US Ships, Smugglers, Stage Duel

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

SAIGON (AP) — American warships fought a running duel off the South Vietnamese coast today with a large arms-smuggling Communist trawler which ran onto the shore and blew itself up when flight became hopeless.

The 100-foot, steel-hulled trawler shot up a 50-foot U.S. Navy patrol boat during the sea battle. The Red crew set off detonating charges after they beached the trawler, but much contraband, including small arms and uniforms, was recovered. Salvage crews were searching for more.

The fight took place about 100 miles south of the 17th Parallel which divides North and South Vietnam. Two such trawlers were intercepted last year by U.S. naval ships and gave up a large amount of arms and supplies. Naval officers felt today's interception may prove to be as important.

Half a dozen heavy Communist mortar attacks in the central highlands marked the ground war Monday and today. One U.S. soldier was reported killed and 75 were reported wounded.

Heavy weather again moved in over much of North Vietnam, limiting U.S. warplanes to 92 missions Monday. Most were against supply lines and rail targets in the southern coastal area.

The Communist trawler was spotted by a Navy Neptune patrol plane 25 miles off the coast of Quang Ngai Province, about 325 miles northeast of Saigon.

The destroyer Brister, the Coast Guard cutter Point Ellis and the faster, 50-foot Swift patrol boat No. 78 were dispatched to intercept the trawler.

When the Brister let go a long-range warning shot across the trawler's bow, the Communist vessel opened up on the approaching Swift boat with machine-gun fire. The Communist bullets ripped into the Swift's hull and inflicted considerable damage but caused no casualties, a U.S. spokesman said.

Bracketed by fire from the Brister and the Ellis, the trawler ran on the beach an hour after being sighted.

Texas House Approves Revenue-Sharing Plan

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally's proposal for the states to get 5 per cent of federal income tax revenue to spend as they choose won House endorsement today with virtually no debate.

House members adopted on voice vote a resolution asking Congress to call a constitutional convention to submit the matter as an amendment to the Constitution.

Two-thirds of the state legislatures must approved a similar resolution to force Congress to call the convention. Then three-fourths of the legislatures must ratify the amendment.

"This is one of the most important measures that will come before the legislature this session", said Rep. Reed Quilliam of Lubbock, sponsor of the resolution.

He said Texas stands to gain $250 million a year if the amendment is sumitted and passed.

"This will solve our revenue problems for years to come," he said.

Quilliam said the states want to "accept the challenge of meeting their problems" but lack the wherewithal to do it. He also said he wants to slow down the trend of federal aid programs accompanied by detailed restrictions and penalties.

"Isn't it true the President has asked the states not to do this because it would jeopardize the war in Vietnam?" asked Rep. Jake Johnson of San Antonio.

"I would hope the war will be over by the time this is done," Quilliam replied. "It will take two years for the states to submit this to Congress. We should certainly hope at least that the war in Vietnam will be completed in that time. But even so, I think I would still be in favor of this because of the strings now attached to federal aid."

Senators spent most of a Monday afternoon session in argument over rights and benefits for women. Sen. William T. Moore, Bryan, was successful in getting his so-called women's rights proposal up for debate but he couldn't get it past Sen. Dorsey Hardeman, San Angelo, for final vote.

"Nobody wants the legislation that is being sought here except those who are meddling and frustrated,' said Hardeman.

The measure would ask voters to add one sentence to the state constitution—"equality under the law shall not be denied or abridged because of sex."

Hardeman wanted to add an amendment that any change in the constitution would not affect any present or future state laws concerning women's rights.

"I've got $100, or I can borrow that much, for any one who can show me one little bit of discrimination against women in either the U. S. or Texas Constitution," he said.

Hardeman claimed the constitution change would change the meaning of numerous laws that affect women, including newly won statutes concerning jury service and child custody.

After Hardeman had stalled a final vote on Moore's measure for more than an hour, the Senate adjourned for the day. Hardeman will be up first to continue talking on his amendment when, and if, Moore's measure comes up for debate again.

In other Senate action Monday afternoon, the House was sent a thick bill calling for wholesale revision of state water laws concerning granting of permits for use of water from lakes and streams. All permits could be adjudicated and those found unused or unauthorized could be cancelled and the water made available for other uses.

Sen. A. M. Aikin, Paris, got approval, 29-1 of a bill that clarifies law enforcement authority for college policemen, including the right to carry firearms on a campus. The bill goes to the House.

Fowler Backs President's Surtax Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler gave Congress another strong argument for Pesident Johnson's income surtax proposal today even as he asked the legislators to approve a different, tax reducing measure.

Fowler appeared before the House Ways and Means Committee which is considering Johnson's request for an immediate restoration of two tax incentives for business that were suspended last year. These are the investment tax credit, by which businesses can recover 7 per cent of spending on equipment, and a set of speeded-up depreciation rules of advantage to owners of profit-making buildings.

Since Johnson asked last week for restoration of these incentives, there has been much speculation that the proposed 6 per cent income tax surcharge legislation may not, after all, be sent up to Congress.

Fowler told the committee it was natural to ask about the connection between the two proposals. But he said they are "essentially quite different in design and purpose."

"I have already indicated the suspension of the investment credit was not a revenue measure and had a specific and limited objective — to dampen the excessive boom in the market for capital goods," Fowler said. "The excessive boom is over and there is no reason for continuing the suspension."

Probers Eye Dodd Motives

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate ethics committee probe of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd turns today to exploring the motives behind fund-raising activities the Connecticut Democrat says put at least $150,000 into his personal bank accounts.

The hearings got off to a fast start Monday with the bi-partisan committee and Dodd stipulating in a 162-page document to a mass of facts concerning fund-raising activities in his behalf between 1961 and 1965.

In addition to campaign contributions for Dodd's 1964 re-election race, there were a series of testimonial events. Dodd contends the proceeds from these were tax-free gifts he could legitimately use as he saw fit.

Figures in the stipulation indicated that $456,709 was raised altogether and that Dodd deposited at least $150,000 of it in his own bank accounts.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., told reporters that "due to the sweeping nature of the stipulation," the hearings were moving rather rapidly and might be completed before Congress starts an Easter recess late next week.

With so many facts agreed to, Stennis said testimony will deal largely with explanations and the motives that prompted the testimonial dinners and other fund-raising events.

President Johnson, when he was vice president, was the principal speaker at testimonial affairs in 1961 and 1963. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was the featured speaker at a fund-raising dinner in 1965.

Powell Says Harlem People Won't Let Him Stay Jailed

By STRATTON L. DOUTHAT

BIMINI, Bahamas (AP) — Adam Clayton Powell, who announced plans to return to New York next Sunday, says if he is arrested the "people in Harlem" will not let him remain in jail.

He told a news conference Monday he would "walk the streets of Harlem" and deliver a Palm Sunday sermon at his Abyssinian Baptist church despite the threat of arrest on a contempt of-court warrant. The warrant makes him liable to arrest any time he re-enters the state of New York.

A lawyer in the New York sheriff's office said, "We do not know now whether we would arrest Mr. Powell if he came into town Sunday, because arrests in civil cases are not usually made on Sundays."

Powell joined with Negro leaders in Harlem and across the country in hailing James H. Meredith's withdrawal as the Republican leaders' choice to oppose Powell in a special congressional election April 11.

"I didn't think a civil rights leader would allow himself to become a white man's puppet," Powell replied when asked why he thought Meredith had dropped out of the race.

Meredith told a news conference in New York that he pulled out because the Republicans had not delivered on promises of money to help finance his campaign.

Meredith would not say whether he would support Powell. He said only that the election was "bigger than Adam Clayton Powell."

America has a secret ballot, he said, and "I'll decide when I'm ready."

Meredith said he planned to stay in Republican politics, but he did not specify in what role.

He said only: "I intend to stay in the political arena of the city, the state and the nation, further to advance the principles in which I believe. I am certain that my efforts combined with those of the Republican party will enhance the dignity of the human race."

