VOLUME XVI. DUBLIN, ERATH COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JULY 10, 1903. NUMBER 8.

WE CAN COLLAR YOU

TWICE FOR 25 CENTS.

WE CAN CUFF YOU

FOR 25 CENTS.

We will do a good job, too, and you will be well pleased. We know of no one who can do the job better, or more satisfactorily to you. We believe we are selling the best Collars and Cuffs on the Market—Linen on both sides, and they won't come back to you with saw edges the first or second time they are laundried. We take particular pride in having Collars and Cuffs that are just right—and if you are not already our patron, it would please us to have you give us a trial on Collars and Cuffs. No late style but what is here.

PROHI MATTERS

Looks Like Erath Saloons Must Close Campaigns are Now on in All Parts of Lone Star State.

The prohibition situation in Erath County, as it at present stands, looks like a final victory for the pros. After the threshing and re-thrashing of the matter the pros. won by such a decided majority at the last election it seems no judge can be found who does not think it is anything but right to let the matter alone, regardless of whether there were any technical errors in the holding of the election or not. The antis have had an attorney in south Texas for the past week or more in an effort to so present the matter to a judge authorized to grant an injunction that he would so restraining the futher publication of the legal notice required by law before the election would go into effect. The fourth publication of the notice occurred yesterday and this is understood to be sufficient, though we understand that the Stephenville lawyers are somewhat divided on the question as it now stands.

An election is shortly to be asked for in the West precinct of McClellan county.

"Option Optic" is the name of a new publication started at Nacogdoches in advocacy of prohibition.

Prohibitionists are preparing for a county campaign in Upshur county, to be petitioned for at an early date. The county campaign is waxing warm in Georgetown. Both sides to the question are having frequent meetings.

Tom Miles, colored, is under arrest at Hilsboro on a charge of selling intoxicants in violation of the local option law.

The Harrison county campaign, now on, is being more bitterly contested than has any election in that county for years. The election is to occur today.

The newspapers of Bell county say they will not identify themselves with either side in the controversy over the local option election to occur there next month.

An injunction has been granted by Judge Clark of San Antonio to restrain the legal publication of the election results of the prohibition contest recently held in Grimes county.

It is said that only fifty-eight counties in Texas are absolutely free from prohibition. Strange to say, Somervell county, which is one of the number, is without a saloon.—Glen Rose Herald.

The temporary injunction granted by Judge Watts of Beaumont, in the local option election in Rusk county, has been extended to the 15th of this month, when a further hearng of the merits of the case towards the injunction being made permanent, will be given.

The prohibtion question has become such an absorbing topic of discussion at Marlin, that the merchants of that place have deemed it necessary in the interest of their business to place notices in their stores forbidding employes to discuss the subject during business hours.

Another election has been called to occur in Hunt county on July 18th. An election was held last year and prohibition carried, but the election was declared void by the court of criminal appeals in a case tried for violation of the law. The saloons in Greenville reopened and hence the new election.

The antis in Parker county have filed a petition for a county local option election there. The pros have filed a protest on the grounds, as they allegef that the local option law has not been in force there for the required two years. The last election was held on June 15th, 1901, but the antis kept the matter in the courts over one year in testing the validity of the election. The election has been ordered upon the petition to occur on August 1st. The last election went pro by only seventeen votes.

Died of Overdose of Opiates.

A stranger who gave his name as J. B. Parks and his address as Ft. Worth, died at the City hotel in Granbury last week. The man came in from Ft. Worth and registered at the hotel and said that he was sick. He retired and the following morning he failed to appear for breakfast. After repeated attempts to arouse him without success, the sheriff was called in and that official broke open the door. The man was found to be in a dying condition and at a later hour expired. His death is accredited to an overdose of opiates administered by himself, but whether with suicidal intent is not known.

Late Friday afternoon a two-ounce bottle which had been filled with laudanum, was found in the street in front of the hotel at which he stopped and it is believed that the man threw it out there after nearly draining it of its contents. The bottle bore the name of Brashear & Hill's drug store in Ft. Worth. No one came to claim the remains of the man and therefore he was buried in the Granbury cemetery Friday night at the expense of the county.

DISTRICT COURT

Present Term Will Close This Month. Many Convictions Have Been Had During Session.

A. L. Williamson vs. R .W. Bell, suit for possession of land, judgment for plaintiff for $1 and costs.

Tom Friday, murder, verdict of murder in the second degree and given twenty years in the penitentiary. Following were jurors in the case: R. A. Haggard, C. C. McClure, I. B. McAlister, Mal Woods, W. R. Strong, B. D. Denman, A. J. Davis, John J. Warren, M. O. Crumley, John Bond and J. H. Boyd.

J. W. Sullivan, forgery, two cases, plea of guilty in each case and given four years in the penitentiary. One of these cases was for changing an order for $2.25 given by J. M. Carter of near Selden to W. Chamberlin of Stephenville for merchandise and which he changed to read $5.25; the other was for forging Mr. Carter's name to an order on T. G. Geren for $5.

L. F. Gordon vs. J. D. McElroy, suit to enjoin McElroy from stopping up a road, verdict for plaintiff.

F. J. Bostick vs. North Texas Construction Co, damage suit for $15,000 on account of his lilttle boy having his arm torn off in the company's gin at Stepheville, verdict for plaintiff for $1,400.

The Heffner case is now the only important case set for a future date in which a special venire has been ordered and it is to be tried on the 21st. The case was tried the third time two weeks ago, but the jury could not agree.

So far this term there has been twenty-two convictions for felonies and two others reduced from felonies to misdemeanors.

The regular jury for last week was dismissed on Monday.

The grand jury is not in session this week, but will meet again next Monday

Judge Oxford says that he hopes to complete the business of the present term during this month.

General News in Brief.

Addison Clark Jr., son of Dr. Addison Clark, founder of the Texas Christian University, died at Weatherford last Sunday.

I. N. Barrow, who resides two miles from Tyler, has a srtawberry patch that is hard to beat. Up to the first of last month he had gathered and sold $358 from the patch, and it is generally considered that the crop is all in by that time. But the rains came and during the month of June he marketed $51 worth of berries. Rains came in July and he is now gathering from three to five crates a day. And this is done on about three-quarters of an acre of ground. It may also be of interest to state that Mr. Barrow's strawberry patch furnished him a nice lot of berries on Christmas and New Years.

J. W. Stephens, who was chief clerk to the late comptroller, has been appointed to fill the vacancy in that office caused by the assassination of Col. R. M. Love. This appointment was a dying request of Col. Love.

Two white men are in jail at Tyler, charged with criminal assault upon a colored woman. They are Cliff Grant and Henry Belcher and they will remain in jail pending investigation.

C. A. Shelton, an Oklahoman, who has a lease on land in the Creek Indian Nation, while plowing for wheat on the Fourth, turned up an Indian clay pot and a rusted tin can containing sixty silver half-dollars. One was dated 1825, another 1826 and the remainder of the years ranged from 1855 to 1858. The pot was near an often used spring.

Chas. Kinsey, is dead, another lost an arm and still another both eyes as a result of a premature explosion of a cannon on the Fourth of July at Harlan, Iowa. It was two and a half feet in length and had been cast around a piece of gas pipe by one of the victims. Another accident ccurred in the same way at Jersey City, N. Y., on the same day, from which a man's head was blown entirely from his body.

While out hauling wood at Graham, Texas, last Saturday, L. A. Lewis found and killed a rattlesnake that measured four feet in length and measured six and a quarter inches around. It had a full grown cotton tail rabbit in its stomach, which it had swallowed.

The lifeless body of Mrs. Johanna Schultz, wife of a well known farmer of Travis county, was found on the morning of last Saturday, hanging to a tree in a deep ravine on his farm. The woman had tied herself to the roots of a large tree with a heavy cord and laid down and died from choking herself to death. She has been of unsound mind for two years past.

The Perfect Liver Medicine.

Mrs. M. A. Jolley, Noble, O. T., writes "I have used Herbine for a number of years and can cheerfully recommend it as the most perfect liver medicine and the greatest blood purifier. It is a medicine of positive merit and fully accomplishes all that is claimed for it." Malaria cannot find a lodgement in the system while the system is in perfect order and one of the functions of this medicine is to prevent the absorption of fever producing poisons. Herbine is a most efficient liver regulator. 50c at Overton's.

Deputy Sheriff Shot at Brownwood.

Wednesday night of last week about eleven o'clock, A. B. Hahn, deputy sheriff in Brown county, was shot with a shot gun in the hands of an unknown man, though he was not dangerously hurt. He was on duty near the oil mills in Brownwood looking for a suspect. He had just passed four little houses in the negro quarters, when he heard some one running toward him and he stepped aside to see who it was. Just then the shot struck him, entering his back, neck, right shoulder and arm. They were small shot and as he had on a heavy winter coat and was fully one hundred yards from the party who did the shooting, his wounds were only slight, though some of the shot penetrated the flesh to the distance of an inch or more. Some of the shot were removed and the following morning the officer was able to attend to his various duties. It is believed that the party who did the shooting did not intend to hit the deputy sheriff, but was shooting at the person who ran away from the negro huts.

BABY WEATHER.

Little Fellows Don't Like the Hot Days.

Mothers should know exactly what food to give to babies in hot weather.

With the broiling hot days in July and August the mother of a baby is always anxious for the health of her little one and is then particularly careful in feeding. Milk sours quickly and other food is uncertain. Even in spite of caution, sickness sometimes creeps in and then the right food is more necessary than ever.

"Our baby boy two years old began in August to have attacks of terrible stomach and bowel trouble. The physician said that his digestion was very bad and that if it had been earlier in the summer and hotter weather we would surely have lost him.

"Finally we gave baby Grape-Nuts food, feeding it several times the first day and the next morning he seemed better and brighter than he had been for many days. There was a great change in the condition of his bowels and in three days they were entirely normal. He is now well and getting very strong and fleshy and we know that Grape-Nuts food must have wonderful properties to effect such cures as his.

"We grown-ups in our family all use Grape-Nuts and also Postum in place of coffee, with the result that we never any of us have any coffee ills, but are well and strong." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The reason Grape-Nuts food relieves bowel trouble in babies or adults is because the starch of the grain is predigested and does not tax the bowels, nor ferment like white bread, potatoes and other forms of starchy food.

NOW AT ABILENE

Hickey Has Confidence that the Life Life Sentence Given Him will Yet Be Reversed.

G. W. Hickey, under life sentence for murder committed in Haskell county, and whose case is now before the court of appeals, is confined in the jail at Abilene. He recently wrote to have the Progress sent to him at the latter place and among other things said: "As to my case I presume that you people all think that I am guilty of the charges against me, but I positively say that I am not uneasy about the result before the higher courts. I was given no chance at all before the trial court to properly present the evidence in my defense and I feel sure that the court of appeals will reverse the decision of the lower court. All the evidence against me was manufactured and I think that I shall have no trouble in showing this to be a fact beyond question. I shall be detained here at Abilene until next October at the best."

During the past week the enrollment at the Hico normal was increased to eighty-three. The following were new entries: Arthur Ferguson and Mrs. Belle Renfro from Stephenville, Alonzo Robinson from Duffau, Mrs. Adams from Meridian, Miss Nellie Patterson from Pottsville and Misses Willie Davies and Laura Pair from Dublin.

Aged Suicide in Callahan.

J. T. Cauthin, aged sixty-six years, committed suicide at his home two miles from Putnam in Callahan county, last Wednesday. He had for two months been residing with his son and left the house early Wednesday morning with a gun. His body was found shortly after with the top of his head blown off by a charge of shot. One end of a string had been tied to the trigger of the gun and the other end attached to a bush and the indications were he laid on his back and pulled the gun until it was discharged. When found his hand was still grasping the barrel of the gun. He was an old citizen of the community and leaves a wife and six children.

