Pilot Survives Collision At Washington

BY ARTHUR EDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1—While an airport radio man frantically tried to keep them apart, a giant passenger plane and a Bolivian fighter rammed together today killing 55 persons in the worst airplane disaster in U.S. history.

There was only one survivor, and he was badly injured.

He is Erick Rios Bridoux, 28, director of the Bolivian air force and pilot of the fighter plane.

None of the dead was identified as a resident of Texas.

The death list included: Ted Magee, Oklahoma City.

Bodies Sought

All 51 passengers and four crew members of the Eastern Air Lines DC4—bound from Boston to New Orleans—are presumed to have perished in the crash, although only about half the bodies have been recovered.

A congressman, a former congressman, a well known cartoonist and other notables were on the plane.

The crash occurred about 300 feet in the air as both the fighter and the airliner tried to land at Washington's busy National airport at the same time.

Glen D. Tigner, traffic controller at the airport, said the radio man made urgent attempts to get the Bolivian plane to turn aside, but this failed.

Then an effort was made to get the big airliner to swerve. This came too late.

The two aircraft hit, and the big plane plunged into the bank of the Potomac river spewing bodies into the water as well as on to the land. The fighter plane hit the water.

Tonight rescue workers were busy dredging the Potomac, trying to find the missing.

Thirty-nine bodies had been recovered seven hours after the crash.

Bridoux was in a hospital, too weak to give a coherent account of the crash. He said at one point that his radio had been working but that the power had failed.

Solon On Plane

Among those aboard the airliner were:

Rep. George J. Bates (R-Mass), 58, serving his seventh term as a member of congress.

Helen Hokinson, whose cartoons of plump club women have delighted readers of "The New Yorker" magazine.

Cardner W. Taylor, 60, president of the First Savings and Loan association of New York.

Michael J. Kennedy, 52, former Tammany hall leader and a member of Congress for two terms.

The worst previous crash of a domestic airliner on a regular flight came on May 30, 1947. Fifty-

Parts Scattered As Planes Crash

(EDITOR'S NOTE: George H. Maines, of New York, was passing Washington National airport at the instant today's mid-air collision occurred, destroying an Eastern airliner. He describes the tragedy in the following story.)

By GEORGE H. MAINES
(Written For International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—I happened to look out of my car to see if the weather was good enough to have my car washed.

At that instant I saw a big plane coming in to the airport and coming at it was a little plane.

Plane 600 Feet In Air

The big plane was about 600 feet in the air and within seconds the two met. First I thought only the little plane was going down but then pieces began flying off the big plane.

Parts were rocketing in all directions.

Then the big plane began gliding gently downward. Obviously the pilot was making a tremendous effort to bring it in to an emergency landing.

As the big plane passed below my line of vision I got out of my car and started running toward the spot. I crawled through an

Several Hurt In Explosion

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—A heavy explosion ripped the top floors of the post office department building today a few minutes after most of its 3,000 occupants had fled to safety in response to a fire alarm.

More than a dozen persons, most of them firemen, were hurt by the blast or overcome temporarily by smoke.

For a while this evening Wayne Coy, chairman of the Federal Communications commission, feared that two women employes of the commission were buried under the debris.

He said at 5 p. m. that they were unaccounted for. By 9, however, he was informed firemen had gotten under all the debris and had found no bodies. Coy then said he was satisfied no one was missing.

The blast that injured several firemen was the heaviest of a series that shook the $11,000,000 building. It occurred after almost all employes of the post office and the Communications commission, which share the building, had been cleared out by the fire alarm.

The fire had been discovered in an electrical transformer room on the top floor of the eight-story building, on Pennsylvania avenue four blocks from the White House.

Investigation Continues

An investigation was still going on tonight. One government engineer said a short-circuit may have caused the oil in which a transformer was immersed to become overheated and explode.

The last and most violent of the series of explosions hurled valuable files of the Communications commission out of the windows and into the streets nearby. It tore a hole some 200 feet long in a double wall of concrete and bricks, separating the transformers from a corridor, and blew

Electrical, Farm Equipment Groups Hit

CIO Group Votes To Oust Leftist Unions

(By The Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Nov. 1. — The CIO convention's resolution committee tonight voted to expel the leftist-led United Electrical Workers and the United Farm Equipment Workers.

The committee left for later action the state of nine or 10 other unions headed by leaders the CIO right-wing majority accuses of pro-Communist sympathies.

The UE is the CIO's third largest affiliate and claims 450,000 members but pays per capita tax on only 375,000. The farm equipment workers have about 20,000.

It also was announced that the CIO will charter a right-wing group within the UE to organize a separate union.

The committee's recommendation on the UE and FE expulsion will be submitted to the convention tomorow and is expected to receive thumping approval from the right wing majority.

The convention, in a day of torrid oratory, voted to bar Communists from the policy making executive board.

Tomorrow, delegates will act on other changes in the CIO constitution, permitting the board to expel unions led by Communist sympathizers.

Special Meet Held

The resolutions committee, headed by the United Auto Workers' chief, Walter P. Reuther, held a special meeting tonight to deal with the UE and FE.

All 12 leftist unions are threatened with ouster, but the Reuther committee action makes the UE and FE the first to walk the plank.

The UE took the initative earlier in the day by pulling its delegates from the convention floor and announcing it would withhold future per capita taxes to the CIO. This was tantamount to quitting the CIO.

In the verbal barrage accompanying passage of the constitutional amendment aimed at keeping Communists out of CIO office, the powerful right-wing majority fired its biggest oratorical guns.

Speakers Level Barrage

The right wing paraded Philip Murray, Walter Reuther, Emil Rieve, Joseph Curran and Michael Quill to the rostrum to plead for the anti-Communist proposal.

Longshoreman President Harry Bridges led the opposition and was singled out as a special target by most of the high-ranking right-wingers.

Murray, CIO president, said he had "failed miserably" to get a pledge from left-wing leaders to follow CIO policy.

Reuther, put the issue of ousting the left-wing unions this way: "It is a question of saving the body or the cancer. The noisy minority thinks we ought to save the cancer and throw away the body."

President Curran of the Nation-

Thug Caught On El Paso Street

EL PASO, Nov. 1. (AP)—A wavy-haired desperado who broke jail at Phoenix, Ariz., in a wild gun battle was captured here today, unarmed and broke.

FBI agents spotted Jack L. Tatum, 28, on a little-traveled street close by downtown El Paso's railroad tracks. They took him without trouble.

Behind him when he scurried out a window of the Maricopa county courthouse Oct. 22, Tatum left four prisoners who tried to join him in the break. A crippled watchman shot two to death. The other two gave up as they choked in a tear gas barrage.

Had Gotten Out Of Cell

The men had tricked their jailer to get out of their cell on the top floor of the five-story courthouse building.

D. K. Brown, special agent in charge of the El Paso FBI office, said Tatum told him he fled to a citrus grove near Phoenix.

The tall, slender prisoner said he hid in the grove four days and nights, living off oranges and grapefruit.

Then he hopped a freight southeast to Tucson, Ariz., and hid out a day and night in a hobo jungle, Tatum told the FBI men.

$5.5 Billion Deficit Seen

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. —President Truman predicted tonight that federal spending this fiscal year will reach a peacetime record high of $43,500,000,000 and leave the government $5,500,000,000 in the red for the 12 months ending next June 30.

The President, revising his January budget estimates after congressional action on his proposals, put the present budget picture in this basic light:

Expenditures, $43,500,000,000; receipts $38,000,000,000; deficit, $5,500,000,000.

The President's new figures reflected a $1,600,000,000 increase in prospective outlays since early January, when Congress was just starting.

Income Declines

The revised estimate of income was $3,000,000,000 less than the January total.

The new $5,500,000,000 deficit estimate compared with a $900,000,000 deficit projected in the January budget message.

"The decline of seven per cent in anticipated receipts arises from the moderate drop in prices, money incomes, and corporate profits since the original estimate was made," said a statement issued by Budget Director Frank Pace by direction of the President.

In the last completed fiscal year, ended June 30 this year, the government's deficit was $1,800,000,-

Building In City Continues To Soar

October building permits amounting to $1,954,441 brought Lubbock's 1949 building total over the $13,000,000 mark and virtually assured that all previous building records will be broken this year, records at the office of Lloyd Ross, building inspector, revealed Tuesday afternon.

The total for the year now stands at $13,067,246, and a permit for $2,000,000 for Highland Place duplex project in southwest Lubbock alone would raise the total nearly to last year's record total of $15,171,373, the records indicated.

By months, building permits have been as follows this year: January, $328,209; February, $833,110; March, $1,112,869; April, $831,012; April, $855,761; May, $1,834,158; June, $720,327; July, $1,110,102; August, $976,257; and September, $1,954,441.

Sherman Is Named New Navy Chief

By LEON SHLOSS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 — President Truman today named Vice Adm. Forrest P. Sherman as chief of naval operations and the new commander at once attacked the unification row by declaring he wants "a fighting Navy at sea instead of a fighting Navy on land."

Sherman, chosen to succeed the ousted Adm. Louis E. Denfeld, told newsmen a few minutes after the White House announced his appointment that he expects to make as "few changes as possible" in the naval high command.

Flanked by Navy Secretary Matthews, Sherman at a news conference in the Pentagon indicated he disagrees with the naval officers, led by Denfeld, who charged Defense Secretary Johnson is whittling down the Navy's fighting power.

Too Many Admirals

Matthews conceded that unless Denfeld retires from the Navy, Sherman's appointment will create one more than the five full admirals allowed by law.

Asked whether the situation might result in a demotion for Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chief critic of Pentagon policies, Matthews snapped "no comment."

Sherman said he had preferred not to testify at the congressional investigation which heard Denfeld and other top admirals make their accusations. He added, pointedly, that if he had been called on he had "some notes of my own."

The implication was that the testimony of the other admirals had not been prepared by them. Sherman, pressed, said he did not know for certain that such was the case.

Country Comes First

Sherman asserted that all defense problems must be solved with a view to the "welfare of the country." He added that "if you achieve a healthy, peaceful condition in the country, you don't achieve a period of expansion in

Two Women Are Hurt In Crashes

Two women were injured slightly and two others taken to hospitals for observation as the result of three collisions here Tuesday.

The injured were Mrs. Morris Cranford, 20, of 808 Ave. S, treated at West Texas hospital for bruises of the nose and left knee; and Mrs. N. B. Cook, 41, of 907 Ave. O, also taken to West Texas hospital, where she was treated for shock and a strained neck.

Mary Louise Hancock, 19, of 1807 Main, and Joyce Manuel, 22, were taken to hospitals here for examination.

Struck Parked Vehicle

Mrs. Cranford was injured about 4:50 p. m. when she reportedly drove her car into a parked vehicle owned by T. J. Morgan, of 2215 Fifteenth in front of Morgan's residence.

Mrs. Cook's 1947 Chevrolet was in collision about 12:55 p. m. with a car driven by David Newton Dixon, 32, of 2706 North Fourth at Fourth and Ave. P, police records showed. The accident occurred, officers said when Dixon's car, traveling west on Fourth, struck the other vehicle in the rear as Mrs. Cook was preparing to make a turn.

Both women held for observation were involved in a minor crash at Fourth and Jackson about 4:28 p. m.

Cool Weather Seen For Area

A couple of new cold fronts are scheduled to cool things off a bit today and Thursday on the South Plains—where cold fronts are so numerous this time of year that a traffic control system is needed to keep one front from running over the others.

The first front—a puny thing—was supposed to move in early today, the Weatherman said late last night, but he figured it wouldn't do much in the way of lowering temperatures.

However, a colder mass of air was hanging over North Dakota last night with some promise of moving into the South Plains area sometime Thursday to push the mercury down a little lower Thursday night. It didn't give notice of time of arrival, so reservations haven't been made yet.

Even today's weak cold front should be noticed, the U. S. Oil Policy Is Under Fire

(By The Associated Press)

ABILENE, Nov. 1—U.S. Rep. Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls said tonight the State department is pursuing a policy on oil imports which "if long continued, will be seriously detrimental to the national welfare."

He spoke to directors of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners association meeting here.

The Texas Congressman referred to a statement of policy he said was in a letter written him by Willard L. Thorp, assistant secretary of state for foreign affairs.

Official Stand Given

Gossett said Thorp wrote: "It is our conclusion that restrictions on imports of petroleum are unnecessary and would be both unwise and detrimental to the interests of the petroleum industry of the United States."

The Texas congressman said there is a steadily rising flood of foreign oil that is a serious threat to the domestic oil industry. He is author of a bill in Congress to limits imports to five percent of domestic demand.

Earlier J. Ed Warren of Midland, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, called for co-operation between local, statewide, and nationwide organizations, and between those organizations and the government. He spoke at a luncheon.

The TIPRO directors had en-

Canada, France Seek Atom Control Talks

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 1. (AP)—France and Canada were reported tonight whipping up a western-power resolution to meet the new situation caused by the disclosure that Russia has the atomic weapon.

Informed sources said the intention of the western powers is to gain once more the backing of the United Nations assembly for their plan of atomic control and to put the whole atomic situation back into focus. When UN backing is secured again the big powers in the western camp want to go ahead with talks with the Russians to try to end the three-year stalemate.

The French and Canadian delegations were said to be talking over their ideas with the American, British and Chinese delegations, which are expected to join in a final, five-power resolution.

Second Firm, CIO Leader Open Talks

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1 — Peace hopes skyrocketed in steel tonight as another major steel firm jumped into renewed negotiations with the striking CIO United Steelworkers union.

Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp., the nation's fourth largest basic producer, went into a conference huddle with CIO President Philip Murray in Cleveland.

Earlier today a beaming Murray told the entire steel industry to come on and join trail blazing Bethlehem Steel company in settlement of the nationwide steel strike.

Lewis Calls Council

Miner leader John L. Lewis reacted to the break in the steel dispute by calling a war council of his United Mine Workers to consider coal strike developments.

Meeting with Murray tonight is Victor Lawrence, Jones and Laughlin, director of industrial relations. J and L employs 42,000 steelworkers.

Before the J and L conference, a Pittsburgh CIO director, John Murray said:

"We're going to find out if we can get together."

Quick Settlement Sought

Youngstown Sheet and Tube company announced it is interested in reaching a settlement with the union as quickly as possible.

H. J. Spoerer, Youngstown director of industrial relations, said his firm had invited the union to resume negotiations and that everything had been arranged but an actual time of meeting.

Youngstown employs 21,000 workers in plants at Youngstown, Ohio, and Chicago.

Lewis summoned his policy committee to meet next Monday in Chicago to consider all aspects of the 43-day mine shutdown. Rumors have had an early settlement possible with Illinois coal producers but a spokesman for the Illinois Coal Operators association denied any separate agreement is in the wind.

Two Burglary Suspects Held

Two 18-year-old Hobbs, N. M. youths were lodged in city jail Tuesday night following their capture by a bonded patrolman who reportedly surprised the pair as they were leaving a dry goods store on South Ave. H shortly before 11 p.m.

The arresting officer, Jack Moore, of Moore's Bonded patrol, said he caught one of the suspects at a motor court in 2900 block Ave. H after a brief chase. The other youth had broken into a cabin there, but surrendered at the command of city patrolmen who were called to aid Moore, police said.

Moore told officers he noticed a window broken out at the rear of the store, Carsons Dry Goods store at 3011 Ave. H, while making his regular rounds. The suspects started to leave the building, saw Moore, and ran out the front of the building after breaking a window there, it was reported.

Help Summoned

Moore sent a companion to summon help and chased the pair to the tourist court where the manager of the place called police.

Burglary charges against the youths probably will be filed today, it was learned.

The sheriff's department announced, meanwhile, that a 26-year-old Lubbock man sought on an armed robbery charge in connection with several hijackings in Amarillo last summer, had been arrested at Crosbyton by Texas

NO. 2 OF A FOUR-PART SERIES ON THE NOV. 8 ELECTION

An Explanation Of Those 10 Amendments

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

THIS continues a series of brief explanations of and the principal arguments for and against 10 proposed amendments to the state constitution upon which Texans will vote next Tuesday.

NO. 3

An amendment authorizing the legislature to provide for the establishment and creation of hospital districts.

THIS proposal, if approved, would allow counties, or parts of counties, to form hospital districts and to levy taxes and bonds for the building and maintenance of hospitals. This might be done jointly by counties, cities and/or school districts. But, before it could be done, it would have to be approved by a vote of the qualified residents of the areas affected.

Better Hospitalization Seen

The argument for it is that it would open the way for more hospitalization for a great many people; and that the requirement of a vote of approval by the people affected is protection against abuses.

The amendment has been criticized as loosely drawn and possibly as containing "gimmicks." But the consensus of those who have studied seems well in agreement that it couldn't do much harm and might do some good. Of course, the creation of hospital districts would mean additional taxes upon property owners residing within them.

NO. 4

An amendment eliminating the payment of a poll tax as a requirement for voting, and providing for a general registration law.

THIS is, perhaps, the most controversial of the amendments.

It would eliminate the present poll tax of $1.75 a year. But it would require all persons wishing to vote during the succeeding year to register, and counties would be allowed to levy a registration fee of any amount set by the legislature, to be divided between the county and the state.

The arguments for the amendment are centered around the contention that it is unfair and improper to require anyone to pay any sort of fee for exercising the privilege of voting. No informed person can argue that the poll tax in Texas is discriminatory. Any person otherwise qualified to vote can pay a poll tax, regardless of race, color or creed. And it is manifestly absurd to argue that any negligible number of people are so poor that the $1.75 a year for the poll tax works a serious hardship upon them. And it must be remembered that nearly

MANAGING EDITORS GROUP MEETS

Cooper Says AP Seeks To Give Accurate Picture Of America

FORT WORTH, Nov. 1 (AP) — The Associated Press strives to give foreign nations an accurate picture of life in the United States, Kent Cooper, executive director of the AP, said here today.

Cooper was in Fort Worth from New York, for the 16th annual meeting of the Associated Press Managing Editors association which opens tomorrow.

"We send a full picture of our life here to overseas papers," Cooper said in an interview. "That includes crime stories, because you can't paint a perfect picture and be an honest press association."

63 Foreign Nations Served

AP news now is received by more than 2,500 newspapers and radio stations in 63 foreign countries, Cooper said. About 3,200 U.S. newspapers and radio stations receive AP news from a leased wire network of more than 300,000 miles.

William P. Steven of the Minneapolis Tribune is president of the Managing Editors' association.

About 300 news executives of large and small newspapers from throughout the country will attend the sessions of the association. It is the first time the national meeting has been held in the Southwest. The meeting will open tomorrow with a report of the APMEA foreign news committee and close at noon Saturday.

Other Associated Press executives here for the meeting include Frank J. Starzel, general manager, and Alan J. Gould, executive editor.

Starzel reported that censorship was growing throughout the world. He said 1938 was "the last normal year," in world-wide newsgathering. "There is more censorship today than a year ago in many foreign countries," he said.

Gould said there was little chance of important news events being "bottled up" in Washington. "News has a better chance of seeing the light of day in Washington than anywhere else," he added.

Speakers will include Bert Andrews, chief correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune in Washington; Robert McLean, publisher of the Philadelphia Bulletin, and president of the Associated Press, and Larry Allen, AP correspondent, Warsaw, Poland.

$7,200,000 Housing Project Is Approved For Roswell Air Base

ROSWELL, N. M., Nov. 1 (INS) — Brig. Gen. C. S. Irvine, commanding officer of Walker Air Force base at Roswell, said today construction of an 800-unit housing project will begin immediately.

Irvine said the project was approved early today by Air Force Secretary W. Stuart Symington.

Contract for the $7,200,000 project was authorized by passage of the Wherry bill.

The B-29 base official said 450 homes will be built for enlisted personnel, 350 officers. The buildings will be based on 35 different floor plans, the general said, "to eliminate the project look."

Included in each dwelling unit will be gas heating, cooling systems, refrigerators, gas ranges, hot water heaters, washing machines, fire places and deep freezers.

United Homes, Inc., of Austin, Tex., has been designated project contractor and builder for the huge program.

Final plans will be drawn by the Federal Housing authority in Albuquerque, N. M.

PUBLIC'S OPINIONS OUTLINED

Industry Chiefs Told Business Has Failed In Public Relations

BY SAM DAWSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—Many businessmen are worrying again as to what kind of a reputation business has with the public. They say the public often has the wrong idea about them. Along comes a friend of business today to point out that if the public has the wrong idea, it's the businessman's own fault.

And others point out that businessmen love to foregather in conventions and spend much time, energy and sincerity in convincing themselves all over again that American business methods and ideals are okay—but they are just talking to themselves. A large part of the public yawns.

Business Public Relations Hit

Industrial leaders attending the National Foreign Trade convention here are told by Dr. Charles R. Wilson, chairman of the history department at Colgate university, that "business has failed miserably to develop public relations in any fundamental sense."

Here is what Dr. Wilson thinks you think about business. See if you agree.

1. The public believes business is indifferent to the United Nations, because it would deal a death blow to economic nationalism and tariff and currency controls.

2. The public thinks business is opposed to the reciprocal trade agreements.

3. The public believes that business favors the Marshall plan, but for the wrong reason—"to use public tax money to provide an assured market for surplus American production."

4. The public belives that business is unalterably opposed to the point four program for aid to underdeveloped areas — because business regards these places as its special plum.

5. The public believes that business is oposed to Communism, but again for the wrong reason—the public quotes the business leader who is reported to have said: "Well, one thing you can say for old Joe Stalin: He shoots his strikers."

6. The public belives that in its blind fear of the economics of Communism,' business favors backing every reactionary regime.

7. The public believes that business wishes a war with Russia because Communism is the mortal enemy of capitalism and stands in the way of American imperialism.

How does Dr. Wilson propose to cure these misconceptions?

Businessmen have got to get out of their offices, he contends, and meet the public in public by personal contact. He notes the country abounds with town meetings, councils, conferences and forums, where businessmen could be heard if they weren't so busy.

Farm Labor Shortage Reported Acute In Cochran County Area

MORTON, Nov. 1. (Special) — The scarcity of cotton boll pullers in the area has caused an acute situation here, announced Homer E. Thompson, county agent, today Three-fourths a bale of cotton an acre is open on local farms but no pullers are around to do the harvesting.

The Sunday night freeze stepped up cotton harvesting by increasing the open cotton on the stalk. About 60 per cent of the farmers have storm-proof cotton, so if Latin American workers are not available, cotton strippers would be able to go to work in several weeks in most of the storm-proof fields to replace the old hand method, the agent advised. It will not be difficult for an individual to harvest 15 bales daily by mechanical stripper method, he said.

The grades of cotton will be about the same as hand method if done properly, said Don Jones, superintendent of the experiment station at Lubbock.

Many farmers have not had the rank cotton before in Cochran county and are wondering what stripper results will be. The agent advised the farmers to see Max Bower's stripper attached to his tractor before preparing their own. The Bower farm is five miles east of here.

Bower has made some improvements by attaching shop made wings and one half a steel barrel with fenders to pick up the prone limbs and cotton stalks, preventing the wheels from jamming.

Burlington Officials To Visit Here Today

L. R. Capron, vice-president of the Burlington lines in Chicago, will arrive in Lubbock today for a tour of company facilities here, it has been announced by the local office.

He will be accompanied by several officials from the Fort Worth office, who will make the inspection tour with him.

Local Burlington directors Clifford B. Jones and Arch. S. Underwood will honor Capron tonight with a dinner at the Lubbock Country club. Chas. A. Guy, a third director, is out of town and will be unable to attend.

Officials from the state office at Fort Worth accompanying Capron are R. Wright Armstrong, vice-president; W. O. Frame, general manager; M. G. Monaghan, Amarillo, assistant general manager; C. S. Edmonds, traffic manager; and Y. E. Juge, assistant traffic manager.

Railroad Section Community To Be Named For Longview Publisher

LONGVIEW, Nov. 1—(AP)—A railroad section community near here is to be named for publisher Carl Estes of Longview.

