Big Farming and Manufacturing Breeds Discontent

Editor's Note: The following article was written by an Ochiltree county man who has given much study to the economic future of the United States with particular attention to the high plateau area of the Southwest. He is in a position to know the problems of both the large and small farmer. We offer it to our readers in the firm belief that if anything is not done about Mr. Little ever shrinking smaller, the day is not too far distant when a revolution will shake the foundations of this country.

During the past ten years there have been from 100 to 200 farm families looking for land to farm in the high plains. They have been unable to find land although they were reared on a farm and farming has been their life's work. They are fitted for farming and have proper financial backing.

This has been a serious problem, but we are now faced with a more serious one—that of the returning veteran who wants to farm. Hundreds of these veterans will return to the farms which they left; these will fit in with little or no assistance and can easily be taken care of by agriculture. There will be thousands of returnees, though, who have never farmed and who know very little, if anything, about the hardships that go with farming. They have had no previous training for farming; they have only a dream farm and expect this dream to materialize with little or no effort on their part if they can but get located on a farm.

It is a mistake for every returning soldier to look to agriculture for a living. There are not enough farms, and even if there were, not enough people are going to be needed to run them in the coming days of mechanization. The percentage of our population needed for agriculture is decreasing all of the time. In 1870 it was 53.5 per cent; in 1920 it had dropped to 27.6 per cent; by 1930 it had dropped to 21.9 per cent, and it is steadily growing smaller all of the time. Every other industry has been taken over by larger operators, squeezing out the little fellow; this same process in agriculture is going on before our eyes. The little operator is gradually being eliminated; his holdings are taken over by the large operator, and he moves to town to find a job in the so-called service occupations. There are about a trillion of such occupations. Harper's magazine carried an article by Economist C. Hartley Grattan entitled "Factories Can't Employ Everybody." Mr. Grattan pointed out that planners were tending dangerously to think of the jobs that must be found for returning soldiers and sailors in terms of factory employment alone. "It will be impossible," he asserted, "for factories to employ more than a fraction of these men." And this is a good thing and not a bad thing, he believes. If we are to have a healthy postwar economy, the first essential is that our workers be properly distributed among the various occupations which will make up that economy; and the best distribution will be one in which a smaller proportion of Americans are engaged in manufacturing—not only a smaller proportion than now but smaller than during the 1930s before the war boom began. The percentage engaged in manufacturing occupations, he showed, increased from 21.9 per cent in 1870 to 32.9 per cent in 1920 but declined to 30.9 per cent thereafter and can be expected to go on declining.

This overflow from manufacturing will have to be taken care of the same as the overflow from agriculture. The only outlet for this labor is in service occupations—store keeping, filling stations, radio, clerical, and numerous other occupations. These various occupational services can and will employ about 60 per cent of the labor if our farms and factories are run right. The more wealth we can create in these with the maximum economy of men and machines, the more service jobs there will be, for these jobs are the meaning of it all—they are civilization itself.

The above seems to be the present trend in both agriculture and manufacturing; the small operator must give up his farm, or factory and enter a service occupation, an occupation that has very little if any future except a bare living. We do not believe a veteran, or anyone else, should not be permitted to farm or have his own factory if he so desires. It does not seem reasonable or fair to draft a man to fight, and maybe die, for a country that he can have no interest in except a service job. Patent rights should be made available.

Ochiltree County Tax Rate Will Be 95c Per One Hundred Dollar Valuation. Five Cents Increase

The tax board has set the state property tax rate for 1945 at 72 cents per $100 valuation, an increase of 15 cents over last year's rate. Taxes under the new rate are payable beginning October 1. The new rate breaks down on the basis of 35 cents per $100 valuation for general fund support, 35 cents for the available school fund and two cents for the confederate veterans' pension fund. Rates in the respective categories for last year were 35 cents, 18 cents and two cents.

The new assessed valuation upon which the 1945 rate will be levied is $4,064,983.824, an increase of $2,000,000.

Each division of the new rate is the maximum permitted by law and the constitution. The general fund rate of 35 cents is necessary to meet general fund obligations for next year. The 35-cent school tax rate is necessary to meet the $30 per capita scholastic apportionment.

JUST HERE and THERE

Thanks to Tech. Sgt. Werner Lehman for the copy of "Yank" and the beautiful pictures of Nice in Southern France.

When we saw the news pictures of the United Nations Charter, enroute from San Francisco to Washington, we thought we recognized the steel box container. Now comes a letter informing us that the historic document was protected by a "Treasurgard" box. The Stewart Printing Co. has a large shipment of "Treasurgard" safety boxes on order and hope to have same on sale within a few weeks.

The army and the navy is making an awful fuss about the sending of newspapers to overseas fighting men. Some of the boys think that they have to subscribe and pay for the newspapers themselves. Such is not the case, but newspapers do have to have a letter from the serviceman, requesting that the newspaper be sent to them.

We have just received a letter from Pfc. Robert D. Werneburg that we are reprinting below. Dear Mr. Stewart: I suppose it's time I should write you again as it's been around a year since I last wrote. I have been hearing a lot about the government not letting the home-town papers come out to the men overseas, unless they are actually subscribers to them, or something to that effect. Please find enclosed ten dollars which should take care of that and whatever is left over you can give to that youth fund drive. I really enjoy the paper and as my parents no longer live in Perryton, it is about the only contact I have with what I call my home town.

The Commissioners' Court has set the Ochiltree county tax rate at 95 cents on each one hundred dollars valuation. The court, setting as an equalization board, has raised many real and personal property valuations. Others have been equalized. The total amount of the county rolls for tax purposes has not been compiled.

et by the state board of education for next year. The per capita is an increase of $5 over this year's. The confederate veterans' pension fund tax rate is set by statute which leaves the board no alternative, although the fund has about a $3,000,000 balance.

The general revenue rate is calculated to produce $12,873,964 next year and the school rate is estimated to yield $12,155,583.

Herald to Close Shop August 20-25

Going, going, gone! That seems to be the order of the day at the Herald office. Last week the Stewart Printing Co. lost Ed Geymann to the armed forces. This is the last week for another valued employee, Miss Luella Russell. It all adds up to the fact that the only way for an overworked staff to get a few days rest is to simply close the doors. This we are going to do. We will lock up at 6 p. m. Saturday Aug. 18 and reopen at 8 a. m., Monday, Aug. 26. We will not skip an issue of the Herald however. It will be dated Aug. 23, but will be printed Aug. 18. We ask your cooperation in getting in advertising, notices, or news that must be published under the Aug. 23 date line. Please anticipate your needs in job printing and office supplies during the week that the store, office and printing plant will be closed.

Lubbock Editor Takes Swat at OPA Snooping Into Cold Storage Lockers of Private Citizens

Wounded April 18

Pvt. Calvin D. Lansberry, who was wounded April 18 in the Philippines, has been here visiting friends while on a 60 day furlough. Shot through the jaw and impairing his hearing, he was returned to the States June 23, and will report to William Beaumont Hospital, El Paso, for further treatment. His hearing in his right ear is gradually improving. Prior to his induction he worked for Clyde McGarrugh and the late H. E. Patterson at Gray, Okla. He attended the Perryton High School one year, when a Sophomore. He was born in Colorado, February 4, 1925, and has four sisters living in New Mexico. He was called into service August 3, 1944, at Perryton. Pvt. Lansberry was with the 25th Division, 35th Infantry, being overseas about six months ago.

Pre-Induction Exam for Eight

Eight young men left Wednesday for their pre-induction physical examination at Oklahoma City. No report has been received as to the outcome of their examinations. In the group were: Charles LeRoy McGarrugh, Allison Arlo Unruh, Albert Roy Hogland Jr., Wilburn Leroy Baker, Harold Dean Bennett, Clarence Edward Anderson, Eldon Eugene Anderson and Martin Rogers Marshall, transferee from Ukiah, Calif.

Sec. of Navy Honors Mother Who Gave Eight to the Service

Mrs. W. B. LaMaster was recently honored by the receipt of the following letter from James Forrestal, secretary of the Navy. Mr. and Mrs. LaMaster are the parents of seven boys and one girl in the armed forces. One of the above sons, Joseph, lost his life in action in Europe.

Dear Mrs. LaMaster: I have noted that during the present war you have had seven sons and one daughter serving in the armed forces of the United States; Joseph LaMaster (deceased) Army; LeRoy LaMaster, Navy; Henry D.

Editor's Note: Charlie Guy, editor of the "Lubbock Avalanche-Journal," unleashes the following article on the OPA snoopers who are now busy sticking their dirty noses into cold storage lockers of private citizens. After reading Guy's story, we believe that you'll agree that he's pretty well fed up on the little "great L-ams" that seem to dominate OPA. Charlie Guy is down at Lubbock, the headquarters for OPA for this region, and in position to get a lot of low-down on the OPA. We give thanks that we are so far from Lubbock, but at that little we see of the pee-wee big shots is too much.

About six weeks ago after a hush-pow-wow of OPA biggies in Dallas, The Postman got a tip "right from the horse's mouth" about a plan whereby snoopers were to dig into frozen food lockers, deep freeze cabinets, etc., and find out what people have meat on storage and where they got same.