The order authorizing the arrest of Powell any time he came ino New York State was signed Nov. 28, 1966, by State Supreme Court Justice Arthur Markew ich. So far as is known, Powell hasn't been in New York since.

Students Boycott Suharto's Rally

By T. JEFF WILLIAMS

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Student leaders boycotted a rally supporting acting President Suharto today, but the government brought out more than 50,000 persons to hear Jakarta's military commander, Maj. Gen. Amir Machmud, appeal for stability.

The brightly colored jackets of the politically powerful student groups were conspicuous by their absence. Unofficial student sources said the leaders were unhappy with Suharto's broadcast Monday night in which he said President Sukarno "would be treated as the president without any more power in politics."

Most of the people at today's rally were workers and civil defense personnel. Chiefs of nearby villages said they were told to round up as many people as possible and bring them to the city. Several said they did not know what the reason was until they arrived.

The student groups have agitated for months for removal of Sukarno's presidential title and for him to be put on trial for alleged complicity in the attempted Communist coup of Oct. 1, 1965.

Radio Jakarta announced today that a special Indonesian military court sentenced former Brig. Gen. Supardjo to death Monday night for his part in the coup attempt. Testimony during his trial closely linked Sukarno with Supardjo.

Congress wound up a five-day special session Sunday during which it divested Sukarno of his presidential powers, prohibited him from all political activity and named Gen. Suharto, the army strongman, acting president.

Sukarno's actual status remains fuzzy. The students and many top leaders in Congress believe Sukarno was totally dismissed, but military men close to Suharto adhere to the general's position that Sukarno remains president, although in name only.

Sukarno has been the only president Indonesians have known since he proclaimed independence from the Dutch in 1945, and Suharto and his associates fear his complete removal from office will touch off a civil war. Central and East Java, supposedly the areas of Sukarno's greatest following, so far have been reported calm despite the congressional action.

Sukarno spent the weekend at his palace in Bogor, 40 miles east of Jakarta. He was expected to return to the capital today.

Refinery Shuts Down

TEXAS CITY, Tex. (AP)—The Texas City Refining plant has shut down after its 365-foot catalyst cracker developed a distinct tilt.

The cracker, the heart of the refinery which separates petroleum components, began buckling Thursday and the top of the cracker became slanted from about 40 feet down to the ground.

Tom Dobbie, a plant spokesman, said a complete overhaul of the refinery has been moved up from its original date of mid-April.

The cracker is the tallest in existence, he said, and is a familiar Gulf Coast sight with its constant stream of yellow effluent. It was built in 1953.

Dobbie said the 300 refinery employes are still working, many of them on overtime which he said was necessary when there is a plant shutdown.

Production Down Slightly Last Week

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Production of crude and lease condensate dropped slightly last week, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

For the week ending last Saturday, the average was 8,545,700 barrels per day, down 3,900 from the week before and 37,900 from two weeks previous.

Texas production averaged 2,900,650 barrels per day, down 11,425. Louisiana slipped 6,875 barrels to 1,988,800.

Oklahoma averaged 661,740 barrels, up 10,520, and New Mexico 354,200, up 575.

Producers Plan Tour Of Hydroponic Industries

The Snyder Producers, goodwill ambassadors of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce, will tour the Kimbro and Neiman Marcus Hydroponic Tomato Industries at Lake J. B. Thomas on March 20, Joe Sentell, chairman of the group, has announced.

The Producers, better known locally as "the goldcoaters," have sponsored several goodwill tours and plans are now being made for several others during the spring and summer.

Members of the Scurry County Industrial Development Corp. will be invited to join the tour March 20 and any other interested persons will be welcome, said Sentell.

"The tour will officially begin at noon on March 20 at Sallie's Cafeteria, at which time Neiman McMichael and Chick Hale, coowners of the two installations, will tell the hydroponic story," Sentell explained. "Following a 'Dutch' lunch and briefing, the group will go to Lake Thomas by automobile where they will be met by Mrs. McMichael and Mrs. Hale. The tour of the hydroponic gardens will follow.

"Persons interested in making the tour should notify the Chamber of Commerce as soon as possible so that food may be ordered and other arrangements made, such as transportation, etc.

"This should be an interesting tour and reports from a visit made by our manager, Gene Merrifield, and the city's community development director, Karl Mawhorter, indicate that the hydroponic industry may possibly provide an answer to future food supply problems and that we may have the makings of a new industry within our area," Sentell concluded.

Rain, Hail Taper Off

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Storms tapered off today after rain, hail and winds swept sections of the Ohio Valley, southwest New York state and Virginias.

More snow fell in areas of the West—up to 8 feet in some mountain areas. The late winter stom has hit areas from California to Montana.

Storms in the East developed along a line separating cold air in the Midwest and far Northern states from the unseasonably warm air in the Southland. Temperatures hit record highs Monday for March 13 in several cities in the South and northward into the Ohio Valley. Top readings were mostly in the 80s, with the day's high of 99 at Presidio, Tex.

Rain fell in many Eastern cities. One inch of hail was reported in the southeastern part of Wyoming County, New York, east of Buffalo. Hail also pelted the Dayton, Ohio, area, Churchville, Va., and Charleston and Beckley, W.Va.

Gusty winds swept the main street of Racine in southeast Ohio. Dense fog shrouded Cleveland, halting planes.

Two inches of snow fell at Reno, Nev., with the total amount on the group up to 8 inches. But 15 feet of snow has fallen at Norden, just below Donner Pass in California's Sierra Nevadas. San Francisco had a brief hail storm.

Coldest weather early today was in Montana and North Dakota, with below-zero readings. More warm weather, with clear skies, was indicated in much of the South.

Deputies Guard Court Proceedings

By BILL CRIDER

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A heavy guard was ordered today for the legal showdown in Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's controversial Kennedy assassination probe.

Twenty sheriff's deputies were assigned to watch over the small Criminal District courtroom while state and defense lawyers argue whether retired executive Clay L. Shaw should go to trial.

Garrison accused Shaw, 54, former managing director of the International Trade Mart here, of conspiring with Lee Havey Oswald and others to kill President John F. Kennedy.

The Warren Commission report named Oswald, a former New Orleans resident, as the killer — and said there was no credible evidence that a conspiracy was involved.

The president was killed in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963. Whether there is enough evidence to Shaw called Garrison's accusa- warrant formal charge and trial for Shaw was the only matter before the preliminary hearing. Shaw called Garrison's accusations "fantastic."

Under Louisiana law, Shaw was booked — but not formally charged — with conspiracy to murder the president. He was freed on $10,000 bond.

The peliminary hearing was then called by Garrison, a rare move in Louisiana legal procedure. An equally rare three-judge panel was set up to preside.

The district attorney has kept his case secret. But U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, in Washington, said he knows what it involves and does not consider the case valid.

Clark said Shaw, during the exhaustive investigation which followed the assassination, was checked out by the FBI and cleared. He declined to say why Shaw was investigated.

Shaw's three defense lawyers first accepted the preliminary hearing. Then they switched tactics and fought it vigorously, losing at every step.

The three-judge panel overruled a defense motion Monday to have a single judge preside over the hearing — rejecting the argument that the panel was tantamount to being tried by a jury, and that it was unprecedented in law and unauthorized.

After disposing of defense motions, the panel rescinded a widely ignored rule which it had imposed on press coverage last week forbidding the reporting of anything except what occurred in open court.

US Ships, Smugglers, Stage Duel

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

SAIGON (AP) — American warships fought a running duel off the South Vietnamese coast today with a large arms-smuggling Communist trawler which ran onto the shore and blew itself up when flight became hopeless.

The 100-foot, steel-hulled trawler shot up a 50-foot U.S. Navy patrol boat during the sea battle. The Red crew set off detonating charges after they beached the trawler, but much contraband, including small arms and uniforms, was recovered. Salvage crews were searching for more.

