Re-Election Of Hawk Is Sought

STRONG UNDERCURRENT FOR AMARILLO MAN TO SERVE AGAIN IS PREVALENT AT BIG SPRING

BY CHAS. A. GUY
Journal Staff Writer

BIG SPRING, May 11.—On the basis of his administration just closed, a decided undercurrent for the re-election of Wilbur C. Hawk of Amarillo as president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce was prevalent today as the fifteenth annual convention of the organization got under way.

The largest number of directors ever assembled in the history of the organization was present for Mr. Hawk's opening session today.

Re-election of a WTCC president is unusual in the annals of the organization and hasn't occurred in the past ten years.

Mr. Hawk declined to comment on the movement today, declaring only that he "couldn't see how he could serve another year".

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

MEANS SAYS HE KNOWS

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—Gaston B. Means, testifying in his own defense in a ransom conspiracy trial, said in District of Columbia supreme court today that he knew who kidnaped the Lindbergh baby, how the child was killed and who got the $50,000 Dr. John F. Condon paid to ransom the infant. Means said he believed a man named "Irving Fenton" and possibly another named "Wellington Henderson" had an important part in abducting the child of Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Reno Issues Warning Before Farm Strike

SAYS FARMERS WON'T STAND FOR ACTION AGAINST PROPERTY

(By The Associated Press)

DES MOINES, Ia., May 11 — Warning that if "a fair and equitable adjustment is not made, the farmer will no longer submit to confiscation of his property," Milo Reno, president of the National Farm Holiday association, today perfected plans for the organization's strike of agriculture.

"The farmer," he said, "will join hands with those who favor the overthrow of government. As between a communistic government enforced by the bayonet, such as Russia has, and a capitalistic autocracy enforced the same way, I have no choice."

Clause Is Omitted

Reno's statement came as congress submitted to President Roosevelt the administration farm bill without the "cost of production clause" asked by holiday adherents.

The holiday leader asserted that if all farmers joined the movement scheduled to begin Saturday, for a period of ten days, the cost of production problem would be solved.

MURRAY ISSUES STATEMENT ON STRIKE

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 11 (AP)—Gov. Murray, writing in his personal newspaper, had this to say today about the farm holiday movement:

"Mobs will not be permitted in Oklahoma, and every man will be protected in his rights to sell to him who wants to buy.

"A hint to the wise is enough. Do not make a fool of yourself, because thereby you might become a vagabond and be 'numbered', for it is a violation of the law."

Mitchell Is Facing Income Tax Charge

NEW YORK, May 11. (AP)—Charles E. Mitchell, long popularly rated as one of the wizards of Wall Street, was placed on trial today on charges of having practiced financial sleight of hand on income tax officials, thus defrauding the government of $858,429.68.

Mitchell is accused of creating apparent losses in his income for 1929 and 1930 although the government charges that in reality his net income for those years was more than $4,000,000.

The charge is that he accomplished this alleged legerdemain by selling securities for far less than he paid for them. This created a net loss, so that no tax had to be paid. Then Mitchell, it is charged, bought the stocks back at the same figure for which he sold them.

Oklahoman Gets 5 Years For Slaying

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 11 (AP)—E. Percy Merrick was convicted of manslaughter today by a jury which assessed a 5-year prison sentence for the fatal shooting of Henry Downs, Denver athlete.

The young basketball player was shot to death in a filling station here last April 15, the day after Merrick allegedly had surprised him in an attack on Mrs. Merrick while Downs was an overnight guest in the Merrick household here.

SMALL CROP IN WHEAT SEEN

LOWEST YIELD SINCE 1904 IS ESTIMATED BY GOVERNMENT

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 11. — The smallest wheat crop since 1904 and the first this century below domestic consumption needs was in prospect today as nature's hand in cutting down the nation's wheat surplus was registered in government statistics.

The crop reporting board's estimate of winter production was 337,480,000 bushels. The estimated productions—which compares with an average of 589,436,000 bushels for the period 1929-1930 of winter wheat—is the result of the heaviest abandonment of acreage ever recorded in this country, 32.2 per cent due to bad weather conditions.

Acreage Reduced

Spring wheat production estimates have not been made by the board but in March it reported that farmers intended to plant 20,986,000 acres, or 2.5 per cent less than last year. The average spring wheat yield for ten years has been 12.75 bushels per acre which, if averaged this year with no appreciable change in farm planting plans, would result in production of 267,571,000 bushels, and a total crop of all wheat of 605,000,000 bushels.

OFFICIALS ARE SILENT ON SITUATION

CAMP NEAR CAPITOL IS ORDERED REMOVED; OTHERS ARRIVING

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 11. —A detail of 25 police from the Washington force was sent to Capitol hill today to do guard duty.

A group of marchers camped on a vacant lot joining the house office building decided to yield to police orders to move.

"Must Give Way To Law"

Harold Foulkrod of this city and Mike Thomas, of Camden, N. J., in speeches told their followers that they "must give way to the law."

Consequently, the marchers—who refused to stay at Fort Hunt, Va., with the "Veterans Liaison committee"—agreed to go to a site on Third Street, Southwest, where they were told they could stay a day or two longer.

Evacuate Before Sundown

A motley band of veterans, followers of Foulkrod, had temporary headquarters on a vacant lot within a stone's throw of the capitol dome. The shadows of their camp fire last night danced against the windows of the house office building. Today they were ordered by police to evacuate before sundown.

Ten miles away, at Fort Hunt scores of army tents housed about 300 other former soldiers who were given a piping hot breakfast and cigarettes by their host, the Roosevelt administration.

GERMANY DELAYS TRUCE ON TARIFF

LONDON, May 11. (AP)—Germany's unwillingness to give prompt assent to the draft of the tariff truce text has definitely delayed the formal acceptance and the passing on to other governments of the world economic armistice project.

German assent had been expected last evening and again this forenoon, but when the German reply finally was received after a noon meeting of the cabinet of the reich in Berlin, it was to the effect that the German government would need more time to study the proposals.

The tenor of the German reply to requests here for immediate action was, it was understood, that Britain and America had taken their time about evolving the truce formula and the reich could not be rushed precipitately into an agreement.

COUPLE BARRICADED INSIDE CAR TO PROTEST LICENSE FEES; ENDURANCE CONTEST WITH STATE POLICE IS SET

(By The Associated Press)

JACKSON, Mich., May 11.—Ernest Moross' automobile, with Moross and his wife barricaded inside, was chained to a post in a garage here today as the pair launched an endurance contest with state police, in protest, they said, against the cost of automobile license fees in the state.

Police stopped Moross last night when they said they found him driving without 1933 license credentials. Instead of surrendering, Moross and his wife obtained food, extra clothing and a small stove, locked themselves in their car, chained down the hood so police could not reach the motor, and awaited results.

The police attached a towline and dragged the automobile to a garage, Mrs. Moross attracting a large following by her shouts for help. Inside the garage, they chained the car to a post to prevent Moross from driving away.

Moross this morning lowered a window long enough to inform watchers that he would "hold the fort as long as possible," in protest against license costs.

The state police said they would engage in a leisurely "waiting game."

THREE KILLED IN STORM

BROWNWOOD AREA IS STRUCK BY WIND WEDNESDAY

(By The Associated Press)

BROWNWOOD, May 11.—A violent wind and rain storm raging through this section last night brought death to at least three persons, seriously injured a number of others and caused extensive property damage.

Arthur Richardson, 11, and Marjorie Richardson, 18 months, lost their lives when their farm home in Delaware community, three miles east of Brownwood, was demolished by tornadic winds. Mrs. J. W. Arant was injured fatally when her home was destroyed.

Grave injuries were suffered by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar P. Richardson and four children in the house when the storm struck. The children were Ruby Pearl, 13; Beatrice, 18; Herbert, 16, and Virgie, 3.

Search Made

Searching parties were digging in the debris of various other wrecked homes trying to determine the numbers of casualties. Dozens of homes were unroofed and blown from their foundations.

In Brownwood the Calvary Baptist church was wrecked, along with dwelling houses and the Texas Compress plant. The roof was torn from the city pumping plant.

The tornado, accompanied by a driving rain, roared out of the west, cutting a six-mile strip through the region. The wind blew with destructive force for more than two hours before abating. The rainfall continued for another hour.