Hargrove Is Featured in Farm Paper

Herman Hargrove, who lives in the Farnsworth community, is featured in a story entitled "Stubble-Weed Mutton" in the August issue of Capper's Farmer which describes how he made effective use of pig-weeds.

"Favorable rains after harvest brought a crop of pigweeds in 100 acres of stubble," the story in the nationally circulated farm magazine points out. "Hargrove turned in 250 lambs and grazed the field 60 days or more. The sheep gained 20 pounds apiece and the stubble weeds made 50 pounds of mutton an acre."

"Several years ago Capper's Farmer who had made thousands of pounds of mutton and beef grazing in stubble fields that were to be fallowed the next year. Often he went to market by truck and returned with lambs or young cattle that turned the waste growth into marketable meat. Stubb not fat enough for the killer went to a feeder heavier in weight and sometimes at an increase in price a hundred-weight. Stubble growth had made him money."

LaMaster, Navy; Walter B. LaMaster Jr., Navy; Cyrus T. LaMaster, Army; Giltner R. LaMaster, Army; Philip J. LaMaster, Army and Kathryn A. LaMaster, Army. Your sacrifice in this war has indeed been great. I hope your sorrow will be tempered by the knowledge that a grateful nation honors your son who gave his life for his country, as it honors you and your family for your exceptional contribution to the cause of freedom. With deep respect,

Sincerely yours, JAMES FORRESTAL

SERVICEGRAMS

Cpl. Wilbur R. Hess Jr. writes to hold his paper until further notice. He says, "Looks like that day I've been looking and longing for isn't too far off. We arrived at Camp Lucky Strike this p.m. Should hit the states within the next three weeks. In other words, I'll be seeing you 'fore long.' This message was received last Thursday."

S/Sgt. Geo. R. Ragsdale, who returned to the states June 1, is now at Ellington Field, Texas. He and his wife visited a couple of days after his return with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ragsdale, Gray, Okla. He has over 100 points and may be discharged.

Pfc. Val H. Moore, who spent a few days here last week with his aunt, Mrs. A. A. Stone, and other relatives, was in the Pacific over 28 months, with the 27th Infantry. Like so many men back from combat, he wore no ribbons or insignia. And believe me, it makes you feel a little unnecessary when you are unable to recall where they have been, etc. The Herald enjoyed his visit but found him reluctant to talk about his experiences. In fact, Pfc. Moore volunteered no information. However, we happen to know that he is authorized to wear the following awards: Good Conduct Medal; One Service Stripe; Four Overseas Service Bars; Asiatic-Pacific Theatre Medal with two stars for combat on Makin Atoll and Saipan, Marianas Islands; Combat Infantryman Badge; Meritorious Service Insignia; and Pacific Area Shoulder Insignia.

Pfc. Moore has a 45-day furlough and will report to Ft. Sam Houston to be returned to his original outfit on Guadalcanal. He has a sister and two brothers. His brother Tom in the navy was at Pearl Harbor when the Japs attacked. His other brother, Cpl. Oran Moore, who has been through Italy, Sicily, France and Germany, is still in Germany. His parents live at Wapanucka, Okla.

Pfc. Frank Hibbs has arrived in the states. He called his wife Saturday on New York. On Sunday, he left for Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, and expects to be home this week end. His wife and small son Frank Jr. have made their home in Perryton with his parents and his sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hibbs, and Miss Mary Hibbs.

La (Jg) A. Emmet Pittman and Raymond Overby, Pfc. 2/c, met July 21 in the Pacific. On July 21, L. Pittman writes, "Yesterday, I received several addresses from Helen, my sister, of Perryton boys in the navy. In looking down the list I found that we had been anchored, for several days, right near the ship on which Raymond Overby was stationed. This morning, I went over and found him hard at work in the printers' shop. We had a good two hours visit. Plan to see him again in a few days. Was sure good to see someone from home. Expect to find a few more of the fellows before long. Here's hoping all is well with you. Hated to hear of you losing another employee to the armed forces. This leaves me feeling fine and tell all hello."

Mayor Leatherman Says "Save Water"

Although the ban on use of city water for irrigation purposes was lifted Tuesday, Mayor Leatherman asks that patrons use water sparingly and not waste same. The west well at the city plant has been repaired and is now back in full production. The east well is producing almost a normal flow of water. The big underground storage tank has an adequate reserve for fire protection. With the cooperation of all water users, Mayor Leatherman says the city will have plenty of water.

Salary Raise for State Legislators and Three Other Amendments on Ballots for Election

Ballots have been received by County Judge Dave Shanks for the special election on August 25, when voters will pass on four proposed constitutional amendments. Judge Shanks announces that only one box will be opened in the county. It will be at the courthouse.

Amendment No. 1 would permit all persons in the service to vote without a poll tax for a period of 18 months after they leave the service.

The second amendment would place members of the legislature on a full-time salary. Representatives and senators now are paid $10 a day for the time the legislature is in session. If the amendment carries they will be paid $10 a day, 365 days in the year, regardless of when or how long they are in session.

Amendment No. 3 proposes to increase the membership of the state supreme court from three to nine members. The fourth amendment authorizes the legislature to raise old age assistance payments in Texas to $20 a month. This would be matched by federal aid and would permit a maximum monthly payment of $40 to needy persons over 65 years of age.

Wording of the proposed amendment on the ballots is specific except in the case of raising the pay of members of the legislature. In this case it merely reads, "providing for continuous salary," and does not state the amount of the salary.

The official ballot reads as follows, with each proposal repeated as to "For" and "Against."

1. FOR the amendment to Article VI of the Constitution of Texas, providing that any person in the Armed Forces of the United States, or the Armed Forces Reserve of the United States, or of any branch or component part thereof, or of the United States Maritime Service, or the United States Merchant Marine, or who has been a member of same within 18 months prior to the holding of any election in this state authorized by law, and is otherwise a qualified voter, shall not be required to pay, or to hold a receipt for the payment of a poll tax in order to vote in any such election, if same is held while the United States is at war or within a certain stated time thereafter.

2. FOR the Constitutional

Amendment providing for continuous salary per diem of all members of the legislature during their tenure of office.

3. FOR the amendment to the State Constitution providing for a Supreme Court of nine members.

4. FOR the amendment to the Constitution giving the legislature the power to set up a system of payments of old age assistance to those above sixty-five (65) years of age, provided that monthly payments from state funds to any person may be in valid amount based on need, that the maximum payment per month per person from state funds shall not be more than Twenty Dollars ($20) per month; giving the legislature the power to set up a system of payments for the needy blind persons over twenty-one (21) years of age; giving the legislature the power to set up a system of payments to needy children under sixteen (16) years of age; providing for the expenditure of funds from the federal government; limiting the total amount which may be expended for such assistance out of state funds, and providing conditions as to residence within the state in order to become eligible to receive assistance.

Mrs. Al Boyd, the former Miss Anna Mae Barclay, who has suffered from a crippled ankle for 13 years, had an operation in January at the army hospital in Pryor, Tex. She is now walking without a cane. Her ankle is practically normal and in a short time will be entirely recovered.

Thursday night of last week, Mrs. Boyd returned from a check up at the hospital in Pryor. She went down Tuesday and received her discharge from the hospital. From January to June, Mrs. Boyd wore a cast on her foot and ankle. A blister and bruise on her heel caused a bone infection, which resulted in a crippled ankle.

Mrs. Boyd's husband has been in the Pacific for many months.

Diana and Glenda McGibbon are in Anthony, Kan., visiting their grandmother, Mrs. Maude McGibbon. Their mother took them to Anthony last week.

No. 7 Contined from Front Page

I don't believe I thanked you for the Christmas card. It was awful nice of you to send it and I appreciated it.

Thanks, Robert for the ten-spot. We're sending all of it to the Youth Center fund. We have plenty of funds to take care of sending the Herald to every man from this neck of the woods that is serving his country. Just send us the request or send it to your folks and ask them to pass same on to us. A penny post card will do.

And while we are on this subject of mailing the Herald want to say that we have been getting a lot of notices from San Francisco and New York APO and Fleet Post Offices stating they were unable to deliver the Herald because of insufficient address.

It appears that they will forward first class mail sent with these insufficient addresses but will not give the directory service required on newspapers. We ask that parents, sweethearts, wives and friends mail us correct overseas addresses so that we can check same with our mailing list.

The Amarillo Times says: "A good many young men and women are due for a wage drop which will prove a substantial check to them. As factory cutbacks occur, they may find that for new jobs available, their ability will command only half or one-third of their recent income."

Most of them have no sound basis for judging their own worth. They went from high school directly to war jobs which paid fantastic amounts of money, often for a limited skill. Because they had not worked before, they came to think of the present situation as normal.

"Now, the heyday over, they must start at the bottom, topsy turvy fashion. Employment services report that already some are baffled, discontent and unwilling to stick to jobs which pay low wages."

"It's a double problem. The youngsters who concentrate on learning how to be valuable to their employers are most likely to come out ahead financially in the end. Employers who are patient and make a job of training the young help will probably find them contributing quite usefully."

We are mighty afraid the same readjustment is going to have to be made by many of our boys in military service. Many servicemen, non-commissioned officers and high ranking specialists, are drawing salaries much more than they will be able to command in civilian life.