The fight took place about 100 miles south of the 17th Parallel which divides North and South Vietnam. Two such trawlers were intercepted last year by U.S. naval ships and gave up a large amount of arms and supplies. Naval officers felt today's interception may prove to be as important.

Half a dozen heavy Communist mortar attacks in the central highlands marked the ground war Monday and today. One U.S. soldier was reported killed and 75 were reported wounded.

Heavy weather again moved in over much of North Vietnam, limiting U.S. warplanes to 92 missions Monday. Most were against supply lines and rail targets in the southern coastal area.

The Communist trawler was spotted by a Navy Neptune patrol plane 25 miles off the coast of Quang Ngai Province, about 325 miles northeast of Saigon.

The destroyer Brister, the Coast Guard cutter Point Ellis and the faster, 50-foot Swift patrol boat No. 78 were dispatched to intercept the trawler.

When the Brister let go a long-range warning shot across the trawler's bow, the Communist vessel opened up on the approaching Swift boat with machine-gun fire. The Communist bullets ripped into the Swift's hull and inflicted considerable damage but caused no casualties, a U.S. spokesman said.

Bracketed by fire from the Brister and the Ellis, the trawler ran on the beach an hour after being sighted.

Texas House Approves Revenue-Sharing Plan

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally's proposal for the states to get 5 per cent of federal income tax revenue to spend as they choose won House endorsement today with virtually no debate.

House members adopted on voice vote a resolution asking Congress to call a constitutional convention to submit the matter as an amendment to the Constitution.

Two-thirds of the state legislatures must approved a similar resolution to force Congress to call the convention. Then three-fourths of the legislatures must ratify the amendment.

"This is one of the most important measures that will come before the legislature this session", said Rep. Reed Quilliam of Lubbock, sponsor of the resolution.

He said Texas stands to gain $250 million a year if the amendment is sumitted and passed.

"This will solve our revenue problems for years to come," he said.

Quilliam said the states want to "accept the challenge of meeting their problems" but lack the wherewithal to do it. He also said he wants to slow down the trend of federal aid programs accompanied by detailed restrictions and penalties.

"Isn't it true the President has asked the states not to do this because it would jeopardize the war in Vietnam?" asked Rep. Jake Johnson of San Antonio.

"I would hope the war will be over by the time this is done," Quilliam replied. "It will take two years for the states to submit this to Congress. We should certainly hope at least that the war in Vietnam will be completed in that time. But even so, I think I would still be in favor of this because of the strings now attached to federal aid."

Senators spent most of a Monday afternoon session in argument over rights and benefits for women. Sen. William T. Moore, Bryan, was successful in getting his so-called women's rights proposal up for debate but he couldn't get it past Sen. Dorsey Hardeman, San Angelo, for final vote.

"Nobody wants the legislation that is being sought here except those who are meddling and frustrated,' said Hardeman.

The measure would ask voters to add one sentence to the state constitution—"equality under the law shall not be denied or abridged because of sex."

Hardeman wanted to add an amendment that any change in the constitution would not affect any present or future state laws concerning women's rights.

"I've got $100, or I can borrow that much, for any one who can show me one little bit of discrimination against women in either the U. S. or Texas Constitution," he said.

Hardeman claimed the constitution change would change the meaning of numerous laws that affect women, including newly won statutes concerning jury service and child custody.

After Hardeman had stalled a final vote on Moore's measure for more than an hour, the Senate adjourned for the day. Hardeman will be up first to continue talking on his amendment when, and if, Moore's measure comes up for debate again.

In other Senate action Monday afternoon, the House was sent a thick bill calling for wholesale revision of state water laws concerning granting of permits for use of water from lakes and streams. All permits could be adjudicated and those found unused or unauthorized could be cancelled and the water made available for other uses.

Sen. A. M. Aikin, Paris, got approval, 29-1 of a bill that clarifies law enforcement authority for college policemen, including the right to carry firearms on a campus. The bill goes to the House.

Fowler Backs President's Surtax Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler gave Congress another strong argument for Pesident Johnson's income surtax proposal today even as he asked the legislators to approve a different, tax reducing measure.

Fowler appeared before the House Ways and Means Committee which is considering Johnson's request for an immediate restoration of two tax incentives for business that were suspended last year. These are the investment tax credit, by which businesses can recover 7 per cent of spending on equipment, and a set of speeded-up depreciation rules of advantage to owners of profit-making buildings.

Since Johnson asked last week for restoration of these incentives, there has been much speculation that the proposed 6 per cent income tax surcharge legislation may not, after all, be sent up to Congress.

Fowler told the committee it was natural to ask about the connection between the two proposals. But he said they are "essentially quite different in design and purpose."

"I have already indicated the suspension of the investment credit was not a revenue measure and had a specific and limited objective — to dampen the excessive boom in the market for capital goods," Fowler said. "The excessive boom is over and there is no reason for continuing the suspension."

Probers Eye Dodd Motives

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate ethics committee probe of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd turns today to exploring the motives behind fund-raising activities the Connecticut Democrat says put at least $150,000 into his personal bank accounts.

The hearings got off to a fast start Monday with the bi-partisan committee and Dodd stipulating in a 162-page document to a mass of facts concerning fund-raising activities in his behalf between 1961 and 1965.

In addition to campaign contributions for Dodd's 1964 re-election race, there were a series of testimonial events. Dodd contends the proceeds from these were tax-free gifts he could legitimately use as he saw fit.

Figures in the stipulation indicated that $456,709 was raised altogether and that Dodd deposited at least $150,000 of it in his own bank accounts.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., told reporters that "due to the sweeping nature of the stipulation," the hearings were moving rather rapidly and might be completed before Congress starts an Easter recess late next week.

With so many facts agreed to, Stennis said testimony will deal largely with explanations and the motives that prompted the testimonial dinners and other fund-raising events.

President Johnson, when he was vice president, was the principal speaker at testimonial affairs in 1961 and 1963. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was the featured speaker at a fund-raising dinner in 1965.

Powell Says Harlem People Won't Let Him Stay Jailed

By STRATTON L. DOUTHAT

BIMINI, Bahamas (AP) — Adam Clayton Powell, who announced plans to return to New York next Sunday, says if he is arrested the "people in Harlem" will not let him remain in jail.

He told a news conference Monday he would "walk the streets of Harlem" and deliver a Palm Sunday sermon at his Abyssinian Baptist church despite the threat of arrest on a contempt-of-court warrant. The warrant makes him liable to arrest any time he re-enters the state of New York.

A lawyer in the New York sheriff's office said, "We do not know now whether we would arrest Mr. Powell if he came into town Sunday, because arrests in civil cases are not usually made on Sundays."

Powell joined with Negro leaders in Harlem and across the country in hailing James H. Meredith's withdrawal as the Republican leaders' choice to oppose Powell in a special congressional election April 11.

"I didn't think a civil rights leader would allow himself to become a white man's puppet," Powell replied when asked why he thought Meredith had dropped out of the race.

Meredith told a news conference in New York that he pulled out because the Republicans had not delivered on promises of money to help finance his campaign.

Meredith would not say whether he would support Powell. He said only that the election was "bigger than Adam Clayton Powell."

America has a secret ballot, he said, and "I'll decide when I'm ready."

Meredith said he planned to stay in Republican politics, but he did not specify in what role.

He said only: "I intend to stay in the political arena of the city, the state and the nation, further to advance the principles in which I believe. I am certain that my efforts combined with those of the Republican party will enhance the dignity of the human race."

The order authorizing the arrest of Powell any time he came into New York State was signed Nov. 28, 1966, by State Supreme Court Justice Arthur Markewich. So far as is known, Powell hasn't been in New York since.

Students Boycott Suharto's Rally

By T. JEFF WILLIAMS

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Student leaders boycotted a rally supporting acting President Suharto today, but the government brought out more than 50,000 persons to hear Jakarta's military commander, Maj. Gen. Amir Machmud, appeal for stability.

