Search Started For Museum Site

The Collingsworth County Museum Board has authorized its president, Clyde Drake, to begin negotiations for a large plot of ground as a site for the proposed museum. It was designated that the location be on 15th Street.

This step was taken by the board in its meeting Monday night, May 15.

Tuesday, Jerry Rogers, who is in charge of the new Ranch House Museum in Lubbock was in Wellington to confer with a committee on some proposed buildings that might be moved to the museum site when it is procured. He also advised as to the feasibility of moving them, methods of restoring them and the possible cost of restoration and maintenance.

Mrs. Clyde Drake, museum director, at this time announced that two significant artifacts have been offered as gifts to the museum.

Mrs. Bill Hill has offered a complete blacksmith shop which belonged to her father, the late John Graves, an early settler on Elm Creek.

A perfectly preserved old roll top desk is offered by Mrs. Pearl Loving Shaw. It belonged to her brother-in-law, the late Otto Buerger.

A report was given on the recent visit by Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Drake and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Peters to the Ranch House Museum at Lubbock and a museum seminar there.

Major points at this seminar were:

- Study and learn all you can about museum operation.
- There must be a clear-cut,

More Time Given for Clean Up

Wellington's clean-up campaign will go on as long as its people continue gathering up the trash and rubbish around their premises, Mrs. Margaret Vines, Chamber of Commerce secretary announced this week.

Wet weather stopped hauling by city and county trucks late last week, she said.

From now on, the city trucks will haul each Friday until all of it is picked up

"There is a lot of trash piled in the alleys and our residents are wondering what will happen to it. We want to assure you that it will be picked up," Mrs Vines said.

Forty-four truck-loads of trash and rubbish had been hauled out of town Monday and there's lots more to go, Mrs Vines continued.

Approximately 40 old cars no longer in running condition have been removed or are scheduled for removal.

At this point, not much has been done about cleaning vacant lots. The chamber of commerce may be contacted and arrangements will be made to collect trash and rubbish on these lots, but if weeds are to be mowed, the city should be contacted. There is a nominal charge for mowing, Mrs. Vines and Mayor John Coleman said.

Emergency Medical Service Inspected

Wellington's emergency medical facilities won praise from two representatives of the Texas State Department of Health late last week.

Tal Jordon and Bob Barnes, field supervisors with the emergency medical service mobility for the Texas State Department of Health, first visited Collingsworth General Hospital, then the emergency Ambulance Service. They complimented the entire emergency set-up in a meeting with representatives of the city, fire department, hospital, ambulance service, and chamber of commerce.

The hospital was rated on three points, according to Garner Altom, administrator: it is covered 24 hours a day by doctors on call; there are licensed nurses on 24-hour, 7 day per week duty; and the emergency room is available at all times.

The ambulances meet required state specifications for emergency disaster, and the service is fully equipped, Mrs. Margaret Vines said.

They assurred the Wellington group they will check into the ambulance the volunteer service is seeking from Civil Defense.

The two also checked on the mobile CD hospital unit, reserved for emergency use and stored in the community building.

Mr. Jordon and Mr. Barnes told the Wellington group they

Reed Transfers To Missouri SCD District

Gary Reed, district conservationist with Soil Conservation Service here six years, is transferring to Keytesville, Missouri, in a similar capacity at the end of May.

He will be succeeded here by Tommy Powell, SCS district conservationist at Miami. Another new staff member will come to Wellington on June 11, James Herring, district conservationist at Baird, who will become soil conservationist here.

Mr. Reed said his work in Missouri will be similar to that here, except for the Great Plains Conservation Program which is not set up.

Watershed work will have greater importance, for the district now has 8 or 9 high priority projects coming up.

"I think it is a place for lots of opportunity," Mr. Reed said. "It is on the north side of the Missouri River, with part of the district going down to the river. It is highly agricultural with a higher percent of cropland," he explained. Corn and soybeans are the principal crops.

One of the major peices of work Mr. Reed has speerheaded in Salt Fork SCD is setting up the 7-county RC&D program, which still has most of its work ahead. He has continued work on the Great Plains Program and

Area Girls in 2-T1 Lions Queen Contest

More honor was paid the beauty and charm of Collingsworth girls as Landi White, Wellington Lions Club Sweetheart, was named first runner up to the District 2-T1 Lions Queen at the annual convention in Dalhart Friday and Saturday, May 5 and 6.

She received her trophy from the reigning District Lions Queen, Wellington's Leigh Nall.

Two other Collingsworth girls participated, Sherri Canada, representing the Quail Lions, and Sandra Gowin, representing the Samnorwood Lions. Altogether, forty girls participated.

The new District Lions Queen is Belinda Jones of Dalhart, a senior in high school, while the second runner up is Sarita White of Dimmitt, also a senior.

Seventeen-year-old Landi is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed White and a junior in Wellington High School. Leigh, 18 and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nall, also was chosen first runner-up a year ago, but the district queen married shortly afterward, forfeiting her crown, and Leigh became the reigning queen.

Her reign was the climax of many honors that have come to her in high school, perhaps more than to any other girls in WHS recent history.

The Quail nominee, Sherri, is also 17 and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Canada. She too has participated in many school activities and was a contestant in the District FFA Queen contest last year.