The Longview News and Journal said J. P. Cowley of Galveston wrote the publisher the station's name will be changed from Woodall to Estes, effective Nov. 15. The action is in recognition of Estes' efforts to bring industry to this area.

Cowley is the vice president and general manager of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway Co.

Movie Planned About Poor Guy Whose Wife Rules Family As Hollywood Queen

BY LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 1. — Remember Janet Gaynor's sensational success in "A Star Is Born" in which Fredric March, a top flight movie hero, has to take a back seat when his wife, an unknown, climbs the Hollywood heights?

Well, Chester Erskine, whose "The Egg And I" has grossed nearly $7 million for Universal-International, has a new angle on that story. It's all about an ordinary guy, as Chester explains it, who tastes the bitter vetch when he becomes the spouse of a great movie star.

Erskine, who is calling his story, "My Wife, The Celebrity," has tagged it as the first picture to be made by his own company, for which Jan Blumenthal, former head of the defunct Enterprise studio, is furnishing the cash.

Cantor Plans Film

The long talked of life story of Eddie Cantor comes out in book form in the spring under the title of "Cantor's Life." Eddie says he will co-produce his biography as a picture next spring with whatever producer buys it. The Warner deal is off — but here's break number one for Eddie.

Sidney Skolsky, who gave Columbia the idea for "The Jolson Story" and wrote the first treatment, is scripting "Cantor's Life." I am told Hal Wallis is interested.

Eddie's experiences in the "Follies" when he apeared with so many old time favorites, and his many hit songs, should make good entertainment. But, who will be his Larry Parks?

Bergman Is Present

Roberto Rossellini, so the story goes, sent for Martinelli, the Metropolitan opera star, to discuss a picture assignment. Ingrid Bergman was present at the confernce.

Later, while the negotiations were still going on, Martinelli was asked by the Italian reporters how Bergman compared with Rossellini's former love, Anna Magnani.

"There is no comparison," the singer replied. "Magnani is a volcano, and Bergman, a cool fjord."

P. S.: Martinelli didn't get the job.

Plan European Trip

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Rosalind Russell and Freddie Brisson are really going to Europe. Freddie sent for his white tie and tails, and they have accepted an invitation to be present at the command performance.

Sister Kenny is in town. She came here especially to be present at Carl Brisson's opening at the Cocanut grove.

Tragic that the Richard Harts have separated and closed their Long Island home. Mrs. Hart gets the custody of the two children, one born only four months ago.

Sydney Chaplin, sr., and his wife having dinner with Oona and Charlie at La Rue. Syd told me that he's now taking life easy. He lives on the Riviera in winter and only works when he feels like it.

Mark and Annelle Stevens went on from La Rue to Ciro's to hear Sophie Tucker. I saw them happily dancing together.

At Ciro's, Alexander de Manziarly introduced me to Cecil Aubry. She's the young girl who is in Tyrone Power's picture, "Prince Of Foxes." She speaks English very well. She was with her father and Olly and Al Rockett.

Sophie Packs 'Em In

I have never seen such vitality as the Sophie Tucker has! Ciro's was packed to the doors to hear her. She always walks down from the stage and greets everyone personally, and then marches herself to the lobby to sell her book and records, the proceeds of which go to charity.

One reason Sophie's so good is because she changes her material every year. She sang the first risque song she ever sang only a few years ago. Today it's mild compared to some of her newer ones.

Ava Gardner dropped in at Mocambo and waited for Vic Damone, who was rehearsing, then they went on to the encore.

Damages Awarded To Levelland Child On 1948 Explosion Injury

An $8,750 agreed judgment growing out of a May 3, 1948, explosion injury to a 7-year-old child was on file in the 72nd district court of Judge Dan Blair Tuesday.

The damages, case was styled O. J. Rhodes and others against J. R. Fanning. Rhodes, step-father. Mrs. Rhodes, mother, and the child, Marvin Merrell Maples recovered court-apportioned sums.

The child, it had been pleaded, struck a match near a barrel of gasoline which agents of Fanning, a contractor, had set on the curbline near the child's home. The bung was not in the top of the barrel, it was pleaded.

The case was transferred on a plea of privilege from the 72nd district court of Hockley county.

New Nation Of Indonesia Soon To Take Place At World Table

BY J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The birth of a new nation, the United States of Indonesia, is expected to be announced at Hague today.

Although Dutch and British interests will continue as strong factors in the lives of these millions of people, the agreement will mark another step in the rapid trend toward emergence of politically immature areas from foreign control.

But also, while marking the end of one chapter of the troubles of Indonesia, it may open another just as desperate.

Dutch-Indonesia Are Partners

The agreement provides the framework of a government whose relation to the Netherlands bears many resemblances to the relation between India and Britain. The United States of Indonesia will be a partner of Holland under the crown, whereas India is a partner of Britain with the crown merely a symbol between them.

Actually there is a vast difference. For many years prior to India's independence the administration of civil affairs had been gradually shifted into Indian hands. Much Indian business was operated by Indians merely with British investment and advice.

The Indonesians are relatively inexperienced in both government and business.

Their more enlightened leaders thoroughly understand the importance of continued Dutch business administration and political advice. The Dutch, or many of them, are reported reconciled to the fact that from January on they will operate as business guests of the country rather than as proprietary overlords.

But on both sides there are extremists. Dutch who will continue to look on the Indonesians as "natives" and Indonesians who wish to expropriate Dutch property and "throw the foreigners out."

Outcome In Doubt

Many American observers in the area have expressed doubts of the outcome. Indonesia cannot be truly said to be united, except in the determination to cast off Dutch rule. There are Communists, Federationists, various breeds of Democrats and Socialists, and the group which since the war has played the puppet for the Dutch in areas not held by the revolutionaries.

There is fear that independence for Indonesia may bring what it brought to Burma—civil war between several contending factions, disruption of life and failure of supply of important materials in world trade.

Yet among Americans there is also a traditional exultation when peoples cut colonial ties and begin to stand on their own. There is memory that all life is born in travail, and of another civil war which ultimately served to unify a people.

13 Appointments To State Groups Listed

AUSTIN, Nov. 1. (U.P.) — Gov. Alan Shivers today announced 13 appointments to four state agencies.

They included:

State Board of Naturopathic examiners, a new board created by the last legislature — Drs. J. P. Knoblauch, San Antonio; J. M. Jerry, San Benito; Henry Schlichting, Midland; D. W. Miles, Houston; William O. Nance, Fort Worth, and J. G. W. Shepard, Houston.

Upper Red River flood control district—O. W. Stroup and E. W. Scheid, both of Quitaque, re-appointment, and C. L. Sloan, appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late J. S. Whaley, Memphis.

Teacher Retirement board of trustees—Allen H. Hughey, El Paso, re-appointed.

San Jacinto state park commissioners — Miss Mary Todd, Will Kendall and O. H. Carlisle, all of Houston.

Two Men Are Charged In Armed Robbery Of Woman Near Kilgore

LONGVIEW, Nov. 1. (AP)—Two men were charged with robbery with firearms today after $1,400 was taken from Mrs. Harley Mullinax at her home southeast of Kilgore last night.

Mrs. Mullinax said two men took 400 silver dollars and 10 $100 bills.

The men charged were listed as Neal Edgar Aeby and Sam Lanthrip. Both gave Dallas addresses. Officers still were looking for a third man. The money had not been recovered today.

Lanthrip's right arm was almost severed by a knife wound.

Girl Scout Leaders Group Meets Today

The first official all-together meeting of the Girl Scout Leaders club since the Brownie, Intermediate and Senior leaders voted to combine will be conducted at 9:30 a.m. today in O. L. Slaton Junior High school auditorium.

The meeting will be open to leaders, assistant leaders and troop committee members.

The second local broadcast in celebration of Girl Scout week, which is being observed this week, will be presented by troop 29 of Lubbock Girl Scouts, of which Mrs. R. E. Burnan is leader, at 7:15 p. m. today over KSEL. A 15-minute play, "Girl Scout Week", will be given.

Troop 44, of which Mrs. L. R. Lambert is leader, will present gifts of a set of dish towels and a picture of Juliette Low to the Girl Scout Little House Thursday afternoon. The troop will have a "cook-out", preparing food outside, late Thursday afternoon.

Troop 86, of which Mrs. C. L. Read is leader, planted tulip bulbs in front of the Little House Monday in celebration of Citizenship day.

Veteran Texas Newsman Dies

AUSTIN, Nov. 1. (AP)— William M. (Tudey) Thornton, 70, one of Texas' best known newsmen and capitol correspondent for The Dallas Morning News for 51 years, died at his home here this morning.

Although he had a heart ailment for several years, his death came unexpectedly. He worked yesterday and was feeling fine at his office where many a Texas governor, legislator, state employe and scores of friends have affectionately known him as "Tudey" throughout this century.

His acquaintanceship was statewide through his years here and through political reporting assignments that had carried him over Texas many times and from Philadelphia to San Francisco covering national political events.

Was Dean Of Capitol Press

He was considered and often referred to in the Capitol Press rooms as "Dean" of the Capitol Press corps.

His death came about 2:30 a. m. after he waked from his sleep with a pain he told his wife he had never had before. A doctor was called, but Thornton lapsed quickly into unconsciousness and death.

Thornton was a teen-aged University of Texas student when he went to work for the Galveston and Dallas News here following the death of his father, J. E. Thornton, in 1899. The Thorntons, father and son, represented the Galveston News and Dallas News for more than 70 years in Austin.

Thornton's entire newspaper career was headquartered from the state capitol. His first assignment was in the state Senate which remained his favorite beat throughout his lifetime.

Survivors include his wife; a daughter, Mrs. James E. Ferguson of Austin; granddaughter, Nancy Ferguson; a sister, Mrs. James P. Nash of Austin; and a brother, John E. Thornton of Dallas.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

Austrians have been awarded ten Nobel prizes: four for medicine and two each for physics, chemistry and peace work.

Reynolds Speeds Over Atlantic On New Global Flight

CHICAGO, Nov. 1 (INS) — Millionaire sportsman Milton Reynolds was reported over the Atlantic ocean tonight and running 37 minutes behind schedule in his 'round-the-world flight as the lone passenger oboard a record-seeking TWA Constellation.

Reynolds' flight manager Mike Hirsch reported in Chicago he had received a cable from the pen manufacturer who left New York this afternoon on the third leg of his globular flight.

Flew With Odom

Reynolds, who served as navigator when the late Bill Odom set the record for 'round-the-world flight, is the sole passenger aboard the TWA airliner which is attempting to establish a new commercial record of four days and 23 hours.

Hirsch said Reynolds reported the pilot is now racing against the clock on the hop to London to make up the time lost in departing from New York. The plane is scheduled to arrive in London at 12:50 a.m. (CST) tomorrow.

Heard Of Fatal Crash

The Chicago flight manager said Reynolds had heard about the tragic plane crash which cost 55 lives at Washington, D. C. today but that it would have no effect on the flight.

The millionaire manufacturer said he had flown over two million miles with American pilots and that he "isn't a bit afraid."

Reynolds embarked on the globe-circling flight at 11:15 p.m. (PST) last night from Los Angeles.

Mental Hygiene Group Back State Constitution Amendment

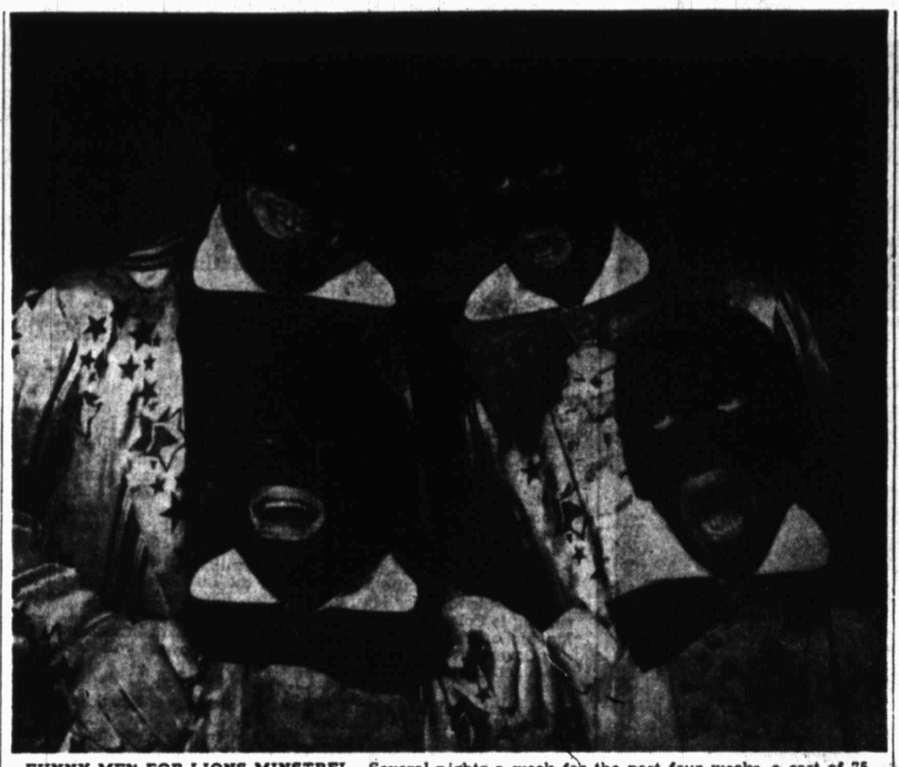

The executive council of the Lubbock County Mental Hygiene society will meet at 7:30 p. m. today in the study of Dr. Travis White in the First Christian church.

The group will make plans for the coming year's work and for a campaign supporting the proposed Texas constitutional amendment that would make it possible for a person to enter mental hospitals without jury trial.

Plans for the Nov. 15 meeting of the society also will be made. Dr. D. M. Wiggins is scheduled to speak at that meeting.

SHIPPED LOOT AWAY

MINNEAPOLIS, (U.P) — A 19-year-old admitted he stole six jackets and a topcoat and then shipped them 1,900 miles away to a friend at Seattle, Wash., Police said they would recover the loot if they could find it.

FUNNY MEN FOR LIONS MINSTREL—Several nights a week for the past four weeks, a cast of 75 members of the Lubbock Lions club has been rehearsing for the club's annual Jubilee Minstrels to be staged at Lubbock Senior High school auditorium, Nov 8 and 9. End men in the show are pictured above going through one of their numbers. Left to right, front row, are: W. D. (Dub) Rogers and Leon Harris; back row, Dr. Clyde Craig, director, and Floyd (Cotton) Thompson. Tickets for the show are on sale by Lions club members and at a booth in the lobby of the Hilton hotel.

Mysterious 'Theft' Of Fried Chicken Is Blamed On Dog

"Burglary" of the Wendell Deaton residence at 1010 Thirty-sixth has been solved.

Inasmuch as Mrs. Deaton planned to eat Sunday luncheon at her mother's residence, she left a platter of fried chicken on the table for a her husband, a police shortwave radio dispatcher.

Platter Is Clean

Deaton got off work at 3 p. m. and went home. Nothing to eat. The platter was clean. Not even a bone was in sight.

Deaton wondered why anyone would enter when his dog, a young cocker spaniel, was in the house.

The mystery resolved itself when Deaton pulled on his house-shoes Tuesday morning. There was a piece of chicken in one of them. Mr. and Mrs. Deaton began searching. They found more chicken here and there—"always where it would grease up the premises to best advantage."

The dog's name is Amber, which is about the only name Deaton admittedly failed to call her when he caught on to what had happened.

He ruefully recalled how he had spent leisure moments teaching her to "jump like a rabbit."

"I had discounted the dog," he said, "after noticing that no chairs were around the table. I didn't know she could jump that high—she never had before."

Chicago Checks Book 'Banned' By Houston

CHICAGO, Nov. 1. (U.P)— The head of the Chicago public schools today ordered an investigation of a textbook used in local high schools to determine if the book teaches un-American principles.

School Superintendent Herold C. Hunt said the book allegedly contains a reference to the United States as a "socialized democracy."

Hunt asked for a report after he learned that the book, "American Government," by Dr. Frank Abbott Magruder, had been "banned" in schools in Houston.

"If there are any statements in the book not in keeping with our way of life, we want to find it out," Hunt said.

Hunt said he was shocked when he learned that the Houston school board had "banned" the book, because it was a popular text when he taught civics 25 years ago.

County Jail At Houston May Be Used To Hold Federal Prisoners

HOUSTON, Nov. 1. (U.P) — The Harris county jail here may succeed the Wharton county jail as a federal prisoner depository, it was revealed today.

U. S. Marshal Clifton Carter said proper steps had already been taken, and that the move would be an economy device.

Carter estimated that savings would amount to between $5,000 and $7,000 annually if federal prisoners were kept here.

Transportation from Wharton to Houston for court hearings costs $30 a day, the marshal estimated, while that could be pared to $12 a day, including upkeep, if the prisoners were deposited in Houston.

Marshal Carter believed it would be a time-saver, too, since deputies now confined to making the 120-mile round-trip with prisoners would be released for other duties.

Carter said the Department of Justice in Washington has already approved the change, and that the decision now rested with Sheriff Buster Kern as to use of the county jail.

Ohio has nearly one thousand acres under greenhouse glass, which is more than that in any other state.

Civil Service Exams Offered For Nursing, Telephone Positions

U. S. Civil Service examinations now may be taken for staff nurse, head nurse, inspector, telephone operator and telephone supervision positions.

Nursing positions, open in Washington, throughout the U. S. and in Alaska and the Panama Canal Zone, pay for a staff nurse, $2,947 and for a head nurse, $3,727 a year. Applicants for staff nurse positions must have appropriate nurse training and experience and applicants for head nurse jobs must be registered graduate professional nurses at the time of appointment. However, applications will be accepted from non-registered nurses.

Inspector Posts Open

Inspector of strategic materials positions pay from $2,974 to $6,235. Work is at the bureau of federal supply in Washington. Applicants must have had technological experience in production, manufacture, mining or milling of: cordage fibres, metals and ores, mica, non-metallic materials, precious metals, oils, crude rubber or drugs.

Telephone operator positions pay from $2,284 to $2,498 and supervisors positions pay $2,724 a year. Openings are in various federal agencies in Washington. To qualify applicants must have had experience.

Age limit on positions is 62 years, except for those entitled to veteran preference.

Further information and applications may be obtained from Elmer Potts at Room 217 of the Lubbock Post Office building or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25. November 30 is the deadline for filing of applications for operator and inspector positions and Dec. 20 is the deadline for filing of applications for nursing jobs.

Arkansas Farmers Offer Cotton Picking Machines For Sale Here

Five Forrest City, Ark. farmers have offered possible aid to the cotton harvest here Tuesday as they put five picking machines on the market.

The Lubbock office of the TEC was notified by E. H. Simmons of Dallas that the machines were for sale by the men, who were forced to sell because of crop failure at Forrest City.

The five International machines, mounted on M-Farmall tractors are available for $5,500 each.

Anyone interested in purchasing a machine may get further information from the TEC office at 1114 Tenth street or telephone 4661.

ALARM CAME LATE

MINNEAPOLIS (U.P) — J. W. Snell thought an alarm clock for 35 cents was a bargain. He pulled out a bulging pocketbook and had it snatched out of his hands by the salesman. It contained $390. Sneller chased the thief but Sneller is 86 years old, not as speedy as he used to be.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

WOMEN will at last have the chance to become full citizens of Texas under the law if the amendment to the state constitution which will allow them to serve on juries is passed at the Nov. 8 election, Mrs. Sarah T. Hughes, district judge of Dallas, stated at the district B.-P. W. club meet in Pampa last weekend.

"Women receive all the benefits of government, they should also be allowed to share in the responsibilities of service," the dynamic judge added. "Women would be particularly valuable in serving on divorce, criminal and civil cases where a woman is involved and where the woman's point of view would help the administration of justice."

As Judge Hughes pointed out there has been a lot of nonsense about the amendment. It is not true that women would be taken from their home and family duties and the care of children would always be considered an adequate excuse by any judge. The cases where a jury is locked up in the courthouse overnight are so rare their number is negligible. And in such cases where this is necessary, adequate facilities would be supplied.

THE Woman's Angle thinks each woman who votes on the amendment should ask herself this one question: If we had jury service for women in Texas, would I be willing to serve? In a little unofficial survey we have made during the last several months we have been surprised to learn of the number of women who are not interested in jury service. Most of them said they supposed they would serve if there was no way out. Few have voiced interest in criminal trials; several have said if jury service is a step closer to getting rights for women under the Texas law they are for it.

EACH MORNING

THIS thoughtful bit of writing is from the editorial page of The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin:

Someone has written a book called "Life Begins at Forty." I rise to offer a substitute title, Mr. Author, "Life Begins Each Morning."

Whether one is 20, 40 or 60; whether one has succeeded, failed or just muddled along; whether yesterday was full or sub or storm, or one of those dull days with no weather at all, Life Begins Each Morning!

Life is a day—this day. All past days are gone past reviving. All days that still may come for you or me are veiled in the great mystery, and for all we know, may not be another for either of us. Therefore, this day is Life, and life begins anew with it.

THERE is no staged age or period of which it can be said: "Here is the dawn of life's day." Today is the dawn of that day. Take and use it as best you can, or as you choose. It is your life, and if you prefer to loll it away or waste it, that is your privilege, though it be unwise and unprofitable.

However after you have used gone days, you can start afresh each morning, if you so desire. You can use this day for consolidating past gains of spirit, brain and hand, or you can use it for tearing down the old structure of self and lying the foundation for a new building. Each night of life is a well between today and the last. Each morning is the open door to a new world—new vistas, new aims, new tryings.

The greatest fact of life is this, that it is never too late to start again. History overflows with startling examples of this truth. And if we had access to the vast number of unrecorded lives, we would find an overwhelming mass of supporting testimony.

However discovering your days may have been thus far, keep this thought burning brightly in your mind—Life Begins Each Morning!

Town Talk

MRS. DICK GREEN, 2914 Twenty-first, has as her houseguests this week, Mrs. S. P. Johnson, jr., of Roswell, N. M., and Mrs. Allen Bennett of Amarillo.

The visitors are cousins of Mrs. Marlin R. Smith.

Charles W. Bartlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Bartlett, sr., 2224 Fourteenth, has been pledged in Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity this fall at Southern Methodist university in Dallas.

Miss Virginia Engelken of Cincinnati, Ohio, was proclaimed winner of the Jean Arnot Reid award by the Association of Bank Women at a banquet held during the weekend as a part of the annual convention of the Association at the Hotel Fairmont in San Francisco.

Mrs. Bernice D. Parks, assistant treasurer and member of the corporation, The Provident Institution for Savings in the Town of Boston, was re-elected president of the Women's association.

Mrs. Gladys R. Nisbett, vice-president of the First State bank in Dumas, was elected to represent the Southwestern region, and was one of eight regional vice-presidents chosen by the association.

Mrs. Marvin McLarty, 2210 Eighteenth, will entertain today with a luncheon in the party room of the Lubbock Country club. The event is to honor Mrs. R. G. Porter, 2305 Seventeenth, who is moving to Colorado Springs, and Mrs. J. B. Inglis, of Attica, N. Y., Mr. McLarty's sister who is visiting relatives here in Lubbock.

Covers were laid for 24 guests, and fall flowers will decorate the luncheon tables.

The past week has been a big one for the Elmer Edwards family, which reside northeast of Lubbock.

First, Mr. Edwards returned Tuesday from a deer hunting expedition in Colorado. With him he brought a buck and a doe, which is his season's limit. He was accompanied on the trip by Curtis White of Center, Colo.

Second, the successful deer hunter celebrated a birthday Wednesday, and his wife entertained with a supper party for 30 guests honoring him.

And third, little Annetta Edwards, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwards, was crowned queen of the Idalou Grade school at a Saturday night Hallowe'en carnival.

At the guest day meeting of Ladies day at Lubbock Country club today, the Hiram Parks golf trophy will be awarded to women golfers of the club. Reservations are to be made for the meeting and 12:30 o'clock luncheon by calling the club.

