TWO LOCAL MEN KILLED, THREE HURT IN CRASH

Nab Two Boys In Theft Cases

An investigation conducted by Aransas County Sheriff's Deputy Sergeant Mike Webb on some band instruments stolen from the Rockport-Fulton High School led to the clearance of eight burglary cases and two juveniles being charged on all nine cases.

Sergeant Webb stated that within the last four months, the 14 and 15 year old duo conducted a burglary wave of eight homes in the southern part of Aransas County that netted approximately $700 in merchandise and considerable damage to most of the burglarized homes.

Both youths are presently being held in the new John Wendell Juvenile Shelter.

Officers Go To Police School

Twenty-one officers from nine different law enforcement agencies attended a 40 hour course on "Evidence" and received certificates of completion.

The course was held by Del Mar College and is designed to help police officers with preparing cases for court and the proper presentation of evidence.

Classes were held in Gregory and the course was instructed by Chief Jim Craigmile of the Rockport Police Dept. and Officer Wallace Maley of the Aransas Pass Police Dept. Both of these men are state certified instructors for Law Enforcement courses.

Personnel from the following agencies were represented:

Aransas County Sheriff's Dept., Gregory Police Dept., Ingleside Police Dept., McMahan Electronic Security, Nueces County Constables Office,

Portland Police Dept., Rockport Police Dept., San Patricio County Sheriff's Dept., Taft Police Dept.

Three Charged With Burglary

Three local men were arrested and charged with burglary with intent to commit theft.

A new home located in Harbor Oaks was broken into and a dishwasher, electric stove and a disposal unit were removed and taken to the outside of the building. An outside air conditioning unit was disconnected also.

Due to a mix-up in plans the vehicle to be used to transport the items from the scene did not show up. The burglars left the scene with only the disposal unit.

Close cooperation between the Rockport City Police and the Aransas County Sheriff's department in developing evidence, led to the arrests several days later by the Rockport City police.

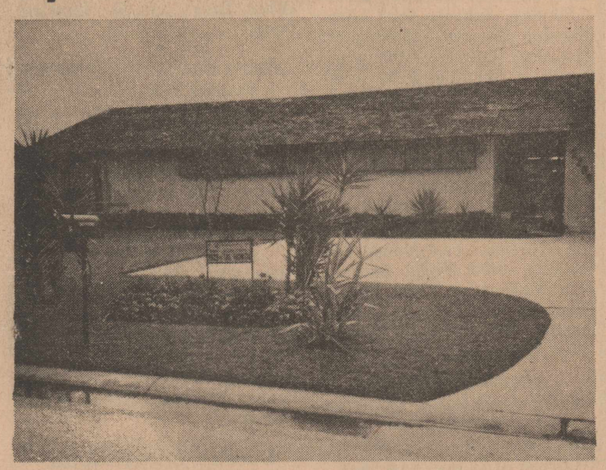

Arrested and placed under bond in the Aransas County jail was Larry Smith, age 23, Malcolm Scott Baker, age 19 and Herbert Kevin Baker, age 18, all listed Aransas County addresses.

Yard Of Month Award Won By Mr. and Mrs. Birdsall

The Yard of the Month award for October has been presented by the Rockport Home & Garden Club to Mr. & Mrs. H.E. Birdsall, 2207 Cape Charles, Harbor Oaks Subdivision, according to Mrs. Joe A. Hugenberg, chairman.

The front yard has several red lava-rock gardens. Each is filled beautifully and in exquisite taste. They contain yucca cacti from Mexico, crown of thorns, and a small patch of periwinkle and geraniums for color. There are also palm trees, a mesquite and Chinese tallow. Two bottle brush plants border each side of the lot and a boxwood natal plum shrub runs the length of the house. There are two cyphea ignoa or commonly called ciga plants on each side of the front entrance.

On the west side of the house the Birdsalls have a beautifully trained pyracantha. Going on to the back yard, of special interest are: variegated hibiscus, a pear tree, small orange tree and a Brazilian pepper tree. A border of kolanchoe goes around the porch and a shrub of wax leaf ligustrum. There are some oleander, bougainvillea, turks cap and a crepe myrtle tree. Sitting on the porch are several potted plants and hanging baskets. The Birdsalls say that work is a constant thing to keep up the yard and it is quite obvious by the appearance of their beautiful yard that they do their work well.