Activities for the 40 girls, coming from all parts of the Panhandle, began with Registration and rehearsal Friday afternoon. The banquet that evening honored the Dalhart Lions on their Golden Anniversary, with Ed Bishop, a chapter member, as speaker.

Saturday morning, there was breakfast with the judges, interviews and rehersals. They were guests of Stratford Lions at luncheon.

The Queen's Pageant and contest took place at 3:00 p.m., with the girls participating in a patriotic production.

Announcement of the new queen came at the District Governor's Banquet Saturday evening, followed by the Queen's Ball at the Dalhart Country Club.

You may have half a central gas air conditioning system hiding in your attic.

Or maybe it's hiding in your closet.

The point is, wherever you have your central gas heating system, you may already have half a central air conditioning system. All you may have to do is hook up a cooling unit to your furnace blower and ductwork and you're in business.

At about half the cost of starting from scratch.

And that's just part of the savings. Gas costs less to operate than electricity. On top of that, you get special low rates during the long, hot summer months.

You'll also find that central gas air conditioning is unusually reliable. Because there are fewer moving parts. Fewer breakdowns. Fewer repairs.

Hook up the other half of your central gas air conditioning system.

And cool off every corner of your home this summer.

MASTER ACCREDITED TECHNICIAN

Honored at Frigidaire's Dayton, O., factory headquarters is Jim Sikes, a Master Accredited Technician with West Texas Utilities Company. He was congratulated by D. C. Schaffer, the company's manager of customer service (right) and L. E. Emmons, service manager for Frigidaire's Southwest Region.

Frigidaire Honors WTU Serviceman

Jim Sikes, 1207 Amarillo Street, Wellington, Tex., was honored in Dayton, Ohio recently as one of the top appliance servicemen in the nation.

Mr. Sikes, employed by West Texas Utilities Co. won the expense-paid, two-day visit to Frigidaire division of General Motors when he was selected as one of only 72 servicemen to represent some 1475 technicians from across the country. Twelve were selected from each company's six major sales regions.

At a special awards banquet, Harold W. Campbell, General Motors vice president and general manager of Frigidaire, told Mr. Sikes and the other technicians:

"We respect and honor you for what you have accomplished. Fulfilling the rigid standards which have been established for accredited technicians is not an easy task, especially when you consider that any of your customers, by one single complaint, can cause you to lose out."

John C. Purcell, director of consumer services of the General Motors Corporation marketing staff, added his congratulations in his keynote talk to the visiting technicians.

While in Dayton, the local technician also toured Frigidaire's manufacturing, engineering and quality control operations and participated in technical sessions, customer relations clinics and service seminars.

The Accredited Technician program, first of its kind in the appliance industry, was originated by Frigidaire in 1963 to recognize individual servicemen who meet high standards in workmanship, experience, training, attitude, and customer relations.

The award is made only on annual basis and the serviceman must requalify each year. He is rated not only by the appliance dealer he works for but also by the individual customers he serves. One justified customer complaint during the year disqualifies a cnadidate serviceman.

The more demanding Master Accredited Technician rating, introduced by Frigidaire in 1969, requires the same high standards necessary for the basic accreditation rating. In addition, however, the master candidate must pass a two-hour written exam administered by Frigidaire instructors at one of 29 General Motors Training Centers across the country.

Methodists Plan Church School, Activity Week

The date of First United Methodist Vacation Bible School will be Monday through Friday, June 12 to 16.

On alternate years, there is an activity week for Junior High members, and that falls this year, reminded Mrs. Earl L. Bartlett, who is in charge of the church school.

Activities will include a visit to the Wesley Community Center in Amarillo and the Wesley Foundation on the campus of West Texas State University. There will be visits and projects on the local level, under the sponsorship of Mrs Bob McAlister.

This is open to all Junior High students in the city, and Mrs. Bartlett said that the larger the number, the more successful the Junior High activity week becomes.

MARY SAIED

When her classmates chose Mary Saied as the student Most Valuable to the School this year, they went far in summing up what she has meant to Wellington High School.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Saied, Jr., 1509 El Paso, Mary was born here September 14, 1954. She has attended only Wellington Schools.

She has been a member of the Future Teachers Chapter three years; last year she was vice president of the junior class and this year she is senior secretary. Mary also was a member of the Student Council and the Skyrocket Youth Conference.

One of the school's outstanding girl basketball players, that was her sport for four years, and the last two she was team captain. This year she was Basketball Queen, as well as a member of the 2-AA All-District basketball team. Last year she earned Honorable Mention all district.

Then, as a sparkling finish, Mary was chosen to represent the school in the Invitational All-Star Basketball Game at Amarillo.

As basketball royalty, she was the Queen's attendant two years. She participated in track two years.

Mary played in the band one year and made all-region.

Drama is another interest, and this year she was in the Children's play, Senior Play, One Act Play (also as a Sophomore) and the Historical Play. Also this year, she was in the UIL Contest Play and was chosen for the District 2-AA All-Star cast.

Classmates named Mary the Happy-Go-Lucky student, and she was cheer leader four years.

