Close Harmony

Eggless Rolled Oats Cookies
Two cups rolled oats, 1-4 cup butter, 1-8 cup lard, 1 cup granulated sugar, 1-2 cup sour milk, 1-2 teaspoon soda, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 2 cups flour (about) 1-2 pound dates, 1-4 cup light brown sugar; 1 cup water, 1-4 teaspoon vanilla.

Put rolled oats through food chopper. Cream shortening and slowly beat in sugar. Add rolled oats alternately with sour milk. Mix and sift soda and salt with first cup of flour and add to the first mixture, using enough flour to make a dough stiff enough to roll. Roll thin and cut with cookie cutter. Put about 1 teaspoonful of the filling on half the cookies, cover with remaining cookies, press edges together and bake in a hot oven for fifteen minutes.

To make the filling, wash and stone dates. Cut in small pieces and add sugar. Bring to the boiling point and cook until thick, about twenty minutes. Cool and add vanilla before using.

Make a Meal a Day of Milk and Wash Away Weight

By NINON, Far UEA Service

The woman who does not diet is heavier than the woman with long hair. And to every one who diets wisely and rationally there are thousands who follow the fast-today and famine-tomorrow system that wrecks the digestion.

I shall not attempt to give you a reducing diet, it being my firm conviction that no woman should start on a rigorous dieting regime without consulting a physician.

While some women melt away before your eyes on lamb chops and pineapple, others take to their beds after a stretch of this very limited diet.

But there is one course I feel perfectly safe in recommending to any woman who has a pair of fine hips she is willing to dispose of—that is, cut down your general diet, particularly your starches, omit a meal every now and then and drink only a glass of milk, instead.

One Meal of Milk
In fact, I am quite willing to say and then stick to it that one meal of milk would quite easily be mere to a glass of milk. This has a low calorie value and makes it possible for you to make the other two more varied and interesting.

If you go further and allot one day a week when you refuse all food but milk you will find it a very good way to keep down your weight. Since milk is the most nearly perfect food we have, there can be no harm in a milk diet. Consider the baby.

Food experts say it is the evening meal we eat that brings the curves because we eat most heavily then and are apt to have an excessive afternoon. Therefore, if you will eat a light dinner, with no pastry and dessert and no bread or potatoes to speak of, you are headed toward slenderness.

(Posed by Mizzi Kish of "Countess Maritza")
Allot one day a week when you refuse all food but milk.

To counteract this just before you retire take half a glass of hot milk, and sip it very slowly. This will keep your stomach satisfied for a short interval, during which you can fall asleep and let your hunger hold over patiently until the breakfast time. Even if you are not reducing, more milk and less solid food is a good rule to follow for health and beauty.

find there is a closer relationship between the business men of today and each business is built upon its own individual merits. The fellowship between competitors is more affable and pleasant than it used to be and we do not find that dirty price slashing and mud slinging that used to be practiced.

OPPORTUNITIES AS THE CITIZENSHIP VIEWS IT

It is the exception rather than the rule to find people of this community who do not believe that there is great opportunities ahead for Lubbock and the South Plains. Many people believe that this year will be the greatest that this section of the state has ever witnessed, and there is really nothing to indicate that this will not be true.

From the standpoint of material prosperity, the year promises greater things than have ever before been forecast at the beginning of a new year. Bankers and merchants, lawyers, capitalists, oil operators, doctors, preachers, all are confidently expecting that during the year there will be material development in every line of business and industrial and professional enterprise, and this optimistic view is heartening because it is supported by so many of the men whose opinions are based upon careful observation of a long and successful experience. All of us, therefore, although our knowledge of conditions may be somewhat limited and our ability to envision development somewhat restricted, may well join in the optimism that is so prevalent in the ranks of those whose business it is to take careful measure of the present and past and estimate the possibilities of the future.

The old year of 1926 was a good one. There are many persons in the city and county to whom it brought grief and sorrow, many to whom it gave little encouragement; but for the people as a whole it was a good year, with a marked improvement in general business and industrial conditions as compared with five years that preceded it. It is not necessary to review the many incidents of the year's daily grind in order to point out the steady progress that was made; for one has only to compare conditions of today with those of one year ago to see unmistakably the evidence of the year's value.

Going into the new year with such confidence, we need more than ever to unite our energies in unselfish service to the community; seeking through co-operation to bring about a realization of the happy dreams that we enjoy as we look toward the opportunities that lie ahead of us. Despite the fact that general conditions are wonderfully good, and that we are unitedly optimistic as to the possibilities for all manner of worthy development during the year, we must work harder than ever before if we are to accomplish greater things than ever before. The year 1927 offers us a chance for which we have been waiting for many years, and if at the end of the year we must look backward with disappointment it will be only because we have not used the opportunities that are made available for us. If on the other hand, a united citizenship exerts its best efforts to utilize the opportunities offered, we confidently believe that even the rosiest dreams of the most confirmed optimists in the community will be exceeded by the record of accomplishments during the year.

TEAM WORK

What is most needed just now, in the great effort to rescue agriculture from destruction, is real team work, a unanimity of both spirit and action. The world is full of illustrations which clearly show how utterly useless and unproductive of favorable results is any movement, when its managers or supporters are at variance with one another, and we can easily find proof that harmonious action nearly always brings about the success sought. Years ago, before farming was speeded up and the tractor "crawled" over the sod, it was customary to do much of the ploughing with a yoke of oxen. Those of us who were not born yesterday well remember how consistently those old steers pulled together, how they leaned toward each other when the burden became greatest and how they produced results by real team work. We have seen similar work being done by both mules and horses and we have admired the united efforts which brought forth success. Thus the animal kingdom, by instinct, has set a much needed example to the human race. Successful action never perches upon wings which fly in opposite directions. This axiom is true in home life, in the business world, in society, and in movements looking toward the securing of legislative reform. The principle was recognized and adopted by our ancestors, when they took as their motto or slogan, "United we stand, divided we fall." Whether you apply this doctrine to the home or to any other of the activities heretofore mentioned, you will always find that it becomes a "yardstick" by which success is measured. Right now, there is urgent demand for team work in the efforts to obtain proper recognition of agriculture and the stabilization of the farmer's dollar. Pride of leadership and authorship should be immediately "junked" for the benefit of the cause and every friend of the soil tillers, whether engaged in the business of farming or only a friend and well-wisher of those thus engaged, should make it his or her business to unite with all others of like spirit and march forward toward success. We may have a "pet" measure which we would like to see enacted into law but if it is found that others are in like position, it is our duty to sit down with them and reason the matter out and reach an agreement whereby all friends of agriculture can and will work in perfect harmony. You will find the enemies of the farmers well organized. In order to successfully meet this sort of opposition it is absolutely necessary, if we would win this fight, that all those who want to see agriculture restored to normalcy get together and stick together.

A SURE GUIDE—Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in Him; and he shall bring it to pass. Rest in the Lord, and wait patiently for him. Psalm 37: 5, 7.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

In business relations of one human with another or with one group of men with another group there are well founded principles that have come to be adopted by many the world over.

It used to be that a man was in business for himself, to himself and by himself, yet as time has passed and the more Christian-like characters have come into our business world the association of men has been changed.

All of us are not handlers of merchandise and therefore cannot speak so much of the finer points of this particular business, but all of us are more or less on the buying side, and have learned to recognize the many angles which the buying side is approached. We have also noticed the association of the employer to the employee. It used to be that a merchant or large employer tried to get as much out of his employee for as little wage as he could, would attempt to work them as many hours as they could and with no thought of any one other than self. Yet we can look about us and see the wonderful affiliation of employer and employee. It is more like one big family, than anything else.

We have noticed that the hours of employees have been reduced, their salaries increased, vacations given, with pay going on just the same. And in many instances employees given a certain amount to cover their vacation expenses. And then we, too, can find in many instances of the larger institutions of the cities giving their employees insurance against sickness, accident and death, furnishing them with every convenience and making living conditions more sanitary and in fact safeguarding their very lives. Just this year we have noticed in the daily papers where many of the larger industries have given their employees a large bonus for Christmas presents, dividing with them their earnings, for which the employees have been greatly responsible.

We also see that employees have thought of social side of the lives of their employees and have provided places of amusement for them, places of education for their children and created life endowments for the loyal employees. Just recently we find that Henry Ford has begun a five-day week work with seven days' pay. He claims that a man should have time to work, a time to play and a time to be able to go shopping, to buy groceries, clothing, homes and if possible to buy property or something of a revenue bearing nature. In fact the larger institutions and industries have come to the conclusion that the affiliation of the employer and employee must be closer and must be put on an equal footing.

