AIRCRAFT PAY HOOVER HOMAGE

An aerial display such as Washington never before has witnessed is one of the features of the inauguration of Herbert Hoover. Scores of army and civil planes hover over the capitol and the giant dirigible Los Angeles is also there. The Question Mark, which recently broke the world's endurance record for sustained flight while refueling in the air, also is scheduled to fly over the capitol's dome during the inaugural address. Above, a composite photograph, showing a typical inaugural scene, a quadron of planes, the Los Angeles and the Question Mark, soaring above the speaker.

REVOLUTION AGAIN MENACES MEXICO

IRON HAND OF CALLES AGAIN WILL BE FELT

FEDERALS MUSTERED TO REPULSE WIDE INSURRECTION

(By Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, Mar. 4.—The Mexican Government mobilized loyal forces today to meet the attacks of widespread and serious revolution.

General Plutarco Elias Calles, former president, was drafted from his retirement and made Secretary of War in charge of military operations. As troops were brought here from loyal states to reinforce the Mexico City garrison other combat contingents were prepared for departure to the states of Vera Cruz and Sonora where the revolt appeared to center. A strict censorship was established.

Vera Cruz and Sonora have been taken over—apparently without bloodshed—by the rebel forces, in Vera Cruz under the command of General Jesus Maria Aguirre, until yesterday chief of military operations there, and in Sonora by General Francisco Manzo, military chief. Governor Fausto Topete and General Manuel Aguirre, brother of Jesus Aguirre, joined with Manzo.

KALEIDOSCOPIC CROWD GATHERS EARLY FOR INAUGURATION

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 4.—A new pilot reached out today to grasp the helm of state. A tired veteran said good-bye and turned toward home. A nation stood at salute, breathing a prayer of high hope for Herbert Hoover, and a benediction for Calvin Coolidge.

Thousands overran the capital, and nearly every state had its place in the order of march of one of the most pretentious inaugural parades in history. Old-time fervor found new expressions as the age of radio and aviation took possession of an honored American institution, and cast the day's events into modern mold.

Embellished by the symbols of peace and of preparedness, the inaugural spectacle displayed both the might and the prosperity of a happy people. Silk-hatted governors mingled with the soldiery, and merchants, farmers and cowboys joined their cheers with the less demonstrative approbations of Red Indians in feathered headdress.

Crowds Gather Early

Throughout the mile from White House to Capitol, lined with temporary wooden benches, rising tier above tier over the sidewalk and gay with the national colors, American citizens of every walk made

ELABORATE PAGEANTRY IS FEATURE OF INAUGURATION CEREMONY STAGED MONDAY

HOOVER ADDRESS IS SENT TO ALL OF WORLD BY MEANS OF RADIO NETWORK; COOLIDGE SHOWS NO EMOTION IN RETIRING

BY BYRON PRICE,
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Mar. 4.—The presidency of the United States passed to Herbert Hoover today in a colorful ceremony which he himself described as "a dedication and consecration under God."

Speaking to all the world in an inaugural address delivered from the historic east steps of the capitol, the new chief executive declared disregard of law the nation's greatest peril, and appealed directly to his fellow citizens to help secure observance of the prohibition law.

With hand upraised, he had repeated the words of the official oath of office, administered by Chief Justice Taft, shortly after noon, and had kissed the Bible at a passage saying "He that keepeth the law; happy is he."

Curtis-Dawes Disagree

A half hour earlier Charles Curtis had succeeded Charles G. Dawes as vice-president in a ceremony inside the Senate chamber, enlivened unexpectedly when the new and retiring second officers, making the customary brief addresses, disagreed directly on the old subject of the Senate rules.

Calvin Coolidge, once more a private citizen after thirty years of government service, turned from the inaugural ceremony to begin at once his journey home to Northampton. He had seen power pass from him with whatever of emotion may have been struggling within hidden behind a serene inscrutability. In the immediate future, he will devote himself to a series of magazine articles.

Parade Is Ambitious

An inaugural parade, in some respects the most ambitious in history, was the last act of the inaugural drama, including in its allotted units the great dirigible Los Angeles and a hundred circling airplanes. Nearly every state had its place in the long line of marching clubs, bands, military commands, and automobiles loaded down with silk-hatted governors. Officials estimated that the rear guard would not pass the White House reviewing stand until late afternoon.

Everywhere about the chief and lesser actors in the day's panorama of history-making there were cheering throngs. They came from everywhere, overran the stands built for them along Pennsylvania Avenue, and crowded the sidewalk thickly over the whole mile stretch from White House to Capitol.

Grey and threatening skies saw the induction of the new administration into office but until the ceremonies had passed their peak only a little misty rain had fallen.

BAD WHISKEY IS BLAMED AS SEVEN PERISH

HOTEL PARTY RESULTS TRAGICALLY AT PEORIA, ILL.

(By Associated Press)

PEORIA, Ill., March 4—Poison liquor was blamed today for seven deaths here within 48 hours. In a roundup of bootleggers started as soon as a coroner's investigation was completed two men were arrested.

Three of the dead men and two others who were seriously ill were members of a party held by livestock men at a hotel Thursday night. The four others, who died, one of them a woman, had no connection with the party, but police said they received some of the same liquor.

The three men who died following the party, all of them wealthy livestock brokers, were W. A. Sammons of Chicago, and John Dempsey and Frank Aylward of Peoria. Two other members of the party, John Phillips and Ray Biederback, both of Peoria, are seriously ill.

The four other victims were residents of Peoria. They were Mrs. Ellen McFadden, Clarence Hoppe, Harold Huddleston and Richard Farra.

The first two arrests to result from the investigation were announced early today. One, Walter Neibert, was a bartender in the soft drink parlor of the hotel where the party was held. The other, Maurice Mansfield, was known to police as a wholesale liquor dealer.

Fermin Castro was killed instantly. Joe H. Gragg, owner of the car and from cards found in his pocket believed to be a member of the real estate firm of Richey, Casey and Gragg of San Antonio, died today. Ned Chavis died on the way to a hospital.

HUMBLE WELL, BOREN RANCH COMES IN UNDER 'SHOT'

(Special To The Journal)

POST, Mar. 4.—Additional oil production for the area southeast of Post, near Justiceburg in Garza county, was seen here yesterday when the Humble company's new well on the J. M. Boren ranch, 17 miles southeast of this city, came in under a charge of notroglycerine at 2,534 feet.

Prior to yesterday's shot, which was viewed by a large crowd, the well was thought to be a "duster." Drilling operations were ceased some time ago and the test abandoned but when workers came back to plug the hole 800 feet of oil was found standing in the casing.

Crowd Leaves Early

It was decided to shoot the well and the charge was set off Sunday afternoon. Nothing happened immediately after the charge was set off and most of the crowd melted

TRIO INJURED IN EXPLOSION EARLY TODAY

PREMATURE BLAST AT GRAVEL PIT MAY PROVE FATAL

(Special To The Journal)

QUITAQUE, Briscoe County, Mar. 4.—A premature dynamite blast in a gravel pit 10 miles southwest of here this morning, seriously injured three workmen in the employ of the Panhandle Sand and Gravel company, officials of the concern reported this afternoon.

The three men injured are E. P. Hodgkins, 55; Cham Itschner, 45, and Sam Apperson, 23. Apperson and Itschner are married men.

The trio were taken to a Plainview hospital for treatment and aside from the fact that they were badly injured little is known of their condition.

A. B. Brown of Lubbock, president of the gravel company, was called from the Hub City immediately after the mishap and was enroute here this afternoon.

Virgil Alguier, a fourth worker in the pit, escaped with injury.

PLAINVIEW, Mar. 4 (Special)—Two doctors and two nurses from the staff of a local hospital left here about noon today to meet a party from Quitaque who are bringing three injured men here for treatment.

The men were injured this morning a premature blast in a Briscoe county gravel pit.

The party was expected to reach Plainview at about 4 o'clock today.

COOLIDGE WILL BE MAGAZINE WRITER

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—Calvin Coolidge will turn to the pursuit of literature when he re-enters private life after today's inauguration of his successor as president of the United States, at least to the extent of one series of magazine articles of the "Human Interest" type.

When the question was put up to him directly whether or not Mr. Coolidge was going to write for the American Magazine, Merle Crowell, the publication's editor, acknowledged that a series of articles had been contracted for, although he could give no details.

It was learned however, that the Coolidge articles will not deal with the fine points of diplomacy or politics, but rather with the "human" side of life in the White House.

BUILDING SOARS BEYOND $800,000

Lubbock building permits for the year 1929 this morning soared above the $800,000 mark with the issuance of two permits, totalling $14,500 from the city offices.

This record total marked the greatest era of building activity of any sixty-day period in the history of Lubbock. The year's total now stands at $800,190 for 146 permits, and March's total for seven permits is $35,800.

Permits issued this morning were to: Jim-Bishop for the construction of a $8,000 garage at 309-11 Avenue H for S. F. Gentry; and J. F. Walkup for the construction of a residence at 2601 22nd Street for Thomas Evans.

Three Youths Are Held For Thefts

Three Lubbock youths, about 15 years of age, were arrested by city officers last night and two suitcases, stolen from cars parked near a local hotel, were recovered.

Valuable property, including salesmen's sample cases were taken from the cars. It is thought that a large number of boys were implicated in the theft, and Chief of Police John Lemond said this morning that four other arrests were anticipated today. Four of the six suitcases taken were still unaccounted for this morning.