Outside school, she was a member of Ko-Shari four years, was sergeant at arms as a junior and this year is vice-president.

The Kiwanis Club chose her as its Sweetheart through this year.

Mary was active in MYF of First United Methodist Church.

She names speech and basketball as her favorite studies, while sports, especially swimming and volleyball are her hobbies.

Following a family tradition, Mary will attend Texas Tech University next year.

JANE CAMPBELL

The girl with the most knowledge of ranching is Jane Campbell, who lives with her family on their ranch 12 miles south of Wellington.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Campbell, and was born here April 28, 1954. She has attended only the Wellington Schools.

Jane has been a member of the Future Homemakers of America, of That Skyrocket Band and the WHS Stage Band. This year she was a Band officer -- a tribute to both her leadership and her musical talent.

Outside of school, her major organization has been Ko-Shari.

Jane is a member of First United Methodist Church and takes part in its youth activities.

She says that shorthand is her favorite study, while her hobby is sewing.

Next year she plans to attend West Texas State University at Canyon.

CAROLE ANN COCHRAN

Carole Ann Cochran is a girl of many talents, and she has used them with poise and a spark of gaity on behalf of her high school.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Cochran, 1720 East Avenue, she was born September 29, 1954, in Wellington. She has attended only the Wellington schools.

With music in her viens, Carole played in the band four years and for the last two has been one of those spirited twirlers. This year she is also secretary. She has belonged to the Future Teachers of America and this year was secretary and attended the state FTA convention; she has been in Future Homemakers of America four years and this year belongs to Beta Club. She played basketball three years and was a B-team Cheerleader.

Classmates named her Most Dependable; she was a football queen attendant last fall, and she represented WHS in the ready-writing contest a few weeks ago, as well as the One Act play last year.

Outside of school, Carole is president of the Skyrocket Youth Conference, to which she has belonged three years. Last year she was secretary. She attended the Texas Youth Conference one year, then was named a Junior Counselor and this year is Staff Junior Counselor of the State organization.

In Ko-Shari four years, she is historian and former pledge captain.

Carole has worked in the MYF of First United Methodist Church four years.

Physics and English are her favorite studies, and playing the piano is her hobby.

Next year, she will attend Texas Tech University.

KAREN MAXWELL

Honors and other activities have made for a busy school life for Karen Maxwell.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Maxwell of Route 2, she was born January 7, 1954, in Wellington. She has attended only Wellington Schools.

Karen was active in Future Teachers of America the last two years and Future Homemakers of America the last three. She served as an FHA third vice president.

Classmates elected her class treasurer as a sophomore and junior. She was active in Skyrocket Youth Conference one year and played basketball two. Also, she was a member of That Skyrocket Band two years, was a representative during her sophomore year, was in the One Act play as a junior and for two years was B team cheerleader.

Three distinct honors came to her, for she was the Freshman Favorite, Most Courteous as a sophomore, and Friendliest Girl as a junior.

Bookkeeping and home economics are her favorite studies, while her hobbies are sewing and bowling.

Karen plans to attend college, but she's undecided where she will go.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—by Deskins Wells

THOUGHTS on nearing seventy: First, you can't realize that you have lived seventy years on this beautiful terrible, fascinating and constantly changing planet called earth.

* * *

AT SEVENTY your mind seems as active and as alert as it did at the age of 60 or 50 and a normal person is undoubtedly some wiser. Yet there is unmistakable evidence that the years have taken their toll. Your heart and lungs won't let you go up the steps as you once did and three hours of tennis singles, swimming a mile in seawater, or riding from morning till afternoon on horseback is unthinkable. Yet I have done all three and they were tame experiences compared to the feats of other men.

* * *

BY THE WAY, did you see the tennis match between Ken Rosenwall and Ron Laver on TV last Sunday? They played five full sets with two sudden death overtimes and the match lacked ten minutes of being five hours long. It was one of the greatest tennis duels of all time.

* * *

BACK to seventy: It seems to me that undue significance has been attached to the ages of 50 and 70. Fifty is a time mark because it is half a century. The import of 70 undoubtedly comes from the consoling Psalm 90 the tenth verse of which starts: The days of our years are three score and ten --" Because we have heard it so often any time above that age seems like a special dispensation. Actually any time after the first breath of life is a blessing from God.

* * *

THE NUMBER of our days is not of primary importance. It is the use we make of them that adds value to our lives.

* * *

WHATEVER your age, there is the priceless value of this moment. There is a sunset and a sunrise nearly every day. There is the sun and the wind and the rain. Whatever our bodily limitations for most of us there is reading, music and art. For others there is travel and sports and for nearly all there are the blessings of work, friendship and companionship.

* * *

IT IS a most interesting world if you stay young in spirit.

Jerri Martin Commutes To Earn Degree at WTSU

JERRI STEPHENS MARTIN

There are many ways to measure what goes into a bachelor's degree. A former Quail girl, Jerri Stephens Martin, can measure the miles she has driven before the Bachelor of Science degree was conferred at the spring convocation of West Texas State University May 6.

