There is a sack manufacturing plant on the highway through Bonham.

On our way to Sherman the other day, I noticed this building that read "Bag Test Building". Driving on, I began to think about that.

A test building for paper bags! Can't you just see it? A whole line of women standing with bags, filled with a variety of groceries. There could be the "Hurry Test" in which a team of women equipped with different types of bags jogged towards parked cars.

There could be the "Time Lapse Test" where they stood and talked with one another until the bags became soggy and the bottoms fell out.

There could be the test where a phone is ringing and the bags go through being tucked under arms while keys are fumbled for, doors unlocked, and the whole bag dumped on the floor while the women reach for that phone. (For a touch of authenticity the phone will cease ringing just as these harried women pick it up).

During all this, of course, there will be monitoring, video taping, timing, stress tests, all the high tech results to be shuffled into some computer and the results going towards making a better bag!

I wonder if they have a test division for all those things we reuse paper bags for? Perhaps tests for how well they take coloring by school children, how well they hold pecans, or garage sale items, or any number of things that paper bags are so valuable for? Or is the company totally unconcerned about that?

Of course, it may not be that way at all. There may be a line of machines, each going through repetitious motions...pulling, punching, stressing those bags in mechanical mindlessness.

Most probably that's the way it really is. Or perhaps it's somewhere in between.

But everytime I conjure up that image of a line of folks with filled-up shopping bags, putting them through all the rigors of everyday life, I can't help but smile.

Give Thanks For What Isn't As Well As What Is!

Thanksgiving, like all holidays, it rolls around once a year regularly. And it gets hard to think of anything original to say about it.

The Pilgrims giving thanks for what they had, the hardships they endured, the sacrifices they made for a new way of life, all that is important, and it is the reason the holiday is observed, but it seems that such things have been repeated and repeated until it's difficult to pay much attention.

Instead, many people just take the day for granted, eat too much and watch a lot of football. Those that don't indulge in "Turkey Day" football indulge in complaints that all the others do is watch football!

But it isn't "Turkey Day" it's Thanksgiving Day a day to give thanks for what Americans have...and don't have.

Don't Have? Yes, for what this nation doesn't have is as much worth giving thanks over as the many, many things it does have.

In this country there isn't massive starvation, with children dying by the thousands.

There isn't a dictatorship, with military coups taking place on a regular basis, and executions occurring constantly.

People with extra rooms aren't forced to rent them out because the housing shortage is so acute there isn't room for everyone.

In this country plagues don't sweep the land wiping out thousands upon thousands in a few short weeks.

If illness does occur there are medical facilities to treat it, and even dying can be accomplished with dignity and comparative comfort.

The list can go on and on, the things American have to be thankful for because the Don't Have Them.

In this nation hunger exists, illness exists, flaws in government exist, there are wrongs that need correcting.

But Americans still have so many of the freedoms and privileges the Pilgrims came to find.

This Thanksgiving Day give a moment's time to pondering what Americans not only have...but what they don't have. For the things that are missing are often as important as the things exist.

Happy Thanksgiving Day.

City Council Adopts Animal Ordinance

The Bogata City Council approved the adoption of a Noisy Animal Ordinance during their regular meeting held Monday night, November 14.

The provisions of the ordinance will apply to all persons with property inside the City Limits of the City of Bogata. The ordinance states that it shall be unlawful for any person to harbor or keep on his premises, or any premises under his control, any dog which by loud or unusual barking or howling shall cause the peace and quiet of the neighborhood or the occupants of the adjoining premises to be disturbed, or reasonably liable to be disturbed. The penalty states that any person, corporation or association violating any provision of the ordinance shall be deemed guilty of an offense and upon conviction, shall be punished by a fine not to exceed $200.00. Each day the nuisance continues shall be a separate offense and a fine will be applied accordingly.

Under old business, it was reported that Hayter Engineering has written a letter to Johansson stating that there are three areas which have little grass on the levee at the sewer plant. They state that they feel it will be necessary to repair the erosion damage and secure grass coverage in April, 1989.