The Tinies scampered to the tree, which was a funny sight to see, and then they all looked startled. "Well, for goodness sakes," cried one. "It has no leaves. It isn't green. It's quite the queerest I have seen. Perhaps it is a mystery tree, and we had better run."

"Ha, ha," laughed Scouty. "Don't be scared. It seems that we have always fared real well in everything we've done. It doesn't frighten me. Let's crawl beneath and go to sleep. Just think how nice and warm we'll keep. The way the tree is hanging, it looks snug as it can be."

Right shortly Scouty's little hunch seemed quite all right to all the bunch. They got down on their hands and knees to crawl in for a nap. But ere they'd moved an inch or two, a voice cried out, "Say, who are you?" The Tinymites were startled. Had they crawled into a trap?

Though Coppy was upset from fear, he jumped, and cried, "Why, we came here to rest our little worn out bones. Perhaps you think we're dumb. We'll surely keep all things all right. Say, where are you? You're out of sight. We all are wondering right now just where your voice comes from."

"Right here I am. Why, can't you see? You thought that I was just a tree. My hair's so long, and I'm so queer, I guess I fooled you all." The Tinies were amazed, of course, and Scouty spoke in voice quite hoarse. "You bet you fooled us. It's because your head's so fat and tall."

"Well, I'm the tree man. That is true. And I am glad to welcome you. I live here in the forest where my life is naught but play." And then the tree man laughed aloud, which cheered the little Tiny crowd. "We're glad to know you," Carpy said. "That's all that we can say."

Typewriter Supplants Pen and Pencil

Local Firm Has Wide Territory

The day of writing with pencils and pen and ink is passing and the public is turning to the use of the typewriter more than ever before.

This is the opinion of C. R. Engart, manager of the South Plains Writing Machine company, with headquarters at 1205 Avenue G. Mr. Engart reports that the use of the typewriter is more widespread than ever before, and that people in all walks of life are turning to the writing machine, giving further evidence of the efficiency which America is achieving.

The South Plains Writing Machine company is agent for the L. C. Smith and Corona typewriters for 23 South Plains counties, with headquarters here. The territory served by this company extends from Plainview on the north to Seminole and Lamesa on the south, and to Spur on the east. In addition to the sales, the company carries a full line of typewriter supplies and specializes in repair work. A complete, well equipped shop is maintained to care for the repair work.

L. M. Engart and H. L. Brooks are employed as salesmen. The excellent business for the past two months is based on the rapid growth of the whole South Plains section, and it is predicted that the business will continue to be good for the remainder of the year.

F. W. Groce, assistant cashier, is in charge of the savings accounts and with th ehelp of an efficient core of bank officers, is prepared to give the patrons of the bank sound advice in a savings program.

Some of the largest heating and plumbing jobs in Lubbock have been done by this company. Nothing but the best of experts are employed by Mr. Newton. Work done by this company extends not only throughout this country but to the oil field district to the south of here.

The number of employes used varies according to the amount of contracting work to be done. At the present about eight men are employed. Basing his belief on the tremendous building program expected in Lubbock for 1929, Mr. Newton is looking forward for a banner year.

Dental Firm Has Large Laboratory

With a well equipped laboratory in which they do all their work, the firm of Phillips and Hames has come to be almost synonymous with good dentistry in Lubbock.

Comink here from Wichita Falls last August, Dr. T. W. Hames formed a partnership with Dr. J. W. Philips who had moved here about a year and a half previous to that time from Slaton.

Their claim, "the most reasonable on the South Plains," has helped to build up a trade throughout the South Plains section, extending in some instances as far as east Texas.

Both dentists have had about fifteen years of experience in dentistry work. Dr. Hames is a graduate of Baylor and Dr. Philips is a graduate of the Southern Dental college of Atlanta, Ga. Their office and laboratory are located in suite 1 of the Conley building. Miss Olga Homer is the office girl in charge of the office. Appointments with the dentists are made through her.

Frye Business At New Record

As far as the J. F. Frye Rubber company is concerned business right now is better in the South Plains sector than it has ever been.

Mr. Frye, owner of this business is located at Thirteenth and Avenue H, declared today that sales of Federal tires were hitting new peaks at this season of the year. The double Blue Pennant continues a reigning favorite with the purchaser.

Texaco gasoline and oils are handled by the firm and service to the drive-in customers gets attention, with emphasis.

"Treat the customer right and leave a pleasant impression with him and he will come back." That is Mr. Frye's philosophy.

Federal tires are handled exclusively.

SEVENTIETH CONGRESS ENDS WORK

STORMS AND TUMULTS ARE LEFT BEHIND AT CLOSING TERM BEFORE NOON TODAY

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Record of the Seventieth Congress has been made and written into the great Book of Law.

Its storms and tumults were behind it when it was called into session at the Capitol today for a brief perfunctory meeting before terminating by constitutional flat at the hour of noon.

For most of the Senators the day held forth an immediate step from the expiring Congress to the new—the seventy first—for under special proclamation of President Coolidge the Senate of the new Congress came into session at the moment the old Senate passed into history.

Looking ahead and with Herbert Hoover's campaign promises in mind the old House, however, already has prepared the way for legislating by the new Congress on these questions of tariff revision and farm relief. Its ways and means committee has held hearings for seven weeks to lay the foundation for tariff changes and sub-committees of Republican hold-over members have been empowered to sit after adjournment to prepare the new bill. The agriculture committee also will hold hearings before the April session in preparation of a farm relief measure.

Both Meet Early

Following the first Sunday session in six years, both houses were summoned to meet earlier than usual today, the house at 10 a. m., and senate an hour later.

Few measures of importance remained to be acted upon at adjournment. One doomed to die, and strangely enough, one in which Mr. Hoover has a real interest, was that passed by the house yesterday by a vote of 199 to 153. It would postpone for one year from July 1 the placing in effect of the national origins clause of the immigration act but its chances of becoming a law faded in the Senate where opponents yesterday had a whip hand.

Under existing law Herbert Hoover, as president, must sign an order next month, placing the clause in effect on July 1. In his campaign he favored repeal of the provision which would revise the quota restrictions in favor of Great Britain and Northern Ireland at the expense of Germany, Sweden and Norway.

But aside from this little legislation was left incomplete. There were, however, a number of nominations left pending—passed up by the senate because of a lack of time—and they included the nomination of a member of the Coolidge cabinet, Curtis D. Wilbur, the secretary of the navy, to be a federal judge in the Pacific Coast area.

A 'GOOD COP'

Still He Didn't Mind Taking Him For A Ride

CHICAGO, Mar. 4 (AP).—Policeman Edward Coleman, spoken of by his friends as "A Good Cop" who never smoked nor drank during seven years of unblemished police service, has confessed to taking an automobile thief "for a ride" and shooting him, probably fatally. His victim was Michael Bugario, 30.

Coleman said he became a "tipster" for Bugario a year ago, agreeing to tip off Bugario to automobiles that might be stolen easily. Coleman was to get $50 for each car Bugario stole.

"I wanted to quit it," Coleman's confession said, "but Bugario wouldn't let me. He said he needed $500 and threatened to 'talk if I didn't pay.' I told two of his pals that Buragio was trying to shake me down. They agreed to help me settle him. We got him in my car Saturday night and drove into an alley. Buragio began to yell when they beat him. They told me to shoot him. I didn't have the heart until one of them said, 'shoot him, or I will.' Then I fired."

LAUNCH FIGHT PRAIRIE DOG

POISON MIXTURE IS PREPARED MONDAY BY FARM AGENT

The first shot was fired this morning in the county-wide war on prairie dogs, which it is planned to carry on in the various communities of the county for the next week or ten days.

The campaign will be under the direction of Lubbock County Agricultural Agent D. P. Eaton and R. J. Powell, field assistant of the state biological survey. A mixture of poisoned maize was being prepared this morning and will be distributed to the farmers of the county.

It is requested that farmers call for the grain and receive instructions on how to use it. A check of the county will be made by Mr. Powell and a follow-up campaign of poison dust will be used in an effort to completely exterminate the dogs. The poison grain usually kills an average of about 90 per cent of the pests, Mr. Powell said.

Until March, Mr. Powell was with the United States government biological survey, and will be transferred back to that service July 1. His headquarters are located at San Antonio.

Possibilities Of Intense Farming To Be Outlined

(Special to The Journal)

SNYDER, March 4—West Texans have been invited to come to Snyder, Thursday, March 14, when Charles Weeks of Owensmouth, Calif., is to have a mass meeting here showing what can be produced from one acre of intensive farming. Plans have been going forward here for some time on establishing 2 1-2 and 5-acre poultry tracts and Mr. Weeks will cooperate with the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce in the project.

Charles Weeks has lectured up and down the Pacific Coast for several years, advertising farm bureaus, chambers of commerce, poultry associations, high schools and agricultural colleges and the halls are filled to capacity. He is now making a lecture tour throughout the state of Texas, bringing a world of valuable information not only to the general farmer, but to every owner of a home who is interested in making it more beautiful with neatly trained trees and vines. His Snyder engagement calls for an extensive lecture on the chain poultry farm idea, showing just how quickly a luxuriant garden home can be created from soil, water, air and sunshine when mixed with fertilizer and common horse sense with a poultry project as the stepping stone.

COUNTY ATTORNEY OFFICE IS MOVED

The offices of County Attorney Vaughn Wilson and Justice of the Peace G. R. Scott were changed this morning, giving a closer connection between the county attorney's office and the sheriff's office.

Judge Scott is now located in the northeast corner of the first floor in the same offices as Justice of the Peace W. S. Clark, and Mr. Wilson is located in the office next to the sheriff's office.

