

Work Let-Up Due Today For President

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower takes it relatively easy today — chuckling, more likely than not, at a fresh spate of speculation about his second term intentions.

This long-simmering question boiled up again yesterday when Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall, fresh from a conference with the Chief Executive, offered with a broad smile this "personal opinion":

Eisenhower will run again "if he feels he is able."

The White House itself had nothing further to say—though Hall's statement obviously was cleared in advance. The chairman conferred with Eisenhower's press secretary James C. Hagerty before and after his 45-minute meeting with the President. Hagerty sat impassive beside Hall when the statement was made.

The White House has consistently underlined the Chief Executive's seemingly steady recovery from his Sept. 24 heart attack.

Eisenhower planned to visit his hometown Gettysburg office today although he had no callers or unusual official business on his schedule.

He moved to settle the "WOC" controversy yesterday by issuing an executive order setting "high standards of ethical conduct" for persons serving the government "without compensation."

This order, affecting also paid-by-the-day experts and consultants, spells out a policy directive laid down by Congress at its last session.

It was issued after Capitol Hill Democrats raised charges that some WOCs, who used to be known as dollar-a-year men, were serving their own business interests while working for the government.

Hagerty said he understood the new regulations covered such cases as that of Adolph H. Wenzell, who became a central figure in the still re-echoing Dixon-Yates controversy.

Democrats made much of Wenzell's role as a part-time adviser to the Budget Bureau and his help in drafting financing plans for the proposed private power project while working for the banking house which ultimately handled the financing.

The Atomic Energy Commission, at Eisenhower's direction, agreed to let the power, but has since repudiated the contract. The explanation was that Wenzell's dual role raised a question of legality about the whole operation.

The effect was to refuse to pay cancellation charges to Dixon-Yates, which could amount to several million dollars.

The new executive order applies to WOCs and other experts advising the government under the Defense Production Act—the legislation under which the great majority of them are engaged.

It requires, among other things, that each WOC employee file for publication in the Federal Register a statement listing all the businesses with which he has had any connection within 60 days of his appointment. This includes any stocks, bonds or other financial interests.

Another requirement is that the agency employing a WOC must state its exact reasons and also explain its inability to fill the position with a regular salaried government employee.

Russians Protest 'Hypocritical' Charge

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union protested to Britain today against a foreign office spokesman's charge that Russian Premier Bulganin had expressed "hypocritical" views on German unification.

Charge d'Affaires N. D. Belokhovskiy called on Sir Ivone Kirkpatrick, permanent head of the Foreign Office, and complained that such expressions "are incompatible with the nature of the relations existing between our two countries."

'Lady Godiva'

Maureen O'Hara is cast as Lady Godiva at the Ritz tonight and Wednesday. The Technicolor film is an historical treatment of the Norman Conquest of England and the numerous court intrigues. Lady Godiva, accused of treason, is publicly shamed by being forced to ride nude through London's streets. Victor McLaglen and George Nader are also starred.

ARGENTINA

La Prensa Return To Owner Is Due

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina's famed newspaper La Prensa, alienated and enslaved by dictator Juan D. Peron in an act condemned around the world, is on the verge of being returned to its exiled owner-editor.

Provisional President Pedro Aramburu in his first meeting with the press last night did not say outright his government would give La Prensa back to Dr. Alberto Ginzza Paz. But he said his regime had "resolved" the celebrated La Prensa case and that this would "repair the outrage committed against this great newspaper."

There appeared no other interpretation of his words than that control of the paper would shift from the General Confederation of Labor (CGT) back to the Paz family which since it founded La Prensa in 1869 had built it into one of the Western Hemisphere's leading journals.

Peron closed the outspoken newspaper more than four years ago and handed it over to CGT—the big workers' organization with which he hammered out his dictatorship.

La Prensa's press secretary Adolfo Lanza said the decree, which was expected to declare the seizure of La Prensa unconstitutional.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe W. Bingham, 112 Mobile, sparked a drive in the airport area that resulted in a large quantity of used toys being turned in to city firemen.

The Bingham family interested their own children and several others in their neighborhood in gathering up toys to be repaired by firemen for distribution to underprivileged children at Christmas.

The 22 youngsters gathered up a big pile of toys — enough to fill a Shell vehicle that was called to haul them to the fire station.

Firemen say they are still in need for used toys, however, since many of the ones they have received so far are good only as sources of spare parts.

Not Guilty

Mrs. Mary Clark, center, was acquitted in Fort Worth of an accomplice-to-the-murder of her husband, W. P. Clark, in 1953. Helping her from the court room where she broke into tears after the verdict was rendered is Sidney Tinker, left, family friend, and Mrs. Marie McCarthy, right, Sand Springs, Okla., old friend of Mrs. Clark.

Gradual Warmup Is Forecast Following Freezing Weather

By The Associated Press

A gradual warmup was forecast for Texas Tuesday and Wednesday after a night in which freezing temperatures reached south to the upper Texas coast and the Mexican border.

Beaumont, in extreme southeast Texas, had a low of 31. San Antonio had 26, Houston 31, Del Rio, on the border, had 29.

The coldest reading again was in the upper Panhandle, where the mercury sank to 15 at Dalhart.

Winds began switching out of the south across the Panhandle. The Weather Bureau said the light to moderate northerly winds in other sections of Texas will begin swinging around to the south during the day. At Amarillo, the wind was southerly at 10 miles per hour. El Paso has north-northeasterly winds at 6 miles per hour. Brownsville had west, northwesterly winds of 17 miles per hour.

Skies are generally fair, except for some clouds around Brownsville.

Overnight temperatures included Amarillo 18; Lubbock 20; San Angelo, Mineral Wells and Abilene 21; Dallas 23; Van Horn 25; Alpine and Luckin 27; El Paso and Houston 32; Cotulla 33; Galveston 37; and Brownsville 48.

Maximums in Texas Monday ranged from 42 at Amarillo and San Angelo to 58 at El Paso, Presidio and Alice.

The winter season was three weeks away but it felt much like January weather in about three quarters of the nation today.

Icy blasts with snow and strong winds brought unseasonable temperatures to areas from the Rockies to the Atlantic Coast and over much of the Southland.

The cold air spread southward through the Gulf and Atlantic states and readings were from 20 to 30 degrees lower than yesterday morning. They were below 20 in the mid-Atlantic states and in the 20s in the interior sections of the Gulf states except in Florida, where they were in the 50s and 60s. It was freezing in Mobile, Ala., and a shivery 22 in Atlanta.

Icy and snowy streets in many parts of the cold belt slowed traffic.

Heavy snow fell in wide sections of New York state, with a two-foot fall reported in suburbs of Buffalo. The fall in the lower Great Lakes region measured 1 to 3 inches. Lighter falls were reported in the Northern Plains, parts of the Great Lakes region, the Ohio Valley and northern Appalachians.

Two fishermen and three duck hunters stranded in windy, near-zero weather in the Detroit River and Lake Erie's Maumee Bay were rescued last night.

Texan Killed In Traffic Accident

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A Port Arthur man was killed and his woman companion was injured when their auto crashed last night into the rear of a trailer truck in suburban Kenner.

Police identified the victim as Toffel Richard, 59, of 1211 Procter St. Richard was almost decapitated by sheet metal plates on the trailer which nearly sheared the top off the car.

Mary Rayburn of 3600 Thomas Blvd., Port Arthur, was treated at Foundation Hospital for a possible skull fracture, multiple lacerations of the face and a fracture of the right arm.

Elmer Dickerson, 33, of Houston, driver of his truck, was not injured.

Flows Fast When There's Mischief

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—They joke a lot about the slowness of molasses in cold weather. But there wasn't anything inactive about the 2,500 gallons delivered yesterday at Brant's farm elevator here.

A blast shook the elevator building a few minutes after a tank truck, carrying the molasses, had been unloaded.

Zane Brant, a member of the firm, said the molasses, used in mixing livestock feeds, was found oozing from a concrete tank in the basement. Nearby machinery was covered with the sticky mess.

Brant said the damage would "run into thousands of dollars." He could not explain the explosion.

Helicopter In Use To Spot Traffic Jams

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police hope to get the upper hand on Los Angeles' freeway traffic problem by using a helicopter to spot jams. The City Board of Public Works has authorized construction of a helicopter landing area atop the new police building downtown.

Ex-Convict Faces Clark Death Trial

FORT WORTH (AP)—The district attorney's office said yesterday there was a possibility that former convict Harry Huggins might be tried before Christmas on charges of participating in the murder of William Clark here May 19, 1953. Mrs. Mary Clark, widow of the wealthy oilman, was acquitted of plotting the death of her husband.

Mrs. Clark was laughing and smiling as she arrived in court yesterday for the formal declaration of innocence.

Mrs. Clark had been indicted with Tiny Eggleston, Cecil Green and Huggins in the death of her husband. Eggleston and Green have been killed since in gangland slayings.

Huggins, who testified he participated in the robbery of Clark in Clark's 23-room mansion but denied any part of the slaying, was a state witness in Mrs. Clark's trial.

The defense accused the state of making a "trade" for leniency with Huggins, who also faces a burglary charge.

Dist. Atty. Howard Fender told the jury in Mrs. Clark's trial he "unquestionably" would recommend a low penalty for Huggins should he plead guilty.

Senators Confident Ike Will Run Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators Ives (R-NY) and Allott (R-Colo.) said today they are confident—along with GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall—that President Eisenhower will run again if his health permits.

Sen. Butler (R-Md.) said he wasn't prepared to guess at this time, but he agreed with Hall that if the President seeks a second term, Vice President Nixon will be the second man on the ticket.

Hall said after a conference with Eisenhower at Gettysburg yesterday he believes the President will run "if he feels he is able." Hall added that a "final examination" by his physicians late in January may have much to do with the President's decision.

While some Republicans have felt the President might wish to retire despite his recovery from a September heart attack, Ives said he believed lifting of any physical barrier would find Eisenhower ready to run again.

"My judgment is that the President will run again if he is able," Ives said. "I don't think he wants to quit in the middle of the stream with the world situation the way it is."

"Neither do I think he wants to see the New Deal take over again and destroy all that he has done in a domestic way."

Allott, who was elected in 1952 with Eisenhower's strong backing, said in a separate interview he is "very happy" about Hall's report.

"This makes it appear the President will run again," he said. "I wouldn't ask any man to risk his health in the political campaign and for a long time I felt that the President probably would not run."

"But I think Hall's statement will make Americans as a whole happy because Eisenhower is needed for president."

Hall said he is carrying a personal message from the President to a Chicago meeting this week of the Republican National Committee where plans for next year's nominating convention will be discussed.

The chairman said he will continue making campaign plans on the theory that Eisenhower will run again. He added that "so far as I am concerned, there is no other candidate."

Russia Offers To Quit Atom Tests Along With Allies

LONDON (AP)—Russia offered again today to stop testing nuclear weapons if the United States and Britain promise to quit also.

The offer, broadcast by the Moscow radio, came only three days after the Kremlin announced the Soviet Union had exploded its most powerful hydrogen bomb.

Today's broadcast said:

"We cannot discontinue the production and testing of nuclear weapons so long as both the U.S.A. and Britain manufacture such weapons and test them."

"Proposals which the U.S.S.R. put before the United Nations stipulate a total ban in nuclear weapons and their removal from national armaments."

"And as one of the first moves to disarm, the U.S.S.R. suggests that countries which possess nuclear weapons pledge to discontinue their testing. We are ready to do so here and now if the other powers possessing such weapons agree to do the same."

Both Britain and the United States plan to hold new tests next year.

Today's broadcast was a repetition, in the form of a direct proposal to America and Britain, of a more general Soviet plan submitted to the U. N. subcommittee on disarmament last May 10. At that time Russia proposed that all nations possessing atomic and hydrogen weapons stop testing them.

The Big Four foreign ministers at their recent Geneva conference failed to agree on a disarmament plan, referring the subject back to the U. N. subcommittee. The West has frequently rejected Russian proposals for a ban on atomic and hydrogen bombs without guarantees of strict international supervision.

