More Than a Million Bushels of Wheat Stored in Ochiltree Says Recent Survey Taken by U. S.

No School Friday Teachers to Canyon

There will be no school tomorrow, Friday, March 14. This is good news for the students but not for the teachers for they will be going to school again at the two-day session of the Northwest Texas Conference for Education. The conference will be held in Canyon on Friday and Saturday, March 14-15. The entire faculty of the Perryton school and all other schools in the county will attend.

Plan More Facilities To Enable Storage of Around 1,500,000 Bu.

A survey was made in Ochiltree County last week for the United States Department of Agriculture to find the amount of storage available for wheat in local elevators, according to Earl Waide, county wheat loan inspector. The survey disclosed some interesting information.

It was found that 417, 386 bushels of wheat are now stored in 20 elevators in the county and there is space available for 252,000 additional bushels. There are 423,093 bushels of CCC wheat stored on the farms, but there are no available figures on farm stored wheat not under the loan.

Plans are being made for the erection of additional storage space for 180,000 bushels and scheduled for completion by July 1, 1941. This will give Ochiltree County a total storage capacity in elevators and farm bins of approximately 1,500,000 bushels for the 1941 crop if all 1940 wheat is moved from the county.

It is also interesting to note that 1,273,772 bushels of 1940 wheat from this county were stored in terminals located in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas points.

Robertson In Mayor's Race

The Herald is authorized this week to announce Leonard H. Robertson as candidate for mayor of the city of Perryton subject to the action of the voters in the election to be held at the city hall on Tuesday, April 1.

Mr. Robertson, age 44, served as Chief of Police in Perryton from 1931 to 1939 and has been on the force as an extra officer since that time. He is a native of Bell county, Texas, coming to Ochiltree county in January, 1915. In August of 1915, he enlisted for four year's service in the U. S. Navy.

Shortly after his discharge from the Navy, he married and is now the father of six children, three boys and three girls. Prior to being elected Chief of Police, he was employed by the Donley Motor Co. for five years as a mechanic.

In making his formal announcement for this office, Mr. Robertson states that if elected he will be the mayor of all the people, treating all fair and square with no partiality to any person or group.

Methodists Offer Two Sermon Series

Four weeks of Special Church Loyalty Observance has been announced by the Perryton Methodist Church, beginning Sunday and continuing through Easter Sunday. The pastor, Rev. William E. Fisher, will deliver two series of sermons, one series on Sunday mornings and one Sunday evenings.

The morning series will be on the general theme, "Jesus the World's Redeemer." The first sermon in the series will be "Looking unto Jesus," and will be given Sunday morning, March 16. Other subjects on the morning theme are: second, "How Shall We Account for Jesus Christ"; third, "Jesus and the Children"; and fourth, "The Empty Tomb."

In the Sunday evening series, the sermon theme will be "What is a Christian"? The first topic, "A Christian is a Man with a Definite Belief," will be given by Rev. Fisher Sunday evening, March 16. Other topics in the series are: second, "A Man with Christian Experience," third, "A Man with a Christian Life." These are to be followed by a sermon Easter Sunday night on "Witnesses to the Resurrection."

The services Sunday night will be evangelistic in nature with congregational singing of familiar revival songs. The entire membership is

Add Lockers at Food Bank

Leroy Lowrey, owner of the Perryton Food Bank, announces that the expansion program at Perryton's quick freeze storage plant is now completed. The locker room has been enlarged with additional space for the installation of 144 lockers. One hundred and twenty lockers have been installed.

These new lockers are of the latest steel type. They come in two styles and sizes: drawer style, 20x20 inches; and door style, 20x17x36 inches.

Refrigeration, cooling, quick freezing and processing facilities are provided for this addition when the plant was installed in June.

Based on statistics from the Federal government, a survey of the Perryton area reveals that the Perryton Food Bank with an ultimate capacity of 486 lockers will be sufficient.

According to information from the city hall, Saturday, March 22, is the final day for filing of names for candidates to be printed on the official ballot for the city election, Tuesday, April 1. Officials to succeed Mayor Forbes, City Clerk Cudd, Councilmen F. F. Dodson and Howard Holt are to be selected. J. N. Conley has been named as presiding judge of the election, with J. W. Richardson, Mrs. Ernest Allen and Clarence Neufeld as assistants.

Scout Program And Tea Tonight

The Perryton Girl Scouts will entertain their parents and friends with a program and tea tonight (Thursday) at 7:30, school auditorium. After the program in the auditorium, a reception and exhibit of work will be held in the school cafeteria.

The program numbers will be furnished by the five patrols, with the Scout leaders, Mesdames Alvin Koehn, Harry Barlow, George Ruppprecht, Claud Allen, W. M. Boston, K. H. Crisp, W. H. Lance and Miss Edith Newman, directing the entertainment. The Perryton Girl Scouts are in three Troops of five patrols with a membership of approximately 90 girls.

The entertainment is free. The public is invited. A silver offering will be appreciated by the Scouts and will be used to promote their activities.

State President of Federated Clubs

Mrs. W. J. Walker, Plainview, serving her first year as president of the Texas Federation of Club Women, will be in Perryton on Wednesday, March 19, and address the members of the Sorosis Clubs and their guests. A luncheon, held at one o'clock, in the Hotel Perryton, will honor the visitor, who will be accompanied by Mrs. H. F. Godeke, Lubbock, district president. Mrs. Walker will talk on "Federation and National Defense." Mrs. A. J. Kelly, president of the Sorosis, will preside for the luncheon and program which will follow.

Friends Honor Grandma Jackson On Her Eighty-Fifth Birthday

Many friends of the old and present day gathered at the old stone house on the Wolf Creek ranch of the Jackson family Sunday to honor Ochiltree county's first citizen, Mrs. B. J. Jackson, on the occasion of her 85th birthday.

Grandma Jackson, as she is affectionately known by her hundreds of friends, has resided in Ochiltree county longer than any other living person. She came here April 11, 1886, with her husband, a former government Indian scout and buffalo hunter.

A native of Missouri, she came with her husband to Dodge City, Kansas in 1877. Here their three children, Charlie Edmond, Lillie May and George Benonia, were born. Coming to Ochiltree county with their parents in 1886, these children still reside here. A son, born in this county, died at the age of nine.

While Grandma Jackson's hearing and sight is impaired she is hale and hearty and enjoys company just as much as ever. The Jackson home has ever been one of those places where the latch string hung on the outside of the door. In the pioneer days when but few families weer here, it was a community center. Be you a stranger or friend, a typical pioneer welcome awaits the visitor to the Jackson home.

Among those present to honor Mrs. Jackson and enjoy the big feed were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cutter, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McMillen, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Boehning, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bull, Mr. and Mrs. Van W. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Brillhart, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cox, Miss Annabelle Cox, Mrs. Arthur Green and Bertha, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Daniels, Mrs. Wm. Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Whippo, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Wilson, Leland, Maurice, Ogden, and Virgie Lou, Mrs. Frank Keith and granddaughter, Carmen Keith, Carl Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Carter, Dennis, Patsy Dean and Alfred, Mr. and Mrs. Odie Price and Melvin, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Rifenburg, Jimmie and Norma Jean, Mr. and Mrs. George Jackson, Lila and Obetra,

Light Snow Brings .19 Inch Moisture

Snow accompanied by a high wind swept over this area of the Panhandle Tuesday night bringing an additional .19 of an inch moisture. The snow measured approximately two inches on the average, but was blown in drifts at many points.

The moisture brings the total for the month to .63 of an inch at the present time as compared with a total of .29 of an inch for the entire month of March, 1940. Few fields have been reported as blowing in the country.

OES Silver Tea Monday

The Perryton Chapter Order of the Eastern Star will hold a silver tea on Monday afternoon, March 17, beginning at 2 o'clock, at the Community Public Service Company. Proceeds will be used for the Chapter's educational fund.

Both hot and cold tea will be served with cookies. Mrs. M. L. Brillhart, Worthy Matron of the Eastern Star, extends an invitation to the public to visit this booth which will be arranged in the front of the Community Service Company's building.

Junior High Revue Nets Over $100

"Say It With Music" went over in a big way with the capacity crowd that attended this Junior High presentation in the school auditorium last Friday evening.

Ticket sales grossed $122. After deducting expenses, net profits will be slightly over $100 which will be applied as the Junior High contribution to the cost of the beautiful new curtain and stage scenery recently installed.

It would be impossible to single out any part of this great show for every number, every act and every scene was worthy of the highest praise. The students and every member of the faculty who had a part in the entertainment are to be commended.

Joe Buckhaults is Recommended to Receive American Farmer Degree by Texas F. F. A.

Joe Buckhaults, Perryton farm youth and a 1940 graduate of the Perryton high school is one of the Future Farmers of America from the entire state of Texas recommended to receive the American Farmer degree, the highest award of the FFA's national board.

The announcement of the youths highly honored was made Friday night at the fifth annual gold key banquet of the Texas Association of Future Farmers of American held in Fort Worth Friday night.

Recommended for the American Farmer degree, the highest awarded by the FFA's national board, were James Cope, Claude; William E. Dixon, Dimmitt; Joe Buckhaults, Perryton; J. O. Bass, Plainview; J. R. Scott, Mertzon; Roy Herrmann, Caldwell; J. B. Chambers, Slocum; Fred McConnell, Breckenridge; Dan Taylor, Doole; Billy Cooper, Rochelle; M. Stinchcomb, Abilene; W. H. Summers, Trenton; Billy Rutherford, Decatur; Herbert Marshall, Pilot Point; Ernest McClure, Bonham; Ely Yarborough, Beckville; Eldon Schmalriede and Floyd Fehler, both of McGregor; Wayne Cole, Bynum; Herbert Ross, Willis; Bill Mutchler, Sinton; William Love, Beeville, and C. J. Bendele, D'Hanis.

One requirement for this great honor is that a boy must have profited $500 from his project during his studies of vocational agriculture. Joe did this just exactly ten times over. During the three year duration of his project, he earned $5,000.

Final action on the award of the national degree will be taken at the annual national convention to be held at Kansas City in October.

Joe is now enrolled in the National Defense school in the Perryton school, taking auto mechanics and metal work courses.

Annual Spring 4-H and FFA Calf Show Is Scheduled Here in April

Chamber of Commerce Will Sponsor Event; Entries Will Be Marketed Following Show

The annual Spring Calf Show for the 4-H Club and FFA boys will be held the second week in April, according to plans decided on at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce Monday. E. W. Thomas, county agent, and C. H. Williams, vocational agricultural teacher of the Perryton schools, were in attendance. The calves will be shown one day in Perryton and shipped to market the next. Kansas City will probably be the destination, although Fort Worth is under consideration as a possible marketing place.

Exact date of the show will be governed by the final decision as to the date when animals will be shipped out.

Twenty calves are being fed by 16 boys and the calves are all expected to be well finished by the time of the show and sale.

The Chamber of Commerce voted to raise $60.00 for cash premiums, ranging downward from $10 for the best entry and $1.00 for the calves placing at the bottom.

Plans for the sale include a trip to market by the boys to see their calves sold and where they can study marketing methods first hand. The boys will pay their own expenses on the trip and private transportation will be used. H. C. Brillhart, C. H. Williams and E. W. Thomas and probably some of the fathers will accompany the boys on the trip.

Auxiliary Members Will Register for Voluntary Emergency Service March 15

Can you drive a car? Can you render practical nursing care? Can you operate a telephone switchboard? Can you organize entertainment? These are some of the questions which women of Pierce Johnson Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary will be asked to answer when they register for voluntary emergency service on March 15.

Registration will be Saturday, March 15, from 9 to 12 in the morning and 1 to 6 in the afternoon at the Legion Hall, upstairs. Appointment of a special committee to have charge of registration was announced today by Mrs. Dewey R. Allen, President of the Unit. Mrs. Van W. Stewart will serve as chairman assisted by Mrs. Jack Allen, Mrs. Sibley Jines and Mrs. Tom Denman.

The questionnaire which they will fill out asks questions about their availability for service and the types of work they can perform in an emergency. Four general types of service are listed.

Outside service includes such work as automobile driving, providing music and other entertainment, cooking and serving in canteens, and emergency social service activities in caring for the homeless and needy.

Inside service includes nursing, first aid, office work of all kinds, household service necessary in the care of victims of a disaster, and administrative activities in connection with such work.

Under home service are listed sewing, knitting and mending.

Special services provide a place for the work of junior Auxiliary members, Girl Scouts and other youth groups in messenger and guide activities and traffic direction. Under this heading also comes teaching service for the training of workers in women's war activities.

Registration and service will be wholly voluntary on the part of the Auxiliary members.

Farm Organization Changes Its Name

The monthly meeting of the Ochiltree County Agricultural Association was held here Saturday and during the meeting it was voted to change the name of the organization to Ochiltree County Farm Bureau. The change was made to conform with the name of the state organization which was changed at the annual meeting from the Texas Agricultural Association to the Texas Farm Bureau.

A legislative committee of five members to study and report on legislation affecting the farmers was appointed as follows: Frank Hamilton, C. O. Roach, B. B. Kent, M. W. Truax and Harlan Hawk.