For two years, it was a 220 mile round trip every day she attended classes at West Texas State University. Two years prior to that, it was the trip from Lakeview to Clarendon Junior College.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G.T. Stephens of Quail, and wife of Tommy Martin of Lakeview, a farmer and Hall County employee, Mrs. Martin is also the mother of two small children, Angela, 6, and Debra, two, and born while her mother was working toward the degree.

She had attended only Quail School when she graduated in 1962, and less than a year later, February 28, 1963, she and Mr. Martin were married and moved to their farm.

It was several years later that the degree began to take shape in her mind and she enrolled in Clarendon College. For two years, she was in a car pool and in 1968 she received an Associate degree of Arts from CJC.

This brought a bigger question. She wanted to continue her education, but Canyon and West Texas State University were 110 miles away - a 220 mile round trip.

It was impossible to move there, due to her husband's work, so again commuting was her answer. Only this time it would be alone.

For the last two years, Jerri Martin has met classes at WTSU missing only a few times. One semester she went to Amarillo every day to do her practicing teaching.

One of the greatest helps, she will tell you, was her mother-in-law, Mrs. Howard Martin of Lakeview, who kept the children while young Mrs. Martin drove to classes.

Relatives attending her graduation were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stehpens, Mr. and Mrs. James O. Miller of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Freddy Poteet of Lubbock, Mrs. Lee Phillips of Spearman, and her husband and daughter, Tommy Martin and Angela.

Lone Star Gas Asks Increase In Dodson Rate

Lone Star Gas Company today asked the city of Dodson to increase local residential and commercial natural gas rates by approximately 10% to enable the company to earn a reasonable rate of return on the fair value of properties used to serve the public.

The application for rate increase listed increased cost of buying gas, higher property and equipment costs, increased costs for employee compensation, higher interest rates on borrowed money and increased taxes as primary reasons for the income deficiency.

"In addition," stated H.W. Gattis, manager of the Wellington distribution office, "Lone Star Gas has a commitment to its customers to vigorously compete for supplies of natural gas to keep its reserves in a favorable position. While other sections of the country are experiencing some shortages of natural gas, Lone Star has maintained favorable supplies. The gas cost adjustment portion of the application placed before the City Council today," continued Mr. Gattis, "will help Lone Star maintain its favorable gas supply position and assure our customers of natural gas service for the future."

Approval of the company's application would increase the average monthly residential gas bill by approximately $.76.

Lone Star serves more than 90 customers in Dodson.

UT Teaches Aging Problems

Austin, (Spl.)--A sign that reads "Senior Power" occupies a place of prominence these days in one of the offices at the University of Texas Graduate School of Social Work.

The office belongs to Dr. Guy Shuttlesworth, who is teaching a graduate seminar on the problems of aging-the first time such a course has been offered at UT Austin.

The course is designed to aid in formulating some practical social work approaches to the problems inherent in aging. "Society doesn't specify a role for the aging," Dr. Chuttlesworth said, and noted that the resulting high degree of stress can be modified by strong group support.

Is now the time to build or improve?

A new home, modern buildings, increased efficiency for handling crops and livestock, land improvements—investments like these are too important to postpone. A Land Bank Loan, made for extra years and at reasonable cost, often makes such things possible. May we review your goals? We usually can find ways to get you started toward greater income and a more comfortable living without unnecessary waiting.

"Commencement" Calls for More Education in 1972

Commencement, like much else in education, has changed remarkably the last few years. Not the ceremony itself. It isn't much different to that of your parents day.

But much more than when they finished high school, commencement is just that . . . a red flag warning that you need some more education.

It no longer means that everyone of you should go to college. That concept may have been a mistake in the first place. While there will always be a place for the college trained, the growing need now is for technicians, in any field where your interest lies. . . from agrilcuture to zoo keeping.

For the first time, the Panhandle can offer training in many of these fields, with fine technical schools, expansion in those concerned with health care -- those areas where the demand is growing fastest -- as well as in the traditional courses and new professional schools.

We hope this is what commencement 1972 is going to mean to you.

Other Editors Say . . .

Small Town Future

There seems to be a growing awareness that the best solution to big city problems is to thin out the congested population there and send folks back to the rural areas and small towns.

This awareness is not general yet, but maybe if the big cities continue to be confronted with mounting and apparent insoluble problems of pollution, decaying inner city, transit snarl and increasing loads on water, sewer, electrical and gas systems, then maybe somebody in high places will wake up.

The smaller cities of this nation need to be able to offer jobs to people. If they can do that, then their chances are good that their population will stay there instead of going off to the city where job prospects are better.

Tax dollars would be better spent to make the smaller cities of this country better able to attract industry and provide jobs than in attenpting the massive rebuilding programs now called for by city officials desperate for help.

Urban renewal has not worked. This program, which is being considered in Amarillo now, consists of the purchase of large areas of decaying downtown property, tearing it down, then rebuilding with something prettier or more functional like apartment houses.

Everywhere urban renewal has been in effect it has resulted in some quick profits for some landowners and some relocation of poor people from their homes into quarters not much better.

Urban renewal is something like giving an aspirin for lung cancer. It is not the answer.

The same money could be applied in the small cities and the people who seek jobs can also find places to live out where the air is fresher and the worker doesn't have to spend a fifth of his time getting to and from work.