This is especially true of commissioned officers in the forces, many of whom have attained high rank, which their flying and overseas pay brings a salary more than many executives in business can command.

Don't think for a minute we mean the boys in service paid too much. That could not be. But we just want to say that things are going to be different for many in civilian life after the war. The New Army of spending set the example for ruthless squandering of the funds in World War II. United States can not go on ever going deeper into debt, are going to have to stop Santa Claus to the world, settle down to paying interest a little on the principal.

THE CASE of the INTELLIGENT TORPEDOES

Two shiploads of especially valuable and urgently needed munitions were on their way. For greatest possible protection, they were carefully centered in a large convoy.

Submarines struck. Mysteriously, the attack was concentrated on these two ships... as if the enemy knew. Other ships would have been easier targets.

The enemy did know. Both ships were sunk. Just one more case where someone... a stevedore... a sailor

... possibly a plant worker where the munitions were made thoughtlessly tipped off the enemy with careless conversation.

For a quicker victory... for a less costly one... we must guard what we know about where men are going, when they sail—particularly men passing through this country from Europe to the Pacific. Don't talk about anything that might help the Japs.

Chicago Looses Blast of Pfft

Editor's Note: The following editorial is reprinted from "The Publishers' Auxiliary." For the benefit of our readers, The Publishers' Auxiliary is a newspaper trade paper and is issued for newspaper people. It goes to every newspaper and printing plant in the United States. Very seldom this newspaper ever attacks another newspaper editorially but in this instance, we are pleased to see them spank the great Chicago Tribune.

Recently the Chicago Tribune printed in its editorial column a piece which, we believe, rates a place in a "deathless prose" anthology. Headed "Service Newspapers," this masterpiece of inuendo, glittering generality and illogical conclusion reads as follows:

The navy, instead of being warned by the army's sad experience with the Stars and Stripes, has undertaken to imitate that publication.

The regular officers of the navy know nothing about the intricate profession of publishing a newspaper. If officers drawn from civilian life are assigned the task, men will be kept in the navy who would be happier and more useful to the country out of uniform. Capable reserve officers will stretch every nerve to escape an occupation divorced from the honorable business of fighting, while the faint of heart will scheme to get on the staff as they did on the Stars and Stripes.

Stars and Stripes has been a good example of everything a newspaper should not be, and of an activity in which the army should not engage. It has been a haven for combat dodgers and recently has shown evidence that the Communists and their sympathizers are using it to bore from within the army. The navy can expect the same sad experience.

The army's "sad experience with the Stars and Stripes"? What sad experience?

"Stars and Stripes has been a good example of everything a newspaper should not be?" As, for example?

"An activity in which the army should not engage?" Tell that to—not just the Marines but to several million GIs who fought in Africa and Italy and France and Germany and who, if we are to believe the testimony of war correspondents, rated the Stars and Stripes next only to mail from home as their favorite reading matter.

The "faint of heart will scheme to get on the staff as they did on the Stars and Stripes" and "it has been a haven for combat dodgers"?

Who are some of these "faint-hearts" and "combat dodgers" on the soldier newspaper? Bill Mauldin, the cartoonist? Was the title of his sketches "Up Front With Mauldin," a phony, and did he draw his pictures of Joe and Willie in an office as far removed from the fighting lines as, for instance, is the editorial sanctum of the author of "Service Newspapers"?

Or by "combat dodgers" does the Tribune editorialist mean the Stars and Stripes correspondent who was shot down while flying into Bastogne during the battle of the "Belgian bulge" and whose body, at last report, was never found? Or does he mean the two S&S staff members, a captain and staff sergeant, who, seeking a printing plant on which to start a new edition in Germany, entered Nurnberg while Nazi snipers were still lurking in its ruined buildings and whose jeep was repeatedly a target for German 88s?

"Faint-hearts . . . combat dodgers"? Uh-huh!

"Communists and their sympathizers are using it to bore from within the army"? Them Reds! Where won't they bob up next!

We set down these observations on "Service Newspapers" more in sorrow than in anger—sorrow and disappointment.

When the editorial big guns of the "World's Greatest (self-styled) Newspaper" train their sights on a target, we usually stuff our fingers in our ears and brace ourselves for a mighty blast that has behind it all the power and prestige of a 98-year-old, 1,000,000-circulation daily. So it's strictly anti-climax when all you get is pfft!

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Thinks Food A Factor

GLOUCESTER, Mass.—This city where I was brought up has its youth problem the same as every other city. It is probably worse today than when I was a boy; but considering the additional distractions of today, such as automobiles, movies, radios and families, the situation is not so much worse. I am sure that if these new factors had existed 50 years ago the youth problem would then have been serious.

Reasons for Behavior

There are four basic reasons for behavior, viz: Heredity, Environment including Home Training, Religion and Food. When discussing the teen-agers or the bobby-sox girls of today, it is too late to consider heredity so far as they are concerned. Their oir has been cast. Furthermore, as everyone recognizes the importance of home-training, I need not here discuss this, except to say that much of the trouble which parents are having is due to the poor example they set.

I will say something about the other two factors, namely, religion and food, to which we owe 90% of our troubles and disappointments as well as our successes and pleasures. Certainly the behavior of our children is greatly influenced by what they believe and by what they eat. Too many preachers seem to think that religion is something apart from food and drink. There is nothing in the Bible which substantiates this notion. In fact, the food which the Jews were allowed to eat, by their priests, was an important part of their religious ritual.

Watch for Allergies

I am not a physician psychologist nor dietitian, but I do know that food is a real factor in my feelings, behavior and mental life. For instance, I know that eating an excess of tomatoes will not only give me physical pain but also interfere with my mental activity and make me ugly. This does not mean that tomatoes necessarily bother anyone else. Different people are allergic to different things, including foods, climates and odors. Hay fever sufferers are an excellent example.

I will not further amplify the above thought so far as different foods affect us physically. The thought which I want readers to consider is that the mental and spiritual attitudes of both adults and children are largely caused by the foods eaten. When a boy is irresponsible, destructive or a thoroughly "bad boy," as the neighbors call him, he may be eating something to which he is mentally allergic. The action of the brain is determined by the quality and quantity of the blood flow through the brain. This blood flow is determined by what your boy eats, drinks, breathes and thinks.

Schools and Churches

Notwithstanding the above, school committees are giving almost no attention to this important subject. It is true that some of the schools are now providing lunches, but there is no attention given to selecting different lunches for different students. Yet, foods which are nourishing to the brains of some students are poison to the brains of other students. Moreover, this applies likewise to parents although as we get older, we tend to get immune to some of these poisons.

The future of the church depends on getting back to the old Bible teachings that there is no line of division between our religion and our habits. In Bible days good health was a sign of righteousness; while poor health was evidence of sin. In order to survive in this present scientific and rapidly-moving world, the church must be open to new ideas and must also be open at all times to give advice and counsel along these fundamental lines of food, habits and faith.

OUT OF MILKING WITH THE

DE LAVAL MAGNETIC SPEEDWAY MILKER

EVERY man who has milked cows knows that changing hand milkers results in decreased production until the cows readjust themselves.

One of the basic reasons for the sweeping success of the De Laval Magnetic Speedway Milker is its never-changing, uniform milking speed and action from milking to milking and from year to year.

It is the only milker with which this absolute uniformity is possible for it is the only milker having the pulsations for each unit controlled by one master control at the pulsing pump by magnetic force.

There is no guesswork with the De Laval Magnetic Speedway for there are no adjustments to make; no variations of experimenting at the whim of the operator. De Laval Magnetic Speedway milking is always uniform, it is always right and results prove that this is true. Get the world's best milker for your herd.

DE LAVAL STERLING MILKER

BEST MILKER OF ITS KIND

The new De Laval Sterling Milker is a worthy companion to the great De Laval Magnetic Speedway Milker and provides the Laval milking at lower price. "Sterling" Pulsator has only two moving parts, never requires oiling, gives positive, precise milking speed with alternate action that pleases the cow. Sterling single or double units may be used on any other make of single pipe line installation.

History clearly teaches how our ancestors of the 17th Century became discouraged and unruly as they existed on the run-down soils of England; but that they developed initiative and vitality when living off the virgin soils of New England and Virginia after emigrating. In the final analysis, a family or community depends not only upon what it eats but also upon the soil upon which these foods are raised. Perhaps the Prussians owe their fighting qualities to their soils!

The small farmer and the small industrialist are the backbone of our democracy. The concentration of agriculture and manufacturing in the hands of a few is a strong factor toward the breeding of discontent and dissatisfaction in our democracy.

Our tip was that the program was to be tried here in West Texas, despite the fact that Dallas OPA-ers were told that West Texas wouldn't take it lying down and any such action would result in a whole lot of trouble.

Well it hasn't been tried here yet. It may never be. But it has been tried in Kansas, where owners of 8,000 lockers and cabinets have been and are being interrogated by the sleuths of the federal agency.

Here's the way the plan goes: An OPA snooper goes to the manager of a frozen locker company and demands a list of locker renters and an invoice of what there is in each locker. Then the snooper goes to the locker owner and demands:

"Where did you get that beef in your locker?"

If it becomes proven that the meat was given to the locker owner by a friend or kinsman, who is in the cattle business; or that he bought it directly from the producer without rendering stamps; or even if he raised the animal from which the meat came, the snooper cancels the locker owner's red stamps.