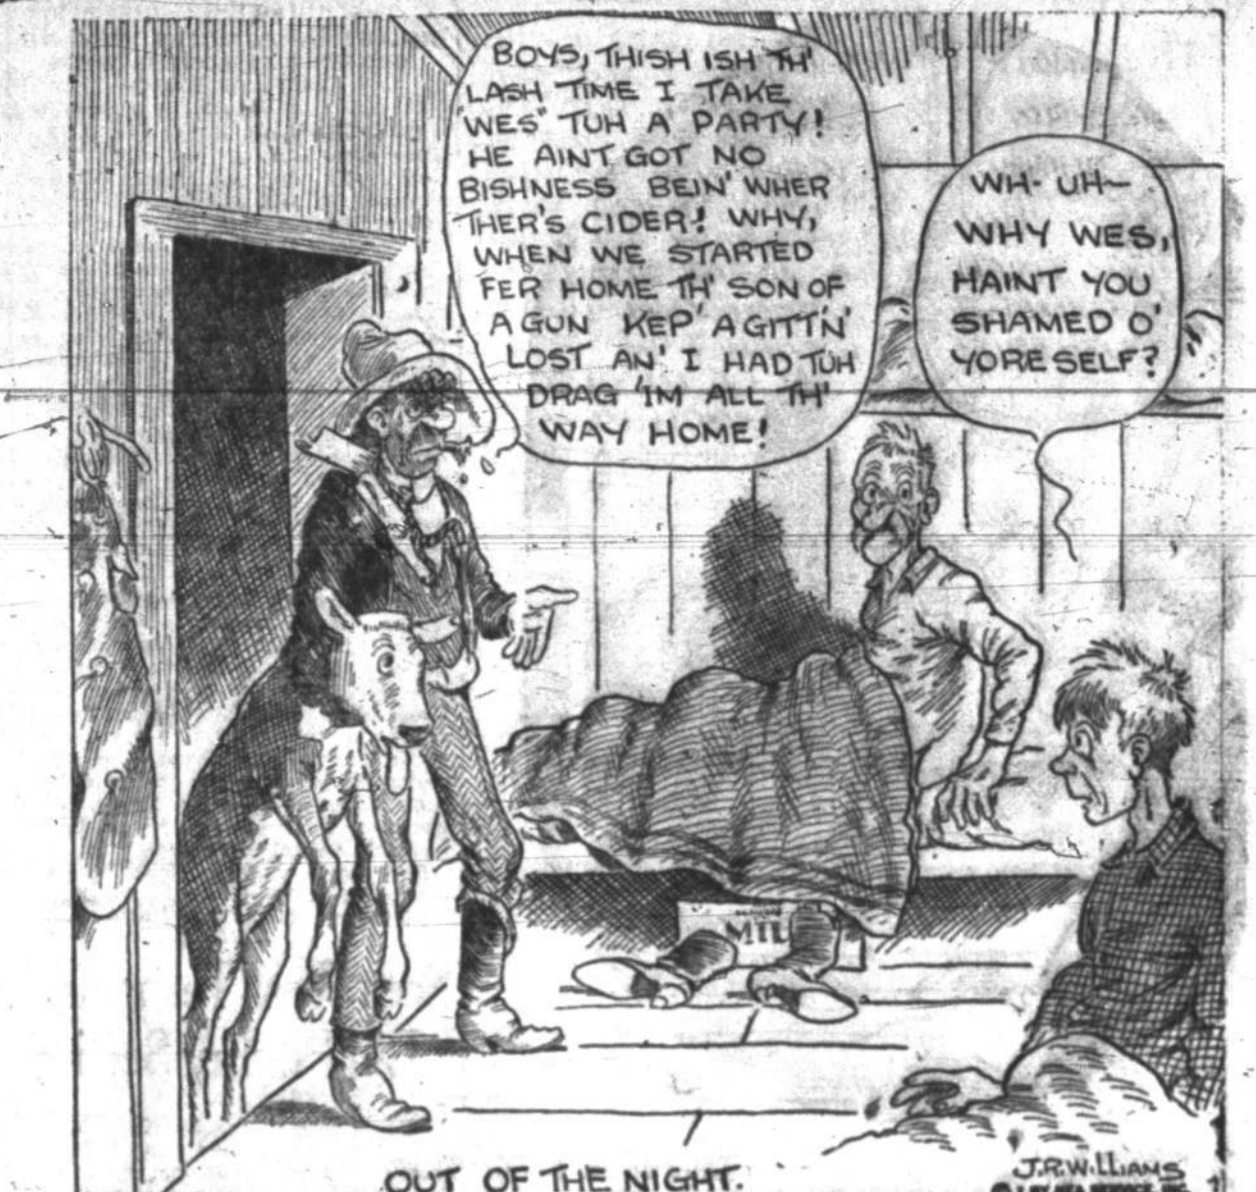

There is one other feature of business relations and that the seller to the buyer. We find that the successful man who has built up his business from a small to a large one is he who has cultivated the confidence of the public. Has carried truthful advertisements, good merchandise and treated their customers with every courtesy. You and I have come to walk into the stores of our city and ask for certain merchandise, for we have learned that this particular brand of merchandise is as represented and we usually want this particular brand; yet we ask John Doe for this particular brand of merchandise and find that he doesn't handle it and he states to us that he has just as good merchandise at a little less money. If the proper seed of confidence has been planted we accept this substitute, solely upon the personal confidence and friendship of the salesman.

Greatly due the gospel of Rotary Ethics the plane of business relations have been elevated, the association of men has become fraternal and we find among our business men and employees the highest class of citizenship, honorable, honest and trustworthy. No matter what your creed or religion, or nationality, if we adhere to the finer teachings of the present day business man, there is no reason why we can not hold the confidence and esteem of all our people.

Naturally we are firm believers in printers. In yet fully believe that no one should ever be too zealous to make a gain as to deviate from the strict lines of truthfulness and in all instances play perfectly square with the public.

Not many years ago we would find that some merchant, business man or professional man would make an attempt to further his interest by preaching the demerits of his competitor, find flaws with his merchandise, his personality or his profession, but today we

SO THINK WE

We think if a fellow has a good horn it is not ill mannered to blow it consistently, but not disgustingly.

We think it usually takes a brave man to stand firm against the evils of the land now, there are so many of them.

We think there is too much complaining with the devil. Every complaint weakens the influence for good.

We think that if many people would use some of the good advice that they give away there would be more good citizens in the community.

We think there is one law of health that is not only good for the person breathing but for those about him, and that is that you must keep your mouth shut, and that is often the safest plan.

We think in the Smith-McAfee breach the republicans will have an easy time passing through, unless there can be a real healing up of this trouble.

We think there are still more automobiles that have not been registered than there are registered. The amount of the tax is the barrier. It is high, and most autoists feel that they are not getting anything for the money, but as long as it is the law of the state we must pay it. There should be a chance made in it however, for it is very unjust, the way it now stands.

We think possibly that married men in South Texas who catch a bear with his bare hands and killed the animal possibly had a whitetail in his home.

We think it is almost to bring home the bacon, provided you do not have to bring it too far. We do not endorse the idea that Texas should go to Chicago for her bacon.

We think it is lucky that the American people are growing larger in stature for they are growing smaller in many other ways.

We think boys will be boys and girls will be girls, and some girls make good boys bad, and so on down the line, and after all we know that the world is growing better day by day and in every way.

We think President Coolidge is much interested in foreign policy. But most people in America are more interested in life or fire insurance policies.

We think London's seven year old millionaire is possibly richer than the average American newlyly, but we will bet a dime to a doubloon that he can't hold any more papers than the American newlyly can.

We think twenty-five dollars a minute to talk across the ocean explodes the old saying that talk is cheap.

We think a lot of men are neutrally disposed when they are around home and wife and oldest daughter engaged in an argument.

South Plains.

It is reported that Hassell has been transferred from Plainview to Muleshoe so that he will be closer to Farwell when the case is called for trial today.

It is reported that the postal authorities here are more hopeful now of a federal building being a reality for Lubbock. If any town in Texas needs it Lubbock does.

It is reported that three earthquakes were felt in California yesterday. Come to Texas.

It is reported that a great improvement will soon be made in the street lighting system in the downtown town sections of the city. This will be a good news to every citizen who has any interest in the town.

It is reported that additional extensions of rural route have been granted out of Lubbock.

It is reported that health conditions here usually good according to the city health officers.

It is reported that it was a dull day yesterday for gardeners. Only one was wanted. It was a woman forger, and had served less than half her sentence.

It is reported that Amarillo is enjoying the warmest weather recorded there at this time of year for many years.

It is reported that there was over eleven million dollars taken out of West Texas by income taxes last year.

DIVERSIFICATION BEING PROVEN

LOCKNEY, Jan. 6.—South Plains people are pretty well satisfied that "country boys" but there are still a few who have their doubts about the cow. Well, Alva, farmer, near Lockney, is not in this class, for Mr. Lockney knows just where his money is coming from.

Last year he milked two good cows, and after using all the milk and butter he needed for his family of three, he sold just 819 pounds of butter. He got on an average of 45c a pound for the butter, or a total of $373.55.

With this money, he paid his grocery bill, fed his cows, cotton seed for planting, bought another cow and has approximately $25 in cash as a balance. Of course his grocery bill was not so large as some of his neighbors, for Mr. Jasper raised an enormous crop of vegetables, his own meat and lard and had a surplus to sell. This year he will milk three cows and he expects to make even a better record.

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY

One year ago a blizzard gripped the southwest and the Panhandle was covered with snow.

One year ago the thermometer was playing around twenty degrees above zero, and this year, at the same time the temperature was 23.3.

One year ago the police department of Lubbock reported Lubbock very dry. A drive against bootleggers had just been completed.

One year ago zero weather was reported in Kansas, and twelve live and estimated livestock loss of 10,000 to 15,000 head.

One year ago the crop of candidates for county office was flourishing.

One year ago the Matadors received sweaters as a token of appreciation for their services on the first Tech football team.

One year ago the weather bureau here reported weather for December, precipitation for the month 47 inches, Max. temp. 73; min. 12, mean 32.2; departure from normal minus 57 degrees.

IT IS REPORTED

It is reported that it costs twenty seven million dollars a day to operate the automobiles owned by people in the United States.

It is reported that Ma Ferguson recently stated that the crooks of Texas were after her scalp. She surely does not think the 2009 that she pardoned would turn on her this soon.

It is reported that a very wise man said that the best teaching that parents can give their children is loyalty to home and state and nation.

It is reported that one of the Christ-mas pardoned was caught in a Panhandle town last week, trying to rob a private house. He evidently did not appreciate freedom as he should.

A SMILE

A knifeless and harmless face-lifting operation that is guaranteed to give instantaneous results is suggested to women who want to appear youthful by Eileen Bourne, well known beauty expert in an article in this week's Liberty. "It is the only face-lifting operation known that can be done without oils or starches without some danger of scab, with a risk of failure," she describes it. "It may be tried on any face, any age, with positive assurance of rejuvenation."
 "No disappearing for days or weeks" Miss Bourne continues "with certain other facial rejuvenation measures, to come forth ironed out of lines and wrinkles, but with an unnecessary stiffness around the eyes, a fixed look around the mouth that defeats the purpose of youth that was sought."
 "This operation is painless and carries a home file guarantee that the face that tries it will be younger looking and infinitely more pleasing within the brief moment required to lift the muscles by a change of expression."
 There are twenty-four pairs of opposing face muscles constantly reacting your mood. Miss Bourne explains: "When you are disgusted, horrified, worried, grumpy, sulky, or morose, the face muscles are drawn downward. When you are serene, optimistic, happy, the face is drawn upward. The formula for the lift that never fails is to keep those face muscles on an upward trend. Years disappear with the simple operation of turning up the corners of the mouth in a smile."

THE WORRIER

You can laugh at the journey when you have arrived.
 You can smile at the dangers which you have survived.
 What matter the doubts which have fretted your soul?
 Of the distance you've traveled, since you're at your goal?
 So just keep on going, through thick and through thin,
 Once you're out of the woods you will look back and grin.

But I'm for the worrier! I'm for the man who when he's in trouble does all that he can.
 I'm for the fellow who puts up a fight, To straighten things out, and do make them go right.
 Ah! I say for his comfort, when maddening tasks seem bad,
 Tomorrow he'll smile at the troubles he's had.

