Penalties Of Drug Abuse Detailed By Law Student

Dee Tredwell, second year student in Texas Tech University's School of Law, was guest speaker Thursday night at the meeting of Olton Parent-Teacher Association. Tredwell spoke on "Drugs and the Law," citing how the use of drugs "affects you, me and our kids."

Education, Tredwell believes is the key element in any mature decision and was the basis of his presentation.

"I'm not here to preach to you about the evil of drugs, rather to educate you as to the way the law applies to drug abuse. Then if you play the games and are caught, you will at least know what to expect," he said.

Drug abuse, he explained, includes not only illegal drugs such as marijuana, heroin, cocaine and LSD which has little or no accepted use in medicine. It also includes legal drugs that became illegal because of the mode of their use.

"When we talk of legal drugs being illegal, we are speaking of instances of 'true drug abuse'. For example, the person who manages to get a prescription legally from a doctor for reducing pills and then starts to sell or even give them out to his (or her) buddies is subject to some pretty severe penalties under both state and federal laws."

Tredwell pointed out that many young people mistakenly believe that, because of their juvenile status, they are not subject to the same criminal law as adults. Penalties, he said, are the same; the only difference is that juvenile cases are handled by juvenile courts.

Benefits of citizenship, he explained are surrendered when a person is convicted of a felony. Those rights are not only lost for the conviction of drug related felonies but also for the conviction of any felony.

Lost, he said, is the person's right to vote; the right to belong to any profession requiring a license by the state or federal government (such as lawyer, judge, doctor, architect, pharmacist, barber, beautician, mortician, Certified Public Accountant, veterinarian, insurance salesman or real estate broker), right to work in any federal government job that requires a security clearance; right to hold public office; right to work in law enforcement; right to be bonded; and the privilege to serve on petit or grand jury.

Conviction of a felony also prevents enlistment in military service.

"You may think the laws are unfair or unjust," Tredwell said, "but nonetheless, that is the law. Now that you know the law, the decision is yours and you children's. I hope they may a mature and educated decision."

Tredwell explained that possession of heroin, cocaine, opium, morphine and LSD is a second degree felony which can merit penalties of two to 20 years in jail and/or $10,000 fine.

Delivery of those drugs is a first degree felony which can lead to a sentence of 99 years or life imprisonment. Hallucinogenic substances comprise group two drugs with possession termed a third degree felony subject to punishment of two to ten years imprisonment and/or fine of $5,000. Delivery of group two drugs is also a third degree felony subject to the same punishment as possession.

Group three drugs include stimulants and depressants, commonly referred to as "uppers" and "downers".

Class B punishment is a misdemeanor which can result in 180 days maximum in an institution and/or fine of $1,000.

One year in an institution and/or $2,000 fine is maximum punishment for delivery of group three drugs.

Mrs. George Stewart, president, presided over the meeting.

Devotional

thoughts were brought by Rick Hudson, music and youth director of First Baptist Church. He shared three Hebrew proverbs.

"As parents and teachers, it is our responsibility to instruct and discipline our children," he said. "These two things go hand in hand."

"In a community such as ours, it is good to know that our teachers strive to bring our children up according to the laws of God."

Hudson cited the Biblical passage, "By faith we are able to take our children and instruct them, discipline them and bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord," as the text of his devotion.

Mmes. Bob Coen, Jim Steele and Don Nafzger were named to the nominating committee.

PTA members voted to accept an eye screen program as a continuing project. Mrs. Stewart explained that a screening clinic will be held in February in Amherst and at least four Olton persons are needed to participate and take the training to conduct eye screening.

The eye screening test is designed to detect amblyopia in pre-school children. The disease, commonly called "lazy eye," can be corrected on if treated at a very early age. Medical authorities state that the disease needs to be detected and treated before a child reaches six years of age.

Announcement was made also of a Feb. 4 PTA council meeting is Muleshoe. All persons are urged to attend this meeting and learn more of the eye screening program.

Heart Drive Chairmen Told

Mmes. Margaret Burrus and Fred Stockdale were appointed chairman of the Olton Heart Fund Drive to be conducted in February.