The civil rights movement was the "in thing" for most of the decade of the 1960's. This decade has been marked by a big hullabaloo about the ecology and pollution.

Maybe the next decade will see people wake up and the "in thing" will be a demand for a move from congested, crime ridden big cities to peaceful small cities where new people will be welcomed.

Smaller towns already have adequate water and sewer systems. They have paved streets and schools and churches and business houses. What they need more than anything else is jobs for people that live there.

The environment, the ecology, the people of this country will be better served when people reverse the trend that has packed them like sardines into big cities where life is becoming more and more intolerable.

STATE Capital NEWS

By Bill Boykin

AUSTIN, Tex. -- Texans displayed at May 6 primaries a strong enough desire for new state governmental leadership to assure a change in top offices and a major legislative turnover as well.

Reform candidates Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde and State Rep. Frances (Sissy) Farenthold of Corpus Christi charged into the Democratic gubernatorial runoff. Mrs. Farenthold scored a stunning upset over Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes. Gov. Preston Smith finished a distant third. Republican gubernatorial runoff candidates are State Sen. Henry Grover and Albert B. Fay, both of Houston.

Houston newspaper executive Bill Hobby lead State Sen. Wayne Connally of Floresville in the lieutenant governor's race and both already are campaigning hard for the June 3 runoff.

John Hill of Houston squeaked through without a runoff over Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin and Bill Pate of El Paso.

From there on, the statewide incumbents managed to stay on top. One, Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, led widely but was forced into a runoff with a former employee Jim Wallace of Austin.

Former U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough has a runoff with Barefoot Sanders for the Democratic nomination to face GOP Sen. John G. Tower.

There will be at least 14 new faces in the Texas State Senate, and all observers concede the body will be more conservative than the present Senate. Six senate seats will be decided by runoffs. Republicans will oppose Democrats in 12 general election races. One Republican Senator is unopposed.

In the House, a total of 64 incumbents did not seek re-election or were defeated. (Actually 14 were defeated.) Sixteen more incumbents were forced into House runoffs, including Speaker Rayford Price of Palestine. More than 65 incumbent representatives were renominated. Republicans were nominated in 76 of the 150 districts.

CANE ACREAGE ALLOCATED -- The U.S. Department of Agricluture has allocated 25,700 acres in the Lower Rio Grande Valley for sugar cane harvest.

The allotment includes counties of Hidalgo, Cameron, Willacy, Starr. Allocation is the first in almost 50 years for Texas, and according to U.S. Sen. John Tower, is expected to return a cash crop worth more than $50 million to Texas growers.

Cotton, citrus and vegetables already are produced in the area, but Tower said growers need an additional crop with a stable economic base. Mainland sugar cane production in the U.S. has been concentrated in Louisiana and Florida. The allocation goes to Rio Grande Valley Sugar Growers Inc., a cooperative which already has 2,500 acres in cane which will be used for seed in the scheduled September 1973 processing.

MISSION SEEKS BUSINESS -- A 10-member Texas trade mission team in Moscow and Buchrarest may return with more than $60 million in business for oil drilling and petrochemical manufacturers.

Texas Industrial Commission said the mission which began last month offers an opportunity for Texas to take the first step toward capturing a portion of a virtually-untapped $22 billion market in Eastern Europe.

The tour, organized by the petrochemical industry, is the first of its kind behing the iron curtain. It is designed to promote sales of oilfield equipment, refinery and chemical production equipment and instrumentation, controls and services of these operations.

STAMP PROGRAM PLANNED -- The State Department of Public Welfare has been called on by the governor to develop a pilot food stamp program in preparation for a statewide plan.

A state-funded program will be proposed in the special session of the Legislature next month. Federal courts have ordered all counties to have either a food stamp or a food commodity program for the needy. The stamp program is expected to generate $285 million in economic activity.

"BILLION DOLLAR" BOUNDARY VICTORY WON -- Attorney General Martin hailed a favorable decision for Texas in a boundary dispute with Louisiana as "a billion dollar victory" for the state and the cities of Orange and Port Arthur.

A special master appointed by the U.S. Supreme Court decided Texas is entitled to the western half of Sabine River, Sabine Lake and Sabine Pass. Louisiana's claim to the entire stream was denied. Martin filed the suit in 1969. Louisiana will have an opportunity to file objection to the master's decision in the court.

SHORT SNORTS --

State officials and Austin lawyers paid tribute to retiring State Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert in special ceremonies.

Rep L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi said he may run for House speaker if Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine is not re-elected to his home district post. Price is now Speaker.

Meditations

You'd scarce expect one of my age
To speak in public on the stage;
But if I chance to fall below
Demosthenes or Cicero,
Don't view me with a critic's eye,
But pass my imperfections by.
Large streams from little fountains flow,
Tall oaks from little acorns grow.
— David Everett.

It often comes into my head
That we may dream when we are dead,
But I am far from sure we do.
O that it were so! then my rest
Would indeed be among the blest;
I should forever dream of you.
— Walter Savage Landor.

No man ever did or ever will become truly eloquent without being a constant reader of the Bible, and an admirer of the purity and sublimity of its language. — Fisher Ames.

Truth often suffers more by the heat of its defenders, than from the arguments of its opposers.
-- William Penn.