E. W. Thomas, county agent, explained the proposed marketing quota on wheat, a referendum on which will be held May 31.

County Unit Elect Monday

Mrs. A. J. Kelly, chairman of Ochiltree County's Chapter for the Control of Infantile Paralysis, announces a meeting of the organization in the county courtroom on Monday evening, March 17, 7:30 o'clock.

Reports of the work during the past year will be heard and the annual election of officers will be held. Present officers are Mrs. Kelly, chairman; Mrs. R. T. Correll, vice chairman; D. D. Shanks, secretary; and C. E. Woods, treasurer.

Lend your support to this worthwhile organization by being present for this important meeting.

Motor Supply Co. Changes Name

The firm name of the Perryton Motor Supply Company is being changed to the Patton Motor Supply, so stated T. O. Patton, owner of the concern this week. The organization is located at 103 South Main Street and is one of the largest dealer and jobber motor supply houses in this part of the Panhandle.

Mr. Patton announced that the stock is being again enlarged this year and additional display facilities are being added. Any needed part for all types of motors may be had on a minutes notice. Farm machinery repairs will be featured again this year as in the past.

Henry Richardson and Tom Akard assist on the sales force and have had several years of experience in this line of endeavor.

At Lowery Field

Jack R. Anderson, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Anderson formerly of this city, has enlisted in the Air Corps of the United States Army and is stationed at Lowry Field, Denver, Colorado. Anderson plans to attend Armament School, as an aerial machine gunner. Well known in this community, he graduated from the Perryton schools with the Class of '35. His parents are now living in San Antonio.

P. T. A. Sponsoring Program, March 20

"Stuttering Sam" will be featured on a program in the school auditorium on Thursday, March 20, 8 p. m., under the sponsorship of the Perryton Parent Teachers Association.

The program will consist of musical numbers, tap dancing and stuttering imitations. The association will share in the net proceeds. The P. T. A. will sell popcorn and candy.

Agents Attend District Meet

Miss Elizabeth Huffhines, home demonstration agent, and E. W. Thomas, county agent, were in Amarillo Tuesday to attend a meeting in the Herring Hotel for all farm and home agents throughout the Panhandle.

The district agents, Miss Doris Leggitt and Parker Hanna, were present to confer with the agents and assist with the problems. The morning program included a discussion of "Looking into the Future with a Coordination of Agriculture Programs" led by Mr. Henson. Miss Onah Jacks, state leader of Girls 4H Clubs, talked on "4H Problems in Consolidated School District".

J. F. Rosboraigh, extension horticulturist, met with the farm agents in the afternoon to answer questions and discuss the care of trees damaged during the winter months. Results and benefits of the Amarillo Fat Stock Show were pointed out. Problems of the home agents were under the supervision of Miss Liggitt and Miss Jacks.

Elect School Trustees Apr. 5

Two members to the board of trustees of the Perryton Independent School District will be elected on Saturday, April 5. Elections will be held at the Perryton school with Sam Hergert in charge; and at Farnsworth with L. R. Conner officiating.

Members of the board whose term will expire are A. J. Kelly and Mrs. H. C. Brillhart. They will be named for a three year term. Holdover members are J. H. Neufeld, W. C. Bryan, Manse Wood, H. I. Hudson and Calvin Flowers.

Mrs. Tom Wolford left Saturday for Clayton, N. M., where she will visit with her sister-in-law, Mrs. F. O. Blue.

Mrs. Guy Schickedanz and son, Larry, visited from Tuesday until Sunday in the home of her sister, Mrs. Ray Weir. Mr. Schickedanz came for them Sunday.

Soil Erosion Costs United States More Than $3,800,000,000 Annually

AMARILLO, Tex.—Soil erosion is costing the United States more than $3,800,000,000 annually, and already has damaged half of the land of the country, according to the annual report of H. H. Bennett, Chief of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service.

The conservationist visualizes erosion as a definite threat to the Nation's long-time defense program and expresses the fear that it may become a major fifth column unless it is checked in the near future.

"Erosion is a threat to the productive capacity of the Nation; a drain on the country's agricultural resources; a cause of rural impoverishment; and a dangerous fissure in the preparedness dam we are building against unfriendly tides from other continents," Bennett stated in his report.

"On this continent we now have what a large part of the rest of the world is fighting for. We have land, liberty, a decent standard of living, and freedom to move, think, write, speak and worship, without restraint. This country is ready to defend our institutions and our shores, without reservation. But defense of our actual boundaries as a Nation is not enough," the soil conservation chief stated.

"The defense of our national resources, and especially our soil and and water resources, is as important to the American people and their future welfare as tanks and machine guns," he continued.

Three billion tons of soil are eroded from the farm and grazing lands of the nation each year. Valued at one dollar per ton this means a loss of $3,000,000,000. The damage to highways, railroads, reservoirs, streams and other structures and the loss in crop yields accounts for an aditional $800,000,000, according to surveys of the Soil Conservation Service.

In his annual report for 1940, Bennett stated that soil conservationists of the Department of Agriculture and the state agricultural colleges have knowledge necessary to enable farmers and landowners to conserve the soil. He emphasized, however, that unless such knowledge is applied to the land, this nation may in the future face a shortage of productive land. This might place the country in a situation similar to that existing in many foreign countries that are attempting to live on inadequate resources.

He sees hopeful signs, however, in the fact that farmers and landowners are becoming increasingly active in promoting soil conservation work. During the past three years 440 soil conservation districts have been organized in 40 states. These districts are legally constituted local agencies, with power to carry on all types of soil and water conservation work within their respective boundaries.

"By 1950, from all present indications, soil conservation districts will cover the greater part of the eroding land of the nation," Bennett stated. "If these districts are properly administered and if they receive sufficient help from the Government, there is a distinct likelihood that during the next ten years the forces of conservation will balance the forces of land waste in this country."

"We can conserve our soil. We know how to do it. We can, if we will, make it produce abundantly, and without waste, for any and every production need that may face us. Soil conservation does not mean land idleness, but the use of the land in the wisest possible way. It is up to the people of this great country to organize themselves in such a way that they can attack this problem before the other half of our land is impoverished and it is too late," he stated.

The Unusual

UNIVERSAL "U"

MINNEAPOLIS--MOLINE

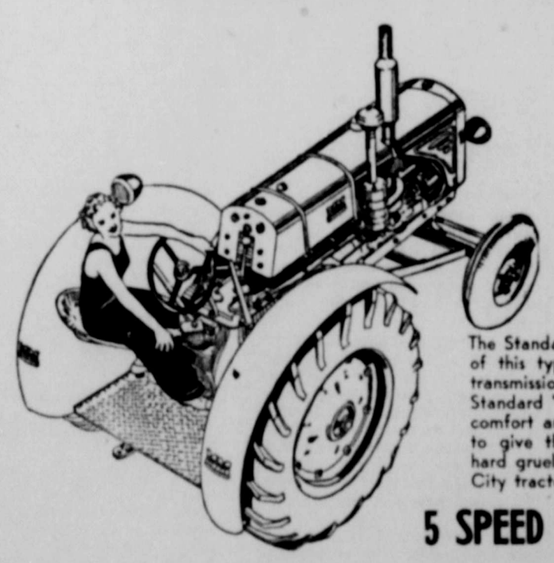

The Universal "U" has 5 forward speeds—4 practical field speeds and a high road speed. With these and a variable speed governor controlled from the seat, you can travel from a crawl to 18 miles per hour.

The new MM Universal "U" has Everything the Modern Farmer wants—Power, Economy, Comfort, Looks, Durability, and Dependability. It is built to stand up and deliver sturdy dependable power Season after Season at the lowest possible cost per season. The Universal "U" handles three bottoms under most soil conditions and has reserve power to handle four bottoms under many conditions. It is a sensational proved performer in the fields, in row crops, on the belt, for power take-off jobs and on the highway.

Remember, MM Twin City tractors have been built along the same basic modern lines of design longer than any tractor still in production; and Moline was first to build an all purpose tractor and complete line of Universal machinery for quick, direct attachment to a tractor. These long years of experience mean a lot to any one buying a Universal "U" and its modern "Toe-Tip" operated power-lift Quick-on—Quick-off implements.

Standard "U"

"POWER AT A TOUCH"

LEADS THE PARADE!

The Standard "U" is the only tracto of this type made with a 5 spee transmission, except the Univers Standard "Z". It is also designed f comfort and attractiveness and bu to give those many extra years hard gruelling service that MM Tw City tractors are noted for.

5 SPEED TRANSMISSIO

The Standard "U" is equipped with a 5-speed, quiet running transmission. All moving par are fully enclosed and operate in a bath of oil. The entire inner portion of the transmission protected against dust and dirt by felt seals, with patented leather seals retaining the Gears and shafts are made of special long-life alloy steel mounted on anti-friction bearing —12 Timken, 5 ball, and 1 Hyatt. Spiral bevel gears and pinions are used on the differenti drive and the belt pulley drive to assure the maximum in quiet, smooth operation. The larg diameter, live rear axles are double sealed. A composition seal, kept tight by spring tensio eliminates oil leaks, and a felt seal keeps the transmission free of dirt.

Vocational Ag Boys Attend Amarillo Fat Stock Show

The Vocational Agriculture boys went to the Livestock Show at Amarillo, Tuesday, March 4, and entered in a few contests. Those taking cars were C. H. Williams, J. A. Graves, B. M. Barnes, E. W. Thomas, Joe Buckhaults, Joe LaMaster, Paul Pletcher, P. M. Osborne, A. O. Engelman, and K. C. Trosper.

Boys to Amarillo were: Chester Barnes, Lester Barnes, Dale Kerns, Norman Cook, Walter Taylor, Arthur Daniel, Ray Selby, Wayne Bryan, Joe LaMaster, Wesley Enterline, Darrell Hill, Gordon Lewis, Jack Igou, Paul Pletcher, Dock Patton, Charles Shepherd, Pete Williams, C. J. Frantz, Clarence Engelman, Marlin Engelman, Donald Schuster, Thomas Carpenter, Dwight Trosper, Marvin Neufeld, Alva Vermillion, Raymond Hall, Emil Reimer, Leroy Gross, Jack Osborne, Daniel Stallinger, James Addington, Tommie Lee Bishop, Junior Powell, Jack Phelps, August Rahenkamp, Charles Peckenpaugh, Dudley Hargrove, Clair Brillhart, Woodrow Brillhart, Paul Hindon, Marion Johnson, Charley Stump, Leon Pribble, Charles Graves, Dean Stump and David Burger.

There were 28 teams entered in Amarillo competition and some of them were from different states. The Perryton team placed ninth and C. J. Frantz was third high man in judging of livestock.

Annual Nears Completion

Monday of this week sixteen more pages of the school annual were sent in to the publishing company in Austin.

These pages contained pictures of departments and organizations of the school, best all-round boy and girl, most popular boy and girl, class favorites, and snapshots.

The next eight and last pages of the annual will be completed in two weeks.

We will receive the annual approximately forty-five days after the last pages have been sent in.

Chapel Programs On "Texas Week"

The chapel program March 7, opened with a prayer given by C. H. Williams. Boyd Payne read the scripture reading. To observe the week, which was "Texas" week, George Hohmann gave a very interesting talk on Texas.

The remainder of the program was presented by Mr. Payne's economics class dealing with problems concerning economics. Those in the play were Carlene Taylor as file clerk, David Burger as store owner, and Ray W. Veale as credit investigator.

Because March 3 to 7 was Texas week, the grade school chapel program was based on Texas. The program was as follows: Mrs. Kendall Kelly lead the group in singing "Eyes of Texas," "Home on The Range," and "Get Along Little Doggies," with Mrs. McCelvey accompanying them. A chalk talk was given by Miss Mary Louise Yoe while Keith Flowers, Buddy Dillingham, Edward Dear, and Laverne Hoy sang "Beautiful Texas". Last (but not least), Mr. C. Wedgeworth gave a talk on "Things We Should Know About Texas".

We, the Seniors

Robert Allen Powers, the flashing cameraman for the annual, was born on November 2, 1923. "Shorty" is an outstanding member of the chemistry class which is his favorite subject.

Robert gets this nickname "Shorty" from his height as he is only six feet, 2 inches.

Shorty plans to attend Texas University to prepare for a career in chemistry.

He is a reader of many good books of which "Northwest Passage" is his favorite, and as a hobby he develops films.

Adrian Oliver "Spud" Thomas, now a handsome young man of 19 years, with brown hair and blue eyes was born August 6, 1921.

Spud reads many books of which "Funny Books" are his favorite, the show he liked best was also "Northwest Passage", and his favorite subject is chemistry. Spud has a very unusual hobby of collecting stickers for his Ford, and a pastime of driving it. It has been Spud's life time ambition to become a farmer. He hopes to attend Texas A & M to prepare for this vocation.

SAFETY

As most of you know a new course is being offered in the Perryton schools this year. This course is safety. From statistics, we started the course none too soon. We shudder at the twenty some odd thousand British people that were killed by German bombs last year, while Americans drive in such a way that they killed nearly forty thousand people.

No, the cars weren't to blame, eighty or ninety per cent of us have cars which are in fairly good shape and are responsible for very few accidents !No, it's not the highways that are to blame, if one drives as directed, the road itself would be responsible for few accidents! No, it's not the truck or taxicab drivers! Most highway patrolmen consider them among the best drivers on the highways and streets. They have more experience and are better informed than the majority of drivers.