DEATHS TOTAL 250

LIVINGSTON, Tenn., May 11 (AP)—The seventh of a series of major tornadoes battering the south since March has raised the total of spring storm fatalities above 250 by killing at least 54 persons in the Cumberland valley of Tennessee and Kentucky.

PHILADELPHIA RECORD SAYS SHIP GROOMED FOR FAST TRIP

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, May 11.—The Philadelphia Record says "a well-authenticated rumor, bolstered by activities at the Philadelphia navy yard," indicates President Roosevelt is preparing to make a dash across the ocean to the world economic conference in London next month.

"Although there has been no hint the president would attend the conference, navy officers here are preparing the new 10,000-ton cruiser Indianapolis for the fastest Atlantic crossing ever made by a surface craft," the Record says.

PRESIDENT KEEPING PLANS SECRET

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—It was reiterated today at the White House that President Roosevelt has no present intention of attending the London economic conference opening on June 12.

The possibility of the president's going to London should circumstances require his presence is not put beyond possibility by some of his friends, who recall his readiness to do unusual things when he thinks the situation requires it.

But if Mr. Roosevelt has any definite plan for attending the London parley he is keeping it carefully concealed.

LONDON PAPERS GIVE BIG PLAY TO NEWS

LONDON, May 11. (AP)—Fresh reports, described as "well authenticated" that President Roosevelt is coming to the world economic conference resulted in smashing headlines in this afternoon's newspapers. The reports came in press dispatches from America.

Books In Germany Put On Bonfires

BERLIN, May 11 (AP)—Books of Helen Keller, Franz Boas and Jack London as well as hundreds of German authors went up in smoke through Germany last night.

University young men and women, pronouncing judgment on world literature considered as contravening German spirit, started huge bonfires of the volumes shortly before midnight.

Dr. Joseph Goebbels, minister of public enlightenment and propaganda, pronounced the government's blessings and declared that "the period of Jewish intellectualism now has ended."

BIG SPRING IS PLAYING HOST TO CONFAB

ATTENDANCE EXPECTED TO BE HEAVIEST IN SEVERAL YEARS

BY HARRY MONTGOMERY
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

BIG SPRING, May 11.—West Texans from the Rio Grande to the northernmost counties of the Panhandle were gathering here today for annual convention of their regional chamber of commerce.

Registration began at 9 a. m., and the first session of the convention, a luncheon for directors, was arranged for the noon hour. Officials said there was every indication that attendance would be the largest in four or five years, or since the organization decreed that its conventions should be devoted to business rather than entertainment.

Featured Direct Service

The chamber, during the administration of Wilbur C. Hawk, president, had featured direct service to individual communities and those cities were invited to be represented at the convention if they expected to benefit fully from the organization's program.

Hawk pointed out that realization of need for united action during the period of economic stress and the fitness of the chamber's program to meet those needs had brought 53 cities into membership during the year, making a total of 170 affiliated towns.

Civic Problems Up

Major civic problems were due for serious consideration at the convention.

Officials indicated that business of the convention would center around a study of emergency relief plans and how to further re-

Inflation Believed To Be Greater Aid

NEW ORLEANS, May 11 (AP)—C. O. Moser, vice president of the American Cotton Cooperative association, believes the cotton farmer will benefit more this season from the national inflation program than from the Gederal Farm Relief act.

Most of the crop is now planted, he said, and farmers will be unwilling to plow it under to benefit under the farm act. He said the benefits of the inflation program would be felt after the "higher price received by the grower has actually been passed back into the channels of trade."

LEAGUE CALLS MEET ON WAR

FIRST FORMAL ACTION OF WAR SINCE UNIT FORMED STUDIED

(By The Associated Press)

GENEVA, Switzerland, May 11 — The League of Nations convoked a special session of its council today to consider Paraguay's declaration of war against Bolivia, the first formal declaration since the birth of the league.

This action was taken after a meeting of the council's committee on the dispute had been convoked as a result of official notification of the Paraguayan declaration. Sean Lester, of the Irish Free state, presided over this committee meeting, at which there were representatives of Spain and Guatemala.

The league council probably will meet Monday, with Baron Pompeo Aloisi of Italy, presiding.

Bolivia informed the league of the declaration of war and asked that action be taken concerning it. Pending action by the council the league is addressing appeals to Paraguay and Bolivia to exercise moderation and to refrain from acts of war.

ORDERS PILING UP, REPORTS TODAY SAY

CONFIDENCE RESTORED BY WAGE HIKES AND EMPLOYMENT

(By The Associated Press)

Belief that business had finally found and rounded that elusive "corner" and was now strolling arm in arm with prosperity was expressed today by industrial leaders as they watched orders pile up for the first time since 1929.

The confidence was reflected in their employes, too, in the way of fatter pay envelopes as wage boosts continued to be announced and jobs became more plentiful in lines ranging from ice cream makers to railroads.

Carloadings Increasing

Among the latter, the New York Central, Missouri Pacific, International Great Northern, Gulf Coast lines, Missouri-Kansas-Texas, and St. Louis-San Francisco reported carloadings on the rise.

New York state was genuinely encouraged by a report that 16,000 persons went back to work there last month. At Detroit the National Steel company said 300 men would be employed to complete a $25,000 construction job.

Other Firms Join List

Concerns in Cleveland, Akron, O., Los Angeles, Lebanon, Pa., Martinsville, Va., were among those to add their names to the growing list that have granted wage increases. The boosts have mostly been for five or 10 per cent.

Reported today were:

A sharp jump in wholesale commodity prices for the week ending May 6 as calculated from a list of the United States department of commerce.

Rising retail trade on the Pacific coast.

Upward bound output in the au-

MOORE IS NAMED STUDENT PREXY

Ray Moore of Hamilton was elected president of the Texas Technological college student body for the 1933-34 academic year in convocation in the college gymnasium this morning. Rob O'Hair of Lubbock was Moore's opponent in the contest, the most prominent of five conducted this morning.

Three amendments to the student constitution was adopted. Other officers elected were Toby Greer of Comanche, by acclamation, as vice president; Audry Farris of Floydada as secretary; Marvin Collins of Celina as student representative on the athletic council, and Bill Stubbs of Corpus Christi as cheer leader. All except Greer, who was unopposed, were chosen by ballot.

The three amendments, in order of adoption, provided for:

Election of student publication officers in February instead of May; a representative of graduate students on the student council, and a fee of 75 cents a semester as subscription to The Toreador, student newspaper, to go to a fund for establishment of a printing plant.

JAPANESE BOMBING PLANE FLIES OVER "FORBIDDEN CITY" OF CHINA AND RAINS DOWN HANDBILL WARNINGS OF WAR

(By The Associated Press)

PEIPING, May 11—A Japanese bombing plane roared over this, "The Forbidden City," today and from it rained handbill warnings of war.

Chinese machine gunners opened fire, but the plane, at a safe height, completed its mission and flew away.

"Our army," said the handbills, "takes pity on your ignorant, soldiers, and delivers this solemn command:

"Cease opposing the Japanese and Manchukuans. Break away from Marshal Chiang Kai-Shek."

If the Chinese fail to heed the "solemn command," the warning said, then:

"The tragedy of Kupeikow will occur in Peiping and in Tientsin."

The import of that was clear enough to the two million residents of this city. There wefe many casualties at Kupeikow.

"Fellow Asiatics" was the salutation of the handbills. "Since we all speak the same language and belong to the same race," it continued, "we should live and prosper together. Why should we slaughter each other?

"If Chiang Kai-Shek continues to be violent and fails to repent his error, it is feared that tragedy will befall Peiping and Tientsin."

The height at which the plane flew made futile the fire of the machine guns, manned by policemen; but though its flight was high and its only bombardment was of handbills, the bomber created much concern, not only among the Chinese but also among the more than 1,200 Americans quartered here.

STRANGE LIFE OF AGED ECCENTRIC IS FIELD FOR CLUE TO DOUBLE MURDER

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 11—The strange life of the eccentric Edward Ridley was the field police raked today for clues to his equally strange death.

They hunted for some hint of an enemy—an enemy with a hatred so great that it would leave the 88-year-old eccentric dead on the floor of his subbasement office with his beard torn out by the roots, his head crushed and an ear torn away.

The bodies of Ridley and his secretary, Lee Weinstein, were found yesterday afternoon. Weinstein, 44, had been shot.