The brightly colored jackets of the politically powerful student groups were conspicuous by their absence. Unofficial student sources said the leaders were unhappy with Suharto's broadcast Monday night in which he said President Sukarno "would be treated as the president without any more power in politics."

Most of the people at today's rally were workers and civil defense personnel. Chiefs of nearby villages said they were told to round up as many people as possible and bring them to the city. Several said they did not know what the reason was until they arrived.

The student groups have agitated for months for removal of Sukarno's presidential title and for him to be put on trial for alleged complicity in the attempted Communist coup of Oct. 1, 1965.

Radio Jakarta announced today that a special Indonesian military court sentenced former Brig. Gen. Supardjo to death Monday night for his part in the coup attempt. Testimony during his trial closely linked Sukarno with Supardjo.

Congress wound up a five-day special session Sunday during which it divested Sukarno of his presidential powers, prohibited him from all political activity and named Gen. Suharto, the army strongman, acting president.

Sukarno's actual status remains fuzzy. The students and many top leaders in Congress believe Sukarno was totally dismissed, but military men close to Suharto adhere to the general's position that Sukarno remains president, although in name only.

Sukarno has been the only president Indonesians have known since he proclaimed independence from the Dutch in 1945, and Suharto and his associates fear his complete removal from office will touch off a civil war. Central and East Java, supposedly the areas of Sukarno's greatest following, so far have been reported calm despite the congressional action.

Sukarno spent the weekend at his palace in Bogor, 40 miles east of Jakarta. He was expected to return to the capital today.

Oklahoma averaged 661,740 barrels, up 10,520, and New Mexico 354,200, up 575.

Rain, Hail Taper Off

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Storms tapered off today after rain, hail and winds swept sections of the Ohio Valley, southwest New York state and Virginias.

More snow fell in areas of the West—up to 3 feet in some mountain areas. The late winter storm has hit areas from California to Montana.

Storms in the East developed along a line separating cold air in the Midwest and far Northern states from the unseasonably warm air in the Southland. Temperatures hit record highs Monday for March 13 in several cities in the South and Northwest into the Ohio Valley. Top readings were mostly in the 80s, with the day's high of 86 at Presidio, Tex.

Rain fell in many Eastern cities. One inch of hail was reported in the southeastern part of Wyoming County, New York, east of Buffalo. Hail 1½ inches in the Dayton, Ohio, area, Churchville, Va., and Charleston and Beckley, W.Va.

Gusty winds swept the main city of Racine in southeastern Wisconsin. Cleveland, hailing [illegible]

Producers Plan Tour Of Hydroponic Industries

The Snyder Producers, goodwill ambassadors of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce, will tour the Kimbro and Neiman Marcus Hydroponic Tomato Industries at Lake J. B. Thomas on March 20, Joe Sentell, chairman of the group, has announced.

The Producers, better known locally as "the goldcoaters," have sponsored several goodwill tours and plans are now being made for several others during the spring and summer.

Members of the Scurry County Industrial Development Corp. will be invited to join the tour March 20 and any other interested persons will be welcome, said Sentell.

"The tour will officially begin at noon on March 20 at Sallie's Cafeteria, at which time Neiman McMichael and Chick Hale, coowners of the two installations, will tell the hydroponic story," Sentell explained. "Following a 'Dutch' lunch and briefing, the group will go to Lake Thomas by automobile where they will be met by Mrs. McMichael and Mrs. Hale. The tour of the hydroponic gardens will follow.

"Persons interested in making the tour should notify the Chamber of Commerce as soon as possible so that food may be ordered and other arrangements made, such as transportation, etc.

"This should be an interesting tour and reports from a visit made by our manager, Gene Merrifield, and the city's community development director, Karl Mawhorter, indicate that the hydroponic industry may possibly provide an answer to future food supply problems and that we may have the makings of a new industry within our area," Sentell concluded.

Deputies Guard Court Proceedings

By BILL CRIDER

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A heavy guard was ordered today for the legal showdown in Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's controversial Kennedy assassination probe.

Twenty sheriff's deputies were assigned to watch over the small Criminal District courtroom while state and defense lawyers argue whether retired executive Clay L. Shaw should go to trial.

Garrison accused Shaw, 54, former managing director of the International Trade Mart here, of conspiring with Lee Harvey Oswald and others to kill President John F. Kennedy.

The Warren Commission report named Oswald, a former New Orleans resident, as the killer — and said there was no credible evidence that a conspiracy was involved.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: This isn't just my imagination, as other people have agreed with me. I refer to the uppishness of the SWISS people. You can't meet a Swiss without his telling you in two minutes, "I am SWISS, you know." Why is that? They seem to think they are better than anyone else.

Please tell me what the Swiss have to be so superior about? What have they contributed to the world that makes them so special — if they are.

CHICAGOAN

DEAR CHICAGOAN: Well, they've given us chocolate, cheese, and great skiing, and they seem to have the formula for avoiding war and attracting money.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: If you and your husband were playing cards with another man and his wife, and this other man kept brushing his leg up against yours, what would you do or say? I tried moving my leg as far out of reach as I could until I nearly slid off my chair, but even that didn't help.

This is not just my imagination, Abby. I KNOW he was doing it on purpose. His wife and I are good friends, and I didn't want to hurt her by making a scene. I know we will be seeing these people again soon. How should this be handled? Or should I ignore it?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: The next time you are able to have a private word with "Daddy Long Legs," tell him in no uncertain terms that you got his message — and the answer is NO!

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My mother says that girls shouldn't call boys. I don't see why not. If you want to know about a homework assignment or something like that, what's wrong with it?

WONDERING WHY

DEAR WONDERING: Girls shouldn't call boys because the boy might get the idea that she is "chasing him" — which is the last thing a girl wants a boy to think — especially if she is, If a girl wants to know about "a homework assignment or something like that," — she'd be way ahead to call another girl.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: This is for WORRIED, who said her parents left her alone with her younger sisters and brothers, sometimes for days without telling her where they could be reached in case of emergency.

Do these parents realize that even if WORRIED were to call an ambulance or a doctor, nothing but FIRST AID could be done without the parents' consent?

If parents take off and don't want to be reached, they should at least leave a letter giving permission to a certain doctor or hospital to do whatever they deem necessary for the welfare of the child.

I have a cousin who lay suffering with a broken neck until his parents wired permission from Hawaii to treat it!

Easter Seal Campaign Is Going Well

Cecil J. Boren, Scurry County's Easter Seal Representative reported today that the 1967 Easter Seal Appeal for the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas is going well. Mr. Boren serves as Easter Seal Appeal treasurer for Scurry County.

The 1967 Easter Seal Appeal will help finance the Easter Seal Society's rehabilitation program for children and adults in Texas. Last year the Society helped 16,031 disabled persons through its program of assistance in finding and making effective use of services for the disabled and their families.

The Easter Seal Society helps support 23 treatment facilities in Texas where children and adults are treated regardless of ability to pay. These centers offer physical therapy, medical diagnosis, speech and hearing programs and related services to help the disabled build happier and more useful lives.

As Easter Seal Representative for Scurry County, Boren is the person to contact for services from the Easter Seal Society. He can be contacted at Snyder National Bank.

When contacted for services, Boren will request the Easter Seal Society to investigate the needs of the disabled person and will ask that the Society advise the handicapped person of the best resources available to help him.

Boren added that additional contributions to the Easter Seal Appeal should be sent him as soon as possible, as the 1967 Appeal ends Easter Sunday, March 26.

Governor Speaks To Church Group

AUSTIN (AP) — Although rising crime rates have put Texas in a "state of turmoil," Texans seem more concerned about his liquor by-the drink proposal, Gov. John Connally said Monday night.

And Texans apparently do not understand the liquor proposal, Connally told the Texas Council of Churches Annual Assembly.

The governor said he has received few letters of support for his programs to deal with the "major problems of crime and traffic safety" introduced last January.