Mrs. Parks of Brownfield and Lubbock will make the presentation at lunch, and acceptance will be by Mrs. E. S. Hall. The trophy will remain the property of the country club women for one year. Three times winner will make the award a permanent one.

Each Wednesday from May through October, members of the South Plains Women's Golf association have entered play for the trophy. The association is made up of golf women from Plainview, Levelland, Brownfield, Meadowbrook and Lubbock Country clubs. Lubbock Country club golfers were high point winners. Mrs. Hall is president of the Ladies association of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Wood, jr., of Denver, Colo., have announced the birth of their third son, Dennis Dickson. The child, who was born Monday in Denver, is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wood of Hotel Lubbock. His father, a graduate of Texas Technological college, is on the editorial staff of the Denver Post.

Art Week Observed By Club

A hobby show and exhibits of antiques, arts and crafts of members of Lubbock Woman's club were arranged at Lubbock Women's clubhouse, 2020 Broadway, Tuesday afternoon in observance of American Art week, Nov. 1-7. The week is sponsored by the American Artists Professional league, New York City, and is endorsed by the General Federation of Women's clubs.

Mesdames A. T. Cocanougher, Roy Bass, E. H. Boedeker, Claude Keeton, John W. Broome, sr., and W. M. Blake displayed their hobbies which included a cut glass collection, song writing, the making of corsages, hook rugs and pottery, arranging flowers and embroidering.

Glassware, Chinese articles, a shuttle, a flat iron, picture frames, and ancient rocks were among the antiques displayed by Mesdames G. A. Foote, J. L. Eaton, Rex Tynes, W. M. Blake, T. K. Martin, George Berry and Frank Gaines.

Mrs. E. L. Lansford and Mrs. Blake were in charge of the antique exhibit, Mrs. J. R. Weiss and Mrs. Cocanougher arranged the hobby show and Mrs. Fred Rea and Mrs. Martin arranged the art exhibit.

Afternoon speakers were Mrs. T. A. Niblack and Mrs. Berry, and the program topic was "Changing Family." Mrs. Niblack, in her talk on "Education as a Family Responsibility," said, "Today's children are confused because they are not taught what is right and what is wrong."

Mrs. Berry's subject was "Woman's Changing Status and Government's New Function." She spoke especially about the pride clubwomen should have in the new clubhouse on Broadway. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. B. H. Moore.

Work On Whitney Dam Project Continues Despite Picketing

HILLSBORO, Nov. 1—(AP)—Pickets appeared today at the Whitney dam project on the Brazos river today but work continued.

Officials of Local 622, AFL Carpenters union in Waco, said non-union carpenters had been hired on a bridge relocation job.

Union carpenters were ordered off the half-finished $42,000,000 job last week when the union charged the Massman Construction Co. of Kansas City was not paying union wages.

Union ironworkers and engineers were on the bridge job and the company said it hired union carpenters in other cities.

Plans Presented For Tech Music Building

Preliminary sketches for a new music building on the Texas Technological college campus were presented Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president, Tuesday afternoon.

Prepared by Russell Hedrick, college architect, the plans show a one-story structure with basement. Cost of the proposed building has not been relested. The Board of Directors is expected to take action on the music building at a meeting here next month, when they will consider several building projects.

As drawn by Hedrick, the music building would contain four faculty offices, a large choir practice room and a band room, three library rooms, and 19 individual practice rooms. Architecture would be of the same Spanish type as other buildings on the Tech campus.

Russell Hedrick is the brother of Wyatt Hedrick, who has been architect on several Tech buildings.

Navy Pilot Is Drowned As Jet Plane Plunges Into Pacific

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Nov. 1. (AP) —A screaming jet plane carried its Navy pilot into the sea today and for nearly four hours the supposedly sealed cockpit held the secret of his fate. He was taken out dead.

Desperate rescue workers had hoped the normally pressurized cabin was tight and that oxygen was keeping the pilot alive.

But a break in the submerged cabin had permitted water to enter. The naval air station public information office said death was from drowning.

Name of the victim was withheld pending notice to relatives.

The plane—a Navy training version of the Air Force's F-80 Shooting Star—hit the sea off the North Island Naval Air station and near the entrance to San Diego bay.

Reports from North Island said it apparently flipped over and the pilot was unable to open the submerged canopy.

The plane sank in about ten feet of water.

300 Persons Attend Tech Religious Meet

About 300 persons attended an Inter-religious council meeting Tuesday night at the Recreation hall at Texas Technological college. The meeting was part of Religious Emphasis Week, sponsored by the council.

The principal speaker at the meeting was Dr. W. Ferrin Stowe, pastor of the First Methodist church in Stillwater, Okla., whose subject was "Choosing Your Life Philosophy." Dr. Stowe told his audience that you do not find the good life, but make your own.

Miss Jane McCoy, Tech student from Lubbock, played a violin solo.

Dr. Stowe will speak again at 7:45 p.m. today at the same place. His topic tonight will be "Choosing Your Life Partner."

Amendment On Abolishing State's Poll Tax Is Included In Proposals

all of this money goes to the support of schools and for roads.

Another argument for it is that, if the individual states don't abolish the tax, the federal government will sooner or later. Some Texans have said they would prefer to attend to the job themselves.

But the objections to this amendment are many and serious.

Most people still would have to pay for the privilege of voting. They would pay at the time of registration instead of when they get their poll tax. It would involve more time, trouble and inconvenience to register than to get a poll tax receipt. And no one knows how high the registration fee eventually might be raised.

AT the present time, people over 60 and those suffering from certain disabilities are not required to pay a poll tax. They are given exemption certificates free. In most cases, one exemption certificate will be sufficient for a lifetime. They don't have to get a new one every year.

Under the amendment as proposed, these people would have to pay a registration fee; and they would have to register every year—a burden for elderly and handicapped people.

Party Affiliation Essential

Then, too, at the time of registration the individual would have to declare his political party affiliation. He would have to say whether he was a Democrat, Republican or what not, and he would be excluded from the primaries of any other party during the year.

This is widely regarded as a maneuver by the professional Democrat big shots to insure their continuance in power by reducing the possibility there might be a voter rebellion after registration time which might overthrow them.

This is a vicious amendment which would correct no evils; which would create the possibility of new ones; and which would make it more difficult, instead of less difficult, to qualify to vote.

NO. 5

An amendment authorizing the Legislature to pass laws for the creation and operation of city-county health units and to vote a tax in support thereof.

THIS amendment is closely related to No. 2, and the arguments for and against that proposition apply to this one. Cities and counties could pitch in together and, by a vote of the affected people, levy a tax up to 20 cents on the $100 of assessed valuation to create and support health units.

The argument for it is that it would mean better health protection. The chief argument against it is a question as to its necessity and the fact that the authority to levy new taxes is the temptation to levy them.

It is a matter of opinion as to which is best. From this viewpoint, it looks all right. But those who vote for, or against, No. 3 should vote the same way on No. 5. They go together and, in the opinion of many legislators, should have been submitted as one amendment.

Burglary Suspects

Ranger W. E. "Razz" Renfro and Highway Patrolman Robert Nelson.

The suspect, L. R. Moore, of 3508 North Sixth, allegedly aided Earl Leo and Lee Edward Lee Rader, 25-year-old twin brothers, in hijacking two Amarillo markets.

Two Arrested Here

The Rader brothers were taken into custody here Oct. 9, after West Coast police had broadcast an alert in this area. Moore was questioned briefly at that time and released.

Potter County Sheriff Paul Gaither and Chief Dep. Sheriff Murphy Hurd returned the prisoners to Amarillo shortly before midnight Tuesday.

18-year-old Lubbock negro woman in connection with the 7:15 p.m. stabbing of Willie Charles Wright, of 209 Eighteenth, also a negro.

Wright was taken to Chatman hospital with two knife wounds in his back, and one each in his right arm and right leg. Hospital attendants said his condition was satisfactory.

Police said Wright was wounded during an argument with the woman in front of a drugstore at Seventeenth and Ave. A. The woman, an expectant mother, was later released by police pending further inquiry into the case.

Thefts Are Probed

Theft of a $7.95 shirt jacket and a $40 pair of cowboy boots from Lubbock Bowling club, at 1113 Main, was included in Tuesday reports to law enforcement groups here.

At the same time, officials said, new complaints of "spook damage" in connection with Monday night's observance of Hallowe'en were received.

Window Smashed

A three-by-five-foot plate glass window was reported knocked out at 1810 Sixth. Complainant was Jesse James. A larger plate glass window was smashed at 2510 Taylor, at Sidney Johnson's grocery. A rock the size of a cantaloupe knocked a hole the size of a bushel basket, police said, and was found inside the store. No effort had been made to reach in and take candy and money from a cash register, store officials said.

Damage to a neon electric clock at the Wakefield Flower shop at 2406 Broadway also was reported. The sign's lettering was smashed by rocks or some instrument, it was reported, causing heavy damage.

The officials of the bowling club told police the boots taken belonged to Bob Brooks, the jacket from a Mr. Anderson. A $25 bike was reported stolen from Ernest Jones in Lubbock route 6.

Other thefts reported:

Fourteen sound amplifiers from Five-Point drive-in theater, owned by Preston Smith, state representative and theater owner here; a $34.50 radio from Mrs. N. S. McDaniel of 1808 Ave. J, from a business establishment in 700-block Thirteenth; two iron porch chairs from Mrs. W. E. Trammel of 2722 Twenty-ninth; four signs valued at $20 from Raymond Painter of 3003 Twenty-fourth and a $4 rural mail box.

A bale of cotton that fell off a truck was rolled to the corner of Seventeenth and Ave. Q and left for its owner, the police said.

Young Girl Arrested

A 17-year-old girl of 3500-block Twenty-seventh was arrested at 2 a. m. and ordered to report to juvenile officials today in connection with police charges that she was driver of a car that attempted to outdistance police officers in a wild chase in southwest Lubbock the night of Oct. 19. The car she was driving early today was recognized to be the same one, police said. In the chase, she allegedly ran a red light, jumped curbs and raced along stretches of front lawns, turning off her lights at one stage, in efforts to throw off pursuit.

An overcoat valued at $75 was taken from Charles R. Wilson, of Dallas, at a tourist court here, he said.

C. M. Fearn, 51, of 1618 Sixth, was arrested by sheriff's deputies on complaint of his wife that he threatened to do her bodily harm. The complaint was filed in the court of Justice of the Peace D. W. Robertson. A peace bond hearing in the case has been set for 9 a.m. today.

Area Couple Lose Race With Stork

This is a story of the race with the stork. And this time the stork won.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Carey, who reside in the Gordon community some 14 miles south of Slaton, last Thursday morning were racing to a Lubbock hospital where by prearranged plans Mrs. Carey was to have her baby.

Sir Stork had a different idea, however, and Mrs. Carey gave birth to Alvin Wayne, a plump 7 pound 12 ounce boy, even before the couple had reached Slaton.

Mother and son were taken on to Mercy hospital in Slaton, and were released Monday. Both were reported "doing fine."

Settlement Reached In Roofers Dispute

Lubbock roofers who walked off their jobs Friday in a protest walkout when their demand for a wage boost was turned down, will return to work today.

The announcement was made Tuesday night by C. J. Lightholder, business manager for the Building Construction and Trades council there, shortly after a meeting of Roofer's union members Tuesday night.

Lightholder said the roofers had voted to accept an agreement between union leaders and roofing contractors which was negotiated in a special meeting earlier in the day.

The agreement calls for a 12½-cent per hour wage boost for journeymen roofers, with a proportionate raise for apprentices, effective Dec. 2. The salary increase will give the journeymen a wage of $1.75 per hour.

Rollin Smith, International Roofer's association representative from Fort Worth, participated in the negotiations. He arrived by plane Tuesday morning, and was scheduled to return to Fort Worth today.

Hopes For Steel Strike End Soar

Illinois Operators association, declared the association is still standing with the national committee on negotiations. He added:

"There have been no changes."

Rumors have had an early settlement possible with Illinois coal producers.

May Force Peace

From Washington came hints of Federal Mediation Chief Cyrus S. Ching that he hopes to use the Bethlehem Steel settlement to force peace in both coal and steel.

Ching threw fuel on the blaze of optimism over the strikes by predicting other steel company settlements "pretty soon."

Favorable company reaction to the Bethlehem plan spurred hopes both coal and steel walkouts soon will crumble and loosen the strangle-hold on America's economy.

Murray said no contacts have been made with U. S. Steel Corp. directly. U. S. Steel, largest of the steel companies, usually has led the way. Benjamin Fairless, president of the U. S. Steel, has offered publicly to resume negotiations following the Bethlehem settlement.

Coal Talks Hinted

Ching also hinted he may call coal operators and Lewis' mine workers to Washington later this week for talks aimed at ending the walkout of 380,000 soft coal diggers.

Lewis' war council call came after resumption of coal negotiations with southern operators amid hopes that developments will spur progress.

Some sources thought more steel settlements might speed government intervention in the mine walkout.

Negotiations for a new coal contract have been under way for six months without any hint of a break.

Announcement Studied

Lewis' announcement did not indicate such a development is in prospect. Actually his language was nearer to a hint toward tightening of strike lines.

Said the typical cryptic Lewis message to UMW district presidents:

"The policy committee will exercise its discretionary powers in the authorization of further procedures."

There were a few more words but interest centered on this statement. Lewis has hinted that 100,000 of his diggers still in the pits might join the strike in his fight for more pay and more welfare benefits—yet unspecified.

The agreement between Murray's CIO United Steelworkers and Bethlehem, second largest steel company, called for free pensions from $65 to $100, including social security at a cost of about nine cents an hour per man.

Provisions Given

It also provided workers and company each pay two and one-half cents toward a social insurance program.

The total cost of about 14 cents an hour is four cents above the free pension and insurance peace package recommended by the presidential fact finding board.

Murray told a cheering throng of CIO convention delegates in Cleveland:

"I use this platform to invite the recalcitrant steel companies to come along now and negotiate a Bethlehem agreement with us. It now is the duty of the balance of the industry to settle.

Others Invited

"I can't see Benjamin F. Fairless (U. S. Steel president) in this audience and I can't see C. M. White of Republic in this audience. But I say to them: 'Come on, boys, it's your turn.'"

Jones & Laughlin, the nation's fourth largest steel producer, said it would meet with the union to arrange new negotiations.

Some 80,000 strike-idled Bethlehem workers began a gradual return to work. It will take a week or more to resume full production.

A comparison of the Bethlehem pact with findings of the President's board is difficult.

The board's proposal called for its 10 cent recommended total cost to be deducted from the amount of existing company benefits.

Figures Not Given

Bethlehem already had a company-paid pension program but neither company nor union has given accurate figures on amounts being paid in under the old plan.

The new agreement, briefly, is this:

Pension—Workers 65 years or over are guaranteed $100 monthly benefits after 25 years' service. After 20 years service, they would get $85 monthly, and after 15 years $65. The company pays the entire bill except for payments by workers into federal social security.

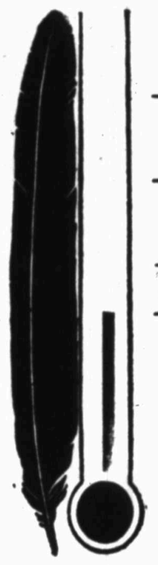

In the Bethlehem settlement was a possible guide to settling the strike of about 20,000 United Steelworkers against nine plants of the Aluminum Company of America.

The union leveled the same free pension and insurance demands against Alcoa.

the armed services."

Denfeld first heard of Sherman's appointment from his automobile driver, who had heard it over the car radio.

Capt. Walter Karig, Denfeld's public relations aide, said Denfeld had still not decided whether to accept Matthews' offer of "important new duties" or retire and fight administration policies from civilian life.

Karig said Denfeld expects to stay on the job for a number of weeks to "help Sherman get started."

Conference Held

White House news secretary Charles G. Ross announced appointment of the 54-year-old pioneer naval aviator and war hero following a brief conference between the President, Sherman and Matthews.

The announcement climaxed five days of suspense following the removal of Denfeld last Thursday.

Three years ago the new Navy chief was selected to draft the original unification law with Lt. Gen. Lauris Norstad of the Air Force.

In presenting the bill to Congress, Sherman said the Navy had "well grounded apprehensions" that unification, along with creation of a separate Air Force, might result in decimation of the Navy's aviation power.

Many naval officers feel that Sherman's observation has been borne out by Johnson's orders slashing the naval air arm, but the new chief reportedly disagrees.

Court Martial Seen

An immediate result of Sherman's appointment is expected to be a speedy court-martial of Capt. John G. Crommelin, war hero flyer. Crommelin inspired the congressional investigation by disclosing secret documents in which top admirals charged that unification policies were destroying Navy morale.

Denfeld backed Crommelin, who has been suspended. Sherman, a strict disciplinarian, is expected to order Crommelin to stand trial for unauthorized disclosure of classified material.

Sherman, like Norstad, is considered one of America's most brilliant officers.

Planned Offensive

A highly competent flyer and fleet commander, most of his war career was nevertheless confined to high-level planning of the U.S. offensive against Japan.

For his efforts he received the Navy Cross, Distinguished Service Medal, Legion of Merit, the Purple Heart and many other decorations.

As skipper of the ill-fated aircraft carrier Wasp, Sherman was in command when the gallant flattop was sunk by a Jap torpedo.

Jury Finds Engel Guilty Of Confidence Game Charges

CHICAGO, Nov. 1. (AP)— Sigmund (Sam) Engel, America's current No. 1 love swindler, was convicted today of a confidence game charge. He faces a possible prison sentence of one to 10 years.

The jury deliberated only about an hour in reaching a guilty verdict.

In closing arguments, opposing attorneys pictured Engel as a hardened swindler who bilked a trusting Chicago widow, and as simply a "bragging old man" who courted a "greedy young woman."

He was convicted of bilking Mrs. Reseda Corrigan, 39, of $8,700 after promising her marriage and a singing career in motion pictures. A motion for a new trial was set for Nov. 9.

Cooler Weather

forecaster said, since the Tuesday afternoon mercury in Lubbock hit a warm 78.

Low this morning is expected near 40, with today's high around 65, or 13 degrees cooler than Tuesday.

Low Thursday morning should be in the upper 30's, the Weatherman said, with Thursday night and Friday morning temperatures depending entirely on what that North Dakota cold front decides to do.

The Weatherman boiled it all down to this in his official forecast: Not so warm today, cooler tonight and a little colder Thursday and Thursday night. Not much chance of rain.

In between cold fronts, the Weatherman found time to paint October's weather picture with figures.

The month just expired posted an average temperature of 59, or two degrees below the 38-year average of 61. The average maximum was 72, the average low was 46.

October rainfall was 1.49 inches, or .80 below the average of 2.29 of all other Octobers back to 1911.

However, rainfall for the year through October totaled 28.93, far past the usual figure of 17.70 inches for the first 10 months. Average yearly rainfall at Lubbock, based on the 38-year record, is 19.15 inches.

Going back to temperatures, the highest posted during the month was 88 on Oct. 7, while the low was 25 on the last day of the month.

Although several frosts spotted the Plains during October, the 25-degree temperature on Oct. 31 was the first killing freeze of the year. It chopped off the growing season at 216 days after winter's last killing freeze on March 18. Average growing season for the Lubbock area is 212 days, according to State Experiment station records.

Mrs. Shea was charged with failure to grant right of way. Police said her car, westbound on Fourth was struck on the right front fender by the other vehicle as Mrs. Freeman attempted a left from Jackson onto Fourth.

TWO PERSONS INJURED IN HIGHWAY WRECK

An RAFB soldier and a Slaton businessman were hurt slightly when their cars collided on a curve of the Slaton-Lubbock highway near Slaton about 6 a.m. Tuesday.

They were: T/Sgt. Roy Dixon, 33, treated for minor injuries at the RAFB hospital, and Lewis T. (Chick) Garland, 61, Slaton grocer, who was treated at Mercy hospital in Slaton for head injuries. Dixon, driving to Lubbock, told highway patrolmen he was blinded by the lights of a third car which did not stop after the mishap. Garland was driving toward Slaton.

Cary Middlecoff Favored To Take Pinehurst Open Golf Tournament

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 1. (INS) First round of the 72-hole medal play at the 47th North and South Invitation Open golf tournament at Pinehurst will get underway tomorrow, following today's postponement because of rain.

Dr. Cary Middlecoff has been given the edge to take the professional-amateur field, including Sammy Snead and Johnny Palmer, two of the year's top money winners.

Middlecoff, National Open champion, copped the Pinehurst competition in 1945 to become the first amateur to win the tournament.

A former Memphis, Tenn., dentist, Middlecoff was recently signed as playing pro at the Ormand Beach, Fla., country club.

In the qualifying round for golfers not on the invited list, Tommy Wright, Kingsport, Tenn., pro, whipped over the 6,952-yard course with a five-under-par to lead 118 golfers vying for 50 open spots.

TWO SOLDIERS KILLED

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 1. (AP)— A collision of a car and city dump truck today took the lives of two young Lackland Air Force base soldiers. Dead were Cpl. Charles E. Russell of New York City and Pfc. David E. Todd of Timpson, Texas. Both were in their early twenties.

FINAL BILL SIGNED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. (AP) — President Truman today signed the last bill which had been awaiting his action from the first session of the 81st Congress. It confers jurisdiction on the U. S. Court of Claims to render judgment on claims of employes of the Alaska railroad for overtime work performed.

Fifty-Five Die In Plane Crash

three died then, near Port Deposit, Md. That, too, was an Eastern airliner.

The only aviation tragedy worse than today's came in 1933. The dirigible Akron carried 73 persons to their deaths in a storm off the New Jersey coast.

The Civilian Aeronautics administration gave this account of the crash:

Bridoux was making a test flight in a P-38, a twin-engined fighter plane recently purchased from the U.S.

As he headed back for the field, he was told by airport tower officials he would be second to come down—after the airliner had landed.

Bridoux was instructed to circle the field. But, said the CAA, Bridoux did not acknowledge the call, which was repeated.

Still he came on.

Fails To Act

The frantic tower officials told him to pull up, but he either failed to hear or to understand.

His plane and the airliner hurtled down at a spot where the Potomac almost touches the highway between Washington and Mount Vernon, George Washington's old home.

Less than a half mile away was the objective of both planes—the National airport.

The big plane, with its crew of four aboard, had left Boston in the morning, and had stopped in New York on its way to Washington and New Orleans.

It was due here shortly before noon.

Impact Is Terrific

The impact of the crash was so great that bodies were hurled more than 150 feet. Pieces of clothing hung from trees and bushes. A brief case had been broken open. Its contents were floating on the river.

On the river, too, floated the body of a baby.

And it was from the river that an Air Force sergeant rescued the Bolivian pilot.

The Bolling Air Force base is directly across the Potmac from the scene of the crash. Capt. William Lookadoo of the base said:

"The base sent crash boats to the scene. About 1,000 yards out from the shoreline, a man was seen treading water.

"He was sinking.

Pilot Rescued

"The man was pulled into the boat. He identified himself as the pilot of the P-38 and then fainted."

The Bolivian embassy said that Rios Bridoux—who had been in the U. S. for a training series at schools and air bases— is that country's top pilot.

Officials said he had planned to return to Bolivia with the plane two or three days ago, but had delayed for further tests.

Hospital officials said it had had been determined that Rios Bridoux did not have a fractured skull but that X-rays still had to be taken to see if his back is broken.

Guillermo Gutierrez, Bolivian ambassador, said he was present when Russell Potter of the Civil Aeronautics board staff interviewed Rios Bridoux.

Power Failure Reported

He said that Rios Bridoux said he was in radio contact with the tower but that his power was not constant.

Potter refused comment on the interview.

"A few scraps of information at this time would be very misleading," Potter said.

Willis F. Raymond, a witness said:

"It looked to me as though the airliner came up from underneath the smaller plane.

Suddenly things started flying apart in the air. The next thing there was a big splash in the water."