Railroad Chances for Glen Rose.

A press dispatch from Cleburne dated last Sunday says, If all things work out according to expectations it will not be many days before work will begin on the extension of the Dallas, Cleburne & Southwestern railroad from this city to Glen Rose. President Myers has arrived here and is busy looking after the interest of the road. He will go to Austin tonight on business connected with the affairs of the line.

The stock news columns of the San Angelo Standard of last week says: "Robert Bailey of Eldorado sold to M. B. Pulliam of San Angelo, 335 two-year old steers at better than $17 per head. He also sold to McGee & Huey, forty-four calves, delivered at San Angelo, at $6 per head. The calves were yesterday shipped by the purchasers to Chicago. In the Ft. Worth markets last week M. K. Rucker marketed sixteen cows shipped from Dublin. They averaged 790 each and sold at $2.20."

For sale—A nice saddle and driving animal, gentle and kind. Also a buggy and harness. Will sell one or all. Apply to Tom Miller. 8-2t

THE WORST IS OVER

CITY PRACTICALLY UNDER MARTIAL LAW.

EIGHT PERSONS ARE LYING DEAD

Only Danger is From Riotous Miners. Negroes Are Leaving in Panic.

Evansville, Ind., July 8.—Eight persons lie dead and thirty-five are wounded as the result of Monday night's conflict between the local militia and a mob of whites at the court house. One of the injured soldiers is likely to die.

While martial law has not been declared the city is virtually in control of the militia, of whom there are now seven companies of infantry and a battery of artillery in active service, all under the command of Gen. William H. Mokee. Add to these the sheriff's deputies and the police and the number of representatives of law and order exceed 800 men.

Soldiers swarm about the court house and the cry of halt rings out every few minutes, causing one to realize the seriousness of the situation. Signs on every corner bear appeals from Mayor Covert to the people to remain in their homes at night and avoid trouble.

Danger of further rioting is believed to rest with the miners who are meeting at Garvin's Grove. There are some fears that before morning they will make a second assault upon the soldiers or attack the colored quarter where several houses already have been partly destroyed. All day long the exodus of negroes from the city has been going on. It is estimated that more than one thousand have crossed the Ohio river into Kentucky.

Big Accession to Texas.

Dallas: The credit and collection department sof the International Harvester company of America has been moved to this city from Chicago. The change in the big concern's credit department means that all collections will be handled out of Dallas instead of sent to Chicago as heretofore. The Plano, Deering, Champion, Osborne and McCormick divisions located in this city will be greatly benefited by the change. Clarence E. Burbridge has been put in charge of the new office, which has for its territory the entire southwest.

TWENTY-FOUR VICTIMS.

Fast Train in Virginia Wrecked, Killing Twenty-Four.

Washington: Twenty-four persons were killed and twenty-three injured in a head-on collision on the Virginia Midland division of the Southern railway at Rockfish, Va., at 3:12 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. A passenger train leaving Washington at 11:15 a. m. for Atlanta, Ga., dashed into a local freight standing on the main line of the road at that point, wrecking both engines and the baggage and express cars. The baggage car and the second-class passenger coach immediately following it telescoped.

Alan-a-Dale broke the world's record for a mile and seventy yards over the Washington Park track at Chicago, going the distance in 1:43 1-5.

Wreck on T. and N. O.

Tuesday's Texas and New Orleans passenger train, due in Dallas at 10:15 p. m., was wrecked near the town of Huntington. Arch Grinnan of Dallas, the postal clerk, and the man in charge of the baggage car are reported to have been injured, the former slightly and the latter seriously, but just how seriously can not be ascertained. The mail and baggage cars were wrecked and considerable delay to traffic over the line resulted.

Henrietta Oil Wells Improving.

Henrietta: Word has just been received from the oil fields north of this city that the last well, by an actual test, shows about seventy-five barrels per day. This well is only 272 feet deep. The oil rises some 200 feet. It showed about fourteen barrels at the first test, a few days after it showed about twenty-five barrels, and now it is figured from a very careful test that it will produce about seventy-five barrels a day.

Tired of the Struggle.

Putnam: J. T. Cauthin, aged 66 years, was killed by shooting with a shotgun Tuesday. About 5 o'clock in the morning Mr. Cauthin left the house with a gun. His body was found with the top of the head blown off by a charge of shot. One end of a string had been tied to the trigger of the gun and the other end attached to a bush and the indications were that deceased had laid on his back and pulled the gun until it was discharged.

CHUNKS OF YELLOW METAL.

Great Gold Find Reported at Harwood.

Houston, Texas, July 7.—It is learned that Harwood, the newly discovered gold field, is becoming a center of interest. Real gold, and in paying quantities, has been struck by the oil well borers. The secret has been held for two or three months, but now it is out, and people are becoming interested.

The rule is that wherever gold has been discovered all else there has been ignored, and a rush for the precious metal ensued. The field has about all been secured by a few, and those who intend mining. This is why nothing has been made public for so long. The Bay Shore well has reached a depth of 300 feet, and passed through eighty-five feet of gold ore, which is a remarkable showing.

Off To Detroit.

On the night of Monday, July 13th., the Texas Delegation will leave for the International Epworth League Convention at Detroit, traveling via the Cotton Belt to Memphis, L. & N. Railroad to Cincinnati, (with a side trip to the wonderful Mammoth Cave of Kentucky, C. H. & D. Railway to Toledo and Michigan Central.

After the meeting is over a side trip to Niagara Falls and Buffalo has been arranged, the optional by rail or Lake steamer. Through sleeping cars will run from Texas to Detroit without change, and the party will be accompanied by State President H. H. Halsell and State Secretary A. K. Ragsdale and many others. Those who have not already done so should enroll their names with the Secretary at once, to be assured of sleeping car. Secretary Ragsdale is advised that the Leaguers from North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Alabama, Georgia, and Tennessee, will congregate at Nashville, leaving at 7:50 p. m., Tuesday, July 14th, joining our party at Bowling Green, Ky., continuing the journey in through to Detroit with us, and taking the side trip to Mammoth Cave.

After Mr. Weevil.

Waco: A local dealer sold three dozen lanterns Tuesday to destroy the Mexican boll weevil, which are plentiful in the Waco district. Some who have tried experiments with lights in the cotton fields report a considerable measure of success. The weevil, the theory is, attracted by the light, falls an easy victim to the various methods of destroying them when once they congregate at a given spot in large numbers. It is also stated that the weevil will fly into fire if one is kindled at night in the cotton field.

Austin: J. W. Stephens has qualified as controller. He will promote J. H. Gillespie, the assistant bookkeeper of the department, to the position of chief bookkeeper. No changes in the present official force will be made. The new maps of Texas, ordered by the railroad commission, will be out of press and ready for distribution by the 15th inst. They purpose being the most accurate ever issued.

Shot and Fatally Wounded.

Marlin: The county officers received notice that Albert Hoffman had been shot twice in the left side with a shotgun loaded with buckshot and was in a dying condition. John Spivey surrendered to officers. Mr. Hoffman is a young man and proprietor of the gin at Blevins. Mr. Spivey is an elderly man.

USED THEIR GUNS

FOUR DAYS RIOT ENDS IN BLOODSHED.

SEVEN KILLED AND MANY HURT

After a Day of Taunting, Rock Throwing and Other Violence, the Clash Comes.

Evansville, Ind., July 7.—The reign of anarchy and riot which has prevailed here four days was broken last night when when militia was compelled to fire point blank into a crowd of 1000 or more men who had all day taunted the guard, thrown stones and other missiles and had done almost every provoking act, and who at the moment were storming the jail in an attempt to break it down.

Seven are known to have been killed and twice as many more seriously injured. Only martial law could have quieted the situation. Mobs of miners principally had made serious demonstrations elsewhere against the negroes.

Alex Sanderson, a Terre Haute caterer, was employed to serve the banquet at the institution of a new lodge of the Elks at Linton. He took his cook and waiters with him, and while the lodge work in the hall was going on several hundred miners assembled in the streets and threatened to dynamite the hall unless the negroes were sent out of town. The eight colored men were hurried into a cab and driven to Jasonville, where they were put on the train for Terre Haute.

A Negro's Crime.

Houston: Monday Fannie Scott, colored, was stabbed in twelve places, practically disemboweled and so terribly wounded that the fact that she is still alive is considered nothing less than a miracle. Dave Scott is being pursued through the woods near the mouth of Greens bayou by Sheriff Anderson and deputies. Bloodhounds have been put on the trail of the fleeing man.

Fatal Affray at San Augustine.

San Augustine: In a difficulty one and one-half miles north of this place abuot 10 o'clock a. m. Monday, William Harkness was shot and dangerously wounded. Paul Sheffield surrendered to the sheriff and gave $500 bond. Harkness was shot two or three times. Physicians think he can not live.

A Smith County Strawberry Patch

Tyler: I. N. Barron, who lives two miles from this city, has a strawberry patch that is hard to beat. Up to June 1 he had gathered and sold $358 from the patch, and it is generally considered that the crop is all in by that time. But the rains came and during the month of June he marketed $51 worth of berries. Rains came in July and he is now gathering from three to five crates daily. And this is done on about three-quarters of an acre of ground.

Territorial Treasurer Rambo of Oklahoma has filed his monthly statement with Gov. Ferguson, showing on hand the sum of $579,269, expenditures for June $1701, receipts 17,771, general revenue fund $19,832, public building fund $254,207, common school fund $15,400.

Child Eaten By Turtles.

San Antonio: The 18-months-old child of Valentine Morales fell nito San Pedro irrigation ditch in Yoakums Bend in the southern part of the city and was drowned. Before the little one was missed from home and before the body was found turtles had fearfully disfigured the body. When the body was drawn from the water an immense turtle was hanging to it, and the water near by was full of them.

They Know When Sunday Comes.

Belton: Perhaps there is not a town in Texas where the Sunday law is more rigidly enforced than it is in Belton. Not a cigar, a loaf of bread, a drink of beer or whisky, nor anything else the sale of which is inhibited by the statute, can be purchased here on Sundays. For a time it worked some inconvenience but the people are now growing accustomed to it and have learned to obtain their supplies of prohibited things on Saturdays.

Loss at Jeanette.

Jeannette, Pa.: As a result of the breaking of the Oakford Park dam twenty persons are known to be killed and thirty-six injured. Property loss will reach $1,500,000 and the distress is so great that outside relief will have to be asked for. From a happy, prosperous, contented valley, this region has been transformed into a great household of mourning. Homes have been wrecked and great workshops forced into idleness.

Mysterious Tragedy.

Bowie: John Marable was found dead in the middle of the public road five miles from Bowie, near Queens Peak, late Sunday evening. His pistol was lying on the ground near by. Two bullets had been fired, one taking effect just above the left ear and causing death. He had been dead for some time when found. When he rode off in the afternoon he told his mother that he was going into the country to gather some plums. His horse was grazing near his dead body.

Knocked Out by Lightning.

South McAlester, I. T.: A thunderbolt struck in the midst of the Bolen Darnall mining camp, northwest of here, at 5:30 o'clock Monday evening, shocking about twenty people and killing some horses. Dave Wilson, a carpenter, who was working on a roof, was knocked unconscious and fell, sustaining injuries which are deemed fatal.

Frazer Williams, colored, was shot in the breast and instantly killed, and Lucy McMilliam, colored, was shot in the knee and badly wounded at Houston. Testimony showed it was accidental. Both parties were struck with the same shot.

Two corporate charters of the King-Crowther Pipe Line Company, two Texas oil concerns, capitalized, respectively, for $3,000,000 and $200,000, were forfeited in the district court at San Antonio and A. C. Pancoast was appointed receiver.

