Q. When is the filing deadline for local elections?

A. Filing time opened last Monday. According to the Election Code the deadline for filing for city and school elections slated for May 6, is Wednesday, March 22. Because of a pending suit the CISD filing deadline might have to be extended and the election delayed. The deadline for Mitchell County Hospital Board is different. Candidates have until 25 days before the election to submit petitions, which would be April 11.

NEW GOLF COURSE OWNERS—The Colorado City Country Club and Lone Wolf Golf Course are now under the new ownership and management of (left to right) Bill Teel, Gwyn Feagan, Clay Feagan and in inset and unavailable for the photo, Jimmy Teel. Many improvements in the local facilities have been announced.

Local golf course now under new ownership, management

by M. Gene Dow
General Manager

The transfer of ownership and management of Wolf Creek Golf Course and facilities, located just northeast of Colorado City was completed last Thursday afternoon with the formal signing of the necessary legal documents.

The new owners are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Teel of Water Valley, near San Angelo; and Mr. and Mrs. Clay Feagan, of Abilene.

Purchase was from the Bob Hinns who had obtained the former Colorado City Country Club properties and converted the operation from a private club to a public golf course about two or three years ago. It was reported that the Hinns have plans to move to the Tulsa, OK area.

Actually, the Teels and the Feagans have operated the golf course facilities since December 19, 1988, but the final agreement and closing was not completed until last Thursday.

The new ownership is formerly under the name of a corporation, Colorado City Country Club, Inc. and the golf course will continue to be named Wolf Creek Golf Course.

No purchase price was revealed, but the sale did include all the properties including 87 acres of land, the nine-hole course, the Club House, Kitchen, Bar, Dining Room and Pro Shop; and the swimming pool, tennis courts and some 46 golf cart sheds.

IMPROVEMENTS

Even in this short period of time, numerous improvements have already been accomplished and many more planned within the near future.

A considerable amount of work has been done on the course itself during the winter months. Grounds have been cleared of brush and leveled, trees have been trimmed and cutback, stumps removed, cart shed area cleaned, hazard areas redone and tee boxes improved. They will

Bingo, cities, schools, hospital elections May 6

The time frame for filing for positions open on the various city councils, school boards and the hospital district board throughout Mitchell County opened as of last Monday, Feb. 20.

As of Tuesday, there were no reports of filings as yet, but numerous posts are to be filled by voters on election day, May 6.

In Colorado City, and Mayor's position and three City Council seats are up for new 2-year terms. Those will be seats presently held by Mayor Jim Baum and Council representatives Dee Hearn and Tom Carlock and the unexpired term being filled by appointee Earl Plagens. Filing of candidacy is to be made with the City Secretary Glenna Garrett.

Also on the City ballots will be a proposition on Bingo. Voters in Colorado City will be asked to vote for or against allowing bingo games, which was requested by the Colorado City Fire Department.

CISD ELECTION CLOUDED

Four places are up for grabs on the Board of Trustees of Colorado Independent School District. However, a situation has developed that could conceivably delay the voting to fill the new 3-year terms of office coming open.

The League of United Latin American Citizens (LULAC) filed suit on Jan. 30, against the Colorado City Independent School District, demanding the school district to institute a single-member district election

City Council stops City Hall remodeling

by M. Gene Dow
General Manager

The Colorado City Council voted 4-2 to stop further renovations at the City Hall, at a special meeting Monday.

The Council was called together for the emergency meeting Monday at 1 p.m. to review expenditures for the Handicap Access facilities and remodeling project at City Hall.

The Council had been rather shocked to find out at the regular meeting last Tuesday that expenditures on the project were nearing the $50,000 mark, considerably more than had been anticipated, and asked for a more detailed accounting.

City Manager Brenda Hammond reported that to date $12,807.63 in available federal revenue sharing had been spent, along with $19,523.42 from the 'Execution and cover-up' charged in Gomez shooting

The Sammy Gomez shooting incident of last May 13, has been hashed and reshaped over and over again in surrounding and state daily newspapers in recent weeks.

