window.

Another youngster, a lad of approximately four years, stood glued to one spot in front of an electric train display. The trains weren't running, but he felt pretty sure they would if he just waited long enough.

Oldsters, too, were joining in the fun, and exclaimed almost as excitedly over fur coats, automatic washers, radio-phonographs, jewelry, and similar merchandise, as the youngsters did over toys.

Holiday music in the downtown area began at 7 p. m. Thursday night, with Mrs. Nell Oldham at the carillon, assisted by Gene Horton. Broadcast of the carols from the carillon, the keyboard of which is in the lobby of Hilton hotel, will be at one-hour intervals during the early part of the Christmas season, and later will be heard at half-hour intervals.

Texas Teachers Meet At Dallas

DALLAS, Nov. 25. (AP)—Federal aid to schools was offered here today as the only way to provide equal educational opportunities in America.

Frank P. Graham, president of the University of North Carolina, said in a speech prepared for delivery tonight before the first general assembly of the Texas State Teachers convention:

"The only agency that can redress the imbalance between the largest per capita concentration of children and the largest per capita concentration of wealth is the federal government."

He said "the crisis in the schools is basically related to the crisis in the world," adding:

"We cannot pinch our way out. We must invest in the intelligence and the human spirit."

Several thousand teachers from over the state are in Dallas for the opening of the 70th annual convention of the Texas State Teachers association.

The teachers heard a Thanksgiving day sermon at the opening of the three-day convention. The sermon was delivered by Dr. W. A. Criswell, pastor of the Dallas First Baptist church.

It was believed that the Gilmer-Aiken report on proposed changes in the state's educational setup would command the major part of the teachers' attention.

State Sen. James E. Taylor, a member of the committee which framed the report, discussed the proposals in full at the general session tonight.

Taylor, chairman of the controversial Gilmer-Aiken committee, said the group's 33 proposals for reforming the state's school system "simply translate the demands of the people into concrete form."

He said "there is not a single proposal in our report which has not received public approval."

The proposals include "radical changes in our present system of education. However, these changes are essential to the development of a modern educational system," he said.

Gov. Dewey And Family Back At New York Home For Holiday

NEW YORK, Nov. 25. (INS)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and his family came home from their post-election Arizona vacation today in time to enjoy their Thanksgiving turkey at the Governor's Pawling, N. Y., farm.

Dewey appeared in excellent health when he stepped off an American airliner at LaGuardia field. He said he had played lots of golf and enjoyed himself—but he would not talk politics.

Clothing Drive Is Planned Here

Members of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce are to join with the Salvation Army in a campaign to collect clothing for needy children in Lubbock.

School officials have estimated that on extremely cold days, between 1,000 and 2,000 school children do not attend school simply because they do not have enough warm clothes to wear.

So on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, Lubbock Jaycees will conduct a children's clothing collection. Jaycees will make a house-to-house canvass of the city, picking up surplus and discarded clothing to be distributed among these children.

A careful screening of the needs of each child will be made so that he or she will receive proper amount of warm clothing. All clothing collected in the drive will be dry cleaned by Corcorran's Tailors.

Capt. Thomas Gregory of the Salvation Army will direct screening of cases and distribution of the clothing.

Anyone having clothing they wish to donate to the drive may do so by calling the Jaycee office—6861, and a Jaycee car will call for the clothing.

Mother Accused Of Beating Boy For 24 Hours, Jailed

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25. (INS)—Arthur (Jackie) Harvey, 7, ragged, dirty and covered with bruises almost from head to foot, spent Thanksgiving in juvenile hall today.

He was in the detention home because his mother, Mrs. Pearl Harvey, 29, was in the county jail, charged with suspicion of beating him with an inch-thick board and a leather belt.

She was jailed yesterday after neighbors complained that she had beaten the boy almost continuously for 24 hours.

Juvenile hall authorities said the boy told them: "She beat me just all the time."

A physician who examined the lad said that, besides his bruises, he was suffering from malnutrition and rickets.

Mrs. Harvey said the boy was the only one of her five children who gave her any trouble. She denied punishing him excessively.

TWA Airliner Lands In Flames At Los Angeles

23 Escape Death Aboard Plane

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25. (AP)—Twenty-three persons, coming in for a Thanksgiving Day landing, were jolted but otherwise escaped unhurt when their TWA airliner from the east descended hard onto the municipal airport in a heavy early morning fog, then caught fire and burned.

The pilot, Capt. Evan Lewis, 44, of Los Angeles, said the fire broke out in one of the four engines shortly after the huge plane came to a stop near the end of a fog-shrouded runway.

However, all of the 18 passengers, including four children, and the crew of five descended to safety onto the runway, he said, before the flames swept aft into the luxurious cabin. He said he did not know what caused the fire.

Plane Bumped On Runway

"We came down harder than usual and the plane bumped on the runway," said Lewis. "Then fire broke out in the outboard engine on the right wing and the plane veered off the runway, just missing a ditch.

With the flames gaining headway, Lewis said he rushed back into the passenger compartment to find one of the hostesses struggling to open the rear emergency exit door. He pushed against it and it flew open.

"Before I could get the emergency ladder down, two or three passengers leaped to the ground," said Lewis.

Among the first he assisted from the plane were Mrs. William G. Gitman of Dayton, Ohio, and her four small children, Stewart, Allen, Larry and Sharen. She said she was worried for the children but not for herself.

No Panic On Plane

Miss Suzanne Reynolds of Riverside, Calif., who had been on a buying trip to New York for her father's department store, boarded the plane at Chicago.

"I felt a sharp bump," said Miss Reynolds. "Then I saw what I thought was a gigantic flashlight. But it was the flames. There was mild excitement but no panic, no pushing or screaming."

Another passenger, Sam Glass, advertising manager of a Kansas City, Mo., Refrigeration company (Koch) described the scene thusly.

"I was sitting with one of the hostesses. I had just asked her why we were late and she said it was because of the overcast. Just then we hit a terrific jar.

"Then I saw a flame on the right wing tip. The flames spread. A hostess tried to open an exit door. It was stuck and a flight officer finally got it open, but with difficulty. Some of us climbed down the emergency ladder after several men jumped the eight or 10 feet from the ground."

First Christian Church Plans Dedication Ceremonies Sunday

Formal dedicatory ceremonies for the new First Christian church will be conducted at the church at 3 p. m. Sunday.

The church will be dedicated debt-free, Rev. Travis A. White, minister, announced Thursday.

Dr. D. Ray Lindley, dean of Brite College of Bible of Texas Christian university, Fort Worth, will be principal speaker at the service, and Dr. H. G. Gantz, former minister of the Lubbock church, and now minister of the First Christian church of Tulsa, will lead the ritual of dedication.

Open House Scheduled

Two Killed, Four Injured In 'Double Deck' Bomber Crash

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25. (AP)—An unusual plane accident at nearby Andrews (Md.) Air Force base early today killed two men and injured four others.

Officers at the field said a B-25 bomber from Bolling Air Force base here crashed on top of a twin-engine craft which had just made a safe landing in bad weather.

All those killed and injured were aboard the landed plane which came from Craig (Ala.) Air Force base.

Names of the victims were withheld.

MR. CLAUS ENJOYS HIS JOB

Santa Abandons Diet Plans To Hear Pleas Of Area Children

By BILL CLARK
Avalanche Staff Writer

Santa Claus stroked his long white beard reflectively, then patted his ample abdomen and said:

"Yessir, it certainly has its good points, this business of taking orders of Lubbock youngsters for what they want to find on their Christmas tree about a month from now."

"You see," the jolly old gentleman explained, "last summer I gained so much weight that I was planning to go on a diet. But now, I have a very good excuse for postponing it until after Christmas."

To Hear Many Pleas

He's Santa Claus today, and a very realistic one at that. He has set up his throne in the toy department of Sears, Roebuck and company, where he will listen to thousands of youngsters who walk up a specially prepared junior-sized ramp to whisper in his ear and deposit their letters in a real Santa Claus mailbox.

He's Santa Claus today, but yesterday he was Oscar Flowers of Lubbock. And as Oscar Flowers, the chances are he ate a thumping big Thanksgiving dinner.

"I had a cooking job up in New Mexico all summer," the kind-faced Flowers explains. "I'll have to admit that I ate more than was good for me, and it showed up in my waist line."

"I was planning to start on a reducing diet before Thanksgiving. Then I talked to Mr. O'Mara (W. C. O'Mara, manager of the store) and when he agreed to appoint me as official Santa Claus, I decided to put off the diet for a while. It's more realistic this way."

Easy To Identify

AMERICA HAS SCIENTIFIC EDGE

Red Armed Forces Believed To Outnumber U.S. Four To One

By ALLAN J. FUNCH
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25—National defense authorities estimated today the Russian armed forces on land, sea and in the air outnumber U. S. forces in being about four-to-one.

These officials also brought forth figures to show that Russia's navy, generally believed to be non-existent, actually is one-third greater in manpower than that of the United States.

The authorities, whose business it is to keep atop the latest available figures on the world's armies, navies and air forces, estimated that Russian forces, including security police, total 4,050,000 men.

Red Navy Larger

If the 1,142,000 men available to Russia from satellite nations is added to this sizable figure, the total becomes a staggering 5,192,000 men under arms.

This compares with a grand total of 1,461,451 men under arms in the United States.

A further breakdown of the Russian figures shows that the Soviet navy boasts a manpower of approximately 600,008 men. This compares with recent U. S. naval figures of 419,451 men.