Frank Parrent, who was severely beaten with a piece of gas pipe in a Dallas saloon Thursday morning died from the effects at the city hospital Monday about six o'clock. The negro who did the beating is still at large.

William Wilson of South McAlester, I. T., was shot and killed and William Frazee of Coalgate, and John McShane of McAlester, were badly wounded by unknown men at the Krebs Baseball park at South McAlester.

In a conflict between Turkish troops and Bulgarians near Vodena, forty-six miles north of Salonica, the latter had ten killed and the Turks two wounded. The dead Bulgarians wore uniforms bearing badges inscribed "Liberty or Death."

A NIGHT OF TERROR

EVANSVILLE, INDIANA, A SEAT OF WAR.

NEGROES AND WHITES IN ARMS

Troops are Ordered out on Double Quick to Quell Mob and Protect Jail.

Evansville, Ind., July 6.—At 1 o'clock this morning this city is in the hands of a mob. Troops have been ordered out by the governor to protect the jail, which is surrounded by 2000 men. Two negroes have been killed in the race riot which is rampant.

The crowd around the jail, incensed at the murder of a patrolman by a negro, is shouting death to all negroes. The negro has been secretly removed to Vincennes, but the mob refuses to believe it and is trying to tear down the jail.

A boy, white, named Logan, has been shot by a negro.

A young negro woman has been killed and several negroes have been seriously injured. A company of negroes, armed with Winchesters, is marching through the streets threatening to kill all white people. They have just broken into a hardware store and secured all the arms and ammunition. Three business men have just been fired on and are now organizing and arming a party to exterminate the negroes.

1:30 a. m.—The militia has been ordered out and will in an hour be at the jail. After the mob has been dispersed the militia will begin to run down riotous negroes.

Almost every hardware store in the city has been broken into and not a gun can be seen on the streets who is not armed. Those of the police officers who are not on duty at the jail or the station houses are patrolling the streets with Winchesters. The streets present a scene of wild disorder. Frightened women are hurrying to their homes, afraid to venture on the side streets. Negroes are reported gathering at several points. The police are powerless to preserve order. The entire force is not sufficient to cope with the crowds around the jail.

Evansville, Ind., July 5, 1:40 a. m.—The mob has just broken into the jail.

Mrs. Kronle's Assaulter Captured.

Seguin: A negro named Henry Fields, an escaped convict, answering the description of the one who assaulted Mrs. Kronle, was captured near Nuetress after a chase of two days, during which time he skillfully eluded his pursuers and was trailed by his barefoot tracks through fields and pastures for a distance of ten miles. He was captured in a cane patch. He answers the description of the victim. There is no danger of lynching without further evidence to incriminate him.

I. A. Moore is Killed.

Dallas: While in an irresponsible condition Sunday night, I. A. Moore, city secretary of Dallas, attacked his son, Carl, aged 19, and was choking him to death, when Ernest, Carl's brother, interfered, and was in turn attacked. In defending himself Ernest used a pistol, firing four times, the shooting resulting fatally in a few minutes.

Three in a Bunch.

Texarkana: A triple tragedy, the result of a row which started Saturday at a negro church a mile north of town, took place Sunday morning at 6 o'clock. Will Hopkins, aged 16, Will Moore 18, and Flip Hardy 19, were shot and instantly killed, the bullets piercing the heart of each and being fired from a 32-caliber pistol of a very cheap make in the hands of, it is said, a mere boy of 15.

Bishop E. J. Dunne of Dallas is at El Passo, visiting the churches of his diocese. Monday he administered confirmation to a large class in the cathedral at Ysleta, El Paso County, said to be the oldest Church in the United States.

A fire at Mt. Calm Friday destroyed a dry goods store, a hardware store, a millinary store, a restaurant, a barber shop and a drug store. Loss about $6000; insurance about one-third.

Last weeks rain extended from Nueces County on the south to Grayson County on the north, and not much further west than Bexar County, in the southern portion, to Parker County in the northern portion, i. e., the eastern and southern counties received the heaviest rainfalls.

The two-year-old child of Will Douglas of Decatur, pulled a pot of hot soup over on itself and died from the effects of burns received.

SCORES OF FLOOD VICTIMS.

Drowned or Electrocuted During Cloudburst.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 6.—A telephone message from Jeanette says from fifty to seventy-five men, women and children perished by the cloudburst of Oakford Park yesterday. The majority were drowned or their lives were beaten out against the rocks in Brush creek, but a number were electrocuted.

About 800 persons were at the park seeking relief from the heat. When the storm burst, the greater number sought the hillside preferring the shelter of the forest trees to the park building, because they did not care to be below the level of the dam and but little above the level of Brush creek. When the dam broke a solid wall of water twenty feet high rushed down and completely filled the narrow ravine with its car tracks, car barn and restaurant. In front of the car barn stood a car containing from fifty to seventy passengers, many of them seeking to return to Jeanette, others using it as a temporary shelter.

With the immense body of water behind it, the crest of the flood bore down with irresistible force. It swept down the narrow ravine, it carried with it in its embrace the loaded street car and the crowded restaurant.

The flood was filled with men, women and children fighting for their lives. The poles carrying the heavily charged trolley wires were uprooted and strewn along the grounds. In a number of instances (how many is not yet known) the victims of the flood grasping for anything that might save them from the fury of the water, seized the trolley wires and met death by being electrocuted instead of being drowned. Several bodies have already been recovered, showing that death was the result of this cause.

Passing of Pope Leo.

Rome, July 6, 3 a. m.—"God's will be done. Who would have believed it, when ten days ago I was presiding over a public consistory?" feebly murmured Pope Leo, as he felt himself last night sinking into a sleep which lasted about three hours, until excruciating pains brought the dying pontiff back to consciousness. Tenderly Dr. Lapponi, assisted by Pope Leo's valet and the physician's assistant, lifted the frail form, and, changing the position, succeeded in giving the patient some relief. Though hovering on the brink of death, the life of the pontiff is still prolonged by means of strong stimulants and concentrated nourishments, and while he is still barely alive, his wonderful vitality may again resist and conquer the attack of this illness.

Hammond Plant Burned.

St. Joseph, Mo.: Hammond packing plant was destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated as high as $1,500,000. It is entirely covered by insurance. Two men lost their lives in the flames. This could not be verified. Three men were injured, one of them seriously. For a time the entire stockyards district was threatened. By hard work the Nelson Morris plant, 300 feet north of the Hammond plant, was saved, and this saved the Swift plant, which is on the north of the Nelson Morris building.

INJUNCTION FILED

SUIT AGAINST BOY COTTERS IN SAN ANTONIO.

A CONSPIRACY IS THE CHARGE

All Because a Non-Union Firm Did Electrical Work in a Store Building.

San Antonio, July 2.—Attorney General Bell and District Attorney Bee, in the name of the state of Texas, have filed the first suit ever filed against labor unions under the anti-trust law, seeking to recover heavy penalties and asking for an injunction restraining the unions and officers from maintaining and continuing a boycott.

The style of the suit is State of Texas vs. the Trades Council and Electrical Workers' Union of San Antonio and Paul Steffer, Walton Poteet, Frank Van Riper, L. Stanley, John Thompson and J. D. Broderick, officers of the union, asking for $6000 penalties already incurred and for $50 per day for each day the matter complained of is continued, and for an injunction restraining said labor organizations and officers from continuing a boycott against the Herff building.

Ferdinand Herff has just completed a business block in the most desirable business section of the city, and in awarding contracts let the contract for electrical wiring to a firm that was on the union's "unfair" list. When this was done and the building was completed the Electrical Workers' Union and the Trades Council rendered an official boycott of the building, and to merchants who were negotiating leases on the building and a warning was sent to the effect that if they leased the building that they would be boycotted by the Trades Council.

This resulted in all negotiations for leases of the building being declared off and Herff, the owner, finds it impossible to rent or lease the building. The matter was first taken before the grand jury and after a fair investigation of it, it was decided to defer action for the time being in the criminal courts, and the suit to recover penalties and perpetuate an injunction against the boycott was filed.

When the unions heard of the institution of proceedings they agreed to lift the boycott on the building pending the decision in the case. Business men here will watch with deep interest the outcome of this suit, as San Antonio is believed to be dominated by the unions, and the boycott is a standing bete noir.

Iowa Repubs Nominate.

DesMoines, Iowa: The Republican state convention nominated the following ticket and adopted a platform of principles. All the candidates were renominated by acclamation with the exception of the state superintendent of education: Governor, A. B. Cummins; lieutenant governor, John Herriott; supreme judge, Charles A. Bishop; railroad commissioner, David J. Palmer; state superintendent of education, F. J. Riggs. Harmony marked the proceedings of the convention, all of its action being by unanimous vote.

Commodore S. W. S. Duncan, nominated rear admiral recently, is authority for the statement that no changes will be made in the plan of work on the Trinity by the new government engineer who succeeds Col. C. S. Riche.

Mortally Hurt by Train.

Laredo: Just as the southbound International and Great Northern train was slowing down for a stop at Dilley Station the 12-year-old son of W. W. Scroggs, who was assisting in loading a car of watermelons on a siding, jumped from the car and ran around the rear and tried to pass in front of the passenger engine, which struck him and cut off one leg from which he died.

Postal Information.

Washington: Appointments of additional clerks and promotions became effective Wednesday in practically all of the first and second-class postoffices in the country. Exactly 896 new rural free delivery routes were put in operation a few days ago, the first since the estimates were suspended in view of the deficit on that account for the fiscal year just closed. They bring the total number of routes in operation to approximately 16,000.

Crops Poor Along Transcontinental.

Texarkana: Roadmaster W. T. Burke, who has charge of the Transcontinental from Shreveport to Texarkana and thence west of Texarkana, and who has been familiar with conditions along this line for the yast ten years, says the outlook for crops of both corn and cotton between Texarkana and Whitesboro is the poorest he has ever seen. First, early in the spring, there was too much rain; then it turned off too dry and much too cold.

Greenville, N. C., Burning.

Raleigh, N. C.: A dispatch late Wednesday night says: Greenville, N. C., is on fire. The flames started at 12:45 o'clock and the fire is under full headway. No correct estimate can be made of the losses, but it is believed that they are already about $200,000. The fire started in a small restaurant and the buildings already consumed are the Market, Farmers Warehouse, Gorman and Wright's Tobacco Factory, Jordan's Tobacco Factory, residences of Mrs. Nellie Harris, Zeno Moore, H. T. King, and several smaller buildings. The heat is so intense that the fire department can not cope with the flames. There is no adequate system of waterworks. At this hour the Christian church and King's hotel are threatened with destruction.

Cow Causes Wreck and Injuries.

Dallas: A work train on the Texas and Pacific railroad was wrecked Wednesday four miles west of Forney and ten loaded gravel cars were derailed. A cow on the track was struck and caused the cars to be derailed at a low trestle. The engine remained on the track. The conductor, Roy Souter of Longview, had his left arm broken at the shoulder and his right leg broken. A brakeman, Roy Morrison of Grand Saline, had his right shoulder dislocated.

Just Took a Little Nerve.

Muskogee, I. T.: Tuesday night Mickey McFarland was held up in his sleeping room and robbed of $620. McFarland had the money on a table and was counting it when two men pushed the door open, and with guns pointed at him, demanded the money. Securing the money they backed to the door, slammed it and made a dash for the street below. McFarland grabbed a gun, and rushing to the window fired three shots at the robbers as they ran for their horses, a block away. They reached their horses and rode out of town on a dead run.

Truck and Fruit Averaging Good.