Wait For Speaker

Miss Hokinson was coming to Washington to address a meeting of Community Chest workers. They were seated at the table, waiting for her speech, when the news came of the tragedy.

Taylor was coming to Washington on business for his loan association. He is survived by a wife and three children.

Kennedy had been in the insurance business since 1944, when he resigned as head of Tammany.

Also on board the plane was Mrs. Isabel Velutini of Caracas, Venezuela. Her husband, Henrique Velutini, is president of a large textile mill there. She was en route to Washington to visit friends.

Sadly Shows Clipping

Philip Thompson, a cook at the Statler hotel, was waiting at the airport. Sadly he showed reporters a clipping from a Boston newspaper which told of a little girl winning a prize in a baby show.

The little girl, 18-months-old Maureen, and her mother, Mrs. Martha McCusky, were on board the plane. Mrs. McCusky was Thompson's sister.

"They were coming down to live with me," Thompson said. "I had just bought a home and this was the first time I had ever had plenty of room to take care of them."

Most of the bodies were taken either to the hospital in nearby Alexandria or to a hastily improvised morgue in the armory there.

The first two to be identified were Mrs. Velutini and Miss Helen Gilbert, the stewardess on the plane.

Second Collision Case

Ironically, the only other fatal accident Eastern had had this year also involved a collision.

On July 30, 12 passengers and three crew members aboard a DC-3 were killed near Chesterfield, N. J., in a collision with a Navy plane. The Civil Aeronautics bureau reported that the Navy pilot, who also was killed, was buzzing a Piper Cub when he ran his plane into the commercial craft.

In 1948, Eastern Air Line planes carried 1,998,785 passengers 990,208 miles with only three lives lost in two fatal accidents.

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo), chairman of the Senate Commerce committee, said he will demand a full report from the CAA on the crash.

He told a reporter the committee has urged that military planes be kept off the courses used by the commercial craft.

Johnson said this subject will be pursued further by the committee in an effort to prevent future accidents of this type.

Parts Scattered

iron fence and I stumbled across railroad tracks to get to the bank of the river. I noticed pieces of the plane scattered all around. There was metal for a quarter of a mile.

There were also blood-spattered pillows, women's purses, umbrellas, blankets and other things.

By this time some railroad workers arrived and we collected what personal items we could and put them in a pile and placed a man on guard.

By this time more than 500 people had arrived, along with ambulances and crash trucks. When I got to the plane, the forward portion was in the water. The tail was on land and it was smoldering.

There was great disorder, some of us helped the police clear the immediate area.

Then they began bringing the bodies in from the part of the plane that was in the water. The bodies were soaked, of course, and all the heads were battered, as though the passengers were thrown forward on impace with the ground.

YOUTHS ARE RELEASED

Two 14-year-old Lubbock youths, Richard Bush, of 2601 Twenty-fifth, and Dane Grant, of 3402 Twenty-first, were released Tuesday from St. Mary's hospital where they were taken Monday night after they had fallen from a car in the Green Acres addition to the city. X-rays and examination failed to reveal any serious injury to either of the boys, hospital attendants said.

CORN SLASH STUDIED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. (AP)— Farmers may be asked to cut corn plantings in 1950 to the smallest acreage since 1892 in a government move to prevent overproduction. Plans along this line were disclosed today by Agriculture department officials at a conference attended by agriculture college economists and farm extension leaders of the various states.

SHIP CAUGHT IN STORM

MANILA, Nov. 2 (Wednesday) (INS)—A typhoon struck the southern part of the Philippine archipelago today and one ship, caught in the storm, flashed an SOS. Globe wireless at Manila said an SOS was intercepted from the SS Governor Wright which radioed: "Our engine out of order. We caught in typhoon."

Thug Is Caught

try for him, Tatum boarded a bus to El Paso, arriving here last Sunday morning. He said he took a room in a small hotel, giving his name as Joe Parker.

Headed For Tulsa

After three days here, with only 20 cents left in his pocket, he started trying to figure a way to get to Tulsa, Tatum said.

As he walked the nearly deserted street, the FBI agents recognized him from his description: Six feet, one and a half inches tall, 158 pounds, brown eyes and brown, wavy hair.

They arrested him, pulled up the sleeves of his slipover sweater, and clinched the identification. On the inside of his left forearm was a tattooed pirate girl in shorts; the right forearm was scarred.

The FBI did not identify the agents who spotted Tatum and made the arrest.

Tatum is one of three notorious brothers. Frank is in the California penitentiary. Joe is in the Arizona prison.

Jack escaped the Douglas county jail at Minden, Nev., on Aug. 13. He had been held on a grand larceny charge. He was recaptured at Florence Junction, Ariz., on Sept. 20 and lodged in the jail at Phoenix.

Brown said Tatum will be arraigned here tomorrow before U. S. Commissioner Henry C. Clifton, then returned to Phoenix.

Stamp Collection Undamaged

One floor below this wreckage, apparently undamaged, was the Post Office department's stamp collection which one official said is worth $50,000,000.

Coy said the two women who had been found missing had been working on the building's top floor.

The commission chairman placed the number of firemen hurt at 10. Several were injured by the explosion that occurred after they reached the scene; others were overcome by smoke.

Coy said the exact number of others injured was not known but that Walter Davis, in charge of the docket section of the commission, was among them.

HST Sees Deficit

000 and marks the second consecutive year in the red.

The forecast deficit is greater than that of any peacetime fiscal year except the one which ended June 30, 1941, when outlays on the defense program led to a deficit of $6,159,000,000.

The biggest deficit before that was $4,425,000,000 recorded in the 12 months ended June 30, 1936, when the government was still "pump priming" to break through the depression.

In those days, the federal debt stood at about $36,000,000,000. The current deficit will increase a national debt already at the $256,000,000,000 level.

1950 COULD BE BOOM YEAR

Publishers Told Nation Could Talk Itself Into Depression

MINERAL WELLS, Nov. 1 (AP) — The way to bring about a depression is for the people of the United States to talk themselves into it, Arno H. Johnson, New York advertising executive, told the Southern Newspaper Publishers association convention here today.

Actually, Johnson told more than 350 newspaper publishers from 14 southern states, 1950 can be the biggest boom year since before the war.

During 1949, Johnson said, this country experienced a period of pessimism and fear of declining domestic markets and heavy unemployment that was "entirely unjustified by conditions."

People Reluctant To Buy

People, he continued, became hesitant to buy because of an apparent lack of confidence in the future or in anticipation of lower prices.

The extent to which the public held back, Johnson pointed out, is indicated by the fact that the nation's savings nearly doubled in the first half of 1949 over the same period a year ago. Savings this year, he said, were more than $16,000,000,000. Savings in 1940, he added, were only slightly more than $3,000,000,000.

Officers were elected and installed this morning with Clarence B. Hanson, jr., 41, a native of Georgia and since 1945 publisher of the Birmingham, Ala., News and Age-Herald, being named president to succeed Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, executive vice president of The Houston Post.

Other Officers Named

Other officers are Mrs. Hobby, chairman of the board; Myron G. Chambers, Knoxville, Tenn., News-Sentinel, Treasurer, and Walter C. Johnson, Chattanooga, Tenn., re-elected secretary-manager.

Named directors were Curtis De Lamar, Gadsen, Alabama Times; Hunter Jarreau, Alexandria, La., Town Talk; James H. Skewes, Meridian, Miss., Star; W. K. Hoyt, Winston-Salem, N. C., Journal-Sentinel; Frank Ahlgren, Memphis, Tenn., Commercial-Appeal, and Robert L. Smith, Charleston, W. Va., Gazette.

Resolutions were passed Tuesday testifying "firm faith in Democracy," and pledging "best effort to safeguard human rights in America."

Another resolution urged the holding to the "American way of life, without destructive radicalism and fantastic economies on the one hand and without blind and reactionary opposition to change and progress on the other."

The convention will close Wednesday after a cost and revenue study by E. C. Davis, of the Beaumont Enterprise-Journal, and reports on group conferences, a visual advertising presentation and the selection of a 1950 meeting place.

Funeral Services Are Set Today For Levelland Girl

LEVELLAND, Nov. 1 (Special)—Funeral services for Patsy Dianne Tugwell, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Tugwell of Levelland, will be conducted here at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at First Baptist church. Rev. J. H. Wright, pastor, will officiate, with burial in Levelland cemetery under direction of George C. Price Funeral home.

The girl, who died Sunday night at her residence after an illness of several months, was a student of Levelland Junior High school and a member of the First Baptist church.

Survivors include four brothers, Noel of Donaldson, Ark.; Harold of Boise, Idaho; Claude of Wichita Falls; and Donald of Levelland. Two sisters, Mrs. Lawrence Jackson of Long Beach, Calif., and Jean of Levelland, survive.

Dr. M. Norvel Young, assisted by Rev. W. F. Ferguson, officiated. Burial was held in the East Lawn cemetery.

Pallbearers were Roscoe Clark, Jim Bill Clark, Jack Boren, Raymond Tapp, Joe Shirley and Jere Booth.

Honorary pallbearers were Jimmy Smith, W. H. Melton, G. W. Cochran, Walter Vandiver, Harry Sharp, Roy Riddle, Woody Sylvester, Jim Bragg, Dr. L. M. Jones, E. R. Howell, I. M. Robinson, J. C. Powell, R. H. Forbes, Luke Rosamond, John L. Porter, Frank Kennedy and J. C. Sanders.

Rio Grande Valley Movie Shown By Texas Development Company

A Texas Development company film on the Rio Grande valley was shown Monday night to about 45 persons at the Hub Lee Tire company.

The film showed agriculture and industry in the land around McAllen, Mission and Edinburg. John Rich of Mission described activities in the area.

After the show, refreshments were served to guests at the home of Miss Maud Dee Sheen at 2319 Thirteenth street.

MEET THE WOMEN — Mrs. Alpha Hubbard, office manager and secretary for the law firm of Crenshaw, Dupree and Milam, has lived in Lubbock eight years and has been associated with the firm of attorneys all that time. She is a graduate of the University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky., and attended the Jefferson School of Law. She has been in legal work for 21 years. Mrs. Hubbard is a member of Altrusa and Business and Professional Women's clubs, Lubbock Woman's Forum, and the Art Institute. She is a member of First Baptist church. Her hobbies are interior decorating and music. Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard have one daughter, Martha Lou, a senior in Lubbock High school. Their residence is at 2220 Broadway. (Staff Photo.)

Whiteside Tells Of Canadian Dam Project At Lions Meeting

City Commissioner Clarence Whiteside, chairman of the Canadian River organizational committee, Tuesday refreshed the memories of members of the Lions club concerning the Canadian River Dam project.

He pointed out that the project has yet to receive dissenting vote although there has been what he termed "a little static from the Senate."

Problems immediately facing the committee include elections to form water districts, establishing contracting agencies and legal work, according to Whiteside.

Elmer Tarbox, program chairman, introduced the city commissioner.

Bill Davis introduced the following guests at the luncheon meeting in the Hilton Hotel; J. D. Hale, Roderick Parkinson, A. Siewiersky of Detroit, Raymond Lupfer, D. Echols and H. P. Clemons, superintendent of Whiteface schools.

Chuck Wilson, member of the Lubbock High School band, presented a trombone solo to the piano accompaniment of Ned Hardin.

Richard McCollum, Don Wortham, John Austin and Milton Herring presented a saxaphone quartet. Paul M. Brannon, director of the band, also attended the meeting.

Rev. Travis White gave the invocation and H. G. Denman presided.

Alexander the Great made his soldiers shave regularly so that their enemies could not grasp their beards.

Excavation Work Underway For Morton High School Gymnasium

MORTON, Nov. 1. (Special)—Excavation was in progress today for construction of a new $100,000 gymnasium building just north of Morton High school.

Pres. Raymond C. Ross and other members of the board of trustees awarded the job to BMFP Construction company recently. Bonds were voted last spring, said Carl Macon superintendent of schools.

The brick and tile structure will seat 1,250 when it is completed next August. It will contain two practice courts when the folding bleachers are closed and one regulation court when the bleachers are out.

The old gymnasium will be used by grade school children.

The new building will contain locker and dressing rooms, showers and other equipment expected to cost $15,000.

Texans Warn Houston May Take Over As Leading Port

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—(AP)—A group of Texans told New Yorkers today to watch their laurels as the nation's No. 1 port.

A delegation of 20 Texans here for the National Foreign Trade convention, held open house to extol the virtues of Houston and its port.

George K. Reeder, general manager of the Houston port and traffic bureau, said "little old Houston is growing up."

"We have a tremendous opportunity for growth, while some other ports we know have already achieved stability," he said.

The average length of life in the United States now is 67 years.

Puts a big "Gee!" in Gasoline!

Just match your present car against this husky, 135-HP Packard — for economy as well as performance!

Time was when car buyers had a choice between the smooth performance of a big, roadworthy car . . . and the gas economy of a light, low-powered car.

Then came Packard's advanced "free-breathing" engine design.

Now you can have the effortless smoothness of 135-HP performance . . . the relaxing security of two tons of husky roadweight—and, at the same time, enjoy a spectacular new brand of gasoline economy!

And the economy lasts and l-a-s-t-s . . . because Packard's mechanical life more than matches its long, distinctive style life. Remember: Of all the Packards built—in the last 50 years—more than 50% are still in service!

ASK THE MAN WHO OWNS ONE

Have you priced a Packard lately?

The fact is, you can buy a new 135-HP Packard Eight for less than you'd pay for many lower-powered, lighter-built eights—less, even, than they're asking for some of today's sixes. Come in—get the pleasant figures!

Court's Rulings On Labor Scored

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP) — The National Labor Relations board has protested to the Supreme court that it isn't getting a fair deal in the Fifth Circuit of Appeals which takes in six southern states.

The complaint is made by Solicitor General Philip B. Perlman in petitions appealing five labor cases from the appellate court. Perlman said the cases were not ones which ordinarily would be carried to the tribunal but would bring "to the court's attention the special seriousness of the board's enforcement problems in the court below."

Under the law, the labor board must go to the courts for enforcement orders.

Perlman cited what he called "a pattern of denial" of NLRB rights in the Fifth Appeals court and said the "inordinately large number" of labor cases before it "bodes ill" for those now in lower courts.

The Fifth Circuit court handles cases in Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and the Canal zone. It is headed by Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson, jr., of Houston, bitter critic of NLRB.

Hutcheson once complained in a speech of the "arrogance and tyrannical impatience" of the board and said it assumed the attitude that "if you persist in disagreeing with me, I'll tell the Supreme court and bring its wrath down on you."

Perlman submitted figures to the Supreme court which he said showed that NLRB has not fared as well in the Fifth circuit as in other appeals.

He said of 15 cases in the last two years, only three were enforced in full, five were set aside, six modified and one returned to a lower court. On the other hand, he said that all other circuits had enforced 38 of 50 cases in the same period.

The five cases which Perlman asked the Supreme court to review involved board orders against:

Wilson and Company's Cheese factory at Okolona, Miss.; The Atlanta Metallic Casket company; the Massey Gin and Machine works, inc.; the Mexia Textile Mills, Inc., and the Pool Manufacturing Co. No addresses were given in Perlman's petitions for the latter three firms.

Funeral Rites Are Held At Ralls For Farmer-Blacksmith

RALLS, Nov. 1. (Special)—Services for Tom Starch, Ralls resident for 32 years, were held at 3 p.m. today at the Ralls Methodist church, the Rev. W. R. Beaird, pastor, officiating.

Starch died in Spikes hospital here Monday. He had been engaged in farming and blacksmith work during his residence here. Burial was in Ralls cemetery under the direction of the Marr Funeral home.

'Family Only' Is Rule For Barkley, Hadley Ceremony

ST. LOUIS, Nov.1—(INS)—Vice President Alben Barkley and his attractive bride-to-be announced today that they will be married in a "family only" ceremony in the chapel of St. John's Methodist church in St. Louis Nov. 18.

The "Veep" and his fiancee, Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley, 38-year-old St. Louis widow, told newsmen the single-ring ceremony will be performed at 11 a.m. by Bishop Ivan Lee Holt. Assisting in the nuptials will be the Rev. Albea Godbold, pastor of St. John's.

No Outside Guests

The couple, whose courtship has captured the heart of the nation, said that only members of the immediate families will be admitted to the ceremony. "And that is all," Mrs. Hadley emphasized, adding:

"We want it to be just as simple and just as quiet as possible."

Plans for the wedding reception are incomplete.

And, like lovers the world over, the couple apparently are keeping secret their plans for a honeymoon trip.

At today's news conference, Mrs. Hadley wore the same gray wool dress she wore when she and the 71-year-old vice president announced their engagement Sunday night.

While reporters were assembling, Barkley paced the room impatiently and commented:

"I might as well pace the floor in anxiety now. I only have seventeen days left."

Incidentally, the "Veep" will celebrate a birthday six days after the ceremony on Nov. 24.

Vice President Barkley said he was leaving St. Louis tonight by plane for Pittsburgh en route to Washington, Pa., for a speech tomorrow and then will return to Washington, D. C.

When reporters commented that the travel schedule was strenuous, the vice president grinned and replied that he was known as the "iron man" of Kentucky when he was campaigning in his home state.

Brownfield Funeral Rites Are Held For R. V. Collum

BROWNFIELD, Nov. 1 (Special)—Funeral services for R. V. Collum, 39, Brownfield resident since 1945, were held at 2 p.m., today at the North Side Baptist church, the Rev. A. J. Franks, officiating.

Collum died Monday in Lubbock Memorial hospital of poliomelitis. He is survived by his wife and three children, living in Brownfield. Burial was in Terry County Memorial cemetery under the direction of the Brownfield Funeral home.

NO SHORTAGE SEEN FOR HOMES

West Texas Oil Fields May Be Re-Opened If Fuel Supply Lags

By WILLIAM B. HATCH
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 — A petroleum industry spokesman assured householders today that they'll get plenty of fuel oil this winter, but he conceded that prices might go up—"probably not drastically."

The spokesman said there might be a shortage of industrial fuel oil if the coal strike is prolonged and there is continued rapid conversion in industry from coal to oil.

James V. Brown, secretary of the National Petroleum council, was optimistic about the home oil-heating situation. He said that everywhere in the nation "there is an ample supply of light fuel oils, the type used for home heating."

No Repetition Seen

"There will be no repetition of the shortages of 1947 when the East Coast was hit by a coal strike and a shortage of fuel oil at the same time," Brown said. "That year there was no overall shortage of oil, but merely a dislocation of supply, due to transport difficulties and the fact that we were just coming out of the war period and our production was not up to its present level because of price and material controls."

Latest figures show that stocks of hometype fuel oils on the east coast totaled about 29 million barrels in mid-october. This is 2,500,000 barrels more than the total a year ago and nearly ten million barrels more than in 1947 when the eastern area was caught short.

West Coast Supply Low

The Midwest and Gulf Areas reported a similar increase in supplies. The West Coast was the only area reporting lower stocks. But Brown noted that "they don't burn much fuel oil there, anyway."

But the industrial fuel oil situation was not so promising.

Industrial stocks of oil in the East and Gulf Coast areas as of Oct. 15 were five million barrels less than a year ago. Midwest stocks were reported between three and four million barrels less than in 1948.

Both Brown and Carroll Fentress, retiring director of the Interior department's Oil and Gas division, expressed concern that industry might be caught short if the coal strike continues—especially since industry is rapidly converting from coal to oil and gas.

West Texas Oil Eyed

"If the rapid conversion of industry from coal to oil continues throughout the winter," Brown said, "we are likely to find ourselves in a tight pinch. We may have to reopen some of the West Texas oil fields, shut down now, or else depend heavily on imports of foreign industrial oil."

More home owners are converting to oil, too. The Fuel Oil And Oil Burner Weekly, a trade magazine, reported that during August, 70,388 oil burners were sold for home use. This represented a 49 per cent increase over the number sold in August, 1948.

As for prices, Brown said that "under normal circumstances, due to an increased demand, the price of most fuel oils should go up this winter, but probably not drastically."

Presbyterian Gifts Group To Meet Today

Members of the big gifts committee of First Presbyterian church will meet at a breakfast in the church basement at 7:30 p. m. today to sign pledge cards and map a financial campaign toward construction of a new sanctuary and remodeling of the present building into badly needed educational facilities.

Robert W. Wright, chairman of the committee, will preside at the breakfast this morning. Attendance of 30 to 40 members of the church is expected.

Plans for the building project are in progress by Henry Steinbomer, San Antonio architect. Construction is expected to begin when financing is completed.

San Antonio Mother Of Twins Sees Double Hallowe'en Spooks

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 1. (AP)—It was on the eerie night of Hallowe'en while young hobgobling were on the prowl.

There came a gentle rapping on the door. Mrs. Malcolm Gerth quickly picked up a prepared bag of candy, and opened the door.

"Trick or treat!"

"Ronald and Donald, come see the two goblins!"

Mrs. Gerth's two-year-old identical twins rushed to the door.

"What's your name?" Mrs. Gerth asked the cowboy spooks, about 3 years old.

"Ronald and Donald," they said.

They also were identical twins. Their parents, named McCarty, were visiting friends in the neighborhood.

Time passed and another rapping came to Mrs. Gerth's door.

"Trick or Treat!"

Two 10-year-old spooks accepted the candy. When Mrs. Gerth asked their names, they answered:

"I'm Ronald."

"I'm Donald Wilson. We're identical twins.

"It's an eerie night," said Mrs. Gerth.

Heifer is the modern spelling of two Anglo-Saxon words, heahfear, meaning "high ox", as the heifer seems to stand up extraordinarily high on her legs compared to a grown cow.

City Studies Plan To Finance Expansion

TUBERCULOSIS X-RAY PROGRAM BEGINS—Officers and members of Hub City Kiwanis club got a foretaste Tuesday of the free tuberculosis-testing X-ray program to be conducted today through Nov. 12. Here Jason Gordon, president of the club, is X-rayed as James Spears, vice-president, and Paul McLain, secretary, await their turn. The club and the Lubbock County Tuberculosis association are co-sponsors for the program, being given with equipment of the Texas State Health department. L. R. Bolette, health department employe, is giving the tests at the American Legion hall from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays. (Staff Photo.)

Rites Set Today For Fourth Crash Victim

HALE CENTER, Nov. 1. (Spl.). Funeral services for Robert Jackson (Uncle Bob) Ritchey, 69-year-old resident of near Hale Center, will be held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday in Hale Center First Methodist church. Burial will be in Hale center cemetery under direction of Roy G. Wood Funeral home.

Ritchey died Monday in Plainview hospital from injuries received in a headon collision near here Sunday. He was the fourth victim of the traffic accident.

Ritchey was born in Tennessee and moved to Hale Center from Albuquerque, N. M., in 1942.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. today at the Latin-American Full Gospel church, Lubbock, for Maregilde Gaytan, 50, of 221 Ave. P., Lubbock, his two-year-old daughter, Nuevens, and his brother-in-law, Grajorio Castillo, all killed in the same wreck that took the life of Ritchey.

Three other persons who were riding in the Gayton automobile when it collided with that driven by Ritchey are still in hospitals. They are Mrs. Gayton, 40, and her daughter, Agrora, 18, both in Plainview hospital; and Joe Martinez, 19, of Hondo, in Hale Center hospital. Martinez's condition was considered fair, hospital attendants said while Mrs. Gayton and her daughter are improving.

Mrs. Gayton is suffering from head injuries and possible internal injuries. Her daughter suffered an eye injury. Another daughter, Oriola, has been dismissed from the Hale Center hospital.

Gayton and the youngest child were killed outright.

EXAMS OFFERED AT LEGION HALL

Mobile Chest X-Ray Unit To Begin County Survey Today

Beginning at 9 a.m. today, a state mobile x-ray unit will begin giving free chest x-ray examinations at the American Legion hall to Lubbock county residents 15 years of age or older.

Examinations will be given from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. today, Thursday and Friday and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and will be given on the same schedule next week except that examinations will not be given on Armistice day.