The Yard of the Month award is given each month by the Rockport Home & Garden Club. Anyone is eligible to receive it and nominations may be made to Mrs. Joe Hugenberg, 1902 Bay, Rockport. Official photographer is Mrs. Richard Beck.

Herrera Has His Probation Revoked

Alexandro Herrera pleaded guilty on February 20 to an indictment charging him with possession of marijuana in the 36th District Court and his punishment was assessed at 2 years confinement in the penitentiary.

He was placed on probation conditioned that he not violate the penal laws, pay court costs within 60 days and a monthly supervisory fee of $10.

District Attorney John H. Flinn filed a motion to revoke Herrera's probation because he unlawfully possessed and was convicted of possession of marijuana in County Court of Aransas County in November, 1973, failed to pay his court costs within sixty days and failed to pay his monthly supervisory fees.

City Rejects Bid for $3,000 Tax Break for Those Over 65

Despite the objections of a good sized audience of people 65 and older, the City Council Monday declined to pass an ordinance that would have given owners of city property who are 65 or older a $3,000 exemption on their property taxes.

Mayor Walter S. Falk, Jr., and Alderman N.F. Jackson said such a regulation would be unfair to younger property owners and they both suggested that if those 65 and older want such a measure passed they should get the necessary number of signatures on a petition and demand a referendum election. Such a petition would require at least 20 per cent of the voters who voted at the last city election.

Alderman Seth Steele made a motion that the $3,000 overage tax exemption be granted. No other alderman seconded the motion, so the motion died for lack of a second.

Other matters acted on at the Council meeting included:

--Council accepted a recommendation of the Park Board that a pony league ball field be built at Memorial Park from funds to be supplied as follows: $4,000 from City, $4,000 from Aransas County; and additional funds from various organizations.

near the scene of the snooting. Mario M. Garcia testified that he was driving in the area and that he picked up Victor Herrera. Silva came up to the car and fired at Herrera twice, authorities said. Then Silva fired at witness three times, it was alleged. All shots were fired from a snub nosed .22 caliber revolver.

The State then called the injured party, Victor Herrera, of Rockport, who testified he was at the Bayshore Courts on July 8. He testified that Silva came there, and that he thought Silva shot him. He appeared to be unfriendly to the prosecution, and the court permitted the District Attorney to impeach Herrera by introduction of a statement made and signed by Herrera on the day he was shot, a court official said. In the statement Herrera said, "Jose David Silva started shooting at me so I ran out the door. Silva was running after me shooting--Jose David Silva came up to the car window--started shooting again at me." After this evidence the parties rested. The Court instructed the jury and counsel argued, and the jury retired to the jury room.

One and half hours later the jury brought in a verdict of guilty.

Then evidence of the defendant's record was given the jury and they retired again to assess the punishment.

The jury set punishment at 6½ years confinement in the Texas Department of Corrections and a fine in the amount of $2,500.00

--The City received the following letter from the Texas Highway Department:

Mr. Herman C. Johnson
City Secretary
SUBJECT: Traffic Signal Studies in Rockport
Dear Mr. Johnson:

We have made volume counts at the above mentioned locations and find that the Interruption of Continuous Traffic Warrant is met at the intersection of S.H. 35 and Austin Street and does justify the installation of a fixed-time signal at this location. The study of the intersection of F.M. 881 and Loop 70 indicated that none of the warrants were met to justify the installation of a traffic signal. During the study of this intersection, it appeared that many people going into parking spaces at the Post Office were not practicing good driving habits and possibly some public awareness (an article in the paper, mentioning at civic organizations & PTA meetings) could help improve the situation. Police enforcement of "not backing across the entire street so that the driver may return the same direction that he approached the Post Office" may improve the accident possibilities also.

I talked with Mr. Shultz, Public Works Director, in the City Hall on Tuesday, September 24, 1974 about these intersections and left copies of the proposed Plan Sheets requesting his assistance in plotting the utilities and returning the sheets to us. We plan to construct this signal when the plans are complete and all equipment and materials have been assembled.

Please find attached City Spot Map, Traffic Survey Count Analysis Sheet, Vehicle Volume Summary Sheet and Intersection Layouts supporting our recommendations for the two intersections. Should you or the council have any questions on either of the intersections or our plans, please feel free to contact us at any time.