Robbery was not the motive. Detectives announced that with certainty. The old safe in the office had not been touched, nor had any papers; and the pockets of the two men had not been rifled.

Perhaps some tenant of Ridley properties—Ridley was reputedly wealthy—may have gone to the office, a damp, gloomy cubbyhole 35-feet under the street level at 63 Allen street, and sought to avenge some fancied wrong. Detectives worked upon that theory.

The double murder appeared as insoluble as the murder in the same wierd setting two years ago of Herman Moench. Moench was 65 years old. He had been Ridley's secretary and assistant for half a century.

More Fun And Less Work In Kitchens

"The Happy Kitchen!"

That's just what the Avalanche-Journal will show hundreds of housewives in Lubbock and vicinity on four days next week at the Uptown Dance palace. Beginning Tuesday the ninth annual school of cookery will be in progress.

The modern kitchen is not one of drudgery—never! There's life, variety, color and the spice of tangy foods steaming in pots and pans.

"Where there used to be just a succession of work-a-day cares there's now romance and the adventure of discovery—or there should be," declares Mrs. Leona Rusk Ihrig, famed for her knowledge of cookery and her exposition of the ever-changing styles in foods.

Mrs. Ihrig comes here to conduct the biggest and greatest cooking school the Avalanche-Journal has yet sponsored.

School Is Free

And remember—it's all absolutely free and there's not a thing to be sold. This newspaper considers itself fortunate in securing Mrs. Ihrig again for this great women's event.

Everywhere the noted home economist has presented her cooking school demonstrations she declares she found an ever-increasing interest in the problem of cookery and in the constant delving for "what's new in the kitchen."

"As for women losing interest in their homes—bosh!" Mrs. Ihrig writes. And just to fill that demand for ideas new and different, the Avalanche-Journal is bringing you the "Happy Kitchen."

Epicureans for ages back—ever since Friend Husband stopped tearing his dinner from the bones of a Pleistocene bear and eating it raw—have hailed the mistress of the kitchen and the happiness of a fine-cooked and fine-served dinner can bring.

If children soil and scratch the lower rung of chairs that are painted a light color, take a small piece of inner tube and tack it on the upper part the length of the rung. It is neat and protective.

If you are tired of serving iced tea and iced coffee at luncheon, try grape lemonade or some other beverage that your children consider a treat when served at a drug store counter. Milk, if flavored with chocolate, and further enhanced by a teaspoonful of whipped cream, will supply nourishment and be accepted gratefully when plain milk will be refused.

To cool any hot food quickly, set it in a pan of cold water that has been well salted.

There was an attendance of 94 at the annual dinner for seniors at Texas Technological college. The dinner was served Wednesday evening at Hotel Lubbock and the class president, Lou Edwards, was toastmaster.

President Bradford Knapp was the principal speaker. Basil Hill, student council president, also spoke. A short musical program was given by Milton Harber and Henry Godeke.

GOOD CASSEROLE

Left-over fish or roast lamb can re-appear in most appetizing form if you fix them in casserole just as you would chicken a la king. As a matter of fact, it is hard to tell the difference between fish or lamb and chicken.

Administration's Farm Relief Bill Benefits Explained

PROVISIONS OF BILL TOLD

EFFORT TO BE MADE TO HIKE PRICES TO PRE-WAR LEVEL

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 11—If you are a farmer, here is the way the administration's price lifting and mortgage relief bill proposes to help you:

It collects all federal-owned cotton into one pool, to be sold to planters on credit provided they reduce acreage. Later it will be sold by the government, with profits going to the farmer.

Proclaim a Tax

Proclaim a processing tax on the seven basic commodities, wheat, cotton, corn, rice, tobacco, hogs and dairy products, sufficient to increase their price to 1909-1914 levels for all but tobacco, for which the level would be the average 1919-29 price; and approve marketing agreements with those who buy from the farmers, to permit them to pay the farmer more.

Receipts from the taxes would be paid back to the farmers in direct benefits or through leasing land to get it out of production, if they reduce their production. The payment will be in accordance to the decrease in output.

To Promote Markets

To promote foreign markets for American farm products, and pay the benefits until tax receipts are sufficient, the bill appropriates $100,000,000 from the treasury, to be repaid the government from the tax collected.

Should the farmer have a mortgage on which he now pays the average 6 per cent interest, the Federal Land banks would refinance it at a maximum of 4 1-2 per cent if he borrows through a farm loan association. If he has already borrowed for the land banks, he would not have to pay the 1 per cent annual amortization payment. Should he wish to borrow directly, the interest rate would be one-half of one per cent more.

Government Guarantees

To finance this, the government proposes to issue two billions in land bank bonds, bearing four per cent interest which the government would guarantee.

To aid those who have borrowed from the joint stock land banks, the government will supply $100,000,000 from the reconstruction corporation to the joint stock banks so they can reduce their interest to 5 per cent, with the stipulation they can not foreclose for two years.

For the assistance of those who wish to refinance their other debts, the bill provides $200,000,000 for loans from the reconstruction so that farm debtors could make composition of their debts with creditors under the machinery of the bankruptcy law.

Mr. Patterson has had a Jersey herd. He is adding the so-called "milking shorthorn," type in an effort to increase the size of his dairy animals. The registered shorthorns came from DeLeon.

THE CAPITOL WHIRLIGIG

INTERESTING NEWS, COMMENT FROM AUSTIN

BY R. W. BARRY

AUSTIN, May 11. (AP)—Administration supporters believe the Fergusons will be as happy as anyone when the legislature leaves. Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and her husband, former Governor James E. Ferguson, have not had the luck they are said to have expected four months ago when the new legislature came into existence with Mrs. Ferguson's inauguration.

It was generally believed at that time the administration would have comparatively "easy sailing" with any program it proposed.

Neither Proved Popular

The administration proposed an elective highway commission and a sales tax as its especially prized pieces of legislation. Neither proved to be popular with the legislature.

The governor and her husband-advisor have not said so, but it has been apparent to unbiased observers they have not been pleased with the work of the legislature. That is to say, they have lauded the members for their good work, but they also have shown keen disappointment at failure of some of their legislative program to go over.

Oil Board Killed

The governor sent a message to the legislature just before the senate was to vote on a bill creating an oil and gas conservation commission to replace the railroad commission's administration urging its adoption. The upper branch killed the bill.

The senate had consistently refused to confirm her appointment of Frank L. Denison of Temple to be chairman of the Texas Highway commission. The governor insisted that he ought to have that place even though he did not receive a two-thirds majority affirmative vote.

Gov. Ferguson's experience with the legislature was not exactly what she expected, nor what most Texans believed would be the lawmakers' attitude toward the administration.

Former Officer To Face Trial Monday

VERNON, May 11. (AP)—Que R. Miller, former Foard county sheriff and tax collector, today awaited trial at Quanah next Monday on charges of misappropriating public funds. Venue of two of four cases pending against him was ordered shifted from Crowell to Quanah Tuesday by Judge W. N. Stokes, after the defense claimed a fair trial could not be obtained at Crowell.

Miller was tried in one case involving an alleged shortage of $16,000 but the four-year sentence imposed was reversed on appeal.

He also is under a federal counterfeiting charge at New Orleans.

Abernathy Plans To Hold "Hunter Day"

ABERNATHY, May 11, (Special)—Friends of Tom Hunter, Wichita Falls gubernatorial candidate in 1932, are seeking to bring him here for a special Tom Hunter Day program sometime in June. A banquet to be attended by farmers surrounding Abernathy is planned at noon, to be attended jointly by local business men. A short address by Hunter during the luncheon and another later in the day are planned if he accepts the invitation to come here.

The invitation to Mr. Hunter to speak here was decided on by several of his friends to allow him to bring his opinions of important state matters before a large group of Hale and Lubbock county voters.

Two Charged Here Believed Fugitives

M. W. Kerr and Burton Huston, facing burglaries charges here, are believed by the Carson county sheriff to have escaped from a Carson county jail some time ago, the sheriff there informed Sheriff Tom Abel, Wednesday.

Sheriff Abel said description of the men, who were under other names, coincided with the pair held here. He said the car Kerr and Huston had was the one the men had in Carson county. The license plate numbers were the same.