We are informed by a lawyer that owners of frozen food lockers have no alternative but to give information to the snoopers about which people rent lockers and what is in the locker.

However, the taxpayer has one ace in the hole if he has the brass-bonded intestinal fortitude to apply it. When asked by the OPA snooper if he has a locker, he should admit it.

When asked if he has beef in the locker, he should admit that too. But when asked where, when or how he got the beef, he does not have to answer it if he doesn't want to.

As long as he tells the snooper where to go or that its none of the snooper's business, there's nothing the snooper can do but gnash his teeth.

Thus far the bureaucrats haven't gotten quite the power over the lockless U. S. citizen that the Nazis had in Germany, and the Russians had in Russia.

John Citizen still has a few rights if he wants to stick up for them, and from a man who knows the OPA setup backward and forward we pass this tip along:

"You don't have to tell a snooper anything."

But if you admit raising your own meat, or accepting a gift from a relative or friend or buying the beef without points, from a farmer or rancher, the snooper can cancel your red points.

Ever since war's demands caused the American public to have to change its ways of living in many respects, the Plainsman has urged every order, rationing, price control, and everything else aimed at contributing to the war effort.

We expect to continue that policy whenever such action is neither plainly senseless, or unjust or unfair.

But until the OPA smashes the openly admitted black markets in all sorts of food in the big cities of the nation; until both the OPA and War Food Administration quit bungling food production and distribution, we won't go to a step with such things as locker-snoopers, or other violations of civil rights without benefit of legality.

In this section of the country where we all know first hand that there would have been no meat shortage had it not been for official bungling; where a man is still deemed master of his own soil to the extent that he can kill a calf of his own raising if he wants to, and is still presumed to have the right to give a kinsman or a friend a piece of his own beef if he so desires, there is no reason to submit to indignities, official snooping, or just plain bureaucratic pushing around.

Some of the same saps who approved plowing under food stuffs and killing "excess" animals; and a lot of the same boobies who bungled up the poultry situation a few months ago are still in the Washington saddle. Free West Texas don't have to submit to their Gestapo methods in order that these bunglers can cover up their administrative mistakes.

And if we know West Texas, as we think we do they won't submit to it. Because they know that if snoopers can get away with pushing people around via the locker method, they'll soon be prowling into homes, then expand power until life in the country will be as bad as it ever was in Germany and Russia.

Alva Seabridge, brother of Mrs. Frank Hibbs, arrived in Fairfax, Okla., Friday. He had been stationed in India, and his family had not heard from him for more than four months. He has received his discharge.

Sgt. Henry Lyndon Balzer has been awarded the Bronze Arrowhead, with the 36th Texas Division of the 7th Army, Germany. The following was received this week by the Herald: "Sgt. Henry Lyndon Balzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Balzer, 201 NW 2nd St., Perryton, member of the 11th Med. Bn. of the veteran awarded the Bronze Arrowhead to wear on his European Theater of Operations ribbon. The arrowhead has been awarded for participation in the (Salerno) (Riviera) invasion when he made the D-Day amphibious assault."

The 36th Infantry Division has seen action on two D-Days: Italy and Southern France. To its credit are such battles as San Pietro and Cassino, the Rapido River, and Anzio. It fought at Montelimar where the German 19th Army was annihilated, and drove across the Sainte Marie Pass of the Vosges Mountains. It breached the powerful Siegfried Line defenses at Wissembourg and completed 400 days of actual combat, plunging through Germany and deep into Austria."

Lt. LeRoy LaMaster, who has been with the navy in the Pacific, arrived Monday night to spend about a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. LaMaster, and other relatives.

Sgt. Harvey Wilson, who was wounded in action in Germany and who has been home on a furlough, took ill Saturday in the home of his mother, Mrs. Anna Wilson. Sunday, feeling better, he and his wife and son went to Canadian to visit his wife's family. He again became ill, and on Monday, an ambulance from the Amarillo Veterans hospital came after him. He is now a patient at the Amarillo hospital. Last reports, he was suffering from ulcers and would have to undergo an operation. He was shot in the abdomen when wounded and had been hospitalized for several months before coming back to the states. Harvey, here's to a speedy recovery!

Cpl. Lynn Hulsey has just completed 26 weeks of radio school at Scott Field, Ill., and is now taking two weeks of flight training at Scott Field, Hulsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hardy P. Hulsey, has been stationed at Panama and Sioux Falls, S. D. His wife, the former Miss Neita Beth Dodson, is with him. He expects a furlough within a short time.

Lt. James Edward Barbour, a former Perryton young man, and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Barbour, Albuquerque, is enjoying a furlough with his family in Albuquerque, after being liberated from a German prison camp. He is a nephew of W. E. McMillen, Perryton.

Pfc. Wm. Lloyd Collins, who has been in the Pacific about 34 months, is now in the Philippines, stationed in Manila. He writes that he likes his new assignment. He is with the service department of the air forces. He went to the Philippines from New Caledonia.

Lt. Volney Skinner, who arrived back in the states July 23 from Germany, has been awarded the Purple Heart, four battle stars, Presidential Citation and the Bronze Star for line crossing. Lt. Skinner, overseas 15 months, went from England into France. He was with the 35th Engineers Combat Battalion.

Mrs. Lloyd McCurdy received a telegram July 21 stating that her husband, Lloyd McCurdy, S. 1/c, was moved to the hospital for an emergency operation. Lloyd was recently transferred from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Enroute he received four weeks of Pacific training in Norfolk, Va. He is an armed guard on a merchant marine ship. His address is: U. S. Naval Hospital, Ward 71B, Oakland (14) Calif.

Sgt. Giltner R. LaMaster, who is now stationed in Austria, recently spent a seven-day leave in Paris, sightseeing. He has also made a short trip into Italy.

Lt. Bob Schuster, based in Egypt, writes that he went 'up north' on a B-25 and picked up Col. Robert L. Scott, author of the book "God Is My Co-Pilot." Scott rode in the co-pilot seat of the plane, and complimented Bob on his flying. Bob's friends will appreciate knowing that he has the distinction of being one of 50 pilots asked to remain in the army and retain his commission.

Sgt. Gerald Jones is now on Luzon in the Philippines. He had also been in Manila.

Sgt. Werner Lehman is back in Germany after enjoying a rest in Southern France. He wrote his sister that it was an ideal spot to spend a vacation. The Herald bunch believe that he spent his rest period at Nice and Antibes on the Mediterranean in south France, as several scenes in colors of these two resorts have been received by the Herald. From the pictures, we judge that it was an ideal place for a vacation. Werner, who has been in the army since Dec. 1, 1941, has more than the required points for a discharge.

Pfc. George W. Hohmann, who was wounded in France in action, and temporarily paralyzed from his hips down, has been hospitalized in the U. S. for several months. In July 26 Herald, there was a letter from George. He is improving slowly but he may be in the hospital many months, so letters and cards will help. His address is: Pfc. George W. Hohmann, Ward 8, Bushnell Gen. Hosp., Brigham City, Utah.

Major William Jerome (W. J.) Newman, recently received his oak leaf. With the statistical section of Ammunition, his section was in charge of and was responsible for the requisitioning of all ammunition used in the European theatre. One of the sergeants that worked with Major Newman from October 1943 until April 3, 1945, states, "It was necessary to keep records of quantities of ammunition in depots, with the troops and what was expected to be shipped from the states. In addition it was necessary to issue ammunition to the armies and he had the responsibility of seeing that each received what they were entitled to. It was a pretty big job and I think that we took care of it in a proper manner. He has played a big part in winning this war during the past couple of years." Another sergeant writes to Major Newman's mother, Mrs. Neora Newman, "You and I have something in common because I worked for your son for over two years while serving in the army overseas. We worked together in England and also in Paris, France. He is a fine man and you can be rightly proud of him. I admired him very much."

"Communique" from the headquarters of the 2nd Army Air Force, Colorado Springs, carries a front page picture of Sgt. Myrtle Conley being decorated with the Good Conduct Medal by Lt. Col. A. B. Hagner and WAC Capt. Lena Swing. Congratulations from your buddies on the Herald force, we are sure that a veteran society editor just has to have what it takes to make a good soldier. Some of these days we are going to work out an array of service bars and cat scratch wound stripes for society editors.

Mrs. W. C. Cotner of the Notia community informs us that her son, Wilbur C. Cotner Jr. is enroute to the Pacific. Wilbur is a warrant officer in the merchant marine.

We have every reason to believe that Master Sergeant Morris M. Pryne is on his way back to the states for a point discharge. If such is the case, he will be the first of the Herald staff to return to the fold. Morris, with four years in the service, all of it overseas, has been stationed on Guam in the headquarters of the Commander in Chief of the U. S. Pacific Fleet and Pacific Ocean Areas. He was scheduled to fly from Guam to Pearl Harbor on July 16, taking a boat into San Francisco and proceed to Fort Sam Houston for discharge. We're expecting word from him any day now. And will we be glad to see him back at his desk after he visits around for awhile?