The figures show that in every single category, Russian forces in being outnumber U. S. forces. Here's a quick look at how U. S. defense officials stack up the comparative forces:

Russia: Army, 2,600,000. Navy, 600,000. Air Force, 450,000. Security police, 400,000. Totals 4,050,000.

United States: Army, 636,000. Navy, 419,451 (plus 83,715 Marines). Air Force, 406,000. Totals, 1,461,451.

More Than Men Needed

U. S. defense officials are quick to point out, however, that manpower alone is not enough to win a war, and that the United States has always stood head and shoulders above the rest of the world in technological advances.

But it must also be remembered, these authorities point out, that Russia today is concentrating on developing the mechanical phases of war.

In this connection, they point out that Russia's fleet of at least 250 late-type submarines. Some of these subs have schnorkel tubes to permit long underwater trips—as far as 3,000 miles, if necessary—and high-speed engines.

It was recalled that in the recent naval maneuvers in the North Atlantic a small submarine squadron of only eight improved subs outmaneuvered and theoretically sank a task force of almost 100 ships.

Fear New Model Subs

Russia's submarine fleet is primarily made up of late-type ships taken from the Germans at the end of the war. But U. S. officials are worried that the Russians, aided by German scientists, engineers and technicians, may also have in production a sub streamlined to resemble a raindrop and capable of speeds up to 25 knots an hour completely submerged.

At 25 knots these submarines could, while still submerged, overtake the fastest of convoys.

It is even doubtful, according to some authorities, if our present submarine-detecting devices could locate such a sub, and, if it did detect it, whether it could keep "in touch" with it.

This would be particularly true if the sub could "cruise" at about 1,000 feet below the surface with the newly-developed hydrogen-peroxide turbine engine.

Damage Claimed Caused By Smog

TEXAS CITY, Nov. 25. (U.P.) — The chemically potent smog that has wreaked havoc with paint jobs in Texas City homes was in the hands of attorneys today.

Some 100 home owners living in the so-called "big industries" area between the business district and the Houston-Galveston highway met this week, hired a law firm, and asked that a chemist be employed to analyze the paint, soil and shrubs.

Then, when a chemical analysis has led to the plant where the smog originates, the home owners want to go to court to recover the damages.

The offending combination of smoke, fog and evil-smelling gases was first reported a week ago, when several residents complained that their white houses were slowly turning pink. At this week's session, the pink-tinged dwellings were said to be turning black.

A specially-organized citizens committee announced that 150 homes have been damaged so far, with a maximum of $500 damages to each dwelling.

Attorneys who will handle the court action are T. B. Stubbs and W. D. Decker, both of Galveston. Named to work with them was a group of home owners composed of Paul Malone, Leon Mason, Ed Roberts and B. J. Fixdale.

In Naples, Italy, the Gravediggers Union went on strike because people's health has improved so much that they haven't enough work.

Rochester College Sells Adam Library

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 25 (U.P.) — An unidentified purchaser has bought the R. B. Adam collection of 18th century literature, known as one of the finest of its kind in the nation.

The sale was announced by John R. Russell, librarian of the University of Rochester.

The collection, originated by Robert B. Adam of Buffalo, has been on deposit at the University of Rochester for the last 12 years and has been used as a basis of study by students of 18th century literature. In 1929, the Oxford University Press published a four-volume catalogue of the library.

The collection, made up of more than 3,000 rare and precious volumes, will be transferred to its new owner "within a few weeks," Russell said.

The works of Dr. Samuel Johnson, including original manuscripts, letters, autographs, notes, first editions, special issues and unusual printings, make up the major part of the collection. In addition to a two-volume first edition of Johnson's dictionary, published in 1755, the library includes Johnson's hand-written draft of the dictionary's plan.

A notebook in which James Boswell, Johnson's famed biographer, scrawled records of meetings with Johnson and books owned by Boswell, Charles Lamb and William Cowper also are in the collection.

Italy's biggest plane, wing span 138 feet, recently made its initial flight.

Americans Share Thanksgiving Dinners With Hungry Europeans

LONDON, Nov. 25. (AP)—Americans shared Thanksgiving day today with Europeans who are strange to the old U. S. custom.

Wherever Americans lived or are stationed around Europe, they gathered for the traditional feast of turkey and extra food but they saved large slices and big shares for Europeans who are less privileged.

Speaking at a dinner for the American colony in Paris, Ambassador Jefferson Caffrey said:

Strength Is Hope

"We are in the process of pouring into 16 nations of Europe a substantial portion of the fruits of our bountiful harvests and a substantial portion of our abundance of goods.

"Yet in the face of this manifestation of bountiful assistance, an effort of widespread rehabilitation following the ravages of war, we are witnessing the violence of a premeditated campaign of opposition, of vilification and of smear.

"We thank God that we are strong and for the knowledge that our strength is a source of hope rather than of fear to the vast majority of mankind."

He referred, of course, to Russian and Communist opposition to the European recovery program, which is costing U.S. taxpayers $6,000,000,000 this year alone.

Orphans Are Treated

In Britain, which knows more of the American holiday than any other European country, the chief event was a dinner meeting of the American society in London to which Ambassador Lewis Douglas was the speaker.

The American colony in Moscow, smaller than at any time since 1944, used some imported and some local turkeys. The Rev. G. A. Laberge, an American, officiated at special services for American Catholics at the church St. Louis Des Francais. U.S. Ambassador W. B. Smith and wife attended with most of the embassy personnel.

U.S. troops at Trieste gave turkey dinners to more than 1,400 orphans.

Jewish Children Given Party

The crew of the destroyer Beatty, anchored at Haifa harbor, Palestine, gave 35 children of the Haifa trade school for the poor a party of sweets and ice cream. They did without turkey because the birds hadn't been prepared according to the Jewish ritual.

It was a work holiday for all Americans in Germany except the air lift crews who took a "near maximum" supply of food to blockaded Berlin.

The fliers had turkey dinners. British pilots and airmen were their guests at the American-British air lift base at Fassberg in the British zone. The Army quartermaster supplied 12,000 pounds of turkey for Americans in Berlin.

Chaplains Hold Services

Hundreds attending the UN General Assembly meetings in Paris gave special thanks for the end of the U.S. East coast harbor strike. Many delegates had booked passage on ships tied up by the strike and some must leave soon to be home for Christmas. Homesick tourists were equally jubilant.

Some 6,000 American airmen were served turkey dinners at their bases in Britain.

Chaplains of all faiths held services under auspices of the Graves Registration command for U.S. troops in Britain, France and Belgium.

Many U.S. military and diplomatic offices were closed for the holiday.

COW EATS WELL

KELLY'S CORNERS, N. Y. (U.P.) A stray Guernsey cow was pretty well fed up after a 6 a. m. to 4 p. m. visit in W. W. Briggs' garden. She polished off 50 heads of cabbage and several rows of beets before her owner arrived to settle with Briggs for damages.

Wheat Agreement Is Boosted By Brannan

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25. (U.P.)—Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan assured farmers today that any new international wheat agreement will guarantee them fair prices.

"We're going to negotiate a new wheat agreement which will have most of the terms of the previous agreement and, we hope, even more," Brannan told a reporter.

President Truman, who made the wheat agreement one of his principal campaign issues, told the United Nations Food and Agriculture organization yesterday he would fight to get a new agreement through Congress.

"And I rather believe we'll get it approved this time," he told the laughing, applauding delegates.

The original wheat agreement was signed last March by 36 wheat producing and consuming nations. The agreement died when congress quit without approving it.

It would have guaranteed American wheat farmers an export market of 185,000,000 bushels a year for five years. It also provided a first-year price floor of $1.50 a bushel dropping to $1.10 in the fifth year.

2,000,000 New Yorkers See Annual Thanksgiving Parade

NEW YORK, Nov. 25. (INS)—A gnome eight stories high, a giant monkey on a trapeze and a huge candy cane floated in gay abandon past more than 2,000,000 New Yorkers today in the annual Macy Thanksgiving day parade.

Other helium-field characters, a booming-voiced, rosy-cheeked Santa Claus and a colorful assortment of gnomes, clowns and bands rounded out the annual department store parade that has become a New York institution.

Not the least of the attractions for the grownups on hand was the delight of the youngsters—but shrieks of pleasure came from mature throats, too, causing one policeman on duty to comment:

"Everybody's a kid today—whether he's six or sixty."

France To Accept U.S. Offer Of Voice In Supervision Of Ruhr Under New Program

PARIS, Nov. 25. (AP)—France will accept quickly Secretary of State Marshall's offer of an immediate voice in supervision of Ruhr industries, a government spokesman said tonight.

The spokesman hailed as a "step in the right direction" the invitation to France, extended yesterday by Marshall, to take part in controlling Ruhr steel and coal industries even though the French zone of Germany has not joined the British-American zonal union.

France now is satisfied in at least one of her demands—the right to regulate German management in the Ruhr during the period before the peace treaty with Germany is formally written, the spokeman said.

A British foreign office spokesman said in London Britain also has agreed to giving France membership in the present German coal and steel control groups. The Ruhr is in the British occupation zone.

Diplomatic circles viewed this as a big step in giving the French a greater voice in big power arrangements for the coordination of western Europe's resources. Such action was viewed in many quarters as essential if the French government is to be stabilized.

The Ruhr is a major issue in French politics. France has expressed worry about returning control of the great industrial heartland to the German's remembering it as the source of Germany's power in two world wars.

Amelia, 400-pound queen of the giant turtles, now usually wins the race for the breakfast of green food set out by their keeper at London Zoo—a quarter-mile-an-hour amble by the tortoises from the shed in which they spend the night.