Sheep Headlights Is Latest Idea

BUTTE, Mont., May 11. (AP)—J. N. Gossett, Madison county sheepman, proposes putting headlights on sheep. A few animals wearing collars fitted with a flashlight battery and a red reflector on the lamp, he said, will protect a band of several thousand sheep from slinking coyotes and raiding cougars. He finds the light doesn't bother the sheep and scares off the intruders.

DAIRY HERD PROFITABLE

SLATON, May 11, (Special)—J. L. Preston, a farmer living about two miles south of town, reports his small dairy herd produced enough to supply the family with butter and to sell $184.40 worth during 12 months.

Mr. Preston also raises Plymouth Rock chickens and four of them recently weighed 33 pounds. Preston has registered stock, both dairy and poultry.

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

FOUR teams left, four games to play, and the first annual Lubbock County baseball tournament will have become history. The four remaining teams will be in the running today and tomorrow. Winners in this afternoon's games will tangle tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock for the tournament championship. Losers today will play tomorrow at 1:30 o'clock for third place.

• • •

Last of the local teams went down yesterday when the 131st Field Artillery lost a tough game to the Phillips "66" club of Slaton. A ninth-inning rally broke a deadlock and gave the Slaton Oilers a 12-11 victory, making the third successive game won by a margin of one run.

• • •

On Tuesday, the Artillery sluggers pegged out a 12 to 11 victory over a fighting Union team. Wednesday in the first game, the third "Battle of Bunker Hill" of the tournament turned out, 9 to 8, favoring Estacado. Then the 12-11 game yesterday afternoon. That's airtight baseball. The scores were close all the way through. They're pulling double plays like professionals, and twice, once yesterday, there were good openings for triple plays, seldom happenings even in the big circles.

• • •

The Lubbock County Baseball tournament will be an annual affair here. So fine was the response on the part of teams this time that directors of the tournament have decided to stage it yearly. Next year, however, it will be postponed until later in the summer in order to give the spring sandstorms a chance to wear themselves out. By that time, too, there should be a regulation baseball park, an infield not too rocky, a grandstand to sit in and a fence to knock home runs over.

• • •

NOT long ago the editor of the Toreador, or somebody connected with the Texas Tech newspaper, wrote an editorial suggesting that an official name be given the Texas Tech athletic field. The name, "Horn Field," was suggested, as a symbol of respect to the memory of Dr. P. W. Horn, former president.

• • •

This department admits its ignorance of the fact that the athletic field did not have an official name. We thought it was Matador Field all the time. But if that is not the official name, it is high time something was done about it. Personally, we like the Toreador's suggestion. Horn Field would be an appropriate as well as a respectful name. Dr. Horn certainly did help to get the athletic department where it is now, and, it is respectfully submitted, Dr. Bradford Knapp is carrying on in fine style.

• • •

We suggest that the athletic council get together one of these days and settle on an official name for the field, whether it be Horn Field, Matador Field, Cawthon Park, Tech Oval or Freeland Memorial Stadium.

• • •

If any of you downtown coaches plan a trip to New Mexico this weekend, drop by the Texas Tech athletic department and tell Coach Pinkey Lowrey about it. Maybe you have room in your machine for one or a couple of Pinkey's athletes, who are seeking means of transportation to Albuquerque tomorrow in order to be on hand for the Border conference track and field meet Saturday. Unless somebody comes to their aid, not more than ten or a dozen men will be able to go. A full representation would enhance Tech's chances to annex another conference championship.

• • •

The Tech tennis team, plucky fellows, plan to make the conference meet "on their own." They are not asking for help, and they will be recognized as contenders. Likely to do something, too.

• • •

The University of Arizona Wildcats are the favorites to take the Border conference track and field meet. They've been setting some pretty high marks in practice and dual meets, higher than the Matadors have attained. But Coach Lowrey has reasons for his belief that not all the glory will go to the Wildcats. His Tech team has improved steadily, and when they get on the nice, new cinder track at the University of New Mexico Saturday, they may go places. The relay team especially has been drilled for stiff competition.

County Ball Play Is Nearing Completion

FOUR TEAMS LEFT TO BATTLE TODAY AND FRIDAY FOR TITLE

The Lubbock county baseball tournament is scheduled to close tomorrow afternoon when winners of today's games meet at 3:30 o'clock in the championship game and today's losers meet at 1:30 o'clock for third place honors.

Four teams remained in the running after yesterday's quarter-final games. Estacado lived up to dope and defeated Bunker Hill, although it was a tight game, ending 9 to 8. A seventh-inning rally gave Estacado the victory.

Army Team Beaten

Last of the local teams was eliminated when the Phillips "66" club of Slaton downed the 131st Field Artillery team, 12 to 11. It was the same score by which the Artillery defeated Union on Tuesday.

Estacado and Barton were to meet at 1:30 this afternoon in the first semi-final game. The Slaton Oilers will tangle with Canyon at 3:30 for the championship of the lower bracket.

Contests Close

Yesterday's games were as close and hard fought as the scores indicate. The first game, a seven-inning affair, was won by Estacado after Bunker Hill had taken a good lead and seemed destined to win its fourth game. Bunker Hill led by one run when Estacado went to bat in the last of the seventh. Pitcher Bud Arnold, relieving Grady Morgan on the mound for Bunker Hill, walked in a run after the bases were loaded to tie the score. With two out, Flowers singled to right to score the winning run.

The second game was tied three times, the lead shifting as many times. The Cadets used four pitchers, starting with Juicy Owen, big right-hander, and ending with Johnny Walker, who won the 12 to 11 game for the Cadets Tuesday. With the score tied at 11-all after the first half of the ninth, the Oilers hit into a double play, one of six executed during the ball game. Tudor singled, Milliken was safe on an overthrow from third, and Porter slipped one, a questionable hit, by Second Baseman Williamson, as Tudor brought home the winning run.

Bryant Good At Bat

Lefty Bryant, who played three positions for the Artillery yesterday, including a turn in the box, had a good day at bat, slapping out a home run, a double and two singles to account for five runs. Cullar, Oiler second sacker, got a home run. Johnny Walker, playing a good game at short taking over the mound, singled four times in succession for the losers.

There will be a slight increase in admission prices for the remaining games. Players' passes, with the exception of the four surviving teams, were revoked yesterday.

ATTENTION: WESTERNERS

AMARILLO, May 11 (AP)—Amarillo's "fighting bunch of little kids" as Coach Blair Cherry terms his 1933 high school football team, will meet the 1932 squad in a regulation game here Friday afternoon, ending spring training.

The starting lineup of next fall's squad averages 160 pounds, while last year's first eleven topped the scales at 174.

RICE TRACK TEAM FAVORED IN MEET

HOUSTON, May 11. (AP)—Conceded an excellent chance for championship laurels, Coach Ernie Hjertberg's Rice Institute track and field team leaves here tonight for Austin, where Friday and Saturday the southwest conference meet will be staged.

Much depends on whether Ed Holloway and Ray Harbour are set to go.

In good condition, Holloway is one of the best dash men, and Harbour, among the best half-milers in the conference. Both have been out with injuries.

Rice will offer a great field team—an array that last Saturday in a triangular meet here with the Texas Longhorns and the Texas Aggies, swept every event.

Baylor Bears Win From S. M. U. Nine

DALLAS, May 11 (AP)—The Baylor University Bears took a 3-2 baseball decision from the Southern Methodist University Mustangs Wednesday. The contest was a pitching duel between Smoky Zachery of the Mustangs and Archie Kroney of the Bears.

BUFFS' LEAD IS REDUCED

GALVESTON NOW ONLY TWO GAMES BEHIND TEXAS LEADERS

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Manager Carey Selph's Houston Buffaloes, who three days ago were leading the pennant race by a margin of four full games, are now only two in front of the Galveston Buccaneers.

The Buffaloes opened their northern invasion Wednesday night at Dallas and lost a 1 to 0 battle that was one of the season's finest mound duels. Salveson of Dallas and Cvengros of Houston each allowed six hits and both were at their best with men on and dangerous hitters at bat.

Error Loses Game

The Steers won in the ninth when Lou Brower scored from second on Binder's error of Salveson's grounder to shortstop. Binder raced in to scoop up the ball. He missed and, in reversing to pick up the ball, fell, allowing Brower to round third and gallop home with the only run. Two men were out at the time.