Coast Channel Project Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A proposal to construct a 36-foot channel from Port Lavaca to Point Comfort, Tex., at a cost of nearly 17 million dollars won unanimous approval of the Board of Army Engineers for rivers and harbors yesterday.

The channel would extend from Port Lavaca, through Pass Cavallo and across Matagorda and Lavaca bays to a turning basin at Point Comfort.

Engineers said the first benefit would be to the Aluminum Corp. of America, which plans a Bauxite plant at Point Comfort. The firm said it would save more than half a million dollars a year in shipping costs if the channel is dug.

Brig. Gen. Louis Foote of the board asked why the government should pay yearly maintenance expenses of $369,000 on a channel for a single industry. Other board members said that was a question for Congress to decide.

The cost of the channel was estimated at $16,921,000, with the federal share to be $9,641,000 and local interest to pay $7,280,000.

The board also unanimously approved a plan to widen and deepen channels at Freeport Harbor at an estimated federal cost of $328,000.

Both projects are subject to approval by the chief of engineers before being submitted to Congress.

Easy To Make And Effective

One short evening's work is all that's required to create this holiday decorating theme. Ready-made lighted plastic candles, 58 inches tall, a cluster of lighted bells and a string of outdoor multi-colored lights were all the equipment needed to decorate this home for the holidays.

Girls Never Have Enough Gift Socks And Stockings

Probably the most popular gift for campus belles is a new supply of stockings and socks—the more the merrier.

But the well-intentioned Santa should make his selections with care, for these junior glamour girls have definite ideas on what they want. Here is help for the shopper, based on a nation-wide survey made among girls aged 10 to 16.

The survey proved first that these young ladies are highly fashion conscious, and that they like a varied wardrobe of different types of ankle and knee socks, plus plenty of nylons.

The favorite ankle sock was found to be plain white with turn-down cuff, but the girls also want a few pairs of solid color socks to match or contrast with certain outfits.

Knee-high socks to wear with

Bermuda shorts and kilts also are musts for most young moderns. Favorite style of these is the wool or cotton rib or cable-knit, in colors to match either sweaters or shorts. The girls also like a pair or so of decorated novelty socks in both the ankle and knee lengths.

Young girls also have definite ideas about their party nylons. Like them sheer and seamless in sun-tan tones.

Girls with problem legs—too fat or too thin—will welcome the new nylon stretch stocking which fit perfectly over plump or gangly legs, stay put and present no size problem.

The yarn in these stockings is processed in such a way that, although they look doll-size when off the leg, they stretch when worn to cling snugly to every portion of ankle, calf and thigh. The stretch stockings come in sheer or heavier weights and some are sold with a guarantee on length of wear.

So give the girls on your list socks or stockings—but be sure you choose the right kind.

Cleaning Tips Given Jewelry And Silver

Oxidized silver jewelry should be washed with a thick solution of baking soda and water, rinsed and patted dry with a towel.
Use your sterling silver every day for true beauty and sheen. Keep your hollowware where it may be seen. Silver dishes, pitchers, trays, candlesticks, tea and coffee services are lovely to look at.
Use a mild silver cleaner, cream or liquid, rubbing each piece lengthwise, using a soft cloth. Wash in hot water, rinse and dry. The sterling silver information bureau claims that liquid dips and other chemical solutions sometimes remove oxidation as well as tarnish.
Oxide is usually applied to accent the beauty of sculptured sterling, achieving lights and shadows. If it is destroyed the depth of the design is likely to be blurred and the pattern marred, they say.

Local Women Asked To Attend Meeting

All church women of the city are invited to the meeting to be sponsored Thursday by the United Council of Church Women at the First Presbyterian Church.
Lectures will begin at 10 a.m., with a covered dish luncheon served at noon. The afternoon session will feature a talk by Helen Poe of Dallas on the subject, "A Christian Message in a Revolutionary World."

Here Is A Quick Way To Decorate

Looking for a quick way to set the holiday spirit on your own front doorstep? Then try a pair of large lighted candles that you buy completely made and ready to plug into a nearby electrical outlet.

These sturdy plastic candles with reinforced metal frames have their own holiday greetings lettered on all sides of their bases. Their glowing effect is created by a 150-watt weatherproof flood light concealed inside which even lights the flame-shaped tip with a realistic glow.

Multi-colored outdoor lights suspended from rust-proof brass cup hooks, create a gay frame for the rich red lighted candles. A cluster of blue lighted bells tied with Christmas greens and shiny red ribbon completes the holiday decorating theme.

Holiday lighting specialists suggest that when brass cup hooks are used to anchor lights, they may be left up year 'round without danger of rust.

Christmas Project Set By Sorority

Each member of the Beta Omicron Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi brought some clothes for a doll which they plan to offer as a special prize Dec. 17. This project is one means of raising money for the Muscular Dystrophy fund.

The group met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Paul Van Sheedy. Plans were made for a Christmas basket for a needy family. The next meeting will be Dec. 12 at the home of Mrs. Wendell Stacey, 1206 11th Place.

Sorority Makes Christmas Plans

Ki Delta Epsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi completed plans for their Christmas dinner and dance to be Dec. 10. The dinner will be at the home of Mrs. Clifton Cook, 1600 Runnels, followed by the dance at the Elks' Club.

The group met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Bill Merrick, 1800 Johnson. The eight members present discussed supplying a basket for a needy family for Christmas. The next meeting will be Dec. 12 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Bill Merrick, 1900 Johnson.

Washington P-TA To Hear Dr. Bennett

Dr. Louise Ann Bennett will lead a special discussion group meeting for Washington P-TA at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the school. The lecture will be entitled "Education for the Family," and is the fourth in a series of six discussion groups.
The daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Bennett, 411 E. 9th, Dr. Bennett is a pediatrician here.
In order to receive Class A rating, each P-TA must have 12 hours of study courses, and Washington group is well on their way to complete the requirement. The nursery will be open during the meeting.

Guild Meets With Mrs. Bill Estes

"Christmas of the Navajos" was the study for women of the Wesley Methodist Service Guild Monday evening when they met in the home of Mrs. Bill Estes. The hostess presided for a business meeting.
Mrs. C. W. Parmenter, who was in charge of the program, offered the opening prayer and gave the devotion. She also gave the closing prayer.

It was announced that Mrs. W. A. Hunt will be guest reviewer for a meeting to be held Dec. 12 at 7:30 p.m. at the church. All women of the church are invited to attend.

Horace Wayne Clark Has Birthday Party

Horace Wayne Clark was entertained Monday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Vernon, on his eighth birthday.
Games were played and refreshments were served to 25 guests.

OWG Luncheon Plans

Members of the Officers' Wives' Club are asked to bring either a gift or an arrangement for a centerpiece when they attend the luncheon to be held Thursday. It is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. and will be followed by a business meeting and the distribution of the gifts and centerpieces.

Christmas Plans Told For Service Center

Plans for the Service Men's Center for the near future have been announced by Mrs. Lois O'Barr Smith, hostess at the Center.

Refreshments will be served Wednesday evening by members of the 1905 Hyperion Club, with Saturday evening in charge of the garden clubs of the city. The First Presbyterian Women of the Church will serve as hostesses on Sunday afternoon and evening.

The Christmas dance is planned for Friday evening, Dec. 2, was chosen for this affair so that boys on Christmas leave later in the month would not miss the dance.

Music for the dance is to be furnished by a band from Webb Air Force Base and all service men, their wives or dates are invited. All girls interested in becoming junior hostesses are asked to be present.

The Christmas tree will be held Dec. 21, and all those planning to attend are asked to bring a small gift, the cost not to exceed 50 cents. There will be bingo and card games for entertainment.

Appreciation was expressed by Mrs. Smith for the window decorations by Mrs. Richard Patterson and for three albums of records left at the Center; she is grateful, also for cards donated from the Book Stall by Marie McDonald. Cakes were brought in Saturday and Sunday by Epiphany Sigma Alpha Sorority and the First Baptist women.

Needs at the Center include comfortable chairs and divans for the TV room; being planned and for any Christmas decoration which may be used. More Christmas cards will be needed.
Anyone who will entertain a service man for Christmas dinner is asked to call Mrs. Smith at the office, 4-9184.

MRS. C. EARL RICH

Metha Mahan Is Bride Of C. Earl Rich

In the presence of the immediate family and a few friends, Metha Boyce Mahan became the bride of Cleburne Earl Rich Saturday afternoon in Westbrook.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Iglehart, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Rich, all of Westbrook.

The Rev. Hubert Barr, minister of the Assembly of God, officiated for the double ring ceremony. Attendants were Jimmy Moody and LaVerne Jackson.

For the wedding, the bride chose a frock of periwinkle blue, accompanied by navy accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Rich have been attending Westbrook High School.

HD Club Discusses Planned Work Areas

A program on "Planning A Convenient Working Area" was presented by Mrs. Regis Fleckenstein when the Luther Home Demonstration Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Dean Self.

The Christmas dinner and party was set for Dec. 8 with Mrs. Jim Zike as hostess.

Eight members and one visitor, were present.

Presbyterian Group Has Bible Study

"Advancing In Prayer" was the topic discussed for the general meeting of the First Presbyterian Women of the church.
Mrs. Noble Kennenur was the leader for the Bible study, which was opened with a prayer by Mrs. Gage. Lloyd. All the women present participated in the Scripture reading taken from various parts of the Bible. Mrs. Tommy Jordan presided during the afternoon.

Concluding the study were sentence prayers by the 13 members, with the dismissal prayer offered by Mrs. T. S. Currie.

Rosetta Williams, now in her second year at Howard County Junior College, spent the holiday vacation in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Williams of Knott.

THE CHRISTMAS CITY

BIG SPRING

Relate Berlin Incident

Safely back in West Berlin, Rep. Harold C. Ostertag (R-NY) listens with folded arms as a uniformed escort officer, Lt. James T. McQueen, tells interviewers how East German Communist police held his congressional party at pistol point in East Berlin. Ostertag, Mrs. Ostertag and Rep. Edward P. Boland (D-Mass.) were detained along with Lt. McQueen, of Mullins, S. C., for four hours during a visit to the city's Russian sector. In background is Charles H. Owsley, chief of political affairs for the U. S. mission in Berlin.

Solon Believes Incident Points Up Red Rule

NAPLES, Italy (U-P)—Rep. Edward P. Boland (D-Mass.) said today that his weekend brush with the Communists in East Berlin convinces him of "Soviet predominance over the phony German Democratic Republic."

Boland arrived by plane last night from Frankfurt after he, Rep. Harold C. Ostertag (R-NY) and Mrs. Ostertag had been held by Red German police in East Berlin for four hours.

The East Germans said the Americans' car, an Army sedan, had a two-way radio in violation of an East German law. The Russian deputy commandant for East Berlin, Col. I. A. Kotsuba, finally ordered the American party's release but supported the German police position on the radio.

"Obviously," said Boland today, "we were released only after the Russians had given the word. They rule and run the place lock, stock and barrel."

Boland said the case of his detention now is in the hands of the U. S. Army headquarters at Heidelberg and that he did not intend to bring it before Congress. Maj. Gen. Charles L. Dasher Jr., U. S. commandant in Berlin, is handling a strong protest to the Russians over the incident, which Allied officials considered might signal a move to wipe out special Allied rights in the four-power city's Soviet sector.

Ostertag, a member of the House Defense Appropriations Committee, spent today at Heidelberg, Germany, where he was briefed by officers at U. S. Army European headquarters.

He said on his arrival from Berlin that there was more to the East Berlin incident "than appeared on the surface."

Ostertag told newsmen in Frankfurt that the Communists are "trying to antagonize" the touchy situation in divided Berlin and to force the United States to recognize the East German puppet government.

He described the incident as "just one more part of the cold war" in the wake of the recent Geneva conference.

20-Inch Stick Taken From Dog

PHOENIX, Ariz. (U)—Marquis Von Shawn may have lived to tell about it, but no one will ever believe him.