Patman Claims GOP Solon Using Hearing, Funds For Propaganda

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25. (AP)—Rep. Patman (D-Tex) accused Senator Capehart (R-Ind) today of using a congressional committee and funds in a "propaganda drive against the anti-trust laws."

Capehart is chairman of a Senate subcommittee investigating the economics effects of a Supreme court decision which held that the cement industry was engaged in illegal price-fixing.

The decision outlawed the basing point system," under which delivered prices in a given area are the same, regardless of how far the customer may be from the shipping point. Witnesses before Capehart's committee have complained the decision threatens industry generally with chaotic conditions, and has led to hardships for many concerns, especially small business men.

The entire Capehart investigation, Patman said, was designed to divert public attention from the "obvious fact" that the court's decision was a decision against conspiracies.

The Texan also charged that Capehart's advisory council is "loaded" with representatives of big business and "stacked" against consumers and small businessmen.

"There can be little doubt but that the formation of the Capehart subcommittee was inspired by the leaders of big business in steel, cement and other basic industries," Patman said in a statement.

"The big steel companies, on their part, launched a vast propaganda campaign designed to create the impression that it was not the big firms (against which the decision had been directed) but rather, small business, which would suffer as a result of the Supreme court decision."

Patman's statement was issued through the publicity division of the Democratic national committee.

Referring to Capehart's advisory council, Patman declared:

"Of its 46 members, no less than 15 represent companies which have been charged with violation of the anti-trust laws."

Coincident with Patman's statement, Capehart announced his committee would resume hearings Nov. 29.

Koreans Seeking To Keep U.S. In Nation

SEOUL, Nov. 25. (INS)—About 20,000 South Koreans joined a shouting demonstration today in Seoul demanding that American occupation troops remain in the United Nations-sponsored republic.

The crowd—including members of Korean youth groups—paraded along the main streets of South Korea's capital.

The demonstration came just one day after South Korean President Syngman Rhee had warned that withdrawal of American troops at this time would bring "disaster."

The South Korean government claims that the Russians—who are evacuating Soviet-dominated North Korea—are leaving behind them a well-trained native army.

The government believes this army will attack the new republic if the United States pulls out before South Korea completes adequate defense measures.

The Army has insisted that it is not withdrawing although it has admitted a drastic reduction of occupation troops.

Santa Claus Makes Thanksgiving Visit To Sick Texas Boy

LONGVIEW, Nov. 25. (AP)—This day of Thanksgiving was Christmas for three-year-old Bobby Cobb, who may not live until Santa Claus makes his regular rounds.

Bobby came home to his parents' house in the little community of White Oak near Longview today for a Christmas party. He left the hospital here this morning and will go on to Parkland hospital in Dallas Friday morning.

Christmas came early for the little blonde boy because doctors told his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cobb, their child may not live till then because of an abdominal cancer.

Santa Claus came to the Cobb home at 6 p. m.

"All the boys on the White Oak football squad was there," said O. P. Price, owner of a grocery store near the Cobbs.

"Bobby wanted a football for Christmas, and Santa Claus brought that. It's autographed by all the White Oak players."

A lot more school children were invited, too, and Bobby sat in his mother's lap watching his three brothers and all his friends.

His father is a railroad worker.

Dead Pilot, Injured Wife Found In Plane Wreckage

NEW GLARUS, Wis., Nov. 25. (INS)—A critically injured woman and her dead husband were found today in the wreckage of their light cabin plane which had crashed during the night about three miles west of New Glarus.

The victims were identified as Harland Johnson, 29, a flying instructor at Indianapolis, Ind., and his wife, Virginia, 26, who was taken to St. Clair hospital at nearby Monroe. She was reported to be suffering from multiple fractures, internal injuries, and from exposure and shock.

The wreckage was found this morning by Mrs. Paul Eicheltraut and a hired man, Isadore Hammer, near the Eicheltraut farm. They said they heard a plane crash shortly after 9:30 o'clock last night but were unable to locate the fallen craft in the darkness.

The Johnsons were enroute to Minneapolis for a Thanksgiving dinner with relatives. The parents of both live there.

GIRL FOR MASONS

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 25. (INS)—The stork delivered a seven pound, 14½ ounce baby girl Thanksgiving morning to Mr. and Mrs. James Mason. Both Pamela and James had wanted a girl. So they had a name ready when little Miss Mason arrived at 8 a. m. today. She will be named Portland, after Portland Hoffa, wife of radio star Fred Allen.

How Flour Process Now Uses All Of Wheat Grain Intact

PULLMAN, Wash., Nov. 25 (U.P.)—A new process for making flour which requires no aging and uses all the grain has passed first tests at Washington State College.

The fawn-colored product is called unifine. Dr. Barbara A. McLaren, who conducted the test, said unifine can be taken right from the mill and baked into bread.

The new process produces 100 pounds of flour from 100 pounds of grain, she reported. In ordinary milling, only 72 pounds is produced from 100 pounds of grain.

Clues, Motive Sought In Murder Of Indiana Woman

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 25. (INS)—Detectives tonight continued to seek clues and a motive in the brutal slaying of Mrs. Ada Haskins, 42-year-old South Bend cafe owner and part-time spiritualist.

The victim's husband, Marcel, a garage employe, told police he found his wife's beaten and carved body when he returned last night from work to their three-room apartment above the cafe in the negro district.

Detective John Crawford said the murder was "one of the most savage" ever to come to his attention. He said the victim had been beaten with a blunt instrument and that her body, clad only in shoes and stockings, had been carved with a knife.

The weapons used in the murder have not been found.

Broken and blood-stained furniture in the three rooms indicated that Mrs. Haskins had fought fiercely with her slayer.

Haskins and a negro, identified only as a police character, were held for questioning.

Infant Lands In Court With $40 Baby-Sitter's Bill Due On Her

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 25. (AP)—An eight-month-old baby girl landed in magistrate's court today with a baby-sitter's bill of $40 due on her.

Police who rounded up the babys' mother quoted her as saying:

"I had to leave Cleva with the baby-sitting firm because I didn't have enough money to pay what I owed them."

The baby-sitters told magistrate W. H. K. McDiarmid they had been minding Cleva since Nov. 16 at 35 cents an hour. They said they were ready to yell "enough" and would somebody else watch Cleva awhile?

She is now at Rosalia maternity home.

REDS MAY STRIKE RUHR AREA

Communist Push Against U.S. Aid Program Seen Next Spring

By BRACK CURRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

FRANKFURT, Nov. 25—American military government officials express belief that the Communists' big push against Western German economic recovery will ruppt next spring.

Officials who follow political and economic trends closely say the Communists are in no position to sabotage German recovery now.

They give two reasons:

Socialist labor leaders firmly control most of the key trade unions. The Communists are concerned over the loyalty of many party members.

As a result, these officials say, the Cominform has ordered Western Germany's Communist leaders to concentrate on tightening the party machinery.

Ruhr Key Area

The objective is to weld the 300,000 party members into a militant force poised to:

1. Attack the European recovery program in a vital area—the Ruhr.

2. Spring into action as "shock troops" if the United States, Britain and France should withdraw, leaving control in German hands.

The drive to muscularize the party in the three western zones centers around a wide "educational" program, American officials say.

All members except the top hierarchy are receiving a basic course in Marxist principles, designed to instill unswerving allegiance to party orders.

Attendance at "night classes" for instruction in Communist ideology is compulsory.

"Quite a number" of party functionaries are being expelled, these officials state. Some have quit.

Membership Curbs Tightened

Membership requirements have been drastically tightened. This reverses the mass enrollment policy of 1945-47 when one-seventh of Communist voting strength carried party cards.

"The Communists are now working intensively rather than extensively in Western Germany," said one official. He added:

"This year they are organizing their 'shock troops.' The party is now out openly for the Soviet Union. For two years after the war they did not preach the Marxist ideology and did not promise socialization.

"Now they are emphasizing the Stalinist approach to Marxism. Party members are being taught that the defense of Russia is the most important thing.

"ERP (the European recovery program) is pictured as too expensive in terms of economic sacrifices. Party members are told that the native resources of Europe are adequate for its recovery without outside aid."

Propaganda Smuggled In

Funds for this program and other Communist activities are flowing to the party through neighboring countries, possibly Switzerland and Czechoslovakia, say these officials.

Literature comes principally from the Russian zone. It is smuggled across the U. S. and British zonal borders. (Since the Soviets banned distribution of western-licensed newspapers in the Russian zone, American officials have prohibited importation of Soviet-licensed newspapers and publications into the U. S. zone.)

American officials estimate the Communists have 90,000 to 100,000 dues-paying members in the U. S. zone, 150,000 to 175,000 in the British zone and perhaps 50,000 in the French zone.

They are heavily outweighed by both the leftist Social Democratic party, with some 950,000 members, and by the Rightist Christian Democratic union, with about 500,000.

In the recent North Rhine Westphalia community elections — the first in Germany since currency reform—the Communists suffered heavy losses. Their candidates skidded from 13.97 per cent of the total vote in April, 1947, to 7.8 per cent.