Woman Held On "Pot" Charge

In addition, the bewildered Miss Wright found herself facing a charge of unlawful possession of a narcotics drug which was found in her purse by Deputy Beard during prisoner processing at the jail.

Miss Wright was placed under two bonds totaling $7,500 by Judge Lawrence Miller, Precinct #1.

OUTDOORS 'n things

by L. D. NUCKLES

International orange is a color you hear a lot about these days. Many exhaustive tests have shown that this color can be seen better by human eyes than any other, under ALL conditions.

Let's first consider its use on water: No natural phenomena can produce this color on the water, so when you see it you know that it has something to do with man. White can be easily seen, but when there are whitecaps on the water it isn't noticed. Yellow is easy to see too, but it is too near white to be quickly picked out and recognized. Red is considered easy to see by most people, but tests show that this is not true - it's too dark. There is no question that the blazing, glowing color of international orange is the easiest to see on water. That's why life preservers are almost always this color.

In hunting there is a great need for wearing this color - and NO reason for not wearing it. A lot of hunters feel that they absolutely must wear camouflage coveralls, and this is especially true of archers. In warfare, when man hunts man, this camouflage clothing works fine - unless the man you hunt is color-blind. Then your camouflage is useless, because these abnormal eyes refuse to be fooled by the patchwork of colors. Practically all mammals, and this includes deer, are color-blind. Man and some of the big apes seem to be the only mammals who can distinguish colors. Deer pay no attention to color, any color. Movement is what attracts their eye. When you wear dull browns and greens while hunting you're not hiding from the deer - you're just making it more difficult for another hunter to make out what you are.

It has been proven that bulls, in spite of all the old tales, pay no more attention to red than they do to any other color. Matadors could entice a charge just as readily with black, purple, blue, or white capes - but where would you find a fighter of the bulls who would fly in the face of tradition and use any cape except a red one? Again, movement is what attracts the eye.

Many states require that a certain number of square inches of the hunters clothes must be international orange, and I believe that eventually all states will come to this. A great many people resent any legislation that attempts to force them to do anything for their own safety, seat belts are a good example, so there will always be those who resist the wearing of international orange. It must be a great comfort to their widows, after they have been shot by another hunter, to be able to say, "He wasn't about to let anyone tell him what color clothing he should wear hunting".

International orange can be found in just about all plastics, regular or flourescent paints, and woven into all outdoor clothing. Consider your visibility to other people when you chose ANY outdoor recreational clothing or equipment. It could save your life.

EXTRA! EXTRA! EXTRA!

The day of the newspaper extra is a thing of the past due to radio, television, etc. However, the owner of The Pilot solved the problem last week when his grandson was born.

Jonathan Kelly Rogero, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy V. Rogero, Jr., weighed in at 8 pounds, ½ ounce at Spohn Hospital on Thursday night, September 10, too late for that week's issue of the paper.

Since so many people had for some time been inquiring if the young man had made his appearance, his grandad decided that a poster in the window of the newspaper office would tell most everyone. The picture above tells all that was necessary.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kovich of Houston and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy V. Rogero, Sr., of this city.

Letter To Publisher

Dear Mr.Rogero,

This is to congradulate you for owning and publishing a fine weekly newspaper, the Rockport Pilot, which I have been reading regularly for the past 2 years. One gets the "inside story" of Rockport while reading the Pilot. All the events, problems, pleasures and hopes of Rockport are well portrayed.

Let me introduce myself. I am a physician practicing in Topeka since 1958. I am of Lebanese ancestry, having emigrated to the U.S. in 1952. Mrs. Grayib and myself have been vacationing in the Rockport area practically every year since 1968. My hobby is bird watching and philosophy. I especially enjoy reading the column "Outdoors 'N Things" by L.D. Nuckles. I also enjoy reading the Kinsey Report by your editor.

In the September 12 issue of the Pilot, Mr. Kinsey wrote about his interviews with out of town visitors in Rockport on the Saturday preceding Labor Day. They all had a good word about the Rockport community. One man said "Don't ever change Rockport-Fulton-Lamar into a Miami type resort." I feel my thoughts on Rockport are identical with the man mentioned in the Kinsey Report.