MEXICAN FLIERS WILL SEE HOOVER

Pair Of Aviators Failed In Non-Stop Flight

WASHINGTON, Mar. 4 (AP).—Captain Joaquin Gonzales Pacheco and C. E. McMillan, Mexican fliers who landed at Bolling field yesterday after a flight from Mexico City, planned today to see the inaugural ceremonies and afterward a meeting with the new president had been tentatively arranged. They brought greetings to Mr. Hoover from Dwight Morrow, American ambassador to Mexico.

Captain Pacheco and McMillan planned a non-stop flight from Mexico City but in order to gain altitude they were forced to dump part of their gasoline and this caused a stop at Birmingham, Ala. Then a fog and engine trouble caused a descent at Crewe, Virginia, where a propeller was damaged in landing.

The fliers were greeted at Bolling field by a group of Mexican embassy officials. They were taken to the embassy and were welcomed by Ambassador Tellez. There McMillan found his wife awaiting him. After reaching the embassy, Pacheco immediately telephoned his wife in Mexico City and assured her of his safety.

RANGER IS TEXAS MARCH CHIEFTAIN

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP).—A Texas Ranger, acting as drum major for a day, was assigned to lead Simmons University Cowboy band and a group of Texans up Pennsylvania Avenue past the presidential reviewing stand in front of the White House today in the inaugural parade.

Although ninety-fourth in the line of march, the Lone Start delegation was none the less conspicuous. Cowboy chaps and ten-gallon hats, worn by members of the band, along with national and state colors borne by a honor guard of private citizens, made the Texans one of the most colorful units. More than 200 representatives of the border state were on hand to witness and take part in the ceremonies attendant to the inauguration.

Anti-Smith Democrats and Pro-Smithites mingled in the vast throng of the capital for the inauguration, seeming to forget for the time being any animosity that might exist, and intent only on paying tribute to the man who is to be elevated to the highest office in the nation.

The Texas delegation made the trip to Washington aboard a special train, and were joined by some 25 others who had been here for several days.

$20,000 Swindling Charge Is Lodged

FORT WORTH, March 4 (AP).—Minnie G. Martin, alleged by the government to have been a partner of A. C. Killian in a scheme to defraud Mrs. Maggie Hopkins of Pamna of more than $20,000, was brought to Fort Worth yesterday from Oklahoma City, where she was arrested and was released on $5,000 bond returnable March 11.

Killian was arrested here last week and was released on bond. Both are charged with having used the mails to defraud.

REPARATIONS GROUP LABORS

PARIS, March 4 (AP).—The reparations experts committee went into its fourth week of labors today with a brief plenary session during which reports by sub-committees were made.

ONLY RANDOM GUSTS FROM MEXICAN REVOLUTION STORM FELT IN TEXAS

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, Mar. 4.—The unrest, excitement and alarm attendant on a Mexican revolution had not crossed the Rio Grande today.

From Texas cities along the international river boundary came word that all was quiet, and most residents went about their pursuits with calm.

The outbreak of last night's Mexican revolt was not known generally in most American border towns until news agencies telephoned from the "outside" for information. Mexican authorities at Matamoras, Tamaulipas, Mexico, professed ignorance of any uprising several hours after reports of it had become current, and Brownsville—within a stone's throw of Matamoras—paid little attention—then and later.

Laredo, Eagle Pass, Del Rio and El Paso reported no untoward incident and no known interruption of communications into Mexico.

ORGANIZE FORCE TO STORM VERA CRUZ

MEXICO CITY, Mar. 4 (Monday) (AP)—Official announcement was made early today that a strong military force was being organized to combat the rebel movement in the state of Vera Cruz. It was announced also that General Gonzalo Escobar, chief of military operations in the state of Coahuila, already had started for Mexico City with reinforcements for the Garrison here. This latter phase of the announcement served as official denial of rumors that Coahuila had joined the rebel movement.

MORROW REPORTS TO WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Mar. 4 (AP).—The revolutionary movement in various parts of Mexico was fully reported to the American government today by Ambassador Morrow at Mexico City and by consul officers at various Mexican cities on the border and elsewhere.

DOUGLAS, ARIZONA ASKS FOR TROOPS

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Mar. 4 (AP).—Mayor Millard Haymore of Douglas today declared he would ask that a detachment of United States troops be sent here pending settlement of revolutionary conditions on the Mexican side of the international border.

REVOLT AIMED AT CALLES REIGN

AGUA PRIETA, Sonora, via Douglas, Ariz., Mar. 4 (AP).—In a telegram to the Associated Press, sent from his official residence at Hermosillo, Governor Fausto Topete of Sonora today declared that he and his state were in revolt not against the government of Mexico but against the "domination" of the government by Plutarco Elias Calles, former president.

COOLIDGE AT END OF ROAD AS PRESIDENT

RETIRING EXECUTIVE LEAVES CAPITOL FOR HOME

BY RICHARD L. TURNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Filled with the proud satisfaction of one who has given the best of his years and talents to the service of his country, Calvin Coolidge today came to the end of his career in the nation's mightiest office.

Happily, he turned toward Northampton and the little half-house that in humbler days was home. Regretfully he parted from those who have stood at his side in administering the affairs of a great and powerful nation.

Often, Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge have talked of the time when it would all be over and they could "go back home." Today, they awaited only the inauguration of the chief executive's successor before entraining for Northampton and their desire to be off was so great that they decided to abandon the traditional practice of returning to the White House for luncheon with the new president.

After the new president's inaugural address, with a few hasty fare wells to the seret service men who constantly have guarded over Mr. Coolidge since he became president the retiring chief executive and Mrs. Coolidge had arranged to slip away as unostentatiously as possible to the Union Station. For their journey to Northampton the Pennsylvania railroad had provided a private car.

FIFTY-FOURTH LEAGUE MEET OPENS TODAY

MINORITY RIGHTS SAID MAIN TOPIC FOR DISCUSSION

GENEVA, March 4 (AP)—The fifty-fourth session of the council of the League of Nations opened here today with the question of minority peoples dominating topics on the agenda. M. Scialoja, Italy, sat as president.

Dr. Gustov Stressemann, the German foreign minister, announced that Germany would ratify the Geneva protocol prohibiting the employment of poison gas and bacteria in wartime. Foreign Minister Zaleski of Poland followed immediately with a similar announcement for the Polish government.

Signor Valdis Mendeville, the Chilean member, announced that Chile is and will continue to be a loyal member of the League of Nations. It was understood that this statement was made chiefly for the purpose of disproving reports that Chile intended to resign.

SCOUT DRIVE IS ALL READY

FINAL MEETING TO LAY PLANS CALLED FOR MONDAY NIGHT

With a goal of $10,000, the annual Boy Scout financial drive will be launched in full force at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

All of the six teams, together with anyone else interested in the future of scouting in Lubbock and on the South Plains, will meet in the city hall at 7:30 o'clock tonight to work out final plans for the intensive drive. A second meeting will be held at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning when the workers will be given cards, and assigned to districts.

The entire city has been divided into sections and all of the local business men carded. Virtually all preparations for the campaign have been completed, it was reported this morning by K. N. Clapp, local scout commissioner.

Following tomorrow morning's meeting, the workers will take the field in an effort to raise the desired $10,000 as soon as possible. No limit has been set on the end of the drive, and the co-operation of the entire city is asked in putting over the campaign.

Tom A. White is chairman of the campaign and will direct the activities together with the officials of the South Plains Area Council, Boy Scouts of America.

OFFICIAL BLAME FOR ITALIA DISASTER PLACED ON NOBILE, COMMANDER OF BIG DIRIGIBLE

BLAME ON HIM

GENERAL UMBERTO NOBILE

(By Associated Press)

ROME, March 4 — Official blame for the disaster which ended the North Pole flight of the dirigible Italia last May was attached today to General Umberto Nobile, its commander.

Two counts are contained in the censure, which was made by the official board of inquiry appointed by Premier Benito Mussolini.

The first of these blames Nobile for the cash itself; the second finds no acceptable justification of his letting himself be rescued from the ice first when finaly the Swedish aviator Lundborg reached the stranded men.

The report contains the highest praise of Captain Alberto Mariano, pilot, and Captain Filippo Zappi, navigator, whose conduct with the Swede, Finn Halmgren, was the subject of many reports after their rescue.

The report says the wreck of the Italia was due to a "faulty maneuver, the result partly of the composition of the crew and of the way the craft was handled. "Responsibility of the maneuver falls on the Italia's commander."

At the meeting, the directors checked over the publicity program and the new building now under construction in which the show will be held this year. The catalogue was approved and checking begun on the entry list, which this year promises to be the best of any show held by the association.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Living and Loving

BY MRS VIRGINIA LEE

Now we have the problem of the married flirt. What will we do about him or her? In this case it is a man, but we all know the woman who cannot "make her eyes behave" when a male creature is about—who starts flirting in her babyhood and keep it up until the sod covers her. I do really think there are more married men who are flirts than women, but this is largely because men have more chance. They are out meeting attractive women constantly and women, once married, and mothers, do not meet many men—except tradesmen.

Here is the letter which states the case:

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I have a woman friend whose husband is regarded as 'the ladies man.' He is very handsome and constantly surrounded by lovely women with whom he flirts and kisses once in awhile, and, in general, is known as the Sheik. His wife sees him flirt and dance all night with others, while poor she is left stranded among older women, trying to appear as though she is having a glorious time, and does not let it be seen that she is neglected. She is busy with her two boys and is ignorant of the fact that he has little affairs of his own. The women he slyly kisses adore him, and pretend to be his wife's greatest friends. I myself have been looked upon with favor by him, but just ignored him."