The frisky boxer puppy swallowed part of a toy rake handle while playing a week ago. It was 20 inches long—that's right, 20.

Dr. Louis Becker, the veterinarian, removed the stitches from Shawn's neck yesterday. He described the operation:

"It was a stick. I pulled on it. Five inches of it. Ten inches of it. I couldn't believe it. I can hardly believe it now. Golf balls, marbles, fishhooks I've taken from the stomachs of dogs . . .

"But never a stick 20 inches long!"

Even Kitchen Sink Rescued From Fire

SCHROON LAKE, N. Y. (U)—About 100 neighbors, passers-by and firemen carried almost everything movable from Sidney Fleming's burning house yesterday. They even salvaged the kitchen sink before the two-story frame house burned down.

Milton Berle Leaves Hospital, Rest Due

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Milton Berle left a hospital four hours after he was taken there yesterday, suffering from what was described as "extreme physical exhaustion." His doctor ordered him to rest at home for a week to 10 days before resuming his television work.

Wiley Urges GOP Lay Off Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON (U)—Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) said today if Republicans expect Democrats "to refrain from using foreign policy as a political football, we have got to make sure that we Republicans don't kick it around ourselves."

The deadlock at the Geneva foreign ministers' conference, from which Secretary of State Dulles returned 12 days ago, has prompted numerous top Democrats to lash out at his handling of foreign policy.

Wiley proposed in a statement that both political parties adopt a "code of self-restraint" in 1956 campaign discussion of international affairs. His statement was given to newsmen for later release before Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler offered the Republicans a conditional "truce" on the issue.

Butler said in a statement yesterday Democrats would agree to keep partisanship out of foreign policy discussion if President Eisenhower would order the GOP to drop the word "peace" from next year's campaign slogans.

At the same time, Butler referred to what he called "reckless and slanderous attacks" by the Republicans in 1953 on former President Harry S. Truman and former Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

Wiley said it is regrettable that some Democrats "have given strong indications that foreign policy may become a political football."

Preacher's Son Dies In Mishap

ELECTRA (U)—Kent Keel, 4-month-old son of the Rev. Larry

Keel, Beaumont Assembly of God evangelist, died yesterday and his mother was critically injured after their car overturned four miles west of here.

Rev. Keel and another son, Larry, 5, were sent to a hospital but were not listed in critical condition. Another accident on U.S. 287 near Vernon sent Mrs. Sidney Lorenz Jr., 24, of Electra and Richard Thompson, 55, of Wichita Falls to a hospital. Both were reported in serious but not critical conditions.

Cadillac Driver Halted In Theft

PHOENIX, Ariz. (U)—A 52-year-old woman was stopped by police yesterday carrying an armful of Christmas wrappings and carving knives from a store in one of the fancier shopping centers in Phoenix. After a hurried conference, she agreed to pay $70.00 for the goods, and police let her go. She drove away in a 1954 Cadillac.

Jayhawks Down Decatur Quint In Cage Debut

HCJC's Jayhawks belted Decatur, 63-46, in their opening basketball engagement of the season here Monday night.

Coach Harold Davis expressed himself as well pleased with the performance of his charges. He said they made mistakes and ran into hot and cold spells but added that was to be expected in the opening engagement.

The Big Springers ran up an early lead and retained advantage from an eight to 14-point advantage through most of the contest. Erratic passing cost the visiting Indians dearly. Decatur missed a lot of shots, too, that will start falling for them later in the season.

Stellar play by two Big Spring freshmen, Al Kioven and Charley Clark, helped give HCJC its cushion. Kioven was a defensive demon while Clark and tall Wiley Brown did a lot toward controlling both backboards.

Kioven paced the scorers with 12 points, ten of which he sank from the floor. Brown and Ray Crooks each had 11 while Jimmy Robinson, torrid in the second half, rang up eight.

Dan Starnes led Decatur with ten while Quan Elliott came through for nine.

Only Starnes of the visitors had more than one field goal after the first 20 minutes of play — he accounted for three during that time.

HCJC beat the Tribe badly from the floor, sinking 23 field goals to 16, but Decatur wound up with more free tosses, 14-13.

A near-capacity crowd, surprisingly good considering the extreme cold and the Santa Claus show going on down town, was in attendance.

Jimmy Castleberry led the Jayhawk reserves to a 69-62 success over Webb Air Force Base in the opening game.

Castleberry banged away for 26 points, all the result of field goals. Robinson tossed in an even dozen points for the Hawks. Bonnie Beard came through for nine.

DECATUR (46) James Windsor 21, Dan Starnes 10, Tommie Black 8, Ernie Davis 8, Mike Powell 8, Jimmy Robinson 8, Jim Castleberry 8, John Curtis 8, Tommy Black 8, and Tommie Black 8.

HCJC (63) Castleberry 26, Robinson 12, Beard 9, Clark 12, Kioven 12, Brown 11, Crooks 11, Starnes 8, and Elliott 10.

Half time score — HCJC 35 Decatur 21.

Half time score — HCJC 34 Webb 25.

Top Pro Choice

This fellow must be a sleeper. He's quarterback Gary Glick, a comparative unknown from Colorado A&M College, who was first choice by the Pittsburgh Steelers in the National Football League bonus draw. The Steelers, entitled to first draft by virtue of their cellar position in the league last season, passed over better known players to choose Glick, 23, of La Porla, Colo., a 6-foot, one-inch, and a 192-pounder. (AP Wirephoto).

Odds In Back Of Gary Glick

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Gary Glick, the Colorado A&M quarterback selected as the bonus choice in the National Football League draft yesterday by the Pittsburgh Steelers, is expected to report to the Packers as a free agent.

Since Bert Bell, commissioner of the NFL, initiated the bonus choice in 1947, seven of the nine previous selections made good as pros. One still is in the service and hasn't had a chance to play, while the other was injured and forced to retire.

The first bonus baby back in 1947 was Bob Fenimore picked by the Chicago Bears. Fenimore, an Oklahoma A&M star as a collegian, was injured in his first year with the Bears and retired from pro football. Bobby Garrett, the Cleveland choice in 1954, later traded to Green Bay for Babe Parilli, Kentucky, quarterback, is in the armed services. The Stanford ace is expected to report to the Packers next season.

Last year, Baltimore picked the winning ball and came up with George Shaw, Oregon passer who has pitched the Colts out of the cellar and into contention in the Western Conference.

So, Glick, who has informed the Steelers he wants to play pro football, should be on his way to success in the NFL. Precedent says so.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:

HAL BATTLE, assistant coach of the Snyder Tigers: "Jack Spikes and Joe Baxter aren't the only stars we have. We've got some pretty good boys in that line, too."

BOBBY DODD, Georgia Tech coach:

"Football teams ought to be rated offensively by the points they score and defensively by the points scored against them, not by yards. They still determine who wins or loses by points, not first downs and yards gained."

REV. PAUL BOUSFIELD, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Carson, Iowa, after he was given a new car by church members: "I feel like a football coach. We had no idea that we, ever in our lifetime, would own a new car."

GABE PAUL, general manager of the Cincinnati Reds: "Many operators of minor league clubs are depending too much on working agreements with major league clubs for their salvation. The tendency in many cases has been to sit back and relax after obtaining a working agreement. That's a Marshall Plan attitude."

TUG WILSON, Big Ten commissioner: "We're satisfied with the regional television plan. We were hurt some places, but overall it was good since it gave people a chance to watch the type of football they wanted."

RUSTY RUSSELL, former SMU grid mentor: "These football players down at Texas A&M are just a bunch of rags who got pushed around and didn't like it. It's not the coaching, particularly. Everybody in the conference has good coaching. The Aggies are like a bunch of hornets—when you poke their nest with a pitchfork, you better get out of there. And when you put a football on the field, they sort of swarm on it."

BUD WILKINSON, Oklahoma football coach: "Time and personnel determine a team's offensive style. What it comes down to is what the boys can do. Parlayed with that is the amount of time available to accomplish what you are trying to do. With a multiple offense, I don't believe you always have the time to develop execution or the handling of specific assignments as well. Precision is lost, too. Then there is the single offense, which we prefer. With the one offensive maneuver, practice time is on our side, and, remember, time is important. We at Oklahoma find it easier to develop an attack if a boy has, say, three things to master rather than, say, 40 things."

FRANK LANE, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals: "When I'm fraternizing with National League officials, they assure me the Cardinals are the '56 champions. But when I try to trade my super-athletes I discover they're seventh place players."

GEORGE HALAS, on why he is quitting coaching in the pro grid ranks: "I'm no longer willing to give up the time coaching consumes during April, May, June and July."

DICK YOUNG, New York writer: "To a sportswriter, the contract-signing time for ball players contains all the vicarious enjoyment that a window-shopping excursion holds for a housewife with an empty pocketbook. The newspaper can tell around numbers like 20 G, 40 G, 50 G as though that kind of money can be made simply by hitting a typewriter key. He can spend the club owner's money like mad, and, if he thinks the owner isn't spending it fast enough, he can call him a cheapskate."

Jim Swink Heads All-SWC Football Squad For '55

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP)—Jim Swink, the Texas Christian star, tied for one of the halfback posts. Swink, of course, made the other without getting up a sweat.

Schwier won one of the end positions but Eugene Stallings of Texas A&M and Henry Gremminger of Baylor tied for the other. Bryan Engram, Texas Christian's captain, was next in line for an end job.

Forrest Gregg, old dependable of the Southern Methodist line, pairs with Hamilton at tackle. Each weighs 225.

Dennis Goehring, light but agile Texas A&M guard, is Gray's opposite in the All-Conference line. The fullback is Henry Moore, Arkansas' mighty ball carrier.

Jack Powell of A&M got strong support for tackle and so did Jack Pardee, the defensive genius of the Aggies, for fullback.

DALLAS (AP)—The Associated Press All-Southwest Conference football team for 1955 (including class, weight, home town):

FIRST TEAM
Menard Schriever, Texas, Sr., 208, New Braunfels, Tex.

Marshall Crawford, Rice, Soph., 180, Houston, Tex.

Fullback—Jack Powell, Texas A&M, and Bill Foster, Arkansas.
Guard—Wayland Roberts, Arkansas, and Don Goss, Southern Methodist.
Center—Johnnie Tatum, Texas A&M.
Linebacker—George Walker, Arkansas; Delano Womack, Texas; John Roach, Southern Methodist; and Jack Pardee, Texas A&M.

Tom McAdams, former Big Spring High School star, is one of the outstanding performers for the Rams. He has been the "pressure" player all season. He has kicked ten consecutive extra points, two game-saving field goals, has been outstanding on defense and leads the team in pass interceptions. He is one of the outstanding freshmen to play for San Angelo College in many years.

San Angelo, (SC)—When San Angelo College travels to Gulfport Miss. Dec. 3 to play in the Hospital Bowl, it will not be a new experience for Coach Max Bumgardner and Line Coach, Phil George.

Bumgardner and George have been at the helm of the Rams for six years, during which time they have piloted their charges through three years of conference play without a single defeat. This is the third Bowl game in which they have participated.

After winning the conference title in 1950, their freshman year in the circuit, they went on to defeat a highly favored, and much heavier Wharton Jr. College eleven in the Oleander Bowl in Galveston, Jan. 1, 1951. In 1951 they again swept the Pioneer Conference, and returned to defend their Oleander Bowl Championship. It was a wild and woolly contest, with a Great Hines, Miss. eleven scoring in the closing seconds to tie out a 27-22 victory over the Rams.

Coach Bumgardner has experienced a variety of post season contests in his colorful career. In 1942, his sophomore year at the University of Texas, the Longhorns won the Southwest Conference for the first time in ten years, and went on to defeat Georgia Tech in the Cotton Bowl in 1943. This was Texas' first appearance in the Cotton Bowl. After returning from the service, Max was Captain and All Conference End, on the powerful 1947 Texas University aggregation that defeated Harry Gilmer and a highly rated Alabama eleven in the Sugar Bowl, Jan. 1, 1948.