I plan to be in Rockport during the first 3 weeks of November. I hope to have an opportunity to meet people interested in preserving the environment and beauty of Rockport. I trust your newspaper will always carry such a message.

Yours Sincerely,
A Subscriber from Topeka, Kansas.

The officers took a pledge to do their best this year. The following officers were installed: teacher, Mrs. Roy Kuykendall; president, Mrs. Gladise Thompson; vice president, Mrs. Walter Scales; secretary, Miss Evelyn Townsend; assistant secretary, Mrs. Gene Johnson, social chairman, Mrs. T.L. Beedy; social chairman, Mrs. Jim Ferguson; assistant, Mrs. Art Cox; publicity, Tiney Gayle.

A gift was presented to Mrs. Kuykendall, the teacher. Games and refreshments were enjoyed by all. There were 19 members present.

ELECTED

Nancy Smith, senior business major of Rockport, has been elected president of Chi Omega, a social sorority, at Texas A&I University in Kingsville.

A 1971 graduate of Rockport-Fulton High School, Miss Smith is the daughter of Mrs. Elaine Smith of Rockport.

Two couples who are friends of ours became the very proud parents of precious babies last week. Naturally each infant--one a boy and the other a girl--is absolutely beautiful.

The mother of the tiny boy said, "He is absolutely handsome and he looks just like his father without the mustache."

Sharing in the happiness and pride of these two young couples, one thinks about a lot of things, such as the excitement when your own two children (each now married, with two children of their own) became your very own to cherish, love and care for.

And then you recall the many stages that babies and little boys and little girls go through, and the occasional worries and concerns that the parents go through, and their attempts to do the best they can for their children.

Flashing through your mind are the day your son won first place in the 220-yard dash, and the day your daughter got first place in the spelling bee.

Any parents who reach the 60's and have a son and daughter they're proud of could offer a little advice to new parents. But the older couple got lots of advice when they were young parents and they had to learn for themselves what to do and what not to do to raise healthy, happy children.

And probably this will always be true.

Meanwhile, to these two young couples with their precious new arrivals, much happiness for you and yours and may the good Lord guide you as you help shape the future of your babies.

It's a Girl !!

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry McLead are the proud parents of a 7 lb. 7½ oz. girl born October 9. She has been named Annesa Sue.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. H.R. (Shorty) Kline and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank McLead.

Presbyterian Circle Meets

Circle 1, Women of First Presbyterian Church, met in church Memorial Room October 10. Mrs. L.V. Clark, hostess, served cake and coffee to ten members and a guest, Mrs. W.H. Poole.

Mrs. Melvin Rheinlander, chairman, presided over business meeting. Service projects were reported on. Mrs. L.V. Clark read prayer by Jill Perkins of Vietnam, as Least Coin Offering was received.

Mrs. Volney Cavitt moderated Bible lesson from Book of Matthew. Mrs. Marshall Whitcomb will be hostess for November meeting, with Mrs. Ted Little serving as Bible lesson leader.

Fulton Lions Drawing Set

The Fulton's Lions Club is holding a drawing to raise money for the Texas Lions Camp for Crippled children.

Since the camp opened in 1953, thousands of blind, deaf mute and crippled boys and girls have enjoyed two wonderful weeks of play and laughter at the Lions camp in Kerrville free of charge.

Proceeds from this drawing will also go to the South Texas Lighthouse for the Blind which provides jobs and services for a great number of blind people.

First prize in the Fulton Lions drawing will be a popular high power rifle with scope or the winner may choose an equivalent prize. Women may want a dishwasher or some other appliance. The tickets are a dollar donation. They can be obtained from any Fulton Lions member or call George Smith at 729-0407 or Mike Yosemite at 729-5436.

Tree Custom

The custom of decorating small evergreen trees is said to have been originated by Martin Luther following his viewing of stars shining above an evergreen tree on Christmas eve. The World Almanac recalls that the custom of decorating Christmas trees with lights, sweets and colored paper was observed by early German settlers in Pennsylvania.

Seventh Grade Wins Game

The Rockport-Fulton Jr. High 7th grade Bucs hosted the Aransas Pass 8th grade B team Thursday night and came away with a convincing 16-0 victory.