Pretty good sport, that wife, isn't she? Maybe she knows that these "little affairs" don't mean a thing really, and that she is secure in his heart, and she has her boys, you know. There is always something one doesn't like in one's life mate, you know. Neither husband or wife is quite perfect, and maybe this young wife has made up her mind that her husband is so constituted that he must flirt and that she might as well put a good face on the matter. He might do something even worse, you know. She probably does not feel like lowering her standards as a wife and mother, or she might give him a taste of his own medicine and let him see that she, too, is attractive to the opposite sex.

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I'm a girl in my teens. Have been going with a boy five month my senior. I saw him lately and he didn't speak, although he was a distance from me. He smiled. He wasn't expecting to see me and he wasn't cleaned up. Does this account for him not coming over and speaking to me? I don't think he's mad. What must I do? I don't want to call him up, for he'd sure think I was chasing after him.

"BROWN EYES."

He probably felt he was not looking his best dear, and was sensitive, just as you would if he called unexpectedly at your home and you were wearing old clothes. You'd probably run and hide or make him wait until you were dressed up, wouldn't you? Just treat him as usual next time you see him.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Montgomery and three daughters of Tahoka visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Wheelock and family.

HOUSE PLANS

A Colonial House Desi With Eye To Permanence

BY CORA W. WILSON
For NEA Service

A HOME, of course, is more than a mere shelter from the elements. It becomes an actual part of the life of the family that dwells within it.

A house is built for permanence. Therefore all factors which go into its construction must be investigated with the utmost care in order that it may give lasting satisfaction.

Good architecture, good materials and a permanence of style are represented in the lovely old Colonial house shown here.

It is of wood construction—pine millwork and red cedar exterior. Red cedar, being of soft texture, can be nailed without splitting, and because of its cellular structure it does not shrink or swell. Paint spreads well on its surface.

The floor plan is well laid out. One enters a foyer that has a large closet on each side. On the left is a living room with an open fireplace of Colonial design. This room has four large windows. From here one goes into the study, where another open fireplace is installed. In the rear of the entrance is the dining room with a larger bay window and other windows on the side. One can enter the living room porch or pantry from here.

From the right of the entrance the visitor finds a vanity room, dining alcove, kitchen with a supply closet and a large pantry, and a two-car garage.

The second floor has a master bedroom, bath and large cedar closet. Three other large bedrooms and bath also are on this floor.

The dimensions: Extreme width, 82 feet; extreme depth, 43 feet; cubical contents, 53,000 feet.

For additional information and cost estimate write Cora W. Wilson, 420 Madison avenue, New York City, and be sure to enclose the clipping from this newspaper.

DEVELOP TRIO OF CAGE STARS

THREE OUTSTANDING MEN PRODUCED IN CURRENT YEAR

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, March 4.—Although the Southwest Conference cage season attracted less interest than many former campaigns, it produced what critics agree are three of the outstanding players in the history of the circuit.

Wear Schoonover and Tom Pickell of Arkansas University and Holly Brock of Texas University were unanimous choices of 14 sports writers and officials for places on the All-Southwestern Conference quintet selected for the Associated Press.

Brock set a mark that is likely to stand for several blue moons when he ran his season scoring record to 161 points in the final game against the Aggies Saturday night. His 16 points in that game enabled him to pass Pickell, who finished with 155.

Ex-President Coolidge, during his administration, has posed with 957 delegations on the White House grounds. Guess about the only organizations not included in that number are some of the Chicago business groups.

"Orgatone Has Made A New Man Of Me And Restored My Health," Says Springer

To the large number of men whose statements have been published in the press of the country is now added the name of Fred H. Springer, of Hale Center, Texas, living on rural route 2, and who is a very prominent and well known farmer, while talking with the Orgatone representative, at South Plains Drug Store, Plainview, Tex., recently.

"Orgatone has made a new man of me and restored my health," he said, "and I am more than glad to recommend it. I was in a very run down condition, and was very weak and nervous. I had the 'flu' and then my condition got worse. When I got up from the flu I wasn't able to do my work. I was bothered with stomach trouble, and food did not agree with me, but the attack I had of the 'flu' made it worse, and I was surely in a bad shape. I got to where I didn't get enough rest to keep me alive, and my appetite left me and I didn't eat anything. I had a distressing feeling, caused from the gas that formed on my stomach, and anything I ate would not digest.

"I have only taken one half bottle of Orgatone, and it certainly has improved my case in every way. All my stomach trouble has left me, and I eat and sleep just fine. I am gaining in weight and strength every day, and do not have those nervous, restless spells. Orgatone has restored my health, after nothing I took seemed to do me any good, and I know from my own experience that it is a good medicine."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by the Bowens Drug Store under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative. Out of town customers are being supplied by mail upon receipt of price, $1.25 for one bottle or 6 bottles for $6.25. Adv.

FUCHS WILL BE AIDED BY TWO OLD VETERANS

BOSTON CHIEFTAIN IS CONDUCTING DARING EXPERIMENTS

BY BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 4 (AP)—Emile Fuchs, former New York judge, will sit this summer on a strange bench and with him will rest the hopes of the Boston Braves "The Judge", as he is called, will find this open air court quite different from the ones he knew in New York.

The head of the Boston forces in the National League is conducting one of the most daring experiments in baseball. He has stepped from the sheltered confines of his executive office to the field itself and although he has not donned a baseball uniform to replace the judicial robe of other days, he is no less the manager.

Sells Self to Team

At first glance it would seem impossible for a club president to lay aside a pen to pick up a bat with any hope of success, but the mild mannered Fuchs with a ready, pleasant smile and sympathy for a mankind, certainly has a chance to get away with it. He has accomplished one third of his task already by selling himself as a manager to his players. Now he has to convince the fans and opposition clubs.

He will be assisted by two stalwarts of the game, Johnny Evers and Hank Gowdy, co-heroes in the 1914 four game world series triumph of the Braves over the Athletics. On the playing field will be found at least two men who know a lot of the game. Rabbit Maranville another 1914 Braves' star, and George Sisler, former manager of the St. Louis Browns, will be very active in carrying out the instructions of "The Judge." Gowdy may join the playing forces for fifty games or so.

Chicago Recruits Help

The five players Boston took from Chicago have shown good form in the spring workouts and promise to help the club. Maguire, a sensational fielder, is established at second base. Louis Legett will get a chance to do plenty of catching and Percy Jones, Bruce Cunningham and Harry Selbold will fit nicely into the pitching staff. Selbold is not a youngster but has ripened in the minors.

Kent Greenfield, Bob Smith, Edward Brandt and Arthur Delaney are veterans who will again be available. Ben Cantwell and Bill Clarkson, who went from the Giants to the Braves, Henry Wertz, former Brave, George Peery, Wichita recruit, and G. V. Leverett, former White Sox, trying to come back to major league baseball, are in for a free for all.

Infield Has Stars

The infield will be made up of Sisler, Maguire and Bell on the bases with Maranville and Farrell at short. The fleet Lance Richbourg is the only outfielder sure of his place. Earl Clark and Al Moore may complete the trio, leaving George Harper, Heinie Mueller and Jack Smith to fight for the other places.

Pat Collins, ex-Yankee, the veteran Zack Taylor, and Dick Smith, the Notre Dame football star who caught for Montreal last year may make up the catching staff unless the ancient but nimble Gowdy, take a hand.

Golfer Makes Par Score At Snyder

SNYDER, March 4. — Snyder boasts of a golfer who has made a perfect score on the beautiful nine-hole course of the Snyder Country club. Earl Fish playing a foursome with Ivan Dodson, Dr. J. G. Hicks and Ivan Dodson, jr., made the par of the course with 35 strokes, making each hole in compliance with the par strokes to each hole. He recently made the course in 34 strokes but the perfect score was the first time that the feat had ever been accomplished here.

JOHN M. WITT IS BURIED SUNDAY

Funeral services were held at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the First Baptist church for John M. Witt, 67-year-old pioneer of the Plains, who died at his home, 1814 9th street, Saturday night. The Rev. W. R. White, pastor of the church, officiated. Burial was in the Lubbock Cemetery under the direction of Bynum Brothers.

Mr. Witt first came to this section in 1890, settling at Old Emma in Crosby county, and operating the first mercantile store there. He moved to Lubbock in 1914. For the past twenty-five years he has been engaged in the nursery business.

$75,000 In Gems Taken By Bandits

MIAMI, Fla., Mar. 4 (AP)—Two heavily armed unmasked robbers held up the Maynard Jewelry company store here today and got $75,000. Police with riot guns took up the trail of a large green automobile in which they drove away.

SWINGS DANGEROUS WAR CLUB

BY JACK SORD
Sports Cartoonist-Writer for Central Press and Journal

Of all the Pacific coast talent working their way into the big league this season, Earl Sheely, who starred at first last year with the Sacramento club, promises to make the most trouble for opposing pitchers. Sheely is not a newcomer to the majors, having played seven years with the Chicago White Sox, and it will not take him long to become readjusted to the big league game.

Earl made his major league debut in 1921, coming to Chicago from Salt Lake City in a cash and trade deal. He immediately showed a liking to big league pitching, and continued to pound the ball through the greater part of his stay. In spite of a slump in 1927, when he hit only .209, Sheely left the Sox with a grand average of .305.