After graduating from Texas, Max and teammate Bobby Layne played in an East-West All Star Game in Los Angeles, which they won 34-14. They also were members of the 1948 College "All Stars" in Chicago.

Upon completing a stint with the Chicago Bears and Detroit Lions of the National Pro League, Bumgardner coached one year at Denison with Les Cranfill before taking over at San Angelo College as Head Coach and Athletic Director.

Lon Coach Phil George was a teammate at Texas, where he was out-standing in basketball on the conference championship team of 47 and 48. The last two years George has lead the San Angelo College Ram Basketball team to the Pioneer Conference Championship, and to the N.C.A.A. National tournaments. George consistently turns out one of the toughest lines in Junior College Football.

was Walter Fondren, versatile Texas Christian terror, heads up an All-Southwest Conference football team that turned into a squad.

Swink, who scored on everybody and ran up 1,283 yards rushing, was the only unanimous choice of coaches of the seven schools in selecting the All-Conference team for The Associated Press. But there were ties at two positions, thus it is a 13-man squad that gets the honor of being picked as the best in the Southwest for the 1955 season.

There are more underclassmen on this team than ever before, with one sophomore and five juniors making it. This foretells what should come next season when the teams all will be jammed with veterans.

Herb Gray, Texas' mighty guard, lacked only one vote of being unanimous, while Hugh Pitts, Texas Christian's great center, and Menard Schriever, Texas' brilliant pass receiver and hard working end, got five votes apiece.

Overall, Texas Christian, conference champion and Cotton Bowl host, dominated the selections with 4 players on the first team. Texas wound up with 3, Texas A&M and Arkansas 2 apiece and Baylor and Southern Methodist 1 each.

Rice, which had one of its worst seasons and was hampered by many injuries, especially to its men, didn't place on the All-Conference. It had been many a season since the Owls couldn't break into the All-Star group.

Landing along with Swink and Pitts from the TCU team were Norman Hamilton, huge tackle, and Chuck Curtis, the magic ball-handler, adept passer and brilliant quarterback.

Green Named Loop Prexy

W. J. Green, San Angelo oilman, has been named president of the newly formed Class B Southwestern baseball league.

The announcement was made at the minor league convention in Columbus, Ohio, Monday.

Green served as president of the Class C Longhorn League last season.

The new Southwestern circuit is made up of Longhorn and WT-NM League cities.

Green said he would continue to maintain offices in San Angelo.

L. F. LaFont, Plainview, was named first vice president of the league. C. F. Montgomery, Carlsbad, will serve as second vice president. Les Sanders of San Angelo, secretary.

Michigan Prexy Decries Ratings

DETROIT (AP)—Decrying pre-season ratings of teams and players and emphasis on post-season bowl bids, the University of Michigan's president has called for a curb on what he terms "the accelerated madness" of college football.

Dr. Harlan H. Hatcher, Michigan president, told 700 at the annual UM "Football Bust" last night: "I sincerely hope a way is found to preserve the game in its proper college setting, so that we won't have to alter it — as I am sure we will have to do if our present course continues."

Irvin Drafted By Chibruins

By JOE REICHLER

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Monte Irvin, whose big bat played a key role in the New York Giants' miracle finish in 1951, is coming back to the major leagues at the ripe old age of 37—this time with the Chicago Cubs.

The slugging outfielder, abandoned by the Giants last summer, was the only big name among the 10 minor leaguers selected by the majors for a total of $115,000 in yesterday's annual draft session, which officially opened the winter baseball meetings.

Although an unusual number of big league managers were here, only one trade was consummated. The Chicago Cubs sent Hal Jeffcoat, a fair relief pitcher, to the Cincinnati Redlegs in an even-up exchange for Hobbie Landrith, a second-string catcher.

The Cubs, in desperate need of a strong right-handed outfielder, plucked Irvin from Minneapolis, the Giants' farm club in the American Assn., for the $10,000 draft price, beating out at least two other clubs—Detroit and Cincinnati. If Irvin can come anywhere near the .352 batting average he posted with the Millers, he will prove a real bargain.

Chicago also took title to pitcher Vito Valentini from Toronto. Valentini had a 9-15 record with Charleston last season.

The Cubs were the only club to choose more than one player in the lightest draft since 1945 when the same number of players were selected.

The biggest surprise was Washington's selection of a practically unknown pitcher, right-hander Conrad Grob, from Montreal, as the No. 1 pick. Grob, 23, had an 11-9 record at Mobile before being moved to Montreal.

The second choice went to Pittsburgh, which selected Jack McMahon, a southpaw on the Denver roster who turned in an 11-5 record for Birmingham last season.

Baltimore picked first baseman Bob Boyd off Rochester. A former outfielder with the Chicago White Sox, Boyd batted .300, drove in 94 runs and hit 15 home runs at Houston.

The St. Louis Cardinals picked pitcher Billy Muffett, who was 10-4 at Shreveport. Muffett came off the Los Angeles roster.

Steers Launch Play Tonight

Johnny Johnson's Big Spring High School Steers launch their 1955-56 basketball season here tonight, meeting the Tom S. Lubbock Westerners of Lubbock in a practice tilt.

Starting time is 8 o'clock, scene of action the Steer Gym. B teams of the two schools will meet in a 6:30 o'clock engagement.

The Longhorns are big but green. The team is one of the tallest to represent the local school in years. At the same time, there are only two lettermen back from last year.

The veterans returning from last season are LeRoy LeFevre, 6-foot-5 senior; and a 6-3 junior, Jimmy Rice. Rice didn't begin his workouts until Monday, having been concerned with football.

Jan Loudermilk, 6-5 sophomore; Don Anderson, 6 feet; Donald Lovelady, 5-11½; Mickey Musgrove, 5-4; and Charley Johnson, 5-11½, are others who will see a lot of action.

Lubbock boasts even less experience than Big Spring but will have the advantage of having played a game. The Westerners lost recently to Loveland.

Max O'Banion is the Lubbock coach. He inherited a club without a letterman. O'Banion served as an aide to David Cook last year. Cook moved over to Monterey as head coach this year.

Probable starters for Lubbock tonight are Don Edleman, 6-4; Max Hood, 6-3; Kenneth Williams, 6-1; Cotton Sumner, 6-1; and Ed Watson, 5-10.

Watson led the Westerners in scoring in the Loveland game, hitting for 17 points.

Others who will accompany O'Banion here include Duwayne Kay, 5-10; Bill Solter, 6-6; Jerry Cowman, 6-2; Jimmy Self, 6-1; Scott Mack, 6-0; Don Wells, 6-3; and Phil Folsom, 5-10.

Johnson and LeFevre have been named co-captains of the Big Spring team.

The Longhorns visit Odessa Saturday night for a practice joust with John Malaise's Bronchos.

Sooners Easily Lead AP Poll

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
By The Associated Press

Undeclared Oklahoma, winning at the polls in the same whirlwind fashion that it won most of its games, today captured the 1955 national college football championship and the Father J. Hugh O'Donnell Trophy in the 50th annual Associated Press poll.

The bowl-bound Sooners amassed 3,581 points in the season's final AP poll of sports writers and broadcasters. It topped Michigan State by more than 300 points. Maryland, Oklahoma's opponent in the Orange Bowl Jan. 2, finished third.

The leaders, with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. Oklahoma (218) 3,581
2. Michigan State (88) 3,204
3. Maryland (55) 3,024
4. UCLA (9) 2,637
5. Ohio State (4) 1,980
6. TCU (9) 1,941
7. Georgia Tech (1) 1,301
8. Auburn (6) 854
9. Notre Dame 796
10. Mississippi (1) 708

The second 10:

11. Pittsburgh (1) 282
12. Michigan 217
13. Southern Cal. 149
14. Miami (Fla.) 136
15. Miami (Ohio) 113
16. Stanford 94
17. Texas A&M 90
18. Navy 89
19. West Virginia (2) 88
20. Army 66

Two upsets rocked the Ward School football league Monday.

With the result that Kate Morrison is now riding at the top of the standings.

Morrison was idle Monday but the erstwhile leader, Central Ward, yielded to Washington Place, 13-6, and dropped a half game behind the Maroons.

In other games, East upset West, 6-0, knocking the Cowboys out of title contention while College Heights ended its season with a 12-6 conquest of Air-3. Heights finished with a 4-13 won-lost-tied record.

Jimmy Madry took the opening kickoff for College Heights and raced 70 yards to score behind excellent blocking. Not an opposing player laid a hand on him.

Camp Sweeney Aid Urged On Jaycees

Jaycees were left Monday with an appeal to lend a helping hand to Camp Sweeney, the non-profit camp operated exclusively for diabetic children.

Max Bentley, Abilene, chairman of public relations for the Southwestern Diabetic Foundation, talked to the Jaycees about the camp and its work—largely for indigent children—at the weekly meeting held at the Wagon Wheel. He also projected a 15-minute motion picture of the camp and its activities.

Board of directors of the Jaycees took the matter of a project to help the camp under advisement. Bentley was presented to the club by John Taylor, president.

Camp Sweeney, named for Dr. Shirley Sweeney, Dallas, one of the nation's leading authorities on diabetes, is the only camp in the Southwest for diabetic children. Yet less than 20 per cent of the children who come are from homes where parents can pay even part, let alone all their expenses.

Bentley explained it costs around $250 to keep a child in the camp for a four-week period and that every year "warmhearted friends" raise around $40,000 for operational expense. We try to erase the deficit of the previous year, and put $25,000 in the bank for the next year," he said. "No diabetic child has knowingly ever been refused admission to the full benefits of the camp because of inability to pay."

He explained the length of a child's stay in camp was determined by the medical staff. Some stay from June to September as part of the campaign to teach them to "stay alive."

Not infrequently youngsters report at the start of the summer at the lowest ebb in health and depart radiant and able to handle their own situation by diet and proper insulin injections. Each child is fed according to his or her dietary needs, Bentley explained.

The camp is in a 400-acre tract and contains Lake Dealey, a 23-acre crystal clear pool fed by springs. There are central buildings such as the kitchen, dining room, recreation hall and cabins.

Charges Of Affray, Assault Are Filed

Two fights resulted in affray and aggravated assault charges Monday.

A man was arrested at the Top's Cafe Monday afternoon and charged with aggravated assault on U. B. Phillips, 1001 E. 12th. Mrs. R. C. Lane was the complainant.

The Top Hat Cafe also had a fight Monday. Two men were charged with affray as a result.

Airman Critically Hurt In Collision

Three persons were injured, one critically, as a result of five mishaps in the city Monday.

William Clyde Godsey, Webb AFB airman, is in critical condition at Malone and Hogan Hospital this morning. Attendants report he received a serious eye injury and a brain concussion in an accident at Main and Eighteenth about 9:30 p.m. Monday.

Godsey was a passenger in a car driven by Laverne Glen Duesenberg, also a Webb airman. Duesenberg was charged in county court with driving while intoxicated. Hugh Austin Carr, 1603 Donley, was driver of the other car.

Carr was also taken to Malone and Hogan Hospital and treated for lacerations of the scalp. His injuries were not considered serious and he was released after treatment.

Maple Finley Richie, Lamesa, was still at Cowper Clinic this morning following an accident Monday afternoon at Johnson and Fourth. Attendants report she was admitted for observation and that she has no serious injuries. Driver of the other car was Odis Grady Milam, 1066 Settles.

William Arthur Langer, 1200 Wood, and Melvin Dean Blake, Knott, were drivers in collision in the 200 block of Johnson.

I. L. McGuire, 603 E. 13th, told police that a youth ran him off the road near the park gate on the Airbase Road. The youth was driving a Ford, McGuire said, and came out of the park going very fast.

Andres Seniseras Jr., 403 Aylford, reported a hit and run at his home. He said his car was parked in front of the house and the other car hit it and kept going. Police traced the car and arrested a Latin American.