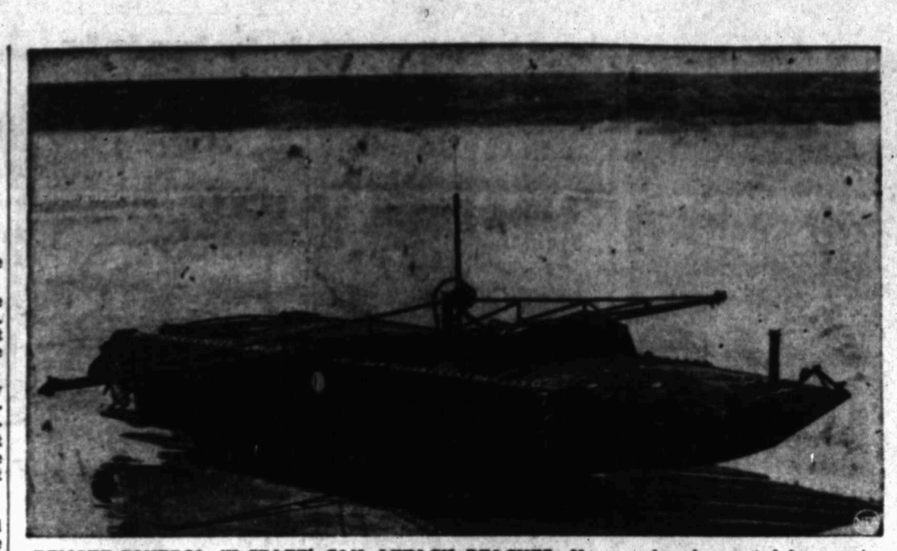

But if living conditions in Western Germany deteriorate, the Communists "could become dangerous this year," said one official. He added:

"The price situation is their most potent propaganda weapon. The worker sees stores filled with high priced goods. He can't buy them—but he says somebody can buy them or they wouldn't be there. Thus he is resentful."

Already mass demonstrations against high prices have been held in Mannheim, Heidelberg and Stuttgart. In Stuttgart, demonstrators battled with American military policemen, injuring five. There was no indication, however, that these meetings were Communist-inspired.

An American official who watches their activities closely says:

"The big test with the Communists will come in the spring."

Bond Election Is Slated At Muleshoe On Dec. 3

MULESHOE, Nov. 25 (Special)—Qualified voters of the city of Muleshoe will go to the polls Friday, Dec. 3, to decide whether $300,000 in bonds will be issued to finance water and sewer extensions.

Approximately $95,000 of the bond issue would be employed to retire outstanding bonds, it was explained by city officials. The remaining $205,000 would finance a modern sewage disposal plant and erect a second water tower, as well as sewer and water lines.

Spokesmen for Mayor C. D. Gupton and the city commissioners pointed out that considerable areas of the city are not served by water and sewer at the present time, due to the rapid growth the town has made since the end of the war.

Dallas Minister Carries Own Church Building With Him

DALLAS, Nov. 25. (AP)—A Dallas preacher thinks he's the first evangelist in the nation to bring his church building along with him.

The building—not a trailer—is a 16 by 32 foot chapel which the Rev. Eldred Thomas, 30-year-old Baptist pastor, has a housemoving firm transport. He takes it to a locality where the people would like to worship but lack a building. Rev. Thomas holds regular services and builds up a congregation.

In six months, or so, he says the congregation is large enough to pool its cash and build its own church. Then Rev. Thomas moves to another spot.

The tiny church is complete with altar, pulpit and piano.

163 Dead In Traffic Mishaps In October

AUSTIN, Nov. 25. (AP)—Accidents on city streets, highways and rural roads of Texas claimed 163 lives during the month of October, an increase of 14 over the number who died during the same period last year, the Department of Public Safety announced today.

So far this year, 1,647 persons have died in Texas as the result of traffic accidents. The toll for the similar period in 1947 was 1,611.

Of those killed during October, 127 of the 163 died in rural areas. The remainder, 36, died in city accidents, the department survey showed.

Although reports for November and December were still to be tallied, safety department officials estimated that the final report for the period will show the 1948 death figure 4.7 per cent above that for 1947.

The government of New Zealand has a plan to buy and market New Zealand fruit crops and to control retail fruit prices.

Progress Made On Balkan Pact

PARIS, Nov. 25. (INS)—The UN Balkan conciliation commission announced tonight "substantial progress" on the eve of tomorrow's General Assembly debate on the Greek civil war question.

The group under Assembly president Herbert V. Evatt said in a communique it hoped to announce soon one or more agreements "on practical aspects" of relations between Greece and her northern neighbors, Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia.

To Take Up Report

The Assembly is scheduled to take up a political committee report tomorrow. This report accuses Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia of aiding the Greek Communist guerrillas and asks them to halt their aid.

The report also called for the mediation talks which have been going on for two weeks in Paris.

Yugoslav delegate Ales Bebler, one of the group summoned to Evatt's office tonight, said definitely that an accord will be announced shortly.

Greek delegate Panayotis Pipinelis said an agreement may be announced which would have a "limited effect" on easing the civil war in his homeland.

Contents Are Secret

Neither Bebler nor Pipinelis would disclose the contents of the agreement.

Pipinelis declared that the expected agreement will not prevent, however, an Assembly vote on the committee report condemning Greece's neighbors.

The Greeks apparently would prefer an Assembly condemnation of the three Soviet satellites prior to announcement of an agreement. But Evatt may perhaps influence the entire debate by announcing an agreement early in tomorrow's session.

Trappist Monastery For Texas Suggested By Iowa Abbot

HOUSTON, Nov. 25. (INS)—A trappist monastery for Texas has been suggested by the Rt. Rev. Dom Eugene J. Martin, fifth abbot of the Cistercian order abbey in Dubuque, Iowa.

Abbott Martin made the suggestion on a recent visit to see his cousin, Sister Gabriel, at the Incarnate Word Academy on Bissonet. The Cistercian order is branching out west," said Abbott Martin, "and since there are so few contemplative orders in Texas it would be well for the trappists to establish a monastery in the state, preferably near a big city like Houston."

He explained on his visit that the Cistercian monk engages in no active ministry. The trappists are the strictest of all Catholic order. They lead what is known as the contemplative life.

Abbott Martin and his brother George Tobin, who accompanied him, were very much impressed with Houston. They felt that Texas, with its great industries is an empire in itself.

Government Plans Careful Study Of Any Aid Program For China

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25. (AP)—Official wariness over stepping up American help to China became evident today.

More than a week after Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek sent his personal aid plea to President Truman, Secretary of State Marshall said in effect that no decision has yet been reached. The unanswered problem, as Marshall stated it, is what this government can properly do to be of real assistance in turning back the Chinese Communist forces.

Policy Basis Cited

The secretary discussed the China crisis in carefully chosen words at a news conference yesterday after his second White House session this week with Mr. Truman.

What the administration decides, Marshall said, will depend on three things: (1). Congress, (2). How much further assistance the U.S. can provide in the way of armed supplies and (3). The risk of involving this country in responsibilities such as those as it is already committed to in other parts of the world.

Marshall confirmed that one plea by China has received a response. He said every effort is being made to speed shipments of arms and military equipment for which Congress provided $125,000,000 during the year ending next April. Both Navy and commercial vessels are being used, he said.

China, however, has spent all but about $12,000,000 of the sum, mostly for arms advanced from American military stocks.

In his letter to Mr. Truman, Chiang is understood to have asked in addition for an immediate restatement of American backing for his Nanking regime, to be followed by larger material support.

Chiang also opened the door for direct American supervision of its military aid program with a request that it be headed up by an American of important stature. Chinese sources said Nanking would like to have Gen. Douglas MacArthur assigned that role.

The administration's go-slow attitude toward China won the support of Chairman Eaton (R-NJ) of the House foreign affairs committee. Eaton told reporters he does not know how this country can give any further help that would be immediately effective. He added:

"China is in an internal chaos beyond the wisdom of any man to predict what will come of it."

On a warming-up exercise with three-year-old Richard Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Hamilton of 1519 Fourteenth, young Richard had no trouble at all in identifying the jolly-looking old fellow. "Hi, Santa! How are you?" the youngster cried when he was taken to see him.

How does it feel to play the part?

"It's a little like making your first public speech or saying your first prayer in public," Flowers explained. "I've never done it before, and frankly, I'm just a little bit nervous. But I've always loved children and they seem to like me, so I'm sure we will get along fine."

'Grandma' Sprouse Again Pays Visit To 'Sinful' City

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 25. (INS)—Seventy-nine year old "Grandma" Sprouse is in the sinful city for the second time in her life—and she's still got her doubts.

The little lady from Cat Hollow, Ky., never stirred from the farm until, on the crest of the nationwide publicity that came with her marriage to Delbert "Short" Sprouse two years ago, she visited New York City.

Frowns On Goings-On

Her report from New York was "we're coming to the end of the world, just like it says in the Scriptures—and we're a right smart piece into it." She was especially convinced by goings-on at Coney island, where "they'd go swimmin', old grey-haired men and women, then come paradin' right back through the town without puttin' anything else on."

The Empire State building, "Grandma" recalls, was "a pretty place. You could see men playin' ball, and way down there, the cars weren't any bigger'n' guinea pigs."

Now grandma has "come out from among them" once again to spend Thanksgiving and a few winter months with her daughter in Columbus.

All that publicity about her husband? Well, he's 19 years old now. Was 17 when he and "Grandma" got hitched.

Evidence Of Ancient Race In Midwest States Found

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 25. (INS)—Scientists attending the sixth plains archeological conference meeting in Lincoln were told today that people lived in South Dakota thousands of years before Christ.

Dr. W. R. Wedel of the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, D. C., said a campsite containing weapons, tools and pottery were unearthed in the Angostura reservoir site near Hot Springs, S. D., last summer. He stated:

"These findings are positive evidence that primitive hunters roamed through this part of the great plains during the pre-Christian era."

He added that evidence has been found of more than 800 campsites of semi-nomadic tribesmen in the Missouri valley since 1936.