They figured he was all washed up after the 1927 season and he drifted out of the league. At that time President Dreyfuss, of the Pirates, offered $15,000 for the first sacker, but Comiskey preferred to send him to the minors. As it turned out it was just as well for Pittsburgh, for it it cost them only $5,000 to bring Sheely from the coast.

BABE CONFIDENT OF GOOD YEAR AND OF ANOTHER PENNANT FOR YANKS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 4 (AP)—Babe Ruth has recided that he is going to have a good year and that the New York Yankees are going to win another American League pennant.

Babe Ruth

Aside from saying that he is in good physical trim and confident that he will play as well as he ever has, the Babe declined to become specific as to why he thought so.

But he became eloquent as to the Yankees' chances.

"The other teams, Detroit and Washington, in particular, may have improved," the Babe says, "but not enough to threaten us. I can't see that the Athletics, who gave us the most trouble last year, are any stronger. Neither are the Browns. We are bound to get more pitching than we had last year for we will have Pennock and Moore back. And I am saying this before I've seen any of our young pitchers and I hear they are very good."

Robertson won first place in a contest at Tahoka recently and his entry in the Amarillo event is based on this win.

$20,000 Damage In Texas Hail Storm

TYLER, Tex., Mar 4 (AP)—A check-up today revealed that damage done by a hail and rain storm which struck here yesterday would exceed $20,000. Hundreds of windows were broken by the stones, some of which were an inch in diameter. Hot Houses, laden with large quantities of flowers for Easter distribution, suffered the heaviest losses. The storm also visited Paris.

MATADORS TO PLAY AGGIES IN BASEBALL

GAME SCHEDULED FOR EAST TEXAS C. C. GATHERING

The Matador baseball team of Texas Tech will meet the Texas Aggies at College Station on May 6 and 7, before the East Texas Chamber of Commerce gathering, it was announced from Tech athletic headquarters this morning. Coach Grady Higginbotham's diamond crew has been selected by the Farmers to furnish the feature attraction at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce officials of that section.

This will be the first time in the history of Tech that A. and M. has been on the Matador's baseball schedule. The Aggies have consistently mustered one of the strongest baseball aggregations in the Southwestern Conference and the prospects for a strong Tech team point to a stiff series between the two institutions.

Following the series with A. and M., the Matadors journey down state to meet St. Edwards University the two days following, May 8 and 9. Negotiations are under way to match games with other strong teams in the various Texas conferences.

Work has been started on the diamond on Tech field, and Coach Higginbotham will issue the first call for candidates within a short time. The Tech mentor will likely wait until after mid-term examinations before opening official training.

Chicken Theft Now Constitutes Felony

AUSTIN, March 4 (AP)—Chicken theft is now punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary. Governor Moody today signed the bill making theft of a chicken, turkey, duck, goose, guinea or other domestic fowl a felony. It carries the emergency clause and becomes effectively immediately.

SMITH HEADS COWBOY FIVE

CONFERENCE GUARD IS CHOSEN AS 1930 CAGE CAPTAIN

ABILENE, March 4—Gerald "Uncle Joe" Smith, two years all-conference guard of the Simmons University basketball team has been elected captain for the 1930 season by the letter men.

In his two years at Simmons, Smith has been a power on the quintet, his tall 200 pound form looming as a menace to every opponent. He has two more years at Simmons. He is also a tackle in football and a star weight man in track.

Coach Frank Bridges has every one of his six men that carried the Cowboy colors through an undefeated schedule in the conference coming back next year except Fitzgerald, star guard. With four men who were picked by sport writers as all-conference caliber, Gregg, forward, McCollum, center, Fitzgerald, guard, and Smith guard and Houghton and Matthews, alternating forwards and centers returning for the 1930 season, prospects are favorable for the Cowboys to repeat their trick next year and go through the Texas Conference without defeat.

LEGISLATURE CAME IN LIKE A LION AND PROMISES TO CLOSE SAME WAY

By R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Mar. 4.—The 41st legislature came in like a lion almost sixty days ago, has persistently failed to show any lambish tendencies and threatens to roar itself out within the next few days.

It had barely settled itself good and heard the governor's message than it proceeded to order no less than three investigations. It has proved recalcitrant right on down the line, ripping into the governor's suggested civil service recommendation, and has so far refused to accept his ideas of penitentiary reformation.

Stormy Finish Sure

The closing days are certain to be stormy, with the Small riverbed bill up for passage over the governor's veto and Senator Wirtz's plan to punish democrats who bolted last November to get action.

In addition proponents of the $175,000,000 statewide highway bond issue will make a Herculean effort to get the house to follow in the steps of the senate and authorize submission of the proposed constitutional amendment to the people.

Next to the attempt to override the governor's veto, the Wirtz bill is likely to stir up the most fight. The senator from Guadalupe had little difficulty in getting his measure through the upper house and its proponents in the lower branch have announced they intend "going to the mat" with opponents of the bill.

Between Rock and Hard Place

If it passes, Governor Moody will find himself facing another trying situation for one who perchance might have further political ambitions. He would be importuned to veto it, as indicated by a statement of Mrs. Claude De Van Watts, president of the State Women's Christian Temeperance Union, shortly after the senate had favored it.

The bill would increase powers of the democratic executive committee to proscribe voters and candidates in the primaries.

During the past week, the house cleared from its calendar several troublesome bills. The bill legalizing Sunday moving pictures after 1 p. m., was passed and the senate is likely to pass it. The measure providing for sterilization of feeble minded and others similarly afflicted was passed, but it seems to be assured of stubborn resistance in the senate. The anti-evolution bill came to an end when the house failed to pass it on third reading.

HOOKS AND SLICES

By Henry L. Farrell

Some Sad News

More pronounced hooks and slices and less distance—that is what golfers can expect of the new and lighter golf ball that may be adopted soon by the United States Golf Association.

The new ball weighs 1.55 ounces and is 1.58 inches in diameter. The present sphere weighs 1.62 ounces and is 1.62 inches in diameter.

Experiments with this new ball have been going along for the past three years. Though the experiments are not completed, it is generally believed that manufacturers will be turning out the new product before long.

Of course, there has been much discussion about the new ball, and a lot of it has been unfavorable to its adoption. But this unfavorable chatter hasn't changed the minds of the golf fathers one bit. It is said they plan to adopt it as soon as possible.

A Few Figures

The New York Telegram recently made experiments with the two balls to se what difference existed. The experts ured a pressure of 60 pounds to the square inch at the club-head to estimate differences in distances obtained. And here's the yardage of different clubs with both balls:

Club	Old Ball	New Ball	Loss
Driver	230	207	23
Brassie	220	198	22
Spoon	200	180	20
Driving iron	190	171	19
Mid-iron	180	162	18
Mid-machie	160	144	16
Mashie	150	135	15
Mash-nib	125	113	12
Niblick	75	65	10

Rah For Collegians

It is interesting to observe that few players other than college products step into the majors and make good right from the start.

Occasionally one who is not from the campus bobs up as Walter Johnson and George Uhle did years ago to gallop to success within a few days, but such cases among the non-collegians are few and far between.

The record books are filled with many instances of collegians who stepped in without much preliminary work and established themselves as major leaguers.

Frankie Frisch stepped in as a regular right from Fordham. Sisler came along from Michigan. Joe Sewell from Alabama. And Plank and Bender and Collins and many others hit the high spot without much delay.

No Star Overnight

On the other hand, Tris Speaker, when given his first trial with the Red Sox, was shunted back to the minors.

Ty Cobb wasn't very impressive when he jointed the Tigers. In fact after having him a few weeks, they tried to trade him to another club, but no one would take him.

Rogers Hornsby never caused any great rumpus by his play the first few weeks with the Cardinals. It took much work to bring him around and to lift that lowly batting average of .246.

It took Rube Marquard almost three years before he finally arrived. And the list could be extended to great length.

Fort Bliss Poloists Lose To Wichita Four

SAN ANTONIO, March 4 (AP).—Wichita Falls' great polo combination climaxed its succession of victories over the best mallet teams in the Southwest by defeating the Fort Bliss quartet from El Paso, 12 to 7, in the finals of the elimination cup event yesterday. The elimination cup marked the close of the annual Mid-Winter tournament here.

The Blue Jackets from North Texas won 12 straight games in the tournament, capturing the circuit cups title and low goal event in addition to the elimination cups. In winning from Fort Bliss yesterday the Jackets were not forced to use their three-goal handicap advantage.

TECH TO HOLD TRACK EVENTS ON THURSDAY

WILL NAME OFFICIALS OF TWO DAY MEET SOMETIME TODAY

Final plans are under way for the fourth annual intramural track and field meet at Tech which will start at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Coach Victor Payne, working in collaboration with the student coaches of the three schools entered, announced this morning that officials for the two-day meet would be selected today.

Vaughn Corley, varsity track captain and coach of the Aggie team, Sidney Knowles, liberal arts coach and J. C. Tadlock, engineer coach, plan three days of intensive training before the first events are called Thursday afternoon. The liberal arts team carried off honors last season and from all indications will be even stronger this season.

Preliminaries in all dash events and finals in pole vault will be run off Thursday afternoon and on the following day the finals in the remaining track and field events will be held.

Only those who have not competed in varsity athletics are eligible for the intramural meet.

First Woman Senator Is Seriously Injured

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., Mar. 4 (AP). Although weak from loss of blood and suffering from serious facial cuts received in an automobile accident yesterday Mrs. Rebecca Lattimer Felton 93 year old former United States senator from Georgia, was was "resting easily."

