On The BEAM

By J. W. King, Sr.

By the time you read this the contractor will have finished the 13 blocks of paving, including curb and gutter. And also curb and gutter on three other blocks that will not be paved at this time.

Some people thought before the paving project started that the city council made a mistake in setting the width of the paving at 38 feet. They have discovered that 38 feet is plenty wide for residential streets.

Lightfoot Street from the highway to the school house is a pretty street. The space between the curb and the property line has been filled in and in most instances the property owners have started grass on it. When the ground all gets covered with grass and the trees are green it would be hard to find a more beautiful street. The property owners who have paid for the curb and gutter along the newly paved streets will find their property more valuable. I hope that it won't be too long before other streets in town can be paved.

Crops on light natured land had begun to suffer from the prolonged heat wave. More moisture is needed right away if we are to make another big cotton crop. Most of the crops are holding up well and fruiting up rapidly.

We are not kidding when we asked the citizens of our community to make suggestions to the editor about a subject for this column. If you will make the suggestion we will make an attempt to write something on the subject if we think it is worthy and if our knowledge of the subject is sufficient to warrant airing it. There are a good many subjects that could be discussed that might prove profitable to the community. Let us hear from you.

Another shopping center opened in Abilene a few days ago. We had an invitation to go down and join in the festivities at the opening. We did not go. We thought that if the stores in the center want publicity in our paper they can send some paid advertising out here.

INCOME OF FARM PEOPLE ROSE IN 1961; STILL FAR BELOW NONFARM INCOME

Income of farm people rose to $1,373 per person in 1961, an increase of $118 from 1960, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported July 25.

But income of farm people in 1961 was still only 58.6 per cent of per capita personal income of the nonfarm population. However, except for 1951 and 1948, this percentage was the highest of any year since the tabulations were begun in 1934.

These statistics are based on a revised series of per capita income for the period 1934 to 1961, which takes into account the sharp downward adjustment in farm population estimates resulting from the change in definition of farm population used in the last census.

Under the previous definition, the farm population in 1960 was estimated at 20,541,000. Under the new definition, the estimate for 1960 is 15,635,000. As a result, the new series show a higher level of per capita income of persons on farms than did the old series.

The figures are published in the July issue of USDA's Farm Income Situation, issued July 26.

If an allowance is calculated for farm invested capital (at 4% per cent), the publication reports, the return to all farm labor and management in 1961 was 99 cents per hour. Although this is a substantial increase from the 83 cents in 1960, it is still less than the minimum wage and far below the average earnings of workers in other segments of the economy.

Personal income of the farm population from all sources was reported as $1,373 per person in 1961, compared with $2,345 per nonfarm person. The per capita income of farm sources included $889 from farm sources and $471 from nonfarm sources. The $899 from farm sources was an increase of $108 from 1960. This increase per person was the result of a rise of $940 million in the total personal income of the farm population from farming, reflecting the improved agricultural situation last year and a decline of $32,000 in the number of people living on farms in the one-year period from 1960 to 1961, according to the report.

The 1961 farm income sources was an increase of $10.00 from 1960.

A copy of the July issue of the Farm Income Situation may be obtained from Press Services, Office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

Newly Paved Streets Gives Loraine Forty Blocks of Paving

Loraine can boast now of thirteen more blocks of paving than she had a few months ago. The paving contractor has completed the blocks for which $20,000 in bonds was voted to pay for them last year. The weather and other factors delayed the work a little especially during June but no long delays were encountered and the job was finished on time.

Besides the paving curb and gutter was run on all the blocks paved. These additional blocks have been curbed and guttered and another is in the process. These blocks were not included in the contract let to T. B. Riley but were done by agreement between the contractor and property owners along the blocks.

The blocks that have been curbed and guttered by the property owners are not to be paved at this time. The new paving gives Loraine approximately 40 blocks of paved streets. Others may be paved in the near future.

TEXAS-OKLAHOMA WEEKLY COTTON MARKET REVIEW

PROVED
College Station, August—First major change in the 43-year-old weekly cotton market review of Texas and Oklahoma trading has been announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Emphasis has been shifted from national and regional level to the local markets in line with general trade practices, points out John L. McCollum, manager of the area cotton office, USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, Dallas.

McCollum says the name and format of the report have been updated to meet the needs of farmers as well as the cotton trade. The report will be titled "Cotton, Texas-Oklahoma Weekly Market Review."

In addition to information on cotton market conditions and prices, the report will cover crop conditions, insect control, wages for chopping and snapping, costs of machine harvesting and ginning plus other spot news and pertinent facts.

The Review is released every Friday and the complete report is available by mail without cost. Persons interested in receiving the report should direct their requests to cotton Division, AMS, USDA, Room 404, 708 Jackson Street, Dallas 2, Texas.

The Homemakers Sunday School class of the Westbrook Baptist Church met August 10 in the home of Mrs. Lois Gann in Loraine with five members and two visitors present. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Dessie Hines. Mrs. Gann gave the opening prayer and the devotional was read by Mrs. Willie Byrd, reading the 23rd Psalm.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The closing prayer was given by Mrs. Callan. A social hour was led by Mrs. Emma Byrd.

Members attending were Mmes. Willie Byrd, Dessie Hines, Orlene Cook, Mollie Callan and Emma Byrd. The two visitors were Mrs. Bettie Oglesby and Mrs. Myrtle Martin.