Decorations Fund Needing $2,250

There is still about $2,250 needed to pay for the Christmas activity in the city, J. H. Greene, manager of the Chamber of Commerce said this morning.

Five solicitors have reported in, Greene said, of the 19 that were delegated to bring in the money. These five have pledges or cash totaling about $750. Greene said $3,000 is needed to cover all the expenses.

The solicitation was supposed to have been completed last week, but 14 of the solicitors contacting businessmen have not yet turned in their money or pledges.

Employers Urged To Hire Men In 'Ready Reserve'

Business firms are being asked not to discriminate against young men who are enlisted in the Ready Reserve.

Major Luther T. Barbour Jr., local reserve advisor with headquarters at Lubbock, pointed out that the reserve program saves the taxpayer money. This program makes it unnecessary to maintain a large standing army.

In many cases, he went on, an employer does not want to hire a young man who is in the reserve. However, the businessman will have a far better idea of what to expect in case of an emergency. The reserve program will avert catch-as-catch-can denuding of the labor force, he said.

Many young men have a certain period of time which they must spend in the active service and then more in the reserve. If an employer disapproves of the reserve program, it is a morale shattering dilemma for the reservist who has no choice in the matter.

Reservists are required to attend 48 unit training assemblies each year and go into the field for two weeks active duty each summer. Ten per cent of the assemblies may be missed for just cause, but if more than that are missed, then the reservist must take 30 days of active duty.

Bracero Hurt In Fall Down Stairs

A bracero from Piedras Negras fell down a stairway at Safeway Monday afternoon and received head injuries, but he is to be released from the hospital today.

Taken to Medical Arts Hospital was Felix Alvarado, a bracero working for Fred Holscher, with a laceration above the left eye. Reports from the hospital at noon today were that he would be released.

Watch Tire Mileage Go Up!

Unbalanced wheels, bent axles, misaligned frames spell "welcome" to unwelcome "steering wobbles." Once in your car, they cause excessive wear on tires and steering parts—result in blow-outs, bad steering, ACCIDENT! Get more safe tire mileage by getting a safety check-up and correction on our industry-approved BEAR equipment.

Rebellious Tribes Trouble Morocco

RABAT, French Morocco (U)—More trouble from rebellious tribesmen in the Rif Mountains was reported today as Premier-designate Mohammed Bekkai continued conferences trying to form Morocco's first representative government.

Sketchy reports reaching here said a military truck was ambushed yesterday in the Nador Pass area near the Spanish Moroccan frontier. The bodies of five soldiers were found near the vehicle.

About 2,000 rebels have been clashing intermittently with the French in the Rif Mountains since Oct. 1. Attacks by the rebels continued despite Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef's triumphal return from exile to power and French promises of greater Moroccan home rule.

The arrival of winter in the mountain area this week promised to delay large scale operations against the rebels until spring.

To the east in Algeria, troops clashed with rebels in the Constantine area. Five rebels were reported killed, 71 suspects were arrested.

ed, and a quantity of arms was seized.

In Tunisia, which has been relatively quiet since the French granted the people greater self-government, infiltrating Algerian outlaws were reported to have made a raid in the Gafsa region. French mobile forces said they engaged a "strong band," killing or wounding three of the outlaws. Three Frenchmen were wounded. Some arms were seized.

In Tunis 200 former rebels demonstrated before the Interior Ministry in a demand for work. One civil servant was roughed up, and an office was ransacked.

Lewis Arrives At Hearing

John L. Lewis, making his first public appearance since he suffered a mild heart attack recently, waves to a friend as he arrives in a Senate hearing room in Washington, D. C. The head of the United Mine Workers Union went before a Senate labor subcommittee at new hearings on the handling of union welfare funds.

Existing Laws Sufficient, Says Union Chieftain

WASHINGTON (U)—John L. Lewis has told a Senate Labor subcommittee he thinks existing laws are adequate for dealing with any "human jackals and scoundrels" who misuse union welfare funds.

The 75-year-old head of the United Mine Workers suggested, however, that the attorney general be urged by a congressional resolution to step up prosecutions of such cases.

Lewis, making his first public appearance since his recovery from a recent mild heart attack, said union leaders must share responsibility for safeguarding such funds. He said:

"If some of the leaders of organized labor would abandon their holier-than-thou attitude . . . and put their own house in order, welfare funds might have a better chance to live."

Regarding the welfare fund operated by his own union, Lewis said, "I'd like for you to show me one crook in the United Mine Workers union and see what I'd do about it."

U. S. Navy Has Water Shortage

POINT MUGU, Calif. (U)—This naval air missile test center, surrounded on three sides by water, is threatened with a serious water shortage.

A Navy spokesman said, however, the shortage is of fresh water. One of four wells serving the Navy reservation has been dropped from use because of salt water intrusion.

Three other wells are still operating, the Navy said, but supplies are approaching the danger mark. The Navy met today with the United Water Conservation District in an effort to obtain needed supplies.

Calcutta Lays Out Welcome Mat For Visiting Russians

CALCUTTA (U)—Premier Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev received one of the most tumultuous welcomes of their Indian tour today.

A big crowd greeted the Kremlin's two top leaders when they arrived at the airport from southern India.

The two are talking loudly about Russian economic aid to India. But informed Indian sources in New Delhi said that under the emerging pattern, India will pay the bill.

The informants said any Soviet machinery coming to India will not be gifts but sales on credit. On the other hand, American aid—nearly 200 million dollars in grants in the last five years not counting long-term loans—dwarfs Russian assistance but does not rate the big headlines accorded the big Soviet promises.

Speaking at Madras, Bulganin praised India again for its neutralist policy in staying out of all "military groupings." He heaped renewed criticism on the Western Powers, charging they "threaten a new war" through an extension of military pacts.

More than 200,000 attended a civic reception at which the Russians spoke in Madras. However, local Trotskyites plastered walls with posters demanding, "Why was Leon Trotsky murdered by Stalin's stooges?"

He went to Florida on vacation with the Porter family, played ball and wrestled with Bill, 30-year-old brother of Bobbyetta. He also was fond of riding in station wagons and found ice cream a real delicacy.

He was buried in a pet cemetery on the Porter farm.

Family Pet Lion Buried

HERSCHER, Ill. (U)—A 300-pound lion with the disposition of Ferdinand the Bull was buried yesterday in pink-tufted satin with his head on a royal purple pillow.

He was Tex, aged 5, who died Saturday in the arms of his mistress, Miss Bobbyetta Porter, 29.

Veterinarians said a chest tumor caused the death of the lion who liked television, who never roared, and who loved human companionship.

Miss Porter, who once owned 32 cats, had kept Tex since he was 3 months old. He lived in a pine-lined den off the living room of the Porter farmhouse near this northeastern Illinois community.

He went to Florida on vacation with the Porter family, played ball and wrestled with Bill, 30-year-old brother of Bobbyetta. He also was fond of riding in station wagons and found ice cream a real delicacy.

Jordan To Get 10 Jet Planes

AMMAN, Jordan (U)—Britain is to give Jordan a gift of 10 Vampire jet fighters, reliable sources said today.

King Hussein is understood to have been informed of the decision by British Ambassador Charles Duke.

The Vampires are now being modified in Britain for the Jordan climate.

Earlier this year Britain supplied Jordan with two Vampire trainers. Jordanian pilots now under training are expected to complete their training with the Royal Air Force in Britain.

Refund Checks Await Taxpayers

Some 3,600 income tax return checks are waiting in the Internal Revenue office in Dallas with no one to claim them. To be exact, there are 3,607 checks unclaimed.

The checks are tax refunds from 1954 which were mailed to the taxpayers but were returned undelivered.

The IRS people have been unable to deliver these refund checks because the taxpayers had either moved to another town and left no forwarding address or had not listed a return address on their income tax form.

Ben Hawkins, director of the Internal Revenue office here, said the Revenue people definitely want the taxpayers to receive their checks before Christmas.

Anyone who has not received their 1954 tax refund check and who filed a tax return in the Dallas District should address their inquiry to the District Director of Internal Revenue Service, Attention: Claims Section, 2101 Pacific Ave., Dallas.

The taxpayer should include the following information so the Revenue personnel can determine whether he is legally entitled to the refund check: complete name shown on the return, address shown on the return, social security number, taxable year, where filed, when filed, amount of refund requested, and present address. All inquiries should be signed by the taxpayer.

Cerebral Palsy Fight Aided By Telethon Expert

NEW YORK (AP)—Pretty Mrs. Jeanne Anderson isn't a millionaires, but she is responsible for the collecting of three million dollars a year.

Jeanne is the woman behind the fund-raising telethons for United Cerebral Palsy. Her job is to organize, supervise and direct the shows all over the country. This also includes getting the top-notch talent which appears on them.

(Telethons are those fund raising television shows on which famous entertainers and civic minded citizens appear asking for contributions. These celebrities then accept the pledges over the telephone.)

Helping Jeanne in her man-sized job are three other women: Lillian Ignoffo, the talent coordinator; Margaret Becker, secretary of the operation; and Ricki Thornhill, contact girl with the Theater Authority which supplies many of the famous folk in the entertainment world.

The entire operation hinges around Mrs. Anderson's directions—to her girls, her 13 field men and UCP's 350 local affiliates throughout the country.

"Each telethon must be handled in a different way," she says, "whether it be big cities like New York, Los Angeles, Chicago or smaller ones like Waco, Tex. or Eau Claire, Wis."

"The telethons usually start on a Saturday night and end Sunday evening. There is talent to be provided, both national and local. Field men must organize each community for the project. Telephones are to be manned."

"And naturally with so many people involved, there are bound to be differences of opinion that must be ironed out. That's my job, too."

But for Jeanne, 32-year-old blonde who calls Washington, D. C., her home, being busy is nothing new. She formerly was travel editor for a New England newspaper and later was a public relations specialist for a large industrial firm.

A typical show was the one

HERE'S THE WAY WE RAISE THE DOUGH Mrs. Jeanne Anderson instructs assistants

July. First UCP telethon ever held there. It was a 19-hour event at the city auditorium.

"It was an overwhelming success. Broadcast over WLOS-TV, it raised $40,000 for the care and treatment of the cerebral palsied in the Asheville area, Mrs. Anderson says."

"Civil Air Patrol members used their cars to pick up pledges. Even CAP members from Tennessee and South Carolina helped. The local newspaper was a tremendous help, too."

"Charlie 'Choo Choo' Justice, former football great at the University of North Carolina, was one of the celebrities participating."

"The Asheville story can be multiplied many times over to get a panoramic picture of our nationwide operations," Jeanne says.

Shucks Oyster, Finds A Fish

BALTIMORE (AP)—Joseph Peters, an expert oyster shucker, shucked himself a fish yesterday.

He was digging into his second dozen of a fresh load of oysters when he discovered the 2½-inch fish, alive and wriggling inside one of the shells.

The fish, which had survived almost a full day out of water, was quickly transferred to a bowl of salt water. Peters then went back to his second dozen.

Pilot Escapes In Jet Crash

CROWLEY, La. (AP)—An F86 jet plane pilot escaped unharmed when his plane struck a power line and lost part of a wing near Midland, La., today.

LT. J. C. Brown, 25, of Kelly Field, San Antonio, was en route from Keesler AFB to Kelly Field.

Brown said he was flying at 42,000 feet when his engine went out. He passed over Crowley and spotted a small airfield near Midland. Brown said he did not know the wind direction and could not take a chance on the small field.

He flew across the highway, clipped two power lines and set down in a rice field where the plane nosed over in soft mud. The crash knocked out electrical service in the area.

King Stays Seated

NEW DELHI (AP)—King Saud of Saudi Arabia remained seated in a car during the latter part of his 15-mile sightseeing tour of New Delhi today. He complained of "not feeling well."

Red Strategy Holds Europe Line, Pushes Into Asia, Middle East

WASHINGTON (AP)—A preliminary U. S. study pictures Communist strategy for Round 2 of the cold war as this: Hold the line in Europe and push steadily south in the Middle and Far East.