That just leaves two persons who are responsible, you and I. Maybe neither of us has had an accident, but that isn't any assurance that you won't. We have organized a school patrol to safeguard students, not because we have had an accident, but to prevent any that might happen. Maybe I should say cause instead of happen—no accident just happens, every one has a cause.

Some will tell you we need more law enforcement. Those who say that are admitting that they have a weak will power, because they can't make themselves obey laws, so they are asking somebody to force them to obey the laws they, as well as you and I, made for our own safety.

El Toro

Joan Dillingham seems to like Booker boys. Anyway she was seen at the show Sunday with one.

Robert Werneburg says he is simply nuts about a certain senior girl. Now Wormy—I thought you didn't believe in going with girls until you got to college. Well, anyone can slip, "Hache" and Cecil did.

Believe it or not—from here it looks like Harold Ray Murray is studying, now that just isn't possible. It must be a mirage.

O'Betra Jackson certainly does like to play baseball, but she has a little trouble. It seems like she is a'raid of the ball.

Letha Corbin seems to be worried about band trips. Forget it Letha, Mary Jayne will be kept occupied.

My, Holly does get into a lot of trouble. While she was at the senior party with our football co-captain, her college steady came home. Who won the argument "Holly"?

Someone told me 'Stinky' Pugh looked a little worried over the week end, I never noticed before, but she does look a little pale. Could a '38 grad have any effect on her rosy complexion?

Junior Play on Thursday, Mar. 27

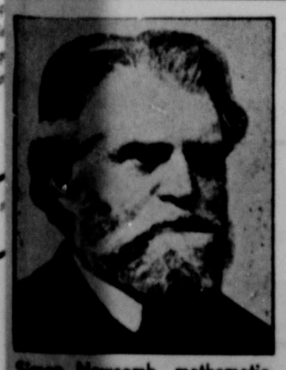

It is not the first Junior play that has ever been given, but it is one of the most unusual that has ever been given in the last few years. The title is "The Rose of El Monte," a truly western play.

Ring Selected by Junior Class

The Junior class met Wednesday and elected a committee to select their Senior class rings for next year. On the committee are: Naomi Cagle, Louise Flowers, Billy Herndon and Elton Symons. Irvin Williams, class president, met with the group.

The ring was decided upon and the majority are pleased with the selection. The ring decided upon has an oval shaped face with a crest of the letter "P", with Perryton in small letters beneath it. The patriotic theme is carried out, having an eagle engraved on each side.

The Sports Mixup

Well hello again—just fancy you reading this column after all the news we didn't tell you in the Sports Mixup last week.

But truly and seriously we do want to let you know that we have some real tom-boys in P. H. S. Why my goodness, they even play softball. Isn't that awful—or is it?

Incidently we think those volley ball girls get too much publicity so you needn't look for a thing about them in this column. The bench warmers did look sad Tuesday though because there was no practice.

Imagine our surprise when we walk into the gym and see a team of boys playing the girls volley ball team. I tell you, it's plum exciting the way Charlie Patton just stands on tip toes and knocks that ball over Billy Jo Smith's head. It's funny too. You can laugh too if you think so, but don't hurt yourself in just being polite about laughing and liking this column.

Goodbye now—We'll probably see you in seven more days if you don't see us first.

Snappy Duds

Ho hum! Here I am again with more new clothes. They might not be new, but anyhow, here I am. Tsh-tsh.

"Pixie" Allen looked very demure in a spun rayon dress of dusty rose with blue stripes. As accessories, she wore a blue felt belt, and blue felt covered buttons down the front. Another addition was a tarnished silver whistle, which she wore on a black shoe lace.

It seems as if some of our girls have joined the navy. Anyhow Sammie Black has a white knitted sweater with a sailor collar of navy blue. The collar is trimmed with a red, white, and blue stripe; with the same stripe round the sleeves and down the front. The sweater is fastened down the front with gold colored buttons, imprinted with an anchor.

If you like green, Charles Linville has a very pretty green silk rayon shirt. Some people think it's a little loud, but personally, I like it.

Joan Dillingham was seen (and heard) in a powder blue dress with military braid down the front. Very, very, cute—I think.

Mrs. Willard McSpadden looked very charming in a rose two piece wool suit. The dress skirt was gored and the coat skirt was a complete circle. The coat was long sleeved and she wore a belt of the same color and material. Very pretty, Mrs. McSpadden.

For a very pretty picture, just look up Marguerite Benton some time when she is wearing her black crepe dress. It has a zipper front, white and black collar, and it is made princess style. Very nice!

Another flash from the Turner Rancho—Billie now has a white satin bow on which she is embroidering her friends names with red thread. Very, very, cute, and oh—so-oooo-original. Dontcha think?

Well, I gota go. Bye now!

Shade of the Hat

You know, Miss Harris told the Journalism class the other day, to start every article differently. Now, I'd like very much to do that, but I'm running out of ideas. If anyone has a suggestion to make it will be very welcome.

Miss Minnie Ethel Wainscott has been called to the bedside of her father, who is seriously ill. Mrs. Max Boyer is substituting for Miss Wainscott.

Mrs. E. W. Winkler arrived Sunday to visit her daughter, Miss Katherine Winkler. Mrs. Winkler returned to her home in Austin, Wednesday.

Our Senior class is increasing by leaps and bounds. Two new Senior girls, Pauline Cates and Justine French, entered school last week. Pauline came from Mineral Wells and Justine is from Yakima, Washington.

For your information Seniors. We are supposed to have 86 class members now.

Have you noticed? The trees on the South side of Senior High have been planted. There are 36 of these trees.

The following college students were home over the weekend: Jimmie Lea Landrum, Bob Schuster, Warren Cudd, Jim Palmer, and Fountain Wade.

The Ranger band went to Borger last Saturday to enter a marching contest.

The orchestra will go to Canyon this week to take part in the district meet.

The teachers will attend a teacher's meeting at Canyon this Friday and Saturday.

Oh, boy! A holiday. Won't we all be glad.

Mary Ellen Moss, who has recently moved to Pampa, spent last week end visiting friends here.

This seems to be the sum and substance of the news I have for you this week. I'll be around again soon.

Hi-Y Enters Cage Tourney

The Hi-Y club is organizing a basket ball team that really is a team. They will be coached by R. L. Duke.

At the Hi-Y conference in Plainview March 21, 22 and 23, a Hi-Y basket ball tournament will be held.

The Perryton Hi-Y plans to bring back the banner for winning the tournament. The boys chosen to help and see that progress is made in the team are Charles Patton and H. G. Evans. We're with you boys, so bring back that winning banner for P. H. S.

Chemistry Club Great Help to Science

It looks as if the boys in the Chemistry club are in good hands because they got through another week without blowing the windows out or something else. Mr. Elmo Scott has 16 members who help him prepare solutions and do other things to help the chemistry classes along.

When the boys have nothing else to do they look at the pictures Mr. Scott has. They are very interesting.

The Club is always happy to have visitors and anyone who can and wants to come are always welcome.

The one who lives a fast life soon comes to the end of the road.

Meet the Teachers

Mrs. O. E. Burk was born in Lamesa, Texas. Before her marriage and coming to Perryton, Mrs. Burk was periodical and Document Librarian at Texas Agricultural and Mechancial College, College Station, Texas. Mrs. Burk attended college at West Texas State College, Canyon, Texas, and University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign, Illinois. She has a graduate degree in library science from the University of Illinois. Her major in West Texas College was English.

Mrs. Burk was a member of Pi Omega Sorority at West Texas State College. She had been publication chairman of Parent Teachers Association during the years from 1938 to 1941.

Mrs. Burk's hobby is reading travel books and traveling. She said, "I like to read books for information rather than entertainment." Mrs. Burk said that the most outstanding book she has read lately is "One Foot in Heaven," by Hartzell Spence. Her favorite sports are football and horse racing. Her favorite actress is Margaret Sullivan, and her favorite actor is Spencer Tracy. Chocolate candy seems to be her favorite food.

Mrs. Burk made the following remark, "My favorite work each year is teaching the library units to freshmen. All the students seem to appreciate our libraries more each year."

Volley Ball Team to Follett on March 4

The Volley Ball girls played their first out of town game of the season at Follett, Tuesday night, March 4. The girls on this trip were Billy Jo Smith, Sudie Records, Mary Jayne Frittz, Dorothy Woods, Mildred Drake and Francis Mae Dodson. The team played seven very exciting games winning three of them.

If you didn't notice or didn't see the games, Mary Jayne really played a swell game. This is her first year of Volley Ball and she is on the first string. She either has beginners Luck or its the real thing.

'Say It With Music,' Junior Hi Program Draws Big Crowd

One of the best productions put on by the Perryton schools in recent years, was witnessed by those who saw "Say It With Music" Friday night. The enjoyment of the program was enhanced by the new stage equipment. While the new curtain was the main object of interest, the beautiful effects produced by the new lighting equipment ran a very close second.

This event also marked the first public appearance of the High School orchestra which made a fine showing.

Well over 200 students, ranging from the second grade ryhthm band to the high school speech class and adorned in uniforms, periodic costumes, and formal dress, took part in the performance. Most of the credit, however, goes to the students and teachers of Junior High who were largely responsible for the show.

Rhythm Band

The second grade group of the Rhythm Band made its first public appearance Friday evening March 7, in the opening number of the Junior High musical revue, "Say It With Music". The first grade section made its initial appearance at the P. T. A. meeting, February 3.

The Ryhthm Band, a new organization in the Grammar school, have received their first uniforms. They are white with caridnal red stripe.

This band was first organized about a month ago by Mrs. Kendall Kelly and built into two groups, the first grade led by Jeanette Waugh, and the Second grade led by Jimmie Nelson.

The principle of the rhythm band is to teach the children rhythm, and it is composed of rhythm sticks, clogs, triangles, wood blocks tambourines, cymbals and drums.

Two Plays by Speech Class

Tuesday night, March 11, the speech class, under the direction of Miss Verna Harris, presented two one-act plays. One of the plays was entitled "Trifles" and had the following cast: George Henderson, County Attorney — Wilbert Hart; Henry Peters, Sheriff—Bill Thomas; Lewis Hale, a neighboring farmer—Charles Lindville; Mrs. Peters —Margaret Mary Pletcher; and Mrs. Hale—Ona Grace Francis.

The other play was entitled "Criss Cross" with the cast as follows: Ted Bradford, a well dressed young man —Joe Pete Lyle; Kitty Carr, his ex-fiancee—Ruth Ann Urban; Lester Brownlee, a young husband—Dick Thomas: Louise Brownlee, his wife—Jackie Adams; Bud Stewart, a confident young athlete — Gene Budock; Joan Green, a good looking girl—Polly Freeman; and Bertha, cook of the Brownlees—Carlene Taylor.

Choir Starts Practice For Annual Contest

The Perryton High School A Capella Choir, consisting of 66 members, have recieved their contest music and are going to begin working on it after March 7. They are going to Amarillo April 3, to attend the Regional Competition Contest, which includes all the Panhandle.

Orchestra News

Due to the arrival of the new string instruments, there is an increase in the size of the orchestra.

Ruth Ann Urban and Leon Engleman play the bass fiddle; Ruth Osborn, Anna Lee Lehman, and Letha Barker the Viola; Naomi Cagle and Mary Newell the Cello.

Chevrolet Announces New 'Fleetline' Luxury Six-Passenger Sedan

Chevrolet dealers throughout the United States are now displaying the latest addition to that division's passenger car line—the six-passenger sedan featuring the new Fleetline body by Fisher, presented as setting a new high mark in luxury comfort and style.

Mechanically, the new car is identical with other 1941 Special Deluxe Chevrolets. It has the 90-horsepower six-cylinder valve-in-head engine, knee action, and the famous vacuum power shift at no extra cost. The body, however, is entirely new. Its roominess and richness of appointment make the Fleetline the most luxurious car ever offered by Chevrolet.

Length and lowness characterize the new model as viewed from the side. The body is of the laudau type, with four doors and a closed rear quarter. Doors are extra wide, a fact which contributes both to utility and to smartness. Rear doors are hinged at the center pillar like those of other four-door models in the Chevrolet line; but rear-door windows, unlike other four-door model windows, are equipped with ventipanes. Hinges, both of the doors and of the rear deck, are of the concealed type.

Stainless steel moulding, along the edge of the concealed safety steps which replaced conventional running boards in the 1941 Chevrolet, and also at the belt line, accentuate length and lowness and add a pleasing decorative note. Full chromium reveals are used around door windows, rear window and windshield.

The impression of beauty and luxury conveyed by the new car's exterior is fully borne out in the interior appointments and trim. Specially-woven-pin-stripe upholstery is employed throughout, and the door panels and seat-backs are plaited in a manner which adds beauty and luxury, chromium strips being used to relieve the expanse of neutral tinted fabric. Lavish use of wood-graining is made in interior metal trim. Mouldings are walnut-grained, and the background of the new "Silverstyl" instrument panel is combination maple and burl walnut grained. Plastics and chromium are employed as decorative material on the panel, where instruments and controls are grouped for maximum driving ease.

The new sedan with Fleetline body incorporates in addition, the appointments which are regular throughout the Special Deluxe series. These include robe cord on the back of the front seat, ash receptacles, lighter, retractive assist-straps, armrests, clock, and other items.