Survey Made At Tech

The examinations in the downtown location follow an x-ray survey made at Texas Technological college last week.

Grimes Stewart, manager of Draughon's Business college and president of Lubbock Optimist club, will arrange for clerks and Women's clubs will furnish hostesses.

School buses from Idalou, New Deal and Frenship are to take high school students to the Legion hall at 10 a.m. today for examinations. Examination of school students will require only about an hour, and the general public also has been invited to report for examinations today and on any other days of the survey.

The county survey is sponsored by Lubbock County Tuberculosis association and Hub City Kiwanis club.

The examination shows whether tuberculosis is present.

WANT ECONOMY

MINNEAPOLIS, (U.P.) — Many Minnesotans feel it would be wise for the national government to cut spending, but there is strong opposition throughout the state to any reduction in funds for the armed forces or war veterans' benefits, according to a survey by the Minneapolis Tribune's Minnesota poll.

Lubbock Banks Buy Courthouse Bonds

The remaining $250,000 block of the $1,500,000 Lubbock county courthouse bond issue was purchased Tuesday in a joint action by the Lubbock National bank and the Citizen's National bank, county officials announced.

The bonds, earmarked for construction of another floor on the county jail building, are the first to be sold directly to local buyers, county Auditor J. W. Boyd said. The balance of the bonds, issued for construction of the main courthouse building between Main and Broadway on Texas, were handled by out-of-town brokerage houses.

By terms of Tuesday's sale, $89,000 in bonds will draw interest of 2 1/4 per cent for four years beginning Nov. 10, 1951, and 2 1/2 per cent thereafter until maturity in 1961. The balance of the bonds will draw a straight 2 1/2 per cent for the 10-year-period, Boyd said.

Two Fort Worth brokerage firms had entered bids for the bonds sold Tuesday, it was revealed. Interest on the bonds sold previously averaged slightly less than two per cent, Boyd said.

Sinking of the Alabama, Confederate cruiser which gave rise to the Alabama claims case, occurred on June 19, 1864.

$6 Million Bond Issue Proposed

A proposed $6,000,000,000 city bond election to finance a four-year expansion program was taken under advisement at a special meeting of the city commission Tuesday morning.

Members of the commission agreed to meet again at 10 a. m. Friday to discuss the proposal further,

The privately expressed consensus of the members was that bonds must be voted if Lubbock continues to grow. None would speculate, however, on the amount needed.

Needs Are Estimated

City Manager Steve Matthews estimated minimum needs for the four-year program at $6,035,000 if the commission approves large-scale extensions of the city limits which have been set for public hearing Nov. 29.

If the city limits are not extended, he said, a $3,260,000 bond issue will suffice for the needs of the areas now within the corporate boundaries of Lubbock.

The breakdown of needs as compiled by the city manager and R. L. Oldham, director of public works, follows:

	For present city	If limits extended
Water dept.	$1,735,000	$3,595,000
Sewage	1,160,000	1,665,000
Fire dept.	190,000	350,000
Storm sewers	350,000	500,000
Highway dispersal system	525,000	525,000
Paving	200,000	300,000
New swim pool	100,000	100,000
Total	$4,260,000	7,035,000

$1 Million Available

Approximately $1,000,000 is available from previous bond issues which could be applied on these improvements, the city manager said.

He proposed that the bonds, if

Former Gangster Touhy Drops Libel Suit, Banks $15,000

CHICAGO, Nov. 1 (INS) — Convict Roger Touhy today added $15,000 to his bank account without passing outside the barriers of the Stateville penitentiary at Joliet, Ill.

Touhy accepted the money to drop his libel suit against 20th Century-Fox Film Corp. and Balaban & Katz, exhibitor. The Illinois convict is serving a 99-year sentence for kidnapping and another 199-year term for prison break.

He originally sued for a half million dollars basing the action on the picture "Roger Touhy—Gangster." The film was produced by Fox and exhibited by Balaban & Katz.

Tech Group To Attend Meeting

Nearly 100 Tech students will leave Friday morning for Dallas to attend the Texas Baptist Student convention.

Late Tuesday 97 students had registered, and registrations for the convention were still being received, Ardelle Hallock, Tech Baptist student secretary, reported.

Theme of the convention is "Because Christ Loved." Speakers from throughout the Southern Baptist convention will be present for the gathering which will meet in the auditorium of the First Baptist church in Dallas.

Physicist To Speak

Among the speakers will be Dr. Raymond J. Seeger, nuclear physicist who worked in making the atomic bomb. He will give the principal address Saturday morning.

The keynote message of the opening session Friday night will be given by Jack Robinson, former Baylor university basketball player and a member of the 1949 championship Olympic basketball team. He is president of the Texas Baptist Student union and a student at Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary in Fort Worth.

Jan Berry, Tech junior from Lamesa, will assist in presiding at the Friday night session.

Other Speakers Named

Other speakers on the convention program include Dr. J. Howard Williams, Texas Baptist convention secretary; Dr. Hugh A. Brimm of the Southern Baptist inter-racial commission and Charles Wellborn, Southwestern seminary student.

Also on program are six choirs, from Baylor, Southwestern seminary, Hardin-Simmons university, Wayland college, East Texas Baptist college, and a negro choir from the Phillis Wheatley High school in Houston.

Dick Baker of Baylor university will direct song services at the convention.

To Convene Seminars

Gordon Mays and George Morris, Tech students, will convene seminars at the convention.

Among those directing seminar discussions will be Dr. Roy Crouch, professor of psychology at the University of Houston, Dr. Seeger, Dr. R. Lofton Hudson, psychiatrist of Shawnee, Okla., and members of the faculties of Southwestern seminary and Southern

Medical, Nursing Staff Is Inadequate

State Hospital At Abilene Is Firetrap

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series of on-the-spot stories about the state hospitals and special schools in Texas).

BY DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

ABILENE, Nov. 1—(AP)—More than 300 epileptic patients are living in six buildings plainly labeled "firetrap" at the Abilene State hospital.

These crumbling old dormitories were so tagged today by Dr. R. C. Rowell, superintendent, but anybody with eyes could see it. Four of the buildings are two story and basement structures with no fire escapes at all.

Two of them are three story and basement dormitories, each with two fire escapes. The fire escapes from the third floor of these are open metal troughs that slant downward at a 45 degree angle.

"All we could do in case of fire would be to load the patients on at the top and hope they got down safely," Dr. Rowell said.

To understand the situation better, you should know that many of these wards of the state are not only victims of epilepsy, but that they are feebleminded as well. Their muscular coordination is not good. Many of them would have to be removed from locked restraining cells before they could get to the fire escapes.

Stairs Are Dangerous

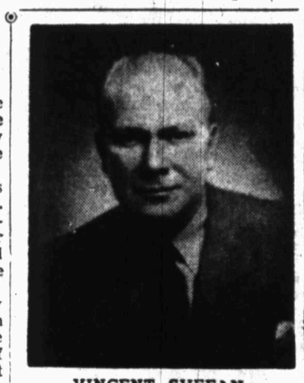

In four of the buildings, the only exit is a steep central staircase with slick steps where many patients slip, fall and injure themselves under normal conditions. These four buildings have brick walls, wooden floors, and kitchens in the basement.

The Abilene State hospital was opened in 1904. Its 1,351 patients range in age from six to 82. They are admitted here on a county court order after a doctor has sworn they are epileptic.

Epilepsy is a condition characterized by seizures commonly known as fits, caused by such conditions as birth injuries or brain tumors. There is one type of which the cause is not known. The function of the hospital is to cure insofar as possible, or to control the disease.

There are now a scant four doctors, or one per 300-plus pat-

Sheean To Speek On India At Tech Today

An address discussing India since the death of Mahatma Gandhi will be heard by Texas Tech students in the Green room of the Recreation hall at 6:45 p. m. today.

Vincent Sheean, internationally-known author and journalist, who is said to have been only 10 feet away at the time of the Indian leader's assassination in 1948, will deliver the address. It is Sheean's belief that India has the potential influence to settle East-West differences.

The 49-year-old lecturer was in India in January, 1948, to talk with Gandhi about the troubles confronting the latter's homeland. His stories based on interviews with the Indian were printed in several leading newspapers in this country.

Sheean's adddress was set at the early hour to avoid conflict with Religious Emphasis week programs currently being conducted in the recreation hall, Dean of Men James G. Allen said.

Members of the public may attend the lecture for $1.20 admission if there are seats left at the time the address begins, Dean Allen said.

Baptists Reject Government Aid

EL PASO, Nov. 1 (AP) — The exectuive board of the Baptist general convention of Texas tonight approved a recommendation to reject all state or federal aid offered to Baptist agencies and institutions.

The recommendation was made by J. Howard Williams of Dallas, executive secretary in his annual report. The report will be presented to the convention tomorrow evening for final approval.

The convention opened tonight. Meetings of the Baptist State Brotherhood and the Women's Missionary union today preceded it.

Longview Man Heads Group

Both groups named officers. The brotherhood elected Rev. Clifton W. Brannon, evangelist from Longview, Tex., president to succeed Judge Thomas J. Pitts of Odessa.

Mrs. R. L. Mathies of Dallas was elected president of the women's missionary union. She succeeds Mrs. Earl B. Smith of Mart.

The brotherhood chose F. Ivy Boggs of Dallas, first vice president, and T. Gordon Ryan of Fort Worth recording secretary.

Mrs. P. A. Patterson of Beaumont was reelected recording secretary by the missionary union, and Mrs. Joe Higginbotham, jr., of Dallas, was named assistant recording secretary.

Williams told the executive board:

"We recognize readily the need for expansion and enlargement on the part of all our institutions, and that the appeal of handouts of money might tempt those who were unmindful of the full significance of acceptance of such grants.

"Our Baptist position on this point is well known. It has been vindicated by history time and again. In this day when certain religious groups are making such inordinate demands for government aid, it would be nothing short of tragic for any of our institutions to weaken our testimony by accepting such aid."

Williams said Baptists were achieving unusual results in the field of evangelism when other denominations have experienced marked recessions in various phases of their work.

He said Baptist churches have

NEHRU URGES 'HUMAN APPROACH'

West Urged To Avoid 'Headon' Tactics In Dealing With Asia

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1—(INS)—India's touring prime minister cautioned the western world today to avoid its customary "headon tactics" in dealing with India and the rest of Asia.

Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, speaking before a jam packed throng in San Francisco's Fairmont hotel, urged the western powers to accept a "more indirect strategy" in its contacts with the East.

The political and spiritual heir of India's revered Mahatma Ghandi said "fear of the unknown" lies at the root of most world conflicts. He urged that westerners adopt "a human approach" and display tolerance and patience in dealing with the problems of Asia. He declared:

"If you want to influence India and Asia, you must use an indirect approach. We are sensitive and will accept anything if it is proferred in friendship and with human understanding."

The prime minister, nearing the conclusion of his inspirational tour of America, discussed briefly the problems with which he is confronted in his own land.

Democracy Moves Handicapped

Nehru said the achievement of democracy in India is handicapped by the "tremendous diversification" of her cultural background.

He said that while we of the west speak of freedom and equality, in some instances equality interferes with freedom. Nehru continued:

"Our problem in India is to adjust the two so they can work together. Considering the problem in the light of our masses, it is very difficult."

Nehru who will leave the bay area tomorrow morning for British Columbia spoke at a luncheon in his honor sponsored by the chamber of commerce and various groups interested in international affairs.

Denver Mother Jailed After Man Dies Of Knife Wounds

DENVER, Nov. 1. (AP)—A 21-year-old Denver mother was jailed today in connection with the fatal stabbing of Lloyd Griego, 31, Denver.

Police said Mrs. Victoria Castillo, mother of a three-weeks-old girl, admitted stabbing Greigo early today.

Mrs. Costillo told police she and Griego returned to the Washington street apartment about 1:30 a. m., from a neighborhood tavern.

The woman, also known as Victoria Griego, said she stabbed Griego in the left side with a butcher knife during an altercation in which he threatened her and slapped her in the face.

She said Griego grappled with her after the stabbing and both fell to the floor.

Mrs. Costillo said she screamed when she saw Griego was bleeding. A neighbor who heard her screams called police.

Griego was dead when police arrived.

Carnival Kings And Queens Are Crowned At Levelland

LEVELLAND, Nov. 1. (Special)—Crowning of the Carnival Kings and Queens climaxed a colorful Hallowe'en carnival in Levelland Junior High school auditorium last night.

Helen Starr and Glen Clarkson were named high school queen and king, and Marilyn Jean Ethridge and Mack Freeman were named Junior High queen and king. The high school queen and king were crowned by Clyde Walters, president of the student council, and the junior high queen and king were crowned by Dock Sewell, president of the freshman class.

Crown bearers were Jeanine Watson and Ikey Johnson.

Features on the program were selections by the high school band under direction of W. A. Wheeler, and songs and tap dances by Joan Garrison, Ann Dupre and Bonnie Rutherford. The Junior High chorus under direction of Mrs. Tom Sappington.

Value Of Drugs Are Easily Checked

New Test Expected To Speed Up Treatment Of Hay Fever

BY ROBERT N. SCHWARTZ
INS Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Nov. 1. — A simple series of tests which apparently take most of the guesswork out of treatment of hay fever and allergy victims and enable them to escape feeling like pin cushions, was announced today by three Northwestern university doctors.

The tests will determine quickly and accurately the potential value — if any — of the new anti-histamine drugs before they are used on hay fever and other allergy patients.

Designers of the test were Dr. Samuel Feinberg, associate professor of medicine at Northwestern university medical school, and two assistants, Drs. Ellis A. Canterbury and Harold B. Lovejoy.

Doctor Explains Test

Dr. Feinberg said he applied anti-histamine (allergy combatting) solutions to scratches made on the backs of patients. Later, the solutions were removed and histamine (the chemical released in allergy) was applied to the same scratches.

"If the histamine solution produced a skin irritation," added Dr. Feinberg, "it indicated that particular anti-histamine drug was not very effective. If it did not, we had an effective drug for some particular type of allergy."

Dr. Feinberg and his co-workers recently found that persons with hay fever and other allergies are invariably sensitive in certain areas of the skin.

Drugs Reduce Sensitivity

Working from this, they learned that effective anti-histamine drugs when applied to these areas of the skin reduced the degree and area of sensitvity. This remained true even after the allergy-stimulating histamine solutions were applied to the area.

Dr. Fienberg declared:

"We found that different anti-histamine preparations showed varying degrees of success in inhibiting histamine. Some of the variation, of course, depended upon whether the drug was administered on the skin — as were the tests — or taken internally.

Test Period Reduced

"However, actual clinical use of the drugs agreed in a majority of cases with the information we obtained through the skin tests. That is, the drugs which proved most effective in the tests, were also most effective clinically."

Dr. Feinberg explained the value of the test this way:

"Clinical trial consumes a long period of time and requires a large number of patients. In addition, variations such as the amount of pollen in the air, the season, the locale and even the individual doctor's attitude may influence the result."

He added that with the new tests, much of the guesswork can be taken out of the job of determining which drug is best suited to the particular patient without going through a laborious — and for the patient painful — trial-and-error period.

KWANGSI PROVINCE THREATENED

Chinese Communist Troops Open Drive Into Nationalist Bastion

CHUNGKING, Nov. 1. (AP)—Chinese Communist troops have invaded Kwangsi province from the north and are pressing toward that Nationalist stronghold from the east, the defense ministry said today.

The long-expected thrust into Kwangsi appeared to be on a minor scale so far. But the main bodies of Red forces were moving up to the jump-off spot used by the Japanese in their drive in 1944 which overran U. S. air bases in that South China province.

This point is the north bank of the Yellow Sand river near Tungan, captured railway city 90 miles northeast of Kweilin, Kwangsi capital. Martial law was proclaimed in Kweilin.

The ministry said minor skirmishes had occurred between the invaders on the river and the forces of Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi, who has withdrawn his 200,000-man army into his native Kwangsi.

The ministry admitted a new peril, to Kwangsi was arising on the east. Here the Communist conquerors of Canton are moving westward.

The ministry said the Reds had captured Loting, a highway town only 25 miles from the border of Kweilin and 175 miles southwest of Canton.

A ministry spokesman said this might be the start of a Communist attempt to strike into southern Kwangsi and outflank Pai's forces on the front around Kweilin.

Offsetting these reversals, the Nationalists asserted they had blunted an attack by 20,000 Communists near Fenghwang, 210 miles southeast of Chungkin-

Oklahoma Archers To Stage Deer Hunt

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 1. (U.P.)— Dozens of Oklahoma archers tuned up their primitive weapons today to battle tomorrow with that elusive creature of the forest — the deer.

The Camp Gruber area in the Cookson hills area of eastern Oklahoma has been declared out-of-bounds for the modern huntsmen who kill with guns. The bow-and-arrow boys will have 16,000 acres all to themselves.

The archers will be led by the president of the Oklahoma Bow Hunters association, Ralph Hedrick, Oklahoma City, who predicts that nearly 100 members of the group will invade the area during the five-day season.

Hedrick said he expects the archers to do better than they did the past two years when they failed to bag a single deer. The Game and Fish commission is giving them a "break" this year by allowing them a special area.

Last year they hunted after the gunners had cleaned out the game.

Hedrick reported there are 400 to 600 deer in the Camp Gruber area.

The archers will be required—along with the gunners → to wear a topcoat of red, although they would prefer to wear camouflaged garments to stalk the prey. The limit is one deer per hunter.

By the year 5362451, the 14,406-foot Mount Rainier will have shrunk to the size of a molehill, according to a scientist.

Port Arthur May Get Armstrong University

PORT ARTHUR, Nov. 1. (AP) — George W. Armstrong, 84, of Mississippi and Fort Worth was in Port Arthur today conferring about improvements on a tract of land he owns east of the city.

It is on this land Armstrong said he might establish a university to be named for himself. Armstrong offered an endowment of $50 million to Jefferson Military college conditioned on the school's incorporating his ideas of "white supremacy." The school turned it down.

Of his own school, he said I'll organize the school and put in any stipulations I want." He mentioned both Port Arthur and Fort Worth as sites for the university.

He was conferring with drainage officials here regarding improvement of his land here. He acquired the land, consisting of several hundred acres, as site for Texas Steel mill which he operated during the war. The mills has been idle for several years.

Armstrong indicated to Chamber of commerce manager Bob Blanton he may revive the mill if plans for the college fail to materialize.

Fort Worth Population Gains 509 Residents In October

FORT WORTH, Nov. 1—(U.P.)— Estimated population of Fort Worth showed a gain of 509 residents in October, bringing the total figure to 273,469, The chamber of commerce research department reported today.

Metropolitan Fort Worth showed a gain of 782 persons for an estimated 343,465.

Notre Dame Leads AP Poll

Baylor Climbs To Sixth Place

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Two new teams, Southern Methodist and Michigan State, elbowed their way into college football's "first ten" today and one of them, Michigan State, took an immediate bead on the No. 1 spot held by Notre Dame.

The Fighting Irish, who are making a near runaway of the race for national honors, move over to East Lansing, Mich., Saturday for a game with the Spartans, now tenth in the ranking.

Southern Methodist is an old established tenant which just moved out after bowing to Rice, 41-27. Subsequent victories over Kentucky and Texas returned the Mustangs to national favor again and they jumped in and took over the No. 9 spot.

Gophers Drop

Evicted as a result of these maneuverings were Minnesota, which plummeted from seventh to nowhere after bowing to Purdue, 13-7, and Pennsylvania, a 22-21, last minute loser to Pitt. Penn fell from ninth to a tie with Fordham for 20th.

Notre Dame, Army, Oklahoma and California, all amassing more than 1,000 points in the AP nationwide poll of sports writers and broadcasters, continued to set the pace in just the order named.

Then followed Michigan, Baylor, Cornell, Rice, SMU and Michigan State, just like that.

Baylor jumped from tenth to sixth after making Texas Christian its sixth victim, 40-14. Cornell graduated one rung.

Notre Dame drew 133 of the 161 first place votes cast for a total of 1,569 points. The points are awarded on the basis of ten for a first-place vote, nine for second, etc.

Army gets a test Saturday in Fordham, unbeaten and of unknown strength. Oklahoma plays at Kansas State and California is host to Washington State.

The total vote. (First-place votes in parentheses):

1.	Notre Dame (133)	1,569
2.	Army (10)	1,323
3.	Oklahoma (11)	1,308
4.	California (4)	1,070
5.	Michigan	625
6.	Baylor	591
7.	Cornell (1)	484
8.	Rice	447
9.	Southern Methodist	269
10.	Michigan State (2)	249

The second ten—11. Ohio State, 218; 12. Southern California, 110; 13. Kentucky, 75; 14. Tennessee, 57; 15. Iowa, 54; 16. Duke, 48; 17. Louisiana State, 38; 18. Boston university, 36; 19. Virginia, 34; 20. Pennsylvania and Fordham, each 28.

Others receiving more than one vote: Santa Clara 27; Tulane 26, Pittsburgh 23; Texas 17; Minnesota 15; College of Pacific 13; Purdue 12; North Carolina 11; Wyoming 9; Missouri 7; Wake Forest and Maryland, each 6; Dartmouth 5; Vanderbilt and Villanova, each 4; UCLA and Wisconsin, each 3; Alabama 2.

Burk Has SWC's Best Completion Average

DALLAS, Nov. 1. (AP)—Baylor's Adrian Burk, the lad with the undefeated team, looked like the hottest single item today in Southwest conference individual statistics.

The Henderson gridiron star boasted a phenomenal .639 completion average on 69 out of 108 aerials and he moved in closer to the conference leaders, Lindy Berry of TCU and Texas' Paul Campbell, who still held the edge in total offense and passing gains.

Playing against Berry last week, Burk hit 11 of 19 for 192 yards. That gave him 869 yards on passes compared with 1,047 for Berry and 996 for Campbell. And Burk has played one less game.

Campbell and Burk will be firing against each other at Austin Saturday while Berry's team idles.

On total offense, Berry has 1,169 yards on 236 plays, Campbell 940 on 152 plays and Burk 826 on 122 plays. Both Burk and Campbell are in the "minus" division on rushing, Campbell by 56 yards, Burk by 43.

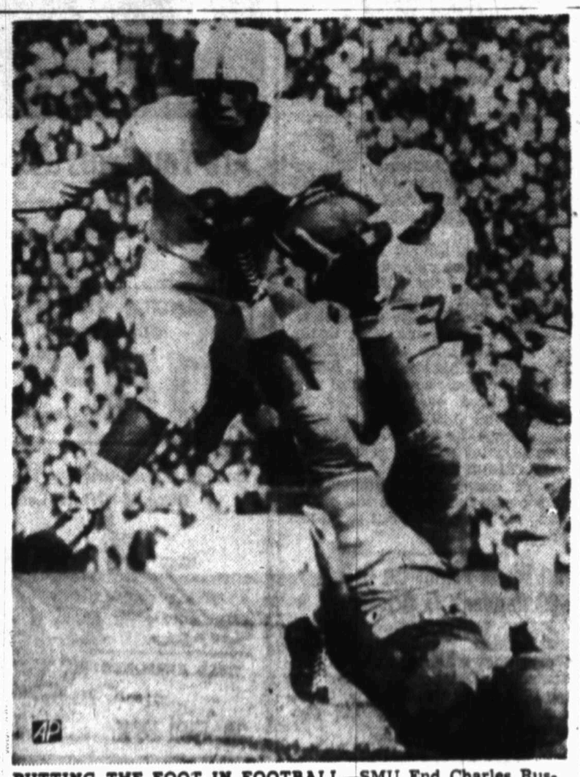

Burk has tossed 10 touchdown passes, Berry eight, Campbell four.

On the receiving end of the aerials, another nip-and-tuck fight goes on. Texas' Ben Proctor has caught 28 for 439 yards, TCU's Morris Bailey 29 for 417 and Baylor's J. D. Ison 29 for 304 yards.

Bob Smith of Texas A. & M. held the rushing lead with 451 yards, with Randall Clay of Texas moving into second place at 398 yards past the idle Leon Campbell of Arkansas.