Such relentless downward pressure from the Russo-Red Chinese empire, this study indicates, is not the kind that can be checked solely by a "policy of containment" such as the Truman administration devised to hem in Soviet military power.

The new Communist plan is viewed as involving much more than that—economic aid and trade concessions, for instance—and as being too complex and too subtly applied for a single solution. Further U. S. countermeasures are expected to be developed as the study progresses.

Still there, of course, are the Russian bear's muscle and growl—Soviet military might and the threat to use it. This was nowhere better demonstrated than in the last week's news that Russia has exploded its biggest H-bomb type of nuclear blast to date.

But the new Soviet strategy, as seen by American experts viewing the wreckage of this year's Geneva conferences, mixes up the plays like a talented quarterback operating behind a powerful line.

The Kremlin's combined leadership—calling signals for Red China and the Eastern Europe satellites as well as for the Soviet Union—will strengthen local Communist parties, tempt trade-hungry countries with deals they want and need, run guns to troubled areas, give "big brother" encouragement to uneasy neutrals, promise no-strings-attached help to underdeveloped countries, and on and on.

All the time, the Soviet leaders are expected to taunt the West, particularly the United States, as the enemy of newly free peoples and as supporters of colonialism.

Concrete examples of this strategy in action include:

1. At Geneva, the Russians refused to negotiate with the West on German unity. After Geneva, the Russians declared German unity was something the Germans themselves could settle. This looked to the West like a sit-tight operation in the expectation that Russia, which has diplomatic relations with both halves of Germany, could settle the issue alone.

2. In the Middle East, the Communists have stirred up a hornet's nest by selling arms to Egypt. They also have vaulted the pro-West security line to offer economic help to Egypt and other Arab countries. In Afghanistan, the Soviets already have 500 technicians at work, and party boss Nikita Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai Bulganin currently are touring India, Afghanistan and Burma.

3. In the Far East, the pressure takes the form of new Communist threats of warfare. Red Chinese Deputy Premier Chen Yi told an interviewer last week about extensive military preparations along the China coast for possible assault on Formosa if talks with U. S. representatives at Geneva break down.

The Committee on International Policy of the National Planning Assn., reviewing the situation in a report yesterday, said the cold war is in its "most perilous phase." It called for a "courageous and imaginative program."

The association describes itself as a nonprofit, nonpolitical organization devoted to planning by Americans in agriculture, business, labor and the professions.

3 Boys Spend Holiday In Jail

CLINTON, Conn. (AP)—Three 13-year-old boys spent 13 hours of their Thanksgiving school vacation in a jail cell, though they committed no offense against the law.

Joseph Kelsey, Arjos Budd and Stillman Swan Jr. locked themselves in one of the town lockup's two cells Saturday while they were exploring the quarters, which are unattended.

Shouting and banging on the bars brought no help because Boston Post Rd. traffic drowned out all the noise they could make.

If a former town patrolman hadn't happened to drop in to check the lockup Saturday night, the boys might have spent all weekend there.

- Winners and the correct solution will be announced in The Herald, Friday, December 2.

A Bible Thought For Today

Why Not A Seat For Lone Star State?

The one-vote margin by which the U. N. General Assembly decided to probe into the political situation in Algeria has now been expunged from the U. N. minutes as though it never happened, and France, which walked out in protest of the original act, has now walked back in again.

Credit for the series of steps which produced this vanishing act of a dangerous issue goes to India's V. K. Krishna Menon, who has more often been conspicuous as a Russian apologist and U. S. critic than as a great compromiser.

In any case, a rift within the lute of sweet U. N. accord has been repaired, and all is well. The way is now open to a vote on the admission to U. N. membership of 18 nations that have been knocking for entrance all these years. This list includes Bulgaria, Romania, Albania and Hungary, all Russian satellites, and Outer Mongolia, which is to Russia what Algeria is to France—that is, an integral part, a piece of its metropolitan area.

The U. S. did not object to admission of the four satellites, though not relishing it either, but promised to fight to the end against admission of Outer Mongolia.

The columnist David Lawrence suggests a compromise on this particular point. He says Texas has as much right to insist on U. N. membership as Outer Mongolia has so why not have Uncle Sam propose Texas as an offsetting counterclaim?

Russia will have a whole flock of satellite and metropolitan memberships if the 18 new members are admitted, in addition to the Ukraine and Byelorussia, which are already members, and as much a part of Russia as Texas is of the United States. But with four direct votes in the Assembly Russia will still be outnumbered by Britain, with six votes, including five Commonwealth nations. The U. S. will have only one—unless Mr. Lawrence's idea of including Texas is accepted.

Stalin himself once cited Texas to Mr. Roosevelt as potential U. N. material, when he was arguing for the Ukraine and Byelo (White) Russia. So Mr. Lawrence's idea is not entirely new.

We Can't Resist The Temptation

Good rains fell over much of the southeastern region of the United States Friday, and Beaumont in southeast Texas reported 2.17 inches for the only precipitation in the Lone Star State.

We could use some of that stuff around here, after a total absence of it for several weeks now, and while it might interfere with Christmas parades and with Christmas shopping to a certain extent, the blessings bestowed by a good general rain would override any mere consideration of parade-watching and a Christmas shopping rush.

After some weeks of absence from the predicting business we detect that old feeling coming on. Our weeks of abstention from weather forecasting has perhaps benefited our standing as a prophet, since we have made no guesses and therefore committed no errors, but for your true, inveterate amateur meteorologist even a self-imposed period of inaction can be a terrific wrench. We have been slightly off our feed of late, and a touch of insomnia plus recurrent dreams of falling down a well have troubled us.

We're going to have some weather before long folks, with more than a bit of moisture intermingled with the wind, and cold, the afternoon heat, the dust and the sand.

We'd hate to see any public occasions rained or snowed out, but we need the rain to revive and sustain our dry-planted winter grain, and who are we to find fault with a blessing?

So mote it be.

The Listing Of Ford On The 'Big Board'

To George Keith Funston, at the youthful age of 45, has come a distinction that would flatter many a business man: The president of the New York Stock Exchange has made the front cover of Time magazine. For Time, he's a capitalist Messiah, anxious to make every American an owner of common stocks. Time chose a headline occasion for this accolade—the announcement by the Ford Foundation of the proposed sale of 6,952,298 shares of Ford Motor Co. stock to the public.

To Funston, the Ford proposal was the triumph of the common man over the family-dominated corporation. Americans soon would be able to ride Ford stock to their fortunes while riding Ford motor cars to Grandma's. Funston promptly declared he would urge the Board of Governors of the Exchange to list the Ford stock.

This was a setback for his tough, aggressive rival, Edward T. McCormick, president of the American Stock Exchange. The Big Board would get the commissions, not the "Curb." But it's a cheap, tawdry victory for Funston, gained by lowering standards, sacrificing principles.

The American Stock Exchange will trade in voting, non-voting, and restricted-voting common stocks. But the Big Board has been choosy. Since 1926, the New York Stock Exchange has refused to list stocks of companies controlled by insiders with minority holdings through voting devices.

Several years back, when M. A. Hanna & Co. decided to issue a nonvoting stock, Funston personally tried to persuade Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey, former Hanna chairman, that this was an unworthy practice and a departure from high principle. He told the Secretary that so long as Hanna stock had no vote, no Hanna shares could be listed by the Big Board. It's significant that Hanna A stock, traded over the counter, sells three points lower than Hanna B, which has voting rights.

The Board of Governors of the Exchange should stop its president from a debasment of standards. It should refuse to list Ford Motor Co. stock. It should let McCormick have the business.

Under the Ford Foundation plan to sell stock, voting control, for all practical purposes, will reside with the Ford family. The family starts off owning 6,480,750 shares of non-voting B stock. This represents 12 per cent of the 53,461,000 shares which will be outstanding. It can sell 3,780,000 shares and with its remaining 2,700,000 shares, or as little as 5 per cent of the outstanding stock, possess 40 per cent of the voting power.

Furthermore, the family can reduce its holdings another 1,200,000 shares to 1,500,000, or 2.8 per cent of the outstanding stock, and possess 30 per cent of the voting power. That's a disproportionate representation! That's control by minority interest!

Funston and Philip L. West, vice president of the Exchange in charge of stock listing, justify the Ford stock okay in this fashion. Because the Foundation's 39,396,327 shares will be non-voting, 60 per cent of the voting power will reside with (a) public shareholders, who will buy 6,952,298 shares from the Foundation, and (b) 106 key Ford employees, who own 632,100 shares. What could be more equitable than, giving 14 per cent of the equity 60 per cent of the vote when the Ford family's 12 per cent gets only 40 per cent of the vote?

That's specious. If the Foundation sells additional stock, each of these newly-sold shares gets a vote—at the expense of the voting strength of each public share already outstanding. But the Ford family voting strength is untouched and unimpaired. The public voting power never increases beyond 60 per cent so long as the Fords hold 2,700,000 shares, or beyond 70 per cent so long as the Fords hold 1,500,000 shares.

If the Fords hold 2,700,000 shares, an opposition would have to amass 85 per cent of the votes of the publicly-owned stock to change the management; if the Fords hold 1,500,000 shares, the percentage drops to 73. But either, in a proxy fight, is an almost impossible proportion. Especially since Ford key employees would probably vote their "public" stock for management—for themselves.

You can understand the Ford family's desire to perpetuate control as inexpensively as possible through minority holdings. That's entirely human. But the Exchange doesn't have to abet the Fords in this endeavor.

If the Exchange admits Ford stock, under this plan, how can it refuse to list stocks of other companies, whose insiders would like to sell non-voting stock to the public, as in the past? Non-voting stock is open and above board. The investor knows he has no power to oust the management. But, in the proposed Ford setup, the investor gets the impression of having power, but really doesn't. So the Exchange, because of its accepted high standards, perpetrates a sham on the public.

By rejecting the Ford listing application, the Board of Governors can rise above Funston to the New York Stock Exchange's previous principles.

Teacher Shortage Is Big Dilemma

WASHINGTON (U)—The lack of schoolteachers is one of the biggest dilemmas before the President's White House Conference on Education, which is meeting here for four days.

Will higher salaries get more men and women into teaching and keep them teaching? That's one of the possible solutions. The Fund for the Advancement of Education doubts it's the only one.

The fund, a private organization doing research in this field, points to another reason why more people don't make teaching a career: promotion is too slow and is not based on performance but on time served and credits accumulated.

What kind of salaries do teachers get? And how many teachers are needed? The following information has been put together from statistics gathered by the fund, the National Education Assn. and the U. S. Office of Education.

Right now in public and private schools—elementary, high and college—there are about 37,900,000 students. In 10 years the number will be an estimated 51,502,000.

More teachers will be needed not only to take care of the increase in the number of students but to replace teachers who quit for better jobs in private business or women who quit to be married and stay home.

S. M. Brownell, commissioner of the U. S. Office of Education, estimates there was a shortage of 141,300 qualified teachers this year.

But the number of college graduates has been going down. They reached an all-time high in 1950 when 434,000 were graduated. In 1955 the number was 285,000. They were of the generation born in the depression. Births picked up during and after the war. The number of college graduates in the future will increase.

But the President's committee on the White House conference says that only 86,696 of those graduated from college in 1955 were qualified to teach in grammar and high schools.

The fund says that to "maintain the present over-all pupil-teacher ratio, the schools will have to enlarge their teaching staffs more in the next 10 years than in the previous 35. The colleges and universities will have to add more teachers in the next 15 years than in all previous history combined."

There are now about 1,110,600 qualified people teaching but about 7½ per cent of the teachers drop out of the profession every year. They have to be replaced in addition to the extra teachers needed to handle the increased school enrollments.

The national average of teachers' pay in 1954-55 for grammar schools was $3,614 and for high schools, $4,194. The average for both combined was $3,816.

The range was wide between one state and another. New York paid the highest average grammar school teacher salary—$4,700; Mississippi paid the lowest—$1,880.