High Stepper

Appearances of the Buffalo band of West Texas State College are given added movement and color by Miss Verna Gail Allen of Spearman, drum major of the organization. Miss Allen, who placed in the first division of two state and two national contests, is a former pupil of J. Gordon Burch of Borger, former army drum major. She is a freshman and is specializing in business subjects. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Allen of Spearman.

Vacancies Exist In U. S. Army

Harvey M. Gist, recruiting representative of the United States Army at Pampa announces that vacancies exist in the following branches of the Service: Air Corps, Randolph Field, San Antonio; Air Corps, Brooks Field, San Antonio; Engineers, Hawaiian Department; Field Artillery, Fort Bliss, El Paso; Calvary, Fort Bliss, El Paso; Field Artillery, Ft. D. A. Russell, Marfa; Signal Corps, Ft. Sam Houston, San Antonio.

More vacancies are expected soon in the Air Corps, and at the other stations in addition to the ones above. The Air Corps is the only branch listed above that requires a high school education.

John Huston Is Aircraft Mechanic

AMARILLO—John R. Huston of Perryton was one of the ten Panhandle youths selected for the NYA air mechanics resident center near the Duncan Field Air Depot, San Antonio, it was announced this week by J. C. Kellam, state NYA administrator.

Assignment to the center is for a six-months' period, during which time the youth work 44 hours weekly in the division of the Duncan Field airplane mechanics shop for which it is felt they are best fitted. Youths were selected on the basis of general all-around qualifications and mechanical ability. They reported at the project, March 10.

In addition to the work experience gained in the repair, construction and maintenance of airplane engines, the youth will attend classes 12 hours weekly after regular work hours. These classes are taught by teachers furnished by the San Antonio Public Schools and the Trade and Industrial Division of the State Department of Education.

Other Panhandle youths selected were Donnie Montes, Wellington; Leonard L. Poston, Gervais; Lee Tennyson, Phillips; John White, Childress; Leon Halduk, Panhandle; Joe Crawford, Amarillo; Jess Hamilton, Pampa, Frank Jones, White Deer and Dorris Morris, Canadian.

The ten Panhandle boys assigned were part of 100 boys chosen from the entire state.

Attending from here were W. H. Lance, generalissmo; Drew Ellis, senior warden; Miles Edwards, junior warden; J. N. Conley, Earl Glasgow, A. C. Witt and Ralph Arnold.

Upward Business Trend Continues to Brighten Map

This map depicts current business conditions as compared with the same period last year. It will appear in the March number of "Nation's Business", published by the United States Chamber of Commerce

Country wide effects of the defense program are reflected in the continued brightening of the map. Continuing the upward swing noted during the eight months from May to December, the general level of business activity in January indicated a slight rise to the highest for more than a decade past.

Local Health Units Now Available to Over 50 Percent of Texans, Reports State Department

* * * * * * * * * * * * * * *

Austin, Texas.—Modern scientific health protection by trained workers is the proud heritage of one out of every two Texans in 1940.

A short decade ago only one out of every ten Texans had access to similar health services. Four local health units and nine nursing services were scattered over Texas in a sketchy attempt to render localized health protection for 532,000 Texans, a mere 9.1 per cent of the total population. The growth of local health services in Texas in the past decade is a saga of accomplishment in a never-ceasing effort toward positive health. The first fruits of this effort are now apparent.

As of February 15, 1941, thirty-one full-time county health services and twenty-two county nursing services are in operation in Texas, rendering localized public health service to 3,001,705 Texans, 46.7 per cent of the entire State's population.

No monetary value can be placed on the savings in lives and increased efficiency and happiness accruing from a modern health program. To the individual these are of first importance, and to the nation they are essential if that nation is to survive in the highly competitive world of today. The cost of these local health services, sponsored jointly with the State Health Department, is negligible in view of the bettered public health standards in the locality which they serve. The steady, assured growth of areas served by county health units is an undeniable evidence of their accepted place in county and municipal affairs. Health protection for its citizens is an obligation of a county as necessary as the more commonly accepted governmental activities: police, the judiciary, education, public welfare, roads.

The basic activities of a county health unit cover the multi-sided phases of public health control scaled to the population and area of a local territory. Communicable disease control (including tuberculosis and venereal disease), maternal, infant, and preschool hygiene, school health program, sanitation of milk, water and food supplies, supervision of sewage disposal, collection and tabulation of vital statistics and morbidity reporting, and special studies and control measures for localized problems constitute the broad scope of the county health work.

The minimum personnel of a standard health unit includes a director who is a physician trained in public health, a nurse and a sanitarian trained in public health, a clerk, and other additional personnel as conditions of the county warrant. The State Health Department maintains advisory and consultative control over the local health units, and its trained personnel and facilities are available to all health units for the promotion of an adequate full-time local health program.

Over a period of years the local health unit has been demonstrated to be the most economical and efficient method of administering health service to a local governmental area. It is also the most democratic form of public health dissemination, as the local county retains its control over the unit. The unit is administered by a full-time local health officer who is responsible to the county health board. Cooperation with the State Health Department serving merely as an advisory agency.

In the counties where the population or funds are insufficient to allow a full-time health unit, the nursing service has been found to be a fair substitute. A nursing service pays particular attention to the school health program and to maternal and child health for these counties.

A nursing service, however, can only be regarded as the minimum service. In the past many counties which have established nursing services have been impressed with the efficacy of this minimum public health control to the point where full-time county health services were set up.

Recently a new administrative technique has been set up to serve sparsely settled areas. Two or more adjacent counties having a nursing service can be combined into a single health unit with a full-time director and sanitary officers added to the nursing services already established.

Certain additional county areas without either local health services or nursing services support full- or part-time venereal disease clinics administered by the State Health Department. Drugs are furnished free for treatment of syphilis in the indigent. These areas number ten counties and four cities operating such services, bringing to 3,574,607 persons the number of Texans who have access to some local health service operating in cooperation with the State Health Department. This represents 55.6 per cent of the total Texas population.

A. J. Eudy Was Named Club Head

A. J. Eudy was named president of the Community Service Club here Saturday and forfeited the $75 salary due him for the week for non-payment of dues. Only one election was held Saturday.

Officials of the club announced that next week the ballot will be taken for $75. If no one qualifies to serve as president at the first ballot taken another will be made and some one may receive $25.

It is important that all persons with names on the rolls as a club member pay the weekly dues of ten cents a week. No president will receive a salary if dues have not been paid.

The Community Service Club is sponsored by the Pierce Johnson Post of the American Legion. All profits of the organization are used for local charity purposes.

A few weeds grow in every garden

Among the thousands of decent law-abiding beer retail establishments in America there may be a few disreputable "joints."

While it is the brewers' responsibility to brew good beer and the retailers' responsibility to sell beer under wholesome conditions, nevertheless the brewing industry is concerned about these undesirable places and wants them cleaned up.

We want them cleaned up because they endanger your right to enjoy good beer . . . and our right to make it.

We want them cleaned up because they endanger the 31,165 jobs and $22,076,182 payroll created by beer in Texas since re-legalization. Beer contributed $2,273,968.64 last year in taxes in this state.

These benefits are worth preserving. You can help us, if you will, by (1) patronizing only the reputable, legal places that sell beer and by (2) reporting any law violations to the duly constituted law enforcement authorities.

Bowling Tourney Offering Newcomers a Great Chance

BY ART BRONSON

DOWN the sports trail: The annual tournament of the American Bowling Congress converging on St. Paul March 13 offers a chance for newcomers such as is present in no other sport.

Almost 5800 teams will compete for the world's ten pin title on new alleys, with new pins, in strange surroundings and under the pressure of stiff tournament competition.

But if this A. B. C. tournament, which ends May 6, follows the course of past events, several neophytes will make names for themselves.

Ray Brown of Terre Haute, Ind., ran up a total of 742 pins for the singles crown in his first A. B. C. tournament last year. Three other singles winners in tournament history were competing for the first time. Many another bowler has made a name for himself by rapping out a fine score in one of the team events.

Because of the terrific press of competition, the A. B. C. has few repeaters. The champions are always knocked off. Freddie Fischer of Buffalo, N. Y., who won the coveted all-events championship last year at Detroit, after trying for 25 years, is going back determined to win two in a row—a feat never before accomplished—but the cards are stacked against him.

Freddie Fischer . . . he wants to win two titles in a row, but precedent is against him.

Loans Under WFP Available

Loans are now available to farmers in Ochiltree County to participate in the Water Facilities Program of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Arthur R. Turner, rural rehabilitation supervisor for the Farm Security Administration, announced this week.

"Facilities which may be installed with funds borrowed from the federal government," Mr. Turner said, "include repairing or providing wells, cisterns, pools, ponds, stock tanks, together with the installation of windmills, stock troughs, storage tanks, bathroom fixtures, sinks, pipes, and so forth."

Mr. Turner said that loans also are available for facitities for developing irrigation systems for subsistence gardens and truck crops up to one acre of land. He emphasized the regulation prohibiting loans for irrigation systems in excess of one acre of land.

"No loans will be made for irrigation purposes which exceed one acre of land," he said. "The program is designed to modernize farm homes, by putting water into them, to make adequate water available for livestock purposes and to enable farm families to raise subsistence gardens and truck crops as a feature of the live-at-home programs in areas of low rainfall."

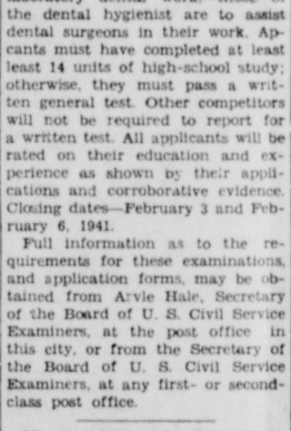

Water facility loans, it was explained, are made for a period from one year to the useful life of the facility or a maximum of 20 years at three per cent interest.

Low income farmers and others who cannot obtain adequate credit elsewhere are eligible to apply. Applicants are not restricted to farmers who are now being assisted by the Farm Security Administration. Farm owners, farm tenants and farm operators are eligible to make application for water facilities loans.

Mr. Turner cited a regulation which provides that all successful applicants for water facilities loans must agree to follow the approved farm and home management plans designed by the Farm Security Administration and the applicant, and to cooperate with the Soil Conservation Service in soil and moisture conservation practices.

Mr. Turner invites all farmers in Ochiltree County, who believes they can met the requirements for application, to visit him at his office in the City Hall at Booker and obtain more complete information about this program.

Many Government Jobs Will Be Open

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced that applications will be accepted at its Washington office for the positions listed below. Two closing dates are given for receipt of applications—the first for applications received from States east of Colorado; the second for applications from Colorado and States westward. The salary in each case is subject to a 3½ percent retirement deduction. The age limits do not apply to persons granted veteran preference, up to retirement age.

Junior Professional Assistant, $2,000 a year. Optional subjects (all in the junior grade) are: Administrative technician, agronomist, animal nutrition, biologist (wildlife), business analyst, chemist, economist, engineer, forester, geologist, home economist, horticulturist, legal assistant meteorologist, physicist, range conservationist, soil scientist, writing and editing assistant, zoologist (parasitology). A 4-year college course leading to a bachelor's degree is required, with major graduate or undergraduate study in the field of the optional subject chosen. Senior or graduate students now in attendance at institutions of recognized standing, may be admitted to the examination subject to their furnishing during the existence of the eligible register proof of completion of the required course prior to July 1, 1941. Applicants must not have passed their thirty-fifth birthday. Closing dates — January 20 and January 23, 1941.

Student Aid, $1,440 a year. Optional branches are: Agricultural economics; agronomy; animal husbandry; biology (wildlife); economics; engineering; forestry; geology; home economics; horticulture; metallurgy; plant pathology; public administration, political science, history, or sociology; range management; soils; statistics. Applicants must have completed at 3 years of college study, and must have indicated at the college or university their intention of majoring in the optional subject chosen. Junior students now in attendance at institutions of recognized standing, may be admitted to examination subject to their furnishing during the existence of the eligible register proof of the successful completion of their junior college year prior to July 1, 1941. Applicants must not have passed their thirtieth birthday. Closing dates—January 20 and January 23, 1941.