Austin: Good reports are received here from the fruit and vegetable-growing sections. The peach crop was cut short in East Texas by the late cold weather; vegetables are making a record-breaking yield. Tomatoes are leading, with Irish potatoes, cucumbers, onions and others following. The railroads are doing their utmost to give good service and get the produce to market before it perishes. The melon crop is fine.

Dr. Horace Howard Furness, trustee of the University of Pennsylvania and distinguished Shakespearean scholar of Philadelphia, accompanied by his two sons, Dr. W. H. Furness and W. R. Furness, are en route to Aransas Pass and Corpus Christi, on a hunt for the giant tarpon of the gulf waters along that coast.

The Russian minister, M. Lessar, has been suddenly summoned to a conference with Gen. Kuropatkin, the Russian war minister; Admiral Alexieff, in command of the Russian fleet in the Pacific; M. Pokotileff, manager of the Russian-Chinese bank at Pekin, and other officers at Port Arthur, regarding Russia's position in Manchuria.

Prof. H. H. Harrington of College Station, state chemist, has gone to Oaxaca, Mexico, to study the mining industry. He will be absent about three weeks.

A negro was arrested at Jessie charged with forgery. He is said to have attempted to sell an $8 note to a man and later a $5 note to another. The signatures to the notes were pronounced to be forgeries.

Rev. Sam Styles, colored, has been sentenced to hang at Cuero on August 26. He assassinated Henderson Edwards, colored, in the summer of 1900.

R. C. Reed, a freight brakeman, lost a leg in an accident on the Texas Southern Railroad at Marshall. His home is at Daingerfield.

Ben Hanks was slightly injured by two engines on the Texas and Pacific Railway plunging into a sand pit at Reisor Junction.

Dick Wells smashed the worlds record for three-quarters of a mile at Washington Park Tuesday, covering the distance in 1:11 4-5, with 100 pounds up.

Christi & Lowe of Chicago, were the successful bidders for the deeping of Southwest Pass at the mouth of the Mississippi River. They bid $2,175,896.60.

British Abyssian troops have killed 10,000 of Mad Mullah's spearmen.

A lamp exploded in the home of Henry Schiff, at Gainesville. The flame could not be extinguished and the house and furniture were destroyed.

Dallas is agitating the question of a vehicle tax running from $12 per year on floats to $2.50 on single buggies. It is estimated that there are 5000 vehicles of all classes in Dallas.

Jacksonville is to have a new bank under name of Citizens' National Bank of Jacksonville, capitalized at $25,000.

UNDER THE WAVES

GAINESVILLE IS UNDER A FLOOD OF WATER.

LIVES AND PROPERTY IN DANGER

Many Lives are in Eminent Danger, and Property Loss is Incalculable.

Gainesville, Tex., July 3.—Gainesville at this hour, 12:30 a. m., is one vast river, the water being from four to nine feet deep all over the lowlands, and getting worse every moment. The whole town is awake and every able-bodied man is engaged in the work of rescue. Hundreds of people have taken to the hills, hundreds more are on their housetops, and as many as can be crowded on the roofs of the tallest business houses and are shivering in the rain, which is coming down in sheets. The court house is filled to overflowing with people, who are huddled together in the upper stories, watching the water, which is nine feet deep at this place and slowly but surely rising higher and higher. All the business portion of the town is under water.

Dallas: From all over the state come reports of terrific rains and electrical storms. Eleven Mexicans were drowned near Normana and two at Mineral City. From Yoakum, Denton, Waxahachie, Waco and other points widely divergent there are reports of unprecedented rainfall, in some instances claimed to be as much as ten and eleven inches. The crop loss and damage to railways, public bridges and roads is beyond computing.

There have been various reports of loss of life, but it is impossible at this time to confirm them. The property loss will reach into the hundreds of thousands of dollars. Elm creek, on the west side of town, is a mile wide, and rushing along like a millrace. There are rumors that several families have lost their lives in that portion of the town which is on the west side. Pecan creek, which runs through the heart of the corporation, is over three-quarters of a mile wide and increasing in width with every second.

The waterworks are under water. The electric lights are still burning, but must soon go out, leaving the city and people in total darkness. California, the main street of the city, is under four feet of water. Hotel guests are in the upper rooms or on the roofs. The railroad tracks are washed away, and there is deepest gloom over the town and people. A fierce electrical storm has been raging for an hour, and the thunder peals are the worst ever heard in this vicinity.

Williamson Fair Postponed.

Taylor: On account of incessant rain, which has been falling in great volume in this section of Williamson county, at a meeting of the directors of the Taylor Fair association, it was decided to postpone the twenty-second annual exhibition of the association until Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, July 8, 9 and 10, of next week. All features, with additional attractions, will be given in full.

Application has been filed at Stanton for 160,000 acres of State land in Gaines County.

Mysterious Double Crime.

Temple: A most mysterious double crime at this city is now confronting the sleuths. Wednesday morning the dead body of James A. Mosely was found on a back porch with a pistol wound through the head; in the bed was found the dead body of his wife and beside it a hatchet with which she had been chopped to death. Scattered over the room were various sums of money, running from $50 to 50 cents. Mr. Moseley's watch was lying on top of a sum of money.

Cameron: Last year C. P. Beaty of Cameron purchased a small tract of land, consisting of three acres, near here, for truck farming, paying $120 cash for it. He planted one acre in onions, and has gathered 8000 pounds from it and sold them at 1 1-2c a pound, making $120. Others have done as well with their truck farming. The truck farmers have made more money this year raising truck than they have ever made with ordinary crops.

Houston: The announcement of the resignation of Passenger Traffic Manager Morse of the Southern Pacific, created a profound sensation in railway circles. Perhaps no other single man has done so much for the industrial awakening of the Lone Star State as Col. Morse. Coupled with his superior abilities, he is a man of indefatigable energy, and he has given both in a superlative degree to the great work of upbuilding Texas and the Southern Pacific.

BEEVILLE UNDER WATER.

An Overwhelming Flood Engulfs Everything.

Beeville, Tex., July 3.—The heaviest rain in the history of this county fell here yesterday. Ten inches was recorded. The latter part of the rain was accompanied by a terrible electrical storm, lightning striking several buildings. The Poesta creek, which flows through town, rose thirty feet in three hours, completely inundating that portion of the town through which it passes.

More than sixty houses were swept away. Fully 200 people were rendered homeless, most of them losing everything they possessed. There are many rumors of loss of life; none of them have been confirmed though several people are missing.

Two steel wagon bridges and both of the railroad bridges that span the creek here were swept away. Every bridge, both wagon and railroad, in the county was completely destroyed. The lowest estimate of damage in the county is placed at one hundred thousand dollars, and many place it at twice that amount.

Practically all of the track of the San Antonio and Aransas Pass road and the Southern Pacific road in the is washed away, or so badly damaged that it will have to be repaired before trains can be run over them.

The engine and a baggage car of the northbound of the San Antonio and Aransas Pass railroad which left here about 10 o'clock, was ditched eight miles north. No one was hurt and the passenger coaches were brought back by an engine that was running behind the train to be used in case of an accident.

All telegraph and telephone wires leading out of the town are down except the Southern Pacific private wire to Victoria. Rumors of terrible damage by wind, lightning and floods are coming in from outlying districts. It will be several days, in fact a week, before communication with the outside world can be established. The loss to melon and vegetable growers and shippers is enormous. The flood was the winding up of a three days' rain during which time the total precipitation amounted to nearly sixteen inches.

County Judge W. S. Dugan has issued a call for a mass meeting of the citizens of the county to take place at the court house for the purpose of taking steps in the caring for the destitute and homeless, and to take some action in regard to raising taxes to rebuild the bridges in the county. The county is feeding and housing about 200 homeless people.

The American Locomotive Works has received an order from the Mexican Central for thirty-seven consolidated, mogul passenger engines and five switching locomotives. The railroad company has ordered from the American Locomotive Works since the first of this year ninety locomotives.

The smeltering plant of the Silver City (N. M.) Reduction Works company has been destroyed by fire. It is supposed the fire started from a spark from the engine of a train. The loss is $100,000. Only $15,000 insurance was carried.

Walter Bolton, aged fourteen years, died at Galvestor from the effects of injuries received in falling through the elevator shaft of the Grand hotel.

Judge Watts of Beaumont, has announced that he would not grant any more injunctions in prohibition cases.

Heretofore Bell Water Company has supplied Waco with water. The city has decided by vote to own her own water works, and there's "business" ahead for somebody.

McNeil is the name of a new town on the Texas and New Orleans Railroad, fourteen miles south of Nacogdoches. It is named after McNeil of Huntington.

The Board of Trade of Navasota has been organized with Ward Templeton president.

The value of Denton County lands is shown by the deal made by which J. K. Holland transfers to J. Flow 230 acres of land for a lump price of $9000. That is almost $40 an acre all around.

The National Bank of Commerce of Capt C. S. Riche, United States engineer, who has been transferred to Chicago, was presented with a gold watchchain and charm by the employes of the United States Engineers' Department at Galveston.

John Deadwyler was arrested at Pittsburg on a charge of violating the local option law in two cases. He was released on bond of $250 in each case.

Allie Montgomery has been granted a change of venue from Grimes to Brazos County. Defendant is charged with the killing of Joe Hall about four years ago.

American, British and Japanese warships are gathering in the Gulf of Pectuli.

DUBLIN, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JULY 10, 1903.

The Granbury Daily Democrat is a recent welcome addition to our exchange list. The paper is a small affair, but its loud.

The text books publishers, it appears, are behind the times on the trust question, or they have heretofore been overlooked in the general octopus hunt.

Cut the weeds and you're doing a part of your duty as a good citizen. Some more of that duty is to clean up about your premises and then keep them clean.

The signs of the times augur well for the prosperity of the cotton producer this year. The planter who diversified, however, is not waiting for the coming of Santa Claus.

As the time draws near that the producer will have charge of the financial end of the cotton crop, the price is gradually lowered, yet it is confidently believed that the bottom will fail to fall entirely out this time.

What has become of our electric railroads, and our cotton mills, and our machine shops, and our new county and our other things that are not yet ours? There may be a way to get them. There certainly are ways to keep them away.

It should not be overlooked by members of the local committees on arrangements for the big Ex-Confederate reunion in Dublin next month that the time for arrangements to be perfecting is here. There is yet left less than a month before the meeting.

It would not be amiss for Dublin to take some active steps toward giving the proper parties to understand that when the Houston & Northern railroad is built from Houston to the Panhandle country, if it ever is, that Dublin would like a chance to figure with the powers that be.

The town cow is again the subject of much discussion throughout the land, but the cow continues her daily occupation undisturbed by anything but the violent and futile attacks of those who have been the looser from her depredations. It is probably the opinion of a majority of the voters in Dublin that she should be outlawed and there is a growing sentiment throughout the county in favor of making it general. Many of our farmers have recently spoken to the Progress reporter in favor of an election to decide upon the adoption of a general stock law throughout the county.

PURIFY THE BLOOD

If you would have health and energy in hot weather you should see to it in the early Spring that your blood is pure and vital organs strong and active.

PRICKLY ASH BITTERS

IS THE GREATEST BLOOD PURIFIER ON EARTH.

The efficacy of this remedy in purifying the blood and putting the system in order is without a parallel in the medical world. So thorough and far-reaching is it that it carries its great cleansing and regulating influence to every part of the body, casting out impurities that have resulted from Winter diet, purifying the bowels, strengthening the kidneys, liver and stomach, and preparing the entire body to resist the disease germs which come with warm weather. Those who use this great purifier during the Spring months will stand the heat better and be free from the debilitating ailments which invariably attack the body that is clogged up with impurities.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

PRICE, $1.00.

Cholera Infantum.

This has long been regarded as one of the most dangerous and fatal diseases to which infants are subject. It can be cured however when properly treated. Alll that is necessary is to give Chamberlin's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy and castor oil as directed with each bottle and a cure is certain. For sale at Overton's.