Latest charge issued by John T. Garcia, head of the LULAC Texas Chapter out of El Paso, who also represents the Marcario Gomez family, is that due to a longstanding grudge against Sammy Gomez, resulting from a police brutality suit filed more than 8 years ago, the local police officers "summarily executed" Gomez when arresting him as a suspect of forced rape of a young local woman. They have accused the police department of fabricating evidence in a cover-up.

At the time of the arrest attempt, the police officers claimed that Gomez had attacked them with a knife, and he was shot three times, including a fatal shot to the back of the head. The officers, Billy Ray Williamson and Lt. Pat Taylor were not billed by a local grand jury a week later after investigations by the Police Department, the Texas Rangers, the regional FBI, state department of justice and the district attorney's office were presented.

However, the Gomez family, the local and state LULAC organizations are claiming that Gomez wielded no knife or if there was one, it was planted. After an autopsy report was released in November more than six months later confirming that Gomez had been shot in the back of the head, the family survivors and LULAC have demanded and apparently received promises of further investigation by the FBI and the State Attorney General's office.

Local City officials, the police department, and the City Attorney have stated full confidence in the previous investigations and would welcome and cooperate with any further inquiries.

For The Record...

FROM THE SCRIPTURES—"Indeed I have given him as a witness to the people, A leader and commander for the people." Isaiah 55:4

With the swearing in of George Bush as the 41st President last month the inaugural committee compiled a handbook of breathtaking presidential trivia.

Five months shy of his 65th birthday, Bush is the fourth oldest president; only Reagan, William Henry Harrison and Buchanan were older.

Bush, 6'2" tall, is the fourth tallest president after Lincoln, Jefferson and Lyndon Johnson.

Bush and the six presidents before him were all born between 1908 and 1924, a fact the need of which is not yet clear.

Bush is 31st among college graduates who made it to the White House, 12th among Phi Beta Kappa boys, and second among Yale men.

He is the fourth left-handed president; the others were Ford, Truman and Garfield.

Married 44 years, George and Barbara bring the ninth longest marriage to the White House. John and Abigail Adams were the longest married, 54 years and three days. Only William Henry Harrison was married longer when he became president.

Bush likes popcorn and pork rinds. He dislikes turnips, broccoli and Brussels sprouts.

Other sidebars, Mrs. William Howard Taft was the first woman to ride in an inaugural parade in 1913. Warren Harding was the first to ride to his swearing-in in a car. And Richard Nixon was the first to view his parade behind bullet-proof glass.

There's more, but that's enough.

THE LONE WOLF SAYS, "The man who treats himself has a fool for a physician—but at least he doesn't have to wait for his appointment."

The Kansas City Times went back through its files from last year and came up with some quotable quotes:

"I don't want to be president of a country that thinks like Ronald Reagan."—Gary Hart.

"You fought the good fight. You were in it right to the beginning." Loyal supporters of Bruce Babbitt.

"I was kinda hoping for someone smarter," said a farmer in response to Bob Dole campaign theme.

"He's one of us."

"I wonder how many Americans remember today is Pearl Harbor Day"—George Bush on Sept. 8th.

And "Beating a Republican is the most fun a Democrat can have with their clothes on."—Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower.

DID YOU KNOW? Four of our presidents are not buried in the United States. Now you ask who and where? Well, they are Presidents Ford, Carter, Reagan and Bush who are still with us, of course.

soon be laying down caliche and smoothing the golf cart paths. Additional cart sheds will be built as the need arises.

Extensive remodeling of the Club House and Pro Shop areas is already underway, laying of new carpet and other needed improvements. The swimming pool will be opened by the time school is out.

"We want to make the golf course and club facilities first class, facilities that the people of Colorado City and Mitchell County can be proud of," the new owners said.

GRAND OPENING

A grand opening has been scheduled for Saturday, March 11 and all members, prospective members and friends are invited to attend.