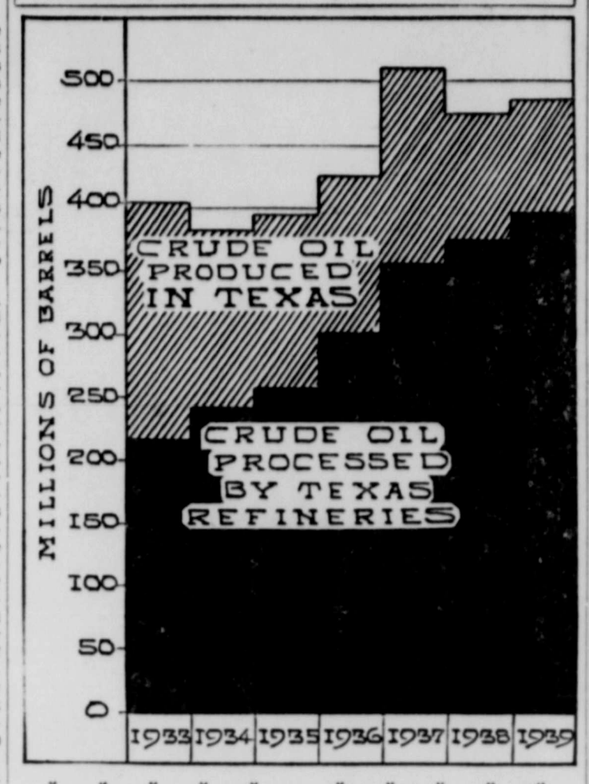

Dental laboratory mechanic, assistant dental laboratory mechanic, dental hygienist, $2,000, $1,440, and $1,620 a year, respectively — U. S. Public Health Service, Federal Security Agency; Veterans' Administration; and War Department. The duties of the dental laboratory mechanic positions involve general laboratory dental work,—those of the dental hygienist are to assist dental surgeons in their work. Apcants must have completed at least 14 units of high-school study; otherwise, they must pass a written general test. Other competitors will not be required to report for a written test. All applicants will be rated on their education and experience as shown by their applications and corroborative evidence. Closing dates—February 3 and February 6, 1941.

Full information as to the requirements for these examinations, and application forms, may be obtained from Arvle Hale, Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, at the post office in this city, or from the Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, at any first- or second-class post office.

Texas Refines Most of Its Oil

* * * * * * * * * *

DALLAS, Texas.—Nearly 135,000 Texans get their entire living from oil refining, a Statewide survey just completed by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association shows.

The oil refining branch of the state's petroleum industry furnishes jobs for 33,000 Texas workers, including office employees, with payrolls of $50,000,000 a year. Counting four persons to a family, a total of 132,000 Texans obtain their livelihood from oil refining alone, the survey shows.

In addition, Texas carbon black plants employ 1,850 more workers and pay them $2,200,000 a year, while natural gasoline plants provide jobs for 3,850 more Texans, with payrolls of $5,775,000. This gives a total employment in the Texas petroleum refining industries of 38,700 workers, who with their families make up 155,000 Texans getting their sole living from this source.

Texas oil refineries refine 82½ per cent as much crude oil as Texas produces, an increase of 28 per cent over 1933, the association reported. This is in contrast with Texas cotton, of which only about 2 per cent is processed in Texas, and Texas wool and mohair, virtually none of which is processed here. Most Texas raw materials are shipped out of the state to other parts of the world for manufacturing, to the virtual exclusion of Texas labor.

"It is a factor of vital concern to every Texas worker to see that as much as possible of the raw material are also manufactured into finished products in our state," the association points out in a statement issued today. "Oil, like cotton and all other Texas materials, must seek outside markets for volumes in excess of home requirements. But unlike most of the other materials, Texas oil is first manufactured into useful products in Texas plants with Texas labor. More than four-fifths as much oil as is produced in this State is also converted into finished products here, making Texas' largest manufacturing industry.

"The result is that thousands of Texans are afforded employment. This would not be the case if the bulk of crude oil produced here were shipped out to be refined by petroleum refineries situated in other states. Most Texas refiners now operate on a profit of a small fraction of a cent per gallon of gasoline, their principal product. Anything which would add even a part of a cent a gallon to their costs would seriously injure Texas' largest manufacturing industry and affect the livelihood and welfare of nearly 135,000 Texans."

Campbell-Ewald Celebrates 30 Years Of "Advertising Well Directed"

Detroit, Mich.—Thirty years of "advertising well directed" are being celebrated by the Campbell-Ewald Company during February, for it was in this month in 1911 that the company was incorporated at Lansing, Michigan.

This anniversary makes this advertising agency the oldest in Detroit, and one of the few agencies in the country to have retained its corporate identity and its directing head for so long a period.

During each of these years the company has had an average yearly billing of more than $10,000,000, despite the fact that it did not reach an annual billing of a million dollars until many years after it was organized.

Uses Newspapers

A large percentage of this money has been spent each year in newspapers, for Mr. H. T. Ewald, the president of the company, is a firm believer in this medium of advertising.

"Today, the newspaper, one of the oldest mediums of advertising, continues as a truly great and powerful force to sell goods," he states, "and will continue to be a spearhead of most advertising effort as long as it remains a free press.

"While each advertising campaign should have a tailor-made merchandising and advertising suit, the merchandisers of few commodities of general use can afford to ignore the tremendous cleavage power of newspapers, weekly as well as daily.

"I often think of newspaper advertising as an electric switch that actually turns on the light when and where the light is needed. This medium seems to me to be right behind the actual salesman and the actual sale."

Probably one of the greatest prides of Mr. Ewald is in the financial integrity of his organization during its entire corporate life. It has never missed a cash discount in the payment of publication and other bills—nor a payroll—for even during the State of Michigan and, later, the national bank holiday in 1933, the money for the payroll was rushed from New York City by airplane.

Humble Beginning

Humble, indeed, was the beginning of the company back in the days when the automobile was considered only a plaything of the rich. But the birth of the agency timed beautifully with the growth of the motor car and the growing recognition of the value of advertising—a union of mass production and mass selling.

Probably the cornerstone of the growth of this organization is based on the philosophy of Mr. Ewald that an advertising agency's function is to do anything and everything that may be done legitimately to sell more of the clients' merchandise. Ideas and a plussage of service—these are the two thoughts that have continually permeated the personnel of the entire agency since its founding. Fruit of this philosophy may be symbolized by the fact that the Hyatt Bearings Company, its first client, is still a client.

The growth of the agency in the first decade of its life might be considered normal. But in 1920 began its phenomenal growth—for the decade starting in that year represents the busiest and maddest in America. All industry was driving furiously toward a peak, with Detroit and the automobile industry in the forefront.

Opportunity Grasped

And Campbell-Ewald Company grasped the opportunity to expand and climb with industry. The personnel doubled and tripled—new departments were organized—research, radio, outdoor, publicity, direct mail—headquarters were moved to the General Motors Building—and today the company occupies nearly an acre of floor space there.

In 1922 the Chevrolet Motor account came to Campbell-Ewald—and is still serviced by this company—the largest single advertising account in the world. Later other General Motors divisions came to the company and since that time it has been a major national advertising organization, with branches in the principal cities of the country.

It is but natural, with headquarters in Detroit, that it has among its clients many automotive accounts — but the company has broadened and expanded to include the merchandising of adding and computing machines, banks, transportation lines, footwear, luggage, golf balls, rubber sundries, bathing suits, household and medical products.

The company inaugurated the first research department of any advertising agency in Detroit—and, to augment the knowledge of automobile merchandising Mr. Ewald took over and has since operated successfully a Chevrolet dealership as a practical laboratory for essential information.

Pioneer Advertiser

The agency has been a pioneer in developing a new and better advertising technique—has won numerous national awards for newspaper advertising and direct mail, for outdoor boards and for radio programs.

Mr. Ewald is as proud of the contributions of his agency to all movements and associations for the betterment of advertising—and for its contributions to the civic and philantrophic efforts to make the home city of the agency, Detroit, a better place in which to live—as in the mere business success of his company.

Because the agency is, in reality, the lengthened shadow of both his ideals and his personality, a brief resume of him also explains the agency.

Born 55 years ago of parents in modest circumstances, he sold newspapers, worked as a messenger boy in a department store and quit school when 14 to work for the D. & C. Navigation Company, becoming advertising manager several years later. He cherishes today the honorary high school diploma presented to him 28 years after he left school.

Founds Adcraft Club

At the ripe age of 20 he convinced other advertising men that they needed to organize, and thus he became founder of the Detroit Adcraft Club, one of the largest and most flourishing organizations in the country. Just four months ago he was honored as founder at a gigantic 35th birthday celebration, participated in by the leading citizens of Detroit. At 25 he was cofounder of the Campbell-Ewald Company with Frank J. Campbell who retired from the company in 1917.

He has been extremely active in the work of the American Association of Advertising Agencies for the last two decades, acting as chairman of many of its important committees, as well as heading this organization as chairman of the board. He was one of the early members of the National Outdoor Advertising Bureau and now heads this organization as chairman of its board.

The leadership of these organizations represents two of the most important elective positions in the advertising profession in the United States. He is a director of the Traffic Audit Bureau and has also served as a director of the Advertising Federation of America. He is vice president and director of the Wabeek State Bank of Detroit and an officer in many other business enterprises in Detroit.

Is Philanthropist

In Detroit Mr. Ewald is probably known as well for his civic and philanthropic work as for his advertising leadership. A director of a large philanthropic group of workers there describes him as the "most social-minded" man in Michigan.

Hardly a money-raising campaign has been conducted in Detroit in the last quarter of a century in which he has not sat in the driver's seat directing the spotlight of publicity—backed by the personnel of his large organization.

He headed the publicity in the five Liberty Loan drives in the first World War in which Detroit was the first city in the United States to go over the top. He acted as publicity director for a $5,000,000 Y.M.C.A. building drive; a $4,000,000 Y.W.C.A. drive; a $3,000,000 building drive for Grace Hospital and the Salvation Army; a $2,000,000 House of the Good Shepherd and Salvation Army building drive; and in the present world conflict has given generously of his time and the time of his organization in war relief drives to help Finland and Great Britain.

This is the type of work—if he ever retires, which is doubtful—to which he says he would like to devote his life.

Mrs. Harve Cook returned to her home in the Hardesty, Okla., community Sunday after a ten day hospital stay.

Mrs. Jess E. Wilson entered the hospital Thursday and underwent a major operation Saturday. Her condition is good. She was given a blood transfusion Friday, Loyce Brickley being the donor.

The condition of George Barnett, who recently fell and broke a hip, is not satisfactory. Mrs. George Clennan R. N. is special on the case.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation for the cards, personal letters, telegrams, visits and flowers during my recent illness. Such thoughtfulness helped make the hours seem shorter during the weeks I was in the hospital. You cannot realize how much such kindness means until you have been bedfast.

Mrs. Hugh E. Shotwell

H. L. Cox of McAlister, New Mex., who has been seriously ill with a relapse of the flu and pneumonia in the home of his son, O. O. Cox for the past ten days, is improving.

The New McCORMICK-DEERING STANDARD TRACTORS

FEATURES OF THE NEW "W" TRACTORS

1. 8-speed transmission (up to 14½ m.p.h. on rubber). Variable speed governor controlled from the seat.
2. Driver comfort. Sit or stand as you like.
3. Handy controls.
4. Choice of two engines on the W-4 and W-6—(1) combination gasoline-distillate engine; (2) high-compression straight gasoline engine.
5. Streamlined styling.
6. Replaceable cylinder sleeves.
7. Front drawbar.
8. Accessible unit design.

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER'S big tractor family has three additions—three new standard tractors. They're shown above, and here's a brief description of what each one will do.

McCormick-Deering W-4: A 2-plow tractor with capacity to plow from 7 to 12 acres a day, combine (depending upon cut) 10 to 25 acres a day, tandem-disk 25 to 30 acres, and drill (10-ft.) 35 acres. Will handle a 22-inch thresher in average conditions. Fuel consumption: 15 to 20 gallons a day.

McCormick-Deering W-6: A 3-plow tractor with capacity to plow from 9 to 13 acres a day, tandem-disk 30 to 40 acres, and drill (14-ft.) 40 to 60 acres. Will handle a 28-inch thresher in average conditions. Fuel consumption: 20 to 25 gallons a day.

McCormick-Deering WD-6 Diesel: A 3-plow tractor with the same capacity as the Model W-6, plus the economies of a full Diesel engine. Fuel consumption: 15 to 20 gallons a day.

All three are smartly styled tractors, easy to operate, economical and efficient on the job. Come in and see all three. Pick your tractor from the new "W" line and enjoy new tractor comfort and economy.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

The Spirit of Service

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for March 16
Text: Luke 22:14-30

* * *

THE event long ago in the Upper Room, which we call The Lord's Supper, has assumed a distinctive place in the Christian Church. Sometimes we call it the Communion Service; sometimes, the Holy Sacrament.

It should not be forgotten, too, that the event links, in a way that has never been adequately recognized in practice, the Jewish dispensation with the Christian—for this most distinctive rite of the Christian Church had its beginning in the celebration of the Passover.

This is a point which might well be stressed at a time when much finer mutual sympathies and understanding are being developed by Jews and Christians.

* * *

WHAT did this Last Supper signify? It was, first of all, an act of fellowship. The disciples were united in a great hope and in a great enterprise, which centered in the Man of Nazareth to whom they had given their allegiance, believing Him to be the Messiah and the Son of God.

It was an occasion of sacrificial faith and courage for, although the disciples did not understand at all fully the impending events, the words of Jesus made them realize times were at hand which would test their souls. The experiences of Gethsemane and Calvary were shortly to follow, and this first Lord's Supper was partaken of by the disciples so much under the shadow of the cross that it was inevitable that in the church it should establish that rite which has become a mark of remembrance and consecration.

* * *

HOW tragically near in history are the nobly divine things to the "weakly human" We turn immediately from the high lights in the story to see the disciples quarreling among themselves about who was to be the greatest. It is perhaps no wonder that Christians of future ages have been so dull and slow in understanding and practicing the teaching of their Master, when we see that these early apostles who were so close to Him were also so dull and slow or so perverse in their personal ambitions.

Jesus had to rebuke them very pointedly.