Despite moving up and down the field in the first half the only points scored were by the Buc defense as the front line of Walter Beard, Bill Shendel, and Jeb Beall along with linebackers David Garcia and Esequil Hernandez stopped the Aransas Pass backs in the end zone for a safety.

During the rest of the game the Buc defense completely throttled the Aransas Pass offense with exceptional play turned in by Don Naver, Jerry Conchola, Buddy Watkins, and Miguel Contreras at the corners. The safeties were manned by John Garcia and James Stevens.

The Buc offense scored twice in the last half as James Stevens and James Klien, behind the blocking of Buck Wilke, Dave Smith, David Vise, David Gurza and Hector Soucedo, moved consistently on the ground.

The Bucs were quarterbacked by Mark Setterbo who did an outstanding job. The Bucs had a total of ten first downs to two for Aransas Pass. Rockport travels to Bishop Thursday to play the Badgers.

Editorial

Once again residents of this community are being asked to contribute to the Aransas County United Fund to help provide operating funds for 11 charitable, welfare and character-building agencies.

Without these organizations and deprived of the many good things they accomplish, our community would be a less desirable place in which to live. Their very existence is a mark of a civilized community composed of men and women who care about the quality of life in Aransas County—care enough to do their part in supporting these organizations with their personal and business contributions.

From a practical standpoint, the United Fund provides the most efficient, the most economical way to raise funds for the essential services provided our community by these agencies.

One united campaign permits the whole job to be done at one time eliminating separate drives for each of the 11 agencies. This plan saves money and the time of scores of solicitors who otherwise would be needed. Further, contributors can discharge their responsibility to the community-serving organizations with a single contribution.

From a humanitarian standpoint, a contribution to the United Fund is your way of expressing approval of the work of these organizations and a personal vote for a better community.

Jackson Wins 'Silver Wings'

Second Lieutenant Neulon D. Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence S. Jackson of Rt. A, Lamesa, has been awarded silver wings upon graduation from the U.S. Air Force navigator training at Mather AFB, Calif.

Lieutenant Jackson has been assigned to Little Rock AFB, Ark., for flying duty with C-130 Hercules aircraft with a unit of the Tactical Air Command. He will be leaving in October for temporary duty assignment in Germany.

The lieutenant, a 1968 graduate of Lamesa High School, received his bachelor's degree in music education in 1972 from Howard Payne College where he was a member of Phi Mu Alpha and Kappa Kappa Psi.

He was commissioned in 1973 upon completion of Officer Training School at Lackland AFB, Tex.

His wife, the former Mary Ellen McHugh, is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Wilkins of Fulton.

Eighth Grade Gets Win

Thursday night the 8th grade Bucs got their first win of the season with a 16-8 win over Aransas Pass. After falling behind 8-0 the Bucs put together a late first half drive with a 30-yard pass from Charles McLead to Tony Buenano for the touchdown. For the extra points McLead again went to the air. This time to tight end Jimmy Cruser, who made a fine catch at the edge of the end zone.

The second half opened with a 75-yard kick off return by Joe Brooks for the go ahead touchdown. McLead carried for the points after touchdown making the score 16-8. The remainder of the game was the Buc defense holding the Panthers and the offense moving the ball on the ground.

The Buc defense was led by Steve Naylor with 8 tackles and 2 assists. Arthur Perez and Hector Torres both had five tackles and three assists. Raymond Bauer, Louis Solis and Tony Smyerson also had a fine game. The Buc defensive secondary came up with 2 interceptions--one by linebacker Joe Brooks and the other by safety Gilbert Flores. Hollis Durban, Steve Stafford and Lawrence Miculka helped in pass coverage and forced the Panthers to rely on their running game for yardage.

The Buc offense was led by Charles McLead who completed 2 of three passes for a touchdown and points after touchdown. McLead also had 50 yards rushing on 80 carries. Fullback John Solis had 32 yards rushing on 8 carries. Tailbacks Juan Duke, Steve Stafford and Joe Brooks combined for 35 yards on 12 carries. Joe Brooks helped the Bucs field position with 141 yards returning punts and kickoffs. The Bucs offensive line did an excellent job blocking a much larger Panther defense. The Buc line is Jimmy Cruser, Steve Naylor, Gabriel Benavedez, Jackie Mundine, Jimmy Garrison, Lionel Vargas, and Tony Buenano.