MATADOR CAGERS BEGIN GOAL SHOOTING

TECH QUINTET OPENS SEASON'S PRACTICE WITH LIGHT WORKOUT, THIRTY OR FORTY REPORTING

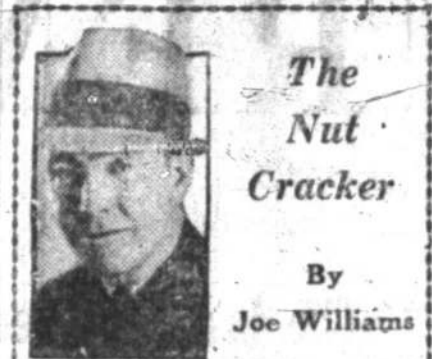

Last night the Matadors heeded the initial call of Grady Higginbotham for training of the cagers to defend the honor of the Scarlet and Black during 1927. Thirty or forty recruits were out for a light workout. They will be going day and night from here on, however, stated Higginbotham.

Several of last year's squad are here for another year of work with the "Bull-fighters." Percy, Walker, Hemphill, Reeves, Vannant and Hunter are among those who were letterman on the Matador quintet last season. "Dopic" White, captain-elect will not be back this season, and will be greatly missed. White is thought to be one of the greatest defense players on the floor in Texas.

Much new material has reported to Higginbotham for berths on the Matador team. With the practice well under way Coach Higginbotham will start cutting his squad and will thereby get more out of the workouts. The initial game will be played on January 24 at Lubbock with the Sul Ross crew.

Canyon Cagers to Battle Oklahomans

WACO, Jan. 6.—The West Texas State Teachers college basketball team, which is now on a road trip playing Baylor university, University of Texas and Austin college, will act tonight in time to meet the Oklahoman quintet from Southwestern State Teachers college (Oklahoma). They are due to play in Canyon Monday and Tuesday, January 10 and 11. The Oklahomans are rated as one of the very strongest teams in the Southwest and have been champions of the National A. U. tournament held each year at Kansas City, several of the present members of the Oklahoman team have seen service in this tournament. One of the outstanding players of the team, however, is not only a star basketball player but he also outstanding in track and football. At the close of the 1926 football season he was chosen unanimously as all-Oklahoma halfback. In track he has been clocked at 27 seconds on several occasions. He is an all-Oklahoma guard in basketball and is considered the best all-around athlete in Oklahoma today.

The Nut Cracker

At Similes: As desolate looking as a Christmas tree in July.

Speaker and Cobb have carried their case to Washington, possibly in the hope of making a real scandal of it.

The coast league is trying to bar Futch Leonard from its ranks. Being a minor league, it could hardly afford to pay as much for Futch's services as the American League.

Every time we pick up a paper we read that Charlie Rosenberg, the bantamweight champion, has been barred for not fighting.

In view of the kind of fighter he is, we wonder what sort of punishment he would draw if he ever fought.

McCarty had what you might call a positively unique Christmas. No one gave him a single pencil.

Cobb has been nominated as the best judge of Augusta, Ga. But the probability about that is the job doesn't pay $25,000 a year.

A women's club of six men saved Gene Tunney from drowning in an icy lake the other day.

The next issue of Liberty comes out and we would be glad to tell whether this was a triumph or not.

It would be a terrible blow to the American public if anything should happen to Josephine.

Japan has already had 132 emperors, which is only a few more champions than the featherweight division has had in the past several years.

The suggestion has been made by Columbia University to bar cheer leaders merely on the theory that the cheer-leaders have very little to cheer about.

Things have reached the point where it is practically impossible to enjoy Christmas unless you receive twice as many cards as in the year before.

"Show or Place Joey," They Call Turnesa THEN HE PROCEEDS TO UPSET DOPE BY WINNING CALIFORNIA GOLF FEATURE

at the time someone had taken him for a cleaning in the paddock.

But now a summary of the year shows where and how the dapper young pro sacrificed his nickname.

Show-or-Place Joey played in all the major golfing events of 1926 and the tragedy of it is he failed to win a single one of them. He finished either in second or third place. Hence the nickname.

Just recently, to show the boys he knows his successor, he copped off first place in the sacramento open with a brilliant 27.

The slim margin of one stroke kept him from taking the U. S. open at Scioto. Joey had 294 while Bobby Jones shot 293.

A soapy dishrag, slipped across the face of a burglar by a housewife in Indianapolis, Ind., recently, put him to flight.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 6 (AP)—Gene Tunney, world's heavy weight champion, signed a contract here today with Tex Rickard, New York promoter, to defend his title, probably next September, against a challenger of Rickard's choice for what was declared would be the "highest purse ever paid a boxer."

Dudley Field Malone, Tunney's attorney, said the champion received a flat guarantee of $400,000, in addition to fifty percent of the net proceeds over $1,000,000. All interests agreed Tunney's purse would be as great or greater than the record $300,000 received by Jack Dempsey when he lost his title in Philadelphia last September.

The contract calls for a bout between July 1 and January 1 and provides that Tunney is not to fight in the meantime. The principals to meet June 15 and revise the contract to include the name of the challenger and to conform with the laws of the state in which the bout will be held.

Rickard is expected to stage the battle in the Yankee stadium, New York, which he has under lease for bouts. He plans elimination tournaments to pick Tunney's opponent.

AUTO MEN GET DAILY REPORTS OF ROADS

The South Plains automobile club organized here several months ago, is being furnished daily reports on condition of highways in West Texas by operators of the Union Bus terminal here through C. W. Jones, manager of the terminal. Mrs. Jewel Hill, secretary of the club said Thursday.

In addition to this service offered motorists through the club, daily bulletins are received from leading tourist bureaus over the Southwest, and the information is held available to all motorists who will call on the club secretary. Headquarters office of the club is located in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at the city hall.

LUBBOCK GETS THROUGH UNREASONABLE WEATHER WELLS

Only a very few cases of serious sickness have been reported here recently, in spite of the unseasonable weather that has prevailed for several days. Dr. J. W. Rolfe, city health officer, said Thursday.

One or two cases of scarlet fever and equal number of diphtheria, and several cases of pneumonia have been reported to him, Dr. Rolfe said.

Unknown Man Is Shot Dead at Tyler

TYLER, Jan. 5 (AP)—An unidentified man about 25 years old was shot and instantly killed here early Wednesday by Carl Butler, proprietor of a filling station, who said he shot after being awakened by a noise in the station about 4 a. m.

According to Butler the man killed was in company with another man who fled in an automobile after Butler had fired a shot gun at the pair.

FLOYD MEIRERS STILL IN CRITICAL CONDITION FROM WOUND

Floyd Meirers, gun shot victim, who was shot by a man in his own hands at the home of neighbors at Southside last Sunday afternoon, is still in a very critical condition in the Lubbock hospital here, although some hopes are held for his recovery, attending physicians said Thursday.

A quart and a half of blood was taken from the wounded chest of the patient Wednesday and a similar quantity Thursday, doctors said. Mr. Meirers was shot through the chest, the bullet passing through just above the heart.

Los Angeles Golf Tilt Starts Today

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6 (AP)—Rain generally in Southern California today, giving a corpse's complexion to the El Caballero country club golf course field to dampen the hopes of the 35 players who will begin to tee off at intervals in three minute intervals starting at 8 o'clock tomorrow in three day 12 hole creek for the honors of the second annual $10,000 Los Angeles open golf tournament.

A majority of the players being out of town professionals from all sections of the United States and from Canada and England. They are expected to find all kinds of worth-while things to do in Los Angeles during their stay. The 120 starters will make one round of 18 holes tomorrow and on Saturday the second round will be made. This two day 36 hole tilt will determine the 64 who on Sunday will compete the course for 28 holes to complete the 72 hole medal play.

The field which starts tomorrow comprises the greatest galaxy of golfing stars ever seen in action on the Pacific coast.

In the Chicago domestic relations court Mark Brown was ordered to take his wife to the movies once a week and renew his courtship.

Warns That Autoists Must Register Cars

Noting that he had already allowed Lubbock county automobile tags to expire, the law for several days, Sheriff Bud Johnston last night said that he might start making arrests any time of autoists who have no 1927 license plates on their cars. Chief of Police T. E. May said earlier in the day that his force would cooperate with the county officers, but that it was in favor of giving automobile owners a reasonable time for registration. County Tax Collector L. F. Holland notes that registration, which was taken for the first few days of the year, has fallen off, although barely one-third of the cars in the county have been registered.

GANDIL AND JAMES ARE EN ROUTE TO BACK SWEDEN RISBERG IN CHARGES OF WHOLESALE BASEBALL SCANDAL

CHICAGO, Jan. 6 (AP)—The two remaining chief witnesses in Commissioner Landis' investigation of the $1,100,000 "Black Sox" scandal—the collector of the White Sox pool and the pay off man to the Tigers—were en route here tonight to tell their stories tomorrow of the 1919 labor day series.

Chick Gandil, banished from baseball with "Swede" Risberg for the 1919 world's series disclosure, declared today in Kansas City that Risberg hadn't told him of the 1919 story.

Gandil passed the hat among the Sox for the $1,100 present to the Detroit players.

Bill James, the Tiger pitcher, who received the purse from Gandil and divided it among the Detroit team, wired Commissioner Landis today that he would be here tomorrow when the hearing resumes. He so far has refused to discuss the case.

Four Chicago players on the 1917 Detroit and Chicago teams sent word to Landis they would be here. Making 25 of the 37 players summoned by the commissioner, Huchey Jennings, Detroit manager at the time and Harry Coveleski, ex-Tiger pitcher, declined to come, saying they knew nothing about the affair.

In the belief of Commissioner Landis, James will be the important witness of tomorrow's hearing. "Red" Tiger pitchers and one catcher testified yesterday James gave them a total of $325, and only James can account for what became of the remaining $775, nine of his former fellow players, that the payment was for four "sloughed" games which the Tigers tossed to the Sox.

The sole witness yesterday who didn't leave substantiated Risberg's story, Buck Weaver, another of the "Black Sox," denied hearing anything about a "fixed" series with Detroit. He was out of that series with an injured finger, but was asked to contribute to the pool and he insisted the purse was "for the Detroit club" with no reference whatever to a "sloughed" series. Weaver said he refused to give any money to another ball club.

Outside the hearing Weaver said he gave Oscar Vitt, former Detroit outfielder, a handbag for Christmas that year, and Vitt is one of the six new witnesses who will be here tomorrow.

The others are Roy Wilkinson, Byrd Lynn and Bob Hasbrook, all former White Sox. Wilkinson is en route from Los Angeles. Lynn and Hasbrook called on the commissioner today.

A new attachment called a "yolofinon" increases the tone of a violin five-fold.

Now... Twice as many know these facts

THERE are twice as many users of Ray-O-Vac batteries today as there were a year ago!

Why? Because Ray-O-Vac batteries give better reception at less cost!

Ray-O-Vac "B" batteries have from 1/4 to 1/2 as much internal resistance as other "B" power units. They permit amplification without distortion.

And a new type of construction has increased the staying power—already extraordinary—of these batteries by from 10% to 15%.