"Which is greater," He asked. "He that sitteth at meat, or he that serveth?" And He reminded them that He Himself was among them as one who serveth.

That is the lesson for us, and we ought always to remember it as we partake of the Lord's Supper. If we approach the Lord's table in anything but the spirit of humility, we are betraying the very spirit of the service, just as the disciples unfortunately did so long ago.

Christian Science

"Substance" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 16.

The Golden Text is: "For ever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven. Thy faithfulness is unto all generations" (Psalms 119:89,90).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me" (Phillippians 4: 13).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Divine Being must be reflected by man,—else man is not the image and likeness of the patient, tender, and true, the One 'altogether lovely;' but to understand God is the work of eternity, and demands absolute consecration of thought, energy, and desire" (page 3).

Champ Leaps Car at Sports Carnival

With the greatest of ease, Alfred Orhn, former national ski champion, startles the queen's "court" at the great Winter Sports State Park at Grayling, Michigan, by leaping over a Chevrolet Sedan. Miss Yvonne Bradley (third from the right) has been elected Snow Queen and, with her court, welcomes the colorful crowds of winter sports fans who arrive by the thousand in automobiles and snow trains. Six steel toboggan slides and acres of skating rinks are now in operation, and three ski towers and 75 miles of marked ski trails are planned for this huge winter sports development under the supervision of the National Park Service and the Michigan State Park Department.

Work for Security Of United States

Influence of more than one million organized women was placed behind a broad program of activities for the security of the United States and the American plan of life at the sixteenth Women's Patriotic Conference on National Defense, held in Washington, D. C., January 27 to 29, according to Mrs. Dewey R. Allen, President of Pierce Johnson Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary.

The Auxiliary was represented at the conference by 290 delegates, who came from every state, Alaska, Hawaii and Panama. Mrs. Louis J. Lemstra, National President of the Auxiliary, presided as chairman, and Milo J. Warner, National Commander of the Legion, was the opening speaker.

After hearing a series of authoritative speakers discuss all phases of the question of national security, the conference adopted resolutions outlinging the things for which women of the 34 organizations participating will be asked to work this year. The resolutions called for:

Legislation banning all immigration, including political refugees.

Legislation to prohibit foreign subversive groups, such as communists and Nazis, from functioning as political parties, and prohibiting their members from holding elective or appointive public office.

Legislation to prohibit strikes in defense industries.

Investigation of questionable educational organizations.

Opposing subversive teachings in the schools and the use of subversive text books.

Recommending that all women's organizations register their members for voluntary emergency service.

Urging a continuing defense program with amendment of the Selective Service Act to provide training for all able-bodied young Americans when they reach military age.

Reaffirming the conference's stand for neutrality; urging Congress to retain its power to keep this country from any policy that might draw the United States into the war, and to permit England to purchase war materials through exchange of British islands in the western hemisphere for this material.

Asking the War Department to reconsider its decision to discontinue the C. M. T. C. camps.

Urging government recognition of the flag code.

Opposing restriction of private possession of fire arms for sports and protection.

Other resolutions commended the services of industry, radio and motion pictures in the cause of a secure America, and expressed appreciation of the men who have joined the armed forces for defense training.

Plans Meeting

As president of the Northwest Texas Conference for Education, Mrs. N. N. Whitworth of Amarillo has had a large part in the planning of the big meeting at Canyon, March 14 and 15. The conference is the largest convention which meets in the Panhandle each year. Mrs. Whitworth is head of the department of speech at Amarillo Senior High School.

Easter Services Are Planned on April 13

Arrangements are underway for Easter Services of the Knight Templars of the Canadian district here April 13, according to an announcement made here this week. Attendance is expected from Pampa, Miami, Canadian, Wheeler, Higgins, Lipscomb and Perryton. Complete details will be worked out in the near future.

A careful motorist doesn't have to worry about his driving. It's the reckless, indifferent driver that brings on the strain. A standard driver's license law will be an added protection to the driver who is interested in safety for self-protection.

Whether you own a car or not, your loved ones are jeopardized daily by the reckless driver. If a standard driver's license law will minimize this danger in Texas as in other states, we need such an enforceable law just as quickly as we can get it.

Too many drunken drivers confuse license and liberty.

Lutheran Young People Had Meet

The young people of the Lutheran Church met Sunday evening, March 9, for a lecture and business session. The meeting opened with the reading of a Psalm and a prayer by Rev. H. M. Daenzer. This portion of the program was followed by the singing of "Savior, Breathe an Evening Blessing," by the group.

In place of the monthly topic discussion, two teams were chosen and were given an opportunity to test their Bible knowledge through a Bible Quiz conducted by the pastor.

During the business meeting the secretary read a number of mottos from which one will be selected by Marlin Engleman, member of a committee elected for this purpose. Scarlet and white were unanimously favored to be the society colors. A monologue, "Gigglin' Lizzie," was assigned to Adeline Heidrich and will be presented at the next meeting of the organization.

Present for the evening were Evelyn Engelman, Adolph Seedig, George Heidrich, Bessie Seedig, Marlin Engelman, Leon Engelman, Louis Lee Seedig, Sam Pshigoda, Clarence Lee Engelman, Juluis Seedig, Raymond Heidrich, Betty Pshigoda, Adeline Heidrich and Rev. Daenzer.

Texas Oil Pays High Tax Portion

Dallas,—More than half of all the oil produced in Texas already pays a tax of over 10 cents a barrel, a survey just completed by Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association statisticians show. Twenty-two separate taxes are now levied against Texas oil producers.

The survey, based on tabulation of tax records of all 254 counties and of independent taxing subdivisions, shows that more than half of the State's oil bears taxes of 10.26 cents a barrel. All of the oil produced in Texas pays an average tax of 9.23 cents a barrel, while in some counties the taxes amount to 15 and 20 cents per barrel.

"Texas oil producers now pay 22 separate taxes, or 21 in addition to the State gross production tax," a statement today from the association points out. "In fact, analysis of the various tax levies borne by oil produced in 33 leading Texas oil counties (which produce over half of the State's total crude output) shows that the State gross production tax of 2¾ per cent makes up less than 29 cents of each dollar collected in State and local taxes on oil production and producing properties. Billion Baby Chicks Take Peep at the World

Fuzzy newcomer (1) studies his reflection. Modern hatcheries (2) produce baby chicks scientifically. Cardboard containers (3) are used in shipping millions of baby chicks. Virginia Weidler, (4) movie star, is thrilled by her visit to a modern hatchery.

FORECASTING rapid growth in the commercial hatchery industry, the United States Department of Agriculture estimates that production of baby chicks may reach a billion a year within the next decade. In 1941, more than 800,000 baby chicks, hatched artificially and scientifically in incubators, will have to scratch for themselves.

Baby chick hatcheries are located in every state. During 1940, the east and west north central states—Corn Belt—produced approximately 58 per cent of the total chicks hatched by commercial hatcheries, the south central states 10 per cent, the middle Atlantic states 9 per cent, the south Atlantic states 8 per cent, the Pacific coast states 7 per cent, the New England states 6 per cent, and the mountain states 2 per cent.

The almost phenomenal growth of the broiler industry in the past six years has provided a market for millions of chicks during every month of the year, so the hatchery season no longer is limited by nature and the whims of setting hens.

"BREEDER hatcheries" maintain their own flocks for producing eggs, because producers of poultry and eggs want chicks that are healthy and bred for high production. To insure production of healthy and well-bred chicks, many hatchery breeders have spent thousands of dollars and much painstaking effort to build up their flocks to high standards of performance.

Today, millions of chicks are shipped hundreds of miles in paperboard boxes by parcel post, express, trucks, and even by plane. Once chicks are hatched, they cannot be stored like grain, so the hatcheryman, to avoid heavy loss, "sizes up" the probable demand in advance.

Outlook for the hatchery industry during 1941 appears to be favorable, according to the Agricultural Marketing Service. Improvement in consumer demand as a result of expenditures for national defense, the increase in poultry prices, and the favorable feed-egg ratio are expected to have a stimulating effect on the demand for baby chicks.

Fifteen years ago one automobile company's standard model contained 4,500 parts; its best selling job of a decade ago had 6,000 parts, and its current model in the low priced field possesses 16,000 parts. This trend illustrates why more men are needed for each car manufactured today than back in the twenties.

FSA Water Facility Improvements Now Available to Farm Families

Arthur R. Turner, rehabilitation supervisor, and Mrs. Sallie B. Allen, home management supervisor for the Farm Security Administration in Lipscomb and Ochiltree Counties, have returned from Amarillo, where they attended a district meeting to discuss the FSA's Water Facility Program.

Mr. Turner said that he had received additional authority to recommend for approval Water Facilities applications from farm families in all parts of the county. "Funds in the form of loans to farm families are available," Mr. Turner said, "for the installation of facilities for farmstead and livestock water developments."

"Facilities which may be installed repaired, or developed," he continued, "are cisterns, wells, pools, ponds, tanks, springs or seeps. Appurtenances for the use of water, such as windmills, stock troughs, storage tanks, bathroom fixtures (including minor house repairs), sinks, pipes, towers, necessary labor, garden fences, windbreak tree plantings, milk troughs and so forth are also included."

It was emphasized, however, that no irrigation systems, other than the one acre maximum per farm unit, are authorized, except in the Rita Blanca Drainage, Coldwater Palo Duro Watershed and Mustang-Monument-Seminole areas.

Mr. Turner said he expects scores of farm families in Lipscomb and Ochiltree Counties to improve their water facilities as a result of this program. Farmers and farm women interested in obtaining complete information about this program should immediately contact Mr. Turner or Mrs. Allen at the Farm Security office in the City Hall at Booker, Texas.

Passage of So-Called Fair Trade Act Will Nullify Texas Anti-Trust Laws

AUSTIN, March 10—If Texas is to have the so-called Fair Trade price-fixing Act, it must strike down one of the most important sections of its anti-trust laws, according to an opinion by Attorney General Gerald Mann.

Asked by Senator W. C. Graves of Dallas, chairman of the Commerce and Manufacturing Committee to pass on this controversial measure which is to be considered by his committee, Mann ruled that the measure is constitutional but—

"If the bill becomes a law, the anti-trust laws of this state will, by virtue thereof, be repealed to the extent that such laws condemn the 'vertical' price-fixing agreements described in Senate Bill No. 9.

"Our anti-trust laws constitute a legislative determination that agreements and combinations having for their purpose or affecting by their acts the fixing of prices upon the subjects of commerce, though manifestly beneficial to that portion of the public engaged in the selling of such commodities who are parties to such agreements and combinations, are obnoxious and harmful to the interest of the public generally.

"This legislative determination upon which the anti-trust laws are predicated, however, is subject to review by the Legislature. There is no provision in our constitution which prevents the legislature from modifying or revoking the policy embodied in the anti-trust laws. Hence, whether these laws shall be repealed in whole or in part presents purely a question for the Legislature, to be solved by the Legislature in such manner as to it appears to be in the interest of the general public."

With these words, capital observers believe Gerald Mann has laid before the legislature one of the most important decisions in Texas history. More than 40 years ago, a legislature, prodded by Jim Hogg's determination, developed for the protection of the Texas public a set of anti-trust statutes which many outstanding legal authorities call the best in the United States. If any portion of these be modified, it is the general opinion here that the hitherto excellent structure will lose practically all of its protective power, and the Texas consuming public will be laid open to every type of price-manipulation exploitation that the anti-trust laws now forbid with sharpest possible legal teeth. This the legislature has been asked to do by powerful, moneyed lobbyists.

Other recent price-fixing developments were the introduction into both the House and Senate of so-called Anti-Loss Leader bills which fix prices on a cost-plus basis. No committee hearings have yet been held on either type of price-fixing.

The Fair Trade Act two years ago was passed by the Legislature but vetoed by Gov. O'Daniel after Mann ruled that by certain of its own provisions (which it now contains) it was null and void.

Hunting Problems Solved

For months "The Southern Sportsman" magazine, published in Austin, Texas, has been trying to get sportsmen to create their own hunting and fishing by damming up small streams and forming their own "club" lakes as well as leasing up land for hunting. A story in the December issue shows that some sportsmen are taking kindly to the proposal. It reads:

"W. H. Casey gives us the lowdown on how nine Ponca City, Oklahoma., sportsmen solved their hunting problems for the coming quail season. A 400-acre farm, well stocked with birds, 20 miles distant from that city, has been leased by the nine for the duration of the quail season. Each paid the landowner $10.00, which fee permits him and one guest to hunt there weekly. The result—nine happy Nimrods, one well satisfied farmer, a solution to their where-to-hunt problem, and more than likely a landowner who will make sure conditions are right on his land for a bumper quail crop in 1941. Ranger Casey's part in the scheme was locating the area for the hunters and acting as go-between for them and the landowner."

The invitation of the open road too often proves to be an invitation to greater chances for death and injury. Last year the accident rate in cities and towns decreased, but accidents in rural areas and on the open road jumped at an astounding rate.

The man who borrows trouble must pay a high rate of interest.

Eight Balls of Fire
and how they can travel!