For good work in painting and paper hanging see W. J. Hood, headquarters at Utterback & Harris.

Mrs. John Holland dropped dead late yesterday afternoon. She was at the home of Jim Holland at the time waiting on his sick wife. She was buried today in the Grandbury cemetery.—Grandbury Daily Democrat, July 4th.

Night was her Terror.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate of Alexander, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit blood but when all other medicines failed, three $1.00 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds." It's absolutely guaranteed to cure coughs, coulds, la grippe, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Overton Drug Co.

In purchasing the market business of R. H. Jones, I have secured the accounts due him and all parties owing will please call and settle. I also solicit the public patronage.—W. H. Cook. 1t

Morgan Parnell of Stephenville came over yesterday to board the noon train on the Central for Stamford in response to a message that his little daughter at that place was dangerously ill.

Brutally Tortured.

A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhapes never been equalled. Joe Golobick of Colusa, Cal., writes: "For fifteen years I endured insufferable pain from rheumatism and nothing relieved me, though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and its the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles completely relieved and cured me". Just as good for liver and kidney troubles and general debility. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed at Overton Drug Co's.

Catarrh of the Stomach.

When the stomach is overloaded and food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucuous membrane, exposing the nerves and causing the glands to secrete mucin instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called catarrh of the stomach. For years I suffered with catarrh of the stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. —J. R. Rhea, Kopperl, Texas. Sold at Overton's drug store.

B. E. Capell, who resides south of Dublin, and Miss Pearl Henderson of old Dublin, were married on Sunday, June 28th. at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. G. H. Morrison officiating. We extend our congratulations.

Working Night and Day.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. These pills change weakness into strength, listnessness into energy, brain fag into mental power. They're wonderful in building up the heath. Ony 25c per box at Overton Drug Co's.

The Boss Worm Medicine.

H. P. Kumpe, druggist, Leighton, Ala., writes: "One of my customers had a child which was sick and threw up all food, could retain nothing on it's stomach. He bought one botle of White's Cream Vermifuge and it brought 119 worms from the child. Its the boss worm medicine of the world." White's Cream Vermifuge is also the children's tonic. It improves their digestion and assimilation of food, strengthens their nervous system and restores them to health, vigor and elasticity spirits natural to childhood. 25c at Overton's

When you want a pleasant physic try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. Sold by Overton Drug Co.

You know what you are taking when you take Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic because the formula is plainly printed on every bottle showing that it is simply Iron and Quinine in a tasteless form. No cure, no pay, 50c.

Marks of Merit

This magnificent building is a monument to honest values and fair dealing. Another proof of the confidence of the people in Montgomery Ward & Co. is the unparalleled volume of business we are enjoying this year. Twice since January 1st we have been forced to lease additional buildings in order to take care of our ever increasing business. We have lately leased the entire buildings of the old, well-known Schuttler Wagon Company which will be known as Warehouse No. 5 and used for the storage of heavy merchandise.

OVER THE COUNTRY.

POINT LOOKOUT.

Regular Correspondence.

July 6th.—The late rains have caused the farmers much work and the grass grows in spite of their efforts to stop it. The cut worms have disappeared and cotton is growing nicely though something like the boll worms are working on the forms at a fearful rate. With the present season corn is a sure thing in old Erath. There is much June corn being planted on the wheat and oat stubble. We are two years behind the times on corn supply in this county and every farmer is coming to realize the need of this necessity.

Many people from this section attended the picnic at Stephenville last Saturday.

After an illness of three weeks Mrs. Will O'Neal is convalescing.

Fountain Johnson and lady have a sick child.

Mrs. J. Walter St.Clair will arrive next Friday from Ft. Worth to spend a month with her parents here.

Cures Sciatica.

Rev. W. L. Riley, L.L. D., Cuba, New York, writes: "After fiffteen days of excruciating pain from sciatic rheumatism, under various treatments, I was induced to try Ballards' Snow Liniment, the first application giving my first relief. I can give it unqualified recommendation. 25c, 50c, and $1 at Overton's.

BUNYAN.

Regular Correspondence.

July 7th.—"Grandma" Simpson died last Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. She was buried the following day at the Stephenville cemetery.

Terry Campbell and lady visited his uncle at Clairete last Saturday and Sunday.

Ollie Sharp is on the sick list.

"Uncle" Dick Sims visited 'Uncle' John Sharp last Sunday.

W. J. Cooper is up in Eastland county helping J. C. Cooper with his crops. The latter is on the sick list.

To cure a cold in one day take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

ST. GEORGE.

Regular Correspondence.

July 8th.—A good rain would be welcomed in this community at this time.

Mrs. Smith is reported very ill.

L. W. Jones and wife are this week visiting his sister, Mrs. G. W. Keith, at Cisco.

Rev. Cox has cancelled his appointments to preach at St. George until after the camp meeting season closes.

W. D. Hallum, Bud Wells, Miss Truma McGee, Willie Williams and John Daffern, spent the Fourth in Stephenville.

Erwin Phillips and Miss Laura Williams and Horace Crawford and Miss Dona Williams spent the Fourth at Comanche.

A TEXAS WONDER.

Hall's Great Discovery.

One small bottle of The Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, cures all kidney and bladder troubles, removes gravel, cures diabetes, weak and lame backs, rheumatism and all irregularities of the kidneys and bladder in both men and women; regulates bladder troubles in children. If not sold by your druggist, it will be sent by mail on receipt of $1. One small bottle is two months' treatment and will cure any case above mentioned. Dr. E. W. Hall, sole manufacturer, P. O. Box 629, St. Louis, Mo. Send for testimonials. Sold by all druggists and Overton Drug Co.

READ THIS:

Abilene, Texas, Oct. 26 th., 1901—Dr. E. W. Hall, St. Louis: Dear Sir—I suffered two years with kidney and bladder troubles and one-half bottle of your Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, cured me entirely and I cheerfully reccommend it to all, Yours Truly, George Hayden.

A Surgical Operation

is always dangerous—do not submit to the surgeons knife until you have tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It will cure when everything else fails—it has done this in thousands of cases. Here is one of them: I suffered from bleeding and protruding piles for twenty years, was treated by different specialist and used many remedies but obtained no relief until I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Two boxes of this salve cured me eighteen months ago and I have not had a touch of the piles since.—H. A. Tisdale, Summerton, S. C. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles no remedy equals DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Sold by Overton's.

Ed Herd, who was convicted in the district court at Cleburne, of the murder of George Farabee, at the Walnut picnic a year or two ago, has been granted a new trial on the grounds that it was found that the jury cast lots in order to arrive at a verdict in the case.

The Foundation of Health.

Nourishment is the foundation of health, life and strength. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the one great medicine that enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest, assimilate and transform all foods into the kind of blood that nourishes the nerves and feeds the tissues. Kodol lays the foundation for health, nature does the rest. Indigestion, dyspepsia and all disorders of the stomach and digestive organs are cured by the use of Kodol. Sold at Overton's.

COMANCHE.

From the Visitor.

July 9th.—A man named Braswell from near DeLeon was placed in the calaboose Monday evening on a charge of drunkeness and he proceeded to set fire to the bedding. The room is small and illy ventilated and he soon yelled lustily for help. The marshal was out of sight and the people battered the door down and dragged the man out more dead than alive.

Will Elkins of Stephenville spent last Sunday in Comanche with his parents.

The contract has been let for a fifty foot addition to the store building of F. A. Adams. The foundation is now being prepared for.

W. G. Baxter made a business trip to Dublin, last Monday returning the following day.

Judge Oxford and his daughter Miss Edith of Stephenville spent last Friday in Comanche with relatives.

STEPHENVILLE.

From the Tribune.

July 3rd.—Watermelons are among the luxuries that are being enjoyed by our citizens this week.

Judge T. B. King left this week for a visit to counties in northeastern Texas.

Mrs. Dr. Williamson has rented her residence property to Mr. Anderson of near Duffau. Mrs. Williamson expects to spend the summer in visiting with her children.

The Baptists will beign a revival meeting at Lipan tomorrow. Rev. J. L. Vincent, the pastor, will be assisted in the meeting by Rev. Williams, pastor of the church at this place.

Two car loads of Irish potatoes were shipped from Granbury last week, for which the producers received a price of ninety cents per bushel in cash delivered on the cars there.

Judge F. R. Young was over from Dublin Wednesday. He is now living with his son-in-law, Mr. Kiker. He informs us that his health is good generally, though his eyesight is almost gone.

Last Saturday evening it appeared as though we were to have a negro war. A colony of the "Cage coons" from one of his plantations, assembled at the corner of the bank, and having imbibed freely of "song and dance" whiskey they made things lively for a while and at one time it appeared as though bloodshed might result.

N. N. Johnson, who resides near Hico, was in town Monday and reported his crop prospects unusually fine. He says that he recently cut his oats and that from eight and a third acres he got 4,365 large bundles.

Mrs. Lillian Love has filed a bid to continue to carry the mails between Cowan and Stephenville and we understand taht she is very likely to get it. She says that she prefers carrying the mails to teaching school.

E. F. Jones has this week been circulating a petition that will be presented to L. B. Comer, of the Frisco railroad, asking that Stephenville be furnished with a more commodious and better depot, and that seperate waiting rooms be furnished for white and colored people.

A car of Irish potatoes was shipped from Stephenville this week and at the time of loading it was understood that they were to receive a price of ninetv cents for them, but after they were delivered at the depot the market went off and it is not now known what price they will bring.

"Did you know," said a reporter, after closely observing the different wagons he saw where there was a large gathering of farmers, "that the Springfield is certainly the one more in use in Dublin territory than any other wagon," and then it struck him that there must be some cause for the wagon being so much more universally used than any other, so he began an investigation and found that it had all the advantage in every way that materially affect the running and wearing qualities of a wagon. It is light in draft and conceeded by all to be the strongest and most durable wagon made. It is a reasonably well known fact that the factory is located at Springfield, Mo., right in the heart of the best wagon timber belt in the world. It is made only of the best material and being manufactured right where the best wagon timber is gotten, they get first choice in selection and have preference over all other factories until their wants are supplied. They employ none but the very best mechanics that money can get— men who have experience in good wagon making. Every piece is made and filled by an expert in his line, the smallest item in the wagon has as much care as the largest one. He also found out from an interview with a merchant handling these wagons that the Springfield wagon people employ no travelling agents to sell their goods. So great is the demand for their make of wagons that the factory is far behind on all their orders and merchants and farmers alike are begging for their goods all over the country.

Mr. E. H. Karr, proprietor of Karr's buggy and repair shop, has disposed of his shop, building and all things appertaining thereto, to S. H. Prim at a private consideration. The deal was closed last Wednesday and as soon as he can get his business affairs here disposed of he will leave with his family for Florida with the expectation of making that state his home. The decision to sell out his property here and go to Florida was prompted by the condition of Mr. Karr's health, which has been anything but satisfactory for several years past and which has not materially improved during his brief residence here. Himself and his estimable family will be missed from the business and social circles of our city.

Stephenville's Fourth of July celebration was one of the best occasions of the kind ever had at that place and all who attended report an enjoyable time. Addresses were delivered during the course of the day by Rev. C. F. Kiker, Hon. Fred Chandler, Congressman O. W. Gillespie and Hon. B. B. Paddock, the latter two of Ft. Worth. Features of the day's sport were an old fiddlers' contest in which Sam Stone was awarded the prize of $5, a singing contest in which the Lingleville class was declared winner of the medal, a gun shoot, tub races, swimming races and other minor attractions.