SMU's Kyle Rote led the punters with a 44-yard average, followed by TCU's Jimmy Hickey at 40.6 yards.

Shed A Tear For Poor Notre Dame

Irish Lack 'Good Boys' For Platoon System

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 1. — Shed a tear for poor Notre Dame and make a quick recount on those five straight triumphs, for Athletic Director Ed (Moose) Krause disclosed today that the Fighting Irish don't use the platoon system "because we don't have that many good boys on our squad."

That must come as quite a surprise to such groggy victims as Indiana, Washington, Purdue, Tulane and Navy. But you can discount some of the Gaelic gloom.

'Eastern Worrying Agent'

Krause, a hangover — or should it be holdover?—from the South Benders' sinking of Navy at Baltimore, was acting as Coach Frank Leahy's Eastern worrying agent. He proved a capable replacement for the ever-weeping Francis.

It taxed even the capable Moose to find something which would still the New York praise, but he made a game effort by pointing out that three men — End Leon Hart and Tackles Jim Martin and Bob Toneff — play both offense and defense. After all, there are only 75 on the squad.

Even Moose had to admit that those three are pretty fair country ball players. Toneff, a 232-pounder from Barberton, O., has blocked five enemy punts this season.

"Yes, he will be a fine player some day," Krause admitted cautiously.

As for Martin, the Cleveland giant, and Hart, the 245-pounder from Turtle Creek, Pa., Krause confessed that they, too, were "comers." Martin was an end last season but he was shifted to tackle this season.

Risking the wrath of Leahy, Krause admitted that the Notre Dame backfield was "pretty fair."

"Emil Sitko and Larry Coutre were outstanding against Navy and Ernie Zalejski has been approaching expectations," the Moose muttered apprehensively. "One of the finest developments has been that of quarterback Bobby Williams."

Krause credited Williams' progress to the use of the "picture huddle" in which the team forms two tight lines "as if sitting for a family portrait." Williams then walks up facing them and gives his orders.

"That means there is no more debating in the huddle," Krause said. "Through its use, Williams has developed poise — probably because he doesn't have to listen to a lot of chatter."

Saves Time

On top of which, he explained, the time saved permits Notre Dame to run about 10 to 15 more plays per game, a feature which causes increasing distress to rival defenders.

Krause, asked how he rated this Notre Dame team, gave Leahy's own answer.

"Frank is an optimistic kind of person," Moose replied with the barest trace of humorous sarcasm. "He said he didn't know for sure. Then they asked him how he would rate it if it kept winning the way it has been. Leahy said he thought it might be pretty good by the end of the season."

Then why doesn't he tell the team? Well, in Leahy's own words:

"The feeling might permeate the squad and deterioration might set in!

Lubbock-Odessa Reservations Must Be Claimed By Thursday

The ticket stack at Lubbock High school has dwindled to almost nothing, E. J. Lowrey reported Tuesday night, and only 135-150 envelopes containing ducats for the Nov. 11 contest at Odessa between the Bronchos and Westerners remain.

A final check of the number of ducats received from Odessa indicate that 5,615 adult admissions were obtained, with approximately 3,615 being reserved seats. With the student admissions figured in, the total alloted for Lubbock fans comes to 7,115.

Deadline for picking up reserved tickets is Thursday noon, after which time those remaining will go on general sale. Lowrey said there would be no refund on tickets sold.

A sellout crowd of 21,662 persons is expected for the Armistice day game, with bleachers being added in the end zones and along the cinder track to accommodate more fans.

Normal seating capacity for the steel and wooden grandstands is approximately 17,000.

The largest crowd in the history of Odessa is expected for the game.

Justice, Walker Don't Fear Irish

DALLAS, Nov. 1—(AP)—The Nation's two best known backs, both of whom face Notre Dame in top rated games, agreed in refusing to fear the big, bad Irish.

Charlie Justice of North Carolina and Doak Walker of Southern Methodist were asked identical questions in separate Associated Press interviews and came up with almost parallel answers.

Both replied "NO" when asked if they were afraid to face the college football juggernaut.

As for concern over their personal fame, said Justice: "I'm not even thinking about hurting my reputation." Said Walker: "Win or lose, if you try your best that's all that can be expected of any ball player."

Both Games Sellouts

North Carolina plays Notre Dame in Yankee Stadium, New York, Nov. 12. Southern Methodist meets the Irish in the Cotton Bowl, Dallas, Dec. 3. Both games are 75,000 sellouts.

The two famous backs are amazingly alike. Both won all-America honors in 1948 (and Walker in 1947 as well). Each is modest and soft-spoken with photogenic faces unscarred by football. Each is slight, almost delicate in appearance as football players go—Justice stands 5-9, weighs 170; Walker is an inch taller, weighs five pounds less. Both run, pass, and punt although the modern football trend is towards specialization. And each admires the other.

Neither has ever played against Notre Dame, nor even seen the Irish play.

Style Of Play To Help

Here are the questions and answers:

How do you think you as a player will do against Notre Dame? Dame? Justice: "Unless we're injured and make a lot of mistakes, we'll give them a good game. I can't see how anyone can beat Notre Dame—they've got so much power." Walker: "We'll be a little different from what Notre Dame has been meeting."

How do think you as a player will do against Notre Dame?

Justice: If the team has a good day, everyone has a good day. One man can't do everything by himself." Walker: If you're good it's because of 10 other guys."

Ponies "Not Afraid"

Are you afraid? Justice: "No. I don't mind getting hit hard if it's legal." Walker: "No. It wouldn't be right to be afraid of anyone."

Is the team afraid? "No. We're worried about Notre Dame and thinking a lot about 'em." Walker: "No—but we may be afterwards. But not to begin with."

Can Notre Dame be beat? Justice: "It would take a mighty good club to do it. Notre Dame could have an off day, of course." Walker: "Any ball club can be beat."

What will it take to beat Notre Dame? Justice: "A team with a lot of fight and hustle, and a good running and passing attack. It can't be afraid of 'em." Walker: "A lot of determination and getting ready for the ball game."

Do you want to predict the score? Justice: "No—I never do that." Walker: "No—that's not my line."

Underdog Fordham Will Try To 'Out-Platoon' Army Saturday

NEW YORK, Nov. 1. (AP)—Fordham will try to "out-platoon" Army, the most successful platoon specialists in football, when the two unbeaten Eastern teams collide Saturday at West Point.

Ed Danowski, who guides the destinies of the intriguing Rams, is not satisfied with just separate offensive and defensive units. He has a special kickoff unit, a special one to receive kickoffs and another combination when place kicking. That's five in all.

Such finagling is carried on with 30 regulars and an occasional dip into a storehouse of some 15 reserves.

Earl (Red) Blaik, who coaches Army, has indicated he will put some 55 men in uniform for the fray and give the customers a good show of platooning himself.

Tech Spirit Is High For Tilt

Enthusiasm was high at Texas Tech football practice Tuesday as the Red Raiders drilled for their forthcoming tilt with Texas Western Saturday night in El Paso.

The tilt will be the third conference start for the Raiders, who defeated West Texas State and Arizona in previous Border Conference tilts. Last week Western lost to Hardin-Simmons by a top-heavy margin and are needing a conference victory to stay in the race.

Concentration in practice yesterday was on defensive patterns against Texas Western plays as run by freshmen and other players.

There was no heavy scrimmaging as Coach Dell Morgan directed the defense against a "half-hard" offense. Over on the other field the offensive team went through a rough workout, with real head-knocking being accomplished.

After completion of the practice on the field ,a skull practice was held for the players, with the board work expected to further familiarize the Tech players with possible Texas Western plays.

Injuries on the squad include Ike Stuver, who was injured against Rice last week, and he may see action this week, a knee injury limiting his service this week. Dick Pirtle is still lame, and Jack Davis is limping.

Working again at quarterback was Albert Salem, who may see action this week at that position after working at halfback most of the season.

Lubbock Preps For Bronchos

A surprised Lubbock Westerner football squad went in early yesterday at Chapman field as Coach Pat Pattison let up around 6 p. m. after all three teams had scrimmaged.

Blocking was one of the major points stressed in the workout, which started earlier than usual, and in early practice Coach Bill Floyd and the linemen worked hard on offensive and defensive line play.

In an effort to simulate game conditions, the ball was snapped after the play was called, and the offensive "team" went about its blocking assignments. Guard Bob Newell was hard to stop by the offensive team, and he repeatedly broke into the backfield.

Polish Passing Attack

On the other end of the field the backs and ends went through other play practices, with different teams alternating on offense. Running and passing plays were run and re-run, with Coach Pattison and End Coach Fred Taylor watching from the sidelines.

All types of passing were employed, from the short one to the long ones, and his type of attack may figure prominently in the Odessa tilt which is 10 days off.

All three members of the coaching staff are expecting the toughest battle of the season against the Bronchos, and the winner will be behind the steering wheel as far as the district championship is concerned.

If Lubbock wins it will have only Brownfield and Midland remaining in loop play. If the Bronchos should upset the Westerners, they will need only one win over Brownfield. Thus far the Cubs have gone down in every game, and Midland has won one and lost five.

An ankle injury suffered in tackling practice Monday kept reserve Fullback Don Rawls on the sidelines yesterday. Rawls has a badly swollen ankle and will not see much action all week. Otherwise the squad seems to be in top shape.

All three teams put plenty of spirit into the scrimmage, and Curtis Roberts, Newell, Ross Craig, Jerry Van Pelt, Billy Tooke and Dean White were standouts against the offensive team.

Entry lists for five Hialeah stakes — the $50,000 Widener and Flamingo, $25,000 McLennan, $15,000 Black Helen and $10,000 Juvenile— close Dec. 15.

Tommy Bailes Among Top Scorers

Littlefield Rated High In Class A Scramble

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

High school football stars are easy to find in Texas, but four of the brightest play in Class A.

Merlyn Murphey of New Braunfels, Tommy Bailes of Littlefield, Dale Moore of Mount Vernon and John Thomas LaRoe of Kaufman are the dazzling four.

Murphey has scored 126 points in seven games this year; Bailes 93, Moore 105, and LaRoe 120.

New Braunfels, Kaufman and Mount Vernon are undefeated, untied heavy-scoring outfits that haven't been pressed too much this year.

Littlefield is mopping up opposition in the north zone of District 4, crushing Sundown 66-0 last week.

All Are Favorites

Chances are you'll find these teams in the state playoff. They're big favories to cop district honors.

But there are not too many one-sided favorites in this giant division of the Texas Interscholastic league's football program The competition is pretty even among schools with more than 250 enrollment but less than 500.

At the top of Texas, District 1 is still as muddled as ever—even after the meeting of the undefeated, untied "Big Two." Hereford and Dalhart tied last week, 13-13. The rest of the schedule will have to decide the titlist. Hereford this week meets Canyon and Perryton takes on Dalhart.

Lefors, undefeated, untied and victor last week over Clarendon, 33-12, still can't claim undisputed leadership of District 2. McLean, its biggest rival, tied Memphis last week, 19-19, and the district committee hasn't yet decided how to count the deadlock.

The Lefors-McLean game Nov. 11 will probably settle this issue.

Wildcats Meet Sudan

Spur and Floydada are all even at the top of District 3. Floydada catches Tulia and Spur meets Abernathy this week.

Littlefield and Sudan tangle Friday and the winner of this game will have the inside track for District 4-A North title.

Post, beaten by Levelland, 21-12 last week, and Slaton, winner over O'Donnell, 31-0, share the lead in the South zone of District 4.

Defending state champion Monahans is out of the running in District 5, but the Lobos certainly are going to have a say in who wins. They dumped powerful Kermit, 13-7, last week to leave Wink in the lead.

Mount Vernon, Kaufman and New Braunfels rolled along in a point-a-minute fashion.

Catfish Smith's Mount Vernon club blanked DeKalk, 48-0, as Moore counted 13 points. DeKalb was undefeated, untied and a favorite to win District 14. Atlanta is the other top club in 14-A.

Kaufman, the pride of District 17, routed Plano, 57-0, as LaRoe scored four touchdowns and passed for two. Kaufman has scored 292 points to six for eight opponents. It meets Athens this week.

New Braunfels crushed Gonzales, 79-6, to just about sew up the championship in District 24. The Unicorns have won four district games already. A win over San Marcos this week will assure them the championship. Last year they went to the finals of the state race.

Leverett's Chapel is still top team in huge District 16. It has won seven conference victories, crushing Center, 47-13, last week.

Grand Saline went in front in District 18 by beating Wills Point, 14-6, while Clarksville and Honey Grove loom as the strongest in District 13.

Humble, a Class B team, beat Brenham, 12-6, but Brenham still is tops in 23-A.

Mexia beat Franklin, 26-7, and just about clinched honors in the West zone of 20-A. Crockett or Huntsville will be its rival for the full crown.

Alvin led in District 25-A; El Campo and Bay City pace 27-A; Edna and Beeville top 28-A; Ballinger is a power in 7-A; Rotan has a fine chance to win the West zone of 6-A; and the same can be said for Rosebud in 21-A; Lampasas in 22-A; La Vega in 19-A.

American Circuit Lands Six Men On Major League All-Star Squad

NEW YORK, Nov. 1. (AP).— Six players from the American loop and four from the National circuit make up the 1949 major league all-star team selected for the Associated Press by 116 members of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

The all-star team:

First base — Tom Henrich, Yankees.
Second base — Jackie Robinson, Dodgers.
Third base — George Kell, Tigers.
Shortstop — Phil Rizzuto, Yankees.
Catcher — Roy Campanella, Dodgers.
Righthanded pitcher — Ellis Kinder, Red Sox.
Lefthanded pitcher — Mel Parnell, Red Sox.

Parks Faces 'Grey Mask'

Two main events will be on tap at 8 o'clock tonight at Sled Allen's arena, and a good card is expected.

Meeting in the first main are Al Getz and Alex Kasaboski, and the Grey Mask and Herb Parks will mix it in the final bout.

Last week Kasaboski fell before the Mask in a rugged match, and Parks was the winner over Getz. So it was figured that the matching of the winners and losers would please fans greatly. In fact Parks issued a challenge to the Grey Mask, and Promoter Allen was quick to get the two signatures on contracts.

The Masked Man seems to be in perfect physical condition and is an experienced, scientific and smart opponent.

Demand Match

The first main is a natural bout, as well as being a demand match. Two weeks ago the two contestants wrestled to a draw and neither was satisfied with the outcome. This week Getz and Kasaboski fell naturally into the semi-finals event, both losing last week.

Both are well versed in the wrestling game, and in their previous go the fans witnessed all types of holds as the pair brought forth the tricks and knowledge they have accumulated over years of wrestling. Both went all out for a win, but time ran out.

Flores Meets Overhull

Salvador Flores, the rough-and-ready lad from Mexico City, made an impressive appearance last week in his match with Charlie Carr, wrestling 20 minutes to a draw.

Returning to the area for a match with Flores is George Overhull, youthful product of Amarillo, who began wrestling in this area early in the year.

In the past few months Overhull has been getting plenty of seasoning and wrestling practice with bouts in and around Toledo, Columbus and Chicago.

Tickets are on sale during the day at the arena, and reservations may be made by phoning 2-8665.

Bowl Selection Committees Left With Extremely Thin 'Pickings'

List Of Unbeaten Teams Dwindling

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—If you think you have worries just consider the members of the various football bowl committees, running around wild eyed and spouting gibberish as week by week they watch red hot candidates for invitations get themselves knocked on the soles of their snug-fitting moleskins.

There remains only a fistful of major teams with clear records, and some of these have a pretty fair chance of getting knocked off before the regular season ends.

The Rose Bowl situation pretty well takes care of itself as it is limited to the Western conference and Pacific Coast conference teams, and any headaches are suffered by the rival conferences in determining the representatives.

California On Top

Right now it appears the coast conference won't have any trouble, as California appears the natural choice. The Western conference teams, however, are making a family brawl of it to decide which team should go. And the one finally chosen will report New Year's day with one or two black eyes.

Of the teams competing in five of the larger bowl games last New Year's day only two—California and Oklahoma—are unbeaten untied this season.

Here was the Jan. 1, 1949, lineup, and the results:

Northwestern 20, California 14 in the Rose Bowl.

Texas 41, Georgia 28, in the Orange Bowl.

Oklahoma 14, North Carolina 6, in the Sugar Bowl.

SMU 21, Oregon 13, in the Cotton Bowl.

Clemson 24, Missouri 23, in the Gator Bowl.

Northwestern already has lost four games.

Texas Thrice Beaten

Texas, a good team, has lost three, and Georgia has lost four. North Carolina has lost two, with a game with Notre Dame coming up, so you can count that three.

SMU has lost only once, to Rice, but Oregon has lost three. Clemson finished behind three times, and Missouri twice.

Among teams which might snap up an invitation and still are unbeaten are Baylor, Virginia and Boston university. Not including the eager Oklahomans.

Rough Job For Baylor

Baylor has just been nibbling on the appetizers to date. It has its real job ahead, meeting Texas, SMU and Rice, and if it can get past those three it belongs in anybody's bowl.

Oklahoma, rugged as they come, is no cinch to go all the way unbeaten as it still must meet high-scoring Missouri, Santa Clara and the Oklahoma Aggies. The Aggies, on the record, would seem to be a pop-over for the Sooners, but when those state rivals meet anything can happen.

Virginia plays Penn, Tulane and North Carolina yet, and you could get down a small wager that the Cavaliers won't win all three of those games. Boston U. seems to have played the toughest part of its schedule, and should be able to pull in the oars and drift in, but the general weakness of the schedule tends to minimize the feat of going through unbeaten.

Anyway, next New Year's day will see a lot of changes among Bowl rivals. The only two which appear good bets for bowl bids right now are California and Oklahoma.

WOGS MEET OWLETS

FORT WORTH, Nov. 1. (AP)—Texas Christian's undefeated, untied freshman football team plays its third game of the season this week. The Polliwogs go to Houston Thursday to meet the Rice freshmen.

The Wogs beat Baylor's Cubs, 13-7, and Texas A. and M.'s freshmen, 21-19, in previous games.

Texas Western Gridders Ready To Make Last-Ditch Stand Against Red Raiders

EL PASO, Nov. 1. (Special) — The Texas Western college Miners will have more than just a football victory at stake when they take the field here Saturday night for their Border conference clash with the Texas Tech Red Raiders from Lubbock.

The Tech game will be homecoming for a large number of former students and graduates of the one-time Texas College of Mines who will swarm on to the hill-side campus and jam Kidd field beyond its seating capacity.

In addition the Westerners must defeat Tech to remain in the running for the Border conference title. Their chances for the flag were knocked low by the loss to Hardin-Simmons, 33-14, last week, and a defeat by Tech would drop the El Pasoans from the race.

Hope For Tie

The only remaining Westerner chance, as local fans envision it, is a win by the Westerners over Tech, and a Tech win over Hardin-Simmons Nov. 26, which would throw the title into a three-way tie.

And last, and probably not least so far as many of the Miners are concerned, the game offers a chance for revenge for last year's humiliating defeat in Lubbock. The Raiders handed the Miners their only loss of the regular season, a resounding 46-6 trouncing, on the sod of Jones Stadium.

However, by the lights of local backers, the Miners figure to be underdogs Saturday, for the second straight week, While Tech has been unable to handle any of its Southwest conference foes, it has proved mericless against Border conference competition, and also topped Tulsa university, which in turn defeated Villanova.

Abetting the Miners' underdog condition is the list of cripples on the squad. Four of the Miner regulars have been sidelined — three of them probably for the season—and in addition Jim Bowden, two-year letterman quarterback and one of the leading passers last year, has been unable to play this season because of a knee injury.

H. L. (Sonny) Holderman, diminutive defensive star and punter, and Guard Lee Fogle were injured in the Hardin-Simmons game, while Fullback Cordell McCraw and Guard Herman Foster have been out of action for a week or more.

LA MOTTA GETS PURSE

DETROIT, Nov. 1. (U.P.)—Michigan's boxing commission today cleared the way for Jake LaMotta to collect the $14,092 purse earned June 16 when he won the world middleweight championship from the late Marcel Cerdan. Commissioner Floyd Stevens instructed the National Boxing association to surrender the purse which had been held back under terms of a rematch contract between the fighters.

City Open Golf Awards Made

Prize winners in the recent City Open Golf tournament last night received merchandise awards at a presentation dinner at Lubbock Country club.

Approximately 60 participants in the tourney attended the dinner, at which Chick Trout, sr., received the championship award.

Trout was presented the permanent tournament trophy, which is to remain at his home club, Lubbock Country club, for the next year. This huge trophy, donated by Johnny Powers of Powers Sporting Goods company, each year will go to the home club of the tournament titlist.

Trout, along with nine other prize winners, also received a merchandise award donated by Hemphill-Wells company. Merchandise awards also went to Dick Jennings, medalist, Jimmy Goldman, runnerup, and P. N. Burton, consolation winner, all in the championship flight; E. A. Hindman, winner, Dick Wilbanks, runnerup, and Houston Trammel, consolation winner, all in the first flight; and A. C. Jackson, winner, Jack Cole, runnerup, and Dean Cole, consolation winner, all in the second flight.

Trout, who also served as tournament chairman, presided at the dinner, and turned over a check for $167 — representing net profits from the tourney — to Groves Denman, Lions club president. The money is to go into the fund for maintenance of the Lions-sponsored Girl Scout recreation camp at Buffalo lakes.

City Open champions in previous years were Jimmy Goldman, 1946; Lofton Burnette, 1947; and Lindsey Telford 1948.

Shallowater Basketeers Defeat Frenship, 23-20; Girls Lose

WOLFFORTH, Nov. 1. (Special) — Shallowater defeated Frenship school, 23-20, here tonight in a basketball contest, with Clark leading the scoring with 12 points.

Shallowater held the lead the entire game. For Frenship Wayne Ramsey scored 10 points and Earl Swinford made eight.

In a girls game Frenship won, 17-16, on a last second free throw by Betty Hitt, who tallied six points for the evening. Dorothy Burson scored seven for the winners, and Russell led Shallowater with six markers.

STEWART IN FINALS

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 1. (AP).—Mac Hunter, Santa Monica, Calif., and Earl Stewart, Dallas, entered the finals today in the 24th Mexican Amateur golf championship. Hunter eliminated Al Franco, Torreon, Mexico, 2 and 1, in the quarter-finals, then defeated Bob Riegel, Houston, 4 and 3. Stewart downed Frank Zierer, Mexico City, 1 up in 19 holes, and Percy Clifford, also Mexico City, 4 and 2.

SPORTS Slants

BY CHOC HUTCHESON

For several weeks now, off and on, this writer has been dropping in on the daily Lubbock High school football workouts at Chapman field.

One reason behind these visits, of course, is to pick up newsworthy information on the Westerners' progress.

Another is simply that I get a great lift out of watching Coach Pat Pattison handle his high school athletes. When it comes to teaching boys to play football, I'm ready to award Pattison the blue ribbon, gold medal, silver loving cup, and anything else that goes with first place. He is, in my books, without peer in this department.

The peculiar features of Pattison's practice field technique is the easy-going smoothness with which he operates. In numerous visits to Westerner workouts, I never have heard Pattison—or, for that matter, any of his assistants—bawl out a player. There is none of the raving or ranting which so many coaches seem to think necessary nowadays.

The Chapman field sessions best can be described as "clinics," because from start to finish each day the coaches are busy teaching, with a calm, yet lively approach that holds the boys' interest.

On the practice field, Pattison definitely is not a member of the old "rock - 'em - and - sock - 'em" school. Rather than send his players through rugged scrimmages, he seems to prefer that they save their all-out efforts for game performances. In the three weeks preceding the Lamesa game, Lubbock's first string went through only one down-to-earth contact scrimmage.

By this, I do not mean to infer that Pattison is not a firm believer in physical conditioning. On the contrary, his squad is one of the best-conditioned in the state and has not suffered a serious injury all season. All of which goes to show that conditioning and "head-knocking" are not necessarily one and the same thing.