Darrell F. Seymour, coxswain, writes from the Marianas Islands on July 26, expressing appreciation of the home town, paper, and saying, "I had several visits with Capt. Cyrus LaMaster while he was stationed on this island. He is the only one that I have seen from Perryton, so we sure had a lot of things to talk about." Darrell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Seymour, Phillips, and lived in Perryton for several years. Capt. LaMaster is now back in the states.

During the past two years, the church building has been renovated and redecored and the program of the Bible School has been enlarged and attendance increased threefold and all indebtedness has been liquidated and the tithes and offerings more than doubled. Also during this two-year period there have been 86 additions to the church membership.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregg have been re-called for another term of two years. The church in the next two years is undertaking an extensive program for the betterment of the church program and property, as well as for the community.

"The people of the Perryton trade territory are cordially invited to attend any and all services of the Christian Church, a church which believes in Christian unity in those elements essential to a man's soul salvation, but liberty for each and every individual to read and interpret the Bible for himself," announced Gregg.

MORE POWER TO THE FARMER

Producer of Food for Victory

One reason for America's record wartime food production is the extensive use of labor-saving electricity on the farm.

As its part in providing more power for food production, this company has greatly expanded its facilities for serving farms and residents of rural communities throughout the war.

Since Pearl Harbor, over 3,000 new rural customers have been added to our lines. Numerous additional extensions to serve rural users within practical reach of existing lines in our territory have been surveyed and are scheduled for completion as rapidly as manpower and materials will permit.

Today, one customer of every five we serve is a rural customer and the percentage is growing steadily. On the farm, as in business and industry, C. P. S. Co. power is working for Victory.

Overseas Vets Do Not Like Selective Service Deferments

The following article is taken from Editor Giles Miller's column "Grist" which appears weekly in the Panhandle Herald.

It may be that the Selective Service chiefs are not humoring cowards or unduly favoring individuals, but the following clipping taken from Yank, the service men's paper, will not read good to the average citizen who believes in fair play:

"Dear Yank:

"Quoting from your 'News from Home' in June 3d issue Selective Service announced indefinite deferment for all men 30 years of age and older who are making a 'contribution' to the war or are engaged in 'useful civilian' work. Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, said all level boards should 'liberalize' occupational deferments in the 30 to 38 age group, particularly for fathers. Gen. Hershey's announcement that henceforth these deferments will be effective 'indefinitely' seems to mean that men 30 and over will be relatively free from the likelihood of induction for the rest of the war with Japan.

"Will you please tell me why men 30 to 38 should be given any more consideration by their Selective Service boards now than they were before the war in Europe ended? Why should men 30 to 38 that are already in the army be made to carry the entire load for men in this group?

"I say that what is fair for one is fair for the other and that the physically fit men that are still civilians in the states in the 30 to 38 age group should be made to do their share of overseas duty as we were. I know that most of them are married and with families, and a lot of them have businesses, but we have wives and children at home waiting for us, as well as our business, and I feel that now the fighting is finished over here in the ETO, we should be allowed to return to our families and our homes, while the other 30 to 38 year old men should take our places. The more men inducted now, the better the chance for a quicker discharge of the veteran. We have done our share over here. Let the others do their part in CBI. Incidentally, I am 37, have a wife and two children and also have my own business.—Pfc. John Adler, Jr."

The foregoing items were forwarded me by one of our citizens serving in France at this time, and he puts his OK on the last item as the sentiment of the men who have been at the front.

Another glowing injustice that the Selective Service is reported practicing is requiring the registration of officers who have earned their discharge to re-register, thus making them subject to re-induction as privates, reduced from the ranks they have earned in service.

Clip this item, and send it to your congressman, and tell him that if congress permits such practices it is a breeder of revolt on the part of all self respecting citizens as well as service men. When the real heroes of the war are coming home to fill their proper and honored role as civilians, it is no time and there is no excuse for undue favors for those who have been able to hide in the folds of a political skirt fostered by "influential" relatives. There are entirely too many slackers abroad.

Heat Exhaustion Reduces Work-Days

COLLEGE STATION—Every hour's labor on the farms will be valuable this year when help is scarce, and farm leaders are hoping that there will be a reduction in the number of farm workers who are annually overcome by heat exhaustion and sunstroke, says E. C. Martin, state chairman for the Farm Safety Week program, and assistant state agent for the A&M College Extension Service. National Farm Safety Week has been set for July 22-28.

"According to the National Safety Council, heat exhaustion and sunstroke are two entirely different things, although both may seem to result from exposure to high external heat. It is easy to tell one from the other. With heat exhaustion the patient's skin is cold and clammy, while with sunstroke, the skin is hot and dry," Mr. Martin said.

"A simple rule may serve as a guide and avoid confusion regarding the treatment," states Mr. Martin. "Briefly, it is this. If the patient is cold, make him warm; if he is hot, make him cool." In sunstroke, place the patient in a cool shady spot, remove tight fitting clothing and place him on his back with head and shoulders raised. Apply ice cold cloths to his head and cool the body gradually with a cool bath. Call a doctor as soon as possible and administer cool drinks, not cold, if the patient is conscious.

The National Safety Council suggests several measures to prevent

Food Around the World

NEW YORK—Meals cooked and frozen in New York or San Francisco, with vitamins and appearance intact, will be placed before postwar American air travelers in Calcutta, Singapore or wherever U. S. flag lines have the foreign ports of call. This plan has been worked out so that hungry passengers, dubious of strange foods served by natives, will not have to adapt themselves to such conditions. A specimen dinner may include fresh pineapple cur, lobster Newburg, Dutchess potatoes, light rolls and meringue topped strawberry tarts.

Bronze Star Medal To Sgt. Max Cheek

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY, Italy—Sgt. Max E. Cheek, Perryton, Texas, recently was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service in combat in Italy. He served on the Fifth Army front in the 94th Field Artillery of the 91st "Powder River" Division.

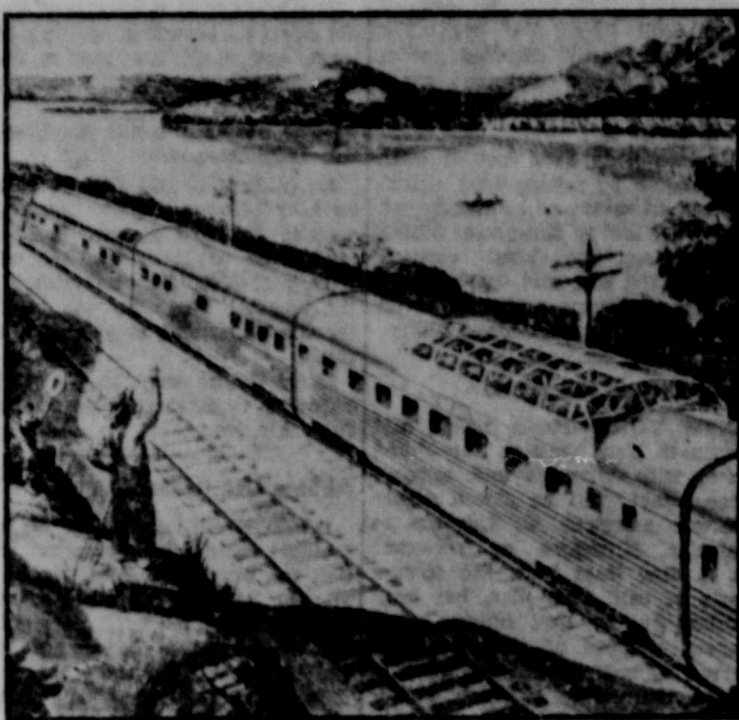

His mother, Mrs. Buna A. Cheek, lives on Route 2, Townville, South Carolina. For several years, he made his home here with his aunt, the late Mrs. Nora Holland, who lived just north of Perryton. Prior to his induction, March 13, 1941, he was working for his cousin, R. H. Holland.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Mathews, Delhart, were weekend guests in the Willis Hardy home. Mrs. Mathews is the daughter of the Hardys.

Wage Earners to Report at Age 65

There is no possibility of loss of benefits under the old-age and survivors insurance program, said James L. Farmer, manager of the Amarillo, Texas office of the Social Security Board, if the wage-earner in covered employment will report to the Social Security Board field office immediately after he attains the age of 65. This he emphasized, is of great importance to the wage earner because he needs to know the requirements necessary in filing a claim for insurance payments. This also applies to the widow of a deceased wage earner; she, too, is requested to contact the nearest Social Security Board field office and ask for the manager or some member of the staff to give her information regarding the filing of claims.

It was pointed out that the board is anxious to co-operate with claimants in every way possible to expedite the filing of claims. The claimant should notify the office as soon as possible after reaching age 65.

Landing Time Lowered

WASHINGTON—A fan machine system of controlling airplane landings under adverse weather conditions that will reduce the present time of 10 to 12 minutes by more than 50 per cent was demonstrated to airline executives by the Civil Aeronautics Administration at the Washington national airport. CAA officials believe that with improved radio equipment, fog of static, "blind" landing time can be cut still further.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Chase and Billy of the Farnsworth community are visiting in California, with their son, Hal Chase, Coxswain 3/c, at San Pedro, and with Mrs. Chase's brothers, Joe, Jack and Bill Meese.

Miss Patsy Trosper returned home Thursday night from Santa Fe, N. M., where she has been visiting since school was out with her aunt, Miss Clarence Allen.