Teel and Feagan, along with their wives, Jimmy and Gwyn, respectively, will be the active managers and they plan to be moving to Colorado City as soon as possible. Both have been active in country club operations, Teel at Robert Lee County Club and Feagan at a Club in Abilene. Local golfers may remember Feagan who was manager for the Country Club here in 1969 and 1970.

OPEN TO PUBLIC

Although the new operation was incorporated under the name Colorado City Country Club, Inc., the course will remain open to the non-member general public on green fee basis, but membership is required for the other club functions.

However, almost any type of membership that may be desired will be made available. Full membership with access of all facilities on a monthly or yearly basis for single members, senior citizen and spouse, and family. Membership will be available for the golf course only or any combination of club, swimming pool, tennis, golf, etc.

Former memberships and older country club member obligations will be recognized. There is no initial fee for new memberships, just dues, until April 1, 1989. After that there will be an initial membership fee charged. Dues can be paid on monthly, quarterly or annual basis. Membership have already increased.

Also all the club facilities will be available for private and public parties.

The kitchen and food preparation service will be operated by W. D. Dixon, working with Cliff Burthart. Type of food service available, full restaurant or grill, etc. will be offered according to the need and demand.

All four of the owners are active golfers. The wives will be active in a Ladies Golf Association that has already been organized. Ladies wishing to participate in the association may call Brenda Moore, 728-2343 or the Club House, 728-5514.

Currently the club and golf course are operated six days per week, being closed on Mondays. Later it may be kept opened 7 days per week.

COUNCIL

regular budget for a current total of $32,331.05. An additional $17,941.06 is still payable for work that has already been performed and is to be completed in about another week. Thus, the expenditures for the project, undertaken to come into compliance with Handicap Access regulations, have reached $50,272.11.

The City Manager also added that in order to convert the old fire truck bay into needed office space that has been planned, it would require an additional $15,000 expenditure.

Mayor Jim Baum recalled that several months ago, the Council had twice turned down outside bids for the project because they had exceeded the approximate $28,000 budgeted funds available. The lowest bid received at the time after cutting back specifications to needed Handicap Access modifications only, was approximately $35,000. The City Manager had said at the time that she thought that by using City employees and subing the jobs out that the alterations could be accomplished for about $10,000 less than the lowest bid.

Therefore, the Mayor indicated that the Council had been expecting about $25,000 to be spent on the project. "But we found out Tuesday that the expenses were nearing the $50,000 mark, and now another $15,000 is planned for a total of close to $65,000."

City Manager Hammond pointed out, however, that when the remodeling began many unexpected problems developed. It was found that the electrical wiring in the 60-year-old structure was so substandard that it could not meet the City's own electrical code. Some areas of plumbing so deteriorated and cracked that nauseous gases were actually escaping in the building. She and the main contractor said that everytime they tore into a wall, ripped up a floor and pulled down a ceiling, additional problems were found. "These are things that had to be dealt with as they arose," Hammond said.

Because of these needs, as well as hoping to remedy overcrowded working conditions in the City Hall offices, Hammond said she had been able to pull unused available funds from other areas of the budget. And that the Council had approved a budget amendment, increasing available funds to $40,000 plus the available revenue sharing funds. She said that the funds are available and the project can be completed without going over budget, including the remodeling of the fire truck bay for her office, thus opening more available office space and providing full access by the handicap.

Hammond added that the State Purchasing and General Services Commission has already inquired as to a completion date for handicap access modifications required.

Councilman Rex Thackerson said "I think the biggest problem has been that the Council was not being kept properly informed as to what was going on. And fearing unforeseen possible economic turnaround, I am not willing to 'blow' all available funds at this time."

Councilman Bob Reily said that obviously there has been need for most of the work done thus far, but he was not willing to spend another $15,000. Councilman Earl Plagens agreed, stating "we've spent enough out of this year's budget."