Pattison's teaching tactics—and those of his colleagues, Bill Floyd and Fred Taylor—do not stop with simply TELLING a player what to do. When a Westerner fails to "catch on" to a certain play, the mentors are right there to SHOW him how his assignment should be carried out—and they never consider the task done until the player thoroughly understands his part in a play and can perform it satisfactorily. No detail is overlooked.

In fact, that word "detail" is the key to Pattison's success— and he has, you know, been successful in every coaching position he has held. He is a stickler for detail, for split-second precision, and he has the natural knack of getting across his ideas to his players.

Atop all this, Pattison is a friendly, personable gentleman, with fine moral standards. He is not only respected, but is admired and liked, by his boys.

In short, he's the type coach you'd want a kid of yours to have—and here's hoping that his name still is listed in the Lubbock city directory a score of years from now!

E. J. Lowrey has issued a reminder that all Lubbock-Odessa grid tickets must be picked up at his office not later than noon Thursday. Reservations not called for by that hour will automatically be cancelled . . . Billy Sisson, the former Littlefield star, now is a starting guard on the high-flying McMurry college team, although he's only a freshman. Sisson's work this fall has earned him the whole-hearted praise of McMurry Coach Wilford Moore . . . Another former South Plains schoolboy standout who's doing well in collegiate ranks is Charles McGuire, quarterback on the 1948 district championship Post team. McGuire is now a freshman at Hardin-Simmons, and played a leading role last week as the H-SU frosh whipped Cisco Junior college, 28-6 . . . Meadow is the only undefeated, untied Class B team in the Panhandle-South Plains area. Lefors, of District 2-A, is the only Class A club in the region still boasting an unblemished record . . . Hale Center, by winning all its remaining games, could gain the District 3-B crown. If the Owls finish out their season victoriously, they would beat Olton in so doing—and thus wind up in a first-place tie with Olton. Under 3-B regulations, the team which won the regular-season game between two teams involved in a tie is awarded the championship. So it's quite possible that the district pennant will be riding on the Nov. 11 Olton-Hale Center engagement at Hale Center.

Lookabaugh Resigns Oklahoma A&M Post

STILLWATER, Okla., Nov. 1. (INS)—Coach E. M. (Jim) Lookabaugh, in his 11th year as head football coach at Oklahoma A&M college, resigned today.

"For the good of A&M college, which I have served as a student, alumnus and coach for more than a quarter of a century, I have tendered my resignation and it has been accepted," Lookabaugh said.

The Aggie coach's move was acted upon in two sessions by the athletic board, one held Monday, the other today.

Westerners Remain As No. 1 Eleven In Schoolboy Poll

DALLAS, Nov. 1. (U.P.)—Lubbock's Westerners this week held onto top spot in the schoolboy football rankings compiled by the Dallas Morning News.

The Westerners, 41-14 victors over Lamesa last week, retained their narrow lead over Port Arthur. Wichita Falls and Corsicana stayed in third and fourth places, respectively.

Rounding out the top ten group were Marshall, Baytown, Highland Park, Grand Prairie, Abilene and Austin.

Teams in the second ten listings were, in order, Breckenridge, Odessa and San Antonio Tech (tied), San Antonio Jefferson, Houston San Jacinto, Texarkana, Houston Reagan, Amarillo, Henderson and Gainesville.

Smallest member of the University of Texas football team — 150-pound Perry Samuels — also is the fastest. He has run 100 yards in 9.5 seconds.

McCarthy Stays As Bosox Pilot

BOSTON, Nov. 1. (AP)—Joe McCarty, who has failed only once in three decades to bring his ball club home in the first division, today agreed to manage Boston's Red Sox for two more seasons.

The taciturn 62-year-old diamond tactician with the big jaw, whose ball club failed by the proverbial whisker to win the American league flag the last two years, agreed to terms in a telephone conversation from his home near Buffalo, N. Y.

The exact salary figure at which McCarthy will sign for the 1950 and 1951 campaigns was not disclosed by Red Sox officials, who announced his decision to remain at the Boston helm.

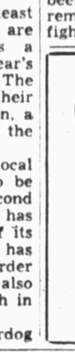

In 1948, McCarthy's Bosox team was beaten in an American league championship playoff by Cleveland. This year the Boston club lost out to New York on the final day of the season.

Bob Grieve, Syracuse University's track and cross-country coach, is a former sprinter and halfback at the University of Illinois.

STATE INCOME TAX

Why Kill The Goose?

THE Texas Social and Legislative conference, an organization composed of so-called "liberal" groups, is the latest to join in the scattered drum-beating for a State income tax. At a meeting in Austin recently, it advocated a levy on net individual and corporate incomes of $10,000 or more a year.

At first glance, this proposal might look all right to the great majority of people who do not have $10,000 incomes.

But here are a couple of thoughts to consider in connection with the scheme:

The first is that many large income individuals and businesses consider Texas more favorably as a location because this is one of the few States which does not levy an income tax. This has been one of the strongest "selling" points in securing new industries and jobs for Texas.

The other thought is this: If the Legislature starts levying a tax on $10,000,-and-over incomes, how long will it be before the minimum is dropped so as to hit nearly everyone? This would be the entering wedge for a tax which practically all wage earners would be paying before long.

Most Texans, we believe, are opposed to a State income tax of any kind. Those who do share that feeling have nothing to lost from utilizing every opportunity to impress members of the Legislature that they do not want a State income tax in Texas.

"Mothball Navy"

THE Navy's announcement that 77 more ships must be put in "mothballs" for lack of money to operate them is more disturbing, perhaps, than President Truman's blocking of an Air Force of the strength approved by Congress.

Congress approved a budget for a 58-group Air Force. Mr. Truman has sliced this to 48 groups and there's nothing the adjourned Congress can do about it immediately.

Disregarding the propriety and the wisdom of the President's position, his action has the justification of his own judgment and some of his advisors that the 48-group Air Force will be adequate. If he believed the 58-group force was necessary to security, it must be assumed he would have approved it.

But no one—not even the Air Force high command—claims that the Navy is stronger than it should be. On the contrary, many observers have viewed with increasing alarm the steady decline in naval strength. There is grave doubt whether the Navy has the ships and the men for the needs of a sudden emergency—and if an emergency occurs, it almost will be sudden. Most of the ships of the greatest navy in history are in "mothballs" where they would be worthless at a time when hours might be precious. They would be like "sitting ducks" if attacked, and any assailant undoubtedly knows where they are.

In event of a surprise attack, the only warships which would be worth a slick nickel to the United States would be those ready for battle on short notice. The nation has too few of these now, and the number is to be reduced still further.

True, questions have been raised as to whether this step is as necessary as the naval chieftains claim. There may be grounds for the charges that this is a device employed by Navy brass to get more money when Congress reconvenes.

But the alarming certainty remains that, whatever the reasons for the mothballing more ships, it will mean the further weakening of one of the nation's chief bulwarks of security. It involves apparent risks that few Americans would approve, if the decision should be left to them.

It wouldn't be so bad for the American Communists to go underground if six feet of dirt could be allotted each, with a final smack in the face with a spade.

"There is a struck in your life," says an advertisement. Yes, there always seems to be one rolling along just in front of our car on the highway.

"Dogs never get as unhappy as people," says a dog psychologist. Maybe it's because a dog doesn't have financial or domestic worries.

Does This Answer Your Question?

Someone To Love

BY IRENE LONNEN ERNHART
Distributed By NEA, Inc.

(THE STORY: Jenny's marriage to Tod Duncan has been unhappy because of Liz Conover, who jilted Tod before his marriage. Financial difficulties which hounded the Duncans at first are solved when Liz gets Tod a job with her father's advertising agency. But then there is gossip. When Jenny overhears Liz telling friends how Tod married Jenny "on the rebound," Jenny asks Tod for a divorce. Jenny says Tod has never been in love with her. Jenny waits for Tod to deny the accusation.)

"MAYBE you're right, Jenny." Tod turned to face her, his face drained of color. "Maybe I haven't gotten over Liz."

His eyes fell away from hers. "Well, why not admit it," he said. "Maybe she's in my blood. But I've honestly tried, Jenny. You've got to believe that. I didn't want to hurt you or make you unhappy. And we can't just throw everything overboard. We've got the children to consider and—"

Jenny didn't hear anything else he said, or remember going upstairs.

It was 8 o'clock by her watch when she wakened. Wondering why the twins hadn't roused her earlier, she scrambled out of bed and padded to the nursery.

Then she heard them downstairs, and Tod's voice. She had expected he would be gone by now. One of the twins was laughing.

Jenny stood still at the head of the stairs, jerking nervously at the cord of her blue satin robe. Tod had never done such a thing as this before, gotten the twins up and prepared their breakfast. By rights he should be halfway to town by now. If this were a gesture of reconciliation, she thought grimly, as she descended the stairs, it wouldn't do him any good.

When he looked up and saw her in the doorway, he looked uncomfortable. "I overslept too, and they wakened me so I decided to dress them and bring them down."

"I'll finish with them," Jenny put in briskly. "You'll be late to the office."

Tod rose from his chair. He turned back from the doorway, a pleading look on his face. "I did a lot of thinking last night—after—"

She straightened and faced him, lifting her chin. "I don't think there's anything to discuss, Tod. Everything's been said."

He shrugged, and went off, and from above a few moments later she could hear thumping noises as he took the suitcases down from the hall closet. He was packing his things.

A wild panic assailed her momentarily. But what had she expected?

SHE phoned Rick right after breakfast. The sound of his voice was reassuring. "Are you all right, Jenny?"

"Rick, I've asked Tod for a divorce. He's gone—took his things this morning. Now what do I do?"

A long shocked pause and then, "Jenny, are you sure it's what you really want to do?"

"There's nothing else to do. I thought about it all night. I know it's dreadful for the children, but we just can't go on, and considering all the years ahead it's better to make a clean break now."

Rick said he would handle everything. And a week later he went with her to meet Tod at a law firm's office.

Tod looked thinner, and subdued somehow. Strange, she thought, this divorce was what he had wanted, he should be expansive about it. On the contrary he became angry when she told the lawyer she wanted nothing from him for herself and would prefer to support the children. Tod pounded his fist on the table and shouted, and had to be reprimanded by the lawyer.

Jenny had hoped they could get the divorce over with at once, but it was legally impossible. A certain time of separation had to elapse. Tod kept staring at the table when the lawyer talked. When at last Rick and Jenny were leaving Tod touched Jenny's arm. "How are the boys?"

"Fine."

"I suppose it wouldn't do for me to—come out and see them?"

Jenny glanced at Rick and then back to Tod. "I suppose it would be all right, Tod. I've hired a woman to look after them while I'm in town during the day. You could go out any afternoon."

"Some afternoon?" Was there an undercurrent of disappointment in the words? "Yes, it would be best if I came when you weren't there, I suppose."

Her heart leaped involuntarily at the notion that he had wanted to come when she was home.

HOW lucky it had been that Max had wanted to sell out right at this particular time. Lucky too that she and Nina had been able to borrow enough to go into partnership. They'd always gotten along well together, at least until she had married Tod. Together in the shop they would regain their close relationship.

Jenny left the house in the country at 8 each morning and during the long busy days of getting the business organized she had little time to think of anything else. Dinner was ready when she got back home.

At first it had been bad to eat alone, for the twins were in bed by then. But she asked Mrs. Drew, the housekeeper, to eat with her after a while.

One thing Jenny did miss terribly. Caring for the twins. She had loved every detail of it, giving them their baths; the small pink bodies and fresh little faces with moist hair curling about them.

Jenny often wondered how she could have possibly managed to get along without Rick's help and kindness. She wondered if perhaps after a while, she would forget all about Tod, and Rick would grow into that particular spot in her heart that Tod had occupied so long.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

WHEN the appointment of Mrs. Eugenia Anderson, of Minnesota, to the post of Ambassador to Denmark was announced, there was quite a bit of dubious headwagging among the men of Washington and elsewhere.

BRANDEIS

"What is this country coming to?" was the idea, "Are women going to be EVERYWHERE?

"Next thing you know, we'll have a woman President!"

Maybe so. Maybe so.

But what would be so awful if we did have a woman president?

This Mrs. Anderson of Minnesota certainly has done as much as the great majority of men will ever do. Her career so far is certainly no less successful than those of a number of men who later became Presidents.

She is Democratic National committeewoman from her state. She was graduated from high school with honors in two-and-a-half years and also with honors from two colleges. She studied education, philosophy, music and modern languages.

While in college she paid her way by teaching music and working in an office. Later she studied music in New York, attended seminars on child psychology in Chicago.

She is married to a graduate of the University of Chicago and Yale who is an artist and professional photographer and who operates a farm research laboratory as well as his own farm at Red Wing, Minn.

She is the mother of a fourteen-year-old daughter and a twelve-year-old boy.

Will you tell me what more qualifications a President of the United States needs — or what more most of them have had?

Above all, she has two additional qualifications which none of our male Presidents have had: She is pretty and wears extremely becoming hats.

Why don't we elect a woman President the next time?

Frankly, none of the present-day possibilities among the men appeal to me very strongly.

But I could name at least a dozen women who could outdo any male candidate in many years.

Just imagine the campaigns and conventions!

There would be fashion shows and teas. There would be all those lovely frills and things in which women certainly excel the men.

THERE might be a little hair-pulling and certainly quite a bit of fishwiving. But so what? At least it would be a novelty and attract a lot of peo-

TO STUDY FARM SETUP

Iranian To Visit U. S.

By ROGER WARREN
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The "King of Kings" will soon be buttonholing American farmers out West asking them all sorts of questions about irrigation.

For President Truman has invited the handsome, 30-year old Shah of Iran to visit the United States. He in turn is eager to get new ideas about dry farming for use in his own country where water is scarce.

His exalted label dates from the time of Cyrus and Xerxes 500 B. C. His modern title is His Imperial Mohammad Reza Shah Pahlavi. He is the first reigning monarch from the Middle East ever to visit Washington.

His coming here on the heels of Nehru, the Indian leader, indicates how determined the State Department is to win friends in the Orient, whose support we may sometimes need against the Soviet Union.

Several members of the Shah's family already have been here. One brother is attending the University of Michigan; a second went to Princeton and a third to Harvard. His sister, Princess Asha, the guiding spirit of the Iranian Red Cross, was here two years ago.

SKIING: The Shah's official visit will be from Nov. 16 to Dec. 8. Then he hopes to go incognito to the Rockies and do some skiing, a sport which he is very fond of. In his home country he is rated as the third best tennis player in the realm. He is also skilled in hunting, swimming and football.

The President has sent his special airplane, the "Independence" to fly the Shah to America. Nothing could please him more, as he is a qualified four-engine pilot and operates his own B-17 plane.

The air bug bit him during the war. Washington Ambassador H. E. Hussein Ala was the Minister of Posts in Teheran. He invited the Shah to fly in an American plane. The young man at once started plying the pilot with questions about operation and on landing announced that he must have a plane. He owns one now but his unheralded flights over desert and rugged terrain keep his ministers on pins and needles.

FEARLESS: He has other fearless traits. Henry Suydam, Newark, N. J. newspaper editor who will handle the press end of the tour, has just returned from Teheran. The Shah and his brother invited the American to ride from a palace on the outskirts to the capital. The three were alone in the car, the Shah at the wheel, spinning through lonely country.

This wasn't a stunt. The Shah goes everywhere without guards, dropping in at a factory to ask workers how they are getting along or stopping to chat with nomadic tribesmen.

This daring worries his staff. They have cause for anxiety. A few months ago a stranger walked up to his highness and pointed a camera at him. The monarch smiled, expecting to have his picture taken.

Instead of clicking the shutter, the cameraman fired a concealed revolver. Three bullets ripped through the Shah's hat. One grazed his shoulder. One cut a hole in his lip. The would-be assassin was a member of the Tudeh a group of pro-Communists.

ECONOMIST: The brother on the auto trip was Prince Abdor Reza, who attended Harvard in 1947. He wanted to do graduate work and become a professor of economics but he was called back home.

Just before he sailed I happened to be with him in a store where he bought a year's supply of American pipe tobacco, to be shipped at intervals. I recall how the salesman's eyes popped when he gave his title of Prince for addressing the parcels to the palace at Teheran.

"I'd have sized him up as a faker," said the salesman afterwards, "if he hadn't given that address."

The American touch is noticeable everywhere in Iran. An American colonel is in charge of the nation's police force. United States Military Mission officers advise the Army. American movies, sewing machines and autos are everywhere.

RELIGIOUS: The young monarch also has a mystical streak. He is of the Mohammedan faith, as are 98 per cent of his subjects. He took Suydam on a Sunday picnic and most of the time they sat on a carpet while the Shah talked religion, explaining the need for one to think good thoughts so that good words and deeds might naturally follow.

In the Iranian Washington embassy hang many pictures of the Shah, including two photos newly arrived. These please Ambassador Ala because they reveal no scars from the wound inflicted by the assailant. A life-sized portrait in oils shows him in blue air force uniform. In another large photo he wears army uniform smothered with medals, snapped by a Cairo photographer.

ROMANCE: There is a romance back of this. It was taken in Egypt with the object of impressing the Princess Fawzia, eldest sister of King Farouk of Egypt. It evidently did, for she married him. They have a daughter, Shahnaz, now nine years old.

Later came a divorce, which, according to rumor in Teheran, was due to her failure to bear a male heir to the throne. She has since married a wealthy Egyptian whose name, translated, means "sweet."

The Shah never married again. Washington society gossip is that he will wed the daughter of Ambassador Ala on his American trip. But the embassy says there is no foundation to the story.

Right now a large photo of the ex-Queen, one of the most beautiful women of the East, still occupies a prominent spot in the embassy reception parlor. Would the Ambassador's daughter keep on display in her father's house the picture of the Shah's former wife, if she were planning to marry him, herself?

Crowning of a carnival queen at an entertainment sponsored by the members of the Mary Helm society at the First Methodist church last night proved to be a burlesque with Benjamin Powell taking the part of the queen and the king's role played by Dr. Fred W. Standefer.

J. B. Maxey was the king's bodyguard and brought the king in in a wheelbarrow followed by Rachel Stewart, ring bearer. Arthur Bradshaw took the part of the court jester, Paeton Price was the page and little Dick Williams was the crown bearer.

Carl of the House of Slaton, Richard of the House of Williams, and Edgar of the House of Shelton were duchesses while Hunter W. Richardson, J. T. Trigg, and C. E. Maedgen were dukes.

Mrs. J. B. Galland was at the piano.

Other booths at the carnival were in charge of Mrs. H. W. Wylie, Mrs. Carl Slaton, and Mrs. Dick Williams.

Mrs. H. W. Richardson and Mrs. Claude Burrus were in charge of the crowning of the queen.

Believe It Or Not -

HEALTH OFFICIALS PUSH CAMPAIGN

Hospital Improvements Sought

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, (NEA)—One of the small parts of the President's long-range national health program which did get through Congress has the potential of making U. S. hospitals much better places in which to be sick.

Inefficency and varying standards are notorious in the management of hospitals. And it has only been recently that public health officials and doctors have awakened to this fact. It is keeping patients from getting full benefits out of medical progress.

The new law involved simply spells out in detail the authority of the U. S. Public Health Service in doing research on hospital management. And it directs the agency to try to sell hospitals on adopting the findings that this research might produce. Up until now PHS has been confined to a "brick and mortar" function. It has run the various federal aid plans aimed at spurring local hospital construction.

No Large Sum Involved

Little money is involved in doing this new job. PHS officials, in the process of trying to co-ordinate all U. S. hospital facilities, have the problem pretty well sized up. Congress appropriated $1,200,-000 for the agency to farm out special research jobs on the problem to universities and health groups if they are needed.

Dr. J. R. McGibony, PHS official who will direct the work, explains that the annual hospital bill to patients in the U. S. is about $3,000,-000,000 and that another half billion dollars each year is being spent on the construction of new hospitals. He says that less than one-tenth of one per cent of that huge sum has been spent on research to improve hospital service. And that, he claims, is less research money than is being spent trying to improve automobiles, radios or clothing, for instance.

GETTING hospitals to serve better food is one of the big things Dr. McGibony hopes to accomplish. Food is almost as important in getting a patient well as the medicine he is given. Yet, Dr. McGibony says a big percentage of hospitals don't run their kitchens as efficiently and cleanly as the average restaurant. And frequently there is scant attention paid to serving well-balanced and nutritious meals.

What he hopes to be able to do in this particular field is find out how the hospitals with the best kitchens operate, and make the information available to all of them. Part of the job is to show smaller institutions how to prepare and serve food without the elaborate kitchen equipment and without the help of full-time nutritionists which are available to the bigger hospitals.

Drastic Changes Needed

Pharmacy departments in most hospitals need drastic improvements, Dr. McGibony says. Five per cent of a patient's bill is usually for medicine. In many cases medicines and drugs which deteriorate with age are kept on shelves long after their usefulness. New stocks are piled in front of old and the bottles in the back finally have to be thrown away. That's pure waste, Dr. McGibony says, which could easily be avoided.

Still another hospital function which needs standardization is record keeping. Most institutions keep elaborate records of patients, copying the biggest hospitals. Only reason for the biggest hospitals to do this is for research purposes. But there is no reason in the world why a medium-sized or small hospital which does no research should keep such records. It is a waste of time and money.

THOSE are just the most important management problems which need improving and standardization. There are many others, McGibony points out. For instance, there are no established lines of authority between the doctors who practice in the hospitals and the managers. There are no uniform accounting or billing systems among hospitals. Some charge patients for depreciation on the building. Some don't charge for special nurses. Many hospitals don't have a centralized purchasing system.

Dr. McGibony doesn't claim that streamlining, standardizing and generally improving hospital management will make any drastic cut in the cost to a patient. It is entirely possible that in the long run it might be says. But what he and his staff are most interested in is improving the service which a hospital gives a patient by encouraging it to make the most efficient use of its facilities.

According to experiments conducted by a Columbia University professor, the ten top-ranking animals, in the order of their respective intelligence are: chimpanzee, orangutan, gorilla, monkey, dog, cat, raccoon, elephant, pig and horse.

baptized an average of 50,000 persons each year in 1947 and 1948, and the number is expected to reach 60,000 this year.

Mexicans Serve Churches

He reported these other developments:

Forty-eight Mexican missionaries now serve 91 churches in Texas. They reported 1,061 professions of faith and 313 baptisms during the past year.

There are 800,000 children enrolled in Sunday schools. A goal of 1,000,000 has been set for the end of 1951.

Nine Baptist schools in the state report an all time high enrollment of 16,005. Fall enrollment this year was 123 above that in 1948.

The convention owns and operates five hospitals.

Charity patients totaled 14,559. and serving them cost $320,119.97.

Has All-Time High

The Women's Missionary union reported it had added 1,267 new units during the past year. It now has the highest number of standard organizations in its history, said Miss Eula Mae Henderson of Dallas.

She listed the increases at 211 women's missionary societies, 164 young women's auxiliaries 326 new girls' auxiliaries; 309 royal ambassador groups and 256 sunbeam bands.

Judge Thomas J. Pitts, Odessa jurist, immediate past president, presided over the session of the state brotherhood.

Speakers included H. L. Wren, Snyder layman; A. D. Foreman, sr., Abilene real estate man; Fred Cole, president of the First National bank of Artesia, N. M., and Dr. Everett Gill, jr., secretary of the Latin-American Baptist mission organization.

Dr. Gill said there was a crying need for men in the field of foreign missionary work.

"The United States contains only seven per cent of the world's population of more than two billion persons. Baptists have a tremendous and beautiful faith, and it is up to Baptist men to take this message to the other 93 per cent," he said.

He said the task is tremendous. "Almost everywhere we move in, liquor interests have been there ahead of us with their advertising," he said.

"Other denominations are at work too. Sometimes their zeal shames us.

"The Vatican is out to win the world. They have it all charted, and as far as they are concerned, there are no forgotten men."

Judge Pitts, as past president, was automatically named to the advisory board.