MORE VICTIMS SOUGHT

LISBON, Portugal, Nov. 25. (AP)—Rescue workers dug further in the ruins of an Amora explosives factory today, fearful that the death toll in yesterday's blast may rise beyond 23.

'Cloak And Dagger' Activities During War Backed By CIO; Group Also Sends Supplies

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 25. (INS)—As the world observed Thanksgiving day a spokesman for the CIO revealed for the first time how the CIO helped shorten the war by financing underground resistance by workers behind the enemy lines.

Cloak and dagger tactics included the parachuting of packets of CIO money and supplies over wartime Europe, the rescuing of labor leaders held by the Nazis in Norway, and sabotage by workmen of the huge Skoda arms works in Czechoslovakia.

Story Is Revealed

This now-it-can-be-told story was revealed today by Leo Perlis, the director of CIO community services, who said it was hush-hush in the war and "I think it's time the story was told."

Perlis said that the CIO's underground arm in Nazi-held territory worked closely with the Office of Services and Supply and the war refugee board, headed by Gen. William F. O'Dwyer, now mayor of New York.

Prisoners were sprung from Nazi concentration camps by simply bribing the German guards. The Norwegians made their way by boat to England with valuable information.

In occupied China, skilled Chinese workmen were kidnapped from the Japanese lines by using the underground railway system which spirited slaves out of the south in the civil war.

The CIO has also had its own "little Marshall plan" since 1942 pouring millions of dollars into relief and rehabilitation of trade union families in foreign countries, the CIO man revealed.

In addition on the home front during the war CIO members gave $150,000,000 to Red Cross and Community Chest drives, and have been the largest contributor to CARE with 50,000 packages, the report said.

Drunken Driver Files Against Officers For Delaying Arrest

STERLING, Ill., Nov. 25. (AP)—A motorist has sued two Rock Falls, Ill., policemen for $10,000 contending they did not arrest him in time to prevent an accident.

The suit, filed by Albert D. Martin in circuit gave this account:

On Nov. 17, 1946, Martin was drunk in his car at a filling station in Rock Falls. The two officers were summoned but failed to arrest him, waiting until he had driven onto Route 30.

Then in their squad car they forced Martin to halt by cutting in front of him. While the two cars were stopped, a truck banged into them. The impact knocked Fossett to the pavement and damaged Martin's car and the squad car.

In May, Fossett was awarded $4,000 from the company. Martin subsequently was convicted of drunken driving and fined $100.

His contention is that had the officers arrested him at the filling station the accident would not have occurred.

'Wheelchair' House For War Veteran Is Approved By VA

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25. (AP)—The Veterans administration announced today it has made the first grant to a paralyzed World War II veteran for a house for wheelchair living.

The veteran, whose name was not disclosed, will receive $9,500.

The VA said 80 other applicants have been rejected among the 1,066 thus far received. Preliminary approval has been granted in 123 cases. The other applications are still under review.

Cincinnati Man Awaits Trial For Brutal Murder Of Child

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 25 (INS)—William Norris Pollard tonight awaited transfer to St. Louis city jail where he will be held until his trial for first degree murder in the "dresser-drawer" slaying of 21-months-old Joseph Edward Nichols.

The 26-year-old Cincinnati man repeated Wednesday night at St. Louis police headquarters his original confession that he beat the child to death in a fit of temper because of its crying.

Pollard denied that he had committed a criminal attack on the helpless Huntington, W. Va., baby, despite the finding of a St. Louis coroner's jury.

The boy's body was found stuffed in a dresser drawer in a room at the American hotel in St. Louis last Saturday.

He had been missing since Nov. 11 when he was entrusted to Pollard's care by Mrs. Betty Nichols, the boy's mother while she went to a mental hospital at Chillicothe, O., to visit her husband, who was a patient.

Pieces Of Recent Past Can Be Put Together By Reading Books

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25—Let me ask you a couple of questions.

Were you grown up and voting back in 1920 when Warren G. Harding was elected president? Or have you come of age since then?

Anyway, do you remember much about what happened in the important years between 1920 and 1940?

Time and a million events have left a foggy jumble in the minds of a lot of people—a sense of almost lost years.

If you're one of those you could, without much trouble, pull the jumbled pieces together and get a clear picture.

Periods Are Similar

You could do it by reading just a few books which are suggested in this story. Before looking at them, you may ask: why start at 1920 and stop at 1940? Because that was a period of getting over a war, of boom times and terrible bust, of trying to get back on our feet with the new deal, and then getting ready for another war.

The period of 1940 and 1945 was really an upside down war period. The years from 1945 to 1948 have been a steady struggle between President Truman and Congress.

Background To Present

But now, although we're still trying to get over the second war, we're in another boom time and may be headed for another bust and another war.

But at least, with the new Democratic Congress, we'll be entering a period that may be a 'new" new deal or a continuation of the old new deal.

What happens in these next four years will have its roots in the 20 years between 1920 and 1940, for they laid the groundwork for what lies ahead.

The easiest way I know of getting into those 20 years is by reading Frederick Lewis Allen's 'Only Yesterday"—a history of the 1920's—and his "Since Yesterday"—a history of the 1930's.

They're delightful books, fast and easy to read. He weaves music, literature and styles in with the politics, people and events of the two decades.

Books Are Listed

But some people may want to use Allen's books as a starting point and look for further reading to find out not only what happened but why.

Here are the two latest books on the 20-year period: Karl Schriftgiesser's "This Was Normalcy," covering the 1920's, and Dixon Wector's "The Age of the Great Depression," which starts with the 1929 crash and goes to 1940.

You may not like either of those two books but they're the latest, and in the back they have long lists of other books and sources for further readings covering those 20 years.

There's one other book, very recent, which cuts sharply but briefly across the 1920-1940 period. This is Richard Hofstadter's "The American Political Tradition."

Although his book, a collection of critical portraits, starts with the founding fathers, Hofstadter has two cutting chapters on Herbert Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt. And his book, too, has a long list of other reading.

Fort Worth Man Pays To Learn About Anti-Freeze Racket

FORT WORTH, Nov. 25. (INS)—It cost a gullible Fort Worth man $57 to learn about the new anti-freeze racket.

The victim told police he met a man who said he could get 24 gallons of hard-to-get permanent antifreeze for $57 cash in advance. The victim was asked to wait outside while his "contact" went into a downtown hotel "to see a man."

After cooling his heels outside for 45 minutes, the victim saw the light—but not the anti-freeze.

Gillette Proves He Hasn't Lost Touch As Demo Vote Getter

DES MOINES, Nov. 25. (AP)—The best vote-getter Iowa Democrats have had in modern times proved on Nov. 2 that he still has his touch.

He is U. S. Senator-elect Guy M. Gillette, 69, who will return to the Senate after a four-year political retirement. He was defeated by Senator B. B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) in 1944.

Gillette rebounded, however, by defeating George A. Wilson, the Republican incumbent, by 165,000 votes.

Plays Reed Organ

Gillette bid frankly for the votes of both parties. He pledged himself to continue to vote independently of party lines in the Senate—just as he did in opposing the Roosevelt court plan.

Iowans of every political stripe agree that Gillette "really looks like a senator." He's silver-haired and handsome and carries his six-foot, 200-pound body with soldierly bearing. He does not drink or smoke. For relaxation he plays an old-fashioned reed organ by ear.

Gillette once was acclaimed Washington's best-dressed senator, but he admitted he owned only one everyday necktie and but three suits. It has been said he's the only man in the capital who could wear a Roman toga to a masquerade without looking like a fellow in a nightshirt.

Opposes Price Control

The senator-elect flatly opposes any return to price control. He favors farm price supports at fixed levels rather than a sliding scale. He wants the Taft-Hartley law amended to "eliminate injustices to organized labor."

He opposes the peacetime draft but thinks UN can be made to work—even without Russia as a member. He declares he will support the bi-partisan foreign policy. During a portion of the last four years he served as president of the American League for a Free Palestine.

Gillette lives with his wife and only son, Mark, 19, in a spacious white frame house on the edge of Cherokee. He has a three-acre tract on which he raises chickens and garden stuff.

He didn't let campaigning interfere with his acreage duties. A Cherokee friend tells how he picked up the paper one morning and saw a picture of Gillette in Des Moines with President Truman.

"So then I go to Gillette's house, and what is Guy doing?" The friend chuckled. "Picking a chicken!'

Iowa Contractor Dies After Scuffle In Rural Ballroom

STORM LAKE, Ia., Nov. 25. (AP) Jess Sorenson, 35, Storm Lake contractor, died early today following what Deputy Sheriff Harry Dreyer described as a "scuffle" at a nearby rural ballroom.

Dreyer said an investigation showed Jim Thomson, 25, a Storm Lake war veteran was involved.

Sorenson fell to the floor and died there within a few minutes, Dreyer said.

An inquest was scheduled for tomorrow by Country Attorney Wendell Edson.

No charges had been filed.

Sorenson is survived by his widow and a daughter.

Air Force Announces Three Bases To Be Reopened Soon

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25. (AP)—The Air Force said tonight it will reopen three World War two bases within the next few months —Las Vegas, Nev., Mountain Home, Idaho, and Chatham, Ga.

The announcement said that the Mountain Home base would be reactivated about Dec. 1, the Chatham base at about the same time and Las Vegas about March 1.

Mountain Home base will be removed from the temporary inactive list to become a field for the strategic air command. A geodetic survey squadron is to be assigned there.

Chatham base is being returned to the Air Force also for use by the strategic air command.

The Cedar Grove depot is being withdrawn from surplus for use by the 47th bomb wing, which is moving to Barksdale Base, Shreveport, from Biggs Base at El Paso. The depot was used by the army during the war.