So when some dear joy loses
Its beauteous summer glow;
Think how the roots of roses
Are kept alive in the snow.
—Alice Carey.

Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm. -- Emerson.

Why should we faint and fear to live alone,
Since all alone, so Heaven has willed, we die?
Nor even the tenderest heart, and next our own,
Knows half the reasons why we smile and sigh.
— John Keble.

He that does good for good's sake seeks neither praise nor reward, though sure of both at the last. —William Penn.

The great secret of succeeding in conversation is to admire little, hear much; always to distrust our own reason, and sometimes that of our friends; never to pretend to wit, but to make that of others appear as much as we possibly can;
to hearken to what is said, and to answer to the purpose. -- Benjamin Franklin.

A little while, a little while,
The weary task is put away,
And I can sing and I can smile,
Alike, while I have holiday.
— Emily Bronte.

He that riseth late must trot all day, and shall scarce overtake his business by night. --- Benjamin Franklin.

In a free and republican government, you cannot restrain the voice of the multitude.
Every man will speak as he thinks or, more properly, without thinking, and consequently will judge of effects without attending to their cause. -- George Washington.

If love were what the rose is,
And I were like the leaf,
Our lives would grow together
In sad or singing weather,
Blown fields or flowerful closes,
Green pleasure or gray grief;
If love were what the rose is,
And I were like the leaf.
-- Algernon Charles Swinburne.

The sublime and the ridiculous are often so nearly related, that it is difficult to class them separately. One step below the sublime, makes the ridiculous; and one step more above the ridiculous, makes the sublime again.— Thomas Paine.

Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today. — Thomas Jefferson.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

My people-watcher neighbor says he notes a vast decline in the number of folks who get pride and satisfaction out of doing a superior job of work.

Says the bricklayer who was proud of laying more bricks than his fellows, the public official proud of his integrity, the farmer who bragged of plowing straighter rows, etc., are few and far between.

He claims that human pride is now negative; like store clerks proud of showing less courtesy to customers, and unionists proud of doing a lousier job for higher pay.

Texas Arts and Crafts Fair Features Pottery

AUSTIN, Tex. -- During the first Texas State Arts and Crafts Fair May 31-June 4 in Kerrville, potters will be domonstrating the various methods of pottery construction, as well as one very special kiln technique.

Twenty of the state's best potters will attend the fair, on the campus of Schreiner Institute. Hours each day will be 10 a.m. until dark Wednesday through Saturday and 12 noon until dark Sunday. Admission will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. The fair is sponsored by the Texas Tourist Development Agency.

Potters will be working in a special 40 x 40 foot tent area specifically designed for the demonstration and sale of pottery items.

In contemporary usage, potters do much the same as they have for some thousands of years; they shape clay into form and dry it for use. Pots can be thrown on a wheel, constructed from pieces, or molded, depending on the type of pot desired. Clay varies according to color and consistency as it is found in varying parts of the country. Some potters develop their own combination of clays and blend them, jealously guarding the recipe that is the secret of their success.

The drying process takes place in the open air, later hastened by a kiln. By exposure to extremely high temperatures in the kiln, the particles of clay fuse to each other and form a very hard surface. Potters also utilize either commercial or personal glazes to alter the surface texture and color the finished pot.

Pottery will be but one of the many crafts at the State Arts and Crafts Fair. Also on display will be leather-making, lapidary, painting, sculpturing, ceramics, wood-carving, stained glass, candle-making, weaving, jewelry and many others.

UT Asian Center Director Named

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) -- The University of Texas Center for Asian Studies will have a new director effective Sept. 1.

He is Dr. F. Tomasson Jannuzi, an economist with long experience in India. He will succeed Dr. Edgar C. Polome, who has held a dual position as director of the center and chairman of the Department of Oriental and African Languages and Literatures. Dr. Polome will continue in the departmental chairmanship.

The Center for Asian Studies is one of three area centers at UT Austin. The others are the Middle Eastern Studies Center and the Latin American Studies Center.

One out of every seven persons in the U.S. -- about 30 million -- will be a hospital inpatient this year.

TEXAS POTTERY
Skilled hands of a potter can transform common clay into many useful items. Pottery of all kinds will be shown at the first Texas State Arts and Crafts Fair May 31-June 4 in Kerrville.

Big Building Program at UT

AUSTIN, (Spl.) -- A massive building program has been authorized for The University of Texas at Austin by the UT System Board of Regents.