Councilman Tom Carlock disagreed and felt that the project should be completed. "I believe that the citizens not only recognize the need of meeting the handicap access regulations, but also would be in favor of providing our employees with decent working conditions and to have City Hall facilities that they can be proud of."

Councilwoman Dee Hearn agreed with Carlock, and added that more than $10,000 of the expenditures have been spent to bring the City Hall up to City Code requirements...funds that should be charged up to general maintenance expense. She added that "we must get into compliance with the regulations, better working conditions for employees are needed, the expenditures to bring the City Hall up to standards required of any other business or home are necessary. The funds are available, let's complete the project."

There was also discussion of ways to improve communications and the need for the Council to be more fully aware of important decisions involving the City business. The City Manager said she was sorry that there had been miscommunication, but that in her position, she had to deal the problems as they came up.

Finally, Councilman Reily made the motion to complete the work that was already underway, but to delay the additional expenditures to remodel the fire truck bay, leaving it for later consideration in next year's budget. Councilman Plagens seconded the motion. When the vote was called Mayor Baum, Thackerson, Plagens, and Reily voted for and Hearn and Carlock against, thus halting further expenditures. Councilman Eric White was absent from the special meeting.

After adjournment, the Council toured the City Hall and inspected the work that has been done.

method and the action asks a federal judge to grant an injunction preventing elections until the new method is accomplished. The suit, against the present individual Board members contends that the present at-large system of electing board members dilutes minority voting strength of Mexican-American citizens.

As yet, no ruling has been issued, and the School District is in the process of obtaining outside legal counsel to help handle the suit. Should the injunction be granted, it would be difficult indeed to realign the district and change the system in the time remaining before the scheduled May 6 election.

Present board members who terms are expiring are Dewayne Harris, president; Floyd Ritchey, Brenda Aguillon, and appointee Rubin Alvarez who is filling out an unexpired term.

LORAIN ELECTIONS

City and School District elections are also scheduled May 6 at Loraine.

On the Loraine City Council the present two-year terms of Mayor Caterino Martinez and Councilmen Stanley Moore and Richard Cooper are expiring.

On the Board of Trustees of Loraine Independent School District, the current three-year terms of Robert Dale Finley and Frank Garcia are expiring.

WESTBROOK ELECTIONS

Elections will also be held in Westbrook for the same governing bodies. On the School Board, present elected terms of Cleburn Rich and Wendel Inman are expiring as well as unexpired term appointees Donnie Hale and Doug Rich Koch.

A City of Westbrook election will be held but as of Tuesday, The Record was unable to find out which Council positions were expiring.

HOSPITAL DISTRICT

County-wide, voters in the Mitchell County Hospital District will be choosing from candidates for four two-year positions on the Hospital Board of Directors.

Those who terms are expiring are Preston Morris, Gus Armstrong, Marion Bassham, and Jay Craddock.