Ray-O-Vac batteries are sold by the leading dealers in radio equipment and supplies. If you have any difficulty getting them, write us for the name of a nearby dealer who can supply you.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

In business relations of one human with another or with one group of men with another group—there are well founded principles that have come to be adopted by many the world over.

It used to be that a man was in business for himself, to himself and by himself; yet as time has passed and the more Christian-like characters have come into our business world the association of men has been changed.

All of us are not handlers of merchandise and therefore cannot speak so much of the finer points of this particular business, but all of us are more or less on the buying side, and have learned to recognize the many angles which the buying side is approached. We have also noticed the association of the employer to the employee. It used to be that a merchant or large employer tried to get as much out of his employee for as little wage as he could, would attempt to work them as many hours as they could and with no thought of any one other than self. Yet we can look about us and see the wonderful affiliation of employer and employee. It is more like one big family, than anything else.

We have noticed that the hours of employees have been reduced, their salaries increased, vacations given, with pay going on just the same. And in many instances employees given a certain amount to cover their vacation expenses. And then we, too, can find in many instances of the larger institutions of the cities giving their employees insurance against sickness, accident and death, furnishing them with every convenience and making living conditions more sanitary and in fact safeguarding their very lives. Just this year we have noticed in the daily papers where many of the larger industries have given their employees a large bonus for Christmas presents, dividing with them their earnings, for which the employees have been greatly responsible.

We also see that employees have thought of social side of the lives of their employees and have provided places of amusement for them, places of education for their children and created life endowments for the loyal employees. Just recently we find that Henry Ford has begun a five-day week work with seven days' pay. He claims that a man should have time to work, a time to play and a time to be able to go shopping, to buy groceries, clothing, homes and if possible to buy property or something of a revenue bearing nature. In fact the larger institutions and industries have come to the conclusion that the affiliation of the employer and employee must be closer and must be put on an equal footing.

There is one other feature of business relations and that the seller to the buyer. We find that the successful man who has built up his business from a small to a large one is he who has cultivated the confidence of the public. Has carried truthful advertisements, good merchandise and treated their customers with every courtesy. You and I have come to walk into the stores of our city and ask for certain merchandise, for we have learned that this particular brand of merchandise is as represented and we usually want this particular brand of merchandise and find that he doesn't handle it and he states to us that he has just as good merchandise at a little less money. If the proper seed of confidence has been planted we accept this substitute, solely upon the personal confidence and friendship of the salesman.

Greatly due the gospel of Rotary Ethics the plane of business relations have been elevated, the association of men has become fraternal and we find among our business men and employees the highest class of citizenship, honorable, honest and trustworthy. No matter what your creed, or religion, or nationality, if we adhere to the finer teachings of the present day business man, there is no reason why we can not hold the confidence and esteem of all our people.

Naturally we are firm believers in printers ink yet fully believe that no one should ever be too zealous to make a gain as to deviate from the strict lines of truthfulness and in all instances play perfectly square with the public. Not many years ago we would find that some merchant, business man or professional man would make an attempt to further his interest by preaching the demerits of his competitor, find flaws with his merchandise, his personality or his profession, but today we find there is a closer relationship between the business men of today and each business is built upon its own individual merits. The fellowship between competitors is more affable and pleasant than it used to be and we do not find that dirty price slashing and mud slinging that used to be practiced.

OPPORTUNITIES AS THE CITIZENSHIP VIEWS IT

It is the exception rather than the rule to find people of this community who do not believe that there is great opportunities ahead for Lubbock and the South Plains. Many people believe that this year will be the greatest that this section of the state has ever witnessed, and there is really nothing to indicate that this will not be true.

From the standpoint of material prosperity, the year promises greater things than have ever before been forecast at the beginning of a new year. Bankers and merchants, lawyers, capitalists, oil operators, doctors, preachers, all are confidently expecting that during the year there will be material development in every line of business and industrial and professional enterprise, and this optimistic view is heartening because it is supported by so many of the men whose opinions are based upon careful observation of a long and successful experience. All of us, therefore, although our knowledge of conditions may be somewhat limited and our ability to envision development somewhat restricted, may well join in the optimism that is so prevalent in the ranks of those whose business it is to take careful measure of the present and past and estimate the possibilities of the future.

The old year of 1926 was a good one. There are many persons in the city and county to whom it brought grief and sorrow, many to whom it brought financial reverses, many to whom it gave little encouragement; but for the people as a whole it was a good year, with a marked improvement in general business and industrial conditions as compared with five years that preceded it. It is not necessary to review the many incidents of the year's daily grind in order to point out the steady progress that was made; for one has only to compare conditions of today with those of one year ago to see unmistakably the evidence of the year's value.

Going into the new year with such confidence, we need more than ever to unite our energies in unselfish service to the community, seeking through co-operation to bring about a realization of the happy dreams that we enjoy as we look toward the opportunities that lie ahead of us. Despite the fact that general conditions are wonderfully good, and that we are unitedly optimistic as to the possibilities for all manner of worthy development during the year, we must work harder than ever before if we are to accomplish greater things than ever before. The year 1927 offers us a chance for which we have been waiting for many years, and if at the end of the year we must look backward with disappointment it will be only because we have not used the opportunities that are made available for us. If on the other hand, a united citizenship exerts its best efforts to utilize the opportunities offered, we confidently believe that even the rosiest dreams of the most confirmed optimists in the community will be exceeded by the record of accomplishments during the year.

TEAM WORK

What is most needed just now, in the great effort to rescue agriculture from destruction, is real team work, a unanimity of both spirit and action. The world is full of illustrations which clearly show how utterly useless and unproductive of favorable results is any movement, when its managers or supporters are at variance with one another, and we can easily find proof that harmonious action nearly always brings about the success sought. Years ago, before farming was speeded up and the tractors "crawled" over the sod, it was customary to do much of the ploughing with a yoke of oxen. Those of us who were not born yesterday will remember how consistently those old steers pulled together, how they leaned toward each other when the burden became greatest and how they produced results by real team work. We have seen similar work being done by both mules and horses and we have admired the united efforts which brought forth success. Thus the animal kingdom, by instinct, has set a much needed example to the human race. Successful action never perches upon wings which fly in opposite directions. This axiom is true in home life, in the business world, in society, and in movements looking toward the securing of legislative reform. The principle was recognized and adopted by our ancestors, when they took as their motto or slogan, "United we stand, divided we fall." Whether you apply this doctrine to the home or to any other of the activities heretofore mentioned, you will always find that it becomes a "yardstick" by which success is measured. Right now there is urgent demand for team work in the efforts to obtain proper recognition of agriculture and the stabilization of the farmer's dollar. Pride of leadership and authorship should be immediately "junked" for the benefit of the cause and every friend of the soil tillers, whether engaged in the business of farming or only a friend and well wisher of those thus engaged, should make it his or her business to unite with all others of like spirit and march forward toward success. We may have a "pet" measure which we would like to see enacted into law but if it is found that others are in like position, it is our duty to sit down with them and reason the matter out and reach an agreement whereby all friends of agriculture can and will work in perfect harmony. You will find the enemies of the farmer well organized. In order to successfully meet this sort of opposition it is absolutely necessary, if we would win this fight, that all those who want to see agriculture restored to normalcy get together and stick together.

SO THINK WE

We think if a fellow had a good horn it is just ill measured to blow it consistently, but not disgustingly.

We think it usually takes a brave man to stand firm against the evils of the land now, there are so many of them.

We think there is too much compromise with the devil. Every compromise weakens the influence for good.

We think that if many people would use some of the good advice that they give away there would be a better citizenry in the community.

We think there is one law of health that is not only good for the person breathing but for those about him, and that is that you must keep your mouth shut, and that is often the safest plan.

We think in the Smith-McAdoo breach the Republicans will have an easy time passing through, unless they can be a real healing up of this trouble.

We think there are still more automobiles that have not been registered than there are registered. The amount of the tax is the barrier. It is high, and most motorists feel that they are not getting anything for the money, but as long as it is the law of the state we must pay it. There should be a change made in it however, for it is very unjust the way it now stands.

We think possibly that married men in South Texas who caught a bear with his bare hands and killed the animal, possibly had a wildcat in his home.

We think it is alright to bring home the bacon provided you do not have to bring it too far. We do not endorse the idea that Texas should go to Chicago for her bacon.

We think it is lucky that the American people are growing larger in stature for they are growing smaller in many other ways.

We think boys will be boys, and girls will be girls, and so on down the line, and after all we guess the world is growing better day by day and in every way.

We think President Coolidge is much interested in foreign policy. But most people in America are more interested in life or fire insurance policies.

We think London's seven year old millionaire is possibly richer than the average American newswriter, but we will bet a dime to a doughnut that he can not hold any more popcorn than the American newsman can.

We think twenty-five dollars a minute to talk across the ocean explains the old saying that talk is cheap.

We think a lot of men are neutrally disposed when they are around home and yet are most earnest engaged in an argument.

IT IS REPORTED

It is reported that it costs twenty-seven million dollars a day to operate the automobiles owned by people in the United States.

It is reported that Ma Ferguson recently visited that the crooks of Texas were after her wealth, she surely does not think the 2000 that she pardoned would turn on her this soon.

It is reported that a very wise man said that the best teaching that parents can give their children is loyalty to home and state and nation.

It is reported that one of the Christman pardoned was caught in a Panhandle town last week, trying to rob a private home. He evidently did not appreciate freedom as he should.

South Plains

It is reported that Hunsell has been transferred from Plainview to Muleshoe so that he will be closer to Fort Dalhart when the case is called for trial today.

It is reported that the postal authorities here are more hopeful now of a federal building being a reality for Lubbock. If any town in Texas needs it Lubbock does.

It is reported that three earthquakes were felt in California yesterday. Come to Texas.

It is reported that a great improvement will soon be made in the street lighting system in the downtown sections of the city. This will be welcome news to every citizen who has any interest in the town.

It is reported that additional extensions of rural route have been granted out of Lubbock.

It is reported that health conditions are unusually good according to the city health officers.

It is reported that it was a dull day yesterday for pardons. Only one was granted. It was a woman forger, and had served less than half her sentence.

It is reported that Amarillo is enjoying the warmest weather recorded there at this time of year for many years.

It is reported that there was over eleven million dollars taken out of West Texas by income taxes last year.

DIVERSIFICATION BEING PROVEN

LOCKNEY, Jan. 6.—South Plains people are proud well satisfied that "poultry pays," but there are still a few who have their doubts about the cow. Well, Alva Epper, farmer near Lockney, is not in this class, for Mr. Epper knows just where his money is coming from.

Last year he milked two good cows, and after using all the milk and butter he needed for a family of three he sold just 619 pounds of butter. He got on an average of 46 a pound for the butter, or a total of $278.55.