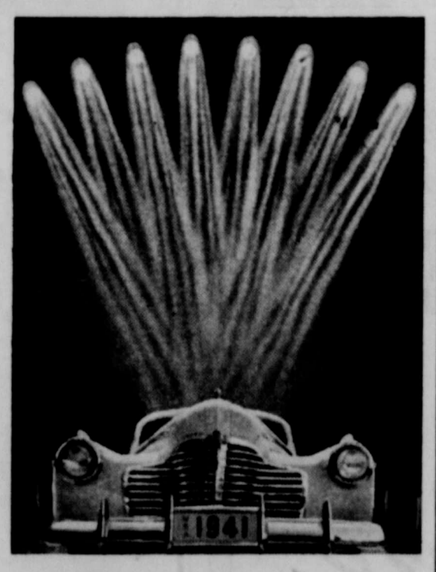

IF you like fireworks, and who doesn't, it's really too bad you can't see what goes on inside that sparkling big Buick FIREBALL eight that romps you so easily down the broad highway.

There you'd see eight busy cylinders, with pistons flashing up and down . . .

You'd see each fuel charge packed tight into a tiny bundle shaped like a flattened ball . . .

You'd see the spark leap, the flame spread, the piston thrust down with extra force as each furious fireball lets go its pent-up wallop.

You'd see all this happening as fast as thirty times a second in each of those eight cylinders—and we think you'd understand then just why there's such a special and exciting satisfaction in the way a Buick travels.

Gasoline gives up more of its power when it's packed as tightly as it is here.

That special, flattened-ball shape of the compressed fuel charge means smoother, better burning, full focus of the power on the piston head, where it counts.

So when you've got these eight balls of fire working busily under the bonnet, you really travel!

You travel farther on every gallon and you travel more pleasurably.

You travel—but, shucks! Why listen to talk when there's a Buick dealer nearby waiting to show you how you travel behind a FIREBALL?

BUICK PRICES BEGIN AT $915 for the Business Coupe delivered at Flint, Mich. State tax, optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

Cocker Spaniel Is Nation's Most Popular Dog

MAN'S best friend is the dog. Man's favorite dog is the cocker spaniel. For the past three years, the sad-faced, long-haired, friendly cocker spaniel has led registration lists.

Second in popularity, but with less than half the registrations recorded for the cocker spaniel, is the bulging-eyed Boston terrier. The beagle is third in popularity.

American dog fanciers concentrate their interest and time on just a few of the 108 breeds recognized by the American Kennel Club. The first 10 breeds on the registration list account for more than 60 per cent of all the pure-breds written into the records.

First 10 breeds, in the order of their popularity, are the cocker spaniel, Boston terrier, beagle, Scottish terrier, wire-haired terrier, pekingese, dachshund, springer spaniel, chowchow, and greyhound.

• • •

WHEN two dog fanciers owning different breeds get together, they never lack for conversation or an argument. People develop very strong likes and dislikes, for and against certain breeds.

The experts, who are acquainted with many breeds, own many dogs, and attend most of the important dog shows, are agreed that among all breeds there are good, bad, and indifferent specimens. Some are smarter than others. Some are just dull. Some are rugged and healthy, while others are sickly.

An interesting conclusion drawn from expert sources, is the opinion that almost all breeds of dogs—with few exceptions—make good companion dogs for small children. This holds true with both the small breeds and the large breeds.

Similarly, almost all breeds develop good watchdogs. Once a dog becomes attached to a person or family, his latent instincts for guarding usually develop. Though the small breeds can't do much damage in a rough-and-tumble fight, they are alert, and they bark when they hear strange noises around the home.

• • •

WHILE thousands of dog-lovers prefer the 10 leading breeds, many more thousands prefer some of the less popular breeds. All breeds have many desirable qualities which make them suitable as pets.

In World War II, as in the first World War, many dogs are distinguishing themselves for service to warring countries. They are specially trained for many war uses. Dogs are used extensively by the Red Cross and by ambulance units.

Almost all of the warring countries have trained dogs to lay field telephone lines. Field hospitals, in charge of experienced veterinarians, have been set up to treat wounded dogs.

The United States has more than 15,000,000 dogs, it is estimated. Their total food bill amounts to $1,500,000 a day. $547,500,000 annually.

Prize Shetland sheepdog is "Downfield Olaf" (1) international champion. "Meadowlark Draftsman" (2) is a prize-winning beagle. Most popular dog in the nation is the proud cocker spaniel (3). Second in popularity is the Boston terrier (4). Here's how to solve the problem of "quints" if you have to give five Boston terrier pups a bath. Just hang them out to dry after a good shampoo (5).

Baptist's State Sun. School Meet

Ten thousand messengers, representing 3,098 Texas Baptist Sunday schools, are expected at the Annual State Baptist Sunday School Convention, meeting at the First Baptist Church, Dallas, April 15.16-17, it was announced today by G. S. Hopkins, State Sunday School Secretary, Dallas.

Inspirational speakers from over the South will speak on the Convention Theme, "The Word of Life for a World in Strife." Among those scheduled to speak are: Dr. C. Oscar Johnson, St. Louis, Mo.; Dr. R. G. Lee, Memphis, Tenn.; Dr. John L. Hill, Dr. T. L. Holcomb, Nashville, Tenn.; Dr. R. C. Campbell, Dallas; and Andrew Allen, Harold E. Ingraham, J. N. Barnette, William P. Phillips, Herman L. King, Dr. Homer L. Grice, Miss Marie Estes, and Miss Mary Alice Biby, all from the Baptist Sunday School Board, Nashville, Tenn.

Conferences are scheduled on all phases of Sunday school work with the slogan "Hold Forth the Word of Life," stressed in each group.

The return of the convention to Dallas recalls its beginnings, Mr. Hopkins, said. The Convention came into being by the merger of the Baptist Organized Bible Class and the Sunday School Superintendent's Convention. In the First Baptist Church, Dallas, in June 1925, organization of the Texas Baptist Sunday School Convention was completed. In April 1932 the Convention met in Dallas with an attendance of 6,862 registered messengers—the largest number ever present, to that time, at any Baptist Convention in Texas. The Convention again met in Dallas in 1937 with 7,584 messengers attending.

Prominent Canine Dies in Canyon

CANYON, Tex.—Canyon's most prominent canine citizen died this month following an operation for tumors.

She was a big malmute dog which was used by the second Byrd Antarctic Expedition. She was born in Maine about eight years ago but was taken aboard a Byrd ship while a pup. Friendly and quiet, she was given the run of the ship—an unusual liberty for dogs of the northern breed—and became a favorite of Admiral Byrd. By spring she was a large, powerful animal trained as a sled dog. She served faithfully on the Antarctic trails.

When the expedition was ended and the dog packs were dispersed, Admiral Byrd gave Neeka to Joe Hill, Jr. of Canyon, the youngest member of the expedition and son of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill. Neeka accompanied her young master on speaking tours and later was a part of the Byrd exhibit at the Texas Centennial. When Joe Jr. went to the University of Texas, Neeka was left with Dr. and Mrs. Hill at Canyon.

Neeka was an invalid most of the last year and her condition was closely followed by local people and others who learned of her illness. She was a dignified animal, showing a reserved interest in visitors but permitting no familiarities. Her skin is being prepared for the Panhandle-Plains museum by a taxidermist.

Joe Hill Jr. has a good position in a Douglass Aircraft Corporation factory in Santa Monica, Calif.

"Retail price Fixing Act" Better Name for the "Fair Trade Act"

Austin.—If the "Fair Trade" price fixing law is passed by the Texas legislature, it will legalize the very practices which caused payment of $64,500 in fines by liquor dealers last week, according to N. H. Pierce, Menard publisher.

"Attorney General Gerald Mann caught these distillers and wholesale drug dealers specifying what retail prices liquor dispensers must charge for their bottles," said Mr. Pierce. "He filed suit. This payment of $64,500 of last Friday was the third such settlement made on the suit. The distillers don't even have the courage to fight the anti-trust laws in the courts, so they are asking for the so-called Fair Trade Act to legalize their price-fixing by striking down our anti-trust laws. I am sorry to say that the bills have been introduced, and are being given serious consideration.

"If the people of Texas knew the real facts about this scheme to turn the pocketbooks of Texas consumers over to out-of-state manufacturers and distillers, they would overwhelm their legislature with their protests."

Mr. Pierce was one of the first Texas newspapermen to see through the flimsy excuses which are advanced as reasons for asking for retail price-fixing laws.

"Two years ago, this so-called Fair Trade Act had much support both in the legislature and in cities and towns all over Texas because it was so badly mis-named and misrepresented. The newspapers of Texas did a real public service when they publicized the proposal in its true light as a measure to boost prices and fix and freeze them where ever the manufacturers of trademarked articles choose.

"Apparently much of this support has vanished in the glare of publicity. Two years ago, the House Fair Trade Act had 12 signers. This year it has only two, and they both are new members.

"I hope the newspapers will continue to expose this selfish and unwarranted attack on the rights of Texas housewives to shop for and secure bargains. It is their public duty. I know I will in my paper.

"After watching this 'Unfair-to-trade' legislature for two years, I am determined to fight for one thing. I want to see that beautiful name, 'Fair Trade', changed. I want the law presented to the legislature and to the people of Texas in its true colors.

"It's name should be amended to the 'Retail Price-Fixing Act.' That is an accurate description, and it allows the people of Texas to know what kind of a law their legislature is considering."

Tom Harmon Pays Tribute To Girl Cooking Champions

DELICIOUS!—America's farm-girl cooking champions register delight at the "verdict" pronounced by Miss Jane Tiffany Wagner, noted home economist, after sampling the tasty dish prepared for her. Selected from more than 75,000 as national winners in the 1940 4-H Club Food Preparation Project, each of the girls, while in Chicago attending the 19th 4-H Club Congress, received a $200 college scholarship granted by Servel, Inc., of Evansville, Ind., manufacturers of Servel Electrolux refrigerators and donor of the food project awards for the sixth consecutive year. Shown in the upper picture (left to right) are: Lillian Pautz, Horicon, Wisc.; Dorothy Brusch, Canby, Ore.; Pat Graham, Fayetteville, N. C.; Miss Wagner, who is director of Servel's home economics department; Edna Lavender, Jefferson, Ga.; Marion Cottrell, West Kingston, R. I.; and Joan Taylor, Adrian, Minn.

Big thrill for the farm girls was the "surprise" visit of Tom Harmon, Michigan's famed All-American halfback, to a banquet in their honor. Praising their achievement, he said: "I had ten men to help me with my work, but each of you did yours alone." He is shown (above right) being presented with a 4-H Club emblem.

4-H Girls Have Fun Making Homes

Food in tons and millions, beauty and comfort, and fun home-made—that's the story of 38,851 girls enrolled in Texas 4-H Clubs in 1940. This work, explains Onah Jacks, state girls' club agent, is carried on with rural girls by the A. and M. College of Texas and the U. S. Department of Agriculture cooperating.

The average age of these girls is 12, but despite their youth Miss Jacks says, "they are certainly busy at the job of improving the health of themselves and the folks about them." For example, last year they canned over 2,400 tons of food. And that does not include the vegetables used fresh out of 18,520,530 row feet of gardens they grew. In addition, they're preparing to "make a dent in the country-side" with 111,167 fruit trees and vines and 12,443 ornamental plants they have rooted from seeds and cuttings.

A great many 4-H Club girls in Texas reported clothing themselves for the year on about $17. They kept their own records to find out about this. The fact that they made 86,791 garments themselves and improved their methods of selecting and caring for clothes made that $17 expenditure possible, Miss Jacks says.

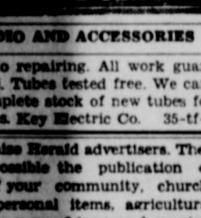

While their 4-H records don't show great money profits, the girls spent $68,620 on home improvements to bring "comfort, convenience and beauty to more people even than their own families."

These girls worked in 2,076 clubs in 191 counties. While they did most of their own planning and carried out their plans, each club had an adult sponsor who is a volunteer local leader.

They're Civilized All Right!

It's getting to be funny, the way some sportsmen look upon our gulf coast region as pertaining to accomodations. Letter after letter comes in to us from those who have not visited certain sections of the coast, asking if they must go prepared to rough it! Many think that they're going to the far reaches of our frontiers when they head for little known sections of the gulf coast region. The resort owners are constantly bombarded with these letters. Genial Clara Dean, who owns the modern Gulf Beach Courts in Port Aransas, Texas, tells me that many people visit that fishing resort with the idea that they must practically camp out under the most trying circumstances. Then she showed me through one of her cottages—beautiful interiors, roomy, restful beds, tile baths, in fact they're nicer than most any of the big city courts I've seen lately. "They seem surprised when they find electric lights, hot and cold water and all the modern conveniences," Miss Dean declared. "They think this gulf coast country is just lonely beaches, hardly civilized!"

Perhaps this paragraph will enlighten those of you who have been holding back from a gulf coast vacation, fearing that you would have to rough it.

Over The Top in a Ford 'Blitz Buggy'

DEARBORN, Mich.—With Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Motor Company, and Brig. Gen. C. H. Bonesteel of the U. S. Army as passengers, a Ford test driver puts a "blitz buggy" through its paces. Built by Ford for the army, this tiny reconnaissance car is a four-wheel-drive vehicle that will climb 80 per cent grades and travel 55 to 60 miles an hour. They can be maneuvered over all types of terrain. An initial army order for 1,500 Ford "blitz buggies" already is rolling off a Rouge plant assembly line.