Mrs. Robert Stiles and daughter, Janie, who have been visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harbaugh, and Susanne and Paul Jr., in the south part of the county, left Monday for San Antonio, to join her husband, an officer in the air corps. Her family took her to Amarillo to catch the plane.

Lt. Glen D. Hesler, who was reported missing June 21, 1945, and alive and well on June 30, 1945, by the War Department, is based in China with Flying Tigers. He is the husband of the former Miss Lucille Morris of Gray, Okla. Mrs. Hesler and son, Gary, are living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Morris, Gray. Lt. Hesler, inducted October 7, 1942, in Kansas, has been overseas since last October. In March this year, he received Chinese Wings, and on June 5 he had made 74 missions over China. He has been awarded: Air Medal, two Battle Stars, Bronze Star, Distinguished Flying Cross and Presidential Citation. He was born and reared at Hutchinson, Kansas, where his mother, Mrs. Fern Hesler, now resides. He has one brother, Ernest, at Enid, Okla. When inducted, Lt. Hesler was labor foreman for a construction company at Enid.

Navy Magazine Policy Lessens Mail Strain

Facing gigantic mail problems, the navy is putting into effect regulations restricting the mailing of newspapers and magazines to navy, marine and coast guard personnel overseas. Beginning July 1, 1945, post offices will accept only publications that are requested in writing by the addressee.

The new plan will release approximately 1500 men from the distribution and directory service of second class mail to process letter mail which has increased 108 per cent in the last year.

Figures from the Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, Calif., reveal that total mail has risen from 49,719,867 pieces in May, 1944, to 100,129,789 pieces in May, 1945. Postal officers expect this quantity to rise still further.

Aware that magazines and newspapers are essential for the morale of men in forward areas, the navy will offset the curtailment of individual subscriptions by a bulk shipment plan which for the first time will enable ship stores to stock a wide variety of full-size magazines.

To assure immediate magazine availability, the navy will buy 8,000 packages weekly of the overseas editions now used by the army. The first shipment was sent about July 1, each package supplying a range of reading matter for 150 men.

The navy, in addition, will expand the original selection of magazines. Based on reading preferences of the men, 296,000 copies monthly of 55 other magazines which do not have overseas editions will be purchased. In the middle of July, this group will be sent for re-sale at every shore station and ship and is expected to be the permanent plan of magazine distribution to navy men, giving them the same reading choice they would have at their home news stand.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Luthi, Monday and Tuesday, were Miss Ruth Burnett, Saskatoon, Canada, and A. C. Gessell, Arnett, Okla.

TOWN and FARM in WARTIME

Prepared by OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION

No Permit for Repairs

Home owners need no longer apply to the Federal Housing Administration of the National Housing Agency for authorization to purchase lumber needed for emergency repair. WPB and NHA announced. The home owner may now certify his own purchase order and buy the lumber directly from a distributor.

New 1942 Cars Free

Removal of the remaining small supply of new 1942 cars from all rationing restrictions was announced by OPA. "Beginning July 18, 1945, dealers who still have new 1942 cars in stock may sell them to any buyer without rationing restrictions," Max McCullough, deputy administrator for rationing, said.

Tires are Available

Passenger car owners using their automobiles for bona fide change of residence for which they were issued special gasoline ration stamps will be eligible beginning July 16, 1945, for Grade 1 passenger tire purchase certificate, subject to quota and other restrictions, OPA announced. This extension of eligibility is particularly needed now that increasing numbers of persons are moving from one city to another, OPA explained. It will allow the following groups to apply for new tires if they have a tire failure while making a permanent change of residence:

1. War workers moving from one city to another as production shifts from one type of war goods to another and to civilian commodities.

Anti-Malarial Drugs

An adequate supply of effective anti-malarial medication is available for civilian medication needs, WPB reported. The military services have notified WPB that a small percentage of veterans now being discharged from the service will require some form of anti-malarial treatment during periods of release of this disease. WPB has assured the military that such medication is available through normal trade channels for civilian needs.

Quinacrine hydrochloride (atarline) is readily available in adequate supply to meet civilian requests for both oral and parenteral use, WPB said. Quinine may be obtained in ampoule form for parenteral use when required, but is not available for oral use. However, totaquine, USP, representing the total alkaloids of Cinchona bark, is available for oral use in quantities sufficient to meet all requests for natural anti-malarials.

More Work Clothing

New fabric controls to insure increased production of 15 items of men's and boys' work clothing are announced by WPB. The 15 items include men's and boys' overalls; men's and boys' jumper or coveralls; men's and boys' dungarees and waistband overalls; on-piece coveralls; canvas jacket, work coats; work aprons; work and shop caps; men's and boys' work pants and breeches; men's and boys' work shirts and washable service material including gowns, suits or coats for doctors, dentists, internes, orderlies, druggists, and coats and apron sets for bakers, butchers, fish handlers and dairy workers.

Housing for Veterans

Distressed families of returning veterans and of men in service have been made eligible for vacant privately-financed war housing on the terms as in-migrant, essential civilian war workers. Administrator John B. Blandford, Jr., of the National Housing Agency, announced. Distressed families are those who cannot find suitable accommodations at rents they can afford in housing built without war-time priorities. Mr. Blandford said.

'B' Battery Prices

All hearing aid 'B' batteries, except war models, that may enter the market this year will be held at retail to their March 1943 prices, OPA says. Production of these batteries has been restricted during the war to specifications set up in WPB Limitation Order L-71A, but this order has now been revoked. As a result new styles of hearing aid 'B' batteries may be produced by some manufacturers.

Since OPA's price schedule covering these batteries was prepared for war models only, it would not be appropriate to new models, accuracy points out. The price therefore amended, effective July 24, 1945, to make clear that styles are not subject to the war-and-cent prices in the past.

SHE'S GUARDIAN OF FOOD

The pre-eminent task of protecting the home front is given to the WIVES of America. From the kitchens of the nation flow a fighting power . . . a power that is only partially tapped . . . the aggressive right to fight food waste. It means making what we have go farther. It means making what we use do more. This job, done conscientiously, is as important as building planes or piloting them over enemy territory. By fighting waste and saving, we make that possible and, at the same time, maintain a strong home front economy.

Bryan's Food Store

In Appreciation . . .

These are busy times and this store like everyone else, is short-handed. We realize that we are unable to give the close personal attention to our customers that is a part of a home owned store such as ours. We know that both of us are busy and that we do not have the time for the little chatty visits that we so enjoy.

But, even though things are not as we like, we want each and every one of our friends and customers to know that we appreciate your understanding and attitude in these trying days.

We are looking forward with pleasurable anticipation to the day when the wars are over and our boys are home. Then it will be possible to give you a better and more courteous service. Until that day, we say thanks to you for your forbearance with our shortcomings.

Mrs. Stewart:
I am getting around to the first thing I want to write. Thanks for the paper. I have them in bunches as you see. I do request that you still send them.

I haven't been doing anything but still have been reading. My address has changed. I am no longer in Atlantic. The last time I was in Atlantic I had the privilege of seeing Paton at the hospital. He is a great fellow and I saw him, even though he was in the hospital. It is hard to find.

I been lucky to meet Lester in the heart of New York. It seems that we had a place on Broadway and now that we left the base and came west, we pulled base where Blackie Danels and Bob Zenor were stationed. You can bet your life that they were a sight for sore eyes. And between the three of us, we really caught up on home town gossip. I also tried to see "Holly" but it seems that the navy has him pretty busy right now. I still have a chance to meet more fellows from home and it seems that our home town has boys spread all over the world. Here's hoping my luck continues.

We have been in a little rough water the past couple of days and there have been some sea-sick men aboard as we just picked them up in the states and this is their first trip. I know just how they feel. I sure had a heavy dose of it myself.

This seems to be all for now so will sign "30". Again I hope it will continue to come.

Dear Van and Jessie:

I haven't been so good about writing letters lately, and my mail hasn't been so good about coming through, either. I have moved around several times, and that always causes mail to show up as it winds its way through the maze of army postal channels.

It seems that I have landed in my more or less permanent assignment, and barring unforeseen circumstances, I shall remain with this detachment for some time to come. It is a pretty good set-up, as we have good quarters and excellent food. The entertainment department is sadly deficient, however. So far, all I've found to do is play cards and listen to the radio when the day's work is done. And that does become monotonous after a while.

We have jurisdiction over a Landkreis, which roughly corresponds to a county back home. Our Landkreis has approximately 35 towns and villages in it, and it takes a bit of traveling around to supervise the krauts in their governmental activities. We haven't enough men to place them in each village, and it isn't necessary anyhow. Our detachment is responsible to the Regierungsbezirk (a group of Stadtkreise and Landkreise) and that in turn is responsible to the Provincial Government. All of which is highly interesting, I am sure.

My work consists of being the administrative officer, or commonly called the adjutant. I shuffle papers, look busy, sign my name countless times to various bits of paper, keep looking at the clock, then close up shop. The enlisted men do all the work, as always, and I do far less now than formerly. But I get more money for doing less. Queer, isn't it?