With this money he paid his grocery bill, took care of the cows, cotton seed for planting, bought another cow and paid approximately $25 in cash as a balance. Of course his grocery bill was not so large as some of his neighbors, for Mr. Epper raised an enormous crop of vegetables, his own meat and bird and had a surplus to sell. This year he will milk three cows and he expects to make over a better record.

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY

One year ago a blizzard gripped the southwest, and the Panhandle was covered with snow.

One year ago the thermometer was playing around twenty degrees above zero, and this year at the same time the temperature was 32.35.

One year ago the police department of Lubbock reported Lubbock very dry. A drive against bootleggers had just been completed.

One year ago zero weather was reported in Kansas, and twelve lives were reported lost in the blizzard with an estimated livestock loss of 19,000 to 15,000 head.

One year ago the crop of candidates for county office was flourishing.

One year ago the Matadors received swaters as a token of appreciation for their services on the first Tech football team.

One year ago the weather bureau here reported weather for December. Precipitation for the month .67 inches; departure from normal minus .24 inches. Max. temp. 75; min. 15; mean 38.2; departure from normal minus .67 degrees.

Naval Strength

In view of the extensive interest now being manifested concerning the strength of our Navy, particularly in regard to cruisers, we will summarize briefly the data given the Naval Affairs Committee of the House by the Intelligence Office of the Navy Department.

Comparisons with other countries was made on the basis of ships built, building and appropriated for and as of the lastship ratio of the Washington Treaty were to be applied to cruisers, as well as, Great Britain and United States 5, Japan 3, Italy and France 1.57. Figures are by the Navy Department.

Personnel: U. S. 3,521 officers, 87,916 men; Britain, 9,207 officers, 38,423 men; Japan, 7,767 officers, 48,328 men; France, 1,570 officers, 53,000 men; Italy, 2,719 officers, 49,124 men. To maintain ratio U. S. needs 771 officers, 12,925 men; Italy, 397 officers, no men. Other nations up to or over standard.

Capital Ship: U. S. 18 of 525,858 tons; Britain 22 of 580,459 tons, of which 4 are to be replaced by 2 new ships, then making ships 20 or 554,904 tons; Japan 10 of 391,329 tons; France 9 to 194,514 tons; Italy 7 of 183,679 tons.

Other factors pointed out: (a) Britain and Japan have each 4 batt. cr. cruisers in service, while U. S. has none; (b) number of ships with guns 2.4 inch or over: U. S. 14, Britain 29, Japan 18, France 8, Italy 6.

Ships Stripped by Treaty: Including ships built and building: U. S. 22 of 82,280 tons; Britain 22 of 447,750 tons; Japan 16 of 264,769 tons; France 16 of 264,769 tons; Italy 16 of 264,769 tons.

Destroyers: U. S. 275 of 228,153 tons, most of which were built during World War, consequently, heaviest; Britain 171 of 197,915 tons; Japan 46 of 56,822 tons. In heavier destroyer types, called leaders, of over 1,500 tons, the U. S. has none, Britain 19 of 21,319 tons, and Japan 17 of 21,791 tons.

Submarine Fleet: over 1,900 tons: U. S. 9 of 15,570 tons; Britain 14 of 23,565 tons; Japan 20 of 22,000 tons; France 7 of 12,998 tons; Italy 4 of 3,240 tons; to attain Treaty ratio U. S. should build 4, and Italy 1. First line submarines: U. S. 56 of 48,822 tons; Britain 29 of 26,040 tons; Japan 32 of 28,412 tons; France 24 of 41,120 tons. All countries save Italy are equal or above British strength.

A SMILE

A knifeless and harmless face-lifting operation that is guaranteed to give instantaneous results is suggested to women who want to appear youthful by Helen Bourne, well known beauty expert in an article in the week's Liberty. "It is the only facial operation known that can be done without cuts or stitches, without some danger of scars, with a risk of failure," she describes it. "It may be tried on any face, any age, with positive assurance of rejuvenation."

"No disappearing for days or weeks," Miss Bourne continues, "as with certain other facial rejuvenation measures, to come forth ironed out of lines and wrinkles, but with an unanny stiffness around the eyes, a fixed look around the mouth that defeats the purpose of youth that was sought."

"This operation is painless, and carries a bona fide guarantee that the face that tries it will be younger looking and infinitely more pleasing within the brief moment required to lift the muscles by a change of expression."

"There are twenty-four pairs of opposing face muscles constantly registering your mood," Miss Bourne explains. "When you are disgusted, hurried, worried, grouchy, sulky or morose, the face muscles are drawn downward. When you are serene, optimistic, happy, the face is drawn upward. The formula for the lift that never fails is to keep those face muscles on an upward trend. Years disappear with the simple operation of turning up the corners of the mouth in a smile."

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

Traveling Out
A fire recently broke out in a railway station waiting room. To the surprise of the passengers their train came in just as the place was warning up.—London Opinion.

Ferdinand's are now getting the Grandchildren of their original customers. Quantities of them.—Ad in the Boston Herald.

"Where did he come from?"
"I don't know, but he is here."
"He said 'hello,' responded Janet solemnly.—College Humor.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE WORRIER

Take yesterday's worries and sort them all out. And you'll wonder whatever you worried about.

Look back at the cares which once troubled your brow. I fancy you'll smile at the most of them now. They seemed terrible then, but they really were not. For once out of the woods all the fears are forgot.

Look over the list of the blunders you've made. The debts you've accrued and eventually paid. They frightened you once, and you thought at the time that out of the valley you never would climb.

That you did and you're living and still going strong. In spite of the troubles that happened along.

You can laugh at the journey when you have arrived. You can smile at the dangers which you have survived. What matter the doubts which have fretted your soul, if the distance you've traveled, once you're at your goal?

So just keep on going, through thick and through thin, Once you're out of the woods you will look back and grin.

But I'm for the worrier! I'm for the man. Who when he's in trouble does all that he can. I'm for the fellow who puts up a fight To straighten things out and do make things go right.

And I say for his comfort when matters seem bad Tomorrow will smile at the troubles he's had.

MATADOR CAGERS BEGIN GOAL SHOOTING

TECH QUINTET OPENS SEASON'S PRACTICE WITH LIGHT WORKOUT, THIRTY OR FORTY REPORTING

Last night the Matadors heeded the initial call of Grady Higginbotham for training of the cagers to defend the honor of the Scarlet and Black during 1927. Thirty or forty recruits were expected for a light workout. They will be going day and night from here on out, however, stated Higginbotham.

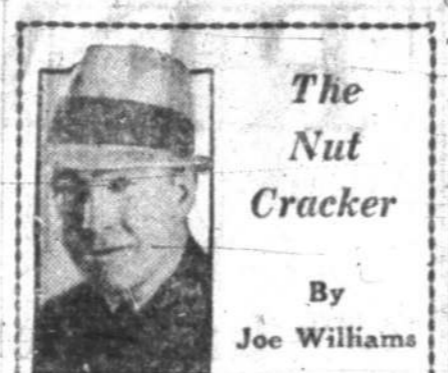

Several of last year's squad are here for another year of work with the "Bull-fighters." Percy Walker, Memphis, Reeves, Vanzant and Hunter are among those who were lettered on the Matador quintet last season. "Dope" White, captain-elect will not be back this season, and will probably be missed. White is thought to be one of the greatest defense players on the floor in Texas.

Much new material has reported to Higginbotham for berths on the Matador team. With the practice well under way Coach Higginbotham will start cutting his squad and will thereby get more out of the work-outs. The initial game will be played on January 24 at Lubbock with the Sul Ross crew.

Canyon Cagers to Battle Oklahomans

WACO, Jan. 6.—The West Texas State Teachers college basketball team, which is now on a road trip playing Baylor University, University of Texas and Austin college, will get home just in time to meet the star quintet from southwestern State Teachers college (Oklahoma). They are due to play in Canyon Monday and Tuesday, January 10 and 11. The Oklahomans are rated as one of the very strongest teams in the Southwest and have been coming up at the National A. A. U. tournament held each year at KATMA, Tex., several of the present members of the Oklahoma team have seen service in this tournament. One of the outstanding members of the team, Simpson, is not only a star basketball player but is also outstanding in other sports. At the close of the 1926 football season he was chosen unanimously as all-Oklahoma halfback. Simpson has been elected at 55 seconds in the National A. A. U. tournament. He is also outstanding in basketball and is considered the best all-around athlete in Oklahoma today.

Fans will be able to get some descriptive dope on the two teams as Northwestern is playing Texas universities just about of the West Texas team. They have been in Austin since December 28 working out on the longhorn court and were to play three games with Stewarts five before leaving for Brownwood, where they will play two games with Howard Payne and one with Daniel Baker before proceeding to Canyon to meet the Oklahomans. These games are being played extra games on the Hurff schedule and the proceeds above the expense of the games will go to the Miller Camp memorial fund. The games will be called at 8 o'clock in order to give fans of surrounding towns time to drive to Canyon and witness the games.

"Show or Place Joey," They Call Turnesa

THEN HE PROCEEDS TO UPSET DOPE BY WINNING CALIFORNIA GOLF FEATURE

By JIMMY POWERS
"Show or Place Joey"

The boys who flock around parading windows and slide their mouths over the sill on noses of multitudinous surf-scoops will prick up their ears and focus the aid field glass on the fairways a minute instead of the oval. Show-or-Place Joey isn't a jockey. Neither is he a pony. He's a golfer. It seems lately a whole wagonload of nicknames have come wandering away from the homes of the boys to the tee. Witness, for instance, "Lighthouse Harry" Cooper.

Show-or-Place Joey is a young Italian professional with olive cheeks, dark eyes, raven hair and the whole ensemble is tagged—Signor Joseph Turnesa, Fairview Club, Philadelphia.

A bunch of pros were chewing the rag one day down at Seoto and I heard them refer to Mr. Turnesa in those race-horseish terms. I thought at the time someone had taken him for a cheaping in the paddock.

But now a summary of the year shows where and how the dapper young pro merited his nickname.

Show-or-Place Joey played in all the major golfing events of 1926 and the tragedy of it is—he failed to win a single one of them. He finished either in second or third place. Hence the nickname.

Just recently, to show the boys he knows his s-c-o-t-c-h, he copped off first place in the Sacramento open with a brilliant 287.

The slim margin of one stroke kept him from taking the U. S. open at Seoto. Joey had 294 while Bobby Jones shot 293.

A soapy dishrag, slapped across the face of a burglar-by-a-housewife-in Indianapolis, Ind., recently, put him to flight.