Judge Rules Wife Has Right To Rummage Husband's Pockets

CLEVELAND, Nov. 25. (AP)—Common pleas Judge Samuel H. Silbert ruled yesterday a wife has the right to go through the pockets of her husband's pants and take what money she needs.

In granting a divorce to Mrs. Frank Cheslock, 42, Judge Silbert said "a man cannot be charged with stealing from his wife; neither may a wife be guilty of stealing from her husband."

Weak French Government Blocks Mobilization Of Ruhr Industry

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Reports from both Europe and Washington indicate that the precarious position of the French government is one of the great obstacles in mobilization of the Ruhr for support of the Marshall plan.

Secretary Marshall obviously was speaking to France as well as America Wednesday when he gave renewed assurances that revival of German industry would not be permitted to produce a rebirth of militarism.

Schuman Faces Phobia

The Anglo-American decision to take France into the joint coal and steel control boards immediately, rather than waiting for incorporation of the French zone into Bizonia, also is an obvious sop to the French political situation.

No French government could stand if it ignored the country's fear of German militarism. Foreign Minister Schuman has proved a reasonable man, recognizing that it is perfectly possible to revive German industry and at the same time control its direction. But he is up against a phobia in his country.

Technicians Needed

The Anglo-American feeling (which is of course ardently promoted by the German administrators and workmen with whom they must deal) is that industrial management must be very largely in German hands if the Ruhr's production is to aproach anything like its full potential.

One of the great factors which has slowed down revival of the steel industry has been the absence of some 1,600 technicians and administrative experts caught in the denazification net. Replacements have just not been available.

Now these former representatives of Nazi owners, having been cleared by the courts, are filtering back into the mines and plants and production is going up. They are being carefully watched, to see that their former ties with the Thyssens, the Krupps and the like do not permit "ghost" control. But they are needed.

Just what form the new tri-power control administrations will take is not yet clear. Presumably something new will have to be worked out when the French move in. At present, the U.S.-U.K. coal control at Essen consists of dual organizations, from counterpart chairmen on down through all the lower echelons of administration including publicity men and stenographers. Decisions are reached through negotiation and compromise. High class men have made it work, but it would seem that only a miracle could produce efficiency when such an organization becomes three-way.

Tech-Tulsa Grid Movie To Be Shown Brownfield Civic Clubs

Through the courtesy of the public information section of the Texas National Guard and the athletic department at Texas Tech college, a film on the Texas Tech-Tulsa university football game will be shown by the Brownfield unit of the TNG at a joint meeting Friday noon of the Brownfield Rotary and other civic clubs there, it was announced here yesterday.

Recent authorization for the Brownfield unit of the Guard to double its present strength, boosting it to 196 men, has made openings for young men there from 17 to 18½ years of age, according to Capt. Sam Privett, commanding officer of the unit, the 142nd infantry.

Fliers' Mascot Fills Up On Turkey, Wine

American Style Thanksgiving Too Much For Russian Bear

By HERMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 —This is a Thanksgiving story which never has been told.

It's about a character named "Vic," a stubby little Russian black bear.

Vic was a mascot of our Air Force boys back in 1944 in Hanshung, China. He got his name in a natural sort of way because a white "V" monogrammed the front of his neck.

Teddy Cost $4.49

The teddy cost the boys at the airfield exactly $4.49 in American money. But, according to Maj. John H. Washington, now a liaison officer in the Inter-American Affairs bureau here, it took a couple of bushels of Chinese paper money to close the deal.

Vic became a favorite of the fly boys. He liked the left-overs from the spam cans. And the pilots also knew his fondness for chocolate bars and chewing gum.

Thanksgiving day, 1944, came up bad weather. There was no flying that day so the boys wrote all the letters home that would ever get there in months, and settled down to enjoy a Thanksgiving meal.

Canned turkeys were in from the states.

Bear Watches Uncanning

Vic watched the uncanning with interest, his black snout turned up.

Before the boys uncanned the gobblers, they chipped in with a few more bushels of Chinese money for some white wine and made a few fine crocks of punch.

The boys did their best on the fine turkeys and the yams and the jams and the other stuff. But some wine was left over. So they left it outside in the crocks to keep cool.

Vic, who apparently had just as good a nose for wine as he had for turkey, sniffed. As the boys watched, the bear worked himself off his leash. He sidled up to a tree no bigger than a grown-up pencil and, thinking he had spied a forest, hied off to hide.

The boys went to bed, forgetting to re-leash Vic.

In the middle of the night, Maj. Washington heard a lot of snoring in his room. He rolled over and learned that the source of the noise was right beside him in the same "sack." Somebody had had too much Thanksgiving turkey and too much Chinese wine.

A little black fellow named Vic.

San Antonio Zoo To Put Horse Meat On Salt Water Fish Diet

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 25. (INS)—While meat patrons in various Texas cities remain jittery about horse meat, animals in the San Antonio zoo devour old Dobbin with the greatest of delight. And now, heart 'o horse has been added to the fish diet.

The inhabitants of the salt water domains heretofore restricted to shrimp, crabs, and clams will now have heart o' horse as second choice.

Fresh water fish will have to be content with the regular diet of minnows, worms, etc.

12 Prisoners Escape From Mexico's Island Penal Colony

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 25 (INS) — Twelve dangerous prisoners have accomplished the almost unheard of feat of escaping from Mexico's Pacific island penal colony, Islas Marias.

Taking advantage of the darkness of a moonless night and the carelessness of sentries, the prisoners stole the small boat used for inter-island communications and started for the mainland.

Immediately the flight was discovered and an army plane was sent on search. The prisoners were sighted just as they were landing after the 120 mile trip through shark-infested waters. Federal and Nayarit state police forces were mobilized but the band has succeeded in taking to the mountains and it will be extremely difficult to find them among some of the wildest country in Mexico.

LUBBOCK TRAFFIC:

City Eyes Problem

CONFRONTED by so many important matters arising from, or aggravated by, Lubbock's rapid growth, it is not surprising that the City commission might find it difficult at times to concentrate upon specific problems long enough to translate discussions into remedial actions.

The traffic situation illustrates. Everyone agrees that traffic conditions are serious and are growing worse rapidly. They have been discussed many times over a long period by numerous official and unofficial groups. There has been no dissent from the opinion that something needs to be done. Yet little has been accomplished.

This thumbnail review of unchallenged facts is not presented in a spirit of criticism of the City commission. Members of that body simply do not have time to attend to the multitudinous details of the many problems now facing Lubbock, among which traffic is one of the most urgent.

THE situation seems to suggest, as the obvious course, that the commission should delegate to someone else the highly important task of trying to work out the details of a traffic plan to cope with existing problems and to anticipate as much as possible those of the future.

A most logical instrument for activating such a program was suggested two years ago by the City Planning commission. It recommended the creation of a City Traffic commission, made up of non-salaried civic-minded citizens who would concentrate upon traffic just as the City Parks commission does upon parks, the City Recreation council upon recreation or the Planning commission upon city planning, zoning and the like.

If such a group is to be named, it should be done with the least possible delay before Lubbock traffic conditions have become worse snarled than they are now. The sooner something in this nature is done, the more reasonable will be the expectation of early relief from present problems and for the orderly handling of those arising in the future.

THE traffic commission idea has the appeal of a logical starting point for a full-scale attack upon this particular problem. Common sense seems to dictate that this, or some similar agency, should be named first so that members of the group could start from as close to scratch as possible, unencumbered by prior actions. For example, instead of naming a traffic engineer and then a traffic commission, as has been suggested, it would seem better to name the commission first and then let the members decide and recommend as to an engineer.

The important consideration in the whole matter is for the City commission to delegate to others the responsibility for handling the details which the commissioners themselves, with all their other duties, cannot give personal attention.

In this way, Lubbock could be provided a most important safeguard against traffic conditions so serious as to impede, or paralyze, continuing growth and which, until corrected, inevitably will take its added toll of killed and injured victims of auto accidents.

Down Memory Lane

(From the files of The Lubbock Morning Avalanche of Nov. 26, 1928.)

More than 100 city officials, city employes, ex-officials and former employes of the city and their guests attended the annual get-together banquet at Hotel Lubbock for a varied program of music, readings and speeches. Mayor Harley D. Woods was toastmaster, and talks were made by City Manager Gus W. McCleary, former Mayor Pink L. Parrish, City Commissioner J. H. Hankins, B. Sherrod, president of the Board of City Development; City Attorney E. L. Klett, and A. B. Davis, manager of the chamber of commerce. Others on the program included Mrs. H. L. Mobley, Miss Mary Grisham, Herbert S. Brown, Mrs. Marlin R. Smith, Miss Kate Pressley, and Meda Craig Twitty. Invocation was given by Rev. Jack M. Lewis.

A group of about 50 educators in Lubbock and adjoining counties were in a called session here and passed a resolution supporting much of the legislative program as proposed by State Supt. S. M. N. Marrs. Speakers included Dr. A. W. Evans and Prof. J. T. Shaver, of the Texas Tech faculty; Senator-elect Pink L. Parish, Representative-elect Carl Rountree of Lamesa; W. M. Pevehouse, county superintendent; W. A. Fincher, member of Lubbock county school board; Supt. V. Z. Rogers of Lamesa; Supt. Charles W. Rogers of Ropesville; Supt. M. L. Baze of Tahoka; Supt. L. P. Shaw of Abernathy; Supt. Lee Clarke of Plainview; County Supt. H. P. Caveness of Lynn county; Supt. L. T. Green of Levelland; and Supt. R. L. Hooten of Shallowater.