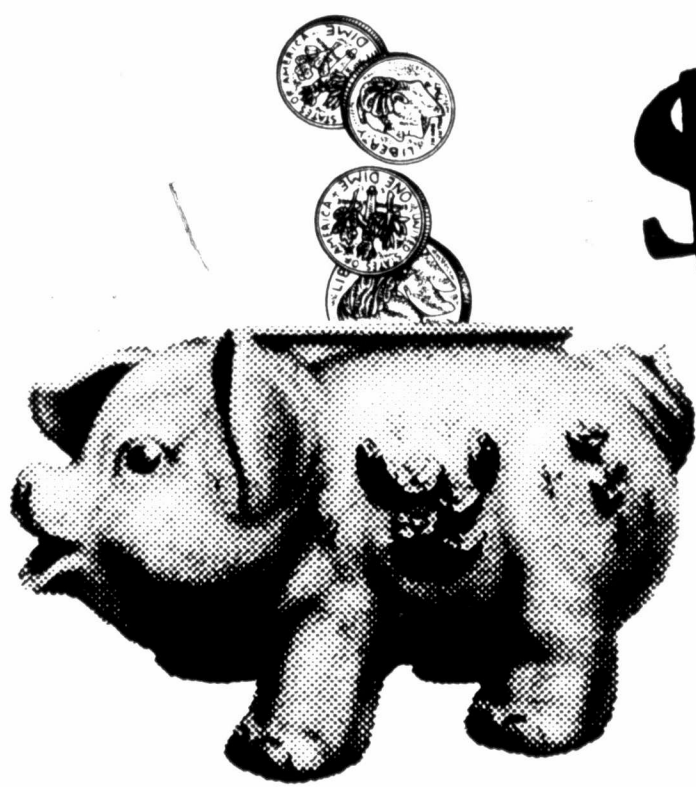

The Hospital District has a somewhat different procedure for filings. All candidates must submit petitions bearing voter signatures to request a position on the ballots. Also the filing deadline is just 25 days prior to the election or April 11.

Deadline for filing for the other elections is March 22.

Landmark Cable offers 'Strait' deal

Landmark Cablevision is giving two tickets to see George Strait in concert to every new customer who hooks up with cable between now and his March 17th appearance at the Lubbock Coliseum, local Manager Rex Thackerson.

The offer is to get music lovers to realize how much concert-quality entertainment cable TV brings to the home. "We want to remind people that cable TV offers them the best seat in the house for the biggest names in music," Thackerson said.

George Strait will be appearing at the Lubbock Coliseum for one night only. However, appearing nightly on cable television is a variety of entertainment choices for music lovers with many different tastes, he said.

The Nashville Network, part of the basic cable package, features country and western recording artists, live variety shows and the Grand Ole Opry etc. There is MTV offering 24-hours rock video and Galactic Radio, which offers a wide variety of non-video music, not available elsewhere. And numerous other programming entertainment of different types are offered through the cable system.

Also new or old subscribers who sign up for either of the first-run movie channels, HBO or Cinemax, before March 17 will receive their choice of a Sony Walkman or a Sony Dream Machine Clock Radio.

People who don't have cable also need to be reminded that

Landmark Cablevision didn't buy up every seat in the house for the real-life George Strait concert. Only a limited supply of the tickets are available, and Landmark is extending its offer on a first-time, first-serve basis, Thackerson said.

Bullock urges lawmakers to abolish tax permit fee

AUSTIN - State Comptroller Bob Bullock is urging the Texas Legislature to abolish the $25 annual sales tax permit fee.

"The fee is inherently unfair to small businesses," Bullock said in a letter to the House Ways and Means Committee, which is considering several bills to repeal the fee.

Bullock said the fee has generated tremendous hostility at a time "the state can ill-afford to tread on the cooperation and confidence of the business community."

He said there may have been reasons why the fee was adopted by the Legislature in 1987, but that it has been more trouble than it was worth in the small amount of revenue it has generated.

Bullock said that one benefit of the fee was that several thousand former permit holders were purged from the rolls - people who either didn't need a permit or who in fact may have used the permit to make illegal tax-free purchases.

"As someone said about Prohibition, it was a noble experiment that didn't work," Bullock said.

Elderly may avoid capital gains tax

If you're 55 or older, you could be eligible for a "once-in-a-lifetime" $125,000 exclusion of gain on the sale or exchange of your home, the Internal Revenue Service says.

You may qualify if you are 55 or older on the date of the sale or exchange. You must have owned and used the home as your principal residence for a period of three years out of the five years ending on the date of the sale, and you or your spouse must have never excluded gain on the sale of a home after July 26, 1978.

A principal residence is the home in which you live. Of course you must own the home, whether it be a houseboat, mobile home, condominium, apartment, or house. If you own two homes, and live in both, your principal residence is the one that you reside in most of the time.

Your gain is the selling price of the residence minus selling expenses and items included in the basis of the home. The basis is generally the original purchase price plus improvements, minus any deferred gains from the previous sale of a home you owned.