Four other men were named to the board unanimously. They are A. R. Gatlin of Houston, Lt. Col. Charles L. Gamble of Austin; Dr. A. Hope Owen of Plainview, and Rev. T. J. Watts, of Honey Grove.

issued, should be sold only as needed. Immediate requirements, he continued would call for the sale of about $1,500,000 of the issue next year. The remainder then could be sold from year to year, he said further, without pushing the city's bonded indebtedness beyond 10 per cent of assessed valuations.

The principal additions to the costs of improvements if the city limits extension program is carried out were listed by the city manager as including:

	Present city	If limits extended
Water wells	$200,000	$ 400,000
Distribution lines	550,000	1,750,000
Sewage lines	900,000	1,305,000
Fire stations	70,000	200,000
Storm Sewers	350,000	500,000

December Is Favored

Members of the commission agreed, if the election is called, it should be held some time during December. City Attorney Vaughan Wilson expressed doubt, however, as to whether a bond election legally could be held that soon. He is to report more definitely to the meeting Friday.

Present at the meeting were Mayor W. H. Rodgers and Commissioners W. B. Price, John Spikes, E. K. Hufstedler and Clarence Whiteside.

ple to the polls who are now lethargic when it comes to their civic duties.

One thing is sure.

With a woman in the White House and a few women in the cabinet and in high government offices more attention would be paid to the home and the heart than to politics.

Women are much more apt to consider the human being as an individual than a mass product. To them the country is made up of homes rather than of constituencies. They think of money as something that goes to the grocer, the butcher, into the savings bank rather than as billion-dollar appropriations.

ients; there are two registered nurses and until six months ago there were none. Dr. Rowell said he needed at least seven or eight qualified doctors and 10 or 12 registered nurses to do anything like acceptable work toward fulfilling the hospital's function.

The Abilene hospital is overcrowded 25 per cent beyond its capacity, including the six firetrap dormitories. Dr. Rowell said the immediate building needs would require an outlay of $3 million, and it would take from $10 million to $12 million to make it a first-class institution.

Just- completed and about ready to open is a new 32 bed hospital, built at a cost of $165,000. It is the only facility at the school that officials take pride in.

As in the San Antonio State hospital inspected by newsmen yesterday, one of the greatest needs is for additional occupational therapy space and equipment, and for recreational equipment.

Epileptics who can be kept busy at handicrafts, and those who can actively take part in all sorts of sports, are less subject to seizures than those who just sit, Dr. Rowell said. He added that many others could be returned to places of usefulness in society through training in occupational therapy.

That takes money, just like all the other needs we saw here. Money is what they haven't got.

Philippines Candidate Claims Foes Planning 'Strange Trick'

MANILA, Nov. 1 (INS) — Philippine candidate for President Jose Avelino studied countermeasures today to what he called "a strange trick" his opponents intend to use against him.

The candidate declared that he received a "confidential report" that on the eve of the Nov. 8 elections, the opposition will drop leaflets from airplanes proclaiming the news of Avelino's "sudden death."

He said his opponents hope the trick will discourage enough voters to swing the election to either President Elpidio Quirino or Jose Laurel.

The politician says he has a few tricks of his own up his sleeve which will prove that "Avelino is very much alive."

suit you to a "T"

There's been a lot of advertising lately about credit terms—No down payment—24 months to pay—only 15¢ a day—and others. In this rather confusing situation, we'd like to explain Anderson's position. Each family has different financial problems, a different budget set-up, and needs its own time-term plan. Anderson's offers you your choice of these five plans designed to fit you and your budget problems to a "T":

Anderson's Lay-A-Way
A small deposit will hold your selection until wanted; then any one of the four remaining plans listed may be used.

Anderson's 30-Day Charge
On this plan buy the jewelry you need now and pay for them by the 10th of the month following purchase.

Anderson's 5-Payment Plan
On this plan you may pay 20% down, the balance in 4 equal monthly payments. (No service charge).

Anderson's Installment Account
On this plan you may or may not make a down payment, pay the balance in monthly installments—according to your needs.

Anderson's Add-on Plan
On this plan you may buy additional merchandise and add them to an existing installment account without down payment . . . and usually without having your monthly payments increased.

We are quite confident that there is a "time-term" plan here that will fit your needs—and as we said before, down payments and monthly payments will be adjusted to your particular needs.

CEREMONY TO BE HELD LATER

National Honorary Petroleum Engineering Group Set At Tech

Gamma chapter of Pi Epsilon Tau, national honorary petroleum engineering fraternity, will be established at Texas Tech within the near future, Paul S. Johnston, faculty sponsor, announced Tuesday.

Established at the University of Oklahoma in 1947, Pi Epsilon Tau was given a national ranking last fall with the addition of a chapter at Tulsa university. Johnston was one of the leaders in establishing the fraternity while a student at Oklahoma and was its first president.

Members of Pi Epsilon Tau are students within the upper 25 per cent of the senior class in petroleum engineering and the upper 17 per cent of the juniors. Bill Killingsworth, Dumas, is the Tech chapter president.

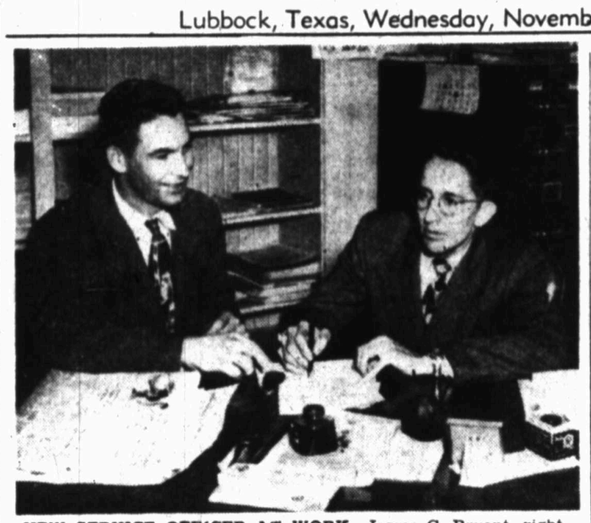

Tech could be the third college to be admitted into the fraternity, although both Louisiana State and the University of California have made formal applications for membership.

Formal initiation of the chapter will take place at a time to be announced later, according to Killingsworth. An initiation team from Oklahoma University will come to Lubbock for the ceremonies.

There are 32 members in the Tech petitioning chapter, but honorary members from the leading oilmen of this area will be added to that number, according to Johnston. Pledges of the fraternity are referred to as "Roustabouts" and must wear tin hats with a derrick painted on one side and their name and "Roustabout" on the other.

The fraternity pin is an oil derrick superimposed over a triangle.

Other members of the Tech chapter include H. E. Bean, Robert J. Boren, Aubrey Brooks, Wesley Buice, John E. Bunch, Roy Butler, Jack Burke, Riley Carlton, Robert Cope as executive vice-president, Cleo Dunlap, Edgar Gossett, Billy Griffin, Tom P. Hart, J. B. Henry, J. D. Horne, Harold Inman, Walter C. Kennedy, Billy C. Key, Don Losher, Doyle W. McClennen as secretary-treasurer, Willis Phillips, Mark Poulain, Tom J. Ross, Charles Sanders, Royce Schneider, George Self, Edward Sessions, R. E. Statton, Matthew E. Sweeney, Bill Tibbets, and J. Spencer Winn.

Reservations For Party House To Be Accepted On Dec. 1

Reservations for use of the Party House in Mackenzie State park during 1950 will be taken beginning Dec. 1, according to announcement Tuesday by the City Recreation department.

There are no open dates for the Party House between now and Jan. 1, 1950, the department said.

Recreation department officials have made the announcement concerning Dec. 1 as the date for taking reservations after numerous calls came into the department Tuesday from persons attempting to make 1950 reservations. The department said there apparently was an impression on the part of numbers of local residents that the department would begin taking reservations for next year on Tuesday, Nov. 1, and that as a result numerous inquiries and calls have been made.

Clubs Offered Old Dates

Clubs and organizations having used the building on a regular schedule during the past year will be given opportunity to use the same dates again in 1950, if not in excess of once per month, provided authorized representatives or heads of such organizations contact the City Recreation department.

Preference also will be given other organized groups in making reservations. Individuals will then be given any open dates remaining.

The building housing the barbecue pit at the Party House has been enclosed and is available for use by clubs and other groups. Reservations are being taken at the offices of the City Recreation department, located in City hall. A few open dates remain between the present time and the first of the year.

C. R. Armstrong, 74, Claimed By Death

Funeral services are pending at Sanders Funeral home for C. R. Armstrong, 74, of 115 Avenue V, who died at 5:53 p. m. Tuesday at St. Mary's hospital following a short illness. Arrangements are pending arrival of relatives.

Armstrong had been a resident of Lubbock since 1941, moving here from Abilene. He had most recently been employed by Halsey drug stores, but had previously worked for the Post Office department for 31 years.

Armstrong is survived by his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Stanton Rhea of Lubbock and Mrs. M. C. Burke of Amarillo; one son, Cecil Armstrong of Fort Worth; four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The Brahmaputra River, with a length of 1680 miles, ranks 27th largest in the world.

Hot Meal Fails To Warm Man Rescued From Lake Waters

FORT WORTH, Nov. 1 (AP) — Some days you can't make a dollar.

It was one of those days for N. E. (Gunboat) Smith, Fort Worth Star Telegram stereotyper.

Smith and a companion, Jack Gilboe, nearly drowned in frigid Eagle Mountain lake when a fishing boat capsized last night.

They were rescued and sat down to a hot meal.

Smith discovered his lower dental plate was gone.

Eagle Pass Man Is Named Head Of State Water Engineers Board

AUSTIN, Nov. 1. (AP)— H. A. Beckwith of Eagle Pass was elected chairman of the state board of water engineers today.

He was chosen by the other members, A. P. Rawlins and James S. Guleke, both recently appointed by Gov. Allan Shivers.

Beckwith is senior member. He was appointed by the late Beauford H. Jester in April 1947. The chairmanship had been held by Col. E. V. Spence, who is now interstate compact commissioner of the Red, Sabine and Canadian rivers.

A. W. McDonald was reelected board secretary.

TRAINS ARE DISCONTINUED

AUSTIN, Nov. 1. (AP)—Discontinuance of the T. & N. O.'s passenger trains Nos 301 and 302 between Houston and Victoria has been authorized, the Railroad commission reported today. Commission member Olin Culberson concurred in the order but said, he did so only because the law forced him to do so.

Kaiser, Famed German Carrier Pigeon Of World War I, Dies

FORT MONMOUTH, N.J., Nov. 1—(U.P.)—Kaiser, a German carrier pigeon captured by American doughboys in 1918, died last night at the age of 32 with a distinguished service record as a breeder and trainer for the United States Army Signal corps.

The famed bird was found dead in his cage by Otto Meyer, head of the Signal corps training and breeding center. Meyer said Army officials planned to mount Kaiser for exhibition at the Smithsonian institution in Washington as the world's most famous homing pigeon.

TRANSIT WALKOUT THREATENED

Four Major Strikes Keep 17,800 Workers Off Jobs At Houston

HOUSTON, Nov. 1. (AP)—Four strikes continue to keep an estimated 17,800 Houston workers off their jobs.

A last minute settlement of a dispute early today prevented disruption of work by another 7,150-2,150 strike-threatening longshoremen and 5,000 non-union Port Houston warehouse workers who would have been idled by a paralyzed port.

Mayor Enters Transit Dispute

Mayor Oscar Holcomb stepped into negotiations today in hopes of preventing another strike—by the 1,100 bus drivers and mechanics of the Houston Transit Company.

The bus drivers are set to strike at midnight tomorrow in support of a 30-cent hourly wage increase above the current $1.17 average.

Holcomb last night and today conferred separately with union and company representatives. It was believed he will attempt to bring them into a joint meeting before the strike deadline.

Meanwhile, practically all of Houston's $75,000,000 in commercial and industrial construction projects were at a standstill following yesterday's strike of between 1,800 and 2,500 AFL common laborers.

12,000 Others Idle

The laborers seek a 12½ cent hour wage increase above the current $1.07½ average.

Harry McPheeters, business agent for local 18 of the hod carriers and building common laborers union, had said 1,200 of the 3,000 laborers continued work after 18 contractors made last minute acceptance of the wage hike.

A spokesman for the contractors today agreed that some were paying the new rate but said less than 500 laborers still are working.

2,500 Reported Idle

This would indicate 2,500 are on strike, with 12,000, instead of 10,000 as previously estimated, refusing to cross the picket lines.

Construction projects shutdown today include the $8,000,000 Sakowitz department store building a 16-story, $2,000,000 office building, a $1,500,000 Sears Roebuck store and a $10,000,000 expansion program at the University of Houston.

There was no indication of immediate settlement of the strike.

Contractors appeared to desire to concentrate on reaching an agreement with the AFL Trades council whereby all contracts with the construction crafts union would expire on the same date.

The current strike is the fourth to be called this year by the construction workers unions.

An ultraviolet microscope, which uses different wavebands of invisible light takes photographs that can be projected as three-color pictures within a few minutes.

MARKET AGAIN ADVANCES

NEW YORK, Nov. 1. (AP)—The stock market greeted the Bethlehem strike settlement with a sedate advance today.

Leading steel issues were among those which couldn't make the grade.

Gains ranged from fractions to a point or so with most in fractional territory. Fifty-two issues sold at the best prices of the year.

Demand was sporadic and quotations frequently seesawed in a narrow range. Turnover topped up to 1,300,000 shares from 1,140,000 Monday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced .5 of one point to 68.1, only one-tenth of a point under the 1949 high established last Thursday. The industrial group was strongest while utilities and railroads trailed far behind.

Non-ferrous metal shares lessened demand for copper, lead and zinc prevented a rise in the price of copper last month, metal circles said. Zinc advanced ¼ cent to 9¼ cents a pound today, second increase in less than a week.

Up more than a point each were American Smelting at 49¾, Phelps Dodge 47 and Kennecott 49¼. Anaconda gained ¾ at 28⅛.

Up more than a point each were American Smelting at 49¾, Phelps Dodge 47 and Kennecott 49¼. Anaconda gained ¾ at 28⅛.

Golds also did well, with Homestake ahead 1¾ at 50⅝ and fractional advances posted for Alaska Juneau 4, Dome 17⅞ and McIntyre Porcupine 59.

Steel stocks had all they could do to hold steady. U. S. Steel, second most active issue, closed unchanged at 25. Republic Steel stayed at 21½, and Jones and Laughlin at 26⅞. Bethlehem slipped a trifle to 30¼, while Youngstown Sheet inched up to 68⅜.

General Motors stood out with a rise of ⅜ to 68½. Chrysler, however, lost ⅜ at 57¾.

Ending up were Du Pont, North American Co., Packard, Goodrich, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, Philco, Coca Cola (up 5 at 165), American Telephone, General Electric, International Paper, Standard Oil (NJ), Gulf Oil and Loews.

Lower were Montgomery Ward, Consolidated Edison, American Woolen, Superior Oil of California, and Pan American Airways.

Ahead in the curb were Wright-Hargraves, Rio Grande Valley Gas, Cities Service and Kaiser-Frazer.

Lower were N. J. Zinc, Imperial Oil, Creole Petroleum and Calgary and Edmonton. Sales of 380,000 shares compared with 290,000 Monday.

Selective buying helped along some railway liens in the bond market. U. S. government issues in the more distant maturities gained 1/32 of a point in over-the-counter dealings.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP) — Cotton futures were lower today under moderate pressure of profit taking and hedging. Mill buying was mostly scale down in nature. Most traders awaited fresh incentives.

The weather map revealed frosts in several points in the central and western cotton belts overnight which was expected to lower the grades of cotton.

Cotton closed steady.

Caso March Says Bankers, Oil Men Backing Governor Shivers

DALLAS, Nov. 1. (UP) — Caso March, campaigning for governor for the third time, said last night that Texas bankers and oil companies had formed a combine to keep Gov. Allan Shivers in office.

In a radio talk, the former Baylor law professor pointed to a speech at the "party of the year" in Mineral Wells Friday night in which Robert L. Thornton, chairman of the board of the Mercantile National bank, Dallas, called Shivers "the greatest governor Texas ever had."

"For Thornton to make a statement like that about a man who has been in office less than four months shows that they are worried about getting him reelected," March said.

Although whale oil candles went out of fashion 100 years ago, skilled American glassworkers are today making glass candleholders by hand by virtually the same methods they used a century ago.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 1 (AP) — Soybeans rallied sharply toward the close of today's board of trade sessions, on short covering and buying attributed to cash houses.

Corn advanced with the rally in soybeans. A better cash market was an influence. Although corn has resisted declines in other futures during the session, Oats followed the pattern set by corn.

At the close wheat was ⅜ to 1⅞ higher than yesterday's close. December $2.13⅞-¾. Corn was 1¼ to 1¾ higher, December $1.18-18⅛. Oats were ⅜ to ¾ higher, December 73⅛-73. Rye was ⅛ to 1 cent higher, December $1.43-42¾. Soybeans were 1⅞ to 1¾ higher, November $2.24⅞-24 and lard was 3 cents lower, while bellies were unchanged to 20 cents lower November $9.77.

Stettinus Goes Down As 'Front' For Others In World History

BY BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 1. — Side-glances:

Good-looking, prematurely gray Ed Stettinius will go down in our history as an "almost." He strode the world stage at a time and under circumstances which could have made him an immortal. But the hard truth was that he never escaped the designation of being a "front" for others.

He had come into public life as a boy wonder of industry. But he had never been a builder or really, a power in industry. He had come up through what amounted to the Public Relations department, and he took pride not in his amassing of such titles as chairman of the board of U. S. Steel but in the little changes he had been able to make in the matter of better employer-employee relations. He pointed out to this biographer once that he had done much to improve rest-room conditions in U. S. Steel plants.

Had Planned Streamlining

In government, though he tried hard, he was labeled as only an extension of F.D.R.'s remarks, and busy hands. In his first press conference as the 44-year old Secretary of State, succeeding the Lincolnesque Cordell Hull, he spoke of the vast "streamlining" he planned for the department. It seemed to consist mainly of putting somebody in ahead of tough, out-spoken, honest Mike McDermott, the department's long-time press chief. And after a time the whole idea seemed to disappear.

At San Francisco the good man was tossed bodily into the clutches of some of the most astute and essentially pitiless politicians of the age. They found him incredibly naive; just could not understand him when — at parties — he sometimes asked them to call him Ed. He learned heavily on Alger Hiss for parliamentary and other advice. He accepted Dalton Trumbo, the Hollywood writer who is facing prison for contempt of Congress in the Hollywood Communist hearings, as the ghost of at least one of his important speeches.

Byrnes Takes Over

Mr. Truman replaced Stettinius with Jimmy Byrnes, but retained him as our permanent representative at U. N. Stettinius had great and honest hopes for U. N. there can be no question of that. If left alone he might have struggled through to an enduring place in it annals, and U. N. would have been better for it.

But in his first big test in U. N — Iran's complaint against the U. S. S. R. over their army in Azerbajain — Washington wouldn't leave him alone. It sent Byrnes up to sit behind him in the Security Council and prompt him. We could see the confidence (and perhaps will to go on) draining out of the man.

Air Lift Officer Dies

Another American who died this week was hardly known outside of our military and (probably) Red army reports. But he was quite a figure. He was Lt. Col. Kenneth E. Swalwell, the engineer who did much to make possible the fantastic Berlin Air Lift.

Swalwell died in Bermuda where his chief concern, when I saw him last summer, was to wheedle enough money out of the air base's appropriation to build a lighted baseball field for night-playing by GI teams. He was still tired from the task of helping rearrange the Allied air strips of Germany and the thousand of other tough jobs which went into the creation and execution of the lift.

He had thought of retiring after his work was done in Germany, as he had done briefly just after a war which saw him lay out the India-China hump operation. But he said he had a feeling he'd better hang around a bit longer in uniform. That he might be needed.

He died a few minutes after his commanding officer, Col. Jack Merrell, late of the Eighth Air Force, pinned the Legion of Merit on his chest, in front of 1,200 cheering airmen.

Navy Head Wins Respect

The touching regard for Adm. Denfeld, evidenced in such demonstrations as he received when he took his seat at the Navy-Notre Dame footbal game last Saturday, has had no counterpart since the risky allegiance which good men swore to Billy Mitchell, when Mitchell's crusading for that which he believed dunked him in the dog-house.

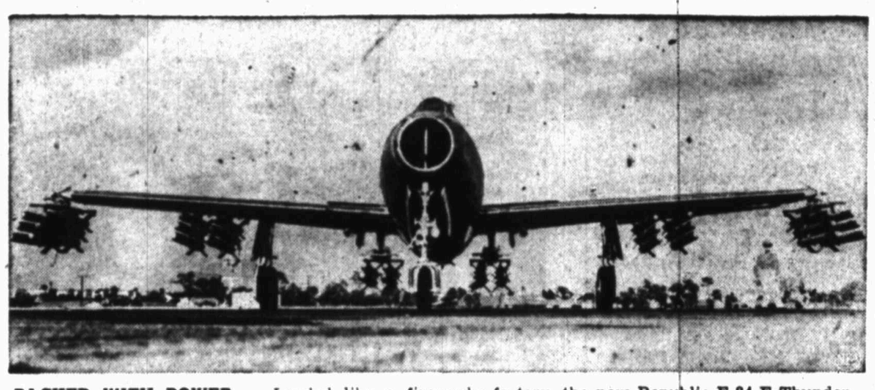

It must have been a warming experience to the old salt, too, when men and women of all ranks came to his office in the Navy department — on the day he was removed — to tell him by their presence that he was still their champ.

In another day and another nation, Louis Denfeld could have formed his own Navy or set up his own government. But he happens to think that the Navy and republic which he served so faithfully for 30-odd years are the best in the world. And his stand on those points make him a more beloved public figure in defeat than ever he was in victory.

PACKED WITH POWER — Loaded like a fireworks factory, the new Republic F-84-E Thunderjet, high-speed, long-range fighter prepares to go into action in air-ground maneuvers at Elgin Air Force Base, Fla. The 600-mile-per-hour plane—the Air Force's first jet propelled fighter bomber—carries clusters of 32 five-inch high-velocity aircraft rockets, giving it unprecedented power. Its fixed armament consists of six .50-calibre machine guns.

Swank Houston Residential Area Battered By 'Spooks'

HOUSTON, Nov. 1. (U.P.)—Spooks roamed in and out of the swank River Oaks residential sector here last night, inflicting damage that police said resulted in the city's worst Hallowe'en on record.

Shady boulevards were stripped of newly-planted shrubs and bushes, 200 street lights were shot out, windows in residences were shattered by rocks and expensive automobiles were daubed with paint.

Assistant Police Chief A. C. Thornton said one street was completely blocked off and was surrounded for five blocks by pulverized glass, making travel hazardous.

One white brick home had a gallon of red paint spread over the front. A new gray automobile was smeared with red and black paint. Air rifle shot pierced a big picture window in one home, and a brick was tossed through another.

Fred Allen complained to police that he awoke when a chunk of concrete landed on his bed. It was hurled through a bedroom window.

BOY'S BIRTHDAY GIFT

BOSTON (U.P.) — Fraser Beer invited 40 children to his ninth birthday party, asking each to bring a gift of money. The boy turned it over to the Children's Medical Center Fund to help fight cancer.

Paving Contract Is Awarded In City

Contract for paving of streets in the Highland Place addition, where 123 duplexes will be built for rent, was awarded to Kerr and Middleton, Lubbock contractors, on a bid of $38,846.77, it was announced Tuesday afternoon.

Lubbock Engineering company was engineer for the project. Sewer, water and drainage will be provided by the city.

The paving includes 1.55 miles of paving, 13,290 linear feet of curb and gutter, 37,260 gallons of quadruple asphaltic surfacing, 6,030 cubic yards of caliche base and 24,127.5 square yards of shaping and compact flexible base.

The Sahara desert is believed to be enlarging to the southward.