Combining Chamberlain's five-hit pitching with some husky swatting, the Galveston Buccaneers swept toward first place with a 4 to 2 decision over Fort Worth. Fort Worth scored two runs when Pinch Hitter Warren hit with the bases loaded, but that was as far as the Cats got. Governor and English led Galveston's attack with three hits each.

Stage Pitching Duel

In a pitching duel, Nitcholas of Oklahoma City bested Judge Schulz of Beaumont to win, 2 to 1. Beaumont collected only four hits. The Indians got to Schulz for seven hits, scoring the winning run in the ninth.

The San Antonio Missions staged a six-run rally in the fifth inning to beat Tulsa, 7 to 4. The Oilers outhit the Missions 12 to 10. It was the first victory for the Missions since they invaded the northern cities.

Due to the strength of the Cleveland Indians and a few other western clubs, the New York Yankees have surrendered their place of solitary splendor at the head of the American league standing for the first time in a few days over a year.

Cleveland, which held the lead for a few minutes last Sunday until the Yanks got back in the second game of a doubleheader, clambered up to share first place yesterday by beating the Boston Red Sox 4 to 2 while the World champions were taking a 10-2 beating from the White Sox at Chicago. The situation might have been even worse for the Yanks but for a late rally by the St. Louis Browns which downed Washington 5-0 and kept the Senators from taking a clear lead in the close race.

Veteran Holds Them

The Yanks couldn't do a thing with the canny offerings of Samuel Pond Jones, 40-year-old Chicago veteran. They garnered only six blows while the Sox, led by Al Simmons, pinned Lefty Gomez' ears back with a blast of base hits.

Philadelphia's Athletics hit the comeback trail as they started against the slipping Detroit Tigers and moved into fifth place by taking both games of a doubleheader, 3-2 and 6-4. Merritt Cain and Rube Walberg hurled good ball for the Mackmen.

Weather Halts National

Bad weather reduced the National league program to one doubleheader which saw the Cincinnati Reds wallop the tail-end Phillies twice and advance to fourth place with a .500 average. The scores were 10-7 and 4-3. Chuck Klein made a noble effort to stave off the defeats, walloping three home runs and batting in seven runs but he couldn't match Cincinnati's six-run rally in the sixth inning of the opener nor Si Johnson's steady flinging in the nightcap.

VINES WILL RESUME HIS PLACE ON DAVIS CUP TEAM IN ZONE CONTESTS

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 11.—Ellsworth Vines will resume his place on the American Davis cup team for the fortheoming North American zone finals against either Cuba or Canada.

The National champion will join three other veterans of international play, Wilmer Allison, George Lott and John Van Ryn for the next obstacle in a campaign tennis authorities confidently expect will again lead the Americans into the challenge round against France.

Sutter Dropped Temporarily

Clifford Sutter, New Orleans youth who teamed up with Allison, Lott and Van Ryn in overwhelming Mexico in the first round, 5-0, is dropped from the team, temporarily at least.

Cuba and Canada will play their series at Hot Springs, Va., tomorrow, Friday and Saturday, the survivor battling the United States later this month.

Allison to Concentrate on Singles

In all probability, the team as now reorganized will play straight through all this country's remaining cup tests. Vines, Allison and Van Ryn comprised the squad that just missed dethroning France a year ago and the addition of Lott should make the squad just that much more formidable. Allison, who played both singles and doubles last year, will be free now to devote all his energies to singles. Lott and Van Ryn will play doubles with Vines and Allison handling the singles assignments.

ONLY TEN HORSES MAY START RACE

BALTIMORE, May 11 (AP)—Only ten of the Preakness candidates today appeared likely to face the barrier Saturday for the mile and three-sixteenths classic test for three-year-olds at Pimlico.

Four of the first five in the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs last week were considered certain starters along with four more strong contenders.

Two May Be Added

In case of a wet track, the list may be increased to twelve with the addition of John E. Hughes' Silent Shot and the Wheatley stables' Utopian. A fast track will keep the pair in their stalls.

E. R. Bradley's Broker's Tip and Mrs. Silas B. Mason's Head Play, who fought it out for the derby with the former coming through for a narrow victory, headed the list of certain starters.

The W. R. Coe pair of Ladysman and Pomponius, who finished fourth and fifth at Churchill Downs, also were being groomed for the $25,000 added race.

Other three-year-olds who are certain to start in the Preakness are: Lee Rosenberg's Kerry Patch, Brookmeade stable's Inlander Wheatley stable's De Valera and Catawba stable's Mr. Khayyam.

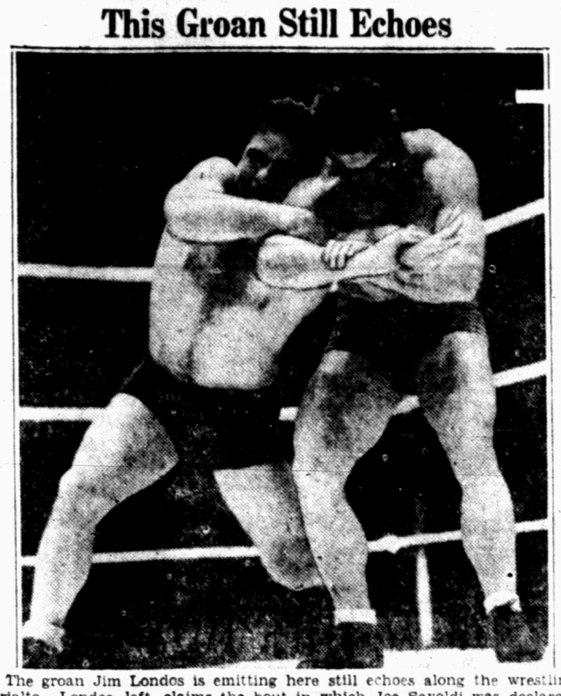

Glen Riddle farm's War Stripes and Adolphe Pons' Projectile were still in doubt as starters. Still more doubtful were S. W. Labrot's Rush Hour, Tedlu stable's Euryalus and W. S. Kilmer's Dark Winter.

Wheat More Than Doubles At Dalhart

DALHART, May 11. (AP)—Wheat has more than doubled in price on the Dalhart market since President Roosevelt took office, a check up here revealed. March 4, Inauguration day, wheat on the Dalhart market was 29 cents a bushel. Last weekend it was 60 cents per bushel. Other grains in the corresponding period from March 4, were:

White shelled corn, 21 cents and 42 cents; threshed milo, cwt., 33 cents and 55; threshed kafir and hegari, cwt., 25 cents and 48 cents.

This Groan Still Echoes

The groan Jim Londos is emitting here still echoes along the wrestling rialto. Londos, left, claims the bout in which Joe Savoldi was declared winner the other night was not a championship, being only one fall. But Savoldi, who is shown here giving Londos the works, won't fall for that stuff—and the state athletic commission has been investigating since the affair was advertised as a championship bout.

Judge McGuire Has Statement On Case

LAMESA, May 11.—(Special)—As a result of misinterpretation by some Lamesa citizens of a newsstory in The Lubbock Evening Journal of Monday, Judge Gordon B. McGuire of 106th district court said he had not made a move to assist O. M. Herring, convicted of participation in the Seagraves bank robbery, to obtain a furlough.

The news story, quoted J. H. Davis, representing Governor Ferguson, said that the district judge, the sheriff and many citizens of Palo Pinto county, of which Herring was former county attorney, signed the recommendation for clemency. Herring was tried before Judge McGuire.

IN JAIL AT SEMINOLE

Oscar M Herring, freed on a 90-day parole by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, after he began serving a 14-year term which a Terry county jury imposed upon him for robbery of the Seagraves bank, is reported to be in jail at Seminole. J. E. Vickers, Herring's attorney, Wednesday said Herring had been arrested on charges not connected with the bank robbery.

One Charged After Beer Raids Here

The sheriff's department Tuesday afternoon arrested a man, and charged him with possession of beer, and confiscated more than 70 bottles of brew in two raids.

Charles Calhoun of the 2400-block of Twenty-first street was released on $500 bond after he was charged with possession of beer before Justice of the Peace J. S. Connell. Thirty-six bottles of beer, 60 empty bottles, and two large crocks were found.

Forty bottles of brew were broken at a farm home about three and a half miles south of Lubbock. The resident claimed he had moved into the house only yesterday, and that the beer was not his. Raiders were Deputy Sheriffs Cap Moore, Baxter Honey, and Bedford Carpenter, and J. C. Roberts, former constable.