W. M. S. HAS MISSION PROGRAM

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church met at the church at 3 p. m. Monday for a missionary program. The Kingdom Is Coming was sung by the group to open the meeting. Mrs. Dexter Taylor, president, conducted a short business meeting.

Mrs. J. W. King, a member of the nominating committee, recommended the following members for officers for the new year: Stewardship chairman, Mrs. Edw. Hallmark; publicity chairman, Mrs. Mac Farrington; Y. W. A. Director, Mrs. Bud Shepherd; Junior G. A. Counselor, Mrs. Wendell Banks.

Mrs. Thomas Riden read the Calendar of prayer for the day and gave a brief review of the Royal Service Program for August. She also showed some slides which were made at the Southern Baptist Convention in San Francisco which she attended in June.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Leach and Mrs. Roy Baird who attended the Baptist Assembly at Glorieta, New Mexico, a short time ago were scheduled to report on what they heard. Mes. Baird and Mr. Leach gave their reports but Mrs. Leach will be heard at a later date.

Mrs. Baird told of work being done in Indonesia and Singapore as told by Dr. Kathleen Jones and Dr. and Mrs. Morris, missionaries to these countries. The Indonesian country is made up of 97 percent Moslems, 3 percent Christian and 7 percent Hindus etc. There are not enough doctors and missionaries, 1 doctor to 60,000 people. Aside from work as a doctor Miss Jones does a great deal of missionary work. Mrs. Baird reported.

Mr. Leach told of the work Rev. and Mrs. Faris are doing with the Indians near Albuquerque, N. M. The work there, Mr. Leach reported, is hindered by alcoholism, immorality, fear of evil spirits and superstition. The Catholics resent the work of Protestants there. The Faris couple have served there four and a half years under the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Members attending were Mmes. Dexter Taylor, W. C. Rogers, Thomas Riden, Myrtle Martin, O. C. Lucas, Cline Taylor, Wendell Banks, Ida Baird, Inez Webb, N. C. House, J. W. King, Harvey Leach and one visitor Mr. Harvey Leach.

Today's MEDITATION
from
The World's Most Widely Used

Read John 21:15-17

Lovest thou me? ... Feed my sheep. (John 21:16)

We have eight small grandchildren, and my husband is a wonderful grandpa. About twice a month he sends each child a picture post card. When he goes to see them, he takes them presents—all alike.

After watching the rapturous greeting given him by one of the grandchildren—a bewitching little maid of four, with big blue eyes, and a mass of golden curls—laughingly taunted him that she was his favorite.

"No," he replied. "I love them all alike, but she shows her love for me more than do the others." I feel sure that our Lord loves all His disciples equally, including Judas. Yet it is said of John, showed that he was "the disciple whom Jesus loved." I wonder if it was because John showed his love to his Master more than the others did.

God loves us all equally, whatever the color of our skin, whether we are sinners or saints. But I think it makes a difference in our relation to Him when we love Him and show our love.

PRAYER: O Lord, Thou who costlove impartially because Thou art divine, we are grateful for Thy love for us. Help us to increase our love for Thee that we may not falter or fail in following in the Master's footsteps. In His name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
I can gladden the heart of my heavenly Father by showing my love for him today.

Farm Facts

Per capita consumption of food fats and oils in the United States has changed little over the last 40 years—averaging about 45 pounds annually. It amounted to an estimated 46.8 pounds (fat content) in 1947.

Reduced consumption of table spreads, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, has been about offset by an increase in other edible oils—mostly salad and cooking oils. Table spread use has averaged about 17 pounds per person in recent years, compared with around 20 pounds in the 1920's. Increased margarine consumption has just partially offset a decline in butter use.

Per capita consumption of fats and oils in 1947 (actual weight) totaled 9.5 pounds for margarine, 7.5 for butter, 7.8 for lard, 13.2 for shortening, and 11.2 for other edible fats.

In 1921 the "other edible" category accounted for only 3.5 pounds per capita. Increasing consumption is mainly due to use of more

JOINTS OFFERED FOR CUTTING HOME REPAIR BILLS

College Station, July.—The maintenance of bathtub and shower enclosure is one of the major repair items in most homes, according to information released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

A new bulletin (MP-569) explains that upkeep expenses usually result from improper installation or from failure of surfacing materials, grouting, or adhesives. Failure of materials results in severe leakage and thus rotting of the backing material, flooring and framing. Or undesirable material, characteristic such as fading, staining, or brittleness may make it necessary to replace the material before its usefulness has been fully utilized.

Research for the bulletin was done by workers in the Department of Agricultural Engineering, Texas A&M College. Sixteen different materials and several different methods of construction were used to determine which procedure was best to use with a particular material.

The materials used were: unenameled steel tile, copper tile, stainless steel tile, porcelain-on-steel tile, 2-brands of plastic tile, ceramic tile, laminated thermosetting sheets, 2 brands of pre-finished wallboard, vinylized wall fabric, flexible rubber, plywood hardboard, gypsum board, and mortar.

The enclosures were subjected to nine 3-minute shower cycles per day for 3 months. At the end of the tests, the enclosures were completely dismantled and sectioned in three places through each wall to locate the source and cause of leakage or other failure that had damaged them.

The authors, B. R. Stewart, O. R. Knaze and Price Hobgood discuss the appearance, failure and characteristics of each material and offer an evaluation of the procedures and methods used in the test.

Persons interested in more information on material and methods of shower and tub enclosure installation may obtain a copy of MP-569 by writing to the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas, and requesting the publication by number.