The 8th grade Bucs record is now one win, two losses, one tie. The Junior High football teams travel to Bishop Thursday (today, Oct. 17) to play the Bishop Badgers. The game begins at 5:30.

An average dairy goat will produce two to four quarts of milk daily.

Making Beer Speech Topic

Production and distribution of beer was discussed by Sam Simpson, distributor for a San Antonio brewery at a luncheon meeting of Rotary Club October 9 at Ramada Inn. Simpson, a former member of the local Rotary Club, is now a resident of Corpus Christi.

He said beer was believed to have originated in ancient Egypt. It is known that a brewery was operated in Oxford, England in 1340.

Today the raw materials from which beer is produced are about the same everywhere--barley, corn or rice, whole hops or hops extract and water, according to Simpson who added that, despite advertising claims, water is water because it is always filtered before it is used in brewing to remove any impurities.

He explained that every brewery has its own formula which may differ slightly from those of other breweries. To produce uniform taste, aroma and appearance, the brewmaster must adhere to his established formula at all times.

Also, the amount of carbon dioxide in the finished product is carefully controlled. During the brewing process this gas is collected and later injected to provide the proper degree of effervescence.

Simpson explained that package beer, in bottles or cans, is pasturized to keep it from spoiling, while keg beer is raw beer which must be kept cold until consumed. He said packaged beer that is more than three months old should not be consumed and that beer, once cooled should not be allowed to become warm and then recooled. Also, he said freezing is harmful to beer, as is sunlight.

He said there were 756 breweries in the United States in 1934. By 1950 the number had grown to 1,500. Since then the number of companies producing beer has dropped to 76 with 335 different brands. Forty million barrels of beer were produced in 1934, while 1974 production is estimated at 143 million barrels.

Simpaon said the federal tax of $9 a barrel produces $1,287,000,000 in revenue and the Texas tax of $5 a barrel provides an annual revenue of 41 million dollars.

TRICK OR TREAT FOR UNICEF

The Youth Group of the First United Methodist Church will trick or treat for UNICEF on October 27. The United Nations Children's Fund has programs in 99 countries and has helped equip more than 50,000 rural-urban Health Centers. This date was chosen by the young people instead of Halloween to avoid interfering with the candy trick or treaters.

Aging Council Met Oct. 14

Mrs. Felix Tijerina has volunteered to act as interpreter and is going with Neal Gage, director of the Aransas County Council on Aging, as he continues his search for all those in the County who are over 65--especially those who have problems. Her aid in talking to the Latin Americans in that age group is a big asset and is deeply appreciated.

At the bi-weekly meeting of the Board of Directors, Monday, Oct. 14th at Memorial Room of the First Presbyterian Church, the following were present: Wm. McNickle, Chairman; Neal Gage, Director; Katherine Cavitt, Evelyn Townsend, Neva Sorenson, Zollie Glass, Mildred LeMaire, Sec.; John L. Leslie, Publicity Chairman; J.C. Bibbs, Jr., Treas. and Rev. John Bradshaw.

Many calls are being had from the sick who need to be carried to Corpus Christi to see a doctor. Volunteers are doing this in increasing numbers.

Plans are being made to continue this Outreach Program both through the organization and the churches.

Funding for this program for the next year will come 75% from the State Government through C.O.G., while 25 % will have to come from local contributions from the community.

Purl Two

As the ship was about to leave the harbor an old lady was knitting on deck. "Cast off there," shouted an officer.

"Thank you, officer," said the old lady tartly, "but I am quite capable of doing my own knitting."

Alligators cannot swallow unless completely submerged.

Appeal To Always Vote

The word "IDIOT" comes from a Greek word meaning "the man who did not vote"! There is no excuse for the indifference on Election Day. Men have struggled through the centuries to acquire the right to vote. Today there are many nations whose people have no voice in their government.

It was only a short time ago that, at government expense, the Harris Survey released the results of a study on replies to this question: "How much confidence do you have in selected governmental institutions and services?" The answers under "Great Deal of Confidence" were these: Local Trash Collection--52%, Local Police Department--44%, Local Public Schools--39%, State Highway Systems--34%, Local Government--29%, State Government--24%, Local Tax Assessment--19%, White House--18%.