The second annual encampment and reunion of the Christian church of west Texas will be held at Brady in McCullough county on July 28th. to August 9th. Last year there were five hundred campers at the meeting and more than a thousand in attendance at the Sunday meetings. This year it is hoped to double the number and every effort is being made to place the dates before the public and to prepare to offer conveniences to the people who attend. The meeting will be held under the direction of Rev. G. H. Morrison of Dublin, district evangelist.

A serial story "The Lion's Whelp," began in the Progress of last week, July 3rd,, to be continued for several weeks. It is a high-class serial by a popular and well known author. You should not fail to read the opening chapters in last week's paper. We have a few extra copies that we can supply to new subscribers who wish to begin with that week. The installment for this week was crowded out this week to make room for other matter. This we will try to avoid in the future.

You are cordially invited to attend the services at the Baptist church next Sunday. The bible school begins at 9:45 a. m. and if you want to be a member of a live, wide-awake school come next Sunday and bring all the children, we have a place for them. The pastor will preach both morning and night. He would be pleased to see all of his members at both of these services. "The church" will be discussed in the morning, as to what is the church of Christ and of whom is it composed. You will be welcomed.—E. L. Compere, pastor.

Rev. A. H. Darnell of Detroit, Texas, was called last Sunday by the congregation of the Christian church to take the pastorate of the church here. He will take his charge here on September 1st. and in the meantime the congregation will be without a regular pastor. Rev. Darnell has been at Detroit three years and is said to be an excellent preacher.

Mr. William Bate Sanders and Miss Mattie Moss were married at Gainesville last Monday, July 6th. The bride is well known here, having taught in the public schools here for some time and during her stay at this place made a host of friends and admirers. The groom, who is a prominent young business man of Port Arthur, has made a number of visits here and each time has made new friends. The couple have the hearty good wishes of the people of Dublin. They expect making their future home at Beaumont, at which place they will be after August 15th.

Very Remarkable Cure of Diarrhoea.

"About six years ago for the first time in my life I had a sudden and severe attack of diarrhoea," says Mrs. Alice Miller of Morgan, Texas. "I got temporary relief, but it came back again and again and for six long years I have suffered more misery and agony than I can tell. It was worse than death. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for physicians, prescriptions and treatment without avail. Finally we moved to Bosque county, our present home, and one day I happened to see an advertisement of Chamberlin's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with a testimonial of a man who had been cured by it. The case was so similar to my own that I concluded to try the remedy. The result was wonderful, I could hardly realize that I was well again, or believe that it could be so after having suffered so long, but that one bottle of medicine, costing but a few cents, cured me. For sale by Overton's Drug Store.

Comanche's big Fourth of July celebration was attended by a large number of people, the number being variously estimated from five to ten thousand. Beecher Montgomery won the first prize in the wild steer roping contest, Sim Clark second and E. Straley third; the best time was thirty-four seconds. G. W. Boston of Ada, I. T., made the best average in the gun shoot, making 123 targets out of a possible 135 and a straight score of twenty targets.

TIRED AND WORN OUT.

Women Need

a constant supply of blood-making material or their systems will break down. The complicated female organism is so delicately adjusted as to be easily thrown out of balance. As a result, health and strength are affected by divers diseases. Motherhood, family, society all levy such drains upon her strength that most women break under the nervous tension. The demands upon her nervous strength are much greater than similar demands of the opposite sex. Hence she must be supplied in greater measure with the element—iron—that gives strength. The reason women feel tired and worn out and suffer from headache, pains in the back and limbs, etc., is because they have used up their supply of iron. Menstruation trouble is largely caused by lack of iron.

Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic

supplies this element. It enriches the blood and restores what strain has used up.

Augusta, Ark., May 10, 1901.

"After having sold Dr. Harter's remedies for thirty years I can cheerfully recommend them. I might add that I hold in special favor Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic, and would recommend it as the very best preparation of iron I am acquainted with. To weak, worn-out women, and those troubled with nervousness, poor digestion, and pale, thin blood, I believe it to be a panacea.

Assignment of C. W. Enloe.

C. W. Enloe, doing a general merchandising business in Dublin, made a voluntary deed of assignment last Wednesday, naming Justice W. R. Able as assignee. The liabilities are estimated at from $1,500 to $1,700 and the assets at from $1,000 to $1,200, though the latter may go below this. When the business was originally started here it was operated as a branch store of Baxter Bros. at Comanche, but as no public announcement of the change was given we are unable to state when the transfer occurred.

No Pity Shown.

"For years fate was after me contionuously" writes F. A. Gullege, Verbena, Alabama. "I had a terrible case of piles causing 24 tumors. When all failed Bucklen's Arnica Sale cured me. Equally good for burns and all aches and pains. Only 25c at Overton's.

A PROPOSITION.

To the citizens of Dublin
And the county of Erath,
If you'll spend your money with us
We will kill the fatted calf.

If you'll trade with us right regular
We can give you some relief,
By cutting out some poetry
And putting in some beef.

We don't agree with "Sunny Jim"
About discarding meat
All through the summer time
To drive away the heat.

We prefer a good assortment
Of bread and meat and "Force,"
And many other eatables
That's very good of course.

But when it comes to good things,
And grub that's good enough
For kings, or queens, or farmers,
The barbecue's the stuff.

It will make you love your neighbor
And drive away all care,
And learn you to be honest
And deal upon the square.

Our advice is freely given
To our friends and all mankind,
But our meat will cost you money,
And its very, very fine.

Coupon books 10 per cent off for cash.

Yours for more meat and better meat by a handsome and large majority.

RAY & STAFFORD.

Don't be deceived by those who boast
About their barbecue,
Come right down to Jones & Norton's,
Where you'll find it very important,
To buy the best there is in town
And make it better all around.

Just call around and we'll prove to you
That we keep the best barbecue,
And also keep nice, fresh bolognes,
First door south of Geo. Maloneys'.
We buy our meat very cheap
And no one dare to try compete
With the quality of our meat,
And our prices can't be beat;
Not even by the wagons on the street.
We keep beef steak and Winnies too,
Pork, sausage and the best of stew.
Everything is fresh and fine,
See us when you want that kind.
Yours for fresh meats and barbecue,

Paine's Celery Compound

Permanently Cures Sick and Nervous Headaches that Make Life Miserable.

Sick and nervous headaches are amongst the worst ills of life. The man or woman who is subject to headache at irregular intervals, goes through life bearing a load of misery and wretchedness that is terrible to think of.

Headaches as a rule, result from a disordered condition of the nervous system. Mental excitement, loss of sleep, bodily fatigue, and disordered digestion are exciting causes. When the brain becomes tired and debilitated, the whole nervous system is weakened, and headaches result. If the liver is sluggish, the kidneys inactive, and digestion deranged, headaches invariably follow. To cure and prevent headache, the nervous system must be strengthened and vitalized. The most persistent cases of headache, nervous feebleness, and sleeplessness, are permanently cured by Paine's Celery Compound; it is the great reconstructant of the nervous system. Mrs. Henry Westrick, St. Clair, Mich., tells of her release from suffering as follows:—

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia and sick headache for a number of years. About every week I would have a bad spell of sick headache, but since I began using Paine's Celery Compound, my dyspepsia is gone, and I do not have any more headaches. I feel better than I have for years."

Afterward.

There's never a storm so wild
But after it follows a calm;
There's never a hurt so great
But somewhere's provided a balm;
There's never a night so dark
But after it follows the dawn.

There's never a shadow falls
But after it follows the light;
There's never a sorrow comes
But after it comes delight.

There's never a sky so grey
But after it follows the blue;
There's never a false friend found
But later you'll find a true.

There's never a heart that breaks
But after a while 'twill heal;
There's never a moan of pain
But after a laughter peal.

There's never a sin so black
But forgiveness is found at last;
There's never a weary day
But sometime 'twill be past;
There's never a night so dark
But after it follows the dawn.

—Woman's Life.

The Deacon's Vindication

For two or three weeks a good part of Horton county had been holding its breath and waiting for the thunderbolt to fall. It had been whispered about that Deacon Spooner, widower, was about to be sued for breach of promise by Nancy Skinner, spinster.

No one could speak with authority, but all gossiped and hoped that the suit would materialize.

It was known in a general way that Deacon Spooner had been paying Nancy Skinner attentions. There were vague rumors that she once rode home with him from the village; that he had recommended a cure for toothache; that she had knit and presented him a pair of blue mittens; that he had helped her out of a mud-hole in front of her own gate; that she had said he was the best singer in the church; that he had praised the color of her hair.

All these things were talked over and magnified, and a hundred people were ready to take their dying oath that there would be a marriage.

As a matter of fact, the deacon didn't want to marry. He was just "being good" to a lone woman. As a matter of fact, also, the old maid had no hopes of catching him, but she didn't propose to have her heart broken without holding somebody responsible for damages.

Likewise she had been told over and over again that she was too old for romance and that she couldn't look for love, and such things were calculated to put her on her mettle.

Gossip was right for once. Nancy Skinner sued Deacon Spooner for breach of promise and laid her damages at $20,000. That suit was a bigger thing than all the Fourths of July for twenty years past. A circus came along in the midst of the excitement and attempted to compete with it with disastrous results.

The county at once divided itself into two factions, and whenever a Nancy adherent met a deacon adherent there was no corn hoed during the rest of the day.

Deacon Skinner had to answer to more than the law. There was his church, his children, and his fellow-religionists. They demanded to know by what moral or legal right he toyed with an old maid's heart, and his answers didn't satisfy them.

He denied in the most solemn manner that he had toyed. They had never sat in the moonlight—never listened to the whippoorwill. Their talk had never gone beyond windmills, lightning rods and carpet rags, and in shaking hands with her he had always been careful not to squeeze any harder than he would in handling a ripe peach.

The deacon made these assertions and denials to his friends and his lawyer, while Nancy simply set her jaw and said she would prove her case at the proper time.

The case came on at last. It was just as the potato planting season had arrived, but not a farmer for ten miles around minded that. He was bound to be present at that trial if potatoes went up to $3 per bushel in the fall.

Nancy's lawyer looked like a man who had confidence in his case. In his opening address he talked of wolves in sheep's clothing, hypocrites, liars, broken-hearted women and many other things to sway the spectators, and his listeners decided that the deacon was a pirate in disguise.

Nancy had only one living witness to bring forward. He was her hired man, and he swore that he once heard Deacon Spooner tell her that she ought to kill the worms in her plum trees with kerosene oil.

She didn't depend on living witnesses, however. She brought forward written and printed proofs of the deacon's perfidy. She had kept a diary for several years, and it was full of such extracts as:

"The deacon called again this afternoon. He said one of his cows seemed to be sick. Asked me if I wasn't afraid of tramps. I think I saw love in his eyes as he said 'Good night, Nancy.'"

After about fifty extracts had been read, each and every one of which seemed to be a nail in the deacon's coffin and caused the spectators to suck in their breath with a gasp, the court excluded the diary.

Then Nancy played her trump card. She produced from a paper box, wherein it had reposed for long weeks, a slip of paper on which was printed in good fair type:

If you loved me
As I love you
No knife could cut
Our love in two.

What did the verse mean? She had read it over a thousand times. She had repeated the lines to herself by day and dreamed of them by night. They had told her that while butter and eggs were not fetching the price they ought to, she was beloved.

It was, or appeared to be, a sock-dologer on the deacon. It had come from his own hands. On an occasion he had brought her from the village half a pound of broken candy. There were peppermint, wintergreen and cinnamon pieces among the lot. There were chunks and hunks and cubes. Wrapped in a tissue paper was a hunk bearing the above motto. It was the deacon's way of declaring his love.

It had been accepted as such, but he had refused to follow up his good luck and ask Nancy to name the day. Every time he had departed she had burst into tears of disappointment.