"Why is it, then, that I have received over 7,000 letters, presumably from well-meaning people, with regard to my proposal to make the Texas liquor control law the tightest in history and including the provision to legalize the sale of liquor in smaller amounts than full bottles?" Connally asked.

"The writers did not understand what I was proposing and most of them were seizing upon an opportunity to raise the prohibition issue," he said.

6 Due To Attend Atom Conference

Six high school students from communities served by Texas Electric Service Company will be selected to attend the eighth annual Youth Conference on the Atom in Chicago Nov. 30 - Dec. 2, H. F. Clark manager for the company announced today.

The three - day conference is designed to present to a group of the nation's most gifted high school science students and their teachers authoritative information on the promise of the peaceful atom in its various applications and to help advance interest in the study of science in the United States.

The students will hear talks on nuclear energy and related topics by prominent educators and scientists. One day will be spent touring Chicago's renowned Museum of Science and Industry and the Argonne National Laboratory, one of the world's largest atomic energy research and development centers.

A committee composed of distinguished educators and scientists will select the six students on the basis of applications submitted to it. The principal of each of the schools from which the six students are chosen will be asked to name a science teacher to accompany the student to the conference. The selected students and teachers will attend the conference as guests of Texas Electric Service Company.

Clark pointed out that the electric power industry has an interest in seeing that gifted students are attracted to science and engineering and that participation in this conference is one way in which the industry can stimulate the interest of students in scientific careers.

Detailed information about the conference has been made available to the eligible schools or can be obtained from the company. The students's grades, test scores and interest in science will be among the qualifications considered by the selection committee. Applications will be accepted only from students who will be seniors next September in high schools located in communities served by the company.

Over 700 persons will attend the conference from all parts of the country, including more than 400 high school students and 200 teachers. Their attendance is sponsored by more than 65 investor-owned electric utility companies, including Texas Electric Service Company.

EDUCATION DOESN'T ANSWER ALL PROBLEMS

Country's Attitude Softens Toward Welfare Legislation

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The changing times have had a quieting effect on Congress. There is still just as much noise from the Capitol. But it's a different kind of noise.

And, just because it is, President Johnson doesn't get the same kind of lashing that was inflicted on President Harry S. Truman. One reason, of course, is that the cast of characters in Congress has changed.

But that's only a minor part of the reason. The attitude in the country is different.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal ended in 1938 with the passage of the minimum wage law. From then on Roosevelt and the country put all their resources into getting ready for a war and then fighting it.

On Sept. 2, 1945 Japan formally surrendered and four days later Truman sent a message to Congress. He had the tremendous task of reconverting the country to peace. He never forgot that day, as he made clear in his memoirs.

"It was on that day," he wrote, "and with that message that I first spelled out the details of the program of liberalism and progressivism which was to be the foundation of my administration."

He wanted to carry on with the unfinished New Deal and asked Congress for extension of Social Security, an increase in the minimum wage, national health insurance (now medicare), continued war against slums, new regional developments like the TVA, a full employment bill, and continuance of wartime economic controls.

But at that time Congress in both houses was mostly dominated by a coalition of conservative Republicans, led by Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, and Southern Democrats.

Taft, more than any one man, was Truman's constant critic. There was such unbroken uproar and opposition to Truman that the Democrats lost control of Congress to the Republicans in 1946.

Bit by bit Truman got some of his proposals through but Congress took one momentous step. It wouldn't give him a "full employment act" but it gave him an Employment Act in 1946.

In that act, for the first time in American history, Congress said the federal government had a responsibility for the general welfare. All t he progressive social legislation which followed in the years since then can be considered a natural consequence of both the nation's needs and the responsibility the government had to assume as a result of that act of 1946.

And right here is the dividing line in the difference between the treatment Truman got from Congress and the treatment Johnson gets.

With Truman the nation was shaking off its historic and extreme conservatism — although not quite, as the right wing in this country today can testify. But social and welfare legislation, starting with Truman after the war, gradually came to be regarded as a national need, not a wild-eyed dream.

Nothing shows that better than the record of the 89th Congress in 1965. It approved Johnson's "Great Society" programs by the bundle, the greatest production performance in American history.

These are just a few of the programs it approved: a health program for the elderly, easier registration for Negoes wanting to vote, aid for education, improved Social Security benefits, rent subsidies for low-income families.

While Johnson's "Great Society" is simply an extension of Roosevelt's New Deal and Truman's Fair Deal, the country and Congress now have come to consider social welfare legislation as natural and necessary.

This is why Johnson doesn't get from Congress the beating Truman had to take on domestic needs. Ironically, Johnson's main criticism in Congress — on the war in Vietnam — comes not from the Republican leaders, who support him, but from some of his own Democrats.

Junior Editors Quiz on SIPHON

QUESTION: What makes water run uphill inside a siphon?

• • •

ANSWER: A siphon is a bent tube, one leg of which is longer than the other. When inverted over two jars as shown, and when it is full of water, the water will flow up from jar A, over the bend and down into jar B. It's easy for the air to push down on the water in jar A and force some of it up into the tube because the tube is short and there isn't much weight to the water. But there is a lot more of the tube above jar B, making it harder for the air to push water up; also, the greater weight of the water keeps it running down into jar B, while more water is being pushed up by air pressure in jar A. While these two forces, air pressure and gravitation, are working, the siphon keeps running. As soon as the water falls below the tube in jar A, the siphon stops. To make a siphon work, you've got to fill the bent tube completely with water and get the short end of it into jar A before the water runs out. It's a lot of fun to make a siphon and see if you can get it to run. You can use a short piece of hose for the tube and fill it from the tap, closing it with your thumbs on both ends until you've placed it where it will work.

Jumping To Conclusions With Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —Jumping to conclusions:

A majority of the women who give money to street beggars are overweight. Beggars are so aware of this themselves that they rarely even try to whine a hard luck tale to a skinny gal.

The school subject kids seem to dislike most is history—perhaps because they unconsciously realize they'll be making it themselves the rest of their lives.

Judging from the shop talk of housewives, the biggest problem most of them have is not the conduct of their husbands or children but where on earth they can buy a lampshade that will look right in the living room.

After seeing the fans at a professional wrestling exhibition, you are forced to the conclusion that the only intelligent people in the arena are the sweaty gladiators in the ring who are paid to be there.

One of the paradoxes of civilization is this: the less people walk, the higher soar the prices of shoes.

Few things are as wearing to the ears as the fellow who has been 30 years in the big city and still keeps assuring one and all that he's "just a pore li'l country boy."

No small man ever really is quite satisfied with his life until at least one tall girl falls desperately in love with him—and proves it by starting to wear low-heeled shoes.

If Phyllis Diller didn't invent the miniskirt, then who did? She is the one girl in the public eye that the garment would appear to be designed for.

Wigs and hairpieces are now one of the chief status symbols among career girls. The higher paid her job, the more she owns. If you know a career girl with three wigs, you can bet she's earning $10,000 or more a year.

When you see a rich man riding beside his chauffeur in the front seat of his limousine, it's a pretty good sign he's having trouble with his wife and has to have someone to talk to about it.

Guys who keep their folding money in a wallet inside their jackets are usually harder to borrow from than those who carry it wadded up in their pants pocket. On the other hand, they are rarely broke.

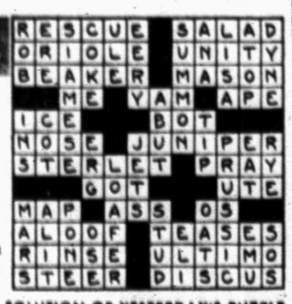

Democracy is still safe in America as long as there are more people whom you can please by giving a box of peanut brittle than a jar of caviar.

Tahoka Boy On 3rd Team

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Coco Villarreal, 6-foot-5 senior who led Zapata to fourth place in the recent state tournament, was the leading vote getter on the Class A all-state schoolboy basketball team selected by the Texas Sportswriters Association.