Three Minute Relief From Periodical Pains

It is so unnecessary to suffer month after month from inorganic pains, because "B. C." will bring soothing relief in three minutes. "B. C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients, used by many physicians, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of common colds, headaches and neuralgia, muscular aches and pains, reducing fever and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. Get "B. C." in 10c and 25c packages, wherever drugs are sold.—(adv.)

SPRING FEVER
may not put you in bed

. . . but if you feel listless, tired, run-down, appetite dull, with a weak let-down feeling — perhaps nervous and worn out—why not "snap out" of this condition? Tone up your appetite, increase those red-blood-cells, and get in step with those who put zip and pep into everything they do—the best way to be happy and cheerful.

There is a good old medicine, S.S.S.—tested both by time and by scientific research, which in addition to being a valuable general tonic, has been found to be remarkably efficient in restoring to the blood the normal amount of red-blood-cells and their hemoglo-bin.

. . . if you suspect an organic disease, consult a physician. S.S.S. is not a "cure-all" BUT for a pimply skin and that tired, worn-out, let-down feeling — "spring fever" just try S.S.S. and see how you awake after a night's sound sleep feeling fresh and fine, — and see how you eat with restored appetite . . . see how your skin clears up.

Instead of slowing down in the early afternoon, you should possess ample energy to carry on thru the day and evening hours. S.S.S. is a particularly valuable tonic in the Spring of the year. It is liquid of course . . . never sold in tablet form.

. . . as a word of caution to the millions who know S.S.S. and its benefits from personal experiences, we suggest that you do not permit anyone to switch you to any of the hundreds of "just as good as S.S.S." substitutes. Remember that successful products are always imitated, but it seldom pays to buy imitations—insist upon S.S.S. At all good drug stores.

Thought For Today

And who is he that will harm you if ye be followers of that which is good?—Peter 3:13.

* * *

It is virtue that gives glory; that will endenizen a man everywhere —Ben Johnson.

Changing Ideas

If someone sat down to write a history of the Sherman anti-trust law, and the varying attitudes which the public has displayed toward it, he would find when he got through that he had also written the history of one of the most significant phases of the whole industrial revolution.

The Sherman act bridges the gap between two diametrically opposite ways of looking at the fruits of the machine age.

It was born when the whole nation looked with suspicion and an uneasy distrust on the giant combines of industry and finance. Mere size, in itself, seemed bad in those days. Our ideal was still the small business man, the small industrialist, the man who knew all of his employes by name and carried most of the details of his business in his own head. That seemed to be the only kind of business that jibed with our traditional concepts of freedom.

* * *

But the tide was running the other way. Instead of small shops we got vast plants employing men by the thousands; great net-works of interlocking businesses that blanketed the entire country, with a maze of security setups that seemed to put ownership and management above the reach of public control.

So we adopted the Sherman law, hoping to stem the tide.

But the tide kept on moving; and as it moved our ideas changed.

We began to discover that "big business" was an inevitable outgrowth of the age of machinery. The trend couldn't possibly be stopped. The day of large-scale operations and giant combinations had arrived and we could do little but make the best of it.

* * *

And this, we began to see, might not be so bad, after all. If we could somehow foster this bigness, help it to become even bigger and more widespread, and at the same time work out some scheme by which social values would weigh just as heavily as profits, we might do very well for ourselves.

So now leaders in the administration discuss with industrial leaders the possibility of modifying the Sherman law—partly in the interest of business, but chiefly in the interest of the ordinary citizen.

It is a strange and significant shift which has taken place.

THINKING Texans will agree that there must be a change in the statutes covering the use of funds accruing from what is known as 'University of Texas' lands.

As it is now, only the university and its branches can use money made through oil and gas leases on the land and, as a result, the university is running wild in erection of new buildings.

Only two weeks ago, nine or ten wonderfully erected new buildings were formally accepted by the university in the annual 'roundup' of ex-students.

Now plans are going forward for the immediate construction of a $350,000 structure which is to be known as the University of Texas Junior High school and in which university education students will do practice teaching.

The student body will be made up of Austin school children.

* * *

The Plainsman has no objection to seeing the University of Texas grow and expand.

One of the greatest of all state universities, the Austin institution, through oil and gas funds, promises to soon have the most wonderful plant in the country.

But as a matter of fairness to the citizenship of Texas and to the other institutions of Texas, some means must be taken to see that funds are made available for buildings at other colleges, instead of spending all the millions on the Austin campus.

* * *

THESE oil and gas lands belong to University of Texas. University of Texas belongs to the people of Texas, hence the people of Texas also own those university lands.

People residing in other sections of Texas—areas far removed from the Austin school—are entitled to colleges in their parts of the state and those colleges are entitled to their share of the state's revenues.

Although it has been impossible to secure for Texas Tech, for instance, a much needed library building, the University of Texas has been able to erect a great structure for a chemistry library, alone, and now can build a junior high school to be used by the children of Austin citizens.

There is no fairness there.

* * *

The statutes must be changed if other Texas colleges are to get their just dues.

By all means, let Texans erect a great university at Austin—the finest state university in the nation for the finest state in the nation.

But let's not have it erected to the detriment of other schools and colleges in Texas—schools and colleges that are just as much a part of Texas as the university, itself.

A reporter was interviewing a great captain of industry.

"How did you make your fortune?" the newsman asked.

"I became the partner of a rich man", was the reply. "He had the money and I had the experience."

"And it turned out well, I suppose", the reporter continued.

"Yeah", said the great one. "Now I have the money and he has the experience."

* * *

DR. Garry C. Myers, widely known writer on subjects of interest to parents, recently reported in one of his syndicated articles a great, city-wide parent-teacher gathering in Indianapolis. It seems that the parent-teacher organizations in the Indiana city have what they call "the roundup", every year and it is one of the great occasions of the town.

Doctor Myers attended the last one, at which were present more than 1,800 parents and teachers and as a result of his experience goes on record as approving such 'roundups' for every city in the land.

* * *

The school year just closing has brought up many grave problems all over the land.

We have seen them in Lubbock; they have been encountered almost everywhere.

No doubt there will be new problems in the school year of 1933-34, as well as a continuation of some of those which have been with us recently. For that reason, parents and teachers alike will improve their positions by working together.

* * *

Right here we have many noted educators as members of the faculty of Texas Technological college, as well as men and women in the local school system fully capable of giving counsel to parents and teachers alike.

On the basis of Doctor Myers' opinions following the Indianapolis gathering, The Plainsman suggests to local P-TA councils that they consider a Lubbock 'roundup' for next fall.

There will be plenty of problems for teachers and parents to discuss; there's no doubt of that.

That Settles It

Yale Professor Thinks Voters Not So Dumb; Says They Want Rich To Bear Tax Burden, Budget Slashed, Repeal

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, May 11—What American voters were thinking about when they went to the polls last November is the subject of a unique survey and report by Edward S. Robinson, professor of psychology at Yale University.

Dutcher

Professor Robinson has long doubted that the public stupidity is as great as the public seems to think it is. He suggested to the National League of Women Voters last year that they get together on a study of political opinions of voters. Last fall they obtained from about 8500 men and women in 37 states their reactions to the candidates and to 24 typical political statements that were being used in the campaign.

The professor is still unable to assert any faith in the sort of public omniscience which has been claimed by some of the more ardent worshipers of democracy. But he is reassured in his faith that "our present tendency to dismiss the public mentality as a thing of extreme simplicity is probably far from the truth."

* * *

More Liberal

The voter is becoming more liberal in his political thinking, Robinson demonstrates. Retaining some of the principles of Mr. Hoover's rugged individualism and still vague as to what socialism may be, he is nevertheless veering slightly toward socialistic doctrines. He believes now, for instance, that:

"The rich should bear a larger proportion of the burden of taxation."

"It is the duty of the federal government to place farming on an equal footing with industry."

The Hoover voters, the Roosevelt voters and the Thomas voters all cast majorities for those two propositions. They were chosen from five groups—professional; semi-professional and managerial; clerical, skilled and semi-skilled trades, retail and minor business and minor clerical positions; farmers; factory workers.