PLAINS TEAM WILL APPEAR IN WACO TILT

COTTON PALACE FIELD TO BE SCENE OF GAME NOV. 2

(Special to The Journal)

WACO, March 4—Baylor University and Texas Tech will meet on the gridiron next fall, it was announced this morning from athletic headquarters at Baylor. The game originally scheduled for November 16 has been changed to Nov. 2 following a shakeup in the Baylor and Tech schedules.

With five football games in November instead of four, the Bears are to live up to the agreement by Southwest Conference school to give way to the Texas A. and M. Turkey Day classic. Games will be played Nov. 2, 9, 16, 23 and 30. The scheduled game between Baylor and the T. C. U. Horned Frogs, scheduled for Nov. 2, has been postponed until a later date.

Texas Tech was offered the Nov. 9 date with a tempting percentage in the Cotton Palace gate receipts. The Crimson-Jerseyed gridders from the Plains institution are expected to draw a record gate.

CANYON DATE MAY CAUSE TROUBLE

Tech athletic officials were reluctant this morning in verifying reports received from Baylor University that the Matadors would meet the Baylor eleven on the Cotton Palace gridiron on November 2.

According to information gathered at athletic headquarters, Tech and Baylor had previously agreed on a date later in November, but in order to work another game in their schedule, Baylor officials broke off relations with Tech, and the matter was apparently dropped.

A message within the last few days informed local authorities that the Bears wanted a game with Tech November 2 on the Cotton Palace gridiron. Tentative agreement with Canyon on this date brought about an immediate conflict which is being worked out. As the Matadors usually wind up their football season with the Bufaloes, the contest this year will likely be played during the first week of December.

Thought For Today

From whence come wars and fighting among you? Come they not hence, even of your lusts that are in your members?—James 4:1.

* * *

Advise how war may best upheld, move by her two main nerves iron and gold.—Milton.

A Westerner Is Our President

For the first time in the nation's history, a man reared in the West was today inaugurated as president.

We may not have liked the party behind him in the campaign. The fact that he wore a stiff collar while standing in river rapids casting for game fish, might have been distasteful to us. His sojourn in merry old England, and at other points across the oceans, perhaps kept some of us from voting for him. Campaign prevarications possibly prejudiced others against him on innumerable questions.

But, Herbert Hoover is OUR President now.

President Hoover, and Vice President Curtis, both from the West, remember. And the vice president of Indian extraction!

Precedents mean nothing to the United States. Remember what happened in Texas on November 6, last. President Hoover, lest we forget, is the first Business Man to preside over the nation. Which is proof that industrialism is more than a potent factor in our everyday living. It is the age of Management.

And Management is the need of the governmental machinery of these United States.

Today, Herbert Hoover, orphan boy who worked his way through college; mining engineer, globe trotter, humanitarian, super-executive, Westerner, American and, as Will Rogers said: "the best democrat that the republican party ever elected to the presidency," assumes the leadership of the greatest nation in the world.

All Hail the Chief!

Chicken Thieves

The chicken thief is usually considered an unimportant sort of criminal—a character for comic stories and cartoons, but nothing more.

However, his depredations are serious enough, in some rural regions, to put him into the class of major law-breakers.

In Ohio, for instance, farm organization leaders estimate that chickens worth $1,000,000 are stolen each year. Some are taken by wild, marauding boys who are looking for excitement; some are snagged by tramps and such folk; but most of them are stolen by regular bands of thieves, who tour the farm areas in trucks, steal 50 or 100 chickens in a night, and speed away to a city to market them.

As a result, Ohio farmers are seeking a law requiring complete bills of sale for all transfers of poultry. The old joke is a joke no longer.

Big Buildings

The American Ceramic Society, preparing for an exposition in Chicago, reveals the invention of a new building material so light and strong that skyscrapers 125 stories high can be built of it.

The new material, it is said, will reduce building costs and, at the same time, will enable architects to plan more daring pinnacles than ever before.

The next thing is for somebody to survey the situation and tell us if we ought ever to allow the construction of such tall buildings. Skyscraper tend to increase city congestion—a thing that is hampering every city in America. It is quite possible that the construction of many more tall buildings would be a drawback and not a help. What?

THE PLAINSMAN Says

That Girl on Broadway says most husbands wouldn't care how short their wives wore their dresses if they'd only wear 'em longer.

They're having a big time in Washington today, all right, swearing in a new president and all that sort of thing. And if The Plainsman's guess is any good there'll be a lot of folks up there in the capital city who will be swearing AT the new president before the day is over. Talk about endurance tests, marathon dances and all those things as you please but an inauguration is worse than any of 'em when it comes to wearing down the physique and breaking down the arches.

Back in 1916, when Woodrow Wilson was inaugurated for the first time, The Plainsman was one of the thousands of Americans who trekked to the national capital for the big event. Talk about people! Boy howdy! You couldn't have stirred 'em with a stick.

* * *

The wide-awake Washingtonians had stands built all along the route of the triumphal march and they stuck you plenty to sit there for ten hours and watch the Big Parade. The writer squatted on a board that was harder than marble, right on Pennsylvania avenue, and watched and watched and watched until it appeared that the world was marching in review. The first few hours weren't so bad. It was the last half dozen or so that were the hardest!

Finally—along late in the afternoon—President Wilson and his party came rolling along—right down the middle of the drag—entirely surrounded by secret service men, marines, soldiers, sailors and what-have-you. The Plainsman wouldn't have known who it was if the applause hadn't started. It seemed like the barouche bearing the Chief Executive was two miles away instead of in the middle of the street. The writer traveled 2,000 miles and had 2,000 miles to come back and just barely to to see the man of destiny.

The whole inaugural visit, jammed with people, events and points of interest, was highly educational and all that sort of thing but it wasn't what you'd call satisfactory—at least not for an old country boy who hadn't been anywhere before or who hasn't since. Old timers at inaugurals report that they're all that way so if you're wishing today that you were right in the big middle of the goings-on you can take it first hand that you're lucky and don't know it!

* * *

You'll be a lot better off mentally, morally, physically and spiritually if you "attend" Mr. Hoover's inaugural from our easy chair this evening and get the "lowdown" from the columns of your Journal. This business of galloping off to Washington at the same time every able-bodied man, woman and child in the United States is trying to do the same thing "ain't what it's cracked up to be." It's a fine thing to visit the capital city but if you do take The Plainsman's advice and go some time when there are not so many customers.

Since we're on this subject of inaugurations, here's a little poem, the idea of which has been stolen from a once popular song. It was composed principally for the folks who six months ago hoped today's Washington ceremonial might have somebody besides Mr. Hoover as its main actor. Here goes:

Big, Bad Herb is Sweet Herbie Now!
Politics don't mean so much somehow.
Folks who used to jeer
Now call him "Herbie, Dear!"
Big, Bad Herb is Sweet Herbie Now!

That Man on Avenue Q says it'll be all right with the nation if President Hoover will pull of his coat and go to work but, most of us would rather see him pull of his collar!

A certain matron had a party one afternoon not so long ago and on the following day the Journal society editor called the hostess for a report of the affair. The negro maid answered the telephone.

"Is Mrs. Blank in?" sweetly cooed the society editor.

"No'm, she ain's in," came the rejoinder from the ebony blonde.

"Can you tell me where I could locate her?" was the second question.

"Yassum," the maid replied, "she's gone out to take back them things she borrowed for the party yestiday!"

The truth will out!

Hoover And 'Blue-Eyed Joe' Grundy, Of Pennsylvania, May Clash Over Tariff Revision, Rodney Dutcher Says

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, March 4.—There lives a man in Pennsylvania who regards the Republican party as a religious institution and speaks of the protective tariff as of the sacred memory of a dearly beloved and departed parent.

He can—and does—raise more money for political purposes than any other man in the United States. His power today in state and nation is a frank and vivid demonstration that in Pennsylvania, as everywhere else, politics and great wealth walk hand in hand.

Lately he has been spending much time in Washington. His demands are never treated lightly on Capitol Hill and he has been making them for years and years.

His name is Joseph R. Grundy and he is sometimes known as "Blue-Eyed Joe." His two principal objects in life are to see the tariff raised as high as he thinks it should be raised and to keep the manufacturing corporations of Pennsylvania free of tax.

"Blue-Eyed Joe" never quite gets everything he wants because he invariably wants the earth. Or perhaps he just pretends to want it, on the theory that the more one demands the more one is likely to get. His best friends among politicians admit that his requests are often unreasonable and sometimes he is so aggressive, persistent, determined and possibly overbeating that other Pennsylvania political leaders simply have to sit on him.

The late Boss Boies Perrose, who was an autocrat himself, is said on occasion, virtually to have ordered Grundy out of his office.

But the man gets results. He is absolute dictator of the very powerful Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association, which he founded many years ago and which regularly re-elects him its president. When an important campaign comes on he is in a position to write his check for nearly any amonut as an advance and subsequently to assess the 7500 manufacturer s who are behind him. Thus, in the famous Vare-Pepper-Fisher Beidleman primary of 1926 he advanced $300,000 personaly and gave a note for $90,000 more with serene confidence that he would be reimbursed.

In that primary Grundy and his associates raised $615,000. He personally turned $547,000 into the Hoover campaign fund last year and in 1924 he raised $700,000 for the Coolidge campaign. Hoover and Coolidge both favored the protective tariff and Fisher, his 1926 gubernatorial candidate, was opposed to any tax on Pennsylvania manufacturers. Today Governor Fisher is regarded as Grundy's man, though the Mellons are very friendly to him.