This business of killing time over here is going to get mighty hard on the old nerves after a number of months have rolled by. During the active phase, when we moved quite often and there was a bit of excitement around, we didn't miss lack of entertainment. It is now when the show is over that time weighs heavily upon the hands. Night after night of doing the same thing over and over; seeing the same faces all day, at each meal and each night; settling down into a dull program of trekking between the office and the billet. It isn't much fun, but I'll have to admit it is a lot less dangerous than in an active theater.

I find myself wondering if it might be possible to get a leave to the states after 30 months overseas. I've just about got 18, and if I could get some definite time to look forward to, I do believe time could be endured more easily. I suppose all of us think the same thing. But life in the army is about as uncertain as anything I know of, except the awful certainty of having to remain in it.

This has turned out to be a dull and gloomy letter, hasn't it? Well, don't let it worry you any. I haven't got any really legitimate gripes and as is always the case, it is the trifles that are gripped about and mountains made from molehills. At any rate, however, I'm going to cut off the flood of crocodile tears, and promise to write a bright, witty, sparkling letter right soon. Vive Perryton!

15 July 1945

Dear Van and Jessie:

In my last letter, I complained of a lack of entertainment. Well, I have had a break in the dull routine, and can now report a moderate success in the social field.

This past week, on Wednesday night, went to one of the infrequent picture shows, and after it was over, I started on my weary way homeward. I was stopped by a Polish officer who is in charge of the Polish Displaced Persons Camp. He started talking a mixture of Polish and English, and though I couldn't understand much of what he said, I pretended that I could, and so when he motioned for me to follow him, I did. He led me down several alleys, and finally we came to the DP camp. This camp is a large apartment house affair and the displaced persons are housed here temporarily until they can be moved home.

In the case of the Poles, they are in no great rush to go back to Poland right now, and have become practically permanent residents at the camp. Anyway, we went up several flights of stairs, finally coming to a room with double doors. When we stepped inside, I nearly fell over, for there was a long table, loaded down with all kinds of food. People were seated all around the place, and I felt quite shy as I stepped into the spotlight of scores of glances and felt even more self-conscious when they all began to shout and clap their hands, just as if I were an honored guest. Well, I wasn't any honored guest; they gave the old glad hand to all the American guests, and there were some 10 or 12 besides me there.

I was shown to my seat, which by chance happened to be between two lovely creatures. The food started coming before I had a chance to really get acquainted, but I took time out from the plate look enough to learn that the girl on my right spoke a few words of English and lots of German; the one on my left spoke no English, but German, and lots of Polish. So, since there was little to choose from in the way of attractiveness, I settled on the right-hand one. A 1st Lt. immediately took over the one on the left, and I'm not quite sure whether it was before or after I had made my choice! We ate a lot of food, and then they started bringing out the drinks. Each plate had three glasses in front of it. One was for cognac, one for wine, one for beer. All three were kept full by a succession of roving attendants who carried various bottles with them.

After a while, the party really got into the swing of things. A girl started on the piano and two elderly gentlemen shipped out their violins. We had music. Lots of folk songs from Russia and Poland and down to boogie-woogie from you know where. We danced and some

He has three brothers: Ben A., Bill and Gene, Perryton; and four sisters, living at Brownwood, Mrs. Velma Marshall, Mrs. Ray Easter, Mrs. Edith Duncan and Miss Eloise Johnson. When inducted, Tom and Dee Brewer, who is in the Navy, owned and operated three drug stores, one at Booker and two in New Mexico. They still own them. of the more bold or inebriated ones sang. I didn't sing. This sort of thing lasted till around midnight, then they started on another round of food. The midnight course was just like the opening number, only more of it. I was full as a tick, and didn't do justice to the spread, but all my little companions felt to wit, a gusto. After we had taken time out for this meal, including a lot of toasts, the music and dancing started again. At around 2 o'clock came more food. More dancing, more drinks, and the party finally broke up at four o'clock.

I don't know whether or not this sort of thing comes under the heading of "good-neighbor policy" or not, but I'll tell you one thing. There's nothing like having a good looking girl that doesn't speak your language to make the old language proficiency improve by leaps and bounds.

Japs Hit Carrier Supporting Okinawa Landings

JAP SUICIDE FLYERS crashed onto several of the British Pacific Fleet ships supporting the recent U. S. landings on Okinawa. In all, seven suicide attacks on British ships have been reported, including two carriers, neither of which was put out of action more than two hours. This picture shows fierce fires set on one of the British carriers by the Jap suicide planes, but the flames were soon under control and the deck cleared again for action.

Amazingly Successful Results Obtained From DDT in Experiments on Kansas Cattle Herds

KANSAS CITY—The amazingly successful results that have been obtained thus far in the DDT fly control experiment started June 11 in Kansas are emphasizing the one unsatisfactory element about the entire enterprise, the fact that there is none of the chemical available on the open market. Farmers over the state who have observed treated cattle in pastures or in barns, cattle not tormented in the least by horn or stable flies, are clamoring for some DDT to use on their livestock.

But the only DDT available is that which is going for experimental purposes. All the remainder is taken by the army, which at present is using great quantities killing insects on Pacific islands.

More than 5,000 head of cattle have been sprayed with or dipped in a DDT solution in Kansas. Many head have received a second treatment and all will have received the second soon. As had been expected, the first application of the DDT applied to cattle in pastures was effective 10 to 14 days. The chemical does not kill the fly eggs. By 10 or 12 days a new brood has developed.

Sixteen counties were visited by the scientists on their first trip around the state in the DDT test, which is the most extensive of its kind yet undertaken in America. The test is to learn the effectiveness of the DDT on flies under actual farm and ranch conditions. In 14 of the counties the cattle were sprayed, in all but one instance with a .02 per cent solution of the DDT. On J. J. Moxley's farm in Morris county, where the cattle have a woods pasture in a creek bottom, a 2 1/2 per cent solution was used in an effort to get horse flies.

In two counties cattle were dipped in a .01 per cent solution. Ray

L. Cuff, regional manager at Kansas City of the National Livestock Loss Prevention board, notes that the dipping does a better job in getting complete coverage of the animal with the chemical, but it is more expensive and involves more work than the use of the spray. The spray can be taken to the cattle while it is necessary to drive the cattle to a dipping vat.

In addition to the cattle treatment, 20 barns were sprayed. Four were dairy establishments, the others cattle barns or feeding sheds. Also horses, hogs and dogs were sprayed if they were handy about when the sprayer was on the farm.

The general observation has been that for the first 10 days after the cattle were treated they were virtually clean of flies. After the 10th day the flies came on fast indicating the necessity of the second treatment. Mr. Cuff is of the opinion the second spray or dip will be effective for a longer period than the first and that a third treatment will last out the fly season.

Noticeable about the treated cattle is that they fan out in the pasture while eating instead of bunching which is the usual procedure of livestock seeking protection from tormenting flies.

L. E. Croy, Chase county farm agent, has kept a close watch on the cattle treated in his area. On the first round, 316 head belonging to Wayne Rogler, Henry Rogler and E. C. Crofoot were dipped. Out of one lot of 188 heifers, one-half were dipped, the other half going untreated and they are all running in the same pasture. At first the undipped heifers could be located because there were more flies on them, but after a few days it was difficult to distinguish one group from the other, because none of them had any flies. The flies migrating from one heifer to another came in contact with the treated animals and thus were killed. Gradually virtually all were eliminated.

Will Condell has a comparatively new barn on his farm near El Dorado in Butler county. Soon after the inside of the structure had been given a coating over by the DDT sprayer, dead moths began to shower down.

"Where did those things come from?" Mr. Condell remarked in amazement to Mr. Cuff.

Ten to 15 minutes later flies began to fall to the floor. In another 10 minutes, grain beetles came out from under feed boxes to go into the flies which were "double d-dium tremens" and die. Apparently a .02 per cent solution spray will be effective in a barn about a month while a five per cent will last all season. Virtually no flies will be found in a barn after a spraying and those that come in do not live long.

One of the most convenient setups for spraying cattle was found at the Robbins Brothers ranch at Belvidere. This was a pen about 15 feet wide with some planks across the top to form a bridge on which a man with the spray nozzle could stand.

"Some of these days every up-to-date ranch will have an alley with a catwalk on top into which the cattle can be driven for a spray," Mr. Cuff predicted.

While the spray crew was at Oakley, Kansas, a farmer mentioned that he had a bull that "sure is lousy."

"Bring him here and we will fix those lice," Mr. Cuff told him. The farmer brought the bull in a truck.

The bull's hide was crusted from lice. He truly was in sorry shape. Fifteen minutes after the spray was applied, hordes of lice were seen crawling out on the ends of hairs, then they fell to the ground. A treatment 16 days later would get the second brood, Mr. Cuff advised, and give the bull a clean bill of health.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Spirit of Isaac's Wife Is Example To Follow Today

The International Sunday School
Lesson for Aug. 5
Scripture: Genesis, Chapters
21-24

THE testing time of pioneer settlement and achievement comes in the second and third generations. Will the children and grandchildren of the pioneers retain and manifest the pioneer spirit of faith, courage, and endurance; or will they take things easier, enjoying the heritage that the labors and sacrifices of their fathers (and mothers) have left them?

A minister who was located for a number of years in Plymouth, and who was familiar with the history and records of the colony from the time of the Pilgrim Fathers, once told me there was a marked deterioration in morale in the second and third generations. The American adage that "it is three generations from shirt sleeves to shirt sleeves" is born of experience.