The five other propositions that majorities from all parties favored called for federal protection of states wishing to retain prohibition, drastic reduction of governmental expenditures, keeping the currency "sound at all hazards," adjustment by the farmer of his production to the law of supply and demand, and government support for only those veterans disabled by the World war. These convictions and a strong opposition to bonus payment, Robinson says, "represent the political philosophy of voters as a whole just before election."

* * *

Favored Repeal

The only clear case on which the Roosevelt voters took a more decided stand than the supporters of one of the other candidates was on the plank calling for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment in unqualified terms.

The Hoover voters were principally distinguished for their endorsement of the principle that "federal aid in the economic crisis should be confined to state and local governments, and to government-supervised institutions such as banks and railroads.

The Thomas vote was associated with the most decided political opinions and only in that group was there a majority for joining the World Court, for leading the way to world peace by reducing army and navy, and for recognizing Russia.

The most popular of the 24 statements was: "The government should support only those veterans disabled during the war."

"If politicians had searched among the issues of last campaign to find one for which majority opinion was most definite," he says "they could not have picked a safer bet than this one regarding the limitation of veterans' relief."

Page Solomon!

PHILADELPHIA—Solomon would have been a welcome ally to Philadelphia police trying to decide which motorist struck Harry Lutrell and broke his leg.

Instead of having to hunt the guilty one, the police had to choose between three drivers, each of whom stopped and escorted the victim to a hospital and then surrendered to police, each insisting he thought his car caused the injury.

All were placed under technical arrest until the problem is solved.

Taking No Chances

DETROIT—Jo Mendi, the chimpanzee who lives like a man in the Detroit zoo, has been a perfect gentleman thus far, but just the same the city council has decided to invest in a $40,000 personal liability policy on him.

John T. Millan, director of the zoo, explained that Jo doesn't know his own strength and that, while he has shown no indications of it, he might weary suddenly of civilization.

Another Wracket

WASHINGTON—The kidnapers of Princess Wracket, a great Dane dog, can have their ransom money whenever they'll call and get it. When William Feeney picked up the telephone and was asked how much he'd pay, he replied $50.

"We demand $200," the kidnapers shot back.

The phone clicked before Feeney could say "ok." He hasn't heard from them since.

DARLING FOOL

by MABEL McELLIOTT

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MONNIE O'DARE who lives with her mother, brothers and sister in a small town is in love with DAN CARDIGAN, heir to a local fortune. CHARLES EUSTACE, newcomer in town, seems to admire her but she likes him only as a friend. KAY, her sister, is discontented at home and Monnie is worried about this.

SANDRA LAWRENCE who pretends to be a friend of Monnie's tries to win Dan away from her. HETTY, a maid in the Lawrence home, thinks Sandra is "vamping" JAMES, the chauffeur, and she is jealous.

Sandra plans an elaborate party to which Monnie is not invited.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

* * *

CHAPTER XVII

HER voice over the telephone sounded small and clear. "It's Monnie, Dan." She could almost hear the intake of breath at the other end of the line.

"Monnie! That's great! But you said you wouldn't—"

"I know I did." She bit her lip to keep it from trembling. How absurd it was to behave like this! "I changed my mind. I want to see you, Dan."

There was no hesitation now on his part. He said heartily, "Sure. Glad you decided to. When and where?"

"Tonight," the girl told him. "It's important."

There was the barest pause and then Dan said, "Of course. I've got a date—but I'll break it. Shall I call for you around 7?"

It was arranged then. How simple it had been! Monnie hung up the receiver with fingers that shook a little. Sandra did not know how right she had been when she had advised Monnie to play a waiting game with Dan Cardigan. The very fact that she had held him at arm's length for a month had awakened his interest anew. Now she determined with all her heart to fight for him.

Sandra had once said with her air of knowing all about it, "A woman can have any man she wants if she really sets her mind on it." Of course when Sandra had said that she had been thinking only of herself. She had not meant the words to apply to anyone else.

Monnie felt more than unusually self-conscious when she explained to her mother that she had an engagement with Dan Cardigan that night.

"But I thought—." Mrs. O'Dare had the evening paper in her hand, folded back to Miss Anstice's social column. The words leaped at Monnie: "Among this evening's guests will be Mr. Charles Eustace, Mr. Daniel Cardigan, Jr.—"

"He was invited to that party," Monnie said lightly. "He's just not going—"

"Not—?" Mrs. O'Dare's pretty, anxious face looked up, looked away. "Oh, I see!"

* * *

A moment later she said gently, "I'm glad you're having a little fun, lovely. You've been so quiet lately. It isn't quite fair—your not having a good time when the rest of those girls do." Her gesture embraced Sandra and all Sandra's crowd.

"Don't you worry about me." Monnie's voice was gay. Indeed she felt singularly light-hearted. "I'm all right."

"But you're young," fretted the mother. "You need your chance, Monica. Don't think I don't know what working in that store all day means—helping to run this house—everything. It's not exactly a girl's job. It's too much for you." She bent over the paper to hide the sudden rush of moisture that had sprung to her eyes.

Monnie laid her smooth young hand over the worn one. "You're not to worry, I said. Everything's fine. Everything's splendid!"

She sang as she dressed, little snatches of dance tunes. It was enough tonight to be young, to be alive, to have a brief glimpse of that elusive thing, happiness. When at 7 a motor horn sounded and she heard Dan's deep voice an instant later, conferring with Mark on the veranda, she could have wept for sheer joy.

"Sandra's going to eat me alive for this," Dan told her, helping her into the car.

"She's—for what?" Monnie pretended utter innocense. Her candid eyes implored him to share the secret.

"Oh, that big racket she's throwing tonight," Dan said carelessly. "They'll be one man short, that's all."

"Oh, really!" Monnie frowned thoughfully.

"Doesn't matter a bit," Dan grinned down at her. "To me, that is. I had Frear, at Dad's office, call her up and say I was yanked out of town—on important business. Good joke." With his hand free he shook a cigaret from the paper packet and somehow managed to light it."

"She'll be awfully mad at me," Monnie informed him, "if she finds out." Her eyes were limpid, guileless.

"Nuts!" said Dan inelegantly. "She can't run me. Let her be mad. Tell you what, Monnie, she's too bossy for me. No matter what Mother says—"

"That's what I wanted to talk to you about, Dan," said Monnie in the gentlest voice imaginable. "I think it's about time we came to some decision about our—our affairs. There's a good deal of talk around town—"

* * *

The young man interrupted her, frowning deeply.

"About what?"

Monnie tucked in a vagrant curl. Her expression was still sweetly untroubled.

"About you and Sandra," she said. "They all say you're going to marry her." She put up her hand to ward off Dan's torrent of explanation. "I don't know how true it is and honestly, Dan, I don't care." She paused to let that sink in. "But what I wanted to say was—I completely release you from the—agreement we had last autumn. I want you to feel perfectly free to go ahead, to do as you like. After all," said Monnie in delcet tones. "We were pretty much kids last year. Perhaps we've grown up, both of us. Perhaps we're seeing things in their true light."

"I don't know what you mean by that," Dan muttered sullenly.

"It wasn't really an engagement anyway," Monnie pursued earnestly. "We just—well, sort of pledged ourselves to each other in a boy and girl way. You gave me this," and her curling fingers opened to disclose a seal ring. "Mind you," she went on softly, "I'm not saying it wasn't really—awfully sweet and precious. I was thrilled over it. But I've come to realize just as you have, Dan dear, that we're not exactly suited to each other—"

He broke in. "Who says we're not?"

She gave her slender shoulders a tiny shrug. "Your people— and mine."

"I thought your mother liked me," Dan began, injured.

"She does," Monnie told him quickly. "She thinks you're a splendid boy—that you have wonderful possibilities. But what mother says is this, she wants me to have the best. She doesn't like to think I'd be snubbed and looked down upon just because we happen to have lost our money. Mother feels we can hold up our heads with the best of them. She's not willing to let me in for unpleasant situations. After all, Dan, I'm not being critical but you know your family hasn't been particularly nice to me."

* * *

He had brought the car to a standstill now in a little grove of oaks. Dinner was forgotten in the heat of the discussion. Monnie had never looked prettier than at this moment, her face colored delicately with excitement, her amber eyes dark with feeling.

"I know they haven't. Darn 'em!" Dan muttered vengefully. "Pack of snobs." He squared about, facing her, breathing in her nearness and fragrance. His finely chiseled face with its Celtic eyes under the heavy brows was brought very close to hers.