GANDIL AND JAMES ARE EN ROUTE TO BACK SWEDE RISBERG IN CHARGES OF WHOLESALE BASEBALL SCANDAL

CHICAGO, Jan. 6. (AP)—The two remaining chief witnesses in the remaining chief witness in Commissioner Landis' investigation of the 1919 world's series disclosure, declared today in Kansas City that Risberg hadn't told half of the 1917 story. Gandil passed the hat among the Sox for the $1,100 present to the Detroit players.

Bill James, the Tiger pitcher, who received the purse from Gandil and divided it among the Detroit team, vice Commissioner Landis today that he would be here tomorrow when the hearing resumes. He so far has refused to discuss the case.

Four other players on the 1917 Detroit team were sent word to Landis they would be here. Making 25 of the 27 players summoned by the commissioner. Hughie Jennings, Detroit manager at the time and Harry Costello, ex-Tiger pitcher, declined to come, saying they knew nothing about the affair.

In the belief of Commissioner Landis, James will be the important witness of tomorrow's hearing. Three Tiger pitchers and one catcher testified yesterday—James gave them a total of $355, and only James can account for what became of the remainder of the $1,100 contributed by the White Sox. The four Tigers said James told them the gift was for financing the Detroit-Bat Sox out of the city permit, contradicting the testimony of Risberg.

Risberg told the commissioner, while facing twenty-nine of his former fellow players that the payment was for four "plugged" games which the Tigers tossed to the Sox.

The sole witness yesterday who might have substantiated Risberg's story, Buck Weaver, another of the "Black Sox," denied hearing anything about a "fix" series with Detroit. He was out of that series with an injured finger, but was asked to contribute to the pool, and he insisted the purse was "the Detroit club" with no reference whatever to a "plugged" series. Weaver said he refused to give any money to another ball club.

Outside the hearing, Weaver said he gave Oscar Vitt, former Detroit outfielder, a handbag for Christmas that year, and Vitt is one of the six new witnesses who will be here tomorrow.

The others are Roy Wilkinson, Byrd Lynn and Bob Harshook, all former White Sox. Wilkinson is on route from Los Angeles. Lynn and Harshook called on the commissioner today.

AUTO MEN GET DAILY REPORTS OF ROADS

The South Plains automobile club, organized here several months ago, is being furnished daily reports on condition of highway of West Texas by operators of the Union Bus terminal here through C. W. Jones, manager of the terminal. Mrs. Jewel Hunt, secretary of the club said Thursday.

In addition to this service offered motorists through the club, daily bulletins are received from leading tourist bureaus over the Southwest, and the information is held available to all motorists who call on the club's secretary. Headquarters office of the club is located in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at the city hall.

LUBBOCK GETS THROUGH UNREASONABLE WEATHER WELL

ONLY a very few cases of serious sickness have been reported here recently, in spite of the unseasonable weather that has prevailed for several days, Dr. J. W. Rollo, city health officer, said Thursday.

One or two cases of scarlet fever and equal number of diphtheria, and several cases of pneumonia have been reported to him, Dr. Rollo said.

Unknown Man Is Shot Dead at Tyler

TYLER, Jan. 6.—An unidentified man about 30 years old was shot and instantly killed here early Wednesday by Carl Butler, proprietor of a filling station, who said he shot after being awakened by a noise in the station about 4 a. m.

According to Butler the man killed was in company with another man who fled in a automobile after Butler had fired a shot gun at the pair.

FLOYD MEIRERS STILL IN CRITICAL CONDITION FROM WOUND

Floyd Meirers, gun shot victim, who was shot by a man in his own back at the home of a neighbor at Southland last Sunday afternoon, is still in a very critical condition in the Lubbock Sanitation here, although some hopes are held for his recovery, attending physicians said Thursday.

A quart and a half of blood was taken from the wounded chest of the patient Wednesday and a similar quantity Thursday, doctors said. Mr. Meirers was shot through the chest, the bullet passing through just above the heart.

Los Angeles Golf Tilt Starts Today

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6. (AP)—Tennis, generally in Southern California today, giving a capricious welcome to the El Camberley country club golf course failed to dampen the ardor of the 25 starters who will begin in two off-sets in three minute intervals starting at 8 o'clock tomorrow in three day 72 hole test for the honors of the second annual $10,000 Los Angeles open golf tournament.

A majority of the players being out of town professionals from all sections of the United States and from Canada and England. They are expected to face all kinds of weather.

The 120 starters will make one round of 18 holes tomorrow and on Saturday the second round will be made. This two day 36 hole flight will determine the 64 finalists who on Sunday will double the course over 72 holes to complete the 72 hole medal play.

The field, which starts tomorrow comprises the greatest galaxy of golfing stars ever seen in action on the Pacific coast.

GENE TUNNEY SIGNS WITH RICKARD TO FIGHT PROMOTER'S CHOICE FOR HIGHEST PURSE EVER OFFERED

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 6. (AP)—Gene Tunney, world's heavy weight champion, signed a contract here today with Tex Rickard, New York promoter, to defend his title, probably next September, against a challenger of Rickard's choice for what was declared would be the "highest purse ever paid a boxer."

Dudley Field Malone, Tunney's attorney, said the champion received a flat guarantee of $400,000, in addition to fifty percent of the net proceeds of the fight in the Yankee stadium, New York, which he has under lease for Tunney's purse would be as great or greater than the record $250,000 received by Jack Dempsey when he lost his title in Philadelphia last September.

The contract calls for a bout between July 1 and January 1 and provides that Tunney is not to fight in the meantime. The principals to meet June 15 and revise the contract to include the name of the challenger and to conform with the laws of the state in which the bout will be held.

Rickard is expected to stage the battle in the Yankee stadium, New York, which he has under lease for Tunney's purse would be as great or greater than the record $250,000 received by Jack Dempsey when he lost his title in Philadelphia last September.

Now... Twice as many know these facts

THERE are twice as many users of Ray-O-Vac batteries today as there were a year ago!

Why? Because Ray-O-Vac batteries give better reception at less cost!

Ray-O-Vac "B" batteries have from 1/4 to 1/2 as much internal resistance as other "B" power units. They permit amplification without distortion.

And a new type of construction has increased the staying power—already extraordinary—of these batteries by from 10% to 15%.

Ray-O-Vac batteries are sold by the leading dealers in radio equipment and supplies. If you have any difficulty getting them, write us for the name of a nearby dealer who can supply you.

NEW FARM AID BILL CONSIDERED

ASWELL MEASURE UP BEFORE CONGRESS, McNARY-HAUGEN BILL SIDE-TRACKED

WASHINGTON Jan. 6 (AP)—A bipartisan farm relief bill, sponsored by Senator Curtis, of Kansas, the republican floor leader, and Representative Crisp, democrat, of Georgia, was presented to congress today in an effort to break the long deadlock on agricultural legislation.

It was presented in the senate and house coincident with the resumption of consideration of farm legislation by the house agriculture committee, which voted to side-track discussion of the McNary-Haugen bill next Tuesday, and to take up in the meantime the Aswell bill, a measure which omits the provision for an equalization fee on agriculture products which handle the surplus crop problem.

Both Senator Curtis and Representative Crisp do not describe the measure as designed to meet objections raised against pending proposals. It would provide for a federal farm loan and an appropriation of $250,000,000. The duty of the board would be to insure "reasonable profit over cost of production" on farm commodities by declaring an emergency for any crop when one existed, and permitting co-operatives to buy up the surplus and hold it.

Senator Curtis said his plan embodied proposals which informal conferences with various senators had convinced him embodied the best features of all the bills now before the agricultural committees. He added, however, that he had just consulted administration officials concerning it.

Both Senator Curtis and Representative Crisp expressed the hope that their measure would receive non-partisan support, and cement the divergence of views in congress on farm relief legislation.

The house agricultural committee, in deciding to put aside the McNary-Haugen bill temporarily, agreed to listen at future hearings only to views of its own members, others in congress who have drafted farm bills, and Secretary Jardine.

Abernathy to Put Down Cement Walks

(Special to The Avalanche) ABERNATHY, Jan. 6.—Several blocks of cement sidewalks are being put down in this little city, which will mean a great improvement in the business part of town. This is the first sidewalk building that has ever been done here, but it is expected that many more blocks will follow. H. T. ## FOUR VARIETIES OF PECANS BEING PLANTED BY ABILENE MAN ON TRACT NEAR THAT CITY TO STUDY GROWTH

(Special to The Avalanche)
ABILENE, Jan. 6—An unusually interesting pecan raising project is being developed by Judge C. M. Caldwell on a tract of thirty acres, about four miles northeast of Abilene.
 Papershell nut bearing trees are being planted on this plot of ground which is near Cedar creek, and this makes it possible to irrigate the trees. Judge Caldwell is one of the leading citizens of Abilene and all-West Texas and one of the foremost exponents for the exploration of the potential resources of this section of the state and it is largely through the idea of showing to the farmers the value of pecan culture that he has undertaken pecan production on a commercial basis.
 Trees from four different varieties of pecans are being set out on this plot of ground. The growth, development and productiveness of the different varieties can thus be determined as regards this particular section and the kind best suited to the red soil which has been formed during the passing of many years by the creek which is nearby can be ascertained.
 The trees being set out by Judge Caldwell have root stock from three to five years old and tops have been budded on the root stock from one to four years. Trees of this age will begin bearing in two years, pecan nutting commencing, and the yield will increase each year as the trees grow older.
 The trees are of the Burkett, Halbert, Stewart and Succow varieties and all of them are regarded as nuts of a high per cent of fat and pecans produced are of unusually large size.
 Special attention has been given to the proper preparation of the soil in which the trees are being set. A large hole was dug for each tree and the bottom was dynamited so the soil would be thoroughly loosed and the "hard-pan" under the surface broken. This was done in order to allow the root system of the plant to spread rapidly. The trees are being set fifty feet apart, each way, and are well watered after being set in the holes.
 Judge Caldwell plans to pipe the water of Cedar creek to this orchard soon and thus furnish the young plants all necessary moisture for their growth and development.
 This is one of the largest pecan growing projects yet undertaken in this section and will doubtless prove very successful, for the plan followed in setting the trees has been demonstrated to be successful in other sections.

Phillips Inspects Hereford Hatchery

(Special to The Avalanche)
HEREFORD, Jan. 6—Frank R. Phillips, head of the agriculture department of the West Texas State Teachers college of Canyon, was in Hereford recently inspecting Hereford's big hatchery, which begins operation January 17. Mr. Phillips was particularly interested in the manner of laying house that is used and recommended by the Golden Rule hatchery. He said that the local hatchery was housed in one of the best buildings of its kind in Texas, and he predicted a great future for the enterprise.
 "I was particularly interested to see the large number of eggs and milk cans that were unloaded in Hereford," said Mr. Phillips, "because it means that some county farmers are taking up an industry that is destined to become one of the big ones of West Texas within the next few years."