If you are married and filing a joint return, you may not choose to exclude the gain unless your spouse joins you in making the choice. If you meet all the requirements, and are married but filing separately, you may choose to exclude your share of the gain up to $62,500. Your spouse must agree with your choice to exclude the gain. You may make or revoke your decision to exclude the gain from a particular sale or exchange at any time before the latest of: three years from the date your return for the year of the sale is due, three years from the date the return was filed, or two years from the date the tax was paid.

For further information, IRS Publication 523, "Tax Information on Selling Your Home"; Publication 554, "Tax Information for Older Americans"; and IRS Form 2119, "Sale of Your Home," are available free.

According to John Ritchey, manager, guests of John Deere Day 1989 will have the opportunity to preview the new John Deere tractors, combines and implements on film. "Everyone is invited to attend the Leadership on Parade celebration at Key Bros. Service Center, on Saturday, February 25, from 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. We are going to have free refreshments.

BUBBA BAILEY takes it to the hoop against Andrews at Midland Monday. Also pictured is Dane Hoover, right, and Dennis Smith. The Wolves will be in bi-district action Friday night.

Wolves, Brady in bi-district battle

San Angelo Lakeview High School will be the site of Friday's class AAA bi-district basketball game pitting the Colorado City Wolves against the Brady Bulldogs.

The Wolves, 14-12, and Brady, 18-6, tip off at 6:30 p.m. Colorado City will be playing as the district 7-AAA runner-up while Brady enters the playoffs as champion of 8-AAA. Following the game will be a contest between 7 AAA champ Greenwood and 8-AAA runner-up Fredericksburg.

"Greenwood's coach saw them play at a Brownwood tournament and he said they'll be one of the quickest teams we'll face all year," said Wolves coach Chuck Claxton.

"We're not tall at all," said Brady coach Kyle Duren, who-like Claxton-is a head basketball coach for the first time. The Bulldogs won 8-AAA with a 6-1 record that included a one-game playoff with Fredericksburg after the teams tied for first place. "They won the first time but we won the second time then we won the playoff by about 7 of 8 points," said Duren. "They were all real close games."

Post Damon Lott is the tallest Bulldog at 6'2". Other starters are 6'1" post Dedrick Lott, 5'8" guard Michael Sillemmon, 5'10" guard Colcy Reno and William Covington, a transfer from Lohn who missed the first 6 games but has taken a starting spot. Others off the bench are Chuck Cowart, Michael Mattisen, Shawn Phillips and Cody King. "It's (scoring) is pretty spread out," said Duren. "Some games the guards score and some game the posts score. We run sometimes but use more of a halfcourt."

"I think we can match up with them quickness wise," said Claxton. "The key to the whole ballgame could be who gets back and plays defense. Sillemmon is supposed to be their hotshot. Fredericksburg beat them when he didn't play but he was high-point in the other two games."

The Wolves beat Van Horn 57-54 in a practice at The Pit Friday on four last minute free throws by Dane Hoover then were blown out 92-53 in a practice game against 4A Andrews played at Midland College's Al G. Langford Chapparral Center. "Andrews is good," said Claxton. "They're the best team we've seen all year."

The winner of Friday's game takes on the Merkel/Bowie winner next Tuesday for the right to advance to the regional tournament to be held next weekend at Texas Tech. "It would be nice to play Merkel again," said Claxton. The Badgers have taken two games from CHS this season.

It's been 21 years since a CHS boys team advanced past bi-district. In the 1967-68 school year-just after desegregation-the Wolves received third place at the state tournament.

Rivera leads golf team to ninth

Colorado High School sophomore Adam Rivera shot a 36 hole total of 160 at Big Spring Friday and Saturday where the Wolves began the 1989 golf season.

Rivera's two-day score gave him eighth place among players from 19 teams. Rivera shot an 81 for 18 holes played at Comanche Trails Park and followed with a 79 at Big Spring Country Club.

Chris Sims of champion Big Spring A took medalist honors with 72-75 for a 147 total followed by Tony Lara of Sweetwater at 74-77, 151 and J.