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB NEWS

Texas Rose 4-H Club Met Last Thursday

The Texas Rose 4-H Club met Tuesday March 6, at 10:30 in the Junior High Study Hall.

After a short business session, during which Carmen Keith was named reporter and Miss Rosie Barnes was elected sponsor of the Club, the meeting adjourned and the Club members worked on pillow slips for their bedrooms. Some of the girls are embroidering theirs, others are using bias tape on their pillow slips to make them attractive.

Betty Jean Jacobs and Lola McGarraugh were named bedroom demonstrators and Martha Barnes was made Garden demonstrator.

The Club will meet again March 18, for a frame garden demonstration.

● McMillen Club

"When making sandwich filling with American cheese, be sure the cheese is melted," stated Mrs. B. E. Plummer, who recently was a co-demonstrator with Mrs. Harvey Urban in the home of Mrs. Kenneth McLain.

It was brought out that a good sandwich filling is to take one-half pound of American cheese, one egg, one-half teaspoon salt, two tablespoons of sugar, two tablespoons flour, four tablespoons of vinegar, one-half cup sweet milk and one can of sweet peppers. Mix dry ingredients, beat in egg and milk, peppers and vinegar and then add cheese which has been chopped fine. Cook until cheese is melted and smooth.

Those present for the meeting were Mrs. Bill Anglin, a visitor from Amarillo and Mesdames J. L. Bryan, Samuel McLain, Bud Barnes, B. E. Plummer, Willis Hardy, Hollis Gossett, James Hardy and Miss Rosie Barnes.—Mrs. Willis Hardy, reporter.

● Council Report

"All the clubs paid 100 per cent in Texas Home Demonstration Association fund," stated Mrs. Jack Dodson, council secretary at the meeting of the Ochiltree County H. D. Council on Saturday, March 8, in the county courtroom.

"This fund is used to give a girl a scholarship," she said.

The clubs gave good reports on the sewing for the Red Cross. The standing committee will have their plans for 1941 ready to present at the April council.

The roll call for April will be a report on the number of garments made for the Red Cross.

The number of AAA garden payments made to club members during 1940 will also be tallied. Each delegate will have the report written to give to the secretary.

The April Council will be the first Saturday instead of the second Saturday.

Representatives from the clubs elected to attend the district meeting April 21 are the following: Mrs. Fred Tarbox, alternate, Mrs. Jack Dodson; Mrs. J. S. Slaughter, alternate, Mrs. W. E. Tandy; Mrs. Van Earl Steed, alternate, Mrs. Clarence Zirkle. Mrs. Van Earl Steed was elected delegate to give a report and presentation of the candidates.

Those attending the meeting were Mesdames W. E. Tandy, Errol Flathers, James Hardy, P. E. Plummer, Garland Redfern, P. W. Wernske, J. S. Slaughter, Marvin Groves, C. V. Pope, Dolph Daniels, Jack Dodson and Miss Elizabeth Huffhines, Ochiltree County H. D. Agent.—Reporter.

● Home Improvement

Use preshrunk and sunproof material for your upholstering, Miss Elizabeth Huffhines, county home demonstration agent, told the members of the Home Improvement club when they met March 6 in the home of Mrs. D. R. Daniels.

Be careful about measurements before you start to cut materials. Pin your pattern in place and cut each section with your measurement allowing two inches on all sides for sewing and adjusting. Mark with a pencil where you are supposed to sew.

Mrs. Van Earl Steed gave a talk on "What My Husband Says." It was entertaining and all enjoyed it.

Present for the meeting were Mrs. Steed, a visitor, Miss Huffhines, Mrs. Luther Tokenhorst, Edward Klein, E. D. Clement and the hostess, Mrs. Daniels.—Mrs. Edward Klein, reporter.

McMillen H. D. Club To Meet Thursday

The next meeting of the McMillen Home Demonstration Club will be held in the home of Mrs. B. E. Plummer Thursday, March 13. Miss Elizabeth Huffhines will be in charge of the program. Visitors are always welcome.

● Ochiltree Club

"Slip covers have other uses than to dress up worn upholstery," stated Miss Elizabeth Huffhines, county home demonstration agent to the Ochiltree Club, Friday, March 7. The club met in the home of Mrs. Edd Terhune.

Slip covers can be used to change the whole effect of the room. They should be made from the materials that are sun fast, tub fast and preshrunk. Wider materials cut to a better advantage than 36-inch material. Fit a muslin cover to use as a pattern for cutting expensive material. Place design so as to balance effect given. These were further instructions of the agent.

Attending the meeting were Mesdames Claud Crouch, Kirt Williams, A. L. Carter, Dell Wilson, Nellie Schwab, Charles McCartney, Miss Elizabeth Huffhines and the hostess.

Home Improvement Will Meet March 20

The Home Improvement Demonstration Club will on Thursday, March 20, in the home of Mrs. C. U. Pope. The program is "The Growing of Roses" with Mrs. Pope the leader. All members are urged to be present and visitors are welcome.

They Work Fast In Georgia!

Although it happened quite sometime ago, we still think of the fast work accomplished by Wildlife Rangers Joe Glawson and Earl Lord of Georgia. These two boys hold the distinction of making six cases and putting them through the courts within two hours and twenty-five minutes after the violations occurred.

It happened at a baited field for doves in Miller County. Six miles to Colquitt, Georgia, and it took just ten minutes to drive there, rouse the justice of the peace for warrants, and then visit the sheriff, who served the papers. The judge strolled in just in time to plaster the hunters $47.70 each.

It was seven o'clock when they made the arrests. When the last check was written, Lord and Glawson looked at the courthouse clock. It was only nine-thirty.

If this was a fiction story we'd let it end here and say these rangers are just naturally fast. We wouldn't tell you that on their next trip out they were flat outrun in a footrace over one of the few hills in this south Georgia section.

Is Basketball Too Fast? Leading Coaches Think So

BY ART BRONSON

DOWN the sports trail: Is basketball too fast? Does the game, under present rules, place an undue strain on young players?

Ever since streamlining of the code in 1937, the debate has waged. There is no doubt that elimination of the center jump after goals has speeded up play—figures show the change permits about eight minutes' more actual playing time.

Now comes Howard Cann, N. Y. U. coach, with a plan to "give basketball back to the players." Cann believes the present game is too strenuous. He points to the trend toward 10 and 15-man squads—a development which the smaller schools just can't keep up with.

Dr. Forrest C. (Phog) Allen of Kansas is another who thinks the elimination of the center jump is bad, particularly for high school players. Pat Kennedy, veteran New York City official, advocates a five-second lapse before putting the ball in play after a goal is scored.

Some provision has been made, of course, for rest periods. More time outs are allowed in the scholastic game, and the referee may declare a breather if the teams do not. But the testimony of such men as Cann and Allen indicates that may not be enough.

Appoint Merchants Committee Monday

The the meeting of the Perryton Chamber of Commerce Monday J. H. Stephenson, president appointed a standing committee of merchants to plan better business activities; see what could be accomplished toward establishing a universal closing hour and decide what holidays would be observed. On the committee were Horace Hudson, chairman, D. R. Gaither, Harry Nail, Roy Orrill, Chartie Kent, Joe Steele, Virgil Castle, J. M. Anderson and T. R. Murray.

Among other business brought up an arrangement was made with CCC Camp 2874 to allow that organization to use the Fairgrounds Park for recreational purposes in exchange for its upkeep by general landscaping.

Legion and Auxiliary Supper Monday Night

The monthly pot-luck supper and program of The American Legion and Auxiliary will be Monday evening, March 17, at 7:30, at the Legion Hall. All members, eligible members and their families are urged to be present. Bring your favorite food. Hostesses in charge of the serving are: Mrs. Roy Hoghland, chairman, Mrs. D. C. Wilson, Mrs. Ray Veale and Mrs. Bernard Leslie.

Some people mistake publicity for fame. They convince themselves that newspaper reports and notes of what they are doing mean that they will live in history.

It is surprising what a mediocre person can accomplish if he has a definite program and works earnestly at his job.

Mrs. M. E. Wakefield, former Ochiltree resident, was buried at Brownwood, Sunday. Mrs. Wakefield was the widow of a former superintendent of schools at old Ochiltree. She has resided in Brownwood for many years and has been confined to her bed for some time.

Mrs. Wakefield, born Edith Cropper, is survived by one sister, Mrs. Amy Garrett; and two children: Mrs. Courtney Brown, New Orleans; and Murrah Wakefield, Tyler.

Perryton relatives who attended the services were Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Trayler and Mrs. Earle Glasgow.

Games Tourney On Friday Night

At the games tournament of the American Legion Auxiliary to be held Friday evening, March 14, Legion Hall, pitch, bridge and 42 will be played. This is the first tournament staged by the Auxiliary this year and a capacity crowd is expected.

The play will start at 7:30. Admission is 25 cents, with proceeds being used for welfare activities. The finance committee, composed of Mrs. Sibley Jines, Mrs. Tom Denman and Mrs. R. B. Orrill, is in charge of general arrangements.

Other committees are: tickets, Mrs. Blansit Carter, Mrs. Horace Lackey; refreshments, Mrs. Mark Boehning and Mrs. Jack Allen; bridge, Mrs. Dewey Allen, Mrs. Horace Hudson; 42, Mrs. E. B. Gyger, Mrs. Kirt Williams; pitch, Mrs. P. L. Garrett. Awards will be given in each division.

Car Tags Must Be Purchased April 1

Sale of 1941 motor vehicle license tags are falling below the number sold for the corresponding period last year, according to the office of J. S. Talley, tax collector and assessor. At the present time a total of 158 plates for all types of transportation have been sold as compared with 163 passenger cars alone last year at this time.

It is pointed out that to avoid a last minute rush persons expecting to buy licenses this year should do so in advance of the deadline of April 1. All motor vehicles operating on the roads must have tags by that date.

ferred only by his local board and that no other group or person in the Selective Service System has jurisdiction until the local board has classified him.

Employers and dependents of prospective trainees who are submitting pleas for deferments in advance of the time when they come up for classification by their local boards, Director Page said, "are merely complicating the work of local boards without service to the interested parties."

Under Selective Service Regulations, local boards must classify registrants according to their order numbers, he pointed out, and said that when the time comes for the classification of a registrant, he, his employer, and his dependents must be given every opportunity to substantiate deferment claims. Any information submitted before a registrant receives his questionnaire from his local board, he added, probably would become obsolete and valueless.

Employers in doubt as to the likelihood of their employees being called for Selective Service training should communicate with Col. Dwight Horton or Major James B. Arthur, State Advisors on Occupational Deferments, at State Headquarters, Austin, who will give them all possible information, Director Page said.

Philosophers of all ages have urged people to learn to live unto themselves, be self-sufficient within their own minds. Schopenhauer insists that one who is intellectually superior is lonesome because there are so few people with whom he can associate.

Carry a Spare to Florida

If you are Florida bound, you might take a tip from Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Van Blois, of Fenville, Mich. They carried a spare—car, not tire—on their trip to Tampa. Whenever they want to go shopping, they merely back the midget car out of the trailer, which serves both as home and garage. It's a new wrinkle, introduced at the annual meeting of the Tin Can Tourists of America, held in Tampa.

DeMolay To Get Degrees Saturday

The recently organized DeMolay will meet here Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Masonic hall and degrees will be conferred on the 32 members that have signed up.

George Hammock, deputy supervisor of the Amarillo district, and Gus Keith, Amarillo, will supervise the degrees.

E. D. Kelley has been selected as advisor for the local chapter. The DeMolay organization is being sponsored by the local chapter of the Masonic Order.

Ochiltree Club Plans Tournament

The Ochiltree Home Demonstration Club will hold a games tournament at the Ochiltree schoolhouse, Friday evening, March 21, at 8 o'clock, according to announcement made Wednesday by Mrs. Claude Crouch, president. The public is invited. Admission will be 25 cents.

Mrs. Kirt Williams and Mrs. Chas. McCartney are in charge of refreshments, and Mrs. A. L. Carter, tickets. A wool shaggy rug will be given away that evening.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this means of expressing my appreciation and heartfelt gratitude to the many friends who helped to brighten my weeks in the hospital. The flowers were indeed bautiful and the many cheery cards and letters were a never ending source of inspiration. May I have the opportunity to repay each of you for your kindness.

Mrs. J. W. Payne

Attended Fort Worth Fat Stock Show

Pay Your Income Tax with the Money You SAVE

Could you use an extra hundred dollars each year? Well that's what economists estimate that an average family can save on their annual food bill by the use of a quick freeze locker. Store vegetables and fruits at low prices and have them fresh when out-of-season high prices prevail. Buy meat and poultry at quantity prices, let us process them and store in our locker room. You'll be surprised at the saving and the added flavor from sufficient aging.

New Steel Storage Lockers

Less than a year ago when we installed our 322 locker plant in Perryton, we little dreamed that we would so soon be called on to enlarge. The reception of the cold storage locker system by the people of the Perryton area has been so great that we have just installed 120 new steel lockers.

DRAWER Or DOOR TYPE

These new steel lockers come in both drawer and door types and are the very latest in locker equipment. Make your reservations today and start banking your food with us and deposit that extra hundred dollars in your bank.