Already some observers foresee a contest of strength between President Hoover and Grundy over the proposed tariff revision upward, in behalf of which Grundy has spent so much time and effort recently in the capital. Hoover has let it be known that he wants tariff revision at the special session of Congress confined to duties which will aid agriculture; Grundy insists on a blanket embargo, through prohibitive duties on all imports competing with articles made in Pennsylvania.

"Blue-Eyed Joe" apparently is not seeking active political leadership in Pennsylvania at this propitious time when the Mellons have failed to demonstrate their ability at it and the Vare machine is being shot to pieces in Philadelphia. And he does not go in at all for petty graft; the politicians can have that.

But he has always been open and frank and has never sought to camouflage his motives. In effect he says, in Harrisburg and in Washington:

"I'm the guy who raised the dough and I'm entitled to recognition."

He made no bones about telling the Reed committee just why he had advanced so much financial support to the Pepper-Fisher cause in 1926. He didn't care much about Pepper, but he testified:

"The question of state taxation was what primarily interested me. Our corporations are specifically exempted from taxation, by legislation. We have not any income tax. Mr. Beidleman had, in our opinion, always been antagonistic to that settled policy of the party and we believed that if he had been nominated—which would have been equivalenet to election—he would have been for the imposition of a tax on the capital stock of corporations in Pennsylvania.

"I do not want to put it on any selfish grounds. I was looking at it as an economical policy of the state."

Grundy's men have been appointed to key positions by Fisher in Pennsylvania and he is able to talk to that state's large congressional delegation in most convincing terms. He is said to use the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Insurance Company, with agents throughout the state, as his own political organization.

Personally this high priest and chief worshipper of the protective tariff is a suave, likeable and smiling person, despite his ability to become hardboiled. He is 66 years old, but those who don't know that, sometimes say he "looks about fifty" for the remains energetic and has a ruddy, outdoor complexion. He is stocky and his height is slightly more than medium.

When Grundy comes to Washington he represents manufacturers everywhere by inference, though he emphasizes that many industries in Pennsylvania are badly in need of tariff help, notably textiles, tanning and cement.

Grundy is hard to interview, but this writer was invited to submit a few questions to him. These questions asked his views, principally, as to what effect a general prohibitive tariff would have on prices to consumers and, most importantly whether it would be likely to have an effect on our foreign relations and foreign trade.

Word came back from Mr. Grundy that these questions were "a little too academic at this time."

In New York

By Swan

NEW YORK, Mar. 4—The "shine-'em-up" boys of the New York streets have remained throughout the years an important part of the city's color.

Their rags and tatters have become symbols of the metropolitan sidewalks. They have been made famous in song and story. Horatio Alger built them into knights of the gutter. In his pages they invariably rose from rags to riches—and more than one actually has.

It was the shoe-shining gamin of the curbstone who always rushed out into the street to save little Guinevere, heiress to Fifth avenue millions, from a runaway horse. It was always the ragged shine-box carrier who befriended the millionaire and awakened to find himself the cast-off son of the rich Goldrox family.

In later years the shine-'em-up boys became figures in the stage thrillers. They would defeat the villian and appear between acts as "the boy tenor." Or they would come on stage as the "newsboy quartet," carrying shine boxes at rakish angles and singing.... "Well, we roll them bones the whole day long, while the cops are out of sight."

Lying in the cool hay, up in the barn loft with a cubeb in one hand and book in the other, the shine boys were the most glamorous of New York's figures—at least when I was a boy. And as I have stood at Library Park on a sunny afternoon while one of the gamins worked away at my shoes, I have often wondered hoy many other lads were similarly affected.

And to this day the sense of the sentimentally colorful still clings. There is scarce a week in which I fail to wander along the paths of Union Square or along the half circle upon which Central Park ends, just to watch the shine boys scampering after trade. And the call of "Shine 'em up, sir?" was the first of the street cries I recognized. It's something, if you were a lad of my generation, that is familiar long before you hear it. Perhaps you rehearsed it in the back yard, or the barn—as we did, borrowing kitchen rags and shoe polish to play the game of shoe shining.... envying, of course, what we all considered the gay, free and reckless life of the shine boy.

That time has revealed many of these lads as malnutrition cases, in sad need of attention.... that few of them ever turn out to be bright of mind or polite of tongue.... that fewer still could by any process of the imagination be conjured as the hero of an Alber tale is, sadly enough, part of the general process of disillusionment.

Yet they do give something to the New York street—an eternal symbol of boyhood fighting for a chance in the world and learning at a very young age the grim lesson of survival.

The Big Town gossip.... The girlies who don't wear stockings this summer will, if they are "smart," wear instead a coat of "cream," which, mayhap, will cost as much as the stocking themselves.... The "cream," I am told, will be in sunburn shade, tan and white.... Oh, yes, it will wash off and will have the filmy appearance of a pair of sheer hose.

Oh, yes, and the boys and girls who drift in from Florida bring word of a French importation which costs like anything, but which really will turn sunburn into tan and really helps sunburn.

CONTROL OF APPETITES MADE EASY IF REDUCERS KEEP THEIR RESOLUTIONS

One Way to Get Control of the Appetite

B. Has gained 20 pounds in the last four months that she has been married. She acknowledges that she has an awful appetite, eats between meals and at any old time. She is only 20 years old and she hates to be old before her time. She can not seem to control her appetite. And how she loves candies and sweets!

Make a solemn resolve that you will control your appetite for at least one day, B. You can surely do that. Don't go to the dining table on that day. Allow yourself but 500 to 600 calories of fruit or skim or buttermilk, or thin soups, or a combination of these. If you can do this for three days, so much the better, but you will find that one day alone will be an enormous help. You must learn to Peterize (count your calories) for it will make you realize more than anything else how much you eat and why you must limit your candy and desserts.

The pamphlet giving instructions on reducing and gaining can be obtained by following column rules. I am sure it will give you more inspiration to continue.

Mrs. A.—The symptoms of the change of life (menopause or climacteric) are apparently due to the gradual lessening of the internal secretion of the ovaries. However, this is a perfectly normal process, and should not be accompanied by any great distress. There may be some hot flashes, and perhaps a greater nervousness than usual, but they should not cause any worry.

No function ceases after the menopause except the functions of reproduction.

After the artificial menopause—that is, one brought on prematurely by conditions which make it necessary to remove the ovaries, or treat them with radium or X-ray—the symptoms may be a little more marked. If they are too disturbing, tell your physician, for there medications that can be taken w will help.

A woman going through menopause, artificial or natur should increase her mental activiti so that she doesn't brood over he self, and she should realize that it normal for every woman to through this period if she lives lo enough.

Many have the idea that an ari ficial menopause causes a woman become masculine and age rapidl but this is not true. Nor is it tru that a woman must necessarily pu on weight at the menopause, natur or artificial. She frequently does, bu it is not necessary, no more than a any other time.

We have an article on the Meno pause and one on the Hygiene o Women which you may have.

The nits must be remov afterwards, after any treatme both for the looks and the possibil that some haven't escaped death. remove them, saturate the hair wi vinegar or lemon juice to soften th glue-like substance which cause them to adhere and then comb wit a fine comb or pull the strands hair through a cloth.

RARE OFFER

We wonder if you would be interested in the best purchase of raw land on the Plains. If you will take the pains to go to Morton, then about two miles this side, on the north side of the highway, and lying broadside with it, you will see what you yourself will say is the best looking quarter section of land you ever saw. Big statement, you say? Yes it is, but every word true.

No soil any richer, no table any more level, no sand, no grube, two miles from fine school, court house and gin, an ideal location for a home.

We are authorized to sell this land for $25 per acre, and when we say that do not get it confused with blow sand lands at $20 and $15, and that are not worth one-half this land.

Its special value is due to the high quality of its soil, its beauty, its location close to Morton, the ease and certainty of getting a bountiful supply of the finest water. As a matter of fact if this land should sell for its value it would not be one cent less than $35.00 per acre. Let us tell you more about it.

IRREGULARITY IN STOCK TONE

SOME ISSUES GAIN WITH FEW LOSING AT OPENING

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Mar. 4.—Irregular price movements ushered in inaugural day on the New York stock exchange today. International Telephone opened 2 5-8 points higher and U. S. Steel common and Germany Copper showed initial gains of about a point. Pan American B, International Combustion and American Zinc and Lead fell back a point or two.

Reports of revolutionary disturbances in Mexico caused some uneasiness in speculative quarters, but the only direct effect was a decline of a point or so in the Mexican government bonds. Weakness cropped out in a few high priced specialties, American Express breaking 18 1-2 points. Canadian Pacific dropped nearly 6 points. Loews dropped back nearly 2 points on the official anouncement that, William Fox had acquired a substantial interest in that company.

Bullish activities were resumed on a large scale in a select assortment of coppers, steels, rubber and motor accessories. Kennecott Copper opened with a block of 15,000 shares at 92 3-4, Allegheny Corporation with a block of 10,000 shares at 35 7-8, U. S. Rubber with a block of 8,00 shares at 63 7-8, a new 1929 high, Ajax rubber with a block of 7600 shares at 10 and Hudson Motors with a block of 7,000 shares at 92 3-4, unchanged to 2 points higher.

Foreign exchanges opened steady with cables unchanged at $4.85 1-4.

Condition Of Dow Improves Monday

James L. Dow, superintendent of the Sunday school at the First Methodist church and a member of the Avalanche-Journal staff, is seriously but not dangerously ill at his home, 2003 Broadway, members of the family reported today.