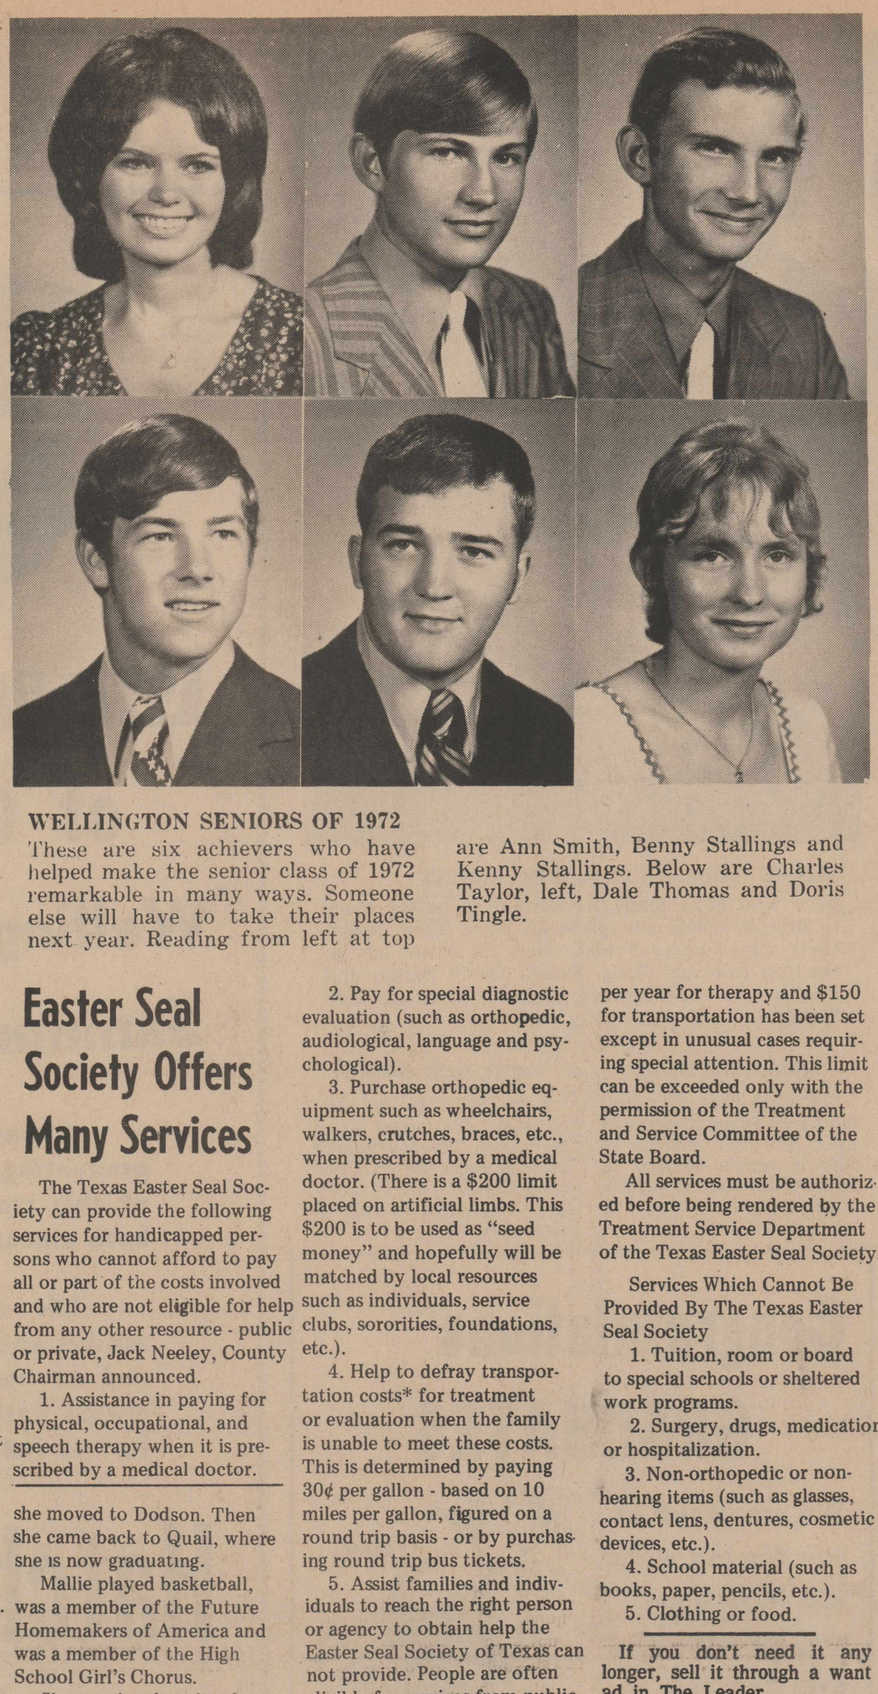
Quail Seniors



WELLINGTON SENIORS OF 1972

These are six achievers who have helped make the senior class of 1972 remarkable in many ways. Someone else will have to take their places next year. Reading from left at top are Ann Smith, Benny Stallings and Kenny Stallings. Below are Charles Taylor, left, Dale Thomas and Doris Tingle.

SUSAN LANGLEY

When honors come along, they seem to gravitate to Susan Elaine Langley. The latest, and one of the most important of her entire high school career, came when she was named Valedictorian of the graduating class.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Langley, she was born at Shawnee, Oklahoma February 23, 1954, and has attended only the Quail Schools.

In High School, Susan was a Class officer, member of Future Homemakers of America four years, and FHA officer three.

She was a member of the High School Girl's Chorus this year, a member of the annual staff the last two, and belonged to the Spanish Club as a sophomore.