The public has nearly three times as much confidence in the local collection as in the highest governmental office we can bestow--the American Presidency.

This lack of faith and confidence should become our challenge for the future. For, the people have the power to choose the kind of government in which they can have faith and confidence, and under which they can have faith and confidence, and under which they wish to live.

Every citizen is given equality, each vote is as big as any other, be the voter rich or poor, powerful or weak. The stay-at-homes hold the balance of power. That is the Achilles heel of Democracy.

To the voteless, voiceless, hopeless, of the oppressed in many lands this attitude of some Americans is incomprehensible.

So, register, and vote as you please--but please vote!

ACCENT ON HEALTH

J.E. PEAVY, M.D.
Commissioner of Health

The age-old warning of "let the buyer beware" has a new ring when it comes to product safety, for now there are government agencies looking out for your best interests.

Emphasis was given consumer protection by the "torch sweater" incidents of the early fifties. These soft, furry-like sweaters literally exploded into flames at the drop of a cigarette ash.

Early - day flammability standards resulting from the sweater dangers have been expanded to include a growing number of articles and substances potentially dangerous to the consumer which are sued in and around the home.

They may range from children's nightwear and toys to such things as carpets and rugs, stairs and landings, power tools, pool slides, aluminum wiring, baby beds, bicycles, kitchen ranges and tents used in camping. A growing list of these household or personal-use products are contained in present or future product standards.

The State Health Department is active in many areas of health and consumer protection, as well as health and safety of those involved in many occupations.

One of the biggest influences in the product safety area has been the general trend of consumer interest, says one State Health Department official. This has been reflected by action on both state and federal legislative levels.

It brought about creation of the Federal Production Safety Commission, which is concerned with almost all activities not covered by the Food and Drug Administration or other agencies. In Texas, it resulted in changes to the Hazardous Substances Act and doubtless will produce others as the state keeps pace with federal legislation.

At present four areas are covered in federal legislation by the Federal Product Safety Commission. These are:

1. Federal Hazardous Substance Act, including child protection and toy safety;
2. Flammable Fabric Act;
3. Poison Prevention Packaging Act; and
4. Refrigerator Door Entrapment Act.

The State Health Department's efforts in this field flow through the Product Safety Division, which is divided in two parts--Bedding Sanitation and Hazardous Products.

This field is new and expanding. At present, state flammability safety standards include children's sleepwear through size 6x and other flammable household products. Children's sleepwear through sizes 14 must be in compliance by May of 1975.

On the federal level, safety standards already have been developed for toys (electric, thermal, mechanical and those with sharp edges), fireworks, packaging of drugs and poisons, and old refrigerators.

If you have trouble opening the lid on an aspirin container or prescription drug it probably is a safety lid made to prevent its being opened by a child.

A federal ban on certain explosive type firecrackers was put off until after July Fourth celebrations, but the law is aimed at preventing such tragedies as the one which cost a 40-year-old man his foot. A friend threw a silver salute at him and yelled. The victim stepped back onto the firecracker.

The US Product Safety Commission can cite thousands of painful--sometime fatal--incidents involving consumer products. Texas has its share. Based on nationwide emergency room treatment, the PSC estimates:

--356,000 children and adults with injuries involving stairs, ramps and landings;

--More than 50,000 injuries associated with power lawn mowers;

--8,400 injuries from power hedge trimmers;

--More than 20,000 injuries involving gas and electric kitchen ranges;

--419,000 injuries in bicycle-related accidents.

These are just a part of the toll from use--or misuse of products. The State Health Department hopes that emphasis on consumer protection--and consumer education--can drastically reduce injuries and death.

H.E.B. BEST WAYS TO CUT FOOD COST

BEST WAY NO. 4

WHILE SHOPPING

Compare the prices of similar foods that are packaged differently, or sold in a different form, as for example, canned, fresh, frozen and powdered orange juice. Make comparisons on a ready-to-serve basis.

Do not be misled by the shape or size of containers in which the same food is packaged. Assuming that quality and other factors are equal, buy on the basis of price per ounce or cost per serving.

Read labels carefully.

Buy on the basis of experience, in terms of both quality and price as well as your family's preferences.

When using cents-off coupons, compare the price you usually pay for such items to the cents-off price.