In making the announcement, Carole Faver, Lamb County Heart Fund campaign chairman, said that Mmes. Burrus and Stockdale will head the efforts of volunteers in Olton. Local volunteers will join more than two million across the nation during American Heart Month when they visit the homes of friends and neighbors to distribute helpful heart literature and collect funds to support Heart Association programs.

Heart and blood vessel diseases, the nation's number one killers, will claim more than a million lives this year. In addition, lost wages and medical expenses resulting from these diseases will cost the nation an estimated $20 billion in 1975.

Volunteer recruitment has begun for the drive, which begins in February.

Dear Editor

Dear Editor,

After spending two weeks in the city of Houston, I arrived home and took a good look at my home town. It never looks so good. My street, Ave. G. which is one of the streets needing improvement, looked so peaceful and quiet after the hectic traffic of Houston. I decided I wouldn't trade it for the best kept street in the world.

On looking around town I was very pleased with the well-kept lawns of my neighbors. Our churches, schools, bank and a few other businesses also have well-kept hedges and flower beds, adding to the attractiveness of our city.

I also want to commend our garbage men. My alley is always neat and lean, also the city for the good job they do in keeping the weeds cut on our vacant lots, and there are many.

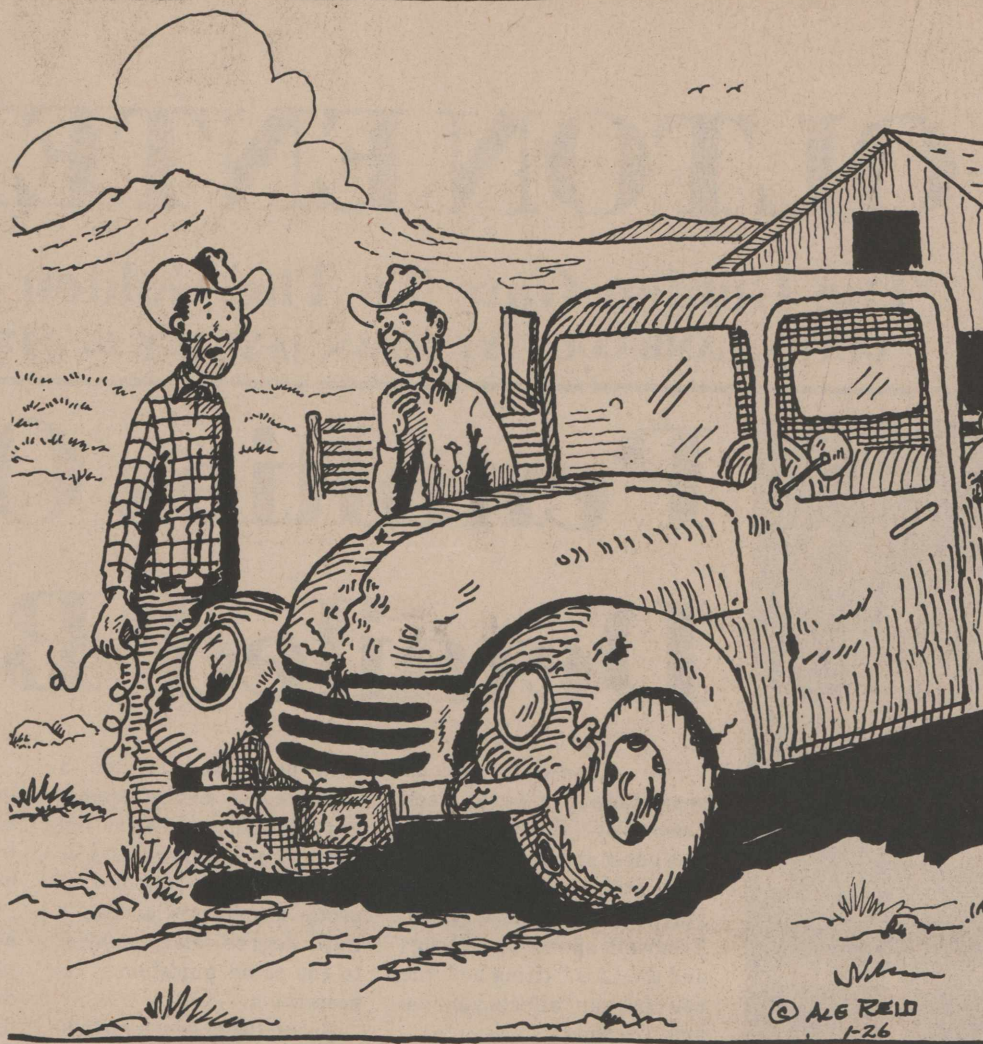

We do have a few vacant buildings and nothing distracts from a thriving town like one empty building. We can remedy that by trading at home and as our present people in business prosper, so will others find it profitable to move here and fill up our empty buildings.

In 1946 when I arrived in Olton there were many tin buildings and shacks on Main Street and mud holes all over town. Those are gone today. I believe in our little farm community, I find it warm and friendly and

Dear Sirs:

I think we can make Olton a better town by telling all the people that have a car that is no good to take it to the dump instead of having a car that is no good by your house. You will buy a new car and put the old one by your house soon your house will be surrounded by junk. Instead of having all of this, when you buy a new car take the old one that you do not use to the dump. When someone comes from another town to Olton, they will think that Olton is not a very good town to live in. Sincerely,
Edward Bribiesca

In The Ring

By Dick Watson