Villarreal, the tallest player picked on any of the first three Class A teams, polled 65 points, five more than Marshall Crawford, who averaged 30 points a game in pacing Brownsboro to the state title.

Others named to the first team are Joe Milton, 6-2½, of Wolfe City who averaged 25 points a game; 6-foot Eddie Jones of Lorenzo and 5-9 Robert Proctor of White Oak, selected on the third team las yetar.

Three juniors, including one who made it last year, dominate the second team. They are Harry Hughes of West Sabine and Clifton Thomas of Tidehaven, both 6-4, and Lance Morris of Crosbyton. Thomas was a second third team last year.

Seniors David Vasquez of Santa Rosa and Jerry Wilson of Ranger complete the second team.

The third team, all seniors, includes Lynn Rogers, Beckville; Gary Kemp, Whitesboro; Mitchell Williams, Tahoka; Alton Davis, White Oak; and Donny Thomas, Simms James Bowie.

Fees, Wood Land On Class AAA All-State

Class AAA All-State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was a good year for juniors in Class AAA high school basketball in Texas. Four of the players selected for the first two all-state teams in the class were juniors.

First team honors among the underclassmen went to Pat Fees of Class AAA champion Lamesa and to Richard Huhn of Clear Creek, which won the consolation game in the recent state tournament.

Gene Salmon of Del Rio was the only repeater on the first team, selected by the Texas Sportswriters Association. Last year Fees was on the third team as a sophomore.

Rocky Wood of Lake View and Terry Brown of Nacogdoches, both seniors, round out the first team.

Joining Lenox and Blankenbeckler on the second team were Natividad Salazar of runner-up South San Antonio, Ken Holley of LaVega and Randy Brown of Fort Stockton, all seniors.

TIGERS TANGLE WITH PERMIAN

The Snyder High School baseball team, sporting a gaudy 5-1 record, visits Odessa Permian for a single tilt today. Game time is 4 p.m.

Roy Hunter, big senior righthander, probably will take the hill for the Tigers. Snyder also has a doubleheader scheduled this week, meeting Big Spring there Saturday. The first tilt begins at 1 p.m.

Tiger Golf Team Takes 12th Place

LAREDO — The Snyder High School golf team placed 12th among a field of 27 teams at the Border Olympics tournament here last weekend. Most of the schools competing are of Class AAAA status.

Brazosport won the tourney with a 626 card for 36 holes, and Alamo Heights of San Antonio was runnerup with 632. Third place went to San Antonio Lee with 634. The Snyder team fired a 663.

The Tiger golfers didn't get a chance to practice on the course before the tournament, but they knocked 21 strokes off of their first-day total during the second round.

Medalist honors went to Brazosport's Arthur Russell, who fired a 141, 3-under par.

Individual scores for the Snyder boys: Don Copeland 82-75, Mitch Rambin 88-80, Bill Taylor 87-82, and Steve Holder 85-84.

NCAA PLAYOFF

Top Ranked Teams Enter Tournament

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sport sWriter

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (P) — Four of the Associated Press' top-ranked college teams head into the final stages of the NCAA college division basketball tournament Wednesday.

The opening round in spacious Roberts Stadium includes:

2:30 p.m. EST — Long Island (22-6) vs. Winston-Salem State (28-1); 3:30 p.m. — San Diego State (26-4) vs. Illinois State (17-11); 7 p.m. — Southwest Missouri State (21-4) vs. Valparaiso (21-7); 9 p.m. — Cheyney State (27-2) vs. Kentucky Wesleyan (23-3).

Semifinals are Thursday night and the championship game Friday night.

Ranked teams are No. 2 Kentucky Wesleyan, defending champion; No. 4 Cheyney State, No. 5 San Diego State and No. 9 Southwest-Missouri.

The Winston-Salem Rams, with the best record in the field, are led by Little All-America senior Earl Monroe, who topped the nation's scorers this season with a 43-point average. He hit 62.4 per cent of his floor shots and 80.7 per cent from the line.

Monroe needs 20 points to break the season scoring record of 1,255 set in 1954 by Bevo Francis of Rio Grande.

Another Little All-America in the tourney is senior Sam Smith of Kentucky Wesleyan, voted the tournament's most valuable player at Evansville last year. He tops the Panthers' attack with a 7.31 average. Balanced scoring punch comes from teammates Dallas Thorton, 15.9; George Tinsley, 15.3 and Roger Cordell, 15.2.

The Long Island Blackbirds a geared by senior Barry Leibowitz with a 15.7 average and a 6-6 sophomore, Luther Green, with 15.6.

The Cheyney Wolves are nursing an 11-game winning streak and are making the Evansvil trip for the first time after being knocked out in regional act twice before. They have five players hitting in doubles, led by senior Tom Washington with 22.1. They also boast the tallest players in the tourney, 6-11 Harold Booker, with a 13.6 average.

The Southwest Missouri Bears defeated the nation's two top scoring teams to reach Evansville, Arkansas A.M & N. and Lincoln, Mo. Dan Bolden, with 19.0, and Jim Gummersbach, 15.2, are the Bears' big guns.

Dick Jones with 22.8 and Vern Curtis 19.6 give the Valparaiso Crusaders their punch.

The San Diego Aztecs will be without their No. 1 scorer, ineligible Bob Lundgren, but there are five others averaging 9.5 or better, headed by 6-7 Al Skalecky with 14.2 and a 13.5 rebound average.

TENNIS MATCH SET

Snyder has never beaten Sweetwater in a tennis match, but that could all be changed here this afternoon when the Tigers host the Mustangs in Towle Park.

Coach Ken McAllister said there will be about 11 matches — 7 involving boys and four between girls. Gordon Stokes and Jerry Bell have a good chance to win the boys doubles, he said.

Salukis Could Go All The Way

NEW YORK (AP) — Basketball is a labor of love for Southern Illinois' skillful Salukis; but jumping George Stone and the Thundering Herd prefer to shoot first — and let the good times roll.

"When I'm hot, I just keep pumping. I'm not bashful," an exultant Stone exclaimed Monday night after his 46-point barrage led Marshall's hurrying Herd to a record-breaking 119-98 triumph over Nebraska in the National Invitation Tournament.

"The keys for us have been balance and hard work," said Coach Jack Hartman, whose Salukis preceded Marshall into the NIT semifinals by wearing down Duke 72-63 in the first game of the Madison Square Garden doubleheader.

Marshall and Southern Illinois play the respective winners of tonight's Providence-Marquette and New Mexico-Rutgers pairings in Thursday night's semis.

Stone, an angular 6-foot-7 jump-shooter whose accuracy appears to improve as he moves farther away from the hoop, put together the high-point game thus far in the tourney as Marshall shattered Bradley's 10-year-old NIT record of 116 points.

The junior forward, limited to 15 points in Marshall's 70-68 overtime victory over Villanova last Thursday night, poured in 26 in the first half against the stunned Cornhuskers, hitting on 12 of 19 shots from the floor. He finished with 20-for-38 and a school point record.

Sophomore Dick Garrett, rugged Ralph Johnson and Little All-America Walt Frazier led Southern Illinois past the Blue Devils for its 16th straight victory and 22nd in 24 starts. Southern Illinois, the nation's No. 1 college division team, has won seven of nine games against major foes.

"We've played some of the best teams in the country and we thought we'd have a good chance here," said Frazier, the 6-3 floor general who contributed 17 points, nine rebounds and six assists to the SIU attack. "Some teams have one star. We have five players on the court—no stars. We have desire and momentum. We could go all the way."

St. Louis Tips Celtics

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bill Bridges gave the Boston Celtics a tip — one they could have done without.

The Celtics were leading by one point at Memphis, Tenn., with two seconds left Monday night when Bridges tipped in Joe Caldwell's missed shot to give St. Louis a 123-122 victory.