Avoid impulse buying. Once you have compiled your shopping list, stick to it — unless, of course, you see something that you need that you forgot to note. Do not buy an item you do not need only because it is on sale or you have a money-saving coupon applicable to it.

Shop during busy hours — usually Thursday, Friday and Saturday morning — to get the freshest and most varied selection of meats and produce.

Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council

(RELEASED THROUGH PUBLIC INFORMATION OFFICE TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY, AUSTIN)

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The tenth story in this series on organized crime is an interview with Robert C. Flowers, director of the Governor's Criminal Justice Council, about crime-fighting and crime-prevention activities now in progress. The twelve stories in this public education program developed through the Texas Department of Public Safety are based on interviews with state law enforcement officials and representatives from the ten Texas Organized Crime Task Forces.)

AUSTIN—Everyone recognizes the threat of organized crime in Texas, but what is being done about it?

A great deal of counter-organization work by law enforcement authorities and much more to come, answers Robert C. Flowers, director of the Governor's Criminal Justice Council which funds federally-assisted police activities in the state.

"Law enforcement is not sitting on its hands," Flowers says. "There are over 50 special units of local police who work on a daily basis with crimes of an 'organized nature.'

"Our fight against organized crime is really just beginning in Texas, but we're certainly making a large and effective dent in enterprises sponsored by syndicate associations," Flowers said.

Such enterprises, reports the Texas Department of Public Safety, cover:

Bookmaking--perhaps the single largest financial return the syndicates have established in Texas. In a typical season, on football alone, the mob reaps $100 million from sports-minded Texas gamblers.

Narcotics--Texas' long borders offer vulnerable targets for traffickers in illegal drugs.

Fencing of Stolen goods--merchandise, credit cards and securities change hands with ease through "businesmen" who specialize in hot items.

Motor Vehicle Theft--often used as a "proving ground" for novice crooks who aspire to sub-boss and boss positions in the syndicate structure. Over 50,000 cars a year illegally change hand in Texas alone.

Pornography--a dirty business with known ties to the national criminal syndicates.

Prostitution--an unsavory side effect, in many cases, evidencing an expensive heroin habit.

Gang killings--mostly infighting among career criminals to decide power and territorial rights to the local narcotics trade.

"From the local policeman on the beat up through the vice squads, special narcotics units, intelligence units, sheriffs' departments, special investigators and assistant district attorneys--all Texas law enforcement officers are putting forth 100 percent cooperation to dam up these illegal channels of organized crime in Texas."

The Criminal Justice Council, a division of the Office of Governor Dolph Briscoe, works with all Texas law enforcement agencies in developing and funding crime-fighting and crime-prevention programs.

"Through the CJC, we assisted in originating and funding ten special organized crime task forces, a brand-new concept in fighting organized crime nationwide," Flowers reports.

The ten Texas Task Forces are located in Amarillo, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth., Galvestion, Houston, San Antonio and Wichita Falls.

"Their main purpose--although each may vary in function and method of operation--is to develop and disseminate intelligence on an organized criminal activity," Flowers reported.

"Our job is to offer technical assistance in developing programs, monitoring allotted budgets, and funding these projects in cooperation with the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration in Washington.

"Organized Crime Task Forces work closely with the Organized Crime Division of the Texas Attorney General's Office and specialists in several areas at the Department of Public Safety."

But these tools, as effective as they are, are not deemed sufficient to bring the real criminals involved to justice.

"Surprisingly, Texas law does not define an organized criminal act." Flowers declared: "We need strong laws and the means to execute and enforce them that aid officers and agents in breaking through the smokescreen of underlings with high risk, high visibility jobs to the core of men who actually finance and reap the profits from bookmaking operations, theft rings, and narcotics rings that we know exist in Texas."

Fix-It Tip

Manufacturers have devised a number of fasteners that make the chore of putting things on walls fairly simple and reliable. What you want is something that will go on with a minimum of trouble, will hold the object and will do the least damage to the wall.

Obviously pictures require less support than shelf brackets and working on a plaster wall differs from working on one of concrete.

The picture hook with a nail that goes in at an angle is still around. The angled nail is less likely to break the plaster or to pull loose. These are rated by weight and are used for pictures and mirrors.