Olton Boxing Team is in need of a standby coach since coach Wayne Phares has become so popular as a television star. He may be leaving for Hollywood just any day now. Wayne "Burt Reynolds" Phares was attending Joey Fernandez in the corner last Friday night when caught by Channel 13 camera. Joey may have just missed a chance to go to Madison Square Garden and fame also because he lost his fight. Joey took one round and lost two. He was aggressive as always but was trying a new style of boxing that just didn't work for him. He was beaten by the classy Albert Ontiveros of Muleshoe in a semi-final bout.

Lance Phares (son of the famous Wayne Phares) was awarded runner-up trophy at the Lubbock Tournament as he lost a close decision in the Championship bout for the 90 lb. Junior Class. Mario Martinez of Lubbock took first prize.

Danny Garcia of Olton tangled with a much improved Rene Nava of Lubbock Friday night and barely won a decision. I'm glad I didn't have to judge that one because it was close. Danny looked much better as he took three rounds against Reynaldo Rojas of Muleshoe in the 90 lb. Senior Championship match Saturday night.

Veteran boxer, Alfie Fuentez, was unopposed in the 65 lb. Senior division and was awarded a first place trophy for that event. Alfie is a real good boxer and has trouble finding competition at times.

At the time of this writing, we are still trying to locate facilities to host a tournament here in February.

MRS. MICHAEL MAY

Cook Of The Week

Sewing is a hobby of our Cook of the Week, Mrs. Michael May, and yet it was also the least enjoyable part of her high school homemaking classes.

Linda confesses she did not really like sewing in home ec "because I was always the slowest one in the class." Since her marriage, she has overcome the slowness and enjoys the pastime which she also describes as a "necessity".

Re-finishing furniture is another of Linda's hobbies and she loves to read.

Serving as secretary of Young Homemakers, Linda earned her college degree in homemaking from Bethany Nazarene College. Bethany is also the alma mater of her parents, Esther and Calvin Graham.

Just as her parents, Linda and Mike met and fell in love while they were students at Bethany. After graduation, they lived in Mike's home state, Iowa, and moved here in October, 1973. They have a little daughter, Andrea Michelle, a year and a half.

Members of the Church of the Nazarene, Linda teaches a Sunday School class for junior boys and girls.

County Extension Agent Discusses Child Rearing

Mrs. V.O. Harrod was hostess Jan. 21 for a meeting of Olton Home Demonstration Club. Devotional thoughts were presented by Mrs. Melvin Souter.