Following an out-of-town business trip, Mr. Dow returned to Lubbock Friday night, suffering with an infection of the throat. Saturday night he became ill and Sunday his condition turned to a more serious point.

A report of his condition today, however, said that he is improving. The malady has been diagnosed as a combination of influenza and tonsilitis.

Sister Of Wrights Dies Of Pneumonia

KANSAS CITY, Mar. 4 (AP).—Mrs. Katherine Wright Haskell, wife of Henry J. Haskell, editor of the Kansas City Star, and sister of Orville and Wilbur Wright, inventors of the airplane, died of pneumonia at her home here last night.

Mrs. Haskell was the constant companion of her brothers when they were planning their first heavier-than-air machine in Dayton. The three were unmarried and lived at home.

Orville and Wilbur always gave credit to their sister for her part in their success. She had faith in them when the world shook its head dubiously, they said.

THOMPSON QUITS AS TECH REGENT

Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Tech college, today issued a statement of regret for the resignation of Col. E. O. Thompson, of Amarillo, from the board of trustees of the college here.

Thompson declared Saturday night that he would resign from the board because he disagreed with Gov. Dan Moody's action in vetoing the Small river bed land bill. The letter of resignation was to have been handed to the governor today by a delegation from the Panhandle, which made a visit to Austin in an effort to have the bill passed over the governor's veto.

"Although Col. Thompson's reason does not concern the college, I regret his resignation," Dr. Horn said. Thompson was appointed to the board by Governor Moody.

If the streets belonged to city's ests, the air belonged to the army d the navy—and to the radio. e mammoth Los Angele, Queen the Skies, ordered here from her se at Lakehurst, was assigned the ce of honor among the hundreds aircraft detailed to present above e inaugural pageant a picture of r power seldom seen before in eace time.

Follows Old Pattern

Yet for all its latter-day trimings, the inaugural program followed in broad outline the pattern f the years gone by. Once again, as in Lincoln's day a clattering cavalry escort had right of way over treets swept clear of traffic to afrd quick passage for president and esident-elect on their way together m White House to Capitol. As ny times before, the Senate mber provided cramped and somsettings for the induction of a vice-president into office, while broad sweep of the Capitol a furnished a mammoth outr theatre where thousands gath to hear a new president pronce the words of his constitual pledge of faith.

all the span of today's events ched from 10:30 a. m. to 5 p —a crowded six and a half s of history-making. To the dent-elect himself fell the role being first upon the stage, for inaugural program officially be with his departure from his S t mansion, accompanied by Mrs. er and members of the inaugl committee, for a call of coun on the retiring chieftain at the te House. For the swift journey n Connecticut Avenue and past ayette Square into the gates of executive mansion the presiect had been vouchsafed a badge of his approaching au—a White House car, with a ring motor-cycle escort.

arrival at the White House timed to coincide with that of President-elect Curtis and his Mrs. Edward E. Gann from Mayflower Hotel, their home. Dawes, wife of the retiring president, also was invited to in the White House party while er husband, at the Capitol, was rounding out his four-year term as presiding officer of the senate. To this last White House ceremonial of his administration President Coolidge likewise summoned the cabinet members who had sat with him about the high council tables of the nation.

Long before the noon hour, fixed by the Constitution as the termination of the old Congress, evidences of the impending change began to become apparent. Scores of extra chairs were crowded together on the Senate floor and the Senate galleries were closed to all except those armed with special credentials. One the floor, space was set aside for the entire membership of the house, the foreign diplomats, high officers of the army, navy, and marine corps, the supreme court, and both the old and the new cabinets. In special places of honor, at the front of the chamber, chairs were set also for both president-and president-elect that they might see the place of second command pass from general Dawes to Senator Curtis.

The ceremony prescribed for inaugural of the vice-president was brief—a few parting words from General Dawes, administration of the oath of office to his successor, and then a short inaugural address by the new vice-president.

TWO BLACKS HURT IN SHOOTING FRAY

One negro was shot through the abdomen and another painfully cut about the face and body as a result of an "argument" in the "flats," Lubbock's negro section, last night.

The negro who was shot was carried to a local hospital. He was released this morning and taken to a servant's quarters of a local residence. Although painful, the wound is not of a serious nature, physicians reported today.

The other negro was released from a local sanitarium today after medical aid had been rendered. The affair is being investigated by members of the city police force, although the cause of the fight had not been determined this morning.

A third negro was slightly injured when a bullet aimed for one of the others struck and glazed his leg.

cided to hasten back to the capital with his family and prospective son-in-law, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.

Gil Is Confident

In a statement to Mexico City newspapers President Portes Gil expressed confidence his government would survive the revolt.

"The government is sure it possesses strength sufficient to dominate the revolution in a short time," he said, "not only because the greater part of the army has remained loyal but because in districts where the revolt has broken out there are parts of the army which have not joined the rebels.

There is disagreement as to the cause of the outbreak. President Portes Gil's statement says it is the movement of disgruntled military leaders who wished to impose their choice for the presidency upon the country at the elections next November.

Claim 8 Rebel States

Rebel "Pronouncimientos" claim collusion of eight states, Vera uz, Sonora, Oaxaca, Sinaloa, Nayit, Coahuila, Chihuahua, and Durango. Outside of the victories in Vera Cruz and Sonora there were definite reports of defections in ther states, although reports of rel control of the Isthmus of Tehuantepec might imply Oaxaca had revolted.

The government announcement of departure of General Gonzalo Escobar from Torreon was construed as denial of reports of his defection. There was some uncertainty too of the status of the Mexican navy.

As to how the movement started, the official version is contained in the statement of President Portes Gil, which says that at 7 a. m., yesterday a message was received from General Aguirre stating that various state officials had "assumed a suspicious attitude" and asking for instructions.

Start of Movement

This, according to the president, was intended to imply loyalty and to afford an opportunity to further the revolt he had already started. A similar mesage, with similar purpose, the president said, was received at 10 a. m., from General Manzo in Sonora.

Meanwhile the two generals carried their revolt into effect, Aguirre taking over Vera Cruz, Orizaba, which is 80 miles up the railway to Mexico City, Perote, and other places. Manzo, dispatches said, occupied Nogales, Guaymas, Hermosillo, and other cities of importance. Nowhere was there resistance to the coup.

Support of the government came in the action of Aaron Saenz, governor of Nuevo Leon, wealthy northern state, in suspending his candidacy for the presidency and offering his services in the present emergency.

Takes City By Surprise

The rebellion took most of Mexico City by surprise. First intimation that anything was wrong came in reports of interruption of train service on the Mexican railway line to Vera Cruz.

Of the opposing generals General Aguirre has the most imposing record. He early won a name for himself against the Yaqui Indians, and received the surrender of a large contingent of them a year or so ago, transporting them to Vera Cruz, where they were mustered into the Mexican army.

Aguirre is a native of Sonora and was a close personal friend of General Obregon. In 1923 he was a leader in the movement which suppressed the revolt of Adolfo De La Huerta against President Obregon.

Generol Francisco Manzo has also an imposing Indian war record and like Aguirre aided in the suppression of the De La Huerta revolution.

and homes; that they would go into sessions with Behrenger, who is alleged as being a leader in the Slaton vicinity of this faith, contrary to the wishes of their wives. She claimed, when making the complaint of desertion against Hillyer, that he threatened to leave home, because she would not embrace his new belief.

Hillyer was arrested at Slaton Friday and brought to the county jail here, an examining trial scheduled for Saturday morning being postponed.

Behrenger was said to have been arrested and released under bond, at Slaton Saturday, on the charge of disturbing the peace. He is under bond to appear in the county court the latter part of this week.

One of the Mrs. Hillyers is said to have broken the windshields to Behrenger's automobile several weeks ago, when she resisted the effort of her husband going with Behrenger to one of their alleged religious sessions. Both the Hillyer's wives claim that Behrenger has their husbands hypnotized, Attorney Wilson reports.

Before officers here Saturday H. W. Hillyer said that "it was God's way" and that according to the United States constitution he had a right to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience.

From what could be learned, the headquarters of "The Apostolic Faith" is located at Portland, Oregon, and Behrenger is said to be a recognized leader in it at Slaton. With the religious angle and constitutional right of worship included in the case, it promises some interesting developments.

County Attorney Wilson this morning received word from the district attorney of Portland, Oregon, concerning the "Apostolic Faith." The letter stated that the institution was the same there as other places of the nation, and that it was incorporated in that state. The organization considered very wealthy, the letter said.

away, disappointed. About fifty minutes later, however, oil began flowing from the well, gushed up to a height of about six feet over the hole and then mounted to the top of the derrick, where it flowed for about three minutes.

The well is the second to produce oil on the Boren ranch. Another well has been on the pump and has been making between 40 and 50 barrels per day, the oil being used as fuel for drilling the test which came in Sunday.

The well, drilled with standard equipment, is the best show of oil since drilling operations, spasmodically followed, began in this section six years or more ago.

Duckworth Gives Report

Ira L. Duckworth, cashier of the Citizens National bank at Post and president of the Chamber of Commerce, was out at the well when it flowed over the derrick yesterday. The Journal called Mr. Duckworth for substantiation of the report and he vouched for the truth of the occurrence.

People of Post, he said, are highly interested in the prospects for oil development but since oil has been discovered in the section before there is little excitement.

Oil men at location this morning estimated that the well will produce approximately 100 barrels of oil per day. They were busy swabbing out early today.

The well is officially designated Humble's No. 4 Boren and is located in the northeast corner of section 136.