"THRILL SLAYERS" LAUGH IN COURT

LOEB AND LEOPOLD CAN'T BE BOTHERED BY TAXI-DRIVER SUIT
 (By Associated Press)
JOLIET, Ill., Jan. 6—Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, "thrill slayers," laughed and chatted together in circuit court as they listened to the testimony of Charles Reim, Chicago taxi driver, who charges them with kidnapping and murdering him. It was the first conversation the two sons of wealthy Chicago families had had since they were committed to this state penitentiary for the slaying of little Bobby Franks.
 Sitting in front of Loeb, Leopold tilted back his chair, and talked animatedly with his former compaigner in crime, paying little attention to the questioning of witnesses. The crowded court room, filled mostly with women, drew no attention from the youths, who several times were warned by their attorneys not to appear too much as if it were a picnic they were attending.
 Leopold and Loeb went to prison September 12, 1924, for the murder of the Franks boy.

Brownfield Road Bids Open Jan. 12

Assuming that by the time Lubbock county is ready to vote bond issues or raise other ways to get funds to put permanent paving on roads in this section, the temporary refusal of federal aid to Texas highway projects will have been reconsidered, Lubbock county officials were not greatly concerned Tuesday bids for grading and drainage on the Lubbock-Brownfield highway which were to have been opened last month, but which were delayed by the Moody injunction, since dissolved, restraining the highway department from granting any contracts, will be opened on January 12, county officials announced.

POSSIBILITY OF FEDERAL BUILDING FOR LUBBOCK SEEN AS VAUGHN IS ASKED FOR SURVEY OF CONDITIONS

The probability of Lubbock securing a federal building in the near future is seen by Postmaster John L. Vaughan in a request from postal authorities at Washington for a second survey as to comparative conditions now and ten years ago.
 The survey, completed and sent in by Mr. Vaughan Thursday, outlines all data called for, including gain in postal receipts, increase in number of employees, additional housing of facilities, and other similar information. A like survey was sent to authorities some time ago along with approximately 500 others from various sections of the nation, and many of these have been eliminated, leading to the belief that officials are seriously considering the plea for more facilities here.
 The last session of congress appropriated $10,000,000 for public buildings, and out of this fund the present session is expected to allot expenditures.
 Postal receipts at the office have shown steady gain, and during the past five years have increased nearly 200 per cent. The total for 1924 was $1,690.00, while in 1921 receipts totalled only $28,895.97. Other years since 1921 show: 1922, $32,161.93; 1923, $40,319.36; 1924, $55,371.69; and 1925, $76,754.56. Service in all branches of the office here has been expanded during the past year, including both city and rural delivery.

Texas Ex-Servicemen Wire Congressmen to Facilitate Granting of Certificate Loans
DALLAS, Jan. 6—Texas senators and congressmen in Washington tonight were urged the text of a resolution adopted at a meeting of ex-service men here to discuss the difficulty of obtaining loans on adjusted compensation certificates. The resolution asked that congress take whatever action may be necessary to facilitate such loans.
 Arthur J. Reinhart, judge advocate of the American Legion, department of Texas, was chairman of the meeting and presented a report which blamed the "inefficiency" of the adjusted compensation act for the disinclination of bankers to honor the certificates as collateral for loans.

RULES ANNOUNCED FOR NEXT BOY SCOUT JAMBOREE, TO BE HELD ON WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY, FEB. 22

Rules for the scout jamboree to be held on Washington's birthday, February 22, at the Texas Technological college football field, were announced yesterday by the local scout council to include the following:

No scout can compete in more than five events in all nor in more than three of the events in more than one day. A scout may compete in any event, but not in an event serving as a parent in first aid not to be counted as competing in an event.

A scout must have been registered thirty days previous to Field Day with all dues fully paid.

When an event calls for a patrol of eight scouts, the correct number must be furnished for official disqualification for the entire event.

Total points won by both teams shall be equally divided between the teams, archery excepted.

Archery and pace will be held simultaneously.

Event No. 1—Attendance, Inspection.

Attendance—Troops will be judged by percentage present at registration. A scout out of town will be excused by parent's certificate. Sicknes certificate on physician's certificate, certificate to be presented at time of inspection.

Inspection—Judging: On basis of 10 for perfect with deduction of 1 point each for dirtiness of person, unclean fingernails, uncombed hair, soiled shoes, each part of the uniform soiled, each part uniform lacking, each part uniform not official, each part of uniform not properly in place such as; stockings unevenly rolled, shirt not smoothly in place under belt, each button not buttoned or missing. Exceptions: Boots and tennis shoes allowed.

Event No. 2—Knot Tying

The nine tenderfoot knots, eight knots to a patrol. Procedure: All patrols form one line and tie by count, starting at count of "one" and dropping rope to ground at word "Drop" or holding rope in hand at word "Hold." If knot correct and within time limit scout steps two paces forward and so on with each knot. The scout advancing a row with each knot correct and remaining in place if incorrect. To assist judges, after word "Drop" or "Hold," scouts are on their knees not to complete knot but must straighten rope and hold by their side. Ropes must be held at arms length at start and must be dropped or held instantly at word. Knots badly loose to be judged "as incorrect."

Event No. 3—First Aid

Eight scouts to a patrol divided into four teams of two men each, with teams numbered from 1 to 4. Each team to have an extra man to serve as patient. Judging: Each team will be required to demonstrate and explain treatment of any one of the following cases: (Judge will draw case by lot and call for teams in their numerical order). (1) A scout receives a snake bite on the inside or right arm four inches below the elbow. Give first aid treatment. Time two minutes. (2) A scout receives a deep cut on the front of right leg, two inches above ankle, which bleeds freely and in spurts. Give first aid treatment. Time four minutes. (3) A scout faints from unconsciousness on a hot summer day. How will you know whether he suffered from sun stroke or heat exhaustion? Give first aid treatment each condition at command of judge. (4) A scout steps on a "live wire" and falls across it unconscious. Give treatment. Material: First aid kits allowed. Material may be actual or bottle correctly labeled or dummy labeled.

Event No. 4—Signaling

(General Service and Semaphore). Eight scouts to a patrol divided into four teams of two men each. Procedure: First team send to second team, who in turn send to third team, who send to fourth team. Fourth team brings in message to judge, without conferring with any other team. Teams to be spaced 100 yards or more apart. Judging: Send and receive message of 25 symbols, including letters, numerals and spaces. Accuracy to count total 50 points for perfect with two points off for each error. Speed to count 50 points divided. First team finishing 50 points, second team finishing 40 points, third team 30 points, fourth team 20 points, fifth team 10 points.

Event No. 5—Firemaking

Flint and steel and bowdrill, individual and patrol. Eight scouts to a patrol. Material Any flint, steel, wood.

No chemical treatment. No "swarming up" of bowdrill fireholes. Individual and team contest to be held at the same time. Patrols line up, 4 feet space between contestants, and all start at "Go." To decide best individual time, there will be an assistant judge behind each four scouts. Each assistant judge watches his four scouts only an cries "Fire" on each blaze. No cries of fire to be made after first three. Time will be taken for first fire. To decide best average team time, there will be five stations, with clock at each, marked according to the time intervals (7, 10, 15, etc., and 15, 20, 30, etc.) A second time keeper will call out the time intervals and the assistant judges will advise their four scouts to which time station to go as fires are made. Average time to be figured for each team. Scouts must remain quietly at their stations until checked by head judge.

Event No. 7—Pace
(Individual and Patrol)
Eight scouts to a patrol. A. Best individual time. B. Best average patrol time. Procedure: Each patrol shall number their scouts from one to eight. The number one of each patrol will be started as one group, one minute later all number two's will be started, and so on with each group starting at one minute intervals. As each scout finishes, timekeeper will advise him minute and seconds as 14-26, scout will then go to scoring clerk and announce his troop number, individual number, and time as troop No. 1, No. 2, 14-26. Judging and scoring: If a scout finishes 30 seconds under 12 minutes, the error will be the same, i.e. 30 seconds. If a scout receives any advice from the spectators, it will disqualify him.

Event No. 8—Games and Races
Eight scouts to a patrol, numbered one to eight. (a) Antelope race, "breaking" disqualifies. (b) Chariot race, "breaking" disqualifies. Decision on crossing finish line to be on scout carrying neckerchief. (c) Stick relay. Scouts must be in place before passing stick and pass must be made between legs, from front to rear. Stick must pass entire length of line. Any violation disqualifies. Distance above three, 75 feet to stake and return. Team must go to right of stake and turn to left. If stake is touched team is disqualified. (d) Half mile relay, each scout to run 110 yards. A. A. P. rules to govern. Crowding, receiving baton before carrier has reached line, etc. All disqualify team.

He was rushed to a Waco sanitarium where he underwent an operation and is reported in a critical condition.

Customers Judge You by Your Stationery

The salesman who wants to keep up his volume of business knows that he must keep up appearances. He must wear good clothes—he must look prosperous and successful. The successful business house also takes equal pains with its appearance. Its printed matter—its letter heads—its booklets—are all carefully designed so as to give forth an atmosphere of success, stability and quality.

Use cheap printed matter and you give a cheap impression. Use high-grade printed matter and you give a high-grade impression. Fortunately, quality printing is no longer expensive. With the largest and most modern printing plant in Lubbock we are able to produce for you printing of the highest quality at a moderate price. Printing is a product of machinery. We can produce good work and produce it in less time. Thus a real saving accrues to you.

Let the Avalanche-Journal Press figure on every job. Call up the next time you want an estimate on printing.

Today there are several test wells being drilled in different parts of the South Plains which surely does indicate that the South Plains is to have a real test for Oil during the year 1927, but today the well that is attracting the most attention is the Yellow House No. 1 located 12 miles southwest of Littlefield, and 4 mile East of PEP. This well is reaching the interesting depth, and is being watched by the big oil companies with great interest, which is evidenced by the active leasing of land surrounding this Well.

Now a small amount of money will give you a chance, with the others who are looking forward, expecting this well to be a real Oil well. Now is the time to get in if you have any idea of doing so, for should it be a producer, then you know it will be big moneyed man's game, and the little man is out. The thing is do you want to take a chance.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE
To the home of PROF and MOL-LIE ELWELL in Camdenville, Ind., one night in October, 1926, is brought a woman who had fainted on a train. Late that night the woman bears twin girls and then dies without revealing her name.

The story then moves forward 18 years. The twins, now growing to beautiful womanhood, have been adopted and named MARGARET and ELIZABETH. They are called RUSTY and BETTY.

JIM ELWELL, the agent-in-charge in the World War. He then discovers that one of the twins loves him. He is shell-shocked at the Battle of Sedan and, through a mixup, is registered as JOHN POWELL. He is removed to an American hospital and reported dead.