Isaac is the example of a man who made good use of his heritage. To be the son of Abraham and carry on in the spirit of that noble and energetic father was no small task. He seems to have been a dutiful son, for when his father planned a marriage for him with a kinswoman, in the land from which Abraham had come, he apparently made no objection, but waited patiently for the bride to arrive.

What would Isaac have done
if the bride, his cousin, whom Abraham's servant brought back with him from Mesopotamia, had proved less attractive? We do not know, but the love story related in Genesis 24 is one of those beautiful stories of love and marriage that light up pages of the Old Testament.

Among the beautiful things is the picture of Rebekah, the young virgin, showing hospitality to Abraham's servant,
weary and thirsty from his long journey, and fulfilling the ser-vant's notion that if a young woman should offer him drink, and give water to his camels as well, it would be a sign that she was the one for whom he had come looking as a wife for Isaac.
Rebekah, too, was willing; and in addition to the heritage that Abraham left Isaac, his father's wisdom secured for him a good wife. It might be well if some such test as the giving of drink to a stranger and the watering of the camels were required of every candidate for marriage.
The lack of the spirit of Rebekah has been the ruin of many homes.

The Golden Text is: "We have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him" (1 John 4:16).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom" (Luke 12:32).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:
"The great miracle, to human sense, is divine Love, and the grand necessity of existence is to gain the true idea of what constitutes the kingdom of heaven in man" (page 560).

"Hangover Square" At the Ellis August 7-8

Reaching new heights of frightening mystery and strange emotion, 20th Century-Fox's new thriller, "Hangover Square," starring Laird Cregar, Linda Darnell and George Sanders, shows at the Ellis, Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 7-8.

Originally written as a novel by Patrick Hamilton, author of "Angel Street" and "Rope's End," "Hangover Square" is credited with containing more shudders than either of his other books.

The film horror classic tells the story of a brilliant composer who suffers from lapse of memory, during which he commits brutal, cold-blooded murders, and of a lovely music hall girl for whom he throws away a brilliant career as a serious composer so that he can write her songs, only to be betrayed by her for bigger game.

Laird Cregar, who scored a sensation in "The Lodger," is seen in the role of the composer whose mind disappears into a sub-normal world in which he hates the things he loves and is driven by them to unobtainable crimes of murder and violence. In an exciting departure from her usual sweet-girl type roles, Linda Darnell is seen as the slumbrous music hall entertainer who is determined to carve a career for herself at no matter what cost. George Sanders appears in the type of role that has made him a screen favorite; he is seen as a Scotland Yard psychiatrist who probes the depths of a disordered mind to find the clue to as chilling a series of crimes as ever shocked a nation.

Featured in the brilliant supporting cast of "Hangover Square," which was directed by John Brahm and produced by Robert Bassler, are Glenn Langan, Faye Marlowe and Alan Napier.

Joan Boston, Wellington, left Monday after visiting about a week here with friends and relatives.

L. and Mrs. Lawrence Hohlhaus have been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hohlhaus. Lt. Hohlhaus has served for some time with the air force in Germany.

"Son of Lassie" Blessed Movie Event for Fans Who Saw "Lassie"

Peter Lawford (left) is unwittingly betrayed by his dog in this scene from M-G-M's "Son of Lassie," thrilling successor to the beloved "Lassie Come Home," which shows Sunday and Monday, August 5-6, at the Ellis Theatre. "Son of Lassie" is filmed in breath-taking Technicolor.

Here's the blessed movie event you've been waiting for, film fans! It's "Son of Lassie," the new MGM hit, in which Lassie's son, Laddie, proves a worthy son of a wonderful mother. Everyone loved "Lassie Come Home" and everyone will rave about "Son of Lassie," filmed in breath-taking technicolor amid America's most rugged splendors.

Donald Crisp and Nigel Bruce repeat the roles they created in the previous success. Peter Lawford plays Joe grown up and pretty June Lockhart, in her most important role to date, is the duke's granddaughter, Priscilla, played in "Lassie" as a child by Elizabeth Taylor.

"Son of Lassie" tells of Laddie, a foolish little pup who grows up to follow his daring young master into many dangers and passes the true test of courage when courage means life itself. It takes us from Yorkshire, Lassie's home, to an air mission over occupied Norway, where Laddie and Joe are forced to parachute into danger and dog and master spend perilous days battling the enemy both physically and in duels of wits.

"Son of Lassie" is a fast-moving picture that will keep your eyes riveted on the screen from start to finish. All the human actors turn in fine, sympathetic roles. In addition to those already mentioned, little Billy Severn, Leon Ames (the father of "Meet Me in St. Louis"), Nils Asther, making a grand comeback, and Robert Lewis give fine performances.

Both dogs are, of course, wonderful. Laddie, as a pup, is the cutest little tyke you ever laid eyes upon, and Lassie, both as herself and Laddie grown up, is the clever, beautiful animal she was in "Lassie Come Home."

You're bound to enjoy—and enjoy immensely—"Son of Lassie." See it, by all means.

Dr. W. H. Rhodes, Enid, Okla., brother of Mrs. M. M. Codd, was a weekend guest in the home of his sister and his father, J. H. Rhodes. He is here looking after business.

Woman Air-Marker Expert

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Blanche Noyes who heads the air-marking section of the Civil Aeronautics Administration's Bureau of Federal Airways, has written a manual on the installation of aerial sign posts. Mrs. Noyes has also designed a set of three simple templates with which unskilled labor can lay out any letter of the alphabet or any figure, from 10 to 20 feet in height.

Four Hours vs Four Days

CHICAGO — Air transportation is aiding northern farmers who raise crops for the canneries. Recently 320,000 tomato plants, shipped in two planes, were moved from their Georgia growing field to a northern point in four hours instead of the usual four days required by ground transportation. Thus, it was possible to transplant many of the tomato plants the same day they were lifted from the field.

Odd Place Cargo

MIAMI—Insect eggs and toads from the Argentine to combat the insect pests in the Florida sugar cane region, fertilized fish eggs from the United States to Peru to improve the fish in Lake Titicaca, are among the strange cargoes moved by air transportation. One of the oddest shipments was a package of facial tissues sent by a Porto Rican to a girl in New York.

New Justice?

One of the most prominent names mentioned for the post of Associate Justice of the Supreme Court to succeed the recently resigned Owen J. Roberts is that of Los Angeles Federal Judge Paul J. McCormick, above.

News flashes from a dozen war theatres show Texans everywhere still in the thick of the fight, and still racking up new records:

Lt. T. F. Pierce of Taylor, a graduate of Bartlett high school and of the University of Texas, piloted his navy Privateer plane over Korea recently to help wreck a gas-line dump, two Jap ships and a Jap bomber factory. . . . Chief Yeoman Robert Carrell of Martindale has been cited by Adm. Halsey for heroism during the battle of Leyte Gulf. . . . Col. Sam Myers of Marfa, hero of fighting in Europe, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Medal.

Pfc. Rex Riddle of Corpus Christi is now a guard watching the Nazis in Berlin. . . . 1st Lt. Howard (Buddy) Clark, Goliad, scrapper, has been awarded his fifth Oak Leaf Cluster for his Air Medal.

Sgt. Rudolph Perkins of Abilene, veteran of many Pacific battles, helped capture Luzon and now is teaching Filipinos to say "Welcome" in the good old Texas way. . . . and now the Texas twang is heard on all sides, from native lips. . . . incidentally, the hardy people of the Philippines, who never gave up the fight against the Japs, now are receiving clothing, medicine and other relief supplies from Texans, through their gifts to the National War Fund last year. This relief is one of the most important factors in the job of re-establishing the people of these loyal American islands.

Other National War Fund stipends, made possible by annual war chest drives in every county, are going to our own fighting men and their allies all over the world.

Mrs. Clifford Osborne spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Hethcock. Mrs. Osborne is from Pampa.

Rheumatic Heart Cause of Most Children's Deaths

AUSTIN, Texas — Rheumatic heart disease is now the first cause of death among children aged 10 to 14, and is second only to tuberculosis at ages 15 to 25. Despite the importance of this disease its epidemiology is not completely established. No vaccine such as those that prevent typhoid, diphtheria, smallpox and whooping cough has yet been developed for its prevention or control. We do know, however, some of the danger signals and with the physician's accurate diagnosis some of the damaging results of the disease may be prevented.

Exposure to frequent chilling, damp or overcrowded living quarters, a poor diet, an attack of scarlet fever, a bad cold or other infection caused by certain streptococcus germs are likely to be predisposing factors in the appearance of rheumatic fever.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, points out that in general the danger signals of rheumatic fever are pain and swelling in the joints of the knees, ankles, elbows or wrists. The pain usually is felt in one of these centers and spreads it to the others. Often-times a child will get irritable and cross without any visible signs of a good reason for this attitude; he may cry easily or develop habits of nervousness. A physician should be consulted at once in such a situation, for these symptoms may be the beginning of rheumatic fever.

According to Dr. Cox the best safeguards against this disease are to have each child examined at least once a year by a physician, to have the right kinds of food and plenty of rest. When the disease is suspected of being present, a doctor should be consulted at once, and if he prescribes complete bed rest, his advice should be implicitly followed.