Her wandering thoughts had made her mix up the sour with the sweet milk half a dozen times over and when she sought her couch it was to toss about and sigh and groan and suspect that the deacon was a heartless villain.

When her tale had been concluded everyone in the courtroom rose to his feet to mob the deacon, but before a hand was laid upon him the court dismissed the case and assessed the costs on the plaintiff.

In legal lore he explained that the poetry signified nothing, and that by no possibility could Nancy's heart have been broken in consequence of it. The candy might have given her indigestion, but the poetry could not have given her a hold on the deacon.

Deacon Skinner stood forth triumphant, but his church had to take up the matter. He passed another bad three days, for there were those who were inclined to think love and broken candy went together. But when the affair had been concluded the verdict was:

"We can't say that the deacon is guilty as charged, but after this we hope he won't leave any poetry with his packages."—Amanda Clarkson in Boston Globe.

GARMENTS OF BOSTON WOMEN.

Chicago Humorist Thinks We May Look for Startling Changes.

Simeon Ford, who is rated as a humorist of standing, relates that as he was riding in a Boston trolley car, the only male passenger in a crowd of women, his eye was attracted by a sign which read: "Half the people on this car are wearing Bunker Hill pants." To this assertion Mr. Ford takes modest exception, but we are inclined to believe he is wrong. Nobody will pretend to affirm that Mr. Ford's companions wore trousers, which, in so elegant a community as Boston, are the recognized nether garment for gentlemen, but neither Mr. Ford nor any other man is prepared to assert with confidence that they did not wear pants, either of the Plymouth Rock, the Bunker Hill or the Washington Elm variety. The women of Boston are distinguished for their progressiveness and their independence, and it is wholly conceivable that they have been quietly experimenting, unknown to the general public, but detected by the advertiser, who could not repress his eagerness to spread the glad tidings. Perhaps at a given signal, not long distant, the outer habiliments of the masquerade will be thrown off, and true Boston womanhood will stand revealed in her emancnpated gladness. A "well-fitting pant," as our clothing store friends term it, is much more symmetrical than the short skirt, and far more symbolic of the strides which woman confidently expects to make in the coming years.—Roswell Field in Chicago Evening Post.

HUGE NEST OF FISHHAWK.

It Is Four Feet Across and Weighs 400 Pounds.

The giant nest of the American osprey, or fishhawk, which has been placed in the crotched top of a pine tree growing on a point of land jutting into the lake near the main entrance to the Bronx zoological park, is attracting a great deal of attention from the increasing crowds these balmy days, says the New York Times. The nest, which was secured at Gardiner's island, off the eastern coast of Long Island, has the shape of a huge bowl, probably four feet across and a yard high, and weighs 400 pounds. It is composed chiefly of good-sized sticks and among the other materials are pieces of broken oars and wrecked boats, fishnets, skeletons of quail, fishbones and a long strand of barbed wire. The huge nest also has a number of subtenants, for about its sides are built the nests of three pair of purple grackles or blackbirds. The osprey is not a bird-killing hawk, although it is well able to take care of itself in encounters with other hawks and will not allow them to approach its nest. It is presumed that the wise grackles made their home in the osprey's nest for protection from other hawks.

A Song of Duty.

Sorrow comes and sorrow goes,
Life is flecked with shine and shower,
Now the tear of grieving flows,
Now we smile in happy hour;
Death awaits us, every one—
Toiler, dreamer, preacher, writer—
Let us, then, ere life be done,
Make the world a little brighter!

Burdens that our neighbors bear,
Easier let us try to make them;
Chains, perhaps, our neighbors wear,
Let us do our best to break them.
From the straitened brain and mind
Let us loose the binding fetter,
Let us, as the Lord designed,
Make the world a little better!

Selfish brooding sears the soul,
Makes the heart a nest of sorrows,
Darkening the shining goal
Of the sun-illumined morrows;
Wherefore should our lives be spent
Daily growing blind and blinder?
Let us as the Master meant
Make the world a little kinder!

—Denis A. McCarthy, in Good Cheer Magazine.

"Mexican" and "Gold."

The American who has lived long in Mexico and come to New York is queer on money. "How much did you say you made last year?" you ask, and his reply will be "A hundred thousand Mexican, or $45,000 gold." "What is your regular salary as president?" "Twenty-five thousand gold.'. He buys a hat. "The price?" "Five dollars." "Mexican or gold?" "Gold, treasury certificates or silver dollars." "Here's an old hat that cost me $43 in the City of Mexico." "That's a fine Panama. We will sell you one like it for $25." "Mexican or gold?" "United States currency." "Mine cost $43 Mexican, so I beat you $5.65 bold." It takes the clerk all the rest of the day to figure it out.

Kindergarten Labor.

Speaking of how seriously education is taken in these days, a certain school had to be closed because of an epidemic of some children's disease and one of the parents met the kindergarten teacher on the street.

"You must be glad of this unexpected rest," she said.

"Well, I should be but that there will be so much back work to be made up when we return."

Mamma mused, as she went on her way, where the arduousness of the labor came in in making the little three and four year olds recall that they had once learned that classic "Good morning, merry sunshine," and other jingles of that ilk.

In Newburyport, Mass., there lived at one time two preachers named John Murray. One was quite liberal in his views, the other strictly orthodox. It was sometimes difficult to distinguish them, both having the same name. To meet this difficulty as far as possible, the one was denominated "All Hell" and the other "No Hell" Murray." Once at on auction in Boston Mr. Murray gave his name, when the auctioneer inquired: "Which Murray?" "Rev. John Murray." "Which, Salvation or Damnation Murray?"

Things Quaint and Curious Gathered Here and There

FREAK OF OHIO RIVER.

Natural Amphitheater Formed by the Rushing Waters.

All the works of man are merely imitative of nature, but often there are curious reversals, such as the structure formed by the Ohio river, near Evansville, Ind. The ancients no doubt procured their inspiration for the great amphitheaters from the peculiar formation of mountain sides and between Evansville and Henderson, Ky., it would seem as if dame Nature had imitated the architecture of the Greeks and Romans. The yellow banks for miles show the stages of the falling water in great ledges. At one point, where the waters swirl inland, a regular series of circular steps has appeared, and if one were in Italy he might fancy he was looking on the remains of some old Roman circus.

Natural Sand Amphitheater.

AMERICAN BORN BRITISH PEER.

Lord Fairfax a Descendant of Cromwell's Great General.

Lord Fairfax, who is likely to reside hereafter in England, is regarded there in some ways as the most interesting member of the Scottish peerage. The London Sketch says that this is due to two points: "He is the only American born British baron, having no settled home in the country of his ancestors, and yet he has in no sense merged his British nationality in that of the stars and and stripes."

Lord Fairfax.

The bearer of a famous name, his ancestor, the great Fairfax, was one of the few nobles who sided with Cromwell; he held chief command at Marston Moor, and his son became general in chief of the parliamentary forces, and as such gained the great victory at Naseby. When the king came to his own again the Fairfax of that day found it more prudent to emigrate to America. He settled in Virginia, where he had great estates, and in due course his descendants became intimate with President Washington.

The present Lord Fairfax, twelfth baron, is a good looking man of 33. He received a special invitation to the coronation, and during his stay in London was much feted and entertained both by his brother peers and by those members of the court world who were acquainted with his curious and romantic history.

A Hideous Mask.

Our illustration is of a particularly repulsive dancing mask from Benin, which was sold awhile ago at a famous Benin Dancing Mask.

London auction mart. This peculiar head-dress and face-covering was the object of considerable admiration where it came from, though it could scarcely be considered conducive to gaiety, especially when one realizes the grotesque potentiality of the moving jaw.

Apes as Diviners.

It may not be generally known that in South Africa apes are often employed as geologists and engineers. They are trained to explore mining regions, having a marvelous scent for discovering springs of water, even if underground. A good many have been used for this purpose on the Cape to Cairo railway.

Nearly Two Centuries to Serve.

Edward Williams, a negro of Hunt county, Texas, charged with attempted criminal assault on a white woman, was given a sentence of 198 years at hard labor in the penitentiary.

Giraffe Is Never Lowly.

A giraffe assumes a high position immediately after its birth. At that time he measures six feet from his hoofs to the top of his head.

QUAINT TITLE-PAGE MOTTOES.

Conceits of Authors of Many Centuries Ago.

Some of the mottoes on the title-pages of old books are very curious. The following is from a book called "Gentlemen, Look About You."

"Read this over, if you're wise,
If you're not, then read it twice;
If a fool and in the gall
Of bitterness, read not at all."

On the title-page of "The Pragmatic Sanction," by Andrew Bocard, printed at Paris, in 1500, we find these lines:

"May this volume continue in motion,
And its pages each day be unfurl'd,
Till an ant has drank up the ocean,
Or a tortoise has crawl'd round the world."

The famous and learned Robert Record was very fond of mottoes on his works. The title-page of his "Pathway to Knowledge" (1551), treatise on geometry, displays these four lines:

All fresh fine wits by me are filed,
All gross dull wits with me exiled;
Though no man's wits reject will I
Yet, as they be, I will them try."

The title-page of his "Castle of Knowledge" (1556) displays a device of several figures and a castle, on which we read:

"To knowledge is this trophy set.
All learned friends will it support;
So shall their name great honor get,
And gain great fame with good report."

FORCE OF GROWING MUSHROOMS

Plant Easily Pushes Bricks From Bed of Mortar.

The explanation of the catastrophe depicted in the accompanying picture is very simple. A small piece of spawn must have got somehow into the soil in which the plant was potted. The conditions being fortuitous to fungoid growth, the spawn made the most of them, and in the mushroom stage ultimately evicted the rightful tenant of the pot. A curious instance of the wonderful force exerted by growing vegetation is related in the Gardeners' Magazine. This force seems all the more remarkable when exerted by light and unsubstantial mushrooms, but does not appear so extraordinary when caused by the expansion of a hardwood tree. A few weeks ago some half-hardy annuals were sown in a frame just cleared of a winter crop in the gardens of Kelsey park, Beckenham, England, and the lights closed to hasten germination. Some days afterwards signs of cracking were observed in the brickwork, and gradually a block weighing in the aggregate 1½ cwt. was pushed out of position. After cutting out several bricks a mass of mushrooms was found, 3 pounds 3 ounces in weight, growing in the center of the wall. The mycelium had run freely in the mortar and on the inner face of the bricks.

AUTOMOBILE AS A PUMP.

Connecticut Farmer Proves He Has a Long Head.

That the typical "down east" Yankee is a hard man to down has long been generally understood, but was perhaps never better demonstrated than by the manner in which Andrew Waters of Hartford, Conn., turned his auto into a pump.

Mr. Waters' stationary engine attached to the water supply was broken mysteriously just at a time of day when a large quantity of water was required to satisfy the thirst of his cattle. To repair the engine would take several days, and Mr. Waters needed a substitute at once.

Auto Doing Duty as a Pump.

In his emergency he backed his automobile up to the well-house, elevated the rear wheels clear of the ground, affixed a belt, and applied the juice.

Answer: Plenty of water, satisfied cattle, and a contented farmer.

And yet some people think an auto has no good use.

THE TALLEST GERMAN SOLDIER.

Corporal Tapplicoff Registers Six Feet and Nine Inches.

The German army is celebrated for the remarkable average height of its soldiers, but very few, if any, can come within six inches of the altitude of the tallest one in all the many branches of the German army. The man who enjoys this distinction is Corporal Tapplicoff, and in his stocking feet he registers six feet and nine inches. The tall corporal finds that his extreme height draws to him far more attention than his innate modesty attention than his innate modesty thinks necessary, and he is made the butt of many a joke perpetrated by his shorter companions.