Caldwell then intercepted a Boston pass to clinch the victory, which moved the Hawks two games ahead of Los Angeles in the battle for second place in the Western Division. Each team has three games remaining.

Bridges' basket capped a spurt of seven straight points by the Hawks, who trailed by 16 at halftime and by 13 after three periods. Bridges and Len Wilkens each scored 23 for St. Louis. Bailey Howell got 24 and Wayne Embry 21 for Boston.

One reason you can take dependability of phone service for granted is because we don't.

We know you count on your telephone in all kinds of weather; sunny or stormy, fair or foul. That's why we take steps to insure service dependability no matter what Mother Nature dishes out.

One way we do this is by keeping a continuous flow of dry air under pressure in our telephone cables. If the protective cable covering is damaged, the force of the escaping air keeps moisture out. The drop in pressure alerts us to the trouble and we fix it in a hurry—before your service is affected.

Another way we protect your phone service is by providing standby electrical power for transmitting, switching and receiving calls. In the rare event commercial power is interrupted, we switch to our emergency system and your phone goes right on working.

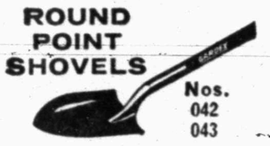

Dependability of telephone service may be taken for granted by most people. But it has never been and never can be taken for granted by the men and women who provide that service.

Americans Show Concern, But They're Still Smoking

EDITORS NOTE - Now, every pack of cigarettes carries the warning. New Filter tips with new claims hit the market. There is still talk of a "safe cigarette. And 38 months after they were warned, American smokers may be worried, but they're still smoking.

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Just over three years ago, the advisory committee to the U.S. surgeon general warned that cigarette smoking was injurious to health. Today, cigarette sales are at an all-time high.

Health warnings now are required on cigarette packages, medical reports contending that smoking is harmful continue to pile up and anti-cigarette campaigns are widespread.

Yet some medical authorities estimate that each day 4,000 young persons try smoking for the first time. Cigarette withdrawl clinics report considerably more failures than successes in leading smokers to their goal of breaking the habit.

What happens next?

A survey of the situation shows that anti-smoking drives will be intensified, cigarette commercials may be dropped on television shows that appeal to youth, and scientists will continue efforts to find what they regard as a "safe" cigarette.

Action is proceeding on these fronts:

Scientists working under a grant from the American Cancer Society say they developed a very promising technique for testing whether a cigarette can be made "safe" or "safer" when smoke is inhaled directly into the lungs of experimental animals.

Various research groups are working with filters, modified tobacco and tobacco substitutes in efforts to come up with a "safe" cigarette.

The secretary of health, education and welfare and the Federal Trade Commission will take a new look this year at current information on the health consequences of smoking and the effectiveness of present warning labels on cigarette packages. The FTC will make new recommendations to Congress.

The FTC has decided to test cigarettes and publish its findings on the nicotine and tar content of the various brands. A bill before congress would require cigarette companies to publish the tar and nicotine content on labels and the FTC laboratory would make a close check on claims.

The American Medical Association is supporting more than 40 research projects which its spokesmen say could produce answers to these questions: How does tobacco smoke produce damage to the human body? Why do some people appear to tolerate the effects of smoking better than others? Is there a single factor involved in tobacco smoke danger or are there several factors?

The American Cancer Society, asserting "far more must be done in the field of smoking and health," is planning to push its educational campaign in films, cartoon books, workshops, pamphlets and youth conferences "day in and day out and in a sustained and systematic manner."

The National Congress of Parents and Teachers, supported in its first year by $87,000 in funds from the U.S. Public Health Service, has undertaken a nationwide program in schools to keep seventh and eighth-grade children from smoking. Key personnel in the educational program will be PTA representatives serving as "room mothers" in individual classrooms.

The cigarette industry, contending that no real proof has been put forward that smoking is harmful to health, has allocated nearly $20 million to independent scientists for research on the cause of such diseases as cancer and heart disease.

The Tobacco Institute, representing the industry, said in a statement:

"At the present time, we do not presume to know the causes of such diseases as lung cancer or heart disease. Nor do we believe the critics of smoking know the answers. We intend to continue to encourage scientists to investigate all facets of the question, without fear or favor."

The cigarette advertising code's "youth rule" became effective in September. It attempts to provide a buffer zone between shows with youthful appeal and commercials selling cigarettes.

It is apparent that all the research now under way will not yield new answers for some time, perhaps years. For the nation's millions of cigarette smokers, the problem and decisions haven't changed since the surgeon general's committee report on smoking and health.

The smoker still faces these choices: Continue the habit unchanged, cut down on the amount of smoking or quit entirely.

The American Cancer Society, the American Heart Association, the U.S. Public Health Service and various other medical groups and researchers state flatly that research has shown cigarette smoking is a serious health hazard.

On the other side, and fewer in number, some physicians, research personnel and health statisticians contend no proof of this has been forthcoming.

Halliburton's Top Salesmen Are Honored

For the first time in history the top three salesmen for a Halliburton Co. division have come out of the same district.

Earning the unusual honor are three Snyder men, R. C. McCoy, J. W. Brewster and M. Z. Dozier, who ranked one, two, three, respectively, in sales in the Dallas Division of Halliburton for the last quarter of 1966.

G. B. Hayes, district superintendent here, and Mrs. Hayes were hosts Friday night to the three top salesmen and their wives at a social at their home and later at a steak dinner at the Snyder Country Club. Also attending the event honoring the three top salesmen were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wilson of the Halliburton Co.

Makers Of Drug To Face Charges

AACHEN, Germany (AP) — Criminal charges were announced today against the makers of thalidomide, the tranquilizing drug blamed for the birth of thousands of deformed children in many countries.

More than five years after the worldwide scandal over the effect of the drug on pregnant women, nine officers and scientists of the Chemie Gruenenthal pharmaceutical firm were accused formally of inflicting bodily injury and negligent manslaughter.

Local prosecutors said evidence collected since 1961 proved a definite link between the once popular drug and the wave of deformed babies.

In about 20 countries, from Austria to the Philippines, an estimated 6,500 children were born with missing or maimed limbs or with other serious defects to women who reportedly took thalidomide during pregnancy. Several thousand more were believed to have been stillborn.

The charges against the manufacturers were announced at a news conference by chief prosecutor Heinrich Gierlich, 56, in a courthouse office crammed with thousands of files on the case. The prosecutors who conducted the long investigation, Josef Havertz, 34, and Eberhard Knipfer, 35, sat by his side.

Up to a million thalidomide pills were produced daily by the Gruenenthal firm at Stolberg, near Aachen, before a West German pediatrician, Prof. Widuking Lenz, pushed the alarm button at a medical congress in November 1961.

Lenz, startled by the mysterious increase of congenital malformations, found that 14 mothers of deformed babies had taken thalidomide during their early pregnancy.

His disclosure spread a wave of panic among pregnant women. Some sought abortions, among them Mrs. Sherry Finkbine, an American housewife who traveled to Sweden for a much publicized operation. A Belgian woman killed her crippled child but was acquitted in a manslaughter trial. A similar case in Germany is still before a court.

Gruenenthal stopped the sale of thalidomide in West Germany five days after Lenz sounded his warning. A criminal complaint filed by a West German couple started the prosecution investigation. Hundreds of other complaints followed.

CLEAN

Flameless electric ranges cook with heat as clean as electric light. There are no fuel combustion by-products to soil kitchen walls, curtains and woodwork. Pan bottoms stay bright. Your kitchen stays fresh and new looking longer with a minimum of cleaning and care.

COOL

With electric cooking, there are no flames to waste heat into the kitchen air. And because the flameless electric oven heats without combustion, it requires no flow of air into and out of it. The oven is insulated all around — including the bottom — to keep heat inside where it belongs.

MODERN

Only an electric range offers so many modern features for easier, more enjoyable cooking. Many models offer such features as color-lighted pushbuttons or dial controls, clock-controlled ovens, automatic surface units and meat thermometers. Some models even have ovens that clean themselves electrically.