NOW BEGIN THE STORY

The doctor, after a minute turned back to Nellie Downing. He was smiling.

"If I could answer those questions, Miss Downing," he replied, "with my degree of certainty, I might be able to tell you correctly what constitutes all the secret forces controlling the human brain. But that is something that no man knows and never will know. The electromotive power that controls the vast workings of the universe regards his secrets too closely for the puny mind of man ever to find their roots."

He laid his hand on Jim Elwell's shoulder and looked long and deeply into his vacant eyes. When he turned away again it was with a sigh. "We are helpless," he said "in the face of a puzzle like this."

Mollie ventured timidly to ask, "And is no operation possible at all without the danger of its being fatal? Not even to try to find out exactly what is the matter?"

"I'm afraid not," said Dr. Lawson. "The sorry, as I said before, with your consent and advice I'd be willing to operate, but I wouldn't answer for your boy's life. I'm sorry," he said again.

"There has been improvement in his condition," Prof Elwell told the surgeon, "since he came here. Remarkable improvement, I think. When he first got here, I am told, he was barely able to move around. Now he is able to feed himself and do all those things we've told you about. Music moves him to some kind of emotions, apparently for it produces tears, as Miss Downing told you."

"Another thing—he kisses his mother of his own volition now"—here Nellie Downing blushed faintly and averted her head—"and he can do things—lots of things—after he sees us do them."

"What I'm trying to get at is this: Might not something have happened to his brain that made it just like the brain of a child? Just as a child learns to walk and talk and think, might he not be able to regain his lost faculties by degrees? Do you suppose that is possible—that it is possible for him to keep on improving like that?"

"Until he is normal again?" asked Dr. Lawson.

"Yes." The surgeon shook his head. "I'm afraid not. A healthy brain is undeveloped but sound. This boy's brain, apparently, is damaged. It is prevented from functioning as it should function. I should say that if your boy gets well it will be through an operation or—"

"Or what?" asked Prof.

"Or the grace of God."

"He said about what I thought he would say," was Nellie Downing's opening remark to Prof and Mollie Elwell when the surgeon had left. "And you probably noticed," she went on, "that he didn't commit himself in saying it either. Really he told us nothing—very little—that we didn't already know. With all their study and research and practice, in the final summing up of things they don't know very much after all."

Prof Elwell nodded gravely.

"Well, anyway," said his wife with decision, "an operation is out of the question. While there is life there is hope, and if they operate on Jim and killed him that would be the end. I've known what it is to believe him dead and I know what it is to have him as he is now. I'd rather a million times over have him as he is now than not have him at all."

"You bet!" her husband agreed. "Alive, Jim's always got a fighting chance. But dead, he hasn't a chance in the world. I've never been so sure, but I'm pretty sure about that. And perhaps when we get him back home with the old familiar sights and faces and everything, his memory may come back to him finally. Not right away—" not for a long time, maybe—but some day."

"But you won't be taking him—that is, you're not thinking of returning at once, are you?" asked Nellie Downing, and there was something in her tone, it seemed to Mollie Elwell that was more than just professional interest.

"Well, that, of course, is up to Mollie," he told her. "As far as I'm concerned, I'd just as soon stay here another week. What do you say, my dear?"—turning to Mollie—"shall we break up housekeeping now or wait a few days?"

Mollie tapped her lips reflectively.

Which was the wiser thing to do? Return with Jim immediately or wait another week?

But then, she asked herself, what particular difference did it make? It was only a matter of a few days either way. Prof had seemed to like the place and, besides, Jim was improving—a little, at least.

"Perhaps we had better stay another week," she said. "We want an opportunity, of course, to say goodbye to Mr. Hennegau and to some of the others over on Long Island who have been so kind."

And she said, they would want to buy some things for Jim. Some clothes and things to make him comfortable around the house. And so that was the way the question was decided. An important decision—consequently.

Letters that Mollie had been receiving from the girls back in Indianapolis had told of their new activities in the social set in Indiana's capital. They also had described with enthusiasm the progress they were making in their artistic education.

Rusty—Margaret, as she now signed her name—had entered a school of classical dancing and already swayed herself as the successor to Pavlova or something like that. And Elizabeth was taking vocal lessons and confided that she dared at times to dream of opera.

As an added attraction and as a reward for good work, their uncle had promised them a trip to Europe in October, when they would visit France, Italy and all the wonder places of the old world. The twins were quite enthusiastic.

Nellie read these letters to Prof and Mollie Downing just as they were written. When she read them to herself she read between the lines and knew of the grief the girls were feeling, a grief that promises of careers and European jaunts could not eradicate. Mollie sighed.

"They are whistling to keep their courage up," she told Prof. "Nonsense, dear," he assured her. "Young hearts like theirs quietly forget. You and I are getting old and it is a little hard for us to look forward."

It might be a good thing, Prof added, to write to the girls and tell them about their plans.

On the day following Dr. Lawson's visit to the hospital she wrote to Margaret and Betty, telling them the result of the specialist's diagnosis of Jim's case, their decision to return home with him the next week and the date at which they expected to arrive.

She had told them in previous letters as much as she considered advisable about his condition, so there was little to add on that subject. Nor did she offer any suggestions relative to the girls' coming to Camdenville to meet Jim on his return home.

That Mollie Elwell felt, was something that must be left entirely to them to arrange to suit themselves.

Jim Elwell sat beside her on the grassy wind-swept slope as she wrote. He stared out at the water. Occasionally he picked up a pebble and flung it, as he had seen others do before.

A pretty nurse, slender and cool in her white cap and uniform, with a red embroidered cross showing in vivid contrast a spotless sleeve, stood looking at a man beside a rustic chair under a shady tree one summer afternoon in Ocean View Park.

"You are going home tomorrow, Jim," she was saying, "and I'll never see you again."

There was a little catch in the nurse's voice. More, there was trouble in her heart.

"And probably," she went on slowly, still looking fixedly at the young man, who now sat down and closed his eyes, "you never will know, my soldier man, of the girl who nursed you in France and kissed you when they took you away; who nursed you here and watched over you and cried over you."

Her voice broke. The Red Cross nurse stopped talking and made little dabs at her eyes with a handkerchief.

The man on the rustic chair opened his eyes. They regarded her with a listless stare. A meaningless smile played about his mouth, but it vanished when he saw her tears.

Presently his own eyes were wet. He reached forth a hand, a strong, broad hand, paled a little by inactivity and confinement, and touched her dress.

"The nurse turned away suddenly toward the sea and a cool breeze fanned the loose ends of hair about her face. Her strong white teeth bit down steadily on her lower lip, and her hands doubled up into fists."

"What am I going to do?" she cried softly. "What am I going to do? Going away—and he'll never know who I was—never know that I existed."

"It was cruel," she was thinking, to take him away from her like this. Cruel—

A sound escaped the young man behind her and she turned quickly. She saw the wetness in his eyes—pitiful, unrecognizing eyes.

"Oh, Jim," she cried, her voice half strangled with emotion, "will you ever—"

"Nellie!"

The nurse started a little gasp escaping her. Slowly she turned around. Mollie Elwell stood within an arm's

COLORADO WARDEN LAUGHS AT MORLEY

TOM TYNAN CONTINUES TO DEFOY GOVERNOR, GUARDED BY GUNMEN

(By Associated Press)
DENVER, Jan. 6.—"Tom" Tynan warden at the state penitentiary at Canon City, tonight held the commanding position in efforts by Governor Clarence J. Morley to oust him. For while the executive had issued orders removing Tynan, the warden still was in charge of the penitentiary surrounded by walls on which were mounted machine guns and patrolled by armed guards.

"You can say for me—and I don't mean maybe—that any one trying to break into this prison will get the same dose as any one trying to break out," was Tynan's ultimatum shortly before Sheriff Clifford R. Gleason appointed by Morley as acting warden for the ten days of Tynan's suspension, attempted to serve the executive orders.

Gleason appeared at the prison accompanied by Captain D. A. Burton length of her.

In the next chapter Jim Elwell mysteriously disappears and there is a frantic search.

of the Colorado national guard to serve the papers but was told "the prison is not open today." He then attempted to get inside under pretense of serving divorce papers on a convict but when he arrived at the gate Tynan had the convict there awaiting service and the sheriff was refused admittance. No one would say what the next move would be.

The fight between Governor Morley and Warden Tynan for possession of the prison, which had been charged on for two years, was intensified today when Tynan furnished the Denver Post a list of 149 paroles and pardons he said Morley had granted in the last two years and charged that his opposition to this policy had caused the governor to try to replace him. The list contained the names of twenty-three life term convicts, nineteen of whom had been sentenced for murder, two for attacks on women and two highway men.

Amused Him

Tynan in a telegram to the governor today said: "Your order of so-called suspension has reached me and amused me very much," and told him "the governor has no more right to suspend the warden of the penitentiary than the sign in the moon."

After charging that the executive had attempted to put "the Ku Klux Klan in the saddle at the Colorado penitentiary," Tynan concluded his telegram:

"If I can be removed legally by you then I will abide by any fiscal decision of the supreme court of the state of Colorado, but I will not abide by your cornfield laws, but will remain here, as an officer of the state of Colorado, and will not besmirch myself as you have done by attempting to put into effect laws not on the statutes."

The suspension of Warden Tynan brought to a head the disagreement which have characterized their activities during the two years of the Morley administration. Prior to the suspension, charges of incompetency, inefficiency, inhuman treatment of convicts, insubordination and drunkenness had been preferred against the warden.

The charges were turned over to William T. Lambert, Jr., a recent appointee of Governor Morley's to the state civil service commission. The charges have not been formally filed with the commission.

The ETHYL makes it knockless!

MOTORS de LUXE! Up hills without a knock—smooth, sustained power on the pistons no matter how choked with carbon the cylinders may be. That is what you get with Conoco Ethyl Gasoline—and all without sacrificing the extra miles which are packed into regular Conoco Gasoline.

This new, revolutionizing motor fuel is a combination of Conoco (the extra miles gasoline) and Ethyl Brand of Anti-Knock Compound, a chemical product developed after years of research by the country's foremost automotive scientists. The Ethyl gives the fuel greater compression resistance, thus assuring a smooth "follow through" explosion in the cylinders. The cause of knocks is entirely eliminated.

In fact the Ethyl actually makes carbonized cylinders an asset because the carbon, by raising the pressure in the cylinder, produces maximum efficiency from this new motor fuel.

But don't confuse Conoco Ethyl Gasoline with mystery fuels. Like every other Conoco product, Conoco Ethyl Gasoline is backed by the reputation and experience of this old established company. The Conoco name assures the worth of the product.