Speaking Of Unsafe Structures

Waltz Into Darkness

By WILLIAM IRISH
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY

Time, 1880. Place, New Orleans. (Louis Durand, 37, a well-to-do bachelor, has been corresponding with Miss Julia Russell, whom he has never seen. He has proposed marriage and she has accepted. According to her picture, Miss Russell is dark-haired, strong-featured and no longer young. Durand goes down to the dock to meet the boat that is to bring her from St. Louis. He is dumfounded when an exquisite young blond creature introduces herself as Julia. She explains her little deceit by saying she didn't want him to fall for just a pretty face. Durand is enchanted with her and they are married. Certain things puzzle him, however, during their first days together. Among them is the fact Julia has never opened her trunk. She says she lost the key. When a letter arrives from her sister chiding her with not writing, he insists she reply, takes her letter to mail himself. Julia says she dislikes having to ask him for money every time she goes shopping, wonders if he could not arrange a joint bank account. Indulgently, he tells her to meet him at the bank at 11.)

XII

SHE allowed him to precede her to the bank, as was her womanly prerogative. But once he had arrived, she kept him waiting no more than the fractional part of a minute. In fact so precipitately did she enter, on his very heels, that it could almost have been thought she had been waiting at some nearby vantage point simply to allow him first entry before starting forward in turn.

She accosted him before he had little more than cleared the vestibule.

"Louis," she said, placing her hand confidentally atop his wrist to detain him a moment, and drawing him a step aside. "I have been thinking about this since you left the house. I am not sure I— I want you to do this after all. You may think me one of these presuming wives who — Had we not better let things be as they are—?"

He patted her arresting wrist. "Not another word, Julia," he said with fine masculine authority. "I want it so."

He was now sure that the idea was his own, had been from its very inception.

She deferred to his dictate as it was a wife's place to do, with a seemly little obeisance of her head. She linked her arm in his and accompanied him with slow-moving elegance across the bank floor toward its farther end, where the bank manager had emerged and stood waiting to greet them with curtly consideration behind a low wooden partition banister.

DURAND said, "May I present Mr. Simms to you, my dear? A good friend of mine."

Mr. Simms said with a gallant inclination, "I am inclined to doubt that, or you would not have delayed this for so long."

They entered the office. They seated themselves, Mr. Simms seeing to her chair himself.

"I should like to arrange," said Durand, "for my wife to have full use of my account here, along with myself."

"Oh, really," she murmured disclaimingly, upping her hand. "He insists—"

"Quite simple," said Simms. "We merely change the account from a single one, as it now stands, to a joint account, to be participated in by both." He sought out papers on his desk, selected two. "And to do that all I have to do is ask you both for your signatures, just once each. You on this authorization card. And you, my dear, on this blank form card, just as a record of your signature, so that it will be known to us and we may honor it."

Durand was already signing, forehead inclined.

Simms edged forward another paper tentatively, asked him: "Did you wish this on both accounts, the savings as well as the checking, or merely the one?"

"It may as well be both alike, and have done with it, while we're about it," Durand answered unhesitatingly.

"Lou," she protested, but he silenced her with his hand.

Simms was already offering her the inked pen for her convenience.

THE letter was on his desk when he returned to the office from his noonday meal.

Twice he started to open it, and twice was interrupted. He took it up, finally, and prepared to spare it a moment of his full attention.

The postmark was St. Louis again. Whether spurred by that or not, he recognized the handwriting, from the time before. From her sister again.

But this time there could be no mistake. It was addressed to him directly. Intentionally so. "Louis Durand, Esq." To be delivered here, at his place of business.

He slit it along the top with a letter opener and plucked it out of its covering, puzzled. He swung himself sideward in his chair and gave it his attention.

If dried ink on paper can be said to scream, it screamed up at him.

Mr. Durand!

I can stand this no longer! I demand that you give me an explanation! I demand that you give me word of my sister without delay!

I am writing to you direct as a last resource. If you do not inform me immediately of my sister's whereabouts, satisfy me that she is safe and sound, and have her communicate with me herself at once to confirm this, and to enlighten me as to the cause of this strange silence, I shall go to the police and seek redress of them.

I have in my hand a letter, in answer to the one I last sent her, purporting to be from her, and signed by her name. It is not from my sister. It is written by someone else. It is in the handwriting of a stranger — an unknown person—

Is there a more misunderstood, more misinterpreted, more abused word in our language?

"All men are created equal," wrote Thomas Jefferson in our Declaration of Independence and "all men are created equal," said Abraham Lincoln in his Gettyesburg Address.

BRANDEIS

So, ever since Jefferson and Lincoln, every loafer, every bum, every Communist quotes Lincoln and Jefferson and either insists that he is as good as you, or stands on his "inalienable right" as a free and equal citizen of these United States.

Yes, and since our laws are so flexible and liberal even a lot of aliens stand on their constitutional rights to which they claim to be entitled by the mere fact that they succeed in worming their way into this country.

I maintain that all men are created equal in certain respects, but certainly not in all.

I also maintain that even if men start equal they do not remain equal any more than a local train arrives at its destination at the same time as the Limited, although both started from the same station at the same time.

I quote as my authority the same Abraham Lincoln who, in the Gettysburg Address, proclaimed the equality of man.

In a speech at Springfield, Ill., he said on June 26, 1857;

"I think the authors of the Declaration of Independence intended to include all men, but they did not intend to declare all men in all respects."

In a Democracy such as ours every human being is supposed to have the same rights and privileges.

By the same token every man and woman has the same duties.

Unfortunately Nature has never read our Declaration, and Nature is certainly not democratic.

No one can pretend that Nature has given the lion the same qualifications as the mouse, or equal beauty to the rose and the stinkweed.

Nature has not given every man the same strength of body or character nor the same mental and spiritual equipment.

I AM all in favor of equal rights for all.

But I am also in favor of equal duties for all.

I think the five-day week and the eight-hour day are a fine thing.

But I do believe that the doctor who is willing to work all hours of the day and night to save your life and mine is entitled to a better reward than those who rush from their eight-hour job to the bowling alley or the movie house.

And how about this equality business when it comes to our wives and our teachers?

Why do we pay our teachers such miserable wages when the plumber who fixes our bathroom pipes rides around in a nice, new automobile? And don't think I begrudge him his car.

What would you say if your wife said some Saturday, "No dinner tonight. I am on an eight-hour day and I started at seven this morning?"

Equality, my dear readers, is equitable only if it works 24 hours a day seven days a week—with no overtime for good behavior.

TO FIGHT COALITION

Demos Seek Backing

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—President Truman's smartest and most diplomatic aides, headed by Vice-President Barkley and Senate Liaison Officer Leslie Biffle, are collaborating on strategy designed to prevent a coalition of Republicans and so-called Southern Democs in the upper chamber from stalemating the new White House legislative program.

TUCKER

Although their canvass of the future membership discloses that the Administration will have stronger support than at any time since Mr. Truman assumed the presidency, there is no assurance yet that he can force or wangle adoption of the broad social and economic reforms which he promised in the campaign.

BLOC: In the Eightieth Congress there was a reasonably solid bloc of 37 pro-Truman Senators, most of whom could be depended upon to back him for personal or political considerations. This group consisted of 25 northern, border and western Democrats, ten relatively independent or variable men from Dixie and two Republicans.

As against this band there were 59 who were always inclined to oppose or to whittle down his recommendations on economic, social, industrial, agricultural and even foreign proposals. They numbered 49 conservative GOP-ers and ten Democrats of the Dixiecrat variety.

OPPOSITION: In the next Senate Mr. Truman can count on about 49 members, a gain of 12 over the number of loyalists heretofore. These will consist of 34 Democrats through thick and thin, 11 off-and-on Southerners and four Republicans. That roundup provides him with an extremely narrow majority on controversial questions.

The erstwhile opposition of 59 will dwindle to 47. This bloc will be made up of 38 Republicans and nine Democrats who began to wander off the White House reservation on most issues after the court-packing episode and the "purge" of 1938.

If there should ever be a utopian alignment of conservatives versus liberals in the United States, these men would stand on the far right of the Roosevelt-Truman position. Many of them had privately hoped for a Dewey victory.

POWER: This extraordinarily narrow margin of presidential supremacy will exalt the status of 15 members divided equally between the Republicans and the Democrats. It is this balance-of-power group which the Truman arrangers seek to win over to at least a majority of the White House proposals.

Their importance in the senatorial household will give them unusual power and prestige, both as individuals and as representatives of their respective states. If they play their cards carefully in the game, even the newcomers will achieve a personal fame and gain material advantages for their constituents that would not fall to them otherwise.

They, too, realize that rarely were the votes of so few men of such prime importance to a President trying to make good on the most handsome and revolutionary batch of promises ever made to an electorate.

QUARREL: The Democratic members listed as moving back and forth in this dim and doubtful twilight are as follows:

Broughton of North Carolina, Johnston of South Carolina, Russell of Georgia, Long and Ellender of Louisiana, Fulbright of Arkansas, Gillette of Iowa and Connally of Texas.

These men will be inclined to support Mr. Truman, if only because he is a Democrat. On many matters involving agriculture, industry and social reforms, provided they are not too extreme or antagonistic to state control, they will be with him. But they will fight bitterly his Civil Rights proposals, and may become so embittered in that quarrel as to turn against him generally.

Inasmuch as several are quite friendly to private power interests, they may not be too enthusiastic over proposed extension of federal utility systems such as TVA.

SUSCEPTIBLE: The Republicans looked upon as most susceptible to Barkley-Biffle advances are the following:

Tobey of New Hampshire and Flanders of Vermont, Lodge of Massachusetts, Baldwin of Conecticut, Ives of New York, Vandenberg of Michigan and Knowland of California.