Corporal Tapplicoff

Life has its recompenses for him, however, for he is greatly admired by the kaiser, who frequently calls upon him for special duties which bring with them a measure of pleasure, and relief from the routine of army life.

Tapplicoff recently had the pleasure of accompanying the kaiser on his trip to Rome, where the tall soldier attracted much attention among the comparatively small soldiers of Italy.

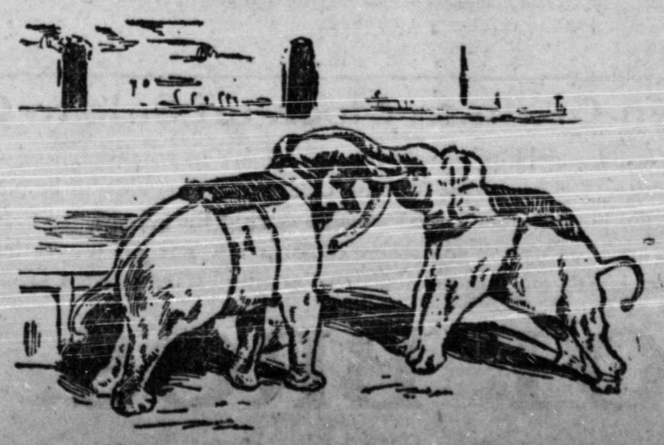

ELEPHANT FIGHT IN INDIA DESCRIBED BY ONE WHO WITNESSED THE SPORT.

It will come as a surprise to many people to know that elephant fights still take place in India. Such a contest is thus described:

"In the centre of the arena, at about forty yards distance from either end, is a circular brick erection. The head of the elephant stables and director of the fights, dressed in white, with a European riding whip in his hand, stood on this erection, directing the operation of bringing the second elephant into the arena. At the other end of the arena is another building about ten or twelve feet high, and of the same diameter as the first, but it is composed of a thick circular wall, with openings in it. The use of these structures will be seen further on.

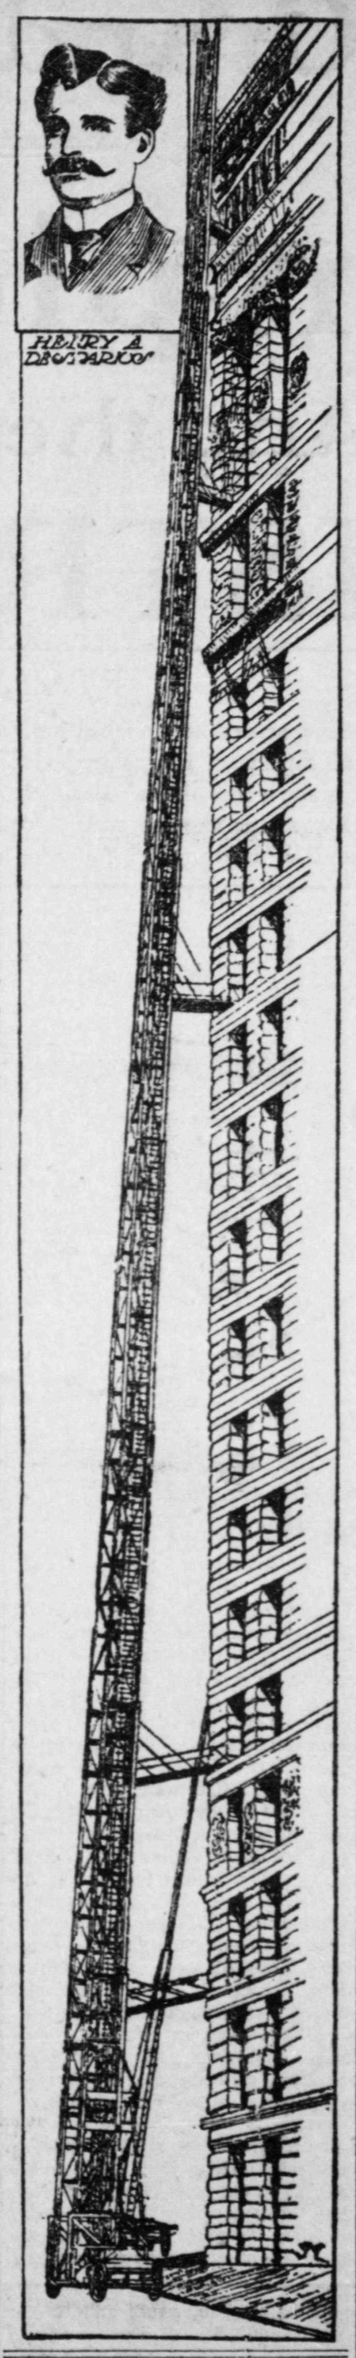

"The two elephants selected to fight on the present occasion were fine tuskers, the one named Kanaya and the other Ganesh Guj. The former was thirty-two years old and eight feet nine inches high. Ganesh Guj, or the "wise fighter," was forty-two years old and eight feet five inches high, and they were both about ten feet long from the top of their foreheads to the root of the tail. They were led into the arena with the fore-feet chained together and likewise their hind feet secured by strong iron chains, and chains again from these, which were held by ropes by gangs of coolies. Each elephant had his "nara," or rope-saddle, on his back and his collar of ropes round his neck, in which his mahout buries his feet when riding.

"Directly they are released the great, unwieldy-looking brutes run towards each other rapidly and butt their heads together, and each strives to push the other over, their tusks not being used and their trunks only waved above their heads, hanging down between their tusks, or twisted and turned about in various ways. The animals remain pushing each other for some time and then break away, and perhaps run round the arena before coming together again and struggling with each other at frequent intervals. If allowed to continue long enough one elephant would eventually push the other over and then proceed to dispatch him by tramping on him and tearing him with his tusks and so ending matters. But the animals are too valuable, and, moreover, such cruelty would not be allowed, and so the fight is always stopped in time. This is done by the letting off of very large squibs of gunpowder, which makes so much smoke and noise that the elephants are terrified and run to different parts of the arena, where they are secured and led away."

"The great, unwieldy-looking brutes run towards each other rapidly and butt their heads together.

INVENTION OF NEW YORK MAN GREAT AID IN FIRE FIGHTING

The inventive mind of Henry Aristede Desparios, a New York citizen, has evolved a fire ladder which reaches to the extreme height of 320 feet. It is built in eight sections of fifty feet each, allowing ten feet of each section for support, arranged in telescopic form, to be carried on the truck.

There are two platforms attached to each section, so that when the ladder is raised two or three firemen with their hose can be raised with it. These platforms are designed to connect with the upper windows of the burning building, thus forming a fire-escape or bridge from the building to the ladder. According to the inventor, the entire ladder wil not weigh more than 2,500 pounds.

"With a truck weighing 10,000 pounds there will be no chance for the ladder to tip over," said Desparios. "The present trucks of the department weigh 10,000 pounds. The numerous supports provided by the construction make it impossible for the ladder to bend. Furthermore, the entire weight of the ladder rests on the center of the truck, which gives it added strength."

"Great idea," said Fire Chief Purroy, when shown the designs of the inventor. "It's got to be practically demonstrated, however, before the department can put any faith in the invention. We have never been able to get beyond our present height of 80 or 85 feet. I won't say, though, that it can't be done. Nothing is impossible in these days of improvement and wonder."

Desparios is perfectly convinced of the feasibility of his plan and will submit a working model to the chief. He is 33 years old and a graduate of the Jesuit college, Montreal. He says he has been working on his ladder idea for the past eleven years, ever since he witnessed the horrible loss of life at the World's fair in Chicago.

"People were perishing by dozens on the roof, while the firemen were helpless," he says. "Their ladders reached only to the third or fourth floors, while the building was more than ten stories high.

"Chief Croker was very much impressed with my idea," continued Desparios, "and he urged me to work on a model. I have done so, and am ready to submit to a test of the model any time Chief Purroy wishes to see it."

MISS ASTOR IN SOCIETY.

Daughter of Expatriated American Is Not Popular.

Miss Pauline Astor, by all accounts, is a true daughter of her father, William Waldorf Astor, the man who gave up his citizenship to become a subject of the British sovereign. Nothing pleases her more than to snub aspiring Americans who happen to cross her social path. Miss Astor seems to have full appreciation of the fact that her father is worth something like $200,000,000. Here is a story they tell of a woman who met Miss Astor at a London entertainment. The two women were in the dressing-room and the elder woman tried her best to engage the girl in conversation. Miss Astor answred in monosyllables and at last the woman dared to call Miss Astor's attention to her glove. "You have a tiny rip in your glove, my dear." Miss Astor glanced at her glove and replied: "I like it that way." The elder woman felt the sting and retorted, with sarcastic sweetness, "Well, then, I hope the other tears."

REAL FOUNDER OF Y. M. C. A.

First Idea of Great Work Credited to Sir George Williams.

The founder of the first Young Men's Christian association is a fine-looking man of 82 years, living at 13 Russell square, London. He is Sir George Williams, knighted in 1894, the fiftieth anniversary of the Y. M. C. A. He and a few fellow clerks in the employ of Hitchcock & Rogers, now Hitchcock, Williams & Co., banded themselves together for purposes of domestic worship and mutual help, and from that small beginning grew the great society of to-day in Europe and America. Of course Williams, being a good boy and faithful employe, fell in love with Hitchcock's daughter, Helen, and married her, becoming later a member of the firm. The possibilities are that the society would have failed but for his gift of $25,000 to hire a hall and speed the work of the organization.

Plan to Aid Russian Jews.

Commander Booth Tucker of the Salvation Army says the project to raise $500,000 for the purpose of settling Jewish emigrants from Russia in the already established Russian community at Woodbine, N. J., is only in a tentative stage. After a visit to the place named Mr. Tucker said that they found the Russian Jews there were successfully undertaking industrial and agricultural pursuits and he thought newcomers might profitably be established there.

Omen Alarmed Bettors.

The more superstitious New York betters on the coming international yacht race sustained a shock the other day when they heard that one of the Coney island elephant babies had died. The big elephant Liz gave birth to twins, which were named Reliance and Shamrock III. About an hour after the christening Reliance died, and it is said to be a fact that this circumstance affected betting on the Good Reason for Change.

At a recent Columbia university reunion Harry Thurston Peck, literateur and Latin professor, was the theme of conversation. "I wonder why a man of his dignity signs his name Harry' instead of 'Henry,'" mused one alumnus. "He probably knew," replied another, "that if he remained 'Henry' he'd go through life cursed with the nickname 'Hen-Peck.'"

Young Lady's Adventurous Trip.

Mlle. Cauchet, a young lady living in Montmarte, France, has toured the world, paying her expenses by lecturing and by giving lessons in French. She went first to Belgium and then to London, Dublin and Glasgow. Subsequently she visited America, Africa, Australia, China and Japan and returned to Paris via Russia and Germany.

Pigs as Pets.

A traveler recently returned from Samoa states that the girls of that country make pets of pigs, much as we do of dogs in this country. The girls take the pigs when they are small and lead them about with a string, feeding them whenever they eat. When the animals grow up they follow their mistress without the leading string.

Balance of Madden-Graham Stock on Sale to Close Them Out.

We have still left a good many goods from the Maeden-Graham Stock to be sold out. Some are in small lots, some are remnants of Dry Goods. A great many good p... from the Clothing and Shoe stock, Men's Underwear, Dress Shirts, Ladies' Vests, Muslin Underwear, and all will be placed in this sale to close them.

Our big Madden-Graham Sale was a feast for the people, the pile of goods that we sold during the past 20 days demonstrated the fact that the people appreciate the ... tunity for high grade merchandise at small figures. These goods are not all sold, there is some few goods left over from this stock, these will be placed on sale as long as ... last, the prices advertised on them will hold good, they will not last through this sale as the quantities are limited.