In a short business sessions directed by Mrs. Alva Kersh, president, plans were made for the annual Stock Show luncheon to be served by the club Feb. 8 in the dining room of First United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Dorothy Powell, county extension agent, presented the program of the day, "Through Children's Eyes."

She pointed out that no two children are alike. Each grows in his own way at his own speed. Each needs encouragement and acceptance. She stated that it is good for children to ask questions, and they need good answers that they can understand.

"A child learns from the people around him," Mrs. Powell said. "One of the most important examples for a child's early life will be the life of his parents. Parents need to learn to accept each child, listen as they share their ideas, and try to see his point of view."

Refreshments of fruit cake, pound cake, iced drinks and coffee were served to the guest speaker, one guest, Mrs. W.T. Hankins, and members, Mmes. Lester Kennedy, V.J. Trusty, Callie Miller, Ross Carty, O.T. Crosby, Helen Minarik, Kersh, Souter, Miss Ann Warren and the hostess.

Members of all demonstration clubs are reminded that Annual Friendship Day will be observed Monday, Jan. 27. In the form of a salad luncheon, the event will be held in Lamb County Electric building, Littlefield.

Next meeting of the local club will be held Feb. 4, in the home of Mrs. Homer Curry. Mrs. Gene Trotter will present a program concerning cystic fibrosis and cancer.

Write In The Groove

BRYAN ALLCORN AND FREDDY STOCKDALE

Well, things were prettily quiet on the homefront this week. In other words, nothing happened. Oh yeah, there were the usual insults in Mrs. Walden's class, but that's about all.

This week must have been "National Joke Week", because the funnies were really floating around. Such greats include the ones about the V.P., the golfer, Ben Gay, as well as some baby jokes. And last but not least there's always the one that Scott made up.

Speaking of the weather, hasn't it been great this past week? The wind and the dust was a'blowin' and it was so cold that us writers thought we were supposed to be at the Roosevelt track meet. Speaking of sports, the Olton Fillies began their defense of the district championship. They, as well as the Mustangs, took on Dimmitt and Friona. The Fillies lost in Bi-District competition to Floydada 50-48 last year.

And now we turn to your favorite part of the column, the comments:

John R. - Where did you take dancing lessons?
John R. - Expound on it and it might take 3 pages long. (These were submitted by request).

Elaine R. - Bertha Thud-Thud!

Mike F. - Teach US how to play snooker.
Diana S. - Shining bodies.
Deryl C. - I wasn't talking to you!!

This week we feature two poems written by actual OHS students. The first is entitled "Bertha Thud-Thud" and tells the story of an Olton legend. The second one is entitled "Me", which tells us that YOU are the most important person in the world.

Dedication To Bertha

Bertha Thud-Thud was her name,
Playin' basketball was her game,
As she came onto the court
She had Jeffy Ray's support.
When he asked, "Hey girl, what's your name?"
Poor old Bertha hung her head in shame.
All her friends just stood around
And cut poor Bertha to the ground.
The balls kept a'flyin',
And Bertha's bod kept a'dyin'.
Coach Ables, sittin' in the stands
Said, "Hey, Bertha, catch that ball with your hands!"

ME

We try to help the neglected
And I cannot help but say "Why?"
Sometimes the most neglected,
Are me, myself and I.
Actually, I kind of like myself,
I think I'm pretty neat.
Without ME, I'm sure,
My life just wouldn't be complete.
Me is someone I can talk to
When things aren't going right.

I can give advice to me
And he can give it right back.
I can even get along with myself
And myself gets along with me.
So, when you put us altogether
We're one big family.
When it's just us, (me, myself and I)
And no one else is near,
We sometimes pretend we're someone else,
A hero without a fear.
I can be a star athlete,
My opponent can be me,
Myself also has a role,
He can be the referee.
And when these games are over
And when we've had our fun,
No matter who won the contest,
I still end up #1.

We should give more credit to ourselves;
Just where would this world be?
Oh, what shape would the world be in,
Without I, myself and me.
Now I've come to the conclusion
That I like myself a lot.
And mister, if you'd ask me why,
I'd say "Mister, I'm all I got."