For high school teachers California ($5,400) and New York ($5,375) paid the highest average salary. Mississippi and Arkansas, paying an average of $2,400 each, were at the bottom of the list.

Cowpokes World's Worst Shots

NEW YORK (U)—In the wild and woolly West, it seems, there was nothing wilder than a cowboy's aim.

Millions of American kids today take it for granted that the oldtime cowboys were faster than greased lightning on the draw and practically never missed their target in a gunfight.

"The plain fact is," says Herbert O. Brayer, "that cowboys as a group were generally poor shots. Alas, it is all too true. They couldn't hit the broad side of a barn!"

Brayer, alas, is no mere killjoy bent on overturning youthful idols. He is recognized as a top authority on the wild West, and spent years going through court records and getting sworn testimony to debunk the legend that the average cowboy was an artist with a six-gun. The result of his researches, proving that cowboys missed more often than they hit, are carried in the January issue of the magazine "Guns."

Here are a few of his disclosures:

Item: The famous Texas cattleman, Charles Goodnight told Brayer: "I've known hundreds of the best and worst cowpunchers in the business, and the number of real working cowboys who could hit a man at 50 feet with a .44 or .45 you could count on your fingers and toes. But some of them were pretty fair shots with a rifle—and some were damn good!"

"The best shots in the cow country certainly were not the cowboys—they were the ones who usually got shot! It was the professional gun slingers who spent their time learning to draw fast and shoot straight while the honest cowpoke was busy branding, driving up the draws, repaling fence, or busting steers out of the bush.

"If there was a gunfight in town in which someone was badly hurt or killed, you could almost bet there was a professional gunman involved, a lawman, gambler, or one of the outlaws who found safety on the frontier."

Item: Jim Shaw, a veteran trail rider who became president of the Wyoming Stock Growers Assn., said: "I only knew a half dozen real cowboys who were experts with revolvers. My brother could put five out of six bullets into a playing card at 50 feet, but I've seen him miss completely against a live target at 25 feet."

Item: Many cowboys preferred rifles or shotguns to revolvers, and as early as the late 1870's many ranchers forbade the carrying of firearms on the range, during roundup or while on the trail. If on rare occasions they needed a handgun they hired one. They didn't depend on their own cowboys.

Item: In 1881 two rival groups of cowboys got in a gunfight in a Dodge City, Kan. saloon. More than 100 shots were fired, and the only casualty was a cat. The cowboys could have done better with rocks or beanshooters.

Item: In one shooting fracas in New Mexico in 1884 a 19-year-old Mexican boy killed four cowboys and wounded six others, then holed up in an adobe hut and fought 80 besieging cowboys for a draw. Some 4,000 shots were poured at him, but at the end of 33 hours the boy surrendered unharmed on his own terms and got off scot free.

Item: Many cowboys kept their guns in such poor condition that if fired they were more likely to blow up themselves than their quarry. In 1887 U. S. Deputy Marshall Timothy Toombs of the Dakotas said: "Most cowboys are very slow in drawing and unless they take plenty of time to sight their weapons have little chance of hitting even a stationary target."

Item: In 1,020 shooting incidents in 13 cowtowns between 1870 and 1890 Brayer found only 84 cowboys were killed while shooting at each other but 266 cowboys died with their boots on while battling non-cowboys!

The truth is that many of the cowboys were teen-agers who wore a six-gun only as a badge of manhood—and really didn't know quite how to handle it if they tried to use it in a hurry.

Of course, kiddies, you already knew that the Indian was a pretty poor shot, too. Or did you? Any good modern archer today could outshoot the bow-and-arrow Indian of a century ago.

Who can a kid believe in? Maybe Buck Rogers. . . . Maybe.

Drag Racers Need 'Starter'

Why doesn't the city hire a "starter" to tabulate the winners of the races on Main Street around midnight almost every night?

What is needed is a man with colored flags to wave the boys off as they begin a "heat" from Ninth going south and maybe another one to designate the winner at Eighteenth.

After all, it's a shame to see all that risk and gasoline wasted. You might be one of those fortunate ones that hasn't witnessed this thrilling spectacle.

The racers usually line up about three abreast in front of Malone and Hogan Hospital. Then, after the proper racing of motors and loud yells, the race is started. The first gear change is made about Tenth Street which gives the drivers a chance to look around the turn for oncoming cars.

Main curves a little at Eleventh and the street narrows down. By the time the cars have reached this point, it is necessary for one of them to get out front because it isn't wide enough for all of them to pass three abreast. By some miracle they usually manage to make the turn without any getting killed.

In a recent movie here, the teen-agers played a game called "chicken." The object was to run their cars as fast as they would go toward a cliff and the first one to jump out was a "chicken."

Our teen-agers are more refined. They use Main Street, not some out of the way place. But I bet that turn at Eleventh is as dangerous as any cliff if all three cars tried to get through at once.

But getting back to a starter. He would come in pretty handy in keeping score as well as making sure all the racers started at the same time. Who knows, a little later on, bleachers might be built so that others could watch the race besides the residents living on Main.

Or, of course, the racing on Main Street could be stopped.

Pakistan Move Doesn't Help Us In India

NEW DELHI (U)—At the moment that Russia's two salesmen, Bulganin and Khrushchev, are touring India selling the line of peaceful cooperation the United States has made certain moves that put renewed emphasis on military alliances. If this is a coincidence then, to say the least, it is unfortunate.

If it is done by calculated design, then it is folly which can mean further disaster for America in Asia.

The first move was the announcement that the United States would be sending official observers to Baghdad and thus become a junior partner in the northern tier pact. With this came the news that twenty million dollars would go to Pakistan to improve military airfields and harbor installations. In India this was taken to be a sum in addition to the military aid already going to Pakistan.

On top of this came the reported cut in American economic assistance to India from the fifty millions voted by Congress to forty millions. This cut, which has not been officially confirmed, is reportedly being made by the Administration in Washington for economy reasons.

In view of what can happen here in this country of three hundred seventy million persons determined to follow its own course to economic as well as political independence, the question of the wisdom of the policy of military pacts in this troubled part of the world comes sharply into focus. The question is whether the strength they are intended to create is not offset by the hostility aroused and the countermeasures which that hostility generates.

The heart of the issue in India is the defense pact which the United States entered into with Pakistan, India's Moslem neighbor on the north created out of the bloody partition which followed independence. At the time America agreed to provide military aid to Pakistan under the defense pact, India and Pakistan had been close to war over the disputed province of Kashmir. The military assistance was interpreted here as tipping the balance in favor of Pakistan despite repeated American protestations that the alliance was wholly defensive.

Indians are quick to say that they see no difference between America giving arms to Pakistan and the Communist bloc selling arms to Egypt. The net effect in both cases in the Indian view is to increase the danger of war.

And, incidentally, the reporter in passing through the Middle East heard disturbing reports of American arms, provided as military aid to countries in the region, being secretly sold to Arab League nations preparing to challenge Israel. Such reports could not be verified short of lengthy on-the-spot investigation. But they are symptomatic of the divided loyalties that cast further doubt on the value of these alliances.

One consequence of the Pakistan-United States pact was that the Indian government felt it must in its turn build up military strength in Kashmir and on the Pakistan-Indian border.

This meant a further strain on the economy as the government was making every effort to put over a first five-year plan for expanding agriculture and industry. While from the Western viewpoint this may have seemed a foolish reaction since the pact was defensive in nature, yet it was nevertheless the direct consequence of the fear that the promise of arms from the United States inspired.

The pious protestations of peace and goodwill coming from Bulganin and Khrushchev are perfectly transparent in the West where the meaning of the Soviet Union's vast armaments in being and in production has been made abundantly clear. But the point, and it cannot be stressed too often, is that they are saying to large numbers of the Indian people exactly what the Indians want to hear—that societies with differing systems can live peacefully in mutual cooperation. While their words are belied by their stubborn refusal at Geneva to negotiate the basic issues between East and West, the Khrushchev-Bulganin team is working hard on the theme that Russia wants peace and only some wicked old reactionaries in the West stand in the way.

India is bound to try to go its own independent course. Because the Soviet salesmen profess to approve that course they have a decided edge. Scolding and chiding and warning from the West will only strengthen the suspicion that the West, and America in particular, means to try to dominate by persuasion if possible, by coercion if necessary.

All About Designing Women

NEW YORK (U)—Men design women's clothes. And now some women are designing men's apparel.

One maker of men's suits (H. Daroff and Sons) has hired a woman to advise retail outlets to encourage women to shop for men's clothing, with the idea that will boost sales volume.

A maker of men's hats (Frank H. Lee Co.) has hired a woman to design its new spring line on the theory that a woman would know best how a man should look—so as not to clash with his wife's fashions.

"Many women have long been very vocal about telling their men what they ought to wear. Many pick out the clothes, on the theory the husband's taste can't be trusted. Others go along as unpaid but certainly not unheard consultants."

But a lot of men resent it and won't permit their wives to choose anything for them.

Some merchants say the wife spurs the husband into spending more on his appearance than he would if he weren't nagged. They report 50 per cent of their sales of men's suits are made while the wife watches.

Others say that the wife just complicates sales, wastes clerk's time and upsets other and unaccompanied males who may be there shopping.

Some men, who choose their own suits, are content to let the women do the shopping for shirts, underwear, socks, pajamas and the like.

Merchants say 70 per cent of such items are bought by women.

H. Daroff and Sons also had a research organization query women shoppers on the subject of men's duds.

More than a third of the women said, "Everything is left up to me." But almost half said style was specified, though less rarely was brand and color mentioned. The women said when they went along with their husbands they were listened to on the matter of fit, but seldom consulted about fabric, color, brand or price.

First Casualty Of The Season

HOLLYWOOD (U)—The first casualty of the new TV season is My Favorite Husband, and recently Barry Nelson held a wake for it.

Well, it wasn't really a wake. Barry and his beautiful wife Teresa gave a party at their hillside home to fete the friends they've scarcely had time to see during his 2½ years with the program. Among the guests: Edmund Purdom with Linda Christian, Ed (Duffy's Tavern) Gardner, Don Taylor, Mary Shipp and Vanessa Brown. Barry's costar on the show.

Conversation naturally got around to the late "Husband." It did wonderfully well as a live show with Barry and Joan Caulfield in its first year, so-so the second. After 13 weeks this year as a filmed show with Nelson and Miss Brown, it was canceled.

How come?
"I don't know exactly," replied Barry. "There is some evidence that it wasn't meant to last, that the sponsor accepted the show somewhat reluctantly.

"It was a shame, because the show did have promise at the first. It was brightly written and directed. Later, the original viewpoint was clouded. This year we had 10 new writers on the show."

"That might be all right on a show like the Eve Arden or Lucy, where the characters are clearly defined. But when you have different writers working on the characters we played, you end up with only an outer shell."

What are Nelson's plans now?
"I've got some things coming up in TV and a couple of plays to consider," he said. "What I'm looking for is a medium hit. I don't think I could take another long run. I was 2½ years in 'The Moon Is Blue' on Broadway and another 2½ years in My Favorite Husband."

ZOOM AND BOOM IS TEST PILOT'S JOB
Phillip Houghton breaks through sonic barrier

SONIC BOOMS

Pilots Get A Bang Out Of Top Speeds

By ROBERT HUNT

ST. LOUIS (U.S.)—A jet airplane cracks the sound barrier and somewhere in an area up to 35 miles away newspapers and police switchboards can be flooded with telephone calls.

The reason: "sonic booms."

Just what is a boom?

It's a phenomenon of nature set up when any object or impulse moves through the atmosphere faster than the speed of sound. One of a group of sonic waves are set up, creating the sound, which in the case of a plane can resemble a single or double explosion or a distant momentary rumble.

Actually, it's nothing new. The crack of a whip or rifle bullet is a sonic report, only small in intensity. But the boom from jets has come to us since the late 1940s when only a few planes could reach supersonic speeds, and then only in dives.