Most of these men have frequently expressed the belief, especially since the recent election, that the GOP must break away from the conservative personalities and influences which have governed it in the past. Several have been advanced as possible policy leaders in place of Senator Taft of Ohio. Several have promised the utmost cooperation to President Truman.

CONTROL: With a difference of only two votes or thereabouts between the White House and anti-White House forces, these and a few other men can virtually control Senate legislation.

If five of the Democrats should desert Mr. Truman on a certain issue, for instance, he might pick up five offsetting votes from the Republicans mentioned above, or vice versa if the GOP-ers do the disappearing act.

In short, this selected few will be courted as assiduously and as violently as any lovely schoolteacher who showed up in a hamlet where all the other girls were married or you-know-what.

HUMBLE: "How has President Truman reacted in his personal behaviour and political planning to his defeat of Governor Dewey?" asks M. T., of Houston, Tex., voicing a curiosity about the man in the White House that has been expressed by many other readers. It is a question on the lips of every business man, industrialist, banker, workingman and farmer:

Answer: Personally, President Truman's modesty in victory has been refreshing. He has not gloated. He has shown no vindictiveness against party bosses and prominent Democrats who opposed him both before and after his nomination.

Save for ringleaders among the Wallace and States' Rights rebels, he plans no such "purge" as Franklin D. Roosevelt ordered, and as Eleanor Roosevelt now suggests.

How long he will remain a honeymoon sort of bridegroom is questionable, however. When he entered the White House in April of 1945, his outstanding characteristics on his elevation were awe, humility and gratitude.

But within a few months he was quarreling bitterly with his old friends on Capitol Hill. It is always difficult for a President to keep his temper and head when legislative leaders of his own party balk him. Few do.

TROUBLE: Another favorable factor is Mr. Truman's decision not to run again. Unlike F.D.R., who usually had his eye on the next election, the Missourian may feel himself free to abandon the partisanship which he felt called upon to display in his one-man campaign for reelection.

But this very plan to retire at the end of four years may make trouble for him. He will be subjected to the pressures and demands of almost a score of ambitious Democrats who will begin to scheme for the 1952 presidential nomination almost before they have warmed their chairs on Capitol Hill or at several State Capitals.

ANTI-MONOPOLY PROGRAM DROPPED

German Industrial Plan Scored

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Some action finally has developed at the higher policy levels in relation to a glaring failure of our war aims that has frequently been pointed out here.

Secretary of the Army Kenneth C. Royall has issued orders for the appointment of a commission to investigate the de-cartelization program in Germany. That program, it may be recalled, was authorized by Congress to break up the giant cartels, or monopolies, that sponsored Adolf Hitler's war of aggression and furnished it with weapons for that war. Congress decreed dissolution of the monopolies so this potential future war threat would be removed.

Despite the Congressional mandate and directives to effect it, the anti-monopoly program was virtually abandoned last March, as pointed out here at the time and since, when General Lucius D. Clay, head of our military government in Germany issued orders for exemption from the de-cartelization program of all German industries in the capital goods field and "all vertical integrations."

STOKES

Approved By Gen. Clay

When Bronson Richardson, chief of the de-cartelization branch of the office of military government, transmitted the orders to his staff in the form of a memorandum 19 of the 21 members signed a protest to General Clay in which they said the orders would exclude "the principal group of monopolistic enterprises which the law says must be eliminated" and would virtually repeal the de-cartelization law passed by Congress and the July 15, 1947 directive to carry out that law. Mr. Bronson said that the memorandum had been approved by General Clay and the State department. He also announced that the enforcement group would be broken up.

While General Clay subsequently denied there had been any change in policy, he appeared at a meeting of the staff and indicated his support of the Bronson memorandum. Several members of the decartelization branch resigned, since the policy under which they were working had been repudiated, among them, Francis W. Laurent, captain, U. S. Navy, retired, a Wisconsin lawyer, who went to Germany as assistant chief for deconcentration policy, and directed studies of 62 German combines before enactment of the de-cartelization law which became effective February 12, 1947, and Johnston Avery, of the Justice department anti-trust division, who went to Germany as assistant chief for enforcement. Both of these men had important parts in directing the anti-monopoly work.

The abandonment of the de-cartelization program came, significantly, just as orders were ready to serve on a number of powerful German monopolies, including Henschel locomotive, which has almost a 100 percent monopoly on manufacture of railroad engines, street cars and trolly busses; Bosch Magneto, which has a monopoly on magnetos, fuel injection equipment and most electrical equipment for the automotive industry; VKF, which enjoys a complete monopoly in ball bearings since the military government has destroyed its only competitor for reparations, and DVS, which monopolized shoe industry, VKF has important connections in the United States. The order provided for dropping action against it and Henschel, and at last reports no proceedings had been instituted against others, except for filing of a suit against Bosch.

Report To Be Studied

Secretary Royall has a complete, documented report on the whole situation. He has been advised that the chief influences in suspending the de-cartelization program were Lawrence Wilkinson, economic adviser to General Clay; Phillips Hawkins, head of the economics division of military government, who is son-in-law of William H. Draper, under-secretary of the army and formerly vice president of Dillon, Read and Company, and Mr. Bronson.

These men, the secretary has been informed, have never made any secret of their dislike for the policies of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman and stuck to their abandonment of the de-cartelization program in anticipation of election of a Republican administration which would be sympathetic to their viewpoint and policy. It has been represented to Secretary Royall that the election was a repudiation of their position.

While this investigation is being ordered by the department directly involved in Germany, the commission of three is to include two members from other government agencies thoroughly informed of the de-cartelization program and its objectives. It is expected that a congressional inquiry also will be instituted since Congress is directly responsible for the de-cartelization policy.

It is high time this whole situation was explored and exposed and something done about it.

Nearly One-Third Texas Area Leased For Oil, Report Shows

DALLAS, Nov. 25. (U.P.)—Nearly one-third of the area of Texas has been leased for oil and gas exploration and production, a report published by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas association indicated today.

Land has been leased from land owners of some 58,000 acres of land in Texas' 254 counties, the report showed, and there was oil and gas production in 175 counties at the beginning of 1948.

The Texas petroleum industry during 1947 paid Texas landowners a total of $331,738,000 for leases, rentals, bonuses and royalties.

SHIP TO SAIL SUNDAY

Passengers Aboard 'Stranded' Liner Celebrate Strike's End

(By The Associated Press)

ABOARD THE QUEEN ELIZABETH, Southampton, England, Nov. 25.—Apparent settlement of the dock workers' strike in New York and announcement that the Queen Elizabeth will sail on Sunday, 11 days late, set off an almost hysterical Thanksgiving celebration among the passengers today.

The noisiest demonstration was in the tourist class where some of the 500 passengers, mostly emigrants, were almost destitute.

Many had only about $20 when they embarked and some had only $8 left today to get them to destinations in the United States.

Settlement of the strike subject to a vote of the dock workers, meant a reprieve from the line's order for all aboard to go ashore by Friday or Saturday. It also saved the Cunard line the trouble of a possible "sitdown" strike by some 900 of the passengers who objected to finding hotel accommodations ashore.

Ship's Supplies Low

The ship's food stores had been almost depleted by the 1,500 passengers of all classes who had lived at the line's expense since Friday night or Saturday.

But to make the day one of genuine Thanksgiving the line served turkey with cranberry sauce, chestnut stuffing and mince pies tonight.

News of the settlement of the strike spread from stem to stern of the huge ship and started a cheering celebration about 8 a.m.

Half dressed men and women poured out of their cabins and paraded up and down the passageways or massed in excitement around the bulletin boards where notices soon were posted that the Queen Elizabeth will sail at about 8 a. m. Sunday, Some were laughing, some in tears.

"We are just thankful to God for a most wonderful Thanksgiving day present," fervently declared Jane De Witt Kress of Chicago.

Not everybody's joy was unrestricted.

"I'm one of the few people feeling sick about this," commented Miss Eleanor Coldwell, El Paso. "Yesterday I took an air reservation and I'm due to fly home today. Now I've got to see if I can re-book my berth."

The delayed departure cost the line about $20,000 a day.

The Queen Mary, a sister ship, will leave Wednesday, a week late.

Five Months Passes Quickly For Texas Polio Victim

DALLAS, Nov. 25. (INS)—Five months in a plaster cast have passed quickly for polio-stricken Betty Jo James, 15-year-old Lindleville, Tex., High school sophomore.

Betty Jo was hospitalized here after polio left her with a curved spine. Her cast has a huge hinge at the top with a trunbuckle on the side which doctors turn to force the spine back into its natural line; each turn of the screw puts the pressure against the twisted spine.

The doctors have been twisting the screw for five months and expect to be at it for another year. Meanwhile, the Erath county child, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Jones, is keeping up with her school work by correspondence.

A girl in Denmark has been accused of hiding a Nazi for three years.

Beaumont Police Radio Test Reaches Clear Into Canada

BEAUMONT, Nov. 25. (INS) — The Beaumont police department's new FM radio system has patrolmen wondering these days.

Recently a police electrician was testing from a concrete and steel inclosure.

"Test for car 13," he called.

"Test for car 13," came the radio right back at him.

"Who are yau?" he queried.

"Police."

"Where are you?" he asked.

"About 50 miles up in the mountains," his radio replied.

"What mountains," asked the electrician becoming indignant.

"Provincial police out of Quebec about 50 miles up in the mountains out of Three Rivers," came the answer.

The mountain police were also using FM.