"What you're trying to tell me," Dan said soberly, steadily, "is that you've changed your mind. I don't deny that I had rather—well, cooled off—when I got back in June. Mother worked on me a lot, said I owed a big marriage to the family. All that kind of thing. Then you were pretty snappish and standoffish every time I saw you. I thought," said Dan slangily, "what the deuce? But now—" He stared down at her and the girl had to grip herself to keep from trembling at the intensity of that gaze, "Now I'm not so sure I want to call it a day. See? I'm not so sure some other chap hasn't been muscling in. What's happened, Monnie? Is there somebody else?"

She flecked her lashes downward deliberately before choosing words to answer him.

"What makes you think that?"

Those strong brown hands gripped her slender ones. She smelt the fragrance of cigarets and shaving soap and fresh linen. Blue eyes stared into dark ones for one long moment.

"Dan Cardigan, let me go," Monnie commanded. "You've no right—"

"Haven't eh?" growled her captor masterfully. "You're my girl. You're going to tell me here and now what's changed you or I'll know the reason why!"

Under her struggle for composure Monnie was conscious of a deep and secret flash of triumph. Things seemed to be working out her way after all.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, May 11 (AP) — Cotton had a strong opening today. Cables were much better than due and sterling advanced. First trades here showed gains of 14 to 18 points and prices continued to improve after the start, July trading up to 8.78, October to 9.03 and December to 9.18, or 17 to 18 points above yesterday's close to new high levels for the movement and for the year.

Near the end of the first hour the market continued firm and at the highs.

The market was quite active all morning. Early in the second hour prices again improved until July traded at 8.79, and October at 9.05, or 19 to 20 points above yesterday's close.

This advance, in addition to the good cables, was due to active trade and speculative buying on the strength of stocks and wheat.

Later in the morning, prices eased, July dropping to 8.72 and October to 8.98, down 7 points from the top, but near mid-session prices promptly rallied again, July trading at 8.77 and October at 9.03, a recovery of five points to levels within two points of the morning highs.

Unfavorable weather in the belt as shown by the map was a contributing influence on the advance.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 11 (AP)—Cotton opened firm, 16 to 22 points higher on active general buying, the passage of the farm bill and better cables. May 8.65; July 8.84; Oct. 9.10; Dec. 9.23; Jan. 9.30; March 9.43.

Buying continued active after call with July selling up to 8.85 and Dec. to 9.25, making new high ground for he movement and up 20 to 24 points from yesterday's finals.

At these prices the market was approximately $12.75 a bale above the low levels of last March and very heavy realizing was encountered. This was coupled with some southern selling, and after the more urgent demand had been supplied, prices eased slightly, showing reaction of some 6 or 7 points at the end of the first half hour.

After the first rush of buying subsided, the market became somewhat less active and prices eased slightly; July contracts sold off to 8.77, or about 8 points from the early high and other months showed similar setbacks, but the reactions brought in additional buying orders and the market at midday was steady at net advances of 14 to 16 points.

Grain Market

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 11 (AP)—Faced by sensationally bullish crop figures, plus enactment of the Roosevelt agriculture and inflation bill, grain prices jumped skyward early today. Opening 1 7-8 - 2 1-2 cents higher, wheat afterward rose further. Corn started 1 1-8 - 2 cents up, and subsequently held near the initial limits.

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, May 11. (AP)—Financial markets swept upward afresh today, with trading hitting the feverish pace of last week.

The jump of 2 to 3 cents a bushel in the wheat market, in response to the bullish government crop report, fanned the speculative flames in shares, but the advance was somewhat restrained by active profit taking. Bonds were also higher. Cotton gained about $1 a bale.

Motors were traded in large volume, with General Motors, Chrysler and Nash all up about a point. Issues up about 2 to 3 included American Telephone, Western Union, American Can, Goodyear, Johns Manville, Union Pacific, New York Central, New Haven, National Steel, Inland Steel, Consolidated Gas, National Distillers, and Owens Illinois. May issues were up a point or so, including U. S. Steel, Pennsylvania, American Smelting, International Telephone, International Harvester, American and Foreign Power, North American, Electric Power and Light, and others.

Final enactment of the farm relief-inflation bill, together with continued reports of expanding business and gains in employment, kept speculative enthusiasm at a high pitch.

Painful Burning FEET

The new way—the right way—the swiftest way to take out all inflamation and misery from your feet is to give them a joyous Radox bath tonight—in the morning sturdy healthy feet—or money back—dance a jig if you want to.

Ask Mark Halsey Drug or any progressive druggist for a 45 cent box of Radox—put 3 tablespoonsful in a gallon of water and soak your weary feet for 20 minutes—this draws from the thousands of foot pores the poisonous acid that causes your foot distress—hard skin on bottom of foot and toes is rubbed right off—clean feet—sturdy feet or money back.—Adv.

STOCKMEN TO SEE GAINS

THINGS LOOKING UP FOR WEST TEXAS RANCHMEN

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANGELO, May 11—What livestockmen denote the best lamb, calf and kid crops in years, together with rising prices, have brought to West Texas again the hope of prosperity.

The spring harvest of wool is bringing prices 100 per cent above last year. Texas' mohair clip has been sold at prices substantially above last spring and fall; feeders are paying good prices for muttons yearlings for shipment to northern feed lots, steer prices are steady and goats are selling better than heretofore.

Lamb Crop High

On the basis of known stocks, there will be plenty to sell this fall. Over the country as a whole there is an 85 to 90 per cent lamb crop, based on estimates regarded as conservative.

The calf crop in the Marfa country will approximate 85 per cent. Around Mason, says Elgin Kothman, cattleman, the percentage will be from 85 to 90 per cent. In McCulloch county the same average will prevail.

Deliveries Contracted

Some of the calves have been contracted at 6 cents a pound for fall delivery. That means about $25 or more at delivery time, representing a profitable yield from a cow worth $35 to $40. Cattle are sold off closer this season than ever before, say local ranchmen.

The kid crop in the southwest will range around 85 to 90 per cent, thinks T. A. Williams, Rock Springs goat breeder. Rock Springs is the center of the goat industry. Each kid will grow a pound and a half of mohair between now and September, which will be worth at present prices 30 cents a pound and may bring 50 by fall.

AMERICAN OPERA, "MERRY MOUNT", TO HAVE PREMIER AT MICHIGAN U.

NEW YORK, May 11 (AP)—The American-made opera, "Merry Mount", which had been pointed for a Metropolitan Opera house premiere, will instead make its world bow at the May festival of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, May 20.

It will be as nearly all-American as an opera could be, with its composer, Dr. Howard Hanson, a native of Wahoo, Nebr., and the librettist, Richard L. Stokes, a former St. Louis and New York newspaperman. The story itself is completely American, with cavaliers, puritans and Indians as the characters involved.

U. S. Singers Have Lead

Further emphasizing its Americanism has been the assignment of principal roles to leading American singers—John Charles Thomas, Rose Bampton, Leonora Corona and Charles Baromeo among others.

"Merry Mount" is to be given at Ann Arbor by consent of the Metropolitan Opera which had planned to introduce the work to the world during the 1933-34 season.

University Chorus To Sing

The chorus for the opera will be supplied by the university choral union.

The music of "Merry Mount" is "Neither modern nor unmodern," but combines such technical devices as seemed to suit the subject at hand, Dr. Hanson has said.

Dr. Hanson is 37 years old and one of the youngest men in a first rank musical position in the country. He has conducted a series of concerts devoted to first performances of American works for years. He is director of the Eastman School of Music at Rochester, N. Y.

Only 10 inspectors are employed by the Ohio Pacific Utilities commission to enforce laws regulating 1,700 motor freight lines and 300 passenger bus lines.

Delegate Says U. S. To Aid Wheat Status

GENEVA, May 11.(AP)—The United States desires to cooperate vigorously with other large wheat exporting countries to limit production and raise prices to the extent that farmers will be restored to the ranks of purchasers, Henry Morgenthau, chief American delegate, announced at the opening of the International wheat conference today.

WIND INJURES WOMAN

TATUM, N. M., (Special)—Mrs. L. G. Bowers, wife of a pioneer resident of Lea county, received a broken arm in a peculiar manner here recently. While about the farm yard during a windstorm she was thrown to the ground and her arm broken.