As a senior, Susan was the FFA Sweetheart; and was chosen Most Beautiful. As both a junior and senior, she was named Best All Aroung Girl, and Class Favorite; she was Miss Quail High School as a junior, as well as Miss Personality, while she was chosen Most Likely to Succeed when she was a sophomore.

During her high school years also she was named to Who's Who in English for four years, Home Economics and history two years, and Bookkeeping and Spanish.

Outside of school, Susan attends the Primitive Baptist Church in Wellington and she works in the Quail Store, owned by her parents.

Her hobbies are reading, writing to her pen pal in Japan, sewing, and almost all sports.

Susan plans to attend Clarendon College the next two years, then probably transfer to West Texas State University.

KARON PETERS

The twin sister of Laron, Karon Gwynn Peters has shared some activities with him, but others have been her very own.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Peters, she was born May 30, 1954, at Wellington. She, too, has attended only Quail School.

Karon played basketball from her freshman through senior years, and was a member of Future Homemakers of America four years also.

This year she was on the annual staff and sang in the Quail High School Girl's Chorus.

Her senior year has been rich in honors. Karon was Miss Quail High School, one of the most sought-after honors; she was annual Queen and was named the Girl Most Likely to Succeed. As a freshman and sophomore, Karon was class favorite.

Karon is a member of Trinity Methodist Church in Wellington and has been president of the UMYF two years.

Her hobbies are reading and music, while her favorite studies are music, English and Government.

Karon plans to attend Clarendon College next fall.

LARON LYNN PETERS

Laron Lynn Peters is one part of the twin team that has delighted both students and teachers at Quail for the last 12 years.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Peters, Laron was born, May 30, 1954, in Wellington.

He has attended only Quail School.

In High School, Laron played basketball and baseball four years and was a member of the Future Farmers of America each year.

Laron is president of the senior class.

This was also his best year in basketball, for he was named to All-Tournament teams at Paducah and at Memphis. He was chosen Best All Around Boy, Most Likely to Succeed and Editor of the Quail Yearbook.

Outside of school, Laron is active in Trinity United Methodist Church in Wellington.

Laron says his favorite subject is agriculture.

Next year he plans to attend Clarendon Junior College.

REDGIE SOUDER

Another of the seniors who has attended only Quail school is Redgie Dwight Souder.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Souder, he was born February 21, 1954, at Memphis.

Redgie was active in the Future Farmers of America several years and was a member of the Livestock Judging Team that participated in the State FFA contest, an honor indeed.

He played basketball and baseball three years.

This year, Redgie was named Mr. Quail High School, one of the top honors a boy can receive.

His hobby is riding horses.

Redgie says his favorite subjects are agriculture and government.

Next year he plans to attend Clarendon Junior College.

MALLIE McCANN

Mallie Louise McCann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.D. McCann, was born in Wellington, March 16, 1953.

Mallie has attended more schools than any other of the Quail students.

As a beginner, she went to Ron, Oklahoma, Elementary School. Later she attended Booker T. Washington Elementary School in Wellington, and in 1965 started to Quail. She was in Raul School as a sixth grader and the next year she moved to Dodson. Then she came back to Quail, where she is now graduating.

Mallie played basketball, was a member of the Future Homemakers of America and was a member of the High School Girl's Chorus.

She says her favorite classes are English, Government, music and physical education. Her hobby is sewing.

Next year, Mallie plans to enter a Nursing School for a two-year course.

Easter Seal Society Offers Many Services

The Texas Easter Seal Society can provide the following services for handicapped persons who cannot afford to pay all or part of the costs involved and who are not eligible for help from any other resource - public or private, Jack Neeley, County Chairman announced.

1. Assistance in paying for physical, occupational, and speech therapy when it is prescribed by a medical doctor.

2. Pay for special diagnostic evaluation (such as orthopedic, audiological, language and psychological).

3. Purchase orthopedic equipment such as wheelchairs, walkers, crutches, braces, etc., when prescribed by a medical doctor. (There is a $200 limit placed on artificial limbs. This $200 is to be used as "seed money" and hopefully will be matched by local resources such as individuals, service clubs, sororities, foundations, etc.).

4. Help to defray transportation costs* for treatment or evaluation when the family is unable to meet these costs. This is determined by paying 30¢ per gallon - based on 10 miles per gallon, figured on a round trip basis - or by purchasing round trip bus tickets.

5. Assist families and individuals to reach the right person or agency to obtain help the Easter Seal Society of Texas can not provide. People are often eligible for services from public or private agencies but do not know the person, eligibility requirements, or place to obtain the services needed. PERHAPS WE DO.

A limit of $150 per client per year for therapy and $150 for transportation has been set except in unusual cases requiring special attention. This limit can be exceeded only with the permission of the Treatment and Service Committee of the State Board.

All services must be authorized before being rendered by the Treatment Service Department of the Texas Easter Seal Society.

Services Which Cannot Be Provided By The Texas Easter Seal Society

1. Tuition, room or board to special schools or sheltered work programs.
2. Surgery, drugs, medication or hospitalization.
3. Non-orthopedic or non-hearing items (such as glasses, contact lens, dentures, cosmetic devices, etc.).
4. School material (such as books, paper, pencils, etc.).
5. Clothing or food.

If you don't need it any longer, sell it through a want ad in The Leader.