Now the most advanced military fighters can far exceed the speed of sound in level flight, setting up the chain reaction on the ground below as they reach velocities approaching 1,000 miles an hour. But the pilot knows only from a small meter in the plane that he's passed the mark.

Phillip Houghton, 35-year-old senior experimental test pilot for McDonnell Aircraft Corp. who's broken the barrier hundreds of times, explains it this way:

"Probably the most interesting sensation about breaking the sonic barrier is the complete lack of any sensation at all."

Houghton says the transition to supersonic flight is made smoothly and the average pilot of these planes can "slip back and forth across the barrier many times in one flight without thinking much about it."

And everytime it's done, by a law of nature, a sonic wave pattern is set up which Air Force research estimates can be heard from 15 to 35 miles away.

Whether it will be heard, and just how loudly, depends largely on atmospheric conditions at the moment.

Pilots who fly at these speeds are instructed to maintain high altitudes to minimize public inconvenience but the booms don't always cooperate.

Property damage from the booms is extremely rare under normal atmospheric conditions and, if you're worried, Air Force research shows there are no known cases of adverse effects on the human body.

Honor Planned For Father Of Atomic Theory

XANTHI, Greece (U.S.)—Greek philosopher Democritus, who fathered the atomic theory nearly 2,500 years ago, is to have a commemorative monument erected in his home town, Abdera.

Atomic scientists from all over the world will be invited to attend the unveiling next year. The University of Salonika is sponsoring the project.

Recent excavations brought to light the vestiges of Abdera, 15 miles south of the contemporary town of Xanthi, in western Thrace.

Democritus was born there between 470 and 460 B. C. Tradition has it that he learned theology and astrology in his early teens from Chaldean Magi who came to Thrace in the wake of Persian King Xerxes' invading armies. Later he traveled extensively.

By the time he came back home, he had become one of the most erudite men of his generation.

He died at the age of 109.

It is said that he felt the hour of his death approaching and told his sister. The news greatly upset the old lady, because she figured his death would prevent her from attending the Feast of the Theophoroi, due to be celebrated that same day. So Democritus obligingly postponed his death three days.

He managed it, legend says, by applying freshly baked bread loaves over his nose and inhaling their hot fumes.

Democritus was the first philosopher to uphold the theory that "all matter is made up of atoms."

Messages Sent From N. Korea

SEOUL (U.S.)—More than 10,000 letters and messages from North Korea have been sent into South Korea since the armistice, home minister Kim Kyung Keun said today.

Kim said many of them are addressed to high South Korean government officials and "represent a change in tactics from armed offensive to internal subversion."

Many arrive via the United States or Japan, he said, and some are signed by former South Korean leaders now in the North.

The messages call for general elections throughout Korea, free passage between North and South, offers of Northern electricity to the power-starved South, messages to students, invitations to recent North Korean celebrations and appeals to Southern leaders for political negotiations.

Get Another Boy

Dear Miss Brandow:

The boy I like now lives in another town and is crazy about a girl there. What can I do to get him to forget her and pay attention to me again?

Gwen

There are times when you can't do anything. There are times when you find you have chosen a dead end street. Then you have to back up and look for happiness down another street.

Columnists are not witches with love potions. I wish we were. We can help only so far, but if the boy isn't even a little interested and instead has another girl on his mind, we can't make him do anything.

Getting him might make you very happy, but if you can't get him, let me assure you that somewhere there is another boy who will be just as exciting and wonderful and who will make you just as happy.

If you spend your time crying and reminiscing, you will be wasting valuable time and it will take longer to find him.

You probably don't believe what I'm saying. It is hard to believe. When I was fifteen and jilted for the first time, someone told it to me and I didn't believe it either—then, I know it now—and someday you will too.

Hide everything that reminds you of him and keep the radio dialed to joyful tunes.

Join clubs where there are boys. Go to a large Sunday school. Make the X, with its co-ed activities, your new stomping ground. Go everywhere a girl can go to meet new boys. You may not find him right away, but you will eventually if you don't give up.

(Ready to Steady?) is a free booklet. Get yours by writing Miss Brandow in care of The Herald and enclosing a 3 cent stamp.)

Judge Okays Occasional Nip

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (U.S.)—Judge Luigi De Pasquale, who never took an alcoholic drink, says a man is a fool if he doesn't keep a little of his pay from his wife for a drink now and then.

The judge's comments were made in district court yesterday when a 49-year-old father of four came before him on a drunk charge for the third time in six months. The three charges were on complaint of his wife.

The man said he works hard, earns between $70 and $90 a week and brings it all home.

"This is a mistake," the judge said. "A man who takes all his pay home is a fool. He should save some for himself. Life would be pretty dreary for the average man unless he could have a drink now and then."

He ordered an innocent plea entered for the man and had him escorted home.

Judge De Pasquale, who is 60 years old and says he never had a strong drink in his life, is happily married and has three daughters and five grandchildren.

Warning Out On Laxative Ailment

BOSTON (U.S.)—Doctors were advised today to be on the alert for an intestinal ailment linked with abuse of certain laxatives lest it be mistaken for even more serious conditions.

Two University of Buffalo physicians said people who use certain strong "irritant" cathartics for prolonged periods can develop the condition and that doctors should keep it in mind not alone for its own potential harmfulness but also for this reason:

It is marked by changes in both the large and small intestines which, under X-ray examination, could falsely suggest the presence of such diseases as ulcerative colitis, enteritis or even intestinal tuberculosis.

Therefore, advised Doctors Norman Heilbrun and Charles Bernstein, patients in whom X-ray findings suggest outright inflammatory disease of the intestinal area should first be questioned as to whether they had used strong "irritant" cathartics for long periods.

If such is the case, they indicated, treatment then could be directed towards eliminating the cathartic cause of the ailment instead of incorrectly treating for a more serious condition.

Wife Slain Over Displaced Books

CHICAGO (U.S.)—Rubin Thomas, 37, told police he shot and killed his wife Edith, 35, and wounded two of his stepchildren yesterday because they moved some of his books from their living room to a back porch.

"I don't like cold books," he told Police Sgt. Salvatore Canzone after his arrest. He was held without charge.

The stepchildren are expected to recover.

People Of Athens Honored Goddess

By RAMON COFFMAN

Among the cities of long ago, Athens became the brightest of all. It shone because of the brilliant men who lived there—Socrates, Plato, Aristotle, Pericles and many others. Its statues and temples became famous; they were the best in Greece and, indeed, represented the greatest art of ancient times.

Q. From where did Athens get its name?

A. The name of Athens is associated with that of the goddess Athena. There is doubt, however, as to whether the people of Athens adopted the name of a goddess, or gave a goddess the name of their city.

Q. What was Athens supposed to be like?

A. Described as the "virgin goddess," Athena was one of the few Greek deities who failed to take a mate. The Greeks said that she was the goddess of wisdom, and that she gave mankind the wagon and the sailing vessel. She also was honored as the one who provided the first flute, and who taught people to wear sandals or shoes.

Q. Did Athens have anything to do with war?

A. The Greek myths said that she helped the Athenians in battle. Her desire was to defend Athens, and never to persuade the Athenians to start wars against other cities.

Q. When was Athens founded?

A. The history seems to go back about 3,000 years. Legend says that the first ruler was King Cecrops, but Theseus was honored as the one who set Athens free from foreign rule. This hero was said to have slain the Minotaur, and by that deed Athens was freed from the control of the kingdom of Crete.

A careful survey of Athenian history indicates that the city sprang from a union of a number of villages. The villages existed in the midst of hills, several miles from the seacoast.

Head of goddess Athena, and small statue of Nike, her symbol of victory.

Examines New Range

Mrs. S. M. Smith, who with her husband, manages the S. M. Smith Butane Company, looks over one of the new Wedgewood butane ranges sold by the concern. She boils an imaginary pot of coffee on one of the burners. Main office of the concern is located on the Lamesa Highway, near the city limits.

Ray Woodward, New Chef At Herb's, Has Wide Experience

Herb Vinson has obtained a real rarity for West Texas. A real chef who has a wide variety of dishes which he will be preparing for customers at Herb's Restaurant. The new chef is Ray Woodward who comes to Big Spring with 19 years experience in preparing rare delicacies and superb food.

"I think we will be able to give our customers foods which they have not thought of getting this side of New Orleans," Woodward said. The chef worked under a master cook for ten years in New Orleans before coming to Texas. He has recently been with the Odessa Athletic Club.

French foods and sea foods will be a specialty," Woodward said. He also mentioned a special Connecticut "game hen" which he is preparing special. One of the hens is enough for two persons, he said, or an extra hungry man might eat one alone.

"Extra good foods will go over big, in my opinion," Woodward said. He explained that he had several dishes in mind that would not be on the menu for lack of space, but they will be prepared for anyone requesting them.

Woodward and Vinson both pointed out that the prices would be economical for these specialties.

Herb's Restaurant opens at 6 a.m. and closes at 11 p.m. each day.

"We have plenty of parking space too," Vinson said. The large lot will park over 100 cars.

We have Hi-Fidelity dinner music for your enjoyment, Vinson added, and we give fast, efficient service. Woodward can prepare meals extra fast and there is no tiresome waiting for your food.

The restaurant is on East Third at Birdwell Lane, just five minutes round trip from downtown, he said. For folks in a hurry to get back to work, we can serve them in plenty of time.

An added treat for folks who like a big breakfast is biscuits. Herb's Restaurant will be about the only restaurant in Big Spring serving biscuits for breakfast.

Harland Gives A-1 Car Service Summer, Winter

Whether you're planning a week-end trip or simply use your car in connection with your business, chances are you've trained yourself to see that the vehicle is in proper working condition.

An automobile regularly serviced is one that usually can be counted upon to give A-1 service in summer and winter.

A place of business which specializes in such work is the Harland Magnolia Service Station, located at 1000 Lamesa Highway in Big Spring.

The concern is owned and managed by Garland Harland, long-time Howard County resident and long experienced at catering to the needs of the motoring public.

The many little services given by employees of the concern add up to the increased life and service of the family vehicle, if Harland's help is commissioned to do the work regularly.

Harland's employees take pride in their jobs. They endeavor to make the vehicle look like new, if the owner requests that it be washed and cleaned; and operate like new, if the customer requests a change in crankcase oil and greasing of vital parts.

Employees of the establishment can tell, following a quick inspection, whether the vehicle might need a new oil filter, necessary after a car has been driven 4,000 to 5,000 miles between changes.

Harland's has on hand a good supply of anti-freeze, which is ready to be installed in vehicles upon request. If you haven't gotten around to it, it might be wise to drive in now and have the anti-freeze installed, since the coldest weather of the season occurs in December and January.

Jones Motor Has Top Service Dept.

Jones Motor Co., 101 Gregg St., possessing one of the best-equipped service departments in this area, now offers an extra inducement to car owners who want expert, economical automotive service.

Jones is the exclusive Dodge-Plymouth dealer in Big Spring. The Dodge Division of Chrysler Corp. has just announced that Jones is one of the select group of dealers qualifying for a special four year service training award. To qualify, Jones Motor has sponsored a four-year graduate course in automotive service for its mechanics.

"This makes our service department outstanding because we not only have the best in the way of equipment but also the best manpower," Henry Jones, manager, said.

"It's amazing how much time and expense can be saved by using modern service engineering techniques. Our men can make a quicker, more accurate diagnosis which saves time and keeps the owner's service cost at a minimum."

The training course was developed by factory experts in Detroit. It is officially called the Chrysler Corp. Master Technicians' Service Conference.

Chrysler's training program is nationwide in scope. More than 50,000 mechanics have received advanced training to assure owners of uniform expert car service throughout the nation.

The plan involved use of modern instruction aids, including slide films, charts, handbooks, lessons, and practical work in the shop. Jones Motor has been Big Spring's Dodge-Plymouth dealer for 15 years, beginning their dealership in 1939. They have been at their present location at 101 Gregg almost nine years and have given expert service to all makes of cars for all that time. Also they are dealers in Dodge 'Job-Rated' trucks.