Red Spy Ship Will Watch As President Visits Guam

EDITOR'S NOTE — Malcolm G. Barr formerly covered Pacific islands for The Associated Press and himself did some of the bartering described in this story of a Soviet spy ship off Guam.

By MALCOLM G. BARR

WASHINGTON (AP) — When President Johnson visits Guam next week, his arrival will be routinely reported by a Soviet spy ship which keeps the tiny island under constant surveillance.

Knowledge of the President's arrival for a Vietnam war conference won't be much of a coup for the Communists — his trip has been announced and security on Guam should be easier to maintain than anywhere else he has been in the Pacific.

It's novel, though, that a top level war conference involving the President and his top advisers will take place just a few miles from where a group of known Soviet spies operates with the latest electronic equipment.

U.S. naval authorities also try not to let the spy ship bother them.

In fact, the Navy — and the civilian population — treat the vessel as something of a tourist attraction. The Navy takes VIP visitors out in a launch to see the boat, and they normally get a friendly wave from any Soviet who happens on deck.

The Soviet crewmen, of course are not permitted ashore. When Soviet vodka or cigarettes begin popping up around sleepy Agana, the capital of Guam, investigations are made.

Civilians have been known to get close enough to exchange American cigarettes for vodka and other commodities, though naval intelligence officially frowns on such activity.

Rear Adm. Horace Bird, who commands the Navy in the Marianas, once told a reporter, however, that he didn't mind too much.

"It gives the intelligence people something to do!" he chuckled.

A Soviet vessel has bobbed at anchor just beyond Guam's three-mile limit since the United States introduced Polaris-armed submarines into the Pacific slightly more than two years ago.

A "fishing boat," bristling with antennae, took up its lonely post the day before the first Polaris sub surfaced outside Apra harbor in December 1964. Guam is the forward base for the nuclear missile-armed subs.

Later, Andersen Air Force Base, at the northerly end of the 30-mile-long, jungle covered island, became the launch pad for huge swept-wing B52 bombers which attack Vietnam targets 2,400 miles away.

Maj. Gen. William Crum, of the Strategic Air Command on Guam, knows the Soviets signal back word of the huge eight-engine bombers taking off.

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Question — Is the $3 a month I pay for supplementary medicare insurance deductible?

Answer — Yes, this is considered an allowable medical expense along with other premiums paid for hospital and medical insurance.

Question — I took a net loss of more than $1,000 on some stock I sold last year. Since I can only deduct $1,000 of the loss on my 1966 return do I lose the rest of it?

Answer — No, the excess over $1,000 may be carried over to future tax years.

Question — I just started work last year and am still waiting for a Social Security number. What should I do about my return?

Answer — If you have not received your number by the filing deadline, send in your return without it. Indicate that you have applied for the number in the box where it should be entered.

Question — I support my mother's brother but my friends tell me I can't claim him as a dependent since he does not live with us. Is that right?

Answer — A person does not have to be a member of your household to be claimed as a dependent if he is closely related to you. The law considers an uncle to be a close relation. Therefore, he is not required to be a member of your household.

Remember that other requirements for a dependency claim must be met, too. These are the support test, gross income test, citizenship or residence test, and the joint return test. They are all explained in the 1040 instruction booklet.

Question — I received a sizeable amount of severance pay last year. Is that taxable?

Answer — Yes it is. However, if this pay abnormally boosted your income for the year, then you may be able to reduce your taxes by taking advantage of income averaging. Drop a post card to your local IRS office and ask for Schedule G of Form 1040 to get full details.

Question — Where should I send my return?

Answer — Page 10 of the 1040 instruction booklet and page 8 of the 1040A instructions show where you should send your return.

Question — Is a prize considered income?

Answer — Yes it is. If the prize is not cash but is merchandise instead, use the fair market value at the time received as the amount to report on your return.

Question — I moved last year because I changed jobs. Can I take any deduction for my moving expenses?

Answer — You may be able to deduct some of these expenses if certain conditions are met. The rules for claiming these expenses are covered in the 1040 instructions.

A copy of Form 3903, which may be obtained by dropping a post card to your local IRS office, has further information on this deduction. It must be filed with your 1040 if you are qualified to claim this deduction.

Question —From time to time I help my married daughter out by making payments on their mortgage. Can I deduct these payments as contributions or take a deduction for the tax and interest portion of the payment?

Answer — No. Gifts to individuals are not considered charitable deductions and only the person legally responsible for making the mortgage payments is allowed to take the interest deductions permitted.

Question — Does a common law marriage entitle you to file a joint return?

Answer — If you are living together in a common law marriage which is recognized by the state where it was entered into, you may file a joint return.

Question — I'm 65 but my wife is not. Does that mean her medical expenses are subject to the 3 percent limitation?

Answer — No. When one spouse is 65, the qualifying medical expenses of both spouses are fully deductible.

Question — Why isn't income tax withheld from farm wages? They withhold for Social Security?

Answer — The law does not require employers to withhold income taxes for most agricultural workers. These workers should make quarterly payments of estimated tax.

Question — I got a statement showing some dividends I didn't actually receive. How should I handle this when I report my dividend income?

Answer — Enter the correct amount of dividends on your return. You should notify the company that paid the dividends of the error and also attach an explanatory note of this item to your return.

Question — Do I have to report non-taxable dividends or can I forget them like I do my Social Security benefits.

Answer — Income from non-taxable dividends is not subject to income tax. However, for reporting purposes, such income is inserted on lines 1a and 1d, Part II, page 2, Form 1040 where, as a result of the computation of taxable dividends, they are excluded from income.

Amounts received as "dividends" from life insurance policies are not to be included with non-taxable dividends. These amounts normally are considered returns of premiums and should not be reported.

Senator Brooke Visits Cambodia

By BOB GASSAWAY

SAIGON (AP) — Sen. Edward W. Brooke, who has suggested a re-examination of U.S. policy of bombing North Vietnam, flew to Cambodia today and said he may talk with Viet Cong and North Vietnamese representatives there.

The Massachusetts Republican told newsmen as he left for Phnom Penh that if he meets the Communist representatives, it will be primarily to "study attitudes."

He also hopes to meet with the Cambodian chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, he said, adding: "There is a possibility that if there are representatives of the NLF (the National Liberation Front) and of the North there, I might talk with them." The NLF is the political arm of the Viet Cong.

Brooke, on a 17-day Asian fact-finding tour, again expressed a wish to visit North Vietnam but said the U.S. State Department has been "very discouraging and understandably so" about such a trip.

He said he had not asked Hanoi for an invitation and had received none. He said he would not go even if invited, however, if the trip would embarrass the U.S. government.

"I have heard nothing on this trip that would help get an invitation," he said. If he were to visit the North Vietnamese capital he emphasized, it would be only to "evaluate how Hanoi is weathering this war."

The first Negro to be elected to the U.S. Senate in this century, Brooke said last month he hoped to visit both North and South Vietnam and to interview North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh.

In an address at the College of the Virgin Islands he said a cessation of bombing of North Vietnam "would show a genuine and sincere effort on our part (to negotiate peace) and would shift the burden to the Viet Cong."

Brooke said today that he is not representing the executive branch of the U.S. government on his tour and is carrying no peace feelers.

Reward For Saboteurs

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—Two oil companies each offered a $10,000 reward Monday for information leading to conviction of saboteurs who dynamited two wells and tried to blow up others.

The systematic sabotage had oil firm officials on the run, checking out the hundreds of wells that dot South Louisiana.

Specialists brought the dynamited wells under control. Both wells — one owned by Shell Oil Co., the other by Chevron Oil Co. — were blown up Saturday night. Shell and Chevron posted the rewards.

Pan American Oil Corp. said attempts to blow up two of its wells fizzled because of inexpert fusing.

Officials declined comment on a possible motive for the sabotage.