Under new business, KSA Engineering, Mike Dunn of Longview explained that there are several projects that the city may be able to receive grants for. Council approved the motion authorizing Mr. Dunn to pursue the study of a grant for a lift station and/or additional water supply at no cost to the city. If after a reasonable length of time, the city can't get a grant for water supply, it was decided that the city would need to go ahead with the lift station.

The City Council approved the request by Juvenile Probation Officer, Dianne Williams, for use of the council room on the second Wednesday of each month from 3:30 to 5 p.m.

Council voted to get a smaller Christmas tree this year and to buy needed decorations.

Council rejected the amended budget of the Red River Appraisal District.

The pay scale for city employees was tabled until next month's meeting.

City Judge, Mildred Eudy, reported one exhibition of acceleration, and one failure to show proof of liability insurance.

As we gather around the dinner table this Thanksgiving, there will be much we can be grateful for. Perhaps for most families, it will be the abundance of the feast. For others, it may be the presence of a dear one who has been far away. Whatever the blessing, it is only right to praise God for it. But, His blessings don't come just on Thanksgiving Day. They are there for us to count, day after day.

GREETINGS

THE PRESIDENT DOESN'T TAKE AN OATH TO DEFEND THE AMERICAN FLAG OR THE STATUE OF LIBERTY.

The President takes an oath to defend something even more important than a majestic symbol of our country.

The President takes an oath to defend the Constitution of the United States. A document that has been described as the greatest leap forward for freedom in human history. A document that is the foundation of our country. And the means by which we achieve the rule of law and protect our freedom.

As we commemorate the Bicentennial of the Constitution, there is no better way for you as an American to reaffirm the principles for which our country stands than to learn more about the United States Constitution.

Contel Turns On Lights For Safety

As a new safety measure for Contel employees and as a service to members of the community, all Contel vehicles will now travel with headlights on, regardless of the time of day. This measure should make vehicles easier to see and create safer driving conditions for the community.

An employee group initiated the Lights On For Safety Program, choosing to implement the new headlight program throughout Texas. The program began November 1, and the employee response has been favorable. The program is similar to one in California, where Contel was able to achieve a 20% safety improvement rating.

And those are the purposes of the program, keeping employees safer and keeping drivers of other vehicles safer.

Are your attitudes about mental illness still in the dark ages?

Our notions about mental illness have a long, dark history. Age-old fears, resentments and scorn still poison our perceptions. Sadly, these misunderstandings keep us from seeing mental illness for what it really is: a distressing medical disease. A disease that afflicts over 35 million Americans.

But the stigma of mental illness keeps most of those afflicted from seeking help. Which is tragic. Because today there's more hope than ever before. In recent years, medical science has begun to unlock many of the mysteries of mental illness and discovered new drugs and better therapies to treat it.

In fact, today, 2 out of 3 people who get help go on to lead productive lives. For an informative booklet about mental illness, contact the American Mental Health Fund.

Proposals Could Provide Incentive For Oil & Gas Industry

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Monday that a new proposal by Railroad Commissioner John Sharp to provide tax credits for enhanced oil recovery projects could provide important incentives for the state's oil and gas industry.

"I feel this proposal is the best we've seen, or are likely to see," Bullock said.

Commissioner Sharp's proposal would provide a credit against the state's oil severance tax for producers undertaking EOR projects, projects designed to produce more oil from wells and reservoirs that are near the end of their production under conventional methods.

Bullock said that Sharp's proposal would definitely produce incentives for EOR projects. These incentives are particularly important in a mature oil-producing state like Texas, where much future production will come from expensive enhanced recovery methods, rather than cheaper primary production.

Bullock noted that Commissioner Sharp's proposal would cost the state less in tax revenue than any other proposed oil and gas incentive he's seen.

"And if new EOR projects begin because of this proposal, the tax loss could easily turn into tax gains for Texas," Bullock said.