Derhker of Pecos at 79-77, 156.

Big Spring A won with scores of 319 and 330 for a two-day total of 649.

Other scores for the Wolves were senior Mitch Smith 81-83, 164; senior Mike Smith 81-90, 171; senior Erik Hill 88-90, 178; senior Jerry Alvarez 100-101, 201.

Team standings: 1. Big Spring A 319-330, 649; 2. Midland JV 333-325, 658; 3. Sweetwater 321-339, 660; 4. Pampa 330-330, 660; 5. Plainview 330-333, 663; 6. Midland Lee 323-344, 667; 7. Kay advances to state competition

FHA members attend regional meet

Four members of the Colorado High School chapter of the Future Homemakers of America and their sponsors attended the Region II FHA meeting at Crowley High School Feb. 17-18. The theme was "Reaching New Heights Through FHA/HERO" and emphasized three objectives:

- to inspire individuals to set and achieve goals by gaining leadership in occupational skills;
- to increase awareness in critical issues facing teens today;
- to obtain knowledge of the multiple roles of men and women in today's society through vocational home economics.

The Friday night meetings consisted by the House of Delegates, Star Events Competition, and Leadership Training. Saturday consisted of critical issue workshops and the presentation of the new 1989-90 officers.

Those attending from CHS were students Angela Biggers, Robyn Ramsey, Niki Key and Marlyn Kay and sponsors Judy Merrell and Carrie Richardson.

Marlyn Kay will advance to the state competition in Houston April 21-22 in the "Little Friends" Star Event. She gave a presentation and explained a display board dealing with the "Little Friends" program.

THE SOLID ROCK, under the direction of Leigh Ann Erwin, sang Christmas songs at the fireman's Christmas banquet. Also, they entertained at Kristi Lee Manor and First United Methodist Church. Labels, envelopes speed tax refunds

Many delays in the processing of federal income tax returns could be avoided if taxpayers used the labels and envelopes that accompany their tax packages, the Internal Revenue Service says.

The peel-off label, which contains the taxpayer's name, address and social security number, is designed to expedite accurate processing at IRS service centers and thus avoid delay in the issuance of a refund check.

The IRS advises taxpayers to use the label, even if corrections are necessary. For example, in the case of a change of address, the correction should be made directly on the label. Persons who use tax preparers need to furnish them with the peel-off label for use on their return.

One of the most common and troublesome errors that can be averted by use of the label is the listing of an incorrect or illegible social security number. This is a major cause of delayed refund checks.

Check-up for retirement plans

LORAIN—From teeth to automobiles, Americans recognize the value of an annual check-up to make sure everything is on track. Why should planning for one of life's most important changes—retirement—be any different?

Retirement hopefully will come to everyone in the workforce at one time or another. An annual retirement plan check-up is the best protection against financially-related surprises.

Unless they've planned well and invested wisely, retirees often face a dramatic reduction in personal income. According to the U.S. Department of Commerce, nearly two-thirds of Americans age 65 and over are dependent on others such as family, friends or government agencies.

Many people have the misconception that Social Security will provide them with the same financial resources they had before retiring. But even the Social Security Administration readily admits that the program was never intended to be the sole income source for retirees.

People must plan ahead to fill the gap between the income provided by Social Security and the total income required to maintain the lifestyle they deserve.

There is a systematic approach to conduct a retirement check-up. Whether it's completed by a professional or you do it yourself, these are questions which should be asked:

- * What are your retirement goals?
- * What savings and investment programs do you currently have in place?

- * Are you taking advantage of all the special programs or plans that can save or defer taxes on retirement dollars?

Pat Burt of Loraine, a representative of Waddell & Reed financial services said the biggest problem in the area of retirement planning is that consumers are not knowledgeable about the many tax-advantaged programs and investments that are still available.

Anyone who might like some help and free consultation on retirement planning and programs available, may contact Burt at 915-737-2754.
